3. It is clear that petitioner is discharging duties as operator since 11.11.1995. He was appointed by Executive Officer, Nagar Panchayat, Pahasu, District Bulandshahar. It is contended that petitioner is entitled to be considered for regularization in accordance with U.P. Regularisation of Persons Working on Daily Wages or On Work Charge or On Contract in Government Departments on Ground "C" and Group "D" Posts (Outside the Purview of the Uttar Pradesh Public Service Commission) Rules, 2016 (hereinafter referred to as "Rules, 2016") but when questioned that the aforesaid Rules are applicable to Government Servants having been framed under proviso to Article 309 and not applicable to Local Bodies, like, Nagar Panchayat etc., learned counsel for petitioner could not show any provision which are applicable to Nagar Panchayat so as to entitle petitioner to claim consideration for regularization. In absence of any such provision, no direction for regularization can be issued in view of law laid down by Constitution Bench of Apex Court in Secretary, State of Karnataka Vs. Uma Devi (2006) 4 SCC 1 wherein the question was considered as to whether regularization can be allowed to a person simply because he has worked for a long time. While considering the said question, fundamental right of equal opportunity of employment enshrined under Article 16 of the Constitution has been held to be a basic feature of Constitution. The Apex Court in Uma Devi (supra), therefore, very categorically cautioned the High Courts as under :

"The High Courts acting under Article 226 of the Constitution, should not ordinarily issue directions for absorption, regularization or permanent continuance unless the recruitment itself was made regularly and in terms of the Constitutional Scheme."

4. The above question in the light of decision in Uma Devi (supra) has been considered in a catena of decisions and following Uma Devi (supra), Court has held that regularisation is not a source of recruitment and if initial appointment was made without complying with the requirement of Article 16 (1) of the Constitution, regularisation is not permissible particularly in absence of any statutory provision. I do not propose to give the exhaustive list of all such cases, but it would be appropriate to place on record as to how the matter, of late, has been treated by the Apex Court in the light of the law laid down by the Constitution Bench in Uma Devi (supra).

5. Following Uma Devi (supra), in Surinder Prasad Tiwari Vs. U.P. Rajya Krishi Utpadan Mandi Parishad & others, 2006 (7) SCC 684, it was held:

"Equal opportunity is the basic feature of our Constitution. ...Our constitutional scheme clearly envisages equality of opportunity in public employment. .... This part of the constitutional scheme clearly reflects strong desire and constitutional philosophy to implement the principle of equality in the true sense in the matter of public employment.

In view of the clear and unambiguous constitutional scheme, the courts cannot countenance appointments to public office which have been made against the constitutional scheme. In the backdrop of constitutional philosophy, it would be improper for the courts to give directions for regularization of services of the person who is working either as daily-wager, ad employee, probationer, temporary or contractual employee, not appointed following the procedure laid down under Articles 14, 16 and 309 of the Constitution."

6. Elaborating the procedure of regular appointment, in Union Public Service Commission Vs. Girish Jayanti Lal Vaghela 2006 (2) SCC 482, the Court observed that regular appointment to a post under the State or Union cannot be made without issuing advertisement in the prescribed manner, which would include inviting of applications from the employment exchange where eligible candidates get their names registered. Any regular appointment made on a post under the State or Union without issuing advertisement inviting applications from eligible candidates and without holding a proper selection where all eligible candidates get a fair chance to compete would violate the guarantee enshrined under Article 16 of the Constitution.

7. Deprecating the practice of the State to make appointment in ad hoc manner without caring to the recruitment in accordance with rules, the Apex Court in State of Karnataka & others Vs. G.V. Chandrashekhar JT 2009 (4) SC 367 said that the State Government should not allow to depart from the normal rule and indulge in temporary employment in permanent posts. Court is bound to insist upon the State to make regular and proper recruitments. The Court is also bound not to encourage or shut its eyes to the persistence transgression of the rules of regular recruitment. Any direction to the State to consider the persons for regularisation even though they have not been recruited in accordance with rules would only encourage the State to flout its rules and to confer undue benefits on a selected few at the cost of many waiting to complete. Adherence to the rule of equality in public employment is a basic feature of our Constitution and since the rule of law is the core of our Constitution, a Court of law and even a Court of equity would certainly be disabled to pass an order upholding violation of Article 14 or directing the State to overlook the need of compliance of Article 14 read with 16 of Constitution of India and thereby give certain advantage to a person who is beneficiary of such violation. Considering the scheme of public employment in the context of fundamental rights and in particular the right of equal opportunity of employment, this Court would insist upon appointment to be made in terms of the relevant rules and after a proper competition amongst qualified persons instead of conferring a right on non selected appointees who have come from a channel not recognised in law. Such appointees cannot be conferred a valid entry being in breach of Article 14 and 16 of the Constitution. In G.V. Chandrashekhar (supra), the Apex Court also said:

"If it is a contractual appointment, the appointment comes to an end at the end of the contract, if it were an engagement or appointment on daily wages or casual basis, the same would come to an end when it is discontinued. Similarly, a temporary employee could not claim to be made permanent on the expiry of his term of appointment. It has also to be clarified that merely because a temporary employee or a casual wage worker is continued for a time beyond the term of his appointment, he would not be entitled to be absorbed in regular service or made permanent, merely on the strength of such continuance, if the original appointment was not made by following a due process of selection as envisaged by the relevant rules. It is not open to the court to prevent regular recruitment at the instance of temporary employees whose period of employment has come to an end or of ad hoc employees who by the very nature of their appointment, do not acquire any right. The High Courts acting under Article 226 of the Constitution, should not ordinarily issue directions for absorption, regularisation, or permanent continuance unless the recruitment itself was made regularly and in terms of the constitutional scheme. Merely because an employee had continued under cover of an order of the court, which we have described as "litigious employment" in the earlier part of the judgment, he would not be entitled to any right to be absorbed or made permanent in the service."

8. The same view has been reiterated in Man Singh Vs. Commissioner, Garhwal Mandal, Pauri & others JT 2009 (3) SC 289.

9. In State of Bihar Vs. Upendra Narayan Singh & others (2009) 5 SCC 65, Court held that any regular appointment made on a post under the State or Union without issuing advertisement, inviting applications from eligible candidates and without holding a proper selection where all eligible persons get a fair chance to complete is in violation of guarantee enshrined under Article 226 of the Constitution. Ad hoc/ temporary/ daily wage employees are not entitled to claim regularisation in service as a matter of right. If an illegality or irregularity has been committed in favour of any individual or a group of individuals or a wrong order has been passed by a judicial forum, others cannot invoke the jurisdiction of the higher of superior Court for repeating or multiplying the same irregularity or illegality or for passing wrong order.

10. In Pinaki Chatterjee & others Vs. Union of India & others 2009 (5) SCC 193, the Court observed that it is no doubt true that the respondents under certain circumstances had been appointed directly as casual mates and they continued as such and further by virtue of their continuance they acquired temporary status but that by itself does not entitle them to be regularised as mates since that would be contrary to the rules in force. The Court further held that the respondents did not acquire a right for regularisation as mates from the mere fact of their continuance as casual mates for a considerable period.

11. In State of Rajasthan and others Vs. Daya Lal & others, 2011(2) SCC 429 Court following the decision in Uma Devi (supra) held as under:

"The High Courts, in exercising power under Article 226 of the Constitution will not issue directions for regularization, absorption or permanent continuance, unless the employees claiming regularization had been appointed in pursuance of a regular recruitment in accordance with relevant rules in an open competitive process, against sanctioned vacant posts. The equality clause contained in Articles 14 and 16 should be scrupulously followed and Courts should not issue a direction for regularization of services of an employee which would be violative of constitutional scheme."

12. In State of U. P. and others vs. Rekha Rani, JT 2011 (4) SC 6, Court referring to its decision in Daya Lal (supra), in para 12 of the judgment, said :

"12. It has been held in a recent decision of this Court in State of Rajasthan vs. Daya Lal, 2011 (2) SCC 429 following the Constitution Bench decision of this Court in State of Karnataka vs. Umadevi (2006) 4 SCC 1 that the High Court in exercise of its power under Article 226 cannot regularize an employee."

13. In Brij Mohan Lal vs. Union of India (2012) 6 SCC 502, referring to Uma Devi (supra) Court said :

"A Constitution Bench of this Court has clearly stated the principle that in matters of public employment, absorption, regularization or permanent continuance of temporary, contractual or casual daily wage or ad hoc employees appointed and continued for long in such public employment would be de hors the constitutional scheme of public employment and would be improper. It would also not be proper to stay the regular recruitment process for the concerned posts."

14. In University of Rajasthan and others vs. Prem Lata Agarwal and others, (2013) 3 SCC 705 referring to Constitution Bench judgment in Uma Devi (supra) said :

".....the Constitution Bench, after survey of all the decisions in the field relating to recruitment process and the claim for regularization, in paragraph 43, has held that consistent with the scheme for public employment, it is the duty of the court to necessarily hold that unless the appointment is in terms of the relevant rules, the same would not confer any right on the appointee. The Bench further proceeded to state that merely because a temporary employee or a casual wage worker is continued for a time beyond the term of his appointment, he would not be entitled to be absorbed in regular service or made permanent, merely on the strength of such continuance, if the original appointment was not made by following a due process of selection as envisaged by the relevant rules."

15. In Secretary to Government, School Education Department, Chennai and others Vs. Thiru R. Govindaswamy and others (2014) 4 SCC 769, referring to Uma Devi (supra) Court said that there is no fundamental right in those who have been employed on daily wages or temporarily or on contractual basis, to claim that they have a right to be absorbed in service. As has been held by this Court, they cannot be said to be holders of a post, since, a regular appointment could be made only by making appointments consistent with the requirements of Articles 14 and 16 of the Constitution.

16. In Upendra Singh Vs. State of Bihar and others, (2018) 3 SCC 680 referring to Uma Devi (supra), Court said :

"Law pertaining to regularisation has now been authoritatively determined by a Constitution Bench judgment of this Court in Secretary, State of Karnataka and Ors. vs. Umadevi and Ors. (2006) 4 SCC 1*. On the application of law laid down in that case, it is clear that the question of regularisation of daily wager appointed contrary to law does not arise. This ration of the judgment could not be disputed by the learned Counsel for the Appellant as well."*

17. In view of above authorities and binding precedent of Supreme Court, prayer for regularization de hors the rules, cannot be considered and any direction issued by this Court otherwise, which is contrary to the Statute, would be impermissible.

18. In view of discussion made hereinabove, I do not find the petitioner entitled for relief sought for. The writ petition lacks merits. Dismissed.

DATED: ALLAHABAD 10.01.2020

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE PIYUSH AGRAWAL, J.

Writ-A No. 52369 of 2016

Babundar Chaubey @ Babundar Prasad Chaubey ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Dharmendra Kumar Tripathi

Counsel for the Respondents:

A. Service Law– Regularization - U.P. Collection Amins Service Rules, 1974; U.P. Seasonal Collection Amin Rules, 1974: Rules 5, 17, 17-A – Petitioner has not been considered for regularization even after achieving the target prescribed u/Rule 5.

The Court reiterating the principle that 'last four fasals' would mean all fasals in which Seasonal Collection Amin has worked and does not mean the four immediately preceding fasals, has given liberty to the petitioner to move a detailed representation before the Collector (authority concerned) with the direction to decide the same expeditiously and in accordance with law. (Para 7, 10)

Writ petition disposed of. (E-4)

Precedent followed:
1. State of U.P. and others Vs. Pankaj Srivastava, 2013 (11) ADJ 473 (Para 7, 9)

2. Suresh Chand Mishra Vs. State of U.P. and others, 2016 (11) ADJ 315 (Para 8)

3. Rajesh Kumar Tripathi Vs. State of U.P., Writ A No. 16121 of 2017, decided on 27.03.2019 (Para 9)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Piyush Agrawal, J.)

1. By means of the present writ petition, the petitioner has prayed the following amongst other relief:

"Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus, directing the respondent No.3 to consider the regularization of the petitioner on the post of Collection Amin under Rule 5 of U.P. Seasonal Collection Amin Rules, 1974 as amended from time to time, within stipulated period, specified by this Hon'ble Court."

2. It has been averred that the petitioner is working as Seasonal Collection Amin in Tehsil Robertsgang, district Sonbhadra and has completed the target as given to him by the respondent authorities without any complaint. It has been further averred that regularization of the petitioner on the post of Collection Amin under 35% quota in terms of the U.P. Collection Amins Service Rules, 1974 has not been considered till date pursuant to Rule 5 of U.P. Seasonal Collection Amin Rules, 1974 (hereinafter referred to as the Rules) through the petitioner has achieved the target of 74.62% in 4 fasals in the year 2016. His name finds place at serial no. 29 of the seniority list dated 28.6.2016 prepared as per Rules 17 and 17-A of the Rules. Hence the present writ petition has been filed seeking mandamus for issuing a direction to the respondents to consider regularization of the petitioner on the post of Collection Amin.

3. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that as per Rule 5 of the Rules the work of the petitioner is not only satisfactory but has also achieved his target of more than 70% as prescribed therein and his age being less than 45 years is fit for consideration for regularization on the said post.

4. Rebutting the submission of the learned counsel for the petitioner, learned standing counsel states that the petitioner has not achieved the target of 70% for the 4 fasals and, therefore, his claim for regularization on the post of Collection Amin has not been considered.

5. The Court has perused the records.

6. The records reveal that for regularization of service of the petitioner on the post of Collection Amin as per Rule 5 of the Rules the work of the petitioner should be satisfactory in the last 4 fasals and collection should be attained recovery within the prescribed norms, i.e. at least 70% whereas in the case in hand the petitioner has attained recovery of 74.62% as well as his work is also satisfactory.

7. A Division Bench of this Court in the case of State of U.P. and others vs. Pankaj Srivastava (2013 (11) ADJ 473 has an occasion to consider the similar controversy and came to the conclusion that 'last four fasals' would mean all fasals in which a Seasonal Collection Amin has worked and does not mean merely the four immediately preceding fasals. The relevant part of the said judgment is quoted below:

"In assessing the submission, which is urged on behalf of the State, Rule 5 of the Rules, 1974, as it held the field at the material time, has to be interpreted. As noted earlier, the Rule contemplates regularization of the Seasonal Collection Amins against 35% of the vacancies. The Rule prescribes the following conditions, namely, (i) the Seasonal Collection Amins must have rendered satisfactory work in at least four fasals; and (ii) the Seasonal Collection Amins should not have attained the age of 45 years by the 1st July of the relevant year. The explanation states that 'satisfactory service' would mean that in the last four fasals, the Seasonal Collection Amins should have attained the recovery in accordance with the prescribed norms of at least 70%. Now the explanation has to be harmoniously construed with the main provision which is made in the Rules of 1974. The requirement of the Rules is that the Seasonal Collection Amins should have worked for at least four fasals. Where a Seasonal Collection Amin has worked for more than four fasals, in assessing whether he has rendered satisfactory performance within the meaning of the explanation, the extent of recovery has to be assessed with reference to the last four fasals during which he has worked. In a situation where the Seasonal Collection Amin has worked for only four fasals, obviously the recovery has to be assessed with reference to those four fasals. Hence, the expression 'last four fasals' would mean the last four fasals out of the total number of fasals in which the Seasonal Collection Amin has worked. The last four fasals does not mean that the Seasonal Collection Amin must be actually working on the date on which the Selection Committee applies its mind to the claim for regularization. Such a condition is not found in the Rules and to introduce such a condition, would amount to a modification or amendment of the statutory rule, which is impermissible for this Court. The Rule has to be read as it stands. The learned Single Judge was, in our opinion, correct in holding that the ground which has weighed with the Selection Committee was extraneous to the Rules. ".

8. This Court in the case of Suresh Chand Mishra vs. State of U.P. and others reported in 2016 (11) ADJ 315; has held as follows:

"7. It is contended on behalf of the petitioner that the only ground in the impugned order is that the petitioner has failed to achieve 70% target hence his regularization has been rejected. It is stated that the said view taken by the authority concerned is contrary to the law laid down by this Court. He has placed reliance on the following judgments:

1. State of U.P. & others v. Pankaj Srivastava, Special Appeal Defective No. 845 of 2013, decided on 03.12.2013;

2. Pankaj Srivastava v. State of U.P. and others, 2016(34) LCD 691;

3. Molhey Ram v. State of U.P. and others, 2013(31) LCD 2367.

8. Learned counsel for the petitioner has further urged that in the year 1997 some of the juniors of the petitioner were regularized. At that point of time the average of recovery percentage of the petitioner was 79%. My attention has been drawn by the learned counsel for the petitioner to a chart prepared in 2004 for regularisation of Seasonal Collection Amins, wherein the average recovery of Seasonal Collection Amins is recorded. In the said chart the petitioner's average recovery is 79%. This fact is also stated by the petitioner in paragraph-12 of the petition. He has also drawn my attention to paragraph-9 of the writ petition wherein it is stated that some juniors, namely Suresh Kumar and Santosh Kumar Srivastava, who had only 35% recovery, were regularized without considering the case of the petitioner. In support of the said averment the petitioner has brought on record a document as annexure-10 to the writ petition. It is also stated that Santosh Kumar Srivastava, who is junior to the petitioner, has been illegally regularized. He did not fulfill the norms of four fasli and he had completed only three fasli even then he has been regularized.

9. Learned counsel for the petitioner has further invited attention of the Court to the reply of the statement of fact made in paragraph 9 & 12 of the writ petition, in paragraph-11 of the counter affidavit, the said fact has not been specifically denied, only a general and evasive reply is given therein.

10. Learned Standing Counsel submits that the petitioner's writ petition is not maintainable as his earlier writ petition was dismissed and in the review petition only liberty was granted to file a representation. No other submission has been made.

11. I have heard learned counsel for the parties, considered their submissions and perused the record.

12. Concededly, the petitioner is working since 1989. The Rule-5 of the Uttar Pradesh Collection Amins' Service Rules, 1974 provides that 35% appointment on the post of Collection Amins shall be made from the Seasonal Collection Amins. The petitioner has brought on record his previous recovery percentage which indicates that in the year 2004 when the list was prepared his name was at Sl. No. 20 and his average recovery percentage was above 77%. There is no reason in the impugned order or in the counter affidavit why the petitioner was not considered at that point of time. The Rule-5 of the Rules, 1974 is in the following terms:

''प्रतिबन्ध यह है कि पैंतीस प्रतिशत रिक्तियॉ ऐसे सीजनल कलेक्शन अमीनों में से चयन द्वारा भरी जायेंगी–

क– जिन्होंने कम से कम चार फसलों तक सन्तोषजनक रूप से कार्य किया होय

ख– जिनकी आयु उस वर्ष की पहली जुलाई को, जिस वर्ष चयन किया जाय, 45 वर्ष से अधिक न हो:

प्रतिबन्ध यह भी है कि यदि उपयुक्त अभ्यर्थी उपलब्ध न हों तो शेष रिक्तियॉ सीधी भर्ती के माध्यम से सामान्य अभ्यर्थियों द्वारा भरी जायेंगी

स्पष्टीकरण– सन्तोषजनक कार्य का तात्पर्य होगा शुरू से अन्त तक अच्छे आचरण को सम्मिलित करते हुए अन्तिम चार फसलों के दौरान विहित स्तर के अनुसार कम से कम सत्तर प्रतिशत वसूली।''

13. The aforesaid Rule provides the regularization of seasonal collection amins against 35% of vacancies. It contemplates following conditions:

(i) The seasonal collection amin must have rendered services in at least four fasli;

(ii) He should not be above 45 years by the first July of the relevant year.

14. It is true that the explanation of the Rule-5 of the Rules, 1974 refers the satisfactory services in the last four fasli with the prescribed norms of at least seventy percent. The prescribed percentage of the target of the recovery came to be considered in several cases before this Court, way back in the year 2001. A similar issue fell for consideration in the case of Dinesh Kumar Asthana v. Collector, Azamgarh and others, (2001) 1 UPLBEC 867. In the said case the Court held that there may be various factors and reasons when total extent of recovery in a seasonal amin's area may not be achieved, such as Government itself kept the recovery in abeyance due to natural calamity. Relevant part of the judgement reads as under:

"Necessary pleadings on this aspect are wanting. Even the Counter Affidavit does not disclose that no person in the list prepared in the year 1993 has been regularised whose recovery was below the prescribed limit or that all persons above such regularized persons were inefficient and or had poor efficiency on comparison. This Court has no means to find out whether the recovery in a particular year with respect to the petitioner was low for reason other than this own efficiency. It is very relevant circumstance while considering the efficiency of Seasonal Collection Amin. For example, recovery is not possible beyond a certain limit for various factors and reasons like-orders from Court, the total extent of recovery to be made in one's area and/or whether Government itself kept recovery in abeyance due to famine, flood, drought etc. These will be relevant consideration to be taken into account and a Seasonal Collection Amin, being put to sufferance for reasons beyond his control, cannot be non-suited for low recovery as it does not reflect at all upon his efficiency."

15. The judgment in Dinesh Kumar Asthana (supra) has been consistently followed by this Court in the case of Brijesh Kumar v. Collector/ District Magistrate, Mainpuri and others, 2001(3) ESC 1325; Suresh Chandra Sharma v. State of U.P. and others, Civil Misc. Writ Petition No. 56124 of 2009; Molhey Ram v. State of U.P. and others, 2013(31) LCD 2367; Ramveer Singh v. State of U.P. and others, Writ-A No. 27358 of 2004.

16. In the case of State of U.P. Throu. Prin. Secy. Deptt. Of Revenue Lko. & Ors. v. Pankaj Srivastava, Special Appeal Defective No. 845 of 2013 also the similar issue was raised. In the said case the claim of seasonal collection amin for regularization was rejected on the ground that he failed to achieve 70% prescribed norms for recovery. The Court held that the explanation of the said Rule-5 has to be harmoniously construed with the main provision which is made in the Rules, 1974. The principal requirement under the Rules was that a seasonal collection amin should have worked for at least four fasli and the extent of recovery needs to be assessed with reference to last four fasli during the period when he worked. The relevant part of the order reads as under:

"...However, the norms of 70% recovery, as clarified, must relate to the demand which was actually entrusted to the employee. The satisfactory performance has to be read with reference to the work, which is actually entrusted to the Seasonal Collection Amin.

Learned counsel appearing on behalf of the appellants has submitted that in the memo of appeal, the State has taken a ground that the respondent would not meet the norms of 70% with reference to the work which was entrusted to him."

17. The principle of law emanates from the above decision is that the recovery depends upon various factors and only recovery cannot be made sole criterion. It has to be considered along with other requirements mentioned in the Rules.

18. The explanation of Rule-5 of the Rules, 1974 has been harmoniously interpreted by this Court in a large number of cases. Reference of some of such cases has already been given hereinabove. The authorities have not paid due attention to the law laid down by this Court and they are rejecting the claim repeatedly on the same ground which has been held to be untenable by this Court long back in the year 2001.

19. I find that most of the claims of regularization of seasonal collection amins are primarily rejected on the ground of less recovery thus it is clear that the authorities do not consider the entire Rules and they have laid emphasis only on the explanation of Rule-5 of the Rules, 1974 and not on the main provision.

20. The Collector is a senior and experienced official and he must be presumed to know that the orders of the High Court have to be obeyed, such is our constitutional scheme. Ignoring the consistent view taken by this Court in the last more than 15 years, cannot be appreciated. If a law has been settled by a superior Court, the good governance requires that the officials must respect the law. The Rule of Law is foundation of a democratic society, and the judiciary is undoubtedly guardian of the Rule of Law.

21. The Supreme Court in the case of M/s East India Commercial Co. Ltd. Calcutta and another v. Collector of Customs, Calcutta, AIR 1962 SC 1893 has held that the law laid down by the High Court is binding on all authorities. The Supreme Court has also held that although there is no provision for the High Court in the constitution like Article 141 which provides that the judgements of the Supreme Court are binding on all authorities whether they are party or not. The Supreme Court has extended principles of Article 141 of the Constitution to the High Court also. Relevant part of the judgement of the Supreme Court in M/s East India Commercial (supra) is extracted herein below:

"29...We, therefore, hold that the law declared by the highest court in the State is binding on authorities or tribunals under its superintendence, and that they cannot ignore it either in initiating a proceeding or deciding on the rights involved in such a proceeding. If that be so, the notice issued by the authority signifying the launching of proceedings contrary to the law laid down by the High Court would be invalid and the proceedings themselves would be without jurisdiction."

22. In view of the above, it is clear that if the law has been laid down by the Court, the authority is bound by it whether he is party in the said writ petition or not. Since the law laid down by this Court in the aforementioned case has not been followed by the authority concerned and neither the judgements have been referred, the said order, as I find, needs to be set aside. Accordingly, the impugned order dated 04.03.2014 is set aside. "

9. Further this Court in Writ A No. 16121 of 2017 (Rajesh Kumar Tripathi vs. State of U.P.) decided on 27.3.2019 had an occasion to allow the writ petition in terms of Pankaj Srivastava (supra), which reads as under:

"In light of these principles as enunciated by the Division Bench, the Court finds itself unable to sustain the order impugned. It was incumbent upon the District Magistrate in terms of the relevant rules to evaluate and consider the working of the petitioner in all previous fasals and not merely the four immediately preceding fasals.

Accordingly, this writ petition shall stand allowed. The impugned order dated 31 January 2017 shall hereby stand quashed. The matter shall in consequence stand remitted to be District Magistrate for reevaluation of the claim of the petitioner in accordance with law and the observations made hereinabove. The District Magistrate shall endeavour to conclude the exercise of consideration with expedition and communicate a final decision to the petitioner in respect of his claim for absorption preferably within a period of three months from the date of presentation of a certified copy of this order. "

10. Be that as it may, considering the facts and circumstances of the case the Court grant liberty to the petitioner to move a detailed representation along with a certified copy of this order for redressal of his grievances taking all possible grounds with supported documents before the respondent no.3, who shall decide the same in accordance with law by a reasoned and speaking order after affording an opportunity of hearing to the petitioner, expeditiously preferably within a period of three months from the date of its receipt.

11. It is made clear that the Court has not adjudicated the claim of the petitioner on merits and the respondent no.3 is at liberty to take a decision on the representation of the petitioner in accordance with law.

12. With the aforesaid observation, the writ petition is disposed of.

A . U.P. C & H Act, 1953-Sec-9A(2)-petitioners objection-alleging-land in dispute-ancestral property-hence filed application for partition-o.p nos. 4 & 5-alleging to have bought the said land-vide regd. sale deed-as disputed land-self acquired property of petitioners grand father-not a joint hindu family property-petitioners failed to discharge their initial burden of proving-that it was acquired from the joint nucleus of the joint hindu family-for the welfare of the family-impugned orders-rightly passed-no illegality-Petition Dismissed.

B. It is well settled proposition that even in the Joint Hindu Family a member of said family can acquire land for himself and unless it is proved that the land was acquired by him in the representative capacity out of joint family funds for the benefit of the family it cannot be held to be joint family land merely because it was acquired by him when he formed joint family with other members.

C. Held, since the petitioners were claiming that land in dispute was acquired by the Joint Hindu Family, therefore initial burden was upon the petitioners to prove that it was acquired from the joint nucleus of the Joint Hindu Family. But the burden could not be discharged by the petitioners and they could not prove that it was purchased from the joint nucleus for the welfare of the family, therefore, the plea of the petitioners that the opposite parties no.4 and 5 were required to prove that the jointness of the family has come to an end is misconceived and not sustainable in the eyes of law. In view the aforesaid discussions this Court is of the considered opinion that the judgment and order dated 22.06.1987 passed by the Consolidation Officer and dated 11.03.1999 passed by the Joint Director Consolidation have rightly been passed in accordance with law after considering the material and evidence on record. This Court does not find any illegality or error in the orders. The writ petition has been filed on misconceived grounds having no substance which is devoid of any merit and is liable to be dismissed.

Writ Petition dismissed. (E-8)

1. Heard, Ms. Navita Sharma, learned counsel for the petitioner, learned Standing Counsel and Shri Vimal Kishore Verma, learned counsel for the opposite parties no.4 and

2. This writ petition has been filed challenging the judgment and order dated 11.03.1999 and 22.06.1987 passed by the opposite parties no.1 and 2 respectively.

3. The brief facts of the case for adjudication of the case in hand are that the petitioners had filed the objections under Section 9-A (2) of the U.P. Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1953 (here-in-after referred as the Act of 1953) on 16.09.1985 alleging therein that the land of the alleged Khata No.414 is their ancestral property. It was earned jointly by three real brothers namely Lachhiman, Bhagwati and Raj Bahadur. Lachhiman was the eldest and Karta of the family therefore his name was recorded. It was submitted that they have 1/3rd share, upon which they are in possession and are cultivating the same. They are co-sharers in the aforesaid Khata No.414 having numbers 1389 and 1045 situated at Gram Chilauli, Pargana Mohandganj, District-Raebareli. The opposite parties no.4 and 5 had also filed their objections under Section 9-A (2) of the Act of 1953 alleging therein that the disputed land was self acquired by Lachhiman from his own income after separation. His brothers have no share in the said land. They have received the said land through a sale deed from Lachhiman and they are in possession after the sale deed and mutation and are Bhumidhar. Accordingly, they denied the rights and title of the petitioners and others and prayed for the rejection of the request for partition and to continue the entry in the name of the opposite parties no.4 and 5.

4. The statement of witnesses examined on behalf of the petitioners Lal Pratap Singh as PW-1 on 24.12.1995, Ram Baran Singh as PW-2 on 27.01.1986 and Bajrangi as PW-3 on 23.04.1986 were recorded. On behalf of the opposite parties no.4 and 5 also three witnesses were examined namely Devi as DW-1 on 27.05.1986, Kodau as DW-2 on 01.07.1986 and Satya Narain as DW-3 on 23.02.1987. The consolidation officer after hearing the parties and considering the evidence and records rejected the objections of the petitioners and provided that it shall remain entered in the name of Satya Narain etc. by means of the order dated 22.06.1987. The petitioners preferred an appeal number 1558/893/616/378 under Section 11 (1) of the Act of 1953 before the Settlement Officer Consolidation, Raebareli. He, after hearing the learned counsel for the parties and examining the evidence available on record, allowed the appeal and set-aside the order dated 22.06.1987 by means of the judgment and order dated 08.03.1990. It was further provided that in Khata No.414 the names of the petitioners be also recorded alongwith the opposite parties no.4 & 5.

5. Being aggrieved the opposite parties no.4 and 5 preferred a Revision No.930/301 under Section 48 of the Act of 1953 before the Joint Director Consolidation. The Joint Director Consolidation, after hearing the learned counsel for the parties and considering the material available on record, allowed the revision and set-aside the order passed by the Settlement Officer Consolidation dated 08.03.1990 and maintained the order dated 22.06.1987 passed by the Consolidation Officer with observation of correction of records by means of the judgment and order dated 11.03.1999. Hence the present writ petition has been filed under Article 226 of the Constitution of India challenging the orders dated 11.03.1999 and 22.06.1987.

6. Submission of learned counsel for the petitioners was that the grandfather of the petitioners nos.2 and 3 and great grandfather of the petitioners nos.1/2 and 1/3 namely Lala had three sons; Lachhiman, Bhagwati and Raj Bahadur. After death of Lala, all the three sons of Lala inherited the property jointly however Lachhiman was the karta of the family. He, with the intention that all property may not be divided among his brothers, executed a registered will of plot Nos.1389 and 1405 in favour of their grand sons i.e the opposite parties no.4 and 5 while the said land was allotted to him as karta of the Joint Hindu Family being eldest brother. Since the said property was allotted to him as karta of the Joint Hindu Family, therefore the same was also liable to be divided equally. But all the properties were divided and recorded in their names according to their shares except the aforesaid property in despute. Since the shares of the petitioners in the said land was not recorded in their names therefore, the petitioners had filed objections under Section 9-A (2) of the Act of 1953 in regard to the land Nos.1389 and 1405 having Khata No.414. Lal Pratap Singh, who was examined as PW-1 on 24.12.1985, had stated in his evidence that the partition had taken place before 24-25 years while the said land was allotted in the name of Lachhiman prior to that, therefore it was a property of the Joint Hindu Family and was liable to be partitioned equally.

7. She had further stated that the opposite party no.4 has also stated in his evidence that Lachhiman had died in 1980 and he had no knowledge that how he had acquired the said property but it was a self acquired property. He has stated this on the basis information given by villagers.

The witnesses have also stated that Lachhiman was residing in the village while Bhagwati and Raj Bahadur lives out and they used to send money to Lachhiman, out of which he had acquired the property. She had further stated that since the opposite parties no.4 and 5 are claiming that it was the self acquired property of Lachhiman, therefore the burden was on them to proof that it is a self acquired property of Lachhiman and he had some other source of income but their burden has not been discharged. She had also submitted that the opposite party no.5 was minor at the time of sale deed and the proof of the payment of the consideration has also not been submitted. Therefore the circumstances also indicate that the sale deed was executed by late Lachhiman just to save the land in dispute from being partitioned. The learned Consolidation Officer and Joint Director Consolidation failed to consider the evidence and the material on record in its correct perspective and wrongly rejected the objection and the revision. The learned Settlement Officer Consolidation had rightly considered the evidence of Lal Pratap Singh, PW-1 and considering that the opposite parties no.4 and 5 are the legal successor of late Lachhiman, therefore there was no occasion for executing the sale deed even then the sale deed has been executed in regard to the land in dispute with cleverness to remove his doubt that it may not be divided among all treating it to be ancestral properly.

8. On the basis of above, learned counsel for the petitioners has submitted that the judgment and orders dated 11.03.1999 and 22.06.1987 passed by the opposite parties no.1 and 3 respectively are liable to be quashed and the names of the petitioners are also liable to be recorded in Khata No.414 (Supra) alongwith opposite parties no.4 and 5. She had relied on a judgment of this Court passed in the case of (Smt.) Dharmawati Tiwari and Others Vs. Prem Shanker Tiwari and Others; 1999 (17) LCD 81.

9. Per contra, learned counsel for the opposite parties no.4 and 5 does not dispute the pedigree given by the learned counsel for the petitioners. However he had submitted that the land in dispute was a self acquired property of late Lachhiman. He had acquired the land in dispute from the Zamindar and one of the receipt dated 10.12.1948 has been filed as CA-1.

10. Subsequently, the said land was allotted to late Lachhiman as is apparent from the allotment order of old Gata No.2006-2007. During consolidation operations the land in dispute were changed and new Gata Nos.1389 and 1405 respectively were allotted which is apparent from CH form 41 of the land in dispute. Late Lachhiman had deposited 20 times of rent on 19.08.1976 and became Bhumidhar of land in dispute with transferable rights. Thereafter, late Lachhiman had executed a registered sale deed in favour of the opposite parties no.4 and 5 on 24.08.1976 and the mutation was also made in their favour. He also submitted that it is also apparent from the perusal of the Khatauni of the 1382 to 1384 that the names of the opposite parties no.4 and 5 were recorded in the year 1976. As such the opposite parties no.4 and 5 had rightly filed objection under Section 9-A (2) of the Act of 1953. He had also invited the attention of the Court towards CA-7 and CA-8 Khasra barasala of 1372 to 1883 fasli and 1378 to 1389 Fasli to show that the late Lachhiman and thereafter the opposite parties no.4 and 5 are in possession of the land in dispute. The opposite parties no.4 and 5 have also deposited the rent of the land in dispute in regard to which the rent receipt and the Kisanbahi have also been filed.

11. On the basis of the above, the learned counsel for the opposite parties no.4 and 5 submitted that they have filed ample evidence to show that it was self acquired property of late Lachhiman and after the registered sale deed executed by him the names of opposite parties no.4 and 5 are recorded and they are in possession and cultivating. But the petitioners have failed to file any documentary evidence such as khasra and the receipts etc. of the land in dispute to show that it was a joint family property and as claimed by them they are in possession of the part of the land. While as per the evidence adduced by the petitioners the two brothers of late Lachhiman namely Bhagwati was residing in Pakistan and thereafter in Bombay and Raj Bahadur was residing in Bombay, therefore there was no question of their being entered into possession.

12. Lastly he submitted that it was not a property owned by a Joint Hindu Family and purchased from a joint nucleus of the joint family because it was a self acquired property of late Lachhiman. Therefore he has rightly executed sale deed of the property in favour of the opposite parties no.4 and 5. The opposite parties no.1 and 3 have rightly decided the objections in favour of the opposite parties no.4 and 5 but the opposite party no.2 has wrongly and in an illegal manner, merely on the basis of presumption had allowed the objections filed by the petitioners. The writ petition has been filed on misconceived and baseless grounds which is not tenable in the eyes of law and is liable to be dismissed with costs.

13. Learned counsel for the opposite parties had relied on 1983 RD page 107; Sheo Nath Vs. Deputy Direction of Consolidation and Others, 2010 (109) RD 679; Sonu & Rahul Vs. Board of Revenue and Others, 2014 (123) RD 323 Shiva Nath Vs. Deputy Director of Consolidation, Varanasi and Others and 2007 (25) LCD 1420; Ruchha and Others Vs. Deputy Director of Consolidation, Gorakhpur and Others.

14. I have considered the submissions of learned counsel for the parties and perused the records.

15. The pedigree as given by the Deputy Director of Consolidation in his judgment and order dated 11.03.1999 passed in Revision No.9301/301 (Satya Narain and Another Vs. Bajrangi & Others) under Section 48 of the Consolidation of Holdings Act and the Consolidation Officer in his order dated 22.06.1987 is not disputed to the parties. As per pedigree Lala had three sons namely Lachhiman, Bhagwati and Raj Bahadur. As stated in the evidence by the witnesses of the petitioners Bhagwati was residing in Pakistan and Raj Bahadur in Bombay. Subsequently Bhagwati came back to India and was residing in Bombay. But the Lachhiman, undisputedly was residing in the village where the land in dispute being Gata No.1389 and 1405 is situated and recorded in his name and thereafter in the names of the opposite parties no.4 and 5 in the Khatauni of basic year. The old Gata number of the aforesaid land was 2006 and 2007 which is apparent from the CH form 41 of village Chiluli, Pargana- Mohandganj, Tehsil Salon, District- Raebareli contained in Annexure No. CA-3 to the counter affidavit. Undisputedly the said land was allotted to late Lachhiman by the Zamindar.

Subsequently the same was allotted to him which is apparent from annexure No.CA-2 which has also not been disputed by the petitioners. It is also not in dispute that late Lachhiman had got the land in dispute converted into Bhumidhari with transferable rights after depositing 20 times rent on 19.08.1976, a copy of the receipt has been filed as annexure No.CA-4.

16. The dispute which has been raised is that the land in dispute was acquired by late Lachhiman being karta of a Joint Hindu Family as he was eldest among three sons of Lala therefore it should also be divided. But the petitioners, though filed objections during the Consolidation Operations on 16.09.1985 with a prayer for recording their names as co-sharers, but failed to produce any evidence that there was Joint Hindu Family and any joint nucleus from which the land in dispute was acquired.

17. One of the witnesses produced by the petitioners namely Lal Pratap Singh has stated that whatever evidence he is giving it is on the basis of information gathered from others in the village. But he had not clarified as to whether all the three brothers were living together as a Joint Hindu Family and the land in dispute was acquired from any joint nucleus. He had also stated that he has no knowledge of being any patta in favour of Lachhiman etc. He had also stated that Bhagwati was earlier residing in Karanchi, Pakistan thereafter he came to Bombay and Raj Bahadur was residing in Bombay. The learned Consolidation Officer had rightly recorded that this witness had no knowledge about acquiring the land in dispute and his evidence is not reliable. Other witness Bajrangi had also stated that the separation of the three brothers had not taken place before him. He also could not prove that the land in dispute was acquired by the joint family from any joint nucleus for the benefit of the family. He had also stated that Bhagwati and Raj Bahadur were living out and they used to send money to late Lachhiman but no proof thereof has been filed.

18. One of the arguments was that the family was a joint Hindu family and the said property was acquired by Lachhiman as karta of family. For treating a property to be a Joint Hindu Family property it was required to be proved that there was a Joint Hindu Family and some joint nucleus from which the land in dispute was acquired for welfare of the family but no such evidence was adduced or pointed out during argument before this court. All the three brothers were also living separately when the property was acquired by Lachhiman as the two brothers were living out. No proof or reliable evidence has also been adduced that they used to send money. A plea was also raised that the petitioners are in possession on their part of land in dispute and paying land revenue but no evidence in proof thereof has also been filed.

19. On the other hand, from the evidence and material on record it is apparent that the land revenue of the land in dispute was paid by the Lachhiman to Zamindar. Subsequently the same was allotted to him by means of the allotment order. The land in dispute was got converted by late Lachhiman after depositing 20 times of rent on 19.08.1976 and he had become Bhumidhar with transferable rights of the land in dispute. Thereafter, he had executed a registered sale deed on 24.08.1976 in favour of the opposite parties no.4 and 5 for a consideration of Rs.5000. In pursuance thereof the names of the opposite parties no.4 and 5 were also recorded in the revenue records which is apparent from Khatauni of 1832 to 1834 contained in annexure No.CA-6. It is also apparent from the documents of 12 years filed by the opposite parties no.4 and 5 that earlier the name of Lachhiman was recorded and subsequently the names of opposite parties no.4 and 5 has been recorded and they are paying the land revenue. No objection was raised in the first consolidation operations and the sale deed was also not challenged as admitted by the learned counsel for the petitioners .

20. It was submitted that even if the objection was not raised in the first consolidation that can be raised subsequently. But for that it was required to be proved by cogent evidence that the land in dispute was acquired living in the Joint Hindu Family and from joint fund and for the welfare of the joint family but no such evidence could be adduced by the petitioners. They also could not adduce any evidence in regard to their alleged possession on the part of the land in dispute. One thing is also very material that admittedly Raj Bahadur was alive at the time of filing of objections and PW-1; Lal Pratap Singh had admitted in his evidence on 24.12.1985 that he is alive but Raj Bahadur had neither filed any such objection before the Consolidation Officer nor he was produced in evidence by the petitioners to prove that it was a Joint Hindu Family and the property in dispute was acquired from any such joint fund for the welfare of the family. He could be a material witness for proving the contention of the petitioners but he was not produced.

21. The Consolidation Officer, after considering the pleadings and the evidence, had rejected the objections of the petitioners in regard to Khata No.414 as the petitioners had failed to prove their case. But the learned Settlement Officer Consolidation, wrongly interpreting the evidence of Lal Pratap Singh PW-1 and merely on presumption, that since the opposite parties no.4 and 5 would have acquired land in dispute otherwise also being legal heirs of Lachhiman therefore there was no need of executing sale deed in their favour and it has been executed on the apprehension that the land in dispute may also not be divided, treated it to be an ancestral property and directed to record the names of the petitioners alongwith opposite parties no.4 and 5. But failed to consider that if it was a property of the Joint Hindu Family then the name of Raj Bahadur should also have been recorded and if he was not alive it should have been recorded and his share should have been divided among others.

22. On challenge being made to the order passed on appeal by the Settlement Officer Consolidation the Deputy Direction of Consolidation after considering the evidence and material on record has rightly recorded that if the petitioners were claiming to be a joint Hindu property then the burden was on them to prove that there was any joint fund of family from which the land in dispute was acquired for the interest of the joint family and rightly allowed the revision in accordance with law and set-aside the judgment and order passed by the Settlement Officer Consolidation dated 08.03.1990 and maintained the order dated 22.06.1986 passed by the Consolidation Officer. Learned revisional court has also recorded that the copies of the Khasra etc. filed by the respondents are in their favour.

23. This court in the case of Sheo Nath Vs. Deputy Director Consolidation and Others (Supra) has held that if a holding is entered in the name of one or more members of the family and another member claims a share in the holding the burden of proving that the holding was joint family property and the name of recorded person or persons was in the representative capacity lies heavily on the claimant. It has further been held that the law is fairly settled that the member of the joint family or even a Karta of the joint family can acquire property himself and own his name and the other members of the family would have no interest or share in it if he has acquired it from his own fund.

24. This Court in the case of Sonu & Rahul Vs. Board of Revenue and Others (Supra) has held that rights of a Bhumidhar are transferable and this power of transfer is only subject to the provisions of the Uttar Pradesh Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act, 1950 and under the said act the principles of coparcenary property are not applicable to Bhumidhari rights. It has also been held that in absence of any material it could not be shown that the family had any nucleus or Joint Hindu Family fund. The relevant paragraphs 3, 4, 5 are reproduced as under:-

"(3) The only point urged by the learned counsel for the petitioners is that the land in dispute was purchased by Chandra Shekhar out of Joint Hindu Family fund and as such the petitioners were not even born on the date of the sale deed. There is no material on record to show that the said family had any nucleus or Joint Hindu Family fund. The sale deed stands in the name of Sri Chandra Shekhar alone.

(4) A Division Bench of this Court in the case of Mahendra Singh Vs. Attar Singh and Others, has held that the Bhumidhari rights are special rights created by Act I of 1951 and these new rights are solely to be governed by the provisions of the Act. The notions of Hindu Law or Mohammedan Law which would be applicable to other property not governed by any special law can not be imported into the rights created by this Act.

(5) By Section 152 of the U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act, rights of a Bhumidhar are transferable and this power of transfer is only subject to the provisions of this Act, Under the Act the principles coparcenary property are not applicable to Bhumidhari rights."

25. This Court in the case of of Shiva Nath Vs. Deputy Director of Consolidation, Varanasi and Others (Supra) after considering the judgments of the Hon'ble Apex Court has held that the initial burden is on the person who claims that it was joint family property but after initial discharge of the burden it shifts to the party who claims that the property has been acquited by him through his own source without the aid of the joint family property and there can be no presumption in law that a property purchased in the name of a member of a family had ipso facto the character of Joint Hindu Family property unless it could be shown that the family possessed a nucleus for the purchase of the same.

26. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Shrinivas Krishnarao Kango Vs.

Narayan Devji Kango; AIR 1954 SC 379 has held that so far as the proposition of law is concerned, the initial burden is on the person who claims that it was joint family property but after initial discharge of the burden, it shifts to the party who claims that the property has been purchased by him through his own source and not from the joint family nucleus.

27. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Appasaheb Peerappa Chamdgade v. Devendra Peerappa Chamdgade;(2007) 1 SCC 521 after considering other decisions has held that on survey of the aforesaid decisions what emerges is that there is no presumption of a Joint Hindu Family but on the evidence if it is established that the property was Joint Hindu Family property and the other properties were acquired out of that nucleus and if the initial burden is discharged by the person who claims Joint Hindu Family, then the burden shifts to the party alleging self-acquisition to establish affirmatively that the property was acquired without the aid of the joint family property by cogent and necessary evidence.

28. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of K.V. Narayanaswami Iyer Vs. K.V. Ramakrishna Iyer;AIR 1965 SC 289 has held that it is well settled that in case on the date of acquisition of a particular property the joint family had sufficient nucleus for acquiring it, the property in the name of any family member of the joint family should be presumed to be acquired from out of family funds and so form part of the joint family property.

29. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Rukhmabai Vs. Lala Laxminarayn; AIR 1960 SC 335 has held that there is a presumption in Hindu law of jointness of family but there is no presumption that any property whether movable or immovable held by a member of a Joint Hindu Family is joint family property. The burden lies upon the person who asserts that a particular property is joint family property to establish that fact and if he proves that there was sufficient joint family nucleus from and out of which the said property could have been acquired, the burden shifts to the member of the family who is claiming to have acquired without any assistance of the joint family property. The same view has been taken by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Achuthan Nair vs Chinnamu Amma; AIR 1966 SC 411 and Surendra Kumar vs Phoolchand (Dead) Through Lrs.; (1996) 2 SCC 491.

30. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of D.S. Lakshmaiah & Another Vs. L. Balasubramanyam & Another; AIR 2003 SC 3800 has observed that a property could not be presumed to be Joint Hindu Family merely because of the existence of a Joint Hindu Family and raised an ancillary question in paragraph-7 and answered the same in paragraph-18. The same are extracted below:-

"7. The question to be determined in the present case is as to who is required to prove the nature of property whether it is joint Hindu family property or self-acquired property of the first appellant.

18. The legal principle, therefore, is that there is no presumption of a property being joint family property only on account of existence of a joint Hindu family. The one who asserts has to prove that the property is a joint family property. If, however, the person so asserting proves that there was nucleus with which the joint family property could be acquired, there would be presumption of the property being joint and the onus would shift on the person who claims it to be self-acquired property to prove that he purchased the property with his own funds and not out of joint family nucleus that was available."

The same has also been followed by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Makhan Singh (D) By Lrs vs Kulwant Singh; (2007) 10 SCC 602.

31. This Court in the case of Ruchha and Others Vs. Deputy Director of Consolidation, Gorakhpur and Others (Supra) has held that it is well settled proposition that even in the Joint Hindu Family a member of said family can acquire land for himself and unless it is proved that the land was acquired by him in the representative capacity out of joint family funds for the benefit of the family it can not be held to be joint family land merely because it was acquired by him when he formed joint family with other members.

32. In the present case since the petitioners were claiming that land in dispute was acquired by the Joint Hindu Family, therefore initial burden was upon the petitioners to prove that it was acquired from the joint nucleus of the Joint Hindu Family. But the burden could not be discharged by the petitioners and they could not prove that it was purchased from the joint nucleus for the welfare of the family.

33. The judgment relied by the learned counsel for the petitioners in the case of (Smt.) Dharmawati Tiwari and Others Vs. Prem Shanker Tiwari and Others (Supra) is not of any assistance to the case of the petitioners because in that case also the trial court after considering all relevant aspect of the controversy viz. continuity of jointness till the house in dispute is acquired, availability of nucleus of the joint family for purchase of the house in dispute, treatment and conduct of the parties with respect to the property in dispute while raising a presumption of jointness of the family had placed the burden upon the shoulder of the contesting respondents to prove that jointness of the family came to an end from the property in dispute as it was alleged to have been self acquired. But in the present case the petitioners have failed to discharge their initial burden,therefore, the plea of the petitioners that the opposite parties no.4 and 5 were required to prove that the jointness of the family has come to an end is misconceived and not sustainable in the eyes of law.

34. In view the aforesaid discussions this Court is of the considered opinion that the judgment and order dated 22.06.1987 passed by the Consolidation Officer and dated 11.03.1999 passed by the Joint Director Consolidation have rightly been passed in accordance with law after considering the material and evidence on record. This Court does not find any illegality or error in the orders. The writ petition has been filed on misconceived grounds having no substance which is devoid of any merit and is liable to be dismissed.

35. The writ petition is accordingly dismissed. No order as to costs.

1. An interesting question is involved in this petition under Section 11(6) of the Arbitration & Conciliation Act, 1996 shown of unecessary facts, the case setup by the petitioner is that he is the distributor for L.P.G. Gas cylinders and engaged in the aforesaid business in pursuance of the distributorship agreement with Hindustan Petroleum Corporation dated 16.05.2008. The petitioner is stated to be the distributor of L.P.G. since last 31 years and the distributorship agreement have been renewed from time to time and lastly it was renewed on 15.05.2013, a copy of which has been annexed as Annexure No. 1 with the petition. The aforesaid distribution agreement contains an arbitration clause which reads as under:-

39. Any dispute of difference of any nature whatsoever or regarding any rights, liability, act, omission, or account of any of the parties, here to arising out of or in relation to this agreement (other than those in respect of which the decision ofany person, is by the Agreement expressed to be final and binding) shall be referred to the sole Arbitration of the Chairman and Managing Director of the Corporation or of retired officer of oher PSUs or retired Senior Central Govt. Officer who may be nominated by the Chairman and Managing Director. The dealer will not be entitled to raise any objection to any such Arbitrator on the ground that the Arbitrator is or was an officer and/or share holder of the Corporation or that in the course of his duties as an officer of the Corporation he had expressed views on all or any of the matter in dispute of difference. In the event of the Arbitrator to whom the matter is originally referred vacating his office or being unable to act for any reasons the Chairman and Managing Director as aforesaid at the time of such vacation of office or inability to act, shall designate person who shall be entitled to proceed with the reference from the point at which it was left by his predecessor. It is also a term to this contract that on person other than the Chairman and Managing Director or person nominaed by such Chairman and Managing Director of the Corporation as aforesaid shall act as Arbitrator hereunder, the cost of the arbitration shall be shared equally by the parties. The award of the Arbitrator so appointed shall be final, conclusive and binding on all parties to the Agreement, subject to the provisions of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 or any statutory modification or of re-enactment there of and the rules made thereunder and for the time being in force shall apply to the Arbitration proceeding under this Clause. The award shall be made in writing and published by the Arbitrator "within six month after entering upon the reference or within such extended time not exceeding further four months as the sole arbitrator shall by a writing under his own hands appoint.

The arbitrator shall have power to order and direct either of the parties to abide by, observe and perform all such difference i.e. dispute before him. The arbitrator shall have all summary powers and may take such evidence, oral and/or documentary as the arbitrator in his obsolute discretion thinks it and shall be entitled toercise all power under the Indian Arbitration Act, 1940 including admission of any affidavit as evidence of the matter in difference i.e. dispute before him. The arbitrator shall be at liberty to appoint, if necessary any accountant or engineering or other technical person to assist him, and to act by the opinion so taken.

The arbitrator shall have power to make one or more awards, whether interim or otherwise in respect of the dispute and difference and in particular will be entitled to make separate awards in respect of claims or cross claims of the parties.

The parties hereby agree that the courts in the city of LUCKNOW alone shall have jurisdiction to entertain any application or other proceeding in respect of any thing arising under this agreement and any award or awards made by the sole arbitrator hereunder shall be filed in the concerned courts if the city of LUCKNOW only."

2. It is stated by the petitioner that the respondent-Corporation had been issuing show cause notices at the drop of a hat and various inspections were conducted on the distributorship of the peitioner. Though the petitioner had replied to the show cause notices which were issued from time to time yet the attitude of the respondent was threatening and being tired of being victimized at the behest of the respondent, the petitioner is said to have invoked the arbitration clause by means of its letter dated 03.05.2014.

3. This letter dated 03.05.2014 invoking the arbitration clause is in the eye of the storm and is of which much significance as it is only on the aforesaid notice and its service, the result of this petition balances.

4. The petitioner again sent a reminder for appointment of the arbitrator by means of its letter dated 13.05.2014 and after having waited for the statutory period of 30 days, the petitioner insituted the instant petitioner before the High Court on 03.06.2014.

5. The respondent through counsel appeared before the High Court on the first date and made a statement that it had not received the notice as stated by the petitioner dated 03.05.2014. In light of the statement so made, a coordinate Bench of this Court passed the following order dated 05.06.2014 which reads as under:-

Sri K.S. Pawar, Advocate has filed Vakalatnama on behalf of respondent. The same is taken on record.

Heard Sri A.S. Rakhra, learned counsel for the applicant and Sri K.S. Pawar for respondent.

By means of the present writ petition, the petitioner has prayed for an appointment of Arbitrator so that the present dispute may be resolved.

Learned counsel for the applicant states that the distributorship agreement dated 16.05.2008 as well as 15.05.2013 there was a categorical provision for arbitration in the matter and as per Clause-39 of the distributorship agreement dated 15.05.2013, he is entitle for referring the dispute to the arbitrator. The applicant has already moved an application before the opposite party for appointment of an arbitrator and till today nothing has happened and till today.

Aggrieved with the non action of the respondent, the present writ petition has been filed. However, learned counsel for the opposite party on the basis of instruction submits that till today, the said application has not been received in the office of opposite party and the moment, it would received, the same shall be properly replied forthwith.

Therefore, in the interest of justice, I hereby direct the opposite party to take suitable action in the matter, meanwhile.

List in the second week of July, 2014 as fresh.

6. The respondent by means of its letter dated 09.07.2014 appointed one Sri A.K. Reddy as the sole arbitrator. The petitioner on 20.08.2014 filed a supplementary affidavt in the instant case appraising the Court that the respondent has appointed Sri A.K. Reddy as the sole arbitrator and the appointment of the said Arbitrator is contrary to the settled legal position, inasmuch as, the same has been done after the petitioner had approached this Court for appointing the arbitrator while the respondent had forefeited its right to appoint the arbitrator. The petitioner once again filed another supplementary affidavit dated 20.03.2015 appraising the Court that the alleged arbitrator Sri A.K. Reddy is proceeding in the matter and that despite the petitioner informing him that his appointment is not valid and the matter is alreaday engaging the attention of the High Court but the sole arbitrator was adament in asking the petitioner to submit to his jurisdiction. The petitioner also filed an application for early hearing bringing on record the extract of proceedings which were transpiring before the arbitrator who was moving ahead with the arbitration while the petitioner had been contending that his appointment was illegal and he should not proceed and should wait until the petition is decided by this Court.

7. On the other hand, the respondent filed its counter affidavit on 12.03.2018 and raised a plea that it had not received the letter dated 03.05.2014. It was stated by the respondent that the petitioner had sent a different letter by which he had sought the report regarding some CBI inspection. Since the postal receipt annexed with the letter dated 03.05.20104 was in respect of the inquiry report and not in respect of the request seeking appointment of arbitrator, hence the petitioner was not maintainable.

8. It is also the case of the respondent that it had appointed the arbitrator in pursuance fo the order pased by this Court dated 05.06.2014 which has been reproduced above. The respondent thereafter filed a supplementary affidavit and it has brought on record the letters by which the petitioner had sought the report of the CBI inquiry and it has further taken a stand that it did not even receive the reminder dated 13th of May 2014. It was also stated that the petitioner had filed a statement of claim before the arbitrator and thus has submitted to the jurisdiction of the arbitrator and as such is not entitled to raise this dispute before this Court.

9. The petitioner filed a rejoinder affidavit denying the contentions of the respondent and reiterating its stand and additionally submitted that during the pendency of the above petition the arbitrator has passed an order dated 27.06.2017 terminating the proceedings in terms of Section 25 as the claimant failed to submit/communicate its statement of claim.

10. It is in this backdrop, that the controversy, to be adjudicated by this Court is two fold.

(i) Whether the appointment of the arbitrator by the respondent by means of its lette dated 09.07.2014 is valid and (ii) whether what is the effect of the proceedings which transpired before the said sole arbitrator Sri A.K. Reddy who terminated the proceedings by means of its order dated 27.06.2017.

11. The Court has heard Sri A.K. Rakhra, learned counsel for the appellant and Sri A.S. Asthana for the respondent-Corporation.

12. As far as the facts are concerned, the same are not disputed between the parties, inasmuch as, both the parties agree that there is a distributionship agreement which contains an arbritation clause and both are bound by it. The contention of learned counsel for the petitioner is that once it had invoked the arbitration clause by means of the letter dated 03.05.2014 and the respondent did not cooperate in appointment of an arbitrator. In the meantime, the petitioner had approached this Court by means of the instant petition in the month of June, 2014, thereafter, the respondent forefeited its right to appoint an arbitrator, consequently, the alleged appointment of Sri A.K. Reddy by the respondent on 09.07.2014 is illegal and all subsequen actions and proceedings underaken by the said arbitrator are also void and it is now for this Court to appoint an arbitrator in exercise of the powers conferred under Section 11 (6) of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996.

13. Per contra, Sri Asthana has submitted that the alleged letter dated 03.05.2014 which is the source of invocation of the arbitration clause was not recieved by the respondent-Corporation. It is also submitted that once they did not receive the intial notice dated 03.05.2014 then even assuming the petitioner had sent another reminder on 13.05.2014 that will be of no consequence since a reminder cannot be treated to be the notice invoking arbitration. Moreover, if the reminder is taken as the notice invoking the arbitration then the instant petition filed before the High Court on 05.06.2014 would be premature, inasmuch as, 30 days would not have lapsed since sending of the said reminder notice.

14. It has been submitted that for the said reason, the petition is bad and has also additionally argued that the arbitrator was appointed by the respondent in pursuance of the order passed by this Court 05.06.2014. Once the petitioner participated and the order dated 27.06.2017 terminating the proceedings under Section 25 was passed, the same partkakes the nature of an award for which the petitioner ought to have taken recourse under Section 34 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 and the same is not open to be assailed in proceedings under Section 4 (6).

15. In order to decide the controversy its it is important to ascertain whether the notice dated 03.05.2014 was served on the respondent and what would be its outcome in case if despite service the respondent did not appoint an arbitrator and as borne out from the record and admitted to the parties, the arbitrator was appointed only on 09.07.2014 after the petitioner had already knocked the door of this Court by filing the instant petition on 05.06.2014.

16. Before proceeding further, it will be worthwhile to examine the relevant law on the aforesaid subject. This issue was considered by the Apex Court for the first time in the case of Datar Switchgears Vs. Tata Finance Ltd. and Another reported 2000 (8) SCC 151. Thereafter there has been a consistent view taken by the Apex Court which has been followed even as late as in the year 2017 wherein a large Bench of the Apex Court in the case of TRF Ltd. Vs. Energo Enginerring Projects Ltd. reported in 2017 (8) SCC 377. The relevant portion reads as under:-

24. In Deep Trading Co. v. Indian Oil Corpn. [Deep Trading Co. v. Indian Oil Corpn., (2013) 4 SCC 35 : (2013) 2 SCC (Civ) 449] , the three-Judge Bench referred to Clause 29 of the agreement, analysed sub-sections (1), (2), (6) and (8) of Section 11 of the Act, referred to the authorities in Datar Switchgears [Datar Switchgears Ltd. v. Tata Finance Ltd., (2000) 8 SCC 151] and Punj Lloyd Ltd. v. Petronet MHB Ltd. [Punj Lloyd Ltd. v. Petronet MHB Ltd., (2006) 2 SCC 638] and came to hold that: (Deep Trading case [Deep Trading Co. v. Indian Oil Corpn., (2013) 4 SCC 35 : (2013) 2 SCC (Civ) 449] , SCC p. 42, paras 19-20)

"19. If we apply the legal position exposited by this Court in Datar Switchgears [Datar Switchgears Ltd. v. Tata Finance Ltd., (2000) 8 SCC 151] to the admitted facts, it will be seen that the Corporation has forfeited its right to appoint the arbitrator. It is so for the reason that on 9-8-2004, the dealer called upon the Corporation to appoint the arbitrator in accordance with the terms of Clause 29 of the agreement but that was not done till the dealer had made application under Section 11(6) to the Chief Justice of the Allahabad High Court for appointment of the arbitrator. The appointment was made by the Corporation only during the pendency of the proceedings under Section 11(6). Such appointment by the Corporation after forfeiture of its right is of no consequence and has not disentitled the dealer to seek appointment of the arbitrator by the Chief Justice under Section 11(6). We answer the above questions accordingly.

20. Section 11(8) does not help the Corporation at all in the fact situation. Firstly, there is no qualification for the arbitrator prescribed in the agreement. Secondly, to secure the appointment of an independent and impartial arbitrator, it is rather necessary that someone other than an officer of the Corporation is appointed as arbitrator once the Corporation has forfeited its right to appoint the arbitrator under Clause 29 of the agreement."

25. The Court accepted the legal position laid down in Newton Engg. [Newton Engg. and Chemicals Ltd. v. Indian Oil Corpn. Ltd., (2013) 4 SCC 44 : (2013) 2 SCC (Civ) 457] and referred to Deep Trading Co. [Deep Trading Co. v. Indian Oil Corpn., (2013) 4 SCC 35 : (2013) 2 SCC (Civ) 449] and opined that as the Corporation had failed to act as required under the procedure agreed upon and did not make the appointment until the application was made under Section 11(6) of the Act, it had forfeited its right of appointment of an arbitrator. In such a circumstance, the Chief Justice or his designate ought to have exercised his jurisdiction to appoint an arbitrator under Section 11(6) of the Act. Be it noted, the three-Judge Bench also expressly stated its full agreement with the legal position that has been laid down in Datar Switchgears Ltd. [Datar Switchgears Ltd. v. Tata Finance Ltd., (2000) 8 SCC 151]

17. From the above extraction of the principle and the consistent view taken by the Apex Court, it is no more res-integra that the right of the respondent to appoint an arbitrator commences from the time a request is made by the petitioner and within 30 days of the receiving of such request and in any case not beyond the date when the petitioner approached this Court by filing the instant petition.

18. Thus, the cut-off date for the respondent to appoint an arbitrator was 05.06.2014. Having said that, the question still arises as to whether the respondent received the letter invoking the arbitration clause dated 03.05.2014. In case if the answer to the aforesaid issue is "No" then the petitioner cannot press, that the respondent lost the right to appoint the arbitrator upon filing of the petition before this Court, however, in case if it is found that the letter dated 03.05.2014 was served then the submission of the petitioner holds good.

19. The learned counsel for the respondents has urged vehemently and has taken the Court through the record to indicate that the postal receipt which has been annexed by the petitioner with the letter dated 03.05.2014 actually relates to the other letter by which the petitioner had sought the inquiry report from the respondents. Thus, the submission is that the petitioner while sending the letter for seeking inquiry repor is using the said postal receipt to state that it was the lette dated 03.05.2014 which was sent under the said registered cover.

20. Though, initially the respondent had taken a stand that it did not receive the letter dated 03.05.2014 and thus even assuming that the notice dated 13.05.2014 (reminder) was served it would be of no consequence.

21. However, subsequently, it even denied the receiving of the reminder dated 13.05.2014 and in respect thereto it again took the stand that by the postal receipt dated 13.05.2014, the petitioner had sought the inquiry report and it did not relate to the reminder letter as alleged.

22. The learned counsel for the petitioner has streneously urged that the respondents have been playing a mischief, inasmuch as, they have been shifting their stand from time to time. However, the learned counsel for the petitioner has drawn the attention of the Court to the letter dated 09.07.2014 by which the respondent had appointed the arbitrator.

23. Upon the perusal of the said letter dated 09.07.2014 it would be interesting to note that the said letter is written by the Chairman and the Managing Director informing the petitioner that Sri A.K. Reddy has been appointed as the sole arbitrator. What is more interesting is that while referring to the documents, its specifically refers to the letter dated 03.05.2014 & 13.05.2014 and it is quoted hereinbelow as under:-

"Dear Sirs,

I refer to (i) Copy of H.P. Gas (Liquefied Petroleum Gas) Dealership (Domestic & Commercial) Agreement dated 15.05.2013 entered into by and between M/s Hindustan Petroleum Corporation Limited (Respondent) and Shri Rajesh Kumar Garg, who is carrying on business in the firm name/style of M/s. Garg Gas Service, Fazalganj, Kanpur (Claimant) (ii) Copy of Show Cause Notice dated 14.11.2013 issued by the Respondent to the Claimant (iii) Copy of reply dated 16.12.2013 of the Claimant to the Show Cause Notice dated 14.11.2013 (iv) Copies of letters dated 03.05.2014 and 13.05.2014 of the Claimant requesting for appointment of an arbitrator as per Clause No. 39 of the Dealership Agreement (v) copy of order dated 05.06.2014 passed by the Hon'ble Lucknow Bench of Allahabad High Court in Arbitration Application No. 20 of 2014 (vi) and all other related correspondence/documents.

By virtue of the order dated 05.06.2014 passed by the Hon'ble Lucknow Bench of Allahabad High Court in Arbitration Application No. 20 of 2014, as per request made by the Claimant vide his letters dated 03.05.2014 and in terms of Clause 39 of the Dealership Agreement, I hereby appoint Shri K.A. Reddy, an officer of the Corporation, as Sole Arbitrator ot adjudicate the disputes and differences between the parties.

24. From the perusal of the aforesaid quoted paragraphs it would indicate that it refers to the copies of the letter dated 03.05.2014 and 13.05.2014 as sent by the claimant requesting appointment of an arbitrator and it further provides that as per the request made by the claimant vide his letters dated 03.05.2014 and 13.05.2014 in terms of Clause 39 of the Dealership Agreement.

25. In light of the aforesaid lettter the stand taken by the respondent that it did not receive the aforesaid letter dated 03.05.2014 and 13.05.2014 is diluted. In furtherance of the letter dated 09.07.2014, the arbitrator also sent a notice dated 04.08.2014 addressed to the parties informing them of his appointment as the sole arbitrator and he also refers to the letter for the Chairman and Managing Direcotr of the respondent-Corporation dated 09.07.2014 which also makes a mention of the letters dated 03.05.2014 and 13.05.2014 sent by the claimant.

26. Once a senior and resposible Authority of the respondent-Corporation writes a letter appointing an arbitrator wherein there is a clear reference to the letters dated 03.05.2014 and 13.05.2014, this Court is of the view that the stand taken by the respondent stating that it did not receive the letter pales into insignificance. Admission of a party is the best piece of evidence.

27. Sri Asthana, learned counsel appearing for the respondent-Corporation could not give any plausible explanation as to why the reference of the letters were given in the appointment order of Sri A.K. Reddy when the respondent-Corporation did not receive the aforesaid letters. Moreover, from the perusal of the language written in the letter dated 09.07.2014 it is clear that while appointing the sole arbitrator, the aforementioned documents/letters were present since the CMD specifically refers to the said documents while taking its decision.

28. In light of the aforesaid, this Court is clearly of the view that the stand taken by the respondent that it did not receive the aforesaid letters cannot be countenanced.

29. Once it is so held, now it is to be examined that whether despite the fact, the petitioner had approached this Court on 05.06.2014 could the respondent appoint the arbitrator on the 09.07.2014 and whether this Court by means of the order dated 05.06.2014 directed the respondent to appoint an arbitrator. The order dated 05.06.2014 has already been reproduced hereinabove.

30. From the perusal of the order dated 05.06.2014 passed by this Court, it transpires that the Court had recorded the submissions of the learned counsel for the parties and thereafter its stated as under:-

" Therefore, in the interest of justice, I hereby direct the opposite party to take suitable action in the matter, meanwhile."

31. This above quoted extract from the order dated 05.06.2014 is to be read in context with the submission of the parties which is mentioned in the paragraph preceding the said order dated 05.06.201. The Court had noted the submission of the learned counsel for the responent that till date i.e. 05.06.2014 it did not receive the request for appointment of an arbitrator and the moment it would receive, it shall be properly reply forthwith. Thus, at best, what can be culled out is that the respondent by then had not received the letter requesting for an appointment of an arbitrator and the learned counsel for the respondents submitted that the moment they did receive they would reply to it forthwith and this is what the Court held directing the opposite party to take suitable action in the matter. As far as the legal position as extracted hereinabove is concerned, it is clear that the moment upon making a request and after a lapse of 30 days, the party approaches the Court under Section 11 then the right of the other party to appoint an arbitrator ceases.

32. This legal position which is settled cannot be ignored and thus, upon the perusal of the material on record, this Court finds that this Court had not directed or granted jurisdiction to the respondent to appoint an arbitrator. Thus, what can be deduced out is that the petitioner had made the request for appointment of an arbitrator by means of the letter dated 03.05.2014, the same was not responded by the opposite party, thereafter, the petitioner approached this Court by filing a petition after 30 days from invoking the arbitration clause. The arbitrator Sri A.K. Reddy was appointed on 09.07.2014 which in light of the decision as referred to hereinabove TRF (Supra) is not justified nor valid, accordingly, it is so held and the first question framed by the Cour is answered accordingly.

33. Once it is found that the respondent did not possess the jurisdiction or the authority to appoint the arbitrator, and the petitioner had invoked the jurisdiction of this Court by filing the instant petition, however, in the meantime, many subsequent developments occurred including the insistence of the said arbitrator, requiring the petitioner to participate, the reluctance of the petitioner to submit to his jurisdiction and ultimately termination of the proceedings by the said arbitrator by means of its order dated 27.06.2017.

34. Considering the fact that the appointment of Sri A.K. Reddy in the first place was in excess of jurisdiction and contrary to the settled legal provisions and principles, this Court is of the view that no jurisdiction could be conferred on the said arbitrator and any proceedings undertaken by him cannot be legitimatized. Once his appointment is found to be bad in the eyes of law, all his actions would be rendered null and void including the sittings held by him and passing of the order dated 27.06.2017 terminating the proceedings.

35. This Court is fortified in its view and draw strength from the decision of the Apex Court in the case of Perkins Eastman Achitects DPC and Others Vs. HSCC (India) Ltd. reported in AIR 2020 SC 59 wherein the question before the Apex Court, was what is the power that can be exercised by a court under Section 11 (6) when the appointment of the arbitrator is made by the respondent and whether a party is to be left to raise the challenge at an appropriate stage in terms of the remedies available in law. The Apex Court relying upon another decision in the case of Walter Bau AG reported in 2015 (3) SCC 100 framed the question and thereafter noticing the legal position has held as under. The relevant portion is being reproduced hereinafter:-

21. The further question that arises is whether the power can be exercised by this Court under Section 11 of the Act when the appointment of an arbitrator has already been made by the respondent and whether the appellant should be left to raise challenge at an appropriate stage in terms of remedies available in law. Similar controversy was gone into by a Designated Judge of this Court in Walter Bau AG MANU SC/0053/2015 : (2015) 3 SCC 800 and the discussion on the point was as under:-

"9. While it is correct that in Antrix MANU/SC/0514/2013 : (2014) 11 SCC 560 and Pricol Ltd. MANU/SC/1165/2014 : (2015) 4 SCC 177, it was opined by this Court that after appointment of an arbitrator is made, the remedy of the aggrieved party is not under Section 11 (6) but such remedy lies elsewhere and under different provisions of the Arbitration Act (Sections 12 and 13), the context in which the aforesaid view was expressed cannot be lost sight of. In Antrix MANU/SC/0514/2013 : (2014) 11 SCC 560, appointment of the arbitrator, as per the ICC Rules, was as per the alternative procedure agreed upon, whereas in Pricol Ltd. MANU/SC/1165/2014 : (2015) 4 SCC 177, 17., the party which had filed the application under Section 11 (6) of the Arbitration Act had already submitted to the jurisdiction of the arbitrator. In the present case, the situation is otherwise.

10. Unless the appointment of the arbitrator is ex facie valid and such appointment satisfies the Court exercising jurisdiction under Section 11 (6) of the Arbitration Act, acceptance of such appointment as a fait accompli to debar the jurisdiction under Section 11 (6) cannot be countenanced in law. In the present case, the agreed upon procedure between the parties contemplated the appointment of the arbitrator by the second party within 30 days of receipt of a notice from the first party. While the decision in Datar Switchgears Ltd. MANU/SC/0651/200 : (2000) 8 SCC 151 may have introduced some flexibility in the time frame agreed upon by the parties by extending it till a point of time anterior to the filing of the application under Section 11 (6) of the Arbitration Act, it cannot be lost sight of that in the present case the appointment of Shri Justice A.D. Mane is clearly contrary to the provisions of the Rules governing the appointment of arbitrators by ICADR, which the parties had agreed to abide by in the matter of such appointment. The option given to the respondent Corporation to go beyond the panel submitted by ICADR and to appoint any person of its choice was clearly not in the contemplation of the parties. If that be so, obviously, the appointment of Shri Justice A.D. Mane is non est in law. Such an appointment, therefore, will not inhibit the exercise of jurisdiction by this Court under Section 11 (6) of the Arbitration Act. It cannot, therefore, be held that the present proceeding is not maintainable in law. The appointment of Shri Justice A.D. Mane made beyond 30 days of the receipt of notice by the petitioner, though may appear to be in conformity with the law laid down in Datar Switchgears Ltd. MANU/SC/0651/2000 : (2000) 8 SCC 151, is clearly contrary to the agreed procedure which required the appointment made by the respondent Corporation to be from the panel submitted by ICADR. The said appointment, therefore, is clearly invalid in law."

22. It may be noted here that the aforesaid view of the Designated Judge in Walter Bau AG MANU/ SC/0053/2015 : (2015) 3 SCC 800 was pressed into service on behalf of the appellant in TRF Limited MANU/SC/0755/2017 : (2017) 8 SCC 377 and the opinion expressed by the Designated Judge was found to be in consonance with the binding authorities of this Court. It was observed:-

"32. Mr Sundaram, learned Senior Counsel for the appellant has also drawn inspiration from the judgment passed by the Designated Judge of this Court in Walter Bau AG MANU/SC/0053/2015 : (2015) 3 SCC 800, where the learned Judge, after referring to Antrix Corpn. Ltd. MANU/SC/0514/2013 : (2014) 11 SCC 560, distinguished the same and also distinguished the authority in Pricol Ltd. V. Johnson Controls Enterprise Ltd. MANU/SC/1165/2014 ; (2015) 4 SCC 177 and came to hold that: (Walter Bau AG case MANU/SC/0053/2015 : (2015) 3 SCC 800 SCC p. 806, para 10)

"10. Unless the appointment of the arbitrator is ex facie valid and such appointment satisfies the Court exercising jurisdiction under Section 11 (6) of the Arbitration Act, acceptance of such appointment as a fait accompli to debar the jurisdiction under Section 11 (6) cannot be countenanced in law. ..."

33. We may immediately state that the opinion expressed in the aforesaid case is in consonance with the binding authorities we have referred to hereinbefore."

25. In the aforesaid circumstances, in our view a case is made out to entertain the instant application preferred by the Applicants. We, therefore, accept the application, annul the effect of the letter dated 30.07.2019 issued by the respondent and of the appointment of the arbitrator. In exercise of the power conferred by section 11 (6) of the Act, we appoint Dr. Justice A.K. Sikri, former Judge of this Court as the sole arbitrator to decide all the disputes arising out of the Agreement dated 22.05.2017, between the parties, subject to the mandatory declaration made under the amended Section 12 of the Act with respect to independence and impartiality and the ability to devote sufficient time to complete the arbitration within the period as per Section 29A of the Act. A copy of the Order be dispatched to Dr. Justice A. K. Sikri at 144, Sundar Nagar, New Delhi - 110003 (Tel. No.:- 011 - 41802321). The arbitrator shall be entitled to charge fees in terms of the Fourth Schedule to the Act. The fees and other expenses shall be shared by the parties equally.

36. Thus, in light of what has been held above, this Court finds that the appointment of Sri A.K. Reddy was against the provision of law and thus it conferred no jurisdiction on him and all proceedings held by him were rendered null and void. Thus in light of the above discussions the objections of the respondent are rejected. Since there is no dispute in between the parties regarding the arbitration clause and that there are live disputes between the parties, accordingly, this Court in exercise of the powers conferred under Section 11 (6) of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 proposes the name of Hon'ble Justice Anirudh Singh (Rtd. Judge) of this Court who is residing at 1108 I Block, Ganga Apartment, Sector 4, Gomti Nagar Vistar, Lucknow, Pin Code No. 226010, Mob. 9454412315 to appoint as a sole arbitrator.

37. The learned counsel for the petitioner shall provide a complete set of paper book with the office to be forwarded to the proposed arbitrator for seeking his consent in terms of Section 12 (3) of the Act of 1996.

38. Accordingly, list this matter on 19.02.2020.

A Contempt of Courts Act, 1971 - section 2(b) – civil contempt - an act of contempt to be made out against the contemnor - there has to be a deliberate and willful disobedience and defiance of the order passed by a Court of law - the directions which are alleged to have been violated should be unambiguous and passing of an order in purported compliance of the order passed by a Court of law would give rise to a fresh cause of action. (Para-9)

The writ Court had directed the Court concerned for expediting the proceedings of impleadment application and also the proceeding of case under Section 34 of the U.P Land Revenue Act and to decide the same within a specified time in case there is no legal impediment - despite lapse of more than a year and despite lapse of the time framed by the writ Court neither the impleadment application has been decided nor the said case has been decided .(Para-2)

HELD:- No work having taken place invariably on account of lawyer's strike it cannot be said that there is any deliberate and willful disobedience and defiance of the order passed by the writ Court . (Para-3)

4. Mrityunjoy Das and another Vs. Sayed Hasibur Rahaman and others , 2002 (3) SCC 739

1. Heard.

2. The present contempt petition has been filed alleging non compliance of the judgment and order dated 18.12.2018 passed by writ Court in Writ Petition No. 36399 (MS) of 2018 Inre; Lalsar and Anr Vs. Tehsildar (Judicial), District Balrampur and ors, a copy of which is annexure 1 to the petition. By the said order, the writ Court had directed the Court concerned for expediting the proceedings of impleadment application dated 14.11.2017 and also the proceeding of case under Section 34 of the U.P Land Revenue Act and to decide the same within a specified time in case there is no legal impediment. It is contended that the copy of the said order was served upon in the Court of officer concerned on 28.12.2018 and since then despite lapse of more than a year and despite lapse of the time framed by the writ Court neither the impleadment application has been decided nor the said case has been decided and, consequently the officer concerned runs in contempt of the order of writ Court dated 18.12.2018.

3. Having heard the learned counsel for the applicant and having perused the records including the order sheet of the said case which has been filed as annexure 3 to the petition it comes out that invariably the lawyers have been abstaining from work. On a few occasion the officer has also been busy in administrative work apart from the fact that the officer concerned has also been transferred. Once this Court had directed for deciding of the case within a period of four months provided there is no legal impediment yet taking into consideration the aforesaid circumstances of no work having taken place invariably on account of lawyer's strike it cannot be said that there is any deliberate and willful disobedience and defiance of the order passed by the writ Court dated 18.12.2018.

4. Taking into consideration the repeated strikes of lawyers, learned counsel for the applicant was asked as to whether he would like to implead the Bar Association as a party inasmuch as it is the Advocates who are standing as an impediment in compliance of the judgment and order 18.12.2018 passed by this Court as the matter pending before the Tehsildar concerned could not proceed on account of repeated strikes. However, learned counsel for the applicant outrightly refused to implead the Bar Association as party.

4. In this view of the matter, the Court may peruse the law laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court per which there has to be deliberate and wilful disobedience by the contemnor in order to to make out a case for contempt.

5. In this regard, the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Debabrata Bandopadbyay and others versus State of West Bengal and another reported in AIR 1969 SC 189 has held as under :-

"9. A question whether there is contempt of court or not is a serious one. The court is both the accuser as well as the judge of the accusation. It behoves the court to act with as great circumspection as possible making all allowances for errors of judgment and difficulties arising from inveterate practices in courts and tribunals. It is only when a clear case of contumacious conduct not explainable otherwise, arises that the contemner must be punished. It must be realised that our system of courts often results in delay of one kind or another. The remedy for it is reform and punishment departmentally. Punishment under the law of contempt is called for when the lapse is deliberate and in disregard of one's duty and in defiance of authority. To take action in an unclear case is to make the law of contempt do duty for other measures and is not to be encouraged."

6. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of B.K. Kar versus The Hon'ble the Chief Justice and his companion Justices of the Orissa High Court and others reported in AIR 1961 SC 1367 has held as under :-

"7. Before a subordinate court can be found guilty of disobeying the order of the superior court and thus to have committed contempt of court, it is necessary to show that the disobedience was intentional. ..... There may perhaps be a case where an order disobeyed could be reasonably construed in two ways and the subordinate court construed it in one of those ways but in a way different from that intended by the superior court. Surely, it cannot be said that disobedience of the order by the subordinate court was contempt of the superior court."

7. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Niaz Mohammad and others versus State of Haryana and others reported in 1994 (6) SCC 332 has held as under :-

"9 . Section 2(b) of the Contempt of Court Act, 1971 (hereinafter referred to as 'the Act') defines "Civil Contempt" to mean "willful disobedience to any judgment, decree, direction, order, writ, or other process of a court...". Where the contempt consists in failure to comply with or carry out an order of the court made in favour of the party, it is a civil contempt. The person or persons in whose favour such order or direction has been made can move the Court for initiating proceeding for contempt against the alleged contemner, with a view to enforce the right flowing from the order or direction in question. But such a proceeding is not like an execution proceeding under CPC. The party in whose favour an order has been passed, is entitled to the benefit of such order. The Court while considering the issue as to whether the alleged contemner should be punished for not having complied and carried out the direction of the Court, has to take into consideration all facts and circumstances of a particular case. That is why the framers of the Act while defining civil contempt, have said that it must be willful disobedience to any judgment, decree, direction, order, writ or other process of a court. Before a contemner is punished for non compliance of the direction of a court the Court must not only be satisfied about the disobedience of any judgment, decree, direction or writ but should also be satisfied that such disobedience was willful and intentional. The Civil Court while executing a decree against the judgment debtor is not concerned and bothered whether the disobedience to any judgment, or decree, was willful. Once a decree has been passed it is the duty of the court to execute the decree whatever may be consequences thereof. But wile examining the grievance of the person who has invoked the jurisdiction of the Court to initiate the proceeding for contempt for disobedience of its order, before any such contemner is held guilty and punished, the Court has to record a finding that such disobedience was willful and intentional."

8. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Mrityunjoy Das and another versus Sayed Hasibur Rahaman and others reported in 2002 (3) SCC 739 has held as under :-

"13. Before however, proceeding with the matter any further, be it noted that exercise of powers under the Contempt of Courts Act shall have to be rather cautious and use of it rather sparingly after addressing itself to the true effect of the contemptuous conduct. The Court must otherwise come to a conclusion that the conduct complained of tentamounts to obstruction of justice which if allowed, would even permeate in our society (vide Murray & Co. v. Ashok Kr. Newatia & Anr.). This is a special jurisdiction conferred on to the law courts to punish an offender for his contemptuous conduct or obstruction to the majesty of law. It is in this context that the observations of the this Court in Murray's case (supra) in which one of us (Banerjee, J.) was party needs to be noticed.

"The purpose of contempt jurisdiction is to uphold the majesty and dignity of the Courts of law since the image of such a majesty in the minds of the people cannot be led to be distorted. The respect and authority commanded by Courts of Law are the greatest guarantee to an ordinary citizen and the entire democratic fabric of the society will crumble down if the respect for the judiciary is undermined. It is true that the judiciary will be judged by the people for what the judiciary does, but in the event of any indulgence which even can remotely be termed to affect the majesty of law, the society is bound to lose confidence and faith in the judiciary and the law courts thus, would forfeit the trust and confidence of the people in general."

14. The other aspect of the matter ought also to be noticed at this juncture viz., the burden and standard of proof. The common English phrase "he who asserts must prove" has its due application in the matter of proof of the allegations said to be constituting the act of contempt. As regards the 'standard of proof', be it noted that a proceeding under the extra-ordinary jurisdiction of the Court in terms of the provisions of the Contempt of Court Act is quasi criminal, and as such, the standard of proof required is that of a criminal proceeding and the breach shall have to be established beyond reasonable doubt. The observations of Lord Denning in Re Bramblevale 1969 3 All ER 1062 lend support to the aforesaid. Lord Denning in Re Bramblevale stated:

"A contempt of court is an offence of a criminal character. A man may be sent to prison for it,. It must be satisfactorily proved. To use the timehonoured phrase, it must be proved beyond all reasonable doubt. It is not proved by showing that, when the man was asked about it, he told lies. There must be some further evidence to incriminate him. Once some evidence is given, then his lies can be thrown into the scale against him. But there must be some other evidence.... Where there are two equally consistent possibilities open to the Court, it is not right to hold that the offence is proved beyond reasonable doubt."

15. In this context, the observations of the Calcutta High Court in Archana Guha v. Ranjit Guha Neogi 1989 (II) CHN 252 in which one of us was a party (Banerjee, J.) seem to be rather apposite and we do lend credence to the same and thus record our concurrence therewith.

16. In The Aligarh Municipal Board and Others v. Ekka Tonga Mazdoor Union and Others MANU/SC/0075/1970 : 1970CriL J1520 , this Court in no uncertain term stated that in order to bring home a charge of contempt of court for disobeying orders of Courts, those who assert that the alleged contemners had knowledge of the order must prove this fact beyond reasonable doubt. This Court went on to observe that in case of doubt, the benefit ought to go to the person charged.

17. In a similar vein in V.G. Nigam and others v. Kedar Nath Gupta and another MANU/SC/0419/1992 : 1992CriL J3576 , this Court stated that it would be rather hazardous to impose sentence for contempt on the authorities in exercise of contempt jurisdiction on mere probabilities.

18. Having discussed the law on the subject, let us thus at this juncture analyse as to whether in fact, the contempt alleged to have been committed by the alleged contemners, can said to have been established firmly without there being any element of doubt involved in the matter and that the Court would not be acting on mere probabilities having however, due regard to the nature of jurisdiction being quasi criminal conferred on to the law courts. Admittedly, this Court directed maintenance of status quo with the following words - "the members of the petitioner-Sangha who were before the High Court in the writ petition out of which the present proceedings arise". And it is on this score the applicant contended categorically that the intent of the Court to include all the members presenting the Petition before this Court whereas for the Respondent Mr. Ray contended that the same is restricted to the members who filed the writ petition before the High Court which culminated in the initiation of proceeding before this Court. The Counter affidavit filed by the Respondents also record the same. The issue thus arises as to whether the order stands categorical to lend credence to the answers of the respondent or the same supports the contention as raised by the applicants herein - Incidentally, since the appeal is pending in this Court for adjudication, and since the matter under consideration have no bearing on such adjudication so far as the merits of the dispute are concerned, we are not expressing any opinion in the matter neither we are required to express opinion thereon, excepting however, recording that probabilities of the situation may also warrant a finding, in favour of the interpretation of the applicant. The doubt persists and as such in any event the respondents being the alleged contemners are entitled to have the benefit or advantage of such a doubt having regard to the nature of the proceeding as noticed herein before more fully."

9. What comes out from a perusal of the aforesaid judgements is that for an act of contempt to be made out against the contemnor, there has to be a deliberate and wilfull disobedience and defiance of the order passed by a Court of law, the directions which are alleged to have been violated should be unambiguous and passing of an order in purported compliance of the order passed by a Court of law would give rise to a fresh cause of action.

10. Keeping in view the aforesaid discussions and the law in this regard, it cannot be said that there is any deliberate or wilful disobedience of the judgement and order dated 18.12.2018 passed by the writ Court.

11. Accordingly, the contempt petition is dismissed.

4. Mrityunjoy Das and another Vs. Sayed Hasibur Rahaman and others , 2002 (3) SCC 739

(Delivered by Hon'ble Abdul Moin, J.)

1. Heard Sri Apoorva Tewari, learned counsel appearing for the applicant and Sri Manjeev Shukla, learned Additional Chief Standing counsel appearing for the respondent-contemnor.

2. The present contempt petition has been filed alleging non compliance of the judgment and order dated 16.02.2018 passed by the writ Court in Writ Petition No. 731 (SB) of 2013 Inre; Suresh Tiwari Vs. State of U.P and Ors. The writ Court while allowing the petition had quashed two orders dated 19.02.2013 and 08.09.2016 and the respondents were directed to consider the applicant for notional promotion under service rules with all consequential benefits strictly in accordance with the directions issued by this Court in Writ Petition No. 1502 (SB) of 2010 vide judgment and order dated 24.01.2011. Incidentally, the judgment and order dated 24.1.2011 has been reproduced in the judgment of the writ Court dated 16.02.2018 itself.

3. In purported compliance to the judgment of this Court, the respondents have proceeded to pass the order dated 29.03.2019, a copy of which is annexure 2 to the petition whereby the case of the applicant has been rejected. Being aggrieved with the said order instead of filing a fresh petition, the present contempt petition has been filed.

4. This Court had issued notice to the respondents on 09.05.2019. Thereafter, the respondents have filed the short counter affidavit on behalf of respondent no. 1 to which a rejoinder affidavit has also been filed.

5. Sri Apoorva Tiwari, learned counsel for the applicant contends that the order passed by the writ Court was categoric i.e of considering the case of the applicant for notional promotion under service rules strictly in accordance with the earlier direction of this Court dated 24.01.2011. It is contended that the respondents while proceeding to reject the claim of the applicant for promotion as Engineer-In-Chief have patently erred in law and have gone beyond the judgment of the writ Court inasmuch as they have also considered the Government order dated 23.08.1997 which had also been placed before this Court while filing the counter affidavit in the earlier petition and thus it would be deemed that the writ Court has considered all aspects of the matter and thereafter issued a positive direction for consideration of the case for notional promotion in accordance with service rules and as such, the respondents could not have rejected the claim of the applicant rather should have promoted the applicant as Engineer-In-Chief and in not doing so and rejecting the case of the applicant through the order dated 29.03.2019, the respondents run in contempt of the order passed by the writ Court. It is also contended that once the said grounds as find place in the order dated 29.03.2019 had already been taken by the respondents while rejecting the case of the applicant through the orders dated 19.02.2013 and 08.09.2016 and both the said orders have been quashed by the writ Court, as such it was no longer for the respondents to reiterate the said grounds in the order dated 29.03.2019.

6. On the other hand, Sri Manjeev Shukla, learned Additional Chief Standing counsel on the basis of averments contained in the counter affidavit submits that in purported compliance to the directions issued by the writ Court, the respondents have proceeded to consider the case of the applicant for promotion as Engineer-In-Chief but taking into consideration the Government order dated 23.08.1997 and certain other grounds, the case of the applicant has been rejected. It is contended that writ Court has categorically directed the respondents to consider the applicant for notional promotion under service rules. It is said that the direction of the writ Court was for "Consideration" in accordance with the service rules and once the Government order dated 23.08.1997 which had been considered in the order of rejection of the claim of the applicant, has been considered which does not provide for any such notional promotion more particularly when no junior to the applicant has been promoted to the said post, consequently the order dated 29.03.2019 cannot be said to be in contempt of the judgment of this Court.

7. Heard learned counsel appearing for the contesting parties and perused the records.

8. The writ Court vide judgment and order dated 16.02.2018 had allowed the petition after quashing the rejection orders dated 19.02.2013 and 08.09.2016 and the respondents were directed to consider the applicant for notional promotion under the service rules. Admittedly, the respondents have considered the applicant for promotion but finding that the Government order dated 23.08.1997 which provides that in the case of notional promotions, the same can only be granted where any junior to the said person who is being considered for notional promotion has been promoted and it was found that no person junior to the applicant had been promoted, consequently the claim of the applicant has been rejected. Once the order of the writ Court was only for consideration in accordance with the service rules and admittedly the Government order dated 23.08.1997 places a condition for promotion on notional basis i.e a junior to the person, whose case for promotion is to be considered, having been promoted and admittedly no junior to the applicant having been promoted, consequently it cannot be said that because the applicant has not been promoted as Engineer-In-Chief, as such the respondents run in contempt of the order passed by the writ Court.

9. Another aspect of the matter would be that the respondents in compliance to the order passed by the writ Court have considered the case of the applicant and have rejected the same. In order to make out the case of contempt there has to be deliberate and willful disobedience of the order passed by the writ Court. Once admittedly the respondents, to the best of their ability have considered the case of the applicant and have passed an order and the said order is not to the liking of the applicant, it cannot be said that the respondents run in contempt to the order passed by the writ Court.

10. In this regard, the Court may consider the law laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court per which there has to be deliberate and wilful disobedience by the contemnor in order to make out a case for contempt.

11. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Debabrata Bandopadbyay and others versus State of West Bengal and another reported in AIR 1969 SC 189 has held as under :-

"9. A question whether there is contempt of court or not is a serious one. The court is both the accuser as well as the judge of the accusation. It behoves the court to act with as great circumspection as possible making all allowances for errors of judgment and difficulties arising from inveterate practices in courts and tribunals. 12. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of B.K. Kar versus The Hon'ble the Chief Justice and his companion Justices of the Orissa High Court and others reported in AIR 1961 SC 1367 has held as under :-

"7. There may perhaps be a case where an order disobeyed could be reasonably construed in two ways and the subordinate court construed it in one of those ways but in a way different from that intended by the superior court. 13. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Niaz Mohammad and others versus State of Haryana and others reported in 1994 (6) SCC 332 has held as under :-

"9 . Section 2(b) of the Contempt of Court Act, 1971 (hereinafter referred to as 'the Act') defines "Civil Contempt" to mean "willful disobedience to any judgment, decree, direction, order, writ, or other process of a court...". 14. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Mrityunjoy Das and another versus Sayed Hasibur Rahaman and others reported in 2002 (3) SCC 739 has held as under :-

"13. Before however, proceeding with the matter any further, be it noted that exercise of powers under the Contempt of Courts Act shall have to be rather cautious and use of it rather sparingly after addressing itself to the true effect of the contemptuous conduct. The Court must otherwise come to a conclusion that the conduct complained of tentamounts to obstruction of justice which if allowed, would even permeate in our society (vide Murray & Co. v. Ashok Kr. 15. In this context, the observations of the Calcutta High Court in Archana Guha v. Ranjit Guha Neogi 1989 (II) CHN 252 in which one of us was a party (Banerjee, J.) seem to be rather apposite and we do lend credence to the same and thus record our concurrence therewith.

16. In The Aligarh Municipal Board and Others v. Ekka Tonga Mazdoor Union and Others MANU/SC/0075/1970 : 1970CriL J1520 , this Court in no uncertain term stated that in order to bring home a charge of contempt of court for disobeying orders of Courts, those who assert that the alleged contemners had knowledge of the order must prove this fact beyond reasonable doubt. 17. In a similar vein in V.G. Nigam and others v. Kedar Nath Gupta and another MANU/SC/0419/1992 : 1992CriL J3576 , this Court stated that it would be rather hazardous to impose sentence for contempt on the authorities in exercise of contempt jurisdiction on mere probabilities.

And it is on this score the applicant contended categorically that the intent of the Court to include all the members presenting the Petition before this Court whereas for the Respondent Mr. Ray contended that the same is restricted to the members who filed the writ petition before the High Court which culminated in the initiation of proceeding before this Court. The Counter affidavit filed by the Respondents also record the same. The issue thus arises as to whether the order stands categorical to lend credence to the answers of the respondent or the same supports the contention as raised by the applicants herein - Incidentally, since the appeal is pending in this Court for adjudication, and since the matter under consideration have no bearing on such adjudication so far as the merits of the dispute are concerned, we are not expressing any opinion in the matter neither we are required to express opinion thereon, excepting however, recording that probabilities of the situation may also warrant a finding, in favour of the interpretation of the applicant. The doubt persists and as such in any event the respondents being the alleged contemners are entitled to have the benefit or advantage of such a doubt having regard to the nature of the proceeding as noticed herein before more fully."

15. What comes out from a perusal of the aforesaid judgements is that for an act of contempt to be made out against the contemnor, there has to be a deliberate and wilfull disobedience and defiance of the order passed by a Court of law and that the directions which are alleged to have been violated should be unambiguous.

16. Keeping in view the aforesaid discussion and the law in this regard, it cannot be said that there is any deliberate or wilful disobedience of the judgement and order dated 16.2.2018 passed by the writ Court.

17. Accordingly, the contempt petition is dismissed.

18. However, it would be open to the applicant to challenge the order dated 29.03.2019, in case he is so aggrieved, before the appropriate Court in the appropriate proceedings.

A. Contempt of Courts Act, 1971 – section 2(b) – civil contempt - contempt jurisdiction - limited to punish the contemnor, not for disobedience of the order, but upon returning a finding that the disobedience is wilful - Mere disobedience is not sufficient unless it is shown and proved that the disobedience is wilful, deliberate and intentional - casual, accidental or unintentional acts of disobedience under the circumstances which negate any suggestions of contumacy - may amount to a contempt in theory only - that does not render the contemnor liable to punishment - To hold somebody guilty of contempt of Court, the concerned person must have wilfully disobeyed judgment, decree etc. or should have wilfully committed breach of an undertaking given to a Court – Petition not maintainable.(Para-13,18)

Contempt petition filed under the Contempt of Courts Act, 1971, for punishing the opposite parties, including, the Chairman/Chief Executive Officer, New Okhala Industrial Development Authority (Noida), for flouting the order passed in First Appeal. (Para-2) proceedings and not in contempt proceedings - Punishment for disobedience/infringement of a decree is not akin to execution of the decree - jurisdiction of Contempt Court distinct and different than that of executing Court.(Para26)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suneet Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Shri K.N. Tripathi, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Shri Arvind Srivastava and Shri Rishabh Kumar, learned counsels for the applicant and Shri M.C. Chaturvedi, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Shri Kaushalendra Nath Singh, learned counsels for the opposite party.

2. The instant contempt petition has been filed under the Contempt of Courts Act, 1971, for punishing the opposite parties, including, the Chairman/Chief Executive Officer, New Okhala Industrial Development Authority (Noida), for flouting the order dated 14 December 2007, passed in First Appeal: Jagdish Chandra and others vs. New Okhala Industrial Development Authority, Noida1 (First Appeal No. 412 of 2007).

3. The Stamp Reporter has reported that the judgment and decree of the Appellate Court was brought to the notice of the opposite parties on 7 February 2014, accordingly, the contempt petition has been filed after a lapse of 6 years 65 days. The opposite party no. 1 has put in appearance and filed affidavit, inter alia, stating that the petition apart from being barred by laches and delay, the judgment and decree of the Appellate Court is not executable under the Contempt of Courts Act, 19712. The contempt petition is not maintainable, remedy available to the applicant/appellant is before the civil court by resorting to execution proceedings.

4. The facts, briefly stated, for the purposes of the instant petition, is that the plot of the applicant came to be acquired in proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act, 18943, pursuant to a notification issued on 30 October 1987. The award came to be passed by the Special Land Acquisition Officer determining the compensation at Rs. 46.64 per sq. yard. The award/compensation was subjected to challenge in reference, the learned District Judge enhanced the compensation to Rs. 148.75 paise per sq. yard vide judgment dated 28 August 2000. The Reference Court, however, directed deduction of 50% of the development charge from the compensation amount. Aggrieved, appellant/applicant herein, along with other aggrieved persons, filed separate First Appeals which came to be decided by a common judgment and order by this Court. The Appellate Court vide judgment and order dated 14 December 2007, enhanced the compensation to Rs. 297.50 paise per sq. yard and set aside the order of the Reference Court to the extent directing deduction of 50% of development charge. The operative portion of the order reads thus:

"Accordingly, the impugned reference and the award to the extent of deduction made from the correct market value for arriving at the amount of compensation to be paid to the petitioners is concerned is hereby quashed and the respondents are directed to recalculate the amount of compensation without deducting any amount towards development charges and pay the same to the petitioners within three months from today alongwith interest @ 10% per annum to be calculated on the same from the date the amount of compensation was to be paid till the date of payment.

With these observations the first appeals and/or cross-objections of the respective parties are disposed of. No order is passed as to costs."

5. The judgment was subjected to challenge by NOIDA in Special Leave Petition No. 5276 of 2009, which came to be dismissed on 29 October 2014. NOIDA paid the compensation determined by the Appellate Court on 29 October 2014, immediately after the dismissal of the appeal.

6. The learned Senior Counsel appearing for the applicant submits that the Appellate Court had directed payment of interest @ 10% per annum, which according to him, is interest over and above the compensation and the statutory interest contemplated under Section 34 of the Land Acquisition Act. It is further urged that NOIDA by not paying the interest over and above the compensation amount, which includes the statutory interest, the opposite parties have willfully and deliberately flouted the order of this Court. It is further contended that by not paying the interest as directed by this Court, it is a continuing cause of action, therefore, the petition is not barred by delay and latches. However, by abundant caution an application under Section 5 of the Limitation Act, 1963, for condoning the delay has been filed.

7. In rebuttal, the learned counsel appearing for the NOIDA would urge that the judgment and decree has been duly satisfied, the amount towards compensation along with statutory interest payable @ 9%/15% was paid forthwith. The applicants are not entitled to any further interest. It is further urged that the Appellate Court had merely directed 10% interest, whereas, NOIDA has paid interest @

15% which is in excess and is liable to be recovered from the applicants. It is further contended that almost fifty First Appeals came to be decided by a common order, but none of the appellants, have approached this Court or initiated execution proceedings claiming 10% interest, over and above the statutory interest already paid by NOIDA. The applicant is the only appellant that has approached this Court after lapse of more than 6 years. NOIDA is not required to pay any further amount towards interest.

8. The learned counsel would further submit that there is no wilful and deliberate disobedience of the order and decree. The decree stands satisfied. In any case the decree cannot be executed in contempt jurisdiction bypassing the civil remedy.

9. Rival submissions fall for consideration.

10. The question that primarily arises is, as to whether, a decree of a civil court can be executed in contempt proceedings or in the alternative whether there is wilful disobedience of the order of the Appellate Court to invoke the jurisdiction under the Contempt Act.

11. The facts, inter-se parties, are not in dispute. It would be apposite to briefly scan the authorities on the proposition of law and the meaning of the expression "wilful disobedience'.

12. Section 2(b) of the Contempt Act, is relevant for adjudication, which reads thus:

"2. Definitions. - In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,-

(b). "civil contempt" means wilful disobedience to any judgment, decree, direction, order, writ or other process of a court or wilful breach of an undertaking given to a court;

(c). .....

(i). xxxxx

(ii). xxxxx

13. The contempt jurisdiction is limited to punish the contemnor, not for disobedience of the order, but upon returning a finding that the disobedience is wilful. Mere disobedience is not sufficient unless it is shown and proved that the disobedience is wilful, deliberate and intentional.

14. In Ashok Paper Kamgar Union vs. Dharam Dhoda and others4, Supreme Court while explaining the expression "wilful' and Section 2 of the Contempt Act, held, that it means an act or omission done voluntarily and intentionally with the specific intent not to do something that the law requires to be done. In order to constitute contempt, the order of the court must be of such nature which is capable of execution in normal circumstances.

"17. ..... "Wilful" means an act or omission which is done voluntarily and intentionally and with the specific intent to do something the law forbids or with the specific intent to fail to do something the law requires to be done, that is to say, with bad purpose either to disobey or to disregard the law. It signifies a deliberate action done with evil intent or with a bad motive or purpose. Therefore, in order to constitute contempt the order of the court must be of such a nature which is capable of execution by the person charged in normal circumstances. It should not require any extraordinary effort nor should be dependent, either wholly or in part, upon any act or omission of a third party for its compliance. This has to be judged having regard to the facts and circumstances of each case....."

15. The Court must not only be satisfied about the disobedience, but should also be satisfied that such disobedience was wilful and intentional. If from the circumstances of a particular case, the Court is satisfied that although there has been a disobedience but the disobedience is the result of some compelling circumstances under which it is not possible for the contemnor to comply the order, the court would not punish the alleged contemnor.

"17. This now leads us to the next question and a more relevant one, as to whether a proceeding for contempt initiated against the appellant can be held to be sustainable merely on speculation, assumption and inference drawn from facts and circumstances of the instant case. In our considered opinion, the answer clearly has to be in the negative in view of the well-settled legal position reflected in a catena of decisions of this Court that contempt of a civil nature can be held to have been made out only if there has been a wilful disobedience of the order and even though there may be disobedience, yet if the same does not reflect that it has been a conscious and wilful disobedience, a case for contempt cannot be held to have been made out. In fact, if an order is capable of more than one interpretation giving rise to variety of consequences, non-compliance with the same cannot be held to be wilful disobedience of the order so as to make out a case of contempt entailing the serious consequence including imposition of punishment. However, when the courts are confronted with a question as to whether a given situation could be treated to be a case of wilful disobedience, or a case of alame excuse, in order to subvert its compliance, howsoever articulate it may be, will obviously depend on the facts and circumstances of a particular case; but while deciding so, it would not be legally correct to be too speculative based on assumption as the Contempt of Courts Act, 1971 clearly postulates and emphasises that the ingredient of wilful disobedience must be there before anyone can be hauled up for the charge of contempt of a civil nature."

17. It thus follows that the Court would not overlook or ignore the statutory ingredients of contempt of a civil nature under Section 2(b), that the disobedience to the order alleging contempt has to satisfy the test that it is a wilful disobedience. In other words Section 2(b) could be invoked only when there is wilful disobedience and the Section provides scope for reasonable or rational interpretation of an order or the facts and circumstances arising therein. Mere unintentional disobedience is not enough to hold anyone guilty of contempt although disobedience might have been established. Absence of wilful disobedience on part of the contemnor will not hold guilty unless contempt involves a degree of fault or misconduct. Thus, the unintentional disobedience is not sufficient to justify for holding one guilty of contempt.

18. It is settled law that casual, accidental or unintentional acts of disobedience under the circumstances which negate any suggestions of contumacy, may amount to a contempt in theory only but that does not render the contemnor liable to punishment. To hold somebody guilty of contempt of Court, the concerned person must have wilfully disobeyed judgment, decree etc. or should have wilfully committed breach of an undertaking given to a Court. (Refer: B.K. Kar vs. High Court of Orissa6; State of Bihar vs. Rani Sonabati Kumari7 and N. Baksi vs. O.K. Ghosh8, the principle was reiterated in Jiwani Kumari Parikh vs. Satyabrata Chakravorty9 and Gyani Chandra vs. State of Andhra Pradesh10).

19. In Niaz Mohammad and others vs. State of Haryana and others11, wherein, the contemnors had not obeyed the judgment and released the salary, disobedience was held, in the given facts not wilful so as to tantamount to civil contempt. The Supreme Court drew a distinction between a court executing an order and punishing for contempt. Reliance was placed on Dushyant Somal vs. Sushma Somal12, to hold that where the contemnor is able to place before the court sufficient material to conclude that it is impossible to obey the order, the court will not be justified in punishing the alleged contemnor.

20. In Kanwar Singh Saini vs. High Court of Delhi13, the question posed before the Supreme Court was as to whether, the statement/undertaking given by a party culminating into a decree of a civil court, an application under Order 39 Rule 2A C.P.C. or under the Contempt Act could be entertained by the civil court and/or whether the matter could be referred by the civil court to the High Court at all. The Court held that in case grievance of non-compliance with the terms of the decree passed in the civil suit, the remedy available to the aggrieved person is to approach the execution court under Order 21 Rule 32 CPC.

"10. In case there is a grievance of non-compliance of the terms of the decree passed in the civil suit, the remedy available to the aggrieved person is to approach the execution court under Order XXI Rule 32 CPC which provides for elaborate proceedings in which the parties can adduce their evidence and can examine and cross-examine the witnesses as opposed to the proceedings in contempt which are summary in nature. Application under Order XXXIX Rule 2A CPC is not maintainable once the suit stood decreed. Law does not permit to skip the remedies available under Order XXI Rule 32 CPC and resort to the contempt proceedings for the reason that the court has to exercise its discretion under the Act 1971 when an effective and alternative remedy is not available to the person concerned. Thus, when the matter relates to the infringement of a decree or decretal order embodies rights, as between the parties, it is not expedient to invoke and exercise contempt jurisdiction, in essence, as a mode of executing the decree or merely because other remedies may take time or are more circumlocutory in character. Thus, the violation of permanent injunction can be set right in executing the proceedings and not the contempt proceedings."

21. The violation or breach of the undertaking which became part of the decree of the Court, amounts to contempt of Court, irrespective of the fact that it is open to the decree-holder to execute the decree. In other words, for breach of an undertaking the person can be punished for contempt, but the decree has to be got executed in accordance with the prescribed procedure before the contempt civil court. The Supreme Court in Bank of Baroda vs. Sadruddin Hassan Daya14 held as follows:

"14. The respondents had filed consent terms in this Court but the same contained an undertaking that they would not alienate, encumber or charge the properties to anyone until the decree was satisfied. Acting upon this undertaking and the consent terms, this Court passed the decree....., This Court, therefore, put its imprimatur upon the consent terms and made it a decree of the Court. The violation or breach of the undertaking which became part of the decree of the Court certainly amounts to contempt of Court, irrespective of the fact that it is open to the decree holder to execute the decree. Contempt is a matter between the Court and the alleged contemner and is not affected in any manner by the rights or obligations of the parties to the litigation inter se.....

15..... In the present proceedings we are basically concerned with the violation or breach of the undertaking given by the respondents. Shri C.A. Sundaram, learned senior counsel, has submitted that the Respondent No. 2 was not personally present and the undertaking was given by him through a power of attorney. In our opinion, the mere fact that the respondent No. 2 was personally not present and the undertaking and the consent terms were given through a power of attorney will make no difference as he also got benefit under the consent decree passed by this Court."

22. In a given case if the court grants time to a tenant to vacate the tenanted premises and the tenant files an undertaking to vacate the same after expiry of the said time, but does not vacate the same, the breach of the undertaking would amount to contempt. (See: Sakharan Ganesh Aaravandekar & Anr. v. Mahadeo Vinayak Mathkar & Ors.15 and Mahender Kumar Gandhi v. Mohammad Tajer Ali & Ors.16.

23. In an appropriate case where exceptional circumstances exist, the Court may also resort to the provisions applicable in case of civil contempt, for violation/breach of undertaking/judgment/order or decree. However, before passing any final order on such application, the Court must satisfy itself that there is violation of such judgment, decree, direction or order and such disobedience is wilful and intentional. Though in a case of execution of a decree, the executing Court may not be bothered whether the disobedience of the decree is wilful or not and the Court is bound to execute a decree whatever may be the consequence thereof. In a contempt proceeding, the alleged contemnor may satisfy the Court that disobedience has been under some compelling circumstances, and in that situation, no punishment can be awarded to him. (See: Niaz Mohammad and others vs. State of Haryana and others17, Bank of Baroda (supra); and Rama Narang vs. Ramesh Narang and anothers18.

24. The contempt proceedings being quasi-criminal in nature, the standard of proof required is the same as in other criminal cases. The alleged contemnor is entitled to the protection of all safeguards/rights which are provided in Criminal Jurisprudence, including, the benefit of doubt. There must be a clear-cut case of obstruction of administration of justice by a party intentionally to bring the matter within the ambit of the said provision. The case should not rest only on surmises and conjectures. In Debabrata Bandopadhyay and others vs. The State of West Bengal and another19, Supreme Court observed as under:

"A question whether there is contempt of court or not is a serious one. The court is both the accuser as well as the judge of the accusation. It behoves the court to act with as great circumspection as possible making all allowances for errors of judgment and difficulties arising from inveterate practices in courts and tribunals. It is only when a clear case of contumacious conduct not explainable otherwise, arises that the contemnor must be punished..... Punishment under the law of Contempt is called for when the lapse is deliberate and in disregard of one's duty and in defiance of authority. To take action in an unclear case is to make the law of contempt do duty for other measures and is not to be encouraged."

25. In the facts of the instant case, it is not being disputed by the applicants that the compensation at the rate determined by the Court and the interest, thereon, has been paid by NOIDA. The issue between the parties is whether applicant is entitled to interest @ 10% over and above the statutory interest provided under the Land Acquisition Act. The categorical stand of NOIDA authority is that they have satisfied the decree and no further amount is required to be paid. Rather, it is urged that they have paid excess amount towards interest.

26. In the given facts the question that arises is as to whether the alleged disobedience by NOIDA is wilful and deliberate inviting punishment. Having regard to the fact that NOIDA satisfied the decree, though not to the satisfaction of the applicant, NOIDA authorities cannot be punished. The disobedience, if any, is not intentional and wilful. The matter relates to infringement of a decree or decretal order, it is not expedient to invoke and exercise contempt jurisdiction, in essence, as a mode for executing the decree. The remedy available to the applicant is to take recourse in execution proceedings and not in contempt proceedings. Punishment for disobedience/infringement of a decree is not akin to execution of the decree. The jurisdiction of a Contempt Court is distinct and different than that of the executing Court.

27. For the reasons and law stated herein above, the petition fails, accordingly dismissed.

28. This order and the observations made therein would not prejudice the cause of the applicant in the event the applicant takes remedy of execution of the decree.

Crl. Misc. writ petition dismissed. (E-6)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Pankaj Mithal, J. & Hon'ble Pradeep Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Smt. Swati Agrawal Srivastava, learned counsel for the petitioner and learned A.G.A. for the respondents.

2. The petitioner has preferred this petition for quashing of the F.I.R. dated 30.12.2019 registered as Case Crime No. 0457 of 2019 under Sections 2(b)(i), 2(b)(iii), 2(b)(iv), 2(b)(vii), 2(b)(viii), 2(b)(xi), 2(b)(xii) and 3(1) of Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, Police Station Badalpur, District Gautam Buddh Nagar.

3. The first argument of learned counsel for the petitioner is that as the gang-chart is not enclosed with the F.I.R., it is bad in law.

4. We had given time to the counsel to show us the provision of law which mandates enclosure of the gang-chart with the F.I.R.

5. In that connection, she has produced two Government Orders dated 30.06.2014 and 25.06.2018.

6. The aforesaid Government Orders provide for the preparation of the gang-chart and for its approval, but none of them in any specific terms mentions that the gang-chart ought to be part of the F.I.R.

7. In view of the above, the said Government Orders are of no help to the petitioner and the argument that the F.I.R. is bad for want of gang-chart with the F.I.R. is without any substance.

8. Learned counsel for the petitioner next submitted that the F.I.R. has been lodged without preparing the gang-chart and getting its approval but we find no pleadings in this regard in the petition or in the supplementary affidavit. On the contrary, the F.I.R. mentions that the gang-chart was prepared and approved. The averments to the said effect contained in the F.I.R. cannot be ignored and said to be false.

9. The F.I.R. mentions that D.M., Gautam Buddh Nagar has submitted a report strongly recommended for invoking the provisions of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 and that the report of the D.M. in this regard is quite revealing. The relevant part of the said report as referred to in the F.I.R. reads as under-:

"It shows a very dangerous trend of serious crime by the gang and its members. It appears that the gang has become too large. There is an urgent need to bring these unlawful activities within the provisions of law. Else the economic and social life of district Gautam Buddh Nagar, which is a show window of U.P. and has very high financial interest will significantly get affected adversely. The report clearly suggest that there cannot be a better case under the U.P. Gangsters and Anti Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 than this. On perusal of the history sheet shows that though some cases have been registered under the U.P. Gangsters and Anti Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 but they are against the few gang members only and for particular crime. Such pattern of structure and function of organized criminals working hand in glove together was never taken cognizance of earlier and therefore this report and proposed action under the U.P. Gangsters and Anti Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 by Gautam Buddh Nagar police will prove to be a landmark case in the investigation of such organized criminal activities in the district."

11. The F.I.R. reveals that most of the members of the gang are already facing large number of criminal cases and that they are operating from jail.

12. In view of the aforesaid facts and circumstances, as the allegations made in the F.I.R. make out a cognizable offence against the petitioner and the matter requires investigation, it is not a fit case for quashing the F.I.R. in exercise of writ jurisdiction.

13. Accordingly, we decline to exercise our discretionary jurisdiction in the matter and the writ petition is dismissed.

(2) If such an order of acquittal is passed in any case in which the offence has been investigated by the Delhi Special Police Establishment constituted under the Delhi Special Police Establishment Act, 1946 (25 of 1946) or by any other agency empowered to make investigation into an offence under any Central Act other than this Code, [the Central Government may, subject to the provisions of sub-section (3), also direct the Public Prosecutor to present an appeal-

(a) to the Court of Session, from an order of acquittal passed by a Magistrate in respect of a cognizable and non-bailable offence;

(b) to the High Court from an original or appellate order of an acquittal passed by any Court other than a High Court [not being an order under clause (a)] or an order of acquittal passed by the Court of Session in revision.]

4. At the same time learned A.G.A. has also drawn the attention of this Court to sub-Section 5 of Section 401 of Cr.P.C. which is quoted below:-

" Where under this Code an appeal lies but an application for revision has been made to the High Court by any person and the High Court is satisfied that such application was made under the erroneous belief that no appeal lies thereto and that it is necessary in the interest of justice so to do, the High Court may treat the application for revision as a petition of appeal and deal with the same accordingly."

5. The perusal of sub section 5 of Section 401 of Cr.P.C. wherein it has been provided that where under this Court an appeal lies but an application for revision has been made and the High Court is satisfied that such application was made under the erroneous belief that no appeal lies thereto and in the interest of justice so to do, the High Court may treat the application for revision as a petition of appeal.

6. From the perusal of the record it comes out that no such application was ever made by the revisionist despite a long period of about 17 years have elapsed, saying that the revision was filed under the erroneous belief that no appeal lies thereto.

7. As per the statuary provision the present criminal revision is not maintainable and hence dismissed.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajnish Kumar, J.)

1. Heard, Ms. Vina Gupta, learned counsel for the appellant and Shri M.K. Dixit, learned counsel for the respondents.

2. The instant First Appeal From Order under Section 30 of The Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923 (here-in-after referred as the Act of 1923) has emanated from the judgment and award dated 22.01.2004 passed in Case No.13/5/3/3/3/1/25 under Section 22 of the Act of 1923 by the Workmen's Compensation Commissioner / Collector, Kheri (here-in-after referred as the Commissioner).

3. As borne out from the pleadings the deceased Shyam Narain, husband of the respondent no.1 and father of the respondents no.2 to 5 had suffered serious injuries in an accident by the engine and died. An application for compensation was filed by the respondent-claimants under Section 22 of the Act of 1923 being legal heirs of the deceased Shyam Narain alleging therein that the deceased Shyam Narain S/o Sambharu was a mechanic of engine and used to do the repairing of engines. The appellant Manju Chauhan came to the deceased Shyam Narain on 15.06.1996 and requested to him for repairing of his engine. So, the deceased went to his place for working in his employment and as he started the engine after repairing, one wheel of the engine was broken in three parts due to manufacturing defect from which the deceased got serious injuries. The appellant got him admitted in the district hospital and after primary treatment he was advised for treatment in Lucknow. So, he was taken to Gandhi Memorial Associated Hospital, Lucknow where Shyam Narain died on 17.06.1996 at 09:40 in the morning.

4. The appellant was present at the time of accident on spot and got the deceased admitted in the district hospital so there was no need of giving any legal notice to him. The deceased was over 15 years of age at the time of death and his income was Rs.2,000/- per month. The respondent-claimants tried to settle the matter with compromise but the appellant-respondents did not agree. Since the only source of income for livelihood of the family i.e. the deceased Shyam Narain had died therefore they prayed for compensation to the tune of Rs.2,00,000/-.

5. The appellant filed the written statement denying the averments made in the application and stated that the respondent-claimants are not entitled for any compensation. It has further been stated that the deceased neither knew the repairing of engine nor he used to work as mechanic. He used to earn his livelihood by doing tenancy. It has also been stated that the appellant had never called the deceased for repairing of the engine and he had no technical knowledge in regard to engine.

6. It has further been stated that despite prohibiting, the deceased had started the engine of the appellant on 15.06.1996 and excessively enhanced the speed and before the speed could be reduced the wheel of the engine had broken due to negligence of the deceased. Therefore, besides the deceased, Om Prakash and Shri Pal were also injured. The appellant was at a distance from the engine. The deceased was neither an employee of the appellant nor he was called for work. An information in regard to the accident was given by the appellant to the Police on the same day and an application was also submitted on 22.07.1996. It has also been stated that the respondent-claimants had admitted that there was manufacturing defect but the manufacturing company was not impleaded who was a necessary party.

7. On the basis of pleadings eight issues were framed. Thereafter, Guddi Devi as PW-1, Ram Asrey as PW-2 and Nandu Ram as PW-3 were got examined on behalf of the respondent-claimants. On behalf of the appellant, Manju Chauhan the appellant himself as DW-1 and Om Prakash as DW-2 were got examined. After considering the pleadings and evidence the learned Commissioner allowed the claim of the respondent-claimants and awarded an amount of Rs.1,18,236/- alongwith interest @ 9% per annum from the date of accident to be paid to the respondent-claimants as per the apportionment given in the award. Hence the present appeal has been filed challenging the same.

8. Submission of learned counsel for the appellant was that the deceased Shyam Narain was neither called for repairing the engine nor he was in the employment of the appellant. The accident had occurred due to fault of the deceased as despite prohibing he had started the engine and due to excessive speed, the wheel of the engine was broken, in which besides the deceased, two other persons had suffered the injuries. Since, there was no employer-employee relation between the appellant and the deceased therefore he is not covered under the definition of workman given in the Act of 1923. So no compensation could have been awarded and the learned Commissioner, without considering the material and evidence on record, wrongly and illegally held that the deceased Shyam Narain was in casual employment in agriculture business of the appellant. It has also been submitted that since the deceased had suffered injuries in the accident in question therefore the appellant had got him treated in the district hospital and spent money from where he was referred to Lucknow.

9. On the other hand, learned counsel for the respondent-claimants had submitted that the deceased was an engine mechanic. He was called by the appellant for repairing of the engine therefore he was in his casual employment. But despite efforts of the respondent-claimants the appellant was not ready to settle the matter with compromise therefore the claim was filed before the learned Commissioner which has rightly been allowed in accordance with law after considering the pleadings of the parties and evidence. There is no illegality or error in the judgment passed by the learned Commissioner.

10. I have considered the submissions of learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

11. In view of above, the substantial questions of law involved in this appeal are as to whether the deceased was a workman as defined under Section 2(1)(n) of the Act of 1923 and whether there was any relation of employer and employee between the appellant and the deceased.

12. The relevant provisions of 'The Workmen's (now Employee's) Compensation Act 1923 are extracted below for the convenience:-

"(e) "employer" includes any body of persons whether incorporated or not and any managing agent of an employer and the legal representative of a deceased employer, and, when the services of workman are temporarily lent or let on hire to another person by the person with whom the workman has entered into a contract of service or apprenticeship means such other person while the workman is working for him."

The definition of workman has been given in Section 2(1)(n) of the Act of 1923, which is reproduced as under:-

"(n) " workman" means any person (other than a person whose employment is of a casual nature and who is employed otherwise than for the purposes of the employer' s trade or business) who is--

(i) a railway servant as defined in section 3 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (9 of 1890), not permanently employed in any administrative, district or sub- divisional office of a railway and not employed in any such capacity as is specified in Schedule II, or

(ii) employed12in any such capacity as is specified in Schedule II. whether the contract of employment was made before or after the passing of this Act and whether such contract is expressed or implied, oral or in writing; but does not include any person working in the capacity of a member of3the Armed Forces of the Union]4; and any reference to a workman who has been injured shall, where the workman is dead, include a reference to his dependants or any of them."

13. The definition of workmen was amended by amendment Act 46 of 2000 and the words " Other than a person whose employment is of a casual nature and who is employed otherwise than for the purpose of employer's trade or business" have been omitted. But it would not be applicable on the present case because in the present case the accident is of 15.06.1996. However, even after amendment it is to established that the workman was under the employment of the alleged employer far a claim under the Act of 1923.

14. In view of aforesaid definitions the workman means any person who is employed in any such capacity as specified in the schedule-II. Schedule-II (iii) provides that any person who is employed for the purpose of making, altering, repairing, ornamenting, finishing or otherwise adapting for use, transport or sale any article or part of an article in any premises wherein or within the precincts whereof twenty or more persons are so employed. In state amendment of Uttar Pradesh in Schedule II, after clause (iii), clause (xliii) provides employed in installation, maintenance or repair of pumping equipment used for lifting of water from wells, tub wells, ponds, lakes, streams and the like.

15. Section 3(1) of the Act of 1923 provides the employer's liability for compensation if personal injuries caused to a workman by accident arising out of and in the course of his employment. Therefore, for a claim under the Act of 1923 it is necessary that the workman should be actually working at the time of injury or the accident and the injury must be caused in the course of and out of the employment, which is to be established. The prima facie tests for employer and employee relationship is existence of right in the master to supervise and control the work directly done by the servant not only in the matter of directing what work the servant is to do but also the manner in which he shall do work.

16. From combined reading of above, if persons employed in any premises wherein or within the precincts whereof twenty or more persons are so employed can be treated workmen within the meaning of Section 2(1)(n). Though the schedule has been amended and the words 'wherein or within the precincts whereof twenty or more persons are so employed' has been omitted by Act 45 of 2009 w.e.f. 18.01.2010 but the same is not applicable on the present case because in the present case the accident is of 15.06.1996.

17. The perusal of the record indicates that a claim was filed by the respondent-claimants before the learned Commissioner. The learned Commissioner decided the issues no.1 and 2 without considering the pleadings, evidence and law applicable at the relevant time recording a cryptic finding that it is clear from the statements of local witnesses available on record that the deceased Shyam Narain was a mechanic of engine who had gone to repair the engine of Manju Chauhan i.e. the appellant. In this way the deceased Shyam Narain was in the casual employment in agriculture business of Manju Chauhan while the evidence is otherwise. Since, the deceased Shyam Narain had died in the accident occurred during repairing of engine of Manju Chauhan so his dependents are entitled for compensation under schedule-II, category (xliii) of the Act of 1923. Accordingly, the issues no.1 and 2 are decided against the appellant-respondent and in favour of the respondent-claimants. It is apparent from the aforesaid finding recorded by the learned Commissioner that the rival contentions of the parties and the evidence adduced by them have neither been considered nor discussed before arising on the aforesaid conclusion. The pleadings also does not indicate the Manju Chauhan was in agriculture business.

18. Perusal of the pleadings and evidence of the respondent-claimants indicates that the deceased was a mechanic of engine and he was called by the appellant for repairing his engine. It was denied by the appellant-respondent. It is also reflected from the record that the application dated 22.07.1996 was submitted by the wife of the appellant to the Superintendent of Police, Lakhimpur Kheri alleging therein that on Saturday i.e. 15.06.1996 at about 05:30 in the evening mechanic Om Prakash S/o Sita Ram was repairing the diesel pumpset of the appellant. When the engine was repaired then he was fixing the fan. In the meantime, Shyam Narain S/o Sambharu of his village came and started the engine after lifting the handle despite prohibiting from starting the engine at that time by the husband of the applicant i.e. the appellant and the mechanic Om Prakash but he did not stop and started the engine from the handle. Therefore, due to excessive speed the wheel of engine was broken by which the mechanic Om Prakash, Shri Pal of the village and the deceased Shyam Narain suffered serious injuries. They were got admitted in the Sadar Hospital, Lakhimpur, from where the doctors had referred Shyam Narain to Lucknow Medical College on 16.06.1996 where he died on 17.06.1996. The information of the whole matter was given by the husband of the applicant at the Police Station and now the brothers of the deceased; Ram Vilas and Shyam Vilas S/o Sambharu, on the instigation of other rivals of the village, are harassing and demanding Rs.15,000/- and threatening that failing which they will capture their land. This complaint, given by the wife of the appellant, was proved by the appellant in his evidence. The respondent-claimants have also stated that after the accident they had tried to settle the matter with compromise but the appellant was not ready, therefore they had filed the claim. Therefore, the allegation in the application also seems to be correct looking to the evidence.

19. In the evidence the appellant has specifically stated that he had called mechanic Om Prakash S/o Sita Ram for repairing engine (pumpset). After repairing he was tightening the fan and told that wheel is cracked and without changing the same it would not be proper to run the engine. But the deceased Shyam Narain despite prohibiting had started the engine and the wheel of engine was broken, on account of which the mechanic Om Prakash, deceased Shyam Narain and Shri Pal of his village had suffered serious injuries and subsequently Shyam Narain had died. It has also been stated by him that after the accident, the appellant had brought the tractor trolley of Ram Gopal of his village in which he had sent them to Sadar Hospital, Lakhimpur.

20. Om Prakash S/o Sita Ram was examined as DW-2, who has stated in his evidence that he was working on the post of operator in a farm. He was called by the appellant for repairing his engine on the date of accident. He also supported the evidence given by the appellant.

21. On behalf of the respondent-claimants the respondent no.1, Guddi Devi W/o the deceased Shyam Narain was examined as PW-1. She is not an eye witness. Though she stated her husband knew the repairing of engine but further stated that she does not know from where he has learnt the same and her husband had not opened any shop for repairing of engine and she also does not know as to where he used to go for repairing but stated that he had gone to the place of the appellant for repairing of the engine. She has also stated that the respondent-claimants and her relatives tried to settle the matter by compromise but the appellant was not ready for it. Therefore she has filed the claim.

22. PW-2, Ram Asrey stated that at the time of accident he was at home and on information he went on the spot and found that the wheel of the engine was broken and the deceased alongwith two others had suffered injuries. But in the cross-examination he has stated that he had gone to his field and on coming back the information was given by his wife. He has also stated that he knows Om Prakash who works in farm and he is a mechanic. In regard to Shyam Narain, he stated that he does not know as to where he learnt the repairing of engine though he had seen him repairing the engine of one Bhajan Singh of Rihua. He has also stated that the deceased and he are of one caste. He is resident of Azamgarh and the deceased of Mau and he knows him.

23. PW-3, Nandu Ram has stated that at the time of accident he was at home. On receiving the information he also went at the spot and saw that the deceased and two others were injured and the appellant had taken to the deceased from his tractor trolley to Lakhimpur. In the cross-examination he has stated that he does not know the date of accident and also as to why Shyam Narain had gone. He also stated that he is of the same caste of the deceased and both are of the same district of Azamgarh.

24. In view of above, the evidence given by the witnesses of the respondent claimants is self contradictory and does not prove that the deceased Satya Narain was a mechanic of engine and gone to repair engine of the appellant. On the other hand it is evident from the evidence that Om Prakash produced as DW-2 was a mechanic who was repairing the engine of the appellant. It is also evident from the complaint given by the wife of the appellant to the Superintendent of Police on 22.06.1996 in regard to the harassment by the brothers of the deceased after the accident on 15.06.1996 and death of the deceased on 17.06.1996, which has been proved in the evidence of the appellant that the engine was repaired by the mechanic Om Prakash and not by the deceased. The mechanic Om Prakash was also examined in evidence as DW-2 and admitted that he was repairing the engine. In the cross-examination nothing could be elicit to disbelieve the evidence. But all these evidences have not been considered and discussed by the learned Commissioner before recording a perverse finding in regard to issues no.1 and 2 and holding that the deceased was in casual employment of the appellant and he died during employment therefore it is not sustainable and liable to be set-aside.

25. Similarly, in regard to issue no.5 no finding has been recorded as to whether the deceased Shyam Narain was himself responsible for the accident and the accident had occurred due to his negligence and only it has been stated that it is clear from the statement of witnesses available on the file that the accident had occurred due to bursting of engine of the appellant for which the deceased Shyam Narain was not responsible. While there is no evidence that the accident had occurred due to bursting of engine and the accident had occurred due to breaking of the wheel. It also shows that the case has been decided without application of mind at all.

26. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Shri Chintaman Rao & Another Vs. the State of Madhya Pradesh; AIR 1958 SC 388 (Three judge Bench) has held that the concept of employment involves three ingredients: (1) Employer (2) Employee and (3) the Contract of Employment. The employer is one who employs i.e. one who engages the services of other persons. The employee is who works for other for hire. The employment is that contract of service between the employer and the employee where under an employee agrees to serve the employer subject to his control and supervision. Therefore, unless a contract of employment between the deceased and the appellant is proved he could not come within the definition of workman and unless the deceased come under the definition of workman he is not entitled for compensation under the Act of 1923.

27. In the present case the respondent-claimants have failed to prove that the deceased was a mechanic of engine and in employment of the appellant or there was any contract of employment with him. Even calling to the mechanic Om Prakash may only be an agreement for service which may not be covered under the Act. Therefore, the injuries suffered by the deceased, on account of which he died, can not be said at all to have been arose out of and in the course of employment at the time of accident.

28. The case of Valli, Minor Sengottaiyan, Minor Neelambal and Periyathayee Vs. Sidhan and Others

dated 29.02.2008 of the Madras High Court, relied by the respondent-claimants in which the accident had occurred on 18.03.1996, was allowed on the ground that death arose out of and in the course of employment and the work of claimant can not be considered to be one of casual nature but the learned Deputy Commissioner had ignored the material evidence on record. The court has also observed that from the definition of word 'Workman' in section 2(1)(n) of the Act it is seen that a person other than a person whose employment is of casual nature and who is employed otherwise than for the purposes of employer's trade or business is a workman as per the definition. Similarly, the other case cited by the learned counsel for the respondents of Kerala High Court in the case of Kottayan Vs. Zacharia Kurien @ Babu decided on 22.03.2014 is also of no assistance because it is not proved in the present case that the deceased was a mechanic of engine and employed by the appellant.

29. The Hon'ble Apex Court, in the case of Smt. T.S. Shylaja Vs. Oriental Insurance Company & Another; AIR 2014 SC 893, relied by the respondent-claimants, has held that the High Court could not have, without adverting to the documents vaguely referred to by it have upset the finding of fact which the Commissioner was entitled to record and the High Court has neither referred to nor determined any question of law much less a substantial question of law in existence whereof was a condition precedent for the maintainability of any appeal under Section 30, which can not be disputed.

30. In view of above discussion, this court is of the considered opinion that the respondent-claimants have failed to prove that the deceased was a workman as per the definition under Section 2(1)(n) of the Act of 1923 and there was any relation of employer and employee between the appellant and the deceased. The findings recorded by the learned Commissioner are without application of mind and without considering and appreciating correctly the material and evidence on record, therefore the same are not sustainable in the eyes of law and liable to be set-aside.

31. Thus, the substantial questions of law involved in this appeal are decided in favour of the appellant and against the respondent-claimants. Consequently, the judgment and award dated 22.01.2004 passed in Case No.13/5/3/3/3/1/25 under Section 22 of the Act of 1923 passed by the Workmen's Compensation Commissioner / Collector, Kheri is hereby set-aside and the application filed by the respondent-claimants is dismissed.

32. The appeal is, accordingly, allowed. No order as to costs.

A. Civil Law-Civil Procedure Code (5 of 1908) - O.41 R.33 - Power of Court of Appeal - to enhance the compensation amount awarded even in absence of cross-appeal or cross objection by claimant - object sought to be achieved is to avoid inconsistency and unworkable decree - Usually power under Rule 33 is exercised when the portion of the decree appealed against is so inseparably connected with the portion not appealed against that for the reason of the latter portion being left untouched either injustice would result or inconsistent decrees would follow

Insurance company preferred appeal in the year 2005 – claimant/respondents neither filed any cross appeal nor filed any cross objection and permitted the quantum to become final – when the judgment was being dictated, oral plea for enhancement of compensation amount raised by the claimant - plea turned down by High Court - Held - Insurance Company challenged award on limited ground whether the said award was to be satisfied by the Insurance Company or the owner - There was no challenge to the quantum - Nothing prevented the claimant from filing an appeal or taking cross objections - dismissal of Insurance company appeal would not result in any inconsistent, contrary or unworkable decree (Para 25)

B. Civil Law-Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Ss 166 - Practice & Procedure - Claim Petition - merely by quoting wrong provisions under which the claim petition is filed will not denude the jurisdiction of the Authority of the Claims Tribunal

In claim petition it was mentioned it was being filed under Section 163-A, 166, 140 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Insurance company contention claimants could not have simultaneously pressed their claim petition in the aforesaid sections - Held - it was clear in the mind of the parties that the claim petition was proceeded under Section 166 and merely by incorporating Section 163-A in the nomenclature of the claim petition alongwith Section 166 will not make claim petition to be bad (Para 12)

C. Civil LawMotor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Ss 166 - Practice & Procedure - Claim – merely taking a plea in the written statement will not partake the nature of evidence before the tribunal - unless effort is made to establish and substantiate the said plea by leading evidence (Para 14)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Jaspreet Singh, J.)

1. Heard Shri I. P. Chadha learned counsel for the appellant and Shri R. P. Singh learned counsel appearing for the claimant-respondents no.1, 2 and 3.

2. None has put in appearance on behalf of the respondents no.4 to 6 and accordingly the appeal has been heard in their absence.

3. The insurance company has preferred the instant appeal being aggrieved against the award dated 18.01.2005 passed in Claim Petition No.442 of 1998 by the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.2, Barabanki wherein a sum of rupees three lakh forty seven thousand alongwith six per cent interest per annum has been awarded in favour of the claimant-respondents no.1, 2 and 3.

4. The submission of the learned counsel for the appellant is two fold:-

(i) The claim petition was bad at the very inception since it mentioned that it was being filed under Section 163-A, 166, 140 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988. Thus, it has been urged that the claimants could not have simultaneously pressed their claim petition in the aforesaid sections and they had to elect whether it was under 163-A or under Section 166. This not having been done, has vitiated the proceedings and accordingly the award is bad.

(ii) It has also been urged that a specific plea was taken by the offending truck owner that his truck was not involved in the accident which is said to have occurred within the jurisdiction of Barabanki while at the alleged given time and date of the accident the said truck was stationed at Muzaffar Nagar. It has also been stated that in the FIR which was lodged post the accident. The truck number was not mentioned nor the police upon investigation found the involvement of the aforesaid truck. Consequently, the finding given by the tribunal in respect of the truck being involved in the accident also suffers from error and for the said reason, the award cannot be sustained.

5. Per contra Shri R. P. Singh learned counsel for the respondents no.1, 2 and 3 has submitted that merely by quoting wrong provisions under which the claim petition is filed will not denude the jurisdiction of the Authority of the Claims Tribunal.

6. In light of the pleadings and the evidence led it was clear in the mind of the parties that the claim petition was proceeded under Section 166 and merely by incorporating Section 163-A in the nomenclature of the claim petition alongwith Section 166-A will not make claim petition to be bad and the aforesaid submissions of the learned counsel for the appellant does not merit consideration.

7. It has further been submitted by Shri R.P.Singh that a specific issue was framed and in light thereof the party had to lead evidence. Since the owner of the truck had raised a plea in his written statement that on the date and time of the alleged accident the aforesaid truck was at Muzaffar Nagar, this plea was required to be proved by the truck owner. However, he led no evidence on the aforesaid point and therefore merely by taking a plea in the written statement will not partake the nature of evidence before the tribunal, to consider the aforesaid plea as having been proved and thus the other ground as raised by the learned counsel for the appellant also has no force.

8. The Court has heard the learned counsel for the parties and also perused the record.

9. Briefly, the facts giving rise to the aforesaid appeal are, that the claim petition bearing No.442 of 1998 was filed before the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.2, Barabanki with the averments that Ashok Kumar Jaiswal on 10.11.1998 was riding his scooter bearing number UME 8120 and was moving towards Zaidpur. It is pleaded that while he had reached Phalahri Chauraha in police station Barabanki, a truck bearing number HR-37/2901 which was being driven rashly and negligently hit the scooter of Ashok Kumar Jaiswal who fell and sustained grievous injuries as a result he died on the spot. The accident was reported to the police concerned by the real brother of Ashok Kumar Jaiswal and a case was registered in respect thereto. It is in respect of the aforesaid that the claim petition was filed by the wife and children of Ashok Kumar Jaiswal stating that Ashok Kumar Jaiswal was earning about rupees five thousand a month and for the aforesaid loss, a total claim compensation of rupees eleven lakh forty seven thousand one hundred and twenty was claimed.

10. The owner of the offending truck filed his written statement wherein he pleaded that his vehicle was duly insured with New India Assurance Company Ltd. which was valid for the period 19.01.1998 to 18.01.1999. It also pleaded that the vehicle had a valid permit and its driver also had an effective and valid licence. The substantial plea raised by the truck owner was to the effect that on the date of the aforesaid accident his truck was at Muzaffar Nagar and that in the FIR also no truck number was mentioned and that the police also filed a final report and in view thereof the involvement of the truck was questionable while a specific plea was taken that no accident had occurred from the aforesaid truck.

11. Upon the pleadings of the parties, the tribunal framed five issues. The tribunal after considering the evidence including the statement of two eye witnesses concluded that the accident occurred on account of rash and negligent driving of the truck bearing number HR 37/2901 wherein Ashok Kumar Jaiswal received injuries and ultimately he expired. The tribunal also found that the aforesaid truck was duly insured. Its driver had a valid licence and all the necessary papers, accordingly upon assessing the compensation, it awarded a sum of rupees three lakh forty seven thousand alongwith six per cent interest by means of award dated 18.01.2005. It is this award which has been assailed in the instant appeal.

12. Upon considering the material available on record in light of the submissions made by the learned counsel for the appellant. This Court finds that merely because in the claim petition there is a mention of Section 163-A alongwith Section 166 will not denude the powers of the tribunal to try the case. The income of the deceased was stated to be rupees five thousand per month coupled with the fact that clear evidenced was led to establish the negligence of the truck driver.

13. In view of the above as well as in light of the evidence led before the tribunal, there can be no doubt that the parties were clear in the mind what case they had to meet and the claim petition was apparently under Section 166 of the Motor Vehicles Act. The ground taken by the learned counsel for the appellant is wholly super technical without any basis coupled with the fact that there is nothing on record to indicate that at any point of time the appellant had tried to confine to bring the inquiry within the scope of 163-A. Thus, for the aforesaid reasons, the first contention of the learned counsel for the appellant fails.

14. Coming to the other ground it would be relevant to note that the claimants have been able to establish the factum of the accident with the truck in question by examining two eye witnesses. The plea was raised by the truck owner. However, he did not lead any evidence to indicate that his truck was stationed at Muzaffar Nagar. Rather no evidence has been led at all on behalf of the truck owner. Merely by raising the plea in his written statement will not give the leverage to either the truck owner or to the insurance company who has been saddled with the liability, when no such plea was raised before the tribunal and no effort was made to establish and substantiate the aforesaid plea.

15. At this stage, learned counsel for the claimant-respondents Shri R. P. Singh has made a submission that the award passed by the tribunal is on the lower side; inasmuch as amount towards non-pecunary damages have been inadequately awarded. It has further been submitted that the Court while hearing on appeal can enhance the amount awarded if it finds that the amount is inadequate.

16. The Court had put a query to the learned counsel for the respondents that the appeal has been preferred in the year 2005 and the claimant-respondents have not filed any cross appeal nor filed any cross objection, then under what circumstances at the stage when the judgment was being dictated, this plea has been raised regarding enhancement in absence of any cross objections or cross appeal.

17. Shri R. P. Singh submits that the Court has ample power under Order 41 Rule 33 CPC and in order to do substantial justice, the Court can enhance the amount. Shri Singh has also relied upon a decision of the Apex Court in the case of Jitendra Khimshankar Trivedi and others Vs. Kasam Daud Kumbhar and others reported in 2015 (1) T.A.C. 673 and a Division Bench Judgment of this Court in the case of New India Assurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Resha Devi and others reported in 2017 (4) T.A.C. 288.

18. Relying upon the aforesaid decisions, learned counsel for the claimant-respondents has submitted that the Division Bench of this Court in the case of Resha Devi (supra) more specifically in paragraph-16 has laid down that where circumstances exist which necessitates the exercise of discretion conferred by Rule 33 of Order 41, the Court cannot be found wanting when it comes to the exercise of such powers and therefore even though the claimant-respondents have not filed any cross appeal or cross objections yet the award can be enhanced.

19. Before dealing with the aforesaid submission of Shri R. P. Singh, it will be apposite to note the provisions of Order 41 Rule 33 CPC and order 41 Rule 22 CPC and how they differ in its applicability.

20. This aspect of the matter regarding the difference between Order 41 Rule 22 and Rule 33 CPC was considered by the Apex Court in the case of Banarsi and others Vs. Ram Phal reported in 2003 (9) SCC 606. The question before the Apex Court was regarding the powers of the appellate court to interfere and reverse or modify the decree appealled against by the appellant in absence of any cross appeal or cross objection by the respondents under Order 41 Rule 22 CPC and the scope and power conferred on the appellate court under Rule 33 of Order 41 CPC.

21. The Apex Court taking note of the amendment brought in Rule 22 of Order 41 CPC and relying upon the earlier judgments noticing the scope of the aforesaid provisions first dealt with the scope of Order 41 Rule 22 CPC and the relevant portion reads as under:-

9. Any respondent though he may not have filed an appeal from any part of the decree may still support the decree to the extent to which it is already in his favour by laying challenge to a finding recorded in the impugned judgment against him. Where a plaintiff seeks a decree against the defendant on grounds (A) and (B), any one of the two grounds being enough to entitle the plaintiff to a decree and the court has passed a decree on ground (A) deciding it for the plaintiff while ground (B) has been decided against the plaintiff, in an appeal preferred by the defendant, in spite of the finding on ground (A) being reversed the plaintiff as a respondent can still seek to support the decree by challenging the finding on ground (B) and persuade the appellate court to form an opinion that in spite of the finding on ground (A) being reversed to the benefit of the defendant-appellant the decree could still be sustained by reversing the finding on ground (B) though the plaintiff-respondent has neither preferred an appeal of his own nor taken any cross-objection. A right to file cross-objection is the exercise of right to appeal though in a different form. It was observed in Sahadu Gangaram Bhagade v. Special Dy. Collector, Ahmednagar [(1970) 1 SCC 685 : (1971) 1 SCR 146] that the right given to a respondent in an appeal to file cross-objection is a right given to the same extent as is a right of appeal to lay challenge to the impugned decree if he can be said to be aggrieved thereby. Taking any cross-objection is the exercise of right of appeal and takes the place of cross-appeal though the form differs. Thus it is clear that just as an appeal is preferred by a person aggrieved by the decree so also a cross-objection is preferred by one who can be said to be aggrieved by the decree. A party who has fully succeeded in the suit can and needs to neither prefer an appeal nor take any cross-objection though certain finding may be against him. Appeal and cross-objection -- both are filed against decree and not against judgment and certainly not against any finding recorded in a judgment. This was the well-settled position of law under the unamended CPC.

10. The CPC amendment of 1976 has not materially or substantially altered the law except for a marginal difference. Even under the amended Order 41 Rule 22 sub-rule (1) a party in whose favour the decree stands in its entirety is neither entitled nor obliged to prefer any cross-objection. However, the insertion made in the text of sub-rule (1) makes it permissible to file a cross-objection against a finding. The difference which has resulted we will shortly state. A respondent may defend himself without filing any cross-objection to the extent to which decree is in his favour; however, if he proposes to attack any part of the decree he must take cross-objection. The amendment inserted by the 1976 amendment is clarificatory and also enabling and this may be made precise by analysing the provision. There may be three situations:

(i) The impugned decree is partly in favour of the appellant and partly in favour of the respondent.

(ii) The decree is entirely in favour of the respondent though an issue has been decided against the respondent.

(iii) The decree is entirely in favour of the respondent and all the issues have also been answered in favour of the respondent but there is a finding in the judgment which goes against the respondent.

11. In the type of case (i) it was necessary for the respondent to file an appeal or take cross-objection against that part of the decree which is against him if he seeks to get rid of the same though that part of the decree which is in his favour he is entitled to support without taking any cross-objection. The law remains so post-amendment too. In the type of cases (ii) and (iii) pre-amendment CPC did not entitle nor permit the respondent to take any cross-objection as he was not the person aggrieved by the decree. Under the amended CPC, read in the light of the explanation, though it is still not necessary for the respondent to take any cross-objection laying challenge to any finding adverse to him as the decree is entirely in his favour and he may support the decree without cross-objection; the amendment made in the text of sub-rule (1), read with the explanation newly inserted, gives him a right to take cross-objection to a finding recorded against him either while answering an issue or while dealing with an issue. The advantage of preferring such cross-objection is spelled out by sub-rule (4). In spite of the original appeal having been withdrawn or dismissed for default the cross-objection taken to any finding by the respondent shall still be available to be adjudicated upon on merits which remedy was not available to the respondent under the unamended CPC. In the pre-amendment era, the withdrawal or dismissal for default of the original appeal disabled the respondent to question the correctness or otherwise of any finding recorded against the respondent.

22. The matter before the Apex Court in the case of Banarsi (supra) was considering an appeal arising out of a suit for specific performance wherein the trial court had passed a decree of refund of the earnest money. However, it also provided a conditional decree that in case if the aforesaid sum was not paid within a period of two months, then the defendant was directed to execute the sale deed. Before the appellate court two appeals came to be filed and both the appeals were dismissed. However, a fact to be noted was that the respondents did not file any cross objection. Thereafter the matter came up before the High Court where again two appeals were preferred and the High Court opined that it was open for the respondents not to file an appeal against the trial court's decree on the belief that he would either get his money back within two months as provided or the contract would be specifically performed. On account of the interim order since the decretal amount was not paid, hence while dismissing the appeal the High Court in exercise of powers under Order 41 Rule 33 passed a decree for specific performance in favour of the respondents.

23. It is in this backdrop as noticed above, the Apex Court considered the provisions of Order 41 Rule 22 and then it explained the applicability for the aforesaid propositions which read as under:-

compensation in lieu of or in addition to the relief of specific performance or any other relief including the refund of any money has a right to file an appeal against the original decree if the relief of specific performance is refused and other relief is granted. The plaintiff would be a person aggrieved by the decree in spite of one of the alternative reliefs having been allowed to him because what has been allowed to him is the smaller relief and the larger relief has been denied to him. A defendant against whom a suit for specific performance has been decreed may file an appeal seeking relief of specific performance being denied to the plaintiff and instead a decree of smaller relief such as that of compensation or refund of money or any other relief being granted to the plaintiff for the former is larger relief and the latter is smaller relief. The defendant would be the person aggrieved to that extent. It follows as a necessary corollary from the abovesaid statement of law that in an appeal filed by the defendant laying challenge to the relief of compensation or refund of money or any other relief while decree for specific performance was denied to the plaintiff, the plaintiff as a respondent cannot seek the relief of specific performance of contract or modification of the impugned decree except by filing an appeal of his own or by taking cross-objection.

13. We are, therefore, of the opinion that in the absence of cross-appeal preferred or cross-objection taken by the plaintiff-respondent the first appellate court did not have jurisdiction to modify the decree in the manner in which it has done. Within the scope of appeals preferred by the appellants the first appellate court could have either allowed the appeals and dismissed the suit filed by the respondent in its entirety or could have deleted the latter part of the decree which granted the decree for specific performance conditional upon failure of the defendant to deposit the money in terms of the decree or could have maintained the decree as it was passed by dismissing the appeals. What the first appellate court has done is not only to set aside the decree to the extent to which it was in favour of the appellants but also granted an absolute and out-and-out decree for specific performance of agreement to sell which is to the prejudice of the appellants and to the advantage of the respondent who has neither filed an appeal nor taken any cross-objection."

24. Thereafter the Apex Court considered the provisions of Order 41 Rule 33 and also its scope and relying upon the earlier decisions of the Apex Court in the case of Pannalal Vs. State of Bombay reported in A.I.R. 1963 S.C. 1516, Harihar Prasad Singh Vs. Balmiki Prasad Singh reported in (1975) 2 S.C.R. 932 and Nirmala Bala Ghose Vs. Balai Chand Ghose, reported in A.I.R. 1965 S.C. 1874 has held in under paras 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19 as under:-

15. Rule 4 seeks to achieve one of the several objects sought to be achieved by Rule 33, that is, avoiding a situation of conflicting decrees coming into existence in the same suit. The above said provisions confer power of the widest amplitude on the appellate court so as to do complete justice between the parties and such power is unfettered by consideration of facts like what is the subject-matter of the appeal, who has filed the appeal and whether the appeal is being dismissed, allowed or disposed of by modifying the judgment appealed against. While dismissing an appeal and though confirming the impugned decree, the appellate court may still direct passing of such decree or making of such order which ought to have been passed or made by the court below in accordance with the findings of fact and law arrived at by the court below and which it would have done had it been conscious of the error committed by it and noticed by the appellate court. While allowing the appeal or otherwise interfering with the decree or order appealed against, the appellate court may pass or make such further or other, decree or order, as the case would require being done, consistently with the findings arrived at by the appellate court. The object sought to be achieved by conferment of such power on the appellate court is to avoid inconsistency, inequity, inequality in reliefs granted to similarly placed parties and unworkable decree or order coming into existence. The overriding consideration is achieving the ends of justice. Wider the power, higher the need for caution and care while exercising the power. Usually the power under Rule 33 is exercised when the portion of the decree appealed against or the portion of the decree held liable to be set aside or interfered by the appellate court is so inseparably connected with the portion not appealed against or left untouched that for the reason of the latter portion being left untouched either injustice would result or inconsistent decrees would follow. The power is subject to at least three limitations: firstly, the power cannot be exercised to the prejudice or disadvantage of a person not a party before the court; secondly, a claim given up or lost cannot be revived; and thirdly, such part of the decree which essentially ought to have been appealed against or objected to by a party and which that party has permitted to achieve a finality cannot be reversed to the advantage of such party. A case where there are two reliefs prayed for and one is refused while the other one is granted and the former is not inseparably connected with or necessarily depending on the other, in an appeal against the latter, the former relief cannot be granted in favour of the respondent by the appellate court exercising power under Rule 33 of Order 41.

16.Panna Lal v. State of Bombay [AIR 1963 SC 1516 : (1964) 1 SCR 980] so sets out the scope of Order 41 Rule 33 in the widest terms:

The wide wording of Order 41 Rule 33 was intended to empower the appellate court to make whatever order it thinks fit, not only as between the appellant and the respondent but also as between a respondent and a respondent. It empowers the appellate court not only to give or refuse relief to the appellant by allowing or dismissing the appeal but also to give such other relief to any of the respondents as "the case may require'. If there was no impediment in law the High Court in appeal could, therefore, though allowing the appeal of the defendant-appellant by dismissing the plaintiff's suits against it, give the plaintiff-respondent a decree against any or all the other defendants who were parties to the appeal as respondents. While the very words of the rule make this position abundantly clear the Illustration puts the position beyond argument.

The suit was filed by the plaintiff impleading the State Government and the Deputy Commissioner seeking recovery of compensation for the work done under a contract and the price of the goods supplied. The trial court held that the State was liable as it had beyond doubt benefited by the performance of the plaintiff. The suit was decreed against the State. The State preferred an appeal in the High Court. The plaintiff and other defendants including the Deputy Commissioner were impleaded as respondents. Disagreeing with the trial court, the High Court held that the contract entered into by the Deputy Commissioner was not binding on the State Government; that the Deputy Commissioner signed the contract at his own discretion; and further, that the contract not having been entered into in the form as required under Section 175(3) of the Government of India Act, 1935, was not enforceable against the State Government. The High Court also held that the Government could not be held to have ratified the action of the contract entered into by the Deputy Commissioner. The State was held also not to have benefited by the performance of the plaintiff. On this finding, the High Court set aside the trial court's decree passed against the State Government. In an appeal to this Court, the Constitution Bench held that it was a fit case for the exercise of jurisdiction under Order 41 Rule 33 CPC. On the findings arrived at by the High Court, while setting aside the decree against the State, the High Court should have passed a decree against the Deputy Commissioner. It was not necessary for the plaintiff to have filed any cross-objection and the Illustration appended to Order 41 Rule 33 was enough to find solution.

17. In Rameshwar Prasad v. Shambehari Lal Jagannath [AIR 1963 SC 1901 : (1964) 3 SCR 549] the three-Judge Bench speaking through Raghubar Dayal, J. observed that:

"Rule 33 really provides as to what the appellate court can find the appellant entitled to. It empowers the appellate court to pass any decree and make any order which ought to have been passed or made in the proceedings before it and thus could have reference only to the nature of the decree or order insofar as it affects the rights of the appellant. It further empowers the appellate court to pass or make such further or other decree or order as the case may require. The court is thus given a wide discretion to pass such decrees and orders as the interests of justice demand. Such a power is to be exercised in exceptional cases when its non-exercise will lead to difficulties in the adjustment of rights of the various parties." (vide AIR p. 1905, para 17)

18. In Harihar Prasad Singh v. Balmiki Prasad Singh [(1975) 1 SCC 212] the following statement of law made by Venkatarama Aiyar, J. (as His Lordship then was) in the Division Bench decision in Venukuri Krishna Reddi v. Kota Ramireddi [AIR 1954 Mad 848 : (1954) 2 MLJ 559] was cited with approval which clearly brings out the wide scope of power contained in Rule 33 and the Illustration appended thereto, as also the limitations on such power: (SCC p. 236, para 36)

"Though Order 41 Rule 33 confers wide and unlimited jurisdiction on courts to pass a decree in favour of a party who has not preferred any appeal, there are, however, certain well-defined principles in accordance with which that jurisdiction should be exercised. Normally, a party who is aggrieved by a decree should, if he seeks to escape from its operation, appeal against it within the time allowed after complying with the requirements of law. Where he fails to do so, no relief should ordinarily be given to him under Order 41 Rule 33.

But there are well-recognised exceptions to this rule. One is where as a result of interference in favour of the appellant it becomes necessary to readjust the rights of other parties. A second class of cases based on the same principle is where the question is one of settling mutual rights and obligations between the same parties. A third class of cases is when the relief prayed for is single and indivisible but is claimed against a number of defendants. In such cases, if the suit is decreed and there is an appeal only by some of the defendants and if the relief is granted only to the appellants there is the possibility that there might come into operation at the same time and with reference to the same subject-matter two decrees which are inconsistent and contradictory. This, however, is not an exhaustive enumeration of the class of cases in which courts could interfere under Order 41 Rule 33. Such an enumeration would neither be possible nor even desirable."

19. In the words of J.C. Shah, J. speaking for a three-Judge Bench of this Court in Nirmala Bala Ghose v. Balai Chand Ghose [AIR 1965 SC 1874 : (1965) 3 SCR 550] the limitation on discretion operating as bounds of the width of power conferred by Rule 33 can be so formulated: (AIR p. 1884, para 22)

"The rule is undoubtedly expressed in terms which are wide, but it has to be applied with discretion, and to cases where interference in favour of the appellant necessitates interference also with a decree which has by acceptance or acquiescence become final so as to enable the court to adjust the rights of the parties. Where in an appeal the court reaches a conclusion which is inconsistent with the opinion of the court appealed from and in adjusting the right claimed by the appellant it is necessary to grant relief to a person who has not appealed, the power conferred by Order 41 Rule 33 may properly be invoked. The rule however does not confer an unrestricted right to reopen decrees which have become final merely because the appellate court does not agree with the opinion of the court appealed from."

25. Thus applying the aforesaid principles as laid down by the Apex Court, it would indicate that the decree passed by the tribunal is not inseparablly connected nor there are two reliefs. The award is in favour of the claimants and the amount was crystallized. The dispute before this Court as raised by the Insurance Company was limited to the extent whether the said award was to be satisfied by the Insurance Company or the owner. There was no challenge to the quantum which by not filing a cross appeal or cross objection had attained finality. Nothing prevented the respondents herein from filing an appeal or taking cross objections. The dismissal of the present appeal is not resulting in any inconsistent, contrary or unworkable decree which may come into existence while the Appellate Court interferes with the award so as to enable this Court to exercise its power under Order 41 Rule 33 CPC.

26. In the aforesaid backdrop as well as the dictum of the Apex Court under what circumstances Order 41 Rule 33 CPC is to be applied, does not apply in the present facts and circumstances and for the said reason, this Court is not inclined to countenance the arguments raised by the learned counsel for the claimants-respondents.

27. There is another angle to look at the aforesaid situation. In the decision relied upon by the learned counsel for the respondents in the case of Resha Devi (supra) it would be seen that the appeal had been preferred by the Insurance Company. The submission of the learned counsel for the Insurance Company is noted in paragraph-4 of the judgment of the Division Bench and from the perusal whereof, it would indicate that the question before Hon'ble the Division Bench as raised by the Insurance Company was on quantum; inasmuch as it had been contended that the multiplier as adopted by the tribunal was on the higher side and the compensation accordingly was excessive.

28. It is in the aforesaid circumstance, where the question of quantum was before the Division Bench and in such circumstance considering the fact that the Division Bench found that the award was on the lower side had applied the power under Order 41 Rule 33 CPC and has enhanced the award by adding non-pecuniary damages. Thus, it would be seen that the facts before the Division Bench were completely different; inasmuch as the issue of quantum was before the High Court specifically raised by the Insurance Company and as an appeal is a continuation of the proceedings and the tribunal is required to hold an inquiry to ascertain the compensation which is just and fair, hence in the aforesaid circumstances where the Division Bench came to be conclusion that the Insurance Company was contending that the award was excessive, but it found that it was on the lower side, hence in order to do substantial justice despite the claimants did not file a cross appeal the Division Bench exercised its power under Order 41 Rule 33 CPC and enhance the same.

29. Similarly, in the case of Jitendra Khimshankar Trivedi (supra) the issue before the Apex Court was regarding the quantum of compensation. Moreover, the decision of the Apex Court in paragraph-15 has clearly noticed that the said judgment was being passed by exercising powers under Article 142 of the Constitution and accordingly the relevant portion reads as under:-

"15. As against the award passed by the Tribunal even though the claimants have not preferred any appeal and even though the claimants have then prayed for compensation of Rs.2,96,480/-, for doing complete justice to the parties, exercising jurisdiction under Article 142 of the Constitution of India, we deem it appropriate to award enhanced compensation of Rs.6,47,00/- to the claimants."

30. At this juncture, it will also be relevant to note that the Apex Court in the case of Indian Bank Vs. ABS Marine Products reported in 2006 (5) SCC 72 has clearly held that the law or directions issued under Article 142 of the Constitution do not lay a binding precedent.

31. In view of the above, the decisions of the Apex Court in the case of Jitendra Khimshankar Trivedi (supra) does not come to the rescue of the claimant-respondents.

32. In light of the aforesaid discussions, this Court is of the considered view that the facts and circumstances of the present case does not permit this Court to invoke the powers under Order 41 Rule 33 CPC as suggested by the claimants respondent to enhance the compensation while this Court finds that since the claimants-respondents did not choose to file any cross appeal or cross objections and permitted the quantum to have become final cannot seek the shelter of the aforesaid decisions relied upon by the claimant-respondents and for the said reason, this Court rejects the submissions of the learned counsel for the claimant-respondents.

33. This Court is also fortified in its view in light of the later judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Lakshmanan and others Vs. G. Ayyasamy reported in 2016 (13) SCC 165 and the relevant portion whereof reads as under:-

"7...Usually the power under Rule 33 is exercised when the portion of the decree appealed against or the portion of the decree held liable to be set aside or interfered by the appellate court is so inseparably connected with the portion not appealed against or left untouched that for the reason of the latter portion being left untouched either injustice would result or inconsistent decrees would follow. The power is subject to at least three limitations: firstly, the power cannot be exercised to the prejudice or disadvantage of a person not a party before the court; secondly, a claim given up or lost cannot be revived; and thirdly, such part of the decree which essentially ought to have been appealed against or objected to by a party and which that party has permitted to achieve a finality cannot be reversed to the advantage of such party. A case where there are two reliefs prayed for and one is refused while the other one is granted and the former is not inseparably connected with or necessarily depending on the other, in an appeal against the latter, the former relief cannot be granted in favour of the respondent by the appellate court exercising power under Rule 33 of Order 41." (Ram Phal case [Banarsi v. Ram Phal, (2003) 9 SCC 606] , SCC p. 619, para 15) (emphasis supplied)

8. In support of the same proposition of law, the learned counsel for the appellants placed reliance upon another judgment of this Court in Pralhad v. State of Maharashtra [Pralhad v. State of Maharashtra, (2010) 10 SCC 458 : (2010) 4 SCC (Civ) 212] , wherein this Court after interpretation of Order 41 Rule 33 CPC has clearly held that in the absence of an independent appeal or cross-objection being filed by the aggrieved party, the relief which was denied by the courts below cannot be granted in the second appeal filed by the appellant."

34. In light of the above and upon perusal of the judgment/award passed by the Motor Accident Claim Tribunal dated 18.01.2005, this Court is satisfied that the same does not suffer from any error and is based on material evidence available on record and is accordingly affirmed.

35. In light of the above discussions, the appeal is devoid of merits and is accordingly dismissed. In the facts and circumstances, there shall be no order as to costs. Any amount deposited with this Court shall be remitted to the tribunal concerned to be released in favour of the claimants-respondent in accordance with the award and the rest amount shall be deposited by the appellant before the tribunal concerned within a period of eight weeks from today.

1. Heard, Shri Deepak Kumar, learned counsel for the appellant and Shri U.P.S. Kushwaha, learned counsel for the respondent no.1 New India Assurance Company Ltd.

2. The instant appeal has been filed for modification of the judgment and award dated 17.02.2005 passed in claim petition no. 35 of 1988; Smt. Pramila Chopra and others versus New India Assurance Company Ltd. and others by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal, /Additional District Judge, Court no. 1, Lucknow by means of which the claim petition has been partly allowed and enhancement of the amount of compensation.

3. The brief facts of the case for adjudication of the present appeal are that on 18.06.1988 deceased Madan Chopra was coming from Bareilly to Kanpur by Jeep no. UMF-6695. When he reached near village Dinmayapur Vivku at about 08:30 A.M. within the circle of Police Station Shahabad, district Hardoi, a Matador no. DBL-6897 coming from the opposite side, driven by it's driver rashly and negligently, dashed the jeep of the deceased. The Madan Chopra, died on the spot on account of injuries sustained by him in the accident. The deceased was travelling as a passenger in the jeep. The jeep was being plied on a normal speed. The entire responsibility of the accident rests on the owner and the driver of the matador. The owner of the matador no.DBL-6897 is responsible vicariously along with the driver of the matador, and liable to pay compensation to the respondents/petitioners who are wife, son and daughter of the deceased. With the aforesaid the claim petition was filed claiming compensation.

4. The respondents filed their written statements. On the basis of pleadings of the parties, two issues were framed. The first issue, is as to whether Madan Chopra died due to rash and negligent driving of matador no. DBL 6897. The issue was decided holding that the Madan Chopra died on 18.06.1988 due to rash and negligent driving of matador no. DBL 6897 and jeep no. UMF 6695 and the drivers of both the vehicles are responsible for the alleged accident, as such, there was composite negligence of the drivers of both the vehicles in the accident.

5. The second issue as to whether the petitioners are entitled to get compensation, if yes, its amount and from which of the opposite parties, has been decided assessing the total amount of compensation as Rs.3,02,980/-. However, the learned Tribunal held that since there was composite negligence of both the drivers and the petitioners have claimed compensation only from the owner, driver and Insurance company of matador no. DBL 6897, therefore they are entitled to get only half of the amount from them and the remaining amount can be claimed from the other vehicle.

6. The learned tribunal partly allowed the claim petition for an amount of Rs.1,51,490/- along with interest at rate of 8 per cent per annum from the date of filing of petition till the realization of the amount excluding the interest for the period from 18.05.1994 to 01.05.1999 as the claim petition was dismissed in default on 18.05.1994 and the restoration application was moved on 01.05.1999. It has further been provided that the compensation shall be realized first from the respondent no. 1 i.e. New India Assurance Company Ltd and each of the petitioner shall get one third share.

7. Being aggrieved, the instant appeal has been filed for enhancement of the amount of compensation as claimed in the claim petition and to modify the judgment and award dated 17.02.2005 passed by the MACT.

8. Learned counsel for the appellant had submitted that the learned tribunal has come to the conclusion that the deceased Madan Chopra had died in the accident between the matador no. DBL 6897 and Jeep no. UMP 6695 on account of rash and negligent driving of their drivers and there was composite negligence of the drivers of both the vehicles in the accident. But wrongly and illegally deducted 50 per cent of the amount of compensation assessed by the Tribunal on the ground that the appellant/claimants have claimed compensation only from the owner, driver and Insurance company of matador no. DBL 6897. While it is a settled law that in the case of composite negligence both are liable for payment of compensation jointly and severely. Therefore, the appellant/claimants are entitled for payment of the total compensation from the owner/driver/insurance company of any of the vehicle involved in the accident and they are liable to pay the total compensation and they may recover it from the other.

9. He had further submitted that the deceased Madan Chopra was an employee in the UP Handloom Corporation. He was getting a salary of Rs. 4376/- per month. In proof, there of a salary certificate vide paper no. C-40 issued by the Corporation was filed, which was also proved by adducing oral evidence of Shri Kuber Nath as PW 1 who was an employee in the UP Handloom Corporation. The learned tribunal also came to the conclusion that the total salary of the deceased was Rs. 4376/- but considered only Rs. 3335/- on the ground that it has been mentioned in Para 6 of their petition. Once the income of the deceased was proved by oral as well as documentary evidence the learned tribunal ought to have considered the same for assessing the compensation.

10. He had further submitted that no future prospects have been allowed while the appellant is also entitled for the future prospects and lesser amounts have been allowed towards conventional heads which are also liable to be enhanced. The learned counsel for the appellant lastly submitted that the learned tribunal has wrongly and illegally disallowed the interest with effect from 18.05.1994 to 01.05.1999. While once the application for recall of the order and restoration of the claim petition was allowed, the appellant/claimants are entitled interest for the whole period.

11. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondent no.1; insurance company had submitted that the date of accident in the instant case is 18.06.1988 and the new Motor Vehicles Act, 1989 came into effect w.e.f. 01.07.1989. Therefore, the accident in question was governed by the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939 under which the liability of the insurance company was limited under section 95(A)(2) to the extent of Rs.1,50,000/- as the vehicle insured was a goods vehicle. It was further submitted that policy was an act policy and for any additional liability the extra premium was to be paid, which was not paid. It was further submitted that since the awarded sum by the tribunal was Rs.

1,51,490/- alongwith interest which has already been satisfied by the insurance company, therefore any additional liability, in case the appeal is allowed, should not be saddled on the insurance company since it has already exhausted its liability. He had also submitted that the applicability of the old act on the accident in question was a question of law which need not be pleaded but the learned tribunal, without considering the same, has allowed the claim-petition on the basis of the new act.

12. On the basis of affidavit filed in compliance of the order passed by this court learned counsel for the respondent no.1 had also submitted that in view of the India Motor Tariff three types of policies were issued. The comprehensive insurance of the vehicle and payment of higher premium on this score does not mean that the limit of liability with regard to third party risk becomes unlimited or higher than the statutory liability. The additional benefits under the commercial vehicle tariff were not applicable to motor trade road risk as per Annexure No.C to the affidavit. He had also pointed out that offending vehicle was covered under Clause A(2) and for any additional liability the additional premium was to be paid, which was not paid in the instant policy therefore the answering insurance company is not liable to make the payment of any amount enhanced by this Court. He had further submitted that interest for the period from the date of dismissal of the claim petition up to the date of recall and restoration of the claim petition is not admissible because in that there was no fault of the insurance company. However, he submitted that in regard to the claim of the petitioner regarding income of Rs.4376/- in place of Rs.3335/- and composite negligence there is no quarrel.

13. On the basis of above, learned counsel for the insurance company had submitted that the appeal is liable to be dismissed against the answering insurance company.

14. I have considered the submissions of learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

15. The undisputed facts are that the deceased- Madan Chopra had died in the accident on 18.06.1988 while he was travelling in jeep no.UMF 6695 and the driver of the matador no. DBL 6897 came from the opposite side and dashed the jeep. The claim petition filed by the appellants in regard to the accident in question has been allowed and an amount of Rs.3,02,980/- has been assessed as compensation by the learned tribunal out of which, on account of composite negligence of the drivers of both the vehicles, the tribunal has directed to the respondent insurance company to pay Rs.1,51,490/- alongwith interest @ 8% per annum from the date of filing of the petition till the date of realization excluding the interest for the period from 18.05.1994 to 01.05.1999, the period within which the claim petition was dismissed and application for restoration was filed.

16. The deceased- Madan Chopra aged about 52 years was employed as Marketing Inspector in U.P. Handloom Corporation. He was getting a salary of Rs.4676/-. The last pay certificate of the deceased was filed as paper No.C40. The salary certificate was proved by Shri Kuber Nath, PW-1, who was an employee in the U.P. Handloom Corporation. He has specifically stated that the deceased was drawing monthly salary of Rs.4376/- on the date of accident i.e. 18.06.1988. But since the appellants had mentioned the income of the deceased as Rs.3335/- in the claim petition, therefore, that amount has only been taken into consideration for assessing and calculating the compensation, which could not have been done by the learned tribunal. The deceased was an employee of the corporation and his certificate of last pay was filed which were proved by documentary and oral evidence of an employee of the Corporation, the same was liable to be considered for determining the compensation. It is settled proposition of law that the tribunal has to consider and award the just compensation. Therefore, the income of the deceased for determining the compensation at the time of accident was Rs.4376/- per month.

17. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Jitendra Khimshankar Trivedi & Others Vs. Kasam Daud Kumbhar & Others; 2015 (1) TAC 673, has observed that it is obligatory on the part of the courts / the tribunals to award just and reasonable compensation. The Hon'ble Apex Court, in the case of Ramla Vs. National Insurance Company Limited; (2019) 2 SCC 192, has held that grant of amount in excess of claimed is permissible because a "just compensation" is one which is reasonable, based on evidence produced on record.

18. The next question for consideration is the deduction of 50% of the amount of compensation assessed by the tribunal on account of contributory negligence of drivers of jeep no.UMF 6695 and the driver of the matador no. DBL 6897. The present case can not be a case of contributory negligence because in the case of contributory negligence the person himself contributes to the accident for which he can not claim any compensation. In the present case the deceased- Madan Chopra was travelling in the jeep no.UMF 6695 and as per finding recorded by the learned tribunal the accident had occurred due to negligence of drivers of both the vehicles i.e. the jeep and the metador. Therefore, the deceased can not be said to have contributed in the happening of the accident and it can be on account of the composite negligence of the drivers of both the vehicles that the deceased had died in the accident in question. It has also been held by the tribunal that both the drivers were responsible. However, if the owner, driver and insurer of the jeep no.UMF 6695 were not impleaded the learned tribunal was not justified in determining the extent of composite negligence of drivers of both the vehicles in absence of evidence of other driver and awarded only half of the compensation assessed by it from the insurance company of the vehicle which was impleaded.

19. The learned tribunal, has recorded a finding that it appears that alleged accident had occurred on the middle of the Damar road due to rash and negligent driving of both the vehicles and there had been a head on collision between the two vehicles. It appears that being impressed by the evidence to the effect that the accident had occurred on account of head on collision in the middle of the road, the learned tribunal has recorded a finding of negligence by both the drivers while such finding should have been recorded on the basis of the cogent evidence and not on probability. In the present case the driver of matador has also given evidence contrary to stand in written statement which has been categorically recorded by the tribunal therefore it is not believable at all. Learned counsel for the respondent insurance company had also not disputed the fact of composite negligence in the present case.

20. The Hon'ble Apex Court considered the difference between the contributory and composite negligence in the case of Khenyei Vs. New India Assurance Company; 2015 (2) TAC 677 (SC) and held that in the case of contributory negligence a person, who has himself contributed to the extent, can not claim compensation for the injuries sustained by him in the accident to the extent of his own negligence; whereas in the case of composite negligence a person who has suffered has not contributed to the accident but the outcome of combination of negligence of two or more other persons and he need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong doer separately. The Hon'ble Apex Court in regard to the claim in the case of composite negligence and how it is to be dealt has held as under in paragraph 18:-

" (18) What emerges from the aforesaid discussion is as follows :

(i) In the case of composite negligence, plaintiff/claimant is entitled to sue both or any one of the joint tort feasors and to recover the entire compensation as liability of joint tort feasors is joint and several.

(ii) In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between two tort feasors vis a vis the plaintiff/claimant is not permissible. He can recover at his option whole damages from any of them.

(iii) In case all the joint tort feasors have been impleaded and evidence is sufficient, it is open to the court/tribunal to determine inter se extent of composite negligence of the drivers. However, determination of the extent of negligence between the joint tort feasors is only for the purpose of their inter se liability so that one may recover the sum from the other after making whole of payment to the plaintiff/claimant to the extent it has satisfied the liability of the other. In case both of them have been impleaded and the apportionment/ extent of their negligence has been determined by the court/tribunal, in main case one joint tort feasor can recover the amount from the other in the execution proceedings.

(iv) It would not be appropriate for the court/tribunal to determine the extent of composite negligence of the drivers of two vehicles in the absence of impleadment of other joint tort feasors. In such a case, impleaded joint tort feasor should be left, in case he so desires, to sue the other joint tort feasor in independent proceedings after passing of the decree or award."

21. In view of above, this court is of the considered opinion that since there was no contribution of the deceased in the accident in question therefore even if it was a case of composite negligence he was entitled to claim it from any one of them and the compensation could not have been reduced on the ground that the owner, driver and insurance company of other vehicle has not been impleaded. Therefore, the appellant / claimants are entitled for whole of the compensation from the Driver / Owner / Insurance Company of the vehicle impleaded i.e. the respondents in the present case, who may sue the other.

22. The learned tribunal has allowed Rs.2000/- towards funeral expenses, Rs.5000 towards loss of consortium and

Rs.2500 towards loss of estate in total Rs.9500/- which the learned counsel for the appellants had submitted that they are liable to be enhanced and the appellants are also entitled for the future prospects. Learned counsel for the appellants has relied on Rajesh & Others Vs. Rajbir Singh & Others; (2013) 9 SCC 54 / 2013 (3) TAC 679 and Sandhya Rani Debbarma & Others Vs. The National Insurance Company Limited & Others; 2016 (4) TAC 165 SC. A constitution Bench judgment of the Hon'ble Apex Court after considering several judgments of the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi & Others; (2017) 16 SCC 680 has overruled the case of Rajesh & Others (Supra) and in para 59.8 held that the reasonable figures on conventional heads namely loss of estate, loss of consortium and funeral expenses shall be Rs.15,000/-, Rs.40,000/- and Rs.15,000/- respectively. Therefore, this court is of the view that the appellants are entitled for Rs.15,000/-, Rs.40,000/- and Rs.15,000/- towards loss of estate, loss of consortium and funeral expenses respectively in place of Rs.2500/-, Rs.5000/- and Rs.2000. The appellants are also entitled for addition of 15% towards future prospects in view of paragraph 59.3 of the said Constitution Bench judgment as the deceased was 52 years of age.

23. The learned tribunal has allowed the interest @ 8% per annum from the date of filing of the claim petition till the date of realization excluding the interest from the date of 18.05.1994 to 01.05.1999 on the ground that the claim petition was dismissed on 18.05.1994 and the application for restoration was filed on 01.05.1999. It is not permissible once the application for restoration was allowed after considering the ground sufficient in the application. The Division Bench of this Court in the case of Sri Niwas Mani Tripathi and Others Vs. New India Assurance Company Limited and Others; 2014 (2) AICC 1066 has held as under in paragraph 33:-

"(33). Further this is sufficient ground to interfere in the appeal filed for enhancement of the award to the extent that the interest would not be applicable for the period, when the claim was dismissed. We find that the restoration application is allowed only when the Court finds sufficient grounds for non-appearance of the claims, where the claimants have shown good and sufficient cause, they cannot be blamed or denied subsequently with the interest on the amount awarded to them as compensation."

24. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Alok Shankar Pandey Vs. Union of India and Others; AIR 2007 SC 1198 has held that interest is not a penalty or punishment at all but it is a normal accretion on capital. For example if A had to pay B a certain amount, say 10 years ago, but he offers that amount to him today, then he has pocketed the interest on the principal amount. Had A paid that amount to B 10 years ago, B would have invested that amount somewhere and earned interest thereon, but instead of that A has kept that amount with himself and earned interest on it for this period. Hence equity demands that A should not only pay back the principal amount but also the interest thereon to B.

25. In view of above, this court is of the considered opinion that the learned tribunal has erred in deducting the interest for the period from 18.05.1994 to 01.05.1999 and the appellants are entitled for the interest awarded by the tribunal w.e.f. the date of filing of the claim petition till the date of realization.

26. In view of above, this court is of the considered opinion that the claimant-appellants are entitled for enhancement of the compensation. Thus, the claimant-appellants are entitled to get Rs.4,376 + (15% of Rs.4,376) Rs.656.40 = Rs.5,032.40 x 12 x 11 = Rs.6,64,276.80 and by deducting 1/3rd (6,64,276.80x1/3=2,21,425.60) amount, the payable amount comes to Rs.4,42,851.20. The appellants are also entitled to get Rs.15,000/-, Rs.40,000/- and Rs.15,000/- respectively towards loss of estate, loss of consortium and funeral expenses. Thus, the total amount of compensation comes to Rs.512851.20, which is to be paid alongwith interest @ 8% awarded by the tribunal w.e.f. the date of filing of the petition till the date of realization after adjusting the amount already paid.

27. Adverting to the question of plea of the learned counsel for the respondent no.1 regarding limited liability of Rs.1,50,000/- under Section 95(2)(A) of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939, this court finds that this plea was neither raised before the tribunal nor such objection has been filed before this court. This plea was raised during course of arguments. It can not be said to be a purely question of law because it was required to be pleaded that what type of policy was issued by the insurance company for the vehicle in question and as to whether any additional premium was paid or not towards the additional liability for claiming benefit of limited liability. On the other hand the insurance company has satisfied the award of Rs.1,51,490/- alongwith interest @ 8% per annum awarded by the tribunal which is much more than Rs.1,50,000/-, without any demur. However, Since a plea was raised at the time of arguments therefore this court had directed to file an affidavit explaining the position.

28. In compliance thereof an affidavit was filed annexing some photo copies of Motor Insurance Rating Guide which has been referred as India Motor Tariff and a photo copy of the Guide Book for Motor Insurance Under Writing containing the Motor Insurance Rating Guide was produced. On the top of which private and confidential (for use by employee and field staff of the company only) is mentioned. Therefore, the respondent insurance company is trying to take a shelter for non-payment of the additional amount over and above Rs.1,50,000/- on the basis of a document which is private and confidential while it has already paid the compensation more than Rs.1,50,000/-.

29. Paper No. C-36/1, which is a copy of the insurance certificate of vehicle matador no.DBL-6897 involved in the accident in question, indicates that Rs.240/- has been charged as premium for third party alongwith an additional sum of Rs.16/- and Rs.08/-, as such total of Rs.264/- has been charged alongwith premium of comprehensive . The policy is a comprehensive policy. In terms of Section 95(2)(A) of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939 the insurance company is obliged to satisfy the liability to an extent of Rs.1,50,000/- in so far as goods carriage vehicle is concerned unless an additional premium is paid for additional liability.

30. The Motor Insurance Rate Guide filed by the respondent insurance company sets out the provisions relating to the benefits under the Motor Insurance, types of insurance policy and payment of premium, the relevant portion of which has been filed alongwith the affidavit and a photo copy was produced at the time of arguments. As per the definition of the three types of policy, each one of them are distinct and separate. In the present case this court is concerned with the first type of policy which is a comprehensive insurance policy which provides the contingencies of loss or damage to the damaged vehicle subject to the limitation mentioned in the policy and liability to the public risk including Act liability.

31. The provision of India Motor Tariff indicates that the premium of Rs.200/- is the premium for the Act only and Rs.240/- for the liability to the public risk. So far as the plea of the respondent counsel regarding non-applicability of the additional benefit under the commercial vehicle tariff is concerned, it is mentioned in paragraph-11 of Annexure No.C filed by the appellants that the benefits mentioned herein may not be insured separately but only in conjunction with a "Comprehensive" or "liabilities to the public risk" policies only by charging extra premium as stated above. Above that in N.B.2, it is mentioned that the rates are subject to minimum of Rs.75/- for comprehensive cover, Rs.40/- for liability to the public risks and Rs.25/- for 'Act only Cover'. In the present case Rs.240/- has been charged for the third party towards the liability to the public risk but the learned counsel for the appellant had failed to clarify as to when Rs.240/- has been charged towards liability to the public risk and Rs.200/- is for Act only Policy then how the liability of the respondent insurance company is limited only to Rs.1,50,000/-. Therefore, it is apparent that the premium for public risk was charged which was with additional premium to Act only therefore the contention of the learned counsel for the respondent insurance company regarding limited liability is misconceived and for enhanced liability a sum of Rs.240/- was charged and it is nothing but implicit agreement between the owner and the insurance company for taking additional and extra premium for covering the public risk.

32. The Gujarat High Court in the case of Kantibhai Valjibhai Shah Vs. Kokilaben & Others; 2011 (3) TAC 112 (Gujarat) has considered the India Motor Tariff and it has recorded that only in respect of the common policy a sum of Rs.200/- is chargeable whereas for enhanced liability a sum of Rs.240/- is charged and it is nothing but implicit agreement between the owner as well as insurance company for taking additional and extra premium for covering the public risk. Therefore, the extra premium was charged for covering the public risk which includes unlimited liability.

33. Perusal of the policy (Paper No.C-36/1) also indicates that it contains "avoidance of certain terms and right of recovery" clause which is given in Paper No.C-68 issued by the respondent insurance company which provides that nothing in this policy or any endorsement thereon shall affect the right of any person indemnified by this policy or any other person to recover an amount under or by virtue of provisions of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939, Section 96. But the insured shall repay to the company all sums paid by the company which the company would not have been liable to pay but for the said provisions. Therefore, even in the case of limited liability the insurance company is liable to discharge the entire liability of compensation but the insured would have to repay to the company all the sums paid by the company which is in excess of its liability under the policy of insurance.

34. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of New India Assurance Company Limited Vs. Vimla Devi & Others; 2011 (3) TAC 70 (SC) after considering the aforesaid avoidance clause, and referring to the decision in the case of Amrit Lal Sood & Another Vs. Kaushalya Devi Thaper & Orthers;1998 (2) TAC 97 (SC) held that the insurance company was rightly directed by the High Court to make payment of the full amount of compensation and to recover the excess amount from the owner of the motor vehicle. A full Bench of Gujarat High Court in the case of Shantaben & Others Vs. Yakubbhai Ibrahimbhai Patel & Others; 2013 (2) TAC 791 (Gaj.) and framed the question for consideration in paragraph-25 and answered the same in paragraph-41, which are extracted below:-

"25. Having thus heard the learned counsel for the parties, short question that calls for consideration is whether the Insurance Company can be directed to discharge the entire liability of compensation fixed by the claims tribunal or whether the liability of the Insurance Company would be restricted too the statutory liability of Rs.50,000/- prevailing at the relevant time."

"41. Our answer to the question farmed is that wherever the insurance policy contains an avoidance clause providing that nothing in the policy shall affect the right of any person indemnified by the policy or any other person by recovering amount under or by virtue of provisions of Motor Vehicle Act, but further requires insured to repay to the Insurance Company all such sums paid by the company which the company would not have been liable to pay, but for this provision, the Insurance Company cannot press in service the statutory limit of liability under the Motor Vehicles Act insofar as the claimants are concerned. But the insured would have to repay to the company all the sums paid by the company which is in excess of its liability under the policy of insurance."

35. In view of above, this Court is of the considered opinion that the appeal is liable to be allowed and the impugned judgment and award modified and the respondent insurance company is liable to pay the entire amount of compensation. Accordingly, the judgment and award dated 17.02.2005 passed in claim petition no. 35 of 1988; Smt. Pramila Chopra and others versus New India Assurance Company Ltd. and others by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal, /Additional District Judge, Court no. 1, Lucknow is modified. The respondent no.1 / New India Assurance Company Ltd. shall pay amount of compensation to the tune of Rs.5,12,851.20 alongwith interest @ 8% per annum w.e.f. the date of filing of petition till the date of realization, after adjusting the amount already paid within a period of six weeks from today.

36. The appeal is, accordingly, allowed. No order as to costs.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Bala Krishna Narayana, J.)

1. Seen the office report dated 18.3.2017. Service on respondent no. 1 is deemed to be sufficient in view of the provisions of Chapter VIII Rule 12, Explanation (II) of the High Court Rules.

2. Heard Sri Amit Kumar Sinha, learned counsel for the appellants and Sri Saurabh Srivastava, learned counsel for respondent no. 3.

3. This appeal has been preferred by the claimants/appellants for enhancement of compensation awarded to them by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.3, Allahabad by judgement and award dated 27.2.2014 passed in M.A.C.P No. 01 of 1998 by which a sum of Rs. 7,89,000/- together with interest @ 8% p.a. in case the opposite parties/respondents failed to deposit the entire amount of awarded compensation within 30 days of the award, was awarded as compensation.

4. It appears from the perusal of the record that one Ravi Shankar Pandey (deceased) aged about 42 years on the relevant date, was posted as Assistant Auditing Officer and was earning a sum of Rs. 8,700/- per month. On 31.8.1997, while the deceased was going from Kalipara to Navpara at Bahraich, by a jeep bearing registration no. U.P. 40/A 2423, it collided with truck bearing registration no. W.B. 03/A 4458 due to rash and negligent driving of the drivers of both the vehicles. In the accident so caused, the deceased received severe head injuries and he was admitted to Krishna Medical Centre, Lucknow, and had remained there under the treatment of Dr. Piyush Mittal from 31.8.1997 to 13.9.1997 incurring expenses of Rs. 50,000/- towards treatment. At the time of his death, his wife Smt. Urmila, sons-Ajay Kumar Pandey, Jitendra Kumar Pandey and Vinay Kumar Pandey, daughter Km. Pratibha Pandey, father Hari Lal Pandey and mother Devkanya Devi were dependent on him. The claim petition was filed by the claimants/appellants for an award of Rs. 70,00,000/- as compensation for the death of Ravi Shankar Pandey as a result of the injuries sustained by him in an accident which was caused due to rash and negligent driving of drivers of the two vehicles.

5. The claim petition was contested by opposite party/respondent no. 2, Irrigation Department Khand Irrigation and opposite party/respondent no. 3, United India Insurance Company Ltd. The owner of the tanker, opposite party/respondent no. 1, Nathuni Ray in this appeal did not contest the claim petition.

6. The Insurance Company in its written statement though broadly admitted the allegations made in the claim petition, but pleaded that the owner of the tanker alone could not be saddled with the liability of payment of entire compensation as it is the case of a contributory negligence and the liability should be apportioned between owners of both the vehicles. The Insurance Company further sought time for verification of the driving license of the driver of truck bearing registration no. W.B. 03/A 4458. The Irrigation Department in its written statement neither admitted nor considered it necessary to reply to the averments made in the claim petition. It further pleaded that the driver of the jeep in which the deceased was travelling, possessed a valid driving license and was driving the jeep at the time of the accident as per the traffic rules i.e. at the speed of 20-25 km/hour and the accident had been caused due to rash and negligent driving of the tanker by its driver.

7. On the basis of the pleadings of the parties, the Tribunal framed following issues :-

1) Whether Ravi Shankar Pandey died in the accident caused due to rash and negligent driving of the driver of the truck bearing registration no. W.B. 03/A 4458 on 31.08.1997 at 11.45 am?

2) What compensation are the claimants entitled to ?

3) Is the truck in question fully insured?

4) Is the Insurance Company not liable to pay the compensation?

5) Relief.

8. The claimant/appellants in support of their claim, lead oral as well as documentary evidence. The oral evidence comprised of the statements of P.W.1 Smt. Urmila Devi, P.W.2 Kamla Prasad Mishra and P.W.3 Satish Chandra whereas the documentary evidence adduced comprised of copy of First Information Report of the accident registered as Case Crime No. 121 of 1997, registration certificate of vehicle no. W.B. 03/A 4458, permit, copy of insurance policy, death certificate of the deceased issued by Krishna Medical Centre, extract of family of Ravi Shankar Pandey, High School mark sheet of the deceased, charge-sheet filed in Case Crime No. 121 of 1997, site plan of the place of accident, Technical Examination Report of the two vehicles bearing registration nos. U.P. 40/A 2423 and W.B. 03/A 4458 on behalf of the opposite party/respondent no. 2, Irrigation Department Khand Irrigation and the copy of driving license of Prabhu Dayal, driver of vehicle no. U.P. 40A/2423.

9. Notice may be taken of the fact that initially the M.A.C.P. No. 01 of 1998 was decreed ex-parte qua the opposite party/respondent no. 2, Irrigation Department by judgement and award dated 16.7.2004. However, the application filed by the Irrigation Department under IX Rule 13 was allowed by the M.A.C.T. and the ex-parte judgement and award dated 16.7.2004 was set aside and thereafter the impugned judgement and award has been passed.

10. The Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.3, Allahabad after considering the submissions advanced before him by the learned counsel for the parties and scrutinizing the evidence on record, awarded the sum of Rs. 7,89,000/- as compensation inter alia holding that the deceased at the time of his death was aged about 42 years and earning Rs. 6,500/- and had left behind seven dependents including four minor children treated as two units as per Rule 220-A of the U.P. Motor Vehicles Rules, 1998 and after deducting (1/3 of 6,500) amount towards personal and living expenses of the deceased, he would have contributed a sum of Rs. 4333/- per month or Rs. 51996/- per annum towards his family and applied the multiplier of 15 and since it was a case of contributory negligence, accordingly, Tribunal fixed the liability of 50-50.

11. The impugned judgement and award has been assailed by learned counsel for the appellant on the following grounds :-

1) The M.A.C.T. erred in law in holding the monthly income of the deceased as Rs. 6,500/- whereas the gross salary of the deceased was Rs. 8,500/- at the time of his death, for the purpose of computing the compensation.

2) The M.A.C.T. did not award any amount towards future prospects.

3) The amount awarded under the conventional heads is too meagre and not in consonance with the principles laid down by the Constitutional Bench of the Apex Court in the case of National Insurance Company Limited Versus Pranay Sethi and Others reported in 2017 ACJ 2700 (SC) .

4) The M.A.C.T. erred in deducting one-third amount towards living and personal expenses of the deceased, whereas considering the number of his heirs and legal representatives, the deduction made should have been one-fifth.

5) The M.A.C.T. erred in awarding the interest on the amount of awarded compensation conditionally by illegally providing that the interest on the awarded amount will be payable only if the Insurance Company fails to deposit the entire awarded compensation within 30 days of the award.

12. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondent nos. 2 and 3 made their submissions in support of the impugned judgement and award.

13. After having heard learned counsel for the parties, we find that there is force in the submissions made by learned counsel for the appellants.

14. Coming to the first ground of challenge to the impugned judgement and award, we find that the Tribunal for the purpose of computation of deceased's monthly income, had taken into account the net monthly income of the deceased whereas the gross income of the deceased ought to have been made the basis for calculating the compensation.

15. Our attention has been invited by learned counsel for the appellant to paragraph 10 of the judgement of the Apex Court in the case of Sarla Verma and others vs. Delhi Transport Corporation & another reported in 2009 (2) T.A.C. SC 677, wherein the Apex Court has held hereinunder :-

"10. Generally the actual income of the deceased less income tax should be the starting point for calculating the compensation. The question is whether actual income at the time of death should be taken as the income or whether any addition should be made by taking note of future prospects. In Susamma Thomas, this Court held that the future prospects of advancement in life and career should also be sounded in terms of money to augment the multiplicand (annual contribution to the dependants); and that where the deceased had a stable job, the court can take note of the prospects of the future and it will be unreasonable to estimate the loss of dependency on the actual income of the deceased at the time of death. In that case, the salary of the deceased, aged 39 years at the time of death, was Rs.1032/- per month. Having regard to the evidence in regard to future prospects, this Court was of the view that the higher estimate of monthly income could be made at Rs.2000/- as gross income before deducting the personal living expenses. The decision in Susamma Thomas was followed in Sarla Dixit v. Balwant Yadav [1996 (3) SCC 179], where the deceased was getting a gross salary of Rs.1543/- per month. Having regard to the future prospects of promotions and increases, this Court assumed that by the time he retired, his earning would have nearly doubled, say Rs.3000/-. This court took the average of the actual income at the time of death and the projected income if he had lived a normal life period, and determined the monthly income as Rs.2200/- per month. In Abati Bezbaruah v. Dy. Director General, Geological Survey of India [2003

(3) SCC 148], as against the actual salary income of Rs.42,000/- per annum, (Rs.3500/- per month) at the time of accident, this court assumed the income as Rs.45,000/- per annum, having regard to the future prospects and career advancement of the deceased who was 40 years of age."

16. Thus in view of the principles culled out in the case of Sarla Verma (supra), we find that the Tribunal erred in taking into account the net salary of the deceased as the basis for awarding compensation wherein it ought to have awarded compensation on the basis of gross salary of the deceased which is Rs. 8,500/- as the income of the deceased was not within taxable range limits.

17. As regards the second ground of challenge canvassed by the appellants that the Tribunal acted illegally in not awarding any amount towards future prospects, we find force in the same.

18. The Constitutional Bench of the Apex Court in paragraph 61-iii of Pranay Sethi (supra) has observed as hereinunder :-

"(iii) While determining the income, an addition of 50% of actual salary to the income of the deceased towards future prospects, where the deceased had a permanent job and was below the age of 40 years, should be made. The addition should be 30%, if the age of the deceased was between 40 to 50 years. In case the deceased was between the age of 50 to 60 years, the addition should be 15%. Actual salary should be read as actual salary less tax."

19. In the present case, there is no dispute about the fact that the deceased at the time of attaining the age of 40 years and was holding permanent job and hence the Tribunal ought to have added 30% of actual salary to the income of the deceased towards future prospects. We thus add 30% of the actual salary to the income of the deceased towards future prospects, while computing his income.

20. Coming to the third ground of challenge that the amount awarded under conventional heads was too meagre and not in consonance with the principles laid down in paragraph 61 (viii) of Pranay Sethi (supra), the same also has force. The Apex Court in the case of Pranay Sethi (supra) in paragraph 61 (viii) has observed as hereinunder :-

"(viii) Reasonable figures on conventional heads, namely, loss of estate, loss of consortium and funeral expenses should be Rs. 15,000/-, Rs. 40,000/- and Rs. 15,000/- respectively. The aforesaid amounts should be enhanced at the rate of 10% in every three years."

21. In the instant case, we find that the Tribunal has awarded the sum of Rs. 5,000/-, Rs. 2,000/- and Rs. 2,000/- towards loss of consortium, funeral expenses and loss of estate respectively under the conventional heads, which is neither reasonable nor justifiable.

22. We, accordingly, hold that the claimants/appellants are entitled to Rs. 15,000/-, Rs. 40,000/- and Rs. 15,000/- respectively for loss of estate, loss of consortium and funeral expenses.

23. Considering the fourth ground of challenge that at the time of death of the deceased, he had left behind seven family members who were dependent upon him, we find that the deduction towards personal and living expenses of the deceased should have been one-fifth as made by the Tribunal in view of the principle laid down in the case of Sarla Verma (supra) by the Apex Court. Paragraph 14 of the judgement of Sarla Verma (supra) which is relevant for our purpose is being reproduced hereinbelow :-

"14. Though in some cases the deduction to be made towards personal and living expenses is calculated on the basis of units indicated in Trilok Chandra, the general practice is to apply standardized deductions. Having considered several subsequent decisions of this court, we are of the view that where the deceased was married, the deduction towards personal and living expenses of the deceased, should be one-third (1/3rd) where the number of dependent family members is 2 to 3, one-fourth (1/4th) where the number of dependant family members is 4 to 6, and one-fifth (1/5th) where the number of dependent family members exceed six."

24. In the present case, the deceased had left behind his wife Urmilla, four minor children which as per Rule 220-A of the U.P. Motor Vehicles Rules, 1998, shall be treated as two units and his parents, total five dependants, hence, keeping in view the dictum laid down in paragraph 14 of Sarla Verma (supra), the deduction should have been one-fifth.

25. Coming to the last ground upon which the impugned judgement and award has been challenged, in our opinion, the Tribunal was not at all justified in awarding interest on the amount of compensation conditionally.

26. Although there is no appeal of the Insurance Company challenging the correctness of the multiplier adopted by the Tribunal in considering the fact that at the time of his death the deceased was aged about 42 years, then as per the table provided in paragraph 21 of the judgement of Sarla Verma (supra), the Tribunal ought to have adopted the multiplier 14 (M-14) but nevertheless in order to do complete justice between the parties, we can exercise the power conferred under Order 41 Rule 33 of the C.P.C. which provides that the appellate court shall have power to pass any decree which ought to have been passed or made and this power may be exercised by the Court in favour of all or any of the respondents or parties, although they may not have filed any cross appeal or objection. Order 41 Rule 33 C.P.C. is being reproduced hereinbelow :-

"33 . Power of Court of Appeal-- The Appellate Court shall have power to pass any decree and make any order which ought to have been passed or made and to pass or make such further or other decree or order as the case may require, and this power may be exercised by the Court notwithstandng that the appeal is as to part only of the decree and may be exercised in favour of all or any of the respondents or parties, although such respondents or parties may not have filed any appeal or objection and may, where there have been decrees in cross-suits or where two or more decrees are passed in one suit, be exercised in respect of all or any of the decrees, although an appeal may not have been filed against such decrees."

27. Thus, in view of above, keeping in view the legal principles followed by the Apex Court in paragraph 21 of Sarla Verma (supra), we hold that the multiplier which should have been adopted in the instant case should be 14 and not 15.

28. We accordingly proceed to recalculate the compensation in the light of the aforesaid principles. As noted above, the actual salary of the deceased was Rs.

8,500/- per month or Rs. 1,02,000/- p.a. By adding 30% towards future prospects as the deceased was between the age of 40 to 50 years, the deemed gross income of the deceased would be Rs. 8,500/- + 30% of Rs. 8,500/- = Rs. 11,050/- per month or Rs. 1,32,600/- p.a. After deducting 1/5th amount (i.e. 11,050-2,210) towards the living and personal expenses of the deceased, his contribution to the family is determined as Rs. 8,840/- per month or Rs. 1,06,080/- p.a. By applying the multiplier of 14, the total loss of dependency is assessed at Rs. 14,85,120/-. We further award a sum of Rs. 15,000/- towards funeral expenses, Rs. 40,000/- under the head of loss of consortium and Rs. 15,000/- towards loss of estate. We accordingly increase the compensation awarded to the claimants/appellants by the Tribunal from Rs. 7,89,000/- to Rs. 15,55,120/-. The claimants/appellants shall further be entitled to interest @ 8% p.a. on the increased amount of compensation from the date of filing of the claim petition till the actual payment is made.

29. The appeal is allowed in part.

30. The impugned judgement and award stand modified to the extent indicated hereinabove.

31. The parties shall bear their respective costs.

List of cases cited :

1. Smt. Sarla Verma & Ors Vs Delhi Transport Corporation & Anr 2009 (2) T.A.C. 677 (SC)

2. National Insurance Company Ltd Vs Pranay Sethi & ors 2017 (4) TAC 673 (SC)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rohit Ranjan Agarwal, J.)

1. This appeal has been filed by claimants-appellants under Section 173 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 not being satisfied by judgment and award dated 04.08.2014 passed by Additional District Judge, Court No. 7/ Motor Accident Claims Tribunal, Meerut in Motor Accident Claim Petition No. 211 of 2013.

2. Facts as narrated in the judgment and award are that one Rukesh Kumar, husband of claimant-appellant no. 1, father of claimant-appellant nos. 2, 3 and 4 and son of claimant-appellant nos. 5 and 6, was driver of Truck bearing No. MP 07 HB- 0149. On 24.10.2012 along with one Santosh, when deceased's truck was coming from Muzaffar Nagar to Hapur, it met with an accident at around 4 a.m. in the morning near Naugaja Peer, PS- Kharkhauda, District- Meerut with another Truck bearing No. HR 37 B-2896 coming from opposite direction. The driver of truck bearing no. MP 07 HB-0149 died on the spot, and was aged about 29 years.

3. A claim petition, being MACP No. 211 of 2013 was filed by claimant-appellants before the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal, Meerut. The said petition was contested by owner of Truck No. HR 37 B-2896 and the Insurance Company of the same truck number. Tribunal found that there was a contributory negligence on the part of both the parties and the deceased Rukesh Kumar who was driving Truck No. MP 07 HB-0149 contributed 20% to the accident while the negligence of the other truck driver was of 80%. Further, Tribunal while deciding issue no. 6 of the impugned judgment awarded compensation of Rs.5,26,400/- on the basis that income of deceased, Rukesh Kumar was Rs.4,500/- per month and after deducting 1/3 towards personal expenses and applying the multiplier of 18, as deceased was aged about 28 years awarded Rs.6,48,000/-. Further, Rs.5,000/- was awarded towards as loss of consortium, Rs.2,500/- as funeral expenses and Rs.2,500/- towards loss of estate. The total amount comes to Rs.6,58,000/-. Out of which 20% amount was deducted being contributory negligence of the deceased thus, the total amount awarded came to Rs.5,26,400/-.

4. Sri S.D. Ojha, learned counsel appearing for the claimants-appellants submitted that the court below had wrongly deducted 1/3 towards personal expenses from income of the deceased and placed reliance upon the paragraph 14 of the judgment in case of Smt. Sarla Verma and others vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and another 2009 (2) T.A.C. 677 (S.C.), in which the Hon'ble Apex Court had held deductions should be 1/4th towards personal and living expenses of deceased in case where there are 4 to 6 dependants in the family. In the present case, as the deceased is survived by his wife, three minor children along with his parents, thus, the total number of dependants left by him are six and as there are three minors, they will be counted as 1/2 unit. Thus, only 1/4th of the amount should have been deducted towards his personal and living expenses in view of the judgment rendered by Apex Court in Smt. Sarla Verma (supra).

5. He further submitted that the Tribunal had not considered future prospects and law laid down in case of National Insurance Company Ltd. vs. Pranay Sethi and others 2017 (4) T.A.C.

673 (S.C.) that claimants are entitled for 40% addition to the total income of the deceased toward future prospects. Lastly, it was contended that the amount awarded under the heads of loss of estate, loss of consortium and funeral expenses was not kept in line with the judgment of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi.

6. We have heard learned counsel for the claimant-appellants and perused the material on record.

7. It is not in dispute that alleged incident took on 24.10.2012 wherein the driver of Truck No. MP 07 HB-0149, Rukesh Kumar succumbed to his injuries leaving behind the claimants-appellants as his legal heirs. The Tribunal further recorded in the finding that age of the deceased was 28 years, while calculating the award deducted 1/3 amount towards his personal expenses without calculating the number of dependants of the deceased.

8. In Sarla Verma (supra), the Apex Court had held that where number of dependants in the family were 4 to 6 then 1/4th amount was to be deducted towards personal expenses. In the present case, the deceased Rukesh Kumar had left behind his wife Mamta, his three minor children and his parents. The total number of dependants as per the judgment of the Apex Court in Smt. Sarala Verma (supra) comes to 3.5 unit excluding the father of the deceased thus, in our view, the Tribunal committed error by deducting 1/3rd amount towards personal expenses of the deceased, as it should have deducted 1/4th amount from income of the deceased while calculating the amount of compensation.

9. Secondly, the Tribunal failed to award any compensation towrads future prospects by adding 40% of the established income where the deceased was below 40 years as held in the case of Pranay Sethi (supra). The third objection was in relation to loss of estate, loss of consortium and funeral expenses which should have been awarded at the rate of Rs.15,000/-, Rs.40,000/- and Rs.15,000/- respectively as held by Apex Court in case of Pranay Sethi (supra).

10. We accordingly proceed to recalculate the compensation in the light of the aforesaid principles. As noted above, the actual salary of the deceased was Rs. 4,500/- per month or Rs. 54,000/- p.a. By adding 40% towards future prospects as the deceased was below 40 years, the deemed gross income of the deceased would be Rs. 4,500/- + 40% of Rs. 4,500/- = Rs. 6,300/- per month or Rs. 75,600/- p.a. After deducting 1/4th amount (i.e. 6300 - 1575) towards the living and personal expenses of the deceased, his contribution to the family is determined as Rs. 4,725/- per month or Rs. 56,700/- p.a. By applying the multiplier of 18, the total loss of dependency is assessed at Rs. 10,20,600/-. We further award a sum of Rs. 15,000/- towards funeral expenses, Rs. 40,000/- under the head of loss of consortium and Rs. 15,000/- towards loss of estate. We accordingly increase the compensation awarded to the claimants/appellants by the Tribunal from Rs. 5,26,400/- to Rs. 10,90,600/-. The claimants/appellants shall further be entitled to interest @ 7% p.a. on the increased amount of compensation from the date of filing of the claim petition till the actual payment is made. The appeal is allowed in part.

11. The impugned judgment and award stands modified to the extent indicated hereinabove.

12. The parties shall bear their respective costs.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajeev Misra, J.)

1. Challenge in this appeal under section 19 of Family Courts Act, 1984 (hereinafter referred to as 'Act, 1984') preferred by defendant respondent is to the judgement dated 30.11.2016 and decree dated 3.12.2016, passed by Kamlesh Dubey, Principal Judge, Family Court, Hapur, whereby Suit No. 468 of 2018 (Ravindra Singh Vs. Seema @ Aarju) filed by plaintiff-respondent for divorce has been decreed.

2. We have heard Ms. Pragya Pandey, learned counsel for defendant-appellant (hereinafter referred to as 'appellant') and Mr. Hari Manish Bahadur Sinha for plaintiff-respondent (hereinafter referred to as respondent.

3. Respondent filed Original Suit No. 468 of 2013 (Ravindra Singh Vs. Seema @ Aarju) in the Court of Civil Judge (Senior Division) Hapur for a decree of divorce vide plaint dated 1.8.2013. According to plaint allegations, case of plaintiff in brief was that marriage of appellant and respondent was solemnized on 29.6.2012 in accordance with Hindu Rites and Customs without any dowry. Respondent in discharge of his obligation as husband provided every comfort to appellant; however, inspite of aforesaid, appellant was neither satisfied nor happy; Appellant is of an agitated mind and demanding in nature; Appellant is physically assaulted respondent and his mother; On account of her charged character, appellant extended threat to respondent of getting him killed; Appellant is having relationship with another person as she holds talk with him for long hours on telephone; Family of respondent complained to family members of appellant regarding her aforesaid character but in vain; appellant and his family members have committed 'mental cruelty' upon respondent; there is a serious threat to his life in company of appellant, as he can be murdered on any day; and on 4.7.2013, appellant left house of respondent along with Gold and Silver Jewellery, expensive clothes and Rs.10,000/- cash, without taking permission of respondent. On the aforesaid basis, respondent is alleged to have requested appellant to seek divorce which ultimately, she refused on 26.7.2013. The suit for divorce was filed by respondent on the ground of 'cruelty' which is a ground recognized for divorce, under section 13 (1) (ia) of Act 1955.

4. Suit filed by plaintiff was contested by appellant by filing a written statement. Appellant in her written statement, not only denied plaint allegations but also raised additional pleas. Appellant denied allegations of 'cruelty' levelled against her in plaint. Appellant pleaded that respondent is working in Excise Department, Hapur and drawing salary of Rs. 35,000/- per month; Respondent was having illicit relationship with his Bhabi namely, Monika @ Guddu and was caught by appellant in compromising position, for which respondent felt sorry; To save marriage, appellant excused plaintiff for the aforesaid act of adultery but again on 13.3.2013, plaintiff was seen in compromising position with his Bhabi, upon which hue and cry was raised and Police was informed on Phone No. 100; on 27.4.2013 criminality was committed upon her by her Jeth Indrajeet, which is punishable under section 376 IPC; as no F.I.R. was lodged as Indrajeet is working in Police Department, an application under section 156 (3) was filed before the concerned Magistrate which is pending; Appellant agreed to return to her matrimonial home on conditions that plaintiff will not talk to his Bhabi and Indrajeet will never visit her house; On 10.8.2013 appellant returned to her matrimonial home along with her bhabi as she was in advanced family way; however, on 21.8.2013, family members of plaintiff as well as plaintiff assaulted appellant and her Bhabi for which complaint was made at Police Station- Babughad and appellant and her Bhabi were medically examined. It was thus prayed that divorce suit has been filed with an oblique motive and on non existent grounds. As such, divorce suit is liable to be dismissed.

5. On the pleadings of parties, Trial Court framed following issue for determination:

(I) Whether in view of grounds raised in plaint, marriage of parties solemnized on 29.6.2012, is liable to be disolved.

6. After issue was framed, parties went to trial. Respondent (plaintiff) in order to prove his case, filed documentary evidence which included complaint pertaining to Complaint Case No. 65 of 2014 (Rakesh Vs. Ravindra) under sections 498 A, 452, 323, 504 IPC and section ¾ Dowry Prohibition Act, summoning order dated 21.3.2014 passed in above mentioned complaint case and also copy of charge-sheet submitted in Case Crime No. 48 of 2014, under Sections 323, 325, 504 IPC. Respondent (plaintiff), besides himself, further adduced P.W. 2 Mahendri and , P.W. 3 Monika to prove his case. s

7. Appellant in order to establish her defence, Court below, also filed documentary evidence. She filed copy of letter dated 24.9.2013, addressed to Superintendent of Police, Hapur, Certified copy of application filed by appellant before Chief Judicial Magistrate, Ghaziabad, under section 156 (3) Cr.P.C, Certified copy of summoning order dated 24.9.2016 passed in Complaint Case No. 3474 of 2015 (Seema Vs. Indrajeet) under sections 452 and 376 IPC. Defendant adduced herself as D.W.1 and Rajendri Devi as D.W.2 to prove her case.

8. Upon appreciation of pleadings of parties and evaluation of oral and documentary evidence on record, Court below concluded that commission of 'cruelty' upon plaintiff by appellant is established and therefore, decreed suit for divorce filed by plaintiff on the ground of 'cruelty' vide judgement dated 30.11.2016 and decree dated 3.12.2016.

9. Perusal of judgement passed by Court below goes to show that Court below concluded that various allegations of cruelty levelled by plaintiff in the plaint against appellant, when considered cumulatively, constitute commission of 'cruelty'. To arrive at aforesaid conclusion, Court below has referred to Srikant Ram Sajiwan Vs. Saroj, 2001 (2) DMC 295; Kusum Lata Vs. Kamta Prasad, AIR 1965 All 280; Narayan Ganesh Dastane Vs. Smt. Sucheta Narayan Dastane, AIR 1970 Bombay 812; Abha Agarwal Vs. Sunil Agarwal, AIR 2000 All (77); Hanumantha Rao Vs. Shamani, AIR 1990 SC 1318; Mukesh Vs. Chanchal, 2006 Legal (LE) Delhi 957.

10. Feeling aggrieved by aforesaid judgement and decree passed by Court below, appellant has now come to this Court by means of present first appeal under section 19 of Act 1984.

11. Ms. Pragya Pandey, learned counsel for appellant, in support of her challenge to impugned judgement and decree submits that plaintiff has not pleaded any specific instance of 'cruelty', but has only made general allegations of 'cruelty' in the plaint; law on the subject is now crystallized and suit for divorce on ground of 'cruelty' can succeed only when specific instances of 'cruelty' are pleaded and proved by plaintiff; single instance of cruelty by itself is insufficient to constitute 'cruelty' vide Neelam Kumar Vs. Daya Rani, 2010 (13) SCC 298 and Vishwanath Vs. Prakash Chand, AIR 1992 ALL 261.

12. Elaborating her arguments, she invited attention of Court to plaint of Original Suit No. 468 of 2013 (Ravindra Singh Vs. Seema @ Aarju) which is part of paper book, to contend that plaint presented by plaintiff is vague and ambiguous. Allegations giving specific instances of cruelty are conspicuous by their absence.

13. We find force in the argument raised by learned counsel for appellant. Accordingly, we confronted Mr. H.M.B.

Sinha, lerned counsel for plaintiff to explain aforesaid anomaly. He tried to support impugned judgement on the strength of findings recorded therein as well as observations made by Court below in the impugned judgement. It was strenuously urged by learned counsel Sri Sinha that allegations of cruelty, made in the plaint where considered cumulatively, they have the effect of constituting cruelty upon plaintiff. Therefore, no illegality was committed by Court below in decreeing suit for divorce filed by plaintiff. To lend support to his submissions, reliance is placed upon Samar Ghosh Vs. Jaya Ghosh 2007 (4) SCC 511; Navin Kohli Vs. Nilu Kohli, 2006 (4) SCC 558 and a Division Bench judgement of this Court in Anil Kumar Jain Vs. Smt. Kalpana Jain 2019 (8) ADJ 1. We shall refer to them in later part of this judgement.

14. Having heard learned counsel for parties and upon consideration of material on record, in our considered opinion, sole point of determination, arise in this appeal, is as under:

"Whether plaintiff has duly pleaded and proved commission of cruelty upon him by defendant and finding recorded by Court below on the issue of cruelty is unsustainable in law."

15. Before proceeding to examine the issue involved in the present appeal, it would be appropriate to reproduce section 13 of Act, 1955 which provides for grounds of divorce.

"" 13 Divorce. --(1) Any marriage solemnized, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, may, on a petition presented by either the husband or the wife, be dissolved by a decree of divorce on the ground that the other party--

16. The term 'cruelty' has not been defined in Act of 1956 and therefore, same has been subject matter of debate for long. Different Courts in India have tried to explain meaning of the term 'cruelty' and also crystallize actions which can constitute 'cruelty'. In doing so varied aspects of human nature in the changing vicissitudes of time have been taken into consideration.

17. A Division Bench of this Court in Smt. Sarita Devi Vs. Sri Ashok Kumar Singh reported in 2018 (3) AWC 2328 has considered the concept of 'cruelty' in detail by referring to the meaning assigned to the term in different dictionaries and text. Following has been observed in paragraphs 16, 17, 18 and 19:-

"16. In Samar Ghosh vs. Jaya Ghosh (2007) 4 SCC 511 Court considered the concept of cruelty and referring to Oxford Dictionary defines 'cruelty' as 'the quality of being cruel; disposition of inflicting suffering; delight in or indifference to another's pain; mercilessness; hard-heartedness'.

17. In Black's Law Dictionary, 8th Edition, 2004, term "mental cruelty" has been defined as, "a ground for divorce, one spouse's course of conduct (not involving actual violence) that creates such anguish that it endangers the life, physical health, or mental health of the other spouse."

18. The concept of cruelty has been summarized in Halsbury's Laws of England, Vol.13, 4th Edition Para 1269, as under:

"The general rule in all cases of cruelty is that the entire matrimonial relationship must be considered, and that rule is of special value when the cruelty consists not of violent acts but of injurious reproaches, complaints, accusations or taunts. In cases where no violence is averred, it is undesirable to consider judicial pronouncements with a view to creating certain categories of acts or conduct as having or lacking the nature or quality which renders them capable or incapable in all circumstances of amounting to cruelty; for it is the effect of the conduct rather than its nature which is of paramount importance in assessing a complaint of cruelty. Whether one spouse has been guilty of cruelty to the other is essentially a question of fact and previously decided cases have little, if any, value. The court should bear in mind the physical and mental condition of the parties as well as their social status, and should consider the impact of the personality and conduct of one spouse on the mind of the other, weighing all incidents and quarrels between the spouses from that point of view; further, the conduct alleged must be examined in the light of the complainant's capacity for endurance and the extent to which that capacity is known to the other spouse. Malevolent intention is not essential to cruelty but it is an important element where it exits."

19. In 24 American Jurisprudence 2d, the term "mental cruelty" has been defined as under:

"Mental Cruelty as a course of unprovoked conduct toward one's spouse which causes embarrassment, humiliation, and anguish so as to render the spouse's life miserable and unendurable. Plaintiff must show a course of conduct on the part of Defendant which so endangers the physical or mental health of Plaintiff as to render continued cohabitation unsafe or improper, although Plaintiff need not establish actual instances of physical abuse. "

18. In Vishwanath Sitram Agarwal Vs. San. Sarle Vishwanath Agarwal, 2012 (7) SCC 288, Court considered various earlier decisions with regard to meaning of term 'cruelty'. Their Lordships observed as follows in paragraphs 22 to 32:-

22.The expression "cruelty" has an inseparable nexus with human conduct or human behaviour. It is always dependent upon the social strata or the milieu to which the parties belong, their ways of life, relationship, temperaments and emotions that have been conditioned by their social status.

23. In Sirajmohmedkhan Janmohamadkhan v. Hafizunnisa

Yasinkhan [(1981) 4 SCC 250 : 1981 SCC (Cri) 829] , a two-Judge Bench approved the concept of legal cruelty as expounded inPancho v. Ram Prasad [AIR 1956 All 41] wherein it was stated thus: (Pancho case [AIR 1956 All 41] , AIR p. 43, para 3)

"3. ... Conception of legal cruelty undergoes changes according to the changes and advancement of social concept and standards of living. With the advancement of our social conceptions, this feature has obtained legislative recognition that a second marriage is a sufficient ground for separate residence and separate maintenance. Moreover, to establish legal cruelty, it is not necessary that physical violence should be used.

Continuous ill-treatment, cessation of marital intercourse, studied neglect, indifference on the part of the husband, and an assertion on the part of the husband that the wife is unchaste are all factors which may undermine the health of a wife."

It is apt to note here that the said observations were made while dealing with the Hindu Married Women's Right to Separate Residence and Maintenance Act (19 of 1946). This Court, after reproducing the passage, has observed that the learned Judge has put his finger on the correct aspect and object of mental cruelty.

24. In Shobha Rani v. Madhukar Reddi [(1988) 1 SCC 105 : 1988 SCC (Cri) 60] , while dealing with "cruelty" under Section 13(1)(i-a) of the Act, this Court observed that the said provision does not define "cruelty" and the same could not be defined. "Cruelty" may be mental or physical, intentional or unintentional. If it is physical, the court will have no problem to determine it. It is a question of fact and degree. If it is mental, the problem presents difficulty. Thereafter, the Bench proceeded to state as follows: (SCC p. 108, para 4)

"4. ... First, the enquiry must begin as to the nature of the cruel treatment. Second, the impact of such treatment on the mind of the spouse.

Whether it caused reasonable apprehension that it would be harmful or injurious to live with the other. Ultimately, it is a matter of inference to be drawn by taking into account the nature of the conduct and its effect on the complaining spouse. There may, however, be cases where the conduct complained of itself is bad enough and per se unlawful or illegal. Then the impact or the injurious effect on the other spouse need not be enquired into or considered. In such cases, the cruelty will be established if the conduct itself is proved or admitted."

25. After so stating, this Court observed in Shobha Rani case[(1988) 1 SCC 105 : 1988 SCC (Cri) 60] about the marked change in life in modern times and the sea change in matrimonial duties and responsibilities. It has been observed that: (SCC p. 108, para 5)

"5. ... when a spouse makes a complaint about the treatment of cruelty by the partner in life or relations, the court should not search for standard in life. A set of facts stigmatised as cruelty in one case may not be so in another case. The cruelty alleged may largely depend upon the type of life the parties are accustomed to or their economic and social conditions. It may also depend upon their culture and human values to which they attach importance."

26. Their Lordships in Shobha Rani case [(1988) 1 SCC 105 : 1988 SCC (Cri) 60] referred to the observations made in Sheldon v.Sheldon [1966 P 62 : (1966) 2 WLR 993 : (1966) 2 All ER 257 (CA)] wherein Lord Denning stated, "the categories of cruelty are not closed". Thereafter, the Bench proceeded to state thus: (Shobha Rani case [(1988) 1 SCC 105 : 1988 SCC (Cri) 60] , SCC p. 109, paras 5-6)

"5. ... Each case may be different. We deal with the conduct of human beings who are not generally similar. Among the human beings there is no limit to the kind of conduct which may constitute cruelty. New type of cruelty may crop up in any case depending upon the human behaviour, capacity or incapability to tolerate the conduct complained of. Such is the wonderful (sic) realm of cruelty.

6. These preliminary observations are intended to emphasise that the court in matrimonial cases is not concerned with ideals in family life. The court has only to understand the spouses concerned as nature made them, and consider their particular grievance. As Lord Reid observed in Gollinsv. Gollins [1964 AC 644 : (1963) 3 WLR 176 : (1963) 2 All ER 966 (HL)] : (All ER p. 972 G-H)

7. "... In matrimonial affairs we are not dealing with objective standards, it is not a matrimonial offence to fall below the standard of the reasonable man (or the reasonable woman). We are dealing with this man or this woman.'"

8. (emphasis in original)

9. 27. In V. Bhagat v. D. Bhagat [(1994) 1 SCC 337] , a two-Judge Bench referred to the amendment that had taken place in Sections 10 and 13(1)(i-a) after the (Hindu) Marriage Laws (Amendment) Act, 1976 and proceeded to hold that the earlier requirement that such cruelty has caused a reasonable apprehension in the mind of a spouse that it would be harmful or injurious for him/her to live with the other one is no longer the requirement. Thereafter, this Court proceeded to deal with what constitutes mental cruelty as contemplated in Section 13(1)(i-a) and observed that mental cruelty in the said provision can broadly be defined as that conduct which inflicts upon the other party such mental pain and suffering as would make it not possible for that party to live with the other. To put it differently, mental cruelty must be of such a nature that the parties cannot reasonably be expected to live together. The situation must be such that the wronged party cannot reasonably be asked to put up with such conduct and continue to live with the other party. It was further observed, while arriving at such conclusion, that regard must be had to the social status, educational level of the parties, the society they move in, the possibility or otherwise of the parties ever living together in case they are already living apart and all other relevant facts and circumstances. What is cruelty in one case may not amount to cruelty in another case and it has to be determined in each case keeping in view the facts and circumstances of that case. That apart, the accusations and allegations have to be scrutinised in the context in which they are made. Be it noted, in the said case, this Court quoted extensively from the allegations made in the written statement and the evidence brought on record and came to hold that the said allegations and counter-allegations were not in the realm of ordinary plea of defence and did amount to mental cruelty.

28. In Parveen Mehta v. Inderjit Mehta [(2002) 5 SCC 706 : AIR 2002 SC 2582] , it has been held that mental cruelty is a state of mind and feeling with one of the spouses due to behaviour or behavioural pattern by the other. Mental cruelty cannot be established by direct evidence and it is necessarily a matter of inference to be drawn from the facts and circumstances of the case. "A feeling of anguish, disappointment and frustration in one spouse caused by the conduct of the other can only be appreciated on assessing the attending facts and circumstances in which the two partners of matrimonial life have been living." (Parveen Mehta case[(2002) 5 SCC 706 : AIR 2002 SC 2582] , SCC p. 716, para 21) The facts and circumstances are to be assessed emerging from the evidence on record and thereafter, a fair inference has to be drawn whether the petitioner in the divorce petition has been subjected to mental cruelty due to the conduct of the other.

29. In Vijaykumar Ramchandra Bhate v. Neela Vijaykumar Bhate [(2003) 6 SCC 334 : AIR 2003 SC 2462] , it has been opined that a conscious and deliberate statement levelled with pungency and that too placed on record, through the written statement, cannot be so lightly ignored or brushed aside.

30. In A. Jayachandra v. Aneel Kaur [(2005) 2 SCC 22] , it has been ruled that the question of mental cruelty has to be considered in the light of the norms of marital ties of the particular society to which the parties belong, their social values, status and environment in which they live. If from the conduct of the spouse, it is established and/or an inference can legitimately be drawn that the treatment of the spouse is such that it causes an apprehension in the mind of the other spouse about his or her mental welfare, then the same would amount to cruelty. While dealing with the concept of mental cruelty, enquiry must begin as to the nature of cruel treatment and the impact of such treatment on the mind of the spouse. It has to be seen whether the conduct is such that no reasonable person would tolerate it.

31. In Vinita Saxena v. Pankaj Pandit [(2006) 3 SCC 778] , it has been ruled that as to what constitutes mental cruelty for the purposes of Section 13(1)(i-a) will not depend upon the numerical count of such incident or only on the continuous course of such conduct but one has to really go by the intensity, gravity and stigmatic impact of it when meted out even once and the deleterious effect of it on the mental attitude necessary for maintaining a conducive matrimonial home.

32. In Samar Ghosh v. Jaya Ghosh [(2007) 4 SCC 511] , this Court, after surveying the previous decisions and referring to the concept of cruelty, which includes mental cruelty, in English, American, Canadian and Australian cases, has observed that: (SCC pp. 545-46, paras 99-100)

"99. ... The human mind is extremely complex and human behaviour is equally complicated. Similarly human ingenuity has no bound, therefore, to assimilate the entire human behaviour in one definition is almost impossible. What is cruelty in one case may not amount to cruelty in the other case. The concept of cruelty differs from person to person depending upon his upbringing, level of sensitivity, educational, family and cultural background, financial position, social status, customs, traditions, religious beliefs, human values and their value system.

100. Apart from this, the concept of mental cruelty cannot remain static; it is bound to change with the passage of time, impact of modern culture through print and electronic media and value system, etc. etc. What may be mental cruelty now may not remain a mental cruelty after a passage of time or vice versa. There can never be any straitjacket formula or fixed parameters for determining mental cruelty in matrimonial matters. The prudent and appropriate way to adjudicate the case would be to evaluate it on its peculiar facts and circumstances...."

19. In Ravi Kumar Vs. Julmi Devi 2010 (4) SCC 476, following was observed in paragraphs 19 to 22:-

19.It may be true that there is no definition of cruelty under the said Act. Actually such a definition is not possible. In matrimonial relationship, cruelty would obviously mean absence of mutual respect and understanding between the spouses which embitters the relationship and often leads to various outbursts of behaviour which can be termed as cruelty. Sometime cruelty in a matrimonial relationship may take the form of violence, sometime it may take a different form. At times, it may be just an attitude or an approach. Silence in some situations may amount to cruelty.

20. Therefore, cruelty in matrimonial behaviour defies any definition and its categories can never be closed. Whether the husband is cruel to his wife or the wife is cruel to her husband has to be ascertained and judged by taking into account the entire facts and circumstances of the given case and not by any predetermined rigid formula. Cruelty in matrimonial cases can be of infinite variety--it may be subtle or even brutal and may be by gestures and words. That possibly explains why Lord Denning in Sheldon v.Sheldon [(1966) 2 WLR 993 : (1966) 2 All ER 257 (CA)] held that categories of cruelty in matrimonial cases are never closed.

21.This Court is reminded of what was said by Lord Reid inGollins v. Gollins[1964 AC 644 : (1963) 3 WLR 176 : (1963) 2 All ER 966 (HL)] about judging cruelty in matrimonial cases. The pertinent observations are: (AC p. 660)

"... In matrimonial cases we are not concerned with the reasonable man as we are in cases of negligence. We are dealing with this man and this woman and the fewer a priori assumptions we make about them the better. In cruelty cases one can hardly ever even start with a presumption that the parties are reasonable people, because it is hard to imagine any cruelty case ever arising if both the spouses think and behave as reasonable people."

The aforesaid passage was quoted with approval by this Court inN.G. Dastane (Dr.) v. S. Dastane [(1975) 2 SCC 326] .

22. About the changing perception of cruelty in matrimonial cases, this Court observed in Shobha Rani v. Madhukar Reddi[(1988) 1 SCC 105 : 1988 SCC (Cri) 60 : AIR 1988 SC 121] at AIR p. 123, para 5 of the report: (SCC p. 108, para 5)

"5. It will be necessary to bear in mind that there has been [a] marked change in the life around us. In matrimonial duties and responsibilities in particular, we find a sea change. They are of varying degrees from house to house or person to person. Therefore, when a spouse makes complaint about the treatment of cruelty by the partner in life or relations, the court should not search for standard in life. A set of facts stigmatised as cruelty in one case may not be so in another case. The cruelty alleged may largely depend upon the type of life the parties are accustomed to or their economic and social conditions. It may also depend upon their culture and human values to which they attach importance. We, the Judges and lawyers, therefore, should not import our own notions of life. We may not go in parallel with them. There may be a generation gap between us and the parties."

20. Reference in this regard may be made to the judgement in K. Srinivas Rao Vs. D. A. Deepa, 2013 (5) SCC 226 wherein following has been observed in paragraphs 10 and16:

"10. Under Section 13(1)(i-a) of the Hindu Marriage Act, 1955, a marriage can be dissolved by a decree of divorce on a petition presented either by the husband or the wife on the ground that the other party has, after solemnisation of the marriage, treated the petitioner with cruelty. In a series of judgments this Court has repeatedly stated the meaning and outlined the scope of the term "cruelty". Cruelty is evident where one spouse has so treated the other and manifested such feelings towards her or him as to cause in her or his mind reasonable apprehension that it will be harmful or injurious to live with the other spouse. Cruelty may be physical or mental.

16.Thus, to the instances illustrative of mental cruelty noted inSamar Ghosh[(2007) 4 SCC 511] , we could add a few more. Making unfounded indecent defamatory allegations against the spouse or his or her relatives in the pleadings, filing of complaints or issuing notices or news items which may have adverse impact on the business prospect or the job of the spouse and filing repeated false complaints and cases in the court against the spouse would, in the facts of a case, amount to causing mental cruelty to the other spouse."

21. When case in hand is examined in the light of law relating to pleadings in a suit for divorce filed on the ground of 'cruelty', as contemplated under section 13 (1) (ia) of Act 1955 and also as per law laid down by Apex Court and meaning assigned to the term 'cruelty', the inevitable conclusion is that plaintiff failed to plead and prove specific instances of 'cruelty' for decree of divorce prayed by him. When plaint of divorce suit filed by plaintiff is examined in light of law as noted above, this Court finds that plaintiff has miserably failed to plead and prove specific instances of 'cruelty'. Vague and general allegations devoid of material facts regarding commission of cruelty by appellant have been levelled in the plaint. Absence of material facts regarding allegations of 'cruelty' is an half hearted attempt to seek divorce. Absence of material particulars in support of allegations made in the plaint renders the case of plaintiff doubtful. Further once material facts in support of allegations of cruelty alleged in the plaint are absent, no amount of evidence could be looked into to support facts not pleaded. A Division Bench of this Court in Anil Kumar (Supra) has held that vague and general allegations, by themselves are insufficient to constitute 'cruelty'. Even otherwise, when allegations made in plaint are considered cumulatively also, it cannot be said that there has been continuous ill treatment, cessation of marital intercourse, studied neglect or indifference which may lead to inference of 'cruelty'. Reference in this regard be made to Manish Tyagi Vs. Deepak Kumar, 2010 (4) SCC 339, wherein Court has observed in paragraph 27 as under:

"27.The classic example of the definition of cruelty in the pre-1976 era is given in the well-known decision of this Court in N.G. Dastane (Dr.) v. S. Dastane [(1975) 2 SCC 326] , wherein it is observed as follows: (SCC p. 337, para 30)

"30. ... The enquiry therefore has to be whether the conduct charged as cruelty is of such a character as to cause in the mind of the petitioner a reasonable apprehension that it will be harmful or injurious for him to live with the respondent."

This is no longer the required standard. Now it would be sufficient to show that the conduct of one of the spouses is so abnormal and below the accepted norm that the other spouse could not reasonably be expected to put up with it. The conduct is no longer required to be so atrociously abominable which would cause a reasonable apprehension that it would be harmful or injurious to continue the cohabitation with the other spouse. Therefore to establish cruelty it is not necessary that physical violence should be used. However, continued ill-treatment, cessation of marital intercourse, studied neglect, indifference of one spouse to the other may lead to an inference of cruelty. However, in this case even with aforesaid standard both the trial court and the appellate court had accepted that the conduct of the wife did not amount to cruelty of such a nature to enable the husband to obtain a decree of divorce."

22. Consequently, view taken by Court below that when various allegations of 'cruelty' made by plaintiff are taken up together, they cumulatively have the effect of constituting cruelty upon paintiff, is patently erroneous.

23. In view of discussion made herein above, Impugned judgement and decree passed by Court below cannot be sustained. Appeal succeeds and is accordingly allowed. Judgement dated 30.11.2016 and decree dated 3.12.2016, passed by Kamlesh Dubey, Principal Judge, Family Court, Hapur, whereby Suit No. 468 of 2018 (Ravindra Singh Vs. Seema @ Aarju), are hereby set aside. Suit No. 468 of 2018 (Ravindra Sigh Vs. Seema @ Arju) filed by plaintiff for divorce shall stand dismissed. In the facts and circumstances of case, we are of considered view that appellant is also entitled to cost which we quantify at Rs. 1,00,000/-. The same shall be paid by plaintiff to appellant within a period of one month, by furnishing a bank draft in her name before Court below.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajeev Misra, J.)

1. This is defendant's appeal under Section 19 of Family Courts Act 1984 (hereinafter referred to as 'Act, 1984'), arising out of judgment and decree dated 5.9.2016, passed by Principal Judge, Family Court, Azamgarh in Case No. 50 of 2014 (Alok Kumar Singh Vs. Smt. Shalini Singh), whereby aforesaid case filed by plaintiff-respondent for divorce on ground of desertion has been decreed.

2. We have heard Mr. Aditya Singh Parihar, Advocate holding brief of Mr. Rahul Sahai, learned counsel for defendant-appellant (hereinafter referred to as 'appellant') and Mr. Amrendra Nath Rai, learned counsel representing plaintiff-respondent (hereinafter referred to as 'respondent').

3. It transpires from record that marriage of appellant (wife) was solemnized with respondent (husband) on 12.12.2006 in accordance with Hindu Rites and Customs. It is alleged by respondent (husband) that appellant (wife) deserted respondent about one month prior to date of institution of divorce case. For better appreciation, it is useful to reproduce paragraphs 6 and 10 of plaint of Case No. 50 of 2014 (Alok Kumar Singh Vs. Smt. Shalini Singh) :

''6– यह कि अर्सा करीब एक माह पूर्व विपक्षी/प्रतिवादिनी के बड़े भाई हम वादी के घर आये तथा पिताजी से कहे कि खानदान मे ही लड़की की शादी है, शालिनी को विदा कर दीजिये। लड़की की शादी में शिरकत करने हेतु हम वादी के माता–पिता बखुशी व रजामंदी विपक्षी को खुशी–खुशी मय कपड़े जेवरात व नकदी के साथ विदा कर दिये।

10– यह कि वाद कारण दिनांक 15–1–2014 को पैदा हुआ जब कि विपक्षी हम वादी के घर रहने व उपरोक्त अवधि अर्सा करीब 3–4 वर्ष पूर्व से कोहैविट करने व शारीरिक सम्बंध स्थापित करने से इन्कार करने व संयुक्त परिवार के लोगो के साथ दुर्व्यवहार व गाली–गलौज व तोड़फोड़ करने व दाम्पत्य जीवन से गुरेज करने के कारण श्रीमान के न्यायालय के क्षेत्राधिकार के तहत पैदा हुआ और न्यायालय को वाद की सुनवाई का पूर्ण क्षेत्राधिकार है।''

"6. That around one month ago elder brother of the lady respondent/defendant came to our house and requested father to give a send-off to Shalini because a marriage was to be solemnised in their family. We, the parents of the petitioner, gave a sent-off on a happy note and with all pleasure to the respondent alongwith clothes, jewellery and cash for her participation in girl's marriage.

10. That a cause of action arose on 15.1.2014 under the jurisdiction of your goodself's court when respondent refused to reside in the petitioner's house, to cohabit and establish physical relation with the petitioner for the aforesaid period i.e. about 3-4 years, thus refrained from marital life, and also misbehaved with members of our joint family; and this Court has proper jurisdiction to hear the case."(English Translation by Court)

4. Suit filed by respondent was contested by appellant. Accordingly, appellant filed a written statement whereby, most of the allegations made in plaint were denied and additional pleas were also raised. Admitting the factum of marriage respondent and appellant, it was pleaded by appellant that from the aforesaid wedlock, two daughters namely, Vijeta and Pihu were born. The averments made in paragraphs 6 and 10 of plaint, were categorically denied. It was stated that desertion as a ground of divorce has been set up by plaintiff on incorrect facts. There is no factual basis for pleading desertion. It was also stated that respondent and his family members have continuously demanded additional dowry from appellant. In pursuit of their aforesaid demand, appellant has continuously been harassed and treated with cruelty by respondent and his family members. Respondent wants to have a second marriage and therefore, suit for divorce on the ground of desertion has been filed which is liable to be dismissed. Appellant categorically pleaded her readiness and willingness to reside with respondent.

5. On the pleadings of parties as noted above, Court below framed following three issues:

(i) Whether defendant-appellant is residing separately from plaintiff-respondent at her maternal home without any valid reason. If yes, its effect.

(ii) Whether defendant-appellant has deserted plaintiff-respondent without any valid reason, if yes, its effect.

(iii) To what relief is plaintiff-respondent entitled for.

6. After issues were framed, parties went to trial. Respondent in order to prove his case, adduced himself as P.W. 1 and Lok Nath Singh as P.W.2. Further respondent filed two documents in evidence vide list of documents-Paper No. 7 Ga-1 namely, (photocopy of identity card-8 Ga-1) and Paper No. 39 Ga-1 (pay slip for the month of May and June, 2016 Paper No. 40 Ga-1).

7. Appellant in order to establish her defence adduced herself as D.W.1 and one Bhupendra Kumar Singh as D.W.2. In documentary evidence, appellant filed medical certificate dated 21.5.2016 i.e. Paper No. 30 Ga-2.

8. Court below proceeded to decide above mentioned divorce suit by considering pleadings of parties and oral as well as documentary evidence adduced by parties. In respect of Issue No.1, Court below concluded that appellant is residing separately from respondent since last three to four years. Regarding Issue No.2, Court below held that failure on the part of appellant in not residing with respondent, without any sufficient reason, amounts to commission of 'mental cruelty'. Further, respondent has succeeded in proving desertion on the part of defendant-appellant. In view of findings recorded in respect of issue nos. 1 and 2, Court below concluded that respondent is entitled to decree of divorce on the ground of desertion by appellant (wife) without any valid reason. Consequently, Court below by means of judgement and decree dated 5.9.2016, decreed suit of plaintiff-respondent on the ground of 'desertion'. Feeling aggrieved by aforesaid judgement and decree appellant (wife) has approached this Court by means of present First Appeal filed under Section 19 of Act 1984.

9. Mr. Aditya Singh Parihar, learned counsel appearing for appellant submits that impugned judgement and decree passed by Court below is unsustainable in law and fact, Consequently, same are liable to be set aside by this Court. According to learned Counsel, suit for divorce was filed by respondent on the ground of 'desertion' and not on the ground of 'cruelty'. Consequently, Court below, did not frame any issue with regard to commission of 'cruelty' by appellant upon respondent. Since suit was filed on the ground of 'desertion', pre-condition necessary for a decree of divorce on ground of desertion must have been satisfied on the date of filing of suit. The period of desertion subsequent to filing of divorce suit cannot be looked into for calculating mandatory period of two years, which is a pre condition for filing a suit for divorce on the ground of 'desertion'. In the case in hand, suit was filed before expiry of a period of two years of desertion on the part of appellant. As such, essential pre-condition for seeking a decree of divorce on the ground of 'desertion' was not satisfied on the date of institution of suit. Court below by adopting a strange procedure has concluded that mental 'cruelty' was committed by defendant-appellant upon plaintiff-respondent in the years subsequent to filing of suit and therefore, it proved desertion also. Hence, impugned judgement and decree passed by Court below are liable to be set aside by this Court.

10. Mr. Amrendra Nath Rai, learned counsel for respondent has supported impugned judgement and decree on the reasonings recorded by Court below in impugned judgement. He has further relied upon various observations made by Court below and on cumulative basis, he submits that impugned judgement and decree passed by Court below are not liable to be interfered with.

11. Having heard learned counsel for parties at length and in detail we find that only issue which arises for consideration in this appeal is:- "Whether suit for divorce filed by respondent on the ground of 'desertion' was not maintainable, as statutory period of two years desertion by other party had not expired on the date of institution of suit".

12. Before proceeding to consider the issue involved in the present appeal, it would be prudent to reproduce Section 13 of Hindu Marriage Act, 1955 (hereinafter referred to as' Act, 1955') which provides for grounds of divorce:

" 13 Divorce. --(1) Any marriage solemnized, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, may, on a petition presented by either the husband or the wife, be dissolved by a decree of divorce on the ground that the other party--

[(i) has, after the solemnization of the marriage, had voluntary sexual intercourse with any person other than his or her spouse; or

(i-a) has, after the solemnization of the marriage, treated the petitioner with cruelty; or

(i-b) has deserted the petitioner for a continuous period of not less than two years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition; or]

(ii) has ceased to be a Hindu by conversion to another religion; or

[(iii) has been incurably of unsound mind, or has been suffering continuously or intermittently from mental disorder of such a kind and to such an extent that the petitioner cannot reasonably be expected to live with the respondent.

Explanation.--In this clause,--

(a) the expression "mental disorder" means mental illness, arrested or incomplete development of mind, psychopathic disorder or any other disorder or disability of mind and includes schizophrenia;

(b) the expression "psychopathic disorder" means a persistent disorder or disability of mind (whether or not including sub-normality of intelligence) which results in abnormally aggressive or seriously irresponsible conduct on the part of the other party, and whether or not it requires or is susceptible to medical treatment; or]

(iv) has, been suffering from a virulent and incurable form of leprosy; or

(v) has, been suffering from venereal disease in a communicable form; or

(vi) has renounced the world by entering any religious order; or

(vi) has not been heard of as being alive for a period of seven years or more by those persons who would naturally have heard of it, had that party been alive;

Explanation. —In this sub-section, the expression desertion means the desertion of the petitioner by the other party to the marriage without reasonable cause and without the consent or against the wish of such party, and includes the wilful neglect of the petitioner by the other party to the marriage, and its grammatical variations and cognate expressions shall be construed accordingly.

(1-A) Either party to a marriage, whether solemnised before or after the commencement of this Act, may also present a petition for the dissolution of the marriage by a decree of divorce on the ground--

(i) that there has been no resumption of cohabitation as between the parties to the marriage for a period of 22 [one year] or upwards after the passing of a decree for judicial separation in a proceeding to which they were parties; or

(ii) that there has been no restitution of conjugal rights as between the parties to the marriage for a period of 22 [one year] or upwards after the passing of a decree for restitution of conjugal rights in a proceeding to which they were parties.

(2) A wife may also present a petition for the dissolution of her marriage by a decree of divorce on the ground,---

(i) in the case of any marriage solemnised before the commencement of this Act, that the husband had married again before such commencement or that any other wife of the husband married before such commencement was alive at the time of the solemnisation of the marriage of the petitioner: Provided that in either case the other wife is alive at the time of the presentation of the petition; or

(ii) that the husband has, since the solemnisation of the marriage, been guilty of rape, sodomy or [bestiality; or]

[(iii) that in a suit under section 18 of the Hindu Adoptions and Maintenance Act, 1956 (78 of 1956), or in a proceeding under section 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974) [or under the corresponding section 488 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (5 of 1898)], a decree or order, as the case may be, has been passed against the husband awarding maintenance to the wife notwithstanding that she was living apart and that since the passing of such decree or order, cohabitation between the parties has not been resumed for one year or upwards; or

[(iv) that her marriage (whether consummated or not) was solemnised before she attained the age of fifteen years and she has repudiated the marriage after attaining that age but before attaining the age of eighteen years.]

Explanation. --This clause applies whether the marriage was solemnised before or after the commencement of the Marriage Laws (Amendment) Act, 1976 (68 of 1976).]

13. There is a State of U.P. Amendment also but it is not relevant for the present purpose, hence we are not referring it.

14. The term 'desertion' has not been defined in Act, 1955. Section 13 (1) (1b) of Act, 1955 only provides for pre-condition necessary for seeking divorce on ground of desertion. In this regard, reference be made to Adhyatma Bhattar Alwar Vs. Adhyatma Bhattar Sri Devi, 2002 (1) SCC 308, wherein Court has dealt with concept of 'desertion' and observed as follows in paragraphs 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12:

"7. "Desertion" in the context of matrimonial law represents a legal conception. It is difficult to give a comprehensive definition of the term. The essential ingredients of this offence in order that it may furnish a ground for relief are:

1. the factum of separation;

2. the intention to bring cohabitation permanently to an end -- animus deserendi;

3. the element of permanence which is a prime condition requires that both these essential ingredients should continue during the entire statutory period;

The clause lays down the rule that desertion to amount to a matrimonial offence must be for a continuous period of not less than two years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition. This clause has to be read with the Explanation. The Explanation has widened the definition of desertion to include "wilful neglect" of the petitioning spouse by the respondent. It states that to amount to a matrimonial offence desertion must be without reasonable cause and without the consent or against the wish of the petitioner. From the Explanation it is abundantly clear that the legislature intended to give to the expression a wide import which includes wilful neglect of the petitioner by the other party to the marriage. Therefore, for the offence of desertion, so far as the deserting spouse is concerned, two essential conditions must be there, namely, (1) the factum of separation, and (2) the intention to bring cohabitation permanently to an end (animus deserendi). Similarly, two elements are essential so far as the deserted spouse is concerned: (1) the absence of consent, and (2) absence of conduct giving reasonable cause to the spouse leaving the matrimonial home to form the necessary intention aforesaid. The petition for divorce bears the burden of proving those elements in the two spouses respectively and their continuance throughout the statutory period.

8. This Court in the case of Bipin Chander Jaisinghbhai Shah v.Prabhawati [1956 SCR 838 : AIR 1957 SC 176] observed: (AIR pp. 183-84 & 190-91, paras 10 & 21)

"Thus the quality of permanence is one of the essential elements which differentiates desertion from wilful separation. If a spouse abandons the other spouse in a state of temporary passion, for example, anger or disgust, without intending permanently to cease cohabitation, it will not amount to desertion. For the offence of desertion, so far as the deserting spouse is concerned, two essential conditions must be there, namely, (1) the factum of separation, and (2) the intention to bring cohabitation permanently to an end (animus deserendi). Similarly two elements are essential so far as the deserted spouse is concerned: (1) the absence of consent, and (2) absence of conduct giving reasonable cause to the spouse leaving the matrimonial home to form the necessary intention aforesaid. The petitioner for divorce bears the burden of proving those elements in the two spouses respectively. Here a difference between the English law and the law as enacted by the Bombay Legislature may be pointed out. Whereas under the English law those essential conditions must continue throughout the course of the three years immediately preceding the institution of the suit for divorce, under the Act, the period is four years without specifying that it should immediately precede the commencement of proceedings for divorce. Whether the omission of the last clause has any practical result need not detain us, as it does not call for decision in the present case.Desertion is a matter of inference to be drawn from the facts and circumstances of each case. The inference may be drawn from certain facts which may not in another case be capable of leading to the same inference; that is to say, the facts have to be viewed as to the purpose which is revealed by those acts or by conduct and expression of intention, both anterior and subsequent to the actual acts of separation. If, in fact, there has been a separation, the essential question always is whether that act could be attributable to an animus deserendi. The offence of desertion commences when the fact of separation and the animus deserendi coexist. But it is not necessary that they should commence at the same time. The de facto separation may have commenced without the necessary animus or it may be that the separation and the animus deserendi coincide in point of time; for example, when the separating spouse abandons the marital home with the intention, express or implied, of bringing cohabitation permanently to a close. The law in England has prescribed a three years' period and the Bombay Act prescribed a period of four years as a continuous period during which the two elements must subsist. Hence, if a deserting spouse takes advantage of the locus poenitentiae thus provided by law and decides to come back to the deserted spouse by a bona fide offer of resuming the matrimonial home with all the implications of marital life, before the statutory period is out or even after the lapse of that period, unless proceedings for divorce have been commenced, desertion comes to an end and if the deserted spouse unreasonably refuses to offer, the latter may be in desertion and not the former. Hence it is necessary that during all the period that there has been a desertion, the deserted spouse must affirm the marriage and be ready and willing to resume married life on such conditions as may be reasonable. It is also well settled that in proceedings for divorce the plaintiff must prove the offence of desertion, like and other matrimonial offence, beyond all reasonable doubt. Hence, though corroboration is not required as an absolute rule of law the courts insist upon corroborative evidence, unless its absence is accounted for to the satisfaction of the court.

But it is not necessary that at the time the wife left her husband's home she should have at the same time the animus deserendi. Let us therefore examine the question whether the defendant in this case, even if she had no such intention at the time she left Bombay, subsequently decided to put an end to the matrimonial tie. This is in consonance with the latest pronouncement of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in the case of Lang v. Lang [1955 AC 402 : (1954) 3 All ER 571 : (1954) 3 WLR 762 (PC)] AC at p. 417(F) in an appeal from the decision of the High Court of Australia, to the following effect:

"Both in England and in Australia, to establish desertion two things must be proved: first, certain outward and visible conduct -- the "factum' of desertion; secondly, the "animus deserendi' -- the intention underlying this conduct to bring the matrimonial union to an end.

In ordinary desertion the factum is simple; it is the act of the absconding party in leaving the matrimonial home. The contest in such a case will be almost entirely as to the "animus'. Was the intention of the party leaving the home to break it up for good, or something short of, or different from that?' "

(emphasis supplied)

9. In the case of Lachman Utamchand Kirpalani v. Meena [AIR 1964 SC 40 : (1964) 4 SCR 331] a Constitution Bench of this Court, considering the case of judicial separation on the ground of desertion without just cause, held on facts that the respondent (wife) left the appellant's matrimonial home on 26-2-1954 with the intention of permanently breaking it up, and that such desertion continued during the requisite period of two years and that the appellant's letter of 1-4-1955, did not constitute an interruption of the respondent's desertion by its being a just cause for her to remain away from the matrimonial home; and that, in consequence, the appellant was entitled to a decree for judicial separation under Section 10(1)(a) of the Hindu Marriage Act, 1955. It was observed that: (AIR p. 52, para 28)

"An offer to return to the matrimonial home after some time, though desertion had started, if genuine and sincere and represented his or her true feelings and intention, would bring to an end the desertion because thereafter the animus deserendiwould be lacking, though the factum of separation might continue; but on the other hand, if the offer was not sincere and there was in reality no intention to return, the mere fact that letters were written expressing such an intention would not interrupt the desertion from continuing."

In this connection, reference was also made to the decision in the case of Bipin Chander Jaisinghbhai Shah v. Prabhawati [1956 SCR 838 : AIR 1957 SC 176] .

10. This Court in the case of Rohini Kumari v. Narendra Singh[(1972) 1 SCC 1 : 1972 SCC (Cri) 1] while considering the case of judicial separation on the ground of desertion under Section 10(1)(a) of the Act read with the Explanation, held: (SCC pp. 3-4, paras 4-5)

"The two elements present on the side of the deserted spouse should be absence of consent and absence of conduct reasonably causing the deserting spouse to form his or her intention to bring cohabitation to an end. The requirement that the deserting spouse must intend to bring cohabitation to an end must be understood to be subject to the qualification that if without just cause or excuse a man persists in doing things which he knows his wife probably will not tolerate and which no ordinary woman would tolerate and then she leaves, he has deserted her whatever his desire or intention may have been. The doctrine of "constructive desertion' is discussed at p. 229. It is stated that desertion is not to be tested by merely ascertaining which party left the matrimonial home first. If one spouse is forced by the conduct of the other to leave home it may be that the spouse responsible for the driving out is guilty of desertion. There is no substantial difference between the case of a man who intends to cease cohabitation and leaves the wife and the case of a man who with the same intention compels his wife by his conduct to leave him.

In Lachman Utamchand Kirpalani v. Meena [AIR 1964 SC 40 : (1964) 4 SCR 331] this Court had occasion to consider the true meaning and ambit of Section 10(1)(a) of the Act read with the Explanation. Reference was made in the majority judgment to the earlier decision in Bipin Chander Jaisinghbhai Shah v.Prabhawati [1956 SCR 838 : AIR 1957 SC 176] in which all the English decisions as also the statement contained in authoritative textbooks were considered. After referring to the two essential conditions, namely, the factum of physical separation and the animus deserendi which meant the intention to bring the cohabitation permanently to an end as also the two elements so far as the deserted spouse was concerned i.e. (1) the absence of consent and (2) absence of conduct giving reasonable cause to the spouse leaving the matrimonial home to form the intention aforesaid, it was observed while examining how desertion might come to an end:

"In the first place, there must be conduct on the part of the deserted spouse which affords just and reasonable cause for the deserting spouse not to seek reconciliation and which absolves her from her continuing obligation to return to the matrimonial home. In this one has to have regard to the conduct of the deserted spouse. But there is one other matter which is also of equal importance, that is, that the conduct of the deserted spouse should have had such an impact on the mind of the deserting spouse that in fact it causes her to continue to live apart and thus continue the desertion. But where, however, on the facts it is clear that the conduct of the deserted spouse has had no such effect on the mind of the deserting spouse there is no rule of law that desertion terminates by reason of the conduct of the deserted spouse.' "

11. This Court in the case of Sanat Kumar Agarwal v. Nandini Agarwal [(1990) 1 SCC 475] considering a case under Section 13(1)(ib) of the Act, held that it is well settled that the question of desertion is a matter of inference to be drawn from the facts and circumstances of each case and those facts have to be viewed as to the purpose which is revealed by those facts or by conduct and expression of intention, both anterior and subsequent to the actual act of separation.

This extract is taken from Adhyatma Bhattar Alwar v. Adhyatma Bhattar Sri Devi, (2002) 1 SCC 308 at page 317

12. In a recent case in Chetan Dass v. Kamla Devi [(2001) 4 SCC 250] this Court considered the question whether the offer made by the husband in this Court to keep his wife, was held to be not sincere and did not deserve to be seriously considered. In that connection, this Court held: (SCC p. 258, para 12)

"12. During the course of the arguments, learned counsel for the appellant, so as to show the allegations made against the appellant about having illegitimate relationship with Sosamma Thomas (sic), submitted that the appellant is still prepared to keep the respondent Kamla Devi with him. According to him, the appellant never refused to live with her. In reply, learned counsel for the respondent submitted that the respondent was also prepared to live with the appellant provided that he discontinued his relationship with Sosamma Thomas. The hollowness of the submission that the appellant was still prepared to keep the respondent with him is quite apparent. It is on record that it was on the same undertaking that the respondent was taken to Ganganagar by the appellant to live with him but there she was subjected to humiliating treatment meted out to her by the appellant himself having his food only in the room of Sosamma Thomas and staying there during the night leaving his wife and sister alone on the ground floor. With this kind of attitude, the offer as made on behalf of the appellant is too shallow to deserve any serious thought. At the same time, the condition on which the respondent is prepared to live with him seems to be quite justified, that is to say, she is still prepared to live with him provided he behaves and snaps his relationship with the other woman. It is apparent that it is the own conduct of the appellant which led the respondent to live separate from the appellant. None else, but the appellant alone, is to be blamed for such an unhappy and unfortunate situation. The findings of facts, as recorded by the two courts below, do not deserve to be disturbed in any manner nor have they been seriously assailed before us." (Emphasis added)

15. This Court now has to examine the claim of respondent as per mandate of section 13 (1)(ib) of Act 1955 and meaning assigned to the term 'desertion' as noted above. Section 13 (1) (ib) of Act 1955, clearly provides for grant of decree of divorce on the ground of 'desertion'. However, in order to seek decree of divorce on the ground of 'desertion', plaintiff must prove that he/she has been deserted for a continuous period of not less than two years immediately, preceding the presentation of the petition. Therefore, what implies from plain reading of aforesaid section is that defendant must have deserted petitioner for a continuous period of two years prior to the date of institution of suit. The aforesaid requirement can be termed as a necessary pre- condition for seeking a decree of divorce on ground of desertion. Therefore, it is imperative on the part of plaintiff to plead and prove that defendant has deserted plaintiff and has continued doing so uninterruptedly for a period of two years, prior to the institution of suit.

16. Consequently, now this Court has to examine whether the pre requisite condition for grant of a decree of divorce on the ground of desertion is satisfied in the present case or not. When we examine the averments made in paragraphs 6 and 10 of plaint, as quoted above, we find that respondent has miserably failed to plead that appellant has deserted respondent continuously for a period of two years prior to the date of institution of suit. What has been considered by Court below is the period subsequent to institution of suit i.e., there has been continuous desertion on part of appellant for a period of three to four years. View taken by court below cannot be sustained as according to scheme of Act, it is the period of two years of continuous desertion prior to institution of suit, which has to be pleaded and proved by plaintiff in order to succeed in a suit for divorce on ground of desertion. Since respondent failed to plead and prove that appellant had deserted him continuously for a period of two years, prior to date of presentation of plaint, suit for divorce on the ground of 'desertion' could not have been decreed. Apart from above, we also find that in order to justify 'desertion' on part of defendant-appellant, court below has taken into consideration the subsequent events which took place after institution of suit. View taken by Court below is manifestly illegal as subsequent events could not have been taken into consideration in a suit for divorce as per scheme of Act itself.

17. We, accordingly, confronted learned counsel for respondent on the aforesaid aspect of matter, but he could not create any dent. Except for reiterating the findings recorded by court below and observations made in the impugned judgement, nothing new could be added to dissuade us from the view taken by us with regard to import of section 13 (1) (ib) of Act 1955.

18. In view of discussions made herein-above, present appeal succeeds and is liable to be allowed. It is accordingly allowed. Impugned judgement and decree dated 5.9.2016, passed by Principal Judge, Family Court, Azamgarh in Case No. 50 of 2014 (Alok Kumar Singh Vs. Smt. Shalini Singh), are hereby set aside. Appellant shall be entitled to cost, which we quantify at Rs. 1,00,000/-. Cost shall be deposited by respondent with the Court below by means of a Bank Draft payable in favour of appellant within a period of one month from today.

Counsel for the Appellant:

Counsel for the Respondent:
Standing Counsel

A. Civil Law- Land Acquisition Act (1 of 1894) - S.18 - Acquisition - Reference - Reference is not appeal - Material relied on by Acquisition Officer in award - cannot be relied upon by the reference court unless same material is produced and proved before reference court Held - There was no justification for the reference court to determine the market value of the acquired land on the basis of a sale deed which was neither filed in evidence nor it was before it but was merely referred in the award passed by the S.L.A.O. (Para 9)

B. Land Acquisition Act - Deduction - 40% - on account of largeness of area

Held - As per sale deed exemplars filed in evidence, smaller area measuring 10 dhoors was sold while total land measuring 1.492 acres, i.e. 2 bighas 7 biswas and 16 dhoors was acquired and therefore a deduction on account largeness of area made - Court applied deduction of 40% for the largeness of the area (Para 10)

First Appeal partly allowed (E-5)

List of case cited :

Chimanlal Hargovinddas vs. Special Land Acquisition Officer (1988) 3 SCC 751

(Delivered by Hon'ble Surya Prakash Kesarwani, J.)

1. Heard Sri R.C. Maurya, learned counsel for the claimant-appellant and Sri B.K. Yadav, learned standing counsel for the State-respondents.

2. This first appeal has been filed for enhancement of compensation.

3. Briefly stated facts of the present case are that by notification under Section 4(1) of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 published in the U.P. Gazette on 17.04.1982, an area of 1.492 acres land of certain khasra plots including plot Nos.75 and 77 measuring 16 biswas in village Rajpura, Pargana Bhadohi, Tehsil Gyanpur, District Varanasi belonging to the claimant-Appellant, which was acquired for construction of a building for telephone exchange. Notification under Section 6 of the Act was published in the Gazette on 17.04.1982. Possession was transferred on 18.01.1983. The Special Land Acquisition Officer made the award on 13.03.1984 awarding compensation @ Rs.6428.50 per biswa.

4. As per the impugned judgment of the reference court, the boundaries of the acquired khasra plot Nos.75 and 77 of the claimant-appellant, are undisputedly as under:

"East: Bhadohi Gyanpur Road
West: Cold Storage of Ram Sundar Ram Nath
North: House of Daya Yadav in which business of caustic soda is carried on South: Residential Houses"

5. The S.L.A.O. and the court below found that Bhadohi Railway Station (Railway Crossing) is situate at a distance of one furlong from the acquired land of the claimant-appellant, the acquired land is within the municipal limits of Nagarpalika Bhadohi, means of transportation are available and near the acquired land there are residential houses and businesses establishments and the area is regularly developing. The S.L.A.O. selected a sale deed at Serial No.46 of his chart as exemplar to determine the compensation.

6. I have looked into the records of the court below and I find that as per chart prepared by the S.L.A.O. the aforesaid sale deed at Serial No.46 is dated 07.04.1981 with respect to khasra plot No.73, measuring 10.5 dhoor disclosing selling rate of Rs.8571.43 per biswa. Perusal of the map of the village filed in evidence and available in the records of the court below shows that plot No.73 (subject matter of the selected sale deed exemplar) is not adjoining the road but between it and the road, there is plot No.72 whereas the plots of the claimant-appellant are adjoining the road.

7. Before the reference court, the respondents have not led any evidence with regard to the market value of the acquired land of the claimant-appellant. The claimant-appellant has filed in evidence two sale deed exemplars namely sale deed dated 22.01.1982 (paper No.22ga) whereby one Devi Prasad has sold 10 biswas land of his khasra plot No.123 for Rs.10,000/- and the sale deed dated 02.01.1982 (paper No.23ga) whereby one Devi Prasad has sold 10 biswas land of his khasra plot No.123 for Rs.10,000/-. These sale deeds indicate selling rate of nearby road side land of khasra plot No.123 to be Rs.20000/- per bigha. As per map of the village available in the records of the court below, khasra plot No.123 is adjoining the road and is near to the acquired land of the claimant-appellant. These sale deeds were executed about one year before the acquisition. It is not the case of the respondents that these sale deeds are not genuine or motivated. Therefore, there was no justification for the reference court to reject these two evidences and instead to rely upon the observation of the S.L.A.O. made in the award.

8. In Chiman Lal Hargovinddas v. Special Land Acquisition Officer, Poona and another, (1988)3 SCC 751 (para-4), Hon'ble Supreme Court laid down the law for determination of market value in acquisition, as under:

"4. The following factors must be etched on the mental screen:

(1) A reference under section 18 of the Land Acquisition Act is not an appeal against the award and the Court cannot take into account the material relied upon by the Land Acquisition officer in his Award unless the same material is produced and proved before the Court.

(2) So also the Award of the Land Acquisition officer is not to be treated as a judgment of the trial Court open or exposed to challenge before the Court hearing the Reference. It is merely an offer made by the Land Acquisition officer and the material utilised by him for making his valuation cannot be utilised by the Court unless produced and proved before it. It is not the function of the Court to sit in appeal against the Award,approve or disapprove its reasoning, or correct its error or affirm, modify or reverse the conclusion reached by the Land Acquisition officer, as if it were an appellate court.

(3) The Court has to treat the reference as an original proceeding before it and determine the market value afresh on the basis of the material produced before it.

(4) The claimant is in the position of a plaintiff who has to show that the price offered for his land in the award is inadequate on the basis of the materials produced in the Court. Of course the materials placed and proved by the other side can also be taken into account for this purpose.

(5) The market value of land under acquisition has to be determined as on the crucial date of publication of the notification under Section 4 of the Land Acquisition Act (dates of Notifications under sections 6 and 9 are irrelevant).

(6) The determination has to be made standing on the date line of valuation (date of publication of notification under Section 4) as if the valuer is a hypothetical purchaser willing to purchase land from the open market and is prepared to pay a reasonable price as on that day. It has also to be assumed that the vendor is willing to sell the land at a reasonable price.

(7) In doing so by the instances method, the Court has to correlate the market value reflected in the most comparable instance which provides the index of market value.

(8) Only genuine instances have to be taken into account. (Some times instances are rigged up in anticipation of Acquisition of land).

(9) Even post notification instances can be taken into account (1) if they are very proximate,(2) genuine and (3) the acquisition itself has not motivated the purchaser to pay a higher price on account of the resultant improvement in development prospects.

(l0) The most comparable instances out of the genuine instances have to be identified on the following considerations:

(i) proximity from time angle,

(ii) proximity from situation angle.

(11) Having identified the instances which provide the index of market value the price reflected therein may be taken as the norm and the market value of the land under acquisition may be deduced by making suitable adjustments for the plus and minus factors vis-a-vis land under acquisition by placing the two in juxtaposition.

(12) A balance-sheet of plus and minus factors may be drawn for this purpose and the relevant factors may be evaluated in terms of price variation as a prudent purchaser would do.

(13) The market value of the land under acquisition has there after to be deduced by loading the price reflected in the instance taken as norm for plus factors and unloading it for minus factors.

(14) The exercise indicated in clauses (11) to (13) has to be undertaken in a common sense manner as a prudent man of the world of business would do. We may illustrate some such illustrative (not exhaustive) factors:

Plus factors	Minus factors
1. smallness of size	1. largeness of area
2. proximity to a road	2. situation in the interior at a distance from the Road
3. frontage on a road	3. Narrow strip of land with very small frontage compared to depth

4. nearness to developed area

4. lower level requiring the depressed portion to be filled up 5. regular shape 5. remoteness from developed locality

6. level vis-a-vis land under acquisition 6. some special disadvantageous factor which would deter a purchaser

7. special value for an owner of an adjoining property to whom it may have some very special advantage

(15) The evaluation of these factors of course depends on the facts of each case. There cannot be any hard and fast or rigid rule. Common sense is the best and most reliable guide. For instance, take the factor regarding the size. A building plot of land say 500 to 1000 sq. yds cannot be compared with a large tract or block of land of say l0000 sq. yds or more. Firstly while a smaller plot is within the reach of many, a large block of land will have to be developed by preparing a lay out, carving out roads, leaving open space, plotting out smaller plots, waiting for purchasers (meanwhile the invested money will be blocked up) and the hazards of an entrepreneur. The factor can be discounted by making a deduction by way of an allowance at an appropriate rate ranging approximately between 20 percent to 50 percent to account for land required to be set apart for carving out lands and plotting out small plots. The discounting will to some extent also depend on whether it is a rural area or urban area, whether building activity is picking up, and whether waiting period during which the capital of the entrepreneur would be looked up, will be longer or shorter and the attendant hazards.

(16) Every case must be dealt with on its own fact pattern bearing in mind all these factors as a prudent purchaser of land in which position the Judge must place himself.

(17) These are general guidelines to be applied with understanding informed with common sense."(Emphasis supplied by me)

9. In view of the law laid down by Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Chiman Lal Hargovinddas (supra), it is clear that a reference under Section 18 of the Act is not an appeal against the award and the court cannot take into account the material relied upon by the Land Acquisition Officer in his award unless the same material is produced and proved before the court. Undisputedly, the sale deed relied by the S.L.A.O. was not produced or provided by the respondents before the reference court in the reference. Likewise, the sale deeds exemplars as collected by the S.L.A.O. were not filed in evidence before the court below by the respondents. Learned standing counsel could not point out from the paper book or from the records of the lower court that any sale deed exemplar in evidence was filed by the respondents. Therefore, there was no justification for the reference court to determine the market value of the acquired land on the basis of a sale deed which was neither filed in evidence nor it was before it but was merely referred in the award passed by the S.L.A.O. On the contrary, the sale deed exemplars being paper Nos.22ga and 23ga, were filed in evidence by the claimant-appellant to establish that nearby similar road side land situate on the Bhadohi-Gyanpur road was sold @ Rs.20,000/- per biswa.

10. Under the circumstances, I am of the considered view that the sale deed exemplars being paper Nos.22ga and 23ga can be made basis to determine market value of the acquired land of the claimant-appellant as on the date of acquisition, i.e. 17.04.1982. Since as per the sale deed exemplars filed in evidence, smaller area measuring 10 dhoors was sold @ Rs.20,000/- per biswa while total land measuring 1.492 acres, i.e. 2 bighas 7 biswas and 16 dhoors was acquired and therefore a deduction on account largeness of area deserves to be made.

11. Considering the facts and evidences on record and after applying deduction of 40% for the largeness of the area, the market value of the acquired land of the claimant-appellant is determined @ Rs.12,000/- per biswa. The claimant-appellant shall be entitled to all other statutory benefits as per the impugned judgment of the reference court dated 23.02.1985 in L.A.R. No.113 of 1984 (Kailash Nath Gupta vs. Collector, Varanasi). The impugned judgment and decree is accordingly modified.

12. The appeal is partly allowed to the extent indicated above.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sudhir Agarwal, J.)

1. Sri W.H.Khan, Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri J.H.Khan, learned counsel for appellants is present. None has appeared on behalf of respondents though this appeal has been called in revise. Since appeal is old one, relates to the year 1978, hence I proceed to hear and decide the same ex parte.

2. This is defendants' appeal under Section 100 of Code of Civil Procedure (hereinafter referred to as "C.P.C.") arising from judgment and decree dated 01.6.1978 passed by Sri I.P.Singh, Vth Additional District and Sessions Judge, Saharanpur, in Civil Appeal No.337 of 1976 dismissing the same and confirming judgment and decree dated 18.9.1976 passed by Sri R.C.Pandey, Civil Judge, Saharanpur decreeing Original Suit No.42 of 1972.

3. Appeal was admitted vide order dated dated 17.7.1978 on the substantial questions (A) and (D), which read as under :

"A. Whether right of pre-emption is barred by the Constitution of India as it imposes an unreasonable restriction to hold the property?

D. Whether plaintiff was entitled to pre-emption even when he did not perform the necessary Talabs according to law."

(emphasis added)

4. The facts giving rise to present appeal are that Original Suit No.42 of 1972 was filed by Tahir Husain, sole plaintiff-respondent (hereinafter referred to as "plaintiff") against Mohammad Alim and Mohammad Arif, sons of Zinda Hasan, impleaded as defendants 1 and 2 and Mst. Naimat (Niyamat) Ilahi, widow of Sheikh Habib Ahmad, (defendant 3), in the Court of Civil Judge (Senior Division), Saharanpur.

5. As per plaint dated 03.03.1972, suit property detailed at the bottom of plaint is described as under :

"One Daribast Arazi Tal untilled in the east direction, and in the west direction, towards the north side, a balcony of Shakasti is built in the remaining part of the property, and some other constructions are also there. Remaining part of the land is untilled, and is situated in Mohalla Mala Gate, Saharanpur as defined below.

East: Public Drainage and public road.

West: Haweligada. Boarding House

South: Deewan of the Haweligada Boarding House

North: Wall of the house Jagan Nath Panjabi, and in the middle joint in north-south direction. And wall of the related Mahal Khana, and shop in the ownership of Abrar Ahmad, and heirs of Late Abdul Hakeem.

North: Public drainange and road."

6. The plaint case set up by plaintiff Tahir Husain is that Darogha Mohd. Ibraheem was first owner in possession of suit property. When Darogha Mohd. Ibraheem expired, he left behind two heirs i.e. two daughters viz. Mrs. Amtul and Mrs. Amna Khatoon. Thereafter, Mst. Amtul died without leaving any issue. She left her sister Mrs. Amna Khatoon as her heir, who became sole owner in possession of property mentioned in the plaint. Later on, Amna Khatoon also died. She left two sons viz. Shabbeer Ahmad and Reyaz Ahmad and daughter Niyamat Ilahi, as heirs, who became joint-owners in possession of property mentioned in the plaint. Subsequently, Shabbeer Ahmad S/o (Late) Amna Khatoon also died. He left plaintiff, Zahid Husain, Tauheed Hasan and Mohd. Mobeen, (his sons); Mrs. Tahira Begum, Raeesa Begum, Mansoor Fatima and Shahida and Nadira (his daughters); and widow Khushnuma Begum as heirs.

7. Plaintiff is joint-owner in possession of property as described in the plaint in accordance with Shariyat, along with his brothers, sisters, Mrs. Khushnuma Begum (step-mother) and Reyaz Ahmad and Mrs. Niyamat Ilahi. Suit property is located at a very prime locality near Makan Ram Leela, at Madarsa Mazahirul Uloom, at a crossing inside the city, Saharanpur. It was around twenty years ago that the rent used to be very nominal in city Saharanpur. Zinda Hasan S/o Abdul rented suit property at the rate of Rs.30/-. He started business of Taal Sokhta. Plaintiff is engaged in sale and purchase of trees. He owns no shop. He felt dire need of a shop for the purpose of keeping wood-log. Hence, in 1971, he asked Zinda Hasan to vacate suit property. However, he plotted a conspiracy in collusion with others who were his relatives and refused to vacate the premises.

8. Zinda Hasan, under the apprehension of being vacated, in collusion with Mrs. Niyamat Ilahi, who was his relative, agreed secretly to sell her 1/5th part of suit property to appellants-defendants-1 and 2 on a consideration of Rs.8,500/-, without knowledge of or information to plaintiff. Defendant -3, Mst. Niyamat Ilahi, sold out her 1/5th part of suit property through sale deed dated 24.09.1971, for consideration of Rs.8,500/- secretly, without knowledge of and information to plaintiff. As soon as plaintiff came to know about sale deed executed between Mrs. Niyamat Ilahi and defendants-1 and 2, first he performed duty of pre-emption and immediately went to the spot alongwith witnesses in the presence of defendants 1 and 2 and performed duty of preemption. On 27.10.1971, he gave an application for copy of sale deed in the office of Sub-Registrar, Saharanpur. He received copy on 12.11.1971. Parties are Sunni Muslims and Mohammadan Law is applicable to them. Plaintiff has been a co-sharer in the property mentioned even before sale deed dated 24.09.1971 was executed between defendant 3 and defendants-1 and 2. Defendants -1 and 2 had no share or right in suit property before said sale deed. Hence, plaintiff, in preference to defendants-1 and 2, has got a right to purchase, on the basis of pre-emption, as provided in Shariyat. Defendants- 1 and 2, in spite of knowledge of right of pre-emption, bought part of suit property for consideration of Rs.8,500/-, hence the suit. Cause of action arose when sale deed dated 24.09.1971 was executed and on 27.10.1971 when plaintiff got knowledge of sale deed for the first time.

9. Plaintiff claimed following reliefs :

"अ. बरूये डिग्री शुफा शरई प्रतिवादीगण नं0 1 व 2 को हुक्म दिया जावे कि वह वादी के सर्फा से जायदाद मुफस्सला जैल के 1/5 हिस्से की बाबत अन्दर मियाद मोइयना अदालत वादी के हक में बयनामा तहरीर व तकमील कर के रजिस्ट्री करा दे। और मुबलिग 8500 रूपये रजिस्ट्री पर वसूल कर ले। और अगर प्रतिवादीगण नं0 1 व 2 ऐसा करने में कासिर रहे तो अदालत उनकी तरफ से बयनामा व जरे समन मुबलिग 8500 रूपये वादी के हक में तहरीर व तकलीम कर दे और मुबलिक 8500 रूपये अदालत में जमा करने का वादी को मौका दिया जावे। ब. वादी को खर्चा मुकदमा प्रतिवादीगण नं0 1 व 2 ने दिलाया जावे।"

A. That as pre-emption, defendants no-1 & 2 be directed to get the registry executed of the 1/5 part of the property mentioned, in favour of the plaintiff within the stipulated time and recover the amount of Rs. 8500/-, and if the defendants 1 and 2 fail to do so, the Court may kindly receive an amount of Rs. 8500/- for the purpose of sale deed and get the sale deed executed. The plaintiff may be allowed to deposit the amount of Rs. 8500/- in the court.

B. The expenses of the case be awarded to the plaintiff from the defendants no-1 and 2.

(English Translation by Court)

10. Suit was contested by defendants 1 and 2 by filing a combined written statement dated 02.8.1972. Contents of paras 1 to 4 of plaint were admitted. Contents of para 5 were admitted to the extent of death of Shabeer Ahmad and rest was denied. Contents of para 7 of plaint to the extent property is situated in Saharanpur city, adjacent to the house of Ram Leela was admitted. In para 8 of plaint, tenancy of Zinda Hasan was admitted. In paras 10 and 11 of plaint, purchase of 1/5th portion of suit property by defendant Mujeeb from defendant Niyamat Ilahi for consideration of Rs.8,500/- was admitted. Rest part of plaint is not admitted. In additional pleas, defendants pleaded that :

(i) Plaintiff is not entitled for any relief as no cause of action has arisen and suit is liable to be dismissed with costs.

(ii) Plaintiff's contention that he had no knowledge and information about sale of 1/5th share of suit property to defendants Mujeeb was incorrect.

(iii) Defendant 3 desired to sell her 1/5th share in suit property since long and made various efforts which ultimately settled with defendant Mujeeb.

(iv) One of the broker Munshi Abrar Husain engaged by defendant-3 had also enquired from plaintiff about purchase of 1/5th share of defendant 3 but he did not care to purchase the same for consideration of Rs.8,000/-.

(v) Ms. Tahra Begum, real sister of plaintiff married to Ahmad, real brother of Mujeeb and plaintiff used to visit defendant's house time to time.

(vi) Defendant Mujeeb himself disclosed to plaintiff that he is going to buy 1/5th share of suit property from Smt. Niyamat Ilahi for consideration of Rs.8,500/- and plaintiff told him that it was offered to him for Rs.8,000/- but he was not inclined to purchase the said share as it was fetching meagre rent.

(vii) 1/5th share of Smt. Niyamat Ilahi has been purchased by Mujeeb after refusal by plaintiff. Hence has has no right to file suit allegedly exercising his right of pre-emption.

(viii) Suit is barred by estoppel and acquiescence.

(ix) Date of knowledge disclosed by plaintiff is false as he had prior knowledge of transaction.

(x) Conditions precedent for exercising right of pre-emption are not fulfilled and claim set up by plaintiff is based on no factual foundation.

(xi) The suit property was under tenancy of father of defendants 1 and 2 for the last 35 years. Plaintiff's claim that he asked Zinda Hasan in the year 1971 to vacate suit property is false and it is also incorrect that sale deed was executed under the apprehension of eviction.

(xii) Suit property is not situated in any locality of special significance. It is incorrect that defendant Mujeeb or his father had close relationship with Smt. Niyamat Ilahi.

11. Subsequently, there was amendment in the written statement. Paras 10a and 10b were inserted stating as under :

"10 अ. यह कि दौरान अपील मौरखा 30.4.77 ई0 को श्री रईसा बेगम यके अज् शरीक सहीम व हिस्सेदार ने अपना कुल हक व हिस्सा सिहाज अज 260 सिहाय प्रतिवादीगण के हक में बजरिये हिबेनामा मौरखा 23.4.1977 मु0 रजिस्ट्री शुदा हिब्बे करके मुत्तकिल कर दिया जिसको प्रतिवादीगण ने कबूल व मंजूर किया और वह बतौर शरीक व हिस्सेदार काबिज हो गया।

10 ब. यह कि मज़कुरा वाला कारण से भी दावा शुफा वादी काबिले पशरफ़्त नहीं है।"

10b. That for the aforesaid reason as well, the suit of the plaintiff for pre-emption does not deserve to be proceeded with.

12. Trial Court formulated following four issues :

"1. Whether the plaintiff is entitled to seek pre-emption?

2. Whether the plaintiff performed necessary demands as alleged?

3. Whether the plaintiff had the knowledge of the impugned sale deed? If so, whether the suit is barred by estoppel?

4. To what relief, if any, is the plaintiff entitled?"

13. Issue-1 was answered in favour of plaintiff and thereafter issues 2 and 3 were taken together. Both these issues were answered in favour of plaintiff. As a result thereof issue-4 was answered holding that suit is liable to be decreed. Consequently, Trial Court decreed the suit and operative part of judgment reads as under :

"The suit for pre-emption in respect of one-fifth share of the defendant

No.3 in the property detailed at the foot of the plaint is decreed. The defendants 1 and 2 are directed to execute the sale deed in favour of the plaintiff after receiving Rs.8500/- from the plaintiff within three months failing which the plaintiff will have a right to get the sale deed executed through court at the expenses of the defendants. The parties shall bear their own costs of the suit."

14. Defendants 1 and 2 i.e. Mohammad Alim and Mohammad Arif assailed judgment of Trial Court filing Civil Appeal No.337 of 1976 in the Court of District Judge, Saharanpur vide memo of appeal dated 7.11.1976.

15. Subsequently, an amendment application was filed stating that after pronouncement of judgment by Trial Court, but before filing of appeal, defendant 3 in the suit i.e. Smt. Niyamat Ilahi, widow of Sheikh Habib Ahmad had died on 20.9.1976 and she was impleaded as defendant 1 in appeal, therefore against her name, 'deceased' be written and Haji Amir Hasan, Shamshad Hasan, Jamil Ahmad and Smt. Fazal Ilahi, legal heirs be impleaded as defendant/respondents 1/1 to 1/4. However, said amendment was rejected vide order dated 16.7.1977 passed by Sri Vikram Singh, District Judge, Saharanpur.

16. Lower Appellate Court (hereinafter referred to as "LAC") considered following questions for deciding appeal:

(i) Impugned decree is not made in terms of Order 20 Rule 14 C.P.C.

(ii) Appellants having become co-sharerer in disputed property, no pre-emption can be enforced against them.

(iii) Whether there was requisite demand for pre-emption?

17. While answering question (i), Court found that Trial Court has obviously ignored Order 20 Rule 14 C.P.C., but. that defect was curable therefore, that defect will not vitiate the judgment. Questions (ii) and (iii) were answered against appellants. Consequently, appeal was dismissed.

18. Before this Court, Appellants filed an application dated 21.4.2019 under Section 100(5) Second Proviso, C.P.C., proposing three more substantial questions of law, and formulated the same as under :

"F. Whether the lower appellate court erred in law in converting a decree of specific performance of contract into a decree of pre-emption on an assumption that it was the mistake of the trial court without looking into the plaint which itself prayed a decree of specific performance. There was no amendment sought by the plaintiff to amend the prayer in the plaint nor the plaintiff filed any cross objection or cross appeal?

G. Whether the lower appellate court erred in law in importing his personal knowledge by observing that plaintiff committed a mistake in his statement that he came to know of the impugned sale deed dated 24.09.1971 on 27.09.1971 while he meant 27.10.1971 as the date on which he acquired knowledge of the said sale deed. In recording this finding lower appellate Judge imported his personal knowledge by observing that it was his mistake in recording the statement of plaintiff when he was presiding officer of trial court. No application for correction of statement was made by plaintiff at any stage that his statement was wrongly recorded.

(H) Whether first appeal abated as a whole when the plaintiff failed to substitute legal representatives of defendant no.3 Smt. Niamat Ilahi and Lower Court erred in taking the contrary view."

19. This application has been opposed by plaintiff-respondent by filing objection/counter affidavit sworn on 29.5.2019 stating that suit was for decree founded on pre-emption and not specific performance. Finding was already recorded by Courts below that sale deed dated 24.9.1971 came to the knowledge of plaintiff on 27.10.1971 and that defendant 3 was a proforma respondent against whom no relief was sought, hence, it is pleaded that additional questions sought to be raised have not arisen in this appeal and should not be allowed.

20. I have gone through additional questions and find that entire case set up by plaintiff was founded on the right of 'pre-emption' and that is why appeal was admitted on two questions relating to alleged right of pre-emption, pleaded by plaintiff, and decided by Courts below. With regard to date of sale deed and knowledge, I find that date of sale deed is not in dispute and date of knowledge is also subsequent to the date of execution of sale deed. Therefore, it would make no material difference. Further non substitution of heirs of defendant 3 after her death would not result in abating entire proceedings as no relief was claimed against Smt. Niyamat Ilahi since she had already executed sale deed in favour of Mujeeb. Therefore in my view, the three additional questions, sought to be formulated by appellants can neither be said to be substantial questions of law arising in this appeal nor need be allowed to be raised at this stage. Suffice it to state that two questions, already formulated by this Court while admitting appeal, only need be decided. Hence application requesting to allow additional substantial question of law is hereby rejected.

21. Now, I proceed to decide two substantial questions of law, as noticed above.

22. Right of "pre-emption', also called right of "Shufaa', is right which the owner of an immovable property, possesses, to acquire by purchase, another immovable property, which had been sold to another person in preference by paying a price equal to that settled, or paid by the latter. Now, it is settled that right of pre-emption based on vicinage is void and unconstitutional. It has been declared so by Supreme Court in Bhanu Ram vs. B. Baijnath Singh AIR 1961 SC 1327; Sant Ram vs. Labh Singh AIR 1965 SC 314 and A. Razzaque Sajansaheb Bagwan vs. Ibrahim Haji Mohd. Hussain AIR 1999 SC 2043.

23. Pre-emption is not a right of "re-purchase', either from vendor or vendee, involving any new contract of sale. It is simply a right of substitution, entitling pre-emptor, by reason of a legal incident to which the sale itself was subject to stand in the shoes of the vendee in respect of all the rights and obligations arising from the sale, under which he has derived his title.

24. In Bishan Singh vs. Khazan Singh AIR 1958 SC 838, Court said that right of pre-emption is a right of substitution but not of repurchase. Pre-emptor takes the entire bargain and steps into the shoes of original vendee.

25. Validity of right of pre-emption has been examined by Supreme Court in the cases noticed above in the light of Article 19(1)(f) of Constitution, which confered fundamental right to acquire, hold and dispose of property. The aforesaid right of property has now been ceased to be a fundamental right by virtue of 42nd amendment of Constitution and has become a constitutional right under Article 300A, which is drafted in a different language. Therefore, law as it was earlier need be examined afresh in the cases arising after amendment of Article 19(1)(f).

26. However, that is not material in the present case since right of pre-emption sought to be exercised in this case relates to the period when Article 19(1)(f) was on the statute book. Therefore, I have to decide the matter as the law as then was.

27. Right of pre-emption is an incident annexed to a property. Although it is essentially a right in rem but it its exercise, from the time it arises upto the time of decree, is restricted as a personal right, which is neither heritable nor transferable. Right of pre-emption by a co-sharer has been upheld by Supreme Court in Bhanu Ram (supra) with reference to Article 19(5) of Constitution treating it to be a reasonable restriction.

28. While considering validity of Section 15(1)(b) of Punjab Pre-emption Act, 1923, in Irishna vs. State of Haryana AIR 1994 SC 2536 Court held that right of pre-emption to co-sharers is valid and not violative of Articles 14, 15 and 16 of Constitution.

29. In the present case, admittedly plaintiff was a co-sharer with defendant-3 in respect of property in dispute, therefore, to this extent right of pre-emption of plaintiff is valid and constitutional.

30. In view of above discussion, it cannot be said that right of pre-emption as a whole is unconstitutional. In a restricted way, right of pre-emption of co-sharers has been held to be constitutional, therefore, question (A) is answered against appellants.

31. Now, coming to question (D), it is also now well settled that right of pre-emption arise only out of a valid, complete and bona fide sale. A Full Bench of this Court in Begum vs. Muhammad Yakub (1894) IL 16 All 344 followed in Zamani Begum vs. Khan Muhammad (1924) 46 All. 142 has taken a view that right of pre-emption arises not only when an out-and-out sale has been completed, but also, when a complete contract of sale without any option to the vendor has been made.

32. This aspect has now been considered in Radhakisan Laxminarayan vs. Shridhar AIR 1960 SC 1368 and it has been held that transfer of property where Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (hereinafter referred to as "Act, 1882") applies, has to be under the provisions of that Act only. Mohomedan Law or any other personal law of transfer of property cannot override the statute. Therefore, unless title has passed in accordance with Act, 1882, no right to enforce pre-emption arises. Supreme Court thus has made it clear that demand, exercising right of pre-emption, should be made after registration of sale deed. This view has been subsequently followed in Ram Saran Lall Vs. Mst. Domini Kuer AIR 1961 SC 1747 and also reiterated in

33. The above aspect stands further clarified from a subsequent judgment in Kumar Gonsusab vs. Sri Mohammed Miyan JT 2008 (9) SC 334 wherein it has been held that a contract for sale does not by itself create any interest in or charge on immovable property. Therefore, where parties enter into mere agreement to sell, it creates no interest in the suit property in favour of vendee. The proprietary title does not validly pass from vendor to vendee. Until that is completed, no right to enforce pre-emption arises.

34. This also reiterate the fact that right of pre-emption can be exercised only when sale is complete and not before thereto. When a plea is raised by defendant that right of pre-emption has been waived, onus lie upon defendant to prove it.

35. I may also add at this stage that right of pre-emption has not been looked upon with great favour by Courts since it is in derogation of right of owner to alienate his/her property. It is neither illegal nor fraudulent for parties to a transfer to avoid and defeat a claim for pre-emption by all legitimate means. It is a weak right and Courts would not go out of their way to help the pre-emptor.

36. In the present case, defence taken by defendants is that offer was made to plaintiff before execution of sale deed and since he did not agree, it amounts to waiver of his right of pre-emption. This plea goes contrary to law, as discussed above, since right of pre-emption has to be exercised only when transfer of property is complete. Therefore, it cannot be said that plaintiff did not exercise his right of pre-emption and waived such right before execution of sale deed since till transfer is completed, there is no occasion to exercise right of pre-emption.

37. Moreover, Question (D), which has been argued by learned counsel for appellants, based on defence taken by defendants that plaintiff was given offer to purchase suit property before execution of sale deed but he did not agree and thereafter sale deed was executed. This made it clear that there was no waiver on the part of plainitff and with regard to his subsequent exercise of right of pre-emption, nothing otherwise has been brought to the notice of this Court. Hence, I find no reason but to answer question (D) against appellants.

38. No other point has been argued.

39. Appeal lacks merit and is dismissed with costs throughout.

Government Appeal No. 2116 of 2001

State of U.P. ...Appellant

Versus

Abid & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri R.P. Dubey, A.G.A.

Counsel for the Respondents:

Sri T.A. Khan, Sri Sushil Kumar Pandey

A. Govt. Appeal-against-order of acquittal-u/ss. 364, 302 r/w 34 & 201 IPC-charges not proved beyond reasonable ground-if alternate view emanates-the view-in favour of accused-to be preferred by A.C.-Appeal Dismissed.

B. Held, in our considered opinion obviously, it cannot be said with certainty that the motive behind committing the offence was established for the reason that it being the circumstantial evidence case, the motive for committing the offence forms central theme and unless and until the motive is proved specifically, the prosecution shall not be able to bring home the charge framed against the accused. This being the present position when the case becomes weak on the central point of motive, then the other considerations fall on the periphery of the case and that don't substantially go in favour of the prosecution. The point under consideration is very much based on fact whether on the analogy made by the trial Judge, the conclusion drawn was altogether impossible or perverse on the face or was based on material on record. We upon careful perusal find that the conclusion drawn is supported by the material on record, as such no interference is required. May be that another alternate view is also emanating from the same material but the view and the alternative, which favours the accused, is to be preferred by the Appellate Court. Consequently, this Government Appeal lacks merit an the same is liable to be dismissed. We hereby affirmed judgement and order of acquittal dated 28.03.2001 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, court no.8 Muzaffarnagar in Sessions Trial No.475 of 1996, under Sections 364, 302 read with 34, 201 I.P.C., police station-Bhopa, district- Muzaffarnagar. The leave to appeal is hereby refused.

List of cases cited:-

1. State of W.B. vs Mir Mohammad Omar and others, 2000 8 SCC 382

(Delivered by Hon'ble Arvind Kumar Mishra-I, J. & Hon'ble Gautam Chowdhary, J.)

(1) Report of the C.J.M.-Muzaffarnagar dated 18.04.2019 reflects that accused- respondent no.1- Abid- has expired 10-12 years ago.

(2) In view of the report of C.J.M.-Muzaffarnagar dated 18.04.2019, this appeal stands abated qua accused-respondent no.1- Abid and is dismissed.

(3) Now, this appeal qua the surviving respondent no.1- Amir- is for adjudication.

(4) Case called out in the revised list. No one is present on behalf of the respondents to press this appeal.

(5) Heard Sri Krishna Pahal, learned A.A.G. assisted by Sri Nafis Ahmad, Sri Bhanu Prakash Singh, Sanjay Kumar Rajbhar, Ajay Kumr Singh, Jitendra Kumar and Mahesh Kumar Dwivedi, learned A.G.A.s for the State, perused the impugned judgement of acquittal and record of the appeal.

(6) The instant Government Appeal has been preferred by the State against judgement and order of acquittal dated 28.03.2001 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, court no.8 Muzaffarnagar in Sessions Trial No.475 of 1996, under Sections 364, 302 read with 34, 201 I.P.C., police station- Bhopa, district-Muzaffarnagar.

(7) Relevant facts as discernible from the record giving rise to this appeal appear to be that- complainant Patora s/o Kutubuddin gave a written report in police station- Bhopa on 4.1.1996 with the allegations that both the accused were usually coming to his house who belonged to same village and they came to his house at 4.30 p.m. and called Najjay and took him with them and since then whereabouts of Najjay is not known and there is suspicion that he will be killed by the accused- respondents. The report be lodged and action be taken.

(8) On this written report, Exhibit Ka-1, a first information report was lodged at police station- Bhopa on 04.01.1996, under section 3642 I.P.C. at case crime no. 1/96. The entry in the General Diary was prepared as G.D. No.21 on 4.1.1996 at 6.15 hours in the aforesaid sections of Indian Penal Code against the accused-respondents.

(9) The investigation was carried out by Investigating Officer- Sri P.K. Jetha, who arrested the accused- respondents and on their pointing out, the dead body of Najjay was recovered on 12.1.1996, thereafter case was converted under Section 302, 201 IPC. The investigation has been completed and after the investigation accused was charge- sheeted.

(10) Thereafter during course of hearing on the point of charge, the court concerned found the case covered under Section 364, 302 read with Section 34 and 201 IPC- against accused, therefore, committed the case to the Sessions Court, whereupon, accused were heard on the point of charge and charges under the aforesaid sections were framed against aforesaid accused persons, who denied charges and opted for trial.

(11) In order to prove its case, prosecution produced P.W.1 Patora, P.W.2 Liyaqat, P.W.3 Jodh Singh, P.W.4 Dr. A.S. Rathore, P.W.5 P.K. Jetha and P.W.6 H.C. Surendra Pal. All the aforesaid prosecution witnesses are witnesses of fact/formal witnesses and the eye-witnesses. Thereafter, evidence for the prosecution was closed and the statement of accused persons were recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., wherein, it was submitted that they have been falsely implicated in this case on account of partibandi.

(12) The defence did not lead any evidence, whatsoever and after considering the merit of the case, charges were found not proved beyond reasonable doubt. Resultantly, the trial court returned finding of acquittal against the accused.

(13) Consequently, this Government Appeal.

(14) The contention of learned A.A.G. for the State- appellant is specific to the ambit that in this case, infact, the charge was framed under Sections 364, 302, 201 IPC in Case Crime No.1/1996, Police Station- Bhopa, District-Muzaffarnagar and accused was tried by the court, wherein, the trial court after vetting the entire testimony and the circumstances of this case, found the case not proved against the respondent-accused, consequently, acquitted him of the charges under Sections 364, 302 read with 34 and Section 201 IPC.

(15) Learned A.A.G. assails the aforesaid judgement and order of acquittal dated 28.3.2001 on ground that the findings drawn by the trial Judge are not sustainable in view of fact that there is categorical allegation and the allegation has been proved by the testimony of the prosecution witnesses of fact. The investigation was properly conducted and charge- sheet was filed and that testimony cannot be overlooked merely on casual remark that there was no motivating force existing against the deceased and working for the accused to commit the crime in question. It is not necessary that the dead body should normally be recovered and it must be identified and then alone the case would fall under Section 302 IPC even in the absence of corpus, the matter can be considered and adjudicated upon provided evidence is forthcoming in that regard.

(16) In support of his claim, learned A.A.G. has placed reliance on (2000) 8 Supreme Court Cases 382, State of W.B. versus Mir Mohammad Omar and others, wherein under the prevailing facts and circumstances of this case where abduction for murder took place then in the absence of proper identification the fact of murder had not come to light and only this much was heard that he will eliminated the deceased. A presumption was raised regarding death of the victim. Learned A.A.G. submitted that in this case, the testimony establishes the last scene theory and proper identification of the dead body/corpus is very much there, still the trial court held otherwise that the dead body was not identifiable and there was no motive as such for committing the offence, though some panchayat had taken place.

(17) We have considered relevant aspect of the case and taken note of fact that the incident in question was reported at the police station- Bhopa on 4.1.1996 that the accused took away with him- the son of the informant- around 4.30 P.M. and the whereabouts of the informants son is not known/untraceable. The matter was taken down at Case Crime No.1/96, under Section 364 IPC, Police Station- Bhopa and relevant entries were made in the concerned General Diary and the case was registered under aforesaid sections of Indian Penal Code, vide Rapate No.14 on 4.1.1996. The matter was investigated by the Investigating Officer Sri P.K. Jetha. On 12.1.1996, the accused was apprehended by the Investigating Officer upon whose pointing out the dead body was allegedly recovered thereafter proper action was taken and after completing the investigation, charge- sheet was filed in the case. Consequently, the trial court charged the accused under Section 364, 302/34 IPC apart from framing charge under Section 201 IPC. The prosecution produced its witnesses and after completion of the prosecution evidence, the evidence was closed and statement of the accused recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. No defence whatsoever was led. The trial court while considering the entirety of the case, recorded specific finding on point of non-identifiable of the corpus recovered. Apart from that the motivating force behind committing the offence was found non- existing. In view of above, the circumstances explained and it was found that the chain of circumstances were not complete, therefore, passed the acquittal order in favour of the accused.

(18) We have also perused the entire judgement impugned and also considered the submission so raised also perused the carefully citation of the Hon'ble Apex Court.

(19) In our considered opinion obviously, it cannot be said with certainty that the motive behind committing the offence was established for the reason that it being the circumstantial evidence case, the motive for committing the offence forms central theme and unless and until the motive is proved specifically, the prosecution shall not be able to bring home the charge framed against the accused. This being the present position when the case becomes weak on the central point of motive, then the other considerations fall on the periphery of the case and that don't substantially go in favour of the prosecution. The point under consideration is very much based on fact whether on the analogy made by the trial Judge, the conclusion drawn was altogether impossible or perverse on the face or was based on material on record. We upon careful perusal find that the conclusion drawn is supported by the material on record, as such no interference is required. May be that another alternate view is also emanating from the same material but the view and the alternative, which favours the accused, is to be preferred by the Appellate Court.

(20) Consequently, this Government Appeal lacks merit an the same is liable to be dismissed. We hereby affirmed judgement and order of acquittal dated 28.03.2001 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, court no.8 Muzaffarnagar in Sessions Trial No.475 of 1996, under Sections 364, 302 read with 34, 201 I.P.C., police station- Bhopa, district-Muzaffarnagar.

(21) The leave to appeal is hereby refused.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Samit Gopal, J.)

1. Additional Affidavit filed by respondent No. 2 today in Court is taken on record.

2. Heard Syed Ali Imam, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Jitendra Prasad Mishra, Advocate for respondent No. 2 / Union of India and the learned A.G.A for respondent Nos. 1, 3, 4 and 5.

3. The present petition has been filed challenging the order of detention dated 26.07.2019 Annexure -1 to the writ petition passed by respondent No. 3 vide order No. 1569 / Nyay Sahayak in exercise of powers under Section (3) of the National Security Act, 1980 directing the detention of the petitioner (Afsar) under Section 3 (2) of the National Security Act as a simple prisoner under the supervision of the respondent No. 4. Counter affidavits of all the respondents have been filed and the rejoinder affidavits to the same have also been filed. This Court while entertaining the petition on 03.01.2020 passed the following order:-

"Heard in part.

Put up in the additional cause list on 20.1.2020 in order to enable Sri Jitendra Prasad Mishra, the learned counsel appearing for Union Of India to file a supplementary counter affidavit along with the alleged report of the Central Agency, explaining the delay on a day-to-day basis, from the receipt of the representation in the Ministry on 23.8.2019 till its placing before the Under Secretary (NSA) on 11.9.2019, as averred in the counter affidavit dated 16.12.2019. Copy of this order be supplied to Sri Mishra forthwith."

4. Subsequently, in compliance to order dated 03.01.2020 counsel for respondent No. 2 placed before us a sealed envelope and after going through the same the following order was passed on 20.01.2020:-

"Supplementary counter affidavit on behalf of respondent no. 2 and a rejoinder affidavit are taken on record.

Sri Jitendra Prasad Mishra for respondent no. 2 / Union of India has placed on record a sealed envelop, which on our directions, is opened. We have gone through its contents and do not find the said document to be either confidential or of such sensitivity which may put national security at risk.

We direct the Bench Secretary to seal the envelop with its contents and hand over the same to Sri Mishra in the Court itself.

List on 29.1.2020 on which date Sri Mishra, learned counsel for respondent no. 2 shall file an affidavit of a duly authorized person, bringing the contents of the envelop on record as also the material disclosing the satisfaction, if any, by the officer concerned, forming the basis for the report."

5. Today an affidavit in compliance of order dated 20.01.2020 was filed.

6. The facts as emerging in the present matter are that the respondent No. 2 passed the impugned order of detention on the grounds that the petitioner is involved in Case Crime No. 318 of 2018 under Section 3/5/5(A)/8 of Cow Slaughter (Prevention) Act. He was served with the detention order dated 26.07.2019 on the same date. The State Government approved the detention order on 05.08.2019. The petitioner preferred a representation dated 08.08.2019 which was submitted on the same day before the Jail Superintendent, Bulandshahar. The said representation was then forwarded by the jail authorities and was received by the District Magistrate on 09.08.2019 itself. On 09.08.2019 the District Magistrate called for comments from the sponsoring authorities, in compliance of which the police submitted its comments on 14.08.2019. The District Magistrate then rejected the representation on 15.08.2019 on the ground that it was submitted after the approval of the detention by the State Government. The representation was then forwarded on 15.08.2019 to the State Government which was received therein on 16.08.2019. The State Government rejected the same on 28.08.2019. The Central Government received the representation of the petitioner on 23.08.2019 and rejected the same on 12.09.2019. In the meantime, the State Government vide its order dated 05.09.2019 confirmed the detention order.

7. Learned counsel for the petitioner argued that there has been an inordinate delay by respondent No. 2 / Union of India in deciding the representation of the petitioner for which there is no explanation. He further stated that the respondent No. 2 received the representation on 23.08.2019 whereas it was rejected on 12.09.2019 i.e. after about 19 days of the date of receipt of the same. He argued that the unexplained delay of 19 days in deciding the representation of the petitioner by the Union of India is good enough to allow the present petition and to set aside the order of detention and direct the release of the petitioner forthwith as there is no justifiable explanation when liberty of a citizen guaranteed under Article 21 of the Constitution of India is violated.

8. Paragraph 5 and 6 of the counter affidavit dated 16.12.2019 on behalf of respondent No. 2 attempts to give some details about the delay in deciding the representation but one fact which emerges from the same is that the representation of the petitioner was received on 23.08.2019, some enquiry / report was called for by the said officer from a Central Agency which was subsequently received and then the file was placed before the Under Secretary, N.S.A on 11.09.2019 and later on the said representation was rejected on 12.09.2019. Since the delay in deciding the representation was not explained on day to day basis another affidavit dated 20.01.2020 titled as supplementary affidavit on behalf of respondent No. 2 was filed in which in paragraph 4 it was mentioned that the file reached the table of the Joint Secretary concerned on 23.08.2019, the Union Home Secretary then directed to seek an independent report from the Central Agency on 24.08.2019, 25.08.2019 was a holiday being Sunday, then on 28.08.2019 a letter followed by a reminder letter was sent which was again forwarded on 09.09.2019 to the Central Agency for seeking the requisite report. The report of the Central Agency was received on 11.09.2019 and subsequently on 12.09.2019 the said representation was rejected. On the question as to what was the reason for the officer concerned to seek a report from the Central Agency, an additional affidavit dated 28.01.2020 is filed today disclosing in paragraph 3 the contents of the report obtained from the Central Agency. The said report as obtained has been quoted in paragraph 3 of the additional affidavit. Even in the present affidavit the officer concerned has not explained the reason as to why the report from the said independent agency was called for as there was no reference of the petitioner being involved in any serious or any anti national activity. Even in the report of the sponsoring officer, dated 24.07.2019 / Annexure -5 to the writ petition, the recommendation of the Senior Superintendent of Police, Bulandshahar dated 25.07.2019 / Annexure- 3 to the writ petition and even the grounds of detention Annexure- 2 to the writ petition, the perusal of the report of the independent agency as quoted in paragraph- 3 of the additional affidavit nowhere gives any detail of the petitioner being involved in any serious anti national activity. The petitioner was granted bail in the case on which his detention was sought for by the sponsoring officer vide order dated 19.07.2019 passed in Criminal Misc. Bail Application No. 28863 of 2019 (Afsar vs. State of U.P.) by the High Court. The said order is Annexure- 12 to the writ petition. The petitioner could not come out of jail in the said case after the order granting him bail and has been detained in the National Security Act, 1980 on the basis of the impugned detention order dated 26.07.2019. The delay as is being tried to be explained by respondent No. 2 in deciding the representation is wholly unsatisfactory which vitiates his detention.

9. The Apex Court in Rajammal vs. State of T.N. and Another (1999) 1 SCC 417 relying upon the decision in K.M. Abdulla Kunhi vs. Union of India (1991) 1 SCC 476 held as follows:-

"6. Learned counsel also cited an earlier two Judge Bench decision of this Court in Raghavendra Singh vs. Superintendent, District Jail, Kanpur (1986 1 SCC 650) in which similar delay of a few days in considering the representation was found to have vitiated the detention. That is a case where delay was held be "wholly unexplained". A three Judge Bench of this Court in Rumana Begum vs. State of Andhra Pradesh (1993 Supp. 2 SCC 341) disapproved the delay in considering the representation on the mere ground that the representation on the mere ground that the representation was not addressed to the Chief Secretary. That was a case where representation was sent to the Governor. Hence it was found that there was unexplained and unreasonable delay and consequently the detention was held vitiated. We are reminded of the following observations made by this Court in Kundanbhai Dulabhai Sheikh vs. District Magistrate, Ahmedabad: (SCC p. 203, para 21)

"21. In spite of law laid down above by this Court repeatedly over the past three decades, the Executive, namely, the State Government and its officers continue to behave in their old, lethargic fashion and like all other files rusting in the secretariat for various reasons including red tapism, the representation made by a person deprived of his liberty, continue to be dealt with in the same fashion. The government and its officers will not give up their habit of maintaining a consistent attitude of lethargy. So also, this Court will not hesitate in quashing the order of detention to restore the 'liberty and freedom' to the person whose detention is allowed to become bad by the government itself on account of his representation not being disposed of at the earliest."

7. It is a constitutional obligation of the Government to consider the representation forwarded by the detenu without any delay. Though no period is prescribed by Article 22 of the Constitution for the decision to be taken on the representation the words "as soon as may be" in clause (5) of Article 22 convey the message that the representation should be considered and disposed of at the earliest. But that does not mean that the authority is pre-empted from explaining any delay which would have occasioned in the disposal of the representation. The Court can certainly consider whether the delay was occasioned due to permissible reasons or unavoidable causes. This position has been well delineated by a constitution Bench of this Court in K.M. Abdulla Kunhi and B.L. Abdul Khader vs. Union of India and others (1991 (1) SC 476). The following observations of the Bench canprofitable be extracted here:(SCC p. 484, para 12)

"It is a constitutional mandate commanding the concerned authority to whom the detenu submits his representation to consider the representation and dispose of the same as expeditiously as possible. The words "as soon as may be" occurring in clause (5) of Article 22 reflects the concern of the Framers that the representation should be expeditiously considered and disposed of with a sense of urgency without an avoidable delay. However, there can be no hard and fast rule in this regard. It depends upon the facts and circumstances of each case. There is no period prescribed either under the Constitution or under the concerned detention law, within which the representation should be dealt with. The requirement however, is that there should not be supine indifference, slackness or callous attitude in considering the representation. Any unexplained delay in the disposal of representation would be a breach of the constitutional imperative and it would render the continued detention impermissible and illegal."

8. The position, therefore, now is that if delay was caused on account of any indifference or lapse in considering the representation such delay will adversely affect further detention of the prisoner. In other words, it is for the authority concerned to explain the delay, it any, in disposing the representation. It is not enough to say that the delay was very short. Even longer delay can as well be explained. So the test is not the duration or range of delay, but how it is explained by the authority concerned."

10. In the judgment of Rajammal (Supra) the Supreme Court held that an unexplained delay of 05 days from 09.02.1998 to 14.02.1998 in deciding the representation of detenue vitiated his continued detention. The relevant part of the said judgment is extracted herein below:-

"9. What happened in this case was that the Government which received remarks from different authorities submitted the relevant files before the Under Secretary for processing it on the next day. The Under Secretary forwarded it to the Deputy Secretary on the next working day. Thus there is some explanation for the delay till 9.2.1998. Thereafter the file was submitted before the Minister who received it while he was on tour. The Minister passed the order only on 14.2.1998. Though there is explanation for the delay till 9.2.1998, we are unable to find out any explanation whatsoever as for the delay which occurred thereafter. Merely stating that the Minister was on tour and hence he could pass orders only on 14.2.1998 is not a justifiable explanation, when the liberty of a citizen guaranteed under Article 21 of the Constitution is involved. Absence of the Minister at the Headquarters is not sufficient to justify the delay, since the file could be reached the Minister with utmost promptitude in cases involving the vitally important fundamental right of a citizen.

11. We are, therefore, of the opinion that the delay from 9.2.1998 to 14.2.1998 remains unexplained and such unexplained delay has vitiated further detention of the detenu. The corollary thereof is that further detention must necessarily be disallowed. We therefore allow this appeal and set aside the impugned judgment. We direct the appellant-detenu to be set at large forthwith."

11. From the above judgment of the three Judge Bench of the Hon'ble Supreme Court the legal principle which comes out is that if there is a delay in deciding the representation of a detenue the same is to be explained by the concerned authority. It is not the duration of delay, rather cause for delay is relevant. The authority is duty bound to explain delay, if any, in deciding the representation by demonstrating that it was actually necessary for the authorities to work on the same during the intervening period without which they could not have effectively dealt with the representation. A Division Bench of this Court in Habeas Corpus Writ Petition No. 390 of 2019 (Sonu @ Firoz vs. State of U.P. and others) quashed the detention order due to unexplained delay from 22.12.2018 to 27.12.2018 i.e. of 05 days in not submitting the comments / report called for from the sponsoring authority. In the present case from the supplementary affidavit dated 20.01.2020 it is not evident that what was the reason that compelled the officer concerned to call for an independent report from the Central Agency. The delay in deciding the representation for the period 23.08.2019 to 12.09.2019 (19 days) clearly shows that it was without any explanation.

12. Thus we hold that the delay of 19 days in furnishing the independent report by the Central Agency remained unexplained. The officer dealing with the representation of the petitioner acted in a most irresponsible and negligent manner and has failed to account for the reason as to why did he call for the report from the Central Agency.

13. We in view of above discussion are of the considered opinion that the right of the petitioner under Article 22 (5) of the Constitution of India was seriously infringed, rendering his detention as illegal. The petition is allowed. The order of detention dated 26.07.2019 is quashed. The petitioner shall be set at liberty forthwith unless wanted in any other case. No order as to costs.

A. Constitution of India,1950 – Article 226— Habeas Corpus petition – National Security Act, 1980 - Section 3(2) - Detention – validity of detention under challenge – logically that if no bail application is pending, then there is no likelihood of the person in custody being released on bail, and hence the detention order will be illegal - the impugned detention order legally unsustainable - detention order illegal.(Para- 7,9)

In this petition, the validity of the detention of petitioner (detenu) has been challenged - He has been detained by the District Magistrate under Section 3 (2) of the National Security Act, 1980 - The impugned order of preventive detention was passed against the petitioner while he was confined to District Jail, Meerut on account of his being accused in following fifteen cases - the applicant had not moved any bail application in two out of the fifteen cases pending against him. (Para-2,3,4)

Held :- The detaining authority could not reasonably conclude that there was likelihood of the petitioner being released on bail even though no bail application of his was pending. (Para-8)

Impugned order set-aside. (E-7)

1. The argument of this case was concluded on 19.09.2018. We then made the following order:-

4. Learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that in the instant case, it is evident from the perusal of the grounds of detention that the applicant had not moved any bail application in two out of the fifteen cases pending against him namely in Case Crime No. 221 of 2018 u/s 147, 148, 149, 323, 504, 506, 332, 336, 325, 352, 353, 307, 395, 397, 452, 427, 342, 436, 188, 120-B I.P.C. & Section ¾ of Prevention of Damage to Public Property Act & Section 7 of Criminal Law Amendment Act and Case Crime No. 359 of 2018 u/s 25/27/30 of Arms Act and hence, the satisfaction recorded by the detaining authority in the impugned order that there was possibility of the detenu being released and if released on bail, he was likely to indulge in activities prejudicial to the maintenance of public order, is totally vitiated and suffers from non-application of mind by the detaining authority to the material on record and hence, the impugned detention order cannot be sustained and is liable to be set-aside. In support of his aforesaid submissions, learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon decision of the Apex Court in the case of Rekha v. State of Tamil Nadu through Secretary to Government and another reported in (2011) 2 SCC 596 = 2011 (73) ACC 936 (SC) = 2011 (101) AIC 73.

5. Per contra Smt. Manju Thakur, learned A.G.A.-I submitted that the impugned detention order does not suffer from any illegality or infirmity requiring any interference by this Court. She further submitted that there was sufficient material before the respondent no. 2 justifying his belief that in case the detenu was released on bail, he would again indulge in activities disturbing the public order.

6. We have very carefully scanned the impugned order and the grounds of detention and also the counter affidavits filed on behalf of the respondent nos. 1 to 4 in this writ petition and we are constrained to observe that the satisfaction recorded by the respondent no. 2 in the impugned order that there was likelihood of the detenu being released on bail despite being fully conscious of the fact that the petitioner had not moved any bail application in Case Crime Nos. 221 of 2018 and 359 of 2018, is in our opinion, wholly unjustified and per se illegal. There was no likelihood of his being released even if he was granted bail in the other six cases pending against him. We stand fortified in our view by the decision of the Apex Court in the case of Rekha (supra).

7. The Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph 27 of its judgment rendered in the case of Rekha (supra) has observed as hereunder :-

"27. In our opinion, there is a real possibility of release of a person on bail who is aleady in custody provided he has moved a bail application which is pending. It follows logically that if no bail application is pending, then there is no likelihood of the person in custody being released on bail, and hence the detention order will be illegal. However, there can be an exception to this rule, that is, where a co-accused whose case stands on the same footing had been granted bail. In such cases, the detaining authority can reasonably conclude that there is likelihood of the detenu being released on bail even though no bail application of his is pending, since most Courts normally grant bail on this ground. However, details of such alleged similar cases must be given, otherwise the bald statement of the authority cannot be believed."

8. The instant case is not covered under the exception carved out to the general proposition of law laid down by the Apex Court in the case of Rekha (supra). It is nobody's case that in the two cases in which the petitioner had not moved any bail application, any co-accused whose case stood on the same footing, had been granted bail and hence, the detaining authority could not reasonably conclude that there was likelihood of the petitioner being released on bail even though no bail application of his was pending in the aforesaid cases.

9. In view of the above, the impugned order cannot be sustained and is liable to be set-aside.

10. These are the reasons upon which we had set-aside the impugned order dated 08.05.2018 passed by the respondent no. 2, District Magistrate, Meerut.

List of cases cited:-

Salem Advocate Bar Association, T.N vs UOI 2005 (6) SCC 344

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rakesh Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Shri Bajrang Bahadur Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner.

2. This petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India has been filed challenging the order date 19.11.2015, passed by the Civil Judge (Junior Division), Room No. 15, Sultanpur, in Regular Suit No. 258 of 1990 (Hari Prasad and another v. Ram Autar and others) and the order dated 24.08.2016, passed by the Additional District Judge, Room No. 4, Sultanpur, in Civil Revision No. 124 of 2015 (Narendra Kumar Nikhar v. Hari Prasad and others).

3. The basic facts of the matter are not in dispute. On 09.11.1990, the plaintiffs - Hari Prasad and Kamla Devi, respondent nos. 3 and 4 herein, filed a suit (Regular Suit No. 258 of 1990 in the court of District Judge, Sultanpur) against Ram Autar and his three sons namely Ravindra Kumar, Virendra Kumar and Narendra Kumar, for declaration of title and permanent injunction with regards to House No. 98, situated at Mohalla-Shahganj, Murari Das Ki Gali, Pargana-Meeranpur, Tehsil & District Sultanpur.

4. Summons were served upon the defendants on 30.4.1991. Ram Autar (the first defendant) filed his written statement. On 18.08.1994 issues were framed. After exchange of pleadings the suit was posted for evidence of the plaintiffs on 05.03.2002. Issue no. 8 was decided on 07.01.2003. On 21.12.2003 Ram Autar died. The sons of Ram Autar were already party in the suit and as such his daughters, Usha Nikhar and Asha, respondent no. 7 and 8 herein, were substituted as his legal representatives. On 23.01.2006 the evidence of the plaintiffs was closed and the matter was posted for the evidence of the defendants, if any. On 23.02.2006, Usha Nikhar and Virendra Kumar (the third defendant) filed their joint written statement which was taken on record. On 26.02.2006 the opportunity to adduce evidence of the petitioner (the fourth defendant) was closed. However, on the application of the petitioner the said order was recalled. The petitioner, thereafter, filed his evidence in the shape of affidavit.

5. On 10.09.2015, the petitioner moved an application (384Ga-2) seeking permission to file his written statement. In his application the petitioner inter alia stated that the first defendant had filed the written statement on his own behalf; that the petitioner had not moved any application adopting the said written statement; that because of the mistake on the part of the petitioner's counsel, written statement on his behalf could not be filed.

6. The respondent nos. 3 and 4 filed their objections to the said application contending inter alia that the said application was not maintainable; and that the petitioner had not made out any substantial ground to condone the delay of more than 24 years in filing the written statement.

7. By the order dated 19.11.2015, the trial Judge rejected the application of the petitioner on the ground that on the basis of the written statement filed by the first defendant, the petitioner had already filed his affidavit by way of evidence and the matter was being posted for his cross examination. There was an order passed by this Court for expeditious disposal of the suit in a petition filed by respondent no. 9 (the third defendant). In these circumstances, it was not proper to give an opportunity to the petitioner to file his written statement at this stage. The revision filed by the petitioner against the said order was dismissed by the Additional District Judge for the same reason. Both these orders are under challenge in this petition.

8. Learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the trial Court was obliged to grant time to the petitioner to file his written statement. In case the petitioner is not granted time, he shall suffer irreparable loss.

9. Order 8 Rule 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 was amended by Act No. 22/2002 w.e.f. 01.07.2002. Order VIII Rule 1, after the amendment, casts an obligation on the defendant to file written statement within 30 days from the date of service of summons on him. The proviso thereto stipulates that where the defendant fails to file the written statement within the said period of 30 days, he shall be allowed to file the same on such other day, as may be specified by the court, for reasons to be recorded in writing, but shall not be later than 90 days from the date of service of summons. However, the Apex Court has repeatedly held that the extension of time for filing of the written statement cannot be allowed in a routine manner.

10. In Kailash v. Nanhku, (2005) 4 SCC 480 though the Apex Court has held that the period of 90 days prescribed for filing written statement was directory in nature but in the same breath has held that time for filing written statement can be extended only in exceptional circumstances for reasons which were beyond the control of the defendant. The relevant portion of the report is extracted below:-

"42. Ordinarily, the time schedule prescribed by Order 8 Rule 1 has to be honoured. The defendant should be vigilant. No sooner the writ of summons is served on him he should take steps for drafting his defence and filing the written statement on the appointed date of hearing without waiting for the arrival of the date appointed in the summons for his appearance in the court. The extension of time sought for by the defendant from the court whether within 30 days or 90 days, as the case may be, should not be granted just as a matter of routine and merely for the asking, more so, when the period of 90 days has expired. The extension can be only by way of an exception and for reasons assigned by the defendant and also recorded in writing by the court to its satisfaction. It must be spelled out that a departure from the time schedule prescribed by Order 8 Rule 1 of the Code was being allowed to be made because the circumstances were exceptional, occasioned by reasons beyond the control of the defendant and such extension was required in the interest of justice, and grave injustice would be occasioned if the time was not extended."

11. The same view has been expressed by the Apex Court in the case of Salem Advocate Bar Association, Tamil Nadu v. Union of India, (2005) 6 SCC 344, in the following words:

"21. ...There is no restriction in Order 8 Rule 10 that after expiry of ninety days, further time cannot be granted. The court has wide power to "make such order in relation to the suit as it thinks fit". Clearly, therefore, the provision of Order 8 Rule 1 providing for the upper limit of 90 days to file written statement is directory. Having said so, we wish to make it clear that the order extending time to file written statement cannot be made in routine. The time can be extended only in exceptionally hard cases. While extending time, it has to be borne in mind that the legislature has fixed the upper time-limit of 90 days. The discretion of the court to extend the time shall not be so frequently and routinely exercised so as to nullify the period fixed by Order 8 Rule 1." (emphasis supplied)

12. Coming back to the facts of the present matter, the suit filed by the respondent nos. 3 and 4 is of the year 1990. More than 26 years have passed since the date of institution of the suit. The petitioner was a party in the said suit from the very beginning, but he failed to file any written statement. The petitioner is a literate person and is working as a Lekhpal, and as such he was fully aware of the ongoing proceedings. The petitioner had full opportunity to file his written statement but he chose not to do the same. It is not the case of the petitioner that he was not aware about the suit. There is no convincing and cogent reason provided by the petitioner for not filing his written statement for such an extremely long period of time, and therefore, at this distance of time, the petitioner cannot be permitted to file written statement.

13. The petition is devoid of merit and is accordingly dismissed

B. Held, this Court has carefully examined the village map, a copy of which, has been filed as Annexure-9 to the petition. Plot no.381, 1/4th part of which had been bought by the petitioner through the Sale Deed executed on 16.6.20017, has been shown as Domat-1 in the village map. Domat-1 is a category of soil, on the basis of which, land revenue or "lagaan' is determined for agricultural land, but the village map does not show the property in question to be situated in the middle of village Abadi. This Court fails to understand as to when power was given to respondent no.4 to make an on the spot inspection of the property in question, then why the same was not exercised and on the spot inspection was not carried out and the ex-parte report of the Sub Registrar, Mohammdi, Lakhimpur Kheri alone was relied upon in passing the orders impugned. Writ petition stands allowed.

9. Ramesh Chand Bansal and others vs. District Magistrate/Collector, Ghaziabad and others, AIR 1999 SC 2126

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Sangeeta Chandra, J.)

1. This petition has been filed by the petitioner challenging the order dated 5.2.2010 passed by the Appellate Authority, rejecting the appeal of the petitioner against the order passed by the Collector, Lakhimpur Kheri dated 26.2.2008 and also the order dated 26.2.2008.

2. Brief facts of the case, as have been stated in the writ petition, are to the effect that the petitioner purchased 1/4th portion of Plot no.381 ad-measuring 0.271 hectare of agricultural land through a registered Sale Deed dated 16.6.2007. The said Sale Deed was registered as Sale Deed no.5008 of 2007 before the Sub Registrar, Mohammdi, Lakhimpur Kheri after paying the requisite fee of registration and stamp duty etc. as per Circle Rate fixed by the District Magistrate, Lakhimpur Kheri.

3. It has been submitted by the learned counsel for the petitioner that the Sub Registrar, Mohammdi, Lakhimpur Kheri filed a wrong report, annexing an incomplete map of the area, where the land in question was situated on 30.8.2007 and recommended to the Collector and the Assistant Commissioner (Stamp) for action to be initiated under Section 33 of the Indian Stamp Act (for short "the Act') read with Section 47-A of the Act, indicating a deficiency of Rs.25,070/- as deficiency of stamp duty (Rs.4460/- as registration fees). A notice was issued to the petitioner on 5.11.2007 by the Assistant Commissioner (Stamp) and the petitioner submitted his written objection, stating that the land in question is agricultural in nature and his crops are standing thereon and it was not used for any residential purposes and that a spot inspection may be carried out by the Tehsildar concerned. The objection of the petitioner was ignored and the recommendation report of the Sub Registrar, Mohammdi, Lakhimpur Kheri was confirmed by the Collector, Lakhimpur Kheri by his order dated 26.2.2008, also imposing penalty of Rs.25,070- and Rs.3760/- as interest.

4. The petitioner being aggrieved, filed an appeal before respondent no.2, namely Appeal no.129/466/2008-09 under Section 56 of the Act and also deposited Rs.19,454/- i.e. 1/3rd of the amount of fine and stamp duty in the Treasury. On 2.12.2008, the Appellate Authority stayed the implementation of the order dated 26.2.2008. Later, however, the appeal was rejected and the order of respondent no.4 was affirmed by the Appellate Authority.

5. It has been argued by the learned counsel for the petitioner that at the time of purchase, execution and registration of Sale Deed, the land in question was recorded as agricultural land in the revenue records. Till date, no notification under Section 143 of the U.P.Z.A. and L.R. Act has been issued by the competent authority, declaring it as land used for non agricultural purposes. It has been submitted that there are several judgments of this Court, which hold that stamp duty is to be charged on the property in accordance with its present status and not its future potential. The valuation cannot be determined on a presumption that the land is situated in close proximity of Abadi area or on the presumption that the land is intended to be used for the purpose other than agricultural.

6. Learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the khasra of the land in question i.e. the field book of village Kunwarpur shows that crops of sugarcane, potato, and onion was being sown on the land in question.

7. Learned Standing Counsel, on the basis of counter affidavit filed on behalf of the respondents has submitted that within two months of the date of purchase of the property in question, the site was inspected by the Sub Registrar, Mohammdi, Lakhimpur Kheri on 30.8.2007 and he submitted his report, finding that the Sale Deed had been executed and the stamp duty paid, showing the property in question to be used for agricultural purposes, whereas the purchaser had bought the property in question for residential purposes. It was found that no crop was sown in the property in question. Instead, it was being used for drying cow-dung cakes to be used as fuel. Moreover, the boundaries shown in the Sale Deed were also misrepresented. It was found on inspection that on the eastern side of the plot in question, there was the field of Ganga Ram. On the west, there was a eight feet wide road and thereafter, the residence of Saligram and also the Sahan of Saligram on the northern side of the plot and on the southern side, there was a vacant land. Since the land in question was situated in the midst of Abadi of the village, it was rightly inferred by the Sub Registrar, Mohammdi, Lakhimpur Kheri that the same had been purchased for residential purposes.

8. It has also been submitted that the procedure prescribed under the Rules was followed and proper opportunity of hearing was given to the petitioner by issuing a notice to him on 5.11.2007 and then the order impugned was passed. The Collector had found that at the time when the Sale Deed was executed, the Circle Rate determined by the District Magistrate for village Abadi was Rs.500/- per square meter. The property in question being 1/4th area of Plot no.381 ad-measuring 678.94 square meters, on the basis of the Circle Rate determined by the District Magistrate, its value was Rs.33,40,000/-, and on such value Rs.27,200 was payable as stamp duty and Rs.5020/- as registration fees. The petitioner, on the other hand, had paid only Rs.2170/- as stamp duty and Rs.540/- as registration fee, therefore, deficiency in stamp duty, deficiency in registration fee and penalty was imposed and as per Rules, the same was payable with 1.5% interest per month to be charged from the date of execution of Sale Deed till the date of actual payment.

9. With regard to the submissions made by the learned counsel for the petitioner that the field book showed that sugarcane crop, potato crop and onion crop were being sown on the plot in question, it has been stated in the counter affidavit that the entries in the filed book cannot be treated to be final in such a case. Moreover, Collector had rightly found from a perusal of the map of the village submitted by the petitioner along with his reply to the show cause notice that the plot in question was situated in the middle of village Abadi and there was a valid presumption drawn that it can be used for residential purposes.

10. With regard to the contention raised in the writ petition that no declaration/notification under Section 143 of the U.P.Z.A. and L.R. Act had been made by the competent authority, it has been stated in the counter affidavit that the petitioner cannot derive any benefit out of his own wrong. The petitioner was supposed to get declaration under Section 143 of the U.P.Z.A. and L.R. Act issued from the appropriate authority.

11. Learned counsel for the petitioner while arguing the case, has placed reliance upon several decisions of the coordinate Benches of this Court, namely, (i) Smt. Neelam Gupta Vs. Commissioner, Kanpur Division, reported in (2007) (25) LCD 36;

(ii) Naresh Kumar Sonkar Vs. State of U.P. and Others, reported in [2008 (26) LCD 1590]; (iii) *Surendra Singh and Another Vs. Pushpa Sareen vs. State of U.P., reported in 2015 (3) ADJ 136.

12. Learned counsel for the petitioner has also placed reliance upon two judgments of the Supreme Court in the cases of Smt. Prakashwati vs. Chief Controlling Revenue Authority, Board of Revenue, U.P. at Allahabad and others, (1996) 4 SCC 657 and State of U.P. and other vs. Ambrish Tandon and another, (2012) 5 SCC 566.

13. Learned Standing Counsel, on the other hand, has placed reliance upon two judgments rendered by this Court in Writ Petition No.1494 (MS) of 2009: Shakeel Ahmad vs. Additional Commissioner, Judicial, Faizabad, decided on 16.5.2019, and Writ Petition No.3126 (MS) of 2009: Hridya Narayan Mishra vs. Commissioner, Allahabad Division and another, decided on 21.2.2019.

14. Having heard the learned counsel for the parties, this Court has perused the impugned order passed by respondent no.4 dated 26.2.2008. From a perusal thereof, it appears that the proceedings under Section 33/47-A of the Act were initiated on a report submitted by the Sub Registrar, Mohammdi, Lakhimpur Kheri dated 30.8.2007 regarding deficiency in stamp duty and registration fee with regard to the property in question. The petitioner was issued a notice and he filed his reply. The respondent no.4 found that the plot Inspection report stated that the property in question had been wrongly shown to be used for agricultural purposes and its boundaries had also been wrongly shown. No crop was found to be sown on the property in question and it being surrounded on the western side by eight feet wide road and on the other three sides by residential houses and properties and being situated in the middle of the village Abadi, was liable to be charged at the Circle Rate determined by the Collector @ Rs.500/- per square meter for residential purpose. Not only the boundaries were wrongly shown of the plot in question, but no crop was found to be sown in the property and it was being used for drawing cow-dung cakes for fuel. The respondent no.4, therefore, found deficiency in stamp duty and imposed penalty, amounting to total of Rs.54,600/- and also directed payment of interest @ 1.5% per month from the date of execution of Sale Deed till the date of actual payment.

15. In the order passed by the Appellate Authority also, the same facts that were mentioned by the Collector in the impugned order, have been reiterated and the order of the respondent no.4 has been affirmed by the respondent no.2.

16. In the judgments, that have been relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioner, passed by various coordinate Benches of this Court, few main points have been reiterated that relate to non declaration of the property to be used for non agricultural purposes under Section 143 of the U.P.Z.A. and L.R. Act, and also that future or intended use of the property in question would not determine the stamp duty payable in respect of agricultural land.

17. The coordinate Benches have also referred to the judgments of this Court and of the Supreme Court that situation of the land in a semi urban area or near a residential colony cannot lead to a presumption that the land in question shall be used for residential purposes.

18. A Full Bench of this Court in Smt. Pushpa Sareen (supra) has taken care of such judgments of Hon'ble Single Judges and Division Benches in Paras 21 and 23 of the said report. Paras 21 and 23 are being quoted hereinbelow:

"21. The attention of the Court has been drawn to certain judgments of the learned Single Judges of this Court which had taken the view that the market value of the land could not be determined with reference to the use of the land to which the buyer intends to put it in future.

23. In certain judgments of the learned Single Judges of this Court, a view had been taken that the authorities are required to determine the value of the land on the date on which the sale was made and cannot consider the potential value of the land to which it could be put to use in future. Smt. Kusum Lata Jaiswal vs. State of U.P. and others, 2010(2) ADJ 274. Similarly in Dinesh Tiwari vs. Commissioner, Gorakhpur and others, 2012(3) AWC 2343: 2011(10) ADJ 1 (NOC), it was held that the Collector had no power to assess the market value of the property on the basis of a future value which the property may acquire."

19. The Full Bench thereafter considered the question whether the Collector has power to fix the valuation of a plot on the assumption that it is likely to be used for commercial purposes/residential purposes and whether the presumed future prospective use of the land can be a criterion for valuation by the Collector.

20. The Full Bench in Smt. Pushpa Sareen (supra) has referred to object of the Indian Stamp Act as was discussed by the Supreme Court in Ramesh Chand Bansal and others vs. District Magistrate/Collector, Ghaziabad and others, AIR 1999 SC 2126 (Para-5 thereof). It has been submitted that the object of the Indian Stamp Act is to protect the State revenue. The Supreme Court observed in Para-5 as follows:

"5. .....It is matter for common knowledge in order to escape such duty by unfair practice, many a time under valuation of a property or lower consideration is mentioned in a sale deed. The imposition of stamp duty on sale deeds are on the actual market value of such property and not the value described in the instrument. Thus, an obligation is cast on authority to properly ascertain its true value for which he is not bound by the apparent tenor of the instrument. He has to truly decide the real nature of the transaction and value of such property. For this, Act empowers an authority to charge stamp duty on the instrument presented before it for registration. The market value of a property may vary from village to village; from location to location and even may differ from the sizes of area and other relevant factors. This apart there has to be some material before such authority as to what is likely value of such property in that area. In its absence it would be very difficult for such Registering Authority to assess the valuation of such instrument. It is to give such support to the Registering Authority the Rule 340-A is introduced. Under this Collector has to satisfy himself based on various factors mentioned therein before recording the circle rate, which would at best be the prima facie rate of that area concerned. This is merely a guideline which helps the Registering Authority to assess the true valuation of a transaction in an instrument. This gives him material to test prima facie whether description of valuation in an instrument is proper or not.... Reading Section 47-A with the aforesaid Rule 340-A it is clear that the circle rate fixed by the Collector is not final but is only a prima facie determination of rate of an area concerned only to give guidance to the Registering Authority to test prima facie whether the instrument has properly described the value of the property. The circle rate under this Rule is neither final for the authority nor to one subjected to pay the stamp duty. So far sub-sections (1) and (2) it is very limited in its application as it only directs the Registering Authority to refer to the Collector for determination in case property is under valued in such instrument. The circle rate does not take away the right of such person to show that the property in question is correctly valued as he gets an opportunity in case of under valuation to prove it before the Collector after reference is made. This also marks the dividing line for the exercise of power between the Registering Authority and the Collector. In case the valuation in the instrument is same as recorded in the circle rate or is truly described it could be registered by Registering Authority but in case it is under valued in terms of sub-section (1) or sub-section (2), it has to be referred and decided by the Collector. Thus, the circle rate, as aforesaid, is merely a guideline and is also indicative of division of exercise of power between the Registering Authority and the Collector."

21. Thereafter, the Full Bench in Para-27 of the report held as under:

"27. Undoubtedly, the Collector is not permitted to launch upon a speculative inquiry about the prospective use to which a land may be put to use at an uncertain future date. The market value of the property has to be determined with reference to the use to which the land is capable reasonably of being put to immediately or in the proximate future. The possibility of the land becoming available in the immediate or near future for better use and enjoyment reflects upon the potentiality of the land. This potential has to be assessed with reference to the date of the execution of the instrument. In other words, the power of the Collector cannot be unduly circumscribed by ruling out the potential to which the land can be advantageously deployed at the time of the execution of the instrument or a period reasonably proximate thereto.

Again the use to which land in the area had been put is a material consideration. If the land surrounding the property in question has been put to commercial use, it would be improper to hold that this is a circumstance which should not weigh with the Collector as a factor which influences the market value of the land." (Emphasis Supplied)

22. The Full Bench considered the fact that the land may be put to some other use at a later point of time, but that may not be a relevant criteria for deciding the value for the purpose of stamp duty as held by the Supreme Court in the case of Ambrish Tandon (supra).

23. The Full Bench, nevertheless in Para-28 observed thus:

"28. .....Where, however, the potential of the land can be assessed on the date of the execution of the instrument itself, that is clearly a circumstance which is relevant and germane to the determination of the true market value. At the same time, the exercise before the Collector has to be based on adequate material and cannot be a matter of hypothesis or surmise. The Collector must have material on the record to the effect that there has been a change of use or other contemporaneous sale deeds in respect of the adjacent areas that would have a bearing on the market value of the property which is under consideration."

(Emphasis Supplied)

24. In view of the observations made by the Full Bench of this Court, the Collector, no doubt was entitled to issue notice on the basis of Spot Inspection Report submitted by the Sub Registrar, Mohammdi, Lakhimpur Kheri, but the procedure thereafter prescribed under the Rules was not followed.

25. Under the U.P. Stamp Valuation of Property Rules, 1997, Rule-7 provides the procedure on receipt of a Reference or when suo motu action is proposed under Section 47-A of the Act. Rule 7(2)(c) provides that the Collector may inspect the property after due notice to parties to the instrument.

26. The complete reading of the aforesaid Rule clearly indicates that while deciding the proceedings under Section 47-A of the Act, the Collector or any other officer authorized to determine stamp duty, is required to make an inspection after due notice to the parties to the instrument. The proceedings under Section 47-A of the Act shall not be decided merely placing reliance on the ex-parte report of the Sub Registrar or the Tehsildar for that purpose.

27. In the case at hand, the petitioner has stated in the writ petition that the Sub Registrar, Mohammdi, Lakhimpur Kheri inspected the property in question on 30.8.2007 without notice to the petitioner and an ex-parte report was submitted. The petitioner disputed the report by annexing copies of the field book and all the land records i.e. khasra and khatauni, showing that the land was not only recorded as land for agricultural purposes in the khatauni, but was actually being used for agricultural purposes in khasra. A dispute having been raised, an inspection ought to have been carried out by respondent no.4. He took a shortcut instead. He examined the map of the village concerned and as mentioned in the order impugned that the land in question was surrounded by Abadi land of the village, therefore, a presumption was drawn that the land in question would be used for residential purposes.

28. This Court has carefully examined the village map, a copy of which, has been filed as Annexure-9 to the petition. Plot no.381, 1/4th part of which had been bought by the petitioner through the Sale Deed executed on 16.6.20017, has been shown as Domat-1 in the village map. Domat-1 is a category of soil, on the basis of which, land revenue or "lagaan' is determined for agricultural land, but the village map does not show the property in question to be situated in the middle of village Abadi.

29. This Court fails to understand as to when power was given to respondent no.4 to make an on the spot inspection of the property in question, then why the same was not exercised and on the spot inspection was not carried out and the ex-parte report of the Sub Registrar, Mohammdi, Lakhimpur Kheri alone was relied upon in passing the orders impugned.

30. The orders impugned dated 26.02.2008 and 05.02.2010 are set aside.

31. The petitioner has already deposited Rs.19,454/- before the Appellate Authority in the nature of a pre-deposit for filing of appeal and has also deposited Rs.15,000/- in pursuance of the conditional interim order granted by this Court on 24.2.2010. The same shall be returned to the petitioner on appropriate application being made by the petitioner to the competent authority.

32. The writ petition stands allowed.

A. Civil Law-Civil procedure Code, 1908-O-XXXIX R-1 & 2 and Sec 151-Petitioner-challenging order-rejecting-temporary injunction application-seeking direction-restraining respondents from using the sahan land-as raasta-no final finding-by the Court-regarding-title or claim of the petitioner—prima facie finding-based on revenue records-property in dispute-be raasta-no infirmity in the order-Petition Dismissed.

B. Held, this Court considered the three ingredients for grant of temporary injunction under Order 39 Rule 1 and 2 CPC i.e. prima facie case, balance of convenience and irreparable loss. In this judgment again this Court held that ultimately it is for the court to decide whether in the facts and circumstances of the case it is necessary to protect the property which is subject matter of suit. Also it observed that if a party fails to prove prima facie case to go for trial, it is not open to the court to grant interim injunction in his favour even if he made out a case for balance of convenience being in his favour and that he would suffer irreparable loss or injury if no injunction order is granted. This Court finds from the orders impugned that no final finding has been arrived at with regard to the title or the claim of the petitioner to the land in dispute to be used by him as sahan. Only a prima facie finding has been recorded that in the revenue records, Plot no.580 has been recorded as raasta and in the Amin Commissioner's report also, it was found to be used by other persons as well and that the houses of other persons were opening there on the disputed piece of land.

4. Manohar Lal Chopra vs. Rai Bahadur Rao Seth Hiralal AIR 1962 SC 527

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner and perused the orders impugned.

2. The petitioner is aggrieved by the order dated 18.9.2019 passed by the Civil Judge (Junior Division), Shravasti, rejecting the application of the petitioner for temporary injunction in Regular Suit No.36/2017 (Matawar Prasad vs. Jagdish and others) and the order dated 13.1.2020 passed by the District Judge, Shrawasti in Misc. Civil Appeal No.22/2019.

3. It is the case of the petitioner that he filed a regular suit for permanent injunction against the private respondents, who are the Gram Pradhan and his two brothers saying that the petitioner has a house situated in village Parsiya and his house is in two parts; one part of the house is used for residence and the remaining is used for Ghari, Bhusaila and Charani for cattle, where he has also installed his machinery. In between two parts of the residential houses and Bhusaila, there is a sahan land, which is also used as ingress and egress of tractor and trolley belonging to the petitioner. The sahan land is now being tried to be converted into public raasta by the respondent nos.3 to 5 due to panchayat election rivalry. The sahan land is marked as A, B, C and D in the map annexed with the plaint and that the respondents no.3 to 5 be restrained from using the sahan land as raasta and making it into the kharanja marg. On the case being registered and notice being issued, respondent nos.3 to 5 filed their objection to the application for temporary injunction, but in the meantime, the trial court had also passed an ex-parte interim order on the date of registration of the suit i.e. on 17.1.2017 that the parties shall maintain status quo over the land in question. After written statement and objections were filed, the petitioner filed his replication also. An Amin Commissioner was appointed by the learned trial court on 17.1.2017 on an application moved by the petitioner and the Amin Commissioner visited the land in question on 18.4.2017 and submitted his report. The petitioner filed his objection to the report of the Amin Commissioner. The learned trial court while deciding the application for temporary injunction Paper no.6A by the impugned order dated 18.9.2019, has rejected the petitioner's apprehension on the ground of failure to make out a prima facie case. The petitioner filed an appeal, which has also been rejected.

4. It has been pointed out that during the pendency of appeal, an interim order of maintenance of status quo had been granted by the appellate court, which has now merged with the order, rejecting the appeal. Hence the need arose to file this petition.

5. It has been submitted by the learned counsel for the petitioner that the learned trial court while passing the order impugned has misinterpreted the Amin's report and has taken the raasta mentioned in the revenue records as Gata no.580 to be the land on which the petitioner's sahan is situated, whereas the petitioner's house is situated on Abadi Gata no.669 and not on Gata no.580.

6. It has also been submitted by the learned counsel for the petitioner that while rejecting the application for temporary injunction, the learned trial court has failed to appreciate the principles for grant of temporary injunction and has conducted a mini trial, giving a finding against the petitioner.

7. Learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted on the basis of judgment rendered in Kendriya Karmchari Sahkari Grih Nirman Samiti Ltd. vs. New Okhla Industrial Development Authority, 2009 (27) LCD 185 that when the question of immovable property is involved, the trial court should have passed an order to maintain status quo. Learned counsel for the petitioner says that rejection of the application for temporary injunction may lead to irreparable loss being caused to the petitioner. He has referred to Para-9 of the judgment to buttress his argument.

8. Learned counsel for the petitioner has also placed reliance upon the judgment in Anupam Sahkari Avas Samiti Ltd. vs. Additional District Judge, Lucknow, 2006 (24) LCD 137, and has referred to Para-17 of the judgment to say that mini trial should not be conducted while considering the application for temporary injunction by the trial court.

9. Learned counsel for the petitioner has also placed reliance upon the judgment and order dated 17.2.2014 passed in Writ Petition No.962 (MS) of 2014 (Badadeen and another vs. Additional District Judge, Court no.3, Bahraich and others) to say that there is a difference between the prima facie case and prima facie title, which the trial court has failed to appreciate while considering the application for temporary injunction.

10. This Court has perused the impugned orders passed by the trial court, where the trial court after mentioning the facts as mentioned in the plaint has also mentioned the facts as mentioned in the objections to the application Paper no.6C by the defendants registered as Paper no.21A. The defendants had stated that the land in question is a public raasta on which, under the village development plan, kharanja has to be laid and not only the petitioner house is situated on the northern side of such raasta, but that of others including the defendants are situated on the northern side of such raasta. A mention has also been made of the fact that objection has been raised regarding non joinder of necessary party under Order 1 Rule 8 CPC as the petitioner in effect wants the Court to declare pubic raasta as his sahan. The Gram Panchayat is a necessary party and has not been impleaded. The learned trial court thereafter has considered the arguments raised by the leaned counsel for the plaintiffs that the land in question had been left by the plaintiffs themselves to be used as sahan and the Amin Commissioner had found it being used by the people but such people were the family members of the petitioner himself and not the members of general public. However it has rejected such argument by going through the Amin Commissioner's report which mentioned clearly that the land in dispute which the plaintiff was referring to as his sahan was being used by several people for going from the road to the pond on the other side. The revenue records also show Plot no.580 to be public raasta, therefore, no prima facie case was made out in favour of the plaintiff and since there was no prima facie case, there was no question of balance of convenience in favour of the plaintiff and irreparable loss being cause to the plaintiff.

11. The learned trial court has also considered the argument raised by the learned counsel for the plaintiff that the land in question is 15 feet wide on the western side and 17 feet wide on the eastern side, therefore, although it is 147 feet in length, it cannot be considered as public raasta, as for public raasta, both sides must be equal, but has observed that such argument cannot be appreciated as in villages, there is no planned development and, therefore, there may be a difference on the western and eastern side of the land in question, but from the nature of its measurements, it may still be considered to be a public raasta.

12. Learned counsel for the petitioner has stated that the petitioner had taken this ground in appeal that the land in question is situated at Plot no.669 and not on Plot no.580, which is marked as public way in revenue records, but it has not been appreciated correctly by the learned trial court.

13. The petitioner's argument regarding the land in question being situated in Abadi Gata no.669 and not in Gata no.580 recorded as public raasta has also been considered by the appellate court and it has rejected the same by saying that although the petitioner may have some case with regard to declaration of the land in dispute being situated at Gata nos.669 and not Gata no.580, but the fact that the revenue entries showed that it is part of Plot no.580 cannot be overlooked and the Civil Court cannot entertain any dispute with regard to revenue entries. If the appellant had any dispute regarding wrong marking of Plot no.580 in the revenue map of the village concerned, then he may approach the competent court for correction of the same.

14. This Court finds that whether the land in dispute is situated in Plot no.669 which is Abadi plot or Plot no.580, which is marked as public way in the revenue records and village map, is a question to be decided on the basis of the pleadings and evidence to be led before the appropriate court.

15. This Court has considered the order passed by the learned trial court, rejecting the application for temporary injunction and also the order passed by the appellate court and finds that there is a detailed consideration of the submissions made and also an appreciation of the revenue records and the report of Amin Commissioner. It cannot be said that the orders have been passed without application of mind to the case setup by the petitioner.

16. With regard to the illegality in the orders passed, as submitted by the learned counsel for the petitioner that the trial court has conducted a mini trial and has failed to appreciate the difference between the prima facie case and prima facie title, this Court finds that the argument can also be raised the other way round. From a bare perusal of the Amin Commissioner's report and the map that the petitioner had submitted along with the plaint and the map submitted by the defendants in their objections and written statement, it is evident that the land in question is 147 feet long and 15 to 17 feet wide on the western and eastern side respectively and not only the petitioner's house, Ghari, Bhusaila and Charani opened on the same but that of other houses also opened on the same. Therefore, it appears that the learned trial court and the appellate court did not commit any illegality in rejecting the application for temporary injunction as any temporary injunction in such matters would also affect the right of all others in the village without they being made a party or without the sitting Gram Panchayat being made a party. The contesting respondents/defendants have been impleaded by the petitioner in their personal capacity, although one of them is the Gram Pradhan and in the written statement it has come out that the land in question has been identified in the village development plan for laying kharanja i.e. brick soiling.

17. Now this Court considers the judgments cited by the learned counsel for the petitioner.

18. In the first case i.e. in Kendriya Karmchari Sahkari Grih Nirman Samiti Ltd. (supra), the petitioner was a Cooperative Housing Society which had allegedly purchased 292 bighas of land situated in village Chhalera of District Gautam Budh Nagar, commonly known as NOIDA, U.P. for housing purposes from the funds contributed by its members before acquisition by the State Government for establishment of NOIDA. After acquisition NOIDA wanted to allot the plots to the members of the Society in its planned developed sectors. NOIDA directed the Society to furnish list of bona fide members and also directed to deposit 40% of the premium. The plaintiff petitioner did so and in between 1994 to 1996, a total sum of Rs.36 crores had been deposited. The allotment of certain land was done by NOIDA initially but was later on cancelled on grounds of misrepresentation. The Society filed its civil suit along with an application for temporary injunction. The learned trial court held that by issuance of allotment letter, no legal right had been created in respect of the land in favour of the plaintiff Society. The application for temporary injunction was rejected by the trial court on 30.5.2006, which was appealed in a First Appeal From Order before this Court, which was being considered by the Division Bench.

The Division Bench came to the conclusion on the basis of evidence led that the trial court had proceeded in a matter as if it was going to finally conclude the hearing of a suit and held that when there is a question of title involved and decision is yet to be taken on the basis of material evidence, no final conclusion can be drawn. Learned trial court failed to appreciate in spite of cancellation of allotment. NOIDA had not returned a huge amount of 36 crores that the Society had deposited and NOIDA was enjoying its interest till the date of hearing of First Appeal by this Court. In such case, if interim injunction was refused only because of cancellation of allotment while the other Societies standing on equal footing had already got the allotment, it would act against the interest of the plaintiff. If today the land, which was allotted to the society, was given to a third party, right of such third party will accrue. In such circumstances, efforts of the appellant would be futile. The Division Bench made such observations in a First Appeal From Order and not in a petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India.

19. In Anupam Sahkari Avas Samiti Ltd. (supra), learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon Para-17. However, Para 17 cannot be read without reference to the fact in which this court made the observation. The petitioner was a housing society which had entered into a registered agreement of sale for a plot of land with private persons. Some part of land was sold of by a private person to the Society and the name of the Society was mutated in the revenue records. Later on private persons executed an unregistered sale deed in favour of another cooperative housing society for the rest of the land and the private housing society transferred the land to a third society, respondent no.2 through a registered sale deed. The third society tried to encroach upon the land of the petitioner society and the petitioner filed a suit along with an application for temporary injunction. The trial court had granted ex-parte temporary injunction directing the parties to maintain status quo and also directing the defendants to file their written statements. Feeling aggrieved by the order passed by the trial court an appeal was filed by the defendant which was allowed by the appellate court and therefore, petition was filed under Article 227 by the plaintiff praying for setting aside the order passed by the appellate court. This Court considered the fact that the right of the defendant had arisen on the basis of an unregistered sale deed.

It referred to the judgment rendered by the Supreme Court in Manohar Lal Chopra vs. Rai Bahadur Rao Seth Hiralal AIR 1962 SC 527, where it was held that the power of the competent court does not only flow from Order 39 Rule 1 and 2 CPC but also Section 151 of the CPC while relates to inherent power to make necessary the order in the interest of justice. The court can exercise its inherent jurisdiction under Section 151 CPC when it considers it necessary in the ends of justice to so do. It also referred to the judgment of the Supreme Court in Anand Prasad Agarwalla where the Supreme Court held that it may not be appropriate to hold a mini trial at the grant of temporary injunction. The plaintiff had approached the court on the basis of sale certificate issued in an auction sale. A presumption arose in favour of such person and unless the sale certificate was set aside or declared to be a nullity, it remained legally valid and in force and it could not be said that no right could be derived from such certificate and made the observation in Para-17 with regard to the claim of the petitioner before it.

20. In Babadeen (supra), this Court considered the three ingredients for grant of temporary injunction under Order 39 Rule 1 and 2 CPC i.e. prima facie case, balance of convenience and irreparable loss. In this judgment again this Court held that ultimately it is for the court to decide whether in the facts and circumstances of the case it is necessary to protect the property which is subject matter of suit. Also it observed that if a party fails to prove prima facie case to go for trial, it is not open to the court to grant interim injunction in his favour even if he made out a case for balance of convenience being in his favour and that he would suffer irreparable loss or injury if no injunction order is granted.

21. This Court finds from the orders impugned that no final finding has been arrived at with regard to the title or the claim of the petitioner to the land in dispute to be used by him as sahan. Only a prima facie finding has been recorded that in the revenue records, Plot no.580 has been recorded as raasta and in the Amin Commissioner's report also, it was found to be used by other persons as well and that the houses of other persons were opening there on the disputed piece of land.

22. This Court therefore, does not find any legal infirmity in the orders impugned. It is only one of the possible views that can be taken by the trial court and the appellate court and this Court under Article 227 enjoys a very limited jurisdiction to interfere in the orders passed by the subordinate courts.

23. The writ petition is dismissed. No order as to costs.

24. It is, however, clarified that the finding recorded by this Court in this order shall not prejudice the case of the petitioner, which is yet to be proved on the basis of evidence led by both the parties.

Counsel for the Respondents:

A. Child Labour (Prohibition & Regulation) Act, 1986-Sec.3-Petitioner-found guilty-vide impugned order-for employing person below-14 years of age-denying the fact-petitioner sumitted marks sheet-aged around 18 years-secs. 10 & 16- certificate granted by-prescribed medical officer-to be conclusive proof-child found to be 13 years old-as per medical certificate-Petition Dismissed.

B. Held, In the instant case it is clear that the prescribed authority has given his considered opinion and indicated the age of the child to be thirteen years and in light of Section 16 of the Act of 1986, and the said age having been determined by the prescribed authority shall be a conclusive evidence as to the age of the child. In the present case I am of the view that the age determined by the prescribed Medical Authority is thirteen years and therefore the proceedings drawn against the petitioner under the Act of 1986 clearly borne out. The petitioner has setup a case with regard to a person whose identity has been disputed. The photograph of the person setup by the petitioner does not match with the photograph which was taken at the time of incident which is also in the records of the respondents as well as the certificate issued by the Chief Medical Authority. In case such a stand was taken by the petitioner regarding identity then onus will go on the petitioner to prove to the satisfaction of the authorities concerned. While on the other hand the State has clearly proved that the offence has been committed by the petitioner by employing a person whose age has already been determined by the prescribed Medical Authority to be less than fourteen years.

Writ Petition dismissed. (E-8)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Alok Mathur, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Gulam Rabbani, learned counsel for the petitioner as well as learned Standing Counsel appearing for the respondents.

2. The petitioner has approached this Court being aggrieved by the order dated 09.07.2015 passed by the Deputy Labour Commissioner, Faizabad Division Faizabad, whereby petitioner has been found to be guilty of Section 3 of the Child Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Act, 1986 (hereinafter referred to as Act, 1986) and a penalty of Rs.20,000/- has been imposed upon him for employing the person below the age of fourteen years.

3. The brief facts of the case are that petitioner runs a Motor Cycle repairing shop in the name and style Pappu Hero Honda Repairing Centre, Mawai Chauraha Faizabad and on 13.08.2013 the Labour Enforcement Officer/ Inspector, Faizabad. Respondent No.4 came to the shop of the petitioner and found one Sonu to be working in the repair shop. On the basis of the aforesaid a show cause notice dated 18.12.2013 was given to the petitioner with direction to give a reply to the allegations stated therein with regard to the fact that he had employed a minor in his shop who was found during the inspection of the premises of the petitioner. The petitioner has submitted his reply on 12.02.2014 and denying the fact that he had employed any minor in his shop and submitted a marksheet of a student named as Shiv Kumar having the date of birth as 15.02.1996 and submitted that person so named in the show cause notice is not a minor and is aged around eighteen years and therefore there is no violation Section 3 of the of Act, 1986.

4. Subsequently another show cause notice was given to the petitioner by the Deputy Labour Commissioner, Faizabad dated 18.06.2014 reiterating the same facts. It has been submitted that reply of the said show cause notice could not be given. It is relevant to submit that the order dated 18.06.2014 as well as order dated 18.12.2013 are similarly worded and reply to the show cause notice 18.12.2013 was already been submitted by the petitioner. The impugned order was passed by the Deputy Labour Commissioner, Faizabad after taking into account the reply submitted by the petitioner.

5. The counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the impugned order is illegal and arbitrary, inasmuch as the person who was employed in the premises of the petitioner was not a minor and he had provided a copy of the High School Certificate of the said Sri Shiv Kumar, which indicates that he is nearly eighteen years of age.

6. In light of the above he has vehemently submitted that the impugned order is liable to be set-aside being passed contrary to the provisions of the Act.

7. Learned Standing Counsel on the other hand has supported the impugned. He has submitted that during the time of inspection on 13.08.2013 a minor was found to be working in the Motor Cycle repairing shop of the petitioner. He has further submitted that the age of the child was confirmed when he was produced before the Chief Medical Officer, Faizabad who after examining the boy issued a certificate dated 14.08.2013 indicating the boy age to be thirteen years. The photo of the person whose age was determined by the Chief Medical Officer was also affixed with a certificate issued by him.

8. It has been submitted that in light of the conclusive proof of the age of the person so found in the premises of the petitioner, there is a clear violation of Section 3 of the Act, 1986 for which the petitioner has been found to be guilty and penalty imposed thereupon.

9. I have heard the learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

10. The premises of the petitioner were inspected on 13.08.2013 and the said person was produced before the Chief Medical Officer who certified that the date of birth of Sonu is 13 years by the certificate dated 14.08.2013. The entire controversy in the present petition relates to the identity and the age of the person so found during inspection. The petitioner on one hand has submitted a High School Certificate of one person known as Shiv Kumar, whose date of birth has been shown as 15.02.1996 and has submitted that on the date when the premises were inspected he was not minor. While on the other hand the State has relied upon Medical Certificate issued by the Chief Medical Officer, who determined the age of the person who was found in the premises at the time of inspection to be thirteen years.

11. To resolve the controversy, the provisions relating to determination of age as provided in the Child Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Act, 1986 are as under:-

"16. Procedure relating to offences- (1) Any person, police officer of Inspector may file a complaint of the commission of an offence under this Act in any Court or contempt jurisdiction.

(2) Every certificate as to the age of a child which has been granted by a prescribed medical authority shall, for the purposes of this Act, be conclusive evidence as to the age of the child to whim it relates.

(3) No Court inferior to that of a Metropolitan Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class shall try any offence under this Act."

12. From the above, it is clear that the certificate granted by the prescribed Medical Authority shall be the conclusive evidence as to the age of Child and in the present case certificate dated 14.08.2013 issued by the Chief Medical Officer has determined the age of the child to be thirteen years. While on the other hand Section 10 of the Act of 1986 relates to dispute as to the age which is quoted for ready reference:-

"10. Disputes as to age- If any question arises between an Inspector and an occupier as to the age of any child who is employed or is permitted to work by him in an establishment, the question shall, in the absence of a certificate as to the age of such child granted by the prescribed medical authority, be referred by the Inspector for decision to the prescribed medical authority."

13. A bare reading of Section 10 of the Act of 1986 clearly indicates that the dispute will arise only in a case where no certificate has been granted by the Prescribed Medical Authority. Petitioner on the other hand has contended that the High School Certificate issued by the Board indicates that the child is above seventeen years of age. While the certificate issued by the Chief Medical Authority, Faizabad indicates that the age of the child is thirteen years. The provision of Section 10 of the Act of 1986 would be attracted only in absence of any certificate issued by the prescribed Medical Authority.

14. In the instant case it is clear that the prescribed authority has given his considered opinion and indicated the age of the child to be thirteen years and in light of Section 16 of the Act of 1986, and the said age having been determined by the prescribed authority shall be a conclusive evidence as to the age of the child. In the present case I am of the view that the age determined by the prescribed Medical Authority is thirteen years and therefore the proceedings drawn against the petitioner under the Act of 1986 clearly borne out. The petitioner has setup a case with regard to a person whose identity has been disputed. The photograph of the person setup by the petitioner does not match with the photograph which was taken at the time of incident which is also in the records of the respondents as well as the certificate issued by the Chief Medical Authority.

15. In case such a stand was taken by the petitioner regarding identity then onus will go on the petitioner to prove to the satisfaction of the authorities concerned. While on the other hand the State has clearly proved that the offence has been committed by the petitioner by employing a person whose age has already been determined by the prescribed Medical Authority to be less than fourteen years.

16. The Deputy Labour Commissioner has considered the entire conspectus of the case and has come to a clear finding against the petitioner and imposed penalty of Rs.20,000/- upon him. No other fact or material had been brought on record which may persuade this Court to interfere with the impugned order. No other ground was urged by the petitioner.

17. In pursuance to the interim order of this Court dated 06.08.2015, the petitioner has already deposited Rs.20,000/- on 18.08.20215. In light of the above no further action in this regard is required to be taken.

18. I do not find any reason to interfere with the order of the Deputy Labour Commissioner. The writ petition is without merit and is hereby dismissed.

A. Service Law-Employees Provident Fund & Misc. provisions Act, 1952-Sec. 7A-Regional Rural Banks Act, 1976-Petitioner bank-challenging order of Tribunal-denied to pay towards EPF of-engaged sweepers-paid consolidated amount on monthly basis-by Branch Manager-on the ground-not employees of the Bank-u/s 2(f)-any person employed for wages in any kind of work-is employee-safai karmachari-employed by management-paid wages regularly-master servant relationship exists-Petition Dismissed.

B. Held, that after due consideration of the issues involved, I am of the considered opinion that Safai Karmachari are employed by the management of the branches and the management has full control on them and they are paid wages regularly on the basis of which master and servant relationship exists between the Bank and Safai Karmachari and they would be 'employees' within the meaning of Section 2(f) of the Provident Fund Act and are entitled all the benefits as such. No other argument or fact was placed by the petitioners to assail the findings recorded by the Tribunal. Having considered the arguments of counsels and the order of Tribunal, I do not find any infirmity with the order of Tribunal. The petition being without merits is hereby dismissed.

1. Heard Sri Anupras Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner as well as Sri R. K. Verma, learned Advocate appearing for respondent Nos. 1 and 2 and Sri Om Prakash Pandey, learned counsel for respondent No.3.

2. By means of the present writ petition the petitioner has challenged the order dated 4.7.2011 passed by Employees Provident Fund Appellate Tribunal as well as order dated 31.12.2007 passed by Regional Provident Fund Commissioner (II), Varanasi issued in proceedings under Section 7A of the Employees Provident Fund and Misc. Provision Act, 1952 (hereinafter referred to as the Act). Petitioner has further challenged the order dated 26.8.2011 issued by Regional Provident Fund Commissioner (II), Allahabad.

3. Petitioner has submitted that he is a Regional Rural Bank sponsored by the Bank of Baroda and set up by the Government under the Regional Rural Banks Act, 1976. Originally the petitioner was known as Sultanpur Regional Rural Bank. However, the petitioner bank along with other Regional Rural Banks sponsored by the Bank of Baroda in U.P. was merged together into two new entities namely Baroda Eastern U.P. Gramin Bank and Baroda Western U.P. Gramin Bank vide notification dated 23.2.2006 issued by the Central Government under the provisions of the Regional Rural Bank Act. Thereafter vide Notification dated 31.3.2008 the above two Gramin Banks were merged into Baroda U.P. Gramin Bank by the Central Government.

4. He has submitted that the work of cleaning of the premises in the instant case is done by the persons engaged as part time sweepers and are paid consolidated amount on monthly basis by the Branch

Manager of the Bank and they are working only for a period of half to one hour per day and such persons were not restrained to work elsewhere and are in fact employed to do similar or other work in other establishments. On the basis of above facts the petitioner has urged that the petitioner is not liable to deposit any money towards its contribution in regard to such persons engaged as sweepers by the Bank as per the Provident Fund Act. His main contention is that such part time sweepers cannot be termed as bank employees because though they were doing the work of sweeping but the same cannot be said to be employees of the Bank within the meaning of definition of Section 2(f) of the Provident Fund and Miscellaneous Provisions Act.

5. A complaint was filed by the Bareilly Kshetriya Gramin Bank Employees Union with the Regional Provident Fund Commissioner, Bareilly that part time sweepers employed by the Bank were not being given benefits of Provident Funds Act. On receipt of the aforesaid complaint the Assistant Provident Fund Commissioner directed the petitioner to provide details about of engagements of such part time sweepers since 1.6.2001. The Bank denying the allegations made in the said complaint stated that there was no post of sweepers in the Bank and said part time sweepers were not employees of the Bank. Due to the fact that they were not the employees of the Bank there was no statutory duties in relation to such part time persons as provided in Employees Provident Fund and Misc. Provision Act, 1952. The Bank further informed by means of the letter dated 2.12.2009 that in view of the Bipartite Settlement entered into between the Bank Employees Unions and the Banks, such part time sweepers who do not work for more than six hours do not fall within the definition of "employees" and are not entitled to the benefit of the Provident Fund contribution. The Regional Provident Fund Commissioner vide letter dated 10.4.2013 issued notice to the Bank for commencing proceedings under Section 7A of the Act holding such part time Safai Karmachari are employees of the Bank under the Act and issued directions to deposit the statutory dues in respect of such part time workers.

6. Being aggrieved by the order dated 10.4.2013 of the Regional Commissioner, the petitioner filed appeal before Employees Provident Fund Appellate Tribunal. The Tribunal by means of the order dated 4.7.2011 rejected the appeal of the petitioner on the ground that even part time employees are considered employees of the establishment, therefore, the part time sweepers are the employees of the Bank and the Bank is liable to pay the provident fund dues under the Act and the scheme. Vide order dated 26.8.2011 passed by Regional Provident Fund Commissioner (II), Allahabad the petitioner was ordered to deposit the dues within fifteen days.

7. The order of the appellate tribunal has been assailed before us in the present writ petition. Subsequent to the order passed by appellate tribunal recovery proceedings under Section- 7(A), 8(b) and 18 (g) of the Act were commenced by the Commissioner, Bareilly which have also been impugned in the instant writ petition. The appellate tribunal while deciding the controversy in question has considered the meaning of the term "employee" as given under Section 2(f) of the EPF Act as well as pronouncements of various High Courts and concluded that the definition of Section 2(f) is extremely wide so as to include even the petitioners who are working in connection with the work of appellant establishment and are being paid wages for the same. After the aforesaid consideration, he has held that there is no infirmity in the order passed by Regional Provident Fund Commissioner and thereby dismissed the appeal.

8. Learned counsel for the respondents, on the other hand, has submitted that they are "employees" within the meaning of Section 2(f) of the Act read with Provident Fund Act and it does not make a difference whether they are working for one hour or for 8 hours as the definition of employees as stated in Employees Provident Fund Act, does not make any such distinction as the definition being extreme wide and being a beneficial piece of legislation and as such a liberal interpretation has to be taken so as to include Safai Karmachari within the ambit and scope of the Act and they are entitled to the benefit of Provident Fund.

9. Learned counsel appearing for Baroda U.P. Gramin Bank Employees Union has submitted that bipartite agreement also cannot restrict the meaning, scope and ambit of Section 2(f) of the Provident Funds Act and its members are entitled to the benefit under the Act.

10. I have heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

11. The seminal question for consideration before this Court is as to whether the Safai Karmachari working in the establishment of the petitioner and working for few hours each day and receiving wages therefor are entitled to be counted under the definition of "employees" under Provident Funds Act. The admitted position which emerges is that Safai Karmachari have been engaged by the Branch Managers and they are working for half to one hour per day totalling to about three to six hours in a week and even as per the petitioner himself they are paid consolidated amount on monthly basis though they have stated that they are free to work elsewhere but no assertion has been made that they are, in fact, working anywhere else. The definition of employee given under Section 2(f) of the Employees Provident Funds Act is quoted as under:-

"2. Definition:

(f) "employee" means any person who is employed for wages in any kind of work, manual or otherwise, in or in connection with the work of (an establishment, and who gets, his wages directly or indirectly from the employer, and includes any person:

(i) employed by or through a contractor in or in connection with the work of the establishment:

(ii) engaged as an apprentice, not being an apprentice engage under the Apprentices Act, 1961 (52 of 1961), or under the standing orders of the establishment."

12. The definition of employee under Section 2(f) of the Act is inclusive definition and has wide scope so as to include the persons engaged either directly or indirectly in employment of the establishment. It will be noticed that the terms of definition are very wide including not only the persons directly employed or even through a contractor.

13. It has been submitted by the petitioner that Safai Karmachari have been engaged on local level by the Branch Managers and undoubtedly they are receiving wages for the work they are doing in the premises of the petitioner. Applying the provisions of Section 2(f) to the facts of the present case it is clear that the Safai Karmachari who have been engaged by the petitioner for the purpose of cleaning the establishment for which work they are being paid wages. would be entitled to be covered under the definition of "employee". The work which they are doing is of regular nature as cleaning of the Branches is done by them on each date on which the Branch is opened. It is not the case of the petitioner that it is only due to some emergency that these workers are engaged and subsequently they are discontinued from their engagements as they continue to give service of cleaning of the premises regularly. Hon'ble Supreme Court while considering the provisions of Section 2 (f) of the Employees Provident Fund Act in the case of M/s P.M. Patel and sons and others Vs. Union of India and others (1986) 1 Supreme Court Cases 32 has held in paragraphs 10 and 11 as under:-

"10. In the context of the conditions and the circumstances set out earlier in which the home workers of a single manufacturer go about their work, including the receiving of raw material, rolling the beedis at home and delivering them to the manufacturer subject to the right of rejection there is sufficient evidence of the requisite degree of control and supervision for establishing the relationship of master and servant between the manufacturer and the home worker. it must be remembered that the work of rolling beedis is not of a sophisticated nature, requiring control and supervision at the time when the work is done. It is a simple operation which, as practice has shown, has been performed satisfactorily by thousands of illiterate workers. It is a task which can be performed by young and old, men and women, with equal facility and it does not require a high order of skill. In the circumstances, the right of rejection can constitute in itself an effective degree of supervision and control. We may point out that there is evidence to show that the rejection takes place in the presence of the home worker. That factor, however, plays a merely supportive role in determining the existence of the relationship of the master and servant. The petitioners point out that there is no element of personal service in beedi rolling and that it is open to a home worker to get the work done by one or the other member of his family at home. The element of personal service, it seems to us, is of little significance when the test of control and supervision lies in the right of rejection.

11. In our opinion, the home workers are "employees" within the definition of contained in clause (f) of Section 2 of the Employees' Provident Funs Act. "

In another case of Officer -in-Charge, Sub Regional Provident Fund Office and another Vs. Godavari Garments Limited (2019) 8 Supreme Court Cases 149, Hon'ble Supreme Court has considered the ratio laid down in aforesaid case of M/s P.M. Patel and sons and others (supra) and further considered various judgments it has been held as under in paragraphs 9.8 to 11 as under:-

"9.8. The EPF Act is a beneficial social welfare legislation which was enacted by the legislature for the benefit of the workmen. This Court in Daily Partap

v. regl. Provident Fund Commr., held that: (SCC p.98, para 9)

"9....It has to be kept in view that the Act in question, is a beneficial social welfare legislation meant for the protection of weaker sections of society, namely, workmen who had to eke out their livelihood from the meagre wages they receive after toiling hard for the same." Hence, the provisions under the EPF Act have to be interpreted in a manner which is beneficial to the workmen."

9.9. In the present case, the women workers were certainly employed for wages in connection with the work of the respondent Company. The definition of "employee" under Section 2(f) is an inclusive definition, and includes workers who are engaged either directly or indirectly in connection with the work of the establishment, and are paid wages.

10. In the present case, the women workers were directly engaged by the management in connection with the work of the respondent Company, which was set up as a ready made garments industry in Marathwada. The women workers were paid wages on per-piece basis for the services rendered. Merely because the women workers were permitted to do the work offsite, would not take away their status as employees of the respondent Company.

11. The respondent Company placed reliance on this Court's decision in CESC Ltd. v. Subhash Chandra Bose, wherein it was held that :

"14. In the textual sense 'supervision' of the principal employer or his agent is on 'work' at the places envisaged and the word 'work' can neither he construed so broadly to be the final act of acceptance or rejection of work, nor so narrowly so as to be supervision at all limes and at each and every step of the work. A harmonious construction alone would help carry out the purpose of the Act, which would mean moderating the two extremes. When the employee is put to work under the eye and gaze of the principal employer, or his agent, where he can be watched secretly, accidentally, or occasionally, while the work is in progress, so as to scrutinise the quality thereof and to detect faults therein, as also put to timely remedial measures by directions given, finally leading to the satisfactory completion and acceptance of the work, that would in our view be supervision for the purposes of Section 2(9) of the Act."

14. Learned counsel for the petitioner, on the other hand, placed reliance on the Supreme Court judgment in the case of The Regional Provident Fund Commissioner, Andhra Pradesh Vs. Sri T. S. Hariharan, 1971 (2) Supreme Court Cases 68 wherein Hon'ble Apex Court considered as to whether employment of few persons for a short period on account of some pressing necessity or some temporary emergency beyond the control of the company, would be held to be employment under the provisions of Section 2(f) of the Act. Clearly, the facts of the case before the Hon'ble Apex Court in the said case are distinguishable from the facts of the present case. It is not the case of the petitioner that Safai Karmachari are employees for short period on account of pressing necessity or due to some temporary emergency.

15. Another case relied upon by petitioner counsel is in the matter of C.V. Satheeshchandran Vs. General Manger, UCO Bank and others (2008) 2 Supreme Court Cases 653 with regard to binding nature of bipartite agreement. The controversy in the set of facts of this case is related to promotion of Assistant Manager in UCO bank wherein he has relied upon the bipartite agreement. It has been held in paragraph 10 that bipartite agreements are binding upon both the bank and the appellant. The facts of this case are clearly distinguishable form the issue raised by the petitioner in present set of facts.

16. The Tribunal while holding that Safai Karmachari are "employees" has considered the case of M/s Ahmadabad Cooling Printing Ltd. Vs. Rehmat Ali where Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that, "where the management engaged the sweeper who worked twice or thrice a week, the night watchman who kept watch in the other shops in the locality and the gardner who came for work 10 days a month will be deemed as employee in order to attract the applicability of the EPF Act."

17. In the light of above, it is clear that the Safai Karmachari are employed with the petitioner-Bank for the purpose of cleaning their premises on regular basis. The petitioner establishment is a regular and continuous establishment and admittedly the Safai Karmachari are being paid wages on monthly basis for the work done by them. The bipartite agreement cannot restrict the width, ambit and scope of statutory enactment and despite the provisions being made by bipartite agreement the benefit of provident fund would be available only to those employees who work for more than six hours a day, cannot restrict the scope of the persons like the Safai Karmachari who are otherwise covered by the definition of employees as provided under Section 2-F of the Act

18. For determination as to whether Safai Karmachari fall within the definition of Section 2 (f) only the meaning given therein would be relevant and the argument of the petitioner -Bank cannot be accepted and the width, ambit and scope cannot be left to the whims and fancies of the employer to reduce the same even if it is by means of an agreement or consent or by any other instrument. No evidence was led by the petitioner that Safai Karmachari are also employed in any other establishment nor could the prove this before the authority or appellate tribunal.

19. After due consideration of the issues involved, I am of the considered opinion that Safai Karmachari are employed by the management of the branches and the management has full control on them and they are paid wages regularly on the basis of which master and servant relationship exists between the Bank and Safai Karmachari and they would be 'employees' within the meaning of Section 2(f) of the Provident Fund Act and are entitled all the benefits as such.

20. No other argument or fact was placed by the petitioners to assail the findings recorded by the Tribunal.

21. Having considered the arguments of counsels and the order of Tribunal, I do not find nay infirmity with the order of Tribunal. The petition being without merits is hereby dismissed.

THE HON'BLE BISWANATH SOMADDER, J.
THE HON'BLE DR. YOGENDRA KUMAR SRIVASTAVA, J.

Income Tax Appeal No. 13 of 2020

Manoj Kumar Sharma ...Appellant
Versus
Income Tax Officer, Gautam Budh Nagar ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Chandra Bhan Gupta

Counsel for the Respondent:
Sri Gaurav Mahajan

Substantial question of law - issues or questions framed are factual in nature.

Appeal Rejected.(E-10)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Biswanath Somadder, J.
Hon'ble Dr. Yogendra Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. This appeal, under section 260-A of the Income Tax Act, 1961, has been taken out in respect of a judgment and order of the learned Income Tax Appellate Tribunal, Delhi Bench (S.M.C.), New Delhi, dated 3rd October, 2019. The appellant has essentially tried to make out a case on two questions of law, which, according to the learned advocate appearing for the appellant, are substantial questions of law. The questions of law are as follows:-

1. "Whether there was no service of notice under section 148 of the Income Tax Act, 1961 ?

2. Whether additional/fresh evidence was taken into consideration by the Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals)-I ?"

2. In our view, the two questions of law cannot be termed as "substantial questions of law". The answer to the two questions, however, are clearly reflected in the order of the Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals)-I dated 11th May, 2018, wherefrom the appellant preferred an appeal before the learned Income Tax Appellate Tribunal, Delhi Bench (S.M.C.), New Delhi.

3. So far as the first question is concerned, the following paragraphs extracted from the order of the Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals)-I will speak for itself:-

"10. The appellant raised a ground that the address on which the notices were sent by the Ld. AO being "Manoj Kumar Sharma, Nai Abadi, Dadri, G.B. Nagar" was not the correct address as there could be more than one Manoj or Manoj Kumar or Manoj Kumar Sharma in Dadri and the post office might have ended up serving the notices of the Ld. AO to any one of those persons named Manoj. It was contended by the appellant that merely because the notices sent by the Ld. AO were not returned by the postal authorities it cannot be presumed that those notices stood served upon the appellant and the service of notice was complete in terms of the provisions of law. Based upon such logic, the appellant has contended that there was no service of notice u/s 148 and therefore, the impugned assessment order was bad in law and liable to be deleted.

11. The ground taken by the appellant stands negated by the admitted position of the appellant himself.

judgment assessment in its case only when it received the notice u/s 274 of I.T. Act, 1961 asking it to show cause vide a penalty u/s 271(1)(c) of I.T. Act, 1961 be not imposed on the appellant. A copy of the said notice has been placed on the record of this office under self authentication by the appellant. It is seen that the said notice vide F. No. ITO/W-2(2)/Noida/271(1)(c)/2017-18 dated 04.05.2017 file F. No./PAN/229/148 was issued on the same address on which the Ld. AO has issued earlier notices, i.e., Manoj Kumar Sharma, Nai Abadi, Dadri, G.B. Nagar.

13. Once the postal authorities have duly served the notice issued by the Ld. AO upon the appellant on that address as on May, 2017 there can be no ground unless proved otherwise to assume that postal authorities would not have been able to serve the notices issued by the Ld. AO upon the appellant on that very address earlier, i.e., prior to the service of notice in May 2017. As none of the notices were returned by the postal authorities as unserved for want of complete or correct address the presumption of bonafide as obtaining in favour of the State would hold the ground. In any case, the appellant has received the notices sent by the Ld. AO on that same address as late as May 2017 and it cannot claim that the address was incorrect or incomplete.

14. Therefore, in view of the admission of the appellant the claim of the appellant that it did not receive

12. The appellant has stated in its reply to the report of the Ld. AO that the appellant came to know about the best the notices issued by the Ld. AO because of the address on which the said notices were sent by the Ld. AO was either incomplete or incorrect is not tenable."

4. So far as the second question is concerned, the answer to the same is at paragraph 8 of the said order of the Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals)-I dated 11th May, 2018, which reads as follows:-

"8. The Ld. AO by its report dated 26.03.2018 submitted its response to the fresh evidence of the appellant and rejected the same and recommended that the grounds raised by the appellant were neither maintainable nor acceptable in the eyes of the law and the appeal of the appellant deserved to be dismissed by this office."

5. Both these issues were considered by the learned Tribunal while passing the judgment and order dated 3rd October, 2019, which is evident from a plain reading of paragraph 5 of the said judgment and order dated 3rd October, 2019. In order to avoid prolixity, we refrain from reproducing the same.

6. As stated hereinbefore, we do not find any substantial question(s) of law involved in this matter. Rather, the issues are essentially factual in nature. The appeal is, therefore, liable to be dismissed and stands dismissed accordingly.

REVISIONAL JURISDICTION
DATED: LUCKNOW 24.01.2020

BEFORE
THE HON'BLE ALOK MATHUR, J.

Trade Tax Revision No. 198 of 2010

The Commissioner, Commercial Tax
...Revisionist
Versus
M/S Mahesh & Co., Lucknow
...Opposite Party

Counsel for the Revisionist:
Standing Counsel

Counsel for the Respondents:
P.K. Sinha

.....

Held: Para-

Case Law discussed:

(Delivered by Hon'ble Alok Mathur, J.

1. Heard Sri Rohit Nandan Shukla, learned Standing counsel for the revisionist, who has instant revision as well as Sri P. K. Sinha appearing for the respondent.

2. The State has preferred this revision against the order of Commercial Tax Tribunal dated 15th November, 2007 whereby the Tribunal has allowed the appeal preferred by the revisionist.

3. Following questions of law has been pressed by the revisionist:-

"(i)Whether the Tribunal was justified in providing the benefit of exemption of tax to the Respondent contrary to the findings arrived at by the Assessing Authority and that too without considering the adverse material found during survey dated 4/5th July, 2001 ?

(ii) Whether the Learned Trade Tribunal was justified in waiving of the interest which was liable under Section 8(1) on the admitted sale turn over like admitted tax?

(iii) Whether the judgment and order passed by the Tribunal is justified ignoring the facts set out in the assessment order which was passed strictly in accordance facts available on records as also the provisions of the Trade Tax Rules ?"

4. It has been submitted by counsel for the revisionist that the respondent /Dealer is engaged in business of betel nuts, catechu, tea, Ilaichi, General merchant etc. A survey was conducted by the Central Excise Department with regard to the business place of M/s Harsingar Gutaka Pvt. Ltd. and M/s Gopal Grinding Industries on 4th and 5th July, 2001 and on the inspection it was found that the owner of the firm M/s Mahesh & Co.(The respondent/Firm) is also the Director of M/s Harshringar Gutka and the respondent/firm supplied the raw material, betel nuts, catechu etc. to M/s Harshringar Gutka Pvt. Ltd. The stock of the respondent/firm was in Satnam Cold Storage and on on inspection 200 bags of betel nuts was found related with M/s Mahesh and Co.

5. The grinding works of the goods sent by M/s Mahesh & Co. was being done by M/s Gopal Grinding Industries and in the said Gopal Grinding Industries difference in stock was found. On the basis of material collected during aforesaid inspection the assessing authority rejected the books of accounts and determined tax of Rs.1,18,27,701.00 on the sale turnover of Rs.15,20,000/- vide assessment order dated 4.2.2006. While passing the order the assessing authority recorded that there was huge difference in the stock by the respondent and further that Gopal Grinding Industries did not show any purchase or sale itself but the said purchase of betel nut was certainly done with collusion with M/s Mahesh & Co. and Harshringar Gutka Pvt. Ltd. as has been borne out from the report submitted by Central Excise department during the physical verification. It was recorded that in the assessment order that there was discrepancies in respect of 1000 kilograms of betel nuts in the accounts of M/s Gopal Grinding Industries which has been borne out from the statement.

6. As against the assessment order the respondent preferred first appeal under Section 9 of U.P. Trade Tax Act 1948 before the Joint Commissioner (Appeal)-2, Trade Tax, Lucknow and the appeal was dismissed by means of order dated 23.8.2006.

7. The first appellate authority concurred with the findings of the assessing authority and rejected the contentions of the respondent holding that evasion of tax has been established during the course of survey conducted on 4/5.7.2001 and the said tax evasion has been done by the respondent firm in collusion with M/s Harshringar Gutka Pvt. Ltd. and further he was not satisfied with the explanation given with regard to cash transaction of Rs.12,20,000.00. It also stated that form 3 B has been obtained after 2 years, therefore, the same are not valid for the assessment year in question. It was further observed that the sale has been made by the respondent-firm after purchase of goods from unregistered firm and gave cogent reasons for imposing the tax and concurred with the reasons given by the assessing authority and confirmed for imposing tax on respondents.

8. Being aggrieved by the order passed by first appellate authority dated 23.8.2006 the respondent preferred second appeal before the Commercial Tax Tribunal. The Tribunal by means of order dated 15.11.2007 has partially allowed the appeal. The Tribunal in the impugned judgment has considered the fact that the owner of the respondent firm is also the Director of M/s Harshringar Gutka Co. and on the basis of the allegations of collusion with regard to evasion of tax with Gopal Grinding Industries and further that the respondent firm has continuously supplied betel nuts without entering the same in the books of accounts. The Tribunal did not accept and the findings of assessing authority as well as first assessing authority while partially allowing the appeal of the assesse.

9. The Tribunal observed that only on the basis of conjectures and surmises the assessment been done and the revisionist has been assessed to tax with regard to goods which were dispatched form Gopal Grinding Industries

10. The second issue which was considered by the Tribunal was with regard to the interests levied on the tax while rejecting form 3 B. In this regard the Tribunal observed that the respondent had submitted Form 3 B dated 5th March, 2004 while the transactions were conducted for the assessment year 2000-2001. The said form 3 B being beyond two years were not liable to be accepted and, therefore, benefit of Form 3B was not admissible to the respondent.

11. They further held that according to Section 8 the interest amount could not be levied upon the respondent as disputed amount would amount "admitted tax" and the said amount not being admitted tax no interest was liable to be paid according to Explanation of Section 8 of U.P. Trade Tax Act. 1948.

12. To deal with the question with regard to addition made by the assessing authority it will be relevant to consider the reasons stated by the assessing authority in his order dated 4.2.2006. It has been observed that information was received by the department from Central Excise Department which had conducted the inspection with regard to M/s Harshringar Gutka Pvt. Ltd. which is a sister concern of M/s Gopal Grindings Industries, M/s Mahesh and Company and M/s Satnam Cold Storage from where the documents were examined by Deputy Commissioner (SIT) Sales Tax, Region B, Lucknow.

13. It has been stated that during the inspection it was found that Shri Mahesh is the Director of M/s Mahesh and Company as well as M/s Harshringar Gutka Pvt. Ltd where he is working as Managing Director. M/s Mahesh and Company supplied raw material for preparation of end product by M/s Harshringar Gutka Pvt. Ltd. It was discovered that raw material which is being supplied by M/s Harshringar Gutka Pvt. Lt. were sent through M/s Gopal Grinding Industries, Daliganj, Lucknow.

14. During the investigation the stock allegedly sent by M/s Mahesh and Company to the Gopal Grinding Industries was not found but it was discovered that it found its way to Satnam Cold Storage which premises were found locked at the time of inspection.

15. It was also found that there was difference in raw material being supplied by M/s Gopal Grinding Industries to M/s. Harshringar Gutka Pvt. Ltd. and difference in the two it was presumed was being sold to unregistered dealers with intention to evade tax. It was also presumed that unexplained cash to the tune of Rs. 12,20,000/- was utilized for purchase and sale from unregistered dealers which was also brought to tax.

16. Learned counsel for the respondent submitted that he has been maintaining regular book of accounts and has been paying taxes accordingly. He has challenged the assessment made by the assessing authority solely on the ground that the report submitted by the Excise Department on an inspection made of Ms/ Gopal Grinding Industries. He has vehemently urged that M/s Gopal Grinding Industries is a separate firm and is is not connected to the opposite parties and the amount of Rs.12,20,000/- found in cash book was with regard to transactions between various parties who were duly recorded and was in no way connected with sale and purchase of Gutka or any of its ingredients.

17. The Revenue could not justify the nexus between the unaccount fund and cash book and the transaction between various firms with regard to purchase and sale of various ingredients of gutka and, therefore, the first appellate authority came to the conclusion that opposite parties cannot be held to be liable for evasion of taxes and also that the amount found in cash book could not related to the transactions conducted by the opposite parties, therefore, set aside the order of assessing authority in this regard.

18. The first appellate authority concurred with the findings of the assessing authority and rejected the findings of respondents. Considering the aforesaid facts the Tribunal in the second appeal concluded that books of accounts of the respondent has been rejected without any reasonable basis. During inquiry no adverse material was found in the premises of the respondent. Just because certain material dispatched from Gopal Grinding Industries to Harshringar Gutka Pvt. was not tracable in the said premises adverse inference has been recorded without there being any material to support such findings. Only reasons for rejecting the books of accounts is the cash entry for 12,20,000/- for which explanation has been given by the respondent that the Tribunal in the aforesaid circumstances were satisfied with the explanation given by the respondent, therefore, decided the second appeal in favour of the respondent and against the Revenue in this regard.

19. Considering the submissions of both the parties it emerges that only because there was some difference in stock with regard to inspection conducted by Excise Department in the premises of Gopal Grinding Industries additions were made while assessing the respondent.

20. The second ground for revision that Rs.12,20,000/- was found in the cash book which according to the assessing authority was linked to the transactions of sale and purchase of raw material in manufacturing of Gutka, while the assessee was able to satisfy the Tribunal that the amount found in cash register was not related to the sale and purchase transactions and that there was no evasion of tax by the respondent. The Tribunal in this regard has considered the entire material and gave reasons for coming to the said conclusion.

21. The State, on the other hand, while assailing the said finding of the Tribunal had only reiterated the findings spelt out in the order passed by the assessing authority as well as the first appellate authority and no fact could be placed before it which could persuade us from giving a finding different from the finding recorded by the Tribunal. In this regard, I do not find any infirmity with the orders of the Tribunal and the question number (i) is answered against the revisionist and in favour of the assessee.

22. The Tribunal has accepted the reasoning given by the assessee that the amount of cash of Rs.12,20,000/- discovered was not utilized towards the sale or purchase of raw material and also that the Assessing Authority could not found any discrepancy in the cash book and various documents and accounts maintained by the assessee and, therefore, the rejection of book of accounts was against the provisions of law. It has also been observed by the Tribunal that from the cash book maintained by the assessee transaction from the date 3.7.2000 to 15.11.2000 the cash of Rs.12,20,000/- found could not be said to be related to any transaction and nor the said transaction has been pointed out in the assessing order and, therefore, no adverse interference in this case can be made against the assessee and, therefore, the additions made were set aside.

23. No fact could be placed by the State which can persuade this Court to take a view different from the view recorded by the Tribunal and, therefore, this question is answered in favour of the assessee as against the the respondent.

24. The second question relates to the additions made by the Assessing Officer while rejecting Form 3 Kha as from 3.1.1991 to 5.3.2004 which are not valid for the assessment year 2000-01. The Assessing Officer has levied interest payable on the admitted sale turnover as if it was admitted tax. The Tribunal while allowing the appeal of the assessee has upheld the imposition of tax but waived off all the interest imposed on the said tax. It is the case of the assessee that the turnover in the return was not admitted and, therefore, interest under Section 8 could not have been levied.

25. In the present case, Form 3 Kha was not valid for the assessment year in question and, therefore, the tax was rightly levied upon the sale transaction. In the case of M/s. Hindustan Aluminium Corporation Ltd. Vs. Commissioner of Sales Tax and Commissioner of Sales Tax v. M/s. Hindustan Aluminium Corporation, reported in 1996 U.P.T.C. 795 the word "tax admittedly payable has been considered in detail, which is quoted hereinbelow:-

"As regards the last contention of the learned Standing Counsel Section 8 of the Act, as I have mentioned earlier Section 8 of the Act uses an expression 'tax admittedly payable' and then it uses the item on which the interest shall become due and to be payable i.e. 'upaid amount' and then under expression 'such amount' the use of these expression indicate that as regards tax admittedly payable and the said amount of tax is not deposited within the time prescribed of any part of that amount remain unpaid then on that unpaid account till the date of payment of such amount interest shall become due and payable. It means the expression 'tax' admittedly payable' refers to the amount of tax admittedly payable according to the dealer i.e. the amount of tax calculated on his turnover by the dealer on the basis of the entry admitted by him to be applicable over the admitted turnover of the dealer and this section indicates that out of the amount of tax admittedly payable if the same either in part or in whole is not deposited in time the liability of interest will arise in regard to the amount. This leads once to the only conclusion that any amount of tax in regard to which there is a dispute be it on account of the dispute particular and dispute regarding applicability of the entry and the rate of other wie under law the interest will not be payable. No where this section discloses any such thing as bonafide or malafide dispute and therefore, the question of bona fide and mala fide is irrelevant. If there has been a dispute as in the present case with reference to the applicability of the entry under which the item in question was covered which dispute had been decided by the Supreme Court finally as mentioned earlier after debate, the dispute did exist and therefore, the dealer could be subjected to imposition of interest. It is another thing that the matter of precaution dealer might have realized the tax but that is not relevant at this juncture because the section does not provide any such thing as bona fide dispute. This had been the view taken by the Supreme Court as well as in the case of Commissioner Sales Tax v. M/s.Qureshi Cruciblc Centre, 1993 U.P.T.C. 901(8): A.I.R. 1994. S.C. 25, after having referred to the observations of the learned Single Judge of our High Court in the revision which reads as under:

'There have been no finding by the Tribunal that the assessee acted mala fide in not depositing the tax at the rate 7 per cent. The demand of interest was not justified.'

Their Lordships observed:

"We are unable to see any relevance of the mala fides in the case, Section 8 (1) does not say that the non-payment should be mala fide. This is also not a case where the rate of tax applicable was in dispute or disputed by the dealers. This is simply a case where the dealer calculated the tax at an inapplicable rate. He did not and could not plead ignorance of the change in rate of tax selected two years earlier. In the circumstances, the concept of such mala fide was not relevant in the context."

26. Section 8 of the U.P. Trade Tax Act is quoted hereinbelow:

"8. Payment and recovery of tax:

(1) The tax admittedly payable shall be deposited within the time prescribed or by the thirty-first day of August, 1975, whichever is later failing which simple interest at the rate of 2 per cent per mensem shall become due and be payable on the unpaid amount with effect from the day immediately following the last date prescribed or till the date of payment of such amount, whichever is later and nothing contained in Section 7 shall prevent or have the effect of postponing the liability to pay such interest.

Explanation:- For the purposes of this sub-section, the tax admittedly payable means the tax which is payable under this Act on the turnover of sales or, as the case may be, the turnover or purchases, or of both, as disclosed in the accounts maintained by the dealer, or admitted by him in any return or proceeding under this Act, whichever is granted or, if no accounts were maintained then according to the estimate of the dealer and includes the amount payable under Section 3B or sub-section (6) of section 4B."

11. The explanation to the said sub-section clearly defines the term " the tax admittedly payable" and illustrates the situation in which the tax would be deemed to be admittedly payable, the same are as follows:-

(i) The tax which is payable under this Act on the turnover of sales, as the case may be, the turnover of purchase, or both, as disclosed in the accounts maintained by the dealer.

(ii) The tax admitted by the dealers in any return or proceedings under this act, whichever is greater.

(iii) If no accounts were maintained, then according to the estimate of the dealer and included the amount payable under section 3-B or subsection (6) of section 4-B."

27. It is not in dispute in the present case that the assessee himself mentioned certificate in their accounts the turnover to claim benefit of Section 3 Kha, which according to the provisions of the Act were on the face of it not valid and this did not require any deep examination of the issue.

28. Section 4-B of the U.P. Trade Tax Act, 1948 provides special relief to certain manufacturers. The said section opens with a non-obstante clause and has precedence over sections 3, 3A, 3AAAA and 3D of the Act. The State legislature has provided special relief to certain manufacturers upon the fulfillment of the conditions mentioned therein for manufacture of specified goods. A manufacturer holding the recognition certificate shall be liable to pay tax at the concessional rate or be wholly or partially exempted from tax on the purchase of raw material or packing material, as may be notified in the gazette of the State Government in that behalf. Clause (b) of section 4B (1) gives relief to a selling dealer to such manufacturers holding recognition certificate on furnishing by the selling dealer the prescribed form which is form 3-B.

29. The Rule 25-B is the relevant rule which prescribes the document 3-B the requisite form to be furnished by such manufacturer to its selling dealer to avail the benefit of concessional rate of tax or tax at nil rate, as the case may be. Rule 25-B is reproduced hereinbelow:-

"Rule 25-B. Authority from which Declaration Forms may be obtained; use custody and maintenance of records of such Forms and matters incidental thereto.

(1) Where a dealer holding a recognition certificate purchases any goods referred to in clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 4-B, for use as raw material for the purpose of manufacture of any notified goods, he shall, if he wishes to avail of the concession referred to therein, furnish to the selling dealer a certificate in Form III-B (hereinafter called a "Declaration Form").

(3) If the trade tax officer is satisfied that the demand that for blank declaration Form referred in sub-rule (1) is genuine and reasonable, he may issue such number of forms a he deems fit..... A form issued by the Trade Tax Officer in a financial year shall be valid for the transaction of purchase or sale made during the financial year as also made during two financial year immediately preceding and succeeding that finnancial year:"

30. It is pertinent to mention at this stage that the assessing authority in its order dated 4.2.2006 considered the facts with respect to filing of Form 3-B. It is mentioned that the respondent dealer filed the 44 number of Form 3-B against the sale of Rs.1,68, 82, 230/- and on investigation of the said 44 Forms, it is found that the same were issued on 5.3.2004 from the department hence these all the 44 forms were not valid for the financial year 2000-01 and were valid for financial year 2001-02. Hence, the tax at the rate of 10 per cent has been levied with respect to sale against which form 3-B were found invalid.

31. It is found that the respondent dealer himself filed the invalid Form 3 -B, contrary to provisions of the Act. It was well within the knowledge of the respondent dealer that 44 Form 3-B were not valid for the financial year 2000-01 and the respondent dealer is liable to pay the tax at full rate i. e. at the rate of 10 per cent but despite the fact, respondent dealer did not deposit the tax at full rate i.e at the rate of 10 per cent and deposited the tax at concessional rate at the rate of 2.5 per cent and deliberately claimed the exemption which was not admissible to him.

32. Hon'ble Supreme Court in Pepsico India Holdings Ltd. Vs. Commissioner of Trade Tax, Lucknow on

5th April, 2011 in Civil Appeal No.2926 of 2011 arising out of SLP (C) No.10522 of 2008 set at rest the dispute as under:-

"14.The appellant had taken the chance to get a judicial verdict on the said issue. Once it has been confirmed that the tax is payable under the Act, the same becomes payable from the date when it was due and not from th date when the judicial verdict was pronounced (unless and until, in a case, the court specifies a particular date from which it shall be payable). Thus, once it has been confirmed by the Court that the tax is payable under the Act it would be covered within the definition of the term "the tax admittedly payable" as defined in the explanation to section 8(1) and, in case, the tax had not been paid then the same becomes payable along with interest as mentioned in section 8(1)of the Act.

16. As in the present case the tax becomes admittedly payable once it has been held that the tax is payable under the Act, the interest would be payable in terms of sub-section (1) of section 8 of the Act and not in terms of sub-section (1B) of Section 8 of the Act.

17. This court in the case of Commissioner of Sales Tax v. Qureshi Crucible Centre, 1993 Supp (3) SCC 495 has held that where a dealer fails to pay tax at the correct rate because he claimed not to know the revision in the rate, the dealer remains liable to pay interest at a higher rate, penal rate under section 8(1) from the date when the tax became due and payable. In such a case, the dealer cannot claim that he is liable only from the date of the assessment order fixing the correct rate of tax.

Similarly, in case where the dealer has taken a chance and it has been held that the tax is payable under Act, the same becomes payable from the date when it was due."

33. On applying aforesaid principles to the facts of the present case, the Tribunal has wrongly granted relief to the assessee by deleting interest. After rejection of Form 3-b the amount of interest levied on admitted tax was liable to be paid by the assessee and the order of the Assessing Officer in this regard is in conformity with the statutory schemes as well as the judgments quoted hereinabove. The order of the Tribunal in this regard is set aside and the question of law No.(ii) is answered in favour of the revenue as against the assessee.

34. The revision is accordingly partly allowed.

THE HON'BLE ALOK MATHUR, J.

Sales/Trade Tax Revision No. 211 of 2006

Triveni Engineering & Industries Ltd Naini Allahabad ...Revisionist
Versus
Commissioner Trade Tax, U.P., Lucknow ...Opposite Party

Counsel for the Revisionist:
Sri Kunwar Saksena, Sri Nishant Mishra

Counsel for the Opposite Party:
C.S.C.

A. Trade/Sales Tax - Rectification of mistakes - Section 22 - U.P. Trade Tax Act, 1948 - application should necessarily demonstrate the mistake apparent in the order passed by the authority concerned

It is clear that the application under Section 22 of the Act, 1948 sought to rectify the mistake committed by the assessing authority who passed the assessment order in ignorance of the amendments made in Section 3F of the Act, 1948 by means of Amendment Act No. 11 of 2001 and therefore the said application was clearly not maintainable, inasmuch as, in exercise of power under Section 22 of the Act, 1948, only the mistake committed by the first Appellate Authority could have been rectified.(para 28)

The application moved by the revenue for correction of the mistake clearly indicates that there is no mention of any mistake having been committed by the First Appellate Authority, inasmuch as, the question of taxability of the lease rent was not an issue before the First Appellate Authority. It is clearly not possible to correct an order or issue which was neither raised nor considered by the First Appellate Authority. (para 29)

B. Doctrine of merger - on merger the merged order loses its existence

Before the appellate authority, the question of liability to tax the lease rent received by the revisionist was not in question and therefore in this regard the order of the assessing authority did not merge with the order of the first Appellate Authority. The issue regarding tax on lease rent became final when the same was duly accepted by the revisionist and the revenue did not chose to reopen the same by exercising powers relating to reopening the assessment and therefore, the order of the assessing authority attained finality and was not liable to be opened in the manner the revenue has sought to reopen, i.e. by moving an application under Section 22 of the Act, 1948. (para 30)

C. Scope - Appellate Authority - Section 9(3) of the U.P. Trade Tax Act, 1948 - appellate authority can not only confirm, vary or annul the order of the assessing authority but may enhance and assess the assessee to tax on the issue which was not taken up before the assessing authority

Revision Allowed. (E-10)

4. M/s Triveni Engg. Industries V. Commissioner of Trade Tax Sales Tax Revision No. 212 of 2006 (distinuished)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Alok Mathur, J.)

1. Heard Sri Nishant Mishra, learned counsel for the revisionist as well as Sri Bipin Kumar Pandey, learned Standing Counsel appearing on behalf of revenue.

2. This revision has been preferred against the judgment and order dated 18.01.2006, passed by the Commercial Tax Tribunal, whereby the Appeal No. 133 of 2003 has been allowed in part while the another Appeal No. 294 of 2005 for the same assessment year has been dismissed. This revision relates to the assessment year 1995-96.

3. The facts in brief of this case are that the revisionist is carrying on the business of manufacture and sale of sugar plant and machinery and has its head office situated at Naini, Allahabad. The revisionist firm is registered under Section 8A of the U.P. Trade Tax Act, 1948 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act, 1948") as well as under Section 7(1) and 7(2) of the Central Sales Tax Act.

4. During course of business the revisionist entered into lease agreement with a firm at New Delhi on 20.08.1993 and 24.08.1993, for the purpose of leasing out certain machinery such as turbine, turbo alternator and other machineries to the sugar unit of the lessee i.e. M/s Gangeshwer Limited at Deoband and Ram Kola, both situated in the State of U.P.

5. Contention of the revisionist is that the lease rent received by the revisionist from the lessee, was not amenable to levy of tax on the transfer of right to use the goods as per Section 3F of the Act, 1948 and therefore they were not liable for payment of any tax, as such.

6. The vires of Section 3F of the Act, 1948 were challenged before this High Court by way of writ petitions and by the this Court by means of judgment in the case of V.K. Singhal Vs. State of U.P., 1995 UPTC 337 (decided on 11.01.1995), the provisions of Section 3F of the Act, 1948 were declared as ultra vires.

7. At the time of assessment for the year 1995-96, the amount received on account of lease rent from the lessee, was disclosed at Rs. 51,84, 382/-, but no liability of tax on the said amount was admitted. The assessing authority for the assessment year 1995-96, did not accepted the contention of the revisionist and levied tax on the aforesaid amount of lease rent at the rate of 5%. The revisionist being aggrieved by the aforesaid assessment order preferred appeal on the ground that this Court in the case of V.K. Singhal (supra) has declared Section 3F of the Act, 1948 ultra vires and therefore, they were not liable to be assessed to any tax on the same and therefore, the order of the assessing authority in this regard was arbitrary and illegal.

8. The appellate authority, considering the contention raised by the revisionist, remanded the matter to the assessing authority and thereafter, fresh assessment order was passed and the assessing authority accepted the contention of the revisionist regarding the fact that he was not liable to pay any tax under Section 3F of the Act, 1948. The revisionist thereafter filed an appeal against the assessment order passed in respect of the amount other than the amount representing the lease rent, which appeal was dismissed by means of order dated 01.01.2003.

9. It has been vehemently urged that the question of liability of tax on lease amount was neither canvassed nor decided by the Joint Commissioner (Appeals).

10. After the decision of the appeal on 01.01.2003, the assessing authority in exercise of power under Section 22 of the Act, 1948, moved an application before the Joint Commissioner (Appeals) on 17.05.2004, seeking to correct the mistake in the appellate order with regard to the fact that the provisions of Section 3F of the Act, 1948 which had been declared ultra vires by this High Court, were amended and introduced by means of U.P. Act No. 11 of 2000, published on 30.04.2001 and the said amendment further provided that all actions taken and assessment made during the period 01.05.1987 to 01.03.1997, were validated.

11. The Joint Commission (Appeals), issued notice to the revisionist and after hearing both the sides, allowed the said application on 25.07.2005 and rectified the order passed earlier on 01.01.2003, thereby subjecting the revisionist to tax under Section 3F of the Act, 1948 for the amount of lease rent received by the revisionist from the lessee.

12. The revisionist being aggrieved by the said order, filed second appeal before the Trade Tax Tribunal, Allahabad (hereinafter referred to as "the Tribunal") being Second Appeal No. 294 of 2005, which has been rejected by means of order dated 18.01.2006, which has been impugned in the instant revision.

13. Learned counsel for the revisionist has raised following contentions :

(I) In exercise of power conferred under Section 22 of the Act, 1948, an application can be made for rectification of a mistake, where as in the present case there was no mistake committed in the order of the appellate authority and therefore the said application was itself not maintainable.

(II) The application seeking rectification of the order of appellate authority was not maintainable inasmuch as the order of the assessing authority stood merged with the order of the appellate authority and the order which is not in existence cannot be rectified and therefore the application filed by the revenue was misconceived.

(III) By means of impugned order the Tribunal has upheld the application for rectification which does not amount to rectification of mistake, instead it is a fresh imposition of tax liability which should have been done by the proper assessment and giving opportunity to the assessee, which is a matter of debate, hence fresh assessment could not have been done in the garb of rectification of mistake.

14. Learned counsel for the respondent-revenue on the other hand submits that the order of assessing authority merged with the appellate order and therefore the revenue had no option but to move an application for correction of mistake in the appellate order so as to bring the amount of lease rent to tax in the light of amended provisions of Section 3F of the Act, 1948.

15. In support of his contention, learned Standing Counsel appearing on behalf of revenue has placed reliance on the judgment in the case of M.R. Soap (Pvt.) Ltd. Vs. Asstt. Commissioner, 1991 UPTC 517.

16. Heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

17. The questions of law which arise for consideration of this Court are :

(i) Whether the Tribunal was justified in up holding the applicability of Section 22 of the Act, 1948?

(ii) Whether the Tribunal was justified in up holding the order of the first appellate authority in allowing the application filed under Section 22 of the Act, 1948 and correcting the mistake thereby levying tax on the revisionist?

(iii) Whether the order of the assessing authority was amenable to any correction after it stood merged with the appellate order?

18. The undisputed facts of this case which emerge are that the revisionist leased out certain machinery to the sugar units of M/s Gangeshwar Ltd. at Deoband and Ramkola. An amount of Rs.51,84,382/- was received by the revisionist during the assessment year 1995-96, towards lease rent, which was initially subjected to tax under Section 3F of the Act, 1948, but on remand by means of order dated 07.06.2002, it was not assessed to tax under the belief that Section 3F of the Act, 1948 had been held to be ultravires by this Court in the case of V.K. Singhal (supra).

19. After the declaration of Section 3F of the Act, 1948 ultravires an amending Act was passed, reintroducing the provisions of Section 3F by means of U.P. Act No. 11 of 2001, published on 30.04.2001, validating all actions taken during the period 01.05.1987 to 01.05.1997.

20. The assessing authority while assessing the revisionist in remand proceedings made assessment on 07.06.2002 on which date the amended Section 3F had come into existence and it was open to the assessing authority to assess the revisionist in the light of amended provisions of the Act, 1948. The assessment order dated 07.06.2002, it seems was passed in ignorance of the aforesaid amendment and the amount of lease rent disclosed by the revisionist was not put to tax.

21. The issue regarding liability of tax under Section 3F with regard to lease rent was not carried by the revisionist to the appellate authority, rather appeal was preferred with regard to other issues from which the revisionist was aggrieved with and the issue regarding taxability of lease rent became final. The revenue also did not seek to reopen the assessment in this regard in exercise of powers as conferred by the provisions contained in Act, 1948. It is only after passing of the final order by the first Appellate Authority on 01.01.2003 that the application for rectification of the said order was moved on 17.05.2004, for rectification of the mistake in the appellate order dated 01.01.2003.

22. A perusal of the application dated 17.05.2004, which is part of the record of the instant revision, would indicate that it has been clearly stated that the assessing authority had assessed the revisionist by means of order dated 07.06.2002 for the assessment year 1995-96 did not imposed any tax with regard to the lease rent, despite the fact that U.P. Act No. 11 of 2001 had come into existence which provides that all the proceedings and assessments from 01.05.1987 to 01.05.1997 had been validated. The application further states that in the light of the judgment of Division Bench of this Court in the case of M.R. Soap (Pvt.) Ltd. (supra) the order of the assessing authority having merged in the order of the first Appellate Authority, the application under Section 22 of the Act, 1948, is being preferred.

23. Perusal of the entire application does not reveal as to what is the mistake committed by the first Appellate Authority which necessitated moving of an application for rectification of the mistake, rather, in the entire application it seems that actually the order of the assessing authority dated 07.02.2002 is being sought to the rectified in the garb of application for rectification of the order of the first Appellate Authority.

24. Learned Standing Counsel appearing on behalf of revenue could not point out as to the error in the order of the first Appellate Authority which required any rectification for which the application has been moved.

25. Section 22 of the Act, 1948 provides for rectification of the mistakes, and states that the authority or the Tribunal or High Court may on its own motion or on application of the dealer or any other interested person, rectify any mistake in any order passed by him or it under the Act, apparent on record, within three years from the date of the order sought to be rectified.

26. The application for rectification would necessarily have to demonstrate that there is an apparent mistake in the order passed by the authority concerned on which the rectification is sought and such an application is to be moved within three years from the date of the order sought to be rectified.

27. Perusal of the provisions of Section 22 of the Act, 1948, also clearly indicate that the application is maintainable only where there is a mistake in the order of the authority itself before whom such an application is made. For ready reference, Section 22 of the Act, 1948 is reproduced herein below :

"22. Rectification of mistakes.- (1) Any officer or authority or the Tribunal or the High Court may, on its own motion or on the application of the dealer or any other interested person rectify any mistake in any order passed by him or it under the Act, apparent on the record within three years from the date of the order sought to be rectified :

Provided that where an application under this sub-section has been made within such period of three years, it may be disposed of even beyond such period :

Provided further that no such rectification as has the effect of enhancing the assessment, penalty, fees or other dues shall be made unless reasonable opportunity of being heard has been given to the dealer or other person likely to be affected by such enhancement.

(2) Where such rectification has the effect of enhancing the assessment, the authority concerned shall serve on the dealer a revised notice of demand in the prescribed form and therefrom all the provisions of the Act and Rule framed thereunder shall apply as if such notice had been served in the first instance."

28. Considering the arguments of learned counsel for the parties as well as perusal of the application under Section 22 of the Act, 1948 moved by the revenue, it is clear that the application under Section 22 of the Act, 1948 sought to rectify the mistake committed by the assessing authority who passed the assessment order in ignorance of the amendments made in Section 3F of the Act, 1948 by means of Amendment Act No. 11 of 2001 and therefore the said application was clearly not maintainable, inasmuch as, in exercise of power under Section 22 of the Act, 1948, only the mistake committed by the first Appellate Authority could have been rectified.

29. The application moved by the revenue for correction of the mistake clearly indicates that there is no mention of any mistake having been committed by the First Appellate Authority, inasmuch as, the question of taxability of the lease rent was not an issue before the First Appellate Authority. It is clearly not possible to correct an order or issue which was neither raised nor considered by the First Appellate Authority.

30. Before the appellate authority, the question of liability to tax the lease rent received by the revisionist was not in question and therefore in this regard the order of the assessing authority did not merge with the order of the first Appellate Authority. The issue regarding tax on lease rent became final when the same was duly accepted by the revisionist and the revenue did not chose to reopen the same by exercising powers relating to reopening the assessment and therefore, the order of the assessing authority attained finality and was not liable to be opened in the manner the revenue has sought to reopen, i.e. by moving an application under Section 22 of the Act, 1948.

31. The situation would have been different had the issue regarding lease rent been considered and decided by the first appellate authority.

32. In the aforesaid circumstances, the "doctrine of merger" as canvassed by the learned counsel for the revenue would not apply. The "doctrine of merger" has been discussed by Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Commissioner of Central Excise, Delhi Vs. Pearl Drinks Ltd., 2010 (255) E.L.T. 485 (S.C.). The Court in para no. 14 has held as under :

"14. Applying the above test to the case at hand the doctrine would have no application for the plain and simple reason that the subject matter of the appeal filed by the assessee against the adjudicating authority's order in original was limited to disallowance of two out of eight deductions claimed by the assessee. The Tribunal was in that appeal concerned only with the question whether the adjudicating authority was justified in disallowing deductions under the said two heads. It had no occasion to examine the admissibility of the deductions under the remaining six heads obviously because the assessee's appeal did not question the grant of such deductions. Admissibility of the said deductions could have been raised only by the Revenue who had lost its case qua those deductions before the adjudicating authority. Dismissal of the appeal filed by the assessee could consequently bring finality only to the question of admissibility of deductions under the two heads regarding which the appeal was filed. The said order could not be understood to mean that the Tribunal had expressed any opinion regarding the admissibility of deductions under the remaining six heads which were not the subject matter of scrutiny before the Tribunal. That being so, the proceedings instituted by the Commissioner, Central Excise pursuant to the order passed by the Central Board of Excise and Customs brought up a subject matter which was distinctively different from that which had been examined and determined in the assessee's appeal no matter against the same order, especially when the decision was not rendered on a principle of law that could foreclose the Revenue's case. The Tribunal obviously failed to notice this distinction and proceeded to apply the doctrine of merger rather mechanically. It failed to take into consideration a situation where an order may be partly in favour and partly against a party in which event the part that goes in favour of the party can be separately assailed by them in appeal filed before the appellate Court or authority but dismissal on merits or otherwise of any such appeal against a part only of the order will not foreclose the right of the party who is aggrieved of the other part of this order. If the doctrine of merger were to be applied in a pedantic or wooden manner it would lead to anomalous results inasmuch as a party who has lost in part can by getting his appeal dismissed claim that the opposite party who may be aggrieved of another part of the very same order cannot assail its correctness no matter the appeal earlier disposed of by the Court or authority had not examined the correctness of that part of the order."

33. Learned counsel for the revisionist has fairly placed the judgment in the case of M/s Triveni Engg. Industries Ltd. Vs. Commissioner of Trade Tax passed in Sales Tax Revision No. 212 of 2006 (decided on 28.08.2017), The aforesaid judgment pertains to a similar dispute between the revisionist and the revenue for the assessment year 1996-97. The question considered by the court in M/s Triveni Engg. Industries Ltd. (supra) is whether the First Appellate Authority was within its jurisdiction in imposing tax upon the dealer under Section 3F in the proceedings under Section 22 of the Act, 1948?

34. The learned Single Judge in M/s Triveni Engg. Industries Ltd. (supra) considered various judgments of the Hon'ble Supreme Court and concluded as under :

"Thus, in my considered opinion, the mistake is apparent on the record of the order of the first appellate authority which was rightly rectified under Section 22 of the Act. The rectification and subsequent assessment to tax under Section 3F does not amount to review/revision but a rectification of mistake apparent on the record in the order of the fist appellate authority in view of retrospective application of Amendment Act, restoring Section 3F and validating all actions take thereunder.

The revision being devoid of merit is, accordingly dismissed."

35. Learned counsel for the revisionist has urged that the said judgment would not be binding to decide the controversy raised in the present revision which pertains to the assessment year 1995-96, and that principle of res-judicata are not applicable for subsequent assessment years, and also a binding judgment of the Division Bench of this Court in the case of M.R. Soap (Pvt.) Ltd. (supra) was not considered by the learned Single Judge. The Court in M.R. Soap (Pvt.) Ltd. (supra), in para nos. 12, 13 and 14 observed as under :

"12. It will be seen that the jurisdiction of the Appellate Authority under Section 9(3) is of the widest possible amplitude. The Appellate Authority cannot only confirm, vary or annul the order of assessment but may even enhance the amount of assessment, irrespective of whether such enhancement arises from the points raised in the grounds of appeal or otherwise considered by the Assessing Authority. The appellate power under this provision, is, as observed by the learned Chief Justice Chagla in Narroandas Manordas (supra) in the nature of the power of revision, and, as observed by the Supreme Court in (1967) 66 ITR 443, 449 (supra), it would be wholly erroneous to compare such appellate powers with the narrow and restricted powers possessed by a court of appeal under the Code of Civil Procedure. That being so, the entire assessment order, whether challenged in appeal as a whole or only in part, will merge in the appellate order irrespective of the points urged by the parties or decided by the Appellate Authority.

13. Once it is found that the order of assessment has merged in the appellate order, it follows as a matter of necessary corollary that the Assessing Authority shall not have the power to reopen the asssessment under Section 22 of the U.P. Sales Tax Act. The reason is obvious. The original order of assessment cease to exist, its identity having merged in the appellate order. That being so, the impugned notice issued by the Assessing Authority is plainly and manifestly without jurisdiction.

14. Some single Judge decisions have, however, been brought to our notice by the learned Standing Court in which a somewhat different view seems to have been expressed on theissue whether there is merger even with regard to the part of the order of the Assessing Authority which was not appealed against by the assessee. The learned Standing Counsel, however, vary candidly conceded that the contrary view expressed by the learned Single Judges runs counter to the decision of the Division Bench in J.K. Synthetics. We think that the learned Standing Counsel is clearly right in his submission."

36. Perusal of the aforesaid judgment clearly lays down the law in this regard that the order of the assessing authority merge with the order of appellate authority and thereby it ceases to exist as its identity stands merged with the appellate order and therefore any application under Section 22 of the Act, 1948, for correction of assessment order, would not be maintainable.

37. The Division Bench of this Court in M.R. Soap (Pvt.) Ltd. (supra) while considering the powers under Section 22 of the Act, 1948, took note of the jurisdiction of the appellate authority under Section 9(3) of the Act, 1948 where they have noticed that the appellate authority under the Act, 1948 is extremely wide and the appellate authority can not only confirm, vary or annul the order of the assessing authority but may enhance and assess the assessee to tax on the issue which was not taken up before the assessing authority and therefore concluded that in exercise of power under Section 22 of the Act, 1948, the assessment cannot be reopened as has been sought to be done in the present case.

38. It has further been contended by learned counsel for the revisionist that the order of assessment on remand was passed on 07.06.2002, thereby no tax was levied on the proceeds of lease rent taken from M/s Gangeshwar Limited under the belief that provisions of Section 3F of the Act, 1948 were declared ultra vires by this Court in the case of V.K. Singhal (supra). An appeal was preferred by the revisionist on some other issues but the issue regarding lease rent attained finality. Even if the stand of the revenue is accepted that no tax was levied on the lease rent, taking into account the fact that same had been declared ultra vires and the assessing authority was ignorant about the reintroduction of the same provision by means of subsequent amendment in the Act, 1948, it was always open for the revenue to exercise the power contained under Section 21 of the Act, 1948 as the same would amount to escaped assessment to tax, but, a fresh assessment cannot be made in the garb of exercise of powers conferred under Section 22 of the Act, 1948, which only provides for rectification of mistakes.

39. The very words "rectification of mistake" includes due application of mind on a particular set of fact or law which are liable to be corrected under the powers conferred under Section 22 of the Act, 1948. In the facts of the present case, I am of the considered opinion that where an issue was never raised before the Appellate Authority nor considered by it, it cannot be subject matter for correction of a mistake and therefore application under Section 22 of the Act, 1948, preferred by the revenue for correction of mistake in the order of Joint Commissioner (Appeals), was clearly misconceived.

40. Another aspect of the matter which has been considered in the discussion made above is with regard to the "doctrine of merger" as discussed in the case of M.R. Soap (Pvt.) Ltd. (supra). According to the Division Bench of this Court in the aforesaid case, it is provided as under :

"12.....That being so, the entire assessment order, whether challenged in appeal as a whole or only in part, will merge in the appellate order irrespective of the points urged by the parties or decided by the Appellate Authority.

13. Once it is found that the order of assessment has merged in the appellate order, it follows as a matter of necessary corollary that the Assessing Authority shall not have the power to reopen the assessment under Section 22 of the U.P. Sales Tax Act. ....."

41. Taking into consideration the "doctrine of merger" as per the judgment of the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Commissioner of Central Excise Vs. Pearl Drinks Ltd. (supra), and applying it to the facts of the present case, it emerges that issue regarding taxability on the lease rent as provided under Section 3F of the Act, 1948, becomes final at the stage of the Assessing Authority and the same was not challenged by the revenue before the Joint Commissioner (Appeals) nor there was an order of reassessment and therefore, the said issue became final and even if the said issue did not merge with the order of the Appellate Authority, the same could not have been rectified by an application under Section 22 of the Act, 1948.

42. From the perusal of the record, the application for rectification under Section 22 of the Act, 1948 was moved by the revenue for rectification of the order of the Joint Commissioner (Appeals) but in the entire application there was no mention of the mistake sought to be rectified in the said order and therefore, such an application would not be maintainable and it would be a colourable exercise that under the garb of rectification of mistake of the order of first Appellate Authority, the order of the Assessing Authority is rectified/modified and fresh assessment is made in this regard.

43. In the light of above, the impugned order of the Tribunal is not sustainable and therefore the same is set aside.

44. The revision is allowed.

4. The Commissioner, Commercial Tax, U.P. Lko V. S/S Dabur India Ltd. 22 Site-4, Ind. Area Sahibabad Sales/Trade Tax Revision No. 441 of 2014

(Delivered by Hon'ble Alok Mathur, J.)

1. Heard Sri Bipin Kumar Pandey, learned Standing Counsel for the revisionist as well as Sri Nishant Mishra, learned counsel for the respondent.

2. By means of this revision the revenue has assailed the order dated 25.02.2013, passed by the Trade Tax Tribunal in the Second Appeal No. 1183 of 2011, whereby the appeal preferred by the respondent has been allowed and the order passed by the first Appellate Authority has been set aside. This revision relates to assessment year 2009-10.

3. The revision has been admitted by order dated 12.07.2013, on the following question of law :

(i) Whether under the facts and circumstances of the case, the Commercial Tax Tribunal was legally justified in deleting the penalty levied under Section 54(1)(14) of U.P. Value Added Tax Act, 2008?

4. Brief facts giving rise to the present revision are that Vehicle No. HR-58/5439, was intercepted by the Mobile Squad Authority, Commercial Tax, Unit-3, Ghaziabad on 23.10.2009 and the dealer was found importing goods from outside the State and Form 38 had certain unfilled (blank) column, which gave rise to the apprehension of intention to evade tax. The Assessing Authority issued show cause notice to the revisionist/assessee for levying penalty under Section 54(1)(14) of the U.P. Value Added Tax Act, 2008 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act, 2008"). The assessee filed reply to the show cause notice. The Assessing Authority after considering the reply of the assessee, rejected the explanation and passed assessment order imposing penalty to the tune of Rs.1,80,000/- i.e. 40% of the value of the goods in question.

5. The assessee/revisionist aggrieved by the order of the Assessing Authority filed first appeal before the first appellate authority which was dismissed by order dated 04.03.2011. Aggrieved by the order passed by the first appellate authority the assessee/revisionist preferred second appeal before the Trade Tax Tribunal, and the Tribunal by means of impugned order allowed the appeal of the assessee/revisionist. Hence this revision preferred by the revenue.

6. Learned Standing Counsel appearing for the revisionist has submitted that the order of Tribunal is bad in law as well as on facts. The column no. 6 of Form-38 was left blank deliberately by the respondent with intention to use the same again so as to evade tax. The learned counsel for the revenue has relied upon the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of M/s Guljag Industries Vs. Commercial Tax Officer, 2007 NTN (Vol. 35) 61, wherein the Apex Court has held that if relevant column of forms have not been filled while importing the goods the presumption is that there is intention to evade payment of tax as the said forms can be used again.

7. Learned counsel for the respondent on the other hand has supported the judgment and order passed by the Tribunal stating that there is no error apparent in the same and no interference from this Court is required. The revision is devoid of merit and is liable to to be dismissed.

8. Heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

9. The controversy involved in the present revision is in respect to the levy of penalty under Section 54(1)(14) of the Act, 2008 in contravention of the provisions of Section 50 of the Act, 2008. As per scheme of the Act, 2008 any person, who intends to bring, import or otherwise receive, into the State from any place outside the State any goods other than goods named, and described in schedule-I in such quantity or measure or of such value, as may be notified by the State Government in this behalf, in connection with business, shall either obtain the prescribed form of declaration, in such manner as may be prescribed, from the assessing authority having jurisdiction over the area, where this principal place of business is situated or in case there is no such place, where he ordinarily resides or shall down load from official website of the department in the manner as may be prescribed under Rule 58 or 59.

10. The driver or other person incharge of vehicle carrying goods referred to in sub Section (1) of Section 50 of the Act, 2008 is required to carry the declaration form along with other relevant documents and if on inspection he is found to transport or attempting or abetting to transport any goods to which this section applies without being covered by proper and genuine documents then for reasons to be recorded and after giving opportunity of being heard he may order for detention of such goods. The declaration form for import may be obtained by registered dealer for import of goods either from his assessing authority or he may download it from the official website of the department in the manner prescribed by the Commissioner. The aforesaid declaration form for import is Form 38. The Form is required to be sent to the selling dealer or consignor of the other State in two copies.

11. In Form 38 the name and address of the dealer to whom form is to be issued, description of goods, weight / measure, quantity, value in figure, value in words, bill / cash memo / Chalan / tax invoice number and date, name and address of seller / consignor and certain particulars of transporters / carrier, namely, service provider number, truck number, name and address of driver and driving license number are to be filled up. Column no. 1 to 6 may be filled up only with the help of bill / cash memo / chalan / tax invoice. Recurring instances comes to light that column no. 6 is left blank due to which penalty under Section 54(1)(14) of the Act, 2008 is imposed by the assessing authority on the ground that non filling of this column facilitates tax evaders to evade tax by re-using the same form 38 for import of unaccounted goods. It is the case of the department that when entire informations in form XXXVIII are filled up with the help of the relevant bill / cash memo / chalan / tax invoice then there is no reason not to fill up column no. 6 i.e. bill / cash memo / chalan / tax invoice number and date. According to the department this clearly indicates import of goods to evade payment of tax which attracts penalty under Section 54(1)(14) of the Act, 2008 unless it is shown that even if details in column no. 6 have not been filled up yet there was no intention to evade payment of tax.

12. In the instant case it is admitted fact that the respondent had duly applied for and obtained Form 38 for import of goods and the Column 6 of the said Form was left blank on account of negligence of the respondent. It is only on account of non filling of Column 6, penalty has been imposed upon the respondent. It has been submitted on behalf of the respondent that there was no intention to evade tax and the driver of the vehicle carrying the goods was carrying all the relevant documents including the bill/challan/bilty etc. from which the details of goods being carried on the vehicle could have been verified by the officer concerned and therefore there was no occasion for the assessing officer to pass penalty order, inasmuch as there was no intention on the part of the assesee to evade tax.

13. Learned counsel for the assessee/respondent has also produced a copy of Circular dated 03.02.2009, passed by the office of the Commissioner, Commercial Tax U.P., which has been addressed to all the Zonal Additional Commissioners/Additional Commissioners Grade-II etc. wherein it has been provided that in case vehicle importing goods is accompanied with Form 38 and the goods being carried tallies with the said Form 38 and also that in case any column in Form 38 remains unfilled, then the Officer inspecting the vehicle at the Check Post is under duty to fill up the blank Form in accordance with the other documents alongwith his signature and stamp and release the goods thereafter.

14. In the case of Jain Suddh Vanaspati Ltd. Vs. State of U.P., 1983 U.P.T.C. 198 a Division Bench of this Court considered the similar provisions of the U.P. Sales Tax Act, 1948 and held in paragraphs 23, 29 as under :-

"23. The provision contained in Section 28-A as it stands after enactment of U.P. Act No. 33 of 1979 are materially different. It cannot be said that there is any assumption underlying therein that the goods to which the provision of Section 28-A applies have actually been sold inside the State and the section does not authorise the sales tax authorities either to seize the said goods or to penalise the importer thereof on any such assumption. Its present basis is the attempt to evade tax. The power to detain the goods and levy penalty in respect thereof cannot be exercised merely for the reason that the said goods were not accompanied by the requisite documents or that the documents accompanying them were false. This power can be exercised only if the goods detained are not accompanied by the requisite documents or that the documents accompanying them are false and if there is material before the detaining authority to indicate that the goods are being imported in an attempt to evade assessment or payment of tax due or likely to be due under the Act. The instant case, therefore, in our opinion, clearly falls outside the ratio of the case of Check Post Officer v. K. P. Abdulla & Bros. [1971] 27 STC 1 (SC) as decided by the Supreme Court.

29. The first question that arises for consideration is whether the expression "attempt to evade assessment or payment of tax due or likely to be due" can be said to be vague and whether the power conferred upon the Check Post Officer in this regard can be said to be arbitrary. In our opinion, the expression "attempt, to evade assessment or payment of tax due or likely to be due" cannot be said to be an expression conveying vague ideas. It is, in our opinion, an expression having a definite connotation. An attempt to evade assessment or payment of tax due or likely to be due can take place in so many different ways that it is not possible for any legislature to specify all such methods of evasion in the Act. The expression does not become vague merely because all the circumstances in which such an attempt to evade assessment or payment of tax due or likely to be due have not been enumerated therein."

15. Learned counsel for the respondent has placed reliance on the judgment passed by this Court in the case of I.C.I. India Limited Vs. Commissioner of Sales Tax, (2003) 134 STC 286 (All), wherein in similar circumstances the Court has held as under :-

"13. In the present case, dealer's books of account was accepted. Tribunal recorded the finding to this effect. Admittedly, bill and builty were produced at the time of the checking at the check-post and form XXXI had also been submitted along with bill and builty. The purpose of form XXXI is, to bring to the notice of the department about the import of the goods so that the imported goods may not be escaped from consideration at the time of assessment. Merely because some off the columns of form XXXI were not filled which was merely a procedural defect it cannot be said that the provisions of Section 28-A has not been complied. No finding whatsoever has been recorded by any of the authority that there was any attempt on the part of the applicant to evade the tax. Inasmuch as goods were not for resale and were not liable to tax in the hands of the applicant it cannot be said that there was any violation of Section 28-A. In the circumstances, the penalty under Section 15-A(1)(0) is not sustainable.

14. In the result, the revision is allowed. The order of Tribunal dated September 3, 1990 is set aside and the penalty under Section 15-A(1)(o) is quashed."

16. Learned Single Judge of this High Court in Sales/Trade Tax Revision No. 441 of 2014 - The Commissioner, Commercial Tax, U.P,. Lko Vs. S/S Dabur India Ltd. 22 Site-4, Ind. Area Sahibabad and other connected revisions (decided on 25.09.2014), wherein similar controversy is involved, has taken same view in respect to unfilled Form-38.

17. Learned Standing Counsel for the revisionist has placed reliance on the judgment of Apex Court in the case of M/s Guljag Industries (supra), whereby he has invited attention of this Court towards the observations made by the Apex Court in para 22 of the judgment, wherein it has been recorded as under :

"22. ..... Section 78(2) is a mandatory provision. If the declaration Form 18A/18C does not support the goods in movement because it is left blank then in that event Section 78(5) provides for imposition of monetary penalty for non-compliance. Default or failure to comply with Section 78(2) is the failure/default of statutory civil obligation and proceedings under Section 78(5) is neither criminal nor quasi-criminal in nature. The penalty is for statutory offence. Therefore, there is no question of proving of intention or of mens rea as the same is excluded from the category of essential element for imposing penalty. ....."

18. Perusal sub Section 6 of Section 28A itself indicates that penalty can be imposed only after giving opportunity of being heard that the goods were being so transported in an attempt to evade payment of tax due or likely to be due under the Act and therefore mens rea becomes essential ingredient, and therefore the facts in the case of M/s M/s Guljag Industries (supra) are distinguishable in respect to the provisions of the Act, 2008 applicable in the State of Uttar Pradesh.

19. Non-filling up of column no. 6 i.e. not mentioning of bill / cash memo / chalan / invoice number may lead to an inference that in case of non-checking of goods the declaration form may be re-used for importing goods of same quantity, weight and value to evade payment of tax but it cannot be the sole ground to impose penalty under Section 54(1)(14) of the Act, 2008. Satisfaction has to be recorded after giving opportunity to the dealer / person and after considering all the relevant materials / evidences on record that there was an intention to evade payment of tax. The guilty mind is necessary to be established to impose penalty under Section 54(1)(14) of the Act, 2008. If the last fact finding authority i.e. the tribunal has recorded a finding of fact that there was no intention to evade payment of tax, same cannot be interfered with in revision under Section 58 of the Act, 2008 provided the finding is perverse or it is based on consideration of irrelevant material or non consideration of relevant material.

20. In the present case also the vehicle was accompanied by Form 38 and all other documents were being carried along with other documents and only due to human error column would remain unfilled. It was the duty of the Officer managing the Check Post who after discovering that some column of Form 38 found unfilled should have filled the same himself in the light of Circular dated 03.02.2009 and should have allowed the vehicle to proceed alongwith the goods. It is undisputed that the goods transported were the same which were mentioned in the various documents (bill/builty/challan etc.) carried by the driver of the vehicle.

21. The judgment passed by this Court in the case of I.C.I. India Limited (supra) has clearly spelt out the law in this regard and a circular issued by the Revenue clearly indicates that the Officer managing the check post after verifying the goods on the basis of other documents available at that point of time and have filled up the blank column of Form 38 and there was no occasion for imposing penalty, as has been done by the Assessing Officer.

22. In the light of above, this Court finds no merit in the contention raised by learned Standing Counsel appearing on behalf of the revenue. The revision lacks merit and is accordingly dismissed.

23. The impugned order dated 25.02.2013, passed by the Tribunal is hereby affirmed.

24. The question of law is answered in favour of assessee and against the revenue.

A. Trade/Sales Tax - Certificate of registration - absence of items in the certificate of registration could not be imported under Form C - goods imported bonafidely need to be demonstrated else penalty is leviable under Section 10A read with Section 10(b) of the Central Sales Tax Act

The revisionist had full knowledge about the fate of his applications for addition of branch as well as items. He had commenced his business at the new branch which was added in the amended certificate of registration. Despite the fact that his application for addition of items was not allowed, he continued to import the aid goods under Form-C and therefore from the above facts it cannot be deciphered that the revisionist has acted in bonafide manner in importing the said goods. List of case cited:-

Commissioner of Sales Tax, U.P. V. M/s Sajiv Fabrics, 2010 NTN (Vol. 44) 69 (distinguished)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Alok Mathur, J.)

1. Heard Sri Murari Mohan Rai, learned counsel for the revisionist as well as Sri Bipin Kumar Pandey, learned Standing Counsel appearing on behalf of respondent.

2. By means of aforesaid revisions challenge has been made to common judgment and order dated 24th July, 2006, passed by the Trade Tax Tribunal in Second Appeal No. 43 of 2006 and Second Appeal No. 44 of 2006, whereby the appeals preferred by the revisionist were rejected. These revisions relate to assessment years 2001-02 and 2002-03.

3. The facts of the case in brief are that assessee/revisionist is a firm engaged in the business of buying and selling "Vanaspati, other edible oils, sugar etc.". The revisionist firm is registered under Section 8-A of U.P. Trade Tax Act as well as under Section 7 of the Central Sales Tax Act. The revisionist established a Cold Storage under the name and style of Shreenathji Cold Storage, Wazirganj, Budaun as a branch of the head office at Allahabad and accordingly moved an application for the amendment of the registration certificates under the U.P. Trade Tax Act as well as under the Central Sales Tax Act.

4. The assessing authority by order dated 09.01.2002, amended the registration certificate in Form-15, issued under the U.P. Trade Tax Act as also registration Certificate in Form-B issued under the Central Sales Tax Act showing the business of the revisionist at Budaun as a Branch Office, but no addition/amendment with regard to the items required to be imported by the revisionist was made in the registration certificate and for the that purpose revisionist moved another application for addition of items in Form-C, before the Assessing Authority.

5. In the meanwhile, the revisionist started importing machinery and parts. During the course of assessment proceedings for the year 2001-02, it came to be notice of the Assessing Officer that the items imported by the assessee-revisionist, did not find mention in the registration certificate and therefore issued a show cause notice to the revisionist stating that he had imported machinery and parts amounting to Rs.9,26,236/-, in respect of which permission not having been granted, and held that the revisionist had imported the items in question unauthorizedly and illegally.

6. In response to the show-cause-notice, the revisionist filed a detailed reply stating that his application for addition of machines and parts thereof was still pending and in any case the same had not been rejected by the Assessing Authority and nor any communication in this regard was made to the revisionist, thus, the applicant was under the bonafide belief that the applicant was authorized to import the goods in question against Form-C, and therefore no violation of any provision has been made by him for which he can be penalized under Section 10-A of the Central Sales Tax Act.

7. The Assessing Authority however did not accepted the explanation of the revisionist and imposed penalty in exercise of powers under Section 10-A of the Central Sales Tax Act, holding that the revisionist had imported machines and parts thereof on Form-C without having been duly authorized in this regard and imposed penalty to the tune of Rs.1,30,000.00 under Section 10-A of the Central Sales Tax Act by order dated 22.02.2005.

8. Aggrieved by the aforesaid order of penalty, the revisionist preferred appeals before the Joint Commissioner (Appeals), Trade Tax, Allahabad, which were dismissed vide judgment and order dated 28.01.2006, mainly on the ground that in the certificate of registration only branch has been added and not the items. Against the order passed by the first appellate authority, the revisionist preferred Second Appeals before the Trade Tax Tribunal, Allahabad, which has also been dismissed by means of impugned judgment and order dated 24.07.2006. Hence present revisions.

9. Following substantial questions of law have been framed in these revisions for consideration :

(i) Whether on the facts and in the circumstances of the case, the applicant was liable for penalty U/s 10-A read with Section 10(b) of the Central Sales Tax Act?

(ii) Whether on the facts and in the circumstances of the case, the quantum of penalty fixed by the authorities below was excessive and arbitrary?

10. Learned counsel for the revisionist has submitted that he has made an application for addition of items in the certificate of registration, but the competent authority had only added the Branch, while the application regarding addition of items remained pending. He further submitted that he had issued form-C and only thereupon imported the goods and considering the aforesaid facts it can safely presumed that the revisionist was acting bonafidely and he had no intention to evade tax and therefore the orders passed by the Assessing Authority, the first Appellate Authority as well as Tribunal were arbitrary and have not considered the case of the revisionist in proper perspective and therefore the penalty imposed upon him is liable to be set aside.

11. Learned Standing Counsel appearing on behalf of Revenue on the other hand has submitted that under the scheme of the Central Sales Tax Act it is mandatory that certificate of registration should assign list of items which are purported to be dealt by the assessee. He further submitted that the application in this regard was preferred by the revisionist but no orders in this regard have been passed in favour of the revisionist and therefore in absence of the addition of items in the registration certificate the revisionist could not have imported the goods on Form-C which are not included in the certificate of registration. He further submits that the penalty imposed upon the revisionist was just and proper and that there is clear violation of statutory provisions under the scheme of the Act.

12. Heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

13. The admitted facts of this case are that the revisionist had moved an application for adding of Branch of his firm and also for addition of items. The competent authority had only added the Branch but no order was passed with regard to addition of the items. It is true that Form-C was issued in respect to the items to be imported, which did not find mention in the certificate of registration and the revisionist is claiming that the said goods were imported under the bona-fide belief that the goods have been included in the amended certificate of registration.

14. It is also uncontroverted that application regarding addition of items was not allowed nor were the items entered on the certificate of registration. Without addition of items in the registration certificate, it is not permissible for the revisionist to import the goods and in case such goods which are not included in the certificate of registration are imported, same would amount to penalty under the provisions of the Central Sales Tax Act.

15. Learned counsel for the revisionist has relied upon the Apex Court's judgment in the case of Commissioner of Sales Tax, U.P. Vs. M/s Sanjiv Fabrics, 2010 NTN (Vol. 44) 69, to canvass his submissions. In paragraph 22 of the said judgment, the Court has held as under :

"22. In view of the above, we are of the considered opinion that the use of the expression "falsely represents" is indicative of the fact that the offence under Section 10(b) of the Act comes into existence only where a dealer acts deliberately in defiance of law or is guilty of contumacious or dishonest conduct. Therefore, in proceedings for levy of penalty under Section 10-A of the Act, burden would be on the revenue to prove the existence of circumstances constituting the said offence. Furthermore, it is evidenct from the heading of Section 10-A of the Act that for breach of any provision of the Act, constituting an offence under Section 10 of the Act, ordinary remedy is prosecution which may entail a sentence of imprisonment and the penalty under Section 1-0A of the Act is only in lieu of prosecution. In light of the language employed in the Section and the nature of penalty contemplated therein, we find it difficult to hld that all types of omissions or commissions in the use of Form "C' will be embraced in the expression "false representation". In our opinion, therefore, a finding of mens rea is a condition precedent for levying penalty under Section 10(b) read with Section 10-A of the Act.

23. That takes us to the next question viz. Whether on the facts of the two cases before us it could be said that the dealers had purchased the goods in question and furnished Form "C' in respect of those goods knowing that the said goods were not covered by their certificates of registration and, therefore, the requirement of the mens rea was satisfied.

24. As regards, the first set of appeals, as afore-stated, the High Court has deleted the penalty on the ground that apart from the fact that on earlier occasions the department had not raised any objection while issuing Form ''C' to the dealer, the dealer filed an application for amendment of the registration certificate as soon as he learnt about his fault. It is evident from the impugned judgment that the High Court had lost sight of the fact tha the dealer had used Form ''C' to import items like sutli, tat etc., in addition to the cotton waste. Assuming that the dealer was of the bona fide belief that cotton included the cotton waste, it is hard to believe that there was some confusion in the mind of the dealer in so far as other items were concerned.

Similarly, in the second set of appeals, it is evident from the impugned judgment that the High Court has not examined the explanation furnished by the dealer that they were under a bona fide belief that they were authorized to purchase oil seeds against Form ''C' issued to them regularly by the department without any objection. It is manifest that the High Court proceeded to examine the case of the dealer on the premise that offence under Section

10(b) of the Act was an absolute offence."

16. Perusal of the aforesaid judgment clearly indicates that the assessee therein was able to demonstrate before the Court that he had imported the goods bonafidely and did not file any false returns, his intentions were further demonstrated by the fact that on coming to know that the items are not included in the registration certificate, he had immediately moved an application for amendment of the registration certificate to include the items.

17. In the instant case, the assessee despite coming to know that the goods/items have not been included in the list, he did not moved any application for disposal of pending application or moved a fresh application for including the goods in the certificate of registration.

18. The bonafides of the revisionist are also not made out in the instant case, inasmuch as, the certificate of registration after due amendment would have been returned to him alongwith endorsement of the authority concerned. On the strength of the aforesaid certificate of registration, the revisionist continued his business of importing the goods, therefore, the revisionist cannot plead ignorance of the certificate of registration wherein the list of goods is also mentioned.

19. The revisionist in the present case was fully aware of the amendments incorporated in his certificate of registration and from the list of items appended therein, he should have been aware of the fact that his application for addition of goods had not been allowed and this the items had not been included in the list of goods he intends to import on Form - C.

20. In the light of the above, the judgment of the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of M/s Sanjiv Fabrics (supra) is distinguishable on facts. In the instant case, the revisionist had full knowledge about the fate of his applications for addition of branch as well as items. He had commenced his business at the new branch which was added in the amended certificate of registration. Despite the fact that his application for addition of items was not allowed, he continued to import the said goods under Form-C and therefore from the above facts it cannot be deciphered that the revisionist has acted in bonafide manner in importing the said goods.

21. In view of the discussion made above, this Court is of the considered opinion that there is no illegality or infirmity in the order of the Tribunal and therefore no interference in the same is required.

22. The revisions are dismissed.

23. The substantial questions of law raised in these revisions are answered in favour of the revenue and against the revisionist.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Neeraj Tiwari, J.)

1. Heard Sri Vishal Khandelwal, learned counsel for the petitioners.

2. By way of present petition, petitioners are challenging impugned order dated 09.12.2019 passed by 7th Additional District & Sessions Judge, Agra in SCC Revision No. 14 of 2017 (Kishan Singh Vs. Shashi Jain).

3. Learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that plaintiff-respondent has filed SCC Suit No. 25 of 2011 against the petitioner no. 1 claiming herself to be the owner and landlord of Property No. 21/67 in which petitioner is the tenant of one room (described as Private Room No. 6) at the rent of Rs. 13.75/- per month besides taxes. It is alleged that petitioner is not paying rent from 1.1.1996, made material alteration and also sublet the said room. Relief claimed by the plaintiff-respondent is for eviction and arrears of rent. Petitioners-defendants have filed a detailed written statement with regard to the averment of plaint. Judge, Small Cause Court, Agra allowed the suit vide judgment and decree dated 30.03.2017 for eviction and payment of rents. Against the judgment and order of Judge, Small Cause Court, Agra dated 30.03.2017, petitioners preferred SCC Revision No. 14 of 2017, which is still pending for final decision.

4. During the pendency of the Revision, petitioners have filed Application- 67Ga under Order 7 Rule 11 read with Section 151 CPC on the ground that disputed rented room has not been sufficiently described in the Plaint because of which it is not identifiable and no site plan has been annexed along with Plaint. It is also stated in the application that mandatory provision of Order 4 Rule 1, 2 & 3 of CPC have not been complied with, therefore, Plaint is liable to be rejected. Additional District Judge, Court No. 7, Agra vide order dated 09.12.2019, rejected the application-67Ga of the petitioners. It was rejected on the ground of merits as well as on the ground that this objection has never been raised by the petitioner-plaintiff in his written submission.

5. Learned counsel for the petitioners assailed the order on the ground that application under Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC can be filed at any time and at any stage as Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC does not provide any time limit and stage of legal proceeding. Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC provides ground of rejection of Plaint and it is required on the part of Court concerned to consider the same first and pass order even though it has not been raised by the defendant. It is next submitted that Section 21 of CPC provides that objection has to be taken with regard to jurisdiction at his first instance at the earliest possible opportunity and in Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC, there is no restriction or limitation, therefore, at any stage of legal proceeding, defendant can take objection and Court is bound to decide the same irrespective of limitation or stage of proceedings. It is also submitted that by the perusal of Plaint itself, it is absolutely clear that there is no disclosure or description of property and further it was in violation of Order 4 Rule 1, 2 & 3, therefore, it is required on the part of Court to reject the Plaint and allow the application, but the application 67 G was rejected, which is bad in the eye of law and is liable to be set aside.

6. I have considered the submissions made by learned counsel for the petitioners and perused the records.

7. There is no dispute on the point that when the suit was filed, the petitioners-defendants have not taken any objection under Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC. The suit was decreed vide order dated 30.3.2017 and even at the time of filing of revision, petitioners have not taken any such objection which was available to them, therefore, the issue is whether the application filed under Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC can be entertained at any stage of proceedings and without considering any limitation or not.

8. Order 7 Rule 11 of Civil Procedure Code, 1908 is quoted below:-

"11. Rejection of plaint--The plaint shall be rejected in the following cases:--

(a) where it does not disclose a cause of action;

(b) where the relief claimed is undervalued, and the plaintiff, on being required by the Court to correct the valuation within a time to be fixed by the Court, fails to do so;

(c) where the relief claimed is properly valued, but the plaint is returned upon paper insufficiently stamped, and the plaintiff, on being required by the Court to supply the requisite stamp-paper within a time to be fixed by the Court, fails to do so;

(d) where the suit appears from the statement in the plaint to be barred by any law :

[144] [Provided that the time fixed by the Court for the correction of the valuation or supplying of the requisite stamp-paper shall not be extended unless the Court, for reasons to be recorded, is satisfied that the plaintiff was prevented by any cause of an exceptional nature form correcting the valuation or supplying the requisite stamp-paper , as the case may be, within the time fixed by the Court and that refusal to extend such time would cause grave injustice to the plaintiff.]"

9. By the perusal of Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC, it is apparently clear that basic purpose of Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC is to raise objection at the earliest for immediate disposal of suit in case Plaint has been filed contrary to provisions of Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC otherwise there is no need of Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC and it may be left open for the defendant to raise objection along with his written statement.

10. Learned counsel for the petitioners has also relied upon Section 21 of C.P.C. The same is being quoted hereinbelow:-

"21. Objections to jurisdiction- No objection as to the place of suing shall be allowed by any Appellate or Revisional Court unless such objection was taken in the Court of first instance at the earliest possible opportunity and in all cases where issues are settled at or before such settlement, and unless there has been a consequent failure of justice.

(2) No objection as to the competence of a Court with reference to the pecuniary limits of its jurisdiction shall be allowed by any Appellate or Revisional Court unless such objection was taken in the Court of first instance at the earliest possible opportunity, and, in all cases where issues are settled, at or before such settlement, and unless there has been a consequent failure of justice.

(3) No objection as to the competence of the executing Court with reference to the local limits of its jurisdiction shall be allowed by any Appellate or Revisional Court unless such objection was taken in the executing court at the earliest possible opportunity, and unless there has been a consequent failure of justice."

11. Certainly, Section 21 of CPC deals with objection with regard to jurisdiction, but in spirit it cannot be isolated only for jurisdiction and principle of Section 21 of CPC would also be applicable for filing of application under Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC meaning thereby at the earliest objection should have been moved.

12. Section 21 of CPC and Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC should be read conjointly and not separately. It is required on the part of petitioners-defendants to raise objection at the earliest before the framing of issue and there is no dispute in the present matter that it has been raised at a very belated stage during the pendency of Revision, therefore, whatever argument is raised by learned counsel for the petitioners is not sustainable and allowing of such application would frustrate the object and purpose of Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC read with Section 21 of CPC. Even if there is no limitation prescribed, in the light of Section 21 of CPC, it is required on the part of petitioners to raise objection at the earliest immediately after receiving the Plaint and not at any stage of litigation as it is filed in present case.

13. Similar position is also about the violation of Order 4 Rule 1, 2 & 3 of CPC. This objection has never been raised either before the Small Causes Court or Revisional Court, therefore, in light of finding given hereinabove, petitioner cannot be permitted to raise this issue at this belated stage.

14. So far as the factual position of the plaint is concerned, there is specific finding of the Revisional Court that there is description of property in dispute which was duly accepted by the petitioners-defendants in its written submission. Tenancy is also accepted, therefore, that cannot be interfered by this Court while exercising the jurisdiction under Article 227 of Constitution of India.

15. Therefore, under such facts and circumstances, petition lacks merit and is, accordingly, dismissed. No order as to costs.

Held:- Magistrate has no jurisdiction to issue warrant of arrest straightway against person liable for payment of maintenance allowance in event of non-payment of maintenance allowance within time fixed by court without first levying amount due as fine and without making any attempt for realization that fine in one or both modes for recovery of that fine as provided for in clauses (a) or (b) of sub-Section (1) of Section 421 of Act. (Para-13)

Matters Under Article 227 allowed. (E- 7)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Manju Rani Chauhan, J.)

1. At the time of filing of the present petition, certified copy of the impugned order has not been annexed along with the present petition.

2. Today, a supplementary affidavit has been filed on behalf of the petitioner enclosing certified copy of the order impugned. The same is taken on record.

3. Heard Mr. S. Sengar, learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned A.G.A. for the State as also perused the material on record.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned A.G.A for the State agree that the present petition may be disposed of at this stage without calling for counter affidavit in view of the order proposed to be passed today.

5. Normally this Court would have issued notice to opposite party no.2 to contest the matter by filing counter affidavit either by herself or through counsel, but no purpose would be served by keeping the application pending. However, it shall be open for opposite party no.2 to file an appropriate application, if she feels so aggrieved.

6. The present criminal revision has been filed to quash the judgment and order dated 20th September, 2019 passed by the Principal Judge, Family Court, Auraiya in consequential proceedings of Case No. 397 of 2013 (Subodhani @ Saloni & Another Vs. Sukant @ Rakesh Kumar), under Section 125 (3) Cr.P.C., whereby the Principal Judge has issued non-bailable warrant against the petitioner.

7. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the petitioner married opposite party no.2 on 8th December, 2010. Out of the aforesaid wedlock, a baby girl was born. However, after some time, the relationship between the husband and wife i.e. petitioner and opposite party no.2 became strained and incompatible. Thereafter the opposite party no.2 has initiated several litigations against the petitioner. In connection with the same, she along with her daughter filed an application under Section 125 Cr.P.C. before the Family Court, Auraiya, which has been registered as Case No. 397 of 2013. The said application has been allowed by the Principal Judge, Family Court, Auraiya vide judgment and order dated 8th January, 2019 and the petitioner has been directed to pay Rs. 5,000/- per month to his wife i.e. opposite party no.2, namely, Subodhi @ Saloni and Rs. 7,000/- per month to his daughter, namely, Kumari Riya till the date of her majority as maintenance allowance. Thereafter the opposite party no.2 along with his daughter instituted Misc. Case Nos. 130 of 2018, 107 of 2019 and 83 of 2019 (Subodhani @ Saloni & Another Vs. Sukant @ Rakesh Kumar) under Section 125 (3) Cr.P.C. in the Court tof Principal Judge, Family Court, Auraiya. After notice being received, petitioner also filed his objection under Section 125 (4) Cr.P.C. in the aforesaid execution cases but the same has been rejected by the Principal Judge vide order dated 19th September, 2019 and on the next date i.e. 20th September, 2019 has straight-way issued Non-Bailable Warrant directing the petitioner to send him in jail. It is against this order that the present petition has been filed.

8. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the impugned order passed by the Principal Judge, Family Court, Auraiya dated 20th September, 2019 is wholly illegal as he has no jurisdiction to issue non-bailable warrant against the petitioner under Section 125 (3) Cr.P.C. for execution of his order awarding maintenance allowance to opposite party no.2 and his daughter Section 125 (3) Cr.P.C. specifically provides for issuance of a warrant for levying the amount issued in the manner provided for levying fines. Learned counsel for the petitioner has referred to Section 421 Cr.P.C., which enacts the provisions regarding issuance of warrant for levying of fine. Learned counsel for the petitioner further submits that when a specific procedure has been provided for execution of the order of maintenance of Family Court, the issuance of Non-Bailable Warrant by the Principal Judge, Family Court against the petitioner is illegal and, therefore, the impugned order is liable to be quashed. In support of his aforesaid submissions, learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon the following judgments of Gauhati High Court, Calcutta High Court and Punjab and Haryana High Court:

1. Hazi Abdul Khaleque Vs. Mustt. Samsun Nehar, 1991 CriLJ, 1843;

2. Dipankar BAnerjee Vs. Tanuja Banerjee reported in 1998 CriLJ 907; and

3. Om Prakash @ Parkash Vs. Vidya Devi reported in 1992 CriLJ 658.

9. Per contra, Mr. Prashant Kumar, learned A.G.A. for the State has opposed the submissions made by the learned counsel for the petitioner by contending that that the applicant is a defaulter and has not paid any amount as awarded by the Family Court under order dated 8th January, 2019 to opposite party no.2 and her daughter as interim allowance. Therefore, the Family Court has rightly passed the order issuing non-bailable warrant against the applicant for realization of the amount so due and there is no error in the order impugned.

10. I have considered the submissions made by the learned counsel for the parties and have gone through the records of the present criminal revision.

11. Before coming to the merits of the present case, it would be worthwhile to reproduce Sections 125 (3) and 421 Cr.P.C., which read as follows:

"125. Order for maintenance of wives, children and parents.

(3) If any person so ordered fails without sufficient cause to comply with the order, any such Magistrate may, for every breach of the order, issue a warrant for levying the amount due in the manner provided for levying fines, and may sentence such person, for the whole or any part of each month' s allowances remaining unpaid after the execution of the warrant, to imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month or until payment if sooner made.

"421. Warrant for levy of fine.

(1) When an offender has been sentenced to pay a fine, the Court passing the sentence may take action for the recovery of the fine in either or both of the following ways, that is to say, it may-

(a) issue a warrant for the levy of the amount by attachment and sale of any movable property belonging to the offender;

(b) issue a warrant to the Collector of the district, authorising him to realise the amount as arrears of land revenue from the movable or immovable property, or both, of the defaulter: Provided that, if the sentence directs that in default of payment of the fine, the offender shall be imprisoned, and if such offender has undergone the whole of such imprisonment in default, no Court shall issue such warrant unless, for special reasons to be recorded in writing, it considers it necessary so to do, or unless it has made an order for the payment of expenses or compensation out of the fine under section 357.

(2) The State Government may make rules regulating the manner In which warrants under clause (a) of sub- section (1) are to be executed, and for the summary determination of any claims made by any person other than the offender in respect of any property attached in execution of such warrant.

(3) Where the Court issues a warrant to the Collector under clause (b) of sub- section (1), the Collector shall realise the amount in accordance with the law relating to recovery of arrears of land revenue, as if such warrant were a certificate issued under such law: Provided that no such warrant shall be executed by the arrest or detention in prison of the offender."

12. On a plain reading of sub-section (3) of Section 125 Cr.P.C., it is apparently clear that in the event of any failure on the part of any person to comply with an order to pay maintenance allowance, without sufficient cause, the Magistrate is empowered to issue warrant for levying the amount due to in manner provided for levying fines for every breach of the order. Section 421Cr.P.C. prescribes the manner for levying fine and clause (a) of sub-Section (1) of Section 421 provides for issuance of warrant for levy of the amount by attachment and sale of any movable property belonging to the offender. In other words, in the event of any failure without sufficient cause to comply with the order for maintenance allowance, the Magistrate is empowered to issue distress warrant for the purpose of realization of the amount, in respect of which default has been made, by attachment and sale of any movable property, that may seized in execution of such warrant. Sub-section (3) of Section 125 Cr.P.C. makes it further clear that the jurisdiction of the Magistrate for sentencing such person to imprisonment would arise only after the maintenance allowance, in whole or in part, remains unpaid after the maintenance allowance, in warrant. It is only after the sentence of imprisonment is awarded by the Magistrate under sub-section (3) of Section 125 that the occasion may arise for issuance of warrant of arrest for bringing the person concerned to Court for his committal to prison to serve out the sentence.

13. It is further apparent that the Magistrate has no jurisdiction to issue warrant of arrest straight way against the person liable for payment of maintenance allowance in the event of non-payment of maintenance allowance within the time fixed by the court without first levying the amount due as fine and without making any attempt for reaslization that fine in one or both the modes for recovery of that fine as provided for in clauses (a) or (b) of sub-Section (1) of Section 421 Cr.P.C. say by issuance of distress warrant for attachment and sale of movable property belonging to the defaulter as contemplated under Section 421 (1) (a) and without first sentencing the defaulter to imprisonment after the execution of the distress warrant.

14. In view of aforesaid, this Court finds that the Principal Judge, Family Court, Auraiya, it is apparently clear, has misdirected himself in providing for issuance of warrant of arrest in default of payment of arrears maintenance allowance within the time allowed by him in the execution case concerned. The order directing issuance of warrant of arrest is patently illegal and not warranted by law. Order dated 20th September, 2019 is hereby set aside. Let the Principal Judge pass a fresh order in the aforesaid execution cases filed by opposite party no.2 in light of the observations made herein above.

15. Subject to the observations made above, the present petition is allowed.

Counsel for the Petitioners:

Sri Kamlesh Kumar Tiwari

A. Payment of rent and eviction - Registration Act, 1908 - Sections 17 - documents of which registration is compulsory – Section 47 - time from which registered document operates - Section 49 - Effect of non-registration of documents required to be registered - Section 49(b) - on the basis of unregistered document, no right can be created - Transfer of Property Act, 1882 - Section 109 – Section 17 as well as Section 49 of the Registration Act, 1908 - rescue of the petitioners - provided suit had been filed prior to registration of sale deed i.e. before 25.6.2011 - not the case of both the parties - accepted fact - suit was filed in the month of July, 2012 after registration of sale deed on 25.06.2011 - Small Causes Court rightly allowed the suit in favour of the plaintiff-respondents - Revisional Court dismissed the revision - held – no illegality.(Para 16,22)

For the house in question, sale deed was drafted and executed in the year 1995 - Sale deed was registered on 25.6.2011 under the provisions of Registration Act, 1908, after the decision in the suit No. 341 of 2000 filed for mandatory injunction vide order dated 24.7.2018 - on the date of filing of the suit, sale deed was duly registered - the petitioner-defendants are having the knowledge of execution of sale deed in favour of respondent-plaintiff no. 1. (Para 15)

Held:- In light of Section 47 of the Registration Act, 1908, it is very much clear that a registered document shall be given effect from the date of its execution and not from the date of registration, in case no registration is required and after registration, it will operate from the date of its execution – six months time granted to the petitioners to vacate the house in question subject to payment of rent at the rate of Rs. 500/- per month. 5. Kanhaiya Lal Sharma Vs. Dr. Sushil Kumar, 2015 (6) ALJ 284

(Delivered by Hon'ble Neeraj Tiwari, J.)

1. Heard Sri K.K. Tiwari, learned counsel for the petitioners and Sri Rishikesh Tripathi, learned counsel for the respondents.

2. Learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that the house in question was taken on rent by father of the petitioners from one Smt. Shanti Devi-landlady. After death of their father, petitioners inherited the tenancy. In the year 2002, S.C.C. Suit No. 45 of 2012 was filed by the plaintiff-respondents for payment of rent and eviction, which was decreed by Judge, Small Causes Court, Jhansi in favour of the plaintiff-respondents vide judgment and order dated 24.7.2018. Against the said judgment, Revision No. 41 of 2018 was filed by petitioner-defendants, which was dismissed vide judgment and order dated 27.11.2019 confirming the judgment and decree passed by the Judge, Small Causes Court, Jhansi.

3. The basic argument of the learned counsel for the petitioners is that earlier a sale deed was drafted and executed by husband of respondent-plaintiff no. 1 in the year 1995, but the same was not registered. Ultimately, for registration of said sale deed, Case No. 341 of 2000 (Om Prakash Sahu Vs. Vinod Kumar Seth) was filed for mandatory injunction. The said suit was allowed and sale deed was registered on 25.6.2011. He next submitted that in the plaint rent was claimed by the plaintiff-respondents w.e.f. 3.7.2009 to 13.6.2012. He further submitted that as the sale deed was registered on 25.6.2011, therefore, prior to that, the plaintiff-respondents were not entitled to recover the rent and suit was not maintainable.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioners next submitted that the plaintiff-respondents were never the landlord of the petitioners. In fact Smt. Shanti Devi was the landlady of the house in question from whom tenancy was obtained by father of the petitioners, therefore, the suit is not maintainable.

5. In support of his contention, learned counsel for the petitioners has placed reliance upon Sections 17 and 49 of the Registration Act, 1908. Section 17 provides the list of documents of which registration is compulsory. Section 49 provides the effect of non-registration of documents required to be registered and according to Section 49(b) of the Registration Act, 1908, on the basis of unregistered document, no right can be created.

6. He has further placed reliance upon judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Yellapu Uma Maheswari and another Vs. Buddha Jagadheeswararao and others, 2015 LawSuit(SC) 998 which interpreted the Section 17 read with Section 49 of the Registration Act, 1908 and provides that unregistered document cannot be admissible in evidence. Paragraphs 15, 17 and 18 of the said judgment are quoted below:-

"15. Section 17(1) (b) of the Registration Act mandates that any document which has the effect of creating and taking away the rights in respect of an immovable property must be registered and Section 49 of the Act imposes bar on the admissibility of an unregistered document and deals with the documents that are required to be registered u/s 17 of the Act.

17. It is well settled that the nomenclature given to the document is not decisive factor but the nature and substance of the transaction has to be determined with reference to the terms of the documents and that the admissibility of a document is entirely dependent upon the recitals contained in that document but not on the basis of the pleadings set up by the party who seeks to introduce the document in question. A thorough reading of both Exhibits B-21 and B-22 makes it very clear that there is relinquishment of right in respect of immovable property through a document which is compulsorily registerable document and if the same is not registered, becomes an inadmissible document as envisaged under Section 49 of the Registration Act. Hence, Exhibits B-21 and B-22 are the documents which squarely fall within the ambit of section 17 (i) (b) of the Registration Act and hence are compulsorily registerable documents and the same are inadmissible in evidence for the purpose of proving the factum of partition between the parties. We are of the considered opinion that Exhibits B 21 and B22 are not admissible in evidence for the purpose of proving primary purpose of partition.

18. Then the next question that falls for consideration is whether these can be used for any collateral purpose. The larger Bench of Andhra Pradesh High Court in Chinnappa Reddy Gari Muthyala Reddy Vs. Chinnappa Reddy Gari Vankat Reddy, AIR 1969 (A.P.) 242 has held that the whole process of partition contemplates three phases i.e. severancy of status, division of joint property by metes and bounds and nature of possession of various shares. In a suit for partition, an unregistered document can be relied upon for collateral purpose i.e. severancy of title, nature of possession of various shares but not for the primary purpose i.e. division of joint properties by metes and bounds. An unstamped instrument is not admissible in evidence even for collateral purpose, until the same is impounded. Hence, if the appellants/defendants want to mark these documents for collateral purpose it is open for them to pay the stamp duty together with penalty and get the document impounded and the Trial Court is at liberty to mark Exhibits B-21 and B- 22 for collateral purpose subject to proof and relevance."

7. He has also placed reliance upon another judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Subraya M N Vs. Vittala M N and others, 2016 LawSuit(SC) 654 and paragraph 16 of the said judgment also interpreted Section 17 read with Section 49 of the Registration Act, 1908 and says that the document which was not registered, is not admissible in evidence and therefore, cannot be produced for evidence, therefore, the respondent is not entitled to recover the rent from the petitioners prior to date of registration and plaint is liable to be dismissed and revision is liable to be allowed. Paragraph 16 of the said judgement is quoted below;

"16. Under Section 17 of the Registration Act, the documents which purport or operate to create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish any right, title or interest of the value of one hundred rupees and upwards, are to be registered. Under Section 49 of the Registration Act no document required by Section 17 or by any provision of the Transfer of Property Act to be registered shall be received as evidence of any transaction affecting an immovable property. As provided by Section 49 of the Registration Act, any document, which is not registered as required under the law would be inadmissible in evidence and cannot therefore be produced and proved under Section 91 of the Evidence Act."

8. Learned counsel for the respondents vehemently opposed the submissions made by learned counsel for the petitioners and placed reliance upon Section 47 of the Registration Act, 1908 which deals with time from which registered document operates. Section 47 of the Registration Act, 1908 is quoted below:-

"47. Time from which registered document operates.-A registered document shall operate from the time from which it would have commenced to operate if no registration thereof had been required or made, and not from the time of its registration."

9. He submitted that the present suit was filed in the month of July, 2012 whereas the said sale deed was registered on 25.6.2011, therefore, when the suit was filed, the sale deed was duly registered under the provisions of Registration Act, 1908. He further submitted that once there is no dispute on the point that at the time of filing of the suit sale deed was registered, the arguments raised by learned counsel for the petitioners have no force and the writ petition is liable to be dismissed. He further submitted that by perusal of the written statement, it is very much clear that there is no dispute on the point that Smt. Shanti Devi was the landlady and thereafter the petitioners obtained sale deed of the house in question, which is duly registered against which no cancellation application is pending. Once this fact is not disputed that Smt. Shanti Devi is the landlady and sale deed was registered under the provisions of Registration Act, 1908, only information of change of landlord is required to the petitioners for tenancy purpose.

10. In support of his contention, learned counsel for the respondents has placed reliance upon the judgment of Apex Court in the case of Ambica Prasad (Dr.) Vs. Md. Alam and another, 2015 (2) ARC 313 which provides that transferee of lessor's right in favour of the transferee, the latter gets all rights and liabilities of the lessor in respect of subsisting tenancy and Section 109 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 does not insist that transfer will take effect only when the tenant attorns. Paragraphs 9 and 10 of the said judgment are quoted below:-

"9. On the question of tenancy, both the trial court and the High Court have not considered the provision of Section 109 of the Transfer of Property Act.

"109. Rights of lessor's transferee.-If the lessor transfers the property leased, or any part thereof, or any part of his interest therein, the transferee, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, shall possess all the rights, and, if the lessee so elects, be subject to all the liabilities of the lessor as to the property or part transferred so long as he is the owner of it; but the lessor shall not, by reason only of such transfer cease to be subject to any of the liabilities imposed upon him by the lease, unless the lessee elects to treat the transferee as the person liable to him:

Provided that the transferee is not entitled to arrears of rent due before the transfer, and that, if the lessee, not having reason to believe that such transfer has been made, pays rent to the lessor, the lessee shall not be liable to pay such rent over again to the transferee.

The lessor, the transferee and the lessee may determine what proportion of the premium or rent reserved by the lease is payable in respect of the part so transferred, and, in case they disagree, such determination may be made by any Court having jurisdiction to entertain a suit for the possession of the property leased.

10. From perusal of the aforesaid Section, it is manifest that after the transfer of lessor's right in favour of the transferee, the latter gets all rights and liabilities of the lessor in respect of subsisting tenancy. The Section does not insist that transfer will take effect only when the tenant attorns. It is well settled that a transferee of the landlord's rights steps into the shoes of the landlord with all the rights and liabilities of the transferor landlord in respect of the subsisting tenancy. The section does not require that the transfer of the right of the landlord can take effect only if the tenant attorns to him. Attornment by the tenant is not necessary to confer validity of the transfer of the landlord's rights. Since attornment by the tenant is not required, a notice under Section 106 in terms of the old terms of lease by the transferor landlord would be proper and so also the suit for ejectment."

11. He has also placed reliance upon judgment of this Court in the case of Gausul Azam Vs. State of U.P. through Secretary Revenue, Lucknow and others, 2019 (143) RD, 215 in which it was held that once a sale deed is registered even at a later date, it will operate from the date of its execution. Paragraph 15 of the said judgment is quoted below:-

"15. There is no doubt or ambiguity in holding that a sale becomes complete only after its registration. Section 47 of the Registration Act quoted above, clearly states that a registered document operates from the time when it would have commenced to operate if no registration was required or made and not from the date of its registration. Mere execution of a sale deed without its registration does not make the sale complete, however, once a sale deed is registered even at a later date, it will operate from the date of its execution."

12. Learned counsel for the respondents has further placed reliance upon the judgment of this Court in the case of Kanhaiya Lal Sharma Vs. Dr. Sushil Kumar, 2015 (6) ALJ 284 which provides that in view of Section 109 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, the attornment takes place by operation of law. There is no need of consensual attornment. Paragraph 7 of the said judgment is quoted below:-

"7. The trial court has held that Smt. Shivmurti Devi had executed a sale deed in favour of the plaintiff-respondent in September, 1990. This finding has not been assailed before this court. As such, even if for argument sake, the agreement for sale (Paper No. 47-Ga) and the possession memo (Paper No. 48-Ga) are ignored from consideration, it would have no effect on the title of the plaintiff-respondent over the demised premises. It has been held by the Supreme Court in the case of Mohar Singh v. Devi Charan that in view of section 109 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, the attornment takes place by operation of law. There is no need of consensual attornment. Same view has been taken by a three Judges bench judgment in Pramod Kumar Jaiswal v. Bibi Husn Bano. In Sk. Sattar Sk. Mohd. Choudhari v. Gundappa Amabadas Bukate, the Supreme Court has held that liability to pay rent to the assignee landlord is postponed till the knowledge of transfer is gained by the tenant, but it does not have the effect of postponing the assignment or transfer of property. A specific finding has been recorded by the trial court that the petitioner came to know about assignment on service of notice upon him in January 1997 and again in July 1997. It was not necessary for establishing relationship of landlord and tenant that there should have been payment of rent by the petitioner to the plaintiff, as the attornment had taken place by operation of law. On gaining knowledge of the transfer, the liability to pay rent comes into existence and the petitioner should have tendered rent to the plaintiff. However, having failed to do so, inspite of notice of demand admittedly served upon him in January, 1997 and again in July 1997, which notice has also been held to be served on the petitioner, there was a clear default in payment of rent. Concededly, no rent was deposited by the petitioner under Section 30 or in the suit, on the date of first hearing. Thus, there was a clear default in payment of rent, within the meaning of Section 20(2)(a) of U.P. Act XIII of 1972. The trial court was fully justified in decreeing the suit for arrears of rent and for ejectment."

13. He also submitted that by perusal of the written statement filed by the petitioners, it is also clear that they had full knowledge about both the facts that earlier Smt. Shanti Devi was the landlady and the plaintiff-respondent had purchased the said house in question after taking loan of Rs. 10,000/- from the petitioners-defendant, therefore, in light of Section 109 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 as well as law laid down by Apex Court and this Court, tenancy is established between the petitioners and respondents, therefore, no separate agreement is required and under such facts, the writ petition is liable to be dismissed.

14. Learned counsel for the petitioners in his rejoinder argument could not dispute the factual position raised by the counsel for respondents, but reiterated the legal position as well as judgments relied upon.

15. I have considered the rival submissions of learned counsel for the parties and perused the record as well as judgments relied upon by them. Undisputed facts of the case are that Smt. Shanti Devi was the landlady of the house in question and further for the very same house in question, sale deed was drafted and executed in the year 1995. Sale deed was registered on 25.6.2011 under the provisions of Registration Act, 1908, after the decision in the suit No. 341 of 2000 filed for mandatory injunction vide order dated 24.7.2018. It is also undisputed that on the date of filing of the suit, sale deed was duly registered and further no dispute is pending in any court of law with regard to genuineness of the sale deed. It is also not disputed that the petitioner-defendants are having the knowledge of execution of sale deed in favour of respondent-plaintiff no. 1.

16. In light of undisputed facts, the arguments raised by learned counsel for the petitioners does not help him. Section 17 as well as Section 49 of the Registration Act, 1908 and its interpretation by the Apex Court might come to the rescue of the petitioners provided the suit had been filed prior to registration of sale deed i.e. before 25.6.2011, but here it is not the case of both the parties, it is accepted fact that the suit was filed in the month of July, 2012 after registration of sale deed.

17. The Apex Court in the matter of Ambica Prasad (supra) has considered the issue of tenancy after considering the provisions of Section 109 of Transfer of Property Act, 1882, the Court had held that after the transfer of lessor's right in favour of the transferee, the later gets all rights and liabilities of the lessor in respect of subsisting tenancy and Section does not insist that transfer will take effect only when the tenant attorns.

18. This Court in the case of Gausul Azam (supra) has clearly held that once the sale deed is registered even a later date, it will operate from the date of its execution. Similarly so far as the landlord and tenant relationship is concerned, this fact is not disputed in light of written statement filed by the petitioner-defendants that Smt. Shanti Devi was the original owner of the house in question and the plaintiff-respondents have taken loan of Rs. 10,000/- to purchase the house in question from Smt. Shanti Devi. They have also full knowledge of execution of the sale deed, therefore, relationship of landlord and tenant is very well established from the date of knowledge and for that further attornment is not required.

19. This Court has considered the same issue in the matter of Kanhaiya Lal Sharma (supra) that in light of Section 109 of Transfer of Property Act, 1882, the attornment takes place by operation of law and given specific finding relying upon certain other judgments that liability to pay rent to the assignee landlord is postponed till the knowledge of transfer is gained by the tenant, but it does not have the effect of postponing the assignment or transfer of property.

20. In light of Section 47 of the Registration Act, 1908, it is very much clear that a registered document shall be given effect from the date of its execution and not from the date of registration, in case no registration is required and after registration, it will operate from the date of its execution. Meaning thereby, after registration there would be no ambiguity and document shall be treated very well valid from the date of execution and not from the date of registration. The same was interpretation by this Court also in the matter of Gausul Azam (supra).

21. Section 109 of Transfer of Property Act, 1882 also provides that after transfer of rights of lessor to transferee, transferee shall possess all rights and liabilities of lessor for the purpose of existing tenancy and there is nothing in the section which provides that transfer will be given effect only tenant attorns the same.

22. In the present case too, once the facts are undisputed with regard to ownership of Smt. Shanti Devi, thereafter sale deed was executed in favour of respondent-plaintiff no. 1, its registration and further about the knowledge of transfer of right from Smt. Shanti Devi to plaintiff-respondent no. 1, in light of provision of Section 47 of Registration Act, 1908 read with Section 109 of Transfer of Property Act, 1882 as well as law laid down by this Court, the Judge Small Causes Court has rightly allowed the suit in favour of the plaintiff-respondents and Revisional Court dismissed the revision. Therefore, I find no illegality in the impugned orders dated 24.7.2018 and 27.11.2019 passed by the courts below. The writ petition lacks merit and is accordingly dismissed. No order as to cost.

23. At this stage, learned counsel for the petitioners requested that the petitioners may be granted some reasonable time to vacate the house in question.

24. Considering the request of learned counsel for the petitioners, six months time from today is granted to the petitioners to vacate the house in question subject to payment of rent at the rate of Rs. 500/- per month. They shall also file an undertaking before the court below to this effect. In case, undertaking is not filed by the petitioners, the plaintiff-respondents are free to proceed for eviction of the house in question

A. Criminal Law-Indian Penal Code-Sections 323, 504, 506 & 3(1) (Da) (Dha) of S.C./S.T Act,— Appeal against conviction.

The legal position for quashing of the proceedings at the initial stage. The test to be applied by the court is to whether uncontroverted allegation as made prima facie establishes the offence and the chances of ultimate conviction is bleak and no useful purpose is likely to be served by allowing criminal proceedings to be continue. The inherent powers of the High Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. itself envisages three circumstances under which the inherent jurisdiction may be exercised:-(i) to give effect an order under the Code; (ii) to prevent abuse of the process of the court; (iii) to otherwise secure the ends of justice. The power of High Court is very wide but should be exercised very cautiously to do real and substantial justice for which the court alone exists. (Para 8)

The High Court would not embark upon an inquiry as it is the function of the Trial Court. The interference at the threshold of quashing of the criminal proceedings in case in hand cannot be said to be exceptional as it discloses prima facie commission of an offence. The applicants have ample opportunity to raise all the objections at the appropriate stage. (Para 9)

Application u/s 482 disposed of. (E-2)

List of cases cited:-

1. Gyan Singh Vs. St. of Punj. & others 2012 (10) SCC 303,

2. R. P. Kapoor Vs. St. of Punj., AIR 1960 S.C. 866,

3. St. of Har. Vs. Bhajanlal, 1992 SCC (Crl) 426,

4. St. of Bihar Vs. P. P. Sharma, 1992 SCC (Crl) 192,

5. S. W. Palanattkar & others Vs. St.of Bihar, 2002 (44) ACC 168,

(Delivered by Hon'ble Naheed Ara Moonis, J.)

1. Supplementary affidavit filed today on behalf of the applicants is taken on record.

2. Heard learned counsel for the applicants, the learned AGA for the State and perused the record.

3. The instant application has been filed by the applicant with a prayer to quash the proceeding pursuant to the charge sheet dated 10.10.2017 in S.T. No. 69 of 2018 arising out of Case Crime No. 1244 of 2017 (State of U.P. Vs. Suhail Ahmad) under Sections 323, 504, 506 IPC & 3(1) (Da) (Dha) of S.C./S.T Act at Police Station Dudhara, District Sant Kabir Nagar pending in the court of District and Sessions Judge, Sant Kabir Nagar.

4. It is submitted by the learned counsel for the applicants that the opposite party no. 2 has lodged the First Information Report against the applicants under Section 354A, 323, 504 IPC and Section 3(1) (Da) (Dha) S.C./S.T Act after investigation no offence under Section 354A IPC was found and hence, the charge sheet has been submitted against the applicants under Section 323, 504 and 506 IPC and 3(1) (Da) (Dha) of S.C/S.T Act whereupon the court below has taken cognizance. The applicants are maliciously being prosecuted as opposite party no. 1 has now filed a compromise application dated 19.3.2019 (which has been appended as annexure-1 to the supplementary affidavit) and in view of the compromise arrived at between the parties the opposite part no 2 is not will to prosecute the applicants. Hence the entire proceeding is liable to be quashed.

5. Per contra, the learned AGA has contended that from the allegations made in the FIR prima facie offence is made out against the applicants. The innocence of the applicant cannot be adjudged at the pre trial stage. The offence under Sections 323, 504, 506 IPC is only compoundable whereas the charge sheet has also been submitted under Section 3(1) (Da) (Dha) of SC/ST Act. The S.C./S.T Act is a special law where there is no provision for compounding the offence. Therefore, the applicants do not deserve any indulgence on the basis of the compromise between the parties.

6. From the perusal of the materials on record and looking into the facts and circumstances of the case and after considering the arguments made at the bar, it does not appear that no offence has been made out against the applicants. The plea of compromise raised by the counsel for the applicants cannot be accepted as the compounding of offence is specified under Section 320 (1) (2) of the Cr.P.C in respect of specified penal offences, which are compoundable with the permission or without the permission of the Court. Since SC/ST Act, 1989 is a special statute, which has been enacted for the purpose of protecting the dignity and integrity of the members of the SC/ST community as such the offences mentioned therein are not compoundable. In Gyan Singh Vs. State of Punjab & others 2012 (10) SCC 303 it has been held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court that offences punishable under special statute are not covered by Section 320 of the Code. From the perusal of the first information report the applicants have used the vituperative words with cast aspersion to the respondent no. 2 intentionally, while outraging her modesty and assaulting her. The applicant with evil intention touched the complainant who belongs to S.C/S.T community, hence it cannot be said that offence committed by the applicants and attack upon the victim in public view individual in nature and not against the society. No doubt the offence under Sections 323, 504 and 506 IPC is compoundable but merely on account of this reason that the parties have entered into compromise, the offence under the SC/ST Act cannot be quashed as the offences under the special statutes are not covered by Section 320 Cr.P.C.

7. At the stage of issuing cognizance or issuing process the court below is not expected to examine and assess in detail the material placed on record, only this has to be seen whether prima facie cognizable offence is disclosed or not. The Apex Court has also laid down the guidelines where the criminal proceedings could be interfered and quashed in exercise of its power by the High Court in the following

8. From the aforesaid decisions the Apex Court has settled the legal position for quashing of the proceedings at the initial stage. The test to be applied by the court is to whether uncontroverted allegation as made prima facie establishes the offence and the chances of ultimate conviction is bleak and no useful purpose is likely to be served by allowing criminal proceedings to be continue. In S. W. Palanattkar & others Vs. State of Bihar, 2002(44) ACC 168, it has been held by the Hon'ble Apex Court, that quashing of the criminal proceedings is an exception than a rule. The inherent powers of the High Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. itself envisages three circumstances under which the inherent jurisdiction may be exercised:-(i) to give effect an order under the Code; (ii) to prevent abuse of the process of the court; (iii) to otherwise secure the ends of justice. The power of High Court is very wide but should be exercised very cautiously to do real and substantial justice for which the court alone exists.

9. The High Court would not embark upon an inquiry as it is the function of the Trial Judge/Court. The interference at the threshold of quashing of the criminal proceedings in case in hand cannot be said to be exceptional as it discloses prima facie commission of an offence. In the result, the prayer for quashing of proceeding is refused. There is no merit in this application filed under Section 482 Cr.P.C., thus the same is accordingly dismissed. The applicants have ample opportunity to raise all the objections at the appropriate stage.

10. However, the applicants are directed to appear and surrender before the court below and apply for bail within a period of thirty days from today, the prayer for bail shall be considered expeditiously in accordance with law after hearing the Public Prosecutor.

11. In case the applicants fail to surrender within the stipulated period the court below shall take appropriate action against him.

Counsel for the Applicants:
Sri Satyam Narayan, Sri Adil Jamal, Sri Apurva Hajela

A. Criminal Law-Code of Criminal Procedure,1973- Section 482- When earlier application u/s 482 Cr.Pc was rejected while granting an opportunity for moving a Discharge Application before Trial court at appropriate stage, means there was no ground for any indulgence, under exercise of inherent jurisdiction, u/s 482 of Cr.P.C.
Once relief for quashing of the chargesheet as well as entire proceeding was declined by the High Court in the previous Criminal Application, then at the time of framing of charge, while dismissing Discharge Application, pre trial acquittal is not permissible.

B. Criminal Law - Code of Criminal Procedure,1973- Section 240 - At the time of framing of charge as well as disposal of Discharge Application, hair splitting analysis of evidence and fact is not needed.

Only the existence of a prima facie case is required to be seen at the time of framing the charge and Charge can even be framed on the basis of strong suspicion.

C. Criminal Law-Code of Criminal Procedure,1973 - Section 482- This Court, in exercise of inherent power, u/s 482 of Cr.P.C., is not expected to embark upon factual matrix because it may prejudice fair trial and it is not under the domain of this Court as held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court.

D. Criminal Law-Code of Criminal Procedure,1973 - Section 239, Section 245 (2)- Application for discharge moved, u/s 245 (2) of Cr.P.C, which is under Chapter XV of Cr.Pc, 1973, i.e., pertaining to complaint cases, whereas present case is a State case hence Application for discharge ought to have been rejected.

Application for Discharge in a warrant case case can only be filed under section 239 of the Cr.Pc and not under section 245 (2) Cr.Pc which provides for discharge in Complaint Cases. Hence, discharge application filed u/s 245 (2) Cr.Pc was not maintainable in the present case. (Para 9,10,11,12,14,15)

Criminal application rejected.

7. St. of Bih. Vs. Murad Ali Khan, (1989) Cr LJ 1005: AIR (1989) SC 1

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ram Krishna Gautam, J.)

1. This Application, under Section 482 of Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (Hereinafter in short referred to as 'Cr.P.C.), has been filed by the Applicants, Idrish, Son of Sadik, Amna, Wife of Safakat, Haseena, Wife of Haseen, and Irfan, Son of Taushif, against State of U.P. and Majid Ali, with a prayer for setting aside impugned order, whereby, application moved for discharge was rejected by the Trial court, in Case No.361 of 2011, under Sections 420, 467, 468 and 471 of Indian Penal Code (Hereinafter in short referred to as 'IPC'), Police Station-Garh Mukteshwar, District Ghaziabad, pending in the court of Civil Judge (Junior Division)/Judicial Magistrate, Ghaziabad.

2. Learned counsel for applicants argued that applicant no.1, Idrish, is no more. Counter affidavit, filed by Opposite party no.2, is a defective counter because it has been written at Page No. 3 of the affidavit that the deponent is Opposite party no.2, whereas, deponent is not Opposite party no.2, as Opposite party no.2 is Majid Ali and he has not filed his counter affidavit. Hence, this counter affidavit may not be taken into consideration.

3. A case crime number was got registered upon report of Idrish, present Applicant No.1, against Opposite party no.2 and others for kidnapping and getting deed regarding his land executed on the basis of fraud and fabrication, wherein, investigation had resulted in submission of chargesheet. Name of Smt. Bhuriya, who is wife of Idrish, was got mutated in the revue record, but, upon protest and investigation of Idrish, same was got deleted. Idrish was rightful owner of the property in question and he had executed alienation deed in favour of vendee, duly witnessed by Amna and Haseen, i.e., there is no commission of offence against any of the applicants. This accusation was under abuse of process of law for which a proceeding, under Section 482 of Cr.P.C., being Application U/S 482 No.8416 of 2011, Idrish and others vs. State of U.P. and another, was filed, wherein, vide order, dated 16.3.2011, an opportunity for filing of Discharge Application, before the Trial court, was given and for availing this opportunity, an application for discharge was moved before the Trial court, but, Trial court, in utter abuse of process of law, rejected same. Hence, for avoiding abuse of process of law, this Application, under Section 482 of Cr.P.C., has been filed, with above prayer.

4. Learned counsel, appearing for Opposite party no.2, has vehemently opposed this Application with this contention that the sale deed was obtained by Opposite party no.2 from Smt. Bhuriya. She was owner of the property in question. She had executed sale deed for a valid consideration and it was a registered document. Hence, informant, Opposite party no.2 was bonafide purchaser of the land in question and he was real owner of the same. Even after having knowledge of this fact, Idrish, got executed subsequent sale deed in favour of accused persons and it was witnessed by other accused persons. This was a fraud and fabrication by accused persons for which this case crime number was got registered and investigation resulted in submission of chargesheet, wherein, cognizance was taken.

5. A proceeding, under Section 482 of Cr.P.C., being Application U/S 482 No. 8416 of 2011, was filed with the prayer for setting aside entire proceeding, including, chargesheet, but this prayer was not accepeted by the Court, rather, an opportunity to file Discharge Application was granted and once relief, prayed for quashing of the chargesheet as well as entire proceeding, was declined, then, at the time of framing of charge, while dismissing Discharge Application, pre trial acquittal is not permissible. Hence, Trial court has rightly rejected Application, thus, this Application be dismissed.

6. Learned AGA, representing State of U.P., has also opposed this Application.

7. Having heard learned counsel for both parties and gone through materials placed on record, it is apparent that fact of death of Idrish is yet to be brought in the proceeding in trial that too for getting this fact verified as per Circulars of this Court, issued on administrative side, by way of recording statements of Police personnel, who executed process as well as of near relatives of the deceased. Hence, for disposal of present Application, above fact is of no relevance. However, it may be raised before the Trial court, where, appropriate abatement order, while observing, appropriate procedure, will be passed.

8. So far as counter affidavit and averment made by the deponent is concerned, it may be mentioned that nowhere it has been mentioned that deponent is Opposite Party No.2. Hence, this very argument of learned counsel for applicants, on this very score, is against fact on record.

9. This Court, while disposing of Application U/S 482 No.8416 of 2011, has not granted reliefs, as payed for, on the ground of abuse of process of law, except an opportunity for moving a Discharge Application before Trial court at appropriate stage, while considering contentions raised by the applicants before the Court. Meaning thereby, there was no ground for any indulgence, under exercise of inherent jurisdiction, under Section 482 of Cr.P.C., as is being argued before this Court.

10. Admittedly, a civil suit is pending and the matter in question is pending before Civil court. Unless registered sale deed as well as registered power of attorney is being declared void ab-initio or is being cancelled by the competent court in above civil proceeding, the same exists and it was under the knowledge of Idrish, while executing subsequent sale deed, but, nowhere this was mentioned in the sale deed that there is previous sale deed, executed for the same land, and there is a civil suit pending for its cancellation. Hence, apparently, prima facie, there was sufficient ground for framing of charge. As was held by the Trial court pre acquittal trial is not permissible and at the time of framing of charge as well as disposal of Discharge Application, hair splitting analysis of evidence and fact is not needed. Charge can even be framed on the basis of strong suspicion as has been held by the Apex Court, in the case of Palwinder Singh vs. Balwinder Sing and others, reported in (2008) 14 Supreme Court Cases 504.

I1. In present case, this Court, too, in disposal of a proceeding, under Section 482 of Cr.P.C., has not given relief, prayed for. Meaning thereby, there was no ground for any indulgence, hence, there remained ground for proceeding and this ground was held to be sufficient for framing of charge.

12. Hence, under all above facts and circumstances, this Court, in exercise of inherent power, under Section 482 of Cr.P.C., is not expected to embark upon factual matrix because it may prejudice fair trial and, more so, it is not under the domain of this Court as has been held by the Apex Court, in State of Andhra Pradesh v. Gaurishetty Mahesh, JT 2010 (6) SC 588: (2010) 6 SCALE 767: 2010 Cr. LJ 3844, has propounded that "While exercising jurisdiction under section 482 of the Code, the High Court would not ordinarily embark upon an enquiry whether the evidence in question is reliable or not or whether on a reasonable apprehension of it accusation would not be sustained. That is the function of the trial Judge/Court". In another subsequent judgment, in the case of Hamida v. Rashid, (2008) 1 SCC 474, Hon'ble Apex Court propounded that "Ends of justice would be better served if valuable time of the Court is spent in hearing those appeals rather than entertaining petitions under Section 482 at an interlocutory stage which after filed with some oblique motive in order to circumvent the prescribed procedure, or to delay the trial which enable to win over the witness or may disinterested in giving evidence, ultimately resulting in miscarriage of Justice". In again yet another judgment, in the case of Monica Kumar v. State of Uttar Pradesh, (2008) 8 SCC 781, the Apex Court has propounded "Inherent jurisdiction under Section 482 has to be exercised sparingly, carefully and with caution and only when such exercise is justified by the tests specifically laid down in the section itself." While interpreting this jurisdiction of High Court Apex Court, in the case of Popular Muthiah v. State, Represented by Inspector of Police, (2006) 7 SCC 296, has propounded "High Court can exercise jurisdiction suo motu in the interest of justice. It can do so while exercising other jurisdictions such as appellate or revisional jurisdiction. No formal application for invoking inherent jurisdiction is necessary. Inherent jurisdiction can be exercised in respect of substantive as well as procedural matters. It can as well be exercised in respect of incidental or supplemental power irrespective of nature of proceedings".

13. Regarding prevention of abuse of process of Court, Apex Court, in the case of Dhanlakshmi v. R.Prasana Kumar, (1990) Cr LJ 320 (DB): AIR 1990 SC 494, has propounded "To prevent abuse of the process of the Court, High Court, in exercise of its inherent powers under section 482, could quash the proceedings, but, there would be justification for interference only when the complaint did not disclose any offence or was frivolous vexatious or oppressive" as well as in the case of State of Bihar v. Murad Ali Khan, (1989) Cr LJ 1005: AIR 1989 SC 1, Apex Court propounded "In exercising jurisdiction under Section 482 High Court would not embark upon an enquiry whether the allegations in the complaint are likely to be established by evidence or not".

14. Meaning thereby, exercise of inherent jurisdiction under Section 482 Cr.P.C. is within the limits, propounded as above.

15. One thing is also to be noted that it was a State case, wherein chargesheet was filed, whereas, application for discharge was moved, under Section 245 (2) of Cr.P.C, which is under Chapter XV of Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, i.e., pertaining to complain cases. Thus, on this score, too, Application for discharge ought to have been rejected, but, the Trial court considered Application for discharge on the merit and not on took a technical view and on merit, too, Discharge Application was rejected.

16. Accordingly, there was no abuse of process of law.

17. In view of what has been discussed above, this Application, under Section 482 of Cr.P.C., merits dismissal and it stands dismissed accordingly.

In the present case detail cognizance order as well as summoning order is passed by the learned Magistrate with judicial application of mind as the same reflects that the learned Magistrate has applied his mind to material available on record and materials are sufficient to proceed against the applicants. (Delivered by Hon'ble Suresh Kumar Gupta, J.)

1. Vakalatnama filed today by Sri Rajesh Kumar Pandey Advocate on behalf of the informant, is taken on record.

2. This application has been filed by the applicants to quash the chargesheet dated 29.10.2019 being criminal case No. 119 of 2019 (State of U.P. Vs. Prashant Tiwari and others) under Sections 323, 504, 506, 354, 147 IPC, P.S. Sujanganj, District Jaunpur, arising out of case crime No. 115 of 2019 and also to quash the cognizance as well as summoning order dated 18.11.2019 passed by Judicial Magistrate-Ist, Jaunpur.

3. Heard learned counsel for the applicants, learned counsel for the informant and the learned AGA.

4. Learned counsel for the applicants submitted that the learned Judicial Magistrate passed the impugned cognizance as well as summoning order on 18.11.2019 without application of mind. Thus, the order dated 18.11.2019 is unreasoned, unspecific, illegal and arbitrary and, thus, not sustainable in the eye of law. Learned trial court passed the order in very mechanical manner and in a routine way without discussion of allegation contained in the FIR and statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. of the prosecution witness. Hence, the cognizance order passed by the Magistrate is an abuse of the process of the Court so cognizance order, is likely to be quashed.

5. Learned counsel for the applicants submitted that no offence at all under sections 323, 504, 506, 354, 147 IPC is made out against the applicants and the statement under Section 164 Cr.P.C. of the opposite party No. 2 is inherently, improbable and absolutely false and fabricated. In fact, she has not received any injury in the alleged occurrence but she has alleged that she was beaten by the applicants and further submitted that there is no any direct or indirect evidence and no any documentary evidence with regard to objectionable photograph of the opposite party No. 2 and others to support the prosecution version. It is further submitted that the husband of the opposite party N. 2, namely, Vivek Kumar Tiwari is a practising Advocate in Civil Court, Jaunpur and police official of the P.S. Sujanganj are under influence of him. On the influence of the husband of PW-2 Sujanganj Police registered the false and frivolous cases against the applicant. Further submits that the applicant used to live in Bombay to earn his livelihood and opposite party No. 2 and her husband lives in village and want to grab entire movable and immovable property of the applicants and further submitted that there is also civil dispute between applicant-side and opposite party No. 2-side. On account of civil dispute, the relation between both the parties are restrained and shower and on account of these reasons, impugned FIR has been lodged only for harassment of the applicants. On this ground learned counsel for the applicants submitted that charge sheet against the applicants is false and frivolous and vexatious so the charge sheet submitted by the Investigating Officer, is liable to be quashed.

6. First of all, I considered whether the cognizance order is passed by the Magistrate is liable to be quashed or not in this regard learned counsel for the applicants submitted that learned Magistrate passed the cognizance order without application of his mind.

7. Learned counsel for the petitioner relied upon paragraph Nos. 14 and 15 of the judgement of the Apex Court in the case of Fakhruddin Ahmad Vs. State of Uttranchal decided on 5th September, 2008 reported in [2008 (17) SCC 157] which are quoted below:-

"14.From the afore-noted judicial pronouncements, it is clear that being an expression of indefinite import, it is neither practicable nor desirable to precisely define as to what is meant by `taking cognizance'. Whether the Magistrate has or has not taken cognizance of the offence will depend upon the circumstances of the particular case, including the mode in which the case is sought to be instituted and the nature of the preliminary action.

15.Nevertheless, it is well settled that before a Magistrate can be said to have taken cognizance of an offence, it is imperative that he must have taken notice of the accusations and applied his mind to the allegations made in the complaint or in the police report or the information received from a source other than a police report, as the case may be, and the material filed therewith. It needs little emphasis that it is only when the Magistrate applies his mind and is satisfied that the allegations, if proved, would constitute an offence and decides to initiate proceedings against the alleged offender, that it can be positively stated that he has taken cognizance of the offence. Cognizance is in regard to the offence and not the offender."

8. Learned counsel for the applicant also relied upon paragaraph Nos. 6 and 12 of the judgement passed by Hon'ble Allahabad High Court in the case of Akash Garg Vs. State of U.P. reported in [2011 (11) ADJ 849].

"6. It is well settled that the Magistrate is not bound by the conclusion of the Investigating Officer. He is competent under law to form his own independent opinion on the basis of the materials collected during the investigation. The Magistrate may or may not agree with the conclusion of the Investigating Officer. If the Investigating Officer submits charge sheet, in that eventuality the Magistrate may differ from the charge sheet and refuse to take cognizance by holding that no case is made out. In a case where the final report is submitted the Magistrate may on perusal of the materials placed in support of the final report opine that the conclusion of the Investigating Officer is not correct and the offence is made out. In that eventuality, the Magistrate may reject the final report and take cognizance of the offence.

12. It is also well settled that at the stage of taking cognizance of an offence, the Magistrate is not required to examine thoroughly the merits and demerits of the case and to record a final verdict. At that stage he is not required to record even reasons, as expression of reasons in support of the cognizance may result in causing prejudice to the rights of the parties (complainant or accused) and may also in due course result in prejudicing the trial. However, the order of the Magistrate must reflect that he has applied his mind to the facts of the case. In other words at the stage of taking cognizance what is required from the Magistrate is to apply his mind to the facts of the case including the evidence collected during the investigation and to see whether or not there is sufficient ground (prima facie case) to proceed with the case. The law does not require the Magistrate to record reasons for taking cognizance of an offence."

9. The present case need to be examined in the light of the aforesaid settled principal given by Hon'ble Apex Court as well as another cases cited by the learned counsel for the applicants namely, Kanchan Vs. State of U.P. (Application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. No. 45044 of 2019) and Mukund Lal Verma and another Vs. State of U.P. and another (Application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. No. 2307 of 2003).

10. What is meant by 'taking cognizance' in regard to an offence by a competent Magistrate is not defined or described in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (Cr.P.C.) or any other act. However the term has acquired a definite connotation through well settled judicial pronouncements.

11. The term 'taking cognizance' actually means 'become aware of', but in reference to a Court or a Judge, it means 'to take notice of judicially'. The term has no mystic significance in criminal law. In practice 'taking cognizance' means taking notice of an offence for initation of proceedings under Section 190 Cr.P.C.

12. 'Cognizance' refers to the point when the court first takes judicial notice of an offence by not only applying its mind to the contents of the complaint/police report, but also proceeding further as provided further in Chapter XIV of the Cr.P.C.

13. Taking cognizance includes either taking steps to see whether there is basis for initiating a judicial proceeding or initiating a judicial proceeding against an offender by the Magistrate.

14. Ordinarily, a citizen can initiate criminal proceedings against an offence by two means. He may either lodge an FIR before the Police Officer (Station House Officer) if the offence is a cognizable one, or he may lodge complaint before a competent Judicial Magistrate irrespective of whether the offence is cognizable or non-cognizable. Any Magistrate of the first class and the duly empowered second class Magistrate may take cognizance of any offence for further proceedings.

15. As per Section 190(1) an empowered Magistrate may take cognizance of any offence-

b). Upon a police report of such facts.

c). Upon information received from any person other than a police officer, or upon his own knowledge, that such an offence has been committed."

16. Thus the cognizance is taken when the Magistrate applies his judicial mind to the facts mentioned in a complaint or to a police report or upon information received from any person regarding an offence.

17. The issuance of process by the court occurs at a subsequent stage duly after considering the materials placed before it. It happens when the Magistrate decides to proceed against the offender whom a prima facie case is clearly made out. Taking cognizance of an offence is not equivalent to issuance of process: issuance of process takes place only after taking cognizance of the offence. When a Magistrate applies his mind for issue of process, he must be held to have taken cognizance of the offences the complaint put forth.

"न्यययायालय जज0एम 0 प्रथम जजौनपपुर , अ 0सस0 115/19, मपु 0नस0 119 स्टजट बनयाम प्रशयान्त ततवयारर थयानया सपुजयान गसज, तदिनयासक 18.11.19- आज आररोप पत्र प्रयाप्त हहआ। सम्बनन्धित प्रकरण मम तववजचक दयारया वयादि तववजचनया अतभियपुक्तगण प्रशयासत ततवयारर उरर जम्मम , मनरोज कपु मयार ततवयारर , प्रमरोदि कपु मयार ततवयारर , सन्तरोष कपु मयार दिपुबज कज तवरुद्ध अन्तगरत न्धियारया 147, 323, 504, 506, 354 आई 0पर 0सर 0 व अतभियपुक्तया न्धिनरयावतर दिजवर कज तवरुद्ध अन्तगरत न्धियारया 147, 323, 504, 506 आई 0पर 0सर 0 मम आररोप पत्र प्रस्तपुत तकयया गययया। ममनज समस्त पपुललस प्रपत्रत्रों कया सम्यक पररशरलन तकययया। अतभियक्तपु गण उपयरक्तपु कज तवरुद्ध उपररोक्त न्धियारयाओस मम अपरयान्धि कया प्रससजयान ललयज जयानज कया आन्धियार पययारप्त हहै। तदिनपुसयार प्रससजयान ललययया जयातया हहै। दिजर रलजस्टर हरो। अतभियपुक्तगण 17.12.19 कज जररयज सम्मन तलब हरो। "

19. So all the case laws relied by the learned counsel for the applicants, are not applicable in the present case.

20. At the stage of taking congnizance, Magistrate can simply form an opinion as to whether the case is fit for taking and committing the matter for trial or not. In this present case, learned trial court clearly express his opinion that he perused all the records and clearly indicated that the material placed before him are sufficient to proceed with the case.

21. In the present case detail cognizance order as well as summoning order is passed by the learned Magistrate with judicial application of mind as the same reflects that the learned Magistrate has applied his mind to material available on record and materials are sufficient to proceed against the applicants. The cognizable order is not a proforma order, every aspect is touched by the learned Magistrate and applicants failed to adduce any evidence which caused prejudice to them so cognizance order is perfectly valid and there is no occasion to quash the same.

22. From the perusal of the material on record and looking into the facts of the case at this stage it cannot be said that no offence is made out against the applicants. All the submission made at the bar relates to the disputed question of fact, which cannot be adjudicated upon by this Court in exercise of power conferred under Section 482 Cr.P.C. At this stage only prima facie case is to be seen in the light of the law laid down by Supreme Court in cases of R.P. Kapur Vs. State of Punjab, A.I.R. 1960 S.C. 866, State of Haryana Vs. Bhajan Lal, 1992 SCC (Cr.) 426, State of Bihar Vs. P.P.Sharma, 1992 SCC (Cr.) 192 and lastly Zandu Pharmaceutical Works Ltd. Vs. Mohd. Saraful Haq and another (Para-10) 2005 SCC (Cr.) 283. The disputed defence of the accused cannot be considered at this stage. Moreover, the applicants have got a right of discharge according to the provisions prescribed in Cr.P.C. as the case may be through a proper application for the said purpose and he is free to take all the submissions in the said discharge application before the Trial Court.

23. The prayer for quashing the cognizance order as well as summoning order and charge sheet hereby refused.

24. However, it is provided that if the applicants appear and surrender before the court below within 15 days from today and apply for bail, then the bail application of the applicant be considered and decided expeditiously in view of the settled law laid by Hon'ble Supreme Court. For a period of 15 days from today or till the disposal of the application for grant of bail whichever is earlier, no coercive action shall be taken against the applicants. However, in case, the applicants do not appear before the Court below within the aforesaid period, coercive action shall be taken against them.

25. With the aforesaid directions, this application is finally disposed of.

A. Criminal Law - Code of Criminal Procedure,1973 – Section 190(1)(b) - Protest petition allowed on basis of affidavits filed by witnesses which are extraneous to the case diary- Cognizance and summoning orders passed by the court below by considering the affidavit filed by the named eye witnesses is not legally sustainable.

Consideration of material extraneous to the case diary is not permissible while summoning the accused on a Protest Petition.

It is the incumbent duty of the Investigating Officer to record the statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. of named witnesses cited in the FIR.

B. Criminal Law - Code of Criminal Procedure,1973 - Section 190(1)b - Obligatory upon the Magistrate either to direct the Investigating Officer to further investigate the matter under Sections 156(3) Cr.P.C. or adopt the procedure of Complaint Case as per law laid down by Pakhandu Vs. State of U.P. Where affidavits and material extraneous to the Case Diary are relied upon, along with the Protest Petition, by the First Informant, then the two courses open to the Magistrate are either to direct the police to conduct further investigation u/s 173(8) or to treat the Protest Petition as a Complaint and proceed under Chapter XV of the Cr.Pc. (Para 13, 14)

1. Crl. Misc. Application No. 3264 of 2000 (Pakhandu Vs. State of U.P.), J.I.C (20020 1 104, A.C.C 2001 (43) 1096.

2. Crl. Revision No. 1210 of 2000 (Harkesh and others Vs. State of U.P. and others) decided on 31.8.2001

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suresh Kumar Gupta, J.)

1. This application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. has been filed by the applicant with a prayer to quash the summoning order dated 7.12.2019 passed by Civil Judge, (SD/FTC), Jaunpur, in case No. 24 of 2019 (Rinki Singh Vs. State of U.P.) arising out of case crime No. 168 of 2019, under Sections 354, 504, 506 IPC, P.S. Newaria, District Jaunpur.

2. The brief facts of this case are that the opposite party No. 2 lodged FIR by means of Application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. dated 17.5.2019 with the allegations that on 7.5.2019 the opposite party No. 2 who is an 'Asha-Sangini', at that time was invited by the applicant to participate in a meeting that was presided over by the applicant (Medical Superintendent) and when the meeting was over, the applicant allegedly called the prosecutrix in his room and made sexual overtures at her and also the applicant tried to establish physical contact with her which was resisted by the opposite party No. 2. Being aggrieved with applicant's molestation, hurling abuses and intimating with her, on the basis of 156(3) Cr.P.C., FIR was lodged by the opposite party No. 2 against the applicant under Sections 354, 504 and 506 IPC.

3. Subsequently, the statement of the victim has been recorded under Section 164 Cr.P.C. before the learned Magistrate and under Section 164 Cr.P.C. she elaborated version as brought forward by her in the FIR and in the statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. Investigating Officer had recorded the statement of three independent witnesses, namely, Devendra Kumar Singh, Ankit Kumar Maurya and Rekha Rani Pandey. On 29.9.2019, Investigating Officer incorporated the statements of 13 independent witnesses. All of them have specifically stated that the proceedings have been initiated by the prosecutrix against the applicant are false, malafide and only in order to exert pressure upon him as the applicant recommended the cancellation of vaccination centre of opposite party No. 2.

Investigating Officer after considering the statement of independent witnesses submitted the final report in favour of the applicant.

4. Being aggrieved by the final report, opposite party No. 2 moved a Protest Petition before the learned court below on 22.11.2019 alongwith the affidavit of three witnesses, namely, Bhawana Singh, Rekha Maurya and Kamlesh, a copy of the Protest Petition is annexed as annexure-7 of this application.

5. After considering the protest petition which includes the affidavit of the above named witnesses, learned court below rejected the final report and passed the cognizance order to face the trial under Sections 354, 504 and 506 IPC. Learned counsel for the applicant submitted that the learned court below relied the Protest Petition only on the basis of the affidavit which comes under the category of extraneous material. This affidavit is not the part of the case diary.

6. Learned counsel for the applicant relied upon the following judgements passed in Crl. Misc. Application No. 3264 of 2000 (Pakhandu Vs. State of U.P.) decided on 9.13.2001; Application U/s 482 Cr.P.C. No. 882 of 2019 (Rishipal and others Vs. State of U.P.) decided on 20.2.2019; Application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. No. 4314 of 2005 and Application U/s 482 Cr.P.C. No. 6652 of 2005 (V.V. Shree Khande and others Vs. State of U.P. and another) both decided on 14.3.2019.

7. Learned AGA and learned counsel for the opposite party No. 2 vehemently opposed the prayer made by the applicant and submitted that the learned trial court rightly accepted the Protest Petition filed by the opposite party No. 2 and submitted that the order passed by Civil Judge (Senior Division) Fast Track Court, Jaunpur dated 17.12.2019 is perfectly legal and there is no irregularity or illegality in the order passed by the learned court below. Learned court below clearly submitted that the Investigating Officer did not bother to record the statement of cited witnesses in the FIR. Investigating Officer only recorded the statement of another so-called independent witness. Since, the complainant clearly stated in the Protest Petition that the Investigating Officer did not consider the affidavit filed by the cited witnesses-Kamlesh Yadav, Rekha Maurya and Bhawna Singh which is earlier submitted by him before the S.P. concerned. Learned trial court opined that the offence relating to sexual assault, is solely based on the solitary evidence of the victim. On this conclusion, learned court below rightly summoned the accused under Section 190(1)b as a State case. There is no infirmity in the order passed by the learned Magistrate.

8. Learned counsel for the applicants contended that where police submits final report, though it is open to the Magistrate to take cognizance under S. 190 (1) (b) Cr. P. C. on the basis of investigation records but in that event he cannot take any external aid of any other piece of evidence or material which does not form part of police papers. If he decides to take into account any material or evidence other than police papers prepared during investigation, he is bound to comply with the requirement of Ss. 200 and 202 of the Code. It was argued that since in the present case the learned Magistrate has taken into consideration the affidavits of the complainant and other witnesses filed along with the protest petition, he was bound to follow procedure laid down for complaint cases. It was also contended that if the Magistrate felt that the investigating officer failed in his duty in collecting relevant material, he should have directed further investigation instead of issuing process against the applications on the basis of material brought on record in the form of affidavits.

9. Chapter XIV of the Code of Criminal Procedure deals with the conditions requisite for initiation of proceedings. For the purpose of this case we are concerned with S. 190 (1) alone which is reproduced below.

"190. Cognizance of offences by Magistrates :- (1) Subject to the provisions of this Chapter, any Magistrate of the first class, and any Magistrate of the second class specially empowered in this behalf under sub-sec. (2), may take cognizance of any offence - (a) upon receiving a complaint of facts which constitute such offence; (b) upon a police report of such facts; (c) upon information received from any person other than a police officer, or upon his own knowledge, that such offence has been committed."

10. I have heard the learned counsel for the applicant, learned AGA and perused the record.

11. Learned counsel for the appellant relied upon paragraph 15 and 16 of the Judgement passed in Crl. Misc. Application No. 3264 of 2000 (Pakhandu Vs. State of U.P.) decided on 9.13.2001 which is quoted hereunder-

"(15) From the aforesaid decisions, it is thus clear that where the Magistrate receives final report the following four courses are open to him and he may adopt any one of them as the facts and circumstances of the case may require :- (I) He may agreeing with the conclusions arrived at by the police, accept the report and drop the proceedings. But before so doing, he shall give an opportunity of hearing to the complainant; or (II) He may take cognizance under Section 190 (1) (b) and issue process straightway to the accused without being bound by the conclusions of the investigating agency, where he is satisfied that upon the facts discovered or unearthed by the police, there is sufficient ground to proceed; or (III) he may order further investigation, if he is satisfied that the investigation was made in a perfunctory manner, or. (IV) he may, without issuing process or dropping the proceedings decide to take cognizance under Section 190 (1) (a) upon the original complaint or protest petition treating the same as complaint and proceed to act under Sections 200 and 202, Cr. P. C. and thereafter decide whether complaint should be dismissed or process should be issued.

(16) Where the Magistrate decides to take cognizance of the case under Section 190 (1) (b) of the Code ignoring the conclusions arrived at by the investigating agency and applying his mind independently to the facts emerging from the investigation records, in such a situation the Magistrate is not bound to follow the procedure laid down in Sections 200 and 202 of the Code, and consequently the proviso to Section 202 (2), Cr. P. C. will have no application. It would however be relevant to mention that for forming such an independent opinion the Magistrate can act only upon the statements of witnesses recorded by the police in the case diary and other material collected during investigation. It is not permissible for him at that stage to make use of any material other than investigation records, unless he decides to take cognizance under Section 190 (1) (a) of the Code and calls upon the complainant to examine himself and the witnesses present if any under Section 200."

12. On perusal of the Judgement of this Court passed in Crl. Revision No. 1210 of 2000 (Harkesh and others Vs. State of U.P. and others) decided on 31.8.2001 which is quoted hereunder-

"(16.) The position is thus clear that when Magistrate receives police report under Section 173 (2), he is entitled to take cognizance of an offence even if the police report is to the effect that no case is made out against the accused. The Magistrate can take into account the statements of the witnesses examined by the police during investigation and other material collected during investigation and form his own opinion independently without being bound by the conclusions arrived at by the investigating agency and take cognizance under Section 190 (1) (b) of the Code and direct the issue of process to the accused. However the Magistrate cannot make use of any material or evidence other than the investigation records while acting under Section 190 (1) (b) of the Code. If he chooses to make use of any materials other than the investigation records, he will have to follow the procedure laid down in relation to complaint cases, on the basis of original complaint or application moved under Section 156 (3) Cr. P. C. which otherwise tantamount to complaint or the Protest petition filed against acceptance of final report treating the same as complaint. This proposition would be in consonance with the provision of Section 207 which inter-alia provides for supply of copy of statements recorded under sub-section (3) of Section 161 of all persons whom the prosecution proposes to examine as its witnesses and any other document or relevant extract thereof forwarded to the Magistrate with the police report under sub-section (5) of Section 173.

(17.) In the present case the learned Magistrate while taking cognizance under Section 190(1)(b) of the Code has taken into consideration the affidavits of complainant and other witnesses filed alongwith Protest Petition which was not permissible in law. He could take cognizance on the basis of the Protest Petition or the original compliant but in that event he was bound to follow procedure laid down for complaint cases. The distinction between two types of cognizance is apparent in as much as cognizance under Section 190(1(b) is taken only on the basis of papers forwarded by police under Section 173(2)Cr.P.C. but when the magistrate makes up his mind to take into consideration other material or evidence would be a case of taking cognizance under Section 190(1)(a) of the Code and for that matter procedure prescribed for complaint cases under Sections 200 and 202 Cr.P.C. has to be followed. If the Magistrate was of the opinion that the investigating officer had failed to record statements of material witnesses, it was open for the learned Magistrate to have sent back the case to police for a further investigation."

13. On considering the rulings cited by learned counsel for the appellant, cognizance and summoning orders passed by the learned Civil Judge (Senior Division), is by considering the affidavit filed by the named eye witnesses is not legally sustainable. It is true that the statement of the cited witness was not recorded by the Investigating Officer. Investigating Officer committed the gross negligence in this matter. It is incumbent duty of the Investigating Officer to record the statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. of named witnesses cited in the FIR, it is obligatory upon the Magistrate either to direct the Investigating Officer to further investigate the matter under Sections 156(3) Cr.P.C. or adopt the procedure of complaint case as per law laid down by Pakhandu Vs. State of U.P. (Supra).

14. Considering the rival submissions made by learned counsel for the parties and perused the record, I am of the view that the impugned order dated 7.12.2019 which clearly indicates that the Magistrate considered the affidavit filed alongwith Protest Petition which cannot be sustained and summoning order is liable to be set aside.

15. The present application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. is allowed.

16. The impugned order dated 7.12.2019 is hereby set aside and the case is remanded back to the Magistrate, concerned with the direction to pass fresh order in light of the settled legal position as discussed above.

A. Criminal law - Indian Penal Code, 1860- Section 504/ 506 - Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1932- Section 10- Cr.P.C, 1973- Section 2(d) - Offence under Section 506 I.P.C. can not be treated as non-cognizable since the offence under Section 506 I.P.C. has been made, cognizable, non-bailable and non-compoundable vide U.P. Govt. vide Notification No. 777/VIII-94(2)-87 dated July 31, 1989 the provisions of Section 2 (d) of Cr.P.C. will not be applicable to the present case.

The U.P. Govt. vide Notification No. 777/VIII-94(2)-87 dated July 31, 1989 made the offence u/s 506 I.P.C. as cognizable and non-bailable in accordance with the power conferred by virtue of Section 10 of Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1932. The legality and validity of the notification was upheld by the Full Bench of this Court in the case of Mata Sewak Upadhyay and another versus State of U.P. and others . Later, in the case of Virendra Singh and others Vs. State of U.P. and others, a Division Bench of this court declared the above notification as illegal since the earlier Full Bench decision was not brought before the Division Bench and it was not considered. Subsequently, in the case of Parveen Kumar and others Vs. State of U.P. and another, it was observed that since the Full Bench decision of this Court in Mata Sevak Upadhyaya has not been over-ruled or set-aside by any larger Bench of this Court or by the Apex Court, so the decision of Division Bench in Virendra Singh Vs. State of U.P. and others (supra) case cannot be given effect to. Judgment of this Court passed in Application U/S 482 No. 1212 of 2020, Charan Singh and 3 others vs. State of U.P. and another - held not applicable in facts of the present case. (Para 7,8,9)

4. Application U/S 482 No. 1212 of 2020, Charan Singh & 3 ors. Vs. St. of U.P. & anr., (Distinguished on facts)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suresh Kumar Gupta, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the appellant and learned A.G.A.

2. The present 482 Cr.P.C. application has been filed to quash the entire proceedings of case No. 771/IX of 2015 (State vs. Charan Singh & others), arising out of case crime No. 393 of 2014, under sections 504, 506 IPC, Police Station Raya, District Mathura, pending in the court of Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Court No. 1, Mathura.

3. Brief facts of this case are as follows-:

4. On 17.09.2014 a First Information Report was lodged by opposite party no. 2 against the applicants and 15 other persons, under sections 147, 148, 149, 307, 504, 506, 452, 354, 431, 352, 434 IPC, alleging therein that on 10.07.2014 the applicants along with other co-accused persons entered into his house and accused persons also carrying country made pistol, rifle and other dangerous weapons in their hands and not only abused his family members but also brutally beaten them and also tried to kill them by opening fire from the weapons carrying in their hands. The FIR was lodged on 17.09.2014 at 15.30 hours. During investigation the statement of first informant and witnesses were recorded by investigating officer. During investigation about 50 villagers gave their affidavits to the S.S.P. Mathura and also the investigating officer in the present case, stating therein that just to achieve his ulterior motive the opposite party no. 2 lodged the present FIR while no such incident was taken place in the village. After conclusion of the investigation, investigating officer submitted charge sheet dated 31.12.2014, under sections 504, 506 IPC, against present applicants and exonerated the rest other named accused persons. It is also submitted that on 19.06.2015, cognizance was taken by learned court below and summons were issued against the applicants and thereafter applicants were surrendered before the court below and got themselves bailed out on 06.09.2016. Thereafter on 18.01.2018 the charges were framed against the applicants in an arbitrary and mechanical manner and thereafter on 27.06.2019 statement of P.W. 1 was recorded. It is further submitted that the applicants have been falsely implicated in the present case and he also submitted that the alleged incident had taken place on 10.07.2014 and its FIR was lodged on 17.09.2014 by the opposite party no. 2 after delay of more than two months without explaining any reason of delay.

5. Mere contention of learned counsel for the applicants is that the charge-sheet under sections 504, 506 IPC was submitted by investigating officer and no offence under section 506 (part -2) is made out against the applicants and the essential ingredients was also missing in the FIR and in the statements recorded under section 161 Cr.P.C. as such the proceedings of present case is barred by Section 2 (d) of Cr.P.C. Section 2 (d) Cr.P.C. provided that a report made by police officer in a case, which discloses after investigation, the commission of a non-cognizable offence, so the proceedings of present case only be proceeded only by making the complaint and procedure of the complaint case should be adopted by the court below.

6. Learned AGA has vehemently opposed the application by contending that the case relied upon the applicants is not applicable to the present case by means of Notification No. 777/VIII-94(2)-87 dated July 31, 1989 has made the offence under section 506 I.P.C. as cognizable and non-bailable offence, whereas in the present case under section 506 I.P.C. is also involved, which according to U.P. Amendment is cognizable and non-bailable. Learned AGA has placed reliance reliance on the full Bench judgment of this Court rendered in the case of Mata Sewak Upadhyaya vs. State of U.P. and others, reported in 1995 AWC 2031 wherein validity of notification making section 506 IPC as a cognizable offence has been upheld.

7. Considered the rival submissions of the parties.

The offence under section 506 I.P.C. was made cognizable and non-bailable vide U.P. Government Notification No. 777/VIII-94(2)-87 dated July 31, 1989 but later on in the case of Virendra Singh and others Vs. State of U.P. and others, 2002(45) ACC 609 a Division Bench of this court declared the above notification making the offence under section 506 I.P.C. cognizable and non-bailable as illegal.

Section 10 of Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1932, gives power to the State Government to declare certain offences cognizable and non-cognizable by issuing notification in the official Gazette. The U.P. Government vide Notification No. 777/VIII-94(2)-87 dated July 31, 1989 has made the offence under section 506 I.P.C. as cognizable and non-bailable. The legality and validity of this notification came up for consideration before the Full Bench of this Court in the case of Mata Sewak Upadhyay and another versus State of U.P. and others (supra) wherein the Full Bench of this Court held the aforesaid notification as valid.

The above matter again came for consideration of this Court, in the case of Parveen Kumar and others Vs. State of U.P. and another, ADJ 2011 (5) 418, wherein it was observed that since the Full Bench decision of this Court in Mata Sevak Upadhyaya and another Vs. State of U.P. and others (supra) has not been over-ruled or set-aside by any larger Bench of this Court or by the Apex Court, so the decision of Division Bench in Virendra Singh Vs. State of U.P. and others (supra) case cannot be given effect to.

A perusal of judgment of Virendra Singh Vs. State of U.P. and others (supra) makes it clear that the Full Bench decision of this Court rendered in the case of Mata Sevak Upadhyaya and another Vs. State of U.P. and others (supra) was not brought before the Division Bench and it was neither considered nor discussed nor distinguished by the Division Bench.

8. In view of the discussions made above, I am of the considered view that offence under Section 506 I.P.C. can not be treated as non-cognizable as per submissions made by the learned counsel for the applicants and since the offence under Section 506 I.P.C. has been made, cognizable, non-bailable and non-compoundable vide above mentioned notification in the State of U.P., the provisions of Section 2 (d) of Cr.P.C. will not be applicable to the present case.

Accordingly, the impugned charge sheet and the impugned order of cognizance passed by Judicial Magistrate are not liable to be quashed and the prayer for quashing the same is refused.

9. Learned counsel for the applicants relied upon the judgment of this Court passed in Application U/S 482 No. 1212 of 2020, Charan Singh and 3 others vs. State of U.P. and another, in which initially the NCR No. 104 of 2013, under sections 427, 504, 506 IPC was lodged at P.S. Raya, District Mathura. After investigation, the police has submitted charge sheet against the applicants under sections 427, 504, 506 IPC before the concerned court below and this Court has held that since the report of the police officer after investigation, disclosing commission of no-cognizable offence is to be deemed to be a complaint and the police officer, who submitted the report has been deemed to be a complaint. In other words, the charge-sheet submitted by the police in a non-cognizable offence shall be treated to be a complaint and the procedure prescribed for hearing of the complaint case shall be applicable to that case. Since, in this case charge-sheet submitted under setions 504, 506 IPC. The judgment of this Court in Charan Singh and 3 others (supra) relied by the learned counsel for the applicants is not applicable to the present case in that judgment neither the U.P. Notification No. Notification No. 777/VIII-94(2)-87 dated July 31, 1989 nor the Full Bench judgment of this Court in Mata Sevak Upadhyaya and another Vs. State of U.P. and others (supra) was discussed in which the validity of above Notification held valid and affirm that the offence under section 506 IPC is a cognizable and non-bailable.

10. With the above observations, the application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. is devoid of merit and is liable to be dismissed.

11. Accordingly, the application is dismissed.

2. Lal Kamlendra Pratap Singh Vs. St. of U.P. 2009 (3) ADJ 322 (SC)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ram Krishna Gautam, J.)

1. This Application, under Section 482 of Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (In short 'Cr.P.C.'), has been filed by the Applicants, Shakuntla Devi and Vijay Shankar Patel, with a prayer for setting aside entire proceeding of Case No. UPSN040069602019 of 2019 (Sate vs. Vijay Shankar Patel and others), arising out of Case Crime No.0069 of 2019, under Sections-498-A and 304-B of Indian Penal Code (In short 'IPC'), read with Section 3/4 of Dowry Prohibition Act, Police Station-Aurai, District-Bhadohi, pending in the court of Chief Judicial Magistrate, Bhadohi at Gyanpur, alongwith Charge Sheet No.90A of 2019, dated 13.10.2019, as well as cognizance taking order, dated 16.11.2019.

2. Learned counsel for applicants argued that in this very case crime number, , ingredients, required for constituting offence of dowry death, were lacking. A suicidal note was there and it was held to be written by the deceased herself, under her own handwriting by Forensic Science Laboratory, even then, this charge sheet has been filed and cognizance has been taken, whereas, this Court in Criminal Misc. Bail Application No.44601 of 2019, Manish Kumar Patel vs. State of U.P, vide orderm, dated 23.10.2019, has held that ingredients of offence of dowry death were not there and suicidal note was there, which revealed that deceased had committed suicide because she wanted to be Hermit, but, to respect wish of her parents, she got married, though never resumed her married life. Hence, for this accusation, with full evidence of no offence, even then, charge sheet has been filed and cognizance has been taken upon it. Hence, this Application, with above prayer.

3. Learned AGA, representing State of U.P., has vehemently opposed this Application.

4. From very perusal of the order, dated 23.10.2019, passed by a Coordinate Bench of this Court, in Criminal Misc. Bail Application No.44601 of 2019, Manish Kumar Patel vs. State, it is apparent that learned counsel for applicant had argued before that Court that suicidal note is a question to be seen during trial and it was there that the deceased had committed suicide upon her own volition and it was made part of Case Diary, hence, bail was claimed and the Court, while granting bail, had specifically mentioned that it was a bail order, without commenting on merit of case and observations made over suicidal note was with no reflection on the merit of the case. Meaning thereby, in that order, Coordinate Bench has not commented on merits of the case. Fact of suicidal note and suicidal death is a question of fact to be seen during trial and this Court, in exercise of inherent jurisdiction, under Section 482 of Cr.P.C., is not to embark upon factual matrix because the same is under the domain of Trial court.

5. Death, being an unnatural death, within seven years of marriage, coupled with accusation of demand of dowry and cruelty with regard to it against accused in-laws was there in the first information report. The same was also there in the statement, recorded, under Section 161 of Cr.P.C. Autopsy examination report as well as inquest proceeding reveal that the death was owing to ante mortem hanging and asphyxia as a result of it, the size, situation and other internal situation of organs were indicative that though it was shown to be a suicidal death, but, it was manipulated to be a suicidal death. But, it is to be seen during trial by the Trial court. It was very well there at the time of objection in response to Bail Application and mentioned in the order passed, while deciding Bail Application. Hence, at this juncture, there is no ground for granting any indulgence for reliefs prayed for.

6. Accordingly, this Application, being devoid of merits, deserves dismissal and it stands dismissed accordingly.

7. However, it is directed that if the applicants appear and surrender before the court below within 30 days from today and apply for bail, their prayer for bail shall be considered and decided in view of the settled law laid by this Court in the case of Amrawati and another Vs. State of U.P. reported in 2004 (57) ALR 290 as well as judgement passed by Hon'ble Apex Court reported in 2009 (3) ADJ 322 (SC) Lal Kamlendra Pratap Singh Vs. State of U.P.

8. For a period of 30 days from today, no coercive action shall be taken against the applicants.

9. In case, if the applicants do not appear before the Court below within the aforesaid period, coercive action shall be taken against them.

A. Criminal Law-Indian Penal Code-Sections 419, 420, 406, 504, 506, 352 - Appeal against conviction.

At the stage of charge the court is not required to consider pros and cons of the case and to hold an enquiry to find out truth. Even in a case of grave or strong suspicion charge has been framed. The court has to consider broad probabilities of the case, total effect of the evidence and the documents produced including basic infirmities, if any. (para 5)

It is settled law that the Magistrate, at the stage of taking cognizance and summoning, is required to apply his judicial mind only with a view to taking cognizance of the offence, or. The learned Magistrate is not required to evaluate the merits of the material or evidence in support of the complaint, because the Magistrate must not undertake the exercise to find out whether the materials would lead to a conviction or not. (Delivered by Hon'ble Suresh Kumar Gupta, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the applicants and learned AGA for the State.

2. The present 482 Cr.P.C. application has been filed to quash the order dated 16.09.2016, passed by Chief Judicial Magistrate, Bansi, District Siddharth Nagar, in criminal case No. 975 of 2015, arising out of case crime No. 274 of 2015,1. as well as the order dated 02.03.2019, passed by Additional Session Judge, Bansi, District Siddharth Nagar, in Criminal Revision No. 183 of 2016 (State vs. Haddish and others), P.S. Mishraulia, District Siddharth Nagar. It is further prayed that to stay the further proceedings of Criminal Case No. 975 of 2015, case crime No. 274 of 2015 (State vs. Haddish and others), under Sections 419, 420, 406, 504, 506, 352 IPC, pending in the court of Judicial Magistrate, Bansi, District Siddharth Nagar.

3. Learned counsel for the applicants submits that the learned Judicial Magistrate, Bansi, District Siddharth Nagar, has rejected the discharge application filed by the applicants on 16.09.2016, under section 239 Cr.P.C. seeking discharge under section 419, 420, 406, 504, 506, 352 IPC, and against the impugned order of learned magistrate rejected the application of discharge from charge levelled against the applicants being aggrieved, the applicants has filed criminal revision before the Additional Sessions Judge, Bansi, District Siddharth Nagar, and the Session Judge has also dismissed the revision vide order dated 02.03.2019 filed by the applicants. He further submits that no case is made out against the applicants and the Investigating Officer without collecting sufficient evidence submitted charge sheet against them. He also submitted that the applicants filed complaint case against Station House Officer as well as opposite party no. 2, they have been summoned to face the trial and due to this reason opposite party no. 2 lodged the FIR against the applicants and charge sheet was submitted by the investigating officer against the applicants. He next submitted that money dispute is involved between the applicant and the opposite party no. 2. It is also submitted that the allegations made in the FIR appears to be civil in nature. Facts and circumstances of the case do not constitute the criminal charge against the applicants, hence the whole proceeding is liable to be quashed.

4. Learned AGA vehemently opposed and submitted that the evidence collected by the investigating officer is sufficient to frame the charge against the applicants, hence there is no occasion to quash the proceeding and application under section 482 Cr.P.C. is liable to be rejected.

5. It is almost settled the legal position that at the stage of charge the court is not required to consider pros and cons of the case and to hold an enquiry to find out truth. Marshalling and appreciation of evidence is not in the domain of the court at that point of time; what is required from the court is to sift and weigh the materials for the limited purpose of finding out whether or not a prima facie case for framing a charge against the accused has been made out. Even in a case of grave or strong suspicion charge has been framed. The court has to consider broad probabilities of the case, total effect of the evidence and the documents produced including basic infirmities, if any. If on the basis of the material on record, the court could form an opinion that the accused might have committed offence, it can frame the charge, but the court should not weigh the evidence as if it were holding trial. Accused can be discharged only when the charge is groundless.

6. In my opinion, the learned Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate as well as Session Court has taken into account all the relevant materials and passed the impugned order in accordance with law. So far as the contention of learned counsel for the applicants is that the criminal prosecution against the applicants could not launch because the allegation imputed against the applicants is civil in nature.

7. Hon'ble Supreme Court in Criminal Appeal No. 255 of 2019 Sau Kamal Shivaji Pokarnekar vs. The State of Maharashtra & others held that:-

" It is settled law that the Magistrate, at the stage of taking cognizance and summoning, is required to apply his judicial mind only with a view to taking cognizance of the offence, or in other words, to find out whether a prima facie cas has been made out for summoning the accused persons. The learned Magistrate is not required to evaluate the merits of the material or evidence in support of the complaint, because the Magistrate must not undertake the exercise to find out whether the materials would lead to a conviction or not.

A perusal of the complaint discloses that prima facie, offences that are alleged against the respondents. The correctness or otherwise of the said allegations has to be decided only in the Trial. At the initial stage of issuance of process it is not open to the Courts to stifle the proceedings by entering into the merits of the contentions made on behalf of the accused. Criminal complaints cannot be quashed only on the ground that the allegations made therein appear to be a civil nature. If the ingredients of the offence alleged against the accused are prima facie made out in the complaint, the criminal proceedings shall not be interdicted.".

8. From the perusal of the material on record and looking into the facts of the case at this stage it cannot be said that no offence is made out against the applicants. All the submission made at the bar relates to the disputed question of fact, which cannot be adjudicated upon by this Court in exercise of power conferred under Section 482 Cr.P.C. At this stage only prima facie case is to be seen in the light of the law laid down by Supreme Court in cases of R.P. Kapur Vs. State of Punjab, A.I.R. 1960 S.C. 866, State of Haryana Vs. Bhajan Lal, 1992 SCC (Cr.) 426, State of Bihar Vs. P.P.Sharma, 1992 SCC (Cr.) 192 and lastly Zandu Pharmaceutical Works Ltd. Vs. Mohd. Saraful Haq and another (Para-10) 2005 SCC (Cr.) 283. The disputed defence of the accused cannot be considered at this stage.

9. On aforesaid reason, the application under section 482 Cr.P.C. is devoid of merit and hence the same is dismissed.

10. However, it is provided that if the applicants appear and surrender before the court below within one month from today and apply for bail, then the bail application of the applicants be considered and decided expeditiously in view of the settled law laid by Hon'ble Supreme Court. For a period of one month from today or till the disposal of the application for grant of bail whichever is earlier, no coercive action shall be taken against the applicants. However, in case, the applicants do not appear before the Court below within the aforesaid period, coercive action shall be taken against them.

3. The contention of the counsel for the applicants is that the applicants have been falsely implicated in this case and the learned trial court without disclosing the words that the prima facie no case is made out against the applicants, cognizance order is passed by the learned Magistrate without application of mind and on this basis the learned counsel for the applicant submitted that the congizance order is bad in the eye of law and is liable to quash.

4. Learned counsel for the applicant also relied upon paragaraph Nos. 6 and 12 of the judgement passed by Hon'ble Allahabad High Court in the case of Akash Garg Vs. State of U.P. reported in [2011 (11) ADJ 849].

"6. It is well settled that the Magistrate is not bound by the conclusion of the Investigating Officer. He is competent under law to form his own independent opinion on the basis of the materials collected during the investigation. The Magistrate may or may not agree with the conclusion of the Investigating Officer. If the Investigating Officer submits charge sheet, in that eventuality the Magistrate may differ from the charge sheet and refuse to take cognizance by holding that no case is made out. In a case where the final report is submitted the Magistrate may on perusal of the materials placed in support of the final report opine that the conclusion of the Investigating Officer is not correct and the offence is made out. In that eventuality, the Magistrate may reject the final report and take cognizance of the offence.

12. It is also well settled that at the stage of taking cognizance of an offence, the Magistrate is not required to examine thoroughly the merits and demerits of the case and to record a final verdict. At that stage he is not required to record even reasons, as expression of reasons in support of the cognizance may result in causing prejudice to the rights of the parties (complainant or accused) and may also in due course result in prejudicing the trial. However, the order of the Magistrate must reflect that he has applied his mind to the facts of the case. In other words at the stage of taking cognizance what is required from the Magistrate is to apply his mind to the facts of the case including the evidence collected during the investigation and to see whether or not there is sufficient ground (prima facie case) to proceed with the case. The law does not require the Magistrate to record reasons for taking cognizance of an offence."

5. What is meant by 'taking cognizance' in regard to an offence by a competent Magistrate is not defined or described in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (Cr.P.C.) or any other act. However the term has acquired a definite connotation through well settled judicial pronouncements.

6. The term 'taking cognizance' actually means 'become aware of', but in reference to a Court or a Judge, it means 'to take notice of judicially'. The term has no mystic significance in criminal law. In practice 'taking cognizance' means taking notice of an offence for initiation of proceedings under Section 190 Cr.P.C.

7. 'Cognizance' refers to the point when the court first takes judicial notice of an offence by not only applying its mind to the contents of the complaint/police report, but also proceeding further as provided further in Chapter XIV of the Cr.P.C.

8. Taking cognizance includes either taking steps to see whether there is basis for initiating a judicial proceeding or initiating a judicial proceeding against an offender by the Magistrate.

9. Ordinarily, a citizen can initiate criminal proceedings against an offence by two means. He may either lodge an FIR before the Police Officer (Station House Officer) if the offence is a cognizable one, or he may lodge complaint before a competent Judicial Magistrate irrespective of whether the offence is cognizable or non-cognizable. Any Magistrate of the first class and the duly empowered second class Magistrate may take cognizance of any offence for further proceedings.

10. As per Section 190(1) an empowered Magistrate may take cognizance of any offence-

a). Upon receiving a complaint of facts which constitute such an offence.

b). Upon a police report of such facts.

c). Upon information received from any person other than a police officer, or upon his own knowledge, that such an offence has been committed."

11. Thus the cognizance is taken when the Magistrate applies his judicial mind to the facts mentioned in a complaint or to a police report or upon information received from any person regarding an offence.

12. The issuance of process by the court occurs at a subsequent stage duly after considering the materials placed before it. It happens when the Magistrate decides to proceed against the offender whom a prima facie case is clearly made out. Taking cognizance of an offence is not equivalent to issuance of process: issuance of process takes place only after taking cognizance of the offence. When a Magistrate applies his mind for issue of process, he must be held to have taken cognizance of the offences the complaint put forth.

13. The cognizance and summoning order passed by learned Magistrate dated 18.11.2019 is read as under:-

14. At the stage of taking congnizance, Magistrate can simply form an opinion as to whether the case is fit for taking and committing the matter for trial or not. In this present case, learned trial court clearly express his opinion that he perused all the records and clearly indicated that the material placed before him are sufficient to proceed with the case.

15. In the present case detail cognizance order as well as summoning order is passed by the learned Magistrate with judicial application of mind as the same reflects that the learned Magistrate has applied his mind to material available on record and materials are sufficient to proceed against the applicants. The cognizance order is not a proforma order, every aspect is touched by the learned Magistrate and applicants failed to adduce any evidence which caused prejudice to them so cognizance order is perfectly valid and there is no occasion to quash the same.

16. So the case law relied by the learned counsel for the applicants, is not applicable in the present case.

17. From the perusal of the material on record and looking into the facts of the case at this stage it cannot be said that no offence is made out against the applicants. All the submission made at the bar relates to the disputed question of fact, which cannot be adjudicated upon by this Court in exercise of power conferred under Section 482 Cr.P.C. At this stage only prima facie case is to be seen in the light of the law laid down by Supreme Court in cases of R.P. Kapur Vs. State of Punjab, A.I.R. 1960 S.C. 866, State of Haryana Vs. Bhajan Lal, 1992 SCC (Cr.) 426, State of Bihar Vs. P.P.Sharma, 1992 SCC (Cr.) 192 and lastly Zandu Pharmaceutical Works Ltd. Vs. Mohd. Saraful Haq and another (Para-10) 2005 SCC (Cr.) 283. The disputed defence of the accused cannot be considered at this stage. Moreover, the applicants have got a right of discharge according to the provisions prescribed in Cr.P.C. as the case may be through a proper application for the said purpose and he is free to take all the submissions in the said discharge application before the Trial Court.

18. The prayer for quashing the entire proceedings of criminal case, cognizance order as well as charge sheet is refused.

19. However, it is provided that if the applicants appear and surrender before the court below within 30 days from today and apply for bail, then the bail application of the applicant be considered and decided expeditiously in view of the settled law laid by Hon'ble Supreme Court. For a period of 30 days from today or till the disposal of the application for grant of bail whichever is earlier, no coercive action shall be taken against the applicants. However, in case, the applicants do not appear before the Court below within the aforesaid period, coercive action shall be taken against them.

20. With the aforesaid directions, this application is finally disposed of.

A. Criminal Law-Code of Criminal Procedure,1973- Section 319- In order to summon a person under Section 319 Cr.P.C., mere taking of name is not sufficient but there must be something more to show implication of person who has been sought to be summoned.

In view of the law settled by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, the degree of satisfaction required for summoning an accused u/s 319 Cr.Pc is more than that required at the time of framing of Charge.

B. Criminal Law-Code of Criminal Procedure,1973- Section 482- At the stage of summoning of the applicants on the basis of statements for trial, probable defence of accused-applicants summoned under Section 319 Cr.P.C. cannot be examined for the first time under the jurisdiction of 482 Cr.P.C. by this Court-

Defence of the accused can only be appreciated in the trial by leading evidence. Disputed questions of fact cannot be considered by the Court u/s 482 Cr.Pc.

On facts, It cannot be said that there is no material whatsoever and also that on mere probability of complicity the applicants have been summoned , rather there is appropriate material and evidence to justify summoning of applicants under Section 319 Cr.P.C. (Para 15, 16, 18)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajendra Kumar-IV, J.)

1. Heard Sri S. K. Tiwari, learned counsel for applicants, learned AGA for State and perused the material available on record.

2. Applicants have invoked jurisdiction of this Court under Section 482 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (hereinafter referred to as "Cr.P.C.") challenging the order dated 07.09.2017, passed by Additional District Judge (FTC-1), Gautam Budh Nagar, in Sessions Trial No. 377 of 2016, Crime No. 791 of 2015, State v. Titu and Another, under Sections 307, 325, 323 IPC, Police Station Surajpur, District Gautam Budh Nagar, whereby applicants have been summoned to face the trial under the aforesaid Sections and the order has been passed on the application under Section 319 Cr.P.C.

3. Learned counsel for applicants submits that applicants have been falsely implicated in the present case, they have committed no offence and prosecution story is false and fake. It has been further submitted that although applicants are named in the FIR but during investigation, Investigating Officer collected the evidence and found no offence against the applicant and submitted charge sheet against other accused exonerating the applicants; Trial Court wrongly appreciated and summoned the accused invoking jurisdiction under Section 319 Cr.P.C. without proper application of mind. It has been further submitted that one day prior to this incident Informant teased the wife of the applicant, for which, applicants lodged an FIR against him in the Police Station concerned, therefore, in reaction thereof present FIR was lodged against the applicants. It has been further submitted that CCTV footage, involvement of applicants of commission of crime was not found only they were found standing there at the time of incident on the spot and without active participation in the crime is not an offence. He showed some documents and statement in support of his contention.

4. Learned AGA opposed the submission made by learned counsel for applicant and submitted that PW-1 and 2 supported the prosecution case during trial and on the application of PW-1 made under Section 319 Cr.P.C., Trial Court considered the evidence of PW-1 and 2 and rightly passed the impugned order.

5. Brief facts giving rise to present case are that: -

PW-1, Pinki, lodged an FIR in Police Station concerned stating that on 19.11.2015 at about 9:30 pm, his husband was returning after his duty when he reached at the gate of .. accused Satish, Mukesh, Titu and Dinesh assaulted him with their respective weapons. Satish and Mukesh having Iron Rod while Titu was having Lathi and knife, Dinesh was also having Lathi. They were also assaulting with fits and kicks. On hearing the alarm raised by one Hakim, she reached on the spot at once and saw that her husband Surendra was lying on the earth and all those four persons were assaulting him; his husband received serious head injury; his leg and hand was also fractured; she called Police making phone to 100 number; her husband was taken to Government Hospital, NOIDA by Police for treatment where he was admitted and remained about 10 days in the hospital. Matter was investigated by Investigating Officer who filed charge sheet against Titu and Dinesh exonerating the present applicants.

During trial, PW-1 and 2 were examined in the Court. PW-1 and 2 supported the prosecution case as narrated in FIR and told the involvement of present applicants in the commission of crime.

Informant, PW-1, moved an application No. 22-B before the Trial Court to summon the present accused-applicants under Section 319 Cr.P.C.

6. PW-1, Pinki, in his statement that on 19.11.2015, at about 9:30 pm, on hearing the alarm made by one Hakim, she reached at once on the spot and saw that his husband was lying on the earth and all the four persons namely Satish, Mukesh, Titu and Dinesh were assaulting his husband with their respective weapons; her husband received serious injury in his head and leg with fracture; her husband was taken to hospital by Police where he remained admitted in the hospital about 10 days. She lodged the FIR. PW-2, Surendra Singh, injured, stated in his statement that on 19.11.2015 at about 9:00 pm, when he entered in the gate of Colony, Satish, Mukesh, Titu and Dinesh assaulted him with their respective weapon like iron rods and knives causing serious injuries on his head and other parts of the body. He was admitted to Government Hospital, NOIDA where he was medically treated. Report of incident was lodged by his wife.

7. Court below has summoned the applicants to face the trial under the aforesaid Sections, vide impugned order, relying on FIR as well as statement of PW-1 and 2.

8. Section 319 of The Code Of Criminal Procedure, 1973 reads as under :-

"Section 319. Power to proceed against other persons appearing to be guilty of offence.

(1) Where, in the course of any inquiry into, or trial of, an offence, it appears from the evidence that any person not being the accused has committed any offence for which such person could be tried together with the accused, the Court may proceed against such person for the offence which he appears to have committed.

(2)Where such person is not attending the Court, he may be arrested or summoned, as the circumstances of the case may require, for the purpose aforesaid.

(3) Any person attending the Court, although not under arrest or upon a summons, may be detained by such Court for the purpose of the inquiry into, or trial of, the offence which he appears to have committed.

(4) Where the Court proceeds against any person under sub- section (1), then-

(a) the proceedings in respect of such person shall be commenced a fresh, and the witnesses re- heard;

(b) subject to the provisions of clause (a), the case may proceed as if such person had been an accused person when the Court took cognizance of the offence upon which the inquiry or trial was commenced."

9. In Anil Arya v. State of U.P. and Others, Criminal Revision No. 1216 of 2005, decided on 09.09.2016, this Court held as under :-

"Whether evidence is correct or not or credible enough or not to sustain conviction and punishment is a matter which would be seen after revisionist put in appearance, lead evidence and thereafter Trial Court examine the entire evidence and record its finding thereon, but at the stage of summoning of revisionist on the basis of aforesaid statement in Trial under Section 319 Cr.P.C., the probable defence of accused summoned under Section 319 Cr.P.C. cannot be examined for the first time in a revisional jurisdiction by this Court."

10. In Hardeep Singh Vs. State of Punjab and others 2014 (3) SCC 92, Court examined following five questions:

"(i) What is the stage at which power under Section 319 Cr.P.C. can be exercised?

(ii) Whether the word "evidence" used in Section 319 (1) Cr.P.C. could only mean evidence tested by cross-examination or the court can exercise the power under the said provision even on the basis of the statement made in the examination-in-chief of the witness concerned?

(iii) Whether the word "evidence" used in Section 319(1) Cr.P.C. has been used in a comprehensive sense and includes the evidence collected during investigation or the word "evidence" is limited to the evidence recorded during trial?

(iv) What is the nature of the satisfaction required to invoke the power under Section 319 Cr.P.C. to arraign an accused? Whether the power under Section 319(1) Cr.P.C. can be exercised only if the court is satisfied that the accused summoned will in all likelihood be convicted?

(v) Does the power under Section 319 Cr.P.C. extend to persons not named in the FIR or named in the FIR but not charged or who have been discharged?"

11. The aforesaid questions have been answered in para 117 of judgment as under :-

Question Nos. (i) and (iii)

A. In Dharam Pal and Ors. v. State of Haryana and Anr. 2004 (13) SCC 9, the Constitution Bench has already held that after committal, cognizance of an offence can be taken against a person not named as an accused but against whom materials are available from the papers filed by the police after completion of investigation. Such cognizance can be taken under Section 193 Cr.P.C. and the Sessions Judge need not wait till 'evidence' under Section 319 Cr.P.C. becomes available for summoning an additional accused.

Section 319 Cr.P.C., significantly, uses two expressions that have to be taken note of i.e. (1) Inquiry (2) Trial. As a trial commences after framing of charge, an inquiry can only be understood to be a pre-trial inquiry. Inquiries under Sections 200, 201, 202 Cr.P.C.; and under Section 398 Cr.P.C. are species of the inquiry contemplated by Section 319 Cr.P.C. Materials coming before the Court in course of such enquiries can be used for corroboration of the evidence recorded in the court after the trial commences, for the exercise of power under Section 319 Cr.P.C., and also to add an accused whose name has been shown in Column 2 of the charge-sheet.

In view of the above position the word 'evidence' in Section 319 Cr.P.C. has to be broadly understood and not literally i.e. as evidence brought during a trial.

Question No. (ii)

A. Considering the fact that under Section 319 Cr.P.C. a person against whom material is disclosed is only summoned to face the trial and in such an event under Section 319(4) Cr.P.C. the proceeding against such person is to commence from the stage of taking of cognizance, the Court need not wait for the evidence against the accused proposed to be summoned to be tested by cross-examination.

Question No. (iv)

A. Though under Section 319(4)(b) Cr.P.C. the accused subsequently impleaded is to be treated as if he had been an accused when the Court initially took cognizance of the offence, the degree of satisfaction that will be required for summoning a person under Section 319 Cr.P.C. would be the same as for framing a charge. The difference in the degree of satisfaction for summoning the original accused and a subsequent accused is on account of the fact that the trial may have already commenced against the original accused and it is in the course of such trial that materials are disclosed against the newly summoned accused. Fresh summoning of an accused will result in delay of the trial therefore the degree of satisfaction for summoning the accused (original and subsequent) has to be different.

Question No. (v)

A. A person not named in the FIR or a person though named in the FIR but has not been charge-sheeted or a person who has been discharged can be summoned under Section 319 Cr.P.C. provided from the evidence it appears that such person can be tried along with the accused already facing trial. However, insofar as an accused who has been discharged is concerned the requirement of Sections 300 and 398 Cr.P.C. has to be complied with before he can be summoned afresh.

12. The aforesaid judgment in fact lay down very clearly that power under Section 319 Cr.P.C. can be exercised by Court against a person not named in First Information Report or no charge-sheet is filed by Police against him and the accused can be summoned only on the basis of examination-in-chief of witness and need not wait for cross-examination etc. With regard to degree of satisfaction of Court for summoning the accused under Section 319 Cr.P.C, Court has said that test are same as applicable for framing charge.

13. The above view was followed in Brijendra Singh and others Vs. State of Rajasthan (2017) 7 SCC 706 holding:

" ... since it is a discretionary power given to the court Under Section 319 Code of Criminal Procedure and is also an extraordinary one, same has to be exercised sparingly and only in those cases where the circumstances of the case so warrant. The degree of satisfaction is more than the degree which is warranted at the time of framing of the charges against others in respect of whom charge-sheet was filed. Only where strong and cogent evidence occurs against a person from the evidence led before the court that such power should be exercised. It is not to be exercised in a casual or a cavalier manner. The prima facie opinion which is to be formed requires stronger evidence than mere probability of his complicity."

14. Recently in Shiv Prakash Mishra Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh and others (2019) 7 SCC 806, Court relying on the above authorities as also Kailash Vs. State of Rajasthan and another (2008) 14 SCC 51, held as under:

"The standard of proof employed for summoning a person as an Accused person under Section 319 Code of Criminal Procedure is higher than the standard of proof employed for framing a charge against the Accused person. The power Under Section 319 Code of Criminal Procedure should be exercised sparingly. As held in Kailash Vs. State of Rajasthan and another (2008) 14 SCC 51, "the power of summoning an additional Accused Under Section 319 Code of Criminal Procedure should be exercised sparingly. The key words in Section are "it appears from the evidence"."any person"."has committed any offence". It is not, therefore, that merely because some witnesses have mentioned the name of such person or that there is some material against that person, the discretion Under Section 319 Code of Criminal Procedure would be used by the court." (emphasis added)

15. In view of above, it is clear that in order to summon a person under Section 319 Cr.P.C., mere taking of name is not sufficient but there must be something more to show implication of person who has been sought to be summoned.

16. Aforesaid statement of Informant and Injured clearly show that applicants and other co-accused were involved in the commission of crime and they also participated in Marpeet. Whether evidence of witnesses is correct or not, credible enough or not to sustain conviction, is a matter which would be seen after applicants put in appearance, lead evidence and thereafter, Trial Court examines the entire evidence and records its finding thereon. At the stage of summoning of the applicants on the basis of aforesaid statements for trial, probable defence of accused-applicants summoned under Section 319 Cr.P.C. cannot be examined for the first time under the jurisdiction of 482 Cr.P.C. by this Court.

17. Facts of the present case does not fall under any circumstances mentioned in Para No. 102 of State of Haryana, and Others v. Bhajan Lal and Others, 1992 Supp. (1) SCC 335 which reads as under :-

"In the backdrop of the interpretation of the various relevant provisions of the Code under Chapter XIV and of the principles of law enunciated by this Court in a series of decisions relating to the exercise of the extraordinary power under Article 226 or the inherent powers under Section 482 of the Code which we have extracted and reproduced above, we give the following categories of cases by way of illustration wherein such power could be exercised either to prevent abuse of the process of any court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice, though it may not be possible to lay down any precise, clearly defined and sufficiently channelised and inflexible guidelines or rigid formulae and to give an exhaustive list of myriad kinds of cases wherein such power should be exercised.

(1) Where the allegations made in the first information report or the complaint, even if they are taken at their face value and accepted in their entirety do not prima facie constitute any offence or make out a case against the accused.

(2) Where the allegations in the first information report and other materials, if any, accompanying the FIR do not disclose a cognizable offence, justifying an investigation by police officers under Section 156(1) of the Code except under an order of a Magistrate within the purview of Section 155(2) of the Code.

(3) Where the uncontroverted allegations made in the FIR or complaint and the evidence collected in support of the same do not disclose the commission of any offence and make out a case against the accused.

(4) Where, the allegations in the FIR do not constitute a cognizable offence but constitute only a non-cognizable offence, no investigation is permitted by a police officer without an order of a Magistrate as contemplated under Section 155(2) of the Code.

(5) Where the allegations made in the FIR or complaint are so absurd and inherently improbable on the basis of which no prudent person can ever reach a just conclusion that there is sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused.

(6) Where there is an express legal bar engrafted in any of the provisions of the Code or the concerned Act (under which a criminal proceeding is instituted) to the institution and continuance of the proceedings and/or where there is a specific provision in the Code or the concerned Act, providing efficacious redress for the grievance of the aggrieved party.

18. Looking to the facts of this case and in the light of exposition of law, as discussed above, I find that here is not a case where mere name of applicants has been taken but details of incident have been given showing the manner in which applicants have acted and committed crime. Hence, it cannot be said that there is no material whatsoever and also that on mere probability of complicity they have been summoned but there is appropriate material and evidence to justify summoning of applicants under Section 319 Cr.P.C. and I find no manifest error in the order passed by Court below.

19. The application lacks merit and is accordingly dismissed.

A. Criminal Law - Code of Criminal Procedure,1973 - Section 190(1) - Section 41/411- Basis of applying Section 420 of I.P.C. is that the applicants have acted in contravention of Section 28-A of the U.P. Trade Tax Act therefore the person is liable to be penalised under Section 15A(1)(o) of the Act- The applicants had preferred a Sales/ Trade Tax Revision u/s 11 of the Act before the High Court, against the order of the Tribunal whereby the order confirming the penalty u/s 15 A (1)(o) of the Act was confirmed, and since the said Revision was allowed by the High Court, the allegations against the applicants stood negated and nothing remained for which they would be made liable to face the criminal proceedings and no offence of cheating can be said to be made out against the applicants under Section 420 I.P.C.

B. Criminal Law-Code of Criminal Procedure,1973- Section 190(1) - Section 41- U.P.Trade Tax Act- Section 14(3), Section 28-A- The reference of Special Law under Section 41 IPC in the present case is U.P. Trade Tax Act and Section 14(3) of U.P. Trade Tax Act, provides that no court shall take cognizance of any offence under this Act, or the Rules made thereunder except with the previous sanction of the [Commissioner] whereas, there is no previous sanction of the Commissioner.

The previous sanction of the Commissioner is mandatory before taking cognizance of any offence under the Act and absence of sanction by the Commissioner would render the prosecution illegal.

C. Criminal Law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 5 - The perusal of Section 5 Cr.P.C., which is saving clause and protects the procedure provided under the provisions of U.P. Trade Tax Act, which is a Special Law, for initiation of prosecution against the person who contravenes any of the provisions of U.P. Trade Tax Act. By virtue of the provisions of Section 5 of the Cr.Pc, the Special Law, e.i U.P Trade Tax Act, shall prevail over the General Law and the procedure under the Cr.Pc stands ousted.

D. Criminal Law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Section 482- The continuation of the criminal prosecution of the applicants after the judgement passed by the High Court, whereby the Sales/Trade Tax Revision of the applicants was allowed, would be illegal and nothing but an abuse of the process of the Court.

3. R.P. Kapur Vs. St. of Punjab, AIR (1960) SC 866 (FB) [followed]

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manish Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Shri Atul Mehra, learned counsel for the applicants, learned A.G.A. for the State and examined the record.

2. The present application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. has been preferred by the applicants for quashing the charge-sheet dated 26.05.1995, order dated 17.1.2007 passed by Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Court No.2, Allahabad by which the the learned court below rejected the discharge application moved by the applicants in Criminal Case No.294 of 2004 registered under Sections 41/411 I.P.C. at Police Station Daraganj, District Allahabad and the revisional order dated 07.10.2008 passed by Additional Sessions Judge/Fast Track Court, by which the revision was dismissed on the ground that against the interlocutory order revision is not maintainable.

3. The brief facts of the case are that on 02.06.1994, the police had intercepted the applicants' Maruti Car No. U.P.-82A-0144 at Shastri Bridge Chungi at Allahabad and after the search, 151 kg. of Silver, 4.5 kg. silver ornaments and Rs.2,73,000/- cash were recovered from the possession of the applicants. On the very same day i.e. on 02.06.1994, an FIR has been lodged at P.S. Daraganj, District Allahabad under Sections 41/411 I.P.C. and applicants were arrested.

4. During the investigation, the statements of nine persons have been recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C. and except one Trade Tax Officer all the remaining witnesses were the Police personnels and the charge-sheet was filed against the applicants under Section 41/411 I.P.C.

5. From the perusal of the statement of Trade Tax Officer, it has come out that after lodging of the FIR, the matter has been referred to the Trade Tax Department for initiation of proceedings under the provisions of U.P. Trade Tax Act.

6. The applicants moved a bail application before the Sessions Court and there the applicants had stated that the goods in question belonged to M/s Sarvshri Chardeva Abhushan Bhandar, Buxar (Bihar) and the silver and cash seized were entered in the books of account of the firm and the said documents were filed with the bail application. Learned trial court had released the car and the cash in favour of the applicants.

7. On the intimation by the police to the Trade Tax Department, a notice dated 02.06.1994 was issued by the Sales Tax Officer, Allahabad.

8. The contention of the learned counsel for the applicants is that the applicants are not liable to pay any tax on goods seized by the police under the Trade Tax Act for the reason, the applicants are not the importer as per the definition of importer provided under Section 2E of the U.P. Trade Tax Act and contesting the matter before the authorities.

9. Reliance has been placed upon Section 15A(1)(o) and Section 28-A of U.P. Trade Tax Act to show that the goods seized do not fall within the purview of above-noted provisions.

10. Learned counsel for the applicants has further contended that Sales/Trade Tax Revision No.597 of 2002 was preferred before this Court,under Section 11 of the U.P. Trade Tax Act against the order of the Tribunal dated 26.08.2002, by which the Tribunal has confirmed the penalty imposed on the assessee/applicants for a sum of Rs.1,50,000/- under Section 15A(1)(o) and the said revision was allowed by this Court by setting aside the order of the Tribunal vide it order dated 09.08.2010. It will be useful to quote the relevant part of the order absolving the applicants from imposition of any penalty under the Act. It reads as follows:-

"The present revision has been filed by the assessee under Section 11 of the U.P. Trade Tax against an order of the Tribunal dated 26.08.02, by which the Tribunal has confirmed the penalty imposed on the assessee for a sum of Rs.1,50,000/- under Section 15A(1)(o).

The facts of the case are that the goods of the assessee were seized at Allahabd. He was carrying his goods from Agra to Indore. After the seizure was made, a penalty was also imposed on the assessee under Section 15A(1)(o).

It is the contention of the learned counsel for the assessee that at the relevant time the assessee had applied before the authority that the goods which were seized were entered into the books of accounts of the assessee at his place of registration in Bihar and were duly cleared by the Income Tax Authorities also in the regular course of business. This contention is stated by the assessee in paragraph-10 of the revision.

Thereafter, the assessee filed a supplementary affidavit in support of this contention and placed before this Court photocopies of the registration certificates under the Bihar Sales Tax Act and Central Sales Tax Act. In response to the contentions made in the supplementary affidavit, the State has filed a supplementary counter affidavit and has not in any manner doubted the veracity of the tax clearances filed by the assessee from Bihar. Thus, in view of the facts as stated in the supplementary counter affidavit, it becomes abundantly clear that the averments made by the applicant in the revision were correct. Since the entries of the items were duly accounted for in the books of accounts at his original place of business, the imposition under Section 15A(1)(o) is not justified.

The penalty imposed upon the assessee is deleted.

This revision is allowed.

The order of the Tribunal is set aside.

Dated:9.8.10"

11. Under these circumstances, now no material is in existence against the applicants which may further compel them to face the criminal proceedings. It is further contended that Section 5 Cr.P.C. bars the simultaneous proceedings. It is further contended that if any proceedings could be initiated against the applicants that too with the previous sanction of the Commissioner as per Sub-section 3 of Section 14 of the U.P. Trade Tax Act, which is also not taken and hence the proceedings are barred by Section 5 of Cr.P.C.

12. Learned counsel for the applicants placed reliance upon the decisions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Parbatbhai Aahir @ Parbatbhai Bhimsinhbhai Karmur And Ors. Vs. State of Gujarat And another 2018 (1) SCC (Cri) 1 and K. C. Builder Vs. Assistant Commissioner of Income Tax 2004 (2) SCC 731.

13. Learned A.G.A. has vehemently opposed the contentions raised on behalf of the applicants and apprise this Court about the scope of interference by the High Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. He has further contended that there is no illegality in the order dated 17.01.2007 passed by Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, for the reason by that time the order of Sales/Trade Tax Revision No.597 of 2002 was not in existence and the revisional authority has rightly rejected the said revision vide its order dated 07.10.2008 as not maintainable against the interlocutory orders and there is no illegality or perversity in the orders.

14. After hearing the counsel for both the parties and examining the records, the questions which arise for consideration are as follows:-

(i) whether after the judgment dated 09.08.2010 passed by this Court in Sales/Trade Tax Revision No.597 of 2002 any criminal proceedings or prosecution could be continued against the applicants.

(ii) whether the applicants are not entitled for the benefit of Section 482 Cr.P.C. to prevent the abuse of the process of any court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice.

15. The order dated 17.1.2007 passed by Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, rejecting the discharge application held that the applicants for evading the tax did not disclosed the possession of the silver, silver ornaments which is in contravention of Section 28-A of U.P. Trade Tax Act and hence the seized goods of the applicants fall under Section 420 of I.P.C.

16. The Trade Tax Department initiated the proceedings against the applicants under Section 15A(1)(o) of the U.P. Trade Tax Act, which is quoted below:-

[15-A. Penalties in certain cases.- (1) If the assessing authority is satisfied that any dealer or other person-

[(o) imports or transports, or attempts to import or transport or abets the import or transport of any goods in contravention of the provisions of Section 28-A ;]

17. While rejecting the discharge application vide impugned order dated 17.01.2007 passed by the learned A.C.J.M. held that applicants just to evade tax liability under Section 28-A of the U.P. Trade Tax Act had not disclosed the silver and silver ornaments while entering in the State of U.P. committed offence under Section 420 of I.P.C.

18. The conjoint reading of Section 28-A and Section 15A(1)(o) clearly provides that in case of contravention of the provisions of Section 28-A of U.P. Trade Tax Act, the person is liable to be penalised under Section 15A(1)(o).

19. From the perusal of the FIR and the impugned order dated 17.01.2007 passed by the learned trial court clearly establishes that the basis of applying Section 420 of I.P.C. is that the applicants have acted in contravention of Section 28-A of the U.P. Trade Tax Act.

20. Though at the time of passing of the impugned order dated 17.01.2007 by the trial court, the judgment of the High Court was not there, it was passed subsequently, when the the High Court in its judgment dated 09.08.2010 has held that the imposition of penalty under Section 15-A(1)(o) was not justified and set aside the order of the Tribunal and setting aside the order of penalty imposed upon the assessee/applicants and allowed the revision, then the very basis of the reason assigned in the order impugned dated 17.01.2007 itself goes and thereafter no occasion of continuation of the prosecution.

21. The FIR was lodged under Section 41 I.P.C., the provision is quoted below:-

41. "Special law" .-A "special law" is a law applicable to a particular subject.

22. The reference of Special Law under Section 41 in the present case is U.P. Trade Tax Act and under Sub-section 3 of Section 14 of U.P. Trade Tax Act, provides that no court shall take cognizance of any offence under this Act, or the Rules made thereunder except with the previous sanction of the [Commissioner] whereas, there is no previous sanction of the Commissioner. Section 14(3) is quoted below:-

14. Offences and penalties. - (1) Any person who -

(3) No court shall take cognizance of any offence under this Act, or the Rules made thereunder except with the previous sanction of the [Commissioner], and no court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the 1st class shall try any such offence.

23. The applicants are also entitled for the benefit of Section 5 Cr.P.C. Section 5 Cr.P.C. is quoted below:-

5. Saving.- Nothing contained in this Code shall, in the absence of a specific provision to the contrary, affect any special or local law for the time being in force, or any special jurisdiction or power conferred, or any special form of procedure prescribed, by any other law for the time being in force.*

24. The perusal of Section 5 Cr.P.C., which is saving clause and protects the procedure provided under the provisions of U.P. Trade Tax Act for initiation of prosecution against the person who contravenes any of the provisions of U.P. Trade Tax Act.

25. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the Case R.P. Kapur Vs. State of Punjab, AIR 1960 SC 866 (FB) has held that jurisdiction under Section 482 Cr.P.C. can be exercised - either to prevent abuse of process of any court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice. Ordinarily criminal prosecution instituted against an accused person must be tried under the provisions of the Code and the High Court would be reluctant to interfere with the said proceedings at an interlocutory stage.

26. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the Case of Zandu Pharmaceutical Works Ltd. Vs. Mohd. Saraful Haq and another, (Para-10) 2005 SCC (Cri.) 283 has held that the High Court should not assume the role of a trial court and embark upon enquiry as to reliability of evidence and sustainability of accusation on a reasonable appreciation of evidence where it appears to the contrary, interference by High Court would be justified. The inherent power under Section 482 Cr.P.C. must be exercised sparingly, carefully and with the caution and only when such exercise is justified by the tests specifically laid down in Section 482 Cr.P.C. The power to be exercised ex debito justi tiae to prevent abuse of process of Court.

27. After hearing both the parties and examining the record, I am of the considered view while exercising the inherent power of the High Court has a wide ambit and plenitude it has to be exercised;-

(i) to secure the ends of justice or

(ii) to prevent an abuse of the process of any court.

28. After the judgment dated 09.08.2010 in Sales/Trade Tax Revision No.597 of 2002 passed by this Court, the allegations against the applicants stood negated and nothing remained for which they would be made liable to face the criminal proceedings and no offence of cheating can be said to be made out against the applicants under Section 420 I.P.C.

29. As far as the revisional order dated 07.10.2008 is concerned there is no illegality or perversity in the same for the reason, the revision is not maintainable against the interlocutory orders.

30. Learned A.G.A. has not disputed this fact that after the judgment dated 09.08.2010 in Sales/Trade Tax Revision No.597 of 2002 passed by this Court, now nothing remains for which the applicants made liable to face prosecution/criminal proceedings.

31. For the facts and reasons, the continuation of the prosecution against the applicants would be illegal and nothing but an abuse of the process of the Court.

32. In view of the above observations, the application under Section 482 is, accordingly, allowed.

33. Under these circumstances, charge-sheet dated 26.05.1995, order dated 17.01.2007 as well as the criminal proceedings in Criminal Case No. 294 of 2004, under Sections 41/411 I.P.C., pending in the Court of Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Court No.2, Allahabad, are hereby quashed.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Harsh Kumar, J.)

1. Photo copy of Nikahnama of applicant Siftain Khan Qadri @ Sonu filed by learned counsel for applicants today in the Court is taken on record.

2. The two applications u/s 482 Cr.P.C. have been moved by two accused (father and son) separately, which were heard together and are being disposed of by one and the same order.

3. Heard Sharib Salaman Ahmad Ansari learned counsel for applicants, Shri Vinod Singh learned counsel for opposite party no.2, learned A.G.A. for State and perused the record.

4. The application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. No. 9348 of 2018 has been filed for quashing the entire proceedings of Case No.3084 of 2016 (State vs. Mohammad Ibrahim Khan) and application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. No. 11224 of 2018 has been filed for quashing the entire proceedings of Case No.3356 of 2017 (State vs. Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu) both arising out of Case Crime No.3249 of 2014, under Sections 420, 406 I.P.C. P.S. Kotwali Orai, District Jalaun pending in the Court of C.J.M. Jalaun at Orai.

5. Learned counsel for applicants contends that applicant Mohammad Ibrahim is father and applicant Siftain Khan Qadri @ Sonu is his son; that marriage of Siftain Khan Qadri @ Sonu was settled with opposite party no.2 Smt. Shazia Begum and engagement ceremony was performed on 10.3.2013 with the understanding that marriage/Nikah will be solemnized on 27.10.2013; that as per averments made in complaint filed by Mohd. Usman, the father of opposite party no.2, applicant Siftain Khan Qadri @ Sonu and his family members made demand of Car or Rs.3.00 lacs cash which was accepted by him and Rs.2.00 lacs were paid in cash on 21.4.2013 before Salim Ahmad and Rs.1.00 lac was agreed to be paid on the day of marriage; that after a period of two months demand of INDIGO Car was also made, and he was unable to comply so dissolved the proposed Nikah with agreement that both parties will return the money/articles given by each of them, but in August, 2013 Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu denied to return the money and articles on which complainant moved application before S.S.P. Jalaun and sent notice to applicants on 4.9.2013 through counsel which was correctly replied by applicants through their counsel Shri V.K. Srivastava, Advocate on 15.9.2013 and in the meantime complainant allegedly settled marriage (Nikah) of his daughter Smt. Shazia Begum opposite party no.2 with Mohd. Umar Khan resident of Kabir Nagar, Orai on 27.10.2013 as Radha Palace Guest House had been earlier booked for Nikah of Shazia and upon getting knowledge of above development, applicant with an intention to usurp the money and articles allegedly prepared a forged Nikahnama of marriage between Smt. Shazia Begum and Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu and with mala fide intention also filed a petition for restitution of conjugal rights in the Principal Judge Family Court, Lucknow, apart from which he also moved an application for obstructing Nikah between Smt. Shazia Begum and Mohd. Umar Khan and in order to misguide Mohd. Umar Khan sent him a copy of forged Nikahnama; that all the allegations made in complaint case are absolutely false and incorrect; that in complaint case, Magistrate passed summoning order on 18.9.2015 and in the meantime opposite party no.2 also lodged F.I.R. against applicant Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu on 30.8.2014 with similar allegations at Case Crime No.3249 of 2014 upon which applicants seeking quashing of proceedings of summoning order dated 18.9.2015 under Sections 406, 467, 468 and 471 I.P.C. moved an application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. No.1953 of 2016, copy at A-8 which was disposed of on 10.2.2016 by refusing to quash summoning order or proceedings of the complaint case and directing the Magistrate for taking recourse of the provisions of Section 210 Cr.PC.; that in furtherance of above order dated 10.2.2016 passed by this Court, the learned Magistrate exercising powers under Section 210 Cr.P.C. merged the proceedings complaint case in case crime no.3249 of 2014 in which separate charge sheets have been submitted against applicants under Section 420 and 406 I.P.C. on the basis of which upon taking of cognizance by Magistrate on 8.9.2016 and 31.7.201`7, at A-12 in each application

Criminal Case No.3084 of 2016 and Criminal Case No.3356 of 2017 is pending against applicants; that the real fact is that opposite party no.2 made a proposal to applicants that Nikah ceremony should be performed on 21.8.2013 because his son was going out of country for earning livelihood, so that relationship may become firm between two families and accordingly Nikah was performed between Smt. Shazia Begum and Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu on 21.8.2013 with the understanding that Vidai would be done after return of applicant Siftain Khan Qadri @ Sonu from foreign and if Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu could not go out of country for any reason whatsoever Vidai of opposite party no.2 would be performed on 27.10.2013; that since the parents of opposite party no.2 turned dishonest, they kept all valuables and made a complaint to S.P. Jalaun with regard to demand of dowry so the applicant Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu had to file a petition for restitution of conjugal rights in the Court of Principal Judge Family Court, Lucknow on 11.10.2013, copy at A-1; that the Nikahnama between applicant Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu and opposite party no.2 Smt. Shazia Begum, Mohammad Ibrahim is genuine one & not forged on which Mohammad Ibrahim the father of Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu is not a witness, so in any case he may not be considered to be involved in fabricating forged Nikahnama of marriage between applicant Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu and opposite party no.2 Smt. Shazia Begum; that no offence under Section 420 is made out against applicants or in any case against applicant Mohammad Ibrahim; that applicants have not committed any criminal breach of trust and have not usurped any money of opposite party no.2 or her father so no offence under Section 406 I.P.C. is made out against them; that in fact applicants had paid Rs.1,85,000/- and Rs.10,000/- to father of opposite party no.2 for getting it prepared jewelry for opposite party no.2; that even if for the sake of arguments all the allegations made by opposite party no.2 are accepted no offence is made out against applicants and at the most of only offence under Section 4 of D.P. Act may be made out against applicants; that otherwise also in case of preparation of forged Nikahnama provisions of Sections 467, 468 and 471 I.P.C. must be attracted but no charge sheet has been filed under above Sections; that the prosecution of applicants is totally unwarranted and is liable to be quashed.

6. Per contra learned A.G.A. and learned counsel for opposite party no.2 vehemently opposed the prayer made in two applications u/s 482 Cr.P.C. The learned counsel for opposite party no.2 contended that complaint case was filed with absolutely correct allegations and the applicants may have no grievance with regard to lodging of F.I.R. by opposite party no.2 because in furtherance of order of this Court dated 10.2.2016; that on application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. two proceedings have been merged and there is no apprehension of double jeopardy to applicants; that the forgery committed by applicants is very much clear from the fact that on 4.9.2013 the father of opposite party no.2 sent a notice to two applicants Mohammad Ibrahim and Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu, through counsel Shri R.K. Shukla copy at page 17 of CA-2 of which reply was sent by applicants through their counsel Shri V.K. Srivastava, Advocate on 15.9.2013 copy at page 19, A-CA-2; that in above reply of notice dated 15.9.2013 in paragraph nos.6 and 7 applicants have not made any whisper about the alleged Nikah or Nikahnama dated 21.8.2013 between Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu and Smt. Shazia Begum which has been claimed by applicant Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu in paragraph 12 of petition for restitution of conjugal rights, A-1 rather has tried to make a counter claim by making counter allegations of making payment of a sum of Rs.1,85,000/- to father of opposite party no.2 for getting jewelry prepared for Smt. Shazia Begum apart from Rs.10,000/- for ring on 25.1.2013; that it is wrong to say that no offences under Sections 406, 420, 467, 468 and 471 I.P.C. is made out against applicants; that in complaint case the learned Magistrate after considering the statements under Sections 200 and 202 Cr.P.C. had passed summoning order under Section 204 Cr.P.C. summoning the applicants for offences under Sections 406, 467, 468 and 471 I.P.C.; that if the charge sheet has been submitted under Sections 406 and 420 I.P.C. it will not be correct to say that applicants may not be considered for other offences because it is settled principle of law that at the time of framing of charges upon hearing parties counsel, it may also frame charges for offences under Sections mentioned in charge sheet or for different offences under other sections; that the applications have been moved with absolutely false and incorrect allegations and are liable to be dismissed.

7. Upon hearing parties counsel and perusal of record and particularly the copy of reply of notice given by applicants in reply to notice of father of opposite party no.2, which is at page 19 of CA-2, it is very much clear that in the entire reply there is no averment about alleged Nikahnama dated 21.8.2013 between applicant Siftain khan Qadri @ Sonu and opposite party no.2 Smt. Shazia Begum. The contention that Nikahnama dated 21.8.2013 does not bear signature of Mohd. Ibrahim so he may not be held guilty for offence under Section 420 I.P.C. has no force in view of fact that he is none other than father of Siftain and, whether he played any role in fabrications of forged Nikahnama (if the same is found to be forged), is a matter based on evidence to be adduced before trial.

8. From the perusal of the material on record and looking into the facts of the case at this stage it cannot be said that no offence is made out against the applicants. All the submissions made at the bar relate to the disputed questions of fact, which require evidence and cannot be adjudicated upon by this Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. At this stage only prima facie case is to be seen in the light of the law laid down by Supreme Court in cases of R.P. Kapur Vs. State of Punjab, A.I.R. 1960 S.C. 866, State of Haryana Vs. Bhajan Lal, 1992 SCC (Cr.) 426, State of Bihar Vs. P.P.Sharma, 1992 SCC (Cr.) 192 and lastly Zandu Pharmaceutical Works Ltd. Vs. Mohd. Saraful Haq and another (Para-10) 2005 SCC (Cr.) 283, and the applicants have failed to prove any prima facie case.

9. In view of discussions made above, I have come to the conclusion that learned counsel for the applicants has failed to show that there is any abuse of process of court or likelihood of miscarriage of justice for prevention of which the exercise of inherent powers by this Court is required. Both the applications are devoid of merits and are liable to be rejected.

10. Both applications u/s 482 Cr.P.C. are rejected accordingly.

11. However, if the applicants appear before the court below and move applications for bail, the same shall be disposed of expeditiously in accordance with law.

12. Interim order, if any, stands vacated.

A. Criminal law - Code of Criminal Procedure,1973 - Section 300(1) - Is based on maxim "nemo debet bis vexari", which means that a person cannot be a convicted on second time for an offence which was involved in the offence with which he was previously charged. In both the trials incident is the same and they are based on same prosecution story and facts. Previous offence was tried by a competent court in which applicant was acquitted and the acquittal is in force. Second trial of the applicant for the same offence in which he has been acquitted is barred by Section 300 Cr.P.C.

Where a person has been acquitted in a trial and a supplementary chargesheet is again submitted against him on the same facts, then Section 300 Cr.P.C. bars the trial of that person again not only for the same offence but also for any other offence on the same facts and also applies to offence for which charges might have been framed at the previous trial. 3. Brief facts relating to the case are that on 18.02.2002 First Information Report was lodged by the informant Vijayi as Case Crime No.99 of 2002 in Police Station- Handia, District- Allahabad against the accused Ram Raj son of Sri Nath, Indramani son of Gangaram Chauhan, Shiv Mangal son of Indramani, Pulloo son of Indramani, Indrajeet son of Gangaram, Dayaram son of Shrinath, Ram Shiromani son of Shankar, Ramdhani son of Indraraj and Ramsajivan son of Indraraj. After investigation charge sheet was filed by the I.O. on 02.8.2002 agaisnt Ramraj, Indramani, Dayaram, Ram Shiromani, Ramdhani and Ramsajivan, under Sections 147, 148, 149, 323, 324, 325, 504, 308 IPC. No charge sheet was submitted against the named accused Shiv Mangal because allegedly he was murdered in cross case of this offence. No charge sheet or any report was submitted against the named accused Pulloo son of Indramani and Indrajeet. After the case was committed to Sessions on 07.07.2003 by the Magistrate. It was registered as Sessions Trial No.775 of 2003 and later on transferred to Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.13, Allahabad. Charges were framed on 11.11.2003 against the accused Ramraj, Indramani, Dayaram, Ram Shiromani, Ramdhani and Ram Sajivan, under Sections 147, 148, 324/149, 308/149 IPC.

4. Trial of the aforesaid Session Trial No.775 of 2003 started after recording of the statement of PW-1. Applicant accused Pulloo @ Shiv Pratap and Indrajeet were also summoned under Section 319 Cr.P.C. to face this trial. Against the applicant-accused and Indrajeet charges under Sections 147, 148, 324/149 and 308/149 IPC were framed on 04.05.2005. After full trial all the charged accused of this trial including the applicant were acquitted by judgement and order dated 25.11.2005 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.13, Allahabad.

5. A supplementary charge sheet dated 20.10.2002 was filed by the I.O. in aforesaid Case Crime No.99 of 2002 against the applicant Pulloo @ Shiv Pratap and Indrajeet, under Sections 147, 148, 323, 504, 325, 308, 324 IPC. This supplementary charge sheet was sent to the Court of ACJM for further proceeding, which was numbered as Case No.1048 of 2005. Proceedings were started by the concerned Magistrate and warrant was issued against the applicant for his appearance. Against the second trial this application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. has been filed by the applicant.

6. Learned counsel for the applicant contended that in the same crime number and for the charged sections, the applicant has been acquitted vide judgement and order of the Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.13, Allahabad dated 25.11.2005. Copy of which has been filed as Annexure No.1 to the affidavit and in the same crime number and charged sections subsequently charge sheet has been submitted by the prosecution and now the warrant has been issued against the applicant. Learned counsel for the applicant further argued that once the person has been tried and acquitted, he cannot be tried for the same offence again as per the provisions of Section 300 Cr.P.C. and therefore the proceedings

7. Learned AGA has filed his counter affidavit on behalf of the State. In paragraphs 4 and 5, it is categorically stated that in this case FIR was lodged against the applicant and co-accused persons, which was registered as Case Crime No.99 of 2002, under Section 147, 148, 149, 323, 324, 308 IPC, Police Station- Handia, District- Allahabad, in which charge sheet was submitted against Ramraj, Indramani, Dayaram, Ram Shiromani, Ramdhani and Ram Sajivan. In that case, cognizance was taken by Magistrate and trial started after committal. During the trial applicant-accused Pulloo @ Shiv Pratap and Indrajeet were summoned under Section

319 Cr.P.C. They were also tried along with other charged accused persons and ultimately all the accused including applicant were acquitted by judgement and order dated 25.11.2005. It is also stated in the counter affidavit that a supplementary charge sheet No.164A dated 20.10.2002 was submitted against accused applicant Pulloo @ Shiv Pratap and Indrajeet. Learned AGA further argued that the matter should be brought by the applicant before the court concerned for appropriate relief and he has wrongly filed this application u/s 482 Cr.P.C.

8. I have considered the submissions of learned counsel for the applicant, learned AGA and perused the record.

9. Section 300 Cr.P.C. provided that a person once convicted or acquitted cannot be tried for the same offence. Section 300(1) of Cr.P.C. is as under:-

"Person once convicted or acquitted not to be tried for same offence-

(1) A person who has once been tried by a Court of competent jurisdiction for an offence and convicted or acquitted of such offence shall, while such conviction or acquittal remains in force, not be liable to be tried again for the same offence, nor on the same facts for any other offence for which a different charge from the one made against him might have been made under sub-section (1) of Section 221, or for which he might have been convicted under sub-section (2) thereof."

10. Above provision is based on maxim "nemo debet bis vexari", which means that a person cannot be a convicted on second time for an offence which was involved in the offence with which he was previously charged. In order to bar the trial of the any offence already tried it must be shown-

(i) that he has been tried by a competent court for the same offfence or one for which he might have been charged or convicted at that trial on the same facts.

(ii) that he has been convicted or acquitted at the trial and

(iii) that such conviction or acquittal is in force.

11. In case at hand the applicant-accused was summoned under Section 319 Cr.P.C. in Sessions Trial No.755 of 2003 (Case Crime No.99 of 2002) Police Station- Handia, District- Allahabad and was charged under Sections 147, 148, 324/149, 308/149 IPC and after complete trial he has been acquitted by judgement and order dated 25.11.2005 of Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.13, Allahabad, which was a competent court to try the offence.

12. Learned AGA raised an objection that in previous case applicant was charged under Sections 147, 148, 324/149, 308/149 IPC and supplementary charge sheet dated 20.10.2002 has been filed under Section 147, 148, 323, 504, 325, 308, 324 IPC. Learned AGA also submitted that some additional sections have been added in the charge sheet.

13. It is relevant that in both the trials incident is the same. They are based on same prosecution story and the facts. In previous trial i.e, S.T. No.775 of 2003 charge sheet against the six accused were submitted under Sections 147, 148, 149, 323, 504, 325, 308, 324 IPC and applicant was also summoned in that case but charges against them were framed in only Section 147, 148, 324/149, 308/149 IPC. Charge against the applicant was also framed under the above sections of Indian Penal Code. In Thakur Ram vs. State of Bihar AIR 1966 SC 911, it has been observed by Hon'ble Apex Court that Section 300 Cr.P.C. bars the trial of a person again not only for the same offence but also for any other offence on the same facts Inguva Mallikarjun Vs. State of A.P. 1978 Cr.LJ 392 (DB), it was observed that Section 300 Cr.P.C. also applies to offence for which charges might have been framed at previous trial.

14. It is not disputed by the learned AGA that previous offence was tried by a competent court in which applicant was acquitted. This fact is also stated in the counter affidavit of the State. Third necessary point to apply the bar of Section 300 Cr.P.C. is such acquittal or conviction is in force. Learned counsel for the applicant submitted that the acquittal order dated 25.11.2005 is still in force. Learned AGA has not disputed this fact.

15. In view of the above facts and discussion, second trial of the applicant for the same offence in which he has been acquitted is barred by Section 300 Cr.P.C.

16. Consequently, entire proceedings of Criminal Case No.1048 of 2005 arising from Case Crime No.99 of 2002, under Section 147, 148, 323, 504, 325, 308, 324 IPC against the applicant is hereby quashed.

17. This application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. is, accordingly, allowed.

A. Criminal Law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 195- There is specific bar for a Court to take cognizance for any offence punishable under Sections 172 to 188 Cr.P.C. (both inclusive) as per provision quoted u/s 195 (a) (i) Cr.P.C.

B. Criminal law - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section 340- section 419, 420, 468, 471, 177, 181 IPC.- The false testimony of an imposter before the Court would be covered in the category of offence under Sections 177 and 181 I.P.C. and the bar of Section 195 Cr.P.C. would be operational .

C. Criminal law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Section 340-Only court had the jurisdiction to lodge a complaint after enquiry having been held under Section 340 Cr.P.C. which process does not appear to have been resorted to in the present case- No private complainant can be allowed to initiate any Criminal proceeding in his individual capacity - No court can take cognizance of the offences punishable under Section 172 to 188 I.P.C. except on written complaint by the public servant concerned-Even if the other sections 419, 420, 408 and 471 I.P.C. are found to be made out despite their being not mentioned in Section 195 Cr.P.C., it cannot be held that the proceedings in the present case would not stand barred under Section 195 Cr.P.C. as the offences under the said sections appear to be connected and to have been committed in course of the same offence i.e. under Sections 177 and 188 I.P.C.-Entire criminal proceedings quashed. (Delivered by Hon'ble Dinesh Kumar Singh-I, J.)

1. Heard Ms. Amrita Mishra, learned counsel for the applicant and Sri G.P. Singh, learned A.G.A. appearing for the State.

2. These applications have been moved for quashing of the order dated 2.1.2013 passed by the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Court No. 2, Budaun in Criminal Case No. 3 of 2013 (State vs. Satyaveer and others) arising out of case crime no. 592 of 2012 under section 419, 420, 468, 471, 177, 181 IPC, P.S. Faizganj Behta District Budaun.

3. The case as mentioned in the FIR is that the opposite party no. 2 Kishori Lal came to know on 10.4.2012 about the case of Smt. Saroj Mishra (accused-applicant)) where-after he tried to find out about the same and came to know that Satyaveer (accused-applicant), Saroj Mishra (accused-applicant) and Mahendra had committed forgery in several papers in collusion with each other and had made the opposite party no. 2 an accused in a false case, because in the complaint and the statement under section 200 Cr.P.C., the occurrence is shown to have taken place on 27.7.2011 by Mahendra while Mahendra son of Saligram was detained in jail from 19.7.2011 to 28.7.2011 in case crime no. 664 of 2011 and hence how could he have seen the occurrence as he was detained in prison which was at a distance of 50 km. Either he gave false statement or some other person would have been sent to jail by forged name of the said accused. The opposite party no. 2 annexed documentary evidence relating to case no. 1226 of 2011 pertaining to Case Crime No.664 of 2011 and mentioned in the said written report that all the accused named-above had committed forgery in various documents by which they had misled the court as well as the police and gave false statement. It is also mentioned in the written application moved under section 156 (3) Cr.P.C. that concerning this occurrence, on 28.4.2012, an application was given to the police to register the case against the accused person but no action was taken.

4. On the said application the present case crime no. 592 of 2012 appears to have been registered under section 419, 420, 468, 471 IPC at P.S. Faizganj Behta, District Buadaun on 7.11.2012 at 6.10 A.M. and after investigation by the Investigating Officer, charge-sheet has been submitted against the Satyaveer, Smt. Saroj Mishra (applicant) and Mahendrapal under section 419, 420, 468, 471, 177 and 181 IPC.

5. Contention of the learned counsel for the applicant is that on 25.8.2011 the applicant had filed a complaint before the CJM, Budaun against the opposite party no. 2 under sections 323, 504, 506, 427 IPC which was registered as a Complaint Case No. 1226 of 2011 which is at page-52 as Annexure-9 stating therein that on 27.7.2011 at about 8.00 A.M. when she was going to attend her duty as Aganbari Karyakarti, near Devi temple the accused persons namely Yad Ram @ Santosh, Raja Ram and Kishori Lal came in her way armed with illegal weapon and demanded Rs.10,000/- as illegal gratification giving threats to face dire consequence in case the same was not given. They also used abusive language against her. In the said case statement of applicant was recorded before Magistrate on 25.8.2011 under section 200 Cr.P.C. and that of witness Satyaveer under section 202 Cr.P.C as PW2 on 5.12.2011. In her statement, the applicant had fully corroborated the allegation made in the complaint. However, it was made clear by the applicant that no other witness was present at the time of incident on the spot. Statement of Mahendrapal was also recorded under section 202 Cr.P.C as PW1 on 3.11.2011, in which he also stated that along with other persons, Mahendrapal too was present there. After considering the entire evidence, learned Magistrate summoned the opposite party no.2 and two others in the said complaint case no. 1226 of 2011 to face trial under section 323, 504, 506, 429 IPC. On 7.11.2012 opposite party no.. 2 lodged an FIR at P.S. Faizganj Behta of the present case against the applicant Saroj Mishra, Satyaveer and Mahendrapal by moving application under section 156 (3) Cr.P.C. alleging that after summoning order in the Complaint Case No.1226 of 2011, she verified the record and found that the statement made by Mahendrpal was not possible to have been made because he was in jail since 19.7.2011 to 28.7.2011 in relation to case crime no. 664 of 2011 while the complainant of complaint case no. 1226 of 2011 had shown Mahendrapal to be present at the time of occurrence of the said case. The police without making proper investigation, filed charge-sheet on 28.11.2012 against the applicant Saroj Mishra and Mahendnrapal in case crime no. 592 of 2012 under section 419, 420, 468, 471, 177 and 181 IPC, on which ACJM, Court no. 2, Budaun has taken cognizance on 2.1.2013 and has issued summons to the applicant and others to appear before it on 28.2.2013 without applying his judicious mind. The entire charge-sheet as well as order dated 2.1.2013 in pursuance thereof, is ex-facie illegal because cognizance taken by the Magistrate is barred under section 195 of Cr.P.C. Even if Mahendrapal has given false statement, the remedy is available to opposite party no. 2 to move application under section 340 Cr.P.C before the court concerned. Even from the perusal of the FIR, no case is made out under the above-mentioned sections and whole proceedings have been initiated only to harass the applicant because opposite party no. 2 had been summoned in complaint case no. 1226 of 2011 and therefore, the present proceedings is nothing but a counter-blast initiated by malafide intention and ulterior motive, which were liable to be quashed. The co-accused Satyaveer had filed an application u/s 482 No.11756 of 2013 which was disposed of by this Court directing that no coercive action shall be taken against him, copy of which is annexed, therefore, it is prayed that the summoning order dated 2.1.2013 passed by ACJM, Court No. 2 Budaun should be quashed. Reliance has been placed on behalf of the applicant in the case of State of U.P. vs. Mata Bhik and others (1994) 4 SCC 95. In this case it is held by Apex Court that the court is barred from taking cognizance of offence under section 195 (1) (a) except on a written complaint by public servant concerned. Private complaint is not maintainable. The successor in the office of the public servant concerned in law is eligible to file a complaint against wrongdoers .

6. On behalf of opposite party no. 2 by filing counter affidavit it is submitted that the summoning order dated 2.1.2013 is absolutely legal. It is wrong to say that Mahendrapal son of Saligram named as witness, was in jail since 19.7.2011 to 28.7.2011 in case Crime No.664 of 2011. It was evident from FIR that the complainant lodged the same wherein he has mentioned that Mahendrapal son of Saligram was detained in jail from 19.7.2011 to 28.7.2011 in case crime no. 664 of 2011, the deponent was deliberately giving false evidence just to obtain favourable order in his favour. It is further mentioned that the applicant Saroj Mishra has filed frivolous and concocted complaint before the CJM, misrepresented and committed fraud. She has alleged that the incident had occurred on 27.7.2011 at about 8.00 A.M. in the morning when she was going to attend official duty as Aganbari Kariyakarti. It is evident on record that Mahendrapal son of Saligram was detained in jail on 27.7.2011 and was released on 28.7.2011 which belies the story of the applicant. Statement recorded under section 200 Cr.P.C of Saroj Devi on 25.8.2011, in that she has clearly mentioned that on hearing hue and cry, several people came which included Latoori son of Sri Dev, Mahendrapal son of Saligram and her husband Satyaveer and rescued her and in the process, she has received several internal injuries. It was evidently clear that the complainant repeatedly mentioned presence of Mahendrapal on the scene of occurrence. The witness Satyaveer has also mentioned that several other persons had reached on the spot. It is evident that in the statement given by Mahendrapal that the applicant has committed forgery and hence an offence under sections 419, 420, 468, 471, 477 and 481 IPC were made out. There is no infirmity in the impugned order.

7. I have perused the record of the case and have heard argument of both the sides. In the present case, it is apparent that the accused applicant has been summoned for offences under sections 419, 420, 468, 471, 177 and 181 IPC pursuant to the charge-sheet having been filed on a complaint made by opposite party no.2 Kishori Lal. The allegations against the accused-applicant and other co-accused are that one complaint, case no. 1226 of 2011 (Saroj MIshra vs. Yad Ram and others) was filed by the accused-applicant against opposite party no. 2 and two others in which it was mentioned by the complaint (accused-applicant in the present case) that on 27.7.2011 at about 8.00 A.M. when she was going to attend duty of Aganbari, the accused opposite party no. 2 along with co-accused had stopped her near the Devi Temple and co-accused Yad Ram had abusingly told her that if she wanted to continue with the job, she would have to give Rs.10,000/- to him. His brother was driver with a M.L.A. and that he would not allow here to do the job and would continue to make police complaint against her and thereafter started dragging her after holding her hand. Other co-accused Kishori, Raja Ram, companions of opposite party no. 2 in the present case, started beating the complainant (applicant-accused) by which she received internal injury. Her mobile was also snatched away and the said occurrence was seen by Latoori, Mahendrapal and her husband Satyaveer and when they came there, the accused had fled from there giving life threat to her. When she went to lodge the complaint, same was not written, hence out of compulsion, she gave an application to SSP, Budaun but even then nothing was done, then she lodged the present complaint. In this case, the statements of complainant Saroj Devi accused-applicant were recorded under section 200 Cr.P.C. on 25.8.2011 and statements of Satyaveer as PW2 and Mahendrapal as PW1 were recorded. On the basis of these statements, summoning order had been passed in the said complaint case of the accused-applicant and other co-accused under section 323, 504, 506 and 420 IPC and regarding this it is being stated from the side of opposite party no. 2 that the trial court has been misled and false statement of PW1 Mahendrapal has been got recorded by the accused-applicant while this witness was in jail on the date when he is stated to have given evidence before the court below in the said case. Therefore, he could not have been present there and this the forgery has been committed by the applicant in getting the opposite party no. 2 and his companions summoned. Regarding this, forgery, present case has been lodged by opposite party no. 2 being case crime no. 592 of 2012 under section 419, 420, 468, 471, 177 and 181 IPC and it is being argued that this case could not have been filed by opposite party no. 2 Kishori Lal as complainant because this was forgery committed before the court as by getting examined a person who was on the said date stated to be in jail, is shown to have stated before the said court, which would be an impostor. In this regard, the argument made by the learned counsel for the applicant is that in such a case the proceedings of criminal case would be barred by section 195 Cr.P.C. because in such a case it was the court before which false evidence was adduced, which only could have lodged a complaint following procedure laid down under section 195 read with 340 Cr.P.C. and no private (person opposite party no. 2) could have been permitted to lodge an FIR, hence the proceedings being barred by section 195 Cr.P.C, the prosecution of the accused-applicant needs to be quashed.

8. It transpires from the above facts that Saroj Mishra W/o Satyaveer (applicant) had filed a Complaint Case no. 1226 of 2011 wherein Saroj Mishra was examined as complainant under Section 200 Cr.P.C., her husband, Satyaveer was examined as P.W.2 under Section 202 Cr.P.C. and Mahendra Pal was examined as P.W.1 under Section 202 Cr.P.C. and, thereafter the trial court had summoned the O.P. No.2 as an accused to face trial under Sections 323, 504, 506 and 527 I.P.C. According to the O.P. No.2, the said summoning was based on false/forged evidence adduced before the trial court because P.W.1, Mahendra Pal was in jail in Crime No. 664 of 2011 under Sections 323, 324, 504, 506 and 3(i)(10) S.C./S.T. Act with effect from 19.07.2011 to 28.07.2011 while date of occurrence of the said complaint was reported to be 27.07.2011, hence it was the version of the O.P. No.2 that some imposter was made to stand before the trial court to make false statement that the O.P. No.2 had caused the occurrence which was witnessed by him, as he could not be present due to his being in jail on the date of occurrence and to prove that, question/answer have been obtained by him which is annexed by O.P. No.2 with Counter-Affidavit as C.A.-I in which it is recorded that the said witness was lying in jail during that period. On the basis of the said evidence, O.P. No.2 has lodged F.I.R. in the present case which is registered as Crime No. 592 of 2012 in which occurrence is shown of 27.07.2011 at 6:10 p.m. with the aid of application under Section 156 (3) Cr.P.C. and after the investigation in the said matter, the charge-sheet has been submitted against the accused applicant along with two others under Sections 419, 420, 168, 471, 177 and 181 I.P.C. It is argued on behalf of accused applicant that cognizance cannot be taken by the trial court on the said charge-sheet because the same is barred by the provisions of Section 195 Cr.P.C., therefore, this Court has to see as to what is provided under the said section and for the sake of convenience the same is reproduced herein below:

*"Section 195- Prosecution for contempt of lawful authority of public servants, for offences against public justice and for offences relating to documents given in evidence

(1) No Court shall take cognizance-

(a) (i) of any offence punishable under sections 172 to 188 (both inclusive) of the Indian Penal Code (45 of 1860), or

(ii) of any abetment of, attempt to commit, such offence, or

(iii) of any criminal conspiracy to commit, such offence,

Except on the complaint in writing of the public servant concerned or of some other public servant to whom he is administratively subordinate;

(b) (i) of any offence punishable under any of the following section of the Indian Penal Code (45 of 1860), namely, sections 193 to 196 (both inclusive), 199, 200, 205 to 211 (both inclusive) and 228, when such offence is alleged to have been committed in, or in relation to, any proceeding in any Court, or

(ii) of any offence described in section 463, or punishable under section 471, 475 or section 476, of the said Code, when such offence is alleged to have been committed in respect of a document produced or given in evidence in a proceeding in any Court, or

(iii) of any criminal conspiracy to commit, or attempt to commit, or the abetment of, any offence specified in sub-clause (i) or sub-clause (ii),

[except on the complaint in writing of that Court or by such officer of the Court as that Court may authorise in writing in this behalf, or of some other Court to which that Court is subordinate].

(2) Where a complaint has been made by a public servant under clause (a) of Sub-Section (1) any authority to which he is administratively subordinate may order the withdrawal of the complaint and send a copy of such order to the Court; and upon its receipt by the Court, no further proceedings shall be taken on the complaint:

Provided that no such withdrawal shall be ordered if the trial in the Court of first instance has been concluded.

(3) In clause (b) of Sub-Section (1), the term "Court" means a Civil, Revenue or Criminal Court, and includes a tribunal constituted by or under a Central, provincial or State Act if declared by that Act to be a Court for the purposes of this section.

(4) For the purposes of clause (b) of Sub-Section (1), a Court shall be deemed to be subordinate to the Court to which appeals ordinarily lie from appealable decrees or sentences of such former Court, or in the case of a civil Court from whose decrees no appeal ordinarily lies, to the principal Court having ordinary original civil jurisdiction within whose local jurisdiction such Civil Court is situate:

Provided that-

(a) where appeals lie to more than one Court, the Appellate Court of inferior jurisdiction shall be the Court to which such Court shall be deemed to be subordinate;

(b). where appeals lie to a civil and also to a Revenue Court, such Court shall be deemed to be subordinate to the civil or Revenue Court according to the nature of the case or proceeding in connection with which the offence is alleged to have been committed."

9. It is apparent from the above provision that there is specific bar for a Court to take cognizance for any offence punishable under Sections 172 to 188 Cr.P.C. (both inclusive) as per provision quoted above under Section 195 (a) (i) Cr.P.C. In the case at hand, the two sections out of these are mentioned which are Sections 177 and 181 I.P.C.

10. Now we have to see as to whether as per allegations made in the F.I.R., the offences under those sections are made out or not.

11. Necessary ingredients of Section 177 I.P.C. are as follows:

(i) that the accused was legally bound to furnish information;

(ii) that such an information was to be furnished to a public servant;

(iii) that the accused furnish such information as true, knowing that it was false (or having believed that it was false);

(iv) and that such information was required for the purpose of preventing the commission of an offence or in order to the apprehension of an offender.

12. The necessary ingredients to constitute an offence under Section 181 I.P.C. are that it must be shown that the person giving information knew or believed it to be false or that the circumstances in which the information was given were such that the only reasonable inference is that the person giving the information knew or believed it to be false. That information is shown to be false does not caste upon the party, who is charged with an offence under section, the burden of showing that, when he made it, he believed it to be true.

13. If I analyse the facts of the present case, I find that according to prosecution version, P.W.1, Mahendra Pal of the Complaint Case No. 1226 of 2011 was found to be in prison on the date of occurrence of the said case i.e. on 27.07.2011, therefore, he could not be present on the scene of occurrence on the said date as according to the documentary evidence given from the side of O.P. No.2 mentioned above, he was reported to be lying in jail from 19.07.2011 to 28.07.2011 and probably, based on this documentary evidence, the charge-sheet has been submitted in the present case that some other person may have been made to stand before the said court at the time when evidence under Section 202 Cr.P.C. was being recorded allegedly as Mahendra Pal. It would be presumed that on the said date, the person who stated before the said court as P.W.1, Mahendra Pal could not be the person who was lying in jail on the said date, hence, some imposter might have stated before the court deposing that he had seen the occurrence of the said case on 27.07.2011, therefore, this statement would be covered in the category of false statement given before the said court and would be covered under the ingredients of offence under Sections 177 and 181 I.P.C., therefore, apparently it appears that the bar of Section 195 Cr.P.C. would be operational in the present case as. In such a matter O.P. No.2 had a course open before him to approach the trial court which had recorded the said evidence and to bring to its notice that some imposter had given statement as P.W.1 in the said case and hence said court should have conduct an enquiry under Section 340 Cr.P.C. and if the said allegation was found to be correct, the said court could have moved a complaint before appropriate forum but instead of this procedure being followed in the present case, O.P. No.2 has straight-way approached the police and lodged an F.I.R. against the accused applicants whereon after investigation, charge-sheet has been submitted and cognizance has been taken by the trial court which appears to be erroneous in view of the said provision of Section 195 Cr.P.C. It may be made clear that however investigation on such a written report of the O.P. No.2 could have been conducted by the police but once charge-sheet was submitted, cognizance could be taken by the trial court only on a complaint made by Court in this matter. I am also of the opinion that whatever evidence has been collected by the I.O. during investigation would only be piece of evidence which could be taken into consideration if in the present case, the prosecution deemed it proper to approach the court concerned to get an enquiry held under Section 340 Cr.P.C. into this matter and, thereafter request the court to lodge a complaint before appropriate forum. It is absolutely clear law that in such a matter only court had the jurisdiction to lodge a complaint after enquiry having been held under Section 340 Cr.P.C. which process does not appear to have been resorted to in the present case. Further reliance has been placed by the learned counsel for the applicant upon State of U.P. Vs. Mata Bhikh Singh and others (1994) 4 SCC 95 of which Para 5 and 6 are quoted hear-in-below:

"5. The relevant provisions of Section 195(1)(a)(i) of the Code reads thus:

"No Court shall take cognizance --

(a)(i) of any offence punishable under Sections 172 to 188 (both inclusive) of the Indian Penal Code (45 of 1860), or

(ii) ....

(iii) ....

except on the complaint in writing of "the public servant concerned' or of some other public servant to whom he is administratively subordinate."

6. The object of this section is to protect persons from being vexatiously prosecuted upon inadequate materials or insufficient grounds by person actuated by malice or ill-will or frivolity of disposition at the instance of private individuals for the offences specified therein. The provisions of this section, no doubt, are mandatory and the Court has no jurisdiction to take cognizance of any of the offences mentioned therein unless there is a complaint in writing of "the public servant concerned' as required by the section without which the trial under Section 188 of the Indian Penal Code becomes void ab initio. SeeDaulat Ram v. State of Punjab [1962 Supp 2 SCR 812 : AIR 1962 SC 1206 : 1962 Cri LJ 286] . To say in other words a written complaint by a public servant concerned is sine qua non to initiate a criminal proceeding under Section 188 of the IPC against those who, with the knowledge that an order has been promulgated by a public servant directing either "to abstain from a certain act, or to take certain order, with certain property in his possession or under his management' disobey that order. Nonetheless, when the court in its discretion is disinclined to prosecute the wrongdoers, no private complainant can be allowed to initiate any criminal proceeding in his individual capacity as it would be clear from the reading of the section itself which is to the effect that no court can take cognizance of any offence punishable under Sections 172 to 188 of the IPC except on the written complaint of "the public servant concerned' or of some other public servant to whom he (the public servant who promulgated that order) is administratively subordinate."

14. It is evident from the above cited case that no private complainant can be allowed to initiate any Criminal proceeding in his individual capacity as it would be clear from the reading of above sections that no court can take cognizance of the offences punishable under Section 172 to 188 I.P.C. except on written complaint by the public servant concerned. In this case, it has been held that the public servant concerned would include his successor also.

15. Reliance is also placed by the learned counsel for the applicant upon Abdul Rehman and another Vs. K.M. Anees-Ul-Haq 2011 (10) SCC 696 para nos. 23 and 25 are quoted herein below.

"23. As noticed above, a charge-sheet has already been filed against the respondent by CAWC before the competent court. The respondent would, therefore, have a right to move the said court for filing a complaint against the appellants for an offence punishable under Section 211 IPC or any other offence committed in or in relation to the said proceedings at the appropriate stage. It goes without saying that if an application is indeed made by the respondent to the court concerned, it is expected to pass appropriate orders on the same having regard to the provisions of Section 340 of the Code. So long as the said proceedings are pending before the competent court it would neither be just nor proper nor even legally permissible to allow parallel proceedings for prosecution of the appellants for the alleged commission of the offence punishable under Section 211 IPC.

25. The substance of the case set up by the respondent is that the allegations made in the complaint lodged with CAWC accusing him of an offence punishable under Section 406 IPC and Sections 3 and 4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act were false which according to the respondent tantamounts to commission of an offence punishable under Section 211 IPC apart from an offence punishable under Section 500 IPC. The factual matrix for both the offences is however one and the same. Allowing the respondents to continue with the prosecution against the appellants for the offence punishable under Section 500 IPC would not, in our opinion, subserve the ends of justice and may result in the appellants getting vexed twice on the same facts. We are doubtless conscious of the fact that any complaint under Section 500 IPC may become time-barred if the complaint already lodged is quashed. That is not an insurmountable difficulty and can be taken care of by moulding the relief suitably."

16. In the above-mentioned case, the question involved was as to whether a complaint filed by the respondent/complainant against the appellants, alleging commission of offences punishable under Section 211, 500, 109 and 114 I.P.C. read with Section 34 I.P.C. was barred by provisions of Section 195 Cr.P.C., 1973. The appellant in this case had lodged a complaint with regard to crime with Women Cell (C.A.W.C.), accusing the respondent and four others for the offence punishable under Section 406 I.P.C. read with Section 34 I.P.C. and the D.P. Act. Upon filing of the complaint by the appellants with C.A.W.C., the respondent/complainant had sought an order of anticipatory bail from the Sessions Judge and an order granting bail was passed in favour of the respondents. The respondent's/complainant case under Section 211 I.P.C. was that accusations made by the appellant in the report lodged with C.A.W.C. were totally false and fabricated. The Magistrate entertained the complaint under Section 211 I.P.C. and came to the conclusion that a complaint for commission of an offence punishable under Section 211 I.P.C. is maintainable even at the stage of investigation. The Sessions Judge, dismissed the Criminal Revision there-against as barred by limitation. The High Court by the impugned order dismissed the Application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. there-against holding that since no Judicial Proceedings were pending in any court at the time when the complaint under Section 211 and 500 I.P.C. was filed by the respondent/complainant, the bar contained in Section 195 Cr.P.C. was not attracted. The question for determination before the Hon'ble Supreme Court was as to whether the anticipatory bail proceedings would constitute judicial proceedings, and if so, whether the offence allegedly committed by the appellants could be said to have been committed in relation to any such proceedings. The Hon'ble Supreme Court had allowed the appeal and gave finding that bail proceeding conducted by the court of Sessions Judge in connection with the case which the appellants had lodged with C.A.W.C. were judicial proceedings and offence punishable under Section 211 I.P.C. alleged to have been committed by the appellants related to the said proceedings. Such being the case, the bar contained in Section 195 Cr.P.C. was clearly attracted to the complaint filed by respondent under Section 211 I.P.C. against the appellants.

17. The facts of the above case are not identical to the present case though the accused appears to have been summoned for offences under Sections 419, 420, 468 and 471 I.P.C. also but this Court does not appear to have expressed any opinion with respect to the fact as to whether the allegations made in the present case would constitute offences under the aforementioned sections also or not as the full fledged evidence does not appear to have been filed, moreover in the present case, none had appeared from the side of O.P. No.2 when the case was called out and in his absence, this order is being passed only on the strength of the Counter-Affidavit filed from his side but I have already expressed above that the allegations prima-facie constitute offences under Sections 177 and 181 Cr.P.C. which

18. Next reliance has been placed by learned counsel for the applicants upon para 14 of the Judgement of Soni Dinesh Kumar Dahyalal Vs. State of Gujarat CRIMINAL MISC.APPLICATION NO. 17270 of 2012, which is as follows:

"14.Though, in our judgment, section 195 does not bar the trial of an accused person for a distinct offence disclosed by the same facts and which is not included within the ambit of that section, it has also to be borne in mind that the provisions of that section cannot be evaded by resorting to devices or camouflages. The test whether there is evasion of the section or not is whether the facts disclose primarily and essentially an offence for which a complaint of the court or of the public servant is required. In other words, the provisions of the section cannot be evaded by the device of charging a person with all offence to which that section does not apply and then convicting him of an offence to which it does, upon the ground that such latter offence is a minor offence of the same character, or by describing the offence as being one punishable under some other section of the Indian penal Code,, though in truth and substance the offence falls in the category of sections mentioned in section 195,Criminal Procedure Code. Merely by changing the garb or label of an offence which is essentially all offence covered by the provisions of section 195 prosecution for such an offence cannot be taken cognizance of by mis-describing it or by putting a wrong label on it."

19. The above ruling seems to suggest that it has to be borne by the court in mind that the bar of provision under Section 195 Cr.P.C. should not be evaded by resorting to devices or camouflages and it has been specified that the main test as to whether there is evasion of the section or not, is whether the facts disclose primarily and essentially an offence for which a complaint of the Court or of the public servant is required. In the present case, I find that though other offences under Sections 419, 420, 468 and 471 I.P.C. are also mentioned to have been committed by the accused applicant although these offences do not find mention in Section 195 Cr.P.C. which bars the cognizance to be taken unless complaint is filed in the matter by the public servant concerned. I have already expressed my opinion above that the main allegation appears to be covered under Section 177 and 181 I.P.C. while other sections which have been mentioned, I have not expressed my opinion as to whether they also stand constituted in the present case or not due to the lack of evidence at this stage but even if they are found to be constituted, it would not mean that the proceedings in the present case would not be barred by Section 195 Cr.P.C. as the main offence appears to fall under Section 181 Cr.P.C. as the witness Mahendra Pal who was examined as P.W.1 is stated to have deliberately made a false statement as his presence was not possible to be there on the date of occurrence as he was reported to be lying in jail on the said date of occurrence.

20. Lastly reliance is placed upon by the learned counsel for the applicant upon Govardhan Kumar Thakoredas Vs. State of Gujarat in Crl. Misc. Application No. 24632 of 2015 and connected matters decided on 13.04.2017 in which in para nos. 28, 29 and 52, following is held:

"28. Section 195(1)(a)(i) Cr.PC bars the court from taking cognizance of any offence punishable under Section 188 IPC or abetment or attempt to commit the same, unless, there is a written complaint by the public servant concerned for contempt of his lawful order. The object of this provision is to provide for a particular procedure in a case of contempt of the lawful authority of the public servant. The court lacks competence to take cognizance in certain types of offences enumerated therein. The legislative intent behind such a provision has been that an individual should not face criminal prosecution instituted upon insufficient grounds by persons actuated by malice, ill-will or frivolity of disposition and to save the time of the criminal courts being wasted by endless prosecutions. This provision has been carved out as an exception to the general rule contained under Section 190 Cr.P.C. that any person can set the law in motion by making a complaint, as it prohibits the court from taking cognizance of certain offences until and unless a complaint has been made by some particular authority or person. Other provisions in the Cr.PC like sections 196 and 198 do not lay down any rule of procedure, rather, they only create a bar that unless some requirements are complied with,the court shall not take cognizance of an offence described in those Sections. (vide Govind Mehta v.The State of Bihar, AIR 1971 SC 1708; Patel Laljibhai HC-NIC Page 32 of 41 Created On Fri Apr 14 01:03:33 IST 2017 Somabhai v. The State of Gujarat, AIR 1971 SC 1935; Surjit Singh & Ors. v. Balbir Singh, (1996) 3 SCC 533; State of Punjab v. Raj Singh & Anr., (1998) 2 SCC 391; 2 K. Vengadachalam v. K.C. Palanisamy & Ors., (2005) 7 SCC 352; and Iqbal 29. The test of whether there is evasion or non- compliance of Section 195 Cr.PC or not, is whether the facts disclose primarily and essentially an offence for which a complaint of the court or of a public servant is required. In Basir-ul-Haq & Ors. v. The State of West Bengal, AIR 1953 SC 293; and Durgacharan Naik & Ors v. State of Orissa, AIR 1966 SC 1775, this Court held that the provisions of this Section cannot be evaded by describing the offence as one being punishable under some other sections of IPC, though in truth and substance, the offence falls in a category mentioned in Section 195 Cr.PC. Thus, cognizance of such an offence cannot be taken by mis-describing it or by putting a wrong label on it.Singh Marwah & Anr. v. Meenakshi Marwah & Anr., AIR 2005 SC 2119).

29. The test of whether there is evasion or non- compliance of Section 195 Cr.PC or not, is whether the facts disclose primarily and essentially an offence for which a complaint of the court or of a public servant is required. In Basir-ul-Haq & Ors. v. The State of West Bengal, AIR 1953 SC 293; and Durgacharan Naik & Ors v. State of Orissa, AIR 1966 SC 1775, this Court held that the provisions of this Section cannot be evaded by describing the offence as one being punishable under some other sections of IPC, though in truth and substance, the offence falls in a category mentioned in Section 195 Cr.PC. Thus, cognizance of such an offence cannot be taken by mis-describing it or by putting a wrong label on it.

52. The Supreme Court, in the case of M. Narayandas vs. State of Karnataka & Ors., AIR 2004 SC 555 considered its earlier decision in the case of Raj Singh (supra) referred to HC-NIC Page 37 of 41 Created On Fri Apr 14 01:03:33 IST 2017 above, and observed as under;

"8. We are unable to accept the submissions made on behalf of the Respondents. Firstly it is to be seen that the High Court does not quash the complaint on the ground that Section 195 applied and that the procedure under Chapter XXVI had not been followed. Thus such a ground could not be used to sustain the impugned judgment. Even otherwise there is no substance in the submission. The question whether Sections 195 and 340 of the Criminal Procedure Code affect the power of the police to investigate into a cognizable offence has already been considered by this Court in the case of State of Punjab v. Raj Singh, reported in [1998] 2 SCC 391. In this case it has been that as follows :

"2. We are unable to sustain the impugned order of the High Court quashing the FIR lodged against the respondents alleging commission of offences under Sections 419, 420, 467, and 468 IPC by them in course of the proceeding of a civil suit, on the ground that Section 195(l)(b)(ii) CrPC prohibited entertainment of and investigation into the same by the police. From a plain reading of Section 195 CrPC it is manifest that it comes into operation at the stage when the court intends to take cognizance of an offence under Section 190(1) Cr. PC; and it has nothing to do with the statutory power of the police to investigate into an FIR which discloses a cognizable offence, in accordance with Chapter XII of the Code even if the offence is alleged to have been committed in, or in relation to, any proceedings in court. In other words, the statutory power of the police to investigate under the Code is not in any way controlled or circumscribed by Section 195 Cr.PC. It is of course true that upon the charge-sheet (challan), if any, filed on completion of the investigation into such an offence the court would not be competent to take cognizance thereof in view of the embargo of Section 195(1)(b) CrPC, but nothing therein deters the court from filing a complaint for the offence on the basis of the FIR (filed by the aggrieved private party) and the materials collected during investigation, provided it forms the requisite opinion and follows the procedure laid down in Section 340 CrPC. The judgment of this Court in Gopalkrishna Menon v. Raja Reddy, [1983] 4 SCC 240 : [1983] SCC (Cri) 822 : AIR (1983) SC 1053 on which the High Court HC-NIC Page 38 of 41 Created On Fri Apr 14 01:03:33 IST 2017 relied, has no manners of application to the facts of the instant case for there cognizance was taken on a private complaint even though the offence of forgery was committed in respect of a money receipt produced in the civil court and hence it was held that the court could not take cognizance on such a complaint in view of Section 195 Cr.PC." Not only are we bound by this judgment but we are also in complete agreement with the same. Sections 195 and 340 do not control or circumscribe the power of the police to investigate under the Criminal procedure Code. Once investigation is completed then the embargo in Section 195 would come into play and the Court would not be competent to take cognizance. However, that Court could then file a complaint for the offence on the basis of the FIR and the material collected during investigation provided that procedure laid down in Section 340 Criminal Procedure Code is followed. Thus no right of the Respondents, much less the right to file an appeal under Section 341, is affected. "

21. In view of the above citation, I am of the view that even if the other sections 419, 420, 408 and 471 I.P.C. are found to be made out despite their being not mentioned in Section 195 Cr.P.C., it cannot be held that the proceedings in the present case would not stand barred under Section 195 Cr.P.C. as the offences under the said sections appear to be connected and to have been committed in course of the same offence i.e. under Sections 177 and 188 I.P.C., therefore, I am of the view that the proceedings in the present case appear to be barred by provision of Section 195 Cr.P.C. and are liable to be set-aside/quashed.

22. It will be open for the State/prosecution to initiate fresh proceedings by following the procedure prescribed by law as mentioned above and that the State/prosecution need not seek permission of this Court in that regard, therefore, the proceedings in the present case are quashed with liberty to the State/prosecution to initiate fresh proceedings by following procedure prescribed under law. Whatever investigation has been carried out so far, the same will not be rendered invalid. For the purposes of initiating fresh proceedings in accordance with law, the same very material can be used.

23. With the aforementioned direction, these Applications under Section 482 Cr.P.C. are accordingly disposed of.

A. Criminal law - Indian Penal Code,1860- Sections 467, 468, 471 I.P.C-The fact and prima-facie conclusion that since the beginning and initiation of contract for agreement to sell, there was presence of intention to cheat or deception has not been mentioned in impugned order.

Presence of intention to cheat or cause deceit since the very beginning is a sine qua non to make out an offence of cheating and the Magistrate was required to mention the said fact in the impugned order.

B. Criminal law - Code of Criminal Procedure ,1973- Section 204 - Magistrate is not required to pass a reasoned and elaborate order while making a summoning order under section 204 Cr.P.C.

It is however mandatory that the summoning order must reflect the application of judicial mind to the facts of the case and ought to be a reasoned and speaking order. The Magistrate was required to record what offences were made out prima-facie on the basis of evidence collected in enquiry by Magistrate as well as the litigations between the parties in different courts

The very ingredients necessary for making out an offence of forgery or fraud were wholly missing from the statements recorded by the Magistrate in the Inquiry contemplated under Sections 202/204 Cr.Pc. (Para 8,18,19)

1. Heard Sri Nirvikar Gupta, learned counsel for the applicants, Sri Brijesh Sahai, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Bhavya Sahai, learned counsel for O.P. No. 2 and learned A.G.A. representing the State. Perused the records.

2. This application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. has been filed by applicants Kamal Singh and Ramesh Chandra against State of U.P. and Brahm Kumar Agarwal with prayer to quash entire proceedings of Complaint Case No. 1339 of 2019, Brahm Kumar Vs. Kamal Singh and another, arising out of Case Crime No. 10 of 2015, under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471, 120B I.P.C., P.S. Vrindavan, district Mathura, pending in court of A.C.J.M., Court No. 5, Mathura, including order dated 30.7.2018 passed by the A.C.J.M., Mathura, whereby protest petition has been treated as a complaint case and summoning order dated 26.4.2019 passed in above mentioned Complaint Case.

3. Learned counsel for the applicants argued that applicant no. 1 was recorded tenure holder of Chak No. 115 Gata No. 477 area 0.893 hectare situate at village Jait, P.S. Vrindavan, District Mathura. He entered into an agreement with O.P. No. 2 for sale of his plot in dispute for a total sale consideration of Rs. 1,32,29,630/-. But complainant requested for mentioning of lower amount of sum because if entire sale consideration is mentioned in the agreement to sell, the same would entail a heavy stamp duty. In such circumstances and notwithstanding with the fact that the earnest money of Rs. 33,07,407/- was received by applicant no. 1, agreement to sell was executed mentioning earnest money to be Rs. 20 lacs and total sale consideration to be Rs. 50 lacs despite the fact that the complainant was required to pay balance sale consideration as against Rs. 1,32,29,630/-. But after payment of Rs. 20 lacs the informant-complainant failed to pay above balance consideration resulting lapse of sum in term of agreement entered in between in form of forfeiture clause. The earnest money paid by first informant stood forfeited. A supplementary agreement was also executed in between parties on 29.5.2013 and the time for execution of sale deed was extended. Even then on account of failure on the part of first informant of being able to pay balance sale consideration and being ready and willing to have the sale deed executed, the applicant no. 1 was not bound by above agreement to sell dated 29.6.2012. Applicant no. 1 executed a sale deed for the same land in favour of applicant no. 2, Ramesh Chandra, on 1.9.2014 for a total sale consideration of Rs. 1,15,00,000/-, which was a valid transaction entered in between. The first informant instituted O.S. No. 913 of 2014 for a decree of relief of specific performance of contract/ agreement to sell dated 29.6.2012 with a contention that the applicant no. 1, being bhumidhar of plot in dispute, had entered into a registered agreement to sell with plaintiff/ first informant for a total sale consideration of Rs. 50 lacs for which Rs. 20 lacs was paid by way of earnest money and deed of agreement to sell was executed on 29.6.2012 with a condition of limitation of one year for execution of sale deed for it. Time and again payment was being made to applicant no. 1, but he did not show his willingness to have sale deed executed. Hence a supplementary agreement was also executed in between parties on 29.5.2013. But it revealed to the plaintiff- first informant that applicant no. 1 had fraudulently executed sale deed of land in question in favour of applicant no. 2, hence, cause of action had arisen for this civil suit and it was filed for above relief. An application under Order 39 Rule 1 C.P.C. for ad-interim injunction was filed with above contention of plaint. Written statement and objection over above application were also filed by present applicants and after hearing on merit the ad-interim injunction application was rejected by court of Civil Judge (Senior Division), Mathura, vide order dated 21.7.2016. Against this order a First Appeal From Order No. 2685 of 2016 was filed before this court and it was dismissed vide order dated 24.10.2016. Against this order a Special Leave Petition No. 3110 of 2017 was filed before Apex Court, but the same was rejected vide order dated 6.3.2017. In between a first information report with same contention, as of plaint, was filed at P.S. Vrindavan, District Mathura, on 19.12.2014 vide Case Crime No. NIL of 2014, which was renumbered as Case Crime No. 10 of 2015 against applicants. This was with false contention of fact having no merit and was with ulterior motive of blackmailing and harassing the applicants, who are poor illiterate farmers. Investigation resulted in submission of final report on 14.3.2015. Protest petition was filed, which was treated as a complaint case vide order dated 28.5.2015. This order was challenged before this court in Criminal Misc. Application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. No. 20145 of 2015, Brahm Kumar Agarwal Vs. State of U.P. and others, challenging the order of the Magistrate for treating the protest petition as a complaint case. This order of Magistrate dated 21.7.2015 was set aside by this court vide order dated 21.7.2015. Matter was remanded back and it was further investigated. But as there was no substance in the assertion, second round of investigation also resulted in submission of final report on 8.4.2016. Investigating officer concluded that the dispute between the parties was of civil nature, regarding which civil suit is pending for disposal. Again protest petition was filed and vide order dated 9.11.2017 again a direction for further investigation was made. In the third round of investigation again final report dated 30.3.2018 was filed. Hence despite final report being submitted thrice in the matter, the contesting respondent again filed a protest petition, which was treated to be a complaint case, wherein statement of complainant was recorded u/s 200 Cr.P.C. and of his witnesses Vivek Agarwal and Bharat Pal were recorded u/s 202 Cr.P.C. On the basis of recording of statements, learned A.C.J.M., Court No. 5, Mathura, passed summoning order dated 26.4.2019 whereby applicants have been summoned to face trial for the offences punishable under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471, 120B I.P.C. Whereas from the bare perusal of the impugned order of summoning as well as order dated 30.7.2018 treating the protest petition as a complaint case, it is apparent that the same suffer from manifest error apparent on the face of record. Sale deed was rightly executed by applicant no. 1 in favour of applicant no. 2. It was executed after lapse of agreement for sale entered in between applicant no. 1 and informant. The informant- O.P. No. 2 was not ready and willing to perform his part of contract and to have sale deed executed for a residual consideration. Entire fact in dispute on the basis of which this F.I.R. was lodged or protest petition was taken cognizance of by Magistrate were subjudice before Civil Court in above previously instituted O.S. No. 913 of 2014. Initially prima-facie case was held to be missing in dispute while deciding ad-interim injunction application by learned Civil Court and this order was confirmed till Apex Court. Civil suit is still pending. Unless those facts are being decided by civil court, it can never be held that there was any fraud or fabrication on the part of applicant no. 1. Learned Magistrate, in impugned order, has observed that there is in fact a dispute between parties and as such summoning of applicants was made. It was in utter disregard of the laws propounded by this court as well as Apex Court that purely a civil nature dispute for which Original Suit No. 913 of 2014 pending in between was there and for the facts mentioned therein disputed by written statement, pending for disposal by civil court in above suit has been taken, as a basis and reason for summoning of accused-applicants for offences, as above. Criminal Court may never adjudicate that informant was ready and willing to get sale deed executed or it was informant, who failed to perform his obligation under above registered agreement to sell. The payment of earnest money being said by informant- plaintiff has been admitted by applicants- defendants. It has been said to have lapsed in view of forfeiture clause written in the admitted agreement. This fact may also be adjudicated only and exclusively by civil court. This too may not be adjudicated by a criminal court. Hence no offence was made out against applicants. Applicant no. 2 is a bonafide purchaser, who has purchased the land in dispute through registered sale deed after making valid and legal consideration for the plot in dispute. He can never be held for any offence of fraud, deceit or fabrication or false and fictitious security, to summon them. Hence this application with above prayer.

4. Sri Brijesh Sahai, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Bhavya Sahai, learned counsel for O.P. No. 2, argued that this court in exercise of inherent jurisdiction u/s 482 Cr.P.C. is not to embark upon factual matrix and the Magistrate, at the stage of passing an order of summoning u/s 204 Cr.P.C., need not to write reasoning in detailed and elaborate order justifying its summoning order. Rather existence of prima-facie case for further proceeding and summoning is to be seen by the Magistrate, as has been held in catena of judgment of Apex Court as well as of this court. In the present case, admittedly, applicant no. 1 entered into an agreement to sell of his bhumidhari land for sale consideration of Rs. 50 lacs, out of which earnest money of Rs. 20 lacs was received. Registered agreement to sell was with limitation of one year for execution of sale deed. There was charge of bank over above land. It was incumbent upon applicant no. 1 to get the land free from above charge and obtain procedure for getting the same alienated, which he could not complete, even after receipt of subsequent part of major consideration in maximum parts elaborated in plaint as well as counter affidavit filed by O.P. No. 2. Owing to failure of applicant no. 1 for getting above formalities completed, subsequent agreement to sell with further limitation was got executed in between. Even after this and receipt of huge amount of sale consideration, the deed was not executed. A notice with false fact was issued by applicant no. 1 to O.P. No. 2 mentioning therein the sale consideration of Rs. 1,32,29,630/-. This was replied by a notice with correct assertion and mentioned for getting dues cleared and formalities fulfilled for getting sale deed executed within the above limitation. Subsequently, a notice was issued and on that date O.P. No. 2 was present at the office of Sub Registrar for getting deed executed, but applicant no. 1 did not turn up. Rather applicant no. 1 executed a sale deed in favour of applicant no. 2, which was a collusive deed, just to defeat the earlier agreement to sell. This was a fraud and deception with O.P. No. 2 for which first information report was got lodged and even after repeated directions for further investigation, final report was submitted under influence of accused-applicants. Ultimately protest petition was filed over final report, which was treated as a complaint case, wherein the Magistrate decided to proceed under Chapter XV of the Code or Criminal Procedure. Statements of complainant and of his two witnesses were recorded by the Magistrate under sections 200 and 202 Cr.P.C. There was sufficient prima-facie evidence for offences punishable under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471, 120B I.P.C. Accordingly, the impugned summoning order was passed against the applicant, against which this proceeding u/s 482 Cr.P.C. has been filed. Whereas applicant no. 1 is in possession of huge amount of money paid by O.P. No. 2 to applicant no. 1 and it has yet not been returned. Thus, execution of agreement to sell was with intention to deceit O.P. No. 2. Hence the same was not complied with. Neither money was paid back nor deed was executed in favour of O.P. No. 2. Rather land in dispute was transferred under a collusive transaction and deed to applicant no. 2, who is enjoying the above land and O.P. No. 2 is running from pillar to post. Civil suit is for decree of specific performance of contract and adjudication of civil right of plaintiff. Whereas this criminal proceeding was for punishment of applicants for forgery and fraud committed by them under a fraudulent intention since the beginning of above transaction and execution of registered agreement to sell and there are catena of judgments of Apex Court as well as of this court that pendency of Civil Suit will not bar criminal proceeding. Hence this application is to be dismissed.

5. Apex Court in Anil Mahajan Vs. Bhor Industries Limited, 2004 Law Suit (SC) 1204, has propounded that in a case of fraud defined under section 415 I.P.C. and punishable u/s 420 I.P.C., offence of cheating requires criminal intention since very inception of contract. Consideration of substance of complaint should reveal that criminal intention was from very inception of contract. If subsequent disobedience of contract is there, then distinction has to be kept in mind between mere breach of contract and offence of cheating. Subsequent conduct is not sole test. Mere breach of contract cannot give rise to criminal prosecution for cheating unless fraudulent, dishonest intention is shown at beginning or inception of transaction and if it is lacking then substance of complaint will be a simple case of civil dispute in between parties.

6. This has also been laid down by Apex Court in Hridaya Ranjan Prasad Verma and others Vs. State of Bihar and another, AIR 2000 SC 2341, that mere breach of contract or agreement to sell cannot give rise to criminal prosecution for cheating unless fraudulent or dishonest intention is shown right at the beginning of transaction. Relevant paragraph no. 16 of judgment reads as under:

"Mere breach of contract cannot give rise to criminal prosecution for cheating unless fraudulent or dishonest intention is shown right at the beginning of transaction, that is the time when the offence is said to have been committed. Therefore, it is the intention which is the gist of the offence. To hold a person guilty of cheating it is necessary to show mere failure to keep up promise subsequently such a culpable intention right to the beginning that is, when he made the promise cannot be presumed."

7. In B. Suresh Yadav Vs. Sharifa Bee and another, 2007(4) RCR (Criminal) 870, the Apex Court has held that criminal proceedings are not short cut of other remedies available in law to get the agreement to sell executed. In paragraph no. 13 of the aforesaid judgment the Apex Court has observed as under:

"13. For the purpose of establishing the offence of cheating, the complainant is required to show that the accused had fraudulent or dishonest intention at the time of making promise or representation."

8. Applying above principles of law stated in the ratio and judgments to the facts of the present case, it is not disputed between the parties that applicant no. 1 entered in agreement to sell of his bhumidhari land for a valid consideration through a registered sale deed and took earnest money of Rs. 20 lacs against it. Limitation was of one year. Subsequently supplementary agreement to sell by way of a registered document was executed, wherein this limitation period was extended and part of remaining amount was paid. Meaning thereby till then there was no intention to cheat or cause deceit nor this deed was result of above deception. Another agreement on a Stamp paper was executed in between parties having signature and identification with attestation of witnesses on the same day wherein amount of consideration was written to be Rs.1,32,29,630/- for the same land and this collateral document was written to be executed in between in civil proceeding as well order rejecting ad-interim injunction application by Presiding Judge of Civil Court and it was held that this collateral agreement to sell, though not registered, was actionable between parties as a collateral transaction because of not being opposed by them and this finding was not altered even up to stage of Apex Court. Meaning thereby on the inception of above agreement to sell, admittedly, there was no question of any deception or cheating. Subsequently there arisen a dispute that complainant-informant was not willing and ready to get sale deed executed or present applicant no. 1 failed to execute deed because of his fraudulent intention and failure to get terms and conditions fulfilled regarding clearance of bank dues and demarcation of chak in question. These things are questions of facts to be decided on the basis of evidence in a civil proceeding, which has already been filed by complainant - O.P. No. 2 prior to institution of this criminal proceeding. These facts have been mentioned and denied in pleadings. Hence determination of those things are to be made by civil court in above civil proceeding. Learned Magistrate in its impugned order has written so. Hence the fact and prima-facie conclusion that since the beginning and initiation of contract for agreement to sell, there was presence of intention to cheat or deception has not been mentioned in impugned order. Whereas Magistrate is not required to pass a reasoned and elaborate order while making a summoning order under section 204 Cr.P.C. But it is mandatory that from the perusal of order of summoning, it must appear that application of judicial mind is there.

9. In the present case summoning is for offences punishable under Section 420 I.P.C. The essential ingredients of offence of fraud enumerated u/s 415 I.P.C. is to be apparent making offence punishable u/s 420 I.P.C. Section 415 of I.P.C. provides:

415. Cheating.--Whoever, by deceiving any person, fraudulently or dishonestly induces the person so deceived to deliver any property to any person, or to consent that any person shall retain any property, or intentionally induces the person so deceived to do or omit to do anything which he would not do or omit if he were not so deceived, and which act or omission causes or is likely to cause damage or harm to that person in body, mind, reputation or property, is said to "cheat".

10. This cheating is punishable u/s 417 I.P.C. with imprisonment of either description for a term, which may extend to one year, or with fine, or with both.

11. Section 420 I.P.C. provides cheating and dishonestly inducing delivery of property.--Whoever cheats and thereby dishonestly induces the person deceived to deliver any property to any person, or to make, alter or destroy the whole or any part of a valuable security, or anything which is signed or sealed, and which is capable of being converted into a valuable security, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine.

12. Apex Court in Mahadeo Prasad Vs. State of Bengal, AIR 1954 SC 724, has propounded that the offence of cheating is established when the accused thereby induced that person to deliver any property or to do or to omit to do something, which he could otherwise not have done or omitted.

13. Apex court in Suresh Vs. Mahadevappa Shivappa Danannava, AIR 2005 (SC) 1047, quashed the complaint case, wherein, the allegations of cheating was made by the complainant against the petitioner on the ground that the accused had executed an agreement to sell her house but subsequently backed out. The Apex Court held that it is a dispute of civil nature and there was no allegation that the accused had fraudulent or dishonest intention at the time of making the promise.

14. In B. Suresh Yadav Vs. Sharifa Bee and another, 2007(13) SCC 107, the Apex Court has held that the power of the High Court for quashing of the criminal proceeding can be exercised where a civil suit is also pending between the parties in respect of the same subject matter and the criminal proceedings in such like cases amounting to abuse of process of law.

15. In the present case the summoning includes offences punishable u/s 467, 468, 471 I.P.C. whereas no accusation of forgery provided u/s 463 I.P.C. is there. There is no allegation of making of a false document or false electronic record or part of a document or electronic record, with intent to cause damage or injury to the public or to any person, or to support any claim or title, or to cause any person to part with property, or to enter into any express or implied contract or with intent to commit fraud or that fraud may be committed, which is a condition precedent for offence punishable u/s 467 I.P.C., which provides whoever forges a document, which purports to be a valuable security or a will etc.

16. Section 468 I.P.C. provides punishments for offence of forgery for the purpose of cheating.

17. Section 471 I.P.C. provides punishment for use as genuine any document or electronic record, which he knows or has reason to believe to be a forged document or electronic record.

18. But no ingredients of for forgery or offences, as above, is there in the statements recorded u/s 200 and 202 Cr.P.C. The mere accusation is that the applicant no. 1 entered into an agreement to sell. He received heavy amount as earnest money. Subsequently he did not execute sale deed. A Civil Suit was filed and in between before filing of civil suit, above property was transferred to applicant no. 2 through a registered sale deed for a valid consideration. This applicant no. 2 has been summoned for above offence. Whereas he is admitting to purchase the land under bonafide belief for a valid consideration through a registered sale deed of a land, which was with no defective title of vendor. Even if civil suit is decreed then either specific performance of above registered agreement to sell may be or return of earnest money with interest may be permitted. But the facts being mentioned were admitted by applicant no. 1 before Civil Court and even in this proceeding. Execution of sale deed in favour of applicant no. 2 was said to be made after expiry of period of limitation mentioned in the registered agreement to sell and retention of earnest money is being claimed under bonafide belief of forfeiture of earnest money agreed in the agreement to sell. Hence, apparently this ought to be considered by the Magistrate, while summoning applicants for offences, as above. What offences were made out prima-facie on the basis of evidence collected in enquiry by Magistrate, what were pending before civil court and were decided up to Apex Court were needed to be there in the order of summoning passed by the Magistrate revealing application of judicial mind for passing summoning order, if any. Whereas impugned order reveals that Magistrate has summoned in one line that both sides are litigating over issue of property and this may be adjudged by evidence laid by parties. Hence, prima-facie there appears ground for summoning, which never reveals application of judicial mind by Magistrate in passing impugned summoning order. Hence, it is apparently an abuse of process of law. Accordingly, this application merits its allowance.

19. Admittedly, this registered deed of agreement to sell was executed on 29.5.2013 wherein sale consideration was shown to be Rs. 50 lacs. At the same time another agreement in between parties, duly attested by witnesses for the same land for sale, was got executed, wherein sale consideration was written to be Rs. 1,32,29,630/-. This subsequent agreement has been in the pleading before Civil Judge in civil suit filed by informant-complainant and it was held to be admissible for collateral purpose in between parties because of being not denied in the order of the Civil Judge (Senior Division) in disposal of interim injunction application, which order has been upheld up to Apex Court. In this proceeding u/s 482 Cr.P.C. learned counsel for applicants has vehemently argued and has written in the application that this agreement to sell, which was not a registered one, was got executed in between. But upon request this sale consideration was shown to be Rs. 50 lacs and this was with a view to have saving from objections from Income Tax Department and other formalities and this agreement was got registered. Meaning thereby knowing this fact that this contention in the agreement to sell was against fact, but it was presented as a factual one and this was got registered with knowledge and belief that it was a sham document. The real consideration to be paid and the real agreement entered in between was an unregistered document. According to which remaining sale consideration was to be given i.e. the registry officials were deceived for getting the deed registered, which was with incorrect mention of consideration and getting the same registered to be believed to be true and correct one. This offence will amount deception apparently fulfilling the ingredients of a cognizable offence punishable u/s 420 I.P.C. It will be against both the would be vendee and the would be vendor i.e. the parties to above agreement including applicant no. 1. This aspect was also required to be inquired under section 202 Cr.P.C. then after summoning order, if any, against accused, against whom offences were made out, was to be passed.

20. Accordingly, application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. is allowed. Impugned summoning order is being set aside. The file is remanded back to the Magistrate concerned for making adequate and proper enquiry under sections 200 and 202 Cr.P.C. for hearing complainant and passing order, if any, within the parameter of law and precedents showing prima-facie application of judicial mind.

A. Criminal law - Code of Criminal Procedure,1973- Section 204- Though Magistrate need not to pass an elaborate and reasoned order, while passing summoning order u/s 204 Cr.P.C. but it is also there that it must appear that there is application of judicial mind and upon this application a prima-facie commission of offence for which cognizance is to be taken and summoning is to be made, is made out.

Although the Learned Magistrate treated the Protest Petition as a Complaint but the order taking cognizance of the offences and summoning the accused must reflect application of judicial mind to the facts of the case.

B. Criminal law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 197- A court is precluded from entertaining a complaint or taking notice of it or exercising jurisdiction if it is in respect of a public servant who is accused of an offence alleged to have committed during discharge of his official duty.

It is settled law that prior sanction from the competent authority under section 197 Cr.Pc, in respect of a Public Servant having committed the alleged offence in the purported exercise of his official duty, is a sine qua non for taking cognizance of the offence, in absence of which the very cognizance is barred. (Para 6,7)

Application u/s 482 Cr.Pc allowed.

Case law discussed:-

1. St. of U.P. Vs. Paras Nath Singh, (2009) 6 SCC 372

2. Crl. Appeal Nos. 1590, 1591 of 2013 (in S.L.P. Criminal No. 6652, 6653 of 2013), M. K. Ayappa Vs. State. [Anil Kumar Vs. M.K.Ayappa, (2013) 10 SCC 705]

1. Heard Sri Pradeep Kumar, learned counsel for the applicant, Ms. Monica Vaish, learned counsel for O.P. No. 2 and learned A.G.A. representing the State. Perused the records.

2. This application, under Section 482 Cr.P.C., has been filed by applicant I.P.S. Yadav against State of U.P. and Amit Vaish with prayer to quash the summoning order dated 21.2.2019 as well as order issuing N.B.W. and entire proceedings of Complaint Case No. 1099 of 2019, Amit Vaish Vs. I.P.S. Yadav, under Sections 392, 427, 447 I.P.C., P.S. Naini, district Prayagraj, pending in court of A.C.J.M., Court No. 2, Allahabad.

3. Learned counsel, for the applicant, argued that accused-applicant is an officer in Indian Railways and was performing his official duties, in view of letters previously written to the District Magistrate, Prayagraj, as well as concerned Station Officer of P.S. Naini, Prayagraj, regarding encroachment done over land in question belonging to Indian Railways and performance of official duties. Above act was performed in discharge of official duty for which this F.I.R. was got lodged, wherein a proceeding u/s 482 Cr.P.C. was filed before this court, but as final report was submitted in the above case crime number, hence above proceeding u/s 482 Cr.P.C. was held to be infructuous and was dismissed. Subsequently a protest petition was filed and over this petition, cognizance was taken, but summoning order was not there. Rather the Magistrate opined for proceeding as a complaint case, thereby recorded statements of complainant u/s 200 Cr.P.C. and of his two witnesses u/s 202 Cr.P.C. Then after by a cryptic order, without applying judicial mind, passed the impugned order of summoning, for which, there required a sanction, as per section 197 Cr.P.C. This was abuse of process of law and no Public officer will perform his official duty because of such threat being given by Land Mafias and others. Hence this application with above prayer.

4. Learned A.G.A. has vehemently opposed the above submission.

5. Learned counsel for O.P. No. 2 argued that it was not the land of Indian Railways. Rather it was land of complainant, purchased vide registered sale deed from its erstwhile owners and inherited by the complainant, being grandson of Late Somnath Vaish. He was owner in possession having construction over it and this construction was destroyed and damaged and belongings of complainant were looted by accused-applicant under his individual capacity, for which there required no sanction. Even

D.R.M. had not passed any order for such demolition or taking of property of complainant. Hence this conclusion of Investigating Officer for submission of final report was against fact on record, because the property was acquired in a proceeding for which a proceeding by way of a writ was filed before this court, wherein a reply was submitted by the Revenue Department by way of counter affidavit, wherein it was admitted that above disputed plot nos. 133 and 134 were not required. Rather those plots were released for which a Government Order was passed and it was filed along with counter affidavit. Hence, above land was neither acquired nor belonged to Indian Railways. Even then this act has been done by the accused-applicant in his personal vengeance. Hence this matter may be raised before the Magistrate, where applicant is appearing through counsel, for making appreciation by the Magistrate, for consideration over discharge, if any, and sanction may be taken at any stage subsequent to it also. Hence this proceeding be dismissed.

6. Having heard learned counsel for both sides and gone through the material placed on record, it is apparent that cognizance taking order is on the basis of final report, submitted by the Investigating Officer, in above case crime number, after investigation and then after a decision regarding proceeding as a complaint case was there. Hence in above investigation and in the final report, submitted in above case crime number, it was specifically mentioned that the land belonged to Indian Railways and it was entered in the name of Indian Railways along with G.E.C. Company. A proceeding for declaration of right before Revenue Court u/s 229B of U.P.Z.A.L.R. Act, filed by complainant, was dismissed mentioning therein that it was a land belonging to Indian Railways. Nowhere it is apparent that after release the land was entered in the name of its erstwhile owners or compensation paid was returned back and what was the situation of land?, in possession as well as title. Though, order of status quo is said to be in operation granted by Board of Revenue. Accordingly, this final report was submitted on the basis of the fact that the land in dispute belongs to Indian Railways and alleged occurrence was committed by an officer of Indian Railways in performance of his official duty. Hence this fact was there on record before the Magistrate concerned and while considering on protest petition, this final report was accepted, but cognizance for offence was taken. The Magistrate did not summon accused on the basis of cognizance taken by him. Rather he decided to proceed as a complaint case. Subsequently, statements u/s 200 and 202 Cr.P.C. were got recorded and then after impugned summoning order was passed. But neither reason for absence of sanction nor ownership of land of Indian Railways nor performance of official duty by a public officer in assistance of public force i.e. R.P.F. was there in the summoning order. Though Magistrate need not to pass an elaborate and reasoned order, while passing summoning order u/s 204 Cr.P.C. But it is also there that it must appear that there is application of judicial mind and upon this application a prima-facie commission of offence for which cognizance is to be taken and summoning is to be made, is made out. But in the present case, there was mention that property in question and construction raised there at were an encroachment over Railways land and it was an act by a Railway officer in performance of his official duty with assistance of Railway Police Force and the Magistrate failed to take note of this circumstance or to make any discussion over this point in the summoning order.

7. Apex Court in State of U.P. Vs. Paras Nath Singh, (2009) 6 SCC 372 by a three Judges Bench has propounded that 'no court shall take cognizance of such offence except with the previous sanction'. Use of the words 'no' and 'shall' make it abundantly clear that the bar on the exercise of power of the court to take cognizance of any offence is absolute and complete. Very cognizance is barred. That is the complaint cannot be taken notice of. According to Black's law Dictionary the word 'cognizance' means 'Jurisdiction' or 'the exercise of jurisdiction' or 'power to try and determine causes'. In common parlance it means taking notice of. A court, therefore, is precluded from entertaining a complaint or taking notice of it or exercising jurisdiction if it is in respect of a public servant who is accused of an offence alleged to have committed during discharge of his official duty. This has been reiterated by Apex Court in Criminal Appeal Nos. 1590, 1591 of 2013 (in S.L.P. Criminal No. 6652, 6653 of 2013), M. K. Ayappa Vs. State. Hence, in the present case, all these requirements were needed, while passing a summoning order and taking of cognizance. But no iota is there. Hence it is completely abuse of process of law.

8. Accordingly, this application merits to be allowed.

9. This application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. is allowed and the impugned summoning order is hereby quashed. The file is being remanded back to the Magistrate Court concerned for making an enquiry afresh u/s 200 and 202 Cr.P.C. and then after pass a fresh reasoned order in view of requirement of sanction and legal precedents.

Sidharth Nagar, District Sidharth Nagar pending in the Court of C.J.M., Sidharth Nagar as well as for quashing the impugned charge sheet dated 21.3.2018.

4. Learned counsel for applicant contends that applicant has been falsely implicated in the F.I.R. lodged by opposite party no.2 on account of unsuccessful surgery; that as per averments made in F.I.R. lodged against applicant and Dr. Skand Mishra, "opposite party no.2 was admitted in Aryan Hospital, Tharauli, Siddharth Nagar for operation of stone in gallbladder and during surgery applicant and Dr. Skand Mishra together, opposite party no.2 got a cut over her nerve of liver on 8.1.2016, causing further complications and in order to save her life, she had to rush to Gorakhpur and undergone further surgery at Gorakhnath Hospital, Gorakhpur and S.G.P.G.I. Centre, Lucknow and upon getting of bit well informed District Magistrate, Siddharth Nagar, on whose direction C.M.O. recorded her statement while applicant on getting knowledge of above complaint allegedly threatened her for life and the doctors on the pretext of operation usurped a sum of Rs.14,000/- by cheating her".

5. He submitted that the entire prosecution story is absolutely false and incorrect; that father of applicant Dr. J.P. Gupta, M.B.B.S. retired from the post of Chief Medical Officer in 2014 established and run Aryan Hospital and unfortunately died on 12.11.2016, after about 10 months of surgery of opposite party no.2; that applicant is M.B.B.S. Doctor and at the time of alleged surgery on 8.1.2016, was posted as Medical Officer at C.H.C., Brijmanganj and was on his duty and neither conducted surgery of opposite party no.2 nor was at all present or working in Aryan Hospital at the time of surgery of opposite party no.2; that in any case, according to statements of opposite party no.2 and her witnesses, applicant allegedly played role of an Anesthetist and administered dose of anesthesia to opposite party no.2 during operation; that the surgery of gallbladder is technical one and since the internal organs are connected with each other, possibility of cut over the adjoining nerve, may not be ruled out, despite due care and caution by expert doctor; that Dr. Skand Mishra is an expert surgeon; that though surgery of opposite party no.2 with regard to gallbladder was successfully conducted but since complaint of pain sustained for considerable time, so opposite party no.2 sought premature discharge and preferred treatment at Gorakhnath Hospital, Gorakhpur and thereafter at S.G.P.G.I., Lucknow and is alleged to have been further operated at Gorakhnath Hospital, Gorakhpur as well as at S.G.P.G.I., Lucknow; that on the complaint made by opposite party no.2, an inquiry was ordered by C.M.O., Siddharth Nagar and the committee submitted it's report to C.M.O.(Annexure No.9) with the conclusion that surgery of gallbladder was performed by expert doctor and since she (opposite party no.2) did not get relief, she was again operated by expert at Gorakhpur and, thereafter, in super specialty hospital S.G.P.G.I., Lucknow which took enough time in complete recovery and that such complications are part of surgery and it will not be correct to say that doctor did not conduct the operation sincerely; that the report of S.G.P.G.I., Lucknow at Annexure No.10 also does not indicate any negligence on the part of applicant; that even if the allegations made by opposite party no.2 and her witnesses are taken to be correct, for the sake of arguments, since applicant was assigned only with the role of anesthetist and had nothing to do with surgery of gallbladder, resulting in cut over nerve of her liver, during removal of gallbladder, (providing anesthesia is a pre-surgery stage and nothing beyond it); that medical negligence, if any, could have been occurred only by the person, who applied knives etc. during surgery for removal of gallbladder; that no case of medical negligence is or can be made out against applicant; that applicant neither usurped any money nor committed any offence of cheating and no offence under sections 419 and 420 IPC is made out against him; that Rs.14,000/- or any amount was admittedly deposited by opposite party no.2 was towards operation charges and since admittedly operation of her gallbladder was conducted, no case of cheating or usurping her money can be made out; that the case of applicant is distinguishable from co-accused Dr. Skand Mishra, who is an expert surgeon and conducted surgery very sincerely and correctly; that applicant never abused opposite party no.2 or her family members and never threatened them of life; that under wrong impression of opposite party no.2 about alleged medical negligence, the applicant may not be held responsible; that applicant did not do anything to make the evidence disappear; that in view of the material on record even if the evidence remains same, there is no possibility of conviction of applicant; that applicant either intentionally or otherwise did not cause any grievous hurt to opposite party no.2 rashly or negligently to endanger her life; that the prosecution of applicant is noting but abuse of process of Court and in order to secure the ends of justice, charge sheet as well as proceedings of criminal case are liable to be quashed.

6. In support of his arguments, learned counsel for applicant has paid reliance on the law laid down by the Apex Court in the case of Jacob Mathew Vs. State of Punjab and another, 2005 (3) JIC 320 (SC),

7. Per contra, learned AGA and learned counsel for opposite party no.2 vehemently opposed the application for quashing of charge sheet and proceedings against applicant and contended that it is clear from the material on record that applicant was present at the time of surgery of opposite party no.2 at Aryan Hospital and the allegations that he was on duty in Medical Hospital at CHC, Brijmanganj indicates that his presence in Aryan Hospital was unauthorized; that if the applicant was posted at C.H.C. Brijmanganj, he had no business to provide anesthesia to opposite party no.2, which indicates that he is not loyal to his duties also; that since the applicant has played active role in surgery of gallbladder of opposite party no.2, he is equally liable for negligence in unsuccessful surgery and cut over her liver nerve; that the matter of negligence, is a matter to be decided upon evidence and mere reports of the committee constituted by C.M.O. at Annexure No.9 or of S.G.P.G.I. at Annexure No.10, are not sufficient to hold the applicant not guilty for medical negligence; that it is wrong to say that no offence under sections 419, 420, 338, 504, 506 and 201 IPC is made out against applicant; that application has been moved with false allegations and malafide intention and is liable to be dismissed.

8. Upon hearing parties counsel and perusal of record, I find that cheating has been defined under section 415 IPC as under :-

9. In the case of Jacob Mathew (supra), where a patient with acute breathing problem brought to hospital and admitted and died due to immediate non-availability of oxygen cylinder, quashing prosecution of accused doctor under section 304A/34 IPC, the 03 Judges Bench of Apex Court held that

"(i) Medical Negligence

(ii) Since patient died due to non-availability of Oxygen in time, hence no case of criminal negligence is made out against doctor - Hospital may be liable under civil law but doctors cannot be prosecuted under Section 304-A IPC.

(iii) To prosecute a doctor for negligence under criminal law it must be shown that he did something or failed to do something which no doctor in his ordinary senses and prudence would have done or failed to do so.

(iv) Negligence is the breach of a duty caused by omission to do something which a reasonable man guided by those considerations which ordinarily regulate the conduct of human affairs would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do.

(v) Negligence in the context of medical profession necessarily calls for a treatment with a difference. To infer rashness or negligence on the part of a professional, in particular a doctor, additional considerations apply. A case of occupational negligence is different from one of professional negligence. A simple lack of care an error of judgment or an accident, is not proof of negligence on the part of medical professional. So long as a doctor follows a practice acceptable to the medical profession of that day, he cannot be held liable for negligence merely because a better alternative course or method of treatment was also available or simply because a more skilled doctor would not have chosen to follow or resort to that practice or procedure which the accused followed."

10. In the instant case, opposite party no.2 is alleged to have been operated for stone in gallbladder at Aryan Hospital, Tharauli, Siddharth Nagar after depositing Rs.14,000/-. The case of opposite party no.2 is that her surgery was done by applicant and Dr. Skand Mishra, which was not successful on account of their medical negligence. There is no case that after getting the money deposited, her surgery was not conducted and money was usurped and thus any fraud was played on her by applicant, or anybody else. Hence from averments made in F.I.R., I find that there is no prima facie evidence of offence under sections 419 and 420 IPC.

11. As far as offence under section 338 IPC is concerned according to opposite party no.2 during surgery of her gallbladder, applicant allegedly given her dose of anesthesia and he is not alleged to have conducted any operation by cutting any part of her body, internally or externally. There is no whisper that dose of anesthesia given by applicant was excessive or caused any problem or damage to opposite party no.2. So if applicant, the Anesthetist, who was posted at C.H.C. Brijmanganj and was not present on duty in C.H.C. or was unauthorizedly present at Aryan Hospital even then he may not be considered to be negligent for alleged cut of liver nerve of opposite party no.2 or of causing any grievous hurt to her. The averments with regard to offences under sections 504 and 506 IPC are ornamental in nature in absence of any specific allegations in F.I.R. or in statement of opposite party no.2. It is also pertinent to mention that F.I.R. does not speak of disappearance of any evidence by applicant and so there is no prima facie evidence of offence under section 201 IPC against applicant.

12. In view of discussions made above and the law laid down by Apex Court in the case of Jacob Mathew (supra) since applicant even if provided anesthesia to opposite party no.2, prior to her surgery of removal of gallbladder stone at Aryan Hospital, Tharauli, Siddharth Nagar, he is not alleged to have committed any breach of duty in providing inadequate dose of anesthesia and there is no whisper of any lack of care on his part or of cutting the nerve of liver of opposite party no.2 endangering her life, he may not be considered to be negligent in performing his duties. Even if for any negligence at the Aryan Hospital, Siddharth Nagar, the same may be liable under civil law, but applicant Dr. S.K. Gupta may not be held liable for negligence and endangering life of opposite party no.2 constituting any offence under section 338 IPC against applicant. The averments made in F.I.R. with regard to deposit of Rs.14,000/- towards operation charges do not constitute any offence under sections 419, 420 IPC and there are no specific averments with regard to offences under sections 504, 506 and 201 IPC. Hence I am in full agreement with the arguments advanced on behalf of applicant that his prosecution for offences under sections 419, 420, 338, 504, 506 and 201 IPC is unwarranted and amounts to abuse of process of Court and if permitted to continue will cause unnecessary harassment of a M.B.B.S. Doctor. There is sufficient ground for quashing the proceedings of criminal case for preventing abuse of process of Court and to secure the ends of justice. Therefore, the application is liable to be allowed and proceedings of Criminal Case No.2136 of 2018 (State Vs. Dr. Sushil Kumar Gupta), relating to Case Crime No.338 of 2017, under sections 419, 420, 338, 504, 506 and 201 IPC as well as charge sheet dated 21.3.2018, are liable to be quashed as against applicant.

13. The application U/s 482 Cr.P.C. is allowed and the proceedings of Criminal Case No.2136 of 2018 (State Vs. Dr. Sushil Kumar Gupta), relating to Case Crime No.338 of 2017, under sections 419, 420, 338, 504, 506 and 201 IPC as well as charge sheet dated 21.3.2018 are quashed, accordingly.

14. However, it is made clear that any observation made in the body of judgment will not prejudice the rights of opposite party no.2 in the case pending as against co-accused person or in civil proceedings, if any, filed by her.

A. Criminal Law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 190 (1)(a) - Section 190 (1)(b) - At the time of summoning and taking cognizance, under Section 190 of Cr.P.C., material placed on case diary, is to be taken in consideration and once the same is insufficient and further evidence is being taken, then, procedure under Chapter XV of Cr.P.C. was required and Magistrate was to make inquiry under Section 200 and 202 of Cr.P.C. The Magistrate can ignore the conclusion arrived at by Investigating Officer and independently apply his judicial mind to the facts emerging from the investigation and take cognizance of the case, if he thinks fit and exercise his power under Section 190 (1)(b). The Magistrate is not bound in such situation to follow the procedure laid down in Section 200 and 202 of Cr.P.C. for taking cognizance of the case under Section 190 (1)(a), though, it is open to him to act under Section 200 and 202 of Cr.P.C. also.

The magistrate cannot take into account material extraneous to the case diary while considering a Protest Petition and either the Magistrate can summon the accused u/s 190(1)(b) ignoring the Final Report or proceed under Chapter XV of the Code treating the matter as a Complaint Case. (Para 5)

Criminal Application allowed.

Case law discussed:-
1. Minu Kumari & anr. Vs. St. Of Bihar, (2006) 4 SCC 359

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ram Krishna Gautam, J.)

1. The applicants namely, Shyam Babu, Sri Kant and Ram Niwas, by means of this application, under Section 482 Cr.P.C., have invoked the inherent jurisdiction of the Court with prayer to set aside impugned summoning order with entire proceeding of Complaint Case No. 5/11/2005 (State Vs. Ram Babu and others), under Sections 419, 420, 467, 468, 471 I.P.C., P.S. Chibramau, District Kannauj, wherein, summoning order dated 28.8.2012, has been passed by learned Judicial Magistrate, Chibramau, Kannauj, against applicants.

2. Heard learned counsel for the applicants and learned A.G.A. for the State.

3. Learned counsel for the applicants argued that this case crime number was got registered, by way of an application moved under Section 156(3) of Cr.P.C., wherein, investigation resulted in submission of final report. Against final report, a protest petition was filed, annexing therewith certain affidavits and documents. On the basis of these documents, order dated 28.8.2012, was passed by Judicial Magistrate, Chibramau, District Kannauj, wherein, final report was rejected and applicants were summoned for offences punishable under Sections 419, 420, 467, 468, 471 I.P.C. No statements under Section 200 of Cr.P.C. or inquiry under Section 202 of Cr.P.C. was made. Rather, summoning was passed, on the basis of documents, filed with protest petition. Hence, without following the procedure given for complaint cases, under Chapter XV of Code of Criminal Procedure, impugned order was passed. Though, it has been written in this order that Investigating Officer has not recorded statement of witnesses under Section 161 of Cr.P.C. in accordance with their contentions and this was specifically said in protest petition that no such recording of statement of informant and his witnesses were made, by Investigating Officer. Meaning thereby, no statement under Section 161 of Cr.P.C. was got recorded, by Investigating Officer and it was complained by informant itself. Hence, on the basis of statements recorded under Section 161 of Cr.P.C. and evidence collected in case diary, final report was submitted. Meaning thereby, till then, there was no material for summoning of applicants. On the basis of protest petition and documents annexed therewith, this impugned summoning order was passed. Hence, these evidence were with no option for any rebuttal by applicants and a procedure given under Chapter XV of Cr.P.C. was also not obeyed. Hence, for ensuring end of justice, this application has been filed with above prayer.

4. Learned counsel for opposite party No. 2 as well as learned AGA, has vehemently opposed that this cognizance was taken under Section 190 of Cr.P.C. and this summoning was there as a State case. A procedure of complaint case given under Chapter XV of Cr.P.C. was not acted by trial court concerned, hence, no question of recording of statement under Sections 200 or 202 of Cr.P.C. ever arisen. Hence, this application be dismissed.

5. Having heard learned counsels for both sides, it is apparent that a question of fact is not to be seen and appreciated, in exercise of inherent jurisdiction under Section 482 of Cr.P.C., by this Court, rather it is within the domain of Magistrate, concerned. A legal aspect is there and the legal position is very well clear that if informant himself had complained that his statement was not recorded as per his own contention, in statement under Section 161 of Cr.P.C., his witnesses were, too, not examined and recorded under Section 161 of Cr.P.C., the evidence in case diary was not in support of submission of charge-sheet and final report was submitted. Hence, on the basis of final report and investigation annexed therewith, there was no ground for taking any cognizance or summoning of applicants for those offences nor Magistrate has written so, i.e., impugned summoning has been passed, on the basis of material annexed with protest petition and it is settled law that at the time of summoning and taking cognizance, under Section 190 of Cr.P.C., material placed on case diary, is to be taken in consideration and once the same is insufficient and further evidence is being taken, then, procedure under Chapter XV of Cr.P.C. was required and Magistrate was to make inquiry under Section 200 and 202 of Cr.P.C. Then after, those documents, which were filed with protest petition, may be taken into consideration. Accordingly, as per law, the Magistrate can ignore the conclusion arrived at by Investigating Officer and independently apply his judicial mind to the facts emerging from the investigation and take cognizance of the case, if he thinks fit and exercise his power under Section 190 (1)(b). The Magistrate is not bound in such situation to follow the procedure laid down in Section 200 and 202 of Cr.P.C. for taking cognizance of the case under Section 190 (1)(a), though, it is open to him to act under Section 200 and 202 of Cr.P.C. also, as Apex Court held in Minu Kumari And Anr vs The State Of Bihar, (2006) 4 SCC 359. Meaning thereby, the material to be taken into consideration, at the time of taking cognizance under Section 190 (1)(a) or (b) of Cr.P.C., must be the material emerging from the investigation i.e. within the case diary and not out of the case diary, filed by way of protest petition and affidavit. Hence, this application deserves merit.

6. Accordingly, it is being allowed.

7. Impugned cognizance taking order as well as summoning order with entire proceeding of Complaint Case No. 5/11/2005 (State Vs. Ram Babu and others), under Sections 419, 420, 467, 468, 471 I.P.C., P.S. Chibramau, District Kannauj, is being set aside.

8. File is remanded back to Magistrate concerned, for having recourse under Chapter XV of Cr.P.C. and proceed in accordance with law.

9. With above directions, the application is finally disposed of.

A. Pre-conceptional Pre-natal Diagnostic Techniques (Prohibition of Sex Selection) Act, 1994- Object and Scope- Parliament of Republic of India has legislated this Act with a view of above prohibition of misuse of those techniques, which were being misused for determination of sex of the foetus, leading to female foeticide and other related medical problems.

The object of the Act is to prohibit prenatal sex determination and prevent the misuse of prenatal diagnostic technique for sex selective abortions.

B. Pre-conceptional Pre-natal Diagnostic Techniques (Prohibition of Sex Selection) Act, 1994-Sections 6, 23 and 25 - Unauthorized sex determination-This Section does not provide for presence of the owner of the Clinic, alongwith the person, and do determination is liable for punishment, under this Act, rather, if he caused or allows to do this determination, then, also he is liable for punishment under sub-sections (1), (2), (3) of Section 23 and Section 25 of the Act - If there is implied authority or situation for misuse of Sonogrophy Machine, to be used by any of the employees of the Clinic of which applicant is the owner, against terms of license of registration of such Clinic, it will amount offence, punishable, under Sections 6, 23 and 25 of the Act.

The presence of the applicant is not required at the place and time of sex determination by misuse of Sonography technique. (Para 7,8,9,10)

Criminal Application rejected.

1. This Application, under Section 482 of Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (Hereinafter, in short, referred to as 'Cr.P.C.'), has been filed by the applicant, Rishi Kumar Sharma, with a prayer for setting aside cognizance taking order, alongwith entire proceeding, of Criminal Complaint Case No.8801/9 of 2012, State vs. Rishi Kumar Sharma and others, under Sections- 6, 23, 25 and 28 of the Pre-conceptional Pre-natal Diagnostic Techniques (Prohibition of Sex Selection) Act, 1994 (Hereinafter, in short, referred to as PCPNDT Act), Police Station-Mawana, District Meerut.

2. Learned counsel for the applicant argued that the applicant is the owner of Mawana Diagnostic Centre, Mawana, District Meerut. As per the inspection report, he was not present on the spot at the time of alleged sex determination made by Jitendra, under assistance of Anuj. Both of those employees were neither authorised nor entitled for making any Ultrasonogrohy or sex determination. They were said to have received Rs.3,000/-, as fee, for making above diagnostic test, which was not under authority of the applicant and applicant was of no concern with above occurrence. In first information report as well as in complaint, it has been specifically mentioned that Dr. Mahesh Kumar Sharma and the applicant, Rishi Kumar Sharma, were not present on the spot. Mere allegation of gross negligence for keeping open the Ultrasonography Portable Machine is against the applicant for which no criminal liability can be fastened. There may be gross negligence, but, that too, may not be with any criminal intention or offence. Hence, this complaint, alongwith cognizance taking order, passed over it, is under abuse of process of law. Thus, this Application, with above prayer.

3. Learned AGA, representing State of U.P., has vehemently opposed this Application, moved, under Section 482 of Cr.P.C., with this contention that admittedly applicant is the owner of above Diagnostic Centre, from where, information of sex determination test, being conducted, has been received and a raid by an authorised team was made, wherein, Jitendra and Anuj were apprehended, while making sex determination test of a foetus for which money was paid and the same was also recovered instantly. This Clinic was of the applicant and applicant, alongwith his employees, were beneficiary of this illegal act. Hence, this complaint was filed, under correct perspective of law and this Court, in exercise of inherent jurisdiction, under Section 482 of Cr.P.C., is not to embark upon factual matrix. Prima facie there was sufficient evidence for passing of impugned summoning order. Hence, this Application be rejected.

4. From very perusal of the object of this Act, Pre-conceptional Pre-natal Diagnostic Techniques (Prohibition of Sex Selection) Act, 1994, it is apparent that it was an Act, passed by the Legislature, to provide for prohibition of sex selection, before or after conception, and for regulation of pre-natal diagnostic techniques for the purposes of detecting genetic abnormalities or metabolic disorder or chromosomal abnormalities or certain congenital malformation or sex-linked disorders and for the prevention of their misuse for sex determination leading to female foeticide and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto.

5. Meaning thereby, Parliament of Republic of India has legislated this Act with a view of above prohibition of misuse of those techniques, which were being misused for determination of sex of the foetus, leading to female foeticide and other related medical problems. This Act is with Rules and there is also a Rule for grant of license for registration of a Clinic under this Act.

6. Admittedly, applicant is the owner of Mawana Diagnostic Centre, Mawana, District Meerut, and is registered, under this Act, with Chief Medical Officer, Meerut. Hence, he was bound to obey by the terms of license, which were there at the time of registration of above Clinic and getting license for use of Ultrasound Machine for medical tests, in accordance with provisions of law, on the advice of the Doctors.

7. Further, admittedly, it was Jitendra and Anuj, who were employees of the Clinic, were present on the spot, at the time of occurrence, and they did sex determination and upon raid by an authorised Team, thereat, receipt of Rs.3,000/- was recovered and the money was also recovered. They were not authorised to use that Ultrasound Machine, which was a portable machine, used by those employees, without any authority or specification for use of it, as authorised under the Rules, but, the applicant, being the owner and licensee of above Clinic, was having utmost duty to take care of that Machine, installed in his Clinic, and to esnure that the Machine may not be misused by any other employee or persons causing sex determination. But, those employees did so. Hence, this occurrence, immediately, was reported in the first information report. Subsequently, for breach of terms of license and negligence, allowing those employees for using above Sonogrophy Machine, this complaint against present applicant was filed.

8. Section 6 of the Act No.57 of 1994 (As above), for prohibition of determination of sex, provides that on and from commencement of this Act, i.e., from the date of its enforcement, 20th September, 1994, if anyone conducts or cause to be conducted any pre-natal diagnostic technique, including ultrasonography, for the purposes of determining the sex of a foetus, then, he is to be punished, under this Section, read with Section 23 of the Act, and for contraventions of the provisions of the Act or rules for which no specific punishment is provided, the punishment shall be awarded under Section 25 of the Act.

9. In present case, owing to negligence of the applicant, Jitendra and Anuj caused to make sex determination of the foetus. This Section does not provide for presence of the owner of the Clinic, alongwith the person, and do determination is liable for punishment, under this Act, rather, if he caused or allows to do this determination, then, also he is liable for punishment under sub-sections (1), (2), (3) of Section 23 and Section 25 of the Act.

10. Hence, very argument of learned counsel for applicant that at the time of occurrence, applicant was not present on the spot, is not tenable. There is no need of presence of applicant on the spot of occurrence, where, sex determination of foetus is made, at the time of occurrence. If there is implied authority or situation for misuse of Sonogrophy Machine, to be used by any of the employees of the Clinic of which applicant is the owner, against terms of license of registration of such Clinic, it will amount offence, punishable, under Sections 6, 23 and 25 of the Act.

11. Hence, in view of what has been discussed above, the complaint was, in accordance with the provisions of law and cognizance taking order was also in accordance with the provisions of law.

12. Accordingly, this Application, being devoid of merits, deserves dismissal and it stands dismissed accordingly.

Safdar Ali Kazmi and Mrs. Tahira Kazmi, learned counsel appearing for the applicants and Mr. Ratnendu Kumar Singh and Mr. Amit Singh Chauhan, learned Additional Government Advocates for the State.

4. The facts, as borne out from the records of the present application under Section 482 Cr.P.C., which are relevant for deciding the present application, are as follows:

One Mr. Akash Saxena, who is alleged to be Regional Convener has made an application before the Station House Officer, Police Station-Ganj, District-Rampur under Section 154 Cr.P.C. for lodging of first information report on 3rd January, 2019 at 12:22 hrs. against Mohd. Azam Khan, Smt. Danjin Fatima/Tanjim Fatma, which has been registered on the same day i.e. 3rd January, 2019 at 13:10 hrs. as Case Crime No. 0004 of 2019, under Sections 471, 468, 467, 420 and 193

I.P.C., Police Station-Ganj, District-Rampur. In the said first information report, it has been alleged that Mohd. Azam Khan son of late Mumtaz Khan and Smt. Tanzim Fatima, wife of Mohd. Azam Khan by creating a code and plotting a well-planned conspiracy, for personal interest, had got issued two date of birth certificates of their son, namely, Abdullah Azam Khan, son of Mohd. Azam Khan, resident of Gher Meer Baaj Kha, Jail Road, Rampur of two different districts. The date of birth certificate dated 28th June, 2012 had been got issued from Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur bearing Registration No. RNPB2012-03857, which has been registered on the basis of affidavit given by Mohd. Azam Khan and Smt. Tanzim Fatima. In the said date of birth certificate, the place of birth has been shown as "Rampur". The second date of birth certificate dated 21st January, 2015 bearing Registration No. NNLK0-B-2015-29261, had been got issued from Nagar Nigam, Lucknow, which has been registered on the basis of duplicate date of birth certificate, serial no. 718 dated 21st April, 2015 issued by Queen Mery Hospital, Lucknow. In the said date of birth certificate, the place of birth has been shown as "Lucknow". It has further been alleged that Mohd. Abdullah Azam Khan had visited foreign countries by illegally using the date of birth certificate issued by Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur. He had obtained government documents by using second date of birth certificate issued by Nagar Nigam, Lucknow. He had also used the same at various places. The aforesaid two date of birth certificates of Mohd. Abdullah Azam Khan had been got issued by Mohd. Azam Khan and Smt. Tanzim Fatima by creating a code and plotting a well-planned conspiracy, for personal benefit and the same had been used, for which the present first information report has been lodged.

5. The issue of two different date of birth certificates of Mohd. Abdullah Azam Khan was also up for consideration by means of Election Petition No. 08 of 2017 (Nawab Kazim Ali khan Vs. Mohammad Abdullah Azam Khan). The said election petition has been allowed by a Coordinate Bench of this Court vide judgment and order dated 16th December, 2019 and election of Mohd. Abdullah Azam Khan has been declared void. The said judgment and order of the Coordinate Bench has been challenged by Mohammad Abdullah Azam Khan before the Apex Court by means of Civil Appeal No(s). 104 of 2020, wherein the Apex Court vide order dated 17th January, 2020 has called for counter affidavit. A copy of the judgment and order dated 16th December, 2019 and order dated 17th January, 2020 have been brought on record by means of supplementary affidavit filed today, which is taken on record.

6. For quashing of the aforesaid first information report, the applicants have approached this Court by means of Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 11979 of 2019 (Mohammad Azam Khan & Others VS. State of U.P. & Others). The Writ Court, on the request of learned A.G.A., has called for counter affidvit vide order dated 14th May, 2019 and the same is still pending before the Writ Court.

7. After registration of the aforesaid first information report, the Investigating Officer has recorded statements of following witnesses:

1. Akash Saxena, Regional Convener/first informant,

2. Tejpal Verma, Deputy Registrar,

3. Mohd. Naseem, Passport Officer,

4. Vijay Kumar, Income Tax Officer,

5. Rai Singh, Chief Assistant,

6. Saleem, Record Keeper

7. Sudheer Kumar Singh, Principal,

8. Head Constable Police-15, Rishipal, Giri

9. Sub-Inspector, Kishor Mishra, and

10. Station House Officer, Narendra Tyagi.

8. After completing statutory investigation under Chapter XII Cr.P.C., the Police has submitted the charge-sheet against the applicants under Sections 420, 467, 468 and 471 I.P.C. in the Court of Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Court No.3, Rampur on which the concerned Magistrate has taken cognizance vide order dated 19th August, 2019 and has directed registration of the case which has been registered as Criminal Case No. 1453 of 2019 (State Vs. Mohd. Azam Khan & Others) under Sections 420, 467, 468 and 471 I.P.C.

9. Mr. Chaturvedi, learned Senior Advocate appearing for the applicants has made following submissions on behalf of the applicants:

i. That from the perusal of the entire material collected by the Investigating Officer during the course of investigation, it is apparently clear that no iota of evidence is available on record to establish any of the ingredients of Sections 420, 467, 468 and 471 I.P.C. against the applicants.

ii. As on date, no material has been collected by the Investigating Agency to show that the ingredients given in Sections 463 and 464 I.P.C. are attracted in the present case.

iii. The Investigating Agency has not brought on record any document to prove that the 30th September, 1990 is an incorrect date of birth of applicant no.3.

iv. From perusal of entire material collected by the Investigating officer during the course of investigation, it is apparently clear that there is nothing on record to show any dishonest intention on the part of any of the applicants in submitting incorrect information with regard to the date of birth of applicant no.3 and as to what benefit/gain he would have received by doing so.

v. Even assuming the prosecution case to be true, the offences as alleged will not travel beyond the purview of Section 23 of the Registration of Births and Deaths Act, 1969 and Section 27 of Birth, Death and Marriage Registration Act, 1886.

vi. From the material evidence collected by the Investigating officer during the course of investigation, it is clear that there is no iota of evidence available on record to establish the element of mens rea on the part of the accused applicants in the present case.

vii. There is also no document or material evidence collected by the Investigating Officer on the basis of which it is established that birth certificate dated 21st January, 2015 showing the date of birth of applicant no.3 as 30th September, 1990 is a forged document.

viii. No endeavour was made by the Investigating Officer to record the statement of Rajiv Rajpoot under Section 161 Cr.P.C., who issued birth certificate dated 28th June, 2012 during the course of investigation.

ix. There was no basis for the Investigation Officer to file charge-sheet against the applicants as the witnesses of charge-sheet have themselves stated that the entire records got destroyed in the fire which took place on 8th May, 2015 and have also stated that the birth certificate of applicant no.3 has also got cancelled on 30th January, 2015 by Registrar, Birth and Death, Nagar Paliak Parishad, Rampur.

x. Applicant no.3 got his previous passport cancelled and applied for new passport in accordance with law, as is evident from the statement of Mohammad Nasim, Passport Officer, Bareilly recorded under Section under Section 161 Cr.P.C., a copy of which has been enclosed as Annexure-14 to the affidavit accompanying the present application and that the applicant no.3 was issued new passport in accordance with law on the basis of birth certificate dated 21st January, 2015 and after police verification of the same.

xi. On the basis of birth certificate dated 21st January, 2015, a new PAN card bearing number DFOPK6164K has also been issued in favour of the applicant no.3 in accordance with law as is evident from the statement of Vijay Kumar, Tax Officer, Rampur recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C.

xii. After issuance of birth certificate dated 21st January, 2015 the applicant has also applied for change of date of birth from 1st January, 1993 to 30th September, 1990 in the official records of the school and high school certificate which is still pending consideration.

xiii. The judgment and order dated 16th December, 2019 passed by the Hon'ble Court in Election Petition No. 8 of 2017 (Nawab Kazim Ali Khan Vs. Mohammad Abdullah Azam Khan) is not applicable and relevant and is not bar on the present case in view of Sections 40 to 44 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872.

xiv. The informant of the present case has no locus standi to lodge the present first information report against the applicants as he has no relation with the facts and circumstances of the case.

xv. The informant Akash Saxena is a pawn created by the rulling government just with the intention to harass and tarnish the image of the applicants in society.

xvi. No complaint has been filed by the competent authority against the alleged offences committed by the applicants.

xvii. The elements of cheating and forgery are completely missing in the present case as the birth certificate dated 21st January, 2015 is a genuine document as it has been issued by Lucknow Municipal Corporation being a competent authority under the procedure established by law.

xviii. No offence whatsoever as alleged by informant and prosecution in the present case is made out against the applicants and the present proceedings is a sheer misuse and abuse of process of law.

xix. It is noteworthy to mention here that at the time of lodging of the first information report on 3rd January, 2019, the birth certificate dated 28th June, 2012 issued by Nagar Palika Parishad Rampur was no longer in existence as the same stood canclled vide order dated 30th January, 2015 in accordance with law.

xx. The entire prosecution story is completely politically motivated, backed with mala fides and the instant matter has no substance available against the applicants.

10. Per contra, learned A.G.As. for the State has vehementally opposed the submissions made by the learned counsel for the applicants. In reply, they have submitted as follows:

i. A genuine question arises in the mind of a prudent person as to why applicant no.1 and applicant no.2 have given affidavit in order to obtain a birth certificate of applicant no.3 before Nagar Palika Parisahd, Rampur and thereafter applicant no.2 had given an application supported by an affidavit before the Municipal Corporation, Lucknow, specially in the circumstance that the applicant no.3 was already having the legal proof of age or date of birth in the shape of certificate of secondary school examination (Class-X) of the year 2007 issued by the Central Board of Secondary Education, without any legal requirement, in fact mens rea was behind it from the very beginning in the mind of applicants.

ii. It was within the knowledge of applicants that on the basis of certificate of secondary school examination (Class-X) of the year 2007 issued by the Central Secondary Board of Secondary Education containing therein the date of birth as "1st January, 1993", the applicant no.3 is not even in a position to participate in the Uttar Pradesh Legislative Assembly Election of the year 2017, therefore, in the year 2015 they approached the Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur for cancellation of certificate dated 28th June, 2012 and the Municipal Cooperation, Lucknow for issuance of another birth certificate showing therein the date of birth as "30th September, 1990, so that applicant no.3 may participate in the forth coming Legislative Assembly elections.

iii. It was within the knowledge of applicant nos. 1 to 3 that as per the High School Certificate the date of birth of applicant no.3 is "1st January, 1993" and in order to deceive the Lucknow Municipal Corporation, Lucknow, an application supported by an affidavit has been moved by applicant no.2 for issuance of third date of birth certificate of different date of birth as "30th September, 1990", whereas the real and true date of birth of applicant no.3 was "1st January, 1993" and ultimately, they obtained the manipulated birth certificate and applicant no.3 used the same in the Uttar Pradesh Legislative Assembly Election of the year 2017. The applicant no.3 won the election and was elected as a Member of Legislative Assembly, U.P., thereafter he enjoyed the financial benefits of M.L.A., which is wrongful gain on behalf of the applicants and wrongful loss of the other contesting participants of 34-Suar Constituency, Rampur, Uttar Pradesh in the Legislative Assembly Election of the year 2017 as well as of the society, thus, offence as alleged has been committed by the applicants for personal gain.

iv. During the course of investigation, the investigating Officer examined and recorded the statement of Sub-Registrar Tejpal Verma the then Sub-Registrar, Birth and Death Certificate, Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur under Section 161 Cr.P.C. Except the statements of Vijay Kumar, Income Tax officer, who has issued PAN card in favour of applicant no.3, Sudheer Kumar Singh, St. Paul School, Civil Lines, Rampur, who has verified the secondary school examination (Class-X) of the year 2007 of applicant no.3 mentioning his date of birth as "1st January, 1993", Raj Singh, Principal Assistant, District Election Office, Rampur, who has stated that along with the nomination paper, the applicant no.3 has submitted his date of birth certificate dated 21st January, 2015 issued by the Municipal Corporation, Lucknow in which the date of birth of applicant no.3 was mentioned as "30th September, 1990" recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C., the learned A.G.As. have referred to the statement of Salim, Record Keepker, Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur in which he has stated that from year 2012 he is posted in Birth and Death Certificate Section of Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur as Record Keeper. He takes care of all the records. He has submitted that in relation to the record of date of birth certificate of applicant no.3, an affidavit of applicant nos. 1 and 2 had been enclosed and on the basis of which the date of birth certificate of applicant no.3 has been prepared and registered. The Investigating Officer has also recorded second statement of Tejpal Verma. v. Referring to the aforesaid statements recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C., it has been submitted by the learned A.G.As. that it is not disputed that at the relevant point of time, applicant no.1 was Cabinet Minister in the U.P. Government holding portfolio of "Urban Planning and Development and Local Bodies" and the Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur was within the control of his ministry, therefore, prima facie he is responsible for the sudden burning of documents related with the affidavit of applicant nos. 1 and 2 and even no first information report has been lodged qua the burning of documents in the year 2015.

vi. The applicant no.3 was having three certificates regarding his age or date of birth, the first being the Secondary School Examination (Class-X) certificate showing his date of birth as "1st January, 1993", the second being the date of birth certificate issued by the Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur dated 28th June, 2012 showing his date of birth as "1st January, 1993" and the third being date of birth certificate issued by the Municipal Corporation, Lucknow dated 21st January, 2015 showing the date of birth as "30th September, 1990". The second date of birth certificate issued by the Nagar Palika Parisahd, Rampur was cancelled on 30th January, 2015 and prior to it's cancellation, third date of birth certificate was issued on 21st January, 2015 by the Municipal Corporation, Lucknow. Thus at the same point of time i.e. between the period 21st January, 2015 to 30th January, 2015", applicant no.3 was having three birth certificates of two different date of birth i.e. "1st January, 1993 and 30th September, 1990". The applicant no.3 is having five criminal antecedents to his credit except the present one.

vii. At the relevant point of time, applicant no.1 was Cabinet Minister in the U.P. Government holding portfolio of "Urban Planning and Development and Local Bodies" and the Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur and Municipal Corporation, Lucknow were within the control of his ministry. Applicant no.1 is having 53 criminal antecedents to his credit except the present one.

viii. The certificate of secondary school examination/high school examination certificate issued by a recognized board like Central Board of Secondary Education is a most authentic, reliable and legal proof of age or date of birth, within the territory of India and no authority either Government or Private is permitted by law to deny the same and can ask for another proof of age or date of birth of any person like applicant no.3.

ix. One Nawab Kazim Ali Khan moved an election petition before this Court bearing Election Petition No. 8 of 2017 (Nawab Kazim Ali Khan Vs. Mohammad Abdullah Azam Khan), the same has been decided by a Bench of this Court on 16th December, 2019 and the Hon'ble Single Judge was pleased to give concurrent finding regarding the date of birth certificate issued by the Lucknow Municipal Corporation, Lucknow dated 21st January, 2015 and cancellation of old date of birth certificate issued by Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur dated 30th January, 2015. In view of the aforesaid judgment, learned A.G.As. have submitted that the birth certificate so issued is a complete nullity particularly in view of the provisions of Section 13 of the Registration of Birth and Death Act. The birth certificate issued by the Municipal Corporation, Lucknow dated 21st January, 2015 is a manipulated and bogus document. The copy of the EOT register and MLR register as well as oral evidence led by the applicants before the Hon'ble Single Judge have been found untrustworthy and did not prove that date of birth of applicant no.3 is "30th September, 1990" and the Hon'ble Single Judge has observed that these evidences are the result of manipulations and fabrication of record. The Hon'ble Single Judge has also observed that the birth certificate issued by the Lucknow Municipal Corporation, Lucknow and cancellation order of the old birth certificate issued by the Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur are false, fabricated and procured manipulated piece of papers. This paper has been procured in breach of the provisions of the Act i.e. the Registration of Birth and Death Act.

x. The above judgment relates to matters of a public nature, as the same has been delivered in a election petition and therein public documents (the date of birth certificate issued by the Lucknow Municipal Corporation, Lucknow dated 21st January, 2015 and cancellation order of the old date of birth certificate issued by the Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur dated 30th January, 2015) have been considered and concurrent finding has been recorded that both the documents are manipulated, fabricated, bogus and false and at this juncture, the judgment delivered on 16th December, 2019 in the election petition is conclusive proof against the applicants unless or until the same has been stayed or quashed by the Apex Court.

xi. The learned A.G.As. have also relied upon the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of State of Haryana and Others Vs. Chaudhari Bhajan Lal and Others, reported in 1992 Supp.(1) SCC 335. On the cumulative strength of the aforesaid, learned A.G.As. urge that offence under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471 I.P.C. is made out against the applicants. The present application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. is devoid of merit and the same is liable to be dismissed by this Court.

11. I have considered the submissions made by the learned counsel for the parties and have gone through the records of the present application under Section 482 Cr.P.C.

12. Though in the prayer clause, the applicants have prayed for quashing of the summoning order dated 19th August, 2019 along with other prayers, but perusal of the record shows that there is no summoning order passed on 19th August, 2019. After submission of the charge-sheet, the concerned Magistrate has only taken cognizance and directed to register the case only. However, seeing the nature of this case, this Court wishes to examine the legality, veracity or otherwise of the impugned charge-sheet submitted against the applicants under Sections 420, 467, 468 and 471 I.P.C. without examining the summoning order.

13. Now this Court comes on the issue of any cheating, fraud, deception, dishonesty being committed by the applicants in getting two extra date of birth certificates of applicant no.3, while he already possessed a birth certificate i.e. matriculation/high school examination certificate.

14. In paragraph 22 of the affidavit accompanying the present application under Section 482 Cr.P.C., it has been stated that the reason of wrong date of birth in the school register was a bona fide one, as one Shri Sahzeb Khan, S/o Munna Khan, R/o Mohalla Chauk Mohammed Sayeed Khan, Rampur, District-Rampur, a family friend of the applicants had gone to St. Paul School, Rampur at the time of the admission of applicant no.3 in Nursery Class in the year 1995, who had completed the formalities of the admission and somehow on his own, inadvertently furnished the date of birth of applicant no.3 as "1st January, 1993" in place of "30th September, 1990", which was carried in further educational records of applicant no.3.

15. In paragraph 23 of the said affidavit, it has been stated that the applicant no.3 completed his High School Examination in the year 2007 and Intermediate Examination in the year 2009 from St. Paul School, Rampur and thereafter, completed his B.Tech. Degree course in the year 2013 and the M.Tech. Degree course in the year 2015 from Galgotias College of Engineering and Technology, Greater Noida and the Galgotias University, Greater Noida, District-Gautam Budh Nagar respectively and the date mentioned, as the date of birth of the applicant no.3, is "1st January, 1993", was still continuing in all his above educational certificates.

16. Further in paragraph-24 of the aforesaid affidavit, it has been stated that in the year 2015, while the applicant no.3 was pursuing his studies of M.Tech. (final year) and was forwarding towards his career/job and scrutinized his educational records, he came to know that his date of birth is incorrectly recorded as "1st January, 1993" in place of "30th September, 1990", then he took immediate steps for correction in the same by filing an application on 23rd March, 2015 under the provisions of Examination Bye-Laws of the Central Board of Secondary Education, New Delhi before the Regional Officer, C.B.S.E. Allahabad through Principal, St. Paul's School Rampur, which is still pending consideration.

17. Paragraph-25 of the aforesaid affidavit also indicates that a date of birth certificate has also been issued in favour of applicant no.3 mentioning the date of birth as "1st January, 1993" on 28th June, 2012 by the Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur. As per the statement of Tej Pal Verma, the then Deputy Registrar, Birth and Death, Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C., a copy of which has been brought on record at page-88 of the paper book , it has been recorded that the date of birth certificate dated 28th June, 12 has been registered by Mr. Rajeev Rajpoot, the then Registrar, Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur on the basis of affidavit filed by applicant nos. 1 and 2. He has also stated that since the same has been registered and issued illegally, Mr. Tejpal had subsequently cancelled the same. Mr. Tejpal has also stated that due to fire the entire original records had been destroyed. From the record it appears that the said date of birth certificate issued by the Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur had been cancelled on 31st January, 2015, a copy of which has been enclosed as Annexure-6 to the affidavit accompanying the present application. In the judgment and order passed by the Hon'ble Single Judge dated 16th December, 2019 in Election Petition No. 8 of 2017, a copy of which has been brought on record by means of supplementary affidavit filed today, it has been recorded as follows:

"His parents got registered his birth with the Registrar of Birth Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur, mentioning his date of birth as 01.01.1993. When the Officer-in-charge/Sub-Registrar, Birth and Death, Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur, appeared in witness box as P.W.4, he did not produce the original records on the basis of which the birth certificate of the respondent bearing Registration No. RNPB-03857, dated 28.06.2012 Rampur was issued and instead merely produced the computer generated copy of birth certificate of the respondent. He stated that the entire record of the aforesaid birth certificate has burnt in fire on 08.05.2015 after the Registrar Birth and Death, Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur, cancelled it on 30.01.2015."

18. From the record, it is also apparent that while having two date of birth certificates of applicant no.3, the first being matriculation certificate of the year 2007 and the second being date of birth certificate dated 28th June, 2012 issued by Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur, a third date of birth certificate dated 21st January, 2015 had been issued by Municipal Corporation, Lucknow mentioning the date of birth of applicant as "30th Sepember, 1990". The said certificate has been registered on the basis of the application dated 17th January, 2015 supported by an affidavit of applicant no.2, namely, Smt. Tanzim Fatima. At page-31 of the judgment and order of the Hon'ble Single Judge dated 16th December, 2019, scanned copy of the letter made by applicant no.2 has been pasted. In the said letter, It has been stated that her son, namely, Mohd. Abdullah Azam Khan was born on 30th September, 1990 in Queen Mery's Hospital (King George Medical University", Lucknow Mahanagar. Due to unavoidable urgency and requirement, she needs date of birth certificate of her son. She also prays that date of birth certificate of his son be issued on the basis of that application and affidavit filed along with the same. She also states that verification from Queen Mery's Hospital may also be done. She lastly prays to issue date of birth certificate of her son at the earliest.

19. What is important to note here is that in the application along with affidavit dated 17th January, 2015, the applicant no.2 has concealed the issuance of second date of birth certificate of her son i.e. applicant no.3 dated 28th June, 2012 issued by the Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur and she has also committed illegality in moving the application along with affidavit dated 17th January, 2015 for issuance of third birth certificate of her son i.e. applicant no.3, which has been registered on 21st January, 2015 mentioning the date of birth of applicant no.3 as "30th September, 1990". When as matter of fact, the second date of birth of the applicant no.3 dated 28th June, 2012 has been cancelled only on 31st January, 2015, therefore, between the period 21st January, 2015 to 31st January, 2015, applicant no.3 had three date of birth certificates i.e. matriculation examination certificate, date of birth certificate dated 28th June, 2012 and birth certificate dated 21st January, 2015. This fact has also not been disputed by the learned counsel for the applicants.

20. About the correctness or genuineness of the third date of birth certificate of applicant no.3 dated 21st January, 2015, the Hon'ble Single Judge in its judgment and order dated 16th December, 2019 has discussed in detail and observed that the said date of birth certificate has been obtained on the basis of manipulation and fabrication pf the relevant records. The relevant paragraph nos. 25 to 33 are being quoted herein-below:

"Birth Certificate issued by Nagar Nigam, Lucknow

25. Now, I proceed to examine whether birth certificate bearing Registration No.NNLKO - B-2015-292611 and date of registration 21.01.2015, issued by Registrar Birth and Death, Lucknow, on 21.01.2015 showing date of birth of the respondent as 30.09.1990, is a valid piece of paper/reliable evidence?

26. D.W.-2 - Dr. Archana Dwivedi, Additional Municipal Commissioner, Municipal Corporation, Lucknow, produced the complete original file relating to issuance of birth certificate of the respondent dated 21.01.2015 which contains merely the application of the respondent's mother and her affidavit both dated 17.01.2015 and a computerised sheet bearing particulars of registration of birth of the respondent. Copy of the aforesaid application and affidavit both dated 17.01.2015 submitted by the mother of the respondent before the Nagar Nigam Lucknow and filed in evidence as Ex.R-12 are pasted below (scanned copy):-

27. The D.W. -2 Dr. Archana Diwedi, Additional Municipal Commissioner, Municipal Corporation, Lucknow produced a birth register which is neither authenticated nor certified by any competent Officer nor paginated. In her cross examination she stated that the birth register is maintained by a clerk which is not in prescribed form as provided in the Registration of Birth and Death Act, 1969. She stated that list of Queen Mary's Hospital on the basis of which entry of the respondent's birth has been made in the birth register is not available. She stated that birth of the respondent was registered on 21.01.2015. Copy of the relevant two pages of the aforesaid birth register filed and attested by the D.W.-2 has been marked as Ex.12 (paper No.A-96/4-5) which are pasted below (scanned copy):-

28. The entry made in the aforesaid birth register of Nagar Nigam, Lucknow (Ex. R-12 - paper No. A 96/4-5) is a clear case of manipulation and interpolation. The entry of the respondent's birth has been inserted in the very little space at the bottom of the page showing it to have been made on 30.09.1990 mentioning the name of the respondent Mohd. Abdullah Azam Khan as HINDU male baby of Mrs. Tazeen Fatima, wife of Mohd. Azam Khan. Just one entry above the aforesaid entry of the respondent, is the entry in the name of one Sangeeta wife of Pankaj Gupta which as per endorsement of some officer, was made on 25.06.1993. Above the aforesaid entry dated 25.06.1993 is another entry in the name of one Vandana wife of R.N. Srivastava, made on 24.07.1992. The entries subsequent to the entry of the respondent's birth, appearing on the next page are the entries dated 02.10.1990, 03.10.1990, 26.09.1990 and 27.09.1990. The entries of the respondent's birth made in the aforesaid alleged birth register does not bear signature or order of any authority of the Nagar Nigam, Lucknow, or a Sub-Divisional Magistrate. Thus, entry in the aforesaid birth register in the name of the respondent was not made on 30.09.1990.

29. In paragraph No.5 of her affidavit (Ex. R-12) the D.W. -5 Mrs. Tazeen Fatima (mother of the respondent) herself stated that the birth of the respondent may be got verified from Hospital record of Queen Mary's Hospital. This clearly indicates that as on 17.01.2015 there was no entry in the name of the respondent in the alleged birth register of Nagar Nigam Lucknow (Ex. R-12 - paper No. A-96/4-5), otherwise she would have merely asked to issue birth certificate on the basis of the alleged entry in the birth register.

30. These facts leave no manner of doubt that the entry of respondent's birth in the alleged Birth Register of Nagar Nigam, Lucknow, showing his birth on 30.09.1990, was inserted much after 25.06.1993 and in all probabilities in the year 2015.

31. Facts aforestated leave no manner of doubt that the entry of the respondent's birth in the aforesaid birth register (Ex. R-12 - Paper No. A-96/4-5), was made by interpolation at the instance or under pressure of the interested parties. It was manipulation and fabrication. It shall not be out of place to mention that when the birth certificate dated 21.01.2015 of the respondent was got issued from Nagar Nigam, Lucknow, at that time the respondent's father was the Cabinet Minister of the Department of Urban Development and Local Bodies. Nagar Nigam, Lucknow, was under his ministry. Thus, the evidence of D.W.-5 - Mrs. Tazeen Fatima (mother of the respondent) and D.W. 10 (respondent) are false and wholly untrustworthy in so far as it relates to the entries of birth of the respondent on 30.09.1990.

32. That apart the respondent's mother Mrs. Tazeen Fatima (D.W.-5) moved the aforesaid application dated 17.01.2015, supported by an affidavit of the same date (Ex. R-12) to obtain birth certificate of the respondent from Nagar Nigam, Lucknow, in which she very conveniently concealed the fact of the then existing birth certificate of the respondent issued by the Registrar Birth and Death, Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur (Ex. P-3 paper No.A-80/1), which she got cancelled subsequently on 30.01.2015.

33. The aforesaid application dated 17.01.2015 for issuance of birth certificate of the respondent was submitted by the mother of the respondent before the Nagar Swastha Adhikari, Nagar Nigam, Lucknow, after about 25 years of the alleged date of birth of the respondent which was endorsed by the some Officer of the Nagar Nigam, Lucknow, on 19.01.2015 and a day thereafter birth certificate was issued to the respondent by the Registrar (Birth & Death) Nagar Nigam, Lucknow, without observance of mandatory provisions of Section 13 of the Registration of Births and Deaths Act, 1969 (hereinafter referred to as the Act, 1969) and Rule 9 of the U.P. Registration of the Birth and Death Rules 2002 (hereinafter referred to as the U.P. Rules 2002). Copy of the computer generated sheet of birth registration filed by the D.W.-2 and marked as Ex. R-12 (Paper No.A-96/3) is pasted below (scanned copy):-"

21. This Court may also record that on the basis of third date of birth certificate dated 21st January, 2015 in which the date of birth of the applicant no.3 has been mentioned as "30th September, 1990, the applicant no.3 has participated in the election of Legislative Assembly and has been declared elected as the Member of Legislative Assembly on 11th March, 2017. The election of applicant no.3 was challenged by one Nawab Kazim Ali Khan by means of filing of Election Petition No.8 of 2017 on the ground that on the date of filing of nomination paper i.e. 24th January, 2017, the applicant no.3 was less than 25 years of age, which is the minimum age prescribed for filing nomination paper for election of member of legislative assembly. The said election petition has been allowed by the Hon'ble Single Judge by means of the judgment and order dated 16th December, 2019 declaring the election of applicant no.3 as void and setting aside the same.

22. Before coming to the merits of the submissions and replies on the issue of applicants on committing cheating, deception, fraud, it would be worthwhile to reproduce Section 420 I.P.C., which is cheating and defined in Section 415 I.P.C. and the same are being quoted herein-below:

"415. Cheating.- Whoever, by deceiving any person, fraudulently or dishonestly induces the person so deceived to deliver any property to any person, or to consent that any person shall retain any property, or intentionally induces the person so deceived to do or omit to do anything which he would not do or omit if he were not so deceived, and which act or omission causes or is likely to cause damage or harm to that person in body, mind, reputation or property, is said to "cheat".

Explanation.--A dishonest concealment of facts is a deception within the meaning of this section."

"420. Cheating and dishonestly inducing delivery of property.- Whoever cheats and thereby dishonestly induces the person deceived to deliver any property to any person, or to make, alter or destroy the whole or any part of a valuable security, or anything which is signed or sealed, and which is capable of being converted into a valuable security, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine."

23. In order to attract allegations of "cheating", following things must exist:

(i) deception of a person;

(ii) (A) fraudulent or dishonest inducement of that person,

(a) to deliver any property to any person; or,

(b) to consent that any person shall retain any property,

(B) intentional inducing that person to do or omit to do any thing,

(a) which he would not do or omit if he was not so deceived, and,

(b) such act or omission causes or is likely to cause damage or harm to that person in body, mind, reputation or property. (Emphasis added)

24. Then in order to attract Section 420 I.P.C., essential ingredients are:

(I) cheating;

(ii) dishonest inducement to deliver property or to make or destroy any valuable security or any thing which is sealed or signed or is capable of being converted into a valuable security; and,

(iii) mens rea of accused at the time of making inducement and which act of omission.

25. In Mahadeo Prasad Vs. State of West Bengal, reported in AIR 1954 SC 724 it was observed that to constitute offence of cheating, intention to deceive should be in existence at the time when inducement was offered.

26. In Jaswantrai Manilal Akhaney Vs. State of Bombay, reported in AIR 1956 SC 575, Court said that a guilty intention is an essential ingredient of the offence of cheating. For the offence of cheating, "mens rea" on the part of that person, must be established.

27. In G.V. Rao Vs. L.H.V. Prasad and others, reported in 2000(3) SCC 693, Court said that Section 415 has two parts. While in the first part, the person must "dishonestly" or "fraudulently" induce the complainant to deliver any property and in the second part the person should intentionally induce the complainant to do or omit to do a thing. In other words in the first part, inducement must be dishonest or fraudulent while in the second part, inducement should be intentional.

28. In Hridaya Ranjan Prasad Verma and others Vs. State of Bihar and another, reported in 2000(4) SCC 168, Court said that in the definition of 'cheating', there are set forth two separate classes of acts which the person deceived may be induced to do. In the first place he may be induced fraudulently or dishonestly to deliver any property to any person. The second class of acts set forth in the section is the doing or omitting to do anything which the person deceived would not do or omit to do if he were not so deceived. In the first class of cases, inducement must be fraudulent or dishonest. In the second class of acts, the inducement must be intentional but not fraudulent or dishonest. It was pointed out that there is a fine distinction between mere breach of contract and the offence of cheating. It depends upon the intention of accused at the time to inducement which may be judged by his subsequent conduct but for this, subsequent conduct is not the sole test. Mere breach of contract cannot give rise to criminal prosecution for cheating unless fraudulent or dishonest intention is shown right at the beginning of the transaction, that is the time when the offence is said to have been committed. Therefore it is the intention which is the gist of the offence. In order to hold a person guilty of cheating it would be obligatory to show that he had fraudulent or dishonest intention at the time of making the promise. Mere failure to keep up promise subsequently such a culpable intention right at the beginning, i.e, when he made the promise cannot be presumed.

29. In S.W. Palanitkar and others Vs. State of Bihar and another, reported in 2002(1) SCC 241, while examining the ingredients of Section 415 IPC, the aforesaid authorities were followed.

30. In Hira Lal Hari lal Bhagwati Vs. CBI, New Delhi, reported in 2003(5) SCC 257, Court said that to hold a person guilty of cheating under Section 415 IPC it is necessary to show that he has fraudulent or dishonest intention at the time of making promise with an intention to retain property. The Court further said:

"Section 415 of the Indian Penal Code which defines cheating, requires deception of any person (a) inducing that person to: (i) to deliver any property to any person, or (ii) to consent that any person shall retain any property OR (b) intentionally inducing that person to do or omit to do anything which he would not do or omit if he were not so deceived and which act or omission causes or is likely to cause damage or harm to that person, anybody's mind, reputation or property. In view of the aforesaid provisions, the appellants state that person may be induced fraudulently or dishonestly to deliver any property to any person. The second class of acts set forth in the Section is the doing or omitting to do anything which the person deceived would not do or omit to do if he were not so deceived. In the first class of cases, the inducing must be fraudulent or dishonest. In the second class of acts, the inducing must be intentional but not fraudulent or dishonest." (Emphasis added)

31. In Devender Kumar Singla Vs. Baldev Krishan Singh reported in 2004 (2) JT 539 (SC), it was held that making of a false representation is one of the ingredients of offence of cheating.

32. In Indian Oil Corporation Vs. NEPC India Ltd., reported in 2006(6) SCC 736 in similar circumstances of advancement of loan against hypothecation, the complainant relied on Illustrations (f) and (g) to Section 415, which read as under:

"(f) A intentionally deceives Z into a belief that A means to repay any money that Z may lend to him and thereby dishonestly induces Z to lend him money, A not intending to repay it. A cheats."

"(g). A intentionally deceives Z into a belief that A means to deliver to Z a certain quantity of indigo plant which he does not intend to deliver, and thereby dishonestly induces Z to advance money upon the faith of such delivery. A cheats; but if A, at the time of obtaining the money, intends to deliver the indigo plant, and afterwards breaks his contact and does not deliver it, he does not cheat, but is liable only to a civil action for breach of contract."

33. The Court said that crux of the postulate is intention of the person who induces victim of his representation and not the nature of the transaction which would become decisive in discerning whether there was commission of offence or not. Court also referred to its earlier decisions in Rajesh Bajaj Vs. State NCT of Delhi, reported in 1999(3) SCC 259 and held that it is not necessary that a complainant should verbatim reproduce in the body of his complaint all the ingredients of the offence he is alleging. Nor is it necessary that the complainant should state in so many words that the intention of the accused was dishonest or fraudulent.

34. In Vir Prakash Sharma Vs. Anil Kumar Agarwal and another, reported in 2007(7) SCC 373 it was held that if no act of inducement on the part of accused is alleged and no allegation is made in the complaint that there was any intention to cheat from the very inception, the requirement of Section 415 read with Section 420 IPC would not be satisfied.

The Court relied on the earlier decisions in Hridaya Ranjan Prasad Verma (supra) and Indian Oil Corporation Vs. NEPC India Ltd.(supra).

35. The aforesaid authorities have been referred to and relied on in reference to offence under Section 420 I.P.C. by a Division Bench of this Court in Sh. Suneel Galgotia and another Vs. State of U.P. and others reported in 2016 (92) ACC 40.

36. Apart from the above, this Court has also noticed the other judgments of the Apex Court, reiterating the aforesaid laws.

37. In the case of United India Insurance Company Ltd. V. B.Rajendra Singh and others, reported in JT 2000(3)SC.151, considering the fact of fraud, the Apex Court held in paragraph 3 as under :

"Fraud and justice never dwell together". (Frans et jus nunquam cohabitant) is a pristine maxim which has never lost its temper overall these centuries. Lord Denning observed in a language without equivocation that "no judgment of a Court, no order of a Minister can be allowed to stand if it has been obtained by fraud, for fraud unravels everything"(Lazarus Estate Ltd. V. Beasley 1956(1)QB 702)."

38. In the case of Vice Chairman, Kendriya Vidyalaya Sangathan and Another Vs. Girdhari Lal Yadav, reported in 2004 (6) SCC 325, the Apex Court considered the applicability of principles of natural justice in cases involving fraud and held in paragraph 12 and 13 as under :

"12. Furthermore, the respondent herein has been found guilty of an act of fraud. In opinion, no further opportunity of hearing is necessary to be afforded to him. It is not necessary to dwell into the matter any further as recently in the case of Ram chandra Singh v. Savitri devi this Court has noticed:

"15. Commission of fraud on court and suppression of material facts are the core issues involved in these matters. Fraud as is well-known vitiates every solemn act. Fraud and justice never dwells together.

16.Fraud is a conduct either by letter or words, which induces the other person, or authority to take a definite determinative stand as a response to the conduct of former either by word or letter.

It is also well settled that misrepresentation itself amounts to fraud. Indeed, innocent misrepresentation may also give reason to claim relief against fraud.

18. A fraudulent misrepresentation is called deceit and consists in leading a man into damage by willfully or recklessly causing him to believe and act on falsehood. It is a fraud in law if a party makes representations which he knows to be false, and injury ensues therefrom although the motive from which the representations proceeded may not have been bad."

39. In the case of Ram Chandra Singh Vs. Savitri Devi and others, reported in 2003(8) SCC 319, the Apex Court held in paragraphs 15, 16, 17, 18, 25 and 37 as under :

"15. Commission of fraud on court and suppression of material facts are the core issues involved in these matters. Fraud as is well-known vitiates every solemn act. Fraud and justice never dwells together.

16. Fraud is a conduct either by letter or words, which induces the other person, or authority to take a definite determinative stand as a response to the conduct of former either by word or letter.

17. It is also well settled that misrepresentation itself amounts to fraud. Indeed, innocent misrepresentation may also give reason to claim relief against fraud.

18. A fraudulent misrepresentation is called deceit and consists in leading a man into damage by willfully or recklessly causing him to believe and act on falsehood. It is a fraud in law if a party makes representations which he knows to be false, and injury ensues therefrom although the motive from which the representations proceeded may not have been bad.

25. Although in a given case a deception may not amount to fraud, fraud is anathema to all equitable principles and any affair tainted with fraud cannot be perpetuated or saved by the application of any equitable doctrine including res-judicata.

37. It will bear repetition to state that any order obtained by practising fraud on court is also non-est in the eyes of law."

40. In the case of S.P. ChengalVaraya Naidu (dead) by L.Rs Vs. Jagannath (dead) by L.Rs and others, reported in AIR 1994 SC 853, the Apex Court held in para 7 as under:

"7. The High Court, in our view, fell into patent error. The short question before the High Court was whether in the facts and circumstances of this case, Jagannath obtained the preliminary decree by playing fraud on the court. The High Court, however, went haywire and made observations which are wholly perverse. We do not agree with the High Court that "there is no legal duty cast upon the plaintiff to come to court with a true case and prove it by true evidence". The principle of "finality of litigation" cannot be pressed to the extent of such an absurdity that it becomes an engine of fraud in the hands of dishonest litigants. The courts of law are meant for imparting justice between the parties. One who comes to the court, must come with clean hands. We are constrained to say that more often than not, process of the court is being abused. Property-grabbers, tax-evaders, bank-loan-dodgers and other unscrupulous persons from all walks of life find the court-process a convenient lever to retain the illegal-gains indefinitely. We have no hesitation to say that a person, who's case is based on falsehood, has no right to approach the court. He can be summarily thrown out at any stage of the litigation."

41. In State of Maharastra Vs. Mayer Hans George reported in AIR 1965 SC 722 (V 52 C 123), the Apex Court specially in paragraph-10, has observed as follows:

*"10. In Russell on Crime, 11th edn. Vol. 1, it is stated at p. 64:..... there is a presumption that in any statutory crime the common law mental element, mens rea, is an essential ingredient."

On the question how to rebut this presumption, the learned author points out that the policy of the courts is unpredictable. I shall notice some of the decisions which appear to substantiate the author's view. In Halsbury's Laws of England, 3rd edn. Vol. 10, in para, 508, at p. 273, the following passage appears:*

"A statutory crime may or may not contain an express definition of the necessary state of mind. A statute may require a specific intention, malice, knowledge, wilfulness. or recklessness. On the other hand, it may be silent as to any requirement of mens rea, and in such a case in order to determine whether or not mens rea is an essential element of the offence, it is necessary to look at the objects and terms of the statute." This passage also indicates that the absence of any specific mention of a state of mind as an ingredient of an offence in a statute is not decisive of the question whether mens rea is an ingredient of the offence or not: it depends upon the object and the terms of the statute. So too, Archbold in his book on "Criminal Pleading, Evidence and Practice", 35th edn., says much to the same effect at p. 48 thus:

"It has always been a principle of the common law that mens rea is an essential element in the commission of any criminal offence against the common law In the case of statutory offences it depends on the effect of the statute..... There is a presumption that mens era is an essential ingredient in a statutory offence, but this presumption is liable to be displaced either by the works of the statute creating the offence or by the subject matter with which it deals."

The leading case on the subject is Sherras v. De Rutzen(1). Section 16(2) of the Licensing Act, 1872, prohibited a licensed victualler from supplying liquor to a police constable while on duty. It was held that section did not apply where a licensed victualler bona fide believed that the police officer was off duty Wright J., observed "There is a presumption that mens rea, an evil intention, or a knowledge of the wrongfulness of the act, is an essential ingredient in every offence; but that presumption is liable to be displaced either by the words of the statute creating the offence or by the subject-matter with which it deals, and both must be considered."....."

42. In Kartar Singh Versus State of Punjab reported in (1994) 3 SCC 569, the Apex Court specifically in paragraph nos. 115 to 119 has observed as follows:

"115. In a criminal action, the general conditions of penal liabilities are indicated in old maxim "actus non facit reum, nisi mens sit rea" i.e. the act alone does not amount to guilt, it must be accompanied by a guilty mind. But there are exceptions to this rule and the reasons for this is that the legislature, under certain situations and circumstances, in its wisdom may think it so important, in order to prevent a particular act from being committed, to forbid or rule out the element of mens rea as a constituent part of a crime or of adequate proof of intention or actual knowledge. However, unless a statute either expressly or by necessary implication rules out 'mens rea' in cases of this kind, the element of 'mens rea' must be read into the provisions of the statute. The question is not what the word means but whether there are sufficient grounds for infer-ring that the Parliament intended to exclude the general rule that mens rea is an essential element for bringing any person under the definition of 'abet'.

116. There are judicial decisions to the effect that it is generally necessary to go behind the words of the enactment and take other factors into consideration as to whether the element of 'mens rea' or actual knowledge should be imported into the definition. See (1) Brand v. Wood (2) Sherras v. De Rutzen, (3) Nicholls v. Hall, and (4) Inder Sain v. State of Punjab.

117. This Court in State of Maharashtra v. M.H. George while examining a question as to whether mens rea or actual knowledge is an essential ingredient of the offence under Section 8(1) read with Section 23(1)(a) of the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act, 1947, when it was shown that the respondent (accused) in that case voluntarily brought gold in India without the permission of Reserve Bank, held by majority that the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act is designed to safeguarding and conserving foreign exchange which is essential to the economic life of a developing country and the provisions have therefore to be stringent aiming at eliminating smuggling. Hence, in the background of the object and purpose of the legislation, if the element of mens rea is not by necessary implication invoked, its effectiveness as an instrument for preventing smuggling would be entirely frustrated.

118. But Subba Rao, J. dissented and held thus : (SCR p.

139) "... the mere fact that the object of a statute is to promote welfare activities or to eradicate grave social evils is in itself not decisive of the question whether the element of guilty mind is excluded from the ingredients of the offence. It is also necessary to enquire whether a statute by putting a person under strict liability helps him to assist the State in the enforcement of the law : can he do anything to promote the observance of the law? Mens rea by necessary implication can be excluded from a statute only where it is absolutely clear that the implementation of the object of a statute would otherwise be defeated and its exclusion enables those put under strict liability by their act or omission to assist the promotion of the law. The nature of mens rea that will be implied in a statute creating an offence depends upon the object of the Act and the provisions thereof."

119. Thereafter, a similar question arose in Nathulal v. State of M.P. as regards the exclusion of the element of mens rea in the absence of any specific provision of exclusion. Subba Rao, J. reiterated his earlier stand taken M.H. George and observed thus : (AIR p. 45) "Mens rea is an essential ingredient of a criminal offence. Doubtless a statute may exclude the element of mens rea, but it is a sound rule of construction adopted in England and also accepted in India to construe a statutory provision creating an offence n conformity with the common law rather than against it unless the statute expressly or by necessary implication excluded mens rea. The mere fact that the object of the statute is to promote welfare activities or to eradicate a grave social evil is by itself not decisive of the question whether the element of guilty mind is excluded from the ingredients of an offence. Mens rea by necessary implication may be excluded from a statute only where it is absolutely clear that the implementation of the object of the statute would otherwise be defeated."

43. It is not disputed by the learned counsel for the applicants that as per the date of birth certificate recorded in the secondary examination certificate of the year 2007 and date of birth certificate issued by the Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur, wherein the date of birth certificate of applicant no.3 has been mentioned as "1st January, 1993, applicant no. 3 was below 25 years of age when he filed nomination to contest the legislative assembly election. It is also not disputed that on scrutinising his Educational records, only in the year 2015 applicant no.3 came to know that his date of birth is incorrectly recorded as 1st January, 1993 in place of 30th September, 1990. The applicant no.3 and his parents i.e. applicant nos. 1 and 2 are highly educated and socially and politically active. His father i.e. applicant no.1 was Cabinet

Minister in the U.P. State Government, His mother i.e. applicant no.2 has been Professor and is sitting Member of Rajya Sabha. He himself is M.Tech. He has travelled to foreign countries several times on the basis of his passport obtained in the year 2006 and 2012 and visa in the year 2014 in which his date of birth was recorded as 1st January, 1993 as disclosed by him. He obtained the pass port by moving an application under his own signature in the year 2006 and thereafter in the year 2012 in which he himself mentioned his date of birth as 1st January, 1993. He obtained visa and travelled to foreign countries prior to and subsequent to the year 2015 and always mentioned his date of birth as 1st January, 1993. Despite having a date of birth certificate like secondary examination certificate of the year 2007 mentioning the date of birth of applicant no.3 as "1st January, 1993", his parents (applicant nos. 1 and 2) got registered his date of birth with the Registrar of Birth Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur, mentioning his date of birth as 1st January, 1993. When the Officer-in-charge/Sub-Registrar, Birth and Death, Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur as well as the concerned Record Keeper, have stated in their statements that on the basis of affidavit filed by applicant nos. 1 and 2, date of birth certificate dated 28th June, 2012 mentioning the date of birth as "1st January, 1993" has been prepared and issued in favour of applicant no.3. However, they also stated that the entire record of the aforesaid birth certificate has burnt in fire on 8th May, 2015. The Registrar Birth and Death, Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur, however, cancelled the same on 30th January, 2015. Thereafter on the basis of an application of applicant no.1, which has dully been supported by an affidavit, the third date of birth certificate dated 21st January, 2015 showing the date of birth of applicant no.3 as "30th September, 1990" has been obtained from Lucknow Municipal Corporation, Lucknow. On the basis of this third date of birth certificate, the applicant no.3 participated in election of Legislative Assembly in the year 2017 and elected as Member of Legislative Assembly.

44. This Court has also taken note of the fact that the applicant no.3 has passed his secondary school/high school examination in the year 2007 in which his date of birth has been mentioned as "1st January, 1990", thereafter for the reasons best known to the applicants, applicant nos. 1 and 2 got obtained a new birth certificate of applicant no.3 from Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur in which the date of birth of applicant no.3 has also been mentioned as "1st January, 1993" and later instead of making efforts to correct or rectify the date of birth of applicant no.3 in his secondary school/high school certificate or in the birth certificate issued by Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur, they have obtained a third, new birth certificate of applicant no.3 on the basis of an application made by applicant no.2 supported by her affidavit from Lucknow Municipal Corporation Lucknow in which the date of birth of applicant no.3 has been mentioned as "30th September, 1990. It is on this very basis of the changed new birth certificate, applicant no.3 participated in the legislative assembly election and was elected as member of legislative assembly in the year 2017 and has drawn salary from the public exchequer till today, which prima facie, in the opinion of the Court, amounts to cheating, deception and mens rea.

45. In view of the aforesaid facts, this Court finds some substance in the submissions made by the learned Additional Government Advocates that case for the offences under Sections 420, 467, 468 and 471 I.P.C. is made out against the applicants and the ingredients of Sections 463 and 464 I.P.C. are prima facie attracted against the applicants.

Now this Court comes on the issue of rectification or correction in the date of birth of applicant no. 3.

46. Birth certificates are one of the most important certified documents we'll ever obtain. Not only does it prove age of any person, but it proves his/her identity, citizenship, and location of birth. Any one needs his birth certificate to get numerous different legal documents including passports, but it's also used as a form of Identity when being hired for a new job, enrolled in school, or signed up for any military division. It's not uncommon that when a person first views his/her birth certificate, whether the original or a certified copy and if he finds that there is an error or any kind of mistake, in that cases, it's imperative that the persons is able to change or modify his birth certificate to reflect all of the pertinent details that identify who is he.

47. When for some reason, a person needs to change or modify his birth certificate including changing his age in his birth certificate or changing the date in his birth certificate, as mistakes can happen and are relatively easy to rectify, simple contacting the vital records department that was responsible for issuing the original certificate, will get him the information, the person need to proceed.

48. When it comes to changing a birth certificate after a name change or after adoption, the process is a little more involved. If the individual is under 1 year of age, a person may be able to submit paperwork allowing him to change his child's name without a court order. Each State's regulations will vary. If a person is 1 year of age and his name change is not due to marriage, he may be required to have a court order to successfully change his name. This just means he will be required to prove who he is, and in most cases he will have to include why he has decided to rename himself.

49. If the persons has been married and he is concerned about a change of birth certificate after marriage, he does not need to be as concerned. A name change due to marriage doesn't require a legal name change on his/her birth certificate.

50. Only the official issuing authority may legally make changes to a birth certificate once it's issued. Further, any alterations, more likely than not, render the certificate invalid.

51. For determining the correct age of a person, what is required to be examined as the evidence by a board/tribunal/court etc., it would be worthwhile to reproduce Section 94 of the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015 (Act No. 2 of 2016), which has been introduced by the Government of India on 31st December, 2015. For ready reference, Section of the said Act reads as follows:

"94. (1) Where, it is obvious to the Committee or the Board, based on the appearance of the person brought before it under any of the provisions of this Act (other than for the purpose of giving evidence) that the said person is a child, the Committee or the Board shall record such observation stating the age of the child as nearly as may be and proceed with the inquiry under section 14 or section 36, as the case may be, without waiting for further confirmation of the age.

(2) In case, the Committee or the Board has reasonable grounds for doubt regarding whether the person brought before it is a child or not, the Committee or the Board, as the case may be, shall undertake the process of age determination, by seeking evidence by obtaining--

(i) the date of birth certificate from the school, or the matriculation or equivalent certificate from the concerned examination Board, if available; and in the absence thereof;

(ii) the birth certificate given by a corporation or a municipal authority or a panchayat;

(iii) and only in the absence of (i) and (ii) above, age shall be determined by an ossification test or any other latest medical age determination test conducted on the orders of the Committee or the Board:

Provided such age determination test conducted on the order of the Committee or the Board shall be completed within fifteen days from the date of such order.

(3) The age recorded by the Committee or the Board to be the age of person so brought before it shall, for the purpose of this Act, be deemed to be the true age of that person."

52. In Eastern Coal Fields Limited and others vs Bajrangi Rabidas, reported in (2014) 13 SCC 681, the Apex Court has held in paragraph 17 of the judgment that there can be no iota of doubt that the date of birth mentioned in matriculation or higher secondary certificate has to be accepted as authentic.

53. In Manoj Kumar vs Government of NCT of Delhi and others reported in (2010) 11 SCC 702, in paragraph 12 of the decision it was held by the Apex Court that while the matriculation certificate is a strong material, other equally relevant material cannot be ignored, particularly when the matriculation certificate has been corrected. In the instant case, as per matriculation certificate, the date of birth of the petitioner is 1st January, 1993.

54. In Shah Nawaz vs State of Uttar Pradesh and another, reported in (2011) 13 SCC 751, it was observed by the Apex Court that medical opinion from Medical Board should be sought only when matriculation certificate or school certificate or any birth certificate issued by a corporation or by any panchayat or municipality is not available. In the instant case, the matriculation certificate is available to ascertain the date of birth of the petitioner.

55. It would also be worthwhile to reproduce Examination-Bye-laws framed by the Central Board of Secondary Education, New Delhi, on the basis of said provisions, the applicant no.3 had made an application for correction of his date of birth mentioned in the high school examination certificate. Regulation "69.2 of the said bye-laws, which is relevant in the facts of the present case is quoted herein below:

"69.2 Change/Correction in Date of Birth

(i) No change in the date of birth once recorded in the Board's records shall be made. However, corrections to correct typographical and other errors to make the certificate consistent with the school records can be made provided that corrections in the school records should not have been made after the submission of application form for admission to Examination to the Board.

(ii) Such correction in Date of Birth of a candidate in case of genuine clerical errors will be made under orders of the Chairman where it is established to the satisfaction of the Chairman that the wrong entry was made erroneously in the list of candidates/application form of the candidate for the examination.

(iii) Request for correction in Date of Birth shall be forwarded by the Head of the School alongwith attested Photostat copies of :*

(a) application for admission of the candidate to the School;

(b) Portion of the page of admission and withdrawal register where entry in date of birth has been made alongwith attested copy of the Certificate issued by the Municipal Authority, if available, as proof of Date of Birth submitted at the time of seeking admission; and

(c) the School Leaving Certificate of the previous school submitted at the time of admission.

(iv) The application for correction in date of birth duly forwarded by the Head of school alongwith documents mentioned in byelaws 69.2(iii) shall be entertained by the Board only within five years of the date of declaration of result. No correction whatsoever, shall be made on application submitted after the said period of five years."

56. From reading of the aforesaid regulation of the bye-laws, it is apparently clear that no correction/rectification or change in the date of birth can be made if the same has already been recorded in the Board's records. Only typographical errors can be corrected. The aforesaid regulation also prohibits that no correction can be made on application submitted after expiry of a period of five years.

57. In view of the aforesaid the maximum period provided for correction or rectification or change of any typographical error in the date of birth of any candidate is provided for five years only.

58. Regarding the right to claim correction in the entry of educational institution or board as well as the maximum period provided for correction in the education board's record, the Apex Court in the case of Board of Secondary Education of Assam vs. Md. Sarifuzzaman & Others reported in (2003) 12 SCC 408 in paragraph nos. 10 to 13 has observed as follows:

"10. Nobody can claim a right to have corrected an entry in a certificate solemnly issued by an educational institution that too the one enjoying the status of a statutory Board under the Act. The right of the applicant to have an error or mistake corrected is accompanied by a duty or obligation on the part of the Board to correct its records and the certificate issued by it. Not only it is a corresponding duty or obligation, it has also to be perceived as a power exercisable by the Board to correct an entry appearing in the certificate issued by it. People, institutions and government departments etc.- all attach a very high degree of reliability, near finality, to the entries made in the certificates issued by the Board. The frequent exercise of power to correct entries in certificates and that too without any limitation on exercise of such power would render the power itself arbitrary and may result in eroding the credibility of certificates issued by the Board. We therefore, find it difficult to uphold the contention that the applicants seeking correction of entries in such certificates have any such right or vested right.

11. Lastly, the submission cannot also be countenanced that the regulatory measure engrafted into the Regulations on the subject of correction of errors in the certificates is 'absolute' in nature. The Regulation permits correction but subject only to reasonable restrictions.

12. Delay defeats discretion and loss of limitation destroys the remedy itself. Delay amounting to laches results in benefit of discretionary power being denied on principles of equity. Loss of limitation resulting into depriving of the remedy, is a principle based on public policy and utility and not equity alone. There ought to be a limit of time by which human affairs stand settled and uncertainty is lost. Regulation 8 confers a right on the applicant and a power coupled with an obligation on the Board to make correction in the date of birth subject to the ground of wrong calculation or clerical error being made out. A reasonable procedure has been prescribed for processing the application through Inspector of Schools who would verify the school records and submit report to the Board so as to exclude from consideration the claims other than those permissible within the framework of Regulation 8. Power to pass order for correction is vested on a higher functionary like Secretary of the Board. An inaccuracy creeping in at the stage of writing the certificates only, though all other prior documents are correct in all respects, is capable of being corrected within a period of three years from the date of issuance of certificate.

13. Three years period provided by the Regulation is a very reasonable period. On the very date of issuance of the certificate the concerned student is put to notice as to the entries made in the certificate. Everyone remembers his age and date of birth. The student would realize within no time that the date of birth as entered in the certificate is not correct if that be so once the certificate is placed in his hands. Based on the certificate the applicant would seek admission elsewhere in an educational institution or might seek a job or career where he will have to mention his age and date of birth. Even if he failed to notice the error on the date of issuance of the certificate, he would come to know the same shortly thereafter. Thus, the period of three years, as prescribed by Regulation 3, is quite reasonable. It is not something like prescribing a period of limitation for filing a suit. The prescription of three years is laying down of a dividing fine before which the power of the Board to make correction ought to be invoked and beyond which it may not be invoked. Belated applications, if allowed to be received, may open a pandora's box. Records may not be available and evidence may have been lost. Such evidence-even convenient evidence- may be brought into existence as may defy scrutiny. The prescription of three years bar takes care of all such situations. The provision is neither illegal nor beyond the purview of Section 24 of the Act and also cannot be called arbitrary or unreasonable. The applicants seeking rectification within a period of three years form a class by themselves and such prescription has a reasonable nexus with the purpose sought to be achieved. No fault can be found therewith on the anvil of Article 14 of the Constitution."

59. The case of the applicants that obtaining of the third date of birth certificate dated 21st January, 2015 issued by the Lucknow Municipal Corporation, Lucknow showing the date of birth of applicant no.3 as "30th September, 1990" does not comes with the purview of Section 420 and the same is only a correction or rectification of date of birth of applicant no.3 as in the earlier date of birth certificate issued by Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur dated 28th June, 2012 and the secondary examination certificate, incorrect date of birth of applicant no.3 as "1st January, 1993" has been mentioned, prima facie cannot be accepted by this Court on the ground that the issuing authority has a right to rectify or correct the date of birth certificate issued earlier. In the facts of the present case, in the secondary examination certificate of applicant no.3, the Central Board of Secondary Education has right to rectify or correct the date of birth of applicant no.3, in the date of birth certificate issued by Nagar Palika Parishad dated 28th June, 2012, the authority of Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur and in the date of birth certificate issued by Lucknow Municipal Corporation, Lucknow dated 21st January, 2015, the authority of Lucknow Municipal Corporation, Lucknow has right to correct or rectify the same. Apart from the above, as per the own case of applicants, applicant no.3 has already made an application on 23rd March, 2015 for correction of his date of birth in the secondary examination certificate under the provisions of Examination Bye-Laws of the Central Board of Secondary Education, New Delhi before the Regional Officer, C.B.S.E. Allahabad through Principal, St. Paul's School Rampur, which is still pending consideration.

60. Even otherwise, when applicant no.3 already possessed a birth certificate of secondary school/high school examination certificate, wherein the date of birth of applicant no.3 was mentioned as "1st January, 1993", there was no occasion for getting two date of birth certificates obtained from Nagar Palika Parishad, Rampur on 28th June, 2012 and thereafter from Lucknow Municipal Corporation, Lucknow on 21st January, 2015.

61. So far as the submission made by the learned counsel for the applicants that the informant, namely, Akash Saxena has no locus to lodge first information report against the applicant, is concerned, this Court refers to Sections 37, 38 and 43 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, which reads as follows:

"37. Public when to assist Magistrates and police. Every person is bound to assist a Magistrate or police officer reasonably demanding his aid-

(a) in the taking or preventing the escape of any other person whom such Magistrate or police officer is authorised to arrest; or

(b) in the prevention or suppression of a breach of the peace; or

(c) in the prevention of any injury attempted to be committed to any railway, canal, telegraph or public property.

38. Aid to person, other than police officer, executing warrant.----When a warrant is directed to a person other than a police officer, any other person may aid in the execution of such warrant, if the person to whom the warrant is directed be near at hand and acting in the execution of warrant.

43. Arrest by private person and procedure on such arrest.

(1) Any private person may arrest or cause to be arrested any person who in his presence commits a non-bailable and cognizable offence, or any proclaimed offender, and, without unnecessary delay, shall make over or cause to be made over any person so arrested to a police officer, or, in the absence of a police officer, take such person or cause him to be taken in custody to the nearest police station.

(2) If there is reason to believe that such person comes under the provisions of section 41, a police officer shall re- arrest him.

(3) If there is reason to believe that he has committed a non- cognizable offence, and he refuses on the demand of a police officer to give his name and residence, or gives a name or residence which such officer has reason to believe to be false, he shall be dealt with under the provisions of section 42; but if there is no sufficient reason to believe that he has committed any offence, he shall be at once released."

62. The Apex Court in the case of Sheo Nandan Paswan Vesus State of Bihar & Others reported in AIR 1987 SC 877, specifically in paragraph-14 has observed as follows:

"..... It is now settled law that a criminal proceeding is not a proceeding for vindication of a private grievance but it is a proceeding initiated for the purpose of punishment to the offender in the interest of the society. It is for maintaining stability and orderliness in the society that certain acts are constituted offences and the right is given to any citizen to set the machinery of the criminal law in motion for the purpose of bringing the offender to book. It is for this reason that in R.S. Nayak v. A.R. Antulay, [1984] 2 SCC 500 this Court pointed out that "punishment of the offender in the interests of the society being one of the objects behind penal statute enact- ed for larger goods of society, the right to initiate proceedings cannot be whittled down, circumscribed of lettered by putting it into a strait jacket formula of locus standi". This Court observed that locus standi of the complainant is a concept foreign to criminal jurisprudence. Now if any citizen can lodge a first information report or file a complaint and set the machinery of the criminal law in motion and his locus standi to do so cannot be questioned, we do not see why a citizen who finds that a prosecution for an offence against the society is being wrongly withdrawn, cannot oppose such withdrawal. If he can be a complainant or initiator of criminal prosecution, he should equally be entitled to oppose withdrawal of the criminal prosecution which has already been initiated at his instance. If the offence for which a prosecution is being launched is an offence against the society and not merely an individual wrong, any member of the society must have locus to initiate a prosecution as also to resist withdrawal of such prosecution, if initiated. Here in the present case, the offences charged against Dr. Jagannath Misra and others are offences of corruption, criminal breach of trust etc. and therefore any person who is interested in cleanliness of public administration and public morality would be entitled to file a complaint, as held by this Court in R.S. Nayak v.A.R. Antulay (supra) and equally he would be entitled to oppose the withdrawal of such prosecution if it is already instituted. ....."

63. In Subramanian Swamy Versus Manmohan Singh & Another reported in (2012) 3 SCC 64, the Apex Court has held that there is no restriction on a private citizen to file complaint against a public servant. The Apex Court has also held that locus standi of a private citizen is, therefore, not excluded. In paragraph nos. 72 and 73, the Apex Court has held as follows:

"72. The right of private citizen to file a complaint against a corrupt public servant must be equated with his right to access the Court in order to set the criminal law in motion against a corrupt public official. This right of access, a Constitutional right should not be burdened with unreasonable fetters. When a private citizen approaches a court of law against a corrupt public servant who is highly placed, what is at stake is not only a vindication of personal grievance of that citizen but also the question of bringing orderliness in society and maintaining equal balance in the rule of law.

73. It was pointed out by the Constitution Bench of this Court in Sheonandan Paswan vs. State of Bihar and Others, (1987) 1 SCC 288 at page 315:

".....It is now settled law that a criminal proceeding is not a proceeding for vindication of a private grievance but it is a proceeding initiated for the purpose of punishment to the offender in the interest of the society. It is for maintaining stability and orderliness in the society that certain acts are constituted offences and the right is given to any citizen to set the machinery of the criminal law in motion for the purpose of bringing the offender to book. It is for this reason that in A.R. Antulay v. R.S. Nayak this Court pointed out that (SCC p. 509, para 6) "punishment of the offender in the interest of the society being one of the objects behind penal statutes enacted for larger good of the society, right to initiate proceedings cannot be whittled down, circumscribed or fettered by putting it into a strait jacket formula of locus standi....."

64. In view of the aforesaid, it is crystal clear that every person has a right to lodge a first information report against a person, who in his presence, commits a non-bailable or cognizable offence. Therefore, the informant of the present case, namely, Akash Saxena had every right to lodge first information report against the applicants.

65. Now, this Court comes on the issues whether it is appropriate for this Court being the Highest Court to exercise its jurisdiction under Section 482 Cr.P.C. to quash the charge-sheet and the proceedings at the stage when the Magistrate has merely issued process against the applicants. The aforesaid issue has elaborately been discussed by the Apex Court the following judgments:

(i) R.P. Kapur Versus State of Punjab; AIR 1960 SC 866,

(ii) State of Haryana & Ors. Versus Ch. Bhajan Lal & Ors.;1992 Supp.(1) SCC 335,

(iii) State of Bihar & Anr. Versus P.P. Sharma & Anr.; 1992 Supp (1) SCC 222,

(iv) Zandu Pharmaceuticals Works Ltd. & Ors. Versus Mohammad Shariful Haque & Anr.; 2005 (1) SCC 122, and

(v) M. N. Ojha Vs. Alok Kumar Srivastava; 2009 (9) SCC 682.

66. In the case of R.P. Kapur (Supra), the following has been observed by the Apex Court in paragraph 6:

"Before dealing with the merits of the appeal it is necessary to consider the nature and scope of the inherent power of the High Court under s. 561 -A of the Code. The said section saves the inherent power of the High Court to make such orders as may be necessary to give effect to any order under this Code or to prevent abuse of the process of any court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice. There is no doubt that this inherent power cannot be exercised in regard to matters specifically covered by the other provisions of the Code. In the present case the magistrate before whom the police report has been filed under s. 173 of the Code has yet not applied his mind to the merits of the said report and it may be assumed in favour of the appellant that his request for the quashing of the .proceedings is not at the present stage covered by any specific provision of the Code. It is well-established that the inherent jurisdiction of the High Court can be exercised to quash proceedings in a proper case either to prevent the abuse of the process of any court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice. Ordinarily criminal proceedings instituted against an accused person must be tried under the provisions of the Code, and the High Court would be reluctant to interfere with the said proceedings at an interlocutory stage. It is not possible, desirable or expedient to lay down any inflexible rule which would govern the exercise of this inherent jurisdiction. However, we may indicate some categories of cases where the inherent jurisdiction can and should be exercised for quashing the proceedings. There may be cases where it may be possible for the High Court to take the view that the institution or continuance of criminal proceedings against an accused person may amount to the abuse of the process of the court or that the quashing of the impugned proceedings would secure the ends of justice. If the criminal proceeding in question is in respect of an offence alleged to have been committed by an accused person and it manifestly appears that there is a legal bar against the institution or continuance of the said proceeding the High Court would be justified in quashing the proceeding on that ground. Absence of the requisite sanction may, for instance, furnish cases under this category. Cases may also arise where the a11egations in the First Information Report or the complaint, even if they are taken at their face value and accepted in their entirety, do not constitute the offence alleged; in such cases no question of appreciating evidence arises; it is a matter merely of looking at the complaint or the First Information Report to decide whether the offence alleged is disclosed or not. In such cases it would be legitimate for the High Court to hold that it would be manifestly unjust to allow the process of the criminal court to be issued against the accused person. A third category of cases in which the inherent jurisdiction of the High Court can be successfully invoked may also arise. In cases falling under this category the allegations made against the accused person do constitute an offence alleged but there is either no legal evidence adduced in support of the case or evidence adduced clearly or manifestly fails to prove the charge. In dealing with this class of cases it is important to bear in mind the distinction between a case where there is no legal evidence or where there is evidence which is manifestly and clearly inconsistent with the accusation made and cases where there is legal evidence which on its appreciation may or may not support the accusation in question. In exercising its jurisdiction under s. 561-A the High Court would not embark upon an enquiry as to whether the evidence in question is reliable or not. That is the function of the trial magis- trate, and ordinarily it would not be open to any party to invoke the High Court's inherent jurisdiction and' contend that on a reasonable appreciation of the evidence the accusation made against the accused would not be sustained. Broadly stated that is the nature and scope of the inherent jurisdiction of the High Court under s. 561-A in the matter of quashing criminal proceedings, and that is the effect of the judicial decisions on the point (Vide: In Re: Shripad G. Chandavarkar AIR 1928 Bom 184, Jagat Ohandra Mozumdar v. Queen Empress ILR 26 Cal 786), Dr. Shanker Singh v. The State of Punjab 56 Pun LR 54 : (AIR 1954 Punj 193), Nripendra Bhusan Ray v. Govind Bandhu Majumdar, AIR 1924 Cal 1018 and Ramanathan Chettiyar v. K. Sivarama Subrahmanya Ayyar ILR 47 Mad 722: (AIR 1925 Mad 39)."

67. In the case of State of Haryana (Supra), the following has been observed by the Apex Court in paragraph 105:

"105. In the backdrop of the interpretation of the various relevant provisions of the Code under Chapter XIV and of the principles of law enunciated by this Court in a series of decisions relating to the exercise of the extra-ordinary power under Article 226 or the inherent powers Under Section 482 of the Code which we have extracted and reproduced above, we give the following categories of cases by way of illustration wherein such power could be exercised either to prevent abuse of the process of any Court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice, though it may not be possible to lay down any precise, clearly defined and sufficiently channelised and inflexible guidelines or rigid formulae and to give an exhaustive list of myriad kinds of cases wherein such power should be exercised.

1. Where the allegations made in the First Information Report or the complaint, even if they are taken at their face value and accepted in their entirety do not prima-facie constitute any offence or make out a case against the accused.

2. Where the allegations in the First Information Report and other materials, if any, accompanying the F.I.R. do not disclose a cognizable offence, justifying an investigation by police officers Under Section 156(1) of the Code except under an order of a Magistrate within the purview of Section 155(2) of the Code.

3. Where the uncontroverted allegations made in the FIR or complaint and the evidence collected in support of the same do not disclose the commission of any offence and make out a case against the accused.

4. Where, the allegations in the F.I.R. do not constitute a cognizable offence but constitute only a non-cognizable offence, no investigation is permitted by a police officer without an order of a Magistrate as contemplated Under Section 155(2) of the Code.

5. Where the allegations made in the FIR or complaint are so absurd and inherently improbable on the basis of which no prudent person can ever reach a just conclusion that there is sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused.

6. Where there is an express legal bar engrafted in any of the provisions of the Code or the concerned Act (under which a criminal proceeding is instituted) to the institution and continuance of the proceedings and/or where there is a specific provision in the Code or the concerned Act, providing efficacious redress for the grievance of the aggrieved party.

7. Where a criminal proceeding is manifestly attended with mala fide and/or where the proceeding is maliciously instituted with an ulterior motive for wreaking vengeance on the accused and with a view to spite him due to private and personal grudge."

68. In the case of State of Bihar (Supra), the following has been observed by the Apex Court in paragraph 22. :-

"The question of mala fide exercise of power assumes significance only when the criminal prosecution is initiated on extraneous considerations and for an unauthorised purpose. There is no material whatsoever is this case to show that on the date when the FIR was lodged by R.K. Singh he was activated by bias or had any reason to act maliciously. The dominant purpose of registering the case against the respondents was to have an investigation done into the allegations contained in the FIR and in the event of there being sufficient material in support of the allegations to present the charge sheet before the court. There is no material to show that the dominant object of registering the case was the character assassination of the respondents or to harass and humiliate them. This Court in State of Bihar v J.A.C. Saldhana and Ors., [1980] 2 SCR 16 has held that when the information is lodged at the police station and an offence is registered, the mala fides of the informant would be of secondary importance. It is the material collected during the investigation which decides the fate of the accused person. This Court in State of Haryana and Ors. v. Ch. Bhajan Lal and Ors., J.T. 1990 (4) S.C. 650 permitted the State Government to hold investigation afresh against Ch. Bhajan Lal inspite of the fact the prosecution was lodged at the instance of Dharam Pal who was enimical towards Bhajan Lal."

69. In the case of Zandu Pharmaceuticals Works Ltd. (Supra), the following has been observed by the Apex Court in paragraphs nos. 8 to 12:

"8. Exercise of power under Section 482 of the Code in a case of this nature is the exception and not the rule. The Section does not confer any new powers on the High Court. It only saves the inherent power which the Court possessed before the enactment of the Code. It envisages three circumstances under which the inherent jurisdiction may be exercised, namely, (i) to give effect to an order under the Code, (ii) to prevent abuse of the process of court, and (iii) to otherwise secure the ends of justice. It is neither possible nor desirable to lay down any inflexible rule which would govern the exercise of inherent jurisdiction. No legislative enactment dealing with procedure can provide for all cases that may possibly arise. Courts, therefore, have inherent powers apart from express provisions of law which are necessary for proper discharge of functions and duties imposed upon them by law. That is the doctrine which finds expression in the section which merely recognizes and preserves inherent powers of the High Courts. All courts, whether civil or criminal possess, in the absence of any express provision, as inherent in their constitution, all such powers as are necessary to do the right and to undo a wrong in course of administration of justice on the principle "quando lex aliquid alicui concedit, concedere videtur et id sine quo res ipsae esse non potest" (when the law gives a person anything it gives him that without which it cannot exist). While exercising powers under the section, the court does not function as a court of appeal or revision. Inherent jurisdiction under the section though wide has to be exercised sparingly, carefully and with caution and only when such exercise is justified by the tests specifically laid down in the section itself. It is to be exercised ex debito justitiae to do real and substantial justice for the administration of which alone courts exist. Authority of the court exists for advancement of justice and if any attempt is made to abuse that authority so as to produce injustice, the court has power to prevent abuse. It would be an abuse of process of the court to allow any action which would result in injustice and prevent promotion of justice. In exercise of the powers court would be justified to quash any proceeding if it finds that initiation/continuance of it amounts to abuse of the process of court or quashing of these proceedings would otherwise serve the ends of justice. When no offence is disclosed by the complaint, the court may examine the question of fact. When a complaint is sought to be quashed, it is permissible to look into the materials to assess what the complainant has alleged and whether any offence is made out even if the allegations are accepted in toto.

9. In R. P. Kapur v. State of Punjab (AIR 1960 SC 866) this Court summarized some categories of cases where inherent power can and should be exercised to quash the proceedings.

(i) where it manifestly appears that there is a legal bar against the institution or continuance e.g. want of sanction;

(ii) where the allegations in the first information report or complaint taken at its face value and accepted in their entirety do not constitute the offence alleged;

(iii) where the allegations constitute an offence, but there is no legal evidence adduced or the evidence adduced clearly or manifestly fails to prove the charge.

10. In dealing with the last case, it is important to bear in mind the distinction between a case where there is no legal evidence or where there is evidence which is clearly inconsistent with the accusations made, and a case where there is legal evidence which, on appreciation, may or may not support the accusations. When exercising jurisdiction under Section 482 of the Code, the High Court would not ordinarily embark upon an enquiry whether the evidence in question is reliable or not or whether on a reasonable appreciation of it accusation would not be sustained. That is the function of the trial Judge. Judicial process should not be an instrument of oppression, or, needless harassment. Court should be circumspect and judicious in exercising discretion and should take all relevant facts and circumstances into consideration before issuing process, lest it would be an instrument in the hands of a private complainant to unleash vendetta to harass any person needlessly. At the same time the section is not an instrument handed over to an accused to short-circuit a prosecution and bring about its sudden death.

11. The scope of exercise of power under Section 482 of the Code and the categories of cases where the High Court may exercise its power under it relating to cognizable offences to prevent abuse of process of any court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice were set out in some detail by this Court in State of Haryana v. Bhajan Lal (1992 Supp (1) 335). A note of caution was, however, added that the power should be exercised sparingly and that too in rarest of rare cases. The illustrative categories indicated by this Court are as follows:

"(1) Where the allegations made in the first information report or the complaint, even if they are taken at their face value and accepted in their entirety do not prima facie constitute any offence or make out a case against the accused.

(2) Where the allegations in the first information report and other materials, if any, accompanying the FIR do not disclose a cognizable offence, justifying an investigation by police officers under Section 156(1) of the Code except under an order of a Magistrate within the purview of Section 155(2) of the Code.

(3) Where the uncontroverted allegations made in the FIR or complaint and the evidence collected in support of the same do not disclose the commission of any offence and make out a case against the accused. (4) Where the allegations in the FIR do not constitute a cognizable offence but constitute only a non-cognizable offence, no investigation is permitted by a police officer without an order of a Magistrate as contemplated under Section 155(2) of the Code. (5) Where the allegations made in the FIR or complaint are so absurd and inherently improbable on the basis of which no prudent person can ever reach a just conclusion that there is sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused.

(6) Where there is an express legal bar engrafted in any of the provisions of the Code or the Act concerned (under which a criminal proceeding is instituted) to the institution and continuance of the proceedings and/or where there is a specific provision in the Code or Act concerned, providing efficacious redress for the grievance of the aggrieved party.

(7) Where a criminal proceeding is manifestly attended with mala fide and/or where the proceeding is maliciously instituted with an ulterior motive for wreaking vengeance on the accused and with a view to spite him due to private and personal grudge."

As noted above, the powers possessed by the High Court under Section 482 of the Code are very wide and the very plenitude of the power requires great caution in its exercise. Court must be careful to see that its decision in exercise of this power is based on sound principles. The inherent power should not be exercised to stifle a legitimate prosecution. The High Court being the highest court of a State should normally refrain from giving a prima facie decision in a case where the entire facts are incomplete and hazy, more so when the evidence has not been collected and produced before the Court and the issues involved, whether factual or legal, are of magnitude and cannot be seen in their true perspective without sufficient material. Of course, no hard-and-fast rule can be laid down in regard to cases in which the High Court will exercise its extraordinary jurisdiction of quashing the proceeding at any stage. (See: Janata Dal v. H. S. Chowdhary (1992 (4) SCC 305), and Raghubir Saran (Dr.) v. State of Bihar (AIR 1964 SC 1). It would not be proper for the High Court to analyse the case of the complainant in the light of all probabilities in order to determine whether a conviction would be sustainable and on such premises arrive at a conclusion that the proceedings are to be quashed. It would be erroneous to assess the material before it and conclude that the complaint cannot be proceeded with. In a proceeding instituted on complaint, exercise of the inherent powers to quash the proceedings is called for only in a case where the complaint does not disclose any offence or is frivolous, vexatious or oppressive. If the allegations set out in the complaint do not constitute the offence of which cognizance has been taken by the Magistrate, it is open to the High Court to quash the same in exercise of the inherent powers under Section 482 of the Code. It is not, however, necessary that there should be meticulous analysis of the case before the trial to find out whether the case would end in conviction or acquittal. The complaint has to be read as a whole. If it appears that on consideration of the allegations in the light of the statement made on oath of the complainant that the ingredients of the offence or offences are disclosed and there is no material to show that the complaint is mala fide, frivolous or vexatious, in that event there would be no justification for interference by the High Court. When an information is lodged at the police station and an offence is registered, then the mala fides of the informant would be of secondary importance. It is the material collected during the investigation and evidence led in court which decides the fate of the accused person. The allegations of mala fides against the informant are of no consequence and cannot by themselves be the basis for quashing the proceedings. (See: Dhanalakshmi v. R. Prasanna Kumar (1990 Supp SCC 686), State of Bihar v. P. P. Sharma (AIR 1996 SC 309), Rupan Deol Bajaj v. Kanwar Pal Singh Gill (1995 (6) SCC 194), State of Kerala v. O. C. Kuttan (AIR 1999 SC 1044), State of U.P. v. O. P. Sharma (1996 (7) SCC 705), Rashmi Kumar v. Mahesh Kumar Bhada (1997 (2) SCC 397), Satvinder Kaur v. State (Govt. of NCT of Delhi) (AIR 1996 SC 2983) and Rajesh Bajaj v. State NCT of Delhi (1999 (3) SCC 259.

12. The above position was recently highlighted in State of Karnataka v. M. Devendrappa and Another (2002 (3) SCC 89)."

70. Thereafter, in the case of M.N. Ojha Vs. Alok Kumar Srivastava, reported in 2009 (9) SCC 682 has made observations in paragraphs 25, 27, 28, 29 and 30 regarding the exercise of power under section 482 Cr.P.C. as well as the principles governing the exercise of such jurisdiction:-

"25. Had the learned SDJM applied his mind to the facts and circumstances and sequence of events and as well as the documents filed by the complainant himself along with the complaint, surely he would have dismissed the complaint. He would have realized that the complaint was only a counter blast to the FIR lodged by the Bank against the complainant and others with regard to same transaction.

26. This Court in Pepsi Foods Ltd. & Anr. Vs. Special Judicial Magistrate & Ors. [(1998)5 SCC 749 held:

"28. Summoning of an accused in a criminal case is a serious matter. Criminal law cannot be set into motion as a matter of course. It is not that the complainant has to bring only two witnesses to support his allegations in the complaint to have the criminal law set into motion. The order of the Magistrate summoning the accused must reflect that he has applied his mind to the facts of the case and the law applicable thereto. He has to examine the nature of allegations made in the complaint and the evidence both oral and documentary in support thereof and would that be sufficient for the complainant to succeed in bringing charge home to the accused. It is not that the Magistrate is a silent spectator at the time of recording of preliminary evidence before summoning of the accused. The Magistrate has to carefully scrutinise the evidence brought on record and may even himself put questions to the complainant and his witnesses to elicit answers to find out the truthfulness of the allegations or otherwise and then examine if any offence is prima facie committed by all or any of the accused."

27. The case on hand is a classic illustration of non-application of mind by the learned Magistrate. The learned Magistrate did not scrutinize even the contents of the complaint, leave aside the material documents available on record. The learned Magistrate truly was a silent spectator at the time of recording of preliminary evidence before summoning the appellants.

28. The High Court committed a manifest error in disposing of the petition filed by the appellants under Section 482 of the Code without even adverting to the basic facts which were placed before it for its consideration.

29. It is true that the court in exercise of its jurisdiction under Section 482 of the Code of Criminal Procedure cannot go into the truth or otherwise of the allegations and appreciate the evidence if any available on record. Normally, the High Court would not intervene in the criminal proceedings at the preliminary stage/when the investigation/enquiry is pending.

30. Interference by the High Court in exercise of its jurisdiction under Section 482 of Code of Criminal Procedure can only be where a clear case for such interference is made out. Frequent and uncalled for interference even at the preliminary stage by the High Court may result in causing obstruction in progress of the inquiry in a criminal case which may not be in the public interest. But at the same time the High Court cannot refuse to exercise its jurisdiction if the interest of justice so required where the allegations made in the FIR or complaint are so absurd and inherently improbable on the basis of which no fair-minded and informed observer can ever reach a just and proper conclusion as to the existence of sufficient grounds for proceeding. In such cases refusal to exercise the jurisdiction may equally result in injustice more particularly in cases where the Complainant sets the criminal law in motion with a view to exert pressure and harass the persons arrayed as accused in the complaint."
(emphasis added)

71. The Apex Court in its latest judgment in the case of Nallapareddy Sridhar Reddy Vs. The State of Andhra Pradesh & Ors. reported in 2020 0 Supreme (SC) 45, dealing with a cases under Sections 406 and 420 I.P.C. has observed that the Court does not have to delve deep into probative value of evidence regarding the charge. It has only to see if a prima facie case has been made out. Veracity of deposition/material is a matter of trial and not required to be examined while framing charge. The Apex Court further observed that the veracity of the depositions made by the witnesses is a question of trial and need not be determined at the time of framing of charge. Appreciation of evidence on merit is to be done by the court only after the charges have been framed and the trial has commenced. However, for the purpose of framing of charge the court needs to prima facie determine that there exists sufficient material for the commencement of trial. The Apex Court in paragraph nos. 21, 22 and 24 has observed as follows:

"21 The appellant has relied upon a two-judge Bench decision of this Court in Onkar Nath Mishra v The State, (2008) 2 SCC 561 to substantiate the point that the ingredients of Sections 406 and 420 of the IPC have not been established. This Court while dealing with the nature of evaluation by a court at the stage of framing of charge, held thus:

"11. It is trite that at the stage of framing of charge the court is required to evaluate the material and documents on record with a view to finding out if the facts emerging therefrom, taken at their face value, disclosed the existence of all the ingredients constituting the alleged offence. At that stage, the court is not expected to go deep into the probative value of the material on record. What needs to be considered is whether there is a ground for presuming that the offence has been committed and not a ground for convicting the accused has been made out. At that stage, even strong suspicion founded on material which leads the court to form a presumptive opinion as to the existence of the factual ingredients constituting the offence alleged would justify the framing of charge against the accused in respect of the commission of that offence." (Emphasis supplied)

22 In the present case, the High Court while directing the framing the additional charges has evaluated the material and evidence brought on record after investigation and held:

"LW1 is the father of the de facto complainant, who states that his son in law i.e., the first accused promised that he would look after his daughter at United Kingdom (UK) and promised to provide Doctor job at UK and claimed Rs.5 lakhs for the said purpose and received the same and he took his daughter to the UK. He states that his son-in-law made him believe and received Rs.5 lakhs in the presence of elders. He states that he could not mention about the cheating done by his son-in- law, when he was examined earlier. LW13, who is an independent witness, also supports the version of LW1 and states that Rs.5 lakhs were received by A1 with a promise that he would secure doctor job to the complainant's daughter. He states that A1 cheated LW1, stating that he would provide job and received Rs.5 lakhs. LW14, also is an independent witness and he supported the version of LW13. He further states that A1 left his wife and child in India and went away after receiving Rs.5 lakhs.

Hence, from the above facts, stated by LWs. 13 and 14, prima facie, the version of LW1 that he gave Rs.5 lakhs to A1 on a promise that he would provide a job to his daughter and that A1 did not provide any job and cheated him, receives support from LWs. 13 and 14. When the amount is entrusted to A1, with a promise to provide a job and when he fails to provide the job and does not return the amount, it can be made out that A1 did not have any intention to provide job to his wife and that he utilised the amount for a purpose other than the purpose for which he collected the amount from LW1, which would suffice to attract the offences under Sections 406 and 420 IPC. Whether there is truth in the improved version of LW.1 and what have been the reasons for his lapse in not stating the same in his earlier statement, can be adjudicated at the time of trial.

It is also evidence from the record that the additional charge sheet filed by the investigating officer, missed the attention of the lower court due to which the additional charges could not be framed."

24 The veracity of the depositions made by the witnesses is a question of trial and need not be determined at the time of framing of charge. Appreciation of evidence on merit is to be done by the court only after the charges have been framed and the trial has commenced. However, for the purpose of framing of charge the court needs to prima facie determine that there exists sufficient material for the commencement of trial. The High Court has relied upon the materials on record and concluded that the ingredients of the offences under Sections 406 and 420 of the IPC are attracted. The High Court has spelt out the reasons that have necessitated the addition of the charge and hence, the impugned order does not warrant any interference."

(Emphasis added)

72. The submissions made by the applicants' learned counsel call for adjudication on pure questions of fact which may adequately be adjudicated upon only by the trial court and while doing so even the submissions made on points of law can also be more appropriately gone into by the trial court in this case. This Court does not deem it proper, and therefore cannot be persuaded to have a pre-trial before the actual trial begins. A threadbare discussion of various facts and circumstances, as they emerge from the allegations made against the accused, is being purposely avoided by the Court for the reason, lest the same might cause any prejudice to either side during trial. But it shall suffice to observe that the perusal of the F.I.R. and the material collected by the Investigating Officer on the basis of which the charge sheet has been submitted makes out a prima facie case against the accused at this stage and there appear to be sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused. I do not find any justification to quash the charge sheet or the proceedings against the applicants arising out of them as the case does not fall in any of the categories recognized by the Apex Court which may justify their quashing.

73. The prayer for quashing the impugned charge-sheet as well as the proceedings of the entire proceedings of the aforesaid State case are refused as I do not see any abuse of the court's process at this pre-trial stage.

74. The present application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. is, accordingly, rejected. There shall be no order as to costs.

Act provides a further limitation of one month for filing complaint from the date when cause of action has arisen - this period of one month may be extended provided complainant satisfies the Court that there was sufficient reason for not filing a complaint under such scheduled period. Whereas in present case there is no sufficient reason, except this that accused was making assurance for making payment, for which there was no evidence on record. This specific ingredient of offence was missing. Hence, there was no abuse of process of law by trial court in passing impugned order. (Para 6,7,8)

Criminal Application rejected.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ram Krishna Gautam, J.)

1. The applicant, by means of this application under Section 482 Cr.P.C., has invoked the inherent jurisdiction of this Court with prayer to quash the impugned order dated 18.06.2012, passed by A.C.J.M., Court No. 11, Azamgarh in Complaint Case No. 6381 of 2011, under Section 138 N.I. Act, P.S. Sidhari, District Azamgarh.

2. Heard learned counsel for applicant, learned counsel for opposite party no. 2, learned A.G.A. for State and perused the record.

3. Learned counsel for applicant argued that opposite party no. 2 had taken Rs.8,00,000/- as earnest money for making a sale of immovable property in favour of applicant on 10.09.2010 and an assurance for execution of sale deed was given within a week. On 18.09.2010 a further demand of Rs.2,00,000/- towards consideration was made and it was denied. Money paid was demanded back. Opposite party no. 2 requested for grant of time for making repayment, but it was not paid back. Ultimately, on 05.10.2010 opposite party no. 2 issued two cheques, one of Rs.2,00,000/- bearing No.465182 and another of Rs.1,00,000/- bearing No.465183 with assurance for returning remaining Rs.5,00,000/- in cash. These two cheques were presented before Allahabad Bank, Branch Daulatabad, District Azamgarh, which were dishonoured because of insufficient fund in account. This dishonour was communicated on 30.03.2011. A notice was issued to opposite party no. 2, but even after notice dated 21.05.2011, no response was made. Even after receipt of notice, an assurance was made for making repayment of entire amount within a month. Applicant, being an innocent person, waited for a month, but it was of no avail. Again a request was made, wherein assurance was being extended on every day. Ultimately, a complaint was filed on 04.07.2011 for offences punishable under Section 138 N.I. Act and it was rejected by trial court because of being time barred. It was abuse of process of law. Hence, this application with above prayer.

4. Learned counsel for opposite party no. 2 vehemently opposed the application with this contention that this proceeding under Section 482 Cr.P.C., is not maintainable, rather appeal under Section 372 Cr.P.C. with a leave to appeal under Section 378 Cr.P.C. ought to be filed by the applicant.

5. Learned A.G.A. has vehemently opposed the application.

6. From the very perusal of impugned order, it is apparent that this complaint was not filed within stipulated period under Section 142 N.I. Act. Notice, which ought to be issued within one month from date of receipt of dishonour of cheque, was not issued. It has been written in this application that cheque was dishonoured and communicated on 30.03.2011, but notice was issued on 21.05.2011. Whereas, Section 138 of N.I. Act constitutes offence if a cheque has been issued against existing liability or debt; this has been presented to the Bank within a period of six months or within period of its validity, whichever is earlier; it has been dishonoured owing to insufficiency of amount or amount arranged there for; a demand notice for payment of cheque amount is to be given to the drawer of the cheque within 30 days of the receipt of information by him from the Bank regarding return of cheque as unpaid and within 15 days of receipt of same, if payment is not being made, then and then only cause of action arises for filing of complaint for an offence punishable under Section 138 N.I. Act. Section 142 of N.I. Act provides a further limitation of one month for filing complaint from the date when cause of action has arisen. Section 142 of N.I. Act reads as under:-

Cognizance of offences.-- Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974)--

(a) no court shall take cognizance of any offence punishable under section 138 except upon a complaint, in writing, made by the payee or, as the case may be, the holder in due course of the cheque;

(b) such complaint is made within one month of the date on which the cause of action arises under clause (c) of the proviso to section 138: 24

[Provided that the cognizance of a complaint may be taken by the Court after the prescribed period, if the complainant satisfies the Court that he had sufficient cause for not making a complaint within such period.

7. Meaning thereby, this period of one month may be extended provided complainant satisfies the Court that there was sufficient reason for not filing a complaint under such scheduled period. Whereas in present case there is no sufficient reason, except this that accused was making assurance for making payment, for which there was no evidence on record. Moreso, Section 138 of N.I. reads as under:-

138. Dishonour of cheque for insufficiency, etc., of funds in the account. --Where any cheque drawn by a person on an account maintained by him with a banker for payment of any amount of money to another person from out of that account for the discharge, in whole or in part, of any debt or other liability, is returned by the bank unpaid, either because of the amount of money standing to the credit of that account is insufficient to honour the cheque or that it exceeds the amount arranged to be paid from that account by an agreement made with that bank, such person shall be deemed to have committed an offence and shall, without prejudice to any other provisions of this Act, be punished with imprisonment for [a term which may be extended to two years], or with fine which may extend to twice the amount of the cheque, or with both:

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall apply unless--

(a) the cheque has been presented to the bank within a period of six months from the date on which it is drawn or within the period of its validity, whichever is earlier;

(b) the payee or the holder in due course of the cheque, as the case may be, makes a demand for the payment of the said amount of money by giving a notice in writing, to the drawer of the cheque, 20 [within thirty days] of the receipt of information by him from the bank regarding the return of the cheque as unpaid; and

(c) the drawer of such cheque fails to make the payment of the said amount of money to the payee or, as the case may be, to the holder in due course of the cheque, within fifteen days of the receipt of the said notice.

Explanation.-- For the purposes of this section, "debt or other liability" means a legally enforceable debt or other liability.

8. The notice is to be issued within 30 days form the date of receipt of dishonour information from the Bank concerned i.e. for a cause of action to arise for an offence punishable under Section 138 of N.I. Act, the condition precedent is issuing of notice of demand within 30 days from a receipt of information of dishonour and in present case no such notice was issued within 30 days. Admittedly, cheque was dishonoured and information was received on 30.03.2011 and notice was issued on 21.05.2011 i.e. much beyond above 30 days. This specific ingredient of offence was missing. Hence, there was no abuse of process of law by trial court in passing impugned order.

9. Jurisdiction of High Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. is for ensuring end of justice and it can exercise that inherent jurisdiction in any case where it finds that subordinate court is doing abuse of process of law. Hence, argument of learned counsel for the opposite party no. 2 that this proceeding under Section 482 Cr.P.C. is not maintainable is also not tenable.

10. Accordingly, this application merits its dismissal. The application is dismissed as such.

A. Criminal law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973-Sections 216 and 217- Amended Charge- The provisions of Sections 216 and 217 are mandatory in nature as they not only sub-serve the requirement of principles of natural justice but guarantee an important right which is given to the accused persons to defend themselves appropriately by giving them full opportunity of cross-examination of the witnesses.

It is incumbent upon the trial court to afford the accused an opportunity of cross-examination, once the charge is amended and denial of such opportunity will amount to violation of the principles of natural justice and render the trial vitiated. (Para 12, 13, 14)

Criminal Application disposed of.

Case law discussed:-

Bhimanna Vs. St. of Karnataka, (2012) 9 SCC 650

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajit Singh, J.)

1. Heard Sri Anoop Trivedi, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Mohd. Rashid Siddiqui and Abhinav Gaur, learned counsel for the applicant and Sri Swetashwa Agarwal, learned counsel for the opposite party no. 2 and learned A.G.A. for the State.

2. The present 482 Cr.P.C. Application No.43580 of 2019 has been filed to quash the orders dated 18.11.2019, 19.11.2019 and 20.11.2019 passed by learned Additional Sessions Judge, Baghpat in S.T. No. 26 of 2017 and S.T. 149 of 2017 (State Vs. Rekha and others), under Sections 147, 148, 149, 302, 307 and 120B IPC, arising out of Case Crime No.271 of 2016, Police Station Binauli, District Baghpat.

3. So far as the Application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. bearing No. 43493 of 2019 is concerned, has also been filed to quash the order dated 19.11.2019 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, IVth, Baghpat in Session Trial No.26 of 2017 (State Vs. Satendra and others), arising out of Case Crime No. 271 of 2016, under Sections 147, 148, 149, 302, 307, 120B IPC, Police Station Binauli, District Baghpat.

4. Both these applications mentioned above are being decided by a common judgment and order as the controversy involved in these two applications is same and identical.

5. The police investigated the matter and submitted the charge sheet against the accused persons, namely, Satendra, Smt. Rekha, Manoj, Nirbhay, Anil, Subodh along with Arjun and the trial commenced. The accused Rekha was charged under Section 120B read with Section 302 IPC and she was further charged under Section 120B read with Section 307 IPC and the accused Manoj was also charged under Section 120B read with Section 302 and 307 IPC and all other accused persons were charged under Sections 302, 147, 148, 149, 307 and 120B IPC and session trial commenced and evidence of prosecution witnesses were recorded. After recording the evidence of the prosecution witnesses, an application was given, copy whereof has been annexed on page 25 onwards under Section 216 Cr.P.C. with the prayer to amend the charges against the accused persons, namely, Rekha and Manoj, charged under Sections 147, 148, 149, 302, 307, 120B IPC. This application was moved on 31.7.2019 and the Court allowed this application vide order dated 18.11.2019, the order has been annexed on page 36 of the paper book and directed that the charge be amended and thereafter the charges against the accused persons, namely, Smt. Rekha and Manoj were amended on 19.11.2019. After the amendment of the charge against the accused Smt. Rekha and Manoj, an application was moved by the prosecution, which is annexed on page 53; which states that the witnesses were present in the Court and they were also ready for cross-examination, but no order was passed by the learned trial Court on the application dated 19.11.2019, moved by the prosecution. Then, again, an application was moved by accused namely Smt. Rekha praying therein that the accused persons may be given an opportunity to cross-examine the prosecution witnesses and the same was rejected. In that application the order was passed on 19.11.2019 by the learned trial Court, which is annexed on page 40 onwards and the operative portion reads as follows:-

"41 वादी के विद्वान अधिवक्ता द्वारा प्रार्थना पत्र प्रस्तुत किया गया है कि अभियुक्ता रेखा व मनोज पर चार्ज में धारा 302 भा०दं०सं० की बढ़ोत्तरी की गयी है। इस स्तर पर अभियोजन अपने साक्षीगण से अभियुक्तगण द्वारा जिरह कराने को तैयार है। अभियुक्तगण के विद्वान अधिवक्ता द्वारा कोई आपत्ति नहीं है और वे जिरह हेतु तैयार हैं। पत्रावली के अवलोकन से पूर्व में ही यह स्पष्ट हो चुका है कि अभियुक्तगण द्वारा अभियोजन पक्ष के साक्षीगण से सम्पूर्ण जिरह की जा चुकी है और धारा 261 दं०प्र०सं० के उपबन्ध-3 के अनुसार अभियुक्तगण को आरोप परिवर्धित किये जाने से कोई भी प्रतिकूल प्रभाव पड़ने की सम्भावना भी प्रतीत नहीं होती है तथा परिवर्धन के पश्चात अभियोजन द्वारा किसी अभियोजन साक्षी का मुख्य परीक्षण नहीं कराया जाना है तथा पूर्व में अभियुक्तगण द्वारा अभियोजन साक्षीगण से प्रतिपरीक्षण विस्तृत रुप से की जा चुकी है। माननीय उच्च न्यायालय के आदेशानुसार पत्रावली का निस्तारण करने के उपरान्त दिनांक 02.12.2019 तक सूचना माननीय उच्च न्यायालय को प्रेषित की जानी है। माननीय उच्च न्यायालय द्वारा भविष्य में भी समयवृद्धि न किये जाने का निर्देश भी दिया गया है। अतः उपरोक्त तथ्यों एवं परिस्थितियों में वादी का प्रार्थना पत्र स्वीकार किये जाने योग्य नहीं है। तद्नुसार प्रार्थना पत्र निरस्त किया जाता है।"

6. The order passed on the application of the accused persons is annexed to the supplementary affidavit oat page 8 dated 20.11.2019, filed in this application. The learned trial Court rejected the application moved by the accused persons for re-crossexamination of the witnesses as fresh and the learned trial Court has opined that if the trial is being proceeded without affording an opportunity to cross-examine the prosecution witnesses to the accused persons, there will be no adverse effect on the accused persons and thereafter rejected the right of cross-examination of the accused persons.

7. Learned counsel for the applicants has submitted that the trial Court by not affording the opportunity to cross-examine the prosecution witnesses has committed manifest error and has totally bypassed the settled principles of law and by not permitting the accused to cross-examine the prosecution witnesses after amendment of the charge which has been specifically provided by the Sections 216 and 217 Cr.P.C.

8. He further submitted that initially both the accused persons were charged under Section 120-B read with Section 302 IPC and again charged under Section 120B and 302 IPC and they were not charged with the offence under Sections 147, 148, 149, 302 IPC. He further submits that initially the charges were confined only to the conspiracy and now by way of amendment of the charge, substantial change in the charges levelled earlier has been made and a new role has been assigned and attributed to the accused persons by amending charge and the accused persons were not able to defend themselves legally and they have not been provided and afforded an opportunity to cross-examine the prosecution witnesses in light of amended charges and their legal rights have been curtailed and slashed by the learned trial Judge.

9. Sri Swetashwa Agarwal, learned counsel for the opposite party no.2 has not disputed the fact that the charge was amended and he has accepted that the charges were already amended; and in the proper interest of justice the accused should have been provided the right to cross-examine which has never been catered.

10. The provisions of Sections 216 and 217 of Code of Criminal Procedure, which are relevant and necessary for just and proper decision of the controversy, are reproduced below:-

"216. Court may alter charge.

(1) Any Court may alter or add to any charge at any time before judgment is pronounced.

(2) Every such alteration or addition shall be read and explained to the accused.

(3) If the alteration or addition to a charge is such that proceeding immediately with the trial is not likely, in the opinion of the Court, to prejudice the accused in his defence or the prosecutor in the conduct of the case, the Court may, in its discretion, after such alteration or addition has been made, proceed with the trial as if the altered or added charge had been the original charge.

(4) If the alteration or addition is such that proceeding immediately with the trial is likely, in the opinion of the Court, to prejudice the accused or the prosecutor as aforesaid, the Court may either direct a new trial or adjourn the trial for such period as may be necessary. (5) If the offence stated in the altered or added charge is one for the prosecution of which previous sanction is necessary, the case shall not be proceeded with until such sanction is obtained, unless sanction has been already obtained for a prosecution on the same facts as those on which the altered or added charge is founded.

217. Recall of witnesses when charge altered. Whenever a charge is altered or added to by the Court after the commencement of the trial, the prosecutor and the accused shall be allowed- or addition, any witness who may have been examined, unless the Court, for reasons to be recorded in writing, considers that the prosecutor or the accused, as the case may be, desires to recall or re-examine such witness for the purpose of vexation or delay or for defeating the ends of justice;

(a) to recall or re-summon, and examine with reference to such alteration

(b) also to call any further witness whom the Court may think to be material. B.- Joinder of charges The bare reading of Section 216 reveals that though it is permissible for any Court to alter or add to any charge at any time before judgment is pronounced, certain safeguards, looking into the interest of the accused person who is charged with the additional charge or with the alteration of the additional charge, are also provided specifically under sub-sections (3) and 4 of Section 216 of the Code. Sub-section(3), in no uncertain term, stipulates that with the alteration or addition to a charge if any prejudice is going to be caused to the accused in his defence or the prosecutor in the conduct of the case, the Court has to proceed with the trial as if it altered or added the original charge by terming the additional or alternative charge as original charge. The clear message is that it is to be treated as charge made for the first time and trial has to proceed from that stage. This position becomes further clear from the bare reading of sub-section(4) of Section 216 of the Code which empowers the Court, in such a situation, to either direct a new trial or adjourn the trial for such period as may be necessary. A new trial is insisted if the charge is altogether different and distinct.

Even if the charge may be of same species, the provision for adjourning the trial is made to give sufficient opportunity to the accused to prepare and defend himself. It is, in the same process, Section 217 of the Code provides that whenever a charge is altered or added by the Court after the commencement of the trial, the prosecutor as well as the accused shall be allowed to recall or re-summon or examine any witnesses who have already been examined with reference to such alteration or addition. In such circumstances, the Court is to even allow any further witness which the Court thinks to be material in regard to the altered or additional charge.

11. When this Court applies the aforesaid principles to the facts of this application it emerges out that initially the accused persons were charged for an offence under Section 120B read with Section 302 IPC and later on charges were amended to Sections 147, 148, 149, 302 IPC and initially the accused persons were considering that they had to defend themselves against the charge with which they were charged that is criminal conspiracy, later on they were charged with offence of murder they were charged under Sections 147, 148, 149, 302 IPC now they have to defend themselves under the amended charge and the amended charges are bound to create prejudice to the applicants. In order to take care of the said prejudice, it was incumbent upon the prosecution to recall the witnesses, examine them in the context of the charge under Section 302 IPC and other relevant sections and allowed the accused persons to cross-examine the prosecution witnesses in the light of amended charge.

12. In the present case, with the framing of alternative charge, testimony of those witnesses recorded prior to that date could even be taken into consideration and this Court is of the opinion that the provisions of Sections 216 and 217 are mandatory in nature as they not only sub-serve the requirement of principles of natural justice but guarantee an important right which is given to the accused persons to defend themselves appropriately by giving them full opportunity of cross-examination of the witnesses.

13. The credibility of any witness can be established only after the said witness is put to cross-examination by the accused persons in connection with the charged offence. In the instant case, no cross-examination of the prosecution witnesses has taken place insofar as concerned charge under Sections 147, 148, 149 and 302 IPC and if the accused persons are not provided an opportunity to cross-examine the prosecution witnesses then the trial will be vitiated.

14. It is principle of natural law that nobody will be condemned unheard and proper and due hearing should be provided to the accused and the cross-examination is one of the facet of due hearing which ought to be provided to every accused to defend himself of the charge being levelled against him.

15. In Bhimanna Vs. State of Karnataka reported in(2012) 9 SCC 650, it has been held:-

"19. It is a matter of great regret that the trial court did not proceed with the case in the correct manner. If the trial Court was of the view that there was sufficient evidence on record against Yenkappa (A- 1) and Suganna (A-3), which would make them liable for conviction and punishment for offences, other than those under Section 447 and 504/34 IPC, the court was certainly not helpless to alter/add the requisite charges, at any stage prior to the conclusion of the trial. Section 216 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (hereinafter called "Cr.P.C.") empowers the trial Court to alter/add charge(s), at any stage before the conclusion of the trial. However, law requires that, in case such alteration/addition of charges causes any prejudice, in any way to the accused, there must be a fresh trial on the said altered/new charges, and for this purpose, the prosecution may also be given an opportunity to recall witnesses as required under Section 217 Cr.P.C."

16. After considering the rival submissions and considering the facts and circumstances of this case, this Court deems it proper to direct that the learned trial Court will provide an opportunity to the applicants for cross-examination of the prosecution witnesses in the interest of justice and will protect the constitutional rights of due hearing and fair trial of the accused. It is further directed that the learned trial Court will call the prosecution witness day by day and will provide an opportunity to the accused persons to cross-examine the witnesses and it is also being directed that the prosecution witnesses will present as and when required by the trial Court and the accused persons will not take any unnecessary adjournment, if the witnesses are present in the Court. After providing opportunity to the accused persons for cross-examination of the prosecution witnesses and after recording the statements of the accused persons under Section 313 Cr.P.C., the learned trial Court will pass the judgment.

17. The learned trial Court will not act in haste in deciding this session trial and the trial Court will follow and adhere to the mandatory provisions of law.

18. With the above observations, both the applications are finally disposed of.

A. Criminal law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 311 - Very object of Section 311 is to bring on record evidence not only from the point of view of accused and prosecution but also from the point of view of the orderly society .The court enjoys vast power to summon any person as a witness or recall and re-examine a witness provided same is essentially required for just decision of the case. Moreover, such exercise of power can be at any stage of inquiry, trial or proceedings under the Code, meaning thereby, applicant can file an application at any time before conclusion of trial.

The power of the Court to summon or re-examine any witness, under the exercise of its powers u/s 311 Cr.Pc , is unfettered and can be exercised at any stage of the trial in the interest of justice.

B. Criminal Law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 311- Delay in re-examination of Prosecution witness - Grant of fair and proper opportunities to the persons concerned, must be ensured being a constitutional goal, as well as a human right. If substantial justice and technicalities are pitted against each other, the cause of substantial justice should not be defeated on technicalities. No procedure in a Court of law should be allowed to defeat the cause of substantial justice on some technicalities.

Even though the trial court has allowed the application for re-examination of a witness u/s 311 of the Cr.Pc after 19 years and after the evidence of the prosecution has ended, the order of the trial court is just and proper since delay being a technicality, cannot defeat the ends of substantial justice. (Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Manju Rani Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Bhaskar Bhadra, learned counsel for the applicant and Mr.

Prashant Kumar, learned A.G.A. for the State.

2. The present 482 Cr.P.C. application has been filed to quash the order dated 30th October, 2019 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 15, Bareilly in Sessions Trial No. 727 of 2001 (State Vs. Nisar Ahmad & Others) arising out of Case Crime No. 538 of 2000, under Sections-396 and 120-B I.P.C., Police Station-Bahedi, District-Bareilly, whereby the application made by opposite party no.2 under Section 311 Cr.P.C. for re-examination of Prosecution Witness No.2, namely, Ashok Kumar has been allowed.

3. Learned counsel for the applicant submits that the court below, without considering the objection and evidences available on record has passed the impugned order, allowing the application of opposite party no.2 under Section 311 Cr.P.C. It is further submitted that in the trial of the aforesaid case, the evidences between the parties have already been ended and the trial is at the final stage, therefore, the application filed by the prosecution for re-examination of P.W.-2, namely, Ashok Kumar after 19 years delay, is not maintainable. It is further submitted that P.W. -2 Ashok Kumar has already been examined and cross-examined on 19th September, 2006 and when the prosecution thought that the prosecution would not succeed in the instant session trial then with the collusion of said witness, is trying to re-examine him, in an effort to succeed,, which is not permissible under law in any manner. He, therefore, submits that the order impugned, passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, is absolutely illegal, arbitrary, contrary to the evidence on record and is also beyond time, hence the same is liable to be quashed. In support of his plea, learned counsel for the applicant has placed reliance upon a judgment of the Rajasthan High Court (Jaipur Bench) in the case of Raghunath Prasad Vs. State of Rarjasthan, reported in 1997 LawSuit (Raj) 12.

4. Per contra, Mr. Prashant Kumar, learned A.G.A. for the State has opposed the submission made by the learned counsel for the applicant by contending that the order impugned passed by the court below is legal and valid. The court below has recorded pure finding of fact while allowing the application filed by opposite party no.2 under Section 311 Cr.P.C. for re-examination of P.W.-2, namely, Ashok Kumar for identifying Exhibit-Ka-3. The court below has not committed any error in passing the impugned order, therefore, do not call for any interference by this Court. Hence, he submits that the present application is liable to be rejected.

5. I have considered the submissions made by the learned counsel for the parties and have gone through the records of the present application.

6. Before ascertaining correctness of aforesaid submissions having been made by the learned counsel for the parties, vis-a-vis, impugned order passed by the learned court below, this Court deems it proper to take note of the provisions of law contained under Section 311 CrPC:

"311. Power to summon material witness, or examine person present:-. Any Court may, at any stage of any inquiry, trial or other proceeding under this Code, summon any person as a witness, or examine any person in attendance, though not summoned as a witness, or recall and re- examine any person already examined; and the Court shall summon and examine or recall and reexamine any such person if his evidence appears to it to be essential to the just decision of the case."

7. Careful perusal of aforesaid provision clearly suggests that court enjoys vast power to summon any person as a witness or recall and re-examine a witness provided same is essentially required for just decision of the case. Moreover, such exercise of power can be at any stage of inquiry, trial or proceedings under the Code, meaning thereby, applicant can file an application at any time before conclusion of trial. Very object of Section 311 is to bring on record evidence not only from the point of view of accused and prosecution but also from the point of view of the orderly society.

8. Otherwise also, it is well established principle of criminal jurisprudence that discovery, vindication and establishment of truth are main purposes of underlying object of courts of justice. It is also well settled that wider the power, greater the responsibility upon court, which exercises such power and exercise of such power cannot be untrammeled and arbitrary, rather same must be guided by object of arriving at a just decision of case. Close scrutiny of aforesaid provision of law further suggests that Section 311 has two parts; first part reserves a right to the parties to move an appropriate application for re-examination of a witness at any stage; but definitely the second part is mandatory that casts a duty upon court to re-examine or recall or summon a witness at any stage if his/her evidence appears to be essential for just decision of case because, definitely the underlying object of aforesaid provision of law is to ensure that there is no failure of justice on account of mistake on the part of either of parties in bringing valuable piece of evidence or leaving an ambiguity in the statements of witnesses examined from either side.

9. The Apex Court in Raja Ram Prasad Yadav vs. State of Bihar and another, reported in (2013)14 SCC 461, has held that power under Section 311 Cr.P.C. to summon any person or witness or examine any person already examined can be exercised at any stage provided the same is required for just decision of the case. It may be relevant to take note of the following paras of the judgment:-

"14. A conspicuous reading of Section 311 Cr.P.C. would show that widest of the powers have been invested with the Courts when it comes to the question of summoning a witness or to recall or re-examine any witness already examined. A reading of the provision shows that the expression "any" has been used as a pre-fix to "court", "inquiry", "trial", "other proceeding", "person as a witness", "person in attendance though not summoned as a witness", and "person already examined". By using the said expression "any" as a pre-fix to the various expressions mentioned above, it is ultimately stated that all that was required to be satisfied by the Court was only in relation to such evidence that appears to the Court to be essential for the just decision of the case. Section 138 of the Evidence Act, prescribed the order of examination of a witness in the Court. Order of re-examination is also prescribed calling for such a witness so desired for such re-examination. Therefore, a reading of Section 311 Cr.P.C. and Section 138 Evidence Act, insofar as it comes to the question of a criminal trial, the order of re-examination at the desire of any person under Section 138, will have to necessarily be in consonance with the prescription contained in Section 311 Cr.P.C. It is, therefore, imperative that the invocation of Section 311 Cr.P.C. and its application in a particular case can be ordered by the Court, only by bearing in mind the object and purport of the said provision, namely, for achieving a just decision of the case as noted by us earlier. The power vested under the said provision is made available to any Court at any stage in any inquiry or trial or other proceeding initiated under the Code for the purpose of summoning any person as a witness or for examining any person in attendance, even though not summoned as witness or to recall or re-examine any person already examined. Insofar as recalling and re-examination of any person already examined, the Court must necessarily consider and ensure that such recall and re-examination of any person, appears in the view of the Court to be essential for the just decision of the case. Therefore, the paramount requirement is just decision and for that purpose the essentiality of a person to be recalled and re-examined has to be ascertained. To put it differently, while such a widest power is invested with the Court, it is needless to state that exercise of such power should be made judicially and also with extreme care and caution."

10. In this context, I also wish to make a reference to the judgment of the Apex Court in Mannan SK and others vs. State of West Bengal and another reported in AIR 2014 SC 2950, wherein the the Apex Court Court has held as under:-

"10. The aim of every court is to discover truth. Section 311 of the Code is one of many such provisions of the Code which strengthen the arms of a court in its effort to ferret out the truth by procedure sanctioned by law. It is couched in very wide terms. It empowers the court at any stage of any inquiry, trial or other proceedings under the Code to summon any person as a witness or examine any person in attendance, though not summoned as witness or recall and re-examine already examined witness. The second part of the Section uses the word 'shall'. It says that the court shall summon and examine or recall or re-examine any such person if his evidence appears to it to be essential to the just decision of the case. The words 'essential to the just decision of the case' are the key words. The court must form an opinion that for the just decision of the case recall or reexamination of the witness is necessary. Since the power is wide it's exercise has to be done with circumspection. It is trite that wider the power greater is the responsibility on the courts which exercise it. The exercise of this power cannot be untrammeled and arbitrary but must be only guided by the object of arriving at a just decision of the case. It should not cause prejudice to the accused. It should not permit the prosecution to fill-up the lacuna. Whether recall of a witness is for filling-up of a lacuna or it is for just decision of a case depends on facts and circumstances of each case. In all cases it is likely to be argued that the prosecution is trying to fill-up a lacuna because the line of demarcation is thin. It is for the court to consider all the circumstances and decide whether the prayer for recall is genuine."

11. Aforesaid exposition of law clearly suggests that a fair trial is main object of criminal jurisprudence and it is duty of court to ensure such fairness is not hampered or threatened in any manner. It has been further held in the aforesaid judgments that fair trial entails interests of accused, victim and society and therefore, grant of fair and proper opportunities to the persons concerned, must be ensured being a constitutional goal, as well as a human right. The Apex Court has categorically held in the aforesaid judgment that adducing evidence in support of the defence is a valuable right and denial of such right would amount to denial of a fair trial.

12. Further, the Apex Court in Raja Ram Prasad Yadav vs. State of Bihar and another reported in (2013)14 SCC 461, while culling out certain principles required to be borne in mind by the courts while considering applications under Section 311 has held that exercise of widest discretionary powers under Section 311 should ensure that judgment should not be rendered on inchoate, inconclusive and speculative presentation of facts. Hon'ble Apex Court has further held that if evidence of any witness appears to be essential for the just decision of the case, it is the duty of the court to summon and examine or recall and re-examine any such person because very object of exercising power under Section 311 is to find out truth and render a just decision. Most importantly, in the judgment referred to herein above, the Apex Court has held that court should bear in mind that no party in trial can be foreclosed from correcting errors and that if proper evidence was not adduced or a relevant material was not brought on record due to any inadvertence, the Court should be magnanimous in permitting such mistakes to be rectified.

13. There is no dispute that P.W.-2 has already been examined and cross-examined but perusal of the application made by opposite party no.2 under Section 311 Cr.P.C. as well as the order impugned indicate that P.W. -8, namely, Naseer Ahmad had already proved Exhibit Ka-3 but had not identified the accused persons and the informant Kamal Kumar and P.W.-2 Ashok Kumar had earlier identified the accused persons but since informant Kamal Kumar had expired, re-examination of P.W.-2 Ashok Kumar is required to identify Exhibit-Ka-3 as he was the witness of the same. From the finding recorded by the court below under the order impugned, this Court finds no illegality or infirmity in the order impugned. The court below while referring to the provisions of Section 311 Cr.P.C. and the law laid by the Apex Court, has rightly allowed the application made by opposite party no.2 under Section 311 Cr.P.C. The delay in re-examination of P.W.-2 pleaded by the learned counsel for the applicant is a so technical plea, which may hamper the interest of substantial justice. It is settled law that all Courts of law are established for furtherance of interest of substantial justice and not to obstruct the same on technicalities. In Jai Jai Ram Manohar Lal vs. National Building Material Supply; AIR 1969 SC 1267, the Apex Court has held that if substantial justice and technicalities are pitted against each other, the cause of substantial justice should not be defeated on technicalities. No procedure in a Court of law should be allowed to defeat the cause of substantial justice on some technicalities. The Apex Court has reiterated the same in the case of Ghanshyam Dass & Ors. vs. Dominion of India & Ors; reported in (1984) 3 SCC 46. The judgment of the Rajasthan High Court relied upon by the learned counsel for the applicant in the case of Raghunath Prasad (Supra) is clearly distinguishable in the facts of the present case.

14. In view of the aforesaid, I find no good reason to interfere with the order impugned. The present application devoid of merits and is accordingly rejected.

A. Criminal law - Code Of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 340/ 344- In order to enable the court to form an infallible opinion that the witness who has deposed before the court are speaking false and has given false statement / evidence in their testimony and in order to decide proposed action against the witnesses, it is incumbent on the court to wait for completion of entire evidence and final arguments in the case because the opinion to be formed must be the outcome of appreciation of entire evidence recorded by it. Any haste shown by the court in the course of trial and any hurried opinion formed in the midst of the trial will result in premature consideration of the matter disabling the court from clearly and precisely assessing the truth or reliability of the statement of the witness in its proper perspective.

Proceedings u/s 344 Cr.Pc can be initiated only at the time of delivery of the judgement and the said proceedings cannot be drawn during the pendency of the trial.

B. Criminal law - Code Of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Section 482- Section 482 (3)- Supervisory Jurisdiction of the High Court –The learned Trial judge committed an illegality in registering a miscellaneous case in the exercise of powers under section 340 of the Cr.Pc during the pendency of the trial and therefore the prayer for expediting the proceedings of the case u/s 340 Cr.Pc is misconceived hence entire proceedings of the Misc. Case u/s 340 Cr.Pc quashed.

Criminal Application rejected.
(Para 7, 11, 12)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajul Bhargava, J.)

1. Heard Sri Yogendra Singh holding brief of Sri Ajay Singh, learned counsel for the applicant and Sri Pankaj Saxena, learned A.G.A. for the State.

2. The present application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. has been filed by the applicant for quashing the entire proceeding of Criminal Case no. 73 of 2017 (State vs. Rahul Kushwaha) u/s 354-A, 376, 452, 506 IPC and u/s 3,4,7,8 of POCSO Act, 2012, Case Crime no. 315 of 2017, P.S. Kotwali Jalaun, District Jalaun pending in the court of Additional District & Sessions Court-II, Jalaun at Orai.

3. Learned counsel for the applicant has argued that the opposite party no. 2 has lodged totally false and fictitious case of commission of rape against the applicant with his daughter and infact no such incident has taken place. The reality is that the first informant, father of the victim is a greedy person and in order to extort money he has lodged false first information report. Learned counsel has also touched upon merit of the case especially the statement of the victim recorded u/s 161 and 164 Cr.P.C. and other contradictions and inconsistencies and weakness of the prosecution case, however, he submitted that till date six witnesses of fact and some formal witnesses have been examined and it is stated that during the pendency of trial of the applicant, his brother Mohit filed an application u/s 340 Cr.P.C. before the trial court on 25.4.2019 drawing attention of the trial court to several weakness of the prosecution case in order to demonstrate that the prosecutrix first informant and I.O., S.I. Brijesh Kumar who was then posted at P.S. Jalaun be prosecuted u/s 170, 182, 193, 209, 211 IPC in the aforesaid session trial. Copy of the application moved u/s 195/340 Cr.P.C. has been annexed as Annexure-6 to the affidavit.

4. Learned counsel has further argued that learned Additional Session Judge considering the contradictions, discrepancy and ocular testimony of the victim with regard to medical evidence and several other weakness has passed an order dated 25.3.2019 that miscellaneous case may be registered against the opposite party no. 2, his daughter victim and aforesaid police inspector. It is recorded that in order to pass further order u/s 340 Cr.P.C. certain more evidence is necessary which the applicant Mohit i.e. brother of the applicant shall be filing. Learned counsel submitted that the trial Judge be directed to expedite the proceeding u/s 340 Cr.P.C. within stipulated time period and as the order passed u/s 340 Cr.P.C. is quite detailed and reasoned order by which the trial court has disbelieved the deposition of first informant, victim especially laying stress on the inconsistencies in the medical evidence and thus as the court has drawn proceeding u/s 340 Cr.P.C. in which dates are being fixed the proceedings against the applicant may be quashed.

5. Learned A.G.A. Strongly opposed and submitted that it is admitted fact that the session trial against the applicant is still pending in which evidence is to be recorded and final order in the case is yet to be pronounced and therefore, order dated 25.3.2019 passed by trial Judge for registration of misc. case in the exercise of its power u/s 340 Cr.P.C. is wholly illegal and is in violation of procedure laid down therein. He has contended that Section 340 Cr.P.C. did not permit for initiation of proceeding under the said section otherwise than at the time of delivery of judgment or final order disposing off any judicial proceeding pending before it, therefore, said order has been assailed by learned AGA as being too premature enough to form a valid and successful foundation for prosecution of the victim and police officer u/s 340 of the Code. He has argued that the trial Judge has exceeded in his jurisdiction in scanning the deposition of the witnesses recorded during trial and disbelieved them during the pendency of trial which is absolutely illegal and perverse. For ready reference Section 340 is as under:-

340. Procedure in cases mentioned in section 195.

(1) When, upon an application made to it in this behalf or otherwise, any Court is of opinion that it is expedient in the interests of justice that an inquiry should be made into any offence referred to in clause (b) of sub- section (1) of section 195, which appears to have been committed in or in relation to a proceeding in that Court or, as the case may be, in respect of a document produced or given in evidence in a proceeding in that Court, such Court may, after such preliminary inquiry, if any, as it thinks necessary,-

(a) record a finding to that effect;

(b) make a complaint thereof in writing;

(c) send it to a Magistrate of the first class having jurisdiction;

(d) take sufficient security for the appearance of the accused before such Magistrate, or if the alleged offence is non- bailable and the Court thinks it necessary so to do, send the accused in custody to such Magistrate; and

(e) bind over any person to appear and give evidence before such Magistrate.

(2) The power conferred on a Court by sub- section (1) in respect of an offence may, in any case where that Court has neither made a complaint under sub- section (1) in respect of that offence nor rejected an application for the making of such complaint, be exercised by the Court to which such former Court is subordinate within the meaning of sub- section (4) of section 195.

(3) A complaint made under this section shall be signed,-

(a) where the Court making the complaint is a High Court, by such officer of the Court as the Court may appoint;

(b) in any other case, by the presiding officer of the Court.

(4) In this section," Court" has the same meaning as in section 195.

6. In order that provisions of Section 340 Cr.P.C. may apply, the court is under a statutory duty to form an opinion that the witness appearing in the proceeding before it has knowingly or wilfully given or fabricated false evidence for which they can be prosecuted for offence u/s 170, 182, 193, 209, 211 IPC.

7. I am of the considered opinion that in order to enable the court to form an infallible opinion that the witness who has deposed before the court are speaking false and has given false statement / evidence in their testimony and in order to decide proposed action against the witnesses, it is incumbent on the court to wait for completion of entire evidence and final arguments in the case because the opinion to be formed must be the outcome of appreciation of entire evidence recorded by it. It cannot be permitted as the same would amount to pre-judging the testimony of witness before the trial is over. Any haste shown by the court in the course of trial and any hurried opinion formed in this respect will result in premature consideration of the matter disabling the court from clearly and precisely assessing the truth or reliability of the statement of the witness in its proper perspective.

8. At this juncture in order to examine the validity of proceedings pending u/s 340 Cr.P.C., reference of Section 344 Cr.P.C. be made, which reads as under:-

344. Summary procedure for trial for giving false evidence.

(1) If, at the time of delivery of any judgment or final order disposing of any judicial proceeding, a Court of Session or Magistrate of the first class expresses an opinion to the effect that any witness appearing in such proceeding had knowingly or wilfully given false evidence or had fabricated false evidence with the intention that such evidence should be used in such proceeding, it or he may, if satisfied that it is necessary and expedient in the interest of justice that the witness should be tried summarily for giving or fabricating, as the case may be, false evidence, take cognizance of the offence and may, after giving the offender a reasonable opportunity of showing cause why he should not be punished for such offence, try such offender summarily and sentence him to imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months, or to fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both.

(2) In every such case the Court shall follow, as nearly as may be practicable, the procedure prescribed for summary trials.

(3) Nothing in this section shall affect the power of the Court to make a complaint under section 340 for the offence, where it does not choose to proceed under this section.

(4) Where, after any action is initiated under sub- section (1), it is made to appear to the Court of Session or Magistrate of the first class that an appeal or an application for revision has been preferred or filed against the judgment or order in which the opinion referred to in that sub- section has been expressed, it or he shall stay further proceedings of the trial until the disposal of the appeal or the application for revision, as the case may be, and thereupon the further proceedings of the trial shall abide by the results of the appeal or application for revision.

9. From the plain and simple reading of Section 344 Cr.P.C. the Court is of the opinion that it is in the interest of justice an enquiry should be made in the offences referred to Clause 2(1) of 195 which appears to have been committed or in relation to proceeding in the court can only be examined while passing the final judgment or order as in the case of Section 344 Cr.P.C. as is also required u/s 344 Cr.P.C. which contemplates summary procedure for trial for giving false evidence.

10. The logical reason why the legislature very consciously provided at the opening part of Section 344 Cr.P.C. at the time of delivery of judgment or final order disposing of any judicial proceeding, a court of Session or Magistrate of First Class expressed an opinion to the effect that any witness appearing in such proceeding had knowingly or wilfully given false evidence or had fabricated false evidence with the intention that such evidence should be used in the such proceeding, it or he may , if satisfied that it is necessary and expedient in the interest of justice that the witness should be tried summarily for giving or fabricating, as the case may be.

11. Thus, from the Section 340 and 344 Cr.P.C. there is clear indication in the aforesaid words that the court should not hurry to form its opinion in the midst of trial of the case that a witness who has deposed in the trial, has knowingly or wilfully given false evidence intending it to be used as evidence in the proceeding.

12. In the light of the aforesaid, this Court in the exercise of its inherent power u/s 482 Cr.P.C. supervisory jurisdiction u/s 482(3) Cr.P.C. deem it fit to quash the entire proceeding of Criminal Case no. 36 of 2019 (Mudit vs. Veer Singh) pending in the court of First Additional Session Judge, Jalaun at Orai.

13. I may record that the prayer for quashing of the proceedings against the applicant made in the present application is bereft of merit and is therefore liable to be dismissed.

14. The present application is dismissed.

15. It is made clear that any finding and observations made by Additional Session Judge in the order dated 25.3.2019 stands effaced and the Presiding Officer before whom proceedings are now pending shall totally ignore any observations made in the order dated 25.3.2019.

16. Office is directed to communicate the order to the concerned court forthwith.

Counsel for the Opposite Parties:

A. Criminal law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 319 - Privilege of facing the trial afresh and witnesses be re-heard is given to the newly arrayed accused and not to the accused persons who have already faced the trial and their trial is at the fag end.

The trial of the accused persons who have already faced the trial and their trial is at the fag end, cannot be permitted to commence afresh on the ground that they should be tried together with the newly impleaded accused.

B. Criminal law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 319- Disassociation of trial of newly impleaded accused from the rest of the accused persons, is perfectly just and valid and in consonance with the scheme and spirit of Section 319 Cr.P.C. - Separating the file is not equivalent to separating the session trial. It is like two branches coming out of a same stem.

Dissassociation of trial of the newly impleaded accused is not equivalent to separation of the Sessions Trial and will not result in any prejudice, therefore the application filed on behalf of the accused, whose trial is about to end, that he should be tried together afresh with the newly impleaded accused, is misconceived and against the provisions of Section 319 Cr.P.C.

Interpretation of Statutes-Harmonious Construction-Words "such person"- Indicative of a person who is non-accused and has been summoned to face the prosecution in the midst of the trial in exercise of power u/s 319 Cr.P.C. Words "could be tried together with the accused" are directory.

The mandate of law of fresh trial is mandatory whereas the mandate that a newly added accused could be tried together with the accused whose trial is at the fag end is directory. The words "could be tried together with the accused" in Section 319(1) Cr.P.C. cannot be said to be capable of only one construction. If it was so, the approach to be adopted would be different since the intent of parliament is to be respected despite the consequences of interpretation. There is, however, a scope of two possible constructions. That being the position, a reasonable and a common sense approach deserves to be adopted and preferred rather than a construction that would lead to absurd results. (Para 9, 17,19)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rahul Chaturvedi, J.)

1. Heard Shri Dharmendra Singhal, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Shri Sunil Singh and Shri Shivendra Raj Singhal leanred counsel for the applicant as well as learned A.G.A. and also perused the record.

2. After hearing the parties at length, this Court deems it proper to adjudicate this application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. at the threshold/admission stage itself.

3. The applicant Kailash Singh, by means of present application is invoking the extraordinary powers of this Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. targeting the validity and veracity of the order dated 26.11.2019 whereby learned Additional Session Judge-II/Special Judge, SC/ST Act, Kanpur Dehat (Ramabai Nagar) has turned down the request of the accused-applicant to hold a de-novo trial of the Special Session Trial No.28 of 2017, arising out of Case Crime No.368 of 2016, u/s 302/34, 307/34, 504, 506 I.P.C. and Section 3(2)(V) of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, Police Station-Rura, District-Kanpur Dehat, along with newly arrayed accused Pratap Singh Katiyar but to the contrary the trial court has disconnected and disassociated the trial of the newly arrayed accused Pratap Singh Katiyar vide the impugned order. Aggrieved by the aforesaid order, the present Application u/s 482 Cr.P.C., has been moved by the accused-applicant Kailash Singh.

4. Learned Senior Counsel. while addressing the Court, has strenuously argued that the impugned order dated 26.11.2019 is against the soul and spirit of Section 319 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, therefore, it is liable to be quashed.

5. Facts of the case :- The applicant along with accused Ashutosh Singh @ Anshu is facing criminal prosecution in the court of the II-Additional Session Judge/Special Judge, SC/ST Act, Kanpur Dehat by means of Special Session Trial No.28 of 2017 (State vs. Ashutosh Pratap Singh and others). The genesis of the case ignites from lodging of the F.I.R. by one Indra Pal Chamar on 16.11.2016 for the incident said to have taken place on 16.11.2016 at 9.00 A.M. of which the F.I.R. was got registered at 11.10 A.M. as Case Crime No.368 of 2016 at Police Station Rura, District-Kanpur Dehat (Ramabai Nagar), u/s 302, 307, 504, 506, 34 I.P.C. and Section 3(2)(5) of SC/ST Act against Ashutosh Singh @ Anshu Singh, Kailash Singh and Pratap Singh Katiyar, with the allegations that when the informant Indra Pal Chamar along with his father Ram Shankar (50 years old), went to his agriculture field, the accused persons, namely, Ashutosh Singh @ Anshu, his father Kailash Singh (applicant) with Pratap Singh Katiyar appeared at the place of occurrence and tried to take away their tractor over the standing crop of the informant forcibly. On resistance by them, the accused applicant Ashutosh Singh @ Anshu fired from his gun causing instant death of Ram Shankar, father of the informant. Thereafter, he again fired upon the informant but due to his lady luck the informant could save his life. The assailants after causing death, ran away from the spot hurling filthy abuses rebuking their caste. This incident was witnessed by many of the co-villagers. The post-mortem report of the deceased reveals that he received two gun shot injuries on his person. After holding an extensive and threadbare investigation, the Police has submitted report u/s 173(2) Cr.P.C. against Ashutosh Singh @ Anshu and Kailash Singh dropping the name of Pratap Singh Katiyar from the charge sheet under Sections 302/34, 307/34, 504, 506 I.P.C. and Section 3(2)(V) of SC/ST Act and against Bhanu Pratap Singh and Bhupendra Pratap Singh an additional charge sheet was also submitted u/s 201 I.P.C. However, a Bench of this Court by entertaining the Application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. No.15196 of 2017 by order dated 14.9.2017 has directed that no coercive action shall be taken against Bhanu Pratap Singh and Bhupendra Pratap Singh. The file of Ashutosh Pratap Singh @ Anshu and Kailash Singh was disassociated and on 22.9.2018 the charges were framed against these named accused persons in the aforementioned sections of Indian Penal Code.

6. During trial the testimony of Indra Pal, Munna and number of other prosecution witnesses were recorded. Thereafter, an Application No.17Kha was moved u/s 319 Cr.P.C. with the prayer to call upon Pratap Singh Katiyar (non-accused) to face the prosecution. Vide order dated 16.01.2019 the said application was allowed by the learned Trial Judge summoning Pratap Singh Katiyar under Sections 302, 307, 504, 506, 201, 34 I.P.C. and Section 3(2)(5) of SC/ST Act. Aggrieved by the aforesaid order, newly arrayed accused Pratap Singh Katiyar preferred a Criminal Revision No.806 of 2019, which was allowed by this Court on 25.2.2019, quashing the order dated 16.01.2019 and remanding the matter to reconsider and revisit the entire issue and decide the same in the light of latest judgments of Hon'ble Apex Court within a period of eight weeks. Pursuant to the order dated 25.02.2019, learned Session Judge again on 4.5.2019 passed a detailed reasoned order taking into account the guidelines laid down by Hon'ble Apex Court in various judgments and summoned the non accused Pratap Singh Katiyar to face the trial. On the other hand, the co-accused Ashutosh Pratap Singh @ Anshu has preferred a Criminal Appeal No.3383 of 2017 challenging the order dated 9.5.2017, whereby the learned Additional Session Judge/Special Judge, SC/ST Act, Kanpur Dehat had rejected the Bail Application No.800 of 2017, arising out of Case Crime No.368 of 2016, under Sections 302, 307, 504, 506/34, 201 I.P.C. and Section 3(2)(5) of SC/ST Act, P.S.-Rura, District-Kanpur Dehat. The said appeal was dismissed by a bench of this Court by order dated 18.5.2018 with a direction to the court below to decide the trial within a period of nine months from the date of production of a certified copy of the order.

7. From the order impugned, it is being borne out that in Special Session

Trial No.28 of 2017, in addition to all witnesses of fact, as many as nine witnesses were examined by the trial court and at that stage the application u/s 319 Cr.P.C. was moved. So practically speaking the trial has already reached to its pinnacle and after passing the order impugned, 26.11.2019 was the date fixed for recording the statement u/s 313 of Cr.P.C. At this juncture, it appears that it was prayed by the accused persons that they should be tried together with Pratap Singh Katiyar, the newly arrayed accused, which was turned down by the trial court and files of both were ordered to be segregated. Aggrieved by this order, the present application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. has been preferred.

8. To appreciate the controversy involved, it is imperative to critically analyze the provisions of Section -319 Cr.P.C. which reads thus :-

"319. Power to proceed against other persons appearing to be guilty of offence.

(1) Where, in the course of any inquiry into, or trial of, an offence, it appears from the evidence that any person not being the accused has committed any offence for which such person could be tried together with the accused, the Court may proceed against such person for the offence which he appears to have committed.

(2) Where such person is not attending the Court, he may be arrested or summoned, as the circumstances of the case may require, for the purpose aforesaid.

(3) Any person attending the Court, although not under arrest or upon a summons, may be detained by such Court for the purpose of the inquiry into, or trial of, the offence which he appears to have committed.

(4) Where the Court proceeds against any person under sub- section (1), then-

(a) the proceedings in respect of such person shall be commenced afresh, and the witnesses re- heard;

(b) subject to the provisions of clause (a), the case may proceed as if such person had been an accused person when the Court took cognizance of the offence upon which the inquiry or trial was commenced."

9. For the purposes of present controversy the catch expression is "such person could be tried together with the accused" and in Section 319(4)(a) 'the proceedings in respect of "such person" shall be commenced afresh and the witnesses re-heard. Thus, on the plain reading of the Section 319 Cr.P.C., it is explicit and clear that this privilege of facing the trial afresh and witnesses be re-heard, is given to the newly arrayed accused. The accused persons who have already faced the trial and their trial is at the fag end, cannot take help of stalling the trial or in other words their trial can not be permitted to commence afresh. Therefore, disassociation of trial of newly impleaded accused Pratap Singh Katiyar from the rest of the accused persons, is perfectly just and valid and in consonance with the scheme and spirit of Section 319 Cr.P.C. In Section 319 Cr.P.C. "such person" is indicative of a person who is non-accused and has been summoned to face the prosecution in the midst of the trial in exercise of power u/s 319 Cr.P.C. In the instant case, the applicant Kailash Singh, who has already faced the trial and whose trial is about to reach to the logical conclusion, now is making application that he should be tried together with newly impleaded accused Pratap Singh Katiyar, which would amount to travesty of justice and against the provisions of Section 319 Cr.P.C. Moreover, when the Coordinate Bench of this Court has already given a direction to conclude the trial within nine months, this Bench should not pass any order which is tangent to or to nullify the aforementioned order of Coordinate Bench.

10. The second limb of argument advanced by learned senior counsel for the applicant is narrated in paragraph 14 of the petition that separating the trial would cause a serious prejudice to the applicant. Learned counsel for the applicant has relied upon certain paragraphs of Constitution Bench judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court given in the case of Hardeep Singh vs. State of Punjab, 2014 (2) SCC (Crl), 86, which are being quoted hereinbelow :

"105. Power under Section 319 Cr.P.C. is a discretionary and an extra-ordinary power. It is to be exercised sparingly and only in those cases where the circumstances of the case so warrant. It is not to be exercised because the Magistrate or the Sessions Judge is of the opinion that some other person may also be guilty of committing that offence. Only where strong and cogent evidence occurs against a person from the evidence led before the court that such power should be exercised and not in a casual and cavalier manner.

106. Thus, we hold that though only a prima facie case is to be established from the evidence led before the court not necessarily tested on the anvil of Cross-Examination, it requires much stronger evidence than mere probability of his complicity. The test that has to be applied is one which is more than prima facie case as exercised at the time of framing of charge, but short of satisfaction to an extent that the evidence, if goes unrebutted, would lead to conviction. In the absence of such satisfaction, the court should refrain from exercising power under Section 319 Cr.P.C. In Section 319 Cr.P.C. the purpose of providing if "it appears from the evidence that any person not being the accused has committed any offence' is clear from the words "for which such person could be tried together with the accused." The words used are not "for which such person could be convicted'. There is, therefore, no scope for the Court acting under Section 319 Cr.P.C. to form any opinion as to the guilt of the accused."

11. In order to buttress his contentions, learned Senior counsel submitted that the above observations made by Hon'ble Sureme Court in the case of Hardeep Singh (supra) are being regularly followed in the latest judgments of the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Labhu Ji Amratji Thakor vs. State of Gujrat, 2019 AIR (SC), 734.

12. On a careful reading of above excerpts of Hardeep Singh's judgment (supra) would speak about the satisfaction required to be recorded while the Court should exercise this power sparingly and under the circumstances if they warrant. It is very this extraordinary power where there is a definite, strong and cogent evidence is available on record against the person (non-accused), then only such power could be exercised and not in a casual or cavalier way. The expression of Section 319 Cr.P.C. is self revealing. The purpose and the object of providing if "it appears from the evidence that any person not being the accused has committed any offence is clear from the words "for which such person could be tried together. Thus the words are not which such person tried together.

13. Learned counsel for the applicant has shown yet another authority of Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Delhi Cloth and General Mills Co. Ltd. vs. State of Madhya Pradesh and others, AIR 1996 SC 283. This case relates to the Prevention of Food Adulteration Act and deals with the Section 20(A) of the Act. Paragraph-7 of the judgment reads thus :

"7. A reading of Section 20-A clearly indicates that during the course of the trial for any of the offence under the Act alleged to have been committed by any person, if the evidence adduced before the Court discloses that the manufacturer, distributor or dealer is also concerned with that offence, then the Court has been empowered, notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (3) of s.319 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (for short, 'the Code') to treat as if the manufacturer, distributor or the dealer is being proceeded against under Section 20 of the Act, as originally instituted thereunder. The concept of vendor and vendee is known to civil law and passing of the title in the goods is alien to the prosecution for an offence under the Act. It cannot, therefore, be introduced in a trial for the offence under the Act. The Act advisedly made a person who sells adulterated article of food liable to be prosecuted for the offence of adulteration of the article of food. During the trial when it comes to the notice of the Magistrate, from the evidence adduced, that the manufacturer, distributor or dealer of that article of food, which is the subject matter of adulteration, is also concerned with the offence, then the court has been empowered to proceed against such manufacturer, distributor or dealer as if prosecution has initially been instituted against him under Section 20 of the Act. In fact, for general offences,SEction 319 (1) of the Code empowers the court where during the course of enquiry or trial of an offence, if it appears from the evidence that any person not being accused has committed any offence for which such person could be tried together with the accused, to proceed against such person for the offence which he appears to have committed. In view of the language of Section 20-A of the Act, whatever is contained in sub-section (3) of Section 319 of the Code, would not stand in the way of the Magistrate to proceed at a trial against any person, i.e., the original accused and against others mentioned in Section 20-A. In other words, joint trial for the same offence is permitted. The object appears to be that in a case where common evidence discloses that the manufacturer, distributor or dealer is also concerned with the offence for which the prosecution was launched against a person from whom the article of food was purchased, to avoid multiplicity of prosecution and also keeping in view the doctrine of autrefois acquit the Legislature introduced s.20A to have joint trial."

14. While laying the stress upon the aforesaid judgment, learned counsel for the applicant submits and tried to draw a parallel that the present accused should also be tried with newly impleaded accused as in the above case the accused was required to be tried along with the manufacturer, distributor or dealer of any article of food, if the court is satisfied, on the evidence adduced before it, that such manufacturer, distributor or dealer is also concerned with that offence. Learned counsel further submits that according to the Hon'ble Apex Court the object appears to be that in a case where a common evidence discloses that the manufacturer, distributor or dealer is also concerned with the offence for which the prosecution was launched against a person from whom the article of food was purchased, to avoid the multiplicity of the prosecution and also keeping in view the doctrine of autrefois acquit, the legislature introduced Section 20A to have joint trial.

This Court has given its conscious consideration to the arguments advanced by learned counsel for the applicant but afraid to follow the aforesaid ratio in the present case, as in this case Laxmi Narayan the accused resident of Joura was found selling Vanaspati Ghee and on analysis it was found to be adulterated and in consequence of same Laxmi Narayan was prosecuted u/s 60 of Prevention of Food Adulteration Act, 1954. Section 20A of the aforesaid Act empowers like this :-

"20A. Power of court to implead manufacturer, etc.--Where at any time during the trial of any offence under this Act alleged to have been committed by any person, not being the manufacturer, distributor or dealer of any article of food, the court is satisfied, on the evidence adduced before it, that such manufacturer, distributor or dealer is also concerned with that offence, then, the court may, notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (3) of section 319 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974)] or in section 20 proceed against him as though a prosecution had been instituted against him under section 20."

15. Thus, Section 20A of the Act clearly indicates that the concept of vendor and vendee is known in civil law and passing of the title in the goods is alien to the prosecution for an offence under the Act. It cannot, therefore, be introduced under a trial of the offence under the Act. The facts of the aforesaid case is entirely distinct and different from the set of facts of the present case and to mind of this Court, it would not be of any help to the counsel for the applicant.

16. Per contra learned A.G.A. while refuting the submissions advanced by learned counsel for the applicant has cited the judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court, which touches the core issue of the present controversy, in the case of Shashi Kant Singh vs. Tarkeshwar Singh, 2002 (5) SCC 738, where the Hon'ble Apex Court has lucidly explained the import of expression "could be tried together with the accused". The relevant paragraph 9 of the judgment is quoted herein below :

"9. The intention of the provision here is that where in the course of any enquiry into, or trial of, an offence, it appears to the court from the evidence that any person not being the accused has committed any offence, the court may proceed against him for the offence which he appears to have committed. At that stage, the court would consider that such a person could be tried together with the accused who is already before the Court facing the trial. The safeguard provided in respect of such person is that, the proceedings right from the beginning have mandatorily to be commenced afresh and the witnesses re-heard. In short, there has to be a de novo trial against him. The provision of de novo trial is mandatory. It vitally affects the rights of a person so brought before the Court. It would not be sufficient to only tender the witnesses for the cross-examination of such a person. They have to be examined afresh. Fresh examination in chief and not only their presentation for the purpose of the cross-examination of the newly added accused is the mandate of Section 319(4). The words 'could be tried together with the accused' in Section 319(1), appear to be only directory. 'Could be' cannot under these circumstances be held to be 'must be'. The provision cannot be interpreted to mean that since the trial in respect of a person who was before the Court has concluded with the result that the newly added person cannot be tried together with the accused who was before the Court when order under Section 319(1) was passed, the order would become ineffective and inoperative, nullifying the opinion earlier formed by the Court on the basis of evidence before it that the newly added person appears to have committed the offence resulting in an order for his being brought before the Court."

17. From the above, it is clear that the mandate of law of fresh trial is mandatory whereas the mandate that a newly added accused could be tried together with the accused whose trial is at the fag end is directory. The words "could be tried together with the accused" in Section 319(1) Cr.P.C. cannot be said to be capable of only one construction. If it was so, the approach to be adopted would be different since the intent of parliament is to be respected despite the consequences of interpretation. There is, however, a scope of two possible constructions. That being the position, a reasonable and a common sense approach deserves to be adopted and preferred rather than a construction that would lead to absurd results. Here in the instant case, accused persons Ashutosh Singh @ Ashu and Kailash Singh have already faced the trial and their trial is almost at the verge of culmination. Now accused-applicant Kailash Singh wants at this stage that a de novo trial may be ordered, keeping in view that Pratap Singh Katiyar, a non-accused, has been summoned in exercise of power u/s 319 Cr.P.C. This is not permissible under the law nor the provisions of Section 319 Cr.P.C. subscribe to this view.

18. Learned A.G.A. while refuting the submissions advanced on behalf of applicant has further relied upon another judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court given in the case of State of Rajasthan vs. Ganeshi Lal reported in A.I.R. 2008 SC 690, wherein the Hon'ble Apex Court has proceeded to observe :-

"11. Reliance on the decision without looking into the factual background of the case before it is clearly impermissible. A decision is a precedent on its own facts. Each case presents its own features. It is not everything said by a Judge while giving a judgment that constitutes a precedent. The only thing in a Judge's decision binding a party is the principle upon which the case is decided and for this reason it is important to analyse a decision and isolate from it the ratio decidendi. According to the well-settled theory of precedents, every decision contains three basic postulates (i) findings of material facts, direct and inferential. An inferential finding of facts is the inference which the Judge draws from the direct, or perceptible facts; (ii) statements of the principles of law applicable to the legal problems disclosed by the facts; and (iii) judgment based on the combined effect of the above. A decision is an authority for what it actually decides. What is of the essence in a decision is its ratio and not every observation found therein nor what logically flows from the various observations made in the judgment. The enunciation of the reason or principle on which a question before a Court has been decided is alone binding as a precedent. (See:State of Orissa v. Sudhansu Sekhar Misra and Ors (AIR 1968 SC 647) and Union of India and Ors. vs. Dhanwanti Devi and Ors. (1996 (6) SCC 44). A case is a precedent and binding for what it explicitly decides and no more. The words used by Judges in their judgments are not to be read as if they are words in Act of Parliament. In Quinn v. Leathem (1901) AC 495 (H.L.), Earl of Halsbury LC observed that every judgment must be read as applicable to the particular facts proved or assumed to be proved, since the generality of the expressions which are found there are not intended to be exposition of the whole law but governed and qualified by the particular facts of the case in which such expressions are found and a case is only an authority for what it actually decides."

Thus, learned A.G.A. has submitted that the ratio laid down in the case of Delhi Cloth and General Mills Company Ltd. (supra) is not applicable under the present scenario.

19. This Court has keenly perused the order impugned and found that by impugned order the file of newly added accused Pratap Singh Katiyar was ordered to be segregated. Merely separating the file of an accused for the reason that he failed to appear before the Court, is quite different from separating the case of an accused for other legal reasons. Former is a procedural matter while the latter is a legal one. In the instant case where a person is being summoned in exercise of power u/s 319 Cr.P.C., the accused persons the trial of whom, is at the fag end cannot claim parallelity with newly impleaded accused. However, where, to avoid the delay in trial, caused by continued long absence of any one or more accused persons, the file of absconded persons is separated as a matter of procedural convenience. Separating the file is not equivalent to separating the session trial. It is like two branches coming out of a same stem and an analogy can be drawn by following example. Where a person never appears before the court or has been added at the later stage, his file is separated, and therefore, this Court at the loss to appreciate the unfounded suspicion that the accused-applicant would suffer a serious prejudice, if file of the newly added accused Pratap Singh Katiyar is separated.

20. After thoroughly marshalling the law and the facts of the present case, I do not find any illegality or impropriety in the order impugned and as such present application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. being lacks merit is hereby dismissed.

21. It is given to understand that the trial of accused persons, namely, Ashutosh Singh @ Ashu and Kailash Singh is at the pinnacle and it is expected from the learned Trial Judge to conclude the same within a period of two months (maximum) from the date of production of certified copy of this order.

ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE

BEFORE
THE HON'BLE MRS. MANJU RANI CHAUHAN, J.

Application U/S 482 No. 45539 of 2019

Padam @ Aasif Raza ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

Counsel for the Applicant:
Sri Aditya Vardhan Singh

Counsel for the Opposite Parties:
A.G.A.

A. Criminal law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Section 190 – Affidavits filed by witnesses , along with the Protest Petition would not amount to statements recorded u/s 200 and 202 Cr.Pc- The Magistrate committed an illegality in rejecting the Final Report submitted by the police and in summoning the applicants on the basis of the affidavits filed by the witnesses with the Protest Petition, which cannot be termed as ` statements" within the meaning of Section 200/ 202 of the Cr.pc.

B. Criminal law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 190 (1)- The use of the words `may take cognizance of any offence' in sub-section (1) of Section 190 Cr.P.C. imports the exercise of `judicial discretion' and the Magistrate, who receives the report under Section 173 Cr.P.C., will have to consider the said report and judicially take a decision whether or not to take cognizance of the offence . If ultimately the Magistrate is of the opinion that the facts set out in the police report constituted an offence he can take cognizance thereof, notwithstanding contrary opinion of the police expressed in the report.

It is open to the Magistrate to exercise his judicial discretion and ignore the police report if he arrives at the conclusion that the facts in the police report make out an offence against the accused but in case a protest petition is accompanied by affidavits of witnesses the recourse open to the Magistrate would be to proceed under Chapter XV of the Cr.Pc.

Magistrate has not referred to any material/documents and oral as well as documentary evidence collected by the Investigating Officer during the course of the investigation and the same has been placed before the concerned Magistrate - No reasons recorded while rejecting the final report - The Magistrate has failed to appreciate that neither acceptance nor non-acceptance of the police report can be termed as an administrative function.

It is incumbent upon the Magistrate to refer to the evidence collected during the course of the investigation and assign reasons for rejecting the final report. (Para 13, 18)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Manju Rani Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Aditya Vardhan Singh, learned counsel for the applicant and Mr. Prashant Kumar, learned A.G.A. for the State.

2. This application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. has been filed with a prayer to allow this application and direct the learned Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Court No. 02, Moradabad to register the case, arising out of Case Crime No. 199(c) of 2016, under Sections 452, 323, 504, 506 I.P.C., Police Station - Behjoi, District Moradabad as a complaint case.

3. Brief facts of the case are that opposite party no. 2, namely, Sabir lodged an F.I.R. on 13.03.2016 against the present applicant and five other accused persons under Sections 395, 397 I.P.C., with allegations that on 24.01.2016, at about 07:00 p.m., when the informant was having dinner at his house, the accused persons, namely, Sachin, Padam (applicant herein), Virendra, Kiran, Bhagwan and Narayandas armed with lathi, stick and country-made pistol entered into the house of the informant stating that he had lodged a case against them and started beating him, hurling abuses. They also threatened to kill him and hit him by the butt of the country made pistol due to which informant's teeth were broken. They also snatched thousand rupees from his pocket. After hearing the informant's screaming, Jogendra Singh and Jogesh Sharma as also other villagers came to rescue the informant. It has also been alleged that about 8 months prior, the aforesaid persons had beaten the informant and his son Harun and has also taken away cash and goods from his house.

4. After investigation, a final report was submitted on 21.03.2016. Thereafter, respondent no. 2 filed a protest petition on 08.11.2016 against the aforesaid final report with a prayer to summon the accused persons. In support of the protest petition, affidavits of Jogendra Singh and his wife Musrin were also filed. It has been submitted by learned counsel for the applicant that vide order dated 18.08.2017, learned Magistrate has rejected the final report and has summoned the accused persons and further directed the case to be registered as a state case.

5. It has been argued by learned counsel for the applicant that the Magistrate after considering the protest petition and the affidavits had the option to proceed in the following manner:

(i) He may agree with the conclusions arrived at by the police, accept the report and drop the proceedings. But, before doing so, he shall give an opportunity of hearing to the complainant; or

(ii) He may take cognizance under Section 190(I)(b) and issue process straightway to the accused without being bound by the conclusions of the investigating agency, where he is satisfied that upon the facts discovered by the police, there is sufficient ground to proceed; or

(iii) He may order further investigation; or

(iv) He may decide to take cognizance under Section 190(I)(b) upon the protest petition treating the same as complaint and proceed under Sections 200 and 202 Cr.P.C. and thereafter, decide whether complaint should be dismissed or process should be issued.

6. It has been submitted that in the instant case, cognizance was taken on the basis of protest petition and accompanying affidavits. However, the learned Magistrate should have adopted the procedure of complaint case as referred to in Chapter XV of Code of Criminal Procedure and should have recorded the statements of complainant and witnesses who had filed their submissions in support of the protest petition.

7. In support of his case learned counsel for the applicant has placed reliance upon the following judgments :

1. Mohammed Yusuf Son of Muzaffar.....Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh and Zeeshan reported in 2008 CriLJ 493;

2. Subhash Singh & Ors. Vs. State of U.P. & Anr. reported in 2011(2) JIC 827 (All)(LB);

3. Hari Ram Vs. State of U.P. and another (Criminal Revision No. 695 of 2001, decided on 06.05.2016) reported in 2016 Lawsuit (All) 1359 ;

4. Ramji Lal Vs. State of U.P. And Others (Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 6485 of 2004, decided on 15.03.2019).

8. Per contra, Mr. Prashant Kumar, learned A.G.A. for the State has vehemently opposed the submissions made by the learned counsel for the applicant by submitting that the learned Magistrate on the basis of the complaint, protest petition filed by the complainant against the final report as well as the affidavits of witnesses, has rightly directed the present case to be registered as a state case. There is no illegality and infirmity in the order passed by the concerned Magistrate, therefore, the same cannot be interfered with by this Court and the present application is liable to be rejected.

9. Before coming to the merits of the submissions made by the learned counsel for the parties it would be worthwhile to reproduce Section 190 Cr.P.C., which is quoted hereinbelow:

"190. Cognizance of offences by Magistrates.

(1) Subject to the provisions of this Chapter, any Magistrate of the first class, and any Magistrate of the second class specially empowered in this behalf under sub- section (2), may take cognizance of any offence-

(a) upon receiving a complaint of facts which constitute such offence;

(b) upon a police report of such facts;

(c) upon information received from any person other than a police officer, or upon his own knowledge, that such offence has been committed.

(2) The Chief Judicial Magistrate may empower any Magistrate of the second class to take cognizance under sub- section (1) of such offences as are within his competence to inquire into or try."

10. Thus, cognizance can be taken by the Magistrate upon (a)receipt of a complaint disclosing facts constituting commission of an offence (b)upon a police report disclosing such facts or (c)on his own knowledge.

11. A bare perusal of Clause (b) above, would show that the Magistrate can take cognizance of any offence, irrespective of whether it is a cognizable offence or a non-cognizable offence upon a police report disclosing such facts as would constitute commission of an offence. The foundation of the jurisdiction of the Magistrate for taking cognizance of an offence does not depend upon the validity or otherwise of an investigation carried out by the police. It depends only upon the set of facts and circumstances placed before the Court, from which the Court comes to a conclusion that they constitute commission of an offence.

12. If the primary requirement is satisfied, an FIR is to be registered and the criminal law is set in motion and the officer-in-charge of the police station takes up the investigation.

13. Further perusal of the aforesaid provisions it is clear that a Magistrate to whom a report under Section 173 (1) Cr.P.C. had been submitted to the effect that no case has been made out against the accused, can not direct the police to file a charge-sheet on his disagreeing with that report. The use of the words `may take cognizance of any offence' in sub-section (1) of Section 190 Cr.P.C. imports the exercise of `judicial discretion' and the Magistrate, who receives the report under Section 173 Cr.P.C., will have to consider the said report and judicially take a decision whether or not to take cognizance of the offence. It is also clear that the the Magistrate has no jurisdiction to direct the police to submit a charge-sheet but it was open to the Magistrate to agree or disagree with the police report. If he agrees with the report that there is no case made out for issuing process to the accused he may accept the report and close the proceedings. If he comes to the conclusion that further investigation is necessary he may make an order to that effect under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. It is further clear that if ultimately the Magistrate is of the opinion that the facts set out in the police report constituted an offence he can take cognizance thereof, notwithstanding contrary opinion of the police expressed in the report.

14. In para (21) of Mehmood Ul Rehman v. Khazir Mohammad Tunda and others reported in (2015) 12 SCC 420, the Apex Court has made a fine distinction between taking cognizance based upon charge sheet filed by the police under Section 190(1)(b) Cr.P.C. and a private complaint under Section 190(1)(a) Cr.P.C. and held as under:-

"Under Section 190(1)(b) CrPC, the Magistrate has the advantage of a police report and under Section 190(1)(c) CrPC, he has the information or knowledge of commission of an offence. But under Section 190(1)(a) CrPC, he has only a complaint before him. The Code hence specifies that "a complaint of facts which constitute such offence". Therefore, if the complaint, on the face of it, does not disclose the commission of any offence, the Magistrate shall not take cognizance under Section 190(1)(a) CrPC. The complaint is simply to be rejected."

15. For ready reference, paragraph-11 of the judgment of this Court in the case of Mohammed Yusuf (supra) reads as follows:

"11. Where the Magistrate decides to take cognizance under Section 190(1)(b) ignoring the conclusions reached at by the Investigating Officer and applying his mind independently, he can act only upon the statements of the witnesses recorded by the police in the case-diary and material collected during investigation. It is not permissible at that stage to consider any material other than that collected by the investigation Officer. In the instant case the cognizance was taken on the basis of the protest petition and accompanying affidavits. The Magistrate should have adopted the procedure of complaint case under Chapter XV of the Code of Criminal Procedure and recorded the statements of the complainant and the witnesses who had filed affidavits under Sections 200 and 202 Cr.P.C. The Magistrate could not take cognizance under Section 190(1)(b) Cr.P.C. on the basis of protest petition and affidavits filed in support thereof. The Magistrate having taken into account extraneous material i.e. protest petition and affidavits while taking cognizance under Section 190(1)(b) Cr.P.C. the impugned order is vitiated."

16. Paragraphs nos. 3 and 4 of the judgment of this Court in the case of Subhash Singh (supra), which is relevant for deciding the present application is quoted herein-under:

"3. Upon perusal of the order impugned I find that the learned Magistrate has considered the record, protest application, affidavit as well as case diary and some other documents also, which may be material of the police report and thereafter having found investigation as not proper, he rejected the final report. It is settled law that once after submission of the final report, the Magistrate takes cognizance of offence on the basis of protest application, keeping in view the material therein, he has to proceed with the case as a complaint case.

4. Since the learned Magistrate has considered the case diary also and observed that the Investigating Officer has not recorded the statement of witnesses properly, I am of the view that he has considered the case diary also, whereas the learned Magistrate has to clear himself as to whether he has to proceed on the basis of material available in the case diary or on the basis of material of the protest application, because these two different mode of considerations provide two different procedure of trial, therefore, I hereby quash the order impugned dated 5th of April, 2011 with the direction to the learned Magistrate, first to clear himself as to whether he has to proceed on the basis of protest application or on the basis of case diary, and then proceed accordingly. The Magistrate is at liberty to proceed to his own wisdom".

17. Lastly, paragraph nos. 22 to 28 of the of the judgment of this Court in the case of Hari Ram (supra) are also quoted herein-below:

"22. In Mohammad Yusuf Vs. State of U.P. 2007 (9) ADJ 294, Police submitted final report which was not accepted by Magistrate, not on the basis of material collected by Police, but, relying on Protest Petition and accompanying affidavit Magistrate issued process. Court disapproved the aforesaid procedure adopted by Magistrate and said:

"Where the magistrate decides to take cognizance under section 190 (1) (b) ignoring the conclusions reached at by the investigating officer and applying his mind independently, he can act only upon the statements of the witnesses recorded by the police in the case-diary and material collected during investigation. It is not permissible at that stage to consider any material other than that collected by the investigating officer. In the instant case the cognizance was taken on the basis of the protest petition and accompanying affidavits. The Magistrate should have adopted the procedure of complaint case under Chapter XV of the Code of Criminal Procedure and recorded the statements of the complainant and the witnesses who had filed affidavits under Section 200 and 202 Cr.P.C. The Magistrate could not take cognizance under section 190 (1) (b) Cr.P.C. on the basis of protest petition and affidavits filed in support thereof. The Magistrate having taking into account extraneous material i.e. protest petition and affidavits while taking cognizance under section 190 (1) (b) Cr.P.C. the impugned order is vitiated." (emphasis added)

23. In Kallu and others Vs. State of U.P. 2010 (69) ACC 780, Court said:

"Therefore, in present case also, if the material in the case diary was not sufficient for summoning the accused persons to face the trial, then the protest petition filed by the complainant against the final report ought to have been registered as complaint and after following the procedure laid down in section 200 and 202 Cr.P.C."

24. Court further held:

"If after taking evidence under section 200 and 202 Cr.P.C., the magistrate decides to take cognizance against the accused persons, final report has to be rejected, but in any case, cognizance cannot be taken merely on the basis of affidavits or other material filed by the complainant in support of the protest petition against final report without following the procedure laid down under Chapter XV Cr.P.C., if the material in the case diary is not sufficient to take cognizance."(emphasis added)

25. In Mitrasen Yadav Vs. State of U.P. 2010 (69) ACC 540, Court said that on the basis of Protest Petition and documents filed therewith, no cognizance under Section 190(1)(b) Cr.P.C. can be taken.

26. In Criminal Revision No. 1601 of 2015 (Mukeem and 2 others Vs. State of U.P. and another) decided on 07.08.2015, Court while deprecating procedure followed by Magistrate by relying on Protest Petition and its documents, without following procedure of complaint, said:

"The impugned order shows that the Magistrate summoned accused persons presuming that oral evidence on behalf of first informant was adduced on protest petition, which is possible only when the protest petition was ordered to be treated as a complaint. The record shows that neither protest petition was ordered to be registered as complaint nor any oral evidence of the witnesses was recorded. Summoning of the accused persons on the basis of the oral evidence indicates that the Magistrate was satisfied with the fact that in evidence collected by the I.O, there was no sufficient material for taking cognizance. The learned Magistrate has also observed that the I.O. has committed a mistake in not recording the evidence of other witnesses. Summoning is also based on facts mentioned in the protest petition and documentary evidence, as mentioned in the order impugned which is erroneous in view of the law cited above." (emphasis added)

27. In Writ Petition- Misc. Single No. 3776 of 2012 (Mohammad Shafiq Khan and others Vs. State of U.P. and others) decided on 24.03.2014, Court, in para 9, held as under:

"9. Therefore, it is clear from the above that the Magistrate on the basis of protest petition can reject the final report, he may treat the protest petition as complaint, he may also direct for further investigation. But in the facts of this case the Magistrate while rejecting the final report has also taken into consideration the affidavits filed along with protest petition and this approach of the Magistrate was not in accordance with law." (emphasis added)

28. Looking to exposition of law, discussed above, I find that in the present case Magistrate has not referred to any material placed before him or collected by Investigating Officer. Instead it has rejected final report on the basis of facts stated in Protest Petition and thereafter relying on the affidavits filed before him along with Protest Petition, proceeded to issue notice. The affidavits would not amount to a statement recorded by Magistrate under Section 200 and 202 Cr.P.C. Magistrate has not given any reason for rejecting Police report and nothing has been said in this regard except that in the light of affidavits placed before him along with Protest Petition, he finds that final report is liable to be rejected and accused would be summoned. This approach on the part of Magistrate, I find contrary to what has been laid down in the above authorities and the same cannot be sustained."

18. In the light of the judgments of the Apex Court as well as this Court, referred to above, it is explicitly clear that the contention raised on behalf of the applicant has substance. The impugned order passed by the concerned Magistrate is cryptic and does not stand the test laid down by the Apex Court as well as this Court. In the present case also, the concerned Magistrate has not referred to any material/documents and oral as well as documentary evidence collected by the Investigating Officer during the course of the investigation and the same has been placed before the concerned Magistrate. Apart from the above, the concerned Magistrate has rejected the final report submitted by the Investigating Officer only on the basis of facts stated in the protest petition filed by opposite party no.2 and considering the facts of the protest petition and affidavits of the witnesses produced before him, the concerned Magistrate has issued notice to the applicant. Such affidavits would not amount to a statement recorded by the Magistrate under Section 200 and 202 Cr.P.C. The concerned Magistrate has not recorded any reasons while rejecting the final report and he has also not mentioned anything in that regard. Only in view of the affidavits produced before him along with Protest Petition, the concerned Magistrate has found that the final report is liable to be rejected and accused-applicant would be summoned. The concerned Magistrate has failed to appreciate that neither acceptance nor non-acceptance of the police report can be termed as an administrative function. Since it is after application of judicial mind and examination of the material submitted along with the report under S. 173 Cr.P.C., the Magistrate makes the order under Section 190 Cr.P.C. Such lethargic approach of the concerned Magistrate, as per my view, is contrary to what has been laid down in the above authorities and the same cannot be legally sustained.

19. In view of the above discussion, the application u/S 482 Cr.P.C. succeeds and is allowed. The impugned order dated 18.08.2017 is hereby set aside and the matter is remanded to the concerned Magistrate to take decision afresh in accordance with observations made herein above.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Anil Kumar-IX, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the applicant, learned AGA for the State and perused the record.

2. This application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. has been filed by the applicant with the prayer to quash the entire proceeding of Case No./S.S.T. No.156 of 2019 (State Vs.Aniket Harsh and others), under Sections 363, 366, 120B, 368, 406 IPC & 17, 18 POCSO Act, Police Station- Mungra Badshapur, District- Jaunpur as well as charge sheet dated 16.10.2019.

3. Brief facts, which are requisite to be stated for adjudication of this application are that an F.I.R. was lodged by opposite party No.2 against accused Aniket and his associates on 01.03.2019 alleging therein that they have enticed away his minor daughter (victim) aged about 17 years on 25.2.2019. She left the house with cash and ornaments. After investigation charge has been filed by the Investigating Officer against the applicant and co-accused Aniket and Krishna Chandra, under Sections 363, 366, 120B, 368, 406 IPC and 17/18 POCSO Act, Police Station- Mungra Badshapur, District- Jaunpur.

4. Learned counsel for the applicant contended that applicant is innocent and has been falsely implicated in this case. He further argued that no offence is disclosed against the applicant and present prosecution has been instituted with a mala fide intention for the purpose of harassment.

5. Learned AGA opposed the prayer of the applicant and submitted that at this stage, it cannot be said that the allegations are false or witnesses have given false statements. Disputed question of the defence cannot be considered at this stage. He further submitted that at this stage, it cannot be said that no offence is made out against the applicant.

6. In the case of Monica Kumar Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh (2008) 8 SCC 781 it was held by the Hon'ble Apex Court that inherent jurisdiction under Section 482 Cr.P.C. has to be exercised sparingly, carefully and with caution and only when such exercise is justified by the tests specifically laid down in this section. In the case of State of Bihar Vs. Murad Ali

Khan AIR 1989 SC 1 it was held that in exercising jurisdiction under Section 482 Cr.P.C. High Court would not embark upon an enquiry whether the allegations in the complaint are like to be established by evidence or not.

7. The scope and ambit of power under Section 482 Cr.P.C. has been examined by Hon'ble Apex Court in Union of India Vs. Prakash P. Hinduja and another, AIR 2003 SC 2616 and observed as follows:-

"The grounds on which power under Section 482 Cr.P.C. can be exercised to quash the criminal proceedings basically are (1) where the allegations made in the FIR or complaint, even if they are taken at their face value and accepted in their entirety do not prima facie constitute any offence or make out a case against the accused (2) where the uncontroverted allegations made in the FIR or complaint and the evidence collected in support of the same do not disclose the commission of any offence and make out a case against the accused, (3) where there is an express legal bar engrafted in any of the provisions of Code of Criminal Procedure or the concerned Act to the institution and continuance of the proceedings. But this power has to be exercised in a rare case and with great circumspection".

8. In case in hand, from the perusal of the material on record and looking into the facts of the case, at this stage it cannot be said that no offence is made out against the applicant. All the submissions made by the learned counsel for the applicant relates to the disputed question of fact which cannot be adjudicated upon by this Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. At this stage only prima facie case is to be seen in the light of law laid down in the above mentioned cases and in the cases of R.P. Kapur Vs. State of Punjab, A.I.R. 1960 S.C. 866 and State of Haryana Vs. Bhajan Lal 1992 SCC (Cr.) 426.

9. In view of the above, the prayer for quashing the entire proceedings and charge sheet dated 16.10.2019 of the aforesaid case pending before the court concerned is refused.

10. Accordingly, this application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. is dismissed.

A. Eligibility/Qualification - Regulation 1 of Chapter II of the Regulation framed under the Intermediate Education Act, 1921 - prescribes alternative eligibility criteria for appointment as Principal or Headmaster of an institution - dismissal of claim of the appellant for the post of Principal based on the case of Amal

Kishore Singh is unfounded - the appellant's claim rests on the alternate eligibility criterion prescribed under clause (2)

The qualifications prescribed in terms of clause (2) being one of the alternative sets of eligibility criteria specifically omits to mention any training qualification, a candidate possessing the qualifications thereunder would not require to possess a training qualification which is required under the alternative criteria as per clause (1) and clause (3) of the Entry 1 under Appendix A of Chapter II of the Regulations. Therefore, no requirement of any training qualification and a second class post graduate degree along with teaching experience of ten years in intermediate classes in any recognized institution alone is sufficient for the purpose of being eligible for the post of Principal. (para 38 & 39)

B. Doctrine of Precedent - a judgment is only an authority for what it actually decided and not what logically follows from the various observations made in the judgment - it is necessary to see what were the facts of the case in which the decision was given and what was the point decided

C. Interpretation of Statute - "or" - generally construed as being disjunctive i.e., a connective that marks alternatives

The use of the word "or" as a connective between the three sets of eligibility criteria is indicative of the disjunctive sense marking the three alternatives. The three sets of eligibility criteria under Entry 1 of Appendix A have thus been prescribed, alternatively, as minimum qualifications for being appointed as head of the institution. (para 30)

1. Heard Sri Amit Saxena, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Amit Shukla, for the appellant and Sri Ashok Khare, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Siddharth Khare, for the respondent-petitioner.

2. This intra-court appeal has been preferred against the judgment and order dated 19.12.2019 passed in Writ-A No.48219 of 2013 (Anita Singh Vs. State of U.P. and others) whereby the order dated 16.05.2013, which was impugned in the writ petition, has been set aside and the District Inspector of Schools, Jalaun, has been directed to pass a fresh order in light of the observations made in the judgment for the senior most eligible person to be allowed to officiate as Principal of the Institution so long as regularly selected Principal is not made available. Further, the respondent-petitioner has been held to be entitled to salary as officiating Principal in accordance with the provisions of Section 18(2) of the U.P. Secondary Education Services Selection Board Act, 19821.

3. Briefly stated, the facts of the case are that the post of Principal at Jalaun Balika Inter College2, Jalaun fell vacant on 30.6.2009. The aforementioned Institution is a recognized Institution under the provisions of the Intermediate Education Act, 19213 and the payment of salaries to teachers and other employees of the said Institution is regulated in terms of the provisions of the Uttar Pradesh High School and Intermediate Colleges Payment of Salaries of Teachers and Other Employees Act, 19714.

4. A question arose as to who is entitled to officiate as Principal of the Institution and by an order dated 16.5.2013 the District Inspector of Schools5, Jalaun accepted the candidature of the appellant herein to officiate as Principal as against the claim of the respondent-petitioner primarily on the ground that on the date of occurrence of the vacancy on 30.06.2009 the petitioner did not fulfil the prescribed eligibility criteria.

5. The learned Single Judge while adverting to the rival claims of the two teachers has taken notice of a judgment rendered by a Full Bench of this Court in Amal Kishore Singh Vs. State of U.P. and others6, on the point as to whether a person possessing Bachelor's degree in physical education is qualified to be appointed as Principal in a recognised intermediate college. Following the view expressed by the Full Bench that a teacher having B.P.Ed. degree is not eligible to be appointed as Principal of an intermediate college, the learned Single Judge drew an inference that the training qualification possessed by the appellant being a diploma in physical education she could not be treated to possess the requisite training qualification for the purposes of appointment to the post of Principal in a recognised intermediate college.

6. As regards the petitioner not possessing the requisite qualification for the post of Principal on the date of occurrence of the vacancy on 30.06.2009, since she obtained the necessary qualification only later on 15.12.2010, the learned Single Judge applying the doctrine of necessity held that though the initial appointment of the appellant as officiating Principal in such circumstances may be justified but such necessity would continue only so long as a qualified and eligible teacher was not available to be appointed as officiating Principal. It has been further held that the petitioner having acquired the necessary eligibility on 15.12.2010, the appellant had no right to continue as Principal any further and accordingly the order dated 16.5.2013 has been set aside and the District Inspector of Schools has been directed to pass a fresh order in light of the observations made in the judgment for the senior most eligible person to be allowed to officiate as Principal of the Institution so long as regularly selected Principal is not made available. Simultaneously, the petitioner has also been held entitled to salary for the post of officiating Principal in accordance with the relevant statutory provision.

7. The principal contention raised by the learned Senior Counsel for the appellant is that the Hon'ble Single Judge had erred in failing to consider that on the date of occurrence of vacancy on 30th June, 2009, the appellant was having a postgraduate degree with second division in the subject Sanskrit and also more than ten years' teaching experience in intermediate classes and as such she was fully eligible to be appointed as Principal as per eligibility criteria specified under Entry 1, clause (2) of Appendix A under Chapter II, Regulation 1 of the Regulations framed under the Act, 1921.

8. It is submitted that even though the appellant may not possess the requisite training qualification as per the law laid down in the Full Bench Judgment in the case of Amal Kishore Singh, she still fulfills the requisite qualification as per terms of clause (2) under Entry 1 of Appendix A of the Regulations referred to above.

9. The finding recorded by the learned Single Judge that "there has never been any disciplinary action" against the petitioner have also been assailed by submitting that the material facts with regard to initiation of disciplinary proceedings against the petitioner have been concealed including the fact that she had also been placed under suspension.

10. Per contra, the learned Senior Counsel appearing for the respondent writ petitioner has supported the order passed by the learned Single Judge by submitting that in view of the pronouncement made by the Full Bench in the case of Amal Kishore Singh, the appellant did not possess the requisite training qualification for being appointed as Principal as per the Regulations and her initial appointment as officiating Principal could only be justified on the touchstone of doctrine of necessity and that such necessity came to an end when the writ petitioner obtained the necessary training qualification for being appointed as Principal in December, 2010, and accordingly the continuance of the appellant as officiating Principal thereafter was not permissible in law.

11. In order to appreciate the rival contentions, the necessary statutory framework with regard to the subject matter of the controversy may be adverted to.

12. The Intermediate Education Act, Amal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore Singh 1921 was enacted for the establishment of a Board of High School and Intermediate Examination for the purposes of regulating and supervising the system of High School and Intermediate Education in Uttar Pradesh and to prescribe courses therefor. Amal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore Singh

13. The institution in question is a recognised institution as per terms of the aforementioned Act, 1921. Section 16E of the Act, deals with the procedure for selection of teachers and heads of institutions. Section 16-F pertains to the selection committees for making the aforesaid appointments and Section 16-FF is in respect of minority institutions.

14. The power to make regulations for the purposes of carrying into the effect the provisions of the Act, 1921 is as per terms of sub-section (1) of Section 15 of the Act. It is in exercise of the aforesaid powers that regulations have been framed and the subject matter of "appointment of heads of institutions and teachers" has been dealt with under Chapter II thereof, which is referable to the provisions contained under Sections 16-E, 16-F and 16-FF of the Act, 1921.

15. Regulation 1 under Chapter II of the Regulations stipulates that the minimum qualifications for appointment as heads of institution and teachers in any recognised institution, whether by direct recruitment or otherwise, shall be as given in Appendix A. The educational qualifications and training experience for appointment as head of the institution is provided under Entry 1 of Appendix A, and the same are being extracted below:-

Sl. No.	Name of the Post & Educational Training Experience	Age	Desirable Qualifications
1	2	3	4
1	Head of institution (1) trained M.A. or M.Sc. or M.Com or M.Sc. (Agri) or any equivalent Post-graduate or any other degree which is awarded by corporate body specified in above-mentioned para one and should have at least teaching experience of four years in classes 9-12 in any training institute or in any institution or university specified in above-mentioned para one or in any degree college affiliated to such University or institution, recognized by Board or any institution affiliated from Boards of other States or such other institutions whose examinations recognised by the Board, or should the condition is also that he/she should not be below 30 years' of age. or (2) First or second class post-graduate degree along with teaching experience of ten years in Intermediate classes of any recognized institutions or third class post-graduate degree with teaching experience of fifteen years, or (3) Trained post-graduate diploma-holder in science. The condition is that he has passed this diploma course in first or second class and have efficiently worked for 15 or 20 years respectively after passing such diploma course.	Minimum 30 years

Notes: (1) Assistant teachers having at least second class postgraduate degree and specified teaching experience of ten years in Intermediate classes of a recognised institution may be exempted from training qualifications, (as per the provisions contained in the Act.)

(2) Teaching experience includes teaching prior to or after teaching or both.

(3) Higher classes means classes from 9 to 12 and experience of teaching these classes is admissible for the post of Head Master of Intermediate college.

16. The provisions of the Uttar Pradesh Secondary Education Service Selection Boards Act, 19827, which was enacted to establish Selection Boards for the selection of teachers in institutions recognised under the Act, 1921, may also be taken note of.

17. The powers and duties of the Uttar Pradesh Secondary Education Services Selection Board8 are prescribed under Section 9 of the said Act and it inter alia includes the power to prepare guidelines in respect of matters relating to the method of recruitment and promotion of teachers; to conduct examinations, where necessary, and hold interviews and make selection, of candidates for being appointed as teachers and to make recommendations regarding appointment of selected candidates.

18. Section 16 of the Act, 1982, which begins with a non-obstante clause, provides that notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained under the Intermediate Education Act, 1921 or the Regulations made thereunder but subject to certain specified provisions of the Act, every appointment of a teacher shall on or after the date of commencement of the U.P. Secondary Education Service Selection Board (Amendment) Act, 20019 be made by the management only on recommendation of the Board, and any appointment made in contravention thereof shall be void.

19. Section 18 of the Act, as substituted by the U.P. Act No.5 of 2001 w.e.f. 30.12.2000 provides for appointment of ad hoc Principals or Headmasters, and it runs as follows:-

"18. Ad hoc Principals or Headmasters.--(1) Where the management has notified a vacancy to the Board in accordance with sub-section (1) of Section 10 and the post of the Principal or the Headmaster actually remained vacant for more than two months, the Management shall fill such vacancy on purely ad hoc basis by promoting the senior most teacher, -

(a) in the lecturer's grade in respect of a vacancy in the post of the Principal;

(b) in the trained graduate's grade in respect of a vacancy in the post of the Headmaster.

(2) Where the Management fails to promote the senior most teacher under sub-section (1), the Inspector shall himself issue the order of promotion of such teacher and the teacher concerned shall be entitled to get his salary as the Principal or the Headmaster, as the case may be, from the date he joins such post in pursuance of such order of promotion.

(3) Where the teacher to whom the order of promotion is issued under sub-section (2) is unable to join the post of Principal or the Headmaster, as the case may be, due to any act or omission on the part of the Management, such teacher may submit his joining report to the Inspector, and shall thereupon be entitled to get his salary as the Principal or the Headmaster, as the case may be, from the date he submits the said report.

(4) Every appointment of an ad hoc Principal or Headmaster under subsection (1) shall cease to have effect from the date when the candidate recommended by the Board joins the post."

20. In terms of Section 32 of the Act, 1982 the provisions of the Act, 1921 and the Regulations made thereunder in so far as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of the Act, 1982 or the Rules or Regulations made thereunder are to continue to be in Amal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore

SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore SinghAmal Kishore Singh force for the purposes of selection, appointment, promotion, dismissal, removal, termination or reduction in rank of a teacher.

21. In exercise of rule making power conferred under Section 35 of the Act, 1982, the U.P. Secondary Education Service Selection Board Rules, 1998, were made and Rule 5 thereof provides the academic qualifications for appointment to the post of teachers, and the same reads as under:-

"5. Academic qualifications.--A candidate for appointment to a post of teacher must possess qualifications specified in Regulation 1 of Chapter II of the Regulations made under the Intermediate Education Act, 1921."

22. As per terms of the aforesaid rule, in order to be appointed as a teacher, which term includes a Principal or a Headmaster, the qualifications would be as specified under Regulation 1 of Chapter II of the Regulations framed under the Intermediate Education Act, 1921. Thus, in order to be considered for appointment as an ad hoc Principal or Headmaster under Section 18 of the Act, 1982, the teacher concerned has to possess the qualifications which are prescribed for appointment as Principal or Headmaster under the Regulations, as provided under Entry 1 of Appendix A of Chapter II thereof.

23. The minimum educational qualifications/training experience for the purposes of appointment as head of an institution, as set out under Entry 1 of Appendix A of Chapter II, Regulation 1 of the Regulations under the Act, 1921, envisages three alternatives, which are as follows:-

(1) trained M.A. or M.Sc. or M.Com or M.Sc. (Agri) or any equivalent Post-graduate or any other degree which is awarded by corporate body specified in above-mentioned para one and should have at least teaching experience of four years in classes 9-12 in any training institute or in any institution or university specified in above-mentioned para one or in any degree college affiliated to such University or institution, recognized by Board or any institution affiliated from Boards of other States or such other institutions whose examinations recognised by the Board, or should the condition is also that he/she should not be below 30 years' of age; or

(2) first or second class post-graduate degree along with teaching experience of ten years in Intermediate classes of any recognized institutions or third class post-graduate degree with teaching experience of fifteen years, or

(3) trained post-graduate diploma-holder in science. The condition is that he has passed this diploma course in first or second class and have efficiently worked for 15 or 20 years respectively after passing such diploma course.

24. Notice may be had of the fact that the three sets of alternative eligibility criteria mentioned aforesaid under Entry 1 of Appendix A are connected by the word "or".

25. In logic, mathematics and in the context of statutory interpretation, the word "or" has generally been construed as being disjunctive i.e. a connective that marks alternatives. It has been used to connect words, phrases or classes representing alternatives.

26. The meaning of the word "or" as a tool of statutory construction fell for consideration in the context of interpretation of Section 25-N (6) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, in Cable Corporation of India Limited Vs. Additional Commissioner of Labour and others10, and it was held that the word "or" is normally disjunctive and its use in a statute manifests the legislative intent of the alternatives prescribed under law. The relevant observations made in the judgment are as follows :-

"11. The word "or" is normally disjunctive and "and" is normally conjunctive. But at times they are read as vice versa to give effect to the manifest intention of the legislature as disclosed from the context. As stated by Scrutton, L.J.:

"You do sometimes read "or' as "and' in a statute. But you do not do it unless you are obliged because "or' does not generally mean "and' and "and' does not generally mean "or'. And as pointed out by Lord Halsbury the reading of "or' as "and' is not to be resorted to, "unless some other part of the same statute or the clear intention of it required that to be done'. But if the literal reading of the words produces an unintelligible or absurd result "and' may be read for "or' and "or' for "and' even though the result of so modifying the words is less favourable to the subject provided that the intention of the legislature is otherwise quite clear. Conversely if reading of "and' as "or' produces grammatical distortion and makes no sense of the portion following "and', "or' cannot be read in place of "and'..."

12. In Fakir Mohd. v. Sita Ram [(2002) 1 SCC 741] it was held that the word "or" is normally disjunctive. The use of the word "or" in a statute manifests the legislative intent of the alternatives prescribed under law.

14. A plain reading of the provision makes the position clear that two courses are open. Power is conferred on the appropriate Government to either on its own motion or on an application made, review its order or refer the matter to the Tribunal. Whether one or the other of the courses could be adopted depends on the fact of each case, the surrounding circumstances and several other relevant factors.

15. Under sub-section (6) of Section 25-N it is open to the appropriate Government or the specified authority to review its order granting or refusing to grant permission under sub-section (3).

16. "24. When the words of a statute are clear, plain or unambiguous i.e. they are reasonably susceptible to only one meaning, courts are bound to give effect to that meaning irrespective of consequences. (See State of Jharkhand v.Govind Singh [(2005) 10 SCC 437 and Nathi Devi v. Radha Devi Gupta [(2005) 2 SCC 271] .)

25. In Sussex Peerage case [(1844) 11 Cl & Fin 85 : 8 ER 1034] , Cl & Fin at p. 143 Tindal, C.J. observed as follows: (ER p. 1057)

"If the words of the statute are in themselves precise and unambiguous, then no more can be necessary than to expound those words in their natural and ordinary sense. The words themselves alone do, in such case, best declare the intention of the lawgiver.'

26. When the language is plain and unambiguous and admits of only one meaning no question of construction of a statute arises, for the Act speaks for itself.

27. As observed in Nathi Devi case [(2005) 2 SCC 271] if the words used are capable of one construction only, then it would not be open to the courts to adopt any other hypothetical construction on the ground that such construction is more consistent with the alleged object and policy of the Act. The spirit of the law may well be an elusive and unsafe guide and the supposed spirit can certainly be not given effect to in opposition to the plain language of the sections of the Act.[Ed.: As observed in Orient Paper & Industries Ltd. v. State of M.P., (2006) 12 SCC 468.]"

27. In a similar set of facts, as in the present case, where two sets of eligibility criteria were prescribed for admission to a University course and they were connected by the word "or", the Supreme Court in the case of Guru Nanak Dev University vs. Sanjay Kumar Katwal and another11, held that the use of "or" between two qualifications conveyed a disjunctive sense indicating alternatives and possession of either of the qualifications would make a candidate eligible. It was reiterated that the word "or" is normally used in the disjunctive sense unless the context warrants otherwise. The relevant extract from the judgment is as follows :-

"9. The prescription of eligibility criteria is very clear. It requires a Bachelor's degree with not less than 45% marks or a Master's degree. The University's contention that the candidate must have a Bachelor's degree and only if his marks are less than 45% in the Bachelor's degree course, was the Master's degree to be considered, would mean that the word "or" should be substituted by the words "in the event of the candidate not having 45% marks in the Bachelor's degree". Reading such words into the provision is impermissible. The word "or" is disjunctive. No doubt, in some exceptional circumstances, the word "or" has been read as conjunctive as meaning "and", where the context warranted it. But the word "or" cannot obviously be read as referring to a conditional alternative, when such condition is not specified. In view of the provision relating to eligibility being unambiguous and using the word "or", it is clear that a Master's degree without a Bachelor's degree will satisfy the eligibility requirement."

28. The interpretation of the word "or" in the context of an exemption notification issued under the U.P. Trade Tax Act, 1948 came up for consideration in the case of G.P. Ceramics (P) Ltd. Vs. Commissioner, Trade Tax, Uttar Pradesh12, and it was held that the three contingencies provided for under the notification which were connected by the word "or", were disjunctive in nature. It was stated thus :-

"24. The eligibility criteria is contained in the notification. Sub-clause (ii) of Clause 2-B of the notification envisages three contingencies i.e. (i) the unit is established on land or building or both owned by the dealer; or (ii) the unit is established on land or building or both taken on lease for a period of not less than 15 years; or (iii) the unit is established on land or building or both allotted to such unit by the State or the Central Government or any government company or any corporation owned or controlled by the Central or the State Government.

27. The eligibility criteria are laid down in the notification, which, as noticed hereinbefore, provide for three contingencies. They are disjunctive in nature and not conjunctive..."

29. In this regard, we may also refer to the observations made by Lord Halsbury in Mersey Docks and Harbour

Board vs. Henderson13, which are as follows :-

".....I know no authority for such a proceeding unless the context makes the necessary meaning of "or" "and" as in some instances it does; but I believe it is wholly unexampled so to read it when doing so will upon one construction entirely alter the meaning of the sentence unless some other part of the same statute or the clear intention of it requires that to be done...."

30. In the instant case, the use of the word "or" as a connective between the three sets of eligibility criteria is indicative of the disjunctive sense marking the three alternatives. The three sets of eligibility criteria under Entry 1 of Appendix A have thus been prescribed, alternatively, as minimum qualifications for being appointed as head of the institution. Accordingly, in terms of clause (2) thereof a person having a first or second class postgraduate degree alongwith teaching experience of ten years in Intermediate classes of any recognised institution or having a third class postgraduate degree with teaching experience of fifteen years, would be held to be eligible.

31. The facts of the present case, as reflected from the order dated 16.05.2013 passed by the DIOS, which was under challenge in the writ petition, indicate that the appellant herein possessed a second class post gratuate degree (M.A. in Sanskrit), and had been granted the Lecturer's pay scale with effect from 17.02.2001. She also had a teaching experience of ten years in intermediate classes as on the date of occurrence of vacancy against the post of Principal on 30.06.2009. In addition, the appellant also possessed the training qualifications of C.P.Ed and D.P.Ed.

32. In respect of the petitioner the order dated 16.5.2013 records that at the time of occurrence of vacancy against the post of Principal in the Institution the petitioner in addition to possessing the educational qualification of M.A. (Economics) in third class, had a teaching experience of only six years in intermediate classes.

33. In view of the aforementioned position, the DIOS, in terms of the order 16.5.2013, held that the appellant having posssessed a second class post graduate degree along with teaching experience of ten years in intermediate classes at the institution in question, as on the date of occurrence of vacancy on the post of Principal on 30.6.2009, was qualified for the post of Principal. The order also records that since the petitioner had a post graduate degree in third class with teaching experience of only six years as on the aforesaid date of occurrence of vacancy, she did not possess the necessary eligibility qualification for the post of Principal.

34. The principal ground on which the learned Single Judge has non-suited the claim of the appellant to be appointed as officiating Principal is by placing reliance upon the judgment of the Full Bench in the case of Amal Kishore Singh referred to above. The learned Single Judge by placing reliance upon the judgment has held that since the appellant only possessed a diploma in physical education she was not having the requisite training qualification in order to make her eligible for the post of Principal.

35. In order to appreciate the import of the judgment rendered in the case of Amal Kishore Singh (supra), it may be apt to take note of the questions referred for consideration by the Full Bench, which are as follows:-

"(i) Whether training qualification B.P.Ed. is equivalent qualification to that of B.Ed., L.T., B.T./C.T. Etc. so as to be covered by the phrase "equivalent qualification" of training degree/diploma as contained by Clause-2 of Appendix-A of Chapter-II of the Regulations framed under the Intermediate Education Act, 1921?

(ii) Whether a teacher possessed of a degree of Post Graduate and training qualification of B.P.Ed. from an institute duly recognized by National Council for Teachers Education is qualified for being considered for appointment as Principal/Headmaster of a recognized High School/Intermediate institution?

(iii) Whether the law laid down by the Division Bench in the case of Vindhyachal Yadav (Supra) is the correct law or not."

36. The Full Bench in the case of Amal Kishore Singh thus principally considered the question as to whether a B.P.Ed. degree which is a post graduate training qualification, would entitle a person to hold the post of Principal of an Intermediate college. The aforementioned question was answered by Full Bench by stating that a B.P.Ed. degree holder is eligible to be appointed as Headmaster of a High School, but not as Principal of an Intermediate college. The relevant extract from the judgment in the case of Amal Kishore Singh, answering the questions referred, is as follows :-

"47. We, thus, answer question (i) in affirmative and question (iii) by holding that Vindhyachal Yadav does not lay down the correct law. However, question (ii) has to be answered, subject to certain riders. A B.P.Ed. degree being a post graduate training qualification, would entitle a person to hold post of Headmaster of a recognised High School but not that of Principal of an Intermediate college. The reason is that under Regulations, 2001 as well as under Minimum Qualification Regulations, 2014 framed by NCTE, B.P.Ed. is recognised as eligibility qualification for teaching Classes IX - X (Secondary/ High School) but not for Classes XI - XII (Senior Secondary/Intermediate). For teaching Intermediate classes, the person should possess M.P.Ed. degree of at least two years duration from any National Council for Teacher Education recognised institution. These regulations do not prescribe any separate qualification for Head of institution and thus the qualification prescribed for a teacher of Intermediate classes (Senior-Secondary) would also apply to Head of such an institution. We have already held above that the qualifications prescribed by NCTE would be binding on the State, therefore, the qualifications prescribed by Minimum Qualification Regulations, 2014 have to be read alongwith Appendix-A and thus, a teacher possessing B.P.Ed. degree, would not be eligible to hold post of Principal of an Intermediate College.

48. We, thus, reply to question (ii) by holding that a teacher in physical education having B.P.Ed. degree is eligible to be appointed as Headmaster of a High School, but not as Principal of an Intermediate college."

37. The principal question which fell for consideration before the Full Bench in the case of Amal Kishore Singh was thus as to whether a person holding a B.P.Ed. Degree would be held to possess the necessary training qualification for being appointed to the post of Principal in a recognised intermediate college, and the said question was answered by holding that a teacher having B.P.Ed. degree is eligible to be appointed as Headmaster of a High School, but not as Principal of an Intermediate college.

38. As we have already taken note of, Entry 1 under Appendix A of Chapter II of the Regulations, prescribes three alternative sets of qualifications for being eligible for appointment as Head of the institution. The requirement of possessing a training qualification is prescribed under clause (1) and clause (3) under Entry 1, whereas there is no such prescription of a training qualification under clause (2) thereof. In terms of clause (2), a person having a first or second class post-graduate degree along with teaching experience of ten years in Intermediate classes of any recognized institution or a third class post-graduate degree with teaching experience of fifteen years, has been held to be eligible. The qualifications prescribed in terms of clause (2) being one of the alternative sets of eligibility criteria which specifically omits to mention any training qualification, a candidate possessing the qualifications thereunder would not require to possess a training qualification which is required under the alternative sets of criteria as per clause (1) and clause (3) of the aforesaid Entry.

39. The question under consideration in the case of Amal Kishore Singh being with regard to the training qualifications as prescribed under clause (1) and the interpretation thereof, the law laid down in the aforesaid judgment, would not be applicable to the facts of the present case, inasmuch as the claim of the appellant herein rests on the other alternative eligibility criterion as prescribed under clause (2) whereunder there is no requirement of any training qualification and a second class post graduate degree along with teaching experience of ten years in intermediate classes in any recognised institution, alone is sufficient for the purpose of being eligible for the post of Principal in terms thereof.

40. The law with regard to applicability of the doctrine of precedents is well settled. It has been consistently held that a judgment is only an authority for what it actually decides and not what logically follows from the various observations made in the judgment. In order to fully understand and appreciate the binding force of a decision, it is always necessary to see what were the facts of the case in which the decision was given and what was the point decided.

41. In the case of The State of Orissa Vs. Sudhansu Sekhar Misra and Ors.14 referring to the observations made by Earl of Halsbury LC in Quinn Vs. Leathem15, it was stated thus :-

"12...A decision is only an authority for what it actually decides. What is of the essence in a decision is its ratio and not every observation found therein nor what logically follows from the various observations made in it. On this topic this is what Earl of Halsbury L.C. said in Quinn v. Leathem, 1901 AC 495.

"Now before discussing the case of Allen v. Flood, (1898) AC 1 and what was decided therein, there are two observations of a general character which I wish to make, and one is to repeat what I have very often said before, that every judgment must be read as applicable to the particular facts proved, or assumed to be proved, since the generality of the expressions which may be found there are not intended to be expositions of the whole law, but governed and qualified by the particular facts of the case in which such expressions are to be found. The other is that a case is only an authority for what it actually decides. I entirely deny that it can be quoted for a proposition that may seem to follow logically from it. Such a mode of reasoning assumes that the law is necessarily a logical Code, whereas every lawyer must acknowledge that the law is not always logical at all."

42. A similar view was taken in Union of India vs. Amrit Lal Manchandra and others16, and after referring to the decisions in London Graving Dock Co. Ltd. Vs. Horton17, Home Office Vs. Dorcet Yacht Co.18 and Herrington Vs. British Railways Board19, it was stated that observations of Court must be read in the context in which they appear and that one additional or different fact may make a world of difference.

"15...Courts should not place reliance on decisions without discussing as to how the factual situation fits in with the fact situation of the decision on which reliance is placed.

Observations of Courts are neither to be read as Euclid's theorems nor as provisions of the statute and that too taken out of their context. These observations must be read in the context in which they appear to have been stated. Judgments of Courts are not to be construed as statutes. To interpret words, phrases and provisions of a statute, it may become necessary for Judges to embark into lengthy discussions but the discussion is meant to explain and not to define. Judges interpret statutes, they do not interpret judgments. They interpret words of statutes; their words are not to be interpreted as statutes. In London Graving Pock Co. Ltd. v. Horton (1951 AC 737 at p. 761), Lord Mac Dermot observed:

"The matter cannot, of course, be settled merely by treating the ipsissima verba of Willes, J. as though they were part of an Act of Parliament and applying the rules of interpretation appropriate thereto. This is not to detract from the great weight to be given to the language actually used by that most distinguished Judges."

16. In Home Office v. Dorset Yacht Co.(1970 (2) All ER 294), Lord Reid said, "Lord Atkin's speech....is not to be treated as if it was a statute definition. It will require qualification in new circumstances." Megarry, J. in (1971) 1 WLR 1062 observed:

"One must not, of course, construe even a reserved judgment of even Russell L.J. as if it were an Act of Parliament." And, in Herrington v. British Railways Board (1972 (2) WLR 537) Lord Morris said:

"There is always peril in treating the words of a speech or judgment as though they are words in a legislative enactment, and it is to be remembered that judicial utterances made in the setting of the facts of a particular case."

17. Circumstantial flexibility, one additional or different fact may make a world of difference between conclusions in two cases. Disposal of cases by blindly placing reliance on a decision is not proper.

18. The following words of Lord Denning in the matter of applying precedents have become locus classicus:

"Each case depends on its own facts and a close similarity between one case and another is not enough because even a single significant detail may alter the entire aspect, in deciding such cases, one should avid the temptation to decide cases (as said by Cordozo) by matching the colour of one case against the colour of another. To decide therefore, on which side of the line a case falls, the broad resemblance to another case is not at all decisive."

xxx

"Precedent should be followed only so far as it marks the path of justice, but you must cut the dead wood and trim off the side branches else you will find yourself lost in thickets and branches. My plea is to keep the path to justice clear of obstructions which could impede it."

43. The judgment in the case of Amal Kishore Singh (supra) being on a point of law, which does not arise in the fact situation of the present case, reliance placed on the said decision was therefore misplaced and the judgment of the writ court cannot be sustained for the said reason.

44. In the facts of the present case, since the appellant possessed the requisite eligibility criteria as per the relevant Regulations, as on the date of occurrence of vacancy on the post of Principal in the institution as against the writ petitioner who was not eligible on the said date, the order dated 16.05.2013 passed by the DIOS, which was under challenge in the writ petition, could not be held to be erroneous so as to warrant interference.

45. The Special Appeal is, accordingly, allowed and the judgment dated 19.12.2019 passed in Writ-A No.48219 of 2013 is set aside.

46. The writ petition stands dismissed.

A. Constitution of India – Article 226 - confers very wide powers in the matter of issuing writs on the High Court - remedy of writ - absolutely discretionary in character - non-entertainment of petitions under writ jurisdiction by the High Court when an efficacious alternative remedy is available - rule of self-imposed limitation - rule of policy, convenience and discretion rather than a rule of law - existence of an alternative remedy does not per se affect, curtail or impinge upon the jurisdiction of the High Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India - can legitimately be invoked by an aggrieved party in a fit case - where Court comes to the conclusion that there has been a breach of the principles of natural justice or the procedure required for decision has not been adopted. if the Court comes to the conclusion that there has been a breach of the principles of natural justice or the procedure required for decision has not been adopted

(Delivered by Hon'ble Biswanath Somadder, J. & Hon'ble Dr. Yogendra Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. The Special Appeal has been preferred in respect of a judgment and order dated 7th January, 2020, passed by a learned Single Judge in Writ - A No.- 19882 of 2019 (Dr. Smt. Abha Sharma vs. State of U.P. and 5 others). By the impugned judgement and order, the learned Single Judge was pleased to dismiss the writ petition purely on the ground of alternative remedy.

2. This Special Appeal has been preferred by the writ petitioner, namely, Dr. Smt. Abha Sharma.

3. For convenience, the impugned judgment and order is reproduced hereinbelow in its entirety:-

"Heard Sri R.K. Ojha, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri K.B. Dixit, counsel for the petitioner and Sri M.N. Singh, learned counsel for respondent Nos.2 and 3.

The petitioner by means of the present writ petition has made a prayer to quash the impugned order dated 27.11.2019 passed by the Vice Chancellor determining the seniority between the petitioner and respondent no. 6.

A preliminary objection has been raised by counsel for the respondents that the statutory alternate remedy of reference under Section 68 of State Universities Act is available to the petitioner, therefore, the writ petition is not maintainable.

It is contended by Sri R.K. Ojha, learned Senior Advocate for the petitioner that the petitioner has been senior to respondent no. 6 since 1996 and no objection has been raised by respondents in the seniority list published subsequent to 1996 by the respondents. Thus, the submission is that long standing seniority cannot be disturbed in view of the settled principle of law. In this regard, learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance on Full Bench judgment of this Court passed in the case of Farhat Hussain Azad vs. State of U.P. and Ors. reported in (2005) 1 UPLBEC 474 and Division Bench judgment of this Court passed in Special Appeal No. 825 of 2004 (Rakesh Kumar Pandey vs. State of U.P. & Anr.).

Be that as it may, the petitioner has statutory remedy of reference under Section 68 of the State Universities Act, therefore, this Court is not inclined to interfere in the matter at this stage as the contention advanced by counsel for the petitioner can very well be seen by the Chancellor under Section 68 of the State Universities Act.

Thus, the writ petition is, accordingly, dismissed on the ground of alternate remedy."

4. In the facts of the instant case, we notice that the Principal of the institution in question (i.e. Agra College, Agra) decided the question of seniority as far back as on 12th July, 2016, and the private respondent no.6, namely, Dr. C.K. Gautam, never invoked the remedy of preferring a statutory appeal under the provisions of Clause 17.14 of the First Statutes of Dr. Bhim Rao Ambedkar University, Agra. For ease of reference, Clause 17.14 of the aforementioned First Statutes is being extracted below :-

"17.14 All disputes regarding seniority of teachers (other than the Principal), shall be decided by the Principal of the College who shall give reasons for the decision. Any teacher aggrieved by the decision of the Principal may prefer an appeal to the Vice-Chancellor within 60 days from the date of communication of such decision to the teacher concerned. If the Vice-Chancellor disagrees from the Principal, he shall give reasons for such disagreement."

5. In such facts and circumstances to simply relegate the appellant / writ petitioner to avail the statutory remedy of a reference under Section 68 of the Uttar Pradesh State Universities Act, 1973, was not proper.

6. The rule of exhaustion of statutory remedies before a writ is granted has consistently been held to be a rule of self imposed limitation, a rule of policy and discretion rather than a rule of law. The Courts, therefore, in appropriate cases, may issue appropriate writs, notwithstanding that the statutory remedies have not been exhausted. The existence of an alternative remedy does not per se affect, curtail or impinge upon the jurisdiction of the High Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, which can legitimately be invoked by an aggrieved party in a fit case.

7. The legal position in this regard has been succinctly summarized in the judgment in the case of Commissioner of Income Tax and Ors. Vs. Chhabil Dass Agarwal1, wherein it was stated as follows :-

"11....It is settled law that non-entertainment of petitions under writ jurisdiction by the High Court when an efficacious alternative remedy is available is a rule of self-imposed limitation. It is essentially a rule of policy, convenience and discretion rather than a rule of law. Undoubtedly, it is within the discretion of the High Court to grant relief under Article 226 despite the existence of an alternative remedy...(See State of U.P. v. Mohd. Nooh AIR 1958 SC 86, Titaghur Paper Mills Co. Ltd. v. State of Orissa (1983) 2 SCC 433, Harbanslal Sahnia v. Indian Oil Corpn. Ltd. (2003)2 SCC 107 and State of H.P. v. Gujarat Ambuja Cement Ltd. (2005) 6 SCC 499)

12. The Constitution Benches of this Court in K.S. Rashid and Son v. Income Tax Investigation Commission AIR

1954 SC 207, Sangram Singh v. Election Tribunal AIR 1955 SC 425, Union of India v. T.R. Varma AIR 1957 SC 882, State of U.P. v. Mohd. Nooh AIR 1958 SC 86 and K.S. Venkataraman and Co. (P) Ltd. v. State of Madras AIR 1966 SC 1089 have held that though Article 226 confers very wide powers in the matter of issuing writs on the High Court, the remedy of writ is absolutely discretionary in character. If the High Court is satisfied that the aggrieved party can have an adequate or suitable relief elsewhere, it can refuse to exercise its jurisdiction. The Court, in extraordinary circumstances, may exercise the power if it comes to the conclusion that there has been a breach of the principles of natural justice or the procedure required for decision has not been adopted.(See N.T. Veluswami Thevar v. G. Raja Nainar AIR 1959 SC 422, Municipal Council, Khurai v. Kamal Kumar AIR 1965 SC 1321, Siliguri Municipality v. Amalendu Das (1984) 2 SCC 436, S.T. Muthusami v. K. Natarajan (1988) 1 SCC 572, Rajasthan SRTC v. Krishna Kant (1995) 5 SCC 75, Kerala SEB v. Kurien E. Kalathil (2000) 6 SCC 293, A. Venkatasubbiah Naidu v. S. Chellappan (2000) 7 SCC 695, L.L. Sudhakar Reddy v. State of A.P. (2001) 6 SCC 634, Shri Sant Sadguru Janardan Swami (Moingiri Maharaj) Sahakari Dugdha Utpadak Sanstha v. State of Maharashtra (2001) 8 SCC 509, Pratap Singh v. State of Haryana (2002) 7 SCC 484 and GKN Driveshafts (India) Ltd. v. ITO (2003) 1 SCC 72)."

8. The aforementioned view that the existence of an alternative remedy does not create an absolute bar on the exercise of writ jurisdiction by a High Court has been reiterated in a recent decision in the case of Maharashtra Chess Association Vs. Union of India and Others2, in the following words :-

"22...The existence of an alternate remedy, whether adequate or not, does not alter the fundamentally discretionary nature of the High Court's writ jurisdiction and therefore does not create an absolute legal bar on the exercise of the writ jurisdiction by a High Court. The decision whether or not to entertain an action under its writ jurisdiction remains a decision to be taken by the High Court on an examination of the facts and circumstances of a particular case.

23. This understanding has been laid down in several decisions of this Court. In Uttar Pradesh State Spinning Co. Limited v. R S Pandey (2005) 8 SCC 264 this Court held:

"11. Except for a period when Article 226 was amended by the Constitution (Forty-Second Amendment) Act, 1976, the power relating to alternative remedy has been considered to be a rule of self imposed limitation. It is essentially a rule of policy, convenience and discretion and never a rule of law. Despite the existence of an alternative remedy it is within the jurisdiction or discretion of the High Court to grant relief under Article 226 of the Constitution..."

24. The principle that the writ jurisdiction of a High Court can be exercised where no adequate alternative remedies exist can be traced even further back to the decision of the Constitution Bench of this Court in State of Uttar Pradesh v. Mohammad Nooh 1958 SCR 595 where Justice Vivian Bose observed:

"10. In the next place it must be borne in mind that there is no rule, with regard to certiorari as there is with mandamus, that it will lie only where there is no other equally effective remedy. It is well established that, provided the requisite grounds exist, certiorari will lie although a right of appeal has been conferred by statute. (Halsbury's Laws of England, 3rd Ed., Vol. 11, p. 130 and the cases cited there). The fact that the aggrieved party has another and adequate remedy may be taken into consideration by the superior court in arriving at a conclusion as to whether it should, in exercise of its discretion, issue a writ of certiorari to quash the proceedings and decisions of inferior courts subordinate to it and ordinarily the superior court will decline to interfere until the aggrieved party has exhausted his other statutory remedies, if any. But this rule requiring the exhaustion of statutory remedies before the writ will be granted is a rule of policy, convenience and discretion rather than a rule of law and instances are numerous where a writ of certiorari has been issued in spite of the fact that the aggrieved party had other adequate legal remedies."

25. The mere existence of alternate forums where the aggrieved party may secure relief does not create a legal bar on a High Court to exercise its writ jurisdiction. It is a factor to be taken into consideration by the High Court amongst several factors..."

9. Having regard to the facts of the case, and in particular the fact that one of the principal grounds sought to be raised to assail the order impugned in the writ petition is that the statutory authority has not acted in accordance with the provisions of the relevant statutory provisions, this Court is of the view that the writ petition ought to have been heard upon exchange of affidavits and only after consideration of what has been stated by the respective parties in their affidavits a final decision ought to have been taken in the matter.

10. As such, we are of the view that the impugned judgment and order cannot be sustained and is liable to be set aside and is accordingly set aside.

11. The writ petition, being Writ - A No.-19882 of 2019 (Dr. Smt. Abha Sharma vs. State of U.P. and 5 others) shall be heard finally upon exchange of affidavits.

12. Counter affidavit to be filed within four weeks. Rejoinder thereto, if any, be filed within two weeks therefrom.

13. List this matter on 16.3.2020 before the learned Bench having appropriate determination.

In the present case, the order impugned was modified to the extent that apart from other facts, the question regarding eligibility for the promotional post was also left open for DIOS to examine, before submitting the papers to Regional Level Committee. (Para 13, 16)

Special Appeal disposed of. (E-4)

Special appeal against the judgment and orders dated 17.01.2020, passed by High court of Allahabad.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Yogendra Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri Yogesh Kumar Saxena, learned counsel for the appellants, Sri Mata Prasad, learned Standing Counsel for the State-respondents and Sri Anil Bhushan, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Pratik Srivastava, learned counsel appearing for the fourth respondent.

2. The present intra-court appeal has been filed against the order dated 17.01.2020 passed in Writ-A No.875 of 2020 (C/M Bharti Inter College, Firozabad and another Vs. State of U.P. and 3 others).

3. Before the writ court, the order dated 27.12.2019 passed by the Joint Director of Education, Agra Division, Agra had been challenged whereunder a direction had been issued to the Committee of Management of the institution in question (the appellant herein) to forward the requisite papers to the District Inspector of Schools, Firozabad (DIOS) with a further stipulation that the papers which were submitted would be examined by the Inspector and transmitted to the Regional Level Committee for consideration of the claim of the fourth respondent for promotion.

4. The aforementioned order passed by the Joint Director of Education was pursuant to directions issued in an earlier judgment and order dated 08.10.2018 passed in Writ-A No.21639 of 2018 (Mahesh Chandra Vs. State of U.P. and 3 others) and after due consideration of the objections of the Committee of Management.

5. The arguments sought to be raised before the learned Single Judge that the fourth respondent was not possessing M.A. Degree as on the date of occurrence of vacancy i.e. 01.07.2008, was repelled for the reason that no such contention had been raised by the Committee of Management in its objections dated 11.12.2019 filed before the Joint Director of Education when the matter was being considered by the said authority although detailed written objections had been filed.

6. Learned counsel appearing for the appellants has, however, contended that in order to be considered for promotion the teacher concerned has to possess the necessary eligibility as on the first day of the year of recruitment, which in the present case is 01.07.2008, and according to him, the fourth respondent does not fulfil the eligibility criteria. As such, the direction to forward his papers to the Educational Authorities, is legally unsustainable.

7. In order to appreciate the controversy, the necessary statutory framework for recruitment by promotion in an institution recognised under the Intermediate Education Act, 1921 may be adverted to.

8. The Uttar Pradesh Secondary Education Services Selection Board Act, 1982 was enacted to provide for establishment of a Secondary Education Service Selection Board for the selection of teachers in institutions recognised under the Intermediate Education Act, 1921.

9. Section 2(l) defines the 'year of recruitment' as follows:-

"(l) 'Year of recruitment' means a period of twelve months commencing from first day of July of a calendar year".

10. Chapter III of the Act deals with the procedure for selection by promotion. Section 12, which is a part of Chapter III, is in the following terms:-

"12. Procedure of selection by promotion.--(1) For each region, there shall be a Selection Committee, for making selection of candidates for promotion to the post of a teacher, comprising

(i) Regional Joint Director of Education: -- Chairman

(ii) Senior most Principal of Government

Inter College in the region: -- Member

(iii) Concerned District Inspector of Schools -- Member/ Secretary

(2) The procedure of selection of candidates for promotion to the post of a teacher shall be such as may be prescribed."

11. Section 32 stipulates that the provisions contained in the Intermediate Education Act, 1921 and its regulations would continue to be in force insofar as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of the Act or Rules or Regulations made under it, inter alia, for the purpose of selection, appointment and promotion in the rank of a teacher.

12. In exercise of the Rule making powers under section 35 of the Act, 1982, the Uttar Pradesh Secondary Education Services Selection Board Rule, 1998 were made. The procedure for recruitment by promotion is provided for under Rule 14 of the aforementioned Rules, and the same is as follows:-

"14. Procedure for recruitment by promotion.--(1) Where any vacancy is to be filled by promotion, all teachers working in Trained graduates grade or Certificate of Teaching grade, if any, who possess the qualifications prescribed for the post and have completed five years continuous regular service as such on the first day of the year of recruitment shall be considered for promotion to the Lecturers grade or the Trained graduates grade, as the case may be, without their having applied for the same.

Note.--For the purposes of this sub-rule, regular service rendered in any other recognized institution shall be counted for eligibility, unless interrupted by removal, dismissal or reduction to a lower post.

(2) The criterion for promotion shall be seniority subject to the rejection of unfit.

(3) The Management shall prepare a list of teachers referred to in sub-rule (1), and forward it to the Inspector with a copy of seniority list, service records, including the character rolls, and a statement in the pro forma given in Appendix 'A'.

(4) Within three weeks of the receipt of the list from the Management under sub-rule (3), the Inspector shall verify the facts from the record of his office and forward the list to the Joint Director.

(5) The Joint Director shall consider the cases of the candidates on the basis of the records referred to in sub-rule (3) and may call such additional information as it may consider necessary. The Joint Director shall place the records before the Selection Committee referred to in sub-section (1) of Section 12 and after the Committee's recommendation, shall forward the panel of selected candidates within one month to the Inspector with a copy thereof to the Management,

(6) Within ten days of the receipt of the panel from the Joint Director under sub-rule (5), the Inspector shall send the name of the selected candidates to the Management of the institution which has notified the vacancy and the Management shall accordingly on authorization under its resolution issue the appointment order in the pro forma given in Appendix 'F' to the such candidate."

13. As per the aforementioned procedure prescribed under Rule 14, in order to be considered for promotion to the Lecturer grade, the teacher concerned is to possess the qualifications prescribed for the post and should have completed five years continuous regular service as such on the first day of the year of recruitment.

14. Learned Senior Advocate has pointed out that as per the order dated 27.12.2019, which was impugned in the writ petition, the direction is to the Committee of Management to forward the papers to the DIOS with a further stipulation that the Inspector would examine the papers as per the relevant Rules and thereafter forward the same to the Regional Level Committee.

15. Learned Senior Advocate submits that in terms of the directions under the order impugned, it would be open to the Inspector to examine the proposal sent by the Committee of Management, including the fulfilment of the eligibility criteria by the fourth respondent, before the papers are submitted to the Regional Level Committee for further consideration.

16. Having regard to the facts of the case and as agreed to by the counsel for the parties, the order dated 17.01.2020 passed by the learned Single Judge is modified by providing that the appellant - Committee of Management would forward the necessary papers with regard to the claim of the petitioner for promotion on the post of Lecturer in Hindi at the institution in question along with the relevant records and the DIOS would thereafter verify the facts including the question of eligibility of the fourth respondent for the promotional post and accordingly transmit the papers to the Regional Level Committee to proceed in accordance with law.

17. The order of the writ court is modified to the extent indicated above.

18. The special appeal stands disposed of accordingly.

(d) Award costs in favour of the petitioner and against the opposite parties and to pass such further or other orders as may be considered just and proper in the interest of justice and in the circumstances of the case."

4. After exchange of pleadings , the writ petition was allowed vide judgment and order dated 28.04.2014 which reads as under:-

" Heard Shri Manish Mathur, learned counsel for the petitioner as well as Sri Vibhu Shanker, learned counsel for respondent no. 2.

Petitioner seeks reevaluation of the answer sheets of Corporate and Allied Law papers. Through the rejoinder affidavit he has brought on record the relevant documents i.e, (i) answer sheet,(ii) modal question answers prepared by the Institute. He drew the attention of this Court towards answer no. 1 A, 1 D and 4 B as well as answers suggested by the Institute and submitted that after comparing those it is obvious that the petitioner answered the questions in the same very manner. Therefore, he should have been awarded total marks assigned to each and every answer but it has not been done so far,rather in each answer marks have been reduced deliberately. After reading over the comparative chart of the answers, the mistake appears to be apparent.

Shri Vibhu Shanker, learned counsel for the respondent has raised questions on maintainability of the writ petition for the relief as sought therein on the ground that the relief of re-evaluation of answer book is not maintainable unless the rule permits so. He further submits that there is no such rule in the Institute concerned. He also submitted that there are several decisions propounded by Hon'ble the Supreme Court on this point. he pointed out some decisions which are referred to hereunder;

(i)Board of Secondary Education Vs. Pravas Ranjan Panda and anohter (2004) 13 Supreme Court Cases 383, (ii)Himachal Pradesh Public Service Commission Vs. Mukesh Thakur and another (2010) 6 Supreme Court Cases 759,

(iii)Maharashtra State Board of Secondary and Higher Secondary Education and another Vs. Paritosh

Bhupesh Kurmasheet (AIR 1984 Supreme Court 1543).

Learned counsel for the petitioner is also unable to produce any such rule, framed by the Institute, which permits the re-evaluation. However, after going through the comparative chart of the answers given by the petitioner as well as the answers suggested by the Institute, I find that there is no difference in the answers written by the petitioner and suggested by the Institute.Therefore, without applying any technical mind over there, I am of the view that the petitioner should have been awarded full marks allotted to each and every question. Therefore, I feel it appropriate to make an observation for the Institute concerned to re-consider petitioner's case as the error committed by the authority in awarding marks is apparent. Besides this Mr Mathur also points out that Regulation 39 of the Regulations framed by the Institute permits the authority to correct mistake. Therefore, it would be appropriate for them to award appropriate marks to the petitioner in the interest of his career.

In the aforesaid manner, this Court interfered with the matter and issued directions accordingly. I hope that the Institute shall come forward to correct its mistake within fifteen days and communicate result to the petitioner forthwith.

In the aforesaid term, the writ petition stands disposed of finally."

5. The appellant has challenged the judgment and order dated 28.04.2013 on the ground that there is no provisions of re-evaluation in the regulation which has been framed by the Institute, so the direction which has been given by Hon'ble Single Judge is contrary to law as laid down by Hon'ble Apex Court in the cases namely, (I) Board of Secondary Education Vs. Pravas Ranjan Panda and another (2004) 13 Supreme Court Cases 383, (ii) Himachal Pradesh Public Service Commission Vs. Mukesh Thakur and another (2010) 6 Supreme Court Cases 759, (iii) Maharashtra State Board of Secondary and Higher Secondary Education and another Vs. Paritosh Bhupesh Kurmasheet (AIR 1984 Supreme Court 1543).

6. It is stated that the relevant judgments were placed before the Hon'ble Single Judge but the same were not considered while passing the judgment and order dated 28.04.2014, under appeal, and the impugned judgement has been passed, so the present special appeal has been filed and on 15.05.2014, this Court has passed an interim order, which on reproduction reads as under:-

"Sri Manish Mathur has accepted notice on behalf of the respondent no.1, while Miss. Alka Verma, learned counsel has accepted notice on behalf of respondent no.2.

Both may file counter affidavit within four weeks. Rejoinder affidavit, if any, may be filed within two weeks thereafter.

List after six weeks.

Apart from other arguments, it is urged that there being no provision under the rules for evaluation, the learned Single Judge exceeded his jurisdiction. It is further urged that even otherwise. the answers given by the respondent petitioner was quite contrary to the answers provided in the model answers of the Institute.

Accordingly, the operation of the order and judgment dated 28.4.2014 passed in Writ Petition No.5887 (M/S) of 2013 shall remain stayed."

7. Learned counsel for the appellant also submitted that that the observations which has been given by Hon'ble Single Judge while passing the impugned judgment dated 28.04.2014 is not correct as per record and the material on record placed before him as well as contrary to law. Accordingly, he requests that the present appeal may be allowed.

8. Sri Sudeep Kumar, learned counsel for the respondents submitted that there is no error in the judgement passed by Learned Single Judge rather the same is in accordance with regulation 39 (7) of the Chartered Accountant Regulation1988, which reads as under:-

"39(7) In any case where it is found that the result of an examination has been affected by error, malpractice, fraud, improper conduct or other matter, of whatever nature, the Council shall have the power to amend such result, in such manner as shall be in accordance with the true position and to make such declaration as the Council shall consider necessary in that behalf

Provided that no such amendment shall be made which adversely affects a candidate, without giving him an opportunity of being heard:

Provided further that in the event of any error not arising out of any act or default of a candidate, proceedings for amendment adversely affecting the candidate shall not be initiated after the expiry of a period of oe month from the date of the declaration of result."

9. He further submitted that the judgment passed by learned single judge is also in accordance with law laid down by Hon'ble the Apex Court in the case of Manish Ujwal and others Vs. Maharishi Dayanand Saraswati University and others (2005) 13 SCC 744 where in para 9 and 10 it has been held as under:-

"9. In Kanpur University v. Samir Gupta [(1983) 4 SCC 309] considering a similar problem, this Court held that there is an assumption about the key answers being correct and in case of doubt, the Court would unquestionably prefer the key answers. It is for this reason that we have not referred to those key answers in respect whereof there is a doubt as a result of difference of opinion between the experts. Regarding the key answers in respect whereof the matter is beyond the realm of doubt, this Court has held that it would be unfair to penalise the students for not giving an answer which accords with the key answer, that is to say, with an answer which is demonstrated to be wrong. There is no dispute about the aforesaid six key answers being demonstrably wrong and this fact has rightly not been questioned by the learned counsel for the University. In this view, students cannot be made to suffer for the fault and negligence of the University.

10. The High Court has committed a serious illegality in coming to the conclusion that "it cannot be said with certainty that answers to the six questions given in the key answers were erroneous and incorrect". As already noticed, the key answers are palpably and demonstrably erroneous. In that view of the matter, the student community, whether the appellants or intervenors or even those who did not approach the High Court or this Court, cannot be made to suffer on account of errors committed by the University. For the present, we say no more because there is nothing on record as to how this error crept up in giving the erroneous key answers and who was negligent. At the same time, however, it is necessary to note that the University and those who prepare the key answers have to be very careful and abundant caution is necessary in these matters for more than one reason. We mention few of those; first and paramount reason being the welfare of the student as a wrong key answer can result in the merit being made a casualty. One can well understand the predicament of a young student at the threshold of his or her career if despite giving correct answer, the student suffers as a result of wrong and demonstrably erroneous key answers; the second reason is that the courts are slow in interfering in educational matters which, in turn, casts a higher responsibility on the University while preparing the key answers; and thirdly, in cases of doubt, the benefit goes in favour of the University and not in favour of the students. If this attitude of casual approach in providing key answers is adopted by the persons concerned, directions may have to be issued for taking appropriate action, including disciplinary action, against those responsible for wrong and demonstrably erroneous key answers, but we refrain from issuing such directions in the present case."

10. Sri Sandeep Kumar, in support of his case, has also placed reliance on the judgment passed by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of High Court of Tripura through the Registrar General Vs. Tirtha Sarathi Mukherjee and others, 2019 SCC Online SC 139, wherein the Hon'ble Apex Court in paras 19 20 and 23 held as under:-

"19. We have noticed the decisions of this Court. Undoubtedly, a three Judge Bench has laid down that there is no legal right to claim or ask for revaluation in the absence of any provision for revaluation. Undoubtedly, there is no provision. In fact, the High Court in the impugned judgment has also proceeded on the said basis. The first question which we would have to answer is whether despite the absence of any provision, are the courts completely denuded of power in the exercise of the jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution to direct revaluation? It is true that the right to seek a writ of mandamus is based on the existence of a legal right and the corresponding duty with the answering respondent to carry out the public duty. Thus, as of right, it is clear that the first respondent could not maintain either writ petition or the review petition demanding holding of revaluation.

20. The question however arises whether even if there is no legal right to demand revaluation as of right could there arise circumstances which leaves the Court in any doubt at all. A grave injustice may be occasioned to a writ applicant in certain circumstances. The case may arise where even though there is no provision for revaluation it turns out that despite giving the correct answer no marks are awarded. No doubt this must be confined to a case where there is no dispute about the correctness of the answer. Further, if there is any doubt, the doubt should be resolved in favour of the examining body rather than in favour of the candidate. The wide power under Article 226 may continue to be available even though there is no provision for revaluation in a situation where a candidate despite having giving correct answer and about which there cannot be even slightest manner of doubt, he is treated as having given the wrong answer and consequently the candidate is found disentitled to any marks.

23. In this case we have already noted that the writ petition was filed challenging the results and seeking revaluation. The writ petition came to be dismissed in the year 2012 by the High Court. The Special Leave Petition was dismissed in the year 2013. The review petition is filed after nearly 5 years. In the interregnum, there were supervening development in the form of fresh selection. While it may be true that the delay in filing the review petition may have been condoned, it does not mean that the Court where it exercises its discretionary jurisdiction under Article 226 is to become oblivious to the subsequent development and the impact of passage of time. Even in the judgment of this Court in U.P.P.S.C. through its Chairman & Anr. Vs. Rahul Singh & Anr. reported in 2018 (2) SCC 357 which according to the first respondent forms the basis of the High Court's interference though does not expressly stated so, what the Court has laid down is that the Court may permit revaluation inter alia only if it is demonstrated very clearly without any inferential process of reasoning or by a process of rationalization and only in rare or exceptional cases on the commission of material error. It may not be correct to characterize the case as a rare or exceptional case when the first respondent approaches the Court with a delay of nearly 5 years allowing subsequent events to overtake him and the Court. We feel that this aspect was not fully appreciated by the High Court. The review, it must be noted is not a re-hearing of the main matter. A review would lie only on detection without much debate of an error apparent. Was this such a case? It is here that we must notice the argument of the appellant relating to question in Part III of the examination alone, engaging the attention of the Court for the reason that the first respondent pressed this aspect alone before the High court. The judgment of the High Court in the writ petition appears to bear out this submission of the appellant. The issue relating to the anomaly in the evaluation of the Paper III has been discussed thread bare in the judgment. The view of the High Court has not been disturbed by this Court. Despite this the High Court in the impugned judgment has proceeded to take up the plea relating to questions in Part-I and Part-II and proceeded to consider the review petition and granted relief that too after the passage of nearly 5 years. This suffices to allow the present appeal."

11. Reliance on the judgment of the Division Bench of this Court passed in the case of Saumitra Gigodia Vs. Union of India and others, 2018 (2) ALJ 98 has also been placed, where in this Court in paras 21 and 22 observed as under:-

"21. Thus, we find that the opinion of the University or the expert, normally, should be accepted as it is assumed that such experts are well versed in their subject. We are further of the opinion that the decision of the examining body or the expert is not beyond judicial review. The prime consideration is to maintain the fairness of the examination and welfare of the students/ candidates, inasmuch as, in the event a wrong answer key is accepted, it would alter the fate of many candidates. The object of conducting an examination is to assess the merit of the candidates and to find out as to who is most suitable one for admission. The object of conducting a test would be defeated in case a wrong answer given is held to be beyond judicial review.

22. Normally, the Court should be cautious in interfering with the opinion of the expert but where it is found that the answer keys are demonstrably wrong, that is to say, it cannot be such as no reasonable body of men, well versed in the particular subject, would regard it as correct, in that event the Court should exercise its writ jurisdiction and ensure that the error is rectified."

12. Sri Sudeep Kumar, learned counsel for the respondent no.1 further submitted that in the present case, the learned Single Judge the pleadings on record and comparative chart, which was produced by the writ petitioner-respondent no.1 before the writ court, as also the answers suggested by the Institute and thereafter the writ court passed the judgment dated 28.04.2014, so it is not a case of re-evaluation rather it is a case where Learned Single Judge has passed the judgment after comparing the answers, which were given by the writ petitioner/ respondent no.1 with the model answers, so the present appeal lacks merit and is liable to be dismissed.

13. In rebuttal, Sri Amit Jaiswal, learned counsel for the appellant submitted that it is totally incorrect as a matter of fact the answers given by the writ petitioner/ respondent no.1 in examination for enrollment as Chartered Accountant are not same or similar to the answers as suggested in model answers provided by the Institute. Thus, the writ court exceeded its jurisdiction by acting as an expert of the subject. The judgment in appeal is contrary to settled principles on the issue. Prayer is to allow the appeal.

14. We have heard learned counsel for the parties and gone through the record.

15. So far the re-evaluation of answer book is concerned, there is no provision under Regulations or Statute of the Institute,the examination conducting body, and as such the court cannot direct for re-evaluation as held by Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Maharashtra State Board of Secondary and Higher Secondary Education and another Vs. Paritosh Bhupesh Kumar Sheth and others (1984) 4 SCC 27 where in para 12 it has been held as under :-

"12. Though the main plank of the arguments advanced on behalf of the petitioners before the High Court appears to have been the plea of violation of principles of natural justice, the said contention did not find favour with the learned Judges of the Division Bench. The High Court rejected the contention advanced on behalf of the petitioners that non-disclosure or disallowance of the right of inspection of the answer books as well as denial of the right to ask for a revaluation to examinees who are dissatisfied with the results visits them with adverse civil consequences. The further argument that every adverse "verification" involves a condemnation of the examinees behind their back and hence constitutes a clear violation of principles of natural justice was also not accepted by the High Court. In our opinion, the High Court was perfectly right in taking this view and in holding that the "process of evaluation of answer papers or of subsequent verification of marks" under clause (3) of Regulation 104 does not attract the principles of natural justice since no decision-making process which brings about adverse civil consequences to the examinees is involved. The principles of natural justice cannot be extended beyond reasonable and rational limits and cannot be carried to such absurd lengths as to make it necessary that candidates who have taken a public examination should be allowed to participate in the process of evaluation of their performances or to verify the correctness of the evaluation made by the examiners by themselves conducting an inspection of the answer books and determining whether there has been a proper and fair valuation of the answers by the examiners. As succinctly put by Mathew, J. in his judgment in the Union of India v. Mohan Lal Kapoor [(1973) 2 SCC 836 : 1974 SCC (L&S) 5 : (1974) 1 SCR 797 : (1973) 2 LLJ 504] it is not expedient to extend the horizon of natural justice involved in the audi alteram partem rule to the twilight zone of mere expectations, however great they might be. [SCC para 56, p. 863: SCC (L&S) p. 31]. The challenge levelled against the validity of clause (3) of Regulation 104 based on the plea of violation of natural justice, was therefore, rightly rejected by the High Court."

16. Further Hon'ble the Apex Court in the case of The Secretary, All India Pre- Medical/ Pre-Dental Examination, C.B.S.E. and others Vs. Khushboo Shrivastava and others, (2014) 14 SCC 523 has held in para 7 and 8 as under:-

"7. We find that a three-Judge Bench of this Court in Pramod Kumar Srivastava v. Chairman, Bihar Public ServiceCommission, Patna & Ors. (2004) 6 SCC 7141 has clearly held relying on Maharashtra State Board of Secondary and Higher Secondary Education & Anr. v. Paritosh Bhupeshkumar Sheth & Ors.(1984)4 SCC 27 that in the absence of any provision for the re-evaluation of answers books in the relevant rules, no candidate in an examination has any right to claim or ask for re-evaluation of his marks. The decision in Pramod Kumar Srivastava v.Chairman, Bihar Public Service Commission, Patna & Ors. (2004)6 SCC 714 was followed by another three-Judge Bench of this Court in Board of Secondary Education v. Pravas Ranjan Panda & Anr. [(2004) 13 SCC 383] in which the direction of the High Court for reevaluation of answers books of all the examinees securing 90% or above marks was held to be unsustainable in law because the regulations of the Board of Secondary Education, Orissa, which conducted the examination, did not make any provision for re-evaluation of answers books in the rules.

8. In the present case, the bye-laws of the All India Pre-Medical/Pre-Dental Entrance Examination,2007 conducted by the CBSE did not provide for re-examination or reevaluation of answers sheets. Hence, the appellants could not have allowed such re-examination or re-evaluation on the representation of the respondent no.1 and accordingly rejected the representation of the respondent no.1 for reexamination/ re-evaluation of her answers sheets. The respondent no.1, however, approached the High Court and the learned Single Judge of the High Court directedproduction of answer sheets on the respondent no.1 depositing a sum of Rs.25,000/- and when the answer sheets were produced, the learned Single Judge himself compared the answers of the respondent no.1 with the model answers produced by the CBSE and awarded two marks for answers given by the respondent no.1 in the Chemistry and Botany, but declined to grant any relief to the respondent no.1. When respondent no.1 filed the LPA before the Division Bench of the High Court, the Division Bench also examined the two answers of the respondent no.1 in Chemistry and Botany and agreed with the findings of the learned Single Judge that the respondent no.1 deserved two additional marks for the two answers. In our considered opinion, neither the learned Single Judge nor the Division Bench of the High Court could have substituted his/its own views for that of the examiners and awarded two additional marks to the respondent no.1 for the two answers in exercise of powers of judicial review under Article 226 of the Constitution as these are purely academic matters. This Court in Maharashtra State Board of Secondary and Higher Secondary Education & Anr. v. Paritosh Bhupeshkumar Sheth & Ors. (supra) has observed :

".... As has been repeatedly pointed out by this Court, the Court should be extremely reluctant to substitute its own views as to what is wise, prudent and proper in relation to academic matters in preference to those formulated by professional men possessing technical expertise and rich experience of actual day-to-day working of educational institutions and the departments controlling them. It will be wholly wrong for the Court to make a pedantic and purely idealistic approach to the problems of this nature, isolated from the actual realities and grass root problems involved in the working of the system and unmindful of the consequences which would emanate if a purely idealistic view as opposed to a pragmatic one were to be propounded. ..."

17. In regard to the arguments advanced by learned counsel for the respondent no.1,while supporting the judgment under challenge in the present appeal, that in view of the provisions as provided under Regulation 39(7) of the Chartered Accountant Regulation,1988, quoted herein above, the court has power to telly the answers given by the writ petitioner model answer and thereafter direct the appellant to award appropriate marks to the writ petitioner in the interest of the career, we have considered the Regulation 39(7) of the Chartered Accountant Regulation,1988 and a perusal thereof it appears that under Regulation 39(7) the Council has power to amend the result in any case where it is found that the result of an examination has been affected by error, malpractice, fraud, improper conduct or other matter, of whatever nature. Thus, we are of the view that keeping in view the provision as envisaged in Regulation 39(7), the Court neither can direct for re-evaluation nor the court is empowered to act as an expert and record the finding to the effect that "I find tht there is no difference in the answers written by the petitioner and suggested by the Institute."

18. Further, on the point in issue, Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the case of Ran Vijay Sigh and others Vs. State of U.P. and others, 2017 SCC Online SC 1448 in paras 33 to 37 has held as under:-

"33. The law on the subject is therefore, quite clear and we only propose to highlight a few significant conclusions. They are: (i) If a statute, Rule or Regulation governing an examination permits the re-evaluation of an answer sheet or scrutiny of an answer sheet as a matter of right, then the authority conducting the examination may permit it; (ii) If a statute, Rule or Regulation governing an examination does not permit re-evaluation or scrutiny of an answer sheet (as distinct from prohibiting it) then the Court may permit re-evaluation or scrutiny only if it is demonstrated very clearly, without any "inferential process of reasoning or by a process of rationalisation" and only in rare or exceptional cases that a material error has been committed; (iii) The Court should not at all re-evaluate or scrutinize the answer sheets of a candidate - it has no expertise in the matter and academic matters are best left to academics; (iv) The Court should presume the correctness of the key answers and proceed on that assumption; and (v) In the event of a doubt, the benefit should go to the examination authority rather than to the candidate.

34. On our part we may add that sympathy or compassion does not play any role in the matter of directing or not directing re-evaluation of an answer sheet. If an error is committed by the examination authority, the complete body of candidates suffers. The entire examination process does not deserve to be derailed only because some candidates are disappointed or dissatisfied or perceive some injustice having been caused to them by an erroneous question or an erroneous answer. All candidates suffer equally, though some might suffer more but that cannot be helped since mathematical precision is not always possible. This Court has shown one way out of an impasse - exclude the suspect or offending question.

35.It is rather unfortunate that despite several decisions of this Court, some of which have been discussed above, there is interference by the Courts in the result of examinations. This places the examination authorities in an unenviable position where they are under scrutiny and not the candidates. Additionally, a massive and sometimes prolonged examination exercise concludes with an air of uncertainty. While there is no doubt that candidates put in a tremendous effort in preparing for an examination, it must not be forgotten that even the examination authorities put in equally great efforts to successfully conduct an examination. The enormity of the task might reveal some lapse at a later stage, but the Court must consider the internal checks and balances put in place by the examination authorities before interfering with the efforts put in by the candidates who have successfully participated in the examination and the examination authorities. The present appeals are a classic example of the consequence of such interference where there is no finality to the result of the examinations even after a lapse of eight years. Apart from the examination authorities even the candidates are left wondering about the certainty or otherwise of the result of the examination - whether they have passed or not; whether their result will be approved or disapproved by the Court; whether they will get admission in a college or University or not; and whether they will get recruited or not. This unsatisfactory situation does not work to anybody's advantage and such a state of uncertainty results in confusion being worse confounded. The overall and larger impact of all this is that public interest suffers.

36.The facts of the case before us indicate that in the first instance the learned Single Judge took it upon himself to actually ascertain the correctness of the key answers to seven questions. This was completely beyond his jurisdiction and as decided by this Court on several occasions, the exercise carried out was impermissible. Fortunately, the Division Bench did not repeat the error but in a sense, endorsed the view of the learned Single Judge, by not considering the decisions of this Court but sending four key answers for consideration by a one-man Expert Committee.

37. Having come to the conclusion that the High Court (the learned Single Judge as well as the Division Bench) ought to have been far more circumspect in interfering and deciding on the correctness of the key answers, the situation today is that there is a third evaluation of the answer sheets and a third set of results is now ready for declaration. Given this scenario, the options before us are to nullify the entire re-evaluation process and depend on the result declared on 14th September, 2010 or to go by the third set of results. Cancelling the examination is not an option. Whichever option is chosen, there will be some candidates who are likely to suffer and lose their jobs while some might be entitled to consideration for employment."

19. The law on the subject is thus clear that in absence of any provision, the students have no right to re-evaluate the answer-sheet. The Court in absence of any provision can not direct for re-evaluation nor the court can act as an expert and evaluate the answers and direct to award numbers as per its opinion.

20. The grounds, which have been taken by the writ petitioner in the writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India are not sufficient for issuing directions to the appellant to reconsider the case of the petitioner-respondent no.1 and grant appropriate marks, which has been done by the writ court, as an expert in the present case after going through the comparative chart of the answers given by the writ petitioner/ respondent no.1 as well as the answers suggested by the Institute. There is no provisions for re-evaluation in the regulation specially Regulation 39(7) of the Chartered Accountant Regulation,1988, as the said provision only permits the Institute to correct the mistake and award appropriate marks .

21. So far as the judgments cited by Sri Sudeep Kumar, learned counsel for the respondent no.1 are concerned, we have carefully gone through the aforesaid judgments and to our view the same are not applicable in the present case. In the judgments cited by learned counsel for respondent no.1, the Hon'ble the Apex Court has not propounded the law that in absence of provision of re-evaluation the High Court can direct for re-evaluation or can act as expert in exercise of its power under Article 226 of the Constitution of India and compare the model answers with the answers given by the candidates, who appeared in the examination, as such the writ petitioner-respondent no.1 cannot derive any benefit from the same.

22. For the foregoing reasons, the impugned judgment and order dated 28.04.2014 passed by learned Single Judge in Writ Petition no.5887 (MS) of 2013 (Ashutosh Nigam Vs. The Union of India, Ministry of Human Resources through Secretary and another) is not in accordance with law.

23. In the result, the Special Appeal is allowed and the order dated 28.04.2014 passed by learned Single Judge in Writ Petition no.5887 (MS) of 2013 is set aside.

24. No order as to costs.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saurabh Lavania, J.)

1. Heard Sri Y.K. Mishra, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Awadhesh Kumar Pal, learned counsel for the respondent No. 1 and Sri Balram Yadav, learned counsel for the respondent No. 2 to 4.

2. By means of the present writ petition, a challenge has been made to the order dated 05.09.2009, whereby the petitioner (now deceased) was dismissed from the services, passed by the respondent No. 2/Managing Director, U.P. Sahkari Gram Vikas Bank Limited.

3. The legal heirs of the petitioner, who expired on 27.08.2016, have been substituted in compliance of the order of this Court dated 05.01.2017.

4. Facts, in brief, of the present case are that the petitioner was appointed on Class IV post of Sahyogi in the Head Office of U.P. Sahkari Gram Vikas Bank Ltd. with the approval of the Institutional Service Board, Lucknow and thereafter, he joined the services on 31.07.1984. Thereafter, the petitioner was promoted in the year 1991 on the post of Assistant Field Officer and he was posted at Salon Branch of the Bank, District-Raebareli. Thereafter, the petitioner was reverted from the post of Assistant Filed Officer to the post of Sahyogi and the said reversion order was challenged by him by means of the Writ Petition No. 210 (S/S) of 1993.

5. It is stated that in the aforesaid writ petition, the interim order was passed on 22.01.1993 and subsequently, the writ petition was allowed by this Court vide judgment and order dated 20.09.2012 and despite the judgment and order passed by this Court in favour of the petitioner, he was suspended on 30.08.2005 and charge-sheet dated 08.02.2006 was issued, which was received by the petitioner on 24.04.2006 and vide order dated 28.04.2006, the petitioner demanded the copy of the documents mentioned in the charge-sheet but the same were not provided to the petitioner. No reply to the charge-sheet was filed by the petitioner.

6. Thereafter, the enquiry officer conducted the ex-parte enquiry and submitted his report dated 18.03.2007, which was served to the petitioner vide show cause notice dated 02.05.2008 and thereafter, the impugned order of punishment dated 05.09.2009 was passed, whereby the petitioner was dismissed from the services of the Bank.

7. Assailing the order dated 05.09.2009, learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that the enquiry proceedings carried out by the enquiry officer are in utter violation of Rule 81 of U. P. Rajya Sahakari Bhumi Vikas Bank Employees Services Rules, 1976 (in short "Rules of 1976") framed under Regulation 102 of the U.P. Co-operative Societies Employee's Service Regulation, 1975, which reads as under:-

"Disciplinary proceedings

(1) The disciplinary proceedings against an employee shall be conducted by the Inquiring Officer appointed by the appointing authority or by an officer of the Bank authorised by the appointing authority. Provided that the officer at whose instance disciplinary action was started shall not be appointed as an Inquiry officer not shall the Inquiry Officer be the appellate authority.

(a) The Inquiry Officer during inquiry shall observe the principles of natural justice for which it shall be necessary that the employee shall be served with a charge sheet containing specific charges, the evidence in support of each charge and he shall be required to submit explanation in respect of the charge within a reasonable time which shall be not less than 15 days.

(b) Such employee shall also be given an opportunity to produce at his own cost or to cross examine witnesses in his defence and shall also be given an opportunity of being heard in person, if he so desires:

(c) If no explanation in respect of charge sheet is received or the explanation submitted is unsatisfactory the competent authority may award him appropriate punishment considered necessary.

(2) (a) Where the employee is dismissed or removed from service on the ground of conduct which has led to his conviction on a criminal charge, or

(b) Where the employee has absconded and his whereabouts are not known to the Bank for more than 3 months, or

(c) Where the employee refuses or fails without sufficient cause to appear before the Inquiring Officer when specifically called upon in writing to appear, or

(d) Where it is otherwise (for reasons to be recorded) not possible to communicate with him the competent authority may award appropriate punishment without taking or continuing disciplinary proceedings.

(3) Disciplinary proceedings shall be taken by the Bank against the employee on a report made to this effect by the inspecting authority or an officer of the Bank under whose control the employee is working.

(4) The Inquiring Officer shall be appointed by the appointing authority or by an officer of the society authorised for the purpose by the appointing authority.

Provided that the officer at whose instance disciplinary action was started shall not be appointed as an enquiring officer nor shall the said inquiring officer be the appellate authority.

(5) Where an erring employee is on deputation with the Bank, The Committee of Management, the Chairman or the Managing Director/Secretary, as the case may be, draw up a duplicate charge sheet against such employee and the same shall be communicated to the parent employer who shall, if prima facie case has been made out by the reporting authority, withdraw him from the Bank and take disciplinary action against him."

8. It is further submitted that on account of non following the procedure prescribed under the Regulation of 1976, the enquiry report is vitiated and accordingly, the order of dismissal dated 05.09.2009 based on the same is liable to be interfered with.

9. He further stated that the impugned order dated 05.09.2009 is non speaking order and being so is unsustainable in the eye of law.

10. The prayer is to interfere in the order of dismissal dated 05.09.2009 and allow the writ petition.

11. Per contra, Sri Balram Yadav, learned counsel for the respondent No. 2 to 4 on the basis of the averments made in the counter affidavit as well as the documents annexed therewith submitted that the reasonable opportunity was provided to the petitioner during the enquiry proceedings but the petitioner failed to avail the opportunity provided to him and accordingly, the enquiry officer proceeded with the enquiry and submitted his report before the disciplinary authority. The disciplinary authority also provided reasonable opportunity to the petitioner but the petitioner at that stage too failed to avail the opportunity provided to him. The disciplinary authority-respondent No. 2 after considering the enquiry report passed the order impugned dated 05.09.2009. The order impugned dated 05.09.2009 is approved by the respondent No.

4/Secretary, Institutional Service Board, Lucknow.

12. It is further stated that in the facts of the case, the impugned order dated 05.09.2009 is not liable to be interfered with and the writ petition for it is liable to be dismissed.

13. Heard the submissions made by learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

14. It appears from the record particularly the report of the enquiry officer dated 18.03.2007 and the impugned order dated 05.09.2009 that some opportunity was provided to the petitioner by the enquiry officer as well as by the disciplinary authority while holding the enquiry and prior to passing of the order dated 05.09.2009.

15. It also appears from the record that the specific averments made in para 18 of the writ petition to the effect that the documents demanded by the petitioner were not supplied to him, have not been refuted in para 7 of counter affidavit filed on behalf of the respondent Nos. 2 and 3, which contains reply to para 18 of the writ petition.

16. It is also evident from the eqnuiry report that the enquiry officer without conducting the enquiry as per the procedure prescribed under the Rules of 1976, which casts a duty on the enquiry officer to hold regular enquiry, submitted his report.

17. It further appears from the enquiry report as well as the contents of counter affidavit that the enquiry officer without fixing date, time and place for oral evidence, under intimation to the petitioner, to prove the charges and documents mentioned in the charge-sheet prepared the enquiry report, based on the documents, and submitted the same before the disciplinary authority. It also appears therefrom that certain charges have been proved only on account of non submission of reply to the charge-sheet.

18. Rule 81 of the Rules of 1976 speaks that regular enquiry has to be conducted and principles of natural justice have to be followed in the disciplinary proceedings by the enquiry officer, which includes an opportunity to the employee to examine the witnesses of department, those are required to prove the charges and documents relied upon in the charge sheet, as also an opportunity to produce his witnesses in his defence and an opportunity of being heard in person.

19. In what manner the principles of natural justice have to be followed in the departmental/disciplinary proceedings has already explained by the Apex Court as well as by this Court.

20. The Division Bench of this Court, after considering the catena of judgments on the issue of holding the disciplinary enquiry i.e. a regular enquiry, in the judgment dated 28.11.2018 passed in Writ Petition No.34093 (S/B) of 2018 (State of U.P. v. Deepak Kumar) has observed asunder:-

"It is settled by the catena of judgments that it is the dutyof Enquiry Officer to hold "Regular Enquiry'. Regularenquiry means that after reply to the charge-sheet theEnquiry Officer must record oral evidence with anopportunity to the delinquent employee to cross-examinethe witnesses and thereafter opportunity should be given tothe delinquent employee to adduce his evidence in defence.The opportunity of personal hearing should also begiven/awarded to the delinquent employee. Even if thecharged employee does not participate/co-operate in theenquiry, it shall be incumbent upon the Enquiry Officer toproceed ex-parte by recording oral evidence. For regularenquiry, it is incumbent upon the Enquiry Officer to fixdate, time and place for examination and cross-11S.A. No. 175 of 2005examination of witnesses for the purposes of proving ofcharges and documents, relied upon and opportunity todelinquent employee should also be given to produce hiswitness by fixing date, time and place. After completion ofenquiry the Enquiry Officer is required to submit its report,stating therein all the relevant facts, evidence andstatement of findings on each charge and reasons thereof,and thereafter, prior to imposing any punishment, the copyof the report should be provided to charged officer for thepurposes of submission of his reply on the same. Thepunishment order should be reasoned and speaking andmust be passed after considering entire material on record.(vide: Jagdish Prasad Vs. State of U.P. 1990 (8) LCD 486;Avatar Singh Vs. 21. In view of the law settled by this Court in regard to holding of regular enquiry and observations, made hereinabove, with regard to non supply of documents to the petitioner and flow in conducting the enquiry proceedings, this Court finds that the enquiry report is vitiated on account of non following of principles of natural justice as also the procedure prescribed under the Rules of 1976.

22. The basis of the impugned order dated 05.09.2009 is the enquiry report dated 18.03.2007, which this Court has already held that the same is in violation of principles of natural justice and Rules of 1976 and keeping in view of the same as well as the maxim "Sublato Fundamento Cadit Opus" (a foundation being removed, the superstructure falls) the impugned order is liable to be interfered/set aside by this Court.

23. In regard to submissions made by the learned counsel for the petitioner that the impugned order dated 05.0.9.2009 is a non speaking order, this Court considered the order dated 05.09.2009, which on reproduction reads as under:-

24. It reflects from the order dated 05.09.2009 that the disciplinary authority has not applied its mind while passing it and the same is a non speaking order.

25. The recording of reasons are necessary. It is well known that "conclusions" and "reasons" are two different things and reasons must show mental exercise of authorities in arriving at a particular conclusion.

26. In Breen Vs. Amalgamated Engg. Union, reported in 1971(1) AIIER 1148, it was held that the giving of reasons is one of the fundamentals of good administration. In Alexander Machinery (Dudley) Ltd.Vs. Crabtress, reported in 1974(4) IRC 120 (NIRC) it was observed that "failure to give reasons amounts to denial of justice. Reasons are live links between the mind of the decision taker to the controversy in question and the decision or conclusion arrived at".

27. In Union of India Vs. Mohan Lal Kapoor (1973) 2 SCC 836, as under:

"Reasons are the links between the materials on which certain conclusions are based and the actual conclusions. They disclose how the mind is applied to the subject matter for a decision whether it is purely administrative or quasi-judicial. They should reveal a rational nexus between the facts considered and the conclusions reached."

28. The Apex Court in the case of Uma Charan Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh & Anr. AIR 1981 SC 1915 said:

"Reasons are the links between the materials on which certain conclusions are based and the actual conclusions. They disclose how the mind is applied to the subject matter for a decision whether it is purely administrative or quasi-judicial. They should reveal a rational nexus between the facts considered and the conclusions reached. Only in this way can opinions or decisions recorded be shown to be manifestly just and reasonable"

29. The Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the case of S.N. Mukherjee v. Union of India, AIR 1990 SC 1984, has explained that reasons are necessary links between the facts and the findings recorded in the administrative orders, which visit a party with evil civil consequences. In absence of reasons such an order cannot be permitted to stand."

30. The Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the case of Raj Kishore Jha v. State of Bihar and others, (2003) 11 SCC 519, has held that reasons are the heartbeat of every conclusion and without the same, it becomes lifeless.

31. In Mc Dermott International Inc. Vs. Burn Standard Co. Ltd. & Ors. (2006) 11 SCC 181 Apex Court referring to Bachawat's Law of Arbitration and Conciliation, 4th Edn., pp. 855-56 in para 56 said:

"Reasons are the links between the materials on which certain conclusions are based and the actual conclusions..."

32. The Apex Court in Kranti Associates Private Limited & Anr. Vs. Masood Ahmed Khan & Ors. (2010) 9 SCC 496 referring to the judgment in Mohan Lal Capoor (supra) in para 23 said:

"Such reasons must disclose how mind was applied to the subject-matter for a decision regardless of the fact whether such a decision is purely administrative or quasi-judicial. This Court held that the reasons in such context would mean the link between materials which are considered and the conclusions which are reached. Reasons must reveal a rational nexus between the two."

33. The Apex Court also in Competition Commission of India Vs. Steel Authority of India Ltd. & Anr. JT 2010 (10) SC 26 in para 68 referring to the judgment in the case of Gurdial Singh Fijji (supra) said:

*"Reasons are the links between the materials on which certain conclusions are based and the actual conclusions. By practice adopted in all courts and by virtue of judge- made law, the concept of reasoned judgment has become an indispensable part of basic rule of law and in fact, is a mandatory requirement of the procedural law. Clarity of thoughts leads to cla*rity of vision and therefore, proper reasoning is foundation of a just and fair decision."

34. In view of the above, the punishment order dated 05.09.2009 being based on the enquiry report dated 18.03.2007, which is vitiated under the law, and non speaking is liable to be interfered with.

35. Accordingly, the writ petition is allowed. The order dated 05.09.2009 is hereby quashed.

36. In view of the facts of the case to the effect that the petitioner has expired and the matter can not be remanded back to the disciplinary authority to hold the enquiry a fresh as well as keeping in view the principle of no work no pay, I am of the view that the petitioner (now deceased) would not be entitled to back wages for the intervening period.

37. However, the family members of the petitioner (now deceased) would be entitled for the consequential benefits, which are available to them, under the relevant Rules of Bank.

A. Service – Compassionate Appointment – Uttar Pradesh Recruitment of Dependents of Government Servants Dying-in-Harness Rules, 1974: Rule 2(c) – The Court in the present case followed the law upheld by the Apex Court that 'exclusion of married daughter' from the ambit of the expression of 'family' in Rule 2 (c), was illegal and unconstitutional being violative of Articles 14 and 15 of the Constitution and therefore the word 'unmarried' has been rightly struck down.

Precedent distinguished:

Mudita Vs. State of U.P., Writ Petition No. 49766 of 2015, decided on 10.09.2015 (Para 3)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saurabh Shyam Shamshery, J.)

1. The application for compassionate appointment of the writ petitioner-respondent under the dying in Harness Rules due to the death of her father, was rejected vide order dated 03.3.2016, on the ground that the married daughter was not included in the definition of 'family' as described under Section 2 (c) of the Uttar Pradesh Recruitment of Dependents of Government Servants Dying-in-Harness Rules, 1974 (hereinafter referred to as the "Rules, 1974").

2. Aggrieved by the aforesaid order, the writ petitioner-respondent has approached the learned Single Judge. The learned Single Judge vide impugned order dated 03.5.2016 allowed the writ petition relying upon a judgment passed by a Division Bench of this Court in Writ-C No.60881 of 2015, (Smt. Vimla Srivastava Vs. State of U.P. & Anr.) and connected matters wherein the Division Bench had held that the 'exclusion of married daughter' from the ambit of the expression of 'family' in Rule 2 (c) of the Rules, 1974 was illegal and unconstitutional being violative of Articles 14 and 15 of the Constitution and accordingly the Division Bench struck down the word 'unmarried' in Rule 2 (c) (iii) of the Rules 1974.

3. The relevant portion of the judgment is reproduced hereinafter:

"Specifically in the context of compassionate appointments various High Courts have taken the view that a woman who is married cannot be denied entry into service on compassionate appointment merely on the ground of marriage. This view was taken by a learned Single Judge of the Karnataka High Court in Manjula vs. State of Karnataka,2005 (104) FLR 271. The same view has been adopted by a Division Bench of the Bombay High Court in Smt. Ranjana Murlidhar Anerao vs. The State of Maharashtra, Writ Petition No.5592 of 2009, decided on 13 August 2014, where it was held that the exclusion of a married daughter for the grant of a retail kerosene license on the death of the license holder was not justifiable. The Division Bench of the Bombay High Court held as follows:

"This exclusion of a married daughter does not appear to be based on any logic or other justifiable criteria. Marriage of a daughter who is otherwise a legal representative of a license holder cannot be held to her disadvantage in the matter of seeking transfer of license in her name on the death of the license holder. Under Article 19(1)(g) of the Constitution of India the right of a citizen to carry on any trade or business is preserved. Under Article 19(6) reasonable restrictions with regard to professional or technical qualifications necessary for carrying on any trade or business could be imposed. Similarly, gender discrimination is prohibited by Article 15 of the Constitution. The exclusion of a married daughter from the purview of expression "family" in the Licensing Order of 1979 is not only violative of Article 15 but the same also infringes the right guaranteed by Article 19(1)(g) of the Constitution."

The same view has been adopted by a learned Single Judge of the Madras

High Court in S Kavitha vs. The District Collector, Writ Petition No.16153 of 2015, decided on 9 June 2015. A learned Single Judge of the Kolkata High Court in Purnima Das vs. The State of West Bengal, Writ Petition No.33967 (W) of 2013 decided on 19 March 2014 has held that while appointment on compassionate ground cannot be claimed as a matter of right, at the same time, it was not open to the State to adopt a discriminatory policy by excluding a married daughter from the ambit of compassionate appointment.

We are in respectful agreement with the view which has been expressed on the subject by diverse judgments of the High Courts to which we have made reference above.

During the course of submissions, our attention was also drawn to the judgment rendered by a learned Single Judge of this Court in Mudita vs. State of U.P., Writ Petition No.49766 of 2015, decided on 10 September 2015. The learned Single Judge while proceeding to deal with an identical issue of the right of a married daughter to be considered under the Dying-in-Harness Rules observed that a married daughter is a part of the family of her husband and could not therefore be expected to continue to provide for the family of the deceased government servant. The judgment proceeds on the premise that marriage severs all relationships that the daughter may have had with her parents. In any case it shuts out the consideration of the claim of the married daughter without any enquiry on the issue of dependency. In the view that we have taken we are unable to accept or affirm the reasoning of the learned Single Judge and are constrained to hold that Mudita does not lay down the correct position of the law.

In conclusion, we hold that the exclusion of married daughters from the ambit of the expression "family" in Rule 2 (c) of the Dying-in-Harness Rules is illegal and unconstitutional, being violative of Articles 14 and 15 of the Constitution.

We, accordingly, strike down the word 'unmarried' in Rule 2 (c) (iii) of the Dying-in-Harness Rules.

In consequence, we direct that the claim of the petitioners for compassionate appointment shall be reconsidered. We clarify that the competent authority would be at liberty to consider the claim for compassionate appointment on the basis of all the relevant facts and circumstances and the petitioners shall not be excluded from consideration only on the ground of their marital status."

4. Accordingly, the learned Single Judge allowed the writ petition and directed the competent authority to consider the claim of the writ petitioner-respondent for compassionate appointment.

5. The appellant has approached this Court by way of filing the present special appeal against the judgment passed by the learned Single Judge.

6. Learned counsel appearing on behalf of the respondent at the outset pointed out that the relied upon judgment was challenged by the State of U.P. before the Apex Court and the Apex Court vide order dated 23.7.2019 passed in Special Leave to Appeal Civil No.22646 of 2016 and connected matters has dismissed the special leave to appeal.

7. We have perused the impugned judgment as well as the relied upon judgment.

8. The learned Single Judge has rightly followed the judgment passed by the Division Bench of this Court in the matter of Vimla Srivastava (supra) and now it has been brought on record that the said judgment has been upheld by the Apex Court also, therefore, we do not find any reason to interfere with the order passed by the learned Single Judge.

9. Accordingly, this special appeal is dismissed.

Mudita Vs. State of U.P., Writ Petition No. 49766 of 2015, decided on 10.09.2015 (Para 3)

Appeal against the judgment and order dated 18.03.2016, passed by Division Bench of High Court of Allahabad.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saurabh Shyam Shamshery, J.)

1. The application for compassionate appointment of the writ petitioner-respondent under the dying in Harness Rules due to the death of her father, was rejected vide order dated 05.5.2014, on the ground that the divorced married daughter was not included in the definition of 'family' as described under Section 2 (c) of the Uttar Pradesh Recruitment of Dependents of Government Servants Dying-in-Harness Rules, 1974 (hereinafter referred to as the "Rules, 1974").

2. Aggrieved by the aforesaid order, the writ petitioner-respondent has approached the learned Single Judge. The learned Single Judge vide impugned order dated 18.3.2016 allowed the writ petition relying upon a judgment passed by a Division Bench of this Court in Writ-C No.60881 of 2015, (Smt. Vimla Srivastava Vs. State of U.P. & Anr.) and connected matters wherein the Division Bench had held that the 'exclusion of married daughter' from the ambit of the expression of 'family' in Rule 2 (c) of the Rules, 1974 was illegal and unconstitutional being violative of Articles 14 and 15 of the Constitution and accordingly the Division Bench struck down the word 'unmarried' in Rule 2 (c) (iii) of the Rules 1974.

3. The relevant portion of the judgment is reproduced hereinafter:

"Specifically in the context of compassionate appointments various High Courts have taken the view that a woman who is married cannot be denied entry into service on compassionate appointment merely on the ground of marriage. This view was taken by a learned Single Judge of the Karnataka High Court in Manjula vs. State of Karnataka,2005 (104) FLR 271. The same view has been adopted by a Division Bench of the Bombay High Court in Smt. Ranjana Murlidhar Anerao vs. The State of Maharashtra, Writ Petition No.5592 of 2009, decided on 13 August 2014, where it was held that the exclusion of a married daughter for the grant of a retail kerosene license on the death of the license holder was not justifiable. The Division Bench of the Bombay High Court held as follows:

"This exclusion of a married daughter does not appear to be based on any logic or other justifiable criteria. Marriage of a daughter who is otherwise a legal representative of a license holder cannot be held to her disadvantage in the matter of seeking transfer of license in her name on the death of the license holder. Under Article 19(1)(g) of the Constitution of India the right of a citizen to carry on any trade or business is preserved. Under Article 19(6) reasonable restrictions with regard to professional or technical qualifications necessary for carrying on any trade or business could be imposed. Similarly, gender discrimination is prohibited by Article 15 of the Constitution. The exclusion of a married daughter from the purview of expression "family" in the Licensing Order of 1979 is not only violative of Article 15 but the same also infringes the right guaranteed by Article 19(1)(g) of the Constitution."

The same view has been adopted by a learned Single Judge of the Madras High Court in S Kavitha vs. The District Collector, Writ Petition No.16153 of 2015, decided on 9 June 2015. A learned Single Judge of the Kolkata High Court in Purnima Das vs. The State of West Bengal, Writ Petition No.33967 (W) of 2013 decided on 19 March 2014 has held that while appointment on compassionate ground cannot be claimed as a matter of right, at the same time, it was not open to the State to adopt a discriminatory policy by excluding a married daughter from the ambit of compassionate appointment.

We are in respectful agreement with the view which has been expressed on the subject by diverse judgments of the High Courts to which we have made reference above.

During the course of submissions, our attention was also drawn to the judgment rendered by a learned Single Judge of this Court in Mudita vs. State of U.P., Writ Petition No.49766 of 2015, decided on 10 September 2015. The learned Single Judge while proceeding to deal with an identical issue of the right of a married daughter to be considered under the Dying-in-Harness Rules observed that a married daughter is a part of the family of her husband and could not therefore be expected to continue to provide for the family of the deceased government servant. The judgment proceeds on the premise that marriage severs all relationships that the daughter may have had with her parents. In any case it shuts out the consideration of the claim of the married daughter without any enquiry on the issue of dependency. In the view that we have taken we are unable to accept or affirm the reasoning of the learned Single Judge and are constrained to hold that Mudita does not lay down the correct position of the law.

In conclusion, we hold that the exclusion of married daughters from the ambit of the expression "family" in Rule 2 (c) of the Dying-in-Harness Rules is illegal and unconstitutional, being violative of Articles 14 and 15 of the Constitution.

We, accordingly, strike down the word 'unmarried' in Rule 2 (c) (iii) of the Dying-in-Harness Rules.

In consequence, we direct that the claim of the petitioners for compassionate appointment shall be reconsidered. We clarify that the competent authority would be at liberty to consider the claim for compassionate appointment on the basis of all the relevant facts and circumstances and the petitioners shall not be excluded from consideration only on the ground of their marital status."

4. Accordingly, the learned Single Judge allowed the writ petition and directed the competent authority to consider the claim of the writ petitioner-respondent for compassionate appointment.

5. The appellants have approached this Court by way of filing the present special appeal against the judgment passed by the learned Single Judge.

6. Learned counsel appearing on behalf of the respondent at the outset pointed out that the relied upon judgment was challenged by the State of U.P. before the Apex Court and the Apex Court vide order dated 23.7.2019 passed in Special Leave to Appeal Civil No.22646 of 2016 and connected matters has dismissed the special leave to appeal.

7. We have perused the impugned judgment as well as the relied upon judgment.

8. The learned Single Judge has rightly followed the judgment passed by the Division Bench of this Court in the matter of Vimla Srivastava (supra) and now it has been brought on record that the said judgment has been upheld by the Apex Court also, therefore, we do not find any reason to interfere with the order passed by the learned Single Judge.

9. Accordingly, this special appeal is dismissed.

A. Service – Uttar Pradesh High Schools and Intermediate Colleges (Payment of Salaries of Teachers and other Employees), Act, 1971: Sections 3(3), 4, 5, 6, 10(1), 11; Uttar Pradesh High Schools and Intermediate Colleges (Payment of Salaries of Teachers and other Employees), Rules, 1993 – The responsibility for ensuring submission of necessary papers for the purposes of payment of salaries of teachers and other employees is of the management of the Institution and when a default in the aforesaid has been recorded, management is the only body which could have filed the writ petition and not the Principal of the institution.

Appeal dismissed.

Precedent mentioned:

Committee of Management, Gangabux Kanauriya Gandhi Inter College, Deoria Vs. Deputy Director of Education, Seventh Region Gorakhpur and others, 2000 (3) ALR 314 (Para 5)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Yogendra Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri Radha Kant Ojha, learned Senior Counsel, assisted by Sri Ali Hasan, learned counsel for the appellants, Sri Kailash Singh Kushwaha, learned counsel for the sixth respondent/caveator and Sri A.K. Roy, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel appearing for the State-respondents.

2. The present Special Appeal has been filed against the judgment and order dated 23.07.2019 passed in Writ-A No.10710 of 2019 (Smt. Dharmraji Devi Ganga Prasad Singh Uchchatar Madhyamik Vidyalaya And Another Vs. State of U.P. and 5 others), whereby the writ petition has been dismissed by assigning the reason that the same had been filed by a person not competent to file the petition. The learned Single Judge has, however, granted liberty to the Committee of Management of the petitioner institution to file a writ petition.

3. The judgment passed by the writ court is sought to be assailed principally on the ground that since the dispute involved in the case related to a Class-IV employee in the petitioner institution, it was not correct to say that the writ petition could be filed only by the Committee of Management and not by the Principal of the institution.

4. In this regard, the learned Senior Counsel appearing for the appellant has sought to draw attention of this Court to the provisions contained under the Intermediate Education Act, 19211 and the Regulations framed thereunder, to submit that as per the statuary frame work, it is the Principal of the institution, who is solely responsible and has all the necessary powers with regard to the appointment, promotion and punishment of a Class-IV employee and that it is only in respect of teachers and employees other than Class-IV employees that the power with regard to the aforesaid matters vests with the Committee of Management.

5. The learned Senior Counsel has also pointed out that the decision of this Court in the case of Committee of Management, Gangabux Kanauriya Gandhi Inter College, Deoria Vs. Deputy Director of Education, Seventh Region Gorakhpur and others2, which has been relied upon in the judgment under appeal, was a case where the educational authority had refused to accord approval to the management's decision to terminate the services of a person who was working as a teacher in the institution in question. Contention of the learned Senior Counsel is that taking notice of the fact that under the relevant regulations it was the Committee of Management which was the appointing authority, the appeal filed before the Deputy Direction of Education having been preferred in the name of the College, was held not to be an appeal in the eyes of law and for the said reason, the Court had refused to exercise its jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

6. Per contra, learned counsel appearing for the sixth respondent and learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State-respondents submit that in the instant case the writ petition has been preferred against an order dated 28.03.2019 passed by the District Inspector of Schools, Jaunpur3, exercising powers under Section 3(3) of the Uttar Pradesh High Schools and Intermediate Colleges (Payment of Salaries of Teachers and other Employees), Act, 19714, whereunder the responsibility with regard to payment of salaries is that of the management, and accordingly, it was only the Committee of Management which could have challenged the said order. It has been pointed out that the matter does not relate to either the appointment or initiation of any disciplinary proceedings against a Class-IV employee, and as such, the assertion on behalf of the appellant that the Principal of the institution was competent to prefer the writ petition, had rightly been turned down by the learned Single Judge.

7. The record of the case indicates that the principal grievance sought to be raised in the writ petition was against the order dated 28.03.2019 passed by the DIOS, which is an order passed in exercise of powers conferred under sub-section (3) of Section 3 of the Act, 1971, which empowers the DIOS to ensure payment of salary of a teacher or employee, in case of any default on part of the management.

8. A plain reading of the aforesaid order which was sought to be challenged in the writ petition indicates that despite earlier directions having been issued to the management for submission of salary bill of the sixth respondent (a Class-IV employee), the management had defaulted and consequently a notice dated 27.03.2019 was issued to the Committee of Management and it was subsequent thereto that the DIOS proceeded to pass the order dated 28.03.2019 in exercise of powers conferred under sub-section (3) of Section 3 of the Act, 1971.

9. The Uttar Pradesh High Schools and Intermediate Colleges (Payment of Salaries of Teachers and others Employees), Act, 1971 was enacted to regulate the payment of salaries to teachers and other employees of High Schools and Intermediate Colleges, receiving aid out of State funds and to provide for matters connected therewith. The object of the Act is to secure regular and prompt payment of salaries to teachers and other employees of the High Schools and Intermediate Colleges in the State and for the said purpose the machinery and procedure to regulate the payment has been provided in the Act itself.

10. In terms of sub-section (1) of Section 10 of the Act 1971, a duty is cast upon the State Government for payment of salaries of teachers and employees of every institution which is recognized under Intermediate Education Act, 1971 and is receiving maintenance grant from the State Government. The procedure for payment of salaries is provided for under Section 5 which inter alia provides for the operation of a separate account to be opened jointly by a representative of the management and by the inspector or such other officer as may be authorized by the inspector in that behalf for the purposes of disbursement of salaries of the teachers and employees of the institution in question.

11. Section 3 of the Act, 1971, provides for payment of salary within time and without unauthorized deduction and under sub- section (3) thereof the DIOS has been saddled with the statutory duty of ensuring payment of salary of teachers and other employees of a recognized institution within a prescribed time frame. It also provides for the contingency that in case of any default on part of the management, the Inspector may take necessary steps for ensuring the payment of salary.

12. For ease of reference, Section 3 of the Act, 1971 is being extracted herein below:-

"3. Payment of salary within time and without unauthorised deduction.-- (1) Notwithstanding any contract to the contrary, the salary of a teacher or other employee of an institution in respect of any period after the thirty-first day of March, 1971 shall be paid to him before the expiry of the twentieth day, or such earlier day as the State Government may, by general or special order in that behalf appoint, of the month next following the month in respect of which or any part of which it is payable.

(2) The salary shall subject to the provisions of sub-section (3), be paid without deduction of any kind except those authorised by the regulations or by any rules made under the Act or by any other law for the time being in force.

(3) Where the salary of a teacher employee of an institution is not paid in accordance with sub-section (1) due to any default on the part of the management, the Inspector may, without prejudice to any other provision of this Act, pay or cause to be paid within ten days from the date mentioned in sub-section (1) of Section 4 at the rate of salary last drawn by such teacher or employee as the case may be, and in case fresh appointment at the rate of the minimum of the pay scale in which he has been appointed and any adjustment in respect of such payment shall, thereafter be made as soon as possible."

13. In terms of Section 4 of the Act, 1971, the Inspector is empowered to make inspection of the institution with regard to payment of salaries and in case of any default by the management adequate measures for enforcement of the provisions and directions under the Act have been provided for under Section 6 of the said Act.

14. Under Section 11, punishment and penalties have also been provided, in case of default committed by manager or any other person vested with the authority to manage and conduct the affairs of the institution, in complying with the provisions of the Act, 1971.

15. The rules framed for carrying out the purpose of the Act 1971, namely the Uttar Pradesh High Schools and Intermediate Colleges (Payment of Salaries of Teachers and others Employees), Rules 1993, also provide that the responsibility for submission of requisition and the bill relating to the grant is that of the manager.

16. A conjoint reading of the aforesaid provisions, thus indicates that as per the statutory frame work and the scheme, as provided for under the Act, 1971 and the Rules framed thereunder, the responsibility for ensuring submission of necessary papers for the purposes of payment of salaries of teachers and others employees is of the management of the Institution.

17. In the instant case, the order dated 28.03.2019, under challenge in the writ petition, is an order passed by the DIOS, exercising powers under sub-section (3) of Section 3 of the Act 1971, after recording the default of the management in submission of the salary bill.

18. In the said circumstances, the judgment of the learned Single Judge whereunder it has been held that the Committee of Management of the institution in question is the only body which could have filed the writ petition and not the Principal of the institution, cannot be faulted with.

19. No palpable infirmity or perversity has been pointed out in the judgment under appeal so as to warrant interference.

20. We are therefore not inclined to interfere with the judgment dated 23.07.2019 passed in Writ-A No. 10710 of 2019. The present Special Appeal is thus liable to be dismissed and is accordingly dismissed.

21. Learned Senior Counsel appearing for the appellants at this stage has referred to certain disciplinary proceedings which are stated to have been initiated against the sixth respondent.

22. In this regard we may only say that the issue with regard to initiation of disciplinary proceedings against the sixth respondent was not the subject matter of the writ petition before the learned Single Judge, therefore, the dismissal of the writ petition and also the present special appeal would not in any manner effect any proceedings in that regard, if the same have already been initiated.

A. Service Law– Promotion – Petitioner claims to have been wrongly reverted to the post of Scientific Assistant from post of Senior Scientific Assistant in the year 2015, due to mis-interpretation of judgment in Rajesh Kumar's case.

B. Service Law-Uttar Pradesh Public Servants (Reservation for Scheduled Caste, Scheduled Tribe & Other Backward Classes) Act, 1994: Sections 3(2), 3(5), 3(7); Fourth Amendment Seniority Rules, 2007: Rule 8A – Section 3(2), cannot subsist independent of Section 3(7) as the policy of reservation in the State of U.P existed prior to enactment of 1994 Act and once the policy of reservation in promotion is struck down by Hon'ble Supreme Court in Rajesh Kumar's case, the concept of backlog vacancies automatically collapse and thus, the applicability of Section 3(2) becomes limited only to direct recruitment. Petition challenges order dated 20.01.2020, passed by State Public Services Tribunal.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Karunesh Singh Pawar, J.)

1. Under challenge is the judgment and order dated 20.1.2020, passed by State Public Services Tribunal, Indira Bhawan, Lucknow in Claim Petition No.1503 of 2018 Lal Ji versus State of U.P. and others, whereby the tribunal while partly allowing the claim petition has declined to interfere with the order dated 16.2.2018, passed by Director, Forensic Sciences Laboratory with a further finding that the petitioner's seniority can be determined only from the date of his regular promotion in 2016.

2. The facts necessary for adjudication of the case are that the petitioner Lal Ji was appointed on 25.1.1993 on the post of Lab Attendant. He was further appointed as Lal Assistant vide order dated 15.7.1995. The petitioner was promoted to the post of Scientific Assistant on 10.12.2003. Vide Government Order dated 3.7.2002, the Government of U.P. directed to fill up backlog posts in accordance with the provisions of Uttar Pradesh Public Servants (Reservation for Scheduled Caste, Scheduled Tribe & Other Backward Classes) Act, 1994 (in short, 1994 Act). Subsequently, vide Government Order dated 22.5.2007, a direction was made to all the departments to fill up backlog vacancies in Group A, B and C posts by way of special drive within six months, in the light of Section 3(2) and 3(5) of 1994 Act. In pursuance thereof, the petitioner was promoted as Senior Scientific Assistant vide order dated 21.8.2007. In the meantime, one Smt. Neelam Kumari, a direct recruit, was appointed as Senior Scientific Assistant on 18.10.2012 and she was placed at serial No.62 in the tentative seniority list dated 10.2.2014.

Thereafter, the petitioner was reverted vide order dated 4.9.2015, purportedly in compliance of the decision of Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in U.P. Power Corporation Limited versus Rajesh Kumar (2012)7 SCC 1 whereby Section 3(7) of 1994 Act and Rule 8A of Fourth Amendment Seniority Rules, 2007 were declared ultra vires.

Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the decision of Hon'ble Supreme Court did not affect promotions made under Section 3(2) of 1994 Act under which the petitioner had been promoted.

It is further submitted that due to misreading of the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court in Rajesh Kumar's case (supra), the petitioner has been wrongly reverted on 4.9.2015. However, on his pointing out that he has been wrongly reverted, he was assured that the petitioner would be promoted again and he was thus promoted vide order dated 13.1.2016 and the mistake was rectified. He has been continuing on the post of Senior Scientific Assistant since 13.1.2016.

Learned counsel has vehemently contended that since he was mistakenly reverted and he was promoted on 13.1.2016 after correcting the mistake, hence the intervening period from 4.9.2015 to 13.1.2016 is liable to be ignored and he should be treated in continuous service on the said post of Senior Scientific Assistant in view of the judgment in Rajesh Kumar's case (supra).

Further submission is that his reversion amounted to demotion which could only be done on a proved mis-conduct after full fledged enquiry in accordance with The Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 (in short, 1999 Rules). He submits that a break of few months would not dis-entitle him of the experience that he had gained as Senior Scientific Assistant, which is necessary for consideration for promotion against vacancies of promotional quota.

It is next submitted that a tentative seniority list was announced on 18.1.2018 seeking objections by 31.1.2018 but before it was finalised, Departmental Promotion committee was held on 8.2.2018 in which his candidature was overlooked and he was by-passed.

Feeling aggrieved, the petitioner preferred a writ petition No.4050(S/S) of 2018 before this Court. Vide order dated 8.2.2018, this Court while passing an interim order directed that in case a meeting of the Departmental Promotion Committee is held, the result thereof shall not be declared or given effect to. However, it is stated by the learned counsel that the DPC was held on the same day and a decision was taken not to promote the petitioner. His representation preferred in relation to his seniority was rejected on 26.2.2018, although the promotion was not made and the final result of DPC is yet to be declared.

Lastly, it has been submitted that the seniority list of 25.5.2016 stood superseded by issuance of tentative seniority list on 18.1.2018 and therefore, the DPC was not authorised to consider promotions on the basis of that seniority list.

Learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State has opposed the petition and submitted that the petitioner was promoted on the basis of policy of reservation in promotion on 16.2.2003 from Labotratory Assistant to the post of Scientific Assistant and thereafter he was again promoted as Senior Scientific Assistant on the basis of the policy of reservation in promotion on a backlog vacancy.

It is further submitted by learned Addl. Chief Standing Counsel that Neelam Kumari was appointed on the post of Senior Scientific Assistant by direct recruitment on 18.10.2012. It is submitted that since the petitioner was not a member of feeder cadre of Senior Scientific Assistant on 10.2.2014, the date on which the seniority list was published, the name of the petitioner was not included in the said seniority list. It is also submitted that the petitioner was reverted to the post of Scientific Assistant in compliance of the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court in Rajesh Kumar's case (supra) along with all other employees of the State Government who had been promoted on the ground of reservation between 15.11.1997 and 28.4.2012. The petitioner was rightly reverted to the post of Scientific Assistant and the case of Rajesh Kumar (supra) is applicable to the case of the petitioner. It is submitted that the policy of promotion of Scheduled Castes/Scheduled Tribes in promotional posts was squarely covered by Section 3(7) of 1994 Act, which was struck down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court and hence, in case any benefit had accrued to the petitioner through Section 3(7) of 1994 Act, he became disetitled to that, in the light of the order (s) passed by Hon'ble Supreme Court.

3. Learned Addl. Chief Standing Counsel has submitted that the record does not depict that the petitioner was wrongly reverted to the post of Scientific Assistant and the wrong was corrected, thereby promoting the petitioner as Senior Scientific Assistant. It is submitted that the petitioner was considered for promotion on the basis of his placement in the feeder cadre of Scientific Assistant and the promotion made in 2016 was completely an independent exercise.

It is next submitted that since the petitioner was not eligible for promotion on 8.2.2018 when the DPC was held and thus his case for promotion was not considered. The petitioner was junior to Smt. Neelam Kumari in the final seniority list of 25.5.2016 which is undisputed. Circulation of tentative seniority list dated 14.1.2018 was a separate exercise and did not affect the finality or sanctity of 2016 seniority list, on the basis of which the promotions were made by the DPC on 8.2.2018.

Lastly, it is submitted that the petitioner stood reverted in the year 2016 and thereafter he was not part of the feeder cadre of Senior Scientific Assistant. He submits that since the post of Senior Scientific Assistant has to be filled up on the basis of seniority and experience and as he was not senior vis-a-vis other candidates, he was not considered for promotion.

4. We have heard learned counsel for the petitioner and learned Addl. Chief Standing Counsel.

5. The bone of contention of the petitioner's counsel is that since the petitioner was wrongly reverted in the year 2015 due to mis-interpretation of judgment in Rajesh Kumar's case (supra), he should be reinstated at appropriate place in the seniority list and he be considered for promotion on the higher post. Learned tribunal while deciding the controversy whether the petitioner's promotion in 2003 and 2007 were covered by the judgment rendered in Rajesh Kumar's case (supra) has given the following finding :

"13. The basic point that needs to be determined in the instant matter is whether the petitioner's promotions in the year 2003 and 2007 were covered by the decision of Hon'ble Supreme Court in Rajesh Kumar's case or not. In the Rajesh

Kumar case the Hon'ble Supreme Court had held that "In the ultimate analysis, we conclude and hold that Section 3(7) of the 1994 Act and Rule 8 (A) of the 2007 Rules are ultra-vires as they run counter to the dictum in M.Nagaraj. Any promotion that has been given on the Indira Sawhney case and without the aid or assistance of Section 3 (7) and Rule 8(A) shall remain undisturbed."

14. The petitioner has denied that he has derived any benefit of Section 3(7) of 1994 Act and therefore he was not covered by the above said decision. He has stated that he was promoted on the basis of Section 3(2) of the 1994 Act regarding filling of backlog vacancies and not on basis of Section 3(7) of 1994 Act.

15. It is worth considering whether Section 3(2) in regard to reservations in promotion can subsist independent of Section 3(7) of the 1994 Act. The two relevant Sections are reproduced below: 3. (2) If, in respect of any year of recruitment any vacancy reserved for any category of persons under sub-section (1) remains unfilled, such vacancy shall be carried forward and be filled through special recruitment in that very year or in succeeding year or years of recruitment as a separate class of vacancy and such class of vacancy shall not be considered together with the vacancies of the year of recruitment in which it is filled and also for the purpose of determining the ceiling of fifty per cent reservation of the total vacancies of that year notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in sub-section 3. (7) If, on the date of commencement of this Act, reservation was in force under Government Orders for appointment to posts to be filled by promotion, such Government Orders shall continue to be applicable till they are modified or revoked.

17. In the instant matter the issue that has been raised by the petitioner is that the provision of backlog as contained in Section 3(2) of 1994 Act stands independent of Section 3(7) of the Act. Section 3(2) of the 1994 Act specifically deals with the concept of backlog and lays down that unfilled reserved vacancies would be treated as backlog and prescribes a mechanism for filling those posts up. This provision related both to direct appointments as well as recruitment through promotions.

18. In U.P. the policy of reservation in promotions existed prior to the enactment of 1994 Act. A detailed scheme of roster to effectuate reservations too had been in existence historically. It was only on basis of this policy of reservation in promotions and roster that the concept of backlog vacancies in promotion posts came into existence. In absence of an enabling policy of reservation in promotions, the concept of backlog vacancies cannot exist. Once the policy of reservation in promotions itself is struck down, the concept of backlog vacancies automatically crumbles. It is left with no feet to stand upon. In absence of a policy of reservations in promotions, Section 3(2)'s applicability becomes limited only to direct recruitments.

19. Filling up of vacancies in promotion posts on basis of reservation pre-supposes existence of an enabling policy of reservation in promotions. In absence of such a policy, enumeration of vacancies to be filled up through reservation is neither feasible nor possible. Despite repeated queries by the Court, neither the Ld. PO nor Ld. Counsel for petitioner could clarify the origin of the policy of reservation in promotions in U.P. But apparently from the sequence of facts, it can be logically deduced that it preceded the enactment of the 1994 Act and it was allowed to continue through the instrumentality of Section 3(7). Once, the Hon'ble Apex Court struck down Section 3(7) the entire edifice of reservation in promotions was annihilated. In Indira Sawhney case The Hon'ble Supreme Court had found the policy of reservation in promotions impermissible under the Constitution but protected the extant and prevailing policies only for a period of 5 years till 15-11-1997. Thus the policy of reservation in promotions stood decisively negated by a joint operation of Indira Sawhney, M.Nagaraj and Rajesh Kumar decisions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court. While affirmative action in terms of reservation for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes in direct recruitments under Article 16(4) of the Indian Constitution has been repeatedly upheld by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, its application in promotions has been subjected to certain conditionalities.

20. We find that the petitioner could not have been promoted as Scientific Assistant or Senior Scientific Assistant without the instrumentality of enabling policy of reservation in promotions which was protected by Section 3(7) of the 1994. The claim of the petitioner that he did not avail the benefit of 3(7) of the 1994 Act is thus unacceptable."

6. On due consideration of the finding recorded by the tribunal, we are of the view that the learned tribunal has rightly held that Section 3(2) of 1994 Act cannot subsist independent of Section 3(7) of 1994 Act as the policy of reservation in the State of U.P. existed prior to enactment of 1994 Act and in absence of any enabling policy of reservation in promotion, the concept of backlog vacancies as provided in Section 3(2) of the 1994 Act cannot exist and once the policy of reservation in promotion itself is struck down, the concept of backlog vacancies automatically collapse and thus in absence of policy of reservation in promotions, the applicability of Section 3(2) becomes limited only to direct recruitment.

The tribunal has rightly held that the policy of reservation in promotion in U.P. existed prior to the enactment of 1994 Act and it was allowed through Section 3(7) which has been struck down by Hon'ble Supreme Court in Rajesh Kumar's case (supra) and therefore the entire concept of reservation in promotion was destroyed completely.

7. In regard to the second contention of learned counsel for the petitioner that his reversion was wrongful and on his protest, the mistake was corrected and he was again promoted in 2016, the tribunal has given a finding after perusal of original record that the exercise of promotion made in the year 2016 was independent of petitioner's reversion in 2015 and the petitioner was routinely promoted on the basis of his seniority in the feeder cadre, along with other candidates.

8. As regards plea of the petitioner that his experience as Senior Scientific Assistant from 2007 to 2015 should be counted as qualifying service for the purpose of deciding his eligibility for the post of Scientific Officer, the tribunal has given a categorical finding and justified his plea in this context and held that his experience as Senior Scientific Assistant from 2007-2015 should be counted as service experience as provided in Rule 4(ii) of the Service Rules, 2016. The tribunal has further held that the petitioner would be treated as eligible under Rule 4(ii) (supra), however, promotion of the petitioner shall be subject to his seniority vis-a-vis other candidates.

9. In regard to the legality of DPC dated 8.2.2018, the tribunal has not made any observation, and rightly so, as the issue has already been considered and dealt with by this Court in Writ Petition No.6426 of 2018

Rajendra Singh versus State of U.P. vide judgment dated 28.2.2018.

10. Contention of learned counsel for the petitioner that Hon'ble Supreme Court in Jarnail Singh versus Lachhmi Narain Gupta has held that the judgment in M. Nagraj is invalid to the extent of asking quantifiable data for Scheduled Caste category as being inconsistent with 9 Judges judgment in Indra Sawhney case and therefore, ignoring the judgment in Rajesh Kumar's case (supra), the petitioner is liable to be considered for promotion on the higher post is not sustainable for the reason that the judgment in Rajesh Kumar's case (supra) has not been overruled and still holds good and this Court is bound by the dictum of Hon'ble Supreme Court under Art. 141 of the Constitution of India and therefore, the plea of the petitioner is rejected.

11. In view of the above, we do not find any perversity or illegality in the order passed by the tribunal. The writ petition lacks merit and is accordingly dismissed.

A. Service Law– Compulsory retirement – Limited scope for review of the order of compulsory retirement is that if the evidence of arbitrariness and mala fide is attached to it – In the present case, evidence for compulsorily retiring the Petitioner was placed before the Screening Committee. Thus, allegation of mala fide and arbitrariness does not suffice. The petitioner has also not adduced any evidence to establish the same. (Para 10, 11)

B. The decision of compulsorily retiring a Government Servant depends upon the subjective satisfaction of the competent authority, which should however be based on objective facts. Such an order is beyond the scope of judicial scrutiny. (Para 9, 10, 13)

Writ petition dismissed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

2. R.P. Malhotra Vs. Chief Commissioner of Income Tax, Patiala and others, 1990 (Supp) Supreme Court Cases 771 (Para 7)

Present petition challenges orders dated 05.11.2019, 12.02.2018 and 14.08.2017, passed and upheld respectively by U.P. State Public Services Tribunal.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Karunesh Singh Pawar, J.)

(1) Heard Sri Paritosh Kumar Trivedi, learned Counsel for the petitioner and Sri Gopal Kumar Srivastava, learned Standing Counsel for all respondents/State.

(2) By means of this petition, the petitioner is praying for the following reliefs:-

"(i) issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned Judgment and Order dated 5.11.2019 (Annexure No.1) passed by the opposite party No.1.

(ii) issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned order dated 14.8.2017 (Annexure No.2) passed by the opposite party No.3 retiring the petitioner compulsorily from service on the post of Assistant Consolidation Officer (ACO) and the report dated 5.8.2017 (Annexure No.3) made/submitted by the Screening Committee headed by the opposite party No.3.

(iii) issue writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned order dated 12.2.2018 (Annexure No.4) passed by the opposite party No.2 dismissing the appeal dated 28.8.2017 against the impugned order dated 14.8.2017.

(iv) issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of Mandamus commanding the respondents and directing them to reinstate petitioner in service without any break providing entire service benefits including promotion etc. and other pecuniary benefits, due to him.

(v) issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of Mandamus directing the respondents to provide all the Assured Career Promotions (A.C.P.) due and available to petitioner as per service rules, the arrears of salary, including revised salary with full allowance, annual pay increments and post retiral benefits including pension, gratuity etc. after proper fixation of salary due on full length of his service upto the age of superannuation in the year, 2021.

(vi) issue any other suitable writ, order or direction which this Hon'ble Court may deem fit and proper under the facts and circulation of the case.

(vii) Award the cost of petition against the respondents."

(3) In nutshell, the case of the petitioner is that initially, the petitioner was appointed on the post of Kanoongo in the year 1988 and thereafter, he was appointed on the post of Assistant Consolidation Officer on 19.12.1997. From 1997 to 2017, the petitioner faced nine departmental proceedings, but he was not charged with any allegation of financial irregularity, corruption, inefficiency or misconduct including immoral acts. Out of nine departmental proceedings, he was exonerated in five cases whereas admittedly, four matters still remain pending before the State Public Services Tribunal for its consideration.

Considering all these aspects of the matter, the matter has been referred to the Screening Committee. Thereafter, vide order dated 14.8.2017, the petitioner has been compulsorily retired from service on the post of Assistant Consolidation Officer. The petitioner has challenged the same before the Appellate Authority who also rejected it vide order dated 12.2.2018. Consequently, the petitioner has filed a claim petition before the State Public Services Tribunal which has been dismissed vide impugned order dated 5.11.2019.

(4) Learned Counsel for the petitioner has vehemently argued that though nine department proceedings have been initiated against the petitioner on frivolous charges, yet five matters have been closed in his favour. So far in none of the proceeding, he has been punished. Therefore, the case of the petitioner has not been considered by the Screening Committee in accordance with law.

(5) Learned Counsel for the petitioner has extensively argued that the entries awarded to the petitioner is good and integrity has also been certified.

(6) Further, learned Counsel for the petitioner has submitted that no evidence has been placed before the Screening Committee for compulsorily retiring the petitioner from service. Therefore, the action of the respondents is mala fide and arbitrariness and the guidelines framed by the Apex Cour in the case of Baikuntha Nath Das and another v. Chief District Medical Officer, Baripada and another, [(1992) 2 SCC 299] have not been followed in its letter and spirit.

(7) Lastly, he submits that even the Tribunal has not been considered the above aspects of the matter and therefore, the petition is liable to be allowed and in support of his submissions, he has relied upon the citations of Apex Court in the cases of Brij Mohan Singh Chopra v. State of Punjab [AIR 1987 SC 948] and R. P. Malhotra v. Chief Commissioner of Income Tax, Patiala and others [1990 (Supp) Supreme Court Cases 771].

(8) On the other hand, learned Standing Counsel supports the impugned order of the Tribunal on the ground that the Tribunal has considered each and every aspect of the matter minutely and dismissed it. Therefore, the writ petition deserves dismissal.

(9) Before entering into the rival submissions of the parties, it is necessary to peep into the guidelines framed by the Apex Court in the case of Baikuntha Nath Das (supra) which are as follows:-

"32. The following principles emerge from the above discussion:

(i) An order of compulsory retirement is not a punishment. It implies no stigma nor any suggestion of misbehaviour.

(ii) The order has to be passed by the government on forming the opinion that it is in the public interest to retire a government servant compulsorily. The order is passed on the subjective satisfaction of the government.

(iii) Principles of natural justice have no place in the context of an order of compulsory retirement. This does not mean that judicial scrutiny is excluded altogether. While the High Court or this Court would not examine the matter as an appellate court, they may interfere if they are satisfied that the order is passed (a) mala fide or (b) that it is based on no evidence or (c) that it is arbitrary - in the sense that no reasonable person would form the requisite opinion on the given material; in short, if it is found to be perverse order.

(iv) The government (or the Review Committee, as the case may be) shall have to consider the entire record of service before taking a decision in the matter - of course attaching more importance to record of and performance during the later years. The record to be so considered would naturally include the entries in the confidential records/character rolls, both favourable and adverse. If a government servant is promoted to a higher post notwithstanding the adverse remarks, such remarks lose their sting, more so, if the promotion is based upon merit (selection) and not upon seniority.

(v) An order of compulsory retirement is not liable to be quashed by a Court merely on the showing that while passing it uncommunicated adverse remarks were also taken into consideration. That circumstance by itself cannot be a basis for interfere. Interference is permissible only on the grounds mentioned in (iii) above. This aspect has been discussed in paras 29 to 31 above."

(10) Further, the Tribunal has elaborately discussed and observed in paras 16 to 19 of the order, which read as under:-

"16. It's the clear opinion of the Hon'ble Supreme Court that the decision of compulsorily retiring a Government Servant depends upon the subjective satisfaction of the competent authority, which should however be based on objective facts. The Court's can review such a decision on grounds of being either mala-fide, based on no evidenced or arbitrariness.

17. In the present case there is no allegation of mala fide either on the part of Screening Committee or the Competent Authority and hence there is no occasion to examine this aspect. The petitioner has also not adduced any evidence to establish prejudice or mala fide in this regard. Facts also do not bear out the contention of the petitioner that he had 'best' or excellent annual entries throughout. The respondents have clarified that in the 10 years prior to compulsory retirement the petitioner had only one outstanding entry while 7 were Good and one average entry. A perusal of record also shows that there were a number of punishments awarded to him, some of which still continue to exist in his record. The petitioner has himself admitted in his petition that punishment orders dated 03-02-2001, 23.08.2012, 10-03-2015 and 25.04.12 continue to exist, though they have been challenged in the U. P. Public Services Tribunal by way of Claim Petitions Nos. 1862/12, 2332/16, 1628/15 and 2103/16 respectively. No stay order exists in favour of the petitioner in any of these Claim Petitions. Punishment order dated 10-03-2015 also casts a shadow on his integrity. Another punishment order dated 02-09-2001 continues to exist on record in a watered down form in spite of partial modification in Appellate Order dated 04-09-2015.

18. The adequacy and sufficiency of these grounds lies entirely within the subjective satisfaction of the competent authority and beyond the scope of judicial scrutiny.

19. In view of the above discussion we find that the competent authority retired the petitioner compulsorily following the procedure laid down in law after due examination of service record of the petitioner. We thus find no merit in the petition which deserves to be dismissed."

(11) In view of the guidelines framed by the Apex Court, the limited scope for review of the order of compulsory retirement is that if the evidence or arbitrariness and mala fide is attached to it. Here in the case, the petitioner has admitted that during his service period, nine departmental proceedings have been initiated by the department. Out of nine, in five matters, favourable decision has been taken. From perusal of Screening Committee's order and from the pleadings of petition, it is abundantly clear that the evidence relied upon by the petitioner has been placed before the Committee. Therefore, it cannot be said that the evidence has not been placed before the Screening Committee.

(12) Next, learned Counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the action of the respondents is mala fide and arbitrariness. By saying this, strings cannot be attached to the impugned order of compulsory retirement. Even otherwise, the appeal preferred against this order has been rejected which also ends in dismissal of claim petition.

(13) A bare perusal of paragraphs 16 to 19 of the impugned order, dated 5.11.2019 it is evidently clear that the Tribunal has conspicuously touched all points raised by the petitioner including entires of last ten years from the date of passing of the compulsory retirement order and gave its verdict which need not be reviewed in the appellate jurisdiction. Furthermore, the guidelines framed by the Apex Court in the case of Baikuntha Nath Das (supra) have been followed and the impugned order of compulsory retirement has been passed in accordance with law.

(14) In view of above, the case laws cited by the petitioner are not at all attracted on the facts and circumstances of the instant case. Since the petitioner's counsel is unable to establish his claim or point out any illegality or infirmity in the impugned order, we are not inclined to entertain this petition.

(15) For all the aforementioned reasons, the writ petition filed by the petitioner has no force and is accordingly dismissed.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saurabh Shyam Shamshery, J.)

1. प्रस्तुत प्रकरण के प्रमुख तथ्य निम्न है:-

2. सर्वोदय शिक्षा सदन इण्टर कालेज मीरपुर, इलाहाबाद एक मान्यता प्राप्त एवं सहायता प्राप्त इण्टर कालेज है। इस विद्यालय में कार्यरत शिक्षा एवं शिक्षणोत्तर कर्मचारियो पर माध्यमिक शिक्षा (संशोधित) अधिनियम 1921, वेतन वितरण अधिनियम-1971 तथा माध्यमिक सेवा आयोग/चयन बोर्ड नियमावली 1982 एवं 1968 पूरी तरफ प्रभावी है।

3. उपरोक्त इण्टर कालेज के प्रबन्धतंत्र ने तीन सहायक अध्यापकों की नियुक्ति के लिये एक विज्ञापन 6.10.93 को प्रकाशित करवाया गया था तथा 29.10.93 तक आवेदन पत्र आमंत्रित किये गए थे।

4. उपरोक्त प्रक्रिया के आधार पर उपरोक्त इण्टर कालेज के प्रबन्धतंत्र ने अपने प्रस्ताव दिनाँक 31.10.1993 द्वारा प्रार्थी व अन्य दो (श्री कामेश्वर प्रसाद पाण्डेय, श्री फूलचन्द्र व श्री दयानाथ पाण्डेय) का चयन किया और 31.10.1993 को इन तीनों को नियुक्ति पत्र भी निर्गत कर दिये । तीनों ने कार्यभार ग्रहण दिनाँक 1.11.1993 को कर लिया तथा प्रबन्धकतंत्र ने अपने पत्रांक प्रबन्धक मीमो 93-94 दिनांक 2.11.93 द्वारा नियुक्ति के अनुमोदन हेतु पत्राजात, जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक, इलाहाबाद को प्रेषित किये गये।

5. उपरोक्त इण्टर कालेज के प्रबन्ध तंत्र द्वारा निर्गत अध्यापक सूची तालिका 1993 के अनुसार याची की नियुक्ति श्री शोभानाथ सं0अ0 के प्रवक्ता वेतन क्रम में दिनांक 21.10.91 से प्रवक्ता (अर्हत) में पदोन्नति के कारण हुए पद पर हुई होना दर्शाया गया है। यह तालिका याचिका के संलग्न सं. 2 के रुप में संग्लन को लगाई गई है। यह fjfDr तदर्थ (अल्प) दर्शायी गयी है।

6. याची को नियुक्ति के बाद वेतन व भुगतान न होने के कारण इस उच्च न्यायालय में वेतन भुगतान हेतु व्यवहार प्रकीर्ण आज्ञा पत्र याचिका संख्या 8001 वर्ष 1994 योजित की गयी। उक्त याचिका आदेश दिनांक 4.12.2003 के द्वारा निस्तारित की गई तथा जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक, इलाहाबाद को निर्देशित किया गया कि प्रकरण में उभय पक्षों को सुनकर सकारण/ आख्यापक आदेश द्वारा यह निर्णित करे कि क्या याची की नियुक्ति नियमानुसार हुई है या नहीं? अगर नियुक्ति नियमानुसार है तो जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक यह सुनिश्चित करे कि याची को वेतन मिल जाये।

7. याची ने उपरोक्त वर्णित आदेश के अनुपालन में एक प्रतिवेदन दिनांक 23.12.2003, जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक इलाहाबाद के समक्ष पेश किया व 1.11.1993 से वेतन भुगतान का निवेदन किया।

8. जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक, इलाहाबाद ने ऊभय पक्षों को सुनकर आख्यापक आदेश दिनांक 27.4.2006 द्वारा याची के प्रतिवेदन को अस्वीकार कर दिया और उल्लेख किया कि "समीक्षा के आधार पर पाया गया कि याची की नियुक्ति बिना नियमों के पालन किये हुए, मौलिक रिक्त पद पर प्रबन्धतंत्र को नियुक्ति करने का अधिकार नहीं था। अतः याची की नियुक्ति आमान्य कि जाती है।" इस आदेश के अनुसार प्रबन्धनतंत्र द्वारा मौलिक रिक्त पद के प्रति तदर्थ (अल्प) पद पर नियुक्ति के लिए जो विज्ञापन प्रकाशित किया उसमें निम्न त्रुटियां भी पाई गई।

1. विज्ञापन में कोई न्यूनतम शैक्षिक योग्यता अंकित नहीं की गयी थी।

2. विद्यालय द्वारा यह भी प्रस्तुत नहीं किया गया था कि कुल कितने आवेदन पत्र प्राप्त हुए इसमें कितने साक्षात्कार में उपस्थित हुए।

3. साक्षात्कार सूची नियमानुसार प्रस्तुत नहीं की गयी थी।

4. चयन सम्बन्धी कोई कार्यवाही नहीं की गयी थी।

5. चयन का क्या आधार लिया गया है यह भी स्पष्ट नहीं था।

6. मौलिक नियुक्तियों पर तत्समय रोक थी।

9. उपरोक्त वर्णित आदेश दिनाँक 27.4.2006 जो जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक, इलाहाबाद द्वारा पारित किया गया था से क्षुब्द होने के कारण, प्रार्थी ने एक व्यवहार प्रकीर्ण आज्ञापत्र याचिका संख्या 45941 वर्ष 2006 इस उच्च न्यायालय में योजित की। उच्च न्यायालय की एकल पीठ ने आदेश दिनांक 15.5.2007 के माध्यम से आदेश दिनांक 27.4.2006 को अपास्त कर दिया तथा निर्णय दिया कि याची की नियुक्ति करने में वैधानिक प्रक्रिया का पूर्णतः पालन किया गया था। याची की नियुक्ति तदर्थ (अल्प) पद पर सर्वथा उचित थी। न्यायालय ने परमादेश जारी किया की जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक याची द्वारा किये गये दिवस जिन पर उसने कार्य किया है उसके अनुसार याची को वेतन का 50% भुगतान करना सुनिश्चित करे तथा तत्पश्चात याची को पूर्ण वेतन देने के लिये उचित कदम उठाये।

10. जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक, इलाहाबाद द्वारा उच्च न्यायालय के आदेश दिनांक 15.5.2007, के अनुपालन में आदेश पारित न करने की दशा में, याची ने अवमानना याचिका 3693/07 भी पेश की जिस पर दिनाँक 9.9.2009 को इस उच्च न्यायालय से जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक को शीघ्र आदेश पारित करने का निर्देश दिया गया।

11. उपरोक्त उल्लेखित आदेश दिनांक 15.5.2007 व 9.9.2009 के अनुक्रम में, जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक ने अपने आदेश दिनांक 12.10.2009 द्वारा निम्न निर्णय लियेः-

"1. माननीय उच्च न्यायालय के आदेश दिनांक 15.5.2007 के अनुपालन में याची की विद्यालय में उपस्थित स्टाफ रजिस्टर से प्रामाणित करने हेतु दिनांक 20.7.2007 में मेरे द्वारा स्थलीय निरीक्षण किया गया। उपस्थित पंजिका के अवलोकन से स्पष्ट हुआ कि याची श्री कामलेश्वर प्रसाद पाण्डेय के हस्ताक्षर विद्यालय की उपस्थिति पंजिका में दिनांक 10.5.2006 के बाद से नहीं है तथा उक्त विद्यालय में कार्यरत नहीं है। निरीक्षण के

समय में भी याची विद्यालय से अनुपस्थित था। चूकि याची दिनांक 11.5.2006 से 15.5.2007 तक विद्यालय में कार्यरत नहीं रहे है और इस अवधि में याची की उपस्थित विद्यालय में प्रमाणित नहीं हो रही है। अतः 11.5.06 से 15.5.2007 तक एरियर में 50 प्रतिशत का भुगतान की देयता नहीं बनती है। अतः याची की यह मांग अस्वीकार किया जाता है।

2. याची के प्रत्यावेदन के बिन्दू के संबंध में स्पष्ट करना है कि प्रबन्धक द्वारा याची का ग्रामीण भत्ता रू0 225 माह नवम्बर 98 से मई 99 तक लगाया गया था जब कि इस अवधि में ग्रामीण भत्ता के रुप में रुप 40 प्रतिमाह देय था। जिसे निदेशालय स्तर पर जांच में सही कर दिया गया है। अतः 581254 रुपया के स्थान पर 580606 भुगतान होना सही पाया गया। इस बिन्दु पर याची को कोई देयता नहीं बनती है।

3. माननीय उच्च न्यायालय ने अपने आदेश दिनांक 15.5.2007 में याची के तत्काल नियमित वेतन भुगतान के आदेश दिए थे अतः याची के 16.05.2007 से 31.10.2007 तक के वेतन भुगतान की सहमति प्रदान की जाती है।

4. याची की नियुक्ति 1.11.93 से मानते हुए वेतन निर्धारण कराने एवं अवशेष देयक के भुगतान की सहमति प्रदान की जाती है।"

12. उक्त आदेश का अनुपालन किया गया तथा याची को वेतन दिया जाने लगा। परन्तु याची को यह शिकायत रही कि जब जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक, इलाहाबाद ने यह मान लिया था कि याची 1.11.1993 से काम कर रहा है तो इसके फलस्वरुप अन्य लाभ जैसे, ज्येष्ठता, चयन ग्रेड, पदोन्नति ग्रेड इत्यादि का लाभ भी याची को मिलना चाहिये। इसके लिए याची ने बहुत से प्रार्थना पत्र भी लिखे परन्तु जब कोई उत्तर नहीं मिला तो याची ने एक बार फिर न्याय के दरवाजे को खटखटाया और याचिका सं 4914 वर्ष 2016 इस उच्च न्यायालय में पेश की। इस न्यायालय के एकल पीठ ने आदेश दिनाँक 4.2.2016 के द्वारा उक्त याचिका को निस्तारित किया एवं जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक, इलाहाबाद को निर्देशित किया कि वो अतिशीघ्र याची की पीड़ा पर सकारण उचित आदेश पारित करे।

13. उपरोक्त आदेश के अनुपालन में जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक इलाहाबाद ने सकारण/आख्यापक आदेश दिनाँक 28.5.2016/30.5.2016 को पारित किया व निम्न उद्धृत निर्णय पारित किया ।

"श्री कामेश्वर प्रसाद पाण्डेय का विनियमितीकरण का प्रकारण संयुक्त शिक्षा निदेशक, इलाहाबाद मण्डल इलाहाबाद को प्रेषित करने की कार्यवाही की जाये तथा श्री पाण्डेय के विनियमित के सम्बन्ध में मण्डलीय समिति से निर्णय होने के पश्चात तदनुसार याची को नियमित कर्मचारियों की वरिष्ठता सूची में सम्मिलित करने, इनके नाम के सम्मुख अंकित तदर्थ शब्द हटाने, नियमानुसार चयन वेतनमान एवं प्रोन्नत वेतनमान देने तथा पेंशन, सामान्य भविष्य निधि में सम्मिलित किये जाने संबंधी कार्यवाही किये जाने का निर्णय लेते हुये याची का प्रत्यावेदन निस्तारित किया जाता है।"

अपने आदेश में जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक ने निम्न कारणों का उल्लेख किया है।

"1. श्री पाण्डेय के तदर्थ नियुक्त के कारण इनको वरिष्ठता सूची में अंकित नहीं किया गया, विनियमितीकरण के पश्चात ही नियमिते कर्मचारियों के साथ वरिष्ठता सूची में सम्मिलित किया जा सकता है।

2. श्री कामेश्वर प्रसाद पाण्डेय की नियुक्ति तदर्थ सहायक अध्यापक के रुप में हुई है जिसका विनियमितीकरण नहोने के कारण तदर्थ शब्द नहीं हटाया जा सकता।

3. श्री कामेश्वर प्रसाद पाण्डेय की नियुक्ति तदर्थ सहायक अध्यापक के रुप में हुई है जिसका विनियमितीकरण नहोने के कारण चयन वेतनमान एवं प्रोन्नत वेतनमान का लाभ नहीं दिया जा सकता।

4. श्री कामेश्वर प्रसाद पाण्डेय की नियुक्ति तदर्थ सहायक अध्यापक के रुप में हुई है जिसका विनियमितीकरण न होने के कारण पेंशन एवं सामान्य भविष्य निधि योजना में सम्मिलिति नहीं किया जा सकता है।"

14. ऐसा प्रतीत होता है, कि याची ने इस उच्च न्यायालय के आदेश दिनाँक 4.2.2006 के अनुपालन न होने के कारण अवमानना प्रार्थनापत्र (सिविल) 432 वर्ष 2017 इस उच्च न्यायालय में पेश किया, जो 31.1.2017 को निस्तारित इस आदेश के साथ की गयी कि इस आदेश की प्रति मिलने के एक सप्ताह के भीतर जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक, इलाहाबाद विधिवत् आदेश पारित करे।

15. उपरोक्त आदेशों के अनुपालन व अनुक्रम में 3 संसदीय मण्डलीय विनियमितिकरण समिति ने सभी परिस्थितियों के अनुशीलन के उपरान्त निम्नलिखित आदेश दिनांक 27.2.2017 पारित किया। जिसके अनुसार यह निर्धारित किया गया कि याची विनियमितिकरण की परिधि में नहीं आते है।

निर्णय

"मण्डलीय समिति द्वारा उपरोक्त स्थितियों

के अनुशीलन के उपरान्त निर्णय लेती है कि-

1- श्री कामेश्वर प्रसाद पाण्डेय स0अ0 की नियुक्ति दिनांक 01.11.1993 को अल्पकालिक रिक्त पद पर की गई थी। श्री पाण्डेय को माननीय उच्च न्यायालय में योजित याचिका संख्या 45941/2006 में पारित अन्तिम निर्णय दिनांक 15.05.2007 के अनुपालन में दिनांक 01.11.1993 से 10.05.2006 तक का 50 प्रतिशत भुगतान किया गया है।

2- श्री कामेशवर प्रसाद पाण्डेय को दिनांक 11.05.2006 से 15.05.2007 की अवधि में विद्यालय में कार्यरत न रहने के कारण विभाग द्वारा वेतन भुगतान अस्वीकार कर दिया गया है जिससे स्पष्ट है कि कामेश्वर प्रसाद पाण्डेय संस्था में नियुक्त तिथि से निरन्तर कार्यरते नहीं रहे। शासनादेश संख्या 588/79-दि-1-16-1(क) 13-2016 दिनांक 22 मार्च 2016 से आच्दांदित न होने के कारण श्री कामेश्वर प्रसाद पाण्डेय विनियमितीकरण की परिधि में नहीं आते हैं।

एतद्द्वारा माननीय उच्च न्यायालय में योजित याचिका संख्या 4914/2016 एवं अवमानना याचिका संख्या 432/2017 में पारित निर्णय क्रमशः दिनांक 04.02.2016 एवं 31.01.2017 के अनुपालन प्रकरण निस्तारित किया जाता है।"

16. उपरोक्त निर्णय दिनाँक27.2.2017 से क्षुब्द्ध होने के कारण याची ने वर्तमान व्यावहार प्रकीर्ण आज्ञापत्र याचिका पेश की जिसके द्वारा निर्णय दिनाँक 27.2.2017 को अपास्त करने व याची को 10.11.1993 से विनियमित करने का आदेश पारित करने की प्रार्थना की गयी है।

17. प्रत्यार्थी सं0 2 व 3 (मण्डलीय विनियमितीकरण समिति व जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक, इलाहाबाद) के ओर से प्रति उत्तर शपथ पत्र दाखिल किया गया है। याची की ओर इस प्रति उत्तर शपथ पत्र का कोई उत्तर देने से इंकार किया गया है। प्रत्यार्थी 4 व 5 (प्राइवेट प्रत्यार्थी) की ओर से श्री वी के ओझा अधिवक्ता पेश हो रहे थे परन्तु 29.11.2019 जब इस याचिका पर निर्णय सुरक्षित किया गया, उस

दिन याची अधिवक्ता द्वारा उनको लिखित सूचना देने के उपरांत भी श्री वी के ओझा या कोई अधिवक्ता प्रत्यार्थी 4 व 5 की ओर से उपस्थित नहीं हुआ। अतः याची के अधिवक्ता एवं प्रत्याशी 2 व 3 के अधिवक्ता को विस्तार से सुनकर याचिका पर निर्णय सुरक्षित रखा गया।

18. राम कृष्णा, याची के विद्वान अधिवक्ता ने कथन किया किः-

क- याची को विद्यालय के प्रबंधक तंत्र ने जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक के आदेश दिनांक 27.4.2006 (याची को 10.5.2006 को मिला) के कारण याची को अपने पद पर कार्य नहीं करने दिया गया, परन्तु उक्त आदेश को उच्च न्यायालय के आदेश दिनांक 15.5.2007 द्वारा अपास्त कर दिया गया था। याची द्वारा 10.5.2006 से 15.5.2007 तक काम न करने कारण केवल वो आदेश ही था, जो बाद में अपास्त भी हो गया, अतः याची को इस समय अंतराल में भी कार्यरत मानना चाहिये तथा याची को निरन्तरता का लाभ भी देना चाहिये।

ख- याची शासनादेश दिनांक 22.3.2016 से पूर्णतः आच्छादित है। उक्त शासनादेश के अनुसार विनियमित होने के लिए अध्यापक को 7.8.1993 से या उसके पश्चात् किन्तु 2.1.1999 के पश्चात् नियुक्त नहीं होना चाहिए है। याची 1.11.1993 को नियुक्त हुआ था अतः वो इस शर्त को पूर्णतः पूर्ण करता है। इस शासनादेश की अन्य शर्त है कि अध्यापक/य़ाची उत्तर प्रदेश माध्यमिक शिक्षा सेवा चयन बोर्ड (संशोधन) अधिनियम 2016 के प्रारम्भ की तिथि तक संस्था में निरन्तर कार्य करता हो। याची इस शर्त को भी पूर्ण करता है, क्यों कि 10.5.2006 से 15.5.2007 तक कार्य न करने का एकमात्र कारण, उच्च न्यायालय के आदेश दिनांक 15.5.2007 जिसके द्वारा आदेश दिनांक 27.4.2006 (जो याची को 10.5.2006को मिला) अपास्त करने के कारण प्रत्याहार हो गया तथा फलस्वरुप याची को 10.5.2006 से 15.5.2007 तक भी सेवारत मानना चाहिये। उसके बाद याची निरंतर काम करता रहा।

ग- याची विनियमितिकरण के लिए आवश्यक सभी अर्हताओ को पूर्ण करता है, अतः उसकी सेवाओं को विनियमित करना चाहिये तथा इसके फलस्वरुप होने वाले सभी लाभों को याची को प्रदान करना चाहिये।

19. प्रतिउत्तर में उत्तर प्रदेश सरकार के स्थाई अधिवक्ता ने कथन किया कि यह निविवाद है कि याची 10.5.2006 से 15.5.2007 तक सेवारत नहीं रहा। उच्च न्यायालय ने अपने आदेश दिनाँक 15.5.2007 (याचिका सं 4941 वर्ष 2006) में जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक के आदेश दिनांक 27.4.2006 को अपास्त तो किया परन्तु 10.5.2006 से 15.5.2007 तक की याची की सेवा के विषय पर कोई टिप्पणी नहीं करी। अतः इस अंतराल में याची को सेवारत नहीं माना जा सकता। अतः याची के अपनी नियुक्ति से 22.3.2016 तक जब उ0प्र0 माध्यमिक शिक्षा सेवा चयन बोर्ड (संशोधन) अधिनियम 2016 प्रारम्भ हुआ, तक निरन्तर कार्य नहीं किया है तथा निर्विवाद रुप से 10.5.2006 से 15.5.2007 तक याची सेवारत नहीं रहा, अतः उक्त अधिनियम द्वारा धारा 33 (छ) में दी गई शर्तो का पालन न करने के कारण याची विनियमितिकरण की परिधि के अंतर्गत नहीं आता है।

20. याची व प्रत्यार्थी के विद्वान अधिवक्ताओं को ध्यान पूर्वक सुना व याचिका पर उपबल्ध समस्त अभिलेखों का ध्यान पूर्वक परिशीलन किया।

21. इस प्रकरण में यह निरधारित किया जाना है कि याची विनियमितिकरण के लिये धारा 33 छ जो उ0प्र0 माध्यमिक शिक्षा सेवा

चयन बोर्ड (संशोधन) अधिनियम 2016 द्वारा ब़ढ़ा दी गई है, में वर्णित शर्तो को पूर्ण करता है कि नहीं। प्रस्तुत प्रकरण के संदर्भ के लिए 'धारा 33छ' निम्न उद्धृत की गई है।

"33-छ (1) प्रधानाचार्य या प्रधानाध्यापक से भिन्न ऐसे किसी अध्यापक को प्रबन्धक द्वारा मौलिक नियुक्ति दी जायेंगी जो,-

(क) समय-समय पर यथासंशोधित उत्तर प्रेदश माध्यमिक शिक्षा सेवा आयोग (कठिनाइयों को दूर करना) (द्वितीय) आदेश 1981 के पैरा-2 के अनुसार अल्पकालिक रिक्ति के सापेक्ष प्रवक्ता श्रेणी या प्रशिक्षित स्नातक श्रेणी में 07 अगस्त 1993 को या उसके पश्चात किन्तु 25 जनवरी, 1999 के पश्चात नहीं पदोन्नति द्वारा या सीधी भर्ती द्वारा नियुक्ति किया गया था और ऐसी रिक्ति को बाद में मौलिक रिक्ति में परिवर्तित कर दिया गया था, (अल्पकालिक रिक्तियों के सापेक्ष कतिपय और नियुक्तियों का विनियमितीकरण)

(ख) प्रवक्ता श्रेणी या प्रशिक्षित स्नातक श्रेणी में धारा 18 के अनुसार मौलिक रिक्त के सापेक्ष पदोन्नति द्वारा अथवा सीधी भर्ती द्वारा 07 अगस्त 1993 को या उसके पश्चात किन्तु 30 दिसम्बर 2000 के पश्चात नहीं तदर्थ आधार पर नियुक्त किया गया था,

(ग) इण्टरमीडिएट शिक्षा अधिनियम 1921 के उपबन्धों के अधीन चिन्हित अर्हताएं रखता हो या उनके अनुसार ऐसी अर्हताओं से छूट प्राप्त हो,

(घ) ऐसी नियुक्ति के दिनांक से उत्तर प्रदेश माध्यमिक शिक्षा सेवा चयन बोर्ड (संशोधन) अधिनियम, 2016 के प्रारम्भ होने के दिनांक तक संस्था में निरन्तर कार्य कर रहा हो,

(ङ) उक्त उपधारा के खण्ड (ख) के अधीन विहित प्रक्रियानुसार धारा 33-ग की उपधारा (2) के खण्ड (क) में निर्दिष्ट चयन समिति द्वारा मौलिक रुप से नियुक्ति के लिए उपयुक्त पाया गया हो।

(2) (क) मौलिक नियुक्ति के लिए अध्यापकों के नामों की संस्तुति उनकी नियुक्ति के दिनांक से यथा अवधारित ज्येष्ठता क्रम में की जायेगी,

(ख) यदि दो या अधिक ऐसे अध्यापक एक ही दिनांक को नियुक्त किये गये हो तो आयु में ज्येष्ठ अध्यापक की संस्तुति पहले की जायेगी।

(3) उपधारा (1) के अधीन मौलिक रुप से नियुक्ति प्रत्येक अध्यापक को ऐसी मौलिक नियुक्ति के दिनांक से परिवीक्षा पर समझा जायेगा।

(4) ऐसा अध्यापक, जो उपधारा (1) के अधीन उपयुक्त न पाया जाय और ऐसा अध्यापक जो उक्त उपधारा के अधीन मौलिक नियुक्ति पाने के लिए पात्र न हो, ऐसे दिनांक को, जैसा राज्य सरकार आदेश द्वारा विनिर्दिष्ट करे, नियुक्ति पर नहीं रह जायेगा।

(5) इस धारा की किसी बात से यह नहीं समझा जायेगा कि कोई अध्यापक मौलिक नियुक्ति के लिए हकदार है, यदि उत्तर प्रदेश माध्यमिक शिक्षा सेवा चयन बोर्ड (संशोधन) अधिनियम 2016 के प्रारम्भ के दिनांक को ऐसी रिक्ति पहले से ही भरी हुयी थी या ऐसी रिक्ति के लिए चयन इस अधिनियम के अनुसार पहले से ही कर लिया गया है।

(6) तदर्थ अध्यापकों और अल्पकालिक रिक्ति के सापेक्ष नियुक्ति अध्यापकों की सेवा उत्तर प्रदेश माध्यमिक शिक्षा सेवा चयन बोर्ड (संशोधन) अधिनियम 2016 के प्रारम्भ होने के दिनांक से विनियमित की जायेगी।

(7) तदर्थ एवं अल्पकालिक रिक्तियों के सापेक्ष नियुक्त अध्यापकों के विनियमितीकरण में आरक्षण नियमों का पालन किया जाएगा।

(8) ऐसे तदर्थ शिक्षक जो उत्तर प्रदेश माध्यमिक शिक्षा सेवा आयोग (कठिनाईयों) का निवारण आदेश 1981 के अनुसार या उत्तर प्रदेश माध्यमिक शिक्षा सेवा चयन बोर्ड अधिनियम, 1982 की धारा 18क के अनुसार नियुक्त नहीं किये गये हैं और अन्यथा जो केवल मा0 न्यायालय के अन्तरिम आदेश के आधार पर वेतन प्राप्त कर रहे हैं, विनियमितीकरण के हकदार नहीं है।"

22. उपरोक्त वर्णित धारा 33 (छ) (1) (क) व (घ), स्पष्ट रुप से वर्णित करते है कि विनियमितिकरण के लिये अध्यापक की नियुक्ति 7.8.1993 से 25.3.1999 के मध्य होनी चाहिये व नियुक्ति की तिथि से 22.3.2016 (जब संशोधित अधिनियम 2016 प्रारम्भ हुआ) तक संस्था में निरन्तर कार्य करना चाहिए।

23. प्रस्तुत प्रकरण में याची की नियुक्ति 1.11.1993 को संस्था में हुई अर्थात उसकी नियुक्ति 7.8.1993 से 25.1.1999 में मध्य हुई। अन्य शर्त जैसे याची की नियुक्ति 1.11.1993 को अल्पकालिक रिक्त पद पर की गई थी तथा नियुक्ति प्रक्रिया को उच्च न्यायालय द्वारा भी उचित माना गया है को पूर्ण करता है। तथापि याची द्वारा उसकी नियुक्ति से संशोधित अधिनियम 2016 में प्रारम्भ होने की तिथि तक निरन्तर कार्य करने की शर्त पूर्ण नहीं करता है क्योंकि उसकी सेवा में 10.5.2006 से 15.5.2007 तक की सेवा की निरंतरता भंग हो गई थी अतः याची तथ्यात्मक रुप से सेवा की निरन्तरता की शर्त को पूर्ण नहीं करता है। याची को विद्वान अधिवक्ता भी इस तथ्य को नकार नहीं पाये है।

23. एक बिन्दू और जो इस प्रकरण में ऊभर कर आता है कि क्या न्यायालय के द्वारा सेवा में आये अंतराल को निरंतर मानने के सम्बन्ध में निश्चित आदेश की अनुपस्थिति में भी इस अंतराल को भी सेवा के संदर्भ में निरंतर माना जा सकता है या नहीं।

24. न्यायालय द्वारा सेवा में पुनर्नियुक्ति का आदेश केवल पुनर्नियुक्ति का आदेश या पुनर्नियुक्ति के साथ सेवा की निरन्तरता का भी आदेश या पुनर्नियुक्ति के साथ सेवा की निरन्तरता व साथ ही साथ सेवा भी निरन्तरता के फलस्वरुप होने वाले सभी लाभो का भी आदेश हो सकता है। इन तीनों आदेशों में अंतर है। आदेश में प्रयोग किये गये शब्दो के अनुसार ही उस आदेश का लाभ दिया जा सकता है मात्र 'पुनर्नियुक्ति' के आदेश में 'सेवा की निरन्तरता' का आदेश स्वतः शामिल है यह नहीं माना जा सकता है।

25. वर्तमान प्रकरण में इस उच्च न्यायालय कि एकल पीठ ने अपने आदेश दिनांक 15.5.2007 के द्वारा जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक के आदेश दिनांक 27.4.2006 को अपास्त (जो याची को 11.5.2006 को प्राप्त हुआ) तो कर दिया, परन्तु याची की इस अंतराल (11.5.2006 से 15.5.2007) की सेवा की निरन्तरता के विषय में कोई विशिष्ट आदेश नहीं पारित किया। अतः इस अंतराल में याची सेवारत रहा यह नहीं माना जा सकता। अतः याची धारा 33 (6) (1) (घ) में वर्णित 'नियुक्ति से 22 मार्च 2006 तक सेवा की निरन्तरता' की शर्त को पूर्ण नहीं करता है, क्योंकि निर्विवाद रुप से 11.5.2006 से 15.5.2007 तक याची संस्था में अध्यापक के रुप में सेवारत नहीं था।

26. उपरोक्त विवेचना से यह पूर्णतः विदित है कि याची विनियमितिकरण की सभी शर्तो को पूर्ण न करने के कारण विनियमितिकरण की परिधि में नहीं आता है। अतः मण्डलीय विनियमितिकरण समिति द्वारा पारित आछेपित आदेश दिनाँक 27.2.2017 में

कोई तथ्यात्मक या वैधानिक त्रुटि नहीं है। अतः यह याचिका बलहीन होने के कारण निरस्त होने योग्य है अतः निरस्त की जाती है।

27. व्यय पर कोई आदेश पारित नहीं किया जा रहा है।

Sudhanshu Tyagi Vs. State Of U.P. And 4 Others , Writ A No.23580 of 2018

(Delivered by Hon'ble Prakash Padia, J.)

1. Heard Sri J.K. Srivastava, learned counsel for the petitioners. Learned Standing Counsel accepted notice on behalf of respondent Nos. 1 to 4 and Sri Rakesh Kumar, learned counsel accepted notice on behalf of respondent No. 5.

2. The petitioner has preferred the present writ petition challenging the order dated 19.10.2019 passed by respondent No.3/District Inspectorof Schools Jaunpur, copy of which is appended as Annexure No.14 to the writ petition.

3. Facts in brief as contained in the writ petition are that the Institution in question namely Kisan Intermediate College, Ajosi, District Jaunpur is a recognized and aided Institution up to High School Level. The same is governed under the provisions of U.P. Intermediate Act, 1921. All the teachers and employees of the Institution in question are getting their salary thorough State Exchequer as per the provisions of U.P. High School and Intermediate Colleges (Payment of Salaries of Teachers and other Employees) Act, 1972 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act, 1972"). In the Institution in question, apart from the posts of Head Master and teachers, one post of Assistant Clerk and four posts of Class IV employees were sanctioned by the State Government. One Sri Ram Singh who was working as Assistant Clerk was retired on 28.02.2018. In order fill up the aforesaid post, proceedings were initiated. By the order dated 17.4.2019 passed by respondent No.3, the respondent No.5 namely Santosh Kumar Yadav was promoted on the post of Assistant Clerk. The aforesaid order was subject matter of Writ A No.7233 of 2019 (C/M Kisan Intermediate College, Jaunpur, And Another Vs. State Of U.P. And 4 Others) filed by the present petitioners. The aforesaid writ petition was finally disposed of by judgement and order dated 9.5.2019. The order dated 9.5.2019 is reproduced below:-

"Heard Sri J.K. Srivastava, counsel for the petitioners, learned standing counsel for respondent Nos. 1 to 4 and Sri Vimal Kumar holding brief of Sri Vidya Dhar Yadav for respondent No. 5. With their consent, the instant petition is being decided finally, without inviting a formal counter affidavit.

The petitioner Committee of Management of Kisan Intermediate College, Jaunpur has filed the instant petition assailing the correctness of the order dated 15/17.4.2019 passed by District Inspector of Schools, Jaunpur, the third respondent whereby, the representation of respondent No. 5 dated 8.1.2019 has been accepted and a direction has been issued to promote him on the vacant post of Assistant Clerk in the Institution. The order records that the only post of Assistant Clerk in the Institution had fallen vacant consequent to retirement of Ram Ashish Yadav on 28.2.2018. The respondent No. 5 is the senior most class IV employee having requisite qualification for Class III post. Accordingly, he has been directed to be promoted, having regard to Regulation 2(2) of Chapter 3 of the Regulations framed under the U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921.

Learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that the petitioners in their application dated 3.4.2019, specifically pointed out that respondent No. 5 does not possess CCC Certificate, nor is having knowledge of typing, as mandatorily required under Government Orders dated 23.8.2016 and 4.1.2017. He further submitted that the validity of these Government Orders has been upheld by this Court in its judgment dated 22.11.2018 in Writ A No. 23580 of 2018.

Learned counsel for respondent No. 5 submitted that respondent No. 5 possesses CCC Certificate. He further submitted that he also has knowledge of typing. However, he admits that typing test has not been held so far.

Learned standing counsel appearing on behalf of State respondents points out that as per Government Order dated 23.8.2016 and 4.1.2017, the employee seeking promotion should have a typing speed of 25/30 words in Hindi/English, apart from having qualification of Intermediate and CCC Certificate.

It being not in dispute between the parties that before promotion could be granted, it has to be ascertained whether the employee has typing speed as prescribed under Government Orders dated 23.8.2016 and 4.1.2017, but which has not been done in the instant case, consequently, the impugned order cannot be sustained and is hereby quashed. The petition is disposed of with direction to Management and District Inspector of Schools to get typing test conducted and also ascertain whether respondent No. 5 possesses a valid CCC Certificate, and thereafter pass a fresh order in accordance with law."

4. Pursuant to the aforesaid order, the proceedings were initiated by the respondent No.3 to conduct the typing test of the respondent No.5. It appears from perusal of record that the respondent No.3 wrote a letter to the petitioners on 2.8.2019 directing them to ensure their presence on 12.8.2019 so that the typing test of respondent No.5 be conducted in their presence. It is argued that in spite of the same, nobody was put their appearance in the office of respondent No.3 on the date fixed in the matter. In the circumstances, a decision was taken by the respondent No.3 to conduct typing test of respondent No.5 through one Sri Ramesh Yadav, Incharge Head Master, Government Ucchatar Madhayamic Vidhayalaya, District Jaunpur. The typing test of respondent No.5 was conducted on 10.10.2019. Thereafter the order impugned has been passed by respondent No.3 on 19.10.2019 stating therein that since the respondent No.5 has already passed his typing test, he is entitled for his promotion. The order dated 19.10.2019 passed by respondent No.3 is under challenged in the present writ petition.

5. It is argued by learned counsel for the petitioners that the order dated 19.10.2019 passed by respondent No.3 is wholly illegal order and was passed contrary to the Government Orders dated 23.08.2016 and 4.10.2017. It is further argued that respondent No.3 has conducted typing test of the respondent No.5 in a very arbitrary manner and typing test was conducted on a type writer supplied by the respondent No.3. It is further argued that only Hindi typing test was conducted although Hindi and English both typing tests are required. It is further argued that at no point of time "CCC" Certificate was made available by the respondent No.5 to the petitioners and as such the findings recorded by the respondent No.3 that the respondent No.5 is having CCC certificate is absolutely wrong. Counsel for the petitioners also relied upon a co-ordinate Bench of this Court in Writ A No.23580 of 2018 (Sudhanshu Tyagi Vs. State Of U.P. And 4 Others), copy of which is appended as Annexure 15 to the writ petition. In view of the aforesaid, it is argued that the order passed by respondent No.3 is liable to be quashed.

6. To the contrary, it is argued by Sri Rakesh Kumar learned counsel appearing on behalf of respondent No.5 that the order impugned passed by respondent No.3 dated 19.10.2019 is absolutely perfect order and the same has been passed in accordance with the provisions contained in the Government Order 23.8.2016 and 4.1.2017. It is further argued by Sri Rakesh Kumar learned counsel for respondent No.5 that vide the aforesaid Government Orders, the requirement is possessing CCC certificate from DOEACC Society and also knowledge of Hindi/ English Tying with speed of minimum 25 to 30 words per minute has been made essential for promotion. The respondent No.5 is having sufficient typing speed 26.8 words per minute in Hindi and also having a valid "CCC" Certificate. The Government Orders dated 23.8.2016 and 4.1.2017 are extracted hereinafter:-

7. In this view of the matter, it is argued that as per the aforesaid

Government orders, typing test/speed is required either in Hindi or in English and not in both the languages. It is further argued that in the earlier writ petition filed by the petitioners, the directions were given to the respondent No.3 to ascertain whether the respondent No.5 is having typing speed as prescribed under the Government Orders dated 23.08.2016 and 4.1.2017 and whether the respondent No.5 is having a valid "CCC" Certificate. The directions issued by this court in the earlier writ petition filed by the petitioners, were fully complied with by the respondent No.3 by conducting typing test of the respondent No.5. Finding were further recorded by the respondent No.3 in the impugned order that respondent No.5 is having a valid "CCC" Certificate. Apart from the same, original "CCC" certificate has been produced by the counsel for respondent No.5 before the Court. From perusal of the same, it is clear that the respondent No.5 is having a certificate of Computer Concept Course (CCC) issued by National Institute of Electronics and Information Technology (NIELIT). One photocopy of the same is provided to the counsel for the petitioners and one photocopy of the same also taken on record. From perusal of the same, it is clear that the respondent No.5 is having valid "CCC" Certificate duly issued by National Institute of Electronics and Information Technology (NIELIT).

8. A Division Bench of this Court in Special Appeal (Defective) No.679 of 2017 (Sanjay Kumar Vs. State of U.P. and 2 others) decided on 06.05.2019 has already been held that the Computer Concept Course (CCC) is designed to fulfil the beginner level computer literacy and that can be undertaken by a person at his own also. It was further held that only requirement is that he must get the same verified by NIELIT (formerly known as "DOEACC Society"). The course in question is not expertise in computer application but is the most preliminary knowledge for computer operation. The certificate of CCC is available even for the persons who are having no formal education. Relevant portion of the aforesaid judgement is reproduced below:-

"In appeal, we have looked into the entire issue including the nature of certificate of CCC. As per the details available on the official website of the NIELIT, the deails of the Course on Computer Concepts (CCC) is as follows:-

"Introduction: This course is designed to aim at imparting a basic level IT LIteracy programme for the common man. This programme has essentially been conceived with an idea of giving an opportunity to the common man to attain computer literacy thereby contributing to increased and speedy PC penetration in different walks of life. After completing the course the incumbent should be able to use the computer for basis purposes of preparing his personnel/business letters, viewing information on internet (the web), receiving and sending mails, preparing his business presentations, preparing small databases etc. This helps the small business communities, housewives, etc. to maintain their small accounts using the computers and enjoy in the world of Information Technology. This course is, therefore, designed to be more practical oriented.

Eligibility: The candidates can appear in the NIELIT CCC Examination through following three modes and the eligibility criteria for each mode are indicated against each:

2.1 Candidates sponsored by NIELIT approved Institutes permitted to conduct CCC

2.2 Candidates sponsored by Government recognized Schools/Colleges having obtained an Unique Identity number from NIELIT for conducting CCC - irrespective of any educational qualifications, and

2.3 Direct Applicants (without essentially undergoing the Accredited Course or without being sponsored by a Govt. recognized School/College) - irrespective of any educational qualification;

Duration: The total duration of the course is 80 hours, consisting of

(I) Theory 25 hours

(ii) Tutorials 5 hours

(iii) Practicals 50 hours

The course could ideally be a two weeks intensive course."

The introduction quoted above indicates that the Course on Computer Concepts (CCC) is designed to fulfill the beginner level computer literacy and that can be undertaken by a person at his own also. The only requirement is that he must get the same verified by NIELIT (formerly known as "DOEACC Society"). The course is not expertise in computer application but is the most preliminary knowledge for computer operation. The certificate of CCC is available even for the persons who are having no formal education. As a matter of fact, it is the first step for computer literacy. The only purpose to include certificate of "CCC" in the eligibility is that the aspirant must be aware with computer and he should a computer literate. The appellant-petitioner who is a Post Graduate Diploma in Computer Application is too ahead to the knowledge extended through CCC. The advance knowledge available to the appellant-petitioner very well satisfies the purpose and need to have certificate of CCC. Learned single Bench failed to appreciate that the purpose of having a CCC certificate stands satisfied on having the higher qualification of Post Graduation in Computer Application.

In view of whatever stated above, we are of considered opinion that learned single Bench erred while arriving at the conclusion that the order passed by District Judge, Unnao dated 19th September, 2016 does not suffer from any error.

Accordingly, the appeal is allowed. The order dated 5th January, 2017 is set aside. The Writ Petition No.60818 of 2016 is allowed. The order dated 19th September, 2016 passed by the District Judge, Unnao cancelling the appointment of the appellant-petitioner is set aside. The petitioner is declared entitled to be reinstated as Stenographer Grade III in district judgeship Unnao with all consequential benefits except the actual payment of salary for the period he remained out of employment in pursuance to the order dated 19th September, 2015."

The same view was again taken by a Co-ordinate Bench of this Court in Writ A No.16106 of 2017 (Arvind Kumar Vs. Registrar General High Court of Judicature at Allahabad and another).

9. Heard learned counsel for the parties.

10. From perusal of the record, it is clear that requisite qualification for promotion from Class IV post to Class III posts is mentioned in the Government Orders dated 23.08.2016 and 4.1.2017. The first requisite qualification for promotion is typing test/speed between 25 to 30 words per minute either in Hindi or in English and not in both the languages and the second requisite qualification for promotion is having certificate of CCC certificate issued by the DOEACC.

11. Insofar as the first requirement is concerned namely typing test/speed as prescribed under the aforesaid Government Orders, specific findings has already been recorded by the respondent No.3 in the order impugned that respondent No.5 is having 26.8 words per minute typing speed in Hindi which is requisite typing speed as per Government Orders, i.e., 25 to 30 words per minute. From the facts as narrated above, it is clear that respondent No.5 is having typing speed as prescribed under the Government Orders dated 23.08.2016 and 04.01.2017. Apart from the same, the respondent No.5 is also having a valid "CCC" Certificate duly issued in his favour by the National Institute of Electronics and Information Technology (NIELIT). Apart from the aforesaid arguments, no other argument whatsoever has been raised by the counsel for the petitioners.

12. In view of the aforesaid, this Court is of the view that the order passed by the respondent No.3 dated 19.10.2019 is absolutely just and proper and does not call for any interference by this Court specially under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

13. The writ petition is devoid of merits and the same is hereby dismissed. No order as to costs.

6. Manju vs. State of U.P. & Anr. ,Writ-A No.17887 of 2019

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saral Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri R.K. Ojha, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Shivendu Ojha, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri A.K. Yadav, learned counsel for respondent No.3 and learned Standing Counsel for respondent Nos.1, 2 and 4.

2. The State of U.P. has decided to fill up 68500 vacancies of Assistant Teacher in Primary School run by U.P. Basic Shiksha Parishad, Allahabad. Pursuant to the aforesaid decision, State Government directed the Director, State Council of Educational Research and Training JBTC, Campus, Nishatganj, U.P. Lucknow as well as respondent no.4-Secretary Examination Regulatory Authority, U.P. Allahabad to conduct the Assistant Teacher Recruitment Examination of 2018 (hereinafter referred to as 'Examination 2018). Pursuant to the said decision, on-line applications were invited to fill up 68500 vacancies of Assistant Teachers by advertisement dated 8.5.2018. The cut off percentage to qualify in the examination was 45% for General and O.B.C (other backward class) candidates and 40% for Schedule Cast Candidates. Thus, to qualify the examination 2018, candidates belonging to General/O.B.C category should secure 67 marks and candidates belonging to scheduled cast category should secure 60 marks.

3. The petitioner being eligible applied for selection and appointment on the post of Assistant Teacher. The examination consisted of written examination of 150 questions . The petitioner appeared in the examination and attempted 142 questions out of 150 questions. Respondent no.4 published answer key on 5.6.2018 and objections against the proposed answer key was entertained till 9.6.2018. The Expert Committee was to consider the objections against the answer key and submit its recommendation by 15.6.2018. The modified/corrected model answer key was to be published on 18.6.2018. The result was declared on 13.6.2018 and model answer key was also published. The petitioner secured 59 marks in the examination.

4. It appears that non selected candidates approached this Court by filing Writ-A No.18235 of 2018 (Aniruddh Narayan Shukla and 118 Ors. vs. State of U.P.) which was decided by this court by judgment dated.30.10.2018. The relevant extract of the judgment is extracted hereinbelow:-

"It appears that some of the petitioners have not availed of the liberty granted under the Government Order dated 05.10.2018 to apply for re-evaluation, for the simple reason that the writ petitions were pending before this Court. It is stated that some of the petitioners were advised not to do so. Since the task of re-evaluation has, otherwise, been made available by the respondents themselves, it would be appropriate to grant one further indulgence to all such petitioners to make their objections or to apply for re-evaluation, within a period of two weeks from today, along with certified and/or true copy of this order. It is made clear that except to grant this opportunity, no further opportunity would be extended to any of the persons to raise a fresh grievance. Exercise of re-evaluation would be carried out by the Examination Regulatory Authority on the basis of observations, made above, and in accordance with law. Aforesaid guidelines are necessary in order to ensure that the candidates are treated fairly and unnecessary further litigation, in respect of the recruitment itself, could be avoided on the questions already formulated."

5. It also transpires that many a candidate submitted complaints to the State Government for the illegalities and discrepancies committed in conducting the evaluation. The State Government during the pendency of Writ-A No.18235 of 2018 issued a Government Order dated 5.10.2018 permitting all those candidates, who are desirous for re-evaluation of their copies should apply on-line between 11.10.2018 to 20.10.2018.

6. It appears that some of petitioners in the aforesaid writ petition could not apply for re-evaluation within the period stipulated in Government Order dated 5.10.2018, but they were allowed to apply for re-evaluation by this court in Writ-A No.18235 of 2018, the relevant extract of the judgment is already extracted above.

7. The re-evaluation result was declared. After declaration of result of re-evaluation, many a candidate again found discrepancy in re-evaluation of their copy. Accordingly, they approached this Court, challenging the correctness of the re-evaluation in Writ-A No.6420 (Narendra Kumar Chaturvedi Vs. State of U.P.) and other connected writ petitions. During the pendency of the said writ petition, the State Government again issued Government Order dated 18.10.2019 deciding to re-evaluate the copy of all the candidates, who have preferred writ petition before this Court being not satisfied with the result of re-evaluation. In the aforesaid backdrop, this Court disposed off Writ-A No.6420 of 2019 along with other connected writ petitions. The relevant portion of the judgment is extracted hereinbelow:-

"In view of aforesaid decision taken by the State Government, present petition is disposed of with direction to Secretary, Examination Regulatory Authority, U.P. Allahabad to conduct the re-evaluation of answer book of petitioner in this petition as well as in all connected writ petitions within a period of three months from today strictly in accordance with guidelines issued by this Court in the matter of Aniruddh Narayan Shukla (supra) as well as Radha Devi (supra).

Needless to say that in case some order is passed by the Apex Court in SLP in the matter of Radha Devi (supra), same shall be abide by the "Secretary" while conducting the re-evaluation.

Petitioners are also directed to submit copy of this order along with application in the office of "Secretary" within a period of one month from today to avoid any confusion in re-evaluation of their answer books.

After re-evaluation of answer sheet and declaration of result, "Secretary" is directed to send the result to concern State authority for issuance of appointment letter against the remaining 22211 post of Assistant Teacher as per marks obtained by the petitioner as well as minimum cut off marks within four weeks from the date of declaration of result."

8. The petitioner also submitted application for re-evaluation. On re-evaluation, the marks of the petitioner has increased from 59 to 64. The petitioner being O.B.C. candidate was to secure 67 marks to qualify the examination. Hence, the petitioner was three mark short of minimum qualifying marks after re-evaluation. After the declaration of the result of the re-evaluation, the petitioner deposited Rs.2,000/- for obtaining the scanned copy of his answer copy. It is stated in the writ petition that the petitioner has received scanned copy in the Month of November, 2019. The petitioner found that though his answer to question no.30, 51, 57, 63, 64 and 133 are correct, but marks in those questions were not awarded, and if the petitioner had been awarded marks against the aforesaid questions, he would have secured 70 marks and would have qualified the examination. In the aforesaid backdrop, the petitioner has come up in the writ petition praying for the following reliefs:-

"i. A writ order or direction in the nature mandamus commanding the respondent to produce original answer key (answer copy) of Booklet Series 'D' of the petitioner before this Hon'ble Coue tans same may be duly compared with the answers given by the petitioner and at least marks be allotted to the petitioner against Question Nos.31, 51, 57, 63, 64 and 133.

ii. A writ order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding to the respondent to calculate mark against Question Nos. 31, 51, 57, 63, 64 and 133 declare result of the petitioner of Assistant Teacher Recruitment Examination-2018.

iii. A writ order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the respondents to issue appointment letter in favour of the petitioner after being found eligible and qualified in Assistant Teacher Recruitment Examination-2018 and also provided all other consequential benefits as given to other qualified and selected candidates."

9. Learned counsel for the petitioner contended that this Court in the case of Narendra Kumar Chaturvedi (supra) has restricted the filing of the application within one month to the petitioners before the court. Thus, the period of one month prescribed by this court in the case of Narendra Kumar Chaturvedi (supra) is not applicable to those candidates who were not before this court in the bunch of petitions decided with the case of Narendra Kumar Chaturvedi (supra). Hence, there is no cut-off date for filing the application for re-evaluation.

10. Learned Senior Counsel for the petitioner further contended that since there is apparent error on the face of record in not awarding the marks to the petitioner against question nos.30, 51, 57, 63, 64 and 133, which have been answered correctly by the petitioner, the petitioner may be permitted to submit application for re-evaluation of his answer-sheet in terms of orders passed by this Court in the case of Narendra Kumar Chaturvedi (supra) as non awarding of marks in respect to the answer of the questions correctly answered by the petitioner has caused serious prejudice to the rights of the petitioner.

11. Per contra, learned Standing Counsel contended that the State Government has decided by Government Order dated 18.10.2019 to re-evaluate the copy of all the candidates, who have preferred writ petitions after declaration of the result of re-evaluation, and in the light of the Government Order dated 18.10.2019 , this court disposed off the writ petition of Narendra Kumar Chaturvedi (supra) and other connected petitions permitting the petitioners to submit application in the Office of 'Secretary' within a period of one month from the date of judgment i.e. 22.10.2019 for re-evaluation of their answer books. Thus, the submission is that if the petitioner was dissatisfied with the result of re-evaluation, he ought to have approached this Court in time to get the benefit of the judgment of this Court in the case of Narendra Kumar Chaturvedi (Supra). He submitted that a very vague averment with regard to the fact that the scanned copy has been received by the petitioner in the month of November, 2019 has been made, whereas, the petitioner has not stated in the writ petition as to the date on which and the mode by which he has received the scanned copy.

12. He further submits that this Court cannot permit the candidate to apply for re-evaluation for indefinite period inasmuch as if this process continues indefinitely, the process of selection cannot be brought to a logical end. Thus, the submission is that the cut-off date for making application for re-evaluation was 21.10.2019 i.e. one month period from the date of judgment in the case of Narendra Kumar Chaturvedi (supra), and since the petitioner has not approached within the said period, the relief prayed by the petitioner cannot be granted. He further submits that even otherwise the relief sought for by the petitioner cannot be granted by this Court in exercise of power under Article 226 of the Constitution of India in view of various pronouncements of Hon'ble Apex Court where the Apex Court held that if there is no provision for re-evaluation, the Court should not permit re-evaluation as a matter of right

13. I have heard learned counsel for the petitioner and learned Standing Counsel for the State.

14. This Court while deciding the case of Aniruddh Narayan Shukla (supra) has granted two weeks time to the petitioners in those petition to apply for re-evaluation. The Court further observed that no further liberty would be extended to any candidate to raise such grievance. The Government Order dated 15.10.2018 also granted liberty to all the candidates not satisfied with the marks to apply for re-evaluation. The Board in the light of Government Order dated 15.10.2018 and the case of Aniruddh Narayan Shukla (supra) re-evaluated the copies of all the candidates who had availed the opportunity of re-evaluation.

15. As some of the candidates were dissatisfied with the marks awarded after re-evaluation, they again approached this Court in Writ-A No.6420 of 2019 and other connected writ petitions. The State Government considering the welfare of the candidates again decide to re-evaluate the copy of all the petitioners who being dissatisfied with the result of re-evaluation approached this court.

16. At this stage, it would appropriate to refer paragraph 31 and 32 of the judgment of the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Ranvijay Singh & Ors. 2018 Volume 2 SCC 357, wherein the Apex Court has expressed anguish where the selection of Assistant Teachers could not be brought to a logical end for about eight years. Relevant part of the judgment is quoted hereinbelow:-

"31. On our part we may add that sympathy or compassion does not play any role in the matter of directing or not directing re-evaluation of an answer sheet. If an error is committed by the examination authority, the complete body of candidates suffers. The entire examination process does not deserve to be derailed only because some candidates are disappointed or dissatisfied or perceive some injustice having been caused to them by an erroneous question or an erroneous answer. All candidates suffer equally, though some might suffer more but that cannot be helped since mathematical precision is not always possible. This Court has shown one way out of an impasse - exclude the suspect or offending question.

32. It is rather unfortunate that despite several decisions of this Court, some of which have been discussed above, there is interference by the Courts in the result of examinations. This places the examination authorities in an unenviable position where they are under scrutiny and not the candidates. Additionally, a massive and sometimes prolonged examination exercise concludes with an air of uncertainty. While there is no doubt that candidates put in a tremendous effort in preparing for an examination, it must not be forgotten that even the examination authorities put in equally great efforts to successfully conduct an examination. The enormity of the task might reveal some lapse at a later stage, but the Court must consider the internal checks and balances put in place by the examination authorities before interfering with the efforts put in by the candidates who have successfully participated in the examination and the examination authorities. The present appeals are a classic example of the consequence of such interference where there is no finality to the result of the examinations even after a lapse of eight years. Apart from the examination authorities even the candidates are left wondering about the certainty or otherwise of the result of the examination - whether they have passed or not; whether their result will be approved or disapproved by the Court; whether they will get admission in a college or University or not; and whether they will get recruited or not. This unsatisfactory situation does not work to anybody's advantage and such a state of uncertainty results in confusion being worse confounded. The overall and larger impact of all this is that public interest suffers."

17. As per the law laid down by the Apex court, the selection process has to brought to a logical end, therefore, in the facts of the present case, this Court finds that the time granted by this Court in the case of Narendra Kumar Chaturvedi (supra) should be treated to be cut off date for the purpose of permitting the candidates to apply for re-evaluation.

18. It is also pertinent to mention that if the candidate is allowed to submit application for re-evaluation for indefinite period, then the selection process would never complete and the very purpose of selection is frustrated which is against the various pronouncements of Apex Court, wherein, the Apex, Court has expressed anguish for non completion of the selection process in time.

19. In the case in hand, the petitioner did not approach this Court challenging the result of re-evaluation. The petitioner in order to avail the benefit of judgment of this court in the case of Narendra Kumar Chaturvedi (supra) in paragraph 20 of the writ petition has made a vague averment that he has received scanned copy in the month of November, 2019. The pleadings in this regard lacks material fact as to the date on which he has received scanned copy and the mode by which scanned copy was sent to him. Thus, the contention of the learned counsel for the petitioner that no cut off date is provided by this Court for making application for re-evaluation is misconceived as the process of re-evaluation cannot be allowed to be continued to infinity.

20. While the judgment was reserved, the counsel for the petition has placed two judgments; one in Special Appeal No. 620 of 2019 (Priya Sharma Vs. State of U.P.) decided on 18.12.2019, and the other judgment in Writ-A No. 19760 of 2019 (Satish Kumar Pandey & Others) decided on 07.01.2019 to contend that the petitioner is also entitled to the benefit of the aforesaid judgment.

21. The judgment Special Appeal No. 620 of 2019 has been rendered in different factual context wherein the writ petition filed by the appellant in special appeal was dismissed before the judgment of this Court in Aniruddh Narayan Shukla (supra) case. In the said backdrop, this Court has extended the benefit of the judgment of this Court in Writ-A No.14509 of 2019, thus, the judgment of this Court in Special Appeal No.620 of 2019 is of no help to the petitioner.

22. So far as the other judgment relied upon by counsel for the petitioner in Writ-A No. 19760 of 2019 is concerned, the same has been passed on the basis of judgment of this Court in Special Appeal No.620 of 2019, but this aspect that judgment of Special Appeal No. 620 of 2019 has been rendered in different factual context has not been placed before the court. Further, the said judgment has also not considered the judgment of this Court in Writ-A No.17887 of 2019 (Manju vs. State of U.P. & Anr.) decided on 05.12.2019, wherein this Court has dismissed the writ petition filed by one such candidate, who has approached this Court after the time of one month granted by this Court in Aniruddh Narayan Shukla (supra) case has expired. Thus, the judgment of this Court in Writ-A No. 19760 of 2019 does not come to aid of the petitioner.

23. Thus, in view of the said fact, the writ petition lacks merit and is, accordingly, dismissed.

12. Union of India and others vs. M.K. Sarkar, 2010 (2) SCC 58

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sudhir Agarwal, J. & Hon'ble Rajeev Misra, J.)

1. Heard Col. Ram Achal Pandey, Advocate for applicant and Sri S.K. Rai, Advocate for respondents.

2. This writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India has arisen from judgment and order dated 26.10.2018 whereby petitioner's Transfer Application No. 1187 of 2010 has been dismissed by Armed Forces Tribunal, Regional Bench, Lucknow (hereinafter referred to as "Tribunal").

3. It appears that petitioner, who was enrolled in Indian Army on 02.05.1979, suffered some problem diagnosed as "Schizophrenia" on account whereof he was medically held invalid from service w.e.f. 18.03.1980 under Rule 13(3)(IV) of Army Rules, 1954 and was discharged. His request for disability pension was declined by Principal Controller of Defence Account (Pension), Allahabad vide order dated 17.01.1981 on the ground that medical disability suffered by petitioner was neither attributable nor aggravated to military service. Said order attained finality as petitioner did not challenge the same by filing any appeal. It is only in 2003 he filed Writ Petition No. 49882 of 2003 seeking following reliefs:

"(i) to issue a writ order or direction in nature of certiorari to quash the impugned order dated 17.1.81 passed by P.C.D.A. (Pension) (Respondent No. 2), through his letter No. G3/80/8846/VI which is not served to the petitioner till the date of filing and the order dated 3.3.1993 passed by Record Officer, the Maratha Light Infantry, Belgaum-9.

(ii) to issue a writ order or direction in nature of mandamus directing the respondents to take any decision for petitioner's rehabilitation/ disability pension/ financial assistance.

(iii) to issue a writ order or direction which this Hon'ble Court may deem fit and proper under the facts and circumstances of the case.

(iv) to award the cost of the writ petition to the petitioner."

4. After enactment and enforcement of Armed Forces Tribunal, aforesaid writ petition was transferred to Tribunal and renumbered as Transfer Application No. 1187 of 2010. Tribunal has found that petitioner was enrolled in Indian Army in 1979. He was diagnosed for suffering of Schizophrenia on 07.11.1979, i.e., almost within six months from the date of enrollment in military service. Consequently he was declared invalid for military service by medical board on 19.03.1980. In these facts and circumstances Tribunal found that there was nothing to show that petitioner's medical invalidity was either on account of rendering service in army nor there was anything to show that it was aggravated due to Military Service for the reason that he has worked only for almost six months when aforesaid disease was discovered and that too while he was undergoing basic recruitment training at Maratha Light Infantry Regimental Centre, Belgaum and not even posted for active service at any hard place. Tribunal, therefore, rejected the same.

5. Besides the fact stated by Tribunal in the impugned judgment, we also find that petitioner was invalidated in 1980. His claim for disability pension was rejected on 17.01.1981. He did not challenge aforesaid order dated 17.01.1981 before any appropriate forum for more than 22 years and this delay and laches has not been explained by petitioner either before Tribunal or before this Court.

6. Undue delay and laches are relevant factors in exercising equitable jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. Following the cases of Government of West Bengal Vs. Tarun K. Roy and others 2004(1) SCC 347 and Chairman U.P. Jal Nigam and another Vs. Jaswant Singh and another 2006(11) SCC 464, the Apex Court in New Delhi Municipal Council Vs. Pan Singh and others J.T.2007(4) SC 253, observed that after a long time the writ petition should not have been entertained even if the petitioners are similarly situated and discretionary jurisdiction may not be exercised in favour of those who approached the Court after a long time. It was held that delay and laches were relevant factors for exercise of equitable jurisdiction. In M/S Lipton India Ltd. And others vs. Union of India and others, J.T. 1994(6) SC 71 and M.R. Gupta Vs. Union of India and others 1995(5) SCC 628 it was held that though there was no period of limitation provided for filing a petition under Article 226 of Constitution of India, ordinarily a writ petition should be filed within reasonable time. In K.V. Rajalakshmiah Setty Vs. State of Mysore, AIR 1961 SC 993, it was said that representation would not be adequate explanation to take care of delay. Same view was reiterated in State of Orissa Vs. Pyari Mohan Samantaray and others AIR 1976 SC 2617 and State of Orissa and others Vs. Arun Kumar Patnaik and others 1976(3) SCC 579 and the said view has also been followed recently in Shiv Dass Vs. Union of India and others AIR 2007 SC 1330= 2007(1) Supreme 455 and New Delhi Municipal Council (supra). The aforesaid authorities of the Apex Court has also been followed by this Court in Chunvad Pandey Vs. State of U.P. and others, 2008(4) ESC 2423.

7. In C. Jacob vs. Director of Geology and Mining and another, 2008(10) SCC 115 Court observed that Courts and Tribunals proceed on the assumption that every citizen deserves a reply to his representation. It also observed that a mere direction to consider and dispose of the representation does not involve any 'decision' on rights and obligations of parties. Little do they realize the consequences of such a direction to 'consider'. If the representation is considered and accepted, the ex-employee gets a relief, which he would not have got on account of the long delay, all by reason of the direction to 'consider'. If the representation is considered and rejected, the ex employee files an application/ writ petition, not with reference to the original cause of action may be of 10 or 20 years back but by treating the order of rejection passed after a decade or two or more from the date of original cause of action, as a fresh cause of action. In such cases normally a prayer is made for quashing of order of rejection of representation and they further to grant relief as claimed in representation. The Tribunals/ Courts routinely entertain such applications/ petitions ignoring the huge delay preceding the representation and proceed to examine the claim on merits and grant relief. In this manner, the bar of limitation or the laches gets obliterated or ignored. Deprecating it and holding that such order passed on representation will not furnish a fresh cause of action and revive a stale or dead claim, Supreme Court in para 10 said as under:

"10. Every representation to the government for relief, may not be replied on merits. Representations relating to matters which have become stale or barred by limitation, can be rejected on that ground alone, without examining the merits of the claim. In regard to representations unrelated to the department, the reply may be only to inform that the matter did not concern the department or to inform the appropriate department. Representations with incomplete particulars may be replied by seeking relevant particulars. The replies to such representations, cannot furnish a fresh cause of action or revive a stale or dead claim. "

8. In Union of India and others vs. M.K. Sarkar, 2010(2) SCC 58 Court said that a belated representation with regard to statutory or dead issue if considered or decided, in compliance with a direction by Court/ Tribunal to do so, the date of such decision cannot be considered as furnishing a fresh cause of action for reviving the 'dead' or time barred issue. Issue of limitation or delay and laches should be considered with reference to the original cause of action and not with reference to the date on which an order is passed in compliance with a Court's direction. Neither a Court's direction to consider a representation issued without examining the merits, nor a decision given in compliance with such direction, will extend the limitation, or erase the delay and laches.

9. The petitioner is admittedly guilty of undue delay and laches which has not been explained at all. For granting relief under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, laches is an important factor disentitling a litigant for any relief, as discussed above.

10. Even otherwise, order of Tribunal non suiting petitioner on merits also cannot be said to be faulty. The circumstances in which, within six months of his recruitment, petitioner was found suffering from ailment of Schizophrenia, we do not find that petitioner satisfies the requirement of disability pension. Hence we find no merit in writ petition.

11. Dismissed accordingly.

Anuj Kumar ...Petitioner

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

A. Disciplinary proceeding - procedure established for conducting an enquiry was not followed - evidences were not recorded - inquiry report was submitted based on the charge sheet and petitioner's explanation.

The law is settled with respect to the manner in which the disciplinary proceedings are to be undertaken in a matter involving major punishment. After the issuance of charge sheet and receipt of a reply, a date, time and venue of the inquiry have to be fixed. On the appointed date and time, whether the delinquent employee appears or not, it is for the establishment to prove its case by examining evidence in support of the charges. Mostly, this kind of a charge cannot be established, unless the establishment examines and gets their oral evidence recorded. In addition, if there are certain documentary evidence on which the establishment whishes to rely, they have to lead that evidence before the inquiry officer through their presiding officer. It is only after the establishment discharge their onus on the charge that burden shifts to the delinquent employee, to produce evidence in support of his case, all of which would be ultimately evaluated by the inquiry officer to reach his conclusion, one way or the other. (para 8)

B. Power of administrative authority - no jurisdiction to revive the order quashed by the High Court

An order quashed by any Court, Tribunal or Judicial Authority can be revived by a competent court of appellate jurisdiction, empowered by law to hear and decide an appeal from the order quashing the administrative order. No administrative authority is possessed of jurisdiction to revive an order that has been quashed or set aside by a Court of competent jurisdiction, while determining a matter on remand by the Court. To pass the same order afresh or reach the same conclusions, on determining a matter after remand by a Court setting aside the order of an administrative authority is permissible. But, that determination is to be expressed in a fresh order to be made by the authority. (para 12)

3. State of U.P. v. Aditya Prasad Srivastava and anr 2017(2) ADJ 554 (DB)(LB)

(Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. Heard Sri Ram Asrey Yadav, learned counsel for the petitioner and Dr. Amar Nath Singh, learned Standing Counsel appearing on behalf of all the respondents.

2. Pursuant to the order of this Court dated 3rd December, 2019, Arun Atri, the then District Panchayat Raj Officer, Shamli (now Additional District Panchayat Raj Officer), Shamli has appeared before the Court. He has produced before the Court record of the inquiry proceedings on the basis of which the impugned order dated 28.09.2018 has been passed. By the said order, the petitioner's services have been terminated.

3. The facts giving rise to this petition are that the petitioner was placed under suspension pending inquiry by the respondents. The petitioner is a Class IV employee (Safaikarmi). Post suspension and formal initiation of departmental proceedings, a notice dated 24.03.2017 was served upon him and a final opportunity was given to the petitioner to submit his reply to the allegations that were there against him. The petitioner submitted his reply to this notice on 31st March, 2017. The order of punishment records that this reply was not found satisfactory. However, instead of proceeding to conduct an inquiry, the Inquiry Officer within the next three days proceeded to submit an inquiry report on 3rd April, 2017 which formed basis of the order of termination that was earlier passed against the petitioner on 10.04.2017. The said order was challenged before this Court in Writ-A No. 35939 of 2017. The ground of challenge, amongst others, appears to be that there is absolutely no consideration of the petitioner's case in the order impugned and even if the explanation submitted by the petitioner was not accepted, the Inquiry Officer was obliged to proceed in the manner that a date for holding the inquiry had to be fixed. Thereafter, opportunity of producing evidence etc. ought to have been afforded, but no such procedure has been followed.

4. This Court proceeded to quash the order of termination holding that it was a case where after reply to the charge sheet was submitted, no date, time or place was fixed for holding the inquiry, no oral evidence was adduced and the Inquiry Officer submitted a report within three days of the petitioner filing a reply. The petitioner's services were terminated by the order impugned in the writ petition, last mentioned. Accordingly, the order dated 24th March, 2017 was quashed with liberty to the respondents to conclude the inquiry within a period of four months from the presentation of a certified copy of the order passed in that case.

5. Now, by the impugned order what has happened is this. The order of this Court appears to have been filed before the respondents to do the proceedings all over again. They were required to undertake an inquiry in accordance with law afresh. However, in purported compliance of the order of this Court, it appears that notice was issued on 20.06.2018 fixing 27.06.2018 at 10.00 a.m., requiring the petitioner to appear in the office of the District Panchayat Raj Officer, so that further proceedings could be taken.

6. Dr. Amar Nath Singh, learned Standing Counsel makes a statement on instructions received that the records having been placed before the Court, the respondents do not propose to file a counter affidavit.

7. The Court has perused the original record. It appears that on the date fixed, an explanation was filed by the petitioner to the charges against him. The said explanation was considered by the Inquiry Officer/Assistant Development Officer, Panchayat Block, Kandla, Shamli vide his report dated 03.07.2018, who appears to have perused the explanation submitted by the petitioner on 27.06.2018, and on its basis, held it to be unsatisfactory. Rather, there is a finding recorded in the inquiry report of the Assistant Block Development Officer, where he has said that some natives of the village have said that the petitioner does not undertake his official duties and undertakes private work, a fact which has been verified by the former District Panchayat Raj Officer, Shamli. It is then remarked in the report that the explanation submitted by the petitioner is not satisfactory and one where the petitioner has not come forward with any firm evidence or has he appeared himself in person. It has further been concluded that during his period of posting at the Gram Panchayat in question, he never discharged his duties of a Sweeper, himself. On the basis of the said report, the impugned order has been passed where quoting the said report, it has been recorded as follows:

"अतः श्री अनुज कुमारए सेवा समाप्त सफाईकर्मी को मा0 उच्च न्यायालय इलाहाबाद द्वारा निर्गत किये गये आदेशों के क्रम में एक अवसर पुनः प्रदान किया गया। जिसमें श्री अनुज कुमारए सेवा समाप्त सफाईकर्मी द्वारा अपने बचाव में कोई ठोस साक्ष्य प्रस्तुत नहीं किये गये एवं सहायक विकास अधिकारी ;पं0द्ध काँधला द्वारा अन्तिम जाँच में उक्त दोषी पाये गये। जिससे स्वतः ही स्पष्ट होता है किए श्री अनुज कुमार पुत्र श्री सेवाराम ;सेवा समाप्तद्धए सफाईकर्मीए ग्राम पंचायत.बधुपुरा विकास खण्ड.कैरानाए जनपद. शामली उच्चाधिकारियों के आदेशों की अवहेलना के आदि है तथा इन्हें शासकीय सेवा की कोई आवश्यकता नहीं है। अतः इनके सेवा समाप्ति के आदेश दिनांक 10ण्04ण्2017 यथावत रहेगें।"

8. A reading of the impugned order as well as the inquiry report shows that the District Panchayat Raj Officer, as well as the Inquiry Officer, do not seem to have the slightest idea of how an inquiry is to be undertaken and how disciplinary proceedings are to be disposed of, particularly, in a matter relating to imposition of a major penalty. In an inquiry relating to a major penalty, the procedure is now by far well settled. After issue of a charge sheet and the receipt of a reply, a date, time and venue of the inquiry have to be fixed. On the appointed date and time, whether the delinquent employee appears or does not, it is for the establishment to prove its case by examining evidence in support of the charges. Mostly, this kind of a charge cannot be established, unless the establishment examines witnesses and gets their oral evidence recorded. In addition, if there are certain documentary evidence on which the establishment wishes to rely, they have to lead that evidence before the Inquiry Officer through their Presenting Officer. It is only after the establishment discharge their onus on the charges that burden shifts to the delinquent employee, to produce evidence in support of his case, all of which would be ultimately evaluated by the Inquiry Officer to reach his conclusion, one way or the other.

9. In this connection, the law as to the manner in which disciplinary proceedings are to be undertaken in a matter involving major punishment has been laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Chamoli District Co-operative Bank Ltd. Through its Secretary/Mahaprabandhak and another vs. Raghunath Singh Rana and others, 2016 (12) SCC 204, where in paragraph 22 of the report, the following principles have been culled out by their Lordships:

22. From the propositions of law, as enunciated by the Apex Court as noted above, and the facts of the present case, we arrive at the following conclusions:

22.1. After service of charge-sheet dated 16-1-1993 although the petitioner submitted his reply on 4-2-1993 but neither inquiry officer fixed any date of oral inquiry nor any inquiry was held by the inquiry officer.

22.2. Mandatory requirement of a disciplinary inquiry i.e. is holding of an inquiry when the charges are refuted and serving the inquiry report to the delinquent has been breached in the present case.

22.3. Respondent 1 employee having not been given opportunity to produce his witnesses in his defence and having not been given an opportunity of being heard in person, the statutory provisions as enshrined in Regulation 85*(i)(b)*, have been violated.

22.4. The disciplinary authority issued show-cause notice dated 4-5-1993 to Respondent 1 employee without holding of an inquiry and subsequent resolution by disciplinary authority taken in the year 2000 without there being any further steps is clearly unsustainable. The High Court has rightly quashed the dismissal order by giving liberty to the Bank to hold de novo inquiry within a period of six months, if it so desires.

22.5.The Bank shall be at liberty to proceed with the disciplinary inquiry as per directions of the High Court in para 1 of the judgment. The High Court has already held that the petitioner shall be deemed to be under suspension and shall be paid suspension allowance in accordance with the rules.

10. In State of U.P. and Ors. vs. Saroj Kumar Sinha, 2010 (2) SCC 772, it has been held by their Lordships of the Supreme Court thus:

27. A bare perusal of the aforesaid sub-rule shows that when the respondent had failed to submit the explanation to the charge-sheet it was incumbent upon the inquiry officer to fix a date for his appearance in the inquiry. It is only in a case when the government servant despite notice of the date fixed failed to appear that the inquiry officer can proceed with the inquiry ex parte. Even in such circumstances it is incumbent on the inquiry officer to record the statement of witnesses mentioned in the charge-sheet. Since the government servant is absent, he would clearly lose the benefit of cross-examination of the witnesses. But nonetheless in order to establish the charges the Department is required to produce the necessary evidence before the inquiry officer. This is so as to avoid the charge that the inquiry officer has acted as a prosecutor as well as a judge.

28. An inquiry officer acting in a quasi-judicial authority is in the position of an independent adjudicator. He is not supposed to be a representative of the department/disciplinary authority/Government. His function is to examine the evidence presented by the Department, even in the absence of the delinquent official to see as to whether the unrebutted evidence is sufficient to hold that the charges are proved. In the present case the aforesaid procedure has not been observed. Since no oral evidence has been examined the documents have not been proved, and could not have been taken into consideration to conclude that the charges have been proved against the respondents.

(Emphasis by Court)

11. The aforesaid position of law has been succinctly laid down by a Division Bench of this Court, sitting at Lucknow, in State of U.P. vs. Aditya Prasad Srivastava and another, 2017 (2) ADJ 554 (DB)(LB) where in paragraph 17 of the report it has been held:

17. It is trite law that the departmental proceedings are quasi judicial proceedings. The Inquiry Officer functions as quasi judicial officer. He is not merely a representative of the department. He has to act as an independent and impartial officer to find out the truth. The major punishment awarded to an employee visit serious civil consequences and as such the departmental proceedings ought to be in conformity with the principles of natural justice. Even if, an employee prefers not to participate in enquiry the department has to establish the charge against the eployee by adducing oral as well as documentary evidence. In case charges warrant major punishment then the oral evidence by producing the witnesses is necessary.

(Emphasis by Court)

12. In the present case nothing of the kind has been done. The Inquiry Officer has submitted his report by reading the charge sheet and the petitioner's explanation, with no evidence recorded. On the basis of this inquiry report, the impugned order has been passed mechanically where it is said in rather objectionable terms that the order of termination of service earlier passed by the District Panchayat Raj Officer stands restored. Once the order of the District Panchayat Raj Officer earlier passed, had been quashed, there was no jurisdiction with the District Panchayat Raj Officer to revive an order that the High Court had quashed. It is quite another matter that at the conclusion of a valid inquiry, a fresh order may be to the same effect, could have been passed again. An order quashed by this Court or any Court, Tribunal or Judicial Authority can be revived by a competent Court of appellate jurisdiction, empowered by law to hear and decide an appeal from the order quashing the administrative order, like the one here, made in exercise of disciplinary jurisdiction. No Administrative Authority is possessed of jurisdiction to revive an order that has been quashed or set aside by a Court of competent jurisdiction, while redetermining a matter on remand by the Court. To pass the same order afresh or reach the same conclusions, on determining a matter after remand by a Court setting aside the order of an Administrative Authority is permissible. But, that determination is to be expressed in a fresh order to be made by the Authority. Decidedly, an Administrative Authority cannot revive an order earlier made by it and quashed by a Court or Judicial Authority.

13. The said issue apart, the first part of the infirmity in the impugned order that it is based upon proceedings where no evidence on behalf of the establishment has been recorded and the fact that the establishment have not discharged their burden on the charges, the entire edifice of the impugned order is non existent.

14. In the result, this petition succeeds and is allowed.

15. The impugned order dated 28.09.2018 passed by the District Panchayat Raj Officer, Shamli is hereby quashed. The petitioner shall be reinstated in service forthwith and shall be paid his salary together with arrears. It will, however, be open to the respondents to proceed afresh from the stage the charge sheet was issued to the petitioner in accordance with law, if they so deem fit, and pass fresh orders.

16. The personal presence of Arun Atri, the then District Panchayat Raj Officer, Shamli (now Additional District Panchayat Raj Officer) is exempted.

17. The records produced by the District Panchayat Raj Officer, Shamli are ordered to be returned to him in original.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ashwani Kumar Mishra, J.)

1. Petitioners have filed the present writ petition challenging an order passed by Chief Executive Officer, Greater Noida Industrial Development Authority (hereinafter referred to as "the authority') dated 16.10.2018, whereby their claim for regularization has been rejected. This order has been passed pursuant to a direction issued by this Court in Writ Petition No. 15985 of 2018, dated 27.07.2018, which is reproduced hereafter:-

"Heard learned counsel for the petitioners and the learned counsel for the respondents Shri Mayank Singh holding brief of Shri B.B.Jauhari.

Shri B.B.Jauhari has filed memo of appearance on behalf of Greater NOIDA, which is taken on record.

Shri Mayank Singh has informed this Court that the petitioners had earlier filed a writ petition which was decided by a detailed order on 10.07.2013. He has raised preliminary objection regarding maintainability of the writ petition.

Learned counsel for the petitioners however says that a fresh cause of action has arisen after the Government Order dated 24.02.2016 and the petitioners may be allowed to make a representation in accordance with the aforesaid Government Order before the authority concerned i.e. the Chief Executive Officer, Greater NOIDA (respondent no. 3), which may be directed to be decided in accordance with law.

Accordingly, this writ petition is disposed of without entering into the controversy raised with a direction to the petitioners to make a representation to the respondent no. 3 within a period of two weeks from today. The respondent no. 3 shall consider the grievance of the petitioner and pass appropriate reasoned and speaking order within a further period of two months."

2. Petitioners have asserted in para 3 that they are working against different posts like Technician, Telephone operator, Electrician etc. and that some of them have also been promoted to higher posts. In para 4 of the writ petition it is stated that petitioners are continuously working without any break, to the satisfaction of the officers concerned, against permanent posts and are qualified for appointment to the posts in question. In para 7 of the writ petition it is disclosed that petitioners had earlier filed Writ Petition No. 36607 of 2013, which was dismissed on 10.07.2013, but a Special Appeal preferred against it, is pending. The order dated 10.07.2013, dismissing Writ Petition No. 36607 of 2013, is reproduced hereinafter:-

"The petitioner claims to be an association titled as Dainik Vetan Bhogi Karamchari Sangh, U.P. Greater Noida Audyogik Vikas Pradhikaran, has approached this Court with request to direct the respondents to consider the case of the members of the petitioner association for regularization on respective posts and further prayer has been made to extend all benefits to the members of the petitioner association as other regular employees are getting since the date of joining of their service.

On the matter being taken up today, Learned counsel appearing on behalf of Greater Noida Development Authority had made categorical statement to the effect that till today no policy for extending the benefit of regularization has been framed who are working in the establishment of the Authority. Once there is no policy decision to extend the benefit of regularization of service, the request made by the petitioner cannot be accepted as daily wagers even otherwise have no right to claim reglarization, unless and untill there is a scheme.

The law on the said subject has been laid down by Apex Court in the Case of Secretary State of Karnataka and Others Vs. Umadevi and others [2006 (4) SCC 1] that exercise of regularization shall not be taken as a matter of right.

It has been further contended on behalf of the petitioner Association that Rajkiya Vahan Chalak Mahasangh representing the drivers working in the respondent authority preferred Writ Petition No. 27557 of 2005 before this Court and the same was disposed of with a direction to the Authority to consider the case of the members of the petitioner therein for regularization on the post of driver. Against the said order of this Court the respondent Authority approached the Apex Court by means of Special Leav Petition. Apex Court in the said matter directed the Authority to undertake the exercise of recruitment for the posts of Drivers strictly as per the procedure prescribed in Greater Noida Industrial Development Authority Service Regulations, 1993 and that till the said process is completed, the services of the members of respondent therein shall not be terminated. Even in the said order of Apex Court, claim of regularisation has not been accepted.

In the facts of the present case when such is the accepted position that there is no policy formulated for extending the benefit of regularization, the request as has been made by the members of the petitioner association cannot be adhered to.

Here in the present case, once no process whatsoever for recruitment had taken place and there is no policy for extending the benefit of regularization, therefore, aforementioned judgment of the Apex Court will not come to the rescue and respite of the petitioner.

The writ petition is accordingly dismissed."

3. In para 9 of the writ petition it is contended that petitioners are working under the supervision and control of respondent authority as also its officers and wages are also being paid to them by the authority. Paragraphs 10 and 11 of the writ petition are relevant and are extracted hereinafter:-

"10. That it is pertinent to mention here that the appointment letter has not been issued to the petitioners by the respondent authority since they were working on different post under the supervision and control of respondent authorities and their works are in permanent nature thus they are entitled to be regularized/absorbed in the respondent department.

11. That it is stated that now the petitioners have come to know that the respondent authorities have issued some letter in respect of appointment of contractor through e-tendering and now respondents are interested to take work from the petitioner through contractor."

4. In paragraph 12 of the writ petition it is asserted that petitioners have worked for more than twenty years with the hope that they shall be regularized in the employment of authority. In para 13 it is alleged that work performed by petitioners are permanent in nature and the authority is not justified in undertaking work from them through E-tender (apparently referring to contract system). In para 15 petitioners state as under:-

"15. That the respondents were going to take work from the petitioners through contractor, under these circumstances petitioners were compelled to file Writ Petition No. 15985 of 2018."

5. Petitioners contend that a Government Order dated 24.02.2016 has now been issued which provides for regularizing the services of daily wagers, including contractual employees, in different departments and, therefore, a new cause of action has arisen for the petitioners to approach this court, notwithstanding, the dismissal of their earlier writ petition against which a Special Appeal is pending. Submission is that the Chief Executive Officer without taking note of the Government Order dated 24.02.2016 has proceeded to reject petitioners' claim for regularization. In para 22 it is stated that Chief Executive Officer has not discussed evidence of appointment of petitioners and the order impugned is illegal. In para 23 petitioners claim that they are working in Greater Noida for the last 20 years. In para 25 petitioners assert as under: -

"25. That it is stated that in view of the aforesaid fact the petitioners are to be treated as contractual employee of the Greater NOIDA and hence the order impugned passed by respondent No.3 is illegal."

6. In support of their claim petitioners have relied upon a Division Bench Judgment of this Court in Special Appeal No. 790 of 2018, decided on 12.04.2018, which shall be referred to, later.

7. Petitioners claim for regularization is rejected by the authority on following grounds:-

(i) A finding is returned that none of petitioners have ever been appointed directly by the authority, nor there exits any contract of employment in respect of petitioners. It is observed in the order that depending upon the requirement of the work the authority has been engaging persons through registered contractors, for a period of three months, and the payment of wages to such employees is also made by the contractors.

(ii) The authority only maintains records with regard to engagement of contractors, as also the number of persons engaged and the wages paid to them. Since petitioners have neither been appointed by the authority, nor there exist any contract of employment between the petitioners and the authority as such the petitioners are not liable to be treated as the employees of authority.

(iii) Order impugned further records that from time to time regular recruitment has been undertaken by the authority and it was open for persons such as petitioners, who claim to have been engaged through contractor, to have applied against it but the petitioners have not availed of such opportunity.

(iv) The order impugned further records that authority being a public authority any employment in it can only be granted after due advertisement of vacancy and persons engaged on contract basis, otherwise cannot be regularized against posts meant to be filled by direct recruitment.

(v) As per the order impugned the Government Order dated 24.02.2016, providing for regularization of contract employees is not found to be applicable upon the petitioners as necessary ingredients to invoke the provisions of the government order do not exist. It has also been observed that the provisions of newly created Centralized Service Rules of 2018 also would not be applicable since the appointing authority under the rules is the Government and not the authority.

8. Sri Ramendra Pratap Singh, who has appeared for the authority submits that the nature of enquiry which would be warranted in order to assail the findings contained in the order impugned would require leading of evidence for which the writ petition is not the appropriate forum. Learned counsel for the respondents places reliance upon a judgment of the Apex Court in case of Steel Authority of India Ltd. Vs. National Union Waterfront Workers, reported in 2001 (7) SCC 1, in order to submit that nature of enquiry warranted in the facts of the present case falls within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Industrial Adjudicator and a writ petition would not lie.

9. I have heard Sri C. B. Gupta, learned counsel for the petitioner; Sri Ramendra Pratap Singh, learned counsel for the respondent authority whereas learned Standing counsel on behalf of the State authorities and have perused the materials on record.

10. The pleadings made in the writ petition have already been noticed above. Although it is asserted that petitioners have been working for the last about 20 years but the averments made in that regard are absolutely vague. There is no date of appointment disclosed for any of the petitioner. It is also not specified as to which of the petitioner is working against which post. The petitioners have not specified as to who is the contractor through whom they have been engaged for performing work in the authority. The pleadings made in the writ petition, particularly in para 15 and 25 of the writ petition, would clearly go to show that petitioners admit that their engagement is through a contractor for performing different works in the authority. Petitioners do not dispute that no letters of appointment are issued to them by the authority, nor any contract of employment exists between petitioner and the authority.

11. Petitioners' claim for regularization has been rejected after returning a specific finding that no employer-employee relationship exists between the petitioners and the authority and that no records are maintained in respect of engagement of persons through contractor.

12. Engagement of persons through contractor is regulated by the provisions of the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970 (hereinafter referred to as the Act of 1970). Engagement of worker through a contractor per se is not illegal under the Act of 1970. The Act merely regulates such engagement and it is only where the appropriate Government prohibits engagement of worker through contractor, by way of a notification issued under Section 10 of the Act of 1970, that such engagement would become impermissible in law.

13. Whether or not necessary safeguards contemplated in the Act of 1970 have been adhered to by the authority, while engaging persons through contractor, is also an aspect which would require leading of evidence. Petitioners contention that the contractor was merely a ploy employed by the authority to absolve itself of its responsibility in law also remains a matter of evidence to be led by the parties. It would be for the Industrial Adjudicator to ascertain, on the basis of evidence adduced before it, whether the engagement of workers through contractor is in accordance with the Act of 1970; that the provisions of the Act of 1970 have been complied with or that the engagement is sham or farce.

14. Question as to whether any contract of employment would come into existence, directly, between the principal employer and the contract worker can only be answered by the Industrial Adjudicator on the basis of evidence led by the parties before it. Whether such issues can be adjudicated directly in proceedings under Article 226 of the Constitution of India has been a subject matter of consideration in different cases before the Supreme Court. In some of the earlier decisions it was held that a writ petition would lie for such purposes (see:- Secretary, Haryana State Electricity Board v. Suresh, 1999 (3) SCC 601).

15. However, in R. K. Panda and Ors. v. Steel Authority of India and Ors., 1994 (5) SCC 304, the Apex Court held that the question whether the contract employees have become the employees of principal employer and the contractor is merely a camouflage are questions of fact which cannot be decided in writ jurisdiction. Paragraph 7 of the aforesaid judgment is reproduced hereinafter:-

"7. It is true that with the passage of time and purely with a view to safeguard the interests of workers, many principal employers while renewing the contracts have been insisting that the contractor or the new contractor retains the old employees. In fact such a condition is incorporated in the contract itself. However, such a clause in the contract which is benevolently inserted in the contract to protect the continuance of the source of livelihood of the contract labour cannot by itself-give rise to a right to regularisation in the employment of the principal employer. Whether the contract labourers have become the employees of the principal employer in course of time and whether the engagement and employment of labourers through a contractor is a mere camouflage and a smoke screen, as has been urged in this case, is a question of fact and has to be established by the contract labours on the basis of the requisite material. It is not possible for the High Court or this Court, while exercising writ jurisdiction or jurisdiction under Article 136 to decide such questions, only on the basis of the affidavits. It need not be pointed out that in all such cases, the labourers are initially employed and engaged by the contractors. As such at what point of time a direct link is established between the contract labourers and the principal employer eliminating the contractor from the scene, is a matter which has to be established on material produced before the Court. Normally, the labour court and Industrial Tribunal, under the Industrial Dispute Act are the competent for a and to adjudicate such dispute on the basis of the oral and documentary evidence produced before them."

16. The issue ultimately came up for consideration before a Constitution Bench judgment of the Apex Court in Steel Authority of India Ltd. and others v. National Union Waterfront Workers and others (supra). The entire law relating to right of contract employees, in the light of the provisions of the Act of 1970, including claim of absorption in the employment of principal employer has been examined. It has been held that the Legislature never intended absorption of contract employees upon issuance of abolition notification under Section 10(1) of the 1970 Act. The Apex Court further held that neither Section 10 nor any other provision in the Act provide for automatic absorption of contract employees in the employment of principal employer. It has further been held that the provisions of the Act of 1970 neither contemplate creation of direct relationship of master and servant between the principal employer and the contract employees nor can such relationship be implied from the provisions of the Act. It would be worth noticing paragraphs 105, 120, 125 (3) and 126 of the Constitution Bench Judgment in Steel Authority of India (supra), which are reproduced hereinafter:-

"105. The principle that a beneficial legislation needs to be construed liberally in favour of the class for whose benefit it is intended, does not extend to reading in the provisions of the Act what the Legislature has not provided whether expressly or by necessary implication, or substituting remedy or benefits for that provided by the Legislature. We have already noticed above the intendment of the C.L.R.A. Act that it regulates the conditions of service of the contract labour and authorises in Section 10(1) prohibition of contract labour system by the appropriate Government on consideration of factors enumerated in Sub-section (2) of Section 10 of the Act among other relevant factors. But, the presence of some or all those factors, in our view, provides no ground for absorption of contract labour on issuing notification under Sub-section (1) of Section 10. Admittedly, when the concept of automatic absorption of contract labour as a consequence of issuing notification under Section 10(1) by the appropriate Government, is not alluded to either in Section 10 or at any other place in the Act and the consequence of violation of Sections 7 and 12 of the C.L.R.A. Act is explicitly provided in Sections 23 and 25 of the C.L.R.A. Act, it is not for the High Courts or this Court to read in some unspecified remedy in Section 10 or substitute for penal consequences specified in Sections 23 and 25 a different sequel, be it absorption of contract labour in the establishment of principal employer or a lessor or a harsher punishment. Such an interpretation of the provisions of the statute will be far beyond the principle of ironing out the creases and the scope of interpretative legislation and as such, clearly impermissible. We have already held above, on consideration of various aspects, that it is difficult to accept that Parliament intended absorption of contract labour on issue of abolition notification under Section 10(1) of the C.L.R.A. Act."

"120. We have also perused all the Rules and forms prescribed thereunder. It is clear that at various stages there is involvement of the principal employer. On an exhaustive consideration of the provisions of the C.L.R.A. Act we have held above that neither they contemplate creation of direct relationship of master and servant between the principal employer and the contract labour nor can such relationship be implied from the provisions of the Act on issuing notification under Section 10(1) of the C.L.R.A. Act, a fortiori much less can such a relationship be found to exit from the rules and the forms made thereunder."

"125 (3). Neither Section 10 of the C.L.R.A. Act nor any other provision in the Act, whether expressly or by necessary implication, provides for automatic absorption of contract labour on issuing a notification by the appropriate Government under Sub-section (1) of Section 10, prohibiting employment of contract labour, in any process, operation or other work in any establishment. Consequently the principal employer cannot be required to order absorption of the contract labour working in the establishment concerned.

126. We have used the expression "industrial adjudicator as determination of the questions aforementioned requires enquiry into disputed questions of facts which cannot conveniently be made by High Courts in exercise of Jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution. Therefore, in such cases the appropriate authority to go into those issues will be the Industrial Tribunal/ Court whose determination will be amenable to juridical review."

17. The above judgment of the Constitution Bench clearly lays down that even where prohibition notification has been issued under Section 10 of the Act, 1976, there is no right of absorption of the contract labours and further enquiry into question of fact cannot be made in exercise of jurisdiction under Article 226 of Constitution of India and the appropriate forum to go into these issues is the Industrial Adjudicator.

18. The Constitution Bench judgment in Steel Authority of India (supra) has specifically overruled the earlier judgment of the Apex Court in Air India Statutory Corporation v. United Labour Union and Ors. (supra) which had taken a view similar to what is held in Secretary, Haryana State Electricity Board v. Suresh and Ors. (supra). As a matter of fact the Apex Court in Secretary, Haryana State Electricity Board vs. Suresh and others (supra) had followed the view taken in the Air India Statutory Corporation case which stood specifically overruled in Steel Authority of India Ltd. (supra).

19. The remedy for petitioners, in light of the law settled by the Supreme Court in Steel Authority of India (supra) would be to approach the Industrial Adjudicator, where all issues of facts can be examined by the competent forum with reference to the applicable provisions of law. The powers of Industrial Adjudicator are otherwise extremely wide by virtue of Section 11-A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

20. Coming to the Division Bench judgment of this Court in Special Appeal No. 790 of 2018, it transpires that facts had been adverted to by this Court in Special Appeal and the plea of alternative remedy came to be rejected. The respondents plea based upon a later judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Balwant Rai Saluja v. Air India Ltd., (2014) 9 SCC 407 was also rejected.

21. The judgment of the Apex Court in Balwant Rai Saluja (supra) was delivered by the Apex Court in a matter relating to canteen employees upon whom the provisions of Section 46 of the Factories Act were applicable. Provisions of the Factories Act required the management to set up a canteen. The Apex Court distinguished the previous judgment in the case of Steel Authority of India (supra) as the employees of statutory canteen were distinctly placed in the statutory scheme. This judgment apparently would have no applicability in the facts of the present case since petitioners are not the employees of statutory canteen. The Constitution Bench Judgment in Steel Authority of India (supra), however, was not placed before the Division Bench in special appeal no. 790 of 2018. In light of what has been observed above, as also the lack of specific pleading on the part of the petitioners with regard to the nature of their engagement and continuance etc., I am not inclined to entertain petitioners grievance directly in this writ petition by passing the law laid down by Constitution Bench in the case of Steel Authority of India Ltd. (supra).

22. In the aforesaid factual backdrop, this Court is of the considered opinion that petitioners' be relegated to the remedy of approaching Industrial Adjudicator in light of the law laid down by the Apex Court in the case of Steel Authority of India Ltd. (supra). However, in the facts of the present case it would be appropriate to direct the State Government to forthwith refer petitioners' claim to the appropriate Industrial Adjudicator for proceedings to be concluded at the earliest.

23. Writ petition, accordingly, fails and is dismissed. It is, however, provided that in case petitioners approach the appropriate authority of the State, their claim shall be referred to the appropriate Industrial Adjudicator, forthwith. The concerned Industrial Adjudicator shall make all endeavours to conclude the proceedings, at the earliest possible, without granting unnecessary adjournment except on payment of costs, by fixing early dates. In the facts of the case parties shall bear their own costs.

1. Marimuthu (K.P.) (deceased) (by legal representatives) and others vs. Superintendent of Police, Dharmapuri and others, (1985) 2 LNN 762

(Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. This writ petition is directed against an order dated 16.08.2019 passed by respondent no.2, the Commissioner, Basti Division, Basti declining to entertain an appeal against the order dated 09.07.2015 passed by respondent no.3, the District Magistrate, Basti, whereby the petitioner's husband who was employed as a Copyist in Tehsil Bhanpur, District Basti, was dismissed from service.

2. The order dated 09.07.2015 was challenged before this Court by the petitioner's husband, Akhilesh Kumar Mishra, vide Writ - A No.53587 of 2017. The said writ petition was dismissed on the ground that an alternative remedy of appeal under Rule 11 of the Uttar Pradesh Government Servants (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 was available. The aforesaid order was passed in the writ petition on 16.11.2017. The petitioner's husband passed away on 02.12.2017 as he was suffering from cancer. The petitioner preferred an Appeal under Rule 11 of the Uttar Pradesh Government Servants (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 on 07.02.2018 raising various grounds of fact and law, and asking the order of dismissal passed against her husband to be set aside in her right of an heir and legal representative of the deceased employee, Akhilesh Kumar Mishra. The said Appeal has been dismissed by means of the impugned order dated 16.08.2019 on ground that the said Appeal is not maintainable under Rule 11(2) of the Uttar Pradesh Government Servants (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 as the Appeal has been preferred by the deceased employee's wife.

3. On 15.12.2019, the following order was passed:

"Sri Dinesh Singh, learned Standing Counsel appears on behalf of all the respondents and is granted a week's time to seek instructions specifically showing cause as to how the Commissioner, Basti Division Basti, has held an appeal filed by a deceased employee's wife against his dismissal from service as not maintainable.

Lay as fresh again on 12.12.2019."

4. Dr. Amar Nath Singh, learned Standing Counsel along with Sri Sharad Chandra Upadhyay, learned State Law Officer on behalf of the State has produced written instructions that they have received. The instructions are signed by Anil Kumar Sagar, Commissioner, Basti Division, Basti. He has done little more than to paraphrase the provisions of Rule 11(2) of the Uttar Pradesh Government Servants (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999, and on that basis has put forward a case that the said sub-Rule envisages an Appeal under the Rules being available to the Government servant concerned, and not to a member of his family.

5. Rule 11 of the Uttar Pradesh Government Servants (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 are quoted in extenso:

"Appeal- (1) Except the orders passed under these rules by the Governor, the Government servant shall be entitled to appeal to the next higher authority from an order passed by the Disciplinary Authority.

(2) The appeal shall be addressed and submitted to the appellate authority. A Government servant preferring an appeal shall do so in his own name. The appeal shall contain all material statements and arguments relied upon by the appellant.

(3) The appeal shall not contain any intemperate language. Any appeal, which contains such language may be liable to be summarily dismissed.

(4) The appeal shall be preferred within 90 days from the date of communication of impugned order. An appeal preferred after the said period shall be dismissed summarily."

6. Sub-Rule (2) of Rule 11 is a provision that regulates the exercise of the right of Appeal by a Government servant aggrieved by an order made by the Disciplinary Authority against him. It prescribes the procedure and the manner of exercise of that right. Sub-Rule (1) of Rule 11 by contrast envisages that every order passed by a Disciplinary Authority shall be appealable by a Government servant, except an order passed by the Governor. The right to Appeal provided from an order of the Disciplinary Authority to a Government servant flows from sub-Rule (1) of Rule 11, whereas sub-Rules (2), (3) and (4) detail the procedure for exercise of that right. Rule 11 envisages a situation where a Government servant, who is alive and about, is aggrieved by an order of the Disciplinary Authority, and it is in that situation that the Government servant alone has been given the right to prefer an Appeal from the order of the Disciplinary Authority. Sub-Rule (2) of Rule 11, where it says that a Government servant preferring an Appeal shall do so in his own name, to borrow the phraseology of the statute, is designed to eschew those situations where on behalf of a Government servant, members of the family come forward, and carry Appeals from orders of the Disciplinary Authority. Rule 11(2), however, does not envisage or intend that the right to Appeal from an order of the Disciplinary Authority should be lost to his heirs and legal representatives, where they would be beneficiaries, in case the order passed by the Disciplinary Authority were to be set aside in Appeal, in an eventuality where the Government servant is no more. An appeal by the heirs of the deceased government servant from an order of the Disciplinary Authority, is an appeal in the same right as that of the government servants that survives to his heirs. It is very different from the exercise of a right to appeal by proxy on behalf of the government servant while he is alive and around. It is in the latter kind of case that sub-rule (2) of Rule 11 debars anyone but the government servant concerned from appealing a decision of the Disciplinary Authority; the prohibition there bears no reference to the former contingency.

7. Though, in the context of a petition under Article 226 vis-a-vis rights of the heirs of a deceased government servant who had challenged his dismissal from service but died pendente lite, to prosecute a writ petition against the order of dismissal from service, albeit for the relief of all monetary benefits that the deceased government servant would be entitled to, except reinstatement, it was held by a Division Bench of the Madras High Court in Marimuthu (K.P.) (deceased) (by legal representatives) and others vs. Superintendent of Police, Dharmapuri and others, (1985) 2 LNN 762:

"15. It is undoubtedly true that if a relief of reinstatement is to be asked, such a relief will be personal to the Government servant concerned and if a Government servant dies, the personal action in respect of this personal relief will also abate. The maxim actio personalis moritur cum persona is, however, as pointed by the Supreme Court in Girijanandini v.Bijendra Narain, [A.I.R. 1967 S.C. 1124], of a very limited application. In Para. 14 of the judgment, the Supreme Court observed as follows:

"... The maxim actio personalis moritur cum persona a personal action dies with the person, has a limited application. It operates in a limited class of action, ex delicto such as actions for damages, for defamation, assault or other personal injuries not causing the death of the party, and in other actions where after the death of the party the relief granted could not be enjoyed or granting it would be nugatory".

The maxim, therefore, applies among other cases to a case where after the death of the party the relief granted could not be enjoyed or granting it would be nugatory. A relief of reinstatement undoubtedly cannot be granted after the death of a Government servant because if it is granted, it would be nugatory because the person who is reinstated in service is no more alive. Therefore, while it could be said that the doctrine that a personal action dies with the person is true in the case of relief of reinstatement, in the case of other reliefs such as salary that would have been earned and the benefits which would have accrued if the order of dismissal would not have been made, they cannot be said to abate on the ground that these are personal actions. It would also not be correct to characterise the relief of arrears of salary and the relief which the dependants of the deceased Government servant could claim under the Pension Rules as consequential reliefs. The relief of arrears of salary is a substantive relief in view of the fact that it is not necessary to ask for an order of reinstatement. We are not, therefore, inclined to take the view that a writ petition filed by a Government servant for setting aside his dismissal cannot be prosecuted by his legal representative in view of the benefits which the legal representatives would be entitled to have as a result of the setting aside of the order of dismissal. We are supported in the view which we have taken by the decisions of the Gujarat, Punjab and Haryana and the Kerala High Court referred to above, on which the learned counsel for the appellants has relied. We will shortly refer to those decisions. Before that, we may refer to the decision of the Supreme Court in State of Uttar Pradesh v. Mohammed Sharif, [1982 - II L.L.N. 408](vide supra), relied upon by the appellants. This short decision shows that a dismissed Government servant had filed a suit challenging his dismissal on the ground that the said order was illegal and void. The suit was dismissed. This decree was reversed by the appellate Court. The State appealed against the decree of the first appellate Court, but the appeal was dismissed. The State Government then filled an appeal to the Supreme Court. While upholding the judgment of the first appellate Court and the High Court that the plaintiff was denied reasonable opportunity to defend himself at the disciplinary enquiry, some observations were made to the effect that the plaintiff had died during the pendency of the proceedings. It is not very clear as to at what stage the plaintiff had died. The only observations made and which are relied upon by the learned counsel for the appellants before us are as follows in Para. 3, at page 409 of 1982-II L.L.N.:

"...Since the plaintiff has died during the pendency of the proceedings the only relief that would be available to the legal heirs of the deceased is the payment of arrears of salary and other emoluments payable to the deceased".

This decision does not seem to be of much assistance to us.

16. In Ibrahimbhai v. State, [A.I.R. 1968 Guj. 202], a Division Bench of the Gujarat High Court has taken the view that the legal representatives of a petitioner who had filed a petition under Art. 226 for a declaration that the order of reversion of the petitioner was null and void were entitled to prosecute the petition because if the reversion was held void, the petitioner would have been entitled to a salary on an enhanced scale. The Division Bench took the view that the order of reversion had resulted in pecuniary loss to the original petitioner and after his death, the present petitioners were entitled to the estate of the deceased and hence the right of the present petitioners was also effected and they were, therefore, aggrieved parties. This decision of the Gujarat High Court, was followed by the Punjab and Haryana High Court in Manmohan Anand v. State of Punjab, [1972 S.L.R. 852]. The original petitioner before that Court had filed a petition under Art. 226 of the Constitution challenging an order, dated 6 June, 1970, by which the Governor of Punjab had removed the petitioner from the Office of the Chairman and non-official Member of the Punjab Khadi and Village Industries Board. The petitioner died on 30 October, 1970, leaving behind his widow, married daughters and a son. The question was whether the legal representatives were entitled to continue the proceedings. On behalf of the State Government, reliance was placed on the decision of this Court in Vridhachalam case, [A.I.R. 1966 Mad. 260] (vide supra). The Division Bench dissented from the view taken in*Vridhachalam case* (vide supra), and observed as follows:

"... If the Government passes an unconstitutional or a wrong or a void order, which is sought to be declared null and void by the Court, it is no legal right of the Government to say that the order should not be annulled merely because in the changed circumstances the Government would not be able to pass a fresh order in accordance with law. In case of an annulment of an order of removal or dismissal from service, the fresh order cannot possibly be passed retrospectively but can take effect only from the date on which such on order is passed. If the delinquent official is dead before the annulment of the previous order, there is nobody in existence against whom a fresh order can be passed. Moreover any difficulty of the defendant or the respondent which is of his own creation cannot in my opinion take away the legal rights of heirs of a deceased to claim emoluments to which the deceased would have been entitled if the order of his removal or dismissal from service were found to be illegal".

It was conceded before the Division Bench that the legal representatives of the original petitioner can institute a suit claiming emoluments to which the original petitioner would have been entitled for the period commencing from 6 June, 1970, the date of his purported removal, to the date of his death. After referring to this concession, the Division Bench further observed as follows:

"... Once this is granted it goes without saying that no such claim can be decreed unless it is first held that the purported order of removal of the original petitioner from the membership and the chairmanship was illegal and ineffective. This is the basic relief without obtaining which no claim of the legal representatives for salary or emoluments can succeed. It is that basic relief which is being claimed in the present petition. To that extent, therefore, the right to sue survives to the legal representatives. If the original petitioner had claimed declaration to the effect that he continues in service or had asked for a mandamus for being issued to the respondents, I would have held that right to claim such relief was personal to the deceased and died with him and that the right to sue in respect of those reliefs did not survive to the legal representatives..."

The Division Bench of the Punjab and Haryana High Court, therefore, took the view that the legal representatives of a deceased Government servant were entitled to prosecute a petition challenging the validity of the dismissal order."

8. If a Government servant dies post the order passed by the Disciplinary Authority, it is certainly open to his heirs and legal representatives to whose benefit the consequences of that order being set aside by the Appellate Authority would go, to move an Appeal and question the order passed by the Disciplinary Authority. To place the kind of restricted construction that the Commissioner has done on the provisions of sub-Rule (2) of Rule 11 would work to defeat the very purpose for which a departmental appeal has been provided from orders of the Disciplinary Authority. It also does not appear to be the intendment of Rule 11 that for the same relief the Government servant, if alive would have the remedy of an Appeal to the Departmental Appellate Authority, but his heirs who are entitled in law to question the validity of the order passed by the Disciplinary Authority, would be required to do so by invoking the extraordinary jurisdiction of this Court, or resort to some other judicial remedy. This construction if placed on the provisions of Rule 11(2) of the Uttar Pradesh Government Servants (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999, would expose it to the peril of being arbitrary and discriminatory and in violation of Article 14 of the Constitution. It is a well settled cannon of statutory construction that if a statute is capable of being interpreted in two ways, the one that exposes it to the vice of unconstitutionality should be eschewed. The statute (including statutory Rules) ought to construed in a manner that renders it constitutionally valid; unless that construction is impossible on the terms of it.

9. This Court does not find that Rule 11(2) is incapable of that construction where the wife of a deceased Government servant, who is entitled to claim the benefits that would flow in case the order passed against him by the Disciplinary Authority were set aside, is contemplated to be excluded from exercising the right of Appeal.

10. In this view of the matter, this writ petition succeeds and is allowed. The impugned order 16.08.2019 passed by respondent no.2, the Commissioner, Basti Division, Basti is hereby quashed. The Commissioner, Basti Division, Basti is ordered to decide the petitioner's Appeal, dated 07.02.2018 afresh in accordance with law on merits within a period of six weeks from the date of receipt of a certified copy of this judgment.

11. There shall be no order as to costs.

2. Brijendra Kumar Tripathi & ors V. State of U.P. & ors 2019 (4) ADJ 690 (LB) (followed)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Piyush Agrawal, J.)

1. This writ petition has been filed, inter alia, for the following reliefs:-

"(i) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding and directing the respondent no. 4to refund the illegally deducted amount of Rs. 3,74,745/- from G.P.F. of the petitioner with interest."

2. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner, learned standing counsel for the State - respondents and Shri Anoop Kumar, holding brief of Shri Arun Kumar, learned counsel for the respondent nos. 4, 5 & 6.

3. The brief facts of the case are that the petitioner was appointed as Assistant Teacher in Ramrati Devi Kanya Junior High School, Maniram Maharajganj, Gorakhpu (hereinafter referred to as, "the Institution') vide appointment letter dated 16.10.1991. The Institution was recognized in the year 1988 and came into the grant-in-aid list in the year 2006. It is averred that the petitioner continued on the post of Assistant Teacher. After the coming into the grant-in-aid list, as per the rules & regulations, the GPF as well as other fund were continuously deducted from the salary of the petitioner and the petitioner worked for 6 to 7 years pursuant to coming into the Institution under the grant-in-aid list. The petitioner superannuated on 30.06.2013 from the post of Assistant Teacher.

4. It is further averred that after the petitioner's retirement, when she was not getting the retiral benefits, approached the authority concerned, but in vain. It is further averred that on 03.12.2013, on the Tehsil Diwas, the petitioner personally apprised the concerned Officer about her grievances, but in spite of the direction for granting retiral benefits, no action has been taken by the authority concerned for redressal of the petitioner's grievance. When no heed was paid to the grievance of the petitioner, she approached the Lokayukt, Uttar Pradesh on 18.02.2014 against the arbitrary and prejudicial action of the respondents. On the notice of the Lokayukt, the respondent nos. 4, 5 & 6, vide letter dated 21.04.2014, stated that a report was called from the Finance & Account Officer, in which it came to the notice that the salary of the petitioner was being paid more than the exact salary by wrong calculation and therefore, after her retirement, the recovery was to be made from her GPF amount, which was above Rs. 4,00,000/-. It is further averred that out of Rs. 4,12,414/-, a sum of Rs. 3,74,745/- has been deducted from the petitioner's GPF account and only Rs. 44,769/- was paid to the petitioner. It is further averred that the said amount had been withdrawn/adjusted without the consent of the petitioner. Hence, the present writ petition seeking refund of illegal deduction of Rs. 3,74,745/- from the GPF account of the petitioner, along with interest.

5. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the petitioner, who was appointed in the year 1988 on the post of Assistant Teacher in the Institution, had been working as Assistant Teacher even after the Institution came under the grant-in-aid list in the year 2006 on the same post. He further submits that it is not the case of the respondents that the alleged excess payment has been made to the petitioner by misrepresenting or playing fraud for getting the salary on the post of Assistant Teacher for which she was not entitled for. It is further submitted that re-fixation of salary has been done without providing any opportunity of being heard to the petitioner. Learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon the judgement of the Apex Court in State of Punjab and others Vs. Rafiq Masih (White Washer) and others reported in (2015) 4 SCC 332. He prays that a direction may be issued to the respondents for refund of Rs. 3,74,745/-, along with interest, which was illegally deducted from the GPF account of the petitioner.

6. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondents submits that before taking action against the petitioner, notices were issued, but the petitioner chose not to reply the said notices. Therefore, the deduction has rightly been made as the amount has wrongly been paid to the petitioner, for which she was not entitled to and under such circumstances, re-fixation was done and order was passed for deducting the amount from the petitioner's GPF account. Learned counsel for the respondents tries to justify the action of the respondents.

7. The Court has considered the rival submissions of the learned counsel for the parties and has perused the record.

8. The record reveals that the petitioner was appointed as an Assistant Teacher in the Institution in the year 1988 and worked till the date of her superannuation, i.e., 30.06.2013, on the said post. During the said period, the salary of the petitioner has been paid without any break. The record further reveals that the salary of the petitioner was being paid as per the Rules & regulations applicable at that time. The petitioner is entitled for the retiral benefit after the date of superannuation. It is also not the case of the respondents that the petitioner has misrepresented or played fraud for getting the pay scale, for which she was not entitled to. The record further reveals that the notices alleged to have been issued by the Institution under the signature of the Principal of the Institution without there being any reference of any letter of respondent nos. 4 & 6, i.e., District Basic Education Officer, Gorakhpur and Finance & Account Officer, Basic Education, Gorakhpur. Letters have also been handwritten and without there being any number on it. The averment in the counter affidavit for issuance of notice to the petitioner has specifically been denied in the rejoinder affidavit in paragraph no. 4 thereof by the petitioner and specifically stated that no such show cause notice was ever received to the petitioner. The record further reveals that with regard to the alleged notice, which has stated to have been sent, no material has been brought on record to show that any such notice was issued by the respondent nos. 4 to 6 and how the same was dispatched and when received. In absence of such material on record, it cannot be presumed that the notice was given to the petitioner before making deduction of Rs. 3,74,745/- from GFP account of the petitioner.

9. The Apex Court in State of Punjab and others Vs. Rafiq Masih (White Washer) and others reported in (2015) 4 SCC 332, has held that recovery from the employee would be impermissible in law after his retirement, while payments have been made mistakenly by an employer. Para 12 of the aforesaid judgment reads as under:

"12. It is not possible to postulate all situations of hardship, which would govern employees on the issue of recovery, where payments have mistakenly been made by the employer, in excess of their entitlement. Be that as it may, based on the decisions referred to herein above, we may, as a ready reference, summarise the following few situations, wherein recoveries by the employers, would be impermissible in law:

(i) Recovery from employees belonging to Class-III and Class-IV service (or Group 'C' and Group 'D' service).

(ii) Recovery from retired employees, or employees who are due to retire within one year, of the order of recovery.

(iii) Recovery from employees, when the excess payment has been made for a period in excess of five years, before the order of recovery is issued.

(iv) Recovery in cases where an employee has wrongfully been required to discharge duties of a higher post, and has been paid accordingly, even though he should have rightfully been required to work against an inferior post.

(v) In any other case, where the Court arrives at the conclusion, that recovery if made from the employee, would be iniquitous or harsh or arbitrary to such an extent, as would far outweigh the equitable balance of the employer's right to recover."

10. Recently, this Court in the case of Brijendra Kumar Tripathi & Others Vs. State of U.P. & Others reported in 2019 (4) ADJ 690 (LB) has held as under:-

".....that the opposite parties have not provided the opportunity of hearing to the petitioners to place their case/defence in support of their fixation of pay by the erstwhile Rural Development Department and being so as well as keeping in view the facts of the case in hand that the pecuniary benefits earlier provided to the petitioners have been affected and serious pre-judice has been caused to the petitioners by the orders dated 11.05.2016, 13.06.2017 and 17.10.2017 as well as consequential orders of recovery of excess amount paid to the petitioners and the principle that an order which involves civil consequence must be passed after following principles of natural justice and after affording opportunity of hearing, this Court feels that orders dated 11.05.2016, 13.06.2016 and 17.10.2017 are unsustainable being violative to Article 14 of the Constitution of India as have been passed without providing opportunity of hearing to the petitioners and are against the principle of natural justice and fair play and as such, liable to be interfered by this Court."

11. From the perusal of the aforesaid judgements, the position of law, which emerges, is that no recovery can be made from a retired employee without providing him/her an opportunity of hearing. Further, it is also impermissible in law to recover the amount of excess payment made for a period in excess of five years before the order of recovery is issued.

12. In the case in hand, after the Institution has come under the grant-in-aid list in the year 2006, the petitioner continued in service for more than six years on the same post. After the Institution, in which the petitioner was working, came under the grant-in-aid list, the GPR as well as other funds of the petitioner were continuously deducted from her salary as per the Rules and regulations, which means that there was no dispute with regard to fixation of salary and payment made thereof to the petitioner.

13. In view of the aforesaid factual and legal position, no recovery can legally be made from the petitioner after her retirement on 30.06.2013. The amount, which has been recovered by way of deducting from the petitioner's GPF account, is liable to be refunded, along with interest, to the petitioner.

14. In the result, the writ petition succeeds and is allowed. The District Basic Education Officer, Gorakhpur is directed to refund the deducted amount from the petitioner's GPF, along with 6% per annum interest, within a period of one month from the date of production of a certified copy of this order.

15. The respondents are free to recover the amount of interest paid to the petitioner from the erring Officer(s) in accordance with law.

A. Exchange of land - Section 161 & 132 - U.P. Zamindari Abolition & Land Revenue Act, 1950 - conjoint reading of both the Sections manifests that the exchange may be sought in respect of land generally vesting in Gaon Sabha by virtue of Section 117, but it cannot be applicabile to those categories of land which are covered and fall within the ambit of Section 132

Section 161 is not envisaged to be a tool or measure to camouflage, overcome, legalise or legitimise an illegality. It is not meant to be a used as an instrument or device to regularise or validate an illegality. It cannot possibly be viewed as a provision enabling a usurper or encroacher of public utility land to attempt to legalise wrongful possession. As this Court reads that provision, it primarily appears to put in place a mechanism to interchange land inter parties. It is principally a reciprocal arrangement. It clearly does not and cannot in law be countenanced in law as being a provision aimed at curing an illegality or according ipso facto approval to an illegal act of usurpation or encroachment. It is not entitled to be viewed as either endorsing or legitimizing an illegality. Section 161 is essentially aimed at enabling a party to switch, barter or exchange land to the mutual benefit of both parties. A party cannot first encroach, trespass or intrude and then claim a right to exchange. It is clearly not a provision aimed at legalizing an encroachment. A person who has encroached or trespassed upon land cannot subsequently turn around and seek condonation of that act or infraction by seeking an exchange. A person seeking an exchange must be one who is in lawful possession of land which is offered in exchange. Viewed in any other light, the provision may be abused as a devise to accord legitimacy upon an act which is illegal and unlawful. The institution which appears to have encroached upon public utility land cannot take shelter of an application purported to have been made under Section 161 of the 1950 Act. (para 9)

2. Baba Sukku Maa Prabhudevi Inter College V. State of U.P. 2019 SCC Online 4522

(Delivered by Hon'ble Yashwant Varma, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned Standing Counsel for the State respondents.

2. This petition has been preferred challenging the order dated 27 March 2012 passed by the Basic Education Officer, Kaushambi rejecting the claim of the petitioner for grant of salary and other emoluments.

3. The petitioner contends that he was duly selected and appointed on the post of Clerk in the concerned institution on 10 August 1983. That institution is stated to have been taken on the grant in aid list on 2 January 2006. It is the case set forth in the writ petition that the petitioner was being paid regular salary till it was stopped in March 2011. Aggrieved by that action the petitioner instituted Writ Petition No. 46619 of 2011 which was disposed of with a direction commanding the fourth respondent to decide the representation. It is pursuant to those orders that the impugned order has come to be passed.

4. The impugned order records serious transgressions on the part of the institution in question. It is firstly noted that the institution is non-existent on the plots that were mentioned in the details set forth in the application relying upon which the grant in aid order came to be passed. The order records that the institution has been partly constructed on Plot No. 347, which is recorded as land reserved for a public utility. It has been further noted that the institution has illegally encroached upon public utility land on which seven temporary sheds have been constructed from which the institution is being run and administered. It has further been found that in the grant in aid application it was asserted that the institution existed on Plot Nos. 329, 349 and 351 which too are recorded as "banjar". It is in that backdrop that the Basic Education Officer notes that the order for taking the institution on the grant in aid list was obtained by concealment of facts and by practicing fraud. He then proceeds to note that in the Management Returns that were filed it was stated that more than 225 students were studying in the institution. However, on the date of inspection it was found that only 13 students in Class -VI, 9 students in Class VII and 6 students in Class VIII, were present. More seriously the Basic Education Officer proceeds to note that various employees including the petitioner here were direct relations of the members of the Committee of Management. He also records that in light of the material, which was found in the enquiry and is referred to above, a proposal has been sent to the State Government for the removal of the institution from the grant in aid list. Presently, the learned counsel is unable to apprise the status of that proposal or whether the institution continues to enjoy the facility of grant in aid.

5. Insofar as the objections taken by the Basic Education Officer to the establishment of the institution on public utility land is concerned, learned counsel seeks to draw sustenance from an interim order passed by a learned Judge on Writ Petition No. 10497 of 2011 preferred by the Committee of Management in which an order of status quo operates. That petition basically deals with the request of the institution in question for an exchange being offered by the petitioner in light of the provisions contained in Section 161 of the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act, 1950. The petition also refers to the powers conferred under Section 198(4) of the 1950 Act and the request for exchange as made by the petitioner institution on 4 May 2010.

6. The Court however finds itself unable to countenance the submission addressed since it is not disputed before this Court that the power of exchange as extended by Section 161 of the 1950 Act can have no application to land which is reserved for public utility purpose. Regard must be had to the fact that Section 161 of the 1950 Act confers a power to sanction exchange of land as offered by a bhumidhar with land vesting in the Gaon Sabha by virtue of Section 117 of that Act. Section 161 reads thus:-

"161. Exchange.-- (1) A [bhumidhar] may exchange with--

(a) any other [bhumidhar] land held by him, or

(b) any [Gaon Sabha} or local authority lands for the time being vested in it under section 117:

Provided that no exchange shall be made except with the permission of an Assistant Collector who shall refuse permission if the difference between the rental value of land given in exchange and of land received in exchange calculated at hereditary rates is more than 10 per cent of the lower rental value.

(1A) Where the Assistant Collector permits exchange he shall also order the relevant annual registers to be corrected accordingly.

(2) On exchange made in accordance with sub-section (1) they shall have the same rights in the land so received in exchange as they had in the land given in exchange."

7. As is evident from a reading of the said provision, the exchange is subject to permission being accorded in that respect by the Assistant Collector. In terms of Section 161(2), once the exchange is duly permitted by the competent authority, it vests on the individual the same rights in the land exchanged as may have existed upon the land given in exchange. Consequently, once a bhumidhar exchanges his holding or part thereof with any land vesting in the Gaon Sabha he would be entitled to assert and exercise all rights as conferred upon a bhumidhar by the 1950 Act upon such land. However this provision can have no application to land which stands reserved for public purposes as enumerated in Section 132 of the 1950 Act. That provision in unambiguous terms provides that "bhumidhari rights shall not accrue in....". On a conjoint reading and harmonious construction of Sections 132 and 161 of the 1950 Act, it is manifest that while exchange may be sought in respect of land generally vesting in the Gaon Sabha by virtue of Section 117, that can have no application to those categories of land which are covered and fall within the ambit of Section 132. Dealing with an identical question, a learned Judge in Kamal Chand Singh Vs. State of U.P.1 and 3 others held:-

"8. In my considered opinion, the application for exchange of the area of plot no. 753 Ga, in unauthorized occupation of the petitioner with his bhumidhari land cannot be legally permitted. Plot no. 753 Ga, as already noticed herein above is land recorded as a pond. It is, therefore, land governed by the provisions of Section 132 of the U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act, wherein no rights can accrue in favour of any person. In case, this land is permitted to be exchanged, it would amount to granting bhumidhari rights to the petitioner in land covered by Section 132 of the Act. This is not permissible under law. The application for exchange filed by the petitioner, is therefore, entirely misconceived and necessarily has to be rejected."

8. Dealing with pari material provisions as introduced by virtue of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006, a learned Judge of the Court in Baba Sukku Maa Prabhudevi Inter College Vs. State of U.P.2 noticing the provisions made in the subsequent legislation has explained the legal position as follows: -

"25. This situation is further compounded by the fact that the land over which, the institution is running is public utility land, governed by the provisions of Section 132 of the U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act and/or the parallel provisions contained in Section 77 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006.

26. In so far as the application for exchange under Section 101 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 filed by the petitioner is concerned, the same has been dismissed vide order dated 23.05.2018 passed by the Sub Divisional Officer. Although, it is stated that a revision against this order is pending consideration before the Commissioner, Varanasi Division, Varanasi, this Court does not consider it appropriate to interfere with the impugned orders on the plea aforesaid because no rights can accrue in favour of any person over land which is land of public utility as is the situation in the case at hand. The embargo in this regard under the U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act was absolutely categorical. However, this embargo has been watered down to an extent by the proviso to Section 101(2) of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006.

27. In view of the proviso, the State Government can permit exchange also of land of public utility, but on the matter being referred to it by the Sub Divisional Officer. No reference has been made by the Sub Divisional Officer. The Sub Divisional Officer has, in fact, rejected the application for exchange. Therefore, the proviso aforementioned does not come into play in the case at hand.

28. Even otherwise, this Court has in earlier decision in Writ Petition No. 26070 of 2019 Amar Nath Singh v. State of U.P. decided on 20.08.2019 held that the proviso stipulates that the State Government may permit exchange of land of public utility on conditions and in the manner prescribed. However, the rules framed thereunder are absolutely silent with regard to the manner in which, the power is to be exercised by the State Government. The power provided to the State Government by the proviso aforesaid can be exercised only after relevant provisions have been incorporated in the rules and or the existing rules are suitably amended/modified."

9. On a more fundamental plane, the provisions made in Section 161 of the 1950 Act are principally aimed at respective parties arriving at a mutually acceptable position that is beneficial to both. It essentially enables the Gaon Sabha to effectively manage its land bank and use it to the optimal in public interest. At the same time it also facilitates the landowner or the bhumidhar to enter into a settlement which is beneficial to both parties. Notwithstanding the above, Section 161 is not envisaged to be a tool or measure to camouflage, overcome, legalise or legitimise an illegality. It is not meant to be a used as an instrument or device to regularise or validate an illegality. It cannot possibly be viewed as a provision enabling a usurper or encroacher of public utility land to attempt to legalise wrongful possession. As this Court reads that provision, it primarily appears to put in place a mechanism to interchange land inter partes. It is principally a reciprocal arrangement. It clearly does not and cannot in law be countenanced in law as being a provision aimed at curing an illegality or according ipso facto approval to an illegal act of usurpation or encroachment. It is not entitled to be viewed as either endorsing or legitimizing an illegality. Section 161 is essentially aimed at enabling a party to switch, barter or exchange land to the mutual benefit of both parties. A party cannot first encroach, trespass or intrude and then claim a right to exchange. It is clearly not a provision aimed at legalizing an encroachment. A person who has encroached or trespassed upon land cannot subsequently turn around and seek condonation of that act or infraction by seeking an exchange. A person seeking an exchange must be one who is in lawful possession of land which is offered in exchange. Viewed in any other light, the provision may be abused as a devise to accord legitimacy upon an act which is illegal and unlawful. The institution which appears to have encroached upon public utility land cannot take shelter of an application purported to have been made under Section 161 of the 1950 Act. In any case the pendency of a purported application for exchange cannot confer any benefit to the petitioner here.

10. Insofar as the relation of the petitioner with the members of the Committee of Management is concerned, the attention of the Court is drawn to a document appearing at page -41 which according to the learned counsel is a list of members of the Committee as existing in 1983-84. No authenticity stands appended to this document since it is not shown to have been issued either by the concerned educational authorities or the authorities constituted under the Societies Registration Act, 1860. The attention of the Court is also not drawn to any other material which may establish that the Committee of Management as duly recognized by the respondents in 1983-84 did not comprise of persons who may have been related to the petitioner. Viewed in that light it is manifest that the adverse findings as recorded in the impugned order relating to the validity of the appointment of the petitioner remain unaffected. On an overall consideration of the aforesaid aspects, the Court is of the considered view that the grant of the prayers as framed would not only be unjustified, it would clearly amount to perpetuation of an illegality and the placement of an illegal burden on public resources.

11. The petition shall consequently stand dismissed.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Neeraj Tiwari, J.)

1. Heard Sri Siddharth Khare, learned counsel for the petitioners and Sri Brajesh Pratap Singh, learned standing counsel for respondents.

2. Brief facts of the case are that Irrigation Department of State of U.P. has sent a requisition dated 20.10.1999 to Uttar Pradesh Public Service Commission (hereinafter referred to as the 'Commission') notifying 954 posts of Junior Engineer (Civil) to hold selection and in the notification dated 20.10.1999, it was clearly mentioned that posts are pensionable. After receiving requisition, Commission issued an advertisement No. A-3/E-1/2000 dated 22.12.2000 inviting application for Junior Engineer (Civil) Irrigation Department (Screening) Examination, 2000. Last date of submission form was 27.01.2001 and petitioners being fully eligible, have submitted the application. In the advertisment, it was provided that there would be preliminary screening test for selection of candidates to appear in the mains examination. However, subsequently aforesaid preliminary screening test was done away and all applicants permitted to appear straightway in the mains written examination which was held on 22.12.2001 and all the petitioners appeared in the said examination. Prior to the holding of written examination, Writ Petition No. 7062 (S/S) of 2001 (Pramod Kumar Gupta and others Vs. Public Service Commission, U.P. Allahabad and others) was filed by some candidates possessing Civil Engineering Degree and claiming permission to participate in the said examination. In the said petition, stay order was granted by learned Single Judge vide order dated 18.12.2001 restraining the holding of examination, which was scheduled for 22/23.12.2001. Against the interim order dated 18.12.2001, Commission preferred Special Appeal No. 485 (S/B) of 2001 (U.P. Public Service Commission Vs. State of U.P. and others), in which vide order dated 19.12.2001, interim order was modified and a direction was issued to permit the petitioners also to appear in the said examination whereas their results shall not be declared. There was no restrain order with regard to declaration of result of remaining candidates and there was only observation that declaration of result shall be only provisional subject to final decision of writ petition. Thereafter, written examination was held on 22/23.12.2001 but result of the said examination could not be declared immediately. Writ Petition No. 7062 (S/S) of 2001 was connected with Writ Petition No. 7012 (S/S) of 2001 (Anoop Ratan Awasthi Vs. Public Service Commission, Allahabad and others) and the said petitions were dismissed by learned Single Judge of this Court vide order dated 05.07.2005. After dismissal of writ petitions, result of written examination was declared on 05.10.2005 and petitioners were shown as having qualified and called for participating in interview. Interview was held between 21.11.2005 to 12.01.2006 and final select list of selected candidates was published in daily newspaper 'Dainik Jagran' on 12.03.2006 having the roll numbers of all the petitioners and they have been finally selected for appointment. Ultimately, vide office order dated 14.06.2006, appointment was granted to total 113 persons including petitioner Nos. 2 & 3 and another office order dated 20.07.2006 was issued granting appointment to total 125 persons including the name of petitioner No. 1. Pursuant to the appointment letters, all the petitioners submitted their joining on 25.07.2006, 30.06.2006 and 24.06.2006 respectively.

3. Learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that presently all petitioners are working at different places in the State of U.P.

4. It is further submitted that grievance of the petitioners is with regard to their exclusion from the benefit of pension payable under the provisions of Uttar Pradesh Retirement Benefits Rules, 1961 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Rules, 1961') and benefit of provident fund under the General Provident Fund (Uttar Pradesh) Rules, 1985. State Government issued Notification dated 28.03.2005 replacing the 'Old Pension Scheme' with 'New Pension Scheme' with effect from 01.04.2005. For implementation of notification dated 28.03.2005, State Government has amended Uttar Pradesh Retirement Benefits Rules, 1961 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Rules, 1961') by Uttar Pradesh Retirement Benefits (Amendment) Rules, 2005 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Rules, 2005'). Vide Notification dated 07.04.2005, in Rule 2 of Rules, 1961, Clause-3 has been inserted providing that Rules, 1961 shall not apply to employees entering in service on or after 01.04.2005.

5. Learned counsel for petitioners is assailing the Notifications dated 28.03.2005, 07.04.2005 as well as amended Rules, 2005 on the ground that same shall not be applicable in the case of petitioners. In the Notification dated 20.10.1999, it was clearly mentioned that posts are pensionable and advertisment was issued on 22.10.2000. There was certain litigations, due to which selection process could not be finalized and even after clearance given by the Division Bench of this Court vide order dated 19.12.2001. Commission, after holding the examination on 22/23.12.2001 has not declared result though there is no restrain imposed by the Division Bench of this Court rather it has been permitted to declare the result which shall be abide by the order of Court and shall be provisional. It is next submitted that after interim order dated 19.12.2001 passed by Division Bench of this Court, delay from December 2001 to December, 2005 in declaring the result is solely attributable to the respondents for which petitioners are not responsible. Subsequent to the advertisment in the matter of petitioners, post of Junior Engineer (Civil) was again notified by Irrigation Department and advertised by Commission through (Special Recruitment) Advertisement No. A-3/E-1/2002. Thereafter all selected candidates had been granted appointment prior to 01.04.2005 and such persons belonging to the subsequent selection are getting benefit of 'Old Pension Scheme'. It is further submitted that there is no rational justification for persons appointed on the basis of subsequent recruitment being permitted to avail benefits of earlier pension scheme whereas petitioners are denied for such benefits for their no fault. This action of respondents are violative of Article 14 of Consititution of India.

6. In support of his contention, learned counsel for the petitioners has placed reliance upon the judgments of High Court of Uttrakhand dated 17.06.2013 in the case of Ashutosh Joshi & others Vs. State of Uttrakhand and others in Writ Petition (S/S) No. 1170 of 2010, judgment dated 20.11.2012 passed in Writ Petition Nos. 16 and 944 of 2011 (S/S) (Balwant Singh and Ors. Vs. State of Uttarakhand and Ors.) and judgment dated 26.06.2014 passed in Special Appeal No. 330 of 2013 (State of Uttarakhand and others vs. Balwant Singh and others) with Special Appeal No. 523 of 2013 (State of Uttarakhand and others vs. Chandra Shekhar Singh and others) filed against the judgment dated 20.11.2012 and judgment dated 27.03.2017 of Delhi High Court in the matter of Inspector Rajendra Singh vs. Union of India reported in 2017 SCC Online Del 7879 . He has also placed reliance upon the judgment of Delhi High Court dated 13.09.2018 in Writ Petition(C) No. 838 & CM Appl. No. 3656/2016 (Government of National Capital Territory of Delhi & others Vs. Ajay Kumar & others) along with Writ Petition(C) No. 839/2016 & CM Appl. No. 3659/2016 (Government of National Capital Territory of Delhi & others vs. Vijay Singh and others) which was affirmed by the Apex Court passed in Special Leave to Appeal (C).....Diary No. 15658/2019 (Government of National Capital Territory of Delhi & ors. Etc. Vs.

Ajay Kumar & others etc.) vide order dated 10.07.2019.

7. Sri Brajesh Pratap Singh, learned standing counsel for respondents has not disputed the facts of the case as submitted by learned counsel for the petitioners, but so far as legal submission is concerned, he has submitted that once vide Notification dated 28.03.2005, Rules, 1961 is amended, petitioners are not entitled for benefit of 'Old Pension Scheme' and in support of his contention, he has placed reliance upon the judgment of this Court in the matter of Satyesh Kumar Mishra and others vs. State of U.P. and others, reported in 2016(6) ADJ 808 (LB).

8. In the rejoinder argument, learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that the said judgment of Satyesh Kumar Mishra (Supra) relied upon by learned standing counsel is under challenge in Special Appeal Defective No. 480 of 2016 (Satyesh Kumar Mishra & 4 others (Inre 3150 S/S 2010) vs. State of U.P. Thru. Prin.Secy., Education (Madhyamik) and 2 others), which is pending. He next submitted that very similar controversy based on similar facts was involved in the matter of Firangi Prasad Vs. State of U.P. and others reported in (2011) 2 UPLBEC 987 and in that case, after order of District Inspector of Schools dated 18.01.1993, appointment letters could not be issued by the Management of the Institution and in the mean time, U.P. Secondary Education Services Selection Board Act, 1982 was amended fixing the date of joining for regularization. As petitioner was not issued appointment letter by the Management within the time, therefore, he could not submit his joining before the cut off date and ultimately denied from the benefit of regularization. Division Bench of this Court has adjudicated the matter and clearly held that such candidates are also entitled for regularisation irrespective of cut off date fixed for regularisation from the date of appointment. The case of Firangi Prasad (Supra) was not considered by the Court while deciding the case of Satyesh Kumar Mishra (Supra), therefore, judgment of Satyesh Kumar Mishra (Supra) is per incuriam.

9. Learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that petitioners are not at fault, therefore, in the light of judgment of Firangi Prasad (Supra), petitioners cannot be put into disadvantage of any type due to amendment in the Rules and further this fact should also be considered that candidates appointed pursuant to the subsequent advertisement, have been given benefit of 'Old Pension Scheme' as they had been issued appointment letters prior to cut off date and submitted their joining. In the present case, there was no legal impediment in completion of selection process prior to cut off date but even though same has not been completed due to total inaction on the part of respondets resulting in denial of 'Old Pension Scheme' due to late joining, which could not be accepted in the light of judgment of Firangi Prasad (Supra) and petitioners are fully entitled for 'Old Pension Scheme'.

10. I have considered the rival submissions advanced by learned counsel for the parties and perused the record as well as judgments relied upon.

11. So far as facts of the case are concerned, there is no dispute between the parties, therefore, I am coming to the legal submission of learned counsel for parties as well as judgments relied upon by them.

12. Learned counsel for the petitioners placed reliance upon the judgment of Ashutosh Joshi (Supra). In that matter against same advertisement, appointments were made and female candidates were given appointment prior to the date from which 'New Pension Scheme' was implemented whereas the male candidates have been given appointment after the cut off date. The Court has considered the matter and ultimately allowed the writ petition. Relevant paragraph No. 6 of the judgment is quoted below.

"6. After hearing the rival submission of the petitioners and the State, this Court is of clear view that denial of pensionable benefits to the petitioners is wholly unjustified, arbitrary and violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India. It is so first and foremost for grounds that it has created a wholly unreasonable classification between women and men candidates. Whereas in the same selection process women candidates who were given appointment prior to 1.10.2005 have been given pensionary benefits, the men candidate i.e. the petitioners have not given pensionary benefits. This clearly cannot be accepted. Moreover, as fas as application of Rules is concerned, since the selection process of the petitioners had already begun, the Rules will not be effective in this selection process as any enforcement would give rise to anomalous situation which is clearly in violation of Article 14 of the Constitution of India. Secondly, in the advertisement the Government had clearly stated that all the posts are pensionable posts. The Government therefore cannot go back on its promise. There would be an estoppel against it. Finally the admitted classification between men and women candidates, in the same selection process, is not a reasonable classification. It has no nexus with the objects sought to be achieved. Hence it is Violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India."

13. Next judgment relied upon by learned counsel for the petitioners in the case of Balwant Singh and Ors. Vs. State of Uttarakhand and Ors. {Writ Petition Nos. 16 and 944 of 2011 (S/S)}. In this matter too, against the very same advertisement, there are two sets of selected candidates, one submitted their joining before cut of date, whereas petitioners have submitted their joining after cut of date i.e. 01.10.2005 and second sets of candidates were denied the benefit of 'Old Pension Scheme'. The Court has allowed the writ petition directing the respondents to accord the benefit of 'Old Pension Scheme' to the petitioners, also who have submitted their joining after the cut of date. Against the said order, Special Appeal No. 330 of 2013 along with Special Appeal No. 523 of 2013 was also filed by State of Uttarakhand which was dismissed by the Division Bench of Uttarakhand High Court vide common order dated 26.06.2014. Relevant part of the judgment is quoted below:-

" Undisputedly, when petitioners applied for the post, old pension scheme was in existence, therefore, petitioners had every reasonable expectation that they would be governed by the service conditions prevailing on the date posts were advertised and recruitment process was commenced. In our considered view, service conditions, prevailing on the date recruitment process commenced, cannot be permitted to be altered in disadvantage of the recruitees. Moreover, in our considered opinion, Government Order dated 25.10.2005 is prospective in nature and cannot be made applicable retrospectively for the persons who had applied for the post prior to 25.10.2005. Therefore, we do not find any reason to take contrary view to the view taken by the learned Single Judge.

Consequently, both the appeals fail and are hereby dismissed."

14. Learned counsel for the petitioners has also relied upon judgment of Delhi High Court in the matter of Inspector Rajendra Singh (Supra) in which Delhi High Court held that selection was started for Para Military Forces, petitioners along with other candidates participated in the said process and ultimately petitioners were rejected being declared medically unfit. After being declared medically unfit, the petitioners got themselves medically examined in other reputed medical institutions, where they were declared medically fit. The petitioners thereafter applied for medical re-examination by a Review Medical Board. In the mean time, while the appeals of the petitioners for medical re-examination in want of constitution of a Review Medical Board were pending, the Staff Selection Commission declared the results of all other candidates except the petitioners, and depending upon the option exercised by them and their merit position, the empanelled candidates were allocated different paramilitary forces, that is BSF, CISF, CRPF and ITBP. It is stated that candidates selected to the CRPF, CISF, and ITBP were issued letters of appointment on diverse dates and they all joined the respective forces on or before 31.12.2003 whereas the candidates selected for appointment as Sub Inspectors in the BSF were issued offers of appointment in October 2003 and asked to join the BSF in January 2004. On 22.12.2003, before the sub inspectors selected for appointment in the BSF were required to join, a new Contributory Pension Scheme was introduced with effect from January 2004. The Sub Inspectors selected to the BSF, who were directed to join in January, 2004, were deprived of the benefit of the Old Pension Scheme as existing under the Central Civil Services (Pension) Rules 1972. Delhi High Court, after considering the facts of the case and law, allowed the writ petition directing the respondent to treat the petitioners as members of 'Old Pension Scheme' under the Central Civil Services (Pension) Rules 1972. Relevant Paragraph Nos. 13, 14, 18, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 30, 31 and 40 are quoted below:-

"13. Having regard to the facts and circumstances of this case, where advertisements for recruitment to the posts of Sub Inspectors in CAPFs were issued in November, 2002, written examinations were held on 12.01.2003, Physical Efficiency Test had been held in or before April, 2003, and the petitioners appeared before the Medical Board between April, 2003, to June, 2003, and declared fit upon medical re-examination by Review Medical Board in December, 2003, it would be grossly unjust and arbitrary to deny the petitioners the benefit of the Old Pension Scheme, applicable at the time when the posts were advertised, only because of the fortuitous circumstance of their joining service after the enforcement of the New Pension Scheme, for reasons not attributable to them.

14. As observed above, the authorities concerned took six months' time to decide the appeal against the decision of the Medical Board, declaring the petitioners medically unfit. The petitioners were found fit by other Medical institutions of repute and ultimately found fit by a Review Medical Board constituted by the respondent authorities themselves on 28.12.2003. The respondent authorities unnecessarily delayed constitution of a Review Medical Board. Had the respondent authorities and in particular Staff Selection Commission acted with diligence, the petitioners could have been appointed within 31.12.2003.

18. In our view, basic terms and conditions of service, such as the right to receive pension upon superannuation, as applicable at the time of notification of the posts, cannot later be altered to the prejudice of the incumbents to the post, after commencement of the selection process.

20. In WP(C) No.3834/2013 (Parmanand Yadav and Others Vs. Union of India and others) the Division Bench held:-

"8. In the case of BSF, of which petitioners are enrolled members of the Force, letters offering appointment were delayed by three months, a fact admitted by the respondents, and as to be found in the DG BSF admitting said fact in the counter affidavit filed.

9. Thus, for parity of reasons, same relief as was granted to Naveen Kumar Jha and Avinash Singh must flow to the writ petitioners, and thus we adopt the reasoning in the two decisions, and hence we have reproduced the same hereinabove.

10. The petition is allowed issuing a mandamus to the respondents to treat the petitioners as a member of the pension scheme which was in vogue till December 31, 2003 and not to treat them as members of the new pension contributory fund scheme."

21. In Naveen Kumar Jha Vs. Union of India and Others decided on 02.11.2012, a Division Bench of this Court had held:-

3. The Staff Selection Commission invited applications to fill up posts of Sub-Inspector in Central Para Military Forces and titled the selection process as „SSC Combined Graduate Level 2000". The petitioner applied and took the examination. He cleared the written examination as also the Physical Efficiency Test.

4. Required to appear before a Medical Board for fitness to be ascertained, the petitioner was declared medically unfit as per medical examination conducted on February 04, 2002. Since the procedures of the law entitled the petitioner to seek a re-medical examination by being brought before a Review Medical Board and for which he had to file an appeal within 30 days of unfitness being intimated, on February 25, 2002 the petitioner submitted the necessary appeal. Unfortunately, for him he heard nothing from the respondents on the subject i.e. the date and the place where petitioner was required to be present to be re-examined by the Review Medical Board and in the meanwhile the candidature of others was processed. It was only on January 18, 2003 that the petitioner was intimated to be present before the Review Medical Board and the petitioner duly presented himself before the Board and upon examination was declared fit. By March 2003 others who were successful had joined the respective Para Military Force to which they were allocated to. The petitioner was called for interview on July 2003 and thereafter having cleared the interview was issued letter offering appointment as a Sub-Inspector in CRPF in April 2004. The petitioner thereafter successfully completed the induction training and was attached to the 72nd Bn.CRPF.

5. The problem which the petitioner has highlighted is of not only being placed junior to the entire batch which joined CRPF pursuant to the SSC Combined Graduate Level 2000 Examination but even junior to those who took the SSC Combined Graduate Level

2001 and SSC Combined Graduate Level Examinations held thereafter; the petitioner being placed at the top of the list of the 2004 year batch.

6. This has affected the petitioner adversely because Sub- Inspectors of his batch have earned promotions to the rank of Inspector and are being considered for further promotion to the post of Assistant Commandant.

7. Though the petitioner has earned promotion to the post of Inspector but even in said rank has lost out in seniority and right to be considered along with his batchmates for promotion to the post of Assistant Commandant.

8. Another injury suffered by the petitioner is the change in the policy of the Central Government to do away with old Pension Scheme which automatically made eligible all those who joined Central Government prior to December 31, 2003. The petitioner has been held entitled to the new Pension Scheme.

9. With respect to the Pension Scheme it assumes importance to note that petitioner's batchmates were issued letters offering appointment in March 2003 and had petitioner likewise been issued a letter offering appointment, he too would have been a member of the old Pension Scheme. As a result of petitioner being offered employment in April 2004, he has perforce been made a member of the new Pension Scheme.

10. On the subject of delay in conducting Review Medical Boards, in the decision dated May 26, 2011 deciding WP(C) No.5400/2010 Avinash Singh Vs. UOI, a Division Bench of this Court held, in para 17 to 20 as under:-

"17. It is settled law that if appointment is by selection, seniority of the entire batch has to be reckoned with respect to the merit position obtained in the selection and not on the fortuitous circumstance on the date on which a person is made to join.

18. We highlight in the instant case the fortuitous circumstance of the petitioners being made to join as Assistant Commandant on 08.08.2005 is not the result of anything created by the petitioners but is a result of a supine indifference and negligence on the part of the ITBP officials.

19. Thus, petitioners would be entitled to their seniority as Assistant Commandant with respect to their batch-mates in the context of the merit position in the select panel. We make it clear, the seniority as Assistant Commandant of the entire batch would be a reflection of the merit position in the select list and not the date of joining.

20. It is trite that where a thing is deemed to come into existence everything which logically flows therefrom has to be followed and the imagination cannot boggle down. In other words, the effect of the petitioners‟ seniority being reckoned with reference to the select panel would mean that the petitioners would come at par with their brethren who joined on 02.11.2004. Since their brethren were granted 1 year qualifying service relaxation, petitioners would be entitled to the same benefit and additionally for the reason the next below rule requires that if a person junior in the seniority position acquires the necessary qualifying service, the person above has also to be considered for promotion."

11. On facts it needs to be noted that the seven petitioners of WP(C) No.5400/2010 had lost out on their seniority with reference to their merit position in the Select List due to delay in conducting their Review Medical Evaluation and in the interregnum their batchmates had joined ITBP.

12. On parity of reasoning and application of law the petitioner is held entitled to his seniority being refixed as a Sub-Inspector in CRPF with reference to his merit position at the SSC Combined Graduate Level 2000 Examination i.e. those who joined CRPF pursuant to the said examination in March 2003. The petitioner has already earned promotion to the post of Inspector and accordingly we direct that he would be entitled to seniority refixed in said rank with reference to his revised seniority position in the rank of Sub-Inspector, and this would mean that the petitioner would be considered for promotion to the post of Assistant Commandant as per the revised seniority list.

13. The respondents are therefore directed to revise the seniority position of the petitioner in the two ranks within a period of four weeks from today and thereafter consider the petitioner along with other eligible persons for promotion to the post of Assistant Commandant.

14. As regards wages, on the principle of not having shouldered responsibility for the higher post, we do not direct backwages to be paid.

15. On the subject of the petitioner being entitled to the old Pension Scheme, in similar circumstances, deciding WP(C) No.10028/2009 Amrendra Kumar vs. UOI & Ors., where the petitioner therein was also similarly deprived the opportunity to join with his batch on account of delay in conducting medical re-examination, the Court had directed that said writ petitioner would be entitled to the benefit of the old Pension Scheme which remained in force till December 31, 2003.

16. The petitioner would be entitled to similar benefit and accordingly the next mandamus issued is by way of a direction to the respondents to treat the petitioner as a member of the pension scheme which remained in vogue till December 31, 2003."

22. It is true that in this case the appointment letters were issued in 2005. However, the petitioners had applied pursuant to the same advertisement as Parmanand and 24 others, who were granted the relief, and gone through the same selection process which commenced a few years before the New Pension Scheme was notified. The medical examination was also held within 31.12.2003, before the new scheme came into effect. Unfortunately, the appointment took time.

23. The issue of whether Sub Inspectors similarly circumstanced, as the petitioners, who had been cleared in medical examinations in 2003, but issued with appointment letters and joined the BSF in 2004 or 2005, could be denied pensionary benefits under the old pension scheme, which ended on 21.12.2003, was decided by a Division Bench of this Court in WP(C) No.5830/2015 (Shoorvir Singh Negi Vs. Union of India and others) heard with five other writ petitions.

24. By a judgment and order dated 17.09.2015, the Division Bench held:-

"As far as the claim for pensionary benefits based upon the old pension scheme which ended on 31.12.2003 is concerned, we are of the opinion that a somewhat different result would have to follow. Undoubtedly, all the petitioners were declared medically fit by 2003. However, they would not be issued with appointment letters and joined subsequently in 2004 or 2005. It is here that the observations in Avinash Singh (supra) quoted with approval in Naveen Kumar Jha (supra) become relevant. Although the petitioners were declared fit earlier - at least much before the cessation of the old pension rules, there was an administrative delay in the issuance of the appointment letter asking them to join training. In these circumstances, in the interests of justice, we hold that they should be entitled to the benefits of the old pension scheme."

25. In Shoorvir Singh Negi (Supra), the petitioners had claimed seniority as also pensionary benefits under the Old Pension Scheme as per the CCS (Pension) Rules 1972. While the prayer to seniority over persons who joined earlier, was disallowed, but the claim of those petitioners for pensionary benefits under the Old Pension Scheme, as per CCS(Pension) Rules 1972, was allowed.

30. The respondents have contended that the final results of the petitioners had been declared by the Staff Selection Commission in November, 2004 long after the New Pension Scheme was given effect. If there was delay in declaration of the results and issuance of letters of appointment, the incumbents are not to suffer. May be, as contended by the respondents, the petitioners had been declared unfit. However, in the Review Medical Examination by Review Medical Board, they were found fit. It is not the case of the respondents that they were unfit earlier by reason of any ailment or disorder, of which they were cured later. Even otherwise, there was no reason for delaying the Review Medical Examination and the Interview. In any case, as observed above, the issues are covered in favour of the petitioners, by the judgment of the Supreme Court in Shoorvir Singh Negi (supra).

31. In our considered opinion, there can also be no discrimination between batchmates, only because some were, at the time of appointment, informed that the New Pension Scheme would apply, while others were not.

40. The writ petition is allowed. The respondent shall treat the petitioners as members of the Old Pension Scheme under the Central Civil Services (Pension) Rules 1972.

15. Learned counsel for the petitioners next placed reliance upon judgment of Delhi High Court passed in the case of National Capital Territory (Supra) which is based upon the judgment of Division Bench of Delhi High Court in the matter of Naveen Kumar Jha vs. Union of India and others, 2012 SCC Online Delhi 5606 (W.P.(C) No. 3827 of 2012) decided on 02.11.2012 and Ajit Kumar Choudhary vs. Union of India & others, W.P. (C) 4496/2014 decided on 21.07.2017. In this matter again issue was the same that arising out of same advertisement, some of the candidates were given appointment prior to cut of date for 'New Pension Scheme' whereas another set of persons were given joining after the cut of date. Such candidates approached Central Administrative Tribunal (CAT) by filing Original Application which was allowed against which the Government of National Capital Territory of Delhi & others filed Writ Petition(C) No. 838 & CM Appl. No. 3656/2016 along with Writ Petition(C) No. 839/2016 & CM Appl. No. 3659/2016 before Delhi High Court and Delhi High Court after considering the facts of the case as well as law, dismissed the writ petitions by common order dated 13.09.2018. Relevant paragraphs of the judgment is quoted below:-

" The grievance of the Government of National Capital Territory of Delhi (GNCTD) in these two petitions is that Central Administrative Tribunal (CAT) granted relief to the respondents, who claimed benefit of pre-revised pension scheme applicable to class of service they belonged to. It is a common ground of both the parties that the previously existing scheme- i.e. before 01.01.2004, entitled public servants to a monthly pension and other attendant terminal pension prescribed under the CCS (Pension) Rules, 1972 for payment of gratuity which was subsequently amended. The rationale for grant of relief by the impugned order was that the applicants (who were respondent in this case) had issued an advertisement through Delhi Subordinate Services Selection Board (DSSSB) in the year 2002 for various classes of posts. Common merit list was drawn pursuant to the recruitment process - sometime in 2003. Concededly, some of the applicants though senior and higher in the merit list were not issued appointment letter as they did not belong to the reserved communities in GNCTD. Subsequently, controversy arose whether status claimed by the Scheduled Caste/Scheduled Tribe (SC/ST) could be given to them since they did not belong to GNCTD and in some instances castes were not notified in GNCTD. Eventually, they were issued appointment letters but after 01.01.2004. The controversy as to whether they were entitled to be treated as SC/ST was resolved by Full Bench of this Court in Deepak Kumar & Ors. vs. District and Sessions Judge, Delhi & Ors., (2012) 132 DRJ (FB) and recently by a Constitution Bench in Bir Singh vs. Delhi Jal Board, 2018 SCC Online SC 1241.

The denial of parity with their juniors/batchmates vis-a-vis applicability of old pension scheme became the subject matter of proceedings before CAT where they were successful. Learned counsel for the GNCTD urges that CAT's decision- which has relied upon previous judgment of this Court ought to be set aside since so called juniors/batchmates were in fact appointees prior to the applicants. It is contended that since the appointment of the applicants took place after the appointed date i.e. 01.01.2004; they could not claim any benefit to prescribed individual pension rule. Learned counsel relied upon a decision of Division Bench in Ashok Mudgal vs. Govt. Of NCT of Delhi & Ors., 2010 SCC Online Del 2357-W.P. (C) 12246/2009 (decided on 14.07.2010).

This Court is of the opinion that the present writ petitions are without merit. The very same issue which is sought to be agitated by the GNCTD was subject matter of two Division Bench judgment in Naveen Kumar Jha v. Union of India and others, 2012 SCC Online Delhi 5606 (W.P.(C) No. 3827 of 2012) decided on 02.11.2012 and Ajit Kumar Choudhary vs. Union of India & others, W.P. (C) 4496/2014 decided on 21.07.2017. In Naveen Kumar Jha (supra), the Court firstly granted the benefit of seniority on the basis of common merit-list published by the recruitment agency even though the individual was appointee of later date after 01.01.2004. The Court also held that the old pension scheme would apply, on the ground that the petitioner "was deprived the opportunity to join to his batch on account of delay in conducting the medical re-examination". Likewise, in Ajit Kumar Choudhary (supra), this Court held that the "department's position was illogical and irrational given that the petitioners have been granted seniority and granted parity from their date of actual joining. Their specific grievance was denial of the old pension scheme which was specifically referred to in the final order of this Court. The refusal to grant the old pension scheme is untenable in law.

16. It is next submitted that judgment of Delhi High Court was also challenged before the Apex Court by filing Special

Leave to Appeal (C).....Diary No. 15658/2019, which was dismissed by the Apex Court vide order dated 10.07.2019.

17. Per contra, learned standing counsel placed reliance upon the judgment of this Court in the matter of Satyesh Kumar Mishra and others vs. State of U.P. and others, reported in 2016(6) ADJ 808 (LB) and submitted that in present case too, the selection was made prior to issuance of 'New Pension Scheme' whereas the appointment was issued at later stage and this Court after considering the facts, vide order dated 01.06.2016, dismissed the writ petition. Brief facts of the case as observed by the Court is given in Paragraph Nos. 4 to 10 which are quoted below:-

"4. According to the petitioners, after empaneling, the District Inspector of Schools, Baghpat, vide letter dated 13.12.2004, directed the Manager/Committee of Management, Sri Vidya Mandir Inter College, Chhaprauli, Baghpat, to issue appointment letter to petitioner No.1-Satyesh Kumar Mishra but the letter of appointment was not issued to petitioner No.1 and subsequently, on 18.12.2004, Manager/Committee of Management, Sri Vidya Mandir Inter College, Chhaprauli, Baghpat, refused to issue appointment letter to petitioner No.1. However, on 21.2.2005, the District Inspector of School, Raebareli issued direction to Sri Ganesh Vidyalaya Inter College, Aehar, Raibareli, which is a Government aided College, to issue appointment letter to petitioner No.1. In compliance of the letter dated 21.2.2005, the Manager/Committee of Management, Sri Ganesh Vidyalaya Inter College, Aehar, Raibareli, issued letter of appointment to the petitioner No. 1 on 16.4.2005. Consequently, the petitioner No.1 joined as Assistant Teacher in Sri Ganesh Vidyalaya Inter College, Aehar, Raibareli on 16.4.2005.

5. Inso far as petitioner No.2 is concerned, it has been stated by the Counsel that the District Inspector of Schools, Mathura, vide letter dated 10.11.2004, issued letter to the Manager/Committee of Management, Sri Brij Aadarsh Inter College, Mathura, to issue letter of appointment to petitioner No.2-Ravindra Bahadur Srivastava but the same was not issued to petitioner No.2 and, subsequently, vide letter dated 22.1.2005, the issuance of appointment letter was refused by the Manager/Committee of Management, Sri Brij Aadarsh Inter College, Mathura. Thereafter, the District Inspector of Schools, vide letter dated 20.4.2005, directed the Manager, Mahatma Gandhi Inter College, Raebareli to issue letter of appointment to petitioner No.2. In compliance of the letter dated 20.4.2005, the Manager, Mahatma Gandhi Inter College, Raebareli issued letter of appointment to petitioner No.2 on 13.5.2005. Similarly, with regards to petitioner No.3, a direction was issued by the District Inspector of Schools, Muzaffarnagar to the Manager/Committee of Management, D.A.V. Inter College, on, Muzaffarnagar for issuance of appointment letter to petitioner No.3-Chhote Lal but the same was refused by the Manager/Committee of Management, D.A.V. Inter College, on, Muzaffarnagar vide letter dated 15.1.2005. Subsequently, petitioner No.3 was given appointment letter by the Manager, Gayatri Inter College, Rustampur Raebareli and in pursuance thereof, the petitioner No.3 joined in the institution on 4.5.2005.

6. It has been stated by the Counsel that initially the District Inspector of Schools, Pratapgarh had issued letter dated 30.9.2004 to the Manager of the institution situate at Pratapgarh, requiring him to issue letter of appointment to petitioner No.4-Zaheer Ahmad but the same was refused on 29.11.2004. Subsequently, in pursuance of the letter dated 9.6.2005 issued by the District Inspector of Schools, Raibareli, the Manager, Chandrapal Inter College, Shera Gangaganj, Raebareli issued letter of appointment to the petitioner No.4 and in pursuance thereof, the petitioner No.4 joined the institution on 16.4.2005.

7. As regard to petitioner No.5-Ram Singh, it has been stated that initially, the District Inspector of Schools, Ghaziabad directed the Manager, Nehru Smarak Inter College, Surana, Ghaziabad to issue a letter of appointment to the petitioner No.5 but the same was refused by the Manager, Nehru Smarak Inter College, Surana, Ghaziabad on 13.11.2004. Later on, in pursuance of the appointment letter, petitioner No.5 had joined Chandrapal Inter College, Shora Gangaganj, Raibareli on 14.8.2006.

8. As regards to petitioners Nos. 6, 7 and 8, it has been stated that the District Inspectors of Schools had initially issued letter to the concerned Manager of the Institution for issuance of appointment letters in the month of January, 2005 but the concerned Manager of the institution had refused to issue letter of appointment to petitioners Nos. 6, 7 and 8. Later on, in pursuance of the appointment letters, petitioners Nos. 6, 7 and 8 joined on 16.4.2005 and 25.4.2005, respectively.

9. According to the petitioners, since after completion of probation period satisfactorily, no necessary deduction towards General Provident Fund etc. are being made from their salary inter alia on the grounds that petitioners do not come within the purview of Old Pension Scheme and are covered by the new Pension Scheme i.e. Uttar Pradesh Retirement Benefits (Amendment) Rules, 2005 and General Provident Fund (Uttar Pradesh) Amendment Rules, 2005. Therefore, petitioners are constrained to approach this Court by filing the present writ petition, seeking the relief for making necessary deduction of General Provident Fund etc. from the salary of the petitioners.

10. Submission of the learned Counsel for the petitioners is that pursuant to the Notification dated 27.9.2002, petitioners had applied and after due process, the U.P. Intermediate Selection Board declared petitioners as successful and recommended their names for appointments in different Colleges in the State of Uttar Pradesh in the year 2003 but due to the fault and laxity on the part of the opposite parties, petitioners were given joining from April, 2005."

18. Thereafter, Court after considering the facts, dismissed the writ petition. Relevant paragraph Nos. 26 to 32 of the judgment are quoted below:-

"26. The Apex Court, in the case of Sudhir Kumar Kansal Vs. Allahabad Bank : 2011 (2) ESC 243 held, in the matter of grant of pension, either under the old rule or the new rule, proceeded to mention that in society governed by rule of law sympathies cannot override the Rules and Regulations, and in the said case view has been taken accordingly that appellant was not eligible to claim any benefit under Old Pension Scheme.

27. Inevitable conclusion thus is, that once New Pension Scheme has been introduced and it has been provided that such incumbents entering into service on or after 1st April, 2005 would would be governed under the New Scheme, then, said category of incumbents, as matter of right, cannot claim legally to be governed under the old scheme, and their claim of pension will fall within the ambit of Rules as has been introduced w.e.f. 01.04.2005.

28. Learned Counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon the judgments of the High Court of Uttarakhand rendered in Writ Petition 1170 (S/S) of 2010 : Ashutosh Joshi and others Vs. State of Uttarakhand and others, decided on 17.6.2013 and Special Appeal No.330 of 2013 : State of Uttarakhand and others Vs. Balwant Singh and others, decided on 26.6.2014. These judgments will not at all come to the rescue and reprieve of the petitioners, for the reasons that once categorical cut off date has been mentioned and new entrants w.e.f. 1st of April, 2005 will have to accept new pension scheme, then, as far as petitioners are concerned, no relief can be accorded to them.

29. It may be added that during the course of arguments reliance has also been placed upon K. Manjusree (supra), in which case the High Court of Andhra Pradesh for selection of District and Sessions Judges (Grade II) introduced minimum marks for the interview after Notification. The earlier recruitment never insisted upon the minimum marks to be obtained in the interview. The Supreme Court dealing with the situation took the view that the introduction of requirement of minimum marks for interview, after the entire selection process (consisting of written examination and interview) was completed, would amount to changing the rules of the game after the game was played which is clearly impermissible. The facts in K. Manjusree (supra) are not exactly identical to the facts of the present case as in the said case before the Supreme Court, no rules were framed by the employer laying down the minimum marks for the interview and the criterion of prescribing minimum marks for the interview was introduced after completion of the written examination as well as the interview. Whereas, in the instant case, though petitioners have been selected for the appointment on the post of Assistant Teacher (L.T.) Grade in the year 2004 but they got appointments and joined on the post in question after the cut off date prescribed in the New Pension Scheme floated by the State Government i.e. after 1.4.2005. Thus, the judgment of K. Manjusree (supra) is not applicable in the present facts and circumstances of the case.

30. In Rakhi Ray and others Vs. High Court of Delhi and others : 2010 (2) SCC 637, the Apex Court in para 24 has observed that a person whose name appears in the select list does not acquire any indefeasible right of appointment. Empanelment at the best is a condition of eligibility for the purpose of appointment and by itself does not amount to selection or create a vested right to be appointed. The vacancies have to be filled up as per the statutory rules and in conformity with the constitutional mandate. In Vijoy Kumar Pandey Vs. Arvind Kumar Rai and others : 2013 (11) SCC 611, the Apex Court has observed that preparation of selection list or panel does not by itself entitle the candidate whose name figures in such a list/panel to seek appointment or claim mandamus which can for good and valid reasons be scrapped by competent authority along with entire process that culminated in preparation of such a panel.

31. In view of the aforesaid legal propositions, the assertions of the petitioners that petitioners are entitled to get the benefit of Old Pension Scheme as they were got selected in the year 2003 in pursuance of the Notification dated 27.9.2002, has no substance as the date on which they entered into service is to be taken into account and not the year when they were declared successful..

32. For the reasons aforesaid, petitioners have failed to establish infringement of any fundamental right or statutory right so as to warrant interference under Article 226 of the Constitution of India and the writ petition is liable to be dismissed."

19. In his rejoinder argument, learned counsel for the petitioners placed reliance upon Division Bench judgment of this Court in the case of Firangi Prasad (Supra) and submitted that absolutely similar controversy came before Division Bench of this Court in which the District Inspector of Schools was empowered to get selection for appointment of teachers on ad hoc basis and appellant was appointed but due to inaction of Management, appointment letter was issued at a very belated stage and in between, Act was amended and petitioner was denied for regularisation as he has joined after cut of date fixed after amendment. The Division Bench of this Court after considering the case, has held that there is no fault on the part of petitioner in submitting his joining after cut off date as he has not been issued appointment letter by the Management, therefore, he is also entitled for regularization, therefore. Facts as observed by the Court is as follows:-

3. The admitted facts are that the appellant was appointed in a selection held by the District Inspector of Schools on 05.01.1993. Under the relevant provisions, it was the District Inspector of Schools, who was empowered to get the selection held for appointment of the teacher on ad hoc basis. There is also no dispute that the appellant was appointed against a substantive vacancy on ad hoc basis in terms of the relevant provisions and his selection and appointment was duly notified to respondent no.5-Management, vide order dated 18.1.1993.

4. The Management was called upon to allow the appellant to join as teacher on ad hoc basis within ten days and the appellant was also to accordingly join the Institution. It is to be noted that the said appointment was on ad hoc basis to continue till a candidate regularly selected joined the post.

5. The appellant appears to have approached the Management along with order dated 18.01.1993, but the Management refused to perform the said ministerial act of issuing the letter of appointment and did not allow the appellant to join in the Institution, about which complaints were made by the appellant through representations dated 16.02.1993, 18.02.1993, 23.02.1993 and several other repeated representations up to 13.08.1993. The Management ultimately on 25.08.1993 issued a letter of appointment allowing the appellant to join on 26.08.1993, whereafter he has been continuously functioning in the Institution.

6. The order of appointment has also been brought on record, which demonstrates that the same was being issued pursuant to the selection order dated 18.01.1993 and the oral discussion in the meeting held with the District Inspector of Schools.

7. The Act, 1982 was amended w.e.f. 20.04.1998 by introducing certain amendments including the provisions of Section 33-C, which is quoted herein below:-

"33-C. Regularisation of certain more appointments.-- (1) Any teacher who--

(a) (i) was appointed by promotion or by direct recruitment on or after May 14, 1991 but not later than August 6, 1993 on ad hoc basis against substantive vacancy in accordance with section 18, in the Lecturer grade or the Trained Graduate grade;

(ii) was appointed by promotion on or after July 31, 1988 but not later than August 6, 1993 on ad hoc basis against a substantive vacancy in the post of a Principal or Head Master in accordance with Section 18;

(b) possesses the qualification prescribed under, or is exempted from such qualification in accordance with, the provisions of the Intermediate Education Act, 1921;

(c) has been continuously serving the Institution from the date of such appointment up to the date of the commencement of the Uttar Pradesh Secondary Education Services Commission (Amendment) Act, 1998;

(d) has been found suitable for appointment in a substantive capacity by a Selection Committee constituted under sub-section (2);

shall be given substantive appointment by the Management.

(2) (a) For each region, there shall be a Selection Committee comprising,-

(i) Regional Joint Director of Education of that region, who shall be the Chairman;

(ii) Regional Deputy Director of Education (Secondary) who shall be member;

(iii) Regional Assistant Director of Education (Basic) who shall be a member.

In addition to above members, the District Inspector of Schools of the concerned district shall be co-opted as member while considering the cases for regularisation of that district.

(b) The Procedure of selection for substantive appointment under sub-section (1) shall be such as may be prescribed.

(3) (a) The names of the teachers shall be recommended for substantive appointment in order of seniority as determined from the date of their appointment.

(b) If two or more such teachers are appointed on the same date, the teacher who is elder in age shall be recommended first.

(4) Every teacher appointed in a substantive capacity under sub-section (1) shall be deemed to be on probation from the date of such substantive appointment.

(5) A teacher who is not found suitable under sub-section (1) and a teacher who is not eligible to get a substantive appointment under that sub-section shall cease to hold the appointment on such date as the State Government may by order specify.

(6) Nothing in this Section shall be construed to entitle any teacher to substantive appointment, if on the date of commencement of the Ordinance referred to in clause (c) of sub-section (1) such vacancy had already been filled or selection for such vacancy has already been made in accordance with this Act."

8. By virtue of the said amendment, all ad hoc appointees either by way of promotion or direct recruitment against a substantive vacancy, not appointed later than 06.08.1993, were entitled to be regularised and placed on probation. The aforesaid provision as noted above was introduced w.e.f. 20.04.1998 and it further provides that in order to obtain the benefit of regularisation, the concerned teacher should have been appointed prior to 06.08.1993 and should have been continuing upto the date of introduction of the said provision in the year 1998.

9. Claiming benefit under the aforesaid provision, the appellant made representations for regularisation before the competent authority and having failed to get any benefit, filed the writ petition, which has given rise to the present appeal.

10. The respondent-State appears to have filed a counter affidavit in the writ petition disputing the claim of the appellant on the ground that the appellant came to be appointed only on 25.08.1993, which is 19 days after the cut-off date mentioned in Section 33-C of the Act, 1982 and, therefore, the appellant was not entitled to the benefit of the said provision.

Thereafter, Court has considered the submissions and answered as follows:-

"14. Having considered the aforesaid submissions, it is, therefore, clear that the learned Single Judge proceeded to decline the mandamus as prayed for on a clear erroneous assumption of fact. The order in favour of the appellant dated 18.01.1993 was neither stayed nor rescinded. This is also corroborated by a perusal of the counter affidavit that was filed before the learned Single Judge where also the State did not dispute the aforesaid position. Accordingly, the finding recorded by the learned Single Judge on the strength of such facts cannot be sustained.

15. The second contention needs to be examined in the light of the facts that have emerged from the record, namely that the appellant for no fault on his part was kept out of the Institution by the inaction of the Management in spite of the District Inspector of Schools having despatched the selection order on 18.01.1993. From the facts on record, it is evident that the Manager of the Institution had to perform the ministerial act of issuing a letter of appointment to the appellant in terms of the selection order dated 18.01.1993. The Management admittedly complied with it after much persuasion on 25.08.1993, for which the appellant is nowhere at fault. On the contrary, the appellant had been continuously approaching the Management time and again expressing his willingness to join the Institution.

16. In these circumstances, teachers like the appellant fall within an altogether different class of candidates, who have been wrongfully prevented by the inaction of the Management in joining the Institution. The Management has to perform only a ministerial act and by its inaction, it cannot defeat the legitimate claim of a teacher like appellant.

17. The direction contained in the order dated 18.01.1993 was categorical to allow the appellant to join within ten days, which admittedly was scuttled by the Manager for reasons best known to him.

18. The Manager is obliged to issue a letter of appointment under the direction of the District Inspector of Schools, who is the competent authority under the Rules. Any unwarranted defiance and in the absence of any infirmity in the selection of the appellant, such inaction of the Management cannot be of any disadvantage to the appellant or to any such teacher belonging to this class.

19. The respondents cannot by their inaction, therefore, deprive a candidate of his or her legitimate right to claim continuance in service. It is, therefore, clear that there was a deliberate delay on the part of the Management in issuing the letter of appointment in the present case and accordingly, the right of the appellant to claim continuance under the selection order dated 18.01.1993 cannot be denied. The appellant will, therefore, be entitled to the benefits flowing out of the order dated 18.01.1993 and in such a situation, the letter of appointment will relate back prior to the cut-off date i.e. 06.08.1993.

20. This, in our opinion, would be the correct interpretation of law in relation to the candidates who have been wrongfully prevented from receiving their letters of appointment for no fault of theirs.

21. Having concluded so, we, therefore, hold that the appellant was entitled for the benefit of regularisation in the circumstances narrated above and accordingly, the conclusion drawn by the learned Single Judge to refuse the mandamus cannot be sustained.

22. In view of that, the judgement and order of the learned Single Judge dated 02.04.2010 is set aside. The writ petition as well as the appeal are allowed. Respondent no.2-Regional Joint Director of Education, Basti, shall proceed to consider the claim of regularisation of the appellant in the light of the observations made hereinabove and issue appropriate orders, not later than six weeks from the date of presentation of a certified copy of this order before him, if the appellant is otherwise eligible and qualified."

20. From the perusal of judgments of Satyesh Kumar Mishra (Supra) and Firangi Prasad (Supra), there is no doubt on the point that similar dispute was before this Court in the matter of Satyesh Kumar Mishra (Supra), which was dismissed by this Court against which Special Appeal Defective No. 480 of 2016 is pending. It is also not disputed that legal issue involved in the matter of Satyesh Kumar Mishra (Supra) was also before Division Bench of this Court in the matter of Firangi Prasad (Supra) where the Court has clearly held that on the fault of appointing authority in issuing appointment letter, petitioners cannot be put any type of disadvantage. It appears that at the time of deciding the matter of Satyesh Kumar Mishra (Supra), judgement of Firangi Prasad (Supra) was not placed before this Court, therefore, without considering the same, decision was given in the matter of Satyesh Kumar Mishra (Supra). Under such facts and circumstances, judgement of Satyesh Kumar Mishra (Supra) is per incuriam and cannot be treated as precedent in the present case and will not come in the rescue of respondents.

21. The controversy and question of law involved in the present case is squarely covered with the judgement of Firangi Prasad (Supra) as well as other judgments relied upon by learned counsel for the petitioners and Courts have taken consistant view that respondents cannot by their inaction deprive a candidate to his legitimate right.

22. So far as facts of the case are concerned, there is no dispute on the point that pursuant to advertisement No. A-3/E-1/2000, advertisement was issued in news paper on 22.12.2000 and as per order of this Court dated 29.12.2001 passed in Special Appeal No. 485 (S/B) of 2001 (supra), there was no legal impediment in completition of recruitment process, but dut to inaction on the part of respondents, it was completed only after dismissal of writ petition on 05.07.2005. Final selected list of selected candidate was published in daily newspaper 'Dainik Jagran' dated 12.03.2006 and thereafter appointment letters were issued. It is also not disputed that in between again in subsequent advertisement No. A-3/E-1/2002, recruitment was completed and candidates had been granted appointment prior to 01.04.2005 and getting the benefit of 'Old Pension Scheme'.

23. Therefore, considering the facts and circumstances of the case and legal position discussed herein above, writ petition is partly allowed and petitioners are excluded from the effect and operation of Notification dated 28.03.2005 and 07.04.2005 as it is in violation of Article 14 of Constitution of India as well as law laid down by the Courts.

24. Respondents are directed to include the petitioners under 'Old Pension Scheme' as provided in Rules, 1961 before amendment and be given all other consequential benefits.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Irshad Ali, J.)

1. Counter affidavit filed today may be taken on record.

2. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner, learned Standing Counsel for the respondent nos.1, 2 and 4, Sri Anup Barnwal, learned counsel for respondent no.5 and Sri Rup Naraiyan Misra, learned counsel for respondent no.6.

3. By means of the present writ petition, the petitioner is challenging the order dated 13.10.2016 passed by the Director of Education (Secondary) U.P. Lucknow. It has further been prayed to call for the record and quash entire selection proceedings of the post Principal with a further direction to initiate fresh selection proceedings in accordance with Section 16 (FF) read with Regulation 17 of the Regulation framed under the U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921.

4. Factual matrix of the case is that Cutting Memorial, Varanasi is an recognized institution under U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921. The institution is a minority institution for the purposes of Article 30(1) of the Constitution of India, thus, the provisions of Uttar Pradesh Secondary Education Services Selection Board Act, 1982 is not applicable. The institution is receiving aid from the State Government, therefore, the provisions of U.P. High School and Intermediate Colleges (Payment of Salaries of Teachers and other Employees) Act, 1971, is applicable to the said institution. Post of Principal in the aforesaid institution came into existence due to retirement of Sri Gilbert Susil Kumar on 30th June 2008.

5. The Committee of Management vide Resolution No.CM/CMIC-11(B)12-13 dated 30th August, 2012 resolved to fill up the vacancy with the request to the Regional Joint Director of Education to sent his nominee from the panel of experts appointed by him. The vacancy was advertised in two News Papers i.e. Jan Sandesh (Hindi) and "Pioneer' (English) on 14.9.2012. The Regional Joint Director of Education sent panel of expert on 08.10.2012 by constituting a Section Committee. Selection was made wherein petitioner participated without any objection. The Selection Committee on the basis of quality point marks selected the respondent no.6 on the post of Principal of the aforesaid Intermediate college. Papers were submitted before the Regional Joint Director of Education for the grant of approval as required under Section 16(FF) of the U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921. The Regional Joint Director of Education granted approval to the selection of the respondent no.6 vide order dated 08.11.2012.

6. The petitioner filed Writ Petitioner No.27172 of 2016 (Sanjay Kumar Phillip Vs. State of U.P. and 5 others) before this court challenging the selection of the respondent no.6 on the post of Principal of the college. The writ petition was finally disposed of with a direction to the petitioner to approach the Director of Secondary Education to ventilate his grievances with the direction to pass an appropriate order. In pursuance of the order, Director of Education after providing opportunity of hearing to the petitioner and respondent no.6 passed an order on 13.10.2016 whereby the claim of the petitioner was rejected and the selection on the post of Principal was held to be correct.

7. The order of Director of Education along with the entire selection proceedings has been assailed by the petitioner in the present writ petition.

8. The first submission of the learned counsel for the petitioner is that it is the Manager of the institution who initiated proceedings of selection on the post of Principal of the Cutting Memorial College, Varanasi which is in violation of Regulation 17 of the Regulations framed under the Act, 1921. He next submitted that the selection committee was not constituted as per the provisions contained under the Act, 1921 and Regulation framed thereunder, thus, the selection vitiates in law.

9. He next submitted that the Director of Education (Secondary) U.P. Lucknow without considering the objection has passed the impugned order on 13.10.2016, thus, the order vitiates in law and cannot be sustained. His last submission is that although, the petitioner has participated in the selection without any objection but has right to challenge the same in case he is not selected in the said selection which is completed in a arbitrary manner.

10. On the other hand, learned counsel for the Committee of Management submits that the submission advanced by the learned counsel for the petitioner that it is the Manager who initiated proceeding without any resolution, is incorrect. He submits that resolution No. CM/CMIC-11(B)12-13 dated 30th June, 2008 was passed by the Committee of Management resolving to make selection by constituting a Selection Committee on the post of Principal of the concerned college. He next submitted that once the petitioner has participated in the selection initiated in pursuance to the advertisement issued then after participation defeated in the selection he has no right to challenge the same. He next submitted that the writ petition being misconceived, is liable to be dismissed with cost.

11. Sri Rup Naraiyan Misra, learned counsel appearing on behalf of the respondent no.6 has also adopted the argument advanced by Sri Arun Agrawal, learned counsel representing the Committee of Management.

12. I have heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the material on record.

13. To resolve the controversy involved in the present writ petition, the provisions contained under 16-FF are being quoted hereinbelow:

"16-FF. Savings as to minority institutions.-(1) Notwithstanding anything in sub-section (4) of Section 16-E, and Section 16-F, the Selection Committee for the appointment of a Head of Institution or a teacher of an institution established and administered by a minority referred to in Clause (1) of Article 30 of the Constitution shall consist of five members (including its Chairman) nominated by the Committee of Management :

Provided that one of the members of the Selection Committee shall-

(a) in the case of appointment of the Head of an institution, be an expert selected by the Committee of Management from a panel of experts prepared by the Director;

(b) in the case of appointment of a teacher, be the Head of the Institution concerned.

(2) The procedure to be followed by the Selection Committee referred to in sub-section (1) shall be such as may be prescribed.

(3) No person selected under this section shall be appointed, unless-

(a) in the case of the Head of Institution the proposal of appointment has been approved by the Regional Deputy Director of Education; and

(b) in the case of a teacher such proposal has been approved by the Inspector.

(4) The Regional Deputy Director of Education or the Inspector, as the case may be, shall not withhold approval for the selection made under this section where the person selected possesses the minimum qualification prescribed and is otherwise eligible.

(5) Where the Regional Deputy Director of Education or the Inspector, as the case may be, does not approve of a candidate selected under this section the Committee of Management may, within three weeks from the date of receipt of such disapproval, make a representation to the Director in the case of the Head of Institution, and to the Regional Deputy Director of Education in the case of teacher.

(6) Every order passed by the Director or the Regional Deputy Director of Education on a representation under sub-section (5) shall be final."

The provisions contained under Regulation 17 of regulations framed under U.P. Intermediate Education Act are being quoted herein below:

"17. The procedure for filling up the vacancy of the head of institution and teachers by direct recruitment in any recognised institution referred to in Section 16-FF, shall be as follows:

(a) After the management has determined the number of vacancies to be filled up by direct recruitment, the posts shall be advertised by the manager of the institution in at least one Hindi and one English newspaper having adequate circulation in the State giving particulars as to the nature (i.e., whether temporary/permanent) and number of vacancies, descriptions of post (i.e., Principal or Headmaster, Lecturer or L.T., C.T. or J.T.C./B.T.C. grade teacher including the subject or subjects in which the lecturer or teacher is required), scale or pay and other allowances, experience required minimum qualification and age prescribed, if any, for the post and prescribing a date which should not ordinarily be less than two weeks from the date of advertisement) by which the applications shall be received by the Manager. A copy of the advertisement shall be simultaneously sent to the Inspector concerned.

Notes-(1) All vacancies in the posts of teachers and the head of institution existing at the time of advertisement shall be advertised.

(2) No new post shall be advertised unless sanction of the appropriate authority for the creation thereof has been received by the management.

(b) All applications shall be made in the form prescribed by the management and shall contain all necessary particulars about qualifications, teaching experience and other activities and be accompanied by certified copies of all the necessary certificates and testimonials. The management may charge cost of the application form not exceeding the amount referred to in Clause (2) of Regulation 10.

(c) An application by a person employed in an institution and applying for a post elsewhere or in the same institution shall not be withheld by his employer but shall be forwarded to the authority concerned immediately.

(d) All applications received from the candidates shall be serially numbered and entered in a register and particulars of the candidates noted under appropriate columns. The candidates to be called for interview shall be seven for each post (the number of applicants, permitting). The Manager shall intimate by registered post all the members of the Selection Committee as well as all such candidates as are called for interview, the date, time and place of selection at least ten days before it is held. The Selection Committee will hold the selection accordingly. If on account of any unavoidable reason, the expert selected by the Committee of Management under Clause (a) of the proviso to sub-section (1) of Section 16-FF is unable to attend the selection on the date fixed the meeting of the Selection Committee shall be postponed.

(e) The provisions of Clauses (e) and (f) of Regulation 10 and those of Regulations 11, 12 and 16 shall mutatis mutandis apply to selections made under this regulation.

(f) A panel of experts consisting of fifteen or more persons selected from category (a) referred to in Regulation 14 shall be drawn by the Director for each region and be sent to the Regional Deputy Director of Education concerned, The Regional Deputy Director of Education shall out of the said panel communicate the names of three experts in a sealed cover to the management through its Manager as soon as he receives any request for supply of names of experts from him. The regional panel of experts shall, however, remain valid until it is replaced by a new one.

14. On perusal of provisions referred herein above, it is evident that it prescribes full fledge procedure of initiation of proceedings and constitution of selection committee to make selection.

15. On perusal of the record, it is evident that a Resolution No.CM/CMIC-11(B)12-13 dated 30th June, 2008 was passed by the Committee of Management resolving to make selection on the post of Principal by appointing a nominee from the panel of experts appointed by the Regional Joint Director of Education in the selection committee. Therefore, the submission of learned counsel for the petitioner that it is the decision of the Manager of the institution to initiate selection proceeding, cannot be accepted, and is rejected.

16. The submission of learned counsel for the petitioner that selection committee was not constituted as per the Regulations. The averment made in this regard in the writ petition has been denied in the counter affidavit filed by the committee of management. According to the provisions of Section 16-FF, five member's committee was constituted to make selection on the post of Principal. It has further been stated that the selection committee was constituted wherein one of the nominees of the Regional Joint Director of Education from the panel of experts was present and thereafter, the selection committee considered the candidature of the candidates and being placed the respondent no.6 at serial no.1, recommended for appointment on the post of Principal of the College after obtaining approval as required under Section 16-FF of the Act of 1921. The petitioner in the writ petition has not disclosed that which of the provisions of the Regulations was violated in the constitution of the selection committed. Therefore, the submission advanced by the learned counsel for the petitioner in this regard is misconceived.

17. In regard to submission that Director of Education has not considered the claim of the petitioner while passing the impugned order, I perused the impugned order and on its perusal, it is evident that by recording cogent reasons on each objection of the petitioner, the Director of Education found the claim of the petitioner to be not legally sustainable in law. Thus, the submission in this regard is not tenable in law and is hereby rejected.

18. The issue in regard to that if a candidate participated in a selection proceeding without any demur, whether he has right to challenge the same, was considered by this Court in Writ Petition No.4896 of 2015; Sarita Shukla vs. State of U.P. and others decided on 30.01.2015 and following observation has been made in paragraph No.4:

"This Court is also of the opinion that now after having participated in the counselling, it is not open to the petitioner to challenge the terms of the advertisement and the selection procedure, of which she was fully aware. A reference may be made to a decision of the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Amlan Jyoti Borooah vs. State of Assam and others, (2009) 3 SCC 227, paragraph 32 of which is quoted below:

"Appellant, in our opinion, having accepted the change in the selection procedure sub silentio, by not questioning the appointment of 169 candidates, in our considered opinion, cannot now be permitted to turn round and contend that the procedure adopted was illegal. He is estopped and precluded from doing so."

This case stands on a even better footing inasmuch as there was no change in the selection procedure in the present case. Reference may also be made to various other decisions of Hon'ble Apex Court in H.V. Nirmala v. Karnataka State Financial Corporation (2008) 7 SCC 639; Sadananda Halo v. Mumtaz Ali Sheikh (2008) 4 SCC 619 (para 59); Union of India v. Vinodh Kumar and Ors. (2007) 8 SCC 100 (para 18) and Union of India v. Chandradekaran (1998) (3) SCC 694.

In view of the aforesaid discussion, I do not find any merit in this petition and the same is, accordingly, dismissed."

19. Similar view was taken by Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Dhananjay Malik and ors. vs. State of Uttaranchal and ors.; Civill Appeal No.1771 of 2008 decided on 05.03.2008. Paragraph No.8 and 9 of the judgment is being quoted below:

"8. In Madan Lal vs. State of J & K, (1995) 3 SCC 486, this Court pointed out that when the petitioners appeared at the oral interview conducted by the Members concerned of the Commission who interviewed the petitioners as well as the contesting respondents concerned, the petitioners took a chance to get themselves selected at the said oral interview. Therefore, only because they did not find themselves to have emerged successful as a result of their combined performance both at written test and oral interview, they have filed writ petitions. This Court further pointed out that if a candidate takes a calculated chance and appears at the interview, then, only because the result of the interview is not palatable to him, he cannot turn round and subsequently contend that the process of interview was unfair or the Selection Committee was not properly constituted. In the present case, as already pointed out, the writ petitioners- respondents herein participated in the selection process without any demur; they are estopped from complaining that the selection process was not in accordance with the Rules. If they think that the advertisement and selection process were not in accordance with the Rules they could have challenged the advertisement and selection process without participating in the selection process. This has not been done.

9. In a recent judgment in the case of Marripati Nagaraja vs. The Government of Andhra Pradesh, (2007) 11 SCR 506 at p.516 SCR this Court has succinctly held that the appellants had appeared at the examination without any demur. They did not question the validity of fixing the said date before the appropriate authority. They are, therefore, estopped and precluded from questioning the selection process."

20. In the case of Ramesh Chandra Shah and ors. Vs. Anil Joshi and others decided by Hon'ble Supreme Court on 03.04.2013 in Civil Appeal Nos.2802-2804 of 2013 has held as under in paragraph Nos.19 to 24:.

" 19. One of the earliest judgments on the subject is Manak Lal v. Dr. Prem Chand AIR 1957 SC 425. In that case, this Court considered the question whether the decision taken by the High Court on the allegation of professional misconduct leveled against the appellant was vitiated due to bias of the Chairman of the Tribunal constituted for holding inquiry into the allegation. The appellant alleged that the Chairman had appeared for the complainant in an earlier proceeding and, thus, he was disqualified to judge his conduct. This Court held that by not having taken any objection against the participation of the Chairman of the Tribunal in the inquiry held against him, the appellant will be deemed to have waived his objection. Some of the observations made in the judgment are extracted below:

".....If, in the present case, it appears that the appellant knew all the facts about the alleged disability of Shri Chhangani and was also aware that he could effectively request the learned Chief Justice to nominate some other member instead of Shri Chhangani and yet did not adopt that course, it may well be that he deliberately took a chance to obtain a report in his favour from the Tribunal and when he came to know that the report had gone against him he thought better of his rights and raised this point before the High Court for the first time.

From the record it is clear that the appellant never raised this point before the Tribunal and the manner in which this point was raised by him even before the High Court is somewhat significant. The first ground of objection filed by the appellant against the Tribunal's report was that Shri Chhangani had pecuniary and personal interest in the complainant Dr Prem Chand. The learned Judges of the High Court have found that the allegations about the pecuniary interest of Shri Chhangani in the present proceedings are wholly unfounded and this finding has not been challenged before us by Shri Daphtary. The learned Judges of the High Court have also found that the objection was raised by the appellant before them only to obtain an order for a fresh enquiry and thus gain time.....

.....Since we have no doubt that the appellant knew the material facts and must be deemed to have been conscious of his legal rights in that matter, his failure to take the present plea at the earlier stage of the proceedings creates an effective bar of waiver against him. It seems clear that the appellant wanted to take a chance to secure a favourable report from the Tribunal which was constituted and when he found that he was confronted with an unfavourable report, he adopted the device of raising the present technical point."

20. In Dr. G. Sarna v. University of Lucknow (1976) 3 SCC 585, this Court held that the appellant who knew about the composition of the Selection Committee and took a chance to be selected cannot, thereafter, question the constitution of the Committee.

21. In Om Prakash Shukla v. Akhilesh Kumar Shukla (1986) Supp. SCC 285, a three-Judge Bench ruled that when the petitioner appeared in the examination without protest, he was not entitled to challenge the result of the examination. The same view was reiterated in Madan Lal v. State of J & K (1995) 3 SCC 486 in the following words:

"The petitioners also appeared at the oral interview conducted by the Members concerned of the Commission who interviewed the petitioners as well as the contesting respondents concerned. Thus the petitioners took a chance to get themselves selected at the said oral interview. Only because they did not find themselves to have emerged successful as a result of their combined performance both at written test and oral interview, they have filed this petition. It is now well settled that if a candidate takes a calculated chance and appears at the interview, then, only because the result of the interview is not palatable to him, he cannot turn round and subsequently contend that the process of interview was unfair or the Selection Committee was not properly constituted. In the case of Om Prakash Shukla v. Akhilesh Kumar Shukla it has been clearly laid down by a Bench of three learned Judges of this Court that when the petitioner appeared at the examination without protest and when he found that he would not succeed in examination he filed a petition challenging the said examination, the High Court should not have granted any relief to such a petitioner."

22. In Manish Kumar Shahi v. State of Bihar (2010) 12 SCC 576, this Court reiterated the principle laid down in the earlier judgments and observed:

"We also agree with the High Court that after having taken part in the process of selection knowing fully well that more than 19% marks have been earmarked for viva voce test, the petitioner is not entitled to challenge the criteria or process of selection. Surely, if the petitioner's name had appeared in the merit list, he would not have even dreamed of challenging the selection. The petitioner invoked jurisdiction of the High Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India only after he found that his name does not figure in the merit list prepared by the Commission. This conduct of the petitioner clearly disentitles him from questioning the selection and the High Court did not commit any error by refusing to entertain the writ petition."

23. The doctrine of waiver was also invoked in Vijendra Kumar Verma v. Public Service Commission, Uttarakhand and others (2011) 1 SCC 150 and it was held:

"When the list of successful candidates in the written examination was published in such notification itself, it was also made clear that the knowledge of the candidates with regard to basic knowledge of computer operation would be tested at the time of interview for which knowledge of Microsoft Operating System and Microsoft Office operation would be essential. In the call letter also which was sent to the appellant at the time of calling him for interview, the aforesaid criteria was reiterated and spelt out. Therefore, no minimum benchmark or a new procedure was ever introduced during the midstream of the selection process. All the candidates knew the requirements of the selection process and were also fully aware that they must possess the basic knowledge of computer operation meaning thereby Microsoft Operating System and Microsoft Office operation. Knowing the said criteria, the appellant also appeared in the interview, faced the questions from the expert of computer application and has taken a chance and opportunity therein without any protest at any stage and now cannot turn back to state that the aforesaid procedure adopted was wrong and without jurisdiction."

24. In view of the propositions laid down in the above noted judgments, it must be held that by having taken part in the process of selection with full knowledge that the recruitment was being made under the General Rules, the respondents had waived their right to question the advertisement or the methodology adopted by the Board for making selection and the learned Single Judge and the Division Bench of the High Court committed grave error by entertaining the grievance made by the respondents."

21. In view of the above, I am of the considered opinion that the petitioner after participation and defeating in the selection proceeding cannot take U turn by challenging the selection proceeding.

22. Accordingly, no ground has been made out for interference in the impugned order in exercise of power under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

23. The writ petition lacks merit and is hereby dismissed.

CIVIL SIDE

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUDHIR AGARWAL, J.

Writ A No. 61227 of 2009

The Union of India & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
Indrajeet & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri A.K. Gaur, Sri Rajnish Kumar Rai

Counsel for the Respondents:
S.C., Sri Ram Gopal Tripathi

A. Article 14 & 16 - Indian Constitution - positive concept - respondent's claim of parity with other selected candidates whose services were regularized by doing away with the typing skill qualification requirement is against the Circulars dated 07.04.1994 and 20.08.1997

The law as available or operating on the date of accrual of vacancies had to be applied. Admittedly, Board's Circular dated 07.04.1994. which provided for promotion from Group D to Group C Cadre was in force. Thus Railway Board's Circular dated 07.04.1994 was already operating which provided that typing skill is necessary qualification and same has to be acquired by promoted candidate. Therefore, applicant-respondents 1 & 2 could not have claimed exemption from aforesaid requirement i.e., typing skill in absence of any provision contemplating such exemption. (para 24)

B. Doctrine of sub silentio - doctrine of per incurium - does not lay a binding law - are exceptions to the rule of precedent Writ Petition Allowed.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sudhir Agarwal, J. & Hon'ble Rajeev Misra, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Rajnish Kumar Rai, learned counsel for petitioners and Mr. Ram Gopal Tripathi, learned counsel representing respondents -1 and 2.

2. This writ petition under Article 226 of Constitution of India has been filed against judgment and order dated 29.05.2009 passed by Central Administrative Tribunal, Allahabad Bench, Allahabad (hereinafter referred to as "Tribunal") in Original Application No. 734 of 2006 (Indrajeet and another Vs. The General Manager, North Eastern Railway and others) (hereinafter referred to as OA) whereby aforesaid OA filed by respondents-1 and 2 has been allowed with the following directions:

" 7. Accordingly, we find that orders dated 08.06.2006/ Annexure-12, 18.06.1998/ Annexure-4, 14.09.2000/ Annexure-5 AND 22.05.2000/ Annexure-6 cannot be sustained and are, accordingly, set aside, with direction to the respondents to consider the Applicants and all other persons, (who are similarly situated as the applicants), to be considered and treated similarly as jai Prakash, Nagendra Nath, Jai Singh and Ramphal Prasad and others as per order dated 03.06.2006 (Annexure-11-Compilation-II) and should not be compelled to rush to Tribunal/Court."

3. Case set up by applicants-respondents-1 and 2 is that they were initially appointed on the post of Khalasi which is a Group 'D' Cadre Post and working in North Eastern Railway, Gorakhpur. They were promoted on the post of Junior Clerks which fall in the cadre of Group-C, against vacancies, which occurred up to 31st March, 1997. Selection process commenced vide notification dated 20.08.1997. Applicants-respondents-1 and 2 were selected pursuant to aforesaid notification. Ultimately selections so made were notified on 29.05.1998. However, as applicants-respondents-1 and 2 did not possess typing qualification, their promotions were made provisional.

4. Applicants-respondents-1 and 2 claimed to be be exempted from typing test as per judgement of this Court in Writ Petition No. 65560 of 2005, Jai Prakash and others Vs. Central Administrative Tribunal, Allahabad Bench and others, decided on 17.10.2005. According to applicants-respondents-1 and 2, since similarly situated Group-D, employees namely Jai Prakash, Ramphal Prasad, Jai Singh and Nagendra Nath, who were also promoted as Junior Clerks from Group D, were exempted from typing test, they (applicants-respondents 1 and 2) were also entitled to the same benefit. Petitioners did not agree to aforesaid request of applicants- respondents-1 and 2. Therefore, applicant-respondents 1 and 2 filed O.S. No. 734 of 2006 (Indrajeet and another Vs. The General Manager, North Eastern Railway and others), which has been allowed vide judgement and order dated 29.05.2009. Thus feeling aggrieved by judgement and order dated 29.08.2009 passed by Tribunal, petitioners have now approached this Court by means of present writ petition.

5. Learned counsel for petitioners contended that prior to promotion of applicants-respondents-1 and 2, on the post of Junior Clerk, which is a Group-C post, there was already, in existence, a Railway Circular dated 07.04.1994 . Aforesaid Circular provides that typing skill is compulsory for the post of Junior Clerk in the Cadre of Group-C. Such candidates, who get selected for promotion to the post of Junior Clerk in Cadre of Group-C but do not possess typing skill, be granted provisional promotion and shall have to acquire typing skill within two years of promotion. Relevant extract of Circular dated 07.04.1994 reads as under:

" In case of promotion from group 'D' to group 'C' in the ministerial cadre and promotion of clerks as Senior Clerks against LDCE quota, the employees will henceforth be required to acquire the typing skill within a period of two years and their promotion will be provisional subject to acquiring the prescribed typing qualification within the stipulated period."

(Emphasis added)

6. The aforesaid Board's Circular was substituted by another Circular dated 20th August, 1997 wherein it was provided that in respect of all the vacancies of clerks, which fell vacant upto 31st March, 1997, selection for promotion from Group D to Group C employees shall be made after holding written test and Hindi or English typing test. It also provided that in case a candidate does not possess typing qualification, he will have to acquire the same within two years. The relevant extract of Board's Circular dated 20.08.1997 reads as under:-

" खण्ड "ग" – अभ्यार्थी को टंकण गति हिन्दी में 25 शब्द या अंग्रेजी में 30 शब्द प्रति मिनट होना चाहिए। इस मामले को रेल परिषद के पत्र सं0 ई (एन0जी0) 1–96/सी0एफ0पी0/19 दिनांक 03.02.1997 के अनुसार चयनित अभ्यर्थियों को दो वर्ष के अन्दर टंकण की अर्हता पूरी कर विभागीय टेस्ट में उत्तीर्ण होना पडेगा। जो असफल पाये जायेगें उन्हें पुनः उनके पूर्व पद पर पदावनीत कर पदस्थापित कर दिया जावेगा।

(Emphasis Added)

7. Applicants-respondents-1 and 2 appeared in the selection held in 1998 and were granted promotion on provisional basis.

8. The question whether applicants-respondents 1 and 2 were entitled for exemption from typing test has been answered by Tribunal in favour of applicant-respondents-1 and 2 by relying on the judgement dated 17.10.2005 of this Court in CMWP NO. 65560 of 2005 (Jai Prakash and others Vs. Central Administrative Tribunal, Allahabad Bench and others) wherein candidates promoted on the post of Junior Clerks (Group-C post) from Group -D posts were exempted from typing test. Accordingly, Tribunal held that applicants-respondents-1 and 2 are also entitled for the same protection as extended to other candidates by Railways granting exemption from typing test vide order dated 08.06.2006.

9. Learned counsel for petitioners submitted that High Court's judgement dated 02.09.2005 was passed in ignorance of Board's Circulars dated 07.04.1994 and 20.08.1997 as same were not placed before this Court. According to learned counsel for petitioners aforesaid Circulars, cover the field and very much in existence but unfortunately could not be considered. Therefore, aforesaid judgement in Jai Prakash and others (Supra) rendered by this Court is per incuriam. Even otherwise, if the view taken by this Court vide judgement dated 17th October, 2005, is applied, it covers vacancies which occurred upto 31.03.1997, and promotions made against such vacancies. In that eventuality, Board's Circular dated 20.08.1997 is liable to be ignored since it is a subsequent Law. While earlier vacancies shall be governed by old Rules new vacancies shall be governed by new Rules. Since on the date of accrual of vacancies, notification dated 20.08.1997 was not in existence, therefore same was not required to be complied with in respect of promotions made against earlier vacancies upto 30.03.1997.

10. Admittedly, Board's Circular dated 07.07.1994 was in force at the time of accrual of vacancies on 31.03.1997. Therefore, these vacancies were required to filled up in accordance with Board's Circular dated 07.07.1994. Since aforesaid circular clearly provided holding of typing test and in case, any candidate does not possess the same, he would be required to obtain typing skill within two years, it has to be followed and cannot be ignored.

11. Notification dated 20.08.1997 only reiterates the conditions prescribed in Board's Circular dated 07.07.1994. Thus typing skill was mandatory. Tribunal having ignored this aspect has erred in law in allowing O.A. filed by applicant-respondents1 and 2.

12. Mr. Ram Gopal Tripathi, learned counsel representing applicant-respondents-1 and 2 contends that since benefit has been granted to others, therefore, applicants-respondents-1 and 2 are also entitled to the same benefit but, we do not agree with the submission made by learned counsel for applicants-respondents-1 and 2.

13. Record reveals that even at the time of earlier judgement dated 02.05.2005 passed by this Court in Writ Petition No. 65560 of 2005, Board's Circular Dated 07.07.1994 was in existence and operating, but same was not considered by this Court. It appears that the same was not brought to the notice of this Court. Thus the above judgement suffers from the vice of per 'ignorantia' & per 'incuriam' or 'sub silentio' and cannot be held to be a binding law.

14. A decision passes sub silentio, in the technical sense that has come to be attached to that phrase, when the particular point of law involved in the decision is not perceived by the Court or present to its mind. This doctrine was referred to in Lancaster Motor Co. (London) Ltd. v. Bremith, Ltd., (1941) 1 KB 675. Earlier in Gerard v. Worth of Paris Ltd. (K), (1936) 2 All ER 905 the question of priority of claimant's debt was argued and only on this argument the order was passed by the Court. There was no consideration to the question whether a garnishee order could properly be made on an account standing in the name of the liquidator. In a subsequent case when this point was raised the Court held that the earlier decision would not be binding since the question that which it was confronted was not considered therein. Sir Wilfrid Greene, M. R., said that he could not help thinking that the point now raised had been deliberately passed sub silentio by counsel in order that the point of substance might be decided. He further observed that point had to be decided by the earlier Court before it could make the order which it did; nevertheless, since it was decided "without argument, without reference to the crucial words of the rule, and without any citation of authority", it was not binding and would not be followed. The Court said:

"Precedents sub silentio and without argument are of no moment."

15. This principle has been recognised and followed since then in several authorities and in India also.

16. In Salmond's Jurisprudence, 12th Edn., Professor P. J. Fitzgerald explains the concept of sub silentio in the following manner:

"A decision passes sub silentio, in the technical sense that has come to be attached to that phrase, when the particular point of law involved in the decision is not perceived by the Court or present to its mind. The Court may consciously decide in favour of one party because of point A, which it considers and pronounces upon. It may be shown, however, that logically the Court should not have decided in favour of the particular party unless it also decided point B in his favour; but point B was not argued or considered by the Court. In such circumstances, although point B was logically involved in the facts and although the case had a specific outcome, the decision is not an authority on point B. Point B is said to pass sub silentio."

17. This passage has been quoted as such with approval by Apex Court in Municipal Corporation of Delhi Vs.

Gurnam Kaur, AIR 1989 SC 38. Same principles has been followed in State of U.P. and Anr. Vs. Synthetics and Chemicals Ltd. and Anr., 1991(4) SCC 139; Arnit Das v. State of Bihar, AIR 2000 SC 2264; M/s. A-One Granites Vs. State of U.P. and others, AIR 2001 SC 1203; Bhavnagar University Vs. Palitana Sugar Mill Pvt. Ltd., AIR 2003 SC 511; Divisional Controller, K.S.R.T.C. Vs. Mahadeva Shetty, AIR 2003 SC 4172; Cement Corporation of India Ltd. Vs Purya & Ors., 2004 (8) SCC 270; Deb Narayan Shyam & Ors Vs. 18. This doctrine of sub silentio is an exception to the rule of precedent.

19. Then comes the doctrine of per incurium. What constitute "per incurium" need not detain our attention since time and again it has been explained by Apex Court. Recently a Full Bench of this Court in Farhat Hussain Azad Vs. State of U.P. and others, 2005 ALJ 647 after referring to the law with respect to "per incurium" laid down by Supreme Court in catena of decisions, has observed as under:-

"The concept of "per in curium" has been considered by the Apex Court time and again explaining that the expression means through inadvertence or a point of law is not consciously determined. If an issue is neither raised, nor argued, a decision by the Court after pondering over the issue in depth would not be precedent binding on the Courts. Per incurium are decisions given in ignorance or forgetfulness of some statutory provisions or where the Court omits to consider a binding precedent of the same Court or the superior Court rendered on the same issue or where Court presumes something contrary to the facts of the case. (Vide Mamleshwar Prasad & Anr. Vs. Kanahaiya Lal (Dead), (1975) 2 SCC 232; Rajpur Ruda Meha & Ors. Vs. State of Gujrat, AIR 1980 SC 1707; A.R. Antule Vs. R.S. Nayak, AIR 1988 SC 1531; Municipal Corporation of Delhi Vs. Gurnam Kaur, AIR 1989 SC 38; Punjab Land Development and Reclamation Corporation Ltd., Chandigarh Vs. Presiding Officer, Labour Court, Chandigarh & Ors., (1990) 3 SCC 682; State of West Bengal Vs. Synthetics and Chemicals Ltd., (1991) 1 SCC 139; Maharashtra State Cooperative Cotton Growers Marketing Federation Ltd & Anr. Vs. Employees' Union & Anr., 1994 Supp (3) SCC 385; Pawan Alloys & Casting Pvt Ltd, Meerut Vs. U.P. State Electricity Board & Ors., (1997) 7 SCC 251; Ram Gopal Baheti Vs. Girdharilal Soni & Ors., (1999) 3 SCC 112; Sarnam Singh Vs. Dy. Director of Consolidation & Ors., (1999) 5 SCC 638; Govt. of Andhra Pradesh Vs. B. Satyanarayana Rao, AIR 2000 SC 1729; Arnit Das Vs. State of Bihar (2000) 5 SCC 488; M/s. Fuerst Day Lawson Ltd. Vs. Jindal Exports Ltd., AIR 2001 SC 2293; A-One Granites Vs. State of U.P. & Ors., (2001) 3 SCC 537; Suganthi Suresh Kumar Vs. Jagdeeshan, AIR 2002 SC 681; Director of Settlements A.P. & Ors. Vs. M.R. Apparao & Anr., (2002) 4 SCC 638; S. Shanmugavel Nadar Vs. State of T.N & Anr.., (2002) 8 SCC 361; State of Bihar Vs. Kalika Kuer Kalika Singh & Ors., AIR 2003 SC 2443; and Manda Jaganath Vs. K.S. Rathnam & Ors., (2004) 7 SCC 492).

In B. Shyama Rao Vs. Union Territory of Pondichery & Ors., AIR 1967 SC 1480, the Constitution Bench of the Supreme Court observed as under:-

"It is trite to say that a decision is binding not because of its conclusions but in regard to its ratio and the principles, laid down therein."

In State of U.P. & Anr. Vs. Synthetics & Chemicals Ltd. & Anr. (1991) 4 SCC 139, the Apex Court followed the aforesaid judgment in B. Shyama Rao and held as under:-

"Any declaration or conclusion arrived without application of mind or proceeded without any reason cannot be deemed to be declaration of law or authority of a general nature binding as a precedent.....A conclusion without reference to relevant provision of law is weaker than even casual observation."

Similar view has been reiterated in Divisional Controller, KSRTC Vs. Mahadeva Shetty & Anr., (2003) 7 SCC 197, observing that casual expressions in a judgment carry no weight at all, nor every passing remark, however eminent, can be treated as an ex-cathedra statement having the weight of authority."

20. In N. Bhargavan Pillai Vs. State of Kerala, AIR 2004 SC 2317 (para 14) Court said that if a view has been expressed without analysing the statutory provision, it cannot be treated as a binding precedent and at the most is to be considered as having been rendered per incuriam. The same law has been reiterated in Faujdar Vs. Deputy Director of Education and others, 2006 (3) AWC 2243.

21. In Civil Misc. Writ Petition No. 47754 of 2005 (M/s J.K. Construction Engineers and others Vs. Union of India and others) decided on 28.02.2006, a Division Bench of this Court held:-

*"The doctrine of per incuriam is applicable where by inadvertence a binding precedent or relevant provisions of the Statute have not been noticed by the Court."...(Para 106)

22. Similar view has been taken by another Division Bench in Brahma Prakash Vs. State of U.P. & other- 2006 (2) ESC 1017. In para 40 of the judgment this Court held as under-

"Thus in view of aforesaid discussion, it is clear that while rendering the decision in Radha Krishna Gupta's case earlier Division Bench of this Court with all respect did neither ascertain the ratio of decisions referred in the judgment, nor discussed, as to how the factual situation fits in with the fact and situation of the decision on which reliance was placed. Contrary to it the decision of Hon'ble Apex Court which requires consideration of various factors in this regard, referred herein before in our judgment has been completely ignored by the Division Bench, therefore, being a decision given per incuriam, cannot be held to be binding authority under law."

23. In the judgements referred to above, the aforesaid doctrine of per incuriam has been discussed in detail and it has been held that a judgment per incuriam does not lay down a binding precedent.

19. Even otherwise, directive of the Tribunal reads as under:

" In view of the above, as the notification-dated 20.08.1997 does not operate retrospectively, the issue requires to be examined as on what date the vacancy occurred and then to proceed in accordance with law. In case, the vacancy had occurred prior to the date of issuance of the said notification, the respondents cannot insist for passing the typing test but if the vacancy occurred subsequent to the same, the judgement and order of the Tribunal does not require any interference."

(Emphasis Added)

24. Above quoted observation clearly reveals that the law as available or operating on the date of accrual of vacancies had to be applied. Admittedly, Board's Circulars dated 07.04.1994, which provided for promotion from Group D to Group C Cadre was in force. Thus Railway Board's Circular dated 07.04.1994 was already operating which provided that typing skill is a necessary qualification and same has to be acquired by promoted candidate. Therefore, applicants-respondents-1 and 2 could not have claimed exemption from aforesaid requirement i.e. typing skill in absence of any provision contemplating such exemption..

25. Tribunal has thus erred in law in exempting respondents 1 and 2 from typing test.

26. We also find that in a subsequent matter, a Division Bench in Jai Prakash and others Vs. Union of India and others, decided on 17.07.2018 had an occasion to examine this aspect and it has observed as under:

"No doubt, in the earlier round of litigation, the circular dated 7.4.1994 was not brought to the notice of either the Tribunal or the writ court and therefore the writ court, under the belief that on the date of vacancy, which was claimed to have arisen in the year 1997, there may not have been requirement to pass typing test had directed to consider eligibility for promotion as prevailing on the date of vacancy, but that, by itself, would not be a ground to ignore the existence of the circular dated 7.4.1994 when the same was produced in the second round of litigation. Moreover, the order of the High Court was complied by the railway administration by observing that the writ court's order was without taking cognizance of railway circular dated 7.4.1994 but in due respect to the writ court's order exemption from typing test was provided as a one time exemption. "

(Emphasis added)

27. Learned counsel appearing on behalf of applicants-respondents-1 and 2, then contended that since benefit of exemption has been granted to other selected candidates therefore, applicants-respondents-1 and 2 are also entitled to same benefit. It is further submitted that some other persons, who did not possess typing skill, have been regularized. Submission so made is wholly misconceived. We have already discussed the effect of Railway Board's Circular dated 07.04.1994 and also Circular dated 20.08.1997. Applicants-respondents-1 and 2 cannot claim any right dehors the aforesaid circulars. Applicants-respondents-1 and 2 are claiming perpetuity in illegality. It is well settled that two wrongs will not make one right. (See State of Bihar and others Vs. Kameshwar Prasad Singh and another, AIR 2000 SC 2306; Union of India and another Vs. International Trading Co. and another, AIR 2003 SC 3983; Lalit Mohan Pandey Vs. Pooran Singh and others, AIR 2004 SC 2303; M/s Anand Buttons Ltd. etc. Vs. State of Haryana and others, AIR 2005 SC 565; and Kastha Niwarak G. S. S. Maryadit, Indore Vs. President, Indore Development Authority, AIR 2006 SC 1142).

28. A Division Bench of this Court (in which one of us Hon'ble Sudhir Agarwal,J. was a member) in Special Appeal No.375 of 2005 Shiv Raj Singh Yadav Vs. State Of U.P. And Others, decided on 27.05.2011, has considered this aspect in detail and in paragraph no.22, has held:

"22. Once it is established that the petitioner had no legal right of regularisation, merely because some irregularities and illegalities have been observed by the respondents in some other cases with respect to regularisation, that would not confer any right upon the petitioner to claim parity. The right of equality under Article 14 and 16 of the Constitution is a positive concept and not a negative one. (See Post Master General, Kolkata and others Vs. Tutu Das, 2007(5) SCC 317; Punjab National Bank by Chairman and Anr. Vs. Astamija Dash, AIR 2008 SC 3182; Punjab State Electricity Board and others Vs. Gurmail Singh, 2008(7) SCC 245; M/s. Laxmi Rattan Cotton Mills Ltd. Vs. State of U.P. and others, 2009(1) SCC 565; Panchi Devi Vs. State of Rajasthan and others, 2009(2) SCC 589; State of Bihar Vs. Union of India and others, 2009(11) SCALE 731; Ghulam Rasool Lone Vs. State of J & K and others, JT 2009(13) SC 422."(Emphasis Added).

29. In the light of aforesaid, we find that impugned judgementand and order dated 29.05.2009 passed by Tribunal cannot be sustained. Writ petition is accordingly allowed. Judgment and order dated 29.05.2009 passed by Tribunal in O.A. No. 734 of 2006 (Indrajeet and another Vs. The General Manager, North Eastern Railway and others) is hereby set aside.

30. No costs.

CIVIL SIDE

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE YASHWANT VARMA, J.

Writ A No. 63167 of 2012

Ashok Kumar Srivastava ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Udayan Nandan, Sri Shashi Nandan

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

A. Service Law – Promotion - Uttar Pradesh Subordinate Excise Service Rules, 1992: Rules 5, 16, 27 – In the order impugned, the State Government on the recommendations of Excise Commissioner extended the benefit of Rule 5 to Senior Clerks, who had not completed the stipulated 10 years of service. As a result of which, the claim of petitioner for promotion which was duly considered and recommended could not be given effect to. The Court while quashing the impugned orders held as follows.

B. The power of relaxation as conferred by S. 27 is liable to be construed bearing in mind the language employed therein. It is evidently liable to be invoked where the particular rule or provision causes

"..undue hardship in any particular case". (Para 12)

The second key or means of guidance placed on the exercise of power is use of the phrase "in a just and equitable manner". The expression as used in the particular rule clearly bids the respondents to balance and bear in mind the competing rights and expectations of constituents of two separate cadres, namely, Senior and Junior Clerks. The power could not have been exercised in a manner that completely annihilated the right of Junior Clerks to be considered for promotion. (Para 14)

C. A power of relaxation cannot be employed as a tool or means to completely amend the intrinsic character or content of a statutory provision. The power to amend a statutory rule is clearly and must in law be held to be distinct from a power to relax. (Para 13)

Writ petition allowed. (E-4)

Petition challenges orders dated 20.09.2012 and 26.09.2012, passed by State Government and the Excise Commissioner respectively, and order dated 28.12.2012, passed by Excise Commissioner.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Yashwant Varma, J.)

1. Heard Sri Udayan Nandan, learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned Standing Counsel for the State respondents.

2. This writ petition challenges the orders dated 20 and 26 September 2012 passed by the State Government and the Excise Commissioner respectively. These orders essentially expanded the field of eligibility for Senior Clerks vying for promotion to the post of Excise Inspector and a consequential annulment of the recommendations framed by the Departmental Promotion Committee. A further relief is sought for quashing of proceedings of the fresh recommendations framed by the Departmental Promotion Committee pursuant to the orders aforementioned in its meeting held on 7 November 2012 as also for quashing of an order dated 28 December 2012 passed by the Excise Commissioner rejecting the representation of the petitioner.

3. Sri Nandan, learned counsel, however submits that he chooses to give up prayer (aaaa) subject to rights being reserved to assail the order of the State Government dated 20 September 2012 which contained the principal stipulation which is assailed and led to the denial of the claim of the petitioner for promotion. Sri Nandan further pressed the prayer with respect to grant of notional promotion to the petitioner on the post of Excise Inspector. The issue itself arises in the following backdrop.

4. The petitioner was appointed as a Junior Clerk in the Department of Excise. The relevant statutory rules which governed provide for accelerated promotion to the post of Excise Inspector. These Rules are titled the Uttar Pradesh Subordinate Excise Service Rules, 1992. Rule 5 thereof makes the following provisions:

"5. Source of Recruitment:- Recruitment to the various categories of posts in the service shall be made from the following sources:

1. Excise Inspector

(i). Eighty percent by direct recruitment.

(ii) Ten percent by promotion from amongst the permanent sub-excise Inspectors and

(iii) Ten percent by promotion from amongst such persons who are substantively appointed Senior Assistants and Stenographers

Grade- II of the Excise Department on the first day of the year of recruitment.

Provided that if in any year of recruitment sufficient number of suitable eligible persons are not available for promotion, the field of eligibility may be extended to include the following persons, in the order given below.

(a.) Substantively appointed Senior Clerks and Stenographers Grade-III, who have completed ten years service as such on the first day of the year of recruitment and

(b) Substantively appointed Junior Clerks, who have completed fifteen years service as such on the first day of the year of recruitment."

5. Pursuant to the provisions made in those Rules, the respondents initiated a process for effecting promotions to the post of Excise Inspector. The Departmental Promotion Committee is stated to have met on 14 August 2012 in which the claim of the petitioner for promotion was duly considered and recommended. The Excise Commissioner in terms of a communication of the same date is stated to have apprised the State Government that only 5 Senior Clerks were found eligible for promotion to the post of Excise Inspector. He accordingly recommended the State Government extending the benefit of Rule 5 by relaxing the minimum period of 10 years service as stipulated in respect of Senior Clerks. The recommendation itself appears to have been framed in the backdrop of the Proviso to Rule 5 that took care of a situation where adequate number of eligible persons were not found available for promotion. In that situation the Proviso envisaged that substantively appointed Senior Clerks who had completed 10 years of service would also be considered for promotion and thereafter substantively appointed Junior Clerks who had completed 15 years of service would also be entitled to be considered for promotion. The inter se consideration of Senior and Junior Clerks in terms of the Proviso is evidently controlled by the use of the phrase "...in the order given below". The provision manifests a clear intent to firstly consider all Senior Clerks who have completed 10 years of service and only thereafter to move further below and consider Junior Engineers with 15 years of service.

6. Pursuant to the recommendation made by the Excise Commissioner, the State Government passed an order on 20 September 2012. The directions as framed and insofar as they are relevant for the purposes of disposal of the instant writ petition read thus:

"इस सम्बन्ध में मुझे यह कहने का निर्देश हुआ है कि पूर्व की भाँती ऐसे वरिष्ठ लिपिक जितने 10 वर्ष की सेवा पूर्ण कर ली हो, वह आबकारी निरीक्षक के पद पर चयन हेतु पहले पात्र होगा । तत्पश्चात वह वरिष्ठतम लिपिक पात्र होगा जिसकी वरिष्ठ लिपिक के पद पर 10 वर्ष की विहित सेवावधि पूर्ण नहीं है किन्तु वह कनिष्ठ लिपिक के पद पर 15 वर्ष की सेवा पूर्ण कर चूका हो, अथवा वह वरिष्ठ लिपिक जिसकी सेवा वरिष्ठ एवं कनिष्ठ लिपिक दोनों पदों पर कुल 15 वर्ष से अधिक हो । तत्पश्चात वे कनिष्ठ लिपिक पात्र होंगे, जो 15 वर्ष की सेवा पूर्ण कर चुके हों ।"

7. The State Government bearing in mind the provisions made in Rule 5 and the recommendation of the Excise Commissioner provided that while initially all Senior Clerks having completed 10 years of service would be considered, thereafter it would be open for the respondents to also consider the case of those Senior Clerks who had while working as a Senior Clerk and Junior Clerk cumulatively completed 15 years of service. It basically extended the benefit to those Senior Clerks who had not completed 10 years of service as stipulated in Rule 5. While this controversy ensued, the petitioner retired on 31 October 2012 and it is in that backdrop that the prayer for notional promotion is addressed.

8. According to Sri Nandan while it was open for the State to relax a particular condition of service if the exigencies of the situation did so demand, that power could not be read as empowering the State Government to virtually amend the substantive rule itself and that too by way of an executive order. Referring to the power of relaxation as conferred on the State Government by virtue of Rule 27, Sri Nandan submitted that even that Rule could not have come to the aid of the State Government and in any case could not be read in support of the directions as framed in the impugned order of 20 September 2012. Rule 27 is extracted herein below:-

"27. Relaxation from the Conditions of Service:- Where the State Government is satisfied that the operation of any rule regulating the conditions of service of persons appointed to the service causes undue hardship in any particular case it may, notwithstanding anything contained in the rules applicable to the case, by order dispense with or relax the requirements of that rule to such extent and subject to such conditions as it may consider necessary for dealing with the case in a just and equitable manner."

9. According to Sri Nandan by way of the directions as framed in the impugned order of 20 September 2012, the entire construct of Rule 5 has been unsettled and various ineligible Senior Clerks were ultimately included in the field of eligibility as a consequence of which the recommendation of the Departmental Promotion Committee as framed on 14 August 2012 could not be given effect to.

10. Refuting those submission, learned Standing Counsel submitted that the State bearing in mind the recommendation of the Excise Commissioner and on finding that requisite number of Senior Clerks were not available was clearly justified in framing the directions as contained in the order dated 20 September 2012. According to the learned Standing Counsel the power as conferred by Rule 27 was validly exercised.

11. Before proceeding to deal with the rival submissions, it would also be relevant to bear in mind the provisions made in Rule 16, which envisages promotion being effected by the Committee on the relative assessment of the suitability of candidates on the basis of their service records. The Selection Committee was also granted the discretion, if thought necessary, to interview candidates.

12. Having noticed the rival submissions and the statutory regime which prevailed and governed, the Court finds substance in the submission advanced by Sri Nandan. The power of relaxation as conferred by Section 27 is liable to be construed bearing in mind the language employed therein. At the outset it is evidently liable to be invoked where the particular rule or provision causes ".. undue hardship in any particular case". The second key or means of guidance which is placed on the exercise of power under the rule is evidenced from the use of the phrase "in a just and equitable manner".

13. The impugned action fundamentally rests on the recommendation of the Excise Commissioner which in turn was based upon the Department noting that only 5 Senior Clerks were falling within the zone of consideration. While it may have been open to the State Government on a fundamental plane to relax the condition of 10 years of qualifying service, it clearly could not have been exercised in a manner which completely amended the rule of eligibility itself. As is manifest, the rule mandated the inclusion of only such Senior Clerks who had completed 10 years of service. It did not envisage the inclusion of Senior Clerks who had cumulatively put in 15 years of service in the cadre of Senior and Junior Clerks. A power of relaxation cannot be employed as a tool or means to completely amend the intrinsic character or content of a statutory provision. If the power to relax were to be construed in such a fashion, it would assume the character of a power to amend. The power to amend a statutory rule is clearly and must in law be held to be distinct from a power to relax.

14. The second reason why the Court finds itself unable to sustain the impugned action rests on the use of the phrase "in a just and equitable manner". The expression as used in the particular rule clearly bids the respondents to balance and bear in mind the competing rights and expectations of constituents of two separate cadres, namely, Senior and Junior Clerks. The power to relax consequently could not have been exercised in a manner that completely annulled or annihilated the right of Junior Clerks to be considered for promotion. Viewed in that light it is evident that the power to relax as conferred by Rule 27 was employed in a manner which completely effaced the right of consideration of Junior Clerks. The Court finds itself unable to recognise Rule 27 as extending to the framing of directions as contained in the impugned communication of the State Government. The impugned communication and the consequential decisions taken by the respondents thus cannot be sustained.

15. The Court notes that the petitioner does not seek quashing of the ultimate promotions which were effected. In that sense the promotion accorded to individuals shall remain unaffected. However, that does not detract from the right of the petitioner for being accorded notional promotion in light of the recommendations as framed by the Departmental Promotion Committee.

16. Accordingly, the instant writ petition is allowed. The impugned stipulation as contained in the Government Order of 20 September 2012 is quashed. The Court also sets aside the order dated 26 September 2012 by which the recommendations of the Departmental Promotion Committee were annulled insofar as the present petitioner is concerned. The Court also sets aside the order dated 28 December 2012 by which the claim of the petitioner was rejected by the Excise Commissioner. The respondents are consequently commanded to consider the recommendations of the Departmental Promotion Committee as formulated on 14 August 2012 and to consider the grant of notional promotion to the petitioner on the post of Excise Inspector with effect from 14 August 2012.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Neeraj Tiwari, J.)

1. Heard Sri Nisheeth Yadav, learned counsel for the petitioner and learned Standing Counsel for the respondents.

2. Pleadings have been exchanged between the parties. With the consent of parties, writ petition is being decided at the admission stage itself.

3. Learned counsel for the petitioner is assailing the impugned order dated 31.8.2009 by which he was terminated from service by exercising the power under Rule 8(2)(b) of the U.P. Police Officers of the Subordinate Ranks (Punishment and Appeal) Rules, 1991 (hereinafter referred to as Rules, 1991). He submitted that petitioner is having qualification of Intermediate and he was recruited as Police Constable on 11.12.1984. During the course of service, several disciplinary proceedings were initiated against him in which he was given minor punishment. He further submitted that there is allegation against the petitioner that he was off duty, he has taken excess liquor and scuffled with the colleagues and due to this reason, considering his past conduct, impugned order has been passed by exercising power under Rule 8(2)(b) of Rules, 1991. He next submitted that in case of termination/dismissal order passed under Rule 8(2)(b), it is required on the part of Disciplinary Authority to record reasons in writing that reasonably it is not practicable to hold inquiry. Rule 8(2)(b) of Rules, 1991 is pari materia to Article 311(2)(b) of the Constitution of India. He further submitted that no such reasons was recorded and only considering his past conduct, order of termination has been passed. He next submitted that in light of judgments of Apex Court in the cases of Indu Bhushan Dwivedi Vs. State of Jharkhand and another reported in 2010 (126) FLR 994 and Mohd Yunus Khan Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh and others reported in (2010) 10 SCC 539 wherein the Apex Court held that for imposing punishment, Disciplinary Authority cannot consider his past adverse record or punishment without giving him an opportunity to explain his position. Lastly, he submitted that in case reasons are not recorded, order passed under Rule 8(2)(b) of Rules, 1991 is bad and liable to be set aside.

4. In support of his contention, he has placed reliance upon the judgments of Apex Court as well as this Court in the cases of Union of India and another v. Tulsiram Patel; AIR 1985 SC 1416, Chief Security Officer and others v. Singasan Rabi Das; 1991 (1) SCC 729, Jaswant Singh Vs. State of Punjab and others; (1991) 1 SCC 362, Bishambher Singh Bhadoria Vs. State of U.P. and others; 2008(4) ESC 2872 All, Sudesh Kumar v. State of Haryana and others; (2005) 11 SCC 525, Raksh Pal Singh Vs. State of U.P. and another; 2009 (5) ADJ 735 and Yadunath Singh Vs. State of U.P. and others; 2009 (9) ADJ 86 (DB) in which Courts have held that even if reason is assigned that has to be based on germane grounds and not ipse dixit of the disciplinary authority. It has to be supported by the evidence.

5. Learned Standing Counsel appearing for the respondents submitted that considering the past conduct of petitioner, there is no need to conduct enquiry and order has rightly been passed by exercising power under Rule 8(2)(b) of Rules, 1991, therefore, there is no illegality in the order and Disciplinary Authority has rightly passed the order.

6. I have considered the rival submissions made by the learned counsel for the parties and perused the judgments relied upon by the learned counsel for the parties.

7. The facts of the case are not disputed. Even in the counter affidavit, there is no denial of the fact that as required under Rule 8(2)(b) of Rules, 1991 reasons have not been recorded by the Disciplinary Authority while passing the impugned order.

8. Rule 8(2)(b) of Rules, 1991 as well as Article 311 (2)(b) of Constitution of India reads as under:-

Rule 8(2)(b) of Rules, 1991

"8 (2)(b) Where the authority empowered to dismiss or remove a person or to reduce him in rank is satisfied that for some reason to be recorded by that authority in writing, it is not reasonably practicable to hold such inquiry."

Article 311 (2)(b) of Constitution of India

"311 (2)(b) Where the authority empowered to dismiss or remove a person or to reduce him in rank is satisfied that for some reason to be recorded by that authority in writing, it is not reasonably practicable to hold such inquiry."

9. By perusal of Rule 8(2)(b) of Rules, 1991 as well as Article 311 (2)(b) of Constitution of India, it is absolutely clear that while dispensing with the inquiry, it is necessary to record reasons in writing.

10. The issues, whether on the basis of past service record any punishment order can be passed or not and recording reasons to dispense with the inquiry as provided under Rule 8 (2)(b) of Rules, 1991 as well as Article 311 (2)(b) of the Constitution of India came many times before this Court as well as Apex Court and Courts have decided the same.

11. The Apex Court in the matter of Indu Bhushan Dwivedi (Supra) has clearly held that if any employee is found guilty of misconduct, Disciplinary Authority cannot consider his past adverse record for punishment without giving opportunity of hearing. Relevant paragraph no.20 of the said judgment is being quoted hereinbelow:-

"20. An analysis of the two judgments shows that while recommending or imposing punishment on an employee, who is found guilty of misconduct, the disciplinary/competent authority cannot consider his past adverse record or punishment without giving him an opportunity to explain his position and considering his explanation. However, such an opportunity is not required to be given if the final punishment is lesser than the proposed punishment."

12. Again in the matter of Mohd Yunus Khan (Supra), Supreme Court reiterated the same ratio of law. Relevant paragraph no.34 of the said judgment is being quoted hereinbelow:-

"34. The courts below and the statutory authorities failed to appreciate that if the disciplinary authority wants to consider the past conduct of the employee in imposing a punishment, the delinquent is entitled to notice thereof and generally the charge-sheet should contain such an article or at least he should be informed of the same at the stage of the show cause notice, before imposing the punishment."

13. Apex Court in the matter of Tulsiram Patel (Supra) has considered and ruled that while dispensing with the inquiry it is incumbent upon the authority to record reasons as to why inquiry is reasonably not practicable to hold. Relevant paragraph is being quoted hereinbelow:-

"The language precedent for the application of clause(b) the satisfaction of the disciplinary authority that "it is not reasonably practicable to hold" the inquiry contemplated by clause (2) of Article 311...

"Thus, whether it was practicable to hold the inquiry or not must be judged in the context of whether it was reasonably practicable to do so. It is not a total or absolute impracticability, which is required by clause (b). What is requisite is that the holding of the inquiry is not practicable in the opinion of a reasonable man taking a reasonable view of the prevailing situation."

".....The reasonable practicability of holding an inquiry is a matter of assessment to be made by the disciplinary authority."

".....A disciplinary authority is not expected to dispense with a disciplinary inquiry lightly or arbitrarily or out of ulterior motives or merely in order to avoid the holding of an inquiry or because the Department's case against the Government servant is weak and must fail."

14. The Supreme Court further held:-

"The second condition necessary for the valid application of clause (b) of the second proviso is that the disciplinary authority should record in writing its reason for its satisfaction that it was not reasonably practicable to hold the inquiry contemplated by Article 311(2). This is a Constitutional obligation and if such reason is not recorded in writing, the order dispensing with the inquiry and the order of penalty following thereupon would both be void and unconstitutional.

It is obvious that the recording in writing of the reason for dispensing with the inquiry must precede the order imposing the penalty."

15. The Supreme Court further went on to say:-

"If the Court finds that the reasons are irrelevant, then the recording of its satisfaction by the disciplinary authority would be an abuse of power conferred upon it by clause (b) and would take the case out of the purview of that clause and the impugned order of penalty would stand invalidated."

16. In Chief Security Officer (Supra), the Supreme Court held that there was a total absence of sufficient material or good ground for dispensing with the inquiry and accordingly held that the order of termination dispensing with the inquiry was illegal.

17. In the matter of Jaswant Singh (Supra), the Supreme Court held:-

"It was incumbent on the respondents to disclose to the Court the material in existence at the date of the passing of the impugned order in support of the subjective satisfaction recorded by respondent No.3, in the impugned order. Clause (b) of the second proviso to Article 311(2) can be invoked only when the authority is satisfied from the material place before him that it is not reasonably practicable to hold a departmental inquiry."

18. The Supreme Court further held:

"The decision to dispense with the departmental inquiry cannot, therefore, be rested solely on the ipse dixit of the concerned authority. When the satisfaction of the concerned authority is questioned in a Court of law, it is incumbent on those who support the order to show that the satisfaction is based on certain objective facts and is not the outcome of the whim of caprice of the concerned officer."

19. Following the judgments of Apex Court, this Court in the matter of Bishambher Singh Bhadoria (Supra) has allowed the writ petition by quashing the order of termination. Relevant paragraphs no. 13 & 14 of the said judgment are being quoted hereinbelow:-

"13. In view of the aforesaid, I am of the opinion that the impugned order of termination does not contain sufficient reasons for dispensing with the inquiry. The charges so leveled are such that it can easily be enquired through a departmental enquiry. It is not a case where it could be said that it was not reasonably practicable to hold an inquiry. In my opinion, the decision of the disciplinary authority was wholly arbitrary. The reasons given for dispensing with the enquiry was wholly irrelevant. I am of the view that the disciplinary authority has misused the provision of Rule 8(2)(b) of the Rules. Similar view was taken by me in Dharam Pal Singh Vs. State of U.P. And others, 2005(1) ESC 566 and in writ petition No.33057 of 2006, Virendra Kumar Premi v. State of U.P. And another, decided on 7.8.2008.

14. In view of the aforesaid, the exercise of the powers under Rule 8(2)(b) of the Rules was totally arbitrary. Consequently, the impugned order terminating the services of petitioners cannot be sustained and is quashed. The writ petitions are allowed and the matter is remitted to the authority to proceed from the stage prior to passing of the impugned order and conclude the inquiry and pass a final order within six months from the date of the production of a certified copy of this order."

20. In the matter of Sudesh Kumar (Supra), the Supreme Court observed as follows:-

"It is now established principle of law that an inquiry under Article 311(2) is a rule and dispensing with the inquiry is an exception. The authority dispensing with the inquiry under Article 311(2)(b) must satisfy for reasons to be recorded that it is not reasonably practicable to hold an inquiry. A reading of the termination order by invoking Article 311(2)(b), as extracted above, would clearly show that no reasons whatsoever have been assigned as to why it is not reasonably practicable to hold an inquiry. The reasons disclosed in the termination order are that the complainant refused to name the accused out of fear of harassment; the complainant, being a foreign national, is likely to leave the country and once he left the country, it may not be reasonably practicable to bring him to the inquiry. This is no ground for dispensing with the inquiry. On the other hand, it is not disputed that, by order dated 23-12-1999, the visa of the complainant was extended up to 22-12-2000. Therefore, there was no difficulty in securing the presence of Mr Kenichi Tanaka in the inquiry.35

A reasonable opportunity of hearing enshrined in Article 311(2) of the Constitution would include an opportunity to defend himself and establish his innocence by cross-examining the prosecution witnesses produced against him and by examining the defence witnesses in his favour, if any. This he can do only if inquiry is held where he has been informed of the charges levelled against him. In the instant case, the mandate of Article 311(2) of the Constitution has been violated depriving reasonable opportunity of being heard to the appellant."

21. Following the judgment of Apex Court in the matter of Raksh Pal Singh (Supra), this Court observed as follows:-

"10. In the present case the order passed by the Superintendent of Police, Badaun does not give any reason as to why it was not reasonable practicable to hold the inquiry. The impugned order merely refers to the charges leveled against the petitioner but is delightfully vague about the statutory requirement contained in the second proviso to Rule 8(2) of the 1991 Rules relating to dispensing with the inquiry. In such circumstances, the order dated 19th January, 2001 passed by the Superintendent of Police cannot be sustained."

22. Similarly again placing reliance upon the judgments of Apex Court, this Court in the matter of Yadunath Singh (Supra) has observed as follows:-

"4. It is common ground that the service of the writ petitioner-appellant is governed by the Uttar Pradesh Police Officers of the Subordinate Ranks (Punishment and Appeal) Rules, 1991 (hereinafter referred to as "the Rules"). Rule 8 of the aforesaid Rules provides for dismissal and removal of police officers of the subordinate rank only after proper inquiry. However, proviso (b) to Rule 8 (2) contemplates that where the government is satisfied, that in the interest of the security of the State, it is not expedient to hold such inquiry, it can be dispensed with. It further provides that where the authority empowered to dismiss or remove a person or to reduce him in rank is satisfied that for some reason to be recorded by that authority in writing, it is not reasonably practicable to hold such an inquiry, it may dispense with the inquiry. Here in the present case, the disciplinary had recorded its satisfaction but it is well settled that satisfaction has to be based on germane grounds and not ipse dixit of the disciplinary authority. Here the only ground to dispense with the inquiry is that if writ petitioner-appellant is allowed to continue in service, a departmental inquiry shall consume sufficient time and, therefore, such continuance will have ground recorded by the disciplinary authority while dispensing with the inquiry is not germane nor is it on any material that may be relevant, as such, the ground set forth cannot justify dispensing the inquiry at all."

5. The provisions contained under Rule 8 (2(b) have been incorporated keeping in view the provisions of Article 311 (2)(b) of the Constitution of India. The power conferred on the authority to dispense with an inquiry in a given situation where it is reasonably not practicable to hold an inquiry, has been envisaged therein. The Apex Court in the case of Union of India and another v. Tulsi Ram Patel, (1985) 3 SCC 398, had the occasion to consider the scope of the aforesaid provision and the Apex Court laid down the test of reasonableness in the said case to be reflected by the authority while proposing to dispense with an inquiry. Paragraph 130 of the said decision is reproduced below:-

"130 The condition precedent for the application of clause (b) is the satisfaction of the disciplinary authority that "it is not reasonably practicable to hold" the inquiry contemplated by clause (2) of Article 311. What is pertinent to note that the words used are "not reasonably practicable" and not "impracticable". According to the Oxford English Dictionary "practicable" means "Capable of being put into practice, carried out in action, effected accomplished, or done; feasible. Webster's Third New International Dictionary defines the word "practicable" inter alia as meaning "possible to practice or perform: capable of being put into practice, done or accomplished: feasible". Further, the words used are not "not practicable" but "not reasonably practicable". Webster's Third New International Dictionary defines the word "reasonably" as "in a reasonable manner : to a fairly sufficient extent". Thus, whether it was practicable to hold the inquiry or not must be judged in the context of whether it was reasonably practicable to do so. It is not a total or absolute impracticability which is required by clause (b). What is requisite is that the holding of the inquiry is not practicable in the opinion of a reasonable man taking a reasonable view of the prevailing situation. It is not possible to enumerate the cases in which it would not be reasonably practicable to hold the inquiry, but some instances by way of illustration may, however, be given. It would not be reasonably practicable to hold an inquiry where the government servant, particularly through or together with his associates, so terrorizes, threatens or intimidate witnesses who are going to give evidence against him with fear of reprisal as to prevent them from doing so or where the government servant by himself or together with or through other threatens, intimidates and terrorizes the Officer who is the disciplinary authority or member of his family so that he is afraid to hold the inquiry or direct it to be held. It would also not be reasonably practicable to hold the inquiry where an atmosphere of violence or of general indiscipline and insubordination prevails, and it is immaterial whether the concerned government servant is or is not a party to bringing about such an atmosphere. In this connection, we must bear in mind that numbers coerce and terrify while an individual may not. The reasonable practicability of holding an inquiry is a matter of assessment to be made by the disciplinary authority. Such authority is generally on the spot and knows what is happening. It is because the disciplinary authority is the best judge of this that clause (3) of Article 311 makes the decision of the disciplinary authority on this question final. A disciplinary authority is not expected to dispense with a disciplinary inquiry lightly or arbitrarily or out of ulterior motives or merely in order to avoid the holding of an inquiry or because the Department's case against the government servant is weak and must fail. The finality given to the decision of the disciplinary authority by Article 311(3) is not binding upon the court so far its power of judicial review is concerned and in such a case the court will strike down the order dispensing with the inquiry as also the order imposing penalty. The case of Arjun Chaubey v. Union of India is an instance in point."

The ratio of the decision in Tulsiram Patel's case (supra) has been further explained in paragraph 128 to 132, 133, 135, 138 and 141. Applying the aforesaid test, in the present case, the question is as to whether the loss of rifle carried by the petitioner makes out a situation for not holding an enquiry. The reason given in the impugned order that the continuance of the petitioner in service would have an adverse moral effect has absolutely no rational connection with the subject matter of inquiry. Whether the rifle was lost in transit by the petitioner or not could have been enquired into and it is not the case of the respondent that there was any threat to security or anything otherwise which may obstruct the smooth holding of an inquiry. The reason given in the impugned order, therefore, proceeds on an assumption which cannot be accepted as reasonable. It cannot stand the scrutiny as indicated by the Apex Court in the decision of Tulsi Ram Patel (supra) and we are, therefore, unable to approve the same.

23. From the perusal of judgments referred in above, this fact is very much clear that order of termination cannot be passed on the basis of punishment or past service record without providing opportunity of hearing and further while passing any order under Rule 8(2)(b) of Rules, 1991 reasons have to be recorded by authority in writing as to why inquiry is not reasonably practicable.

24. In the present case, there is no dispute that while passing the impugned order, no reasons have been recorded and it is passed only on the basis of previous service record, which is contrary to the provisions of Rule 8(2)(b) of Rules, 1991 as well as Article 311(2)(b) of the Constitution of India. The Court has repeatedly held that order cannot be passed on the basis of previous service record as well as without recording reasons. Not only this Court had gone to the extent that in case reasons are recorded that must be satisfactory and mere formality of recording reasons cannot be accepted.

25. Therefore, in light of factual and legal discussions made hereinabove, impugned order dated 31.8.2009 is bad in law and is hereby set aside.

26. Accordingly, the writ petition is allowed. No order as to costs.

1. Heard Shri Sanjeev Kumar Pandey, learned counsel for the petitioner, learned Standing Counsel for respondent nos.1, 3 and 4 and Shri Wasim Masood Khan holding brief of Shri Anil Tiwari, learned counsel appearing for the respondent No.2.

2. The present writ petition has been filed by the petitioner with the following prayer;

"(i) To issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari for quashing the order dated 13.06.2018 and 29.06.2018 passed by U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Lucknow and citation dated 22.08.2019 issued by Tehsildar, Dadri, District Gautam Budhh Nagar.

(ii) Issue any other writ, order or direction as this Hon'ble Court may deem fit and proper in the facts and circumstances of the case;

(iii) Award the cost of the writ petition to the petitioner."

3. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the petitioner is a private limited company under the Companies Act, 1956 and petitioner is dealing in Real-Estate, which provides facility of constructed Flats to public at large and has been developing Group Housing Project under the name and style of "MGI Maple" in Govindpuram, Gautam Budh Nagar. The company obtained 'No Objection Certificate' from the concerned authorities including the Development Autuority of Gautam Budh Nagar.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioner further submits that the respondent no.5 purchased a Flat in the petitioner's project but due to unavoidable circumstances, the petitioner could not deliver the possession of the Flat. However, without waiting for sometime, the respondent no.5 filed a complaint before the Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar, which was registered as Complaint No.1120172878 by which respondent No.5 demanded his amount with 24% annual interest on the ground that project of the petitioner is now cancelled. The U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar has passed the impugned orders dated 13.06.2018 and modified order dated 29.06.2018, by which a direction was issued to the petitioner to repay all the amount deposited by the respondent no.5 with MCLR+1 percent interest from the date of deposit till the date of payment of the amount, copy of the order dated 13.06.2018 and 29.06.2018 passed by the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar is filed as Annexure No.3 to the writ petition.

5. Learned counsel for the petitioner further submits that in the first prayer the date of impugned order is wrongly transcribed as 29.06.2012 in place of 29.06.2018. He prays and allowed to correct the date of impugned order dated 29.06.2018.

6. Learned counsel for the petitioner further argued that the orders dated 13.06.2018 and 29.6.2018 passed by the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar is without jurisdiction and the same is liable to be quashed on the ground that the order was not passed by the Competent Authority and the same is passed by one member which is against the provision of Section 21 of the Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act, 2016 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Act, 2016"), which provides the composition of authority and as per section 21, the authority shall consist of a Chairperson and not less than two whole-time members to be appointed by the appropriate Government and therefore, the impugned order dated 13.06.2018 and 29.06.2018 were not passed as per Section 21 of the Act, 2016 and further he submits that the order is ex parte order.

7. Learned counsel for the petitioner further argued that the impugned order is arbitrary, illegal and not sustainable in the eyes of law and U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar has committed gross illegality while passing the impugned orders.

8. Learned counsel for the petitioner further argued that in pursuance of the order dated 13.06.2018 and 29.06.2018 passed by the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar, a recovery certificate was issued for a tune of Rs.6,55,764.26 against the petitioner, which has been sent to the Collector, Gautam Budh Nagar for realization from the petitioner. Thereafter, Tehsildar, Dadri, Gautam Budh Nagar has issued citation dated 22.08.2019 for recovery of the above amount. The recovery certificate and citation issued are also illegal, arbitrary and not sustainable in the eyes of law.

9. Shri Wasim Masood Khan, learned counsel for the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar, Respondent No.2 countered all the arguments raised by the learned counsel for the petitioner and submitted that the orders passed by the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar dated 13.06.2018 and 29.06.2018 are rightly passed by the single member and there is no illegality in passing the said orders and the orders are not without jurisdiction in view of the provisions contained under Section 81 of the Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act, 2016, wherein it speaks about the 'delegation', which says that "The Authority may, by general or special order in writing, delegate to any member, officer of the Authority or any other person subject to such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the order, such of its powers and functions under this Act (except the power to make regulations under section 85), as it may deem necessary."

10. Shri Wasim Masood Khan, learned counsel further submits that in view of Section 81 of the Act, the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority in its 5th meeting dated 05.12.2019 delegated the power as per Agenda No.1, to a single member to hear the cases on the basis of the complaint in both the Benches sitting at Lucknow and Gautam Budh Nagar, therefore, the single member has full jurisdiction to decide the cases on the basis of complaint filed before the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority and the objection raised by the counsel for the petitioner has no valid reason in the eyes of law and the impugned order passed by the single member is valid and in accordance with law and the same could not be said to be passed without jurisdiction, no interference is required by this Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India and the present writ petition is liable to be dismissed. He has placed the copy of the minutes of fifth meeting dated 05.12.2018 of the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority before the Court, the same is taken on record.

11. Learned counsel for the respondent No.2 further brought our attention towards Sections 18, 34, 38, 40 and 71 of the Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act, 2016 and Clause 9.2(ii) of the form of agreement contained in the Annexure to the U.P. Real Estate Regulation (Agreemet for sale/lease) Rule, 2018 for adjudication of the present case.

12. Learned Standing Counsel who represent respondent Nos. 1, 3 and 4 also supports the case argued by Shri Wasim Masood Khan, learned counsel for the respondent No.2 and submitted that the impugned orders were rightly passed by single member and no interference is required by this Court.

13. We have heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the record, in our view before dealing the case on merit, it is necessary to code the provisions of Sections 18, 34, 38, 40, 71 and 81 of the Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act, 2016, which help us for adjudicating the present case.

Section 18. Return of amount and compensation- "(1) If the promoter fails to complete or is unable to give possession of an apartment, plot or building,--

(a) in accordance with the terms of the agreement for sale or, as the case may be, duly completed by the date specified therein; or

he shall be liable on demand to the allottees, in case the allottee wishes to withdraw from the project, without prejudice to any other remedy available, to return the amount received by him in respect of that apartment, plot, building, as the case may be, with interest at such rate as may be prescribed in this behalf including compensation in the manner as provided under this Act:

(2) The promoter shall compensate the allottees in case of any loss caused to him due to defective title of the land, on which the project is being developed or has been developed, in the manner as provided under this Act, and the claim for compensation under this subsection shall not be barred by limitation provided under any law for the time being in force.

(2) The Authority shall be guided by the principles of natural justice and, subject to the other provisions of this Act and the rules made thereunder, the Authority shall have powers to regulate its own procedure.

(3) Where an issue is raised relating to agreement, action, omission, practice or procedure that--

(a) has an appreciable prevention, restriction or distortion of competition in connection with the development of a real estate project; or

(b) has effect of market power of monopoly situation being abused for affecting interest of allottees adversely, then the Authority, may suo motu, make reference in respect of such issue to the Competition Commission of India"

"Section 40. Recovery of interest or penalty or compensation and enforcement of order, etc.- (1) If a promoter or an allottee or a real estate agent, as the case may be, fails to pay any interest or penalty or compensation imposed on him, by the adjudicating officer or the Regulatory Authority or the Appellate Authority, as the case may be, under this Act or the rules and regulations made thereunder, it shall be recoverable from such promoter or allottee or real estate agent, in such manner as may be prescribed as an arrears of land revenue.

(2) If any adjudicating officer or the Regulatory Authority or the Appellate Tribunal, as the case may be, issues any order or directs any person to do any act, or refrain from doing any act, which it is empowered to do under this Act or the rules or regulations made thereunder, then in case of failure by any person to comply with such order or direction, the same shall be enforced, in such manner as may be prescribed."

Section 71 "Power to adjudicate" -

(1) For the purpose of adjudging compensation under sections 12, 14, 18 and section 19, the Authority shall appoint in consultation with the appropriate Government one or more judicial officer as deemed necessary, who is or has been a District Judge to be an adjudicating officer for holding an inquiry in the prescribed manner, after giving any person concerned a reasonable opportunity of being heard:

Provided that any person whose complaint in respect of matters covered under sections 12, 14, 18 and section 19 is pending before the Consumer Disputes Redressal Forum or the Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission or the National Consumer Redressal Commission, established under section 9 of the Consumer Protection Act, 1986, on or before the commencement of this Act, he may, with the permission of such Forum or Commission, as the case may be, withdraw the complaint pending before it and file an application before the adjudicating officer under this Act.

(2) The application for adjudging compensation under sub-section (1), shall be dealt with by the adjudicating officer as expeditiously as possible and dispose of the same within a period of sixty days from the date of receipt of the application:

Provided that where any such application could not be disposed of within the said period of sixty days, the adjudicating officer shall record his reasons in writing for not disposing of the application within that period.

(3) While holding an inquiry the adjudicating officer shall have power to summon and enforce the attendance of any person acquainted with the facts and circumstances of the case to give evidence or to produce any document which in the opinion of the adjudicating officer, may be useful for or relevant to the subject matter of the inquiry and if, on such inquiry, he is satisfied that the person has failed to comply with the provisions of any of the sections specified in sub-section (1), he may direct to pay such compensation or interest, as the case any be, as he thinks fit in accordance with the provisions of any of those sections."

"Section 81. Delegation.- The Authority may, by general or special order in writing, delegate to any member, officer of the Authority or any other person subject to such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the order, such of its powers and functions under this Act (except the power to make regulations under section 85), as it may deem necessary."

14. From the arguments raised by the learned counsel for the petitioner and admission made in the paragraph No. 35 of the writ petition, it is not disputed that the respondent No.5 has booked his Flat on 28.12.2012 in the petitioner project, apart from petitioner 280 other persons also booked the Flats and it is also not disputed that from that date till filing of the present writ petition, the petitioner has not delivered the possession of the Flat to respondent No.5 and due to arbitrary and illegal action of the petitioner, respondent No.5 filed the complaint before the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar as per the provision of the Act, 2016 regarding his grievances and after considering the grounds raised in the complaint, the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar passed the impugned orders dated 13.6.2018 and 29.6.2018 directing the petitioner to refund the entire amount deposited by the respondent no. 5 along with MCLR+1 per cent interest within 45 days. When the said amount was not paid by the petitioner to the respondent No.5, the recovery certificate was issued and thereafter a citation was issued for a sum of Rs.6,55,764.26 plus other charges.

15. We have no hesitation to say that the petitioner has received the cost of the Flat from the respondent No.5 but was adopting delaying tactics for not giving the possession of the Flat to the respondent No.5 and also keeping the money of respondent no.5 since 2012. The respondent No.5 was running from pillar to post for taking possession of the Flat, the action of the petitioner appears to be illegal, arbitrary and with a bad intention to grab the entire amount of the respondent No.5, for this action of the petitioner, this Court will not shut its eye. It is also not out of place to mention here that in the society were we are living having own shelter, the common people has to invest their entire saving with the hope to live remaining life in their own house with mental satisfaction, but the builders like petitioner is throwing the hope and feelings of purchaser, like a hot potato in the hand.

16. We are further not inclined to interfere in the impugned orders on the ground taken by the learned counsel for the petitioner that the order passed by a single member is without jurisdiction as contemplated under Section 21 of the Act and has not been passed in accordance with the provisions of Section 21 of the Act. The arguments of the learned counsel for the petitioner appears us to be misconceived. The proposition of Section 21 is not that the complaint could not be decided by a single member of the Authority, whereas it could be decided by a single member or by two members, whichever is better in the interest of justice as per availability of the members and we further observed that Section 81 of the Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act, 2016 provides "delegation", which says that "The Authority may, by general or special order in writing, delegate to any member, officer of the Authority or any other person subject to such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the order, such of its powers and functions under this Act (except the power to make regulations under section 85), as it may deem necessary" and having regard to the provision of Section 81 of the Real Estate (

Regulation and Development) Act, 2016, the authority vide their 5th meeting dated 5.12.2018 as per Agenda 1 delegated the power to a single member to decide the cases in both the Benches sitting at Lucknow and Gautam Budh Nagar, the delegation of power of the 5th meeting dated 5.12.2018 of U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority is quoted as under:

17. Therefore, in view of the provision contained under Section 81 of the Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act, 2016 and as per decision taken by the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority in Agenda No.1 of meeting dated 05.12.2018 the impugned orders dated 13.6.2018 and 29.06.2018 passed by the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar has been rightly passed by the single member and the arguments raised by learned counsel for the petitioner that the impugned order was passed without jurisdiction has no force and is declined. In support of the his arguments, learned counsel for the petitioner referred the judgment passed by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Standard Chartered Bank Vs. Dharminder Bhohi and others, reported in (2013) 15 SCC 341 and attention of the Court was brought on para no.38 of the aforesaid judgment, which is quoted as under:-

"38. Section 34 of RDB Act provides that the said Act would have overriding effect. We have referred to the aforesaid provisions to singularly highlight that the sacrosanct between the banks and the borrowers and any third party who has acquired any interest. They have been conferred jurisdiction by special legislations to exercise a particular power in a particular mannter as provided under the Act. They cannot assume the role of a court of different nature which really can grant " liberty to initiate any action against the bank". They are only required to decide the lis that comes within their own domain. If it does not fall within their sphere of jurisdiction they are required to say so. Taking note of a submission made at the behest of the auction-purchaser and then proceed to say that he is at liberty to file any action against the bank for any omission committed by it has no sanction of law. The said observation is wholly bereft of jurisdiction, and indubitably is totally unwarranted in the obtaining factual matrix. Therefore, we have no hesitation in deleting the observation, namely, "liberty is also given to the auction-purchaser to file action against the bank for any omission committed by it."

18. Learned counsel for the petitioner further referred the decision of Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of V.K. Ashokan vs. Assistant Excise Commissioner and others, (2009) 14 SCC 85 and drawn our attention on paragraph no. 42 of the judgment, which is quoted as under:-

"Functions of the Board and/or its power under the Act have not been specified under the Act. The Board, indisputably, derives its power to act in a supervisory capacity only in terms of the provisions of the Kerala Board of Revenue Act and not under the said Act. Board, thus, did not have any supervisory jurisdiction under the Act, apart from the functions of the Excise Commissioner as contained in the provisions of Section 4(b) of the Act. Even otherwise, the Board vis-a-vis the Excise Commissioner does not have any power to take cognizance of a matter suo motu. It is accepted at the Bar that only when the question as regards confirmation of the resale was placed before the Commissioner of Excise, he purported to have noticed that apart from violating the conditions of licence as also the Rules wherefor proceedings for cancellation of licence was initiated, appellants have also allegedly failed and/or neglected to pay their kist and as such they made themselves liable for action in terms of Section 6(28) of the Rules. It is neither denied nor disputed that apart from the lack of inherent jurisdiction to initiate such a suo motu proceeding, neither any notice was issued to the licensees nor any proceeding was initiated therefor. The principles of natural justice had, thus, not been complied with."

19. We have gone through the judgments cited by the learned counsel for the petitioner. With due regard to the aforesaid judgments, we say that they are not applicable in the facts and circumstances of the present case, we further say that the merits of the case would be sustained, even in absence of jurisdiction and learned counsel for petitioner fails to demonstrate that the impugned orders were passed in breach of the legal proposition of law and is without jurisdiction and is against the principles of natural justice.

20. Learned counsel for the respondent no.2 draw our attention of the Hon'ble Apex Court judgment passed in the case of Union of India and another Vs. Association of United Teelecom Service Providers of India and others, (2011) 10 SCC 543 and referred paragraph nos.63 and 67 of the aforesaid judgment, which are quoted as under:-

"63. Section 14 (a)(i) of the TRAI Act, as we have seen, provides that the Tribunal can adjudicate any dispute between the licensor and the licensee. One such dispute can be that the computation of Adjusted Gross Revenue made by the licensor and the demand raised on the basis of such computation is not in accordance with the license agreement. This dispute however can be raised by the licensee, after the license agreement has been entered into and the appropriate stage when the dispute can be raised is when a particular demand is raised on the licensee by the licensor. When such a dispute is raised against a particular demand, the Tribunal will have to go into the facts and materials on the basis of which the demand is raised and decide whether the demand is in accordance with the license agreement and in particular the definition of Adjusted Gross Revenue in the license agreement and can also interpret the terms and conditions of the license agreement. We, however, find from the order dated 07.07.2006 that instead of challenging any demands made on them, the licensees have questioned the validity of the definition of Adjusted Gross Revenue in the licenses given to them and the Tribunal has finally decided in its order dated 30.08.2007 as to what items of revenue would be part of Adjusted Gross Revenue and what items of revenue would not be part of Adjusted Gross Revenue without going into the facts and materials relating to the demand on a particular licensee.

67.We have delivered today the judgment in these cases and while answering the last substantial question of law, we have held that when a particular demand is raised on a licencee, the licensee can challenge the demand before the Tribunal and the Tribunal will have to go into the facts and materials on the basis of which the demand is raised and decide whether the demand is in accordance with the license agreement and in particular the definition of Adjusted Gross Revenue in the license agreement and can also interpret the terms and conditions of the license agreement."

21. We are in full agreement with the above judgment cited by learned counsel for the respondent no.2 against the petitioner that the order of Authority is not without jurisdiction.

22. We are also not inclined to accept the arguments of the learned counsel for the petitioner that the impugned orders were passed Ex- parte.

23. Considering the arguments raised by the learned counsel for the respondent no.2 that the complaint was filed by respondent no.5 before the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar in the year 2012. Since then several notices were issued and adequate opportunity was afforded to the petitioner by the authorities concerned but th petitioner was avoiding the appearance and hearing of the case being no alternative the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar passed the impugned orders.

24. We are also not inclined to accept the arguments of the learned counsel for the petitioner that the interest charged by the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority (i.e. MCLR + 1%) is to excessive, whereas it is the admitted case of the petitioner that the respondent No.5 has booked the Flat on 28.12.2012 and till the filing of the writ petition, the possession of the Flat was not given on the ground that the project of the petitioner was cancelled, from our opinion the interest charged by the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority is accurate and not excessive, the same is fixed as per clause 9.2 (ii) of the Form of agreement contained in the U.P. Real Estate (Regulation and Development) (Agreement for Sale/Lease) Rules, 2018, which seems to be proper.

25. We Honour and accept the views taken by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the judgment of Central Banking India Vs. Ravindra, (2002) 1 SCC 367, and was pleased to observe in para 23, which is quoted as under :-

"In Syndicate Bank v. M/s. West Bengal Cements Limited and Ors., AIR (1989) Delhi 107, Y.K. Sabharwal, J. (as his Lordship then was) rejected the contention of learned counsel for the borrower that the interest can never become principal and the words 'principal sum' in Section 34, Code of Civil Procedure should be given the ordinary meaning as given in the dictionaries, and termed as misconceived the argument that the interest under section 34 could be awarded only on the original sum advanced as the argument ran counter to the normal banking practice, and which, if accepted, would act as a premium for those not paying the amount of interest when it is due at the cost of those making payment of interest when it is due. It was held that the bank was entitled to the sum claimed as due from and payable by the defendants as the principal sum with future interest on such amount from the date of suit to the date of realisation. Reliance was placed on Division Bench decision of Madras High Court in Sigappiachi v. M.A.P.A. Palaniappa Chettiar, AIR (1972) Madras 463, holding that the 'principal sum adjudged' (within the meaning of Section 34 of the Code of Civil Procedure) is the amount found due as on the date of the suit."

26. We further place reliance of judgment of the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case Thazhathe Purayil Sarabi and others Vs. Union of India and another, reported in (2009) 7 SCC 372, and the Hon'ble Apex Court was pleased to observe that the interest be paid from the date of application till the date of recovery, this view is taken in paragraph nos. 37 and 38, which are quoted as under :-

"37. Even if, the appellants may not be entitled to claim interest from the date of the accident, we are of the view that the claim to interest on the awarded sum has to be allowed from the date of the application till the date of recovery, since the appellant cannot be faulted for the delay of approximately 8 years in the making of the Award by the Railway Claims Tribunal. Had the Tribunal not delayed the matter for so long, the appellants would have been entitled to the beneficial interest of the amount awarded from a much earlier date and we see no reason why they should be deprived of such benefit.

38. As we have indicated earlier, payment of interest is basically compensation for being denied the use of the money during the period which the same could have been made available to the claimants. In our view, both the Tribunal, as also the High Court, were wrong in not granting any interest whatsoever to the appellants, except by way of a default clause, which is contrary to the established principles relating to payment of interest on money claims. "

27. We further place reliance of the judgment of the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Union of India through Director of Income Tax Vs. Tata Chemicals Limited, (2014) 6 SCC 335, and the Hon'ble Apex Court was pleased to observe in paragraph nos. 37 and 38 of the judgment, which are quoted as under:

"37. A "tax refund" is a refund of taxes when the tax liability is less than the tax paid. As per the old section an assessee was entitled for payment of interest on the amount of taxes refunded pursuant to an order passed under the Act, including the order passed in an appeal. In the present fact scenario, the deductor/assessee had paid taxes pursuant to a special order passed by the assessing officer/Income Tax Officer. In the appeal filed against the said order the assessee has succeeded and a direction is issued by the appellate authority to refund the tax paid. The amount paid by the resident/ deductor was retained by the Government till a direction was issued by the appellate authority to refund the same. When the said amount is refunded it should carry interest in the matter of course. As held by the Courts while awarding interest, it is a kind of compensation of use and retention of the money collected unauthorizedly by the Department. When the collection is illegal, there is corresponding obligation on the revenue to refund such amount with interest in as much as they have retained and enjoyed the money deposited. Even the Department has understood the object behind insertion of Section 244A, as that, an assessee is entitled to payment of interest for money remaining with the Government which would be refunded. There is no reason to restrict the same to an assessee only without extending the similar benefit to a resident/ deductor who has deducted tax at source and deposited the same before remitting the amount payable to a non-resident/ foreign company.

38. Providing for payment of interest in case of refund of amounts paid as tax or deemed tax or advance tax is a method now statutorily adopted by fiscal legislation to ensure that the aforesaid amount of tax which has been duly paid in prescribed time and provisions in that behalf form part of the recovery machinery provided in a taxing Statute. Refund due and payable to the assessee is debt-owed and payable by the Revenue. The Government, therebeing no express statutory provision for payment of interest on the refund of excess amount/tax collected by the Revenue, cannot shrug off its apparent obligation to reimburse the deductors lawful monies with the accrued interest for the period of undue retention of such monies. The State having received the money without right, and having retained and used it, is bound to make the party good, just as an individual would be under like circumstances. The obligation to refund money received and retained without right implies and carries with it the right to interest. Whenever money has been received by a party which ex ae quo et bono ought to be refunded, the right to interest follows, as a matter of course."

28. While concluding our opinion, we have no hesitation to observe that the undisputed fact is that the respondent no.5 has paid the entire amount towards the cost of Flat yet possession of the Flat was not given to the respondent no.5 since 2012 till filing of this writ petition. It is further not denied by the petitioner that the order of the U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority, Gautam Budh Nagar was passed in the year 2018 and since then any amount in compliance of the order impugned was paid to the respondent no.5. This conduct of the petitioner shows that he is not liable to get any sympathy by this Court while exercising extra ordinary jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. It is further obseraved that the law of equity and principle of natural justice go in favour of respondent No.5.

29. In view of the discussion made above and considering the legal proposition as contemplated under sections 18, 21 and 81 of the Act, 2016 and in view of clause 9.2 (ii) of the form of agreement contained in Annexure to the U.P. Real Estate (Regulation and Development) (Agreement for Sale/Lease) Rules, 2018, we are of the view that the present writ petition is liable to be dismissed due to lack of merit.

30. The writ petition is, accordingly, dismissed.

31. No order as to cost.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Pradeep Kumar Singh Baghel, J.)

1. The petitioners have instituted this writ proceedings for quashing of the demand notice dated 20th September, 2018 issued by the Allahabad Development Authority, Allahabad (now Prayagraj Development Authority, Prayagraj)1, the second respondent, whereby the petitioners have been called upon to deposit a sum of Rs.50,62,774.00 for compounding of their construction, which is commercial, and other charges.

2. The relevant facts may briefly be stated: the petitioners are owners of a part, an area of 285.32 square meter, of Nazul Free hold Site No. 'Z', Civil Station, Allahabad, which is a part portion of Premises Nos. 14 and 18, New Lal Bahadur Shastri Marg, Allahabad. The said plot was purchased by the petitioners vide registered sale-deed dated 11th December, 2009. The petitioners made an application to the second respondent for sanctioning of map of the residential accommodation, which was sanctioned. Later, the petitioners submitted a revised map for change of use of the building from residential to commercial. Upon the said application, the second respondent has issued a fresh notice dated 20th September, 2018, whereby apart from other fees the compounding fee for a sum of Rs.21,61,086.00 and the impact fee to a tune of Rs.33,04,148.00 have been demanded.

3. The petitioners have averred in the writ petition that the demand notice has been issued on the ground that it relates to commercial use of the building and not for sanctioning the building map afresh. It is stated that demand of impact fee of Rs.33,04,148.00 is totally illegal as it is not provided anywhere in the Uttar Pradesh Urban Planning and Development Act, 19732. Similarly, the compounding fee is also arbitrary and illegal.

4. It is stated that for the area where the petitioners' plot is situated no zonal development plan has been prepared by the development authority. It is further stated that Section 9 of the Act contemplates preparation of zonal development plan in terms of the master plan and the compounding contrary to the zonal development plan cannot be permitted. Therefore, unless zonal development plan is sanctioned, compounding fee cannot be charged. The development authority has not framed any rule prescribing the rate of imposition of the compounding fee.

5. It is also stated that the demand of the permit fee, inspection fee and Malwa fee is illegal and against the judgment of this Court in Smt. Malti Kaul and another v. Allahabad Development Authority and another3. It is averred that the development fee and betterment fee have been highly excessive, arbitrary and contrary to the law laid down by the judgment in the cases of Virendra Kumar Tyagi v. Ghaziabad Development Authority4, Smt. Rekha Rani v. State of U.P. and others5, Smt. Nisha Kumari v. State of U.P. and others6, and Smt. Malti Kaul (supra).

6. It is averred in the writ petition that there is a nexus between the local builders and the officials of the development authority in demanding the arbitrary and illegal demand against the provisions of the Act. The petitioners have also demanded a free and fair judicial enquiry in this matter, otherwise situation leads to a disastrous development and the purpose and object of the Act would be defeated.

7. The petitioners have also prayed that this writ petition be converted into the public interest litigation as the authorities are arbitrarily converting the residential areas, which have been earmarked as such in the master plan, into the commercial area. It is stated in a supplementary affidavit that there are only nine bungalows remained on the Elgin Road, which are used purely as residential, and rest of the buildings on the said road are involved in the commercial activities such as marriage hall, nursing home, etc. The second respondent has sanctioned the map for the commercial activities in the residential areas contrary to the master plan. The details of those commercial buildings have been mentioned in Paragraph-7 of the supplementary affidavit.

8. A counter affidavit has been filed on behalf of the second and third respondents, i.e. the PDA, sworn by the Zonal Officer, Prayagraj Development Authority, Prayagraj. It is stated in the counter affidavit that the development fee, stacking fees, mutation charges and water fees are defined under Sections 2 (ggg), 2 (kk), 2(hhh)(ii) and 2(ll) of the Act respectively. It is also stated that Master Plan-2021 is currently in force with effect from 12th August, 2006 and the PDA has also framed the zonal plan for some portion of its development area and it has also framed building bye-laws, which are known as 'Bhawan Nirman Evam Vikas Upvidhi 20087' (as amended upto 2016). The Building Bye-laws have been framed for planned development of the area and so long the zonal development plans are not prepared under Section 9 of the Act, the authority with the previous approval of the State Government may make bye-laws consistent with the Act. The demand of sub-division charges and other charges have been justified in the counter affidavit. It is further stated that the compounding bye-laws have been circulated by the State Government vide order dated 14th January, 2010 in the form of model compounding bye-laws. It was placed before the Board of the PDA for consideration of the matter in its Board Meeting dated 07th May, 2010 and it was adopted. Hence, no further approval of the State Government is required. In Paragraph-51 of the counter affidavit it has been admitted that the zonal development plans are not prepared, hence in view of the provisions of Section 57(e) of the Act the bye-laws may provide for approval for division of any site into plots. The Building Bye-laws have been approved by the Board in its meeting dated 22nd December, 2011. For the sake of convenience, Paragraphs-52, 67 and 68 of the counter affidavit are reproduced as under:

"52. That, the Allahabad Development Authority, Allahabad has, with the previous approval of the State Government, already adopted the Building Bye-laws in its Board meeting dated 22.12.2011. The Building Bye-laws contain provisions regarding the division of any site into plots for the erection of building. Chapter 2.2 of the Building Bye-laws contains provisions for open spaces (park, etc.) which are required when the layout plan is sanctioned for sub-division of any site. Thus sub division of any land can only be carried out after obtaining permission from the Vice Chairman of the Authority, in accordance with the provisions of the Building Bye-laws. A true copy of the relevant portion of Building Bye-laws, framed by the Allahabad Development Authority, as referred to above is being filed herewith and marked as Annexure 'CA-1' to this Counter Affidavit.

67. That as regards change of the residential area to the commercial area and approval of the State Government to such action of the Development Authority, provision have been made in Section 13 and section 38-A of the Act.

68. That furthermore Master Plan 2021 and Zone Plan B-4 permits certain commercial and other activities in residential area subject to fulfillment of certain conditions laid down in the Master/Zonal Plan itself and on payment of impact fees."

9. A supplementary counter affidavit has also been filed on behalf of the PDA. It is stated therein that the Master Plan-2021, which is in force at present, has been amended four times on 11th July, 2011, 20th June, 2013, 30th June, 2015 and 01st May, 2018 after following the procedure. By the amendment dated 11th July, 2011 the land use of the land contained in certain areas have been changed from industrial (Kuteer Udyog) to residential (R-2). Similarly, by the amendment dated 20th June, 2013 the land use pertaining to Village Abusa and Sarfuddinpur, Prayagraj has been changed from agricultural to technical/management institution. Vide amendment dated 30th June, 2015 the land use pertaining to Village Jalalpur Ghosi, Tehsil Sadar, Allahabad has been changed from agricultural to residential. By the amendment dated 01st May, 2018 the land use pertaining to Village Ravatpur and Jalalpur Ghosi, Tehsil Sadar, Prayagraj has been changed from agricultural to educational institutions/ technical institutions. In the Master Plan-2021 the city has been divided into 12 zones and the zones have been further divided into sub-zones.

10. We have heard Sri Ravi Kant, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri S.K. Garg and Sri Rajendra Kumar Sharma, learned counsel appearing for the petitioners, and Sri Anoop Trivedi, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Vibhu Rai, learned Advocate, for the second and third respondents- PDA.

11. Sri Ravi Kant, learned Senior Counsel appearing for the petitioners, has submitted that the PDA has failed to prepare the zonal development plan even after lapse of 13 years. Only one zonal development plan for one zone has been prepared recently, that too is contrary to the master plan. He has invited our attention to the Master Plan-2021, Table No. 9.1 at Page 30, to demonstrate that 36.11 per cent land is earmarked for residential areas and only 2.43% area is shown for commercial activities. This ratio has been drastically changed in the zonal development plan of Zone B-4, which has been prepared, wherein commercial area has been arbitrarily increased to 12%, which is unreasonable and illegal.

12. He has also invited our attention to the zonal development plan for Zone B-4, wherein it is mentioned that in civil lines zone there are already several shopping and commercial establishments to cater the need of the residents of the zone, hence there is no need to allow commercial activities in the residential areas under the garb of the mixed zones.

13. It is next urged that the concept of mixed zone is contrary to the master plan having regard to the fact that in Zone B-4 there are several markets, hotels, big-bazar and several shopping complexes. He has drawn our attention to Page 12 of the zonal development plan, wherein this fact is recorded. He has further urged that in larger interest of the city this Court can examine the other issues relating to planned development of the city. The Court has summoned the records and sufficient opportunity has been furnished to the respondents, therefore, the Court can examine the issue regarding mixed zone and changing residential areas to mixed area, which is contrary to the master plan.

14. It is submitted that under Article 226 of the Constitution this Court has ample power to examine the legality of the action of the development authority if it is found that its action is against the provisions of the Act.

15. Sri Anoop Trivedi, learned Senior Counsel appearing for the PDA, has submitted that it is true that the zonal development plan for only one zone has been prepared in 2011 but under Section 57(e) of the Act the development authority has power that so long the zonal development plans are not prepared, the development can be made in terms of the bye-laws. He has justified the imposition of various charges such as permit fee, inspection fee, malwa fee, development fee and betterment fee. He has submitted that the issue with regard to some of the above mentioned charges is pending before the Supreme Court, hence it would be appropriate to wait the judgment of the Supreme Court in respect of those charges.

16. Sri Trivedi has very fairly submitted that he has no explanation to offer in respect of the inordinate delay in preparing the zonal development plans in terms of Section 9 of the Act.

17. Sri Anoop Trivedi with the help of the Town Planner, who is present in the Court, has placed before us the original records, master plan, one of the zonal development plans and various other records.

18. Before we advert to the rival submissions advanced at the Bar, we think it appropriate to examine the relevant statutory provisions at play in the instant case.

19. The Act i.e. the Uttar Pradesh Urban Planning and Development Act, 1973 was enacted with an object for the development according to plan of the area, which is declared as development area. Chapter II of the Act deals with declaration of the development areas, constitution of the development authority, etc.. Section 7 under Chapter II of the Act enumerates the objects of the authority, it provides that the object of the authority shall be to promote and secure the development of the development area according to the plan and to execute works in connection with supply of water and electricity, to dispose of sewage and to provide and maintain other services and amenities.

20. Chapter III of the Act deals with the Master Plan and Zonal Development Plan. The provisions under this chapter of the Act are material for our purposes. Section 8 of the Act provides for master plan for the development area. It lays down that the development area shall be divided in various zones indicating the manner in which the land in each zone is proposed to be used. It also provides that the master plan shall be a basic pattern of the framework within which the zonal development plans of various zones may be prepared. Section 8 of the Act reads thus:

"8. Civil survey of, and master plan for the development area.--(1) The Authority shall, as soon as may be, prepare a master plan for the development area.*

(2) The master plan shall--

(a) define the various zones into which the development area may be divided for the purposes of development and indicate the manner in which the land in each zone is proposed to be used (whether by the carrying out thereon of development or otherwise) and the stages by which any such development shall be carried out; and

(b) serve as a basic pattern of framework within which the zonal development plan of the various zones may be prepared.

(3) The master plan may provide for any other matter which may be necessary for the proper development of the development area."

21. Section 9 of the Act deals with zonal development plans. Under Section 8 the master plan provides a basic pattern within which the zonal development plans are prepared. It gives more details about the land uses proposed in the zones, such as, public buildings, industry, business, markets, schools, hospitals and open spaces, etc. The zonal development plan is to be prepared simultaneously with the master plan or soon thereafter. Section 9 of the Act reads as under:

"9. Zonal Development Plans.--(1) Simultaneously with the preparation of the master plan or as soon as may be thereafter, the Authority shall proceed with the preparation of a zonal development plan for each of the zones into which the development area may be divided.*

(2) A zonal development plan may--

(a) contain a site-plan and use-plan for the development of the zone and show the approximate locations and extents of land uses proposed in the zone for such things as public buildings and other public works and utilities, roads, housing, recreation, industry, business, markets, schools, hospitals and public and private open spaces and other categories of public and private uses;

(b) specify the standards of population density and building density;

(c) show every area in the zone which may, in the opinion of the Authority, be required declared for development or re-development; and

(d) in particular, contain provisions regarding all or any of the following matters, namely--

(i) the division of any site into plots for the erection of buildings;

(ii) the allotment or reservation of land for roads, open spaces, gardens, recreation-grounds, schools, markets and other public purposes;

(iii) the development of any area into a township or colony and the restrictions and conditions subject to which such development may be undertaken or carried out;

**** *** ****

(vii) the number of residential buildings which may be erected on plot or site;

**** *** ****

(ix) the prohibitions or restrictions regarding erection of shops, workshops, warehouses or factories or buildings of a specified architectural feature or buildings designed for particular purposes in the locality;

*** *** ***

(xi) the restrictions regarding the use of any site for purposes other than erection of buildings;"

22. Section 11 of the Act enjoins the procedure to be followed in the preparation and approval of the master plan and the zonal development plan. It says that the authority shall prepare a plan in draft and publish it inviting suggestions/ objections from the residents with respect to the draft plan. Similar opportunity is to be given to the local authorities. After considering all the objections, suggestions and representations received by the authority, a final plan is prepared and is submitted to the State Government for its approval. Once the plan is approved by the State Government, the plan comes into operation. Chapter III-A of the Act provides for the arterial roads in development area. Chapter IV of the Act deals with amendment of the master plan and the zonal development plan. Section 13 of the Act says that the authority may make any amendment in the master plan or the zonal development plan, but it shall not effect the important alterations in the character of the plan and which do not relate to the extent of land uses or the standards of population density. The State Government also can make the amendments in the master plan or zonal development plan. Sub-section (3) of Section 13 provides that before making any amendment in the plan, the State Government or the authority, as the case may be, shall publish a notice in at least one newspaper having circulation in the development area inviting objections and suggestions in respect of the proposed amendment from the residents. Similarly, if the authority makes any amendment in the plan, it shall report to the State Government the full particulars of such amendments within the stipulated period i.e. thirty days.

23. Chapter V deals with development of the land. Basically this chapter is meant for sanctioning of the maps for the residential and commercial activities. Section 14 prohibits that no development of the land shall be undertaken by any person or body unless permission for such development has been obtained in writing from the Vice-Chairman. Section 15 of the Act provides the procedure for permission. Chapter VI of the Act deals with acquisition and disposal of the land. Chapter VII provides for finance, accounts and audit. Chapter VIII provides for supplemental and miscellaneous provisions. Section 26 prescribes the penalties. Section 27 provides for order for demolition of building. Section 28-A gives power to seal such buildings and Section 32 speaks for composition of offences. The other provisions under this Chapter deal with assessment of betterment charges, additional stamp duty, toll for amenities, mode of recovery. Section 41 enumerates the power of control by the State Government.

24. A perusal of Sections 8 and 9 of the Act shows that the master plan and the zonal development plans are inter dependent. The master plan is a basic pattern of the framework, which indicates that a development area/ city shall be divided in various zones and the manner in which the land in each zone is proposed to be used. Section 9 enjoins that the zonal development plans shall be prepared simultaneously with the master plan or as soon as may be thereafter for the reason that the master plan broadly lays down the use of the land in each zone. It also indicates the manner in which the land is to be utilized in each zone. Thus, the master plan only provides to define the various zones, into which the development area may be divided for the purpose of development. It serves as basic pattern. The other details such as industry, business, markets, schools, hospitals, open spaces, etc. are not provided in the master plan but it is provided in the zonal development plans. Thus, from the scheme of the Act it is evident that the master plan and the zonal development plans are complimentary to each other. Without zonal development plan the main object of the provisions of the Act will be frustrated as the open spaces, markets, residential areas and other public works utilities are not provided in the master plan. The zonal development plan contains a site plan which indicates the existence of the land use proposed in the zone regarding markets, business and housing, etc., but it cannot change the manner indicated in the master plan in each zone. If the master plan indicates that a portion of the area has to be utilized for residential or commercial, that cannot be altered in the zonal development plan. In any view of the matter, the zonal development plan cannot override the master plan. The development is to be done within the manner indicated in the master plan.

25. Learned counsel for the PDA has produced the Allahabad Master Plan-2021 and the Zonal Development Plan, Zone B-4 prepared under the Master Plan-2021, which have been taken on the record with the consent of learned counsel for the parties.

26. The current master plan for the Allahabad/ Prayagraj has been approved by the State Government under Section 12 of the Act on 13th July, 2006 and the notice has been published stating therein that the State Government has approved the master plan and the plan has come into operation.

27. The PDA in its Board meeting dated 23rd July, 2003 proposed the Draft Master Plan-2021 and the objections were invited by public notice published in the Northern India Patrika. The Board in its meeting held on 13th October, 2005 finalized the Master Plan and it was sent for approval to the State Government. In the master plan, which is on the record, it is clearly mentioned that in the last ten years more than 50 land uses have been changed by the development authority and the matter has been referred to the State Government. The change of the land use is in respect of about 200-250 hectares, which indicates that not only the PDA but the private builders also have illegally and unauthorisedly made the development contrary to the master plan. The relevant part of the Master Plan-2021 under its Part-1, Paragraph '2.0 Mahayojna ka Mulyankan' is extracted below:

"--. इस विश्लेषण से यह स्पष्ट है कि न केवल इलाहाबाद विकास प्राधिकरण द्वारा बल्कि निजी बिल्डर्स/ कोलोनाइजर्स द्वारा भी भू–उपयोगों के विपरीत अनधिकृत विकास किया गया है। इसके अतिरिक्त वर्तमान परिप्रेक्ष्य में इलाहाबाद पुनरीक्षित महायोजना–2001 से सम्बंधित तथ्यों का विस्तृत विवेचन नयी महायोजना बनाने का औचित्य सुस्पष्ट करता है, जिसका विवरण अधोलिखित प्रस्तरों में दिया गया है।"

28. In the master plan, Table No. 3.1 deals with comparison of land use in the earlier Master Plan-2001 and the current master plan. In the Master Plan-2001 the total proposed area was 21,689.53 hectares, out of which an area of 7622.24 hectares i.e. 35.14% of the total was earmarked for residential area; the commercial area was only 545.43 hectares i.e. 2.51%; industrial area was 1217.81 hectares i.e. 5.61%; for office the area was 1871.09 hectares i.e. 8.63%; and park/open space was 1541.40 hectares (7.11%). For the sake of convenience, Table No. 3.1 given at page-11 of the Master Plan-2021 is reproduced below:

29. Table No. 10.7 of the Master Plan-2021 has divided the residential area in the low density area, medium density area and high density area. Likewise, the commercial area has also been divided in retail business, wholesale business, district center, warehouse, etc.

30. In the entire counter affidavit filed on behalf of the PDA sworn by the Zonal Officer it has not been mentioned that when the Master Plan-2021 has been approved by the State Government nor the date of commencement of the zonal development plan has been mentioned. However, to the specific query of the Court, in the supplementary counter affidavit it is mentioned that the State Government has approved the Master Plan-2021 on 13th July, 2006.

31. On 26th August, 2019 during the course of hearing when the Court was apprised that the Master Plan-2021 was enforced in the year 2006 but the zonal development plan is yet to be prepared, the PDA was directed to file a better affidavit indicating the following facts:

"After hearing learned counsel for the parties we deem it appropriate to direct the development authority to file an affidavit indicating the following facts:

(1) If the Master Plan of the Allahabad (now Prayagraj) has been amended, the order of the State Government/ development authority be brought on the record giving the detail of the procedure adopted for the said amendment.

(2) It is stated that the Zonal Plan has been approved only in respect of one zone i.e. Zone B-4(1). There are total 7 zones in Allahabad. Zone-B has five sub-zones. However, the Zonal Plan for one of the sub-zones B-4 has been prepared. Regard may be had to the fact that Section 9 of the Uttar Pradesh Urban Planning and Development Act, 1973 requires that zonal plan should be prepared simultaneously with the master plan or as soon as possible. The respondent-development authority shall furnish the reason for the delay of more than five years and shall also state that under which Zonal Plan the maps in respect of the residential and commercial areas have been sanctioned between 2006, when the Master Plan was notified, and 2011, when the Zonal Plan for one of the sub-zones B-4(1) has been notified. During this period how the maps have been sanctioned in absence of zonal plan?

(3) When the Zonal Plan in respect of the entire city shall be prepared?

(4) Learned counsel for the development authority has apprised us that the State Government vide various Government orders has permitted the change of the land use. All the orders of the State Government changing the land use be brought on the record.

*The aforesaid facts be brought on the record by way of a co*unter affidavit sworn by the Vice-Chairman/ Secretary of the development authority."

32. In compliance with the said order, a supplementary counter affidavit has been filed on behalf of the PDA sworn by the Secretary of the PDA. In the supplementary counter affidavit it is mentioned that the Master Plan-2021, which is in force, has been amended four times i.e. on 11th July, 2011, 20th June, 2013, 30th June, 2015 and 01st May, 2018 after following the procedures. It is mentioned in the supplementary affidavit that by the amendment dated 11th July, 2011 the land use of the land contained in Mauzas (Villages) Sulem Saray, Harwara and Jayrampur, Tehsil Sadar, District Allahabad have been changed from Industrial (Kuteer Udyog) to Residential (R-2). Similarly, by the amendment dated 20th June, 2013 also the land use has been changed from agricultural to technical/ management institution and by the amendment dated 30th June, 2015 the land use has been changed from agricultural to residential. Vide amendment dated 01st

May, 2018 the land use has been changed from agricultural to educational institutions/ technical institutions. It is also mentioned that the current master plan was prepared in 2006 and it is still in operation till 2021.

33. It is further averred in the supplementary counter affidavit that in the Master Plan-2021 the city has been divided into 12 zones. It is also averred that the zones have been further divided into sub-zones. Sub-Zone 4 is having an area of 606.40 hectares. However, the zonal development plan could be prepared for only one sub-zone i.e. B-4, which has been approved on 07th March, 2011. For the sake of clarity, Paragraph-13 of the supplementary counter affidavit is quoted below:

"13. That it is stated that the present Master Plan 2021 has been approved by the State Government on 13.07.2006. It is stated that though there are 12 zones in which the city has been divided however the zonal development plan could be prepared on only one sub-zone i.e. B-4 which has been approved on 7.3.2011."

34. In Paragraph-18 of the supplementary counter affidavit it is stated that the zonal development plan is highly technical process but still the authority is under process for completing two more zonal development plan of Zone- 'I' & 'J'. Paragraph-18 of the supplementary counter affidavit is also reproduced below:

"18. That further the zonal plan which is highly technical process but still the authority is under process for completing two more zonal development plan of zone 'I' & 'J'."

35. From the aforesaid averments made in the supplementary counter affidavit it is evident that although the master plan has been sanctioned by the State Government on 13th July, 2006, the zonal development plan except for one zone has not been prepared. Even the only zonal development plan, which has been prepared, was approved on 07th March, 2011 i.e. after about five years and in respect of rest 11 zones there is no zonal development plan of the development area and all the development works are carried out or are still in progress or have been made without any development plan since 2006 onwards i.e. about 13 years.

36. Pertinently, in a public interest litigation, being Public Interest Litigation (PIL) No. 67235 of 2014 (Ashok Kumar and others v. Nagar Nigam Allahabad and others), the issue with regard to increased commercialization in the residential areas cropped up. A Division Bench of this Court, after furnishing opportunity to the respondents therein, vide order dated 01st September, 2016 has observed that approval of maps for construction of non-residential buildings is given only on the basis of width of the road and no impact assessment has been made before sanctioning of the map. It was mentioned that while sanctioning a new project the development authority has to consider the viability and compatibility in the area in question and whether the existing municipal facility and infrastructure were sufficient to warrant the creation of additional commercial or mixed use establishment. In this regard certain directions were issued to the development authority. The relevant part of the order is extracted below:

"...ADA had been required to disclose the nature of the impact assessment study, which it undertook, if at all, before the sanctioning of maps. The impact assessment which was envisaged by this Court was with respect to an empirical exercise being undertaken by the Authority while sanctioning a new project bearing in mind its viability and compatibility in the area in question and whether the existing municipal facilities and infrastructure were sufficient to warrant the creation of an additional commercial or mixed use establishment. An impact assessment of a new structure cannot be said to have been achieved on the back of mere NOC's being obtained from other departments. When the Authority proceeds to accord permission to a particular plan, it is presumed to have assessed the viability of the project coming up in the area concerned. This would necessarily entail a study with regard to the number of additional units or persons who would occupy the area, the additional burden on existing infrastructure in the area, whether the existing facilities would sustain the creation of new buildings and structures and other allied aspects. Unfortunately we note that no such exercise is presently undertaken by the ADA nor does such a study appear to precede its decision to sanction a new project. It was in the above backdrop that we had called upon the ADA to disclose on affidavit the reasons and justifications for the proposed change of user of residential pockets in the city to either commercial or mixed use purposes. We find that the disclosure made fails to address these issues and we would perhaps be justified in recording our conclusion that no impact assessment is actually undertaken by it.... The sanction of a map in our opinion would necessarily involve an examination of the project both from a micro as well as macro angle. Merely because a particular area is earmarked as commercial or for mixed use does not empower the Authority to permit the creation of any number of new structures without an empirical impact assessment being undertaken. We therefore, direct the Chief Town Planner as well as the Vice Chairperson of the ADA to forthwith formulate appropriate guidelines for impact assessment which must be undertaken before the sanction of a map. The draft guidelines shall be placed upon the affidavit of the Vice Chairperson before this Court on the next date fixed. We further put the Authority to notice to comply with the earlier directions issued by the Court on 27 May 2016 and 14 July 2016 and file a complete and full disclosure in respect of the issues which have remained unanswered. The Vice Chairperson, shall while filing his affidavit also bring on record the interpretation which the Authority seeks to accord to Bye-law 1.2.26 in respect of sanction of maps for residential, commercial and mixed use constructions."

37. The Chief Town Planner, who was present in the Court with the record to assist us along with Sri Anoop Trivedi, learned Senior Counsel appearing for the PDA, has failed to satisfy us regarding compliance of the directions issued by the Division Bench in the above mentioned case of Ashok Kumar (supra). Moreover, from the material on the record and the original record, which was produced before us, we find that there is no material to demonstrate that the said direction has been complied with by the development authority. A large number of multi-storied buildings, hospitals, showrooms, banks and other commercial activities have been sanctioned by the development authority in the last few years indiscriminately in the residential areas without any impact assessment.

38. Recently, a Division Bench of this Court, presided over by Hon'ble the Chief Justice, in a writ petition, being Misc. Bench No. 22182 of 2019, Smt. Radha Rani Singh v. State of U.P. and others, vide order dated 16th September, 2019 has found that the Lucknow Development Authority has also failed to prepare the zonal development plans as provided under Section 9 of the Act. The Division Bench in the said case has observed as under:

"The non-preparation of the zonal plan for more than 50 years is clearly a case of frustrating the mandate cast by the 1973 Act. This Court cannot overlook the fact that the 1973 Act casts a duty on the development authorities which have to be discharged in terms of the mandate and not doing so for a period of 46 years, cannot be accepted."

39. The Division Bench has issued directions to all the development authorities in the State of Uttar Pradesh, which are governed under the provisions of the Act, in the following terms:

"...In view of the statutory provisions, the facts brought before us as well as the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Chairman, Indore Vikas Pradhikaran8 (supra), we issue the following directions at this stage:

(i) The development authorities in the entire State of Uttar Pradesh shall take steps for preparation, its finalization and approval of the Master Plan of all the development areas notified till date, if not already done.

(ii) All the development authorities in the State of Uttar Pradesh shall initiate the steps for preparation of the zonal plan for all the development areas in accordance with the procedures specified in the Act and in consonance with Section 9 of Uttar Pradesh Urban Planning and Development Act, 1973 within a period of one year from today. The Urban Planning Department of the State of Uttar Pradesh shall ensure the compliance of the directions given above and it shall be the duty of the Secretary, Urban Planing Development to ensure that the directions given by us are complied with within the specified time frame.

(iii) The Secretary, Urban Development, State of Uttar Pradesh, is directed to file a report with regard to steps taken in pursuance to the directions given above by the next date."

Mixed Area:

40. As can be seen from the master plan of the city of Prayagraj, there is no provision in the master plan for the mixed use of the land. In other States in some of the master plans there are provisions for the concept of mixed use but that is also based on subject to socio-economic status of the neighbourhood and in case the mixed area is allowed in the residential areas, the environmental impact and providing of safe and convenient circulation and parking are also taken into consideration. One of the main objects to allow such mixed use is to allow access to commercial activity in the proximity of the residential area and to reduce the need for the travelling across the zone in the city. While allowing mixed area, the associated adverse impacts relating to traffic congestion, increased parking and increased pressure on civic amenities have also to be taken into consideration.

41. The affidavits filed on behalf of the PDA and the original records produced before the Court do not show that any such impact has been considered by the PDA, with the result that in most of the residential areas the residents are made to suffer due to traffic congestion and pollution in their area on account of the commercial activities.

42. It is also significant to mention that initially in the residential areas there was no permission to carry out the commercial activities. The people have built their houses in the residential areas for peaceful living in proper environment. If indiscriminate permission is granted under the fresh decision taken by the development authority on the ground of mixed area and in the residential areas the commercial activities are allowed, it would not be safe for the children of the residential areas to come out from their houses as in their neighborhood, where the commercial activities are allowed, a large number of vehicles will ply with the result that the children will have to be indoor for the entire day for their safety. This will adversely affect their proper development and health.

43. In addition to safety of the children, the senior citizens of the residential areas would also suffer. There would be an environmental impact on the quality of air in the area due to movement of the cars, two wheelers and other vehicles. The mixed zone can be allowed in those cities where the residents have to cover a long distance for the purposes of shopping of essential commodities and as such, even in the master plan where mixed area is allowed, only a limited shops of the public utility such as petty general merchant shops, stationary, milk booth, STD/ fax/ internet centres/ATMs, hair-dressers and beauty parlours, bakery and sweetmeat, mutton stalls, small repairing centres of electrical and mechanical items, etc. are allowed.

44. Regard may be had to the fact that in Civil Lines (B-4 Zone) it is mentioned that a large number of commercial facilities like malls, shopping centers, etc. are existing. The relevant part of Chapter-2 of the Zonal Development Plan, Zone B-4, at its page-12 under Paragraph-2.1.4 is extracted below:

"2-1-4 व्यवसायिक

महायोजना में सामान्य व्यवसाय एवं नगर/जिला केन्द्र के अन्तर्गत 64.53 हेक्टेयर भूमि आरक्षित की गई है, जिसके सापेक्ष वर्तमान में 29.80 हेक्टेयर भूमि विकसित की जा चुकी है। वर्तमान में सिविल लाइन्स जोन में प्रमुख रूप से बिग बाजार, सिटी स्आइल तथा विशाल मेगा मार्ट सालासर एवं पी0वी0आर0 माल आदि अत्याधुनिक सुविधाओं से युक्त प्रतिष्ठान विद्यमान है। उपरोक्त के अतिरिक्त इस क्षेत्र में कई बड़े होटल, रेस्टोरेन्ट एवं अनेक व्यावसायिक प्रतिष्ठान भी स्थित है।"

45. As discussed above, the master plan of Allahabad/ Prayagraj does not envisage the mixed area in the residential areas. The zonal development plan has not been prepared for the entire city. The zonal development plan has been prepared for only one zone i.e. Zone B-4, wherein the commercial area is shown to be 12%, whereas the total commercial area in the master plan of the city is 2.4%.

46. It is significant to mention that Table No. 10.1 of the master plan indicates, amongst other, total zonal area, residential area in the zone, population in the zone and the average population density which are also relevant for the issue at hand. The total area of the main city has been shown to be 13249.02 hectares, its residential area is 5270.48 hectares, population is shown to be 950000 and the density of the population is 72. In Zone-A total area is shown to be 639.00 hectares, residential area is 343.00 hectares, its total population is 69900 and population density is 109; in Zone-B total area is 2531 hectares, residential area is 1051.78 hectares, population is 180400, density is 71; in Zone-C total area is given as 822.00 hectares, residential area is 426.00 hectares, its population is 82300 and density is 100; in Zone-D total area is 1005.00 hectares, residential area is 269.00 hectares, its population is 44800 and density is 45. The population density in these zones clearly indicate that these are the high density areas. In such situation if the commercial activities are allowed in high density and medium density areas, there would be serious impact on the environment and the residents of these areas shall suffer due to environmental problems. The most adversely affected persons will be the senior citizens and the children, who would not be able to move freely even in front of their houses due to haphazard traffic and movement of the vehicles in their neighborhood due to commercial activities.

47. Our attention has been drawn to the provisions of Section 26-D of the Act, which provides penalty for not preventing encroachment. This Section has been inserted by Section 7 of the U.P. Act No. 3 of 1997. Section 26-D of the Act reads as under:

"26-D. Penalty for not preventing encroachment.--Whoever specially entrusted with the duty to stop or prevent the encroachment or obstruction under this Act or any other Act, rules or bye-laws wilfully or knowingly neglects or deliberately omits to stop or prevent such encroachment or obstruction shall be punishable with simple imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month or with fine which may extend to ten thousand rupees or with both."

48. From a perusal of the said section it is evident that if the official, who is entrusted with the duty to prevent the encroachment or obstruction, fails to stop or prevent encroachment, he/she shall be punishable with the simple imprisonment or fine.

49. We have asked the learned Standing Counsel and the learned counsel for the PDA that after insertion of the said section whether final action in terms of Section 26-D of the Act has been taken, we are informed that not even in a single case action against the officials, who neglects to prevent or stop encroachment or obstruction, has been taken.

50. The intention of the Legislature in inserting Section 26-D in the Act in the year 1997 appears to be to fix the responsibility on the official(s), who fails to perform his duty. One of the objects of this section is for the deterrence that if the encroachments or the illegal constructions are checked at the very initial stage, in that event no further consequential action such as sealing of the building or demolition will be necessary. As observed by the Supreme Court in the above mentioned cases, the encroachment and illegal constructions in haphazard way cannot be possible without the connivance of the State officials. We are surprised to note that although the State has carried out a demolition drive in this city and the other parts of the State rigorously and a spate of writ petitions have been filed in this Court against the order of demolition, yet the provisions of Section 26-D have not been resorted to. This fact itself indicates that a large number of illegal constructions have been allowed to take place, which has necessitated for the demolition but no action in terms of Section 26-D of the Act has been taken by the State. If the Legislature has amended the Act and has provided the penalty, it cannot be frustrated by the inaction on the part of the State and its functionaries. The inaction on the part of the State functionaries to take recourse to Section 26-D of the Act against the erring officials has made the said provision redundant and meaningless. The object of the Legislature cannot be frustrated by the casual approach of the State functionaries by ignoring the negligence on the part of its officials, who have failed to perform their statutory duties cast upon them under Section 14 of the Act.

51. In our opinion, if an illegal construction is raised without sanction of the map, the State and the development authorities should take note of Section 26-D of the Act and the corresponding responsibility should be fixed against the erring official in whose period the illegal construction was allowed to be raised and appropriate action in term of Section 26-D of the Act be taken against the official concerned.

52. In addition to Civil Lines, there are other big markets in this city such as Katra, Chowk, Jonhstonganj, Khuldabad, Govindpur, Teliyarganj, Sulem Sarai, Mundera, Rajapur, Mutthiganj, etc. These commercial areas are situated within a short distance from each other and it hardly takes 5-10 minutes to reach these markets. For instance, one of the oldest shopping places i.e. Civil Lines and Katra market are situated hardly at a distance of 1 Km.; distance from Katra to Teliyarganj is less than 2 Kms.; Civil Lines to Jonhstonganj is barely 1 Km.; distance between Civil Lines and Chowk is less than 1 Km.. The entire area of Rajapur is commercial. In such background, the decision of the PDA to further allow the mixed area in the residential areas is unreasonable and unjustified. It shall have a serious environmental impact on the residents of the residential areas especially on the health of the senior citizens and the children, who will be affected by the pollution. Hence, in our opinion, having regard to the harsh ground level reality in the city of Prayagraj no further commercial activities should be allowed in the residential areas.

53. The Supreme Court in a long line of decisions has considered the impact of violation of the master plan and the commercial activities in the residential areas.

54. In R.K. Mittal and others v. State of Uttar Pradesh and others9 the Supreme Court in Paragraphs-56, 58, 68 and 72 has observed as under:

"56. The running of a bank or a commercial business by a company in the residential sector is certainly not permissible. In fact, it is in patent violation of the Master Plan, Regulations and the provisions of the Act. We see no power vested in the Development Authority to permit such user and ignore the misuse for such a long period.

*** *** ***

58. The conduct of the authorities, prior to institution of the writ petitions in the High Court, showed uncertainty and wavering of mind in its decision-making processes. In fact, it was expected of the Development Authority to take a firm and final decision and put at rest the unnecessary controversy raised by its proposal. However, once the writ petitions were filed, thereafter, the stand of the Development Authority has been consistent and unambiguous. In the counter affidavit filed in this Court, it has been stated that even in case of grant of permission to the above stated two banks, no extension was granted and in fact show cause notices have been issued to all the banks in the residential sector to wind up their activities and move out of the residential sector. It is the definite case of the Development Authority that banking activity is a commercial activity and therefore, cannot be carried on in the residential sector, more particularly on the plots in question. In regard to Sector 19, a specific averment has been made in the affidavit of the Development Authority that the land use is residential alone and is neither commercial nor mixed. As per the Master Plan, its primary use is "residential" where plots are planned for residential purpose alone. It is, therefore, abundantly clear from the pleadings on record that commercial activity of any kind in the residential sector is impermissible. These pleadings are in conformity with the statutory provisions and the Master Plan.

*** *** ***

68. The Master Plan and the zonal plan specify the user as residential and therefore these plots cannot be used for any other purpose. The plans have a binding effect in law. If the scheme/Master Plan is being nullified by arbitrary acts and in excess and derogation of the power of the Development Authority under law, the Court will intervene and would direct such authorities to take appropriate action and wherever necessary even quash the orders of the public authorities.

*** *** ***

72. From the above dictum of this Court, it is clear that environmental impact, convenience of the residents and ecological impact are relevant considerations for the Courts while deciding such an issue. The law imposes an obligation upon the Development Authority to strictly adhere to the plan, regulations and the provisions of the Act. Thus, it cannot ignore its fundamental duty by doing acts impermissible in law. There is not even an iota of reason stated in the affidavits filed on behalf of the Development Authority as to why the public notice had been issued without amending the relevant provisions that too without following the procedure prescribed under law."

55. In Machavarapu Srinivasa Rao and another v. Vijayawada, Guntur, Tenali, Mangalagiri Urban Development Authority and others10 the Supreme Court has held thus:

"20. An analysis of the above noted provisions shows that once the master plan or the zonal development plan is approved by the State Government, no one including the State Government/ Development Authority can use land for any purpose other than the one specified therein. There is no provision in the Act under which the Development Authority can sanction construction of a building, etc. or use of land for a purpose other than the one specified in the master plan/zonal development plan. The power vested in the Development Authority to make modification in the development plan is also not unlimited. It cannot make important alterations in the character of the plan. Such modification can be made only by the State Government and that too after following the procedure prescribed under Section 12(3)."

56. The Supreme Court in the case of Dipak Kumar Mukherjee v. Kolkata Municipal Corporation and others11 has held in Paragraphs- 2 of the judgment in the following terms:

"2. In the last four decades, the menace of illegal and unauthorised constructions of buildings and other structures in different parts of the country has acquired monstrous proportion. This Court has repeatedly emphasized the importance of planned development of the cities and either approved the orders passed by the High Court or itself gave directions for demolition of illegal constructions as in K. Ramadas Shenoy v. Town Municipal Council, Udipi12, Virender Gaur v. State of Haryana13, Pleasant Stay Hotel v. Palani Hills Conservation Council14, Cantonment Board, Jabalpur v. S.N. Awasthi15, Pratibha Coop. Housing Society Ltd. v. State of Maharashtra16, G.N. Khajuria v. DDA17, Manju Bhatia v. NDMC18, M.I. Builders (P) Ltd. v. Radhey Shyam Sahu19, Friends Colony Development Committee v. State of Orissa20, Shanti Sports Club v. Union of India21 and Priyanka Estates International (P) Ltd. v. State of Assam22."

57. In M.C. Mehta v. Union of India and others23 the Supreme Court in Paragraphs- 46 and 51 of the judgment has held as under:

"46. In the present case, the land cannot be permitted to be used contrary to the stipulated user except by amendment of the master plan after due observance of the provisions of the Act and the Rules. Non taking of action by the Government amounts to indirectly permitting the unauthorized use which amounts to the amendment of the master plan without following due procedure.

51. The growth of illegal manufacturing activity in residential areas has been without any check and hindrance from the authorities. The manner in which such large scale violations have commenced and continued leaves no manner of doubt that it was not possible without the connivance of those who are required to ensure compliance with law and reasons are obvious. Such activities result in putting on extra load on the infrastructures. The entire planning has gone totally haywire. The law abiders are sufferers. All this has happened at the cost of health and decent living of the residents of the city violating their constitutional rights enshrined under Article 21 of the Constitution of India. Further, it is necessary to bear in mind that the lawmakers repose confidence in the authorities that they will ensure implementation of the laws made by them. If the authorities breach that confidence and act in dereliction of their duties, then the plea that the observance of law will now have an adverse effect on the industry or the workers cannot be allowed. Within the framework of law, keeping in view the norms of environment, health and safety, the Government and its agencies, if there was genuine will, could have helped the industry and workers by relocating industries by taking appropriate steps in last about 15 years. On the other hand, it encouraged illegal activities."

58. The Supreme Court in Shanti Sports Club and another v. Union of India and others24 has observed that if a building is used for the purpose other than one specified in the master plan, such construction is not only burden on the infrastructure like water, sewerage, etc., but they also create chaos on the roads. "The pollution caused due to traffic congestion affects the health of the road users. The pedestrians and people belonging to weaker sections of the society, who cannot afford the luxury of air-conditioned cars, are the worst victims of pollution. They suffer from skin diseases of different types, asthma, allergies and even more dreaded diseases like cancer. The relevant part of the judgment reads as under:-

"74. ...The pollution caused due to traffic congestion affects the health of the road users. The pedestrians and people belonging to weaker sections of the society, who cannot afford the luxury of air-conditioned cars, are the worst victims of pollution. They suffer from skin diseases of different types, asthma, allergies and even more dreaded diseases like cancer. It can only be a matter of imagination how much the government has to spend on the treatment of such persons and also for controlling pollution and adverse impact on the environment due to traffic congestion on the roads and chaotic conditions created due to illegal and unauthorized constructions. This Court has, from time to time, taken cognizance of buildings constructed in violation of municipal and other laws and emphasized that no compromise should be made with the town planning scheme and no relief should be given to the violator of the town planning scheme etc. on the ground that he has spent substantial amount on construction of the buildings etc..."

59. In the said judgment the Supreme Court has noticed that despite repeated judgments of the Supreme Court and the High Courts the authorities have shown scant respect for the master plan, zonal development plans and they have received the encouragement and support from the State apparatus.

60. It is apt to mention that clean air is one of the facets of the fundamental rights of a citizen under Article 21 of the Constitution of India. In this regard, the observations of the Supreme Court in the case of Bombay Dyeing & Mfg. Co. Ltd. (3) v. Bombay Environmental Action Group and others25 are apposite, which are quoted below:

"100. Both open space as also the other factors relevant for making the regulation would be in public interest. The question would, however, be as to which is of greater public interest. Public interest, thus, would be a relevant factor also for interpretation of the statute. Public interest so far as maintenance of ecology is concerned pertains to a constitutional scheme comprising Articles 14, 21, 48-A and 51-A(g) of the Constitution, the other factors are no less significant...

115. Furthermore, interpretation of a town planning statute which has an environmental aspect leading to application of Article 14 and 21 of the Constitution cannot be held to be within the exclusive domain of the executive."

61. Applying the principles enumerated above, we are of the view that the PDA has failed to comply with the statutory provisions as the zonal development plans of all the zones have not been prepared as yet. The current zonal development plan only in respect of Zone B-4 is also against the provisions of the master plan. The decision of the PDA regarding mixed area needs a revisit of its policy in the light of discussions made above and the judgments of the Supreme Court referred above. The city is amongst 20 worst polluted cities in the world. Allowing the commercial activities in the residential areas shall make the situation worst and shall be irreversible. It will violate the fundamental rights of the citizens to have clean air and clean atmosphere to live a healthy and dignified life.

62. We are also concerned that several open spaces and parks, which are nazul land, are being allowed to be utilized for other purposes and buildings after obtaining the freehold converting the land for the other purposes, which is contrary to the law laid down by the Supreme Court in M.I. Builders (Pvt.) Ltd. v. Radhey Shyam Sahu26, which has been consistently followed by the Courts.

63. Before we part, we must express our deep concern over the manner in which the authorities have turned blind eyes to traffic congestion in the city. Despite several directions issued by this Court in suo motu public interest litigation, being Public Interest Litigation (PIL) No. 1289 of 2019, In re: Parking Problem in Civil Lines Prayagraj and other places, the situation appears to be irreversible for amongst one of the reasons that commercial buildings are not using their parking space shown in their sanctioned building plan, with the result the cars/ vehicles of their customers are parked on the roads. The parking space shown in their sanctioned maps are being used for other purposes such as godown and has been converted into shops.

64. During the course of arguments our attention was drawn to the facts that in recent years a large number of nursing homes and hospitals' building maps have been sanctioned, which do not have parking space in accordance with the building bye-laws of the PDA. The vehicles of their customers/ users are parked on roads causing serious inconvenience to pedestrians.

65. In view of the above, we issue following directions:

(1) The PDA shall prepare the zonal development plans strictly in accordance with the provisions of Sections 8 and 9 of the Act as well as the directions issued by the Division Bench of this Court in Smt. Radha Rani Singh (supra).

(2) Till the zonal development plans are prepared in terms of the master plan, no further commercial activity shall be allowed in the residential areas without assessment of the impact as directed in the public interest litigation in Ashok Kumar (supra) and in the light of observations made in this judgment.

(3) While preparing the zonal development plans, the PDA shall pay regard to the law laid down by the Supreme Court in the judgments noted above regarding commercial use in the residential areas.

(4) The PDA shall ensure that all the commercial buildings, which have been sanctioned and made in the residential areas, shall strictly comply with the sanctioned building plan, wherein the parking area has been shown in their building plan. In case the parking area is used for the other purpose, they shall be given the notice to provide the parking space directly in accordance with their sanctioned map, failing which the establishment shall be sealed after expiry of the time.

(5) Till the fresh zonal development plan is prepared, no further map shall be sanctioned for commercial purpose in residential areas.

(6) The State Government/ District Magistrate shall not allow freehold applications in respect of parks and open spaces shown in earlier zonal development plan of Master Plan-2001 (which was enforced on 19.11.1995). The State shall cancel the freehold order of parks after furnishing opportunity to affected persons and restore the parks in the light of the law laid down by the Supreme Court in M.I. Builders (supra) within six months.

66. Coming back to the facts of this case, we find that the petitioners have challenged the impact fee for a sum of Rs.33,04,148.00 on the ground that the impact fee is not provided anywhere in the Act and the word itself is foreign to the legislation and as such, the fee having burden of more than Rs.33 lakhs is wholly illegal and without any authority of law. Similar argument has been raised in respect of the compounding fee. The petitioners have relied on the judgments of Smt. Rekha Rani (supra), Smt. Nisha Kumari (supra) and Smt. Malti Kaul (supra).

67. Learned counsel for the respondents has submitted that insofar as the judgments passed by this Court in the cases of Smt. Rekha Rani (supra) as well as Smt. Nisha Kumari (supra) are concerned, the PDA has filed special leave petitions in the Supreme Court, wherein interim orders have been passed. Hence, the PDA is entitled to realize the said fees.

68. We are of the view that the demand raised by the PDA shall be subject to the decision in the special leave petitions pending before the Supreme Court. Any deposit made by the petitioners shall abide by the result of the special leave petitions.

69. Learned counsel for the petitioners submits that the petitioners may be granted liberty to file a representation before the authority concerned in respect of the impact fee and compounding fee.

70. Having due regard to the facts of this case, we permit the petitioners to make a representation before the authority concerned of the PDA in respect of the impact fee, compounding fee, development charges and other fee. The representation of the petitioners shall be considered by the authority concerned in accordance with law expeditiously.

71. With the aforesaid observations and directions, this writ petition is disposed of.

72. No order as to costs.

2. The petitioners have preferred the present writ petition with the following prayers:-

"i) to issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned order dated 23.11.2015 passed by Sub Divisional Magistrate, Tehsil Sadar, District Allahabad/respondent no. 4 (Annexure No. 9 to the writ petition)

The proceedings under the provisions of Urban Land (ceiling and Regulation) Act 1976 (hereinafter called as Act, 1976) were initiated against the petitioners in which an area of 17172.14 square meters of land in dispute was declared surplus on the basis of ex-parte survey report dated 10.10.1995. Against the aforesaid report an appeal being appeal no. 332 of 1995 was preferred by the predecessors of the petitioners namely Sri Kanhee Lal as provided under section 33 of the Act of 1976 before the District Judge, Allahabad. The District Judge, Allahabad abated entire proceedings relating to the land in dispute vide order dated 17.12.2000 order passed in the aforesaid appeal which is reproduced below:-

4. The Saksham Adhikari, Nagar Nigam, Seema Ropan, Allahabad preferred a review petition against the order dated 17.12.2000, the same numbered as Misc. Case No. 930 of 2002 before the District Judge, Allahabad. During the pendency of the aforesaid review petition the predecessors of the petitioners namely Kanhee Lal Yadav died on 10.04.2003. District Judge, Allahabad rejected the aforesaid review petition vide his order dated 08.08.2008. It is further stated in paragraph no. 13 of the writ petition that the possession of the land in dispute was earlier with the predecessors of the petitioners and after their death the same is with the petitioners and the possession of the land in dispute was never taken from the petitioners.

5. It is further stated that due to the fact that the petitioners are in actual possession of the land in dispute the entire proceedings stood abated and the revenue records were liable to be corrected accordingly. It is further stated that against the aforesaid order dated 08.08.2008, no further proceedings were initiated by the respondents and as such in view of the provisions contained under Urban Land (Ceiling and Regulation) Repeal Act, 1999, revenue entry made in the Revenue Record in favour of the state is liable to be expunged. After the aforesaid order dated 08.08.2008 was passed various representations were made by the petitioners before the respondent nos. 2 to 4 to correct the entry in the Revenue Record and delete the word "State Land" from the revenue records in respect of the land in dispute. Since no orders were passed on the aforesaid representations, a writ petition was preferred by the petitioners before this Court being Writ Petition No. 68554 of 2011 (Smt. Seeta Devi and others vs. State of U.P. and others). On the said writ petition, following order was passed on 06.02.2015:-

"Heard learned counsel for the petitioners and learned standing counsel appearing for the respondents.

During course of arguments, learned counsel for the petitioners states that he is only pressing his prayer that a direction be issued to respondent no. 3 to decide the representation dated 19.09.2011 filed for the purpose of mutation of their names in the revenue record. He further states that by order dated 17.12.2000 the District Judge, Allahabad in Ceiling Appeal No. 332 of 1995 allowed his application praying for abatement of appeal to the effect that the appeal abates and all the proceedings with regard to the Urban Ceiling Act shall come to an end. Learned counsel for the petitioners further states that even review application no. 930 of 2001 filed by the State for reviewing the order dated 17.12.2000 was also dismissed by the learned District Judge on 8.8.2008 and the said order has become final as the same was not further challenged by the State/competent authority.

In the circumstances, without entering into the merits of the case, we dispose of this petition directing respondent no. 3 to decide the representation dated 19.09.2011 which is said to be still pending before him, by a reasoned and speaking order within a period of three months from the date of production of a certified copy of this order along with copy of order dated 17.12.2000 before the respondent no. 3."

6. The aforesaid order was duly served, in the office of opposite party. Since no action was taken in terms of the aforesaid judgment dated 06.02.2015 a contempt petition was preferred by the petitioners being Civil Misc. Contempt Application No. 4178 of 2015. The said contempt petition was finally disposed of by this Court vide its order dated 17.07.2015. By the aforesaid order the opposite party was granted three months further time to comply with the judgment and order dated 06.02.2015 passed in writ C No. 68554 of 2011 (Smt. Seeta Devi) Supra.

7. Pursuant to the aforesaid orders now a decision has been taken by the Sub Divisional Magistrate, Tehsil Sadar District Allahabad/respondent no. 4 on 23.11.2015. By the aforesaid decision the claim set up by the petitioners was finally decided and rejected by the respondent no. 4. It is stated in the aforesaid order that letters were already written by the District Magistrate, Allahabad to the State Government on 28.05.2015 and 17.11.2014 asking for the comments from the office of District Magistrate. Challenging the aforesaid order the petitioners have preferred the present writ petition.

8. It is argued by Sri Manoj Yadav, learned counsel for the petitioners that the order dated 23.11.2015 passed by the respondent no. 4 is an absolutely illegal order liable to be set aside by this Court. It is further argued that it has already been decided by the Apex Court in the case of PT. Madan Swaroop Shrotiya Public Charitable Trust vs. State of U.P. and Others reported in (2000) 6 SCC 325 that if possession has not been taken of the land declared as surplus, the entire proceedings would be abated. It is further argued that the order dated 08.08.2008 passed by the District Judge, Allahabad in the appeal preferred by the respondents has became final and as such petitioners became entitled for their names being recorded in the revenue records in place of "State Land". It is further argued that in large number of similar cases guidelines were duly issued by the Supreme Court from time to time for making necessary corrections in the revenue records by deleting the name of the State Government and substituting the name of original tenure holders.

9. A counter affidavit has been filed by the respondent nos. 2 and 4. In the counter affidavit it is stated that land to the extent of 17172.14 square meters of Beni Prasad son of Aloopi at residence of 126 Meerapur Allahabad was declared surplus under the provisions of Urban Land (Ceiling and Regulation) Act, 1976 on the basis of survey report submitted under section 8(4) of the Act of 1976 vide order dated 15.03.1982 and thereafter the final statement was issued as provided under section 9 of the Act of 1976. It is further stated in the counter affidavit that land holder filed an appeal being appeal no. 384 of 1982 before the District Judge, which was allowed by the order dated 24.05.1983 and the order dated 15.03.1982 was set aside and the matter was remanded to the Prescribed Authority. Thereafter the Prescribed Authority again passed an order dated 17.09.1985 declaring the land in dispute as surplus. Against the aforesaid order the tenure holder Benni Prasad filed a Review Petition before the Prescribed Authority which was dismissed on 21.03.1988. Against the order dated 21.03.1988 passed by the Prescribed Authority the land holder namely Benni Prasad filed an appeal being Appeal No. 253 of 1988 and on the said appeal an order dated 10.04.1989 was passed by the Prescribed Authority by which the matter was again remanded before the Prescribed Authority. At this point of time Prescribed Authority passed an order dated 10.10.1995 and rejected the objections. After the order dated 10.10.1995 was passed a Gazette notification was published on 19.08.1997 and 03.01.1998 as provided under section 10(1) and Section 10(3) of the Act of 1976. An order was passed for possession on 13.02.1998 as provided under section 10(5) of the Act of 1976 and the name of the State Government was recorded in the Revenue Records in place of the land holders.

10. Against the order dated 10.10.1995 an appeal was preferred by the land holders before the District Judge which was numbered as Ceiling Appeal No. 332 of 1995. District Judge in Lok Adalat has abated the appeal filed by the land holders vide judgment and order dated 17.12.2000. A Review Petition was preferred by the State Government before the District Judge, Allahabad for reviewing the order dated 17.12.2000 passed in Ceiling Appeal No. 332 of 1995 which was rejected by the District Judge vide his judgment and order dated 08.08.2008. After the aforesaid judgment dated 08.08.2008 was passed an application was submitted by the Prescribed Authority to the Urban Ceiling before State Government seeking permission from State Government for filing writ petition before this Court challenging the order dated 08.08.2008. It is argued that the permission is still awaited and as such writ petition could not be filed till date.

11. In the circumstances, it is argued by the learned Standing Counsel that no relief can be granted to the petitioners as prayed for by them in the present writ petition.

12. In the Rejoinder affidavit it is stated by the petitioners that once the Review Petition filed by the respondents were rejected by the District Judge and since the aforesaid order has became final, the order passed by the respondent no. 4 dated 23.11.2015 is liable to be set aside and a mandamus is liable to be issued directing the State Government to correct the Revenue Records accordingly. It is further argued that the petitioners are in actual physical possession upon the land in question and as such in view of the Repealing Act, 1999 the entire proceedings are deemed to be abated.

13. Heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

14. From perusal of the record, it is clear that an order dated 08.08.2008 was passed by the District Judge, Allahabad on the Review Petition filed by the State authorities. The said Review Petition was rejected by the District Judge, Allahabad. Against the aforesaid order dated 08.08.2008 no proceedings whatsoever has been initiated by the respondents till date. Complete procedure has been prescribed under section 10(5) and Section 10(6) of the Act of 1976.

15. The case of the petitioners is that though the land of the petitioners was declared as surplus under the provisions of the Act of 1976, but actual physical possession of the same was never taken and thus, the petitioners became entitled to the benefit of Section 3 of the Repeal act, 1999.

16. Specific case of the petitioners is that actual physical possession has not been taken and mere symbolic possession would not be sufficient as the petitioners continue in possession of the plot in question.

17. The issue was considered by the Division Bench of this Court in the case of Ram Chandra Pandey vs. State of U.P. reported in 2010 (82) ALR 136, wherein it was held that mere symbolic possession does not amount to taking over actual physical possession. It was further held that unless actual physical possession has been taken by the State, the party would be entitled to the benefit of the Repeal Act, 1999.

18. The same view has been taken by the Apex Court in the case of State of U.P. vs. Hari Ram [JT 2013 (4) SC 275: 2013 (4) SCC 280]. The question for consideration before the Apex Court in the said case was whether deemed vesting of surplus land under section 10(3) of the Act would amount taking over de facto possession depriving the landholders of the benefit of the saving clause under sub-section (3) of the Repeal Act. This issue was answered by the Apex Court in para 39 of the said judgment, which reads as under:-

"The mere vesting of the land under sub-section (3) of Section 10 would not confer any right on the State Government to have de facto possession of the vacant land unless there has been a voluntary surrender of vacant land before 18.3.1999. State has to establish that there has been a voluntary surrender of vacant land or surrender and delivery of peaceful possession under sub-section (5) of Section 10 or forceful dispossession under sub-section (6) of Section 10. On failure to establish any of those situations, the land owner or holder can claim the benefit of Section 3 of the Repeal Act."

19. The same issue was considered by the Apex Court in the case of Gajanan Kamlya Patil vs. Addl. Collector & Comp.

Auth. & Ors. reported in JT 2014 (3) SC 211.

20. There is no material in the counter affidavit to demonstrate that the State has taken peaceful possession, nor there is any material to demonstrate that the possession was handed over by the petitioners voluntarily or was taken over by use of force. There is not even a whisper in respect of any notice having been issued under section 10(6) of the Act. The facts clearly indicates that only dejure possession has been taken by the State, not de facto possession, before coming into force of the Repeal Act.

21. From perusal of the record, it is further clear that the procedure for taking over the possession has not been adopted by the State Government at any point of time. Moreover nothing has been stated in the entire counter affidavit whether any proceedings were taken by the State Government as provided under the Act of 1976. In Civil Misc. Writ Petition No. 13218 of 2008, Yasin vs. State of U.P. and others reported in 2014 (4) ADJ page 305 connected with two other writ petitions. It was pointed out that directions were issued by the State Government in the year 1983 namely Uttar Pradesh Urban Land and Ceiling (Taking Of Possession, Payment Of Amount and Allied Matters) Directions, 1983. It has already been held in the aforesaid case that the register should be maintained by the State Government maintaining therein the procedure adopted by them for taking over the possession for surplus land.

22. The twin questions which arise for our consideration in this writ petition, inter-alia, are that whether on the date of the coming into force of the Repeal Act, 1999, actual physical possession of the disputed land was with the petitioner or the same stood delivered to the State and; whether the petitioner is entitled to the benefit of the Repeal Act?

23. In order to examine the aforesaid questions, it would be useful to reproduce the provisions of The Urban Land (Ceiling and Regulation) Act, 1976 and The Urban Land (Ceiling and Regulation) Repeal Act, 1999 which are relevant for our purpose :-

6. Persons holding vacant land in excess of ceiling limit to file statement-

(e) in the case of any other association, by any member of the association or the principal officer thereof; and

(f) in the case of any other person, by that person or by a person competent to act on his behalf. Explanation.--For the purposes of this sub-section, "principal officer"--

(i) in relation to a company, means the secretary, manager or managing- director of the company;

(ii) in relation to any association, means the secretary, treasurer, manager or agent of the association, and includes any person connected with the management of the affairs of the company or the association, as the case may be, upon whom the competent authority has served a notice of his intention of treating his as the principal officer thereof.

sufficient reason, from the person whom a copy of the draft statement has been served under that sub-section and the competent authority shall, after giving the objector a reasonable opportunity of being heard, pass such orders as it deems fit.

9. Final Statement.--After the disposal of the objections, if any, received under sub-section (4) of section 8, the competent authority shall make the necessary alterations in the draft statement in accordance with the orders passed on the objections aforesaid and shall determine the vacant land held by the person concerned in excess of the ceiling limit and cause a copy of the draft statement as so altered to be served in the manner referred to in sub-section (3) of section 8 on the person concerned and where such vacant land is held under a lease, or a mortgage, or a hire-purchase agreement, or an irrevocable power of attorney, also on the owner of such vacant land.

Explanation.--In this section, in sub-section (1) of section 11 and in sections 14 and 23, "State Government", in relation to--

(a) any vacant land owned by the Central Government, means the Central Government;

(b) any vacant land owned by any State Government and situated in the Union territory or within the local limits of a cantonment declared as such under section 3 of the Cantonments Act, 1924 (2 of 1924), means that State Government.

Section 3 and 4 of the Repeal Act, 1999 are as hereunder :-

3. Saving.--

(1) The repeal of the principal Act shall not affect--

(a) the vesting of any vacant land under sub-section (3) of Section 10, possession of which has been taken over the State Government or any person duly authorised by the State Government in this behalf or by the competent authority;

(b) the validity of any order granting exemption under sub-section (1) of Section 20 or any action taken thereunder, notwithstanding any judgment of any court to the contrary;

(2) Where--

(a) any land is deemed to have vested in the State Government under sub-section (3) of Section 10 of the principal Act but possession of which has not been taken over by the State Government or any person duly authorised by the State Government in this behalf or by the competent authority; and

(b) any amount has been paid by the State Government with respect to such land then, such land shall not be restored unless the amount paid, if any, has been refunded to the State Government.

4. Abatement of legal proceedings.--All proceedings relating to any order made or purported to be made under the principal Act pending immediately before the commencement of this Act, before any court, tribunal or other authority shall abate: Provided that this section shall not apply to the proceedings relating to sections 11, 12, 13 and 14 of the principal Act in so far as such proceedings are relatable to the land, possession of which has been taken over by the State Government or any person duly authorised by the State Government in this behalf or by the competent authority.

Upon perusal of the aforesaid provisions of the principal Act, it transpires that Section 6 provides that every person holding vacant land in excess of the ceiling limit was required to file a statement before the competent authority having jurisdiction specifying the location, extent, value and such other prescribed particulars of the vacant land and of any other land on which there was a building, whether or not with a dwelling unit therein, held by him.

Section 7 provides the procedure for filing of statement in cases where vacant land held by a person was situated within the jurisdiction of two or more competent authorities.

Section 8 provides that on the basis of the statement filed u/s 6 and after such inquiry as the competent authority may deem fit to make, the competent authority shall prepare the draft statement.

Section 8 (3) stipulates that the draft statement prepared u/s 8 shall be served on the person concerned together with a notice stating that any objection to the draft statement shall be prepared within 30 days of the service thereof.

Section 9 provides that after disposal of the objections, if any, received under sub-section (4) of Section 8, the competent authority shall prepare the final statement.

Section 10 (1) provides that after the service of the statement u/s 9 on the person concerned, the competent authority shall cause a notification giving the particulars of the vacant land held by such person in excess of the ceiling limit to be published in the Official Gazette of the State concerned for the information of the general public.

Such land shall be deemed to have vested absolutely in the State Government free from all encumbrances.

Section 10 (4) prohibits transfer by way of sale, mortgage, gift, lease or otherwise by any person any excess vacant land (including any part thereof) specified in the notification aforesaid and any such transfer made in contravention of this provision shall be deemed to be null and void and no person shall alter or cause to be altered the use of such excess vacant land.

Section 10 (5) empowers the competent authority to order any person by notice in writing who is in possession of any vacant land vested in the State Government under sub-section (3) to surrender or deliver possession thereof to State Government or to any person duly authorized by the State Government in this behalf within thirty days of the service of the notice.

Section 10 (6) states where any person refuses or fails to comply with an order made under sub-section (5), the competent authority may take possession of the vacant land or cause it to be given to the concerned State Government or to any person duly authorized by such State Government in this behalf and may for that purpose use such force as may be necessary.

24. From Perusal of the facts as stated above, it is clear that the actual physical possession of the land in dispute was never taken by the respondents at any point of time. Nothing has been stated in the entire counter affidavit regarding the procedure by which the actual physical possession of the petitioners were taken by the respondents. Moreover as stated above an order dated 17.12.2000 has already been passed by the District Judge, Allahabad in Ceiling Appeal No. 332 of 1995 by which the benefit of the Repealing Act of 1999 has already been provided to the petitioners. Further from perusal of the record it is clear that against the aforesaid order dated 17.12.2000 a Review Petition was preferred by the State Government before the District Judge, Allahabad which was numbered as Misc. Case No. 930 of 2002, the same was rejected by the District Judge, Allahabad vide its order dated 08.08.2008. The aforesaid order has became final between the parties. The entries in the Revenue records were not corrected by the State Authorities, a writ petition was preferred by the petitioners before the Court being Writ Petition No. 68554 of 2011 (Smt. Seeta Devi and Others Supra). On the basis of the directions given by this Court in the aforesaid writ petition on 06.02.2015 a decision has been taken by the respondent no. 4 dated 23.11.2015 rejecting the claim set up by the petitioners. The only reason given in the aforesaid order is that the letters were already written by the District Magistrate to the State Government seeking their comments in the matter. Record further reveals that till date no order whatsoever has been passed by the State Government pursuant to the letters written by the District Magistrate, Allahabad in the matter.

25. In the facts and circumstances of the case, we are of the opinion that the order passed by the respondent no. 4 dated 23.11.2015 which is under challenge in the present writ petition is liable to be quashed and the same is hereby quashed. A mandamus is issued to the respondents to correct the Revenue Records accordingly pertaining to the land in dispute by deleting the words 'State Land' from the Revenue Records and record the names of the petitioners in place of 'State Land'. The aforesaid exercise shall be completed by the respondents specially the respondent no.2/District Magistrate, Allahabad within a period of three months from the date of production of certified copy of this order before him.

26. With the aforesaid directions, the writ petition is allowed. No order as to cost.

THE HON'BLE RAMESH SINHA, J.
THE HON'BLE AJIT KUMAR, J.

Writ C No. 20776 of 2019

All India Transformer Manufacturers Association & Anr. ...Petitioners Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Vivek Saran

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Krishna Agrawal

Government order -guidelines for quality check of transformers-if on inspection found defective-actions provided-challenged-as it amounts to modification of the conditions under agreement -between the parties-held-guidelines to be read in acclamation to terms and conditions provided under each agreement between the parties-impugned order not arbitrary-W.P. dismissed.

Cases cited:

Delhi Transport Corporation vs. D.T.C. Mazdoor Congress & ors, (1991) Suppl)1) Sec 600

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ramesh Sinha, J. & Hon'ble Ajit Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Sri Vivek Saran, learned counsel for the petitioners Sri Krishna Agrawal, learned counsel appearing for respondent Nos.2 and 3-Corporation and learned Standing Counsel for respondent No.1.

2. By means of this writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India the petitioner has challenged the Government Order dated 23.05.2019 whereby certain guidelines have been provided for qua quality check of transformers and on inspection such transformers, if detected be defective, certain actions have been further provided for.

3. Assailing the Government Order the grievance raised by the petitioner is that the Government Order directly affects each individual contract entered between the tenderer and the Corporation qua the supply of product and, therefore, no separate directions can be issued as they would amount to modification of the conditions under the agreement between the two parties. He has taken us to the relevant provisions of notice inviting tender subject to which the supply has to made and in which various stages of inspections have been provided for. He further submits that since under the contract there is specific provision for maintenance in case of supply of the transformers and also there are certain guarantees that stand qua the transformers installed, it amounts to specific precautions to check quality control. He, therefore, submits that there was no occasion to issue a Government Order over and above the terms and conditions subject to which tender was accepted and agreement reached.

4. He has further assailed the order on the ground that the time period prescribed for black listing as minimum three years is also not in public interest. He submits that each individual case is to be tested and if the transformer supplied are found to be defective one and the terms of contract have been found to be violated, obviously it will lead to penal action. Thus, he submits that each case should be tested on its facts particular to that case and then only any order should be passed.

5. Per contra, the argument advanced by learned Standing Counsel as well as learned counsel appearing for the Corporation is that the Government Order has been issued only providing guidelines and these guidelines not in derogation to the agreemententered into between the parties. He, therefore, submits that challenge to the Government Order is an absolutely misplaced grounds. He further submits that these are only by way of precautionary measures that have been adopted for by the Government and it cannot under any circumstance be read as eroding the principles governing privity of contract between the parties.

6. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and having perused the records and having gone through specific provisions of the Government Order, we find that the Government Order lays down certain conditions for the purposes of testing and inspection of the transformers and provides certain measures to be adopted so that the transformers supplied are qualitative one. In fact, the Government Order is only by way of a measure for quality control.

7. There is always presemption of legislative action being valid and lawful and so also in respect of a Government Order if it is issued in the field not already covered by any legislation.

8. A Government Order providing law in a field not already occupied by any Act or Rule would fall in the category of primary legistation (Nawal Kishor Mishra Vs. High Court of Judicature at Allahabad, (2015) 5 SCC 479).

9. Constitution too vide Article 13(3)(a) defines laws as an Ordinance Order, by-laws, regulation, notification etc. If legislature has not enacted law and executive government issues any Government Order, it raises presumption of its validity. In the case of Delhi Transport Corporation Vs. D.T.C. Mazdoor Congress and others, (1991) Suppl (1) Sec 600 the Apex Court laid down a very broad test qua judicial review of a legislative action while its constitutional validity is under challenge vide para 255 thus:

"255. It is thus clear that the doctrine of reading down or of recasting the statute can be applied in limited situations. It is essentially used, firstly, for saving a statute from being struck down on account of its unconstitutionality. It is an extension of the principle that when two interpretations are possible ? one rendering it constitutional and the other making it unconstitutional, the former should be preferred. The unconstitutionality may spring from either the incompetence of the legislature to enact the statute or from its violation of any of the provisions of the Constitution. The second situation which summons its aid is where the provisions of the statute are vague and ambiguous and it is possible to gather the intentions of the legislature from the object of the statute, the context in which the provision occurs and the purpose for which it is made. However, when the provision is cast in a definite and unambiguous language and its intention is clear, it is not permissible either to mend or bend it even if such recasting is in accord with good reason and conscience. In such circumstances, it is not possible for the court to remake the statute. Its only duty is to strike it down and leave it to the legislature if it so desires, to amend it. What is further, if the remaking of the statute by the courts is to lead to its distortion that course is to be scrupulously avoided. One of the situations further where the doctrine can never be called into play is where the statute requires extensive additions and deletions. Not only it is no part of the court's duty to undertake such exercise, but it is beyond its jurisdiction to do so."

10. Applying the above test to the provisions contained under the Government Order, we do not find any ambiguity in the language and the intention behind it.

11. On pointed query being made to learned counsel for the petitioner as to what malice in law can be detected if the Government Order is to be tested on the testing anvil of Article 14 of the Constitution, learned counsel for the petitioner only submitted that it is encroaching upon the field of an agreement which is governed by the principles of privity of contract between the two parties and thus, Government Order virtually amounts to modifying the terms of contract.

12. Under the Government Order in its very first paragraph it indicates that it is in the form of guidelines and so we would be holding that these guidelines are to be read in acclamation to terms and conditions provided under each agreement between the parties.

13. Thus, we do not find any merit in the arguments advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner that the Government Orders suffers from an illegality as such so as to hold it bad. Neither the exercise in issuing such Government Order is found arbitrary nor content thereof in any manner are found to be against the public policy and/or public interest. We do not find it to be in any manner vitiated for any bias or perversity in providing for a period black listing. Thus, we decline to interfere in the present writ petition.

14. However, we hastened to add that every agreement has its own sanctity which is to be maintained and in case if the terms and conditions are violated and during inspection the transformers are found to be defective the action shall be taken strictly in accordance with law within the four corners of the terms and conditions entered between the parties qua the contract. And we may further observe that in case, if the individual has been visited with the penalty of black listing, it is always open for such individual to approach this Court against the order of the black listing and each case is to be tested on its own facts.

15. The writ petition, with the aforesaid observations, is consigned to records.

A. Reliefs sought

2. By order dated 22/23.08.2016, the petitioner was debarred from the University for six academic sessions 2016-17.

3. By order dated 23.03.2019, the representation of the petitioner for revocation of the debarment of the petitioner for admission in any course in the AMU for six academic sessions commencing from 2016-17 which he intends to pursue in University, was rejected.

4. The petitioner has passed his Diploma in Engineering (Mechanical Production) from the respondent University.

5. The petitioner has assailed the order dated 23.03.2019 passed by the respondent no. 4, Proctor, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh and the order dated 22/23.08.2016 passed by the respondent no. 2, Vice Chancellor, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, in the instant writ petition.

6. The petitioner has also prayed for a writ in the nature of mandamus to command the respondents to permit him for further studies in the University.

B. Arguments of the learned counsel for parties

7. Sri R. K. Ojha, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Ratnakar Upadhyay, learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the impugned order was passed in violation of the statutes of the university. The punishment imposed upon the petitioner is disproportionate. There is no provision for reform and rehabilitation of delinquent students in the statutes, which has resulted in violation of the fundamental right of the petitioner guaranteed under Article 21 of the Constitution of India.

8. Sri Anish Kumar, Sri Pankaj Misra and Sri Gaurav Pundir, learned counsels for the petitioner in connected writ petitions adopt the aforesaid arguments of the learned Senior Counsel, apart from raising factual issues peculiar to the respective writ petitions in which they appear.

9. Sri V. K. Upadhyaya, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri V.D. Chauhan, learned counsel for the BHU submits that the BHU has taken action as per law.

10. The learned Senior Counsel relied on the affidavits filed by the B.H.U., on creation of a reform and rehabilitation programme for delinquent students.

11. Sri Ajit Kumar Singh, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri V. D. Chauhan, learned counsel for the IIT BHU, contends that the IIT BHU, as a matter of policy accepts and is willing to adopt a professionally designed reform and rehabilitation programme for delinquent students. However, good order and discipline have to be maintained in the university, at all costs. In fact IIT BHU is currently even running a reform programme. He fairly conceded that the programme is not fully developed and does not have a supporting statutory/legal frame work.

12. Sri Shashank Shekhar Singh, learned counsel for the respondent-AMU, submits that the AMU fully accepts the idea of a reform and rehabilitation programme for delinquent students on an institutional basis. He however contends that no compromise with the good order, discipline, and the stability of the academic atmosphere can be made in any manner.

13. Sri Rizwan Akhtar, learned counsel for the UGC, Sri Rakesh Srivastava, and Sri Abrar Ahmed, learned counsels for the Union of India, have also been heard.

C. Facts

14. The order of expulsion and debarment dated 22/23.08.2016 was passed on the foot of an incident of violence, which happened on 07.12.2015. The office memo dated 22.08.2016, records that some persons including one Osama Javed, an anti-social element brutally assaulted some students of the University namely Mohd. Sadiq and and Aatif Afaq. They also opened fire with a country made pistol (Katta). The finding of disciplinary committee against the petitioner is set forth below:

"Aforementioned student, Mohd. Ghayas has recently completed his Diploma Engineering and presently doing a job in Gurgaon. He was a NRSC student and had no reason to be involved in the assault with Naved Ahmad Khan on 07.12.2015."

15. The incident of violence happened on 07.12.2015, when some persons while possessing a country made pistol (Katta), baseball bat and iron rod and physically assaulted Naved Ahmad Khan, an ex-student, causing severe injuries. Injured Naved Ahmad Khan had undergone an ankle fracture surgery.

16. The proceedings were instituted against the accused, including the petitioner, by registration of FIR No. 780/15, under Section 323, 325 and 506 IPC. The petitioner was expelled from the University and barred from admission to any courses for six academic sessions by order dated 22/23.08.2016.

17. The petitioner was acquitted of the charges against him by learned trial court in criminal case no. 8479 of 2016, State Vs. Mohd. Khalid and others, by the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Aligarh. Despite the acquittal, the petitioner was not permitted, to pursue his studies in the University.

18. Thus aggrieved, the petitioner upon his acquittal, approached this Court, by instituting a writ petition. The petitioner wanted pursue his academic courses, and evolve into a law abiding citizen of the country. The aforesaid writ petition instituted by the petitioner is Mohd. Ghayas Vs. Rajya Uttar Pradesh Dwara Pramukh Sachiv Shiksha and others, registered as Writ C No. 5403 of 2019 was disposed of by a judgment and order rendered on 15.02.2019. The the judgment is being extracted hereunder in extenso:

"The petitioner was debarred from the University for six academic sessions from 2016-17 on the count that the petitioner involved in a criminal case.

Submission of learned counsel for the petitioner is that the petitioner has been exonerated in the criminal case by the competent trial court. The petitioner has moved an application for reinstatement in the University to enable him to pursue his course.

Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the petitioner has made an application to the Vice Chancellor, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh for revocation of the order of debarment. He submits that the petitioner is desirous to further pursue his academic career.

The only prayer made by the learned counsel for the petitioner is that the application for revocation of the order of debarment of the petitioner and for admission in any other course which he intends to pursue in the University, may be decided within a stipulated period of time.

Sri Shashank Shekhar Singh, learned counsel for the respondent University in his usual fairness does not dispute the aforesaid prayer.

Matter is remitted to the respondent no. 2 Vice Chancellor, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh.

A writ of mandamus is issued commanding the respondent no. 2, Vice Chancellor, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh to decide the application of the petitioner for revocation/recalling of the order of debarment within a period of one month. While deciding the representation of the petitioner, the Vice Chancellor, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh shall keep in mind the prospects of reformation of a young adult. The petitioner may be given a chance to redeem himself and efface the taint of the past by good conduct in future.

However, it is clarified that this Court has not prejudged the issue. It is open to the Vice Chancellor, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh to decide the matter as per law.

The writ petition is disposed of finally."

19. In compliance of the order, the Proctor, AMU passed an order dated 23.03.2019, which is also impugned in this writ petition.

D. Legal Issues common in all writ petitions

20. Absence of any reform and rehabilitative measures, in the administrative and legal frameworks of the universities, has serious legal and constitutional implications.

21. The impugned action and the statutory regime, of imposing punishments, will also be judged in such constitutional and legal perspectives. The discussion on these issues, shall be common in all the companion writ petitions.

22. Calling attention to the statutes of the universities namely, BHU, IIT BHU and AMU, the learned counsels for the petitioners; contended that the said statutes do not contain provisions for reform and rehabilitation of delinquent students. The action against delinquent students, is governed and regulated, solely by the penal provisions of the statutes of the respective universities. The punitive scheme is a common thread, in the statutes of all the three universities.

23. In response, all the counsels for the various respondents universities', in fact conceded, that as on date no structured and professionally designed programmes for reform, self development and rehabilitation of delinquent students, backed by a proper legal frame work, exist in the respective universities.

24. Accordingly, various orders were passed by this Court, from time to time, requiring the respective universities namely, Banaras Hindu University, Indian Institute of Technology Banaras Hindu University, and Aligarh Muslim University, as well as the University Grants Commission and the Union of India through the Ministry of Human Resource Development, New Delhi, to submit their responses in regard to creation of a reform and rehabilitation frame work, for delinquent students in universities and institutions of higher learning. The respondents were also required to indicate, whether they had any opposition or even reservation, in regard to the creation of the reform and rehabilitative programme for delinquent students in the universities.

25. All the respondents namely Banaras Hindu University (hereinafter referred to as BHU), Indian Institute of Technology, Banaras Hindu University (hereinafter referred to as IIT BHU), Aligarh Muslim University (hereinafter referred to as the AMU) as well as Union of India through Ministry of HRD and University Grants Commission (hereinafter referred to as UGC) have submitted their responses to the aforesaid issues.

E. Stands of respective respondents on affidavits

(i) The response of IIT BHU

26. The IIT BHU in its affidavit has recorded its full agreement with a reform oriented approach, to deal with deviant behaviour in students. Thus IIT, B.H.U., has made a ringing endorsement, of the need to adopt a reform and rehabilitation programme for delinquent students. However, it has also underscored the need for punitive action, to maintain a peaceful environment in the campus. The relevant paras of the affidavit are quoted hereinunder:

"2. That the present affidavit is being filed in compliance of the order dated 19.9.2019 passed by this Hon'ble Court.

4. That the Institute as indicated in the foregoing paragraph, is in full agreement with a reform oriented approach. However, in cases where reformative steps do not yield the desired corrections in behavior and actions of erring students, the Institute has to resort to punitive action in order to maintain the peaceful environment in the campus."

27. By categorically stating its commitment to reform of delinquent students, the IIT BHU has been true to its founding principles, and has faithfully discharged its obligations, under law and to the society.

(ii) Response of AMU

28. Upon orders being passed by this Court, the AMU to its credit, constituted an expert committee. The report of the expert committee has been submitted, and is made part of the record of the Court. The relevant parts of the Committee Report are extracted hereinbelow:

"In the light of the above the committee observes as under:

1. Our criminal justice system envisages two type of laws: one for Juveniles and second for other than Juveniles. There is a separate law for Juveniles known as Juvenile Justice Act, 2015 whereas others are covered under Code of Criminal Procedure, 1. 1976 and Indian Penal Code, 1860. The application of AMU Discipline and Conduct Rules, 1985 does not come primarily under the definition of Juvenile therefore the protection available to Juveniles are not available to the Students of the university in general. It becomes more relevant in view of the fact that at the time of admission every the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Vice Chancellor and the other authorities of the University is required to sign a declaration to the effect that he submits himself to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Vice Chancellor and the other authorities of the University.

2. That it is also pertinent to mention here that Aligarh Muslim University is primarily a RESIDENTIAL UNIVERSITY and there are approximately 36,665 Students [22.593 University Students and departments/courses/Schools in the Aligarh Muslim University. Among these students 12,158 students reside in 56 Hostels (22 for girls) in the campus within the radius of 10 KM. Therefore, the future career of thousands of the students cannot be allowed to be jeopardized for the sake of handful of students who are involved in the indiscipline act and are destroying the whole atmosphere of the University.

3. In principle that criminal activity has no role to play in our education system therefore the students who are involved in the criminal activity have also no role to play in our education system. The students who are indulged in the criminal activity have different mind-set and have nothing to do with their studies. They are not at all interested to pursue their studies and their presence only hampers the study of the other students who are interested to pursue their study. It is the duty of the University to marginalize such type of students so that the students at large, who are more interested to pursue their studies, may pursue their studies in cordial and peaceful/ atmosphere.

4. That as per existing rules of the University, there is no compulsory/ mandated counselling available to students against whom the discipline and conduct rules are invoked. These rules are also not invoked in a routine way but being a residential University there are day-today interactions/counselling with the Wardens, Provost Tutors, Teachers and Senior Students holding positions of Senior Hall/Food etc.

5. That the extreme punishments as provided in the 1985 rules are invoked when there is an extreme situation and continuance/presence of the students became a threat to the academic environment and campus life of the University.

6. At the same time the observations of the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Ajay Bhanot in this matter are highly appreciable in the context to infuse a reformative approach that the solution lies in engaging with the students, and harnessing their energies creatively. Errant behavior has to be reformed and not condemned. Erring students have to be transformed and not judged. The purpose of education is to unlock the immense potentiality in the human resource of the nation. This is possible by bringing about a conceptual shift in the concept of enforcing discipline, in the portals of the University. Indiscipline unchecked is indiscipline unleashed. But it is equally true. that expelling students from the University is a short term, if not a myopic view of the issue. A balance has to be drawn by the University authorities. The University has to create an ecosystem, with qualified staff and detailed programs of engaging with such students, with a view to give them an opportunity to reform themselves. Expulsion of students would abandon them to their own devices, close the doors of reformation to them, and shut them out from the redeeming light of knowledge. Leaving children accused of misconduct or deviant behavior, to fend for themselves would create issues for the society at large. In case Universities decline to shoulder the responsibilities of bringing such children back to the correct path, and do not provide the frame work for mainstreaming this class of students, the consequences would be detrimental to the society at large. There is no better institution in our democratic frame work, to embrace the young and questing spirits who have strayed from their path of morally upright and correct conduct. The Universities are uniquely equipped to deal with the challenge on an institutional basis. The Universities are repositories of knowledge, resources and experience to meet the challenge at hand. What is at stake, is not merely the future of an individual, but stability of the society The concerns of the society have to be handled by the University. The magnitude of the challenge is large, but it is imperative for the Universities to accept it and provide the adequate response.

After detailed deliberations and in the backdrop of above the committee proposes that:

1. Structural reformative approach may be included in the AMU Students Conduct and Discipline Rules of 1985 as this committee has identified some areas (not all inclusive) for counselling by a psychologist as enumerated above.

2. As the misconduct offences/crimes related to internet and cyberspace were not available when the Discipline Rules were framed, the same needs to be identified and appropriately included in the AMU Students Conduct and Discipline Rules of 1985 as it is growing among young and youth.

3. Outside campuses were not established when these rules were framed, hence, there is also need to amend these rules to include a structure for those centres.

The committee therefore recommends to the Vice-Chancellor as follows:

AMU Students Conduct and Discipline Rules 1985 were framed almost 30 years back and in the light of the observations given above, a detailed and exhaustive exercise may be undertaken by a committee to be appointed by the Vice-Chancellor under the convenorship of the Proctor of the University to formulate and propose a draft of revised AMU Students Conduct and Discipline Rules, inclusive of reformative approach, after exploring similar rules already enforced by sister universities and institutions in India and abroad for further consideration of the Vice-Chancellor and Academic Council of the University."

29. The AMU has thus in principle, recognized the need for a reform and rehabilitation programme for delinquent students in some areas in the university. The AMU too has accorded top priority, to the maintenance of discipline in the campus, and is rightly unwilling to compromise with the same.

(iii) Response of BHU

30. The initial affidavit filed by the BHU, in regard to their stand on a reformative and rehabilitation programme for delinquent students, stated in effect that the reformation of the students indulging deviant behaviour is achieved, by providing for various categories of punishments, depending upon the nature of indiscipline. It further asserted, that in the name of reformation, the University cannot give a "go by", to the objectives of the university. The relevant paras 17 and 18 of the affidavit dated 17.09.2019 are extracted hereunder:

"17. In the present case no such conditions exist and as such the continuance of the order of suspension of the petitioner from the privileges of the University and Hostel is in accordance with law. That 17. it is the University humbly that submitted administration and the Vice-Chancellor in particular is the custodian of the interests of all the students involved in various academic pursuits in the University. In the case of Banaras Hindu University the number of all the students at various levels runs into more than 30 thousand. For the smooth functioning of the University and maintenance of an environment conducive to academic pursuits the interest of an individual student must give way to the larger interests of all the students as a whole. This is not only in the interest of the students themselves but also in public interest. In the of reformation of the students the University name administration cannot give a go by to the objectives of the University nor can it take an action which may have the potential of destroying the smooth functioning of the University embroiling the University in large scale unrest both in the student as well as in the teaching community. If the University such situation is brought about a administration would be failing in its duty. The fact that Banaras Hindu University is the largest residential University in the country if not the world cannot be lost sight of. Even small spark has the potential of turning into a conflagration which may become difficult to contain.

18. That the facility and provisions aimed at reformation of the erring students found indulging in deviant behavior is inherent in the Ordinances of the University dealing with students' indiscipline by providing for various categories of punishments depending upon the nature of indiscipline."

31. However, subsequently, the BHU filed an affidavit on 26th September, 2019, easing its reservations, against a reform and rehabilitation programme. The affidavit exhibited a shift in stand, indicating a willingness to consider a reformative approach. The para 7 of the affidavit is extracted hereunder:

"7. That all the aforesaid mechanisms and provisions exist in the University for creation and preservation of an academic ambience conducive to teaching and learning and vibrant and peaceful community life. However, there exist no provision in the Rules of the University for any formal reformative mechanism or process for such students as are found involved in an offence involving moral turpitude or heinous crime and hence are suspended from the privileges of the University. However, the University is not averse to considering this aspect, if it is found appropriate by the University through Constitution of a Committee of stakeholders which may look into as to whether such a mechanism is desirable in principle in the context of maintenance of academic ambience of the University or it may be detrimental to it, particularly, to the interest of larger group of the students, teachers and employees."

32. In substance the BHU was open to the concept of a structured reformative programme. It has however, desisted from taking a categorical position, on this most critical issue. While openness to new ideas is appreciated, failure to take a specific stand is also noticed. The Court will go no further.

(iv) Response of UGC

33. Sri Rizwan Ali Akhtar, learned counsel for the UGC has relied on the affidavit filed by the UGC. The UGC in its affidavit, stated that the universities are autonomous institutions. The academic and administrative decisions, are to be taken by the universities concerned, as per law. It was also stated that "the UGC has no role to play on day to day function of the Central Universities".

(v) Response of UoI

34. The Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India has chosen not to file any affidavit, despite orders passed by the Court and opportunities granted by the Court. The Court has to proceed, with the hearing in the interests of justice.

35. It was informed that the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India, on its part had sent communications to the AMU and BHU, to protect its interests. The Court finds that the interests of the Union of India, are in no manner adversely affected. In these cases the interests of the Union of India, are not converse to the universities.

"The best lack all conviction."
~WB Yeats

36. Present discontents cannot be addressed by rote responses. Contemporary problems cannot be resolved by jejune formulae.

37. The universities cannot avoid a stand at the decision point. By prevarication at the decision point, the university may postpone the reckoning, but cannot escape responsibility.

38. Law has to hold institutions accountable to their obligations, to the founding purposes, to the students and to the society at large.

39. Universities of eminence cannot justify present inertia on the foot of past glory. Universities have to be aware of the risks, of basking in the reflected glory of the past. Eminence is achieved by past glory, however, reputation is retained by present endeavours.

40. Universities at certain critical decision points, would be true to their founding purposes and extant obligations by making clear and creative interventions. The universities as well as other authorities cannot show ineptitude in the face of crises, and equivocation in the face of solutions. In these critical situations the universities as well as other authorities, have to stand up and intervene and not stand by and equivocate.

F. Evolution of Fundamental Rights by courts

41. The fundamental rights of citizens are stated in Part III of the Constitution of India. But as in all cases, text of the rights can never be the exhaustive description of all rights. Rights have to be interpreted from the text of the Constitution. The process of interpretation of the text, often results in the evolution of rights. The Constitution is the textual origin of fundamental rights. Constitutional law defines the substance of fundamental rights.

(i) Legislative lag, executive inertia and fundamental rights

42. The fast pace of life in modern times often, outstrips the capacity of the legislature, to cope with the consequences of social change. There is a limit to human foresight, but the possibilities of life are limitless. The limits of legislation are the constraints of human foresight. The legislative process is complex and even time taking. Human affairs do not wait on the legislative process. These facts frequently create a legislative lag. It is almost inevitable in the nature of things.

43. The first intersection of life with law, at times happens in courts, even before the legislature grapples with the problems. The courts are often seized, of various emerging issues in social and individual lives, before the legislatures are cognizant of them.

44. A legislative hiatus or executive lethargy, cannot cause a constitutional stasis. The enforcement of fundamental rights, cannot be forestalled by a legislative lag or executive inertia. Constitutional guarantees and Fundamental Rights, have to be enforced on demand. Constitutional overhang is perpetual. Law is always in motion, and never on a holiday.

45. The text of the Constitution, is a conceptual philosophy of fundamental rights, and not an exhaustive guide to fundamental rights. The text of the Constitution is fixed, fundamental rights are always evolving. This is the essence of constitutional law jurisprudence. There is a method in the evolution of constitutional law jurisprudence.

46. Evolution of constitutional law rights are guided and controlled by the text of the constitution, long settled judicial principles of interpretation of the constitution, and judicial precedents in point. The march of law is also assisted by consensus of values, in the comity of civilized nations. These universal values are often manifested in International Conventions and Treaties. Another source of such values is comparative international jurisprudence. The felt needs of the times are also factored in by the courts. Development of constitutional law happens on these sure foundations. Constitutional rights are distilled from this process. In this process, the courts discharge their constitutional obligations. This is not judicial activism by courts. It is judging.

47. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Vishaka Vs. State of Rajasthan, reported at 1997 (6) SCC 241, issued various guidelines for the safety of women at working places. The guidelines held the field, till the Parliament enacted the legislation in that regard. Judicial directions in that case preceded, the legislative enactment. Infact the legislature was alerted, to the need of a legislation to cover the field, by the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court.

48. This narrative will profit from the observations of the Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Rattan Chand Hira Chand v. Askar Nawaz Jung, reported at (1991) 3 SCC 67:

"The legislature often fails to keep pace with the changing needs and values nor is it realistic to expect that it will have provided for all contingencies and eventualities. It is, therefore, not only necessary but obligatory on the courts to step in to fill the lacuna. When courts perform this function undoubtedly they legislate judicially. But that is a kind of legislation which stands implicitly delegated to them to further the object of the legislation and to promote the goals of the society. Or to put it negatively, to prevent the frustration of the legislation or perversion of the goals and values of the society. So long as the courts keep themselves tethered to the ethos of the society and do not travel off its course, so long as they attempt to furnish the felt necessities of the time and do not refurbish them, their role in this respect has to be welcomed.

All courts have at one time or the other felt the need to bridge the gap between what is and what is intended to be. The courts cannot in such circumstances shirk from their duty and refuse to fill the gap. In performing this duty they do not foist upon the society their value judgments. They respect and accept the prevailing values, and do what is expected of them. The courts will, on the other hand, fail in their duty if they do not rise to the occasion but approve helplessly of an interpretation of a statute or a document or of an action of an individual which is certain to subvert the societal goals and endanger the public good."

G. Process of law and the courts : Current State & Contemporary Challenges

49. The pace of technological, social and economic developments, often pose a challenge to the courts. Courts of today often have to deal with complex issues ranging from science, technology, economics, archaeology, medicine, social sciences and across other fields of highly specialized knowledge.

50. Lawyers on occasions lack the expertise, to grasp and simplify issues of varying complexity, from fields unrelated to law. Judges do not fare any better. Parties have their interests to protect.

51. The intellectual capital created by traditional resources of the judicial process, may not be adequate to manage such contemporary challenges. The judicial process would have to evolve, to meet the felt needs of the time. The rising tides of human knowledge, cannot pass the courts by. This shall require change in procedures, and development of infrastructure.

52. The intellectual resource base has to be widened. The debate has to be broadbased, to include direct inputs from experts as well. This would also entail well equipped libraries, which are staffed by qualified personnel and research assistants, and may be even experts. Institutional arrangements for interface of the courts with experts, have to be in place to ensure procedural propriety.

53. Debate on these issues will pave the way for the most important change, i.e.

change in mindset. For the process to be credible and efficacious, a change has to come from within the judicial system. But change is inevitable, if judicial adjudication is to be just and remain relevant. In this regard, the High Court has a responsibility to fulfill, if not an obligation to discharge.

H. Education

(i) Importance and scope

"Where the mind is without fear and the head is held high,
Where knowledge is free".
~Tagore

54. In education mankind discovered the message of unquenchable optimism, that humans could be separated from the cycle of repetitive thought and action. Learning was the key to the uninterrupted progress of any society. Knowledge instilled the belief that human life could be improved. Through knowledge alone, the hope is realized that humans can be reformed, and humanity can be transformed. Education is the supreme act of nation building, which essentially means nurturing of constitutional values, realization of constitutional goals, and strengthening the rule of law.

55. The idea of the Indian nation is founded, on the ideals of the Indian civilization. Many of these ideals are manifested in the Constitution, and find expression in constitutional law.

56. The quest for knowledge defines the Indian civilization. A salient feature in the search for learning, distinguishes the Indian civilization. Knowledge in Hellenic civilization was founded on reason. The human thirst for knowledge was also quenched by revelation. The distinctive feature of learning in Indian civilization, is that India's search for knowledge, while always embracing reason as a method and never denying revelation as a source, insists on realization as its goal.

57. The diversity of thought is reflected in the plurality of discourse in India. The enduring values which define India, have been preserved and propagated by the tradition of civilized debate. The unity of our nation is protected by respect and affirmation of a multi hued cultural heritage and embracement of varied traditions of thought.

(ii) Role and obligation of universities

"Where the mind is led forward by thee Into ever widening thought and action."
Tagore

58. The universities are the custodians of the old values, even as they ceaselessly push the boundaries of modern knowledge.

59. In universities students of diverse backgrounds, and different beliefs, congregate in a common pursuit of knowledge. Through knowledge they will learn, that humanity unites more than diversity differentiates. With learning they will understand, that diversity enriches human life, and does not divide humankind. University experience will help them, cultivate constitutional values, and transcend violent and other aberrational tendencies.

60. Universities are not teaching shops, nor are they mere examining bodies. Universities nurture the intellect and develop the character of the young citizens in a wholesome manner. Students gain knowledge and imbibe values in universities. These dual pursuits constitute the founding purpose of a university, in fact its raison detre.

61. A unifocal approach promoting scholastic achievements, to the exclusion of character building, would undermine the founding principles of a university. A failure of character or deficit of values in students, may impel action against the delinquent student, but should also cause introspection in university authorities.

62. University education is not an arm's length transaction, between the teachers and the taught. Nor is university education an exact contractual relation, in the likeness of a consumer and a service provider.

I. Discipline in Universities: Concept, Need & Challenges

(i) Violence, intimidation and moral turpitude

"Where the clear stream of reason has not lost its way into the dreary desert sand of dead habit"

~Rabindranath Tagore

63. Violence degrades human life. Intimidation stifles human thought. Moral turpitude is the low ebb of human conduct. These are the scourges and yet inescapable facts of human life. Our society faces these issues, and our varsities grapple with them.

64. Violence, intimidation, and acts of moral turpitude, are not conducive to the academic atmosphere of a varsity, and pose a mortal threat to the values of a university. They retard the growth of free thought and reasoned debate. These evils have no place in our universities. The universities can prosper only when such evils are got rid of.

(ii) Communal disturbances in universities

"Where the world has not been broken up into fragments by narrow domestic walls".

~Rabindranath Tagore

65. In Writ C No. 32955 of 2019, (Ajay Singh Vs. Union of India and Others), the petitioner is charged with disturbing the communal harmony in the university.

66. Stoking communal hatred not only disrupts peace and order in a university, but can roil the foundations of law and harmony in our society. The problem cannot be tackled as a "discipline" issue alone. A composite and a conceptual approach has to be adopted. The roots of communal hate have to be analyzed and addressed. Communal hatred is a narrative, which stands in direct opposition, to our civilizational ethos and constitutional values. Communal hatred holds a threat, to the rule of law. Communal hatred cannot be countenanced in our universities, nor can be given any space in our society.

(iii) Discipline in universities

67. Discipline is the bedrock of any organization. In a university, discipline does not mean conformity of thought, or creation of a regimented class of people. In a varsity discipline is not the residue, after dissent is stifled and dissenters purged.

68. Discipline in a university is the consensus among all stakeholders, to live by the universal values which define the academic world. Discipline in a varsity is common allegiance and unshakable adherence, to values which nurture free thought, respect dissentient opinions, and create an environment of unimpeded academic pursuits. Hate and true debate cannot co-exist. Violence and true learning cannot cohabit.

69. Discipline has to be preserved at all costs, if the raison detre of the University is to be protected at all times. Indiscipline unchecked is indiscipline unleashed. However in our constitutional scheme, the means of ensuring discipline, is as important as the end of keeping discipline.

(iv) Statutory approach to maintaining discipline

70. The universities have created legal frameworks, to deal with acts of indiscipline, and to maintain discipline and order.

71. The power to take disciplinary action, and impose punishment upon delinquent students, is vested in the competent authorities, by the statutes of the concerned university. The following statutes govern and regulate, the process of initiating disciplinary action against delinquent students, and imposition of penalty for misconduct.

BHU -The Banaras Hindu University Act No. XVI of 1915 {Section 60}

ii. Chapter VIII, Ordinances Governing Maintenance of Discipline and Grievances Procedure.

iii. Notification, New Delhi, 31st July, 2017, BHU

AMU- The Aligarh Muslim University (Act No. XL of 1920), [Amendment] Act, 1981 (62 of 1981)

ii. Section 35 (5) of the AMU

iii. The Statutes of the University (as adapted under Section 28 of the Act) amended upto December, 2012).

IIT BHU - i. The Institutes of Technology Act, 1961

ii. The Institutes of Technology Amendment Act, 2012.

iii. Section 17(2) of the Act, 1961 (already quoted)

(The relevant extracts of the statutes are appended as appendix 1 to the writ petition.)

J. Statutory Regime of Punishments in light of Article 21 & Doctrine of Proportionality

72. The statutes of all the three universities contemplate only penal action, to deal with all forms of indiscipline or deviant conduct. The penal action may lead to suspension, and can even extend to expulsion and debarment.

73. The punitive provisions of the Statutes of the respective universities, manifest the deterrent intent of the law. A reformist approach to the problem is absent in the statutes. The makers of statutes have solely adopted a punitive or deterrent approach to the exclusion of other methods of dealing with issues of indiscipline or deviant conduct.

74. The aforesaid ordinances of the universities and the affidavits of the respondents have been perused. Submissions of the learned counsel for the universities have been considered. This Court finds that there is no structured, professionally designed reform, self development and rehabilitation programme, or therapeutic support system backed by a legal frame work, to deal with the delinquent students and like issues in the universities.

75. The statutory monopoly of a punitive approach, to deviant behaviour, and the exclusion of all other responses, often creates a lack of balance in the actions of the concerned University. In such cases, the punishment becomes disproportionate, not because the decision maker was incapable of measured action, but because the ordinances/statutes preclude a proportional response.

76. It is clarified, that the requirement of punitive provisions in the statutes is a given. The need to empower the authority, to take disciplinary action in law is undisputed. There is no infirmity in the statutory provisions. The inadequacy is in the reach of the statutory provisions.

77. The decision maker is constrained in his choices, by the absolute dominance of punitive provisions, and complete omission of reformative measures in the ordinances.

78. The impact of absence of reformative provisions and the presence of a statutory bias in favour of a punitive approach, on the fundamental rights of the petitioners, shall also be assessed in the next part of the judgment.

K. Punishments and Article 21

(i) Right to human dignity

79. A life without dignity is robbed of its meaning. Absent self worth, life is devoid of content.

80. Human dignity as a concept, was created by an international consensus, on universal human values. "Human dignity" and "self worth" are used, in close proxmity in international instruments, reflecting the affinity between the concepts.

81. The comity of nations, first pledged commitment to protecting the "dignity and worth" of the human person, in the charter of the United Nations. These eternal values were reiterated, in subsequent international instruments and conventions including the Convention for the Suppression of the Traffic in Persons and of the Exploitation of the Prostitution of Others (1951); the Supplementary Convention on the Abolition of Slavery, the Slave Trade, and Institutions and Practices Similar to Slavery (1956); the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women (1979); the Convention on the Rights of the Child (1989); and the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (2006).

82. Human dignity and self worth, were increasingly incorporated in the jurisprudence of all liberty loving nations in the post World War II era.

83. The complexity of the concept of human dignity, never diluted the usefulness of the theory of human dignity in enhancing the worth of the human person. Human dignity made a decisive contribution in the development of the rights of life and liberty, in jurisprudential systems of free societies across the world.

84. However, the Court would do well to observe the caution, that a sweeping judicial definition of human dignity, would make an abstract theory, unintelligible. An unduly wide judicial construct of human dignity, would create unworkable judicial tests.

85. Likewise if the courts adopt too narrow a view of human dignity, a concept which has made stellar contribution to the advancement of human rights will be lost.

86. Keeping these pitfalls in mind, a balance has to be maintained, between attempting too much and recoiling from the task altogether.

87. The applicability of human dignity, would be determined in this case, by evolving a workable test or construct of human dignity and self worth applicable to these cases.

88 Human dignity is not inserted in the text of the fundamental rights under the Constitution of India. Human dignity occurs in the Preamble to the Constitution of India.

89. The Preamble to the Constitution, reflects the resolve of the People of India, to secure to all its citizens

> "Justice social, economic and political;
> Liberty of thought, expression, belief, faith and worship;
> Equality of status and of opportunity; and to promote among them all and > Fraternity assuring the dignity of the individual and the unity of the Nation."

The Preamble to the Constitution is not analogous, to a preamble to any legislative enactment.

90. The unique place of the Preamble, in the Constitution came to be noticed very early, in Sajjan Singh v. State of Rajasthan, reported at AIR 1965 SC 845. The Hon'ble Supreme Court found that the Preamble to our Constitution is "not of the common run". Further the Preamble bore the "stamp of deep deliberation" and precision.

91. This feature shines light on the special significance, attached to the Preamble by the framers of the Constitution. The Preamble was held to be a part of the Constitution, by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Kesavananda Bharati v. State of Kerala, reported at (1973) 4 SCC 225.

92. The words 'life, law and liberty' in Article 21 of the Constitution of India, were freed from the confines of narrow and literal interpretation by the Courts. (See Maneka Gandhi v. Union of India, (1978) 1 SCC 248)

93. A defining moment came when the Hon'ble Supreme Court, liberated "life" from the fetters of mere physical existence. (see Olga Tellis v. Bombay Municipal Corpn. Reported at (1985) 3 SCC 545).

94. Over the years human dignity, has been read into the meaning of life and liberty, under Article 21 of the Constitution of India, by consistent pronouncements of the courts.

95. A broad overview of some of the leading pronouncements of the Hon'ble Supreme Court, elevating human dignity to the status of a fundamental right, are discussed in the succeeding paragraphs.

(ii) Supreme Court on human dignity

96. The concept of human dignity forming a part of Article 21, was introduced in Prem Shankar Shukla v. UT of Delhi, reported at (1980) 3 SCC 526. While construing the constitutional rights of prisoners, in Prem Shankar Shukla (supra), Krishna Iyer, J. speaking for a three-Judge Bench of the Hon'ble Supreme Court held:

"1. ... the guarantee of human dignity, which forms part of our constitutional culture, and the positive provisions of Articles 14, 19 and 21 spring into action when we realise that to manacle man is more than to mortify him; it is to dehumanise him and, therefore, to violate his very personhood, too often using the mask of "dangerousness" and security.

21. The Preamble sets the humane tone and temper of the Founding Document and highlights justice, equality and the dignity of the individual."

97. Undermining the human dignity of a detenue, under the Conservation of Foreign Exchange and Prevention of Smuggling Activities (COFEPOSA) Act, 1974 was not countenanced by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Francis Coralie Mullin v. UT of Delhi, reported at (1981) 1 SCC 608 by ruling thus:

"6. ... The fundamental right to life which is the most precious human right and which forms the ark of all other rights must therefore be interpreted in a broad and expansive spirit so as to invest it with significance and vitality which may endure for years to come and enhance the dignity of the individual and the worth of the human person.

7. ... the right to life enshrined in Article 21 cannot be restricted to mere animal existence. It means something much more than just physical survival."

98. The right to live with human dignity flowing from Article 21, was employed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court to unlock the fetters of those living in bondage and setting them free in Bandhua Mukti Morcha v. Union of India, reported at (1984) 3 SCC 161. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in Bandhua Mukti Morcha (supra) observed that:

"10. ...This right to live with human dignity enshrined in Article 21 derives its life breath from the directive principles of State policy and particularly clauses (e) and (f) of Article 39 and Articles 41 and 42 and at the least, therefore, it must include protection of the health and strength of the workers, men and women, and of the tender age of children against abuse, opportunities and facilities for children to develop in a healthy manner and in conditions of freedom and dignity, educational facilities, just and humane conditions of work and maternity relief. These are the minimum requirements which must exist in order to enable a person to live with human dignity, and no State -- neither the Central Government nor any State Government -- has the right to take any action which will deprive a person of the enjoyment of these basic essentials."

99. Dehumanizing treatment given to the arrested activists of an organization by the police authorities was called out by the Hon'ble Supreme court, in Khedat Mazdoor Chetna Sangath v. State of M.P., reported at (1994) 6 SCC 260, wherein it was recognized:

"10. ... It is, therefore, absolutely essential in the interest of justice, human dignity and democracy that this Court must intervene; order an investigation, determine the correct facts and take strongest possible action against the respondents who are responsible for these atrocities."

100. The right of human dignity was also construed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in M.Nagaraj v. Union of India, reported at (2006) 8 SCC 212. In that case the right was held to be intrinsic to and inseparable from human existence:

"26. ... The rights, liberties and freedoms of the individual are not only to be protected against the State, they should be facilitated by it. ...It is the duty of the State not only to protect the human dignity but to facilitate it by taking positive steps in that direction. No exact definition of human dignity exists. It refers to the intrinsic value of every human being, which is to be respected. It cannot be taken away. It cannot give(sic be given).It simply is. Every human being has dignity by virtue of his existence.

42. India is constituted into a sovereign, democratic republic to secure to all its citizens, fraternity assuring the dignity of the individual and the unity of the nation. The sovereign, democratic republic exists to promote fraternity and the dignity of the individual citizen and to secure to the citizens certain rights. This is because the objectives of the State can be realised only in and through the individuals. Therefore, rights conferred on citizens and non-citizens are not merely individual or personal rights. They have a large social and political content, because the objectives of the Constitution cannot be otherwise realised."

101. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in Shabnam v. Union of India, reported at (2015) 6 SCC 702 elaborated the following elements of the human dignity;

"14. This right to human dignity has many elements. First and foremost, human dignity is the dignity of each human being "as a human being". Another element, which needs to be highlighted, in the context of the present case, is that human dignity is infringed if a person's life, physical or mental welfare is harmed. It is in this sense torture, humiliation, forced labour, etc. all infringe on human dignity. It is in this context many rights of the accused derive from his dignity as a human being." (emphasis in original)

102. Aharon Barak (former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Israel), discussed the constitutional value of human dignity, in the following celebrated passage:

"The constitutional value of human dignity has a central normative role. Human dignity as a constitutional value is the factor that unites the human rights into one whole. It ensures the normative unity of human rights. This normative unity is expressed in the three ways: first, the value of human dignity serves as a normative basis for constitutional rights set out in the constitution; second, it serves as an interpretative principle for determining the scope of constitutional rights, including the right to human dignity; third, the value of human dignity has an important role in determining the proportionality of a statute limiting a constitutional right. "

103. The views of the Judge Aharon Barak, were approved and incorporated in the corpus of human dignity jurisprudence, in our country by the Hon'ble Supreme court in Jeeja Ghosh v. Union of India, reported at (2016) 7 SCC 761.

104. The consequences of loss of human dignity in an individual's life, were noted by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Mehmood Nayyar Azam v. State of Chhattisgarh, reported at (2012) 8 SCC 1.

105. Similar sentiments were expressed on human dignity, by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in National Legal Services Authority v. Union of India, reported at (2014) 5 SCC 438.

106. In Maharasthra University of Health Sciences v. Satchikitsa Prasarak Mandal reported at (2010) 3 SCC 786, the Hon'ble Supreme court upon consideration of good authority, reiterated the dignity of the individual as a core constitutional concept.

107. While in Selvi v. State of Karnataka reported at (2010) 7 SCC 263, the Hon'ble Supreme Court ruled thus:

"244.....we must recognize that a forcible intrusion into a person's mental processes is also an affront to human dignity and liberty, often with grave and long-lasting consequences."

108. Even prisoners have been found entitled to the fundamental rights while in custody by the Hon'ble Supreme Court (see Sunil Batra (II) Vs. Delhi Administration, reported at 1980 (3) SCC 488).

109. The importance of therapeutic approach in dealing with the criminal tendencies of prisoners and the necessity for reform, was considered by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in T.K. Gopal v. State of Karnataka, reported at (2000) 6 SCC 168, by holding that:

"15. The therapeutic approach aims at curing the criminal tendencies which were the product of a diseased psychology. There may be many factors, including family problems. We are not concerned with those factors as therapeutic approach has since been treated as an effective method of punishment which not only satisfies the requirements of law that a criminal should be punished and the punishment prescribed must be meted out to him, but also reforms the criminal through various processes, the most fundamental of which is that in spite of having committed a crime, maybe a heinous crime, he should be treated as a human being entitled to all the basic human rights, human dignity and human sympathy. It was under this theory that this Court in a stream of decisions, projected the need for prison reforms, the need to acknowledge the vital fact that the prisoner, after being lodged in jail, does not lose his fundamental rights or basic human rights and that he must be treated with compassion and sympathy."

110. In Asfaq v. State of Rajasthan and Others, reported at (2017) 15 SCC 55, the Hon'ble Supreme Court emphasizing the need for reform of a convict held that "redemption and rehabilitation of such prisoners for good of societies must receive due wightage while they are undergoing sentence of imprisonment."

111. The judicial authorities can be multiplied, reiterating the above holdings. However, the same will add volume, but not value to the narrative.

112. Consistent and high authority have thus entrenched human dignity as fundamental to right to life, which flows from Article 21 of the Constitution of India.

113. The narrative would not be complete without reference to the most authoritative pronouncement, of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of K.S. Puttaswamy v. Union of India reported at (2017) 10 SCC 1

114. Dr. D. Y. Chandrachud, J. speaking for the Constitution Bench, firmly and irrevocably, reiterated that human dignity is a fundamental right under Article 21 of the Indian Constitution, with customary eloquence, in K.S. Puttaswamy (supra). Dr. D. Y. Chandrachud, J., upon consideration of the judicial precedents in point distilled the concept of human dignity and its place in part III of the Constitution:

"Jurisprudence on dignity

"108.Over the last four decades, our constitutional jurisprudence has recognised the inseparable relationship between protection of life and liberty with dignity. Dignity as a constitutional value finds expression in the Preamble. The constitutional vision seeks the realisation of justice (social, economic and political); liberty (of thought, expression, belief, faith and worship); equality (as a guarantee against arbitrary treatment of individuals) and fraternity (which assures a life of dignity to every individual). These constitutional precepts exist in unity to facilitate a humane and compassionate society. The individual is the focal point of the Constitution because it is in the realisation of individual rights that the collective well-being of the community is determined. Human dignity is an integral part of the Constitution. Reflections of dignity are found in the guarantee against arbitrariness (Article 14), the lamps of freedom (Article 19) and in the right to life and personal liberty (Article 21).

118. Life is precious intself. But life is worth living because of the freedoms which enable each individual to live life as it should be lived. The best decisions on how life should be lived are entrusted to the individual. They are continuously shaped by the social milieu in which individuals exist. The duty of the State is to safeguard the ability to take decisions. "Life" within the meaning of Article 21 is not confined to the integrity of the physical body. The right comprehends one's being in its fullest sense. That which facilitates the fulfillment of life is as much within the protection of the guarantee of life.

119. To live is to live with dignity. The draftsmen of the Constitution defined their vision of the society in which constitutional values would be attained by emphasising, among other freedoms, liberty and dignity. So fundamental is dignity that it permeates the core of the rights guaranteed to the individual by Part III. Dignity is the core which unites the fundamental rights because the fundamental rights seek to achieve for each individual the dignity of existence. Privacy with its attendant values assures dignity to the individual and it is only when life can be enjoyed with dignity can liberty be of true substance. Privacy ensures the fulfilment of dignity and is a core value which the protection of life and liberty is intended to achieve."

(iii) Comparative International Jurisprudence

115. A survey of comparative international jurisprudence, on the point of human dignity and the rights flowing therefrom, shows convergence in the values of human dignity across the free world.

116. The foreign authorities can be cited to show that human dignity is an accepted universal value in the comity of nations.

117. In Rosenblatt v. P Baer,* reported at 1966 SCC OnLine US SC 22 : 383 US 75 (1966), the US Supreme Court found that "The essential dignity and worth of every human being" was at the root of any system of "ordered liberty".

"The right of a man to the protection of his own reputation from unjustified invasion and wrongful hurt reflects no more than our basic concept of the essential dignity and worth of every human being- a concept at the root of any decent system of ordered liberty."

118. In the case of Armoniene v. Lithuania, reported at (2009) EMLR 7, the European Court of Human Rights set its face against an act of disclosure of a person's state of health, causing "exclusion from social life", and found it violative of the right to privacy by holding thus:

"The Court takes particular note of the fact that the family lived not in a city but in a village, which increased the impact of the publication on the possibility that the husband's illness would be known by his neighbours and his immediate family, thereby causing public humiliation and exclusion from village social life."

119. The human dignity rights of prisoners included rehabilitation, in the opinion of the US Supreme Court in Procunier, Corrections Director, ET AL. Vs. Martinez ET AL. reported at 416 U.S. 396 (1974):

"The Court today agrees that "the weight of professional opinion seems to be that inmate freedom to correspond with outsiders advances rather than retards the goal of rehabilitation."

Balanced against the State's asserted interests are the values that are generally associated with freedom of speech in a free society - values which "do not turn to dross in an unfree one." Sostre v. McGinnis, supra, at 199. First Amendment guarantees protect the free and uninterrupted interchange of ideas upon which a democratic society thrives. Perhaps the most obvious victim of the indirect censorship effected by a policy of allowing prison authorities to read inmate mail is criticism of prison administration. The threat of identification and reprisal inherent in allowing correctional authorities to read prisoner mail is not lost on inmates who might otherwise criticize their jailors. The mails are one of the few vehicles prisoners have for informing the community about their existence and, in these days of strife in our correctional institutions, the plight of prisoners is a matter of urgent public concern. To sustain a policy which chills the communication necessary to inform the public on this issue is at odds with the most basic tenets of the guarantee of freedom of speech.

The First Amendment serves not only the needs of the polity but also those of the human spirit - a spirit that demands self-expression. Such expression is an integral part of the development of ideas and a sense of identity. To suppress expression is to reject the basic human desire for recognition and affront the individual's worth and dignity.14Cf. Stanley v. Georgia, 394 U.S.[416 U.S. 396, 428]557 (1969). Such restraint may be "the greatest displeasure and indignity to a free and knowing spirit that can be put upon him." J. Milton, Aeropagitica 21 (Everyman's ed. 1927). When the prison gates slam behind an inmate, he does not lose his human quality; his mind does not become closed to ideas; his intellect does not cease to feed on a free and open interchange of opinions; his yearning for self-respect does not end; nor is his quest for self-realization concluded. If anything, the needs for identity and self-respect are more compelling in the dehumanizing prison environment. Whether an O. Henry writing his short stories in a jail cell or a frightened young inmate writing his family, a prisoner needs a medium for self-expression. It is the role of the First Amendment and this Court to protect those precious personal rights by which we satisfy such basic yearnings of the human spirit."

120. The validity of a punishment causing loss of nationality, for an act of desertion in military service, was in issue before the US Supreme Court, in Trop Vs. Dulles, reported at 356 US 86 (1958). The US Supreme Court in Trop (supra) reiterated the importance and role of rehabilitation in a penal system, while dealing with the validity of the punishment. The principle holding of the US Supreme Court on these points is as under:

"Expatriation, in this respect, constitutes anespecially demoralizing sanction. The uncertainty, and the consequent psychological hurt, which must accompany one who becomes an outcast in his own land must be reckoned a substantial factor in the ultimate judgment.

The novelty of expatriation as punishment does not alone demonstrate its inefficiency. In recent years we have seen such devices as indeterminate sentences and parole added to the traditional term of imprisonment. Such penal methods seek to achieve the end, at once more humane and effective, that society should make every effort to rehabilitate the offender and restore him as a useful member of that society as society's own best protection. Of course, rehabilitation is but one of the several purposes of the penal law. Among other purposes are deterrents of the wrongful act by the threat of punishment and insulation of society from dangerous individuals by imprisonment or execution. What then is the relationship of the punishment of expatriation to these ends of the penal law? It is perfectly obvious that it constitutes the very antithesis of rehabilitation, for instead of guiding the offender back into the useful paths of society it excommunicates him and makes him, literally, an outcast. I can think of no more certain way in which to make a man in whom, perhaps, rest the seeds of serious antisocial behavior more likely to pursue further a career of unlawful activity than to place on him the stigma of the derelict, uncertain of many of his basic rights. Similarly, it must be questioned whether expatriationcan really achieve the other effects sought by society in punitive devices. Certainly it will not insulate society from the deserter, for unless coupled with banishment the sanction leaves the offender at large. And as a deterrent device this sanction would appear of little effect, for the offender, if not deterred by thought of the specific penalties of long imprisonment or even death, is not very likely to be swayed from his course by the prospect of expatriation.However insidious and demoralizing may be the actual experience of statelessness, its contemplation in advance seems unlikely to invoke serious misgiving, for none of us yet knows its ramifications."

(iv) Constitutionality of punishments under the statutes

"Universities are made by love, love of beauty and learning."

~ Annie Besant

121. The engagement of human dignity and Article 21 will now be examined in the context of punishment, imposed on a delinquent student.

122. The statutory scheme of enforcing discipline by imposition of punishments and suspension has a salutary purpose, but it needs to be compliant with the requirements of fundamental rights.

123. Punishment has to be effective to serve its purpose; however, it cannot be purblind to human dignity, if it is to retain its constitutionality.

124. Severity of a punishment is not sufficient basis for holding it unconstitutional. The enquiry into the constitutionality of a punishment, will examine the relationship between the punishment and its purpose, and whether the penalty can achieve the purpose. The enquiry will also determine whether the punishment degrades the human person, and whether it devalues human dignity against established norms of decency, or has a dehumanizing effect.

125. Degree of injuries to self esteem, extent of degradation of human worth, depth of humiliation caused by the punishment, are facts to be probed in an enquiry into the validity of the punishment.

126. Experience teaches the fact of human fallibility, but knowledge holds the hope of human redemption. If error is part of human nature, reform is an element of human spirit. The capacity of human beings to introspect on erring ways and the power of human will to reform deviant conduct are building blocks of the concept of human dignity. "Every sinner has a future, many a saint had a past."

127. Punishment for deviant conduct, cannot be so severe as to degrade human life. Every form of punishment should protect the essential sanctity of human life and comport with fundamental norms of decency evolved by a civilized society. Any act which dehumanizes life cannot be countenanced by societies and courts which value life and liberty. The degrading or dehumanizing elements of the punishment have to be eliminated to bring it in conformity with requirement of human dignity, contemplated by Article 21 of the Constitution of India.

128. Failure to consider susceptibility to reform, while denying the right to access privileges and activities of the university, negates the possibility of rehabilitation. Absence of an environment of reform, self development and rehabilitation in a university, denies the opportunity of redeeming one's reputation. Termination of dialogue with the delinquent student, without offering an opportunity to reform, makes him an outcaste. The individual is permanently discarded by the institution, and loss of human self worth is total. This system of punishment is destructive of fundamental elements of human dignity, and violative of Article 21 of the Constitution of India.

129. Another aspect of the punishment which needs consideration, is the consequence exclusion from higher education.

130. Education is a most credible and effective mode of restoring self esteem and enhancing self worth. By denying opportunities of education to a delinquent student, without looking at the possibility of reform, the power to redeem one's errors and enhance self worth is taken away from an individual. In these cases, closure of avenues of education, extinguishes the hope for a better tomorrow. Loss of hope and its sequitor perpetual condemnation are fatal blows to the human spirit and self esteem.

131. Acts of deviant conduct, violence or intimidation, do not cease the need for social engagement or knowledge. Such needs are more acutely felt and require satisfaction in these cases.

132. Order may be enforced by punishments. Causes of deviant conduct can be addressed only by engagement. Punishments deal with the offence, reform deals with the offender.

133. Public interest however demands that the claim for further education, and engagement with delinquent students, should be guided and controlled by the authorities.

134. Statutory regimes in universities, dealing with delinquent behaviour and university environments, which are bereft of therapeutic and reform based support systems, are incompatible with the constitutional mandate to uphold human dignity. The violations of human dignity, in such cases, are summed up hereinunder:

135. Dignity violations occur when a punishment meted out to a student, does not consider his susceptibility to reform, and degrades his person by exclusion to the point where his diminished self worth cannot be reinstated due to systemic inadequacies or institutional shortcomings.

136. By denying further education, and neglecting to create an institutional system of reform, self development and rehabilitation, the university in effect tells the delinquent student, that it does not recognize the student's need to re-establish his self esteem. In other words, the student is not only impervious to reform, but incapable of enhancing his self esteem.

137. Dignity of an individual/student is injured, when it is found that the punishment precludes reform by rehabilitative measures, and prevents self enhancement by further education.

138. The punitive consequences of the action, cannot go beyond the requirements of the case. In this case they do.

An institutional reform, self development and rehabilitation programme, will enable a delinquent student to introspect on errors, express remorse and correct course.

139. Neglect by the universities to create an institutional reform, self development and rehabilitation programme thus places substantial obstacles in the enjoyment of the fundamental right of human dignity under Article 21.

140. The result of the preceding narrative is as follows:-

(i) The impugned action taken by the university, against the petitioner is violative of the fundamental right of human dignity of the petitioner, guaranteed under Article 21 of the Constitution of India, as it fails to consider his susceptibility to reform, and does not enable the petitioner to undergo a reform and self development process to redeem himself.

(ii) The statutory omission of reform measures, is an inadequacy which renders the university incapable of rectifying the violation made by it. The systemic fault-line is contrary to the mandate of Article 21 of the Constitution of India.

(v) Systemic responses : Responsibilities of the State and universities

141. Exercise of judicial power is the prerogative of the courts; but upholding the Constitution is not the monopoly of the courts.

142. To realize the fundamental rights guaranteed under the Constitution and to achieve the goals contemplated under the Preamble, all stakeholders have to play their part and all organs of governance have to perform their obligations. Constitutional ideals will become meaningful only if constitutional values animate the functioning of all institutions of governance. Universities have a special role to play.

143. The State and in this case the universities too, have the obligation to create an enabling environment, (emphasis supplied) where life and life enhancing attributes under Article 21 of the Constitution of India flourish and where constitutional ideals become a reality.

144. The importance of "therapeutic approach" in solving social dysfunctions, the growth in role of the State to give away public recognition in the way they treat their citizens, the evolution of law on the subject, and the contribution of universities were analyzed by Francis Fukuyama in his book "Identity". Some of the instructive passages are extracted below:

"The therapeutic turn in the popular culture of advanced liberal democracies such as the United States was inevitably reflected in its politics, and in an evolving understanding of the role of the state. In the classical liberalism of the nineteenth century, the state was held responsible for protecting basic rights such as freedom speech and association, for upholding a rule of law, and for providing essential public services such as police, roads, and education. The government "recognized" its citizens by granting them individual rights, but the state was not seen as responsible for making each individual feel better about himself or herself."

"Under the therapeutic method, however, an individual's happiness depends on his or her self-esteem, and self-esteem is a by-product of public recognition. Governments are readily able to give away public recognition in the way that they talk about and treat their citizens, so modern liberal societies naturally and perhaps inevitably began to take on the responsibility for raising the self-esteem of each and every one of their citizens".

"Therapeutic services came to be deeply embedded in social policy, not just in California but throughout the United States and in other liberal democracies.

States began to offer psychological counseling and other mental health services, and schools began to incorporate therapeutic insights into the way that they taught children."

"In the early twentieth century, social dysfunctions such as delinquency or teen pregnancy were seen as deviant behaviour that needed to be dealt with punitively, often through the criminal justice system".

"But with the rise of therapeutic approaches by mid century, they were increasingly seen as social pathologies that needed to be treated through counseling and psychiatric intervention".

"The 1956 amendments to the Social Security Act allowed for federal reimbursements of a range of therapeutic services to strengthen family life and self-support."

"The therapeutic state metastasized across a wide number of institutions, including a large non-profit sector that by the 1990s had become the delivery vehicle for state-funded social services".

"Universities found themselves at the forefront of the therapeutic revolution."

(emphasis supplied)

145. These special needs of citizens have to be addressed by State action, and also through judicial interventions in a nuanced manner, and in a larger perspective. Exclusive reliance on coercive powers of the law, shall be inadequate and an unsatisfactory way of dealing with the problem. The therapeutic jurisprudence draws heavily from concept of human dignity and self worth for its philosophical underpinning.

146. Disciplinary action should also be supported by reformative philosophy. Reformative philosophy does not undermine the deterrent approach.

147. The statutory regime imposes punishment for delinquent acts. The reform programme will address the cause of delinquency itself. Framing the approach to discipline as a choice between punishment or reform is misleading. A just corrective system needs both. Both approaches complement each other and can be pursued simultaneously. Deterrent aspect may also be reinforced, by making grant of the degree contingent upon successful completion of the reform programme.

148. The ordinances providing for punishments for deviant conduct need to be duly supported by a legal framework for structured reform, self development and rehabilitation programmes. This environment will accord social recognition to the need for reform of delinquent students. The degrading effect of punishment will be ameliorated. Dialogue will end isolation, reform will reinstate self worth and education will enhance self esteem.

149. Structured reform, self development and rehabilitation programmes and therapeutic support, within a legal framework, will create an enabling environment (emphasis supplied) in the universities, to realize the fundamental right of human dignity, flowing from Article 21 of the Constitution of India.

L. Reform, Self Development & Rehabilitation

(i) Role of universities in achieving behavioral change

"You must be the change you wish to see in the world"

~Mahatma Gandhi

150. Non violence as a philosophy of thought, and a creed of conduct, was developed in India on a scale wider than elsewhere. From the Buddha to Ashoka and the Mahatma, behavioral change in adopting non violence as a way of life, at the national scale was greatly accomplished in India.

151. The response of the Indian civilization, to the challenges of communal hatred and communal otherness, was profound and without parallel. The unique response of the Indian society was fashioned by the universal philosophy of the Indian civilization; of affirming the unity of the human race, of embracing diversity, of respecting dissent, and creating a harmonious dialogue of faiths. The lives and teachings of saints and thinkers like Guru Nanak, Kabir, Vivekananda, Tagore and Mahatma Gandhi, bear testimony to this composite culture.

152. For each generation to produce such individuals of excellence is an exorbitant demand. Today behavioral change is achieved in a different manner, albeit more incrementally and less dramatically. Institutions like universities have a critical role to play. Universities have an obligation to the society and the individual. The universities have an irrevocable compact, and an organic connect with the society.

153. University is a paternal institution. By the act of suspension or debarment of a delinquent student, the university abandons its ward. The university has solved its problem, but the society has one at its hands. The downstream effects of the punishments, have not been considered by the respondents. Clearly there are direct costs to the society as well. There are no other institutions of equal standing, to engage with the youth, deal with the discontent or aberration, and channelize youthful energies.

154. The role of the University does not end in punishing perpetrators of violence. It begins with the identification of the causes of violence, communal hatred, and other forms of deviant conduct. Thereafter the responsibility to achieve behavioral change commences. The fruit of knowledge imparted by the universities lies in the manifestation of human values in the human personality and expression of humanity in human conduct. Knowledge which does not change human behaviour in this manner is futile.

(ii) Imbibing Constitutional values and purging communal hatred

155. The Indian civilizational ethos and the Indian constitutional values are congruent. The Supreme Court distilled the essence of Indian values, when it emphasised "our tradition teaches tolerance, our philosophy preaches tolerance and our Constitution practises tolerance; let us not dilute it" while upholding the religious rights of Jehovah's witnesses in Bijoe Emmanuel and others vs. State of Kerala and others, reported at (1986) 3 SCC 615.

156. Universities have to protect the space for open dialogue, respectful engagement and reasoned debate. Universities need to ensure that the space for constitutional values, is not encroached by communal hatred.

157. The universities have the responsibility, to preserve this heritage, and the obligation to nurture these constitutional values. University experience has to inculcate these values in the students.

158. The universities may consider holding seminars, workshops, heritage festivals, cultural festivals, literature festivals, and encourage other activities to achieve this end. This has to be a part of the larger programme of value creation and self development.

(iii) Present discontents of students and solutions

159. The preceding discussion shows how a reform, self development and rehabilitation programme, will create an enabling environment, for realization of the fundamental rights of the individual under Article 21. How such programme, will yield tangible benefits for the society, will now be examined.

160. The paradox of the digital age is a plethora of devices and a dilution of dialogue, the substitution of conversation by chatter. There is the ever present danger of growth of knowledge and diminution of thought. The young are empowered by technology, but made restless by the void in values, and lack of direction.

161. The dilemmas of the digital age were acutely summed up by Yuval Noah Harari in his profound and acclaimed work "Homo Deus":

> "Today our knowledge is increasing at breakneck speed, and theoretically we should understand the world better and better. But the very opposite is happening. Our new-found knowledge leads to faster economic, social and political changes; in an attempt to understand what is happening, we accelerate the accumulation of knowledge, which leads only to faster and greater upheavals. Consequently we are less and less able to make sense of the present or forecast the future."

162. In this situation lack of avenues of engagement, absence of a structured reform, self development and therapeutic support system, leaves the students with little options. The choices available in the society, to satisfy their need for belonging, to recover self esteem, and to channelize youthful energies are not very encouraging.

163. Re-establishing meaningful dialogue, recreating an environment of fruitful conversation, and making empathetic engagement are some of the present challenges. The responsibility of reaching out and engaging with the students, and increasing quality interface with them, lies with the universities and the teachers.

164. These obligations can be accomplished by a meticulously created reform/self development programme and high quality of academic leadership within a comprehensive legal framework.

165. Universities are a microcosm of the society. They are laboratories of social change, and also agents of social transformation.

166. The manner in which the universities deal, with aberrations of violence other forms of deviant conduct, and deficit of values in students, has repercussions for the society at large. The divergent pulls of primordial instincts of hate and violence, against a citizen's duties in a nation ruled by law can best be managed by universities.

167. The universities are uniquely placed to deal with these issues. The universities have the intellectual capital, institutional framework and moral leadership, which puts them in the front rank of institutions to effect such change. The environment in the University should encourage and engender reflective actions instead of automatic choices.

168. The reform/self development and rehabilitation programme, will give an individual student correct direction in life, and prevent one from drifting away. The student will be anchored in constitutional values, and will not be led astray by social evils. The support and aid by the university will give one a sense of ownership and belonging. No harvest is richer for a nation, than citizens empowered by a constitutional value system.

169. The high pedestal at which teachers are placed in Indian traditions and thoughts, was recalled to explain the current role of teachers in Indian society, by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Avinash Nagra Vs. Navodaya Vidyalaya Samiti and Others, reported at (1997) 2 SCC 534. The relevant extracts were succinctly summed up by a Division Bench of this Court, in the case of Devarsh Nath Gupta Vs. State of U.P. and Others, reported at 2019(6) ADJ 296 (DB):

"22. Special status of teacher has been reminded by Court inAvinash Nagra vs. Navodaya Vidyalaya Samiti and others(1997) 2 SCC 534. Quoting Father of the Nation, Court said that a teacher cannot be without character. If he lacks it, he will be like salt without its savour. A teacher must touch the hearts of his students. Boys imbibe more from the teacher's own life than they do from books. If teachers impart all the knowledge in the world to their students but do not inculcate truth and purity amongst them, they will have betrayed them. Quoting Shri Aurobindo, Court said that it is the teacher's province to hold aloft the torch, to insist at all times and at all places that this nation of ours was founded on idealism and that whatever may be the prevailing tendencies of the times, our children shall learn to live among the sun-lit peaks. Court also referred Dr. S. Radhakrishanan saying that we, in our country, look upon teacher as gurus or, as acharyas. An Acharya is one whose achar or conduct is exemplary. He must be an example of Sadachar or good conduct. He must inspire the pupils who are entrusted to his care with love of virtue and goodness. The ideal of a true teacher is "andhakaraniridhata gurur itya bhidhiyate" (Andhakar is not merely intellectual ignorance, but is also spiritual blindness). He, who is able to remove that kind of spiritual blindness, is called a 'guru'. Swami Vivekananda was also quoted saying that student should live from his very boyhood with one whose character is a blazing fire and should have before him a living example of the highest teaching. In our country, the imparting of knowledge has always been through men of renunciation. The charge of imparting knowledge should again fall upon the shoulder of Tyagis."

170. In Avinash Nagra (supra), the obligations of teachers to transform students into responsible citizens, and inculcate the value system of the Indian Constitution, was stated thus:

"...The State has taken care of service conditions of the teacher and he owed dual fundamental duties to himself and to the society. As a member of the noble teaching profession and a citizen of India he should always be willing, self-disciplined, dedicated with integrity to remain ever a learner of knowledge, intelligently to articulate and communicate and imbibe in his students, as social duty, to impart education, to bring them up with discipline, inculcate to abjure violence and to develop scientific temper with a spirit of enquiry and reform constantly to rise to higher levels in any walk of life nurturing Constitutional ideals enshrined inArticle 51Aso as to make the students responsible citizens of the country. Thus the teacher either individually or collectively as a community of teachers, should regenerate this dedication with a bent of spiritualism in broader perspective of the Constitutionalism with secular ideologies enshrined in the Constitution as an arm of the State to establish egalitarian social order under the rule of law. Therefore, when the society has given such a pedestal, the conduct, character, ability and disposition of a teacher should be to transform the student into a disciplined citizen, inquisitive to learn, intellectual to pursue in any walk of life with dedication, discipline and devotion with an inquiring mind but not with blind customary beliefs....."

171. The students entering universities embark on a new phase in their lives. Many are often removed from their comfort zone, and the secure environment of their homes, to face the challenges of independent life. At times these new challenges can be intimidating, and the uncertainties can create apprehensions, in the minds of the young adults.

172. Some students are unmoored in this trying phase of life and change of circumstances. Ragging of juniors in institutions of higher learning and other evils make the situations worse for freshers. Such students especially girls students in our country, need full institutional support to face these challenges.

173. It is the responsibility of the universities and the institutions of higher learning to create requisite environment of sensitizing the senior students and supporting the freshers in every possible manner.

174. A programme for self development implemented in a proactive manner shall foster constitutional values among students. Students need to realize the value of dissent in a democracy, but also have to understand the manner of dissent in a society ruled by law.

175. This process also requires initiation of engagement with the students and improving the quality of interface between the teachers and the taught. Educating the educators in this regard has to be a part of any such programme. Workshops have to be held and other methods have to be explored, to cultivate constitutional values in students and achieve behavioral change.

176. These are the preventive measures to address the issues of indiscipline, deficit in values and deviant behaviour in all institutions of higher learning.

177. The preventive measures preclude the occurrence of deviant behaviour. The post facto rehabilitation measures prevent recurrence of deviant behaviour. Both have to be integrated into one conjoint system of value creation, in the universities and institutions of higher learning.

178. Structured reform/self development programmes run by universities, can be catalysts for inducing behavioral change, and inculcating a constitutional value system in students. A successful reform, self development and rehabilitation programme, can convert a possible danger into a real asset for the society.

(iv) Creation of reform, self development & rehabilitation programmes

179. Many branches of knowledge in modern times are devoted to the study of human psychology, social behaviour and behavioural change. Psychology, Psychiatry, Sociology, Anthropology and Behavioral Economics, are some fields dedicated to gaining insights into human behaviour and inducing behavioural change.

180. Works of the Nobel prize winning economist Richard Thaler deserve special mention. The methodology of "nudges", in creating behavioral change has been gaining acceptability. The organization "Nudge" in Lebanon, has done noteworthy work with refugee children, and on environmental protection.

181. The Behavioral Insights Teams sometimes called "Nudge Units", are also existing in many nations including Australia, Canada, Germany, Qatar, the United Arab Emirates, Japan, the United States, and the United Kingdom. The Economic Survey released by India's Finance Ministry in July, 2019 has concluded with the clear recommendations that "the proposal to set up a behavioral economics unit in the NITI Ayog must be immediately activated". The report further noticed that the unit should work with State Governments, helping them to make their programme more effective, and informing them of the potential value of Behavioural Insights.

182. Ancient branches of knowledge and wellness like yoga, meditation, vipassana and so on may prove to be rich resources to benefit from.

183. Many scientific researches have confirmed the efficacy of these ancient systems of human wellness. These branches of knowledge have to be approached with a scientific and an open academic mindset. Personal beliefs have to be respected at all times. There can be no imposition of any system, which is resisted on grounds of faith or beliefs; in which cases other options may be given.

184. Socially useful work like planting and taking care of trees, and flora may be a part of the programme. Sports and sporting activities also go a long way in creating integrating social values, and enhancing emotional intelligence.

Teaching needy children, serving the sick, and other forms of service to the society are options which may be explored. Counselling sessions with experts and psychologists could prove useful.

185. Therapeutic solutions to social problems, are being increasingly recognized by social scientists, medical experts, psychologists, and jurists alike.

186. Creation of course content of the reform or self development programme, and manner of its implementation has to be decided by the respondents. This requires wide consultations, deliberations and workshops with academia, varsities, institutions of research, student counsellors, psychologists, psychiatrists, students and other stakeholders.

187. The UGC is a statutory body, and cannot abdicate its responsibilities in this scenario. The functions of the UGC are enumerated in the University Grants Commission Act, 1956. The UGC will play an important role, in the creation and standardization of the course, for reformation and self development, and aid its implementation on an institutional basis.

188. The Government of India in particular, the Ministry of Human Resource Development, also has a contribution to make in the process. The Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India, New Delhi, has to provide the necessary support to the University as may be required under law to create and implement the reform, self development and rehabilitation programme. This support would include the creation of necessary infrastructure for implementing the programmes.

189. Both the University Grants Commission and the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India, are required to support the universities in their endeavours to create and implement the programmes of reform, self development and rehabilitation.

190. Law enforcement agencies the world over are engaging with the youth, to draw them away from the appeal of extreme ideologies.

191. The prestige enjoyed by universities and the teachers in society, will make the programme credible to concerned individuals, and acceptable to the student community. The key to the efficacy of any structured reform programme, is empathetic engagement and a supportive environment.

192. An impersonal approach and institutional prejudice, can make the programme a non starter. Due sensitization of all stakeholders is required, before implementing the programme.

193. The founding purpose of universities to supply intellectual and moral leadership to the society, and to be at the vanguard of social transformation, will be eminently achieved by effective reformation/therapeutic/self development programmes.

(v) Concerns of universities regarding discipline & restraints during the reformation, self development & rehabilitation programme:

194. The Court is cognizant of concerns of the universities, that a reform programme should not derail university administration, nor should it have a detrimental effect on discipline and good order in the campus. A reform and rehabilitation programme, is not intended to allow a wrongdoer to escape justice.

195. Apprehensions of the universities need to be addressed. The reform programme has to be created and structured and implemented in a manner that it does not adversely impact the good order and discipline in the university campus.

196. The start of reform programme does not inevitably mean a free access to, or unconditional reinstatement of a delinquent student into the university campus. In cases of indiscipline where presence of individuals poses a threat of breakdown of order in the university campus, a decision can be made only by the university. Even when such students undergo a reform programme, and the students are pursuing their academic studies, the university may impose restraints it deems fit.

197. To obviate possibilities of disruption in the academic atmosphere, various measures of graduated restrictions may be imposed on a case to case basis. These restraints may include minute monitoring of movements in campus, restricting movements and contact, an employee escort till the student is in the campus, alteration of class schedules and timings. Such lighter restrictions could continue, while undergoing reform programmes along with the academic course.

198. More stringent measures in aggravated cases, may include a campus ban, with on-line classes and home schooling. Transfer to constituent colleges or other universities from a pool of universities, or setting up separate premises are among the options. In these cases entry to the specific university campus may be barred, even as the reform programme is underway, and the student is prosecuting his academic course.

199. These are some illustrative instances, of restraints which may be imposed by the universities.

M. Proportionality & Punishment

200. The controversy has to be seen from another critical legal perspective. The doctrine of proportionality is an established ground of judicial review in the Indian Constitutional jurisprudence.

201. Aharon Barak, former President of Supreme Court of Israel in his book "Proportionality" thus defines the rules of the doctrine of proportionality, "According to the four components of proportionality a limitation of constitutional right will be permissible if, (1) It is designated for a proper purpose, (2) The measures undertaken to effectuate such a limitation are rationally connected to the fulfillment of that purpose, (3) The measures undertaken are necessary and in that there are alternative measures that may similarly achieve that same purpose with a lesser degree of limitation and finally; (4) Their needs to be a proper relation "proportionality strict senso and balance" between the importance of achieving the proper purpose and social importance of preventing the limitation on the constitutional right."

202. The concept of proportionality essentially visualizes, a graduated response to the nature of the misconduct by a delinquent student. The purpose of the institution, its role in the society and its obligations to the nation, provide the setting for adjudication of the issue of proportionality.

203. Proportionality first came to be applied in the context of punishments imposed for misconduct in service jurisprudence. The necessity of proportional punishment, in cases of misconduct by students is more strongly needed. Hence action of the respondent-University, is liable to be tested on the anvil of disproportionality.

204. The "doctrine of proportionality" was introduced, and embedded in the administrative law of our country, by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Ranjit Thakur Versus Union of India, reported at (1987) 4 SCC 611. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in Ranjit Thakur held thus:

"Judicial review generally speaking, is not directed against a decision, but is directed against the "decision making process". The question of the choice and quantum of punishment is within the jurisdiction and discretion of the Court-Martial. But the sentence has to suit the offence and the offender. It should not be vindictive or unduly harsh. It should not be so disproportionate to the offence as to shock the conscience and amount in itself to conclusive evidence of bias. The doctrine of proportionality, as part of the concept of judicial review, would ensure that even on an aspect which is, otherwise, within the exclusive province of the Court-Martial, if the decision of the Court even as to sentence is an outrageous defiance of logic, then the sentence would not be immune from correction. Irrationality and perversity are recognised grounds of judicial review. "

205. The essence of proportionality is that, the competent authority while imposing a punishment upon a delinquent student, has to co-relate and balance the imperatives of institutional discipline with the demands of individual rights. Too light a punishment will not be conducive to institutional discipline. Too harsh a punishment will not be consistent with norms of justice.

206. The enquiry into the four components of proportionality, as elucidated by Justice Aharon Barak in his book "Proportionality" has been made in the preceding part of the judgment. The purpose and obligations of universities, have also received consideration, in the earlier part of the narrative.

207. The measures undertaken against the petitioner, are not rationally connected to the fulfillment of the purpose sought to be achieved. The proper and designated purpose of a punishment in a university, has to include reform of the student, not mere imposition of penalty. Clearly there are alternative reformative measures, that can achieve the same purpose, with a lesser degree of curtailment of the students rights.

208. The impugned action fails the test of proportionality. The action taken against the petitioner, does not achieve the purpose, and social importance of the reform and rehabilitation of the delinquent student. The impugned order is liable to be set aside on this ground as well.

N. Conclusions and Reliefs

209. The operative portion of the order dated 23.03.2019 passed by the Proctor, Aligarh Muslim, University, Aligarh, is extracted hereunder:

"In light of the directives of the Hon'ble Court the matter was placed before the Vice-Chancellor to re-consider the recommendation of the Discipline Committee. The Vice-Chancellor after re-considering all facts as well as the proceedings of Discipline Committee has ordered that the status quo of the earlier order passed vide Office Memo No. 2901/Proc. Dated 23.08.2016 based on the recommendation of Discipline Committee be maintained."

210. It is obvious that the respondent University has not applied its mind to the direction of the Court, to keep the prospects of reformation of a young adult in mind and also to consider giving a chance to the petitioner to redeem himself and efface the taint of the past by good conduct in future.

211. The order dated 23.03.2019 is arbitrary and illegal, and does not carry out the mandate of the orders passed by this Court. This has been passed on a mechanical manner without application of mind. The order is unsustainable in law and of no effect.

212. The petitioner has tendered a contrite apology, to the Court through his counsel, (this is without prejudice to the defence to the petitioner in criminal case), and seeks an opportunity to evolve into a law abiding and responsible citizen of the country.

213. The acts of violence if proved, may warrant disciplinary action to maintain discipline in the campus. But the facts of the case, also require reformative measures to protect the future of the petitioner.

214. In light of the above discussion, this Court feels that the petitioner has to be given an opportunity to make amends for his past conduct. He is also entitled to the benefit of a reform, self development and rehabilitation programme to be created by the University, in accordance with the directions given in the final part of the judgment. No orders are being passed to reinstate the petitioner and permit him to pursue further academic courses, forthwith. However, the aforesaid reinstatement/permission to continue his studies, shall be made as per the directions of this Court, in the last part of the judgement.

215. In the wake of the preceding discussion, this Court finds that the order dated 23.03.2019 passed by the Proctor, Aligarh Muslim University, is arbitrary and illegal and of no effect.

216. The order dated 23.03.2019 passed by the respondent no.4, Proctor, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh is quashed.

217. The case of the petitioner is liable to be revisited in view of the observations made in this judgment.

218. The matter is remitted to the respondents.

219. A writ in the nature of mandamus is issued commanding the respective respondents to execute the following directions in the light of this judgment:

I. The University shall pass a fresh reasoned order on the application of the petitioner for being reinstated as a student in the University, in strict compliance of the directions of this Court in the judgment dated 15.02.2019, rendered in Writ C No. 5403 of 2019, Mohd. Ghayas Vs. Rajya Uttar Pradesh Dwara Pramukh Sachiv Shiksha and Others. While passing the order, the University shall also bear in mind the observations made in this judgment. This is without prejudice to the rights of the petitioner to be enrolled and benefit from the reform, self development and rehabilitation programme to be created in pursuance of this judgment;

II. The University shall create a reform, self development and rehabilitation programme, for students accused of misconduct and against whom disciplinary action or any action to deny facilities of the university is proposed or taken;

III. The reform, self development and rehabilitation programme should be created after wide consultations and workshops with institutions of higher learning and research, universities, experts, student counsellors/psychologists, psychiatrists, students and other stakeholders;

IV. University Grants Commission will aid the above process by providing the necessary support to the University to create, standardize and effectuate the reform, self development and rehabilitation programme in the university;

V. The Secretary, Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India, New Delhi (respondent no.5 herein), shall also provide the necessary support to create infrastructure in the University to effectuate the reform, self development and rehabilitation programme in the University, in light of this judgment and as per law;

VI. The reform, self development and rehabilitation programmes shall be processed as per law, and integrated into the existing legal/statutory framework, of the University dealing with deviant conduct and punishments;

VII. The petitioner shall be given the benefit of the reform, self development and rehabilitation programme. After the creation of the self development and rehabilitation programme, the petitioner shall be reinstated as a student, and permitted to continue his studies as per his eligibility, along with the said programme;

VIII. Attendance of the petitioner in the said programme shall be compulsory. An evaluation sheet of the petitioner's performance in the programme shall also be prepared;

IX. It shall be open to the AMU to impose necessary restraints, as it deems fit, upon the petitioner even as he pursues his academic course along with the reform, self development and rehabilitation programme. These restraints may include a campus entry ban upon the petitioner, if the university deems it necessary;

X. The exercise shall be completed, preferably, within six months, but not later than 12 months. At all times the respondents keeping in mind the best interests of the students and the society, shall make all efforts to expedite the compliance of the directions;

XI. It shall be open to the respondents to create a scheme for reform, self development and rehabilitation for convicts in criminal cases who wish to pursue further higher studies in the respondent University;

XII. The counsels for the respondents shall provide certified copy of this judgment to the Vice Chancellor, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh (respondent no. 2 herein), the Secretary, Ministry of Human Resource Development, Union of India, New Delhi (respondent no.5 herein) and the Chairman, University Grants Commission, New Delhi (respondent no. 6 herein), for necessary compliances.

220. The writ petition is partly allowed to the extent and manner indicated above.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Yogendra Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri B.K. Srivastava, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Dhiraj Srivastava, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri K.R. Singh, learned counsel appearing for the second, third and the fourth respondents.

2. The present petition seeks to challenge the order dated 13.05.2019 passed by the third respondent/Vice Chairman, Gorakhpur Development Authority, Gorakhpur whereby the petitioner has been blacklisted for the purposes of allotment of contract of work by the Gorakhpur Development Authority and a penalty of Rs.20 lacs has been imposed. A further prayer is made for disposal of a representation made in this regard by the petitioner before the third respondent.

3. The facts of the case, as per the pleadings in the writ petition, in brief, are that the petitioner is a contractor registered with the Gorakhpur Development Authority engaged for the purposes of construction work for the past several years, and was directed by the respondent authorities to complete the work of construction of a culvert on a drain on urgent basis. It has been averred that after completion of the work some of the bricks used temporarily for supporting the concrete remained left over, and taking that to be the basis the impugned order dated 13.05.2019 has been passed by the third respondent blacklisting the petitioner permanently and imposing Rs.20 lacs as penalty for the alleged use of old bricks in the construction work.

4. With the consent of the parties the writ petition is taken up for disposal as per the Rules of the Court.

5. Contention of the learned Senior Counsel appearing for the petitioner is that the impugned order of blacklisting dated 13.05.2019 has been passed against the petitioner without giving any show cause notice and opportunity of hearing hence the same is in gross violation of principles of natural justice.

6. It has been pointed out that the order of blacklisting which has been passed is not for any specified period of time and any such order having a permanent effect is not sustainable. It is also submitted that the impugned order does not refer to any enquiry which could be said to form basis of the order of blacklisting and that the effect of the order is not only stigmatic but it also has adverse civil consequences and as such cannot be legally sustained.

7. Sri K.R. Singh, learned counsel appearing for the second, third and the fourth respondents has not been able to point out from the order impugned that the same has been passed pursuant to any fact finding enquiry or that the petitioner was given any show cause notice or opportunity of hearing before passing of the order of blacklisting. There is no material on record to show that the principles of natural justice were complied with before passing of the order.

8. In order to appreciate the contentions of the parties we may advert to the meaning of "blacklist" and "blacklisting" and in this regard reference may be drawn to the enunciation of the aforementioned terms in the legal dictionaries.

9. The term "blacklist" has been defined in Black's Law Dictionary1 in the following manner:-

"To put the name of (a person) on a list of those who are to be boycotted or punished."

10. Wharton's Law Lexicon2 refers to the term "blacklist" as follows:-

"The term given to any list of persons with whom the person or body compiling the list advises no one should have dealings of the character indicated. Thus the list of defaulters on the Stock Exchange is so named, and various societies and individuals also publish lists with a similar purpose."

11. The terms "blacklist" and "blacklisting" have been described in Advanced Law Lexicon by P. Ramanatha Aiyar3 in the following manner:-

"Black list is a list of persons or firms against whom its compiler would warn the public, or some section of the public; a list of persons unworthy of credit, or with whom it is not advisable to make contracts. Thus, the official list of defaulters on the Stock Exchange is a blacklist. To put a man's name on such a blacklist without lawful causes is actionable; and the further publication of such a list will be restrained by injunction. A list of persons, firms companiesbycotted or punished."

"Blacklisting is a part of the paraphernalia of strike. It may be said to represent the malignant hate and revenge of the parties resorting to it. In its purpose and effects it is closely allied to a boycott. A "blacklist" is defined to be a list of the persons marked out for special avoidance, antagonism, and enmity on the part of those who prepare the list or those among whom it is intended to circulate, as where a trade union blacklists workmen who refuse to conform to it rules; but it is most usually resorted to by combined employers, who exchange lists of their employees who go on strikes, with the agreement that none of them will employ the workmen whose names are on the lists, and comes within the meaning of what is termed a 'conspiracy'.

List of companies, products or people that are undesirable and to be avoided. In the USA the term means more specifically the denial of work to certain people on the grounds of their past beliefs or actions."

12. In the celebrated case of Quinn Vs. Leathem4 which is a case on economic tort and relates to the tort of "conspiracy to injure", it was stated by Lord Lindley, as follows:-

"...Black lists are real instruments of coercion, as every man whose name is on one soon discovers to his cost,..."

13. The issue with regard to the entitlement to a notice to be heard before blacklisting came up in the case of M/s Erusian Equipment & Chemicals Ltd. Vs. State of West Bengal & Anr.5 and referring to the powers of the State under Article 298 of the Constitution of India6 to carry on trade or business, it was held that the exercise of such powers and functions in trade by the State is subject to Part III of the Constitution and the State while having the right to trade has the duty to observe equality and cannot choose to exclude persons by discrimination. The relevant observations made in the judgment are as follows:-

"12. Under Article 298 of the Constitution the executive power of the Union and the State shall extend to the carrying on of any trade and to the acquisition, holding and disposal of property and the making of contracts for any purpose. The State can carry on executive function by making a law or without making a law. The exercise of such powers and functions in trade by the State is subject to Part III of the Constitution. Article 14 speaks of equality before the law and equal protection of the laws. Equality of opportunity should apply to matters of public contracts. The State has the right to trade. The State has there the duty to observe equality. An ordinary individual can choose not to deal with any person. The Government cannot choose to exclude persons by discrimination. The order of blacklisting has the effect of depriving a person of equality of opportunity in the matter of public contract. A person who is on the approved list is unable to enter into advantageous relations with the Government because of the order of blacklisting. A person who has been dealing with the Government in the matter of sale and purchase of materials has a legitimate interest or expectation. When the State acts to the prejudice of a person it has to be supported by legality.

13. But for the order of blacklisting, the petitioner would have been entitled to participate in the purchase of cinchona. Similarly the respondent in the appeal would also have been entitled but for the order of blacklisting to tender competitive rates.

14. The State can enter into contract with any person it chooses. No person has a fundamental right to insist that the Government must enter into a contract with him. A citizen has a right to earn livelihood and to pursue any trade. A citizen has a right to claim equal treatment to enter into a contract which may be proper, necessary and essential to his lawful calling.

15. The blacklisting order does not pertain to any particular contract. The blacklisting order involves civil consequences. It casts a slur. It creates a barrier between the persons blacklisted and the Government in the matter of transactions. The blacklists are "instruments of coercion".

16. In passing an order of blacklisting the Government department acts under what is described as a standardised code. This is a code for internal instruction. The Government departments make regular purchases. They maintain list of approved suppliers after taking into account the financial standard of the firm, their capacity and their past performance. The removal from the list is made for various reasons. The grounds on which blacklisting may be ordered are if the proprietor of the firm is convicted by court of law or security considerations to warrant or if there is strong justification for believing that the proprietor or employee of the firm has been guilty of malpractices such as bribery, corruption, fraud, or if the firm continuously refuses to return Government dues or if the firm employs a Government servant, dismissed or removed on account of corruption in a position where he could corrupt Government servants. The petitioner was blacklisted on the ground of justification for believing that the firm has been guilty of malpractices such as bribery, corruption, fraud. The petitioners were blacklisted on the ground that there were proceedings pending against the petitioners for alleged violation of provisions under the Foreign Exchange Regulations Act.

17. The Government is a Government of laws and not of men. It is true that neither the petitioner nor the respondent has any right to enter into a contract but they are entitled to equal treatment with others who offer tender or quotations for the purchase of the goods. This privilege arises because it is the Government which is trading with the public and the democratic form of Government demands equality and absence of arbitrariness and discrimination in such transactions. Hohfeld treats privileges as a form of liberty as opposed to a duty. The activities of the Government have a public element and, therefore, there should be fairness and equality. The State need not enter into any contract with any one but if it does so, it must do so fairly without discrimination and without unfair procedure. Reputation is a part of a person's character and personality. Blacklisting tarnishes one's reputation.

18. Exclusion of a member of the public from dealing with a State in sales transactions has the effect of preventing him from purchasing and doing a lawful trade in the goods in discriminating against him in favour of other people. The State can impose reasonable conditions regarding rejection and acceptance of bids or qualifications of bidders. Just as exclusion of the lowest tender will be arbitrary, similarly exclusion of a person who offers the highest price from participating at a public auction would also have the same aspect of arbitrariness.

19. Where the State is dealing with individuals in transactions of sales and purchase of goods, the two important factors are that an individual is entitled to trade with the Government and an individual is entitled to a fair and equal treatment with others. A duty to act fairly can be interpreted as meaning a duty to observe certain aspects of rules of natural justice. A body may be under a duty to give fair consideration to the facts and to consider the representations but not to disclose to those persons details of information in its possession. Sometimes duty to act fairly can also be sustained without providing opportunity for an oral hearing. It will depend upon the nature of the interest to be affected, the circumstances in which a power is exercised and the nature of sanctions involved therein.

20. Blacklisting has the effect of preventing a person from the privilege and advantage of entering into lawful relationship with the Government for purposes of gains. The fact that a disability is created by the order of blacklisting indicates that the relevant authority is to have an objective satisfaction. Fundamentals of fair play require that the person concerned should be given an opportunity to represent his case before he is put on the blacklist."

14. The aforementioned proposition that no order of blacklisting could be passed without affording opportunity of hearing to the affected party was reiterated in the case of Raghunath Thakur Vs. State of Bihar & Ors.7 wherein it was stated as follows:-

"4. Indisputably, no notice had been given to the appellant of the proposal of blacklisting the appellant. It was contended on behalf of the State Government that there was no requirement in the rule of giving any prior notice before blacklisting any person. Insofar as the contention that there is no requirement specifically of giving any notice is concerned, the respondent is right. But it is an implied principle of the rule of law that any order having civil consequence should be passed only after following the principles of natural justice. It has to be realised that blacklisting any person in respect of business ventures has civil consequence for the future business of the person concerned in any event. Even if the rules do not express so, it is an elementary principle of natural justice that parties affected by any order should have right of being heard and making representations against the order..."

15. The exercise of the executive power of the State or its instrumentalities in entering into a contract with private parties flowing from Article 298 of the Constitution including the power to enter or not into a contract came up for consideration in the case of Mahabir Auto Stores & Ors. Vs. Indian Oil Corporation & Ors.8 and it was held that the decision of the State or any of its instrumentalities to enter or not into a contract being an administrative action the same would be open to a challenge on the ground of violation of Article 14 of the Constitution and would also be subject to the power of judicial review. The observations made in the judgment are as follows:-

"12. It is well settled that every action of the State or an instrumentality of the State in exercise of its executive power, must be informed by reason. In appropriate cases, actions uninformed by reason may be questioned as arbitrary in proceedings under Article 226 or Article 32 of the Constitution. Reliance in this connection may be placed on the observations of this Court in Radha Krishna Agarwal v. State of Bihar (1977) 3 SCC 457. It appears to us, at the outset, that in the facts and circumstances of the case, the respondent company IOC is an organ of the State or an instrumentality of the State as contemplated under Article 12 of the Constitution. The State acts in its executive power under Article 298 of the Constitution in entering or not entering in contracts with individual parties. Article 14 of the Constitution would be applicable to those exercises of power. Therefore, the action of State organ under Article 14 can be checked. See Radha Krishna Agarwal v. State of Bihar at p. 462, but Article 14 of the Constitution cannot and has not been construed as a charter for judicial review of State action after the contract has been entered into, to call upon the State to account for its actions in its manifold activities by stating reasons for such actions. In a situation of this nature certain activities of the respondent company which constituted State under Article 12 of the Constitution may be in certain circumstances subject to Article 14 of the Constitution in entering or not entering into contracts and must be reasonable and taken only upon lawful and relevant consideration; it depends upon facts and circumstances of a particular transaction whether hearing is necessary and reasons have to be stated. In case any right conferred on the citizens which is sought to be interfered, such action is subject to Article 14 of the Constitution, and must be reasonable and can be taken only upon lawful and relevant grounds of public interest. Where there is arbitrariness in State action of this type of entering or not entering into contracts, Article 14 springs up and judicial review strikes such an action down. Every action of the State executive authority must be subject to rule of law and must be informed by reason. So, whatever be the activity of the public authority, in such monopoly or semi-monopoly dealings, it should meet the test of Article 14 of the Constitution. If a governmental action even in the matters of entering or not entering into contracts, fails to satisfy the test of reasonableness, the same would be unreasonable. In this connection reference may be made to E.P. Royappa v. State of Tamil Nadu (1974) 4 SCC 3, Maneka Gandhi v. Union of India (1978) 1 SCC 248, Ajay Hasia v. Khalid Mujib Sehravardi (1981) 1 SCC 722, R.D. Shetty v. International Airport Authority of India (1979) 3 SCC 489 and also Dwarkadas Marfatia and Sons v. Board of Trustees of the Port of Bombay (1989) 3 SCC 293. It appears to us that rule of reason and rule against arbitrariness and discrimination, rules of fair play and natural justice are part of the rule of law applicable in situation or action by State instrumentality in dealing with citizens in a situation like the present one. Even though the rights of the citizens are in the nature of contractual rights, the manner, the method and motive of a decision of entering or not entering into a contract, are subject to judicial review on the touchstone of relevance and reasonableness, fair play, natural justice, equality and non-discrimination in the type of the transactions and nature of the dealing as in the present case.

x x x x x

18. ...we are of the opinion that decision of the State/public authority under Article 298 of the Constitution, is an administrative decision and can be impeached on the ground that the decision is arbitrary or violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India on any of the grounds available in public law field. It appears to us that in respect of corporation like IOC when without informing the parties concerned, as in the case of the appellant-firm herein on alleged change of policy and on that basis action to seek to bring to an end to course of transaction over 18 years involving large amounts of money is not fair action, especially in view of the monopolistic nature of the power of the respondent in this field. Therefore, it is necessary to reiterate that even in the field of public law, the relevant persons concerned or to be affected, should be taken into confidence. Whether and in what circumstances that confidence should be taken into consideration cannot be laid down on any strait-jacket basis. It depends on the nature of the right involved and nature of the power sought to be exercised in a particular situation. It is true that there is discrimination between power and right but whether the State or the instrumentality of a State has the right to function in public field or private field is a matter which, in our opinion, depends upon the facts and circumstances of the situation, but such exercise of power cannot be dealt with by the State or the instrumentality of the State without informing and taking into confidence, the party whose rights and powers are affected or sought to be affected, into confidence. In such situations most often people feel aggrieved by exclusion of knowledge if not taken into confidence."

16. The requirement of grant of opportunity to show cause before blacklisting was restated in the case of Gronsons Pharmaceuticals (P) Ltd. & Anr. Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh & Ors.9 and it was held that since the order blacklisting of an approved contractor results in civil consequences, the principle of audi alteram partem is required to be observed.

17. The power to blacklist a contractor was held to be inherent in the party allotting the contract and the freedom to contract or not to contract was held to be unqualified in the case of private parties; however when the party is State, the decision to blacklist would be open judicial review on touchstone of proportionality and the principles of natural justice. The relevant observations made in this regard in the case of M/s Kulja Industries Limited Vs. Chief General Manager, W.T. Project, BSNL & Ors.10 are as under:-

"17. That apart, the power to blacklist a contractor whether the contract be for supply of material or equipment or for the execution of any other work whatsoever is in our opinion inherent in the party allotting the contract. There is no need for any such power being specifically conferred by statute or reserved by contractor. That is because "blacklisting" simply signifies a business decision by which the party affected by the breach decides not to enter into any contractual relationship with the party committing the breach. Between two private parties the right to take any such decision is absolute and untrammelled by any constraints whatsoever. The freedom to contract or not to contract is unqualified in the case of private parties. But any such decision is subject to judicial review when the same is taken by the State or any of its instrumentalities. This implies that any such decision will be open to scrutiny not only on the touchstone of the principles of natural justice but also on the doctrine of proportionality. A fair hearing to the party being blacklisted thus becomes an essential precondition for a proper exercise of the power and a valid order of blacklisting made pursuant thereto. The order itself being reasonable, fair and proportionate to the gravity of the offence is similarly examinable by a writ court."

18. The aforementioned judgment has taken note of the fact that the principle of audi alteram partem has been held to be applicable to the process that may eventually culminate in the blacklisting of a contractor in the earlier judgments in M/s Southern Painters Vs. Fertilizers & Chemicals Travancore Ltd. & Anr.11, Patel Engineering Ltd. Vs. Union of India12, B.S.N. Joshi & Sons Ltd. Vs. Nair Coal Services Ltd. & Ors.13, Joseph Vilangandan Vs. The Executive Engineer (PWD), Ernakulam & Ors.14.

19. It was held that even though the right of the petitioner may be in the nature of a contractual right, the manner, the method and the motive behind the decision of the authority whether or not to enter into a contract is subject to the powers of judicial review on the touchstone of fairness, relevance, natural justice, non-discrimination, equality and proportionality. In this regard reference was made to earlier decisions in Radha Krishna Agarwal & Ors. Vs. State of Bihar & Ors.15, E.P. Royappa Vs. State of Tamil Nadu & Anr.16, Maneka Gandhi Vs. Union of India & Anr.17, Ajay Hasia & Ors. Vs. Khalid Mujib Sehravardi & Ors.18, Ramana Dayaram Shetty Vs. International Airport Authority of India & Ors.19 and Dwarkadas Marfatia and Sons Vs. Board of Trustees of the Port of Bombay20.

20. The legal position governing blacklisting in USA and UK was also considered and it was noticed that in USA the term "debarring" is used by the statutes and the courts and comprehensive guidelines have been issued in this regard. It was also taken note of that though "debarment" is recognised as an effective tool for disciplining deviant contractors but the debarment is never permanent. The observations made in the judgment in this respect are as follows:-

"21. The legal position governing blacklisting of suppliers in USA and UK is no different. In USA instead of using the expression "blacklisting" the term "debarring" is used by the statutes and the courts. The Federal Government considers "suspension and debarment" as a powerful tool for protecting taxpayer resources and maintaining integrity of the processes for federal acquisitions. Comprehensive guidelines are, therefore, issued by the government for protecting public interest from those contractors and recipients who are non-responsible, lack business integrity or engage in dishonest or illegal conduct or are otherwise unable to perform satisfactorily. These guidelines prescribe the following among other grounds for debarment:

(a) Conviction of or civil judgment for.--

(1) Commission of fraud or a criminal offense in connection with obtaining, attempting to obtain, or performing a public or private agreement or transaction;

(2) Violation of Federal or State antitrust statutes, including those proscribing price fixing between competitors, allocation of customers between competitors, and bid rigging;

(3) Commission of embezzlement, theft, forgery, bribery, falsification or destruction of records, making false statements, tax evasion, receiving stolen property, making false claims, or obstruction of justice; or (4) Commission of any other offense indicating a lack of business integrity or business honesty that seriously and directly affects your present responsibility;

(b) Violation of the terms of a public agreement or transaction so serious as to affect the integrity of an agency program, such as.--

(1) A wilful failure to perform in accordance with the terms of one or more public agreements or transactions;

(2) A history of failure to perform or of unsatisfactory performance of one or more public agreements or transactions; or

(3) A wilful violation of a statutory or regulatory provision or requirement applicable to a public agreement or transaction;

(c) x x x x x

(d) Any other cause of so serious or compelling a nature that it affects your present responsibility.

22. The guidelines also stipulate the factors that may influence the debarring official's decision which include the following:

a) The actual or potential harm or impact that results or may result from the wrongdoing.

b) The frequency of incidents and/or duration of the wrongdoing.

c) Whether there is a pattern or prior history of wrongdoing.

d) Whether contractor has been excluded or disqualified by an agency of the Federal Government or have not been allowed to participate in State or local contracts or assistance agreements on a basis of conduct similar to one or more of the causes for debarment specified in this part.

(e) Whether and to what extent did the contractor plan, initiate or carry out the wrongdoing.

(f) Whether the contractor has accepted responsibility for the wrongdoing and recognized the seriousness of the misconduct.

(g) Whether the contractor has paid or agreed to pay all criminal, civil and administrative liabilities for the improper activity, including any investigative or administrative costs incurred by the government, and have made or agreed to make full restitution.

(h) Whether contractor has cooperated fully with the government agencies during the investigation and any court or administrative action.

(i) Whether the wrongdoing was pervasive within the contractor's organization.

(j) The kind of positions held by the individuals involved in the wrongdoing.

(k) Whether the contractor has taken appropriate corrective action or remedial measures, such as establishing ethics training and implementing programs to prevent recurrence.

(l) Whether the contractor fully investigated the circumstances surrounding the cause for debarment and, if so, made the result of the investigation available to the debarring official."

23. As regards the period for which the order of debarment will remain effective, the guidelines state that the same would depend upon the seriousness of the case leading to such debarment.

24. Similarly in England, Wales and Northern Ireland, there are statutory provisions that make operators ineligible on several grounds including fraud, fraudulent trading or conspiracy to defraud, bribery etc.

25. Suffice it to say that "debarment' is recognised and often used as an effective method for disciplining deviant suppliers/contractors who may have committed acts of omission and commission or frauds including misrepresentations, falsification of records and other breaches of the regulations under which such contracts were allotted. What is notable is that the "debarment' is never permanent and the period of debarment would invariably depend upon the nature of the offence committed by the erring contractor."

21. In Patel Engineering Ltd. Vs. Union of India8, referring to the authority of the State and its instrumentalities to enter into contracts in view of the power conferred under Article 298 of the Constitution it was taken note of that the right to make a contract includes the right to not to make a contract; however, such right including the right to blacklist which could be exercised by the State is subject to the constitutional obligation to obey the command of Article 14. The observations made in the judgment in this regard are being extracted below:-

"13. The concept of "blacklisting" is explained by this Court in Erusian Equipment & Chemicals Limited v. State of W.B. (1975) 1 SCC 70, as under: (SCC p.75, para 20)

" 20. Blacklisting has the effect of preventing a person from the privilege and advantage of entering into lawful relationship with the Government for purposes of gains."

14. The nature of the authority of State to blacklist persons was considered by this Court in the abovementioned case and took note of the constitutional provision (Article 298), which authorises both the Union of India and the States to make contracts for any purpose and to carry on any trade or business. It also authorises the acquisition, holding and disposal of property. This Court also took note of the fact that the right to make a contract includes the right not to make a contract. By definition, the said right is inherent in every person capable of entering into a contract. However, such a right either to enter or not to enter into a contract with any person is subject to a constitutional obligation to obey the command of Article 14. Though nobody has any right to compel State to enter into a contract, everybody has a right to be treated equally when State seeks to establish contractual relationships. The effect of excluding a person from entering into a contractual relationship with State would be to deprive such person to be treated equally with those, who are also engaged in similar activity.

15. It follows from the judgment in Erusian Equipment case that the decision of State or its instrumentalities not to deal with certain persons or class of persons on account of the undesirability of entering into contractual relationship with such persons is called blacklisting. State can decline to enter into a contractual relationship with a person or a class of persons for a legitimate purpose. The authority of State to blacklist a person is a necessary concomitant to the executive power of the State to carry on the trade or the business and making of contracts for any purpose, etc. There need not be any statutory grant of such power. The only legal limitation upon the exercise of such an authority is that State is to act fairly and rationally without in any way being arbitrary--thereby such a decision can be taken for some legitimate purpose. What is the legitimate purpose that is sought to be achieved by the State in a given case can vary depending upon various factors."

22. The applicability of the principle of audi alteram partem and the necessity of issuance of a show cause notice before passing of an order of blacklisting and the prejudice caused for the reason of failure of giving notice was reiterated in Gorkha Security Services Vs. Government (NCT of Delhi) & Ors.21, and it was stated as follows:-

"16. It is a common case of the parties that the blacklisting has to be preceded by a show cause notice. Law in this regard is firmly grounded and does not even demand much amplification. The necessity of compliance with the principles of natural justice by giving the opportunity to the person against whom action of blacklisting is sought to be taken has a valid and solid rationale behind it. With blacklisting many civil and/or evil consequences follow. It is described as "civil death" of a person who is foisted with the order of blacklisting. Such an order is stigmatic in nature and debars such a person from participating in government tenders which means precluding him from the award of government contracts.

17. Way back in the year 1975, this Court in Erusian Equipment & Chemicals Ltd. v. State of W.B. [(1975) 1 SCC 70], highlighted the necessity of giving an opportunity to such a person by serving a show cause notice thereby giving him opportunity to meet the allegations which were in the mind of the authority contemplating blacklisting of such a person...

x x x x x

20. ...there is no dispute about the requirement of serving show-cause notice. We may also hasten to add that once the show-cause notice is given and opportunity to reply to the show-cause notice is afforded, it is not even necessary to give an oral hearing. The High Court has rightly repudiated the appellant's attempt in finding foul with the impugned order on this ground. Such a contention was specifically repelled in Patel Engineering (supra).

Contents of show-sause notice

21. The central issue, however, pertains to the requirement of stating the action which is proposed to be taken. The fundamental purpose behind the serving of show-cause notice is to make the noticee understand the precise case set up against him which he has to meet. This would require the statement of imputations detailing out the alleged breaches and defaults he has committed, so that he gets an opportunity to rebut the same. Another requirement, according to us, is the nature of action which is proposed to be taken for such a breach. That should also be stated so that the noticee is able to point out that proposed action is not warranted in the given case, even if the defaults/breaches complained of are not satisfactorily explained. When it comes to black listing, this requirement becomes all the more imperative, having regard to the fact that it is harshest possible action.

22. The High Court has simply stated that the purpose of show cause notice is primarily to enable the noticee to meet the grounds on which the action is proposed against him. No doubt, the High Court is justified to this extent. However, it is equally important to mention as to what would be the consequence if the noticee does not satisfactorily meet the grounds on which an action is proposed. To put it otherwise, we are of the opinion that in order to fulfil the requirements of principles of natural justice, a show cause notice should meet the following two requirements viz:

(i) The material/grounds to be stated on which according to the Department necessitates an action;

(ii) Particular penalty/action which is proposed to be taken. It is this second requirement which the High Court has failed to omit.

we may hasten to add that even if it is not specifically mentioned in the show cause notice but it can be clearly and safely be discerned from the reading thereof, that would be sufficient to meet this requirement.

x x x x x

27. We are, therefore, of the opinion that it was incumbent on the part of the Department to state in the show cause notice that the competent authority intended to impose such a penalty of blacklisting, so as to provide adequate and meaningful opportunity to the appellant to show cause against the same. However, we may also add that even if it is not mentioned specifically but from the reading of the show cause notice, it can be clearly inferred that such an action was proposed, that would fulfill this requirement...

29. No doubt, rules of natural justice are not embodied rules nor can they be lifted to the position of fundamental rights. However, their aim is to secure justice and to prevent miscarriage of justice. It is now well established proposition of law that unless a statutory provision either specifically or by necessary implication excludes the application of any rules of natural justice, in exercise of power prejudicially affecting another must be in conformity with the rules of natural justice.

30. We are conscious of the following words of wisdom expressed by this Court through the pen of Krishna Iyer, J. in Board of Mining Examination v. Ramjee (1977) 2 SCC 256 (pp. 258 & 262, paras 1, 13 & 14)

"1. If the jurisprudence of remedies were understood and applied from the perspective of social efficaciousness, the problem raised in this appeal would not have ended the erroneous way it did in the High Court. Judges must never forget that every law has a social purpose and engineering process without appreciating which justice to the law cannot be done. Here, the socio-legal situation we are faced with is a colliery, an explosive, an accident, luckily not lethal, caused by violation of a regulation and consequential cancellation of the certificate of the delinquent shot-firer, eventually quashed by the High Court, for processual solecisms, by a writ of certiorari.

x x x x x

13. Natural justice is no unruly horse, no lurking land mine, nor a judicial cure all. If fairness is shown by the decision-maker to the man proceeded against, the form, features and the fundamentals of such essential processual propriety being conditioned by the facts and circumstances of each situation, no breach of natural justice can be complained of. Unnatural expansion of natural justice, without reference to the administrative realities and other factors of a given case, can be exasperating. We can neither be finical nor fanatical but should be flexible yet firm in this jurisdiction. No man shall be hit below the belt - that is the conscience of the matter.

14. ...we cannot look at law in the abstract or natural justice as a mere artefact. Nor can we fit into a rigid mould the concept of reasonable opportunity."

31. When it comes to the action of blacklisting which is termed as "civil death" it would be difficult to accept the proposition that without even putting the noticee to such a contemplated action and giving him a chance to show cause as to why such an action be not taken, final order can be passed blacklisting such a person only on the premise that this is one of the actions so stated in the provisions of NIT.

The "prejudice" argument

32. It was sought to be argued by Mr. Maninder Singh, learned Additional Solicitor General appearing for the respondent, that even if it is accepted that show-cause notice should have contained the proposed action of blacklisting, no prejudice was caused to the appellant in as much as all necessary details mentioning defaults/prejudices committed by the appellant were given in the show-cause notice and the appellant had even given its reply thereto. According to him, even if the action of blacklisting was not proposed in the show-cause notice, reply of the appellant would have remained the same. On this premise, the learned Additional Solicitor General has argued that there is no prejudice caused to the appellant by non-mentioning of the proposed action of blacklisting. He argued that unless the appellant was able to show that non-mentioning of blacklisting as the proposed penalty has caused prejudice and has resulted in miscarriage of justice, the impugned action cannot be nullified. For this proposition he referred to the judgment of this Court in Haryana Financial Corpn. v. Kailash Chandra Ahuja (2008) 9 SCC 31 (pp. 38, 40-41, & 44, paras 21, 31, 36 & 44)

"21. From the ratio laid down in ECIL v. B. Karunakar (1993) 4 SCC 727 it is explicitly clear that the doctrine of natural justice requires supply of a copy of the inquiry officer's report to the delinquent if such inquiry officer is other than the disciplinary authority. It is also clear that non-supply of report of the inquiry officer is in the breach of natural justice. But it is equally clear that failure to supply a report of the inquiry officer to the delinquent employee would not ipso facto result in the proceedings being declared null and void and the order of punishment non est and ineffective. It is for the delinquent employee to plead and prove that non-supply of such report had caused prejudice and resulted in miscarriage of justice. If he is unable to satisfy the court on that point, the order of punishment cannot automatically be set aside.

x x x x x

31. At the same time, however, effect of violation of the rule of audi alteram partem has to be considered. Even if hearing is not afforded to the person who is sought to be affected or penalised, can it not be argued that 'notice would have served no purpose' or 'hearing could not have made difference' or 'the person could not have offered any defence whatsoever'. In this connection, it is interesting to note that under the English law, it was held few years before that non-compliance with principles of natural justice would make the order null and void and no further inquiry was necessary.

x x x x x

36. The recent trend, however, is of 'prejudice'. Even in those cases where procedural requirements have not been complied with, the action has not been held ipso facto illegal, unlawful or void unless it is shown that non- observance had prejudicially affected the applicant.

x x x x x

44. From the aforesaid decisions, it is clear that though supply of report of the inquiry officer is part and parcel of natural justice and must be furnished to the delinquent employee, failure to do so would not automatically result in quashing or setting aside of the order or the order being declared null and void. For that, the delinquent employee has to show 'prejudice'. Unless he is able to show that non-supply of report of the inquiry officer has resulted in prejudice or miscarriage of justice, an order of punishment cannot be held to be vitiated. And whether prejudice had been caused to the delinquent employee depends upon the facts and circumstances of each case and no rule of universal application can be laid down."

33. When we apply the ratio of the aforesaid judgment to the facts of the present case, it becomes difficult to accept the argument of the learned Additional Solicitor General. In the first instance, we may point out that no such case was set up by the respondents that by omitting to state the proposed action of blacklisting, the appellant in the show-cause notice has not caused any prejudice to the appellant. Moreover, had the action of blacklisting being specifically proposed in the show-cause notice, the appellant could have mentioned as to why such extreme penalty is not justified. It could have come out with extenuating circumstances defending such an action even if the defaults were there and the Department was not satisfied with the explanation qua the defaults. It could have even pleaded with the Department not to blacklist the appellant or do it for a lesser period in case the Department still wanted to black list the appellant. Therefore, it is not at all acceptable that non-mentioning of proposed blacklisting in the show-cause notice has not caused any prejudice to the appellant. This apart, the extreme nature of such a harsh penalty like blacklisting with severe consequences, would itself amount to causing prejudice to the appellant."

23. In B.C. Biyani Projects Pvt. Ltd. Vs. State of M.P. & Ors.22 referring to the earlier judgment in the case of M/s Kulja Industries Limited it was held that an order of blacklisting for an indefinite period was not permissible in law. The observations made in the judgment in this regard are as follows:-

"7. In Kulja Industries Limited v. Chief General Manager, Western Telecom Project Bharat Sanchar Nigam Limited and others, (2014) 14 SCC 731, this Court held in paragraph 25 of the report that "debarment" cannot be permanent and the period of "debarment" would invariably depend upon the nature of the offence committed by the erring contractor. Paragraph 25 of the report reads as follows :

"25. Suffice it to say that "debarment" is recognised and often used as an effective method for disciplining deviant suppliers/contractors who may have committed acts of omission and commission or frauds including misrepresentations, falsification of records and other breaches of the regulations under which such contracts were allotted. What is notable is that the "debarment" is never permanent and the period of debarment would invariably depend upon the nature of the offence committed by the erring contractor."

8. As mentioned above, the order for blacklisting the appellant is a permanent one. This is impermissible in law."

24. It would be apposite to refer to a Full Bench judgment of the Kerala High Court in the case of V. Punnen Thomas Vs. State of Kerala23 as an interesting stage in the course of development of law on the subject wherein it was held by a majority view that the Government can refuse to deal with any person without giving reason or for any reason it thinks fit and the principle of audi alterm partem would not be attracted.

25. Justice Mathew (as he then was) gave a dissenting view stating as follows:-

"14. Government has right like any private citizen to enter into contracts with any person it chooses and no person has a right fundamental or otherwise to insist that Government must enter into a contractual relation with him. See 1958 Ker LT 334=(AIR 1958 Ker 333). In AIR 1959 SC 490 the Supreme Court observed;

"There is no discrimination, because it is perfectly open to the Government, even as it is to a private party, to choose a person to their liking to fulfil contracts which they wish to be performed."

In that case, there was no question of the legality of putting a person's name in black-list. The only question was whether for breach of a contract by Government, the remedy of the petitioner there, was to approach the Supreme Court under Article 32 of the Constitution. A citizen, I think, has the right "to earn his livelihood by any lawful calling; to pursue any livelihood or avocation; and for that purpose to enter into all contracts which may be proper, necessary, and essential to his carrying out to a successful conclusion the purposes above mentioned ..... In the privilege of pursuing an ordinary calling or trade, and of acquiring, holding and selling property, must be embraced the right to make all proper contracts in relation thereto". (See Allgeyar v. State of Louisiana. (1897) 165 US 578, 589, 591).

15. A contractual relationship presupposes a consensus of two minds. If Government is not willing to enter into contract with a person, I do not think that Government can be forced to do so. It is one thing to say that Government, like any other private citizen, can enter into contract with any person it pleases, but a totally different thing to say that government can unreasonably put a person's name in a black-list and debar him from entering into any contractual relationship with the government for years to come. In the former case, it might be said that Government is exercising its right like any other private citizen, 'but no, democratic government should with impunity pass a proceeding which will have civil consequences to a citizen without notice and an opportunity of being heard. The reason why the proceeding for blacklisting the petitioner and debarring him from taking government work for ten years was passed, is that he committed irregularities in connection with the tender of the contract work..."

26. An ex parte adverse adjudication without notice and opportunity of being heard and putting the petitioner on the blacklist and debarring him from work by way of punishment was held to be against all notions on fairness in a democratic country and in this regard the observations made by Frankfurter, J. in Joint Anti Fascist Refugee Com. Vs. McGrath24 which were referred to are being extracted below:-

"That a conclusion satisfies one's private conscience does not attest its reliability. The validity and moral authority of a conclusion largely depend on the mode by which it was reached. Secrecy is not congenial to truth-seeking and self-righteousness gives too slender an assurance of lightness. No better instrument has been devised for arriving at truth than to give a person in jeopardy of serious loss, notice of the case against him and opportunity to meet it. Nor has a better way been found for generating the feeling, so important to a popular Government, that justice has been done."

27. The minority judgment further referred to the article of Kenneth Culp Davis under the title "The Requirement of a Trial-Type Hearing"25 to draw the inference that apart from the material damage involved in the loss of the prospect of entering into the advantageous relationship with Government, a verdict of being guilty of irregularities, coming from the Government has civil consequences as it touches the reputation and standing of the contractor in the business world. The passages of the article, which have been referred, are being extracted below:-

"The plain fact is that the Courts often give legal protection to what they persist in calling 'privileges'. In doing so they commonly rely upon one or more of three ideas or on a fourth method which involves the lack of an idea. The three ideas are: (1) that constitutional principles of substantive and procedural fairness apply even when only a privilege is at stake and even when the privilege itself is not directly entitled to legal protection; (2) that privileges as well as rights are entitled to legal protection; and (3) that when a privilege is combined with another interest the combination may be a right and accordingly entitled to legal protection. The remaining method is (4) to cast logic to the winds in discussing right and privilege or to provide legal protection to a privilege without mentioning the problem of privilege.

(1) the essence of the first idea is that the government is still the government even when it is dispensing bounties, gratuities, or privileges, that we want the government to be fair no matter what its activities may be, and that often the best way to assure governmental fairness is by relying upon judicial enforcement of the usual concepts of fairness. Therefore, the basic constitutional Limitations having to do with fairness often apply even though the privileges as such are not entitled to legal protection.

But if a right is an interest which is legally protected, and if a Court gives legal protection to a privilege, does not the Court turn the privilege into a right? Even if the answer to this question is yes, the proposition still be perfectly sound that one who lacks a 'right' to a Government gratuity may nevertheless have a 'right' to fair treatment in the distribution of the gratuity. In tort law, the accident victim has no right to be helped by the passer-by who volunteers to help. Like the passer-by, the Government may refuse altogether to help applicants for gratuities, but it cannot provide the help improperly; it cannot grant or withhold on the basis of racial or religious discrimination. The federal Government could deny altogether the admission of Oklahoma to the union, but it could not admit Oklahoma improperly, that is with a condition that its capital must be at a particular place. A State can deny altogether a permit to a foreign corporation to do local business, but it cannot grant the privilege improperly, that is, on condition that suits against the corporation shall not be removed to a federal Court."

"Similarly, one who has no 'right' to sell liquor, in the sense that the State may prohibit the sale of liquor altogether, may nevertheless have a right to fair treatment when State officers grant, deny, suspend, or revoke liquor licences, The State need not grant any such licences, but if it does so, it must do so fairly -- without racial or religious discrimination, and without unfair procedure."

"The fundamental proposition, stated abstractly, is that some kinds of unfairness are deemed deserving of judicial relief even when they appear in a context of privileges or gratuities. This proposition appears frequently in judicial opinions."

"Even though one may have no right to a Government gratuity one may have a right to be free from damage to reputation or position that may result from withholding of a Government gratuity in some circumstances."

28. Viewing reputation both as an interest of personality and as an interest of substance i.e. as an asset, the following passage from "Code of Actionable Defamation"26 was extracted in the judgment, and the same is being reproduced below:-

"It may be granted that reputation in many respects differs from other forms of property and connotes certain ideas involved in the notion of 'person' or 'personality', for ..... it is certainly a very special and strictly personal type of asset: it has some analogies, no doubt, to the right of the individual to his life, his limbs, or his liberty, which are all only 'property' in a somewhat metaphorical sense. ..... In so far, however, as individual honour, dignity, character, and reputation are recognised by the law as proper subjects of its protection and as being such that any injury thereto entitles the aggrieved party to the same forms of legal redresses as the invasion of property strictly so called, it is permissible to consider these rights as assets, though assets of a somewhat peculiar description."

29. Further, the extract from the article "Interest of Personality" by Roscoe Pound27, which was referred, is being reproduced below:-

"On the one hand there is the claim of the individual to be secured in his dignity and honour as part of his personality in a world in which one must live in society among his fellow men. On the other hand there is the claim to be secured in his reputation as a part of his substance, in that in a world in which credit plays so large a part the confidence and esteem of one's fellow-men may be a valuable asset."

30. With regard to the exercise of power of "debarment" having a serious effect and being attended with civil consequences, reference was drawn to Australian Law Journal Volume 4928, to state that the ultimate question was:-

"whether an exercise of the power would have a 'serious' effect on the applicant, and whether an exercise of the power was conditional on some factual determination or evaluation rather than being a completely open discretion based on policy".

31. The scope of exercise of powers by the Government in selecting the recipients for largess and the conferment of privileges was also considered and it was stated as follows:-

"The concept of privilege, gratuity, or grace is useful; we probably would invent it if our legal system were without it. Like an individual, the Government may make generous gifts, perform compassionate acts of grace, and legally recognise as privileges such interests as deserve to be something less than legal rights. A donee ought not to be allowed to compel the Government to make a gift. Nor should a supplicant for an act of grace be permitted to coerce officers to make a favourable determination in the exercise of discretionary power. Even so, the Government is not and should not be as free as an individual in selecting the recipients for largess. Whatever its activity the Government is still the Government and will be subject to restraints, inherent in its position in a democratic society. A democratic Government cannot lay down arbitrary and capricious standards for the choice of persons with whom alone it will deal."

32. In this regard reference was drawn to "Summary of Colloquy on Administrative Law" by Walter Gellhorn29, and the extract which was referred, is being reproduced below:-

"A 'privilege' is not something to be dealt with lightly. Much of modern life, it may be said, depends on the continued enjoyment of a 'privilege'."

33. Finally, Justice Mathew in his minority judgment drew the following conclusion:-

"As the memorandum in question casts a stigma on the reputation of the petitioner, which is both an interest of personality and an interest of substance, and as it is attended with civil consequences to the petitioner, and as it operates as a punishment for an alleged irregularity, I think, the memorandum should have been proceeded by notice and an opportunity of being heard. If anybody were to say that Ext. P-1 is an administrative proceeding and so no notice or opportunity of being heard was required and that no interference under Article 226 is possible, I would answer him in the high and powerful words of Mr. Belloc, "you have mistaken the hour of the night: it is already morning"..."

34. The question with regard to applicability of the principle of audi alterem partem in a matter of blacklisting of a contractor without notice by the government fell for consideration in Joseph Vilangandan Vs. The Executive Engineer (PWD), Ernakulam & Ors.14 in a case where a petition challenging the order of blacklisting had been dismissed by a learned Single Judge of the High Court in the light of the majority decision by the Full Bench in the case of V. Punnen Thomas (supra), and the writ appeal filed there against had also been dismissed by the Division Bench in limine. The Supreme Court, hearing the appeal by special leave, upon considering the judgment in the case of M/s Erusian Equipment & Chemicals Ltd. (supra) held that the majority judgment in the case of V. Punnen Thomas must be deemed to be overruled by the decision in the case of M/s Erusian Equipment & Chemicals Ltd. The relevant observations made in the judgment are as follows:-

"17. The majority judgment of the Kerala High Court, inasmuch as it holds that a person is not entitled to a hearing, before he is blacklisted, must be deemed to have been overruled by the decision of this Court in Erusian Equipments (ibid) wherein it was held that (SCC p. 75, para 20) :

"Fundamentals of fair play require that the person concerned should be given an opportunity to represent his case before he is put on the blacklist."

35. A similar view was reiterated in M/s Southern Painters Vs. Fertilizers and Travancore Ltd. & Anr.11, and after referring to the minority view of Justice Mathew in the case of V. Punnen Thomas (supra), it was stated that the said minority view was now the law. The observations made in the judgment are as follows:-

8. The minority view of Justice Mathew is now the law. The majority view in V. Punnen Thomas case [V. Punnen Thomas Vs. State of Kerala, AIR 1969 Ker 81 : 1968 Ker LT 800 : 1968 Ker LJ 619] is not good law and must be considered to have been, impliedly, overruled by the Erusian case [Erusian Equipment & Chemicals Ltd. v. State of W.B, (1975) 1 SCC 70, 75]. Indeed, in Joseph Vilangandan v. Executive Engineer, Buildings & Roads (PWD) Division, Ernakulam [(1978) 3 SCC 36, 41 : (1978) 3 SCR 514, 518] it was held:

"The majority judgment of the Kerala High Court, inasmuch as it holds that a person is not entitled to a hearing, before he is blacklisted, must be deemed to have been overruled by the decision of this Court in Erusian Equipment & Chemicals Ltd. v. State of W.B, (1975) 1 SCC 70, 75] ...."

36. We may thus reiterate that the right to enter into a contractual relationship is inherent in every person capable of entering into a contract with a concomitant right also not to enter into a contract. The right to refuse to enter into a contract however does not vest with the State and its instrumentalities in the same manner as it vests with a private individual. The right to enter into a contract by the State flows from the power under Article 298 of the Constitution and together with it is the right not to enter into a contract and the choice to blacklist any particular person with whom the State does not wish to enter into a contract. This decision however in case it is taken by the State or any of its instrumentalities is to be made reasonably and in accord with the principles of natural justice.

37. An order of blacklisting has the effect of depriving a person of equality of opportunity in the manner of public contract and in a case where the State acts to the prejudice of a person it has to be supported by legality. The activities of the State having the public element quality must be imbued with fairness and equality.

38. The order of blacklisting involves civil consequences and has the effect of creating a disability by preventing a person from the privilege and advantage of entering into lawful relationship with the government therefore fundamentals of fair play would require that the concerned person should be given an opportunity to represent his case before he is put on the blacklist. A fair hearing to the party before being blacklisted thus becomes an essential pre-condition for a proper exercise of the power and a valid order of blacklisting made pursuant thereto. The applicability of the principle of audi alteram partem and the necessity of issuance of show cause notice also become imperative before passing of any such order of blacklisting.

39. In the instant case order of blacklisting having been passed without issuance of a show cause notice and opportunity of hearing and having been made for an indefinite period would be in clear violation of the principle of audi alterm partem, and would be legally unsustainable.

40. Accordingly, the order impugned dated 13.05.2019 passed by the third respondent/Vice Chairman, Gorakhpur Development Authority, Gorakhpur whereby the petitioner has been blacklisted, cannot be legally sustained and is therefore set aside.

41. The matter is remitted back to the third respondent leaving it open to pass a fresh reasoned order after giving due notice and opportunity to the petitioner in respect of the proposed action.

42. The writ petition is allowed to the extent indicated above.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sudhir Agarwal, J.)

1. Sri N.C.Rajvanshi, Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Prakash Chandra Shukla, for petitioners and learned Standing Counsel for respondents 1, 2 and 5. None has appeared on behalf of respondent 3, U.P. Financial Corporation, and respondent 6-Taj Singh Tyagi, though this petition has been called in revise, hence we proceed to hear and decide the same after hearing counsel for petitioners and learned Standing Counsel.

2. This writ petition under Article 226 of Constitution has been filed with a prayer for issue of writ of certiorari to quash sale deed dated 03.9.2001 and supplementary sale deed dated 26.9.2001 executed by U.P. Financial Corporation (hereinafter referred to as "UPFC") in favour of Tej Singh Tyagi respondent-6. Further a mandamus has been sought commanding respondents to hand over possession of land, building, plant and machinery etc. to petitioners and not to proceed with any recovery.

3. By way of amendment, two prayers have been inserted; one is to issue a writ of certiorari to quash notice dated 13.6.1997 and further a writ of mandamus not to charge interest over loan amount after 10.6.1997, when physical possession of Unit was taken over by UPFC.

4. Facts in brief, as stated in writ petition are that petitioner-1 M/s Garg Oil Industries, Village Ladu Khera, Agra (hereinafter referred to as "M/s GOI") is a Proprietorship Firm, engaged in the business of producing Oil and Oil Cakes. Petitioner 2, Vinod Kumar Garg is Sole Proprietor of M/s GOI. Industry was established in 1990 with financial assistance from UPFC, who sanctioned a term loan of Rs.1,69,600/- and Rs.1,81,000/-, for plant and machinery, with working capital, respectively. Production was started and instalments were also paid as and when the same fell due, as alleged in para 5 of writ petition.

5. In 1995, petitioners applied for Working Capital Term Loan of Rs.9 lakhs, which was also sanctioned and disbursed. In 1997, however, UPFC started proceedings under Section 29 of State Financial Corporation Act, 1951 (hereinafter referred to as "Act, 1951") and locked the Unit. Petitioners made various representations but same remained unheeded. There was a Government Order dated 13.11.1995 providing for rehabilitation of Sick Industrial Establishments, hence, petitioners made representation dated 04.03.2000 to General Manager, District Industries Centre, Agra (hereinafter referred to as "GMDIC") to declare petitioner's Unit sick and proceed for rehabilitation and revival of Unit by recomputation of financial liability of Financial Institutions. As nothing was done on the said representation, petitioners, M/s GOI came to this Court in Writ Petition No.39334 of 2000, which was disposed of vide judgment dated 05.9.2000, which reads as under :

"Heard learned counsel for petitioner and Sri H.N.Misra for U.P.Finance Corporation.

The petitioner claims that his unit has become sick and it has applied for rehabilitation vide Annexure-3 and 5 to the petition. This petition is disposed of with the direction to the authority concerned Corporation to decide petitioner's application for rehabilitation preferably within six weeks in accordance with law. If the petitioner files certified copy of this order before the said authority within two weeks from today the impugned recovery shall remain stayed, till disposal of the said application, unless the petitioner's application for rehabilitation has already been decided."

6. Pursuant thereto, Additional Director, Industry, vide letter dated 06.01.2001, communicated petitioners a decision of Divisional Level Committee informing that petitioner's claim for rehabilitation was already rejected in April, 2000 but this fact was concealed in the above writ petition. Further, One Time Settlement was sanctioned by UPFC in 1998 but that was not adhered to and complied with by M/s GOI. Only Rs.96,000/- was deposited by M/s GOI in April, 1997. The Committee therefore, proposed that, if petitioners deposit Rs.1.40 lakhs, towards earnest money within three weeks with UPFC, it may be allowed an year's time to pay rest amount, which was total Rs.14 lakhs. Petitioners did not comply with the said demand claiming that it was arbitrary. Petitioners filed appeal before State Level Standing Committee vide memo of appeal dated 02.02.2001 which remanded the matter to Regional Level Committee but it reiterates earlier order vide decision dated 27.03.2001. Again an appeal was filed by petitioners on 24.4.2001 before State Level Standing Committee. When the same was pending, UPFC advertised, in daily newspaper Amar Ujala dated 10.05.2001, petitioner's Unit for sale with a reserve price of Rs.5 lakhs. Petitioners were also informed vide letter dated 28.6.2001 sent by Regional Manager, UPFC that pursuant to High Court's judgment dated 05.7.2001, his representation was rejected. Petitioners protested against said decision vide letter dated 12.7.2001 but UPFC reiterated the above decision vide letter dated 11.7.2001. Petitioners then filed an application before State Level Standing Committee on 05.9.2001 requesting for stay of sale of Unit by UPFC. The Committee, vide letter dated 13.9.2001, requested UPFC to defer sale of Unit till a decision is taken by State Level Standing Committee. Petitioners, vide letter dated 15.9.2001 made similar request to UPFC. UPFC sent a letter dated 4.10.2001 to petitioners stating that Unit has been sold for Rs.5 lakhs in the proceedings under Section 29 of Act, 1951 and after adjusting aforesaid amount of Rs.5 lakhs, the balance amount, if petitioners are ready, may be allowed to clear in instalments and if petitioners are ready for One Time Settlement, it may apply alongwith earnest money by 25.10.2001.

7. However, UPFC executed sale deed on 25.9.2001 (Annexure 14 to writ petition) and informed petitioners that rest amount shall be recovered by issuing a recovery certificate under U.P Public Moneys (Recovery of Dues) Act, 1972 (hereinafter referred to as "Act, 1972"). Hence present writ petition has been filed seeking relief, as described above.

8. Respondent 3 i.e. UPFC has filed a counter affidavit sworn by N.K.Dixit, Deputy Senior Manager (Law) sworn on 10.12.2001 stating that Term Loan of Rs.1.72 lakhs and Rs.1.80 lakhs were sanctioned to Mr. Vinod Kumar Garg in 1991 for setting up an Industrial Unit for manufacturing Mustard Oil at Village Ladu Khera Kheragarh, Agra. Subsequently, Working Capital Term Loan of Rs.9 lakhs was sanctioned and disbursed in September, 1995. Therefore, a total loan of Rs.12.52 lakhs was disbursed to petitioners by UPFC. Petitioners committed default in repayment of instalments of principal sum as well as interest. Despite repeated request and reminders, it did not clear its outstanding dues. Consequently, a notice under Section 29 of Act, 1951 was issued on 13.6.1997. Physical possession of Unit was also taken over by UPFC. Electric connection was already disconnected on 25.11.1995 due to default in payment of electricity dues to U.P. State Electricity

Board (hereinafter referred to as "UPSEB"). An undated proposal for rehabilitation submitted by petitioners were received in the office of UPFC on 07.3.2000 but it was not found viable hence rejected vide order dated 11.04.2000, which was communicated to petitioners. Then petitioners, vide letter dated 26.9.2000, informed about the steps taken before Regional Level Rehabilitation Committee. Additional Director (Industries) vide letter dated 6.1.2001 required petitioners to deposit Rs.1.40 lakhs within three weeks whereafter it would be given a year's time to make payment of balance One Time Settlement amount but even this direction was not complied with by petitioners. Consequently, UPFC proceeded for sale of Unit by publishing notice in daily newspaper 'Amar Ujala' on 10.5.2001, following guidelines laid down by Supreme Court in Mahesh Chandra vs. Regional Manager, U.P. Financial Corporation and others (1993) 2 SCC 279. Information was also given to petitioners vide letter dated 23.5.2001 sent by Regional Manager, UPFC. Here also petitioners did not respond. A registered letter was also sent to petitioners on 11.7.2001. Ultimately, auction was held and Unit of M/s GOI was sold by UPFC vide sale deed dated 03.09.2001 for a sum of Rs.5 lakhs. Thereafter, outstanding dues, after adjusting Rs.5 lakhs, were demanded from petitioners vide notice dated 04.10.2001. A similar notice was also given to Kailash Chandra Mittal, Guarantor to petitioner's loan.

9. To the amendment sought by petitioners, UPFC has also filed counter affidavit stating that initially notice under Section 29 of Act, 1951 was issued on 14.3.1995 and 06.5.1995 but the same remained unheeded. Thereafter, on the request of petitioners, for the interest of Unit and in the hope that it will function, Working Capital Term Loan of Rs.9 lakhs was sanctioned on 11.09.1995 and disbursed. Thereafter again petitioners committed default. He made part payments through various cheques, details whereof are given in para 4(d) of counter affidavit and all these cheques were dishonored. Details of said cheques, mentioned in para 4(d) of counter affidavit to the amendment application are as under :

Sl.	Cheque Date	Amount
1	17.01.1996	Rs.34,000/-
2	15.07.1996	Rs.56,000/-
3	23.10.1996	Rs.44,000/-
4	10.12.1996	Rs.44,000/-
5	30.09.1996	Rs.56,000/-
6	29.10.1996	Rs.12,000/-
7	10.12.1996	Rs.16,000/-
8	31.03.1997	Rs.79,000/-

10. On 15.5.1997 there were overdues of Rs.2 lakhs in Working Capital Term Loan Account and Rs.2,40,183.92 in the main loan account. When UPFC was contemplating to issue notice under Section 29 of Act, 1951, it came to knowledge, through its Recovery Officer on 12.9.1996, that petitioners had abandoned the Unit. Consequently, for the safety of assets of Unit, UPFC recommended for posting of its Guard. Thereafter notice under Section 29 of Act, 1951 was issued and actual physical possession of assets was taken over on 13.6.1997. Information to this effect was also given at Police Chauki Ladukhera, Agra. Thereafter, several letters were issued to petitioners but the same remained unheeded. On 13.6.1997, when UPFC Officers visited the Unit, they did not find either petitioners, his family members or any other employees or representatives present at the Unit. This shows that information given by Recovery Officer that petitioners had abandoned the Unit was correct. Possession of Unit was taken almost after one and half years of disconnection of electric connection showing that Unit was not functional.

11. Respondent 6 has also filed counter affidavit, who is purchaser of Unit in question and he has taken a stand, similar to UPFC. Respondent 6 has also pleaded that he is a bona fide purchaser of Unit for valid consideration.

12. Learned Senior Counsel for petitioners has submitted written arguments and reiterated the contents of said arguments orally before this Court. However, he could not submit any reply to the contents of para 4(d) of counter affidavit, submitted to amended paragraph of writ petition, that several cheques submitted by petitioners towards payment of outstanding dues were dishonored. On this aspect nothing has been said either orally before us nor mentioned in the written arguments. However, relying on para 9 of writ petition, it is urged that there was no outstanding dues. This aspect stood contradicted by specific details of dishonored cheques given in para 4(d) of counter affidavit sworn on 27.6.2003 by R.K.Srivastava, Senior Manager (Law) in the office of Regional Manager, UPFC, Allahabad, hence cannot be accepted.

13. Learned Senior Counsel for petitioners however contended that notice under Section 29 of Act, 1951 was issued on 13.6.1997 (i.e. Annexure 4 to the counter affidavit) and on the same date physical possession was taken therefore no time was given to petitioners to clear the outstanding dues. Hence notice is in violation of principles of natural justice and reliance is placed on Supreme Court's Judgment in Maharashtra Sate Financial Corporation vs. M/s Suvarna Board Mills and another (1994) 5 SCC 566 and a Division Bench judgment of Orissa High Court in M/s Kharavela Industries Pvt. Ltd. vs. Orissa State Financial Corporation and others, AIR 1985 Orissa 153. It is also contended that as per valuation chart, filed as Annexure 5 to supplementary affidavit, prepared by officials of UPFC on 25.7.2000, value of Unit was Rs.22.80 lakhs but it has been sold for a petty sum of Rs.5 lakhs, showing sale of Unit by UPFC on throw away prices and this is nothing but a malicious act on its part.

14. Counter affidavit of UPFC shows that first notice under Section 29 of Act, 1951 was issued on 14.3.1995 stating that a sum of Rs.61,662.72 was overdue till 20.12.1994, and petitioners were informed earlier vide letter dated 2.2.1995 but it remained unheeded. The entire outstanding dues including overdues of instalments of Principal and Interest, which came to Rs.3,34,262.72 as on 20.12.1994, was required to be paid within seven days. Further, a notice was sent by Assistant General Manager, UPFC on 6.5.1995 informing petitioners that upto 20.3.1995 principal amount of Rs.55,000/- and interest of Rs.27,796.54 was outstanding and the same must be cleared by 25.5.1995.

15. Thereafter, since Working Capital Term Loan of Rs.9 lakhs was sanctioned, it was disbursed to petitioners between 15.2.1996 to 15.11.1999 but petitioners' payment of instalment was not found regular. In view thereof, notice under Section 29 of Act, 1951 was again issued on 13.6.1997 and on the same day actual physical possession was taken by UPFC. This was necessitated in view of the fact that Recovery Officer had informed UPFC that petitioners have abandoned the Unit. Actual possession memo (Annexure 5 to the counter affidavit) shows that petitioners or his family members were not present when physical possession was taken by UPFC. Therefore, contention of petitioners that no opportunity was given to clear dues is hyper technical objection considering facts, already discussed above, showing that repeated opportunity was given to petitioners to clear dues but it failed.

16. Annexure CA 9 to the counter affidavit sworn on 27.6.2003 filed by UPFC is a letter dated 17.12.1996 informing petitioners that cheque no.219562 drawn on Punjab National Bank, Belanganj, Agra on 30.11.1996 for Rs.60,000/- towards repayment of Term Loan was returned dishonored with the remark "insufficient funds' and petitioners were required to pay the said amount but nothing proceeded. Thereafter, a notice dated 10.02.1997 issued by Senior Manager (Technical) UPFC, (Annexure 10 to the writ petition), further shows demand of outstanding dues from petitioners as also inviting to submit proposal, if any, for repayment as Unit's physical possession would be taken on 25.02.1997 but nothing has been placed on record to show that in response thereof petitioners made payment of dues to UPFC. On the contrary, UPFC has filed petitioner-2's letter dated 15.6.1997 addressed to Senior Superintendent of Police, Agra, (Annexure CA-11 to counter affidavit) complaining that on 08.6.1997 petitioner-2 and his family members had gone out of station locking his House and Mill but when he returned, Mill was looted and possession was taken by third party who also threatened him. Another letter of petitioners dated 21.6.1997 is Annexure 12 to counter affidavit whereby petitioner-2 has informed Regional Manager that auction proposed on 26.6.1997 shows entire Unit but only 259.2 sq.m. is liable to be auctioned and rest area has no concerned with UPFC. Here also we do not find any objection raised by petitioner-2 for auction proposed by UPFC.

17. In the entirety of the facts and circumstances of this case we find that there was no honest and serious attempt on the part of petitioners to clear outstanding dues of loan amount as well as interest which admittedly was advanced to petitioners but default was committed in repayment thereof. The objections raised before this Court are hypertechnical, bereft of facts, which demonstrate that enough opportunity was given to petitioners to clear outstanding dues but failed. Principles of natural justice are not technically legal principle which can be attracted bereft of existence of good conscience, justice and equality. A person, who himself has committed repeated default and has not dealt with affairs in a bona fide and honest manner, cannot seek indulgence on a technical plea when repeated notices, opportunities have been given and the same have all failed. Application of natural justice is founded on the facts and where it is evident that enough opportunity has been given an ultimate action cannot said to be vitiated in law only on the ground that last notice has not given any further time though repeated time was already given.

18. Even authorities of Supreme Court are against petitioners. We may first refer to three Judges' decision of Supreme Court in Haryana Financial Corporation and Another vs. Jagdamba Oil Mills and another (2002) 3 SCC 496. M/s Jagdamba Oil Mills (hereinafter referred to as "JOM") a Partnership Firm was sanctioned a Term Loan of Rs.7,48,000/- by Haryana Financial Corporation (hereinafter referred to as "HFC") vide letter dated 19.10.1992. The loan was to be repaid in 8 years, which was to commence from the date of execution of mortgage deed. Payment schedule comprised of 15 half-yearly instalments. The repayment was to be commenced within 13 months from the first disbursement of the loan. The first 13 instalments of payment were to be of Rs.50,000/- each and remaining two instalments of Rs.49,000/- each, towards principal sum. Interest fell due, was to be paid with respective instalments of principal amount. JOM mortgaged its land, building and machinery in favour of HFC. Loan instalments were to be on the basis of securities created by borrowers and as and when enough securities were created, loan amount was to be disbursed. The first instalment of loan was disbursed on 25.02.1993 and last on 26.02.1994. Total loan availed by JOM was Rs.7.45 lakhs. The first instalment payable was for Rs.1,29,551/- (including principal and interest) on 01.03.1994 but JOM failed to deposit. It requested HFC to reschedule repayment. Request was accepted and reshedulement was done. Then instalment fell due on 01.09.1994 of Rs.1,24,409/-. Again there was a default. JOM again requested for reshedulement. Again it was accepted. However, again default was committed when first instalment of Rs.1,31,046/- fell due on 01.03.1995. Since JOM proved to be a chronic defaulter in making payment of instalments, HFC initiated action under Section 29 of State Financial Corporations Act, 951 (hereinafter referred to as "Act, 1951") after recalling loan under Section 30 of the said Act. Possession of Unit was taken by HFC. JOM instituted Civil Suit No.86 of 1995 in the Court of Civil Judge (Senior Division), Ambala, seeking a decree for permanent injunction restraining HFC and its functionaries from auctioning the Unit, which was seized. Suit was decreed by Trial Court on the ground that HFC did not give breathing to JOM and possession was taken within one year from the date of last instalment hence such action cannot be sustained. Trial Court relied on Supreme Court judgment in Mahesh Chandra vs. Regional Manager, U.P. Financial Corporation (supra). The First Appeal No.37 of 1998 filed by HFC was dismissed and it also failed before Punjab and Haryana High Court in Second Appeal hence matter came to Supreme Court.

19. Before Supreme Court, judgment in Mahesh Chandra (supra) was sought to be distinguished on the ground that facts of the case were different, inasmuch as JOM had already proved to be a chronic defaulter and in such as case no further opportunity was needed to the defaulting unit.

20. On behalf of HFC in fact argument was raised that decision in Mahesh Chandra (supra) required reconsideration in the light of later judgment of Supreme Court in U.P. Financial Corporation vs. Gem Cap (India) (P) Ltd. (1993) 2 SCC 299. Supreme Court considered the object of Act, 1951 and said that intention was that State Financial Corporations being instrumentality of the State deals with public money shall have approach of public-orientation. It can operate effectively if there is regular realization of the instalments. While Corporation is expected to act fairly in the matter of disbursement of loans, corresponding duty is cast upon borrowers to repay instalments in time, unless prevented by insurmountable difficulties. Regular payment is the rule and non-payment due to extenuating circumstances is exception. If repayment is not received as per scheduled time-frame, equilibrium of financial arrangements of Corporation would get disturbed. Corporation do not have at their disposal unlimited funds. They have to cater to the needs of intended borrowers with available funds. Non-payment of instalment by defaulter may create obstruction in financial assistance to be extended to deserving borrower by Corporation. A Corporation is not supposed to give loan and right it off as a bad debt and ultimately to go out of business. Court approved observations made in Gem Cap (India) (P) Ltd. (supra) that promotion of industrialization does not serve public interest if it is at the cost of public funds. It may amount to transferring public money to private account.

21. Guidelines issued in Mahesh Chandra (supra) before exercising power under Section 29 were reiterated in para 7 of judgment but Court in Haryana Financial Corporation Vs. Jagdamba Oil Mills (supra) also said that these guidelines were stated to be necessary to ensure fair play. That decision [Mahesh Chandra (supra)], was rendered in a case where borrower intended to repay the debt and was anxious to do so.

22. That was not the case either in Haryana Financial Corporation Vs. Jagdamba Oil Mills (supra) nor in the present case. Supreme Court in Haryana Financial Corporation Vs. Jagdamba Oil Mills (supra) further said that borrower cannot be insisted upon to honour commitments undertaken by him, Corporation alone cannot be shackled hand and foot in the name of fairness. One canMahesh Chandra (supra)Mahesh Chandra (supra)Mahesh Chandra (supra)Mahesh Chandra (supra)Mahesh Chandra (supra)Mahesh Chandra (supra)not lose sight that fairness cannot be a one-way street. Corporations borrow money from Government or other Financial Corporations and are required to pay interest thereon. Where borrower had no genuine intention to repay and adopts pretexts and ploys to avoid payment, such borrower cannot make grievance that Corporation was not acting fairly, even if requisite procedures have been followed. Fairness required of Corporations cannot be carried to the extent of disabling them from recovering what is due to it. Supreme Court further said :

"The Corporation is an independent autonomous statutory body having its own constitution and rules to abide by, and functions and obligations to discharge. As such in the discharge of its functions, it is free to act according to its own light. The views it forms and decisions it takes are on the basis of the information in its possession and the advice it receives and according to its own perspective and calculations. Unless its action is mala fide, even a wrong decision by it is not open to challenge. It is not for the courts or a third party to substitute its decision, however, more prudent, commercial or businesslike it may be, for the decision of the Corporation.

23. Relying on earlier decision in U.P. Financial Corpn. vs. Naini Oxygen & Acetylene Gas Ltd. (1995) 2 SCC 754 Court said that in commercial matters the courts should not risk their judgments for the judgments of bodies to whom that task is assigned. It also relied on another judgment in Karnataka State Financial Corpn. vs. Micro Cast Rubber & Allied Products (P) Ltd. (1996) 5 SCC 65 holding that for exercising power under Section 29, scope of judicial review is confined to two circumstances i.e. (a) where there is statutory violation on the part of State Financial Corporation, or (b) where State Financial Corporation acts unfairly i.e. unreasonably. Court very categorically said that High Court should not interfere with action under Section 29 of Act, 1951 unless aforesaid two situations exist.

24. Thereafter Court referred to guidelines referred in Mahesh Chandra (supra) and overruling the same, said in paras 17 and 18 as under :

"17. The aforesaid guidelines issued in Mahesh Chandra's case place unnecessary restrictions on the exercise of power by the Financial Corporation contained in Section 29 of the Act by requiring the defaulting unit holder to be associated or consulted at every stage in the sale of the property. A person who has defaulted is hardly ever likely to cooperate in the sale of his assets. The procedure indicated in Mahesh Chandra's case will only lead to further delay in realization of the dues by the Corporation by sale of assets. It is always expected that the Corporation will try and realize the maximum sale price by selling the assets by following a procedure which is transparent and acceptable, after due publicity, wherever possible.

18. The subsequent decisions of this Court in Gem Cap's (supra), Naini Oxygen (supra) and Micro Cast Rubber (supra) run counter to the view expressed in Mahesh Chandra's case. In our opinion, the issuance of the said guidelines in Mahesh Chandra's case are contrary to the letter and the intent of Section 29. In our view, the said observations in Mahesh Chandra's case do nMahesh Chandra (supra)Mahesh Chandra (supra)Mahesh Chandra (supra)Mahesh Chandra (supra)Mahesh Chandra (supra)Mahesh Chandra (supra)ot lay down the correct law and the said decision is overruled. "

25. The aforesaid decision, in our view, fortifies our approach and justify no interference in the light of facts of present case.

26. Subsequently, similar issue has been considered in Punjab Financial Corporation vs. Surya Auto Industries (2010) 1 SCC 297. Therein also for setting up an Industrial Unit in Gurdaspur (Punjab), Punjab Financial Corporation (hereinafter referred to as "PFC") sanctioned a term loan of Rs.24.25 lakhs to M/s Surya Auto Industries (hereinafter referred to as "SAI"). Loan was to be repaid with interest on specified dates but SAI failed to adhere to repayment schedule and till 2002 could deposit only Rs.2.70 lakhs. PFC then issued notice under Section 29 and took possession of Unit. Thereafter notices dated 02.12.2002, 03.03.2003, 30.05.2003 and 29.08.2003 were issued by PFC but SAI failed to pay outstanding dues. It also failed to avail concession offered by PFC for reschedulement reducing rate of interest. Consequently, PFC also issued notice under Section 29 of Act, 1951 for taking over collateral security. Challenging the said notice on the ground of violation of principles of natural justice, SAI filed Writ Petition No.11932 of 2007 in Punjab & Haryana High Court, which upholding the contention held that possession of mortgage property could not have been taken without giving reasonable time and opportunity for payment. Hence, writ petition was allowed and High Court set aside compounding of penal interest from 01.04.2003 i.e. after expirty of a period of six months from the date of taking over of SAI. Supreme Court in appeal preferred by PFC after noticing contradictory decisions in Mahesh Chandra (supra) and U.P. Financial Corpn. vs. Gem Cap (India) (P) Ltd. (supra) referred to Larger Bench judgment in Haryana Financial Corporation Vs. Jagdamba Oil Mills (supra) and following the same, in paras 21 and 22 of judgment in Punjab Financial Corporation vs. Surya Auto Industries (supra) said as under :

"21. The proposition of law which can be culled out from the decisions noted above is that even though the primary function of a corporation established under Section 3 of the Act is to promote small and medium industries in the State, but it is not obliged to revive and resurrect every sick industrial unit de hors the financial implications of such exercise The corporation is not supposed to give loans and refrain from taking action for recovery thereof. Being an instrumentality of the State, the corporation is expected to act fairly and reasonably qua its borrowers/ debtors, but it is not expected to flounder public money for promoting private interests.

22. The relationship between the corporation and borrower is that of creditor and debtor. The corporation is expected to recover the loans already given so that it can give fresh loans/financial assistance to Ors. The proceedings initiated by the corporation and action taken for recovery of the outstanding dues cannot be nullified by the Courts except when such action is found to be in violation of any statutory provision resulting in prejudice to the borrower or where such proceeding/ action is shown to be wholly arbitrary, unreasonable and unfair. The Court cannot sit as an appellate authority over the action of the corporation and substitute its decision for the one taken by the corporation. "

27. Having said so, Court held that PFC had acted in a most reasonable and fair manner and High Court was not justified in nullifying the second notice issued under Section 29 of Act, 1951 assuming that PFC had not taken effective steps for realization of dues in furtherance of first notice. Court said that High Court ignored conduct of borrower, who adopted a recalcitrant attitude in the matter of payment of outstanding dues, but also failed to avail concession offered by PFC by reducing rate of interest and reschedulement. It also held that High Court should not have reduced interest to simple interest, altering terms of loan agreement, which is not permissible.

28. Following decision in Haryana Financial Corporation Vs. Jagdamba Oil Mills (supra) Supreme Court in Managing Director, Maharashtra State Financial Corporation and others vs. Sanjay Shankarsa Mamarde (2010) 7 SCC 489 held that where borrower had no genuine intention to repay and adopts pretexts and ploys to avoid payment, he cannot make grievance that Corporation was not acting fairly, even if requisite procedures have been followed.

29. In these facts and circumstances we do not find any illegality on the part of UPFC in proceeding to take possession of petitioner's Unit in exercise of power under Section 29 of Act, 1951 and putting the Unit for auction.

30. Moreover, nothing has been placed by petitioners on record to show that there was any bona fide, willing buyer actually available to purchase Unit and its assets, for more than Rs.5 lakhs i.e. consideration whereupon it has been sold to respondent 6. In absence of any buyer offering higher price than that whereupon it has been sold to respondent 6, we find no reason to interfere with sale transaction of Unit in favour of respondent 6.

31. In the entirety of the facts and circumstances we find that petitioners have not approached this Court in a bona fide manner. It was financed by UPFC but committed repeated defaults in repayment. Despite demand and notices, petitioners made no attempt to clear outstanding dues. Several cheques issued by petitioners towards repayment of outstanding dues were dishonored. Even when One Time Settlement was accepted and Rehabilitation Committee of State Government made proposal to petitioners to deposit just 10 percent of the total outstanding dues, at that time i.e. Rs.1,40,000/-, vide letter dated 06.01.2001, still petitioners had no intention to pay the said amount and made no attempt to do so.

32. In these facts and circumstances, we do not find that petitioners are entitled to any relief and this is not a fit case justifying interference in extra ordinary equitable jurisdiction under Article 226 of Constitution. Writ petition lacks merit.

33. Dismissed.

34. Interim order, if any, stands vacated.

HELD-

A perusal of the order dated 20th July, 2009 further reveals that on the property in question there is only one tree of Neem and there is no finding on record to suggest that the property in question was being used for non-agricultural purposes. The order impugned has been passed on the presumption that the land in question has the potential of being used for nonagricultural purposes. (para 4) (E-9)

Cases cited:

1. Sarvoday Babu Uddeshiya Vikas Samiti v. Commissioner, Kanpur Division and Others; [2014(1) ADJ 415]

2. M/s Prosperous Buildcon Pvt. Ltd. v. State of U.P. and others, judgment dated 20.9.2017 passed in Writ-C No. 53008 of 2012.

3. M/s Prosperous Buildcon Pvt. Ltd. v. State of U.P. and others,

(Delivered by Hon'ble Pankaj Bhatia, J.)

1. Heard Sri Bharat Pratap Singh, counsel for the petitioner and Standing Counsel for the State-respondents.

2. The submission of the counsel for the petitioner is that the sale deed in question was executed on 22.7.2008 for an agricultural land. A perusal of the order dated 20th July, 2009 shows that the market value of the land has been assessed on non-agricultural basis only on the ground that there exists a textile mill known as Chhadha Spin Mill and opposite to the land of the petitioner, a petrol pump of Reliance is in operation and, therefore, it appeared that the property in question had commercial value and on that basis, the deficiency of stamp duty was assessed as Rs. 1,52,000/- and equal amount of penalty as Rs. 1,52,000/- was imposed total Rs. 3,05,000/-, which was directed to be paid along with interest at the rate of 1.5% per month in terms of the statutory provisions.

3. The counsel for the petitioner Sri Bharat Pratap Singh submits that in terms of the U.P. Stamp (Valuation of Property) Rules, 1997, only two kinds of property are described in Rule 3, which includes agricultural land as well as commercial land, for which the manner of prescribing the stamp duty is prescribed. He further submits that in the impugned order, there is no finding to the effect that the land in question is not an agricultural land and is being used as a non-agricultural land.

4. A perusal of the order dated 20th July, 2009 further reveals that on the property in question there is only one tree of Neem and there is no finding on record to suggest that the property in question was being used for non-agricultural purposes. The order impugned has been passed on the presumption that the land in question has the potential of being used for non-agricultural purposes. Thus, the sole question to be considered is whether deficiency in stamp duty can be assessed under Section 47-A of the Indian Stamp Act only on the ground that the land in question has the potential of being used for non-agricultural purposes.

5. Sri Bharat Pratap Singh has relied upon judgments of this Court in the cases of Sarvoday Babu Uddeshiya Vikas Samiti v. Commissioner, Kanpur Division and Others; [2014(1) ADJ 415] and M/s Prosperous Buildcon Pvt. Ltd. v. State of U.P. and others, judgment dated 20.9.2017 passed in Writ-C No. 53008 of 2012. He further drawn my attention to the report dated 16.9.2008, in which the Joint Registrar has observed that on the land in question, the crop was still standing, although the land in question can be used for commercial purposes.

6. This Court while considering the similar question in the case of M/s Prosperous Buildcon Pvt. Ltd. v. State of U.P. and others, recorded as under:-

"A Division Bench of this Court in 2015 (9) ADJ 503, Smt. Vijaya Jain vs. State of U.P. and Others has held in paragraphs 20 and 23 which read as under:

"20. Having extracted the relevant statutory provisions above, the following principles emerge therefrom. Sub-section (1) (a) of Section 47-A of the Act empowers the registering officer to call upon the person who has presented an instrument for registration to pay deficit stamp duty. This power is exercisable by the registering officer immediately after presentation of an instrument and before accepting it for registration and taking any action under Section 52 of the Act. This power is liable to be exercised in a situation where the market value of the property as set forth in the instrument is less than even the minimum value fixed by the Collector in accordance with the rules made under the Act. In distinction to the above, the power under sub-section (3) of Section 47-A is exercised by the Collector either suo motu or on a reference from any Court or from the Commissioner of Stamps or an Additional Commissioner of Stamps, Deputy Commissioner of Stamps, an Assistant Commissioner of Stamps or any officer authorized in that behalf by the State Government. This power confers jurisdiction and authority on the Collector to call for and examine any instrument for the purpose of satisfying himself as to the correctness of the market value of the property which forms the subject matter of the instrument and if upon such examination, he has reason to believe that the market value of such property has not been truly set forth in such instrument, he may proceed to determine the market value of such property and the duty payable thereon. The first distinguishing feature of sub section (3) is that it is available to be exercised even after the instrument has been registered. Secondly the Collector proceeds under sub section (3) upon finding that the "market value" of the property has not been truly set forth in the instrument as distinct from the "minimum value fixed by the Collector in accordance with the rules made under the Act" which is the benchmark for initiation of action under sub section (1).

23. From the provisions extracted above, it is apparent that the Collector proceeds under sub section (3) of Section 47-A read with rule 7 when he has reason to believe that the market value of the property comprised in the instrument has not been truly set forth and that in the opinion of the Collector, circumstances exist warranting him to undertake the enquiry contemplated under rule 7. What we however find from the notice dated 09 September 2013 is that the Collector has proceeded to record, albeit prima facie, that the instrument in question has been insufficiently stamped to the extent of Rs.8,89,000/-. The notice apart from referring to a note dated 20 May 2013, received from the Assistant Inspector General of Registration neither carries nor discloses any basis upon which the Collector came to the prima facie conclusion that the appellant was liable to pay Rs. 8,89,000/ as deficit stamp duty. In our opinion a notice of this nature must necessarily disclose to the person concerned the basis and the reasons upon which the Collector has come to form an opinion that the market value of the property has not been truly set forth. In the absence of a disclosure of even rudimentary details on the basis of which the Collector came to form this opinion, the person concerned has no inkling of the case that he has to meet. A notice in order to be legally valid and be in compliance with the principles of natural justice must necessarily disclose, though not in great detail, the case and the basis on which action is proposed to be taken against the person concerned. Not only this and as is evident from a bare reading of rule 7, at the stage of issuance of notice, the Collector has to proceed on the basis of material which may tend to indicate that the market value of the property has not been truly and faithfully disclosed in the instrument. The stage of computation of market value comes only after the provisions of sub rules (2) (3) and (4) of rule 7 come into play. At the stage of issuance of notices, the Collector calls upon the person concerned to show cause "as to why the market value of the property.... be not determined by him".

There is another aspect of the matter, which ought not to go un-mentioned, namely, the notice under Section 47-A (2) of the Act, 1899 refers to the potential value of the land as being more than the rates prescribed by the Collector for residential land. It is not denied by the authorities that the land in question was agricultural land but the authorities have proceeded for determining the stamp duty on a presumption that the said land has a potential of future user for residential purposes because the Village Shahpur Bamhaita, Pargana Dasna, District Ghaziabad has been declared as Hi-tech City and Integrated City. The Supreme Court and this Court have time and again held that the potential user of the property cannot be the determining factor for computing its market value or the consequent stamp duty payable thereon.

In (2012) 5 SCC 566, State of U.P. Vs. Ambrish Tandon and others, the Supreme Court has held that merely because the property is being used for commercial purposes at the later point of time may not be a relevant criterian for assessing the value for the purpose of the nature of user is relatable to the date of purchase and it is relevant for the purpose of calculation of stamp duty.

The judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of Ambrish Tandon (supra) has been followed by the Full Bench of this Court reported in 2015 (3) ADJ 136 (Smt. Pushpa Sareen Vs. State of U.P.) wherein the Full Bench has also held that the nature of the user is relatabe to the date of purchase which is relevant for the purposes of computing the stamp duty. Where however the potential of the land can be assessed on the date of execution of the instrument itself by referring to exemplar or comparable sale instances that is clearly a circumstances which is relevant and germane to determine the true market value. Paragraph 27 of the said judgement reads as under:

"27.The fact that the land was put to a particular use, say for instance a commercial purpose at a later point in time, may not be a relevant criterion for deciding the value for the purpose of stamp duty, as held by the Supreme Court in State of U.P. and others vs. 23 Ambrish Tandon and another, 2012 (5) SCC 566. This is because the nature of the user is relatable to the date of purchase which is relevant for the purpose of computing the stamp duty. Where, however, the potential of the land can be assessed on the date of the execution of the instrument itself, that is clearly a circumstance which is relevant and germane to the determination of the true market value. At the same time, the exercise before the Collector has to be based on adequate material and cannot be a matter of hypothesis or surmise. The Collector must have material on the record to the effect that there has been a change of use or other contemporaneous sale deeds in respect of the adjacent areas that would have a bearing on the market value of the property which is under consideration. The Collector, therefore, would be within jurisdiction in referring to exemplars or comparable sale instances which have a bearing on the true market value of the property which is required to be assessed. If the sale instances are comparable, they would also reflect the potentiality of the land which would be taken into consideration in a price agreed upon between a vendor and a purchaser."

A Division Bench of this Court in 2016 (2) ADJ 533 (DB) Sumati Nath Jain Vs. State of U.P. and another has held in paragraphs 18 and 19 as under:

"18. We may note that on the date of execution of the instrument the land was admittedly recorded as agricultural. In fact the Khasra of the property remained unchanged throughout and continued to represent the land as recorded for agricultural purposes. The respondents were in our opinion wholly unjustified in initiating proceedings based on an unsubstantiated assumption that the property in future was likely to be put to non-agricultural use.

19. The perceived or presumed use to which a buyer may put the property in the future can never be the basis for adjudging its value or determining the stamp duty payable. The Act, we may note is a fiscal statute. The taxable event with which it concerns itself is the execution of an instrument which is chargeable to duty. The levy under the statute gets attracted the moment an instrument is executed. These propositions clearly flow from a plain reading of the definition of the words "chargeable", "executed" and "instrument" as carried in the Act. In the case of an instrument which creates rights in respect of property and upon which duty is payable on the market value of the property comprised therein, since the tax liability gets fastened immediately upon execution it must necessarily be quantified on the date of execution. The levy of tax or its quantum cannot be left to depend upon hypothetical or imponderable facets or factors. The value of the property comprised in an instrument has to be adjudged bearing in mind its character and potentiality as on the date of execution of the instrument. For all the aforesaid reasons we fail to find the existence of the essential jurisdictional facts which may have warranted the invocation of the powers conferred by section 47A (3). We are therefore of the firm opinion that the initiation of proceedings as well as the impugned order based upon a presumed future use of the property for residential purposes was wholly without jurisdiction and clearly unsustainable. Dealing with this aspect of the matter and after noticing the consistent line of precedent on the subject the Division Bench in Smt Vijaya Jain observed: -

"This Court on more than one occasion has held that the market value of the land is not liable to be determined with reference to the use to which a buyer intends to put it in future. The market value of the property is to be determined with reference to its character on the date of execution of the instrument and its potentiality as on that date.

xxx xxx xxx

The above principles of law enunciated in the aforementioned judgments have been consistently followed by this Court. We however find that the order of the Collector relies upon no evidence which would support imposition of residential rates on a property which was stated to be agricultural on the date of execution of the instrument."

7. Further there is no document in the form of comparable sale deed of any property in the vicinity. It is well settled that the burden of proving that the market value of the property is more than that disclosed in the sale deed is to be discharged by the State, which the State has failed to discharge.

8. Considering and following the ratio of the judgments in the cases of Sarvoday Babu Uddeshiya Vikas Samiti (Supra) and M/s Prosperous Buildcon Pvt. Ltd. v. State of U.P. and others, I have no hesitation in holding that the order dated 20th July, 2009 deserves to be aside, as the same is based upon the view that the land in question has the potential to be used as a commercial land. Consequently, the appellate order dated 14.6.2010 also quashed. The amount deposited by the petitioner in terms of the order passed by this Court shall be refunded to the petitioner, along with interest at the rate of 8% per annum, within a period of four months from the date when an application is filed for refund of the same along with a certified copy of this order.

9. The writ petition is allowed in terms of the said order.

A. Eligibility/qualification - a person possessing Bachelor's degree in physical education is not eligible to be a Principal of an Intermediate College

The training qualification possessed by respondent no. 5 is not even a bachelor qualification in physical education but she possess an inferior qualification of diploma in physical education. Therefore, in light of the Full Bench decision in the case of Amal Kishore Singh Vs UOI she has no right to continue as a principal. (para 8 & 11)

B. Doctrine of necessity - handing over the charge of office of Principal can only be justified only as long as a qualified and eligible teacher is not available to be appointed as officiating principal

On the date of accrual of vacancy i.e., 30.06.2009 the petitioner was not eligible to officiate on the post of principal. It was in that context that a decision had to be taken by the Managing Committee to hand over the charge to someone of the office of principal as the office could not have been left vacant. The appointment of respondent no. 5, therefore, may be justified on the touchstone of doctrine of necessity but such continuance can be justified only so long as an eligible person is not eligible to function as the principal. (Delivered by Hon'ble Ashwani Kumar Mishra, J.)

1. Short question that arises for consideration in the facts of the present case is as to who would be eligible to officiate as Principal of the Institution concerned i.e. the petitioner or respondent No.5?

2. Jalaun Balika Inter college, Jalaun is a recognized institution under the provisions of U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921 and the provisions of Payment of Salaries Act, 1971 are also applicable upon the institution. The post of Principal fell vacant in the institution on 30.06.2009. An issue arose as to who would be entitled to officiate as principal and by the order impugned dated 16.05.2013, contained in Annexure No.9 to the writ petition, the District Inspector of Schools, Jalaun has accepted the candidature of respondent No.5 to officiate as principal, while denying petitioner's candidature primarily on the ground that on the date of accrual of vacancy, she was not eligible.

3. Qualification for appointment to the post of officiate principal is the same which is contemplated for a regular principal. Such qualification stands statutory prescribed in Appendix A to the Act of 1921 and is reproduced hereinafter:-

"APPENDIX- A

(In reference to Regulation 1 of Chapter II)

Minimum qualifications for Appointment of Head Master and Teachers in Private Recognised Higher Secondary Schools

1. Degree and diploma in the concerned subject of any University established or regulated by or under any Central Act, Provincial Act or State Act which is considered to be a University under Section 3 of the University Grants Commission Act, 1956, or of any such institution specially empowered by any Act of Parliament shall be recognised for the purpose of minimum qualifications prescribed under it.

2. Under it in reference to prescribed qualifications the word "trained" means post graduate training qualification such as L.T., B.T., B. Ed. S.C. or M. Ed. of any University or institution as specified in the earlier para or any equivalent (Degree or Diploma). It also includes departmental A.T.C. and C.T. with minimum teaching experience of 5 years'. J.T.C./B.T.C. Grade teacher shall also be considered to be. C.T. if he has worked in C.T. Notes: (1) Assistant teachers having at least second class postgraduate degree and specified teaching experience of ten years in Intermediate classes of a recognised institution may be exempted from training qualifications, (as per the provisions contained in the Act.)

(2) Teaching experience includes teaching prior to or after teaching or both.

(3) Higher classes means classes from 9 to 12 and experience of teaching these classes is admissible for the post of Head Master of Intermediate college."

4. The two contestants to the office are the petitioner and respondent No.5. Petitioner is a post graduate in Economics from the University of Allahabad. The post graduation has been completed by the petitioner on 30.05.2002. She has also acquired training qualification i.e. B.Ed. for which a certificate has been issued to her on 15.12.2010. It is not in issue that petitioner was appointed as lecturer in Economics in the institution concerned on 02.07.2003, after having being selected by the U.P. Secondary Education Service Selection Board. It is also not in dispute that she has been continuously working as a lecturer in the institution from 2003 on wards.

5. As against it, the 5th respondent is a post graduate in Sanskrit and has also obtained a certificate in Physical Education as also a Diploma in Physical Education. She appears to have been sanctioned lecturer's grade vide an order dated 23.06.2008, on the ground that she has completed 10 years teaching in Intermediate section. This benefit has been granted to her relying upon a Government Order dated 25.10.2000.

6. The District Inspector of Schools has examined the candidature of both the persons and has found that petitioner was not eligible to officiate as principal on the date of accrual of vacancy i.e. 30.06.2009. It has also been observed that respondent No.5 possess the requisite qualification for appointment to the post of principal, as she was placed in lecturer's grade in the year 2008 itself.

7. Before adverting to the rival claim of the two teachers, it would be worth noticing that a Full Bench of this Court in Special Appeal No. 1247 of 2013 (Amal Kishore Singh Vs. State of U.P. and others) had an occasion to examine the question whether a persons possessing Bachelor degree in physical education is qualified to be appointed as Principal in an recognised intermediate school. The matter was referred to larger Bench in light of a conflict opinion in two previous judgments of this Court. The Full Bench examined the relevant provisions of U.P. Secondary Education Service Selection Board Act, 1982 as also the Statutory Regulations framed by the NCTE and the question was ultimately answered in following terms by the Full Bench in para 47 and 48, which are reproduced hereinafter:-

"47. We, thus, answer question (i) in affirmative and question (iii) by holding that Vindhyachal Yadav does not lay down the correct law. However, question (ii) has to be answered, subject to certain riders. A B.P.Ed. degree being a post graduate training qualification, would entitle a person to hold post of Headmaster of a recognised High School but not that of Principal of an Intermediate college. The reason is that under Regulations, 2001 as well as under Minimum Qualification Regulations, 2014 framed by NCTE, B.P.Ed. is recognised as eligibility qualification for teaching Classes IX - X (Secondary/ High School) but not for Classes XI - XII (Senior Secondary/Intermediate). For teaching Intermediate classes, the person should possess M.P.Ed. degree of at least two years duration from any National Council for Teacher Education recognised institution. These regulations do not prescribe any separate qualification for Head of institution and thus the qualification prescribed for a teacher of Intermediate classes (Senior-Secondary) would also apply to Head of such an institution. We have already held above that the qualifications prescribed by NCTE would be binding on the State, therefore, the qualifications prescribed by Minimum Qualification Regulations, 2014 have to be read alongwith Appendix-A and thus, a teacher possessing B.P.Ed. degree, would not be eligible to hold post of Principal of an Intermediate College.

48. We, thus, reply to question (ii) by holding that a teacher in physical education having B.P.Ed. degree is eligible to be appointed as Headmaster of a High School, but not as Principal of an Intermediate college."

8. B.P.Ed. qualification has, therefore, not been found to be a valid training qualification of appointment to the post of Principal in an intermediate institution. The training qualification possessed by respondent No.5 is not a bachelor qualification in physical education but she possess an inferior qualification of diploma in physical education. In view of the authoritative pronouncement of law by the Full Bench in Amal Kishore Singh (Supra) a person who possess diploma in physical education cannot be treated as a trained person for the purposes of appointment to the post of principal in a recognized intermediate institution.

9. It is also not in issue that petitioner did not posses requisite qualification for appointment to the post of principal on the date of accrual of vacancy i.e. 30.06.2009. The training qualification has been obtained by the petitioner only later in December, 2010. She was otherwise having the qualification of 4 year teaching in classes 9 to 12 having been appointed a lecturer in Economics in 2003. After the training qualification has been obtained by the petitioner she, therefore, becomes eligible for officiating on the post of principal.

10. On the date of accrual of vacancy i.e. 30.06.2009 the petitioner was not eligible to officiate on the post of principal. It was in that context that a decision had to be taken by the Managing Committee to hand over charge to someone of the office of principal as the office could not have been left vacant. The appointment of respondent No.5, therefore, may be justified on the touchstone of doctrine of necessity but such continuance can be justified only so long as an eligible person is not available to function as the principal. This Court in Smt. Hemlata Rajput Vs. State of U.P. and others 2019 (9) ADJ 93; had an occasion to examine the issue in somewhat similar circumstances where none of the teacher was found eligible for appointment to the post of principal when such office fell vacant. The principal of doctrine of necessity in such an even has been pressed into service by this Court. It has, however, been observed that such necessity would continue only as long as a qualified and eligible teacher is not available to be appointed as officiating principal. Paragraph 18 to 21 of the judgment in Smt. Hemlata Rajput (supra) is extracted hereinafter:-

18. On the date of occurrence of vacancy on the post of Principal in the Institution concerned neither the petitioner nor the respondent possessed eligibility in terms of Appendix-A. In the absence of availability of eligible teacher who could be appointed as Principal in the Institution it would become inevitable for the Institution to appoint someone as the Officiating Principal even though such incumbent may not possess requisite eligibility. Doctrine of necessity would therefore be attracted to deal with such a scenario.

19. The doctrine of necessity has been examined by this Court in Committee of Management, S.G.M. Inter College, Khairgarh, District Firozabad (supra). Para 20 of the judgment examines the doctrine and is reproduced hereinafter:-

"20. Doctrine of necessity has been subject matter of consideration in the case of Election Commission of India and another Vs. Dr. Subramaniam Swamy and another (1996) 4 SCC 104 wherein view has been taken that law permits certain things to be done as a matter of necessity, if the choice is between allowing a biased person is applied to act or to stifle the action altogether the choice must fall in favour of the dormer as it is the only way to promote decision making. Apex Court in the case of State of U.P. Vs. S.S.L. Srivastava 2006 (3) SCC 276, has taken the view that where doctrine of necessity is applicable compliance with principle of natural justice would be excluded. Apex Court in the case of Lalit Kumar Modi Vs. BCCI 2011 (10) SCC 106, took the view that doctrine of necessity is common law doctrine and is applied to tide over the situation when there are difficulties as law does not contemplate a vacuum, and a solution has to be found out rather than allowing the problem to boil over. Said judgment have been given pressing the doctrine of necessity as an exception to the rule against the doctrine of bias. Said doctrine of necessity in Principle can also be pressed into service to tide over the situation, where statutory provisions are being breached, i.e. where choice is to be made between an eligible and ineligible person, and a solution has to be found out rather than allowing the illegality to perpetuate."

20. Continuance of respondent as the Principal on officiating basis even without possessing essential eligibility would have to be endorsed by applying the doctrine of necessity. During first stage the petitioner had otherwise conveyed her reluctance to officiate as Principal of the Institution. The respondent in such circumstances if has worked as Officiating Principal then no exception can be taken to it and she would be entitled to payment of salary for the post of Principal in the first stage of controversy.

21. The doctrine of necessity, however, would no longer be available once an eligible teacher is available to officiate as the Principal in the Institution. Petitioner admittedly was appointed as Lecturer after she was selected by the Board on 4.7.2003. The qualification required for appointment to the post of Principal would include ten years teaching experience on the post of Lecturer. This experience of ten years is acquired by the petitioner on 4.7.2013. The records further reveal that the Committee of Management of the Institution concerned has also taken a decision on 24.8.2013 to appoint the petitioner as the Principal of the Institution. The doctrine of necessity, therefore, cannot extend beyond 24.8.2013, inasmuch as the competent authority i.e. the Committee of Management had acted in accordance with Section 18 of the Act of 1982 in appointing the senior most eligible teacher as Officiating Principal."

11. Applying the principle laid down in the case of Smt. Hemlata Rajput (supra), this court finds that the District Inspector of Schools, Jalaun was not justified in rejecting candidature of petitioner to officiate as principal of the institution concerned merely for the reason that on the date of accrual of vacancy the petitioner was not eligible to be appointed as principal. Respondent No.5 since has been to found not to be possessing requisite qualification to be appointed as officiating principal in light of the Full Bench Judgmet of this Court in the case of Amal Kishore Singh (supra), she has no right to continue as principal any further. The order impugned dated 16.05.2013, therefore, cannot be sustained and is set aside.

12. The District Inspector of Schools is directed to pass a fresh order in light of the observation made above, for the senior most eligible person to be allowed to officiate as principal of the institution so long as a regularly recruited Principal is not made available by the Commission. As the petitioner is not disputed to be the senior most lecturer in the institution, she would have the right to officiate as such. A seniority list has been annexed by the Committee of Management along with its counter affidavit in which the name of petitioner is not shown at Serial 1. It is, however, pointed out that all persons senior to her have already retired. The respondent No.5, who is shown to be senior to petitioner cannot be considered for appointment in view of the ratio laid down by Full Bench in the case of Amal Kishore Singh (supra). Although learned counsel for the Managing Committee states that work and conduct of the petitioner is not up to the mark but it is not disputed that no disciplinary action has ever been instituted or is pending against her.

13. It is further worth noticing that in respect of petitioner's working as lecturer for the last more than 15 years there has never been any disciplinary action and she is yet to officiate as principal. The opposition to petitioner's claim on account of none satisfactory work, therefore, cannot be accepted. In such circumstances petitioner's claim will not be overlooked merely for the reason that her work and performance is not satisfactory.

14. However, as law with regard to right of a teacher who possess training qualification in physical education was not clear and the issue has been resolved only in October, 2018 by the Larger Bench in Amal Kishore Singh (supra) and the 5th respondent has otherwise worked as officiating principal, the salary already paid to her for the post of officiating principal shall not be recovered from her. The petitioner would be entitled to salary for the post of officiating principal in accordance with the provisions of Section 18(2) of the U.P. Secondary Education Service Selection Board Act, 1982.

2. Necessary requirement to invoke Section 20(2)(a) of U.P. Act No. 13 of 1972 is the main question involved in the present petition.

Facts

3. Undisputably, the plaintiff - respondent is the owner and landlord of the disputed shop of which the defendant - petitioner is the tenant at a monthly rent of Rs. 200/- since 15.10.1982. The plaintiff - respondent filed a P.A. Case No. 03 of 2001 (Sashi Bhushan Agarwal Vs. Nand Lal Keshari) under Section 21(1)(a) of U.P. Act No. 13 of 1972 which was dismissed by the Prescribed Authority / Civil Judge (Junior Division), East, Ballia on 28.2.2007 on the ground that the plaintiff - respondent failed to prove his bonafide need for the disputed shop. The said order of the Prescribed Authority has attained finality.

4. Subsequently, the plaintiff - respondent issued a notice dated 13.5.2014 by registered post to the defendant / tenant / petitioner for eviction of the disputed shop on the ground of default in payment of rent since 1.7.2011. This notice was served upon the defendant - petitioner by refusal on 16.5.2014. Since, the arrears of rent as demanded was not paid by the defendant - petitioner, therefore, the plaintiff / landlord / respondent filed SCC Suit No. 03 of 2014 which has been decreed by the impugned judgment dated 5.2.2019 passed by the Court of Civil Judge (Senior Division), Ballia. Aggrieved with this judgment, the defendant / tenant / petitioner filed SCC Revision No. 01 of 2019 which has been dismissed by the impugned judgment dated 29.7.2019 passed by the Court of District Judge, Ballia. Aggrieved with these two judgments, the defendant / tenant / petitioner has filed the present petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India.

Submissions

5. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits as under:-

(i) Since, the plaintiff - respondent refused to accept the rent from July 2011, therefore the defendant / tenant / petitioner started depositing it in Misc. Case No. 65 of 2011 under Section 30(1) of the U.P. Act No. 13 of 1972. He deposited the rent in that Misc. Case for the period till March, 2014.

(ii) Thus, as on the date of notice i.e. 13.5.2014, the rent for four months was not in arrears, inasmuch as the rent upto the period March, 2014 was deposited under Section 30(1) of the Act. Therefore, the notice determining the tenancy on account of default in payment of rent invoking the provisions of Section 20(2)(a) was itself bad. of law to hold that the defendant / tenant / petitioner defaulted in payment of rent and was liable to eviction on the ground mentioned in Section 20(2)(a) of the Act.

(iii) Under the facts and circumstances, both the Courts have committed a manifest error of law to hold that the defendant / tenant / petitioner defaulted in payment of rent and was liable to eviction on the ground mentioned in Section 20(2)(a) of the Act.

(iv) Apart from above, the defendant - tenant deposited the entire amount pursuant to the order of the Judge, Small Cause Court dated 4.4.2018 passed on application for deposit dated 25.2.2015. Therefore, the defendant / tenant / petitioner is entitled for the benefit of Section 20(4) of the U.P. Act No. 13 of 1972.

6. In support of his submission, learned counsel for the defendant - petitioner has relied upon a judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court in Harcharan Singh Vs. Smt. Shivrani & others) 1981 (2) SCC 535 (paragraphs 23 to 31) .

7. Learned counsel for the plaintiff - respondent submits as under:-

(i) The plaintiff - respondent supports the impugned judgments. The rent deposited by the defendant / tenant under Section 30(1) of the Act is not a valid deposit as both the Courts below have found that the plaintiff - respondent has not refused to accept the rent for the months of July and August, 2011.

(ii) The defendant / tenant / petitioner completely failed to establish refusal by the plaintiff - respondent to receive the rent. That a part, the aforesaid Misc. Case No. 65 of 2011 was dismissed for non prosecution on 1.2.2014. The restoration application being Misc. Case No. 17 of 2014 was also rejected on 17.2.2017 by the concerned Court. The notice for default in payment of rent was issued by the plaintiff - respondent on 13.5.2014 which was served on 16.5.2014 and the SCC Suit was filed on 7.7.2014. Thus, as on the date of notice, the defendant / tenant / petitioner was in arrears of rent since July, 2011.

8. In support of her submission, she relied upon a judgment of this Court in Arun Kumar & others Vs. Thakur Ji Maharaj 2001 (43) AllLR, 74 (paragraph 6) and another judgment of this Court dated 30.8.2017 in Matters Under Article 227 Number 4290 of 2017 (Smt. Kalawati Vs. Deen Dayal Sharma Paragraphs 7 & 17).

Discussion and Findings

9. Section 20(2)(a) of the U.P. Act No. 13 of 1972 provides as under:-

"A suit for the eviction of a tenant from a building after the determination of his tenancy may be instituted on one or more of the following grounds, namely:

(a) that the tenant is in arrears of rent for not less than four months, and has failed to pay the same to the landlord within one month from the date of service upon him of a notice of demand:

Provided that in relation to a tenant who is a member of the armed forces of the Union and in whose favour the prescribed authority under the Indian Soldiers (Litigation) Act, 1925 (Act No. IV of 1925), has issued a certificate that he is serving under special conditions within the meaning of Section 3 of that Act or where he has died by enemy action while so serving, then in relation to his heirs, the words "four months" in this clause shall be deemed to have been substituted by the words "one year"."

10. Thus as per aforequoted provisions of Section 20(2)(a) of the U.P. Act No. 13 of 1972, a landlord acquires right to institute a suit for eviction of a tenant from a building after determination of his tenancy if the tenant is in arrears of rent for not less than four months, and has failed to pay the same to the landlord within one month from the date of service upon him of a notice of demand. Thus to institute a suit on the ground of eviction as provided in clause (a) of sub-section 2 of Section 20, there are two mandatory requirements which both have to be fulfilled: (i) the tenant is in arrears of rent for not less than four months (ii) the tenant has failed to pay the said arrears to the landlord within one month from the date of service upon him of a notice of demand.

11. Undisputably, the SCC Suit No. 03 of 2014 was filed by the plaintiff - respondent on 7.7.2014 for eviction of the petitioner - tenant on the ground under Section 20(2)(a) of the U.P. Act No. 13 of 1972. At internal pages 10 & 11 of the impugned judgment dated 29.7.2019 in SCC Revision No.01 of 2019 passed by the District Judge, Ballia, it has been mentioned that the petitioner - tenant filed receipts of rent deposit in Misc. Case No. 65 of 2011 for the period from July 2011 to March 2014. This, deposit of rent in Misc. Case No. 65 of 2011 for the period from July 2011 to March 2014 is undisputed.

12. The aforesaid Misc. Case No. 65 of 2011 was dismissed for non prosecution on 1.2.2014. A restoration application being Misc. Case No. 17 of 2014 was filed by the petitioner - tenant in which the plaintiff - respondent has filed an objection on 31.1.2015 mentioning the institution of SCC Suit No. 03 of 2014. Thus, the plaintiff - respondent was well aware of the fact that rent was being deposited by the petitioner - tenant in Misc. Case No. 65 of 2011 and rent for the period from July 2011 to March 2014 was deposited in the said Misc. Case.

13. According to the plaintiff - respondent, the notice for eviction was sent by him to the petitioner - tenant on 13.5.2014 which is said to have been served upon the petitioner - tenant by refusal. It is undisputed that in SCC Suit No. 03 of 2014, the petitioner - tenant, on the first date of hearing i.e. 25.2.2015, filed an application / representation 15-Ga2 under Order 15 Rule 5 CPC for depositing the entire amount of rent and the said application was allowed by the Civil Judge (Senior Division), Ballia by order dated 4.4.2018 and the entire amount of rent for the period from April 2014 to March 2018 was deposited by the petitioner - tenant with interest @ 9% within the time granted by the Court of Civil Judge (Senior Division), Ballia.

14. From the facts mentioned above, it was well proved by the petitioner - tenant that as on the date of institution of SCC Suit No. 03 of 2014 i.e. on 7.7.2014, the rent stood deposited upto the month of March 2014 in Misc. Case No. 65 of 2011. Thus, as on the date of institution of SCC Suit No. 03 of 2014 on the ground mentioned in clause (a) of sub-section 2 of Section 20 of the U.P. Act No. 13 of 1972, the petitioner - tenant was not in arrears of rent for a period of four months or more. Therefore, the suit itself was not maintainable. The findings recorded by both the Courts below on the point of default in payment of arrears of rent for more than four months as on the date of institution of the SCC Suit No. 03 of 2014, is perverse and contrary to evidences on record.

15. In Mahmood Khan Vs. IIIrd Additional District Judge, Ballia & others (1983) 2 ARC 198 (paragraphs 3 & 4), a Bench of this Court held as under:-

"3. Having heard learned counsel for the parties, I am of the opinion that the impugned order is manifestly unsustainable in law. As mentioned above, the revisional court has found the petitioner to be in arrears only in respect of one month i.e. July, 1977. That being so it is obvious that the petitioner was not in arrears for more than four months when the notice of demand dated 10.1.1977 was served on him on 11.1.1977. Section 20(2)(a) was hence entirely inapplicable even on the facts found by the revisional court.

4.Coming to the submission made by the learned counsel for the landlord I find that there is a fallacy in this contention. The default contemplated under Section 20(2)(a) should be in regard to rent for a period of not less than four months. The provision does not say that even if the tenant is in arrears of rent for less than four months he would be liable to be evicted under it on the mere ground that default had continued for more than four months. There is, therefore, no substance in this submission made by the learned counsel for the respondents." (emphasis supplied)

16. In Ram Singh Vs. Abdul Majeed (2014) 1 ARC 368 (paragraphs 3, 4 & 5), a Bench of this Court held as under:-

"3. he approach of Revisional Court is clearly erroneous. The issue was not with respect to benefit of Section 20 (4) of Act, 1972, but it was whether there was any default on the part of petitioner. When petitioner has validly deposited rent in the Court under Section 30 (1) of Act, 1972, the law presumes that such deposit amounts to payment of rent to landlord and that being so, there was no default on the part of petitioner. Hence, SCC Suit itself, for ejectment of petitioner, was not maintainable on the ground of default in payment of rent under Section 20 (2) (a) of Act, 1972. The question of benefit of Section 20 (4) of Act, 1972 does not arise.

4. It is not in dispute that both the Courts below have concurrently held that the monthly rent of accommodation in question was Rs. 40/- and upto December, 1999 it was regularly deposited in the Court under Section 30 (1) of Act, 1972. In view thereof, the judgment of Revisional Court cannot sustain.

5. The writ petition is allowed. Impugned order of Revisional Court dated 18.11.2005 is hereby set aside and the Trial Court's judgment dated 28.8.1998 is hereby restored and confirmed."

(emphasis supplied)

17. In Dr. Babu Ram Sharma Vs. IVth Additional District Judge, Saharanpur & others (2006) 2 ARC 239 and Noor Mohd. & another Vs. IVth Additional District Judge, Kanpur Nagar & others (2006) 1 ARC 550, this Court again took the view that when the entire rent due till the date of notice had already been validly deposited under Section 30 of the Act, the notice of demand was bad in law, and therefore, since at the time of notice, tenants were not defaulter in payment of rent for four months or more, the Suit filed on the ground of default was liable to be dismissed. It was held that the Suit for eviction was not maintainable as at the time of notice, the tenant was not defaulter since he had already validly deposited the rent under Section 30 of the Act. It was further held that under the circumstances, the Suit was not maintainable under Section 20(2)(a) of the Act.

18. Learned counsel for the plaintiff - respondent has relied upon a judgment of this Court in Vinay Kumar Agarwal Vs. 17th Additional District Judge, Allahabad (2001) (43) AllLR 700. This judgment does not support the case of the plaintiff-respondent rather it supports the case of the petitioner - tenant. In paragraph 11 of the said judgment, in the case of Vinay Kumar Agarwal (supra), this Court held as under:-

"11. Section 20 (2) (a) of the Act clearly provides that a suit for eviction of a tenant can be filed if the tenant is in arrears of rent for not less than four months and has failed to pay the same to the landlord within one month from the date of service upon him of a notice of demand. Notice of demand will be invalid and could not be considered to be a notice of demand under the said provision if the tenant was not in arrears of rent for more than four months. The tenant could not be held to be a defaulter in the eye of law if he was not in arrears of rent for more than four months on the date of the notice."

19. The judgments of this Court in the case of Arun Kumar & others Vs. Thakurji Maharaj (2001) (43) AllLR 74, Mohammad Azim & another Vs. Gopal Singh (2013) (1) AWC 1023, Ram Kumar Singh Vs. IIIrd Additional District Judge, Ghaziabad (2003) 1 ARC 294, Haider Abbas Vs. Additional District Judge & others in Writ Petition No. 43734 of 2001 decided on 30.11.2005 and the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court in Atma Ram Vs. Shakuntala Rani (2005) 7 SCC 211 relating to Delhi Rent Control Act are distinguishable on facts of the present case. The aforesaid judgments relied upon by the plaintiff - respondent are not on the point of necessary requirement of the ground of eviction under Section 20(2)(a) of the U.P. Act No. 13 of 1972. The relevant judgments as well as the provisions itself, have been well discussed by me in preceding paragraphs.

20. The default contemplated under Section 20(2)(a) should be in regard to rent for a period of not less than four months. The provision does not say that even if the tenant is in arrears of rent for less than four months he would be liable to be evicted under it on the mere ground that default had continued for more than four months. Even notice of demand will be invalid and could not be considered to be a notice of demand under the said provision if the tenant was not in arrears of rent for more than four months.

21. When petitioner has validly deposited rent in the Court under Section 30 (1) of Act, 1972, the law presumes that such deposit amounts to payment of rent to landlord and that being so, there was no default on the part of petitioner. Hence, SCC Suit itself, for ejectment of petitioner, was not maintainable on the ground of default in payment of rent under Section 20 (2) (a) of Act, 1972.

22. For all the reasons aforestated, I hold that the findings recorded by the Courts below for arrears of rent for more than four months as on the date of institution of SCC Suit No. 03 of 2014, is perverse and contrary to the documentary evidences on record. A suit / case on the ground mentioned in Section 20(2)(a) of the U.P. Act No. 13 of 1972 for eviction of a tenant from a building after the determination of his tenancy may be instituted if the tenant is in arrears of rent for not less than four months, and has failed to pay the same to the landlord within one month from the date of service upon him of a notice of demand. Since, admittedly the rent was deposited upto the month of March 2014 and the SCC Suit No. 03 of 2014 was instituted on 7.7.2014, therefore, the petitioner - tenant was not in arrears of rent for four months or more as on the date of institution of the Suit. Therefore, the suit itself was not maintainable.

23. For all the reasons aforestated, the impugned judgments and decree dated 5.2.2019 in SCC Suit No. 03 of 2014 passed by the Court of Civil Judge (Senior Division), Ballia and the impugned judgment dated 29.7.2019 in SCC Revision No. 01 of 2019 passed by the Court of District Judge, Ballia are hereby set aside. The writ petition is allowed.

24. The SCC Suit No. 03 of 2014 is dismissed. No order as to costs.

Sita Devi D/o Late Hari Shankar Dubey and respondent no.2 both submitted their separate applications before A.D.O. Panchayat, Deoria for recording their names as legal heir and representatives in the Kutumb Register. In pursuance of aforesaid applications, A.D.O. Panchayat had called a meeting of villagers on 27.09.2002 in which 32 villagers including petitioner and Gram Pradhan were given their statements that Smt. Sita is the daughter of Late Subhwanti and Late Hari Shankar Dubey and no one has given statement in favour of respondent no.2. On the basis of aforesaid statements, the A.D.O. Panchayat has passed an order dated 29.01.2003 in favour of Smt. Sita. An objection was filed by the respondent no.2 against the order dated 29.1.2003 passed by the A.D.O. Panchayat, which was set aside by the Superior Authority and litigation is pending between the parties. Thereafter, respondent no.2 has lodged an FIR dated 19.02.2005, which was registered as Case Crime No.10 of 2005, under Section 419, 420 & 471 IPC against the two persons, namely Shashi Kant Pandey (A.D.O. Panchayat) and Prem Chandra Srivastava (Gram Panchayat Adhikari). After investigation, Investigating Officer has submitted final report on 2.7.2006. Against the final report, respondent no. 2 has filed a protest petition on 4.7.2007 without mentioning the name of petitioner. The statement of respondent no.2 was recorded under section 200 Cr.P.C., in which for the first time he disclosed the name of petitioner. After perusing the documentary evidence, Court below rejected the complaint under Section 203 Cr.P.C. vide order dated 25.08.2008. Against the said order, respondent no.2 has filed a revision before the Revisional Court and Revisional Court has passed an order dated 13.8.2009 without giving opportunity of hearing to the petitioner and remanded the matter back to the trial Court. In pursuance of the order dated 13.8.2019 passed by Revisional Court, the trial Court without applying its mind summoned the petitioner alongwith other co-accused under Section 419, 420, 467, 468 and 471 IPC vide order dated 23.11.2010. Against which, petitioner has approached this Court by filing Application U/S 482 No. 13098 of 2011 in which this Court has directed the petitioner to move discharge application under Section 245(2) Cr.P.C. before the Court below. In pursuance of the said order, petitioner has moved an application under Section 245(2) Cr.P.C. before the Court below, which was partly allowed by setting aside the order dated 23.11.2010 as well as bailable warrant order dated 15.03.2011, but learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Court No.17 Deoria has summoned the petitioner under Section 177 IPC vide order dated 28.10.2015, which is under challenge in this petition.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that summoning order under Section 177 IPC can only be issued in case of filing of written complaint by a public servant and if it has been filed by private person, cognizance is barred under Section 195(1)(a)(i) of Cr.P.C. He next submitted that undisputedly the respondent nos. 2 is a private person, therefore, on any complaint made by him, no summoning order can be issued for an offence under Section 177 IPC.

5. In support of his contention, he has placed reliance upon the judgment of Apex Court as well as this Court and Madhya Pradesh High Court in the cases of Kailash Mangal Vs. Ramesh Chand reported in 2015 LawSuit (SC) 251, Prashant Chauhan S/O Ms Chauhan Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh reported in 2014 LawSuit(MP) 199 and Smt. Minakshi Sonkar Shastri Vs. State of U.P. and another decided on 10th November, 2014.

6. Sri Pramod Kumar, learned counsel for the respondent no.2 has fairly not disputed the factual and legal positions raised by the learned counsel for the petitioner.

7. I have considered the rival submissions made by the learned counsel for the parties, perused the summoning order dated 28.10.2015 as well as provisions of Section 177 of IPC & Section 195(1)(a)(i) of Cr.P.C and judgments relied upon.

8. Section 177 of IPC as well as Section 195(1)(a)(i) of Cr.P.C. is being quoted hereinbelow:-

Section 177 IPC

"Furnishing false information.-- Whoever, being legally bound to furnish information on any subject to any public servant, as such, furnishes, as true, information on the subject which he knows or has reason to believe to be false, shall be punished with simple imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both; or, if the information which he is legally bound to give respects the commission of an offence, or is required for the purpose of preventing the commission of an offence, or in order to the apprehension of an offender, with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both.

Section 195 (1)(a)(i) Cr.P.C.

"Prosecution for contempt of lawful authority of public servants, for offences against public justice and for offences relating to documents given in evidence.- No Court shall take cognizance-

(a) (i) of any offence punishable under Section 172 to 188 (both inclusive) of the Indian Penal Code (45 of 1860) or..."

9. By perusal of provision of Section 177 IPC as well as Section 195(1)(a)(i) of Cr.P.C., it is very much clear that summoning order can be issued under Section 195(1)(a)(i) for an offence under Section 177 IPC only in case complaint is filed by a public servant and in the present case undisputedly the complaint has been filed by opposite party no.2, who is private person, therefore, summoning order is not sustainable. Further judgment of Apex Court in the case of Kailash Mangal (supra) has taken the same view. Relevant paragraph no.8 of judgment of Kailash Mangal (supra) is being quoted hereinbelow:-

"8. We may usefully refer to the judgment of this court reported in the case of C. Muniappan in which case the scope of Section 195(1)(a)(i) of the Code of Criminal Procedure was discussed at length. Relevant para Nos. 28 to 33 are extracted hereunder:

"28. Section 195(1)(a)(i) Cr.PC bars the court from taking cognizance of any offence punishable under Section 188 IPC or abetment or attempt to commit the same, unless, there is a written complaint by the public servant concerned for contempt of his lawful order. The object of this provision is to provide for a particular procedure in a case of contempt of the lawful authority of the public servant. The court lacks competence to take cognizance in certain types of offences enumerated therein. The legislative intent behind such a provision has been that an individual should not face criminal prosecution instituted upon insufficient grounds by persons actuated by malice, ill-will or frivolity of disposition and to save the time of the criminal courts being wasted by endless. This provision has been carved out as an exception to the general rule contained under Section 190 Cr.PC that any person can set the law in motion by making a complaint, as it prohibits the court from taking cognizance of certain offences until and unless a complaint has been made by some particular authority or person. Other provisions in the Cr.P.C. like sections 196 and 198 do not lay down any rule of procedure, rather, they only create a bar that unless some requirements are complied with, the court shall not take cognizance of an offence described in those Sections. (vide Govind Mehta v. The State of Bihar, 1971 3 SCC 329; Patel Laljibhai Somabhai v. The State of Gujarat, 1971 2 SCC 376; Surjit Singh & Ors. v. Balbir Singh, (1996) 3 SCC 533; State of Punjab v. Raj Singh & Anr., (1998) 2 SCC 391; 2 K Vengadachalam v. K.C. Palanisamy 7 Ors., (2005) 7 SCC 352; and Iqbal Singh Marwah & Anr. v. Meenakshi Marwah & Anr., AIR 2005 SC 370).

29. The test of whether there is evasion or non- compliance of Section 195 Cr.PC or not, is whether the facts disclose primarily and essentially an offence for which a complaint of the court or of a public servant is required. In Basir-ul-Haq & Ors. v. The State of West Bengal, AIR 1953 SC 293; and Durgacharan Naik & Ors. v. State of Orissa, AIR 1966 SC 1775, this Court held that the provisions of this Section cannot be evaded by describing the offence as one being punishable under some other sections of IPC, though in truth and substance, the offence falls in a category mentioned in Section 195 Cr.PC. Thus, cognizance of such an offence cannot be taken by mis-describing it or by putting a wrong label on it.

30. In M.S. Ahlawat v. State of Haryana & Anr., AIR 2000 SC 168, this Court considered the matter at length and held as under :

"....Provisions of Section 195 CrPC are mandatory and no court has jurisdiction to take cognizance of any of the offences mentioned therein unless there is a complaint in writing as required under that section."

31. In Sachida Nand Singh & Anr. State of Bihar 7 Anr., (1998) 2 SCC 493, this Court while dealing with this issue observed as under :

"7..... Section 190 of the Code empowers "any magistrate of the first class" to take cognizance of "any offence" upon receiving a complaint, or police report or information or upon his own knowledge. Section 195 restricts such general powers of the magistrate, and the general right of a person to move the court with a complaint to that extent curtailed. It is a well-recognised canon of interpretation that provision curbing the general jurisdiction of the court must normally receive strict interpretation unless the statute or the context requires otherwise."

32. In Daulat Ram v. State of Punjab, AIR 1962 SC 1206, this Court considered the nature of the provisions of Section 195 Cr.PC. In the said case, cognizance had been taken on the police report by the Magistrate and the appellant therein had been tried and convicted, though the concerned public servant, the Tahsildar had not filed any complaint. This Court held as under :

"4....The cognizance of the case was therefore wrongly assumed by the court without the complaint in writing of the public servant, namely, the Tahsildar in this case. The trial was thus without jurisdiction ab initio and the conviction cannot be maintained.

5....The appeal is, therefore, allowed and the conviction of the appellant and the sentence passed on him are set aside."

33. Thus, in view of the above, the law can be summarized to the effect that there must be a complaint by the pubic servant whose lawful order has not been complied with. The complaint must be in writing. The provisions of Section 195 Cr.PC are mandatory. Non-compliance of it would vitiate the prosecution and all other consequential orders. The Court cannot assume the cognizance of the case without such complaint. In the absence of such a complaint, the trial and conviction will be void ab initio being without jurisdiction."

Applying the above decision, the conviction of the Appellant under Section 193 and 419 of the Indian Penal Code is not sustainable."

10. Again in the matter of Minakshi Sonkar Shastri (Supra), this Court reiterated the same ratio of law. Relevant paragraphs 5 to 7 of the said judgment are quoted hereinbelow:-

"5. Section 182 I.P.C. provides that whoever gives to any public servant any information which he knows or believes to be false, intending thereby to cause, or knowing it to be likely that he will thereby cause, such public servant - (a) to do or omit anything which such public servant ought not to do or omit if the true state of facts respecting which such information is given were known to him, or (b) to use the lawful power of such public servant to the injury or annoyance of any person, shall be punished.

6. Section 195 (1) (a) (i) Cr.P.C. provides that no Court shall take cognizance of any offence punishable under Section 172 to 188 (both inclusive) of the Indian Penal Code or abetment of or attempt to commit such offence or of any criminal conspiracy to commit such offence except on a complaint in writing by the public servant concerned or of some other public servant to whom he is administratively subordinate.

7. The cumulative reading of the aforesaid provisions is that a criminal complaint under Section 182 I.P.C. is maintainable only at the instance of a public servant and not a private person. Admittedly, opposite party no. 2 is a private person. If that be so, criminal complaint filed by him under Section 182 I.P.C. was completely barred and the Court was precluded from taking cognizance in view of the specific embargo under Section 195 (1) (a) (i) of the Code. Once a criminal complaint itself was not maintainable, this Court could not relegate the revisionist to claim a discharge."

11. Madhya Pradesh High Court has also taken the same view in the case of Prashant Chauhan (Supra) . Paragraphs 11 to 13 of the said judgment are quoted hereinbelow:-

"11. There is no dispute that petitioner has been subjected to prosecution for the alleged commission of offence punishable under Section 188 of IPC. It is also not in dispute that the allegation against the petitioner is that he has disobeyed the order/instructions issued by District Magistrate, Gwalior in relation to availability of books, uniform and stationaries at eight shops and providing the list of books as per syllabus and sellers to the Additional District Magistrate/District Education Officer prior to starting of academic session. Section 195 of the Code contains general provisions with regard to taking cognizance of offence by the Magistrate, however in respect of certain offences, special provisions have been made prescribing the manner in which, and the circumstances, in which, the cognizance could be taken by the Court. Section 195(1) provides that no Court shall take cognizance of certain offences enumerated in clauses (a) and (b), except in the manner provided therein. The provisions contained in subsection (1) are mandatory in nature and are not directory. The statutory mandate prohibits taking of cognizance except in the manner provided therein.

12. So far as commission of offence under Section 188 of IPC is concerned, the provisions contained in clause (a) are applicable which mandate that no Court shall take cognizance of the offence punishable under Section 188 of IPC, except on the complaint in writing of the public servant concerned or some other public servant to whom he is administratively subordinate. Thus, the Court is prohibited from taking cognizance of the offence punishable under Section 188 of IPC except when the complaint in writing is made by the concerned public servant. The statutory scheme with regard to cognizance of commission of offence under Section 188 of IPC is that complaint has to be filed before the Magistrate concerned having territorial jurisdiction either by the concerned public servant, whose order is alleged to have been disobeyed or by any other public servant to whom, the concerned public servant is administratively subordinate.

13. This being so, the aforesaid discussion makes it clear that for the offence under Section 188 of IPC without complaint filed directly to the Magistrate, Court cannot take cognizance, therefore, on police report the trial Court was not obliged to take cognizance of the offence.

12. Therefore, under such facts and circumstances, once there is no dispute that complaint is filed by a private person, under Section 195(1)(a)(i) of Cr.P.C. as well as Section 177 of IPC and law laid down by the Apex Court as well as different High Courts, summoning order dated 28.10.2015 as well as entire proceedings so far as against the petitioner is concerned, is bad in law and hereby quashed.

13. Accordingly, the petition is allowed. No order as to costs.
