On further cross-examination, she stated that she woke up when the wall of the house was scaled by the accused and they had jumped into the courtyard. The moment she woke up, she shouted. At that moment, Akhilesh was just 2-3 paces away from her. When she woke up and sat on the cot, Akhilesh caught her and pressed her mouth. On that noise, her mother woke up and came out and as soon as her mother came out, Arvind fired at the deceased. She clarified that when her mother came out, Akhilesh left her and caught hold the deceased by his hand and was pulling it from back when the shot was fired. After firing the shot, the accused escaped. She stated that the shot struck the deceased on left side of chest. She stated that the spot where he had fallen, blood had splattered. She stated that the police arrived by about 9 am in the morning. She stated that the body was not displaced till the time police arrived. She also stated that a village doctor had arrived about half an hour after the incident to declare the deceased dead. Villagers had also arrived after the incident. She admitted that the narration of Akhilesh holding the hands of the deceased is for the first time in Court. She also stated that except for Shyam Sundar, no one else in the village had said that they had seen the accused escaping. She stated that the blood had also stained the saree and petticoat of her mother. She stated that she is not aware as to what conveyance was used by the person who took the written report to lodge at the police station. She stated that she is a B.A. IIIrd year student. She denied the suggestion that she was not in the house at the time of the incident and that she did not witness the incident. She denied the suggestion that till the time the body of the deceased was sealed, neither she, nor her mother, was present in the house. She also denied the suggestion that the entire story has been tutored.

17 . PW-3 - Pahalwan - the messenger who carried the written report to the police station for registration of the first information report.

He stated that the written report was written by Devender Mishra on the dictation of Smt. Shobha Awasthi (the informant). The written report was handed over to him at 3 am. He waited for the night to pass and at sun rise, he went to the police station and the report was lodged at 7.30 am. He stated that he started his journey back from police station at 8.15 am. The written report (Exb. Ka-1) was identified by him.

In his cross-examination, he stated that he was sleeping in his house when he heard the gun shot. He woke up and went straight to the house of the deceased. There were several other persons there, at least, fifteen. He got the door of the house opened and saw Satish's body lying in a supine position in the courtyard with injuries and blood flowing out. He stated that he did not notice where the report was written but he was given the written report at 3 am by the informant with instruction to lodge the same at the police station. He stated that he did not recognise who all were present at the spot and in the crowd could not notice whether Devendra Narayan Mishra was present or not. He stated that his house is about 100-200 paces away from the house of the informant. He stated that after taking the report, he went to his house, fed fodder to his cattle and then left for the police station at about 3.30 am. He stated that he covered the distance on foot. On being questioned as to why he did not take a cycle, he stated that it was cloudy and the Kharanja was uneven and had rain water therefore, he preferred to walk. He stated that he walked on the footpath. He stated that he went straight to Auraiya and the distance covered by him must be around 11 km. He stated that he took Kachha rasta. He denied the suggestion that he did not go to lodge the report and because of his relationship with the informant, he is telling a lie. He stated that he is class 8 pass. In respect of the period he stayed at the police station, he stated that he stayed there for around 20 minutes. He stated that the Station House Officer did not come with him to the spot rather, he came walking. He stated that after returning from the police station, he again went to the spot at 11.30 am and stayed there for half an hour. Thereafter, he did not go again to the house of the deceased. He stated that when he went there again, he saw police there, and also noticed a police jeep parked in the Gali. But he did not notice any other vehicle for carrying the body. He did notice the body lying inside the house but he did not notice whether the body was sealed or not. He denied the suggestion that the body was taken away from the spot between 11.30 am and 12 noon. He also denied the suggestion that neither informant nor her children were present in the house on the date of the incident. He also denied the suggestion that the written report was prepared later.

18. PW-4 - Dr. R.N. Mishra - the Autopsy Surgeon. He proved the autopsy report and the injuries noticed therein and accepted possibility of death having occurred at 2 am in the night of 20/21.08.1991. The autopsy report was marked Exhibit Ka-3 on the basis of his statement.

In his cross-examination, he stated that injury no.1 was about 2 to 2 and ¼ inch below the shoulder and its direction was downwards which means that the direction of the barrel of the gun was from up to down, that is the bullet entered around the shoulder region and got embedded in the heart. He stated that because scorching was noticed, the distance of the barrel from the body must have been within 6 to 9 inches. He stated that this injury is not possible if the target and the shooter were face to face at the same level. He stated that if the man was lying and the shot was fired from the head side, such injury could appear. He also accepted the possibility that if the shot is fired from a higher level and the target is close to the barrel, such injury could appear.

In respect of the time of death estimated by him, he stated that in his estimate with regard to death having occurred 1 and ½ day before, there may be a variation of 4 to 6 hours, either side.

In respect of injury no.2, PW-2 stated that no pellets had entered the body. Rather, it was a splash of gun powder blast.

19. PW-5 - Keshav Ram - Investigating Officer. He stated that on 21.08.1991, when he was posted at P.S. Auraiya written report (Exb. Ka-1) was brought by Pahalwan of which Chik report was prepared by Head Moharir Sri Narayan Mishra whose signature, he recognised. The Chik report was marked (Exb. Ka-4). He also proved the GD entry of the report made vide GD report no.15 at 7.45 hours. Carbon copy of the GD entry report was exhibited as Exhibit Ka-5. Upon lodging of the FIR, he recorded statement of Pahalwan; thereafter, he visited the spot and got the inquest proceedings conducted of which report was prepared by S.I. R.N. Mishra whose signatures he recognised and the inquest report was exhibited as Exb. Ka-6. He stated that challan-nash, photonash were prepared by Sri R.N. Mishra and those documents were exhibited as Exb. Ka-7 and 8. He stated that he collected plain earth and blood-stained earth from the spot and prepared its seizure memo, which was exhibited as Exb. Ka-9. Plain earth and blood-stained earth were produced as material exhibits 5 and 6. He stated that he recovered an empty cartridge also, of which a seizure memo exhibit Ka-10 was prepared by him. He produced empty cartridge, which was marked material exhibit. He stated that after he recorded the statement of the informant, Km. Seema, Km. Tapasya, Saurabh and Shyam Sundar Mishra, he also examined lantern of the informant and the torch of Shyam Sundar. They were found in a working condition of which custody memo was prepared as Exb. Ka-2. He, thereafter, recorded statement of Gyan Prakash and Ramjas and the other witnesses and examined their torches, which were found in working condition and of which, custody memo was made. The same was exhibited as Exb. Ka-12. He proved preparation of the site plan on the basis of his inspection. The site plan was exhibited as Exb. Ka-13. He stated that on the same day, after preparing the inquest papers, he wrote a letter to the R.I. as well as CMO for autopsy. Those letters were marked Exhibit Ka-14 and 15. He stated that on 23.08.1991, he recorded the statement of Aditya Kumar Mishra and witness-Mahadev and on 27.08.1991, he recorded statement of Devendra Narayan Mishra and, after completing investigation, on 07.11.1991 he submitted charge-sheet, which was marked Exb. Ka-16.

In his cross-examination, he stated that after registration of the first information report, he left for the spot between 9.15 and 9.30 am. He did not remember whether Pahalwan accompanied him in the jeep. He stated that he reached the spot by 10 am. He stated that the route/road was not in a good condition. He stated that when he reached the house of the deceased, the door of the house was open and villagers were present. The body was lying on the ground over a Chadar and was also covered by Chadar. He stated that below the head of the body there was a pillow. He stated that empty cartridge was found by him on the south eastern portion of the house in the bathroom. He stated that first he conducted the inquest proceeding and thereafter he collected empty cartridge. He stated that on the Chadar laid below the body, as well as on the Chadar laid over the body and the pillow, there were blood spots but as they were laid after the incident, and as such not connected with the case, were not seized. He stated that he collected the blood from below the Chadar and found blood in an area of about 1 and ½ feet. He stated that during interrogation he came to know that murder had not taken place on the Chadar and therefore, the Chadar was not collected. He stated that he had not noticed whether members of the family had blood-stains on their clothes. He stated that the inquest proceedings were over by about noon and the body was given in the custody of the constables. He stated that the place of occurrence is Beehad (uneven land). He stated that he is not aware whether vehicle used for carrying the body was brought up to the doorstep of the informant. He also could not remember as to in which vehicle the body was brought to Etawah. He stated that he did not record the statement of the constable who carried the body. Upon noticing page 44 of the case diary, he stated that the body was dispatched after the vehicle had arrived.

On further cross-examination, he stated that after the body was dispatched, he collected the blood-stained earth and plain earth as well as the empty cartridge. He stated that he also searched the house of the accused and prepared a memo in that regard and recorded the statement of the informant at about 12.30 hours to 13.00 hours and also recorded the statement of other witnesses, as mentioned above.

He was also cross-examined in respect of the location of the house of other witnesses and whose statement he had recorded but nothing much could be elicited from him to suggest that he had not visited the spot. In respect of preparation of the site plan, he stated that he inspected the spot between 3-4 pm and the spot was inspected in the presence of the informant and other witnesses. He denied the suggestion that at the police station, information received was only in respect of death of Satish (the deceased) and, thereafter, the body was sealed and brought to the police station whereafter, papers relating to the FIR, inquest etc. were prepared. He denied the suggestion that custody memos of lantern and torches were prepared much later. He did not remember whether in the night of the incident it had rained or not. He stated that he did not notice any water logging on way to the spot.

In respect of the statement of the informant that Akhilesh held the hand of the deceased when the deceased was shot, he stated that that was not disclosed by the informant to him during investigation. He stated that only one statement of the informant was recorded by him during investigation. He stated that the distance between Quotara and the police station is 9 Km and the distance between Auraiya and Etawah is 65 Km.

20. PW-6 - Sri Narayan Awasthi - Head Constable. He proved the GD entry of the written report as well as the preparation of the Chik FIR at 7.45 am on 21.08.1991. The Chik FIR and the GD entry were marked exhibits.

In his cross-examination, he denied receipt of only oral information in respect of death of Satish (the deceased). He denied the suggestion that Chik report and the GD entry of the written report was made in the afternoon. He stated that at one place, by mistake, in respect of the distance, instead of 9 kms, it was written 6 Km, which was corrected. He also stated that the mistake was committed by constable Lakshman Singh.

ANALYSIS

21. Having noticed the submissions and the entire prosecution evidence, the following features stand out:-

(a) There is no dispute that the deceased was the husband of the informant - Smt. Shobha Awasthi (PW-1) and father of Seema (PW-2). Though, there is suggestion to the witnesses that at the time of occurrence, the deceased was alone in the house and upon information, her family arrived at the place of occurrence but there is no suggestion to demonstrate as to at what other place PW-1 and PW-2 could have been at the time of the incident than the place where they resided and the incident occurred. There is also no suggestion to PW-1 that she had sour relations with her husband (the deceased) and had separated or was for some reason residing at any other place.

` (b) The informant was principal of an institution and was elected Up Pradhan. Her husband (the deceased) was a teacher. Though, suggestion has been made that due to PW-1's support to the current Gram Pradhan and association of her husband with current Gram Pradhan, there was animosity in the village including with accused's family, as they had supported another candidate for the Pradhan election, but nothing has come out, either through cross-examination of the witnesses or by way of an explanation under Section 313 Cr.P.C., in respect of occurrence of any incident in the past reflecting such animosity.

(c) There is no serious challenge to the time of the occurrence. The time of occurrence, according to PW-1 and PW-2, would have been any time between 1.30 and 2 am.

(d) Although the defence has sought to raise an issue with regard to the body position being altered after the incident as it was found laid on a Chadar but nothing much turns on that as there is no serious challenge to the incident having occurred within the house of the deceased. Further, there is no suggestion to any of the witnesses that the body was dragged or brought from somewhere else.

(e) It is established beyond doubt, both from the site plan as well as the testimony of the witnesses, that the house of the accused is right in front of the house of the deceased across the Kharanja and there existed a toilet, built by the deceased, right in front of the house of the accused.

22. Having noticed the key features of the prosecution evidence what stands established beyond reasonable doubt is that the incident occurred in between 1.30 am and 2 am in the night of 20/21.08.1991 inside the house of the deceased with whom PW-1 (the wife of the deceased-informant) and PW-2 (the daughter of the deceased) resided. Thus, the presence of the eye-witnesses cannot be doubted particularly when there is no suggestion that the witnesses were present elsewhere at any other specified place, when the incident took place.

23. Before we proceed further, to properly evaluate and analyse the evidence in the context of the submissions made, it would be apposite to notice, in brief, the thrust of the submissions of the defence counsel. According to the defence counsel, there are four important features which raise a serious doubt as regards the prosecution story. These are:-

(a) The motive for the crime set out is annoyance on account of construction of toilet by the deceased. This motive is completely unfounded because from the testimony of PW-1, it is clear that the deceased had built his house 13-14 years ago and that the toilet was constructed 6-7 years later. This statement of PW-1, during her cross-examination, was recorded on 16.10.1992 i.e. a year after the incident, which means that the toilet had been in existence since 4 to 5 years before the occurrence.

(b) If the accused had entered the house after scaling the wall in the darkness of the night with a pistol and an intention to finish off the deceased what was the reason for the accused to grapple with the deceased with a gun in one hand for about one-half hour and not to use the gun straight away. This clearly suggests that the incident did not occur in the manner alleged. Either the prosecution witnesses did not at all notice the occurrence or the prosecution is hiding true facts.

(c) The incident, according to ocular account, occurred in the courtyard. The autopsy report notices two injuries, one is an entry wound and the other is a gun powder discharge on or about the face region. Notably, an empty cartridge was found in the bathroom much away from the spot where the deceased was shot at by the accused, after engaging in a scuffle with him. It therefore appears to be a case where two shots were fired, one which was a blank shot and the other which carried the bullet. The empty cartridge appears to be a consequence of that blank shot but the ocular account is in respect of solitary shot therefore, the ocular account is unworthy of acceptance.

(d) According to the ocular account, the assailant Arvind at the time of firing the shot was in front of the deceased. The deceased was in a standing position and was being held by Akhilesh who had pulled his hand from behind. If the deceased had been in a standing position and the shot was fired by Arvind from front then the direction of the gun shot travelling downward was impossible, as is the testimony of the autopsy surgeon. Hence, it appears to be a case where the incident occurred in some other manner than alleged. Eye-witnesses were all sleeping at the time when the incident occurred and it is only after the gun shot was heard, story was weaved on the basis of strong suspicion and enmity. Hence, it is a fit case where both the accused-appellants be acquitted.

24. Having noticed the key features of the prosecution evidence and the thrust of the submissions made on behalf of the parties, we frame following points for the convenience of our analysis:-

(i) Whether the motive for the crime existed or not;

(ii) Whether the prosecution story appears unnatural and contrived keeping in mind the manner in which the incident is stated to have occurred;

(iii) Whether in the facts and circumstances of the case, the first information report is delayed and lends credence to the defence argument that the story of the prosecution is contrived;

(iv) Whether there is a serious conflict between the medical and the ocular evidence rendering ocular account unworthy of acceptance;

(v) Whether the incident occurred in the darkness of the night where there was no source of light and therefore, no one witnessed the incident which is reflected by improvement, during deposition in trial, that the deceased was caught hold by the appellant Akhilesh;

(vi) Whether spreading bed-sheet and laying the body thereupon alters the spot, affecting confirmation of spot by the investigating agency. If so, whether it has material bearing on the merit of the prosecution case; and

(vii) Whether the presence of an empty cartridge in the bathroom, away from the spot, where the incident is stated to have occurred, renders the ocular account untrustworthy and unacceptable.

25. On the issue with regard to existence of the motive, the prosecution story is that a toilet was built by the deceased right in front of the house of the accused party, across the Kharanja, to which the accused party had been objecting and two days prior to the incident, the accused had threatened the deceased. The defence submission is that from the testimony of PW-1, it appears, the toilet had been in existence for the last 4-5 years and as such the motive set out by the prosecution for the crime is unacceptable. There may appear some substance in the defence submissions but motive is a mental state of which the person whose conduct is in question is the sole repository. It is difficult to assess whether the motive is sufficient for the crime in issue because, everyone reacts differently to a given situation. It is possible that existence of the toilet might have been there for sometime but for reasons unknown its existence might have become an eyesore in the recent past. Under these circumstances, we do not propose to dwell further on the issue of motive more so, because the prosecution case is dependent on ocular account and it is well settled that where the prosecution case is based on direct ocular account of the incident, if the court finds the same trustworthy and truthful, existence or non existence of motive for the crime is of no consequence.

26. The issue whether the prosecution story appears unnatural and contrived and whether the first information report is delayed are connected to each other therefore, we propose to deal with the two issues together. Before we evaluate the submission in respect of the prosecution story appearing unnatural and contrived, we propose to analyse the prosecution evidence in respect of the explanation for the delay in lodging the report. According to the prosecution story the incident occurred at or about 2 am. The report was dictated by the informant to one Devendra Narayan Mishra who wrote it and after signature of the informant, it was handed over to Pahalwan (PW-3) to be lodged at the police station. The report has been lodged at 7.45 am at a police station that was about 9 km away from the spot. The lodging of the first information report at 7.45 am is proved by the police witness (PW-6) and nothing could be elicited from him to doubt the registration of the case at that time. The inquest proceeding was conducted later, and completed by noon. The inquest report makes a recital about receipt of the report from Pahalwan (PW-3). Pahalwan has been examined as PW-3. He stated that he resides in the same village where the incident took place. The incident occurred in the night and he reached the house of the deceased in the night. The informant had dictated the report to Devendra Narayan Mishra and the report was delivered to him at about 3 am in the night itself and as soon as the day broke, he left for the police station to lodge the report and reached there by 7.30 am. Nothing much has come out from his cross-examination to doubt his deposition. Rather, he also explained as to why he visited the house of the deceased in the night by stating that he woke up on hearing the gun shot and many others also woke up for that reason and he reached the house of the deceased where others had also arrived. He also explains that his house is 100 to 200 paces away from the house of the deceased and he has cattle to feed. He fed the cattle in the morning and, thereafter, he left the village on foot to lodge the report. On being questioned as to why he did not take a motorcycle or a cycle to commute, he stated that the route was very bad and as it had rained in the night therefore, he preferred to go on foot. The explanation offered by PW-3 is acceptable. Nothing has been elicited from him, during cross-examination, which may doubt his presence in the village or his arrival at the scene of crime after hearing the gun shot. In these circumstances, keeping in mind that the village was 9 km away from the police station and the incident occurred in the night and very few would make an attempt to lodge the first information report in the night hours when the police station was at such a distance, the explanation is tenable. Moreover, it is quite natural that the informant being a lady, who having lost her husband and had two daughters and a young son to look after, would request some one else to go to the police station. Thus, we are of the considered view that in the facts of the case, the first information report cannot be said to be delayed so as to raise our suspicion with regard to the truthfulness of the prosecution story.

27. As regards the submission that the prosecution story appears unnatural and contrived, the thrust of the submissions of the learned counsel for the appellants is that if the intention of the accused were to finish off the deceased and one of the accused had a pistol in his hand, where was the occasion to enter into a scuffle with the deceased that lasted about half an hour. The above submission though may appear attractive but is not to be accepted for the reason that the prosecution is not required to prove as to what the intention of the accused had been when he entered the house. What the prosecution is required to prove is that the shot was fired with an intention to kill. What was there in the mind of the accused at the time when they entered the house of the deceased in the night, is a mental state of which the accused were privy to, not the informant or the other prosecution witness. It could be possible that the two accused, who resided across the road right in front of the house of the deceased, might have been infatuated with the daughter of the deceased, who was a University going student. It could very much be possible that the accused might have entered the house in the night with that kind of an intention but on disturbance caused by their movement, the deceased might have got up resulting in a scuffle that was noticed by PW-1 and PW-2. It could equally be possible that initially they did not want to kill the deceased but when the deceased was not letting them off, the accused developed an intention to kill the deceased therefore, the scuffle lasted that long. This possibility cannot be ruled out also for the reason that no alarm was raised by the deceased despite noticing intruders in the night because it is quite natural for a father to protect the honour of the family. It is equally possible that the deceased feared that if he raises an alarm, the entire village may arrive and cast aspersions on the character of his daughter. Thus, in our considered view, whatever the reason for that scuffle might be, the duration of the scuffle, by itself, does not render the prosecution story improbable, unnatural or unacceptable. We, therefore, reject the submission on behalf of the appellants that the prosecution story is completely unnatural and unacceptable.

28. At this stage, we may notice that though the incident occurred post mid-night but the prosecution evidence with regard to existence of light is specific and consistent since the inception of the case. Notably, there was a suggestion to the prosecution witnesses that there was bright moon that night therefore there was no need of putting a lantern. That apart, that night was the first night after full moon i.e. Ekadashi of Shukl Paksha. Moreover, the prosecution evidence is that as usual the lantern was lit in the courtyard. The presence of lantern was confirmed during investigation and it was produced before the investigating officer and from his testimony it is clear that he had also checked whether it was in a working condition and had found it to be in a working condition. The custody memo of the lantern was also prepared. Further, its existence was disclosed in the first information report. Thus, the source of light enabling the witnesses to identify the accused, particularly, when they were neighbours residing just across the Kharanja, cannot be doubted and has been proved beyond reasonable doubt.

29. Now, we shall proceed to examine whether the medical evidence renders the ocular account completely unacceptable or improbable. In this regard, the submission of the learned counsel for the appellants is that the ocular account is not acceptable because the medical evidence has ruled out possibility of the shot being fired from the front, if the victim and the assailant were at the same level. It is also urged that the existence of gun powder mark on or about neck and face region of the deceased would suggest that two shots were fired at the deceased whereas the ocular evidence is in respect of single shot.

30. At this stage, we may notice few decisions of the Supreme Court on the issue as to when a conflict between medical evidence and ocular account would render the ocular account untrustworthy and unreliable. In Thaman Kumar vs. State of Union Territory of Chandigarh, (2003) 6 SCC 380, in paragraph 16, it was observed as follows:

"16. The conflict between oral testimony and medical evidence can be of varied dimensions and shapes. There may be a case where there is total absence of injuries which are normally caused by a particular weapon. There is another category where though the injuries found on the victim are of the type which are possible by the weapon of assault, but the size and dimension of the injuries do not exactly tally with the size and dimension of the weapon. The third category can be where the injuries found on the victim are such which are normally caused by the weapon of assault but they are not found on that portion of the body where they are deposed to have been caused by the eye-witnesses. The same kind of inference cannot be drawn in the three categories of apparent conflict in oral and medical evidence enumerated above. In the first category it may legitimately be inferred that the oral evidence regarding assault having been made from a particular weapon is not truthful. However, in the second and third category no such inference can straightway be drawn. The manner and method of assault, the position of the victim, the resistance offered by him, the opportunity available to the witnesses to see the occurrence like their distance, presence of light and many other similar factors will have to be taken into consideration in judging the reliability of ocular testimony."

31. In Anil Rai vs. State of Bihar (2001) 7 SCC 318, view taken earlier, in Punjab Singh vs. State of Haryana, 1984 Supp SCC 233, that, (1) if direct evidence is satisfactory and reliable, the same cannot be rejected on hypothetical medical evidence, and (2) if medical evidence when properly read shows two alternative possibilities but not any inconsistency, the one consistent with the reliable and satisfactory statements of the eye witness has to be accepted, was affirmed. Similarly, in Abdul Sayeed vs. State of Madhya Pradesh, (2010) 10 SCC 259, the legal position, in this regard, has been crystallised, in paragraph 39 of the judgment, as follows:

"39. Thus, the position of law in cases where there is a contradiction between medical evidence and ocular evidence can be crystallised to the effect that though the ocular testimony of a witness has greater evidentiary value vis--vis medical evidence, when medical evidence makes the ocular testimony improbable, that becomes a relevant factor in the process of the evaluation of evidence. However, where the medical evidence goes so far that it completely rules out all possibility of the ocular evidence being true, the ocular evidence may be disbelieved."

32. The above view has been affirmed in Central Bureau of Investigation and Another vs. Mohd. Parvez Abdul Kayyum and others, (2019) 12 SCC 1.

33. The gist of the legal principle deducible from the pronouncements of the Supreme Court is that ocular evidence has greater evidentiary value vis-a-vis medical evidence. When the medical evidence makes the ocular testimony improbable it becomes a relevant factor in the process of evaluation of evidence. But, when the medical evidence rules out all possibility of the ocular evidence being true, the ocular evidence may be discarded. Bearing this legal principle in mind, at this stage, we may now notice the submissions of the learned AGA in response to defence's submission that there is an irreconcilable conflict between medical evidence and the ocular account. In this regard, it was submitted that as per the ocular account when the scuffle between Arvind and the deceased was going on, accused Akhilesh was pressing the mouth of PW-2 (the daughter of the deceased) but, when PW-1 came close to the deceased, Akhilesh left PW-2, caught hold the hands of the deceased, pulled them backwards and exhorted Arvind to finish off the deceased. At this stage, the shot was fired. The learned AGA submitted that if someone holds a person's hands and pulls them backward, the person, despite being in a standing position, would bend forward leaving his shoulder/neck region exposed and at a level much lower than the height of the person standing in front of him, if both are of same height and at the same ground level. Otherwise also, it was submitted, when a scuffle is on, it would be difficult to notice and memorise the exact position at which the person was when the shot was fired at him, as the body keeps moving, therefore, if PW-1 stated that the shot was fired from front while the deceased was standing and his hands were pulled back by the other accused (Akhilesh), it cannot be said that because the shot traveled in a downward direction, the ocular account is unacceptable as ruled out by the medical evidence. Similarly, in respect of the presence of injury no.2, learned A.G.A. submitted that when the muzzle of the pistol is close to the face, pointing downwards towards neck, the bullet would enter the body from the upper part of chest, near to neck/ shoulder, and go downwards whereas the discharge of gun powder from the blast, emitted from the muzzle, would splash the face and neck, reflecting the kind of an injury as is injury no.2 noticed by the autopsy surgeon. Thus, it is a case of single gunshot and, therefore, there is absolutely no conflict between medical evidence and the ocular evidence.

34. Having noticed the rival submissions in this regard, at the outset, we may observe that when a scuffle is on and persons who are grappling with each other are moving, it would be impossible to expect any witness to give an accurate account of the posture that the deceased was holding at the time when the shot was fired at him. In Sukhdeep Singh V. State of UP, (2010) 2 SCC 177 (vide paragraph 17) it was observed by the Supreme Court "that it would be impossible for any witness to give a categorical statement as to the posture that the deceased or the assailants were holding at the time when the firing incident happened." Bearing this in mind, on a careful perusal of the prosecution evidence, we find that though gun powder /blast mark is there on face and neck of the deceased but noticeably no pellets have entered that area though, a bullet is found ensconced in the heart entering from chest, below the left shoulder region. If someone is bent and a shot is fired at him from a close range by a person who holds the muzzle of the gun near about the face of that person, pointing it downwards, in our view, discharge from the barrel may cause blackening and gun powder marks on or about the face and neck region whereas the bullet may enter the body from about shoulder or upper part of chest region traveling downwards to damage the heart as is the medical evidence of the case at hand. Thus, in our view, the ocular account is not at all ruled out by the medical evidence rather, the medical evidence corroborates the ocular evidence. We therefore reject the appellants' submissions that the ocular account is unacceptable because it is ruled out by the medical evidence.

35. At this stage, we may notice another submission of the learned counsel for the appellants, which is, that since empty cartridge was found in the bathroom, the ocular account that the shot was fired at the deceased in the courtyard is unacceptable. The learned counsel for the appellants submitted that the presence of empty cartridge in the bathroom would indicate that the shot was fired by someone sitting or standing over the wall of the bathroom when, perhaps, the deceased had come to the bathroom. It is submitted that this explains both, that is, the direction of travel of the bullet and the existence of empty cartridge in the bathroom. The learned counsel for the appellants submitted that as the body was lying on a sheet of cloth whereas, admittedly, the incident did not occur whilst he was lying on that sheet of cloth, it appears, the body was removed from the bathroom. It was argued that the spot where the incident occurred, namely, the courtyard, is not confirmed by investigation therefore, this lends credence to the defence argument that the shot was fired from, or over, the wall of the bathroom and the body was removed from that position and laid in the courtyard.

36. The above submission is not acceptable for two reasons:-

(i) Why would PW-1 and PW-2, who are wife and daughter, respectively, of the deceased, tell lies; and

(ii) The ladies of the house, in ordinary course, would be in a state of shock having lost the head of their family. It is unimaginable that they would contrive a story and drag the body from the bathroom and place it in the courtyard. Noticeably, the I.O. had noticed blood splattered in the courtyard and had lifted blood from that spot lying below the sheet. Further, he made no mention of the presence of any drag marks or blood splattered in some other portion of the house. No suggestion has been put to any witness in respect of dragging the body within the house. Spreading of bed-sheet and placing a pillow below the head of the deceased may be a mark of respect for the dead. Importantly, there is no suggestion either to the prosecution eye witnesses or to the I.O. that the deceased was killed at some other spot and was brought and laid at the spot. Further, there is no suggestion whatsoever in respect of the shot being fired at the deceased when he was near the bathroom. Otherwise also, in the ocular account, it has come that after firing the shot at the deceased, the accused had opened the pistol. May be the accused wanted to have another go at the deceased but noticing that the deceased had collapsed on being struck by the shot, the assailant might have thought better to escape and while scaling the wall, close to the bathroom, to escape, the empty cartridge may have fallen there in the bathroom from where it was recovered. Thus, in our considered view, the presence of the empty cartridge in the bathroom and the spreading of cloth below the body of the deceased and placing a pillow underneath his head neither demolishes the prosecution case nor renders the ocular account improbable or untrustworthy as to confer the benefit of doubt on the accused.

37. At this stage, we may notice an alternative submission of the learned counsel for the appellants, which is, that in so far as the appellant-Akhilesh is concerned, he is not the one who fired the shot at the deceased and that the role of catching hold attributed to him was neither there in the first information report nor in the statements recorded under section 161 CrPC. It was urged that his role is introduced, by way of an improvement, during trial, therefore, he is entitled to the benefit of doubt.

38. We do not accept the above submission for the reason that from the very beginning it is the prosecution story that the appellant Akhilesh entered the house in the night hours with his brother Arvind and on exhortation of Akhilesh to finish off the deceased, Arvind fired at the deceased. It is neither the requirement of law, nor expected of the informant, particularly a lady, who is in a state of shock, to make an accurate disclosure of each action which the accused displayed in the incident either in the first information report or in the statement recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C., unless the I.O. or concerned officer specifically questions the person in that regard. When a statement under section 161 CrPC is recorded, a witness may fail to make a disclosure may be because of his understanding that it is not material or may be because no question in that regard is put by the I.O. Therefore, in our view, as to when an improvement would affect the credibility of a witness, much would depend on the facts of a case apart from the nature of the improvement made. In the instant case, notably, both PW-1 and PW-2 have throughout, right from the stage of lodging the FIR, disclosed active participation of the accused Akhilesh, that is, he entered the house with the co-accused in the night by scaling the wall, pressed the mouth of PW-2 and exhorted co-accused Arvind to finish off the deceased. This stand was maintained during trial with an addition that when PW-1 tried to come close to the deceased, while the deceased was grappling with co-accused Arvind, Akhilesh left PW-2, caught hold the deceased by his hands, pulled the hands of the deceased backwards and exhorted Arvind to finish off the deceased. In our view, this addition does not in any way alter the substratum of the prosecution case against Akhilesh rather it fills up the narrative by way of an answer to the question put to the witnesses during the course of their cross examination in court. Otherwise also, there appears truth in the ocular account and indirectly explains the travel of the bullet in a downward direction. In these circumstances, the participation of appellant-Akhilesh in the occurrence and sharing of common intention with co-accused Arvind to kill the deceased has also been proved beyond reasonable doubt.

39 . For all the reasons recorded above, we are of the considered view that the trial court has correctly found the appellants guilty of the charge for which they have been tried and convicted. We, therefore, affirm the judgment and order of conviction and sentence recorded by the trial court. Both the appeals are dismissed. Both the appellants are reported to be on bail. Their bail bonds are canceled. They shall be taken into custody forthwith and shall serve out the sentence awarded by the court below.

40. Let the order be communicated to the trial court for information and compliance.

(2022)05ILR A633
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 07.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ANIL KUMAR OJHA, J.

Criminal Appeal No.5297 of 2021

Chandhari @ Chandhradhari
...Appellant (In Jail)
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri J.A. Azmi, Sri Krishna Manohar Tiwari (A.C.)

Counsel for the Respondent:
A.G.A.

A. Criminal Law -Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973-Section 374(2) - Indian Penal Code, 1860-Section 376-challenge to-conviction-As per statement of PW2, victim and PW-6, appellant committed rape upon the victim at the point of knife-As per medical report there was injury on her hymen which is supported by victim statement-Court should examine the broader probabilities of a case and not get swayed by minor contradictions or insignificant discrepancies in the statement of victim, which are not of a fatal nature, to throw out an otherwise reliable prosecution case-Mere delay in FIR will not make the prosecution story suspicious-It is a case of rape where testimony of prosecutrix stands at par with that of injured witness.(Para 1 to 34)

The appeal is dismissed. (E-6)

List of Cases cited:

1. St. of Punj. Vs Hakam Singh (2005) 7 SCC 408

2. Raja & ors. Vs St. of Karn. (2016) 10 SCC 506

(Delivered by Hon'ble Anil Kumar Ojha, J.)

1. Heard Sri Krishna Manohar Tiwari, learned Amicus Curiae for the appellant, Sri Ravi Prakash Pandey and Sri Ram Vichar Chaudhary, learned A.G.A. for the State and perused the record.

2. Challenge in this Criminal Appeal is the judgement and order dated 07.03.1998 passed by Sessions Judge, Azamgarh in Sessions Trial No. 722 of 1997, State Vs. Chandhari@Chandradhari arising out of Crime No. 249 of 1997 under Section 376 I.P.C., P.S. Kandharapur, District, Azamgarh whereby learned Sessions Judge, Azamgarh has convicted the appellant, Chandhari@Chandradhari under Section 376 I.P.C. and sentenced him to undergo Rigorous Imprisonment for a period of ten years and pay a fine of Rs. 2,000/- and in default of payment of fine, to suffer six months further Rigorous Imprisonment.

3. Shorn of unnecessary details, case of prosecution is that an F.I.R. was lodged by complainant, Subai on 25.09.1997 at 16:00 hours in P.S., Kandharapur, District, Azamgarh stating therein that on 20.09.1997 at about 4:00 P.M., appellant, Chandhari@Chandradhari forcibly committed rape upon victim at the point of knife. Complainant filed a written report at the police station. Case was registered against accused, Chandhari@Chandradhari at P.S., Kandharapur, District Azamgarh in Crime No. 249 of 1997 under Section 376 I.P.C.

4. Investigating Officer started investigation and prepared site-plan of the spot; he produced the victim before concerned Magistrate for recording of her statement under Section 164 Cr.P.C. Victim's statement under Section 164 Cr.P.C. was recorded; she was medically examined. After recording of statement of witnesses and conclusion of investigation, I.O. submitted charge-sheet against the appellant, Chandhari@Chandradhari in Crime No. 249 of 1997 under Section 376 I.P.C., P.S. Kandharapur, District Azamgarh.

5. The then Additional Civil Judge, Junior Division/Judicial Magistrate First Class, Azamgarh on 19.12.1997 committed the case of appellant to Sessions Court for trial.

6. Learned Sessions Judge framed charge against the appellant, Chandhari@Chandradhari under Section 376 I.P.C. Appellant denied the charges and claimed trial.

7. Prosecution was called upon to adduce the evidence to substantiate the prosecution version. Prosecution produced Subai who lodged the F.I.R. as P.W. 1. He is the complainant/informant of the case. P.W. 1, Subai has supported the prosecution story in his evidence before the Court P.W. 1 proved F.I.R., Ex. Ka-1.

8. P.W. 2 is the victim herself. She has supported the prosecution version and has specifically stated that appellant, Chandhari@Chandradhari has committed rape upon her.

9. P.W. 3, Narmi is the mother of victim. She has also supported the prosecution story.

10. P.W. 4, Amarjeet Singh is S.O., Kandharapur. He has conducted the investigation and proved the charge-sheet, Ex. Ka-3. P.W.-5, Rajan Yadav is a Court Moharrir who has proved the Chick F.I.R., Ex. Ka-4. P.W. 6, Dr. Sumati Saxena conducted the medical examination of the victim and proved medical examination report as Exhibit Ka-6, Pathological Report Ex. Ka-7, Radiological Report Ex. Ka-8. P.W. 6, Dr. Sumati Saxena opined that victim has been subjected to sexual intercourse.

11. P.W. 7, Dr. S.P. Singh proved the Supplementary-Report as Material Exhibit-1. P.W. 7 has stated in his statement before the Court that as per the Radiological Examination, age of the victim is found to be more than 16 years and less than 18 years and proved X-ray Report, Ex. Ka-9, X-ray plate, Material Ex.-1.

12. Prosecution concluded its evidence; statement of appellant under Section 313 Cr.P.C. was recorded. Appellant denied the evidence and also denied commission of rape and stated his ignorance. He specifically stated that he was a poor labourer and used to do labour work with Shivnath Yadav. He has three sisters and nine brothers.

13. After hearing the prosecution and defence, learned Sessions Judge, Azamgarh convicted the appellant as above.

14. Feeling aggrieved and dissatisfied with the aforesaid judgement, appellant has preferred this appeal.

15. Submission of learned Amicus Curiae for the appellant is that there is five days' delay in the lodgement of F.I.R. Evidence of victim is unworthy of credence; Investigating Officer had not collected the cloth; victim has gone for grass-cutting; she was having weapon, hence she should have inflicted injury upon the appellant. Prosecution story is doubtful. Appellant deserves benefit of doubt.

16. Per-contra, learned A.G.A. vehemently opposed the aforesaid arguments and submitted that victim is a labour class rustic lady. There is no material contradiction in her statement. Evidence of victim is supported by medical evidence. Mere delay in lodging the F.I.R. will not make the prosecution story suspicious. Appellant committed rape upon the victim at the point of knife. Appeal lacks merit and deserves dismissal.

17. In State of Punjab Vs. Hakam Singh (2005) 7 SCC 408, Hon'ble Apex Court has held that it is not expected of a rustic lady to state with precision the chain of events. In case of rustic lady, Court should keep in mind her rural background and scenario in which the incident happened and should not appreciate her evidence from rational angle and discredit her otherwise truthful version on technical grounds.

18. It is a case of rape where testimony of prosecutrix stands at par with that of injured witness. Law on the point of evidence of rape victim, is clearly settled.

19. In Raja and others v. State of Karnataka (2016) 10 SCC 506, Hon'ble Apex Court has held as follows:

".....It was exposited that insofar as the allegation of rape is concerned, the evidence of the prosecutrix must be examined as that of a injured witness whose presence at the spot is probable but it can never be presumed that her statement should always without exception, be taken as gospel truth.

The essence of this verdict which has stood the test of time proclaims that though generally the testimony of a victim of rape or non- consensual physical assault ought to be accepted as true and unblemished, it would still be subject to judicial scrutiny lest a casual, routine and automatic acceptance thereof results in unwarranted conviction of the person charged."

20. Thus Law on the point is that the testimony of the victim must be appreciated in the background of the entire case and the Courts should examine the broader probabilities of a case and not get swayed by minor contradictions or insignificant discrepancies in the statement of the victim, which are not of a fatal nature, to throw out an otherwise reliable prosecution case.

21. In view of above settled legal position, the evidence of PW2 victim is being analyzed and evaluated.

22. P.W. 2, victim in her examination-in-chief in Court has specifically stated that on the date of incident, she had gone for grass-cutting in the field of Shiv Nath Pasi. It was 4 O' Clock in the evening. Appellant, Chandhari@Chandradhari came there and caught hold her hand. He brought the victim at the bricklin of Baram Dev Ram and put a knife at her breast, she cried to save her. Thereafter, he committed rape upon her; she became unconscious. When she regained consciousness, she went to her home and told the incident to her mother. She again specifically stated that her age is 13 years. Appellant forcibly committed rape upon her at the point of knife.

23. She was cross-examined by defence counsel but could not shake the credibility of victim. She specifically tendered evidence at page 18 of the paper book. That she tried to save herself. Her cloth became stained. Police did not took her cloth.

24. Evidence of victim is natural and probable. There is no major contradiction in her statement.

25. In view of the above, submission of learned Amicus Curiae is that evidence of victim is unworthy of credence has no legs to stand and is rejected accordingly.

26. P.W. 6, Dr. Sumati Saxena has proved the medical examination report. She has stated in her examination-in-chief at page no. 31 of the paper book that on the basis of medical-examination, she is of the opinion that victim was subjected to sexual intercourse. There was injury on her hymen. In the cross-examination, she has also specifically stated that victim was not habitual to sexual intercourse.

27. Thus from the evidence of P.W. 2, victim and P.W. 6, Dr. Sumati Saxena, it is manifest that appellant committed forcible sexual intercourse. As doctor has opined that victim was subjected to sexual intercourse and there was injury on her hymen, so evidence of victim is supported by medical evidence of P.W. 6. In the injury report itself, the doctor has opined that linear tear seen on posterolateral side of hymen.

28. It is accordingly held that evidence of victim is supported by medical testimony.

29. Learned Amicus Curiae for the appellant submitted that there is five days' unexplained delay in lodgement of F.I.R., hence prosecution story is doubtful. I am unable to accept this contention of learned Amicus Curiae because victim, her father and relatives are illiterate persons belonging to labour class. Promptness in lodgement of F.I.R. cannot be expected from them. Moreover matter pertains to rape wherein parties normally immediately don't rush to police station to save their social prestige.

30. In view of the above, contention of learned Amicus Curiae with regard to delay in lodgement of F.I.R. is rejected.

31. Learned Amicus Curiae eloquently argued that victim has gone for grass-cutting. She was having weapon so she should have inflicted injury upon appellant. There is no sign of resistance by the victim. I am unable to agree with the aforesaid contention because victim is a rustic village lady. Appellant committed rape at the point of knife, so this contention of learned Amicus Curiae is also unsustainable and is rejected.

32. The upshot of the above discussion is that the prosecution has established its case beyond reasonable doubt against the appellant, Chandhari@Chandradhari.

33. The impugned judgment and order passed by lower court is within four corners of law. There is no illegality in the judgment and order dated 07.03.1998 passed by Sessions Judge, Azamgarh in Sessions Trial No. 722 of 1997, State Vs. Chandhari@Chandradhari arising out of Crime No. 249 of 1997 under Section 376 I.P.C., P.S. Kandharapur, District, Azamgarh whereby learned Sessions Judge, Azamgarh has convicted the appellant, Chandhari@Chandradhari under Section 376 I.P.C. and sentenced him to undergo Rigorous Imprisonment for a period of ten years and pay a fine of Rs. 2,000/- and in default of payment of fine, to suffer six months further Rigorous Imprisonment and the same is hereby confirmed. Appeal lacks merit and is liable to be dismissed.

34. Accordingly, this appeal is dismissed.

35. The assistance rendered by Sri Krishna Manohar Tiwari, learned Amicus Curiae for the appellant is appreciable and his fee is assessed Rs. 10,000/-.

36. Registry of this Court is directed to pay Rs. 10,000/- to Sri Krishna Manohar Tiwari, learned Amicus Curiae for the appellant for his assistance.

37. Copy of this judgment be certified to the court below for compliance. Lower court record be transmitted to the District Court concerned forthwith.

(2022)05ILR A637
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 18.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 10 of 1993

New India Assurance Co. Ltd. ...Appellant
Versus
Smt. Leela Devi & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Rajesh Ji Verma, Sri Kamal Dev Rai, Sri Shri Prakash Pal

Counsel for the Respondents:
Smt. Aradhana Chauhan, Sri A.K. Singh, Sri Ajeet Kumar Singh

Civil Law - Workman Compensation Act, 1923 - claimant husband was a driver and employed by respondent no. 7, who passed away due to employment injuries - owner in reply before the Commissioner took stand that they had immediately intimated the insurance company about accidental death of its employee - finding of fact is that the deceased was an employee who had sustained employment injury and died - law is well settled that where employer intimates the amount must be disbursed within one month of incident - Commissioner has dealt exclusively and given cogent reasons for grant of interest and penalty as per Section 4A of the Act - substantial questions of law raised by Insurance company are questions of fact (Para 10, 11)

Dismissed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Siby George & ors., 2012 (4) T.A.C. 4 (S.C.)

2. Golla Rajanna Etc. Vs Divisional Manager & anr., 2017 (1) TAC 259 (SC)

3. North East Karnataka Road Transport Corporation Vs Smt. Sujatha Civil Appeal No.7470 of 2009 decided on 2.11.2018

4. E.S.I.C. Vs S. Prasad . F.A.F.O. 1070 of 1993 decided on 26.10.2017

5. Mackinnon Machenzie Vs Ibrahim Mahmmed Issak, (1969) 2 SCC 607

6. Regional Director, E.S.I. Corp. Vs Francis De Costa, (1996) 6 SCC 1

7. Malikarjuna G. Hiremath Vs Branch Manager, Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd., (2009) 13 SCC 405

8. Shakuntala Chandrakant Shreshti Vs Prabhakar Maruti Garvali, (2007) 11 SCC 668

9. Laxmanrao Vs Maharashtra State Electricity Board, 2015 ACJ 2509

10. Mewar Textile Mills Vs Kushali Bai, (1960) II LLJ 369

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the appellant. None present for the respondents.

2. This is one more classic case where insurance company has challenged meagre amount granted to heir of deceased employee a truck driver for accident which occurred on 13.04.1990. Accident having taken place and causing death of employee and compensation awarded is not in dispute.

3. The appellant has challenged the order dated 07.10.1992 of the Workmans Compensation Commissioner, Etwah under Workman Compensation Act, 1923 (referred as "Act') whereby compensation of Rs.69,984.60/- has been awarded to claimant/respondent for death of her husband who was a driver and employed by respondent no. 7 and 8 herein passed away due to employment injuries.

4. The Insurance Co. has contended that the deceased was not in employment of the appellant and therefore the appellant company could not have been made liable for payment of penalty, as the provisions of Act does not saddle them with liability. It is further submitted that no issue were framed by the Commissioner before deciding the matter and the owner did not raise any demand

5. The submission of learned counsel for Insurance Company that no issues were framed is not accepted as about 6 issues have been framed and have been decided in seriation by Commissioner, the first submission of the appellant fails. As far as it relates to payment of penalty is concerned, judgment of the Apex Court titled as Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Siby George and others, 2012 (4) T.A.C. 4 (S.C.) will not permit this Court to take a different view then that taken by the Commissioner. There need not be any demand, however, the owner in reply before the Commissioner has taken stand that they had immediately intimated the insurance company about accidental death of its employee thus this aspect falls in realm of disputed question of fact and not law, the matter has been prolonged by the Insurance Company a similar situation has been lamented by the apex Court recently in Golla Rajanna Etc. Etc. Vs. Divisional Manager and Another, 2017 (1) TAC 259 (SC). The finding of fact is that the deceased was an employee who had sustained employment injury and died.

6. I am supported in my view by the decision of the Apex Court in Civil Appeal No.7470 of 2009 North East Karnataka Road Transport Corporation Vs. Smt. Sujatha decided on 2.11.2018 wherein it has been held that the Court has held as under:

"15. Such appeal is then heard on the question of admission with a view to find out as to whether it involves any substantial question of law or not. Whether the appeal involves a substantial question of law or not depends upon the facts of each case and needs an examination by the High Court. If the substantial question of law arises, the High Court would admit the appeal for final hearing on merit else would dismiss in limini with reasons that it does not involve any substantial question/s of law.

16. Now coming to the facts of this case, we find that the appeal before the High Court did not involve any substantial question of law on the material questions set out above. In other words, in our view, the Commissioner decided all the material questions arising in the case properly on the basis of evidence adduced by the parties and rightly determined the compensation payable to the respondent. It was, therefore, rightly affirmed by the High Court on facts.

17. In this view of the matter, the findings being concurrent findings of fact of the two courts below are binding on this Court. Even otherwise, we find no good ground to call for any interference on any of the factual findings. None of the factual findings are found to be either perverse or arbitrary or based on no evidence or against any provision of law. We accordingly uphold these findings."

7. This Court, recently in F.A.F.O. 1070 of 1993 (E.S.I.C. Vs. S. Prasad) decided on 26.10.2017 has followed the decision in Golla Rajana (Supra) and has held as follows:

"The grounds urged before this Court are in the realm of finding of facts and not a question of law. As far as question of law is concerned, the aforesaid judgment in Golla Rajanna Etc. Etc. Versus Divisional Manager and another (supra) in paragraph 8 holds as follows

"the Workman Compensation Commissioner is the last authority on facts. The Parliament has thought it fit to restrict the scope of the appeal only to substantial questions of law, being a welfare legislation. Unfortunately, the High Court has missed this crucial question of limited jurisdiction and has ventured to re-appreciate the evidence and recorded its own findings on percentage of disability for which also there is no basis."

8. In Mackinnon Machenzie v. Ibrahim Mahmmed Issak, (1969) 2 SCC 607, Regional Director, E.S.I. Corporation v. Francis De Costa, (1996) 6 SCC 1, Malikarjuna G. Hiremath v. Branch Manager, Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd., (2009) 13 SCC 405, Shakuntala Chandrakant Shreshti v. Prabhakar Maruti Garvali, (2007) 11 SCC 668, Laxmanrao v. Maharashtra State Electricity Board, 2015 ACJ 2509 and Mewar Textile Mills v. Kushali Bai, (1960) II LLJ 369 similar view is taken.

9. Going by the factual scenario, the deceased was in employment when the incident occurred. The award dated 7th October, 1992 goes on the premise that death occurred during course of employment. While going through the record, it is very clear that this appeal will have to fail and, accordingly, it is held that the deceased died due to employment injuries.

10. The person was covered by insurance which fact is proved, he need not be employee of insurance company. The law is well settled that where employer intimates the amount must be disbursed within one month of incident. Just becauise separate issue is not framed qua payment of interest and penalty will not vitiate the entire order as issue no. 6 relates to what compensation is payable. The Commissioner has dealt exclusively and given cogent reasons for grant of interest and penalty as per Section 4A of the Act which reads as follows:

"[4A. Compensation to be paid when due and penalty for default.--(1) Compensation under section 4 shall be paid as soon as it falls due.

(2) In cases where the employer does not accept the liability for compensation to the extent claimed, he shall be bound to make provisional payment based on the extent of liability which he accepts, and, such payment shall be deposited with the Commissioner or made to the1[employee], as the case may be, without prejudice to the right of the 1[employee] to make any further claim.

3[(3) Where any employer is in default in paying the compensation due under this Act within one month from the date it fell due, the Commissioner shall--

(a) direct that the employer shall, in addition to the amount of the arrears, pay simple interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum or at such higher, rate not exceeding the maximum of the lending rates of any scheduled bank as may be specified by the Central Government by notification in the Official Gazette, on the amount due; and

(b) if, in his opinion, there is no justification for the delay, direct that the employer shall, in addition to the amount of the arrears and interest thereon, pay a further sum not exceeding fifty per cent. of such amount by way of penalty:"

Thus, the right of claimant can not defeated and this Court concurs with the same.

11. In view of the above, the appeal fails and is dismissed. The so called questions of law framed by the Insurance Company are answered against it. In fact the substantial questions of law raised are questions of fact.

12. Interim relief, if any, shall stand vacated forthwith.

13. This court records the absence of learned counsels for the respondents. The penalty if not deposited be deposited forthwith.

14. This Court is thankful to learned counsel for the appellant for getting this very old matter disposed off.

15. The record be transmitted to the Workmen Commissioner.

16. The amount lying in the fixed deposits will be disbursed to the claimants immediately as more than 30 years have elapsed since the appeal was preferred. As none represent respondent, no litigation expenses are awarded.

(2022)05ILR A641
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 23.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE J.J. MUNIR, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 103 of 2001

Employee's State Insurance Corp., Alld.
...Appellant
Versus
Jagdish Prasad ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri A.K. Srivastava, Sri Vipul Kumar

Counsel for the Respondent:
Sri M. jain, Sri Mritujaya

Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948 - Uttar Pradesh Employees' Insurance Courts Rules, 1952 - Rule 47 - Civil Procedure 1908 (V of 1908), Order 13 Rule 4 CPC - Indian Evidence Act, 1872 - Sections 62 & 63 - Secondary Evidence - Manner of proof - objection as to the mode of proof of a document - Sole respondent sustained an injury to his left eye during the course of employment - Before E.S.I. Court employee relied upon photostat copies of medical certificates & treatment papers to establish that the employment injury had led a permanent dimming of vision in the left eye - originals of those certificates and treatment papers have not been filed - No objection raised before the E.S.I. Court about the admissibility of photostat copies of medical certificates - Held - an objection about admissibility of secondary evidence must be taken before the Court of first instance, where the secondary evidence is filed without foundation - If that objection is not taken before the Court, where the evidence is filed on behalf of a party, it cannot be later on urged in appeal - If no objection as to admissibility of photostat copy of the prescription slips showing treatment of the employee to substantiate the claim of permanent disablement, is raised before the E.S.I. Court, same cannot be permitted to be raised before High Court on ground that primary evidence ought to have been filed (Para 9, 15, 21)

employee produced not only just prescription slips about his treatment, but also medical certificates from the eye specialist signed by the Medical Superintendent, Employees State Insurance Hospital and treatment papers to establish that employment injury had led to a permanent dimming of vision in the left eye - treatment was undergone by the employee at the E.S.I. Hospital, Lucknow and is contemporaneous in time to the injury. There is a further report by an eye specialist from the Lala Lajpat Rai Medical College and Hospital, Kanpur dated 15.07.1996, which opines in clear terms that loss of vision is one on account of the injury - with the employee adducing so much of evidence from which the E.S.I. Court has drawn a reasonable conclusion about the existence of a scheduled injury, it cannot be said that the burden has not been discharged by the employee - said finding is a pure finding of fact, based on consideration of relevant evidence - Nothing shown that finding is beset by a flagrant and manifest error of law (Para 22)

Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948 - Burden of proof - Sole respondent sustained an injury to his left eye during the course of employment - Held - The Second Schedule, Part II List Of Injuries Deemed To Result In Permanent Partial Disablement, S. no. 32A. Partial loss of vision of one eye. Percentage of loss of earning capacity 10 % - the injury being a scheduled injury under Serial No. 32-A of Schedule-I appended to the Act, the percentage loss of earning capacity is provided by the Statute itself, not requiring any further evidence to establish it - with the employee adducing so much of evidence from which the E.S.I. Court has drawn a reasonable conclusion about the existence of a scheduled injury, it cannot be said that the burden has not been discharged by the employee (Para 23, 24)

Dismissed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Padman Vs Hanwanta, 1915 (17) BomLR 609

2. Ajjarapu Subbarao Vs Pulla Venkata Rama Rao & ors., AIR 1964 AP 53

3. The Land Acquisition Officer, Vijayawada Thermal Station Vs Nutalapati Venkata Rao, AIR 1991 AP 31

4. R.VsE. Venkatachala Gounder Vs Arulmigu Viswesaraswami & Vs P. Temple & another, (2003) 8 SCC 752

5. Sudha Agarwal Vs VII Additional District Judge,2006 (4) ALJ 545

6. Employees State Insurance Corp. Vs Sarfuddin, 2005 (4) AWC 3289 All

(Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. This is an appeal by the Employees State Insurance Corporation from a judgment and order of Mr. Rangnath Pandey, the then Judge, Employees Insurance Court, Kanpur Nagar, allowing the respondent's appeal and accepting his claim of 10%

2. Jagdish Prasad, the sole respondent to this appeal, was employed as a Piecer with the U.P. State Spinning Mills, Raibareli. On 13.12.1995 at about 09:00 p.m., Jagdish Prasad (hereinafter referred to as "the employee") sustained an injury to his left eye during the course of employment. Upon an application made for reference of the employee's case to the Medical Board to assess the loss of earning capacity due to the accident, the employee's case was referred to the Medical Board. The employee was examined by the Medical Board, which was of opinion that the loss of vision was not related to the employment injury and, therefore, did not award anything for the loss of earning capacity. The decision of the Medical Board, that was rendered on 10.10.1996 as aforesaid, was appealed to the E.S.I. Court by the employee under Section 54A(2)(ii) of the Employees Insurance State Insurance Act, 1948 (for short "the Act"). The appeal was registered on the file of the Judge, Employees Insurance Court, Kanpur on 10.12.1996 as Appeal No. 50 of 1996. The appeal came up for determination before the Judge, Employees Insurance Court on 30.11.2000. It was allowed and the decision of the Medical Board dated 10.10.1996 was set aside, granting benefit of 10% permanent disability to the employee for sustaining a scheduled injury.

3. Aggrieved, the Employees State Insurance Corporation has appealed this decision.

4. This appeal was admitted to hearing on the following substantial questions of law:

(1) A mere photocopy of some prescription slip showing the treatment of the respondent is not enough to substantiate the claim of permanent disablement or permanent loss of earning capacity?

(2) The burden of proof lay upon the respondent-employee to prove the existence of permanent disability arising out of the accident or at least some evidence which would prove that that he has been placed at a job drawing lesser benefits or that he is not being given the periodical increments which his colleagues are getting and in absence of any such evidence on record, whether the court below has erred in passing the impugned judgment/order?

5. Heard Mr. Vipul Kumar, learned counsel for the appellant. No one appears on behalf of the respondent.

6. So far as the first substantial question of law is concerned, it must be remarked that it has not been disputed for a fact that the employee has sustained employment injury to his left eye on 13.12.1995. Now, as to the proof of the consequential loss, the Medical Board, that was convened on 10.10.1996, have rendered opinion to the effect that the loss of vision found to be 6/60 in the left eye is not on account of the employment injury.

7. It is submitted by the learned Counsel for the appellant that before the E.S.I. Court, the employee has relied upon photostat copies of medical certificates and treatment papers to establish that the employment injury had led a permanent dimming of vision in the left eye. The originals of those certificates and treatment papers have not been filed. It is pointed out that in view of the provisions of Rule 47 of the Uttar Pradesh Employees Insurance Court Rules, 1982 (for short "the Rules"), the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (for short "the Act of 1872") would apply to proceedings before the E.S.I. Court 'in respect of matters relating to procedure or admission of evidence, for which no specific provision is made in the Rules.' He submits, therefore, that the provisions of Sections 64 and 65 of the Act of 1872 would apply, forbidding the E.S.I Court from looking into photostat copies of documents relied upon by the employee in support of his case, unless foundation was laid for the reception of secondary evidence.

8. It must be remarked here that a perusal of the record does not show that there was any objection raised before the E.S.I. Court about the admissibility of these documents. No objection has been recorded by the E.S.I. Court, or one that is endorsed on the photostat copies of the documents, that have been taken into consideration by the E.S.I. Court.

9. This Court is of opinion that an objection about admissibility of secondary evidence must be taken before the Court of first instance, where the secondary evidence is filed without foundation. If that objection is not taken before the Court, where the evidence is filed on behalf of a party, it cannot be later on urged in appeal. For this principle, reference may be made to the decision of the Privy Council in Padman v. Hanwanta, 1915 (17) BomLR 609, where in the context of an objection as to the admissibility of a certified copy of the will, the original not being filed before the Trial Court nor any objection being taken to it before that Court, it was held:

"11. The defendants have now appealed to His Majesty in Council, and the case has been argued on their behalf in great detail. It was urged in the course of the argument that a registered copy of the will of 1898 was admitted in evidence without sufficient foundation being laid for its admission. No objection, however, appears to have been taken in the first Court against the copy obtained from the Registrar's office being put in evidence. Had such objection been made at the time, the District Judge, who tried the case in the first instance, would probably have seen that the deficiency was supplied. Their Lordships think that there is no substance in the present contention."

10. The question fell for consideration before a Division Bench of the Andhra Pradesh High Court in Ajjarapu Subbarao vs Pulla Venkata Rama Rao and others, AIR 1964 AP 53. The point was raised and decided in very clear terms by their Lordships thus:

"15. Now, one legal aspect deserves to be pointed out at some length. The learned single Judge has, in respect of the majority of documents mentioned above, stated that they are inadmissible on account of the provisions of Section 65 of the Evidence Act. This view does not appear to us to be tenable. The rule in Section 65 excluding secondary evidence is not so rigid as to be enforced even if no objection was taken at the trial by the party against whom the secondary evidence was offered. When a party has waived proof of circumstances justifying the giving of secondary evidence, he cannot raise the objection in appeal, vide Bacharbhai Mohanlal, AIR 1956 Bom 196. A document can be treated as duly admitted where, its admission without being proved is not objected to by the party affected, vide Latchayya Subudhi v. Seetharamayya, 84 Ind Cas 921 : (AIR 1925 Mad 257). Where the objection to be taken h not that the document is in itself inadmissible, but that the mode of proof put forward is irregular or insufficient, it is essential that the objection should be taken at the trial before it is marked as exhibit and admitted. A party cannot lie by until the case comes in appeal. A strictly formal proof might have been forthcoming had it been insisted on at the trial. The question of proof of a document is a question of procedure and can be waived. On the other hand, questions of relevancy of documents are questions of law and can be raised at the appellate stage as well. There was thus no justification for the learned Judge to have rejected the documents on the mere ground that they are certified copies and not the originals when, as a matter of fact, no such objection was ever taken in the trial Court or even in the memorandum of appeal before the learned Judge."

11 . To similar effect is the holding of the Full Bench of the Andhra Pradesh High Court in The Land Acquisition Officer, Vijayawada Thermal Station v. Nutalapati Venkata Rao, AIR 1991 AP 31, where it is held:

"14. Summarising the position, we hold that any objection as to the mode of proof of a document has to be taken at the stage of marking of a document at the trial under O. 13, R. 4, C.P.C. If no objection is raised at that stage, it cannot be permitted to be raised at any stage subsequently in the same Court or in the Court of appeal. If, for example, the original sale deed or a certified copy thereof is marked as an exhibit without objection, it cannot be contended later that it cannot be looked into as none connected with it has been called as a witness. Point No. I is held accordingly."

12. It was further on remarked in The Land Acquisition Officer, Vijayawada Thermal Station v. Nutalapati Venkata Rao (supra):

"30. Summarising the position, we hold firstly that if secondary evidence is allowed to be marked for one party without objection at the trial, no objection can be permitted to be raised by the opposite party at any later stage in the same Court or in appeal that conditions foradducing secondary evidence have not been made out initially. ....."

13. The question was most wholesomely considered by their Lordships of the Supreme Court in R.V.E. Venkatachala Gounder v. Arulmigu Viswesaraswami & V.P. Temple and another, (2003) 8 SCC 752, thus:

"17. The other document is the rent note executed by Defendant 2 in favour of the plaintiff. Here also the photocopy of the rent note was produced. Defendant 2 when in the witness box was confronted with this document and he admitted to have executed this document in favour of the plaintiff and also admitted the existence of his signature on the document. It is nobody's case that the original rent note was not admissible in evidence. However, secondary evidence was allowed to be adduced without any objection and even in the absence of a foundation for admitting secondary evidence having been laid by the plaintiff.

18. The abovesaid facts have been stated by us in somewhat such detail as would have been otherwise unnecessary, only for the purpose of demonstrating that the objection raised by the defendant-appellant before the High Court related not to the admissibility of the documentary evidence but to the mode and method of proof thereof.

19. Order 13 Rule 4 CPC provides for every document admitted in evidence in the suit being endorsed by or on behalf of the court, which endorsement signed or initialled by the Judge amounts to admission of the document in evidence. An objection to the admissibility of the document should be raised before such endorsement is made and the court is obliged to form its opinion on the question of admissibility and express the same on which opinion would depend the document being endorsed as admitted or not admitted in evidence. In the latter case, the document may be returned by the court to the person from whose custody it was produced.

20. The learned counsel for the defendant-respondent has relied on Roman Catholic Mission v. State of Madras [AIR 1966 SC 1457] in support of his submission that a document not admissible in evidence, though brought on record, has to be excluded from consideration. We do not have any dispute with the proposition of law so laid down in the abovesaid case. However, the present one is a case which calls for the correct position of law being made precise. Ordinarily, an objection to the admissibility of evidence should be taken when it is tendered and not subsequently. The objections as to admissibility of documents in evidence may be classified into two classes: (i) an objection that the document which is sought to be proved is itself inadmissible in evidence; and (ii) where the objection does not dispute the admissibility of the document in evidence but is directed towards the mode of proof alleging the same to be irregular or insufficient. In the first case, merely because a document has been marked as "an exhibit", an objection as to its admissibility is not excluded and is available to be raised even at a later stage or even in appeal or revision. In the latter case, the objection should be taken when the evidence is tendered and once the document has been admitted in evidence and marked as an exhibit, the objection that it should not have been admitted in evidence or that the mode adopted for proving the document is irregular cannot be allowed to be raised at any stage subsequent to the marking of the document as an exhibit. The latter proposition is a rule of fair play. The crucial test is whether an objection, if taken at the appropriate point of time, would have enabled the party tendering the evidence to cure the defect and resort to such mode of proof as would be regular. The omission to object becomes fatal because by his failure the party entitled to object allows the party tendering the evidence to act on an assumption that the opposite party is not serious about the mode of proof. On the other hand, a prompt objection does not prejudice the party tendering the evidence, for two reasons: firstly, it enables the court to apply its mind and pronounce its decision on the question of admissibility then and there; and secondly, in the event of finding of the court on the mode of proof sought to be adopted going against the party tendering the evidence, the opportunity of seeking indulgence of the court for permitting a regular mode or method of proof and thereby removing the objection raised by the opposite party, is available to the party leading the evidence. Such practice and procedure is fair to both the parties. Out of the two types of objections, referred to hereinabove, in the latter case, failure to raise a prompt and timely objection amounts to waiver of the necessity for insisting on formal proof of a document, the document itself which is sought to be proved being admissible in evidence. In the first case, acquiescence would be no bar to raising the objection in a superior court.

23. Since documents Exts. A-30 and A-34 were admitted in evidence without any objection, the High Court erred in holding that these documents were inadmissible being photocopies, the originals of which were not produced."

There is a reference in this decision of their Lordships to the holding of the Privy Council in Padman v. Hanwanta (supra).

14. The decision of the Supreme Court was followed by this Court in Sudha Agarwal v. VII Additional District Judge,2006 (4) ALJ 545.

15. In view of this position of the law, there is no doubt that unless an objection about the admissibility of evidence is taken in the Court of first instance, where the evidence is led, it cannot be raised in appeal for the first time.

16. A copy of the certificate from the eye specialist, that is signed by the Medical Superintendent, Employees State Insurance Hospital, Sarojini Nagar, Lucknow certifies with a reasoned opinion that the dimmed vision is due to the injury in the left eye. There was no objection raised to this report, wherein a photostat copy was filed before the E.S.I. Court, that the original ought to be filed. The appellant ought to have taken it, whereafter the employee could have produced the original. In the absence of an objection taken by the appellant, the specialist's report opining the dimming of vision as one caused due to injury, cannot be held to be inadmissible. The treatment papers, xerox copies whereof have been filed, relate to the E.S.I. Hospital, Lucknow and are contemporaneous in time to the injury. If the appellants had any objection to the photostat copy of the treatment card, they ought to have objected, which they did not, as the record would show. There is a further report by an eye specialist from the Lala Lajpat Rai Medical College and Hospital, Kanpur dated 15.07.1996, which too opines the loss of vision as one on account of injury. Here also, a photostat copy of the treatment card from the Lala Lajpat Rai Hospital has been filed before the E.S.I. Court. About this document also, no objection was raised as to admissibility before the Judge. There being no such objection, as already remarked on behalf of the appellant before the E.S.I. Court, the objection as to admissibility cannot raised before this Court.

17. At this stage, the decision of a learned Single Judge of this Court in Employees State Insurance Corporation v. Sarfuddin, 2005 (4) AWC 3289 All, where, in very similar circumstances, reliance on photostat copies by the E.S.I. Court in an appeal from the Medical Board's decision was not favoured by this Court on the strength of Rule 47 of the Rules, has been pressed in aid of the appellant's case. In Employees State Insurance Corporation v. Sarfuddin (supra), it was held:

"14. In the present case no oral evidence of any of the parties was recorded. According to Rule 47 of the Rules, 1952 "in respect of matters relating to procedure or admission of evidence for which no specific provision is made in this rule, the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 (V of 1908) including the Rules made thereunder and the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (1 of 1872) shall so far as may be, apply to proceedings under the Act." There is no evidentiary value of photostat document unless the original is produced and proved by the author of the same in the manner laid down by the Indian Evidence Act. But in the instant case, neither the original was produced/summoned nor the doctor (ENT expert) was examined."

18. It must be remarked in this connection that in the decision of this Court in Employees State Insurance Corporation v. Sarfuddin, the point was neither raised nor considered, though involved, whether the failure to raise an objection before the Court of first instance about the admissibility of secondary evidence would disentitle the party from raising it and questioning its admissibility in appeal. The entire principle, that objection as to admissibility about the mode of proof must be taken before the Court of first instance, was not at all considered by the learned Judge rendering the decision in Employees State Insurance Corporation v. Sarfuddin.

19. This issue was never raised, argued or considered by the learned Judge in Employee State Insurance Corporation v. Sarfuddin. Thus, the said point or issue passed sub silentio and the decision in the aforesaid case is not a binding precedent on the question involved and decided here. The said decision was concerned only with the principle that the Act of 1872 applies to proceedings before the E.S.I. Court and, therefore, primary evidence has to be led and secondary evidence is not admissible, except in accordance with the provisions of the Act of 1872. It is not a binding precedent at all on the principle about the effect of non-raising of the plea of admissibility of secondary evidence in the Court of first instance and the consequent bar of raising it for the first time in appeal before this Court. The said decision does not at all, therefore, come to the appellant's aid here.

20. The other limb of the substantial question of law is centered around the issue whether on the basis of some prescription slips showing treatment of the employee, a claim about permanent disablement or permanent loss of earning capacity can be inferred. Indeed, the evidence here shows that it is just not prescription slips that the employee has relied upon to substantiate his claim. It includes a certificate from the eye specialist that is signed by Medical Superintendent, E.S.I. Hospital, Sarojini Nagar, Lucknow, which certifies with a reasoned opinion that the dimmed vision suffered by the employee is on account of the employment injury in the left eye. There is a further report by an eye specialist from Lala Lajpat Rai Medical College and Hospital dated 15.07.1996, which opines in clear terms that loss of vision suffered by the employee is on account of an employment injury. This part of the present substantial question overlaps with the subject matter of Substantial Question of Law No. 2 and would be answered in greater detail while dealing with the second question. It is for this reason that the present question was urged by the appellant more with regard to the issue of secondary evidence, the other part being spared for consideration, while addressing on the Substantial Question of Law No. 2. Suffice it to say here that it is not on the basis of prescription slips alone that inference about permanent disablement has been drawn in favour of the employee.

21. Substantial Question of Law No. (1) is, accordingly, decided in terms that a photostat copy of the prescription slips showing treatment of the employee, if not raised about their admissibility to substantiate the claim of permanent disablement before the E.S.I. Court, cannot be permitted to be raised before this Court on ground that primary evidence ought to have been filed. Also, the employee's claim to permanent disability is not based on mere prescription slips, but on better and relevant evidence.

22. So far as the second substantial question of law is concerned, the employee has produced not only just prescription slips about his treatment, but also medical certificates and treatment papers to establish that the employment injury had led to a permanent dimming of vision in the left eye. There is a copy of the certificate from the eye specialist that is signed by the Medical Superintendent, Employees State Insurance Hospital, Sarojini Nagar, Lucknow, which certifies with a reasoned opinion that dimmed vision is due to the employment injury in the left eye. The treatment too was undergone by the employee at the E.S.I. Hospital, Lucknow and is contemporaneous in time to the injury. There is a further report by an eye specialist from the Lala Lajpat Rai Medical College and Hospital, Kanpur dated 15.07.1996, which opines in clear terms that loss of vision is one on account of the injury. Now, from all these documents filed before the E.S.I. Court, a well reasoned inference has been drawn about a permanent damage to vision in the left eye, which is a scheduled injury under the Act. The said finding is a pure finding of fact, based on consideration of relevant evidence. Nothing has been shown to this Court by the learned Counsel for the appellant as to how that finding is beset by a flagrant and manifest error of law.

23. So far as the question of burden of proof is concerned, with the employee adducing so much of evidence from which the E.S.I. Court has drawn a reasonable conclusion about the existence of a scheduled injury, it cannot be said that the burden has not been discharged by the employee.

24. Insofar as the loss of benefits in consequence of the injury is concerned, the injury being a scheduled injury under Serial No. 32-A of Schedule-I appended to the Act, the percentage loss of earning capacity is provided by the Statute itself, not requiring any further evidence to establish it.

25. Substantial Question of Law No. (2) is, accordingly, answered in the negative in the aforesaid terms.

26. In the result, the appeal fails and stands dismissed.

27. There shall, however, be no order as to costs.

(2022)05ILR A649
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 22.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 146 of 2017

Smt. Resha Gupta & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Sayeed Ahmad & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Vidya Kant Shukla

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Pawan Kumar Singh

Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - accident occurred on 16.12.2014, deceased was 32 years of age at the time of accident and was in self business having his business -his income was considered by the Tribunal to be Rs.2,89,850/- per annum, which is just - deceased was in the age bracket of 31-35, therefore 40% of the income will have to be added as future loss of income - deduction of 1/3rd granted by the Tribunal is just and proper as the dependents on deceased were widow, mother and a six year old minor daughter. The multiplier of 17 granted by the Tribunal would be recalculated as 16 - amount under non-pecuniary heads should be at least Rs.1,00,000 - deceased was driving car which is a smaller vehicle compared to truck - driver of the truck did not step into the witness box though he is best witness - charge sheet laid was against the driver of truck - finding of Tribunal upheld that the deceased was 25% negligent and was co-author of accident - interest should be 7.5% - from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited (Para 6, 9, 10, 11)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors., 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050

2. Sarla Verma Vs Delhi Transport Corp., (2009) 6 SCC 121

3. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs Smt. Renu Singh & ors. First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 decided on 19.7.2016

4. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors., 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

5. A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442

6. Smt. Hansagauri P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Vidya Kant Shukla, learned counsel for the appellants, Sri Pawan Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the respondent-insurance company and perused the judgment and order impugned.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 20.10.2016 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Kanpur Nagar (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.No.61 of 2015 awarding a sum of Rs.24,74,984/- with interest at the rate of 7% as compensation As the appeal can be decided on settled legal position for calculation and hence record and paper book by consent of all we dispensed, so that both both competing parties can be benefited for the insurance company can save huge interest.

3. The accident and involvement of vehicle is not in dispute. The respondent has not challenged the liability imposed on them. The only issue to be decided by this Court is, the quantum of compensation awarded. The age of of the deceased as decided by Tribunal has attained finality.

4. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellant that the deceased was 32 years of age at the time of accident and was in self business having his business in the name of s M/s Tulsi Industries . His income was considered by the Tribunal to be Rs.2,89,850/- per annum, is also not in dispute. It is further submitted that the Tribunal has not granted any amount towards future loss of income of the deceased which should be granted in view of the decision in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050. It is further submitted that the amount granted under non-pecuniary damages are on the lower side and it should be as per the decision in Pranay Sethi (Supra). Unfortunate aspect is that the Tribunal did not award any amount under the head of future loss of income and granted only Rs.15,000/- for non pecuniary damages and deducted 25% holding deceased guilty of contributory negligence.

5. As against this, learned counsel for the Insurance Company has submitted that the award does not require any interference as the date of accident is 16.12.2014 and the decision of the Tribunal is prior to the judgment of National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050 and therefore the Tribunal has not committed any error in not granting the future loss of income and the amount for non pecuniary damages granted are as per U.P. Motor Vehicles Rules, 1998 (hereinafter referred to as the U.P. Rules, 1998").

6. Heard the learned counsels for the parties and considered the factual data. This Court finds that the accident occurred on 16.12.2014 causing death of Ashutosh Gupta who was 32 years of age at the time of accident. The Tribunal has assessed his income to be Rs.2,89,850/- per year which according to this Court is just and proper, looking to his vocation. To which as the deceased was in the age bracket of 31-35, 40% of the income will have to be added as future loss of income, in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra). The deduction of 1/3rd granted by the Tribunal is just and proper as the dependents on deceased were widow, mother and a six year old minor daughter. The multiplier of 17 granted by the Tribunal would be recalculated as 16 as per the judgment of Supreme Court in Sarla Verma Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation, (2009) 6 SCC 121. The amount under non-pecuniary heads should be at least Rs.1,00,000/- in view of the decision in Pranay Sethi (Supra) as every three years 10% (rounded to Rs.3,000/-) be added to Rs.70,000/-. In view of the facts and circumstances of the case, this Court feels no interference is called for as far as deduction of personal expenses is concerned.

7. The principle of contributory negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or is author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place.

8. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under :

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.

20. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

*21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (*per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side."

emphasis added

9. This Court is in complete agreement with the finding of facts as far as negligence is concerned as we concur with the finding of Tribunal as the deceased was driving car which is a smaller vehicle compared to truck. The driver of the truck did not step into the witness box though he is best witness. The charge sheet laid was against the driver of truck. The driver is suppose to be more cautious and therefore we uphold the finding of Tribunal that the deceased be held 25% negligent and was co-author of accident.

10. The total compensation payable is recalculated and is computed herein below:

i. Annual Income Rs.2,89,850/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.1,15,940/-

iii. Total income: Rs.2,89,850/- + Rs.1,15,940/- = Rs.4,05,790/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3rd towards personal expenses : Rs.2,70,527/-

v. Multiplier applicable : 16

vi. Loss of dependency: Rs.2,70,527 x 16 = Rs.43,28,432/-

vii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.1,00,000/- + Rs.50,000/- to minor daughter

viii. Total compensation : Rs.44,78,432/-

ix. Compensation payable to claimants after deductions of 25% negligence on the part of the deceased : Rs.44,78,432/- - Rs.11,19,608/- = Rs.33,58,824/-.

11. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, the interest should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.), wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

12. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Award and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the difference of amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

13. Claimants will give their saving account number to the Tribunal once the amounts are deposited. The disbursement would be directly paid to the bank account of the claimants and rest of the amount will be kept in fixed deposit in the name of claimants, minor daughter and mother for a period of three years as more than eight years have elapsed after the accident have taken place.

14. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment is not passed because applicants /claimants are neither illiterate or rustic villagers.

15. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansagauri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

16. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly as per above direction. The Tribunal shall draw fresh award as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and not blindly apply the judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

(2022)05ILR A654
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 19.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 235 of 2014

Ashok Kumar ...Appellant
Versus
Smt. Chhinamalu & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri B.P. Verma

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Ashok Kumar Srivastava, Sri Amaresh Sinha, Sri Anubhav Sinha

Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act,1988 - Section - 168 - Motor Accident claim - Injured Claimant - future loss of income - claimant, a mechanical engineer in Navy, was injured in road accident and his right leg was amputated - Tribunal held that as the appellant is still in service and getting salary as per rules, he cannot be said to have suffered loss of income - Held - even if a person, who is in employment but has suffered due to accidental injuries, he would be entitled to claim compensation -

In the present case due to amputation of leg, promotions were not granted to the appellant and due to denial of promotion, he would have future financial loss during service and even after service, he will have loss of post retirement pensionary benefits, hence there is a big loss of future income, which should be granted - claimant, a mechanical engineer in Navy, was aged about 22 years at the time of accident hence for loss of future earning, 50% would be added to the income & multiplier of 18 would be applied (Para 19)

B. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim – claimant injured in road accident & his right leg was amputated - disability certificate issued by competent doctor showed permanent disability to the extent of 80% but the learned Tribunal reduced the percentage of disability to 50% - Held - evidence goes to show that the appellant is working in his office and getting salary, hence his functional disability is considered to the tune of 40% (Para 19)

C. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act,1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Injured Claimant – claimant, a mechanical engineer in Navy, was injured in road accident and his right leg was amputated - service certificate on record shows total salary of the appellant at Rs. 15,198/- per month out of which Rs. 2,313/- got deducted towards various deductions - salary after deduction is Rs. 12,885/- per month - amount payable to the appellant as compensation - For permanent disability : Rs. 16,69,952 - Artificial limb : Rs. 1,00,000 - Pain shock suffering : Rs. 1,00,000 - Loss of amenities : Rs. 2,00,000 - Special diet : Rs. 20,000 - Total : Rs. 20,89,852 - Respondent Insurance Company shall deposit the amount with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited (Para 23)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Karthik Subramanian Vs B. Sarath Babu & ors., 2021 (2) TAC 2 1

2. Erudhaya Priya Vs State Express Transport Corp. Ltd., 2020 (3) TAC 1

3. The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. Vs Satish Chandra Sharma & anr., Special Leave to Appeal (C) No.14350 of 2019, decided on 23.2.2022

4. Shivdhar Kumar Vashiya Vs Ranjeet Singh & ors., Civil Appeal No.433 of 2022, decided on 21.1.2022

5. Anisa Begum Vs Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. & ors., F.A.F.O. No.1418 of 2007, decided on 23.3.2022

6. Anoop Maheshwari Vs Shiv Kumar Singh & ors., FAFO No.3750 of 2009, decided on 7.3.2022

7. Rashmita Biswal & ors. Vs Divisional Manager, National Insurance Co. Ltd. & anr., 2021 0 Supreme (SC) 805

8. Smt. Sarla Verma & ors. Vs Delhi 3 Transport Corporation & anr., reported in 2009 ACJ 1298 & Raj Kumar Vs Ajay Kumar & anr., 2010 0 Supreme (SC) 991

9. U.O.I. & ors. Vs Ashwathanarayan S. Sharma, 1993 (1) G.L.H.1044

10. Raj Kumar Vs Ajay Kumar & anr. (2011) 1 SCC 343

11. Syed. Sadiq & ors. Vs Divisional Manager, United India Insurance Co. Ltd., (2014) 2 SCC 735

12. Kajal Vs Jagdish Chand reported in 2020 (0) AIJEL-SC 65725

13. K. Suresh Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd. & ors. (2012) 12 scc 274,

14. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Lavkush & anr., 2018 (1) TAC 431

15. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors., 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 105

16. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors., 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. Heard Sri B.P. Verma for the appellant, Sri Anubhav Sinha for New India Assurance Company Limited and Sri Ashok Kumar Srivastava for the National Insurance Company Limited.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 28.10.2013 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Addl. District Judge, Court Room No.20, Agra (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.P. No. 157 of 2010 awarding a sum of Rs. 7,38,000/- with interest at the rate of 7% as compensation.

3. The brief relevant facts are that a claim petition was filed by the appellant-claimant, who was injured in road accident and his right leg was amputated. It is averment in plaint that the injured was serving in Indian Navy. On 9.4.2009 he was going with one Satish Kumar on motorcycle bearing no. AP04G 1840 from guard-room to his unit. Motorcycle was being driven by Satish Kumar. A car No.AP31TV-0145 came from opposite direction and by driving rashly and negligently its driver dashed the car with the motorcycle. In this accident, the appellant sustained serious injuries and his right leg was amputated. At the time of accident, he was mechanical engineer in Navy and was getting salary Rs. 18,000/- per month.

4. The accident is not in dispute. Insurance company did not object to the liability to pay compensation except the quantum. Issue of negligence has not been challenged by respondent. Now, there remains only the question of quantum of compensation to be decided.

5. Learned Counsel for the appellant submitted that in the accident, the appellant sustained serious injuries. His right leg sustained compound fractures. At last during the treatment, the leg of the appellant was amputated from the knee joint and he became permanently disabled. It is further submitted that disability certificate showing permanent disability to the extent of 80% was issued by competent doctor but the learned Tribunal reduced the percentage of disability to 50% and hence less compensation was awarded. It was also submitted that the appellant was treated in government hospital and his expenditure on treatment were Rs. 15,000/- which was not granted by the Tribunal.

6. Learned Counsel for the appellant submitted that the Tribunal reduced the percentage of disability to 50% for body as a whole even then compensation for disability was not awarded as per decisions cited by claimant and it was held by the Tribunal that as the appellant is still in service and getting salary as per rules, he cannot be said to have suffered loss of income. He had loss of income only for going and coming back to the office and the same was considered only Rs. 3,000/- per month as future loss of income. It is submitted by learned Counsel that due to amputation of leg, promotions were not granted to the appellant hence there is a big loss of future income, which should be granted.

7. Learned Counsel for the appellant-claimant has heavily relied on the decisions of the Apex Court in Karthik Subramanian Vs. B. Sarath Babu and others, 2021 (2) TAC 1, Erudhaya Priya Vs. State Express Transport Corporation Ltd., 2020 (3) TAC 1 The New India Assurance Company Ltd. Vs. Satish Chandra Sharma and another, Special Leave to Appeal (C) No.14350 of 2019, decided on 23.2.2022, and Shivdhar Kumar Vashiya Vs. Ranjeet Singh and others, Civil Appeal No.433 of 2022, decided on 21.1.2022, and has contended that even if a person, who is in employment but has suffered due to accidental injuries, he would be entitled to claim compensation. The learned Counsel for the appellant has further relied on the decisions of the Apex Court in the case of Anisa Begum mother of deceased Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Lted and others, F.A.F.O. No.1418 of 2007, decided on 23.3.2022 and the same would enure for the benefit of the appellant also and the decision in Anoop Maheshwari Vs. Shiv Kumar Singh and others, FAFO No.3750 of 2009, decided on 7.3.2022 will also enure for the benefit of the appellant. It is also submitted that only Rs. 50,000/- was awarded for pain shock suffering and a very meagre amount of Rs. 20,000/- was awarded for loss of amenities.

8. Learned Counsel for the Insurance company vehemently opposed the submissions made by the appellant and submitted that the certificate of 80% disability is not for the whole body disability of the appellant. The appellant is government servant and still working in his office as before the accident. Hence, he has no loss of earning capacity. Hence, the learned Tribunal has rightly considered Rs.3,000/- as loss of future income. The compensation on other heads is also sufficiently awarded which call for no interference by this Court.

9. Learned Counsel has relied on the decision in R*ashmita Biswal and others Vs. Divisional Manager, National Insurance Company Ltd. And another, 2021 0 Supreme (SC) 805, *Smt. Sarla Verma and others Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and another, reported in 2009 ACJ 1298 and Raj Kumar Vs. Ajay Kumar and another, 2010 0 Supreme (SC) 991.

10. The learned Counsel for the respondents has also relied on the judgment of Satish Chandra (supra) and has contended that the appellant has been adequately compensated and the injury certificate was not for entire body. He is not immobilized. He can perform his daily job and, therefore, no amount be added and the appeal requires to be dismissed (Union of India and others Versus Ashwathanarayan S. Sharma, 1993 (1) G.L.H.1044).

11. It is admitted fact that appellant was government servant in armed forces. The appellant is still working in his office. The claimant would loss future income. A perusal of impugned judgment shows that just compensation is not awarded by the Tribunal.

12. Before computation of compensation, it is worth mentioning that the principles regarding the determination of just compensation, contemplated under the Motor Vehicles Act (hereinafter referred to as "MV Act') are well settled in view of the decision in Raj Kumar Vs. Ajay Kumar and another, reported in (2011) 1 SCC 343 and Syed. Sadiq and others Vs. Divisional Manager, United India Insurance Company Limited, (2014) 2 SCC 735 Injuries caused deprivation to the body, which entitles the claimant to claim damages. It is impossible to compensate human sufferings and personal deprivation with money. However, this is what the MV Act enjoins upon the courts to do. The Court has to make a judicious attempt to award damages so that the claimant or the victim may be compensated for the loss suffered by him. The damages may vary according to the gravity of the injuries sustained by the claimant in an accident. On account of injury, the claimant may suffer consequential loss such as loss of earnings as well as future earnings, medical expenditure, special diet and attendant charges etc. Victim may suffer non-pecuniary damages also in the form of loss of pleasure of life by particular limb of the body. In this way, damages can be pecuniary as well as non-pecuniary. The Court/Tribunal should keep in mind that compensation awarded must be just compensation because the damages assessed for personal injuries should be substantial to compensate the injured for the deprivation suffered by him throughout his life.

13. Recently the Apex Court in Kajal Vs. Jagdish Chand reported in 2020 (0) AIJEL-SC 65725, has quoted pertinent observations from a very old case Philips Vs. Western Railway Company (1874) 4QBD 406 as under:

"You cannot put the plaintiff back again into his original position, but you must bring your reasonable common sense to bear, and you must always recollect that this is the only occasion on which compensation can be given. The plaintiff can never sue again for it. You have, therefore, now to give him compensation once and for all. He has done no wrong, he has suffered a wrong at the hands of the defendants and you must take care to give him full fair compensation for that which he has suffered." Besides, the Tribunals should always remember that the measures of damages in all these cases "should be such as to enable even a tortfeasor to say that he had amply atoned for his misadventure."

14. Hon'ble Apex Court has further quoted pertinent observations from a very old case H. West & Son Ltd. v. Shephard 1963 2 WLR 1359 as under:

"Money may be awarded so that something tangible may be procured to replace something else of the like nature which has been destroyed or lost. But money cannot renew a physical frame that has been battered and shattered. All that Judges and courts can do is to award sums which must be regarded as giving reasonable compensation. In the process there must be the endeavour to secure some uniformity in the general method of approach. By common assent awards must be reasonable and must be assessed with moderation. Furthermore, it is eminently desirable that so far as possible comparable injuries should be compensated by comparable awards.

In the same case Lord Devlin observed that the proper approach to the problem was to adopt a test as to what contemporary society would deem to be a fair sum, such as would allow the wrongdoer to "hold up his head among his neighbours and say with their approval that he has done the fair thing", which should be kept in mind by the court in determining compensation in personal injury cases."

15. Section 168 of MV Act stipulates that there should be grant of just compensation. Thus, it becomes challenge for a Court of law to determine just compensation which should not be bonanza for the claimant/victim and at the same time it should not be too meagre.

16. The Apex Court in Rajkumar Vs Ajay Kumar and others (2011) 1 SCC 343 has laid down the heads under which compensation is to be awarded for personal injuries which is as follows:

"Pecuniary damages (Special damages)

(I) Expenses relating to treatment, hospitalization, medicines, transportation, nourishing food, and miscellaneous expenditure.

(ii) Loss of earnings (and other gains) which the injured would have made had he not been injured, comprising:

(a) Loss of earning during the period of treatment;

(b) Loss of future earnings on account of permanent disability.

(iii) Future medical expenses.

Non-pecuniary damages (General damages)

(iv) Damages for pain, suffering and trauma as a consequence of the injuries.

(v) Loss of amenities (and/or loss of prospects of marriage).

(vi) Loss of expectation of life (shortening of normal longevity).

In routine personal injury cases, compensation will be awarded only under heads (i), (ii) (a) and (iv). It is only in serious cases of injury, where there is specific medical evidence corroborating the evidence of the claimant, that compensation will be granted under any of the heads (ii)(b), (iii), (v) and (vi) relating to loss of future earnings on account of permanent disability, future medical expenses, loss of amenities (and/or loss of prospects of marriage) and loss of expectation of life.

17. In K. Suresh v. New India Assurance Company Ltd. and Ors. (2012) 12 scc 274, Hon'ble the Apex Court has held as follows :

"2...There cannot be actual compensation for anguish of the heart or for mental tribulations. The quintessentiality lies in the pragmatic computation of the loss sustained which has to be in the realm of realistic approximation. Therefore, Section 168 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 (for brevity the Act) stipulates that there should be grant of just compensation. Thus, it becomes a challenge for a court of law to determine just compensation which is neither a bonanza nor a windfall, and simultaneously, should not be a pittance."

18. We have perused the judgment of Division Bench of this Court in the case of National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Lavkush and another, 2018 (1) TAC 431, in which the concept of just compensation is discussed elaborately.

19. The injured appellant was getting salary from his office for which he has produced salary certificate on record. Learned Counsel for the appellant has submitted that he was getting salary of Rs. 18,000/- per month. The service certificate on record shows total salary of the appellant at Rs. 15,198/- per month out of which Rs. 2,313/- got deducted towards various deductions. Hence, salary after deduction is Rs. 12,885/- per month which is relevant for computation of compensation. PW-3 is an employee of Indian Navy, who had appeared before the learned Tribunal and deposed that due to amputation of leg, the appellant could not get promotions and due to denial of promotion, he would have future financial loss during service and even after service, he will have loss of post retirement pensionary benefits. In our opinion, this is big loss of future earning. Hence, learned Tribunal has committed error by considering only Rs. 3,000/- per month towards loss of future earning and computed it in a wrong way. Hence, for loss of future earning, 50% would be added to the income as held by the Apex Court and also in case titled National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 105, which would be Rs.6,442/-, hence, total income comes to Rs.19,327/-. The age of the appellant was 22 years at the time of accident hence as per Sarla Verma's case, the multiplier of 18 would be applied, which would be Rs.41,74,632/-. Although the certificate of disability is issued which shows the disability to the extent of 80% but this is not the whole body disability. The evidence goes to show that the appellant is working in his office and getting salary as per Rules hence his functional disability is considered to the tune of 40%, hence, he would be entitled to get Rs. 16,69,852/- for permanent disability and future earning. The appellant would also be entitled to Rs. 1,00,000/- for artificial limb and for future medicines (post retirement) Rs. 1,00,000/- for pain, shock, suffering. Rs. 2,00,000/- shall be granted to the appellant for loss of amenities. The Tribunal has granted Rs. 20,000/- for special diet which we affirm. As far as the submission of appellant is concerned that he has spent Rs.15,000/- for treatment, learned Tribunal has held in this regard that no such bills or receipt is filed on record. We concur with the findings of the Tribunal as far as medical expenses are concerned as he may have been reimbursed by his employer.

20. On the basis of the above discussions, the amount payable to the appellant as compensation is computed herein below:-

(i) For permanent disability : Rs. 16,69,952/-

(ii) Artificial limb : Rs. 1,00,000/-

(iii) Pain shock suffering : Rs. 1,00,000/-

(iv) Loss of amenities : Rs. 2,00,000/-

(v) Special diet : Rs. 20,000/-

Total : Rs. 20,89,852/- (Rs.20,90,000/- round up)

21. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, the interest should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs.

Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.), wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

22. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

23. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited within a period of 12 weeks from today. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

24. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein.

(2022)05ILR A661
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 01.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 316 of 2012

Smt. Vinita Kesarwani & Ors. ...Appellant
Versus
The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Neeraj Singh, Sri Sharve Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Ashok Kumar Jaiswal, Sri S.N. Mishra, Sri Siddharth Jaiswal

Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Negligence - on the intervening night of 7/8.3.1998 at 00.30 am truck being driven rashly and negligently dashed the Maruti Car coming from opposite direction causing instantaneous death of driver of Maruti car- Deceased was 39 years of the age at the time of accident, was doing wholesale trading in fruits and was earning Rs.20,000/- per month - deceased was survived by his widow, two minor children and mother – Held - there was a head on collision between car and the truck - Tribunal rightly held the deceased negligent to the tune of 50% - Deceased income in the Income Tax Return was Rs. 1,20,000, the income of the deceased would be considered to be Rs.1,20,000 per annum - as per postmortem report, the deceased was 40 years of age, hence, addition towards future loss of income would be 25% - accident took place in the year 1998, the deceased was survived by two minor children and widow Court awarded Rs.50,000/- to the widow and Rs.40,000/- each to the minor children - rate of interest should be 3% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount if deposited and till then 6% if the same has not been paid along with interest (Para 14, 15, 16, 18, 20)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. National Insurance Comp. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors., 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 105

2. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs Smt. Renu Singh & ors. First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 decided on 19.7.2016

3. Archit Saini & anr. Vs Oriental Insurance Company Limited, AIR 2018 SC 1143

4. A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442

5. Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Comp. Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291

6. Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr. Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001

7. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Comp. Pvt. Ltd. Vs Union of India & ors. vide order dated 27.1.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Sri Sharve Singh, learned counsel for the appellants and Sri Siddarth Jaiswal, learned Advocate appearing Sri Ashok Kumar Jaiswal, learned counsel for the respondent.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 27.9.2011 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Special Judge, (SC/ST Act), Allahabad (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in Claim Petition No. 292 of 1998 awarding a sum of Rs.3,09,500/-.

3. Brief facts of the case are on the intervening night of 7/8.3.1998 at 00.30 am. on Allahabad-Kanpur Road near Chauphatka which lies within the jurisdiction of Police Station Cantt, Allahabad, the truck bearing No.MP17A/0066, which was being driven rashly and negligently dashed the Maruti Car No.UGV-4647 from opposite direction causing instantaneous death of Vinod Kumar Kesarwani who was driving the Maruti Car.

4 . Deceased- Vinod Kumar Kesarwani was 39 years of the age at the time of accident, was doing wholesale trading in fruits and was earning Rs.20,000/- per month. The deceased was survived by his widow, two minor children and mother. The Tribunal has considered his income to be Rs.5,000/- per month, deducted 1/3rd towards personal expenses of the deceased, granted multiplier of 15, granted Rs.9,500/- under non-pecuniary heads and ultimately assessed the total compensation to be Rs.6,00,000/-. The Tribunal held the deceased-who was driving the Car negligent to the tune of 50% and apportioned the amount of compensation to the tune of 50%. The claimants were therefore granted amount of Rs.3,00,000/- plus Rs. 9,500/- as compensation.

5. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the Tribunal has fallen in error in holding the deceased negligent to the tune of 50%. It is submitted that the Tribunal has failed to consider the evidence on record which proves that the accident in question was caused due to rash and negligent driving of the driver of Truck No.MP-17A-0066 and that the Tribunal has failed to consider the pleadings as well as evidence which clearly establish that the deceased was driving car carefully and cautiously.

6. It is further submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that Tribunal did not grant any amount for future loss of income of the deceased and also the amount awarded under non-pecuniary heads granted by the Tribunal is on the lower side and should be enhanced in view of the the decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 105. Lastly, learned counsel for the appellant has submitted that the Tribunal has not granted interest on the compensation which is bad in the eye of law.

7. As against this, Sri Siddarth Jaiswal, learned counsel for the respondent-Insurance Company submits that as far as the issue of negligence is concerned, the Tribunal has rightly held the deceased negligent to the tune of 50% as there is head on collision and therefore, it cannot be said that the driver of the truck was solely negligent.

8. It is further submitted by learned counsel for the respondent that the quantum of compensation and non-grant of interest by the Tribunal is just and proper and does not call for any interference by this Court.

9. Having heard the learned counsel for the parties, let us consider the negligence from the perspective of the law laid down.

10. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental though it is normally accidental. More particularly, it connotes reckless driving and the injured must always prove that the either side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply.

11. The principle of contributory negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or is co author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place and that amount will be deducted from the compensation payable to him if he is injured and to legal representatives if he dies in the accident.

12. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under :

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.

20. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side." emphasis added

13. A similar view has been taken by the Apex Court in Archit Saini and Another Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Limited, AIR 2018 SC 1143 wherein the finding of the Tribunal was upheld by adverting to the same more particularly the Apex Court has upheld the finding in paragraph 21 to 27 in its judgment. The paragraph 5 of the said Apex Court's judgment is reproduced hereinbelow:

"5.The respondents had opposed the claim petition and denied their liability but did not lead any evidence on the relevant issue to dispel the relevant fact. The Tribunal after analysing the evidence, including the site map (Ext. P-45) produced on record along with charge-sheet filed against the driver of the Gas Tanker and the arguments of the respondents, answered Issue 1 against the respondents in the following words:

"21. Our own Hon'ble High Court in a case captioned Lakhu Singh v. Uday Singh [Lakhu Singh v. Uday Singh, 2007 SCC OnLine P&H 865 : PLR (2007) 4 P&H 507] held that while considering a claim petition, the Tribunal is required to hold an enquiry and act not as criminal court so as to find whether the claimants have established the occurrence beyond shadow of any reasonable doubt. In the enquiry, if there is prima facie evidence of the occurrence there is no reason to disbelieve such evidence. The statements coupled with the facts of registration of FIR and trial of the accused in a criminal court are sufficient to arrive at a conclusion that the accident has taken place. Likewise, in Kusum Lata v. Satbir [Kusum Lata v. Satbir, (2011) 3 SCC 646 : (2011) 2 SCC (Civ) 37 : (2011) 2 SCC (Cri) 18 : (2011) 2 RCR (Civil) 379] the Hon'ble Apex Court has held that in a case relating to motor accident claims, the claimants are not required to rove the case as it is required to be done in a criminal trial. The Court must keep this distinction in mind. Strict proof of an accident caused by a particular bus in a particular manner may not be possible to be done by the claimants. The claimants were merely to establish their case on the touchstone of preponderance of probability. The standard of proof beyond reasonable doubt could not have been applied.

22. After considering the submissions made by both the parties, I find that PW 7 Sohan Lal eyewitness to the occurrence has specifically stated in his affidavit Ext. PW 7/A tendered in his evidence that on 15-12-2011 at about 20.30 p.m. he along with PHG Ajit Singh was present near Sanjha Chulha Dhaba on the National Highway leading to Jammu. All the traffic of road was diverted on the eastern side of the road on account of closure of road on western side due to construction work. In the meantime a Maruti car bearing No. HR 02 K 0448 came from Jammu side and struck against the back of Gas Tanker as the driver of the car could not spot the parked tanker due to the flashlights of the oncoming traffic from front side. Then they rushed towards the spot of accident and noticed that the said tanker was standing parked in the middle of the road without any indicators or parking lights.

23. The statement of this witness clearly establishes that this was the sole negligence on the part of the driver of the Gas Tanker especially when the accident was caused on 15-12-2011 that too at about 10.30 p.m. which is generally time of pitch darkness. In this way, the driver of the car cannot be held in any way negligent in this accident. Moreover, as per Rule 15 of the Road Regulations, 1989 no vehicle is to be parked on busy road.

24. The arguments of the learned counsel for the respondent that PW 7 Sohan Lal has stated in his cross-examination that there was no fog at that time and there were lights on the Dhaba and the truck was visible to him due to light of Dhaba and he was standing at the distance of 70 ft from the truck being road between him and the truck and he noticed at the car when he heard voice/sound caused by the accident so Respondent 1 is not at all negligent in this accident but these submissions will not make the car driver to be in any way negligent and cannot give clean chit to the driver of the Gas Tanker because there is a difference between the visibility of a standing vehicle from a place where the person is standing and by a person who is coming driving the vehicle because due to flashlights of vehicles coming from front side the vehicle coming from opposite side cannot generally spot the standing vehicle in the road that too in night-time when there is neither any indicator or parking lights nor blinking lights nor any other indication given on the back of the stationed vehicle, therefore, the driver of the car cannot be held to be in any way negligent rather it is the sole negligence on the part of the driver of the offending Gas Tanker as held inGinni Devi case [Ginni Devi v. Union of India, 2007 SCC OnLine P&H 126 : 2008 ACJ 1572] , Mohan Lal case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Mohan Lal, 2006 SCC OnLine All 459 : (2007) 1 ACC 785 (All)] . It is not the case of the respondent that the parking lights of the standing truck were on or there were any other indication on the backside of the vehicle standing on the road to enable the coming vehicle to see the standing truck. The other arguments of the learned counsel for Respondent 3 that the road was sufficient wide road and that the car driver could have avoided the accident, so the driver of the car was himself negligent in causing the accident cannot be accepted when it has already been held that the accident has been caused due to sole negligence of the driver of the offending stationed truck in the busy road. The proposition of law laid down in Harbans Kaur case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Harbans Kaur, 2010 SCC OnLine P&H 7441 : (2010) 4 PLR 422 (P&H)] and T.M. Chayapathi case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. T.M. Chayapathi, 2004 SCC OnLine AP 484 : (2005) 4 ACC 61] is not disputed at all but these authorities are not helpful to the respondents being not applicable on the facts and circumstances of the present case. Likewise, non-examination of minor children of the age of 14 and 9 years who lost their father and mother in the accident cannot be held to be in any way detrimental to the case of the claimants when eyewitness to the occurrence has proved the accident having been caused by the negligence of Respondent 1 driver of the offending vehicle.

25. Moreover, in Girdhari Lal v. Radhey Shyam [Girdhari Lal v. Radhey Shyam, 1993 SCC OnLine P&H 194 : PLR (1993) 104 P&H 109] , Sudama Devi v. Kewal Ram [Sudama Devi v.Kewal Ram, 2007 SCC OnLine P&H 1208 : PLR (2008) 149 P&H 444] andPazhaniammal case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Pazhaniammal, 2011 SCC OnLine Ker 1881 : 2012 ACJ 1370] our own Hon'ble High Court has held that "it is, prima facie safe to conclude in claim cases that the accident has occurred on account of rash or negligent driving of the driver, if the driver is facing the criminal trial on account of rash or negligent driving.'

26. Moreover, Respondent 1 driver of the offending vehicle has not appeared in the witness box to deny the accident having been caused by him, therefore, I am inclined to draw an adverse inference against Respondent 1. In this context, I draw support from a judgment of the Hon'ble Punjab & Haryana High Court reported asBhagwani Devi v. Krishan Kumar Saini[Bhagwani Devi v. Krishan Kumar Saini, 1986 SCC OnLine P&H 274 : 1986 ACJ 331] . Moreover, Respondent 1 has also not filed any complaint to higher authorities about his false implication in the criminal case so it cannot be accepted that Respondent 1 has been falsely implicated in this case.

27. In view of above discussion, it is held that the claimants have proved that the accident has been caused by Respondent 1 by parking the offending vehicle bearing No. HR 02 AF 8590 in the middle of the road in a negligent manner wherein Vinod Saini and Smt Mamta Saini have died and claimants Archit Saini and Gauri Saini have received injuries on their person. Shri Vinod Saini, deceased who was driving ill-fated car on that day cannot be held to be negligent in any way. Accordingly, this issue is decided in favour of claimants."

(emphasis supplied)"

14. As there was a head on collision between car and the truck, we are unable to accept the submission of the learned counsel for the appellant that the Tribunal should not have considered the negligence of the deceased to the tune of 50%. We are in agreement with the submission made by Sri Jaiswal and on the basis of material on record, negligence as considered by the Tribunal is just and proper.

15. This takes this Court to the issue of compensation. As far as income of the deceased is concerned, the Tribunal has not considered the Income Tax Returns. The balance sheets of income and audit report for the year 1994-95, 95-96, 96-97 & 97-98 were before the Tribunal and have also been shown to us by the counsel for the appellant as the record is not before us and as there are conciliation going on so that the Insurance Company may not be saddled with heavy interest. We have perused the record which shows his income was in the Income Tax Return to be Rs.1,20,000/- who are shown to be propriety of M/s Sailesh Kumar Sushil Kumar & Company and therefore the finding of the Tribunal that what was the share of the deceased in the income of the firm, is bad and cannot stand the scrutiny of this Court. Hence, the income of the deceased would be considered to be Rs.1,20,000/- per annum.

16. As far as future loss of income is concerned, learned counsel for the appellant has submitted that 40% should be added towards future loss of income of the deceased. As against this, learned counsel for the respondent states that as per postmortem report, the deceased was 40 years of age, hence, even if this Court considers the judgment in Pranay Sethi (Supra), addition towards future loss of income would be 25%.

17. In Pranay Sethi (Supra), the words used are 'below 40 years' and unless it is clarified that the deceased was below 40 years, addition of 40% is not possible. Hence, we accept the submission of learned counsel for the respondent and hold that 25% should be added in the income to the deceased towards future loss. Deduction of 1/3rd towards personal expenses and multiplier of 15 granted by the Tribunal are just and proper.

18. As far as the amount under the head of non-pecuniary damages is concerned, the accident took place in the year 1998, the deceased was survived by two minor children and widow, we award Rs.50,000/- to the widow and Rs.40,000/- each to the minor children who have lost their father at a very tender age.

19. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants is computed herein below:

i. Annual Income Rs.1,20,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 25% namely Rs.30,000/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 1,20,000 + 30,000 = Rs.1,50,000/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3rd : Rs.1,00,000/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 15

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.1,00,000 x 15 = Rs.15,00,000/- viii. Amount under non-pecuniary head : 50,000 + 40,000 + 40,000 = Rs.1,30,000/-

ix. Total compensation : 16,30,000/-

x. Compensation payable to claimants after deductions of 50% negligence on the part of the deceased : 8,15,000/-

20. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 3% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount if deposited and till then 6% if the same has not been paid along with interest within 12 weeks from today. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

21. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

22. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and award passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent.

23. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V.

Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment be passed by Tribunal..

24. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

25. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

26. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. v. Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As long time has elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

(2022)05ILR A669
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 08.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.

First Appeal From Order No.356 of 1992

Smt. Kamleshwari Devi & Anr.
...Appellants
Versus
Shiv Murti Lal & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri V.C. Srivastava, Ms. Anubha

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri A.K. Shukla, Sri Arvind Kumar

Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - deceased, a bachelor, was a security-guard - deceased was survived by mother and younger brother - He is deposed to be earning Rs. 800 per month - Held - Income Rs. 800 per month - deceased was in the age bracket of 36 - 40 years, 40% will have to be added towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.320 - Total income : Rs. 800 + 320 = Rs. 1,120 - deceased was a bachelor and, therefore, deduction of 1/2, Income after deduction of 1/2 : Rs. 560 - Annual income : Rs. 560 x 12 = Rs.6,720 - Multiplier applicable : 15 - Loss of dependency: Rs.6,720 x 15 = Rs. 1,00,800 - Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.40,000 - Amount under medical expenses : Rs. 3,000 - Total compensation : Rs. 1,43,800 - Insurance Company shall deposit the amount with interest at the rate of 6% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited

Allowed. (E-5)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the appellant and Sri A.K. Shukla, learned counsel for the respondent. None appears for Insurance company though 30 years have elapsed since sending notice.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 18.12.1991 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/IX Addl. District Judge, Allahabad (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.P. No. 174 of 1987 awarding a sum of Rs. 30,000/- with interest at the rate of 12% as compensation. Thirty years have passed by when mother and younger brother lost the sole bread winner.

3. The accident is not in dispute. The issue of negligence decided by the Tribunal is not in dispute. The Insurance Company has not challenged the liability imposed on them. The only issue to be decided is the quantum of compensation awarded.

4. The deceased was a security-guard. The deceased was survived by mother and younger brother. He is deposed to be earning Rs.800/- per month. The Tribunal has considered the income of the deceased to be Rs.800/- per month in the year 1987 and granted multiplier of 5 only and did not add any amount under the head of future loss of income and for medical expenses has granted Rs. 3,000/- and Rs.3,000/- for funeral expenses.

5. Learned Counsel for the respondents states that the award does not require any interference as the law as propounded under Motor Vehicles Act, 1939, did not specify any amount to be paid under the head of future loss of income nor the U.P. Rules specify the same. The deceased was a bachelor and, therefore, deduction of ½ is just and proper. The multiplier of 5 in those days was considered as just and proper.

6. After hearing the counsel for the parties and after perusing the judgment and order impugned, this Court comes to the conclusion that the income of Rs. 800/- granted by the Tribunal is just and proper, to which as the deceased was in the age bracket of 36 - 40 years, 40% will have to be added and multiplier of 15 would apply. Hence, the compensation payable to the appellants in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) is computed herein below:

i. Income Rs.800/- per month

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.320/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 800 + 320 = Rs. 1,120/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/2 : Rs. 560/-

v. Annual income : Rs.560 x 12 = Rs.6,720/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 15

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.6,720 x 15 = Rs. 1,00,800/-

viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.40,000/-

ix. Amount under medical expenses : Rs. 3,000/-

x. Total compensation : Rs. 1,43,800/-

7. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

8. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount with interest at the rate of 6% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited within a period of 12 weeks from today. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

9. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein.

10. This Court is thankful to both the counsels to see that this very old matter is disposed of.

(2022)05ILR A671
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 14.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 463 of 1998

M/S Shriram Investment Ltd. & Anr. ...Appellants

Versus

Smt. Sukhdevi ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri V.M. Zaidi

Counsel for the Respondent:

Civil Law - Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923 - Section 30 - incident occurred on 28.5.1994, the amount of E.S.I. contribution has been deducted even during this period is a finding of fact - Commissioner rightly not accepted the submissions of appellant-owner - family had given notice to which also there was no rebuttal by the employer that the deceased was not in service - On the contrary, the record shows that he was getting Rs.1000/- per month - judgment dated 16.3.1998 cannot be found fault with - question of law framed are in fact the question of facts

Dismissed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Golla Rajanna Etc. Etc. Vs Divisional Manager & anr., 2017 (1) TAC 259 (SC)

2. North East Karnataka Road Transport Corp. Vs Smt. Sujatha decided Civil Appeal No.7470 of 2009 decided on 2.11.2018

3. E.S.I.C. Vs S. Prasad F.A.F.O. 1070 of 1993 decided on 26.10.2017

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Sri V.M. Zaidi, learned Senior Advocate and perused the judgment and order impugned.

2. By way of this appeal, the appellant has challenged the judgment and award dated 16.3.1998 passed by Workmen Compensation Commissioner/Additional Labour Commissioner, Agra (hereinafter referred to as 'Commissioner') in W.C. Case No. 31 of 1994 awarding compensation of Rs.83,192/- with interest at the rate of 6% for death of sole bread winner of respondents.

3. Recently the Apex Court in such matters has shown its agony for litigating against a poor family who has lost the sole bread winner.

4. The decision of the Apex Court in Golla Rajanna Etc. Etc. Vs. Divisional Manager and Another, 2017 (1) TAC 259 (SC) and in Civil Appeal No.7470 of 2009 North East Karnataka Road Transport Corporation Vs. Smt. Sujatha decided on 2.11.2018, precludes me from entering into the factual data under Section 30 of the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923. However, as learned counsel for the appellant has been heard at length and substantial question of law which has been framed by the counsel for which, this Court while issuing notice did not even admit the appeal and did not frame any question of law way back on 15.5.1998. The respondent for a period of more than 24 years has not been served.

5. The finding of fact goes to show that the deceased was directed to go at the instance of the officer of the appellant. The finding of fact that he was never served with any termination letter which has culminated into his termination belies the theory put forward by the employer that he was no longer in service. The incident occurred on 28.5.1994, the amount of E.S.I. contribution has been deducted even during this period is a finding of fact.

6. Submission of Sri Zaidi, learned Senior Advocate, cannot be countenanced that the deceased was not the employee of the appellant. There is no perversity pointed out by learned Senior Advocate. The learned Commissioner has rightly not accepted the submissions of appellant-owner. The family had given notice to which also there was no rebuttal by the employer that the deceased was not in service. On the contrary, the record shows that he was getting Rs.1000/- per month.

7. In that view of the matter, the judgment dated 16.3.1998 cannot be found fault with. The question of law framed are in fact the question of facts. The provisions of Section 53 of Employees State Insurance Act cannot be made applicable. There was no bar as it was an objection which has been held to be made in eye of law. The relationship of master servant continues. These are all basically the questions of facts which are answered against the appellant.

8. I am supported in my view by the decision of the Apex Court in Civil Appeal No.7470 of 2009 North East Karnataka Road Transport Corporation Vs. Smt. Sujatha decided on 2.11.2018 wherein it has been held that the Court has held as under:

"15. Such appeal is then heard on the question of admission with a view to find out as to whether it involves any substantial question of law or not. Whether the appeal involves a substantial question of law or not depends upon the facts of each case and needs an examination by the High Court. If the substantial question of law arises, the High Court would admit the appeal for final hearing on merit else would dismiss in limini with reasons that it does not involve any substantial question/s of law.

16. Now coming to the facts of this case, we find that the appeal before the High Court did not involve any substantial question of law on the material questions set out above. In other words, in our view, the Commissioner decided all the material questions arising in the case properly on the basis of evidence adduced by the parties and rightly determined the compensation payable to the respondent. It was, therefore, rightly affirmed by the High Court on facts.

17. In this view of the matter, the findings being concurrent findings of fact of the two courts below are binding on this Court. Even otherwise, we find no good ground to call for any interference on any of the factual findings. None of the factual findings are found to be either perverse or arbitrary or based on no evidence or against any provision of law. We accordingly uphold these findings."

9. This Court, recently in F.A.F.O. 1070 of 1993 (E.S.I.C. Vs. S. Prasad) decided on 26.10.2017 has followed the decision in Golla Rajana (Supra) and has held as follows:

"The grounds urged before this Court are in the realm of finding of facts and not a question of law. As far as question of law is concerned, the aforesaid judgment in Golla Rajanna Etc. Etc. Versus Divisional Manager and another (supra) in paragraph 8 holds as follows "the Workman Compensation Commissioner is the last authority on facts. The Parliament has thought it fit to restrict the scope of the appeal only to substantial questions of law, being a welfare legislation. Unfortunately, the High Court has missed this crucial question of limited jurisdiction and has ventured to re-appreciate the evidence and recorded its own findings on percentage of disability for which also there is no basis."

10. In view of the above, this appeal sans merit and is dismissed. The amount deposited, if any, would be remitted to the family members with the interest accrued till today.

11. This Court is thankful to Sri V.M. Zaidi, learned Senior Advocate, that he has assisted this court even without his client sending him any instructions.

(2022)05ILR A673
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 19.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 890 of 2022

Dinesh Kumar & Anr. ...Appellants
Versus
Prem Singh & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Ram Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Sushil Kumar Mehrotra

Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section . 168 - Motor Accident claim - claimants' appeal claiming enhancement for the death of child who was eight years of age at the time of death - accident of the year 1997- Held - appellants would be entitled to a sum of Rs. 1,56,000 - insurance company would be liable to pay interest on the additional amount at 6% from the date of filing of the appeal till the delay is condoned and 3% thereafter (Para 5, 6)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Kishan Gopal & anr. Vs Lala & ors., 2013 (101) ALR 281 (SC) 2013 (131) AIC 219 = 2014 (1) AICC 208 (SC)

2. Manju Devi's case, 2005 (1) TAC 609 2005 AICC 208 (SC)

3. United India Insurance Comp. Ltd. Vs Mumtaz Ahmad & anr., 2017 (2) AICC 1229

4. Kurvan Ansari Kurvan Ali Vs Shyam Kishore Murmu, 2021 (0) AIJEL-SC 67995

5. U.P. State Road Transport Corp.Vs Triloki Chand, 1996 ACJ Page 31

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Shri Ram Singh, learned counsel for the appellants, Sri Sushil Kumar Mehrotra, learned counsel for the respondents and perused the judgment and order impugned.

2. This First Appeal From Order has been filed under section 173 of Motor Vehicle Act, 1988 (hereinafter referred to 'Act, 1988') by appellants being aggrieved by order dated 25.5.2002 passed by the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.5, Fatehpur in M.A.C.P. No.173 of 1997 awarding sum of Rs.71,000/- with interest at the rate of 9%.

3. This is a claimants' appeal claiming enhancement for the death of child who was eight years of age at the time of death. Learned counsel for the appellant has submitted that in the year 1997, normally the amount awardable to the child would be at least Rs.1,56,000/- and has relied on the decisions of this Court and Apex Court in Kishan Gopal and another v. Lala and others, 2013 (101) ALR 281 (SC) = 2013 (131) AIC 219 = 2014 (1) AICC 208 (SC) and Manju Devi's case, 2005 (1) TAC 609 = 2005 AICC 208 (SC) relied by this Court in its recent decision of this Court in United India Insurance Company Limited. Vs. Mumtaz Ahmad and Another, 2017 (2) AICC 1229 wherein this Court held as follows:

"6. Sri Ram Singh has heavily relied on the decision in the case of Kishan Gopal and another v. Lala and others, 2013 (101) ALR 281 (SC) = 2013 (131) AIC 219 = 2014 (1) AICC 208 (SC) and Manju Devi's case, 2005 (1) TAC 609 = 2005 AICC 208 (SC). It goes without saying the notional figure fixed by the Apex Court since Manju Devi's judgment has been consistently Rs.2,25,000 for children below the age of 15 years. I think that is just and proper and hence, the amount requires to be enhanced from Rs.1,57,000 to Rs.2,25,000 with 6% be recovered from the owner. The appeal is partly allowed. The cross-objection is also partly allowed."

4. As against this, learned counsel for the respondent has submitted that the amount awarded is just and proper as the accident is of the year 1997.

5. The recent judgment of the Apex Court in Kurvan Ansari Alias Kurvan Ali Vs. Shyam Kishore Murmu, 2021 (0) AIJEL-SC 67995 will also have to be looked into. The concept of just compensation has been lost site of by the Tribunal. The decision which would hold the feel would not be the judgment of Kisan Gopal (Supra) and *Kurvan Ansari Alias Kurvan Ali but would be the judgment of Manju Devi's case, 2005 (1) TAC 609 = 2005 AICC 208 (SC) which has relied on the judgment of Apex Court in U.P. State Road Transport Corporation Vs. Triloki Chand, 1996 ACJ Page 31. The recent decision in Manju Devi (Supra) will enure for the benefit of the appellant. The appellants would be entitled to a sum of Rs.1,56,000/-.

6. Interest granted by the Tribunal is modified. This appeal remain has defective appeal since 2004 and delay was condoned in the year 2022 and the matter is taken up for final disposal, Hence, insurance company would be liable to pay interest on the additional amount at 6% from the date of filing of the appeal till the delay is condoned and 3% thereafter. The amount already deposited, be deducted.

7. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. The additional amount be recalculated with interest as directed above and deposited within 8 weeks from today. The judgment and award passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent.

8. This Court is thankful to both the counsels for ably assisting this Court in getting this appeal disposed off.

(2022)05ILR A675
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 19.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 926 of 2011

Smt. Kamlesh Devi & Anr. ...Appellants
Versus
U.P. State Road Transport Corp., Ghaziabad & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri V.B. Keshwarwani, Sri Dharmendra Kumar Gupta, Smt. Kiran Gupta

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri S.K. Misra

Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - accident took place in the year 2010 - deceased was 27 years of age bachelor and was Constable in Uttar Pradesh Police - Tribunal not granted any amount towards future loss of income & considered the multiplier of 13 as per the age of the parents - Held - Tribunal was suppose to grant future loss of income as the deceased was in employment - multiplier would be as per the age of the deceased and not that of the parents - appellants are also entitled to a sum of Rs.40,000/- each towards filial consortium and Rs.15,000/- towards funeral expenses - rate of interest is should be 7.5% (Para 8, 9)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Sarla Verma & ors. Vs Delhi Transport Corp. & anr., 2009 LawSuit (SC)

2. Ramesh Singh & anr. Vs Satbir Singh & anr., 2008 (2) SCC 667

3. Kurvan Ansari @ Kurvan Ali & anr. Vs Shyam Kishore Murmu & anr., 2021 (4) TAC 673 (SC)

4. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors., 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

5. A.Vs Padma Vs Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442

6. Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Comp. Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291

7. Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr. Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001

8. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Comp. Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I. & ors. vide order dated 27.1.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Sri Dharmendra Kumar Gupta, learned counsel for the appellant and Sri S.K. Misra, learned counsel for the respondent-Uttar Pradesh State Road Transport Corporation (for short 'U.P.S.R.T.C.').

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 10.12.2010 passed by the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/ Additional District Judge, Court No.9, Bulandshahr (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.P No.44 of 2010 awarding a sum of Rs.7,23,344/- as compensation with interest at the rate of 7%.

3. The accident having taken place in the intervening night of 5/6.1.2010 is not in dispute. The vehicle of the U.P.S.R.T.C. being involved in the accident is not in dispute. The issue of negligence decided by the Tribunal has attained finality as U.P.S.R.T.C. has chosen not to challenge the award of the Tribunal. Hence, the only issue to be decided is the quantum of compensation awarded.

4. The accident took place in the year 2010. The deceased was 27 years of age and was Constable in Uttar Pradesh Police. The Tribunal has considered the income of the deceased to be Rs.9,248/- per month, deducted 1/2 towards personal expenses of the deceased as he was bachelor and in view of the prevailing judgement, granted multiplier of 13 considering the age of the parents. The Tribunal has granted Rs.2,000/- towards funeral expenses.

5. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the Tribunal has not granted any amount towards future loss of income; the multiplier granted by the Tribunal is not in consonance with the decisions of the Apex Court. The multiplier of 18 should be granted in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Sarla Verma and others Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and Another, 2009 LawSuit (SC). It is further submitted that the Tribunal has not granted any amount towards filial consortium which should be granted.

6. It is also submitted by learned counsel for the appellant that the interest awarded by Tribunal is on the lower side and it should be as per the repo rate prevailing in those days.

7. As against this, learned counsel for respondent-U.P.S.R.T.C. has contended that Tribunal has rightly not considered any amount under the head of future loss of income; that the Tribunal has considered the multiplier of 13 as per the age of the parents which is just and proper as it was the law prevailing in those days. Sri Misra has lastly contended that the compensation awarded by the Tribunal is just and proper and does not call for any interference of this Court.

8. Having heard learned counsel for the parties, the present appeal requires to be allowed on two short points. The decision in Sarla Verma (Supra) was in vogue when the Tribunal has decided the multiplier and passed the impugned award. The Tribunal was suppose to grant future loss of income as the deceased was in employment but the same has not been granted by the Tribunal. It has been held in Sarla Verma (Supra) that the multiplier would be as per the age of the deceased and not that of the parents. The judgment in Ramesh Singh and Another vs. Satbir Singh and another, 2008 (2) SCC 667 held that where there is death of young person who has aged parents as sole dependent, the choice of multiplier has to be determined by the age of deceased or parents whichever is higher. The Tribunal seems to have misinterpreted the judgment and not relied on the decision in Sarla Verma (Supra). Be that as it may, the law is now well settled and we are unable to accept the submission of Sri Misra that multiplier granted by the Tribunal is just and proper.

9. Hence, to the income of Rs. 9248/- per month, a rough 50% would be added towards future loss of income as the deceased was in permanent job and was below 40 years of age. The deceased being in the age bracket of 26-30, the multiplier would be 17 in view of the decision in Sarla Verma (Supra) and as discussed above. Deduction of 1/2 is maintained. The appellants are also entitled to a sum of Rs.40,000/- each towards filial consortium and Rs.15,000/- towards funeral expenses in view of the decision in Kurvan Ansari @ Kurvan Ali and another Vs. Shyam Kishore Murmu and another, 2021 (4) TAC 673 (SC).

10. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants is computed herein below:

i. Monthly Income: Rs.9,248/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 50% namely Rs.4,624/-

iii. Total income : Rs.9,248 + 4,624 = Rs.13,872/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/2 towards personal expenses : Rs.6,936/-

v. Annual income : Rs.6,936 x 12 = Rs.83,232/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 17

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.83,232 x 17 = Rs.14,14,944/-

viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.40,000 + 40,000 + 15,000 = 95,000/-

ix. Total compensation : Rs.15,09,944/-

11. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

12. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

13. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

14. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment be passed by Tribunal..

15. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

16. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

17. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. v. Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As 10 years have elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

18. This Court is thankful to both the counsels for getting this matter decided without record which was not necessary as in the judgment there is error apparent on the face of record.

19. We had given chance so that U.P.S.R.T.C. may not have to pay more interest but it has been conveyed by Sri S.K. Misra, learned counsel for U.P.S.R.T.C. has no authority to conciliate the matter.

20. The officer concerned of the U.P.S.R.T.C. may instruct the counsel for conciliation in the matters which are covered by the judgment of the Apex Court and this Court which are only for enhancement purposes so that they can save interest.

(2022)05ILR A679
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 29.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No.930 of 2021

Smt. Praveen Rawat & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Anuroop Singh & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Anju Shukla, Sri Nigamendra Shukla

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Rahul Sahai

Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Sections 166, & 168 - Motor Accident claim - deceased was traveling in car, all of sudden, a blue bull (Neelgay) came on the way - driver tried to save the blue bull and in that process dashed the car into the tree - In the accident deceased sustained serious injuries and died - Tribunal denied the compensation for the death in a road accident, holding the accident to be the result of 'Act of God', and awarded only Rs.50,000/- for no fault liability - Issue - question is if the blue bull come on the road before a vehicle whether it can be termed as "Act of God" or it was human negligence ? - Held - accident may happen by reason of the play of natural forces or by intervention of human agency or by both - It may be that in either of these cases accidents may be inevitable - But it is only those acts which can be traced to natural forces and which have nothing to do with the intervention of human agency that could be said to be Acts of God - Coming of blue bull on the road before a vehicle, as in the case on hand, cannot be termed as Act of God – In the instant case car dashed into tree, when the driver tried to save the blue bull from hitting the car, which goes to show that the car was being plied at a high speed - Had the car being driven at normal speed, the accident could have been avoided or its impact could be minimized - This fact itself shows the negligence of the driver, who was driving the vehicle at an excessive speed - finding of learned Tribunal holding the accident to be the result of Act of God is not sustainable in the eye of law - Court held that the accident had taken place due to the negligence of the driver of the vehicle involved in the accident (Para 18, 20)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Anita Sharma & ors. Vs The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. & anr., (2021) 1 SCC 171

2. Parmeshwari Vs Amir Chand, (2011) 11 SCC 635

3. Reliance General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Subbulakshmi & ors. C.MA. No. 1482 of 2017 [C.M.P. No. 7919 of 2017. (CMA Sr. No. 76893 of 2016)]

4. Puspabai Purshottam Udeshi Vs Ranjit Ginning & Pressing Co., 1977ACJ 343 (SC)

5. Bimla Devi & ors. Vs Himachal RTC reported in 2009 (13) SCC 530

6. Nugent Vs Smith. (1876- 1 CPD 423)

7. Rylands Vs Fletcher, 1868 Law Reports (3) HL 330

8. Bithika Mazumdar & anr. Vs Sagar Pal & ors., (2017) 2 SCC 748

9. Oriental 9 Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Smt. Ummida Begum & ors. F.A.F.O. No. 1999 of 2007

10. Smt. Ragini Devi & ors. Vs United India Insurance Company Ltd. & anr. F.A.F.O. No. 1404 of 1999

11. National Insurance Co. Vs Pranay Sethi [2014 (4) TAC 637 (SC)

12. Smt.Sarla Verma Vs Delhi Transport Corp. [2009 (2) TAC 677 (SC)]

13. Kurvan Ansari @ Kurvan Ali & anr. Vs Shyam Kishore Murmu & anr. [2021 (4) TAC (SC)]

14. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors., 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

15. Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd., [2007(2) GLH 291]

16. Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr. Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001

17. Tej Kumari Sharma Vs Chola Mandlam M.S. General Insurance Co. Ltd. First Appeal From Order No.2871 of 2016 decided on 19.3.2021

18. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I. & ors., vide order dated 27.01.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. This appeal has been preferred by the claimants-appellants against the judgment & award dated 12.09.2007 passed by learned Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.3, District Ghaziabad in Motor Accident Claim Petition No.232 of 2005 (Smt. Praveen Rawat and Others Vs. Anuroop Singh and another), whereby the learned Tribunal has denied the compensation for the death of Dinesh Kumar Singh Rawat in a road accident, holding the accident to be the result of "Act of God', and awarded only Rs.50,000/- for no fault liability.

2. The claimants-appellants have preferred this appeal for enhancement of quantum of compensation.

3. The brief facts of the case are that claimants-appellants filed a Motor Accident Claim Petition before the Tribunal for seeking the compensation under Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 for the death of Dinesh Kumar Singh Rawat (deceased) in a road accident with the averments that on 28.12.2004 at about 7:00 PM the deceased was traveling from Lucknow to Lakhimpurkhiri in car bearing no. U.P. 32 X 3366. The driver of the car was driving the vehicle very rashly and negligenlty and at a very high speed, all of sudden, a blue bull (Neelgay) came on the way. The driver tried to save the blue bull and in that process dashed the car into the tree. After dashing into the tree, the car overturned. In this accident, the deceased sustained serious injuries and died on way to the hospital for treatment.

4. It is also averred that the age of the deceased was 38 years and he was working as Senior Engineer (Technical) in a private company namely, Aircel (HUTCH). Owner and Insurance Company of the aforesaid vehicle filed their respective written statements. Learned Tribunal held that the accident had taken place due to coming a blue bull on the way suddenly, which was not the fault of the driver and accident had taken place due to Act of God. Consequently, the claim was denied and only Rs.50,000/- was awarded for no fault liability.

5. Aggrieved mainly with the non grant of compensation under Section 166 of Motor Vehicles Act awarded, the appellants have preferred this appeal.

6. Heard learned counsel for the appellants-claimants and learned counsel for the respondents. Perused the record.

7. Learned counsel for the appellants-claimants has submitted that impugned judgment and award is against the law. Learned Tribunal has held that the driver of the car was not negligent but this finding is erroneous because if the vehicle would have been driven with proper care and caution, the accident could have been avoided. Learned Tribunal has adopted incorrect approach, because the vehicle was not being driven at a normal speed. In fact, the driver lost the control on staring and the vehicle dashed into the tree.

8. It is also submitted by learned counsel for the appellants-claimants that at the place of accident, the road was not plain and it was having pits, hence, in such a situation, the driver should have controlled the speed but he failed to do so, which reflects that car was being driven at an excessive speed. It is next submitted that two eye witnesses of the accident were produced, who were not relied upon by the learned Tribunal.

9. Per contra, learned counsel for the Insurance Company has vehemently objected the submissions of learned counsel for the appellants-claimants and submitted that appellants brought the case before the learned Tribunal with the fact that on way to Lakhimpurkhiri, a blue bull came on the road suddenly and to save it, car dashed into the tree and overturned but the alleged eye witnesses have deposed that car was being driven at a very high speed and it tried to overtake a tempo and in this overtaking, the car dashed into the tree. Hence, these two contradictory versions put by the appellants before the learned Tribunal.

10. Learned counsel for the insurance company has pointed out that the owner of the vehicle informed the concerned police station on the same day of the accident. This information was entered in General Diary of the police station, in which it is mentioned that a blue bull came on the road and to save it, the car dashed into the tree. Learned Tribunal also held that the accident had taken place in order to save the blue bull. Blue bull came on the road all of sudden, which was not in control of the driver, it was Act of God and there was no negligent driving by the driver. It is also submitted that this finding is based on fact and evidence on record, which calls for no interference by this Court.

11. Learned Tribunal held that accident took place because a blue bull all of sudden came on the road which was beyond the control of the driver and in order to save the blue bull, the accident took place. Learned Tribunal held this accident, as a result of Act of God. First of all, we have to go into the question whether the accident was the result of Act of God or it was human negligence. While deciding the claim petition, learned Tribunal had not kept in mind the standard of proof in Motor Accident Claim Petition.

12. In Anita Sharma and Others Vs. The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. and Another, (2021) 1 SCC 171, the Full Bench of Hon'ble Apex Court narrated the view taken in Parmeshwari Vs. Amir Chand, (2011) 11 SCC 635, that it is very difficult to trace the witnesses and collecting information for an accident which took place many hundreds of kilometers away and further it is held by Hon'ble Apex Court in Anita Sharma and Others (Supra) that in a situation of this nature, the Tribunal has rightly taken a holistic view of the matter. It was necessary to be borne in mind that strict proof of an accident caused by a particular bus in a particular manner may not be possible to be done by the claimants. The claimants were merely to establish their case on the touchstone of preponderance of probability.

13. The Division Bench of Madras High Court also held in Reliance General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Subbulakshmi and Others, passed in C.MA. No. 1482 of 2017 [C.M.P. No. 7919 of 2017. (CMA Sr. No. 76893 of 2016)] has referred the case of Puspabai Purshottam Udeshi Vs. Ranjit Ginning and Pressing Co., 1977ACJ 343 (SC), in which it is observed that the normal rule is that it is for the plaintiff to prove negligence but as in some cases considerable hardship is caused to the plaintiff as the true cause of the accident is not known to him but is solely within the knowledge of the defendant who caused it, the plaintiff can prove the accident but cannot prove how it happened to establish negligence on the part of the defendant. This hardship is sought to be avoided by applying the principle of res ipsa loquitur. The general purport of the words res ipsa loquitur is that the accident 'speaks for itself or tells its own story. There are cases in which the accident speaks for itself so that it is sufficient for the plaintiff to prove the accident and nothing more. It will then be for the defendant to establish that the accident happened due to some other cause than his own negligence. Where the maxim is applied the burden is on the defendant to show either that in fact he was not negligent or that the accident might more probably have happened in a manner which did not connote negligence on his part. For the application of the principle it must be shown that the car was under the management of the defendant and that the accident is such as in ordinary course of things does not happen if those who had the management used proper care.

14. In Bimla Devi and Others VS. Himachal RTC reported in 2009 (13) SCC 530, the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that it was necessary to be borne in mind that strict proof of an accident caused by a particular vehicle in a particular manner may not be possible to be done by the claimants. The claimants were merely to establish their case on the touchstone of preponderance of probability. The standard of proof beyond reasonable doubt could not have been applied.

15. In the case on hand the driver and the deceased only were travelling in the said vehicle at the time of accident. The deceased died due to the injuries sustained by him, hence, the real fact of the accident how and in what manner it had taken place lies only within the knowledge of the driver, who has not stepped into the witness-box. It is not disputed that accident had taken place due to coming of blue bull on the road. The G.D. entry of concerned police station also discloses the fact of accident in order to save the blue bull, which is first version of the accident just after three and half hours.

16. It is the version of appellants-claimants as well as respondents and learned Tribunal also reached to the conclusion that accident took place in order to save the vehicle from blue bull which came on the road all of sudden. Now here comes the question, if the blue bull came on the road before a vehicle whether it can be termed as "Act of God."

17. While considering the question of inevitable accident or an "Act of God", it will be useful to reproduce a passage from the Law of Torts, by Justice G. P. Singh.

"All causes of inevitable accidents may be divided into two classes.

(1) Those which are occasioned by the elementary forces of nature unconnected with the agency of man or other cause; and

(2) Those which have their origin either in the whole or in part in the agency of man, whether in acts of commission or omission, non-feasance or mis-feasance or in any other causes independent of the agency of natural forces. The term 'act of God' is applicable to the former class."

18. Act of God is one arising from natural causes. Some of the well-known instances of "Act of God" are the storms, the tides and the volcanic eruptions. They are, in a sense, inevitable accidents beyond the control of man. What is urged in this case is that all inevitable accidents must be taken as acts of God. Matters which are not within the power of any party to prevent are to be considered as acts of God as per the Insurance Company. We are unable to concur with the aforesaid argument of learned counsel for the Insurance Company. In our view, the accident may happen by reason of the play of natural forces or by intervention of human agency or by both. It may be that in either of these cases accidents may be inevitable. But it is only those acts which can be traced to natural forces and which have nothing to do with the intervention of human agency that could be said to be Acts of God. Cockburn C. J.. in the leading case in Nugent v. Smith. (1876-1 CPD 423) said.

"It is at once obvious, as was pointed out by Lord Mansfield in Forward v. Pittard, that all causes of inevitable accident--" "fortuitus" -- may be divided into two classes -- those which are occasioned by the elementary forces of nature unconnected with the agency of man or other cause, and those which have their origin either in the whole or in part in the agency of man, whether in acts of commission or omission, of nonfeasance or of misfeasance, or in any other cause independent of the agency of natural forces. It is obvious that it would be altogether incongruous to apply the term "act of God" to the latter class of inevitable accident. It is equally clear that storm and tempest belong to the class to which the term "act of God" is properly applicable."

19. In Halsbury's Laws of England, Vol. 8, 3rd Edition, page 183, this question is dealt with as under:

"An act of God. In the legal sense of the term, may be defined as an extraordinary occurrence or circumstance which could not have been foreseen and which could not have been guarded against; or. more accurately, as an accident due to natural causes, directly and exclusively without human intervention, and which could not have been avoided by any amount of foresight and pains and care reasonably to be expected of the person sought to be made liable for it or who seeks to excuse himself on the around of it. The occurrence need not be unique, nor need it be one that happens for the first time; it is enough that it is extraordinary, and such as could not reasonably be anticipated. The mere fact that a phenomenon has happened once, when it does not carry with it or import any probability of a recurrence (when, in other words, if does not imply any law from which its recurrence can be inferred) does not prevent that phenomenon from being an act of God. It must, however, be something overwhelming and not merely an ordinary accidental circumstance, and it must not arise from the act of man."

20. Coming of blue bull on the road before a vehicle, as in the case on hand, cannot be termed as Act of God. It is admitted fact that the car, in which, the deceased was traveling dashed into the tree even it if it is believed that it was while saving the blue bull and overturned in a big pit. This is not the case that vehicle dashed into blue bull but it dashed into tree, when the driver tried to save the blue bull from hitting the car, which goes to show that the car was being plied at a high speed. Had the car being driven at normal speed, the accident could have been avoided or its impact could be minimized. This fact itself shows the negligence of the driver, who was driving the vehicle at an excessive speed. The Rule propounded in Rylands Vs. Fletcher, 1868 Law Reports (3) HL 330, can apply in motor accident cases.

21. The above Rule eventually gained approval in a large number of decisions rendered by Courts in England and abroad. Winfield on Torts has brought out even a Chapter on the "Rule in Rylands Vs. Fletcher. At page 543 of the 15th Edn. Of the calibrated work the learned author has pointed out that "over the years Rylands Vs. Fletcher has been applied to a remarkable variety of things; fire gas, explosions, electricity, oil, noxious, fumes, colliery spoil, rusty wire from a decayed fence, vibrations, poisonous vegetation.

22. Act of God or vis major are the forces which no human foresight can provide most and of which human prudence is not bound to recognize the possibility. We are, therefore, of the opinion that even apart from Section 140 of Motor Vehicles Act, a victim in an accident which occurred while using motor vehicle is entitled to get compensation from the Tribunal, unless any exception applies.

23. We are of the considered opinion that if the driver of the vehicle would have taken care and caution while plying the vehicle at normal speed, the accident could have been avoided because it is the finding of learned Tribunal in the impugned judgment that the place where the accident had occurred was near Dudhwa National Park, having forest on both sides of the road and blue bulls are found there in large numbers and possibility of blue bulls coming on the road always remains high. Hence, in these peculiar situation and considering the place of accident, the driver of the vehicle was under extra ruts to show caution and was saddled with the duty to take extra care and caution.

24. The finding of learned Tribunal holding the accident to be the result of Act of God is not sustainable in the eye of law and we hold that the accident had taken place due to the negligence of the driver of the vehicle involved in the accident.

25. The policy being in vogue and though orally submitted by counsel for respondents that there is breach of policy and the insurance company did not challenge the award as the amount awarded was under Section 140 M.V. Act, if this Court decide not to relegate the appellants to Tribunal. The oral objection be heard. We have perused the record, there is no breach of policy proved which can either exonerate the Insurance Company or permit this Court to grant recovery rights to Insurance Company. The finding of fact that the driver of the vehicle had proper driving licence is concurred with us and, therefore, the Tribunal has held the Insurance Company liable, in which we concur the oral submissions of Mr. Rahul Sahai, learned counsel for the respondent-Insurance company that the Insurance Company should be given recovery rights cannot be acceded.

26. Now, we have to decide the quantum of compensation payable to the appellants-claimants. We first thought that the matter can be relegated to the learned Tribunal for fixation of the quantum of compensation but we are mindful of the fact that this is a case in which the accident happened more than 17 years ago. Hence, we incline to fix the quantum of compensation here itself in view of the judgment of Bithika Mazumdar and another Vs. Sagar Pal and Others, (2017) 2 SCC 748 and of this Court in F.A.F.O. No. 1999 of 2007 (Oriental Insurance Company Ltd. Vs. Smt. Ummida Begum and others) and also in F.A.F.O. No. 1404 of 1999 (Smt. Ragini Devi and others Vs. United India Insurance Company Ltd. and another) decided on 17.04.2019 wherein it has been held that if the record is with the appellate Court, it can decide the compensation instead of relegating the parties to the Tribunal.

27. The deceased was serving as a Senior Engineer (Technical) in a private company namely, Aircel (HUTCH). Learned counsel for the appellants-claimants has submitted that deceased was getting the salary near about Rs.30,000/- per month at the time of death. The age of the deceased was 33 years and he is survived by his wife and three minor children.

28. Per contra, learned counsel for the Insurance Company has objected to it and submitted that the income of the deceased is not proved and the age of the deceased was 38 years.

29. Perusal of record confirms that the deceased was serving in private company namely, Aircel (HUTCH). The salary certificate of the deceased is also on record, which is well proved as the learned Tribunal has exhibited it as Ex. KA-1. It transpires from the salary certificate that monthly salary of the deceased is shown as Rs.25,881/-.

30. According to us, admissible component of salary would include the basic salary, management allowance, house rent allowance, conveyance allowance, pay for position and provident fund, rest of the components shown in the salary certificate are subject to the reimbursement, hence, are not part of the salary. Hence, computable salary would be Rs.21,632/- per month.

31. Since the age of the deceased was below 40 years i.e. 38 years as per the High School Certificate and he was in permanent job, 50% shall be added towards future loss of income as held by Hon'ble Apex Court in National Insurance Company vs. Pranay Sethi [2014 (4) TAC 637 (SC)]. Keeping in view the age of the deceased, multiplier of 15 will be applied in the light of the judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Smt.Sarla Verma vs. Delhi

Transport Corporation [2009 (2) TAC 677 (SC)]. The deceased is survived by his wife and three minor children, 1/3rd would be deducted from the salary for personal expenses of the deceased.

32. In the light of judgment of Pranay Sethi (Supra), claimants shall be entitled to get Rs.15,000/- each for loss of estate and funeral expenses. Apart from it, the wife of the deceased shall also be entitled to get Rs..40,000/- for loss of consortium, which are subject to upward revision of 10% of every three years. In this way, the appellants-claimants shall be entitled to get Rs.1,00,000/- for non-pecuniary heads.

33. Three minor children of the deceased, lost their father at a very tender age, hence, children of the deceased shall be entitled to get Rs.50,000/- each towards filial consortium in the light of the judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Kurvan Ansari alias Kurvan Ali and another vs. Shyam Kishore Murmu and another [2021 (4) TAC (SC)] .

34. Hence, the total amount of compensation, in view of the above discussions, payable to the appellants-claimants is being computed herein below:

1.	Annual income i.e. Rs.21,632/- per month X 12	Rs.2,59,584/- P/A
2.	Percentage towards future prospect : 50%	Rs.1,29,792/-
3.	Total income : Rs.2,59,584/- + Rs.1,29,792/- =	Rs.3,89,376/-
4.	Income after deduction of 1/3rd : Rs.3,89,376 - Rs.1,29,792/-
5.	Multiplier applicable : 15 :- Rs. 2,59,584/- X 15	Rs.38.93,760/-
6.	Amount under non pecuniary head : Rs.15,000 + Rs.15,000 + Rs.40,000/- + 10 % upward revision of every three years.	Rs.1,00,000/-
7.	Filial consortium : Rs.50,000/- X 3	Rs.1,50,000/-
8.	Total compensation : Rs.38,93,760/- + Rs.1,00,000/- + Rs.1,50,000/-	Rs. 41,43,760/-
9.	Amount after deduction of no fault liability : Rs.41,43,760/- - Rs.50,000/-	Rs. 40,93,760/-.

35. It is pointed out by learned counsel for the Insurance Company that the appeal is delayed by 308 days and the interest of the aforesaid period would not be paid to the appellants-claimants.

36. It is rightly pointed out by the learned counsel for the Insurance Company that appeal is delayed by 308 days, hence, interest of one year should be deducted. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under:

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

37. We fix the rate of interest as 7.5% per annum till the date of judgment by the learned Tribunal. No interest would be paid for one year after the judgment of learned Tribunal and 6% per annum rate of interest would be paid thereafter.

38. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and award passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest as discussed above from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

39. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani vs. The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., [2007(2) GLH 291] and this High Court in total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimants to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) and in First Appeal From Order No.2871 of 2016 (Tej Kumari Sharma v. Chola Mandlam M.S. General Insurance Co. Ltd.) decided on 19.3.2021 while disbursing the amount.

40. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Hon'ble Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Pvt. Ltd. Vs. Union of India and Others, vide order dated 27.01.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. Since long time has elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Bank Account of claimant(s) in a nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

(2022)05ILR A688
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 11.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SALIL KUMAR RAI , J.

First Appeal From Order No. 955 of 2016

Smt. Servesh Devi & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Ankush Agarwal & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:s
Sri Ram Singh, Sri Amit Kumar Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:

A. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Section 173 – Compensation – Determination of income – Deceased was an unskilled labour – Notional income – Tribunal determined it as Rs. 100/- per day – Validity challenged – Held, notional income of unskilled labour cannot be taken to be less than Rs. 200/- per day – Presumption of Rs. 100/- per day as notional income, even for an unskilled labour in the year 2014, would be frugal and by no stretch of imagination can be considered to be just because even the minimum wages fixed by the State Government were much higher than that – Smt. Resha Devi's case relied upon – High Court re-computed the compensation. (Para 10 and 18)

B. Civil Law - UP Motor Vehicle Rules, 1998 – Rule 220-A (3) – Future prospects – Loss of estate, loss of consortium and funeral expenses – Held, there was no rationale not to add future prospects in the income of the self-employed or a person who is on a fixed salary and such denial would be unjust – 30% has to be added as future prospects in the notional income of the deceased while determining the multiplicand as deceased was 40 years old – Pranay Sethi's case relied upon. (Para 12, 13 and 15)

C. Civil Law - U.P. Motor Vehicle Rules, 1998 – Rule 220-A (4) – Compensations – Loss of love and affection and loss of consortium, whether can be awarded separately – Contradiction in statutory provision and judicial precedent – Though the Rule (4) provide for separate compensation for 'loss of love and affection' and 'loss of consortium', Supreme Court held in Satinder Singh's case that loss of love and affection is included in loss of consortium and, therefore, there is no justification to award compensation towards loss of love and affection as a separate head – Held, if a statutory instrument has devised a formula which affords better or greater benefit, such statutory instrument must be allowed to operate unless the statutory instrument is otherwise found to be invalid – Claimants were entitled to separate compensation for loss of consortium and for loss of love and affection – Urmila Shukla's case relied upon. (Para 15, 16 and 17)

Appeal allowed (E-1)

List of Cases cited :-

1. New India Assurance Co. Ltd. Vs Smt. Resha Devi & ors.; 2017 (3) ADJ 685

2. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors.; (2017) 16 SCC 680

3. Magma General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Nanu Ram; 2018 SCC OnLine SC 1546

4. United India Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Satinder Kaur @ Satwinder Kaur & ors.; AIR (2020) SC 3076

5. The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. Vs Smt. Somwati & ors.; (2020) 9 SCC 644

6. New India Assurance Co. Ltd. Vs Urmila Shukla & ors.; 2021 SCC OnLine SC 822

(Delivered by Hon'ble Salil Kumar Rai, J.)

1. This is a claimants' appeal under Section 173 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 (hereinafter referred to as, 'Act, 1988') against the judgment and award dated 17.9.2015 passed by the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal, Aligarh in Motor Accident Claim Petition No. 460 of 2014 (Smt. Sarvesh Devi & Ors. vs. Ankush Agarwal & Ors). The appeal is for enhancement of compensation. The office reports dated 16.12.2019, 24.3.2021 and 10.3.2022 state that notices by registered post as well as ordinary post were issued to the opposite parties but no acknowledgment has been returned nor any undelivered cover has been received back. In view of the aforesaid, service of notice on the opposite parties is deemed sufficient. No one has put in appearance on behalf of the opposite parties. No cross appeal or cross objection has been filed by the opposite parties who are the owners, drivers and the Insurance Company.

2. The facts of the case are that Motor Accident Claim Petition No. 460 of 2014 was instituted by the claimants- appellants under Section 166 of the Act, 1988 alleging that one Har Prasad, working as Raaj Mistri, died in an accident caused due to rash and negligent driving of vehicle, i.e., Truck No. U.P. 81 A.F.-3896 (hereinafter referred to as, "the offending vehicle') by its driver. The accident happened on 21st June, 2014 at 07:00 p.m. The appellant no. 1 is the wife of the deceased, the appellant nos. 2 to 4 are the sons and daughter of the deceased. The appellant nos. 2 to 4 were minor at the time of the institution of the claim petition. The appellant no. 5 is the mother of the deceased. The appellant no. 5 died during the pendency of the case and her legal representatives are already on record as appellant nos. 1 to 4. The opposite party no. 1 is the owner of the vehicle, the opposite party no. 3 is the driver of the vehicle and the opposite party no. 2, i.e., Mega General Insurance Company Limited is the insurer of the offending vehicle. It was stated in the claim petition that at the time of accident, the deceased was 34 years old and earned Rs.15,000/- per month and had no bad habits. On the aforesaid facts, the claimants claimed a compensation of Rs.31,10,000/- with 12% interest from the date of accident.

3. In their written statements the opposite parties denied that the accident was caused due to rash and negligent driving of the offending vehicle and pleaded that the accident occurred due to the negligence of the deceased. In its written statement, the opposite party no. 2, i.e., the Insurance Company denied the factum of accident and also its liability to pay compensation.

4. The Tribunal framed four Issues. Issue no. 1 was regarding the factum of accident and the negligence of the driver of the offending vehicle in causing the accident, Issue no. 2 was as to whether, at the time of accident, the driver of the offending vehicle had a valid driving licence, Issue no. 3 was as to whether at the time of accident, the offending vehicle was insured with opposite party no. 2 and Issue no. 4 was regarding the amount of compensation payable to the claimants and the defendant liable to pay compensation.

5. The Tribunal by its award dated 17.9.2015 decided Issue no. 1 in favour of the claimants and held that Har Prasad had died because of injuries caused in the accident occurring due to rash and negligent driving of the offending vehicle.

Issue nos. 2 and 3 were decided in favour of the owner of the vehicle, i.e., it was held by the Tribunal that at the time of accident, the driver of the offending vehicle had a valid driving licence and the offending vehicle was insured with opposite party no. 2, i.e., the Insurance Company. So far as Issue no. 4 is concerned, the Tribunal granted compensation of Rs. 4,40,000/- with 7% simple interest from the date of institution of the claim petition till the payment of compensation on the notional income of Rs.3,000/- per month after deducting 1/4 as personal expenses of the deceased. The Tribunal, while determining the multiplicand, rejected the plea of the claimants that future prospects had to be added in the national income of the deceased while determining the multiplicand. The Tribunal applied a multiplier of 15 for determining the total compensation after holding that the deceased was 40 years old at the time of accident.

6. As no cross appeal or cross objection has been filed by the opposite parties and no one has appeared on behalf of the opposite parties to contest the findings of the Tribunal, therefore, the findings of the Tribunal on Issue nos. 1, 2 and 3 have become final.

7. The appeal is for enhancement of compensation. It was argued by the counsel for the claimants that the Tribunal has wrongly determined the compensation on the notional income of Rs.100/- per day. It was argued that the accident occurred in 2014 and according to the judgment of this Court in New India Assurance Co. Ltd. vs Smt. Resha Devi & Ors. 2017 (3) ADJ 685, the multiplicand should have been determined on a notional income of Rs.200/- per day. It was further argued that while quantifying the multiplicand, future prospects were also to be added to the notional income of the deceased. It was also argued that the Tribunal has awarded a very meager amount for loss of spousal consortium and has erred in not grating any compensation for loss of parental and filial consortium to the claimant nos. 2 to 5. It was further argued that under Rule 220-A of the U.P. Motor Vehicle Rules, 1998 (hereinafter referred to as, "Rules, 1998'), the claimants were also entitled to compensation for loss of love and affection and the compensation granted to the claimants for funeral expenses is also not in accordance with the judgment of the Supreme Court in National Insurance Company Ltd. vs Pranay Sethi & Ors. (2017) 16 SCC 680.

8. The counsel for the appellants does not challenge the findings of the Tribunal regarding the age of the deceased which the Tribunal held to be 40 years and has also not challenged the deductions of 1/4 as personal expenses of the deceased.

9. I have considered the submissions of the counsel for the appellants and perused the records.

10. A reading of the award of the Tribunal and a perusal of the records indicate that the claimants had pleaded that before his death in the accident, the deceased worked as Raj Mistri and was earning Rs.15,000/- per month. However, the claimants could not produce any evidence to prove their plea that before his death, the deceased was earning Rs.15,000/- per month. In view of the aforesaid, the compensation is to be determined on the notional income of the deceased. The Tribunal has determined the notional income of the deceased as

Rs.100/- per day, i.e., Rs.3,000/- per month. In Smt. Resha Devi (supra), a Division Bench of this Court held that the notional income of unskilled labour cannot be taken to be less than Rs.200/- per day and the presumption of Rs.100/- per day as notional income, even for an unskilled labour in the year 2014, would be frugal and by no stretch of imagination can be considered to be just because even the minimum wages fixed by the State Government were much higher than that. The observations of this Court in Paragraph Nos. 9 to 11 are reproduced below :-

"9. The next submission of the learned counsel for the appellant that income of Rs.100/- per day presumed by the tribunal is extremely on higher side is without any force and not liable to be accepted. Tribunal in recording the said claim has relied upon the judgment of the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Laxmi Devi and another Vs. Mohammad Tabbar and others, 2008 (2) TAC 394 SC wherein notional income to unskilled labour was presumed to be Rs.100/- per day. Much water has flown since 2008. It is a matter of common knowledge that with the rise in price index, there has been considerable increase in the wages of salaried as well as self employed person. The average income of even a daily labour in 2014 when the accident took place cannot be presumed to be less than Rs.200/- per day. In our considered opinion, the tribunal committed a manifest error of law in presuming the notional income of the deceased to be Rs.100/- per day.

10. In the case of Santosh Devi Vs. National Insurance Company Limited and others (2012) 6 SCC 421 in paragraph 17 of the reports has observed as under :

"17. Although the wages/income of those employed in organised sectors has not registered a corresponding increase and has not kept pace with the increase in the salaries of the government employees and those employed in private sectors, but it cannot be denied that there has been incremental enhancement in the income of those who are self-employed and even those engaged on daily basis, monthly basis or even seasonal basis. We can take judicial notice of the fact that with a view to meet the challenges posed by high cost of living, the persons falling in the latter category periodically increase the cost of their labour. In this context, it may be useful to give an example of a tailor who earns his livelihood by stitching clothes. If the cost of living increases and the prices of essentials go up, it is but natural for him to increase the cost of his labour. So will be the cases of ordinary skilled and unskilled labour, like, barber, blacksmith, cobbler, mason, etc.

11. There can be no exact uniform rule for measuring the value of the human life and the measure of damages cannot be arrived at by precise mathematical calculations. Obviously award of damages would depend upon the particular facts and circumstances of the case but the element of fairness in the amount of compensation so determined is the ultimate guiding factor. In such view of the matter, presumption of Rs.100/- per day as notional income even for a unskilled labour in the year 2014 appears to us to be frugal and by no stretch of imagination to be just even the minimum wages fixed by the State Government is much higher than that looking to the rise in cost index. We are of the considered upon that notional income of an unskilled labour could not be less than Rs.200/- per day."

(Emphasis added)

11. In the present case also, the accident occurred in 2014. Following the judgment of the Division Bench of this Court, it would be just and fair to treat the notional income of the deceased as Rs. 200/- per day, i.e., Rs.6,000/- per month.

12. So far as future prospects are concerned, apparently the award of the Tribunal is contrary to the judgment of the Supreme Court in Pranay Sethi (supra). In Pranay Sethi (supra), it was held that if the deceased was self-employed or on a fixed salary, an addition of 25% should be made in the established income of the deceased to determine the multiplicand if the deceased was between the age of 40 to 50 years. In Pranay Sethi (supra), the Supreme Court held that there was no rationale not to add future prospects in the income of the self-employed or a person who is on a fixed salary and such denial would be unjust. In this context, the observations of the Supreme Court in Paragraph nos. 57 and 59.4 are reproduced below :-

"57. Having bestowed our anxious consideration, we are disposed to think when we accept the principle of standardization, there is really no rationale not to apply the said principle to the self-employed or a person who is on a fixed salary. To follow the doctrine of actual income at the time of death and not to add any amount with regard to future prospects to the income for the purpose of determination of multiplicand would be unjust. The determination of income while computing compensation has to include future prospects so that the method will come within the ambit and sweep of just compensation as postulated under Section 168 of the Act. In case of a deceased who had held a permanent job with inbuilt grant of annual increment, there is an acceptable certainty. But to state that the legal representatives of a deceased who was on a fixed salary would not be entitled to the benefit of future prospects for the purpose of computation of compensation would be inapposite. It is because the criterion of distinction between the two in that event would be certainty on the one hand and staticness on the other. One may perceive that the comparative measure is certainty on the one hand and uncertainty on the other but such a perception is fallacious. It is because the price rise does affect a self-employed person; and that apart there is always an incessant effort to enhance one's income for sustenance. The purchasing capacity of a salaried person on permanent job when increases because of grant of increments and pay revision or for some other change in service conditions, there is always a competing attitude in the private sector to enhance the salary to get better efficiency from the employees. Similarly, a person who is self-employed is bound to garner his resources and raise his charges/fees so that he can live with same facilities. To have the perception that he is likely to remain static and his income to remain stagnant is contrary to the fundamental concept of human attitude which always intends to live with dynamism and move and change with the time. Though it may seem appropriate that there cannot be certainty in addition of future prospects to the existing income unlike in the case of a person having a permanent job, yet the said perception does not really deserve acceptance. We are inclined to think that there can be some degree of difference as regards the percentage that is meant for or applied to in respect of the legal representatives who claim on behalf of the deceased who had a permanent job than a person who is self-employed or on a fixed salary. But not to apply the principle of standardization on the foundation of perceived lack of certainty would tantamount to remaining oblivious to the marrows of ground reality. And, therefore, degree-test is imperative. Unless the degree-test is applied and left to the parties to adduce evidence to establish, it would be unfair and inequitable. The degree-test has to have the inbuilt concept of percentage. Taking into consideration the cumulative factors, namely, passage of time, the changing society, escalation of price, the change in price index, the human attitude to follow a particular pattern of life, etc., an addition of 40% of the established income of the deceased towards future prospects and where the deceased was below 40 years and an addition of 25% where the deceased was between the age of 40 to 50 years would be reasonable.

58. The controversy does not end here. The question still remains whether there should be no addition where the age of the deceased is more than 50 years. Sarla Verma thinks it appropriate not to add any amount and the same has been approved in Reshma Kumari. Judicial notice can be taken of the fact that salary does not remain the same. When a person is in a permanent job, there is always an enhancement due to one reason or the other. To lay down as a thumb rule that there will be no addition after 50 years will be an unacceptable concept. We are disposed to think, there should be an addition of 15% if the deceased is between the age of 50 to 60 years and there should be no addition thereafter. Similarly, in case of self-employed or person on fixed salary, the addition should be 10% between the age of 50 to 60 years. The aforesaid yardstick has been fixed so that there can be consistency in the approach by the tribunals and the courts.

59. In view of the aforesaid analysis, we proceed to record our conclusions:

59.1. The two-Judge Bench in Santosh Devi should have been well advised to refer the matter to a larger Bench as it was taking a different view than what has been stated in Sarla Verma, a judgment by a coordinate Bench. It is because a coordinate Bench of the same strength cannot take a contrary view than what has been held by another coordinate Bench.

59.2. As Rajesh has not taken note of the decision in Reshma Kumari, which was delivered at earlier point of time, the decision in Rajesh is not a binding precedent.

59.3. While determining the income, an addition of 50% of actual salary to the income of the deceased towards future prospects, where the deceased had a permanent job and was below the age of 40 years, should be made. The addition should be 30%, if the age of the deceased was between 40 to 50 years. In case the deceased was between the age of 50 to 60 years, the addition should be 15%. Actual salary should be read as actual salary less tax.

59.4. In case the deceased was self-employed or on a fixed salary, an addition of 40% of the established income should be the warrant where the deceased was below the age of 40 years. An addition of 25% where the deceased was between the age of 40 to 50 years and 10% where the deceased was between the age of 50 to 60 years should be regarded as the necessary method of computation. The established income means the income minus the tax component."

(Emphasis added)

13. However, Rule 220-A (3) of the Rules, 1998 provides that future prospects of a deceased shall be added in the actual salary or minimum wages of the deceased as under :-

(i) Below 40 years of age : 50% of the salary

(ii) Between 40-50 years of age : 30% of the salary

(iii) More than 50 years of age : 20% of the salary

(iv) When wages not sufficiently proved. : 50% towards inflation and price index.

14. The notional income of the deceased is determined on the basis of minimum wages and thus in accordance with the Rules, 1998, 30% has to be added as future prospects in the notional income of the deceased while determining the multiplicand as deceased was 40 years old.

15. The Supreme Court in Pranay Sethi (supra) referred to only three conventional heads, namely, loss of estate, loss of consortium and funeral expenses while determining the compensation payable under the Act, 1988. In Pranay Sethi (supra), it was further held that the compensation under the aforesaid conventional heads should be Rs.15,000/-, Rs.40,000/- and Rs.15,000/-, respectively. However, in Magma General Insurance Company Ltd. vs. Nanu Ram 2018 SCC OnLine SC 1546, the Supreme Court awarded compensations for loss of love and affection and for loss of consortium. The compensation for loss of love and affection was determined as Rs.50,000/- and the compensation for loss of consortium, in accordance with Pranay Sethi (supra), was determined at Rs.40,000/-. The compensation under the aforesaid heads and for the said amount were paid separately to each of the claimants by the Supreme Court. However, subsequently, the Supreme Court in United India Insurance Company Ltd. vs. Satinder Kaur @ Satwinder Kaur & Ors., AIR (2020) SC 3076 held that loss of love and affection is included in loss of consortium and, therefore, there is no justification to award compensation towards loss of love and affection as a separate head. The aforesaid judgment was followed by the Supreme Court in The New India Assurance Company Ltd. vs. Smt. Somwati & Ors., (2020) 9 SCC 644. However, Rule 220-A(4) of the Rules, 1998 provides for seperate compensation for 'loss of love and affection' and 'loss of consortium'. Rule 4 of the Rules, 1998 is reproduced below :-

(4) The non-pecuniary damages shall also be payable in the compensation as follow :-

(i) Compensation for loss of estate : Rs. 5,000 to Rs. 10,000

(ii) Compensation for loss of consortium : Rs. 5,000 to Rs. 10,000

(iii) Compensation for loss of love and affection : Rs. 5,000 to Rs. 15,000

(iv) Funeral expenses costs of transportation of body : Rs. 5,000 or actual expenses whichever is less

(v)

16. A reading of the judgments of the Supreme Court in Satinder Kaur (supra) and Smt. Somwati (supra) do not indicate that Rules, 1998 were brought to the notice of the Supreme Court in the aforesaid case. The Supreme Court in New India Assurance Company Ltd. vs. Urmila Shukla & Ors. 2021 SCC OnLine SC 822 has held that if an indicia is made available in the form of a statutory instrument which affords a favourable treatment, the decision in Pranay Sethi (supra) cannot be taken to have limited the operation of such statutory provision especially when the validity of the Rules was not put under any challenge. It was further observed by the Supreme Court that if a statutory instrument has devised a formula which affords better or greater benefit, such statutory instrument must be allowed to operate unless the statutory instrument is otherwise found to be invalid. The observations of the Court from paragraphs 8 to 11 are reproduced below :-

"8. It is submitted by Mr. Rao that the judgment in Pranay Sethi does not show that the attention of the Court was invited to the specific rules such as Rule 3(iii) which contemplates addition of 20% of the salary as against 15% which was stated as a measure in Pranay Sethi. In his submission, since the statutory instrument has been put in place which affords more advantageous treatment, the decision in Pranay Sethi ought not to be considered to limit the application of such statutory Rule.

9. It is to be noted that the validity of the Rules was not, in any way, questioned in the instant matter and thus the only question that we are called upon to consider is whether in its application, sub-Rule 3(iii) of Rule 220A of the Rules must be given restricted scope or it must be allowed to operate fully.

10. The discussion on the point in Pranay Sethi was from the standpoint of arriving at "just compensation" in terms of Section 168 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988.

11. If an indicia is made available in the form of a statutory instrument which affords a favourable treatment, the decision in Pranay Sethi cannot be taken to have limited the operation of such statutory provision specially when the validity of the Rules was not put under any challenge. The prescription of 15% in cases where the deceased was in the age bracket of 50-60 years as stated in Pranay Sethi cannot be taken as maxima. In the absence of any governing principle available in the statutory regime, it was only in the form of an indication. If a statutory instrument has devised a formula which affords better or greater benefit, such statutory instrument must be allowed to operate unless the statutory instrument is otherwise found to be invalid."

(Emphasis added)

17. In light of the judgment of the Supreme Court in Urmila Shukla (supra) read with Rules, 1998, it is held that the claimants were entitled to separate compensation for loss of consortium and for loss of love and affection.

18. On applying the aforesaid principles, it is apparent that the compensation awarded to the claimants by the Tribunal is too meager and is to be enhanced. The compensation payable to the claimants is re-determined as follows :-

(1) Notional income of the deceased = Rs.200/- per day, i.e., Rs.6,000/- per month and Rs.72,000/- per annum.

(2) ¼ deductions for the personal and living expenses of the deceased = Rs.18,000/- (72,000/4).

(3) The dependency of the claimants on the deceased = Rs.54,000/-. (Rs. 72,000/- - Rs. 18,000/-)

(4) Future prospects = 30%, i.e., 54,000 x 30% = Rs.16200/-.

(5) Thus, multiplicand = 54,000 + 16,200 = Rs.70,200/-.

(6) Applying the multiplier of 15, the pecuniary damage would be = 70,200 x 15 = Rs.10,53,000/-.

(7) Compensation under the conventional heads -

(i) Loss of estate = Rs.15,000/-

(ii) Funeral expenses = Rs.15,000/-

(iii) Loss of filial consortium to appellant no. 5 = Rs.40,000/-

(iv) Loss of spousal consortium to appellant no. 1 = Rs.40,000/-

(v) Loss of parental consortium to appellant nos. 2 to 4 = Rs. 40,000 x 3 = Rs.1,20,000/- (Rs. 40,000/- each)

(vi) Loss of love and affection to appellant nos. 1 to 5 = Rs. 50,000 x 5

19. Thus, the total compensation payable to the claimants = Rs.15,33,000/-.

20. It is held that the claimants are entitled to a compensation of Rs.15,33,000/- and the award of the Tribunal is modified to the aforesaid extent. The claimants shall be entitled to interest at the rate of 7% per annum as awarded by the Tribunal.

21. The balance amount / enhanced compensation so far as pecuniary damages and compensation for loss of estate and for funeral expenses alongwith the interest on the same. shall be paid to appellant no. 1 who is the widow of the deceased. The appellant no. 1 shall also be entitled to get the enhanced compensation awarded for loss of spousal consortium and Rs.50,000/- for loss of love and affection along with the interest payable on the same. The appellant nos. 2, 3 and 4 shall be entitled to compensation for payment of loss of parental consortium as awarded above and for loss of love and affection as awarded above, i.e., Rs.40,000/- and Rs.50,000/- each under the aforesaid heads along with the interest payable on the same. The appellant no. 5 died during the pendency of the present appeal and, therefore, the compensation awarded to her for loss of love and affection and for loss of consortium along with the interest accruing on the same shall be distributed equally between respondent nos. 1 to 4.

22. The appeal is allowed and the award of the Tribunal is modified to the extent indicated above. The balance amount / excess amount as awarded by this Court in the present appeal shall be deposited by the Mega General Insurance Company Ltd., i.e., opposite party no. 2 in the Tribunal within four months. The amount so deposited by the Mega General Insurance Company Ltd. under the present order of this Court shall be deposited by the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal, Aligarh in the highest interest bearing fixed deposit schemes, either of the post office or of any nationalized bank. The receipts of the fixed deposit shall be handed over to the appellant no. 1, who is also the guardian of appellant nos. 2 to 4, who shall be entitled to withdraw the maturity amount when the fixed deposits mature. The maturity amount shall be credited by the bank/post office in any savings account of the appellants. The concerned bank or post office shall not permit any loan or advance against the fixed deposits made in favour of the appellants. The Tribunal, while depositing the amount in any fixed deposit scheme, shall communicate the directions issued by this Court to the concerned bank/post office.

23. With the aforesaid directions and observations, the appeal is allowed. Parties shall bear their own cost.

24. The office shall transmit the records of the case to the Tribunal, at the earliest.

(2022)05ILR A697
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 05.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE J.J. MUNIR, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 965 of 2021

Bhagwandas & Anr. ...Appellants
Versus
Smt. Rammi Devi & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Surendra Pal, Sri S.P. Gangwar

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Ravinath Tiwari

A. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Claim – Involvement of offending vehicle – Burden of proof, on whom lie – Held, burden of proof and, particularly, evidential burden, would lie upon the claimants to adduce some evidence, on the basis of which, a reasonable inference about the offending vehicle's involvement can be drawn – After some evidence by the claimants is brought in to show the involvement of the offending vehicle, of course, the purpose and object of the Motor Vehicles Act, insofar it relates to accident claims, that is to secure just compensation to the victim or victims of a motor accident, would require a holistic consideration of the evidence to find out if the offending vehicle is indeed involved – The owner of the offending vehicle, particularly, that is not insured, or even one that is insured, is not permitted to raise fanciful doubts about the involvement of a motor vehicle that has apparently caused an accident, resulting in injury to life or limb. (Para 13)

B. Motor Accident Claim – Involvement of offending vehicle – Nine days Delay in lodging of F.IR. – Impact on claimant's case – Held, if the FIR belatedly reports an accident, truthfully pointing out to the identity of the offending vehicle, the delayed registration of the FIR cannot be a ground to doubt the veracity of the claimants' case – But, at the root of the inquiry, lies the fact, whether the claimants' version carried in the FIR and the claim petition about the identity of the offending vehicle is truthful and genuine. In the present case, mostly, like many other claims, there is an eye-witness account – Held further, the evidence that has come on record does not remotely establish that it was the owner's vehicle, that was involved in the accident – High Court gave liberty to the claimant to claim u/s 161 of M.VsAct. (Para 16, 17, 35 and 42)

C. Motor Accident Claim – Non-insurance of the vehicle, alleged to be involved in accident – Effect – Tribunal's observation that if it were a case of involving the vehicle for the purpose of realizing compensation, there would be prior concert with the owner and the driver, where it would be ensured that the vehicle had valid papers, how far lay down correct presumption – Held, the fact that the vehicle was not insured, cannot lead the Court to draw a positive inference about the vehicle's involvement in the absence of some evidence aliunde, showing that involvement. (Para 38 and 39)

Appeal allowed (E-1)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Ravi Vs Badrinarayan & ors. AIR 2011 SC 1226

(Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. This is an appeal by the driver and the owner, arising out of an award dated 22.02.2021 passed by Mr. Rakesh Dhar Dubey, Presiding Officer, Motor Accident Claims Tribunal, Pilibhit, allowing Motor Accident Claims Petition No.35 of 2016 and ordering payment of compensation to the claimant-respondents.

2. The facts giving rise to the motor accident claims are these:

On 13th November, 2015, according to the claimants, at about 5:00 o'clock in the evening, the deceased Prem Chand, along with his wife, Rammi Devi, was proceeding on bicycle from his in-laws' place, located in Dehgala, to Village Jagpura in the District of Pilibhit. Following him on a bicycle was his younger brother Bheemsen. Suddenly, a tempo bearing Registration No. UP-26T-0479 appeared from the opposite direction. It was driven at a high speed and negligently by its driver, Bhagwandas. The tempo hit the deceased's bicycle head on. The collision caused the deceased Prem Chand and Rammi Devi to sustain grievous injuries. The accident was witnessed by the deceased's brother and other natives of the village, to name a few, Ram Charan and Puttu Lal. The deceased's condition being serious, he was referred to Dr. S.K. Agrawal at the S.S. Hospital, Pilibhit. The deceased was subjected to an ultrasonographic examination, whereafter he was referred to Ganga Singh Hospital.

3. While on way to the Ganga Singh Hospital, the deceased passed away. An inquest was held by the Police of Police Station Nyuria and the dead body was sent for autopsy. A case was registered by the Police, being Case Crime No.1154 of 2015, under Sections 279, 338, 304A IPC, P.S. Nyuria, District Pilibhit against the driver, Bhagwandas. It is then said in the claim petition that the deceased had agricultural land, upon which he toiled to earn a sum of Rs.15,000/- per month from agricultural produce. In addition, he had seven cattle heads, five buffaloes and two cows that yielded milk, which he sold for Rs.10,000/- a month. The deceased had a total income of Rs.25,000/- per month that he utilized to provide for his wife and children, including the children's education. The deceased was a young and hard working man, who would go on to earn more from his exertions. It is also said in the claim petition that the deceased's wife would also aid him in productive work. Prem Chand's untimely demise plunged the family's future into an abyss of darkness. They faced financial crisis, which led them to sell off their milch cattle. The couple's three children are all pursuing educational courses. The entire finances of the family, including the education of the children, has been imperiled by the unfortunate accident. The family have also incurred debt. The deceased's wife has been deprived of her spousal consortium, and so have the children of the love and affection of their father. The claimants have asked that they be awarded compensation in the sum of Rs.68,32,000/- together 18% annual interest from the date of accident until realization.

4. Bhagwandas, the driver of the offending vehicle, who is appellant no.1, was arrayed as opposite party no.1 to the claim petition. He shall hereinafter be referred to as 'the driver'. The driver filed a written statement, denying his involvement in the accident. He has asserted that by setting up a false claim, the claimants desire to recover compensation. It is also pleaded that the driver has been wrongly impleaded. He is not answerable to pay any compensation. He did not cause the accident and was not present at the place of accident at all. He has no connection at all to the offending vehicle, that is to say, tempo bearing Registration No. UP-26T-0479 nor had he ever had any connection with the said vehicle. A false and malicious First Information Report (for short, 'the FIR') has been lodged against him. He is not at all responsible for the accident. He has a valid licence, that was valid on the date of accident also.

5. Niranjan Lal is the owner of the offending vehicle and the second appellant here. He was arrayed as opposite party no.2 to the claim petition. Niranjan Lal, appellant no.2 shall hereinafter be referred to as "the owner'. The owner has filed a written statement, denying the accident and the entitlement of the claimants to recover compensation. He has said that burden lies upon the claimants to establish the accident involving the offending vehicle. There is plea raised in his written statement that in the Amar Ujala Hindi Daily dated 14th November, 2015, there was a news item published, reporting that Prem Chand, a resident of Jatpura, was riding his motorcycle along with his wife and proceeding to Jatpura, when he met with an accident involving a tempo. It has been raised as a plea by the owner that the claimants' case that the deceased was riding a bicycle is false.

6. It is also said by the owner that on the date of occurrence, he was not the owner of tempo bearing Registration No. UP-26T-0479 nor was the said vehicle under his control. The driver was never hired by the owner. It has also been pleaded in the written statement by the owner that he purchased the tempo under reference in the year 2011 after securing finance from Mahindra Alfa Shriram Transport Finance Company. The vehicle was registered on 22.01.2011. The owner got the vehicle plied for sometime, but it suddenly broke down. The vehicle's axle broke and it had to be parked at the owner's home. It was no longer road-worthy. In the circumstances, the owner sold the tempo in question to one Rizwan son of Natthu, a native of Mohalla Peelkhana, P.S. Kotwali, District Pilibhit for a sum of Rs.52,000/- on 30.05.2014. It was sold as scrap.

7. An affidavit sworn before a Notary Public was filed about the aforesaid fact. The tempo was not in an operational state and, therefore, no longer a motor vehicle. Rizwan had taken it away after the purchase, not moving on its wheels. After 30.05.2014, the entire control of the vehicle passed on to Rizwan. The entire responsibility about the vehicle was his. The owner has been wrongly impleaded.

The so called offending vehicle bore a false number plate. The offending vehicle bearing the number plate of the tempo, that was once the owner's vehicle, was not that vehicle at all. Its engine number and chassiss number were different. The driver, Bhagwandas, who has been shown to be driving the offending vehicle, was not a driver employed by the owner. Rizwan had not been impleaded as a party to the claim petition. For the said reason, the claim petition was bad for non-joinder of necessary party. The owner is not liable to pay any compensation. If the deceased Prem Chand had sustained any injury in a motor accident, that was on account of his riding a motorcycle negligently and at a high speed, the way it is reported in the Amar Ujala Hindi Daily dated 15.11.2015. On the basis of these facts, the owner prayed that the claim petition be rejected.

8. Upon the pleadings of parties, the following issues were framed (translated into English from Hindi):

"(1) Whether on 13.11.2015 at 5:00 in the evening hours when the claimant's husband, the deceased Prem Chand along with his wife, the injured-claimant was proceeding on the main road at Dhankuna Adda on his bicycle returning from his in-laws at Village Dehgala to Village Jatpura, he was hit head-on by tempo bearing Registration No. UP-26T-0479, that was driven at a high speed and negligently, in consequence of which Prem Chand and his wife sustained injuries, that led to Prem Chand's death? If yes or no, its effect?

(2) Whether on the date of accident, the driver of vehicle No. UP-26T-0479 had a valid and effective driving licence? If yes, its effect?

(3) Whether on the date of accident, Rizwan son of Natthu, resident of Mohalla Peelkhana was the owner of tempo No. UP-26T-0479 and the vehicle was under his control? If yes, its effect?

(4) Whether the claim petition is bad for mis-joinder? If yes, its effect?

(5) Whether the claimants are entitled to any compensation? If yes, how much and from which party?"

9. In support of the claim petition, the claimants examined PW-1, Smt. Rammi Devi, PW-2, Bheemsen and PW-3, Puttu Lal. The opposite parties to the claim petition, that is to say, the owner and the driver, examined themselves as DW-1 and DW-2 in that order.

10. The claimants also led documentary evidence that comprises a certified copy of the FIR, a photostat copy of the bail order relating to Bhagwandas, a photostat copy of the postmortem report, medical papers relating to treatment of the deceased, Prem Chand, medical bills of the deceased's ultrasonography, a letter of reference to the higher centre, medico-legal reports relating to Rammi Devi, that includes a CT Scan report and blood test reports. Further documents have been filed, such as the Aadhar Card relating to Rammi Devi and her identity card. Papers relating to medical expenses involved in Rammi Devi's treatment have also been filed. The claimants also filed through a list bearing paper No. 32ग, a certificate about sale of milk by the deceased issued by one Raj Kumar. The claimants also filed through list 52ग, a certified copy of the charge sheet filed by the Police in the criminal case against Bhagwandas.

11. The driver through a list bearing paper No. 21ग has filed his driving licence. The owner through a list bearing paper No. 23ग has filed a newspaper clipping of Amar Ujala Hindi Daily of 14.11.2015 and an affidavit dated 30.05.2014 sworn by Rizwan son of Natthu. The owner also filed through a list bearing paper No. 62ग, a photostat copy of the insurance cover-note, bearing paper No. 62ग/2.

12. Heard Mr. Surendra Pal, learned Counsel for the the driver and the owner, and Mr. Ravinath Tiwari, learned Counsel for the claimants.

13. The foremost point for determination that arises in this appeal is whether the offending vehicle bearing Registration No. UP-26T-0479 was involved in the accident. This point assumes some seriousness in this matter because there is distinct and specific pleading by the owner that the said vehicle was not at all involved and the allegations have been brought against the said vehicle in order to recover compensation. The driver too has taken a specific stand, which is more to the effect that he is not at all connected to the vehicle bearing Registration No. UP-26T-0479, of which he has never been the driver. The burden of proof and, particularly, evidential burden, would certainly lie upon the claimants to adduce some evidence, on the basis of which, a reasonable inference about the offending vehicle's involvement can be drawn. After some evidence by the claimants is brought in to show the involvement of the offending vehicle, of course, the purpose and object of the Motor Vehicles Act, insofar it relates to accident claims, that is to secure just compensation to the victim or victims of a motor accident, would require a holistic consideration of the evidence to find out if the offending vehicle is indeed involved. The owner of the offending vehicle, particularly, that is not insured, or even one that is insured, is not permitted to raise fanciful doubts about the involvement of a motor vehicle that has apparently caused an accident, resulting in injury to life or limb.

14. It has been argued with much vehemence by Mr. Surendra Pal, learned Counsel for the driver and the owner that there is not a shred of evidence to prove that the offending vehicle was at all involved in the accident. He has drawn the Court's attention to the fact that the accident occurred on 13.04.2015, whereas the FIR relating to the accident was lodged on 21.11.2015, that is to say, after a lapse of eight days of the accident. During this time, the claimants virtually conjured up the identity of the owner's vehicle from some source, which he had already sold in scrap to Rizwan. The latter had scrapped the vehicle and its number plate was fixed to some unknown tempo, that did not bear the engine number or the chasis number of the owner's vehicle, already scrapped. All these eight days in lodging the FIR were spent in searching for a vehicle that could be held out as the offending vehicle, so as to recover compensation from its owner. Learned Counsel for the driver and the owner has taken the Court through the testimony of the claimants' witnesses urging that it does not even remotely establish the offending vehicle's identity as the one responsible for the fatal accident.

15. Mr. Ravindra Nath Tiwari, learned Counsel for the claimants, on the other hand, submits that the driver is named in the FIR, that was lodged as soon as the family could have emerged somewhat from the trauma. During the relevant period of time, that is to say, between the accident and the lodging of the FIR, the deceased's wife was also hospitalized in a precarious condition and all that has contributed to the delay. He submits that delay in lodging an FIR in a motor accident claim does not cast doubt about the veracity of the claimants' case against the offending vehicle. The driver of the offending vehicle, after investigation by the Police, has been charge-sheeted. He has also been released on bail. That apart, there is a dependable account of three eye-witnesses, including the deceased's wife, who sustained injuries in the accident, that all point unmistakably to the involvement of the owner's vehicle in the accident. He submits, therefore, that the Tribunal has taken a holistic view of the evidence and rightly found the owner's vehicle involved in the accident and ordered him to pay compensation.

16. It is, no doubt, true that the mere fact of delay in lodging the FIR cannot lead at all to the inference that the claimants' case is doubtful. What is of importance, in a matter involving a motor accident, that is, at once an offence and a cause of action for compensation under the Motor Vehicles Act, is the authenticity of the claimants' case. If the FIR belatedly reports an accident, truthfully pointing out to the identity of the offending vehicle, the delayed registration of the FIR cannot be a ground to doubt the veracity of the claimants' case. There could be innumerable reasons for the delay in lodging the FIR and the most commonplace of these is the trauma that the family goes through, particularly, where there is a survivor, still struggling for his/ her life in the hospital. This position of the law is adumbrated by the Supreme Court in Ravi v. Badrinarayan and others, AIR 2011 SC 1226. In Ravi (supra), it has been held:

"20. It is well-settled that delay in lodging FIR cannot be a ground to doubt the claimant's case. Knowing the Indian conditions as they are, we cannot expect a common man to first rush to the Police Station immediately after an accident. Human nature and family responsibilities occupy the mind of kith and kin to such an extent that they give more importance to get the victim treated rather than to rush to the Police Station. Under such circumstances, they are not expected to act mechanically with promptitude in lodging the FIR with the Police. Delay in lodging the FIR thus, cannot be the ground to deny justice to the victim. In cases of delay, the courts are required to examine the evidence with a closer scrutiny and in doing so; the contents of the FIR should also be scrutinized more carefully. If court finds that there is no indication of fabrication or it has not been concocted or engineered to implicate innocent persons then, even if there is a delay in lodging the FIR, the claim case cannot be dismissed merely on that ground.

21. The purpose of lodging the FIR in such type of cases is primarily to intimate the police to initiate investigation of criminal offences. Lodging of FIR certainly proves factum of accident so that the victim is able to lodge a case for compensation but delay in doing so cannot be the main ground for rejecting the claim petition. In other words, although lodging of FIR is vital in deciding motor accident claim cases, delay in lodging the same should not be treated as fatal for such proceedings, if claimant has been able to demonstrate satisfactory and cogent reasons for it. There could be variety of reasons in genuine cases for delayed lodgment of FIR. Unless kith and kin of the victim are able to regain a certain level of tranquillity of mind and are composed to lodge it, even if, there is delay, the same deserves to be condoned. In such circumstances, the authenticity of the FIR assumes much more significance than delay in lodging thereof supported by cogent reasons."

17. Therefore, by reason of delay alone in lodging the FIR, the claimants' case cannot be viewed with an eye of suspicion. But, at the root of the inquiry, lies the fact, whether the claimants' version carried in the FIR and the claim petition about the identity of the offending vehicle is truthful and genuine. In the present case, mostly, like many other claims, there is an eye-witness account. There are three eye-witnesses, who have been examined by the claimants. PW-1, Smt. Rammi Devi is a victim of the accident alongside the deceased. This witness in her examination-in-chief has described the accident as she must have experienced it until the traumatic event and has referred to the offending vehicle with its registration number. In her cross-examination on behalf of the driver, this witness has stated thus:

"मैं साढ़े चार बजे अपने घर से चली थी। टक्कर लगते ही मैं नीचे गिर गई थी। जब मुझे होश आया मैं अस्पताल में थी। मुझे करीब नौ-दस दिन के बाद पता चला था कि मेरे रिश्तेदारों में रिपोर्ट लिखा दी है। मुझे भीमसेन ने बताया था कि हमने भगवानदास के विरुद्ध रिपोर्ट दर्ज करा दी है। रिपोर्ट में उन्होने बताया कि भगवानदास का नाम लिखाया है और टैम्पू का क्या नम्बर लिखाया यह देवर भीमसेन को पता होगा। जब मैं अस्पताल में थी तब भीमसेन व मेरे रिश्तेदार अस्पताल में आये इन लोगों ने मुझसे पूछा कि कौन टक्कर मार गया तो मैने बताया कि टैम्पू वाला टक्कर मार गया।"

18. There is no reason to disbelieve that it was a tempo that hit the unfortunate couple, but there is equally no reason to believe the evidence of this witness that it was the offending vehicle that did the evil deed. It is apparent that as soon as the accident happened, this witness fell off of the bicycle and lost consciousness. She regained it in the hospital. In her cross-examination, she has specifically said that on being hit by the offending vehicle, she fell down. When she regained consciousness, she was in the hospital. In this sequence of events, it is difficult to credit this witness with a first-hand account about the registration number or the identity of the offending vehicle. She can be believed to the extent alone that it was a tempo, which hit the victims while they were moving on the bicycle at the date, time and place of occurrence. The further admission of the witness in her cross-examination, that it was Bheemsen, who told her that they have lodged an FIR against Bhagwandas (the driver) and that it is her brother-in-law (Bheemsen), who would know about the registration number of the tempo, makes it pellucid that this witness never had occasion to know the number of the offending vehicle for herself, or identify it by any other means.

19. PW-1, Smt. Rammi Devi has also said in her cross-examination at the instance of the owner that the offending vehicle bears a registration plate in the english language and she does not know english. The evidence of this witness across the length and breadth of it, is of no consequence in ascertaining the identity of the offending vehicle by reference to its number or otherwise.

20. The other most important witness is Bheemsen, PW-2. He is the author of the FIR, reporting the occurrence. In his examination-in-chief, he has said about his presence on the spot and the identity of the offending vehicle thus:

"महीने का मुझे ध्यान नही है। करीब 14 महीने पहले की बता है। दुर्घटना के समय मेरे भाई साईकिल चला रहे थे व भाभी पीछे बैठी थी। यह दहगला अपनी ससुराल से आ रहे थे। मै इनसे करीब आधा कि०मी० पीछे-पीछे आ रहा था। धनकुना अड्डा पर पहुँचने पर मै अपनी भैया से थोड़ा पीछे था। यह दुर्घटना मेरे सामने हुई थी। भैया की साईकिल मे पीछे से भगवानदास ने टक्कर मारी थी। टैम्पो से टक्कर मारी थी। टैम्पो का नम्बर UP T 26/ 079 था। फिर कहा कि 0479 है। यह नम्बर टैम्पो का U.P. 26 T/0479 गवाह के हाथ पर भी लिखा है। टैम्पो का असली नम्बर 0479 सही है। एक्सीडेंट के समय घटना स्थल पर कौन कौन आ गया था उनके नाम मुझे नही पता। फिर कहा कि- पुत्तूलाल, राम चरन व भीमसेन आ गये थे। टैम्पो वाले को मौके पर नही पकड़ पाये, वह मौके से भाग गया था।"

21. This witness has read up to Class-VIII as he says himself in his cross-examination on behalf of the owner. He has spoken thus about the number of the offending vehicle:

"टैम्पो का नम्बर मेरे घर पर डायरी मे लिखा है। आज मै डायरी नही लाया हूँ। हाथ पर नम्बर मैने अपने आप लिखा है। मै सीधे हाथ से लिखता हूँ व टैम्पो का नम्बर भी मेरे सीधे हाथ पर ही लिखा है।

टैम्पो में लाईट नही जल रही थी। सूरज छिप चुका था। मै दुर्घटना के समय पुलिया के पास दक्खिन मे था। यह पुलिया वहां से करीब 20 कदम दूर होगी। दुर्घटना होते ही टैम्पो भाग गया। टैम्पो पीलीभीत की तरफ भाग निकला था।

हमारी धनकुना चौकी पर सूचना पहुँच गयी थी। वह सूचना वैसे ही दी थी कि दुर्घटना में प्रेमचन्द्र की मृत्यु हो गयी है। लिखकर नही दी थी।

दुर्घटना के आधे घंटे के बाद मेरे भाई मदन लाल धनकुना चौकी पर सूचना दे आये कि दुर्घटना मे प्रेमचन्द्र की मृत्यु था।

यह कहना गलत है मै आज झूठी गवाही दे रहा हूँ। यह कहना गलत है कि जिस नम्बर का टैम्पो मैने बताया है उससे दुर्घटना न हुई हो बल्कि दुर्घटना कही और हुई हो।

टैम्पो का पता चला थाना न्युरिया में है। मैने खुद टैम्पो को ढूढ़ा था। मझोला पकड़िया मे झाड़ी के पीछे खड़ा हुआ था। यह कहना गलत है कि मै सब फर्जी बाते बता रहा हूँ। यह कहना गलत है कि मेरे भाई मोटर साईकिल से गिरे हो।"

22. It is further stated by this witness, in answer to the cross-examination on behalf of the driver, thus:

"जब मैं टैम्पो को ढूढ़ता हुआ मझोला पहुँचा तो मुझे एक टैम्पो झाड़ियो में खड़ा मिली। यह टैम्पो मुझे पांच दिन के बाद मिला था। उसी टैम्पो का नम्बर मैने अपनी डायरी मे नोट किया। और यही नम्बर मैने अपनी तहरीर में लिखकर थाने मे दे दिया था।

दिन शनिवार को लगभग 11 बजे मै अपने घर से दहगला के लिए निकला था। साढ़े 11 बजे मै दहगला पहुँच गया था। वहां से पीलीभीत नही आया था। मेरी वापसी वहां 4.15 पर वापसी हो गयी थी।

जब मै घटना स्थल पर पहुँचा तो ड्राईवर टैम्पो लेकर भाग चुका था। जब मै वहां पहुँचा तो भाभी मेरी वहां पर बेहोश पड़ी थी। वहां पर बहुत भीड़ लगी थी। वहां पर मदन लाल नही आये थे। मै अपनी भाभी को देखने अस्पताल गया था। उनको आठवें दिन होश आया था। तब मैने अपनी भाभी को बताया कि एक टैम्पो मुझे लावारिस हालत में मिला है। उसका नम्बर मैने रिपोर्ट मे लिखा दिया है।

घटना वाले दिन मै रिपोर्ट लिखाने नहीं गया था। घटना को दूसरे, तीसरे, चौथे, पांचवे, छठे, सातवें, आठवे, नौवे दिन तक मै रिपोर्ट लिखाने नही गया क्योंकि मै टैम्पो तलाश करता रहा जब टैम्पो मिला, उसका नम्बर नोट किया तब मुकदमा दर्ज कराया।

मै आकर तहरीर अपने वकील साहब से लिखायी और वहां पर सब घर वालो ने बैठकर तय किया कि यदि क्लेम लेना है तो इसी टैम्पो के खिलाफ रिपार्ट लिखा दो।"

(emphasis by Court)

23. From the testimony of this witness like PW-1, it is vivid that he saw the occurrence, but could not note down the number of the vehicle as it escaped. By the time the accident occurred, darkness had already set in and the offending vehicle did not have its lights on, much less a light that would be illuminating the number plate. To expect a number plate light on a tempo plying in the hinterland is a far-cry. What is beyond doubt is that the offending tempo escaped immediately after the accident, and evidently, there was not enough time for anyone to note down its number.

24. This is all the more evident from the fact that the deceased's inquest and postmortem reports show that the Police took that action on the basis of G.D. Entry No.5 lodged at 50 minutes past midnight on 14.11.2015 at Kotwali, Pilibhit. Apparently, this G.D. Entry was made on the basis of an oral information that PW-2 has spoken about, that was given to the Police after Prem Chand passed away while on way for medical aid to a higher centre at Bareilly. If by that time, PW-2, the deceased's brother had noted down the number of the offending vehicle, it is possible that it might have figured in the G.D. Entry based on the oral information to the Police. In any case, it would have figured in police investigation very early. In all eventualities, the FIR would have been lodged early, mentioning the vehicle. It could be said that in the crisis and trauma that ensued, PW-2 was not left with time or attention to pay to the legal niceties of lodging an encyclopedic written first information or at least one that mentioned the offending vehicle's registration number or other identities. But, that possibility is obviated by what PW-2 has said in his cross-examination. He has stated that he proceeded to Majhaula, where he found the offending tempo parked behind some bushes. This was five days after the occurrence. He has very candidly said that he noted down the number of that tempo in his diary and mentioned it to the Police in his written information lodged later. He has stated in his cross-examination that he lodged the FIR on the ninth day of the occurrence, because he was searching out the offending tempo. He has said that after he had searched out the offending tempo, he noted down its number and got an FIR registered.

25. It has also been said in his cross-examination by PW-2 towards the tail-end of it that after noting down the parked tempo's number, he went to his Counsel and asked him to draft the FIR and there, all members of the family sat together and expressed opinion that if compensation had to be claimed, then an FIR has to be lodged against this tempo (the one discovered by PW-2 in the bushes at Majhaula).

26. This Court is mindful of the fact that in hit-and-run cases, some kind of a private investigation to ascertain the identity of the offending vehicle is undertaken or has to be undertaken by those who are the unfortunate victims of the accident, or the survivors of the deceased. If they go about the task gathering with reasonable certainty, the identity of the offending vehicle, a mere belated report of the incident to the Police, would not cast any doubt about the claimant's case. Here, the identity of the tempo, going by the words of PW-2, who is an eye-witness, has been ascertained by him. He did not know its identity, when the accident occurred and the offending vehicle escaped. It took him some five days to discover the offending vehicle parked behind some bushes at a place called Majhaula.

27. Remarkably, there is nothing in the testimony of PW-2 to indicate the basis on which he inferred that the vehicle that he found parked behind some bushes at Majhaula was the offending vehicle. The assertion that PW-2 found the offending vehicle behind the bushes at Majhaula is nothing more than pure conjecture, with no basis to the inference. It is not said that there was some feature about the vehicle that this witness had noted at the time of accident, that led him to identify it or that he was informed by someone, who knew about the identity of the offending vehicle. Of course, in the latter case, the person informing him would also have to be examined, but there is no such case. Rather, the closing part of this witness's cross-examination virtually says that after he had searched out the offending vehicle, as if it were by gut feeling, he sat together in conference with other relatives and decided to lodge an FIR against the offending vehicle for the sake of preferring a compensation claim. It is very difficult to accept on the basis of this witness's evidence that the offending vehicle identified by him was indeed the one involved in the accident.

28. The third witness, who has been examined on behalf of the claimants is Puttu Lal, PW-3. He has testified in his examination-in-chief that he was an eye-witness to the accident, about which he broadly says that it was a tempo that hit the deceased and his wife as they were moving on the bicycle. The tempo had proceeded on the wrong side to cause the accident. He has further said in his examination-in-chief that the tempo was being driven by Bhagwandas son of Nandram. The driver is a native of Village Dhankuna. The driver is not a prior acquaintance of the witness or otherwise known to him. It is then said by this witness in his testimony:

"जिस टैम्पो से टक्कर हुई थी उसका नं० U.P.26T/0479 था। उसके बाद टैम्पो चालक को मय टैम्पो के तीन चार लोग चौकी पर ले गये।"

29. In his cross-examination at the instance of the owner, this witness has stated:

"टैम्पू चालक व टैम्पू को मैं थाने नहीं ले गया था। टैम्पू चालक व टैम्पू को मैं चौकी पर

नही ले गया था कौन ले गया था मुझे नहीं पता जो ब्यान आज मैं दे रहा हूँ वह सही है पहले वाला गलत है। यह गलत ब्यान मैने जान बूझकर नही दिया था। मैने टैम्पू के आगे वाला नम्बर देखा था उसका इन्जन नम्बर नही देखा था। यह टैम्पू मैने घनकुना अड्डे पर देखा था वहाँ से कौन ले गया मुझे नहीं पता वहां पर बहुत से लोग इकट्ठे थे वही लोग टैम्पू चालक को ले गये। मैं चौकी पर नही गया था यह पता है कि टैम्पू किसका है। टैम्पू पर नम्बर प्लेट सफेद रंग की काले अक्षर लिखे थे। यह कहना गलत है कि मैं झूठी गवाही दे रहा हूँ।"

30. In his cross-examination at the instance of the driver, PW-3 has stated thus:

"मैं विद्याराम को जानता हूँ। विद्याराम वकील साहब है। गांव के प्रधान हैं। इसी गांव का मै कोटेदार हूँ जिस गांव के विद्याराम प्रधान है मृतक प्रेमचन्द्र विद्याराम के गांव बस्ती के भतीजे थे। कोटा ग्राम प्रधान सत्यापित करता है। मेरे सामने टैम्पू चालक को भीड़ पकड़ कर ले गयी थी। यह बात सही है कि जिस टैम्पू से घटना हुई थई उस टैम्पू के चालक को व टैम्पू को लोगों ने मौके पर ही पकड़ लिया था। यह कहना गलत है कि मैं अपना राशन का कोटा बचाने के लिए प्रधान विद्याराम के दबाव में झूठी गवाही दे रहा हूँ। यह भी कहना गलत है कि मैं सिखाए से झूठा प्रतिकर दिलाने के लिए गलत ब्यानी कर रहा हूँ।"

31. Now, so far as this witness is concerned, he has largely spoken about the tempo being apprehended on the spot by the crowd and taken to the Police Chowki and then to the Police Station. He says that he had seen the number of the vehicle on the front plate at the Dhankuna Stand. It is beyond understanding that if the offending vehicle was apprehended by the crowd on the spot and taken to the Police Chowki, why an FIR would be lodged by the deceased's brother nine days later after searching out the tempo, five days after the accident, parked behind some bushes at Majhaula. Even if one were not to look at the irreconcilable contradiction between the evidence of PW-2 and PW-3, an apprehension of the vehicle on the spot by the public would have led to a prompt FIR and immediate arrest of the driver. It does not appear to be the case in the FIR also, pursuant to which the driver surrendered in Court and secured bail. On a comparison done of the two eye-witness accounts of PW-2 and PW-3, the only ones available, the two cannot be reconciled. One speaks about the offending vehicle causing the accident and escaping, whereas the other says that it was apprehended on the spot by the crowd and handed over to the Police at the Police Chowki. There is also no such G.D. Entry brought to the notice of this Court that the vehicle was apprehended and handed over to the Police immediately after the accident. The two versions, when compared and also evaluated individually, do not show a hint about the involvement of the offending vehicle in the accident.

32. So far as the evidence of the driver Bhagwandas is concerned, he has entered the witness-box as DW-2 and asserted in his cross-examination that he does not do the job of a driver. He had no connection whatsoever with the offending vehicle. He had never functioned as its driver. He was at home on the date of accident and never driven it. He was not about the place of accident. In his cross-examination, he said that he had read about the accident the following day in the newspaper. The locals know him at Dhankuna, where he was born. He did not know the deceased and bore no ill-will or grudge against the deceased or his family members. The witness and Bheemsen were not at all inimical. He had a driving licence for a motorcycle and a four wheeler, that was valid. It has been said further in his cross-examination that he got himself bailed out 25 days after the accident and is still facing trial. He had not complained in any Court that he was falsely implicated.

33. The owner of the vehicle, DW-1, Niranjan Lal also entered the witness-box and testified in support of his case. He has said in his examination-in-chief that he had sold off the vehicle to Rizwan son of Natthu Bux for a sum of Rs.52,000/-. A sale letter had been written, which is on record as paper No. 25ग. The sale has been done on 30.05.2014. He has stated that the tempo was not in a motorable condition and was scrap. It was also said that when he came to know about the case, he went to Rizwan, who told him he had got the tempo dismantled as scrap. At the police station, he was told that the number plate of his tempo was affixed to some other vehicle and that the engine and chassiss number were different from those of the owner's vehicle. It was also said that the witness did not know, whether the number plate was genuine or fake, but the number on it was that of his vehicle. He did not know the driver at all and also that the driver had never been employed by him to operate his tempo.

34. In his cross-examination, this witness has said that he did not know that it was necessary to get a transfer of the vehicle registered with the R.T.O. after permission by the Finance Company. He had sold the vehicle to Rizwan and some part of the consideration was due. It is further said that Rizwan had told the witness that after the tempo was transferred to his name, he would pay the balance, but before that could be done, he got the tempo scraped and dismantled. The witness has also said that he did not know the deceased or the claimants. The claimants could not be inimical to him, as they never knew him. It has also been said by this witness that when he was summoned to the police station, he saw the number plate of his tempo on another vehicle, but did not complain about it to the Police or the Court. He did complain about the fact to Rizwan, but did not get any notice served through his Counsel or proceed in the matter before the Court.

35. There is no doubt about the fact that the accident took place involving a tempo, where Prem Chand perished in the accident, leaving behind the claimants. But, in this Court's opinion, the evidence that has come on record does not remotely establish that it was the owner's vehicle, that was involved in the accident. There is no admission on the part of either the owner or the driver, even slightly, that the offending vehicle could be the one involved in the accident.

36. The two witnesses for the claimants, whose evidence alone is material, are PW-2 and PW-3. Both of them have given an utterly contradictory account about the identity of the vehicle, though not about the factum of accident. While PW-2 has spoken about the offending vehicle escaping immediately after causing the accident, PW-3 says that it was apprehended by the crowd gathered on the spot and handed over to the Police. There is absolutely no evidence about the vehicle being handed over to the Police immediately after the accident. The identity of the vehicle surfaced nine days after the event through the FIR that was lodged by PW-2. PW-2 in his evidence does not indicate, by as much as a hint as to how he could identify that the vehicle that he found parked behind some bushes at Majhaula, was the one that had caused the accident. He has not identified it by reference to anything that he might have noticed at the time of the accident or the driver's identity. He did not know the driver beforehand. He has admitted in his evidence that he had noted down the number of the offending vehicle at the spot, where he found it parked and recorded it in his diary. Later on, he had sat in consultation with other relatives and decided to lodge an FIR against the vehicle that he discovered parked behind some foliage at Majhaula. He has gone to the extent of saying with the utmost candor that after noting down the number of the vehicle at Majhaula, he visited his Counsel, where the other family members sat together and decided that if compensation had to be claimed, a report would have to be lodged against this tempo.

37. The learned Judge in the Tribunal has found the identity of the offending vehicle established by remarks to the effect that PW-2 and PW-3 are eye-witnesses and there is nothing in their evidence or cross-examination to disbelieve them. Apart from it, the fact that an FIR was lodged against the driver of the vehicle, that was registered in the owner's name, on 21.11.2015, where the driver secured bail and a charge sheet filed in Court, all go to prove the involvement of the offending vehicle. It has then been remarked by the Trial Court that though the owner says that he had transferred the offending vehicle to Rizwan, but the insurance policy, that has been filed on record, valid from 28.03.2014 to 27.03.2015, shows that the vehicle was registered in the owner's name. There was no transfer recorded on the basis of the sale letter dated 30.05.2014 in favour of Rizwan by the R.T.O. The Tribunal has taken note of the sale letter, which says that the owner would have to obtain an NOC and then realize the balance consideration of Rs.5000/-, whereafter transfer of ownership would take place. There is no evidence offered by the owner, according to the Tribunal, that shows that the agreed NOC was obtained by him and the transfer recorded in Rizwan's name. The Tribunal has also remarked that though the owner says that his vehicle was sold as scrap, but in the sale letter, there is no mention of the fact that the vehicle was being sold as scrap. The Tribunal has laid great emphasis on the fact that the claimants and their family on one hand and the owner and the driver on the other, are not on any kind of inimical terms. From this fact, the Tribunal has ruled out a case of malicious implication of this vehicle in the accident.

38. It has also been remarked by the Tribunal that if it were a case of involving the vehicle for the purpose of realizing compensation, there would be prior concert with the owner and the driver, where it would be ensured that the vehicle had valid papers. No one for the purpose of realizing compensation would proceed against a vehicle on the basis of a false case that had no valid papers. The reasoning of the Tribunal appears to proceed on the basis that if it were a case of merely recovering compensation on false allegations, a duly insured vehicle would have been chosen as the subject with prior understanding with its driver and owner. It has also been reasoned by the Tribunal that after investigation, the Police have filed a charge sheet against the driver, which buttresses the fact that it was the offending vehicle that was involved in the accident.

39. The moot question here, as already noticed, is that there is not shred of evidence aliunde led on behalf of the claimants to establish that the offending vehicle was the one involved in the accident. The Tribunal has, in the opinion of this Court erred in holding the identity of the vehicle established by ruling out possibilities of a false implication. The learned Judge has adopted what may be called a method of elimination of sorts. That, in the opinion of this Court, is a wrong approach altogether. Merely, because the parties are not on inimical terms and the fact that the vehicle was not insured, cannot lead the Court to draw a positive inference about the vehicle's involvement in the absence of some evidence aliunde, showing that involvement. This is not a case where there is a mere delay in lodging the FIR, but the involvement of the vehicle is otherwise sufficiently established. Here, it is not even remotely established. The question about the vehicle being sold as scrap or dismantled, is also irrelevant so long as there is no positive evidence to indicate its involvement. The fact that the owner did not complain to the Police or the Court that the number plate of his vehicle was affixed to a different vehicle is also of no consequence, unless involvement of the offending vehicle is established by positive evidence. All these circumstances would become material, if some evidence were let in to show that it was the offending vehicle that caused the accident. Unfortunately, there is none forthcoming.

40. On the evidence appearing here, it is a hard case, where the accident has turned a blind hit and run. The suffering of the claimants is indeed one that evokes all sympathy, but that cannot lead the Court to order compensation from a party against whom there is absolutely no evidence about the involvement of his vehicle. The claimants would have to rest content by availing their remedy under Section 161(2)(b) of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988, that is applicable in a case of hit and run.

41. In the result, this appeal succeeds and is allowed. The impugned judgment and award passed by the Presiding Officer, Motor Accident Claims Tribunal, Pilibhit is set aside and the claim petition stands dismissed. The statutory deposit made before this Court shall be permitted to be withdrawn by the appellants.

42. In case, the claimants prefer a claim under Section 161 of the Motor Vehicles Act, their case may be considered in accordance with law giving due allowance to the pendency of the present proceedings.

(2022)05ILR A710
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 31.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 992 of 2001

Smt. Usha Tiwari ...Appellant
Versus
Jagdamba Prasad Trivedi & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri R.K. Porwal

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri A.C. Nigam, Sri Satyam Jaiswal

A. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Claim petition – Xerox copy of driving licence – Evidentiary value – Tribunal refused to accept Xerox copy as evidence – Permissibility – Claim dismissed on the ground that the scribe of F.I.R. was not examined on oath and that there are minor contradictions in testimony of P.W.2 & P.W.3 – Validity challenged – High Court overruled this kind of hyper technical stand taken in dismissing the claim petition, which is filed under the beneficial piece of legislation – High Court re-computed the compensation by adding 40% future prospect and applying multiplier of 17. (Para 5, 8, 13 and 19)

B. Civil Law - Motor Accident Claim – Rash and negligent driving – Term 'Negligence' – Meaning – Principle of 'res ipsa loquitur' , when it can be applied – Negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental though it is normally accidental – If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply. (Para 10)

C. Civil Law - Motor Accident Claim – Principle of contributory negligence – Scope and meaning – A person who either contributes or is co author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place and that amount will be deducted from the compensation payable to him if he is injured and to legal representatives if he dies in the accident. (Para 11)

Appeal allowed (E-1)

List of Cases cited:-

1. St. of Karn.VsSatish; 2000 C.A.C. 408 SC

2. United Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Anwari & ors. 2000 (2) TAC 789 SC

3. First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012; Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs Smt. Renu Singh & ors. decided on 19.7.2016

4. Smt. Kaushnuma Begum & ors. Vs The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2001) 2 SCC 9

5. Vimla Devi & ors. Vs National Insurance Co. Ltd. & ors. 2019 (133) ALR 768

6. Anita Sharma Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd.; (2021) 1 SCC 171

7. C.MA. No. 1482 of 2017; Reliance General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Subbulakshmi & ors. decided by Madras high Court

8. Puspabai Purshottam Udeshi Vs Ranjit Ginning and Pressing Co.; 1977ACJ 343 (SC)

9. Smt. Kaushnuma Begum & ors. Vs The New India Assurance Co. Ltd.; (2001) 2 SCC 9

10. Bithika Mazumdar & anr. Vs Sagar Pal & ors. (2017) 2 SCC 748

11. F.A.F.O. No. 1999 of 2007; Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Smt. Ummida Begum & ors.

12. F.A.F.O. No. 1404 of 1999; Smt. Ragini Devi & ors. Vs United India Insurance Co. Ltd. & anr. decided on 17.4.2019

13. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors. 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093

14. Sarla Verma & ors. Vs Delhi Transport Corp. & anr.; 2009 LawSuit (SC)

15. A.VsPadma Vs Venugopal; 2012 (1) GLH (SC) 442

16. Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd; 2007(2) GLH 291

17. Review Application No. 1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No. 23 of 2001; Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr.

18. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I. & ors. decided by Apex Court on 27.1.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Sri R.K. Porwal, learned counsel for the appellant, Sri Satyam Jaiswal, learned Advocate, appearing for Sri A.C. Nigam, learned counsel for the respondent-National Insurance Company and perused the record.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the appellant-claimant, challenges the judgment and order dated 30.3.2001 passed by the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/11th Additional District Judge, Kanpur Nagar (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C. No.333 of 1992 rejecting the claim petition which was preferred by the appellant-claimant.

3. The facts as culled out from the record are that on 21.8.1992 at about 5.20 p.m., driver of a bus bearing No. UP 78 V1259 drove the bus rashly and negligently and when he reached the place near Vijay Nagar Crossroad, the bus ran over Anand Tiwari who died instantaneously. The deceased was 27 years of age at the time of accident. The deceased was conductor of vehicle bearing No. UP77/1912 owned by Jasveer Singh and was earning Rs.2,000/- per month and Rs.8,000/- was his income by selling milk. The deceased left behind him his parents, younger brother, his widow and three children. He was the sole bread earning person of his family. Respondent No.1 filed his reply which was one of denial and hold that the driver of the bus was not negligent. The Tribunal raised five issues but answer the same in the negative holding that the claimants did no prove that the driver of the bus was negligent.

4. At the outset, it is to be noted that the driver of the bus did not even step into the witness box. The Tribunal took a stand that it was not proved that the vehicle ran over the deceased. While relying on the decision of the Apex Court in State of Karnataka v. Satish, 2000 C.A.C. 408 SC, the Tribunal held that it was necessary for the claimants to prove the negligence of the driver. The Tribunal held that the witnesses did not narrate the correct story. The Tribunal has relied on the decision in United Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Anwari and others, 2000 (2) TAC 789 SC and has rejected the claim petition.

5. As far as issue of driving license is concerned, from the record which we have perused, it is clear that the driving license was filed which was the valid driving license but the Tribunal has held that the driving license was a xerox copy which cannot be accepted in evidence. While deciding the issue no.4, the Tribunal held that the matter is dismissed and, therefore, no amount can be paid.

6. Learned counsel for the appellant has submitted that the Tribunal has rejected the claim petition stating that the the claimant had failed to prove her case, and held that the accident occurred due to sole negligence of the deceased, this finding of the Tribunal is bad on the facts and law and requires to be upturned by this Court.

7. As against this, learned counsel for the respondent has submitted that the Tribunal has rightly dismissed the claim petition as there are contradictions in the statements of P.W.2 and P.W.3 and, therefore, they have been rightly not believed by the Tribunal. It is also submitted that the deceased was solely negligent for commission of accident and, therefore, the Tribunal has rightly rejected the claim petition.

8. Issues which are required to be adjudicated by us are (a) whether the Tribunal has rightly held the deceased to be solely negligent & whether the Tribunal can dismiss the claim petition on the basis that the scribe of F.I.R. was not examined on oath and that there are minor contradictions in testimony of P.W.2 & P.W.3; (b) if the dismissal is bad whether the matter be relegated to the Tribunal or compensation can be granted here.

9. While dealing with submission on issue of negligence raised by the learned counsel for the appellant, it would be relevant to discuss the principles for deciding contributory negligence and for that the principles for considering negligence will also have to be looked into.

10. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental though it is normally accidental. More particularly, it connotes reckless driving and the injured must always prove that the either side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply.

11. The principle of contributory negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or is co author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place and that amount will be deducted from the compensation payable to him if he is injured and to legal representatives if he dies in the accident.

12. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under :

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.

20. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side."

emphasis added

13. The F.I.R. categorically goes to show that the vehicle dashed with the deceased who was on his feet, causing instantaneous death. The scribe of F.I.R. was a police officer. We are placing reliance on the decisions in (a) Smt. Kaushnuma Begum And Ors vs. The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2001) 2 SCC 9., (b) Vimla Devi and others Vs. National Insurance Company Limited and others, 2019 (133) ALR 768; (c) Anita Sharma v. New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2021) 1 SCC 171 and on the decision of Madras High Court. The decision in Madras High Court in Reliance General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Subbulakshmi and Others, passed in C.MA. No. 1482 of 2017 [C.M.P. No. 7919 of 2017. (CMA Sr. No. 76893 of 2016)] and the decision referred in the said case namely Puspabai Purshottam Udeshi Vs. Ranjit Ginning and Pressing Co., 1977ACJ 343 (SC), would be applicable in such matters where Tribunal takes hyper technical stand in dismissing the claim petition which is filed under the beneficial piece of legislation. Despite the fact that judgment of Smt. Kaushnuma Begum And Ors vs. The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2001) 2 SCC 9 was very much in vogue, the Tribunal has dismissed the claim petition holding that there are minor discrepancies in the statements of P.W.2 and P.W.3.

14. The Tribunal has recorded contradictory findings, at one stage, the Tribunal holds that the place where the accident occurred was crowded place with human beings and, therefore, driver of the bus could not have driven the vehicle rashly and negligently and at the same time it holds that the accident is not proved and that the negligence of the deceased who was on feet and standing on road was attributed and claim petition was dismissed.

15. If we go by the finding of facts and the evidence on record and even if we hold deceased to be standing in the middle of the road, the fact that the accident occurred and the fatal injuries which the deceased had sustained and which proved fatal as per the postmortem report, it can be safely said that the driver of the vehicle could have been more cautious if it was thickly populated place. Hence, we are unable to concur with the judgment of the Tribunal. We hold that the deceased was also contributory to the accident having taken place but to the tune of 10%.

16. Decisions in Smt. Kaushnuma Begum And Ors vs. The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2001) 2 SCC 9., Vimla Devi and others Vs. National Insurance Company Limited and others, 2019 (133) ALR 768; Anita Sharma v. New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2021) 1 SCC 171 will not permit the Court to concur with the finding of facts of the Tribunal.

17. The next issue which arises is that as matter has remained pending for 21 years and the record and proceedings are before this Court, whether the matter be remanded to the Tribunal for deciding the quantum of compensation or the same be decided here as the Tribunal has decided all the issues also? The answer is in the affirmative as per the judgments of the Apex Court in Bithika Mazumdar and another Vs. Sagar Pal and others, (2017) 2 SCC 748 and of this Court in F.A.F.O.

No. 1999 of 2007 (Oriental Insurance Company Limited vs. Smt. Ummida Begum and others) and in F.A.F.O. No. 1404 of 1999 (Smt. Ragini Devi and others Vs. United India Insurance Company Limited and another) decided on 17.4.2019 where in it has been held that if the record is with the appellate Court, it can decide compensation instead of relegating the parties to the Tribunal.

18. The deceased, according to learned counsel for the appellant, was serving as conductor in a private bus and it is stated was earning Rs.2,000/- per month. However, there is no record to prove the said fact. Therefore, we consider his income to be Rs.1250/- per month. To which, as the deceased was below 40 years, 40% be added towards future loss of income in view of the decision in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Pranay Sethi and others, 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093. The deceased being in the age bracket of 26-30 years of age, the multiplier applicable would be 17 in view of the decision in Sarla Verma and others Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and Another, 2009 LawSuit (SC). The deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased would be 1/2 as the claim petition was filed only by the widow of the deceased. The submission of Sri Porwal that there are other dependents also and, therefore, deduction would be more than 1/2, cannot be countenanced. Further, as the accident occurred in the year 1992, Rs.40,000/- will be granted to the appellant-claimant under the head of non-pecuniary heads.

19. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellant is computed herein below:

i. Monthly Income: Rs.1250/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.500/-

iii. Total income : Rs.1250 +500 = Rs.1750/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/2 towards personal expenses : Rs.875/-

v. Annual income : Rs.875 x 12 = Rs.10,500/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 17

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.10,500 x 17 = Rs.1,78,500/-

viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs40,000/-

ix. Total compensation : Rs.2,18,500/-

x. Total compensation payable to the claimants after apportionment of 10% negligence on the part of deceased : Rs.1,96,650/-

20. The above amount shall carry interest at the rate of 6% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the date of decision of the Tribunal as the appeal has remained pending for no fault of the Insurance Company. Though the Insurance Company appeared recently, for the remaining period, they would be liable to pay interest at the rate of 3%, reason being, the appellants' counsel also did not take care to see that the matter was heard expeditiously. It was only after the Court directed that all old matter be listed, the matter came to be listed and, therefore, the aforesaid direction is give.

21. In view of the above, the appeal is allowed. Judgment and order passed by the Tribunal is set aside. The Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within 12 weeks from today with interest as awarded herein above.

22. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment be passed by Tribunal..

23. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

24. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

25. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. v. Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As 20 years have elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

(2022)05ILR A717
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 02.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 1043 of 1992

Smt. Maya Devi & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
U.O.I. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Ramesh Singh, Sri K.L. Grover

Counsel for the Respondent:
Sri C.S. Chaturvedi

A. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - claim petition dismissed - Tribunal rejected the claim petition holding that it was not proved that the accident occurred with the military jeep in question - F.I.R. categorically mentions about the truck - Tribunal disbelieved PW1 and PW2 only on the ground that there was a delay in filing the F.I.R. - Held - driver of the truck nowhere stated that the vehicle was not involved in the accident - Filing of final report is not a conclusive proof - Just because final report was filed & protest petition was not filed, it does not mean that the vehicle was not involved in the accident - Tribunal believed that the death of the deceased was due to accidental injuries and, therefore, dismissing the claim petition is bad in the eye of law - injuries on deceased suggests that the truck driver on the bridge was driving the vehicle rashly and negligently (Para 11, 18)

B. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - claim petition dismissed by Tribunal - Remand to Tribunal when not required – If the matter has remained pending for long decade before Appellate court & if the record is with the appellate Court, it can decide compensation instead of relegating the parties to the Tribunal (Para 19)

C. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - accident occurred on 12.03.1987 causing death of deceased who was 28 years of age and left behind him, widow and four minor children - deceased was milk vendor - Deceased Income Rs. 900/- p.m. i.e. below taxable income in the year 1987 - deceased was in age bracket of 26-30 years as Milk worker, 40% of the income will have to be added as future prospects - Income Rs.900 p.m - Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.360 - Total income : Rs.900 + Rs.360= Rs.1260 - Income after deduction of 1/4 : Rs.945 - Annual income : Rs.945 x 12 = Rs.11,340 - Multiplier applicable : 17 (as the deceased was in the age bracket of 26- 30 years) - Loss of dependency: Rs.11,340 x 17 = Rs.1,92,780 - Amount under non pecuniary heads = 50,000 - Total compensation : Rs.2,42,780 - -Insurance Company shall directed to deposit the amount along with additional amount within a period of 12 weeks with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is 9 of 10 deposited (Para 22, 27)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Varinderjit Singh Vs Tajinder Singh & ors., 2008 (4) TAC 250 Punjab & Haryana

2. Devi Prasad Vs Zahur Khan, 2001 (2) TAC 419 Madhya Pradesh

3. Bhanwar Lal Verma Vs Sharad Dholiya, 2007 ACJ 52

4. Vimla Devi & ors. Vs National Insurance Co. Ltd. & anr., (2019) 2 SCC 186

5. Anita Sharma Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2021), 1 SCC 171

6. Rylands Vs Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330

7. Jacob Mathew Vs St. of Pun., 2005 ACJ (SC) 1840

8. Bithika Mazumdar & anr. Vs Sagar Pal & ors., (2017) 2 SCC 748

9. Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Smt. Ummida Begum & ors. F.A.F.O. No. 1999 of 2007

10. Smt. Ragini Devi & ors. Vs United India Insurance Co. Ltd. & anr. F.A.F.O. No. 1404 of 1999 decided on 17.4.2019

11. Vimal Kanwar & ors. & ors.Vs Kishore Dan & ors., AIR 2013 SC 3830

12. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors., 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050

13. Sarla Verma Vs Delhi Transport Corporation, (2009) 6 SCC 121

14. Smt. Hansagauri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291

15. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors., 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Shri Ramesh Singh, learned counsel for the appellants; Shri C.S.

Chaturvedi, learned counsel for the respondents; and perused the record.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment dated 18.3.1992 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/XIth Additional District Judge, Agra (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in Motor Accident Claim Petition No.150 of 1987 rejecting the same and not awarding any compensation.

3. The brief facts as culled out from the record are that the deceased met with an accident on 12.3.1987 at about 09.40 hrs. The informant alongwith the deceased was going towards the Agra City, i.e., Agra Fort and the alleged Jeep and the Scooter were coming fro m the Agra City, i.e., Agra Fort. On notice being issued, the Insurance company appeared and filed their reply. The driver and owner accepted the accident having taken place but contended that the accident occurred due to negligence of the deceased herein.

4. Learned Counsel Sri Ramesh Singh has contended that the petition has been dismissed by assigning reasons which are not germane for the facts.

5. The Tribunal framed 3 issues and rejected the claim petition holding that it was not proved that the accident occurred with the military jeep in question. The Tribunal disbelieved PW-1, who is claimant and eye witness. The F.I.R. categorically mentions about the truck. Just because the final report was filed will not conclusively prove that the vehicle was not involved. The Tribunal on surmises and conjectures disbelieved PW1 and PW2 only on the ground that there was a delay in filing the F.I.R. The written statement of the owner ought to have been looked into by the Tribunal before brushing aside the judgment and not relying on the authoritative pronouncements in Varinderjit Singh Vs. Tajinder Singh & others, 2008 (4) TAC 250 Punjab and Haryana, Devi Prasad Vs. Zahur Khan, 2001 (2) TAC 419 Madhya Pradesh, and Bhanwar Lal Verma Vs. Sharad Dholiya, 2007 ACJ 52.

6. It is further submitted that the appellant has challenged impugned award and decision dated 18.3.1992 on the following amongst grounds:

(i) The order passed by the Tribunal is illegal, perverse and against the evidence on record and based on conjectures and surmises and, as such, the same is liable to be quashed.

(ii) It is fully proved by the evidence on record that the accident occurred due to rash and negligent driving of the vehicle No.25879-B, 17947 PCL (Military Jeep), the learned tribunal erred in holding otherwise.

(iii) It is apparent fro the First Information Report and the evidence of PW-1 that the informant alongwith the deceased was going towards the Agra City i.e. Agra Fort and the alleged Jeep and the Scooter were coming from the Agra City i.e. Agra Fort, the tribunal erred in interpreting the words used in First Information Report.

(iv) The Learned Tribunal has suo moto added the word "se" in a sentence written in First Information Report i.e. "jaise hi hum log Agra Fort ki taraf se chalte huye satsang Ashram....." while the word "se" is not used in the said sentence in the manner interpreted by the tribunal written in the First Information Report and, as such, the learned Tribunal erred by misreading the First Information Report by adding himself the word "se" and by returning adverse finding as far as negligence and involvement is concerned.

(v) The Tribunal erred by misreading the testimony of scooter driver Akhlak Hussain i.e. "wah scooter se kile ke taraf purani mandi taj ganj ja raha tha", while the Akhlak Hussaini Scooter Driver has said in his evidence that "main apne scooter se Agra kila se purani mandi Tajganj ja raha tha".

(vi) The photographs-Exhibits No.3 to 6, fully prove that the Military Jeep (No.25879-B-1794 PCL) was involved in the accident, the learned Tribunal erred in holding otherwise and wrongly rejected the claimants claim petition.

(vii) The learned Tribunal erred in returning the finding about non involvement of vehicle which is not supported by the evidence on record.

7. The evidence of the witnesses has not been accepted which is also against the judgment in the case of the Apex Court in Vimla Devi and others Vs. National Insurance Company Limited and another, (2019) 2 SCC 186 and therefore this court are obliged to hold that the deceased died due to the accidental injuries. The judgment of the Apex Court in Anita Sharma v. New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2021), 1 SCC 171 would also apply to the fact of this case.

8. Once the owner admits before the tribunal that the vehicle was involved (2) the final report was filed would not conclusively prove that the vehicle is not involved (3) insurance company has not proved that the vehicle was not involved and it is a fake claim the tribunal could not dispose of the claim when it was not proved by the insurance company that the claimants and owner and driver were in collusion, this is the main issue involved in this appeal.

9. It is submitted by Sri C.S. Chaturvedi for insurance company that the petition was rightly dismissed as the F.I.R. culminated into a report and there was no objection raised to that. The owner has colluded with the petitioners and, therefore, also there is no reason to not concur with the Tribunal.

10. The Insurance company did not examine in person nor was the owner of the vehicle, which is alleged to be involved in the accident, put to any cross-examination as he did not appear before the Tribunal nor did the Insurance company examine him as its witness after the filed written statement. The Tribunal dismissed the claim petition holding that it was not proved by cogent evidence that the accident occurred with the vehicle in question and that the evidence on record conclusively proves that the vehicle was involved in the accident.

11. The findings of the Tribunal that the vehicle was not involved in the accident is perverse on record and against the tenet of evidence and deserves to be reversed. The finding of fact that the truck was not involved in the accident is absurd. The driver of the truck has nowhere stated that the vehicle was not involved in the accident. Filing of final report is not a conclusive proof in view of the judgment of Varinderjit Singh Vs. Tajinder Singh & others, 2008 (4) TAC 250 Punjab and Haryana. The involvement is proved by cogent evidence nor these facts are brought on record. Just because protest petition was not filed, it does not mean that the vehicle was not involved in the accident. It cannot be said that the vehicle was not involved. The Tribunal believes that the death of the deceased was due to accidental injuries and, therefore, dismissing the claim petition is bad in the eye of law. Therefore, it cannot be said that it was a planted vehicle.

12. As far as issue of contributory negligence is concerned as alleged by the appellant, this Court will have to consider the principles for deciding the negligence. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

13. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

14. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

15. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.

16. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

17. In Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 ACJ (SC) 1840), by the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part of driver of another vehicle.

18. This Court cannot concur with the learned Tribunal that it was not proved that the truck driver had not driven the truck rashly and negligently. The injuries on deceased suggests that the truck driver on the bridge was driving the vehicle rashly and negligently. Hence, the said issue is answered in the positive and in favour of the appellant. The appreciation of evidence as held by the Apex Court in the case of Kusum Lata, Saroj and Vimla Devi (supra) will not permit this court to concur with the learned Tribunal.

19. The next issue which arises is that the matter has remained pending for long decade, the record and proceedings are before this Court and the matter whether be remanded to the Tribunal or decided here? The answer is in the affirmative as per the judgments of the Apex Court in Bithika Mazumdar and another Vs. Sagar Pal and others, (2017) 2 SCC 748 and of this Court in F.A.F.O. No. 1999 of 2007 (Oriental Insurance Company Limited vs. Smt. Ummida Begum and others) and in F.A.F.O. No. 1404 of 1999 (Smt. Ragini Devi and others Vs. United India Insurance Company Limited and another) decided on 17.4.2019 where in it has been held that if the record is with the appellate Court, it can decide compensation instead of relegating the parties to the Tribunal.

Compensation

20. Having heard learned counsels for the parties and considered the factual data, this Court finds that the accident occurred on 12.03.1987 causing death of Thakur Das who was 28 years of age and left behind him, widow and four minor children. The deceased was milk vendor. The Tribunal has not granted any amount. The evidence of the witnesses has not been accepted which is also against the Judgment in the case of the Apex Court in Vimla Devi and others Vs. National Insurance Company Limited and another, (2019) 2 SCC 186, and, therefore, we are obliged to hold that the deceased died due to the accidental injuries. The judgment of the Apex Court in Anita Sharma v. New India Assurance

Co. Ltd. (2021), 1 SCC 171 would also apply to the facts of this case.

21. As far as beneficial piece of legislation is concerned, the strict rules of Civil Procedure Code and Evidence Act are no required to adhered to.

22. In view of the judgment of Vimal Kanwar and others v. Kishore Dan and others, AIR 2013 SC 3830 except income Tax no amount could have been deducted by the tribunal in the year of question, i.e., 1987, his income was below taxable income and hence we will have to consider the income at Rs.900/- per month of the deceased. The deceased was in age bracket of 26-30 years as Milk worker, 40% of the income will have to be added as future prospects in view of the decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050.

18. In this backdrop this Court evaluates the compensation in view of the judgment of National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050 and Sarla Verma Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation, (2009) 6 SCC 121 and, the recalculation of compensation would be as follows:

i. Income Rs.900/- p.m.

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.360/-

iii. Total income : Rs.900 + Rs.360= Rs.1260/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/4 : Rs.945/-

v. Annual income : Rs.945 x 12 = Rs.11,340/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 17 (as the deceased was in the age bracket of 26-30 years)

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.11,340 x 17 = Rs.1,92,780/- viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads = 50,000/-

ix. Total compensation : Rs.2,42,780/-

23. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH 6 (SC), 442, the order of investment is not passed because applicants /claimants are neither illiterate or rustic villagers.

24. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansagauri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

25. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and not blindly apply the judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

26. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National 7 Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

27. In view of the above, the appeal is allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount along with additional amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

28. We are thankful to learned counsels for the parties for ably assisted the Court.

29. Record be sent back to court below forthwith, if any.

30. We are thankful to learned counsels for parties for ably assisting the Court.

(2022)05ILR A724
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 22.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 1083 of 2016

Smt. Shaily @ Sarla & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Parmeshwari Dayal & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Nomman Rajvanshi, Sri Archit Mehrotra, Sri Naman Rajvanshi

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Krishna Shanker Chaudhary

A. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act,1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - Income - deceased was 36 years of age, well educated & was serving as Deputy Manager (Purchase) at M/s. D.M.C.L. Sugar Factory, Loni - income of deceased was Rs. 36,653/- per month - Tribunal committed error in considering the income of deceased to be Rs.14,806 - Held - amount of provident fund and insurance claim cannot be deducted as they have no co-relation - Except superannuation head, there cannot be any deduction under Section 168 of the Motor Vehicles Act - basic salary i.e. 15,275/- + special allowances Rs.1500 + HRA Rs.7638/- + Education allowance Rs.800/- + conveyance allowance Rs.2055/- + PF Rs.1833/- and Gratuity Rs.734/- in total Rs.29835/- (Rs.30,000/- rounded figure) would be admissible (Para 6)

B. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act,1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - Future prospects - deceased being salaried person and was below the age of 40 years, 50% future prospects will be added - Deduction for personal and Living expense - deceased was survived by a minor son and a minor daughter, hence, deduction of 1/3 and multiplier of 15 - Non pecuniary heads - claimants would be entitled to Rs. 1,00,000/- under non-pecuniary damages and Rs. 50,000/- each to the minor children who lost their father is granted for loss love and affection - interest should be 7.5% - respondent-Insurance Company to deposit the amount with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited - order of investment is not passed because applicants /claimants are neither illiterate or rustic villagers - amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R. (Para 7, 8, 10, 16)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Vimal Kanwar & ors. Vs. Kishore Dan & ors., 2013 (3) T.A.C. 6 (S.C.)

2. General Manager, Kerala S.R.T.C Vs Susamma Thomas 1994 AIR 1631

3. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

4. A.Vs Padma Vs. Venugopal 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442

5. Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd., 2007(2) GLH 291

6. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I. & ors. dt 27.1.202

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Naman Rajvanshi, learned counsel for the appellant and Sri Krishna Shanker Chaudhary, learned counsel for the respondent-Insurance Company.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the award dated 19.11.2015 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.8, Ghaziabad (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.P. No. 474 of 2009 granting sum of Rs. 18,06,750/- with 7% simple interest.

3. The learned Counsel for appellants has submitted that the Tribunal has erred in not following the mandate of judicial precedents and Rule 220 of U.P. Motor Vehicle Rules while computing the compensation admissible to the legal heirs of deceased who comprise of widow, minor son of 11 years and daughter of 9 years. The deceased was 36 years of age and was serving as Deputy Manager (Purchase) at M/s. D.M.C.L. Sugar Factory, Loni. The income of deceased was Rs. 36,653/- per month. It is further submitted that the Tribunal has committed error in considering the income of deceased to be Rs.14,806/-. The Tribunal has not considered for granting future loss of income. The learned Counsel further submits that deduction for personal expenses and multiplier need not be disturbed. The learned counsel submits that the amount granted for non-pecuniary damages is on lower side and needs recalculation.

4. It is submitted that the deceased was working as Deputy Manager (Purchase) at D.S.C.L., Sugar Factory, Loni, from where he was getting Rs.36,653/- per month, but the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal by taking hyper technical view only considered the basic salary to compute the compensation.

5. Sri K.S. Chaudhary appearing for the Insurance company has heavily relied on the decision of the Apex Court in the case of Vimal Kanwar and others Vs. Kishore Dan and others, 2013 (3) T.A.C. 6 (S.C.) so as to contend that the income of the deceased cannot be Rs.36,563/-.

6. Learned Tribunal with profound respect has considered the income of the deceased to be Rs. 14,806/- per month. The deceased was a person who was well educated and was Deputy Manager. The reasoning given for deductions are not germane. The judgment of Vimal Kanwar (supra) is relied on by both the Counsels. The amount of provident fund and insurance claim cannot be deducted as they have no co-relation. Except superannuation head, there cannot be any deduction under Section 168 of the Motor Vehicles Act. Hence, we are holding that basic salary i.e. 15,275/- + special allowances Rs.1500 + HRA Rs.7638/- + Education allowance Rs.800/- + conveyance allowance Rs.2055/- + PF Rs.1833/- and Gratuity Rs.734/- in total Rs.29835/- (Rs.30,000/- rounded figure) would be admissible. The Tribunal has fallen in error in not considering the income of Rs.30,000/- per month. We are unable to accept the submission of learned counsel for the respondent that income should be considered at Rs. 14,806/-. The income of the deceased would have been non-taxable as Rs. 30,300/- in the year of accident he would be entitled to all the deductions and, therefore, there was no TDS deducted by the employer also and nothing has been brought on record that he was a tax payee. Hence, that amount cannot be deducted. Deduction of certain allowances namely executive allowance, books and periodicals, medical expenses, LTA, Superannuation, Furniture (Hard), Furniture (Soft) is not in dispute.

7. The Tribunal has not granted any amount towards future loss of income. The Tribunal has not assigned any reason as to why the judgment of Sarla Verma (supra) will not be applicable. Hence, deceased being salaried person and was below the age of 40 years, 50% future prospects will be added in view of the decision in Pranay Sethi (Supra). We are fortified in our view by the decision of the Apex Court in General Manager, Kerala S.R.T.C vs Susamma Thomas 1994 AIR 1631 and Rule 220 of U.P. Motor Vehicle Rules, 1998.

8. Further, the deceased was survived by a minor son and a minor daughter, hence, deduction of 1/3 and multiplier of 15 granted by the Tribunal is maintained. The claimants would be entitled to Rs. 1,00,000/- under non-pecuniary damages and Rs. 50,000/- each to the minor children who lost their father is granted for loss love and affection.

9. Hence, the compensation payable to the appellants in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) is computed herein below:

i. Income Rs.30,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 50% namely Rs.15,000/-

iii. Total income : Rs.30,000 + 15,000 = Rs. 45,000/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3rd : Rs. 30,000/-

v. Annual income : Rs.30,000 x 12 = Rs.3,60,000/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 15

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.3,60,000 x 15 = Rs. 54,00,000/- viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.1,00,000/- + 50,000 + 50,000/- = Rs.2,00,000/-

ix. Total compensation : Rs. 56,00,000/-

10. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, the interest should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.), wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

11. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

12. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment is not passed because applicants /claimants are neither illiterate or rustic villagers.

13. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

14. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited within a period of 12 weeks from today. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

15. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein.

16. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. v. Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As 12 years have elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

17. This Court is thankful to both the counsels to see that this very old matter is disposed of.

(2022)05ILR A728
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 08.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 1182 of 1992

M/S United India Insurance Co. Ltd.
...Appellant
Versus
Smt. Jai Laxmi Singh & Ors.
...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri K.S. Amist

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Vijay Kumar Bist, Sri G.K. Singh, Sri N.I. Jafri, Sri R.K. Pandey, Sri S.D.Ojha, Sri S.K. Mishra, Sri S.K. Shukla, Sri S.N. Srivastava, Sri Manoj Kumar

A. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Sections 147, 148, 149 & 157 – Claim petition – Breach of policy – Vehicle was sold and new owner got the vehicle registered as a vehicle to be used for commercial purpose without intimating the Insurance Co. – Effect – Owner would be liable to the insurance Co. for the deliberate wrong in not disclosing the fact as otherwise they would have been liable to pay a higher premium which they have not paid – Held, the breach of policy would fall within the scope of Section 147 of Act, 1988 though not a breach under Section 149 of Act, 1988 – There is a breach of policy, a duty is cast on the subsequent purchaser to convey to the insurance Co. any change in the registration of the vehicle – Insurance Co. was given liberty to recover the amount, already deposited as per the order of this Court, from both the owners. (Para 13 and 14)

B. Motor Accident Claim – Rash and negligent driving – Term 'Negligence' – Meaning – Principle of 'res ipsa loquitur', when it can be applied – Negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental though it is normally accidental – If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply. (Para 5)

C. Motor Accident Claim – Principle of contributory negligence – Scope and meaning – A person who either contributes or is co author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place. (Para 6)
Appeal partly allowed (E-1)

List of Cases cited:-

1. First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012; Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs Smt. Renu Singh & ors. decided by Allahabad High Court on 19.7.2016

2. Archit Saini & anr. Vs Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd., AIR 2018 SC 1143

3. National Insurance Co. Ltd Vs Swaran Singh, (2004) 3 SCC 297

4. Manuara Khatun Vs Rajesh Kumar Singh, AIR 2017 SC 1204

5. Lal Singh Marabi Vs National Insurance Co. Ltd., 2017(5) SCC 82.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Sri K.S. Amist, learned counsel for the appellant, Sri S.D. Ojha, learned counsel for claimants-respondent and perused the judgment and order impugned.

2. This appeal, at the behest of appellant-M/S United India Insurance Company Ltd., challenges the award dated 19.8.1992 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Vth Additional District Judge, Gorakhpur (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.No.35 of 1991 awarding a sum of Rs.3,60,000/- with interest at the rate of 12% as compensation.

3. Brief facts as culled out from the record are that on 7.10.1990, Prem Narain Singh was going driving Hero Puch from Chargawan towards Gorakhpur and at about 11:20 a.m. when he reached near M/s Gautam Bhterprises at Khajanchi Chauraha, Police Station Shahpur in Gorakhpur to Bhatahat Road, a Jeep bearing UPH-2756, coming from Dharamshala City, Gorakhpur side to Maharajganj driven in a very rash and negligent manner, dashed against the moped causing grievous and fatal injuries to Prem Narain Singh who later on died in the Hospital on the same day.

4. Learned counsel for the appellant - insurance company submits that Kali Charan- respondent no. 9 who was the owner of the Jeep UPH-2756 at the time of the accident and it was being driven by the Rameshwar Prasad- respondent no. 10. Jeep UPH-2756 was insured with the appellant - insurance company at the time of accident. Kali Charan- respondent no. 9 filed his written statement stated that accident took place on account of the negligence of the deceased himself as he was carrying a gas cylinder on his motor cycle and was driving it at a high speed and the motor cycle became uncontrolled, causing accident. He further states that the jeep was insured from 5.3.1990 to 4.3.1991 for the purpose of private use only in the name of Mohd. Aziz as owner and it appeared that Mohammad Aziz later on sold the jeep UPH-2756 to Kali Charan who got the registration of jeep transferred for the purpose of using it as taxi but he did not get the insurance policy transferred and the insurance of the jeep remained for the purpose of private use only,therefore, the appellant was not liable to pay any compensation. He further submits that the compensation awarded by the Tribunal is very high and exorbitant and the Tribunal has not followed the correct principles of law in calculating the amount of the award. The Tribunal has illegally not allowed any deduction for lump sum payment, atleast 30% deduction should be allowed. He further submits that the award granted by the Tribunal is illegal and against the evidence on record. The Jeep being UPH-2756 was being driven in violation of the terms and conditions of the insurance policy and the appellant took such specific plea and the appellant was not liable to pay any amount of compensation.

Dispute as to negligence : -

5. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental which is normally accidental. More particularly, it connotes reckless driving and the injured must always prove that the either side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply.

6. The principle of contributory negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or is author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place.

7. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under :

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.

20. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side."

emphasis added

8. A similar view has been taken by the Apex Court in Archit Saini and Another Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Limited, AIR 2018 SC 1143 wherein the finding of the Tribunal was upheld by adverting to the same more particularly the Apex Court has upheld the finding in paragraph 21 to 27 in its judgment. The paragraph 5 of the said Apex Court's judgment is reproduced hereinbelow:

"5.The respondents had opposed the claim petition and denied their liability but did not lead any evidence on the relevant issue to dispel the relevant fact. The Tribunal after analysing the evidence, including the site map (Ext. P-45) produced on record along with charge-sheet filed against the driver of the Gas Tanker and the arguments of the respondents, answered Issue 1 against the respondents in the following words:

"21. Our own Hon'ble High Court in a case captioned Lakhu Singh v. Uday Singh [Lakhu Singh v. Uday Singh, 2007 SCC OnLine P&H 865 : PLR (2007) 4 P&H 507] held that while considering a claim petition, the Tribunal is required to hold an enquiry and act not as criminal court so as to find whether the claimants have established the occurrence beyond shadow of any reasonable doubt. In the enquiry, if there is prima facie evidence of the occurrence there is no reason to disbelieve such evidence. The statements coupled with the facts of registration of FIR and trial of the accused in a criminal court are sufficient to arrive at a conclusion that the accident has taken place. Likewise, in Kusum Lata v. Satbir [Kusum Lata v. Satbir, (2011) 3 SCC 646 : (2011) 2 SCC (Civ) 37 : (2011) 2 SCC (Cri) 18 : (2011) 2 RCR (Civil) 379] the Hon'ble Apex Court has held that in a case relating to motor accident claims, the claimants are not required to rove the case as it is required to be done in a criminal trial. The Court must keep this distinction in mind. Strict proof of an accident caused by a particular bus in a particular manner may not be possible to be done by the claimants. The claimants were merely to establish their case on the touchstone of preponderance of probability. The standard of proof beyond reasonable doubt could not have been applied.

22. After considering the submissions made by both the parties, I find that PW 7 Sohan Lal eyewitness to the occurrence has specifically stated in his affidavit Ext. PW 7/A tendered in his evidence that on 15-12-2011 at about 20.30 p.m. he along with PHG Ajit Singh was present near Sanjha Chulha Dhaba on the National Highway leading to Jammu. All the traffic of road was diverted on the eastern side of the road on account of closure of road on western side due to construction work. In the meantime a Maruti car bearing No. HR 02 K 0448 came from Jammu side and struck against the back of Gas Tanker as the driver of the car could not spot the parked tanker due to the flashlights of the oncoming traffic from front side. Then they rushed towards the spot of accident and noticed that the said tanker was standing parked in the middle of the road without any indicators or parking lights.

23. The statement of this witness clearly establishes that this was the sole negligence on the part of the driver of the Gas Tanker especially when the accident was caused on 15-12-2011 that too at about 10.30 p.m. which is generally time of pitch darkness. In this way, the driver of the car cannot be held in any way negligent in this accident. Moreover, as per Rule 15 of the Road Regulations, 1989 no vehicle is to be parked on busy road.

24. The arguments of the learned counsel for the respondent that PW 7 Sohan Lal has stated in his cross-examination that there was no fog at that time and there were lights on the Dhaba and the truck was visible to him due to light of Dhaba and he was standing at the distance of 70 ft from the truck being road between him and the truck and he noticed at the car when he heard voice/sound caused by the accident so Respondent 1 is not at all negligent in this accident but these submissions will not make the car driver to be in any way negligent and cannot give clean chit to the driver of the Gas Tanker because there is a difference between the visibility of a standing vehicle from a place where the person is standing and by a person who is coming driving the vehicle because due to flashlights of vehicles coming from front side the vehicle coming from opposite side cannot generally spot the standing vehicle in the road that too in night-time when there is neither any indicator or parking lights nor blinking lights nor any other indication given on the back of the stationed vehicle, therefore, the driver of the car cannot be held to be in any way negligent rather it is the sole negligence on the part of the driver of the offending Gas Tanker as held inGinni Devi case [Ginni Devi v. Union of India, 2007 SCC OnLine P&H 126 : 2008 ACJ 1572] , Mohan Lal case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Mohan Lal, 2006 SCC OnLine All 459 : (2007) 1 ACC 785 (All)] . It is not the case of the respondent that the parking lights of the standing truck were on or there were any other indication on the backside of the vehicle standing on the road to enable the coming vehicle to see the standing truck. The other arguments of the learned counsel for Respondent 3 that the road was sufficient wide road and that the car driver could have avoided the accident, so the driver of the car was himself negligent in causing the accident cannot be accepted when it has already been held that the accident has been caused due to sole negligence of the driver of the offending stationed truck in the busy road. The proposition of law laid down in Harbans Kaur case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Harbans Kaur, 2010 SCC OnLine P&H 7441 : (2010) 4 PLR 422 (P&H)] and T.M. Chayapathi case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. T.M. Chayapathi, 2004 SCC OnLine AP 484 : (2005) 4 ACC 61] is not disputed at all but these authorities are not helpful to the respondents being not applicable on the facts and circumstances of the present case. Likewise, non-examination of minor children of the age of 14 and 9 years who lost their father and mother in the accident cannot be held to be in any way detrimental to the case of the claimants when eyewitness to the occurrence has proved the accident having been caused by the negligence of Respondent 1 driver of the offending vehicle.

25. Moreover, in Girdhari Lal v. Radhey Shyam [Girdhari Lal v. Radhey Shyam, 1993 SCC OnLine P&H 194 : PLR (1993) 104 P&H 109] , Sudama Devi v. Kewal Ram [Sudama Devi v.Kewal Ram, 2007 SCC OnLine

P&H 1208 : PLR (2008) 149 P&H 444] andPazhaniammal case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Pazhaniammal, 2011 SCC OnLine Ker 1881 : 2012 ACJ 1370] our own Hon'ble High Court has held that "it is, prima facie safe to conclude in claim cases that the accident has occurred on account of rash or negligent driving of the driver, if the driver is facing the criminal trial on account of rash or negligent driving.'

26. Moreover, Respondent 1 driver of the offending vehicle has not appeared in the witness box to deny the accident having been caused by him, therefore, I am inclined to draw an adverse inference against Respondent 1. In this context, I draw support from a judgment of the Hon'ble Punjab & Haryana High Court reported asBhagwani Devi v. Krishan Kumar Saini[Bhagwani Devi v. Krishan Kumar Saini, 1986 SCC OnLine P&H 274 : 1986 ACJ 331] . Moreover, Respondent 1 has also not filed any complaint to higher authorities about his false implication in the criminal case so it cannot be accepted that Respondent 1 has been falsely implicated in this case.

27. In view of above discussion, it is held that the claimants have proved that the accident has been caused by Respondent 1 by parking the offending vehicle bearing No. HR 02 AF 8590 in the middle of the road in a negligent manner wherein Vinod Saini and Smt Mamta Saini have died and claimants Archit Saini and Gauri Saini have received injuries on their person. Shri Vinod Saini, deceased who was driving ill-fated car on that day cannot be held to be negligent in any way. Accordingly, this issue is decided in favour of claimants."

9. Learned counsel for the respondent submits that there is no contribution of deceased in accident as he was not negligent. The compensation amount does not require any recalculation as compensation awarded is in consonance of just compensation as applicable in the year of decision.

Dispute as to Breach of Policy

10. Sections 147, 148 and 149 and 157 of Act, 1988 reads as follow :

"Section 147 Requirements of policies and limits of liability. --

"(1) In order to comply with the requirements of this Chapter, a policy of insurance must be a policy which--

(a) is issued by a person who is an authorised insurer; and

(b) insures the person or classes of persons specified in the policy to the extent specified in sub-section (2)--

(i) against any liability which may be incurred by him in respect of the death of or bodily 27 [injury to any person, including owner of the goods or his authorised representative carried in the vehicle] or damage to any property of a third party caused by or arising out of the use of the vehicle in a public place;

(ii) against the death of or bodily injury to any passenger of a public service vehicle caused by or arising out of the use of the vehicle in a public place:

Provided that a policy shall not be required--

(i) to cover liability in respect of the death, arising out of and in the course of his employment, of the employee of a person insured by the policy or in respect of bodily injury sustained by such an employee arising out of and in the course of his employment other than a liability arising under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923 (8 of 1923) in respect of the death of, or bodily injury to, any such employee--

(b) if it is a public service vehicle engaged as conductor of the vehicle or in examining tickets on the vehicle, or

(c) if it is a goods carriage, being carried in the vehicle, or

(ii) to cover any contractual liability.

Explanation. --For the removal of doubts, it is hereby declared that the death of or bodily injury to any person or damage to any property of a third party shall be deemed to have been caused by or to have arisen out of, the use of a vehicle in a public place notwithstanding that the person who is dead or injured or the property which is damaged was not in a public place at the time of the accident, if the act or omission which led to the accident occurred in a public place.

(2) Subject to the proviso to sub-section (1), a policy of insurance referred to in sub-section (1), shall cover any liability incurred in respect of any accident, up to the following limits, namely:--

(a) save as provided in clause (b), the amount of liability incurred;

(b) in respect of damage to any property of a third party, a limit of rupees six thousand:

Provided that any policy of insurance issued with any limited liability and in force, immediately before the commencement of this Act, shall continue to be effective for a period of four months after such commencement or till the date of expiry of such policy whichever is earlier.

(3) A policy shall be of no effect for the purposes of this Chapter unless and until there is issued by the insurer in favour of the person by whom the policy is effected a certificate of insurance in the prescribed form and containing the prescribed particulars of any condition subject to which the policy is issued and of any other prescribed matters; and different forms, particulars and matters may be prescribed in different cases.

(4) Where a cover note issued by the insurer under the provisions of this Chapter or the rules made thereunder is not followed by a policy of insurance within the prescribed time, the insurer shall, within seven days of the expiry of the period of the validity of the cover note, notify the fact to the registering authority in whose records the vehicle to which the cover note relates has been registered or to such other authority as the State Government may prescribe.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in any law for the time being in force, an insurer issuing a policy of insurance under this section shall be liable to indemnify the person or classes of persons specified in the policy in respect of any liability which the policy purports to cover in the case of that person or those classes of persons.

"Section 148. Validity of policies of insurance issued in reciprocating countries.--Where, in pursuance of an arrangement between India and any reciprocating country, the motor vehicle registered in the reciprocating country operates on any route or within any area common to the two countries and there is in force in relation to the use of the vehicle in the reciprocating country, a policy of insurance complying with the requirements of the law of insurance in force in that country, then, notwithstanding anything contained in section 147 but subject to any rules which may be made under section 164, such policy of insurance shall be effective throughout the route or area in respect of which, the arrangement has been made, as if the policy of insurance had complied with the requirements of this Chapter."

Section 149. Duty of insurers to satisfy judgments and awards against persons insured in respect of third party risks.--

(1) If, after a certificate of insurance has been issued under sub-section (3) of section 147 in favour of the person by whom a policy has been effected, judgment or award in respect of any such liability as is required to be covered by a policy under clause (b) of sub-section (l) of section 147 (being a liability covered by the terms of the policy) 1[or under the provisions of section 163A] is obtained against any person insured by the policy, then, notwithstanding that the insurer may be entitled to avoid or cancel or may have avoided or cancelled the policy, the insurer shall, subject to the provisions of this section, pay to the person entitled to the benefit of the decree any sum not exceeding the sum assured payable thereunder, as if he were the judgment debtor, in respect of the liability, together with any amount payable in respect of costs and any sum payable in respect of interest on that sum by virtue of any enactment relating to interest on judgments.

(2) No sum shall be payable by an insurer under sub-section (1) in respect of any judgment or award unless, before the commencement of the proceedings in which the judgment or award is given the insurer had notice through the Court or, as the case may be, the Claims Tribunal of the bringing of the proceedings, or in respect of such judgment or award so long as execution is stayed thereon pending an appeal; and an insurer to whom notice of the bringing of any such proceedings is so given shall be entitled to be made a party thereto and to defend the action on any of the following grounds, namely:--

(a) that there has been a breach of a specified condition of the policy, being one of the following conditions, namely:--

(i) a condition excluding the use of the vehicle--

(a) for hire or reward, where the vehicle is on the date of the contract of insurance a vehicle not covered by a permit to ply for hire or reward, or

(b) for organised racing and speed testing, or

(c) for a purpose not allowed by the permit under which the vehicle is used, where the vehicle is a transport vehicle, or

(d) without side-car being attached where the vehicle is a motor cycle; or

(ii) a condition excluding driving by a named person or persons or by any person who is not duly licensed, or by any person who has been disqualified for holding or obtaining a driving licence during the period of disqualification; or

(iii) a condition excluding liability for injury caused or contributed to by conditions of war, civil war, riot or civil commotion; or

(b) that the policy is void on the ground that it was obtained by the non-disclosure of a material fact or by a representation of fact which was false in some material particular.

(3) Where any such judgment as is referred to in sub-section (1) is obtained from a Court in a reciprocating country and in the case of a foreign judgment is, by virtue of the provisions of section 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (5 of 1908) conclusive as to any matter adjudicated upon by it, the insurer (being an insurer registered under the Insurance Act, 1938 (4 of 1938) and whether or not he is registered under the corresponding law of the reciprocating country) shall be liable to the person entitled to the benefit of the decree in the manner and to the extent specified in sub-section (1), as if the judgment were given by a Court in India: Provided that no sum shall be payable by the insurer in respect of any such judgment unless, before the commencement of the p*roceedings in which the judgment is given, the insurer had notice through the Court concerned of the bringing of the proceedings and the insurer to whom notice is so given is entitled under the corresponding law of the reciprocating country, to be made a party to the proceedings and to defend the action on grounds similar to those specified in sub-section (2).*

(4) Where a certificate of insurance has been issued under sub-section (3) of section 147 to the person by whom a policy has been effected, so much of the policy as purports to restrict the insurance of the persons insured thereby by reference to any condition other than those in clause (b) of sub-section (2) shall, as respects such liabilities as are required to be covered by a policy under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 147, be of no effect: Provided that any sum paid by the insurer in or towards the discharge of any liability of any person which is covered by the policy by virtue only of this sub-section shall be recoverable by the insurer from that person.

(5) If the amount which an insurer becomes liable under this section to pay in respect of a liability incurred by a person insured by a policy exceeds the amount for which the insurer would apart from the provisions of this section be liable under the policy in respect of that liability, the insurer shall be entitled to recover the excess from that person.

(6) In this section the expression "material fact" and "material particular" means, respectively a fact or particular of such a nature as to influence the judgment of a prudent insurer in determining whether he will take the risk and, if so, at what premium and on what conditions, and the expression "liability covered by the terms of the policy" means a liability which is covered by the policy or which would be so covered but for the fact that the insurer is entitled to avoid or cancel or has avoided or cancelled the policy.

(7) No insurer to whom the notice referred to in sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) has been given shall be entitled to avoid his liability to any person entitled to the benefit of any such judgment or award as is referred to in sub-section (1) or in such judgment as is referred to in sub-section (3) otherwise than in the manner provided for in sub-section (2) or in the corresponding law of the reciprocating country, as the case may be. Explanation.--For the purposes of this section, "Claims Tribunal" means a Claims Tribunal constituted under section 165 and "award" means an award made by that Tribunal under section 168."

157. Transfer of certificate of insurance.--

(1) Where a person in whose favour the certificate of insurance has been issued in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter transfers to another person the ownership of the motor vehicle in respect of which such insurance was taken together with the policy of insurance relating thereto, the certificate of insurance and the policy described in the certificate shall be deemed to have been transferred in favour of the person to whom the motor vehicle is transferred with effect from the date of its transfer. 1[Explanation.--For the removal of doubts, it is hereby declared that such deemed transfer shall include transfer of rights and liabilities of the said certificate of insurance and policy of insurance.]

(2) The transferee shall apply within fourteen days from the date of transfer in the prescribed form to the insurer for making necessary changes in regard to the fact of transfer in the certificate of insurance and the policy described in the certificate in his favour and the insurer shall make the necessary changes in the certificate and the policy of insurance in regard to the transfer of insurance.

11. It is an proved fact that there was breach of policy condition, namely, though the fundamental duty is of the owner and driver to discharge the duty and to prove that they had intimated the insurance company. The new owner to whom vehicle was sold got vehicle registered from private to commercial vehicle but never intimated the insurance company which falls in the purview of fundamental breach of policy under Section 147 of M.V. Act. 1988. It is not fraud but it is definitely misinformation rather non-feasance by the new owner.

12. In National Insurance Co. Ltd v. Swaran Singh, (2004) 3 SCC 297 which has been thereafter referred and dissented to, the fact remains that the Insurance Company did not prove that the driver was not having valid driving license. It cannot be allowed to avoid its liability unless the said breach or breaches which have contributed to the conduct.

13. The fact that the vehicle was sold and a new owner stepped into the shoes of insured of the owner may not have been very important and would not be a ground for refusing to indemnify the owner but the owner who subsequently bought the vehicle without intimating the Insurance Company got the vehicle registered as a vehicle to be used for commercial purpose; namely, a passenger vehicle. I am in agreement with the submission of counsel for insurance company that as far as the vehicle used as passenger vehicle is concerned, the premium would be different. The breach of policy would fall within the scope of Section 147 of Act, 1988 though not a breach under Section 149 of 1988 Act. There is a breach of policy, a duty is cast on the subsequent purchaser to convey to the insurance company any change in the registration of the vehicle had the owner who subsequently bought had not converted the same, this stand taken by the insurance company could have been rejected but the fact that the Tribunal did not consider this aspect from this angle vitiates its direction.

14. The Insurance Company having deposited the amount as per the order of this Court, would be at liberty to recovery the same from both the owners. The reason being it is not brought on record as to in whose name, the vehicle stood at the time of accident but it appears that the present respondent/ new owner who had got the vehicle registered as a transport vehicle, must have also got his name registered and, therefore, the present respondent - owner would be liable to the insurance company for the deliberate wrong in not disclosing the fact as otherwise they would have been liable to pay a higher premium which they have not paid. Hence, the submission of counsel for the appellant is accepted.

15. In the Manuara Khatun Vs. Rajesh Kumar Singh, AIR 2017 SC 1204, Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that the deceased who was traveling in the goods vehicle can be termed as a gratuitous passenger and not covered under the insurance policy and, therefore, Insurance Company is exonerated, but directed to pay the amount of compensation to claimants with the right to recover the same from the insured. Similar view has been taken in the case of Lal Singh Marabi Vs. National Insurance Co

16. As far as the compensation is concerned, it cannot be said that the compensation awarded is on higher side. There is no cross objection filed by the claimant. The compensation awarded is without grant of future loss of income and the amount under non pecuniary damages on lower side and, therefore, also no interference is called for.

17. Appeal is partly allowed. Recovery rights are granted to the appellant.

18. Record be sent back to the Tribunal forthwith.

19. The insurance company to deposit rest of the amount if not yet deposited. On deposit of rest of the amount, the same be disbursed to the claimants. If the amounts are already deposited, the same be disbursed to claimant as 30 years have elapsed from the date of filing of this appeal.

(2022)05ILR A739
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 30.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 1209 of 2007
With
First Appeal From Order No. 1266 of 2007

Raj Kumar Agarwal & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Ahsan Ali & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Shailesh Rai, Sri Rishi Bhushan Jauhari

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Manish Kumar Nigam, Sri Vipul Kumar, Sri Rakesh Bahadur

A. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Compensation – Deceased was a Director in a Co. – Non-deduction of Income Tax – Permissibility – Tribunal applied the multiplier of 16 – Validity challenged – Evaluation of the income of deceased – Income Tax Return, how far relevant – Held, the Tribunal has mis-directed itself in not considering the income tax returns. Deceased was a director from 01.04.2003 to 30.09.2003. The income tax returns have to be considered – High Court re-computed the compensation by deducting income tax from it and by adding 25% future loss and applying multiplier of 15 and awarded 7.5% interest. (Para 24, 27 and 29)

B. Motor Accident Claim – Rash and negligent driving – Term 'Negligence' – Meaning – Principle of 'res ipsa loquitur', when it can be applied – Negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental though it is normally accidental – If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply. (Para 14)

C. Civil Law - Motor Accident Claim – Principle of contributory negligence – Scope and meaning – A person who either contributes or is co author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place. (Para 15)

D. Civil Law - Income Tax Act, 1961 – Section 194A (3) (ix) – Withdraw of amount of interest – Certificate of Income Tax authority, when required – Held, if the interest payable to any claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs. 50,000/-, insurance Co./owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 – And if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs. 50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimants to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. (Para 32)

Appeal partly allowed (E-1)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Daljeet Singh & ors. Vs Hardeep Singh & ors., 2002 (1) TAC 613 (MP)

2. Suchitra Sinha & ors. Vs Baij Nath & ors., 2005 (3) TAC 533 (M.P.)

3. Smt. Indraneerja Durari Vs Madras Motor and General As. Co. & ors.; ACC 1996 (1) SC 335

4. Gurmeet Vs Mohinder Singh & ors. TAC 2006 (3) 958 of Punjab & Haryana High Court

5. U.P.S.R.T.C Vs Mamta & ors..; 2016 AIR SC 948

6. First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012; Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs Smt. Renu Singh & ors. decided on 19.7.2016

7. Khenyei Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd. & ors.; 2015 LawSuit (SC) 469

8. Sangita Arya & ors. Vs Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. & ors.; 2020 LawSuit (SC) 432

9. Rukmani Jethani & ors. Vs Gopal Singh & ors. 2021 (4) T.A.C. 23 (SC)

10. Vimal Kanwar & ors. Vs Kishore Dan & ors. 2013 (3) T.A.C. 6 (S.C.)

11. Kirti & anr. etc. Vs Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd.; 2021 AIR SC 353

12. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors. 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093

14. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors. 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

15. A.V.Padma Vs Venugopal; 2012 (1) GLH (SC) 442

16. Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Co.Ltd.; 2007(2) GLH 291

17. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I. & ors. of the Apex Court decided on 27.1.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. These appeals have been preferred against the judgment and award dated 27.01.2007 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.8, Shahjahanpur (hereinafter referred to as "Tribunal') in M.A.C.P. No. 200 of 2003 (Raj Kumar Agrawal and Others Vs. Ahsan Ali and Others), whereby the claim petition of the claimants was allowed and awarded a sum of Rs.9,69,500/- as compensation to the claimants with interest at the rate of 6% per annum.

2. Heard Mr. R.B. Jauhari, learned counsel for the claimants-appellants and Mr. Rakesh Bahadur, learned counsel for the Insurance Company. None has appeared for the owner, when the matter is taken up for final disposal.

3. The Insurance Company has felt aggrieved, as also the claimants have felt aggrieved by the decision of the learned Tribunal.

4. The claim petition was filed seeking compensation of Rs.80,00,000/- with interest at the rate of 12% per annum, namely from the date of filing of the claim petition till final payment for the death of Smt. Rajni Agrawal, wife of claimant-appellant no.1 and mother of other minor children.

5. The brief facts as culled out from the record and the judgment are that Smt. Rajni Agrawal wife of Raj Kumar Agrawal, who was aged about 39 years and averred to be earning of Rs.40,000/- per month by doing service, farming and other business. On the fateful day, when she was going alongwith Smt. Kanchan Agrawal from Shahjahanpur to Nanital by car bearing registration no.27 B 8751. The aforesaid car was being driven by one Awadesh @ Nirdos Kumar Saxena. A truck bearing registration no. U.P. 22A 9857 being driven very rashly and negligently came and dashed with the car. The car driver and both the women sustain injuries.

6. The driver of the car and Smt. Rajani Agrawal died while they were being taken to the hospital. The First Information Report was lodged against the driver of the truck. The New Indian Insurance Company Ltd. (in short "Insurance Company") filed its written statement wherein they denied the averments made in the claim petition. The Insurance Company took the plea that the vehicle was being driven against the policy and there is violation of the provisions of Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 and they were not liable to pay any compensation. They took the plea that there is no non-impleadment of all the legal representatives of the deceased. It was alleged that the deceased was not doing farming activities and was not engaged in any job nor she was having any business. It is also contended that deceased did not die out of the injuries caused to her in the said accident. The driver of the car dashed with a unknown vehicle due to his own negligence and as the number of the said vehicle could not be known, only with the view to get compensation in collusion with the police and doctors in pre-planed manner and on concocted grounds, the claim petition was filed.

7. It was further contended before the Tribunal that the driver of the car was not having valid driving licence nor there was any valid registration certificate nor other valid papers. It is also avert that the Insurance Company is not liable to pay any amount as the driver of the truck had no endorsement and could not have driven the vehicle. The opposite party no.5, Satya Narain Agrawal has also filed his reply admitting the averments made in the claim petition. The vehicle was insured with United India Insurance Company Ltd. on the day of the accident. The legal heirs of the owner of the car have been substituted. The Insurance Company also took the plea of denial. The respondent nos.1 to 3 did not file any reply, therefore, the matter came be heard against them ex parte by Tribunal. The learned Tribunal framed about four issues.

8. The petitioners filed list of certain documentary evidences. No oral or documentary evidence has been led on behalf of any of opposite parties.

9. The Insurance Company has felt aggrieved by the decision dated 27.01.2007 contending that the same is against the evidence on record and requires to be set aside. It is also submitted that the husband of the deceased was earning person and, therefore, he would not be entitled to get any compensation for death of his wife. The learned counsel for the Insurance Company has relied on the decision of Madhya Pradesh High Court titled Daljeet Singh and Others Vs. Hardeep Singh and Others, 2002 (1) TAC 613 (MP) that earning husband cannot claim any compensation on basis of dependency on death of his wife in accident. The main contention is that husband was not entitled to get any amount and the income of the deceased was not proved. Learned counsel for the Insurance Company has also relied on the decision of Madhya Pradesh High Court in Suchitra Sinha and Others VS. Baij Nath and Others, 2005 (3) TAC 533 (M.P.), so as to contend that income tax return could not have been considered to decide the income of deceased. The Insurance Company has also challenged the findings on the issue of negligence. A plea is taken that in view of the aforesaid judgment, the learned Tribunal should have applied multiplier of 13 and not 16 and also should have gone by the schedule of Motor Vehicles Act, 1988.

10. The contentions and challenge as culled out from the grounds of appeal raised by the Insurance Company are that one of the claimants namely husband was not dependent on his wife, therefore, he was not entitled to any compensation on account of dependency, for which, learned counsel for the Insurance Company has relied on the decision of Suchitra Sinha (Supra), so as to contend that the learned Tribunal has committed an error by not deducting 50% for her personal expenses as the other dependents were minor children. It is also submitted that husband of the deceased himself was earning Rs.35,000 to 40,000/- per month and he has re-married during the pendency of litigation. It is further submitted that assessment years of income tax returns were for the period subsequent to the death of the deceased namely 2003-04 was not admissible in evidence as per the judgment of Suchitra Sinha (Supra).

11. The next ground for assailing the judgment by Insurance Company of learned Tribunal is based on the fact that the driver of the car was also contributor to the accident and they were liable to be joined as party and, therefore, the said amount should be deducted, for which, learned counsel for the Insurance Company has relied on the judgment of Smt. Indraneerja Durari Vs. Madras Motor and General As. Co. & Others, ACC 1996 (1) SC 335 and Gurmeet VS. Mohinder Singh and Others, TAC 2006 (3) 958 of Punjab and Haryana High Court.

12. In view of the judgment of U.P.S.R.T.C Vs. Mamta And Ors., 2016 AIR SC 948, wherein it has been held that all the issues raised by the court of appeal, when appeal under Section 173 of M.V. Act is filed, hence, we are go to decide each ground raised. We would first deal with the issue of negligence raised by the counsel for the Insurance Company.

13. The main two grounds urged by the Insurance Company for assailing the award as quantum and negligence. At the outset, it is clear that no issues which could be taken for avoidance of policy are urged even in written grounds of appeal. None of the principles enunciated for avoidance of policy as averred before the Tribunal. The driver of the truck was having valid driving licence. There was no technical or other breach for which the Insurance Company could avoid its liability and said findings have attained finality.

Appeal of Insurance Company being F.A.F.O. No. 1266 of 2007.

Issue of negligence rather contributory negligence:- The submission of learned counsel for Insurance Company that driver in which deceased was travelling was also negligent and the amount qua his negligence be deducted is taken for discussion as to whether finding of Tribunal requred to be interfered or concurred even if interfered what would be the consequence payable to legal representatives of deceased.

14. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance take or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental which is normally accidental. More particularly, it connotes reckless driving and the injured must always prove that the either side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply in accident cases involving vehicles of different magnitudes or single vehicle.

15. The principle of contributory negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or is author of the accident or co-author would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place.

16. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under:

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence

is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330*. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.*

*20. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents A*ct, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side."

17. The term contributory negligence has to be viewed in light of term composite negligence. The Apex Court in Khenyei Vs. New India Assurance Company Limited & Others, 2015 LawSuit (SC) 469 where the court has explained the term contributory and composite and liability of fortuitous wherein the court has held as under:

"4. It is a case of composite negligence where injuries have been caused to the claimants by combined wrongful act of joint tort feasors. In a case of accident caused by negligence of joint tort feasors, all the persons who aid or counsel or direct or join in committal of a wrongful act, are liable. In such case, the liability is always joint and several. The extent of negligence of joint tort feasors in such a case is immaterial for satisfaction of the claim of the plaintiff/claimant and need not be determined by the by the court. However, in case all the joint tort feasors are before the court, it may determine the extent of their liability for the purpose of adjusting inter-se equities between them at appropriate stage. The liability of each and every joint tort feasor vis a vis to plaintiff/claimant cannot be bifurcated as it is joint and several liability. In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between tort feasors for making payment to the plaintiff is not permissible as the plaintiff/claimant has the right to recover the entire amount from the easiest targets/solvent defendant."

18. As far as the claimants are concerned, the death of the wife/mother can be said to be out of the accidental injuries. Even if we consider the negligence, it would be composite negligence qua the legal heirs. The findings of fact as far as issue of negligence is concerned, goes to show that the accident occurred in morning at 6:30 AM on the national highway involving a truck and a car. The driver of the truck applied short break by which the truck dashed with the car and the car came under the truck (car truck ke niche dab gayi). The two ladies and driver got injured. The charge sheet and the FIR were lodged against the driver of the truck. The car was being driven by one Awadesh. The driver and wife of P.W.-1 died on the spot. The oral testimony of P.W.-2, Kanchan Agrawal who was in the car and was injured eye witness has categorically deposed that driver of truck was negligent. The truck driver was drives the truck in rash and negligent manner. The submission of learned counsel for the Insurance Company that truck loaded with patatos cannot be driven in a rash and negligent manner cannot be accepted and, therefore, we concur with the finding of the learned Tribunal as far as the negligence is concerned. As far as the submission that the husband cannot be granted any amount, we would be dealing with the same in the appeal preferred by the claimants, when we decide the same.

Compensation in Appeal No.1209 of 2007.

19. It is submitted by learned counsel for the claimants that the income of the deceased was Rs.32,000/- per month (rounded figure) but the Tribunal has wrongly considered income to be Rs.7,500/- only. It is submitted that the learned Tribunal has brushed aside the Income Tax Returns. Learned counsel for the claimants has relied on the decisions in (a) Sangita Arya & Ors. Vs. Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. & Ors., 2020 LawSuit (SC) 432, (b) Rukmani Jethani and Others Vs. Gopal Singh and others, 2021 (4) T.A.C. 23 (SC), (c) Vimal Kanwar and Others Vs. Kishore Dan and others, 2013 (3) T.A.C. 6 (S.C.) to buttress his submission that the finding of the Tribunal as far as income of deceased is concerned is bad and requires reconsideration.

20. Learned counsel for the claimants-appellants has relied on the judgment of Kirti and another etc. Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., 2021 AIR SC 353 to claim higher compensation.

21. Learned counsel for the claimants has further submitted that the deceased was survived by her husband and two minor children and, therefore, the deduction towards personal expenses would be 1/3rd as held by the Tribunal.

22. It is also submitted by learned counsel for the claimants that the amount awarded under non pecuniary damages is on the lower side and is required to be enhanced in view of the decision in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Pranay Sethi and others, 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093 and the later decision of the Apex Court. Learned counsel for the claimants has lastly submitted that the interest awarded by Tribunal is on the lower side and it should be as per the repo rate prevailing in those days.

23. As against this, learned counsel for Insurance Company has contended that the income which is claimed cannot be granted. It is further submitted by learned counsel for the Insurance Company that deduction towards personal expenses is just and proper and does not call for interference of this Court. It is also submitted by learned counsel for the Insurance Company that the amount awarded under non pecuniary heads and interest granted by the Tribunal are just and proper and does not call for interference of this Court. It is further submitted and reiterated that deduction for personal expenses should ½ as her husband was not dependent on the deceased.

24. Having heard learned counsels for the parties and considering the income tax returns and the decisions cited by the learned counsel for the claimants, we hold that had the deceased been alive, she would have been earning Rs.32,060/- per month. The deceased was Director in a Company. However, we are in agreement with learned counsel for the respondent that from the income, at least

Income Tax should be deducted and, therefore, we consider the income of the deceased to be Rs.30,000/- per month. Addition of 25% toward future loss of income is granted and multiplier of 16 granted by the Tribunal is reduced to 15. As far as deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased is concerned, we are in agreement with learned counsel for the Insurance Company that it should be 1/2nd. Learned Tribunal has not considered the income tax returns. As according to the Tribunal, the income tax returns were dated 31.07.2002. Subsequently, the return dated 14.09.2003 also Rs. 32,000/- was deducted towards income tax. The learned Tribunal has mis-directed itself in not considering the income tax returns. Deceased was a director from 01.04.2003 to 30.09.2003. The income tax returns have to be considered. On what basis, learned Tribunal decided that her income would be Rs.5,000/- per month cannot be fathomed by us. The Tribunal has considered her income of Rs.2,500 that of agricultural income and Rs.2,500/- for her utility as a house wife. The finding is without any basis and we cannot accept the same. The Tribunal has held as the income tax returns are even for a period after the accident occurred, they cannot be accepted as truthful. The accident occurred on 28.09.2003 and, therefore, for amounting year as well as tax is concerned, the income tax return of 2004-05 have to be filled in as her income up to September have to be considered.

25. We would have granted to the husband, amount for loss of love and affection of the wife but he has re-married and the learned Tribunal has also not apportioned or granted any amount. We uphold the same.

26. As far as amount under non-pecuniary heads is concerned, the appellants would be entitled to Rs.70,000/- plus 10% rise in every three years in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) and, therefore, we round up the figure to Rs.1,00,000/- under this head.

27. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants is computed herein below:

i. Monthly Income: Rs.30,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 25% namely Rs.7,500/-

iii. Total income : Rs.30,000 +7,500/- = Rs.37,500/-

iv. Income after deduction of ½nd towards personal expenses : Rs.18,750/-

v. Annual income : Rs.18,750 x 12 = Rs.2,25,000/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 15

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.2,25,000 X 15 = Rs.33,75,000/-

viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.1,00,000/-

ix. Total compensation : Rs.34,75,000/-

28. Learned Tribunal has unfortunately granted 6% rate of interest, which was not the repo-rate applicable in the year of judgment namely 27.01.2007. At least, it should have been 7% per annum. 14 years have elapsed, we do not disturb the same and the rate of interest on awarded amount is maintained. However, on the enhanced amount, it would be be 7.5% per annum.

29. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

30. In view of the above, the appeals filed by claimants as well as Insurance Company are partly allowed. Award and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% per annum from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited. The claimants shall furnish their bank account numbers and on deposit of amount, the Tribunal shall transfer the amount to the said accounts.

31. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment be passed by Tribunal.

32. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

33. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

34. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. v. Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. Since long time has elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Bank Account of claimant(s) in a nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

35. This Court is thankful to both the counsels for getting this matter decided. Record be transmitted to Tribunal forthwith.

(2022)05ILR A749
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 23.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 1285 of 2008
AND
First Appeal From Order No. 1489 of 2008

The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. ...Appellant
Versus
Amit Kumar Yadav & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Praful Sahadeva, Sri P. Bahadur, Sri Rakesh Bhahdur

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Bhola Nath Yadav, Sri A, Singh, Sri Amish Mishra, Sri Mahendra Pratap Singh, Sri Shiv Nath Singh, Sri Satyam Singh

A. Motor Accident Claim – Role of Tribunal, while deciding the claim cases – Distinction from other civil suits, explained – The role of the Tribunal is not a silent spectator when medical evidence is tendered in regard to the injuries and their effect, in particular the extent of permanent disability – Tribunal does not function as a neutral umpire as in a civil suit. It is an active explorer and seeker of truth who is required to hold an enquiry into the claim for determining 'just compensation'. (Para 28)

B. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Claim – Compensation – Disability Certificate, proof thereof – No examination of Doctor – Effect – High Court disapproved the argument that there is necessity to prove the disability certificate by calling the doctor when it is not challenged before the Tribunal. (Para 18)

C. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Claim – Compensation – Loss of amenities – Injured was 21 years unmarried young boy – He became disabled to the tune of 80% and that too by his legs and he is not able to sit properly and walk – He has lost pleasures of life because he cannot lead a normal life after accident. It is natural that he had bleak prospects of marriage and family life – Held, it can be said that the appellant has lost amenities of life to the great extent, which cannot be restored at all. Therefore, he would get Rs. 4,00,000/- for loss of amenities. The disability of the appellant is permanent. Under the head of pain, shock and sufferings, he is entitled to get a sum of Rs. 1,00,000/- – High Court re-computed the compensation and awarded 7.5% interest. (Para 38, 39 and 41)

D. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Section 168 – Just compensation – Meaning – 'Just' means- fair, reasonable and equitable amount accepted by legal standards – 'Just compensation' does not mean perfect or absolute compensation. It requires examination of particular situation obtaining uniquely in individual case. (Para 21)

E. Motor Accident Claim – Rash and negligent driving – Term 'Negligence' – Meaning – Principle of 'res ipsa loquitur', when it can be applied – Negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental though it is normally accidental – If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply. (Para 7)

F. Motor Accident Claim – Principle of contributory negligence – Scope and meaning – A person who either contributes or is co author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place. (Para 8)

G. Civil Law - Income tax Act, 1961 – Section 194A (3) (ix) – Withdraw of amount of interest – Certificate of Income Tax authority, when required – Held, if the interest payable to any claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs. 50,000/-, insurance Co./owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 – And if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs. 50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimants to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. (Para 44)

Appeal partly allowed (E-1)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Bijoy Kumar Dugar Vs Bidya Dhar Dutta & ors., (2006) 3 SCC 242

2. First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012; Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Smt. Renu Singh & ors. decided by Allahabad High Court on 19.7.2016

3. Raj Kumar Vs Ajay Kumar & anr.; 2011(1) SCC 343

4. Sanjay Verma Vs Haryana Roadways; 2014(3) SCC 210.

5. Kajal Vs Jagdish Chand; 2020 (0) AIJEL-SC 65725

6. Philips Vs Western Railway Co.; (1874) 4QBD 406

7. H. West & Son Ltd. Vs Shephard; 1963 2 WLR 1359

8. K. Suresh Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd. & ors..

9. Jithendran Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd. & anr.; 2021 ACJ 2736

10. Smt.Sarla Verma Vs Delhi Transport Corp.; 2009 (2) TAC 677 (SC)

11. Syed Sadiq Vs Divisional Manager, United India Insurance Co.Ltd.; AIR 2014 SC 1052

12. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors. 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

13. Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd.; 2007(2) GLH 291

14. Review Application No. 1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No. 23 of 2001; Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr.

15. First Appeal From Order No. 2871 of 2016; Tej Kumari Sharma Vs Chola Mandlam M.S. General Insurance Co. Ltd. decided on 19.3.2021

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. Both these appeals arise out of same judgment and order dated 6.2.2008 passed by District Judge, Motor Accident Claim Tribunal, Kanpur Nagar (herein after referred to as 'the Tribunal') in Motor Accident Claim Petition No.929 of 2004 (Amit Kumar Yadav vs. The New India Assurance Co.Ltd. and another).

2. FAFO NO.1285 of 2008 is filed by the New India Assurance Co.Ltd. for setting aside the impugned judgment with the prayer that claim petition be dismissed while FAFO No.1489 of 2008 is filed by the claimant for enhancing the award. Since, both the appeals have arisen out of the same judgment, they are heard together.

3. Brief facts of the case are that a motor accident claim petition No.929 of 2004 is filed by claimant, namely, Amit Kumar Yadav before learned Tribunal at Kanpur Nagar for seeking compensation due to sustaining severe injuries in the road accident. It is averred in claim petition that on 1.9.2003 at about 10:30 a.m., the claimant was going on bye-pass road between the Naubasta and Gopal Nagar, District-Kanpur Nagar by riding his bicycle bearing No.UP78AG/4410, when he was hit by rashly and negligently driven tanker bearing No.UP70-B-9916. In this accident, the wheel of the aforesaid tanker ran over both the legs of the claimant and crushed his legs. The claimant was admitted in hospital. First information report of the accident was lodged in concerned police station. It is also averred in petition that the age of the injured claimant was 21 years and he had passed B.Sc.

4. After analyzing the facts and evidence on record, the learned Tribunal allowed the claim petition and awarded a sum of Rs.15,02,000/- with 6% per annum rate of interest. Aggrieved with the judgment, the New India Assurance Co.Ltd., which is the Insurance Company of offending tanker, preferred the appeal and claimant also preferred the appeal for enhancing the compensation.

5. Heard Shri Rakesh Bhadur, learned counsel for the appellant-Insurance Company and Shri Mahendra Pratap Singh, learned counsel appearing on behalf of respondents-claimants.

6. At the very outset, Shri Rakesh Bahadur, learned counsel for the Insurance Company, submitted that the driver of the tanker in question was not at all responsible for the accident and injuries sustained by the claimant but the aforesaid tanker was not directly involved in the accident. It is also submitted that learned Tribunal has rejected the plea of contributory negligence and held that the claimant was not contributor to the accident at all. Learned Counsel has relied on the judgment in Bijoy Kumar Dugar vs. Bidya Dhar Dutta and others, (2006) 3 SCC 242.

7. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental which is normally accidental. More particularly, it connotes reckless driving and the injured must always prove that the either side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply.

8. The principle of contributory negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place.

9. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under :

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330*. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.*

20. These provisions (section 110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side."

(Emphasis added)

10. Learned counsel submitted that injured has himself deposed before the learned Tribunal as PW1 that at the time of accident when he reached at Pratap Hotel on bye-pass road, a tanker bearing No.UP70B/9916 was coming from opposite direction in a zig-zag manner. It is also deposed that after observing the zig-zag driving of tanker, the claimant took his motorcycle to the extreme left side of the road on the pathway, but the tanker hit the motorcycle coming on the wrong side and the front-right wheel of the tanker ran over his legs. It is further submitted that it is crystal clear from the evidence of injured (PW1) that tanker hit his motorcycle from opposite direction while another witness PW2, who is alleged to be eye-witness of the accident has stated in his oral evidence that at the time of accident, he was coming behind the injured-claimant on another motorcycle. Injured was ahead of the tanker and he was behind the tanker and the tanker hit the injured from behind.

11. Learned counsel for the Insurance Company submitted that injured himself says that tanker hit his motor cycle from opposite direction while eye-witness PW2 says that tanker hit the motorcycle from behind. In this way, there is material contradiction between the statements of PW1 & PW2, which shows that PW2 has not seen the accident.

12. Learned counsel for the Insurance Company next submitted that the driver of the tanker is produced before the learned Tribunal as DW1 and he has deposed on oath that at the time of accident, the injured was overtaking the tanker from left-side, a Maruti Car was parked ahead of him and accident occurred due to opening of the door of the car in which the motorcycle of injured was hit and he fell before the tanker. In this manner the wheel of the truck ran over the legs of the injured. Learned counsel further submitted that it shows that tanker-driver was not at all responsible for the accident, but accident took place due to own negligence of the injured and the Maruti Car. Learned counsel also referred the site-plan and submitted that site-plan was prepared during the investigation of concerned criminal case in which the place of accident was shown by letter 'A', which is on the road while it is the case of the claimant that he took his motorcycle on kaccha patri (pathway). It also shows the negligent driving of the claimant.

13. Learned counsel for the claimant strongly objected the submissions made by counsel for the Insurance Company and submitted that the driver of the tanker was driving very rashly and negligently and hit the motorcycle of the claimant from opposite direction, which is clear from the site-plan. It is next submitted by him that learned Tribunal has discussed the manner of accident in the impugned judgment and came to conclusion that the driver of the tanker was solely responsible for accident and there was no contributory negligence on the part of the claimant.

14. The injured-claimant is the best witness to depose regarding the manner of accident. He has stated in his deposition that the tanker hit his motorcycle from opposite direction. This statement of claimant corroborates with the site-plan prepared by Investigating Officer in concerned criminal case of this accident. Perusal of site-plan suggests that motorcycle and tanker were coming from opposite directions. Hence, the motorcycle was hit by tanker from opposite directions. There is no evidence on record except the statement of driver of the truck that the claimant hit the door of Maruti Car and fell before the tanker. The statement of driver of the tanker is contrary to the site-plan while it is admitted by driver of the tanker that the front-wheel of tanker ran over the legs of claimant. It is not a case of overtaking the tanker by the claimant, but it is clear from the site-plan that the spot of accident is not at the extreme left side of the road, which shows that the claimant's motorcycle was slightly towards the middle of the road, which reflects the negligent driving of the claimant also to some extent and, therefore, keeping in view the above facts and circumstances of the case, we are in full agreement with Shri Rakesh Bahadur, learned counsel for the Insurance Company to the extent that there is evidence of contributory negligence on the part of claimant. Hence, we hold the claimant responsible for negligent driving to the tune of 25%.

15. Now, it takes us to the part of the assessment of compensation to be awarded to the claimant. Learned counsel for the claimant submitted that learned Tribunal has not awarded just compensation. It is stated by learned counsel that the Injured was a student of B.Sc. final year and he was earning Rs.7,500/- per month by serving in a private firm and also doing a part-time job, but learned Tribunal has considered his monthly income at Rs.3,000/- only. It is also submitted that on the basis of this meagre amount of Rs.3,000/-, the learned Tribunal has only awarded damages for 14 months as loss of earning and awarded just Rs.42,000/- for loss of earning. He contended that claimant sustained serious injuries and his one lower limb was amputated and he was declared permanently disabled to the tune of 80% as per disability certificate. This fact was not properly appreciated by the learned Tribunal. Further submission is that non-pecuniary damages awarded to the petitioner as on lower side.

16. Learned counsel for the Insurance Company submitted that as per statement of injured-PW1, there was one attendant only for his help while learned Tribunal has awarded compensation for two attendants, which is not the case of the claimant.

17. It is also submitted by learned counsel for the Insurance Company that a disability certificate is issued regarding the disability sustained by the appellant to the tune of 80%, but no doctor is examined to prove the aforesaid certificate. Therefore, it cannot be relied upon.

18. We are not convinced with the aforesaid submission that there is necessity to prove the disability certificate by calling the doctor when it is not challenged before the Tribunal. It is not the case of the Insurance Company that disability certificate is fake or not issued by competent authority. We are in agreement with the submission made on behalf of Insurance Company that in his evidence, the appellant has stated that he was having one attendant for his help yet the Tribunal has awarded compensation for two attendants.

19. This is a case of injury to the appellant, which is very grave in nature. The appellant has sustained very serious injuries as the front-wheel of the tanker ran over both the legs. His one leg was amputated from knee joint and two ligaments of other leg were removed permanently, therefore, more or less he became disabled by both the legs.

20. This is a case where a young boy at the age of 21 years only has lost one leg by amputation and removal of two ligaments of other leg had also made him incapacitated from pursuing any good career in life though he was a student of B.Sc. Final year at the time of accident. He is not able to walk, run or even sit properly. He has lost amenities and pleasure of life. It can safely be assumed that he had bleak prospects of marriage and family life. He is not able to lead a normal life. His disability is permanent. No one can restore his life as it was before the accident, but we should provide 'just compensation'. We have to keep in mind all the factors, which are relevant for just and proper compensation as is object of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 (for short, 'the Act, 1988').

21. Section 168 of the Act, 1988, contemplates determination of 'just compensation'. 'Just' means-fair, reasonable and equitable amount accepted by legal standards. 'Just compensation' does not mean perfect or absolute compensation. 'Just compensation' principle requires examination of particular situation obtaining uniquely in individual case. When compensation is to be determined on an application under Section 166 of the Act, 1988, various heads under which damages are to be assessed, have to be looked into by Tribunal and not by merely determining income and applying multiplier.

22. The question of determination of compensation directly came up before Supreme Court in Raj Kumar Vs. Ajay Kumar and another, 2011(1) SCC 343. Therein, claimant sustained fracture of both bone of left leg and fracture of left radius in a motor accident on 01.10.1991. Tribunal awarded compensation under the heads of loss of future earning, pain and sufferings, loss of earning during period of treatment, medical expenses, conveyance and special diet. He was awarded total compensation of Rs. 94,700/- and 9% interest. His appeal for enhancement was rejected by Tribunal and ultimately went in appeal to Supreme Court. It observed that scheme of Act, 1988 shows that award must be "just", which means that compensation should, to the extent possible, fully and adequately restore claimant to the position prior to the accident. The object of awarding damages is to make good the loss suffered as a result of wrong done as far as money can do so, in a fair, reasonable and equitable manner. A person is not only to be compensated for physical injury, but also for the loss which he suffered as a result of such injury. It means that he is to be compensated for his inability to lead a full life, his inability to enjoy those normal amenities which he would have enjoyed but for the injuries, and his inability to earn as much as he used to earn or could have earned. The heads under which compensation needs be awarded in "personal injury" cases are detailed in para 6 of the judgment in Raj Kumar Vs. Ajay Kumar (supra) and it reads as under:

"6. The heads under which compensation is awarded in personal injury cases are the following:

Pecuniary damages (Special Damages)

(i) Expenses relating to treatment, hospitalization, medicines, transportation, nourishing food, and miscellaneous expenditure.

(ii) Loss of earnings (and other gains) which the injured would have made had he not been injured, comprising:

(a) Loss of earning during the period of treatment;

(b) Loss of future earnings on account of permanent disability.

(iii) Future medical expenses.

Non-pecuniary damages (General Damages)

(iv) Damages for pain, suffering and trauma as a consequence of the injuries.

(v) Loss of amenities (and/or loss of prospects of marriage).

(vi) Loss of expectation of life (shortening of normal longevity).

In routine personal injury cases, compensation will be awarded only under heads (i), (ii)(a) and (iv). It is only in serious cases of injury, where there is specific medical evidence corroborating the evidence of the claimant, that compensation will be granted under any of the heads (ii) (b), (iii), (v) and (vi) relating to loss of future earnings on account of permanent disability, future medical expenses, loss of amenities (and/or loss of prospects of marriage) and loss of expectation of life."

23. "Disability" refers to any restriction or lack of ability to perform an activity in the manner considered normal for a human-being. "Permanent disability" refers to the residuary incapacity or loss of use of some part of the body, found existing at the end of period of treatment and recuperation, after achieving maximum bodily improvement or recovery which is likely to remain for remainder life of injured. Permanent disability can be either partial or total. "Partial permanent disability" refers to a person's inability to perform all the duties and bodily functions that he could perform before the accident, though he is able to perform some of them and is still able to engage in some gainful activity. "Total permanent disability" refers to a person's inability to perform any avocation or employment related activities as a result of the accident.

24. The percentage of disability certified in medical terms has been considered and Courts have observed that percentage of disability in respect of a part of body does not mean the same percentage with respect to whole body and it may be different. Para 9 of judgment in Raj Kumar Vs. Ajay Kumar (supra) said as under:

"9. The percentage of permanent disability is expressed by the Doctors with reference to the whole body, or more often than not, with reference to a particular limb. When a disability certificate states that the injured has suffered permanent disability to an extent of 45% of the left lower limb, it is not the same as 45% permanent disability with reference to the whole body. The extent of disability of a limb (or part of the body) expressed in terms of a percentage of the total functions of that limb, obviously cannot be assumed to be the extent of disability of the whole body. If there is 60% permanent disability of the right hand and 80% permanent disability of left leg, it does not mean that the extent of permanent disability with reference to the whole body is 140% (that is 80% plus 60%). If different parts of the body have suffered different percentages of disabilities, the sum total thereof expressed in terms of the permanent disability with reference to the whole body, cannot obviously exceed 100%." (emphasis added)

25. Court also castigated that Tribunals wrongly assume that percentage of permanent disability is same in terms of percentage of loss of future earning capacity. The two aspects are different. Relevant observations in para 10 of the judgment in Raj Kumar Vs. Ajay Kumar (supra) are reproduced as under:

"10. Where the claimant suffers a permanent disability as a result of injuries, the assessment of compensation under the head of loss of future earnings, would depend upon the effect and impact of such permanent disability on his earning capacity. The Tribunal should not mechanically apply the percentage of permanent disability as the percentage of economic loss or loss of earning capacity. In most of the cases, the percentage of economic loss, that is, percentage of loss of earning capacity, arising from a permanent disability will be different from the percentage of permanent disability. Some Tribunals wrongly assume that in all cases, a particular extent (percentage) of permanent disability would result in a corresponding loss of earning capacity, and consequently, if the evidence produced show 45% as the permanent disability, will hold that there is 45% loss of future earning capacity. In most of the cases, equating the extent (percentage) of loss of earning capacity to the extent (percentage) of permanent disability will result in award of either too low or too high a compensation." (emphasis added)

26. Court also held that in some cases evidence and assessment may show that percentage of loss of earning capacity as a result of permanent disability is approximately the same as percentage of permanent disability and in that case said percentage for determination of compensation may be adopted but it is not always. It is in this context Court further said that in order to determine, whether there is any permanent disability and if so the extent of such disability, a Tribunal should consider, and decide, with reference to evidence:

"(i) whether the disablement is permanent or temporary;

(ii) if the disablement is permanent, whether it is permanent total disablement or permanent partial disablement;

(iii) if the disablement percentage is expressed with reference to any specific limb, then the effect of such disablement of the limb on the functioning of the entire body, that is the permanent disability suffered by the person."

27. It was also observed that ascertainment of the effect of permanent disability on actual earning capacity involves three steps. First is to ascertain what activities claimant could carry on inspite of permanent disability and what he could not do as a result of permanent disability. The second is to ascertain claimant's avocation, profession and nature of work before accident, as also his age. The third step is to find out whether claimant is totally disabled from earning any kind of livelihood or despite permanent disability, claimant could still effectively carry on activities and functions, which he was earlier carrying on and whether he was prevented or restricted from discharging his previous activities and functions, but could carry on some other or lesser scale of activities and functions so that he continues to earn or can continue to earn his livelihood.

28. The role of Tribunal was elaborated by observing that it is not a silent spectator when medical evidence is tendered in regard to the injuries and their effect, in particular the extent of permanent disability. Tribunal does not function as a neutral umpire as in a civil suit. It is an active explorer and seeker of truth who is required to hold an enquiry into the claim for determining 'just compensation'. Tribunal should take an active role to ascertain the true and correct position so that it can assess 'just compensation'. Court also observed that when a doctor gives evidence about percentage of permanent disability, Tribunal must find out whether such percentage of disability is functional disability with reference to whole body or whether it is only with reference to a limb. In para 19 of the judgment in Raj Kumar Vs. Ajay Kumar (supra) Court summarized the principles in respect of "permanent disability" and assessment of compensation and in para 20 it gives certain illustrations in regard to assessment of loss of future earning. Same are reproduced as under:

"19. We may now summarize the principles discussed above:

(i) All injuries (or permanent disabilities arising from injuries), do not result in loss of earning capacity.

(ii) The percentage of permanent disability with reference to the whole body of a person, cannot be assumed to be the percentage of loss of earning capacity. To put it differently, the percentage of loss of earning capacity is not the same as the percentage of permanent disability (except in a few cases, where the Tribunal on the basis of evidence, concludes that percentage of loss of earning capacity is the same as percentage of permanent disability).

(iii) The doctor who treated an injured-claimant or who examined him subsequently to assess the extent of his permanent disability can give evidence only in regard the extent of permanent disability. The loss of earning capacity is something that will have to be assessed by the Tribunal with reference to the evidence in entirety.

(iv) The same permanent disability may result in different percentages of loss of earning capacity in different persons, depending upon the nature of profession, occupation or job, age, education and other factors.

29. A three Judge Bench considered the question of "just compensation" in a case of permanent disability in Sanjay Verma Vs. Haryana Roadways, 2014(3) SCC 210. Court observed that besides determination of damages under the head "loss of income" and "medical expenses", Tribunal must also award compensation under the head "future treatment" and "pain and sufferings" and where there is requirement of an attendant, cost of attendant should also be included for award of compensation.

30. In Kajal Vs. Jagdish Chand reported in 2020 (0) AIJEL-SC 65725, the Apex Court has quoted pertinent observations from a very old case Philips Vs. Western Railway Company (1874) 4QBD 406 as under:

"You cannot put the plaintiff back again into his original position, but you must bring your reasonable common sense to bear, and you must always recollect that this is the only occasion on which compensation can be given. The plaintiff can never sue again for it. You have, therefore, now to give him compensation once and for all. He has done no wrong, he has suffered a wrong at the hands of the defendants and you must take care to give him full fair compensation for that which he has suffered." Besides, the Tribunals should always remember that the measures of damages in all these cases "should be such as to enable even a tortfeasor to say that he had amply atoned for his misadventure."

31. Hon'ble the Apex Court has further quoted pertinent observations from a very old case H. West & Son Ltd. v. Shephard 1963 2 WLR 1359 as under :

"Money may be awarded so that something tangible may be procured to replace something else of the like nature which has been destroyed or lost. But money cannot renew a physical frame that has been battered and shattered. All that Judges and courts can do is to award sums which must be regarded as giving reasonable compensation. In the process there must be the endeavour to secure some uniformity in the general method of approach. By common assent awards must be reasonable and must be assessed with moderation. Furthermore, it is eminently desirable that so far as possible comparable injuries should be compensated by comparable awards.

In the same case Lord Devlin observed that the proper approach to the problem was to adopt a test as to what contemporary society would deem to be a fair sum, such as would allow the wrongdoer to "hold up his head among his neighbours and say with their approval that he has done the fair thing", which should be kept in mind by the court in determining compensation in personal injury cases."

32. Section 168 of MV Act stipulates that there should be grant of just compensation. Thus, it becomes challenge for a Court of law to determine just compensation which should not be bonanza for the claimant/victim and at the same time it should not be too meagre. Hon'ble the Apex Court in Rajkumar Vs Ajay Kumar and others (2011) 1 SCC 343 has laid down the heads under which compensation is to be awarded for personal injuries which is as follows:

"Pecuniary damages (Special damages)

(i)Expenses relating to treatment, hospitalization, medicines, transportation, nourishing food, and miscellaneous expenditure.

(ii) Loss of earnings (and other gains) which the injured would have made had he not been injured, comprising:

(a) Loss of earning during the period of treatment;

(b) Loss of future earnings on account of permanent disability.

(iii) Future medical expenses.

Non-pecuniary damages (General damages)

(iv) Damages for pain, suffering and trauma as a consequence of the injuries.

(v) Loss of amenities (and/or loss of prospects of marriage).

(vi) Loss of expectation of life (shortening of normal longevity).

In routine personal injury cases, compensation will be awarded only under heads (i), (ii) (a) and (iv). It is only in serious cases of injury, where there is specific medical evidence corroborating the evidence of the claimant, that compensation will be granted under any of the heads (ii)(b), (iii), (v) and (vi) relating to loss of future earnings on account of permanent disability, future medical expenses, loss of amenities (and/or loss of prospects of marriage) and loss of expectation of life.

33. In K. Suresh v. New India Assurance Company Ltd. and Ors., Hon'ble the Apex Court has held as follows :

"2...There cannot be actual compensation for anguish of the heart or for mental tribulations. The quintessentiality lies in the pragmatic computation of the loss sustained which has to be in the realm of realistic approximation. Therefore, Section 168 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 (for brevity the Act) stipulates that there should be grant of just compensation. Thus, it becomes a challenge for a court of law to determine just compensation which is neither a bonanza nor a windfall, and simultaneously, should not be a pittance."

34. Hence, keeping in mind the above contours of 'just compensation', we proceed to determine the quantum of compensation. It is not disputed that appellant has submitted bills for medical expenses and treatment worth Rs.1,93,858/-. As far as permanent disability of the appellant is concerned, doctors have issued disability certificate to the tune of 80%, but the Tribunal has considered 100% permanent disability of both the legs separately, but there is amputation of one leg from the knee-joint and two ligaments of other leg were removed, therefore, we hold functional disability of the appellant to the tune of 80%. Perusal of impugned judgment shows that amount under the head of permanent disability is not properly calculated by the Tribunal.

35. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellant that appellant had two source of income. It is said that appellant was working with Mahalaxmi Trading Company and was also employed as part-time Trainer in Sharma Health Group wherefrom he was getting Rs.4,500/- per month and Rs.3,000/- per month respectively. We are in full agreement with the finding of learned Tribunal that these aforesaid source of income and amount of salary is not proved by any cogent evidence. Appellant was student, therefore, we hold his monthly income at Rs.3,000/-. Hence, his annual income was Rs.36,000/-. 40% would be added to it for future loss of income as held by Hon'ble Apex Court in Jithendran vs. New India Assurance Co.Ltd. and another, 2021 ACJ 2736, which is heavily relied on by counsel for the appellant in which the injured-claimant was of 21 years old. It comes Rs.14,400/-, therefore, total income of appellant would be Rs.36,000/- + Rs.14,400/- = Rs.50,400/-. At the time of accident, the age of appellant was 21 years, hence, multiplier of 18 would be applied as per judgment of Apex Court in Smt.Sarla Verma vs. Delhi Transport Corporation [2009 (2) TAC 677 (SC)]. Hence, loss of dependency would be Rs.50,400/- x 18 = Rs.9,07,200/-, out of which only 80% would be taken as the amount towards permanent disability which comes to Rs.7,25,760/-. In this way, the appellant would be entitled to get Rs.7,25,760/- under the head of permanent disability.

36. We can take a judicial notice of the fact that in some of the cases, the injured like this as in the case in hand requires artificial limb for betterment in movement, where leg is amputated. Purpose of social welfare legislation is to find out ways and means to help the sufferer in all possible fields. If Tribunal finds with medical advice that artificial limb can procure his self-dependency, all possible efforts should be made to get it executed and whatever necessary expenses, it requires, must be treated to be a part of compensation, which should be allowed against the persons liable to pay compensation. Hence, the appellant would be entitled to get Rs.1,00,000/- for procuring artificial limb.

37. It is on record that after the accident, appellant remained hospitalized for 14 months, which had also the loss of income, therefore, he would be entitled to get Rs.42,000/- (Rs.3,000/- x 14) as loss of income during hospitalization. During that period and after discharge from the hospital, the appellant would have taken special diet for which he would get Rs.50,000/-. It can safely be assumed that after amputation of one leg and removal of two ligaments of other leg and by sustaining other injuries also in the accident, the appellant would require to purchase medicines and continuation of treatment in future also for which, he would be entitled to get Rs.1,00,000/-. He would also be entitled to get transportation and miscellaneous expenses of Rs.25,000/- which he had to occur while going to doctors for further treatment and check-ups, etc.

38. Where the appellant has become disabled to the tune of 80% and that too by his legs and he is not able to sit properly and walk and he has lost pleasures of life because he cannot lead a normal life after accident. It is natural that he had bleak prospects of marriage and family life as he was young boy of 21 years of age only. It can be said that the appellant has lost amenities of life to the great extent, which cannot be restored at all. Therefore, he would get Rs.4,00,000/- for loss of amenities. The disability of the appellant is permanent. Under the head of pain, shock and sufferings, he is entitled to get a sum of Rs.1,00,000/- as held by Apex Court in Syed Sadiq vs. Divisional Manager, United India Insurance Co.Ltd., AIR 2014 SC 1052.

39. Hence, the appellant would be entitled to compensation as below:

(i) Bills for Medicines and Treatment = Rs.1,93,858/-

(ii) Permanent Disability = Rs.7,25,760/-

(iii) Loss of Earnings during Hospitalization = Rs.42,000/-

(iv) Artificial Limb = Rs.1,00,000/-

(v) Loss of Amenities = Rs.4,00,000/-

(vi) Special Diet = Rs.50,000/-

(viii) Attendant Charges = Rs.50,000/-

(ix) Transportation and Misc.Expenses = Rs.25,000/-

(x) Future Medicines = Rs.1,00,000/-

(xi) Pain, Shock & Sufferings = Rs.1,00,000/-

(xii) Total = Rs.17,86,618/-

= Rs. 17,87,000/- (Round-up figure)

(xiii) Amount after deduction of 25% towards contributory negligence = Rs.4,46,750/-

(xiv) Total Compensation = Rs.17,87,000/- - Rs.4,46,750/- =13,40,250/-

40. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, *2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) w*herein the Apex Court has held as under:

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

41. Learned Tribunal has awarded rate of interest as 6% per annum but we are fixing the rate of interest as 7.5% in the light of the above judgment.

42. No other grounds were urged when the matters were heard.

43. Both the appeals are partly allowed. Judgment and award passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 8 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

44. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291 and this High Court in total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimants to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) and in First Appeal From Order No.2871 of 2016 (Tej Kumari Sharma v. Chola Mandlam M.S. General Insurance Co. Ltd.) decided on 19.3.2021 while disbursing the amount.

45. The records and proceedings be sent back to the Tribunal for disbursement.

(2022)05ILR A763
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 23.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 1418 of 2007

Rizwan Hussain Farooqi ...Appellant
Versus
Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Arun Kumar Tripathi, Sri Ashfaq Husain, Sri Tahir Husain

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri D.M. Tripathi, Ms. Aarushi Khare, Sri Arun Kumar Shukla, Sri Sudip Ojha, Sri Vinay Khare

A. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Compensation – Liability to pay – Injured person, a bright student, was studying in a famous coaching centre – However, tribunal has considered his income NIL – Validity challenged – Held, as injured was a bright student and preparing for U.P.S.C., the income with potential to earn can be considered to be Rs. 6000/- per month – Principles enunciated in Kahlon's case relied upon – High Court re-computed the compensation adding 40% as the future loss and awarded 7.5% interest. (Para 8, 10 and 11)

Appeal partly allowed (E-1)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Sanjay Kumar Vs Ashok Kumar & anr.; (2014) 5 SCC 330

2. Syed. Sadiq & ors. Vs Divisional Manager, United India Insurance Co. Ltd.; (2014) 2 SCC 735

3. VsMekala Vs M. Malathi & anr.; (2014) 11 SCC 178

4. Hari Babu Vs Amrit Lal & ors. 2019 (2) T.A.C. 718 (All.)

5. Kajal Vs Jagdish Chand; 2020 (0) AIJEL-SC 65725

6. Raj Kumar Vs Ajay Kumar & anr.; (2011) 1 SCC 343

7. Smt. Meena Pawaia & others Vs Ashraf Ali & ors. 2021 0 Supreme (SC) 694

8. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors. 2017 Law Suit (SC) 1093

9. Civil Appeal No. 433 of 2022; Shivdhar Kumar Vashiya Vs Ranjeet Singh & ors. decided on 21.01.2022

10. Civil Appeal No. 2551 of 2020; Anthony @ Anthony Swamy Vs Managing Director, K.S.R.T.C. decided on June 10, 2020

11. Raj Kumar Vs Ajay Kumar & anr.; (2011) 1 SCC 343

12. Civil Appeal No. 4800 of 2021; The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Kahlon @ Jasmail Singh Kahlon decided on 16.08.2021

13. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors. 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. Heard Tahir Husain, learned counsel for the appellant, Sri Sudip Ojha, learned counsel for respondent no. 1 and Sri A. K. Shukla, learned counsel for respondent no. 3.

2. This appeal , at the behest of the claimants, challenges the award and decree dated 07.02.20007 passed by M.A.C.T/Additional District Judge, Court No. 3, Farrukhabad (hereinafter referred to as "Tribunal") in M.A.C.P. No. 135 of 2005 awarding a sum of Rs. 2,55,000/- as compensation with interest at the rate of 6%.

3. The accident is not in dispute. The issue of negligence decided by the Tribunal is not in dispute. The respondent-Insurance Company has not challenged the liability imposed on them. The only issue to be decided is, the quantum of compensation awarded.

4. Brief facts as culled out from the record are that on 14.05.205 at about 2:00 p.m Rizwan Hussain Farooqui was coming from Bholepur to Fatehgarh on his own motor-cycle bearing registration no. U.P. 76D/2833 and was accompanied by his friend Amir Ali @ Montu. He was driving his motor-cycle cautiously at a constant speed. When he reached Fatehgarh crossing a tempo driven by driver Neelu @ Diwakar rashly and negligently bearing registration no. U.P. 76E/9110 dashed the moto-cycle of Rizwan from behind. As a result of which Rizwan Hussain Farooqui and his friend Amir Ali @ Montu sustained injuries. Rizwan Hussain Faooqui received grievous injuries on his nose, ear, jawline and on face. He was rushed to nearby Das Nursing Home. He received grievous injury on his head and received fractures in various parts of his body, therefore for treatment and C.T. Scan he was admitted to Regency Hospital, Kanpur. In Regency Hospital he was treated and he underwent many surgeries. It is averred that treatment continued and the appellant had to spent about Rs. 5,00,000/- on his treatment.

5. The injured was 21 years of age and was studying at Rao I.A.S, Delhi at the time of accident. Due to his accident he could not complete his course at Rao I.A.S, Delhi. Injured was giving tuition and was earning Rs. 5,000/- p.m. The tribunal has considered his income to be Nil, granted Rs. 2,00,000/- towards loss of medical expenses, granted Rs. 50,000/- towards his future medicine and Rs. 5,000/- towards pain, shock and sufferings and ultimately assessed the total compensation to be Rs. 2,55,000/-.

6. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellant that no amount under the head loss of income has been granted by the Tribunal which is unjust and should be at least Rs.6,000/- per month. It is submitted that no amount is granted under the head of monthly loss to injured which is also unjust and should be at least 40% Rs. 6,000/- per month with future loss of income. It is submitted that no amount under the head of future loss of income has been granted. It is also submitted that the amount under the non-pecuniary heads and the interest awarded are also on the lower side and requires to be enhanced in view of the following authoritative pronouncements:

(i) Sanjay Kumar Vs. Ashok Kumar and another, (2014) 5 SCC 330;

(ii) Syed. Sadiq and others Vs. Divisional Manager, United India Insurance Company Limited, (2014) 2 SCC 735;

(iii) V. Mekala Vs. M. Malathi and another, (2014) 11 SCC 178; and

(iv) Uttar Pradesh Motor Vehicles (Eleventh Amendment) Rules, 2011.

(v) Hari Babu Vs. Amrit Lal and others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 718 (All.).

(vi) Kajal Vs. Jagdish Chand reported in 2020 (0) AIJEL-SC 65725

7. As against this, it is submitted by the learned counsel for the respondent that the quantum awarded by the Tribunal is just and proper and does not call for any interference of this Court. The learned counsel has submitted that the claimant was not granted any amount as the documentary evidence which were produced did not show that there was any disability which the appellant-claimant. The claimants claim for Rs. 5 lacs as expenses is not supported by any documentary evidence and that the tribunal has rightly held that as the injured was not into any profession no amount could be granted for loss of income and therefore, the tribunal has rightly not granted any amount for loss of income.

8. After hearing the counsel for the parties and perusing the judgment and order impugned, as he was a bright student and preparing for U.P.S.C, this Court feels that income with potential to earn can be considered to be Rs.6000/- per month. To which as the injured was 21 years at the time of accident, 40% of the income would have to be added as future loss of income to the injured in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Raj Kumar Vs. Ajay Kumar and another, reported in (2011) 1 SCC 343 and Syed Sadiq and others (Supra). The loss of earning capacity namely 25% as considered by the Tribunal is enhanced to 40% for following reasons. The Apex Court recently in Smt. Meena Pawaia & others Vs. Ashraf Ali and others 2021 0 Supreme (SC) 694 and National Insurance Co. Ltd. V.s Pranay Sethi and others, 2017 Law Suit (SC) 1093 has held that "even if a person is not earning his potential to earn should also be considered". In our case we fail to understand how the tribunal can hold that the injured cannot be granted any amount under the head of loss of income. The injuries which are brought on record go to show that the injured had suffered multiple injuries even at the young age which are narrated herein below:-

" Fracture left temporal bone with opaque ethmoid and maxillary sinuses.

- Hyper dense areas suggestive of extra dural haematoma is seen in left tempor parietal region with associated cerebral oedema causing effacement of ipisilateral sylvian fissure and sulci. Slight midline shift is noted to right.

- Rest of the Brain parenchyma is normal

- Left ventriele is partially effected.

Rest of the ventricular system is normal.

- Brain stem and cerebellum appear normal."

These injuries have been considered and accepted by the tribunal but just because the injured was not into any vocation the tribunal did not grant the said amount. We would even base our judgment on the decision titled Shivdhar Kumar Vashiya Vs. Ranjeet Singh and others in Civil Appeal No. 433 of 2022 decided on 21.01.2022. The fact that the decision in Anthony Alias Anthony Swamy Vs. Managing Director, K.S.R.T.C in Civil Appeal No. 2551 of 2020 decided on June 10, 2020 of the Apex Court which has relied on the judgment of Raj Kumar Vs. Ajay Kumar and another, reported in (2011) 1 SCC 343 and Syed Sadiq and others (Supra) will also enure for the benefit of the claimant as we have seen that there were lot of injuries on the body of the claimant. The claimant has produced before us his prolonged illness of two years. This trauma ultimately culminated into the sad demise of the 21 year old person who breathe his last after 5 months of the decision and filing of this appeal. The question is what would legal heirs be entitled after death. The recent judgment of the Apex Court in the case of The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd. Vs. Kahlon @ Jasmail Singh Kahlon through his legal representative in Civil Appeal No. 4800 of 2021 decided on 16.08.2021 wherein the Apex Court held that "on death of a person the compensation claims would not abate." In our case also the judgment was rendered when the injured was having 40% disability and was alive. The tribunal unfortunately just gave what is known as medical expenses but did not grant any amount for future loss of income in such a serious matter. The judgment of Parminder Singh relied in the aforementioned judgment and in the judgment of Kajal (supra) will enure for the benefit of the appellant. Thus the finding of facts by the tribunal are not germane and pervisity has crept in the beneficial peace of legislation has not been properly appreciated and will have to be upturned as in view of the decisions aforementioned and the fact that the injured died after the judgment of the tribunal and after 5 months offiling of the appeal. Thus the principles enunciated in kahlon (supra) will have to be borne in mind and therefore the compensation payable would relate to the date of the accident. It goes without saying that we need not to corroborate or give answer whether the death was because of the injuries or not as that is not the subject before us and that is not the issue raised before us, had the deceased died before the award of the tribunal the issue to be decided would have been different and different parameters would be made applicable.

9. Further, the amount granted by the Tribunal for medical expenses plus 50,000/- rounding the figure to Rs. 2,50,000/- future medicine upto 07.02.2007 and 20,000/- for attendant charges are granted. As far as the amount under pain, shock and sufferings is concerned, looking to the fact that he was admitted in hospital many times and has undergone surgeries, the amount is enhanced to Rs.1,00,000/-. Unfortunately the father of the injured also breathe his last during pendency of this appeal on 11.03.2014 and therefore the amount will have to be disbursed to the legal heirs alive at present and who are representing the estate of the deceased.

10. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellant is computed herein below:

i. Income : Rs.6000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.2400/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 6000 + 2400 = Rs. 8400/-

iv. Loss of earning capacity : 40% namely Rs. 3400/- (rounded up)

v. Annual loss : Rs. 3400 x 12 = Rs. 40,800/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 18

vii. Total loss : Rs. 40,800 x 18 = Rs. 7,34,400/- viii. Medical expenses : Rs. 2,50,000/-(rounded up)

ix. Special diet : Rs. 20,000/-

xi. Attendant charges : Rs. 20,000/-

xii. Amount under pain, shock and suffering : Rs.1,00,000/- xiii. Total compensation : 11,24,400/-

11. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view decision of the Apex Court in Civil Appeal No.242/243 of 2020 (National Insurance Company Ltd. vs Birender and others) decided on 13 January, 2020 which is the latest in point of time and National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court." .

12. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

13. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Award and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The amount be deposited by the respondent-Insurance Company within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

14. Record be sent back to tribunal forthwith.

15. This Court is thankful to both the learned Advocates for ably assisting this Court.

(2022)05ILR A768
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 25.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 1466 of 2021

Smt. Raj Mala & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Sri Surendra Kapoor & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Brij Raj Singh, Sri Amit Kumar Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Vipul Kumar, Sri Siddharth Jaiswal

A. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - accident took place on 6.5.2008 - deceased date of Birth was 1.7.1975 as recorded in School Leaving Certificate and the date of accident was 6.5.2008 therefore the deceased was 33 years of age at the time of accident - deceased was earning Rs 12,000 per month as Plant Operator in PNC Construction Company Ltd - Held - Tribunal has fallen in error in not considering the salary certificate as well as the evidence led before it, documentary evidence 41 G which is the order of deployment of staff dated 18.1.2006, documentary evidence 24 G dated 30.6.2008, where it was specifically mentioned that deceased last drawn salary was Rs. 12,000 per month - Multiplier of 16 is granted as the deceased was in the age bracket of 31 to 35 - deceased left behind him, four minor children and his widow, hence deduction towards personal expenses would be 1/4th - Rs. 70,000 granted under the non pecuniary heads and Rs. 50,000 each to the minor children - claimants would be entitled to 7.5% rate of interest on the enhanced compensation - As 10 years have elapsed, amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R. (Para 12, 13, 19)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors., 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093

2. Sarla Verma & ors. Vs Delhi Transport Corporation & anr., 2009 LawSuit (SC)

3. A.P.S.R.T.C. & ors. v. M. Ramadevi & ors., 2008 (1) T.A.C. 714 SC

4. National Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Indira Srivastava & ors., (2008) 2 SCC 763

5. Asha & ors. Vs United India Insurance Co. Ltd. & anr., (2008) 2 SCC 744

6. A.V. Padma Vs Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442

7. Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291

8. Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr. Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001

9. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. & ors. Vs U.O.I. & ors. dated 27.1.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Sri Amit Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the appellants and Sri Siddharth Jaiswal, learned counsel for respondent-Insurance Company.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 14.12.2009 passed by the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.16, Agra (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in Claim Petition No.563 of 2008 awarding a sum of Rs.3,69,500/- as compensation with interest at the rate of 6% from date of filing of the claim petition.

3. The accident is not in dispute. The issue of negligence decided by the Tribunal is also not in dispute. The only issue to be decided is the quantum of compensation awarded.

4. The accident took place on 6.5.2008. The deceased, as per the claimants, was 33 years of age at the time of accident but the Tribunal has considered his age to be 40 to 45 years. The Tribunal considered his income to be Rs.3,000/- per month, deducted 1/3rd towards personal expenses of the deceased, granted multiplier of 15, awarded Rs.9,500/- towards non pecuniary damages and has calculated the total compensation to be Rs.3,69,500/-

5. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the deceased was earning Rs.12,000/- per month as Plant Operator in PNC Construction Company Ltd. Agra, however, the Tribunal has assessed his income to be Rs.3,000/- which is bad and it should be 12,000/- per month. It is further submitted that the Tribunal has not granted any amount towards future loss of income which should be granted in view of the decision of the Apex Court National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Pranay Sethi and others, 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093.

6. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the deceased was 33 years of age at the time of accident but the Tribunal has considered his age to be 40 years and granted multiplier of 15 which is bad and the multiplier should be 16 in view of the decision in Sarla Verma and others Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and Another, 2009 LawSuit (SC).

7. It is lastly submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the amount under non pecuniary heads and the interest awarded by the Tribunal are on the lower side and are required to be enhanced.

8. Per contra, learned counsel for respondent-Insurance Company has submitted that the income of the deceased as considered by the Tribunal is just and proper as income which was claimed was not proved by oral and documentary evidence. It is further submitted that the age of the deceased has rightly been considered as the documentary proof filed in this regard was not certified and the post-mortem report showed his age to be 40 years, therefore, the same has been considered by the Tribunal. Hence, multiplier of 15 granted by the Tribunal is just and proper is the submission of learned counsel for the respondent.

10. Heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the record. The Tribunal has considered the income of the deceased to be Rs.3,000/- which is nothing else but perversity shown by the Tribunal in such a beneficial piece of legislation. The learned Tribunal has disbelieved the evidence of P.W.3 and the documentary evidence at page 41 G which is the order of deployment of staff dated 18.1.2006. The deceased was appointed as plant operator and his monthly salary was Rs.7,500/-. There cannot be any doubt once documents are produced and proved by the authority concerned who have appointed the deceased and where he was serving. In the documentary evidence at page 24 G dated 30.6.2008, it has been specifically mentioned that his last drawn salary was Rs.12,000/- per month and, therefore, we are unable to accept the submission of Sri Jaiswal that the Tribunal was right in returning the finding on income holding that claimant did not produce any document to show that his income was Rs.12,000/-.As there was no record of the increment which were given, the Tribunal has not accepted the version of P.W.3. P.W.2 and P.W.1 have corroborated each other. The Tribunal has fallen in error in not considering the salary certificate as well as the evidence led before it, as narrated herein above. The Tribunal has misinterpreted the decision of the Apex Court in A.P.S.R.T.C. and others v. M. Ramadevi and others, 2008 (1) T.A.C. 714 SC. Principle for assessment of compensation go to show that reasonably accepted legal standard have to be adopted. In our case, the Tribunal has given a go-by to these principles and, therefore, we reiterate that just compensation would mean that the claimants are entitled to be compensated for loss suffered which would be the net salary received by the deceased when he was alive. The decision in National Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Indira Srivastava and others, (2008) 2 SCC 763 and in the case of Asha and others v. United India Insurance Co. Ltd. and another, (2008) 2 SCC 744 will come to the aid of the claimants.

11. In view of the above discussion, we consider the income of the deceased to be Rs.12,000/- per month.

12. The Tribunal has committed error in recording the age of the deceased. His Date of Birth was 1.7.1975 as recorded in School Leaving Certificate and the date of accident was 6.5.2008 which shows that on the date of accident, he was 33 years of age and, therefore, we are unable to subscribe to the submission of learned counsel for the respondent that age of 40 years considered by the Tribunal is just and proper. The deceased is considered to be 33 years of age at the time of accident, hence, 40% should be added towards future loss of income of the deceased. Multiplier of 16 is granted as the deceased was in the age bracket of 31 to 35. The deceased has left behind him, four minor children and his widow. The deceased-father would be spending 1/4th upon him when he has such a huge family to maintain. Hence, the deduction towards personal expenses would be 1/4th. The Tribunal has erred in not considering the decision in Sarla Verma (Supra), and has granted only Rs.9,500/- towards non-pecuniary damages. We, therefore, grant Rs.70,000/- under the non pecuniary heads and Rs.50,000/- each to the minor children who have lost their father at prime age. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants is computed herein below:

i. Monthly Income: Rs.12,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.4800/-

iii. Total income : Rs.12,000 + 4800 = Rs.16,800/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/4th towards personal expenses : Rs.12,600/-

v. Annual loss : Rs.12,600 x 12 = Rs.1,51,200/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 16

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.1,51,200 x 16 = Rs.24,19,200/-

viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.70,000/-

ix. Amount granted to minor children towards loss of love and affection : Rs.50,000/- x 4 = 2,00,000/-

x. Total compensation : Rs.24,19,200 + Rs.70,000 + Rs.2,00,000/- = 26,89,200/-

13. The rate of interest also cannot be fathomed in the year 2009 when the repo rate was 9%. The claimants would be entitled to 7.5% rate of interest on the enhanced compensation. The rate of interest granted by the Tribunal on originally awarded amount is maintained.

14. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

15. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and award passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the additional amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest as directed above.

16. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment is not passed because applicants /claimants are neither illiterate or rustic villagers.

17. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

18. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

19. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. v. Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As 10 years have elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

20. We request the learned Registrar General to forward a copy of this order to the concerned Judge who has passed the impugned order where he is posted and if he has retired from service then also it should be brought to his notice so that in future such mistake regarding assessment of income may not be committed if he is employed for some good post.

(2022)05ILR A772
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 23.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 1556 of 2002

Deen Dayal & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Nishan Singh & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri T.A. Khan, Sri Rakesh Kumar Mishra

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Radhey Shyam, Sri Vinod Singh

A. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Beneficial piece of legislation – Compensation – Rash and negligent driving – Driver of the truck dashed with the bicycle from behind – Perverse finding – Tribunal takes hyper technical stand in dismissing the claim petition – Validity challenged – High Court held that the driver of the truck was solely negligence – Vimla Devi's case and Pranay Sethi's case relied upon – High Court re-computed the compensation. (Para 15 and 17)

B. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Claim petition – Non-production of driving licence – Effect – Recovery right of Insurance – The factum of licence will have to be proved by owner/driver of the vehicle, in question – Held, the amount once deposited, may be recovered from the owner by the Insurance Co. as it is proved that the vehicle was insured on the date of the accident – Tribunal shall decide the issue of liability after hearing the owner and the Insurance Co.. (Para 19 and 20)

Appeal partly allowed (E-1)

List of Cases cited :-

1. UPSRTC Vs Km. Mamta & ors. AIR 2016 SC 948

2. F.A.F.O. No.3425 of 2016; Smt. Minakshi Srivastava & ors. Vs Dheeraj Pandey & ors. decided on 11.3.2022

3. Smt. Kaushnuma Begum ors. Vs The New India Assurance Co. Ltd.; (2001) 2 SCC 9.

4. Vimla Devi & ors. Vs National Insurance Co. Ltd. & ors. 2019 (133) ALR 768

5. Anita Sharma Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd.; (2021) 1 SCC 171

6. Dulcina Fernandes & ors. Vs Joaquim Xavier Cruz & anr.; AIR 2014 SC 58

7. C.M.A. No. 1482 of 2017; Reliance General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Subbulakshmi & ors. passed by Madras High Court

8. Puspabai Purshottam Udeshi Vs Ranjit Ginning and Pressing Co., 1977 ACJ 343 (SC)

9. Mangla Ram Vs Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. & ors. 2018 0 Supreme (SC) 283

10. Tahsin Vs Yogesh Kumar & anr., 2019 0 Supreme (All) 1605

11. Bithika Mazumdar & anr. Vs Sagar Pal & ors., (2017) 2 SCC 748

12. Pappu & ors. Vs Vinod Kumar Lamba & ors. AIR 2018 SC 592

13. Singh Ram Vs Nirmala & ors. (2018) 3 SCC 800

14. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I. & ors. decided on 27.1.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Rakesh Kumar Mishra, learned counsel for the appellants and Sri Radhey Shyam and Sri Vinod Singh, learned counsel for the respondents.

2. By means of this appeal, the appellants challenge the judgment and award dated 20.5.2002 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Addl. District Judge, Court No.2, Rampur (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.P. No. 4 of 2001.

3. Brief facts as culled out from the record are that on 1.11.2000 when the deceased Kuldeep Singh was going to Post Office, Galla Mandi Road, Bilaspur, by his bicycle, the driver of Truck, bearing no.HR 26 GA 1507, driving the vehicle rashly and negligently came and dashed the bicycle at about 10:00 a.m. from behind due to which the deceased died on the spot.

4. The claimants being legal heirs of the deceased preferred the claim petition claiming a sum of Rs. 60,10,000/- from the respondents. The claimants pleaded that the deceased was the sole bread-winner of the family. He was dealing with the electrical goods and he was earning at least Rs. 6,000/- per month and because of his death the entire family has been rendered helpless. An F.I.R. came to be registered, bearing no.399 of 2000, Police Station Bilaspur, district Rampur.

5. The Apex Court in UPSRTC Vs. Km. Mamta and others, reported in AIR 2016 SC 948, has held that all the issues raised in the memo of appeal are required to be addressed and decided by the first appellate court.

6. Respondent no.3 - owner of offending vehicle has filed reply denying certain facts and has contended that the claimants have claimed an exorbitant amount. The written statement specifically contends that the driver of the truck was driving the truck at a slow speed. It was driven by a driver, who had valid licence. The driver was not negligent. Accident occurred due to negligence of the deceased and, therefore, the owner or driver would not be liable. The driver had valid driving licence and the vehicle was insured with National Insurance Company Limited. The Insurance company - respondent no.2 has filed its reply of denial and has contended that the vehicle was not insured with it. It was being driven by driver not having valid driving licence.

7. The Tribunal framed about 5 issues and answered the first issue against the appellants herein and rejected the claim petition. One of the reasons assigned for rejecting the claim petition is that PW1 could not convey as to whether at 10:00 a.m. it was dark or it was day light. The Tribunal has surmised that PW1 has nowhere stated that he knew English and, therefore, it was very doubtful whether he could have read the number printed in English of the vehicle in question. The Tribunal held that no other eye witness named in F.I.R. was examined by the claimants before the Tribunal and further in his oral testimony opined that PW1 did not convey that the accident occurred at 10:00 a.m. Though, this fact was deposed by PW2. The Tribunal came to the conclusion that when driver ran away from the place of accident, how PW1 came to know his name and number of vehicle. At the out set, these findings are perverse. The Tribunal has not discussed the reply filed by the respondent wherein the respondent has not denied the accident having taken place. The driver has not stepped into the witness box. The findings are based on surmises and conjectures drawn by the learned Tribunal without any pleading.

8. Once F.I.R., chargesheet and the post-mortem report are filed before the Tribunal, prima facie, they would prove that the accident had occurred with the vehicle in question. These are three basic facts, which are required to be established accident involving the motor vehicles even in the year of accident i.e. 2001. The Tribunal with utmost respect has fallen in grave error in dismissing the claim petition. The post-mortem report of the deceased goes to show that he died after he sustained injuries caused due to vehicular accident. The owner of the truck admitted the factum of the accident in written statement filed before Tribunal.

9. A recent decision of Division Bench by this Court in case titled Smt. Minakshi Srivastava and others Vs. Dheeraj Pandey and others, F.A.F.O. No.3425 of 2016, decided on 11.3.2022, where the factum of accident is accepted by the owner will apply and enure for the benefit of these claimants.

10. Learned Counsel for the appellant has relied on the decision of this Bench in Smt. Minakshi (supra) wherein it is held that once the owner has accepted the involvement of vehicle in accident, the Tribunal cannot dismiss the claim petition unless proved otherwise.

11. The learned Tribunal has fallen in grave error in not considering the matter under beneficial piece of legislation. It has though narrated that F.I.R. was filed on same day, chargesheet was laid but there is no discussion on the same in the award. The evidence of PW1 and PW2 is clinching so as to establish that Kuldeep singh alias Pappu was dashed by the truck and died on the spot. The findings of fact that Ram Kali did not opine or depose that she saw the accident by her own eyes has no relevance. All these findings are not only perverse but against the record. The Tribunal comes to the conclusion that the claimant did not prove that respondent no.3 was driving the vehicle at the time of the accident when F.I.R. is filed it has its persuasive value. Chargesheet against Nishan Singh was primary evidence of his driving the vehicle, which has not been rebutted nor proned to be concocted.

12. As the matter is of 20 years old, we remand the matter as the owner had not produced any documentary evidence regarding licence of his driver and that the vehicle was insured. All these facts will have to be ascertained by the Tribunal.

13. We are fortified in our view by the decisions of Apex Court in (a) Smt.

Kaushnuma Begum And Ors vs. The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2001) 2 SCC 9., (b) Vimla Devi and others Vs. National Insurance Company Limited and others, 2019 (133) ALR 768; (c) Anita Sharma v. New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2021) 1 SCC 171 (d) Dulcina Fernandes & Ors. vs. Joaquim Xavier Cruz & Anr., AIR 2014 SC 58, and on the decision of Madras High Court in Reliance General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Subbulakshmi and Others, passed in C.M.A. No. 1482 of 2017 [C.M.P. No. 7919 of 2017. (CMA Sr. No. 76893 of 2016)] and the decision of Apex Court referred in the said case namely Puspabai Purshottam Udeshi Vs. Ranjit Ginning and Pressing Co., 1977ACJ 343 (SC), the ratio laid in these decisions would be applicable in such matters where Tribunal takes hyper technical stand in dismissing the claim petition which is filed under the beneficial piece of legislation. Despite the fact that judgment of Smt. Kaushnuma Begum And Ors vs. The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2001) 2 SCC 9 was very much in vogue, the Tribunal has dismissed the claim petition holding that there are discrepancies in the evidence of prosecution witnesses.

14. One more aspect can be looked into namely provisions of Order XII of Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, which deals with judgment on admission which stipulate as under:-

(1) Where admissions of fact have been made either in the pleading or otherwise, whether orally or in writing, the Court may at any stage of the suit, either on the application of any party or of its own motion and without waiting for the determination of any other question between the parties, make such order or give such judgment as it may think fit, having regard to such admissions.

(2) Whenever a judgment is pronounced under sub-rule (1) a decree shall be drawn upon in accordance with the judgment and the decree shall bear the date on which the judgment was pronounced."

15. The decision of the Apex Court more particularly in the case of Kusum Lata and Vimla Devi will not permit us to concur with the view of the learned Tribunal. The written statement of the Insurance company and that of the owner ought to have been looked into by the Tribunal before dismissing the claim petition. The matter also has to be looked from the angle of negligence. The principles of deciding negligence when viewed will go to show that the driver of the truck dashed with the bicycle from behind and, therefore, we can safely held that the driver of the truck was solely negligence.

16. We are even supported in our view by the ratio in judgment of Apex Court in case titled Mangla Ram Vs. Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. and others, 2018 0 Supreme (SC) 283 and this High Court titled Tahsin Vs. Yogesh Kumar and another, 2019 0 Supreme (All) 1605.

17. This takes us to the issue of compensation and liability. The judgment of Vimla Devi (supra) where the Apex Court has also granted compensation where the appeal and the claim petition were dismissed. The judgment in Bithika Mazumdar and another Vs. Sagar Pal and others, (2017) 2 SCC 748, and the judgment of Vimla Devi (supra) decided the compensation awardable. The deceased was in his own occupation. He was selling electrical goods and in the year of accident i.e. 2001 his income can be safely considered to be Rs. 4,000/- as he was bachelor and was aged 20 years. He has left behind him his parents, minor brothers and sisters. Hence, 40% would be added to his income. Being a bachelor, he would be spending 1/2 on himself 1/2 would be deducted. Multiplier of 14 would be applicable as per Sarla Verma (supra) and Rs. 40,000/- for filial consortium. Hence, the compensation payable to the appellants in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) is computed herein below:

i. Income Rs.4,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.1600/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 4000 + 1600 = Rs. 5,600/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/2 : Rs. 2,800/-

v. Annual income : Rs.2800 x 12 = Rs.33,600/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 14

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.33,600 x 14 = Rs. 4,70,400/-

viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.40,000/-

ix. Total compensation : Rs. 5,10,400/-

LIABILITY

18. The finding that the Insurance company should have proved the driving licence of the driver of the vehicle. Unfortunately, the owner in written statement has stated that the vehicle was being driven by licensed driver but his licence has not been produced. Issue of non production of driving license either by the owner or the driver is no longer res integra as the judgment in Pappu and others Versus Vinod Kumar Lamba and others, reported in AIR 2018 SC 592, lays down the law. The oral submission of learned Counsel for the Insurance company will have to be allowed and recovery rights will have to be granted. However, this recovery rights would be subject to proving the fact that the owner, who was aware that the driver did not have proper driving licence for which the judgment of the Apex Court in Singh Ram Vs. Nirmala and others, (2018) 3 SCC 800, would apply in full force.

19. The appeal is partly allowed. We request the Tribunal to take up the matter and decide the same for liability as the licence is not filed either before Tribunal or this Court and owner has absented here. The factum of licence will have to be proved by owner/driver of the vehicle in question. The matter may be decided on or before 31.10.2022 as 20 years have already elapsed.

20. The amount once deposited, may be recovered from the owner by the Insurance company as it is proved that the vehicle was insured on the date of the accident. The Tribunal shall decide the issue of liability only which shall be decided after hearing the owner and the Insurance company. The amount once deposited may be disbursed to the claimants as per the judgment in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. v. Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022.

21. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount with interest at the rate of 6% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited within a period of 12 weeks from today. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

22. We, therefore, remand the matter to the Tribunal. The record be sent back to the Tribunal forthwith.

(2022)05ILR A777
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 07.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 1634 of 2010

Pradeep Kumar Bisla ...Appellant
Versus
Balwant Singh & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri R.K. Srivastava Sri Ankur Mehrotra

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri N.K. Srivastava

A. Motor Accident Claim – Standard of proof – Civil or criminal cases, compared with – Held, in motor accident claim petition, the standard of prove is not as strict as in civil or criminal cases – Strict prove of an accident in particular manner may not be possible to be done by the claimants – Claimants have to establish their cases on the touchstone of preponderance of probability. (Para 12 and 13)

B. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Claim – Deceased sustained injuries in accident, subsequently he died during pendency of claim petition – Though the Tribunal found truck driver sole negligent, but denied from awarding compensation for death of the deceased – Legality challenged – Cause of death in Post mortem report is chronic diabetes – Effect – Held, the deceased did not die as a result of injuries sustained in the accident which had taken place before 15 months of his death – High Court found no link of the death of the deceased with the injuries sustained in accident. (Para 14)

C. Motor Accident Claim – Compensation – Loss of estate, when can be granted – Death of claimant during the pendency of claim petition or appeal – Abatement of petition or appeal – Entitlement of legal representative of the deceased – Held, if injured-claimant dies during the pendency of the claim petition or appeal and his/her death is not the result of injuries in the accident, even though the petition or appeal shall not abate and it shall continue by legal representatives but only with regard to the compensation for loss of estate of the deceased – Claims for loss of estate caused, was available to and could be persuade by the legal representative of the deceased in the appeal – High Court found Tribunal's order of brushing aside the medical bills of Yog Dispensary worth Rs. 1,42,500/-, suffered from error and re-computed the compensation with award of 7.5% interest. (Para 15, 17, 18, 21 and 23)

D. Civil Law - Income Tax Act, 1961 – Section 194A (3) (ix) – Withdraw of amount of interest – Certificate of Income Tax authority, when required – Held, if the interest payable to any claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs. 50,000/-, insurance Co./owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 – And if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs. 50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimants to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. (Para 25)

Appeal partly allowed (E-1)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Anita Sharma Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd.; (2021) 1 SCC 171

2. C.M.A. No.1482 of 2017; Reliance General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Subbulakshmi & ors. decided on 27.04.2017

3. The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Kahlon @ Jasmail Singh Kahlon (deceased); LL 2021 SC 382

4. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors. 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

5. Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd.; 2007(2) GLH 291

6. Review Application No. 1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No. 23 of 2001; Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr.

7. First Appeal From Order No. 2871 of 2016; Tej Kumari Sharma Vs Chola Mandlam M.S. General Insurance Co. Ltd. decided on 19.3.2021

8. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs Union of India & ors. decided by Apex Court on 27.01.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and order dated 16.02.2010 passed by Additional District Judge, Court No.10, Ghaziabad/ Motor Accident Claim Tribunal, Ghaziabad in Motor Accident Claim Petition No. 24 of 2005 awarding compensation of Rs.4,10,924/- alongwith 6% interest.

2. The brief facts of the case are that injured (later on deceased) Pradeep Kumar Bisla filed a Motor Accident Claim Petition No. 24 of 2005 before the Tribunal at Ghaziabad for sustaining injuries in road accident. The injured petitioner Pradeep Kumar Bisla died during the pendency of the claim petition.

3. As per averments in claim petition, the deceased was going to J.P. Nagar from Moradabad on 05.11.2004 at about 07:45 a.m. when he reached at village Nepaniya, a truck bearing no. DL 1GB 2087 came from opposite direction, which was being driven rashly and negligently by its driver and hit the car No. DL 3 CZ 5378, in which the deceased was travelling. In this accident the deceased sustained serious injuries and he was admitted in Primary Health Centre Rajabpur from where he was carried to the hospital in Meerut where he was treated for a long time. On 28.01.2006, the injured died during the treatment.

4. Learned Tribunal found that the accident took place due to the sole negligence of driver of the truck and there was no negligence on the part of the deceased but learned Tribunal awarded compensation under the head of medical expenses and non-pecuniary damages. Tribunal denied from awarding any compensation for death of the deceased holding that it could not be proved by the appellants/claimants that the deceased died as a result of injuries sustained in the aforesaid accident.

5. Heard Sri R.K. Srivastava, learned counsel for the appellant, Sri N.K. Srivastava, learned counsel for the respondent and perused the record.

6. The Insurance Company did not challenge the liability to pay the compensation and no cross appeal is filed by the Insurance Company. The accident is also not in dispute. The major issue in this appeal to be decided is whether appellants are entitled to compensation for death of the deceased also alongwith medical expenses etc.

7. Learned counsel for the appellants submitted that in the accident in question, the deceased sustained serious injuries. Just after the accident he was admitted in Primary Health Centre, Rajabpur and from there he was shifted to Lokpriya Hospital, Meerut for better treatment. It is also submitted that the medical papers of the deceased go to show that the deceased sustained several serious injuries and he remained hospitalized for a long time and ultimately he died on 28.01.2006 which was the result of the severe injuries sustained in the accident. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that entire medical record was available before the Tribunal but Tribunal did not appreciated the evidence in right perspective. Copy of post-mortem report is also on record and the employee of Lokpriya Hospital, Meerut was also examined.

8. Per contra, learned counsel for the Insurance Company submitted that appellants failed to prove that the deceased died on account of injuries sustained in the accident, hence, the learned Tribunal has denied compensation for death of the deceased.

9. In reply, learned counsel for the appellant also contended that the Tribunal has awarded Rs.5,000/- which is a very meager amount for special diet and Rs.5,000/- for pain, shock and suffering. It is also submitted that learned Tribunal has awarded loss of income only to the extent of two months salary of the deceased, keeping in view of the fact that he remained hospitalized only for two months. Learned counsel next submitted that the deceased was a Government Employee in the Government of Punjab and he was getting salary near about Rs.30,000 per month. Future loss of income of the deceased is also not considered by the Tribunal.

10. Learned Tribunal has awarded compensation with regard to the medical bills, loss of salary for two months and very meager amount for pain and sufferings and special diet and no compensation was granted with regard to death of the deceased holding that the death was not the result of injuries sustained in the accident.

11. Learned counsel for the appellant made submission that the wife of the deceased has deposed before learned Tribunal that the deceased died due to injuries sustained in the accident but her testimony is not relied by the Tribunal which is wrong appreciation of evidence. On the contrary, learned counsel for the Insurance Company has submitted that it was not proved that the deceased died due to the injuries sustained in accident. In this regard a copy of the post-mortem report is submitted on record by the appellants but this report is not at all readable. Learned Tribunal had given opportunity to appellants to file a legible copy but they failed to do so, hence, ante-mortem injuries and cause of death could not be known by the copy of post-mortem injuries on record, in absence of which it could not be proved that the death occurred due to those injuries which were sustained in a road accident.

12. In motor accident claim petition the standard of prove is not as strict as in civil or criminal cases. In the case of Anita Sharma & others Vs. The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. & Anr. (2021) 1 SCC 171, the Hon'ble Apex Court has held as under:-

"18. Unfortunately, the approach of the High Court was not sensitive enough to appreciate the turn of events at the spot, or the appellant claimants' hardship in tracing witnesses and collecting information for an accident which took place many hundreds of kilometers away in an altogether different State. Close to the facts of the case in hand, this Court in Parmeshwari v. Amir Chand1, viewed that:

(2011) 11 SCC 635 Page | 9 "12. The other ground on which the High Court dismissed the case was by way of disbelieving the testimony of Umed Singh, PW 1. Such disbelief of the High Court is totally conjectural. Umed Singh is not related to the appellant but as a good citizen, Umed Singh extended his help to the appellant by helping her to reach the doctor's chamber in order to ensure that an injured woman gets medical treatment. The evidence of Umed Singh cannot be disbelieved just because he did not file a complaint himself. We are constrained to repeat our observation that the total approach of the High Court, unfortunately, was not sensitised enough to appreciate the plight of the victim.

xxx

15. In a situation of this nature, the Tribunal has rightly taken a holistic view of the matter. It was necessary to be borne in mind that strict proof of an accident caused by a particular bus in a particular manner may not be possible to be done by the claimants. The claimants were merely to establish their case on the touchstone of preponderance of probability. The standard of proof beyond reasonable doubt could not have been applied."

(emphasis supplied)

13. The Division Bench of the Madras High Court in the case of Reliance General Insurance Company Ltd. Vs. Subbulakshmi and others passed in C.M.A. No.1482 of 2017 decided on 27.04.2017 has held that strict prove of an accident in particular manner may not be possible to be done by the claimants but claimants have to establish their cases on the touchstone of preponderance of probability. The standard of prove beyond reasonable doubt cannot be applied.

14. In the case in hand, the learned Tribunal has concluded that the accident in question had taken place due to sole negligence of the truck driver and the deceased was not negligent but we are not convinced with the finding of learned Tribunal with regard to the copy of the post-mortem report that it is not at all legible. We have gone through the record and found that although the copy of post-mortem is not clear yet the cause of death is readable which is chronic diabetes, hence we are convinced that the deceased did not die as a result of injuries sustained in the accident which had taken place before 15 months of his death. Hence, we are convinced that the appellants have failed to link the death of the deceased with the injuries sustained in accident.

15. Now it comes another situation which is more relevant in this particular case. The question arises whether the claim petition or its appeal, as the case may be, shall continue after death of the injured claimant. The answer is in affirmative. If injured-claimant dies during the pendency of the claim petition or appeal and his/her death is not the result of injuries in the accident, even though the petition or appeal shall not abate and it shall continue by legal representatives but only with regard to the compensation for loss of estate of the deceased. The Hon'ble Apex Court has recently in the case of The Oriental Insurance Company Limited Vs. Kahlon @ Jasmail Singh Kahlon (deceased) through his legal representative Narinder Kahlon Gosakan and Another reported in LL 2021 SC 382, has held as under:-

9. The Act is a beneficial and welfare legislation. Section 166(1)(a) of the Act provides for a statutory claim for compensation arising out of an accident by the person who has sustained the injury. Under Clause (b), compensation is payable to the owner of the property. In case of death, the legal representatives of the deceased can pursue the claim. Property, under the Act, will have a much wider connotation than the conventional definition. If the legal heirs can pursue claims in case of death, we see no reason why the legal representatives cannot pursue claims for loss of property akin to estate of the injured if he is deceased subsequently for reasons other than attributable to the accident or injuries under Clause 1(c) of Section 166. Such a claim would be completely distinct from personal injuries to the claimant and which may not be the cause of death. Such claims of personal injuries would undoubtedly abate with the death of the injured. What would the loss of estate mean and what items would be covered by it are issues which has to engage our attention. The appellant has a statutory obligation to pay compensation in motor accident claim cases. This obligation cannot be evaded behind the defence that it was available only for personal injuries and abates on his death irrespective of the loss caused to the estate of the deceased because of the injuries.

10. In Umed Chand (supra), giving a broad liberal interpretation to the provisions of the Act so that legal representatives do not suffer injustice, it was observed that the claim for personal injuries will not survive on death of the injured unrelated to the accident but the legal representatives could pursue the claim for enhancement of the claim for loss of the estate which would include expenditure on medical expenses, travelling, attendant, diet, doctor's fee and reasonable monthly annual accretion to the estate for a certain period. It is trite that the income which a person derives compositely forms part of the expenditure on himself, his family and the savings go to the estate. The unforeseen expenses as aforesaid naturally have to be met from the estate causing pecuniary loss to the estate."

The Apex Court in the aforesaid case has further held as follows:-

"14. This view has subsequently been followed in a decision authored by brother Justice M.R. Shah J., (as he then was) in Madhuben Maheshbhai Patel vs. Joseph Francis Mewan and Others, 2015 (2) GLH 499*, holding as follows:*

"12....Considering the aforesaid decision of the Division Bench of this Court in the case of Surpal Singh Ladhubha Gohil (supra); decisions of the learned Single Judge of this Court in the case of Jenabai Widow of Abdul Karim Musa (supra) and in the case of Amrishkumar Vinodbhai (supra); and aforesaid two decisions of the learned Single Judge of the Rajasthan High Court, we are of the opinion that maxim "actio personalis moritur cum persona" on which Section 306 of the Indian Evidence Act (sic Indian Succession Act) is based cannot have an applicability in all actions even in an case of personal injuries where damages flows from the head or under the head of loss to the estate.

Therefore, even after the death of the injured claimant, claim petition does not abate and right to sue survive to his heirs and legal representatives in so far as loss to the estate is concerned, which would include personal expenses incurred on the treatment and other claim related to loss to the estate. Under the circumstances, the issue referred to the Division Bench is answered accordingly. Consequently, it is held that no error has been committed by the learned Tribunal in permitting the heirs to be brought on record of the claim petition and permitting the heirs of the injured claimant who died subsequently to proceed further with the claim petition. However, the claim petition and even appeal for enhancement would be confine to the claim for the loss to the estate as observed hereinabove."

15. Similar view has been taken by the Punjab & Haryana High Court in Joti Ram vs. Chamanlal, AIR 1985 P&H 2 and the Madras High Court in Thailammai vs. A.V. Mallayya Pillai, 1991 ACJ 185 (Mad).

16. The view taken in Kanamma (supra) and Uttam Kumar (supra) that the claim would abate is based on a narrow interpretation of the Act which does not commend to us. The reasoning of the Gujarat High Court is more in consonance with aim, purpose and spirit of the Act and furthers its real intent and purpose which we therefore approve."

16. In the aforesaid case, lastly the Hon'ble Apex Court has clarified what to be calculated in loss of estate, which is as follows:-

"20. We see no reason to deviate from the consistent judicial view taken by more than one High Court that loss of estate would include expenditure on medicines, treatment, diet, attendant, Doctor's fee, etc. including income and future prospects which would have caused reasonable accretion to the estate but for the sudden expenditure which had to be met from and depleted the estate of the injured, subsequently deceased.

21. However, the compensation under the head pain and suffering being personal injuries is held to be unsustainable and is disallowed."

17. Hence, in such type of case, as in our hand the settled law is that while the claim for personal injury may not have survived after the death of the injured unrelated to the accident or injuries, during the pendency of the appeal, but the claims for loss of estate caused, was available to and could be persuade by the legal representative of the deceased in the appeal.

18. Hence, we are of the considered opinion that the appellants shall be entitled only with regard to the compensation for loss of estate of the deceased. The impugned judgment goes to show that the appellants were awarded Rs.3,46,270/- for medical bills but the learned Tribunal has denied the medical bills for Rs.1,42,500/- which pertains to Yog Dispensary. In this regard, it is concluded by the Tribunal that it is not mentioned in claim petition that deceased was ever admitted to Yog Dispensary and the name of the doctor Amit Talyan is also not mentioned in claim petition in the panel of doctors who treated the injured/deceased. On this basis, the Tribunal has denied the medical bills pertaining to Yog Dispensary. We have gone through the records and found that the bills pertaining to Yog Dispensary are prepared on the printed bill book having serial numbers and each bill has name of the patient and name of the concerned doctor, hence, these bills could not be thrown away in such a causal manner. Learned Tribunal did so. It is pertinent to mention that the Insurance Company never prayed to the Tribunal to summon the owner/proprietor of dispensary to summon as a witness. If these bills were fake, it was the burden on the shoulders of the Insurance Company to get the proprietary of Yog Dispensary summoned or he could be summoned by the Tribunal as a Court witness and could have been put to cross examination but no such exercise is done either by Insurance Company or Tribunal itself. Hence, the Tribunal has fallen in error in brushing aside the medical bills of Yog Dispensary worth Rs.1,42,500/-, hence, we hold that the appellants shall also be entitled to get Rs.1,42,500/- for medical expenses which come under the head of loss of a estate as per the judgment in the case of Kahlon @ Jasmail Singh Kahlon (supra). The Tribunal has awarded only Rs.5,000/- for special diet which we enhance to Rs.25,000/-. The Tribunal has not awarded any amount under non-pecuniary heads except for special diet. The family members would have cared of the deceased for 15 months and for attending charges, we award lump sum Rs.1/- lac to the family members.

19. However, the compensation under the head of pain and suffering being personal injuries is held to be unsustainable and is disallowed by Hon'ble Apex Court in the aforesaid judgment in the case of Kahlon @ Jasmail Singh Kahlon (supra), hence, the appellant shall not be entitled to the compensation under the head of pain and suffering i.e. Rs.5,000/-. The decision in Kahlon @ Jasmail Singh Kahlon (supra) would be applicable but in our case the situation is that the deceased suffered for 15 months consistently, subjected to hospitalization in several hospitals which would have caused the trauma to the family members. Once, we hold that the driver of the truck was liable for the tortious act, the amount for agony and anguish will have to be awarded, we award lump sum of Rs.1/- lac under the non-pecuniary heads.

20. It is as per the reasoning given herein above unfortunately the claimants did not file any disability certificate of the deceased which he would have incurred during the period of his ailment. The medical certificate which we have perused, go to show that there were three injuries and fracture which would bring about some kind of permanent disability, when he was a government employee, and therefore, over and above, the loss of income for two months a lump sum amount of Rs.50,000/- under the loss to the estate even under principle of injuries resulting into ailment, is granted.

21. On the basis of the above discussion, we recalculate the amount of compensation payable to the appellants as under:-

(i). Amount awarded by Tribunal= Rs.4,10,924/-,

(ii). Deduction of amount under the head of pain and suffering= Rs.5,000/-,

(iii). Remaining amount= Rs.4,05,924/-,

(iv). Enhanced amount for special diet= Rs.20,000/-,

(v). Medical bills of Yog Dispensary(etc)= Rs.1,42,500/-,

(vi). Attending charges= Rs.1,00,000/-

(vii). Amount under non-pecuniary head= Rs.1,00,000/-

(viii). Loss of estate= Rs.50,000/-)

(ix). Total amount of compensation payable= Rs.4,05,924+1,42,500+20,000+1,00,000+1,00,000+50,000/-=Rs.8,18,424/-.

(Round Figure Rs.8,18,000/-).

22. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under:

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

23. Learned Tribunal has awarded rate of interest as 7% per annum but we are fixing the rate of interest as 7.5% in the light of the above judgment.

24. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and award passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-National Insurance Company Ltd. (Insurance Company) shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

25. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007 (2) GLH 291 and this High Court in total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimants to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) and in First Appeal From Order No.2871 of 2016 (Tej Kumari Sharma v. Chola Mandlam M.S. General Insurance Co. Ltd.) decided on 19.3.2021 while disbursing the amount.

26. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Hon'ble Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Pvt. Ltd. Vs. Union of India and Others, vide order dated 27.01.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. Since long time has elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Bank Account of claimant(s) in a nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

(2022)05ILR A785
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 08.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 1741 of 2002
With
First Appeal From Order No. 2127 of 2021

Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd., Allahabad
...Appellant
Versus
Shyam Babu Kesarwani & Anr.
...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Ramesh Singh, Sri K.L. Grover

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri S.K. Srivastava, Sri D.S. Shukla, Sri Devi Shanker Shukla Sri Sushil Kumar Srivastava

A. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - negligence of minor child - daughter of the claimant, died on account of rash and negligent driving by the truck driver of truck - deceased was 5 years of age - Held - even under the Indian Penal Code, a child cannot be held guilty till the age of 7 years – In the instant case the minor was on the extreme left and playing with other children - There was nothing to show that the boy tried to go across the path of the vehicle – the very fact that the vehicle dashed with the child is a factor which goes to show that the driver was responsible for the accident and the death of the boy - minor child has not contributed to the accident - driver who is the best witness did not even appear before the tribunal also considered against the driver of offending vehicle - issue decided against the Insurance Company - a sum of Rs.2,25,000/- with interest would be payable (Para 19, 20, 25)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Kishan Gopal & anr. Vs Lala & ors., 2013 (101) ALR 281 (SC)

2. Manju Devi's case, 2005 (1) TAC 609 (SC)

3. United India Insurance Co. Ltd.. Vs. Mumtaz Ahmad & anr 2017 (2) AICC 1229

4. U.P.S.R.T.C. Vs. Km. Mamta AIR 2016 (SC) 948

5. Rylands Vs Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330

6. Jacob Mathew Vs St. of Pun., 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840

7. Archit Saini & anr. Vs Oriental Insurance Comp. Ltd., AIR 2018 SC 1143

8. Darshan Singh Vs Vimal Rani, (1998) 1 SCC 265 (ALL) (DB)

9. New India Assurance Co. Ltd. Vs Sita Ram Kevidayal Jaiswal, 2012 (2) AllMR 429, 2012 (2) MahLJ 710, 2012 (2) TAC 156

10. Machindranath Kernath Vs D.S. Mylarappa, 2008 ACJ 1964

11. Oriental Insurance Comp. Ltd. Vs Poonam Kesarwani & ors., 2008 LawSuit (All) 1557

12. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal & ors., 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705

13. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Comp. Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Sri Ramesh Singh, learned counsel for the insurance company; Shri Anurag Shukla appearing for Shri Devi Shanker Shukla, learned counsel for the claimants; and perused the record and award.

2. Appeal No.2127 of 2021, at the behest of the claimant, challenges the judgment and award dated 15.7.2002 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/ Special Judge, E.C. Act, Allahabad (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in Motor Accident Claim Petition No.160 of 2001 awarding a sum of Rs.65,000/- with interest at the rate of 8.5% as compensation. The appellant has questioned the compensation granted.

3. Appeal No.1741 of 2002 is by Insurance company challenging the award on several grounds; (i) driver of vehicle involved not joined as party; (ii) licence of driver of vehicle insured was fake as first licence was found fake but there were two licences the tribunal negatived this objection; and (iii) the case is of Contributory negligence and issue of negligence has been wrongly decided.

4. While issuing notice, this Court had called for the record of the tribunal. Section 173 in The Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 reads is as follows:

173. Appeals.--

(1) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (2) any person aggrieved by an award of a Claims Tribunal may, within ninety days from the date of the award, prefer an appeal to the High Court: Provided that no appeal by the person who is required to pay any amount in terms of such award shall be entertained by the High Court unless he has deposited with it twenty-five thousand rupees or fifty per cent. of the amount so awarded, whichever is less, in the manner directed by the High Court: Provided further that the High Court may entertain the appeal after the expiry of the said period of ninety days, if it is satisfied that the appellant was prevented by sufficient cause from preferring the appeal in time.

(2) No appeal shall lie against any award of a Claims Tribunal if the amount in dispute in the appeal is less than ten thousand rupees."

5. The brief facts of the case in a nutshell are that Km. Pooja daughter of Shyam Babu Kesarwani, died on account of rash and negligent driving by the truck driver of truck number MP 17 C 0034 on 16th February, 2001 at about 6 p.m.. The unfortunate death of Km. Pooja was the result of rash and negligent driving by the truck driver and the first information report was lodged as case crime no.15 of 2001. The claimant/respondent is the father of the deceased, and since at the time of death age of the deceased was 5 years of age. The claimant filed claim petition for claiming compensation of Rs.2,10,000/- before the Motor Accident Tribunal. The owner of the vehicle contested the case but admitted that he is the registered owner. The owner took plea that the vehicle was duly insured with the Oriental Insurance Company and the driver was driving the vehicle with a valid licence.

6. There is no dispute regarding involvement of vehicle. The injuries caused death is not disputed. Except the three issues which are posed for adjudicating the rest of the findings of the tribunal in the award have attained finality and therefore not discussed.

7. F.A.F.O No. - 2127 of 2021 was filed in 2003 delay was condoned in the year 2021. This is a claimants' appeal claiming enhancement for the death of child who was 5 years of age at the time of death. Learned counsel for the appellant has relied on the decisions of this Court and Apex Court in Kishan Gopal and another v. Lala and others, 2013 (101) ALR 281 (SC) and Manju Devi's case, 2005 (1) TAC 609 (SC) interpreted and by this Court in its recent decision of this Court in United India Insurance Company Limited. Vs. Mumtaz Ahmad and Another, 2017 (2) AICC 1229 wherein this Court held as follows:

"6. Sri Ram Singh has heavily relied on the decision in the case of Kishan Gopal and another v. Lala and others, 2013 (101) ALR 281 (SC) = 2013 (131) AIC 219 = 2014 (1) AICC 208 (SC) and Manju Devi's case, 2005 (1) TAC 609 = 2005 AICC 208 (SC). It goes without saying the notional figure fixed by the Apex Court since Manju Devi's judgment has been consistently Rs.2,25,000 for children below the age of 15 years. I think that is just and proper and hence, the amount requires to be enhanced from Rs.1,57,000 to Rs.2,25,000 with 6% be recovered from the owner. The appeal is partly allowed. The cross-objection is also partly allowed."

8. The learned counsel contended that even in the year of accident the amount payable would be Rs.5,00,000/- (Rupees Five Lacs Only) as per decision of the Apex Court in Kishan Gopal (Supra).

9. F.A.F.O. No.1741 of 2002: this appeal is preferred by Insurance Company and the challenge is on five grounds, (i) that the claim petition was bad for non - joinder of necessary parties as the driver was not made party in this claim petition; (ii) that the driving licence which was given by the owner of the driver of vehicle involved, after verification by insurance company was found fake, but the learned tribunal did not consider this evidence which was a public document and admissible under the Evidence Act, without examining the authority concerned; and comitted material illegally in awarding; and committed material illegality in awarding compensation directing the appellant company to indemnity the owner for acts of his driver; (iii) it is submitted that the vehicle insured was being plied against the Insurance Policy and the appellant Company was not liable to pay any compensation; but the learned tribunal fastened the liability against the appellant company though the claim petition was liable to be dismissed; (iv) It is further submitted that the learned tribunal erroneously drew inference that the second driving licence was not verified by the opposite party (appellant company) and presumed that the driving was having a valid licence and passed the award against the appellant company in violation of section 6 of the Motor Vehicles Act; and (v) the accident occurred due to contributory negligence on the part of the deceased, was playing on the road, but the learned tribunal without considering the case on facts and law, awarded compensation on the higher side against the appellant company in breach of established principles of law.

10. The claimant is aggrieved by the compensation awarded, where as the Insurance Company has raised several grounds for challenging the said award. In light of the judgment of the Apex Court reported in U.P.S.R.T.C. Vs. Km. Mamta AIR 2016 (SC) 948, all the issues raised have to be decided by this Court under Section 173 of the Motor Vehicles Act.

11. In view of the submission made by both the counsels as far as negligence is concerned this court will have to decide the issue of negligence. It would be relevant to discuss the principles for deciding negligence and to decide whether it is a case of contributory negligence and whether the minor child can contribute to the accident having taken place which will also have to be looked into.

12. The principles enunciated for considering the same in a motor accident claim will be sifted and discussed finding on negligence.

13. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care expected of a prudent person. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence, it is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one, it is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen and likely to cause physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of parties to accident is required to be assessed.

14. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another person/vehicle was at what speed was either then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently and the driver can be held to be the author of the unforseen incident.

15. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330, from the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown.

16. In light of the above discussion, even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (reference to Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840) would be necessary.

17. The negligent act must contribute to the accident having taken place. The Apex Court recently has considered the principles of negligence in case of Archit Saini and Another v. Oriental Insurance Company Limited, AIR 2018 SC 1143.

18. The burden of proof would ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle driven by the driver was being driven with reasonable care or it is proved that there is equal negligence on the part the other side in causing the accident.

19. Contention of learned counsel for the insurance company qua negligence of minor child as pleaded by the appellants is required to the rejected as even under the Indian Penal Code, a child cannot be held guilty till the age of 7 years. In our case, the law is very clear that the factors which are necessary for consideration of negligence against insurance company. The minor was on the extreme left and playing with other children. There was nothing to show that the boy tried to go across the path of the vehicle suddenly just because it is mentioned that the vehicle was being driven slowly the same has not been proved that the driver was not rash and negligent. The very fact that the vehicle dashed with the child is a factor which goes to show that the driver was responsible for the accident and the death of the boy. This Court is fortified in its view by the Division Bench of this Court in Darshan Singh v. Vimal Rani, (1998) 1 SCC 265 (ALL) (DB).

20. The finding of the tribunal is also very important and this Court concurs with the said finding, the reason being the minor child was not found to have contributed to the accident having taken place and, therefore, this issue is also decided against the Insurance Company. The fact that the driver who is the best witness did not even appear before the tribunal is also considered against the driver of offending vehicle.

Breach of Policy

21. Sections 147, 148 and 149 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 reads are as follows:-

"147 Requirements of policies and limits of liability. --

(1) In order to comply with the requirements of this Chapter, a policy of insurance must be a policy which--

(a) is issued by a person who is an authorised insurer; and

(b) insures the person or classes of persons specified in the policy to the extent specified in sub-section (2)--

(i) against any liability which may be incurred by him in respect of the death of or bodily 27 [injury to any person, including owner of the goods or his authorised representative carried in the vehicle] or damage to any property of a third party caused by or arising out of the use of the vehicle in a public place;

(ii) against the death of or bodily injury to any passenger of a public service vehicle caused by or arising out of the use of the vehicle in a public place:

Provided that a policy shall not be required--

(i) to cover liability in respect of the death, arising out of and in the course of his employment, of the employee of a person insured by the policy or in respect of bodily injury sustained by such an employee arising out of and in the course of his employment other than a liability arising under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923 (8 of 1923) in respect of the death of, or bodily injury to, any such employee--

(a) engaged in driving the vehicle, or

(b) if it is a public service vehicle engaged as conductor of the vehicle or in examining tickets on the vehicle, or

(c) if it is a goods carriage, being carried in the vehicle, or

(ii) to cover any contractual liability.

Explanation. --For the removal of doubts, it is hereby declared that the death of or bodily injury to any person or damage to any property of a third party shall be deemed to have been caused by or to have arisen out of, the use of a vehicle in a public place notwithstanding that the person who is dead or injured or the property which is damaged was not in a public place at the time of the accident, if the act or omission which led to the accident occurred in a public place.

(2) Subject to the proviso to sub-section (1), a policy of insurance referred to in sub-section (1), shall cover any liability incurred in respect of any accident, up to the following limits, namely:--

(a) save as provided in clause (b), the amount of liability incurred;

(b) in respect of damage to any property of a third party, a limit of rupees six thousand:

Provided that any policy of insurance issued with any limited liability and in force, immediately before the commencement of this Act, shall continue to be effective for a period of four months after such commencement or till the date of expiry of such policy whichever is earlier.

(3) A policy shall be of no effect for the purposes of this Chapter unless and until there is issued by the insurer in favour of the person by whom the policy is effected a certificate of insurance in the prescribed form and containing the prescribed particulars of any condition subject to which the policy is issued and of any other prescribed matters; and different forms, particulars and matters may be prescribed in different cases.

(4) Where a cover note issued by the insurer under the provisions of this Chapter or the rules made thereunder is not followed by a policy of insurance within the prescribed time, the insurer shall, within seven days of the expiry of the period of the validity of the cover note, notify the fact to the registering authority in whose records the vehicle to which the cover note relates has been registered or to such other authority as the State Government may prescribe.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in any law for the time being in force, an insurer issuing a policy of insurance under this section shall be liable to indemnify the person or classes of persons specified in the policy in respect of any liability which the policy purports to cover in the case of that person or those classes of persons.

Section 148 in The Motor Vehicles Act, 1988

148. Validity of policies of insurance issued in reciprocating countries.--Where, in pursuance of an arrangement between India and any reciprocating country, the motor vehicle registered in the reciprocating country operates on any route or within any area common to the two countries and there is in force in relation to the use of the vehicle in the reciprocating country, a policy of insurance complying with the requirements of the law of insurance in force in that country, then, notwithstanding anything contained in section 147 but subject to any rules which may be made under section 164, such policy of insurance shall be effective throughout the route or area in respect of which, the arrangement has been made, as if the policy of insurance had complied with the requirements of this Chapter.

Section 149 in The Motor Vehicles Act, 1988

149. Duty of insurers to satisfy judgments and awards against persons insured in respect of third party risks.--

(1) If, after a certificate of insurance has been issued under sub-section (3) of section 147 in favour of the person by whom a policy has been effected, judgment or award in respect of any such liability as is required to be covered by a policy under clause (b) of sub-section (l) of section 147 (being a liability covered by the terms of the policy) 1[or under the provisions of section 163A] is obtained against any person insured by the policy, then, notwithstanding that the insurer may be entitled to avoid or cancel or may have avoided or cancelled the policy, the insurer shall, subject to the provisions of this section, pay to the person entitled to the benefit of the decree any sum not exceeding the sum assured payable thereunder, as if he were the judgment debtor, in respect of the liability, together with any amount payable in respect of costs and any sum payable in respect of interest on that sum by virtue of any enactment relating to interest on judgments.

(2) No sum shall be payable by an insurer under sub-section (1) in respect of any judgment or award unless, before the commencement of the proceedings in which the judgment or award is given the insurer had notice through the Court or, as the case may be, the Claims Tribunal of the bringing of the proceedings, or in respect of such judgment or award so long as execution is stayed thereon pending an appeal; and an insurer to whom notice of the bringing of any such proceedings is so given shall be entitled to be made a party thereto and to defend the action on any of the following grounds, namely:--

(a) that there has been a breach of a specified condition of the policy, being one of the following conditions, namely:--

(i) a condition excluding the use of the vehicle--

(a) for hire or reward, where the vehicle is on the date of the contract of insurance a vehicle not covered by a permit to ply for hire or reward, or

(b) for organised racing and speed testing, or

(c) for a purpose not allowed by the permit under which the vehicle is used, where the vehicle is a transport vehicle, or

(d) without side-car being attached where the vehicle is a motor cycle; or

(ii) a condition excluding driving by a named person or persons or by any person who is not duly licensed, or by any person who has been disqualified for holding or obtaining a driving licence during the period of disqualification; or

(iii) a condition excluding liability for injury caused or contributed to by conditions of war, civil war, riot or civil commotion; or

(b) that the policy is void on the ground that it was obtained by the non-disclosure of a material fact or by a representation of fact which was false in some material particular.

(3) Where any such judgment as is referred to in sub-section (1) is obtained from a Court in a reciprocating country and in the case of a foreign judgment is, by virtue of the provisions of section 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (5 of 1908) conclusive as to any matter adjudicated upon by it, the insurer (being an insurer registered under the Insurance Act, 1938 (4 of 1938) and whether or not he is registered under the corresponding law of the reciprocating country) shall be liable to the person entitled to the benefit of the decree in the manner and to the extent specified in sub-section (1), as if the judgment were given by a Court in India: Provided that no sum shall be payable by the insurer in respect of any such judgment unless, before the commencement of the proceedings in which the judgment is given, the insurer had notice through the Court concerned of the bringing of the proceedings and the insurer to whom notice is so given is entitled under the corresponding law of the reciprocating country, to be made a party to the proceedings and to defend the action on grounds similar to those specified in sub-section (2).

(4) Where a certificate of insurance has been issued under sub-section (3) of section 147 to the person by whom a policy has been effected, so much of the policy as purports to restrict the insurance of the persons insured thereby by reference to any condition other than those in clause (b) of sub-section (2) shall, as respects such liabilities as are required to be covered by a policy under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 147, be of no effect: Provided that any sum paid by the insurer in or towards the discharge of any liability of any person which is covered by the policy by virtue only of this sub-section shall be recoverable by the insurer from that person.

(5) If the amount which an insurer becomes liable under this section to pay in respect of a liability incurred by a person insured by a policy exceeds the amount for which the insurer would apart from the provisions of this section be liable under the policy in respect of that liability, the insurer shall be entitled to recover the excess from that person.

(6) In this section the expression "material fact" and "material particular" means, respectively a fact or particular of such a nature as to influence the judgment of a prudent insurer in determining whether he will take the risk and, if so, at what premium and on what conditions, and the expression "liability covered by the terms of the policy" means a liability which is covered by the policy or which would be so covered but for the fact that the insurer is entitled to avoid or cancel or has avoided or cancelled the policy.

(7) No insurer to whom the notice referred to in sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) has been given shall be entitled to avoid his liability to any person entitled to the benefit of any such judgment or award as is referred to in sub-section (1) or in such judgment as is referred to in sub-section (3) otherwise than in the manner provided for in sub-section (2) or in the corresponding law of the reciprocating country, as the case may be. Explanation.--For the purposes of this section, "Claims Tribunal" means a Claims Tribunal constituted under section 165 and "award" means an award made by that Tribunal under section 168."

22. The provision of Section 158 (6) will also apply for the benefit of the claimants. The decision in First Appeal From Order No.1731 of 2010 dated 21.11.2011 in the case of New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Sita Ram Kevidayal Jaiswal, 2012 (2) AllMR 429, 2012 (2) MahLJ 710, 2012 (2) TAC 156 will enure for the benefit of the claimants.

23. It is contended that the driver was not joined and, therefore, the claim petition should have been dismissed. The said issue is not longer res integra in case of Machindranath Kernath v. D.S. Mylarappa, 2008 ACJ 1964, the said issue has been decided.

24. In the light of the judgment in Oriental Insurance Company Limited v. Poonam Kesarwani and others, 2008 LawSuit (All) 1557, when it was not proved by the Insurance Company that there was breach of policy conditions, the appeal cannot succeed.

25. As far as the amount of compensation for the death of five years old child is concerned, the judgment of Kisan Gopal (Supra) has been interpreted and distinguished by this Court and, therefore, a sum of Rs.2,25,000/- with interest would be payable.

26. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, the rate of interest on awarded amount of Rs.65,000/- at the rate of 8.5% can be found fault with as repo rate in the year of 2001 and when the matter was decided was considered and therefore rate of interest 8.5% cannot be found fault. It should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National 7 Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same

had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

27. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. v. Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As 10 years have elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

28. Hence the appeal preferred by the insurance company being devoid of merits and is dismissed and the appeal preferred by the claimant is partly allowed. Hence, the respondent-insurance company would deposit a sum of (Rs.2,25,000 - Rs.65,000) = Rs.1,60,000/- with interest at the rate of 7.5%. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The Insurance Company shall deposit the additional amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% on additional amount from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

29. This Court is thankful to learned counsels for the parities for getting these very old matters disposed off.

30. The record be sent back to the Court below, if any.

(2022)05ILR A794
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 29.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 1998 of 2021

Smt. Kamini Singh & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Raj Kumar Pandey & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Ashok Kumar Singh, Sri Gaurav Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Ajay Singh, Sri Shashi Kant Rai

A. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - Income - income of the deceased was Rs.3,26,856 - Out of which, the Tribunal deducted House Rent Allowance of Rs. 8040 and Income Tax of Rs. 6882 - Held - deduction of House Rent Allowance could not have been done and the only deduction permissible from the salary of the deceased is income tax - out of Rs.3,26,856 only Income Tax of Rs.6882 would be deducted therefore, the income for the purpose of computing compensation would be Rs.3,26,856 - 6882 = 3,19,974/- per annum (Para 19)

B. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - Future Loss of Income - Tribunal not granted any amount towards future loss of income by assigning reason that father of the deceased is a retired government servant and is getting pension, therefore, he has not been dependent on the deceased, the mother of the deceased-has been dependent on the father of the deceased and the widow would have been appointed on compassionate ground - Held - beneficial legislation could not have been dealt with in such a manner - compassionate appointment cannot be a ground for denial of future prospect as the salary which the widow would get, would be for the services which she renders - amount of pension cannot be deducted - 50% of the amount would be added towards future loss of income as the deceased was 30 years of age (Para 6, 13, 16, 19)

C. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - Annual Income : 3,19,974 - Percentage towards future prospects : 50% namely Rs.1,59,987 - Total income : Rs.3,19,974/- + Rs.1,59,987 = Rs.4,79,961 - Income after deduction of 1/3rd : Rs.3,19,974 - deceased being in the age bracket of 26-30, the multiplier applicable would be 17 - Loss of dependency: Rs.3,19,974. x 17 = Rs.54,39,558 - deceased left behind him his widow and two minor children, addition of Rs.40,000 towards spousal consortium and Rs.50,000 each to the minor children who lost their father at very prime age therefore Amount under non-pecuniary head : Rs.40,000 + 50,000 + 50,000 = Rs.1,40,000 - Total compensation :55,79,558 - issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% - amount be deposited within 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited (Para 19)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Vimal Kanwar & ors. Vs Kishore Dan & ors., 2013 (3) T.A.C. 6 (S.C.)

2. Montford Brothers of St. Gabriel & anr. Vs United India Insurance Co. & anr. Civil Appeal No. 3269-3270 of 2007 dt 28.1.2014

3. Sarla Verma & ors. Vs Delhi Transport Corporation & anr., 2009 LawSuit (SC) 613

4. Sunita Devi Vs Vimal Dwivedi, 2013 (3) TAC 844

5. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Rekhaben & ors., AIR 2017 SC 2580

6. Hem Raj Vs Oriental Insurance Co.Ltd., (2018) 15 SCC 654

7. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors., 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093

8. Sureshchandra Bagmal Doshi Vs The New India Assurance Co. Ltd., AIR 2018 SC 2088

9. K.R. Madhusudan & ors. Vs Administrative Officer & anr, (2011) 4 SCC 689

10. N. Jayasree Vs Cholamandalam M/s General Insurance Co. Ltd., AIR 2021 SC 5218

11. Puttamma Vs K.L. Narayana Reddy, 2013 (15) SCC 45

12. Tamil Nadu State Transport Corp.Ltd. Vs S. Rajapriya, 2005 (0) AIJEL - SC 31621

13. Managing Director, Tamil Nadu State Transport Corp. Vs K.I. Bindu, 2005 (0) AIJEL-SC 35930

14. Syed Basheer Ahamed & ors. Vs Mohd. Jameel and SC, 2009 ACJ 690 (SC)

15. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors., 2019 (2) T.A.C.

16. A.Vs Padma Vs Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442

17. Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291

18. Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr. Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001

19. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. Vs U.O.I. & ors. vide dated 27.1.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Sri Ashok Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the appellant, Sri Ajay Singh, learned counsel for the respondent-Insurance Company and Sri Shashi Kant Rai, learned counsel for owner and driver of the offending vehicle.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 30.1.2017 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.1, Gorakhpur (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in Claim Petition No. 626 of 2013 awarding a sum of Rs.27,12,928/- as compensation with interest at the rate of 7% per annum.

3. The accident is not in dispute. The issue of negligence decided by the Tribunal is also not in dispute. The Tribunal has held that it is proved that vehicle was insured and there was no breach of policy and Insurance Company has accepted the findings as far as their liability is concerned. The only issue to be decided is the quantum of compensation awarded.

4. The accident took place on 10.10.2013. The deceased was 30 years of age, he was a Teacher in Bitaha Primary School and was earning Rs.27,238/- per month. The Tribunal considered his annual income to be Rs.3,11,934 after deducting income tax and house rent allowance from the salary. The Tribunal deducted 1/3rd towards personal expenses of the deceased, granted multiplier of 13 and awarded Rs.9,500/- towards non pecuniary damages.

5. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that deduction of House Rent Allowance could not have been made and has relied on the decision in Vimal Kanwar and Others Vs. Kishore Dan and others, 2013 (3) T.A.C. 6 (S.C.).

6. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the Tribunal has not granted any amount towards future loss of income by assigning reason that Guru Narain Singh, father of the deceased, is a retired government servant and is getting pension, therefore, he has not been dependent on the deceased, the mother of the deceased-has been dependent on the father of the deceased and the widow would have been appointed on compassionate ground.

7. Learned counsel for the appellant has also relied on the decision in Civil Appeal No. 3269-3270 of 2007 (Montford Brothers of St. Gabriel and Another vs. United India Insurance Co. & Anr,) decided on 28.1.2014.

8. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the Tribunal has lost sight of the decision of the Apex Court in Sarla Verma and others Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and Another, 2009 LawSuit (SC) 613 and subsequent judgment and has granted only Rs.9500/- towards non pecuniary damages which is on the lower side and requires to be enhanced in view of the decision of the Apex Court.

9. It is lastly submitted that the interest awarded by the Tribunal is on the lower side and it should be as per the repo rate prevailing.

10. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondent has submitted that the compensation assessed by the Tribunal is just and proper and does not call for any interference of this Court as the widow was given compassionate appointment and the father of the deceased was also getting pension. It is further submitted that the interest awarded by the Tribunal is just and does not require any enhancement.

11. The judgments on which the Tribunal has relied to grant lesser multiplier cannot be said to be laying down the law of just compensation. The said judgments stand eclipsed by the later judgments which should have been looked into by the Tribunal in the over zeal to hold reasonable compensation.

12. Reasonable compensation cannot be what the learned Judge/Tribunal feels, it has to be just compensation as per the principle of assessment. The decision in Sunita Devi v. Vimal Dwivedi, 2013 (3) TAC 844 has already been eclipsed by the decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Rekhaben & Others, AIR 2017 SC 2580 and also the amount of pension cannot be deducted.

13. The judgment and award passed by the Tribunal cannot be said to be laying down proper law. It is based on surmises and on notion of the learned Judge that the family should be given what is reasonable according to him and, that is how, he has negatived the future loss of income giving reason that the father was a pensioner and not dependent on the deceased, the mother was dependent on the father and the widow could get compassionate appointment and would get pension.

14. The Apex Court in Hem Raj v. Oriental Insurance Company Limited, (2018) 15 SCC 654 has found merit in the submission that the view taken in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Pranay Sethi and others, 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093 has no bar to grant future prospects over and above the thumb rule where the evidence on record would warrant that the increase was actual and the evidence led should be so that future prospects was higher than the standard percentage. In that case, the Court can award higher compensation. The decision in Sureshchandra Bagmal Doshi vs The New India Assurance Co. Ltd., AIR 2018 SC 2088 also would permit us to take a different view then that taken by the Tribunal. The judgment in K.R. Madhusudan & Others v. Administrative Officer & Anr, (2011) 4 SCC 689 has not been considered by the Apex Court while deciding this controversy. The said judgment has also been referred by the Apex Court in N. Jayasree vs. Cholamandalam M/s General Insurance Co. Ltd., AIR 2021 SC 5218 & Puttamma v. K.L. Narayana Reddy, 2013 (15) SCC 45 which will apply.

15. It is also pertinent here to discuss Section 166 of Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 which reads as under:

166. Application for compensation.--

(1) An application for compensation arising out of an accident of the nature specified in sub-section (1) of section 165 may be made--

(a) by the person who has sustained the injury; or

(b) by the owner of the property; or

(c) where death has resulted from the accident, by all or any of the legal representatives of the deceased; or

(d) by any agent duly authorised by the person injured or all or any of the legal representatives of the deceased, as the case may be: Provided that where all the legal represe0.ntatives of the deceased have not joined in any such application for compensation, the application shall be made on behalf of or for the benefit of all the legal representatives of the deceased and the legal representatives who have not so joined, shall be impleaded as respondents to the application. 1[(2) Every application under sub-section (1) shall be made, at the option of the claimant, either to the Claims Tribunal having jurisdiction over the area in which the accident occurred, or to the Claims Tribunal within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the claimant resides or carries on business or within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the defendant resides, and shall be in such form and contain such particulars as may be prescribed: Provided that where no claim for compensation under section 140 is made in such application, the application shall contain a separate statement to that effect immediately before the signature of the applicant.] 2[] 3[(4) The Claims Tribunal shall treat any report of accidents forwarded to it under sub-section (6) of section 158 as an application for compensation under this Act.]

16. According to this Section father is Class II heir and widow, minor children and mother of the deceased come under Class I heirship. The reasoning given by the Tribunal to not to award future prospect and decreasing the multiplier to 13 are not germane. We would not say that the reasonings are absurd but the matter under beneficial legislation could not have been dealt with in such a manner. The Tribunal has granted multiplier of 13. It has lost sight of the fact that the deceased left behind him also his widow and two minor children. The compassionate appointment cannot be a ground for denial of future prospect as the salary which the widow would get, would be for the services which she renders. The law, as far as multiplier is concerned, has to be followed by the Tribunals would be the decisions in the case of Sarla Verma and Pranay Sethi (Supra).

17. The Tribunal has relied on the decision of the Apex Court in Rajpriya (Infra) and has contended that just and reasonable compensation be granted and not on higher side. This is perverse finding. Reasonable and just compensation has to be as per evidence and not what Tribunal on surmise considers reasonable. The Apex Court in the judgment cited namely Tamil Nadu State Transport Corporation Ltd. v. S. Rajapriya, 2005 (0) AIJEL - SC 31621 held that multiplier of 12 would be granted looking to the age of the deceased and not because of the amount granted would be more. The age of the deceased in the said matter was 38 years. This controversy has now been put to rest and the Tribunal should have considered the same. It could not have decreased the multiplier placing reliance in Managing Director, Tamil Nadu State Transport Corporation v. K.I. Bindu, 2005 (0) AIJEL-SC 35930 which are eclipsed by later decisions.

18. We are even fortified in our view by the decision of the Apex Court in Syed Basheer Ahamed and others v. Mohd. Jameel and SC, 2009 ACJ 690 (SC) so as to consider what is just compensation and take holistic approach.

19. In view of the above, we recalculate the quantum of compensation to be awarded to the claimants-appellants. The income of the deceased was Rs.27,238/- per month namely Rs.3,26,856/- per annum. Out of which, the Tribunal has deducted House Rent Allowance of Rs.8040/- (670 per month) and Income Tax of Rs.6882/- (Annual). In view of the decision in Vimal Kanwar (Supra) deduction of House Rent Allowance could not have been done and the only deduction permissible from the salary of the deceased is income tax. Hence, out of Rs.3,26,856/-, only Income Tax of Rs.6882/- would be deducted and, therefore, the income for the purpose of computing compensation would be Rs.3,26,856-6882 = 3,19,974/- per annum. To which, 50% of the amount would be added towards future loss of income as the deceased was 30 years of age and it was not pointed out to us also as what would be future income loss, hence, we award 50% towards future loss of income the deceased. Deduction of 1/3rd towards personal expenses of the deceased is maintained. The deceased being in the age bracket of 26-30, the multiplier applicable would be 17. We grant addition of Rs.40,000/- towards spousal consortium and Rs.50,000/- each to the minor children who has lost their father at very prime age. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants is computed herein below:

i. Annual Income : 3,19,974

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 50% namely Rs.1,59,987/-

iii. Total income : Rs.3,19,974/- + Rs.1,59,987 = Rs.4,79,961/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3rd : Rs.3,19,974/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 17

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.3,19,974. x 17 = Rs.54,39,558/- viii. Amount under non-pecuniary head : Rs.40,000 + 50,000 + 50,000 = Rs.1,40,000/-

ix. Total compensation :55,79,558/-

20. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

21. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

22. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and award passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The amount be deposited within 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. Record and proceedings be sent back to the Tribunal forthwith. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

23. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment be passed by Tribunal.

24. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income-Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

25. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

26. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. v. Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As long time has elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

27. We request the learned Registrar General that a copy of this order be circulated to the Tribunals in the State of Uttar Pradesh after seeking approval from Hon'ble the Chief Justice so that the Tribunal may not commit such mistake of not granting future loss of income and reduction of multiplier.

28. A copy of judgment be sent to the concerned Judge so that he may not make such mistakes in future and we deprecate the reasoning given by him.

(2022)05ILR A800
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 24.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 2706 of 2015

Kamal Singh Sachan & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Smt. Savitri Devi & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Anurag Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Amaresh Sinha, Sri Anubhav Sinha

A. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Contributory negligence – Innova car and offending truck dashed into each other from opposite direction - both the vehicles have damaged on front side - site plan shows that Innova car was on its correct side of the road and the truck was on its wrong side – hence it was head on collusion but on the correct side of the Innova car - truck came on the side of the Innov car & resulted in the death of its driver – However the Innova car was also not on the extreme left side of the road - keeping all the facts together Court held the driver of the truck to be 80% negligent and the driver of the Innova car i.e. the deceased to be 20% negligent - 20% deduction towards contributory negligence (Para 11)

B. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act,1988 - Section 168 - Quantum of Compensation - income tax returns of the deceased show his annual income to be Rs. 1,78,401, Annual income = Rs.1,78,000 - deceased self employed and below the age of 40 years, future prospects: 40% = Rs.71,200 - Total income: Rs.1,78,000/- + Rs.71,200/- = Rs.2,49,200 - there were four dependents upon the deceased amongst which, one was minor, hence, 1/3rd will have to be deducted towards personal expense of the deceased - Income after deduction of 1/3rd = Rs. 1,66,134 - At the time of the death, the age of the deceased was 27 years, Multiplier applicable = 17 - Loss of dependency: Rs.1,66,134 x 17 = Rs. 28,24,278 - appellants shall be entitled to get Rs, 15,000/- for loss of estate, Rs. 15,000/- for funeral expenses, wife of the deceased shall be entitled to Rs. 40,000/- for loss of consortium, minor son of the deceased would get Rs. 50,000/- as filial consortium; Amount under non pecuniary head = Rs.1,20,000 - Total compensation: Rs.28,24,278 + 1,20,000 = Rs 2944278 - Court held the driver of the truck to be 80% negligent and deceased to be 20% negligent - Amount after 20% deduction towards contributory negligence = Rs.23,55,423 which is rounded off to Rs 2355500 - Interest at rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited (14, 15, 16)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs Smt. Renu Singh & ors. F.A.F.O. No. 1818 of 2012 dt 19.7.2016

2. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors. 2017 (SC) 1093

3. Sarla Verma & ors. Vs Delhi Transport Cor. & anr., 2009 ACJ 1298

4. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors., 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

5. Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd. 2007 (2) GLH 291

6. Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr. Review Application No.1 of 2020 in F.A.F.O. No.23 of 2001

7. Tej Kumari Sharma v. Chola Mandlam M.S. General Insurance Co. Ltd. F.A.F.O. No. 2871 of 2016

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. By way of this appeal, the claimants have challenged the judgment and order dated 27.07.2015 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.6, Kanpur Nagar (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.P. No. 103 of 2012 awarding sum of Rs.10,09,500/- as compensation to the claimants with interest at the rate of 7% per annum.

2. Heard Mr. Anurag Singh, learned counsel for the appellants and Mr. Anubhav Sinha, learned counsel for the respondents. Perused the record.

3. Brief facts of the case are that a claim petition is filed before Motor Accidents Claim Tribunal (hereinafter referred to as the 'Tribunal') with the averments that on 21.10.2011, the deceased was returning from his brick kiln to his house in Kidwai Nagar, Kanpur by his Innova car bearing No. UP78CE4408. When he reached between Shambhua railway crossing and village Hadaha, a truck bearing No. UP78N5859, which was being driven very rashly and negligently by its driver, hit the Innova car from opposite direction. In this accident, the deceased Sheel Sachan sustained fatal injuries and died on the spot. First information report of this accident was lodged in the concerned police station. After investigation, charge-sheet was submitted against the driver of the aforesaid offending truck. Learned Tribunal held the drivers of both the vehicles negligent to the tune of 50 % each and awarded Rs. 10,09,500/- as compensation with interest at the rate of 7 % per annum. Aggrieved with the quantum of award and finding of contributory negligence, this appeal has been filed by the appellants.

4. The accident is not in dispute. The liability of insurance company to pay the compensation is also not disputed but the finding of contributory negligence is challenged by the appellants. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that at the time of the accident, the deceased was not at fault and the accident had taken place due to sole negligence of the truck driver.

5. The term 'negligence' means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental which is normally accidental. More particularly, it connotes reckless driving and the injured must always prove that the either side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply.

6. The principle of contributory negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place.

7. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under:

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.

20. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law

further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side."

8. In this regard, we have perused the evidence regarding contributory negligence on record.

9. Learned Tribunal has refused to rely on the site plan prepared by the investigating officer during investigation of the concerned criminal case and held that it is not the site plan which could be relied on for determination of contributory negligence but other factors are to be seen such as first information report, charge-sheet and evidence of independent witnesses. Learned Tribunal mainly relied on technical inspection reports of both the vehicles i.e. Innova car and the offending truck and came to the conclusion that there is damage in the front side of both the vehicles. In this way, learned Tribunal concluded that since there is damage on the front side hence, both the drivers were negligent in driving their respective vehicles. Learned Tribunal also relied on the evidence of eye witness PW2 who had deposed that both the vehicles dashed into each other from opposite direction. On the basis of this evidence, learned Tribunal held contributory negligence of both the drivers to the tune of 50% each but we are unable to concur with the aforesaid finding.

10. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that investigating officer prepared site plan but in the index thereof, he wrongly mentioned the truck with single arrow and Innova car with double arrow while making entry in general diary of police station regarding spot inspection, the investigating officer has rightly mentioned the Innova car with single arrow and truck with double arrow. Learned counsel also submitted that in this regard, a supplementary affidavit has been filed by the appellants.

11. We have gone through the supplementary affidavit which supports the arguments advanced by the appellants as above. It is also pertinent to mention that the driver of the truck has not stepped into the witness box. It is correct that both the vehicles have damaged on front side but it does not mean that it was head on collusion in the middle of the road because the site plan shows that Innova car was on its correct side of the road and the truck was on its wrong side hence, it was head on collusion but on the correct side of the Innova car. Hence, it is clear that the truck came on the side of the Innov car and resulted in the death of its driver. However, we cannot ignore the fact that the Innova car was not on the extreme left side of the road. Hence, keeping all the facts together in the light of the evidence on record, the finding of the learned Tribunal regarding contributory negligence to the tune of 50% each cannot be sustained. We hold the driver of the truck to be 80% negligent and the driver of the Innova car i.e. the deceased to be 20% negligent. Now, it takes us to determine the quantum of compensation.

12. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that the deceased was a graduate in Engineering. He was partner in three brick kilns and agriculturist also. The deceased was an income tax payee. The income tax returns filed by him are on record but the learned Tribunal did not rely on those returns. Learned Tribunal has assessed the annual income of the deceased at Rs. 1,56,000/- which is on the lower side. Although, learned counsel for the insurance company submitted that Tribunal has rightly assessed the income of the deceased and it does not call for any interference but we cannot shut our eyes from the fact that the income tax returns of the deceased show his annual income to be Rs. 1,78,401/-. Hence, we hold the annual income of the deceased in round figures to be Rs. 1,78,000/-.

13. It is submitted on behalf of the appellants that the learned Tribunal has not awarded any sum for future loss of income. It is vehemently objected by learned counsel for the insurance company and he submitted that no future loss of income should be granted.

14. We are unable to accept the aforesaid submissions of learned counsel for the insurance company as per judgment of the Apex Court in the case of National Insurance Co. Ltd. vs. Pranay Sethi and others 2017 (SC) 1093 in which it is held that in case of death of a self employed person, his legal representatives shall be entitled to get compensation for future loss of income. In this case, it is not disputed that the deceased was self employed and he was below the age of 40 years. Hence, as per the aforesaid judgment of Pranay Sethi (supra), 40% shall be added to the income of the deceased for future loss of income. There were four dependents upon the deceased amongst which, appellant no.4 was minor, hence, 1/3rd will have to be deducted towards personal expense of the deceased whereas the Tribunal has deducted 1/4th . At the time of the death, the age of the deceased was 27 years, hence, as per the judgment of Sarla Verma and Others Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and Another, 2009 ACJ 1298, the multiplier of 17 shall be applied.

15. A perusal of the impugned judgment shows that learned Tribunal has awarded Rs. 10,000/- for loss of consortium, Rs. 15,000/- for loss of love and affection and Rs. 5000/- for funeral expenses which are on the lower side. As per the judgment of Pranay Sethi (supra), the appellants shall be entitled to get Rs, 15,000/- for loss of estate and Rs. 15,000/- for funeral expenses apart from it, the wife of the deceased shall be entitled to Rs. 40,000/- for loss of consortium and the minor son of the deceased would get Rs. 50,000/- as filial consortium since he has lost his father at a very tender age. In this way, the appellants together will get Rs. 1,20,000/- as non-pecuniary damages. On the basis of above discussion, total amount of compensation payable to the appellants is computed hereinbelow:

i. Annual income = Rs.1,78,000/- per annum.

ii. Percentage towards future prospects: 40% = Rs.71,200/-

iii. Total income: Rs.1,78,000/- + Rs.71,200/- = Rs.2,49,200/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3rd = Rs. 1,66,134/-

v. Multiplier applicable = 17

vi. Loss of dependency: Rs.1,66,134/- x 17 = Rs. 28,24,278/-

vii. Amount under non pecuniary head = Rs.1,20,000/- viii. Total compensation: Rs.28,24,278/- + 1,20,000/- = Rs. 29,44,278/-

ix. Amount after 20% deduction towards contributory negligence = Rs.23,55,423/- which is rounded off to Rs. 23,55,500/-.

16. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under:

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

17. Learned Tribunal has awarded rate of interest as 7% per annum but we are fixing the rate of interest as 7.5% in the light of the above judgment.

18. No other grounds are argued orally when the matter was heard.

19. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and award passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

20. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007 (2) GLH 291 and this High Court in total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimants to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) and in First Appeal From Order No.2871 of 2016 (Tej Kumari Sharma v. Chola Mandlam M.S. General Insurance Co. Ltd.) decided on 19.3.2021 while disbursing the amount.

(2022)05ILR A807
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 21.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 2783 of 2008

Smt. Raj Biri & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Regional Manager, U.P.S.R.T.C., Ghaziabad & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri A.K. Dwivedi, Sri Ashok Kumar Pandey, Sri Bipin, Sri Harish Yadav, Sri Sunil Kumar Yadav, Sri Yogesh Kumar Sinha, Sri Y.K. Sinha

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Sunil Kumar Misra, Sri Amaresh Sinha, Sri Anubhav Sinha, Sri Ramanuj Pandey

Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act,1988 - Section 168 - Quantum of Compensation - Deceased doing dairy business - Court considered his income to be Rs 5000 per month - Annual Income : Rs.60,000 Per annum (Rs.5,000 X 12) - Deceased self employed & below 35 yrs therefore Percentage towards future prospects 40% : Rs. 24,000 - Total income : Rs. 60,000 + Rs.24,000 = Rs. 84,000 - deceased survived by his wife, three minor children and mother, who were dependent on him therefore Income after deduction 1/3 : Rs. 84,000 – 28,000 = Rs.56,000 - Deceased aged 35 years Multiplier applicable : 16 - Loss of Dependency : Rs. 56,000 X 16 = Rs.8,96,000 - Amount under non pecuniary head : Rs. 70,000 - deceased had three minor children Filial Consortium : Rs.50,000 X 3 = Rs.1,50,000 - Total compensation : Rs.8,96,000 + Rs.70,000/- + Rs.1,50,000 = Rs.11,16,000 - Interst at rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Kurvan Ansari @ Kurvan Ali & anr. Vs Shyam Kishore Murmu & anr., 2021 (4) TAC 673 (Supreme Court)

2. Puttamma & ors. Vs K.L. Narayana Reddy & anr., 2014 (1) TAC 926 & Kishan Gopal & anr.Vs Lala & ors., 2013 (4) TAC 5

3. National Insurance Co. Vs Pranay Sethi [2014 (4) TAC 637 (SC)]

4. Smt.Sarla Verma Vs Delhi Transport Corp. [2009 (2) TAC 677 (SC)]

5. Pappu & ors. Vs Vinod Kumar Lamba & anr., 2018 (0) Supreme (SC) 42

6. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors., 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

7. Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd., [2007(2) GLH 291]

8. Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr.)

9. First Appeal From Order No.2871 of 2016 (Tej Kumari Sharma v. Chola Mandlam M.S. General Insurance Co. Ltd.) dt 19.3.2021

10. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I. & ors.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.

1. This appeal has been preferred by the claimants-appellants against the judgment & order dated 30.05.2008 passed by learned Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.4, District Ghaziabad in Motor Accident Claim Petition No.158 of 2006 (Smt. Raj Biri and Others Vs. Regional Manager, Regional Office, U.P. State Road Transport Corporation), whereby the learned Tribunal has awarded a sum of Rs.2,51,600/- as compensation to the claimants with interest at the rate of 6% per annum.

2. The brief facts of the case are that claimants-appellants filed a Motor Accident Claim Petition before the Tribunal for claiming the compensation under Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 for the death of Mahesh in a road accident with the averments that on 19.12.2005, Mahesh-deceased along with his friends was going to his house from Delhi by tractor, when he reached at village Luhari, a bus bearing no. U.P. 14 T 9563 was coming, which was being driven very rashly and negligently by its driver. The aforesaid bus being driven in such a manner dashed the deceased's tractor. In this accident, deceased sustained very serious injuries and died on the way to hospital.

3. Aggrieved mainly with the compensation awarded, the appellants preferred this appeal.

4. Heard learned counsel for the appellants-claimants and learned counsel for the respondents. Perused the record.

5. The accident is not in dispute. The issue of negligence has attained finality as neither the Insurance Company nor the owner of the vehicle has disputed the same even in oral submissions. The driver of the said vehicle was having valid and effective driving licence on the date of accident is also a decided fact. The vehicle being insured and there being no breach of policy condition is a finding, which has attained finality. The only issue to be decided is the quantum of compensation awarded by the Tribunal.

6. Learned counsel for the appellants-claimants has submitted that the learned Tribunal has assessed the monthly income of the deceased at Rs.2,400/- per month while the deceased was a farmer and also doing animal husbandry. Deceased was in a dairy business and land record shows that he had property, which was there and was earning Rs.48,000/- per month but learned Tribunal has wrongly assessed the monthly income of the deceased. The Tribunal has not added any amount towards future loss of income, which, in our opinion is bad on facts. Learned Tribunal has deducted 1/3rd towards personal expenses of the deceased and has granted multiplier of 13 and but has not granted any amount under the head of non pecuniary damages.

7. Learned counsel for the respondents have vehemently objected the submissions of learned counsel for the appellants on the issue of enhancement of compensation. It is submitted that learned Tribunal has awarded just compensation as per law admissible to the claimants which does not call for any interference by this Court.

8. Learned counsel for the appellants-claimants has submitted that it is an internal dispute between the insurance company and the owner of the vehicle and the appellants being legal representative of the third party, they cannot be punished for non production of the driving licence by the U.P.S.R.T.C. Learned counsel for the appellants-claimants has submitted that deceased was survived by his wife, three minor children and mother, who were dependent on him, hence 1/4th should be deducted. It is also submitted that appellants-claimants are also entitled to get non pecuniary damages and the same may be granted. It is submitted that recently, the Hon'ble Apex Court has decided the controversy ans settled the law regarding the death of a child in Kurvan Ansari @

Kurvan Ali and another Vs. Shyam Kishore Murmu and another, 2021 (4) TAC 673 (Supreme Court) be made applicable. In this case, the Hon'ble Apex Court has stated that in spite of repeated directions, Scheduled-II of Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 is not yet amended. Therefore, fixing notional income of Rs.15,000/- per annum for non earning members is not just and reasonable. It is further submitted that the Apex Court that in the cases of Puttamma and others Vs. K.L. Narayana Reddy and another, 2014 (1) TAC 926 and Kishan Gopal and another v. Lala and others, 2013 (4) TAC 5, it is a fit case to increase the notional income by taking into account the inflation, devaluation of the rupees and cost of living.

9. With the aforesaid observations, the Hon'ble Apex Court took the notional income of the deceased who was 7 years old at Rs.25,000/- per annum. In our case, the deceased was running his business and was having 35 buffalos and, therefore, we consider his income to be Rs.5,000/- per month. Since, the deceased will fall within the category of self employed and his age was 35 years at the time of accident, 40% shall be added towards future loss of income as held by Hon'ble Apex Court in National Insurance Company vs. Pranay Sethi [2014 (4) TAC 637 (SC)]. Keeping in view the age of the deceased, multiplier of 16 will be admissible in the light of the judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Smt.Sarla Verma vs. Delhi Transport Corporation [2009 (2) TAC 677 (SC)]. We cannot accept the submission that 1/4 be the deduction of personal expenses of the deceased. Learned Tribunal has rightly deduced 1/3rd for personal expenses, we also maintain the same.

10. As far as non-pecuniary damages are concerned, the Tribunal has not awarded any sum towards non pecuniary damages. No reasons are assigned and only Rs.2,000/- is awarded for funeral expenses. In the light of Judgment in the case of Pranay Sethi (supra), claimants shall be entitled to get Rs.15,000/- each for loss of estate and funeral expenses. Apart from it, the wife of the deceased shall also be entitled to get Rs..40,000/- for loss of consortium. In this way, the appellants shall be entitled to get Rs.70,000/- for non-pecuniary heads. Three minor children of the deceased, lost their father at a very tender age, hence, children of the deceased shall be entitled to get Rs.50,000/- each towards loss of parental love in the light of the judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Kurvan Ansari alias Kurvan Ali (Supra).

11. Hence, the total amount of compensation, in view of the above discussions, payable to the appellants-claimants is being computed herein below:

(i) Annual Income : Rs.60,000/- Per annum (Rs.5,000 X 12)

(ii) Percentage towards future prospects 40% : Rs. 24,000/-

(iii) Total income : Rs. 60,000/- + Rs.24,000/- = Rs. 84,000/-

(iv) Income after deduction 1/3 : Rs.84,000 - 28,000/- = Rs.56,000/-

(v) Multiplier applicable : 16

(vi) Loss of Dependency : Rs. 56,000/- X 16 = Rs.8,96,000/-

(vii) Amount under non pecuniary head : Rs.70,000/-

(viii) Filial Consortium : Rs.50,000 X 3 = Rs.1,50,000/-

(ix) Total compensation : Rs.8,96,000 + Rs.70,000/- + Rs.1,50,000/- =

Rs.11,16,000/-

Submissions for breach of policy conditions as far as licence is concerned.

12. Mr. Anubhav Sinha, learned counsel appearing for the Insurance Company has submitted that this is an appeal which is continuation of the proceedings. He can raise oral cross objection and submitted that there is no finding of fact that U.P.S.R.T.C. had not examined the driver nor did it produce any record showing the driver was certified to drive the bus of U.P.S.R.T.C. on the date of accident and, therefore, the finding is bad and the Insurance Company should be given recovery rights.

13. As against this, Mr. S.K. Mishra, learned counsel appearing for the U.P.S.R.T.C. submits that in fact though filing of reply, it is categorically mentioned that the driver was having valid driving licence to drive the said vehicle but it is accepted position of fact that the same was not produced before the learned Tribunal. It is also submitted that this court may consider the application under Order XLI Rule 27, which was filed long back, which has heavily relied on the decision of this Court passed in First Appeal From Order (Defective) No.171 of 2000 of the learned Single Judge.

14. Learned counsel for the Insurance Company has heavily relied on the judgment of Apex Court in the case of Pappu and Others Vs. Vinod Kumar Lamba and Another, 2018 (0) Supreme (SC) 42, so as to contend that onus would then shift on Insurance Company to rebut the same. The driver of the bus or the owner in whose possession the licence should produce the same and prove the same.

15. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, learned Tribunal has awarded the compensation with interest at the rate of 6% per annum. It should be 7.5% on the enhanced amount in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under:

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

16. It is pointed out by learned counsel for the respondents that the appeal was dismissed in default on 03.04.2018 and the same came to be restored recently. However, none has appeared for the Oriental Insurance Company till 08.10.2021, therefore, interest shall not be deducted for the same period. The mute question would be who would pay to the claimants. The primary duty is of the driver and owner namely, U.P.S.R.T.C. who is the owner of the vehicle. We first direct the Insurance Company to deposit the amount, and we grant recovery rights to the Insurance Company to recover from the U.P.S.R.T.C. who shall by satisfy that the driver had a proper valid driving licence and the vehicle was plied with all requisite documents. The said exercise would be completed within 12 weeks from today.

17. While going through the facts, it is clear that U.P.S.R.T.C. though did not produce the licence before the Tribunal. It has by way of application under Order XLI Rule 27 of C.P.C., produced the copy, which goes to show that they have verified that the driver was authorized to drive the vehicle. The Tribunal could not have shifted the burden on the Insurance Company as the judgment of Pappu and Others (Supra) is very clear. The Tribunal could not have held that it was primary duty of the Insurance Company. The finding of issue no.2 is whether the driver had proper driving licence. The Tribunal has answered the said question as held against the Insurance Company and has passed the award against all the respondents and, therefore, this oral submission is also considered. The judgment of Apex Court in Pappu and Others (Supra) enjoining the duty of the owner to file document which was not filed. The dispute is between the U.P.S.R.T.C. and the Insurance Company. In the beginning, Insurance Company would satisfy the award and if Insurance Company is able to satisfy the executing Court that the driver did not have any driving licence, they would be entitled to recover the amount. As this is the special case of government agency to be going for recovery rights, if the U.P.S.R.T.C. by cogent evidence, proves by the Insurance Company that the driver who was engaged by them was having valid driving licence. The matter should end there, failing which, the Insurance Company would be entitled to recover the amount of the amount deposited and if the U.P.S.R.T.C. satisfy that the driver had a proper driving licence, if they have deposited any amount by virtue of the award of the Tribunal, they would be entitled to reclaimed the amount from Insurance Company.

18. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and award passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 08 weeks from today with interest as discussed above from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

19. It appears that from 2008, we do not find as per the record, whether any amount was deposited or not. The responsible officer will explain to the learned Tribunal as to why the amount was not deposited when there is no stay order in the matter.

20. It appears from the judgment and order that unfortunately, the learned Tribunal Judge in the operative portion has not clarified who should pay the compensation as it has held all the respondents would be liable. It was an internal dispute between the Insurance Company and the U.P.S.R.T.C. We request the Registrar General, Allahabad High Court to convey our concern to the Motor Claims Tribunal not to pass such omnibus order that all would be liable but satisfied which respondent would be liable to pay and which will be liable to indemnify. We also direct the Insurance Companies involved and directed to pay other authorities not to grant stay unto themselves so that the claimants do not suffer for the internal dispute between the owner and the Insurance Company, where award is passed against all.

21. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani vs. The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., [2007(2) GLH 291] and this High Court in total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimants to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) and in First Appeal From Order No.2871 of 2016 (Tej Kumari Sharma v. Chola Mandlam M.S. General Insurance Co. Ltd.) decided on 19.3.2021 while disbursing the amount.

22. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Hon'ble Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Pvt. Ltd. Vs. Union of India and Others, vide order dated 27.01.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. Since long time has elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Bank Account of claimant(s) in a nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

(2022)05ILR A812
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 15.12.2021

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 2853 of 2005

The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. ...Appellant

Versus

Kalwe Ali & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Udai Shanker Mishra

Counsel for the Respondents:

Civil Law - Review - First Appeal From Order summarily dismissed - Review Application filed - Held - practice of summarily dismissing appeal without assigning reasons, has been deprecated - where the issues relates to the negligence and the quantum, it cannot be dismissed without discussing the same - review application is allowed (Para 11, 13)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Thungabhadra Industries Ltd. Vs The Government of A.P. AIR 1964 SC 1372

2. Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma Vs Aribam Pishak Sharma 1979 (4) SCC 389

3. Meera Bhanja Vs Nirmala Kumari Choudhury AIR 1995 SC 455

4. Parsion Devi & ors. Vs Sumitri Devi & ors. 1997 (8) SCC 715

5. Rajendra Kumar Vs Rambai, AIR 2003 SC 2095

6. Lily Thomas Vs U.O.I. AIR 2000 SC 1650

7. Inderchand Jain Vs Motilal (2009) 4 SCC 665

8. Kamlesh Verma Vs Mayawati & ors. 2013 (8) SCC 320

9. U.P.S.R.T.C. Vs Km Mamta & ors. AIR 2016 SCC 948

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

In Ref: Review application

1. This review application is taken up for hearing almost after 16 years. The matter in between, was dismissed in default and then restored.

2. The order of the Division Bench comprising Hon'ble R.P. Mishra, J. and Hon'ble Sanjay Mishra, J., which is brought in review is as follows:-

"Heard Sri Vipin Chandra Dixit, learned counsel for the appellant and perused the record.

There is no force in this appeal. It is dismissed summarily."

3. We now consider this review whether the review is maintainable or not on the principles laid down by various High Courts and the Apex Court regarding allowing review of order/judgement.

4. In Thungabhadra Industries Ltd. Vs. The Government of Andhra Pradesh AIR 1964 SC 1372 the Court said:

"A review is by no means an appeal in disguise whereby an erroneous decision is reheard and corrected, but lies only for patent error."

5. In Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma Vs. Aribam Pishak Sharma 1979 (4) SCC 389 the Court said:

"... there is nothing in Article 226 of the Constitution to preclude a High Court from exercising the power of review which inheres in every Court of plenary jurisdiction to prevent miscarriage of justice or to correct grave and palpable errors committed by it. But, there are definitive limits to the exercise of the power of review. The power of review may be exercised on the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence was not within the knowledge of the person seeking the review or could not be produced by him at the time when the order was made; it may be exercised where some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record is found; it may also be exercised on any analogous ground. But, it may not be exercised on the ground that the decision was erroneous on merits. That would be the province of a Court of Appeal. A power of review is not to be confused with appellate powers which may enable an Appellate Court to correct all manner of errors committed by the Subordinate Court."

6. Again, in Meera Bhanja v. Nirmala Kumari Choudhury AIR 1995 SC 455 while quoting with approval the above passage from Abhiram Taleshwar Sharma Vs. Abhiram Pishak Shartn

(supra), the Court once again held that review proceedings are not by way of an appeal and have to be strictly confined to the scope and ambit of Order 47 Rule 1 CPC.

7. In Parsion Devi and others Vs. Sumitri Devi and others 1997 (8) SCC 715 it was held that an error, which is not self evident and has to be detected by process of reasoning, can hardly be said to be error apparent on the face of the record justifying the court to exercise powers of review in exercise of review jurisdiction.

8. In Rajendra Kumar Vs. Rambai, AIR 2003 SC 2095, the Apex Court has observed about limited scope of judicial intervention at the time of review of the judgment and said:

"The limitations on exercise of the power of review are well settled. The first and foremost requirement of entertaining a review petition is that the order, review of which is sought, suffers from any error apparent on the face of the order and permitting the order to stand will lead to failure of justice. In the absence of any such error, finality attached to the judgement/order cannot be disturbed."

9. Thus, Review is not an appeal in disguise. Rehearing of the matter is impermissible in the garb of review. It is an exception to the general rule that once a judgment is signed or pronounced, it should not be altered. In Lily Thomas Vs. Union of India AIR 2000 SC 1650, the Court said that power of review can be exercised for correction of a mistake and not to substitute a new. Such powers can be exercised within limits of the statute dealing with the exercise of power. The aforesaid view is reiterated in Inderchand Jain Vs. Motilal (2009) 4 SCC 665.

10. In Kamlesh Verma Vs. Mayawati and others 2013 (8) SCC 320, the Court said:

"19. Review proceedings are not by way of an appeal and have to be strictly confined to the scope and ambit of Order 47 Rule 1 of CPC. In review jurisdiction, mere disagreement with the view of the judgment cannot be the ground for invoking the same. As long as the point is already dealt with and answered, the parties are not entitled to challenge the impugned judgment in the guise that an alternative view is possible under the review jurisdiction.

Summary of the Principles:

20. Thus, in view of the above, the following grounds of review are maintainable as stipulated by the statute:

20.1. When the review will be maintainable:-

(i) Discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence, was not within knowledge of the petitioner or could not be produced by him;

(ii) Mistake or error apparent on the face of the record;

(iii) Any other sufficient reason.

The words "any other sufficient reason" has been interpreted in Chhajju Ram vs. Neki, AIR 1922 PC 112 and approved by this Court in Moran Mar Basselios Catholicos vs. Most Rev. Mar Poulose Athanasius & Ors., AIR 1954 SC 526, to mean "a reason sufficient on grounds at least analogous to those specified in the rule". The same principles have been reiterated in Union of India vs. Sandur Manganese & Iron Ores Ltd. & Ors., 2013 (8) SCC 337.

22.2. When the review will not be maintainable:-

(i) A repetition of old and overruled argument is not enough to reopen concluded adjudications.

(ii) Minor mistakes of inconsequential import.

(iii) Review proceedings cannot be equated with the original hearing of the case.

(iv) Review is not maintainable unless the material error, manifest on the face of the order, undermines its soundness or results in miscarriage of justice.

(v) A review is by no means an appeal in disguise whereby an erroneous decision is reheard and corrected but lies only for patent error.

(vi) The mere possibility of two views on the subject cannot be a ground for review.

(vii) The error apparent on the face of the record should not be an error which has to be fished out and searched.

(viii) The appreciation of evidence on record is fully within the domain of the appellate court, it cannot be permitted to be advanced in the review petition.

(ix) Review is not maintainable when the same relief sought at the time of arguing the main matter had been negatived." (emphasis supplied)

11. The judgement of the Apex Court in U.P.S.R.T.C. Vs. Km Mamta and Others AIR 2016 SCC 948 and subsequent judgements of the Apex Court, this practice of summarily dismissing the appeal by Allahabad High Court, without assigning reasons, has been deprecated.

12. The judgement of Apex in U.P.S.R.T.C. Vs. Km Mamta and Others AIR 2016 SCC 948 fully applies to the facts of this case.

13. In view of the aforesaid datum figure where the issues went by the Insurance Company relates to the negligence and the quantum, it cannot be dismissed without discussing the same.

14. In that view of the matter, this review application is allowed.

In Ref: Appeal

List the matter on 23rd December, 2021 for hearing.

(2022)05ILR A815
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 24.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 2907 of 2015

Smt. Malti Pandey & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
United India Insurance Co. Ltd. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Ram Singh, Sri Amit Kumar Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Nagendra Kumar Srivastava, Ms. Anubha Gupta

A. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act,1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - Income - potential of earning of the deceased - deceased 38 years of age & was qualified to be a teacher, he was B.A., B.Ed and was doing Vishist B.T.C. Training - Tribunal considered his income only Rs.3000/- per month - Held - Deceased could have become teacher in any of the government school or private institution - income should be at least Rs.10,000/- per month (Para 10)

B. Future Loss of Income - accident of the year 2012 - Tribunal not added any amount under the head of future loss of income - Held - decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi can be made applicable retrospectively - Merely because the deceased was not in job cannot be ground for refraining future loss of income - Self employed means his own vocation or business and not job - Court granted addition of 40% towards future loss of income of the deceased (Para 11)

C. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act,1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - Future Loss of Income - deceased self employed - accident of the year 2012 - judgment of the Tribunal prior to the decision in Pranay Sethi - Tribunal not added any amount under the head of future loss of income - Held - decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi can be applied retrospectively in case the appeal is pending - deceased self-employed & aged about 38 years - Court granted addition of 40% towards future loss of income of the deceased - Multiplier applicable : 15 - deceased was survived by three minor children who have lost their father during their childhood, Rs.50,000/- each to the minor children who lost their father at prime age. - Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.70,000 + Rs.50,000 + Rs.50,000+ Rs. 50,000 = 2,20,000 - deceased survived by certain period, hence, the medical expenses of Rs.1,03,210 - respondent-Insurance Company directed to deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited (Para 11, 12, 15)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors., 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093

2. Smt. Meena Pawaia & ors. Vs Ashraf Ali & ors. 2021 0 Supreme (SC) 694

3. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors., 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

4. A.Vs Padma Vs Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442

5. Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291

6. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I. & ors.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Sri Ram Singh, learned counsel for the appellant, Sri N.K. Srivastava, learned counsel for the respondent assisted by Ms. Anubha Gutpa, learned Advocate and perused the record.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 30.7.2015 passed by the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/District Judge, Banda (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.P No.114/70 of 2012 awarding a sum of Rs.5,52,210/- as compensation with interest at the rate of 7%.

3. The accident is not in dispute. The issue of negligence decided by the Tribunal is also not in dispute. The only issue to be decided is the quantum of compensation awarded.

4. The accident took place in the year 2012. The deceased was 38 years of age and was qualified to be a teacher, he was B.A., B.Ed and was doing Vishist B.T.C. Training and was having agricultural land. Despite all these qualifications, the Tribunal has considered his income only Rs.3000/- per month, which according to Sri Ram Singh, learned counsel for the appellant should be at least Rs.10,000/- per month. The Tribunal has given reasoning that the appellants have not proved the income of the deceased by cogent evidence. It is further submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the Tribunal has not added any amount under the head of future loss of income which should be either 40% or 50% looking to the decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Pranay Sethi and others, 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093 or in view of Uttar Pradesh Motor Vehicle Rules.

5. It is also submitted by learned counsel for the appellant that the amount awarded under non pecuniary damages is on the lower side and is required to be enhanced in view of the decision in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Pranay Sethi and others, 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093 and the later decision of the Apex Court as the deceased was survived by three minor children who have lost their father during their childhood and the parents who were dependent on the deceased and has lost their son at a very young age.

6. Learned counsel for the appellant has lastly submitted that the interest awarded by Tribunal is on the lower side and it should be as per the repo rate prevailing in those days.

7. As against this, learned counsel for respondent-Insurance Company has contended that the income which has not been proved cannot be granted. It is submitted by learned counsel for the respondent that the deceased was 38 years of age and, therefore, multiplier of 16 could not have been granted and it should be 15 in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Sarla Verma and others Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and Another, 2009 LawSuit (SC).

8. It is further submitted by Sri N.K. Srivastava, learned counsel for the respondent assisted by Ms. Anubha Gupta, learned Advocate, that the accident is of the year 2012 whereas the judgment of the Tribunal is prior to the decision in Pranay Sethi (Supra) and, therefore, non addition of future loss of income is just and proper ad the deceased was self employed.

9. In response to the above objection, Sri Ram Singh, learned counsel for the respondent has again submitted that the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) can be applied retrospectively in case the appeal is pending.

10. Having heard learned counsel for the parties, in the instant case, there are four aspects which will have to be looked into namely, the potential of earning of the deceased, he was B.A., B.Ed., he was doing Vishist B.T.C. Training and he could have become teacher in any of the government school or private institution. Therefore, in view of the decision of the Apex Court Smt. Meena Pawaia & others Vs. Ashraf Ali and others 2021 0 Supreme (SC) 694, we consider his income to be Rs.10,000/- per month.

11. The submission of Sri N.K. Srivastava, learned counsel for the respondent that non grant of future loss of income is just and proper cannot be countenanced as the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) can be made applicable retrospectively. The submission that the deceased was not in job cannot be countenanced for refraining future loss of income. Self employed means his own vocation or business and not job and, therefore, we grant addition of 40% towards future loss of income of the deceased. However, we are in agreement with the learned counsel for the respondent that the multiplier of 15 should be granted in view of the decision in Sarla Verma (Supra). Deduction of 1/4th is maintained. As far as amount under non-pecuniary heads is concerned, the appellants would be entitled to Rs.70,000/- plus Rs.50,000/- each to the minor children who have lost their father at prime age. The deceased survived by certain period, hence, the medical expenses of Rs.1,03,210/- as granted by the Tribunal is maintained.

12. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants is computed herein below:

i. Monthly Income: Rs.10,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.4,000/-

iii. Total income : Rs.10,000 +4,000 = Rs.14,000/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/4th towards personal expenses : Rs.10,500/-

v. Annual income : Rs.10,500 x 12 = Rs.1,26,000/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 15

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.1,26,000 x 15 = Rs.18,90,000/- viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.70,000 + Rs.50,000 + Rs.50,000+ Rs. 50,000 = 2,20,000/-

ix. Medical Expenses : 1,03,210/-

x. Total compensation : Rs.22,13,210/-

13. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

14. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

15. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

16. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment be passed by Tribunal..

17. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

18. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

19. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. v. Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As 10 years have elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

20. This Court is thankful to both the counsels for getting this matter decided.

(2022)05ILR A819
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 08.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 3586 of 2012

Smt. Priya Rani & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Ram Sharan & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:

Sri S.D. Ojha

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Ashish K. Srivatava, Sri N.K Chatterjee

A. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - Contributory Negligence - at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently - Buren of proof - burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents - It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident (Para 6)

At around 9.00 pm, driver of the truck which was moving ahead of the car which deceased was driving, suddenly applied brake & suddenly, speedily and carelessly drove back his vehicle without using dipper and horn & hit the deceased vehicle - truck driver did not even step into the witness box - frugality with the accident occurred goes to show that the driver of the Car is also negligent - Held - driver of the Car 30% negligent - Total compensation : Rs. 28,60,800 - Amount payable to claimants after deduction of 30% negligence of deceased Rs.20,02,560/- (Para 14)

B. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - Future Loss of Income - Tribunal not granted future loss of income as the accident occurred in 2010 - deceased was below 40 years i.e. 29 years and was having his own business - Held - 40% should be added as future loss of income of the deceased - under non-pecuniary heads, claimants entitled to at least Rs.70,000 plus 10% rise in every 3 years in view of the decision in Pranay Sethi (Para 16)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1.Mananinga Director, BMTC Vs U.O.I. & ors., 2008 (3) TAC 796 (SC)

2.Indira Devi & ors. Vs Bagada Ram & ors., (2011) 2 SCC 134

3.United Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs T. Gandama & ors., 2010 (2) TAC 345, Andhra Pradesh

4. Managinga Director, BMTC Vs U.O.I. & ors., 2008 (3) TAC 796

5. Indira Devi & ors. Vs Bagada Ram & anr., (2011) 2 SCC 134

6. Smt. K. Anusha & ors. Vs Regional Manager, Shriram General Insurance Company, 2022 (4) TAC 341

7. Smt. Sarla Verma & ors. Vs Delhi Transport Corporation & anr., reported in 2009 ACJ 1298

8. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors., 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 105

9. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors., 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

10. A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442

11. Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani Vs.The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. Heard Sri S.D. Ojha, learned counsel for the appellants and Sri N.K. Chatterjee and Ashish Kumar Srivastava, learned counsels for the respondent-Insurance Company.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 1.8.2012 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/ Additional District Judge, Court No.1, Muzaffar Nagar (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.P. No. 624 of 2011 awarding a sum of Rs. 9,42,450/- with interest at the rate of 6% as compensation.

3. The accident is not in dispute. The Insurance Company has not challenged the liability imposed on them. The claimants - appellants have challenged the award of the

4. The facts in brief are that Anuj Kumar, aged about 29 year, was a whole seller of textile and was maintaining his wife, son and mother with an annual income of around Rs. 3 Lacs. On 24.8.2010, Anuj Kumar along with his wife Smt. Priya, son Shreya and brother Pankaj was coming to Muzaffarnagar from Saharanpur in his Santro Car No. U.P. 12-J-7976. Anuj Kumar was carefully driving his car in slow and controlled speed at his side. At around 9.00 pm, when they turned towards Rohana after crossing Ghaloli Check Post, the driver of the truck bearing number U.P.-12-L-2062, which was moving ahead them, suddenly applied brake. Following it, Anuj Kumar too applied brake keeping his car at necessary and appropriate distance and stopped the car. The drivers of other vehicles following the car also stopped their vehicles. But the driver of the truck U.P.-12-L-2062 suddenly, speedily and carelessly drove back his vehicle without using dipper and horn. Seeing it, Anuj blew horn of his car and tried to check his car but he could not reverse his car due to there being other vehicles behind the aforesaid car and the driver of the truck reversing the truck speedily and carelessly hit the vehicle Santro Car U.P.-12-J-7976 forcefully and rampaged the truck over the car as a result of which Anuj Kumar, his brother Pankaj and Priya sustained severe injuries. They were taken to District Hospital, Muzaffarnagar. Due to injuries sustained in the accident, Anuj Kumar had been declared dead in the district hospital. In the accident, there was no mistake or carelessness on the part of Anuj Kumar rather the carelessness was on the part of the truck driver regarding which the report was lodged against the truck driver with Crime no. 1519/2010 u/Ss 279, 337, 338, 304-A of I.P.C. at police station Kotwali, Muzaffarnagar.

5. As far as issue of contributory negligence is concerned as alleged by the appellant, we will have to consider the principles for deciding the negligence. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

6. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

7. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

8. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.

9. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

10. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 ACJ (SC) 1840).

11. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part of driver of another vehicle.

12. Hence, the finding of the Tribunal holding driver of the truck 30% negligent relying on the decisions in Mananinga Director, BMTC Vs. Union of India and others, 2008 (3) TAC 796 (SC), Indira Devi and others Vs. Bagada Ram and others, (2011) 2 SCC 134, United Insurance Company Ltd. Vs. T. Gandama and others, 2010 (2) TAC 345, Andhra Pradesh, is bad for the reasons assigned herein below.

13. While going through the record, it transpires that the accident took place between the truck and car. They both were on the middle road. The truck, according to the witnesses, was on the side of the road. The accident occurred at 09:00 p.m. in the night. It is nobody's case that the driver of the truck had tried to safeguard by keeping any indicator on would show that the vehicle was stationed with all safety. The learned Tribunal also comes to the conclusion that the truck was stationary without any indicator and, therefore, we hold that contours of the judgment of the Apex Court in Managinga Director, BMTC Vs. Union of India and others, 2008 (3) TAC 796, cannot apply in our case as it was night time. The truck driver did not even step into the witness box. The judgment in the case of Indira Devi and others Vs. Bagada Ram and another, (2011) 2 SCC 134, cannot be made applicable on the facts of this case. In our case, the vehicle was parked without any parking light and as it was night time and, therefore, also we are unable to accept the submission of the Counsel for the respondents that the driver of the Car was not negligent. Stationary truck was parked on the road, therefore, the judgement of the Apex Court in Smt. K. Anusha and others Vs. Regional Manager, Shriram General Insurance Company, 2022 (4) TAC 341, will apply to the facts of this case. Had the truck not being parked on the Highway with no parking light, the accident might have not occurred but the frugality with the accident occurred goes to show that the driver of the Car is also negligent.

14. We are interfering in the finding as far as contributory negligence is concerned as we are unable to accept the submission of Sri Ashish Kumar Srivastava that the driver of the Car dashed with the truck and was fully negligent. The driver of the truck has not entered into the witness box that goes against the truck and Insurance company. We hold the driver of the Car 30% negligent.

15. The challenge to the Tribunal award is that the Tribunal has not granted future loss of income as the accident occurred in 2010. The deceased had a business and, therefore, the Tribunal relied on the judgment of the Apex Court on Smt. Sarla Verma and others Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and another, reported in 2009 ACJ 1298. There is no dispute as far as computation of compensation is concerned. The income, which has been considered by the Tribunal, is not disturbed.

16. As the deceased was below 40 years namely 29 years and was having his own business, 40% should be added as future loss of income of the deceased in view of the decision in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 105. The deceased was 29 years of age hence multiplier of 17 would apply. It is further submitted that under non-pecuniary heads, the claimants are entitled to at least Rs.70,000 plus 10% rise in every 3 years in view of the decision in Pranay Sethi (supra). Hence, we grant Rs.1,00,000/- (rounded figure) under the head of non-pecuniary damages.

17. Hence, the compensation payable to the appellants in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) is computed herein below:

i. Annual Income Rs.1,74,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.69,600/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 1,74,000 + 69,600 = Rs. 2,43,600/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3 : Rs. 1,62,400/-

v. Multiplier applicable : 17

vi. Loss of dependency: Rs.1,62,400 x 17 = Rs. 27,60,800/-

vii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.1,00,000/-

viii. Total compensation : Rs. 28,60,800/-

ix. Amount payable to claimants after deduction of 30% negligence of deceased Rs.20,02,560/-

18. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, the interest should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.), wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

19. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

20. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment is not passed because applicants /claimants are neither illiterate or rustic villagers.

21. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd.,

reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

22. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited within a period of 12 weeks from today. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

23. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein.

24. This Court is thankful to both the counsels to see that this very old matter is disposed of.

(2022)05ILR A825
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 04.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 3712 of 2017

Parth @ Pratham ...Appellant
Versus
New India Insurance Co. Ltd. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Devesh Pratap Singh Chauhan, Sri Pawan Kumar Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Rakesh Bahadur

A. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – UP Motor Vehicle Rules, 1998 – Rule 220 – Compensation – Death of salaried person – Entitlement of future loss – Held, where deceased was salaried person, future loss of income must be added – High Court re-computed the compensation by adding 50% future prospect and applying multiplier of 15. (Para 8 and 13)

B. Motor Accident Claim – Share in compensation – Hindu law or personal law – Applicability – Sole minor survive the deceased – Minor's right of getting the compensation – Tribunal granted 1/6 of the compensation to be paid to the minor – Validity challenged – Held, claim case is not a partition suit. The legal representative/legal heir would be entitled to the compensation for the tortious act of the driver for which the owner would be vicariously liable and the Insurance Co. would have to indemnity the third party – The appellant is the sole surviving legal heir, the compensation has to be decided as per the provisions of Section 166 and not as per Hindu Law or the personal law, this is error which has crept in the judgment and award of the Tribunal – The Tribunal could not have held that the appellant would be entitled to only 1/6 of the share. (Para 9)

Appeal partly allowed (E-1)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Vimla Kanwar Vs St. of Raj. & ors.; 2018 CrLJ 4111

2. Sarla Verma Vs Delhi Transport Corp.; (2009) 6 SCC 121

3. Gobald Motor Service Ltd. & Vs R. M. K. Veluswami & ors. AIR 1962 SC 1

4. General Manager Kerala State Road Transport Corp. Trivandrum Vs Susamma Thomas & ors. 1994 (2) SCC 176

5. National Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors., 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050

6. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I. & ors. decided by Apex Court on 27.1.2022

7. A.V.Padma Vs Venugopal; 2012 (1) GLH (SC) 442

8. Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd; 2007(2) GLH 291

9. Review Application No. 1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No. 23 of 2001; Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Sri Devesh Pratap Singh Chauhan, learned counsel appearing for the appellant and Sri Rakesh Bahadur, learned counsel appearing for the Insurance Company. None is present for the owner.

2. The present appeal has been preferred against the judgment and award dated 15.09.2017 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/ Additional District Judge, Court No.4/ Special Judge, E.C. Act, Farrukhabad in M.A.C.P. No.36 of 2013 (Parth @ Pratham Vs. New India Insurance Co. Ltd. granting compensation of Rs.8,50,960/- with interest at the rate of 6%.

3. A very tragic death of three people of the family leaving a minor of 10 years child who is only sole surviving legal representative, who has preferred this appeal. The award in claim petitions for the compensation on death of other two have attained finality. We have no burden on the judgment of Rajastahan High Court in the case of Vimla Kanwar Vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors. 2018 CrLJ 4111 with unnecessary facts that the accident took place on 23.06.2011 is not in dispute. Ranveer Singh (the deceased) was a doctor aged about 36 years and was in government job and his monthly income was Rs.43,998/- are not in dispute.

4. Ranveer Singh was a Government Doctor and was fetching net income of Rs.43,998/- per month. The learned Tribunal below had illegally deducted Rs.2,000/- from the monthly income for the purposes of calculation of the compensation. As per the established principles of the law in this regard, the calculation ought to have been done on the basis of the net income. He further submitted that no amount under the head of future loss of income could have been granted.

5. It is further contended by learned counsel for the appellant that the Tribunal has not considered grounds and committed error in granting 1/6 of the amount to the claimant as the claimant is the sole surviving legal heir of the deceased.

6. Sri Rakesh Bahadur, learned counsel for the respondent has submitted that income which has been considered is just and proper. It is further contended that the Tribunal has not committed any error in granting 1/6 of the amount to the claimant as the claimant is the sole surviving legal heir of the deceased. It is further submitted by Sri Rakesh Bahadur that multiplier granted by the Tribunal is just and proper and demand of Rs.5/- lacs for loss of love and affection and Rs.5/- for constrodian could be granted. It is further submitted by Sri Rakesh Bahadur, learned counsel for the respondent that demand of interest at the 18% is against the rule of U.P. Motor Vehicle Rules, 1998 (Amended in 2011) and it is next submitted that repo-rate is consistently falling, the interest cannot be more than 7%. It is further submitted that non-pecuniary damages should be granted as per the rule (supra).

7. The factum of accident is not in dispute. The negligence of the truck driver which has been considered by the Tribunal is also not in dispute as it is evident from the record that the driver of the truck was driving his vehicle rashly and negligently came on the wrong side and dashed with the car driven by the father of the appellant who along with his wife and his son died on the spot, hence, the same issue has attain finality. As per the liability of the Insurance Company is concerned, there is no dispute that the vehicle was insured and the driver had proper valid driving licence. The Insurance Company and the owner has accepted the finding of facts and they have attend finality. The liability on Insurance Company has been accepted by the Insurance Company.

8. The only question which is left for our consideration is the issue of compensation. The Tribunal though considered the judgment of Sarla Verma Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation, (2009) 6 SCC 121, has not added any amount towards the head of future loss of income though the deceased was a doctor and was in government job which is evident from the evidence and the discretion of the Tribunal, and thereafter, even as per the judgment of Sarla Verma (supra) future loss of income would be admissible. The law was very clearly propounded by the Apex Court In Gobald Motor Service Ltd. & Vs. R. M. K. Veluswami & Others AIR 1962 SC 1 and in General Manager Kerla State Road Transport Corporation Trivandrum Vs. Susamma Thomas and others 1994 (2) SCC 176 reiterated in Sarla Verma (supra) that where deceased was salaried person, future loss of income must be added. The Rule 220 of The U.P. Motor Vehicle Rules, 1998 (Amended in 2011) have specified the same, hence, for the same, we will have to consider the question of future loss of income and modify the same. We will have to decide three aspects, (i) whether, the appellant is entitled to future loss of income for the death of his father, the appellant has lost his father at the tender age of 10 year, (ii) whether, the non-pecuniary damages granted by Tribunal requires and most importantly and very strangely the Tribunal after relying on Rule 220 of the U.P. Motor Vehicle Rules, 1998 (Amended in 2011), which stipulated as follows:-

"Rule 220. Judgment and award of compensation-

(1) The claims Tribunal, in passing orders, shall record concisely in judgment the findings on each of the issues framed and the reasons for such finding and make an award, specifying the amount of compensation to be paid by the insurer or in the case of a vehicle exempted under sub-section (2) or (3) of Section 146 by the owner thereof and shall also specify the person or persons to whom compensation shall be payable.

(2) Where compensation is awarded to two or more persons under sub-rule (1) the Claims Tribunal shall also specify the amount payable to each of them.

(3) The Claims Tribunal may, while disposing of claims for compensation, make such orders regarding costs and expenses incurred in the proceeding as it thinks fit.

9. Sri Rakesh Bahadur, learned counsel appearing for the respondent submitted that there is a rule that a minor will get 1/6 of the share. The issue is not share and how much will be given to a minor. The question before us is that the minor is the sole legal heir/legal representative to whom the other amount would be admissible, whether it would go as corpus for the same only 1/6 cannot be made available to him as no one else is a recipient of the amount. This is not a partition suit. The legal representative/legal heir would be entitled to the compensation for the tortious act of the driver for which the owner would be vicariously liable and the Insurance Company would have to indemnity the third party. The appellant is the sole surviving legal heir, the compensation has to be decided as per the provisions of Section 166 and not as per Hindu Law or the personal law, this is error which has crept in the judgment and award of the Tribunal. The Tribunal could not have held that the appellant would be entitled to only 1/6 of the share. Learned counsel for the respondent could not satisfies that the said finding requires to be upheld. Once is proved that he is the only legal surviving heir, the entire corpus would go to him.

10. The counsel for the appellant contended that interest 18% should be granted. It is submitted by Sri Rakesh Bahadur, learned counsel for the respondent that the repo-rates have gone down, hence rate of interest 18% cannot be granted. The Rule 220 of the U.P. Motor Vehicle Rules, 1988 (Amended in 2011) specifies that interest would be at the rate of 7%.

11. Having considered the rival submission of both the learned Advocates as far as interest is concerned, we would have to consider the provisions of Section 171 of the Motor Vehicle Act, 1980 enjoy the duty on the Tribunal to grant interest for delay in payment. In this case, the litigation was pending since 2013. The accident took place on 23.06.2011, no reasons are assigned why the conditional rate of interest is granted. As the matter has been conciliated on the basis of compensation on the ground of admissible compensation, we deem it fit to grant interest at the rate of 6% and deprecate the practice of granting such conditional interest which has been deprecated by the Apex Court also. The rate of interest would be 6% from the filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited.

12. We are in agreement with the submission made by Sri Rakesh Bahadur that The amount which would be admissible Rs.43998/- as granted by the Tribunal + 50% as the deceased was 36 years of age and a salaried person, multiplier granted 15 is just and proper as per the judgment of the Apex Court in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0

Supreme (SC) 1050, we cannot accept the submission of learned counsel for the appellant and Rs.5/- lacs will have to be awarded for loss of love and affection and Rs.5/- lacs for consortium. Three persons who are dependent on him, hence, 1/3 will have to be deducted which also has not been done by the Tribunal. It would be Rs.50,000/- for the minor child for loss of love and affection who lost his father and mother at the prime age. Rs.50,000/- would be granted for funeral charges for parents. The amount under the non-pecuniary head would be Rs.50,000/-.

13. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants is computed herein below:

i. Monthly Income: Rs.43,998/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 50% namely Rs.21999/-

iii. Total income : Rs.43,999/- +21,999/- = Rs.65,997/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3rd towards personal expenses : Rs.43,998/-

v. Annual income : Rs.43,998/- x 12 = Rs.5,27,976/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 15

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.5,27,976/- x 15 = Rs.79,19,640/- viii. Amount under all non pecuniary heads: Rs.1,50,000/- =

ix. Total compensation: Rs.80,69,640/-.

14. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and award passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the additional amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 6% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

15. The young boy would have now become major as the accident took place on 23.06.2011 if he shows cogent evidence that he is capable of handling the money 50% may be released for his further studies. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. Vs Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. The amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R., 50% would be deposited for coming five years.

16. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment be passed by Tribunal.

17. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

18. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

19. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. Vs Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As 10 years have elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

20. A copy of this judgment be circulated so that the Tribunals in future may not commit such mistake. A copy of this order be sent to Balveer Singh also for his guidance.

21. The record and proceedings, if any, be transmitted to the Tribunal forthwith.

22. This Court is thankful to both the advocates for ably assisting the Court.

(2022)05ILR A830
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE 07.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 3750 of 2009
With
First Appeal From Order No. 299 of 2010

Anoop Maheshwari ...Appellant
Versus
Shiv Kumar Singh & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Satya Deo Ojha, Sri Achintya Kumar, Sri Komal Mehrotra, Sri Arvind Srivastava

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Anand Kumar Sinha

A. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Sections 2(21) & 147 – Claim – Breach of policy – Whether driver possessed proper driving licence or not – Nature of vehicle – Determination – Vehicle was having unladen weight of 6200 Kg, which is less than 7500 Kg – Held, though it is termed as a truck, but is Light Motor Vehicle – Held further, vehicle was being driven by a person authorised to drive it. (Para 20 and 22)

B. Civil Law - UP Motor Vehicle Rules, 1998 – R. 220 – Compensation – Future loss – Entitlement – Accident took place in 2007 – Rule 220 providing for future loss, came into force in 2011 – Effect – Held, future loss of income has to be given for injury cases whether the rules specify or not – Just because the rules are silent, the claimant cannot be deprived of this benefit – Kajal's case relied upon – High Court re-computed the compensation by adding 40% future prospect and applying multiplier of 18 and granted Rs. 2 lacks for loss of amenities. (Para 23, 29, 30, 31 and 32)

C. Civil Law - Motor Accident Claim – Rash and negligent driving – Term 'Negligence' – Meaning – Principle of 'res ipsa loquitur' , when it can be applied – Negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental though it is normally accidental – If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply. (Para 11)

D. Civil Law - Motor Accident Claim – Principle of contributory negligence – Scope and meaning – A person who either contributes or is co author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place. (Para 12)

E. Civil Law - Income tax Act, 1961 – Section 194A (3) (ix) – Withdraw of amount of interest – Certificate of Income Tax authority, when required – Held, if the interest payable to any claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs. 50,000/-, insurance Co./owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 – And if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs. 50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimants to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. (Para 35)

Appeal partly allowed. (E-1)

List of Cases cited:-

1. U.P.S.R.T.C. Vs Km. Mamta AIR 2016 (SC) 948

2. Pawan Kumar & anr. vs M/S Harkishan Dass Mohan Lal & ors. decided by Apex Court on 29 January, 2014

3. First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012; Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Smt. Renu Singh & ors. decided by Allahabad High Court on 19.7.2016

4. Archit Saini & anr. Vs Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd.; AIR 2018 SC 1143

5. Khenyei Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd. & ors.; 2015 LawSuit (SC) 469

6. Singh Ram Vs Nirmala & ors. (2018) 3 SCC 800

7. National Insurance Com. Ltd. Vs Annappa Irappa Nesaria & ors. 2008 (1) T.A.C. Page 812 SC.

8. Kajal Vs Jagdish Chand & ors.; 2020 1 Supreme (SC) 110

9. R.D. hattangadi Vs M/s Pest Control (India) Pvt. Ltd. & ors. 1995 0 ACJ 366

10. Raj Kumar Vs Ajay Kumar & anr.; 2010 0 ACJ 1

11. Mohan Soni Vs Ram Avtar Tomar & ors..; 2012 1 ACC 1

12. Syed. Sadiq & ors. Vs Divisional Manager, United India Insurance Co. Ltd.; (2014) 2 SCC 735

13. Mukund Dewagan Vs Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd.; AIR 2017 SC 3668

14. Dinesh Singh Vs Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Ltd; 2014 (2) T.A.C. 737 (S.C.)

15. Pappu Deo Yadav Vs Naresh Kumar; AIR 2020 SC 4424

16. Erudhaya Priya Vs State Express Transport Corp. Ltd.; AIR 2020 SC 4284

17. Karthik Subramanian Vs B. Sarath Babu & Anr.; 2021 ACJ 993

18. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors. 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050

19. Gobald Motor Service Ltd. & Vs R. M. K. Veluswami & ors. AIR 1962 SC 1

20. Uttaranchal Transport Corp. Ltd. Vs Vimla Devi; 2009 (0) AIJEL-SC 66148

21. General Manager Kerala State Road Transport Corp. Trivandrum Vs Susamma Thomas & ors. 1994 (2) SCC 176

22. Sarla Verma Vs Delhi Transport Corp. (2009) 6 SCC 121

23. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors. 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050

24. Yadava Kumar Vs The Divisional Insurance Co. Ltd. & anr.; (2010) 10 SCC 341

25. Shahikala & ors. Vs Gangalashmamma & anr.; (2015) 9 SCC 150

26. Malarvizhi Vs United India Insurance Co. Ltd. & anr.; (2020) 4 SCC 228

27. Oriental Insurance Com. Vs Mathu Ram; 2019 ACJ 65 (HP)

28. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors. 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050

29. Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Poonam Kesarwani & ors. 2008 LawSuit (All) 1557

30.U.O.I. Vs A.S. Sharma 1995 ACJ 493

31. A.V.Padma Vs Venugopal; 2012 (1) GLH (SC) 442

32. Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd..; 2007(2) GLH 291

33. Review Application No. 1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No. 23 of 2001; Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr.

34. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I. & ors. decided by Apex Court on 27.1.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Sri Anand Kumar Sinha, learned counsel for the Insurance Company and Sri Satya Deo Ojha, learned counsel assisted by Sri Achintya Kumar, learned counsel for the claimant.

2. Both these appeals have been preferred against the common award dated 23.10.2009 passed by A.D.J., Special Judge (E.C. Act) Varansasi/ Motor Accident Claims Tribunal, Varanasi in Claim Petition No. 206 of 2000 awarding a sum of Rs.13,23,831/- with interest at the rate of 06%.

3. Parties are referred as claimant and Insurance Company for the sake of convenience.

4. Brief facts of the case are that the accident occurred on 09.04.2007 when the claimant/injured was going with his friend Manish Kodiya on Motorcycle No. U.P. 65A. A-4337. The claimant was plying the said motorcycle and when they came near Sigra, a procession was going and at 02:45 p.m. when the claimant reached at Kuber Complex a Truck bearing No. U.P. 70 U-9437 on which L.P.G. Cylinders were loaded, and, the said truck was trying to overtake the vehicle driven by the claimant/injured and while trying to overtake via left without giving any signal took turn towards left side. The driver Awadhesh Kumar- respondent no.2 was driving the truck in rash and negligent manner dashed the vehicle driven by claimant. The claimant/injured was hospitalized in Singh Medical and Research Centre, Teliyabagh and was operated by Dr. Sunil Saran, Orthopedic Surgeon and Dr. Prashant Baranwal, Plastic Surgeon & General Surgeon and was hospitalized from 09.04.2007 to 12.04.2007. Due to the accidental injuries the doctors had to amputate left lower limb right from the thigh region. The claimant was thereafter shifted to New Delhi where he was admitted from 12.04.2007 to 17.05.2007 and thereafter also he was admitted in Jai Prakash Narayan, Apex Trama, Centre, AIMS, Delhi 17.05.2007 to 20.07.2007 and from there he was discharged but despite being discharged till he filed the claim petition and till the evidence was recorded he was under pain and he had suffered disability as opined by the doctors.

5. On notices/summons being issued the respondents appeared and did not accept that the accident occurred due to involvement of the said vehicle. Despite the fact that the charge sheet was laid against the drive of the truck. Respondent no.2 namely Awadhesh Yadav did not appear before the Tribunal. Respondent no.3 Insurance Company appeared and filed reply of denial.

6. The Tribunal framed about 8 issues and decided them mostly in favour of the claimant.

7. The claimant is aggrieved by the compensation awarded, where as the Insurance Company has raised several grounds for challenging the said award. In light of the judgment of the Apex Court reported in U.P.S.R.T.C. Vs. Km. Mamta AIR 2016 (SC) 948, all the issues raised have to be decided by this Court under Section 173 of the Motor Vehicles Act.

8. The grounds by Insurance Company are as follows:-

"(i) The accident was caused by the truck which was carrying L.P.G. Cylinders and it was a heavy Transport Vehicle having weight of 12,000 Kg. as such driver has to possess driving licence for heavy transport vehicle but the driver has only licence for Light Motor Vehicle even without endorsement of licence for transport vehicle.

(ii) The driver has no valid driving licence to drive transport vehicle and owner has committed breach of policy and as such appellant-Insurance Company is not liable to pay compensation.

(iii) The accident was caused on 09.04.2007 and on the date, the driver of vehicle has driving licence to drive L.M.V. and the driver obtained endorsement for driving transport vehicle on 17.04.2007 i.e. after accident taken place.

(iv) The law is settled that endorsement of Transport vehicle is necessary indiscriminately whether the driving licence is for L.M.V. or for H.G.V. whereas the weight of truck is 12,000. Kg.

(v) The claimant/injured was driving Motorcycle and he was also negligent in causing accident.

(vi) The learned Judge gave the finding that the claimant has no independent income but even then wrongly assess the income of Rs.4,500/- per month arbitrarily without any basis or evidence whereas the Schedule provides that if no income is proved only Rs.15,000/- per annum may be presumed for assessing the income.

(vii) The Tribunal has wrongly applied multiplier according to Schedule although the application was filed under Section 166 of M.V. Act and more than Rs.40,000/- per annum income was assessed and Tribunal also fixed more than Rs.40,000/- per annum income of the injured/claimant.

(viii) If the injured was sitting on the shop he can still sit in the shop and there is no loss of any earning.

(ix) As per Schedule of workman compensation Act the injured caused is amount 30% disability but the learned Tribunal assess the disability of 45% contrary to the provisions of statute.

(x) The learned Tribunal wrongly allowed Rs.4,70,000/- for artificial leg and in case the artificial leg is fixed to the injured his disability for earning loss will be reduced and the compensation awarded him is much more excessive.

(xi) The Tribunal wrongly allowed Rs.1,00,000/- for assistant which is not permissible under Schedule.

(xii) The Tribunal wrongly allowed Rs.3,39,926/- for medical expenses and over and above Tribunal further allowed Rs.4,70,000/- for artificial leg and such circumstance compensation for Rs.4,13,100/- is absolutely illegal and unjustified."

9. Heard the learned Advocates for the claimant and Insurance Company. None appears for the Owner or driver of the Truck.

10. In these appeals 3(three) issues arise for our consideration: (i) whether claimant was also negligent and the finding of Tribunal not returning a finding holding him contributor of accident is bad? (ii) Whether the finding that there is no breach of policy is bad. (iii) Whether compensation awarded requires re-computation.

Issue No.1:- Negligence visa vis contributory negligence.

The concept of contributory negligence has been time and again evolved, decided and discussed by the courts.

11. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental which is normally accidental. More particularly, it connotes reckless driving and the injured must always prove that the either side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply.

12. The term contributory negligence has been discussed time and again a person who either contributes or is author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place. The Apex Court in Pawan Kumar & Anr vs M/S Harkishan Dass Mohan Lal & Ors decided on 29 January, 2014 has held as follows:

7. Where the plaintiff/claimant himself is found to be a party to the negligence the question of joint and several liability cannot arise and the plaintiff's claim to the extent of his own negligence, as may be quantified, will have to be severed. In such a situation the plaintiff can only be held entitled to such part of damages/compensation that is not attributable to his own negligence. The above principle has been explained in T.O.

Anthony (supra) followed in K. Hemlatha & Ors. (supra). Paras 6 and 7 of T.O. Anthony (supra) which are relevant may be extracted hereinbelow:

"6. "Composite negligence" refers to the negligence on the part of two or more persons. Where a person is injured as a result of negligence on the part of two or more wrongdoers, it is said that the person was injured on account of the composite negligence of those wrongdoers. In such a case, each wrongdoer is jointly and severally liable to the injured for payment of the entire damages and the injured person has the choice of proceeding against all or any of them. In such a case, the injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrongdoer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrongdoer separately. On the other hand where a person suffers injury, partly due to the negligence on the part of another person or persons, and partly as a result of his own negligence, then the negligence on the part of the injured which contributed to the accident is referred to as his contributory negligence. Where the injured is guilty of some negligence, his claim for damages is not defeated merely by reason of the negligence on his part but the damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries stand reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence.

7. Therefore, when two vehicles are involved in an accident, and one of the drivers claims compensation from the other driver alleging negligence, and the other driver denies negligence or claims that the injured claimant himself was negligent, then it becomes necessary to consider whether the injured claimant was negligent and if so, whether he was solely or partly responsible for the accident and the extent of his responsibility, that is, his contributory negligence. Therefore where the injured is himself partly liable, the principle of "composite negligence" will not apply nor can there be an automatic inference that the negligence was 50:50 as has been assumed in this case. The Tribunal ought to have examined the extent of contributory negligence of the appellant and thereby avoided confusion between composite negligence and contributory negligence. The High Court has failed to correct the said error."

13. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 which has held as under:

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.

20. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side."

14. The Apex Court recently has considered the principles of negligence in case of Archit Saini and Another Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Limited, AIR 2018 SC 1143 which would apply in the facts of this case.

15. The Apex Court in Khenyei Vs. New India Assurance Company Limited & Others, 2015 LawSuit (SC) 469 has held as under for negligence as well as breach of policy condition:-

4. It is a case of composite negligence where injuries have been caused to the claimants by combined wrongful act of joint tort feasors. In a case of accident caused by negligence of joint tort feasors, all the persons who aid or counsel or direct or join in committal of a wrongful act, are liable. In such case, the liability is always joint and several. The extent of negligence of joint tort feasors in such a case is immaterial for satisfaction of the claim of the plaintiff/claimant and need not be determined by the by the court. However, in case all the joint tort feasors are before the court, it may determine the extent of their liability for the purpose of adjusting inter-se equities between them at appropriate stage. The liability of each and every joint tort feasor vis a vis to plaintiff/claimant cannot be bifurcated as it is joint and several liability. In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between tort feasors for making payment to the plaintiff is not permissible as the plaintiff/claimant has the right to recover the entire amount from the easiest targets/solvent defendant.

14. There is a difference between contributory and composite negligence. In the case of contributory negligence, a person who has himself contributed to the extent cannot claim compensation for the injuries sustained by him in the accident to the extent of his own negligence;whereas in the case of composite negligence, a person who has suffered has not contributed to the accident but the outcome of combination of negligence of two or more other persons. This Court in T.O. Anthony v. Karvarnan & Ors. [2008 (3) SCC 748] has held that in case of contributory negligence, injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong doer separately. It is only in the case of contributory negligence that the injured himself has contributed by his negligence in the accident. Extent of his negligence is required to be determined as damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries have to be reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence. The relevant portion is extracted hereunder :

"6. 'Composite negligence' refers to the negligence on the part of two or more persons. Where a person is injured as a result of negligence on the part of two or more wrong doers, it is said that the person was injured on account of the composite negligence of those wrong-doers. In such a case, each wrong doer, is jointly and severally liable to the injured for payment of the entire damages and the injured person has the choice of proceeding against all or any of them. In such a case, the injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong-doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong-doer separately. On the other hand where a person suffers injury, partly due to the negligence on the part of another person or persons, and partly as a result of his own negligence, then the negligence of the part of the injured which contributed to the accident is referred to as his contributory negligence. Where the injured is guilty of some negligence, his claim for damages is not defeated merely by reason of the negligence on his part but the damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries stands reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence.

7. Therefore, when two vehicles are involved in an accident, and one of the drivers claims compensation from the other driver alleging negligence, and the other driver denies negligence or claims that the injured claimant himself was negligent, then it becomes necessary to consider whether the injured claimant was negligent and if so, whether he was solely or partly responsible for the accident and the extent of his responsibility, that is his contributory negligence. Therefore where the injured is himself partly liable, the principle of 'composite negligence' will not apply nor can there be an automatic inference that the negligence was 50:50 as has been assumed in this case. The Tribunal ought to have examined the extent of contributory negligence of the appellant and thereby avoided confusion between composite negligence and contributory negligence. The High Court has failed to correct the said error."

18. This Court in Challa Bharathamma &Nanjappan (supra) has dealt with the breach of policy conditions by the owner when the insurer was asked to pay the compensation fixed by the tribunal and the right to recover the same was given to the insurer in the executing court concerned if the dispute between the insurer and the owner was the subject-matter of determination for the tribunal and the issue has been decided in favour of the insured. The same analogy can be applied to the instant cases as the liability of the joint tort feasor is joint and several. In the instant case, there is determination of inter se liability of composite negligence to the extent of negligence of 2/3rd and 1/3rd of respective drivers. Thus, the vehicle - trailor-truck which was not insured with the insurer, was negligent to the extent of 2/3rd. It would be open to the insurer being insurer of the bus after making payment to claimant to recover from the owner of the trailor-truck the amount to the aforesaid extent in the execution proceedings. Had there been no determination of the inter se liability for want of evidence or other joint tort feasor had not been impleaded, it was not open to settle such a dispute and to recover the amount in execution proceedings but the remedy would be to file another suit or appropriate proceedings in accordance with law.

What emerges from the aforesaid discussion is as follows :

(i) In the case of composite negligence, plaintiff/claimant is entitled to sue both or any one of the joint tort feasors and to recover the entire compensation as liability of joint tort feasors is joint and several.

(ii) In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between two tort feasors vis a vis the plaintiff/claimant is not permissible. He can recover at his option whole damages from any of them.

(iii) In case all the joint tort feasors have been impleaded and evidence is sufficient, it is open to the court/tribunal to determine inter se extent of composite negligence of the drivers. However, determination of the extent of negligence between the joint tort feasors is only for the purpose of their inter se liability so that one may recover the sum from the other after making whole of payment to the plaintiff/claimant to the extent it has satisfied the liability of the other. In case both of them have been impleaded and the apportionment/ extent of their negligence has been determined by the court/tribunal, in main case one joint tort feasor can recover the amount from the other in the execution proceedings."

16. The Tribunal while considering the issue of negligence has categorically held that the charge sheet, F.I.R and the site plan has been properly evaluated by it and the evidence of the claimant proves that the vehicle was involved in the accident insured by the respondent. The driver of the truck who is the best witness has not stepped into the witness box. The finding of facts as to the accident being authored by the driver of the truck who was driving his truck rashly and negligently cannot be brushed aside. The Tribunal has even considered that in the written statement the owner did not file rebuttal contending that the claimant was negligent. This also will not permit us to consider the submission of Sri Sinha that the claimant was contributor to the accident.

Issue no.2: Breach of Policy:-

This takes us to the submission that the vehicle was being driven without proper licence and there is breach of policy condition.

17. It is the submission of Sri Sinha, learned counsel for the Insurance Company that the vehicle involved in the accident was a heavy motor vehicle and the license of the driver which is endorsed later than the accident goes to show that there is a tick mark on licence for driving heavy motor vehicle but is later than accident. The submission of Sri Sinha is that the interpolation is after the incident took place. It is submitted by Sri Ojha, learned counsel for the claimant that it is a dispute between the owner of the vehicle insured by Insurance Company and driver of the truck, and claimant being third party his right cannot be scuttled. However, considering this aspect we can give recovery rights to Insurance Company subject to proving that the driver did not have license to drive heavy vehicle and that the owner had entrusted the truck to a person fully knowing that he was not having proper driving license, however, the factual finding that the unladen weight of the vehicle would fall within definition of Light Motor Vehicle as per Section 2(21) of the Motor Vehicle Act, 1988. This since on a bare reading of license page 102 that there is a tick mark but the same is not proved before the Tribunal to be after or before the accident.

18. It is further submitted that the driver of the truck was not having license to drive heavy vehicle. It is submitted that this is also apparent from the record. It is submitted that the tribunal has considered that the vehicle involved in the accident was a light motor vehicle This finding according to learned counsel for the appellant-Insurance Company is bad even on facts and law.

19. It is further submitted by learned counsel for the Insurance Company that the Tribunal while considering the aforesaid aspect about licence that the driving licence was valid from 31.01.2005 to 30.01.2025 of the motorcyclist. The driving licence of the driver of offending vehicle shows that Driving Licence No.35910 Varanasi 98 valid from 22.07.2004 to 21.07.2007 for light motor vehicle and from 17.04.2007 it was endorsed for heavy motor vehicle, the said document has been verified by Insurance Company. The accident occurred on 09.04.2007 and therefore, it cannot be said that on 09.04.2007 the driver had proper driving licence. Learned counsel further submitted that the driver did not have valid driving licence whether the vehicle was bearing 6200 kg. has to be evaluated from record which we would advert to later.

20. The definition of Light Motor Vehicle under Section 2 (21) reads as under:-

"(21) "light motor vehicle" means a transport vehicle or omnibus the gross vehicle weight of either of which or a motor car or tractor or road-roller the unladen weight of any of which, does not exceed [7500] kilograms."

21. Section 147 Requirements of policies and limits of liability. --

"(1) In order to comply with the requirements of this Chapter, a policy of insurance must be a policy which--

(a) is issued by a person who is an authorised insurer; and

(b) insures the person or classes of persons specified in the policy to the extent specified in sub-section (2)--

(i) against any liability which may be incurred by him in respect of the death of or bodily [injury to any person, including owner of the goods or his authorised representative carried in the vehicle] or damage to any property of a third party caused by or arising out of the use of the vehicle in a public place;

(ii) against the death of or bodily injury to any passenger of a public service vehicle caused by or arising out of the use of the vehicle in a public place:

Provided that a policy shall not be required--

(i) to cover liability in respect of the death, arising out of and in the course of his employment, of the employee of a person insured by the policy or in respect of bodily injury sustained by such an employee arising out of and in the course of his employment other than a liability arising under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923 (8 of 1923) in respect of the death of, or bodily injury to, any such employee--

(a) engaged in driving the vehicle, or

(b) if it is a public service vehicle engaged as conductor of the vehicle or in examining tickets on the vehicle, or

(c) if it is a goods carriage, being carried in the vehicle, or

(ii) to cover any contractual liability.

Explanation. --For the removal of doubts, it is hereby declared that the death of or bodily injury to any person or damage to any property of a third party shall be deemed to have been caused by or to have arisen out of, the use of a vehicle in a public place notwithstanding that the person who is dead or injured or the property which is damaged was not in a public place at the time of the accident, if the act or omission which led to the accident occurred in a public place.

(2) Subject to the proviso to sub-section (1), a policy of insurance referred to in sub-section (1), shall cover any liability incurred in respect of any accident, up to the following limits, namely:--

(a) save as provided in clause (b), the amount of liability incurred;

(b) in respect of damage to any property of a third party, a limit of rupees six thousand:

Provided that any policy of insurance issued with any limited liability and in force, immediately before the commencement of this Act, shall continue to be effective for a period of four months after such commencement or till the date of expiry of such policy whichever is earlier.

(3) A policy shall be of no effect for the purposes of this Chapter unless and until there is issued by the insurer in favour of the person by whom the policy is effected a certificate of insurance in the prescribed form and containing the prescribed particulars of any condition subject to which the policy is issued and of any other prescribed matters; and different forms, particulars and matters may be prescribed in different cases.

(4) Where a cover note issued by the insurer under the provisions of this Chapter or the rules made thereunder is not followed by a policy of insurance within the prescribed time, the insurer shall, within seven days of the expiry of the period of the validity of the cover note, notify the fact to the registering authority in whose records the vehicle to which the cover note relates has been registered or to such other authority as the State Government may prescribe.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in any law for the time being in force, an insurer issuing a policy of insurance under this section shall be liable to indemnify the person or classes of persons specified in the policy in respect of any liability which the policy purports to cover in the case of that person or those classes of persons."

22. The document which is produced on Rs.10/- Stamp Paper along with Transport Department, Uttar Pradesh Certificate as document 1/2 and 1/3 goes to show that unladen weight of the vehicle was 6200 kg. and therefore, no fault can be found with the finding of the Tribunal. The Oriental Insurance Company has also mentioned in the policy that weight does not exceed 7500 kg. and can not exceed 12000 kg. which categorically shows that finding of fact that though the vehicle is termed as heavy goods vehicle it was having unladen weight of 6200 kg, though, it is termed as a truck but is Light Motor Vehicle. Once the prime facie evidence is before the Tribunal and this Court that the unladen weight was 6200 kg., the request of Sri Anand Sinha, learned counsel to grant what is known as recovery rights cannot be granted even on the document at Page 58(G) which is the same xerox copy of the document which is particular slip of the vehicle and also mentions the unladen weight 6200 kg. laden weight is more. In view of the matter, it cannot be said that the vehicle was being driven by a person not authorised to drive the said vehicle. The driver could have been examined by the Insurance Company but the same has not been done. The record goes to show that licence was valid for Heavy Motor Vehicle but whether it was in vogue on date of accident or not will have to be proved, which fact gives rise to doubt about whether licence was valid for Heavy Motor Vehicle from July, 2004 to 27.07.2007. We could grant recovery rights to the Insurance Company on the ground that the driving licence though there is a tick mark to drive heavy goods passengers vehicle, there is a dispute regarding the same and therefore, if the appellant-Insurance Company proves as directed by the Apex Court in the case of Singh Ram Vs. Nirmala and Others, (2018) 3 SCC 800, the recovery rights can be granted but the vehicle is held to be Light Motor Vehicle and we concur with the Tribunal on re-scanning the documents produced and proved for the reasons given by Tribunal and reevaluated by us. The Tribunal has rightly relied on the decision in the case of National Insurance Com. Ltd. Vs. Annappa Irappa Nesaria and Others 2008 (1) T.A.C. Page 812 SC. so as to come to the conclusion that the vehicle weights less than 7500 kg and therefore, it was a light motor vehicle though cylinders were carried in the said vehicle.

Compensation:-

As far as the compensation granted is concerned and to be granted, learned counsel for the Insurance Company has submitted that in the State of Uttar Pradesh Rule 220 of the Uttar Pradesh Motor Vehicle Rules came into force in the year 2011 and hence, no future loss of income could be granted as in this case accident occurred in the year 2007.

23. In the case titled Kajal Vs. Jagdish Chand & Ors. 2020 1 Supreme (SC) 110 the Apex Court has held that future loss of income has to be given for injury cases whether the rules specify or not. This is an accident of the year 2007 just because the rules are silent, the claimant cannot be deprived of this benefit. In catena of decisions even prior to year 2011 future loss of income was considered to be grantable. The recent decisions of the Apex Court in the case of (1) Kajal Vs. Jagdish Chand & Ors. 2020 1 Supreme (SC) 110, (2) R.D. hattangadi Vs. M/s Pest Control (India) Pvt. Ltd. And others reported in 1995 0 ACJ 366, (3) Raj Kumar Vs. Ajay Kumar & Anr. reported in 2010 0 ACJ 1, (4) Mohan Soni Vs. Ram Avtar Tomar and Ors. reported in 2012 1 ACC 1, (5) Syed. Sadiq and others Vs. Divisional Manager, United India Insurance Company Limited, (2014) 2 SCC 735, (6) Mukund Dewagan Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Ltd. Reported in AIR 2017 SC 3668, cited by Sri Ojha will not permit us to accept the submission of Sri Sinha as the judgment in Dinesh Singh Vs. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Ltd (2014 (2) T.A.C. 737 (S.C.) also deals with case of injury. Raj Kumar (supra) which is a judgment of the year 2010 will not permit us to accept the submission of Sri Sinha which though appears attractive but cannot apply to the facts of this case. We cannot accept the submission of Sri Sinha as in catena of decisions which are binding on this Court granting future loss of income namely (a) Pappu Deo Yadav Vs. Naresh Kumar, AIR 2020 SC 4424, (b) Erudhaya Priya Vs. State Express Transport Corporation Ltd., AIR 2020 SC 4284 and (c) Karthik Subramanian Vs. B. Sarath Babu & Anr., reported in 2021 ACJ 993 has granted future loss of income. The submission of Sri Sinha so as to point error in judgment as even while considering the judgment prior to the judgment of National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050, namely Gobald Motor Service Ltd. & Vs. R. M. K. Veluswami & Others AIR 1962 SC 1 wherein also even in the said decision the future loss of income has been considered. It is submitted by counsel for the Insurance Company that as the accident and the dispute is prior to the decision in Syed. Sadiq and others Vs. Divisional Manager, United India Insurance Company Limited, (2014) 2 SCC 735 no future loss of income can be awarded. The decision of the Apex Court in Gobald Motor Service Ltd. (supra) cannot be countenanced in light of these decisions even in the case of Uttaranchal Transport Corporation Ltd. Vs. Vimla Devi 2009 (0) AIJEL-SC 66148 wherein also the question of future loss of income of injured was considered. The decisions rendered by the Apex Court in General Manager Kerla State Road Transport Corporation Trivandrum Vs. Susamma Thomas and others 1994 (2) SCC 176, thus, the submission of Sri Sinha cannot be accepted in the light of the decisions which are prior to the decision of Sarla Verma Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation, (2009) 6 SCC 121 and the decision of Syed. Sadiq (supra) will apply in full force. We cannot accept the submission of the counsel for the Insurance Company that the matter should be remanded as the judgment in the case of National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050 is for death cases and does not lay down guidelines for injury cases. In (a) Yadava Kumar Vs. The Divisional Insurance Co. Ltd. & Another (2010) 10 SCC 341, (b) Shahikala & Ors. Vs. Gangalashmamma & Anr. (2015) 9 SCC 150 and in (c) Malarvizhi Vs. United India Insurance Company Ltd. 7 Anr. (2020) 4 SCC 228 (d) Oriental Insurance Com. Vs. Mathu Ram 2019 ACJ 65 (HP). The decision of the Apex Court in the case of National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050 applies to injury cases also and applies for future loss of income. In the facts of this case the latest judgment in the case of Kajal Vs. Jagdish Chand & Ors. 2020 1 Supreme (SC) 110 will oblige us to award just compensation which we are recalculating.

24. The injured was under treatment when the petition was filed in 2005. He was time and again admitted in hospital which is proved from the records produced before the Tribunal.

25. We have considered the submission of Sri Sinha that the income cannot be Rs.30,000/- per month as the business is continued, however, looking to the ITR returns considering income to be Rs.8,000/- per month. Injured has 45 per cent disability, the age of the injured was 21 years, 40 per cent would have to be added for future loss of income on basis of decisions cited and precedents on this subject. The medical expenses of Rs.8,10,000/- have been granted.

26. The compensation awarded by the Tribunal is Rs.13,23,831/- with interest payable at 6% simple interest.

27. There is a question of remanding the matter as per the submission of the learned counsel for the Insurance Company. It is submitted by Sri Sinha, learned counsel for the Insurance Company that it was the duty of the claimant to prove the medical bills. There is no evidence to prove that the medical bills are fake just because of the statement to hold that it cannot be read in evidence is not accepted in the light of judgment of this High Court in Oriental Insurance Company Limited Vs. Poonam Kesarwani and others, 2008 LawSuit (All) 1557, hence, we consider the medical bills to be for figure of Rs.8,00,000/-. For pain, shock and suffering, nothing has been awarded by the Tribunal and we grant Rs.1,00,000/- because of the amputation of lower limb of a young person who was of 21 years.

28. The Tribunal has considered the income of the injured to be Rs.4500/- and considering that he had sustained 45% by way of disability and that is how he held that he is entitled to Rs.24,300/- per year multiplied by 17, granted Rs.8,10,731/- for medical expenses and Rs.4,13,100/- towards loss of income for other non-pecuniary damages a sum of Rs.1/- lac was awarded rounding up the figure to Rs.13,23,831/- at 6%. This is the calculation which according to the learned counsel for the applicant is bad in eye of law. It is submitted by learned counsel for the applicant that the injured was in business and he has proved his income to be Rs.20,000/- and his disability should be considered 50%, hence, Rs.10,000/- be considered as incme to which he being 21 years of age and to his personal income 40% must added and a multiplier of 18 should be granted. It is submitted that the future economic loss Rs.10/- lac should be awarded. Towards pain, shocks and suffering it should be Rs.1/- lacs as he has amputation of lower limb. For medical expenses he has demanded Rs.17,25,790/- and for future medicine it is demanded Rs.5/- lacs should be granted, for special diet and Rs.50,000/- and Rs.3/- lacs for other charges, totaling it to Rs.59,15,790/- lacs and interest at 9% has been demanded. While going by the records one thing is borne in mind that claimant has filed Income Tax Return of last 3 years which shows upward increasing income from the independent and proprietary business of the applicant and it is submitted that the same is ignored by the Tribunal. It is further submitted that for future medical expenses no amount is awarded. It is submitted that report of the Investigator of Oriental Insurance Company Ltd. though was not proved by leading evidence, has been taken into consideration by the tribunal.

29. Having heard the learned counsel for the claimant as well as Sri Sinha as we have held that Income Tax Return should be considered. We have held that future loss of income is admissible. The judgment in Raj Kumar (supra) will have to be looked into and a old decision of the Gujarat High in Union of India Vs. A.S. Sharma 1995 ACJ 493 will have to be looked into before we decide to recompute the amount. Learned counsel for the claimant-appellant had contended that his annual income was Rs.1,96,000/- as he has invested Rs.39/- lacs for his business and in future he would earn Rs.1/- lac per month and before the accident he had his own shop which was known as Amit Traders which was his alias name. For three years namely from the age of 18 he used to earn

Rs.15,000/- per month from the said business. He used to file Income Tax Return also. He has already produced the bills and vouchers of the building material which he used to purchase which is at 25G/4 though the shop is in the name of the appellant's father. The firm is also a registered firm which deals with tiles, sentinel fitting, building materials. The diary of the said firm is also produced on record. The firm was a propitiatory firm despite this fact the tribunal has misread the document in coming to the conclusion that the applicant has not proved how many partners were there. The injured was an entrepreneur who was in last year of B. Com. The tribunal comes to the conclusion that as he was a student he could have not gaven proper attention to his business and that he had any personal income. According to this Court the said finding is an error apparent on the record as the Income Tax Return is in his name The Tribunal comes to the conclusion that Income Tax is only with a view to save the tax to be paid by the mother and father of the injured. This finding is based on his own surmise and conjuncture without any proof, just because the father of the injured has also has a shop which is also of building material this finding is returned and that is why the Tribunal held that the income of claimant to be Rs.4500/- per month which is bad in eye of law. The medical certificate at Document 25G Dr. V.N. Verma who has been examined on oath has proved the said document. The Tribunal goes by the concept in the Workman Compensation Act, 1923 and has come to the conclusion that if both the lower limbs are amputated then 90% would be disability as he has only one limb which is amputated it would be 45% disability. He has not considered the other injuries which have been narrated in the medical forms and that is why he has granted a sum of Rs.4,13,100/-. There are medical bills of Rs.12,54,985/- which are receipts which has been proved by leading evidence but because of same statements which are not proved and which cannot be read into evidence as per judgment of Poonam Kesharwani (supra) the Tribunal feels that a sum of rupees that only Rs.3,39,926/- which are found to be correct by the Tribunal is payable. The Tribunal holds that for other claims as he has not proved that he cannot marry, no amount can be awarded. The Tribunal thereafter has considered certain other amount under non-pecuniary damages and has came to the conclusion that sum of Rs.13,23,831/- would be payable. We hold that the income of the injured would be minimum Rs.8,000/-, 40% should be added, his disability would be 50% multiplied by 18, for medical expenses we grant him a sum of Rs.10/- lacs which is proved by the receipts and the other non-pecuniary damages granted by the Tribunal are maintained.

30. Where the appellant has become disabled to the tune of 50% and that too by his leg and he is not able to sit properly and walk and he has lost pleasures of life because he cannot lead a normal life after accident. It is natural that he had bleak prospects of marriage and family life as he was young boy of 21 years of age only. It can be said that the appellant has lost amenities of life to the great extent, which cannot be restored at all. Therefore, he would grant Rs.2,00,000/- for loss of amenities.

31. First of all we calculate the amount of compensation payable to the appellant under the head of permanent disability as under:-

i. Monthly income : Rs.8,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.3,200/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 8,000 + 3,200 = Rs.11,200/-

iv. Annual loss : Rs.11,200 x 12 = Rs.1,34,400/-

v. Multiplier applicable : 18

vi. Total loss : Rs.1,34,400 x 18 = Rs.24,19,200/-

vi. 50% for permanent disability = Rs.12,09,600/- (as above)

32. Hence, the amount of compensation payable to the appellant would be computed herein below:-

i. Amount for permanent disability: Rs.12,09,600/-,

ii. Medical expenses: Rs.8,00,000/-,

iii. Loss of Amenities: Rs.2,00,000/-, iv. Amount under pain, shock and suffering : Rs.1,00,000/-,

v. Total compensation : Rs.12,09,600+8,00,000+2,00,000/- +1,00,000/-=23,09,600/-.

The interest at 6% is maintained.

33. In view of the above, both the appeals are partly allowed. Judgment and award passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the additional amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 6% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

34. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment be passed by Tribunal.

35. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

36. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

37. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. Vs Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As 10 years have elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

38. This Court is thankful to both the counsels for getting this matter decided.

(2022)05ILR A847
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 18.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 4038 of 2012

Smt. Geeta Yadav & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Prem Roadways Registered, Punjab & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri S.D. Yadav

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Rahul Sahai, Sri Aditya Singh Parihar

A. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Claim – Rule of road – Obligation of vehicles running on road – Bus dashed the Scooter from behind and dragged the scooterist – Liability – Held, as per road safety it is obligatory on a vehicle coming from behind to be more careful and cautious – The driver of bus has not followed this basic rule – High Court upheld the finding of Tribunal on the issue of negligence. (Para 20)

B. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Section 169 – Claim – Deceased was serving in Indian Army – Tribunal disbelieved the salary certificate issued by Captain holding that the said document has not been proved by the claimants by examining the Issuing Authority of the salary slip – Tribunal has considered the income of the deceased to be Rs. 3,000/- per month which was that of a labourer – Validity challenged – Held, the finding of the Tribunal is bad as the Tribunal under Section 169 should have called the authority who has issued salary certificate to testify the authenticity of the said document. (Para 22, 25 and 26)

C. Motor Accident Claim – Compensation – Tribunal refused to grant future loss and added multiplier of 15 – Validity challenged – Held, the judgment itself is vulnerable – High Court determined the income of the deceased Rs. 27,000/- per month and re-computed the compensation by deducting 2000/- as the income tax from it and adding 50% future loss and applying multiplier of 16. (Para 26 and 27)

D. Motor Accident Claim – Rash and negligent driving – Term 'Negligence' – Meaning – Principle of 'res ipsa loquitur', when it can be applied – Negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental though it is normally accidental – If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply. (Para 12)

E. Motor Accident Claim – Principle of contributory negligence – Scope and meaning – A person who either contributes or is co author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place and that amount will be deducted from the compensation. (Para 13)

F. Civil Law - Income Tax Act, 1961 – Section 194A (3) (ix) – Withdraw of amount of interest – Certificate of Income Tax authority, when required – Held, if the interest payable to any claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs. 50,000/-, insurance Co./owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 – And if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs. 50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimants to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. (Para 32)

Appeal allowed, Cross objection of Insurance Co. dismissed (E-1)

List of Cases cited:-

1. First Appeal From Order No. 1118 of 2009; Smt. Nasreen Jahan & ors. Vs Km. Garima Pandey decided on 2.8.2017

2. Sunita & ors. Vs Rajasthan Road Transport Corp. & anr.; 2019 (1) T.A.C. 710

3. F.A.F.O. No. 2389 of 2016; National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Smt. Vidyawati Devi 7 ors. decided on 27.7.2016

4. First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012; Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Smt. Renu Singh & ors. decided by Allahabad High Court on 19.7.2016

5. Archit Saini & anr. Vs Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd.; AIR 2018 SC 1143

6. Smt. Kaushnuma Begum & ors. Vs The New India Assurance Co. Ltd.; (2001) 2 SCC 9.

7. Vimla Devi & ors. Vs National Insurance Co. Ltd. & ors. 2019 (133) ALR 768

8. Anita Sharma Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd.; (2021) 1 SCC 171

9. C.MA. No. 1482 of 2017; Reliance General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Subbulakshmi & ors. decided by Madras High Court

10. C.M.P. No. 7919 of 2017; Puspabai Purshottam Udeshi Vs Ranjit Ginning & Pressing Co., 1977ACJ 343 (SC).

11. Renu Rani Shrivastava Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd.; 2019 (0) AIJELSC 65364

12. Jumani Begam Vs Ram Narayan, 2019 (0) AIJELSC 65571

13. Nishan Singh Vs Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd.; 2018 (0) AIJEL-SC 62197.

14. F.A.F.O. No. 2019 of 2021l ; Akhilesh Kumar Anand Vs Rahul Mishra & anr.) decided on 18.4.2022

15. Anil Khoshla Vs Mahesh Kumar & ors. 2011 (1) T.A.C. 250 (DEL)

16. Smt. Mithilesh Mishra Vs Ajay Kumar, 2012 (3) T.A.C. 45 (All.).

17. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors. 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093

18. Sarla Verma & ors. Vs Delhi Transport Corp. & anr.; 2009 LawSuit (SC)

19. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors. 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

20. A.VsPadma Vs Venugopal; 2012 (1) GLH (SC) 442

21. Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd.; 2007(2) GLH 291

22. Review Application No. 1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No. 23 of 2001; Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr.

23. R/Special Civil Application No. 4800 of 2021; The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. VsChief Commissioner of Income Tax (TDS) decided by High Court of Gujarat on 5.4.2022.

24. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs Union of India & ors. decided by Apex Court on 27.1.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Sri S.D. Yadav, learned counsel for the appellants-claimants and Sri Aditya Singh Parihar, learned Advocate appearing for Sri Rahul Sahai, learned counsel for the respondent-Insurance Company. None has appeared for the respondent-owner of the offending vehicle.

2. By way of this appeal, the appellants-claimants, have challenged the judgment and order dated 9.8.2012 passed by the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.14, Kanpur Nagar (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C. No.299 of 2011 awarding compensation of Rs.3,69,500/- with interest at the rate of 6% simple interest till amount is deposited.

3. Brief facts as culled out from the record are that on 18.10.2009 at about 1.00 p.m. a bus bearing No.PB-3 H 9581 which was coming from Barnala side dashed the Motorcycle of the deceased bearing No.UP 71 E 2269 from behind. It has been averred that the bus was being driven by its driver rashly and negligently and even without blowing horn. The accident caused grievous injuries to deceased-Kaushal Kishore who has succumbed to the injuries in Military Hospital, Bhatinda Cantt.

4. Consequent upon the death of the deceased, the widow of the deceased along with three others filed claim petition before the Tribunal claiming compensation of Rs.88,00,000/- with interest at the rate of 10%. The Tribunal has framed four issues and held driver of the offending vehicle solely negligent for the accident having taken place. As far as compensation is concerned, the Tribunal has considered the income of the deceased to be Rs.3,000/- per month though it was proved that he was in service of Armed Forces, deducted 1/3rd towards personal expenses of the deceased, applied multiplier of 15 and granted Rs.9500/- under non pecuniary heads.

5. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the deceased was Havildar in Indian Army and was earning Rs.27,000/- per month, his salary certificate was placed on record vide Ex.39 Ga which was disbelieved by the Tribunal. It is stated that this finding of the Tribunal is perverse and is required to be upturned as the reasoning given for not believing the said documents show lack of holistic approach expected of a Motor Accident Claims Tribunal.

6. It is further submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the Tribunal has not granted any amount towards future loss of income of the deceased which is required to be granted. It is submitted that the deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased should be 1/4th as the deceased was survived by his widow, a minor son and aged parents. It is further submitted that the deceased being in the age bracket of 31-35, multiplier of 16 should be granted.

7. It is lastly submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the amount under non-pecuniary heads and the interest awarded by the Tribunal is on the lower side and are required to be enhanced.

8. Learned counsel for the appellants has relied on the decision of the Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1118 of 2009 (Smt. Nasreen Jahan and Others v. Km. Garima Pandey) decided on 2.8.2017 and on the decision of the Apex Court in Sunita and Others vs. Rajasthan Road Transport Corporation and Anr., 2019 (1) T.A.C. 710 so as to contend that the reasoning for non consideration of documentary evidence

9. As against this, the Insurance Company has also challenged the judgment and order impugned by way of oral cross objection as far as negligence and compensation awarded are concerned and it is submitted that in view of the decision in F.A.F.O. No.2389 of 2016 (National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Smt. Vidyawati Devi And 2 Others) decided on 27.7.2016 and under Section 173 of Motor Vehicles Act, 1988, this Court is under obligation to decide the same. The ground of cross objection is that the deceased was also the co-author of the accident and, hence, the finding of the Tribunal holding the driver of the bus to be solely negligent is erroneous and is required to be upturned.

10. It is also submitted by learned counsel for the respondent-Insurance Company that the income which has not been proved by cogent evidence has rightly not been considered by the Tribunal. It is further submitted that the quantum of compensation awarded by the Tribunal is just and proper and does not call for any interference of this Court as the income was rightly not proved by leading cogent evidence. The documents being not public document have rightly not been relied by the Tribunal and there is no cogent reason to enhance the compensation.

11. Before adverting to the issue of compensation awardable, it would be necessary to decide the oral cross objection relating to contributory negligence of the drivers involved in the accident. While dealing with submission on issue of negligence raised by the learned counsel for respondent-Insurance Company, it would be relevant to discuss the principles for deciding contributory negligence and for that the principles for considering negligence will also have to be looked into.

12. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental though it is normally accidental. Negligence connotes reckless driving and the injured must always prove that the other side is negligent. If the injury or death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable, otherwise, the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply which depends on facts of each case.

13. The principle so as to consider a driver to be contributor to accident has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or is co author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place and that amount will be deducted from the compensation payable to him if he is injured and to his legal representatives if he dies in the accident.

14. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under :

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330*. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.*

20. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

*21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side."

emphasis added

15. In Archit Saini and Another Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Limited, AIR 2018 SC 1143 the finding of the Tribunal was upheld by adverting to the same, more particularly, the Apex Court has upheld the finding in paragraph 21 to 27 in its judgment. The paragraph 5 of the said Apex Court's judgment is reproduced hereinbelow:

"5.The respondents had opposed the claim petition and denied their liability but did not lead any evidence on the relevant issue to dispel the relevant fact. The Tribunal after analysing the evidence, including the site map (Ext. P-45) produced on record along with charge-sheet filed against the driver of the Gas Tanker and the arguments of the respondents, answered Issue 1 against the respondents in the following words:

"21. Our own Hon'ble High Court in a case captioned Lakhu Singh v. Uday Singh [Lakhu Singh v. Uday Singh, 2007 SCC OnLine P&H 865 : PLR (2007) 4 P&H 507] held that while considering a claim petition, the Tribunal is required to hold an enquiry and act not as criminal court so as to find whether the claimants have established the occurrence beyond shadow of any reasonable doubt. In the enquiry, if there is prima facie evidence of the occurrence there is no reason to disbelieve such evidence. The statements coupled with the facts of registration of FIR and trial of the accused in a criminal court are sufficient to arrive at a conclusion that the accident has taken place. Likewise, in Kusum Lata v. Satbir [Kusum Lata v. Satbir, (2011) 3 SCC 646 : (2011) 2 SCC (Civ) 37 : (2011) 2 SCC (Cri) 18 : (2011) 2 RCR (Civil) 379] the Hon'ble Apex Court has held that in a case relating to motor accident claims, the claimants are not required to rove the case as it is required to be done in a criminal trial. The Court must keep this distinction in mind. Strict proof of an accident caused by a particular bus in a particular manner may not be possible to be done by the claimants. The claimants were merely to establish their case on the touchstone of preponderance of probability. The standard of proof beyond reasonable doubt could not have been applied.

22. After considering the submissions made by both the parties, I find that PW 7 Sohan Lal eyewitness to the occurrence has specifically stated in his affidavit Ext. PW 7/A tendered in his evidence that on 15-12-2011 at about 20.30 p.m. he along with PHG Ajit Singh was present near Sanjha Chulha Dhaba on the National Highway leading to Jammu. All the traffic of road was diverted on the eastern side of the road on account of closure of road on western side due to construction work. In the meantime a Maruti car bearing No. HR 02 K 0448 came from Jammu side and struck against the back of Gas Tanker as the driver of the car could not spot the parked tanker due to the flashlights of the oncoming traffic from front side. Then they rushed towards the spot of accident and noticed that the said tanker was standing parked in the middle of the road without any indicators or parking lights.

23. The statement of this witness clearly establishes that this was the sole negligence on the part of the driver of the Gas Tanker especially when the accident was caused on 15-12-2011 that too at about 10.30 p.m. which is generally time of pitch darkness. In this way, the driver of the car cannot be held in any way negligent in this accident. Moreover, as per Rule 15 of the Road Regulations, 1989 no vehicle is to be parked on busy road.

24. The arguments of the learned counsel for the respondent that PW 7 Sohan Lal has stated in his cross-examination that there was no fog at that time and there were lights on the Dhaba and the truck was visible to him due to light of Dhaba and he was standing at the distance of 70 ft from the truck being road between him and the truck and he noticed at the car when he heard voice/sound caused by the accident so Respondent 1 is not at all negligent in this accident but these submissions will not make the car driver to be in any way negligent and cannot give clean chit to the driver of the Gas Tanker because there is a difference between the visibility of a standing vehicle from a place where the person is standing and by a person who is coming driving the vehicle because due to flashlights of vehicles coming from front side the vehicle coming from opposite side cannot generally spot the standing vehicle in the road that too in night-time when there is neither any indicator or parking lights nor blinking lights nor any other indication given on the back of the stationed vehicle, therefore, the driver of the car cannot be held to be in any way negligent rather it is the sole negligence on the part of the driver of the offending Gas Tanker as held inGinni Devi case [Ginni Devi v. Union of India, 2007 SCC OnLine P&H 126 : 2008 ACJ 1572] , Mohan Lal case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Mohan Lal, 2006 SCC OnLine All 459 : (2007) 1 ACC 785 (All)] . It is not the case of the respondent that the parking lights of the standing truck were on or there were any other indication on the backside of the vehicle standing on the road to enable the coming vehicle to see the standing truck. The other arguments of the learned counsel for Respondent 3 that the road was sufficient wide road and that the car driver could have avoided the accident, so the driver of the car was himself negligent in causing the accident cannot be accepted when it has already been held that the accident has been caused due to sole negligence of the driver of the offending stationed truck in the busy road. The proposition of law laid down in Harbans Kaur case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Harbans Kaur, 2010 SCC OnLine P&H 7441 : (2010) 4 PLR 422 (P&H)] and T.M. Chayapathi case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. T.M. Chayapathi, 2004 SCC OnLine AP 484 : (2005) 4 ACC 61] is not disputed at all but these authorities are not helpful to the respondents being not applicable on the facts and circumstances of the present case. Likewise, non-examination of minor children of the age of 14 and 9 years who lost their father and mother in the accident cannot be held to be in any way detrimental to the case of the claimants when eyewitness to the occurrence has proved the accident having been caused by the negligence of Respondent 1 driver of the offending vehicle.

25. Moreover, in Girdhari Lal v. Radhey Shyam [Girdhari Lal v. Radhey Shyam, 1993 SCC OnLine P&H 194 : PLR (1993) 104 P&H 109] , Sudama Devi v. Kewal Ram [Sudama Devi v.Kewal Ram, 2007 SCC OnLine P&H 1208 : PLR (2008) 149 P&H 444] andPazhaniammal case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Pazhaniammal, 2011 SCC OnLine Ker 1881 : 2012 ACJ 1370] our own Hon'ble High Court has held that "it is, prima facie safe to conclude in claim cases that the accident has occurred on account of rash or negligent driving of the driver, if the driver is facing the criminal trial on account of rash or negligent driving.'

26. Moreover, Respondent 1 driver of the offending vehicle has not appeared in the witness box to deny the accident having been caused by him, therefore, I am inclined to draw an adverse inference against Respondent 1. In this context, I draw support from a judgment of the Hon'ble Punjab & Haryana High Court reported asBhagwani Devi v. Krishan Kumar Saini[Bhagwani Devi v. Krishan Kumar Saini, 1986 SCC OnLine P&H 274 : 1986 ACJ 331] . Moreover, Respondent 1 has also not filed any complaint to higher authorities about his false implication in the criminal case so it cannot be accepted that Respondent 1 has been falsely implicated in this case.

27. In view of above discussion, it is held that the claimants have proved that the accident has been caused by Respondent 1 by parking the offending vehicle bearing No. HR 02 AF 8590 in the middle of the road in a negligent manner wherein Vinod Saini and Smt Mamta Saini have died and claimants Archit Saini and Gauri Saini have received injuries on their person. Shri Vinod Saini, deceased who was driving ill-fated car on that day cannot be held to be negligent in any way. Accordingly, this issue is decided in favour of claimants."

(emphasis supplied)"

16. It is submitted that by Sri Rahul Sahai, learned counsel for the respondent assisted by Sri Aditya Singh Parihar, learned Advocate that the deceased was driving the vehicle in middle of the road and did not give side to the bus coming from behind and the so called eye-witness could not be believed and, thence, finding of negligence requires to be interfered with.

17. The F.I.R. categorically goes to show that the bus dashed the deceased from behind who was going ahead of bus on his Motorcycle which resulted into instantaneous death of the deceased. On perusal of the F.I.R., charge-sheet and the site plan, we do not find any perversity in the finding of the Tribunal as far as negligence is concerned.

18. We are also supported in our finding by the decisions in (a) Smt. Kaushnuma Begum And Ors vs. The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2001) 2 SCC 9., (b) Vimla Devi and others Vs. National Insurance Company Limited and others, 2019 (133) ALR 768; (c) Anita Sharma v. New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2021) 1 SCC 171 and on the decision of Madras High Court. The decision in Madras High Court in Reliance General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Subbulakshmi and Others, passed in C.MA. No. 1482 of 2017 [C.M.P. No. 7919 of 2017. (CMA Sr. No. 76893 of 2016)] and the decision referred in the said case namely Puspabai Purshottam Udeshi Vs. Ranjit Ginning and Pressing Co., 1977ACJ 343 (SC).

19. It is a fact that charge-sheet was filed against the driver of the bus and neither the driver nor the owner of bus has stepped into the witness box so as to prove that the deceased had contributed to the accident having taken place. The finding of fact by Tribunal on the basis of evidence goes to show that the bus dashed the scooter from behind, dragged the scooterist and then crossed and went on otherside of railing.

20. As per road safety it is obligatory on a vehicle coming from behind to be more careful and cautious. Here the driver of bus has not followed this basic rule. These cumulative facts will not permit us to take a different view then that taken by the Tribunal as far as finding of negligence is concerned.

21. In view of the above, the cross objection of respondent-Insurance Company cannot be accepted and cannot succeed. We are also supported in our view on the decisions in (a) Renu Rani Shrivastava Vs. New India Assurance Co. Ltd., 2019 (0) AIJEL-SC 65364, (b) Jumani Begam Vs. Ram Narayan, 2019 (0) AIJEL-SC 65571, (c) Nishan Singh Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., 2018 (0) AIJEL-SC 62197.

Compensation :

22. This takes us to the issue of quantum of compensation awarded. The deceased, according to learned counsel for the appellant, was serving in Indian Army as Havildar and was earning Rs.27,000/- per month. The Tribunal has disbelieved the salary certificate Ex. 39 Ga issued by Captain, Record Officer, Topkhana Abhilekh, Artillery Records, Nasik Road Camp holding that the said document has not been proved by the claimants by examining the Issuing Authority of the salary slip. This finding of the Tribunal is bad as the Tribunal under Section 169 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 should have called the authority who has issued salary certificate to testify the authenticity of the said document. Section 169 of the Act, 1988 reads as under :

"169. Procedure and powers of Claims Tribunals.--

(1) In holding any inquiry under section 168, the Claims Tribunal may, subject to any rules that may be made in this behalf, follow such summary procedure as it thinks fit.

(2) The Claims Tribunal shall have all the powers of a Civil Court for the purpose of taking evidence on oath and of enforcing the attendance of witnesses and of compelling the discovery and production of documents and material objects and for such other purposes as may be prescribed; and the Claims Tribunal shall be deemed to be a Civil Court for all the purposes of section 195 and Chapter XXVI of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974).

*(3) Subject to any rules that may be made in this behalf, the Claims Tribunal may, for the purpose of adjudicating upon any claim for compensation, choose one or more persons possessing special kn*owledge of and matter relevant to the inquiry to assist it in holding the inquiry."

23. Recently this Court in F.A.F.O. No. 2019 of 2021 (Akhilesh Kumar Anand Vs. Rahul Mishra and Another), vide order dated 18.4.2022 has held as follows:-

"11. The Apex court decision in Anita Sharma Vs. New India Assurance Company Ltd, 2021 (1) SCC 171 and Vimla Devi and others Vs. National Insurance Company Limited and another, (2019) 2 SCC 186*, has held that strict proof of all facts is not necessary to decide the motor accident claim petition. The Tribunal should take the holistic view of the matter and the claimant has to establish his/her case on the touchstone of preponderance of probability.*

12. The Division Bench of Madhya Pradesh High Court in Reliance General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Subbulakhmi and others passed in CMA No. 1482 of 2017 has also expressed the same view with regard to the standard of proof.

13. In Bimla Devi and others Vs. Himanchal Road Transport Corporation and others 2009 (2013) SCC 530*, also the Apex Court held that the claimants were merely to establish their case on the touchstone of preponderance of probability. The standard of proof beyond reasonable doubt could not have been applied.*

14. Learned Tribunal has discarded the documentary evidence, filed by the appellant with regard to the salary of the deceased. Learned Tribunal could have invoked the powers under Section 169 of the Motor Vehicle Act, 1988, which gives claims Tribunal all the powers of Civil Courts for the purpose of taking evidence, and enforcing the attendance of the witnesses and compel the discovery and proof of documents and material objects. If the learned Tribunal wanted to get the salary certificate and payment register to be proved, it could have suo moto summoned the concerned employee of the school with original record because it is the duty of the Tribunal to award 'just compensation'."

24. The Tribunal, on one hand, has recorded that the Department where the deceased was serving, there must be provision of pension and compassionate appointment and on the other hand has not believed the document issued by the said department. This is nothing else but perversity has percolated in the finding of the Tribunal. The word 'perversity' is too mild for the reasoning given by the Tribunal as far as income of deceased is concerned.

25. Finding of the Tribunal is perverse as Tribunal itself has held that the deceased was on the post of Havildar in Indian Army and was earning Rs.27,000/- per month. The documentary evidence is at Exhibit 49 and his PAN Card is at Exhibit 40 Ga/11. He was also having a vehicle, he was also having driving license which was produced as Exhibit 40 Ga/10. The xerox copies were believed for the purpose of considering the age of the deceased to be 30 years and 7 months. The medico legal documents, unfortunately, was discussed by the Tribunal and the Tribunal has considered that as none has objected to the same, the Tribunal has considered the same.

26. The Tribunal has not believed the salary certificate as the same was not orally proved by the Officer who had issued the same despite the fact that wife of the deceased (now widow) had opined that the salary was credited to his husband in his bank account. Learned Tribunal has held that she was not present when the salary certificate which was produced was signed and, therefore, it has not believed the same. It was stated by her that she did not know whether her husband was an Income Tax Payee or not. The Tribunal further holds that there is family pension being paid to her. The claim petition was under Section 166 and not Section 163A of the Act, 1988. Despite that, the Tribunal has considered the income of the deceased to be Rs.3,000/- per month which was that of a labourer. The Tribunal did not grant any amount under the head of future loss of income. The Tribunal did not discuss why it has considered multiplier of 15 instead of 17 and did not even discuss why it has not granted any amount under the head of future loss of income. The judgment itself is vulnerable. The decision referred herein before would permit us to interfere with the decision of the Tribunal for the reasons that (a) no proper reasons have been given showing why income of deceased has been considered to be that of a labourer, (b) why has the salary certificate been rejected without cogent reasons, (c) no reasons have been given for non grant of future loss of income despite the decision of Sarla Verma (Supra) & (d) non consideration of judgments in Anil Khoshla v. Mahesh Kumar and others, 2011 (1) T.A.C. 250 (DEL) and Smt. Mithilesh Mishra v. Ajay Kumar, 2012 (3) T.A.C. 45 (All.). These findings cannot stand reasoning. These surmises shows the over zeal of the Tribunal to grant what can be said to be just compensation.

27. Therefore, we consider the income of the deceased to be Rs.27,000/- per month. Out of which, the only deduction permissible would be Income Tax i.e. Rs.2,000/- per month. To which, as the deceased was below 40 years, 50% be added towards future loss of income in view of the decision in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Pranay Sethi and others, 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093. The later judgments could have been applied but it is not proved as to what would have been actual income in future of deceased. Thus, thumb rule of addition of future prospects is applied. The deceased being in the age bracket of 31-35 years of age, the multiplier applicable would be 16 in view of the decision in Sarla Verma and others Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and Another, 2009 LawSuit (SC). The deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased would be 1/3rd as he had three persons dependent on the deceased. The family would be entitled to Rs.70,000/- plus 10% rise in every three year in view of the decision in Pranay Sethi (Supra), we round up this figure to Rs.1,00,000/-.

28. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellant is computed herein below:

i. Monthly Income: Rs.25,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 50% namely Rs.12,500/-

iii. Total income : Rs.25,000 + 12,500 = Rs.37,500/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3rd towards personal expenses : Rs.25,000/-

v. Annual income : Rs.25,000 x 12 = Rs.3,00,000/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 16

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.3,00,000 x 16 = Rs.48,00,000/-

viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.1,00,000/-

ix. Total compensation : Rs.49,00,000/-

29. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

30. In view of the above, the appeal is allowed. Cross objection filed by respondent-Insurance Company is dismissed. Award and order passed by the Tribunal is modified to the aforesaid effect. The Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within 12 weeks from today with interest as awarded herein above. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

31. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment of amount be passed by Tribunal..

32. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount. The said decision has also been reiterated by High Court Gujarat in R/Special Civil Application No.4800 of 2021 (The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Chief Commissioner of Income Tax (TDS) decided on 5.4.2022.

33. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

34. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. v. Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As 10 years have elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

35. A copy of this order be kept on the dossier of the learned Judge by the High Court as we feel that the judgment and award impugned is not in consonance with the facts of the case. We request the learned Registrar General to circulate this judgment to the Motor Accident Claims Tribunals in State of U.P. to see that in future they may not commit such glaring mistakes which increases the burden of the High Court.

(2022)05ILR A859
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 21.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 4118 of 2018
With
First Appeal From Order No. 4117 of 2018

Suraj Mukhi & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Sunil Garg & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Ram Singh, Sri Amit Kumar Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Radhey Shyam, Sri Vinay Kumar Pandey

A. Civil Law - Motor Accident Act, 1988 – Claim – Compensation – Determination of income of the deceased, who were driver and salesman – Future loss – Entitlement – Held, Tribunals should consider the potential of earning of a person – High Court enhanced the income of the driver from Rs. 4500/- to Rs. 6,000/- and of salesman from Rs. 3000/- to Rs. 4500/-, and re-computed the compensation by adding 40% future loss and applying multiplier of 18 and awarded 7.5% interest. (Para 22, 26 and 29)

B. Motor Accident Claim – Rash and negligent driving – Term 'Negligence' – Meaning – Principle of 'res ipsa loquitur', when it can be applied – Negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental though it is normally accidental – If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply. (Para 10)

C. Motor Accident Claim – Principle of contributory negligence – Scope and meaning – A person who either contributes or is co author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place and that amount will be deducted from the compensation. (Para 11)

D. Civil Law - Income Tax Act, 1961 – Section 194A (3) (ix) – Withdraw of amount of interest – Certificate of Income Tax authority, when required – Held, if the interest payable to any claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs. 50,000/-, insurance Co./owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 – And if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs. 50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimants to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. (Para 31)

Appeal partly allowed. (E-1)

List of Cases cited:-

1. First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012; Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Smt. Renu Singh & ors. decided by Allahabad High Court on 19.7.2016

2. Khenyei Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd. & ors.; 2015 LawSuit (SC) 469

3. Archit Saini & anr. Vs Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd.; AIR 2018 SC 1143

4. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors. 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093

5. Sarla Verma & ors. Vs Delhi Transport Corp. & anr.; 2009 LawSuit (SC)

6. Smt. Meena Pawaia & ors. Vs Ashraf Ali & ors. 2021 0 Supreme (SC) 694

7. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors. 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

8. Lakkamma & ors. Vs The Regional Manager M/s United India Insurance Co. Ltd.; AIR 2021 SC 3301

9. A.V. Padma Vs Venugopal; 2012 (1) GLH (SC) 442

10. Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd.; 2007(2) GLH 291

11. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I. & ors. decided by Apex Court on 27.1.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Ram Singh, learned counsel for the appellants and Sri Radhey Shyam, learned counsel for the respondent-Insurance Company and Sri Vinay Kumar Pandey, learned counsel for the owner of the offending vehicle.

2. Both these appeals arise out of the same accident causing death of the Sunil and Manoj Kumar. First Appeal From Order No. 4118 of 2018 (arising out of MACP No. 770 of 2014) has been preferred by the legal heirs of the deceased-Sunil and First Appeal From Order No. 4117 of 2018 (arising out of MACP No. 771 of 2014) has been preferred by the legal heirs of deceased-Manoj Kumar. Both these appeals challenge the judgment and award dated 24.9.2015 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No. 6, Aligarh.

3. As the issues which are to be decided can be decided from the perusal of the judgment impugned and certain documents appended with memo of appeal and as the matter is very old, we dispense with record and decide the same by consent of the parties.

4. At the outset, once again, we direct and request the Registrar General to issue circular to the Motor Accident Claims Tribunals to decide the matters arising out of same accident after consolidating the same.

5. Averments made in the memo of appeal go to show that Sunil, Manoj and wife of Sunil namely Neetu got injured in the vehicular accident. Sunil and Manoj died on the spot. The accident occurred in front of Sonai Station Road on 17.9.2014 at 8.00 p.m. It is unrebutted averments that the Wagon R which was owned by respondent came and rammed into stationery Indica Car being driven by Manoj Kumar. Respondent No.1, Sunil Garg, is the driver and owner of the offending vehicle namely Wagon R. He has not appeared before the Tribunal nor has he appeared before this Court. The Insurance Company came and filed its reply of negation. The accident though having occurred in the year after the 1988 Act, the reply was as if it is under the old Act namely Act of 1939. They denied the fact that vehicle was insured with them. They have denied the fact that premium was paid. The Insurance Company, in its reply, has stated that the vehicle was being driven in breach of policy.

6. All other issues except issue of holding the deceased negligent and compensation granted for the death of Sunil and Manoj Kumar are not under challenge and, therefore, further detailed facts are not required to be elaborately discussed.

7. Sri Radhey Shyam, learned counsel for the respondent has pointed out that Manoj Kumar, the elder brother, of Sunil was driving the vehicle and qua him, Tribunal has considered 10% negligence.

8. Sri Ram Singh, learned counsel for the appellants tried to contend that the vehicle which Manoj Kumar was driving was stationery and he is not at all negligent. It is further submitted by Sri Ram Singh, learned Advocate that the quantum of compensation awarded in both the matters are on the lower side and require to be recalculated in view of the latest decisions of the Apex Court.

9. Having heard the learned counsel for the parties, let us consider the negligence from the perspective of the law laid down.

10. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental which is normally accidental. More particularly, it connotes reckless driving and the injured must always prove that the either side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply.

11. The principle of contributory negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or is co author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place and that amount will be deducted from the compensation payable to him if he is injured and to legal representatives if he dies in the accident.

12. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under :

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.

20. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side."

emphasis added

13. The Apex Court in Khenyei Vs. New India Assurance Company Limited & Others, 2015 LawSuit (SC) 469 has held as under:

"4. It is a case of composite negligence where injuries have been caused to the claimants by combined wrongful act of joint tort feasors. In a case of accident caused by negligence of joint tort feasors, all the persons who aid or counsel or direct or join in committal of a wrongful act, are liable. In such case, the liability is always joint and several. The extent of negligence of joint tort feasors in such a case is immaterial for satisfaction of the claim of the plaintiff/claimant and need not be determined by the by the court. However, in case all the joint tort feasors are before the court, it may determine the extent of their liability for the purpose of adjusting inter-se equities between them at appropriate stage. The liability of each and every joint tort feasor vis a vis to plaintiff/claimant cannot be bifurcated as it is joint and several liability. In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between tort feasors for making payment to the plaintiff is not permissible as the plaintiff/claimant has the right to recover the entire amount from the easiest targets/solvent defendant.

14. There is a difference between contributory and composite negligence. In the case of contributory negligence, a person who has himself contributed to the extent cannot claim compensation for the injuries sustained by him in the accident to the extent of his own negligence;whereas in the case of composite negligence, a person who has suffered has not contributed to the accident but the outcome of combination of negligence of two or more other persons. This Court in T.O. Anthony v. Karvarnan & Ors. [2008 (3) SCC 748] has held that in case of contributory negligence, injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong doer separately. It is only in the case of contributory negligence that the injured himself has contributed by his negligence in the accident. Extent of his negligence is required to be determined as damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries have to be reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence. The relevant portion is extracted hereunder :

"6. 'Composite negligence' refers to the negligence on the part of two or more persons. Where a person is injured as a result of negligence on the part of two or more wrong doers, it is said that the person was injured on account of the composite negligence of those wrong-doers. In such a case, each wrong doer, is jointly and severally liable to the injured for payment of the entire damages and the injured person has the choice of proceeding against all or any of them. In such a case, the injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong-doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong-doer separately. On the other hand where a person suffers injury, partly due to the negligence on the part of another person or persons, and partly as a result of his own negligence, then the negligence of the part of the injured which contributed to the accident is referred to as his contributory negligence. Where the injured is guilty of some negligence, his claim for damages is not defeated merely by reason of the negligence on his part but the damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries stands reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence.

7. Therefore, when two vehicles are involved in an accident, and one of the drivers claims compensation from the other driver alleging negligence, and the other driver denies negligence or claims that the injured claimant himself was negligent, then it becomes necessary to consider whether the injured claimant was negligent and if so, whether he was solely or partly responsible for the accident and the extent of his responsibility, that is his contributory negligence. Therefore where the injured is himself partly liable, the principle of 'composite negligence' will not apply nor can there be an automatic inference that the negligence was 50:50 as has been assumed in this case. The Tribunal ought to have examined the extent of contributory negligence of the appellant and thereby avoided confusion between composite negligence and contributory negligence. The High Court has failed to correct the said error."

18. This Court in Challa Bharathamma &Nanjappan (supra) has dealt with the breach of policy conditions by the owner when the insurer was asked to pay the compensation fixed by the tribunal and the right to recover the same was given to the insurer in the executing court concerned if the dispute between the insurer and the owner was the subject-matter of determination for the tribunal and the issue has been decided in favour of the insured. The same analogy can be applied to the instant cases as the liability of the joint tort feasor is joint and several. In the instant case, there is determination of inter se liability of composite negligence to the extent of negligence of 2/3rd and 1/3rd of respective drivers. Thus, the vehicle - trailor-truck which was not insured with the insurer, was negligent to the extent of 2/3rd. It would be open to the insurer being insurer of the bus after making payment to claimant to recover from the owner of the trailor-truck the amount to the aforesaid extent in the execution proceedings. Had there been no determination of the inter se liability for want of evidence or other joint tort feasor had not been impleaded, it was not open to settle such a dispute and to recover the amount in execution proceedings but the remedy would be to file another suit or appropriate proceedings in accordance with law.

What emerges from the aforesaid discussion is as follows :

(i) In the case of composite negligence, plaintiff/claimant is entitled to sue both or any one of the joint tort feasors and to recover the entire compensation as liability of joint tort feasors is joint and several.

(ii) In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between two tort feasors vis a vis the plaintiff/claimant is not permissible. He can recover at his option whole damages from any of them.

(iii) In case all the joint tort feasors have been impleaded and evidence is sufficient, it is open to the court/tribunal to determine inter se extent of composite negligence of the drivers. However, determination of the extent of negligence between the joint tort feasors is only for the purpose of their inter se liability so that one may recover the sum from the other after making whole of payment to the plaintiff/claimant to the extent it has satisfied the liability of the other. In case both of them have been impleaded and the apportionment/ extent of their negligence has been determined by the court/tribunal, in main case one joint tort feasor can recover the amount from the other in the execution proceedings.

*(iv) It would not be appropriate for the court/tribunal to determine the extent of composite negligence of the drivers of two vehicles in the absence of impleadment of other joint tort feasors. In such a case, impleaded joint tort feasor should be left, in case he so desires, to sue the o*ther joint tort feasor in independent proceedings after passing of the decree or award."

emphasis added

14. The latest decision of the Apex Court in Khenyei (Supra) has laid down one further aspect about considering the negligence more particularly composite/contributory negligence. The deceased or the person concerned should be shown to have contributed either to the accident and the impact of accident upon the victim could have b

15. A similar view has been taken by the Apex Court in Archit Saini and Another Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Limited, AIR 2018 SC 1143 wherein the finding of the Tribunal was upheld by adverting to the same more particularly the Apex Court has upheld the finding in paragraph 21 to 27 in its judgment. The paragraph 5 of the said Apex Court's judgment is reproduced hereinbelow:

"5.The respondents had opposed the claim petition and denied their liability but did not lead any evidence on the relevant issue to dispel the relevant fact. The Tribunal after analysing the evidence, including the site map (Ext. P-45) produced on record along with charge-sheet filed against the driver of the Gas Tanker and the arguments of the respondents, answered Issue 1 against the respondents in the following words:

"21. Our own Hon'ble High Court in a case captioned Lakhu Singh v. Uday Singh [Lakhu Singh v. Uday Singh, 2007 SCC OnLine P&H 865 : PLR (2007) 4 P&H 507] held that while considering a claim petition, the Tribunal is required to hold an enquiry and act not as criminal court so as to find whether the claimants have established the occurrence beyond shadow of any reasonable doubt. In the enquiry, if there is prima facie evidence of the occurrence there is no reason to disbelieve such evidence. The statements coupled with the facts of registration of FIR and trial of the accused in a criminal court are sufficient to arrive at a conclusion that the accident has taken place. Likewise, in Kusum Lata v. Satbir [Kusum Lata v. Satbir, (2011) 3 SCC 646 : (2011) 2 SCC (Civ) 37 : (2011) 2 SCC (Cri) 18 : (2011) 2 RCR (Civil) 379] the Hon'ble Apex Court has held that in a case relating to motor accident claims, the claimants are not required to rove the case as it is required to be done in a criminal trial. The Court must keep this distinction in mind. Strict proof of an accident caused by a particular bus in a particular manner may not be possible to be done by the claimants. The claimants were merely to establish their case on the touchstone of preponderance of probability. The standard of proof beyond reasonable doubt could not have been applied.

22. After considering the submissions made by both the parties, I find that PW 7 Sohan Lal eyewitness to the occurrence has specifically stated in his affidavit Ext. PW 7/A tendered in his evidence that on 15-12-2011 at about 20.30 p.m. he along with PHG Ajit Singh was present near Sanjha Chulha Dhaba on the National Highway leading to Jammu. All the traffic of road was diverted on the eastern side of the road on account of closure of road on western side due to construction work. In the meantime a Maruti car bearing No. HR 02 K 0448 came from Jammu side and struck against the back of Gas Tanker as the driver of the car could not spot the parked tanker due to the flashlights of the oncoming traffic from front side. Then they rushed towards the spot of accident and noticed that the said tanker was standing parked in the middle of the road without any indicators or parking lights.

23. The statement of this witness clearly establishes that this was the sole negligence on the part of the driver of the Gas Tanker especially when the accident was caused on 15-12-2011 that too at about 10.30 p.m. which is generally time of pitch darkness. In this way, the driver of the car cannot be held in any way negligent in this accident. Moreover, as per Rule 15 of the Road Regulations, 1989 no vehicle is to be parked on busy road.

24. The arguments of the learned counsel for the respondent that PW 7 Sohan Lal has stated in his cross-examination that there was no fog at that time and there were lights on the Dhaba and the truck was visible to him due to light of Dhaba and he was standing at the distance of 70 ft from the truck being road between him and the truck and he noticed at the car when he heard voice/sound caused by the accident so Respondent 1 is not at all negligent in this accident but these submissions will not make the car driver to be in any way negligent and cannot give clean chit to the driver of the Gas Tanker because there is a difference between the visibility of a standing vehicle from a place where the person is standing and by a person who is coming driving the vehicle because due to flashlights of vehicles coming from front side the vehicle coming from opposite side cannot generally spot the standing vehicle in the road that too in night-time when there is neither any indicator or parking lights nor blinking lights nor any other indication given on the back of the stationed vehicle, therefore, the driver of the car cannot be held to be in any way negligent rather it is the sole negligence on the part of the driver of the offending Gas Tanker as held inGinni Devi case [Ginni Devi v. Union of India, 2007 SCC OnLine P&H 126 : 2008 ACJ 1572] , Mohan Lal case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Mohan Lal, 2006 SCC OnLine All 459 : (2007) 1 ACC 785 (All)] . It is not the case of the respondent that the parking lights of the standing truck were on or there were any other indication on the backside of the vehicle standing on the road to enable the coming vehicle to see the standing truck. The other arguments of the learned counsel for Respondent 3 that the road was sufficient wide road and that the car driver could have avoided the accident, so the driver of the car was himself negligent in causing the accident cannot be accepted when it has already been held that the accident has been caused due to sole negligence of the driver of the offending stationed truck in the busy road. The proposition of law laid down in Harbans Kaur case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Harbans Kaur, 2010 SCC OnLine P&H 7441 : (2010) 4 PLR 422 (P&H)] and T.M. Chayapathi case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. T.M. Chayapathi, 2004 SCC OnLine AP 484 : (2005) 4 ACC 61] is not disputed at all but these authorities are not helpful to the respondents being not applicable on the facts and circumstances of the present case. Likewise, non-examination of minor children of the age of 14 and 9 years who lost their father and mother in the accident cannot be held to be in any way detrimental to the case of the claimants when eyewitness to the occurrence has proved the accident having been caused by the negligence of Respondent 1 driver of the offending vehicle.

25. Moreover, in Girdhari Lal v. Radhey Shyam [Girdhari Lal v. Radhey Shyam, 1993 SCC OnLine P&H 194 : PLR (1993) 104 P&H 109] , Sudama Devi v. Kewal Ram [Sudama Devi v.Kewal Ram, 2007 SCC OnLine P&H 1208 : PLR (2008) 149 P&H 444] andPazhaniammal case [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Pazhaniammal, 2011 SCC OnLine Ker 1881 : 2012 ACJ 1370] our own Hon'ble High Court has held that "it is, prima facie safe to conclude in claim cases that the accident has occurred on account of rash or negligent driving of the driver, if the driver is facing the criminal trial on account of rash or negligent driving.'

26. Moreover, Respondent 1 driver of the offending vehicle has not appeared in the witness box to deny the accident having been caused by him, therefore, I am inclined to draw an adverse inference against Respondent 1. In this context, I draw support from a judgment of the Hon'ble Punjab & Haryana High Court reported asBhagwani Devi v. Krishan Kumar Saini[Bhagwani Devi v. Krishan Kumar Saini, 1986 SCC OnLine P&H 274 : 1986 ACJ 331] . Moreover, Respondent 1 has also not filed any complaint to higher authorities about his false implication in the criminal case so it cannot be accepted that Respondent 1 has been falsely implicated in this case.

27. In view of above discussion, it is held that the claimants have proved that the accident has been caused by Respondent 1 by parking the offending vehicle bearing No. HR 02 AF 8590 in the middle of the road in a negligent manner wherein Vinod Saini and Smt Mamta Saini have died and claimants Archit Saini and Gauri Saini have received injuries on their person. Shri Vinod Saini, deceased who was driving ill-fated car on that day cannot be held to be negligent in any way. Accordingly, this issue is decided in favour of claimants."

(emphasis supplied)"

16. It is admitted position of fact that the charge-sheet was laid against the driver of the Wagon R. who did not appear before the Tribunal. The finding of fact is that the Wagon R came from opposite side and dashed the stationery Indica Car from wrong side. It is not the case that the offending vehicle has dashed the Indica car from behind and, therefore, we also uphold the negligence of the deceased to the tune of 10% and that of the driver of offending vehicle to the tune of 90%.

17. However, as far as legal heirs of deceased-Sunil is concerned, Sunil having not contributed to the accident having taken place, qua him the decision of the Apex Court in Khenyei (Supra) will apply and no amount should be deducted from compensation payable to him.

18. This takes us to the compensation in both the matters. The deceased were real brothers who have left behind them their elder and younger brothers and a mother who was aged 55 years in the year of accident. It is contended by Sri Radhey Shyam, learned counsel for the Insurance Company that when the mother is there, brothers would not be entitled for any amount unless it is proved that they were dependent on them. The principle enunciated by the Apex Court in several decisions lay down that legal representative would be entitled to the compensation and it is inter se between the heirs of class I and class II to apportion the amount.

(F.A.F.O. No. 4117 of 2018 : Deceased-Manoj Kumar)

19. Deceased- Manoj Kumar was 20 years of age. The Tribunal has considered his income to be Rs.4500/- per month, deducted 1/2 towards personal expenses, applied multiplier of 18, added Rs.15000/- towards non pecuniary damages and ultimately awarded Rs. 4,50,900/- with interest at the rate of 7% after deducting 10% negligence.

20. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellant that the income considered by the Tribunal is bad in the eye of law as deceased was driver by profession and was earning Rs.7800/- per month in the year of accident. It is further submitted that the Tribunal has not granted any amount towards future loss of income which should be granted in view of the decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Pranay Sethi and others, 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093. It is also submitted by learned counsel for the appellant that deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased should be 1/3rd as the deceased was survived by his mother and two brothers. It is also submitted that the amount under non-pecuniary heads and interest awarded by the Tribunal is on the lower side and require to be enhanced.

21. As against this Sri Radhey Shyam, learned counsel for the respondent-Insurance Company states that the income which has not been proved cannot be granted; that the Tribunal has rightly not granted future income as on the date of award, the decision in Sarla Verma and others Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and Another, 2009 LawSuit (SC) was in vogue.

22. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the award, we recapitulate the income of deceased-Manoj Kumar, who was driver by profession. His driving license was produced on record. Recently, the Apex Court in Smt. Meena Pawaia & others Vs. Ashraf Ali and others 2021 0 Supreme (SC) 694, has held that the appellate Court and the Tribunals should consider the potential of earning of a person. Therefore, we consider the income of the deceased to be Rs.6,000/- for a driver in the year 2014. To which, 40% should be added towards future loss of income as the deceased was below 40 years of age. As far as multiplier is concerned, there is no dispute. The deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased would be 1/2 as has been done by the Tribunal and not 1/3rd as the deceased was bachelor. The mother of the deceased would be entitled to Rs.40,000/- towards filial consortium plus Rs.30,000/- towards funeral charges, which will bring the figure to Rs.70,000/- towards non-pecuniary heads. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants is computed herein below:

i. Monthly Income Rs.6,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.2,400/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 6,000 + 2,400 = Rs.8400/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/2 : Rs.4200/-

v. Annual Income : 4200 x 12 = 50,400/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 18

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.50,400 x 18 = Rs.9,07,200/- viii. Amount under non-pecuniary head : 70,000/-

ix. Total compensation : 9,77,200/-

x. Compensation payable to claimant after deduction of 10% negligence on the part of the deceased : 8,79,480/-

(F.A.F.O. No. 4118 of 2018 : Deceased-Sunil)

23. Deceased- Sunil was 18 years of age and was Salesman in Wine Shop. The Tribunal has considered his income to be Rs.3000/- per month, deducted 1/3rd towards personal expenses, applied multiplier of 18, added Rs.15000/- towards non pecuniary damages and ultimately awarded Rs.4,47,000/- with interest at the rate of 7%.

24. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellant the Tribunal has considered the income of the deceased to be Rs.3,000/- per month which is bad and as the deceased was Sales Man in Wine Shop and was earning Rs.12000/- per month, hence, this income should be considered. It is further submitted that the Tribunal has not granted any amount towards future loss of income which should be granted in view of the decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Pranay Sethi and others, 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093. It is also submitted that the amount under non-pecuniary heads and interest awarded by the Tribunal is on the lower side and requires to be enhanced.

25. As against this Sri Radhey Shyam, learned counsel for the respondent-Insurance Company states that the income which has not been proved cannot be granted; that the Tribunal has rightly not granted future income as on the date of award, the decision in Sarla Verma and others Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and Another, 2009 LawSuit (SC) was in vogue. It is also submitted by learned counsel for the respondent that deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased would be 1/2 as the deceased was bachelor.

26. Having heard learned counsels for the parties and perused the award, we recapitulate the income of deceased-Sunil, who was Salesman in a Wine Shop. Recently, the Apex Court in Smt. Meena Pawaia & others Vs. Ashraf Ali and others 2021 0 Supreme (SC) 694, has held that the appellate Court and the Tribunals should consider the potential of earning of a person. Therefore, we consider the income of the deceased to be Rs.4500/-. To which, 40% should be added towards future loss of income as the deceased was below 40 years of age. As far as multiplier is concerned, there is no dispute. The deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased would be 1/2 and not 1/3rd as the deceased was bachelor. The mother of the deceased would be entitled to Rs.40,000/- towards filial consortium plus Rs.30,000/- towards funeral charges, which will bring the figure to Rs.70,000/- towards non-pecuniary heads. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants is computed herein below:

i. Monthly Income Rs.4500/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.1800/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 4500 + 1800 = Rs.6300/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/2 : Rs.3150/-

v. Annual Income : 3150 x 12 = 37,800/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 18

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.37,800 x 18 = Rs.6,80,400/-

viii. Amount under non-pecuniary head : 70,000/-

ix. Total compensation : 7,50,400/-

27. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

28. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

29. In view of the above, the both the appeals are partly allowed. Judgment and award passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the difference amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited in both the matters. However, from the date of the decision of Tribunal i.e. 24.9.2015 till the date of filing of the appeal i.e. 6.5.2016, namely the delay in filing the appeal, interest would not be payable to the claimant in both the appeals in view of the decision in Lakkamma and Others Vs. The Regional Manager M/s United India Insurance Co. Ltd., AIR 2021 SC 3301.

30. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment is not passed because applicants /claimants are neither illiterate or rustic villagers.

31. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansagauri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

32. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and judgment of A.V. Padma

(supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

33. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. v. Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As 8 years have elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

34. We are thankful to the learned Advocates for ably assisting the Court.

(2022)05ILR A872
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 21.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 4197 of 2018

Smt. Saroj Sachan & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Bharti Axa General Insurance Co. Ltd. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Shreesh Srivastava, Sri Mohd. Naushad Siddiqui

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Pawan Kumar Singh

A. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - deceased was Senior Engineer in Hilman Capital Finance Ltd - His income shown in the pay slip for May 2016 was Rs.60,050/- Form 16AA for the period 1st April 2016 to 9th June 2016, show his income to be Rs. 1,47,923 - Held - from the income, at least Income Tax should be deducted court consider the income of the deceased to be Rs.50,000 per month - Addition of 30% toward future loss of income - multiplier of 12 - deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased should be 1/4th reason being, parent of the deceased who were in their 90s has passed away - appellants would be entitled to Rs. 70,000 plus 10% rise in every three years i.e. Rs. 1,00,000 under this head (Para 10)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Sangita Arya & ors.. Vs Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. & ors.., 2020 LawSuit (SC) 432

2. Rukmani Jethani & ors. Vs Gopal Singh & ors., 2021 (4) T.A.C. 23 (SC)

3. Vimal Kanwar & ors. Vs Kishore Dan & ors., 2013 (3) T.A.C. 6 (S.C.)

4. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors., 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093

5. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors., 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

6. A.V. Padma Vs Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442

7. Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani Vs The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., 2007(2) GLH 291

8. Smt. Sudesna & ors. Vs Hari Singh & anr. Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001

9. Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I. & ors. vide dated 27.1.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Shreesh Srivastava, learned counsel for the appellant, Sri Pawan Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the respondent and perused the record.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 13.8.2018 passed by the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/VIIIth Addl. District Judge, Kanpur Nagar (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.P No.700 of 2016 awarding a sum of Rs.42,78,200/- as compensation with interest at the rate of 7%.

3. The accident is not in dispute. The issue of negligence decided by the Tribunal is also not in dispute. The only issue to be decided is the quantum of compensation awarded.

4. The accident took place in the year 2016. The deceased was 48 years of age and was Senior Engineer in Hilman Capital Finance Ltd. The Tribunal has considered the income of the deceased to be Rs.34,000/- per month, added 30% towards future loss of income, deducted 1/3rd towards personal expenses of the deceased, granted multiplier of 12 and awarded Rs.35,000/- towards non-pecuniary damages. That is how the Tribunal has calculated the compensation to be Rs.42,78,200/- against Rs.1,62,00,000/- as claimed by the claimants-appellants which has aggrieved them.

5. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the income of the deceased was Rs.62,000/- (rounded figure) but the Tribunal has wrongly considered his income to be Rs.34,000/- only. It is submitted that the learned Tribunal has brushed aside the Income Tax Returns and the appointment and considered only basic as according to the Tribunal the deceased was in service only for two month and was a probationer. Learned counsel for the appellant has relied on the decisions in Sangita Arya & Ors. Vs. Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. & Ors., 2020 LawSuit (SC) 432, Rukmani Jethani and Others Vs. Gopal Singh and others, 2021 (4) T.A.C. 23 (SC), Vimal Kanwar and Others Vs. Kishore Dan and others, 2013 (3) T.A.C. 6 (S.C.) to buttress his submission that the finding of the Tribunal as far as income is concerned is bad. The Tribunal has calculated the income of the deceased to be Rs.34,000/- on the basis that it was the basic salary. This could not have been done is the submission of learned counsel for the appellants.

6. Learned counsel for the appellants has further submitted that the deceased was survived by his widow, one son and parents and, therefore, the deduction towards personal expenses would be 1/4th and not 1/3rd as done by the Tribunal.

7. It is also submitted by learned counsel for the appellant that the amount awarded under non pecuniary damages is on the lower side and is required to be enhanced in view of the decision in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Pranay Sethi and others, 2017 LawSuit (SC) 1093 and the later decision of the Apex Court.

8. Learned counsel for the appellant has lastly submitted that the interest awarded by Tribunal is on the lower side and it should be as per the repo rate prevailing in those days.

9. As against this, learned counsel for respondent-Insurance Company has contended that the income which is asked cannot be granted and at least income tax be deducted from the income. It is further submitted by Sri Pawan Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the respondent that deduction towards personal expenses is just and proper and does not call for interference of this Court. It is also submitted by learned counsel for the respondent that the amount awarded under non pecuniary heads and interest granted by the Tribunal are just and proper and does not call for interference of this Court.

10. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and considering the Salary Slip, Form 16 and the decisions cited by the learned counsel for the appellants, we hold that had the deceased been alive, he would have been earning Rs.62,000/- per month. The deceased was Senior Engineer in Hilman Capital Finance Ltd. His income shown in the pay slip for May 2016 was Rs.60,050/- Form 16AA for the period 1st April 2016 to 9th June 2016, show his income to be Rs. 1,47,923/-. However, we are in agreement with Sri Pawan Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the respondent that from the income, at least Income Tax should be deducted and, therefore, we consider the income of the deceased to be Rs.50,000/- per month. Addition of 30% toward future loss of income and multiplier of 12 granted by the Tribunal are just and proper, hence, are not disturbed. As far as deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased is concerned, we are in agreement with Sri Shreesh Srivastava, learned counsel for the appellants that it should be 1/4th reason being, parent of the deceased who were in their 90s has passed away during this interregnum period and unless proved otherwise, they are dependent on their son. Therefore, the deduction of 1/4th would be just and proper.

11. As far as amount under non-pecuniary heads is concerned, the appellants would be entitled to Rs.70,000/- plus 10% rise in every three years in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) and, therefore, we round up the figure to Rs.1,00,000/- under this head.

12. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants is computed herein below:

i. Monthly Income: Rs.50,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 30% namely Rs.15,000/-

iii. Total income : Rs.50,000 +15,000 = Rs.65,000/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/4th towards personal expenses : Rs.48,750/-

v. Annual income : Rs.48,750 x 12 = Rs.5,85,000/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 12

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.5,85,000 x 12 = Rs.70,20,000/-

viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.1,00,000/-

ix. Total compensation : Rs.71,20,000/-

13. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

14. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

15. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

16. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment be passed by Tribunal..

17. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguri P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

18. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

19. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company Private Ltd. v. Union of India and others vide order dated 27.1.2022, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As 10 years have elapsed, the amount be deposited in the Saving Account of claimants in Nationalized Bank without F.D.R.

20. This Court is thankful to both the counsels for getting this matter decided.

(2022)05ILR A876
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 29.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 4228 of 2012

Dharmendra Kumar ...Appellant
Versus
United India Insurance Co. Ltd. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Krishna Kumar Singh, Sri Mohd. Asim Zulfiquar

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Rajeev Ojha

A. Civil Law -Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - Injury case – Disability certificate issued on 20.11.2009 granted by Community Health Centre, Chandausi, District Moradabad showing disability to the tune of 45%. - second disability certificate issued on 16.02.2010 issued after conducting medical examination by a panel of doctors, signed and issued by Chief Medical Officer, Moradabad certifying disability of 45% of body as a whole which is same as shown in certificate issued earlier by Community Health Centre, Chandausi - tribunal discarded certificate of permanent disability on the ground that it is not signed by three doctors and it is not proved by calling the concerned doctors - Also tribunal held that there are two disability certificates on record and it cannot be possible to issue two medical disability certificates - Held - it is not the requirement of law that disability certificate should be proved by calling the Doctors issuing it or doctors on the board - disability certificate requires no oral testimony - merely on the ground that two certificates are issued, it cannot be said that these certificates are fake in absence of any evidence (Para 15 , 16, 17)

B. Civil Law - Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 - Section 168 - Motor Accident claim - Quantum of Compensation - Injury case - Chief Medical Officer, certified disability of 45% of body as a whole - Court assessed functional disability of appellant to the tune of 25% for the purpose of computation of compensation, 25% for permanent disability - court hold the income of the claimant at Rs.5,000/- p.m. because he was a mason - At the time of accident, the claimant was below 40 years of age, hence, 30% of the income be added for future loss of income - claimant was of 28 years of age, hence multiplier of 17 would be applicable - Rs.50,000 for pain and suffering - Amount under other non pecuniary head Rs 50,000 - - Insurance Company directed to deposit the amount along with additional amount with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited - amount be transmitted in the Saving Account of claimant in Nationalized Bank which would be furnished by claimant without F.D.R (Para 19, 21, 24)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Kajal Vs Jagdish Chand 2020 (0) AIJEL-SC 65725

2. Philips Vs Western Railway Co. (1874) 4QBD 406

3. H. West & Son Ltd. Vs Shephard 1963 2 WLR 1359

4. Rajkumar Vs Ajay Kumar ors. (2011) 1 SCC 343

5. K. Suresh Vs New India Assurance Company Ltd. & ors., (2012) 12 SCC 274

6. National Insurance Company Limited Vs Lavkush & anr., 2018 (1) T.A.C. 431

7. Dasharath Vs Alok Kumar Dubey & ors., F.A.F.O. No.233 of 2006

8. S. Kumar (dead) Vs United India AIR 2019 SC 3235 in the case of

9. Vimla Devi & ors. Vs National Insurance Co. Ltd. & anr., (2019) 2 SCC 186

10. Anita Sharma Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2021), 1 SCC 171

11. Vimal Kanwar & ors. Vs. Kishore Dan & ors., AIR 2013 SC 3830

12. National 7 Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Mannat Johal & ors., 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.)

13. A.V. Padma Vs Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. Heard Mohd. Asim Zulfiquar, learned counsel for the appellant; Shri Rajeev Ojha, learned counsel for the Insurance Company - respondents; and perused the record.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and order dated 05.09.2012 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.9, Moradabad (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in Motor Accident Claim Petition No.222 of 2009 awarding a sum of Rs.62,624/- with interest at the rate of 6% p.a. as compensation.

3. The brief facts as culled out from the record are that this claim petition is filed by the appellant/claimant for seeking compensation for injuries sustained by him in a road accident. Averments in claim petition are that on 28.9.2008 at 08.00 a.m., appellant was going from his Village Mundhapandey to Moradabad for the work of mason. When he alighted from the bus at Gulababadi, a Motorcycle bearing No.UP 21 G 7562 came from behind which was being driven rashly and negligently by its driver and hit the appellant. Appellant sustained serious injuries and he was admitted in District Hospital. Next day, he was shifted to Shreya Hospital, Moradabad. The appellant regained consciousness after 12 days. It is also averred in petition that the appellant sustained serious head injury due to which he became incapable for feeding his family. Respondents filed their respective written statements and opposed the facts mentioned in claim petition.

4. The accident is not in dispute, the liability of owner/insurance company to pay the compensation is also not disputed. The finding regarding negligence has attained finality. So now it is the dispute of quantum of compensation which is left to be decided in this appeal.

5. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that learned tribunal has awarded compensation regarding some of the medical bills only. It is also submitted that due to the accident, the appellant sustained serious head injury for which grafting was done on his head and face due to which he was medically declared as 45% disabled. His face and head were also disfigured, but learned tribunal has not considered the disability and did not award even a single penny for disablement. It is next submitted that learned tribunal has also not awarded any sum for future loss of income because due to injuries sustained in accident, the appellant is not able to work as before. It is further submitted that even the learned tribunal has not awarded any sum for pain and suffering.

6. Learned counsel for Insurance Company vehemently objected the submissions made by appellant and further submitted that learned tribunal has considered each and every aspect while awarding compensation and has awarded just compensation. Hence, the impugned judgment does not call for any interference by this Court.

7. We have perused the record and impugned judgment and find that learned tribunal has not followed the contours of just compensation in this matter.

8. Before computation of compensation, it is worth mentioning that the principles regarding the determination of just compensation, contemplated under the Motor Vehicle Act, 1988 (hereinafter referred to as "MV Act') are well settled. Injuries caused deprivation to the body, which entitles the claimant to claim damages. It is impossible to compensate human sufferings and personal deprivation with money. However, this is what the MV Act enjoins upon the courts to do. The Court has to make a judicious attempt to award damages so that the claimant or the victim may be compensated for the loss suffered by him. The damages may vary according to the gravity of the injuries sustained by the claimant in an accident. On account of injury, the claimant may suffer consequential loss such as loss of earnings as well as future earnings, medical expenditure, special diet and attendant charges etc. Victim may suffer non-pecuniary damages also in the form of loss of pleasure of life by particular limb of the body. In this way, damages can be pecuniary as well as non-pecuniary. The Court/Tribunal should keep in mind that compensation awarded must be just compensation because the damages assessed for personal injuries should be substantial to compensate the injured for the deprivation suffered by him throughout his life.

9. In Kajal Vs. Jagdish Chand reported in 2020 (0) AIJEL-SC 65725, the Apex Court has quoted pertinent observations from a very old case Philips Vs. Western Railway Company (1874) 4QBD 406 as under:

"You cannot put the plaintiff back again into his original position, but you must bring your reasonable common sense to bear, and you must always recollect that this is the only occasion on which compensation can be given. The plaintiff can never sue again for it. You have, therefore, now to give him compensation once and for all. He has done no wrong, he has suffered a wrong at the hands of the defendants and you must take care to give him full fair compensation for that which he has suffered." Besides, the Tribunals should always remember that the measures of damages in all these cases "should be such as to enable even a tortfeasor to say that he had amply atoned for his misadventure."

10. The Apex Court has further quoted pertinent observations from case titled H. West & Son Ltd. v. Shephard 1963 2 WLR 1359 as under:

"Money may be awarded so that something tangible may be procured to replace something else of the like nature which has been destroyed or lost. But money cannot renew a physical frame that has been battered and shattered. All that Judges and courts can do is to award sums which must be regarded as giving reasonable compensation. In the process there must be the endeavour to secure some uniformity in the general method of approach. By common assent awards must be reasonable and must be assessed with moderation. Furthermore, it is eminently desirable that so far as possible comparable injuries should be compensated by comparable awards.

In the same case Lord Devlin observed that the proper approach to the problem was to adopt a test as to what contemporary society would deem to be a fair sum, such as would allow the wrongdoer to "hold up his head among his neighbours and say with their approval that he has done the fair thing", which should be kept in mind by the court in determining compensation in personal injury cases."

11. Section 168 of MV Act stipulates that there should be grant of just compensation. Thus, it becomes challenge for a Court of law to determine just compensation which should not be bonanza for the claimant/victim and at the same time it should not be too meagre. The Apex Court in Rajkumar Vs Ajay Kumar and others (2011) 1 SCC 343 has laid down the heads under which compensation is to be awarded for personal injuries which is as follows:

"Pecuniary damages (Special damages)

(i) Expenses relating to treatment, hospitalization, medicines, transportation, nourishing food, and miscellaneous expenditure.

(ii) Loss of earnings (and other gains) which the injured would have made had he not been injured, comprising:

(a) Loss of earning during the period of treatment;

(b) Loss of future earnings on account of permanent disability.

(iii) Future medical expenses.

Non-pecuniary damages (General damages)

(iv) Damages for pain, suffering and trauma as a consequence of the injuries.

(v) Loss of amenities (and/or loss of prospects of marriage).

(vi) Loss of expectation of life (shortening of normal longevity).

In routine personal injury cases, compensation will be awarded only under heads (i), (ii) (a) and (iv). It is only in serious cases of injury, where there is specific medical evidence corroborating the evidence of the claimant, that compensation will be granted under any of the heads (ii)(b), (iii), (v) and (vi) relating to loss of future earnings on account of permanent disability, future medical expenses, loss of amenities (and/or loss of prospects of marriage) and loss of expectation of life.

12. In K. Suresh v. New India Assurance Company Ltd. and Ors.,

(2012) 12 SCC 274, Hon'ble the Apex Court has held as follows :

"2...There cannot be actual compensation for anguish of the heart or for mental tribulations. The quintessentiality lies in the pragmatic computation of the loss sustained which has to be in the realm of realistic approximation. Therefore, Section 168 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 (for brevity the Act) stipulates that there should be grant of just compensation. Thus, it becomes a challenge for a court of law to determine just compensation which is neither a bonanza nor a windfall, and simultaneously, should not be a pittance."

13. We have perusal the Judgement of Division bench of this Court in the case of National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Lavkush and another, 2018 (1) T.A.C. 431, in which the concept of just compensation is discussed elaborately.

14. We now proceed to assess the compensation to be granted to appellant.

15. There is no doubt that the appellant sustained serious injuries in the accident. Learned tribunal has awarded only Rs.62,624/- as compensation which is regarding medical bills of the appellant. In this regard, learned tribunal has mentioned in impugned judgment that some of the bills are added twice by the appellant. Hence, we do not disturb the amount awarded by the tribunal for medical bills. The learned tribunal has discarded certificate of permanent disability on the ground that it is not signed by three doctors and it is not proved by calling the concerned doctors. This is not the requirement of law that disability certificate should be proved by calling the Doctors issuing it or doctors on the board.

16. We have fortified our view by the decision in Dasharath v. Alok Kumar Dubey and others, F.A.F.O. No.233 of 2006 where the decision of the Apex Court has been relied and the Court has come to the conclusion that disability certificate requires no oral testimony and this was based on the decision of the Apex Court in AIR 2019 SC 3235 in the case of S. Kumar (dead) v. United India and Vimla Devi and others Vs. National Insurance Company Limited and another, (2019) 2 SCC 186

17. Learned tribunal has also lost sight of the fact that due to head injury, grafting was done on the head of the appellant and disfigurement of face is also there. In a case where such serious injuries are sustained by the appellant, learned tribunal has brushed aside the disability certificate in a very casual manner. It is worth mentioning that there is no evidence on record that the disability certificate was challenged by the respondents by producing any evidence to rebut the same. Learned tribunal has stated that there are two disability certificates on record and it cannot be possible to issue two medical disability certificates, but we are not convinced with this finding because the record goes to show that first certificate is granted by Community Health Centre, Chandausi, District Moradabad showing disability to the tune of 45%. It was issued on 20.11.2009 and after that second disability certificate was issued on 16.02.2010 and later disability certificate is issued by conducting medical examination by a panel of doctors. This certificate is finally signed and issued by Chief Medical Officer, Moradabad certifying disability of 45% of body as a whole which is same as shown in certificate issued earlier by Community Health Centre, Chandausi. Hence, merely on the ground that two certificates are issued, it cannot be said that these certificates are fake in absence of any evidence. The disability certificate shows disability regarding speech and hearing. The photographs annexed to the disability certificates clearly show the disfigurement of head/face of the appellant. Learned tribunal has erred in ignoring the disability certificate in this regard.

18. The judgment of the Apex Court in Anita Sharma v. New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2021), 1 SCC 171 would also apply to the facts of this case. The evidence of the witnesses has not been accepted which is also against the Judgment in the case of the Apex Court in Vimla Devi and others Vs. National Insurance Company Limited and another, (2019) 2 SCC 186

19. Hence we assess the functional disability of appellant to the tune of 25% for the purpose of computation of compensation. We hold the income of the appellant at Rs.5,000/- p.m. because he was a mason. At the time of accident, the appellant was below 40 years of age. In the judgment of Vimal Kanwar and others v. Kishore Dan and others, AIR 2013 SC 3830, the Hon'ble Apex Court held that it would be reasonable to say that a person who is self employed or is engaged on fixed wages will also get 30% increase in his total income for a period of time. Hence, 30% of the income shall be added for future loss of income. The appellant was of 28 years of age, hence multiplier of 17 would be applicable.

20. We are shocked to note that in spite of sustaining serious injuries by the appellant where he remained hospitalised for several days, learned tribunal has not awarded any amount under the head of pain and suffering and has not assigned any reasons.

21. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellant is computed herein below:

i. Income : Rs.5,000/- p.m., it would be Rs.60,000/- p.a.

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 30% = Rs.18,000/-

iii. Total Income : Rs.60,000+ Rs.18,000/- = Rs.78,000/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 17

v. Total loss Rs.78,000 x 17 = Rs.13,26,000/-

vi. 25% for permanent disability: Rs.3,31,500/-

vii. Medical bills : Rs.62,624/- (as awarded by the tribunal)

viii. Amount under pain and suffering : Rs.50,000/-

ix. Amount under other non pecuniary head : 50,000/-

x. Total compensation (vi+vii+viii+ix): Rs. 3,31,500 + Rs. 62,624 + Rs. 50,000 + Rs.50,000 = Rs.4,94,124/-

22. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National 7 Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705

(S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

23. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount along with additional amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

24. The Tribunal shall follow the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, as the purpose of keeping compensation is to safeguard the interest of the claimants. As 13 years have elapsed, once the monies are deposited in tribunal, the amount be transmitted in the Saving Account of claimant in Nationalized Bank which would be furnished by claimant without F.D.R.

25. We are thankful to learned counsels for the parties for ably assisting this Court.

26. Record be sent back to the tribunal below forthwith.

(2022)05ILR A882
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 25.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJESH BINDAL, C.J.
THE HON'BLE PIYUSH AGRAWAL, J.

P.I.L. Civil No. 696 of 2022

Namaha ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
In Person, Sri Manindra Mohan Pandey

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Manish Goel (Addl. A.G.), Sri Vineet Pandey (C.S.C.), Sri A.K. Goyal (Addl. C.S.C.), Sri Ashutosh Mishra

(A) Public interest litigation is a weapon - used with great care and circumspection - Court has to be careful in lifting the veil and see what is the real objective behind - Chapter XXII of the High Court Rules - Sub-rule (3-A) of Rule 1 - petitioner in a public interest litigation, is required to disclose his credentials - Courts should prima facie verify the credentials of the petitioner before entertaining a PIL - Right to Information Act provides for complete remedies for redressal of grievance of any of the applicant regarding denial or furnishing of incomplete information. (Para - 12,14,15,20)

Petition filed in public interest – seeking direction to respondent No.2 - to disclose his full and actual name in public domain and produce all documents - for taking oath of office and secrecy under his real name and to refrain him from using the word 'Yogi' as title in his official communication - even failed to furnish in response to an application under the Right to Information Act - petitioner divulged certain facts not in the petition. (Para - 1,15,16,)

HELD:- Petition totally misconceived, filed with ulterior motive by a political person, without disclosing his complete credentials and concealing material facts from the Court. (Para - 21)

Petition dismissed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Dattaraj Nathuji Thaware Vs St. of Mah. & ors. , (2005) 1 SCC 590

2. St. of Uttaranchal Vs Balwant Singh Chaufal & ors. , (2010) 3 SCC 402

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajesh Bindal, C. J.
&
Hon'ble Piyush Agrawal, J.)

1. The present petition has been filed in public interest, seeking direction to respondent No.2 to disclose his full and actual name in public domain and produce all documents thereto. Further direction sought to him, is for taking oath of office and secrecy under his real name and to refrain him from using the word 'Yogi' as title in his official communication.

2. The respondent No.2 has been impleaded as 'Adityanath', Member of Legislative Assembly, Gorakhpur (Urban)/Chief Minister of the State of Uttar Pradesh.

3. The petitioner, who appeared in person, referred to certain documents placed on record to show that respondent No.2 had been using different names at different places on different occasions. He referred to document at page 29 where his name was mentioned as 'Aditya Nath'. Reference was also made to another document at page 55 where his name was mentioned as 'Adityanath'. The same is in Hindi. It is the nomination form of respondent No.2 for election to 64 - Gorakhpur Parliamentary Constituency, as attested on April 22, 2014. It was claimed that the said document was downloaded by the petitioner from the website of the Lok Sabha. Further reference was made an affidavit sworn by respondent No.2, which is typed in Hindi, dated February 4, 2022 while filing his nomination paper for the State Assembly Election wherein his name is mentioned as 'Adityanath'. The same is in Hindi. While referring to the aforesaid documents, it was argued that four sets of nomination papers were filed by the same person and only one person contested the election.

4. Thereafter, reference was made to document at page 83 where the name of respondent No.2 was mentioned as 'Adityanath'. It is said to be downloaded from the website 'National Election Watch', which is claimed to be official website of the Election Commission of India. While referring to notice dated April 11, 2019 issued by the Election Commission of India to the respondent No.2, it was argued that while adding the word 'Yogi' with his name, even the Election Commission of India had mixed up with him, as his name is not Yogi Adityanath.

5. An application was filed to the State Government under the Right to Information Act for furnishing the requisite information, however, the same has not been furnished till date.

6. Referring to the aforesaid documents, it has been submitted that respondent No.2 is using different names at different places. He had even taken oath while pronouncing his name differently. Hence, a direction is required to be issued to him for disclosing his correct name. More than 25 crore residents of the State of Uttar Pradesh want answer.

7. He further submitted that he had filed a writ petition for correction of the name of our country as mentioned in Article 1 of the Constitution of India, before Hon'ble the Supreme Court. Hence, he is a public spirited person and raises issues of public importance in Courts.

8. On the other hand, Mr. Manish Goel, learned Additional Advocate General appearing for respondent No.1, submitted that a perusal of reliefs prayed for in the writ petition, shows that the same are for direction against respondent No.2, impleaded as a private person. Hence, a writ petition will not be maintainable. He further submitted that the petitioner has not disclosed his credentials as required under sub-rule (3-A) of Rule 1 of Chapter XXII of the High Court Rules. While referring to the judgments of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Dattaraj Nathuji Thaware Vs. State of Maharashtra and others, (2005) 1 SCC 590 and State of Uttaranchal Vs. Balwant Singh Chaufal and others, (2010) 3 SCC 402, it was submitted that the present petition having been filed for ulterior motive, deserves to be dismissed at the threshold, with special costs.

9. In response, the petitioner, who appears in person, submitted that Hon'ble the Supreme Court had sought his personal details while he had filed a writ petition in public interest there. Hence, he thought of asking for details of respondent No.2 as he is bound to disclose his identity. He further submitted that he was a candidate from Laxmi Nagar Assembly Constituency in the elections held in 2020 on a ticket of Lok Janshakti Party and secured about 70-80 votes. He further submitted that he was not aware of the Rules and Orders of this Court, which require disclosure of credentials of a person while filing public interest litigation. It was further claimed that he is illiterate as certified by the Election Commission of India and is not doing anything.

10. He claimed that for filing writ petition before the Hon'ble Supreme Court with reference to the name of our country as mentioned in Article 1 of the Constitution of India, he had read 18 different copies of the Constitution to make out his case. During the course of hearing, he was addressing arguments in English. He could very well go through the provisions of the Constitution, a copy of which he was carrying with himself but, still, he claimed himself to be illiterate person.

11. Heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the paper book.

12. Sub-rule (3-A) of Rule 1 of Chapter XXII of the High Court Rules, in term of which a petitioner in a public interest litigation, is required to disclose his credentials, reads as under:

"(3-A) In addition to satisfying the requirements of the other rules in this chapter, the petitioner seeking to file a Public Interest Litigation, should precisely and specifically state, in the affidavit to be sworn by him giving his credentials, the public cause he is seeking to espouse; that he has no personal or private interest in the matter; that there is no authoritative pronouncement by the Supreme Court or High Court on the question raised; and that the result of the litigation will not lead to any undue gain to himself or anyone associated with him, or any undue loss to any person, body of persons or the State."

13. In the case in hand, all what is claimed is that the petitioner is a social activist and he has no personal or private interest in the matter.

14. Hon'ble the Supreme Court in Dattaraj Nathuji Thaware's case (supra), opined that public interest litigation is a weapon to be used with great care and circumspection. The Court has to be careful in lifting the veil and see what is the real objective behind. The process should not be allowed to be misused. Many petitions are filed just with a view to gain cheap publicity. Paragraph 12 thereof is extracted below:-

"12. Public interest litigation is a weapon which has to be used with great care and circumspection and the judiciary has to be extremely careful to see that behind the beautiful veil of public interest an ugly private malice, vested interest and/or publicity- seeking is not lurking. It is to be used as an effective weapon in the armoury of law for delivering social justice to citizens. The attractive brand name of public interest litigation should not be used for suspicious products of mischief. It should be aimed at redressal of genuine public wrong or public injury and not be publicity-oriented or founded on personal vendetta. As indicated above, Court must be careful to see that a body of persons or member of the public, who approaches the court is acting bona fide and not for personal gain or private motive or political motivation or other oblique considerations. The Court must not allow its process to be abused for oblique considerations by masked phantoms who monitor at times from behind. Some persons with vested interest indulge in the pastime of meddling with judicial process either by force of habit or from improper motives, and try to bargain for a good deal as well to enrich themselves. Often they are actuated by a desire to win notoriety or cheap popularity. The petitions of such busybodies deserve to be thrown out by rejection at the threshold, and in appropriate cases with exemplary costs."

15. The issue was further examined by Hon'ble the Supreme Court in Balwant Singh Chaufal and others' case (supra). Certain directions have been issued to preserve purity and sanctity of public interest litigation. Paragraph 181 thereof, reads as under:-

"181. We have carefully considered the facts of the present case. We have also examined the law declared by this court and other courts in a number of judgments. In order to preserve the purity and sanctity of the PIL, it has become imperative to issue the following directions:-

(1) The courts must encourage genuine and bona fide PIL and effectively discourage and curb the PIL filed for extraneous considerations.

(2) Instead of every individual judge devising his own procedure for dealing with the public interest litigation, it would be appropriate for each High Court to properly formulate rules for encouraging the genuine PIL and discouraging the PIL filed with oblique motives. Consequently, we request that the High Courts who have not yet framed the rules, should frame the rules within three months. The Registrar General of each High Court is directed to ensure that a copy of the rules prepared by the High Court is sent to the Secretary General of this court immediately thereafter.

(3) The Courts should prima facie verify the credentials of the petitioner before entertaining a PIL.

(4) The Courts should be prima facie satisfied regarding the correctness of the contents of the petition before entertaining a PIL.

(5) The Courts should be fully satisfied that substantial public interest is involved before entertaining the petition.

(6) The Courts should ensure that the petition which involves larger public interest, gravity and urgency must be given priority over other petitions.

(7) The Courts before entertaining the PIL should ensure that the PIL is aimed at redressal of genuine public harm or public injury. The Court should also ensure that there is no personal gain, private motive or oblique motive behind filing the public interest litigation.

(8) The Courts should also ensure that the petitions filed by busybodies for extraneous and ulterior motives must be discouraged by imposing exemplary costs or by adopting similar novel methods to curb frivolous petitions and the petitions filed for extraneous considerations."

16. At the time of hearing, the petitioner had divulged certain more facts which were not there in the petition, namely, he claimed that he had contested the Assembly election in Delhi in the year 2020 on a ticket of Lok Janshakti Party and secured 70-80 votes. This fact was concealed from this Court. He being a political person, deliberately chose to conceal his identity while filing the writ petition, apparently with some ulterior motive or cheap publicity.

17. Though, he had given his address of Delhi in the petition, however, at the time of hearing, he stated that he belongs to Uttar Pradesh. Again an effort to mislead the Court.

18. Further, there was a smart answer given by him about his educational qualification. He claimed that he had been certified to be an illiterate person by the Election Commission of India, a fact which was belied on the face of it from the conduct and presentation of the case by the petitioner. He was arguing his case in English. He was carrying copy of the Constitution of India and could read the same very well. Still, he claimed that he had been certified to be illiterate by the Election Commission of India, apparently on the basis of some wrong information furnished by him.

19. From the documents and pleadings in the writ petition, he could not make out any case that is sought to be projected. Rather efforts seem to be for a roving enquiry into certain non-existent facts. Two documents were referred to at pages 36 and 83. The petitioner claimed he had downloaded these from the website of the Election Commission of India, which mention on the top "National Election Watch'. However, as referred to by the learned counsel for the respondents, the same is a website which is managed by an Association for Democratic Reforms, some private persons/NGO. Hence, any information uploaded thereon, cannot be used against anyone.

20. In the nomination paper filed by respondent No.2 , the name has been correctly mentioned. There is nothing on record to suggest what is sought to be argued. The only prayer made is that respondent No.2 should be asked to furnish the information which he had even failed to furnish in response to an application filed by the petitioner under the Right to Information Act. We may only add here that the Right to Information Act provides for complete remedies for redressal of grievance of any of the applicant regarding denial or furnishing of incomplete information.

21. For the reasons mentioned above, we find this petition to be totally misconceived, filed with ulterior motive by a political person, without disclosing his complete credentials and concealing material facts from the Court. Hence, the same is dismissed. To discourage filing of such frivolous petitions, in our opinion, the petitioner deserves to be burdened with cost of ₹1,00,000/-. The same is directed to be deposited by him within a period of six weeks with the Viklang Kendra, Bharadwaj Ashram, Jawaharlal Nehru Road, Muir Road, Prayagraj - 211002.

22. A copy of this order be sent to the aforesaid Viklang Kendra for information and availing appropriate remedy in case the aforesaid amount is not deposited by the petitioner within the time permitted.

(2022)05ILR A887

ORIGINAL JURISDICTION

CIVIL SIDE

DATED: ALLAHABAD 29.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SURYA PRAKASH KESARWANI, J.

THE HON'BLE JAYANT BANERJI, J.

Writ Tax No. 449 of 2022

Buddha Sortex Rice Industries Pvt. Ltd., Deoria ...Petitioner

Versus

Principal Commissioner of Income Tax, Gorakhpur & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Parv Agarwal

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Gaurav Mahajan

A. Tax Law - The Income Tax Act, 1961 - Section 148 - Normally the period of limitation which is available to the assessing authority is four years i.e., till 31.03.2020. The aforesaid period was extended for one year by the Ordinance, 2020 and notification issued thereafter. Thus, the normal period of limitation available to the Assessing Authority on the facts of the present case was till 31.03.2021. The impugned notice issued by the Assessing Authority is wholly valid and the same has been issued well within the period of limitation. (Para 9)

Writ Petition Dismissed. (E-10)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Surya Prakash Kesarwani, J.
&
Hon'ble Jayant Banerji, J.)

1. Heard Sri Parv Agarwal, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Gaurav Mahajan, learned Senior Standing Counsel for the Income Tax Department.

2. This writ petition has been filed praying for the following reliefs:-

"(a) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the notice dated 30.03.2021 issued by the respondent no.2 under Section 148 of the Act as also the order dated 28.02.2022 passed by6 respondent no.3, rejecting the objections filed by the petitioner against the 'reasons to believe' for assumption of jurisdiction against the petitioner for th Assessment Year 2015-16.

(b) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus restraining the respondents from proceeding with the reassessment proceedings against the petitioner for the AY-2015-16."

3. The only argument advanced by the learned counsel for the petitioner before us is that the normal period of limitation for issuing notice under Section 148 of the Income Tax Act, 1961 (hereinafter referred to as the Act of 1961) would be six years where escapement of income from tax is one lacs or more. In this regard, he referred to the provision of Section 149(1) (b) of the Act of 1961. He further submits that since prior approval of the Principal Commissioner in terms of provisions of Section 151 of the Act of 1961 has not been obtained for issuance of notice under Section 148(1) of the Act of 1961, therefore, issuance of notice after expiry of four years but before expiry of six years, the notice is bad and without jurisdiction. No other arguments have been made before us by the learned counsel for the petitioner.

4. Sri Gaurav Mahajan, learned Senior Standing Counsel appearing for the Income Tax Department submits that the normal period of limitation for re-opening as provided under Section 149(1) (a) of the Act of 1961 is four years in all cases but where four years have expired but not six years and escaped assessment amounts to or likely to amount to Rs. one lac or more for that year, then still notice may be issued but after obtaining approval of the Principal Commissioner as per the provisions of Section 151 of the Act of 1961.

5. Since, in the present set of fact, the normal period of limitation for re-opening for the assessment year 2015-2016 was available till 31.3.2020 which was extended by the Taxation and other Law (Relaxation of Certain Provisions) Ordinance, 2020 and the notification issued thereunder, taking into the situation created due to pandemic Covid-19, the normal period of limitation was available till 31.3.2021. The impugned notice has been issued prior to the expiry of normal period of limitation, therefore, the impugned notice does not suffer from any infirmity and is valid.

6. We have carefully considered the submissions of the learned counsel for the parties.

7. Section 149 of the Act of 1961 provides for limitation for issuance of notice under Section 148. Section 149 as is extended prior to amendment of Finance Act, 2021 is reproduced below:

"149. Time limit for notice*- (1) No notice under section 148 shall be issued for the relevant assessment year-*

(a) if four years have elapsed from the end of the relevant assessment year, unless the case falls under clause (b) or clause (c).

(b) if four years, but not more than six years, have elapsed from the end of the relevant assessment year unless the income chargeable to tax which has escaped assessment amounts to or is likely to amount to one lakh rupees or more for that year,

(c) if four years, but not more than sixteen years, have elapsed from the end of the relevant assessment year unless the income in relation to any asset (including financial interest in any entity) located outside India, chargeable to tax, has escaped assessment."

8. The provisions of Section 149(1) of the Act of 1961 are plain and unambiguous. Bare reading of clause (a) of sub-section (1) of Section 149 leaves no manner of doubt that normal period of limitation for issuance of notice under Section 148 of the Act of 1961 is four years from the end of the relevant assessment year, unless the case falls under clause (b) or clause (c). Thus, after normal period of limitation of four years has expired, larger period of limitation under clause (b) or (c) of sub-section (1) of Section 149 of the Act of 1961 may be invoked, if circumstances so exist.

9. In the present set of fact, the normal period of limitation of four years was available to the Assessing Authority till 31.3.2020 which was extended for one year by the aforesaid Ordinance, 2020 and the notification issued thereunder. Thus, the normal period of limitation available to the Assessing Authority on the facts of the present case was till 31.3.2021. The impugned notice under Section 148 of the Act, 1961 was issued by the Assessing Authority on 30.3.2021 which does not require any prior approval of the Principal Commissioner in terms of the then existing provisions of Section 151 of the Act, 1961. Therefore, the impugned notice under Section 148 of the Act of 1961 issued by the Assessing Authority is wholly valid and same has been issued well within the period of limitation.

10. For all the reasons aforestated, we do not find any merit in this writ petition. Consequently, the writ petition fails and is hereby dismissed.

(2022)05ILR A889
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 12.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SURYA PRAKASH KESARWANI, J.
THE HON'BLE JAYANT BANERJI, J.

Writ Tax No. 564 of 2022

Pushpa Yadav ...Petitioner
Versus
Income Tax Officer, Ghaziabad & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Mahandra Pratap, Sri Anurag Yadav, Sri R.R. Agarwal (Sr. Advocate)

Counsel for the Respondents:
A.S.G.I., Sri Gaurav Mahajan, Sri Gopal Verma, Sri Krishna Agarwal

A. Tax Law - Income Tax Act, 1961 - Section 148 - The Court did not find any discrepancy in the reason to believe recorded by the authority in notice under Section 148 of the Act. The authority proceeded with the information received from the Investigation Wing and after Independent verification, he came to the conclusion the assessee has made huge cash. (Para 11)

Writ Rejected. (E-10)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Surya Prakash Kesarwani, J.

&
Hon'ble Jayant Banerji, J.)

1. Heard Shri R.R. Agarwal, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Shri Mahendra Pratap and Shri Anurag Yadav, learned counsel for the petitioner, Shri Krishna Agarwal, learned counsel for the respondent nos.1 and 2/Income Tax Department and Shri Gopal Verma, learned counsel for the respondent no.3.

2. This writ petition has been filed praying for the following reliefs:-

"(i) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the order dated 03.02.2022 passed by the National Faceless Assessment Centre Delhi respondent no.2 rejecting the objection of the petitioner to the reasons recorded for re-opening of the assessment for A.Y. 2016-17 (Annexure-5 to the writ petition).

(ii) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the notice issued under section 148 of the Income Tax Act for A.Y. 2016-17 dated 32.03.2021 issued by the Income Tax Officer (1), Ward 2(2)(1) Ghaziabad, respondent no.1 (Annexure-2 to the writ petition)."

3. Learned Senior Advocate for the petitioner submits that the impugned notice dated 30.03.2021 under Section 148 of the Income Tax Act, 1961 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Act, 1961') has been issued to the petitioner by the respondent no.1 on the basis of certain information received on account of the search conducted in the premises of M/s Celebrations City Projects (P) Ltd. Therefore, at best, the proceedings against the petitioner-assessee may be initiated in accordance with the provisions of Section 153C of the Act, 1961 which starts with non-obstante clause. He, therefore, submits that the impugned notice under Section 148 of the Act, 1961 and the impugned order dated 03.02.2022 rejecting the objection of the petitioner, are wholly unsustainable and deserve to be quashed and the entire proceeding under Section 148 is without jurisdiction.

4. Learned counsel for the respondents have supported the impugned notice and the order.

5. We have carefully considered the submissions of learned counsels for the parties and perused the records of the writ petition.

6. Reason supplied by the assessing authority to the petitioner for initiating proceedings under Section 147/148 of the Act, 1961, is reproduced below:-

"It was informed by DDIT (Inv.)-1(3), Ghaziabad vide letter dated 26.03.2021 dated during the enquiry proceedings, it was found that that assessee has made cash amount of Rs. 1,18,84,000/- for purchase of units/shops/space etc. in Red Mall, Ghaziabad to M/s Celebration City Projects Pvt Ltd. during the F.Y. 2015-16.

On perusal of the record it is seen that the assessee has filed ITR for A.Y. 2016-17 on 28.07.2016 declaring income of Rs.7,32,670/-. As per record the case has not been assessed u/s 143(3) of the Income Tax Act, 1961.

I have perused the record in light of the above information and through independent verification of return of the assessee with the perusal of the statement recorded on oath came to independent conclusion that the assessee has made huge cash of Rs.1,18,84,000/- for purchase of units/shop etc, in Red Mall to M/s Celebration City Projects Pvt Ltd. during the F.Y. 2015-16 1.e. A.Y. 2016-17. Hence, there is reason to believe that there is escapement of income from the returned income of the assessee. I have reason to believe that there is escapement of more than Rs. 1,18,84,000/- and further additional income and any other income which can come in the the knowledge subsequently in the course of proceedings u/s 147(b), therefore the issue of notice u/s 148 of the income tax act, 1961 is necessary in this case. Hence, the case of Smit Pushpa Yadav is being proposed for approval under the provision of section 151(1) of the I.T. Act, 1961."

(emphasis supplied)

7. While rejecting the objection of the petitioner by the impugned order dated 03.02.2022, the respondent no.1 has observed in paragraphs 2, 5.2.2 and 5.3.2. as under:-

"2. In the case of the assessee, information has been received from the DDIT (Inv)-(1)(3) by letter dated 26/3/2021 that during the course of enquiry, it was found that the assessee has made payment by cash of an amount of Rs.1,18,84,000/-, for purchase of units/shops/space in the Red Mall, Ghaziabad to the seller M/s Celebration City Projects P Ltd. during the F.Y 2015-16.

The A.O has stated that as per details available, the assessee has filed ITR for A.Y 2016-17 on 28/07/2016 declaring income of Rs.7,32,670/-, which was processed u/s 143(1) of the Act. The A.O has perused the available records of the assessee in the light of the information received from the Investigation Wing and through independent verification of the return of the assessee with the perusal of the statement recorded on oath, came to the conclusion that the assessee has made the cash payment of Rs.1,18,84,000/- for purchase of units/shops in Red Mall to the seller M/s Celebration City Projects P Ltd. during the FY 2015-16.

The A.O has therefore, analysed the information with the return of income filed by the assessee for the relevant period, the source of cash deposits was not disclosed in the return of income filed, which is chargeable to tax as discussed in paragraph above and the assessee was assessable under the Act. In view of the above facts, the A.O had reason to believe that the assessee has not disclosed fully and truly all material facts for the year under consideration and the said cash deposits of Rs 22,85,000/- is the income of the assessee that has escaped assessment within the meaning of sec. 147 of the Income Tax Act, 1961.

Accordingly, the assessment was re-opened by issue of notice u/s.148 of the I.T. Act dated 30/3/2021, after taking required approval from the competent authority in the Department as per the provisions of section 151 of the Income Tax Act, 1961.

.....

5.2.2. The arguments of the assessee are unfounded. In the reasons recorded by the A.O, the A.O has clearly specified that he has analysed the information with the return of income filed by the assessee for the relevant period and found that the source of cash deposits was not disclosed in the return of income filed. In view of the above facts, the A.O had reason to believe that the assessee has not disclosed fully and truly all material facts for the year under consideration and the said cash payment of Rs.1,18,84,000/- made by the assessee is the income of the assessee that has escaped assessment within the meaning of sec. 147 of the Income Tax Act, 1961.

.....

5.3.2 5.The assessees's contention is entirely incorrect. In the assessee's case, there is reliable information from the Investigation Wing gathered during the course of search and survey operations in the case of M/s Celebration City Projects P Ltd. that payment in cash has been received from the assessee for sale of units/shop rooms from M/s Celebration City Projects P Ltd. The enquiry report received from the Investigation Wing from the DDIT (Inv). (1)(3) by letter dated 26/3/2021 giving the details of the transaction was analysed with the return of income filed by the assessee. The A.O then arrived at an independent opinion of income having escaped assessment within the meaning of section 147 of the I.T. Act in the case of the assessee.

There are broadly two limitations on the power of the revenue to reopen assessments - (i) there must be some tangible material based on which the reopening is being undertaken which leads to a reason to believe that there has been escapement of income and (ii) the reopening should not be a "mere change of opinion. Furthermsore, information from the Investigation Wing, can be basis for issue of notice u/s.148, as held in the following judicial rulings -

1. AGR Investment Ltd. Vs. Addl.CIT&Anr. (Delhi) 333 ITR 146.

2. Shalimar Buildcon (P) Ltd. V/s. ITO ITAT (Jaipur), 136 TTJ 701.

(emphasis supplied)

8. Section 153C(1) of the Act, 1961 reads as under :-

"153C. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 139, section 147, section 148, section 149, section 151 and section 153, where the Assessing Officer is satisfied that,-

(a) any money, bullion, jewellery or other valuable article or thing, seized or requisitioned, belongs to; or

(b) any books of account or documents, seized or requisitioned, pertains or pertain to, or any information contained therein, relates to, a person other than the person referred to in section 153A, then, the books of account or documents or assets, seized or requisitioned shall be handed over to the Assessing Officer having jurisdiction over such other person and that Assessing Officer shall proceed against each such other person and issue notice and assess or reassess the income of the other person in accordance with the provisions of section 153A, if, that Assessing Officer is satisfied that the books of account or documents or assets seized or requisitioned have a bearing on the determination of the total income of such other person for six assessment years immediately preceding the assessment year relevant to the previous year in which search is conducted or requisition is made and for the relevant assessment year or years referred to in sub-section (1) of section 153A:

Provided that in case of such other person, the reference to the date of initiation of the search under section 132 or making of requisition under section 132A in the second proviso to sub-section (1) of section 153A shall be construed as reference to the date of receiving the books of account or documents or assets seized or requisitioned by the Assessing Officer having jurisdiction over such other person :

Provided further that the Central Government may by rules made by it and published in the Official Gazette, specify the class or classes of cases in respect of such other person, in which the Assessing Officer shall not be required to issue notice for assessing or reassessing the total income for six assessment years immediately preceding the assessment year relevant to the previous year in which search is conducted or requisition is made and for the relevant assessment year or years as referred to in sub-section (1) of section 153A except in case where any assessment or reassessment has abated."

9. From the reason recorded by the assessing authority, it is evident that the assessing authority was having some information from the DDT (Inv.)-1(3), Ghaziabad vide letter dated 26.03.2021. He independently verified the information received from the return of income of the assessee and also perused the statement recorded on oath and then he came to an independent conclusion that the assessee had made huge cash of Rs.1,18,84,000/- for purchase of units/shop etc. in Red Mall to M/s Celebrations City Projects (P) Ltd. during the Financial Year 2015-16. The reason to believe recorded by the assessing authority is not on the basis of any books of account or document seized by Income Tax Authorities in the search conducted on M/s Celebrations City Projects (P) Ltd.

10. Even if it is presumed that copies of certain statements on oath recorded during the course of search by the Investigating Wing, were forwarded to the respondent no.1 alongwith the report, it cannot be said to be either the books of account or document seized so as to fall it within the ambit of clause (b) of sub-section (1) of Section 153C of the Act, 1961.

11. Perusal of the reason recorded by the assessing authority as aforequoted reveals that the assessing authority has proceeded on the basis of certain information received from the Investigating Wing and after independent verification, he came to the conclusion that the assessee had made huge cash of Rs.1,18,84,000/-, which caused him to issue notice to the petitioner under Section 148 of the Act, 1961. It is also admitted case of the petitioner that no assessment was made by the assessing authority for the Assessment Year 2016-17. As per Explanation 2(b) appended to Section 147 of the Act, 1961, if a return of income has been furnished by the assessee but no assessment has been made and it is noticed by the assessing officer that the assessee has understated the income or has claimed excessive loss, deduction, allowance or relief in the return; then it shall be deemed to be a case where income chargeable to tax has escaped assessment.

12. In view of the above discussions, we find that neither the impugned notice issued by the respondent no.1 under Section 148 of the Act, 1961 suffers from any illegality nor the impugned order rejecting the objection of the petitioner suffers from any infirmity, which, under the circumstances, cannot be interfered with.

13. For all the reasons aforestated, we find that the writ petition has no substance and is, therefore, dismissed.

14. It shall be open for the assessing authority to proceed with the reassessment proceedings in accordance with law, without being influenced by any of the observations made in the body of this judgment

---

(2022)05ILR A894

ORIGINAL JURISDICTION

CIVIL SIDE

DATED: ALLAHABAD 04.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SAUMITRA DAYAL SINGH, J.

Writ Tax No. 902 of 2021

M/S Brij Bihari Singh ...Petitioner

Versus

Commissioner Commercial Tax, Lko & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Ms. Pooja Talwar

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

A. Tax Law - Period of limitation - U.P. G.S.T. Act, 2017 - Section 107 - U.P. G.S.T. Rules, 2017 - Rue 108 - The statutory right of appeal is not an illusory remedy given to the assessee or a person aggrieved. The appeal forum must be seen to exist and be freely available to the person seeing to approach it without any obstruction. (Para 11)

B. In the present case, the petitioner was disabled from filling appeal (electronically) through the prescribed mode against the order dated 28.02.2019 for reasons attributable to the GSTN authority and not for reasons attributable to the petitioner. The technical glitches were resolved by the GSTN authority on 17.09.2021, the period of limitation to file an appeal started running from that date only. The period starting from 28.02.02019 to 17.09.2021 shall remain suspended. (Para 10, 12 and 13) (E-10)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saumitra Dayal Singh, J.)

1 . Heard Ms. Pooja Talwar, learned counsel for the assessee and learned Standing Counsel for the revenue.

2. Challenge has been raised to the order passed by the Additional Commissioner, Grade-2 (Appeal), Commercial Tax, Sonbhadra dated 12.10.2021 in Appeal No. GST - 47 of 2021 for the period 2019-20. By that order, that Appeal Authority has rejected as time barred the appeal filed by the petitioner against the order dated 28.02.2019, passed by the Proper Officer, cancelling the petitioner's registration, under Section 29 of the U.P. GST Act, 2017 (hereinafter referred to as the Act).

3. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and having perused the record, it transpires, the petitioner's registration under the Act was sought to be cancelled vide notice dated 28.02.2019. The petitioner submitted his reply thereto on 12.03.2019. However, in absence of the petitioner, the said registration was cancelled by an ex parte order dated 09.08.2019. Here, it is not in dispute that the petitioner was served with a copy of that order at the relevant time through the GSTN portal.

4. It is the grievance of the petitioner, despite best efforts, he could not file an appeal against that order for reason of continued malfunctioning/errors in the functioning of the GSTN portal (through which the appeal was to be filed). Evidence was led by the petitioner to establish the continued difficulties faced by him. Thus, print of screen shots (of certain dates when the petitioner attempted to file that appeal), were brought on record in the first appeal, eventually filed on 20.09.2021.

5. The error arising in the working of the GSTN portal was resolved on 17.09.2021. Thereupon, the petitioner received the Ticket No. G2021090862061. The petitioner further received an e-mail from the GSTN authorities on 20.09.2021, informing him of the resolution made to the error in the working of the GSTN portal. The petitioner instituted the appeal through the GSTN portal on 20.09.2021.

6. At that stage, perhaps because the resolution offered by the GSTN portal, the order dated 28.02.2019 came to be displayed (again) on the GSTN portal, with a fresh Reference No. ZA090819050330H with date 17.09.2021. A copy of the same has been filed as Annexure No. 5 to the writ petition.

7. Whatever be the exact nature of communication sought to be made by the GSTN portal, it cannot be disputed that there exists clear evidence of admission made by the GSTN authority of difficulty faced by the petitioner in instituting his appeal against the order dated 28.02.2019, within the normal period of limitation, computed from the date of that order. Also, there is clear evidence of the said difficulty having been first resolved on 17.09.2021, well after expiry of the statutory period of limitation and the extended period of limitation, to file the appeal under Section 107 of the Act.

8. For ready reference, relevant extract of Section 107 of the Act reads as below:

"Section 107. Appeals to Appellate Authority

(1) Any person aggrieved by any decision or order passed under this Act or the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (Act No. 12 of 2017) by an adjudicating authority may appeal to such Appellate Authority as may be prescribed within three months from the date on which the said decision or order is communicated to such person.

(2) The Commissioner may, on his own motion, or upon request from the Commissioner of central tax, call for and examine the record of any proceeding in which an adjudicating authority has passed any decision or order under this Act or the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (Act No. 12 of 2017) for the purpose of satisfying himself as to the legality or propriety of the said decision or order and may, by order, direct any officer subordinate to him to apply to the Appellate Authority within six months from the date of communication of the said decision or order for the determination of such points arising out of the said decision or order as may be specified by the Commissioner in his order.

(3) Where, in pursuance of an order under sub-section (2), the authorised officer makes an application to the Appellate Authority, such application shall be dealt with by the Appellate Authority as if it were an appeal made against the decision or order of the adjudicating authority and such authorised officer were an appellant and the provisions of this Act relating to appeals shall apply to such application.

(4) The Appellate Authority may, if he is satisfied that the appellant was prevented by sufficient cause from presenting the appeal within the aforesaid period of three months or six months, as the case may be, allow it to be presented within a further period of one month."

9. Also, Rule 108 of the UP GST Rules, 2017 pertaining to procedure to file appeal reads as below:

"108. Appeal to the Appellate Authority.- (1) An appeal to the Appellate Authority under sub-section (1) of section 107 shall be filed in FORM GST APL-01, alongwith the relevant documents, either electronically or otherwise as may be notified by the Commissioner, and a provisional acknowledgement shall be issued to the appellant immediately.

(2) The grounds of appeal and the form of verification as contained in FORM GST APL-01 shall be signed in the manner specified in rule 26.

(3) A certified copy of the decision or order appealed against shall be submitted within seven days of filing the appeal under sub-rule (1) and a final acknowledgement, indicating appeal number shall be issued thereafter in FORM GST APL-02 by the Appellate Authority or an officer authorised by him in this behalf:

Provided that where the certified copy of the decision or order is submitted within seven days from the date of filing the FORM GST APL-01, the date of filing of the appeal shall be the date of the issue of the provisional acknowledgement and where the said copy is submitted after seven days, the date of filing of the appeal shall be the date of the submission of such copy.

Explanation.? For the provisions of this rule, the appeal shall be treated as filed only when the final acknowledgement, indicating the appeal number, is issued."

10. Since the petitioner had been disabled from filing appeal (electronically) through the prescribed mode, against the order dated 28.02.2019, for reasons attributable solely to the GSTN authority and not for reasons attributable to the petitioner, it has to be assumed, for the limited purpose of the dispute at hand that the forum of appeal was first made available to the petitioner on 17.09.2021, and not earlier. It is so because 17.09.2021 was the date when GSTN authority first resolved the technical issues that had restrained or prevented the petitioner from approaching the appeal authority to file his appeal, against the order dated 28.02.2019.

11. The statutory right of appeal is not an illusory remedy given to the assessee or a person aggrieved. It is an effective and real remedy granted within the structure of the statute to allow for redressal of genuine grievances. Therefore, the appeal forum (wherever provided) must be seen to exist and be freely available to the person seeking to approach it. There must exist no obstruction to access it within time and opportunity granted by the statute, to institute the appeal, before that authority.

12. In the present case, on a technical construction of the statute, the period of limitation to file an appeal against the order dated 28.02.2019 may appear to run from the date of the order being communicated to the petitioner i.e. 28.02.2019 itself. At the same time, that construction has to be rejected. It is so because, against the order dated 17.09.2021, no appeal could have been filed by the petitioner as it remained completely prevented/obstructed from filing such appeal, owing to technical glitches suffered by the GSTN portal on which that appeal may have been filed.

13. In face of clear evidence existing on record that such technical glitches were resolved by the GSTN authority on 17.09.2021, the period of limitation to file appeal started running from that date only. For the period 28.02.2019 to 17.09.2021, the period of limitation to file the appeal must always be deemed to have remained suspended for reason of appeal forum being not made available for filing of appeal by the petitioner, through prescribed mode.

14. Accordingly, the appeal was filed by the assessee on 20.09.2021, within time. The Appeal Authority has completely erred in rejecting the appeal as time barred. Accordingly, the present writ petition is allowed.

15. The order dated 12.10.2021 is quashed. The matter is remitted to the Appeal Authority to hear and decide the appeal on merits, treating the same to have been filed within time.

16. Since the matter has remained pending for very long, it is expected that the Appeal Authority shall take up the appeal proceedings on priority and hear and decide the same as expeditiously as possible, preferably within a period of three months from the date of production of a copy of this order.

(2022)05ILR A897
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED ALLAHABAD 11.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJESH BINDAL, C.J.
THE HON'BLE J.J. MUNIR, J.

Special Appeal No. 296 of 2019
with other connected cases

Vipin Kumar & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
State Of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants
Sri Neeraj Shukla, Sri Bhagwan Dutt Pandey

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Rajesh Yadav

A. Service Law - U.P. Basic Education (Teachers) Services Rules, 1981 - Party is not allowed to approbate and reprobate at the same time. The appellants who had secured benefit under the transfer policy, voluntarily giving up rights, cannot turn around and regain what they had given up. (Para 13)

The appellants want to retain the benefit of transfer that they have secured in terms of the Government Order dated 23.06.2016 to the districts of their choice, they cannot be permitted to take the benefit and rid themselves of the disadvantage that is coupled with it. (Para 16)

Special Appeal Rejected. (E-10)

List of Cases cited:

1. St. of Punj. & ors. Vs Dhanjit Singh Sandhu (2014) 15 SCC 144 (followed)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajesh Bindal , C. J.

&
Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. This judgment will dispose of Special Appeal Nos. 296 to 298, 300, 302, 303 and 853 of 2019 and Special Appeal Defective No. 905 of 2020.

2. Special Appeal No. 296 of 2019 is directed against the order passed by the learned Single Judge in Writ - A No. 22896 of 2018, dismissing the writ petition. This appeal has been preferred by ten out of the twelve writ petitioners, who failed before the learned Single Judge. This appeal and the other seven Appeals, referred to hereinabove, raise common questions of fact and law and are, therefore, being disposed of by a common judgment.

3. Special Appeal No. 296 of 2019 shall be treated as the leading case.

4. Heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the relevant referred record.

5. The question involved in these appeals is :

"Whether an employee, who elects to avail of a benefit under an employer's concession, to which he is not entitled as of right under the Service Rules subject to specified disadvantages, can later on reprobate to retain the benefit, but forsake the coupled disadvantage?"

6. The appellants in all these appeals were appointed as Assistant Teachers in Primary Pathshalas, established and run under the Uttar Pradesh Basic Education Act, 1972 by the Uttar Pradesh Basic Education Board (for short, 'the Board'). They were appointed on various dates, which find mention in the different writ petitions, giving rise to these Appeals. The appointments and conditions of services of each of the appellants are governed by the Uttar Pradesh Basic Education (Teachers) Services Rules, 1981 (for short, 'the Rules of 1981'). It is common ground in these appeals that the appellants were all promoted to the post of Headmaster of Primary Pathshala or Assistant Teacher, Senior Basic School (Junior High School).

7. On 23.06.2016, a transfer policy was introduced by the State Government, permitting transfer of teachers to the districts of their choice. It is not in dispute that the cadre of teachers, governed by the Rules of 1981, is a cadre based on the local area, where the appointment of a teacher is made. The relevant Rules in the Rules of 1981, that have bearing on the issue, are detailed hereinafter. Rule 4(1) of the Rules of 1981 provides:

"4. Strength of the Service.- (1) There shall be separate cadres of service under these rules for each local area.

(2) .....

Provided that the appointing authority may leave unfilled or the Board may hold in abeyance and post or class of posts without thereby entitling any person to compensation:

Provided further that the Board may, with the previous approval of the State Government, create from lime to time such number of temporary posts as it may deem fit."

"Local Area" is defined under rule 2(i) in following words:-

"2. Definitions:- (i) "Local Area" means the area over which a local body exercises jurisdiction;"

The "Appointing Authority' and the "local area' are defined by Section 2(1)(b) and 2(1)(i) of the Rules of 1981 as follows:

"2. Definitions. - (1) In these rules, unless the context otherwise requires,--

(a) x x x x

(b) "Appointing Authority" in relation to teachers referred to in Rule 3 means the District Basic Education Officer;

(c) x x x x

(d) x x x x

(e) x x x x

(f) x x x x

(g) x x x x

(h) x x x x

(i) "Local Area" means the area over which a local body exercises jurisdiction;"

Rule 21 of the Rules of 1981 is about the procedure for transfer, which is extracted below:

"21. Procedure for transfer - There shall be no transfer of any teacher from the rural local area to an urban local area or vice versa or from one urban local area to another of the same district or from local area of one district to that of another district except on the request of or with the consent of the teacher himself and in either case approval of the Board shall be necessary."

8. What appears from the conditions of service of teachers governed by the Rules of 1981 is that an Assistant Teacher of Primary Pathshala, who is promoted to the post of Headmaster, Primary Pathshala or Assistant Teacher, Senior Basic School, has no right to be transferred from one local area to another, or one district to another, except on his request or consent, and in either case, with the approval of the Board.

9. The Government Order dated 23.06.2016, under which the appellants in all the appeals applied for transfer, was in the nature of a concession, to enable the teachers to go to a local area or district of their choice in accordance with Rule 21 of the Rules of 1981. Apparently, since the facility was extended to all desirous teachers, the concern of the Government and the Board was that the existing positions of seniority and prospects of promotion in a local area may not be disturbed to the prejudice of any serving teacher there, governed by the Rules of 1981. At the same time, in order to effectuate the purpose of the policy, that enabled a teacher to go to the district of his choice, the rights of teacher being given the facility and the teacher in the local area cadre, to which he was being transferred, were finely balanced by providing that in the transferred local area, the teacher transferred would be placed at the bottom of the seniority list of teachers in the cadre in which he was transferred.

10. There was another condition in the transfer policy carried in the Government Order dated 23.06.2016, which does not require much analysis about the reason for its existence. The said term in the policy provides that in the case of an inter-district transfer of teachers, which is not a matter of right under Rule 21 of the Rules 1981, made on the request of a teacher, the transfer would be allowed, depending on the availability of vacancies in the district of choice. Now, the availability of vacancy in the district of choice would mean the availability of vacancy of a post in the grade to which the teacher seeking transfer belongs. Apparently, if a teacher who had been promoted to the post of a Headmaster of a Primary Pathshala or Assistant Teacher, Senior Basic School, sought transfer to another district, banking on the transfer policy, the transfer could only be allowed if a post of that grade is available in the district of choice. If no post of that grade was available, the transfer could not be permitted.

11. The learned Single Judge has very rightly noticed in the judgment impugned in the leading appeal, which is a common feature to all other appeals as well, that the request for transfer made by the appellants could not be considered, because no vacancy existed on the post of Headmaster of a Primary Pathshala or Assistant Teachers, Senior Basic School in the district of choice, to which the appellants applied for transfer. It has then been remarked by the learned Single Judge that in their anxiety to secure a transfer to the district of choice, the appellants made an application, seeking reversion to their substantive post of Assistant Teacher, Primary Pathshala. They also gave an undertaking on affidavit, accepting demotion to the post of Assistant Teacher, Primary Pathshala from their promotional posts in their parent cadres, where they were working in different districts in the specified local area.

12. It appears that after transfer, they were not only demoted, but also placed at the bottom of the seniority list of Assistant Teacher, Primary Pathshala. Once firmly placed in the district of their choice, the appellants in the various appeals have thought of regaining lost ground. There was a prayer on behalf of the appellants in the leading appeal through representations to the Authorities that their pay may be restored to the level that they were drawing before their elective transfers, invoking the principles of pay protection. It was also urged that the appellants be placed at the bottom of the cadre of Headmaster of Primary Pathshalas/Assistant Teacher, Senior Basic Schools, instead of placing them at the bottom of the seniority of Assistant Teachers, Primary Pathshala. This prayer was declined and that is what has made the appellants in the leading appeal to approach this Court, asking for a restoration of their status in the higher cadre and also payment of salary along with arrears for the higher post that they had forsaken. This is the common origin of all the appeals and the cause of action involved.

13. The case urged by the appellants in each of the appeals did not find favour with the learned Single Judge, who heard the writ petitions. It was held that the appellants cannot approbate and reprobate and the appellants, who had secured benefit under the transfer policy, voluntarily giving up rights, cannot turn around and regain what they had given up.

14. At the hearing of the appeals, Mr. Ashok Khare, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Mr. Siddharth Khare, Advocate and Mr. Bhagwan Dutt Pandey, Advocate in the leading appeal and the other appeals, made a strong point that under Rule 15-A(2) of Chapter III of the Financial Handbook, upon a voluntary transfer of an employee, his emoluments cannot be reduced. The appellants were earlier drawing Grade Pay in the scale of Rs. 4600/-, but have now been made to suffer a diminution in their Grade Pay to Rs. 4200/-. It is also assailed that the appellants cannot be demoted to a lower cadre as a part of their transfer in terms of the Government Order dated 23.06.2016. The fact that there were no vacancies in the districts of choice in the cadre of Headmaster, Primary Pathshala/ Assistant Teacher, Senior Basic School, is disputed by the appellants.

15. It is also argued that the appellants being legally entitled to a lien on the promotion post they hold in the local area and in the district from which they were transferred, they cannot be demoted to a lower post on the basis of an affidavit taken through compulsion. The demotion, the learned Counsel for the appellants submits, would be in violation of Rule 22 of the Rules of 1981. It was pointed out to the learned Counsel for the respondents during hearing of the appeals that the transfer to the district of choice was a concession offered by the State Government under the Policy dated 23.06.2016, to which the appellants had no right. The concession was offered taking help of the limited right available to an employee to seek transfer from one local area to another or from one district to another, under Section 21 of the Rules of 1981. Since no posts in the relative cadre were available to effectuate the beneficial policy, the appellants were given the choice of accepting the lower post and being placed at the bottom of the seniority list. They accepted both the disadvantages with open eyes for the benefit of being placed in the district of their choice. Still, bearing in mind that the appellants spoke about their lien on the higher post, which, no doubt, can be determined only in accordance with law, the learned Counsel for all the appellants were asked if they were willing to be repatriated to their local areas in the district whence they came. The appellants are unanimous that they do not want to go back to the districts or the local areas where they were earlier working. They want to stay back to the district of their choice, to which they have moved taking benefit of the Government Order dated 23.06.2016. Moreover, the fact that cannot be lost sight of is that the transfer to the districts of choice on the demoted post of Assistant Teacher, Primary Pathshala was made on the appellants' applications and undertaking given on affidavits that they would accept the lower posts.

16. In the circumstances, once the appellants want to retain the benefit of transfer that they have secured in terms of the Government Order dated 23.06.2016 to the districts of their choice, they cannot be permitted to take the benefit and rid themselves of the disadvantage that is coupled with it. The appellants cannot have the cake and eat it too. As the rights of the appellants stand, since they want to continue in the district of their choice after securing a transfer under the transfer policy carried in the Government Order dated 23.06.2016, to which they are otherwise not entitled as of right, they cannot claim restoration of their status or pay in the cadre to which they originally belonged. To permit the appellants to do so, would verily violate the firmly established principle that a party cannot be permitted to approbate and reprobate. This principle has been applied by the learned Single Judge in the judgment impugned in the leading appeal, particularly, relying on the decision of the Supreme Court in State of Punjab and others vs. Dhanjit Singh Sandhu, (2014) 15 SCC 144; and in our opinion, rightly so.

17. In the result, these appeals fail and are dismissed.

18. There shall be no order as to costs.

(2022)05ILR A902
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 01.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MRS. MANJU RANI CHAUHAN, J.

Writ A No. 2469 of 2022

Purushottam Narayan ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Anil Babu

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

A. Service Law – Recruitment – Medical Examination - On the basis of a report issued by a Private Doctor or Doctor of a Government Hospital, which has not been authorized by the Recruitment Board, the opinion given by the Medical Board and the Appellate Medical Board, being an Expert Body, cannot be annulled and the same are entitled to be given due weight and credence. Petitioner has not produced any document, material or evidence, from which it is established that the medical examinations of the petitioner conducted by the Medical Board and the Appellate Medical Board are incorrect. (Para 7, 11)

B. Matters relating to medical evaluation of candidates in a recruitment process involve expert determination and it may not be desirable to supplant the procedure prescribed therefore as laid down under the relevant recruitment rules and taking any other view may have the effect of derailing the recruitment process. (Para 12)

The opinion of a Medical Board is the outcome of an evaluation by experts in the subject. Except in exceptional situations such as where a finding of unfitness is returned in violation or disregard of the standards prescribed or on grounds which may call upon this Court to consider the correctness of the opinion on a legal plain, it would be wholly inappropriate for this Court to either interfere with the same or substitute its own opinion with respect to the medical fitness of a particular candidate. Treading this path may also cause serious prejudice and jeopardise the recruitment process itself. In the ultimate analysis, it would be pertinent to emphasise that such requests must be entertained with due care and circumspection. (Para 12)

C. Principle of binding precedent - In the matters of interlocutory orders, principle of binding precedent cannot be said to apply. However, the need for consistency approach and uniformity in the exercise of judicial discretion respecting similar causes and the desirability to eliminate occasions for grievance of discriminatory treatment requires that all similar matters should receive similar treatment except where factual differences require a different treatment so that there is an assurance of consistency, uniformity, predictability and certainty of judicial approach.

D. For same relief, second writ petition is not maintainable. The proper remedy available to the petitioner was to file a recall application in his earlier writ petition referred to above or to file a Special Appeal against the judgment and order passed in the said writ petition.

Writ petition dismissed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. Ankit Kumar Vs St. of U.P. & ors., Writ-A No. 5668 of 2021, decided on 03.08.2021) (Para 4)

2. Diwakar Paswan Vs St. of U.P. & ors., 2021 (1) ADJ 454 (Para 12)

3. St. of U.P. & ors. Vs Bhanu Pratap Rajput, 2021 (2) ADJ 451 (Para 12)

4. Vishnu Traders Vs St. of Har., 1995 Suppl (1) SCC 461 (Para 16)

5. Smt. Ramapati Jaiswal Vs St. of U.P., AIR 1997 All. 170 (Para 19)

Precedent distinguished:

1. Devesh Shahi (General Male Category) Vs St. of U.P. & ors., Special Appeal No. 458 of 2017, final judgment of Division Bench of this Court dated 07.09.2017 (Para 7, 16)

2. Sandeep Kumar Vs St. of U.P. & ors., Writ-A No. 14726 of 2018, final judgment of a learned Single Judge of this Court dated 28.08.2018 (Para 7, 16)

3. St. of U.P. & ors. Vs Lav Kumar Saroj & anr., Special Appeal Defective No. 639 of 2020, final judgment of Division Bench of this Court dated 23.11.2020 (Para 7, 16)

4. Ashad Varsee Vs St. of U.P. & ors., Writ-A No. 8389 of 2019, final judgment of a learned Single Judge of this Court dated 08.07.2019) (Para 7, 16)

Interim Orders not binding:

1. Vikram Singh Vs St. of U.P. & ors., Writ-A No. 13496 of 2021, interim order of a learned Single Judge of this Court dated 18.11.2021 (Para 7, 17)

2. Ram Kumar Vs St. of U.P. & ors., interim order of a learned Single Judge dated 16.12.2021 (Para 7, 17)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Manju Rani Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Anil Babu, learned counsel for the petitioner and Mr. Pranav Ojha, Additional Chief Standing Counsel assisted by Mr. S.C. Upadhyay, learned counsel for the State-respondents.

2. By means of the present writ petition, the petitioner has made following relief:

"(i) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of MANDAMUS directing the respondent authorities to constitute a new Medical Board in Etawah or any other District for the fresh Medical Examination of the Petitioner under the supervision of the medical experts.

....."

3. Petitioner has also approached this Court earlier by means of Writ-A No. 13548 of 2021 (Purshottam Narayan VS. State of U.P. Through Its Principal Secretary Home & 2 Others) for following relief:

(i) calling for records, (ii) quashing the result of the medical examination conducted by the Regional Health Examination dated 26th August, 2021, by which the candidatures of the petitioner has been rejected due to varicose vein, (iii) considering the candidature of the petitioner against the selected post, and (iv) conducting the medical test again."

4. The said writ petition has been dismissed by a Coordinate Bench of this Court vide judgment and order dated 18th October, 2021 in light of the detailed judgment of the Coordinate Bench of Court in the case of Ankit Kumar Vs. State of U.P. & 3 Others (Writ-A No. 5668 of 2021, decided on 3rd August, 2021).

5. It is the case of the petitioner that an advertisement was issued by the Police Recruitment Board of the State of Uttar Pradesh being Advertisement No. P.R.P.B. Ek.-1(138)/2018 II in the year 2018 for the post of Constable Civil Police and Constable PAC. The petitioner being fully eligible applied for the said post under general category and he was called for appearing in written test (computer based test). The petitioner appeared and qualified in the said written examination and thereafter appeared in Physical Efficiency Test/Physical Standard Test/Document Verification (P.S.T./D.V.), wherein he qualified, hence the petitioner was declared successful and his name was placed at serial no. 2435 of the select list for the post of Constable PAC under general category. On 13th August, 2021, the petitioner was called for medical examination, whereby he has orally been informed that his candidature has been cancelled as he is suffering from varicose vein but the copy of the rejection order has not been supplied to the petitioner. Feeling aggrieved by the same, petitioner filed an appeal before the Regional Medical Committee, Agra Division, Agra, wherein a date was fixed for medical examination on 22nd August, 2021 but the medical examination of the petitioner was conducted on 26th August, 2021. In the said medical examination, which was conducted under order of the Regional Medical Committee/Appellate Medical Board, the petitioner was unsuccessful. This time again, no written order was supplied to the petitioner as to for which reason, the petitioner was declared unsuccessful in both the medical examination. The petitioner was informed orally by the Appellate Medical Board that he was found unsuccessful in the medical examination due to Varicose Veins. The petitioner after having knowledge of the medical deficiency of the Varicose Veins, which was orally informed, approached the Ganesh Shanker Vidyarthi Medical College and Associated Hospital, Kanpur (U.P. Government Medical College) on 29th December, 2021 for detecting his deficiency of Varicose Veins, where the petitioner was medically examined with due diligence on 29th December, 2021 and he was absolutely found fit and no disease of Varicose Veins was seen by the Assistant Professor of Orthopedic Department of the G.S.V. Medical College, Kanpur.

6. Further , it is the case of the petitioner that since in two medical examinations conducted by the respondent-authorities the petitioner was orally informed by the Medical Boards that he is medically unfit due to the detection of Varicose Veins in the medical report of the petitioner, whereas in the medical examination conducted by the Assistant Professor of Orthopedic Department of the G.S.V. Medical College, Kanpur, wherein the petitioner was found fit and perfect , rather no deficiency of varicose veins was detected in the medical report of the petitioner, therefore, seeing the contradictory medical reports, in the interest of justice, this Court may direct the concerned respondent to constitute a new medical board in Etawah or any other district under the supervision of the Medical Experts to conduct the fresh medical examination of the petitioner.

7. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the petitioner has successfully passed the recruitment examination, physical efficient tests and physical standard test, is entitled to be appointed on the post of P.A.C. constable. The petitioner was wrongly shown medically unfit due to deficiency of Varicose Veins, because the medical examination conducted on 13th August, 2021 was in arbitrary manner and without following the procedure, rules and instructions given in the brochure inasmuch as the medical examination conducted by the Appellate Medical Board on 26th August, 2021 was nothing but empty formality, whereas in the medical examination conducted by of Orthopedic Department of the G.S.V. Medical College, Kanpur, the petitioner was found medically fit and deficiency of Varicose Veins was not found in the medical report of the petitioner. Learned Counsel for the petitioner, therefore, submits that considering the aforesaid contradictions, which occurred in the aforesaid medical examination reports of the petitioner, this Court may direct the concerned respondent to constitute a new medical board in Etawah or any other district under the supervision of the Medical Experts to conduct the fresh medical examination of the petitioner, so that the petitioner may be selected on the said post. In support of his aforesaid submissions, learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon following final judgments and interim orders of this Court:

1. Devesh Shahi (General Male Category) VS. State of U.P. & Others (Special Appeal No. 458 of 2017, final judgment of Division Bench of this Court dated 7th September, 2017;

2. Sandeep Kumar Vs. State of U.P. & Others (Writ-A No. 14726 of 2018, final judgment of a learned Single Judge of this Court dated 28th August, 2018;

3. State of U.P. & 3 Others VS. Lav Kumar Saroj and Another (Special Appeal Defective No. 639 of 2020, final judgment of Division Bench of this Court dated 23rd November, 2020;

4. Ashad Varsee Vs. State of U.P. & Others (Writ-A No. 8389 of 2019, final judgment of a learned Single Judge of this Court dated 8th July, 2019;

5. Vikram Singh Vs. State of U.P. & Others (Writ-A No. 13496 of 2021, interim order of a learned Single Judge of this Court dated 18th November, 2021;and

6. Ram Kumar Vs. State of U.P. & Others (Ram Kumar VS. State of U.P. & Others), interim order of a learned Single Judge dated 16.12.2021.

8. On the other-hand, learned Counsel for the State-respondents submits that there is no provision of re-medical in the case. The candidature of the petitioner has rightly been rejected by the Medical Boards referred to above. Apart from the above, learned Standing Counsel submits that nearly for the same relief specifically questioning the medical examination reports of the petitioner dated 13th August, 2021 and 26th August, 2021, the first medical examination conducted by the Medical Examination Board constituted by the Recruitment Board and second conducted by the Appellate Medical Examination Board, earlier the petitioner has filed Writ-A No. 13548 of 2021 (Purshottam Narayan VS. State of U.P. Through Its Principal Secretary Home & 2 Others), which has been dismissed by a Writ Court dated 18th October, 2021 after following observations:

"10. Learned counsel for the petitioner has not placed any material on record to demonstrate that report of Medical Board as well as Review Medical Board is erroneous or incorrect. This Court in the case of Ankit Kumar (supra) has held that the opinion given by the Medical Board as well as Review Medical Board should not be taken lightly and should be given due credence and it should not be annulled or set aside on the basis of the report of some private doctor or by a government hospital obtained by a candidate from outside.

11.Since, the controversy involved in the present writ petition has already been decided by this Court in the case of Ankit Kumar (supra), therefore, present writ petition is also dismissed with no order as to cost."

9. Learned counsel for the State-respondents, therefore, submits that this second writ petition nearly for the same relief cannot be entertained by this Court and the same is liable to be dismissed on this ground alone. The proper remedy available to the petitioner is to file a recall/modification application in the said writ petition or file a special appeal against the order passed therein.

10. I have considered the submissions made by the learned counsel for the parties and have carefully scanned the records of the present writ petition as well as the copies of the judgment and orders which have been relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioner.

11. This Court finds that except for relying on the final judgments and interim orders of the Division Benches and Single Benches, learned counsel for the petitioner has failed to produce any provisions of law, rules, regulations etc. on the basis of which this Court may direct the respondent-authority to constitute a medical board for re-medical examination of the petitioner for a third term. Learned counsel for the petitioner has not produced any document, material or evidence, from which it is established that the medical examinations of the petitioner conducted by the Medical Board and the Appellate Medical Board are incorrect. This Court is also of the opinion that on the basis of a report issued by a Private Doctor or Doctor of a Government Hospital, which has not been authorized by the Recruitment Board, the opinion given by the Medical Board and the Appellate Medical Board, being an Expert Body, cannot be annulled and the same are entitled to be given due weight and credence.

12. The similar opinion, as expressed by this Court herein above, has already been dealt with by a learned Single Judge of this Court in the case of Diwakar Paswan Vs. State of U.P. & 6 Others reported in 2021 (1) ADJ 454, wherein the learned Single Judge has opined as follows:

"No material has been placed on record, or otherwise referred, to suggest that the opinion of the Medical Board or the Appellate Medical Board could in any manner be said to be casual, inchoate, perfunctory or vague. We are therefore of the view that the Medical Board being an expert body, its opinion is entitled to be given due weight, credence and value.

A similar view has been taken in recent judgments of this Court in Vivek Kumar v. State of U.P.1 and Md. Arshad Khan v. State of U.P.2 wherein it was held that matters relating to medical evaluation of candidates in a recruitment process involve expert determination and it may not be desirable to supplant the procedure prescribed therefor as laid down under the relevant recruitment rules and taking any other view may have the effect of derailing the recruitment process.

Dealing with an identical challenge this Court in Prakash Singh Vs. State of U.P.3 held:

"The petitioner essentially calls upon the Court to rule on and evaluate the correctness of the reports submitted by experts in their fields. These submissions and reliefs have evidently been sought and addressed without bearing in mind the contours of the writ jurisdiction. The opinion of a Medical Board is the outcome of an evaluation by experts in the subject. Except in exceptional situations such as where a finding of unfitness is returned in violation or disregard of the standards prescribed or on grounds which may call upon this Court to consider the correctness of the opinion on a legal plain, it would be wholly inappropriate for this Court to either interfere with the same or substitute its own opinion with respect to the medical fitness of a particular candidate. Treading this path may also cause serious prejudice and jeopardise the recruitment process itself. The Court is constrained to enter this note of caution conscious of its own limitations with respect to adjudging the medical fitness or otherwise of a particular candidate. In the ultimate analysis, it would be pertinent to emphasise that such requests must be entertained with due care and circumspection."

The Delhi High Court in a recent decision handed down in the matter of Km Priyanka Vs. Union of India4 cautioned against interfering with the opinion formed by medical boards constituted for selection of members of the armed forces on the strength of certificates issued by private or civilian doctors in the following terms: -

"8. We have on several occasions observed that the standard of physical fitness for the Armed Forces and the Police Forces is more stringent than for civilian employment. We have in Priti Yadav Vs. Union of India 2020 SCC Online Del 951;Jonu Tiwari VS. Union of India 2020 SCC Online Del 855; Nishant Kumar Vs. Union of India SCC Online Del 808; and Shravan Kumar Rai Vs. Union of India 2020 SCC Online Del 924 held that once no mala fides are attributed and the doctors of the Forces who are well aware of the demands of duties of the Forces in the terrain in which the recruited personnel are required to work, have formed an opinion that the candidate is not medically fit for recruitment, opinion of private or other government doctors to the contrary cannot be accepted inasmuch as the recruited personnel are required to work for the Forces and not for the private doctors or the government hospitals and which medical professionals are unaware of the demands of the duties of the Forces."

Although learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon certain interim orders passed by learned Judges of the Court and which stand appended as Annexure 7 to the writ petition, the Court notes that none of those interim orders notice or deal with the principles as elucidated by the Division Bench in Rahul or the decisions in Manish Kumar and Prakash Singh noticed above.

It becomes pertinent to note that the opinions formed by the Medical and Review Boards have not been assailed by the petitioner on the ground of mala fides. A review of those decisions is sought solely on the basis of a contrary opinion rendered by a doctor of a government hospital. Permitting a reopening of a medical examination conducted by the respondents solely on that basis would set a dangerous precedent especially when the Court by virtue of its inherent limitations would be wholly unequipped to undertake a comparative analysis or evaluation of competing medical opinions. Medical fitness is a subject best left for determination by experts and should not be lightly interfered with unless it be shown to be contrary to the standards prescribed or otherwise be liable to be assailed on other judicially manageable parameters.

Quite apart from the consistent view taken by Courts on this question regard must also be had to the fact that the medical examination in the present case was undertaken in accordance with the provisions made in the statutory rules. Those Rules confer finality upon the opinions formed by the Medical Boards subject to an appeal against the same before a Review Medical Board. Those Rules do not envisage or contemplate a challenge to those reports based upon reports and opinions privately obtained by candidates. Permitting such a course of action would not only be contrary to the Rules which apply and bind the candidate but also result in derailing the recruitment process itself"

(Emphasis added)

13. This Court, therefore, is in respectful agreement with the decision taken by the learned Single Judge in the case of Diwkar Paswan (Supra) and finds no good ground to entertain the present writ petition.

14. A Division Bench of this Court in the case of State of U.P. and others Vs. Bhanu Pratap Rajput, reported in 2021 (2) ADJ 451, has observed as follows:

"16. The medical examination by the Medical Board consisting of medical experts under Rule 15(g) cannot be said to be inferior to the physical standard test conducted by a team of non-experts. Therefore, we find that the finding recorded by the learned Single Judge in the impugned judgment that the assessment of physical standard by the committee constituted under Appendix-2 to the Rules, 2015 is liable to be preferred over the determination made by the Medical Board in terms of the Appendix-3, is not sustainable. Opinion of a committee of non-experts under Rule 15(d) for physical test of a candidate cannot override the opinion of the team of experts, i.e. Medical Board under Rule 15(g) of the Rules."

15. This Court also agrees with the observations made by the Division Bench of this Court in the aforesaid case.

16. So far as the two final judgments of the Division Benches of this Court as well as two final judgments of Single Benches in the cases of Devesh Shahi, Sandeep Kumar, State of U.P. and Ashad Varsee (Supras), which have heavily been relied upon the by the learned counsel for the petitioner is concerned, this Court finds that the same are not applicable in the facts o the present case, as the candidates of the aforesaid cases have not been non-suited on the ground of deficiency of Varicose Veins. Therefore, the same are clearly distinguishable from the facts of the present case.

17. The interim orders in the case of Vikram Singh and Ram Kumar (Supra) relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioner are not binding upon this Court.

18. In the case of Vishnu Traders Vs. State of Haryana, reported in 1995 Suppl (1) SCC 461, the Apex Court has observed as under:-

"In the matters of interlocutory orders, principle of binding precedent cannot be said to apply. However, the need for consistency approach and uniformity in the exercise of judicial discretion respecting similar causes and the desirability to eliminate occasions for grievance of discriminatory treatment requires that all similar matters should receive similar treatment except where factual differences require a different treatment so that there is an assurance of consistency, uniformity, predictability and certainty of judicial approach."

19. Similar view has been taken by this Court in Smt. Rampati Jaiswal Vs. State of U.P., reported in AIR 1997 All. 170.

20. Lastly, this Court finds substance in the submission made by the learned Standing Counsel that this second writ petition filed for nearly the same relief cannot be entertained by this Court. For same relief, second writ petition is not maintainable. The proper remedy available to the petitioner was to file a recall application in his earlier writ petition referred to above or to file a Special Appeal against the judgment and order passed in the said writ petition.

21. The present writ petition is devoid of merits, and, accordingly, dismissed.

22. There shall be no order as to costs.

(2022)05ILR A909

ORIGINAL JURISDICTION

CIVIL SIDE

DATED: ALLAHABAD 23.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MRS. MANJU RANI CHAUHAN, J.

Writ A No. 3583 of 2022

Nidhi Singh ...Petitioner

Versus

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:

Sri Nripendra Kumar Dwivedi, Sri Prasanna Dwivedi

Counsel for the Respondents:

C.S.C., Sri Asim Mukherjee (S.C.)

A. Service Law - Suspension Order - The Court has noticed that prima facie the petitioner has been found guilty of a forged Baramadagi on which her signatures have been appended, which is an admitted position and also for criminal conspiracy by preparing forged and wrong documents showing an alive person dead. Therefore, in view of the aforesaid facts and circumstances, the Court does not find any illegality or infirmity in the order of suspension. (Para 12)

B. Practice & Procedure - quashing of charge sheet - The law on this point is that the Courts should not stay/quash the disciplinary proceedings nor they should go into the correctness or otherwise the charges leveled in the charge-sheet and the departmental inquiry should be allowed to continue uninterrupted to come to its natural conclusion. The tribunal or the Court cannot take over the functions of the disciplinary authority. It can interfere only if the charges framed are contrary to law or if no misconduct or other irregularity alleged can be said to have been made out.(Para 15 & 16)

Writ Petition Rejected. (E-10)

List of Cases cited:

1. State of Orissa & anr. Vs Sangram Keshari Mishra & anr. (2010) 13 SCC 311

2. Secretary, Ministry of Defence & ors.. Vs Prabhash Chandra Mishra (2012) 11 SCC 565

3. Allahabad Bank & anr. Vs Deepak kumar Bhola (1997) 4 SCC 1

4. St. of Orissa Vs Bimal kumar Mohanti (1994) 4 SCC 125

5. Capt. M. Paul Anthony Vs Bharat Gold Mines Ltd. & anr. (1999) 3 SCC 697

6. St. of U.P. Vs Shri Brahm Datt Sharma & anr. AIR 1987 SC 943

7. St. of H.P. Vs B.C. Thakur 1994 SCC (L&S)

8. U.O.I. Vs Ashok Kacker 1995 Supp (1) SCC 180

9. Secretary to Government, Prohibition & Excise Department Vs L. Srinivasan (1996) 3 SCC 157

10. U.O.I. & ors.. Vs Upendra Singh (1994) 3 Supreme Court Cases 357

11. U.O.I. & anr. Vs Kunisetty Satyanarayana (2006) 12 SCC 28

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Manju Rani Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Nripendra Kumar Dwivedi, learned counsel for the petitioner and Mr. Asim Mukherjee, learned Standing Counsel for the State-respondents.

2. By means of the present writ petition, the petitioner has prayed for quashing the charge-sheet dated 24th August, 2021 issued by respondent no.4 (Annexure No.6 to the writ petition) and the order dated 31st October, 2021 passed by respondent no.2 (Annexure No.7 to this writ petition), whereby he has been placed under suspension pending departmental inquiry. Further the petitioner has prayed that a direction be issued to respondents not to proceed with the departmental proceedings pursuant to the charge-sheet dated 24th August, 2021 issued by respondent no.4.

3. It is the case of the petitioner that when the petitioner was posted at Police Station-Adampur, District Amroha, a first information report has been lodged by one Roop Kishore, which has been registered as Crime No. 0051 of 2019 under Sections 363, 366 I.P.C. and Sections 7/8 POCSO Act, at Police Station-Adampur, District Jyotibaphuley Nagar. The investigation of the said case was handed over to one Arif Mohammad, Sub-Inspector. Mr. Arif after recording the statements of the informant and witnesses submitted charge sheet no. 107 of 2029 dated 15th May, 2019 against Horam and Harphool under Sections 363, 366 I.P.C. and Sections 7/8 POCSO Act. The aforesaid case committed to the Court of Special Judge, POCSO ACT, III, Amroha, which was numbered as Session Trial No. 21 of 2019. The investigation of aforesaid Crime No. 0051 of 2019 was transferred to one Ashok Sharma, Inspector on 28th May, 2019, who submitted the charge sheet no. 107A of 2020 on 19th March, 2020. against Roop Kishor, Suresh and Devendra under Sections 302, 201 and 120B I.P.C. Thereafter the investigation was transferred to one Pankaj Sharma, Inspector who submitted his report on 12th

August, 2020 thereafter the case was converted under Sections 363, 366 I.P.C. and Sections 7/8 POCSO Act after deleting Sections 302, 201 and 120B I.P.C. After framing the charge and examination of witnesses, the trial court has acquitted the persons, namely, Horam and Harphool against whom charge sheet no.107 of 2019 was submitted, in Session trial no. 21 of 2019 vide order dated 19th January, 2021. On the basis of charge-sheet no.107A of 2020 dated 19th March, 2020, the case was committed to court of Sessions Judge, Amroha, which has been numbered as Sessions Trial No. 354 of 2020 and charges were framed against Roop Kishore, Suresh and Devendra for the offence punishable under Sections 302, 201 and 120B I.P.C. and further a Session Trial being Session Trial No. 403 of 2020 was registered in which charges were framed against one Suresh for the offence punishable under Section 3/25 Arms Act. Both the Sessions Trial being Sessions Trial No. 354 of 2020 and Session Trial No. 403 of 2020 have been tried together and the session trial no. 354 of 2020 was treated to be the leading case.

4. Further, it is the case of the petitioner that after considering the facts and evidences adduced during trial, the Sessions Court has acquitted all the accused persons from all the charges vide judgment and order dated 31st March, 2021 and further the Sessions Judge, Amroha forwarded a letter dated 31st March, 2021 to the Superintendent of Police, Amroha, Additional Director General of Police, Bareilly Region, Bareilly and Director General of Police, U.P. at Lucknow to initiate departmental proceedings against Inspector Ashok Sharma and those police personnel whose signatures were found over the Fard Baramdagi.

5. Pursuant to the above letter of the Sessions Judge, Amroha, Inspector Ashok Sharma was suspended vide order dated 7th August, 2020 and proceedings under Rule 14 (1) of U.P. Police Officers of the Subordinate Ranks (Punishment and Appeal) Rules, 1991 was initiated and vide order dated 21st November, 2020, the enquiry was allotted to Mr. Vijay Kumar Rana, Circle Officer, Amroha, who submitted his report on 24th March, 2021. On the basis of said report, order dated 21st November, 2020 was cancelled and again a detailed enquiry was allotted to the Additional Superintendent of Police, Amroha i.e. respondent no.3, who submitted his preliminary enquiry, wherein Sub-Inspector Vinod Kumar Tyagi (retired), Sub-Inspector Rakesh Kumar, Sub-Inspector Arif Mohammad, Constable-Krishnaveer, Constable-Aniruddha Singh, Constable-Deepak Kumar, Female Constable Apeksha Tomar, Female Constable-Nidhi Singh (applicant herein), Amroha along with Inspector Ashok Sharma were found guilty of submitting charge-sheet on the basis of fake evidence. Respondent no.3 submitted his report on 8th June, 2021 before the Superintendent of Police, Amroha i.e. respondent no.2. On the basis of the said preliminary enquiry report of respondent no.3, Presiding Officer, Circle Officer, Amroha i.e. respondent no. 4 issued a charge sheet dated 24th August, 2021 for departmental proceedings under Rule 14 (1) of U.P. Police Officers of the Subordinate Ranks (Punishment and Appeal) Rules, 1991. After issuing the charge-sheet dated 8th June, 2021, the petitioner has been suspended and attached to the Police Lines, Amroha by respondent no.2. The said charge-sheet was served upon the petitioner in the month of September, 2021. Subsequently, one Suresh has lodged a first information report on 23th October, 2021 against 11 persons, namely, Ashok Kumar (Inspector), Mohammad Arif (Sub-Inspector), Rakesh Kumar (Sub-Inspector), Manoj Kumar (Sub-Inspector), Vinod Kumar Tyagi (Sub-Inspector), Bhupendra Singh (Constable-cum-Driver), Krishnaveer singh (Constable), Aniruddha (Constable), Deepak Kumar (Constable), Apeksha Tomar (Women Constable) and Nidh Singh (Women Constable) (applicant herein), which has been registered as Case Crime No. 0286 of 2021 under Sections 120-B, 193, 194, 342, 344 I.P.C., Police Station-Adampur, District-Amroha. In the said case, the petitioner has been granted anticipatory bail from this Court vide order dated 8th February, 2022 a copy of which has been enclosed as Annexure-9 to the writ petition.

6. Challenging the impugned charge-sheet and order of suspension, learned counsel for the petitioner has made following submissions:

i. The Sub-Inspector Mr. Arif Mohammad remained as Investigating Officer since 20th February, 2019 to 27th May, 2019 and he has submitted Charge-Sheet No. 107 of 2019 in Crime No. 0051 of 2019 under Sections 363, 366 I.P.C. and Sections 7/8 POCSO Act and on 28th May, 2019, the investigation of the aforesaid crime was transferred to Ashok Sharma (Inspector), who has submitted Charge-Sheet No. 107A of 2020, under Sections 302, 201, 120B I.P.C. and Sections 3/25 Arms Act on 19th March, 2020. The entire investigation of the aforesaid crime goes to Ashok Kumar (Inspector), therefore, the petitioner being women constable, has no concern with the investigation of the aforesaid crime at any point of time except that recovery memo showing the Baramadagi of clothes, shoes and alakatla, bears her signatures, hence the entire proceedings including the impugned charge-sheet are liable to be quashed by this Court.

ii. The act of respondents by not adopting proper procedure for conducting enquiry is misconceived and not sustainable in the eyes of law.

On the cumulative strength of the aforesaid, learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the impugned charge-sheet dated 24th August, 2021 issued against the petitioner is illegal, unwarranted and against the evidence on record, therefore, the same is liable to be quashed by this Court.

7. On the other-hand, learned Standing Counsel for the State-respondents submits that the charges so levelled against the petitioner cannot be examined at this stage, inasmuch as the explanation and documents relied upon by the petitioner can be a defence in the departmental inquiry, as during departmental inquiry, the petitioner will have ample opportunity to prove her innocence (Reference the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of State of Orrisa & Another VS. Sangram Keshari Mishra & Another, reported in (2010) 13 SCC 311). Apart from the above, learned Standing Counsel for the State-respondents submits that ordinarily a writ petition does not lie against a charge-sheet or show-cause notice for the reason that it does not give rise to any cause of action. It does not amount to an adverse order which affects the right of any party unless the same has been issued by a person who has no jurisdiction to do so (Reference-the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Secretary, Ministry of Defence & Others VS. Prabhash Chandra Mishra reported in (2012) 11 SCC, 565). In view of the aforesaid, learned Standing Counsel for the State-respondents submits that no interference is called for by this Court in exercise of powers under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. Hence, the present writ petition is liable to be dismissed.

8. This Court has considered the submissions made by the learned counsel for the parties and has carefully scanned the records of the present writ petition specifically the laws laid down by the Apex Court on the aforesaid aspect.

9. From the records of the present writ petition, it is established that while deciding the Sessions Trial No. 354 of 2020 along with Session Trial No. 403 of 2020 vide judgment and order dated 31st March, 2021, the Sessions Judge, Amroha has found that prima facie the Police personnels along with Inspector Ashok Sharma were responsible for making a forged baramadagi of clothes, shoes and alakatla of Km. Kamlesh for showing her to be dead, when as matter of fact she is alive, therefore, he wrote a letter dated 31st March, 2021 to the Superintendent of Police, Amroha, Additional Director General of Police, Bareilly Region, Bareilly and Director General of Police, U.P. at Lucknow to initiate departmental proceedings against Inspector Ashok Sharma and those police personnel whose signatures were found over the Fard Baramdagi. Pursuant to the above letter, proceedings were initiated and vide order dated 21st November, 2020, the enquiry was allotted to Mr. Vijay Kumar Rana, Circle Officer, Amroha, who submitted his report on 24th March, 2021. On the basis of said report, again a detailed enquiry was allotted to the Additional Superintendent of Police, Amroha i.e. respondent no.3, who submitted his preliminary enquiry, wherein Sub-Inspector Vinod Kumar Tyagi (retired), Sub-Inspector Rakesh Kumar, Sub-Inspector Arif Mohammad, Constable-Krishnaveer, Constable-Aniruddha Singh, Constable-Deepak Kumar, Female Constable Apeksha Tomar, Female Constable-Nidhi Singh (applicant herein), Amroha along with Inspector Ashok Sharma were found guilty of submitting charge-sheet on the basis of fake evidence. Respondent no.3 submitted his report on 8th June, 2021 before the Superintendent of Police, Amroha i.e. respondent no.2. On the basis of the said preliminary enquiry report of respondent no.3, Presiding Officer, Circle Officer, Amroha i.e. respondent no. 4 issued a charge sheet dated 24th August, 2021. It is not disputed by the learned counsel for the petitioner that on the Baramadagi, petitioner has not appended her signatures. Therefore, this Court finds that the petitioner is prima facie guilty of forged Baramdagi along with other Police personnels. As such, the ground taken by the learned counsel for the petitioner that she has no concern with the investigation of the aforesaid crime as also the respondent authority has not adopted proper procedure in conducting preliminary enquiry, have no legs to stand and the same are liable to be rejected.

10. With respect to challenge made by the learned counsel for the petitioner to the order of suspension, this Court has referred following case laws as settled by the Apex Court, which are relevant for deciding the same:

The Apex Court in the case of Allahabad Bank And Another vs Deepak Kumar Bhola reported in (1997) 4 SCC 1, in paragraph-11 has held as follows:

"We are unable to agree with the contention of learned counsel for the respondent that there has been no application of mind or the objective consideration of the facts by the appellant before it passed the orders of suspension. As already observed, the very fact that the investigation was conducted by the C.B.I which resulted in the filing of a charge-sheet, alleging various offences having been committed by the respondent, was sufficient for the appellant to conclude that pending prosecution the respondent should be suspended. It would be indeed inconceivable that a bank should allow an employee to continue to remain on duty when he is facing serious charges of corruption and mis-appropriation of money. Allowing such a employee to remain in the seat would result in giving him further opportunity to indulge in the acts for which he was being prosecuted. Under the circumstances, it was the bounden duty of the appellant to have taken recourse to the provisions of clause 19.3 of the First Bipartite Settlement, 1966. The mere fact that nearly 10 years have elapsed since the charge-sheet was filed. can also be no ground for allowing the respondent to come back to duty on a sensitive post in the bank, unless he is exonerated of the charge.

In our opinion, the High Court was not justified in quashing the orders of suspension. We, accordingly, allow this appeal, set-aside the impugned judgment of the Allahabad High Court and dismiss the Writ Petition No. 6118/1988 which had been filed by the respondent. There will, however, be no order as to costs."

In the case of State of Orrisa VS. Bimal Kumar Mohanti, reported in (1994) 4 SCC 125, the the Apex Court inter alia, held that the suspension pending enquiry is not an order of punishment and it is a procedural suspension inasmuch as the delinquent is refrained to avail further opportunity to perpetrate the alleged misconduct or to remove the impression among the members of service that dereliction of duty or conduct unbecoming of a Government servant would pay fruits and the offending employee could get away even pending enquiry without impediment or to prevent an opportunity to such an employee to scuttle the enquiry or investigation or to win over the witnesses. The Apex Court also specifically observed that each case of suspension must be considered depending upon the nature of allegations, gravity of the situation and the indelible impact that creates on the service for the continuance of the delinquent employee in service pending enquiry or contemplated enquiry or investigation and the suspension must be a step in aid to the ultimate result of the inquiry or investigation.

(Emphasis added)

The Apex Court in the case of Capt. M. Paul Anthony Vs. Bharat Gold Mines Ltd. & Another reported (1999) 3 SCC 697, in paragraph 29, has opined as follows:

"Exercise of right to suspend an employee may be justified on facts of a particular case. Instances, however, are not rare where officers have been found to be afflicted by "suspension syndrome" and the employees have been found to be placed under suspension just for nothing. It is their irritability rather than the employee's trivial lapse which has often resulted in suspension. Suspension notwithstanding, non-payment of Subsistence Allowance is an inhuman act which has an unpropitious effect on the life of an employee. When the employee is placed under suspension, he is demobilised and the salary is also paid to him at a reduced rate under the nick name of 'Subsistence Allowance', so that the employee may sustain himself. This Court, in O.P. Gupta Vs. Union of India & Others, (1987) 4 SCC 328 made the following observations with regard to Subsistence Allowance :

"An order of suspension of a government servant does not put an end to his service under the government. He continues to be a member of the service in spite of the order of suspension. The real effect of suspension as explained by this Court in Khem Chand Vs. Union of India, is that he continues to be a member of the government service but is not permitted to work and further during the period of suspension he is paid only some allowance -- generally called subsistence allowance -- which is normally less than the salary instead of the pay and allowances he would have been entitled to if he had not been suspended. There is no doubt that an order of suspension, unless the departmental inquiry is concluded within a reasonable time, affects a government servant injuriously. The very expression 'subsistence allowance' has an undeniable penal significance. The dictionary meaning of the word 'Subsist' as given in Shorter Oxford English Dictionary, Vol.II at p. 2171 is "to remain alive as on food; to continue to exist". "Subsistence" means -- means of supporting life, especially a minimum livelihood."

(Emphasis supplied) If, therefore, even that amount is not paid, then the very object of paying the reduced salary to the employee during the period of suspension would be frustrated. The act of non-payment of Subsistence Allowance can be likened to slow-poisoning as the employee, if not permitted to sustain himself on account of non-payment of Subsistence Allowance, would gradually starve himself to death."

11 . As already noticed above the petitioner is posted as Constable and working in a disciplined force like Police Department of the State of U.P. I am of the considered opinion that a member of a disciplined force must strictly follow the executive orders or circulars or instructions issued by the department or by the higher authority of the department as those executive orders etc. are as good as service condition. As a matter of fact such executive intimation/order has been issued to maintain the discipline in the force directing to keep the appearance and uniform befitting for the members of disciplined force. Further, police force has to be a disciplined force and being a law enforcing agency, it is necessary that such force must have secular image which strengthen the countenance of national integration.

12. This Court has also noticed that prima facie the petitioner has been found guilty of a forged Baramadagi on which her signatures have been appended, which is an admitted position and also for criminal conspiracy by preparing forged and wrong documents showing an alive person, namely, Km. Kamlesh as dead. One Suresh has lodged a first information report against 11 police personnels including the petitioner which has been registered as Case crime No. 0286 of 2021 under Sections 120B, 193, 194, 342, 344 I.P.C. Therefore, in view of the settled legal positions by the Apex Court referred to herein-above and facts and circumstances of the case, this Court finds no illegality or infirmity in the order of suspension dated 31st October, 2021 passed by respondent no.2.

13. So far as challenge made by the learned counsel for the petitioner to the impugned charge-sheet is concerned, it is necessary for this Court to refer following laws laid down by the Apex Court on the aspect:

In State of U.P. vs. Shri Brahm Datt Sharma and another [reported in AIR 1987 SC 943), the Apex Court has held that when a show-cause notice was issued to a government servant under the statutory provisions calling upon him to show cause, ordinarily the government servant must place his case before the authority concerned by showing cause and the courts should be reluctant to interfere with the notice at that stage unless the notice is shown to have been issued palpably without any authority of law. The purpose of issuing show cause is to afford opportunity of hearing to the government servant and once cause is shown it is open to the Government to consider the matter in the light of the facts and submissions placed by the government servant and only thereafter a final decision in the matter could be taken. Interference by the Court before that stage would be premature.

The Apex Court in the case of State of H.P. Vs. B.C. Thakur reported in 1994 SCC (L&S), in paragraph nos. 3 and 4 has held as follows:

"(3) HAVING heard learned counsel for the parties, we are satisfied that in the facts and circumstances of the case, the impugned order of the Tribunal quashing the order of respondents suspension does not call for any interference, even though the other part of the Tribunals order quashing the charge-sheet issued to the respondent cannot be sustained. The quashing of the charge-sheet by the Tribunal is not on the ground of want of authority to issue the charge-sheet or any other inherent defect therein. This being so, the question of going into the merits of the charges, which are yet to be investigated in the departmental proceedings, did not arise for consideration or adjudication by the Tribunal at this stage. This being so, the Tribunals order quashing the charge-sheet as well, on reaching the conclusion that the suspension order had to be set aside, is unwarranted. The respondent had been under suspension for nearly two years on the date of the Tribunals order and another year has elapsed since then. Setting aside the suspension order in this situation, particularly when no substantial progress in the disciplinary proceedings has been made as yet, does not, therefore, call for any interference.

(4) CONSEQUENTLY, the appeal is partly allowed to the extent that the Tribunals order quashing the charge-sheet issued to the respondent is set aside while the challenge to the quashing of the suspension order dated 10-5-1990 is rejected. No costs."

The Apex Court in the case of Union of India Vs. Ashok Kacker reported in 1995 Supp (1) SCC 180, while hearing a matter where the employee had challenged the charge sheet, clearly held that the Tribunal entertained the application at a premature stage. It was observed as follows :-

".....In our opinion, this was not the stage at which the Tribunal ought to have entertained such an application for quashing the charge-sheet and the appropriate course for the respondent to adopt is to file his reply to the charge-sheet and invite the decision of the disciplinary authority thereon. This being the stage at which the respondent had rushed to the Tribunal, we do not consider it necessary to require the Tribunal at this stage to examine any other point which may be available to the respondent or which may have been raised by him."

Again in the case of Secretary to Government, Prohibition & Excise Department Vs. L. Srinivasan, reported in (1996) 3 SCC 157, the Apex Court set-aside the order of the Tribunal by which the departmental enquiry and the charge-sheet were quashed on the ground of delay in initiation of the disciplinary proceedings and it was observed as follows :-

"Order dated 12.11.1993 in Nos. Nos. 1702 of 1993 and 2206 of 1993 of the Tamil Nadu Administrative Tribunal, Madras is in question before us. The respondent while working as Assistant Section Officer, Home, Prohibition and Excise Department had been placed under suspension. Departmental inquiry is in process. We are informed that charge-sheet was laid for prosecution for the offences of embezzlement and fabrication of false records etc. and that the offences and the trial of the case is pending.

The Tribunal had set aside the departmental enquiry and quashed the charge on the ground of delay in initiation of disciplinary proceedings. In the nature of the charge, it would take a long time to detect embezzlement and fabrication of false records which should be done in secrecy. It is not necessary to go into the merits and record any finding on the charge levelled against the charged officer since any finding recorded by this Court would gravely prejudice the case of the parties at the enquiry and also at the trial. Therefore, we desist from expressing any opinion on merit or recording any of the contentions raised by the counsel on either side. Suffice it to state that the Administrative Tribunal has committed grossest error in its exercise of the judicial review. The member of the Administrative Tribunal appears to have no knowledge of the jurisprudence of the service law and exercised power as if he is an appellate forum dehors the limitation of judicial review. This is one such instance where a member had exceeded his power of judicial review in quashing the suspension order and charges even at the threshold. We are coming across such orders frequently putting heavy pressure on this Court to examine each case in detail. It is high time that it is remedied." (emphasis supplied)."

The Apex Court in re:- State of Orrisa and another vs. Sangram Keshari Misra and another [reported in (2010) 13 Supreme Court Cases 311] in para 10 has opined as under:-

"10. Though there appears to be some merit in the said contentions of the first respondent, it is unnecessary to examine the correctness of these contentions as normally a charge-sheet is not quashed prior to the conducting of the enquiry on the ground that the facts stated in the charge are erroneous. It is well settled that the correctness or truth of the charge is the function of the disciplinary authority (vide Union of India v. Upendra Singh1 SCC p. 362, para 6). Therefore we reject the contention that the charge ought to have been quashed without reserving to the State to proceed in accordance with law."

The Hon'ble Apex Court in re:- Union of India and others vs. Upendra Singh [reported in (1994) 3 Supreme Court Cases 357] in para 6 has held as under:-

"6. In the case of charges framed in a disciplinary inquiry the tribunal or court can interfere only if on the charges framed (read with imputation or particulars of the charges, if any) no misconduct or other irregularity alleged can be said to have been made out or the charges framed are contrary to any law. At this stage, the tribunal has no jurisdiction to go into the correctness or truth of the charges. The tribunal cannot take over the functions of the disciplinary authority. The truth or otherwise of the charges is a matter for the disciplinary authority to go into. Indeed, even after the conclusion of the disciplinary proceedings, if the matter comes to court or tribunal, they have no jurisdiction to look into the truth of the charges or into the correctness of the findings recorded by the disciplinary authority or the appellate authority as the case may be. The function of the court/tribunal is one of judicial review, the parameters of which are repeatedly laid down by this Court. It would be sufficient to quote the decision in H.B. Gandhi, Excise and Taxation Officer-cum-Assessing Authority, Karnal v. Gopi Nath & Sons5. The Bench comprising M.N. Venkatachaliah, J. (as he then was) and A.M. Ahmadi, J., affirmed the principle thus : (SCC p. 317, para 8)

"Judicial review, it is trite, is not directed against the decision but is confined to the decision-making process. Judicial review cannot extend to the examination of the correctness or reasonableness of a decision as a matter of fact. The purpose of judicial review is to ensure that the individual receives fair treatment and not to ensure that the authority after according fair treatment reaches, on a matter which it is authorised by law to decide, a conclusion which is correct in the eyes of the Court. Judicial review is not an appeal from a decision but a review of the manner in which the decision is made. It will be erroneous to think that the Court sits in judgment not only on the correctness of the decision making process but also on the correctness of the decision itself."

The Apex Court in the case of Secretary, Ministry of Defence and others vs. Prabhash Chandra Mirdha [reported in *(2012) 11 Supreme Court Cases 56*5] in para nos. 10 to 12 has opined as follows:

"11. Ordinarily a writ application does not lie against a chargesheet or show cause notice for the reason that it does not give rise to any cause of action. It does not amount to an adverse order which affects the right of any party unless the same has been issued by a person having no jurisdiction/competence to do so. A writ lies when some right of a party is infringed. In fact, chargesheet does not infringe the right of a party. It is only when a final order imposing the punishment or otherwise adversely affecting a party is passed, it may have a grievance and cause of action. Thus, a chargesheet or show cause notice in disciplinary proceedings should not ordinarily be quashed by the Court. (Vide

: State of U.P. Vs. Brahm Datt Sharma, AIR 1987 SC 943; Executive Engineer, Bihar State Housing Board Vs. Ramesh Kumar Singh & Others, (1996) 1 SCC 327; Ulagappa & Ors. v. Div. Commr., Mysore & Ors., AIR 2000 SC 3603 (2); Special Director & Anr. Vs. Mohd. Ghulam Ghouse & Another , AIR 2004 SC 1467; and Union of India & Another Vs. Kunisetty Satyanarayana, AIR 2007 SC 906).

12. In State of Orissa & Anr. v. Sangram Keshari Misra & Anr., (2010) 13 SCC 311, this Court held that normally a chargesheet is not quashed prior to the conclusion of the enquiry on the ground that the facts stated in the charge are erroneous for the reason that correctness or truth of the charge is the function of the disciplinary authority. (See also: Union of India & Ors., (1994) 3 SCC 357).

*13. Thus, the law on the issue can be summarised to the effect that chargesheet cannot generally be a subject matter of challenge as it does not adversely affect the rights of the delinquent unless it is established that the same has been issued by an authority not competent to initiate the disciplinary proceedings. Neither the disciplinary proceedings nor the chargesheet be quashed at an initial stage as it would be a premature stage to deal with the issues. Proceedings are not liable to be quashed on the grounds that proceedings had been initiated at a belated stage or could not be concluded in a reasonable period unless the delay creates prejudice to the delinquent employee. Gravity of alleged misconduc*t is a relevant factor to be taken into consideration while quashing the proceedings."

In the case of Union of India and another Vs. Kunisetty Satyanarayana, reported in (2006) 12 SCC 28, Hon'ble the Supreme Court has held as under:-

"Writ jurisdiction is discretionary jurisdiction and hence such discretion under Article 226 should not ordinarily be exercised by quashing a show-cause notice or charge sheet."

14. It was, therefore, emphasized by the Apex Court that even by way of final order the departmental enquiry or the charge-sheet could not have been quashed. Thus, what could not have been done even at the final stage certainly could not have been done by way of any interim measure by the Tribunal.

15. The law on this point is that the Courts are, therefore, not to grant stay/quash the disciplinary proceedings nor they should go into the correctness or otherwise of the charges leveled in the charge-sheet and the departmental inquiry should be allowed to continue uninterrupted to come to its natural conclusion

16. In the case of charges framed in a disciplinary enquiry, the tribunal or Court can interfere only if on the charges framed (read with imputation or particulars of the charges, if any) no misconduct or other irregularity alleged can be said to have been made out or the charges framed are contrary to any law. The tribunal or the Court cannot take over the functions of the disciplinary authority. The truth or otherwise of the charge is a matter for the disciplinary authority to go into. Indeed, even after the conclusion of their disciplinary proceedings, if the matter comes to court or tribunal, they have no jurisdiction to look into the truth of the charges or into the correctness of the findings recorded by the disciplinary authority or the appellate authority as the case may be.

17. From the aforesaid legal positions, it is clear that in some very rare and exceptional cases the High Court can quash a charge-sheet or show-cause notice if it is found to be wholly without jurisdiction or for some other reason if it is wholly illegal. However, ordinarily the High Court should not interfere in such a matter.

18. In view of the aforesaid settled legal positions of the Apex Court which have been referred to above, this Court does not find any illegality or infirmity in the impugned charge-sheet dated 24th August, 2021 passed by respondent no.4 so as to warrant any interference by this Court in exercise of powers under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

19. The present writ petition being devoid of merits and is accordingly dismissed.

20. However, it is provided that the departmental inquiry be initiated against the petitioner and brought to its logical end, strictly in accordance with law, at the earliest possible preferably within a period of three months from the date of production of a certified copy of this order before the disciplinary authority.

(2022)05ILR A920
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 12.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ROHIT RANJAN AGARWAL, J.

Rera Appeal No. 1 of 2022 connected with other cases

Air Force Naval Housing Board Air Force Station, New Delhi & Ors. ...Petitioner
Versus
U.P. Real Estate Regulatory Authority Regional Office, G.B. Nagar & Anr.
...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Ashish Kumar Singh, Sri Ajay Kumar Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Wasim Masood, Sri Nar Singh, Sri Anil Tiwari

(A) Civil Law - Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act, 2016 - Sections 2(zk) , 2(zg),4,4(2) ,4(2)(l)(D) ,43(5) ,44,58 & 84 - appeal - Uttar Pradesh Real Estate Regulatory Authority - The Societies Registration Act, 1860 - Section3 - Uttar Pradesh Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Rules, 2016 - Rule 5 - The Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Bill, 2013 - Section 2(zf) ,38(5) , The Consumer Protection Act, 1986 - Section 2(m) ,The Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Bill, 2015 - Section 2(zk) - 'promoter' - The General Clauses Act (10 of 1897) - Section 3(42) , The Income Tax Act (43 of 1961) - Section 2(31) , The Standards of Weights and Measures Act, (60 of 1976) - Finance Act (No.2) (21 of 1998) - Section 87 (k) , Competition Act, 2002 - Section 2(l) , The Prevention of Money-Laundering Act, 2002 - Section 2(s) - "person" - appellants bound to comply the statutory provision of Section 43(5) of the Act, 2016 - pre-deposit, as envisaged under Section 43(5) of Act, 2016, in no circumstances can be said to be onerous, or in violation of Article 14 or 19(1)(g) of the Constitution of India - law is settled as far as mandatory compliance of Section 43(5) of Act, 2016 is concerned in view of the judgment of Apex Court in the case of M/s Newtech Promoters and Developers Pvt.

Ltd. vs. State of U.P. and others.*(Para – 78,79,81)

Appellants (welfare organization) formed society - providing affordable houses to the serving and retired Air Force and Naval personnel - on "no profit no loss' basis - under-subscription of project - scheme diluted and flats are sold to Army personnel, Coast Guard, Para military personnel, Central and State Government employees - delay in completion of project - some allottees approached RERA - awarded interest on their deposited amount - some cases refund of deposited amount with interest was awarded - Appeal filed before the Appellate Tribunal under section 44 - appellant not complied provisions of Section 43(5) of the Act, 2016 and not deposited the balance amount - appeal dismissed - ground - non compliance of Section 43(5) of the Act, 2016 & appellant not being a promoter is not required to comply condition of predeposit - hence the present appeal.(Para -2,8,77)

HELD:-Appellants working in real estate sector and their project having been registered after enforcement of Act, 2016, comes under the purview of ''promoter', as defined under Section 2(zk) of Act, 2016, and necessary compliance of pre-deposit, as enshrined under Section 43(5) of Act, 2016, has to be made before the Tribunal before entertainment of their appeal. No case for interference is made out in the orders impugned. (Para - 81,82)

Appeal dismissed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Neelkamal Realtors Suburban Pvt. Ltd. & anr. Vs U.O.I. & ors., 2017 SCC OnLine Bom 9302

2. M/s Newtech Promoters & Developers Pvt. Ltd. Vs St. of U.P. & ors., 2021 SCC OnLine SC 1044

3. Air Force N.H.B. Vs Mohit Anand, S.A. Defective No.237 of 2019

4. Air Force N.H.B. Vs Satish Kumar Sharma , Appeal Defective No. 233 of 2020

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rohit Ranjan Agarwal, J.)

1. This bunch of appeals filed under Section 58 of Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act, 2016 (hereinafter referred to as "Act, 2016") assails the orders passed by Uttar Pradesh Real Estate Appellate Tribunal (hereinafter referred to as "Appellate Tribunal") as well as order passed by Uttar Pradesh Real Estate Regulatory Authority (hereinafter referred to as "Regulatory Authority") directing the appellant to pay interest @ MCLR + 1 on the amount paid by the allottee from 01.7.2012 till obtaining of CC/offer of possession, whichever is later.

2. The present appeal has been preferred on the ground that the appeal filed before the Appellate Tribunal was dismissed on the ground of non compliance of Section 43(5) of the Act, 2016 and appellant not being a promoter is not required to comply condition of predeposit.

3. The present appeal was admitted by this Court on 22.12.2021 on the following question of law:

"Whether in the context of the objects clause and the Memorandum of Association of the present appellant and in the context of the activities engaged by it, the appellant is included in the meaning of the word"Promoter" as defined under Section 2(zk) of the U.P. Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act 2016 as may enforce on the appellant the condition of pre deposit the entire disputed amount for the purpose of maintaining the appeal under Section 43(5) of the Act against the order dated 10.4.2019 passed by the Real Estate Regulatory Authority."

4. Counsel for both the sides have jointly agreed to argue the matter on the question of law framed herein above, thus with the consent of counsel for the parties, all these connected appeals are being heard and decided today. Leading appeal being RERA Appeal No.1 of 2022 wherein challenge has been made to the order dated 10.04.2019 passed by Regulatory Authority and the order dated 28.02.2020 passed by Appellate Tribunal.

5. Facts in brief are that the appellant before this Court known as Air Force Naval Housing Board (hereinafter referred to as "AFNHB") is a welfare organization formed with the efforts of Senior Officers of Air Force and Navy with an object to provide suitable and affordable houses to the Air Force and Naval personnel on "no profit no loss' basis. The appellant formed a Society by serving senior officers of Air Force and Navy which was registered on 16.11.1979 under the Societies Registration Act, 1860 (hereinafter referred to as "Act, 1860"). The Board of Directors is comprised of serving officials of Air Force and Indian Navy on the ex officio basis. AFNHB, Meerut is a project launched in the year 2008. The land was allotted by Meerut Development Authority. Thereafter lay out was approved and contract for civil work for initial 5 towers were awarded on 05.05.2010. In the said project, 545 flats was to be constructed.

6. Act, 2016 came into force from 01.05.2016 after receiving presidential assent on 25.03.2016 and was made applicable in the State of U.P. as well. On the date of enforcement of the Act, 2016, the project launched by the appellant was going on, hence its registration under proviso to Section 3 was mandatory and the appellant registered the same with the RERA on 15.08.2017.

7. According to appellant, out of 545 flats, 523 flats have been sold and 418 allottees have already taken possession. Twenty-two flats are lying vacant. As there was delay in completion of project, some of the allottees approached RERA and were awarded interest on their deposited amount and in some cases refund of deposited amount with interest was awarded. RERA on 10.04.2019 on complaint being made by the contesting respondents, who are the allottees, passed following order :

"1. विपक्षी को आदेशित किया जाता है कि वह जुलाई 2019 तक, यदि कोई देय बकाया है, तो उसे प्राप्त कर, कब्जा देना सुनिश्चित करे और देय स्टाम्प शुल्क प्राप्त कर यूनिट का पंजीकरण कराना सुनिश्चित करें।

2. विपक्षी, शिकायतकर्ता को 1.7.2012 (प्रत्येक शिकायत कर्तागण के अनुबन्ध के अनुसार) से ओ.सी./सी.सी. अथवा कब्जा आफर किये जाने, जो भी बाद में हो तक, MCLR+1 प्रतिशत ब्याज सहित अदा करना सुनिश्चित करें। साथ ही यह भी स्पष्ट किया जाता है कि ब्याज की यह धनराशि अंतिम भुगतान की धनराशि में समायोजित की जायेगी। यदि ब्याज की धनराशि देय धनराशि से अधिक है, तो वह नियमानुसार शिकायतकर्ता को वापस की जाये।

3. विपक्षी, जिन शिकायतकर्तागण के टॉवर अपूर्ण हैं, उन्हे शिकायतकर्तागण की सहमति से तैयार टॉवर में बुकिंग किये गये क्षेत्रफल के नजदीक, बुकिंग के समय तय दरों पर यूनिट उपलब्ध कराना सुनिश्चित करे।

4. विपक्षी, यदि शिकायतकर्तागण को जुलाई 2019 तक कब्जा देने में असफल रहते

हैं, तो शिकायतकर्तागण की धनराशि, जमा करने की तिथि से वास्तविक भुगतान की तिथि तक MCLR+1 प्रतिशत की दर से ब्याज सहित दो किस्तों में अदा करना सुनिश्चित करें। विपक्षी 50 प्रतिशत धनराशि दिनांक 31.7.2019 से 45 दिन के अन्दर व शेष, 50 प्रतिशत धनराशि दिनांक 31.3.2020 अथवा यूनिट विक्रय होने, जो भी पहले हो, तक अदा करना सुनिश्चित करे।

5. आदेश की एक एक प्रति सम्बंधित पत्रावलियों पर रखी जाये एवं इस आदेश में प्रतिपादित सिद्धान्त के अनुरूप धनराशि व ब्याज की प्रत्येक मामले में गणना की जायेगी।

6. इस आदेश का उल्लंघन उ०प्र०भू-सम्पदा (विनियमन तथा विकास) अधिनियम,2016 की धारा-63 तथा अन्य सुसंगत प्राविधानों के अन्तर्गत दंडनीय होगा। आदेश पोर्टल पर अपलोड किया जाये।"

8. Against the said order, appellant filed appeal before Appellate Tribunal under Section 44 of the Act, 2016. Accordingly to appellant, they deposited Rs.6,33,000/- on 24.10.2019. The Appellant Tribunal on 24.10.2019 passed an order taking on record the said amount and further directed the appellant to file calculation sheet for total compensation amount certified by Chartered Accountant and fixed 02.12.2019. On 28.01.2020, the Appellate Tribunal recorded its dissatisfaction to the effect that appellant has not complied provisions of Section 43(5) of the Act, 2016 and not deposited the balance amount. As the balance amount was not deposited, the appeal was dismissed on 28.02.2020 hence the present appeal.

9. Sri Ashish Kumar Singh, learned counsel appearing in all the connected appeals filed by the same appellant submitted that AFNHB is a welfare organisation comprising of senior officers of the Air Force and Navy for providing affordable houses to the serving and retired Air Force and Naval personnel on no profit no loss basis. The Board of Management comprises of officers of Air Force and Navy as ex-officio members. According to him, memorandum of Association describes its object and welfare status of the appellant Society. He further submitted that the appellant liaises with Central and State Government authorities for acquiring suitable area for developing housing colonies. These housing projects are self financed, which was developed on the contribution made by the allottees. These housing projects are developed for specific class and not for general public to earn profit. In case of under-subscription of the project, the Board of Management has power to dilute the scheme to Army, Coast Guard, Para military personnel, central and State Government employees so that the project is not stalled in midway due to poor subscription. However, according to him, the Master Brochure of 2012 makes provisions for meeting the expenditure on the staff, Board and project office and 6% project cost is charged which includes 1.5% of reserve fund for the project.

10. According to him, the present project, which was conceptualized and initiated in the year 2008 was an ongoing project when the Act, 2016 was implemented after the presidential assent in the State, and the appellant got the same registered with the RERA. Due to the delay caused by the Contractor, the project was delayed. According to Sri Singh, to ascertain real meaning of the term "promoter', Section 2(zk) has to be read with Section 4(2)(l)(D) of the Act, 2016.

The "promoter' necessarily means the acts to be done by a person or cause to be done by him with the intent and purpose of selling of flats/plots/houses, as the case may be. According to him, from reading of Section 4(2)(l)(D), it transpires that 70% of the amount realized from real estate project from the allottees is to be deposited in an escrow account to cover the cost of construction including cost of land with stipulation that the same shall be used only for that purpose.

11. The true intention of the aforesaid Section finds support from reading of Rule 5 of Uttar Pradesh Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Rules, 2016 (hereinafter referred to as "Rules, 2016") framed by virtue of exercise of power conferred under Section 84 of Act, 2016.

12. According to him, the said provision and rules only speaks about the promoters spending the amount from escrow account which would be to the tune of total 70% of the collection right from the procurement of land till the finish of construction and does not speak anything about rest 30% of the amount and its utilisation by promoter. According to him, the balance 30% of the amount and its utilization by promoter is the profit enjoyed by the promoter.

13. Thus, in the present scenario as the appellant is an organisation running on no profit no loss basis, there is no generation of 30% of this amount, which is enjoyed by the organisation as profit. According to him, this provision was introduced by the legislature to curb unjust enrichment of the builder and reduce fraud and delay alongwith to curb the high transaction cost. He has placed reliance upon the decision of Bombay High Court in the case of Neelkamal Realtors Suburban Pvt. Ltd. And Anr. vs. Union of India and Ors. 2017 SCC OnLine Bom 9302. According to him, the Court had held that as the promoter has enjoyed 30% of the amount, therefore, in case of any financial liability, he is also under an obligation to pay the awarded amount/ compensation/ interest from the said 30%.

14. He then contended that the appellant do not have any such funds as per Section 4(2)(l)(D) of the Act, 2016 read with Rule 5 of Rules, 2016. According to him, the appellant do not fall within the definition of promoter as per Section 2(zk) stricto senso as they do not have any profit motive to the extent of 30% rather the appellant board is a zero profit welfare organisation.

15. According to him, the appellant organisation do not fall within the definition of "promoter' and thus provisions contained under Section 43(5) of the Act, 2016 are not attracted and are not applicable upon the appellant. He then contended that the primary intention of the legislature while enacting Act, 2016 was to curb and put restriction on the unjust enrichment of builders and colonizers.

16. Since appellant organisation do not fall under the said categories of builders or colonizer, they are not attracted under the definition of promoter under Section 2(zk) of Act, 2016. He lastly contended that the Act, 2016 takes into consideration for registration of two types of project, one after implementation of the Act, 2016 and those which were ongoing when the Act was implemented. In the case in hand, it was ongoing project as such 70% of the amount, as mandated under Section 4(2)(l)(D) of Act, 2016 was not deposited as the project was in an advanced stage and thus the Tribunal was wrong in rejecting the appeal on the ground that mandatory provisions of Section 43(5) of Act, 2016 was not complied with. In fact, Rs.6,33,000/- was deposited in the appeal under consideration and flats amounting to Rs.6.23 crores have already been kept as security and further account of organisation having 2.56 crores has already been attached, the appeal should have been heard on merits rather being dismissed on the ground of non compliance of mandatory deposit.

17. Sri Anil Tiwari, learned counsel for the Regulatory Authority at the very outset placed before the Court Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Bill, 2013 (hereinafter referred to as "Bill, 2013") as it was introduced in the Rajya Sabha. In Section 2(zf) of the Bill, 2013 the word "promoter' was defined. According to him, when the bill was passed and enacted, the words "also includes a buyer who purchases in bulk for resale" was removed. Relevant definition of word "promoter', as defined in the bill is extracted as under :

"(zf) ""promoter'' means,--

(i) a person who constructs or causes to be constructed an independent building or a building consisting of apartments, or converts an existing building or a part thereof into apartments, for the purpose of selling all or some of the apartments to other persons and includes his assignees and also includes a buyer who purchases in bulk for resale; or

(ii) a person who develops a colony for the purpose of selling to other persons all or some of the plots, whether with or without structures thereon; or

(iii) any development authority or any other public body in respect of allottees of--

(a) buildings or apartments, as the case may be, constructed by such authority or body on lands owned by them or placed at their disposal by the Government; or

(b) plots owned by such authority or body or placed at their disposal by the Government, for the purpose of selling all or some of the apartments or plots; or

(iv) an apex State level co-operative housing finance society and a primary co-operative housing society which constructs apartments or buildings for its Members or in respect of the allottees of such apartments or buildings; or

(v) any other person who acts himself as a builder, colonizer, contractor, developer, estate developer or by any other name or claims to be acting as the holder of a power of attorney from the owner of the land on which the building or apartment is constructed or colony is developed for sale; or

(vi) such other person who constructs any building or apartment for sale to the general public.

Explanation.--For the purposes of this clause, where the person who constructs or converts a building into apartments or develops a colony for sale and the persons who sells apartments or plots are different persons, both of them shall be deemed to be the promoters."

18. He then placed Section 38 of the Bill, 2013, which was in regard to provision of appeal before the Real Estate Appellate Tribunal. Sub-section (5) of Section 38 of the Bill, 2013 is extracted hereas under :

"38. (1) The appropriate Government or the competent authority or any person aggrieved by any direction or order or decision of the Authority or the adjudicating officer may prefer an appeal to the Appellate Tribunal.

(2) Every appeal made under sub-section (1) shall be preferred within a period of sixty days from the date on which a copy of the direction or order or decision made by the Authority is received by the appropriate Government or the competent authority or the aggrieved person and it shall be in such form, and accompanied by such fee, as may be prescribed:

Provided that the Appellate Tribunal may entertain any appeal after the expiry of sixty days if it is satisfied that there was sufficient cause for not filing it within that period.

(3) On receipt of an appeal under sub-section (1), the Appellate Tribunal may after giving the parties an opportunity of being heard, pass such orders as it thinks fit.

(4) The Appellate Tribunal shall send a copy of every order made by it to the parties and to the Authority or the adjudicating officer, as the case may be.

(5) The appeal preferred under sub-section (1), shall be dealt with by it as expeditiously as possible and endeavour shall be made by it to dispose of the appeal within a period of ninety days from the date of receipt of appeal:

Provided that where any such appeal could not be disposed of within the said period of ninety days, the Appellate Tribunal shall record its reasons in writing for not disposing of the appeal within that period.

(6) The Appellate Tribunal may, for the purpose of examining the legality or propriety or correctness of any order or decision of the Authority or the adjudicating officer, on its own motion or otherwise, call for the records relevant to disposing of such appeal and make such orders as it thinks fit."

19. Sri Tiwari then placed the statement of object and reason, why the bill was introduced by the Central Government. The reason for introduction of the Bill, 2013 was that previously the real estate sector was largely unregulated and only the Consumer Protection Act, 1986 took care of the buyers. The said Act was not adequate to address all concerns of buyers and promoters in the sector. The statement of object and reasons, as stated in the Bill, 2013 is extracted hereas under:

"The real estate sector plays a catalytic role in fulfilling the need and demand for housing and infrastructure in the country. While this sector has grown significantly in recent years, it has been largely unregulated, with absence of professionalism and standardisation and lack of adequate consumer protection. Though the Consumer Protection Act, 1986 is available as a forum to the buyers in the real estate market, the recourse is only curative and is not adequate to address all the concerns of buyers and promoters in that sector. The lack of standardisation has been a constraint to the healthy and orderly growth of industry. Therefore, the need for regulating the sector has been emphasised in various forums.

2. In view of the above, it becomes necessary to have a Central legislation, namely, the Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Bill, 2013 in the interests of effective consumer protection, uniformity and standardisation of business practices and transactions in the real estate sector. The proposed Bill provides for the establishment of the Real Estate Regulatory Authority (the Authority) for regulation and promotion of real estate sector and to ensure sale of plot, apartment or building, as the case may be, in an efficient and transparent manner and to protect the interest of consumers in real estate sector and establish the Real Estate Appellate Tribunal to hear appeals from the decisions, directions or orders of the Authority.

3. The proposed Bill will ensure greater accountability towards consumers, and significantly reduce frauds and delays as also the current high transaction costs. It attempts to balance the interests of consumers and promoters by imposing certain responsibilities on both. It seeks to establish symmetry of information between the promoter and purchaser, transparency of contractual conditions, set minimum standards of accountability and a fasttrack dispute resolution mechanism. The proposed Bill will induct professionalism and standardisation in the sector, thus paving the way for accelerated growth and investments in the long run."

20. He then placed the draft report of the Standing Committee of the Lok Sabha dated 12th February, 2014 on the Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Bill, 2013 which states that as the demand for housing has increased manifold, taking advantage of situation, the private players have taken over the real estate sector with no concern for the consumers. Though availability of loan both through private and public banks have become easier, the high rate of interest and the higher EMI has posed additional financial burden on the people with the largely unregulated Real Estate and Housing Sector. Consequently, the consumers are unable to procure complete information or enforce accountability against builders and developers in the absence of an effective mechanism in place. Thus, it was felt badly for establishing an oversight mechanism to enforce accountability of Real Estate Sector and providing adjudication machinery for speedy dispute redressal.

21. The draft report further provides that the Bill impose an obligation upon the promoter not to book, sell or offer for sale, or invite persons to purchase any plot, apartment or building, as the case may be, in any real estate project without registering the real estate project with the Authority. In the Bill, it was provided that where the area of land proposed to be developed exceeds one thousand square meters or number of apartments proposed to be developed exceed twelve, registration of project is compulsory. Further, the bill provided to impose an obligation upon the promoter to impose liability to pay such compensation to the allottees, in the manner as provided under the proposed legislation, in case he fails to discharge any obligations imposed on him under the proposed legislation. The Bill further provided for punishment and penalty for contravention of the provisions of the proposed legislation and for non compliance of orders of Authority or Appellate Tribunal.

22. He then invited the attention of the Court to the Draft Committee report on the bill, which states that the Committee had sought public opinion through a press release and analysed the memoranda/suggestions received from various stakeholders/experts such as CII, FICCI and Associations working in the field of real estate on various provisions of the Bill. He then placed Chapter II of the Draft Report of the Parliamentary Committee wherein the Ministry of Housing and Urban Poverty Alleviation submitted a reply and requested for reconsidering the deletion of the words "in a real estate project" in the definition of "real estate agent". The Committee recorded that such a deletion was desirable as it would enable to regulate the role of estate agents in case of sale of secondary market properties also. Chapter III of the Draft Parliamentary Committee report states that small projects have been exempted from the purview of Bill where the area of the land is less than 1000 sq meter or where a building does not have more than 12 flats. An apprehension has been raised that large number of small housing projects will escape the purview of this law on inquiry about the apprehension, the Ministry of Urban Housing and Poverty Alleviation submitted that, initial draft of the Bill had earlier provided for registration of properties above 4000 sq.m. only. However, on suggestions and consultation with stakeholders, it was modified to provide for 1000 sq.m. or 12 apartments.

23. The Parliamentary Committee further noted the requirement of the promoter for enclosing certain documents with the application for registering the project. The Committee took note of the fact that Builder/Developer initially invests huge amount for procuring the land either by purchase or development. Moreover, huge amount are being paid towards payment of fees to the authorities for sanctioning and other statutory clearances. Hence, instead of restricting 30% of amounts to be used, the clause amended to 50% or more. Ministry of Urban Housing and Poverty alleviation suggested that limit of 70% is only indicative to cover "the cost of construction" and the percentage can further be reduced by the State/UT Government through a notification.

24. The Committee further noted on the reply furnished by the Ministry that 30% of project cost includes land and approval cost and the developer/promoter shall be allowed to withdraw 30% upfront as it may already have been incurred by him towards land cost, relevant approval etc. Cities such as Delhi and Mumbai, the land costs could be much higher in comparison to smaller cities. Hence, flexibility has been given to the States to determine the percentage of project cost.

25. Sri Tiwari then placed before the Court the report of Select Committee on the Bill, 2013 wherein the deliberations and general observation of the Committee are recorded. He tried to impress upon the fact that when the bill was introduced, a series of deliberations had taken place with different stakeholders, which were divided into 5 categories. The relevant extract of the report of the Select Committee is extracted hereas under :

"5. The Select Committee as per its decision taken in its first meeting on the 12th June, 2015 visited Kolkata, Bengaluru, Mumbai and Shimla with a view to have wider consultations with various stakeholders on the provisions on the Bill. The Committee also interacted with various stakeholders in Delhi. For the sake of convenience, the stakeholders were divided into following five categories:-

(i) Consumers and Resident Welfare Associations;

(ii) Promoters/Builders and Real Estate Agents;

(iii) Banks and other financial institutions including RBI and NHB ;

(iv) Representatives of State Government concerned with real estate / housing including Development Authorities;

(v) Legal firms, NGOs and others."

26. According to him, the Government while introducing the Bill had tried to take suggestion from people across the Board who were in some way or the other related or linked to the Real Estate Sector.

27. In regard to Clause 38 of the Bill, the observation and recommendation of the Committee was that while filing an appeal against an order of penalty, imposed by the authority before the Appellate Tribunal, the promoter was required to deposit 30% amount and other liabilities. Relevant recommendation is extracted hereas under :

"The Committee recommends that the promoter, while preferring an appeal to the Appellate Tribunal, should deposit with the Tribunal at least 30% of the penalty amount and other liabilities, if any, imposed on it by Authority so that the realization of the penalty imposed on the promoter is not delayed for a long time."

28. Sri Tiwari then placed the amendments and omission suggested by the Select Committee to the Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Bill, 2015 (hereinafter referred to as "Bill of 2015"). According to him the term "promoter' was defined in Section 2(zk) of the Bill of 2015 wherein the Select Committee indicated its amendment and omission. Relevant definition is extracted hereas under:

"(zk) "promoter" means,--

(i) a person who constructs or causes to be constructed an independent building or a building consisting of apartments, or converts an existing building or a part thereof into apartments, for the purpose of selling all or some of the apartments to other persons and includes his assignees (); or

(ii) a person who develops () land into a project, whether or not the person also constructs structures on any of the plots, for the purpose of selling to other persons all or some of the plots in the said project, whether with or without structures thereon; and

(iii) any development authority or any other public body in respect of allottes of--

(a) buildings or apartments, as the case may be, constructed by such authority or body on lands owned by them or placed at their disposal by the Government; and

(b) plots owned by such authority or body or placed at their disposal by the Government, for the purpose of selling all or some of the apartments or plots, or

(iv) an apex State level co-operative housing finance society and a primary cooperative housing society which constructs apartments or buildings for its Members or in respect of the allottees of such apartments or buildings; or

(v) any other person who acts himself as a builder, colonizer, contractor, developer, estate developer or by an other name or claims to be acting as the holder of a power of attorney from the owner of the land on which the building or apartment is constructed or () plot is developed for sale; and

(vi) such other persons who constructs any building or apartment for sale to the general public.

Explanation:--For the purposes of this clause, where the person who constructs or converts a building into apartments or develops a () plot for sale and the persons who sells apartments or plots are different persons, both of them shall be deemed to be the promoters and shall be jointly liable as such for the functions and responsibilities specified under this Act or the rules and regulations made thereunder."

29. According to Sri Tiwari, after great consultation and deliberation, Parliament enacted Act No.16 of 2016 wherein the word "promoter' has been defined in Section 2(zk) is a person who constructs or causes to be constructed an independent building or a building consisting of apartments, or converts an existing building or a part thereof into apartments, for the purpose of selling all or some part of the apartments to other persons and includes his assignees. It also includes a person who develops land into a project, whether or not the person constructs structures on any plots, for the purpose of selling to other persons all or some plots in the said project. The definition is extracted hereas under :

"(zk) "promoter" means,--

(i) a person who constructs or causes to be constructed an independent building or a building consisting of apartments, or converts an existing building or a part thereof into apartments, for the purpose of selling all or some of the apartments to other persons and includes his assignees; or

(ii) a person who develops land into a project, whether or not the person also constructs structures on any of the plots, for the purpose of selling to other persons all or some of the plots in the said project, whether with or without structures thereon; or

(iii) any development authority or any other public body in respect of allottees of--

(a) buildings or apartments, as the case may be, constructed by such authority or body on lands owned by them or placed at their disposal by the Government; or

(b) plots owned by such authority or body or placed at their disposal by the Government, for the purpose of selling all or some of the apartments or plots; or

(iv) an apex State level co-operative housing finance society and a primary co-operative housing society which constructs apartments or buildings for its Members or in respect of the allottees of such apartments or buildings; or

(v) any other person who acts himself as a builder, coloniser, contractor, developer, estate developer or by any other name or claims to be acting as the holder of a power of attorney from the owner of the land on which the building or apartment is constructed or plot is developed for sale; or

(vi) such other person who constructs any building or apartment for sale to the general public.

Explanation.--For the purposes of this clause, where the person who constructs or converts a building into apartments or develops a plot for sale and the person who sells apartments or plots are different person, both of them shall be deemed to be the promoters and shall be jointly liable as such for the functions and responsibilities specified under this Act or the rules and regulations made thereunder;"

30. Further Section 2(n) defines "real estate project", which is extracted hereas under :

"(zn) "real estate project" means the development of a building or a building consisting of apartments, or converting an existing building or a part thereof into apartments, or the development of land into plots or apartments, as the case may be, for the purpose of selling all or some of the said apartments or plots or building, as the case may be, and includes the common areas, the development works, all improvements and structures thereon, and all easement, rights and appurtenances belonging thereto."

31. According to him, reading of definition "promoter' with "real estate project' would mean that any person developing a building or a building consisting of apartments, or converting an existing building or a part thereof into apartments, or development of land into plots or apartments, as the case may be, for the purpose of selling all or some of said apartments or plots or building, as the case may be, by any person would include a promoter developing a real state project.

32. Section 3 takes care of registration of real estate project with the Authority. Proviso to Section 3 provides for registration of ongoing projects on the date commencement of the Act, 2016.

33. Thus, the Act takes care of both types of project which are launched subsequent to the enactment of Act, 2016 and those which are already ongoing, leaving no room for any person carrying out the activity of development of land, constructing of apartments or building, as defined under the Act, 2016 but not to register the same.

34. Thus, the appellants before the Court have launched the project in the year 2008 for constructing apartments for its members and their project having been registered under proviso to Section 3 are covered in the definition of "promoter', which leaves no room for any organization or association to claim that it is out of the purview of the Act. Once the project is registered, no promoter can escape the provisions of the Act.

35. Further, Section 4(2)(l)(D) is a provision to safeguard the money of the allottees who have deposited the money with the promoter, and it provides the mechanism and manner in which the money shall be used by a promoter.

36. According to him, the deposit of 70% amount in an escrow account does not mean that 30% of the remaining amount is the profit of the promoter. It has been only been provided to put a safeguard on the deposits of home buyers so that money collected is used for purchase of land, construction and necessary clearance fees to be deposited with authorities. Nowhere was the intention of the legislature to say that 70% was the cost of project and 30% was the profit amount of a promoter.

37. Sri Tiwari then tried to place link between deliberation of the Standing Committee of Lok Sabha and the report of the Select Committee of the Rajya Sabha on the Bill, 2013 wherein all the stakeholders were taken into confidence and suggestions were invited and further after the suggestion from the Ministry of Housing and Urban Poverty Alleviation, the report was submitted giving leverage to the State and Union Territories to fix the amount to be deposited by promoter in an escrow account securing for purchase of land and construction.

38. Sri Tiwari then invited the attention of the Court to the decision of Bombay High Court in the case of Neelkamal Realtors Suburban Pvt. Ltd. And Anr. (supra) wherein a challenge to the legality and constitutional validity of certain provisions of the Act, 2016 was put to. In the said petition, proviso to Section 3(1), 4(2)(l)(D) was prayed to be declared as unconstitutional, illegal, ultra vires and without authority of law. The Bombay High Court upheld these provisions along with other provisions of the Act.

39. In regard to proviso to Section 3(1) of the Act, 2016, he has relied upon paras 88, 90, 91, 92, 93 and 94 of the judgment wherein the contentions of the petitioners were negated by the Court, upholding the validity of the provisions. Relevant paras 90, 91 and 92 are extracted hereas under :

"90. The important provisions like Sections 3 to 19, 40, 59 to 70 and 79 to 80 were notified for operation from 1/5/2017. RERA law was enacted in the year 2016. The Central Government did not make any haste to implement these provisions at one and the same time, but the provisions were made applicable thoughtfully and phase-wise. Considering the scheme of RERA, object and purpose for which it is enacted in the larger public interest, we do not find that challenge on the ground that it violates rights of the petitioners under Articles 14 and 19(1)(g) stand to reason. Merely because sale and purchase agreement was entered into by the promoter prior to coming into force of RERA does not make the application of enactment retrospective in nature. The RERA was passed because it was felt that several promoters had defaulted and such defaults had taken place prior to coming into force of RERA. In the affidavit-in-reply, the UOI had stated that in the State of Maharashtra 12608 ongoing projects have been registered, while 806 new projects have been registered. This figure itself would justify the registration of ongoing projects for regulating the development work of such projects.

91. On behalf of the petitioners it was submitted that Parliament lacks power to make retrospective laws. Series of judgments cited above would indicate a settled principle that a legislature could enact law having retrospective/retroactive operation. It cannot be countenance that merely because an enactment is made retrospective in its operation, it would be contrary to Article 14 and Article 19(1)(g). We find substance in the submissions advanced by the learned counsel appearing for the respondents that Parliament not only has power to legislate retrospectively but even modify pre-existing contract between private parties in the larger public interest. No enactment can be struck down merely by saying that it is arbitrary and unreasonable unless constitutional infirmity has been established. It is settled position that with the development of law, it is desirable that courts should apply the latest tools of interpretation to arrive at a more meaningful and definite conclusion. A balance has to be struck between the restrictions imposed and the social control envisaged by Article 19(6). The application of the principles will vary from case to case as also with regard to changing conditions, values of human life, social philosophy of the Constitution, prevailing conditions and the surrounding circumstances.

92. Legislative power to make law with retrospective effect is well recognized. In the facts, it would not be permissible for the petitioners to say that they have vested right in dealing with the completion of the project by leaving the proposed allottees in helpless and miserable condition. In a country like ours, when millions are in search of homes and had to put entire life earnings to purchase a residential house for them, it was compelling obligation on the Government to look into the issues in the larger public interest and if required, make stringent laws regulating such sectors. We cannot foresee a situation where helpless allottees had to approach various forums in search of some reliefs here and there and wait for the outcome of the same for indefinite period. The public interest at large is one of the relevant consideration in determining the constitutional validity of retrospective legislation."

40. As far as Section 4(2)(l)(D) is concerned, the relevant para of the judgment are 97, 98, 99, 100 and 101, which are extracted hereas under :

"97. Section 4(2)(l)(D) mandates that 70% of the amount realized for the real estate project from the allottees from time to time shall be deposited in separate account in a scheduled bank to cover the cost of construction, land and shall be used only for that purpose. This is an important provision under the scheme of RERA. It was submitted during the course of argument that throughout the country and more so in Mega Cities like Delhi and Mumbai number of cases are coming to light, that huge projects are left incomplete by the builders without giving timely possession to the allottees as proposed in the agreement. Allottees have approached the Apex Court/High Courts. Several stringent actions have been initiated by the courts. The purpose behind framing this provision is to see that amount collected from the allottees by the promoter is invested for the same project only. The promoter shall not be entitled to divert the said fund for the benefit of other project or for utilization as per desire of the promoter. Such practices have been curbed under the scheme of RERA and one of such move is to introduce such provision wherein one is bound to deposit 70% amount collected from the allottees to be invested on the project. This is again a legislation in the larger public interest of the consumer and allottee. We do not find any arbitrariness in this provision.

98. It was submitted that, (a) there is no guidance prescribed in respect of deposit of 70% of the amount realized from the allottees. In a given case, the said amount could have been invested or spent on the project by the promoter; (b) it is possible that promoter would have invested or spent 50% of the amount out of 70% on the said project; (c) it is possible that the allottees fail to deposit according to the terms of the agreement or the promoter could not receive 70% of the amount from the allottees; (d) it is possible in a given case that allottees are at fault in not contributing their share with the promoter and due to their default the promoter is unable to collect the amount. Various situations were deliberated upon during the course of hearing of these petitions. We hasten to add here that legislation cannot be drafted by keeping in view all the possible eventualities, questions and answers. Merely on academic basis it would not be possible to consider the challenge to an enactment. We will have to wait and see how the Act is implemented by testing the provisions of the Act in the real fact situation emerging from case to case.

99. However, the doubts expressed on behalf of the petitioners can be very well explained. The Union of India has clarified that in case 70% amount was invested or spent by a promoter on the project, then such a promoter need not deposit 70% amount realized from the allottees while getting the project registered. It is sufficient if necessary certificate is furnished to the authority concerned to their satisfaction that amount realized from the allottees was spent on the said project. Even if 50% amount was collected from the allottees and spent accordingly, then the authority under RERA would look into the same and deal with the fact situation and pass necessary orders. In case the allottees default in payment, the it would be for the authority to issue necessary instructions and directions so that allottees are made to deposit the amount with the promoter. A promoter would remain always a promoter under RERA. What is registered under Section 3 of RERA is a project and not a promoter. This is a crucial distinction which needs to be understood while analyzing the scheme of RERA. In a given fact situation of the case, the authority may ask the promoter to sell already constructed flats for generating finances so that one is not put to any loss and the remaining development work is carried out. We cannot encompass all the situations for all the times to come at this stage. It is left to the wisdom of the authority concerned, which is expected to deal with the facts of each case while discharging its obligation in implementing the provisions of RERA in letter and spirit.

100. The amount realized by the promoter would remain his money and in no case expropriated or taken over in any way by authority under RERA. The amount is merely sought to be deposited in a separate account to ensure timely completion of the project. The deposit made by the promoter can duly be withdrawn upon certification and under the instructions of the authority. There is no restriction upon the right of the promoter. The money is to be deposited for ensuring that it is utilized for the purpose of project and not misused.

101. The provisions of Section 4(2)(l)(C)(D) states that 70% of amount realized for the real estate project from the allottees to be deposited in a separate account, which means that 30% of the amount realized shall remain with the promoter/developer, which would be to the benefit of the promoter. In that way, the provision balances rights of promoter and the allottee."

41. Coming to provisions of Section 18, Sri Tiwari submitted that the Act specifically provides for return of amount and compensation if the promoters fails to complete or is unable to give possession of an apartment within the time agreed. The Bombay High Court judgment in para 129 has taken note of the said fact and held that the amount realized and deposited under Section 4(2)(l)(D) utilized by the promoter in construction, leaving 30% of the amount retained by him, is to be used in such contingencies where the promoter defaults to hand over possession to the allottees in the agreed time limit. Relevant paras 129, 310, 311 are extracted hereas under :

"129. Under the provisions of Section 4(2)(l)(D), the promoter would deposit 70% of the amount realized for the real estate project from the allottees in a separate account which means that 30% of the amount realized by the promoter from the allottees will be retained by him. In such case, if the promoter defaults to hand over possession to the allottee in the agreed time limit or the extended one, then the allottee shall reasonably expect some compensation from the promoter till the handing over of possession. In case the promoter defies to pay the compensation, then the same would amount to unjust enrichment by the promoter of the hard earned money of the allottees which he utilized. Such provisions are necessary to be incorporated because it was noticed by the Select Committee and the Standing Committee of the Parliament that huge sums of money collected from the allottees were not utilized fully for the project or the amounts collected from the allottees were diverted to other sectors than the concerned project. We do not notice any constitutional impropriety or legal infirmity or unreasonableness in incorporating these provisions under the RERA."

"310. In my opinion Section 18 is compensatory in nature and not penal. The promoter is in effect constructing the apartments for the allottees. The allottees make payment from time to time. Under the provisions of RERA, 70% amount is to be deposited in a designated bank account which covers the cost of construction and the land cost and has to be utilized only for that purpose. Interest accrued thereon is credited in that account. Under the provisions of RERA, 30% amount paid by the allottees is enjoyed and used by the promoter. It is, therefore, not unreasonable to require the promoter to pay interest to the allottees whose money it is when the project is delayed beyond the contractual agreed period. Even under Section 8 of MOFA on failure of the promoter in giving possession in accordance with the terms of the agreement for sale, he is liable to refund the amount already received by him together with simple interest @ 9% per annum from the date he received the sum till the date the amount and interest thereon is refunded. In other words, the liability under Section 18(1)(a) is not created for the first time by RERA. Section 88 lays down that the provisions of RERA shall be in addition to, and not in derogation of, the provisions of any other law for the time being in force.

311. As far as interest under Section 18(1)(b) is concerned, it was submitted that under Section 8 the Authority appoints facilitator/agency for carrying out remaining development works. After ouster of the promoter, he cannot be held responsible on account of delay in handing over possession by the facilitator/agency so appointed by the Authority. It was contended that it is quiet possible that the amount of 70% deposited under Section 4(2)(l)(D) may have been utilized by the promoter for carrying out construction. In that event, it will be extremely harsh and unreasonable to direct the promoter to pay interest till handing over possession after his ouster. The provisions of Section 18(1)(b) are, therefore, violative of Articles 14, 19(1)(g) of the Constitution of India. I do not find any merit in this submission. The promoter is liable to pay interest on account of suspension or revocation of the registration under the Act or for any other reason. The basic presumption is that the promoter was unable to complete the construction despite prescribing the time period under Section 4(2)(l)(C). The amount of 70% is already credited in a dedicated bank account under Section 4(2)(l)(D). The promoter has retained 30% paid by the allottee to him. Thus the allottee has parted with entire consideration for purchasing the apartment and still he is not given possession. The allottee cannot be said to be acting gratuitously. The promoter enjoying the benefit is bound to make compensation to the allottee. In other words though it is a case of unjust enrichment on the part of the promoter, still he is not liable to compensate the allottee by paying interest on the amount retained by him. In view thereof, it cannot be said that Section 18(1)(b) is violative of Articles 14 and 19(1)(b) of the Constitution of India. It also cannot be said to be a penal provision."

42. Sri Tiwari then placed before the Court judgment of Apex Court in case of M/s Newtech Promoters and Developers Pvt. Ltd. vs. State of U.P. and others, 2021 SCC OnLine SC 1044 wherein the Apex Court while hearing bunch of appeals framed following questions to be decided which are as under :

"1. Whether the Act 2016 is retrospective or retroactive in its operation and what will be its legal consequence if tested on the anvil of the Constitution of India?

2. Whether the authority has jurisdiction to direct return/refund of the amount to the allottee under Sections 12, 14, 18 and 19 of the Act or the jurisdiction exclusively lies with the adjudicating officer under Section 71 of the Act?

3. Whether Section 81 of the Act authorizes the authority to delegate its powers to a single member of the authority to hear complaints instituted under Section 31 of the Act?

4. Whether the condition of pre-deposit under proviso to Section 43(5) of the Act for entertaining substantive right of appeal is sustainable in law?

5. Whether the authority has power to issue recovery certificate for recovery of the principal amount under Section 40(1) of the Act?"

43. Question No.4 was in regard to whether the condition of pre-deposit under proviso to Section 43(5) of the Act for entertaining an appeal was sustainable under the law. The Apex Court dealt with this question in depth and held as under :

"128. It may further be noticed that under the present real estate sector which is now being regulated under the provisions of the Act 2016, the complaint for refund of the amount of payment which the allottee/consumer has deposited with the promoter and at a later stage, when the promoter is unable to hand over possession in breach of the conditions of the agreement between the parties, are being instituted at the instance of the consumer/allotee demanding for refund of the amount deposited by them and after the scrutiny of facts being made based on the contemporaneous documentary evidence on record made available by the respective parties, the legislature in its wisdom has intended to ensure that the money which has been computed by the authority at least must be safeguarded if the promoter intends to prefer an appeal before the tribunal and in case, the appeal fails at a later stage, it becomes difficult for the consumer/allottee to get the amount recovered which has been determined by the authority and to avoid the consumer/allottee to go from pillar to post for recovery of the amount that has been determined by the authority in fact, belongs to the allottee at a later stage could be saved from all the miseries which come forward against him.

129. At the same time, it will avoid unscrupulous and uncalled for litigation at the appellate stage and restrict the promoter if feels that there is some manifest material irregularity being committed or his defence has not been properly appreciated at the first stage, would prefer an appeal for re-appraisal of the evidence on record provided substantive compliance of the condition of pre-deposit is made over, the rights of the parties inter se could easily be saved for adjudication at the appellate stage."

"136. To be noticed, the intention of the instant legislation appears to be that the promoters ought to show their bona fides by depositing the amount so contemplated.

137. It is indeed the right of appeal which is a creature of the statute, without a statutory provision, creating such a right the person aggrieved is not entitled to file the appeal. It is neither an absolute right nor an ingredient of natural justice, the principles of which must be followed in all judicial and quasi-judicial litigations and it is always be circumscribed with the conditions of grant. At the given time, it is open for the legislature in its wisdom to enact a law that no appeal shall lie or it may lie on fulfilment of precondition, if any, against the order passed by the Authority in question.

138. In our considered view, the obligation cast upon the promoter of pre-deposit under Section 43(5) of the Act, being a class in itself, and the promoters who are in receipt of money which is being claimed by the home buyers/allottees for refund and determined in the first place by the competent authority, if legislature in its wisdom intended to ensure that money once determined by the authority be saved if appeal is to be preferred at the instance of the promoter after due compliance of pre-deposit as envisaged under Section 43(5) of the Act, in no circumstance can be said to be onerous as prayed for or in violation of Articles 14 or 19(1)(g) of the Constitution of India."

44. Sri Nar Singh, learned counsel appearing on behalf of respondent No.2 submitted that the argument of appellant that the appellant is a registered society and is a welfare body of Air Force and Navy personnel and that it works on "no profit no loss basis" is not correct and is denied. According to him, though the Society was registered in 1980, but, it stopped following regulations of a registered organisation. It is not forwarding its audited annual balance Sheets nor informed the Registrar of any change in its policies. Further, its functioning without any Government Regulatory Authority monitoring its functioning.

45. According to respondent No.2, the appellant has now started venturing into more and more bigger projects making flats more than required to sell to civilians at higher rates and also started making projects such as Farm houses etc. Bigger projects are with an intention to make more profit. According to him, there are number of service personnel and civilian staff who were regularly buying flats from the appellant and selling it to the civilians. The character of the appellant has changed from welfare organization to commercial organization. It is further contended that representatives of allottees have time and again sought information regarding expenditure of the money on the Project Fund but no information has been provided and huge amount of money has been advanced to contractors without any bank guarantee or work executed on ground. According to respondent, the appellant till date has not been able to get Completion Certificate and possession have been given in Tower B, C, D and E without Occupancy Certificate/Completion Certificate. According to him, the possession offer was issued only after allottees went to the authority and demanded justice and appellant was compelled to freeze cost and offered possession after obtaining Completion Certificate.

46. Reliance has been placed upon decision of coordinate bench of Lucknow Bench of this Court in Second Appeal Defective No.237 of 2019 Air Force Naval Housing Board vs. Mohit Anand as well as decision rendered in batch of appeals filed by the appellant before the Appellate Tribunal in Appeal Defective No. 233 of 2020 (Air Force Naval Housing Board vs. Satish Kumar Sharma) wherein the Appellate Authority had held that the appellant was covered under the definition "promoter' and the mandatory requirement under sub-section (5) of Section 43 was to be complied with before the hearing of the appeal.

47. Apart from this, no other argument was raised.

48. I have heard the counsels for the parties and perused the material on record.

49. The sole question, on which the appeal was admitted was, whether appellant is included in the meaning of the word "promoter' as defined under Section 2(zk) of the Act, 2016, as may enforce on the appellant in condition of pre-deposit the entire disputed amount for the purpose of maintaining appeal under Section 43(5) of the Act against the order passed by the Regulatory Authority.

50. The term "promoter' is of the great significance. It has to be seen not only from the definition given under the Act, 2016 but the object and reasons why the Act, 2016 was enacted by the parliament and the various deliberations made before introduction of the bill in the Parliament and its discussion in both the Standing Committee and the Select Committee after inviting suggestions and objections and consulting all the stakeholders connected with the real estate sector.

51. The Statement of Object and reasons of the Act, 2016 itself provides that with growth of population and people shifting towards urbanization, demand for houses has increased manifolds. Government also introduced various housing scheme to cope up with the increasing demand but the experience shows that demand of the housing sector could not be meted out by the Government at its own level for various reasons to meet the requirement. The private players entered into the real estate sector in meeting out the rising demand of houses. The availability of loans both from public and private banks becoming easier, still high rate of interest at EMI has posed additional burden on the people. The real estate and housing sector was largely unregulated and consequence was that consumers were unable to procure complete information for enforced accountability towards builders and developers in the absence of an effective mechanism in place. The Consumer Protection Act, 1986 (hereinafter referred to as "Act, 1986") was available to cater the demand of home buyer in real estate sector but the experience shows that this mechanism was inadequate to address the needs of home buyer and promoters in real estate sector. The object and reason indicates that the bill was introduced to regulate real estate sector having jurisdiction to ensure compliance with the obligation cast upon the promoter.

52. The definition provided under Section 2(zk) of the Act, 2016 finds place after great deliberation by the Standing Committee of the Lok Sabha as well as Select Committee of the Rajya Sabha, which now defines that a person who constructs or poses to be constructed an independent building or a building consisting of apartments, or converts an existing building or a part thereof into apartment for the purpose of selling all or some of the apartments to other persons and includes his assignees. Further, the definition includes a person who develops a land into project whether or not the person constructs structure on any of the plots for the purpose of selling to other persons all or some of the plots in the said project, whether with or without structure on them.

53. The definition of word "promoter' not only includes a person but also apex level housing financial society and a primary cooperative housing society which constructs apartment or building for its members. The definition further adds, any other person who act himself as a builder, colonizer, contractor, developer, estate developer or by any other name or claims to be acting as the holder of a power of attorney from the owner of land on which the building or apartment is constructed or colony is developed for sale, or such other person who constructs any building or apartment for sale to general public.

54. Thus, the Parliament was clear that any person, who ventures into the field of real estate by constructing a building or an apartment or launches a project by selling plots, shall be termed as "promoter'. The Act does not make any distinction or leaves any room not to include any organisation, society and association.

55. The Act, 2016 itself defines the word "person' in section 2(zg), which is extracted hereas under :

"Person" includes,--

(i) an individual;

(ii) a Hindu undivided family;

(iii) a company;

(iv) a firm under the Indian Partnership Act, 1932 (9 of 1932) or the Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008 (6 of 2009), as the case may be;

(v) a competent authority;

(vi) an association of persons or a body of individuals whether incorporated or not;

(vii) a co-operative society registered under any law relating to co-operative societies;

(viii) any such other entity as the appropriate Government may, by notification, specify in this behalf."

56. The word "a person' is of wide connotation and includes any company or association or body of person, whether incorporated or not, as defined under Section 3(42) of the General Clauses Act (10 of 1897).

57. Under the Income Tax Act (43 of 1961), Section 2(31), "person" includes-- (i) an individual, (ii) a Hindu undivided family, (iii) a company, (iv) a firm, (v) an association of persons or a body of individuals, whether incorporated or not, (vi) a local authority, and (vii) every artificial juridical person, not falling within any of the preceding sub-clauses.

58. Similarly, a person has been defined under the Standards of Weights and Measures Act, (60 of 1976) and includes (i) every department or office, (ii) every organisation established or constituted by Government, (iii) every local authority within the territory of India (iv) every co-operative society, (v) every other society registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860.

59. Similarly, Section 2(m) of Consumer Protection Act, (68 of 1986) defines "person', which includes -- (i) a firm whether registered or not; (ii) a Hindu undivided family; (iii) a co-operative society; (iv) every other association of persons whether registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860 (21 of 1860) or not.

60. Section 87 (k) of Finance Act (No.2) (21 of 1998) defines "person', which includes- (i) an Individual, (ii) a Hindu undivided family, (iii) a company, (iv) a firm, (v) an association of persons or a body of Individuals, whether incorporated or not, (vi) a local authority, (vii) every artificial Juridical person, not falling within any of the preceding sub-clauses, (viii) assessee, as defined in rule 2 of the Central Excise Rules, 1944, (ix) exporter as defined in clause (20) of section 2 of the Customs Act 1962. (x) importer as defined in clause (26) of section 2 of the Customs Act, 1962, (xi) any person against whom proceedings have been initiated and are pending under any direct tax enactment or indirect tax enactment;

61. Section 2(l) of Competition Act, 2002 provides for the definition of "person' which includes, -- (i) an individual; (ii) a Hindu undivided family; (iii) a company; (iv) a firm; (v) an association of persons or a body of individuals, whether incorporated or not, in India or outside India; (vi) any corporation established by or under any

Central, State or Provincial Act or a Government company as defined in section 617 of the Companies Act, 1956; (vii) any body corporate incorporated by or under the laws of a country outside India; (viii) a co-operative society registered under any law relating to co-operative societies; (ix) a local authority; (x) every artificial juridical person, not falling within any of the preceding sub-clauses;

62. Likewise, Section 2(s) of the Prevention of Money-Laundering Act, 2002 (Act 15 of 2003) provides for "person', which includes-- (i) an individual, (ii) a Hindu undivided family, (iii) a company, (iv) a firm, (v) an association of persons or a body of individuals, whether incorporated or not, (vi) every artificial juridical person not falling within any of the preceding sub-clauses, and (vii) any agency, office or branch owned or controlled by any of the above persons mentioned in the preceding sub-clauses.

63. Thus, from the reading of definition of word "person', as defined under Act, 2016 as well as under various Acts, which have been extracted above, it is clear that it connotes to include wide range of persons, including individuals, Hindu Undivided Family, Company, Firm, Authorities, associations, corporative societies etc.

64. Use of word "a person' at the outset of the definition clause of word "promoter' clearly signifies that it embraces all type of individuals, association, corporations and authorities dealing in the real estate sector and does not exclude any organization.

65. Its' impact is vast covering all who are there in this game of launching projects by constructing buildings and flats as well as developing plots. The legislature does not leave any individual, association or organization as exception to the word "promoter' so as to give benefit to any person claiming himself to be ousted from the arena of the Act of 2016.

66. In the present case, it is an admitted case of the appellants that the project was envisaged in the year 2008 and started in 2010. When the Act was enforced in the year 2016, the project was ongoing, pursuant to which in terms of proviso to Section 3, the project was registered with the authority. Once there is no denial of the fact that appellant approached authority and got the project registered, they cannot at this stage shirk out from a rigours of provision of Sections 18 and 43(5) of the Act, 2016.

67. The argument of Sri Tiwari, Senior Advocate, that after much deliberations by the Standing and Select Committee of the two houses of the Parliament, the Bill was introduced and in 2016, and the Act came into force after consultation with all the stakeholders in connection with the real estate sector, has force. The very purpose and object for enacting Act, 2016 was to safeguard the interest of the home buyers from the project which were launched by the promoter and was not completed in time and there being no mechanism for saving the home buyers that Government came up with this Act. Not only this, the promoters have also been protected under various provisions. The penal provisions have been provided so as to see that promises made by the promoter/developers in the brochure to a home buyers is actually brought on ground in time and is not a false promise.

68. The argument raised at the behest of the appellants that being a "no profit no loss' organization, the appellant should be exempted from complying provisions of sub-section (5) of Section 43 does not hold ground, as proviso to the sub-section (5) clearly provides that in case promoter files an appeal, he has to deposit with the Tribunal at least 30% of the penalty or such higher amount determined by the Tribunal, or the total amount to be paid to the allottee including interest and compensation imposed on him.

69. Section 4 of Act, 2016 requires for making an application by a promoter for registration of real estate project. The said application has to be made to the authority in a prescribed manner within the prescribed time accompanied by fees, as may be prescribed along with the documents mentioned in sub-section (2) of Section 4 of Act, 2016.

70. Once it is an accepted case of appellants that they got their project registered with the Authority on 15.8.2017, they cannot resile from the fact that their application for registration of the project was made claiming to be "promoter' of the project. It is clear from the reading of Section 4 that registration of a project is to be done by a promoter and by no one else.

71. The appellants having complied the provisions of the Act, 2016, cannot pull back themselves at the stage of compliance of mandatory requirements for filing an appeal with the Tribunal on the strength of denial of their title as "promoter'.

72. The Act is very clear that whosoever ventures into the real estate sector by developing area of land, which is more than 500 sq.mts. and the apartment proposed to be developed exceed 8 in number, has to get his project registered with the Authority.

73. The word "promoter' has been deliberately used by the legislature in the proviso to sub-section (5) of Section 43, as sub-section (5) provides a remedy of statutory appeal to any person aggrieved by the direction or decision of an authority to file appeal before the Tribunal, but in case of a "promoter' the mandatory deposit has to be made prior to the entertainment of the appeal by the Tribunal.

74. The purpose of insertion of such provision is to safeguard the innocent home buyer who has deposited his hard earned money with the developers/promoter and in case of failure of the project or the project getting delayed and on his complaint, the authority directing for refund of the amount with interest, the promoter is obliged to deposit the same before his appeal is heard. In Neelkamal Realtors Suburban Pvt. Ltd. And Anr. (supra), Bombay High Court while upholding the validity of the provisions of Sections 3, 4, 4(2)(l)(D), and 18 had clearly observed and held that these provisions are there for safeguard of the home buyers.

75. Sri Ashish Singh has tried to impress upon the Court that the present project was an ongoing project and 70% amount, as was required to be deposited under Section 4(2)(l)(D) was not done as it was to be complied in case of fresh registration after enforcement of the Act, 2016 does not help his case, as in the present case the order passed by the authority was under challenge before the Appellate Tribunal and mandatory requirement of proviso to sub-section (5) of Section 43 was not complied with and the Tribunal rejected the appeal. The Act nowhere makes distinction between requisite and mandatory deposit in case of filing an appeal by a promoter whose project was ongoing at the time of implementation of the Act, or it was a case of fresh registration of the project subsequent to the enforcement of the Act. The insertion of proviso to Section 3 was to safeguard the interest of the home buyers, who had deposited their hard earned money with the developer/promoter prior to enforcement of the Act that project was required to get registered with the authority in case of non issuance of Completion Certificate / Occupancy Certificate.

76. Had the promoter got the Completion Certificate from the local authority, as provided under the Act, there was no need for getting the project registered after enforcement of the Act, 2016. But, as the project was not completed, the legislature required the promoter for registration of project to safeguard the interest of the home buyers. Had not the Government enacted Act, 2016 and required the promoter to get his project registered, the contesting respondents in these bunch of appeals would have been running from pillar to post to get possession of their flats or for refund of the money. The litigation before the Civil Court would have taken years to get their hard earned money back. It is through this legislation that the Government had restricted the arbitrary actions of the builders/developers.

77. It is an admitted case of the appellants that they have formed society for providing affordable houses to the serving and retired Air Force and Naval personnel. Further in case of under-subscription of the project, the scheme is diluted and the flats are sold to Army personnel, Coast Guard, Para military personnel, Central and State Government employees. Further, there is no embargo upon the flats being sold to the civilians/ public once it is allotted and sold to the serving and retired Air Force and Naval personnels. Moreover, there is no denial to the fact that the appellants are venturing into bigger project and making flats and Farm Houses.

78. Similar issue in regard to statutory compliance under sub-section (5) of Section 43 was under consideration by this Court in Second Appeal Defective No.237 of 2019, which was filed by the appellants. The Court while dismissing the second appeal of the appellants held that the appellants were bound to comply the statutory provision of Section 43(5) of the Act, 2016.

79. While dealing with Section 43(5) of the Act, 2016 the Hon'ble Supreme Court in M/s Newtech Promoters and Developers Pvt. Ltd. (supra) had categorically held that pre-deposit, as envisaged under Section 43(5) of Act, 2016, in no circumstances can be said to be onerous, as prayed for, or in violation of Article 14 or 19(1)(g) of the Constitution of India.

80. Thus, the question framed as to whether appellant is included in the definition of word "promoter', as defined under Section 2(zk) of Act, 2016 as may enforced upon the appellant in condition of pre-deposit, the entire deposit amount for the purpose of maintaining appeal under Section 43(5) of the Act, 2016 against the order of Regulatory Authority stands answered in affirmative i.e. the appellants have to comply the mandatory provisions of Section 43(5) of the Act, 2016 and are included under the definition of "promoter'.

81. Thus, considering the facts and circumstances of the case, this Court finds that as the appellants are working in real estate sector and their project having been registered on 15.8.2017 after enforcement of Act, 2016, comes under the purview of "promoter', as defined under Section 2(zk) of Act, 2016, and necessary compliance of pre-deposit, as enshrined under Section 43(5) of Act, 2016, has to be made before the Tribunal before entertainment of their appeal. Furthermore, the law is settled as far as mandatory compliance of Section 43(5) of Act, 2016 is concerned in view of the judgment of Apex Court in the case of M/s Newtech Promoters and Developers Pvt. Ltd. (supra).

82. I, therefore, find that no case for interference is made out in the orders impugned. The appeals fail and are hereby dismissed. Interim orders stand discharged.

83. However, no order as to costs.

(2022)05ILR A944
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 05.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. YOGENDRA KUMAR SRIVASTAVA, J.

Writ B No. 295 of 2022

Smt. Kalawati ...Petitioner
Versus
The Board of Revenue & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Ramedran Asthana

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Rishikesh Tripathi

(A) Land Law - Uttar Pradesh Revenue Code, 2006 - Section 35 - Mutuation in cases of succession , Section 39 - Certain orders of the Revenue Officers not to debar a suit , The Constitution of India - Article 226 - orders of mutation are passed on the basis of possession - no substantive rights of the parties are decided - ordinarily orders passed in mutation proceedings are not to be interfered with in exercise of the extraordinary jurisdiction of this Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India - unless the same are found to be wholly without jurisdiction or have the effect of rendering findings which are contrary to title already decided by a competent court. (Para - 11,43)

(B) Land law - Uttar Pradesh Revenue Code, 2006 - Section 39 - unequivocal terms - order passed under Section 35 would not debar any person from establishing his rights to the land by means of a suit under Section 144 - an entry in revenue records is only for fiscal purpose - does not confer title on a person whose name appears in record-of-rights - title to the property can only be decided by a competent civil court. Para - 18,44)

Orders of mutation - passed in favour of the predecessor-in-interest of private respondents - basis of claim - petitioner asserting herself to be the second wife of the recorded tenure holder - to support her claim reliance was sought to be placed on various pieces of documentary evidence - proceedings being summary in nature - do not decide the rights of the parties - challenge under writ petition - whether entertainable.(Para - 3,41)

HELD:-Court not inclined to exercise its extraordinary discretionary jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India against the orders passed in mutation proceedings. (Para -45)

Petition dismissed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Lal Bachan Vs B.O.R., U.P., Luck. & ors., 2002 (93) RD 6

2. Smt. Hadisul Nisha Vs Add. Commissioner (Judicial), Faizabad & ors., 2021 (152) RD4 26

3. Mahesh Kr. Juneja & anr. Vs Add. Commissioner Judicial, Moradabad Division & ors., 2020 (146) RD 545

4. Awadhesh Singh Vs Add. Commissioner & ors., 2017 (9) ADJ 378

5. Smt. Bhimabai Mahadeo Kambekar (D) Th. LR Vs Arthur Imp. & Exp. Co. & ors., (2019) 3 SCC 191

6. Jaipal Vs B.O.R., U.P., Alld. & ors., AIR 1957 ALL 205

7. Bindeshwari Vs B.O.R. & ors., 2002 (1) AWC 498

8. Vinod Kumar Rajbhar Vs St. of U.P. & ors., 2012 (1) ADJ 792

9. Buddh Pal Singh Vs St. of U.P. & ors., 2012 (5) ADJ 266

10. Bhimabai Mahadeo Kambekar Vs Arthur Imp. & Exp. Co. & ors., (2019) 3 SCC 137

11. Balwant Singh Vs Daulat Singh, (1997) 7 SCC 137

12. Narasamma Vs St. of Karn., (2009) 5 SCC 591

13. Faqruddin Vs Tajuddin, (2008) 8 SCC 12

14. Narain Prasad Aggarwal Vs St. of M.P. ,(2007) 11 SCC 736

15. U.O.I. & ors. Vs Vasavi Cooperative Housing Society Ltd. & Ors. ,(2014) 2 SCC 269

16. Corpn. of the City of Bangalore Vs M. Papaiah, (1989) 3 SCC 612

17. Guru Amarjit Singh Vs Rattan Chand, (1993) 4 SCC 349

18. H.P. Vs Keshav Ram, (1996) 11 SCC 257

19. Sawarni (Smt.) Vs Inder Kaur (Smt.) & ors.,(1996) 6 SCC 223

20. Suraj Bhan & ors. Vs Financial Commissioner & ors., (2007) 6 SCC 186

21. Harish Chandra Vs U.O.I. & ors., 2019 (5) ADJ 212 (DB)

22. Mahesh Kr. Juneja & anr. Vs Add. Commissioner Judicial Moradabad Division & ors.,2020 (146) RD 545

23. Jitendra Singh Vs St. of M.P. & ors., 2021 SCC Online SC 802

24. Suraj Bhan Vs Financial Commissioner, (2007) 6 SCC 186

25. Suman Verma Vs U.O.I. ,(2004) 12 SCC 58

26. Rajinder Singh Vs St. of J & K, (2008) 9 SCC 368

27. Municipal Corp., Aurangabad Vs St. of Maha., (2015) 16 SCC 689

28. T Ravi Vs B. Chinna Narasimha, (2017) 7 SCC 342

29. Bhimabai Mahadeo Kambekar Vs Arthur Imp. & Exp. Co., (2019) 3 SCC 191

30. Prahlad Pradhar Vs Sonu Kumhar, (2019) 10 SCC 259

31. Ajit Kaur Vs Darshan Singh, (2019) 13 SCC 70

32. Radhey Shyam & ors. Vs St. of U.P. & ors., 2013 (7) ADJ 71

33. Rudramani Shukla Vs Subhash Kr. & ors., 2017 (3) ADJ 510

34. Vijay Shankar Vs Add. Commissioner (Administration) Luck. Divison & ors., 2015 (3) ADJ 186 (LB)

35. Whirlpool Corp. Vs Rregistrar of Trade Marks, (1998) 8 SCC 1

36. Harbanslal Sahnia Vs I.O.C. Ltd., (2003) 2 SCC 107

37. Radha Krishan Industries Vs St. of H.P. & ors., (2021) 6 SCC 771

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Yogendra Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri Ramendra Asthana, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Ajeet Kumar Singh, learned Additional Advocate General assisted by Sri J.P.N. Raj, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State respondents and Sri Rishikesh Tripathi, learned counsel for the respondent nos. 4 to 7.

2. The present petition has been filed seeking to raise a challenge to the order dated 05.10.2021 passed by the respondent no.1-Board of Revenue, U.P. at Lucknow dismissing the Revision No. REV/1789/2019/Banda (Computerized Case No. R20190711001789, Smt. Kalawati vs. Pramod Singh), the earlier order dated 16.08.2019 passed by the respondent no.2-Up-Ziladhikari, Banda in Appeal No. T2018017110104138 (Smt. Kalawati vs. Smt. Shiv Devi) and also the order dated 26.06.2018 passed by the respondent no.3-Naib Tehsildar Banda, in Case No. 00411/2018 (Computerized Case No. T201807110100411, Report Lekhpal vs. Gyan Singh) under Section 35 of Uttar Pradesh Revenue Code, 20061 rejecting the objection dated 13.02.2017 filed by the petitioner and allowing mutation application dated 02.01.2017 filed by Smt. Shiv Devi, predecessor-in-interest of the respondents nos. 4 to 7 in the present petition.

3. An objection has been taken by the counsel appearing for the respondents by pointing out that the orders which are sought to be challenged have been passed in mutation proceedings and the aforesaid proceedings being summary in nature which do not decide the rights of the parties, the present writ petition seeking to challenge the same would not be entertainable.

4. Counsel for the petitioner though not disputing the aforesaid legal proposition that as per the consistent view taken by this Court, a writ petition arising out of mutation proceedings is not entertainable, seeks to contend that there are certain exceptions to the general rule and it cannot be held that in all situations a writ petition seeking to challenge orders in mutation proceedings would not be entertainable.

5. To support his contention, reliance is sought to be placed on decisions of this Court in Lal Bachan vs Board of Revenue, U.P., Lucknow and others2 and Smt. Hadisul Nisha vs. Additional Commissioner (Judicial), Faizabad and others3.

6. Learned Additional Advocate General appearing for the State respondents and also the counsel who has put in appearance on behalf of the private respondent nos. 4 to 7 have contended that mutation proceedings being of a summary nature do not decide any question of title and the orders passed in such proceedings do not come in the way of a person getting his rights adjudicated in a regular suit and it is for the said reason that the consistent view taken by the courts is that such petitions are not to be entertained in exercise of powers under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. Reliance has been placed on the decisions of this Court in Mahesh Kumar Juneja and another vs. Additional Commissioner Judicial, Moradabad Division and Others4, Awadhesh Singh vs. Additional Commissioner and others5 and also a decision of the Supreme Court in Smt. Bhimabai Mahadeo Kambekar (D) Th. LR vs. Arthur Import and Export Company & Ors.6.

7. The question of the maintainability of a writ petition against orders passed in mutation proceedings has come up before this Court earlier and it has consistently been held that normally the High Court in exercise of its discretionary jurisdiction does not entertain writ petitions against such orders which arise out of summary proceedings.

8. In the case of Jaipal Vs. Board of Revenue, U.P., Allahabad & Ors.7 notice was taken of the consistent practice of this Court not to interfere with the orders made by the Board of Revenue in cases in which the only question at issue was whether the name of the petitioner should be entered in the record of rights. The observations made in the judgment in this regard are as follows:-

"3. ...It has however been the consistent practice of this Court not to interfere with orders made by the Board of Revenue in cases in which the only question at issue is whether the name of the petitioner should be entered in the record of rights.

That record is primarily maintained for revenue purposes and an entry therein has reference only to possession. Such an entry does not ordinarily confer upon the person in whose favour it is made any title to the property in question..."

9. The question with regard to the maintainability of a writ petition arising out of mutation proceedings fell for consideration in the case of Sri Lal Bachan Vs. Board of Revenue, U.P., Lucknow & Ors.2 and it was held that the High Court does not entertain a writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India for the reason that mutation proceedings are only summarily drawn on the basis of possession and the parties have a right to get the title adjudicated by regular suit. The observations made in the judgment are extracted below:-

"11. This Court has consistently taken the view as is apparent from the decisions of this Court referred above that writ petition challenging the orders passed in mutation proceedings are not to be entertained. To my mind, apart from there being remedy of getting the title adjudicated in regular suit, there is one more reason for not entertaining such writ petition. The orders passed under Section 34 of the Act are only based on possession which do not determine the title of the parties. Even if this Court entertains the writ petition and decides the writ petition on merits, the orders passed in mutation proceedings will remain orders in summary proceedings and the orders passed in the proceedings will not finally determine the title of the parties."

10. Reiterating a similar view in the case of Bindeshwari Vs. Board of Revenue & Ors.8, it was stated that mutation proceedings do not adjudicate the rights of parties and orders passed in the said proceedings are always subject to adjudication by the competent court and therefore a writ petition against an order in mutation proceedings would not be entertainable. It was observed as follows:-

"11. ...The present writ petition arising out of the summary proceeding of mutation under Section 34 of U.P. Land Revenue Act, cannot be entertained under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. The mutation proceedings do not adjudicate the rights of the parties and orders passed in the mutation are always subject to adjudication by the competent court."

11. The settled legal position that orders of mutation are passed on the basis of possession and since no substantive rights of the parties are decided, ordinarily a writ petition would not be entertainable against such orders unless the same are found to be wholly without jurisdiction or have the effect of rendering findings which are contrary to title already decided by a competent court, was reiterated in the case of Vinod Kumar Rajbhar Vs. State of U.P. and others9.

12. Taking note of the nature and scope of mutation proceedings which are summary in nature and also the fact that orders in such proceedings are passed on the basis of possession of the parties and no substantive rights are decided, this Court in Buddh Pal Singh Vs. State of U.P. & Ors.10, restated the principle that ordinarily a writ petition in respect of orders passed in mutation proceedings is not maintainable. It was observed as follows:-

"7. It is equally settled that the orders for mutation are passed on the basis of the possession of the parties and since no substantive rights of the parties are decided in mutation proceedings, ordinarily a writ petition is not maintainable in respect of orders passed in mutation proceedings unless found to be totally without jurisdiction or contrary to the title already decided by the competent court. The parties are always free to get their rights in respect of the disputed land adjudicated by competent court."

13. The proposition that mutation entries in revenue records do not create or extinguish title over land nor such entries have any presumptive value on title has been restated in a recent decision in the case of Bhimabai Mahadeo Kambekar Vs. Arthur Import and Export Company & Ors.6 placing reliance upon earlier decisions in Balwant Singh Vs. Daulat Singh11 and Narasamma Vs. State of Karnataka12. The observations made in the judgment are as follows:-

"6. This Court has consistently held that mutation of a land in the revenue records does not create or extinguish the title over such land nor has it any presumptive value on the title. It only enables the person in whose favour mutation is ordered to pay the land revenue in question. (See Sawarni v. Inder Kaur, Balwant Singh v. Daulat Singh and Narasamma v. State of Karnataka)."

14. Reference may also be had to the judgment in Faqruddin Vs. Tajuddin13, wherein it was held that the revenue authorities cannot decide questions of title and that mutation takes place only for certain purposes. The observations made in this regard are as follows:-

"45. Revenue authorities of the State are concerned with revenue. Mutation takes place only for certain purposes. The statutory rules must be held to be operating in a limited sense... It is well-settled that an entry in the revenue records is not a document of title. Revenue authorities cannot decide a question of title."

15. A similar observation was made in Narain Prasad Aggarwal Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh14, wherein it was held as follows:-

"19. Record-of-right is not a document of title. Entries made therein in terms of Section 35 of the Evidence Act although are admissible as a relevant piece of evidence and although the same may also carry a presumption of correctness, but it is beyond any doubt or dispute that such a presumption is rebuttable..."

16. In Union of India and others Vs. Vasavi Cooperative Housing Society Limited & Ors.15, the principle that entries in revenue records do not confer any title was reiterated and referring to the previous decisions in Corpn. of the City of Bangalore v. M. Papaiah,16 Guru Amarjit Singh v. Rattan Chand17 and H.P. v. Keshav Ram18, it was stated thus :-

"21. This Court in several judgments has held that the revenue records do not confer title. In Corpn. of the City of Bangalore v. M. Papaiah this Court held that: (SCC p. 615, para 5)

"5. ...It is firmly established that the revenue records are not documents of title, and the question of interpretation of a document not being a document of title is not a question of law."

In Guru Amarjit Singh v. Rattan Chand this Court has held that: (SCC p. 352, para 2)

"2. ...that entries in the Jamabandi are not proof of title."

In State of H.P. v. Keshav Ram this Court held that: (SCC p. 259, para 5)

*'"*5. ...an entry in the revenue papers by no stretch of imagination can form the basis for declaration of title in favour of the plaintiffs."

17. A similar view was taken in the case of Sawarni (Smt.) Vs. Inder Kaur (Smt.) and others19 and it was observed that the mutation of name in the revenue records does not have the effect of creating or extinguishing the title nor has any presumptive value on title and it only enables the person concerned to pay land revenue. It was stated thus :-

"7...Mutation of a property in the revenue record does not create or extinguish title nor has it any presumptive value on title. It only enables the person in whose favour mutation is ordered to pay the land revenue in question..."

18. The principle that an entry in revenue records is only for fiscal purpose and does not confer title on a person whose name appears in record-of-rights and title to the property can only be decided by a competent civil court was reiterated in the decision of Suraj Bhan and others Vs. Financial Commissioner and others20 and it was stated as follows :-

"9...It is well settled that an entry in revenue records does not confer title on a person whose name appears in record-of-rights. It is settled law that entries in the revenue records or jamabandi have only "fiscal purpose" i.e. payment of land revenue, and no ownership is conferred on the basis of such entries. So far as title to the property is concerned, it can only be decided by a competent civil court..."

19. The legal position that entries in revenue records do not confer any title has been considered and discussed in a recent decisions of this Court in Harish Chandra Vs. Union of India & Ors.21 and Mahesh

Kumar Juneja and another Vs. Additional Commissioner Judicial Moradabad Division and others4 and it was restated that ordinarily orders passed by mutation courts are not to be interfered in writ jurisdiction as they are summary proceedings, and as such subject to a regular suit.

20. The settled legal position that an entry in revenue records does not confer title on a person whose name appears in record-of-rights and that such entries are only for "fiscal purpose" and no ownership is conferred on the basis thereof and further that the question of title of a property can only be decided by a competent civil court has again been restated in a recent decision of the Supreme Court in Jitendra Singh Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh and others22 wherein after referring to the previous authorities on the point in Suraj Bhan Vs. Financial Commissioner20, Suman Verma Vs. Union of India21, Faqruddin Vs. Tajuddin14, Rajinder Singh Vs. State of J & K23, Municipal Corporation, Aurangabad Vs. State of Maharashtra24, T Ravi Vs. B. Chinna Narasimha25, Bhimabai Mahadeo Kambekar Vs. Arthur Import & Export Co.26 Prahlad Pradhar Vs. Sonu Kumhar27 and Ajit Kaur Vs. Darshan Singh28, it was observed thus :-

"8. In the case of Suraj Bhan v. Financial Commissioner, (2007) 6 SCC 186, it is observed and held by this Court that an entry in revenue records does not confer title on a person whose name appears in record-of-rights. Entries in the revenue records or jamabandi have only "fiscal purpose", i.e., payment of land revenue, and no ownership is conferred on the basis of such entries. It is further observed that so far as the title of the property is concerned, it can only be decided by a competent civil court. Similar view has been expressed in the cases of Suman Verma v. Union of India, (2004) 12 SCC 58; Fa*qruddin v. Tajuddin*, (2008) 8 SCC 12; Rajinder Singh v. State of J&K, (2008) 9 SCC 368; Municipal Corporation, Aurangabad v. State of Maharashtra, (2015) 16 SCC 689; T. *Ravi v. B. Chinna Narasimh*a, (2017) 7 SCC 342; Bhimabai Mahadeo Kambekar v. Arthur Import & Export Co., (2019) 3 SCC 191; Prahlad Pradhan v. Sonu Kumhar, (2019) 10 SCC 259; and Ajit Kaur v. Darshan Singh, (2019) 13 SCC 70."

21. The mutation proceedings being of a summary nature drawn on the basis of possession do not decide any question of title and the orders passed in such proceedings do not come in the way of a person in getting his rights adjudicated in a regular suit. It is for this reason that it has consistently been held that such petitions are not to be entertained in exercise of powers under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. The consistent legal position with regard to the nature of mutation proceedings, as has been held in the previous decisions, may be stated as follows :-

(i) mutation proceedings are summary in nature wherein title of the parties over the land involved is not decided;

(ii) mutation order or revenue entries are only for the fiscal purposes to enable the State to collect revenue from the person recorded;

(iii) they neither extinguish nor create title;

(iv) mutation in revenue records does not have any presumptive value on the title and no ownership is conferred on the basis of such entries;

(v) the order of mutation does not in any way effect the title of the parties over the land in dispute; and

(vi) such orders or entries are not documents of title and are subject to decision of the competent court.

22. A question would however arise as to whether any exception can be carved out to the aforesaid settled position with regard to non-interference in matters arising out of mutation proceedings in exercise of powers under writ jurisdiction, and if so what would the facts and circumstances under which a writ petition may be entertained in such matters.

23. The circumstances which may persuade a Court for exercising writ jurisdiction to entertain a petition arising out of mutation proceedings were considered in a decision of this Court in Radhey Shyam and others Vs. State of U.P. and others29, and it was observed as follows :-

"18. Although it is settled that mutation proceedings is fiscal in nature and the orders passed therein do not decide the right and title of the parties, therefore, the orders passed therein being summary in nature, writ petition would not be maintainable, but here in this case since there is jurisdictional error, therefore the writ petition would lie against such orders, where revisional court has failed to exercise the jurisdiction vested in it. It may also be noticed that although the orders deciding the mutation case do not decide the right and title of the parties. The judgements rendered therein are not binding upon the Courts deciding the title of the matter but it may be kept in mind that the person whose name is recorded in the revenue record can transfer the land through registered sale deed, gift deed etc. In case the sale deed is executed only because of recording of name without there being any valid title, the remedy, for the aggrieved person would be to file a suit but for cancellation of sale deed, not for declaration of right which would consume a very long time and in the meantime even the nature of the land may be changed. Further, the possession would be enjoyed by the persons in whose favour an order of mutation has been passed or the transferee without there being any valid title and the person having valid title will become a looser (sic loser) for the years together and in some cases if the land has gone in the hands of mafia or musclemen, the rightful owner may not be able to get the fruit of litigation during his life time. These contingencies and situations of the cases, although, may not have legal weight but the factual matrix and the reality of the same cannot be brushed aside while entertaining writ petitions against the orders passed in mutation cases."

24. Similar observations were made in the case of Rudramani Shukla Vs. Subhash Kumar and others30, and it was stated thus :-

"17. Mutation proceedings are important proceedings as, entries based thereon in the record of rights (Khatauni) are presumed to be correct under section 35 of the Land Revenue Act 1901, as also Section 40 of the U.P. Revenue Code 2006, and practically all transaction are made after perusing such entries. No doubt in matters of sale the purchaser is required to make due inquiry with diligence as to the real owner and any dispute in respect thereof, but if the name is recorded in the revenue records, sale transaction etc. are easily made. True it is that revenue records are not documents of title by themselves and are for purposes of realisation of revenue, but in view of the presumption attached to them, especially in view of the contents of Khatauni as prescribed in Section 31 of the Revenue Code, 2006, their importance in practical terms hardly needs to be emphasised. It is easy to say that an aggrieved party may establish his title in regular proceedings but the fact is that such proceedings go on for years together, therefore, judicious application of mind in mutation proceedings, even though they are summary proceedings, can at times prevent injustice and prolonged litigation. This is not to suggest that interference in such matters should be made in a routine manner."

25. An exception to the general rule against interference with orders made in mutation proceedings, in exercise of writ jurisdiction, finds reference in the Division Bench judgement of this Court in the case of Jaipal Vs. Board of Revenue U.P. Allahabad and others7, wherein it was stated as follows :-

"3...The only exception to this general rule is in those cases in which the entry itself confers a title on the petitioner by virtue of the provisions of the U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act..."

26. In the case of Lal Bachan Vs. Board of Revenue, U.P. Lucknow and others2, while taking the view that mutation proceedings are subject to adjudication of title by competent court, it was held that writ petition arising out of such proceedings cannot be held to be non-maintainable but such writ petition is not entertained due to reason that parties have right to get the title adjudicated by regular suit and the orders passed in mutation proceedings are summary in nature. In a situation where a challenge is raised to an order passed without jurisdiction, it was held that the writ petition can be entertained despite availability of alternative remedy. Referring to the earlier decision in the case of Jaipal, it was stated as follows :-

"18. In view of the above discussions, it is clear that although the writ petition arising out of the mutation proceedings cannot be held to be non-maintainable but this Court does not entertain the writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution due to reason that parties have right to get the title adjudicated by regular suit and the orders passed in mutation proceedings are summary in nature."

27. Certain exceptions where the remedy of writ petition can be resorted to so as to raise a challenge to orders passed in mutation proceedings have been referred to in Vijay Shankar Vs. Additional Commissioner (Administration) Lucknow Divison and others31, and Smt. Hadisul Nisha Vs. Additional Commissioner (Judicial), Faizabad3.

28. The reluctance of the Courts to interfere with orders arising out of mutation proceedings is primarily for the reason that the question at issue is with regard to correction of record of rights which is primarily maintained for revenue purposes and an entry therein has reference only to possession and does not ordinarily confer upon the person in whose favour it is made any title to the property in question.

29. The aforesaid inference that revenue entries made on the basis of orders of mutation do not ordinarily confer upon a person in whose favour they are made, any title to the property in question, stands fortified from the express provision contained under Section 39 of the Code which states in clear terms that the orders passed under the provisions relating to mutation of revenue records would not act as a bar against any person from establishing his rights to the land by means of a declaratory suit.

30. Section 39 of the Code, as referred to above, is being extracted below :-

"39. Certain orders of Revenue Officers not to debar a suit :- No order passed by a Revenue Inspector under Section 33, or by a Tehsildar under sub-section (1) of Section 35 or by a Sub-Divisional Officer under sub-section (3) of Section 38 or by a Commissioner under sub-section (2) of Section 35 or sub-section (4) of Section 38 shall debar any person from establishing his rights to the land by means of a suit under Section 144."

31. The aforementioned section clearly provides that no person shall be debarred from establishing his rights to the land by means of a declaratory suit under Section 144, irrespective of the fact that an order has been passed by; (i) a Revenue Inspector under Section 33 (mutation in case of succession), or (ii) a Tehsildar under sub-section (1) of Section 35 (mutation in case of transfer or succession), or (iii) a Sub-Divisional Officer under sub-section (3) of Section 38 (correction of error or omission), or (iv) a Commissioner under sub-section (4) of Section 38 (correction of error or omission).

32. Section 39 which expressly provides that the orders passed by revenue officers in cases of a mutation and correction of revenue entries would not debar filing of a declaratory suit, is a substantive provision, and corresponds to a similar provision contained under Section 40-A of the U.P. Land Revenue, 1901 (now repealed).

33. The language of the section emphasizes that it applies to all orders passed by the revenue officers in matters relating to mutation and correction of errors or omission of revenue entries and it provides in clear terms that such order shall not debar any person from establishing his rights to the land by means of a declaratory suit under Section 144.

34. The object of the section being to enable a person to seek declaration of his rights on questions of title irrespective of the orders passed in mutation proceedings with regard to correction of revenue entries, the remedy of seeking a declaration on questions of title by filing a declaration suit remains open. The existence of an efficacious statutory alternative remedy would therefore also be a reason for not entertaining a writ petition in exercise of discretionary jurisdiction under Article 226.

35. The exceptions to the "rule of alternate remedy" are well laid out in terms of judicial precedents and would include situations where the statutory authority has not acted in accordance with the provisions of law or acted in defiance of the fundamental principles of judicial procedure; or has resorted to invoke provisions, which are repealed; or where an order has been passed in violation of the principles of natural justice.

36. The exceptions to the 'rule of alternate remedy' were considered in the case of Whirlpool Corporation vs. Rregistrar of Trade Marks32, wherein it was observed as follows :-

"14. The power to issue prerogative writs under Article 226 of the Constitution is plenary in nature and is not limited by any other provision of the Constitution. This power can be exercised by the High Court not only for issuing writs in the nature of habeas corpus, mandamus, prohibition, quo warranto and certiorari for the enforcement of any of the Fundamental Rights contained in Part III of the Constitution but also for "any other purpose".

15. Under Article 226 of the Constitution, the High Court, having regard to the facts of the case, has a discretion to entertain or not to entertain a writ petition. But the High Court has imposed upon itself certain restrictions one of which is that if an effective and efficacious remedy is available, the High Court would not normally exercise its jurisdiction. But the alternative remedy has been consistently held by this Court not to operate as a bar in at least three contingencies, namely, where the writ petition has been filed for the enforcement of any of the Fundamental Rights or where there has been a violation of the principle of natural justice or where the order or proceedings are wholly without jurisdiction or the vires of an Act is challenged. There is a plethora of case-law on this point but to cut down this circle of forensic whirlpool, we would rely on some old decisions of the evolutionary era of the constitutional law as they still hold the field."

(emphasis supplied)

37. Following the aforesaid decision, in Harbanslal Sahnia Vs. Indian Oil Corporation Ltd.33, it was stated thus :-

"7. So far as the view taken by the High Court that the remedy by way of recourse to arbitration clause was available to the appellants and therefore the writ petition filed by the appellants was liable to be dismissed is concerned, suffice it to observe that the rule of exclusion of writ jurisdiction by availability of an alternative remedy is a rule of discretion and not one of compulsion. In an appropriate case, in spite of availability of the alternative remedy, the High Court may still exercise its writ jurisdiction in at least three contingencies : (i) where the writ petition seeks enforcement of any of the fundamental rights; (ii) where there is failure of principles of natural justice; or (iii) where the orders or proceedings are wholly without jurisdiction or the vires of an Act is challenged. (See Whirlpool Corpn.v. Registrar of Trade Marks, (1998) 8 SCC 1) The present case attracts applicability of the first two contingencies. Moreover, as noted, the petitioners' dealership, which is their bread and butter, came to be terminated for an irrelevant and non-existent cause. In such circumstances, we feel that the appellants should have been allowed relief by the High Court itself instead of driving them to the need of initiating arbitration proceedings."

(emphasis supplied)

38. The 'rule of alternate remedy' in the context of maintainability of a writ petition under Article 226 has been examined in a recent decision in the case of Radha Krishan Industries vs. State of Himachal Pradesh and others34 and it has been held that since the power under Article 226 to issue writs can be exercised not only for enforcement of fundamental rights but for any other purpose as well, the High Court has the discretion not to entertain a writ petition and one of the restrictions placed on the power of the High Court is where an effective alternate remedy is available to the aggrieved person. The exceptions to the "rule of alternate remedy" have been held to arise where :

"(i) the writ petition has been filed for the enforcement of a fundamental right protected by Part III of the Constitution;

(ii) there has been a violation of the principles of natural justice;

(iii) the order or proceedings are wholly without jurisdiction; or

(iv) the vires of a legislation is challenged."

39. The rule of exhaustion of statutory remedies has been held to be a rule of policy, convenience and discretion and existence of an alternate remedy would not divest the High Court of its powers under Article 226 which may be exercised in appropriate cases.

40. Having regard to the foregoing discussion the exceptions under which a writ petition may be entertained against orders passed in mutation proceedings would arise where :

(i) the order or proceedings are wholly without jurisdiction;

(ii) rights and title of the parties have already been decided by a competent court, and that has been varied in mutation proceedings;

(iii) mutation has been directed not on the basis of possession or on the basis of some title deed, but after entering into questions relating to entitlement to succeed the property, touching the merits of the rival claims;

(iv) rights have been created which are against provisions of any statute, or the entry itself confers a title by virtue of some statutory provision;

(v) the orders have been obtained on the basis of fraud or misrepresentation of facts, or by fabricating documents;

(vi) the order suffers from some patent jurisdictional error i.e. in cases where there is a lack of jurisdiction, excess of jurisdiction or abuse of jurisdiction;

(vii) there has been a violation of principles of natural justice.

41. In the case at hand, the grounds which were sought to be canvassed to raise a challenge to the orders of mutation passed in favour of the predecessor-in-interest of the private respondents was founded on the basis of the claim of the petitioner asserting herself to be the second wife of the recorded tenure holder and to support her claim reliance was sought to be placed on various pieces of documentary evidence.

42. It is not disputed that the claim of the petitioner that she was the second wife of the deceased tenure holder which was sought to be set up on the basis of documentary evidence would require adjudication of rights of the parties requiring detailed appreciation of facts and the same would be clearly beyond the scope and purview of summary proceedings relating to claims of mutation.

43. Counsel for the petitioner has not been able to point out any circumstance which may persuade this Court to entertain the writ petition in exception to the settled legal position that ordinarily orders passed in mutation proceedings are not to be interfered with in exercise of the extraordinary jurisdiction of this Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

44. At this stage, learned counsel for the petitioner seeks to urge that the findings returned in the mutation proceedings may prejudice the petitioner's case in a suit pertaining to claim of title. The aforesaid apprehension is wholly without basis since findings returned by mutation courts in summary proceedings are for the limited purpose of correction of revenue records and do not have any presumptive value on a question of title which is required to be adjudicated by the court of competent jurisdiction without being influenced by any finding returned in mutation proceedings. In this regard the provision contained under Section 39 of the Code has already been taken note of wherein it is provided in unequivocal terms that order passed under Section 35 would not debar any person from establishing his rights to the land by means of a suit under Section 144.

45. Having regard to the aforesaid this Court is not inclined to exercise its extraordinary discretionary jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India in the facts of the present case.

46. The petition stands dismissed accordingly.

(2022)05ILR A956
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 06.04.2022

BEFORE
THE HON'BLE DR. YOGENDRA KUMAR SRIVASTAVA, J.

Writ C No. 26603 of 2021

Sitaram ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ....Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Guru Prasad Mishra

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

(A) Land Law - The Uttar Pradesh Revenue Code, 2006 - Section 98(1), - Restrictions on transfer by bhumidhars belonging to a Scheduled Caste, The U.P. Revenue Code Rules, 2016 - Rule 99 - Collector's permission for transfer of Scheduled Caste bhumidhar's land, proviso to section 98 – conditions under which permission may be granted by the Collector - a decision by an authority exercising discretionary power under a statute must be arrived at by taking into account the relevant considerations and eschewing the irrelevant considerations - in the absence of which the action would have to be held as ultra vires and void.(Para -25)

(B) Land Law - The Uttar Pradesh Revenue Code, 2006 - Conditions which are required to be satisfied while considering grant of permission by the Collector to a bhumidhar belonging to a scheduled caste - seeking to transfer land belonging to him - having been clearly specified under the proviso to sub-section (1) of Section 98 read with sub-rule (8) of Rule 99 - the reference made in the orders impugned to any other circumstance and on the basis thereof to reject the application of the petitioner seeking grant of permission to transfer - would therefore render the exercise of the discretionary power as ultra vires and invalid.(Para - 20,26)

Petitioner's son died untimely, leaving behind two daughters and two sons - meet liabilities - desired to sell land in question - old and feeble - no one to look after him - sought permission from Collector for transfer of land - report called from committee headed by SDO - report submitted by team of revenue officers - made a clear recommendation in favour of petitioner - indicating that conditions prescribed for purpose under the relevant statutory provision stood satisfied - reasons assigned in order dated 19.07.2021 passed by Respondent no. 3 - that applicant did not state circumstances under which land in question was purchased - could make arrangement for irrigation facilities - not produced any evidence in support of his illness - wholly inconsequential for purpose of grant of permission for transfer - seeking transfer of land for personal gains - not relevant - based on a conjecture - application rejected by Respondent no.3 - revision filed - rejected by Respondent no. 2. (Para -3,4,19)

HELD:-Impugned orders passed in the absence of consideration of the relevant provisions and being based on wholly irrelevant consideration, are accordingly held to be legally unsustainable and are set aside and quashed. Matter remitted to Respondent no. 3 for passing of fresh order on the basis of the provisions contained under Section 98 of the Code, 2006 read with sub-rule (8) of Rule 99 of the Rules, 2016. (Para- 26,27)

Writ Petition allowed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Lord Esher MR in R. Vs St Pancras Vestry, (1890) 24 Q.B.D. 371

2. Associated Provincial Picture Houses, Ltd. Vs Wednesbury Corporation , (1947) 2 AII E.R. 680

3. Padfield & ors. Vs Minister of Agriculture, Fisheries & Food & ors. , (1968) 1 AII E.R. 694

4. Lord Denning, M.R. in Breen Vs A.E.U. & ors. , (1971) 2 Q.B. 175

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Yogendra Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri Guru Prasad Mishra, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Ajeet Kumar Singh, learned Additional Advocate General assisted by Sri Amit Verma, learned Standing Counsel for the State Respondents.

2. The present petition seeks to assail the order dated 19.07.2021 passed by the Respondent no. 3-Additional Collector (Administration), Muzaffarnagar in Case No. 433 of 2020 (Computerized Case No. D2020095500000433, Sitaram vs. State) whereby permission sought by the petitioner under Section 98(1) of the Uttar Pradesh Revenue Code, 20061 was turned down. The subsequent order dated 16.08.2021 passed by the Respondent no.2-Additional Commissioner (Administration), Saharanpur Division, Saharanpur in Case No. 1145 of 2021 (Computerized Case No. C202109000001145, Sitaram vs. State of U.P.) in terms of which the revision filed by the petitioner has been rejected is also sought to be challenged.

3. As per the facts set out in the writ petition, the petitioner claims himself to be a recorded tenure holder of Khasra No. 379/2 measuring 0.3280 hectares, recorded in Khata No. 50 situate at Village-Behada Assa, Tehsil Jaansath, District Muzafarnagar. The petitioner is stated to have purchased the aforesaid land on 02.03.2005 and thereafter claims to have become a bhumidhar with transferable rights. It is contended that the petitioner's son died untimely, leaving behind two daughters and two sons and to meet these liabilities, the petitioner desired to sell the land in question. It is also stated that the petitioner had become old and feeble and with no one to look after him, he sought permission from the Collector for transfer of the land and submitted the application in the prescribed RC Form-27. Upon the aforesaid application, a report was called from the committee headed by the Sub Divisional Officer and as per the report dated 13.01.2020, the land in question had been obtained by the petitioner by means of a sale deed and the petitioner was recorded as bhumidhar with transferable rights. It was also stated in the report that the land in question was not a public utility land and that after transfer of the same, the area of the land held by the petitioner would be 4.4150 hectares. It was mentioned in the report that the petitioner was old and remained frequently ill and in the absence of adequate irrigation facilities was finding it difficult to carry on the agricultural operations. Taking into consideration this together with the fact that his son was predeceased leaving behind the liability of two grand-daughters and two grand-sons on the petitioner and that the petitioner was in need of funds for their education and marriage, the report along with the recommendation of the Committee was submitted to the authority concerned.

4. It is submitted that despite the aforesaid report in terms of which a clear recommendation was made in favour of the petitioner, his application was rejected by the Respondent no.3 by an order dated 19.07.2021 by assigning reasons that the application did not state the circumstances under which the land in question was purchased and that the petitioner could make arrangement for irrigation facilities. The order also records that the petitioner had not produced any evidence to support the factum of his illness. It was also stated that the petitioner was allotted the land in question on a patta and that he was seeking transfer of the land for personal gains. The revision filed by the petitioner against the aforesaid order has been rejected by the Respondent no. 2 cursorily after reiterating similar reasons.

5. Contention of the learned counsel appearing for the petitioner is that the reasons assigned by the respondent authorities in rejecting his application seeking permission are wholly inconsequential for the purpose of grant of permission under Section 98 of the Code, 2006. It is submitted that none of the reasons cited by the respondent authorities for rejecting his application could be said to be a valid ground as per the relevant statutory provision.

6. Controverting the aforesaid contention, learned Additional Advocate General has tried to support the order passed by the respondent authorities by seeking to reiterate the reasons which have been specified in the orders under challenge.

7. In order to appreciate the rival contentions, the provisions contained under Section 98 which provide for restrictions on transfer by bhumidhar belonging to Scheduled Caste and the relevant rule under the U.P. Revenue Code Rules, 20162, may be referred to.

"98. Restrictions on transfer by bhumidhars belonging to a Scheduled Caste.--(1) Without prejudice to the provisions of this Chapter, no bhumidhar belonging to a scheduled caste shall have the right to transfer, by way of sale, gift, mortgage or lease any land to a person not belonging to a scheduled caste, except with the previous permission of the Collector in writing:

Provided that the permission by the Collector may be granted only when--

(a) the bhumidhar belonging to a scheduled caste has no surviving heir specified in clause (a) of sub-section (2) of section 108 or clause (a) of section 110, as the case may be; or

(b) the bhumidhar belonging to a scheduled caste has settled or is ordinarily residing in the district other than that in which the land proposed to be transferred is situate or in any other State for the purpose of any service or any trade, occupation, profession or business; or

(c) the Collector is, for the reasons prescribed, satisfied that it is necessary to grant the permission for transfer of land.

(2) For the purposes of granting permission under this section the Collector may make such inquiry as may be prescribed.

Rule 99. Collector's permission for transfer of Scheduled Caste bhumidhar's land. (Section 98).--(1) An application under section 98 (1) or under section 98 (1) read with section 107, for permission to transfer land by way of sale or gift or for permission to bequeath land by will, as the case may be, shall be made by a Bhumidhar with transferable rights belonging to Scheduled Caste to the Collector in R.C. Form-27.

(2) An application under section 98 (1), for permission to mortgage his interest in the land shall be made by a bhumidhar, belonging to a Scheduled Caste to the Collector in R.C. Form-28.

(3) An application under section 98 (1), for permission to let out land shall be made by a bhumidhar belonging to a Scheduled Caste to the Collector in R.C. Form-29.

(4) On receipt of an application under section 98 (1) the Collector shall make such inquiry as he may, in the circumstances of the case, deem necessary. He may also depute an officer not below the rank of Naib Tahsildar for:

(a) verification of the facts stated in the application; and

(b) reporting the circumstances in which permission for transfer is sought.

(5) The inquiry officer referred to in sub-rule (4) of this rule shall submit the report in duplicate within the period of fifteen days, from the date of receiving the order of such inquiry.

(6) A copy of the report shall be supplied to the applicant free of charge, from the office of the Collector where such report has been submitted.

(7) The applicant may file objection against the report submitted by the inquiry officer within the period of seven days from the date of receipt of the copy of the report.

(8) After receiving the report submitted under sub-rule (3) and the objection, if any, if the Collector is satisfied that-

(a) the conditions of clause (a) or clause (b) of subsection (1) of section 98 are fulfilled; or

(b) the tenure holder or any member of his family is suffering from any fatal disease regarding which the certificate has been issued by any physician or surgeon specialist in the disease concerned and the permission for transfer is necessary to meet out the expenses for the treatment of such disease; or

(c) the applicant is seeking permission under section 98(1) of the Code for the proposed transfer to purchase any other land from the consideration of such proposed transfer and the facts in this regard in the application are supported with certified copy of a registered agreement to sell in favour of the applicant; or

(d) the area of land held by the applicant on the date of application does not, after such transfer, reduce to less than 1.26 hectares, and

(e) if the permission is being sought for transfer by sale the consideration for the transfer of the land is not below the amount calculated as per the circle rate fixed by the Collector;

he may grant the permission by recording the reasons.

Explanation. --For the removal of doubt it is a hereby clarified that if the condition enumerated in clause (d) of this sub-rule is not fulfilled but any condition enumerated in clauses (a) to (c) of this rule is fulfilled the permission under section 98(1) of the Code may be granted by Collector.

(9) An application referred to in sub-rule (2) or sub-rule (3) of rule 99 for permission to mortgage or to let out land, as the case may be, may be granted by the Collector on his being satisfied that the mortgage or letting out, as the case may be, is not possible in favour of a person belonging to a Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe.

(10) An application referred to in sub-rule (1) of rule 99 for permission to bequeath land by will, may be granted by the Collector on his being satisfied that the bequeath of the land was not possible in favour of the person belonging to a Scheduled Caste or a Scheduled Tribe.

(11) The Collector shall make an endeavor to dispose of the application under section 98(1) within the period of fifteen days from the date of receiving the report submitted by the inquiry officer and if the application is not disposed of within such period the reason for the same shall be recorded."

8. Section 98 of the Code mandates that no bhumidhar belonging to a scheduled caste shall have the right to transfer, by way of sale, gift, mortgage or lease any land to a person not belonging to a scheduled caste except with the previous permission of the Collector in writing. The previous permission of the Collector is therefore, a condition precedent before any bhumidhar of scheduled caste can seek to transfer his land to a person not belonging to a scheduled caste. In the absence of such permission having been obtained, the transfer would be rendered void as per Section 104, and would be subject to the consequences provided under Section 105.

9. The proviso to Section 98 enumerates the conditions under which permission may be granted by the Collector, and the same are as follows:

(i) the *bhumidhar b*elonging to a scheduled caste has no surviving heir specified in clause (a) of sub-section (2) of section 108 or clause (a) of section 110, as the case may be; or

(ii) the bhumidhar belonging to a scheduled caste has settled or is ordinarily residing in the district other than that in which the land proposed to be transferred is situate or in any other State for the purpose of any service or any trade, occupation, profession or business; or

(iii) the Collector is, for the reasons prescribed, satisfied that it is necessary to grant the permission for transfer of land.

10. The reasons prescribed, as referred to under clause (c) of the proviso to Section 98(1), upon which the Collector is to record its satisfaction that it is necessary to grant permission for transfer of the land, are specified under sub-rule (8) of Rule 99 of the Rules, 2016, and the same are as follows:

(i) the conditions of clause (a) or clause (b) of subsection (1) of section 98 are fulfilled; or

(ii) the tenure holder or any member of his family is suffering from any fatal disease regarding which the certificate has been issued by any physician or surgeon specialist in the disease concerned and the permission for transfer is necessary to meet out the expenses for the treatment of such disease; or

(iii) the applicant is seeking permission under section 98(1) of the Code for the proposed transfer to purchase any other land from the consideration of such proposed transfer and the facts in this regard in the application are supported with certified copy of a registered agreement to sell in favour of the applicant; or

(iv) the area of land held by the applicant on the date of application does not, after such transfer, reduce to less than 1.26 hectares, and

(v) if the permission is being sought for transfer by sale the consideration for the transfer of the land is not below the amount calculated as per the circle rate fixed by the Collector;

11. The conditions under which permission may be granted for transfer to a bhumidhar belonging to a scheduled caste can thus be summarised as follows:-

(i) in the absence of surviving heir specified in clause (a) of sub-section (2) of section 108 or clause (a) of section 110;

(ii) the transferor has settled or is ordinarily residing in the district other than that in which the land proposed to be transferred is situate or in any other State for the purpose of any service or any trade, occupation, profession or business;

(iii) for the reasons prescribed under the Rules, i.e.

(a) the tenure holder or any member of his family is suffering from any fatal disease; or

(b) the applicant is seeking permission for the proposed transfer to purchase any other land from the consideration of such proposed transfer; or

(c) the area of land held by the applicant on the date of application does not, after such transfer, reduce to less than 1.26 hectares, and

(d) if the permission is being sought for transfer by sale the consideration is not below the amount calculated as per the circle rate fixed by the Collector.

12. The explanation to Rule 99 clarifies that in a situation where any condition enumerated in clause (a) to (c) of sub-rule (8) of Rule 99 is fulfilled, the permission may be granted even if the holding of the bhumidhar (transferor) after such transfer reduces to less than 1.26 hectares.

13. The procedure for obtaining permission for transfer under Section 98 is provided for under Rule 99 of the Rules, 2016 and as per sub-rule (3) thereof an application seeking permission to transfer land by way of sale or gift or for permission to bequeath land by will, as the case may be, is to be made by a bhumidhar with transferable rights belonging to scheduled caste to the Collector in RC-Form 27. Upon receipt of such an application, the Collector under sub-rule (4) shall make an enquiry as he may, in the circumstances of the case deem necessary. For the purpose he may depute an officer not below the rank of Naib Tehsildar for : (a) verification of the facts stated in the application; and (b) reporting the circumstances in which permission for transfer is sought. Thereafter, under sub-rule (5), the inquiry officer shall submit the report in duplicate within a period of 15 days from the date of receiving the order of such enquiry. The copy of the report is to be supplied to the applicant under sub-rule (6) whereupon the applicant may file objections against the report within a period of seven days and thereafter the Collector upon being satisfied that any of the conditions under sub-rules (8)(a) to (d), and sub-rule (8)(e) of Rule 99, are fulfilled, he may grant permission after recording reasons.

14. The provision with regard to the transfer by bhumidhar belonging to scheduled caste as contained under Section 98 of the Code, 2006 corresponds to Section 157A and 157-AA of the repealed Uttar Pradesh Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act, 19503, with some points of difference.

15. Under the ZA & LR Act, in terms of Section 157-A no bhumidhar or asami belonging to a scheduled caste could transfer the land to a person not belonging to a scheduled caste except with the previous approval of the Collector whereas under Section 157-AA the restriction was to the effect that a person belonging to a scheduled caste having become a bhumidhar with transferable rights under Section 131-B shall have no right to transfer the land by sale or otherwise to any person other than a person belonging to a scheduled caste. The transfer under Section 157-AA was to be permissible only to persons belonging to scheduled castes in the order of preference as prescribed under sub-section (1). The restriction on a scheduled caste with regard to the transfer of land in favour of a person who does not belong to a scheduled caste under Section 157-AA was thus absolute and such transfer was not permissible in any contingency. The language of sub-section (1) of Section 157-AA was such that even in case of a member of a scheduled caste acquiring transferable rights of a bhumidhar under Section 131-B who is desirous to transfer such land to another person belonging to the scheduled caste by way of sale, gift, mortgage or lease the right to transfer was not absolute and the transfer was permissible only in accordance with the preferences specified therein. Sub-section (4) provided that no transfer under Section 157-AA was permissible without the previous approval of the Assistant Collector concerned. These restrictions were made subject to a further condition with the insertion of sub-section (5), in terms of which a transferee of land under sub-section (1) shall have no right to transfer the land by way of sale, gift, mortgage or lease before the expiry of a period of ten years from the date of transfer in his favour.

16. The aforementioned distinction with regard to the rights of a bhumidhar with transferable rights belonging to a scheduled caste and a bhumidhar who has acquired the transferable rights in respect of an allotted land, is not maintained under the Code, 2006. The restrictions and the preferences enumerated in Section 157-AA of the repealed ZA & LR Act also have no existence under the Code, 2006. The procedure for grant of permission for transfer by bhumidhar belonging to a scheduled caste has been simplified under the Code, 2006 and the Rules made thereunder with a view to make the procedure more objective and the requisite permission for transfer is to be granted to a bhumidhar belonging to a scheduled caste upon fulfilment of either of the conditions specified under clause (a) or (b) of the proviso to sub-section (1) of Section 98, or upon fulfilment of any of the conditions specified under clause (b), (c) or (d) and clause (e) of sub-rule (8) of Rule 99 of the Rules, 2016.

17. Under Section 98(1) of the Code, 2006 read with Rule 99 of the Rules, the Collector may grant permission for transfer by bhumidhars belonging to scheduled caste upon fulfilment of either of the five specified conditions: (i) in the absence of a surviving heir; (ii) the transferor has settled or is ordinarily residing in a different district or State; (iii) the tenure holder or any member of his family is suffering from any fatal disease; (iv) the applicant is seeking permission for transfer to purchase any other land from the consideration of such proposed transfer; (v) the area of the land held by the applicant on the date of application does not, after such transfer, reduces to less than 1.26 hectares. This is subject to a further condition that the consideration for the transfer of the land is not below the amount calculated as per the circle rate fixed by the Collector. The condition with regard to the area of the land, held by the applicant, consequent to the transfer of the land being reduced to less than 1.26 hectares, is not mandatory subject to the fulfilment of any of the other conditions.

18. In a case where the application has been made as per the prescribed procedure and upon due enquiry as provided under the Rules, 2016 either of the aforestated conditions are held to be satisfied, the permission is required to be granted for transfer under Section 98.

19. In the case at hand, the application by the petitioner was made in the prescribed form as provided under Rule 99 upon which the enquiry was duly made for the purpose of verification of the facts stated in the application and also reporting the circumstances under which permission for transfer was being sought. The report submitted by a team of revenue officers made a clear recommendation in favour of the petitioner indicating that the conditions prescribed for the purpose under the relevant statutory provision stood satisfied. In the face of the aforesaid circumstances, the reasons assigned in the order dated 19.07.2021 passed by the Respondent no. 3 that the applicant did not state the circumstances under which the land in question was purchased and that the petitioner could make arrangement for irrigation facilities, or that he had not produced any evidence to support the factum of his illness, are wholly inconsequential for the purpose of grant of permission for transfer. The other reason stated in the order that the petitioner was seeking transfer of the land for personal gains is also not relevant and is based on a conjecture.

20. In exercise of its discretionary power, if the concerned authority ignores or does not take into account considerations which are relevant to the purpose of the statute in question, then its action would be invalid. This would be more so where the statute conferring discretion on the authority has structured the discretion by expressly laying down the consideration which should be taken into account by the authority for exercise of the discretion. In such a case, if the exercise of the discretionary power has been influenced by considerations that cannot lawfully be taken into account or by disregard of the relevant considerations required to be taken into account, the decision arrived at by the authority would be invalid.

21. The "irrelevant considerations" doctrine was stated by Lord Esher MR in R. vs. St Pancras Vestry4 by observing as follows:

"But they must fairly consider the application and exercise their discretion on it fairly, and not take into account any reason for their decision which is not a legal one. If people who have to exercise a public duty by exercising their discretion take into account matters which the Courts consider not to be proper for the guidance of their discretion, then in the eye of the law they have not exercised their discretion."

22. The scope of interference by Courts in matters relating to exercise of discretion conferred by a statute upon an authority was subject matter of consideration in Associated Provincial Picture Houses, Ltd. vs. Wednesbury Corporation5wherein it was stated by Lord Greene, M.R. as follows:

"... The law recognises certain principles on which the discretion must be exercised ... They are perfectly well understood. The exercise of such a discretion must be a real exercise of the discretion. If, in the statute conferring the discretion, there is to be found, expressly or by implication, matters to which the authority exercising the discretion ought to have regard, then, in exercising the discretion, they must have regard to those matters. Conversely, if the nature of the subject-matter and the general interpretation of the Act make it clear that certain matters would not be germane to the matter in question, they must disregard those matters.

.... the court is entitled to investigate the action of the local authority with a view to seeing whether it has taken into account matters which it ought not to take into account, or, conversely, has refused to take into account or neglected to take into account matters which it ought to take into account."

23. The circumstances under which exercise of discretionary powers by a statutory authority may be held to be invalid were stated in Padfield And Others vs. Minister of Agriculture, Fisheries And Food And Others6, wherein Lord Upjohn observed as follows:

"Unlawful behaviour by the Minister may be state with sufficient accuracy ... (a) by an outright refusal to consider the relevant matter, or (b) by misdirecting himself in point of law, or (c) by taking into account some wholly irrelevant or extraneous consideration, or (d) by wholly omitting to take into account a relevant consideration."

24. The principle laid down in the decision of the House of Lords in Padfield's case (supra) was reiterated by Lord Denning, M.R. in Breen vs. Amalamated Engineering Union And Others7, by stating as follows:

"The discretion of a statutory body is never unfettered. It is a discretion which is to be exercised according to law. That means at least this: the statutory body must be guided by relevant considerations and not by irrelevant. If its decision is influenced by extraneous considerations which it ought not to have taken into account, then the decision cannot stand. No matter that the statutory body may have acted in good faith; nevertheless the decision will be set aside."

25. The proposition can thus broadly be laid down by stating that a decision by an authority exercising discretionary power under a statute must be arrived at by taking into account the relevant considerations and eschewing the irrelevant considerations, in the absence of which the action would have to be held as ultra vires and void.

26. The conditions which are required to be satisfied while considering grant of permission by the Collector to a bhumidhar belonging to a scheduled caste seeking to transfer land belonging to him having been clearly specified under the proviso to sub-section (1) of Section 98 read with sub-rule (8) of Rule 99, the reference made in the orders impugned to any other circumstance and on the basis thereof to reject the application of the petitioner seeking grant of permission to transfer, would therefore render the exercise of the discretionary power as ultra vires and invalid. The orders impugned having been passed in the absence of consideration of the relevant provisions and being based on wholly irrelevant consideration, are accordingly held to be legally unsustainable and are set aside and quashed.

27. The matter is remitted to the Respondent no. 3 for passing of fresh order on the basis of the provisions contained under Section 98 of the Code, 2006 read with sub-rule (8) of Rule 99 of the Rules, 2016 in the light of the discussion made hereinabove. The respondent authority would be expected to pass appropriate orders on the application of the petitioner under Section 98 seeking grant of permission for transfer, expeditiously, and preferably within a period of three months from the date of presentation of a certified copy of this order.

28. The writ petition stands allowed in the manner indicated above.

(2022)05ILR A966
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED ALLAHABAD 21.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE AJIT KUMAR, J.

WRIT A No. 26709 of 2010

Devdutt ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant
Sri Naveen Srivastava, Sri Kashif Gilani, Sri Navin Kumar, Ms. Jigyasa Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Manoj Kumar Singh, Sri Manu Saxena

A. Service Law – Voluntary retirement – Pension and Retiral benefits - Civil Service Regulations: Article 418(A) - U.P. Nagar Palika Non Centralized Services Retirement Benefits Rules, 1984 - If an employee has completed qualifying service for getting retirement benefits and has resigned thereafter, he cannot be denied retiral benefits. His resignation would amount to voluntary retirement. (Para 17, 21)

This court finds the only issue to be decided in this case as to whether the petitioner's resignation should be taken to be a voluntary retirement or a resignation right from service so as to disentitle him to the retirement benefit under 1984 Rules. (Para 13)

It is within the authority and discretion of an employer to decide as to whether to treat a resignation letter as voluntary retirement or not and once the employer has treated resignation to be for voluntary retirement, there seems to be no scope for any other authority to take a different stand. (Para 21)

In the present case, the petitioner's employer has rightly treated the letter of resignation as voluntary retirement and so made recommendation for payment of retirement benefits including pension. The qualifying service for pension to the employees of the non centralised service of a local body has come to be defined vide Rule 2(ढ़)(ण)(त) defining the same of Uttar Pradesh Nagar Palika Non Centralised Retirement Benefits Regulations, 1984 runs as under. (Para 24)

As per the provisions, an employee if has attained the age of 50 years and has spent 20 years of service, he would be entitled to seek voluntary retirement and so consequential benefits. The petitioner at the time of resigning from service had already attained 50 years of age and had also completed more than 20 years of service and so he could seek voluntary retirement and consequential benefits. (Para 25)

B. Difference between Voluntary Retirement and Resignation - Voluntary retirement would also be a case of resignation. The only difference is that in case of voluntary retirement an employee intends to relinquish the job for his attaining advanced age, illness etc. and shows his inability to continue to serve the establishment whereas in case of pure resignation an employee intends to leave the job either for the reason he has got an attractive employment or that he is facing hardships at the end of the employer and circumstances have forced him/her to resign. The intention of an employee can be gathered from the language the resignation letter as the contents of the letter and the language in which it is couched will only be a determinative factor as to its nature and character. (Para 20)

Writ petition allowed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. Sudhir Chandra Sarkar Vs Tata Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. & ors., (1984) 3 SCC 369 (Para 16)

2. P.S. Bhargav Vs U.O.I., (1983) 1 SCC 385 (Para 17)

3. Deokinandan Prasad Vs St. of Bihar, (1979) 2 SCC 330 (Para 17)

4. Sheel Kumar Jain Vs New India Assurance Co. Ltd. & ors., (2011) 2 SCC 197 (Para 22)

5. Shashikala Devi Vs C.B.I., (2014) 16 SCC 26 (Para 23)

Present petition assails order dated 24.01.2007, passed by Assistant Director (Pension) Local Fund Accounts Examination Department, U.P. Sangam Palace VI Floor, Civil Lines, Allahabad.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajit Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Ms. Jigyasa Singh, learned Advocate holding brief of Sri Navin Kumar, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Manoj Kumar Singh, learned counsel for respondents no.2 & 3 and Ms. Monika Arya, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel on behalf of respondent nos. 1 & 4 and perused the record.

2. Affidavit filed today on behalf of respondent nos. 2 & 3, in compliance of earlier order dated 30.03.2022, is taken on record.

3. The petitioner before this Court claims to be a retired employee of the local body namely Nagar Palika Parishad, Khurja, Bulandshahr on the plea that after serving the Nagar Palika for nearly 32 years and six months he opted for voluntary retirement by submitting his application dated 22.12.2000 which was accepted by the Executive Officer, Nagar Palika Parishad, Khurja vide order dated 26.12.2000.

4. The grievance of the petitioner is that in spite of his voluntary resignation being accepted by the Nagar Palika Parishad concerned and his papers for post retirement dues being duly forwarded by the Executive Officer on 28.09.2006, the respondent no.4 vide order impugned dated 24.01.2007 has rejected the claim of the petitioner for pension and other retiral benefits on the ground that petitioner having resigned from service, applying the provisions as contained in Article 418(A) of Civil Service Regulations petitioner would not be entitled to retirement dues.

5. The contention advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner is two fold: firstly, Article 418(A) of the Civil Service Regulations could not be applicable to the employees of the non centralised service of the local body as their retiral benefits are governed under the UP Nagar Palika Non Centralised Services Retirement Benefits Rules, 1984 (hereinafter referred as 'the 1984 Rules') and under the said rules, the pensionable service as defined Article 368 has been only made applicable. It is argued thus, that Rules of 1984 being special rules would override the general law applicable to pensionary benefits and other retiral benefits provided for under the Civil Service Regulations; and secondly, by no stretch of imagination, the resignation submitted by the petitioner dated 22.12.2020 can be treated as resignation from service and not a voluntary retirement.

6. It is argued that the option for voluntary retirement or compulsory retirement from service almost stand on similar parameters of discretion. While in case of compulsory retirement it is the establishment that decides the utility of an employee to continue him in service whereas in case of voluntary retirement the employee himself determines his utility to continue in service so as to serve the establishment.

7. It is argued that looking to the grounds assigned in the letter of resignation dated 22.12.2000, it is quite apparent that the petitioner was ailing and hence he wanted to tender his resignation but the at the same time looking to the condition of family and need of regular income to meet the requirement, he wanted his son to be given employment and therefore, it is submitted that this letter should be taken to be the one indicating the intention of the petitioner to take voluntary retirement from service.

8. It is also argued that since the petitioner had already rendered 32 years and six months of service and was on the verge of his retirement, he was entitled to opt for voluntary retirement as per the relevant provisions of 1984 Rules.

9. Besides above, it is argued that if it is to be taken as a resignation, it was a conditional one and the respondents should have turned it down in the event they were not offering employment to his son. But since the respondent in his wisdom found it to be a case where the petitioner was not health wise in a position to serve the establishment, it accepted the resignation. Thus, it would be a case according to the learned counsel for the petitioner, of voluntary retirement opted by the petitioner.

10. Per contra, learned counsel appearing for the local body has argued that the local body had treated the petitioner's resignation to be one of voluntary retirement and that is why his claim for retirement benefits under the 1984 Rules were forwarded to the Director, Local Bodies on 28.09.2006 and it is the Director, Local Bodies who rejected the claim of the petitioner.

11. A counter affidavit has been filed on behalf of respondent no.4 in which vide paragraph 7a stand has been taken that as per 1984 Rules since the petitioner had resigned from service, he was not entitled for retirement benefits. It is pleaded that the Rules very clearly state that those who resign from service would not be entitled to retirement benefits.

12. Yet another plea has been taken in the counter affidavit that in view of Article 418(A) of the Civil Service Regulations, since resignation from a public service which entails forfeiture of the past service, such an employee cannot be held entitled to retirement benefits. Except for these two paragraphs in the counter affidavit, nothing has been stated to defend the order.

13. Having heard learned counsel for the respective parties and their arguments raised across the bar, this court finds the only issue to be decided in this case as to whether the petitioner's resignation should be taken to be a voluntary retirement or a resignation right from service so as to disentitle him to the retirement benefit under 1984 Rules.

14. In so far as retirement benefits are concerned under the 1984 Rules, I find merit in the submission advanced by counsel for the petitioner that except for Article 368 which provides for eligible service period for the purposes of pension, no other provision has been made applicable. This rule being specially framed for the employees of local bodies in the State belonging to non centralised services, it would certainly override any other general law that provides for eligibility criteria for the purposes of pension to an employee of any other establishment or a government servant. The relevant rules of 1984 also provide for pension in case of voluntary retirement. However, the Court does not find any provision under the Rules, 1984 which would specify as to when a case would be of resignation so as to disentitle an employee to the retirement dues.

15. On a repeated query being made to the Additional Chief Standing counsel, she has not been able to point out any such provision, nor she could defend paragraph 9 of the affidavit filed on behalf of respondent no.4 according to which as per Article 418(A) of the Civil Service Regulations petitioner would not be entitled to retirement benefits which otherwise is applicable in case of voluntary retirement under the 1984 Rules.

16. In case of Sudhir Chandra Sarkar vs. Tata Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. &ors (1984) 3 SCC 369, the Supreme Court had an occasion to consider the claim of retirement benefits like gratuity etc to an employee who had simply tendered his resignation which was accepted unconditionally and vide paragraph 7 it held thus:

"7.The contention of the respondent is that the plaintiff did not retire from service but he left the service of the Company by resigning his post. This aspect to some extent agitated the mind of the High Court. It may be dealt with first. It is not only not in dispute, but is in fact conceded that the plaintiff did render continuous service from December 31, 1929 till August 31, 1959. On exact computation, the plaintiff rendered service for 29 years and 8 months. Rule 6(a) which prescribed the eligibility criterion for payment of gratuity provides that every permanent uncovenanted employee of the Company whether paid on monthly, weekly or daily basis will be eligible for retiring gratuity which shall be equal to half a month salary or wages for every completed year of continuous service subject to a maximum of 20 months salary or wages in all provided that when an employee dies, retires or is discharged under Rule 11(2)(ii) and (iii) before he has served the Company for a continuous period of 15 years he shall be paid a gratuity at the rate therein mentioned. The expression 'retirement' has been defined in Rule 1 (g) to mean 'the termination of service by reason of any cause other than removal by discharge due to misconduct'. It is admitted that the plaintiff was a permanent uncovenanted employee of the Company paid on monthly basis and he rendered service for over 29 years and his service came to an end by reason of his tendering resignation which was unconditionally accepted. It is not suggested that he was removed by discharge due to misconduct. Unquestionably, therefore, the plaintiff retired from service because by the letter Annexure 'B' dated August 26, 1959, the resignation tendered by the plaintiff as per his letter dated July, 27, 1959 was accepted and he was released from his service with effect from September 1,1959. The termination of service was thus on account of resignation of the plaintiff being accepted by the respondent. The plaintiff has, within the meaning of the expression, thus retired from service of the respondent an he is qualified for payment of gratuity in terms of Rule 6.

17. The Apex Court though interpreted the relevant rules applicable in that case but in pith and substance the ratio is that if a person has completed qualifying service for the retiral benefits purposes, the same should not be denied. Referring to the judgment in case of P.S. Bhargav vs. Union of India (1983) 1 SCC 385 and another judgment in the case of Deokinandan Prasad vs. State of Bihar (1979) 2 SCC 330, the Supreme Court vide paragraph 18 had held thus:

"18. For centuries the courts swung in favour of the view that pension is either a bounty or a gratuitous payment for local service rendered depending upon the sweet will or grace of the employer not claimable as a right and therefore, no right to pension can be enforced through court. This view held the field and a suit to recover pension was held not maintainable. With the modern notions of social justice and social security, concept of pension underwent a radical change and it is now well-settled that pension is a right and payment of it does not depend upon the discretion of the employer, nor can it be denied at the sweet will or fancy of the employer. Deokinandan Prasad v. State of Bihar & Ors., State of Punjab & Anr. v. Iqbal Singh and D.S. Nakara & Ors. v. Union of India. If pension which is the retiral benefit as a measure of social security can be recovered through civil suit, we see no justification in treating gratuity on a different footing. Pension and gratuity in the matter of retiral benefits and for recovering the same must be put on par."

18. Coming to the issue as to whether the resignation of the petitioner dated 22.12.2000 be taken as voluntary retirement or resignation right from service, one factual aspect of the matter is that petitioner was almost on the verge of retirement as hardly a fortnight was left from the date of retirement when petitioner was to attain age of superannuation and this acquires significance and must be taken into account. At this stage advanced age, if an employee has requested for offering an employment to his son and he wanted to resign as he was not in a condition to serve the establishment being not healthwise well, the only intention seems to be of voluntary relinquishment of the job.

19. In the letter accepting the resignation of the petitioner, it is mentioned that petitioner had requested for giving appointment to his son but it only indicates that resignation of the petitioner has been accepted.

20. Voluntary retirement would also be a case of resignation. The only difference is that in case of voluntary retirement an employee intends to relinquish the job for his attaining advanced age, illness etc. and shows his inability to continue to serve the establishment whereas in case of pure resignation an employee intends to leave the job either for the reason he has got an attractive employment or that he is facing hardships at the end of the employer and circumstances have forced him/her to resign. The intention of an employee can be gathered from the language the resignation letter as the contents of the letter and the language in which it is couched will only be a determinative factor as to its nature and character.

21. On the above analysis, I find that in the case in hand the language of the resignation letter to be indicative of it being meant for voluntary retirement and exercising my equitable jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, I find it to be harsh if I negate the claim of the petitioner to treat the resignation as voluntary retirement from service by taking it to be resignation simpliciter. Besides above, I find that employer himself had accepted the resignation of the petitioner as that of voluntary retirement and that is why his papers were forwarded for post retirement benefits including pension. In my view, it it within the authority and discretion of an employer to decide as to whether to treat a resignation letter as voluntary retirement or not and once the employer has treated resignation to be for voluntary retirement, there seems to be no scope for any other authority to take a different stand. Moreover, if an employee has completed qualifying service for getting retirement benefits and has resigned thereafter, he cannot be denied retiral benefits. His resignation would amount to voluntary retirement.

22. In the case of Sheel Kumar Jain vs. New India Assurance Co. Ltd. and ors. (2011) 2 SCC 197, the Court had an occasion to interpret the letter of resignation and vide paragraphs 25 & 26 it held thus:

"25. Para 22 of the 1995 Pension Scheme states that the resignation of an employee from the service of the corporation or a company shall entail forfeiture of his entire past service and consequently he shall not qualify for pensionary benefits, but does not define the term "resignation". Under sub-para (1) of Para 30 of the 1995 Pension Scheme, an employee, who has completed 20 years of qualifying service, may by giving notice of not less than 90 days in writing to the appointing authority retire from service and under sub-para (2) of Para 30 of the 1995 Pension Scheme, the notice of voluntary retirement shall require acceptance by the appointing authority. Since "voluntary retirement" unlike "resignation" does not entail forfeiture of past services and instead qualifies for pension, an employee to whom Para 30 of the 1995 Pension Scheme applies cannot be said to have "resigned" from service.

26. In the facts of the present case, we find that the appellant had completed 20 years of qualifying service and had given notice of not less than 90 days in writing to the appointing authority of his intention to leave the service and the appointing authority had accepted notice of the appellant and relieved him from service. Hence, Para 30 of the 1995 Pension Scheme applied to the appellant even though in his letter dated 16-9-1991 to the General Manager of Respondent 1 Company he had used the word "resign"."

23. Very recently in the case of Shashikala Devi vs. Central Bank of India (2014)16 SCC 260, the Apex Court had relied upon the judgments referred to above and held the petitioner entitled to the retirement benefits treating the letter of resignation as a voluntary retirement by the employee. However, the question of curtailment of notice period was allowed at the discretion of the authority vide paragraph 19 had held thus:

"19. In the result this appeal succeeds and is hereby allowed. The impugned order passed by the High Court is, hereby, set aside and the writ petition filed by the deceased-employee allowed with a direction to the respondent-bank to treat letter dated 8th October, 2007 as a notice for voluntary retirement of the employee and for curtailment for three months notice period. Depending upon the view the competent authority may take on the question of curtailment of the notice period and/or deduction of three months salary from out of the retiral benefits of the deceased-employee, the deceased-employee's claim for payment of retiral benefits due under the relevant rules including pension shall be processed and released in favour of the appellant-widow as expeditiously as possible but not later than six months from the date a copy of this order is served upon the bank. In the event of the bank's failure to comply with the directions within six months as indicated above, the amount payable to the employee and after his death his widow, shall start earning interest @ 10% p.a. from the date the period of six months expires. The parties are left to bear their own costs."

24. In the case in hand, therefore, I find that the petitioner's employer has rightly treated the letter of resignation as voluntary retirement and so made recommendation for payment of retirement benefits including pension. The qualifying service for pension to the employees of the non centralised service of a local body has come to be defined vide Rule 2(ढ़)(ण)(त) defining the same of Uttar Pradesh Nagar Palika Non Centralised Retirement Benefits Regulations, 1984 runs as under:

"2- जब तक विषय या संदर्भ मे कोई बात प्रतिकूल न हो, इस विनियमावली मे,- निवार्यतः या स्वेच्छ से सेवानिवृत्त होने पर या स्थायी पद या स्थायी नियुक्ति की समाप्ति पर, यदि पदधारी की नियुक्ति किसी अन्य पद पर न की जाय या उसे उसके पूर्ववक्ता मौलिक पद पर, यदि कोई हो, प्रत्यावर्तित करना संभव न हो, सेवामुक्त होने से हैः

टिपण्णी:- सेवा से स्वेच्छ से सेवानिवृत्त का तात्पर्य ऐसी सेवानिवृत्त से है जो ५० वर्ष की आयु प्राप्त करने के पश्चात २० वर्ष की अर्हकारी सेवा पूरी कर लेने पर हो।

(ण) सेवानिवृत्ति पेंशन का तात्पर्य ऐसी पेंशन से है जो ऐसे पदधारी को स्वीकृत की जाय, जिसे अधिवार्षिता की आयु प्राप्त होने के पूर्व सेवानिवृत्ति होने की अनुझ दी जाय और इसके अन्तर्गत ऐसी पेंशन भी है जो ऐसे पदधारी को स्वीकृत की जाय जिससे अधिवार्षिता की आयु प्राप्त करने के पूर्व सेवा-निवृत्त होने की अपेक्षा की जायः

(त) अधिवाषिता की पेंशन का तात्पर्य किसी ऐसे पदधारी को स्वीकृत पेंशन से है जो सुसंगत विनियमों के अधीन विशिष्ट आयु प्राप्त होने पर सेवा से निवृत होने का हकदार हो।"

(emphasis added)

25 . From a bare reading of the aforesaid provisions, an employee if has attained the age of 50 years and has spent 20 years of service, he would be entitled to seek voluntary retirement and so consequential benefits. The petitioner at the time of resigning from service had already attained 50 years of age and had also completed more than 20 years of service and so he could seek voluntary retirement and consequential benefits.

26. In view of the above, therefore, treating the petitioner's resignation as voluntary retirement from service and I hold him to be entitled to retirement dues.

27. Accordingly, the order passed by the Assistant Director (Pension), Local Fund and Accounts Examination Department, U.P. dated 24.01.2007 (Annexure 6 to the writ petition) is hereby quashed. The petitioner is held entitled to retirement benefits as per the rules. Since petitioner has been made to suffer for more than 2 decades not for very genuine reasons but for this long drawn litigation, he is also held entitled to 7% simple interest over and above the retiral dues to be calculated as a consequence of the order being passed today. The necessary exercise shall be done by the respondent concerned within a period of three months including the calculation of interest and the same be paid to the petitioner within six weeks thereafter.

28. With the aforesaid observations and directions, petition stands allowed.

(2022)05ILR A973
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED LUCKNOW 25.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK CHAUDHARY, J.

WRIT A No. 232 of 2022

Vijay Kumar Singh ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant
Sri Manish Misra

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Gaurav Mehrotra, Sri Ran Vijay Singh

A. Service Law – Selection/Recruitment - U.P. Recruitment to Services (Age Limit) (Tenth Amendment) Rules, 2012 - Rule 6 - U.P. Lekhpal Services Rules, 2006 - Rule 3(n), 10, 14 - U.P. Subordinate Services Selection Commission Act, 2014; U.P. General Clauses Act, 1904 - Section 4(50).

The PET examination is a general examination and is not held for any specific service under any service rules. It is conducted under the U.P. Subordinate Services Selection Commission Act, 2014 (Commission Act). It does not make any person entitled for any post whatsoever, but, is only a preliminary test taken for permitting a person to apply for the Class-III vacancies going to be advertised thereafter, till the said PET examination result is in force. The Commission advertised and initiates the selection process under different service rules. It was open for the State Government as well as for the Commission to proceed or not to proceed for the selection of the Revenue Lekhpal under their service rules. (Para 7)

In case of non advertisement of the said vacancies petitioner had no vested rights. The right vested in the petitioner after clearing PET examination was only to submit application and appear in the selection process for the vacancies under different rules, as advertised by the Commission. Therefore, it cannot be said that any selection process was initiated under the Lekhpal Rules, 2006 merely by conducting PET examination.

U.P. Lekhpal Services Rules, 2006: Rule 14 provides that appointing authority shall determine and intimate to the selection committee the number of vacancies to be filled up during course of the year of recruitment. The selection committee stands replaced by the Selection Commission as per the Commission Act. Therefore, it is for the selection commission to advertise the vacancies as per relevant service rules. Thus, the selection process for the post of Revenue Lekhpal cannot be said to have started with the PET examination but initiated when the same were advertised on 05.01.2022 by the Commission. (Para 7)

Therefore, there is no force in the first submission that, the selection process should be treated to have started in the month of June, 2021, when the PET examination was conducted by the Commission.

B. U.P. Lekhpal Services Rules, 2006 - Rule 10 - U.P. Recruitment to Services (Age Limit) (Tenth Amendment) Rules, 2012 - Rule 6, clearly provide that a candidate must not have attained more than 40 years of age as on first day of July in calendar year in which the vacancies are advertised.

In the present case the vacancies are advertised on 05.01.2022. The person must not have attained the age of more than 40 years as on first of July of the year 2022. Admittedly, petitioner is more than 40 years as on 01.07.2022. (Para 9)

C. Words and Phrases – 'calendar year', 'year of recruitment', 'year' – U.P. Lekhpal Services Rules, 2006: Rule 3(n) - The term 'calendar year' and term 'year of recruitment' are entirely different and the term 'year of recruitment' is defined u/Rule 3(n) of the Lekhpal Rules, 2006, which means 12 months commencing from first day of July of a calendar year. From the perusal of the same it is clear that the 'year of recruitment' and a 'calendar year' even as per Rule 3(n) are distinct and separate. The two cannot be interchanged.

Year of recruitment is relevant for Rule 14 and not for determination of age u/Rule 10 or Rule 6 of Age Limit Rules.

U.P. General Clauses Act, 1904: Section 4(50) – The term 'year' is also defined u/s 4(50), which means a "year" shall mean a year reckoned according to the British calendar. There is no reason to interpret the word 'calendar year' in any other manner. (Para 9)

D. Report of the Calendar Reform Committee of GOI, submitted on 10.11.1955 - Petitioner submits that in the said report the committee referred to number of calendars in use in India and did not find favour with the English calendar for use in India and recommended use of Indian calendar. Therefore, the term calendar year as used in Rule 10 should not be read as British calendar but should be treated to be Indian Calendar. (Para 10)

Hon'ble Court held that the said report is only recommendatory in nature. There is nothing to show that the same was ever accepted and enforced, at any point of time. There is nothing to show that while drafting or enforcing the applicable rules, the State Government ever relied upon the said report or referred to any Indian calendar. The use of the month of July in rules itself shows that rules refer to the British calendar and not to an Indian calendar.

Therefore, the term 'calendar year' in which the vacancies are advertised is the year from the 1st of January to 31st December and, it is the first day of July of the said calendar year on which the person should not have attained the age of more than 40 years. The same in the present case is 2022 as the vacancies were advertised on 05.01.2022. (Para 11)

Writ petition dismissed. (E-4)

Precedent distinguished:

1. Malik Mazar Sultan Vs U.P. Public Service Commission, 2006 (9) SCC 507 (Para 10)

2. Chairman Indore Vikas Pradhikaran Vs Pure Industrial Coke & Chemicals Ltd., 2007 (8) SCC 705 (Para 10)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vivek Chaudhary, J.)

1. Heard Sri Manish Mishra, learned counsel for petitioner assisted by Sri Gaurav Upadhyaya, Advocate and Sri Dilip Pandey, Advocate. Sri Ran Vijay Singh, learned counsel is appearing for respondent Commission and learned Standing Counsel is present for the State.

2. Petitioner has approached this Court praying for a mandamus commanding the respondent no.2 U.P. Subordinate Services Selection Commission, Lucknow (hereinafter referred to as 'Commission') to allow the petitioner to participate in the main examination for the post of Revenue Lekhpal.

3. The facts of the case as per the writ petition are that the Commission held a common Preliminary Entrance Test (PET) in the month of June, 2021, for facing selections for any Class-III post, to be filled up later through the Commission. Petitioner appeared in the said PET examination held on 17.06.2021 and cleared the same. Thus, he became entitled for appearing in selection examination to be held for any Class-III posts by the Commission. On 24.07.2021 Commission issued a proposed program for selections for different posts scheduled to be conducted by the Commission before March, 2022. The selection for the post of Revenue Lekhpal was proposed to be held in November, 2021. The same, however, could not be advertised in November, 2021 but was advertised on 05.01.2022 by Advertisement No.1 of 2022. Amongst other conditions for eligibility to appear in the selection process for the post of Revenue Lekhpal, one of the condition initially advertised on 05.01.2022 was, that, the age of candidate on 01.07.2021 should not be less than 18 years and not more than 40 years. Therefore, petitioner was qualified as per the said advertisement. The said advertisement, however, was later modified and provided the maximum age limit of 40 years as on 01.07.2022, as per the U.P. Recruitment to Services (Age Limit) (Tenth Amendment) Rules, 2012. Admittedly, petitioner is of more than 40 years on 01.07.2022 as his date of birth is 15.05.1982, and, thus, he has approached this court.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that petitioner was entitled as per the first advertisement and the change made in the advertisement is arbitrary and illegal. As per the calendar year petitioner ought to be held entitled to appear in the examination. He further submits that even otherwise the selection process had started when the PET examination was taken in the month of June, 2021 and therefore, the same is the relevant date for the selection process.

5. Opposing the same, learned Standing Counsel submits that PET is general combined test taken for all Class-III posts. The purpose of PET is to reduce the huge number of candidates appearing for all Class-III posts advertised by the Commission, which was putting unnecessary burden on the Commission. He further submits that the validity of the PET is already considered and affirmed in number of writ petitions by this Court. Therefore, the same cannot be treated to be initiation of selection process for a particular post and initiation for selection of a particular post starts only when the vacancies of the said post under its rules are duly notified, which in the present case were advertised on 05.01.2022. Therefore, as per the U.P. Lekhpals Services Rules, 2006 (Lekhpal Rules, 2006), the calendar year would be from 01.01.2022 to 31.12.2022 and, therefore, petitioner is not qualified.

6. I have considered the submissions of learned counsels for parties and have perused the record with their assistance.

7. So far as the first submission, that, the selection process should be treated to have started in the month of June, 2021, when the PET examination was conducted by the Commission is concerned, I do not find any force in the said submission. The PET examination is a general examination. The same is not held for any specific service under any service rules. The same is conducted under the U.P. Subordinate Services Selection Commission Act, 2014 (Commission Act). The same does not make any person entitled for any post whatsoever, but, is only a preliminary test taken for permitting a person to apply for the Class-III vacancies going to be advertised thereafter, till the said PET examination result is in force. Under different service rules the Commission advertised and initiates the selection process. It was open for the State Government as well as for the Commission to proceed or not to proceed for the selection of the Revenue Lekhpal under their service rules. In case of non advertisement of the said vacancies petitioner had no vested rights. The right vested in the petitioner after clearing PET examination was only to submit application and appear in the selection process for the vacancies under different rules, as advertised by the Commission. Therefore, it cannot be said that any selection process was initiated under the Lekhpal Rules, 2006 merely by conducting PET examination. Rule-14 of the Lekhpal Rules, 2006 provides that appointing authority shall determine and intimate to the selection committee the number of vacancies to be filled up during course of the year of recruitment. The selection committee stands replaced by the Selection Commission as per the Commission Act. Therefore, it is for the selection commission to advertise the vacancies as per relevant service rules. Thus, the selection process for the post of Revenue Lekhpal cannot be said to have started with the PET examination but initiated when the same were advertised on 05.01.2022 by the Commission.

8. So far as the next submission of learned counsel for the petitioner, that, petitioner is required to be not more than of 40 years in age on 01.07.2021 and not on 01.07.2022, is concerned, the following rules of U.P. Lekhpal Services Rules, 2006 (Lekhpal Rules, 2006) are relevant:-

"Rule 3(n) 'Year of recruitment' means a period of twelve months commencing on the first day of July of a calendar year.

.....

Rule 10. A candidate for direct recruitment to a post in the service must have attained the age of 18 years and must not have attained the age of more than 40 yrs on the first day of July of the calendar year in which vacancies for direct recruitment are advertised.

Provided that the upper age limit in the case of candidates belonging to the Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and such other categories as may be notified by the Government from time to time shall be greater by such number of years as may be specified.

Rule 14. The appointing authority shall determine and intimate to the Selection Committee, the number of vacancies to be filled during the course of the year of recruitment as also the number of vacancies to be reserved for candidates belonging to the Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and other categories under rule 6.

For making direct recruitment, the vacancies shall be notified in the following manner

(i) by issuing advertisement in the daily newspaper having wide circulation:

(ii) by pasting the notice on the notice board of the office or by advertising through Radio/Television and other Employment newspapers, and

(iii) by notifying vacancies to the Employment Exchange."

Further, Rule 6 of U.P. Recruitment to Services (Age Limit) Rules, 1972 (Age Limit Rules) reads:-

"Rule 6-Computation of Age.- Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any service rules, for the services and posts, whether within or outside the purview of the Public Service Commission, a candidate must have attained the minimum age and must not have attained the maximum age, as prescribed from time to time, on the first day of July of the calendar year in which vacancies for direct recruitment are advertised by the Public Service Commission or any other recruiting authority, or as the case may be, such vacancies are intimated to the Employment Exchange.

Provided that nothing in this rule shall apply to a case where such advertisement or intimation has been made before the commencement of the Uttar Pradesh Recruitment to Services (Age Limit) (Fifth Amendment) Rules, 1984."

9. A bare perusal of Rule-10 of the Lekhpal Service Rules and Rule 6 Age Limit Rules, clearly provide that a candidate must not have attained more than 40 years of age as on first day of July in calendar year in which the vacancies are advertised. In the present case the vacancies are advertised on 05.01.2022. The person must not have attained the age of more than 40 years as on first of July of the year 2022. Admittedly, petitioner is more than 40 years as on 01.07.2022. Due to the non-obstinate clause in Rule 6 of the Age Limit Rules, it is the Rule 6 which is relevant for our purposes and not Rule-10 of the Lekhpal Rules, 2006 but the same is also in same terms. Even otherwise, the term 'calendar year and term 'year of recruitment' are entirely different and the term 'year of recruitment' is defined under Rule 3(n) of the Lekhpal Rules, 2006, which means 12 months commencing from first day of July of a calendar year. From the perusal of the same it is clear that the 'year of recruitment' and a 'calendar year' even as per Rule 3(n) are distinct and separate. The two cannot be interchanged. Further year of recruitment is relevant for Rule 14 and not for determination of age under Rule-10 or Rule-6 of Age Limit Rules. The term 'year' is also defined under Section 4(50) of the U.P. General Clauses Act 1904 which means a "year" shall mean a year reckoned according to the British calendar. There is no reason to interpret the word 'calendar year' in any other manner.

10. Learned counsel for the petitioner has also placed before this Court a report of the Calendar Reform Committee of Government of India, submitted on 10.11.1955. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that in the said report the committee referred to number of calendars in use in India and did not find favour with the English calendar for use in India and recommended use of Indian calendar. Therefore, the term calendar year as used in Rule-10 should not be read as British calendar but should be treated to be Indian Calendar. Learned counsel for petitioner further relied upon the judgments of Supreme Court passed in case of 'Malik Mazar Sultan Vs. U.P. Public Service Commission' reported in [2006 (9) SCC

507] and 'Chairman Indore Vikas Pradhikaran Vs. Pure Industrial Coke and Chemicals Limited' reported in [2007 (8) SCC 705].

11. I have perused the report of the committee. The said report is only recommendatory in nature. There is nothing to show that the same was ever accepted and enforced, at any point of time. There is nothing to show that while drafting or enforcing the applicable rules, the State Government ever relied upon the said report or referred to any Indian calendar. The use of the month of July in rules itself shows that rules refer to the British calendar and not to an Indian calendar. Therefore, the term 'calendar year' in which the vacancies are advertised is the year from the 1st of January to 31st December and, it is the first day of July of the said calendar year on which the person should not have attained the age of more than 40 years. The same in the present case is 2022 as the vacancies were advertised on 05.01.2022.

12. So far as the judgments relied upon the learned counsel for petitioner are concerned, I have perused both the judgments. The same are not applicable to the facts of the present case, as they are on entirely different facts.

13. No other submissions were made by learned counsel for petitioner.

14. Thus, there is no force in the submissions of learned counsel for petitioner.

15. The writ petition is dismissed.

(2022)05ILR A978
APPELLATE JURISDICTION

CIVIL SIDE
DATED LUCKNOW 04.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJAN ROY, J.

WRIT A No. 6640 of 2021

Rawan Awasthi ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant
Sri Vijay Kumar Srivastava, Sri Shailendra Kumar Dubey

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Ajay Kumar

A. Service Law – Compassionate Appointment - U.P. Recruitment Dependents of Government Servants Dying in Harness (Fifth Amendment), Rules 1999 - The petitioner completed her intermediate from C.B.S.E. Board prior to 02.05.2019 as the marksheet for the said examination issued by C.B.S.E. bears the said date and she applied for compassionate appointment thereafter on 30.09.2019. In fact, the petitioner on the date of death of her mother was less than sixteen years of age, therefore, she could not possibly apply for compassionate appointment. Para 3(8) of the G.O. dated 04.09.2000, itself permits submission of such applications within five years from the date of death of the deceased employee. One of the objects of such provision is to enable a dependent who is otherwise minor, may be slightly below the age of majority, so that he or she may not be deprived of such compassionate appointment and may not have to undergo the consequential financial deprivation. Therefore, the provision in para 3(5) does not appear to be reasonable by any standards. (Para 8)

The provision contained in para no. 3(5) of the aforesaid GO is patently unreasonable and hit by Art. 14 of the Constitution of India. However, instead of quashing the said provision, the ends of justice would suffice if the words are read down to mean that the dependent of the deceased employee who applies for compassionate appointment should possess the minimum educational qualification prescribed for the post in question on the date of submission of such application or on the date of being considered for selection but within the time limit prescribed by para 3(8) of the said GO dated 04.09.2000, otherwise the provision would not stand the test of Article 14 of the Constitution of India. This will protect it from being declared unconstitutional. (Para 9)

In view of the above clarification of law on the subject, the impugned orders dated 04.12.2019 and 27.08.2020 are quashed. The claim of the petitioner shall now be reconsidered for compassionate appointment for a clerical post in the light of the aforesaid, subject to availability of vacancy and the decision taken shall be communicated to the petitioner within three months. If there is no vacancy on a clerical post then the claim of the petitioner shall be considered for compassionate appointment against a Class-IV post. (Para 9)

Writ petition allowed. (E-4)

Present petition challenges the order dated 04.12.2019 as well as order dated 27.08.2020, to the extent it denies to give appointment on a Group – C post.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajan Roy, J.)

1. Heard Sri Vijay Kumar Srivastava, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Vivek Shukla, learned Additional C.S.C. and Sri Ajay Kumar, learned counsel for the B.S.A.

2. By means of this petition, the petitioner has prayed for the following relief (s):

"(I) A writ, order or direction in the nature of Certiorari thereby quashing the impugned order dated 04.12.2019 as well as the order dated 27.08.2020, passed by the opposite party No. 3, to the extent it denies to give appointment on a Group-C Post, contained as Annexure No. 1 and 2 to this writ petition.

(IA) a writ order or direction in the nature of Certiorari thereby quashing the Government Order dated 04.09.2000 to the extent it provides for attaining the educational qualification on the date of death of deceased employee, which is contained as annexure no.11 to the writ petition.

(II) A writ, order or direction in the nature of Mandamus thereby directing the opposite parties to provide appointment to the petitioner on Group-C Post under Dying-In-Harness Rules 1974.

(III) Any other order or direction may also be passed which the Hon'ble Court deems fit and proper under the facts and circumstances of the case.

3. The petitioner's mother was an Assistant Teacher at Primary School, Bhagginivada, Block-Shivrajpur, Kanpur Nagar. She died-in-harness on 07.10.2016. The applicant-petitioner who was at that time studying in intermediate after having passed the high school applied for compassionate appointment on 30.09.2019 after completing her intermediate. The claim has been rejected vide orders of B.S.A., Kanpur Nagar dated 04.12.2019 and 27.08.2020 on the ground that as per Government Order dated 04.09.2000, the person applying for compassionate appointment should have the requisite qualification for the post on the date of death of the deceased employee. It is worthwhile to mention that on the date of her mother's death, the petitioner was aged one month less than sixteen years, her date of birth being 20.11.2000. Para no.5 of the writ petition is relevant in this regard. The high school marksheet also discloses the aforesaid fact, copy of which is annexed as Annexure no.6 to the petition.

4. The State has not filed any counter affidavit inspite of order dated 28.07.2021 and subsequent orders dated 16.08.2021, 06.09.2021 and 21.09.2021. The Court, therefore, proceeds to decide the matter.

5. When the Court peruses the Government Order dated 04.09.2000, it finds that in para no.3 (5), the following provision has been made:-

"(5) ऐसे मृतक आश्रित जो, सम्बन्धित कर्मचारी की मृत्यु के दिनांक को मृतक आश्रित के रुप में सेवायोजन के लिये न्यूनतम शैक्षिक अर्हता इण्टरमीडिएट अथवा उससे अधिक रखते हों और बेसिक शिक्षा परिषद के अधीन अधीनस्थ स्तरों पर लिपिक के सम्वर्ग के सबसे नीचे के पद पर सेवायोजन के लिये अन्यथा अर्ह हों, को सम्बन्धित जनपद के लिपिक के fjDr पद के सापेक्ष्य संवर्ग में सबसे नीचे के पद पर सेवायोजन प्रदान किया जायेगा।

जनपद में fjDr लिपिक के पद पर मृतक आश्रित के रुप में सेवायोजन के लिए izkIr समस्त आवेदन पत्रों को प्रथम आगत प्रथम iznRr के आधार पर पंजीकृत किया जायेगा तथा विभाग के fjDr होने वाले पदों के सापेक्ष्य प्रथम आगत प्रथम iznRr के नियम का पालन lqfuf'pr करते हुए सेवायोजन प्रदान किया जायेगा। fu;qfDr प्राधिकारी तदनुसार मृतक आश्रित अभ्यर्थियों की सूची को प्रत्येक माह के प्रारम्भ में अपने कार्यालय के सूचना पटल पर प्रदर्शित करेंगे और प्रत्येक माह होने वाली fjfDr के सापेक्ष्य सेवायोजित मृतक आश्रित का नाम प्रदर्शित करते हुए mDr सूची का तदनुसार संशोधित कर अगले माह के प्रारम्भ में अद्यावधिक संशोधित सूची कार्यालय में सूचना पटल पर प्रदर्शित करते रहेंगे। तृतीय श्रेणी के fjDr पद के सापेक्ष्य मृतक आश्रित सेवायोजन के लिए प्रत्येक अभ्यर्थी के नाम fu;qfDr प्राधिकारी के कार्यालय में पंजीकृत होने की तिथि से पांच वर्ष की अवधि पूरी होने के माह के अंतिम कार्य दिवस तक यदि प्रथम आगत प्रथम iznRr के सिद्धान्त के अनुसार सेवायोजन हेतु श्रेणी तीन की रिक्ति उपलब्ध नहीं होती तो सम्बन्धित अभ्यर्थी का नाम पंजीकृत अभ्यर्थियों की सूची से निकाल दिया जायेगा किन्तु इस अवधि से पूर्व यदि श्रेणी चार के fjDr पद/अधिसंख्य पद के सापेक्ष्य सेवायोजन हेतु अपना संशोधित आवेदन पत्र fu;qfDr प्राधिकारी के कार्यालय में पंजीकृत करा लें तो उस पर विचार किया जायेगा।

मृतक आश्रित परिवार की कठिन परिस्थितियों को दृष्टिगत रखते हुए यदि कोई अभ्यर्थी, लिपिक संवर्ग के पद की fjfDr के सापेक्ष्य सेवायोजन में, सम्भावित विलम्ब को, दृष्टिगत रखते हुए यदि तत्काल सेवायोजन की आवश्यकता अनुभव करता हो तो नियुक्ति प्राधिकारी के लिए ऐसे अभ्यर्थियों के सम्बन्ध में चतुर्थ श्रेणी में fjDr या अधिसंख्य पदों के सापेक्ष्य मृतक आश्रित के पुनरीक्षित आवेदन पत्र प्रस्तुत करने पर सेवायोजन करने का अधिकार होगा। यहाँ यह स्पष्ट किया जाता है कि एक बार मृतक आश्रित के रुप में iznRr सेवायोजन की सुविधा पर पुर्नविचार का कोई अवसर नहीं रहेगा।"

6. Para no.3 (8) of the same Government Order reads as under:-

"(8) मृतक आश्रित द्वारा सम्बन्धित कर्मचारी के मृत्यु के दिनांक से पांच वर्ष के भीतर सेवायोजन के लिए आवेदन प्रस्तुत किया जा सकता है। परन्तु जहाँ राज्य सरकार को यह समाधान हो जाये कि सेवायोजन के लिए आवेदन करने के लिए नियत समय सीमा से किसी विशिष्ट मामले में, अनुचित कठिनाई होती है वहाँ वह अपेक्षाओं को, जिन्हें वह मामलें में न्यायसंगत और साम्यपूर्ण रीति से कार्यवाही करने के लिए आवश्यक समझे, अभियुक्त या शिथिल कर सकती हैं। नियमों से इस आशय की vfHkeqfDr/शिथिलीकरण के सम्बन्ध में प्रस्ताव सम्बन्धित नियुक्ति प्राधिकारी द्वारा शिक्षा निदेशक (बे०) के माध्यम से शासन को प्रेषित किये जायेंगे।"

7. Sub-para-(8) of para (3) of the aforesaid Government Order permits filing of such application for compassionate appointment within five years from the date of death of the deceased employee. In suitable cases, this time period can also be extended by the State Government. Para 3(1) of the aforesaid Government Order refers to the U.P. Recruitment of Dependents of Government Servants Dying in Harness (Fifth Amendment), Rules, 1999 and makes provision for the basic education schools accordingly. On a conjoint reading of various provisions contained in the Government Order dated 04.09.2000 especially para 3(5) and 3(8), there can be no rational and intelligible criteria for a condition such as the one mentioned in para 3(5) for providing compassionate appointment to such dependents of a deceased employee who possess the minimum qualification of intermediate or above for such employment as on the date of death of the deceased employee, meaning thereby, those not being the required qualification on the date of death of the deceased employee would not be considered for compassionate appointment The object of such a provision for providing compassionate appointment is to enable the family of the deceased employee to tied-over the financial crisis as has already been held in a catena of decisions. What if a dependent of the deceased employee acquires the minimum educational qualification prescribed for a particular post subsequent to date of death of the deceased employee and within the period of five years during which he/she can move such application for compassionate appointment. If in such eventuality, he/ she is to be denied consideration for compassionate appointment, it will be highly unreasonable and will defeat to the object sought to be achieved. In fact, in the 1974 Rules, as applicable to government servants, there is no such embargo. The provision for compassionate appointment in basic school has been brought about on similar lines as the 1974 Rules applicable to the government servants as amended in 1999 as already referred hereinabove and as is mentioned in para 3(1) of the Government Order dated 04.09.2000. Now, when the Court peruses the aforesaid rules of 1974 as amended in 1999, Rule (5) of the aforesaid Rules, 1974 it does not contain any such stipulation that the educational qualification should be fulfilled by such dependent of a deceased employee on the date of death of the deceased.

8. The petitioner completed her intermediate from C.B.S.E. Board prior to 02.05.2019 as the marksheet for the said examination issued by C.B.S.E. bears the said date and she applied for compassionate appointment thereafter on 30.09.2019. In fact, the petitioner on the date of death of her mother was less than sixteen years of age, therefore, she could not possibly apply for compassionate appointment. Para 3(8) of the aforesaid G.O. itself permits submission of such applications within five years from the date of death of the deceased employee. One of the objects of such provision is to enable a dependent who is otherwise minor, may be slightly below the age of majority, so that he or she may not be deprived of such compassionate appointment and may not have to undergo the consequential financial deprivation. Therefore, the provision in para 3(5) does not appear to be reasonable by any standards.

9. Considering the aforesaid, the provision contained in para no.3(5) of the aforesaid Government Order is patently unreasonable and hit by Article 14 of the Constitution of India. However, instead of quashing the said provision, the ends of justice would suffice if the words "(5) ऐसे मृतक आश्रित जो, सम्बन्धित कर्मचारी की मृत्यु के दिनांक को मृतक आश्रित के रुप में सेवायोजन के लिये न्यूनतम शैक्षिक अर्हता इण्टरमीडिएट अथवा उससे अधिक रखते हों ..." are read down to mean that the dependent of the deceased employee who applies for compassionate appointment should possess the minimum educational qualification prescribed for the post in question on the date of submission of such application or on the date of being considered for selection but within the time limit prescribed by para 3(8) of the said Government Order dated 04.09.2000, otherwise the provision would not stand the test of Article 14 of the Constitution of India. This will protect it from being declared unconstitutional. The Government Order shall now be read, understood and applied accordingly. In view of the above clarification of law on the subject, the impugned orders dated 04.12.2019 and 27.08,2020 are quashed. The claim of the petitioner shall now be reconsidered for compassionate appointment for a clerical post in the light of the aforesaid, subject to availability of vacancy and the decision taken shall be communicated to the petitioner within three months. If there is no vacancy on a clerical post then the claim of the petitioner shall be considered for compassionate appointment against a Class-IV post.

10. Accordingly, the writ petition is allowed in the aforesaid terms.

(2022)05ILR A982
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED LUCKNOW 07.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK CHAUDHARY, J.

WRIT A No. 2555 of 2022

Prakash Chandra Agarwal ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant
Sri Gaurav Mehrotra, Sri Akber Ahmed

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

A. Service Law – Disciplinary Inquiry - U.P. Government Servants (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 - Rule 7 - It is not merely the duty of the inquiry officer to comply with the Rule-7 but also the duty of the punishing authority, while passing order of punishment, to ensure that the inquiry is conducted as per the procedure prescribed. (Para 6)

In the present case, admittedly, there is violation of Rule-7 as the documents relied upon by the inquiry officer were never provided to the petitioner nor the inquiry is conducted following the procedure prescribed under Rule-7, i.e., by summoning the witnesses of the department, giving chance of cross examination, providing opportunity to the delinquent employee/petitioner to call his witnesses, therefore, impugned order dated 11.04.2022 cannot stand and is set aside. (Para 11)

B. The power exercised by the inquiry officers are quasi judicial in nature and for the same a judicially trained mind is required. The State Government is already having a Judicial Training and Research Institute (J.T.R.I.) which trains/educates the officers of the State Government on the legal compliances/procedures. (Para 8)

Director, J.T.R.I., Lucknow is directed to forthwith prepare an appropriate program for training of the inquiry officers as well as for training of the disciplinary authorities so that such mistakes are not repeated. (Para 9)

Writ petition allowed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. St. of U.P. & ors. Vs Vijay Anand Tiwari, Order dated 13.01.2021, passed in Writ-A No. 12110 of 2020 (Para 7)

Present petition challenges the punishment order dated 11.04.2022, passed by Additional Chief Secretary/Principal Secretary, Secretariat Administration Department, Lucknow.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vivek Chaudhary, J.)

1. Present writ petition is filed by the petitioner challenging his punishment order dated 11.04.2022 passed by Additional Chief Secretary/Principal Secretary, Secretariat Administration Department, Lucknow (respondent no.2).

2. By the impugned order, petitioner is given a punishment of censure entry and reversion to the post of Section Officer from the post of Under-Secretary.

3. At the very outset, learned counsel for petitioner submits that the inquiry was conducted by the Special Secretary, Medical Education Services, U.P., who submitted her report on 25.08.2021. He submits that in the present case, the inquiry officer was never provided the documents to which she had relied upon in the inquiry. The said documents were summoned by the inquiry officer during the conduct of the inquiry and were also perused by her. However, neither copy of the said documents were provided to the petitioner nor the same were permitted to be perused by the petitioner. Learned counsel for petitioner further submits that a bare perusal of the report shows that the inquiry was conducted in violation of Rule-7 of the U.P. Government Servants (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 (hereinafter referred to as 'Rules of 1999'), as no date, time and place was fixed in the inquiry.

4. I have perused the inquiry report as well as the impugned punishment order. A bare perusal of the same shows that the inquiry officer has, in fact, not merely failed to follow the procedure provided by Rule-7 of Rules of 1999 but has also placed burden upon the delinquent employee to prove that he is not guilty. In the first line of discussion, the inquiry officer states, that, delinquent employee through his reply to the charge-sheet/statements could not submit any evidence which would prove that the delinquent employee is wrongly charged.

5. In the present case, the Additional Chief Secretary was summoned along with the record. Today he is present in Court along with the record and with his assistance as well as assistance of the counsels for parties, record is perused. Learned Standing Counsel also could not show from the record of the case that the procedure as prescribed under Rule-7 of Rules of 1999 is followed in conducting the inquiry and any date, time and place was fixed for evidence or evidence relied upon/summoned was provided to the petitioner.

6. Though the matter is simple as it is to be remanded back, but, in large number of cases filed before this Court, it is found that the inquiry with regard to major penalty is conducted in violation of Rule-7 of Rules of 1999. The present case is a glaring example of the same. Inquiry officer is a Special Secretary and the punishing authority is a Principal Secretary. Still a glaring error is committed in conduct of the inquiry by the inquiry officer and in failure to check the same by the punishing authority before punishment order was issued. It is not merely the duty of the inquiry officer to comply with the Rule-7 but also the duty of the punishing authority, while passing order of punishment, to ensure that the inquiry is conducted as per the procedure prescribed.

7. Such mistakes in large numbers are occurring for quite some time now in the State. The State Government as far back as on 22.04.2015 issued a detailed government order explaining at length the manner in which inquiry with regard to minor punishment or major punishment should be conducted. The government order explains at length what is already prescribed in Rule-7. When the inquiries were still not being conducted in proper manner, again under order of this Court dated 13.01.2021 passed in Writ-A No.12110 of 2020; 'State of U.P. & Others Vs. Vijay Anand Tiwari', a Government Order dated 10.02.2021 was issued by the State Government for compliance of Rule-7. Despite two aforesaid government orders, the inquiries are still not conducted in a proper manner. It is sad to note that the both the aforesaid government orders are also not being complied with by the officials. It is also noted that in large number of cases, after remand when the inquiry is re-conducted, the same procedural error is again made and again the inquiry report is submitted without following the due procedure as per Rule-7. This is also putting burden of unnecessary litigation upon this Court. It is the duty of the inquiry officer as well as the punishing authority to ensure compliance of Rule-7.

8. Since these incidences are abundant in number, therefore, this Court finds it necessary now to ensure that every inquiry officer, who at present is conducting an inquiry or appointed to conduct any inquiry in future, is provided proper training with regard to the manner and procedure for conducting the inquiry. Similarly the disciplinary authorities are also required to go through a training with regard to the manner in which the inquiries are to be conducted and, thereafter, punishment orders are to be passed. It goes without saying that the power exercised by the inquiry officers are quasi judicial in nature and for the same a judicially trained mind is required. The State Government is already having a Judicial Training and Research Institute (J.T.R.I.) which trains/educates the officers of the State Government on the legal compliances/procedures.

9. Therefore, Director, J.T.R.I., Lucknow is directed to forthwith prepare an appropriate program for training of the inquiry officers as well as for training of the disciplinary authorities so that such mistakes are not repeated. The J.T.R.I shall also issue an appropriate identifiable certificate to every officer after he/she completes the training session. The relevant details of the said training session/certificates shall be referred by the officer concerned in every inquiry report submitted by him/her or punishment order passed. All the officers who are conducting any inquiry at present in the State shall attend the training without any delay and such inquiry officers shall conclude their inquiries only after their training is completed. Similarly the punishing authority shall also go through the required training before passing any punishment order and also refer to their session/certificate. It is further directed that no inquiry officer in future shall be appointed for departmental inquiry who has not received the training from the J.T.R.I. The State government shall bear the cost of the aforesaid training at J.T.R.I. at its own cost.

10. Senior Registrar of this Court shall forthwith send a copy of this order to the Chief Secretary of the State of U.P. as well as Director, J.T.R.I., Lucknow for its compliance.

11. Since, in the present case, admittedly, there is violation of Rule-7 as the documents relied upon by the inquiry officer were never provided to the petitioner nor the inquiry is conducted following the procedure prescribed under Rule-7, i.e., by summoning the witnesses of the department, giving chance of cross examination, providing opportunity to the delinquent employee/petitioner to call his witnesses, therefore, impugned order dated 11.04.2022 cannot stand and is set aside.

12. The matter is remanded back to respondent no.2 for conducting fresh inquiry after following proper procedure as prescribed under Rule-7.

13. With the aforesaid, the writ petition is allowed.

(2022)05ILR A985
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 21.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MRS. MANJU RANI CHAUHAN, J.

Writ A No. 959 of 2022

Smt. Kavita Sonkar ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Babu Lal Ram, Sri Ankit Sonker

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri M.N. Singh, Sri V.K.S. Raghuvanshi

A. Service Law – Appointment – Qualification/Eligibility - The essential qualifications for appointment to a post are for the employer to decide. The employer may prescribe additional or desirable qualifications, including any grant of preference. It is the employer who is best suited to decide the requirements a candidate must possess according to the needs of the employer and the nature of work. The court cannot lay down the conditions of eligibility, much less can it delve into the issue w.r.t. desirable qualifications being at par with the essential eligibility by an interpretive re-writing of the advertisement. Questions of equivalence will also fall outside the domain of judicial review. (Para 7, 8, 9)

If the language of the advertisement and the rules are clear, the court cannot sit in judgment over the same. If there is an ambiguity in the advertisement or it is contrary to any rules or law the matter has to go back to the appointing authority after appropriate orders, to proceed in accordance with law. In no case can the court, in the garb of judicial review, sit in the chair of the appointing authority to decide what is best for the employer and interpret the conditions of the advertisement contrary to the plain language of the same. (Para 8)

B. The recruitment/selection process should be made strictly in accordance with terms of the advertisement and the recruitment rules. (Para 10)

The petitioner possess the DCA Certificate, which is not equivalent to "O" Level certificate awarded by the DOEACC society or a qualification equivalent thereto, therefore, he is not eligible or qualified for the post of Assistant Review Officer as per the prescribed qualification mentioned in the advertisement, hence it would be impermissible to consider the petitioner as being eligible for the said post and relief as prayed has also not been granted. (Para 11)

Writ petition dismissed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. Zahoor Ahmad Rather Vs Imtiyaz Ahmad, (2019) 2 SCC 404 (Para 7)

2. Maharashtra Public Service Commission Vs Sandeep Shriram Warade, (2019) 6 SCC 362 (Para 8)

3. Punjab National Bank Vs Anit Kumar Das, 2020 SCC Online 897 (Para 9)

4. Yogesh Kumar & ors. Vs Government of NTC Delhi, (2003) 3 SCC 548 (Para 10)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Manju Rani Chauhan, J.)

1. Instructions passed on to the Court today, is kept on record.

2. Heard Mr. Babu Lal Ram, learned counsel for the petitioner and learned Standing Counsel for the State-respondent no.1 and Mr. V.K.S. Raghuvanshi, learned counsel for the respondents-Commission.

3. This writ petition has been filed by the petitioner with the following prayer:-

"(a) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing thereby call upon the respondents to produce order of cancellation of candidature of the petitioner passed by the respondents and this Hon'ble Court also be pleased to quash the aforesaid order regarding cancellation of candidature of the petitioner.

(b) issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of Mandamus directing the respondents to permit the petitioner to join her duty on the post of A.R.O. in pursuance of the advertisement No.A-6/E-1/2014 R.O./A.R.O. (direct/special recruitment examination 2014) and this Hon'ble Court also be pleased to direct the respondents to recommended selection of the petitioner on the post of R.O./A.R.O."

4. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the petitioner applied for the post of A.R.O. in pursuance of Advertisement No. A-6/E-1/2014 and was declared successful in the pre and main examination, but the appointment has not been given to the petitioner for the reasons best known respondents-Commission.

5. Learned counsel for the respondents-Commission, on the basis of instructions received, submits that one of the requirements for the post of Assistant Review Officer is that candidate, should possess 'O' Level Certificate in computer Application from an Institute recognized by the Government. He further submits that the petitioner, who applied for the post of A.R.O., did not possess "O" Level certificate awarded by the DOEACC society or a qualification equivalent thereto, therefore, his candidature has been rejected when the document were being verified. Thus, the relief as prayed can not be granted.

6. From perusal of impugned advertisement as well as the document as annexed at page 23&24 to the petition, it is clear that the petitioner possesses the DCA Certificate, which is not equivalent "O" Level certificate awarded by the DOEACC society or a qualification equivalent thereto, therefore, he is not eligible or qualified for the post of Assistant Review Officer as per the prescribed qualification mentioned in the advertisement. It is the Commission/competent authority, who has right to consider the case of the petitioner and it is not the function of the Court to adjudge or evaluate the suitability or desirability of a particular qualification that may be prescribed. Here too the Courts must exercise due restraint and desist from treading down this path since these issues must be left to the fair judgment and assessment of the employer and the experts in the field.

7. The Apex Court in the case of Zahoor Ahmad Rather Vs. Imtiyaz Ahmad, reported in (2019) 2 SCC 404 has held as under: -

*"26. ..... The prescription of qualifications for a post is a matter of recruitment policy. The State as the employer is entitled to prescribe the qualifications as a condition of eligibility. It is no part of the role or function of judicial review to expand upon the ambit of the prescribed qualifications. Similarly, equivalence of a qualification is not a matter which can be determined in exercise of the power of judicial review. Whether a particular qualification should or should not be regarded as equivalent is a matter for the State, as the recruiting authority, to determine. The decision in Jyoti K.K. [Jyoti K.K. v. Kerala Public Service Commission, (2010) 15 SCC 596 : (2013) 3 SCC (L&S) 664] turned on a specific statutory rule under which the holding of a higher qualification could presuppose the acquisition of a lower qualification. The absence of such a rule in the present case makes a crucial difference to the ultimate outcome. In this view of the matter, the Division Bench [Imtiyaz Ahmad v. Zahoor Ahmad Rather, LPA (SW) No. 135 of 2017, decided on 12-10-2017 (J&K)] of the High Court was justified in reversing the judgment [Zahoor Ahmad Rather v. State of J&K, 2017 SCC OnLine J&K 936] of the learned Single Judge and in coming to the conclusion that the appellants did not meet the prescribed qualifications. We find no error in the decision [Imtiyaz Ahmad v. Zahoor Ahmad Rather, L*PA (SW) No. 135 of 2017, decided on 12-10-2017 (J&K)] of the Division Bench."

8. The Apex Court in the case of Maharashtra Public Service Commission Vs. Sandeep Shriram Warade, reported in (2019) 6 SCC 362 has also held as under:-

"9. The essential qualifications for appointment to a post are for the employer to decide. The employer may prescribe additional or desirable qualifications, including any grant of preference. It is the employer who is best suited to decide the requirements a candidate must possess according to the needs of the employer and the nature of work. The court cannot lay down the conditions of eligibility, much less can it delve into the issue with regard to desirable qualifications being on a par with the essential eligibility by an interpretive re-writing of the advertisement. Questions of equivalence will also fall outside the domain of judicial review. If the language of the advertisement and the rules are clear, the court cannot sit in judgment over the same. If there is an ambiguity in the advertisement or it is contrary to any rules or law the matter has to go back to the appointing authority after appropriate orders, to proceed in accordance with law. In no case can the court, in the garb of judicial review, sit in the chair of the appointing authority to decide what is best for the employer and interpret the conditions of the advertisement contrary to the plain language of the same."

9. The Full Bench of the Apex Court in the case of Punjab National Bank Vs. Anit Kumar Das, 2020 SCC Online SC 897 has observed as under:-

"21.Thus, as held by this Court in the aforesaid decisions, it is for the employer to determine and decide the relevancy and suitability of the qualifications for any post and it is not for the Courts to consider and assess. A greater latitude is permitted by the Courts for the employer to prescribe qualifications for any post. There is a rationale behind it. Qualifications are prescribed keeping in view the need and interest of an Institution or an Industry or an establishment as the case may be. The Courts are not fit instruments to assess expediency or advisability or utility of such prescription of qualifications....."

10. The recruitment/selection process should be made strictly in accordance with terms of the advertisement and the recruitment rules as has been held by the Apex Court in the case of Yogesh Kumar And Others vs Government Of NTC Delhi reported in (2003) 3 SCC 548.

11. In view of the aforesaid discussion, the Court is of the considered view that the petitioner possess the DCA Certificate, which is not equivalent "O" Level certificate awarded by the DOEACC society or a qualification equivalent thereto, therefore, he is not eligible or qualified for the post of Assistant Review Officer as per the prescribed qualification mentioned in the advertisement, hence it would be impermissible to consider the petitioner as being eligible for the said post and relief as prayed has also not been granted.

12. Accordingly, this writ petition lacks merits and is dismissed.

(2022)05ILR A988
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 27.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE J.J. MUNIR, J.

Writ-A No. 718 of 2014

Virendra Pratap Singh ...Petitioner
Versus
U.P. State Bridge Corp. Ltd. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Ram Singh 'Paliwal', Ramesh Pandey

Counsel for the Respondents:
Shishir Jain, Ram Ratan

Civil Law – Constitution of India,1950 – Article 226 - UP Uttar Pradesh St. Bridge Corp. Ltd. Service Rules – Rule 40, 40(13)(3), Model Conduct, Discipline And Appeal Rules, 1991 - Rule 33, 35 - Termination – petitioner's services - on the ground of wilful absence from duty which is a matter of misconduct – petitioner's case is that due to suffering from sciatica, spondylitis followed by Paralysis as well as his wife's long-illness he did not discharge his duties – even though during said period he applied for all kinds of leaves – as such absence is neither deliberate nor intentional - it is not a case of abandonment of employment or deemed resignation under the corporation rules – order of termination is unsustainable and quashed – petitioner would be entitle to benefits of his post until age of superannuation thereafter whatever consequential benefits would be follow – he would not entitled to any pecuniary benefit for the absence period – writ petition allowed with directions accordingly. (Para – 32, 33, 35, 38, 39)

Writ Petition Allowed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited: -

1. Aligarh Muslim University Vs Mansoor Ali Khan [(2000) 7 SCC 529 : 2002 SCC (L&S) 965 : AIR 2000 SC 2783]

2. Buckingham and Carnatic Co. Ltd. Vs Venkatiah & anr., AIR 1964 SC 1272

3. Delhi Transport Corporation Vs D.T.C. Mazdoor Congress & ors., 1991 Supp1 SCC 600

4. Jeewanlal (1929) Ltd., Calcutta Vs Workmen, AIR 1961 SC 1567

5. G.T. Lad Vs Chemical and Fibres of India Ltd. [(1979) 1 SCC 590 : 1979 SCC (L&S) 76 : AIR 1979 SC 582]

6. Vijay S. Sathaye Vs Indian Airlines Ltd. & ors., (2013) 10 SCC 253

(Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. The petitioner is an ex-employee of the Uttar Pradesh State Bridge Corporation Limited. His services were terminated by an order dated 31.12.2012 on the ground of wilful absence from duty. It is this order that the petitioner has impugned in the present writ petition.

2. Heard Mr. Ram Singh Paliwal, learned Counsel for the petitioner and Mr. Ram Ratan, learned Counsel for all the respondents.

3. The petitioner was appointed on the post of a Junior Engineer with the Uttar Pradesh State Bridge Corporation Limited (for short, 'the Corporation') w.e.f. 18.03.1981 vide a letter of appointment dated 09.03.1981. He joined service on 18.03.1981 at Allahabad (now Prayagraj). Until the date of the impugned order terminating his services, the petitioner had rendered 31 years service. It is the petitioner's case that he suffered from spondylitis followed by paralysis and sciatica during the period 04.05.2008 to 18.05.2012. This long spell of ailment of the petitioner was followed by his wife's illness. It is not in dispute that during the period 04.05.2008 to 18.05.2012, the petitioner did not discharge his duties, which the Corporation have termed as unauthorized absence.

4. It is the petitioner's case that during the aforesaid period of time, he had applied for sanction of all kinds of leave available, including medical leave, through applications made on various dates. Some of these leave applications were granted. The petitioner says that his absence from duty is neither deliberate nor intentional. It was caused by his own sickness, followed by that of his wife. The petitioner was under treatment for his spondylitis at Gorakhpur. The petitioner submitted his joining report on 19.05.2012 to the Office of the Deputy `Project Manager of the Corporation at its Pratapgarh unit. The petitioner was not allowed to join, though he submitted repeat representations before the Corporation through their competent Authorities. The petitioner says that the impugned order of termination dated 31.12.2012 was sent to his local address, whereas he was residing at Gorakhpur in connection with his treatment. For the said reason, he could not come to know of the order in good time. It is the petitioner's case that his services have been terminated without issuing him a show-cause notice or initiating disciplinary proceedings on ground of misconduct, in accordance with the provisions of Rules 33 and 35 of the Model Conduct, Discipline and Appeal Rules, 1991 (amended in the year 1998, as applicable to the Corporation) (for short, "the 1991 Rules).

5. A counter affidavit on behalf of the Corporation has been filed on 07.08.2014, to which the petitioner filed a rejoinder on 1st of November, 2014. The stand of the Corporation in the counter affidavit, briefly put, is that the petitioner remained unauthorizedly absent from duty since 04.05.2008 for a period of more than four years. It is their case that the petitioner unauthorizedly absented himself from duty for a long period of time and did not join for a single day during this period of four years. The petitioner was, therefore, held to have abandoned employment with the Corporation and his services were terminated as such by the order impugned dated 31.12.2012. Dilating more upon the petitioner's conduct during the period of his unauthorized absence, it is averred in the counter affidavit that he was sanctioned earned leave for the period 21.04.2008 to 03.05.2008, but after 03.05.2008, the petitioner did not join duty. The Deputy Project Manager of the Corporation's unit at Pratapgarh, under whom the petitioner was posted, vide a letter dated 08.05.2008, directed the petitioner to join duty. He also sent a telegram.

6. It is the Corporation's case that the petitioner did not join his duties but submitted a leave application through another person, that was answered by the Deputy Project Manager vide his letter dated 03.06.2008. The petitioner then requested for extension of leave due to his illness, that was placed before the Corporation Headquarters. The Corporation Headquarters issued a letter dated 18.07.2008, directing the Deputy Project Manager of the Pratapgarh unit to ensure the petitioner's medical examination. In compliance, the Deputy Project Manager of the Corporation at the Pratapgarh unit vide his letters dated 29.07.2008 and 14.08.2008, directed the petitioner to appear before the Chief Medical Officer, Pratapgarh for his medical examination, but the said letters were returned by the postal agency with the remark: "लिखित पते पर कोई नहीं रहता है". It is then said that the petitioner did not get himself medically examined and continued to send leave applications on the ground of his illness and subsequently that of his wife. In this manner, the petitioner remained unauthorizedly absent without sanction of leave for more than four years.

7. It is pleaded that consequently, the Corporation inferred that the petitioner was not interested in serving them, but somehow to maintain his lien, he would send leave applications, without receiving letters sent to him by the Corporation. He was, in the Corporation's submission, trying to avoid resuming duties on one pretext or the other. The Corporation, therefore, say that the impugned order dated 31.12.2012 is just, legal and valid. The medical certificate dated 10.01.2010 relied upon by the petitioner, a copy of which is annexed as Annexure No.4 to the writ petition, has been castigated as one not issued by any Government Hospital. It is further said that by the said certificate, the petitioner was declared fit to join, but he did not join duties after the date of the said certificate and remained unauthorizedly absent for about two and a half years thereafter.

8. In paragraph No.9 of the counter affidavit, the Corporation have referred to a certain Rule 40 of the Uttar Pradesh State Bridge Corporation Limited Service Rules (hereinafter referred to as, 'the Service Rules'), which inter-alia governs the right to leave. The Rule says that leave cannot be claimed as a matter of right. It is also provided that "when the exigencies of service so require, discretion to refuse or revoke leave of any description, is reserved to the Authority empowered to grant it", to quote the words of the Rule. The Corporation have taken a stand that as leave could not be claimed as a matter of right and no leave in point of fact was sanctioned beyond 3rd of May, 2008, the petitioner remained unauthorizedly absent from duty for more than four years. As such, his services have rightly been terminated in accordance with the Rules by the order impugned.

9. The petition was not formally admitted to hearing when it came up before this Court on 25.10.2021, but since parties had exchanged affidavits, it was formally admitted. The Court formulated the following question for consideration at the hearing, while admitting the writ petition:

'Whether the petitioner's services for wilful absence from duty were terminated as a matter of misconduct or in the exercise of some power of abandonment of employment exercised (sic) by the employer under the relevant leave rules?'

10. Since in the counter affidavit, and otherwise too no Rule was placed before the Court, indicating the nature and the source of the power that was exercised to terminate the petitioner's services, the Court required the Managing Director of the Corporation to file his personal affidavit, adjourning hearing to 28.10.2021. The Managing Director of the Corporation filed his personal affidavit on 28.10.2021 in Court. The Managing Director has come out with a more informed stand on behalf of the Corporation. The source of power to terminate the petitioner's services has been clearly indicated to be Rule 40.13 (referred to in the Managing Director's affidavit as "paragraph 13') of the Service Rules, more particularly, Rule 40.13.3. It is stated by the Managing Director in paragraph No.11 of the counter affidavit that vide letter No. 1376/2E/08-09 dated 24.09.2001, the petitioner was informed that a disciplinary inquiry had been instituted against him vide Memo No. 1921 ESB/2429 SBC/08 dated 08.09.2008, but the inquiry could not be completed against him because of his non-cooperation.

11. The stand of the Corporation would, therefore, show that initially they decided to initiate disciplinary proceedings in the year 2008, but gave up the same mid-way and chose to fall back upon their power under Rule 40.13.3 of the Service Rules to terminate the petitioner's services simplicitor, on account of his long absence, without holding disciplinary proceedings. It is, thus, evident that the petitioner's services have been terminated, according to the Corporation, by the order impugned simplicitor on account of his long absence, which could have been dealt with as a misconduct, but was not. In fact, disciplinary proceedings were initiated, but not pursued to their logical conclusion. The power under Rule 40.13.3 of the Service Rules was exercised by the Corporation after the petitioner submitted his joining report on 09.05.2012. It was done by the impugned order dated 31.12.2012 with effect from the date of the said order.

12. The question posed hereinabove is, therefore, required to be carefully examined.

13. Learned Counsel for the petitioner has strenously argued that the petitioner's services could not have been dispensed with by an order simplicitor even if he had absented from duty, as he was a permanent employee. Absenting from duty is also a kind of misconduct, on the basis of which the petitioner could have been proceeded with against by the Corporation in their disciplinary jurisdiction and dealt with according to law, but the Corporation could not have terminated the petitioner's services, where, under the statutory Rules, he holds a lien on the post, simply on account of long absence. It is emphasized that the petitioner is not a temporary employee or a probationer, but the holder of a post under the Corporation, who are a State establishment and his conditions of service are governed by statutory Service Rules. Therefore, for the claimed misconduct, the petitioner ought to have been proceeded with departmentally, affording him due opportunity in disciplinary proceedings, where the Corporation would have to establish charge against the petitioner to the effect that he remained not only absent, but did so intentionally and deliberately, without justification. At the inquiry, the petitioner would be entitled to show that his absence was not intentional or deliberate, and further, that he had a justification to offer on account of his ill-health. The Corporation have deprived him of a civil post held under them, protected by Statute, without following the procedure prescribed for holding disciplinary proceedings in such matters. The impugned order, according to the learned Counsel for the petitioner, is, therefore, bad in law.

14. The learned Counsel for the petitioner, in support of his contention, has placed reliance upon the decision of the Constitution Bench of the Supreme Court in Delhi Transport Corporation v. D.T.C. Mazdoor Congress and others, 1991 Supp (1) SCC 600, where it has been held:

"Nature of the power of statutory authority to terminate the services of its employees

264. In Sukhdev Singh v. Bhagatram [(1975) 1 SCC 421 : 1975 SCC (L&S) 101 : (1975) 3 SCR 619] the Constitution Bench of this Court put a nail in the coffin of the play of the private master's power to hire and fire his employees and held that Regulations or Rules made under a statute apply uniformly to everyone or to all members of the same group or class. They impose obligations on the statutory authorities who cannot deviate from the conditions of service and any deviation will be enforced through legal sanction of declaration by courts to invalidate the actions in violation of the Rules or Regulations. The statutory bodies have no free hand in framing the terms or conditions of service of their employees. The Regulations bind both the authorities and also the public. The powers of the statutory bodies are derived, controlled and restricted by the statutes which create them and the Rules and Regulations framed thereunder. The statute, thereby, fetters the freedom of contract. Accordingly declaration was granted that dismissal or removal of an employee by statutory corporation in contravention of statutory provision as void. Mathew, J. in a separate but concurring judgment held that a Public Corporation being the creation of a statute is subject to statutory limitation as a State itself. The preconditions of this Part II viz. that the corporation is created by statute and, the existence of power in the corporation is to invade a statutory right of the individual. Therefore, the governing power must be subject to fundamental statutory limitations. The need to subject the power centres to the control of the Constitution requires an expansion of concept of State action. The duty of State is affirmative duty seeing that all essentials of life are made available to all persons. The task of State today is to make the achievement of good life both by removing obstacles in the path of such achievement and by assisting individual in realising his ideal of self-perfection. The employment under public corporation is a public employment and, therefore, the employee should have the protection which appertains to public employment. (emphasis supplied) The court must, therefore, adopt the attitude that declaration is a normal remedy for a wrongful dismissal in case of public employees which can be refused in exceptional circumstances. The remedy of declaration should be a remedy made an instrument to provide reinstatement in public sector. This principle was extended to numerous instances where the termination of services of the employees of a statutory corporation was affected in violation of the principles of natural justice or in transgression of the statutory rules etc. In Managing Director, U.P. State Warehousing Corporation v. Vinay Narayan Vajpayee [(1980) 3 SCC 459 : 1980 SCC (L&S) 453 : (1980) 2 SCR 773] (SCR pp. 780-F to G and 783-C to 784-A (sic): SCC p. 466, para 14 and pp. 467-68, para 18) this Court held that statutory body cannot terminate the services of its employees without due enquiry held in accordance with the principles of natural justice. The persons in public employment are entitled to the protection of Articles 14 and 16 of the Constitution, when the service was arbitrarily terminated. The question, therefore, is whether the statutory corporations are entitled to be invested with absolute freedom to terminate the services of its employees in terms of the contract of service.

265. In Ramana Dayaram Shetty v. International Airport Authority of India [(1979) 3 SCC 489 : (1979) 3 SCR 1014 : AIR 1979 SC 1628] this Court held that expression of welfare and social service functions necessitate the State to assume control over natural and economic resources and large scale natural and commercial activities. For the attainment of socio-economic justice, there is vast and notable increase of frequency with which ordinary citizens come into relationship of direct encounters with the State. The government in a welfare State is the regulator and dispenser of social services and provider of large number of benefits, including jobs etc. Thousands of people are employed in Central/State Government Services and also under local authorities.

The government, therefore, cannot act arbitrarily. It does not stand in the same position as a private individual. In a democratic government by rule of law, the executive government or any of its officers cannot be held to be possessed of arbitrary power over the interests of the individuals. Every action of the government must be informed with reason and should be free from arbitrariness. That is the very essence of rule of law. It was further held: (SCC p. 506, para 12)

"It must, therefore, be taken to be the law that where the government is dealing with the public, whether by way of giving jobs or entering into contracts ... the government cannot act arbitrarily at its sweet will and, like a private individual, deal with any person it pleases, but its action must be in conformity with standard of norm which, is not arbitrary, irrational or irrelevant. The power of discretion of the government in the matter of grant of largesse including award of jobs, ... must be conditioned and structured by rational, relevant and non-discriminatory standard or norm and if the government departs from such standard or norm in any particular case or cases, the action or the government would be liable to be struck down, unless it can be shown by the government that the departure was not arbitrary, but was based on some valid principle which in itself was not irrational, unreasonable or discriminatory."

266. This statement of law, though was made in the context of contractual relations, it is a general law with width and amplitude which permeates the entire spectrum of actions, legislative as well as executive.

The position of the public employee whether is status

271. The distinguishing feature of public employment is status. In Roshanlal Tandon v. Union of India [(1968) 1 SCR 185, 195 D-E : AIR 1967 SC 1889 : (1968) 1 LLJ 576] the Constitution Bench held that the legal position of a government servant is more one of status than of contract. The hallmark of status is the attachment to a legal relationship of rights and duties imposed by the public law and not by mere agreement of the parties. The employment of the government servant and his terms of service are governed by statute or statutory rules. Once he is appointed to the post or office, the government servant acquires a status and his rights and obligations are no longer determined by consent of both parties but by statute or statutory rules. The relationship between the government and its servants is not like an ordinary contract of service between a master and servant. The legal relationship is in the nature of status. The duties of statute (sic status) are fixed by the law and in the enforcement of the duties society has an interest. Status is a condition of membership of a group of which powers and duties are exclusively determined by law and not by agreement between the parties concerned. In Calcutta Dock Labour Board v. Jaffar Imam [(1965) 3 SCR 453 : AIR 1966 SC 282 : (1965) 2 LLJ 112] it was held that the statutory scheme of employment confers on the worker a status. An unlawful act is an interference with status. This view was followed in Sirsi Municipality v. Cecelia Kom Francis Tellis [(1973) 1 SCC 409 : 1973 SCC (L&S) 207 : (1973) 3 SCR 348] . Beg, J. (as he then was) held that the principles applicable to the relation of a private master and servant unregulated by statute, could not apply to the cases of a public statutory body exercising powers of punishment fettered or limited by statute and relevant rules of procedure. This Court in a recent decision extended all the benefits of pay scales to all the Central Government corporate sector employees. It is, thus, I hold that the employees of the corporations, statutory authority or instrumentality under Article 12 have statutory status as a member of its employees. The rights and obligations are governed by the relevant statutory provisions and the employer and employee are equally bound by those statutory provisions.

Nature of the right of a permanent employee to a post

272. In Parshotam Lal Dhingra v. Union of India [1958 SCR 828 : AIR 1958 SC 36 : (1958) 1 LLJ 544] it was held that the appointment to a permanent post may be substantive or on probation or on officiating basis. A substantive appointment to a permanent post in a public service covers normally substantive right to the post and he becomes entitled to hold a lien on the post. He is entitled to continue in office till he attains the age of superannuation as per rules or is dismissed or removed from service for inefficiency, misconduct or negligence or any other disqualification in accordance with the procedure prescribed in the rules, and fair and reasonable opportunity of being heard or on compulsory retirement or in certain circumstances, subject to the conditions like re-employment on abolition of post. In Moti Ram Deka v. General Manager [(1964) 5 SCR 683 : AIR 1964 SC 600 : (1964) 2 LLJ 467] a majority of seven Judges' bench held that a permanent post carries a definite rate of pay without a limit of time and a servant who substantively holds a permanent post has a title to hold the post to which he is substantively appointed, and that in terms, means that a permanent servant has a right to hold the post until, of course, he reaches superannuation or until he is compulsorily retired under the relevant rule. If for any other reason that right is invaded and he is asked to leave the service the termination of his service must inevitably mean the defeat of his right to continue in service and as such, it is in the nature of penalty and amounts to removal. In other words, termination of service of a permanent servant, otherwise than on superannuation of compulsory retirement, must per se amount to his removal and so, by Rule 148(3) or Rule 149(3) of Railway Establishment Rules if such a termination is brought about, the rule clearly contravenes Article 311(2) and must be held to be invalid. A permanent employment assures security of tenure which is essential for the efficiency and incorruptibility of public administration. In Gurudev Singh Sidhu v. State of Punjab [(1964) 7 SCR 587, 592-93 : AIR 1964 SC 1585 : (1965) 1 LLJ 323] another Constitution Bench held that for efficient administration of the State, it is absolutely essential that permanent public servant should enjoy a sense of security of tenure. The safeguard which Article 311(2) affords is no more than this that in case it is intended to dismiss or remove or reduce them in rank, a reasonable opportunity should be given to them of showing cause against the action proposed to be taken in regard to them. In Moti Ram Deka case [(1964) 5 SCR 683 : AIR 1964 SC 600 : (1964) 2 LLJ 467] it was further held that in a modern democratic State, the efficiency and incorruptibility of public administration is of such importance that it is essential to afford to civil servants adequate protection against capricious action from their superior authority. If a permanent civil servant is guilty of misconduct, he should no doubt be proceeded against promptly under the relevant disciplinary rules, subject, of course, to the safeguard prescribed by Article 311(2); but in regard to honest, straightforward and efficient permanent civil servants, it is of utmost importance, even from the point of view of the State, that they should enjoy a sense of security which alone can make them independent and truly efficient. The sword of Damocles hanging over the heads of permanent railway servants in the form of Rule 148(3) or Rule 149(3) would inevitably create a sense of insecurity in the minds of such servants and would invest appropriate authorities with very wide powers which may conceivably be abused. Thereby this Court laid emphasis that a permanent employee has a right or lien on the post he holds until his tenure of service reaches superannuation so as to earn pension at the evening of his life unless it is determined as per law. An assurance of security of service to a public employee is an essential requisite for efficiency and incorruptibility of public administration. It is also an assurance to take independent drive and initiative in the discharge of the public duties to alongate (sic actuate) the goals of social justice set down in the Constitution.

273. This Court in Daily Rated Casual Labour v. Union of India [(1988) 1 SCC 122 : 1988 SCC (L&S) 138 : (1987) 5 ATC 228] (SCC pp. 130-31) further held that the right to work, the right to free choice of employment, the right to just and favourable conditions of work, the right to protection against unemployment etc. and the right to security of work are some of the rights which have to be ensured by appropriate legislative and executive measures. It is true that all these rights cannot be extended simultaneously. But they do indicate the socialist goal. The degree of achievement in this direction depends upon the economic resources, willingness of the people to produce and more than all the existence of industrial peace throughout the country. Of those rights the question of security of work is of most importance. If a person does not have the feeling that he belongs to an organisation engaged in production he will not put forward his best effort to produce more (emphasis supplied). That sense of belonging arises only when he feels that he will not be turned out of employment the next day at the whim of the management. It is for this reason it is being repeatedly observed by those who are in charge of economic affairs of the countries in different parts of the world that as far as possible security of work should be assured to the employees so that they may contribute to the maximisation of production.

274. It must, therefore, be held that a permanent employee of a statutory authority, corporation or instrumentality under Article 12 has a lien on the post till he attains superannuation or is compulsorily retired or service is duly terminated in accordance with the procedure established by law. Security of tenure enures the benefit of pension on retirement. Dismissal, removal or termination of his/her service for inefficiency, corruption or other misconduct is by way of penalty. He/she has a right to security of tenure which is essential to inculcate a sense of belonging to the service or organisation and involvement for maximum production or efficient service. It is also a valuable right which is to be duly put an end to only as per valid law."

15. The learned Counsel for the Corporation, on the other hand, has submitted that Rule 40.13.3 is as much a statutory rule as any other, and prescribes a valid mode by which the services of a permanent employee may come to an end. He submits that for long and unauthorized absence that cannot be adjusted or regularized against any class of leave available to an employee, it has to be presumed that the employee concerned has resigned his position and abandoned employment.

16. This Court has carefully considered the rival submissions, perused the impugned order, the provisions of the Service Rules and the stand taken by the Authorities in their affidavits, particularly, the personal affidavit filed by the Managing Director of the Corporation.

17. In order to understand the nature of the power exercised by the Corporation, reference must be made to Chapter VII of the Service Rules. This is so because the Corporation's stand appears to be that they have chosen not to proceed against the petitioner for his long and unauthorized absence as an act of misconduct, but an act of abandonment of employment under sub-Rule 13.3 of Rule 40 of the Service Rules. It must be clarified here that the Corporation in their affidavit have seemingly, by error of nomenclature, referred to sub-Rule 13 of Rule 40 as Paragraph 13 of the Service Rules. The scheme of Chapter VII shows that it carries a single Rule 40, which has 23 sub-Rules and their clauses. It would be gainful to quote sub-Rules 1 to 13 of Rule 40 of the Service Rules:

अध्याय - सात
अवकाश नियम

अवकाश का अधिकार :40. 1 अवकाश का दावा अधिकार के रूप में नहीं किया जा सकता है। जब सेवा की अत्यावश्यकता के कारण ऐसा करना अपेक्षित हो तो किसी भी प्रकार के अवकाश को अस्वीकृत या प्रतिसंहृत (रद्द) करने का विवेक, अवकाश स्वीकर्ता प्राधिकारी का होगा।

अवकाश का अर्जन : 2 कार्य करने के पश्चात ही अवकाश अर्जित किया जाता है अवकाश की समाप्ति के पश्चात भी जानबूझकर कार्य से अनुपस्थित रहने को दुराचार माना जा सकता है।

अवकाश स्वीकर्ता प्राधिकारी : 3 अन्यथा रूप से स्पष्टतः विहित प्राविधान सिवाय, ऐसे अवकाश को छोड़कर जो सेवानिवृत्ति की तिथि से आगे तक का हो, अन्य अवकाश निगम के ऐसे प्रधिकारियों द्वारा स्वीकृत किया जा सकता है जिन्हे बोर्ड नियमों अथवा आदेशों द्वारा विनिर्द्रिष्ट करें।

अवकाश का प्रारंभ और समापनः 4 अवकाश, साधारणतया, उस दिनांक से शुरू होता है जिस दिनांक को कार्यभार हस्तांतरित किया गया हो और उस दिनांक से ठीक पूर्व के दिनांक को समाप्त होता हैं जिस दिनांक को कार्यभार पुनः ग्रहण किया गया हो। अवकाश या कार्यभार ग्रहण के समय पूर्व या पश्चात में पड़ने वाले रविवार या अन्य मान्य अवकाश दिवसों को ऐसी शर्तो और ऐसी परिस्थितियों के अधीन रहते हुए, जिन्हें बोर्ड द्वारा विहित किया जाय, जोड़ा जा सकता है।

अवकाश को संयुक्त करना : 5 नियमावली में उपबंधित के सिवाय इस नियमावली के अधीन किसी भी प्रकार के अवकाश को किसी अन्य प्रकार के अवकाश की निरन्तरता में अथवा उस के साथ संयुक्त करके स्वीकृत किया जा सकता।

अवकाश की अवधि में सेवायोजन : 6अवकाश पर रहते हुए कोई कर्मचारी, सक्षम प्राधिकारी की पूर्व स्वीकृति प्राप्त किए बिना कोई सेवायोजन नही प्राप्त करेगा।

अवकाश से वापस बुलाया जानाः7 1किसी कर्मचारी को उसके अवकाश की समाप्ति के पूर्व कार्य पर बुलाये जाने के सभी आदेशों में बताया जाना चाहिए कि कर्तव्य (ड्यूटी) पर आना ऐच्छिक है या अनिवार्य है।

2 यदि यह अनिवार्य है तो वह उस दिनांक से जब वह उस स्टेशन के लिए यात्रा शुरू करता है जिसपर पहुँचने के लिए उसे आदेश दिया गया है, ड्यूटी पर समझे जाने का और अपनी यात्रा के लिए यात्रा भत्ता आहरित करने का हकदार होगा।

अवकाश की समाप्ति पर कार्य पर वापसीः 8 जब तक कि अवकाश स्वीकृत करने वाला प्राधिकारी उसे अनुमति न दे दे अवकाश पर गया हुआ कोई कर्मचारी उसे स्वीकृत किए गये अवकाश की अवधि की समाप्ति के पूर्व कार्य पर वापस नही आ सकेगा।

आकस्मिक अवकाशः 9 कोई भी कर्मचारी एक कैलेण्डर वर्ष में 14 दिन से अनधिक और किसी एक समय में 10 दिन से अनधिक आकस्मिक अवकाश लेने का हकदार होगा। प्रतिबन्ध यह है कि यदि कोई कर्मचारी निगम की सेवा कैलेण्डर वर्ष के बीच में ग्रहण करता है तो स्वीकर्ता प्राधिकारी स्वविवेक से आनुपातिक रूप में आकस्मिक अवकाश प्रदान कर सकता है।

आकस्मिक/ विशेष अवकाश को किसी अन्य अवकाश के साथ संयुक्तिकरण पर प्रतिबन्धः 10 आकस्मिक अवकाश को किसी अन्य अवकाश को किसी अन्य अवकाश के साथ संयुक्त नहीं किया जायेगा और वह कैलेण्डर वर्ष की समाप्ति के साथ व्यपगत हो जायेगा।

अर्जित अवकाशः 11 किसी कर्मचारी द्वारा उसके सेवाकाल की अवधि में अर्जित अवकाश की दर, आगामी संचयन व्यपगत होने के पूर्व संचित होने वाले अवकाश की अधिकतम संख्या तथा किसी कर्मचारी को एक समय में स्वीकृत की जा सकने वाले अवकाश की संख्या राज्य सरकार के कर्मचारियों पर लागू नियमों एवं विनियमों के समान होगी। फिर भी, विनिर्दिष्ट मामलों में, जहाँ बोर्ड इन नियमों को संशोधित करने का निर्णय ले तो वह राज्य सरकार के पूर्वानुमोदन से ऐसा कर सकता है। प्रतिनियुक्ति पर कार्यरत कर्मचारी और संविदा पर कार्यरत कर्मचारी भी निगम में प्रवृत्त अवकाश नियगों से शासित होंगें जबतक कि उनकी नियुक्ति/ प्रतिनियुक्ति के समय अन्यथा रूप से उपबंधित न किया गया हो।

निजी कार्य पर अर्ध औसत वेतन पर अवकाशः 12 किसी कर्मचारी को, जिस पर यह नियम लागू होते है, उसकी सम्पूर्ण सेवा की अवधि में निजी मामलो में अर्ध औसत वेतन पर कुल 180 (एक सौ अस्सी) दिन से अनधिक का अवकाश भी प्रदान किया जा सकता है। ऐसा अवकाश उसके द्वारा कर्तव्य पर व्यतीत अवधि के 1/11 की दर से अर्जित किया जायेगा और किसी एक अवसर पर 90 से अनधिक दिनों के लिए प्रदान नही किया जायेगा।

परन्तु इस नियम के अधीन कोई अवकाश तब तक न किया जाय, जब तक कि अवकाश स्वीकृत करने के लिए सक्षम प्राधिकारी के पास यह विश्वास करने के पर्याप्त कारण न हों कि कर्मचारी उसकी समाप्ति पर अपने कर्तव्य (ड्यूटी) पर वापस लौट आएगा।

असाधारण अवकाशः 13 1 जहाँ नियमों के अधीन कोई अन्य अवकाश अनुमन्य न हो, किसी कर्मचारी को असाधारण अवकाश प्रदान किया जा सकता है, जिसकी गणना सेवा के प्रत्येक पूर्ण वर्ष के लिये 15 दिन की दर से की जाएगी और जो साधारणतया किसी एक अवसर पर 120 दिनों से अधिक न होगा और उसकी सम्पूर्ण सेवा की अवधि के दौरान 365 दिनों से अधिक नहीं होगा।

2 प्राधिकारी जिसे अवकाश स्वीकृत करने का अधिकार है, वह इस नियम के अधीन किसी ऐसे अवकाश के साथ में या

निरंतरता में जो कि अनुमन्य हो असाधारण अवकाश प्रदान कर सकता है और बिना अवकाश के अनुपस्थिति की अवधि को पूर्वगामी प्रभाव से असाधारण अवकाश के रूप में परिवर्तित कर सकता है।

3 जहाँ कोई कर्मचारी, जिस पर यह नियम लागू होते हों, इन नियमों के अन्तर्गत उसको स्वीकृत असाधारण अवकाश की समाप्ति पर कार्य पुनर्ग्रहण करने में विफल रहता है या जहाँ ऐसा कर्मचारी जिसको अधिकतम अनुमन्य अवधि से कम अवधि का अवकाश स्वीकृत किया गया हो, किसी ऐसी अवधि, जो स्वीकृत असाधारण अवकाश सहित उस सीमा से अधिक हो जाय जो इस नियमावली के अधीन उसे स्वीकृत किया जा सकता हो, के लिए निरन्तर कार्य से अनुपस्थित रहे तो जब तक कि सक्षम प्राधिकारी मामले की आपवादिक परिस्थितियों को ध्यान में रखते हुए अन्यथा निर्णय न करे, यह समझा जायगा कि उसने अपनी नियुक्ति से त्याग पत्र दे दिया है और वह निगम की सेवां में तदनुसार नहीं रह जायगा। प्रतिबन्ध यह है कि ऐसे सभी मामलों में, जहाँ उप नियम (3) के अधीन किसी कर्मचारी की सेवाओं को समाप्त हुआ प्रस्तावित समझा जाय, सक्षम प्राधिकारी उक्त कर्मचारी को लिखित रूप में उस आशय की एक सूचना देगा।

18. This Court must remark that in keeping with the question formulated on 25.10.2021, there are indeed two distinct and different modes through which, on account of wilful absence from duty, the services of a permanent employee of the Corporation may come to an end. One is by treating the unauthorized absence as an act of misconduct and proceeding against the employee concerned in the disciplinary jurisdiction. If that option is elected by the Corporation, they have to proceed in accordance with the provisions of Rules 33 and 35 of the 1991 Rules. That is the usual option pursued by an employer to punish a recalcitrant employee, who unauthorizedly absents from duty. The other option that the Corporation have under the Service Rules in the Chapter dealing with leave for employees, is a special provision about abandonment of service. This mode of determination of the employer-employee relationship is known to service jurisprudence and rests on the principle that an employee, who absents himself from service without leave or without extension of leave for an unduly long period of time, can be deemed to have abandoned employment. If a rule provides for cessation of service on account of abandonment, the status of a permanent employee, whose tenure is governed by statutory rules, can validly come to an end.

19. The question of abandonment from service found early mention in the context of industrial jurisprudence, where the issue was about 'continuous service' pitted against the break in it, in the context of an employee, who had remained absent from duty for nearly eight and a half months without permission or leave of the employer. This was the controversy in Jeewanlal (1929) Ltd., Calcutta v. Workmen, AIR 1961 SC 1567, where it was held:

"6. "Continuous service" in the context of the scheme of gratuity framed by the Tribunal in the earlier reference postulates the continuance of the relationship of master and servant between the employer and his employees. If the servant resigns his employment service automatically comes to an end. If the employer terminates the service of his employee that again brings the continuity of service to an end. If the service of an employee is brought to an end by the operation of any law that again is another instance where the continuance is disrupted; but it is difficult to hold that merely because an employee is absent without obtaining leave that itself would bring to an end the continuity of his service. Similarly, participation in an illegal strike which may incur the punishment of dismissal may not by itself bring to an end the relationship of master and servant. It may be a good cause for the termination of service provided of course the relevant provisions in the standing orders in that behalf are complied with; but mere participation in an illegal strike cannot be said to cause breach in continuity for the purposes of gratuity. On the other hand, if an employee continues to be absent from duty without obtaining leave and in an unauthorised manner for such a long period of time that an inference may reasonably be drawn from such absence that by his absence he has abandoned service, then such long unauthorised absence may legitimately be held to cause a break in the continuity of service. It would thus always be a question of fact to be decided on the circumstances of each case whether or not a particular employee can claim continuity of service for the requisite period or not. In our opinion, therefore, the view taken by the Tribunal is substantially right though we would like to make it clear that in addition to the cases where according to the Tribunal continuity of service would come to an end there would be the class of cases where long unauthorised absence may reasonably give rise to an inference that such service is intended to be abandoned by the employee. ....."

20. The question again arose in the context of the industrial law, where a particular clause in the relevant Standing Order postulated abandonment of service in the event of an employee absenting himself for eight consecutive working days without obtaining leave from the employer. In the context of the certified Standing Orders applicable to parties, under which the issue arose in Buckingham and Carnatic Co. Ltd. v. Venkatiah and another, AIR 1964 SC 1272, it was held by their Lordships of the Supreme Court:

"5. .....

This Standing Order is a part of the certified Standing Orders which had been revised by an arbitration award between the parties in 1957. The relevant clause clearly means that if an employee falls within the mischief of its first part, it follows that the defaulting employee has terminated his contract of service. The first provision in clause (ii) proceeds on the basis that absence for eight consecutive days without leave will lead to the inference that the absentee workman intended to terminate his contract of service. The certified Standing Orders represent the relevant terms and conditions of service in a statutory form and they are binding on the parties at least as much, if not more, as private contracts embodying similar terms and conditions of service. It is true that under common law an inference that an employee has abandoned or relinquished service is not easily drawn unless from the length of absence and from other surrounding circumstances an inference to that effect can be legitimately drawn and it can be assumed that the employee intended to abandon service. Abandonment or relinquishment of service is always a question of intention, and, normally, such an intention can not be attributed to an employee without adequate evidence in that behalf. But where parties agree upon the terms and conditions of service and they are included in certified Standing Orders, the doctrines of common law or considerations of equity would not be relevant. It is then a matter of construing the relevant term itself. Therefore, the first part of Standing Order 8(ii) inevitably leads to the conclusion that if an employee is absent for eight consecutive days without leave, he is deemed to have terminated his contract of service and thus relinquished or abandoned his employment."

21. The question again fell for consideration in the context of the industrial law in G.T. Lad and others v. Chemical and Fibres of India Ltd., (1979) 1 SCC 590. The law relating to abandonment was adumbrated in G.T. Lad (supra) thus:

5a. Re Question 1: In the Act, we do not find any definition of the expression "abandonment of service". In the absence of any clue as to the meaning of the said expression, we have to depend on meaning assigned to it in the dictionary of English language. In the unabridged edition of the Random House Dictionary, the word "abandon" has been explained as meaning "to leave completely and finally; forsake utterly; to relinquish, renounce; to give up all concern in something". According to the Dictionary of English Law by Earl Jowitt (1959 Edn.) "abandonment" means "relinquishment of an interest or claim". According to Black's Law Dictionary "abandonment" when used in relation to an office means "voluntary relinquishment". It must be total and under such circumstances as clearly to indicate an absolute relinquishment. The failure to perform the duties pertaining to the office must be with actual or imputed intention, on the part of the officer to abandon and relinquish the office. The intention may be inferred from the acts and conduct of the party, and is a question of fact. Temporary absence is not ordinarily sufficient to constitute an "abandonment of office".

6. From the connotations reproduced above it clearly follows that to constitute abandonment, there must be total or complete giving up of duties so as to indicate an intention not to resume the same. In Buckingham & Carnatic Co. v. Venkatiah [AIR 1964 SC 1272 : (1964) 4 SCR 265 : (1963) 2 LLJ 638 : (1963-64) 25 FJR 25] it was observed by this Court that under common law an inference that an employee has abandoned or relinquished service is not easily drawn unless from the length of absence and from other surrounding circumstances an inference to that effect can be legitimately drawn and it can be assumed that the employee intended to abandon service. Abandonment or relinquishment of service is always a question of intention, and normally, such an intention cannot be attributed to a employee without adequate evidence in that behalf. Thus, whether there has been a voluntary abandonment of service or not is a question of fact which has to be determined in the light of the surrounding circumstances of each case."

22. As a source of termination of statutory employment, abandonment, if contemplated under the leave rules, was accepted as a valid mode to bring to an end the employee's lien by the Supreme in Aligarh Muslim University and others v. Mansoor Ali Khan, (2000) 7 SCC 529. While answering point Nos.1 and 2 formulated by their Lordships, it was held in Aligarh Muslim University v. Mansoor Ali Khan (supra) quoting the relevant Rules, thus:

"10. It reads as follows:

Overstayal of leave:

"5. 8(i) If an employee absents himself from duty without having previously obtained leave or fails to return to his duties on the expiry of leave without having previously obtained further leave, the head of the department/office concerned in cases where he is the appointing authority, after waiting for three days, shall communicate with the person concerned asking for an explanation and shall consider the same. In cases where the head of the department/office is not the appointing authority, he shall, after waiting for three days from the date of unauthorised absence without leave or extension of leave, inform the Registrar/Finance Officer, and the Registrar (Finance Officer in the case of staff borne on the Accounts Cadre) shall communicate with the person concerned asking for an explanation which shall be submitted to the Vice-Chancellor/ Executive Council.

Unless the appointing authority regards the explanation satisfactory, the employee concerned shall be deemed to have vacated the post, without notice, from the date of absence without leave.

(ii) An officer or other employee who absents himself without leave or remains absent without leave after the expiry of the leave granted to him, shall, if he is permitted to rejoin duty, be entitled to no leave allowance or salary for the period of such absence and such period will be debited against his leave account as leave without pay unless his leave is extended by the authority empowered to grant the leave. Wilful absence from duty after the expiry of leave may be treated as misconduct for the purpose of clause 12 of Chapter IV of the Executive Ordinances of AMU and para 10 of Chapter IX of Regulations of the Executive Council."

11. It will be seen that Rule 5(8)(i) applies to an employee who absents himself from duty without having previously obtained leave or where he has failed to return to his duties on the expiry of leave without having previously obtained further leave. Then Rule 5(8)(i) refers to the manner in which the employee is to be given an opportunity. If the appointing authority regards the explanation as not satisfactory, the employee concerned shall be deemed to have vacated his post, without notice, from the date of absence without leave. In the context of Rule 10 of the 1972 Rules, which deems vacation of post if the absence was for 5 years, it must follow that the above Rule 5(8)(i) applies to absence for a period less than 5 years.

12. Rule 5(8)(ii) deals with a different situation. It relates to a case where such an officer is permitted to rejoin duty. It says that if he is so permitted, he will be entitled to no leave allowance or salary for the period of such absence and such period shall be debited against his leave account as leave without pay. The Rule says that these consequences will not, however, follow if his leave is extended by the authority empowered to grant leave. Then in its latter part, Rule 5(8)(ii) refers to another situation enabling disciplinary action to be taken treating unauthorised absence as misconduct. If a person has been absent without leave being sanctioned, he could be proceeded against for misconduct.

13. These are the different situations in which Rules 5(8)(i) and (ii) apply. Point 1 is decided accordingly.

Point 2

14. Rules 10(c)(i) and (ii) of the 1972 Rules read as follows:

"10. Employee absent from duty.--(a)-(b)

(c)(i) No permanent employee shall be granted leave of any kind for a continuous period exceeding five years;

(ii) when an employee does not resume duty after remaining on leave for a continuous period of five years, or whether an employee after the expiry of his leave remains absent from duty, otherwise than on foreign service or on account of suspension for any period which together with the period of the leave granted to him exceeds five years, he shall, unless the Executive Council in view of the exceptional circumstances of the case otherwise determine, be deemed to have resigned and shall accordingly cease to be in the university service."

It will be seen that Rule 10 deals with a different aspect. Now Rule 10(c)(i) states that no permanent employee shall be granted leave of any kind for a continuous period of more than 5 years. However, Rule 10(c)(ii) states that when an employee does not resume duty after remaining on leave for a continuous period of 5 years, or where an employee after the expiry of his leave remains absent from duty (otherwise than on foreign service or on account of suspension) for any period which together with the period of the leave granted to him exceeds 5 years, he shall (unless the Executive Council in view of the exceptional circumstances of the case otherwise determine), be deemed to have resigned and shall accordingly cease to be in the university service. This is the purport of Rule 10(c). Point 2 is decided accordingly."

23. In Vijay S. Sathaye v. Indian Airlines Limited and others, (2013) 10 SCC 253, the law about abandonment of employment was considered in the context of facts, where a Pilot of the Indian Air Force applied for voluntary retirement under the Voluntary Retirement Scheme, but did not wait for the outcome of the decision on that application. He was asked to continue till a decision was taken, but the employee did not report for duty the day following receipt of the communication that he should continue until a decision was taken on his V.R.S. Application. The facts in Vijay S. Sathaye (supra) can best be recapitulated in the words of their Lordships, which say:

"3. The respondents came out with a Voluntary Retirement Scheme (in short "VRS") for its employees in 1989 in order to reduce the surplus manpower. The said Scheme was for the employees who had completed 25 years of service or had attained 55 years of age. Subsequently, the condition prescribed in the aforementioned Scheme was reduced to 20 years of service in 1992. Regulation 12 of the Service Regulations provided that if an employee fulfils the aforesaid criteria of eligibility he can give three months' notice for voluntary retirement. However, the acceptance of the said resignation would be subject to the approval of the competent authority.

4. The petitioner completed 20 years of service on 19-3-1992. He was promoted as Deputy General Manager (Operations) on 30-8-1994. On 7-11-1994 the petitioner submitted an application seeking VRS w.e.f. 12-11-1994. The petitioner was informed vide letter dated 11-11-1994 that he should continue in service till the time decision is taken. However, the petitioner did not attend the duty after 12-11-1994. The petitioner joined the services of Blue Dart Ltd., and as he did not go to the respondents to work from 12-11-1994 and there had been no response from the respondents, he filed Writ Petition No. 19143 of 1994 for issuance of a writ of mandamus directing the respondents to accept the petitioner's application for voluntary retirement.

5. During the pendency of the said writ petition, the petitioner was informed by Respondent 4 vide letter dated 13-12-1994/15-12-1994 that his application had been rejected. Thus, the writ petition filed by the petitioner had become infructuous and the petitioner preferred another Writ Petition No. 21384 of 1994 challenging the order dated 13-12-1994/15-12-1994. The respondents contested the said writ petition and during the pendency of the said writ petition the petitioner attained the age of superannuation i.e. 58 years of age on 7-3-2001. The learned Single Judge dismissed the said writ petition vide order dated 12-3-2002 [WP No. 21384 of 1994, decided on 12-3-2002 (Mad)] . Aggrieved, the petitioner preferred Writ Appeal No. 2415 of 2002 which has been dismissed vide impugned judgment and order [Writ Appeal No. 2415 of 2002, decided on 20-7-2007 (Mad)] . Hence, these petitions."

24. In the context of the aforesaid facts, the law regarding abandonment was summarized in Vijay S. Sathaye thus:

"12. It is a settled law that an employee cannot be termed as a slave, he has a right to abandon the service any time voluntarily by submitting his resignation and alternatively, not joining the duty and remaining absent for long. Absence from duty in the beginning may be a misconduct but when absence is for a very long period, it may amount to voluntary abandonment of service and in that eventuality, the bonds of service come to an end automatically without requiring any order to be passed by the employer.

13. In Jeewanlal (1929) Ltd. v. Workmen [AIR 1961 SC 1567] this Court held as under: (AIR p. 1570, para 6)

"6. ... there would be the class of cases where long unauthorised absence may reasonably give rise to an inference that such service is intended to be abandoned by the employee."

(See also Shahoodul Haque v. Registrar, Coop. Societies [(1975) 3 SCC 108 : 1974 SCC (L&S) 498 : AIR 1974 SC 1896] .)

14. For the purpose of termination, there has to be positive action on the part of the employer while abandonment of service is a consequence of unilateral action on behalf of the employee and the employer has no role in it. Such an act cannot be termed as "retrenchment" from service. (See State of Haryana v. Om Parkash [(1998) 8 SCC 733 : 1999 SCC (L&S) 262].)

15. In Buckingham and Carnatic Co. Ltd. v. Venkatiah [AIR 1964 SC 1272] , while dealing with a similar case, this Court observed: (AIR p. 1275, para 5)

"5. ... Abandonment or relinquishment of service is always a question of intention, and, normally, such an intention cannot be attributed to an employee without adequate evidence in that behalf."

A similar view has been reiterated in G.T. Lad v. Chemical and Fibres of India Ltd. [(1979) 1 SCC 590 : 1979 SCC (L&S) 76 : AIR 1979 SC 582]

16. In Syndicate Bank v. Staff Assn. [(2000) 5 SCC 65 : 2000 SCC (L&S) 601] and Aligarh Muslim University v. Mansoor Ali Khan [(2000) 7 SCC 529 : 2002 SCC (L&S) 965 : AIR 2000 SC 2783] this Court ruled that if a person is absent beyond the prescribed period for which leave of any kind can be granted, he should be treated to have resigned and ceases to be in service. In such a case, there is no need to hold an enquiry or to give any notice as it would amount to useless formalities. A similar view has been reiterated in Banaras Hindu University v. Shrikant [(2006) 11 SCC 42 : (2007) 1 SCC (L&S) 327] , Chief Engineer (Construction) v. Keshava Rao [(2005) 11 SCC 229 : 2005 SCC (L&S) 872] and Bank of Baroda v. Anita Nandrajog [(2009) 9 SCC 462 : (2009) 2 SCC (L&S) 689].

25. A perusal of Rule 40.13.3 of the Service Rules, under which the Corporation have purported to act, would show that the said Rule postulates a case where the employee fails to join duty upon expiry of his sanctioned extraordinary leave, or a case where leave for a shorter duration has been sanctioned than the maximum admissible to an employee, upon expiry whereof he fails to rejoin, despite expiry of the maximum extraordinary leave that could be sanctioned under the Service Rules and remains continuously absent from duty. In either case, the employee concerned would be deemed to have resigned his post and ceased to be in the Corporation's employ, unless the competent Authority, in view of exceptional circumstances, takes decision otherwise.

26. The purport of the Rule aforesaid is an automatic severance of the employer-employee relationship by a deemed resignation or constructive resignation, where the employee overstays his leave within the mischief of the Rule. There is absolutely no requirement for the Corporation, where it treats an employee to have resigned his post under sub-Rule 13.3 of Rule 40 of the Services Rules, to pass an order terminating his services. Thus, if the Corporation intended to treat the petitioner as an employee who had resigned his job on the expiry of the maximum period of extraordinary leave that could be sanctioned to him, they were not required to pass an order terminating his services. Upon the employee submitting his joining report, they could have simply intimated him that he would be deemed to have resigned his post with effect from the date indicated when the maximum leave that could be sanctioned to him ended in his leave account.

27. There is a communication of this kind between the Manager (Personnel-I) of the Corporation addressed to the Chief Project Manager, Allahabad saying that the petitioner be informed that his joining report, presented after four years of unauthorized absence, had been rejected by the Managing Director. Strangely, this communication dated 11.10.2012, which has been annexed to the personal affidavit of the Managing Director filed on 28.10.2021, does not at all appear to have been communicated to the petitioner or acted upon by the Chief Project Manager or the Project Manager of the Corporation at their Pratapgarh unit. Instead, the impugned order dated 31.12.2012 was passed by the Managing Director himself, terminating the petitioner's services with effect from the date of the said order, employing the following words:

"श्री वीरेन्द्र प्रताप सिंह का इतनी लम्बी अवधि तक अनुपस्थित रहना wilful absence from duty की श्रेणी में आता है। अतः निगम से इनकी सेवायें तत्काल प्रभाव से समाप्त की जाती हैं।"

28. A perusal of the impugned order dated 31.12.2012 would show that though it mentions all facts and events about the manner in which the petitioner absented himself after expiry of the initial earned leave that was sanctioned to him from 21.04.2008 to 03.05.2008, it does not show at all that the Corporation treated the petitioner to have resigned his post, or abandoned employment, upon expiry of the maximum leave that could be sanctioned to him, under Rule 40.13.3 of the Service Rules. Rather, the clear purport of the impugned order dated 31.12.2012 is that the Corporation treated the petitioner to be in service until the date of the impugned order and for his act of wilful absence from duty, ordered the termination of his services with immediate effect. The impugned order is, by no means, an order merely communicating the petitioner the fact that his services have come to an end on account of his unilateral action in abandoning employment, with the employer passively refusing the petitioner to rejoin. The impugned order is a positive and affirmative order, putting to an end the petitioner's services for the misconduct of wilful absence from duty. The impugned order is, therefore, one that is an order of punishment passed by the Corporation for a perceived misconduct of the petitioner, on which they have acted to terminate his services. This kind of an order or action could only be taken after holding disciplinary proceedings in accordance with Rules 33 and 35 of the 1991 Rules; not under Rule 40.13.3 of the Service Rules. The personal affidavit filed by the Managing Director also shows that the Corporation have treated the act of the petitioner as a misconduct. This is evident from the following averments in Paragraph Nos.15 and 16 of the personal affidavit of the Managing Director:

"15. Therefore, under the above paragraph the services of the petitioner can be terminated without conducting regular departmental enquiry against him. The true copy of the U.P. State Bridge Corporation Service Rules paragraph no. 13(1) and 13(3) are being annexed herewith as and marked as ANNEXURE NO. A-04 & A-05 to this personal affidavit.

16. Moreover, several letters were written to the petitioner and the petitioner did not resume his duty and therefore by office order no. 1988 ESB/407 SBC/2012 dated 31-12-2012 petitioner's services were terminated with immediate effect for wilful absence from duty. Therefore, termination order is perfectly legal and justified."

(Emphasis by Court)

29. It may also be noticed that in the personal affidavit filed by the Managing Director of the Corporation, it has been averred in Paragraph No.11 that the petitioner was informed that a disciplinary inquiry has been instituted against him vide Office Memo No. 1921 ESB/2429 SBC/08 dated 08.09.2008, but it is said that the inquiry could not be carried to its logical conclusion because of the petitioner's non-cooperation. This stand of the Corporation could have been consistent with the exercise of power under Rule 40.13.3 of the Service Rules, provided there was just a communication to the petitioner that after the long lapse of time that he had put in his joining report, he would be deemed to have resigned his post. As already noticed, this was not the course of action that the Corporation followed. They chose to terminate the petitioner's services ex facie for his misconduct of wilful absence from duty, with effect from the date of the impugned order i.e. 31.12.2012. This, as already remarked, could not be done without holding disciplinary proceedings in accordance with law.

30. There is another facet of the matter as well. If by a patently imaginary stretch of Rule 40.13.3 of the Service Rules, the impugned order were held to be one passed under it, it would still not fulfill the intrinsic requirement of the Rule, subject to which alone power under it can be invoked. Rule 40.13.3 of the Service Rules envisages that upon continuous absence from duty of an employee, that exhausts his extraordinary leave and the other kind of leave that can be granted to him, he would be deemed to have resigned his post with the Corporation, but subject to the proviso that in all such matters the Corporation would have to serve a notice upon the employee that his services would be deemed to have come to an end under the Rule on a proposed basis. The proviso to Rule 40.13.3 shows that a notice carrying a proposal that the employee's services are deemed to have come to an end in terms of the rule for overstaying his leave has to be served. The employment of the word "proposed' in the proviso is clearly suggestive of the unmistakable requirement that before the Corporation regards the services of an employee abandoned or ended under the aforesaid Rule, he has to be given some kind of an opportunity to explain. The explanation would, of course, be about his long absence. The purpose is to adhere to the minimum requirement of natural justice in both the formal and substantial exercise of power, or the enforcement of the Rule, to hold an employee of the Corporation having resigned his post for overstaying the maximum period of his leave. The explanation given is not an empty formality, for Rule 40.13.3 of the Service Rules envisages exceptional circumstances, "आपवादिक परिस्थितियों", to quote from the Rule, under which the employee may not be regarded by the Corporation to have resigned. This is not to say that in the present case the petitioner was never asked the reason to justify his unduly long absence from duty of four years, but certainly no notice under Rule 40.13.3 was ever served or his case dealt with under the said Rule.

31. This is not a case where on the facts of it, the Corporation could not have exercised their power under Rule 40.13.3 to hold the petitioner to have abandoned employment. In the opinion of this Court, they could have done so, subject to consideration of the petitioner's explanation before the decision to regard him as having resigned his post was made final. But, the power in the nature of the transaction and the clear terms of the impugned order was never exercised by the Corporation. The impugned order is clearly an instance of affirmative action by the Corporation, exercising their power to punish the petitioner for his misconduct in overstaying his leave. It is not by any means an invocation of Rule 40.13.3 of the Service Rules, passively holding the petitioner to have resigned his post, or abandoned employment, in terms of the said Rule. For an added assurance about the conclusion, if it were a case of abandonment of employment or deemed resignation under the said Rule, the services of the employee would not have been terminated by and with effect from the date of the impugned order. It is, therefore, held in answer to the question mooted that the petitioner's services have been terminated by the Corporation for his wilful absence from duty, as a matter of misconduct; not as a matter of abandonment of employment, under the leave Rules.

32. According to the petitioner, his date of birth, as entered in his service record, is 01.07.1958. He would, therefore, have attained the age of superannuation in the year 2018. He can no longer be reinstated in service. Nevertheless, in the clear opinion of the Court, the impugned order is unsustainable. At the same time, it has to be borne in mind that the petitioner has remained absent from duties for a period of four years, where he put in his joining report on 19.05.2012. From 19.05.2012 until the date of the impugned order i.e.

31.12.2012, it is the Corporation which has kept the petitioner out of employment.

33. Once the impugned order goes, the petitioner would be entitled to the benefit of his post held with the Corporation until the age he attained superannuation, and thereafter, whatever consequential benefits would follow. The petitioner would, in no case, be entitled to any pecuniary benefit for the period that he remained absent from duty i.e. 04.05.2008 to 19.05.2012. For the period from 19.05.2012 until attaining the age of superannuation, the petitioner, for whatever reason not having worked for the Corporation, would be entitled to 50% of his emoluments and no more. The petitioner would, nevertheless, be entitled to continuity in service for the purpose of reckoning his post retiral benefits.

34. In the result, the writ petition succeeds and is allowed. The impugned order dated 31.12.2012 is hereby quashed. The petitioner shall be deemed to have been in service of the Corporation until the date of his superannuation and entitled to consequential benefits as indicated hereinabove.

35. There shall be no order as costs.

(2022)05ILR A1008
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 04.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE PRITINKER DIWAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE ASHUTOSH SRIVASTAVA, J.

Special Appeal No. 362 of 2019

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
Ashif Ali ...Respondent

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Anand Kumar Ray, S.C.

Counsel for the Respondent:
Sri Om Prakash Singh

A. Service Law – Compassionate Appointment – Physical Efficiency Test - The fate of the appeal rests on the question as to whether the writ petitioner/respondent was compelled to take the physical efficiency test by the appellants despite suffering from fracture in his right leg as alleged by him or the test was taken voluntarily by him after submitting fitness certificate as asserted by the appellants. (Para 8)

The writ petitioner/respondent is stated to have appeared in the physical efficiency test on 08.05.2018 and participated in the same, although he asserts that he was forced to participate in the same. The appellants on the other hand submit that the petitioner took the test without protest and failed. No intimation on 05.05.2018 as alleged by the petitioner was ever received by them. The petitioner vide letter dated 09.05.2018 (Annexure-6 to the writ petition) is stated to have written to the Principal Secretary Home, Govt. of U.P. complaining about how he was forced to take the test and requested for a fresh test after he is fit. (Para 11)

Hon'ble Court opined that the writ petitioner/respondent was medically fit i.e. did not have the fractured at the time of taking the physical efficiency test on 08.05.2018 and having failed therein and suffered a fracture subsequently has cooked up the plea that the appellants forced him to take the test with a fracture. The plea found favour with the learned Single Judge and the writ petition was allowed primarily basing conclusions on the subsequent report of the Medical Board constituted under the orders of the learned Single Judge which reported that a person with a fracture cannot take 10 rounds of 400 meter field. However, the screen shots of the physical efficiency test showing the writ petitioner/respondent participating in the same and the results declared thereof belie the version of the writ petitioner/respondent. (Para 12, 13, 14)

Consequently, the learned Single Judge was not justified in directing the appellants to conduct a fresh physical efficiency test of the writ petitioner and consider his claim for compassionate appointment afresh particularly in view of the fact that the Rules and GOs governing the issue do not permit any second attempt to a candidate who has failed the physical test in the first attempt. (Para 15)

Special appeal allowed. (E-4)

Present special appeal challenges the judgment and order dated 30.08.2018, passed by learned Single Judge in Civil Misc. Writ Petition No.15360 of 2018.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ashutosh Srivastava, J.)

1. This Intra-Court Appeal has been filed by the State-respondents assailing the judgment and order of the learned Single Judge dated 30.8.2018 passed in Writ-A No. 15360 of 2018 (Ashif Ali versus State of U.P. and 2 others) whereby the writ petition has been allowed with cost of Rs.10,000/- directing the appellants / respondents to conduct a fresh physical efficiency test of the petitioner / respondent after six weeks. Further direction has been issued to the appellants / respondents to keep the original records pertaining to the writ petitioner / respondent in a sealed cover and transmit the same to the Senior Superintendent of Police, Mathura for its safe custody, while considering the petitioner's claim for compassionate appointment afresh.

2. The appeal was filed with a delay of 150 days. This Court vide order dated 5.3.2019 had condoned the delay and directed the office to allot a regular number to the appeal. Learned counsel for the appellant points out that pursuant to the order dated 22.2.2017 passed in Writ-A No. 18981 of 2014, the writ petitioner / respondent was called to participate in the physical efficiency test on 7.5.2018 after he had furnished a declaration of his fitness to take the physical efficiency test and actually participated therein, but failed. The factum of participation in the test aforesaid was disputed by the writ petitioner / respondent on the ground that he had met with an accident on 4.5.2018 after submitting the fitness certificate and was compelled to participate in the physical efficiency test with a fractured leg. Since, the order dated 5.3.2019 recorded the fact that the writ petitioner / respondent had not participated in the test, a modification of the order dated 5.3.2019 was sought. The said application was turned down by this Court vide order dated 19.4.2019 holding that the appeal itself be decided on merits and all points available may be raised during the hearing of the appeal.

3. The parties have exchanged affidavits reiterating their respective stands.

4. Learned counsel representing the writ petitioner / respondent opposing the appeal has filed a counter affidavit stating inter alia therein that the father of the writ petitioner / respondent was a permanent employee posted as Constable who admittedly died in harness on 31.3.2005. The writ petitioner / respondent applied for compassionate appointment for the post of Sub-Inspector vide application dated 16.2.2008. The writ petitioner / respondent was permitted to appear in the physical efficiency test for the post of S. I. (under Dying in Harness) Recruitment-2017, fixed for 7.5.2018. The petitioner / respondent was required to collect his admit card from the office of SSP, Mathura on 4.5.2018. The petitioner / respondent after collecting the admit card met with an accident on the same day i.e. 4.5.2018 resulting in fracture of his right leg and the right leg was put in plaster. He was advised to take complete rest for four weeks. It is stated that the information of the accident was intimated through registered post vide application dated 5.5.2018 along with medical certificate issued by the District Hospital, Agra. The petitioner was also advised to appear before the Board on 7.5.2018 i.e. the date fixed for the physical test and his claim for postponing his physical test in the next recruitment would be considered. However, the Board did not adhere to the request and the petitioner was compelled to participate in the physical efficiency test and was declared failed. The petitioner / respondent thereafter moved an application before the appellant no. 1 on 9.5.2018 requesting action against the Board. However, no action was taken and the result of the selection was declared on 23.5.2018 wherein the petitioner was declared not selected. The petitioner moved another application dated 31.5.2018 before the appellant no. 3 which too was rejected vide order dated 11.6.2018 holding that there is no provision for appearing as second chance in the physical efficiency test as per Board Circular. The writ petitioner, however, stated that the appellants permitted second chance to some of candidates under dying in harness category who were absent in the physical efficiency test, but the writ petitioner has been denied the chance arbitrarily. It is also contended that the learned Single Judge vide order dated 9.8.2018 issued direction for constituting a Medical Board to examine the writ petitioner and submit its opinion in a sealed cover as to whether the petitioner had in fact suffered such a fracture or not? As also whether it was possible for such a person to run 10 rounds after three days of fracture itself by the next date and the Medical Board so constituted in its report dated 27.8.2018 opined that a person with a fractured cannot take 10 rounds of a 400 meter field.

5. Learned counsel for the appellants has filed a supplementary affidavit dated 1.4.2019 clearly denying the stand taken by the writ petitioner / respondent that he was compelled to participate in the physical efficiency test despite a fractured leg. It is the specific case of the appellants that the writ petitioner / respondent with Roll No. 1810159, Bib No. 1262 participated in the physical fitness test on 8.5.2018 and completed 10 rounds of 400 meters total in 39 minutes 13 seconds whereas he was required to complete 12 rounds of 400 meters in 35 minutes and thus could not qualify the test. The writ petitioner / respondent never made a declaration that he is not physically fit to take the test and also made the signature after completion of the test result whereof were declared before the ADM, Medical Officer and Deputy Superintendent of Police. The appellants have also filed the screen shots of the race to demonstrate the fact that the writ petitioner / respondent actually participated in the race / physical efficiency test without any plaster on the leg.

6. The above statement of fact pleaded by the appellants in their supplementary affidavit has been refuted by the writ petitioner / respondent by filing supplementary counter affidavit by stating that he had sent an application to the department two days before the commencement of the physical efficiency test on 5.5.2018 by registered post along with medical certificate.

7. We have heard the learned counsel for the parties and have perused the records.

8. We are of the opinion that the fate of the appeal rests on the question as to whether the writ petitioner / respondent was compelled to take the physical efficiency test by the appellants despite suffering from fracture in his right leg as alleged by him or the test was taken voluntarily by him after submitting fitness certificate as asserted by the appellants.

9. A perusal of the record reveals that the writ petitioner / respondent has placed reliance upon a medical certificate issued by the District Hospital, Agra bearing OPD No. 136596 (entered by hand) dated 4.5.2018. The certificate records fracture of shaft (Rt) Tibia and the patient is advised rest from 4.5.2018 to four weeks. Another document filed along with the medical certificate is a document described as an "Out Patient Record" which bears the date of 22.5.2018 and is signed by the Dr. M. Lal, Senior Consultant, District Hospital, Agra, Reg. No. 24722. This document also bears the OPD No. 136596 (printed same as in the Medical Certificate). Yet another document filed as Annexre-4 to the writ petition is a Slip issued by the Radiologist, District Hospital, Agra accompanying the X-ray report. This document bears the date 4.5.2018 and OPD No. 136596 written by hand.

10. Further the writ petitioner / respondent is stated to have intimated the fact that he met with an accident on 4.5.2018 and suffered a fracture in his right leg vide registered letter dated 5.5.2018 requesting for being given a fresh date instead of 7.5.2018 for physical efficiency test. The writ petitioner / respondent has also filed the postal receipt bearing No. 4375. The date mentioned is not very clear but may be presumed to be 5.5.2018 as stated by the writ petitioner / respondent.

11. The writ petitioner / respondent is stated to have appeared in the physical efficiency test on 8.5.2018 and participated in the same, although he asserts that he was forced to participate in the same. The appellants on the other hand submit that the petitioner took the test without protest and failed. No intimation on 5.5.2018 as alleged by the petitioner was ever received by them. The petitioner vide letter dated 9.5.2018 (Annexre-6 to the writ petition) is stated to have written to the Principal Secretary Home, Govt. of U.P. complaining about how he was forced to take the test and requested for a fresh test after he is fit. The said letter is stated to have been sent on 9.5.2018. A receipt issued from the postal department bearing receipt No. 4376 dated 9.5.2018 has been filed as Annexure-6 to the writ petition.

12. We have examined the above mentioned documents in the light of the respective stands of the parties. We find that postal receipt bearing No. 4376 was issued on 9.5.2018. However, the letter dated 5.5.2018 is stated to have been dispatched on 5.5.2018 (as alleged by the writ petitioner) and receipt whereof issued by the postal department bears the No. 4375. It is rather surprising that the postal department has not issued any registered letters between 5.5.2018 and 9.5.2018. This fact is also apparent from the registry number appearing on the receipt No. 4375 which is RU18837153 and the registry number mentioned in the receipt No. 4376 in respect of the letter dated 9.5.2018 is RU18837154. This fact coupled with the screen shots brought on record by the appellants does not inspire confidence about the version of the writ petitioner / respondent. We do not doubt that the writ petitioner did not meet with an accident resulting in fracture of his right leg, but the said fracture has occurred subsequent to the date of physical efficiency test held on 8.5.2018. The screen shots do not disclose that the writ petitioner / respondent was compelled to take the test with a bandaged / plastered leg even though it is the case of the writ petitioner as set out in Para 3 (d) of the counter affidavit filed on 15.3.2019 in this appeal which is being quoted herewith:

"3 (d). That the respondent / petitioner proceeded for getting admit card from the office of S.S.P., Mathura on 4.5.2018 and while he was returning, unfortunately he met an accident in District Agra and received serious injuries and immediately consulted the doctor of District Hospital, Agra who has declared fracture in his right leg and his leg was plastered. The senior consultant has also advised to take complete rest of four weeks."

13. The same stand has been taken in Para 8 of the writ petition which is being quoted hereunder:

"8. That the petitioner proceeded for getting Admit Card form the office of S.S.P., Mathura on 4.5.2018 and while returning, unfortunately he met an accident in District Agra and received serious injuries of fracture in his right leg and immediately consulted the Doctor of District Hospital, Agra. His leg was in plaster and the senior consultant has advised to take complete rest of four weeks. A photocopy Medical Certificate issued by Medical Officer, District Hospital, Agra dated 4.5.2018 along with photograph of injured leg covered with Kachha Plaster is being field herewith and marked as Annexure No. 4 to this writ petition."

14. Thus, in view of the above, we are of the opinion that the writ petitioner / respondent was medically fit i.e. did not have the fractured at the time of taking the physical efficiency test on 8.5.2018 and having failed therein and suffered a fracture subsequently has cooked up the plea that the appellants forced him to take the test with a fracture. The plea found favour with the learned Single Judge and the writ petition was allowed primarily basing conclusions on the subsequent report of the Medical Board constituted under the orders of the learned Single Judge which reported that a person with a fracture cannot take 10 rounds of 400 meter field. However, the screen shots of the physical efficiency test showing the writ petitioner / respondent participating in the same and the results declared thereof belie the version of the writ petitioner / respondent.

15. Consequently, we find that the learned Single Judge was not justified in directing the appellants to conduct a fresh physical efficiency test of the writ petitioner and consider his claim for compassionate appointment afresh particularly in view of the fact that the Rules and Government Orders governing the issue do not permit any second attempt to a candidate who has failed the physical test in the first attempt. The appeal is allowed. The judgment and order dated 30.8.2018 passed by the learned Single Judge allowing the writ petition with cost is set aside. The writ petition stands dismissed.

(2022)05ILR A1013
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 25.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE J.J. MUNIR, J.

Writ A No. 1000074 of 2012
Rent Control No. 74 of 2012 (Old Number)

Anil Kumar Singh ...Petitioner
Versus
IInd Addl. Distt. Judge Hardoi & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Ganga Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Akhlaq Ali, Rajendra S. Kushwaha, Sharad Pathak, Shyam Mohan

A. Land Law – Tenancy – Bona-fide need - Refusal of application for release - The Uttar Pradesh Urban Buildings (Regulation of Letting, Rent and Eviction) Act, 1972 (U.P. Act No. 13 of 1972 - Sections 3(g) & 21(1)(a).

Bona-fide need - The specific need that the landlord set up has come to an end with his life that the long course of these proceedings have defeated by sheer lapse of time. Even if a member of the landlord's family, within the meaning of S.3(g) of the Act were alive, the prayer for release could have been considered because the landlord had sought release for the purpose of his residence and to set up his chamber. The bona fide need for the purpose of the landlord's residence would include the interest of a person who was a member of his family, particularly one who was residing with the landlord, within the meaning of S.3(g) of the Act. Here, the landlord's wife was not staying with him and upon his death, has not come forward to seek substitution in his stead. (Para 22)

If the landlord's widow or a son had asked to pursue release for the purpose of his/their residence, being members of his family as defined u/s 3(g) of the Act, they would be entitled to maintain the release application. This would be so because a member of the landlord's family would be sharing the landlord's bona fide need for residential purpose. Here, the heirs and LRs who have come on record are the sons of the landlord's brother and claim through a testamentary disposition. Thus, if the heirs and LRs of the landlord do have a case of bona fide need of their own, it would be generically different and unconnected to the landlord's case, and in that case, they would be free to pursue it by instituting appropriate proceedings before the Prescribed Authority or other Court of competent jurisdiction, as may be advised. However, so far as the present writ petition is concerned, no relief can be granted in favour of the heirs and LRs of the landlord. (Para 23)

Writ petition dismissed. (E-4)

(Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. This writ petition is directed against concurrent refusal of an application for release under Section 21(1)(a) of The Uttar Pradesh Urban Buildings (Regulation of Letting, Rent and Eviction) Act, 1972 (U.P. Act No. 13 of 1972) (for short 'the Act') by both the Courts below.

2. An application for release was moved under Section 21(1)(a) of the Act by Anil Kumar Singh, seeking release of House No. 167, situate at Mohalla Sarai Thok Purvi, Pargana Bangar, Tehsil and District Hardoi that was in the tenancy occupation of Brijendra Pal Singh. The release application was registered on the file of the Prescribed Authority/Civil Judge, Hardoi as P.A. Case No. 11 of 1989. This application was instituted way back in the month of August, 1989 before the Prescribed Authority by Anil Kumar Singh alone, setting up a case of bona fide need and comparative hardship in his favour. Later on, Anil kumar Singh's father Surendra Pal Singh was also impleaded as a co-applicant, applicant no. 2 to the application, in order to obviate certain objections that Brijendra Pal Singh raised about the right of Anil Kumar Singh to maintain the proceedings on ground that it was Anil Kumar Singh's father who was the landlord and not Anil Kumar Singh.

3. Anil Kumar Singh passed away pending this petition and his heirs and LRs, to wit, Shitanshu Singh Parmar and Priyanshu Singh Parmar have been brought on record as petitioners nos. 1/1 and 1/2. Anil Kumar Singh and his heirs and LRs shall hereinafter be referred to as 'the landlord', unless the context requires an individual reference. Brijendra Pal Singh, tenant, also passed away pending this petition and his heirs and LRs too have been brought on record. They are four in number and arrayed as respondent nos. 3/1, 3/2, 3/3 and 3/4 to this petition. Brijendra Pal Singh shall hereinafter be referred to as 'the tenant' which would include reference to his heirs and LRs, unless the context otherwise requires. In the latter case, the tenant concerned shall be referred to by name.

4. The landlord came up with a case in his application for release that House No. 161, situate at Mohalla Sarai Thok Purvi, Pargana Bangar, Tehsil & District Hardoi (for short 'the demised premises') is a property of the landlord, his father Surendra Pal Singh and brothers, who constitute a Joint Hindu Family. The landlord's father was the Karta of the Joint Hindu Family and the tenant was in occupation of the demised premises that were let out by the landlord's father at a monthly rent of Rs. 20/-. There was a partition of the joint family and its properties where the demised premises had fallen to the landlord's share. The partition was brought about on 10.05.1989 through a family settlement. According to the family settlement, the landlord had become the owner of the demised premises and, therefore, its landlord vis-a-vis the tenant. The fact of this family settlement is well within the tenant's knowledge. The landlord's father, Surendra Pal Singh had permitted him to reside in a part of his house on condition that he could stay there until time that amicably or by taking recourse to legal proceedings, he got the demised premises vacated.

5. The landlord further pleaded that he hails from a respectable and educated family and is an Advocate practicing at the District Court, Hardoi. He is in bona fide need of the demised premises for his residence and that of his family members, besides establishing his chamber. It was also asserted by the landlord that the part of his father's house that he was occupying with the latter's permission is not sufficient for his needs and he is facing hardship. The landlord has in his family his wife, who does not get along with her mother-in-law and sisters-in-law, resulting in squabbles in the family. In turn, the landlord has to suffer the resultant tension and anxiety, which adversely impact his profession. It is also pleaded by the landlord that he apprised the tenant about the difficulties faced by him on account of shortage of accommodation and the need for space to establish his chamber. He requested the tenant to vacate the demised premises. The tenant initially agreed to vacate, but later on, acting on the ill-advice of some residents of the locality, refused.

6. The tenant then instituted Original Suit no. 258 of 1989 before the Munsif West, Hardoi for permanent injunction, agitating the issue of his right to secure an electricity connection in the demised premises and indicating an apprehension of forcible dispossession. By the aforesaid acts of the tenant, it became evident that he was not minded to vacate the demised premises. The demised premises are located on the Hardoi Bilgram Road and are suitable for the landlord to establish his chamber. The landlord further asserted that he had a pressing need for release of the demised premises. The tenant, on the other hand, had no such need. He was employed as a Teacher with the Raja Rookamagarh Inter College and was well-off. He was in a position to buy land any time and construct his own house thereon. Two of the tenant's daughters were married during the pendency of the appeal arising from the order refusing release. The son and the daughter-in-law of the tenant were employed in government jobs on good positions. They stayed with the tenant. All three of them together have an income of more than Rs. 20,000/- per month.

7. It must be remarked here that this part of the assertion in the application for release appears to have been brought in through amendment made during proceedings of the Appeal. The further case pleaded is that in the city of Hardoi, there are lots of land and constructed houses available under the Awas Vikas Yojana, any of which the tenant was in a position to buy. That apart, there are lots of houses available for rent, which the tenant could settle in according to his need. However, the tenant has made no efforts to search for an alternate accommodation. There is a specific pleading brought in through amendment in paragraph No. 10A of the release application in the alternate to the effect that in case the family settlement is not accepted, bona fide need of Surendra Pal Singh, the landlord's father and applicant no. 2 to the release application, may be considered in support of the case for release.

8. The tenant filed a written statement dated 15.11.1989. He generally denied the landlord's case in the parawise reply, except the fact asserted in paragraph no. 6 of the application to the effect that the tenant had instituted a suit. It was also not denied that the tenant was a Teacher with the Raja Rookamagarh Inter College, Hardoi. In the additional pleas, the tenant came up with a case that there was no landlord-tenant relationship between him and the landlord. The landlord was not the owner of the demised premises and, therefore, the release application at his instance was not maintainable. The landlord's father, Surendra Pal Singh, was the owner and landlord of the demised premises and the tenant held the said premises on Surendra Pal Singh's behalf. The tenant was let out the demised premises pursuant to an order of allotment dated 10.03.1967 by Surendra Pal Singh. He was in occupation ever since. The tenant paid rent to Surendra Pal Singh, which he had paid up to the month of October, 1989. The demised premises had no electricity connection. The tenant attempted to get one installed, but in retaliation, the landlord's father attempted to get the demised premises forcibly vacated. This compelled the tenant to institute Original Suit No. 258 of 1989 before the Court of the Munsif West, Hardoi. Some injunction was granted in the said suit irked over which Surendra Pal Singh caused the present application for release to be instituted setting up a false case of a family settlement. The landlord's father, Surendra Pal Singh had a house in Hardoi built on a plot of 100 x 300 ft. The house had 20-22 rooms. Surendra Pal Singh had three members in his family, that is to say, the landlord and his mother, that is to say, Surendra Pal Singh's wife. The landlord had no need for the demised premises. He does not come to Court everyday, but attends infrequently. Some houses of his, the landlord's father has recently got vacated from various tenants, which he has let out again. By contrast, the tenant had a family of eight members. He had two daughters of marriagable age. The tenant needed money in abundance to settle his daughters' marriage. The tenant did not have the necessary wherewithal to buy a house or land and construct a house. The tenant also pleaded that he would not get another house in the city of Hardoi at a rate as cheap as the demised premises. The tenant had a greater need for the demised premises whereas the landlord had none.

9. It was also asserted by the tenant that once vacated, the demised premises would be let out by the landlord at a monthly rent of Rs. 100/-. It is for the said reason that the landlord had instituted the instant proceedings for release on concocted facts. The further case of the tenant is that there was no partition between the landlord, his father and brothers, and the demised premises have not fallen to the landlord's share. The tenant does not have any alternative accommodation in the city of Hardoi except the demised premises. In the event, the demised premises were released, the tenant would face immense hardship, whereas by refusal of the release application, the landlord would not face any. There is also a detail of the accommodation available with the landlord, which according to the tenant, he could utilize to establish his chamber. It is on the foot of all these facts that the tenant resisted the landlord's application for release. The landlord, in support of his case, filed his own affidavit bearing Paper No. 16 Aa, an affidavit of one Mohd. Ali, Paper No. 11 Aa, an affidavit of one Zakir, Paper No. 18 Aa and a rejoinder affidavit of Anil Kumar Singh, the landlord. The tenant filed his affidavits bearing Paper Nos. 28 Aa and 68 Aa, besides those of one Abid and another Satendra Pal Singh, Paper Nos. 29 Aa and 69 Aa, respectively. On behalf of the landlord, an affidavit of Surendra Pal Singh, applicant no. 2, Paper No. 63 Aa was also filed.

10. The Prescribed Authority, by its judgment and order dated 09.10.1991, dismissed the release application. The aforesaid judgment was appealed by the landlord to the District Judge of Hardoi, sitting as the Appellate Authority, under Section 22 of the Act. The Appeal was registered on the file of the learned District Judge as Rent Appeal No. 20 of 1991. The said Appeal, upon assignment, came up for determination before the learned Additional District Judge, Second, Hardoi on 28.03.2020. The Appeal was dismissed and the judgment of the Prescribed Authority affirmed.

11. Aggrieved, this writ petition was filed by the landlord on 10.05.2000 before this Court, arraying the tenant as respondent no. 3 and Surendra Pal Singh, the landlord's father and applicant no. 2 to the release application as respondent no. 4. Apparently, Surendra Pal Singh, respondent no. 4 is a proforma party, as no relief has been claimed against him.

12. No counter affidavit has been filed on behalf of the respondent no. 3, as the record would show, though time was granted to file a counter affidavit on 14.03.2019 and 17.04.2019 and a supplementary counter affidavit on 17.07.2019 with a stop order. There is a counter affidavit, however, on behalf of respondent no. 4 dated 16.09.2000, which is obviously one by the proforma respondent and not the tenant.

13. Heard Mr. Ganga Singh, learned Counsel for the landlord and Mr. Sharad Pathak, Advocate appearing for the tenant.

14. This Court must remark at this stage that the parties addressed this Court on the merits of their case, irrespective of the fact that the landlord, who had set up his need, passed away pending this petition. His heirs and LRs who have been substituted, urge the same case that Anil Kumar Singh, the deceased-landlord had all along pleaded. May be, if Anil Kumar Singh were alive, for the need set up by him and the evidence on record, conclusions very different from the Authorities below could possibly have been recorded. But, that is not to be. Here, the landlord has not left behind a member of his family within the meaning of Section 3(g) of the Act. There is considerable quarrel about the issue whether the landlord was unmarried, or was married but his wife deserted him shortly after marriage, never to come back again. The landlord has said in his application for release that he was married and had a wife, who did not get along with his mother and sisters. The tenant in his affidavit dated 11.09.1990 filed before the Prescribed Authority has stated thus:

"7. यह कि विवादित मकान की कोई आवश्यकता प्रार्थी अथवा उसके पिता को नही है क्योकि उनके पास संलग्न नक्शा नजरी के अनुसार मकानियत है तथा उनके परिवार में मात्र 3, सदस्य सुरेन्द्र सिंह एवं उनकी पत्नी एवं पार्थी स्वयं रहता है तथा प्रार्थी की पत्नी शादी में एक बार के बाद दुवारा कभी हरदोई नही आकर रही प्रार्थी स्वयं खाना अपनी माँ का बनाया हुआ खाता है तथा प्रार्थी के माता पिता ने अलग रहने का कभी भी जोर नही दिया है क्योकि उनकी सेवा स्वयं प्रार्थी करता है।"

15. The landlord in his affidavit dated 22.09.1990 has denied the aforesaid assertion in the following terms:

"4- यह कि विपक्षी का यह भी कथन कि मुझ शपथी की पत्नी उसके साथ नही रहती है तथा मुझ शपथी हरदोई में अधिवक्ता व्यवसाय नही करता है बिलकुल गलत है।"

16. Surendra Pal Singh, the landlord's father, in his affidavit dated 25.02.1991 has stated:

"4- यह कि शपथकर्ता के तीनों पुत्रों की शादिया हो गयी है तथा परिवार बढ़ जाने से शपथकर्ता व उसकी पत्नी व बहुओं व पुत्रों में अक्सर विवाद हो जाता था तथा उनमें वैमनस्ता बढ़ रही थी अत: पारिवारिक शांति व मान मर्यादा बनाए रखने हेतु शपथकर्ता एवं शपथकर्ता की पत्नी तथा पुत्रों के मध्य दिनाँक 10-5-89 को मौखिक पारिवारिक समझौता हो गया था और उक्त मौखिक पारिवारिक समझौता की यादास्त हेतु एक मेंमोरेन्डस भी तहरीर किया गया था जिसकी नोटरी से प्रमाणित फोटों कापी शपथकर्ता के समक्ष है तथा एक प्रति प्रार्थी अनिल कुमार द्वारा न्यायालय में दाखिल की गयी है जो शामिल पत्रावली है।"

17. Pending this petition, the landlord passed away on 12.08.2020 and a substitution application to bring on record his heirs and LRs was moved by Sitanshu Singh Parmar and Priyanshu Singh Parmar, since allowed by this Court. The heirs and LRs are the sons of the landlord's brother and they claim on the basis of a will dated 19.06.2020 left by the deceased-landlord. In paragraph no. 5 of the application for substitution duly supported by an affidavit of Sitanshu Singh Parmar, it has been stated:

"5. That the petitioner during his life time executed a registered Will in favour of the applicants as they were taking care of their uncle i.e. petitioner as such on the basis of the registered Will dated 19.06.2020 applicants are only sole legal heirs of deceased petitioner as such applicants deserve to be substituted in place of petitioner, as petitioner was issueless, having no wife. True Photostat copy of the registered Will dated 19.06.2020 is being annexed herewith as Annexure No. 2 to this affidavit."

(Emphasis by Court)

18. Apart from the aforesaid contention about the marital status of the landlord, what is evident is that assuming that the landlord was married at some point of time, his widow never came forward to seek substitution and allowed his nephews to be substituted as the heirs and LRs. For the limited purpose of the present petition, therefore, it has to be held that the landlord was married for a while, who had separated from his wife early in life and the wife was not staying with him at the time of his death. Even if she had a subsisting marriage that has not been severed by divorce, entitling her to be substituted by virtue of being a member of the landlord's family, she has never come forward to assert that right. Whosoever was the landlord's wife, her existence is so obscure that even her name has nowhere figured on the record. The clinching point is that it is the landlord's nephews who have come forward to apply as his heirs and LRs without objection from any quarter and have been substituted on record. Therefore, it is they who have to be heard as the ones representing the landlord's interest in the present proceeding for release.

19. Mr. Ganga Singh, learned Counsel for the landlord submits that his heirs and legal representatives have stepped into his shoes and are entitled to pursue the application for release in the same right as the landlord. He submits that whatever bona fide need the landlord had pleaded would enure to the benefit of the legal representatives who now represent him.

20. Mr. Sharad Pathak, learned Counsel for the tenant submits that whatever bona fide need was set up in the release application, stands effaced, because the landlord, pending this petition, has passed away. It is submitted that the landlord was an Advocate and required the demised premises to establish his chamber. His heirs and LRs are not entitled to pursue the application for release on the basis of the need set up by the landlord. It is submitted that these proceedings must be held to have outlived their purpose and office and the heirs and LRs of the landlord be required to institute fresh proceedings on the basis of whatever kind of bona fide need, if at all, they wish to plead.

21. This Court has keenly considered the rival submissions advanced by learned Counsel for both parties.

22. The specific need that the landlord set up has come to an end with his life that the long course of these proceedings have defeated by sheer lapse of time. Even if a member of the landlord's family, within the meaning of Section 3(g) of the Act were alive, the prayer for release could have been considered because the landlord had sought release for the purpose of his residence and to set up his chamber. The bona fide need for the purpose of the landlord's residence would include the interest of a person who was a member of his family, particularly one who was residing with the landlord, within the meaning of Section 3(g) of the Act. Here, the landlord's wife was not staying with him and upon his death, has not come forward to seek substitution in his stead.

23. The heirs and LRs, who have been substituted, claim on the basis of a registered will dated 19.06.2020. It is the case of the heirs and LRs themselves set out in the affidavit that they have filed, in support of the substitution application, that they are the landlord's nephews. They are the sons of his brother Vishnu Pal Singh. No doubt, they have stepped into the landlord's shoes, but the landlord's bona fide need cannot enure to their benefit. If the landlord's widow or a son had asked to pursue release for the purpose of his/ their residence, being members of his family as defined under Section 3(g) of the Act, they would be entitled to maintain the release application. This would be so because a member of the landlord's family would be sharing the landlord's bona fide need for residential purpose. Here, the heirs and LRs who have come on record are the sons of the landlord's brother and claim through a testamentary disposition. Thus, if the heirs and LRs of the landlord do have a case of bona fide need of their own, it would be generically different and unconnected to the landlord's case. If the heirs and LRs of the landlord have a case of bona fide need as aforesaid, they would be free to pursue it by instituting appropriate proceedings before the Prescribed Authority or other Court of competent jurisdiction, as may be advised. However, so far as the present writ petition is concerned, no relief can be granted in favour of the heirs and LRs of the landlord.

24. In the result, subject to the above clarification about the rights of heirs and LRs of the landlord, this writ petition fails and is dismissed.

(2022)05ILR A1019
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 06.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUNEET KUMAR, J.

Writ A No. 8366 of 2017
along with
Writ A No. 32882 of 2019

Dr. Om Prakash Gupta & Anr. ...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Avinash Tiwari

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

A. Service Law – Dynamic/Special Assured Career Progression (SACP) - An exception has been carved out for the Medical Officers, PMHS while implementing SACP, which in the opinion of the Court is discriminatory, insofar as it excludes the other Medical Officers practising medicine in different streams. (Para 26, 28)

Concept of ACP is the tied over stagnation on a post and to grant financial upgradation to the government servants, it is not based on the concept of equal pay for equal work or the nature of duties being performed by the government servant. It is applicable across the board from Class-D employee to the highest rank officer, wherever such government servant suffers stagnation. (Para 26)

The ACP Scheme in general is not an incentive scheme resting upon to the nature of duty, responsibility or qualification of the government servant. The ACP Scheme, primarily, is to tide over the stagnation which a government servant, irrespective of his duty, post, pay, qualification or seniority, suffers due to stagnation on a post without earning promotion. The ACP Scheme, in the circumstances, provides for pay up-gradation to the government servant which is purely personal. (Para 27)The State Government is justified in not accepting the Dynamic ACP formulated by the Central Government for its Medical Officers, instead formulated the SACP scheme falling within the realme of administrative policy. But the question is whether such a policy upon being provided can discriminate amongst different streams of medicine practised by Medical Officers. Admittedly, the Medical Officers, irrespective of the stream of medicine (Allopathy or conventional) treat the patients which is the core underlying similarity. The comparison with regard to qualification, course of study/syllabus, nature of duty, responsibility etc. as is being pressed by the State Government to carve out a class of Medical Officers i.e. PHMS being superior to other Medical Officers is misconceived and unfounded insofar it relates to conferment of SACP. The administrative policy is invariably discriminatory in keeping the Medical Officers (Ayurvedic) and other streams out of the scheme having regard to the concept of ACP. (Para 31)

Writ petition allowed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. North Delhi Municipal Corporation Vs Dr. Ram Naresh Sharma & ors., Civil Appeal No. 4578 of 2021, Arising out of SLP (C) No(s) 10156/2019 (Para 12)

2. Dr. Sanjay Singh Chauhan & ors. Vs St. of Uttarakhand & ors., Writ Petition No. 484 of 2014 (S/B) (Para 14)

Precedent distinguished:

1. Mewa Ram Kanojia Vs All India Institute of Medical Sciences & ors., (1989) 2 SCC 235 (Para 18)

2. St. of M.P. Vs R.D. Sharma & ors., Civil Appeal Nos. 474-475 of 2022 (Arising out of SLP (Civil) Nos. 547-548 of 2021), decided on 27.01.2022 (Para 18)

3. Dr. Puneet Kumar Gupta & anr. Vs U.O.I. through Secy. Ministry of Health and Family & ors., Service Bench No. 738 of 2015 (Para 18)

4. S.C. Chandra & ors. Vs St. of Jharkhand & ors., (2007) 8 SCC 279 (Para 18)

Present petition assails order dated 28.02.2017, passed by Principal Secretary, Department of Finance, Civil Secretariat, Lucknow.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suneet Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Sri Avinash Tiwari, learned counsel for the petitioners and Sri Kuldeep Pati Tripathi, learned Additional Advocate General, assisted by learned Standing Counsel appearing for the State-respondents and perused the record with the assistance of the learned counsels for the parties.

2. Both the writ petitions are being heard and decided together on the consent of the parties.

3. The facts and questions of law arising in the writ petitions are identical.

4. The facts of Writ Petition No. 8366 of 2017 is being adverted to for the sake of convenience.

5. The petitioners are confirmed Class-II Officers on the post of Medical Officers (Ayurvedic); the first petitioner claims to be the President of Prantiya Ayurvedic Evam Unani Chikitsa Seva Sangh (for short "Association') duly recognized by the second respondent, Principal Secretary, Department of Medical Education and Ayush (Ayush Anubhag-1), Civil Secretariat, Lucknow. Petitioners are working in the Pay-Scale at Rs. 15600-39100 and Grade Pay at Rs. 6600/-.

6. The instant petition is directed against the order dated 28.02.2017, passed by the first respondent, Principal Secretary, Department of Finance, Civil Secretariat, Lucknow, whereby, the representation of the first petitioner claiming the benefit of Dynamic/Special Assured Career Progression (for short "SACP') Scheme made admissible to the Medical Officers of the Provincial Medical Health Services (for short "PMHS'), has been rejected. Further, a direction has been sought to grant the Medical Officers (Ayurvedic) the benefits of SACP w.e.f. the date it has been allowed to the Medical Officers of PMHS.

7. The facts, inter se parties, are not disputed.

8. The Medical Officers PMHS practice Allopathy stream of medicine. It appears that Medical Officers PMHS made a representation to the State Government for implementation of Dynamic ACP Scheme as made admissible to the Medical Officers under the Central Government. On considering their representation, the State Government vide order dated 14.11.2014, framed a scheme on the recommendation of the Committee. The SACP, primarily, provides that the Medical Officers PMHS would be entitled to upgradation of pay on completing 4, 11, 17 and 24 years of satisfactory service. The scheme was made applicable w.e.f. 01.12.2008. The relevant portion of the Government Order dated 14.11.2014, for the purposes of the instant writ petition, is extracted:

''(1) प्रादेशिक चिकित्सा एवं स्वास्थ्य सेवा (पी0एम0एच0एस0) के चिकित्सकों के लिए केन्द्रीय चिकित्सकों के समान डी0ए0सी0पी0 की व्यवस्था लागू करने का औचित्य नही है।

(2) पी0एम0एच0एस0 संवर्ग के लिए ए0सी0पी0 की विशिष्ट व्यवस्था निर्धारित की जाये। तदनुसार ए0सी0पी0 की विशिष्ट व्यवस्था के अन्तर्गत पी0एम0एच0एस0 संवर्ग के प्रथम स्तर के पद (वेतनमान रू0 8000–13500/ समकक्ष वेतनमान/ पुनरीक्षित वेतन संरचना में सादृश्य वेतन बैण्ड–3 एवं ग्रेड वेतन रू0 5400/–) पर नियुक्ति की तिथि से निम्न तालिका के स्तम्भ–2 में उल्लिखित सेवावधि पर उसके सम्मुख स्तम्भ–3 के अनुसार वैयक्तिक वेतन बैण्ड एवं ग्रेड वेतन अनुमन्य कराये जायेः–

क0 सं0	पी0एम0एच0एस0 संवर्ग में प्रथम स्तर के पद पर नियुक्ति की तिथि से सेवावधि।	ए0सी0पी0 की विशिष्ट व्यवस्था के अन्तर्गत वैयक्तिक रूप से अनुमन्य वेतन बैण्ड एवं ग्रेड वेतन।
1	04 वर्ष की निरन्तर संतोषजनक सेवा।	वेतन बैण्ड–3 एवं ग्रेड वेतन रू0 6600/–
2	कुल 11 वर्ष की निरन्तर संतोषजनक सेवा।	वेतन बैण्ड–3 एवं ग्रेड वेतन रू0 7600/–
3	कुल 17 वर्ष की निरन्तर संतोषजनक सेवा।	वेतन बैण्ड–4 एवं ग्रेड वेतन रू0 8700/–
4	कुल 24 वर्ष की निरन्तर संतोषजनक सेवा।	वेतन बैण्ड–4 एवं ग्रेड वेतन रू0 8900/–

9. The petitioners herein belong to a different stream of medicine i.e. Ayurvedic and are entitled to the General ACP Scheme applicable to all other government servants which was conferred by the Government Order dated 04.05.2010, wherein, upon stagnation on a post the government servant is entitled to upgradation of pay at 10, 18 and 26 years of service. The relevant portion of the Government Order dated 04.05.2010 reads thus:

'' (2) (घ) ए0सीपी0 के अन्तर्गत सीधी भर्ती के किसी पद पर प्रथम नियमित नियुक्ति की तिथि से 10 वर्ष, 18 वर्ष व 26 वर्ष की अनवरत

संतोषजनक सेवा के आधार पर तीन वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन निम्न प्रतिबन्धों के अधीन अनुमन्य किये जायेंगे:–

(क) प्रथम वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन सीधी भर्ती के पद के वेतनमान/ सादृश्य ग्रेड वेतन में 10 वर्ष की नियमित सेवा निरन्तर सन्तोषजनक रूप से पूर्ण कर लेने पर देय होगा।"

10. The General ACP Scheme came to be modified vide Government Order dated 05.11.2014 providing upgradation of pay on satisfactory completion of 8/16/24 years of service.

11. In this back drop, it is submitted by the learned counsel for the petitioners that the petitioners who are Medical Officers (Ayurvedic) and were inducted by the State Government on the same pay scale/band as admissible to the Medical Officers PMHS have been discriminated, merely, because they belong to and practise conventional stream of medicine as against modern medicine. It is submitted that the nature and duties of the Medical Officers rendering medical services in different streams of medicine is not comparable but the primary duty being performed by the Medical Officers (Ayurvedic) is the same i.e. treating patients and number of hours of duty is comparable with the Medical Officer of PMHS. It is further sought to be urged that the issue being raised in the instant writ petition is not based on comparison/parity with the other stream of medical science or treatment. The benefit of SACP admissible to the Medical Officers PMHS, excluding, Medical Officers of their streams viz. Ayurvedic /Unani/Dental is discriminatory. The concept of ACP is based on the principle of tiding over stagnation on a post, ACP, per se, is not an incentive scheme so as to discriminate between Medical Officers engaged in different stream of medical treatment and practice. It is further submitted that the Dynamic ACP Scheme was made admissible to all the medical officers of the Central Health Service, irrespective, of the stream of medicine they practice, whereas, State Government while implementing the SACP has confined it to the Medical Officers PMHS (Allopathy).

12. Learned counsel for the petitioners, in support of his submission, has placed reliance on the decision rendered by the Supreme Court in North Delhi Municipal Corporation Versus Dr. Ram Naresh Sharma and others1.

13. The issue before the Court was with regard to the discrimination in the age of superannuation of the medical officers vis-a-vis dentist and doctors covered under the AYUSH, including, Ayurvedic doctors. The Court was of the opinion that the classification of AYUSH doctors and other doctors of Central Health Scheme (for short "CHS') in different categories is not reasonable and permissible under law. The doctors, both under AYUSH and CHS, render service to patients and on this core aspect, there is nothing to distinguish them. It was held that there was no rational justification for having different dates for bestowing the benefit of extended age of superannuation to these two categories of doctors. Paragraph nos.22 and 23 are extracted:

"22. The common contention of the appellants before us is that classification of AYUSH doctors and doctors under CHS in different categories is reasonable and permissible in law. This however does not appeal to us and we are inclined to agree with the findings of the Tribunal and the Delhi High Court that the classification is discriminatory and unreasonable since doctors under both segments are performing the same function of treating and healing their patients. The only difference is that AYUSH doctors are using indigenous systems of medicine like Ayurveda, Unani, etc. and CHS doctors are using Allopathy for tending to their patients. In our understanding, the mode of treatment by itself under the prevalent scheme of things, does not qualify as an intelligible differentia. Therefore, such unreasonable classification and discrimination based on it would surely be inconsistent with Article 14 of the Constitution. The order of AYUSH Ministry dated 24.11.2017 extending the age of superannuation to 65 Years also endorses such a view. This extension is in tune with the notification of Ministry of Health and Family Welfare dated 31.05.2016.

23. The doctors, both under AYUSH and CHS, render service to patients and on this core aspect, there is nothing to distinguish them. Therefore, no rational justification is seen for having different dates for bestowing the benefit of extended age of superannuation to these two categories of doctors. Hence, the order of AYUSH Ministry (F. No. D. 14019/4/2016-E-1 (AYUSH)) dated 24.11.2017 must be retrospectively applied from 31.05.2016 to all concerned respondent-doctors, in the present appeals. All consequences must follow from this conclusion."

14. Further, reliance has been placed on the decision rendered by the High Court of Uttarakhand in Dr. Sanjay Singh Chauhan and others versus State of Uttarakhand and others2.

15. The issue before the High Court was as to whether the Medical Officers (AYUSH) appointed on contract could be discriminated with their counter parts in other streams insofar as salary given to the Medical Officers (Allopathy) and Dental Medical Officers. The High Court allowed the writ petition. Para 10 reads thus:

"10. In the instant case, the duties discharged by the petitioners viz-a-viz Allopathic Medical Officers and Dental Medical Officers are of equal sensitivity and quality, even the responsibility and reliability are the same. The classification made by the State Government is irrational."

16. State of Uttrakhand carried the decision in appeal3, the Supreme Court dismissed the appeal in limine vide order dated 24.03.2022 making the following observations:

"Having heard learned counsel for the parties and considering the facts and circumstances of the case, we do not find any ground for interference with the order passed by the High Court. The special leave petition is, accordingly, dismissed.

However, we may only clarify that the respondents who are Ayurvedic doctors will be entitled to be treated at par with Allopathic Medical Officers and Dental Medical Officers under the National Rural Health Mission (NRHM/NHM) Scheme.

After the order was passed, learned counsel for the petitioners made a statement that petitioners would like to file a review petition before the High Court. It is not for this Court to issue any such direction. It is always open to the petitioners to pursue such remedy as may be available to them in law."

17. In rebuttal, learned counsel appearing for the State-respondents submits that the reasons assigned conferring SACP to the Medical Officers PMHS as against Medical Officers (Allopathy) is noted in the impugned order. The qualification of the Medical Officers of different streams is not comparable; the nature of duties, responsibility and treatment is entirely different; the Medical Officers of other streams, including, Medical Officers (Ayurvedic) are not engaged in Medico Legal work; further, the Medical Officers PMHS perform complicated surgery and they are not paid Non-Practising Allowance (NPA), whereas, the petitioners, Medical Officers (Ayurvedic), are allowed private practice.

18. In this backdrop, it is submitted by learned counsel for the State-respondents that to encourage the Medical Officers PMHS, the SACP Scheme was formulated in respect of a class of Medical Officers, excluding, Medical Officers of other streams. It is further submitted that the petitioners have not been discriminated against as they are entitled to ACP Scheme as is applicable to all the employees of the State Government vide Government Order dated 04.05.2010. In support of his submission reliance has been placed on the following authorities: Mewa Ram Kanojia Versus All India Institute of Medical Sciences and others4, State of Madhya Pradesh Versus R.D. Sharma and others5, Dr. Puneet Kumar Gupta and another Versus Union of India through Secy. Ministry of Health and Family and others6, S.C. Chandra and others Versus State of Jharkhand and others7.

19. The authorities relied upon by the learned counsel appearing for the State-respondents is of no assistance as the decisions pertain to the concept and principle of equal pay for equal work. It is noted therein that the principle of equal pay for equal work cannot be invoked in every kind of service, particularly, in the area of professional services.

20. The issue in the given facts is not with regard to equal pay for equal work, but the Scheme formulated for Career Progression to tide over stagnation on a post.

21. On perusal of the ACP Scheme and the relevant stipulations and conditions, therein, it is evident that the scheme offers higher pay scale/financial upgradation only to those eligible government servants who remained deprived of regular promotions. For such deprivation, they are compensated by grant of monetary benefits on purely personal basis i.e. not dependent upon the post or seniority. The financial upgradation does not amount to functional/regular promotion and does not require creation of new posts. The financial upgradation under the scheme shall be available only if no regular promotions during the prescribed periods have been availed by the government servant. In other words, the ACP Scheme is compensatory and not an incentive scheme to a class of government servants.

22. On specific query, learned counsel appearing for the State-respondents submits that the Medical Officers are inducted on the same pay scale/band and pay-grade at the entry level in the services, however, in the case of Medical Officers PMHS, different pay scale/band and pay-grade is admissible depending upon their specialization or super specialty/qualifications. The petitioners, admittedly, are not claiming equal pay for equal work or the pay scale/band and or pay-grade admissible to the specialist or super specialist. The claim of the petitioners is confined to a Scheme made applicable to a class of Medical Officers (Allopathy), excluding other Medical Officers (AYUSH).

23. The contention of the petitioners is that a class of Medical Officers, insofar as, it relates to the benefit of SACP have been discriminated against without any justification or rational, merely for the reason that they are rendering medical service in different streams of medical science. The petitioners herein have been inducted as Medical Officers and are performing duties in various AYUSH and Unani Hospitals as has been detailed in para-10 of the writ petition, which is extracted:

"10. That opposite party no. 1 rejected the case of petitioners as in regard of their whole cadre on the fake ground as work and responsibilities are not same and Medical Officers, Ayurvedic are not doing emergency services and surgery and Medico legal work."

24. The averments have not been denied by the State-respondents in the counter affidavit. On a bare perusal of the Government Order dated 14.11.2014, while conferring SACP, the State Government declined the Dynamic ACP applicable to the Medical Officers of the CHS, irrespective of the stream of specialization i.e. Allopathy/Ayurvedic/Unani/Dental. Whereas, SACP has been made applicable to Medical Officers PMHS and the Medical Officers of other streams i.e. AYUSH/ Dental have been kept out of the scheme.

25. On specific query, learned counsel appearing for the State-respondents admits that the Dynamic ACP has been made applicable to all the Medical Officers irrespective of their streams, but submits that the State Government is not bound to implement the Central Government Scheme in totality.

26. Concept of ACP is the tied over stagnation on a post and to grant financial upgradation to the government servants, it is not based on the concept of equal pay for equal work or the nature of duties being performed by the government servant. It is applicable across the board from Class-D employee to the highest rank officer, wherever such government servant suffers stagnation. However, an exception has been carved out for the Medical Officers, PMHS while implementing SACP, which in the opinion of the Court is discriminatory, insofar as it excludes the other Medical Officers practising medicine in different streams.

27. The ACP Scheme in general is not an incentive scheme resting upon to the nature of duty, responsibility or qualification of the government servant. The ACP Scheme, primarily, is to tide over the stagnation which a government servant, irrespective of his duty, post, pay, qualification or seniority, suffers due to stagnation on a post without earning promotion. The ACP Scheme, in the circumstances, provides for pay up-gradation to the government servant which is purely personal.

28. In this backdrop, having regard to the scope and nature of the ACP scheme, the question that arises is as to whether the Medical Officers rendering medical services in different streams can be discriminated as against Medical Officer PMHS depriving the SACP. In alternative, whether Medical Officer (Ayurvedic) are entitled to be treated at par with Medical Officer PMHS under the SACP scheme.

29. It goes without saying that the Western medicine (Allopathy) is integral to our current health care system, but so are other alternative and complementary health care modalities that are available for the people to choose. Western medicine is sometimes at a loss when it comes to treating the patients holistically. The submission of the learned State Counsel that the classification of Medical Officer (Ayurvedic) and Medical Officers PMHS is reasonable for the purposes of SACP having regard to their qualification and the nature of duties is not convincing. The classification is discriminatory and unreasonable since Medical Officers of both the segments are primarily performing the same function i.e. treating the patients. The difference is that one stream of doctors are using indigenous system of medicine and the other stream Allopathy for treating their patients. The mode of treatment, by itself does not qualify as an intelligible differentia. At the root is treatment of patients. The Medical Officers, both Ayurvedic and Allopathy render medical service to the patients and on this aspect, there is nothing to distinguish them. Treatment of patients is the core function common to the Medical Officers of different streams, therefore, no rational justification is seen to having different ACP scheme of bestowing the benefit of career progression to Medical Officers. As discussed earlier, the ACP scheme is personal to the government servant suffering stagnation and the pay upgradation does not rest upon any other consideration viz. status of post, qualification, nature of duty or seniority. The scheme is purely compensatory. In the circumstances the Medical Officers of the State cannot be discriminated against by providing different period of service to earn the benefit of career progression. Therefore, the classification on face value is discriminatory and violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India.

30. AYUSH is an acronym for Ayurveda, Yoga and Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha and Homeopathy are the six Indian system of medicines prevalent and practised in India. A department called the departments of Indian system of medicine was created in 1995 and renamed AYUSH in 2003 with a focus to provide increased attention for the development of these systems. This was felt in order to give increased attention to these systems in the presence of a strong counterpart in the form of Allopathic system of medicine. This took a reverse turn after the initiation of National Rural Health Mission (NRHM) and the AYUSH systems were brought into the mainstream health care. NHRM introduced the concept of mainstreaming of AYUSH and revitalization of local health traditions. This concept helped in utilizing the untapped AYUSH workforce, therapeutics and the principle of management of community health problems at different levels. The envisaged objective, inter alia, was to provide choice of the treatment system to the patients and strengthen implementation of national health programs.

31. The State Government is justified in not accepting the Dynamic ACP formulated by the Central Government for its Medical Officers, instead formulated the SACP scheme falling within the realme of administrative policy. But the question is whether such a policy upon being provided can discriminate amongst different streams of medicine practised by Medical Officers. Admittedly, the Medical Officers, irrespective of the stream of medicine (Allopathy or conventional) treat the patients which is the core underlying similarity. The comparison with regard to qualification, course of study/syllabus, nature of duty, responsibility etc. as is being pressed by the State Government to carve out a class of Medical Officers i.e. PHMS being superior to other Medical Officers is misconceived and unfounded insofar it relates to conferment of SACP. The administrative policy is invariably discriminatory in keeping the Medical Officers (Ayurvedic) and other streams out of the scheme having regard to the concept of ACP as discussed earlier.

32. Accordingly, the writ petition is allowed.

33. The impugned order dated 28.02.2017, passed by the first respondent, Principal Secretary, Department of Finance, Civil Secretariat, Lucknow, is set aside and quashed. It is provided that the Special ACP Scheme (SACP) implemented vide Government Order dated 14 November 2014, shall be applicable to the Medical Officers of other streams.

34. No cost.

(2022)05ILR A1027
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 05.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUNEET KUMAR, J.

Writ A No. 5962 of 2017
along with
Writ A No. 11470 of 2016

Rajendra Prasad Kureel & Ors. ...Petitioners

Versus

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Mohammad Naseerullah, D.P. Tyagi, I.M. Pandey Ist, Param Shanker

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

A. Service Law – Pay Upgradation – Assured Career Progression (A.C.P.)- The sole question that arise for consideration is, as to whether the services of the petitioners' appointment/recruited by way of deputation would count towards A.C.P. or from the date of merger with the third respondent. (Para 14)

The State Government on 04.05.2010, issued a GO addressed to all the Secretaries/Heads of the department to implement the A.C.P. scheme pursuant to the recommendations of the Pay Committee (2008). The GO, inter alia, provides that all government servants appointed by way of direct recruitment on any post, from the date of their first regular/confirmed appointment, are entitled to pay upgradation on completing satisfactory continuous service of 10 years, 18 years and 26 years respectively. In other words the first A.C.P. would be granted on completion of 10 years of satisfactory service and the subsequent upgradation would be on completion of 16/26 years of satisfactory service, as the case may be. The GO further provides that in case a government servant in between earns a promotion, then he shall not be entitled to the subsequent upgradation but would be entitled to A.C.P. on completing that many years of service, from the date of promotion. (Para 15)

Attention of the Court has been drawn to the subsequent GO issued on 05.11.2014 bringing slight modification to the A.C.P. Scheme. There is no modification or amendment in the scheme, save the entitlement of A.C.P., has been made applicable on completing satisfactory services i.e. 08 years, 16 years and 24 years as against 10, 18 and 26 years. (Para 18)

Having regard to the A.C.P. Scheme as stipulated in the GOs dated 04.05.2010 and 05.11.2014, there is no ambiguity or any difficulty in holding that the petitioners are entitled of A.C.P. computing the period of service from the date of recruitment on deputation. In the backdrop of admitted facts, petitioners came to be recruited/appointed on deputation with the third respondent in the year 1998. On completing 10 years of service i.e. in 2008, petitioners were entitled to the second A.C.P. It is clarified that since the petitioners came to be appointed on the higher pay-scale on deputation they were not entitled to the first A.C.P. Thereafter, petitioners were entitled to earn the third A.C.P. on completing 26 years of service in 2016. The petitioners were granted A.C.P. by the third respondent vide orders dated 25.08.2010 and 07.04.2015 from their date of appointment on deputation in the department. The third respondent, however, on the directions of the State Government has recalled/modified the orders and consequential orders have been issued to recover the excess amount paid to the petitioners. The impugned order takes the date of merger (2012) for computing the period of service for A.C.P. which is erroneous. (Para 19)

Hon'ble High Court having regard to the conditions stipulated in the GO dated 04.05.2010 held that the petitioners are entitled to second and third A.C.P. on computing their services from the date of their respective recruitment on deputation since 1998 and not from the date of their merger with the respondent department in 2006. In view thereof, the impugned order dated 01.10.2015, passed by the third respondent-Director, Viklang Jan Vikas, U.P. Lucknow, in compliance of the order dated 04.08.2015, issued by the State Government and all consequential orders directing recovery from the petitioners, is unsustainable and liable to the quashed. (Para 20)

Writ petition allowed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. Ram Murti Singh Vs St. of U.P., (2006) 3 UPLBEC 2415 (Para 11)

2. St. of Pun. Vs Rafiq Masih, (2015) 4 SCC 334 (Para 11)

3. Thomas Daniel Vs St. of Kerala, Civil Appeal No. 7115 of 2010, decided on 02.05.2022 (Para 11)

Present petition challenges the order dated 01.10.2015, passed by Director, Viklang Jan Vikas, Lucknow.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suneet Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Sri I.M. Pandey and Sri Rajat Rajan Singh, learned counsels for the petitioners and learned counsel appearing for the State-respondents.

2. Both the writ petitions are being heard and decided together on the consent of the learned counsels of the respective parties.

3. The facts of writ petition No.5962 of 2017 is being referred to for the sake of convenience.

4. The petitioners, by the instant writ petition have raised challenge to the order dated 01 October, 2015, passed by the third respondent- Director, Viklang Jan Vikas, Lucknow, whereby, first A.C.P. granted to the petitioners on 01 December, 2008, counting their services w.e.f. 1998, has been recalled/modified computing the period for grant of first A.C.P., from the date of their merger i.e. 26 December, 2006 with the respondent department. As per the impugned order, petitioners are entitled to the first A.C.P. on 26 December, 2016, and thereafter second and third A.C.P. Pursuant to the impugned order, consequential orders have been passed, whereby, recovery of the excess amount paid, has been ordered to be recovered. It is informed that the recovery from the petitioners had been stayed by this Court.

5. The facts inter-se parties is not in dispute.

6. The first petitioner came to be appointed on the post of Clerk (pay-scale Rs.340-550/-) in Zila Parishad Kanpur, under the Panchayati Raj Department of Uttar Pradesh. The second and third petitioners were appointed on the post of Junior Clerk in same pay-scale with the U.P. Tribal Development, Directorate, Lucknow, on 02 December, 1986 and 31 March, 1989 respectively. The fourth petitioner was appointed Junior Clerk on 03 August, 1990, in the pay-scale Rs.340-550/- (Revised pay-scale Rs.950-1500).

7. Petitioners, thereafter, came to be appointed on deputation on the post of Senior Clerk with the third respondent-Director, Viklang Jan Vikas, Lucknow; on different dates between 31 January, 1998 to 13 November, 1998, in higher pay-scale at Rs.1200-2040/-. The pay-scale, subsequently, came to be revised w.e.f. 01 January, 1996 at Rs. 4000-6000/-. This fact has been admitted by the State-respondents in their counter affidavit dated 16 March, 2018. Thereafter, vide order dated 26 December, 2006, passed by the third respondent-Director, Viklang Jan Vikas, Lucknow, services of the petitioners came to be merged on their respective post with the third respondent, consequently, the lien of their parent department came to be terminated. The past services rendered by the petitioner in the parent department was to be counted towards qualifying service for pensionary benefits duly recorded in the order of merger. Thereafter, services of the petitioners came to be confirmed on 03 May, 2007, on the post of Senior Clerk in the same pay-scale Rs.4000-6000/-.

8. The Government Order dated 04 May, 2010, was issued by the government introducing Assured Career Progression (A.C.P.) Scheme to provide financial upgradation on three stages i.e. at 10 years, 18 years and 26 years from the date of initial appointment to tide over stagnation on the post.

9. The petitioners, herein, were granted first A.C.P. w.e.f. 01 December, 2008, counting ten years from the date of appointment, vide order dated 27 November, 2014. Thereafter, the Government issued the impugned order/direction dated 04.08.2015, addressed to the third respondent to withdraw the benefit of A.C.P. allowed to certain officers named therein, directing that all such officers and similarly placed other officers are entitled to A.C.P. from the date of their merger with the department i.e. from the year 2006, and not from the date of their appointment on deputation, accordingly, the third respondent directed that the excess amount paid to the petitioners from 1998 towards A.C.P., be recovered. The order dated 04 August, 2015, insofar as, it relates to the petitioners is also under challenge.

10. It is also relevant to point out that in consequence second A.C.P. granted by order dated 06 April, 2017 to the petitioners on completion of 16 years' of satisfactory service, was also recalled/modified. The facts, briefly stated herein above, is not being disputed by the State-respondents.

11. In this backdrop, the learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the respondents have committed an error in passing the impugned order on misreading of the Government Order dated 04 May, 2010, wherein, it has been categorically, provided that the services rendered by the government servants on deputation would count towards the entitlement of A.C.P. It is further submitted that recovery, that has been sought to be made is inequitable having regard to the fact that petitioners had since retired on the date of superannuation. Further, there is no allegation of fraud or misrepresentation against the petitioners in obtaining the orders granting them A.C.P. Reliance has been placed on the decision rendered in Ram Murti Singh Versus State of U.P. [(2006) 3 UPLBEC 2415], State of Punjab v. Rafiq Masih [(2015) 4 SCC 334] and recently, the Supreme Court in Thomas Daniel Versus State of Kerala, (Civil Appeal No. 7115 of 2010) decided on 2 May 2022, observed and held as follows:

"Such relief, restraining recovery of excess payment, is granted by courts not because of any right in the employees, but in equity, in exercise of judicial discretion to relieve the employees from the hardship that will be caused if recovery is implemented. A government servant, particularly one in the lower rungs of service would spend whatever emoluments he receives for the upkeep of his family. If he receives an excess payment for a long period, he would spend it, genuinely believing that he is entitled to it. As any subsequent action to recover the excess payment will cause undue hardship to him, relief is granted in that behalf. But where the employee had knowledge that the payment received was in excess of what was due or wrongly paid, or where the error is detected or corrected within a short time of wrong payment, courts will not grant relief against recovery. The matter being in the realm of judicial discretion, courts may on the facts and circumstances of any particular case refuse to grant such relief against recovery."

12. In rebuttal, learned counsel appearing for the State-respondents fairly submits that the Government Order dated 04 May, 2010, would apply upon the petitioners in computing the service period for entitlement of A.C.P.. He further submits that it has not being disputed in the counter affidavit that the petitioners are government servants and were working in different departments, they subsequently came to be appointed on deputation with the third respondent- Director, Viklang Jan Vikas, Lucknow, on a higher pay-scale and since then they have continued on the same post subsequently came to be merged with the department. He further submits that the services rendered by the petitioners on the date of recruitment by way of deputation, would not count towards A.C.P; and they have been rightly granted A.C.P. from the date of merger (2006) with the third respondent, after modifying the earlier order issued erroneously.

13. In other words, he submits that the State-respondents are justified in directing recovery after modification/cancellation of the earlier order, which was issued erroneously in teeth of Government Order dated 04 May, 2010.

14. On having considered the rival submissions of the parties, the sole question that arise for consideration is, as to whether the services of the petitioners' appointment / recruited by way of deputation would count towards A.C.P. or from the date of merger with the third respondent.

15. The State Government on 04 May, 2010, issued a Government Order addressed to all the Secretaries/Heads of the department to implement the A.C.P. scheme pursuant to the recommendations of the Pay Committee (2008). The Government Order, inter alia, provides that all government servants appointed by way of direct recruitment on any post, from the date of their first regular/confirmed appointment, are entitled to pay upgradation on completing satisfactory continuous service of 10 years, 18 years and 26 years respectively. In other words the first A.C.P. would be granted on completion of 10 years of satisfactory service and the subsequent upgradation would be on completion of 16/26 years of satisfactory service, as the case may be. The Government Order further provides that in case a government servant in between earns a promotion, then he shall not be entitled to the subsequent upgradation but would be entitled to A.C.P. on completing that many years of service, from the date of promotion. Para-2(i) and (v) reads thus:

Para-2 "(पद्ध ए0सी0पी0 के अर्न्तगत सीधी भर्ती के किसी पद पर प्रथम नियमित नियुक्ति की तिथि से 10 वर्ष, 18 वर्ष व 26 वर्ष की अनवरत संतोषजनक सेवा के आधार पर, तीन वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन निम्न प्रतिबन्धों के अधीन अनुमन्य किये जायेंगें :–

;कद्ध प्रथम वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन सीधी भर्ती के पद के वेतनमान/ सादृश्य ग्रेड वेतन में 10 वर्ष की नियमित सेवा निरन्तर सन्तोषजनक रूप से पूर्ण कर लेने पर देय होगा।

परन्तु,

किसी पद का वेतनमान/ग्रेड वेतन किसी समय बिन्दु पर उच्चीकृत की स्थिति में वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन की अनुमन्यता हेतु सेवावधि की गणना में पूर्व वेतनमान/ग्रेड वेतन तथा उच्चीकृत वेतनमान/ग्रेड वेतन में की गयी सेवाओं को जोड़कर उच्चीकृत ग्रेड वेतन से अगला ग्रेड वेतन अनुमन्य होगा।

;खद्ध प्रथम वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन के रूप में अनुमन्य ग्रेड वेतन में 08 वर्ष की निरन्तर संतोषजनक सेवा पूर्ण कर लेने पर द्वितीय वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयान देय होगा। इसी प्रकार द्वितीय वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन के रूप में अनुमन्य ग्रेड वेतन में 08 वर्ष की निरन्तर संतोषजनक सेवा पूर्ण कर लेने पर तृतीय वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन देय होगा।

परन्तु,

यदि सम्बंधित कार्मिक को प्रोन्नति, प्रथम वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन के पूर्व अथवा उसके पश्चात् प्राप्त हो जाती है तो प्रोन्नति की तिथि से 08 वर्ष की सेवा पूर्ण कर लेने पर ही प्रोन्नति के पद पर अनुमन्य ग्रेड वेतन से अगला ग्रेड वेतन द्वितीय वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन के रूप में अनुमन्य होगा। सम्बन्धित पद पर रहते हुए उक्तानुसार द्वितीय वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन अनुमन्य होने की तिथि से 08 वर्ष की सेवा पूर्ण करने अथवा कुल 26 वर्ष की सेवा पूर्ण करने की तिथि, जो भी पहले हो, से तृतीय वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन का लाभ अनुमन्य होगा।

;अद्ध ए0सी0पी0 की व्यवस्था लागू होने के पश्चात् सीधी भर्ती के किसी पद पर प्रथम नियुक्ति के पश्चात् संवर्ग में प्रथम पदोन्नति होने के उपरान्त केवल द्वितीय एवं तृतीय वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन तथा द्वितीय पदोन्नति प्राप्त होने के उपरान्त तृतीय वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन का लाभ ही देय रह जायेगा। तीसरी पदोन्नति प्राप्त होने की तिथि के प्रश्चात् किसी भी दशा में वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन का लाभ अनुमन्य न होगा। इस सन्दर्भ में यह भी उल्लेखनीय है कि दिनांक 01 जनवरी, 2006 से लागू पुनरीक्षित वेतन संरचना में एक ही संवर्ग में यदि समान ग्रेड वेतन वाले पद पर पदोन्नति हुई है, तो उसे, भी वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन की अनुमन्यता हेतु पदोन्नति माना जायेगा।ष

16. The Government Order further provides that the government servant who have worked in any other government department on the same grade-pay, their services shall be considered for A.C.P.. The government servant, who came to be transferred/recruited on deputation would also be considered for A.C.P.. Para-2(vi)(vii) and (viii) is extracted:

"(vi) प्रदेश के अन्य राजकीय विभागों में समान ग्रेड वेतन में की गयी नियमित सेवा को वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन के लिए गणना में लिया जायेगा, परन्तु ऐसे मामलों में ए0सी0पी की व्यवस्था के अर्न्तगत देय किसी लाभ हेतु नये विभाग के पद पर परिवीक्षा अवधि ;चतवइंजपवद चमतपवकद्ध संतोषजनक रूप से पूर्ण करने के उपरान्त ही

विचार किया जायेगा एवं सम्बन्धित लाभ देय तिथि से ही अनुमन्य कराया जायेगा।

(vii) ए0सी0पी की व्यवस्था के अन्तर्गत वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन हेतु नियमित सन्तोषजनक सेवा की गणना में प्रतिनियुक्ति/वाह्य सेवा, अध्ययन अवकाश तथा सक्षम स्तर से स्वीकृत सभी प्रकार के अवकाश की अवधि को सम्मिलित किया जायेगा।

(viii) केंद्र सरकार/स्थानीय निकाय/स्वशासी संस्था/सार्वजनिक उपक्रम एवं निगम में की गयी पूर्व सेवा को वित्तीय स्तरोन्नयन के लिए गणना में नही लिया जायेगा।६

17. Applying the mandate of Government Order to the admitted facts, in the instant petition, it is not being disputed by the respondents that all the petitioners, herein, were government servants working in various departments of the State Government, they came to be appointed on deputation in 1998 on a higher pay-scale/grade-pay. In the circumstances, the petitioners are not entitled to the first A.C.P., however, since the petitioners continued with the third respondent on the same post without earning any subsequent promotion, were entitled to second and third A.C.P. counting the services rendered on deputation with the respondent department as provided under Para-2(vi) and (vii) of the Government Order.

18. Attention of the Court has been drawn to the subsequent Government Order issued on 5 November 2014 bringing slight modification to the A.C.P. Scheme. Para-9 and 11 of the said Government Order is pari materia with the conditions stipulated in the Government Order dated 4 May 2010 i.e. the services rendered by the government servant in any earlier establishment/department of the government, and/or the services rendered upon being appointed on deputation would be counted towards A.C.P.. In other words, there is no modification or amendment in the scheme, save the entitlement of A.C.P., has been made applicable on completing satisfactory services i.e. 08 years, 16 years and 24 years as against 10, 18 and 26 years.

19. Having regard to the A.C.P. Scheme as stipulated in the Government Orders dated 4 May 2010 and 5 November 2014, there is no ambiguity or any difficulty in holding that the petitioners are entitled of A.C.P. computing the period of service from the date of recruitment on deputation. In the backdrop of admitted facts, petitioners came to be recruited/appointed on deputation with the third respondent in the year 1998. On completing 10 years of service i.e. in 2008, petitioners were entitled to the second A.C.P. It is clarified that since the petitioners came to be appointed on the higher pay-scale on deputation they were not entitled to the first A.C.P. Thereafter, petitioners were entitled to earn the third A.C.P. on completing 26 years of service in 2016. The petitioners were granted A.C.P. by the third respondent vide orders dated 25 August 2010 and 7 April 2015 from their date of appointment on deputation in the department. The third respondent, however, on the directions of the State Government has recalled/modified the orders and consequential orders have been issued to recover the excess amount paid to the petitioners. The impugned order takes the date of merger (2012) for computing the period of service for A.C.P. which is erroneous.

20. Having regard to the conditions stipulated in the Government Order dated 4 May 2010, the petitioners are entitled to second and third A.C.P. on computing their services from the date of their respective recruitment on deputation since 1998 and not from the date of their merger with the respondent department in 2006. In view thereof, the impugned order dated 1 October 2015, passed by the third respondent-Director, Viklang Jan Vikas, U.P. Lucknow, in compliance of the order dated 04 August, 2015, issued by the State Government and all consequential orders directing recovery from the petitioners, is unsustainable and liable to the quashed.

21. Order accordingly.

22. The writ petition, is accordingly, allowed.

23. The State-respondents are directed to compute the entitlement of second and third A.C.P. from the date of appointment of the petitioners on deputation (1998) with all consequential benefits, including retiral dues. The petitioners are entitled to arrears, if any. It is expected that the State-respondents shall complete the exercise within eight weeks from the date of filing of certified copy of this order, failing which, petitioners shall be entitled to simple interest at the rate of 6% per annum from due date till the date of payment on the amount due to the respective petitioners.

24. No cost.

(2022)05ILR A1033
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 07.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJAN ROY, J.

Writ A No. 3793 of 2018

C/M Azimuddin Ashraf Islamia Inter College, Barabanki ...Petitioner

Versus

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Aftab Ahmad, Qazi Mohd. Ahmad

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

A. Service Law – Education – Selection and Appointment - U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921 - Sections 2(dd), 16FF(4) & 16FF(5) - It was not open for the District Inspector of Schools to reopen the issue after adjudication by the Joint Director of Secondary Education, Faizabad Region, Faizabad vide order dated 30.06.2017. All that he was required to do was to verify the educational testimonials and training documents for the purposes of payment of salary, instead he has embarked upon an unnecessary exercise pointing out certain irregularities in the selection which could not have been seen by him. The order of the Joint Director is referable to S.16 FF (5) of the Act of 1921 as also the GO dated 19.12.1997, contained as Annexure No. 18 to the petition. Counter affidavit is silent as to how the Joint Director of Secondary Education, Faizabad Region, Faizabad did not have the jurisdiction in the matter in view of the GO dated 19.12.1997, veracity of which has not been challenged. (Para 10)

Selected candidates are already working and being paid salary in pursuance to the interim order passed by this Court dated 07.02.2018. The educational testimonials and training documents have been verified by the District Inspector of Schools before paying the salary in compliance of the interim order of this Court. (Para 11)

Writ petition allowed. (E-4)

Present petition challenges the order dated 19.12.2017, passed by District Inspector of Schools, Barabanki, holding the selection and appointment of teachers by the petitioner (Committee of Management) to be illegal seeking certain clarifications.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajan Roy, J.)

1. Heard.

2. By means of this petition the petitioner has challenged the order of District Inspector of Schools, Barabanki dated 19.12.2017 holding the selection and appointment of the Teachers by the petitioner - Committee of Management to be illegal seeking certain clarifications from it.

3. The contention of learned counsel for the petitioner is that selection was held for filling up three posts of Lecturers and one Assistant Teacher in the Petitioner-Institution which is a minority Institution about which there is no dispute in the counter affidavit. The proposal for approval for such selection and appointment was sent to the District Inspector of Schools concerned who vide order dated 30.05.2017 rejected it on account of certain alleged irregularities. The petitioner - Committee of Management filed an appeal/representation before the Joint Director of Secondary Education, 9th Region, Faizabad Region, Faizabad on 06.06.2017 under Section 16 FF (5) of the U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921. The matter was considered by the Joint Director who vide order dated 30.06.2017 set aside the order of the District Inspector of Schools dated 30.05.2017. Copy of the order of Joint Direction is annexed as Annexure No. 11. This order was passed in compliance of the judgment and order dated 20.06.2017 passed by this Court in Writ Petition No. 13986 (MS) of 2017 wherein a direction had been issued to the appellate authority to decide the petitioner's appeal, expeditiously, say by 10th of July, 2017 keeping in view the provisions as contained in Section 16 FF (4) of the Act of 1921.

4. The Court has perused the order of the Joint Director dated 30.06.2017 and finds that a categorical finding has been recorded by him that the selected persons possess the requisite qualifications for the post for which they have been selected. Accordingly, in view of Section 16 FF (4) of the Act of 1921 there is no reason for not granting approval. Consequently, he has granted approval subject to the condition that if any concealment or falsehood is found in the matter, then the approval would automatically stand rescinded. He has further observed that the District Inspector of Schools, Barabanki shall be under an obligation to verify the educational testimonials and training documents of the selectees from the concerned Institution/University and pay the salary only thereafter. Now, after this order, all that the District Inspector of Schools was required to do is to verify the educational testimonials and training documents of the selectees. Instead of doing so, by means of the impugned order, he has held that the Joint Director, in fact, had no jurisdiction and under Section 16 FF, it is Regional Deputy Director who had jurisdiction in the matter and thereafter he has pointed out various irregularities in the selection and has held that the selection appears to be irregular, accordingly he has sought information from the petitioner.

5. Counsel for the petitioner has invited attention of the Court to the Government Order dated 19.12.1997 contained as Annexure No. 18 veracity of which has not been denied in the counter affidavit filed on behalf of the respondents, according to which the tasks which were to be performed by the Deputy Director of Education under the Act of 1921 are to be performed by the concerned Joint Director, but it seems that the District Inspector of Schools, Barabanki was wholly oblivious of this fact.

6. Section 16 FF (4) of the Act of 1921 reads as under:

"16 FF (4) - The Regional Deputy Director of Education or the Inspector, as the case may be, shall not withhold approval for the selection made under this section where the person selected possesses the minimum qualifications prescribed and is otherwise eligible."

7. The Court may refer to Section 2 (dd) of the Act of 1921 which defines "Regional Deputy Director Education as under:

"2 (dd) "Regional Deputy Director, Education" means the Deputy Director of Education in charge of a region and includes an officer authorised by the State Government to perform all or any of the duties of a Regional Deputy Director."

8. In view of this definition State Government can authorise the Joint Director Education to perform all or any of the duties of a Regional Deputy Director and the Government Order dated 19.12.1997 is referable to it.

9. Everyday, we find that such decisions are being taken by the Joint Director of the concerned Region.

10. Considering the provisions of Section 16 FF (4) of the Act of 1921, according to which the Regional Deputy Director of Education which now is Joint Director of Education in view of the aforesaid Government Order which is referable to Section 2 (dd) read with Section 16 FF of the Act of 1921 or the Inspector as the case may be shall not withhold the approval for selection made under this Section where the person selected possesses the minimum qualification prescribed and is otherwise eligible and also in view of the adjudication of the matter by the Joint Director of Education vide order dated 30.06.2017 passed in pursuance to the judgment of this Court dated 20.06.2017 passed in Writ Petition No. 13986 (MS) of 2017 wherein he has held that the selected candidates possess the requisite qualification and has accordingly approved the selection and appointment, the order of the District Inspector of Schools impugned herein is clearly in the teeth of the law as also highly objectionable in the sense he has forgotten the hierarchy and control which is the hallmark of any administrative organization. It was not open for the District Inspector of Schools to reopen the issue after adjudication by the Joint Director of Secondary Education, Faizabad Region, Faizabad vide order dated 30.06.2017. All that he was required to do was to verify the educational testimonials and training documents for the purposes of payment of salary, instead he has embarked upon an unnecessary exercise pointing out certain irregularities in the selection which could not have been seen by him. The order of the Joint Director is referable to Section 16 FF (5) of the Act of 1921 as also the Government Order dated 19.12.1997, contained as Annexure No. 18 to the petition. Counter affidavit is silent as to how the Joint Director of Secondary Education, Faizabad Region, Faizabad did not have the jurisdiction in the matter in view of the Government Order dated 19.12.1997 veracity of which has not been challenged.

11. Selected candidates are already working and being paid salary in pursuance to the interim order passed by this Court dated 07.02.2018. Obviously, the educational testimonials and training documents have been verified by the District Inspector of Schools before paying the salary in compliance of the interim order of this Court.

12. In view of the above, the impugned order dated 19.12.2017 is hereby quashed. Consequences shall accordingly follow as per law.

13. The petition is allowed.

(2022)05ILR A1036
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 22.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

Writ A No.17936 of 2021

Bindu ...Petitioner
Versus
Hon'ble High Court of Judicature at Allahabad & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Vijay Tripathi

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Ashish Mishra, Sri Rahul Agarwal

Construction of the expression, "if he has been for not less than seven years an advocate" in Article 233(2) of the Constitution - This expression means seven years as an advocate immediately preceding the application and not seven years any time in the past. This is clear by use of 'has been'. The present perfect continuous tense is used for a position which began at some time in the past and is still continuing. Therefore, one of the essential requirements articulated by the above expression in Article 233(2) is that such person must with requisite period be continuing as an advocate on the date of application. (Para 4)

The term used "has been" is interpreted to mean seven years and has to be in present perfect continuous tense and not has been seven years during any period. (Para 6)

B. In view of the interpretation of Article 233, rules debarring judicial officers from staking their claim as against the posts reserved for direct recruitment from bar are not ultra vires as rules are subservient to the provisions of the Constitution.

- U/Article 232(2), an Advocate or a pleader with 7 years of practice can be appointed as District Judge by way of direct recruitment in case he is not already in the judicial service of the Union or a State.

- For the purpose of Article 233(2), an Advocate has to be continuing in practice for not less than 7 years as on the cut-off date and at the time of appointment as District Judge. Members of judicial service having 7 years' experience of practice before they have joined the service or having combined experience of 7 years as lawyer and member of judiciary, are not eligible to apply for direct recruitment as a District Judge.

- The rules framed by the High Court prohibiting judicial service officers from staking claim to the post of District Judge against the posts reserved for Advocates by way of direct recruitment, cannot be said to be ultra vires and are in conformity with Articles 14, 16 and 233 of the Constitution of India. (Para 7)

In case on hand, the petitioner ceased to be an Advocate under the Advocates Act, 1961 in August 2017 when she got selected as EXAMINER OF TRADE MARK & G.I. It is submitted by learned counsel at that time she surrendered her practicing licence. Thereafter in the year 2019, she was selected as Public Prosecutor in CBI where she is still working. The petitioner is a Public Prosecutor at present but as Public Prosecutor, she has not put in continuous service of 7 years. (Para 8)

Writ petition dismissed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. Satish Kumar Sharma Vs Bar Counsel of HP, (2001) 2 SCC 365 (Para 5)

2. Shashank Singh & ors. Vs Hon'ble High Court of Judicature at Allahabad & anr., Writ-A No. 27120 of 2018, decided on 03.12.2021 (Para 7)

Precedent distinguished:

1. Deepak Aggrawal Vs Keshav Kaushik & ors., (2013) 5 SCC 277 (Para 2)

Present petition challenges the order dated 22.10.2021.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Vijay Tripathi, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Rahul Agarwal, learned counsel for the High Court-respondents.

2. The petitioner has prayed for the following reliefs:

"I. issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned rejection order dated 22/10/2021 (Annexure No.1 to this writ petition).

II. issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding and directing the respondents to allow the petitioner to participate in selection process of U.P. Higher Judiciary Services, 2020.

III. to issue any other writ, order or direction which this Hon'ble court may deem fit and proper in the facts and circumstances of the case."

3. The facts in nutshell for our purpose are that the petitioner applied for being appointed as a Judicial Officer in the U.P. State Higher Judicial Services, the clinching aspect which is under challenge is that the High Court after the petitioner had cleared the preliminary exam, she was not permitted to appear for final exams, on the ground that on interpretation of the rules and placing reliance on the judgment of the Apex Court in Deepak Aggrawal v. Keshav Kaushik and others, (2013) 5 SCC 277 the committee found that the petitioner does not have continuous practice for seven years on date of exam/filling form. The High Court on its administrative side conveyed to the petitioner that she was not qualified as per rules.

3. Shri Jitendra Kumar holding brief of the counsel appearing on behalf of petitioner has contended that the petitioner has passed preliminary exams and is practicing as a public prosecutor since 2019. Learned counsel for petitioner also places reliance on the judgment of the Apex Court in Deepak Aggrawal (supra).

4. At this juncture, it would be relevant for us to verbatim refer to paragraphs no.101 and 102, of decision titled Deepak Aggawal (Supra) which we verbatim reproduce as under:

"101. The Division Bench has in respect of all the five private appellants - Assistant Distri*ct Attorney, Public Prosecutor and Deputy Advocate General - recorded undisputed factual position that they were appearing on behalf of their respective States primarily in criminal/civil cases and their appointments were* basically under the C.P.C. or Cr.P.C. That means their job has been to conduct cases on behalf of the State Government/C.B.I. in courts. Each one of them continued to be enrolled with the respective State Bar Council. In view of this factual position and the legal position that we have discussed above, can it be said that these appellants were ineligible for appointment to the office of Additional District and Sessions Judge? Our answer is in the negative. The Division Bench committed two fundamental errors, first, the Division Bench erred in holding that since these appellants were in full-time employment of the State Government/Central Government, they ceased to be "advocate' under the 1961 Act and the BCI Rules, and second, that being a member of service, the first essential requirement under Article 233(2) of the Constitution that such person should not be in any service under the Union or the State was attracted. In our view, none of the five private appellants, on their appointment as Assistant District Attorney/Public Prosecutor/Deputy Advocate General, ceased to be "advocate' and since each one of them continued to be "advocate', they cannot be considered to be in the service of the Union or the State within the meaning of Article 233(2). The view of the Division Bench is clearly erroneous and cannot be sustained.

102. As regards construction of the expression, "if he has been for not less than seven years an advocate" in Article 233(2) of the Constitution, we think Mr. Prashant Bhushan was right in his submission that this expression means seven years as an advocate immediately preceding the application and not seven years any time in the past. This is clear by use of "has been'. The present perfect continuous tense is used for a position which began at some time in the past and is still continuing. Therefore, one of the essential requirements articulated by the above expression in Article 233(2) is that such person must with requisite period be continuing as an advocate on the date of application"

5. While perusing the grounds of challenge, it is clear from the factual data that petitioner cannot seek appointment as Judicial Officer/District Judge in this calendar year as the petitioner does not fulfill the criteria fixed as per provisions of Articles 233, 234 and 236 of the Constitution of India and the rules for. The question is whether the break in practice of the petitioner can be condoned? The decision in Deepak Aggarwal (supra) will not help the petitioner as in our case the Rules categorically mention and has been interpreted to mean seven years in Satish Kumar Sharma v. Bar Counsel of HP, (2001) 2 SCC 365 will have to be looked into. In our case, the petitioner herein from a period of 2017 to 2019 was employed and so there is brake in a legal practice. The Rules framed have to be construed so as to see that the purpose of the legislation is not withered down.

6. The term used "has been" is interpreted to mean seven years and has to be in present perfect continuous tense and not has been seven years during any period. This interpretation will not permit us to entertain this petition and grant the mandamus to permit the petitioner to appear in the exam.

7. The recent decision of the Division Bench of this Court titled Shashank Singh and others v. Hon'ble High Court of Judicature at Allahabad and another, Writ-A No.27120 of 2018 decided on

3.12.2021 is also pressed in service by Shri Rahul Agarwal, learned counsel for the High Court-namely respondents where in it is held:

"The subject matter of the writ petition relates to the process of Direct Recruitment to the U.P. Higher Judicial Services-2018 (Part II). The Allahabad High Court issued a Notification dated 12.11.2018 inviting applications for direct recruitment to the Uttar Pradesh High Judicial Service-2018 (Part-II);

For appreciating the arguments raised on behalf of the writ petitioners, it would be appropriate to refer to Rule 5 of the U.P. Higher Judicial Service Rules 1975, which is reproduced as under:-

"5. Sources of recruitment.- The recruitment to the Service shall be made-a) by promotion from amongst the Civil Judges (Senior Division) on the basis of Principle of merit-cum-seniority and passing a suitability test.

b) by promotion strictly on the basis of merit through limited competitive examination of Civil Judges (Senior Division) having not less than five years qualifying service;

c) by direct recruitment from amongst the Advocates of not less than seven years standing as on the last date fixed for the submission of application forms.

The U.P. Higher Judicial Service Rules, 1975 have been framed in exercise of the power conferred by the Proviso to Article 309 read with Article 233 of the Constitution of India.

The Article 233 of the Constitution of India has been recently interpreted by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the Civil Appeal No.1698 of 2020 (Dheeraj Mor Vs. Hon'ble High Court of Delhi) arising out of SLP (C) No.14156 of 2015 and other connected matters vide decision dated February 19th, 2020 reported in 2020 SCC online SC 213. The Hon'ble Apex Court after considering all aspects of the matter observed as under:-

"59. In view of the aforesaid interpretation of Article 233, we find that rules debarring judicial officers from staking their claim as against the posts reserved for direct recruitment from bar are not ultra vires as rules are subservient to the provisions of the Constitution.

60. We answer the reference as under:-

(i) The members in the judicial service of the State can be appointed as District Judges by way of promotion or limited competitive examination.

(ii) The Governor of a State is the authority for the purpose of appointment, promotion, posting and transfer, the eligibility is governed by the Rules framed under Articles 234 and 235.

(iii) Under Article 232(2), an Advocate or a pleader with 7 years of practice can be appointed as District Judge by way of direct recruitment in case he is not already in the judicial service of the Union or a State.

(iv) For the purpose of Article 233(2), an Advocate has to be continuing in practice for not less than 7 years as on the cut-off date and at the time of appointment as District Judge. Members of judicial service having 7 years' experience of practice before they have joined the service or having combined experience of 7 years as lawyer and member of judiciary, are not eligible to apply for direct recruitment as a District Judge.

(v) The rules framed by the High Court prohibiting judicial service officers from staking claim to the post of District Judge against the posts reserved for Advocates by way of direct recruitment, cannot be said to be ultra vires and are in conformity with Articles 14, 16 and 233 of the Constitution of India.

(vi) The decision in Vijay Kumar Mishra (supra) providing eligibility, of judicial officer to compete as against the post of District Judge by way of direct recruitment, cannot be said to be laying down the law correctly. The same is hereby overruled.

61. In the case of Dheeraj Mor and others cases, time to time interim orders have been passed by this Court, and incumbents in judicial service were permitted to appear in the examination. Though later on, this Court vacated the said interim orders, by that time certain appointments had been made in some of the States and in some of the States results have been withheld by the High Court owing to complication which has arisen due to participation of the ineligible in-service candidates as against the post reserved for the practising advocates. In the cases where such in-service incumbents have been appointed by way of direct recruitment from bar as we find no merit in the petitions and due to dismissal of the writ petitions filed by the judicial officers, as sequel no fruits can be ripened on the basis of selection without eligibility, they cannot continue as District Judges.

They have to be reverted to their original post. In case their right in channel for promotion had already been ripened, and their juniors have been promoted, the High Court has to consider their promotion in accordance with prevailing rules. However, they cannot claim any right on the basis of such an appointment obtained under interim order, which was subject to the outcome of the writ petition and they have to be reverted."

8. In case on hand, the petitioner ceased to be an Advocate under the Advocates Act, 1961 in August 2017 when she got selected as EXAMINER OF TRADE MARK & G.I. It is submitted by learned counsel at that time she surrendered her practicing licence. Thereafter in the year 2019, she was selected as Public Prosecutor in CBI where she is still working. The petitioner is a Public Prosecutor at present but as Public Prosecutor, she has not put in continuous service of 7 years.

9. Hence, Deepak Aggarwal (supra) cannot be made applicable to this case. Paragraph 102 of the said decision which has been quoted above will not permit us to grant writ of mandamus for permitting the petitioner in the exam, as she is not qualified practicing period just when she applied in pursuance to the advertisement issued by the present respondents.

10. In view of these facts, this petition fails and is dismissed.

11. We are thankful to both the learned counsels for the parties for ably assisting us.

(2022)05ILR A1041
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 05.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SARAL SRIVASTAVA, J.

Writ A No. 11722 of 2021

Gajendra Pratap Singh ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri R.K. Sinha, Sri A.K. Sinha

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Yogendra Singh Bohra

A. Service Law – Termination - U.P. Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 - U.P. Basic Education Staff Rules, 197 -; Persons with Disabilities (Equal Opportunities, Protection of Right) and Full Participation Act, 1995 - Where an appointment has been obtained by fraud, the authority doesn't need to follow the procedure contemplated under the rules for conducting enquiry before passing the order of termination. Where the appointment is obtained by fraud, no opportunity of hearing is required to be given. (Para 25, 26, 29)

B. The principles of natural justice, it is well settled, cannot be put into a straitjacket formula. Its application will depend upon the facts and circumstances of each case. It is also well settled that if a party after having proper notice chose not to appear, he at later stage cannot be permitted to say that he had not been given a fair opportunity of hearing. The party should not only be required to show that he did not have a proper notice resulting in violation of principles of natural justice but also to show that he was seriously prejudiced thereby. (Para 25)

The principle of natural justice although is required to be complied with, it has well-known exceptions. Where on the admitted or indisputable facts only one conclusion is possible and under the law only one penalty is permissible, the court may not issue its writ to compel the observance of natural justice, not because it is not necessary to observe natural justice but because courts do not issue futile writs. (Para 27)

C. A person who seeks equity must act in a fair and equitable manner. It is settled in law that when a person approaches Court u/Art. 226 of the Constitution of India, he should approach the Court with clean hands. (Para 31)

D. Jurisdiction - This Court in its jurisdiction u/Art. 226 of Constitution of India, where it is established that appointment is obtained by fraud, cannot allow fraud to perpetuate by accepting a plea of a person that before terminating his services, the proper procedure for conducting an enquiry as contemplated in the relevant rules should be followed. (Para 32)

E. Words & Phrases – Effect of fraud – 'Fraud' - Suppression of a material document would also amount to a fraud on the Court. (Para 29)

"Fraud" is a conduct either by letter or words, which induces the other person or authority to take a definite determinative stand as a response to the conduct of the former either by words or letter. Although negligence is not fraud but it can be evidence on fraud. No judgment of a Court, no order of a Minister, can be allowed to stand if it has been obtained by fraud. Fraud unravels everything. Fraud vitiates all transactions known to the law of however high a degree of solemnity.

It is a fraud in law if a party makes representations, which he knows to be false, and injury enures therefrom although the motive from which the representations proceeded may not have been bad. (Para 30)

In the present case, a perusal of disability certificate dated 20.12.2002 issued by the office of Chief Medical Officer, Banda reveals that the said certificate mentioned 40% disability, but it does not mention the nature of disability whether it is permanent or temporary. When on inquiry it was found to be a forged certificate, a show-cause notice was issued to the petitioner specifying the charge against him that disability certificate of the petitioner is forged, and the burden was upon the petitioner to prove by filing material evidence in response to show cause notice that said disability certificate is genuine, which he utterly failed to do. (Para 33, 34)

Therefore, in view of the admitted fact that the nature of disability which the petitioner suffered is temporary, hence, he is not entitled to the benefit of Persons with Disabilities (Equal Opportunities, Protection of Right) and Full Participation Act 1995, and as such, the disability certificate could not be issued to the petitioner. (Para 35)

Writ petition dismissed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. St. of U.P. & ors. Vs Ravindra Kumar Sharma & ors., AIR 2016 SC 690; (2016) 4 SCC 791 (Para 21)

2. Vice Chairman, K.V.S. & ors. Vs Girdharilal Yadav, 2004 (6) SCC 325 (Para 25)

3. Bank of India & ors. Vs Avinash D. Mandivikar & ors., 2005 (7) SCC 690 (Para 26)

4. State of Chhatisgarh & ors. Vs Dhirjo Kumar Sengar, 2009 (13) SCC 600 (Para 27)

5. S.L. Kapoor Vs Jagmohan & ors., (1980) 4 SCC 379 (Para 27)
6. Punjab Urban Planning & Development Authority & anr. Vs Karamjit Singh, 2019 (16) SCC 782 (Para 28)

7. Bhaurao Dagdu Paralkar Vs St. of Mah. & ors., AIR 2005 SC 3330 (Para 29)

Present petition assails order dated 08.01.2021, passed by Deputy Director of Education/Principal, District Education and Training Institute, Aligarh.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saral Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner, learned Standing Counsel for respondent nos.1 to 3, and Sri Y.S. Bohra, learned counsel for respondent no.4.

2. The petitioner by means of the present writ petition has assailed the order dated 08.01.2021 passed by Deputy Director of Education/Principal, District Education and Training Institute, Aligarh by which services of the petitioner has been terminated.

3. The brief facts of the case are that under a policy of State Government, it has decided to impart six months Special B.T.C. Training Course for the year 2007-08 to those candidates who possess B.Ed. qualification so that they may be appointed as Assistant Teachers in Government Primary Schools. The petitioner states that he is B.A., B.Ed. and as such he has applied for the same under the handicapped quota. The petitioner was selected for Special B.T.C. Training Course, and after successful completion of the B.T.C. Training Course, he was appointed by letter dated 08.02.2009 issued by District Basic Education Officer, Aligarh.

4. Further case of the petitioner is that the State Government by order dated 03.11.2009 directed to constitute a medical board to re-examine the candidates, who had done Special B.T.C. Training Course under handicapped quota. The order dated 03.11.2009 was challenged by one Ravindra Kumar Sharma and others by filing a writ petition which was dismissed by this Court. Against the said order, Special Appeal Defective No.811 of 2010 was filed which was allowed by this Court by judgment dated 09.09.2010 limiting the inquiry to physical verification of disability certificate, and after that, if the authorities conclude that the candidate has not been genuinely issued a certificate of disability or otherwise, or that he does not suffer from any disability so certified which entitles him to such certificate, in that event the candidate can be subjected to fresh medical test and not otherwise.

5. The aforesaid order dated 09.09.2010 passed by this Court in Special Appeal Defective No.811 of 2010 was challenged by the State Government in S.L.P. (C) No.8880 of 2011 which was allowed by the Apex Court by judgment dated 03.02.2016.

6. It appears that under a Government Order, a show-cause notice was issued to the petitioner on 14.09.2010 calling upon him to show cause as to why his services may not be terminated for obtaining an appointment based on a forged disability certificate. According to petitioner, he has submitted a reply to the said show-cause notice stating therein that in the case of similarly situated candidates namely Sandhya Sharma and others, who preferred writ petition bearing Service Single No.7386 of 2010 against the order of termination, this Court stayed the order of termination of Sandhya Sharma and others by order dated 22.10.2010. Accordingly, he prayed for parity of the said interim order. However, the service of the petitioner was terminated by order dated 25.10.2010.

7. The petitioner challenged the order dated 25.10.2010 by means of Writ-A No.42815 of 2012. It appears that after the judgment of Apex Court dated 03.02.2016, a show-cause notice dated 23.06.2016 was issued by the Principal (DIET) to the petitioner. The petitioner stated that he has furnished a reply to the said show-cause notice, but the Court did not find any evidence on record that the so-called reply has been served upon respondents. However, this Court by judgement dated 27.01.2020 directed the respondents to communicate to the petitioner the final decision taken in respect of his candidature. The Court rejected the submission of counsel for the petitioner that a fresh medical examination of the petitioner be undertaken.

8. Pursuant to the order dated 27.01.2020 passed by this Court, a show-cause notice dated 30.12.2020 was issued to the petitioner, and thereafter, the petitioner submitted a reply to the said show cause notice.

9. Subsequently, the Deputy Director of Education/Principal, District Education, and Training Institute, Aligarh by order dated 08.01.2021 terminated the services of the petitioner. The order dated 08.01.2021 is impugned in the present writ petition.

10. Challenging the aforesaid order, learned counsel for the petitioner has contended that the petitioner has been appointed after following the due procedure of law, and therefore, his services could not have been terminated except in accordance with the law. He submits that termination of an employee is a major punishment, and therefore, the procedure contemplated under the U.P. Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 (hereinafter referred to as 'Rules, 1999') which applies to Assistant Teacher of Primary Schools in view of the U.P. Basic Education Staff Rules, 1973 ought to have been followed by respondents. He submits that in the absence of any inquiry, termination order is not sustainable in law.

11. He further contends that respondent-authority has not afforded any reasonable opportunity of hearing to the petitioner before terminating him, and on this ground also, the impugned order is not sustainable in law. He submits that proper course for the respondents before taking any final decision is that they should have permitted the petitioner to appear before the Medical Board to assess his disability and only then a finding ought to have been returned by the respondents that disability certificate of the petitioner is forged. Thus, he contends that impugned order is not sustainable.

12. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondents submits that present is a case where appointment has been obtained by fraud, therefore, the procedure contemplated for conducting an enquiry under Rules, 1999 is not applicable in the facts of the present case. He submits that in the instant case, a show-cause notice was given to the petitioner which clearly states that the petitioner has obtained appointment by submitting a forged disability certificate and thus, he submits that if petitioner had any material to defend his case, he ought to have submitted that material alongwith reply to the show-cause notice to defend himself, but in the instant case, no material has been placed by the petitioner to demonstrate that he has suffered permanent disability to avail the benefit of handicapped quota.

13. He further submits that in the instant case, even no opportunity of hearing was required since from the disability certificate dated 08.02.2021 appearing on page 97 of the writ petition, it is evident that the nature of disability of the petitioner is temporary, and thus, petitioner was not entitled to avail the benefit of handicapped quota, and as he obtained appointment by submitting forged disability certificate, his services have rightly been terminated.

14. I have considered the rival submissions of the parties and perused the record.

15. In the instant case, it is not in dispute that the petitioner has obtained an appointment under the handicapped quota by submitting a disability certificate dated 20.12.2002 issued by the office of Chief Medical Officer, Banda. A perusal of the said disability certificate, appearing on page 24, shows that the disability of the petitioner is 40%, but whether such disability is permanent or temporary is not stated in the said disability certificate.

16. It appears that State Government found that several persons have obtained appointments by submitting forged disability certificate. This led the State Government to issue a Government Order dated 03.11.2009 to conduct the verification of disability certificate of the candidates who have obtained B.T.C. Training certificate based on forged disability certificates. Accordingly, the petitioner was issued a show-cause notice dated 14.09.2010 calling upon him to show cause as to why his services may not be terminated for obtaining the appointment on the basis of forged disability certificate.

17. The petitioner submitted a reply to the said show-cause notice, and District Basic Education Officer, Aligarh being not satisfied with the explanation of the petitioner passed an order dated 25.10.2010 terminating the services of the petitioner. The petitioner challenged the said order by filing Writ-A No.42815 of 2012 which was disposed off by this Court by judgement dated 27.01.2020.

18. The judgment dated 27.01.2020 passed in Writ-A No.42815 of 2012 discloses that during the pendency of the writ petition, a show-cause notice dated 23.06.2016 was issued by the Principal, DIET to the petitioner, and according to petitioner, he submitted a reply to said show-cause notice. Accordingly, this Court by judgement dated 27.01.2020 directed the competent authority to communicate the petitioner final decision taken in respect of his candidature. The Court rejected the prayer of the petitioner for fresh medical examination. A relevant extract of the judgement dated 27.01.2020 is reproduced herein below:-

"The Court only notes that insofar as the submission of the learned counsel that a fresh medical examination be undertaken is concerned, the same is clearly misconceived since it was that very direction of the Division Bench which was set aside by the Supreme Court in Appeal."

19. After the judgement of this Court dated 27.01.2020, a show-cause notice was issued to the petitioner on 30.12.2020 to which the petitioner submitted reply.

20. The Deputy Director of Education/Principal, District Education and Training Institute, Aligarh did not find merit in the so-called reply of the petitioner, and accordingly, rejected the same and terminated the services of the petitioner by order dated 08.01.2021.

21. At this point, it is relevant to mention that the Government Order dated 03.11.2009 was challenged in Writ Petition which was dismissed by this Court, against which Special Appeal Defective No.811 of 2010 was allowed by this Court by judgment dated 09.09.2010. The judgment of this Court in Special Appeal Defective No.811 of 2010 was set aside by the Apex Court in S.L.P. (C) No.8880 of 2011. Relevant extracts of the judgment of Apex Court are reproduced herein below:-

"10. The Division Bench of the High Court has ignored and overlooked the material fact that verification has already been done by the Medical Board and it has been found that certificates of 21% were fraudulently obtained. The High Court has issued a direction in the impugned order for physical verification of the candidate by the authorities and in case he does not suffer from disability so certified candidate can be subjected to fresh medical test. The High Court has overlooked that on mere physical verification it may not be possible to know various kinds of disabilities such as that of eyes, ear impairment etc. That can only be done by the medical examination and particularly when the High Court itself has observed that in case there is genuine suspicion and fraud has been committed medical certification can be reopened. Direction issued in this regard has not been questioned by the respondents and in fact process of re-verification was already over when High Court issued aforesaid directions.

11. In our considered opinion in the peculiar facts of this case of such a fraud and genuine suspicion raised in the representation lodged by the Viklang Sangh and when 21% of such certificates have been found to be fraudulently obtained there was no scope for the Division Bench to interfere and issue order to perpetuate fraud, writ is to be declined in such a scenario and no equity can be claimed by the respondents.

12. In the circumstance we set aside the impugned judgment and order passed by the Division Bench of the High Court and dismiss the writ petition. However before taking any action against the individuals they shall be issued show cause in the matter and thereafter decision will be rendered in accordance with law. Let this exercise be completed within a period of four months. The appeal is allowed to the aforesaid extent."

22. After the judgment of Apex Court, according to the petitioner, a show-cause notice dated 23.06.2016 was issued. This Court by order dated 27.01.2020 commanded the competent authority to take a final decision in respect of the candidature of the petitioner. The explanation of the petitioner was not found satisfactory and he was terminated from service.

23. Now, the moot question that arises for consideration is where an appointment is obtained by fraud whether procedure contemplated under Rules, 1999 for terminating the services is to be followed or a show-cause notice is sufficient to meet the requirement of natural justice before passing the order of termination.

24. To appreciate the said issue, it would be pertinent to consider a few judgments of the Apex Court.

25. In the case of Vice Chairman, K.V.S. And Others Vs. Girdharilal Yadav 2004 (6) SCC 325 the respondent-Girdharilal Yadav obtained an appointment as Principal in K.V.S., Rewari, in the state of Haryana by producing a forged caste certificate showing that he belongs to O.B.C. category. The respondent-Girdharilal Yadav was issued a show-cause notice, and the Apex Court held that where the appointment is obtained by fraud, no opportunity of hearing is required to be given. The relevant extract of paragraph 11 of the said judgment is reproduced herein below:-

"11. ...In terms of Section 58 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 facts admitted need not be proved. It is also a well-settled principle of law that the principles of natural justice should not be stretched too far and the same cannot be put in a straitjacket formula. In Bar Council of India v. High Court of Kerala (2004) 6 SCC 311, this Court has noticed that:

"24. The principles of natural justice, it is well settled, cannot be put into a straitjacket formula. Its application will depend upon the facts and circumstances of each case. It is also well settled that if a party after having proper notice chose not to appear, he at later stage cannot be permitted to say that he had not been given a fair opportunity of hearing. The question had been considered by a Bench of this Court in Sohan Lal Gupta v. Asha Devi Gupta (2003) 7 SCC 492 of which two of us (V.N. Khare, C.J. and Sinha, J.) are parties wherein upon noticing a large number of decisions it was held:

"29. The principles of natural justice, it is trite, cannot be put in a straitjacket formula. In a given case the party should not only be required to show that he did not have a proper notice resulting in violation of principles of natural justice but also to show that he was seriously prejudiced thereby."

25. The principles of natural justice, it is well settled, must not be stretched too far'."

26. In the case of Bank of India and Others Vs. Avinash D. Mandivikar and Others 2005 (7) SCC 690, the respondent-Avinash D. Mandivikar has obtained an appointment by submitting a forged caste certificate. The Apex Court has held that where the appointment is obtained by fraud, the conduct of enquiry as per Rules, 1999 for imposing major punishment is not necessary. Paragraph 9 of the said judgment is extracted herein below:-

"9. A similar plea about long years of service was considered by this Court in R. Vishwanatha Pillai v. State of Kerala (2004) 2 SCC 105 to be inconsequential. In para 19 it was observed:

"19. It was then contended by Shri Ranjit Kumar, learned Senior Counsel for the appellant that since the appellant has rendered about 27 years of service, the order of dismissal be substituted by an order of compulsory retirement or removal from service to protect the pensionary benefits of the appellant. We do not find any substance in this submission as well. The rights to salary, pension and other service benefits are entirely statutory in nature in public service. The appellant obtained the appointment against a post meant for a reserved candidate by producing a false caste certificate and by playing a fraud. His appointment to the post was void and non est in the eye of the law. The right to salary or pension after retirement flows from a valid and legal appointment. The consequential right of pension and monetary benefits can be given only if the appointment was valid and legal. Such benefits cannot be given in a case where the appointment was found to have been obtained fraudulently and rested on a false caste certificate. A person who entered the service by producing a false caste certificate and obtained appointment for the post meant for a Scheduled Caste, thus depriving a genuine Scheduled Caste candidate of appointment to that post, does not deserve any sympathy or indulgence of this Court. A person who seeks equity must come with clean hands. He, who comes to the court with false claims, cannot plead equity nor would the court be justified to exercise equity jurisdiction in his favour. A person who seeks equity must act in a fair and equitable manner. Equity jurisdiction cannot be exercised in the case of a person who got the appointment on the basis of a false caste certificate by playing a fraud. No sympathy and equitable consideration can come to his rescue. We are of the view that equity or compassion cannot be allowed to bend the arms of law in a case where an individual acquired a status by practising fraud."

27. In the case of State of Chhatisgarh and Others Vs. Dhirjo Kumar Sengar 2009 (13) SCC 600, the Apex Court held that the principle of natural justice although is required to be complied with, it has well-known exceptions. One of such exceptions has been laid down in S.L. Kapoor v. Jagmohan and Others (1980) 4 SCC 379. A relevant portion of paragraph 24 of the said judgment is extracted herein below:-

"24...In our view the principles of natural justice know of no exclusionary rule dependent on whether it would have made any difference if natural justice had been observed. The non-observance of natural justice is itself prejudice to any man and proof of prejudice independently of proof of denial of natural justice is unnecessary. It ill comes from a person who has denied justice that the person who has been denied justice is not prejudiced. As we said earlier where on the admitted or indisputable facts only one conclusion is possible and under the law only one penalty is permissible, the court may not issue its writ to compel the observance of natural justice, not because it is not necessary to observe natural justice but because courts do not issue futile writs."

(Emphasis supplied)"

28. Similar proposition has been reiterated by the Apex Court in the case of Punjab Urban Planning and Development Authority and Another Vs. Karamjit Singh 2019 (16) SCC 782. Paragraphs 5.5, 6, 6.2 & 7 of the said judgment are reproduced herein below:-

"5.5. It is well settled that an order of regularization obtained by misrepresenting facts, or by playing a fraud upon the competent authority, cannot be sustained in the eye of law.

In Rajasthan Tourism Development Corporation Ltd. v. Intejam Ali Zafri (2006) 6 SCC 275 it was held that if the initial appointment itself is void, then the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 are not applicable for terminating the services of such workman.

In a similar case, this Court in Bank of India v. Avinash D. Mandivikar, (2005) 7 SCC 690 held that since the respondent had obtained his appointment by playing fraud, he could not be allowed to get the benefits thereof.

6. In the present case, the Single Judge had held that "rightly or wrongly", the Respondent had obtained regularization, and was therefore entitled to a disciplinary enquiry. The Division Bench affirmed the Judgment of the Single Judge.

6.2. The illegality of such an appointment goes to the root of the Respondent's absorption as a regular employee. The Respondent could not be considered to be an "employee", and would not be entitled to any benefits under the Regulations applicable to employees of the Appellant- Authority. Therefore, the High Court erroneously placed reliance on the decision in ECIL v B. Karunakar, (1993) 4 SCC 727, which would not be applicable to the facts of the present case.

7. The question of holding disciplinary proceedings as envisaged under Article 311 of the Constitution, or under any other disciplinary rules did not arise in the present case since the respondent was admittedly not an "employee" of the appellant- Authority, and did not hold a civil post under the State Government. He was merely a daily wager on the muster rolls of the appellant-Authority."

29. From the reading of aforesaid judgments, it is clear that where an appointment has been obtained by fraud, the authority doesn't need to follow the procedure contemplated under the rules for conducting enquiry before passing the order of termination. The Apex Court in Bhaurao Dagdu Paralkar Vs. State of Maharashtra and Others AIR 2005 SC 3330 dealt with the effect of fraud. It was held as follows in the said judgment:-

"14...Fraud is proved when it is shown that a false representation has been made (i) knowingly, or (ii) without belief in its truth, or (iii) recklessly, careless whether it be true or false'.

16. Suppression of a material document would also amount to a fraud on the Court. (See Gowrishankar v. Joshi Amba Shankar Family Trust, (1996 (3) SCC 310) and S.P. Chengalvaraya Naidu's case (supra).

17. "Fraud" is a conduct either by letter or words, which induces the other person or authority to take a definite determinative stand as a response to the conduct of the former either by words or letter. Although negligence is not fraud but it can be evidence on fraud; as observed in Ram Preeti Yadav Vs. U.P. Board of High School and Intermediate Education (2003) 8 SCC 311.

18. In Lazarus Estate Ltd. v. Beasley (1956) 1 QB 702, Lord Denning observed at pages 712 & 713, "No judgment of a Court, no order of a Minister, can be allowed to stand if it has been obtained by fraud. Fraud unravels everything." In the same judgment Lord Parker LJ observed that fraud vitiates all transactions known to the law of however high a degree of solemnity. (page 722.)."

30. When fraud is perpetrated, the parameters of consideration will be different. The fraud and collusion vitiate even the most solemn proceedings in any civilized system of jurisprudence. It is also settled in law that a fraudulent misrepresentation is called deceit and consists in leading a man into damage by willfully or recklessly causing him to believe and act on falsehood. It is a fraud in law if a party makes representations, which he knows to be false, and injury enures therefrom although the motive from which the representations proceeded may not have been bad.

31. Viewed from another angle, it is also settled in law that when a person approaches Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, he should approach the Court with clean hands. A person who seeks equity must act in a fair and equitable manner.

32. Further, it is also pertinent to mention that this Court in its jurisdiction under Article 226 of Constitution of India, where it is established that appointment is obtained by fraud, cannot allow fraud to perpetuate by accepting a plea of a person that before terminating his services, the proper procedure for conducting an enquiry as contemplated in the relevant rules should be followed.

33. Now, coming to the facts of the present case. A perusal of disability certificate dated 20.12.2002 issued by the office of Chief Medical Officer, Banda reveals that the said certificate mentioned 40% disability, but it does not mention the nature of disability whether it is permanent or temporary. When on inquiry it was found to be a forged certificate, a show-cause notice was issued to the petitioner specifying the charge against him that disability certificate of the petitioner is forged, and the burden was upon the petitioner to prove by filing material evidence in response to show cause notice that said disability certificate is genuine, which he utterly failed to do.

34. After noticing the judgment of Apex Court dated 03.02.2016, a show cause notice dated 23.06.2016 was issued to the petitioner, and the petitioner submitted a reply which was noted by the authority in its order dated 08.01.2021, but the reply of the petitioner does not disclose that he has filed any evidence that his disability is permanent in nature, and his disability certificate is genuine.

35. The petitioner has enclosed the disability certificate with the writ petition appearing on page 97 issued by the office of Chief Medical Officer, Banda, a perusal of which discloses that petitioner is suffering stiffness in the right knee which caused 40% disability to him, but as per the said disability certificate, the nature of disability is temporary and not permanent. Therefore, in view of the admitted fact that the nature of disability which the petitioner suffered is temporary, hence, he is not entitled to the benefit of Persons with Disabilities (Equal Opportunities, Protection of Right) and Full Participation Act 1995, and as such, the disability certificate could not be issued to the petitioner.

36. In view of the aforesaid fact and the settled principles of law laid down by the Apex Court in the aforesaid judgments, this Court finds that the contention of learned counsel for the petitioner that the authority ought to have followed the procedure contemplated under Rules, 1999 before imposing major punishment of dismissal is misconceived and not sustainable in law.

37. Thus, for the reasons given above, the writ petition lacks merit and is accordingly, dismissed with no order as to costs.

(2022)05ILR A1050
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 26.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUNEET KUMAR, J.

Writ A No. 10229 of 2016

Dr. Kamal Kumar Saxena ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Sameer Kalia, Sri Rajat Rajan Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Satyanshu Ojha

A. Service Law – Misconduct – Suspension – Disciplinary proceedings - Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 - Rule 3, 7 -Sub rule (2), 7 sub rule (3), 7 Rule 7, 7 sub rule (4), 7 sub rule (5); Civil Service Regulations: Article 351-A - When a department enquiry is conducted against the Government servant it cannot be treated as a casual exercise. The enquiry proceedings also cannot be conducted with a closed mind. The enquiry officer has to be wholly unbiased. (Para 17)

It is a settled legal proposition that, once the Court set asides an order of punishment on the ground, that the enquiry was not properly conducted, the Court should not severely preclude the employer from holding the inquiry in accordance with law. It must remit the concerned case to the disciplinary authority, to conduct the enquiry from the point that it stood vitiated, and to conclude the same in accordance with law. However, resorting to such a course depends upon the gravity of delinquency involved. (Para 26)

B. The embargo of Article 351-A of Civil Service Regulations would not come on the way of the State to conclude the proceedings from the stage of defect even though the petitioner has retired. The departmental proceedings commenced before the retirement of the petitioner. The impugned order is unsustainable due to the procedural defect in concluding the enquiry and not owing to an illegality that would vitiate the departmental enquiry itself. The charges against the petitioner pertain to having caused pecuniary loss to the State which can be pressed even after the retirement of the petitioner. The recovery, on the charges being proved, can be made from the pension after approval of the Hon'ble Governor. (Para 28)

In the present facts and circumstances and upon perusal of the material documents, the impugned order dated 13.04.2016, cannot be sustained as the same has been passed without following the mandate of Rule 7 of Rules, 1999. The order dated 13.04.2016, is set aside and quashed. Liberty is granted with directions to the first respondent to appoint an enquiry officer who shall proceed from the stage of the reply submitted by the petitioner. (Para 29, 30)

Writ petition allowed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. Raj Babu Agnihotri Vs Labour Commissioner, 2002 (20) LCD 1354 (Para 18)

2. St. of Hary. & anr. Vs Rattan Singh, (1982) 1 LLJ 46 (SC) (Para 19)

3. Managing Director, ECIL, Hyderabad (9) etc.etc. Vs B. Karunakar etc., AIR 1994 SC 1074 (Para 26)

4. Hiran Mayee Bhattacharyya Vs Secretary, S.M. School for Girls & ors., (2002) 10 SCC 293 (Para 26)

5. U.P. State Spinning Co. Ltd. Vs R.S. Pandey & anr., (2005) 8 SCC 264 (Para 26)

6. U.O.I. Vs Y.S. Sandhu, Ex-Inspector, AIR 2009 SC 161 (Para 26)

7. NOIDA Entrepreneurs Association Vs NOIDA & Ors., AIR 2011 SC 2112 (Para 27)

8. B.J. Shelat Vs St. of Guj. & Ors., AIR 1978 SC 1109 (Para 27)

9. Ramesh Chandra Sharma Vs Punjab National Bank & Anr., (2007) 9 SCC 15 (Para 27)

10. UCO Bank & anr. Vs Rajinder Lal Capoor, AIR 2008 SC 1831 (Para 27)

Present petition assails punishment order dated 13.04.2016.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suneet Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Sri Rajat Rajan Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Virendra Singh, learned counsel for the State-respondent.

2. Petitioner, a medical officer, working with the State-respondents was served upon a charge sheet dated 19.09.2012, levelling imputation of misconduct on two charges alleging to have caused pecuniary loss to the State. Prior to issue of the charge sheet, petitioner was placed under suspension on 11.06.2012. The disciplinary proceedings against the petitioner is mandated under the Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 (for short 'Rules 1999'). The petitioner responded by filing reply on 24.08.2015, denying the charges and further demanded documents which were not supplied to him.

3. It appears that the documents were in the custody of Central Bureau of Investigation (C.B.I.). The relevant documents were supplied to the petitioner on 02.09.2015, calling upon the petitioner to submit his reply. Petitioner submitted his reply on 16.09.2015 and further submitted a list of witnesses he proposed to examine, which included 100-150 witnesses as noted in the enquiry report. The enquiry officer declined to examine the officers as in the opinion of the enquiry officer they were not relevant to the charge or for raising defence by the petitioner. Thereafter, petitioner was called upon for personal hearing. Petitioner appeared on 22.09.2015, before the enquiry officer and the personal hearing was recorded in question-answer format. Thereafter, vide show cause notice dated 05.11.2015, petitioner came to be served with an enquiry report calling upon him to file objections, if any. Petitioner responded by filing reply to the show cause notice on 21.12.2015. Thereafter, the disciplinary authority passed the impugned punishment order dated 13.04.2016, imposing major punishment of reversion from Level-III to Level-II and directing recovery at Rs. 3,36,300/- and censure entry. Thereafter, petitioner retired on attaining the age of superannuation on 30.06.2021, from the post of Senior Medical Officer (Level-II).

4. It is informed that petitioner has received pension and post retiral dues.

5. In this backdrop, learned counsel for the petitioner has made two fold submissions:(i) that the procedure as mandated under Rule 7 of Rules, 1999, in particular, Rule 7 (vii), the enquiry officer has not fixed any date, time or place after receiving the reply of the petitioner; (ii) the department did not produce any documentary or oral evidence before the enquiry officer to prove/establish the charges; (iii) the enquiry officer submitted the enquiry report on the reply submitted by the petitioner and the documents that were supplied to the petitioner for raising his defence. It is not the case of the State-respondent that the department relied upon the very same documents to prove the charge.

6. On specific query, learned counsel for the State-respondent admits that neither presenting officer was appointed, nor, any document noted in the enquiry report or oral evidence was led to prove the charges against the petitioner.

7. The second leg of the argument of the learned counsel for the petitioner is that at this stage since petitioner has superannuated, it is not open for the State-respondent to de-novo initiate disciplinary proceedings against the petitioner in view of the embargo mandated under Article 351-A of the Civil Service Regulations. It is urged that the charges pertain to the year 2011 which is beyond four years, further, approval is to be sought from the Hon'ble Governor to initiate disciplinary proceedings since petitioner has retired.

8. In rebuttal, learned Standing Counsel does not dispute on perusal of the enquiry report that the procedure as contemplated under Rule 7 (vii) of the Rules, 1999, has not been followed. The enquiry officer submitted the report after calling upon the petitioner for personal hearing. The hearing was recorded in a question-answer format on the documents that were supplied to the petitioner to raise his defence. Enquiry report does not reflect or refer to any such documents that was presented by the department before the enquiry officer to press the charges against the petitioner. The charge sheet does not flag the documents or witnesses in support of the charges.

9. In other words, petitioner came to be punished on the documents that were supplied to the petitioner on his asking for raising defence. In the alternative, it is submitted that petitioner was called upon to prove his innocence against the charges. The department did not produce any evidence, documentary or oral to prove the charge, nor any date, time or place was fixed by the enquiry officer to supply the list of documents/witnesses upon which the department would rely upon to prove the charges.

10. The Rules, 1999, prescribe detailed procedure to be followed in matters of enforcing discipline and imposing penalties/punishments against government servants in U.P., in cases of proven misconduct. Rule 3 gives a list of minor and major penalties that may be imposed by the appointing authority on the government servants.

11. Rule 7 prescribes in detail, the procedure and the manner in which an enquiry shall be conducted before imposing any major penalty on a government servant. Rule 7 sub rule (2) provides the facts constituting the misconduct on which it is proposed to take action shall be reduced in the form of definite charge or charges to be called charge sheet. This charge sheet has to be approved by the disciplinary authority. Rule 7 sub rule (3) further provides that the charge(s) framed shall be so precise and clear as to give sufficient indication to the charged government servant of the facts and circumstances against him. It is mandatory that the proposed documentary evidence and the name of witnesses proposed to prove the charges together with any oral evidence(s) that may be recorded be mentioned in the charge sheet.

12. Thereafter under Rule 7 sub rule (4) the government servant is given an opportunity to put in a written statement, of his defence, within a specified period of time which shall not be less than 15 days. The government servant is also required to indicate whether he desires to cross examine any witnesses mentioned in charge sheet.

13. Sub rule (v) of Rule 7 mandates that the copies of the documentary evidence mentioned in the charge sheet has to be served on the government servant along with the charge sheet. The aforesaid sub rule is as under:

"7(v) The charge-sheet, along with the copy of documentary evidences mentioned therein and list of witnesses and their statements, if any shall be served on the charged Government servant personally or by registered post at the address mentioned in the official records in case the charge-sheet could not be served in aforesaid manner the charge-sheet shall be served by publication in a daily newspaper having wide circulation:

Provided that where the documentary evidence is voluminous, instead of furnishing its copy with charge-sheet, the charged Government servant shall be permitted to inspect the same before the Inquiry Officer."

14. A perusal of the aforesaid rule would clearly show that the disciplinary authority is duty bound to make available all relevant documents which are sought to be relied upon against the government servant in proof of the charges. It is only when the charge sheet together with documents is supplied that the government servant can be said to have had an effective and reasonable opportunity to present his written statement of defence.

15. The inquiry report is vitiated also on the ground that the inquiry officer failed to fix any date for the appearance of the petitioner to inspect the documentary evidence to press the charge. The list of evidence-documentary or oral was not prepared nor supplied to the petitioner.

16. An inquiry officer acting in a quasi judicial proceedings is in the position of an independent adjudicator. He is not supposed to be a representative of the department/disciplinaryauthority/Governm ent. His function is to examine the evidence presented by the department, even in the absence of the delinquent official to see as to whether the unrebutted evidence is sufficient to hold that the charges are proved. In the present case the aforesaid procedure has not been observed. Since no documents have been produced by the department nor proved to conclude that the charges have been proved against the respondents.

17. When a department enquiry is conducted against the Government servant it cannot be treated as a casual exercise. The enquiry proceedings also cannot be conducted with a closed mind. The enquiry officer has to be wholly unbiased.

18. In the oral enquiry, what evidence is required to prove the charges is a fact which may differ from case to case. If the allegations in the charges are such which can be proved by oral evidence, it is necessary for the employer to bring oral evidence to prove the charges but if the allegations in an enquiry are such which can be proved from the documents, it is not obligatory for the employer to bring oral evidence. Moreover, even in cases where the charges are based on documents, employer may be required to prove the documents in an event when the genuineness or veracity of the documents has been denied by the delinquent. In a case where the genuineness or veracity of the documents has not been denied by the delinquent, the employer may not fail on the ground that no witness has come forward to prove the document. The disciplinary enquiry is not governed by strict rules of evidence. (Refer: Raj Babu Agnihotri v. Labour Commissioner1)

19. In State of Haryana and another versus Rattan Singh2, it was held in paragraph 4 by the Apex Court :

"4. It is well-settled that in a domestic enquiry the strict and sophisticated rules of evidence under the Indian Evidence Act may not apply. All materials which are logically probative for a prudent mind are permissible. There is no allergy to hearsay evidence provided it has reasonable nexus and creditability. It is true that departmental authorities and administrative Tribunals must be careful in evaluating such material and should not glibly swallow what is strictly speaking not relevant under the Indian Evidence Act.....The simple point is, was there some evidence or was there no evidence not in the sense of the technical sides governing regular Court proceedings but in a fair common sense way as men of understanding and worldly wisdom will accept."

20. The learned Standing Counsel fairly submits that the respondents be permitted to conclude the enquiry from the stage of reply submitted by the petitioner after following the mandate of Rule 7 of Rules, 1999, as the petitioner is alleged to have caused monetary loss to the State.

21. Insofar as Article 351-A is concerned, it merely provides that in the event disciplinary proceedings has to be initiated against the retired employee, sanction of the Governor is to be obtained. The proviso to Article 351-A carves out an exception that in the event the disciplinary proceedings has not been initiated prior to retirement of the government servant or he was not under suspension in that event an approval has to be obtained from the Governor. Further, the enquiry would not be conducted on allegation which is prior to four years.

22. Regulations 351A of Civil Service Regulations, for the purpose of the case is extracted:-

"351A. The Governor reserves to himself the right of withholding or withdrawing a pension or any part of it, whether permanently or for a specified period and the right of ordering the recovery from a pension of the whole or part of any pecuniary loss caused to Government, if the pensioner is found in departmental or judicial proceedings to have been guilty of grave misconduct, or to have caused pecuniary loss to Government by misconduct or negligence, during his service, including service rendered on re-employment after retirement:

Provided that-

(a) Such departmental proceedings, if not instituted while the officer was on duty either before retirement or during reemployment -

i) shall not be instituted save with the sanction of the Governor.

ii) shall be in respect of an event which took place not more than four years before the institution of such proceedings; and (Provided further .....For the purpose of this article -

(a) departmental proceedings shall be deemed to have been instituted when the charges framed against the pensioner are issued to him or, if the officer has been placed under suspension from an earlier date, on such date; and

23. The substantive part of Regulation 351A confers the power upon the Government of withholding or withdrawing a pension or any part of it, whether permanently or for a specified period and the right of ordering the recovery from a pension of the whole or part of any pecuniary loss caused to Government, if the pensioner is found in departmental or judicial proceedings to have been guilty of grave misconduct, or to have caused pecuniary loss to Government by misconduct or negligence, during his service, including service rendered on re-employment after retirement. There is a proviso appended to the Regulation which circumscribes the power conferred by the substantive part of the Regulation. Clause (a) of the proviso with which we are concerned here uses the expression - if not instituted while the officer was on duty either before retirement or during re-employment. Clause (a) of the proviso will, therefore, get attracted only when the departmental proceedings are instituted against the officer after his retirement or when he is not in re-employment. If the departmental proceedings are instituted before an officer has attained the age of superannuation and before his retirement, proviso (a) can have no application. In order to remove any doubt regarding the date of institution of enquiry or the judicial proceedings an Explanation has been appended after the proviso. According to Explanation (a), departmental proceedings shall be deemed to have been instituted (i) when the charges framed against the officer are issued to him, or (ii) if the officer has been placed under suspension from an earlier date, on such date. By incorporating the explanation, the rule framing authority has notionally fixed two dates as the date on which the departmental proceedings shall be deemed to have been instituted against an officer. A combined reading of the proviso and the explanation would show that there is no fetter or limitation of any kind for instituting departmental proceedings against an officer if he has not attained the age of superannuation and has not retired from service. If an officer is either placed under suspension or charges are issued to him prior to his attaining the age of superannuation, the departmental proceedings so instituted can validly continue even after he has attained the age of superannuation and has retired and the limitations imposed by sub-clause (i) or sub-clause (ii) of clause (a) of proviso to Regulation 351A will not apply.

24. The proceedings for recovery of the amount from a Government servant can be passed in the event he is held to be guilty of grave misconduct or caused pecuniary loss to Government by his misconduct or negligence during his service. Some procedural safeguards, however, have been laid down in terms of proviso appended thereto, including the requirement to obtain an order of sanction of the Governor. Such order of sanction, however, would not be necessary if the departmental proceedings have been initiated while the delinquent was on duty. Proviso appended to Regulation 351-A merely controls the main proceedings. The same would apply in the exigencies of the situation envisaged therein, namely, when the proceedings were initiated after retirement and not prior thereto.

25. Learned Standing Counsel, in the given facts, submits that in the instant case, admittedly, the petitioner was placed under suspension and the disciplinary proceedings was initiated against the petitioner prior to his attaining the age of superannuation. Though the enquiry concluded before the petitioner could superannuate would not mean that a fresh approval has to be obtained from the Hon'ble Governor in terms of the proviso to Article 351-A of the Civil Service Regulations. The State-respondents are not required to issue any fresh charge sheet, rather, on the same charge sheet which admittedly was issued before the retirement of the petitioner disciplinary proceedings would proceed from the stage of the defect committed by the enquiry officer. In other words, it is urged that Article 351-A in the given facts would not be attracted. The matter would be different in case the enquiry proceedings is quashed.

26. It is a settled legal proposition that, once the Court set asides an order of punishment on the ground, that the enquiry was not properly conducted, the Court should not severely preclude the employer from holding the inquiry in accordance with law. It must remit the concerned case to the disciplinary authority, to conduct the enquiry from the point that it stood vitiated, and to conclude the same in accordance with law. However, resorting to such a course depends upon the gravity of delinquency involved. (Refer: Managing Director, ECIL, Hyderabad etc.etc. v. B. Karunakar etc.etc. AIR 1994 SC 1074; Hiran Mayee Bhattacharyya v. Secretary, S.M. School for Girls & Ors., (2002) 10 SCC 293; U.P. State Spinning C. Ltd. v. R.S. Pandey & Anr., (2005) 8 SCC 264; and Union of India v. Y.S. Sandhu, Ex-Inspector AIR 2009 SC 161).

27. Supreme Court in NOIDA Entrepreneurs Association v. NOIDA & Ors., AIR 2011 SC 2112, held that the competence of an authority to hold an enquiry against an employee who has retired, depends upon the statutory rules which govern the terms and conditions of his service, and while deciding the said case, reliance was placed on various earlier judgments of the Court, including, B.J. Shelat v. State of Gujarat & Ors., AIR 1978 SC 1109; Ramesh Chandra Sharma v. Punjab National Bank & Anr., (2007) 9 SCC 15; and UCO Bank & Anr. v. Rajinder Lal Capoor, AIR 2008 SC 1831.

28. As noted in the preceding paragraphs that the embargo of Article 351-A of Civil Service Regulations would not come on the way of the State to conclude the proceedings from the stage of defect even though the petitioner has retired. The departmental proceedings commenced before the retirement of the petitioner. The impugned order is unsustainable due to the procedural defect in concluding the enquiry and not owing to an illegality that would vitiate the departmental enquiry itself. The charges against the petitioner pertain to having caused pecuniary loss to the State which can be pressed even after the retirement of the petitioner. The recovery, on the charges being proved, can be made from the pension after approval of the Hon'ble Governor.

29. Having regard to the facts and circumstances of the case and upon perusal of the material documents, in particular, the enquiry report, with the assistance of learned counsel for the parties, the impugned order dated 13.04.2016, passed by the first respondent, Principal Secretary, Department of Medical and Health, Government of U.P., Lucknow, cannot be sustained as the same has been passed without following the mandate of Rule 7 of Rules, 1999.

30. Accordingly, the order dated 13.04.2016, passed by the first respondent, Principal Secretary, Department of Medical and Health, Government of U.P., Lucknow, is set aside and quashed. Liberty is granted to the first respondent to appoint an enquiry officer who shall proceed from the stage of the reply submitted by the petitioner. The department shall appoint a presenting officer who shall present the documents to be relied upon in support of the charges and, thereafter, disciplinary proceedings shall be concluded, expeditiously, preferably, within six months from the date of receipt of certified copy of this order, provided the petitioner cooperates and there is no other impediment.

31. With the aforesaid observations, the writ petition is allowed in part.

32. No cost.

(2022)05ILR A1057
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 27.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUNEET KUMAR, J.

Writ A No. 6695 of 2016

Smt. Raj Kumari Yadav ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Rajendra Prasad Shukla

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

A. Service Law – Extraordinary Pension - U.P. Police (Extra Ordinary Pension) (First Amendment) Rules, 1975 - Rule 3 - In case person dies because of accident at the time of going or coming back after official duty, such person shall be entitled for extraordinary pension. In case a person is on duty and while going for official duty some injury is caused and the employee succumbs to injury, then he is also entitled for extraordinary pension. (Para 10)

In present case, it is not in dispute that the deceased police official was duly deputed on a rescue mission duly recorded in the G.D. and as per the enquiry report. The deceased employee complied with directions and successfully rescued the trapped victims. In the course of complying the second leg of the direction that the victims are to be transported to the Trauma Centre, the deceased employee succumbed to the injury caused due to electric shock at the barrack. The death, in the circumstances occurred while the official was on duty complying the official orders. Petitioner is entitled to extraordinary pension being covered under Rule 3 of Rules, 1975. (Para 11)

Writ petition allowed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. Rajanna Vs U.O.I., 1995 Supp. (2) Supreme Court Cases 601 (Para 10)

2. Smt. Noorjahan Vs St. of U.P. & ors., [2003 (21) LCD 264] (Para 10)

3. Smt. Lilawati Devi Vs St. of U.P., 2010 (28) LCD 290 (Para 10)

4. Smt. Sushila Devi Vs St. of U.P. WP No. 4523 (SS) 2013, decided on 08.01.2014 (Para 10)

Present petition challenges the order dated 27.03.2015, passed by Principal Secretary Home Department, Government of U.P., Lucknow.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suneet Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Ms. Pallavi Dubey, Advocate, holding brief of Sri Rajendra Prasad Shukla, learned counsel for the petitioner and learned Standing Counsel for the State-respondents and perused the record with their assistance.

2. Petitioner is the wife of the deceased employee (constable 2550 CP Indrasen Yadav), has raised challenge to the impugned order dated 27.03.2015 passed by the first respondent, Principal Secretary Home Department, Government of U.P., Lucknow, whereby, the claim of the petitioner for extraordinary pension admissible under U.P. Police (Extra Ordinary Pension) (First Amendment) Rules, 1975 (for short "Rules, 1975') has been rejected on the ground that the circumstances leading to the death of the petitioner is not enumerated/contemplated under Rule 3 of Rules, 1975.

3. The respondents in the counter affidavit do not dispute that the deceased employee was given duty on 13.09.2012 as fellow traveller as per General Diary (G.D.) entry no. 59 at 18.45. On 14.09.2012, the deceased employee along with others was directed to proceed to Mohalla Sahjadpur, Kasta Amethi, to rescue the persons trapped under the wall that had collapsed due to heavy rain. Petitioner alongwith others proceeded on the spot and showing exemplary courage and valour, the police team was able to rescue the trapped victims under the collapsed wall. The police officials, including, the deceased employee, thereafter, were directed to take the injured to the nearby hospital/Trauma Centre. To comply the order, the deceased employee returned to the barrack for changing his wet clothes drenched in the heavy rain. While changing his apparel at the barrack, the deceased employee succumbed due to electrocution. It appears that the electric current had leaked causing the fatal injury. Circle Officer vide communication dated 22.09.2012, addressed to the Senior

Superintendent of Police, Mohanlalganj, submitted a report, wherein, it has been recorded that the deceased employee's rawangi is duly recorded at G.D. No. 29 on 14.09.2012, directing the deceased employee alongwith others to proceed to the spot to rescue the persons trapped under the collapsed wall. The team was able to rescue the trapped victims and thereafter the rescue team was directed to get the victims admitted in the hospital/Trauma Centre. The deceased employee succumbed to injury caused by the leakage of electric current at the barrack where he had gone to change his drenched clothes.

4. It is submitted by learned counsel for the State-respondent that since the deceased employee succumbed to injury caused by electric current, it cannot be said that he was on official duty within the meaning of Rule 3 of Rules, 1975.

5. Rule 3 for ready reference is extracted:

3–यह नियमावली राज्यपाल के बनाये नियम से निमंत्रित होने वाले स्थायी या अस्थायी रूप में सेवायोजित सभी पुलिस अधिकारियों और कर्मचारियों (राजपत्रित और अराजपत्रित दोनों) पर लागू होगी जो डाकुओं या सशस्त्र अपराधियों या विदेशी प्रतिरोधयों से लडने मे या किसी अन्य कर्तब्य का पालन करने के दौरान मारे जाये ये जिनकी मृत्यु हो जाये।

6. The Rule, inter alia, is applicable to the police officers whether temporary or otherwise gazetted/non-gazetted who are killed or die in an encounter with dacoits; armed criminals and foreign insurgencies or while performing any other duty in compliance of a direction/order.

7. On bare perusal of the Rule 3, it appears that the Rule is inclusive and non exhaustive, the expression "or any other duty' encompasses within fold any assigned duty.

8. In the backdrop of Rule 3, it is evident that the deceased employee was deputed on a mission of rescuing the victims trapped under the collapsed wall due to heavy rain. The victims were successfully rescued and thereafter on the direction of the officials the deceased employee and others were required to carry the injured to Trauma Centre at Lucknow. The petitioner to comply the order had gone to the barrack to change his wet clothes and suffered electricity current shock caused due to electric leak. The injury suffered by the employee and consequently his death was in compliance of his duty in the course of his employment and not otherwise.

9. In the circumstances, the death of the petitioner would squarely fall under Rule 3 of Rules, 1975. The impugned order does not notice the entire Rule 3, in particular, "or in compliance of any other duty" which encompasses within its fold any act done by the official during duty.

10. In support of his submission, learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance on the decision rendered by the Supreme Court in Rajanna v. Union of India, 1995 Supp. (2) Supreme Court Cases 601, wherein, the Court held that in case a person is on duty and while going for official duty some injury is caused and the employee succumbs to injury, then he is also entitled for extraordinary pension. Similarly, in Smt. Noorjahan v. State of U.P. and others, [2003 (21) LCD 264], the Court observed that in case person dies because of accident at the time of going or coming back after official duty, such person shall be entitled for extraordinary pension. (Refer: Smt. Lilawati Devi versus State of U.P.1; Smt. Sushila Devi versus State of U.P.2)

11. In the case at hand, it is not in dispute that the deceased police official was duly deputed on a rescue mission duly recorded in the G.D. and as per the enquiry report. The deceased employee complied with directions and successfully rescued the trapped victims. In the course of complying the second leg of the direction that the victims are to be transported to the Trauma Centre, the deceased employee succumbed to the injury caused due to electric shock at the barrack. The death, in the circumstances occurred while the official was on duty complying the official orders. Petitioner is entitled to extraordinary pension being covered under Rule 3 of Rules, 1975.

12. Accordingly, the writ petition is allowed. The impugned order dated 27.03.2015, passed by the first respondent, Principal Secretary Home Department, Government of U.P., Lucknow, is set aside and quashed. State-respondents are directed to compute and grant extraordinary pension to the petitioner w.e.f. 14.09.2012, within two months from the date of receipt of certified copy of this order. Petitioner shall be entitled to interest at the rate of 6% per annum on the due amount from the due date till the payment is received.

(2022)05ILR A1060
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 25.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MANOJ KUMAR GUPTA, J.
THE HON'BLE DR. YOGENDRA KUMAR SRIVASTAVA, J.

Writ A No. 3786 of 2022

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
State Public Service Tribunal, Lko & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Chandra Shekhar Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri S.N. Shukla (S.C.)

A. Service Law – Disciplinary Proceedings – Oral Inquiry - U.P. Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 - Rule 7 - It has been consistently held that a departmental inquiry against government servant is not to be treated as a casual exercise and the principles of natural justice are required to be observed so as to ensure not only that justice is done but is manifestly seen to be done; the object being to ensure that the delinquent is treated fairly in proceedings which may culminate in imposition of a major penalty against him. (Para 14)

After a charge sheet is given to the employee, an oral inquiry is must whether the employee requests for it or not. Further, it is mandatory to give a notice to him indicating the date, time and place of the enquiry, the principle being that charge-sheeted employee should not only know the charges against him but should also know the evidence against him so that he can properly reply to the same. (Para 9)

In the present case, as the inquiry officer failed to fix any date, place or time in the conduct of inquiry and the absence of any witness having been examined to support the charges levelled against the respondent-employee has led to a situation where the delinquent has been condemned unheard. The entire proceedings, being a violation of principles of natural justice and total disregard of procedural fairness, have rightly been held by the Tribunal to be vitiated. (Para 17)

B. The inquiry officer has been held to be in the position of an independent adjudicator and acting in a quasi-judicial authority with a duty enjoined upon him that even in the absence of the delinquent, he is to see whether the unrebutted evidence is sufficient to hold that the charges are proved. In a case where no oral evidence was examined and the documents have not been proved, the charges could not be held to have been proved against the delinquent employee. (Para 10)

In the present case, the contention of the petitioner that once the charges stand proved, there is no need of any formal oral inquiry or cross-examination of the witnesses, cannot be held to be sustainable for the reason that the same would amount to gross denial of a fair opportunity to the delinquent to place his defence and would amount to by-passing the procedure under the Rules, 1999, apart from being violative of the principles of natural justice. (Para 18)

Writ petition dismissed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. Radhey Kant Khare Vs U.P. Cooperative Sugar Factories Federation Ltd., 2003 (1) AWC 704 All (Para 9)

2. St. of U.P. & ors. Vs Saroj Kumar Sinha, (2010) 2 SCC 772 (Para 10)

Present petition challenges the order dated 09.09.2021, passed by U.P. State Public Services Tribunal, Lucknow.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Yogendra Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri S.N.Shukla, learned Standing Counsel for the State of U.P. appearing for the petitioners.

2. The present petition seeks to raise a challenge to an order dated 09.09.2021 passed by the U.P. State Public Services Tribunal, Lucknow1 in terms of which Claim Petition No. 444 of 2008 (Krishna Kumar Tevatia and others Vs. State of U.P. and others) filed by the deceased respondent no. 2 has been allowed and the order of punishment dated 30.04.2005, the appellate order dated 24.12.2005 and the revisional order dated 18.10.2007, have been set aside and benefits withheld due to the said punishment order have been directed to be refunded to the legal representatives of the deceased respondent no. 2.

3. The facts of the case as reflected from the pleadings are that disciplinary proceedings were initiated against the respondent no. 2 while he was posted as Collection Amin at Jahanabad, District Pilibhit and a charge-sheet dated 30.09.2004 was issued whereupon an inquiry was conducted and a report was submitted on 20.01.2005 holding the respondent no. 2 guilty of the charges. A show cause notice was issued to him on 05.02.2005 to which he submitted a reply on 28.02.2005 and thereafter the order of punishment was passed on 30.04.2005 whereby the respondent no. 2 was reverted to his original pay scale in addition to award of adverse entry in his character role. The appeal and revision filed thereagainst were dismissed on 24.12.2005 and 18.10.2007 respectively.

4. The Tribunal taking into consideration the inquiry report came to a conclusion that neither any date, time or place was fixed by the inquiry officer nor any oral evidence was led and only on the basis of some documentary evidence, the respondent no. 2 was held guilty of the charges. It was also held that the respondent no. 2 was not afforded any opportunity to adduce evidence and was denied reasonable opportunity of defence.

Referring to Rule 7 of the U.P. Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 19992 and also certain legal authorities for the proposition that even in a case where the delinquent employee does not submit any reply to the charge-sheet, the inquiry officer is not absolved from his duty to record oral evidence and provide an opportunity to adduce evidence in defence, the inquiry was held to be vitiated. It was also held that the disciplinary authority has proceeded only on the basis of the inquiry report and therefore the order of punishment being in violation of the principles of natural justice was not sustainable and was accordingly quashed and the claim petition was allowed. Taking notice of the fact that the respondent no. 2 had expired during the pendency of the claim petition, the Tribunal held that no fruitful purpose would be served in remitting the matter for fresh inquiry and in view thereof while setting aside the orders of punishment, the appellate order and the revisional order, the benefits withheld due to the punishment order have been directed to be refunded to the legal representatives of the respondent no. 2.

5. Learned counsel appearing for the petitioner has sought to urge that once the charges stood proved there was no need for any formal oral inquiry or cross-examination of the witnesses and for the said reason the order passed by the Tribunal is manifestly erroneous and legally unsustainable. It is also sought to be contended that the order passed by the Tribunal does not give any cogent reason to set aside the order of punishment and also the orders passed in appeal and revision.

6. The procedure with regard to holding of disciplinary proceedings against government servants in State of U.P. is governed as per the provisions of the Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal), Rules 1999. The procedure for imposing major penalties, the manner in which charge-sheet is required to be given, the holding of an enquiry by the inquiry officer designated for the purpose the grant of opportunity to call witnesses and record their oral evidence are also provided for under the said Rules.

7. The report of the inquiry officer, as has been noticed in the order passed by the Tribunal, shows that neither any date, time and place was fixed by the inquiry officer nor any oral evidence was led to prove the charges. It also records that only on the basis of the certain documentary evidence the employee was held guilty of the charges and therefore it was a case of denial of reasonable opportunity to him to place his defence. The Tribunal has referred to Rule 7 of the Rules, 1999 and also the legal position that even in a situation where the delinquent employee does not submit any reply to the charge-sheet, the inquiry officer is not absolved from his duty to record oral evidence and to provide an opportunity to him to adduce evidence in his defence.

8. The legal position with regard to grant of reasonable opportunity to a delinquent employee to place his defence during the course of a departmental inquiry and the necessity of observance of principles of natural justice and following the due procedure is fairly well setted.

9. A Division Bench of this Court in the case of Radhey Kant Khare vs. U.P. Cooperative Sugar Factories Federation Ltd.3, has held that after a charge sheet is given to the employee, an oral inquiry is must whether the employee requests for it or not. Further, it is mandatory to give a notice to him indicating the date, time and place of the enquiry, the principle being that charge-sheeted employee should not only know the charges against him but should also know the evidence against him so that he can properly reply to the same.

10. In State of U.P. and others Vs. Saroj Kumar Sinha4, the inquiry officer has been held to be in the position of an independent adjudicator and acting in a quasi-judicial authority with a duty enjoined upon him that even in the absence of the delinquent, he is to see whether the unrebutted evidence is sufficient to hold that the charges are proved. It was also observed that in a case where no oral evidence was examined and the documents have not been proved, the charges could not be held to have been proved against the delinquent employee.

11. The aforementioned judicial authorities have been referred to by the Tribunal in its order to record its conclusion that the inquiry officer was legally bound to conduct an oral inquiry informing the date, time and place of the enquiry, providing an opportunity to the delinquent employee to cross-examine the witnesses, whether or not any request had been made for the purpose and in the absence thereof, the charges against the employee could not be held to have been proved.

12. The Tribunal has also recorded that even the reply submitted by the employee to the show cause notice issued by the disciplinary authority consequent to the inquiry and the defence raised therein have not been accorded consideration and the disciplinary authority has passed the order of punishment only on the basis of inquiry report in gross disregard to the provisions under the Rules, 1999 and also the principles of natural justice.

13. The departmental proceedings pursuant to which the punishment order has been passed having thus not followed the procedure prescribed under the Rules, 1999 and there being several procedural infirmities in the conduct of enquiry, the order of punishment has rightly been held to be legally unsustainable.

14. It has been consistently held that a departmental inquiry against government servant is not to be treated as a casual exercise and the principles of natural justice are required to be observed so as to ensure not only that justice is done but is manifestly seen to be done; the object being to ensure that the delinquent is treated fairly in proceedings which may culminate in imposition of a major penalty against him.

15. The meaning of a reasonable opportunity of showing cause against the action proposed to be taken is that the delinquent employee is afforded a reasonable opportunity to defend himself against charges on which inquiry is held and has to be given an opportunity to deny his guilt and establish his innocence.

16. The administrative authorities are obliged in law to follow their own regulations, policies and procedures with regard to conduct of departmental proceedings and non-adherence thereto would have potential of causing serious prejudice to the person concerned in the inquiry proceedings and would clearly amount to denial of a reasonable opportunity to submit a plausible and effective rebuttal to the charges being enquired into.

17. In the present case, as the inquiry officer failed to fix any date, place or time in the conduct of inquiry and the absence of any witness having been examined to support the charges levelled against the respondent-employee has led to a situation where the delinquent has been condemned unheard. The entire proceedings, being a violation of principles of natural justice and total disregard of procedural fairness, have rightly been held by the Tribunal to be vitiated.

18. The principal contention sought to be raised by the learned counsel for the petitioner that once the charges stand proved, there is no need of any formal oral inquiry or cross-examination of the witnesses, cannot be held to be sustainable for the reason that the same would amount to gross denial of a fair opportunity to the delinquent to place his defence and would amount to by-passing the procedure under the Rules, 1999, apart from being violative of the principles of natural justice.

19. The Tribunal upon taking notice of the fact that the respondent no. 2 (petitioner in the claim petition) had expired during the pendency of the claim petition held that no fruitful purpose would be served in remitting the matter for fresh enquiry and while allowing the petition and quashing the order of punishment, the appellate order and the revisional order, the Tribunal has rightly directed the benefits withheld due to the said punishment order, be refunded to the legal representatives of the deceased respondent no. 2.

20. No other ground has been urged on behalf of the petitioner to support the challenge to the order passed by the Tribunal.

21. The petition thus fails and is accordingly dismissed.

(2022)05ILR A1064
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 27.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 704 of 1996

Prem Raj & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Nagar Palika Shahjahanpur & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri R.S. Kushwaha, Sri Brijendra Kumar Ojha

Counsel for the Resondents:
Sri G.D. Pandey

A. Civil Law – Civil Procedure Code,1908 – O. 41 R. 24 – Power of the First Appellate Court – Remand of the matter to the trial court, when interference is warranted – Held, the appellate court is under obligation to decide by itself the lis between the parties unless it comes to the definite finding that the matter requires leading of evidence once again by the Court below – The remand of matter which has been decided by and between the parties has to be in rarest of the rare cases. (Para 6)

Appeal partly allowed. (E-1)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Sunder Singh Vs Narain Singh; 1969 SCD 900

2. Bhairab Chandra Nandan Vs Ranadhir Chandra Dutta, (1988) 1 SCC 383

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the appellants. None present for the respondents.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimant, challenges the judgement and decree dated 08.02.1995 passed by Additional Civil Judge, Shahjahanpur in Appeal No. 96 of 1988, partly accepting the appeal filed against the judgement and decree dated 28.03.1988 passed by Ist Additional Munsif Magistrate, Shahjahanpur.

3. The finding of the lower appellate court that the disputed property falls within the khasra no. 8 shumal no. 38 according to survey report is false and it is the result of misreading of evidence and wrong interpretation of the report of the survey conducted by the Civil Court Amin.

4. The Survey Amin has found that the boundary wall erected around the property which is mentioned in letters- Ka, Kha, Ga, Gha contained old bricks whose age would be assigned above fifty years and in this way the claim of Nagar Palika is totally demolished and such claim is baseless and without any substance.

5. The question of law involved is whether the finding of lower appellate court that the property in suit belongs to Nagar Palika, Shahjahanpur could be sustained inspite of the fact that there is no evidence such as Khasra, Map property register or any other, document pertaining to establish.

6. The appellate court is under obligation to decide by itself the lis between the parties unless it comes to the definite finding that the matter requires leading of evidence once again by the Court below. The remand of matter which has been decided by and between the parties has to be in rarest of the rare cases. The appellate Court is under obligation to dispose of the case finally vide Order 41 Rule 24 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. Record is sufficient to enable the appellate Court to pronounce judgement and, therefore, it will have to decide the matter finally. This is the mandate of the Apex Court spelled out as early as 1969 in the case of Sunder Singh v. Narain Singh, 1969 SCD 900, reiterated in Bhairab Chandra Nandan v. Ranadhir Chandra Dutta, (1988) 1 SCC 383. The Appellate Court no doubt has power to remand the matter under Order 41 Rule 23 and 23 A of C.P.C. but it has to follow certain conditions which are not satisfied in the case in hand.

7. In view of the above, this appeal is partly allowed. The first appellate Court shall decide the appeal on merits. However, as there was stay, the suit may not have been proceeded. This Court is not aware about the present status of the remanded matter. Hence, the first appellate Court shall first ascertain these facts and then decide the matter after hearing all the parties.

8. It is made clear that none is present for Nagar Palika since last seven years.

(2022)05ILR A1066
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 25.02.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.
THE HON'BLE PRAKASH PADIA, J.

Civil Misc. Review Application No. 379 of 2021
In
Writ-A No. 5939 of 2021

Manoj Kumar Mahato & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
The Union of India & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Manoj Kumar Singh, Sri Anoop Singh, Sri Ashok Kumar Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Rajnish Kumar, Sri Devendra Kumar Tripathi

A. Practice & Procedure - Review Petition - Civil Procedure Code, 1908 - Section 114 read with Order 47 Rule 1 - An application for review is more restricted than that of an appeal and the Court of review has limited jurisdiction as to the definite limit mention in Order 47 Rule 1 CPC itself. The power of review cannot be exercised as an inherent power nor can an appellate power can be exercised in the guise of power of review. (Para 12)

Review Application Rejected. (E-10)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Patel Narshi Thakershi Vs Pradyumansinghji Arjunsinghji (1971) 3 SCC 844

2. Rajah Kotagiri Venkata Subbamma Rao Vs Rajah Vellanki Venkatrama Rao (1899-1900) 27 IA 197

3. Hari Shankar Pal Vs Anath Nath Mitter 1949 FCR 36

4. Moran Mar Basselios Catholicos Vs Mar Poulose Athanasius AIR 1954 SC 526

5. Thungabhadra Industries Ltd. Vs Govt. of A.P. AIR 1964 SC 1372

6. Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma Vs Aribam Pishak Sharma (1979) 4 SCC 389

7. Shivdeo Singh Vs St. of Punjab AIR 1963 S.C. 1909

8. K. Ajit Babu Vs U.O.I. (1997) 6 SCC 473

9. Parsion Devi Vs Sumitri Devi (1997) 8 SCC 715

10. Haridas Das Vs Usha Rani Banik (2006) 4 SCC 78

11. Ajit kumar Rath Vs St. of Orissa (1999) 9 SCC 596

12. St. of Har. Vs M.P. Mohla (2007) 1 SCC 457

13. Gopal Singh Vs St. Cadre Forest Officers' Assn. (2007) 9 SCC 369

14. Lily Thomas Vs U.O.I. (2000) 6 SCC 224

15. Inderchand Jain Vs Motilal (2009) 14 SCC 663

16. T.C. Basappa Vs T. Nagappa AIR 1954 SC 440

17. Hari Vishnu Kamath Vs Ahmad Ishaque AIR 1955 SCC 233

18. Meera Bhanja Vs Nirmala Kumari Choudhary (1995) 1 SCC 170

19. State of West Bengal & Ors. Vs Kamal Sengupta & anr. (2008) 8 SCC 612

20. Gopabandhu Biswal Vs Krishna Chnadra Moohanty (1998) 4 SCC 447

21. Chhajju Ram Vs Neki AIR 1922 PC 112

(Delivered by Hon'ble Prakash Padia, J.)

Order on Delay Condonation Application No.Nil of 2021

1. Heard.

2. Cause shown for the delay in filing the review application is sufficient. The delay is condoned.

3. The application is allowed.

Order on Review Application No.379 of 2021

1. Heard Shri Ashok Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the petitioners and Shri Devendra Kumar Tripathi, learned counsel appearing on behalf of respondent-Union of India.

2. This application seeks review of the judgment and order dated 16.06.2021 passed in Writ A No. 5939 of 2021 (Manoj Kumar Mahto and 8 Others vs. Union of India and 6 Others) whereby the petitioners petition was dismissed.

3. Facts in brief are that an Original Application was filed by the petitioners before the Central Administrative Tribunal, Allahabad Bench Allahabad being Original Application No. 0642 of 2019. Original Application was filed challenging the order dated 27.12.2018 endorse vide letter dated 16.05.2019 issued by the Chief Crew Controller (Operating), East Central Railway, Mugalsarai and Gaya. The directions were also sought for excluding the name of the petitioners from pre-promotion training list for the post of Loco Pilot (Goods) dated 3.06.2019 and that they (the applicants) be continued as Loco Pilot (shunting).

4. The case of the petitioners before the Central Administrative Tribunal was that there exists a promotional channel for the Assistant Loco Pilot/Shunters/ET to post of Loco Pilot (Goods). The petitioners being within the zone of consideration were found suitable for pre-promotion training, a pre-requisite for promotion vide order Estb. No. B63/2019 dated 3.6.2019. Petitioners tendered their collective refusal which was tentatively accepted by Sr. DEE (Ops)/DMEs/Power. However, the Authority senior in hierarchy, i.e., Principal Chief Electrical Engineer, East Central Railway vide Communication DO.No. ECR/ELE/OP/370 dated 27.12.2018 advised the Divisional Railway Manager, Mugalsarai Division, East Central Railway to withdraw the acceptance of refusal and the incumbents be immediately sent for next pre-promotional training programme at their associated training centers. The said DO resulted in issuance of communication dated 16.5.2019.

5. The following findings were recorded by the Central Administrative Tribunal while rejecting the applications filed by the petitioners:-

"5. In our considered view, the impugned communication is based on sound reason of serving larger public interest and does not call for any interference. There is more than adequate justification for the decision to post the applicants on operational duties after prescribed training. The applicants have enjoyed the benefit of choosing to remain on the post of their choice for long enough and do not deserve the luxury of this choice throughout their service career. A public utility like the railways is to run in the interest of the public, and this requires effective manning of operational posts. On the other hand, the applicants' demand is purely confined to their own personal comfort and convenience. Moreover, the reasons given by the applicants for refusal of promotion are vague and do not justify a sympathetic consideration. It is ironic that the applicants have chosen to agitate their promotion and not a denial of it."

6. Aggrieved against the aforesaid, the petitioners have preferred the writ petition before this Court being Writ A No. 5939 of 2021 Manoj Kumar Mahto And 8 Others vs. Union of India And 6 Others). The writ petition was dismissed while recording the following findings:-

"Though submissions similar to those before the Tribunal are reiterated; however, in absence of any Rules or Regulations facilitating the refusal to follow the departmental orders issued by the superior Authorities, being commended at we are not inclined to cause any indulgence with the findings by Tribunal that in public interest the respondents were justified in recalling of the permission by authority to refuse promotion."

7. In this view of the matter, the writ Court was not inclined to cause any indulgence with the findings of the Tribunal on the ground that in public interest the respondents were justified in recalling of the permission by the authorities to refuse permission.

8. Aggrieved against the aforesaid judgment passed by the Division Bench of this Court, the petitioners have preferred the present review petition.

9. It is argued by the counsel for the petitioners that the order passed by the Central Administrative Tribunal dated 26.03.2021 was passed without recording any findings. It is further argued that the higher Court has no occasion to appreciate or adjudicate as to how Central Administrative Tribunal has dealt the issue raised by the petitioners. It is further argued that while passing the judgment, this Court has ignored the material aspects of the matter and committed error apparent on the place on record while dismissing the writ petition in limine.

10. We have gone through the grounds taken in Review Application, which virtually constitutes an attempt to re-argue the matter which cannot be done in the garb of review.

11. It is well settled law that the power of review under Order 47 Rule 1 of Code of Civil Procedure is very limited and it may be exercised only on the ground that :-

"(1) Discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence, was not within his knowledge or could not be produced by him at the time when the decree was passed.

(2) Order made on account of some mistake.

(3) Error apparent on the face of the record, or for any other sufficient reason."

12. To appreciate the scope of review, it would be proper for this Court to discuss the object and ambit of Section 114 CPC as the same is a substantive provision for review when a person considering himself aggrieved either by a decree or by an order of Court. From the bare reading of Section 114 CPC, it appears that the said substantive power of review under Section 114 CPC has not laid down any condition as the condition precedent in exercise of power of review nor the said Section imposed any prohibition on the Court for exercising its power to review its decision. An application for review is more restricted than that of an appeal and the Court of review has limited jurisdiction as to the definite limit mentioned in Order 47 Rule 1 CPC itself. The powers of review cannot be exercised as an inherent power nor can an appellate power can be exercised in the guise of power of review.

13. The dictionary meaning of the word "review" is "the act of looking after something again with a view of correction or improvement". It cannot be denied that the review is the creation of a statute. In the case of Patel Narshi Thakershi vs. Pradyumansinghji Arjunsinghji, (1971) 3 SCC 844, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that the power of review is not an inherent power. It must be conferred by law either specifically or by necessary implication. The review is also not an appeal in disguise.

14. We may now notice some of the judicial precedents in which Section 114 read with Order 47 Rule 1 CPC and/or Section 22(3)(f) of the Central Administrative Act have been interpreted and limitations on the power of the civil court/tribunal to review its judgment/decision have been identified.

15. In Rajah Kotagiri Venkata Subbamma Rao v. Rajah Vellanki Venkatrama Rao (1899-1900) 27 IA 197 the Privy Council interpreted Sections 206 and 623 of the Civil Procedure Code and observed: (IA p.205)

"... Section 623 enables any of the parties to apply for a review of any decree on the discovery of new and important matter and evidence, which was not within his knowledge, or could not be produced by him at the time the decree was passed, or on account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record, or for any other sufficient reason. It is not necessary to decide in this case whether the latter words should be confined to reasons strictly ejusdem generic with those enumerated, as was held in Roy Meghraj v. Beejoy Gobind Burral, ILR (1875) 1 Cal 197. In the opinion of Their Lordships, the ground of amendment must at any rate be something which existed at the date of the decree, and the section does not authorise the review of a decree which was right when it was made on the ground of the happening of some subsequent event."(emphasis added)

16. In Hari Sankar Pal v. Anath Nath Mitter, 1949 FCR 36 a five-Judge Bench of the Federal Court while considering the question whether the Calcutta High Court was justified in not granting relief to non-appealing party, whose position was similar to that of the successful appellant, held: (FCR p. 48)

"That a decision is erroneous in law is certainly no ground for ordering review. If the court has decided a point and decided it erroneously, the error could not be one apparent on the face of the record or even analogous to it. When, however, the court disposes of a case without adverting to or applying its mind to a provision of law which gives it jurisdiction to act in a particular way, that may amount to an error analogous to one apparent on the face of the record sufficient to bring the case within the purview of Order 47 Rule 1, Civil Procedure Code."

17. In Moran Mar Basselios Catholicos v. Mar Poulose Athanasius AIR 1954 SC 526 the Hon'ble Supreme Court interpreted the provisions contained in the Travancore Code of Civil Procedure which are analogous to Order 47 Rule 1 and observed:

"32. ... Under the provisions in the Travancore Code of Civil Procedure which is similar in terms to Order 47 Rule 1 of our Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, the court of review has only a limited jurisdiction circumscribed by the definitive limits fixed by the language used therein.

It may allow a review on three specified grounds, namely,

(i) discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence, was not within the applicant's knowledge or could not be produced by him at the time when the decree was passed, (ii) mistake or error apparent on the face of the record and (iii) for any other sufficient reason.

It has been held by the Judicial Committee that the words ''any other sufficient reason' must mean ''a reason sufficient on grounds, least analogous to those specified in the rule'."

18. In Thungabhadra Industries Ltd. v. Govt. of A.P. AIR 1964 SC 1372 it was held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court that a review is by no means an appeal in disguise whereof an erroneous decision can be corrected.

19. In Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma v. Aribam Pishak Sharma (1979) 4 SCC 389 the Hon'ble Supreme Court considered the scope of the High Courts' power to review an order passed under Article 226 of the Constitution, referred to an earlier decision in Shivdeo Singh v. State of Punjab AIR 1963 S.C. 1909 and observed: (Aribam Tuleshwar case (Supra), SCC p. 390, para 3)

"3. ... It is true as observed by this Court in Shivdeo Singh v. State of Punjab (Supra), there is nothing in Article 226 of the Constitution to preclude a High Court from exercising the power of review which inheres in every court of plenary jurisdiction to prevent miscarriage of justice or to correct grave and palpable errors committed by it. But, there are definitive limits to the exercise of the power of review. The power of review may be exercised on the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence was not within the knowledge of the person seeking the review or could not be produced by him at the time when the order was made; it may be exercised where some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record is found; it may also be exercised on any analogous ground. But, it may not be exercised on the ground that the decision was erroneous on merits. That would be the province of a court of appeal. A power of review is not to be confused with appellate powers which may enable an appellate court to correct all manner of errors committed by the subordinate court."

20. In K. Ajit Babu v. Union of India, (1997) 6 SCC 473, it was held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court that even though Order 47 Rule 1 is strictly not applicable to the tribunals, the principles contained therein have to be extended to them, else there would be no limitation on the power of review and there would be no certainty or finality of a decision. A slightly different view was expressed in Gopabandhu Biswal v. Krishna Chandra Mohanty, (1998) 4 SCC 447). In that case it was held that the power of review granted to the tribunals is similar to the power of a civil court under Order 47 Rule 1.

21. In Parsion Devi v. Sumitri Devi (1997) 8 SCC 715 it was held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court that: (SCC p. 716)

"Under Order 47 Rule 1 CPC a judgment may be open to review inter alia if there is a mistake or an error apparent on the face of the record. An error which is not self-evident and has to be detected by a process of reasoning, can hardly be said to be an error apparent on the face of the record justifying the court to exercise its power of review under Order 47 Rule 1 CPC. In exercise of the jurisdiction under Order 47 Rule 1 CPC it is not permissible for an erroneous decision to be "reheard and corrected'. There is a clear distinction between an erroneous decision and an error apparent on the face of the record. While the first can be corrected by the higher forum, the latter only can be corrected by exercise of the review jurisdiction. A review petition has a limited purpose and cannot be allowed to be "an appeal in disguise'."

22. In Haridas Das v. Usha Rani Banik, (2006) 4 SCC 78 the Hon'ble Supreme Court made a reference to the Explanation added to Order 47 by the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1976 and held:

"13. In order to appreciate the scope of a review, Section 114 CPC has to be read, but this section does not even adumbrate the ambit of interference expected of the court since it merely states that it "may make such order thereon as it thinks fit'. The parameters are prescribed in Order 47 CPC and for the purposes of this lis, permit the defendant to press for a rehearing "on account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the records or for any other sufficient reason'. The former part of the rule deals with a situation attributable to the applicant, and the latter to a jural action which is manifestly incorrect or on which two conclusions are not possible. Neither of them postulate a rehearing of the dispute because a party had not highlighted all the aspects of the case or could perhaps have argued them more forcefully and/or cited binding precedents to the court and thereby enjoyed a favourable verdict. This is amply evident from the Explanation to Rule 1 of Order 47 which states that the fact that the decision on a question of law on which the judgment of the court is based has been reversed or modified by the subsequent decision of a superior court in any other case, shall not be a ground for the review of such judgment. Where the order in question is appealable the aggrieved party has adequate and efficacious remedy and the court should exercise the power to review its order with the greatest circumspection."

23. In Ajit Kumar Rath v. State of Orissa, (1999) 9 SCC 596, the Hon'ble Supreme Court reiterated that power of review vested in the Tribunal is similar to the one conferred upon a civil court and held: (SCC p. 608, paras 30-31)

"30. The provisions extracted above indicate that the power of review available to the Tribunal is the same as has been given to a court under Section 114 read with Order 47 CPC. The power is not absolute and is hedged in by the restrictions indicated in Order 47. The power can be exercised on the application of a person on the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence, was not within his knowledge or could not be produced by him at the time when the order was made. The power can also be exercised on account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record or for any other sufficient reason. A review cannot be claimed or asked for merely for a fresh hearing or arguments or correction of an erroneous view taken earlier, that is to say, the power of review can be exercised only for correction of a patent error of law or fact which stares in the face without any elaborate argument being needed for establishing it. It may be pointed out that the expression "any other sufficient reason' used in Order 47 Rule 1 means a reason sufficiently analogous to those specified in the Rule.

31. Any other attempt, except an attempt to correct an apparent error or an attempt not based on any ground set out in Order 47, would amount to an abuse of the liberty given to the Tribunal under the Act to review its judgment."

24. In the case of Haridas Das vs. Usha Rani Banik (Smt.) and Others, (2006) 4 SCC 78 while considering the scope and ambit of Section 114 CPC read with Order 47 Rule 1 CPC it is observed and held in paragraph 14 to 18 as under:

"14. In Meera Bhanja v. Nirmala Kumari Choudhury, (1995) 1 SCC 170 it was held that:

"8. It is well settled that the review proceedings are not by way of an appeal and have to be strictly confined to the scope and ambit of Order 47 Rule 1 CPC. In connection with the limitation of the powers of the court under Order 47 Rule 1, while dealing with similar jurisdiction available to the High Court while seeking to review the orders under Article 226 of the Constitution, this Court, in Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma v. Aribam Pishak Sharma, (1979) 4 SCC 389 speaking through Chinnappa Reddy, J. has made the following pertinent observations:

"It is true there is nothing in Article 226 of the Constitution to preclude the High Court from exercising the power of review which inheres in every court of plenary jurisdiction to prevent miscarriage of justice or to correct grave and palpable errors committed by it. But, there are definitive limits to the exercise of the power of review. The power of review may be exercised on the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence was not within the knowledge of the person seeking the review or could not be produced by him at the time when the order was made; it may be exercised where some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record is found, it may also be exercised on any analogous ground. But, it may not be exercised on the ground that the decision was erroneous on merits.

That would be the province of a court of appeal. A power of review is not to be confused with appellate power which may enable an appellate court to correct all manner of errors committed by the subordinate court.' "

15. A perusal of Order 47 Rule 1 shows that review of a judgment or an order could be sought: (a) from the discovery of new and important matters or evidence which after the exercise of due diligence was not within the knowledge of the applicant; (b) such important matter or evidence could not be produced by the applicant at the time when the decree was passed or order made; and (c) on account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record or any other sufficient reason."

25. In State of Haryana v. M.P. Mohla, (2007) 1 SCC 457 the Hon'ble Supreme Court held as under: (SCC pp. 465-66, para 27)

"27. A review petition filed by the appellants herein was not maintainable. There was no error apparent on the face of the record. The effect of a judgment may have to be considered afresh in a separate proceeding having regard to the subsequent cause of action which might have arisen but the same by itself may not be a ground for filing an application for review."

26. In Gopal Singh v. State Cadre Forest Officers' Assn., (2007) 9 SCC 369 the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that after rejecting the original application filed by the appellant, there was no justification for the Tribunal to review its order and allow the revision of the appellant. Some of the observations made in that judgment are extracted below: (SCC p. 387, para 40)

"40. The learned counsel for the State also pointed out that there was no necessity whatsoever on the part of the Tribunal to review its own judgment. Even after the microscopic examination of the judgment of the Tribunal we could not find a single reason in the whole judgment as to how the review was justified and for what reasons. No apparent error on the face of the record was pointed, nor was it discussed. Thereby the Tribunal sat as an appellate authority over its own judgment. This was completely impermissible and we agree with the High Court (Sinha, J.) that the Tribunal has travelled out of its jurisdiction to write a second order in the name of reviewing its own judgment. In fact the learned counsel for the appellant did not address us on this very vital aspect."

27. In the case of Lily Thomas vs. Union of India, (2000) 6 SC 224, it is observed and held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court that the power of review can be exercised for correction of a mistake but not to substitute a view. Such powers can be exercised within the limits of the statute dealing with the exercise of power.

28. It is further observed in this judgment that the words "any other sufficient reason" appearing in Order 47 Rule 1 CPC must mean "a reason sufficient on grounds at least analogous to those specified in the rule" as was held in Chhajju Ram vs. Neki, AIR 1922 PC 112 and approved by the Hon'ble Supreme Courtthis Court in Moran Mar Basselios Catholicos vs Most Rev. Mar Poulose Athanasius, AIR 1954 SC 526.

29. In the case of Inderchand Jain vs. Motilal, (2009) 14 SCC 663 in paragraphs 7 to 11 it is observed and held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court as under:

"7. Section 114 of the Code of Civil Procedure (for short "the Code") provides for a substantive power of review by a civil court and consequently by the appellate courts. The words "subject as aforesaid" occurring in Section 114 of the Code mean subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed as appearing in Section 113 thereof and for the said purpose, the procedural conditions contained in Order 47 of the Code must be taken into consideration. Section 114 of the Code although does not prescribe any limitation on the power of the court but such limitations have been provided for in Order 47 of the Code; Rule 1 whereof reads as under:

"17. The power of a civil court to review its judgment/decision is traceable in Section 114 CPC. Tjhe grounds on which review can be sought are enumerated in Order 47 Rule 1 CPC, which reads as under:

1. Application for review of judgment.--(1) Any person considering himself aggrieved—

(a) by a decree or order from which an appeal is allowed, but from which no appeal has been preferred,

(b) by a decree or order from which no appeal is allowed, or

(c) by a decision on a reference from a Court of Small Causes, and who, from the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence, was not within his knowledge or could not be produced by him at the time when the decree was passed or order made, or on account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record, or for any other sufficient reason, desires to obtain a review of the decree passed or order made against him, may apply for a review of judgment of the court which passed the decree or made the order.' "

8. An application for review would lie inter alia when the order suffers from an error apparent on the face of the record and permitting the same to continue would lead to failure of justice. In Rajendra Kumar v. Rambai this Court held: (SCC p. 514, para 6) "6. The limitations on exercise of the power of review are well settled. The first and foremost requirement of entertaining a review petition is that the order, review of which is sought, suffers from any error apparent on the face of the order and permitting the order to stand will lead to failure of justice. In the absence of any such error, finality attached to the judgment/order cannot be disturbed."

9. The power of review can also be exercised by the court in the event discovery of new and important matter or evidence takes place which despite exercise of due diligence was not within the knowledge of the applicant or could not be produced by him at the time when the order was made. An application for review would also lie if the order has been passed on account of some mistake.

Furthermore, an application for review shall also lie for any other sufficient reason.

10. It is beyond any doubt or dispute that the review court does not sit in appeal over its own order. A rehearing of the matter is impermissible in law. It constitutes an exception to the general rule that once a judgment is signed or pronounced, it should not be altered. It is also trite that exercise of inherent jurisdiction is not invoked for reviewing any order.

11. Review is not appeal in disguise. In Lily Thomas v. Union of India this Court held: (SCC p. 251, para 56) "56. It follows, therefore, that the power of review can be exercised for correction of a mistake but not to substitute a view. Such powers can be exercised within the limits of the statute dealing with the exercise of power. The review cannot be treated like an appeal in disguise."

30. What can be said to be an error apparent on the face of the proceedings has been dealt with and considered by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of T.C. Basappa vs. T.Nagappa, AIR 1954 SC 440. It is held that such an error is an error which is a patent error and not a mere wrong decision. In the case of Hari Vishnu Kamath vs. Ahmad Ishaque, AIR 1955 SC 233, it is observed as under:

"It is essential that it should be something more than a mere error; it must be one which must be manifest on the face of the record. The real difficulty with reference to this matter, however, is not so much in the statement of the principle as in its application to the facts of a particular case. When does an error cease to be mere error, and become an error apparent on the face of the record? Learned counsel on either side were unable to suggest any clear-cut rule by which the boundary between the two classes of errors could be demarcated."

31. In the case of Parsion Devi vs. Sumitri Devi (1997) 8 SCC 715 in paragraph 7 to 9 it is observed and held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court as under:

"7. It is well settled that review proceedings have to be strictly confined to the ambit and scope of Order 47 Rule 1 CPC. In Thungabhadra Industries Ltd. v. Govt. of A.P., AIR 1964 SC 1372 this Court opined:

"What, however, we are now concerned with is whether the statement in the order of September 1959 that the case did not involve any substantial question of law is an "error apparent on the face of the record'). The fact that on the earlier occasion the Court held on an identical state of facts that a substantial question of law arose would not per se be conclusive, for the earlier order itself might be erroneous. Similarly, even if the statement was wrong, it would not follow that it was an "error apparent on the face of the record', for there is a distinction which is real, though it might not always be capable of exposition, between a mere erroneous decision and a decision which could be characterised as vitiated by "error apparent'. A review is by no means an appeal in disguise whereby an erroneous decision is reheard and corrected, but lies only for patent error."

32. Again, in Meera Bhanja v. Nirmala Kumari Choudhury, (1995) 1 SCC 170 while quoting with approval a passage from Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma v. Aribam Pishak Sharma AIR 1979 SC 1047, the Hon'ble Supreme Court once again held that review proceedings are not by way of an appeal and have to be strictly confined to the scope and ambit of Order 47 Rule 1 CPC.

"9. Under Order 47 Rule 1 CPC a judgment may be open to review inter alia if there is a mistake or an error apparent on the face of the record. An error which is not selfevident and has to be detected by a process of reasoning, can hardly be said to be an error apparent on the face of the record justifying the court to exercise its power of review under Order 47 Rule 1 CPC. In exercise of the jurisdiction under Order 47 Rule 1 CPC it is not permissible for an erroneous decision to be "reheard and corrected". A review petition, it must be remembered has a limited purpose and cannot be allowed to be "an appeal in disguise".

33. In the case of State of West Bengal and Others vs. Kamal Sengupta and Anr., (2008) 8 SCC 612, the Hon'ble Supreme Court had an occasion to consider what can be said to be "mistake or error apparent on the face of record". In para 22 to 35 it is observed and held as under:

"22. The term "mistake or error apparent" by its very connotation signifies an error which is evident per se from the record of the case and does not require detailed examination, scrutiny and elucidation either of the facts or the legal position. If an error is not self-evident and detection thereof requires long debate and process of reasoning, it cannot be treated as an error apparent on the face of the record for the purpose of Order 47 Rule 1

CPC or Section 22(3)(f) of the Act. To put it differently an order or decision or judgment cannot be corrected merely because it is erroneous in law or on the ground that a different view could have been taken by the court/tribunal on a point of fact or law. In any case, while exercising the power of review, the court/tribunal concerned cannot sit in appeal over its judgment/decision."

34. The principles which can be culled out from the abovenoted judgments are:

"(i) The power of the Tribunal to review its order/decision under Section 22(3)(f) of the Act is akin/analogous to the power of a civil court under Section 114 read with Order 47 Rule 1 CPC.

(ii) The Tribunal can review its decision on either of the grounds enumerated in Order 47 Rule 1 and not otherwise.

(iii) The expression "any other sufficient reason" appearing in Order 47 Rule 1 has to be interpreted in the light of other specified grounds.

(iv) An error which is not self-evident and which can be discovered by along process of reasoning, cannot be treated as an error apparent on the face of record justifying exercise of power under Section 22(3)(f).

(v) An erroneous order/decision cannot be corrected in the guise of exercise of power of review.

(vi) A decision/order cannot be reviewed under Section 22(3)(f) on the basis of subsequent decision/judgment of a coordinate or larger Bench of the tribunal or of a superior court.

(vii) While considering an application for review, the tribunal must confine its adjudication with reference to material which was available at the time of initial decision. The happening of some subsequent event or development cannot be taken note of for declaring the initial order/decision as vitiated by an error apparent.

(viii) Mere discovery of new or important matter or evidence is not sufficient ground for review. The party seeking review has also to show that such matter or evidence was not within its knowledge and even after the exercise of due diligence, the same could not be produced before the court/tribunal earlier."

35. In view of above, no ground for review is made out.

36. Application is accordingly rejected. to place their grievance before the Court.

(2022)05ILR A1076
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 12.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SIDDHARTHA VARMA, J.

Writ - A No. 72166 of 2005

Ex. Constable Radhey Raman Yadav
...Petitioner
Versus
Union of India & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri M.M. Khan, Sri Mustaqeem Ahmad, Sri Rajesh Kumar, Sri Yashodanand Shukla

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri K.C. Sinha A.S.G.I., Sri Jitendra Prasad Mishra, Sri Kaushik Chatterjee, Sri Kaushik Chatterji, Sri M.P. Shukla, Sri Prem Narayan Rai, S.C.

A. Service Law - Central Reserve Police Force Act, 194 - Sections 9, 10, 11 & 12 - The petitioner was suspended on account of unauthorised absent from work. The Court held that the order of dismissal from service is disproportionate to the offence committed by the petitioner. Absent from work without cause is a less heinous crime under the Act for which punishment ought to have been a little less. (Para 8)

Writ Petition Partly Allowed. (E-10)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Suresh Dhar Dubey Vs UOI 2018 (2) ADJ 854

(Delivered by Hon'ble Siddhartha Varma, J.)

1. Heard Sri Rajesh Kumar assisted by Sri Yashodanand Shukla, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Jitendra Prasad Mishra, learned counsel for the respondents.

2. This writ petition has been filed against an order of dismissal dated 20.3.1992 and also against the orders dated 27.4.2005 and 5.9.2005 passed in the appeal and the revision respectively. By these orders the appeal and the revision filed by the petitioner were also dismissed.

3. The petitioner who was working as a Constable in the Central Reserve Police Force eversince 1985 was always much appreciated for his work and, therefore, had also been awarded with various rewards and appreciations from the Governor, the Director General of Central Reserve Police Force, Inspector General of Police and the Commandant. Apart from these awards, the petitioner was also a recipient of various cash rewards.

4. The facts of the case are that when the petitioner was on duty on 24.12.1991, a fellow Constable by the name of Haidar Ali informed the petitioner about the serious illnesses of his mother and that of his child. Upon getting the information, the petitioner was very upset. He tried to give an application on 24.12.1991 for 16 days' leave. However, no orders were passed on that application. On the next day, it was a Christmas holiday and no officer was available for the granting of leave and, therefore, on 26.12.1991, the petitioner after writing an application and after leaving the same in the office of the Commandant of the Headquarter, left for his village. From his village also, the petitioner kept writing through post. When the petitioner re-joined his duty on 23.1.1992, he was placed under suspension on 24.1.1992 and thereafter he was also served with a charge of desertion on 25.1.1992. An Enquiry Officer was appointed and thereafter the Enquiry Officer submitted his enquiry report upon the completion of the enquiry. On 20.3.1992, an order of dismissal was passed for the petitioner's unauthorized absence. The petitioner filed an appeal and when that was rejected on 27.4.2005, he filed a Revision. Upon the dismissal of the Revision on 5.9.2005, the instant writ petition was filed.

5. Learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that under the Central Reserve Police Force Act, 1949, sections 9 to 12 deal with offences and punishments. Section 9 deals with "more heinous offences" while section 10 deals with "less heinous offences". Section 11 deals with minor punishments and section 12 deals with punishments which are ranging from dismissal to imprisonment. Since learned counsel for the petitioner had brought to the notice of the Court sections 9 to 12, they are being reproduced here as under :-

"OFFENCES AND PUNISHMENTS

More heinous offences.

9. Every member of the force who-

(a) begins, excites, causes or conspires to cause or joins in any mutiny, or being present at any mutiny, does not use his utmost endeavour to suppress it, or knowing, or having reason to believe in, the existence of any mutiny, or of any intention or conspiracy to mutiny or of any conspiracy against the State does not, without delay, give information thereof to his superior officer; or

(b) uses, or attempts to use, criminal force to, or commits an assault on, his superior officer, whether on or off duty, knowing or having or having reason to believe him to be such; or

(c) shamefully abandons or delivers up any post or guard which is committed to his charge, or which it is his duty to defend; or

(d) directly or indirectly holds correspondence with, or assists or relieves any person in arms against the State or omits to discover immediately to his superior officer any such correspondence coming to his knowledge; or who, while on active duty,-

(e) disobeys the lawful command of his superior officer; or

(f) deserts the Force; or

(g) being a sentry, sleeps upon his post or quits it without being regularly relieved or without leave; or

(h) leaves his commanding officer, or his post or party, to go in search of plunder; or

(i) quits his guard, picquet, party or patrol without being regularly relieved or without leave; or

(j) uses criminal force to, or commits an assault on, any person bringing provisions or other necessaries to campo or quarters, of forces a safeguard or breaks into any house or other place for plunder, or plunders, destroys or damages property of any kind; or

(k) intentionally causes or spreads a false alarm in action or in camp, garrison or quarters; or

(l) displays cowardice in the execution of his duty shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to fourteen years or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to fourteen years or with fine which may extend to three months pay or with fine to that extent in addition to such sentence of transportation or imprisonment.

Less heinous offences

10. Every member of the force who-

(a) is in a state of intoxication when on, or after having been warned for, any duty or on parade or on the line of march; or

(b) strikes or attempts to force any sentry; or

(c) being in command of a guard, piquet or patrol, refuses to receive any prisoner or person or person duly committed to his charge or without proper authority releases any person or prisoner placed under his charge or negligently suffers any such prisoner or person to escape; or

(d) being under arrest or in confinement, leaves his arrest or confinement, before he is set at liberty by lawful authority; or

(e) is grossly in-subordinate or insolent to his superior officer in the execution of his office; or

(f) refuses to superintend or assist in the making of any fieldwork or other work of any description ordered to be made either in quarters or in the field; or

(g) strikes or otherwise ill-uses any member of the force subordinate to him in rank or position; or

(h) designedly or through neglect injures or loses or fraudulently disposes of his arms, clothes, tools, equipments, ammunition or accoutrement or any such articles entrusted to him or belonging to any other person; or

(i) malingers or feigns or produces disease or infirmity in himself, or intentionally delays his cure, or aggravates his disease or infirmity; or

(j) with intent to render himself or any other person unfit for service, voluntarily causes hurt to himself or any other person; or

(k) does not, when called upon by his superior officer so to do or upon ceasing to be a member of the force forthwith deliver up, or duly account for, all or any arms, Ammunition, stores, accoutrements or other property issued or supplied to him or in his custody or possession as such member; or

(l) knowingly furnishes a false return or report of the number or state of any men under his command or charge or of any money, arms ammunition, clothing, equipments, stores or other property in his charge, whether belonging to such men or to the Government or to any member of or any

(m) person attached to the force or who through design or culpable neglect, omit, or refuses to make or send any return or report of the matters aforesaid; or

(n) absent himself without leave, or without sufficient cause overstays leave granted to him: or

(o) is guilty of any act or omission which, though not specified in this Act, is prejudicial to good order and discipline: or

(p) contravenes any provision of this Act for which no punishment is expressly provided: or who, while not on active duty :

(q) commits any of the offences specified in clauses (e) to (1) (both inclusive) of Section 9 shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year, or with fine which may extend to three months pay, or with both.

Minor punishments.

11. (1) The Commandant or any other authority or officer as may be prescribed, may, subject to any rules made under this Act award in lieu of or in addition to, suspension or dismissal any one or more of the following punishments to any member of the force whom he considered to be guilty of disobedience, neglect of duty, or remissness in the discharge of any duty or of other misconduct in his capacity as a member of the force, that is to say :

(a) reduction in rank;

(b) fine of any amount not exceeding one month's pay and allowances;

(c) confinement to quarters, lines or camp for a term not exceeding one month;

(d) confinement in the quarter-guard for not more than twenty eight days with or without punishment drill or extra guard, fatigue or other duty; and

(e) removal from any office of distinction or special emolument in the force.

(2) Any punishment specified in clause (c) or clause (b) of sub-section (1) may be awarded by any gazetted officer when in command of any detachment of the force away from headquarters, provided he is specially authorised in this behalf by the Commandant.

(3) The Assistant Commandant, a Company Officer or a Subordinate Officer, not being below the rank of Subedar or Inspector commanding a separate detachment or an outpost, or in temporary command at the headquarters of the force, may, without a formal trial, award to any member of the force who is for the time being subject to his authority any one or more of the following punishments for the commission of any petty offence against discipline which is not otherwise provided for in this Act or which is not of a sufficiently serous nature to require prosecution before a Criminal Court that is to say :

(a) confinement for not more that seven days in the quarter guard or such other place as may be considered suitable, with forfeiture of all pay and allowances during its continuance;

(b) punishment drill, or extra guard, fatigue or other duty, for not more than thirty days, with or without confinement to quarters, lines, or camp.

(4) A Jemadar or Sub-Inspector who is temporarily in command of a detachment or an outpost may in like manner and for the commission of any like offence award to any member of the force for the time being subject to his authority any of the punishment specified in clause (b) of sub-section (3) for not more than fifteen days.

Place of imprisonment and liability to dismissal on imprisonment

12. (1) Every person sentenced under this Act to imprisonment may be dismissed from the force and shall further be liable to forfeiture of pay, allowance and any other moneys due to him, as well as of any medals and decorations received by him.

(2) Every such person shall, if he is so dismissed, be imprisoned in the prescribed prison, but if he is not also dismissed from the force he may if the Court of the Commandant so directs, be confined in the quarter guard or such other place as the Court or the Commandant may consider suitable."

6. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that since under section 10(n), absenting without leave was considered a less heinous offence, the petitioner should have been given a minor punishment. Learned counsel for the petitioner in this regard has heavily relied upon a judgment of this Court in Suresh Dhar Dubey vs. Union of India & Ors. reported in 2018 (2) ADJ 854. Learned counsel for the petitioner further submitted that the Constable Haidar Ali, who had informed him about the illnesses of his mother and that of his child, was never allowed to be produced in the enquiry, else he would have informed the Enquiry Officer with regard to the fact that in fact the mother and the child of the petitioner were ill. Still further, it has been argued by learned counsel for the petitioner that the petitioner had produced the medical prescriptions/certificates which went to show that the mother and the child of the petitioner were ill but these evidence were not considered by the Enquiry Officer. Still further, learned counsel for the petitioner argued that for being absent and that too because of the fact that there was a cause, the petitioner's case ought to have been considered leniently and he should not have been punished with dismissal.

7. Learned counsel appearing for the Central Reserve Police Force Sri Jitendra Prasad Mishra, however, in reply submitted that the petitioner's absenting without any application from a disciplined force would mean a major offence and, therefore, the petitioner was rightly dismissed from his service.

8. Having considered the submissions advanced by learned counsel for the parties, the Court is of the view that the order of dismissal from service was disproportionate to the offence committed by the petitioner. In fact the Central Reserve Police Force itself considers absenting without cause to be a "less heinous offence" and for which the punishment also ought to have been a little lesser. The Court also considers that the punishment awarded to the petitioner exceeded the offence. The punishment was, therefore, definitely disproportionate to the offence which was committed by the petitioner.

9. Under such circumstances, the order dated 20.3.1992 passed by the Commandant, 127th Battalion, Central Reserve Police Force, Allahabad, the order dated 27.4.2005 passed by the Appellate Authority and the order dated 5.9.2005 passed by the Revisional Authority are quashed and are set-aside. The petitioner could have been awarded a minor punishment of fine etc. in the shape of stoppage of a few months' salary. The petitioner shall now be reinstated in service with all backwages. However, the wages of three months shall not be paid to the petitioner which stoppage shall be considered as a fine imposed upon the petitioner.

10. The writ petition is, accordingly, partly allowed.

16. So even if the application is registered as complaint case even then under process of inquiry Magistrate has ample power to direct for investigation to be made by police officer or by such officer as he thinks fit. So at the stage of inquiry under section 202 Cr.P.C. Magistrate may opt for that.

17. Considering the entire facts and circumstances and the legal proposition there appears to be no necessity for interference. The impugned order passed by the learned Magistrate is sound and reasoned one and does not suffer from any illegality.

18. The application U/s 482 Cr.P.C. is devoid of merit and is hereby dismissed.

(2022)05ILR A1081
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 18.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DEVENDRA KUMAR UPADHYAYA, J.
THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Spl. Appeal D No. 473 of 2021

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Raj Kumar Srivastava ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellants:
C.S.C.

Counsel for the Respondent:
Avinash Kant Tripathi

A. Service Law - The U.P. Regularisation of Persons working on Daily Wages or On Work Charge or On Contract in Government Departments On Group "C" and Group "D" Posts (Outside the Purview of the U.P. Public Service Commission) Rules, 2016 - Rule 2(iii), 6(3)

The respondent is seeking regularisation under the Rules 2(iii) of 2016. The criteria given under the said Rules requires the respondent to be employed in a scheme or project of the State or Government of India sponsored programmes but also that he should have been employed on consolidated pay/fixed honoraria. Since the respondent is employed on daily wage basis therefore exclusion as envisaged in Rule 2(iii) will not cover him and therefore he is not entitle to seek regularisation under the said Rules. (Para 15)

It is further observed that by virtue of Rule 6(3) the appointing authority shall constitute a Selection Committee which shall consider the cases of the candidates on the basis of their records and can even hold interview of the candidates, if find necessary. (Para 17)

The respondent-employee has been employed under the free-boring scheme which is perennial in nature and therefore denial of regularisation in service to such an employee would be unfair. The Court, therefore, directed the competent authority to reconsider the regularisation in accordance with Rule 6 of 2016. (Para 20)

Special Appeal Disposed of. (E-10)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Devendra Kumar Upadhyaya, J.
&
Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

Order on the Delay Condonation Application

1. Having regard to the facts stated in the affidavit filed in support of the application seeking condonation of delay, the application is allowed and the delay in preferring the special appeal is hereby condoned.

Order on the Appeal

2. Heard Shri Jaideep Narain Mathur, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Shri V.P. Nag, learned State Counsel for the appellant-State authorities and Shri D.N. Shukla, learned counsel for the sole respondent.

3. Under challenge in this intra-court appeal is the judgment and order dated 21-09-2021 passed by the learned Single Judge in Writ Petition No. 604 (S/S) of 2021 whereby the writ petition has been allowed and the appellant-State authorities have been directed to regularize the services of the respondent-petitioner under the provisions of The Uttar Pradesh Regularisation of Persons working on Daily Wages or On Work Charge or On Contract in Government Departments On Group "C" And Group "D" Posts (Outside The Purview of the Uttar Pradesh Public Service Commission) Rules, 2016 (hereinafter referred to as "2016 Rules).

4. Further direction issued by the learned Single Judge is that if there no vacancy is available, the appellants shall create a supernumerary post so that services of the respondent may be regularized against such post.

5. Shri Mathur, learned Senior Advocate has contended that the judgment and order dated 21-09-2021 passed by the learned Single Judge is apparently erroneous for the following two reasons:

(i) That Rule 6 (3) of 2016 Rules clearly mandates that for the purposes of considering regularisation of a daily wager or a work charged employee or an employee working on contract basis, the appointing authority has to constitute a Selection Committee in accordance with the relevant provisions of the service Rules and thereafter the Selection Committee is required to consider the cases of the candidates on the basis of their records and that the Selection Committee, if it considers necessary, may also interview the candidate to assess his suitability whereas the learned Single Judge while passing the judgment and order under appeal appears to have lost sight of the said Rules and has directed the appellant to regularize the services of the respondent without consideration by the Selection Committee and;

(ii) That 2016 Rules clearly exclude from its ambit the person/persons engaged/employed in a scheme or project of the State Government or Government of India sponsored programmes and since engagement of the respondent was made in a scheme known as "free-boring scheme" hence he is not covered by 2016 Rules and accordingly the direction issued by the learned Single Judge in the order under appeal is vitiated.

6. On the other hand learned counsel representing the respondent has opposed the prayers made in this special appeal and has submitted that the order under appeal passed by the learned Single Judge does not warrant any interference and hence the special appeal is liable to be dismissed at its threshold.

7. We have considered the rival submissions made by the learned counsel representing the respective parties and have also gone through the records available before us on this special appeal.

8. Before adverting to the submissions made by the learned counsel for the parties certain background facts which are necessary to be noticed in this case are being stated.

9. The respondent is said to have been engaged in a scheme of the State Government known as "free-boring scheme" on daily wages w.e.f 1st of October, 1990 without any written order. He is said to have continued in the said capacity, however, in the year 1997 the services of the respondent were dispensed with which led the respondent to file Writ Petition No. 284(S/S) of 1998. However, the said Writ Petition No. 284(S/S) of 1998 was dismissed on the ground of availability of an alternative remedy under the Labour Laws and accordingly this Court by means of the judgment and order dated 23-11-1998 refused to entertain the said writ petition by observing that the respondent has an efficacious and alternative remedy. Subsequent to dismissal of the said writ petition by this Court on 23-11-1998 the matter was referred to the Labour Court which gave its award on 09-02-2005 wherein it was provided that the respondent shall be reinstated in service however he will not be entitled to any back wages. The said award by the Labour Court dated 09-02-2025 came to be challenged by the appellant-State authorities before this Court by means of filing a Writ Petition no. 841 (S/S) of 2005. The said writ petition was dismissed by means of judgment and order dated 07-11-2006. Challenging the said order passed by this Court, the appellant-State authorities preferred Special Leave to Appeal (Civil) No. 6727 of 2008 which too was dismissed by the Apex Court by means of the judgment and order dated 10-02-2012.

10. Prior to dismissal of the aforesaid Special Leave to Appeal by the Apex Court, the respondent was reinstated on 22-01-2007. He thereafter, filed Writ Petition No. 19401 (S/S)/2019 claiming his regularisation which was decided by means of the judgment and order dated 18-07-2019 whereby the apellant-State authorities were directed to consider the representation moved by him seeking his regularisation. In compliance of the order dated 18-07-2019 passed by this Court in Writ Petition No. 19401 (S/S)/2019 the matter relating to regularisation of services of the respondent was considered by the appellant-State authorities which was rejected by means of the order dated 19-09-2019. It is this order dated 19-09-2019 which became the subject-matter of challenge before this Court in Writ Petition No. 604 (S/S) of 2021 which has been decided by the judgment and order dated 21-09-2021 which is under appeal herein.

11. If we consider the submissions made by the learned Senior Advocate representing the appellant-State authorities what we find is that the contention on behalf of the appellants regarding exclusion of the respondent from operation of the 2016 Rules is absolutely misconceived.

12. As observed above learned Senior Advocate has relied upon Rule 2(iii) of the 2016 Rules and submitted that since the respondent was initially appointed on daily wage basis in a scheme known as "free-boring scheme", as such 2016 Rules will have no application and hence the respondent was not entitled to be considered for regularisation of his services under the said Rules.

Rule 2 of the 2016 Rules is extracted hereinbelow:-

"2. These rules shall not apply for regularisation of:

(i) Seasonal Collection Ameen/Seasonal Peon;

(ii) Person/Persons engaged/employed/deployed for seasonal works in Horticulture Department, Agriculture Department, Agriculture Education Department and such similar Departments;

(iii) Person/Persons engaged/employed/deployed on consolidated pay/fixed honoraria in the scheme/projects of State Government or Government of India sponsored programmes;

(iv) Person/Persons engaged/employed/deployed as Home Guard Volunteer and Prantiya Rakshak Dal Volunteer;

(v) Person/Persons engaged/employed/deployed as Shiksha Mitra and Kisan Mitra;

(vi) Person/persons engaged/employed/deployed under MNREGA Scheme (Rural Development Department);

(vii) Person/Persons engaged/ employed/deployed in Aaganbadi Kendra (Women and Child Welfare Department);

(viii) Person/persons engaged/employed/deployed as Asha Bahu (Medical Health and Family Welfare Department);

(ix) Such person/persons or group of persons as notified by the State Government from time to time.

13. The aforesaid 2016 Rules carve out certain exclusions where the said Rules will not operate.

14. Sub Rule 2 (iii) of 2016 Rules provides that 2016 Rules will have no application in case a person is engaged or employed or deployed on consolidated pay/fixed honoraria in the scheme/projects of State Government or Government of India sponsored programmes. What is to be noticed in Rule 2(iii) for exclusion of 2016 Rules it is that is not only that the person seeking regularisation under the said Rules should have been employed in a scheme or project of the State or Government of India sponsored programmes but also that he should have been employed on consolidated pay/fixed honoraria.

15. There is no dispute, so far as the present case is concerned, that the respondent was never employed on consolidated pay/fixed honoraria in the scheme known as free-boring scheme; rather he was always employed on daily wage basis. Thus, in our considered opinion exclusion as envisaged in Rule 2 (iii) of 2016 Rules will not cover those employees, even if they have been employed in a scheme or project, who are paid their remuneration on daily wage basis. It is needles to say that there always exists a difference between remuneration paid on consolidated pay/fixed honoraria basis and remuneration paid on daily wage basis.

16. In the aforesaid view of the matter, we are not impressed by the argument advanced by the learned counsel for the appellant-State authorities that by operation of rule 2(iii) of 2016 Rules the respondent shall not be entitled to seek regularisation under the said Rules.

17. However, having observed as above, what we also notice is that sub-rule (3) of Rule 6 of 2016 Rules clearly mandates that for the purposes of consideration of regularisation of a daily wager under sub-rule (1) of Rule 6 of 2016 Rules, appointing authority shall constitute a Selection Committee in accordance with the relevant provisions of the service Rules. The occurrence of the word "shall' in sub-rule (3) of rule 6 of 2016 Rules thus makes its mandatory that for the purposes of regularisation of any daily wager or work charged employee, the appointing authority has to constitute a Selection Committee. Sub Rule (5) of rule 6 of 2016 Rules further provides that the Selection Committee "shall' consider the cases of the candidates on the basis of their records and if the Selection Committee considers its necessary, it may even hold the interview of the candidate seeking regularisation of his services, for the purposes of assessing their suitability. Thus, as per the scheme enunciated in rule (6) of 2016 Rules, without assessment of the suitability of a daily wager/work charge employee by a Selection Committee to be constituted by the appointing authority in terms of the relevant service rules, no regularisation can be made.

18. In this view of the matter, what we find is that the learned Single Judge appears to have lost sight of the provisions contained in sub-rule (3) and sub-rule (5) of Rule 6 of 2016 Rules. Even otherwise, it is the employer who needs to judge the suitability of an employee seeking regularisation of his services and the satisfaction of the employer for the purpose of regularizing the service of a daily wager/work charge cannot be substituted by the satisfaction of this Court.

19. It is also noticeable that though learned Single Judge while has allowed the writ petition, however, the order dated 19-09-2019 has not been set aside.

20. When we peruse the order dated 19-09-2019 what we find is that the only reason indicated therein is that the respondent is not covered by 2016 Rules in terms of the provisions contained in rule 2 (iii) of the 2016 Rules. As observed above, rule 2(iii) of 2016 Rules will have no application in the present case for the reason that though the respondent was employed in a scheme known as free-boring scheme, however, he was not employed on consolidated/fixed honoraria basis. The free-boring scheme as is clear from the perusal of the Government Order dated 31st of May 2016 has been in vogue in the State of U.P. since February 1983. There is no denial of the fact that the scheme is perennial in nature and as such denial of regularisation in service to an employee who is working in such a scheme which is perennial in nature, in our considered opinion, would amount to unfair labour practice. Such a practice is not expected from a modern employer like State, that too, in a welfare State. Such a practice is clearly exploitative for the reason that the scheme is not time bound; it has been continuing since 1985 and as on date there is no likelihood of the scheme being discontinued.

21. On the aforesaid counts, we find that the reasons indicated by the appellant-State authorities while passing the order dated 19-09-2019 are not tenable.

22. For the reasons given and discussion made above, this special appeal is disposed of with the following directions and orders:-

(A) The order dated 19-09-2019 passed by the Executive Engineer (Minor Irrigation), Division Raebareli as is available at page 116 of this special appeal is hereby quashed.

(B) The competent authority is directed to reconsider the matter of regularisation of the respondent in accordance with rule 6 of 2016 Rules after constituting the Selection Committee as provided in sub-rule 3 of Rule 6 of 2016 Rules within a period of two months from the date a certified copy of this order is produced before the competent authority.

(C) Since we have quashed the order dated 19-09-2019 as such the reasons given therein will not constitute a valid reason for denying the benefit of regularisation in services to the respondent and when the matter is considered afresh under this order the Selection Committee shall only judge the suitability as per the requirement of the rule 6 of 2016 Rules.

(D) Judgement and order dated 21-09-2021 passed by learned Single Judge in Writ Petition No. 604 (S/S) of 2021, shall stand modified to the extent aforesaid.

23. There shall be no order as to costs.

(2022)05ILR A1086
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 18.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUNEET KUMAR, J.

Writ-A No. 2894 of 2022

Zuhair Bin Saghir ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Hemant Kumar Mishra, Arti Ganguly

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

A. Service Law - The Waqf Act, 1995 - Section 51 - U.P. Vigilance Establishment Act, 1965 - Section 2(2) - Urban Land (Ceiling Regulation) Act, 1986 - Prevention of Corruption (Amendment) Act, 2018 - Sections 7 & 13(1) A read with 13(2) - I.P.C., 1860 - Sections 409 & 120-B - Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988 – Sections 19(3)(b), 7 & 13

The petitioner along with other revenue officers were found involved in acts of corruption. The petitioner contended that the Government orders issued from time to time governing enquiry on a complaint filed against the government servant was not complied. The Court, on perusal of government orders, observed that it is always open for the competent authority/government to conduct discreet enquiry on any information received depending upon the nature of allegation. The direction in the Government orders seeks to protect the government servants from the onslaught of frivolous complaints but that does not mean that the government servants can take shelter under the Government Orders to escape enquiry and prosecution for their corrupt acts. Any defect in the fact finding enquiry would not vitiate the consequential vigilance enquiry or order of sanction for prosecution against the government officer, provided there is, prima facie, material to support the allegations against the government servant. (Para 20)

Writ Petition Dismissed. (E-10)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Chandrika Prasad Yadav Vs St. of Bihar 2004 6 SCC 331

2. U.O.I. Vs Prakash P. Hinduja (2003) 6 SCC 195

3. Vineet Narain & Ors. Vs U.O.I. 1998 (1) SCC

4. H.N. Rishbud Vs St. of Delhi 1955 SCR 1150

5. Prabhu Vs Emperor AIR 1944 SC 73
6. Lumbhardar Zutshi Vs The King AIR 1950 PC 26

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suneet Kumar, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner and learned Standing Counsel.

2. Petitioner, by the instant writ petition, has raised challenge to the order dated 16 March 2022, passed by the first respondent, Principal Secretary, Vigilance Department, Lucknow, rejecting the representation of the petitioner pursuant to the directions issued by this Court.

3. The facts giving rise to the present writ petition, briefly stated, is that petitioner is a civil servant and at the time of the alleged incident was posted as District Magistrate, Moradabad. It appears that a complaint dated 23 January 2017, came to be filed for alleged corrupt practices committed by the petitioner in discharge of his duty, accordingly, decision was taken to initiate vigilance enquiry and criminal prosecution against the petitioner pursuant to an enquiry report. Aggrieved, petitioner approached this Court by filing a petition being Writ Petition No. 32018 (M/B) of 2019. The relief claimed by the petitioner, noted in the order of the writ Court reads thus:

"This petition has been filed for quashing the impugned open inquiry report conducted by opposite party No.2 in pursuance of the unauthorized complaint made by the opposite party No.4, as contained in Annexure No.2 to the writ petition, contrary to the government orders dated 9.5.1997, 1.8.1997, 19.4.2012 and 24.5.2012 which is the basis of initiating the criminal prosecution against the petitioner, submitted by opposite party No.2, before opposite party No.1."

4. The writ petition came to be disposed of directing the Chief Secretary to decide the representation of the petitioner in light of Government Orders. The relevant portion of the order dated 08 January 2020 is extracted:

"In the present case, vigilance inquiry has been conducted directly without adhering to the provisions of the Government Orders. The Government Orders clearly mention that first of all the complaints of the complainants should be ascertained preferably it is a normal procedure that class-I officers or other officers who are holding responsible posts, if a complaint is made against such persons, an affidavit should accompany the complaint. The first action is to be taken by the disciplinary authority or the appointing authority to the effect that a show cause notice should be given and in case it so pleases departmental inquiry can be initiated. It is very interesting to note that even in the complaint and the impugned sanction order, the impugned action taken by the opposite parties, the charge is not very clear. There is no charge of corruption, embezzlement or any other financial loss to the State Government. There has been no money transaction, there is no allegation of bribe, there is no allegation of any nepotism or malafide intentions.

At this juncture, the petitioner has submitted that his sole contention is on the premise that he has never been given any opportunity of hearing in the inquiry as it was required in the departmental procedure to explain his case. He has not been able to produce relevant documents and the judgments of Hon'ble Supreme Court.

The Court feels that interest of justice will be satisfied if the petitioner is given a chance to represent his case before the Chief Secretary.

Accordingly, we direct that the petitioner will move a detailed representation before the Chief Secretary annexing all the relevant documents including the Government Orders and the provisions of the Constitution, his defence and the objections against the complainant and his complaint. This shall be done within a maximum period of fifteen days from today.

In case, such a representation is moved by the petitioner before the Chief Secretary, U.P., he will examine it and pass appropriate speaking orders after considering all the reasons which have been enumerated in the representation. It is provided that the opposite parties will not proceed against the petitioner till the representation is decided. The decision so taken shall be communicated to the petitioner.

With these observations the writ petition stands disposed of."

5. Learned counsel for the petitioner, while assailing the impugned order, has made the following submissions: (i) that a vigilance enquiry cannot be directly initiated on a fictitious complaint bypassing the various Government Orders issued from time to time to protect the officers against malicious complaint; (ii) that pursuant to Government Order dated 14 April 1981, the complaint, as far as possible, should be investigated by an officer who is two rank higher; (iii) that on a complaint made against a Class-I officer, before taking cognizance of the matter, an affidavit shall be called from the complainant and after verifying and ascertaining the identity of the complainant, the complaint should be entertained; (iv) that the mandate of Government Order dated 19 April 2012, specifically directs that the earlier Government Orders be strictly complied before entertaining a complaint; (v) that in view of Government Order dated 24 May 2012, it is mandated that departmental proceedings should be initiated and if culpability of the government officer is found then in that event decision should be taken to lodge F.I.R.; (vi) that Government Order dated 6 August 2018, reiterated that the complaints received against the government officers should be dealt with as per earlier Government Orders dated 9 May 1997, 1 August 1997 and 19 April 2012; (vii) that the aforenoted Government Orders have not been considered nor complied while deciding the representation of the petitioner; (viii) that the State Government has adopted pick and choose policy while dealing with the complaints filed against the government servants; (ix) that the basis for initiating vigilance enquiry by lodging F.I.R. is a report of Senior Superintendent of Police, Moradabad, obtained flouting the Government Orders.

6. In rebuttal, learned Standing Counsel submits that petitioner while posted as District Magistrate indulged in acts of corruption while discharging official duty, which was duly enquired into by the Revenue authorities and the Senior Superintendent of Police, duly noted in the impugned order. The Government Orders are directory and not mandatory, in any case, upon discreet enquiry and departmental enquiry petitioner has been found of have indulged in corrupt practices in discharge of his official function causing huge loss to the State Exchequer. In the circumstances, it is not open for the petitioner to take recourse under the Government Orders to escape the consequences. The writ petition being devoid of merit and is liable to be dismissed.

7. Rival submissions fall for consideration.

8. The short question involved is as to whether a vigilance enquiry can be initiated on a complaint bypassing the various Government Orders, issued from time to time, by the State Government or in the alternative whether the vigilance enquiry initiated by the State Government would vitiate for want of compliance of the Government Orders dealing with complaints received against the government servant.

9. I have perused the impugned order with the assistance of learned counsel for the parties. The impugned order is a lengthy order and the objections raised by the petitioner in both the representations has been dealt with in detail. In para 8 of the impugned order, it is noted that petitioner while posted as District Magistrate, Moradabad, from 22 September 2015 to 28 April 2015, pursuant to directions of the Government, a six member committee headed by the petitioner was constituted for the construction of a jail premises at 40.334 hectare. The committee submitted a report to the State Government through, the Divisional Commissioner, proposing that land be purchased at four times the circle rate at Rs. 97,80,000/- per hectare. In the proposal at serial no. 14 gata no. 1168 (kha), admeasuring 1.319 hectare land was included, however, no reference was made that the land vested with Waqf Al Aulad. In other words the land vesting with the Waqf was made a part of the proposal for purchase at the proposed rate, thereafter, an order on the proposal was obtained by the petitioner misleading the Divisional Commissioner.

10. In para 9 of the impugned order, the objection of the petitioner that the proposal identifying the land suggested by the committee was duly approved by the Divisional Commissioner, therefore, petitioner alone is not responsible for any irregularity or corrupt practice. The State negated the contention of the petitioner, as noted in the impugned order, that since the committee headed by the District Magistrate was assigned the role of purchase of land, whereas, the Divisional Commissioner was only required to approve the rate proposed by the committee. The Commissioner has no role in identification of the plots suggested by the committee. The Commissioner was misled as the property belonging to Waqf and Sri Saumya Jain was included for purchase, whereas, the properties of Waqf and Sri Saumya Jain were situated outside the proposed project. It is noted in the impugned order that the property of the Waqf is out side the project at about 500 meter to one kilometer distance. The inclusion of the properties was willful and deliberate at behest of the petitioner against the provision of the Government Orders to cause loss to the State Exchequer. It is further noted in the impugned order that the proposal was placed before the petitioner by the revenue authorities on 23 January 2017, wherein, it was clearly indicated that sale and purchase of the Waqf property is prohibited under the Waqf Act, 1995. But despite the objection property of the Waqf was included in the proposal.

11. It appears from the facts noted in para 12 of of the impugned order that the revenue authorities prepared a report which was false stating that the Waqf property and that belonging to Sri Saumya Jain and others are in the vicinity of the proposed jail, whereas, the properties are situated 500 meter to one kilometer away from the jail land. In para 13, it is noted that petitioner as the Chairman of the committee approved and consented to the illegal proposal that the land vesting in Waqf can be purchased/exchanged which is in violation of Section 51 of the Waqf Act, 1995. Thereafter, the properties belonging to Sri Saumya Jain and others were also initiated for purchase/exchange and the entire process was completed hurridly with seven days.

12. Aggrieved by the orders passed by the subordinate revenue authorities (Sub Divisional Officer) for purchase/exchange of Waqf property came to be challenged by the U.P. Sunni Central Board, in a petition being Writ-C No. 3750 of 2018. This Court observed and held that the exchange of Waqf property could not have taken place under the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006, accordingly, directed an enquiry to be conducted. Pursuant thereof, the order of the Sub Divisional Officer came to be set aside on rehearing the matter. It is noted in para 15 of the impugned order that the exchange of the land vesting in the Waqf with the land of Sri Saumya Jain Trust and others was illegal and was accordingly set aside.

13. In para 16 of the impugned order it is categorically noted that the revenue authorities in their proposal submitted to the petitioner, the Chairman, had categorically noted that in view of the provisions of the Waqf Act, 1995, the Waqf land cannot be sold/exchanged. The land vesting in Gram Sabha/Government land in the same Gram Sabha could only be exchanged. Petitioner willfully and deliberately did not bring to the notice of the Divisional Commissioner that the proposal approved by the committee included the exchange/purchase of Waqf property with the land belonging to Sri Saumya Jain Trust and others. The land proposed was located 500 meter to one kilometer away from the project and was small scattered plots. This fact was not placed before the Divisional Commissioner. In para 18 of the impugned order, the vigilance enquiry was also ordered against the then Sub Divisional Officer, Sadar, District Moradabad, for his involvement in the exchange of land in violation of the Act 2006.

14. In para 18 of the impugned order, it is noted that after fact finding enquiry in the incident an vigilance enquiry was ordered. It is further noted that the U.P.

Vigilance Establishment is the qualified investigating agency and is competent to enquire into the conduct of a government servant in view of Section 2(2) of the U.P. Vigilance Establishment Act, 1965. In para 23 of the impugned order, it is noted that the U.P. Vigilance Establishment collected sufficient documentary material, prima facie, disclosing the culpability of the petitioner in acts of corruption while discharging official duty. In that event the consequence is prosecution of the officer under the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988.

15. The impugned order further notes that while disposing of the second representation dated 16 August 2021, filed by the petitioner, in para 4 it is noted that under the Urban Land (Ceiling Regulation) Act, 1986, the District Magistrate is competent authority and on the direction of the petitioner the then Additional District Magistrate (City), Moradabad, released/abated the property without hearing the Development Authority. After vesting in the State the land was duly transferred to the Moradabad Development Authority way back in 1993. Thereby, causing huge loss to the State Exchequer. It is noted that the lands in dispute was declared surplus in 1986, which was duly taken into possession on 30 March 1990, by the Supervisor Kanoongo, Pakwada and Naib Tehsildar, thus, vesting in the State. It is further noted in the impugned order that this was done in connivance with the owners of the land for extraneous consideration. In para 8, it is noted that the subsequent District Magistrate on being informed of the illegal proceedings, passed orders declaring the order of abatement/release illegal, thereby, protecting the State from huge loss.

16. In para 9, it has been categorically noted that the allegations of corrupt practices against the petitioner has been leveled upon a fact finding enquiry and it is not based on the complaint of the complainant Sri Dushyant Raj Chaudhary. In para 15, it is admitted that on a complaint the fact finding enquiry was got conducted by the Senior Superintendent of Police, Moradabad, and based on the enquiry, an open enquiry was directed to be conducted by the Vigilance Establishment. In the open enquiry, sufficient material was collected with regard to the culpability of the petitioner and other revenue authorities, accordingly, F.I.R. being Case Crime No. 1084 of 2018, under Sections 7 and 13(1)A read with Section 13(2) of Prevention of Corruption (Amendment) Act, 2018, and Sections 409, 120-B I.P.C., was lodged with Police Station Civil Line, Moradabad.

17. In para 16 of the impugned order, it is noted that in compliance of the writ Court order, before initiating prosecution a committee was constituted by the Divisional Commissioner, headed by the Additional Commissioner (Administration), alongwith Additional District Magistrate (Administration), Moradabad, Additional Secretary Moradabad Development Authority, Moradabad. The committee submitted a report on 1 August 2017, to the Divisional Commissioner and the report prima facie discloses that petitioner and other revenue officers to be involved in corrupt practices. Accordingly, the Divisional Commissioner vide order dated 3 August 2017, directed the District Magistrate Moradabad, to lodge F.I.R. and requested the State Government to take appropriate action against the delinquent officers, including, the petitioner. The departmental enquiry was in terms of the writ Court order and in compliance of the respective Government Orders.

18. The crux of the argument of learned counsel for the petitioner is that the Government Orders issued from time to time governing enquiry on a complaint filed against the government servant was not complied in the given facts. Hence, it is urged that the directions for initiating vigilance enquiry and prosecution is bad not being in conformity with the mandate of the Government Orders.

19. It would be apposite to peruse the Government Orders being relied upon by learned counsel for the petitioner, which briefly stated, provides thus:

(a) Government Order dated 14 April 1981, addressed to all the Head of the departments, directing that on receiving complaint against a government servant, it should be ensured that during the discreet enquiry the copy of the complaint should not be supplied to the delinquent government servant and neither the name of the complainant should be disclosed. Upon disclosure, the purpose of the enquiry and secrecy gets compromised. In other words, the delinquent employee should not be made aware of the complaint or the enquiry. If possible the enquiry should be got conducted by an officer two rank higher.

(b) Government order dated 9 May 1997, is addressed to all the Principal/Secretaries and Secretaries. The Government order notes that against Class-I officers fraudulent and false complaints are being received. Accordingly, the Government Order to safeguard the interest of Class-I officers, inter alia, provides: (i) complaints received on the letter pad of Member of Parliament and/or Legislative Assembly, before proceeding on the complaint, the contents should be got verified from the Members; (ii) on complaints received from other sources/persons, before proceeding to enquire, an affidavit of the complainant and the material/evidence in support of complaint must be obtained.

(c) Government Order dated 01 August 1997, provides the procedure for entertaining and acting on the complaints of subordinate officers. The procedure is similar to the Government Order dated 9 May 1997.

(d) Government Order dated 19 April 2012, came to be issued on the directions of the writ Court order passed in Kumdesh Kumar Sharma Versus State of U.P. (Writ Petition No. 4372(SS) of 2011) dated 3 January 2012. The Government directed all the Secretaries/Head of departments/Commissioners to strictly comply the Government Order dated 9 May 1997 and 1 August 1997 while dealing with complaints received against government servants. The direction was again reiterated vide Government Order dated 6 August 2018.

(e) With regard to lodging of F.I.R. it is provided in Government Order dated 19 July 2005, and reiterated by Government Order dated 24 May 2012, that disciplinary proceedings/departmental enquiry, in the first instance, should be initiated against the government servant and upon a prima facie finding being returned in the enquiry with regard to the culpability of the officer, F.I.R. thereafter should be directed to be lodged.

20. On bare perusal of the Government Orders, it is evident that the directions/instructions provided therein is to shield the government servant from frivolous and false complaints. But, at the same time, the government orders nowhere restricts the State authority from carrying out a discreet/confidential enquiry having regard to the nature of allegations made in the complaint, though, the whereabouts of the complainant, his identity or affidavit is not available. It is always open for the competent authority/Government to conduct discreet enquiry on any information received depending upon the nature of allegations. Even in a case where the complaint is not supported by an affidavit or material documents the Government is not prohibited to initiate a fact finding enquiry. The directions in the Government Orders, primarily, seeks to protect the government servants from the onslaught of frivolous complaints. But that would certainly not mean that the government servants can take shelter under the Government Orders to escape enquiry and prosecution for their corrupt acts. It is not open to the government servant to contend that the vigilance enquiry would vitiate for the reason of defect, either with the fact finding enquiry/departmental enquiry initiated on a fictitious complaint. The relevant consideration that would weigh with the Government to direct vigilance enquiry is that the fact finding enquiry reveals prima facie culpability of the government servant in acts of corruption. The mandate of the Government Orders is directory and not mandatory. It therefore follows that any defect in the fact finding enquiry would not vitiate the consequential vigilance enquiry or order of sanction for prosecution against the government officer, provided there is, prima facie, material to support the allegations against the government servant.

21. A provision in a statute is mandatory if the omission to follow it renders the proceeding to which it relates illegal and void, while a provision is directory if its observance is not necessary to the validity of the proceeding, and a statute may be mandatory in some respects and directory in others. The difference between mandatory and directory statutes is one of effect only. If the violation or omission is invalidating, the statute is mandatory; if not, it is directory.

22. The Supreme Court of India has been stressing time and again that the question whether statute is mandatory or directory is not capable of generalization and that in each case the court should try and get at the real intention of the legislature by analyzing the entire provisions of the enactment and the scheme underlying it.

23. In Chandrika Prasad Yadav v State of Bihar1, it was held that, the question as to whether a statute is directory or mandatory would not depend upon the phraseology used therein. The principle as regards the nature of the statute must be determined having regard to the purpose and object the statute seeks to achieve.

24. The principle, though applicable to a provision of a statute, applied to the Government Orders under consideration, it is evident that the intent and purpose of the Government Orders is to shield and protect the Government servants from false and vexatious complaints. The Government Orders, however, do not mandate that in the event of non compliance of the provisions therein would vitiate the fact finding enquiry, followed by the vigilance enquiry and prosecution, provided there is material to support the decision of the Government.

25. Further, the Government Order dated 19 July 2005, reiterated by Government Order dated 24 May 2012, provides that before lodging an F.I.R. against the government servant, a disciplinary proceedings/departmental enquiry should necessarily be conducted and in the enquiry culpability of the government servant is found only then F.I.R. should be lodged. In the facts in hand a departmental enquiry, headed by Additional Commissioner was constituted returning a prima facie finding with regard to the involvement and culpability of petitioner and other revenue authorities noted in the impugned order. In any case, as noted herein above, the tenor of Government Orders is directory, therefore, any defect in the fact finding enquiry or departmental enquiry would have no bearing on the vigilance enquiry/prosecution.

26. In Union of India v. Prakash P. Hinduja2, though the facts therein are not similar but an analogy can be drawn, the Supreme Court rejected the argument that since the directions issued by the Court in Vineet Narain and others v. Union of India3, was not followed by the CBI and Chief Vigilance Commissioner (CVC) before filing of the charge sheet, the consequential proceedings of prosecution would be a nullity. The Supreme Court declined to quash the proceedings merely on the defect of not complying the directions.

27. The High Court held that in terms of directions issued in Vineet Narain (supra), CVC is not entrusted with the responsibility of CBI function. CBI was to report to CVC about all cases taken up by it for investigation; progress of the investigation; cases in which charge-sheets are filed and their progress. CBI was bound to place the final results of its investigation along with all material collected before the CVC for the purposes of review. CBI had not placed before the CVC the results of its investigations and had by-passed it by filing a charge-sheet before the Special Judge. The High Court in view of the mandate in Vineet Narain (supra) not being complied by the CBI allowed the writ petition and quashed the cognizance taken by the Special Judge and all consequential proceedings. The Supreme Court reversed the decision of the High Court.

28. In H.N. Rishbud v. State of Delhi4, the Court was called upon to consider the effect of investigation having been done by a police officer below the rank of a Deputy Superintendent of Police contrary to the mandate of Section 5(4) of Prevention of Corruption Act, 1947. The Court held as follows:

".....Here we are not concerned with the effect of the breach of a mandatory provision regulating the competence or procedure of the Court as regards cognizance or trial. It is only with reference to such a breach that the question as to whether it constitutes an illegality vitiating the proceedings or a mere irregularity arises. A defect or illegality in investigation, however serious, has no direct bearing on the competence or the procedure relating to cognizance or trial."

29. Supreme Court referring Prabhu v. Emperor5 and Lumbhardar Zutshi v. The King6, held that if cognizance is in fact taken on a police report initiated by the breach of a mandatory provision relating to investigation, there can be no doubt that the result of the trial, which follows it cannot be set aside unless the illegality in the investigation can be shown to have brought about a miscarriage of justice and that an illegality committed in the course of investigation does not affect the competence and the jurisdiction of the Court for trial.

30. Further, Sub-clause (3) (b) of Section 19 of Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988, prohibits that no court shall stay the proceeding under this Act on the ground of any error, omission or irregularity in the sanction for prosecution. Section 19 (3)(b) is extracted:

"19. Previous sanction necessary for prosecution.--(1) No court shall take cognizance of an offence punishable under sections 7, 10, 11, 13 and 15 alleged to have been committed by a public servant, except with the previous sanction 1 [save as otherwise provided in the Lokpal and Lokayuktas Act, 2013 (1 of 2014)]--

(a) .....

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974),--

(a) .....

(b) no court shall stay the proceedings under this Act on the ground of any error, omission or irregularity in the sanction granted by the authority, unless it is satisfied that such error, omission or irregularity has resulted in a failure of justice;"

31. In the given facts, it is noted in the impugned order that on the directions of the writ Court the departmental enquiry came to be set up duly constituted by the Divisional Commissioner, headed by the Additional Commissioner, alongwith two other members. On a prima facie finding returned by the departmental enquiry committee petitioner along with other revenue officers were found involved in acts of corruption in the discharge of their functions with regard to purchase/exchange/release/abatement of parcel of land. The petitioner had misled the Divisional Commissioner, as well as, the State Government in purchase/exchange of land which included Waqf land and land belonging to a private trust.

32. The sale and exchange of waqf property is prohibited under Section 51 of the Waqf Act, 1995. Section 51 is extracted:

"51. Alienation of wakf property without sanction of Board to be void.- (I) Notwithstanding anything contained in the wakf deed, any gift, sale, exchange or mortgage of any immovable property which is wakf property, shall be void unless such gift, sale, exchange or mortgage is effected with the prior sanction of the Board: Provided that no mosque, dargah or khangah shall be gifted, sold, exchanged or mortgaged except in accordance with any law for the time being in force.

Provided....."

33. The impugned order further flags the incident of corruption committed by the petitioner being the Chairman or the competent authority under the Ceiling Act. Further, in ceiling proceedings, the land that had vested in the State upon possession and subsequently transferred to the Moradabad Development Authority was directed to be released/abated in favour of the land lord for extraneous consideration without notice to the Development Authority.

34. Submission of learned counsel for the petitioner that no pecuniary loss was caused to the State Government as the orders were subsequently reversed or recalled would have no bearing.

35. As per Section 7 of the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988, any public servant attempts to render service for gratification other than legal remuneration in respect of an official act or showing or forbearing to show favour or disfavour in exercise of his official function is punishable. Section 7 is extracted:

"7. Public servant taking gratification other than legal remuneration in respect of an official act.--Whoever, being, or expecting to be a public servant, accepts or obtains or agrees to accept or attempts to obtain from any person, for himself or for any other person, any gratification whatever, other than legal remuneration, as a motive or reward for doing or forbearing to do any official act or for showing or forbearing to show, in the exercise of his official functions, favour or disfavour to any person or for rendering or attempting to render any service or disservice to any person, with the Central Government or any State Government or Parliament or the Legislature of any State or with any local authority, corporation or Government company referred to in clause (c) of section 2, or with any public servant, whether named or otherwise, shall be punishable with imprisonment which shall be not less than 1 [three years] but which may extend to 2 [seven years] and shall also be liable to fine.

Explanations.--(a) .....

(b) "Gratification." The word "gratification" is not restricted to pecuniary gratifications or to gratifications estimable in money.

36. Further, Section 13 provides for criminal misconduct by a public servant. If a public servant habitually accepts or agrees to accept gratification is said to have committed the offence of criminal misconduct. Section 13 is extracted:

13. Criminal misconduct by a public servant.--(1) A public servant is said to commit the offence of criminal misconduct,--

(a) if he habitually accepts or obtains or agrees to accept or attempts to obtain from any person for himself or for any other person any gratification other than legal remuneration as a motive or reward such as is mentioned in section 7; or

37. The impugned order reflects that petitioner was habitual in accepting gratification other than legal remuneration. It is alleged that in purchase of land for construction of jail and thereafter in ceiling proceedings petitioner showed favour to benefit a party for extraneous consideration.

38. Further, under the Uttar Pradesh Vigilance Establishment Act, 1965, the State Government is competent to get the offences investigated by a special police force.

39. The Legislature enacted the Uttar Pradesh Vigilance Establishment Act, 1965, inter alia, to make provision for the constitution, superintendence and administration of the Uttar Pradesh Vigilance Establishment as a special police force.

40. Section 2 provides for constitution and powers of the Vigilance Establishment. Sub-section (1) reads thus:

"Constitution and powers of the Vigilance Establishment.- (1) Not withstanding anything in the police Act 1861, the State Government may constitute a special police force to be called the Uttar Pradesh Vigilance

Establishment for the investigation of offences notified under the section 3.

(2) ....."

41. Section 3 confers powers upon the Vigilance Establishment to investigate the offences notified in the Gazettee by the State Government. Section 3 reads thus:

"3. Offences to be investigated by the Vigilance Establishment.- The State Government may by notification in the Gazette, specify the offence or classes of offences which are to by investigated by the Uttar Pradesh Vigilance Establishment."

42. In exercise of powers conferred under section 3 of Vigilance Act 1965, the Governor of U.P. notified on 12 February 1965 the offences and class of offences which may be investigated by the U.P. Vigilance Establishment, which, inter alia, includes offences punishable under the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988.

43. Having due regard to the facts and circumstances of the case, the State-respondents are justified in directing vigilance enquiry and granting sanction for prosecution. The finding of culpability of the petitioner is writ large from the departmental enquiry. The mandate of the Government Orders have necessarily been complied. Any defect in the fact finding enquiry, rank of the officer or complaint being fictitious and not supported by an affidavit would have no bearing on the vigilance enquiry or the sanction for prosecution.

44. The writ petition being devoid of merit, accordingly, is dismissed.

45. No costs.

(2022)05ILR A1097
REVISIONAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 05.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SHEKHAR KUMAR YADAV, J.

Criminal Revision No. 2162 of 2016

Smt. Pooja Saxena & Anr. ...Revisionists
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

Counsel for the Revisionists:
Sri Dinesh Kumar Yadav, Sri Prashant Kumar Singh, Smt. Pooja Saxena (In Person), Rajni Ojha, Sri Ravindra Nath Chaubey

Counsel for the Opposite Parties:
G.A., Sri Piyush Dubey

A. Criminal Law -Code of Criminal Procedure,1973-Section 397/401 & 125-Quantum of maintenance- Applicant challenged the maintenance amount awarded by the Family Court-Wife was required to sacrifice her employment opportunity for nurturing family and she has a son who is heart patient-Merely because the wife is capable of earning is not sufficient ground to reduce the maintenance-Sustenance does not mean, and cannot be allowed to mean mere survival-Hence, the maintenance awarded by the family Court is enhanced to Rs. 60,000/- from Rs. 35000/-25% of the husband's net salary would be just and proper to be awarded as maintenance to the wife and son.

B. While dealing with the application of a destitute wife or hapless children or parents under this provision, the Court is dealing with the marginalized Sections of the society. The purpose is to achieve "social justice" which is the constitutional vision, enshrined in the Preamble of the Constitution of India. The maintenance amount awarded must be reasonable and realistic, and avoid either of the two extremes i.e. maintenance awarded to the wife should neither be so extravagant which becomes oppressive and unbearable for the Respondent, nor should it be so meagre that it drives the wife to penury. The sufficiency of quantum has to be adjudged so that the wife is able to maintain herself with reasonable comfort.

The revision is allowed. (E-6)

List of Cases cited:

1. Kulbhushan Vs Rajkumari & ors. (1970) 3 SCC 129

2. Rajnesh Vs Neha & ors.(2020) MANU/SC/0833/2020

3. Shailja & anr. Vs Khobbanna CRLA No. 125 of 20174. Sunita Kachwaha & ors. Vs Anil Kachwaha (2014) MANU/SC/0964/2014 : (2014)16 SCC 715

5. Manish Jain Vs Akanksha Jain, Civil Appeal No. 4615 of 2017

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shekhar Kumar Yadav, J.)

1. यह दाण्डिक निगरानी, निगरानीकर्तागण की ओर से वाद संख्या 598 वर्ष 2015, (श्रीमती पूजा सक्सेना प्रति विवेक माथुर), अन्तर्गत धारा 125 दं0 प्र0 सं0, थाना हरीपर्वत, जिला आगरा में विद्वान अपर जिला एवं सत्र न्यायाधीश/अपर प्रधान परिवार न्यायाधीश, फास्ट ट्रेक कोर्ट संख्या 1, आगरा द्वारा पारित निर्णय एवं आदेश दिनांक 16–05–2016 के विरूद्व योजित की गयी है जिसके द्वारा विद्वान अधीनस्थ न्यायालय ने निगरानीकर्ता का आवेदन पत्र अन्तर्गत धारा 125 दं0 प्र0 सं0 एक पक्षीय रूप से स्वीकार करते हुए विपक्षी विवेक माथुर को आदेशित किया कि वह प्रार्थना पत्र प्रस्तुतिकरण की तिथि से अपनी पत्नी श्रीमती पूजा सक्सेना को रूपया 20,000/– प्रतिमाह तथा याचिका की तिथि से ही अपने पुत्र को 15,000/–प्रतिमाह भरण पोषण हेतु प्रदान करें तथा यह भी आदेशित किया कि आदेश की तिथि तक देय समस्त धनराशि एक माह के अन्दर निगरानीकर्ता को प्रदान करें। वे यह धनराशि निगरानीकर्ता द्वारा बताये गये बैंक खाते में भी जमा कर सकते हैं। श्रीमती पूजा व उनके पुत्र शिखर के लिए प्रतिमाह की देय धनराशि माह के 15 तारीख तक प्रदान की जाए। निगरानीकर्ता यदि किसी अन्य वाद में भरण पोषण की राशि प्राप्त कर रही होगीं तो वह धनराशि समायोजित होगी। इस प्रकार निगरानीकर्ता द्वारा यह याचना की गयी है कि विद्वान अधीनस्थ न्यायालय द्वारा निर्धारित की गयी धनराशि को बढ़ाया जाए।

2. दिनांक 18–4–2022 को निगरानीकर्ता (स्वयं) एवं विपक्षी संख्या 2 के विद्वान अधिवक्ता श्री पीयूष दुबे की बहस सुनने के उपरान्त मामला निर्णय हेतु सुरक्षित कर लिया गया था। निर्णय लिखाते समय न्यायालय ने यह उचित समझा कि पक्षकार उच्च शिक्षित है तथा विपक्षी संख्या 2 विवेक माथुर एक उच्च सेवा में कार्यरत है और कुछ आपसी सूझ–बूझ की कमी के कारण वे अलग अलग रह रहें है और एक दूसरे के विरूद्व मुकदमें दाखिल कर रखें हैं। तत्पश्चात न्यायालय ने उचित समझा कि यदि पक्षकारों को बुलाकर सुलह करा दी जाए तो पक्षकारों का दम्पत्ति जीवन सुखमय हो सकता है। इसके बाद मामला दिनांक 25–4–2022 को सूची बद्व किया गया तथा पक्षकारों को न्यायालय में उपस्थित होने हेतु आदेशित किया गया। दिनांक 25–4–2022 को निगरानीकर्ता श्रीमती पूजा सक्सेना जो कि स्वयं मामले की पैरवी कर रही है, वह न्यायालय के समक्ष उपस्थित रही परन्तु विपक्षी संख्या 2 विवेक माथुर न्यायालय के समक्ष उपस्थित नहीं हुए इसलिए आज 5–5–2022 की तिथि पुनः सुनवाई एवं पक्षकारों की उपस्थिति हेतु नियत की गयी।

3. आज पुनः निगरानीकर्ता श्रीमती पूजा न्यायालय के समक्ष उपस्थित है किन्तु विपक्षी संख्या 2 विवेक माथुर उपस्थित नहीं है लेकिन उनके विद्वान अधिवक्ता श्री पीयूष दुबे उपस्थित है उनके द्वारा न्यायालय को यह बताया गया कि विपक्षी संख्या 2 विवेक माथुर सुलह नहीं करना चाहते हैं। इसी कारण से वह न्यायालय में उपस्थित नहीं है। अतएव न्यायालय गुण–दोष के आधार पर निर्णय पारित कर रही हैं।

4. आज दिनांक 5–5–2022 को निगरानीकर्ता श्रीमती पूजा सक्सेना एवं विपक्षी संख्या 2 विवेक माथुर के विद्वान अधिवक्ता श्री पीयूष दुबे को विस्तारपूर्वक सुना एवं पत्रावली का सम्यक परिशीलन किया।

5. निगरानीकर्ता का कथन है कि उसकी शादी दिनांक 23–1–2003 को हिन्दू रीति रिवाज से विपक्षी संख्या 2 विवेक माथुर के साथ सम्पन्न हुई थी। वर्ष 2015 तक उनका दम्पत्ति जीवन सुखमय व्यतीत हुआ तत्पश्चात आपसी मतभेद उत्पन्न होने के कारण उसने वाद संख्या 598 वर्ष 2015 विद्वान विचारण न्यायालय के समक्ष योजित किया जिसमें उसके द्वारा यह अभिकथित किया गया कि उक्त शादी में उसकी माँ ने 15 लाख रूपये खर्च किया था। यह भी कथन किया गया कि शादी के समय वह एस0 एन0 मेडिकल कालेज में एम0 डी0 की पढ़ाई कर रही थी जब कि उसके पति की 2004 में इंफोसिस, बैंगलोर में नौकरी कर रहे थे। यह भी कथन किया गया कि उसके पति व उसके परिवारीजन उसपर बदनामी का लांछन लगाकर उसकी नौकरी छुडा दी जिसपर जून, 2005 में वह विपक्षी संख्या 2 विवेक माथुर के पास बैंगलोर चली गयी। नवम्बर, 2005 में निगरानीकर्ता को भी अपोलो हास्पिटल बैंगलोर में नौकरी मिल गयी, लेकिन ससुराल वालों के दबाव में उसने अप्रैल, 2006 में नौकरी छोड दी। उसके बाद उसका चयन यूनाईटेड नेशन, दिल्ली में हो गया लेकिन वह नौकरी भी उसको छोडनी पडी जिसके कारण से वह जुलाई, 2006 से बेरोजगार है। निगरानीकर्ता द्वारा यह भी कथन किया गया कि उसके पति विपक्षी संख्या 2 ने यह कहा कि वह नौकरी के साथ–साथ उच्च शिक्षा प्राप्त करना चाहता इसलिए निगरानीकर्ता अपनी नौकरी छोड दें और घर का ख्याल रखे। इस प्रकार उसने विपक्षी संख्या 2 की बात मानकर लगभग आठ सालों से घर संभाल रही है और विपक्षी संख्या 2 एच0 सी0 एल0 कम्पनी, बैंगलोर में डायरेक्टर के पद पर कार्यरत है। वर्ष 2008 में पक्षकारों के संसर्ग से एक सन्तान उत्पन्न हुई जिसपर उसके ससुराल वालों ने निगरानीकर्ता के विरूद्व यह आरोप लगाया कि उक्त संतान विपक्षी संख्या 2 की नहीं है तब उसने डी0 एन0 ए0 टेस्ट की बात कही तो विपक्षी संख्या 2 तैयार नहीं हुए और मना कर दिया तत्पश्चात निगरानीकर्ता को विपक्षी संख्या 2 व उसके परिवारीजन द्वारा प्रताडित करना प्रारम्भ कर दिया गया और दिनांक 26–3–2014 को विपक्षी संख्या 2 ने निगरानीकर्ता के विरूद्व तलाक का वाद योजित कर दिया जिसमें निगरानीकर्ता ने तलाक देने से मना कर दिया। इसी दौरान विपक्षी संख्या 2 ने अपने मकान को अपनी बहन शालिनी हांडू को गिफट कर दिया। इस प्रकार विपक्षी संख्या 2 व उसके परिवारीजन की प्रताडना के कारण निगरानीकर्ता दिनांक 16–2–2015 से अपनी माँ के पास रह रही है। निगरानीकर्ता द्वारा यह भी कथन किया गया कि विपक्षी संख्या 2 की आय प्रतिमाह पांच लाख रूपये के ऊपर की है। इसके अलावा अन्य स्रोतों से भी उसकी एक लाख रूपये प्रतिमाह की आमदनी है। यह भी कथन किया गया कि विपक्षी संख्या 2 ने एक फलैट एक करोड सत्ताईस लाख रूपये का क्रय कर रखा है इसके अलावा बैंगलोर में उसके चार प्लाट है जिनकी कीमत दो करोड रूपये है और उसके पास लग्जरी गाडी भी है। यह भी कथन किया गया कि निगरानीकर्ता के पुत्र शिखर की आयु 12 वर्ष है और उसके दिल में छेद है जिसका सम्पूर्ण खर्चा निगरानीकर्ता पर निर्भर है वह इसी कारण से नौकरी भी नहीं कर सकती है। नोटिस की तामीला के बावजूद विपक्षी संख्या 2 विद्वान विचारण न्यायालय के समक्ष उपस्थित नहीं हुआ जब कि विपक्षी संख्या 2 पर नोटिस की तामीला पर्याप्त मानी गयी है। विद्वान विचारण न्यायालय ने आदेश दिनांक 16–5–2016 के द्वारा निगरानीकर्ता श्रीमती पूजा सक्सेना को विपक्षी संख्या 2 विवेक माथुर से बीस हजार रूपये प्रतिमाह तथा याचिका की तिथि से उसके पुत्र को पन्द्रह हजार रूपये प्रतिमाह भरण पोषण देने हेतु आदेशित किया है। निगरानीकर्ता द्वारा यह भी कथन किया गया कि बकाया के सम्बंध में उसे चार लाख अटठावन हजार छः सौ रूपये का भुगतान नहीं किया गया जिसके सम्बंध में उसने वसूली हेतु एक वाद सक्षम न्यायालय के समक्ष प्रस्तुत कर रखा है जो विचाराधीन है। निगरानीकर्ता द्वारा यह भी कथन किया गया कि विपक्षी संख्या 2 व उसके परिवारीजन के विरूद्व उसने घरेलू हिंसा अधिनियम के अन्तर्गत एक वाद योजित किया था जिसमें आदेश दिनांक 17–7–2018 के द्वारा पच्चीस हजार रूपया प्रतिमाह अंतरिम भरण पोषण हेतु आदेशित किया गया था उक्त मामला अंतिम निस्तारण हेतु लम्बित है। यह भी कथन किया गया कि उक्त आदेश दिनांक 17–7–2018 को पारित किया गया है परन्तु आज तक उसका भी कोई भुगतान निगरानीकर्ता को नहीं किया गया जब कि वसूली का

आदेश पारित किया जा चुका है। निगरानीकर्ता द्वारा यह भी कथन किया गया कि विपक्षी संख्या 2 ने उसके विरूद्व जो तलाक का वाद योजित किया था वह दिसम्बर, 2017 में खारिज हो चुका है जिसके विरूद्व विपक्षी संख्या 2 ने उच्च न्यायालय, राजस्थान, जोधपुर पीठ के समक्ष अपील योजित की है जो विचाराधीन है। निगरानीकर्ता द्वारा यह भी कथन किया गया कि जिस समय उसे प्रताडित करने की कार्यवाही की गयी उस समय उसका पति विपक्षी संख्या 2 एच0 सी0 एल0 कम्पनी, बैंगलोर में डायरेक्टर के पद पर कार्यरत था और उस समय वह लगभग पांच लाख रूपये प्रतिमाह वेतन प्राप्त करता था तथा उनका रहन–सहन भी उच्च स्तर का था और उनका पुत्र उस समय 6 वर्ष का था जो बैंगलोर में यूरोकिड में प

6. उक्त के विपरीत विपक्षी संख्या 2 के विद्वान अधिवक्ता श्री पीयूष दुबे द्वारा यह तर्क रखा गया कि निगरानीकर्ता एक उच्च शिक्षित महिला है और एम0 डी0 पास है। वह कहीं भी नौकरी करके अपना व अपने पुत्र का पालन पोषण करने में सामर्थ है। ऐसी दशा में विद्वान विचारण न्यायालय द्वारा जो 35,000/–रूपया उसे व उसके पुत्र को देने हेतु निर्देशित किया गया है वह उचित है और उसे बढाये जाने का कोई औचित्य नहीं है। उनके द्वारा माननीय सर्वोच्च न्यायालय के निर्णय 1970 (3) एस0 सी0 सी0 129 (कुलभ ूषण प्रति राजकुमारी एव ं अन्य) पर विश्वास करते हुए कहा गया कि भरण पोषण की राशि पति के आय का 25 प्रतिशत से अधिक नहीं होना चाहिए।

7. उभय पक्षों के मध्य यह तथ्य स्वीकार्य है कि विपक्षी संख्या 2 जो निगरनीकर्ता का पति है वह एच0 सी0 एल0 कम्पनी, बैंगलोर में डायरेक्टर के पद पर कार्यरत है और वेतन पर्ची के आधार पर उसका मासिक वेतन 2,24,000/–रूपया है तथा उसके पास अच्छे और पॉश इलाके में दो फलैट है जिसमें से एक को उसने किराये पर उठा रखा है जिससे उसे 35,000/–रूपया प्रतिमाह किराया मिलता है। निगरानीकर्ता पूजा सक्सेना जो कि एक उच्च शिक्षित महिला है और जिसने चिकित्सीय क्षेत्र में एम0 डी0 कर रखी है उसकी शादी दिनांक 23–1–2003 को विपक्षी संख 2 के साथ सम्पन्न हुई थी तथा उसने अपोलो हास्पिटल व यूनाइटेड नेशन दिल्ली में नौकरी की थी जिसे उसने अपने ससुरालवालों के दबाव में वर्ष 2006 में छोड दिया और तब से वह बेरोजगार है। वर्ष 2008 में एक संतान उत्पन्न हुई जिसके दिल में छेद है और उसका इलाज चल रहा है। ससुरालवालों ने निगरानीकर्ता पर बदनामी का लांछन लगाया था और उसे प्रताडित करने लगे थे। साथ ही उसके विरूद्व वर्ष 2014 में उसके पति ने तलाक का मुकदमा दाखिल किया था जो विपक्षी संख्या 2 के विरूद्व निर्णीत हुआ। ससुराल के प्रताडना के कारण वह अपने मायके में आकर रहने लगी और उसके बाद उसने भरण पोषण का वाद विपक्षी संख्या 2 के विरूद्व योजित किया जिसमें विद्वान विचारण न्यायालय द्वारा उसे 25,000/–रूपया तथा उसके पुत्र को 15,000/–रूपया प्रतिमाह भरण पोषण के रूप में देने का आदेश पारित किया गया है जो अत्यंत अल्प है जिससे वह न अपना और न ही अपने पुत्र का पालन पोषण, शिक्षा,दव आदि कर पा रही है और न ही उस रहन सहन में रह पा रही है। जिस रहन सहन में वह अपने ससुराल में रह रही थी।

8. पत्नी द्वारा मांगा गया गुजारा भत्ता कोई भीख नही है बल्कि उसका मौलिक अधिकार है जिसे हर हालत में पूरा करना पति का कत्वर्य है। भरण पोषण हर पत्नी, संतान एवं माता पिता को यह अधिकार देता है कि यदि वे पूर्णतया पुत्र पर आधारित है और वह स्वस्थ है तो पति अथवा पुत्र की जिम्मेदारी है कि वह अपनी पत्नी अपने पुत्र एवं माता पिता का पालन पोषण करे और यदि वह ऐसा नहीं करता है तो हर पत्नी, पुत्र व माता पिता को कानूनी अधिकार प्राप्त है कि पति या पुत्र से पालन पोषण का दावा कर सकतें है, जिसें हर हालत में पति अथवा पुत्र को पूरा करना ही होता है। गुजारा भत्ता पति के या पुत्र के रहन सहन के अनुरूप ही होना चाहिए। ऐसा बिल्कुल प्रतीत न हो कि पति अधिक आय प्राप्त करके अलीशान मकान में रहते हुए अपने रहन सहन को अच्छी तरह से रखे और जो गुजारा भत्ता पति अपनी पत्नी को दे रहा है, उससे पत्नी अपना रहन सहन पति के अनुरूप न कर सके। गुजारा भत्ता का आशय इतना है कि पत्नी जिस रहन सहन के साथ पूर्व में पति के साथ रह रही थी, वही सुविधा और रहन सहन उसे पति से अलग होने पर भी मिलना चाहिए। न्यायालय को पत्नी और उसके पुत्रों का पालन पोषण निर्धारित करते समय यह ध्यान में रखना चाहिए कि उसके द्वारा निर्धारित भरण पोषण, पति की आय जिसमें उस पर आश्रित माता पिता, भाई बहन आदि शामिल

है। साथ ही बीमार पत्नी और उसके बीमार पुत्र व शिक्षा को ध्यान में रखते हुए निर्धारित करना चाहिए कि उससे पति पर अतिरिक्त बोझ न पडे।

Rajnesh vs. Neha and Ors. (04.11.2020 - SC) : MANU/SC/ 0833/2020

III-Criteria for determining quantum of maintenance :

The factors which would weigh with the Court inter alia are the status of the parties; reasonable needs of the wife and dependant children; whether the Applicant is educated and professionally qualified; whether the Applicant has any independent source of income; whether the income is sufficient to enable her to maintain the same standard of living as she was accustomed to in her matrimonial home; whether the Applicant was employed prior to her marriage; whether she was working during the subsistence of the marriage; whether the wife was required to sacrifice her employment opportunities for nurturing the family, child rearing, and looking after adult members of the family; reasonable costs of litigation for a non-working wife.

The maintenance amount awarded must be reasonable and realistic, and avoid either of the two extremes i.e. maintenance awarded to the wife should neither be so extravagant which becomes oppressive and unbearable for the Respondent, nor should it be so meagre that it drives the wife to penury. The sufficiency of the quantum has to be adjudged so that the wife is able to maintain herself with reasonable comfort.

62. The Courts have held that if the wife is earning, it cannot operate as a bar from being awarded maintenance by the husband. The Courts have provided guidance on this issue in the following judgments.

63. In Shailja and Anr. v. Khobbanna,12 this Court held that merely because the wife is capable of earning, it would not be a sufficient ground to reduce the maintenance awarded by the Family Court. The Court has to determine whether the income of the wife is sufficient to enable her to maintain herself, in accordance with the lifestyle of her husband in the matrimonial home.10 Sustenance does not mean, and cannot be allowed to mean mere survival.13

64. In Sunita Kachwaha and Ors. v. Anil Kachwaha MANU/SC/0964/2014 : (2014) 16 SCC 715 the wife had a postgraduate degree, and was employed as a teacher in Jabalpur. The husband raised a contention that since the wife had sufficient income, she would not require financial assistance from the husband. The Supreme Court repelled this contention, and held that merely because the wife was earning some income, it could not be a ground to reject her claim for maintenance.

92. In Badshah v. Urmila Badsha Godse MANU/SC/1084/ 2013: (2014) 1 SCC 188, the Supreme Court was considering the interpretation of Section 125 Code of Criminal Procedure. The Court held:

13.3. ...purposive interpretation needs to be given to the provisions of Section 125 Code of Criminal Procedure While dealing with the application of a destitute wife or hapless children or parents under this provision, the Court is dealing with the marginalised Sections of the society. The purpose is to achieve "social justice" which is the constitutional vision, enshrined in the Preamble of the Constitution of India. The Preamble to the Constitution of India clearly signals that we have chosen the democratic path under the Rule of law to achieve the goal of securing for all its citizens, justice, liberty, equality and fraternity. It specifically highlights achieving their social justice. Therefore, it becomes the bounden duty of the courts to advance the cause of the social justice. While giving interpretation to a particular provision, the court is supposed to bridge the gap between the law and society.

9. 1970 (3) एस0 सी0 सी0 129 (कुलभूषण प्रति राजकुमारी एवं अन्य) में माननीय सर्वोच्च न्यायालय द्वारा यह निर्धारित किया गया है कि भरण पोषण रहन सहन को ध्यान में रखकर को दे दिया है उस पर कोई आपत्ति नहीं है और यह कि निगरानीकर्ता एक उच्च शिक्षा महिला है जो एम0 डी0 है और किडनी की मरीज है तथा उसका पुत्र जो 12 वर्ष का है एवं दिल का मरीज है और अच्छे विद्यालय से शिक्षा प्राप्त कर रहा है। साथ ही पति के अनुरूप रहन सहन को ध्यान में रखा जाए तो निगरानीकर्ता और उसका पुत्र माननीय सर्वोच्च न्यायालय के उक्त निर्णय के आधार पर 25 प्रतिशत भरण पोषण प्राप्त करने के अधिकारी है। निगरानीकर्ता द्वारा अपने तर्क के समर्थन में माननीय सर्वोच्च न्यायालय द्वारा सिविल अपील संख्या 4615 वर्ष 2017, मनीष जैन प्रति अंकाक्षा जैन, दाण्डिक अपील संख्या 125 वर्ष 2017, शैलजा एवं अन्य प्रति खूबबाना एवं दाण्डिक अपील संख्या 730 वर्ष 2020, रजनीश प्रति नेहा एवं अन्य में दी गयी विधि व्यवस्थाये भी प्रस्तुत की गयी है।

11. निगरानीकर्ता तथा उसके पुत्र की परिस्थितियां, रहन सहन, उनकी बीमारी का खर्च, पुत्र की प्परिस्थितियां, रहन सहन, उनकी बीमारी का खर्च, पुत्र की पढाई, उसका इलाज, भरण पोषण आदि को ध्यान में रखते हुए विद्वान विचारण न्यायालय द्वारा वाद संख्या 598 वर्ष 2015 में निर्धारित की गयी भरण पोषण की धनराशि को बढाना उचित प्रतीत होता है एवं विपक्षी संख्या 2 को आदेशित किया जाता है कि वह निगरानीकर्ता संख्या 1 को बीस हजार रूपया के स्थान पर पैंतीस हजार रूपया प्रतिमाह एवं निगरानीकर्ता संख्या 2 को पन्द्रह हजार रूपया के स्थान पर पच्चीस हजार रूपया प्रतिमाह कुल साठ हजार रूपया प्रतिमाह भुगतान करेगा। बढी हुई धनराशि का भुगतान आज की तारीख से किया जायेगा

12. वर्तमान निगरानी तदनुसार अ ंतिम रूप स` निस्तारित की जाती है।

निर्धारित होना चाहिए। यह भी कहा है कि वह पति के आय का 25 प्रतिशत होना चाहिए।

10. वर्तमान मामले में भी विपक्षी संख्या 2 की प्रतिमाह वेतन दो लाख चौबीस हजार रूपया है और जो फलैट से किराया प्राप्त कर रहा है वह भी पच्चीस हजार रूपया से ऊपर है। उक्त आधार पर कुल दो लाख पचास हजार रूपया का 25 प्रतिशत साठ हजार रूपया बनता है। एक फलैट उसने बहन

(2022)05ILR A1102
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED LUCKNOW 05.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DEVENDRA KUMAR UPADHYAYA, J.
THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Special Appeal Defective No. 120 of 2021

State Of U.P. & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Anurag Gupta & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants
Sri Atul Kumar Yadav

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Ashwani Kumar, Sri Rajendra Singh Kushwaha

A. Service Law - The Court observed that the respondent has given incorrect information regarding possessing eligibility qualification in the Writ Petition. As the petitioner did not possess the eligibility qualification on the date of his appointment to the post of Assistant Teacher, his appointment is illegal. The manager himself stated on oath before the State authorities that the petitioner was not included amongst the teachers working as per the standard. Therefore, it was held that the no direction could be issued to include the petitioner's name in the list of teachers of the college for bringing it on Grant-in-aid list and to pay his salary from the State Exchequer. (Para 36)

Special Appeal Allowed. (E-10)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

Order On C. M. Application No. 44248 of 2021

1. Heard Shri Atul Kumar Yadav, learned Standing Counsel for the appellants and Shri Ashwani Kumar, learned counsel for the respondents and perused the record.

2. This application has been filed by the State Appellant seeking Condonation of delay of 54 days in filing the Special Appeal. Having gone through the affidavit filed in support of the Application, we find that the cause shown for the delay in filing the Special Appeal is sufficient and the delay in filing the Appeal deserves to be condoned.

3. Accordingly, the application for condonation of delay is allowed and the delay in filing the Special Appeal is condoned.

Order On Special Appeal

1. Heard Shri Atul Kumar Yadav, learned Standing Counsel for the appellants and Shri Ashwani Kumar, learned counsel for the respondents and perused the record.

2. The instant Intra Court Appeal has been filed by the State authorities against the judgment and order dated 25-11-2020 passed by a learned Single Judge of this Court allowing Writ Petition No. 31660 (S/S) of 2019, which was filed by the respondent no. 1 challenging on order dated 06-09-2019 passed by the District Inspector of Schools, Lakhimpur Kheri (who shall hereinafter be referred to as "the D.I.O.S."), rejecting the petitioner's representation to include his name in the list of teachers of the college for taking it on State Government's Grant-in-aid and consequently pay him salary from the State exchequer.

3. Briefly stated, the facts of the case are that the respondent no. 1 had filed the Writ Petition pleading that he holds the qualifications of Bachelor of Arts alongwith Intermediate Grade Drawing Examination of Bombay and being fully eligible for being appointed on the post of Assistant Teacher (Art), he had applied against a post of Assistant Teacher (Art) advertised by Sri. Hanumant Intermediate College, Lakhimpur-Kheri (the respondent no. 2 in the Appeal, which shall hereinafter be referred to as "the college'). Vide order dated 10-10-1999, the Manager of the college had appointed the petitioner on the aforesaid post on a temporary basis and the petitioner joined his duties on 11-10-1999. The petitioner has alleged that the Manager of the college became annoyed with him and did not allow him to perform his duties for the period from 22-11-2000 till 14-07-2001 and being perturbed, humiliated and victimized, coupled with mental tension and depression, the petitioner fell seriously ill and on 22-11-2000 itself, he gave an application for grant of leave to the Principal of the college. Although the petitioner has alleged that he was required to furnish a compromise that he will not claim salary for the aforesaid period, the document alleged to be a compromise is a letter dated 14-07-2001 written by the petitioner to the D.I.O.S. stating that he had not performed teaching duties in the college between the period 22-11-2000 to 14-07-2001 and, therefore, he will not claim the salary and allowances etc. for the aforesaid period. A copy of this letter was endorsed to the Manager of the college also. Thereafter the petitioner was allowed to perform his duties with effect from 21-07-2001.

4. The petitioner has stated that the process for taking the college on the Grant-in-aid list was started by the college in the year 1998 and at that time, a list of the staff working in the college was sent to the State Government. As the petitioner was not working at that time, his name was not there in the list. As per the petitioner, in August 2000 the manager of the college had sent another list of members of staff to the D.I.O.S., in which the petitioner's name was there and also that on 16-01-2001, the D.I.O.S. sought some information from the college and the Manager was directed to send the names of the staff members who were working in the college at that time and in the list sent by the Manager in response to the said letter also, the petitioners name was included. However, the petitioner's name was not included in the list of teachers sent by the Manager of the college to the D.I.O.S. for taking the college on Grant-in-aid list.

5. The petitioner has further stated that by means of an order dated 23-02-2005 issued by the Government, the college was taken on the Grant-in-aid list, without including the petitioner's name as a teacher of the college and the post of Principal and one post of Assistant Teacher were shown to be vacant and that on 05-04-2005, the Manager of the college gave an application to the Director, Education (Secondary) stating that no post is vacant in the college and on the post of Principal Sri. Krishna Kant Verma was working and the petitioner was working on the post of Assistant Teacher with effect from 10-10-1999, i.e. since before 01-01-2004, the date on which the college was taken on Grant-in-aid list.

6. On 06-09-2019 the D.I.O.S. passed an order disposing off the petitioner's representation in furtherance of an order dated 31-07-2019 passed by this Court in Writ Petition No. 3386 (S/S) of 2005. The order dated 06-09-2019 states the college was taken on Grant-in-aid list by means of an order dated 23-02-2005, with effect from 01-01-2004. The order dated 06-09-2019 further mentions that initially, the college had applied in the year 1998 for taking it on Grant-in-aid list, sending the particulars of 01 Principal, 07 teachers, 01 clerk and 03 non-teaching staff; that at that time, the petitioner was not working in the college and, therefore, his name could not be included in the list; that the petitioner was appointed by the management on 10-10-1999 and he worked in the college from the period 11-10-1999 to 21-11-2000; that at that time the college was unaided and the petitioner left on 21-11-2000 without any information and, therefore, his name was again not there in the list of Principal/teachers/non-teaching staff (total 18 persons) submitted by the college in the year 2001 in response to information sought by the department. The aforesaid further mentions that on 14-07-2001, the petitioner wrote a letter to the D.I.O.S. stating that he had not performed teaching duties in the college between the period 22-11-2000 to 14-07-2001 and, therefore, he will not claim the salary and allowances etc. for the aforesaid period. It also states that thereafter the petitioner was allowed to perform his duties with effect from 21-07-2001, and that as per the Government's directions, the Director of Secondary Education provided the details of the posts as per the information provided by the college in the year 2000-2001, to the Government through his letter dated 25-09-2004; that on 04-10-2004, the management had submitted an undertaking and in paragraph 3 thereof, it was categorically stated that the petitioner and one Ram Naresh have been appointed on the post of Assistant Teachers in Art and Science respectively and in case the aforesaid two persons were not taken on Grant-in-aid list, the college/management will bear their expenses from its own sources. The D.I.O.S. in this order dated 06-09-2019 recites that the list of staff members submitted by the college for the first time alongwith the application and the list submitted in October 2001 was valid and the list submitted afterwards including the petitioner's name was not valid.

7. The order dated 06-09-2019 further states that the college was taken on Grant-in-aid list by means of a Government Order dated 23-02-2005, with effect from 01-01-2004, without including the petitioner as a teacher of the college, as his name was not there in the original list; that on 05-04-2005, the Manager of the college wrote a letter to the Director of Education (Secondary) stating that no post was vacant in the college and requesting that the names of Sri. Krishna Kant Verma and the petitioner, who were not working at the time of the application, be included by making amendment in the original list. The order dated 06-09-2019 also discloses that thereafter, the petitioner filed Writ Petition No. 3386 (S/S) of 2005 and in furtherance of the order dated 31-07-2019 passed in the Writ Petition he submitted a representation on 07-08-2019 and that after submitting the representation, the petitioner submitted copies of his experience certificate, character certificate, letter issued by the Board appointing him for evaluation of answer-sheets of Board examinations along with a letter dated 17-08-2019, but these could not justify his claim for being included in the list of staff members of the college, as the petitioner was not working in the college at the time when the application for taking the college on the Grant-in-aid list was submitted. The order thus provided that in case the management is taking work from the petitioner, it has to pay his salary from its own resources. Accordingly, the D.I.O.S. rejected the petitioner's representation.

8. The D.I.O.S. filed a counter affidavit in the Writ Petition before the learned Single Judge stating that the college is a recognized aided college up to High School level and is recognized unaided at the Intermediate level. It was also averred in the counter affidavit that by means of a letter dated 19-12-1985, the Madhyamik Shiksha Parishad had granted recognition to the college for High School Examination with effect from the year 1987 and in the year 1998, the management of the college applied for taking the college on grant-in-aid, indicating in the Management Return list, names of the Principal, 07 teachers, 01 clerk and 03 class IV employees, and that the petitioner's name was not there in the said list. It was also stated in the counter affidavit that the petitioner was appointed on 10-10-1999 and he joined on 11-10-1999, that he stopped attending to his duties with effect from 21-11-2020 without any information or any sanctioned leave, that thereafter, in the Management Return submitted in the year 2000-2001 furnished in response to information sought in furtherance of the application submitted in the year 1998 for bringing the college on Grant-in-aid also, the petitioner's name did not find place. Respondents in the Writ Petition also responded by stating that by means of a letter dated 25-09-2004, the Director Secondary Education forwarded the Management Return list to the State Government alongwith the details as per the information provided by the college in the year 2000-2001 and the State Government returned the matter for removal of certain short-comings and it required the recommendations alongwith the undertaking. A copy of the undertaking furnished by the Manager of the college on affidavit dated 04-10-2003 was annexed alongwith the counter affidavit and it stated that the following persons were working in the college as per the standard: -

Sl. No.	Name	Post	Date since working
1.	Vacant	Principal	---
2.	Sri. Ram Adhar Pandey	Asstt. Teacher	01-07-1974
3.	Sri. Krishna Kant Verma	Asstt. Teacher	01-07-1974
4.	Sri. Suresh Chandra Verma	Asstt. Teacher	12-09-1978
5.	Sri. Radhey Shyam Rathore	Asstt. Teacher	17-07-1981
6.	Sri. Rama Kant Tiwari	Asstt. Teacher	31-07-1994
7.	Sri. Maheep Singh	Asstt. Teacher	04-01-1999
8.	Sri. Rajeev Kumar	Asstt. Teacher	10-10-1999
9.	Sri. Vinod Kumar Mishra	Clerk	01-08-1994
10.	Sri. Hem Chandra	Peon	07-07-1985
11.	Sri. Ramadhar	Peon	01-07-1988
12.	Sri. Shaukeen	Peon	01-06-1994
13.	Sri. Ved Ram	Peon	30-10-1997
14.	Sri. Rajneesh Kumar	Peon	10-10-1999

9. The aforesaid undertaking given by the manager of the college on affidavit further stated that Sri. Ramadhar Pandey mentioned at serial no. 2 of the list has retired on 30-06-2003 on attaining the age of superannuation and that the persons mentioned in the aforesaid list have to be taken on the Grant-in-aid list. It further recites that two posts had fallen vacant due to the death of Sri. Tej Ram Verma, the Principal and retirement of Sri. Ramadhar Pandey and in order to run the teaching work properly, the petitioner Anurag Gupta had been appointed as Assistant Teacher (Art) and Sri. Ram Naresh had been appointed as Assistant Teacher (Science). The undertaking also mentions that in case the aforesaid two teachers were not taken on Grant-in-aid list, the college will bear the expenses of their salary from its own resources.

10. It was stated in the Counter Affidavit that since the petitioner's name was not there in the approved list, therefore, his representation for including his name in the list was rejected by means of the order dated 06-09-2019.

11. The learned Single Judge allowed the Writ Petition by means of the judgment dated 24-11-2020 holding that the petitioner's appointment since 1999 is not disputed. Learned Single Judge further records in the judgment under appeal that the college had been brought on Grant-in-aid list after submission of the documents in the year 2004, in which the petitioner's name was included; that the fact of the petitioner having worked or not during the period 02-11-2000 to 20-11-2001 has no bearing on the merit of the case; that the petitioner's name finds place in the affidavit of the manager filed in the year 2004 - which is the basis upon which the college has been included in the grant-in-aid list, as he had been appointed against a sanctioned post which had fallen vacant on the demise of the Principal and retirement of a teacher. The learned Single Judge held that the reason assigned by the D.I.O.S. for excluding the petitioner's name was unsustainable. Learned Single Judge has expressed his opinion that the D.I.O.S. could have dropped the name of a teacher only if he found that the teacher had not been duly and legally appointed in the year 2004. The learned Single Judge further held that the undertaking given by the manager in the affidavit dated 04-10-2004 would not take away the petitioner's right to get salary from the State exchequer.

12. Feeling aggrieved against the aforesaid judgment and order dated 25-11-2020 passed by the learned Single Judge, the State authorities have filed the instant Intra-Court Appeal under Chapter VIII, Rule 5 of the Allahabad High Court Rules mainly on the Ground that only those employees are entitled to receive salary from the State Exchequer, whose names were mentioned in the Government Order dated 23-02-2005 whereby the college was brought on Grant-in-aid list; that the petitioner's name was not there and he has not assailed the validity of the aforesaid Government Order dated 23-02-2005 and that the D.I.O.S. has no authority to make payment of salary to any employee whose name is not there in the Grant-in-aid list.

13. On the direction of the Court, the learned Standing Counsel has produced the original record of the office of the District Inspector of Schools, Lakhimpur Kheri as also of the State Government and we have perused the same.

14. We find that on 11-02-1998, a Government Order was issued in supersession of the earlier Government Orders on the subject, for taking recognized non-Government Higher Secondary Schools on the Grant-in-aid list on the terms and conditions mentioned in the Government Order. One of the conditions mentioned in the Government Order is that the college should give an application on the format given in the Government Order. The format of the application requires the details of the staff working in the college to be furnished. Accordingly, the college submitted an application on 19-09-1998 and the a list of teachers and non-teaching staff of the college was provided alongwith the application, and the petitioner's name was not there in this list of teachers and the members of non-teaching staff of the college.

15. After initiation of the process for taking the college on the Grant-in-aid list, on 12-09-1999 the college issued an advertisement inviting applications for appointment on three posts of Assistant Teachers - one each in Art, Science and P.T. On 10-10-1999, the manager appointed the petitioner in furtherance of the aforesaid advertisement and the petitioner joined on 11-10-1999.

16. On 28-02-1990, a Government Order was issued whereby it was provided that the teachers to be appointed in L.T. / Lecturer Grade for the subjects Art, P.T., Language, Home Science, Craft, Music, Triple languages, Painting, Typing and Short-hand must possess the eligibility qualification in the subject concerned and Graduate/Post Graduate degree respectively. Although the petitioner is said to have been appointed on 10-10-1999, the record reveals that he acquired the eligibility qualification of Intermediate with Technical Art (Drawing Technical) from U. P. Intermediate Education Board as a private candidate on 12-07-2000, from the college in which he claims to be have been teaching since 11-10-1999. Strangely, although the petitioner's marks-sheet of Intermediate bears the date 12-07-2000, a certificate of having passed Intermediate in drawing has been issued to him on 24-06-2000, i.e., prior to issuance of the marks sheet. The petitioner passed B.A. Part III examination from Chhatrapati Shahu Ji Maharaj University, Kanpur on 23-07-2000 as a private candidate.

17. The record further reveals that on 27-07-2000, the D.I.O.S. wrote a letter to the Manager of the college, asking him to submit a proposal to bring the college on Grant-in-aid list. In response to the aforesaid letter, the Manager of the college sent a letter dated 07-08-2000, furnishing the requisite information and this time, the following list of 18 persons was sent, which too did not contain the name of the petitioner: -

Sl. No.	Name	Post	Date since working
1.	Tej Ram Verma	Principal	20.09.1980
2.	Sri. Ram Adhar Pandey	Asstt. Teacher	01-07-1974
3.	Sri. Krishna Kant Verma	Asstt. Teacher	01-07-1974
4.	Sri. Suresh Chandra Verma	Asstt. Teacher	12-09-1978
5.	Sri. Radhey Shyam Rathore	Asstt. Teacher	17-07-1981
6.	Sri. Rama Kant Tiwari	Asstt. Teacher	31-07-1994
7.	Sri. Maheep Singh	Asstt. Teacher	04-01-1999
8.	Sri. Rajeev Kumar	Asstt. Teacher	10-10-1999
9.	Sri. Vinod Kumar Mishra	Clerk	01-08-1994
10.	Sri. Hem Chandra	Peon	07-07-1985
11.	Sri. Ramadhar	Peon	01-07-1988
12.	Sri. Shaukeen	Peon	01-06-1994
13.	Sri. Ved Ram	Peon	30-10-1997
14.	Sri.	Peon	10-10-

	Rajneesh Kumar		1999
15.	Sri Rajesh Kumar	Peon	03-10-1999
16.	Sri Janardan Singh	Peon	03-10-1999
17.	Sri Arvind Kumar	Peon	03-10-1999
18.	Sri Sandeep Kumar Verma	Peon	03-10-1999

18. On 21-12-2000, the Assistant Accounts Officer of the office of the D.I.O.S. wrote a letter to the D.I.O.S. stating that the number of member of staff in the college in question exceeds the standard strength and an enquiry in this regard needs to be conducted as per the Government Order.

19. On 11-01-2001, the D.I.O.S. sent a letter to the Regional Joint Director of Education, forwarding the papers of three colleges, including the college in question, for taking them on Grant-in-aid list and the papers of the college in question contained an undated list of staff members signed by the Principal and the Manager of the college, which was the same list of 18 persons, as was provided with the earlier letter dated 07-08-2000 and which did not contain the petitioner's name.

20. On 16-01-2001, the D.I.O.S. wrote another letter to the manager of the college requesting him to provide full particulars of the teachers and employees, the year of recognition, names of the teachers and the employees, date of joining, date of grant of approval and the name and designation of the authority who had granted the approval. Again, the college provided the same list of 18 persons under the joint signatures of the Principal and the Manager of the college, which did not contain the petitioner's name. On 24-04-2001, the D.I.O.S. forwarded the same list to the Joint Director, Education.

21. Again, the college provided a list of staff members prepared on 01-05-2001 under the joint signatures of the Principal and the Manager, which again contained the same information of 18 persons, as was provided earlier with the letter dated 07-08-2000, which did not include the petitioner's name. This information was forwarded by the D.I.O.S. to the Joint Director Education on 11-05-2001 and again on 18-07-2001.

22. The record further reveals that on 21-07-2001, the manager of the college wrote a letter to the petitioner, stating that in pursuance of the agreement dated 14-07-2001, he was being adjusted on the post of Assistant Teacher (Art) and was given "re-appointment" on the said post.

23. On 26-07-2001, the Joint Director wrote a letter to the D.I.O.S. stating that upon scrutiny of the papers submitted for providing Grant-in-aid, the certificate of renewal of the society and the documents relating to the land and building of the college were found wanting and he was directed to remove the objections. Again, on 30-07-2001 another letter was written by the authority asking the details of creation of posts and its approval. On 20-08-2001, the D.I.O.S. sent a reply providing the copies of certificate of renewal of the society, khatauni, valuation, secured fund, affidavit and undertaking and it stated that permission has been granted to run Class 9 but no documents were available regarding creation of the posts.

24. We gather from the record that although there is no letter no. 4989/2001-02 dated 06-10-2001 of the D.I.O.S. available on the original record and no such letter has been brought on record of the Writ Petition by any of the parties, on 20-10-2001 the Manager of the college gave a letter to the D.I.O.S. stating that in furtherance of the letter no. 4989/2001-02 dated 06-10-2001, he was submitting a list of the teachers / non-teaching staff of the college and the list was provided with this letter, which contained the petitioner's name for the first time.

Sl. No.	Name	Post	Date since working
1.	Sri. Ram Adhar Pandey	Principal	01-07-1974
2.	Sri. Krishna Kant Verma	Asstt. Teacher	01-07-1974
3.	Sri. Suresh Chandra Verma	Asstt. Teacher	12-09-1978
4.	Sri. Radhey Shyam Rathore	Asstt. Teacher	17-07-1981
5.	Sri. Rama Kant Tiwari	Asstt. Teacher	31-07-1994
6.	Sri. Maheep Singh	Asstt. Teacher	04-01-1999
7.	Sri. Rajeev Kumar	Asstt. Teacher	10-10-1999
8.	Anurag Gupta	Asstt. Teacher	10.10.1999
9.	Sri. Vinod Kumar Mishra	Clerk	01-08-1994
10.	Sri. Hem Chandra	Peon	07-07-1985
11.	Sri. Ramadhar	Peon	01-07-1988
12.	Sri. Shaukeen	Peon	01-06-1994
13.	Sri. Ved Ram	Peon	30-10-1997
14.	Sri. Rajneesh Kumar	Peon	10-10-1999
15.	Sri Rajesh Kumar	Peon	03-10-1999
16.	Sri Janardan Singh	Peon	03-10-1999
17.	Sri Arvind Kumar	Peon	03-10-1999
18.	Sri Sandeep Kumar Verma	Peon	03-10-1999

25. The manager of the college gave a certificate stating that in case any teachers / non-teaching employees will be found to be in excess of the standard number of posts, the management will pay their salary from its own resources in case the college in taken on the Grant-in-aid list and the college will not make any demand of any grant from the Government for this purpose. On 31-05-2003 these papers were forwarded by the D.I.O.S. to the Joint Director Education.

26. On 17-07-2003, the Director of Secondary Education, U.P. forwarded the information of 29 colleges to the Government, and the information in regard to the college in question contained the names of teachers and other employees as per the list of 14 persons provided by the college earlier and it did not contain the petitioner's name.

On 25-09-2004, the Deputy Director wrote a letter to the D.I.O.S. with a direction to obtain an undertaking from the college on the basis of the information provided in the year 2000-2001. On 04-10-2004, the manager of the college gave an undertaking on an affidavit stating that the following persons are working in the college as per the standards: -

Sl. No.	Name	Post	Date since working
1.	Vacant	Principal	---
2.	Sri. Ram Adhar Pandey	Asstt. Teacher	01-07-1974
3.	Sri. Krishna Kant Verma	Asstt. Teacher	01-07-1974
4.	Sri. Suresh Chandra Verma	Asstt. Teacher	12-09-1978
5.	Sri. Radhey Shyam Rathore	Asstt. Teacher	17-07-1981
6.	Sri. Rama Kant Tiwari	Asstt. Teacher	31-07-1994
7.	Sri. Maheep Singh	Asstt. Teacher	04-01-1999
8.	Sri. Rajeev Kumar	Asstt. Teacher	10-10-1999
9.	Sri. Vinod Kumar Mishra	Clerk	01-08-1994
10.	Sri. Hem Chandra	Peon	07-07-1985
11.	Sri. Ramadhar	Peon	01-07-1988
12.	Sri. Shaukeen	Peon	01-06-1994
13.	Sri. Ved Ram	Peon	30-10-1997
14.	Sri. Rajneesh Kumar	Peon	10-10-1999

27. The undertaking on affidavit of the manager further states that Sri. Ramadhar Pandey mentioned at serial no. 2 of the list has retired on 30-06-2003 after attaining the age of superannuation. The persons mentioned in the aforesaid list have to be taken on Grant-in-aid list. Two posts have fallen vacant due to the death of Sri. Tej Ram Verma, the Principal and retirement of Sri. Ramadhar Pandey and in order to run the teaching work properly, the petitioner Anurag Gupta has been appointed as Assistant Teacher (Art) and Sri. Ram Naresh has been appointed as Assistant Teacher (Science). In case the aforesaid two teachers are not taken on Grant-in-aid list, the college will bear the expenses of their salary from its own resources.

28. Accordingly, on 23-02-2005, a Government Order was issued taking 09 colleges, on the grant-in-aid list, including the college in question and the enclosed list contains the names of in all 14 teachers and other employees of the college mentioned in the table given in para 26 above, which does not include the petitioner's name.

29. When we analyse the submissions made by learned counsel representing the respective parties in the wake of the record, we find that although the petitioner had approached this Court by categorically pleading in the writ petition that he holds the qualifications of "Bachelor of Arts alongwith Intermediate Grade Drawing Examination of Bombay" and being fully eligible for being appointed on the post of Assistant Teacher (Art), he was appointed on 10-10-1999 but the record reveals that he acquired the eligibility qualification of Intermediate with Technical Art (Drawing Technical) from U. P. Intermediate Education Board as a private candidate on 12-07-2000, from the college in which he claims to be teaching since 11-10-1999. Strangely, although the petitioner's marks-sheet of Intermediate bears the date 12-07-2000, a certificate of having passed Intermediate in drawing is said to have been issued to him on 24-06-2000, i.e., prior to issuance of the marks-sheet. The petitioner passed B.A. Part III examination from Chhatrapati Shahu Ji Maharaj University, Kanpur on 23-07-2000 as a private candidate. Therefore, on the date of his appointment, i.e. 10-10-1999, the petitioner did not possess any of the essential eligibility qualifications laid down by the Government Order dated 28-02-1990 and he, thus, appears to have given incorrect information regarding possessing eligibility qualification in the Writ Petition. As the petitioner did not possess the eligibility qualification on the date of his appointment to the post of Assistant Teacher (Art), his appointment was illegal.

30. The record further reveals that on 21-07-2001, the manager of the college had "adjusted and re-appointed" the petitioner on the post of Assistant Teacher (Art) in pursuance of some agreement dated 14-07-2001. Although the petitioner possessed the eligibility qualification on the said date, he was given re-appointment in pursuance of some agreement, without advertising the post and without obtaining the requisite sanction/approval from the authority concerned as required by law. Therefore, his re-appointment made on 21-07-2001 was also not in accordance with the law.

31. Although the petitioner has alleged that the Manager of the college became annoyed with him and did not allow him to perform his duties for the period from 22-11-2000 till 14-07-2001 and being perturbed, humiliated and victimized, coupled with mental tension and depression, the petitioner fell seriously ill, but at the same time he alleges that he had given an application for grant of leave to the Principal of the college and on 22-11-2000 itself and he stopped attending the college and, therefore, there was no occasion for the manager to continue to humiliate and victimize the petitioner after 22-11-2000 when the petitioner had stopped attending the college. Moreover, no complaint to this effect is found to have been made by the petitioner to any authority and this allegation appears to have been made for the first time in the Writ Petition.

32. Although the petitioner has alleged that he was required to furnish a compromise that he will not claim salary for the aforesaid period, the document alleged to be a compromise is a letter dated 14-07-2001 written by the petitioner to the D.I.O.S. stating that he had not performed teaching duties in the college between the period 22-11-2000 to 14-07-2001 and, therefore, he will not claim the salary and allowances etc. for the aforesaid period.

33. The petitioner's name was not there in the original list of teachers and other non-teaching staff provided by the college on 19-09-1998, and again on 07-08-2000, and also in the undated lists provided by the college which were forwarded alongwith the letters dated 11-01-2001 and 24-04-2001 written by the D.I.O.S., and also in the list dated 01-05-2001. His name appeared for the first time in a list provided by the Manager of the college alongwith a letter dated 20-10-2001 written to the D.I.O.S. purportedly in furtherance of some letter no. 4989/2001-02 dated 06-10-2001 written by the latter, although there is no such letter available on the original record or on the record of the Writ Petition or the Special Appeal. At the same time, the manager of the college gave a certificate that in case any teacher/non-teaching employee will be found to be in excess of the standard number of posts, the management will pay salary from its own resources in case the college is taken on the Grant-in-aid list and the college will not make any demand from the Government for any grant for this purpose.

34. On 04-10-2004, the manager of the college gave an undertaking on an affidavit stating that 14 persons named in the affidavit (whose particulars are mentioned in the table given in para 26 above) were working in the college as per the standards, which 14 persons did not include the petitioner, and further stating that two posts had fallen vacant due to the death of Sri. Tej Ram Verma, the Principal and retirement of Sri. Ramadhar Pandey and in order to run the teaching work properly, the petitioner Anurag Gupta had been appointed as Assistant Teacher (Art) and Sri. Ram Naresh had been appointed as Assistant Teacher (Science). In case the aforesaid two teachers are not taken on Grant-in-aid list, the college will bear the expenses of their salary from its own resources.

35. As per the aforesaid undertaking on affidavit available on the record produced by learned State Counsel, the manager of the college himself admitted that the petitioner was not amongst the teachers of the college working as per the standards.

36. Keeping in view all the aforesaid facts, more particularly the fact that the petitioner's appointment/re-appointment was not made in accordance with the law and the manager of the college had himself stated on oath before the State authorities that the petitioner was not included amongst the teachers working as per the standard, we are of a considered opinion that no direction could be issued to include the petitioner's name in the list of teachers of the college for bringing it on Grant-in-aid list and to pay his salary from the State Exchequer.

37. The facts disclosed and reasons given above are self revealing and thus, we are not in doubt that the appointment of the petitioner (respondent No. 1 in this Special Appeal) was not in accordance with law, not only for want of approval by the authority concerned, but also because at the time of his alleged appointment he was not fulfilling the essential minimum qualification for the post. The name of the petitioner is said to have been sent to the D.I.O.S. by the management pursuant to a non-existent letter dated 06-10-2001 and, as such, we also have no hesitation to hold that such uncalled for information said to have been submitted by the management of the college cannot be the basis of inclusion of his name amongst the teachers of the college, who are entitled to receive salary from the State exchequer on the college having been brought on Grant-in-aid list.

38. In the aforesaid view, we do not find ourselves in agreement with the judgment and order dated 25-11-2020 passed by the learned Single Judge, which is under appeal. The Special Appeal is thus allowed. The judgment and order dated 25-11-2020 passed by the learned Single Judge in Writ Petition No. 31660 (S/S) of 2019 is hereby set aside and the Writ Petition is dismissed.

39. However, there will be no order as to costs.

(2022)05ILR A1114
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED ALLAHABAD 06.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJESH BINDAL, C.J.
THE HON'BLE PIYUSH AGRAWAL, J.

Special Appeal No. 676 of 2015
with other connected cases

Shri Ram Chandra Mission & Ors. ...Appellants

Versus

State Of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants
Sri Anil Tiwari (Senior Adv.), Sri Anand Prakash Paul, Sri S.K. Tripathi

Counsel for the Respondents:
Ms. Meenakshi Singh (State Law Officer), Sri Ajit Kumar, Sri Krishna Mohan Garg, Sri Manu Saxena, Sri Rishabh Srivastava, Sri Mohit Kumar, Sri Nitin Kumar

Civil Law – Constitution of India, 1950 - Article 226 - Code of Civil Procedural Code, 1908 - Order 1 Rule 8, Order 6 Rule 17, Order 7 Rule 11 - Societies Registration Act, 1860 - Sections 3A, 3A(4), 3-B, 4, 6, 15, 25, 25(1) & 25(2) – Appeals – arising out of dismissal of writ petitions – in which petitioners are commonly challenged the Election of office bearers, approval of the list of working committee & renewal of registration certificate of the Society – no argument were addressed to concealment of material facts as pointed out by writ court – S*upressio veri, expression faisi* - Appellants are not deserve to any relief from this Court, as they are not only guilty of concealment of material facts from Court but, also are indulged in forum shopping as well as polluting the stream of justice.(Para – 60, 63, 69)

Appeals are dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited: -

1. ABCD Vs U.O.I. & ors. (2020) 2 SCC 52

2. Abhyudya Sanstha Vs U.O.I., (2011) 6 SCC 145

3. Amar Singh Vs U.O.I. & ors., (2011)7 SCC 69

4. Chandra Shashi Vs Anil Kumar Verma, (1995) 1 SCC 421

5. Dalip Singh Vs St. of U.P., (2010) 2 SCC 114

6. Dhananjay Sharma Vs St. of Har. & ors., (1995) 3 SCC 757

7. G. Narayanaswamy Reddy Vs Govt. of Karn., (1991) 3 SCC 261

8. Hari Narain Vs Badri Das, AIR 1963 SC 1558

9. K.D. Sharma Vs Steel Authority of India Ltd. & ors., (2008) 12 SCC 481

10. Kishore Samrite Vs St. of U.P. & ors., (2013)2 SCC 398

11. Moti Lal Songara Vs Prem Prakash @ Pappu & anr., (2013) 9 SCC 199

12. Pushpadevi M. Jatia Vs M.L. Wadhawan etc., (1987) 3 SCC 367

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajesh Bindal, C. J.)

1. This order will dispose of a bunch of 11 Special Appeals and one writ petition. The Special Appeals arise out of a common order passed by the learned Single Judge dated July 10, 2015. The writ petition, inter alia, challenges the orders dated February 21, 2015 and October 12, 2015 whereby the list of the members of the working committee for the year 2015-16 has been approved and the registration certificate of Ram Chandra Mission (Society) for the year 2015-2020 has been renewed.

2. The issue primarily pertains to control and management of Shri Ram Chandra Mission, namely, appellant No.1 (hereinafter referred to as "the Mission'). It is said to be a spiritual society registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act').

3. At the time of hearing, it was not disputed that there are two rival groups, who are seeking to retain the management of the Mission. One set of persons is the appellants (hereinafter referred to as "Group-I') whereas another set is the private respondents (hereinafter referred to as "Group-II').

BRIEF OF THE WRIT PETITIONS, ORDERS PASSED WHEREIN ARE SUBJECT MATTER OF CHALLENGE IN PRESENT SPECIAL APPEALS

4. The details of the parties and the prayers made in the writ petitions (giving rise to the present Special Appeals), are summed up herein below.

(1) Writ-C No.8950 of 2001 (Special Appeal No.712 of 2015)

The aforesaid writ petition was filed by the Mission through Surendra Kumar Dixit, claiming himself to be duly elected Treasurer of the Mission, along with others (members of Group-I) impleading the State, Registrar and Assistant Registrar, Firms, Societies and Chits as respondents. The prayer made in the aforesaid writ petition was for a direction to respondent No.3 to handover the renewed certificate of registration of the Mission for the year 2000-2005 to the duly elected working committee of petitioner No.1 and not to any other person. Further prayer was that in case any such recognition had been given to Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari, the nominee President (member of Group-II), the same may be quashed.

(2) Writ-C No.40035 of 2004 (Special Appeal No.710 of 2015)

The aforesaid writ petition was filed by the Mission through Navneet Kumar Saxena, claiming himself to be elected President of the Mission, along with K.V. Reddy and Puneet Kumar Saxena (members of Group-I) impleading the State, Registrar and Assistant Registrar of the Firms, Societies and Chits and Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and Uma Shankar Bajpai (members of Group-II) as respondents. Challenge in the aforesaid writ petition was to the order dated June 19, 2004 whereby the application of Puneet Kumar Saxena, for amendment in the constitution and bye-laws of the Mission, was rejected. Further challenge was to the order dated August 9, 2004 whereby the application filed by Puneet Kumar Saxena seeking recall of the order dated June 19, 2004, was rejected. Further prayer was for a direction to respondent Nos.2 and 3 to recognise and declare petitioner Nos.2 and 3, namely, Navneet Kumar Saxena and K.V. Reddy as the President and the Secretary of the Society/Mission as per Sections 3A(4) and 4 of the Act.

(3) Writ-C No.66631 of 2005 (Special Appeal No.713 of 2015)

The aforesaid writ petition was filed by the Mission through Amresh Kumar, claiming himself to be elected Member of the working committee (member of Group-I), impleading the State, Assistant Registrar, Societies, Chits and Funds and Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari (member of Group-II) as respondents. The prayer in the aforesaid writ petition was for a direction to respondent No.2 to accept the list of the elected working committee/managing body for the period 2005-2006. Further prayer was for direction to respondent No.2 to act in accordance with Section 3A of the Act and the rules framed thereunder.

(4) Writ-C No.69081 of 2005 (Special Appeal No.701 of 2015)

The aforesaid writ petition was filed by the Mission through Navneet Kumar Saxena, claiming himself to be elected President of the Mission, along with K.V. Reddy and Amresh Kumar (members of Group-I) impleading the State, Registrar & Assistant Registrar, Societies, Chits and Funds along with Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and others (members of Group-II) as respondents. Challenge in the aforesaid writ petition was to the order dated October 10, 2005 whereby registration certificate of the Society/Mission was renewed in favour of respondent No.5, namely, Uma Shanker Bajpai (member of Group-II) for the year 2005-2010.

(5) Writ-C No.5034 of 2010 (Special Appeal No.676 of 2015)

The aforesaid writ petition was filed by the Mission through Navneet Kumar Saxena, claiming himself to be elected President of the Mission, along with K.V. Reddy and Amresh Kumar (members of Group-I) impleading the State, Registrar & Assistant Registrar, Societies, Chits and Funds along with Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and others (members of Group-II) as respondents. Challenge in the aforesaid writ petition was to the order dated December 19, 2009 whereby list of the members of the working committee for the year 2009-2010 was approved.

(6) Writ-C No.24212 of 2011 (Special Appeal No.702 of 2015)

The aforesaid writ petition was filed by the Mission through Navneet Kumar Saxena claiming himself to be elected President of the Mission, along with Amresh Kumar (members of Group-I) impleading the State, Assistant Registrar, Society, Firm, Chits and Funds along with Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and U.S. Bajpai (members of Group-II) as respondents. Challenge in the aforesaid writ petition was to the order dated October 27, 2010 whereby registration certificate of the Society/Mission was renewed in favour of respondent No.4, namely, Uma Shanker Bajpai (member of Group-II) for the year 2010-2015.

(7) Writ-C No.24214 of 2011 (Special Appeal No.709 of 2015)

The aforesaid writ petition was filed by the Mission through Navneet Kumar Saxena, claiming himself to be elected President of the Mission along with K.V. Reddy and Amresh Kumar (members of Group-I) impleading the State, Assistant Registrar, Society, Firm, Chits and Funds along with Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and Uma Shanker (members of Group-II) as respondents. Challenge in the aforesaid writ petition was to the order dated March 16, 2011 whereby, while rejecting the claim of the petitioners, the list of the members of the working committee for the year 2010-2011 submitted by respondent Nos.3 and 4 (members of Group-II) was approved.

(8) Writ-C No.41630 of 2012 (Special Appeal No.699 of 2015)

The aforesaid writ petition was filed by the Mission through Navneet Kumar Saxena claiming himself to be elected President of the Mission along with K.V. Reddy and Amresh Kumar (members of Group-I) impleading the State, Registrar and Assistant Registrar, Societies, Firms, Chits and Funds along with Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and Uma Shanker (members of Group-II) as respondents. Challenge in the aforesaid writ petition was to the order dated May 5, 2011 whereby list of the members of the working committee submitted by respondent Nos.4 and 5 for the year 2011-2012 (member of Group-II) was approved.

(9) Writ-C No.41631 of 2012 (Special Appeal No.708 of 2015)

The aforesaid writ petition was filed by the Mission through Navneet Kumar Saxena, claiming himself to be elected President of the Mission, along with K.V. Reddy and Amresh Kumar (members of Group-I) impleading the State, Registrar and Assistant Registrar, Societies, Firms, Chits and Funds along with Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and Uma Shanker (members of Group-II) as respondents. Challenge in the aforesaid writ petition was to the order dated January 18, 2012 whereby the list of the members of the working committee for the year 2012-2013 submitted by respondent No.4 (member of Group-II) was approved.

(10) Writ-C No.48669 of 2013 (Special Appeal No.711 of 2015)

The aforesaid writ petition was filed by the Mission through Navneet Kumar Saxena, claiming himself to be elected President of the Mission, along with K.V. Reddy, Amresh Kumar and Dinesh Kumar (members of Group-I) impleading the State, Registrar and Assistant Registrar, Societies, Firms, Chits and Funds along with Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and Uma Shanker Bajpai (members of Group-II) as respondents. Challenge in the aforesaid writ petition was to the order dated April 24, 2013 whereby the list of the members of the working committee for the year 2013-2014 submitted by respondent No.5, namely, Uma Shankar Bajpai (member of Group-II) was approved.

(11) Writ-C No.30767 of 2014 (Special Appeal No.700 of 2015)

The aforesaid writ petition was filed by the Mission through Navneet Kumar Saxena, claiming himself to be elected President of the Mission, along with Amresh Kumar (members of Group-I) impleading the State, Assistant Registrar, Societies, Firms, Chits and Funds along with Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and Uma Shanker Bajpai (members of Group-II) as respondents. Challenge in the aforesaid writ petition was to the order dated April 19, 2014 whereby the list of the members of the working committee for the year 2014-2015 submitted by respondent No.4, namely, Uma Shankar Bajpai (member of Group-II) was approved.

5. The aforesaid writ petitions were dismissed by the learned Single Judge vide common impugned judgment.

6. Writ-C No.7139 of 2016 was also heard along with the bunch of aforesaid Special Appeals. It has been filed by Navneet Kumar Saxena claiming himself to be the elected President of the Mission along with Dinesh Kumar and Amresh Kumar (members of Group-I) impleading the State, Assistant Registrar, Societies, Firms, Chits and Funds along with Kamlesh Desaibhai Patel and Uma Shanker Bajpai (members of Group-II) as respondents. Inter alia, prayer in the aforesaid writ petition is for quashing the orders February 21, 2015 and October 12, 2015.

7. By order dated February 21, 2015, the list of members of the working committee for the year 2015-2016 submitted by respondent No.4, namely, Uma Shankar Bajpai was approved and by order dated October 12, 2015 the registration certificate of the Society/Mission for the period 2015-2020 was renewed in favour of respondent No.4.

ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF THE APPELLANTS/PETITIONERS

8. Mr. Anil Tiwari, learned Senior Advocate with Mr. Anand Prakash Paul, learned counsel appearing for the appellants, referred to the bye-laws of the Mission which, according to him, provided that the headquarter of the Mission shall be at Shahjahanpur. It shall work under the guidance and control of the founder or his spiritual representative in the direct line of succession. The entire powers are vested with the President of the Mission.

9. An amendment was carried out in the Act by the State of Uttar Pradesh by U.P. Act No.52 of 1975 vide which Section 3-A was added, which provided that certificate of registration of a society shall be valid for a period of two years. Thereafter renewal will be required, which is granted subject to fulfilment of the requisites.

10. Section 25 of the Act provides for resolution of dispute regarding election of office bearers. As in the case in hand also, the dispute is pertaining to management of the society with reference to election, the matter was required to be referred to the competent authority in terms of Section 25 of the Act. Reference was also made to the Statement of Object and Reasons for carrying out the amendments in the Act vide U.P. Act No.52 of 1975.

11. Further, reference was made to the amendment carried out in the Act vide U.P. Act No.13 of 1978, which received assent of the Governor on April 27, 1978, by which a proviso was inserted in Section 25 of the Act to even specify the grounds on which the election can be set-aside. Earlier, no such grounds had been specified.

12. Reference was also made to the subsequent amendment made in the Act by U.P. Act No.11 of 1984, which received assent of the Governor on April 29, 1984. In terms of the aforesaid, amendment was carried out in Section 3A of the Act, which provided that at the time of filing of application for renewal of the certificate, the application shall be accompanied by a list of members of the managing body.

13. The argument is that ever since the aforesaid amendments, which provided for election in any society, the elections are being carried out in terms thereof, whereas the claim of the respondents is that the elections were never held and are not required to be held as such.

14. Assailing the order passed by the learned Single Judge, it is submitted that the learned Single Judge had gone wrong in opining that the election would also mean nomination. The provisions of the Act have not been properly appreciated. The amendments made in the Act and the spirit thereof were totally ignored.

15. Reference has been made to the previous litigations between the parties. However, the same was properly explained before the learned Single Judge. The submission is that in terms of the amendment carried out in the Act, elections were required to be held. It is the definite case of the appellants that elections have regularly been held. However, the case set up by the respondents is of nomination and not election in terms of the provisions of the Act. In case, the Society fails to hold the elections, it is for the Registrar to do the needful. Even the Registrar has failed to discharge his statutory duty.

ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF RESPONDENTS

16. On the other hand, Mr. Ajit Kumar, along with Mr. Krishna Mohan Garg and Mr. Mohit Kumar, Advocates, appearing for the respondents submitted that Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj was the first President of the Mission, who had constituted the same. He died on April 19, 1983. The appellant No.2, is his grandson. Ever since the death of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj, the litigation started for control of the Mission. The appellants wanted to retain its control treating the same to be their private property.

17. The first suit, bearing Original Suit No.200 of 1983, was filed on December 26, 1983 by some of the followers of the Mission, namely, Uma Shanker, Basudeo Singh and Bhagwan Dayal, in the group of the appellants. The prayer made therein was that defendant No.1 Parthasarathi Rajagopalachari be restrained from being the President of the Mission. The learned trial court granted ex-parte interim injunction, which was confirmed vide order dated January 4, 1984. The same was impugned by Parthasarathi Rajagopalachari by filing First Appeal From Order No.439 of 1984 before this Court. The interim injunction granted in the suit was vacated by this Court vide judgment and order dated February 25, 1985. As a result thereof, Parthasarathi Rajagopalachari continued as the President of the Mission. Against the aforesaid order, Special Leave to Appeal (Civil) No.7773 of 1985 was filed, which was dismissed vide order dated September 27, 1985 with the observation that the respondents Parthasarathi Rajagopalachari and others shall not alienate or dispose of any part of the property belonging to the Mission and the Headquarter of the Mission will not be changed to any other place from Shahjahanpur. The aforesaid suit was transferred to this Court. An application was filed in the said suit by plaintiff Nos.1 and 2, namely, Uma Shanker and Basudeo Singh, to withdraw the suit unconditionally whereas plaintiff No.3 Bhagwan Dayal prayed that the suit may be dismissed as withdrawn with liberty to file fresh one, in case the cause of action still survived. Though the withdrawal application, as prayed for by the plaintiffs, was allowed vide order dated July 10, 1997, however, cost of ₹4,000/- was imposed as the defendants in the suit had contested the same for a period of about 14 years.

18. Reference was made to an order passed by this Court on an application filed by the plaintiffs in the aforesaid Original Suit No.200 of 1983 for amendment in the plaint and for impleading Umesh Chandra Saxena as defendant. Vide order dated May 24, 1996, the application filed for impleadment of Umesh Chandra Saxena to represent the Mission as its President was dismissed. Observation was made by this Court in the aforesaid order that no plea was taken earlier in any litigation that Umesh Chandra Saxena was the President of the Mission. It was an afterthought. Special Appeal No.561 of 1996 was filed against the aforesaid order dated May 24, 1996, which was dismissed by a Division Bench on November 24, 1998.

19. Further, reference was made to Original Suit No.142 of 1986 filed by the Mission through its Secretary S.A. Sarnad praying for restraining the defendants, namely, Basdeo Singh, Bhagwan Dayal, Uma Shanker Arya and others from interfering in functioning of the Mission. Umesh Chandra Saxena was impleaded as defendant No.5 in the aforesaid original suit. It is claimed that the aforesaid suit was dismissed as withdrawn, as the defendants had accepted the claim made therein.

20. Reference was made to Civil Misc. Writ Petition No.22657 of 1991 filed by the Mission through its Secretary B.D. Mahajan, praying for recognition of the working committee of the Mission. The same was dismissed as withdrawn on July 10, 1997. Further, reference was made to another writ petition bearing Civil Misc. Writ Petition No.37023 of 1994 filed by the Mission through its President Umesh Chandra Saxena praying for quashing of the order dated September 29, 1994 by which it was directed that P. Rajagopalachari shall continue to work as President of the Mission till the dispute regarding nomination was decided by this Court. The aforesaid writ petition was dismissed by this Court on July 10, 1997. Against the aforesaid order, Special Appeal No.580 of 1997 was filed, which was dismissed on November 24, 1998. Reference was made to the pleadings in the aforesaid writ petition wherein it was claimed that the matter regarding nomination of the President of the Mission was considered in the meetings of the General Body held on February 6, 7 and 8, 1984. P. Rajagopalachari abstained from the meeting. Name of Umesh Chandra Saxena was proposed as President of the Mission, which was accepted.

21. Further, reference was made to Testamentary Suit No.8 of 1993 (converted into Testamentary Suit No.1 of 1994) filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena and Sarvesh Chandra Saxena, both sons of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj. The Mission was also impleaded through its Secretary B.D. Mahajan as applicant No.3. The prayer made in the aforesaid suit was that Umesh Chandra Saxena be granted Letter of Administration with reference to the properties as mentioned in the suit, he should be declared as President of the Mission and applicant No.2 Sarvesh Chandra Sexana, another son of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj, be declared as Secretary of the Mission. The aforesaid plaint was rejected by this Court vide order dated October 16, 1995. Special Appeal No.829 of 1995 filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena and others against the aforesaid order, was dismissed by this Court vide order dated November 24, 1998.

22. As the appellants had not succeeded in its efforts to usurp the properties of the Mission by filing one or the other litigations, another Suit No.697 of 1995 was filed by the Mission through its President Umesh Chandra Saxena praying for a declaration that P. Rajagopalachari is not the President of the Mission and he be restrained from acting as such. It was claimed that during his lifetime, the founder President Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj had nominated plaintiff No.2, namely, Umesh Chandra Saxena as the spiritual representative in the direct line of succession and as his successor President of the Mission. The aforesaid suit was dismissed on May 31, 1999 on the application filed by defendant No.1 P. Rajagopalachari under Order 7 Rule 11 C.P.C. Against the aforesaid judgment of the learned trial court, Civil Appeal No.219 of 1999 filed before the learned lower appellate Court, was dismissed on January 11, 2001. Second Appeal No.884 of 2001 filed against the aforesaid judgment, was also dismissed by this Court vide order dated November 26, 2001. Yet another effort of the appellants to retain control over the Mission and usurp its properties failed. In the aforesaid suit, claim made by Umesh Chandra Saxena was on the basis of his nomination as President by Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj during his lifetime. No election was claimed.

23. Another case, bearing Suit No.4 of 1999, was filed by D. Krishna and Bhagwan Dayal, claiming themselves to be the Office Superintendent and Manager of the Mission, impleading Umesh Chandra and P. Rajagopalachari as defendants praying that a decree be passed against the defendants declaring the plaintiffs as Office Superintendent and Manager of the Mission pursuant to the Will deed dated April 10, 1982. The said suit is stated to have been dismissed on May 10, 1999 and Civil Appeal No.90 of 1999 filed against the same was also dismissed on January 5, 2004. The aforesaid orders have not been referred to from record.

24. As the litigation was to continue one after another, Suit No.403 of 2003 was filed by the Mission through K.V Reddy, claiming himself to be elected Secretary, against P. Rajagopalachari (died on December 20, 2014) challenging nomination of P. Rajagopalachari as President of the Mission on March 23, 1974. A decree of permanent injunction was prayed for restraining him from claiming himself to be the President of the Society/Mission. The aforesaid civil suit was dismissed on February 10, 2010. It is claimed that the aforesaid order is under challenge before the lower appellate court. Though K.V. Reddy, who was representing the Mission in the aforesaid case and the sole defendant Rajagopalachari, both had expired, however, till date, no application for substitution has been filed.

25. Forum shopping was the another device used by the appellants, as a writ petition bearing Civil Misc. Writ Petition No.3091 (M/S) of 2010 was filed by the Mission through Navneet Kumar Saxena, son of late Umesh Chandra Saxena, claiming himself to be the elected President of the Mission, and Amresh Kumar, claiming himself to be elected Member of the working committee. Only the State of U.P., Registrar and Assistant Registrar of the Societies were impleaded as respondents in the said writ petition. Though the jurisdiction to entertain the lis was with principal seat of this Court at Allahabad, still the writ petition was filed at Lucknow assailing the direction issued to the Assistant Registrar by the Registrar dated November 4, 2009. The said writ petition was disposed of on May 21, 2010 directing the Assistant Registrar to hear all the concerned parties and take a decision without being influenced with the direction issued by the Registrar vide letter dated November 4, 2009. When the respondents came to know about passing of the aforesaid order, an application for recall thereof was filed. The aforesaid order was recalled vide order dated May 30, 2012 and the writ petition was dismissed with a cost of ₹10,000/-. It was observed therein that when Writ Petition No.5034 of 2010 was pending at Allahabad, there was no occasion for the writ petitioners therein to have moved Lucknow Bench. Special Appeal against the aforesaid order is stated to be pending (as submitted by learned counsel for the appellants).

26. Reference was also made to Original Suit No.587 of 1999 filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena, which was dismissed as withdrawn on November 26, 2001 unconditionally. No fresh suit for the purpose could be filed.

27. While referring to a Division Bench judgment of this Court dated November 24, 1998 vide which four Special Appeals bearing Special Appeal Nos.829 of 1995, 561 of 1996, 580 and 594 of 1997 were dismissed, it was submitted that the issues sought to be raised by the appellants in the present appeals were taken up in the aforesaid appeals and were rejected. The issue regarding election was also raised and rejected. Hence, there is no occasion for this Court to deal with the same time and again. The Mission is a spiritual society where members do not pay any fee, hence, no question of any elections.

28. Reference was also made to a suit bearing Civil Suit No.360 of 2000 filed by certain followers of the Mission praying for restraining the defendants including Umesh Chandra Saxena from interfering in the activities of the Mission, in which interim injunction was granted restraining the defendants from interfering in the activities of the Mission or representing the same. Writ petition bearing Civil Misc. Writ Petition No.53330 of 2000 filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena impugning the order dated November 27, 2000 by which application filed under Order 7 Rule 11 of the C.P.C. for rejection of the plaint of Suit No.360 of 2000 was rejected, was dismissed by this Court vide order dated November 19, 2002. Certain adverse observations were also made by this Court against Umesh Chandra Saxena. Against the aforesaid order, Review Application was filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena, which is pending. During pendency of the Review Application, Special Leave Petition No.6585 of 2003 was filed before Hon'ble the Supreme Court, which was also dismissed on July 25, 2003. Umesh Chandar Saxena died on November 3, 2003.

29. Subsequent to the death of Umesh Chandra Saxena, an application was filed for impleadment of his sons as legal representatives in Original Suit No.360 of 2000. The same was allowed vide order dated January 30, 2004. A revision bearing Civil Revision No.66 of 2004 was filed against the aforesaid order, which was dismissed on July 19, 2005. Even the review application was also dismissed on April 8, 2010. After the legal representatives of Umesh Chandra Saxena were impleaded in the suit, specific order dated January 30, 2004 was passed that the interim injunction already granted would continue against newly impleaded defendants.

30. The Constitution, Memorandum of Association and Bye-laws of the Mission were referred to. It was argued that the Mission functions under the sole guidance and control of its founder or its spiritual representative in the direct line of succession and he shall be the President of the Mission. Clause 4(h) of the Memorandum of Association provides that the President shall nominate, amongst his spiritual successors, any person as his representative, who will enjoy all the power and authority vested in the President of the Mission. Clause 6 clearly provides that there is no fee for being a member of the Mission. As there is no fee for being a member of the Mission, no one has right to cast vote and no elections are to be held, if seen in light of Section 15 of the Act.

31. It was submitted by learned counsel for the respondents that as all efforts of Umesh Chandra Saxena to usurp and misuse the properties of the Mission had failed, during his life time, before his death on November 3, 2003, he had executed a Will on June 7, 1999 stating that after his death, with reference to the Mission, he nominates his three sons who will jointly appoint the President. This clearly establishes that he was treating the property of the Mission as his personal property. In fact, on account of pending litigations, he did not have any right even to manage the working of the Mission what to talk of bequeathing the same by way of a Will. This clearly shows that he was under the impression that properties of the Mission are his private properties. It is not a case of either nomination or election.

32. Though, one writ petition was filed, before the death of Umesh Chandra Saxena, in the year 2001, however, all other writ petitions were filed after his death by the persons, who did not have any authority to file the same.

33. All the appeals were filed after the death of Umesh Chandra Saxena in the year 2015. In fact, in terms of the order dated November 27, 2011 passed by the trial court directing that interim injunction restraining Umesh Chandra Saxena from acting and treating himself to be the President of the Mission will continue even against his legal representatives, who were impleaded in the aforesaid Original Suit No. 360 of 2000, they did not have any right to file or prosecute any litigation on behalf of the Mission. He has further referred to list of the working committee of the Mission while submitting that none of the members affected has challenged the same, rather it is Umesh Chandra Saxena who was aggrieved as he was treating the property of the Mission as his private property.

34. He further referred to the discrepancies in the stand taken by Puneet Kumar Saxena son of Umesh Chandra Saxena in the written statement filed in Original Suit No.360 of 2000, as verified on September 17, 2010, where in paragraph 50, he affirmed that Navneet Kumar Saxena was nominated by his late father Umesh Chandra Saxena as per the wish of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj in terms of the Will dated June 7, 1999 executed by him. Thereafter, Navneet Kumar Saxena was elected as President.

35. He further submitted that in the Will executed by Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj, he had specifically stated that part of his property would go to the Mission whereas part thereof will go to his legal heirs. On the property, which had been assigned to the Mission, the appellants cannot claim the same to be their property as the same has been given to the spiritual body.

36. Further, the contention raised is that the prayers made in the Special Appeals have been rendered infructuous and even the relief claimed. Though the appellants were indulged in lot of litigations for the last about four decades, in three writ petitions, namely, Writ-C Nos.8950 of 2001, 69081 of 2005 and 24212 of 2011 challenge was to the renewals of recognition of the Society for the years 2000-2005, 2005-2010 and 2010-2015. The period being already over, the aforesaid writ petitions had been rendered infructuous, especially if considered in the light of the fact that subsequent renewals for the period 2015-2020 and 2020-2025 have not been challenged.

37. Further, argument is that in six writ petitions, namely, Writ-C Nos.5034 of 2010, 24214 of 2011, 41630 of 2012, 41631 of 2012, 48669 of 2013 and 30767 of 2014, the challenge was to the orders of approval of the list of members of the working committee of the Mission for six years from 2009-2010, to 2014-2015. The period being already over, the aforesaid writ petitions had also been rendered infructuous, especially if considered in light of the fact that subsequent approvals of the list of members of working committee have not been challenged. The submission is that annual applications had regularly been filed along with list of members of the working committee for its approval, which were approved, with appellants no where in picture.

38. Writ Petition No.40035 of 2004 was filed on behalf of the Mission through Navneet Kumar Saxena for quashing the order dated June 19, 2004 passed by the Registrar, Firms, Societies and Chits rejecting the amendment sought in bye-laws of the Society through an application filed by Puneet Kumar Saxena. Writ Petition No.66631 of 2005 was filed on behalf of the Mission through Amresh Kumar, claiming himself to be elected Member of the working committee, praying for a mandamus to accept the list of the Members of the working committee submitted by the petitioners therein and renew the registration certificate of the society.

39. It was further argued that the appellants are not entitled to any relief as there is concealment of material fact. It is so discussed by the learned Single Judge in the impugned judgment, however, not taken to its logical end.

REJOINDER ON BEHALF OF APPELLANTS/PETITIONERS

40. In response, learned Senior Counsel for the appellants submitted that no formal elec tions are required, if there is no nomination except one for the post. However, the argument seems to be double edged as there is other side, which is refuting such a claim of the appellants. As regards the challenge to the renewal of the registration certificate of the working committee, reference was made to Writ-C No.7139 of 2016 in which renewal of the working committee for the year 2014-15 was challenged. The said writ petition forms part of this bunch of cases. Another writ bearing Civil Misc. Writ Petition No.16788 of 2021 is also stated to be pending. In the said writ petition prayer was to quash the orders dated October 9, 16 and December 20, 2020 whereby the list of the Members of the working committee of the Mission for the year 2020-2021 was registered and registration certificate of the Society was renewed. It is further submitted that gist of the entire litigation is available in the impugned order passed by the learned Single Judge.

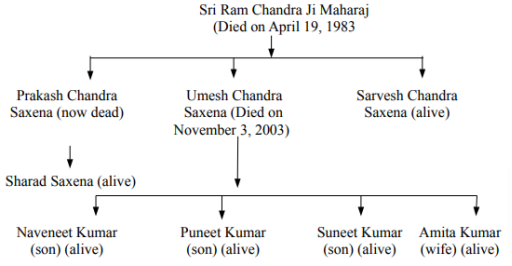
41. Further, the argument raised is that in terms of Section 6 of the Act a society can sue or be sued in its claim but in the case in hand, in none of the cases, writ petitions filed by the appellants, the society was impleaded as a respondent, rather the society is the writ petitioner, though the Members, who are representing the Mission, are not approved by the Registrar of the Societies.

DISCUSSIONS

42. Heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the relevant materials referred to.

43. What emerges from the documents on record, as have been referred to by learned counsel for the parties, is that Shree Ram Chandra Ji, Fatehgarh was a spiritual person. One disciple was Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj of Shahjahanpur. He opted to carry on spiritual mission of his Guru. He got a society registered in the name of Shree Ram Chandra Mission of Shahjahanpur. The registration certificate was issued on July 21, 1945. It is the control and management of the aforesaid Mission, which is in dispute after the death of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj of Shahjahanpur. He expired on April 19, 1983. He is survived by:



44. It has come on record that there was a document of nomination dated March 23,1974 whereby the founder President claimed to have nominated Sri Parthasarthi Rajgopalachari as President of Mission/Society. The founder President died on April 19, 1983. The nomination aforesaid obviously would become operative after the death of the founder President. It is not disputed that Sri Parthasarthi Rajgopalachari took the charge as President of Mission/Society and started managing its affairs. Firstly, his authority was challenged by Sri Prakash Chandra Saxena, one of the three sons of founder President, and the matter was examined in working committee of the Mission/Society in its meeting dated July 10, 1983. The claim of Sri Prakash Chandra Saxena was doubted in the aforesaid meeting. The matter was posted to October 23, 1983 giving opportunity to Sri Prakash Chandra Saxena to substantiate his claim. In the meeting held on October 23, 1983, the working committee did not accept claim of Sri Prakash Chandra Saxena. The nomination document of March 3, 1974 was honoured and Sri Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari continued to function as the President.

HISTORY OF PREVIOUS LITIGATIONS

45. Brief facts from the previous litigations between the parties are summed up herein.

(A) Suit No.200 of 1983

(i) After the death of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj on April 19, 1983, the aforesaid suit was filed on December 26, 1983 by the persons from Group-I at Shahjahanpur. An application was also filed under Order 1 Rule 8 C.P.C. seeking permission to prosecute the same in representative capacity. The followers of the Mission in Group-II including P. Rajagopalachari were impleaded as defendants. The relief prayed for in the aforesaid suit was for grant of injunction restraining P. Rajagopalachari from interfering in the functioning of the Mission. It was pleaded that the founder President Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj had not nominated him as the successor. The document, if any, of nomination cannot be treated as Will of the founder President, as the same is manufactured one. The suit was contested by the defendants therein. The trial court vide order dated January 4, 1984 granted ex-parte interim injunction in favour of the plaintiffs therein. The aforesaid order was challenged by the defendants in the suit including P. Rajagopalachari by filing First Appeal From Order No.439 of 1984. The same was allowed by this Court vide judgment dated February 25, 1985 finding the case set up by the defendants therein to be established. The interim injunction was vacated. The plaintiffs in the suit challenged the aforesaid order passed by this Court by filing Special Leave Petition (Civil) No.7773 of 1985, which was dismissed by Hon'ble the Supreme Court vide order dated September 27, 1985 with the observation that the defendants in the suit will not alienate or dispose of any part of the property belonging to the Mission.

(ii) Later on the aforesaid suit was transferred to this Court.

(iii) An application was filed by the plaintiffs therein seeking permission to withdraw the same with liberty to file fresh one. The apparent reason for withdrawing the suit was that they had failed to achieve the objective, for which the same was filed, for a period of 14 years. There were three plaintiffs in the suit. As is evident from the order dated July 10, 1997 passed by this Court on an application filed by the plaintiffs therein for withdrawal of the suit, the issues had been framed therein but it was still at the stage of evidence of the plaintiffs. Before leading any evidence, two applications were filed. First by Plaintiffs No.1 and 2 for withdrawal of the suit without any liberty to file fresh suit and second by Plaintiff No.3 seeking withdrawal of the suit with permission to file fresh suit.

(iv) As far as the first application filed by Plaintiffs No.1 and 2 is concerned, the same was allowed by this Court. As the prayer made in the second application filed by Plaintiff No.3, namely, Bhagwan Dayal was for permission to file a fresh suit, the same was considered on merits. The order dated July 10, 1997 passed by this Court records that in the aforesaid suit, Umesh Chandra Saxena had filed an application for being impleaded as party pleading that he was nominated as President of the Mission vide deed dated April 16, 1982 whereas defendant No.1 P. Rajagopalachari and his associates were trying to usurp the management of the Mission on the basis of a forged deed dated March 23, 1974 claimed to be executed by late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj. The application for impleadment of Umesh Chandra Saxena was rejected on May 24, 1996.

(v) The order dated May 24, 1996 passed by this Court rejecting the application filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena for being impleaded as party to the aforesaid suit, shows that prayer made therein was that the Mission and Umesh Chandra Saxena be impleaded as defendants in the suit. Thereafter they should be transposed as plaintiffs, to avoid multiplicity of litigation. Amendment in the plaint was also sought. This Court found that neither the Mission nor Umesh Chandra Saxena were necessary parties to the litigation. The plaintiffs in the suit, in fact, had not sought any relief against the applicants, who were seeking to be impleaded as defendants. From the application for amendment in the suit filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena, it was evident that by his impleadment as party in the suit, he wanted to prosecute his own case by getting the declaration that he was the President of the Mission. Any such pleading would have changed the nature of the suit.

(vi) Another important fact, which was noticed by this Court in the aforesaid order dated May 24, 1996, is that the controversy regarding succession to the office of President arose immediately after the death of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj. A meeting for the purpose was held in July, 1983. In the said meeting, P. Rajagopalachari staked claim on the basis of his nomination in the year 1974. P.C. Saxena son of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj staked the claim of his son Sarad Saxena. It was also noticed that Umesh Chandra Saxena was present in the said meeting but he never claimed that he was the nominated President, though at that time it was sought to be pleaded that nomination was done on April 16, 1982. The next meeting was scheduled for December 27, 1983 at Hydrabad. As the members of Group-I did not want to face the meeting to settle the controversy regarding succession of the Mission, they filed a suit on December 26, 1983. It was further noted therein that in the amendment application filed, the reason assigned by Umesh Chandra Saxena was that, due to oversight, the aforesaid facts could not be incorporated in the plaint. It is further relevant to note that though the proceedings of the aforesaid suit at interim stage was contested up to Hon'ble the Supreme Court but no such plea was raised.

(vii) Another fact noticed in the aforesaid order dated May 24, 1996 is that in the year 1993 Umesh Chandra Saxena had filed a testamentary suit claiming his right on the basis of Will executed by Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj in the year 1976. Even at that stage, no application was made to get the plaint amended. Further, this Court noticed that Umesh Chandra Saxena having failed to achieve the objective of having control over the Mission despite previous litigations, filed Suit No.697 of 1995. In that suit, it was claimed that he was the President of the Mission.

(viii) The application for impleadment was held to be not bonafide and the same was dismissed. The aforesaid order was challenged by Umesh Chandra Saxena by filing Special Appeal No.561 of 1996 before this Court. However, the same was dismissed as infructuous on November 24, 1998, as the suit itself stood withdrawn on July 10, 1997.

(ix) The fact remains that the aforesaid suit was filed on December 26, 1983 by persons of Group-I, after the death of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj on April 19, 1983, but still there was no pleading that Umesh Chandra Saxena had been nominated as President of the Mission, though the document is stated to be executed on April 16, 1982 in his favour prior to filing of the suit. The permission for withdrawing the suit was sought on the ground that proper parties had not been impleaded, hence there were technical defects. The suit was permitted to be withdrawn on behalf of Plaintiff No.3, namely, Bhagwan Dayal with permission to file fresh, in case, cause of action still survived. Cost of ₹4,000/- was also imposed on the aforesaid application to be paid to the contesting defendants, as the defendants were made to contest the suit for a period of about 14 years.

(B) Original Suit No.142 of 1986

(i) The aforesaid suit was filed in the court of Civil Judge, Shahjahanpur by the Mission and its Secretary against the followers of Group-I. Three sons of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj including Umesh Chandra Saxena and other followers of Group-I were impleaded as defendants.

(ii) Prayer was for grant of permanent injunction against the defendants from interfering in the working of the Mission, from realising any amount in the name of the Mission and from using or utilizing any property thereof. Inter alia, a decree was sought against the defendants therein directing them to handover the money utilized from April 19, 1983. In paragraph 4 of the plaint, it was pleaded as under:-

"4. That in the Society the Office of President has occupied by the Master till his Mahasamadhi and after his Mahasamadhi only the spiritual nominee/Representative of the master and none else would have occupied the office the President of the Society. The Spiritual Representative nominee of the Master was and is Sri Parthasaarthi Rajagopalachari of Madras who after the Mahasamadhi of the Master become the President of the Society and is discharging the functions as such. Master transmitted and conferred his spiritual power in the aforesaid Sri Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari."

(iii) A perusal of the aforesaid pleadings shows that after the death of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj, P. Rajagopalachari was pleaded to be nominated as President of the Mission.

(iv) In the written statement dated August 21, 1986 filed by defendant No.5 in the said suit, namely, Umesh Chandra Saxena admitted the contents of paragraph 4 of the plaint. The pleadings in the written statement were quite evasive. No plea was taken that Umesh Chandra Saxena was ever nominated as President of the Soceity.

(v) It was contended that claim made in the suit having been accepted by the defendants, the same was withdrawn.

(C) Writ Petition No.22657 of 1991

(i) The aforesaid writ petition was filed by the Mission through B.D. Mahajan, a member of Group-I, against the State, the Registrar and the Assistant Registrar of Firms, Societies and Chits for a direction to recognise the working committee of the Mission.

(ii) The aforesaid writ petition was permitted to be withdrawn by this Court vide order dated July 10, 1997.

(D) Testamentary Suit No.8 of 1993-Testamentary Suit No.1 of 1994

(i) The Testamentary Suit No.8 of 1993 converted into Testamentary Suit No.1 of 1994, was filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena and Sarvesh Chandra Saxena, sons of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj and also impleading the Mission as Plaintiff No.3 (members of Group-I). P. Rajagopalachari and another son of late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj, namely, Prakash Chandra Saxena including others were impleaded as respondents.

(ii) The relief prayed for was for grant of Letter of Administration in favour of Umesh Chandra Saxena and declaring him as the President of the Mission and Petitioner No.2 Sarvesh Chandra Saxena as Secretary. Apparent idea was clearly to grab the property of the Mission. The claim was made on the basis of Will dated December 30, 1976, allegedly executed by late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj.

(iii) Though the main argument raised is that after the amendment in the Act, the President could be elected, however, the prayer made in the aforesaid suit was for appointment of President as per the Will allegedly executed by Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj.

(iv) Respondent Nos.8 to 12 in the aforesaid suit filed an application under Order 7 Rule 11 C.P.C. seeking rejection of the plaint. The application was allowed vide order dated October 16, 1995. The suit was dismissed finding that the relief prayed for by Umesh Chandra Saxena could not possibly be granted, as the same was misconceived. He was seeking inheritance of the properties of the Mission and not to administer the estate. The Mission was sought to be claimed as a private property.

(v) The dismissal of the aforesaid suit on acceptance of the application filed by respondents No.8 to 12 under Order 7 Rule 11 C.P.C. shows that Umesh Chandra Saxena failed in yet another attempt to usurp the properties of the Mission. As he did not want to leave any stone unturned, rather to take all the chances, the order dated October 16, 1995 was challenged by filing Special Appeal No.829 of 1995, which was dismissed by this Court on November 24, 1998 with cost. The plea raised by Umesh Chandra Saxena, that he along with other heirs of late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj was entitled to inherit the properties of the Mission, was found to be totally misconceived, as after the properties were given to the Mission, the same were not inheritable by individuals.

(vi) It is noticed in paragraph 46 of the impugned judgment of learned Single Judge that in the aforesaid special appeal, Sarvesh Chandra Saxena, real brother of Umesh Chandra Saxena, filed an affidavit that nomination of P. Rajagopalachari as President of the Mission was valid and claim of Umesh Chandra Saxena is based on forged document.

(E) Writ Petition No.37023 of 1994

(i) The aforesaid writ petition was filed by the Mission including Umesh Chandra Saxena and Sarvesh Chandra Saxena, sons of late Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj and two other followers of Group-I against the Registrar, Firms, Societies and Chits, also impleading P. Rajagopalachari, Prakash Chandra Saxena, another son of late Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj including others as respondents.

(ii) For the first time, it was pleaded in the aforesaid writ petition that on April 16, 1982 late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj had nominated Umesh Chandra Saxena as successor President. It was stated in the aforesaid writ petition that various blank papers bearing signatures of late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj were taken and being misused by P. Rajagopalachari. The document dated December 30, 1976 claiming to be nomination deed executed by Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj nominating P. Rajagopalachari as successor was stated to be forged.

(iii) The prayer made in the aforesaid writ petition was for quashing the order dated September 29, 1994.

(iv) It was further claimed that in the meetings of the Mission held on February 6, 7 and 8, 1984 Umesh Chandra Saxena was appointed as successor President where P. Rajagopalachari did not participate. Further a declaration was sought that Umesh Chandra Saxena was the successor President. The main ground of challenging the order dated September 29, 1994 was that no opportunity of hearing was afforded to Umesh Chandra Saxena. This Court recorded that he was not even party before respondent No.3, namely, Assistant Registrar, Firms, Societies and Chits as he was watching the proceedings sitting at the fence and some other person was canvassing his cause.

(v) The aforesaid writ petition was dismissed by this Court by a detailed judgment dated July 10, 1997.

(vi) Meaning thereby the claim of Umesh Chandra Saxena to have been nominated/elected President of the Mission was not accepted by this Court.

(vii) In paragraph 50 of the written statement September 17, 2010 filed on behalf of members of Group-I in Original Suit No.360 of 2000, it was pleaded that Umesh Chandra Saxena as per the wishes of founder of the Mission late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj, vide his Will dated June 7, 1999 nominated his son Navneet Kumar Saxena as the President of the Mission. Navneet Kumar Saxena was minor at the time of death of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj. What wish the founder could have expressed at that time for nominating a minor as President of spiritual Mission. Had that been so, the same would have very well been mentioned by him in his Will executed on December 30, 1976. The aforesaid written statement was filed in the year 2010 and the stand taken therein was that Navneet Kumar Saxena was nominated as President by way of a Will executed by late Umesh Chandra Saxena, though now the claim made is that the President of the Mission has to be elected. The appellants cannot be permitted to blow hot and cold in the same breath and take whatever pleas suit them at different times having failed in all their efforts by adopting different means to usurp the properties of the Mission.

(F) Original Suit No.127 of 1994

(i) Reference of the aforesaid suit is available in the Division Bench judgment of this Court in Special Appeal No.829 of 1995 decided along with Special Appeal Nos.561 of 1996, 580 and 594 of 1997 vide judgment and order dated November 24, 1998. The aforesaid suit was filed on behalf of the Mission through its President Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari (member of Group-I) against Umesh Chandra Saxena and two others (members of Group-II) praying for restraining the defendants from holding any function in the name of the President or other office bearers of Shri Ram Chandra Mission and further for restraining defendant No.1, namely, Umesh Chandra Saxena from holding the birthday function of Babu Ji Maharaj from April 29, 1994 to May 1, 1994. In the said suit, the plaintiff Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari filed an application to withdraw the suit with liberty to file a fresh, which was allowed subject to payment of ₹2000/- as costs to be paid to defendant No.1.

(G) Special Appeal Nos.829 of 1995, 561 of 1996, 580 and 594 of 1997

(i) Special Appeal No.829 of 1995 arose out of the order dated October 16, 1995 passed by this Court in Testamentary Suit No.1 of 1994. The aforesaid suit was filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena and others for issuing Letter of Administration to Umesh Chandra Saxena in respect of properties of the Mission and also for declaration that Umesh Chandra Saxena was the President of the Mission. This Court holding that the reliefs claimed in the suit cannot be granted in a testamentary proceedings, rejected the plaint under Order 7 Rule 11 C.P.C. vide order dated October 16, 1995 against which the aforesaid appeal was filed.

24, 1996 in Original Suit No.200 of 1983. The aforesaid suit was between Uma Shanker and others (members of Group-I) and Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and others (members of Group-II). In the aforesaid suit an application under Order 6 Rule 17 C.P.C. was filed for amendment in the plaint. The said application was rejected by this Court vide order dated May 24, 1996 against which the aforesaid appeal was filed.

(iii) Special Appeal No.580 of 1997 arose out of judgment and order dated July 10, 1997 passed in Writ Petition No.37023 of 1994. Two writ petitions were decided by the aforesaid order, namely, Writ Petition Nos.22657 of 1991 and 37023 of 1994. The first writ petition was filed by the Mission through B.D. Mahajan (member of Group-I) claiming himself to be the Secretary of the Mission challenging the validity of action of the Registrar and Assistant Registrar of Firms, Societies and Chits, who had refused to recognise the working committee of the Mission headed by members of Group-I. The second writ petition was also filed on behalf of the Mission through Umesh Chandra Saxena claiming himself to be the President of the Mission impleading Registrar, Assistant Registrar, Firms, Societies and Chits along with Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and others as respondents. Challenge in the second writ petition was to the order dated September 29, 1994 passed by the Assistant Registrar. A mandamus was also sought for a declaration that Umesh Chandra Saxena was the successor President of the Mission. Further declaration was sought that the deed dated April 16, 1982 was valid and the nomination deed dated March 23, 1974 was forged and invalid. These two writ petitions were connected with Testamentary Suit No.1 of 1994. After decision in Testamentary Suit No.1 of 1994, there was a direction that aforesaid two writ petitions be listed along with Original Suit Nos.200 of 1983 and 127 of 1994. The aforesaid suits were decided separately. Writ Petition No.22657 of 1991 was not pressed and the same was dismissed as withdrawn. Writ Petition No.37023 of 1994 was dismissed on merits giving rise to Special Appeal No.580 of 1997. The following observations made by the Division Bench of this Court are quite relevant for the issues sought to be raised:-

"According to the Rules of the Society, the post of the President was not an elective one, nor were the members of the working committee to be elected. The rules required the President to nominate the members of the working committee. The Act requires that a Society is to be formed by a memorandum of association and registration by at least seven persons associated with the society. The memorandum of association is to contain the name of the society, the objects of the society, and the names, addresses and occupations of the governors, council, directors, committee, or other governing body to whom, by the rules of the society the management of its affairs is entrusted. A copy of the rules and regulations of the society, certified to be a correct copy by not less than three of the members of the governing body, is to be filed with the memorandum of association. When such memorandum and certified copy of the rules with the required particulars are presented by the Secretary of the Society before the Registrar, he shall certify under his hand that the society is registered under this Act. A registration fee is to be paid for this purpose. Section 3-A of this Act speaks of renewal of certificate of registration. Once a society is registered and a certificate of registration is issued, it would remain in force for a period of five years from the date of issue. If any question arises whether any society is entitled to get itself registered in accordance with Section 3 or to get the certificate of registration renewed, the matter shall be referred to the State Government, as provided in Section 3-B of the Act. Section 4 of the Act requires that once in every year, on or before the fourteenth day succeeding the day which, according to the rules of the society, the annual general meeting of the society is held, or, if the rules do not provide for an annual general meeting in the month of January, a list shall be filed with the Registrar giving the names, addresses and occupations of the governors council, directors, committee, or other governing body then entrusted with the management of the affairs of the society. If at all the managing committee is elected, then the signatures of the old elected members shall be obtained in the list. As observed the rules of the society do not speak of an elected President or an elected working committee. Section 25 of the Act covers disputes regarding election of office-bearers and the Registrar's intervention is possible on his satisfaction that any election of office-bearers of a society has not been held within the time specified in the rules. If there be no election provided in the rules, naturally Section 25(1) or (2) of the Act would not come into play. The applications before the Registrar, however, proposed an interference under Section 25(2) of the Act and the Registrar refused to interfere not on the ground that no election was necessary but on another ground that the matter was sub judice before the High Court. It is true that the Registrar in this application had no authority to direct any body to continue in office, but that is to be read not as a direction but as a reiteration of an interim order given by the High Court. Looking from this angle the very application before the Assistant Registrar for action under Section 25(2) of the Act was untenable and so was the writ petition against the order of the Registrar, when the Registrar had no authority to take action under Section 25(2) of the Act, a writ could not have been issued for performance of any duty under that section. Although this approach to the subject and the reasoning for this order are different from the approach and reasoning of the Hon'ble single Judge, we are of the view that the writ petition was rightly dismissed as not tenable."

(iv) Special Appeal No.594 of 1997 arose out of order dated July 10, 1997 passed by this Court in Original Suit No.127 of 1997 on an application filed for dismissing the writ petition as withdrawn with liberty to file a fresh. The said application was allowed permitting withdrawal of the suit with liberty to file a fresh subject to payment of ₹2,000/- as costs.

(v) The aforesaid four Special Appeals were dismissed with costs vide common judgment and order dated November 24, 1998 in conformity with the observation made by the learned Single Judge in the judgments and orders impugned therein.

(vi) It may be relevant to note here that all the arguments raised by Umesh Chandra Saxena regarding election/nomination as President of the Mission were considered and it was opined that the writ petitions were totally misconceived and were rightly dismissed by the learned Single Judge.

(vii) The argument with reference to Section 25 of the Act regarding election/nomination as President of the Mission/Society was considered and rejected. It was held therein that once the bye-laws and constitution of the Mission did not provide for any election, the provisions of Section 25 of the Act could not be invoked. The aforesaid judgment attained finality as it was not challenged. The same issue cannot be permitted to be addressed again claiming that the office of the President was an elected office especially when there is no fee prescribed for membership, the society being spiritual.

(H) Original Suit No.697 of 1995

(i) The aforesaid suit was filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena (member of Group-I) claiming himself to be the President of the Mission against Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and two other followers of the Mission.

(ii) The relief claimed therein was for declaring him as President of the Mission and further for restraining the defendant No.1 Parthasarthi Rajgopalachari from interfering in the peaceful working of the Mission. The suit was filed much after the amendment in the Act, claiming nomination as President though now argument raised is that elections are required to be held.

(iii) In the aforesaid suit, an application was filed by the defendants for rejection of plaint under Order 7 Rule 11 C.P.C. The aforesaid application was allowed and the plaint was rejected vide order dated May 31, 1999.

(iv) The aforesaid order was challenged by Umesh Chandra Saxena by filing Civil Appeal No.219 of 1999. The aforesaid appeal was dismissed vide order dated January 11, 2001 on the ground that no cause of action had been disclosed and the same was also time barred.

(v) Still not satisfied, Second Appeal No.884 of 2001 was filed against the aforesaid orders of the court below, which was also dismissed by this Court vide order dated November 26, 2001.

(I) Original Suit No.4 of 1999

(i) The aforesaid suit was filed by two followers of the Mission impleading Umesh Chandra Saxena and Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari as defendant Nos.1 and 2 respectively, claiming that the plaintiffs are the Manager and Office Superintendent of the Mission. It was stated that though defendant No.1 in the suit, namely, Umesh Chandra Saxena was appointed as President of the Mission vide Will deed executed by late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj on April 16, 1982, still he was refusing to accept the status of the plaintiffs as such.

(ii) A perusal of the plaint shows that it was pleaded therein that late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj executed a Will on December 30, 1976 on a plain paper nominating Umesh Chandra Saxena and his younger brother Sarvesh Chandra Saxena as his legal heirs. As late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj apprehended that the aforesaid Will deed dated April 16, 1982 could be misused, he made another declaration dated April 17, 1982 on the letter pad of the Mission giving exclusive right of the Mission to defendant No.1 (Umesh Chandra Saxena) only.

(iii) It was yet another device coined by Umesh Chandra Saxena to succeed in its ulterior motive to usurp the properties of the Mission after failing in the Testamentary Suit No.1 of 1994 filed by him claiming inheritance on the basis of will allegedly executed by late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj on December 30, 1976.

(iv) The aforesaid suit was dismissed on May 10, 1999. The appeal against the aforesaid order was also dismissed on January 5, 2004.

(J) Original Suit No.587 of 1999

(i) Reference of the aforesaid suit is available in paragraph 50 of the impugned judgment of the learned Single Judge. It is stated to be a suit filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena. The same was dismissed as withdrawn unconditionally on November 26, 2001. Meaning thereby, any further suit for the same relief will not be maintainable.

(K) Original Suit No.360 of 2000

(i) The aforesaid suit was filed by certain followers of the Mission praying for restraining Umesh Chandra Saxena from interfering in the working of the Mission. Vide order dated November 27, 2000 passed by the Civil Judge (Senior Division) the defendants were restrained from collecting any donation on behalf of the Mission and also from showing any relation with the Mission. They were further restrained from damaging the properties of the Mission or changing the nature thereof.

(ii) In the aforesaid suit, Umesh Chandra Saxena (defendant) filed an application under Order 7 Rule 11 C.P.C. which was dismissed on November 27, 2000. The aforesaid order was challenged by Umesh Chandra Saxena by filing Civil Misc. Writ Petition No.53330 of 2000 before this Court. The same was dismissed vide judgment dated November 19, 2002 (reported in 2002 All.C.J. 1510). Meaning thereby, rejection of the application filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena under Order 7 Rule 11 C.P.C. was upheld and the interim stay granted in favour of the plaintiffs therein was confirmed. Strong observation was made by this Court in paragraph 52 of the aforesaid judgment, which is extracted below:-

"52. So far as the question as to whether the suit is barred by the provisions of the Societies Registration Act is concerned, it may be stated that according to the plaint allegations, the petitioner who is defendant in the suit, had not been successful in his effort to claim himself as President of the Mission as legally elected, nominated President of the Mission as would be clear from a series of litigations referred to above. The petitioner has not brought any material on record to establish his claim that he is the elected/nominated President of the Mission. Mere claiming that he is President of the Mission without any material in support thereof would not be sufficient to invoke the provisions of the Societies Registration Act in so far as the relief of election dispute is concerned. Thus, the provisions of the Societies Registration Act would not be applicable in a case, which has been filed against the rank trespasser who has no connection at all with the society and is interfering in the affairs of the Society by raising funds in the name of the Society by claiming himself to be President thereof."

(emphasis supplied)

(iii) It has been observed in the aforesaid judgment that Umesh Chandra Saxena had not been successful in his efforts to get himself declared as legally elected or nominated President of the Mission despite series of litigations. Umesh Chandra Saxena filed an application for review of the aforesaid order dated November 19, 2002. While the aforesaid review application was pending, he filed Special Leave Petition No.6585 of 2003 before Hon'ble the Supreme Court, which was dismissed on July 25, 2003.

(iv) After the death of Umesh Chandra Saxena on November 3, 2003, his legal representatives were brought on record vide order dated January 30, 2004. On the same day, vide separate order passed by the Court, the interim injunction already granted in the suit, was ordered to be continued against the newly impleaded legal representatives also. Thereafter started series of litigations in this Court, details thereof have already been mentioned in paragraph 3 of this judgment. The fact remains that in all their efforts Umesh Chandra Saxena and his sons had failed to usurp the properties of the Mission.

(L) Original Suit No.403 of 2003

(i) The aforesaid suit was filed in the court of Civil Judge (Senior Division), Shahjahanpur by the Mission through K.V. Reddy (member of Group-I), claiming himself to be elected Secretary of the Mission, against Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari pleading that annual election of the Society/Mission was held on February 6, 2003 in which Umesh Chandra Saxena was elected as President. Despite his election as the President of the Mission, defendant in the said suit namely, Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari was still claiming himself to be the President of the Mission. A declaration was sought that the nomination dated March 23, 1974 in favour of Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari be declared as invalid and inoperative and he should be permanently restrained from claiming himself to be the President of the plaintiff's Society.

(ii) Though it is stated to be dispute between two warring groups to retain control of the Mission, however, still the person, who was claiming to have rightful control over the Mission, was not before the Court, rather it was the Mission which filed the suit. In fact, from the series of the litigations, it is evident that Umesh Chandra Saxena had been trying to have proxy litigation in the matter by not coming in front in number of such cases.

(iii) In the aforesaid suit again, an application under Order 7 Rule 11 C.P.C. was filed by the defendant, which was accepted by the court vide order dated February 10, 2010.

(iv) It was claimed that the aforesaid order was challenged by filing an appeal. Though the said appeal is stated to be pending, however, the same may not be of any use for the reason, as stated by the learned counsel for the respondents, that during pendency thereof, Parthasarthi Rajgopalachari died on December 20, 2014 and even K.V. Reddy, who was representing the Mission, a statutory body, claiming to be its alleged Secretary, had also expired during pendency of appeal and no application for substitution or for bringing their legal representatives on record was filed.

(v) From number of litigations, which have been referred to above and in the preceding paragraphs, it is evident that when objective of Umesh Chandra Saxena failed at the initial stage to retain control of the Mission, the litigation was never pursued further as either it was withdrawn or remained pending.

(M) Civil Misc. Writ Petition No.3091 (MS) of 2005

(i) Though the jurisdiction to entertain the lis between the parties is at principal seat at Allahabad and all other cases were filed here but still the Mission now represented by Navneet Kumar Saxena and Amresh Kumar, sons of late Umesh Chandra Saxena claiming to be elected Member of the working committee filed the aforesaid writ petition at Lucknow Bench of this Court raising a grievance that before deciding the lis, the Assistant Registrar, Firms, Societies and Chits, Bareilly should not be influenced with the observations made by the Registrar of the Societies in his letter dated November 4, 2009. The same was disposed of on May 21, 2010. Though the dispute is pertaining to be of the management of the Mission where two groups are fighting but still the writ petition was filed by the Mission.

(ii) Having come to know about filing of the writ petition and the order passed therein, an application was filed by Uma Shanker Bajpai, Secretary of the Mission for recall of the order dated May 21, 2010. It was pleaded that the writ petition was totally misconceived and material facts were concealed from the Court. It was claimed that issue regarding Committee of Management had already been settled by the Assistant Registrar by the order dated December 19, 2009 and aggrieved against that order the writ petitioner in the writ petition in question had filed Writ Petition No.5034 of 2010 at Allahabad. The aforesaid application was allowed vide order dated May 30, 2012 with the following observations:

"Upon perusal of the record, I find that by means of application dated 28th of June, 2010 submitted by the petitioners before the Assistant Registrar, Firms, Societies and Chits, Bareilly, the petitioners have very much tried to get recall the order dated 19th of December, 2009 treating the same as an exparte order under the strength of order passed by this court in the instant writ petition, whereas except this I do not find that he had made any other prayer to get decided any other dispute allegedly pending before the Assistant Registrar, Firms, Societies and Chits, Bareilly. I am further of the view that once the order passed by the Assistant Registrar, may be exparte order, on 19th of December, 2009 is under adjudication by this court at Allahabad through writ petition No.5034 of 2010, there was no occasion to seek the recall of the same under the garb of the order passed in the instant writ petition, whereas, it was open for the petitioner to move an appropriate application before this court at Allahabad in the said writ petition for an appropriate order either to decide the writ petition itself or to issue any direction to the Assistant Registrar to pass a fresh order, but there was no occasion for the petitioners to move such an application. Thus, misrepresentation of facts made by the petitioners cannot be denied, rather it is well established. That itself leads to dismiss the writ petition with heavy costs. "

(iii) Order dated May 21, 2010 was recalled and the writ petition was dismissed with cost of ₹10,000/-. Special Appeal against the said order is stated to be pending. However, the same is of no relevance as much water has flown thereafter.

Litigations claiming right on the basis of Will dated December 30, 1976 and Nomination dated April 16, 1982

46. Claiming right on the basis of Will allegedly executed by late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj dated December 30, 1976, firstly Testamentary Suit No.1 of 1994 was filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena, which was dismissed on October 16, 1995 finding that the relief prayed for could not possibly be granted in testamentary proceedings.

47. Civil Misc. Writ Petition No.37023 of 1994 was filed on behalf of the Mission through Umesh Chandra Saxena claiming himself to be the President of the Mission impleading Registrar, Assistant Registrar, Firms, Societies and Chits along with Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and others as respondents, inter alia, seeking a declaration that Umesh Chandra Saxena was the successor President of the Mission. Further declaration was sought that the deed dated April 16, 1982 was valid and the nomination deed dated March 23, 1974 was forged and invalid. The aforesaid writ petition was dismissed on merits giving rise to Special Appeal No.580 of 1997, which was dismissed on November 24, 1998

48. Suit No.697 of 1995 was filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena, claiming himself to be the President of the Mission praying for a declaration that Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari is not the President of the Mission and he be restrained from acting as such. It was claimed that during his lifetime, the founder President Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj had nominated plaintiff No.2, namely, Umesh Chandra Saxena as the spiritual representative in the direct line of succession and as his successor President of the Mission. The aforesaid suit was dismissed on May 31, 1999, Civil Appeal No.219 of 1999 filed before the learned lower appellate Court, was dismissed on January 11, 2001 and Second Appeal No.884 of 2001 filed against the aforesaid judgment, was also dismissed by this Court vide order dated November 26, 2001. In the aforesaid suit, claim made by Umesh Chandra Saxena was on the basis of his nomination as President by Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj during his lifetime.

49. Original Suit No.4 of 1999 was got filed by certain followers of the Mission impleading Umesh Chandra Saxena and Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari as defendant Nos.1 and 2 respectively, claiming that the plaintiffs are the Manager and Office Superintendent of the Mission. It was stated that though defendant No.1 in the suit, namely, Umesh Chandra Saxena was appointed as President of the Mission vide Will deed executed by late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj on April 16, 1982, still he was refusing to accept the status of the plaintiffs as such. The said suit is stated to have been dismissed on May 10, 1999 and Civil Appeal No.90 of 1999 filed against the same was also dismissed on January 5, 2004.

50. Umesh Chandra Saxena claiming right on the basis of Will and Nomination, filed an application in Original Suit No.200 of 1983 praying for his impleadment. Impleadment was sought pleading that Umesh Chandra Saxena was nominated as President of the Mission vide deed dated April 16, 1982 whereas defendant No.1 Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari and his associates were trying to usurp the management of the Mission on the basis of a forged deed dated March 23, 1974. The application was rejected by this Court on May 24, 1996. and the Special Appeal filed against the said order was also dismissed.

Will dated June 7, 1999 allegedly executed by Umesh Chandra Saxena

51. The aforesaid document was referred to in the pleadings stated to be on record as Annexure CA-11 to the counter affidavit filed on behalf of respondent No.5 in Special Appeal No.676 of 2015. Umesh Chandra Saxena died on November 3, 2003. In the Will, he mentioned that he is the President of the Mission by succession and has the power to nominate its President. After his death his three sons, namely, Navneet Kumar Saxena, Suneet Kumar Saxena and Puneet Kumar Saxena would inherit his entire moveable and immoveable properties. He further stated that he nominates his three sons as the successors in the Mission and after his death they will collectively appoint any person as the President of the Mission.

52. The narration in the aforesaid Will executed by Umesh Chandra Saxena fortifies his effort to usurp the properties of the Mission by treating the same to be his private property. The efforts in which he failed time and again during his life time. Though it was sought to be argued that process of election has to be followed for appointment of the President but even after the amendments in the Act, which are now sought to be relied upon, in the Will executed by Umesh Chandra Saxena, the Mission was sought to be handed over to his legal representatives with power to nominate the President.

53. It may be out of place if not mentioned here that there was an interim order passed by the court in Civil Suit No.360 of 2000 restraining Umesh Chandra Saxena from dealing with the properties of the Mission in any manner whatsoever. Despite this fact, he claimed himself to be self styled President of the Mission.

IMPLEADMENT OF THE PARTIES

54. In Special Appeal No.676 of 2015 arising out of Writ-C No.5034 of 2010, it is admitted on record that list of 17 members of the working committee was approved by the Assistant Registrar. Though challenge was to the approval of list of members of the working committee, however, only two of the members were impleaded as parties and not others. In absence of impleadment of all the members as respondents, no relief could possibly be granted to the petitioners/appellants therein, as the same would adversely affect their right in case the orders impugned in the writ petitions are set-aside.

55. In Writ-C Nos.24214 of 2005, 41630, 41631 of 2012, 48669 of 2013 and 30767 of 2014 also though challenge was made to the approvals of the working committee for the different years, however, only two or three of the members were impleaded as parties and not all the members. Hence, in the aforesaid writ petitions also, no relief could possibly be granted.

56. Though the members of Group-I were never accepted either as President or the Member of the working committee of the Mission but still they had been filing the cases representing the Mission, which was totally illegal. It was a dispute between two warrior groups.

Writ-C No.7139 of 2016

57. The aforesaid writ petition was filed by Navneet Kumar Saxena claiming himself to be the elected President of the Mission along with Dinesh Kumar and Amresh Kumar (members of Group-I), inter alia, praying for quashing the orders dated February 21, 2015 and October 12, 2015. By order dated February 21, 2015, the list of members of the working committee for the year 2015-2016 submitted by respondent No.4, namely, Uma Shankar Bajpai was approved and by order dated October 12, 2015 the registration certificate of the Society/Mission for the period 2015-2020 was renewed in favour of respondent No.4. In our view, in view of the aforesaid discussions, this writ petition also deserves to be dismissed as no relief can possibly be granted therein.

CONCLUSIONS

58. Though we are in full agreement with the judgment of the learned Single Judge, however, from the aforesaid conspectus of facts and circumstances discussed above, following additional conclusions have been drawn:

(i) Though in the first meeting held in July, 1983, after the death of Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj, Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari staked his claim on the basis of his nomination in the year 1974 in presence of Umesh Chandra Saxena, however, Umesh Chandra Saxena did not claim himself to be the nominated President of the Mission pursuant to alleged nomination claimed to have been done vide deed dated April 16, 1982. Nomination of Umesh Chandra Saxena vide deed dated April 16, 1982 had not been pleaded in Original Suit No.200 of 1983 filed on December 26, 1983. For the first time, the plea regarding nomination of Umesh Chandra Saxena through the aforesaid deed was taken in Writ Petition No.37023 of 1994, which was filed challenging the nomination of Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari through the nomination deed dated December 30, 1976. This conduct of Umesh Chandra Saxena casts serious doubt on the genuineness of the deed dated April 16, 1982.

(ii) Various litigations were filed by Umesh Chandra Saxena claiming right on the basis of Will and Nomination alleged to have been executed by late Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj, which were dismissed and the orders passed therein had attained finality. Hence now he or his successors in interest cannot be permitted to claim right on the aforesaid basis.

(iii) Vide interim order dated August 9, 2000, the defendant Umesh Chandra Saxena was restrained; first from destroying the Mission's properties in dispute; second from posing himself as the President of the Mission and thereby interfering in the working and management of the affairs of the Mission and third from collecting the money in the name of the Mission and converting the aim of the Mission from philanthropic and spiritual to commercial one. Despite this fact, all the aforesaid writ petitions were filed by the Mission claiming to be through its elected President. The same were clearly in violation of the interim order passed by the court below.

(iv) After dismissal of the aforesaid writ petitions by the learned Single Judge vide impugned judgment, the Mission has filed a set of 11 Special Appeals through Navneet Kumar Saxena (son of Umesh Chandra Saxena) claiming himself to be elected President of the Mission along with other members of Group-I despite the fact that vide order dated January 30, 2005 passed by the learned Civil Judge in Civil Suit No.360 of 2000, the interim injunction was ordered to be continued even against the sons of late Umesh Chandra Saxena including Navneet Kumar Saxena, who had filed the present appeals. Hence, Navneet Kumar Saxena had no right to file the present appeals on behalf of the Mission claiming himself to be President of the Mission.

(v) A Division Bench of this Court, while deciding Special Appeal Nos.829 of 1995, 561 of 1996, 580 and 594 of 1997 vide judgment and order dated November 24, 1998, having already considered and rejected the issues including the issue with reference to Section 25 of the Act pertaining to election/nomination, which are sought to be raised by the appellants in the present Special Appeals, the same cannot be permitted to be addressed again.

(vi) As far as the writ petitions, namely, Writ-C Nos.66631 of 2005, 5034 of 2010, 24214 of 2011, 41630, 41631 of 2012, 48669 of 2013 and 30767 of 2014 are concerned, in the said writ petitions, challenge was to the orders of approval of the list of members of the working committee of the Mission for seven years i.e. 2005-2006 and from 2009-2010 to 2014-2015. As was claimed by the learned counsel for the respondents that the list of the members of the working committee for the period subsequent thereto had been approved and the same were not challenge by the appellants except for the year 2020-2021 by means of Writ-C No.16788 of 2021, hence, they having accepted the approval of the list of the members of the working committee for the period subsequent to one under challenge in the present litigation, nothing survive in the Special Appeals arising out of the aforesaid writ petitions.

(vii) The averments made in paragraph 4 in the plaint of Original Suit No.142 of 1986 is that the Spiritual Representative nominee of the Master was and is Sri Parthasaarthi Rajagopalachari of Madras, who after the Mahasamadhi of the Master become the President of the Society and is discharging the functions as such, was admitted by Umesh Chandra Saxena himself in his written statement dated August 21, 1986 filed in the aforesaid suit. As the claim in the aforesaid suit was accepted by Umesh Chandra Saxena, the same was withdrawn. Hence, now he cannot be permitted to dispute the status of Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari.

(viii) Though challenge in most of the writ petition was to the orders by which the list of members of the working committee for different years was approved, however, only two or three of the members were impleaded as parties and not all the members. Hence, in the aforesaid writ petitions also, no relief could possibly be granted, as the same suffer from non joinder of necessary parties.

(ix) On the one hand, the claim of the appellants throughout is that the President of the Mission has to be elected but on the other hand initially Umesh Chandra Saxena claimed his right on the basis of nomination and now his son Navneet Kumar Saxena is claiming his right on the basis of Will executed by Umesh Chandra Saxena. Hence, the appellants cannot be permitted to blow hot and cold in the same breath.

(x) Though the members of Group-I were never accepted either as President or the Member of the working committee of the Mission but still they had been filing the cases representing the Mission, which was totally illegal.

(xi) It is claimed to be a spiritual Mission. Though the members of Group-I, ever since the death of Shree Ram Chandra Ji Maharaj on April 19, 1983, are trying to get control over the property of Mission and its management and further Umesh Kumar Saxena even executed a Will pertaining thereto but still nothing was pointed out at the time of hearing by learned counsel for the appellants that the affairs of the Mission were mismanaged by the working committee as approved by the Assistant Registrar, Firms, Societies and Chits.

CONCEALMENT OF FACTS

59. In paragraph 78 of the judgment of learned Single Judge details have been mentioned with reference to concealment of fact by the appellants before the Court. It is with reference to various litigations. Number of judgments have been referred to and were cited by learned counsel for the respondents for taking the cognizance. The plea is that for the same relief successive writ petitions be not entertained. The concealments detailed in paragraph 78 of the impugned judgment are as under:-

(i) passing of judgment dated 25.2.1985 in FAFO No.439 of 1984, holding that Mr. Parthasarthi Rajagopalachari is President;

(ii) filing of writ petition No.22657 of 1991 unauthorizedly in the name of Society and Mr. S.P. Srivastava and Mr. B.D. Mahajan and its dismissal on 10.7.1997;

(iii) filing of writ petition No.37023 of 1994 unauthorizedly in the name of Society and by Mr. U.C. Saxena and its dismissal dated 10.7.1997.

(iv) filing of Testamentary Case No.1 of 1993 converted into Testamentary Suit No.1 of 1994, its dismissal on 16.10.1995;

(v) filing of Special Appeal No.829 of 1995, its dismissal on 24.11.1999;

(vi) filing of O.S. No.697 of 1995 falsely in the name of society and Mr. U.C. Saxena in the Court of Civil Judge (Senior Division), Allahabad, its rejection on 31.5.1999;

(vii) passing of consolidated judgment dated 24.11.1998 in Special Appeals;

(viii) filing of Civil Appeal No.219 of 1999, its dismissal on 11.1.2001;

(ix) filing of Suit No.4 of 1999;

(x) filing of Suit No.587 of 1999;

(xi) filing of Civil Appeal No.90 of 1999;

(xii) filing of writ petition no.53330 of 2000 against other part of order dated 27.11.2000 by which prayer of Mr. U.C. Saxena was rejected;

(xiii) passing of order dated 9.8.2000 in O.S. No.360 of 2000;

(xiv) passing of order dated 27.11.2000 in O.S. No.360 of 2000;

(xv) filing of Appeal No.15 of 2001 by Mr. U.C. Saxena;

(xvi) filing of FAFO No.1119 of 2004;

(xvii) filing of writ petition No.40035 of 2004 and its order dated 05.10.2004;

(xviii) filing of Revision No.66 of 2004 and its dismissal on 19.7.2005;

(xix) filing of O.S. No.403 of 2003 and its dismissal on 10.2.2010;

(xx) filing of written statement of Mr. U.C. Saxena in O.S. No.142 of 1986 in which he said that he will not claim any office in the society;

(xxi) execution of Will by Mr. U.C. Saxena dated 07.6.1999 wherein he said that he obtained the office of President of Society by way of "mRrjkf/kdkj" and together with he is nominated him the sons as future President under the constitution and bye-laws of the society;

(xxii) non-raising plea of election in the last 16 years, despite amendment having been made on 30.4.1984;

(xxiii) other facts."

60. At the time of hearing, with regard to facts noticed in paragraph 78 of the impugned judgment pertaining to concealment of material facts from this Court in the pleadings in different writ petitions, no arguments were addressed. The same remained undisputed.

61. A perusal of pleadings in various writ petitions filed by the appellants shows that in most of them there were election dispute except in Writ-C No.37023 of 1994 and 53330 of 2000. Only brief reference has been made to the previous litigations without giving much details. From the facts, as noticed above, it is clear that all the writ petitions, civil suits or other kind of litigations initiated by the appellants or the persons associated with them, have relation with controlling the management and usurping the properties of the Mission. Hence, there was concealment of material facts from this Court by the appellants.

62. In addition to that, fully knowing that the jurisdiction to entertain the lis between the parties was at Allahabad and all other cases were filed and pending there, still Writ Petition No.3091 (M/S) of 2010 was filed at Lucknow concealing the aforesaid fact. Though the aforesaid writ petition was initially allowed but later on the order allowing the writ petition was recalled and the writ petition was dismissed with cost.

63. The issue regarding approaching the Court by concealing the facts has been examined by Hon'ble the Supreme Court on number of occasions and it has been opined that the same is polluting the stream of justice.

64. In Abhyudya Sanstha Vs. Union of India, (2011) 6 SCC 145, Hon'ble the Supreme Court, while declining relief to the petitioners therein, who did not approach the court with clean hands, opined as under :-

"18. ... In our view, the appellants deserve to be non suited because they have not approached the Court with clean hands. The plea of inadvertent mistake put forward by the learned senior counsel for the appellants and their submission that the Court may take lenient view and order regularisation of the admissions already made sounds attractive but does not merit acceptance. Each of the appellants consciously made a statement that it had been granted recognition by the NCTE, which necessarily implies that recognition was granted in terms of Section 14 of the Act read with Regulations 7 and 8 of the 2007 Regulations. Those managing the affairs of the appellants do not belong to the category of innocent, illiterate/uneducated persons, who are not conversant with the relevant statutory provisions and the court process. The very fact that each of the appellants had submitted LPASW No. 82/2019 Page 7 application in terms of Regulation 7 and made itself available for inspection by the team constituted by WRC, Bhopal shows that they were fully aware of the fact that they can get recognition only after fulfilling the conditions specified in the Act and the Regulations and that WRC, Bhopal had not granted recognition to them. Notwithstanding this, they made bold statement that they had been granted recognition by the competent authority and thereby succeeded in persuading this Court to entertain the special leave petitions and pass interim orders. The minimum, which can be said about the appellants is that they have not approached the Court with clean hands and succeeded in polluting the stream of justice by making patently false statement. Therefore, they are not entitled to relief under Article 136 of the Constitution. This view finds support from plethora of precedents.

19. In Hari Narain v. Badri Das AIR 1963 SC 1558, G. Narayanaswamy Reddy v. Govt. of Karnataka (1991) 3 SCC 261 and large number of other cases, this Court denied relief to the petitioner/appellant on the ground that he had not approached the Court with clean hands. In Hari Narain v. Badri Das (supra), the Court revoked the leave granted to the appellant and observed:

"It is of utmost importance that in making material statements and setting forth grounds in applications for special leave made under Article 136 of the Constitution, care must be taken not to make any statements which are inaccurate, untrue or misleading. In dealing with applications for special leave, the Court naturally takes statements of fact and grounds of fact contained in the petitions at their face value and it LPASW No. 82/2019 Page 8 would be unfair to betray the confidence of the Court by making statements which are untrue and misleading. Thus, if at the hearing of the appeal the Supreme Court is satisfied that the material statements made by the appellant in his application for special leave are inaccurate and misleading, and the respondent is entitled to contend that the appellant may have obtained special leave from the Supreme Court on the strength of what he characterises as misrepresentations of facts contained in the petition for special leave, the Supreme Court may come to the conclusion that in such a case special leave granted to the appellant ought to be revoked."

20. In G. Narayanaswamy Reddy v. Govt. of Karnataka's case (supra), the Court while noticing the fact regarding the stay order passed by the High Court which prevented passing of the award by the Land Acquisition Officer within the prescribed time period was concealed and in the aforesaid context, it observed that:

"2. ... Curiously enough, there is no reference in the special leave petitions to any of the stay orders and we came to know about these orders only when the respondents appeared in response to the notice and filed their counter- affidavit. In our view, the said interim orders have a direct bearing on the question raised and the non-disclosure of the same certainly amounts to suppression of material facts. On this ground alone, the special leave petitions are liable to be rejected. It is well settled in law that the relief under Article 136 of the Constitution is discretionary and a petitioner who approaches this Court for such relief must come with frank and full disclosure of facts. If he fails to do so and suppresses material facts, his application is liable to be dismissed. We accordingly dismiss the special leave petitions."

21. In Dalip Singh v. State of U.P., (2010) 2 SCC 114, Hon'ble the Supreme Court noticed the progressive decline in the values of life and observed:

"1. For many centuries Indian society cherished two basic values of life i.e. "satya" (truth) and "ahinsa" (non-violence). Mahavir, Gautam Buddha and Mahatma Gandhi guided the people to ingrain these values in their daily life. Truth constituted an integral part of the justice- delivery system which was in vogue in the pre-Independence era and the people used to feel proud to tell truth in the courts irrespective of the consequences. However, post-Independence period has seen drastic changes in our value system. The materialism has overshadowed the old ethos and the quest for personal gain has become so intense that those involved in litigation do not hesitate to take shelter of falsehood, misrepresentation and suppression of facts in the court proceedings.

2. In the last 40 years, a new creed of litigants has cropped up. Those who belong to this creed do not have any respect for truth. They shamelessly resort to falsehood and unethical means for achieving their goals. In order to meet the challenge posed by this new creed of litigants, the courts have, from time to time, evolved new rules and it is now well established that a litigant, who attempts to pollute the stream of justice or who touches the pure fountain of justice with tainted hands, is not entitled to any relief, interim or final." (emphasis supplied)

65. In Moti Lal Songara Vs. Prem Prakash @ Pappu and another (2013) 9 SCC 199, Hon'ble the Supreme Court, considering the issue regarding concealment of facts before the Court, while observing that "court is not a laboratory where children come to play", opined as under:

"19. The second limb of the submission is whether in the obtaining factual matrix, the order passed by the High Court discharging the accused-respondent is justified in law. We have clearly stated that though the respondent was fully aware about the fact that charges had been framed against him by the learned trial Judge, yet he did not bring the same to the notice of the revisional court hearing the revision against the order taking cognizance. It is a clear case of suppression. It was within the special knowledge of the accused. Any one who takes recourse to method of suppression in a court of law, is, in actuality, playing fraud with the court, and the maxim supressio veri, expression faisi , i.e., suppression of the truth is equivalent to the expression of falsehood, gets attracted. We are compelled to say so as there has been a calculated concealment of the fact before the revisional court. It can be stated with certitude that the accused- respondent tried to gain advantage by such factual suppression. The fraudulent intention is writ large. In fact, he has shown his courage of ignorance and tried to play possum.

20. The High Court, as we have seen, applied the principle "when infrastructure collapses, the superstructure is bound to collapse". However, as the order has been obtained by practising fraud and suppressing material fact before a court of law to gain advantage, the said order cannot be allowed to stand." (emphasis supplied)

66. Similar view has been expressed in Amar Singh v. Union of India and others, (2011)7 SCC 69 and Kishore Samrite v. State of Uttar Pradesh and others, (2013)2 SCC 398.

67. In a recent judgment in ABCD Vs. Union of India and others (2020) 2 SCC 52, Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the matter where material facts had been concealed, while issuing notice to the petitioner therein, exercising its suo-motu contempt power, observed as under :

"15. Making a false statement on oath is an offence punishable under Section 181 of the IPC while furnishing false information with intent to cause public servant to use his lawful power to the injury of another person is punishable under Section 182 of the IPC. These offences by virtue of Section 195(1)(a)(i) of the Code can be taken cognizance of by any court only upon a proper complaint in writing as stated in said Section. In respect of matters coming under Section 195(1)(b)(i) of the Code, in Pushpadevi M. Jatia v. M.L. Wadhawan etc., (1987) 3 SCC 367 prosecution was directed to be launched after prima facie satisfaction was recorded by this Court.

16. It has also been laid down by this Court in Chandra Shashi v. Anil Kumar Verma (1995) 1 SCC 421 that a person who makes an attempt to deceive the court, interferes with the administration of justice and can be held guilty of contempt of court. In that case a husband who had filed a fabricated document to oppose the prayer of his wife seeking transfer of matrimonial proceedings was found guilty of contempt of court and sentenced to two weeks imprisonment. It was observed as under:

"1. The stream of administration of justice has to remain unpolluted so that purity of court's atmosphere may give vitality to all the organs of the State. Polluters of judicial firmament are, therefore, required to be well taken care of to maintain the sublimity of court's environment; so also to enable it to administer justice fairly and to the satisfaction of all concerned.

2. Anyone who takes recourse to fraud, deflects the course of judicial proceedings; or if anything is done with oblique motive, the same interferes with the administration of justice. Such persons are required to be properly dealt with, not only to punish them for the wrong done, but also to deter others from indulging in similar acts which shake the faith of people in the system of administration of justice.

* * *

14. The legal position thus is that if the publication be with intent to deceive the court or one made with an intention to defraud, the same would be contempt, as it would interfere with administration of justice. It would, in any case, tend to interfere with the same. This would definitely be so if a fabricated document is filed with the aforesaid mens rea. In the case at hand the fabricated document was apparently to deceive the court; the intention to defraud is writ large. Anil Kumar is, therefore, guilty of contempt."

17. In K.D. Sharma Vs. Steel Authority of India Limited and others (2008) 12 SCC 481 it was observed:

"39. If the primary object as highlighted in Kensington Income Tax Commrs., (1917) 1 KB 486 : 86 LJKB 257 : 116 LT 136 (CA) is kept in mind, an applicant who does not come with candid facts and "clean breast" cannot hold a writ of the court with "soiled hands". Suppression or concealment of material facts is not an advocacy. It is a jugglery, manipulation, manoeuvring or misrepresentation, which has no place in equitable and prerogative jurisdiction. If the applicant does not disclose all the material facts fairly and truly but states them in a distorted manner and misleads the court, the court has inherent power in order to protect itself and to prevent an abuse of its process to discharge the rule nisi and refuse to proceed further with the examination of the case on merits. If the court does not reject the petition on that ground, the court would be failing in its duty. In fact, such an applicant requires to be dealt with for contempt of court for abusing the process of the court."

18. In Dhananjay Sharma Vs. State of Haryana and others (1995) 3 SCC 757 filing of a false affidavit was the basis for initiation of action in contempt jurisdiction and the concerned persons were punished."

68. It was held in the judgments referred to above that one of the two cherished basic values by Indian society for centuries is "satya" (truth) and the same has been put under the carpet by the petitioner. Truth constituted an integral part of the justice-delivery system in the pre-Independence era, however, post-Independence period has seen drastic changes in our value system. The materialism has overshadowed the old ethos and the quest for personal gain has become so intense that those involved in litigation do not hesitate to take shelter of falsehood, misrepresentation and suppression of facts in the court proceedings. In the last 40 years, the values have gone down and now a litigants can go to any extent to mislead the court. They have no respect for the truth. The principle has been evolved to meet the challenge posed by this new breed of litigants. Now it is well settled that a litigant, who attempts to pollute the stream of justice or who touches the pure fountain of justice with tainted hands, is not entitled to any relief, interim or final. Suppression of material facts from the court of law, is actually playing fraud with the court. The maxim supressio veri, expression faisi, i.e. suppression of the truth is equivalent to the expression of falsehood, gets attracted.

69. Keeping in view the aforesaid authoritative enunciation of law by Hon'ble the Supreme Court, in our view, the appellants do no deserve any relief from this Court, as they are not only guilty of concealment of material facts from the Court but had also indulged in forum shopping. They made efforts at all level to mislead the Court.

70. For the reasons mentioned above, we do not find any merit in the appeals and the writ petition. The same are dismissed with cost of Rs.1,00,000/- to be deposited by the appellants (except the Mission) with the Mission within one month from today.

(2022)05ILR A1147
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 07.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SANJAY KUMAR SINGH, J.

Criminal Misc. Bail Application No. 37253 of 2021

Chandra Prakash Sharma ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

Counsel for the Applicant:
Sri Virendra Pratap Singh, Sri Anurag Rai, Sri Birendra Singh

Counsel for the Opposite Parties:
G.A.

Criminal Law - Criminal Procedure Code,1973 - Sections 161, 164 & 439 - Indian Penal Code,1860 - Sections 354, 375, 376, 376(a) & 376(b) - Protection of Children From Sexual Offences (POSCO) Act -2012 - Sections 5 & 6 – Constitution of Indian, 1950 - Article 21 - Application for Bail – allegation of sexual offence - with a girl child aged about 8 years – Rape is a heinous crime - not only against the victim but also against the society as well violates the fundamental rights of victims - it is the duty of court to maintain trust of a common man / victims to take right decision at right time – plea of accused about that depth of penetration shall not be acceptable in an offence of rape – Bail application rejected. (Para –6, 7, 8)

Bail Application Rejected. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Madan Gopal Kakkad Vs Naval Dubey & anr., (1992 vol. 3 SCC 204).

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sanjay Kumar Singh, J.)

1- Heard Mr. Virendra Pratap Singh, learned counsel for the applicant, Mr. Rabindra Kumar Singh learned Additional Government Advocate assisted by Mr. Ajay Singh, learned Brief holder representing the State.

2- By means of this application under Section 439 of Cr.P.C., applicant, who is involved in Case Crime No. 219 of 2021, under Sections 354, 376 IPC and Sections 5/6 POCSO Act, police station Bansgaon, district Gorakhpur seeks enlargement on bail during the pendency of trial.

3- As per prosecution case, in brief, the complainant, who is mother of the victim lodged the first information report on 16.07.2021 at 17:07 hours with regard to an incident which took place on 16.07.2021 against the applicant Chandra Prakash Sharma for the alleged offence under Sections 354, 376 IPC and Sections 5/6 POCSO Act alleging inter alia that today on 16.07.2021, her daughter aged about 8 years went beside her house to pluck guava from guava tree where the applicant was kissing her daughter by sitting her on his lap and thereafter raped her by took off her panty. She came home and told the entire incident to her and her mother-in-law. Thereafter, on the same day, i.e., on 16.07.2021, the victim was medically examined in which doctor opined that sexual violence cannot be ruled out. Victim in her statements under Section 161 and 164 Cr.P.C. has made allegation of rape against the applicant reiterating the prosecution case as mentioned in the first information report. The statement of the victim recorded under Section 164 Cr.P.C. is reproduced herein below:-

"बयान अन्तर्गत धारा 164 आज दिनांक 28/07/2021 को उपरोक्त मुकदमा की बाल पीड़िता X को फोटो और हस्ताक्षर प्रमाणित कर थाना बांसगांव जनपद गोरखपुर के विवेचक मय महिला आरक्षी द्वारा बयान अन्तर्गत धारा 164 दं.प्र.सं. हेतु प्रस्तुत किया गया है बाल पीडिता की उम्र 7 वर्ष है तथा उसकी मनोदशा जानने हेतु निम्न प्रश्न पूछे गये है बाल पीडिता अपनी मां के साथ न्यायालय मे उपस्थित है

प्रश्न : तुम्हारा नाम क्या है

उत्तर : X

प्रश्न : तुम्हारे पिता का नाम क्या है

उत्तर : सोनू चौहान

प्रश्न : तुम किस कक्षा मे पढती हो

उत्तर : कक्षा 2

प्रश्न : तुम आज किस रंग का कपडा पहनी हो

उत्तर : लाल

प्रश्न : तुम्हारा उम्र क्या है

उत्तर : 7 वर्ष

प्रश्न : झूठ बोलना गलत है या नही

उत्तर : गलत

बाल पीडिता बयान हेतु सक्षम है बाल पीडिता का बयान प्रश्नोत्तर रूप मे अंकित किया जा रहा है

प्रश्न : तुम्हारे साथ क्या घटना हुयी थी

उत्तर : बाल पीडिता पूछने पर बता रही है कि मै और मेरी दोस्त अंशिका अमरूद खाने के लिये गये थे अंशिका पेड पर चढ़ गयी और मै नीचे खडी थी तभी एक लडका मुझे खींच लिया मै जब पीछे उसको देखी और चिल्लाने की कोशिश की तो वह मेरा मुह दबा दिया और शौचालय के पीछे ले गया अपना भी पैण्ट खोल दिया और मेरा भी मेरा चड्ढी खोल कर छूने लगे और अपना शूशू मेरे अन्दर डालने लगा मेरे साथ गलत काम किया मै किसी तरह अपना हाथ छुडा कर भाग आयी

प्रश्न : क्या तुम लड़का का नाम जानती हो

उत्तर : हा मेरी मम्मी बताई है उसका नाम चन्द प्रकाश है

प्रश्न : कुछ और कहना है

उत्तर : मै जब भागने लगी तो वह लड़का मुझे पकडने का कोशिश किया मेरी मां जब चन्द प्रकाश को डाटने के लिये पहुची तो मेरी मां को भी मारा

प्रश्न : घटना की सूचना किसको दिया

उत्तर : घटना के बारे मे मैने दादी को बताया

ह. पीडिता ह. अप. उपरोक्त लेखबद्ध बयान मेरे द्वारा पीडिता को पढकर सुनाया तथा समझाया गया जिसे उसने अक्षरशः सही होना बताया पीडिता ने अपना बयान अपनी स्वेच्छा से देना बताया है बयान का अवलोकन किया गया।"

4- It is submitted by learned counsel for the applicant that the applicant has been falsely implicated in this case. No mark of injury has been found on the body of the victim and hymen of the victim was found intact and no fresh injury or bleeding was seen at the time of her medical examination. The victim in her statement under Section 164 Cr.P.C. has not stated that the applicant has committed rape on her, as such, no offence is made out against him. The applicant does not have criminal history to his credit. His bail application has been wrongly rejected by the concerned Court below. Lastly, it is submitted by learned counsel for the applicant that the applicant is languishing in jail since 17.07.2021 and in case, the applicant is released on bail, he will not misuse the liberty of bail and cooperate with the trial.

5- Per contra, learned A.G.A. assisted by learned Brief Holder for the State opposed the prayer for bail of the applicant by contending that the first information report was lodged by mother of the victim on the narration of the incident by the victim who is minor child aged about 8 years and is a student of Class 2. It is next submitted that act committed by the accused-applicant as mentioned in the F.I.R. and disclosed by the victim in her statement under Section 164 Cr.P.C. is a heinous offence and comes within the ambit of rape as defined under Section 375 I.P.C. as well as under the ambit of Sections 5/6 POCSO Act. There is no reason to falsely implicate the applicant. Learned A.G.A. next submitted that it is well settled by the Apex Court in the case of Madan Gopal Kakkad Vs. Naval Dubey and another, (1992) 3 SCC 204 that even slightest penetration of penis into vagina without rupturing the hymen would constitute rape. He further submitted that in this case, the applicant not only violates the victim's personal integrity, but leaves indelible marks on the very soul of the helpless child. Innocence of the applicant cannot be ad-judged at pre-trial stage. Hence, bail application of the applicant is liable to be rejected.

6- Having heard learned counsel for the parties, this Court is of the view that in this case, a small innocent child aged about 8 years has been raped, who does not understand its meaning. Little girls are worshipped in our country, but the cases of paedophilia are increasing. Rape is a heinous crime. The victim suffers from psychological effects of embarrassment, disgust, depression, guilt and even suicidal tendencies. Many cases go unreported. In almost rape cases, the victim was unwilling to report the name of the abuser. The families of the victim remain silent about the sexual offences in order to protect the family image. The victim/female small child experience sexual abuse once tend to be more vulnerable to abuse in adult life. Healing is slow and systematic. Rape is not only a crime against the victim, it is crime against the society as well and is also violative of victims most cherished of fundamental rights, mainly right to life contained in Article 21 of the Constitution of India. In such a situation, if the right decision is not taken from the Court at the right time, then the trust of a victim/common man will not be left in the judicial system.

7- I also find that if rape is committed by a man on a little girl under twelve years of age, according the provisions of Section 376A-B of Indian Penal Code, he shall be punished with rigorous imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than twenty years, but which may extend to imprisonment for life, which means that the accused shall be in prison for the remainder of his natural life, and with fine or with death.

8- Having examined the matter in its entirety I do not find any material or cogent reason at this stage to presume the false implication of the applicant. I am also of the considered view that the depth of penetration is immaterial in an offence punishable under Section 376 I.P.C.

9- Having considered the facts and circumstances of the case, nature of offence, the gravity involved therein and the manner in which the crime has been committed, no case for bail is made out.

10- The application for bail is hereby rejected.

11- However, it is clarified that the observation, if any, made herein above shall be strictly confined to the disposal of the bail application and must not be construed to have any reflection on the ultimate merits of the case.

12- Office is directed to send the copy of this order to the complainant as well as concerned Court below within two weeks.

(2022)05ILR A1150
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 07.02.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.
THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Crl. Misc. Application (Leave To Appeal) No. 86 of 2018
(U/s 372 Cr.P.C.)
in Criminal Appeal (Against Acquittal) No. -- of 2017
(U/s 372 Cr.P.C.)

Virendra Singh ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Rajesh Yadav

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A.

Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code, Section - 313, 372, 378 (3) - Indian Penal Code, Section – 302, 379, 511 – Arms Act,1959 - Section – 25 - Leave to Appeal - against order of acquittal by the trial court merely on the ground that – all the eye witnesses are related witnesses & the recovered weapon could not be connected with crime – in the light of law down by the Hon'ble Apex court – judgment of trial court needs no interference – hence Appeal dismissed. (Para – 16, 18, 21)

Appeal Dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Babu Vs St. of Kerala, (2010) 9 SCC 189 & (2010) 3 SCC (Cri) 1179,

2. Ramesh Babulal Doshi Vs St. of Guj., (1996) 9 SCC 225 & 1996 SCC (Cri) 972,

3. Anwar Ali & anr. Vs St. of H.P., (2020) 10 SCC 166,

4. Nagabhushan Vs St. of Karn., (2021) 5 SCC 222,

5. Achhar Singh Vs St. of H. P., (2021) 5 SCC 543,

6. Rajput Ruda Maha & ors. Vs St. of Guj., 1980 2 SCR 353.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vivek Kumar Birla, J.
&
Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Rajesh Yadav, learned counsel for the appellant-applicant and Ms. Nandprabha Shukla, learned A.G.A. appearing for the State.

2. As already held by this Court in number of cases that leave application filed under Section 378(3) Cr.P.C. is not required in the appeal filed by the victim under Section 372 Cr.P.C. like the present appeal. A reference may be made to the order dated 4.8.2021 passed in Criminal Appeal U/S 372 Cr.P.C. No. 123 of 2021 (Rita Devi vs. State of U.P. and another). As such, the application for leave to appeal stands rejected as not maintainable and / or not required.

3. This appeal has been filed against the order dated 12.7.2017 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 5, Mathura acquitting the respondent nos. 2, 3 and 4 under Section 302 I.P.C. and Section 25 of Arms Act in Sessions Trial No. 764 of 2013 arising out of Case Crime No. 85 of 2012, under Section 302 I.P.C. and Session Trial No. 765 of 2013 arising out of Case Crime No. 97 of 2012, under Section 25 of Arms Act, P.S. Maant, District Mathura.

4. According to the first information report on 4.6.2012 at about 09:00 P.M. certain persons on highway were committing theft of electricity cable from the electricity poll. On coming to know father of the informant (Virendra Singh) deceased Dorilal s/o Chhitariya reached on the spot along with certain other persons. The persons, who were committing theft, fired hitting the chest of Dorilal (father of the informant), who died on the spot. First information report was registered at 21:50 against unknown persons as Case Crime No. 85 of 2012, under Sections 302, 379, 511 I.P.C., P.S. Maant, District Mathura.

5. In support of prosecution case P.W.-1 Virendra, P.W.-2 Parsadi, P.W.-3 Shivcharan, P.W.-4 Dalchand, P.W.-5 Phoolwati, P.W.-6 S.O Sri Arvind Kumar, P.W.-7 Dr. D.S. Naviyal, P.W.-8 Constable Clerk Sher Singh, P.W.-9 H.C.P. Manni Singh, P.W.10- S.I. Sri Rajendra Singh, P.W.-11 S.I. Sri Radhakrishna and P.W.-12 Sri Sri Omprakash were produced. Two accused persons Geetaram s/o Jagna and Talewar s/o Ramjilal were arrested by the police on pointing out of the informant in the night of 12/13.7.2012 at about 01:00 A.M and a countrymade pistol of 315 bore with one live and one empty cartridge were recovered from the possession of Geetaram. No other recovery was made by other co-accused Talewar. The Case Crime No. 97 of 2012, under Section 25 of Arms Act, P.S. Maant, District Mathura was registered against Geetaram. In the statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. the accused persons denied the incident and submitted that they have not committed the offence and their claim was that some other unidentified persons, who were committing theft of electricity cable, had committed the crime.

6. The accused persons were acquitted by the trial court on the ground that all the witnesses are related witnesses and the recovered weapon could not be connected with the crime. It was further found that the statement made by the prosecution witnesses were contradictory in nature and the incident was described in different ways and there was no eye witness of the spot. It was found by the trial court that all the alleged eye witnesses have not proved the incident. It was also found that the eye witnesses were present when report was given by the informant but names of such persons were not disclosed in the first information report and it was alleged that some unidentified persons have committed the crime. It was further found that the incident had taken place in the night of 4.6.2012 at about 09:00 P.M., whereas the accused persons Geetaram and Talewar were arrested after about 5-6 weeks on 12/13.7.2012 and apart from countrymade pistol of 315 bore one live cartridge and one empty cartridge were also recovered from them. Since, it was not understandable that how the used cartridge is connected with the incident herein, therefore, the F.S.L. report was found not worth-believe and no assistance could have taken therefrom by the prosecution. Regarding arrest of the persons it was found that site plan is incorrect and was not supported by the formal witnesses. On the site plan one hut, wherefrom arrest of the accused and recovery of weapon was made, was shown, whereas there was no such hut on the spot. It was also found that the site plan (Ex. 6) and (Ex. 14) are of the same spot but there was material difference in the same. It was also found that countrymade pistol recovered from Geetaram was rusted, therefore, could not have been used in the incident. Insofar as arrest of the accused persons are concerned, the G.D. report dated 12.7.2012 indicates the police party was gone out for patrolling was not proved and there was no independent witness of the arrest of the accused persons and recovery. It was also found that it is proved from the witnesses that one of the accused Talewar was a Panchayatnama witness. The court also observed that as per the statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. Geetaram was aged about 75 years and therefore, at the time of incident he must be aged about 70 years and under all circumstances trial court found that the prosecution has failed to prove its case beyond doubt.

7. Submission of learned counsel for the appellant is that the accused persons were arrested and weapon used in the incident was recovered from the possession of the accused Geetaram and even the F.S.L. report Ex. 22 has proved that one empty cartridge which was recovered from the possession of Geetaram was fired from the same countrymade pistol, which was recovered from the possession of the accused. Therefore, it is clear that the said weapon was used in the incident. He further submitted that all the statement of the eye witnesses have been incorrectly rejected on the ground that the prosecution witnesses are related to the deceased and the informant. He further submitted that the presence of the eye witnesses on the spot is natural in such circumstances and even otherwise no other person, who is not related, usually does not come forward to give evidence. He, therefore, submitted that merely because they were relative of the deceased, their eye witness account could not have been rejected. He further pointed out that once there is a direct evidence, the motive is not relevant and, as such, the judgment of the trial court acquitting the accused persons is liable to be reversed and the accused persons are liable to be punished under Section 302 I.P.C. and Geetaram is liable to be punished under Section 25 of Arms Act as well.

8. We have considered the submissions and perused the original record.

9. Before proceeding further it would be appropriate to take note of the law laid down by Supreme Court on the issue involved.

10. In the case of Babu vs. State of Kerala (2010) 9 SCC 189 : (2010) 3 SCC (Cri) 1179, the Hon'ble Apex Court has observed that while dealing with a judgment of acquittal, the appellate court has to consider the entire evidence on record, so as to arrive at a finding as to whether the views of the trial Court were perverse or otherwise unsustainable. The appellate court is entitled to consider whether in arriving at a finding of fact, the trial Court had failed to take into consideration admissible evidence and/or had taken into consideration the evidence brought on record contrary to law. Paragraphs 12 to 19 of the aforesaid judgment are quoted as under:-

"12. This court time and again has laid down the guidelines for the High Court to interfere with the judgment and order of acquittal passed by the Trial Court. The appellate court should not ordinarily set aside a judgment of acquittal in a case where two views are possible, though the view of the appellate court may be more, the probable one. While dealing with a judgment of acquittal, the appellate court has to consider the entire evidence on record, so as to arrive at a finding as to whether the views of the trial Court were perverse or otherwise unsustainable. The appellate court is entitled to consider whether in arriving at a finding of fact, the trial Court had failed to take into consideration admissible evidence and/or had taken into consideration the evidence brought on record contrary to law. Similarly, wrong placing of burden of proof may also be a subject matter of scrutiny by the appellate court. (Vide Balak Ram v. State of U.P. AIR 1974 SC 2165; Shambhoo Missir & Anr. v. State of Bihar AIR 1991 SC 315; Shailendra Pratap & Anr. v. State of U.P. AIR 2003 SC 1104; Narendra Singh v. State of M.P. (2004) 10 SCC 699; Budh Singh & Ors. v. State of U.P. AIR 2006 SC 2500; State of U.P. v. Ramveer Singh AIR 2007 SC 3075; S. Rama Krishna v. S. Rami Reddy (D) by his LRs. & Ors. AIR 2008 SC 2066; Arulvelu & Anr. Vs. State (2009) 10 SCC 206; Perla Somasekhara Reddy & Ors. v. State of A.P. (2009) 16 SCC 98; and Ram Singh alias Chhaju v. State of Himachal Pradesh (2010) 2 SCC 445).

13. In Sheo Swarup and Ors. King Emperor AIR 1934 PC 227, the Privy Council observed as under:

"...the High Court should and will always give proper weight and consideration to such matters as (1) the views of the trial Judge as to the credibility of the witnesses, (2) the presumption of innocence in favour of the accused, a presumption certainly not weakened by the fact that he has been acquitted at his trial, (3) the right of the accused to the benefit of any doubt, and (4) the slowness of an appellate court in disturbing a finding of fact arrived at by a Judge who had the advantage of seeing the witnesses...."

14. The aforesaid principle of law has consistently been followed by this Court. (See: Tulsiram Kanu v. The State AIR 1954 SC 1; Balbir Singh v. State of Punjab AIR 1957 SC 216; M.G. Agarwal v. State of Maharashtra AIR 1963 SC 200; Khedu Mohton & Ors. v. State of Bihar AIR 1970 SC 66; Sambasivan and Ors. State of Kerala (1998) 5 SCC 412; Bhagwan Singh and Ors. v. State of M.P. (2002) 4 SCC 85; and State of Goa v. Sanjay Thakran and Anr. (2007) 3 SCC 755).

15. In Chandrappa and Ors. v. State of Karnataka (2007) 4 SCC 415, this Court reiterated the legal position as under:

"(1) An appellate court has full power to review, re-appreciate and reconsider the evidence upon which the order of acquittal is founded.

(2) The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 puts no limitation, restriction or condition on exercise of such power and an appellate court on the evidence before it may reach its own conclusion, both on questions of fact and of law.

(3) Various expressions, such as, "substantial and compelling reasons", "good and sufficient grounds", "very strong circumstances", "distorted conclusions", "glaring mistakes", etc. are not intended to curtail extensive powers of an appellate court in an appeal against acquittal. Such phraseologies are more in the nature of "flourishes of language" to emphasise the reluctance of an appellate court to interfere with acquittal than to curtail the power of the court to review the evidence and to come to its own conclusion.

(4) An appellate court, however, must bear in mind that in case of acquittal, there is double presumption in favour of the accused. Firstly, the presumption of innocence is available to him under the fundamental principle of criminal jurisprudence that every person shall be presumed to be innocent unless he is proved guilty by a competent court of law. Secondly, the accused having secured his acquittal, the presumption of his innocence is further reinforced, reaffirmed and strengthened by the trial court.

(5) If two reasonable conclusions are possible on the basis of the evidence on record, the appellate court should not disturb the finding of acquittal recorded by the trial court."

16. In Ghurey Lal v. State of Uttar Pradesh (2008) 10 SCC 450, this Court re-iterated the said view, observing that the appellate court in dealing with the cases in which the trial courts have acquitted the accused, should bear in mind that the trial court's acquittal bolsters the presumption that he is innocent. The appellate court must give due weight and consideration to the decision of the trial court as the trial court had the distinct advantage of watching the demeanour of the witnesses, and was in a better position to evaluate the credibility of the witnesses.

17. In State of Rajasthan v. Naresh @ Ram Naresh (2009) 9 SCC 368, the Court again examined the earlier judgments of this Court and laid down that an "order of acquittal should not be lightly interfered with even if the court believes that there is some evidence pointing out the finger towards the accused."

18. In State of Uttar Pradesh v. Banne alias Baijnath & Ors. (2009) 4 SCC 271, this Court gave certain illustrative circumstances in which the Court would be justified in interfering with a judgment of acquittal by the High Court. The circumstances includes:

i) The High Court's decision is based on totally erroneous view of law by ignoring the settled legal position;

ii) The High Court's conclusions are contrary to evidence and documents on record;

iii) The entire approach of the High Court in dealing with the evidence was patently illegal leading to grave miscarriage of justice;

iv) The High Court's judgment is manifestly unjust and unreasonable based on erroneous law and facts on the record of the case;

v) This Court must always give proper weight and consideration to the findings of the High Court;

vi) This Court would be extremely reluctant in interfering with a case when both the Sessions Court and the High Court have recorded an order of acquittal.

A similar view has been reiterated by this Court in Dhanapal v. State by Public Prosecutor, Madras (2009) 10 SCC 401.

19. Thus, the law on the issue can be summarised to the effect that in exceptional cases where there are compelling circumstances, and the judgment under appeal is found to be perverse, the appellate court can interfere with the order of acquittal. The appellate court should bear in mind the presumption of innocence of the accused and further that the trial Court's acquittal bolsters the presumption of his innocence. Interference in a routine manner where the other view is possible should be avoided, unless there are good reasons for interference."

11. Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Ramesh Babulal Doshi vs. State of Gujarat (1996) 9 SCC 225 : 1996 SCC (Cri) 972 has observed that while deciding appeal against acquittal, the High Court has to first record its conclusion on the question whether the approach of the trial court dealing with the evidence was patently illegal or conclusion arrived by it is wholly untenable which alone will justify interference in an order of acquittal.

12. The aforesaid judgments were taken note of with approval by Supreme Court in the case of Anwar Ali and another vs. State of Himachal Pradesh (2020) 10 SCC 166, Nagabhushan vs. State of Karnataka (2021) 5 SCC 222, and Babu (supra) in Achhar Singh vs. State of Himachal Pradesh (2021) 5 SCC 543.

13. Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Rajput Ruda Maha and others vs. State of Gujarat 1980 SCR (2) 353 after hearing the learned counsel and examining the petition of appeal and after going through the relevant parts of the judgment of the High Court, after recording that there are no sufficient grounds of interference dismissed the appeal summarily under Section 384 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

14. Now we proceed to consider the present appeal on merits.

15. It is not in dispute that the first information report was registered with the allegation that the incident had taken place on 4.6.2012 at about 09:00 P.M. and the first information report was registered at 21:50 on the same date and the distance of the police station is about 4 kms. Thus, a prompt first information report was lodged. First information report was undisputedly lodged against unknown persons and no eye witness has been named. The alleged eye witnesses have come only through affidavits that too after about eight days. It is also not in dispute that no empty cartridge was recovered from the spot. P.W.-1 the informant, namely, Virendra is son of the deceased and P.W.-5, Phoolwati, is the wife of the deceased. A categorical finding was recorded that the bloodstained clothes of Phoolwati, who embraced the dead body of Dorilal and claimed that her clothes were bloodstained, were not produced or made exhibits in the present case. The accused persons were allegedly arrested after a long gap on 12/13.7.2012 and it is highly improbable that the accused Geetaram would be carrying empty cartridge used in the incident with him. Therefore, in our opinion the importance of F.S.L. report that empty cartridge recovered from the accused Geetaram was fired from the same countrymade pistol of 315 bore, lost its important in the present case.

16. It is settled law that the eye witness account of related witnesses cannot be rejected merely on the ground that they are relatives of the deceased. However, we find that in the present case the alleged witnesses have come in picture only through affidavits after about eight days whereas, significantly, the first information report was lodged promptly, which was allegedly written in the presence of the eye witnesses but still their names were not mentioned in the first information report. Therefore, we also find that it was rightly observed by the trial court that there was material contradiction regarding their presence and description of the alleged incident that had taken place. That apart, we also noticed that in the first information report itself it has been stated that the incident had taken place when certain persons were committing theft of electricity cable from electricity poll but they could not succeed and the cable was found hanging from the electricity poll itself, as has been clearly mentioned in the judgment.

17. Further, if as per the eye witness account the accused-respondents were seen to have committed the offence, they were not named in the first information report. On the contrary, PW-1, Phoolwati had stated that the accused persons were present at the time of preparation of papers by the police and they had gone to Mathura and brought the dead body after postmortem and were also present at the time of cremation.

18. Even in regard to the affidavits of alleged eye witnesses sworn on 22.6.2012 they have stated in the cross-examination that they have not executed any such affidavits and further P.W.-1 has barely signed the affidavit and other two witnesses have clearly stated that they are illiterate and they have put their thumb impression in the affidavit but correctness of the affidavits was denied by giving contradictory stand, therefore, the same cannot be form basis of eye witness account of the incident, which otherwise, as held by the trial court, could not be proved by the prosecution.

19. In above circumstances, it cannot be said that the trial court has failed to take into consideration the admissible evidence or had taken into consideration the evidence brought on record contrary to law on reaching above finding.

20. In such view of the matter, we find that the view as has been taken by the trial court and the judgment of the trial court is not perverse in nature so as to call interference of this Court.

21. Consequently, after hearing the learned counsel for the applicant and examining the petition of appeal and after going through the detailed discussion of evidence on record, we are of the opinion that the finding recorded by the trial court recording acquittal of the accused is according to the law and we find that there is no sufficient ground for interference. The appeal is summarily dismissed under Section 384 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

(2022)05ILR A1157
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 21.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.
THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Crl. Misc. Application (Leave To Appeal) No. 329 of 2012
(U/s 372 Cr.P.C.)

Prithvi Singh ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Opp. Parties

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Rajul Bhargava

Counsel for the Opp. Parties:
Govt. Advocate

Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code,1973 - Sections 29, 37, 372, 378, 394, 394(2), 404, 417 & 431 - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section 302/34- Criminal Application for Leave to Appeal - against order of acquittal in a case of murder – during pendency the appeal sole appellant were died – in such circumstances - a question is arises - whether the appeal filed U/s 372 Cr.P.C. by the Victim would be abate on the death of appellant – the right to appeal is controlled differently when an appeal is filed under different provisions of the code – therefore the scheme of right of appeal under Chapter XXXIX of Cr.P.C. which provides the right to appeals including abatement of appeals has to be understood on the basis of the golden rules of statutory interpretation – in view of the light of judgment of Avtar Singh Dhesi's present appeal would stand abated.(Para – 23, 24, 25, 33, 48, 49)

Appeal Abated. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Khedu Mohton & ors. Vs St. of Bihar (1971 AIR 66 SC),

2. Avtar Singh Dhesi 6 Vs Ajaib Singh (Jabba) 2015 SCC Online P & H 10017,

3. Dhirendra Nath Das, his Lrs Malaya Das Vs St. of Assam 2019 SCC Online Gua 5669 DB,

4. Nelson Motis Vs U.O.I., AIR 1992 SC 1981,

5. Kanailal Sur Vs Paramnidhi Sadhu Khan, AIR 1957 SC 907,

6. St. of U. P. Vs Vijay Anand Maharaj, AIR 1963 SC 946,

7. Gwalior Rayon Silk Mfg. (Wvg.) Co. Ltd Vs Custodian of Vested Forests, AIR 1990 SC 1747,

8. Raghunath Rai Bareja Vs Punjab National Bank, (2007) 2 SCC 230,

9. Shah Bhojraj Kuverji Oil Mills & Ginning Factory Vs Subhash Chandra Yograj Sinha, AIR 1961 SC 1596,

10. Motiram Ghelabhai (deceased L.R.) Vs Jagan Nagar (deceased L.Rs.) & ors., AIR 1985 SC 709,

11. Sundaram Pillai Vs Pattabiraman, (1985) 1 SCC 591,

12. Government of 11 Andhra Pradesh Vs P. Laxmi Devi, (2008) 4 SCC 720,

13. Super Cassettes Industries Ltd. Vs St. of U.P., (2009) 10 SCC 531,

14. Jugal Kishore Khetawat Vs St. of W.B. (2011) 11 SCC 502, 15. Mallikarjun Kodagali (dead) through L.R. Vs St. of Karn. & ors. (2019) 2 SCC 752.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vivek Kumar Birla, J.)

1. This appeal has been filed against the order dated 7.7.2012 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 5, Hathras acquitting the respondent nos. 2 and 3 in Session Trial No. 81 of 2002 (State vs. Bhoop Singh and others) arising out of Case Crime No. 185 of 1994, under Sections 302/34 IPC, Police Station Sadabad, District Hathras.

2. Present appeal has been filed under Section 372 Cr.P.C. with an application to grant leave to appeal, which according to the judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court is not required for the purpose of filing appeal against acquittal by the victim under Section 372 Cr.P.C.

3. On 31.5.2017, as learned counsel for the appellant had been elevated as Judge of this Court (since retired), notice was issued to the appellant-Prithvi Singh through Chief Judicial Magistrate, Hathras to engage another counsel returnable within four weeks. The compliance report dated 26.6.2017 submitted by the CJM, Hathras and the office report dated 25.7.2017 indicates that the appellant is dead. His death certificate issued on 9.6.2017 indicating that he died on 1.12.2015 has also been annexed with the compliance report.

4. No one has come forward to claim that he shall be prosecuting this appeal. Under such circumstances, the question that arises in the present case is as to whether the appeal filed under Section 372 Cr.P.C. by the victim as per proviso as inserted by the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment Act No. 5 of 2019) Section 29 dated 31.12.2009 would abate on the death of the appellant or not in view of the provisions of Section 394 (2) Cr.P.C., which provides that every other appeal under this Chapter (except an appeal from a sentence of fine) shall finally abate on the death of the appellant.

5. Before proceeding further it would be beneficial to extract relevant provisions, which are as under:-

"The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898). (The amended provisions of Cr.P.C. as existing prior to coming into force of Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973)

Part VII

Of Appeal, Reference and Revision

Chapter XXXI

404. Unless otherwise provided, no appeal to lie- No appeal shall lie from any judgment or order of a Criminal Court except as provided for this Code or by any other law for the time being in force.

417. Appeal on behalf of Government in case of acquittal- The Local Government may direct the Public Prosecutor to present an appeal to the High Court from an original or appellate order of acquittal passed by any Court other than a High Court.

431. Abatement of appeals- Every appeal under section 417 shall finally abate on the death of the accused, and every other appeal under this Chapter (except an appeal from a sentence of fine) shall finally abate on the death of the appellant.(emphasis supplied)

Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) (As Amended by Act (XXVI of 1955)

417. Appeal in case of acquittal- (1) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (5), the State Government may, in any case, direct the Public Prosecutor to present an appeal to the High Court from an original or appellate order of acquittal passed by any Court other than a High Court.

(2) If such an order of acquittal is passed in any case in which the offence has been investigated by the Delhi Special Police Established constituted under the Delhi Special Police Establishment Act, 1946 (XXXV of 1946), the Central Government may also direct the Public Prosecutor to present an appeal to the High Court from the order of acquittal.

(3) If such an order of acquittal is passed in any case instituted upon complaint and the High Court, on an application made to it by the complainant in this behalf, grants special leave to appeal from the order of acquittal, the complainant may present such an appeal to the High Court.

(4) No application under sub-section (3) for the grant of special leave to appeal from an order of acquittal shall be entertained by the High Court after the expiry of sixty days from the date of that order of acquittal.

(5) If, in any case, the application under sub-section (3) for the grant of special leave to appeal from an order of acquittal is refused, no appeal from that order of acquittal shall lie under sub-section (1).(emphasis supplied)

The Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 2008
[Act 5 of 2009]

Statement of Objects and Reasons- The need to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 to ensure fair and speedy justice and to tone up the criminal justice system has been felt for quite sometime. The law Commission has undertaken a comprehensive review of the Code of Criminal Procedure in its 154th report and its recommendations have been found very appropriate, particularly those relating to provisions concerning arrest, custody and remand, procedure for summons and warrant-cases, compounding of offences, victimology, special protection in respect of women and inquiry and trial of persons of unsound mind. Also, as per the Law Commission's 177th report relating to arrest, it has been found necessary to revise the law to maintain a balance between the liberty of the citizens and the society's interest in maintenance of peace as well as law and order.

2. The need has also been felt to include measures for preventing the growing tendency of witnesses being induced or threatened to turn hostile by the accused parties who are influent, rich and powerful. At present, the victims are the worst sufferers in a crime and they don't have much role in the court proceedings. They need to be given certain rights and compensation, so that there is no distortion of the criminal justice system. The application of technology in investigation, inquiry and trial is expected to reduce delays, help in gathering credible evidences, minimise the risk of escape of the remand prisoners during transit and also facilitate utilisation of police personnel for other duties. There is an urgent need to provide relief to women, particularly victims of sexual offences, and provide fair-trial to persons of unsound mind who are not able to defend themselves. To expedite the trial of minor offences, definition of warrant-case and summons-case are to be changed so that more cases can be disposed of in a summary manner.

3. The Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Bill, 2006 seeks to achieve the above objectives."(emphasis supplied)

The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973

"372. No appeal to lie unless otherwise provided.--No appeal shall lie from any judgment or order of a Criminal Court except as provided for by this Code or by any other law for the time being in force:

[Provided that the victim shall have a right to prefer an appeal against any order passed by the Court acquitting the accused or convicting for a lesser offence or imposing inadequate compensation, and such appeal shall lie to the Court to which an appeal ordinarily lies against the order of conviction of such Court.](added by Act No. 5 of 2009)

378. Appeal in case of acquittal.--4[(1) Save as otherwise provided in sub-section (2), and subject to the provisions of sub-sections (3) and (5),--

(a) the District Magistrate may, in any case, direct the Public Prosecutor to present an appeal to the Court of Session from an order of acquittal passed by a Magistrate in respect of a cognizable and non-bailable offence;

(b) the State Government may, in any case, direct the Public Prosecutor to present an appeal to the High Court from an original or appellate order of acquittal passed by any Court other than a High Court [not being an order under clause (a)] or an order of acquittal passed by the Court of Session in revision.]

(2) If such an order of acquittal is passed in any case in which the offence has been investigated by the Delhi Special Police Establishment constituted under the Delhi Special Police Establishment Act, 1946 (25 of 1946), or by any other agency empowered to make investigation into an offence under any Central Act other than this Code, 5[the Central Government may, subject to the provisions of sub-section (3), also direct the Public Prosecutor to present an appeal—

(a) to the Court of Session, from an order of acquittal passed by a Magistrate in respect of a cognizable and non-bailable offence;

(b) to the High Court from an original or appellate order of an acquittal passed by any Court other than a High Court [not being an order under clause (a)] or an order of acquittal passed by the Court of Session in revision].

(3) [No appeal to the High Court] under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall be entertained except with the leave of the High Court.

(4) If such an order of acquittal is passed in any case instituted upon complaint and the High Court, on an application made to it by the complainant in this behalf, grants special leave to appeal from the order of acquittal, the complainant may present such an appeal to the High Court.

(5) No application under sub-section (4) for the grant of special leave to appeal from an order of acquittal shall be entertained by the High Court after the expiry of six months, where the complainant is a public servant, and sixty days in every other case, computed from the date of that order of acquittal.

(6) If, in any case, the application under sub-section (4) for the grant of special leave to appeal from an order of acquittal is refused, no appeal from that order of acquittal shall lie under sub-section (1) or under sub-section (2).

394. Abatement of appeals.--(1) Every appeal under section 377 or section 378 shall finally abate on the death of the accused.

(2) Every other appeal under this Chapter (except an appeal from a sentence of fine) shall finally abate on the death of the appellant:

Provided that where the appeal is against a conviction and sentence of death or of imprisonment, and the appellant dies during the pendency of the appeal, any of his near relatives may, within thirty days of the death of the appellant, apply to the Appellate Court for leave to continue the appeal; and if leave is granted, the appeal shall not abate.

Explanation.--In this section, "near relative" means a parent, spouse, lineal descendant, brother or sister."(emphasis supplied)

6. Insofar as the law on the issue regarding abatement of such appeal against acquittal is concerned, as back in the year 1971 in Khedu Mohton and others vs. State of Bihar 1971 AIR 66 SC Hon'ble Supreme Court held as under:-

"7. In view of our above conclusion, it is unnecessary for us to consider the question of law canvassed by Mr. E. C. A- agarwal, learned Counsel for the appellant. But as the same has been argued we shall go into it. The appeal before the High Court was brought after obtaining special leave under sub-s. (3) of s. 417, Cr.P.C. It appears that during the pendency of the appeal, the complainant died. It was contended before the High Court and that contention was repeated before us that the appeal abated in view of the death of the complainant. This contention was rejected by the High Court. In support of that contention, Counsel for the appellant relied on two decisions one of Allahabad High Court in Nehal Ahmad v. Ramji and the other of Madras High Court in Thothan and anr. v. Murugan and ors., A.I.R. 1958 Mad 624. The first decision has no application to the facts of the present case. That was an appeal under S. 476 (B) of the, Cr. P.C. It is true that the Madras decision was rendered in an appeal under s. 417(3) of the Cr. P.C. In our opinion, the learned single judge of the Madras High Court erred in thinking that the decision of the Allahabad High Court lent any support to his conclusion that an appeal filed under S. 417(3), Cr. P.C. abates on the death of the complainant. The question of abatement of criminal appeals is dealt with by s. 431 of Criminal Procedure Code. That section reads "Every appeal under S. 41 1 A, sub-s. 1) or s. 417 shall finally abate on the death of the accused and every other appeal under this Chapter (except an appeal from a sentence of fine) shall abate on the death of the appel- lant."

8. From this section it is clear that an appeal under s. 417 can only abate on the death of the accused and not otherwise. Once an appeal against an acquittal is entertained by the High Court, it becomes the duty of the High Court to decide the same irrespective of the fact the appellant either does not choose to prosecute it or is unable to prosecute it for one reason or the other. The argument that while introducing sub-s. (3) to s. 417, Cr. P.C., the Parliament overlooked the provisions. contained in s. 43 1, does not deserve consideration. The language of s. 431 is plain and unambiguous. Therefore no question of interpretation of that provision arises."(emphasis supplied)

7. Punjab and Haryana High Court in Avtar Singh Dhesi vs. Ajaib Singh (Jabba) 2015 SCC Online P & H 10017 decided on 12.5.2015 taking a different view of the matter, although taking note of the judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court in Khedu Mohton (supra), held that the appeal would abate. The aforesaid judgment dated 12.5.2015 is quoted as under:-

"The present appeal against the judgment dated 11.11.2014 was preferred by the complainant on whose complaint a First Information Report No.20 dated 05.03.2008 for the offences under Section 364, 342, 384, 506, 323, 148, 149 of Indian Penal Code was lodged. After the filing of appeal, the complainant died even before the appeal came up for motion hearing. Admittedly, no legal heir has come forward to continue with the present appeal.

2. Learned counsel for the appellant argues that even in the absence of any legal heir, this Court is bound to decide appeal on merits as the provisions of Section 394 of Criminal Procedure Code 1973 (for short 'Code'), deals with abatement of appeals only on account of death of accused. Since there is no provision for abatement of appeal filed on behalf of the complainant, therefore, the appeal is bound to be heard and decided on merits. He relies upon an order passed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in a judgment reported as AIR 1971 SC 66 titled Khedu Mohton and others v. State of Bihar and GULATI DIWAKER 2015.05.14 14:26 I attest to the accuracy and authenticity of this document order passed by a Division Bench of this Court reported as 1963 PLR 191 titled Dr. Megh Raj v. Shri Joginder Singh and others.

3. We have heard learned counsel for the appellant and find no merit in the said argument. Section 394 of the Code reads as under:-

"394. Abatement of appeals. (1) Every appeal under section 377 or section 378 shall finally abate on the death of the accused.

(2) Every other appeal under this Chapter (except an appeal from a sentence of fine) shall finally abate on the death of the appellant:

Provided that where the appeal is against a conviction and sentence of death or of imprisonment, and the appellant dies during the pendency of the appeal, any of his near relatives may, within thirty days of the death of the appellant, apply to the Appellate Court for leave to continue the appeal; and if leave is granted, the appeal shall not abate."

4. Sub-Section (1) of Section 394 of the Code deals with an appeal filed under Section 377 and 378 of Code i.e. appeal by the State against conviction and sentence and appeal in the case of acquittal. Such appeal would abate on the death of the accused. Whereas sub-Section (2) contemplates that all other appeals shall abate on the death of the appellant. Since the State has continuous existence, it is bound to prosecute an appeal filed. Thus, such an appeal would abate only on death of the accused.

5. But all other appeals i.e. other than the appeals preferred by the State under Section 377 or 378 of the Code would abate on the death of appellant in terms of sub-Section (2) of Section 394 of Code.

6. The judgments referred to by learned counsel for the appellant are not applicable to the facts of the present case. In Khedu Mohton's case (supra), the appeal was preferred by the State against the acquittal; therefore, while interpreting Section 431 of Criminal Procedure Code, 1898 corresponding to Section 394 of the Code, it has been observed that the appeal would abate only on account of death of accused.

7. Similarly, in Dr. Megh Raj's case (supra), the complaint was filed by the appellant and resulted into acquittal of the respondents. During the pendency of the appeal, Dr. Megh Raj died. Considering Section 431 of Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, it was held that all appeals preferred by an accused person must abate on his death. So far as the appeals against acquittals are concerned, it is laid down that they must also abate if the accused dies but death of the appellant in an appeal against acquittal, however, would not affect the continuation of the appeal. The Court held that the appeal by the complainant is saved from abatement under Section 431 of Criminal Procedure Code, 1898.

8. We do not find that such judgment advances the argument raised by the appellant in view of sub-Section (2) of Section 394 of Code which provides that all other appeals shall abate on the death of the appellant Thus, the death of the appellant during the pendency of appeal will entail abatement of appeal.

9. Consequently, the present appeal stands abated."(emphasis supplied)

8. Guahati High Court in the case on the death of Dhirendra Nath Das, his Lrs Malaya Das vs. State of Assam 2019 SCC Online Gua 5669 DB held that the appeal would not abate. Relevant paragraph 11 of the aforesaid judgment is quoted as under:-

"11. As the provision of section 394 of the Cr.P.C., 1973 is pari materia with that of section 431 of the Cr.PC. Of 1898, we are of the view that the same proposition of law as laid down by the Supreme Court would also be applicable in respect of the provisions of section 394, Cr.P.C. of 1973. Accordingly, we are unable to accept the contention of the accused-respondents that the accompanying appeal preferred by the victim under the proviso to section 372 of Cr.P.C. of 1973 stands abated on the death of the victim appellant."(emphasis supplied)

9. Since the provisions of Cr.P.C. in respect of file appeal by victim have substantially changed and infact, the provisions of the relevant part of Cr.P.C. have already undergone substantial change since the decision of Hon'ble Apex Court in Khedu Mohton (supra), therefore, the question framed above would have to be considered in the light of existing provisions as provided under Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 as amended in the year 2009 by Act No. 5 of 2009, whereby the proviso to Section 372 Cr.P.C. was added.

10. Before proceeding further it would be appropriate to take note of the principles of statutory interpretation as the decision of the question involved in the present case is directly dependant on the interpretation of the statutory provisions. For this purpose we have taken help of the book "Principles of Statutory Interpretation' "13th Edition, 2012' written by Justice G. P. Singh (Former Justice of M. P. High Court).

11. One of the main basic principles of interpretation is that if meaning of words of statute are plain, effect must be given to it irrespective of consequences.

12. In Nelson Motis vs. Union of India, AIR 1992 SC 1981 it has been observed that when the words of a statute are clear, plain or unambiguous, i.e., they are reasonably susceptible to only one meaning, the courts are bound to give effect to that meaning irrespective of consequences.

13. In Kanailal Sur vs. Paramnidhi Sadhu Khan, AIR 1957 SC 907 it was observed that if the words used are capable of one construction only then it would not be open to the courts to adopt any other hypothetical construction on the ground that such construction is more consistent with the alleged object and policy of the Act.

14. In State of Uttar Pradesh vs. Vijay Anand Maharaj, AIR 1963 SC 946 it was held that when a language is plain and unambiguous and admits of only one meaning no question of construction of a statute arises, for the Act speaks for itself.

15. It is also a guiding rule of interpretation that language of the statute should be read as it is.

16. In Gwalior Rayon Silk Mfg. (Wvg.) Co. Ltd vs. Custodian of Vested Forests, AIR 1990 SC 1747 it was observed that the intention of the legislature is primarily to be gathered from the language used, which means that attention should be paid to what has been said as also to what has not been said.

17. In Raghunath Rai Bareja vs. Punjab National Bank, (2007) 2 SCC 230 Supreme Court held that departure from the literal rule should be done only in very rare cases and ordinarily there should be judicial restraint in this connection.

18. Insofar as rule of "regard to consequences' is concerned, the aforesaid book clearly provides that this rule has no application when the words are acceptable to only one meaning and no alternate construction is reasonably open. A reference may be made in this regard with citations noted above which provides that if meaning is plain, effect must be given to it irrespective of consequences.

19. In Shah Bhojraj Kuverji Oil Mills and Ginning Factory vs. Subhash Chandra Yograj Sinha, AIR 1961 SC 1596 it was observed that as a general rule, a "proviso' is added to an enactment to qualify or create an exception to what is in the enactment, and ordinarily, a "proviso' is not interpreted as stating a general rule.

20. However, in Chapter 3 of the aforesaid book at page 206 it has been observed that the insertion of a "proviso' by the draftsman is not always strictly adhered to its legitimate use and at times a section worded as a "proviso' may wholly or partly be in substance a fresh enactment adding to and not merely excepting something out of or qualifying what goes before. A large number of rulings, including the English Law, have been noted in support of the aforesaid observation. A reference in this regard may be made to one of such rulings, namely, Motiram Ghelabhai (deceased L.R.) vs. Jagan Nagar (deceased L.Rs.) and others, AIR 1985 SC 709.

21. Purposes of a "proviso' were aptly summarised in Sundaram Pillai vs. Pattabiraman, (1985) 1 SCC 591, wherein it was observed that by and large a proviso may serve the following four different purposes:-

"(1) qualifying or excepting certain provisions from the main enactment;

(2) it may entirely change the very concept of the intendment of the enactment by insisting on certain mandatory conditions to be fulfilled in order to make the enactment workable;

(3) it may be so embedded in the Act itself as to become an integral part of the enactment and thus acquire the tenor and colour of the substantive enactment itself; and

(4) it may be used merely to act as an optional addenda to the enactment with the sole object of explaining the real intendment of the statutory provision."(emphasis supplied)

22. However, it was observed in the aforesaid book that the above summary cannot, however, be taken as exhaustive and ultimately a "proviso' like any other enactment ought to be construed upon its terms.

23. Insofar as the statutes regulating appeal are concerned, the law is well established that the right to file an appeal is a statutory right and it can be circumscribed by the conditions of the statute granting it. As was observed in Government of Andhra Pradesh vs. P. Laxmi Devi, (2008) 4 SCC 720 and Super Cassettes Industries Ltd. vs. State of U.P., (2009) 10 SCC 531, it is not a natural or inherent right and cannot be assumed to exist, unless provided by a statute.

24. Therefore, the scheme of right of appeal under Chapter XXXIX of the Criminal Procedure Code, which provides the right to file appeals including abatement of appeals, has to be understood on the basis of the above golden rules of statutory interpretation.

25. At this stage, we take note of the golden principle of interpretation that if the meaning of a word of a statute is plain, effect must be given to it irrespective of consequences. The law in this regard has already been discussed and it needs no repetition. The scheme of the right to appeal as provided in the Code of Criminal Procedure, is to be understood by going through the development of the right to appeal, beginning with the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (hereinafter referred to as Cr.P.C. 1898). Part VII of Cr.P.C., 1898 provides for appeal, reference and revision. Chapter XXXI deals with the right to appeal. The provision under Section 404 of Cr.P.C. 1898 that no appeal shall lie from any judgment or order of a Criminal Court except as provided by this Code or by any other law for the time being in force, remained the same in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (hereinafter referred to as Cr.P.C. 1973). Section 417 of Cr.P.C. 1898 provided that the local government may direct the public prosecutor to present an appeal before the High Court from an original or appellate order of acquittal passed by any court, other than the High Court. Nothing further was provided under Section 417 Cr.P.C. 1898. However, the heading was to the effect "Appeal on behalf of Government in case of acquittal'. This clearly indicates that the intention was to provide right to file appeal only to the government and to no other person. This provision has undergone a change in Cr.P.C. 1973 and the same is now "Appeal in case of acquittal'. Now, there is a detailed section divided into six sub-sections. Significantly, it is provided under sub-section (3) of Section 378 Cr.P.C. 1973 that no appeal to the High Court under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall be entertained except with the leave of the High Court. Sub-sections (1) and (2) have taken care of several agencies of the government. Significantly again, sub-section (4) of Section 378 of Cr.P.C. 1973 provides that if such an order of acquittal is passed in any case instituted upon a complaint and the High Court, on an application made to it by the complainant in this behalf, grants special leave to appeal from the order of acquittal, the complainant may present such an appeal to the High Court. It is significant to note that under sub-section (3) when an appeal is preferred, it has to accompanied by an application for grant of "leave to appeal", whereas under sub-section (4) the words "special leave to appeal" have been used, where the appeal is proposed to be filed by a complainant, which must be accompanied by an application made by the complainant for grant of such special leave to appeal. Sub-section (5) of section 378 of Cr.P.C. 1973, significantly again, has provided that no application under sub-section (4) for grant of "special leave' to appeal filed by a public servant shall be entertained by the High Court after expiry of six months from the date of that order of acquittal and sixty days in every other case, meaning thereby right of a complainant to prefer appeal is made limited to the specified period. Clearly, a right to file an appeal has been created in favour of the complainant in Cr.P.C. 1973, however, a period of limitation has been provided. In fact, a longer period of limitation of six months has been provided, where the complainant is a public servant. This clearly shows that insofar as the provision regarding filing of appeal against acquittal is concerned, there is a significant change in Section 378 of Cr.P.C. 1973 in comparison to Section 417 of Cr.P.C. 1898, as it further draws a distinction between a complainant, who is a public servant and broadly speaking, a private complainant.

26. It is also clear that an appeal by the State, broadly speaking in sessions trial, where the case is being prosecuted by the State agencies, is distinct and different from the right to appeal created in favour of a complainant, be it by a public servant or by a private person or by any other agency.

27. Now on a comparison between Section 404 of Cr.P.C. 1898 and Section 372 of Cr.P.C. 1973, it is clear that the main provision is intact, insofar it provides that no appeal shall lie from any judgment or order of a criminal court, except as provided by this Code or by any other law for the time being in force. The significant development that has taken place in this provision is that a "proviso' was added by the Amending Act No. 5 of 2009, which provides that "the victim shall have a right to prefer an appeal against any order passed by the Court acquitting the accused or convicting for a lesser offence or imposing inadequate compensation, and such appeal shall lie to the Court to which an appeal ordinarily lies against the order of conviction passed by such Court'.

28. Therefore, by the aforesaid provision a right has been created in favour of the victim, which was not existing earlier in the Code, that a victim shall have right to prefer an appeal against any order by the court acquitting the accused or convicting for a lesser offence or imposing inadequate compensation. If we have a glance over the statement of objects and reasons in paragraph 2, it is very much clear that while dealing with the right of the victims it has been noted that at present, the victims are the worst sufferers in a crime and they don't have much role in the court proceedings. They need to be given certain "rights" and compensation, so that there is no distortion of the criminal justice system. This, by itself, is clear that the object of adding this proviso is to create a right in favour of the victim to prefer an appeal as a matter of right. It not only extends to challenge the order of acquittal but such appeal can also be filed by the victim if the accused is convicted for a lessor offence or if the inadequate compensation has been imposed.

29. It is, therefore, clear that as per the golden rule of interpretation, this "proviso' is a substantive enactment and it is not merely excepting something out of, or qualifying what was excepting or goes before. Therefore, by adding the "proviso' in Section 372 of Cr.P.C. 1973 by this amendment, a right has been created in favour of the victim.

30. At this stage, it would be appropriate to take note of the definition of "victim' as inserted by the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 2008 (Act 5 of 2009) by adding sub-section (wa) in Section 2, which provides that "victim" means "a person who has suffered any loss or injury caused by reason of the act or omission for which the accused person has been charged and the expression "victim" includes his or her guardian or legal heir'.

31. It is also a settled law, as interpreted by the Supreme Court and various High Courts, that victim does not include each and every person or merely an informant, who has lodged a first information report and the term "victim' has to be interpreted as per the definition noted above. We need not go deep into the same. Therefore, from a perusal of the scheme of the right to appeal against acquittal, as reflected from a reading of the above noted provisions, it is clear that initially the right to appeal was exclusively with the State Government and it was not available even to the complainant, even if a public servant was a complainant, leave alone a private individual or any other agency.

32. As has already been noticed, Section 417 of Cr.P.C. 1898 provided for appeal on behalf of the government in cases of acquittal and no other person was authorized to file appeal and that this provision has undergone a major change in Cr.P.C. 1973, Section 378 whereof provides for appeal in cases of acquittal. The term local government has been substituted with several individual agencies to which we are not concerned, however, this is to be noted that even the right of a public servant to file appeal, who is a complainant, has been made limited to be exercised within six months and private complainant can come forward with an application for grant of special leave to appeal from the order of acquittal, which has been limited to sixty days only. Therefore, clearly, the legislature was always conscious of the extent to which the right to appeal is to be provided to different agencies, where they appear in a different capacities.

33. It further appears that the word "leave' and "special leave' have been consciously used by the legislature in Section 378 of Cr.P.C. 1973 obviously with an intention that the grant of leave in a case of complaint should be more strict in nature and may require deeper scrutiny before any such leave to appeal is granted than the leave to appeal to be granted in sessions trial cases. Thus, the right to appeal is controlled differently when an appeal is filed under different provisions of the Code.

34. Now coming to the provisions regarding abatement of appeals, we may note that vide Section 431 of Cr.P.C. it was provided that every appeal under Section 417 (appeal on behalf of government in case of acquittal) shall finally abate on the death of the accused and every other appeal under this Chapter (except an appeal from a sentence of fine) shall finally abate on the death of the appellant. This provision has also undergone a substantial change in Cr.P.C. 1973. Sub-section (1) of Section 394 of Cr.P.C. 1973 provides that every appeal under Section 377 or Section 388 shall finally abate on the death of the accused.

35. We are not concerned with Section 377 for the purpose of the present controversy, as Section 377 relates to "appeal by the State Government against sentence' and is not related to the appeals in cases of acquittal.

36. As we have already noticed that Section 378 of Cr.P.C., 1973 has undergone a major change, which provides "appeal in case of acquittal' in comparison to Section 417 of Cr.P.C., 1898, which provides "appeal on behalf of Government in case of acquittal'. The distinction has already been taken note of in the preceding paragraphs.

37. The second part of Section 431 of Cr.P.C. 1898, broadly speaking, has now been changed as significantly a "proviso' has been added in sub-section (2) and an explanation has also been added to the entire Section 394 of Cr.P.C. 1973. We may take note of the "proviso' to Section 394 Cr.P.C. once again, which provides that "where the appeal is against a conviction and sentence of death or of imprisonment, and the appellant dies during the pendency of the appeal, any of his near relatives may, within thirty days of the death of the appellant, apply to the Appellate Court for leave to continue the appeal; and if leave is granted, the appeal shall not abate'. The explanation to Section 394 provides that in this section "near relative' means a parent, spouse, lineal descendant, brother or sister. In the "proviso' added to sub-section (2) in Section 394 of Cr.P.C. 1973 it is important to note that it is in respect of an appeal against conviction and sentence of death or of imprisonment and not in respect of an appeal against acquittal. It further provides that if the appellant dies during the pendency of the appeal, any of his near relatives may, within thirty days from the death of the appellant, apply to the appellate court for leave to continue the appeal and if leave is granted, the appeal shall not abate. Thus, clearly this proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 394 Cr.P.C. 1973, is only in respect of appeal against conviction and sentence of death or of imprisonment and only near relatives as provided in the explanation, may apply for leave to continue the appeal within thirty days from the death of the appellant, and if leave is granted, the appeal shall not abate. Why this provision was added has been taken note of by the Supreme Court in Jugal Kishore Khetawat vs. State of West Bengal (2011) 11 SCC 502 wherein it was held that this is to provide a machinery whereby the children or the members of the family of a convicted person who dies during the appeal, could challenge the conviction and get rid of the odium attaching to the family due to such conviction. Paragraph 7 of the aforesaid judgment is quoted as under:-

"7. Such a proviso has been added in the following circumstances: An amendment to Section 431 was suggested in the Bill introduced in the Parliament by a private Member, Shri K.V. Raghunatha Reddy. The main object of the amendment was to provide a machinery whereby the children or the members of the family of a convicted person who dies during the appeal could challenge the conviction and get rid of the odium attaching to the family as a result of the conviction. The Law Commission of India by its Forty-First Report (September 1969, Vol. I, pp. 279-81) found the proposed amendment "eminently sound" and recommended that the amendment be made with certain modifications. Accordingly Section 394 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 has made the said proviso."(emphasis supplied)

38. Now, insofar as the appeal filed against acquittal by the victim under Section 372 of Cr.P.C. 1973 is concerned, it would be covered by the plain words of sub-section (2) of Section 394 Cr.P.C. 1973, which provides that every other appeal under this Chapter (except an appeal from sentence of fine) shall finally abate on the death of the appellant. In sub-section (2) an exception has been carved out in respect of an appeal from a sentence of fine, obviously for the reason that it involves monetary reasons to the benefit of the victim.

39. As already noticed, a substantive right to prefer an appeal against acquittal was added by the amending Act No. 5 of 2009 by adding a "proviso' to Section 372 of Cr.P.C. 1973. However, significantly, no amendment was made in Section 394 Cr.P.C. 1973, which provides for abatement of appeals.

40. As already noticed, the golden rule of interpretation is that if the meaning of words of a statute are plain, effect must be given irrespective of the consequences. We may refer to the judgments of the Supreme Court in cases of Nelson Motis (supra), Kanailal Sur (supra), Vijay Anand Maharaj (supra), Gwalior Rayan Silk (supra), Raghunath Rai Bareja (supra).

41. In the light of Shah Bhojraj (supra) and Khedu Mohton (supra) it may be argued that once an appeal against acquittal is entertained by the High Court, it becomes the duty of the High Court to decide the same irrespective of the fact that the appellant either does not choose to prosecute it or is unable to prosecute it for one reason or the other. In Motiram Ghelabhai (supra) and Sundaram Pillai (supra), the Supreme Court laid down that the "proviso' added to Section 372 Cr.P.C. 1973 is a fresh enactment giving a substantive right to file appeal against acquittal to the victim [as defined in Section 2 (wa)], which was was added by the same amending act, being Act No. 5 of 2009.

42. As observed in P. Laxmi Devi (supra) and Super Cassettes Industries (supra) it is a settled law that the right to file an appeal is a statutory right and it can be circumscribed by condition / conditions of the statute granting it. In this view of the settled law, it is extremely important to note that at the time when the judgment in Khedu Mohton (supra) was passed by the Supreme Court, the proviso to Section 372 of Cr.P.C. 1973 was not in existence and in Cr.P.C. 1973 provision of abatement of appeals was substantially changed in comparison to Section 431 Cr.P.C. 1898.

43. In an appeal against conviction, the right of near relatives to get themselves substituted within a limited period was protected so that they may come forward to prosecute the appeal for the purpose of removing the stigma on the family. However, no such right of a victim was protected. No right to substitute the victim has been granted under Section 394 Cr.P.C. 1973. It is also pertinent to note that sub-section (2) of Section 394 Cr.P.C. 1973 provides that every other appeal shall abate on the death of the appellant.

44. Insofar as abatement of appeals filed under Section 377 (which is in respect of government appeals against conviction) and Section 378 (which is in respect of appeals in cases of acquittal), which can be filed only by seeking leave to appeal and by a complainant by seeking special leave to appeal, it has been provided that they shall abate only in case of death of the accused. Therefore, only complaint case and case against fine are protected under sub-section (1) to the extent that they shall abate on the death of the accused and not on the death of the appellant. It is, therefore, clear that the legislature has consciously not amended Section 394 in respect of Section 372 Cr.P.C. 1973, particularly, an appeal against acquittal filed by the victim.

45. It is also significant to note that earlier different views by different High Courts were existing on the issue whether an application seeking leave to file appeal under Section 378 (4) Cr.P.C. is required or not. Some were of the opinion that even while filing an appeal under Section 372 of Cr.P.C. 1973 victim has to file an application under Section 378 Cr.P.C. 1973 seeking leave to appeal, whereas others were of the opinion that no such application is required. In Mallikarjun Kodagali (dead) through L.R. vs. State of Karnataka and others (2019) 2 SCC 752 it was held by the Supreme Court that there is no requirement of filing an application seeking leave to file appeal if appeal is filed by a victim under Section 372 Cr.P.C. 1973. Paragraph 76 of the aforesaid judgment is quoted as under:-

"76. As far as the question of the grant of special leave is concerned, once again, we need not be overwhelmed by submissions made at the Bar. The language of the proviso to Section 372 of the Cr.P.C. is quite clear, particularly when it is contrasted with the language of Section 378(4) of the Cr.P.C. The text of this provision is quite clear and it is confined to an order of acquittal passed in a case instituted upon a complaint. The word 'complaint' has been defined in Section 2(d) of the Cr.P.C. and refers to any allegation made orally or in writing to a Magistrate. This has nothing to do with the lodging or the registration of an FIR, and therefore it is not at all necessary to consider the effect of a victim being the complainant as far as the proviso to Section 372 of the Cr.P.C. is concerned."(emphasis supplied)

46. This clearly indicates that the Supreme Court has also held that the right to file appeal under Section 372 Cr.P.C. 1973, as added by proviso by amending Act No. 5 of 2009, is different from the right to file appeal in case of acquittal as provided under Section 378 Cr.P.C. 1973. A clear distinction, therefore, has been noted by the Supreme Court between Section 372 Cr.P.C. 1973 and Section 378 Cr.P.C. 1973. It may also be noticed that there is also a difference in the definition of "victim' as provided under Section 2(wa) of Cr.P.C. 1973 and of the word "complainant' as defined under Section 2(d) of Cr.P.C. 1973.

47. It is, therefore, clear that in view of the amended provision of the Code of Criminal Procedure, the judgment of the Supreme Court in case of Khedu Mohton (supra) would not be applicable now and is, thus, clearly distinguishable.

48. There is yet another aspect of the matter. Insofar as the rules of interpretation are concerned, there is a rule which provides that "regard to consequences' are also be taken into consideration while interpreting any statutory provision. However, as already noticed in the preceding paragraphs, this rule has no application when the words are acceptable to only one meaning and no alternate consideration is reasonably open. There can be no dispute that the provisions of sub-section (2) of Section 394 Cr.P.C. 1973 are absolutely plain in their language and must be given effect to irrespective of the consequences. Therefore, the view that in case the appeal filed by the victim is not abated on the death of the appellant, the consequences may be serious, would not be applicable in the present case.

49. We are, therefore, in respectful agreement with the view taken by the Punjab and Haryana High Court in Avtar Singh Dhesi (supra) that the appeal filed under Section 372 Cr.P.C. 1973 would stand abated on the death of the appellant.

50. Consequently, in view of the discussions made hereinabove present appeal stands abated.

(2022)05ILR A1171
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 22.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJESH BINDAL, C.J.
THE HON'BLE PIYUSH AGRAWAL, J.

Special Appeal Defective No. 302 of 2020
With
Special Appeal No. 467 of 2021
& With other connected cases

Ashutosh Kumar Srivastava & Ors. ...Petitioners

Versus

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Seemant Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Ms. Archana Singh (Addl. C.S.C.), Sri Bheem Singh

Civil Law – Constitution of India, 1950 - Article 226 - Advertisement – for the post of Assistant Teacher – appellant/petitioners were applied and selected – in counselling in respective district – their candidateship were cancelled on the ground of discrepancies found in on-line application form while filing up their marks – challenged in Writ Petitions – out of which some petitions were dismissed & some are allowed - which are subjected matter in present bunch of Special Appeals/petitions – Order in-persona - Court remitted back the case of each appellants/petitioners before the concern district authority – for re-examine/review individually in the light of referred judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court – with directions to complete the said review proceeding within one month and each successful candidate in the said proceeding will be entitled for all consequential benefits. (Para – 9, 12, 14, 15)

Appeals/petitions are disposed of. (E-11)

List of Cases cited: -

1. Jyoti Yadav & anr. Vs The St. of U.P. & ors. (Writ No. 322 of 2021, dated 08.04.2021,

2. Rahul Kumar Vs St. of U.P. & ors., Writ Petition (Civil) No. 378 of 2021, dated 29.06.2021

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajesh Bindal, C.J.
&
Hon'ble Piyush Agrawal, J.)

1. This order will dispose of a bunch of special appeals and writ petitions. The issue for consideration before this Court is regarding rejection of claim of the candidates, who had applied for the post of Assistant Teacher in Primary School. The advertisement for the same was issued on December 5, 2018 and the select list was notified on May 12, 2020. The candidates were directed to report at the respective districts for which their selection was made. During the course of counselling, their certificates were to be checked. In the said process, the candidature of number of candidates was rejected as it was found that there were discrepancies in the marks filled up by them in on-line applications as compared to the marks mentioned in the mark-sheets produced by them during counselling.

2. Some of the writ petitions were dismissed by the learned Single Judge against which the candidates are in appeals whereas in some cases, the writ petitions were allowed against which the Basic Education Board (hereinafter referred to as 'the Board') is in appeal.

3. In three special appeals bearing Special Appeal Nos. 98, 835 and 845 of 2022, interim orders passed by the learned Single Judge in favour of the candidates in the writ petition bearing Writ-A Nos. 15350, 8525 and 6839 of 2021, are under challenge. As delay in disposal of the writ petitions would further entail delay in conclusion of the process of selection and appointment, the aforesaid writ petitions were directed to be listed before this Court along with aforesaid appeals and the argument of the same have also been heard. Another writ petition bearing Writ-A No. 16905 of 2021 is already tagged with the bunch as identical questions are involved in the same.

4. The argument raised by learned counsel for the candidates is that, in terms of Government Order dated March 5, 2021, the candidature of a candidate is not required to be cancelled in case the marks filled up by him/her in an on-line application form is at a disadvantageous position, while preparing the merit list. In the case in hand, as per the marks filled by the candidates in their on-line applications, the percentage of marks was shown less as compared to the actual marks secured by them.

5. This issue was considered by Hon'ble the Supreme Court in Writ Petition (Civil) No. 322 of 2021 titled as Jyoti Yadav and another vs. The State of Uttar Pradesh and others, decided on April 8, 2021 and in Writ Petition (Civil) No. 378 of 2021 titled as Rahul Kumar vs. State of Uttar Pradesh and others, decided on June 29, 2021 wherein the validity of the aforesaid Government Order dated 05.03.2021 was upheld and it was opined therein that in case the marks filled up by the candidates, cause disadvantage to them as compared to the actual marks obtained, the candidature of such candidates is not to be cancelled. Hence the cases of such candidates, who are before this Court, either in the writ petitions or in appeals, deserve to be reconsidered by the competent authority.

6. On the other hand, the argument raised by learned counsel for the Board is that if there is any error in filling up the form by a candidate, he cannot be allowed to make any correction. Clause 2 of the Government Order dated 05.03.2021, clearly provides that in such a situation, the candidature is required to be cancelled. The candidate could be given benefit only in case there was error committed by the Board or University. It is further submitted that selection process is already complete and appointments have been made.

7. Heard learned counsel for the parties.

8. In the bunch of appeals and writ petitions, we are not proposing to enter into the facts of each and every case as, after hearing learned counsel for the parties, we find that there has not been proper appreciation of facts by the competent authority while rejecting the candidature of the candidates on account of which they have approached this Court. The State itself found that there were some errors as a result whereof Government Order dated 3.5.2021 was issued. The validity thereof was challenged by some of the candidates before Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the case of Joyti Yadav and another (supra). The relevant clause thereof reads as under:

"(1) In context of Recommendations of the Committee at Point-1 in reference to more marks mentioned:-

The candidates, who had submitted the application form on the basis of the certificate/marks-sheet available with them and had mentioned more marks but the marks were subsequently changed after scrutiny/reevaluation/back-paper by the University/ issuing authority on its own, those candidates cannot be held to be responsible for changing or wrongfully mentioning marks in the application form as they did not have any option but to fill the marks mentioned in the certificate/marks-sheet available with them at the relevant time of filling up of the application form. Such candidates, if they have obtained more quality points than the last candidate selected in the category in the district, then he/she shall be given the appointment letter in that district. If any such candidate has lesser quality points than the last candidate selected in a particular district but more than the quality point than the last selected candidate in that category in the State list then the details of such candidate shall be provided to the administration by the Director, Basic Education. Further actions will be taken in that regard by the administration.

Where a candidate, without any documentary basis, has mentioned more marks than what he has obtained or has mentioned more maximum marks than what the actual was, his/her selection/candidature shall be cancelled."

9. In the aforesaid case, while upholding the validity of the aforesaid Government Order, it was opined that wherever the mistakes committed by the candidates purportedly gave additional marks or weightage greater that what they actually deserve, according to the Communication dated 05.03.2021, their candidature should be rejected, however, wherever mistakes committed by the candidates actually put them at a disadvantageous position against their original entitlement or the variation could be one attributable to the University or issuing authority, an exception was made. Hon'ble the Supreme Court in respect of the aforesaid two categories in the Government Order dated 05.03.2021 did not find anything to be irrational. Subsequently, the issue was examined in the case of Rahul Kumar *(supra) with reference to the same selection process. While referring to the Government Orders dated 04.12.2020 and 05.03.2021, it was opined that wherever a candidate had put himself at a disadvantageous position, his candidature is not to be cancelled but if the candidate had been placed at an advantageous position which is beyond his right to claim, his candidature is to be cancelled. Relevant paragraph nos. 7, 8 and 9 of the aforesaid judgment read as under:

"7. We need not consider individual fact situation as the reading of the G.O. and the Circular as stated above is quite clear that wherever a candidate had put himself in a disadvantaged position as stated above, his candidature shall not be cancelled but will be reckoned with such disadvantage as projected; but if the candidate had projected an advantaged position which was beyond his rightful due or entitlement, his candidature will stand cancelled. The rigour of the G.O. and the Circular is clear that wherever undue advantage can enure to the candidate if the discrepancy were to go unnoticed, regardless whether the percentage of advantage was greater or lesser, the candidature of such candidate must stand cancelled. However, wherever the candidate was not claiming any advantage and as a matter of fact, had put himself in a disadvantaged position, his candidature will not stand cancelled but the candidate will have to remain satisfied with what was quoted or projected in the application form.

These petitions are, therefore, disposed of in the light of what is stated above.

8. It must however be stated here that the authorities are not strictly following the intent of the G.O. and the Circular. For example, the Office Order dated 28.03.2021 issued by the Basic Teacher Education Officer, District Hardoi, shows cancellation of the candidature of one Raghav Sharan Singh at Serial No.4, though the projection of marks by way of mistake by said candidate was to his disadvantage. Logically, said candidate would be entitled to have his candidature considered and reckoned at the disadvantaged level. The record shows that even with such disadvantage, the candidate was entitled to be selected.

9. We have given this illustration only by way of an example. The authorities shall do well to consider every such order issued by them and cause appropriate corrections or modifications in the light of conclusions stated above. "

10. From the facts of the bunch of cases listed before us and as has been pointed by some of the counsels, it is evident that the issue has not been examined by the competent authority in terms of the observations made by the Supreme Court in the aforesaid two judgments which relate to the selection process in question. In fact, in some of the cases, the rejection of the candidature, is prior to the aforesaid judgments.

11. As we find that the issues have not been examined by the competent authority in the light of the observations made by the Supreme Court in the aforesaid judgments interpreting the Government Orders dated 04.12.2020 and 05.03.2021, the matter needs to be re-examined.

12. While setting aside the impugned orders rejecting the candidature of the candidates on account of the error committed by them, we remit the matter to the authority of the district concerned for re-examination thereof in light of the aforesaid judgment of the Supreme Court and to take a final decision thereon.

13. It is made clear that candidates, whose names do not find place in the select list dated 12.5.2020, will not get any benefit with the change of marks as their merit position will not be changed for the reason that in case this is allowed to happen at this stage, it will open the entire selection process which is not the spirit of the order passed by this Court.

14. The entire process shall be completed by the competent authority within a period of one month from the date of receipt of a copy of this order.

15. It is further directed that in case any candidate is found entitled for appointment and is offered appointment on review of his/her case in terms of the aforesaid directions, he/she shall get all the benefits from the date, he/she joins the service

16. The order passed in this bunch of appeals/writ petitions may not be treated to be an order in rem rather it is an order in personam limited to the candidates before the Court who were vigilant enough to place their griev ance before the Court.

(2022)05ILR A1175

APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 09.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SHEKHAR KUMAR YADAV, J.

Criminal Misc. Bail Application 34421 of 2021 connected with Criminal Misc. Bail Applications no. 39717 of 2021 & 55230 of 2021

Chandrabhan Singh Yadav ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Opp. Party

Counsel for the Applicant:
Sri Varad Nath

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A., Sri Rahul Kumar Gupta, Mrs. Archana Singh, Sri Sushil Kumar Pal

(i) Criminal Law - Criminal Procedure Code,1973 - Sections 161 & 439 - Indian Penal Code,1860 - Sections 120-B, 406, 19 & 420 – Information Technology Act, 2008 - Sections 66, 66-(C) & 66-(D) - Application for Bail – allegation of Cyber Crime – online fraud of theft of money about 17 lacks from victim's bank account - Admission of accused persons – they are habitual & trained to commit online fraud with innocent public – deserves no mercy from court – hence bail application rejected. (Para – 22)

(ii) Criminal Law - Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - Sections 161 & 439 - Indian Penal Code,1860 - Sections 120-B, 406, 19 & 420 – Information Technology Act, 2008 - Sections 66, 66-(C) & 66-(D) - Cyber crime is become very serious problem in our society – court can pass directions in the public interest by exceeding its jurisdiction – Government and its machineries & departments (like Bank, Telecom companies, Reserve Bank of India, investigation agencies) should maintain trust of public & account holders – it's time to take strict steps against the cyber crime – Government should fix the liabilities also upon Banks to secure the money of account holders. (Para – 14, 21)

Bail Application Rejected. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Criminal Bail Application No. 20529 of 2021 order dated 12.01.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shekhar Kumar Yadav, J.)

1. दाण्डिक प्रकीर्ण जमानत आवेदन पत्र संख्या 34421 वर्ष 2021,आवेदक चन्द्रभान सिंह यादव, दाण्डिक प्रकीर्ण जमानत आवेदन पत्र संख्या 39717 वर्ष 2021, आवेदक मोहन कुमार मण्डल एवं दाण्डिक प्रकीर्ण जमानत आवेदन पत्र संख्या 55230 वर्ष 2021, आवेदक तौसीफ जमां द्वारा मुकदमा अपराध संख्या 05 वर्ष 2020, अन्तर्गत धारा 406, 419, 420, 120बी0, भा0 दं0 सं0 एवं धारा 66/66 (सी.)/66 (डी) आई0 टी0 एक्ट, थाना साईबर थाना, जिला प्रयागराज में जमानत पर मुक्त किये जाने हेतु प्रस्तुत किया गया है।

2. चूँकि उपरोक्त तीनों जमानत आवेदन पत्र एक ही घटनाक्रम एवं अपराध से सम्बन्धित है। अतएव उपरोक्त तीनों जमानत आवेदन पत्रों का निस्तारण एक साथ किया जाता है।

3. अभियोजन कथानक संक्षेप में इस प्रकार है कि वादी मुकदमा घनश्यामजी ने एक प्राथमिकी दिनाँक 19–10–2020 को थाना साईबर थाना, जनपद प्रयागराज में इस आशय से दर्ज करायी गयी कि प्रार्थी केन्द्रीय आयुध भण्डार छिवकी, नैनी प्रयायगराज से दिनांक 31–7–2020 को सेवानिवृत्त हुआ है। दिनाँक 11–9–2020 को वादी ने अपने मो0 नं0 9935764397 से योनों अप्लीकेशन के माध्यम से जिसका खाता संख्या 36180638813 से 598/–रूपये का एयरटेल का रिचार्ज किया। चूँकि उसके खाते से 598/–रूपये कटने के बावजूद भी उसका मोबाईल रिचार्ज नहीं हुआ, जिसकी शिकायत उसने मौखिक रूप से एक सप्ताह बाद बैंक में की। बैंक मैनेजर अविनाश शुक्ला ने कहा इसकी शिकायत एयरटेल आफिस में करो। एक सप्ताह बाद उसने एयरटेल आफिस में पैसे कटने की शिकायत की। लगभग 25–27 दिन बीत जाने के बाद जब उसके खाते में पैसा वापस नहीं आया तो दोबारा एयरटेल आफिस गया वहां उसकी प्रशांत शुक्ला से बात हुई जिसका मो0 नं0 7318271451 है, उन्होंने बताया कि आपको जहां शिकायत करनी है कर दीजिए। दिनांक 15–10–2020 को लगभग 11–45 बजे उसके पास एक अज्ञात मोबाईल नम्बर 8389905260 से फोन आया वह बोला कि मैं राहुल बोल रहा हूं आपको पैसे वापस करने है। आप अपना खाता संख्या तथा आई0 एफ0 एस0 सी0 कोड बताइये उसने बता दिया तथा जन्मदिन पूछने पर उसे भी बता दिया। फिर कागज पर 1960 और 2020 तथा ए0 टी0 एम0 पिन नम्बर लिखकर योग करने के बाद उसे बता दिया तो उसके खाते में 598/–रूपया आ गये। उसके बाद ओ0 टी0 पी0 आने पर उसे बता दिया। लगभग 1–50–2–00 घण्टें लगातार मैसेज आते रहे और वह ओ0 टी0 पी0 भेजता रहा उसके खाते से पैसे कटते रहे और वह अनभिज्ञ था उसके बेटे द्वारा मैसेज देखने पर पता चला कि उसके खाते से पैसे कट रहे हैं। इसकी शिकायत उसने बैंक मैनेजर अविनाश शुक्ला से की तो उन्होंने कहा शिकायत आपके मोबाईल से होगी, क्योंकि मेरा सर्वर खराब है, फिर उसके मोबाईल से किसी के पास फोन किया और बताया कि आपका ए0 टी0 एम0 लाक कर दिया गया है। उसने सबकुछ लाक कर दिया और कहा उसकी सारी निकासी चेक द्वारा ही हो। इसके बाद उसे एक अज्ञात नं0–7478428583 से फोन आया कि एस0 बी0 आई0 दिल्ली मुख्य ब्रान्च से बात कर रहा हूं उसने बताया कि प्लेस्टोर पर जाइये और उसपे एस0 बी0 आई0 का एक ऐप है उसे लोड कर लीजिए। उसने गुस्से में फोन काट दिया।

4. इसके बाद शाम 5–7 बजे के बीच पैसे कटते रहें। इसकी शिकायत बैंक मैनेंजर अविनाश शुक्ला से की तो उन्होंने बताया कि आपने योनों अप्लीकेशन और नेट बैंकिंग नहीं बंद करवाया है इसलिए पैसे कट रहे हैं। इस पर उसने कहा कि आपने मुझे सन्तुष्ट किया था कि आपके सब कुछ लाक कर दिए गये हैं इसके बाद दोनों दिन का स्टेटमेंट मांगा तो वह भी नहीं दे पा रहे हैं। उसके खाते से कुल 16,78,380/–रूपये कट चुके हैं। वादी की उक्त तहरीर के आधार पर साइबर थाना में मुकदमा पंजीकृत किया गया।

5. दौरान विवेचना अभियुक्त चन्द्रभान सिंह यादव पुत्र जवाहर लाल यादव निवासी ग्राम हर्रायपुर, थाना कोखराज, जिला कौशाम्बी, का नाम प्रकाश में आया तत्पश्चात उसकी गिरफतारी की गयी।

6. अभियुक्त चन्द्रभान सिंह यादव ने अपने बयान अन्तर्गत धारा 161 दं0 प्र0 सं0 में कहा है कि वह ग्राम हर्रायपुर में ग्राहक जनसेवा केन्द्र चलाता है उसके पास मार्च 2020 में फोन आया और फोन करने वाले ने उससे पूछा कि क्या करते हो तो उसने बताया कि वह ग्राहक जनसेवा केन्द्र चलाता है तो फोन करने वाले ने उससे पूछा कि बिजली का बिल भी जमा करते हो तो उसने

कहा हाँ तो उसने पूछा कि तम्हें कितना कमीशन मिलता है तो उसने बताया कि उसको 1 से 2 परसेंट कमीशन सीएससी मिलता है तो उसने मुझसे कहा कि अगर तुम मुझसे बिजली का बिल पेमेण्ट कराते हो तो मैं तुमको 20 परसेंट कमीशन दूंगा मैंने कहा मुझे कैसे भरोसा हो तो उसने कहा कि तुम मुझे बिजली की बिल भेज दिया करो मैं पैसे जमा कर दूंगा जिसके बाद तुम उसको बेवसाइड पर जाकर चेक कर सकते हो अगर वहां पर बिजली का बिल जमा दिखाये तो मुझे पैसे दे देना जिसके बाद मैंने काम करना शुरू कर दिया धीरे–धीरे जान पहचान बढ़ी तो पता लगा कि फोन करने वाला आदमी बिहार का रहने वाला है और वहीं से यह काम करता है उसके साथ कई लोग शामिल है एक दो बार वह भी उन लोगों से मिला है। ये सारे लोग मिलकर कई जगहों से बिजली का बिल व फोन का रिचार्ज करते हैं। इसके बाद मुझे प्रभारी निरीक्षक द्वारा बिहार से सम्बन्धित लोगों के बारे में पूछने पर बताया कि उन लोगों का नाम शुभोशाह पुत्र सुजीत शाह पता राम कृष्ण नगर, थाना हरिहर पारा तेनाचुरा, थाना इस्लामपुर जनपद मुर्सिदाबाद पश्चिम बंगाल, नीरज कुमार मण्डल पुत्र तीरथनाथ मण्डल पता राऊतारा (गाजमोड) थाना चितरा जनपद देवघर झारखंड व तपन कुमार मण्डल पुत्र सरकार मण्डल पता सुपाईडीह (दक्षिणी बहल) थाना जामताडा झारखंड है इन्ही सब लोगों के साथ वह बिजली के बिल का रिचार्ज व फोन रिचार्ज का काम करता है। मैं बहुत गरीब आदमी हूं मैंने लालच में आकर ऐसा काम किया है मैंने कोई अपराध नहीं किया।

7. दाण्डिक प्रकीर्ण जमानत प्रार्थना पत्र संख्या 34421 वर्ष 2021 में आवेदक चन्द्रभान सिंह यादव की ओर से विद्वान अधिवक्ता श्री वरद नाथ, दाण्डिक प्रकीर्ण जमानत प्रार्थना पत्र संख्या 39717 वर्ष 2021 में आवेदक मोहन कुमार मण्डल के विद्वान अधिवक्ता श्री राम जतन यादव, दाण्डिक प्रकीर्ण जमानत प्रार्थना पत्र संख्या 55230 वर्ष 2021 में आवेदक तौसीफ जमां की ओर से विद्वान अधिवक्ता श्री दिलीप कुमार पाण्डेय का यह कथन है कि अभियुक्तगण निर्दोष है और उन्हें प्रश्नगत प्रकरण में झूंठा फसाया गया है उनके कब्जे से कोई बरामदगी नहीं दर्शायी गयी है एवं न ही वे प्राथमिकी में नामजद है। अतएव उपरोक्त सभी अभियुक्तगण जमानत पर मुक्त किये जाने योग्य है।

8. इसके विपरीत राज्य की ओर से श्री शिव कुमार पाल, शासकीय अधिक्ता, श्री प्रशान्त कुमार, श्री लालमणि सिंह, विद्वान अपर शासकीय अधिवक्तागण तथा वादी की ओर से श्री सुशील कुमार पाल एवं श्री राहुल गुप्ता उपस्थित हैं तथा उनके द्वारा जमानत का विरोध किया गया।

9. विद्वान अपर शासकीय अधिवक्ता श्री प्रशान्त कुमार ने सम्पूर्ण विवेचना की दैनांदिनी न्यायालय को दिखाते हुए बताया गया कि आवेदकगण/अभियुक्तगण का एक गिरोह है जो देश के सुदूर राज्य जैसे बिहार, बंगाल, मध्य प्रदेश, उडीसा, छत्तीसगढ, झारखंड आदि है और नेक्सलाईट एरिया में बैठकर साइबर अपराध को अंजाम देते हैं, जहाँ पर पुलिस भी जाने से डरती है। श्री प्रशान्त कुमार द्वारा यह भी बताया गया कि साइबर अपराधी गिरोह में अपने–अपने लैपटाप के द्वारा बैंक ग्राहकों को फोन करके उन्हें भरमाकर अथवा लालच देकर उनका नम्बर ले लेतें हैं और यहीं से उनका खेल प्रारम्भ हो जाता है। साइबर अपराधियों ने हजार से अधिक लोगों के भ्रामक नाम व पते से बैंक खाता खोल रखा है, जिसमें बैंक खाताधारकों का पैसा ठगी के माध्यम से स्थानान्तरित किया जाता है और फिर उसी स्थानान्तरित बैंक खाते से पैसा किसी अन्य बैंक में स्थानान्तरित होता है और उन पैसों की निकासी लोन, बिल, वाटर बिल, हाऊस बिल आदि को जमा करके किया जाता है। जैसा कि वर्तमान मुकदमें में अभियुक्त चन्द्रभान सिंह यादव ने स्वीकार किया है कि वह एक सेवा केन्द्र चलाता है जिसमें वह लोगों के बिल या उसका पैसा लेकर सम्बन्धित विभाग के खाते में आनलाइन जमा करता है, बदले में एक दो प्रतिशत का कमीशन विभाग से मिलता है। आगे यह भी बताया गया कि उपरोक्त अभियुक्तगण एवं अन्य ने उससे कहा था कि वह ग्राहकों के बिल उनके फोन पर भेज दिया करें, वे उसे जमा करा देगा और बदले में 20 प्रतिशत कमीशन देगें। इस प्रकार अभियुक्त चन्द्रभान सिंह यादव उक्त लोगों के पास बिल और पैसा भेजता रहा और बदलें में उसे 20 प्रतिशत कमीशन मिलता रहा।

10. दौरान विवेचना यह तथ्य प्रकाश में आया कि अभियुक्तगण ने जो पैसा ठगी के माध्यम से भ्रामक खातों में स्थानान्तरित किया था, उसे वे टी वैलेट एप, जिसके मालिक कुनाल है, के खाते में स्थानान्तरित करते थे और उसी खाते से लोगों का बिल का भुगतान करते हैं, इस कारण से वे पकड़ में नहीं आते हैं। विवेचक द्वारा सम्बन्धित भ्रामक खातों की जब पड़ताल की गयी तो पता चला कि अमुक व्यक्ति का नाम, पता एवं फोटों सभी भ्रामक है जिसे अभियुक्तगण एवं उनके साथी चलाते हैं। वर्तमान वाद में वादी का पैसा अनगिनत भ्रामक खातों में स्थानान्तरित हुए है, जिनका खाताधारक उसकी फोटों नाम और पता सब गलत है। विवेचक द्वारा यह भी बताया गया कि साइबर क्राइम एक्सपर्ट से राय लेकर कुछ महत्वपूर्ण कदम साइबर ठगों को पकड़ने के लिए किये जा रहें हैं जिसे सार्वजनिक नहीं किया जा सकता है, इससे ठग सावधान हो जायेगें और उन्हें पकड़ा नहीं जा सकेगा। न्यायालय को यह भी अवगत कराया गया कि अभियुक्त चन्द्रभान सिंह यादव ने अपने

बयान अन्तर्गत धारा 161 दं0 प्र0 सं0 में सह–अभियुक्तगण सुबो शाह, निवासी मुर्शिदाबाद पश्चिम बंगाल, तौसीफ जमां निवासी मुर्शिदाबाद पश्चिम बंगाल, नीरज कुमार मण्डल, झारखंड, तपन कुमार मण्डल, जामताड़ा झारखंड का नाम लिया है, उनमें से अभियुक्त नीरज मण्डल, सुबो शाह और तौसीफ जमां की जमानत इस न्यायालय ने लीडिंग जमानत प्रार्थना पत्र संख्या 20529 वर्ष 2021, (मुकदमा अपराध संख्या 407 वर्ष 2020), अन्तर्गत धारा 420, 467, 468, 471 भा0 दं0 सं0 एवं धारा 66 (डी) आई0 टी0 एक्ट जिसमें उच्च न्यायालय के एक पूर्व न्यायमूर्ति के साथ साइबर ठगी करके पांच लाख की रकम उनके खाते से निकाली गयी थी, की जमानत दिनांक 12–1–2022 को इस न्यायालय द्वारा खारिज की जा चुकी है। उक्त अपराध की विवेचना में भी इन्हीं अभियुक्तों द्वारा यह स्वीकार किया गया था कि उनका साइबर अपराध का एक गिरोह है जो पूरे देश में अपना जाल बिछाकर बैंक खाताधारकों के खाते में साइबर सेंध लगाकर उनका बैंक खाता खाली कर देता है। उक्त अपराध में सह–अभियुक्त राजू रंजन, नीरज मण्डल, तपन मण्डल ने बयान दिया है वह निम्न प्रकार है।

"सह–अभियुक्त राजू रंजन पुत्र अशोक भगत ने अपने बयान अन्तर्गत धारा 161 दं0 प्र0 सं0 में कहा है कि वह झारखण्ड राज्य ग्रामीण बैंक का ग्राहक सेवा केन्द्र चलाता है जो गाँधी चौक पर उसके घर में ही है। मोबाईल नम्बर 7908793022 को उससे अभियुक्त नीरज मण्डल उर्फ राकेश पुत्र तीरथनाथ मण्डल जो गांजा मोड़ थाना चितरा जनपद देवधर झारखण्ड व तपन कुमार मण्डल पुत्र सरकार मण्डल निवासी सुपाई डीह थाना जामताड़ा जिला जामताड़ा, झारखण्ड बात करते थे लेकिन कुछ समय से बात नहीं करते हैं। तपन मण्डल भी सुपारेड़ी में ग्राहक सेवा केन्द्र चलाता है तथा नीरज मण्डल उर्फ राकेश उसके साथ ही उसके पास आता जाता था लेकिन बाद में उसे पता चला कि नीरज उर्फ राकेश व तपन मण्डल ठीक व्यक्ति नहीं है क्योंकि मण्डल व तपन ने एक बार उससे कहा कि वे लोग लोगों से बात करके उनके बैंक खातों की डिटेल प्राप्त करके अच्छा पैसा कमाते है और यदि वह भी उनके साथ मिलकर काम करेगें तो कोई पकड़ नहीं पायेगा क्योंकि वे लोग फर्जी नाम पता का मोबाईल नम्बर प्राप्त करके उससे कार्य करते है तथा मोबाईल नम्बर 7908793022 की फर्जी पते का ही सिम है। इस पर राजू रंजन ने मना कर दिया तथा तपन ने राजू रंजन के भाई अमित भगत की फर्म जो ट्रेड़िंग सब ब्रोकर का काम करता है, डिमेट एकाउण्ट खोलने के लिए पेपर दिए थे जिसे राजू रंजन ने मना कर दिया कि इनके साथ काम मत करो। नीरज उर्फ राकेश मण्डल व तपन से उसकी बात दिसम्बर के पहले हुई थी। आगे यह भी कहा कि उसे पूरा विश्वास है कि नीरज उर्फ राकेश और तपन मण्डल मिलकर धोखाधड़ी से किसी के खाते से पैसा निकाल लेते हैं। आगे यह भी कहा कि उसका मोबाईल फोन नम्बर 7908793022 आर. जैम 2 के नाम से सेल है।

सह–अभियुक्त नीरज कुमार मण्डल ने अपने बयान अन्तर्गत धारा 161 दं0 प्र0 सं0 में कहा है कि उसके पास मोबाईल नम्बर 7908793022 था तथा यह सिम उसे तपन मण्डल जो उसके मामा का बेटा है। फर्जी नाम पता के आधार पर प्राप्त किया हुआ था लाकर दिया था जिसके माध्यम से वह तपन मण्डल व नीरज कुमार उर्फ नीरज सिन्हा मिलकर लोगों के बैंक एकाउण्ट की सूचना प्राप्त करके धोखाधड़ी से पैसा निकाल लेते हैं। आगे यह भी कहा कि दिसम्बर माह में भी उन सभी लोगों ने एक रिटायर जज महिला का पैसा धोखाधड़ी से निकाल लिए थे, जिसमें नीरज सिन्हा ने ल्वदव ।चच के सहारे से पैसा निकाला था। आगे यह भी कहा कि वे तीनों लोग मिलकर अपराध करते हैं। सिम भी दिसम्बर में तपन मण्डल के दुर्घटना में घायल होने के बाद नीरज सिन्हा के पास रह गया था। नीरज कुमार उर्फ नीरज सिन्हा जनवरी में सिम के साथ राँची साइबर थाना द्वारा पकड़ लिया गया है तथा वर्तमान समय में राँची जेल में निरूद्व है। आगे यह भी कहा कि वे लोग एक साथ मिलकर ही सारा धोखाधड़ी से पैसा निकालने का काम करते हैं।

इसी प्रकार तपन कुमार मण्डल पुत्र सरकार मण्डल ने अपने बयान अन्तर्गत धारा 161 दं0 प्र0 सं0 में यह कहा है कि वह झारखण्ड राज्य ग्रामीण बैंक का ग्राहक सेवा केन्द्र चलाता था तथा उसकी मुलाकात नीरज कुमार उर्फ नीरज सिन्हा पुत्र विनय किशोर प्रसाद निवासी पाकडीह मोहल्ला बेना थाना जामताड़ा, जिला जामताड़ा झारखण्ड से हुई जो पहले से साइबर अपराध करता था उसी ने बताया कि एक गलत नाम पता का सिम ले आओ तो धोखाधड़ी करके खूब पैसा कमाया जायेगा। आगे यह भी कहा कि एक व्यक्ति घूमकर सिम बेच रहा था जिससे उसने मोबाईल नम्बर 7908793022 नम्बर का सिम खरीदा तथा वह अपने बुआ के लड़के नीरज मण्डल उर्फ राकेश से भी बात किया तो वह भी तैयार हो गया उसने सिम नीरज मण्डल को दे दिया तथा समय समय पर इकट्ठा होकर लोगों से उनके बैंक एकाउण्ट की सूचना प्राप्त करके पैसा निकाल लेते थे। इसी तरह दिसम्बर माह में भी उन लोगों ने एक रिटायर महिला जज के खाते से नीरज सिन्हा के माध्यम से दोनों एस0 बी0 आई0 के खाते से लगभग चार लाख रूपया निकाल लिए थे। नीरज मण्डल उर्फ राकेश तथा नीरज सिन्हा मिलकर ही सारा धोखाधड़ी का कार्य करते हैं जो सिम वह खरीद कर लाया था वह नीरज मण्डल के पास रहता था किन्तु दिसम्बर माह में सात तारीख

को उसकी गाड़ी पलट जाने के कारण दुर्घटना में उसे चोट आ गयी थी तब मोबाईल नम्बर 7908793022 नम्बर का सिम नीरज सिन्हा लेकर चला गया था। दुर्घटना के बाद से उसकी मुलाकात नहीं हुई पता चला कि साइबर थाना राँची के मुकदमें में दिनांक 29–1–2021 को पकड़ लिया गया है तथा आज भी राँची में निरूद्व है।"

11. इसी प्रकार उक्त मामले में विद्वान शासकीय अधिवक्ता की ओर से जो तर्क रखे गये हैं कि प्रश्नगत अपराध आवेदकगण द्वारा कारित किया गया है एवं दौरान विवेचना अभियुक्त राजू रंजन पुत्र अशोक भगत, निवासी जनपद देवधर, झारखण्ड, नीरज कुमार मण्डल पुत्र तीरथ नाथ मण्डल जनपद देवधर, झारखण्ड, तपन कुमार मण्डल पुत्र सरकार मण्डल, जिला जामताडा, झारखण्ड का नाम प्रकाश में आया तत्पश्चात उनकी गिरफतारी की गयी। यह भी तर्क रखा किया गया कि प्रश्नगत मामले में उपरोक्त आवेदकों द्वारा अन्य आरोपियों के साथ मिली भगत करके वित्तीय, साइबर धोखाधडी का अपराध किया गया है और ग्राहक पहचान मोड्यूल (सिम) तथा बैंक खाते के लिए निर्मित एवं जाली पहचान पत्रों का उनके द्वारा उपयोग किया गया है। उपरोक्त अपराध के कारित होने में उनके द्वारा सक्रिय भागीदारी को स्थापित करने के लिए अभियोजन के पास पर्याप्त साक्ष्य मौजूद है। वादी मुकदमा के वित्तीय, साइबर धोखाधडी करके जो पैसा निकाला गया उसे पेटियम वालेट (च।ल्ज्डब 123456द्ध से सम्बद्व वालेट नम्बर 8343884119 के माध्यम से निकाला गया था। यह भी तर्क रखा गया कि प्रश्नगत प्रकरणों में उपयोग किये गये आई0 पी0 ऐड्रेस का विवरण प्राप्त करने के बाद एक मोबाईल नम्बर 7076707670 का पता चला है जिसका उपयोग आवेदक सुभो शाह द्वारा किया जा रहा था और जब उपरोक्त फिलपकार्ट के विवरण की जाँच की गयी तो यह पता चला कि उक्त वालेट नम्बर 8343884119 वालेट नम्बर के माध्यम से सात मोबाईल नम्बर 7679054205 के द्वारा आनलाईन खरीदे गये थे जो अब्दुल मोमीन पुत्र नजीब हुसैन निवासी मुर्शीदाबाद के नाम पर था। यह भी तर्क रखा गया कि जब अब्दुल मोमीन से उपरोक्त खरीददारी के सम्बंध में पूंछतांछ की गयी तो उसने अपने बयान अन्तर्गत धारा 161 दं0 प्र0 सं0 में अभियुक्त तौसीफ जमां निवासी मुर्शीदाबाद का नाम लेते हुए बताया कि उपरोक्त मोबाईल इसी व्यक्ति ने लिए है। यह भी तर्क रखा गया कि जांच अधिकारी द्वारा जब सुभो शाह को गिरफतार किया गया तो उसके कब्जे से मोबाईल नम्बर 7076707670 बरामद हुआ जो कि प्रश्नगत अपराध में प्रयुक्त होने की कड़ी में शामिल है। उपरोक्त अभियुक्तों ने फर्जी कार्ड़ के आधार पर सिम निकलवाया और ब्राडबैण्ड कनेक्शन उक्त मोबाईल नम्बर 7076707670 पर लिया जो अभियुक्त सुभो शाह द्वारा प्रयुक्त किया जा रहा था। यह भी तर्क रखा गया कि जब मोबाईल नम्बर 8343884119 का ग्राहक आवेदन पत्र निकाला गया तो पता चला कि यह किसी नईम सरकार के झूठे नाम व नकली पते के आधार पर प्राप्त किया गया था। यह भी तर्क रखा गया कि जांच के दौरान पता चला कि जो पैसा खाते से निकाला गया था वह योनो ऐप के माध्यम से किया गया था और जिस आई0 पी0 पते का उपयोग किया गया था वह मोबाईल नम्बर 7908793022 द्वारा चलाया जा रहा था जब कि उक्त संख्या के ग्राहक आवेदन पत्र का जाँच अधिकारी द्वारा अवलोकन किया गया तो यह पता चला कि शुभ लाल हंसदा नाम के एक व्यक्ति के नाम पर था जिसकी मृत्यु दिनांक 21–6–2016 को हो चुकी है। जब सी0 डी0 आर0 द्वारा उपरोक्त नम्बर का अवलोकन किया गया तो मैक्स बी पार्टी में एक मोबाईल नम्बर (अर्थात मोबाईल नम्बर 7004097335) प्राप्त हुआ और ग्राहक आवेदन पत्र प्राप्त किया गया और उसका अवलोकन किया गया जिसमें अशोक भगत पुत्र राजीव रंजन का नाम सामने आया। यह भी तर्क रखा गया कि जब राजीव रंजन से पूछतांछ की गयी तो उसने बताया कि वह एक ग्राहक सेवा प्रदाता केन्द्र चला रहा है और मोबाईल नम्बर 708793022 का उपयोग नीरज मण्डल उर्फ राकेश और तपन कुमार मण्डल द्वारा किया जा रहा था। नीरज मण्डल और तपन कुमार मण्डल भाई है और मोबाईल नम्बर 7908793022 का उपयोग कर रहे थे, जिनके द्वारा योनो अप्लीकेशन चलाया जा रहा था और उक्त मोबाईल नम्बर एक मृत व्यक्ति के जाली दस्तावेज के आधार पर प्राप्त किया गया था। ऐसी दशा में आवेदकगण जमानत पर मुक्त होने योग्य नहीं है।

12. प्रश्नगत मामले में अभियुक्तों के विद्वान अधिवक्तागण एवं भारत सरकार के विद्वान अधिवक्ता, भारत दूरसंचार के अधिवक्ताओं ने भी बेबाक तर्क रखते हुए कथन किया तथा समाज में बढ़ते साइबर अपराध को रोकने में महत्वपूर्ण सुझाव दिए कि धोखाधड़ी से बैंक ग्राहकों का पैसा निकालने का पूरा प्रकरण रिजर्व बैंक से सम्बन्धित है और वे ही इसके जिम्मेदार हैं। उनके द्वारा आगे यह भी सुझाव रखा गया कि आधार कार्ड के माध्यम से बैंक सभी ग्राहकों के खाते पर नजर रख सकती है।

13. दाण्डिक प्रकीर्ण जमानत आवेदन पत्र संख्या 20529 वर्ष 2021 में विस्तृत आदेश और जो सुझाव अधिवक्ताओं के माध्यम से दिए गये उसका उल्लेख किया गया है तथा राज्य सरकार, भारतीय रिजर्व एवं भारत सरकार को दिए गये सुझावों पर आज तक कोई कार्यवाही नहीं की गयी।

14. न्यायालय अपने क्षेत्राधिकार से पूर्णतया भिज्ञ है और उससे बाहर नहीं जाना चाहिए किन्तु जब बात

समाज और देश के हित में हो तो सुझाव देने में क्षेत्राधिकार का उल्लघंन नहीं होता है। अतः न्यायालय पुनः अपनी बात दोहराती है। साइबर अपराध जो देश और समाज के लिए एक बडा संकट बनकर खडी है जिससे बडी आर्थिक हानि भी होती है, उसपर ध्यान देना चाहिए। केवल साइबर अपराध सेल बनाने से ही अपराध नहीं रूकेगा बल्कि उसके लिए नये उपकरण, संसाधन एवं विशेषज्ञ की टीम भी बनानी पडेगी और उन्हें वे सुविधायें प्रदान करनी होगी जिसके माध्यम से वे साइबर अपराधियों तक पहुंच सके। साथ ही भारतीय रिजर्व बैंक ने बैंकों के लिए जो गाइड लाइन बनायी है वह पर्याप्त नहीं है। इसमें बैंक की जवाबदेही भी निश्चित करनी पडेगी। बैंक यह कहकर नहीं बच सकता कि ग्राहकों ने ओ0 टी0 पी0 दे दिया या फिर बैंक में शिकायत लिखित नहीं की।

15. वर्तमान मामले में वादी ने बैंक आकर यह कहा कि उसके खाते से ठगों द्वारा पैसा आनलाईन निकाला जा रहा है और लगभग दो लाख रूपया निकल गया है, खाते को बंद कर दीजिए किन्तु इस पर बैंक मैनेजर ने कहा कि ग्राहक अपने फोन से बंद करें न कि बैंक बंद करेगा। साथ ही बैंक मैनेजर यह कहने से भी नही बच सकते कि ग्राहक ने उसे लिखित नहीं दिया इसलिए खाता बंद नहीं किया गया। परिणाम स्वरूप दो लाख रूपया के बाद पन्द्रह लाख रूपया (उसके बाद) दो दिन के अन्दर निकल गये। बावजूद इसके बैंक प्रबंधक जो इस मामले में अभियुक्त है को बिना किसी आधार पर केस से बाहर कर दिया गया।

16. वर्तमान मामले में विवेचक श्री राजीव कुमार तिवारी ने शपथपत्र और प्रतिउत्तर शपथपत्र दाखिल किया है जिसमें बताया गया कि वादी के खाते से जो धनराशि निकाली गयी है उसे जामताडा, झारखंड में तनवीर खांन के आई0 सी0 आई0 सी0 आई0 बैंक के खाता संख्या 257201502362 में स्थानान्तरित किया गया है एवं मोबाईल नम्बर 7384867656 से सम्बद्व है और जिसका ईमेल आई0 डी0 ब्सनइकं.375/ हउंपसण ब्वउण है जिसको गुगल पर देखने पर पता चला कि उक्त बैंक खाते को मोबाईल नम्बर 6289051549 जिसका आई0 एम0 ई0 आई0 नम्बर 866750037730549 है से संचालित किया जा रहा है जिसे तारक मल चला रहा है और लोकेशन पता करने के बाद अभियुक्त मोहन कुमार मण्डल को गिरफतार किया गया जिसके कब्जे से उक्त मोबाईल एवं ई0 एम0 आई0 फोन बरामद हुआ।

17. दौरान विवेचना यह पाया गया कि वादी का 17 लाख रूपया जो विभिन्न बैंक खातों के विभिन्न व्यक्तियों के नाम स्थानान्तरित हुआ है जिनमें अभियुक्त बुद्विश्वर शिकारी, पश्चिम बंगाल, दामोश्वर गौतम साहू, संदीप कुमार, राजस्थान, बृजेश कुमार महाराष्ट्र, अशीष बर्मन, पश्चिम बंगाल, कौशिक करमाकर, पश्चिम बंगाल, शहबाज खांन, पश्चिम बंगाल, मो0 रकीबुल इस्लाम, पश्चिम बंगाल, सौरव कुमार मिश्रा, भागलपुर बिहार शामिल है, जिनके सम्बंध में संबधित राज्यों की पुलिस से पता लगाया जा रहा है। विवेचक श्री राजीव कुमार तिवारी द्वारा मामले की गहन छानबीन की गयी और उन्होंने मामले के तह तक जाकर अपराधियों का पता लगाया है जिनमें से कुछ को गिरफतार करके जेल भेजा जा चुका है और शेष अपराधियों की गिरफतारी हेतु सम्बन्धित राज्यों की पुलिस से सहायता मांगी गयी है। श्री तिवारी द्वारा न्यायालय को बताया गया कि शेष अपराधी के मिलने पर देश में व्याप्त साइबर अपराध पर रोक लग पायेगी क्योंकि इनके ही द्वारा पूरे देश में जाल फैलाया गया है।

18. साइबर क्राइम पुलिस अधीक्षक, श्री त्रिवेणी सिंह ने न्यायालय के समक्ष दिनांक 7–4–2022 को उपस्थित होकर शपथपत्र दाखिल किया है जिसमें उनके द्वारा कहा गया कि उन्होंने (सम्बन्धित बैंक) जहां से वादी के साथ आनलाईन फ्राड हुआ है वहां के बैंक प्रबंधक को एक पत्र दिनांक 23–3–2022 को लिखकर कुछ जानकारी ली है जो शपथपत्र के साथ संलग्नक 1 के रूप में है और जिसमें उनके द्वारा निम्न प्रश्न पूछे गय जो इस प्रकार हैः–

1. Account Statement from 15.10.2020 to 17.10.2020 and also provide beneficiary details.

2. SMS/OTP logs of fraudulent transaction.

3. IP logs of fraudulent transactions with date/time and evice ID/MACID/IMEI No.

4. Mode of online transaction (Mobile Banking/Internet Banking /UPI/Card not present)

5. Date of complaint received in Bank/Bank's Call Centre by victim customer regarding frauddulent transactons.

6. Which alternate delivery channels (Mobile Banking/Internet Bancking/UPI/Card Not Present) was blocked/disabled after receiving the complaint from victim customer.

7. Date of blocking/disavling alternate delivery channerls (Mobile Banking/Ineernet Banking/UPI/Card Not Present) through which fraudulent transactions had been done.

8. Was victim customer's Bank account was frozen by bank branch after receving the complaint from him on 15-10-2020 to avoid further loss? If not please explain the reason.

9. Date of lodment of complaint at Bank's Call Centre.

10. Victim customer (complaintnant) has informed that his FD is also closed and amount from his FD account is debited whereas FD (Offline FD) was created by bank branch and he had received FD certificate/receipt by his brnach. Please clarify the reason of closing offline FD and debiting FD account (opended by bank branch) through online banking channerl.

11. Also provide the rules/minutes of the meeting /circular of your bank or RBI wherein it is clearly metioned that offline FD (FD created by bank branch) can be closed and debited through online banking channel whereas offline FD certificate/receipt is provided to the customer by the offline FD issuing bank branch.

19. उक्त के जवाब में बैंक ने जो उत्तर दिए है वे सन्तोषजनक नहीं है जो निम्न है:

(1) Accout Statement from 15.10.2020 to 17.10.2020 is provided at Branch level. Benificiary details is in statement.

(2) For SMS/OTP Logs fraudulent transactions (cm2it.cms@sbi.co.in is mailed) This is at RBO1/IT level/ surveillance and investigation deppt.

(3) IP LOGS ID/MACID/IMEINO. This is at RBO1/IT level/ Surveillance and investigation deppt.

(4) Mode of online Transaction-This is at RBOI/IT LEVEL/surveillance and investigation deppt.

(5) Date of complaint received-Not clear so. This is at RBOI/ITLEVEL/surveillance and investigation deppt.

(6) Alternate channerl Block-Not clear so.This is at RBOI/ITLEVEL/surveillance and investigation depp

(7) Date of Blockging alternate channerl-Not clear so.This is at RBOI/ITLEVEL/surveillance and investigation depp.

(8) Was victim customers bank account frozen by the Bank-Not clear so.This is at RBOI/ITLEVEL/surveillance and investigation depp.

(9) Date of lodgment of complaint at Banks call centre-Not clear so.This is at RBOI/ITLEVEL/surveillance and investigation depp.

(10) Closing of offline FD-Not clear so.This is at RBOI/ITLEVEL/surveillance and investigation depp.

(11) Circular of Offline FD Closure of bank or RBI-Not clear so.This is at RBOI/ITLEVEL/surveillance and investigation depp.

20. इसी प्रकार बैंक के विद्वान अधिवक्ता श्रीमती अर्चना सिंह ने भी शपथ पत्र दाखिल करते हुए कहा कि वादी ने स्वयं अपना बैंक खाता का डिटेल साइबर अपराधियों को दिया है इसलिए बैंक इसके लिए जिम्मेदार नहीं है। न्यायालय के यह पूछने पर कि जब वादी ने बैंक में आकर दिनांक 15–10–2020 को यह बताया कि उसके खाते से दो लाख रूपये की आनलाईन की ठगी हो गयी है और कृपया उसका बैंक एकाउन्ट बंद कर दीजिए तब मैनेजर ने उसका एकाउन्ट क्यों नहीं बंद किया। इसके उत्तर में बैंक के विद्वान अधिवक्ता का यह तर्क है कि बैंक बिना लिखित आदेश से किसी का बैंक खाता बंद नही कर सकता है और वादी को स्वयं खाता बंद करना चाहिए था अथवा उसे अपना खाता बंद करने के लिए लिखित आवेदन करना चाहिए था जो कि वादी द्वारा नहीं दिया गया। बैंक के अधिवक्ता का दूसरा तर्क यह है कि वादी ने पुनः कहा था कि उसके खाते में कुछ पैसे आने वाले है, इसलिए उसका खाता बंद न किया जाए। बैंक की ओर से दिए गये उक्त दोनों तर्को में विरोधाभास है। ऐसा प्रतीत होता है कि बैंक अपने को बचाने के लिए विरोधाभासी बयान कर रहा है। व्यवहारतः यह कैसे सम्भव है कि चतुर्थ श्रेणी कर्मचारी के खाते में 17 लाख रूपये (जो उसे सेवानिवृत्त से प्राप्त हुआ है), उनमें से दो लाख रूपया की आनलाईन बैंक से ठगी हो जाए और वह बैंक जाकर यह कहें कि अभी उसका खाता बंद मत करो और इसके बाद पुनः उसके खाते से 15 लाख रूपया और निकल गया। यह पूर्णतया बैंक की लापरवाही एवं एक गैर जिम्मेदाराना कृत्य है। शिकायतकर्ता एक चतुर्थ श्रेणी कर्मचारी और कम पढ़ा लिखा है। बैंक को उसके साथ हुए पहले दिन आनलाईन ठगी से सावधान रहना चाहिए था और बाकी की 15 लाख रूपया की शेष रकम पर रोक लगानी चाहिए था। साथ ही आर0 बी0 आई0 की गाईड लाइन के अनुसार, स्थानान्तरित बैंक खातों पर रोक लगाने की कार्यवाही करनी चाहिए थी जिसे बैंक ने नहीं की। वादी के धारा 161 दं0 प्र0 सं0 के अन्तर्गत दिए गये बयान से यह पूर्णतः साबित है कि बैंक की लापरवाही एवं गैर जिम्मेदाराना के कारण वादी का खाता बंद नहीं किया जिससे 15 लाख रूपया साइबर ठगों ने निकाल लिया। वादी की प्राथमिकी के कुछ अंश इस प्रकार हैः—

"इसके बाद शाम 5—7 बजे के बीच पैसे कटते रहें। इसकी शिकायत उसने बैंक मैनेंजर अविनाश शुक्ला से की तो उन्होंने बताया कि आपने योनों अप्लीकेशन और नेट बैंकिंग नहीं बंद करवाया है, इसलिए पैसे कट रहे हैं। इस पर वादी ने कहा कि आपने मुझे सन्तुष्ट किया था कि आपके सब कुछ लाक कर दिए गये हैं, इसके बाद उसने दोनों दिन का स्टेटमेंट मांगा तो उसे भी नहीं दे पा रहे हैं। उसके खाते से कुल 16,78,380/—रूपये कट चुके हैं। वादी की उक्त तहरीर के आधार पर साइबर थाना में मुकदमा पंजीकृत किया गया। "

उपरोक्त से भी स्पष्ट है कि बैंक ने वादी के साथ बैंक और ग्राहक के सम्बंध को ध्यान में नहीं रखा। जब कि बैंक का अस्तित्व ग्राहकों के विश्वास के आधार पर ही टिका है जिसे निभाने में बैंक ने एक बडी भूल की है और उससे बचने के लिए अब तरह तरह के बहाने बता रहा है, जिससे न्यायालय संतुष्ट नहीं है। इस न्यायालय ने दाण्डिक प्रकीर्ण जमानत आवेदन पत्र संख्या 20529 वर्ष 2021 निर्णय दिनांकित 12—1—2022 जिसमें सुबो शाह तथा तौसीफ जमां अभियुक्त है, उसमें विद्वान अपर महाधिवक्ता श्री महेश चन्द्र चतुर्वेदी के द्वारा प्रस्तुत किये गये तर्क से भी सहमत है जो निम्न हैः— "आनलाईन अपराध देश के पूरे सिस्टम को खोखला किये जा रहा है और आज शायद ही ऐसा कोई व्यक्ति हो जो इसका शिकार न हो। ऐसी स्थिति में भारत सरकार और राज्य सरकार को ऐसा सिस्टम इजाद करना चाहिए कि ऐसे अपराधों पर रोक लगे। उनके द्वारा यह भी सुझाव दिया गया कि ग्राहकों के पैसों की सुरक्षा की गारंटी होनी चाहिए। चूंकि पैसा बैंक में जमा होता है तो यह जिम्मेदारी बैंक की होती है कि वह ऐसा सिस्टम इजाद करें कि उसके बैंक में ग्राहकों का पैसा किसी भी हाल में साइबर क्राइम के हाथ में न जाए और वह उसे रोकने का हर सम्भव प्रयास करे बावजूद इसके बैंक असफल रहताहै तो ग्राहकों के पैसों की वापसी के लिए बैंक ही जिम्मेदार है। उनके द्वारा यह भी सुझाव रखा गया कि बैंक ग्राहकों का खाता खोलते समय ग्राहकों का पता व मोबाईल नम्बर का सख्ती से सत्यापन नहीं कराता है जिसका लाभ साइबर अपराधी आसानी से उठाता है और हजारों सिम जिसे उसने सम्बन्धित बैंक से जोड रखे है उसे लेकर वह नक्सलवादी क्षेत्रों से संचालित करता है जहां पुलिस भी जाने से डरती है इसलिए सिम बेचने वाली कम्पनी को भी सिम बेचते समय ग्राहकों को तब तक सिम न दे जब तक उसे पूर्ण विश्वास न हो कि अमुक सिम लेने वाला व्यक्ति सही व्यक्ति है। बैंक को खाताधारकों का खाता खोलते समय उसका पूर्ण सत्यापन मोबाईल नम्बर एवं पता पूर्ण रूप से सन्तुष्ट होने पर ही अपने बैंक में खाता खोलना चाहिए। साथ ही उनका यह भी सुझाव है कि आनलाईन पैसा स्थानान्तरित के समय सम्बन्धित बैंक अपने ग्राहकों से व्यक्तिगत फोन करके इसका सत्यापन करें तत्पश्चात पैसों का स्थानान्तरण करें और बैंक द्वारा यदि ऐसा नहीं किया जाता है तो ऐसे सभी आनलाईन फ्राड से ग्राहकों का गया पैसों के लिए बैंक को ही जिम्मेदार ठहराया जाए।"

22. वर्तमान मामले में आवेदक/अभियुक्त चन्द्रभान सिंह यादव ने अपने बयान अन्तर्गत धारा 161 दं0 प्र0 सं0 में यह स्वीकार किया है कि उसे अन्य अभियुक्तों ने जिनमें वर्तमान अभियुक्तगण भी शामिल है उन्होंने प्रलोभन देकर ग्राहकों के बिल मंगाये जिनको वादी के खाते से ही जमा कराया गया है। सह—अभियुक्त मोहन कुमार मण्डल ने भी स्वीकारा है कि वे लोग अन्य व्यक्तियों से साइबर ठगी करते हैं और वे लोग पैसा वालेट के माध्यम से दूसरे के खातों में स्थानान्तरित करते हैं और इनका एक बहुत बडा जाल है जो पूरे देश में साइबर ठगी का काम कर रहा है जिनमें उक्त सभी अभियुक्त शामिल है। वर्तमान प्रकरण में उक्त तीनों अभियुक्तों द्वारा वादी के बैंक खाते से आनलाईन साइबर ठगी करके उसका 17 लाख रूपये निकाला है जो प्रथम द्वष्टया अपराध बनता है।

23. प्रकरण के समस्त तथ्य एवं परिस्थितियों को दृष्टिगत रखते हुए तथा प्रस्तुत मामले के गुण—दोष पर बिना कोई टिप्पणी किये मेरे विचार से आवेदकगण चन्द्रभान सिंह यादव, मोहन कुमार मण्डल एवं तौसीफ जमां को जमानत पर मुक्त करने का कोई पर्याप्त आधार नहीं पाया जाता है।

24. तदनुसार आवेदकगण चन्द्रभान सिंह यादव, मोहन कुमार मण्डल एवं तौसीफ जमां के उक्त जमानत. आवेदन पत्र बलहीन है एवं निरस्त होने योग्य है।

25. तदनुसार आवेदकगण चन्द्रभान सिंह यादव, मोहन कुमार मण्डल एवं तौसीफ जमां के उपरोक्त जमानत आवेदन पत्र निरस्त किये जाते हैं।

(2022)05ILR A1183
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 23.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUNEET KUMAR, J.
THE HON'BLE MANISH MATHUR, J.

Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 230 of 2022

Ashok Kumar Yadav @ Ashok Kumar ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Lalta Prasad Misra, Avinash Singh, Sameer Kalia

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A., Gaurav Mehrotra

(i) Criminal Law – Constitution of India, 1950 - Article 226 - Explosive Substances Act, 1908 – Section 4/5, National Investigation Agency Act, 2008 (duly Amended w.e.f. Dt. 02.08.2019) – Sections 13,13(i), 22, 22(2)(ii) & 22(4), National Investigation Agency (Amendment) Act, 2019 – Amended Schedule: - Writ of Prohibition – to restrain for further proceeding as well as for transmittance of record to the court of competent jurisdiction – sole question of law that– as to whether cases in which cognizance has been taken by regular courts under provision of an Act not included in the schedule to Act, 2008 are required to be transferred to the Special Court Act upon subsequent inclusion of the offence under schedule to Act of 2008 - held - change of forum is being procedural law would have retrospective operation – consequentially writ petition allowed - direction accordingly.(Para – 13, 22, 25)

Writ Petition Allowed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Securities and Exchange Board of India Vs Classic Credit Ltd. (2018 vol. 13 SCC 1),

2. Ramesh Kumar Soni Vs St. of M.P. (2013 vol. 14 SCC 696).

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manish Mathur, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Sameer Kalia, learned counsel for petitioner, Mr. Shiv Nath Tilhari, learned Additional Government Advocate for opposite party no.1 and Mr. Shishir Jain, learned counsel for opposite parties no.2 to 4.

2. In view of order being proposed to be passed, notices to opposite party no.5 stand dispensed with.

3. At the very outset, it may be indicated that no counter affidavit has been filed by the opposite parties till date but since dispute pertains only to applicability of law without the facts being disputed as such, the matter is being decided in absence of the counter affidavit with consent of learned counsel for parties.

4. Petition has been filed seeking a writ in the nature of prohibition to restrain further proceeding in Case Crime No.561 of 2012, State Versus Virendra Sharma and others under Section 4/5 Explosive Substances Act, 1908 registered in Police Station- Kotwali Mahoba, District Mahoba bearing case no.2796 of 2012 which is pending before opposite party no.4 i.e. the Chief Judicial Magistrate, District Mahoba. Further prayer for direction pertaining to transmittance of records to the court of competent jurisdiction at Lucknow has also been sought.

5. Learned counsel for petitioner submits that the petitioner is conducting the business of stone crushing and as such was validly and legally permitted and entitled to conduct blasting operations in the area of his validly executed mining lease issued by the State Government. It is submitted for the said purpose, stocks of explosive were required to be kept by the petitioner.

6. It is submitted that an FIR bearing Case Crime No.561 of 2012, under Section 4/5 of Explosive Substances Act, 1908 was registered against the petitioner and three others in Police Station Kotwali Mahoba, District Mahoba on the basis of recovery memo prepared by the Station House Officer. The allegation made in the first information report was that upon information being received from the Police Informer pertaining to a cashe of explosive being kept in the premises of one Shree Chandra Mauli Bhardwaj without due permission and its likely misuse in the Forthcoming Assembly Election, 2012, certain recovery was made as a result of search conducted by the police. It is submitted that the first information report was lodged on 11.02.2012 whereafter charge-sheet was submitted on 15.06.2012 and cognizance was taken by the Chief Judicial Magistrate on 24.07.2012.

7. Learned counsel for petitioner submits that at the time of lodging of FIR and cognizance being taken by the court concerned, the Explosive Act was not included in the schedule to the National Investigation Agency Act, 2008 but during pendency of trial, the Explosive Act, 1908 was inserted in the National Investigation Agency Act by means of National Investigation Agency (Amendment) Act, 2019 (16 of 2019) with effect from 02nd August 2019. It is further submitted that subsequently vide notification dated 20.04.2021, the State Government with concurrence of the High Court designated the IIIrd Senior Most Court of District and Sessions Judge, Lucknow as Special Court having territorial jurisdiction over entire State of Uttar Pradesh for the trial of all offences as specified in the schedule appended to the National Investigation Agency Act, 2008 (hereinafter referred Act of 2008).

8. In terms of aforesaid, it has been submitted that once the Explosive Act, 1908 was inserted into the schedule of the Act of 2008 and Special Court has been constituted vide notification dated 20.4.2021, petitioner's trial and records are required to transmitted to the Special Court in terms of Section 13 read with Section 22(4) of the Act, 2008.

9. Learned counsel for petitioner has further elaborated that change of forum during pendency of trial pertains to procedural aspect and is therefore retrospective in nature. As such, even though the offence is said to have taken place prior to insertion of Explosive Act into the schedule of Act, 2008 but the change of forum created due to the amending Act of 2019, would have retrospective operation and therefore the Court of Chief Judicial Magistrate, Mahoba would cease to have jurisdiction which would vest only with Special Court constituted in terms of the Act of 2008.

10. Learned counsel has placed reliance upon the judgment rendered by Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the cases of Securities and Exchange Board of India versus Classic Credit Limited reported in (2018) 13 SCC 1 and Ramesh Kumar Soni versus State of Madhya Pradesh reported in (2013)14 SCC 696 to buttress his submission.

11. Learned counsel appearing on behalf of opposite parties have refuted submission advanced by learned counsel for petitioner with the submission that FIR in the present case was lodged in the year 2012 with cognizance also having been taken by the court concerned on 24.07.2012. It is submitted that at the time of lodging of FIR and taking of cognizance by the court concerned, the Explosive Act had not been included in the schedule to Act of 2008. It is submitted that once cognizance of the case was taken in the year 2012, the amendment incorporating Explosive Act into the Act of 2008 in the year 2019 would not have any retrospective operation since it would pertain to creation of substantive rights which would not have any retrospective operation.

12. Learned counsel have also submitted that Section 22 (4) specifically provides transfer of cases to Special Court only in case investigation has been done under provisions of the Act of 2008 and since in the present matter, investigation was not in terms of the Act of 2008, Chief Judicial Magistrate concerned would be the competent court and not the Special Court.

13. Upon consideration of submissions advanced by learned counsel for parties and perusal of material available on record, the only question of law required to be adjudicated is as to whether cases in which cognizance has been taken by the regular courts under provision of an Act not included in the schedule to the National Investigation Agency Act, 2008 are required to be transferred to the Special Court Act upon subsequent inclusion of the offence under schedule to Act of 2008?

14. The provisions pertaining to jurisdiction of Special Courts and transfer of pending trials under the Act of 2008 are clearly indicated in Sections 13 and 22 of the said Act which are as follows:

"13. Jurisdiction of Special Courts. -

(1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code, every Scheduled Offence investigated by the Agency shall be tried only by the Special Court within whose local jurisdiction it was committed.

(2) If, having regard to the exigencies of the situation prevailing in a State if,-

(a) it is not possible to have a fair, impartial or speedy trial; or

(b) it is not feasible to have the trial without occasioning the breach of peace or grave risk to the safety of the accused, the witnesses, the Public Prosecutor or a judge of the Special Court or any of them; or

(c)it is not otherwise in the interests of justice, the Supreme Court may transfer any case pending before a Special Court to any other Special Court within that State or in any other State and the High Court may transfer any case pending before a Special Court situated in that State to any other Special Court within the State.

(3)The Supreme Court or the High Court, as the case may be, may act under this section either on the application of the Central Government or a party interested and any such application shall be made by motion, which shall, except when the applicant is the Attorney-General for India, be supported by an affidavit or affirmation.

22 Power of State Government to 1[designate Court of Session as] Special Courts. -

(1)The State Government may 2(designate one or more Courts of Session as) Special Courts for the trial of offences under any or all the enactments specified in the Schedule.

(2)The provisions of this Chapter shall apply to the Special Courts 1[designated] by the State Government under sub-section (1) and shall have effect subject to the following modifications, namely-

(i)references to "Central Government" in sections 11 and 15 shall be construed as references to State Government;

(ii)reference to "Agency" in sub-section (1) of section 13 shall be construed as a reference to the "investigation agency of the State Government";

(iii)reference to "Attorney-General for India" in sub-section (3) of section 13 shall be construed as reference to "Advocate-General of the State".

(3) The jurisdiction conferred by this Act on a Special Court shall, until a Special Court is 1[designated] by the State Government under sub-section (1) in the case of any offence punishable under this Act, notwithstanding anything contained in the Code, be exercised by the Court of Session of the division in which such offence has been committed and it shall have all the powers and follow the procedure provided under this Chapter.

(4) On and from the date when the Special Court is 1[designated] by the State Government the trial of any offence investigated by the State Government under the provisions of this Act, which would have been required to be held before the Special Court, shall stand transferred to that Court on the date on which it is 1[designated]."

15. Learned counsel for the opposite parties have laid much emphasis on Section 22(4) of the Act of 2008 to submit that transfer of pending trials to the Special Court are required only in case the offence has been investigated by the State Government Under provisions of this Act. It has been submitted that since investigation in the current case was not under provisions of the Act of 2008, there is no occasion for transfer of trial to Special Court, which as such would not have jurisdiction.

16. Section 13 of the Act of 2008 clearly indicates jurisdiction of Special Courts setup under the Act of 2008 and begins with a non-obstante clause to the effect that every scheduled offence investigated by the agency shall be tried only by the Special Court within whose local jurisdiction it was committed.

17. For the purpose of construing provisions of Section 13 of the Act of 2008, it is relevant to indicate that Section 22(2)(ii), clarifies that reference to agency in Section 13(i) is to be construed as a reference to the Investigation Agency of the State Government. As such, it is evident that investigation can be carried out by any investigation agency of the State Government and not necessarily the National Investigation Agency.

18. A bare comprehension of Section 13 of Act of 2008 indicates that for purposes of Special Court to have jurisdiction, the offence should be scheduled and investigated by the Agency. The term Agency as indicated hereinabove has already been explained under Section 22(2)(ii) to be an Investigation Agency of the State Government. Section 13 as such is clearly demarcated for purposes of trial of offences and not for the purposes of investigation of offences. The purport of Section 13 does not indicate that the offence should be a scheduled offence as on the date of investigation. Since Section 13 clearly pertains to trial of offences, the meaning and import of the said Section can readily be construed to mean that the offence investigated by the Agency should be a scheduled offence as on the date when the Special Courts are constituted. Giving a meaning contrary to the one indicated hereinabove would amount to inserting a provision which the legislature in its wisdom has not imported into Section 13 of the Act of 2008. The maximum of casus omissus cannot be supplied merely because a second view is possible.

19. So far as the submission of learned counsel for opposite parties is concerned that the transfer of cases to Special Court can take place only in the case of any offence investigated under provision of this Act is concerned, harmonious construction of Sections 13 and 22(4) of the Act of 2008 would clearly explain that Section 22(4) relates to investigation and trial prior to constitution of Special Courts but once the Special Courts have been setup, their jurisdiction is required to be seen in the context of Section 13 of the Act of 2008. As such, the aspect of transfer of cases investigated under provisions of this Act loses its relevance, since Section 13 of the Act of 2008 clearly indicates that the scheduled offence investigated by the Agency is to be seen as on the date of constitution of the Special Courts, which in the present case was on 21.04.2021 when the offence was clearly a scheduled offence after amendment being incorporated in 2019.

20. Another aspect of the matter is that change of forum is an aspect of procedural law and would have retrospective operation has enunciated by Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the case of Classic Credit Limited (supra) the relevant paragraphs are as follows:-

"49. We will now deal with the legality of the propositions canvassed, at the hands of learned counsel for the rival parties. In our considered view, the legal position expounded by this Court in a large number of judgments including New India Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Shanti Misra, (1975) 2 SCC 840; Securities and Exchange Board of India v. Ajay Agarwal, (2010) 3 SCC 765; and Ramesh Kumar Soni v. State of Madhya Pradesh, (2013) 4 SCC 696, is clear and unambiguous, namely, that procedural amendments are presumed to be retrospective in nature, unless the amending statute expressly or impliedly provides otherwise. And also, that generally change of "forum" of trial is procedural, and normally following the above proposition, it is presumed to be retrospective in nature, unless the amending statute provides otherwise. This determination emerges from the decision of this Court in Hitendra Vishnu Thakur v. State of Maharashtra (1994) 4 SCC 602; Ranbir Yadav v. State of Bihar (1995) 4 SCC 392, and Kamlesh Kumar v. State of Jharkhand (2013) 15 SCC 460, as well as, a number of further judgments noted above.

50. We have also no doubt, that alteration of "forum" has been considered to be procedural, and that, we have no hesitation in accepting the contention advanced on behalf of the SEBI, that change of "forum" being procedural, the amendment of the "forum" would operate retrospectively, irrespective of whether the offence allegedly committed by the accused, was committed prior to the amendment."

21. The aforesaid aspect of retrospective operation of procedural law pertaining to change of forum has also been enunciated by the Supreme Court in the case of Ramesh Kumar Soni (supra) in the following manner:

11. In Hitendra Vishnu Thakur v. State of Maharashtra (1994) 4 SCC 602, one of the questions which this Court was examining was whether clause (bb) of Section 20(4) of the Terrorist and Disruptive Activities (Prevention) Act, 1987 introduced by an Amendment Act governing Section 167(2) Cr.P.C. in relation to TADA matters was in the realm of procedural law and if so, whether the same would be applicable to pending cases. Answering the question in the affirmative this Court speaking through A.S. Anand, J. (as His Lordship then was), held that Amendment Act 43 of 1993 was retrospective in operation and that clauses (b) and (bb) of sub-section (4) of Section 20 of TADA apply to the cases which were pending investigation on the date when the amendment came into force. The Court summed up the legal position with regard to the procedural law being retrospective in its operation and the right of a litigant to claim that he be tried by a particular Court, in the following words:

"(i) A statute which affects substantive rights is presumed to be prospective in operation unless made retrospective, either expressly or by necessary intendment, whereas a statute which merely affects procedure, unless such a construction is textually impossible, is presumed to be retrospective in its application, should not be given an extended meaning and should be strictly confined to its clearly defined limits.

(ii) Law relating to forum and limitation is procedural in nature, whereas law relating to right of action and right of appeal even though remedial is substantive in nature.

(iii) Every litigant has a vested right in substantive law but no such right exists in procedural law.

(iv) A procedural statute should not generally speaking be applied retrospectively where the result would be to create new disabilities or obligations or to impose new duties in respect of transactions already accomplished.

(v) A statute which not only changes the procedure but also creates new rights and liabilities shall be construed to be prospective in operation, unless otherwise provided, either expressly or by necessary implication."

22. From the above aspect as well, it is apparent that change of forum as in the present case being part of procedural law, would have retrospective operation and as such, the matter is clearly cognizable by the Special Court constituted under the Act of 2008.

23. Another aspect which requires mention is that the Special Courts have been setup for speedy disposal of offences pertaining to the Acts indicated in the schedule. As such, also it would be prudent that the Special Court should hear matters relating to offences incorporated in the schedule to the Act of 2008.

24. Considering the aforesaid, it is evident that in the present case offence being related to a scheduled offence as on the date of constitution of Special Court is required to be heard by the Special Court created under the Act of 2008.

25. Consequently, the writ petition succeeds and is allowed issuing a writ in the nature of Prohibition, restraining the opposite party no.4 (Chief Judicial Magistrate, Mahoba) for proceeding further in Case No.2796 of 2012, pertaining to Case Crime No.561 of 2012, Section 4/5 Explosive Substances Act, 1908, Police Station Kotwali Mahoba, District Mahoba, bearing Case No.2796 of 2012 pending before Court of Chief Judicial Magistrate-Mahoba.

26. A further writ in the nature of mandamus is issued commanding opposite party no.3 (Sessions Judge, District Mahoba) to transmit the relevant records of case no.2796 of 2012 to the Special Court constituted under the National Investigation Agency Act, 2008 at Lucknow.

27. The Registry is directed to circulate the order to the District Judges after obtaining approval from Hon'ble the Chief Justice.

(2022)05ILR A1189
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 04.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAKESH SRIVASTAVA, J.
THE HON'BLE SAURABH LAVANIA, J.

Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 1087 of 2022

Anmolakram & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Surya Kant Tripathi

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A.

(i) Criminal Law – Constitution of India,1950 - Article 226 - UP Control of Goondas Act, 1970 – Sections 2(b)(i), 3 & 3(1) - Indian Penal Code,1860 – Sections 153, 153-B & 294 - Writ filed against the Show Cause Notice issued under Goondas Act, only on the basis of two criminal cases exist against the accused – preliminary objection – writ petition not maintainable being premature – matter is still under consideration – remedy of appeal available - no plea of 'lack of jurisdiction' – writ petition is dismissed on the ground of availability of alternative remedy.(Para – 8)

Writ Petition Dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Executive Engineer, Bihar St. Housing Board Vs Ramesh Kumar Singh (1996 vol. 1 SCC 327),

2. Kabir Chawla Vs St. of U.P .& ors. (1994 Suppl. Vol. 1 SCC 274),

3. Ballabh Chaubey Vs Additional District Magistrate Mathura & anr. (1997 All.L.J. 1630),

4. N. K. Bapna Vs U.O.I. (1992 vol. 4 JT 49),

5. St. of Tamil Nadu Vs P K Shamsuddin (1992 vol. 4 JT 179),

6. Subhash Mujimal Gandhi Vs L. Miningliana (1994 vol. 6 SCC 14),

7. Raja Vs St. (1972 All. L. J. 537),

8. Harsh Narain Vs District Magistrate (1972 All.L.J. 762).

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rakesh Srivastava, J. & Hon'ble Saurabh Lavania, J.)

1. The show-cause notices issued by the Additional District Magistrate, Sitapur, Respondent 2 herein, under Section 3 (1) of the Uttar Pradesh Control of Goondas Act, 1970 (for short the 'Act') are under challenge in the present writ petition.

2. Ms. Rupa Mishra, Advocate holding brief of Shri Suryakant Tripathi, the learned counsel for the Petitioners has contended that the notices have been issued on the basis of two criminal cases; it is contended that Section 2(b)(i) defines

'Goonda' to mean a person who either by himself or as member or leader of a gang, habitually commits or attempts to commit, or abets the commission of an offence punishable under Section 153 or 153-B or Section 294 of the Indian Penal Code or Chapter XV, or Chapter XVI, Chapter XVII, or Chapter XXII of the said code; that only on the basis of two criminal cases, it cannot be said that the petitioner is a person, who habitually commits the aforesaid offences. It is contended that the general nature of the material allegations against the Petitioners in respect of Clauses (a) (b) and (c) of sub-section (1) of Section 3 of the Act have not been mentioned in the notices and as such the said notices are illegal.

3. Ms. Ruhi Siddiqui, learned Additional Government Advocate appearing on behalf of the State-Respondents on the other hand has raised a preliminary objection regarding the maintainability of the writ petition. The counsel contends that the Petitioners have yet to appear before Respondent 2 and show-cause; the writ petition at this stage, is premature and should not be entertained.

4. At this juncture, it is relevant to keep in mind the observations made by the Apex Court, though in a slightly different context in Executive Engineer, Bihar State Housing Board vs. Ramesh Kumar Singh, (1996) 1 SCC 327. Paragarph 10 of the said report reads as under: -

"10. We are concerned in this case, with the entertainment of the Writ Petition against a show cause notice issued by a competent statutory authority. It should be borne in mind that there is no attack against the vires of the statutory provisions governing the matter. No question of infringement of any fundamental right guaranteed by the Constitution is alleged or proved. It cannot be said that Ext. P-4 notice is ex facie a "nullity' or totally "without jurisdiction" in the traditional sense of that expression -- that is to say, that even the commencement or initiation of the proceedings, on the face of it and without anything more, is totally unauthorised. In such a case, for entertaining a writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India against a show-cause notice, at that stage, it should be shown that the authority has no power or jurisdiction, to enter upon the enquiry in question. In all other cases, it is only appropriate that the party should avail of the alternate remedy and show cause against the same before the authority concerned and take up the objection regarding jurisdiction also, then. In the event of an adverse decision, it will certainly be open to him to assail the same either in appeal or revision, as the case may be, or in appropriate cases, by invoking the jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India."

(emphasis supplied)

5. In Kabir Chawla vs. State of U.P. and others, 1994 Supp (1) SCC 274, while dealing with a challenge to a notice issued under Section (3)(1) of the Act, the Apex Court has held as under :

"The Petitioner has made a grievance in relation to the proceedings that have been initiated against him by the District Magistrate, Nainital, by the show-cause notice dated March 10, 1993 under Section 3 (1) of the U.P. Control of Goondas Act, 1970. The petitioner states that he has submitted his reply to the show-cause notice but no final order has been made so far and that he has to appear before the District Magistrate. The petitioner, however, prays that the said proceedings may be quashed. We do not find any ground for quashing the said proceedings at this stage. The matter is under consideration before the District Magistrate. It is open to the petitioner to satisfy the District Magistrate that no ground has been made out for passing the order against him. In the writ petition the petitioner has not made out a case that in issuing the show-cause notice the District Magistrate was actuated by mala fides. There is, therefore, no reason to assume that the District Magistrate would not give a fair consideration to the matter. We are, therefore, unable to accept the submissions of the petitioner in this regard."

(emphasis supplied)

6. In Ballabh Chaubey vs. Additional District Magistrate (Finance), Mathura and another 1997 All LJ 1630, a Division Bench of this Court considered the question of maintainability of a writ petition at the stage of notice under Section 3 of the Act and after taking into account the provisions of the Act and a catena of decisions of the Apex Court as well as of this Court, dismissed the writ petition on the ground of availability of alternative remedy. Paragraphs 7A to 11 of the said report are extracted below :

"7A. The detention laws like National Security Act, or Conservation of Foreign Exchange and Prevention of Smuggling Activities Act make serious in road in the liberty of a person. Under these laws a person is detained without any prior notice and that too on the subjective satisfaction of the detaining authority which satisfaction cannot be challenged on merits. The person detained gets only a right to make representation against his detention but that too after he has been detained and he has been deprived of his liberty. The decision of the representation naturally takes time. The principle that the machinery provided by the Act should not be permitted to be bypassed by taking recourse to proceedings under Article 226 of the Constitution prior to execution of the detention order was reiterated even in such cases. In Additional Secretary to Government of India v. Smt. Alka Subhash Gadia, 1991 (1) JT 549, the submission on behalf of the detaining authority is noticed in para 25 of the Report which is as under :

"It was contended by Sri Sibbal, learned Additional Solicitor General, on behalf of the appellants that since the detention law is constitutionally valid, the order passed under it can be challenged only in accordance with the provisions of, and the procedure laid down, by it. In this respect there is no distinction between the orders passed under the detention laws and those passed under other laws. Hence, the High Court under Article 226 of this Court under Article 32 of the Constitution should not exercise its extraordinary jurisdiction in a manner which will enable a party to by-pass the machinery provided by the law."

The Court after considering the submissions of the parties held as follows in para 30:

"..... The power under Articles 226 and 32 are wide, and are untrammelled by any external restrictions and can reach any executive order resulting in, civil or criminal consequences. However, the Courts have over the years evolved certain self-restraints for exercising these powers. They have done so in the interests of the administration of justice and for better and more efficient and informed exercise of the said powers. These self-imposed restraints are not confined to the review of the orders passed under detention law only. They extend to the orders passed and decisions made under all laws. It is in pursuance of this self-evolved judicial policy and in conformity with the self-imposed internal restrictions that the Courts insist that the aggrieved person first allow the due operation and implementation of the concerned law and exhaust the remedies provided by it before approaching the High Court and this Court to evoke their discretionary extraordinary and equitable jurisdiction under Articles 226 and 32 respectively. That jurisdiction by its very nature is to be used sparingly and in circumstances where no other efficacious remedy is available....."

This decision has been subsequently followed in N.K. Bapna v. Union of India, 1992 (4) JT 49, State of Tamil Nadu v. P.K. Shamsuddin, 1992 (4) JT 179: (AIR 1992 SC 1937) and Subhash Mujimal Gandhi v. L. Miningliana, 1994 (6) SCC 14: (1994 AIR SCW 4975). The provisions of detention laws are far more stringent than the Control of Goondas Act as here order is passed after notice and trial and the person against whom order is passed does not lose his liberty. He is merely deprived of his right to live in a particular area from where he is externed but is free to reside any where else in the country. There is no reason why the same principle should not apply in the present case as well. The law being well settled that where a Statute provides a machinery of its own, the aggrieved person should first exhaust the remedies provided under the Statutes before approaching the High Court under Article 226 of the Constitution and the High Court would not normally entertain a petition straightway, the present petition challenging the notice is liable to be rejected on the ground of alternative remedy.

8. In Raja Sukhnandan v. State, AIR 1972 All 498: (1972 All LJ 537), the writ petition was filed at the stage of notice. The Division Bench examined the contention based upon the constitutional validity of U.P. Control of Goondas Act but refused to consider the submission regarding illegality of the notice on the ground that the same could be agitated before the District Magistrate and if the decision went against the petitioner, in appeal before the Commissioner. In Kabir Chawla v. State of U.P., 1994 SCC (Cri) 577 the validity of the notice u/S. 3 of the Act was assailed but the Supreme Court declined to go into this question on the ground that the petitioner could satisfy the District Magistrate who was seized of the matter. It may be mentioned here that in all the cases where validity of notice issued under similar Statute relating to externment of Goondas was assailed before the Supreme Court, the matter had been taken in appeal against final orders of externment (see Gurucharan Singh v. State of Bombay, AIR 1952 SC 221, Hari Khenu Gawli v. Dy. Commissioner of Police, AIR 1956 SC 559 : (1956 Cri LJ 1104); Bhagubhaj v. District Magistrate, AIR 1956 SC 585 : (1956 Cri LJ 1126) and State of Gujarat v. Mehboob Khan, AIR 1968 SC 1468 : 1969 Cri LJ 26.

9. There is another reason for not entertaining the writ petition at the stage of notice. As the preamble of the Act shows it has been enacted to make special provisions for the Control and Suppression of Goondas with a view to the maintenance of Public Order. The provisions of the Act are intended to prevent further mischief by a Goonda and not to secure his conviction in a pending case. If a person is permitted to challenge the notice at the initial stage and seek stay of the proceedings the very purpose for which notice is issued and the law under which it is issued will be frustrated as the externment order remains in operation only for a limited period.

10. Learned counsel has next submitted that in Ramji Pandey v. State of U.P., 1981 All LJ 897 : 1981 All LJ 897 writ petition had been filed challenging the notice under Section 3 of the Act and the writ petition was allowed by a Full Bench of this Court and therefore the present petition also deserves to be entertained. The judgment of the Full Bench shows that the question whether writ petition should be entertained against a notice was not at all considered. The only question which was canvassed and was considered by the Bench was whether the notice was in accordance with the requirement of Section 3 of the Act. No such argument that a writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution should not be entertained at the stage of notice seems to have been canvassed and therefore no decision has been given on this point. It is what settled that a decision is an authority for when it actually decides. What is of the essence in a decision is its ratio and not every observation found therein nor what logically flows from the various observations made in it. (See M/s Orient Paper and Industries Ltd. v. State of Orissa, AIR 1991 SC 672 para 19). Doctrine of precedent is limited to the decision itself and as to what is necessarily involved in it. Judicial authority belongs not to the exact words used in this or that judgment, nor even to all reasons given, but only to the principle accepted and applied as necessary grounds of decision see Krishna Kumar v. Union of India, (1990) 4 SCC 207 : (1990 Lab IC 1490 paras 18 and 19). The Full Bench having not, considered the question of maintainability of the writ petition at the stage of notice the decision rendered by it cannot be held to be an authority or binding (sic) precedent for holding the writ petition to be maintainable.

11. In view of the reasons discussed above the, writ petitions are dismissed on the ground of alternative remedy."

(emphasis supplied)

7. The validity of Section 3 of the Act has been considered by this Court in Raja v. State, 1972 All LJ 537 and in Harsh Narain v. District Magistrate, 1972 All LJ 762. In both of these cases, the two Division Benches have upheld the validity of the Act.

8. It is not the case of the Petitioners that Respondent 2 has no power or jurisdiction to issue the show-cause notice. The matter is under consideration before Respondent 2. It is open to the Petitioners to show to Respondent 2 that on merits no case is made out against them. If an order is passed against the Petitioners it would be subject to an appeal to the Commissioner. We, therefore, do not think it appropriate to consider the matter on merits in this proceeding.

9. In the result, the writ petition is dismissed on the ground of availability of an alternative remedy.

(2022)05ILR A1193
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHBAD 19.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ASHWANI KUMAR MISHRA, J.
THE HON'BLE RAJNISH KUMAR, J.

Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 4096 of 2022

Om Prakash & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Rahul Kumar Tyagi

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A.

(i) Criminal Law – Constitution of India,1950 - Article 226, - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections 425 & 447 – UP Revenue Code 2006 – Section 67 - Public Property (Prevention of Damage) Act, 1984 - Section 3 & 6 - Writ Petition – for quashing the FIR – on the ground that lodging of an FIR in respect of such allegation would be impermissible and would amount to an abuse of process of law – allegation encroachment of a public utility land & change the nature of public property – proceeding under the IPC read with Act of 1984 are independent which are not affected or circumscribed in any manner – Law is settled that St.ment of objects and reasons is in the nature of external aids and can be seen only where the provision are not clear or any confusion prevails – consequentially, prayer to quash the FIR must fail.(Para –6, 7, 18, 19)

Writ Petition Dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Munshi Lal & anr. Vs St. of U.P. & anr. (Application (U/s 482) No. 9964 of 2020),

2. Aswini Kumar Ghose & anr. Vs Arbinda Bose & anr. (AIR 1952 SC 369),

3. Central Bank of India Vs Their Workmen (AIR 1960 SC 12),

4. Gurudevdatta VKss Maryadit & ors. Vs St. of Mah. & ors. (2011 (4) SCC 534),

5. Anandji Haridas & Co. Pvt. Ltd. Vs Engineering Mazdoor Sangh & anr. (AIR 1975 SC 946),

6. Arul Nadar Vs Authorized Officer, Land Reforms (1998 (7) SCC 157),

7. Bhaiji Vs SDO, Thandla & ors. (2003 (1) SCC 692),

8. M/s Govind Saran Ganga Saran Vs Commissioner of Sales Tax & ors. (AIR 1985 SC 1041),

9. Commissioner of Income Tax Orissa Vs M/s NC Budharaja & Co. & anr. (1993 AIR SCW 3317).

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ashwani Kumar Mishra, J. & Hon'ble Rajnish Kumar, J.)

1. This petition has been filed with prayer to quash the First Information Report registered as Case Crime No.0096 of 2022, under Sections- 447 I.P.C. and Section 3 of Public Property (Prevention of Damage) Act 1984, Police Station- Babugarh, District- Hapur on the ground that allegations made in the F.I.R. at best can enable the authorities to initiate action under Section 67 of the U.P. Revenue Code 2006, but lodgement of F.I.R. in respect of such allegation would be impermissible and would amount to an abuse of the process of law.

2. Petition is opposed by learned A.G.A.

3. We have perused the First Information Report which records that Khasra No.940 area 0.063 hectare is recorded in the revenue records as Jauhad (Public Utility Land). As per allegations the petitioners are trying to encroach upon such land and raise construction upon it. Previously such attempt was stalled by the revenue authorities but the petitioners have again changed the nature of the public property and consequently the F.I.R. has been lodged.

4. The aforesaid First Information Report has been lodged under Section 447 I.P.C. read with Section 3 of the Prevention of Damage to Public Property Act, 1984.

Section 3 of the Act of 1984 provides that whoever commits mischief by doing any act in respect of any public property shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years with fine. Mischief specified in Section 3 carries the same meaning as is assigned to it in Section 425 of the I.P.C. Section 425 I.P.C. provides that whoever with intent to cause, or knowing that he is likely to cause, wrongful loss or damage to the public property or to any person, causes the destruction of any property, or any such change in any property or in the situation thereof or destroys or diminishes its value or utility, or affects it injuriously, commits "mischief". Prima facie allegations made in the F.I.R. clearly make out a case of offence in terms of Section 3 of the Act of 1984. Whether these allegations are correct or not would be an aspect to be examined during course of investigation. Petitioners otherwise have not brought on record any material to indicate that this land was ever recorded in their names or have perfected any right over it. A civil suit appears to have been filed by the petitioners for injunction but no proceedings have been instituted for grant of declaration in favour of the petitioners in respect of such land. The statement made in the F.I.R. that the plot in question is recorded as public utility land is otherwise not disputed or shown to be factually incorrect.

5. Learned counsel for the petitioners has placed reliance upon a judgment of this Court in petition Under Section 482 Cr.P.C. No.9964 of 2020; Munshi Lal and Another Vs. State of U.P. and Another, in which the charge sheet came to be quashed by the learned Single Judge relying upon the statement of objects and reasons contained in the act of 1984 so as to restrict its application only to acts of vandalism including destruction and damage caused to public property during riots and public commotion. Reasoning assigned in that regard is contained in para 11 of the judgment in Munshi Lal (supra), which is reproduced hereinafter:-

"11. As far as the P.D.P.P. Act, 1984 is concerned, the same has been enacted with the specific purpose. The statement of objects and reasons of the said Act shows that it was enacted with a view to curb acts of vandalism and damage to public property including destruction and damage caused during riots and public commotion. A need was felt to strengthen the law to enable the authorities to deal with cases of damage to public property. The "public property" as defined under Section 2(b) of the P.D.P.P. Act, 1984 means any property, whether immovable or movable (including any machinery) which is owned by or in possession of or under the control of the Central or State Government or any local authority or any Corporation or any institution established by the Central, Provincial or State Act or its undertaking. Section 3 of the P.D.P.P. Act, 1984 provides that anyone who commits mischief by doing any act in respect of any 'public property' including the nature referred in sub-section (2) in the said section shall be punished with imprisonment and a fine depending upon the nature of the property as per sub-section (1) and sub-section (2) of Section 3 of the P.D.P.P. Act, 1984. Section 4 provides punishment for an act of 'Mischief' causing damage to pubic property by fire or explosive substance. The P.D.P.P. Act, 1984 is, thus, a Special Act enacted to punish for the offence committed under Sections 3 and 4 of the said Act by doing any act of vandalism including the destruction or damage during any riots or public demonstration in the name of agitations, bandhs, hartals and the like. The "Mischief" has been defined under Section 2(a) of the P.D.P.P. Act, 1984 having the same meaning as in Section 425 of the Indian Penal Code (45 of 1860). Section 6 is the saving clause which says that the Act' 1984 covers the offence committed under it and the provisions of it are in addition to any other law which provides for any proceeding (whether by way of investigation or otherwise) which may be instituted or taken against the offender, apart from this Act. Special provisions with regard to disposal of a prayer for bail made by a person accused of commission of offence under the Act' 1984 has been provided under Section 5 of the P.D.P.P. Act, 1984.

The provisions oblige a person found guilty of commission of offence to pay the damage or loss caused to the public property. This Act, thus, covers the specific area of damage or loss or destruction of public property and recovery of such damages from the person(s) who is/are found guilty of such damage during the course of any public demonstration in the name of agitations, bandhs, hartals and the like."

6. Law is settled that statement of objects and reasons can not be relied upon so as to interpret the specific provisions contained in the act itself and it (statement of objects and reasons) can be seen only where the provision is not clear or any confusion prevails. In Aswini Kumar Ghose and another Vs. Arabinda Bose and another, AIR 1952 SC 369, Hon'ble Patanjali Sastri, the then CJI, speaking for the majority emphasized the rationale to rule out statement of objects and reasons as an aid to the construction of statute in following words:-

"As regards the propriety of the reference to the statement of objects and reasons, it must be remembered that it seeks only to explain what reasons induced the mover to introduce the Bill in the House and what objects he sought to achieve. But those objects and reasons may or may not correspond to the objective which the majority of members had in view when they passed it into law. The Bill may have undergone radical changes during its passage through the House of Houses, and there is no guarantee that the reasons which led to its introduction and the objects thereby sought to be achieved have remained the same throughout till the Bill emerges from the House as an Act of the Legislature, for they do not form part of the Bill and are not voted upon by the members. We, therefore, consider that the statement of objects and reasons appended to the Bill should be ruled out as an aid to the construction of a statute."

7. In Central Bank of India Vs. Their Workmen, AIR 1960 SC 12, the Supreme Court again held that statement of objects and reasons is in the nature of external aids to interpretation of statutes and can be looked into, only if it is necessary to do so, to ascertain legislative intent in case of confusion. In Gurudevdatta Vksss Maryadit & Others Vs. State Of Maharashtra & Others, (2001) 4 SCC 534, the Supreme Court while following the earlier judgments on the issue made following observations in para 19:-

"19.Further, after introduction of the Bill and during the debates thereon before the Parliament, if a particular provision is inserted by reason of such a debate, question of indication of any object in the objects and reasons of the Bill does not and cannot arise. The statements of objects and reasons need to looked into though not by itself a necessary aid as an aid to construction only if necessary. To assess the intent of the Legislature in the event of there being any confusion, statement of objects and reasons may be looked into and no exception can be taken therefor this is not an indispensable requirement but when faced with an imperative need to appreciate the proper intent of the Legislature, statement may be looked into but not otherwise. The submission of Mr. Bobde thus can only be given credence only in the event of there being any necessity of such a requirement in the facts of the matter under consideration, to wit: some confusion somewhere for assessment of the intent of the Legislature."

8. In cases where provision in statute is clear the need to refer to statement and objects is clearly disapproved. In Anandji Haridas & Co. Pvt. Ltd., Vs. Engineering Mazdoor Sangh and Another; AIR 1975 SC 946, the Supreme Court also observed as under in para 8 and 9:-

"8. We are afraid what the Finance Minister said in his speech cannot be imported into this case and used for the construction of Clause (e) of Section 7. The language of that provision is manifestly clear and unequivocal. It has to be construed as it stands, according to its plain grammatical sense without addition or deletion of any words.

9. As a general principle of interpretation, where the words of a statute are plain, precise and unambiguous, the intention of the Legislature is to be gathered from the language of the statute itself and no external evidence such as Parliamentary Debates, Reports of the Committees of the Legislature or even the statement made by the Minister on the introduction of a measure or by the framers of the Act is admissible to construe those words. It is only where a statute is not exhaustive or where its language is ambiguous, uncertain, clouded or susceptible of more than one meaning or shades of meaning, that external evidence as to the evils, if any, which the statute was intended to remedy, or of the circumstances which led to the passing of the statute may be looked into for the purpose of ascertaining the object which the Legislature had in view in using the words in question."

9. In Arul Nadar Vs. Authorized Officer, Land Reforms; (1998) 7 SCC 157, the Supreme Court made following observations in para 5 :-

"5. We may notice at this stage the contentions advanced by the learned counsel appearing for the respondent that the object of the Act being to further reduce the ceiling area. Section 21-A, if is made applicable to the pending proceeding then said object would be frustrated. We are afraid that this contention cannot be sustained in as much as when the language of a statute is unambiguous, in interpreting the provisions thereof it is not necessary to look into the legislative intent or the object of the Act. As has been stated by this Court in the case of State of Uttart Pradesh Vs. Vijay Anand Maharaj1963 (1) Supreme Court Reports p.1,

"When a language is plain and unambiguous and admits of only one meaning no question of construction of a statute arises, for the Act speaks for itself."

10. In Bhaiji Vs. Sub-Divisional Officer, Thandla and Others; (2003) 1 SCC 692, the Supreme Court made following observations in paras 11 and 12:-

"11. Reference to the Statement of Objects and Reasons is permissible for understanding the background, the antecedent state of affairs, the surrounding circumstances in relation to the statute, and the evil which the statute sought to remedy. The weight of judicial authority leans in favour of the view that Statement of Objects and Reasons cannot be utilized for the purpose of restricting and controlling the plain meaning of the language employed by the Legislature in drafting statute and excluding from its operation such transactions which it plainly covers. (See Principles of Statutory Interpretation by Justice G.P. Singh, Eighth Edition 2001, pp.206- 209).

12. The learned senior counsel for the appellant placed strong reliance on M/s Girdhari Lal and Sons Vs. Balbir Nath Mathur and Ors. (1986) 2 SCC 237 wherein it has been held that the courts can by ascertaining legislative intent place such construction on statute as would advance its purpose and object. Where the words of statute are plain and unambiguous, effect must be given to them. The Legislature may be safely presumed to have intended what the words plainly say. The plain words can be departed from when reading them as they are leads to patent injustice, anomaly or absurdity or invalidation of a law. The Court permitted the Statement of Objects and Reasons, Parliamentary Debates, Reports of Committees and Commissions preceding the Legislation and the legislative history being referred to for the purpose of gathering the legislative intent in such cases. The law so stated does not advance the contention of Shri Gambhir. The wide scope of transactions covered by the plain language of Section 170-B as enacted in 1980 cannot be scuttled or narrowed down by reading the Statement of Objects and Reasons."

11. Similar view is expressed by the Supreme Court in M/s Govind Saran Ganga Saran Vs. Commissioner of Sales Tax and Others; AIR 1985 SC 1041, in Raymond Ltd. & Another Vs. State of Chahattisgarh and Others; AIR 2007 SC 2854, and in Commissioner of Income Tax, Orissa, etc. etc Vs. M/s N.C. Budharaja and Company and Another, etc. etc; 1993 AIR SCW 3317 and it can safely be deduced that law on the subject is consistent throughout.

12. We, therefore, are not inclined to subscribe to the view taken by learned Single Judge in Munshi Lal (Supra), particularly as the provision contained in the Act of 1984 are clear & admits of no ambiguity.

13. So far as the petitioners argument with regard to initiation of proceeding under Section 67 of the U.P. Revenue Code is concerned, we notice the argument of the petitioners but are not persuaded to accept it in view of the specific provision contained in Section 6 of the Act of 1984, which reads as under:-

"The provisions of this Act shall be in addition to, and not in derogation of, the provisions of any other law for the time being in force, and nothing contained in this Act shall exempt any person from any proceeding (whether by way of investigation or otherwise) which might apart from this Act, be instituted or taken against him."

14. Section 6, aforesaid clearly provides that provisions of the Act of the 1984 would be in addition to and not in derogation of the provisions of any other law for the time being in force and nothing contained in this Act shall exempt any person from any proceeding which might, apart from this Act, be instituted or taken against him. Merely because proceedings under Section 67 can also be initiated against the petitioners in such circumstances would not prohibit the initiation of proceeding under the Act of 1984 particularly in view of Section 6.

15. The purpose of imposing penalty under Section 67 of the U.P. Revenue Code is to recover the damage for the wrongful use of property whereas the penalty / punishment stipulated under the Act 1984 is a separate and distinct offence specified in the Act of 1984. Sub-section 3 of Section 67 is extracted herein below:-

"(3) If the person to whom a notice has been issued under sub-section (2) fails to show cause within the time specified in the notice or within such extended time as the Assistant Collector may allow in this behalf, or if the cause shown is found to be insufficient, the Assistant Collector may direct that such person shall be evicted from the land, and may, for that purpose, use or cause to be used such force as may be necessary, and may direct that the amount of compensation for damage or 34 misappropriation of the property or for wrongful occupation, as the case may be, be recovered from such person as arrears of land revenue."

16. In the event necessary ingredients to attract an offence under the Act of 1984 are made out, the consequences flowing from the statute can not be curtailed merely because a distinct course is otherwise stipulated to recover the damages under the Code of 2006.

17. Argument of learned counsel for the petitioners based upon Rule 67 (7) that only where action is taken under Section 67 that the proceedings under Section 447 I.P.C. can commence is based wholly on the misreading of the provision itself which reads as under:-

"67.(7) Nothing in sub-rule (5) shall debar the Land Management Committee or the local authority as the case may be from prosecuting the person who encroaches upon the same land second time in spite of having been evicted under the Code or the rules, under section 447 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860."

18. In our opinion the proceedings under the I.P.C. read with act of 1984 are independent proceedings which are not affected or circumscribed in any manner by the provisions and the proceedings under the Act of 2006 or the Rules framed pursuant thereto of the year 2016. In the facts of the case, it is otherwise noticed that the F.I.R. contains specific allegations that initially encroachment by the petitioners was got stopped but since the petitioners have again encroached upon the land therefore proceedings have been initiated under the Act of 1984 and the I.P.C.

19. In view of the deliberation aforesaid, we find that prayer made by the petitioners to quash the F.I.R. must fail. The writ petition is, accordingly, dismissed.

20. The authorities shall be at liberty to proceed with the investigation pursuant to F.I.R. and conclude it in accordance with law.

(2022)05ILR A1199
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 18.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ASHWANI KUMAR MISHRA, J.
THE HON'BLE RAJNISH KUMAR, J.

Criminal Misc. Writ Petition 11201 of 2021

Amit Singh ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Manish Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A., Sri Rajesh Dwivedi, Sri Sanjay Kumar Srivastava

Criminal Law – Constitution of India,1950 - Article 300-A - Criminal Procedure Code,1973 - Sections 102, 120 (2), 451, 452, 457(1) & 457(2) - Indian Penal Code,1860 – Sections 120-B, 420, 467, 468 & 471 – Arms Act,1878 - Section 25(1-B) - Writ petition – against-seizer order of petitioner's bank account – plea of the petitioner that while freezing the bank account the authority violates the mandatory provisions made U/s 102 of Cr.P.C. as well as in violation of constitutional right envisaged U/Article 300-A – Court founds that freezing of account to be in accordance with applicable law – with observation that merely because the freezing of account is not reported forthwith and reported only on an application moved by the petitioner cannot be said that there were infringement of right of property given under Article 300-A – petition lack of merit deserves dismissal. (Para – 18, 20, 21, 22)

Writ Petition Dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:-

1. N.Padmamma & ors. Vs S.Ramkrishna Reddy & ors. (Civil Appeal No.3632 of 2008 decided on 16.05.2008);

2. D.B.Basnett (D) through LRs. Vs The Collector East District, Gangtok, Sikkim & anr. (Civil Appeal No.196 of 2011 decided on 02.03.2020);

3. Bajranga (Dead) by Lrs. Vs St. of M. Pr. & ors. (Civil Appeal No.6209 of 2010 decided on 19.01.2021),

4. Ms Swaran Sabharwal Vs Commissioner of Police (1990 (68) Comp Cas 652 Delhi (DB)),

5. Dr.Shashikant D.Karnik Vs The St. of Mah. (2008 Cri.LJ 148 (D.B.);

6. Muktaben M.Mashru Vs St. of N.C.T. of Delhi & anr. (Crl M.C. 4206 / 2018) Decided on 29.11.2019);

7. Smt. T. Subbulakshmi Vs The Commissioner of Police (Crl. O.P. No.13103 of 2013 decided on 30.08.2013);

8. Uma Maheshwari Vs The St. Rep. By Inspector of Police, Central Crime Branch, Egmore, Channai (Criminal O.P. No.15467 of 2013 decided on 20.12.2013);

9. The Meridian Educational Society Vs The St. of Telangana (Writ Petition No.21106 of 2021 decided on 04.10.2021);

10. St. of Har. Vs Raghuveer Dayal (1995 SCC (1) 133),

11. Chief Information Commissioner & anr. Vs St. of Manipur & anr. (2011 (15) SCC 1), 12. St. of Mah. Vs Tapas D. Neogy (1999) 7 SCC 685), 13. Nasiruddin & ors. Vs Sita Ram Agarwal (AIR 2003 Supreme Court 1543).

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajnish Kumar, J.)

(1) The instant writ petition had been filed by the petitioner Amit Singh for defreezing the Bank account of the petitioner bearing Account No.733910110001489 in Bank of India, Branch Panki, Kanpur Nagar and to allow the petitioner to operate his bank account. Subsequently by way of amendment the petitioner has also prayed for quashing the order dated 18.03.2021, contained in annexure no.11 to the writ petition by means of which the account of the petitioner has been got freezed by the respondent no.2 i.e. Station House Officer, Police Station-Kalyanpur, District-Kanpur Nagar in relation to Case Crime No.1504 of 2020, under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471, 120-B IPC, Police Station-Kalyanpur, District- Kanpur Nagar.

(2) Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the account of the petitioner has been seized in violation of the provisions made under Section 102 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (hereinafter referred to as Cr.P.C.). The mandatory requirements of Section 102(3) Cr.P.C. has not been followed and the respondent no.2 has not informed the concerned Magistrate regarding seizure of the bank account, forthwith. Therefore the Constitutional right of property envisaged under Article 300-A of the Constitution of India has been infringed. Thus the impugned order is liable to be quashed and the respondents be directed to defreeze the account of the petitioner and allow him to operate the account. Learned counsel for the petitioner has relied upon the judgments in N.Padmamma and others Versus S.Ramkrishna Reddy and others, Civil Appeal No.3632 of 2008 decided on 16.05.2008; D.B.Basnett (D) through LRs.Versus The Collector East District, Gangtok, Sikkim and another; Civil Appeal No.196 of 2011 decided on 02.03.2020; Bajranga (Dead) by Lrs. Versus State of Madhya Pradesh and others; Civil Appeal No.6209 of 2010 decided on 19.01.2021; Ms Swaran Sabharwal Versus Commissioner of Police, 1990 (68) Comp Cas 652 Delhi (DB); Dr.Shashikant D.Karnik Versus The State of Maharashtra; 2008 Cri.LJ 148 (D.B.); Muktaben M.Mashru Vs. State of N.C.T. of Delhi and Another; Crl M.C. 4206 of 2018, decided on 29.11.2019; Tmt.T. Subbulakshmi Vs. The Commissioner of Police; Crl. O.P. No.13103 of 2013 decided on 30.08.2013; Uma Maheshwari Vs. The State Rep. By Inspector of Police, Central Crime Branch, Egmore, Channai; Criminal O.P. No.15467 of 2013 decided on 20.12.2013; The Meridian Educational Society Vs. The State of Telangana; Writ Petition No.21106 of 2021 decided on 04.10.2021; State of Haryana Vs. Raghuveer Dayal; 1995 SCC (1) 133 and Chief Information Commissioner & Another Vs. State of Manipur & Another; 2011 (15) SCC 1.

(3) Learned counsel for the respondents vehemently opposed the submissions of learned counsel for the petitioner. It is submitted by learned counsel for the respondents that the account of the petitioner has rightly been got freezed in accordance with law by the respondent no.2 as the consideration received out of the illegal transactions, in regard to which F.I.R. vide Case Crime No.1504 of 2020 (Supra) has been lodged, has been deposited in the said account, hence the same is the case property and it cannot be allowed to be withdrawn by the petitioner.

(4) It was further contended by learned A.G.A. that on an application moved by the petitioner before the concerned Magistrate it has been informed that the Bank account has been seized. Therefore the requirement of Section 102(3) Cr.P.C. stands fulfilled and if there was any delay, that may not give any benefit to the petitioner at this stage to get the account defreezed on this technical ground. However, the petitioner may move an application before the concerned Court for defreezing of his account which may be considered by the concerned court in accordance with law.

(5) We have considered the submissions of learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

(6) The First Information Report vide case Crime No.1504 of 2020, under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471, 120-B IPC was lodged at Police Station-Kalyanpur, District-Kanpur Nagar by the respondent no.5/Radhelal Goel alleging therein that some person impersonating him as Radhelal sold the land bearing Gata No.782 by executing Power of Attorney in favour of other persons, who has nothing to do with the said land, whereas the land is recorded in the revenue records in the name of Radhelal son of Ram Milan. During course of investigation, the name of petitioner surfaced in commissioning of the alleged crime and he was arrested on 15.03.2021.

(7) It appears that during investigation the Investigating Officer found that the sale consideration received on account of aforesaid fraudulent transfer of land in question was deposited in the account of the petitioner bearing Account No.733910110001489 in Bank of India, Branch Panki, Kanpur Nagar. Therefore the respondent no.2 requested the respondent no.4 to freeze the account of the petitioner in his bank with immediate effect. It was further requested that no transaction be allowed in future without permission of the court or police officer.

(8) It appears that after the petitioner was enlarged on bail by means of order dated 19.05.2021 and released from Jail, he approached the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, Kanpur Nagar with a prayer to clarify as to on the basis of which order the account of the petitioner has been seized so that he may get the same released through the court. The said application was moved on 03.09.2021. The respondent no.2 by means of the report dated 19.09.2021 informed the court that the account of the petitioner has been seized in connection with the case Crime No.1504 of 2020 (Supra). Thereafter the petitioner approached this court by means of the present writ petition with the aforesaid prayers.

(9) Article 300-A of the Constitution of India provides that "No person shall be deprived of his property save by authority of law." Therefore a person can be deprived of his property only in accordance with law. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Bajranga (Dead) by LRs. Versus State of Madhya Pradesh and others (Supra), has held that right to property is still a constitutional right under Article 300-A of the Constitution of India though not a fundamental right and the deprivation of the right can only be in accordance with the procedure established by law. Similar view has been expressed by Hon'ble Supreme Court in the cases of D.B.Basnett (D) through LRs Versus The Collector East District, Gangtok, Sikkim and another (Supra) and N.Padmamma and others Versus S.Ramkrishna Reddy and others (Supra). In the present case however, the bank account has been got seized in exercise of powers under Section 102 Cr.P.C.

(10) The relevant Section 102 of Cr.P.C. is extracted below:-

"102. Power of police officer to seize certain property;

(1) Any police officer, may seize any property which may be alleged or suspected to have been stolen, or which may be found under circumstances which create suspicion of the commission of any offence.

(2) Such police officer, if subordinate to the officer in charge of a police station, shall forthwith report the seizure to that officer.

(3) Every police officer acting under sub- section (1) shall forthwith report the seizure to the Magistrate having jurisdiction and where the property seized is such that it cannot be conveniently transported to the Court [or where there is difficulty in securing proper accommodation for the custody of such property, or where the continued retention of the property in police custody may not be considered necessary for the purpose of investigation], he may give custody thereof to any person on his executing a bond undertaking to produce the property before the Court as and when required and to give effect to the further orders of the Court as to the disposal of the same.]"

(11) The aforesaid provision provides that any police officer may seize any property which may be alleged or suspected to have been stolen, or which may be found under circumstances which create suspicion of the commission of any offence. Therefore any police officer may seize any property even if there is suspicion that the same is involved in commissioning of any offence. The property includes Bank account and a police officer in course of investigation can seize the account. Therefore once it is found by the Investigating Officer that the sale consideration received on account of alleged fraudulent transaction has been deposited in the said account, there is no illegality or infirmity in seizure of the account of the petitioner for the purposes of investigation because if the same is not secured, the amount deposited in the said account, which would be a case property, may be withdrawn. The Supreme Court considered the issue in State of Maharashtra Versus Tapas D. Neogy (1999) 7 SCC 685 and held as under in paragraph 12:-

"12.....We are, therefore, persuaded to take the view that the bank account of the accused or any of his relations is "property" within the meaning of Section 102 of the Criminal Procedure Code and a police officer in course of investigation can seize or prohibit the operation of the said account if such assets have direct links with the commission of the offence for which the police officer is investigating into ....."

(12) The scope and object of Section 102 Cr.P.C. is to help and assist in investigation and to enable a police officer to collect and collate evidence to be produced to prove the charge complained of and set up in the charge sheet. There is no requirement of any notice or information to the concerned before seizure.

(13) Sub Section (3) of Section 102 Cr.P.C. provides that every police officer acting under sub-section (1) Cr.P.C. shall forthwith report the seizure to the Magistrate having jurisdiction. The main thrust of learned counsel for the petitioner is that since the police officer acting under sub-section (1) Cr.P.C., who has seized the account has not reported the concerned Magistrate about the seizure forthwith, and thus seizure has become illegal. Sub-section (3) of Section 102 Cr.P.C. further provides that where the property seized is such that it cannot be conveniently transported to the court or where there is difficulty in securing the custody of the said property or where the continued retention of the property in police custody may not be considered necessary for the purpose of investigation, he may give custody thereof to any person on his executing a bond undertaking to produce the property before the court as and when required and to give effect to the further orders of the court as to the disposal of the same. Therefore the bank account which has been seized and is in the custody of the bank is subject to the further orders of the court as to the disposal of the same, therefore as per scheme of Code the purpose of information being given to the Magistrate concerned is to bring it to the knowledge of the Court but no consequences thereof has been provided. However the concerned person may move appropriate application for its release etc. from the court. Knowing it well the petitioner had also, after release from the Jail on bail, moved an application before the concerned court to know as to under which order the account has been seized, so that he may get the same released through the court. Therefore once the information in response to the aforesaid application has been submitted to the concerned court, it is apparent that the information has been furnished to the concerned court. Therefore the seizure would not become illegal on this ground.

(14) In view of submissions of learned counsel for the parties the main issue which falls for our consideration is as to whether Section 102(3) Cr.P.C. is mandatory or directory in nature? It is well settled that non-observance of a mandatory condition is fatal to the validity of the action. However, non-observance would not matter if the condition is found to be merely directory. In other words, it is not that every omission or defect entails the drastic penalty of invalidity. Whether the provision is mandatory or directory can be ascertained by looking at the entire scheme and purpose of the provision and by weighing the importance of the condition, the prejudice to private rights and the claims of the public interest, therefore, it will depend upon the provisions of the statute and mere use of word "shall' would itself not make the provision mandatory. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of State of Haryana Versus Raghuveer Dayal (Supra) has held that the use of word 'shall' is ordinarily mandatory but it is sometimes not so interpreted if the scope of the enactment, on consequences to flow from such construction would not so demand.

(15) The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Nasiruddin and Others Versus Sita Ram Agarwal; AIR 2003 Supreme Court 1543, has held that it is well settled that the real intention of the legislation must be gathered from the language used. It may be true that the use of the expression "shall or may' is not decisive for arriving at a finding as to whether statute is directory or mandatory. But the intention of the legislature must be found out from the scheme of the Act. It is also equally well settled that when negative words are used the courts will presume that the intention of the legislature was that the provisions are mandatory in character. It has further been held that if an act is required to be performed by a private person within a specified time, the same would ordinarily be mandatory but when a public functionary is required to perform a public function within a time frame, the same will be held to be directory unless the consequences therefor are specified. The relevant paragraphs 38 and 39 are extracted below:-

"38. The court's jurisdiction to interpret a statute can be invoked when the same is ambiguous. It is well known that in a given case the court can iron out the fabric but it cannot change the texture of the fabric. It cannot enlarge the scope of legislation or intention when the language of the provision is plain and unambiguous. It cannot add or subtract words to a statute or read something into it which is not there. It cannot re-write or recast legislation. It is also necessary to determine that there exists a presumption that the legislature has not used any superfluous words. It is well settled that the real intention of the legislation must be gathered from the language used. It may be true that use of the expression "shall or may" is not decisive for arriving at a finding as to whether the statute is directory or mandatory. But the intention of the legislature must be found out from the scheme of the Act. It is also equally well settled that when negative words are used the courts will presume that the intention of the legislature was that the provisions are mandatory in character.

39. Yet there is another aspect of the matter which cannot be lost sight of. It is a well-settled principle that if an act is required to be performed by a private person within a specified time, the same would ordinarily be mandatory but when a public functionary is required to perform a public function within a time-frame, the same will be held to be directory unless the consequences therefor are specified. In Sutherland's Statutory Construction, 3rd Edn., Vol. 3, at p. 107 it is pointed out that a statutory direction to private individuals should generally be considered as mandatory and that the rule is just the opposite to that which obtains with respect to public officers. Again, at p. 109, it is pointed out that often the question as to whether a mandatory or directory construction should be given to a statutory provision may be determined by an expression in the statute itself of the result that shall follow non-compliance with the provision.

At p. 111 it is stated as follows:

"As a corollary of the rule outlined above, the fact that no consequences of non-compliance are stated in the statute, has been considered as a factor tending towards a directory construction. But this is only an element to be considered, and is by no means conclusive."

(16) The consequences of non reporting about the seized property have not been provided under the section. In addition, the requirement of reporting in the manner, as stated, is on the part of a public functionary and in view of the law laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, as noticed above, the same is required to be held to be directory unless the consequences thereof are specified. Since the consequences have not been specified, it would be safe to hold that requirement of Section 102(3) Cr.P.C. cannot be termed as mandatory but would be directory in nature.

(17) The Scheme for disposal of property under the Code is provided under Chapter XXXIV of the Cr.P.C. Section 451 provides that when any property is produced before any Criminal Court during any inquiry or trial, the Court may make such order as it thinks fit for the proper custody of such property pending the conclusion of the inquiry or trial. Section 452 provides the order for disposal of property at conclusion of trial. Section 457 (1) provides that whenever the seizure of property by any police officer is reported to a Magistrate under the provisions of this Code, and such property is not produced before a Criminal Court during an inquiry or trial, the Magistrate may make such order as he thinks fit respecting the disposal of such property or the delivery of such property to the person entitled to the possession thereof, or if such person cannot be ascertained, respecting the custody and production of such property. Sub-section (2) provides that if the person so entitled is known, the Magistrate may order the property to be delivered to him on such conditions (if any) as the Magistrate thinks fit and if such person is unknown, the Magistrate may detain it and shall, in such case, issue a proclamation specifying the articles of which such property consists, and requiring any person who may have a claim thereto, to appear before him and establish his claim within six months from the date of such proclamation.

(18) In view of above scheme of the Code the purpose of information given to the Magistrate regarding seizure of property by the Police Officer is merely to facilitate its disposal in accordance with law during pendency of trial or subsequent thereto. Therefore non reporting of the seizure forthwith, as provided under Section 102(3) Cr.P.C., shall not ipsofacto render the seizure illegal particularly as no period is specified and it's consequences have not been provided. Therefore when on an application moved by the petitioner, the same has been informed, the petitioner may move the concerned Magistrate for the custody of the property i.e. unfreezing of the account of the petitioner, which may be dealt with in accordance with law and on it's own merit.

(19) The Delhi High Court, in the case of Ms.Swaran Sabharwal Versus Commissioner of Police (Supra), quashed the prohibitory order on the ground that the moneys in the bank does not constitute "case property". In the case of Dr. Shashikant D. Karnik Versus The State of Maharashtra (Supra), the Bombay High Court allowed the petition on the ground that all the three requirements of Section 102 Cr.P.C. have not been complied. It appears that in this case a direction was issued not to permit operation of the bank accounts of petitioner therein and his family without seizure therefore the court was of the view that there can not be an interim order and thereafter it's continuation. The authorities had also failed to ascertain, by the time it was decided, as to whether there was any connection of it with the alleged crime. The court has only mentioned that sub-section (3) of Section 102 lays down a mandate without any finding as to whether it is mandatory or directory. The Court without any provision has also observed that there is a fourth requirement of law that notice is required to be given before stopping the operation of the account. In the absence of any specific stipulation in the statute or necessary consequence flowing from the scheme contained in the Act, we are not inclined to subscribe to such a view.

(20) In the present case we have considered the issue in detail and are of the view that sub-Section (3) of Section 102 Cr.P.C. is directory in nature and once the court has been informed of freezing of bank account on an application moved by the petitioner, the requirement of statute stands fulfilled. Deprivation of property (freezing of bank account) otherwise being as per law, the argument that Article 300-A of Constitution is violated cannot be accepted. Contrary view taken by learned Single Judges of the High Courts of Delhi, Madras and Telangana in the judgments in Ms Swaran Sabharwal Versus Commissioner of Police, 1990 (68) Comp Cas 652 Delhi (DB); Muktaben M.Mashru Vs. State of N.C.T. of Delhi and Another; Crl M.C. 4206 of 2018, decided on 29.11.2019; Tmt.T. Subbulakshmi Vs. The Commissioner of Police; Crl. O.P. No.13103 of 2013 decided on 30.08.2013; Uma Maheshwari Vs. The State Rep. By Inspector of Police, Central Crime Branch, Egmore, Channai; Criminal O.P. No.15467 of 2013 decided on 20.12.2013; The Meridian Educational Society Vs. The State of Telangana; Writ Petition No.21106 of 2021 decided on 04.10.2021 without considering and dealing with the provisions and scheme of the Code cannot be relied upon. Therefore these judgments can not be of any help to the petitioner. The Judgment, in the case of Chief Information Commissioner and another Versus State of Manipur and another (Supra), relied by learned counsel for the petitioner, is also not applicable in the facts and circumstances of the present case.

(21) In view of the discussions made above this court is of the considered opinion that there is no infringement of Constitutional right of property of the petitioner under Article 300-A of the Constitution of India. Article 300-A of the Constitution of India only provides that no person shall be deprived of his property save by authority of law. The alleged deprivation of property (freezing of bank account) since is found to be in accordance with applicable law i.e. Code of Criminal Procedure, the action complained of is clearly in consonance with Article 300-A of the Constitution of India. Petitioner's plea of violation of Article 300-A of Constitution of India cannot be pressed to impeach the act of freezing of bank account after such act is held to be as per applicable law i.e. the Code of Criminal Procedure.

(22) The bank account of the petitioner has been got freezed in exercise of powers given under Section 102 Cr.P.C. and the Code of Criminal Procedure restricts the release of such bank account only to an order passed by the Magistrate, which is not the case here. The provisions of the Code thus cannot be by-passed on the plea that Article 300-A of Constitution of India is violated. Merely because the freezing of bank account is not reported forthwith and reported only on an application moved by the petitioner, it cannot be said that there is infringement of right of property given under Article 300-A of the Constitution of India. The plea of the petitioner in this regard is misconceived and not sustainable. The writ petition consequently lacks merit and is dismissed. No order is passed as to costs.

(2022)05ILR A1207
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 25.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAMESH SINHA, J.
THE HON'BLE MRS. SAROJ YADAV, J.

Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 24795 of 2020

Umesh Dixit ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Girish Kumar Pandey

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A., Arun Sinha, Mohammad Zeeshan Lari, Siddharth Sinha

Criminal Law – Constitution of India,1950 - Article 14, 72, 161, 226 - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections 120-B, 147, 148, 149, 302, 302(3), 307(4), 338, 379, 452, 504, 323, 336, 352, 427, 452 & 504 – Arms Act, 1878 - Section – 25(1-B) - Criminal Procedure Code,1973 - Sections

432 & 433-A - UP Prisoners Release on Probation Act, 1938 - Section 2 – UP Jail Manual, Para 195, 196, 197, 198 - Writ petition – challenging the order of Govt. of UP for premature release of accused person – who has convicted & sentenced for offence of double murder/attempt to murder/Rioting – out of which some offences are committed during parole also – court held that power of remission cannot be exercised arbitrarily – writ petition partially allowed - impugned order quashed – with direction to - re-considered the matter afresh in the light of law laid down by the Hon'ble Apex court. (Para – 26, 27, 28)

Writ Petition Allowed in part.(E-11)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Laksman Naskar Vs U.O.I. (2000 CrLJ 1471),

2. Maru Ram Vs U.O.I. (1981 (1) SCC 107),

3. NHAI & ors. Vs Madhukar Kumar & ors. (Civil Appeal No. 11141 / 2018, decided on 23.09.2021)

4. St. of Har. Vs Mohinder Singh (2000 vol. 3 SCC 394),

5.Sangeet Vs St. of Har. (2013 vol. 2 SCC 452),

6. Rajan Vs Home Secretary, Home Department of Tamil Nadu, (2019 vol. 14 SCC 114),

7. Ram Chander Vs St. of Chhattisgarh & anr. (W P (Crl.) No. 49/2022 decided on 22.04.2022),

8. Laxman Naskar Vs St. of W. B. (2000 vol. 7 SCC 626), (Delivered by Hon'ble Ramesh Sinha, J.)

(1) The petition under Article 226 of the Constitution has been instituted by Umesh Dixit, whose brother Gyanendra Kumar alias Tinku was said to be murdered by the convict/respondent no.6-Hari Shankar, with the following reliefs :-

i. Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of Certiorari thereby quashing the impugned order dated 29.11.2019 passed by the opposite party no.1 contained in Annexure No.1 to this writ petition.

ii. Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of Mandamus thereby commanding and directing the opposite parties no. 1, 2 and 3 to re-arrest the opposite party no.6 so that he serves out the life imprisonment imposed upon him by the Learned Additional Sessions Judge/F.T.C., Court No.3, Sitapur in Sessions Trial No. 78 of 2003, in the interest of justice.

iii. Issue any other writ, order or direction in the nature which this Hon'ble Court may deem fit and proper under the circumstances of the case and in the interest of justice.

iv. Allow the writ petition with costs in favour of the petitioner."

(A) Factual Background

(2) The respondent no.6-Hari Shankar and co-accused were tried by V Additional Sessions Judge, Sitapur in Sessions Trial No. 187 of 1991 arising out of Case Crime No. 171 of 1990, under Sections 147, 148, 452, 149, 302 I.P.C., Police Station Machhrehta, District Sitapur, wherein vide judgment and order dated 19.03.1996 (Annexure No. 3), the learned V Additional Sessions Judge, Sitapur, convicted and sentenced the respondent no.6-Hari Shanker and co-accused under Section 302 read with Section 149 I.P.C. to undergo life imprisonment; under Section 452 read with Section 149 I.P.C. to undergo three years R.I.; and under Section 148 I.P.C. to undergo two years R.I.

(3) According to the petitioner, aggrieved by their conviction and sentence vide judgment and order dated 19.03.1996, respondent no.6-Hari Shanker preferred Criminal Appeal No. 117 of 1996 : Hari Shanker Vs. State of U.P., wherein respondent no.6-Hari Shanker was granted bail by a Co-ordinate Bench of this Court and the same is still pending final adjudication.

(4) During pendency of the aforesaid criminal appeal and after release on bail in the aforesaid criminal appeal, convict/respondent no.6-Hari Shanker and co-accused Sanju, Nanhu (real nephew of the respondent no.6), Chailu, Shatrughan and Pramanand, murdered the brother of the petitioner, namely, Gyanedra Kumar alias Tinku. In this regard, the petitioner's father Ram Naresh Dixit had lodged an F.I.R. against the aforesaid accused persons including respondent no.6-Hari Shanker, which was registered as Case Crime No. 267 of 2002 under Sections 147, 148, 302/149 I.P.C. at Police Station Machhrehta, District Sitapur. This case was committed to the Additional Sessions Judge/Fast Track Court No.3, Sitapur, wherein respondent no.6-Hari Shanker and co-accused were tried in Sessions Trial No. 78 of 2003 : State Vs. Sanju and 5 others, for committing the offence of murder of the petitioner's brother. Co-accused Sanju was also tried in Sessions Trial No. 222 of 2003 : State Vs. Sanju, arising out of Case Crime No. 277 of 2002, under Section 25 (1-B) of the Arms Act, Police Station Machhrehta, District Sitapur.

(5) The learned Additional Sessions Judge/Fast Track Court No.3 , Sitapur, heard both the aforesaid appeals i.e. Sessions Trial Nos. 78 of 2003 and 222 of 2003 together and vide judgment and order dated 09.07.2004 (Annexure No.5), convicted and sentenced Hari Shanker (respondent no.6) and co-accused persons under section 302 read with section 149 I.P.C. to undergo life imprisonment and fine of Rs.5000/-, in default, to undergo additional one year imprisonment; under Section 147 I.P.C. to undergo six month R.I.; and under Section 148 I.P.C. to undergo one year R.I., whereas co-convict Sanju was convicted and sentenced under Section 25 (1-B) of the Arms Act to undergo one year's R.I. and fine of Rs.1000/-, in default, to undergo additional three months imprisonment.

(6) Feeling aggrieved by their convictions and sentenced vide judgment and order dated 09.07.2004, convict/respondent no.6-Hari Shanker preferred Criminal Appeal No. 1917 of 2004 : Hari Shanker Vs. State of U.P., whereas co-convicts Sanju, Nanu, Chailu, Shatrughan and Parmanand preferred Criminal Appeal No. 1578 of 2004 : Sanju and 4 others Vs. State, before this Court and the same are pending adjudication before this Court.

(7) According to the petitioner, vide orders dated 13.07.2005 (Annexure No. 6), 30.08.2005 (Annexure No. 7) and 22.05.2006 (Annexure No.8), the bail applications preferred by the respondent no.6-Hari Shanker in Criminal Appeal No. 1917 of 2004 were rejected. However, co-convict Sanju, Nanhu (real nephew of the respondent no.6), Chailu, Shatrughan and Parmanand were released on bail vide order dated 13.07.2005 passed by a Co-ordinate Bench of this Court. After released on bail, nephew of the respondent no.6 (Sanju, Nanhu) and co-accused Chailu attacked the brother of the petitioner, hence petitioner's father had lodged an F.I.R. in this regard, which was registered as Case Crime No. 42 of 2007, under Sections 379, 338, 307 I.P.C. on 11.01.2007; and case crime No.

56 of 2007 under Sections 307, 504 I.P.C. at police station Machhrehta, District Sitapur. According to him, in case crime No. 56 of 2007, the trial Court convicted and sentenced the accused persons to undergo ten years imprisonment, against which, criminal appeal has been filed before this Court, wherein the nephew of respondent no.6, Sanju and Chailu, were released on bail in Case Crime No. 56 of 2007, under Sections 307/504 I.P.C. on 17.01.2007. Thereafter, nephew of respondent no.6 murdered the father of the petitioner, hence the brother of petitioner, namely, Mukesh Dixit, lodged an F.I.R. in this regard, which was registered as Case Crime No. 1137 of 2009, under Sections 302, 149, 120-B I.P.C., Police Station Machhrehta, District Sitapur. This case was committed to Sessions Court and the Sessions Court had also awarded life imprisonment in Sessions Trial No. 1137 of 2009 to the nephew of the respondent no.6, namely, Sanju and Chailu.

(8) It has also been stated by the petitioner that when respondent no.6 and other co-accused were confined in District Jail, Sitapur, they were continuously threatening the petitioner and his family members, hence he filed a writ petition, bearing No. 563 (M/B) of 2017, before this Court, which was disposed of vide order dated 11.01.2017 with a direction to the Principal Secretary (Home), U.P., Lucknow to consider a copy of the petition as a representation and take appropriate decision/action within two months. In compliance of the order dated 11.01.2017, the Principal Secretary (Home), Government of U.P., vide office memorandum dated 09.03.2017 (Annexure No. 14), recommended to transfer the respondent no.6-Hari Shanker and co-accused Sanju, Chailu, Parmanand and Shatrohan from District Jail, Sitapur to District Jail, Barelly. Thereafter, the petitioner came to know that the respondent no.6-Hari Shanker was trying to be released prematurely, hence the petitioner had preferred a representation dated 12.12.2018 (Annexure No.15) but without paying any heed on the petitioner's representation, the respondent no.6-Hari Shanker was released prematurely vide order dated 29.11.2019.

(9) Aggrieved by the aforesaid order of premature release dated 29.11.2019, the petitioner has filed the instant writ petition.

(B) Submissions

B.1 Submission on behalf of the petitioner

(10) Shri Girish Kumar Pandey, learned Counsel appearing on behalf of the petitioner, made the following submissions:-

I. Respondent no.6-Hari Shanker has been released prematurely by the impugned order dated 29.11.2019 in absolute contravention of the provisions contained in the Government Order dated 01.08.2018, which inter alia provides that a convict, who has been sentenced to undergo life imprisonment, shall not be eligible for release in case he has been convicted for some offence said to have been committed by him during parole and further such convicts sentenced for life imprisonment are also not liable to be released, who have been sentenced for life for more than one offence.

II. Sub-clause (x) of Para-3 of Government Order dated 01.08.2018 clearly provides that the person, who is convicted for life two times, will not be entitled to be released in light of the provisions of Government Order dated 01.108.2018 but while passing the impugned order of premature release dated 29.11.2019, the respondent no.6-Hari Shanker has been granted the benefit of Section 2 of U.P. Prisoners Release on Probation Act, 1938 (hereinafter referred to as "Act, 1938") ignoring the Government Order dated 01.08.2018 by the State Government.

III. The convict/respondent no.6-Hari Shanker was convicted and sentenced to undergo life imprisonment in two separate murder cases and he is a habitual/notorious criminal, hence he is not entitled to be extended the benefit of Section 2 of the Act, 1938.

IV. Hence the impugned order of premature release is liable to be quashed.

B.2 Submissions on behalf of Respondent no.6-Hari Shanker

(11) Shri Siddharth Sinha, learned Counsel appearing on behalf of the respondent no.6-Hari Shanker, made the following submissions :-

I. The respondent no.6 had moved an application of his premature release on the prescribed Form "A'. His Excellency, the Governor of U.P. had accepted the application of the respondent no.6 after satisfying that respondent no.6 fulfills the conditions enumerated under Section 8 of the Act, 1938.

II. In Sessions Trial Nos. 187 of 1991 and 78 of 2003, the respondent no.6 was wrongly convicted by the trial Court, therefore, against his conviction and sentence, he preferred Criminal Appeal Nos. 117 of 1996 and 1917 of 2004, respectively, before this Court, wherein the respondent no.6 was granted bail by this Court.

III. In Criminal Appeal No. 1917 of 2004, the role of firing was actually assigned to co-accused Sanju, resulting into the death of deceased. The cause of death as spelt out in the post-mortem report was ante-mortem firearm injury alleged to have been caused by co-accused Sanju. The respondent no.6 has no role in commission of the murder of the deceased.

IV. The respondent no.6 has neither threatened the petitioner nor his family members. There is a long standing enmity between the family of respondent no.6 and the family of petitioner.

V. The respondent no.6 was released as per the provisions of Government Order No. 1658/22-02-2004-25 (94)/97 dated 06.09.2004 by the competent authorities with the consent of His Excellency the Governor of U.P. Furthermore, the impugned order of release is based on the subjective satisfaction of the releasing authority.

VI. The Government Order dated 06.09.2004 was issued as per the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Laksman Naskar Vs. Union of India : 2000 Crl.L.J. 1471. The respondent no.6 was released by means of impugned order by the authorities as all the guidelines issued by the Apex Court in Laksman Naskar (supra) have been fulfilled by the respondent no.6.

VII. In Maru Ram Vs. Union of India : 1981 (1) SCC 107, the Apex Court has held that Section 433-A Cr.P.C. does not and cannot even wee bit the pardon power of Governor or President. The necessary sequel to this logic is that notwithstanding section 433-A Cr.P.C., the President or Governor continues to exercise the power of commutation and release under Articles 72 and 161 of the Constitution. Hence the impugned premature release of the respondent no.6 was as per the guidelines of the Government Order dated 06.09.2004.

VIII. Hence, the instant writ petition is liable to be dismissed.

B.3 Submissions on behalf of the State/respondents no.1 to 5

(12) Shri S.P. Singh, learned Additional Government Advocate appearing on behalf of the State/respondents no. 1 to 5, made the following submissions :-

I. Convict/respondent no.6-Hari Shankar was released after his application under Form "A' was accepted by the State Government, with the consent of His Excellency of Governor under Section 432 Cr.P.C., under the conditions mentioned in Section 8 of the Act, 1938 on 21.12.2019.

II. Vide Government Order dated 01.08.2018, the policy has been framed for releasing the convicted prisoner prematurely. However, in the present case, no benefit of the Government Order dated 01.08.2018 has been provided to the respondent no.6 but he has been released under the license as provided to Form "A'.

III. The State, while taking decision to release the respondent no.6, had considered the objection moved by the petitioner and after adopting the due process as provided under Government Order dated 06.09.2004, released the respondent no.6 prematurely.

IV. Respondent no.6 was released as per the Government Order dated 06.09.2004, which was issued by the State Government under the provisions of Section 432 Cr.P.C. read with paragraphs 195, 196, 197 and 198 of the U.P. Jail Manual and under the provisions of Act, 1938.

V. The concerned Superintendent of Police and the District Magistrate gave positive report in favour of respondent no.6. However, any breach of the conditions of the license by the respondent no.6, the order for release be cancelled.

VI. Hence, the instant writ petition is liable to be dismissed.

(C) Analysis

(13) The Governor of Uttar Pradesh, while exercising powers under Article 161 of the Constitution of India, issued a Government Order dated 01.08.2018, which relates to a policy for prisoners in respect of pre-mature release on occasion of Republic Day every year. Section 3 of the Government Order dated 01.08.2018 deals with "Reserved Category'. Sub-section (viii) and (x) of Section 3 of the Government Order dated 01.08.2018 are reproduced as under :-

"(viii) आजीवन कारावास से दण्डित ऐसे सिद्धदोष बन्दी जिन्हे पैरोल/गृह अवकाश के दौरान किसी अपराध के लिये दोषी ठहराया गया हो।

(x) ऐसे सिद्धदोष बंदी जिन्हे एक से अधिक अपराधिक प्रकरणो में आजीवन करावास के दण्ड से दण्डित किया गया है।

(14) From perusal of the aforesaid provisions, it is crystal clear that Sub-section (viii) and (x) of Section 3 of the Government Order dated 01.08.2018 restricted to release such life-imprisonment prisoners prematurely, who has been held guilty/convicted for any offence during the period of parole/home leave and also restricted to release such life-imprisonment prisoners prematurely, who have been convicted and sentenced to more than one criminal offences for life imprisonment.

(15) The contention of the learned Counsel for the petitioner is that since the respondent No.6-Hari Shanker was convicted and sentenced for life imprisonment twice, hence he was not entitled to be released prematurely as per sub-section (viii) and (x) of Section 3 of the Government Order dated 01.08.2018 but contrary to the aforesaid Government Order dated 01.08.2018, the respondent no.6-Hari Shanker was released prematurely by means of the impugned order without considering the aforesaid Government Order dated 01.08.2018.

(16) Per contra, learned Counsel for the respondents has supported the impugned order and have contended that respondent no.6 was released as per the Government Order dated 06.09.2004, which was prevalent at the time of conviction of the respondent no.6, hence the contention of the petitioner that Government Order dated 01.08.2018 has not been considered while passing the impugned order of release of the respondent no.6 prematurely has no substance and the same is liable to be rejected.

(17) This Court has perused the photocopy of the record produced by the learned Additional Government Advocate during the course of final hearing of the case. It transpires from perusal of the records that release of the convict/respondent no.6 prematurely was commenced on the application of the convict/respondent no.6, which is reproduced as under :-

सेवा में,

श्री मान वरिष्ठ अधिक्षक
केन्द्रीय कारागार बरेली।

द्वारा– चक्काधिकारी।
महोदय,

सविनय निवेदन करना है कि प्रार्थी हरीशंकर पुत्र राजाराम, निवासी–भदेभर हाल–राजपुर खर्ग थाना–मछरेहटा, जनपद–सीतापुर माननीय न्यायालय अपर सत्र न्यायाधीश/फास्ट ट्रैक कार्ट संख्या–3, सीतापुर द्वारा दिनांक –09.07.2004 को अ0सं0–267/2002, एस.टी. नं0–78/2003, धारा–147, 148, 302/149 आई.पी.सी. के वाद में आजीवन कारावास के दण्ड से दण्डित किया गया है। मेरे द्वारा सी0आर0पी0सी0 की धारा –433ए के अन्तर्गत 14 वर्ष अपरिहार सजा से अधिक सजा भोग ली गयी है। मै समयपूर्व रिहाई का पात्र हो गया हूँ। मेरा कोई अभिभावक नहीं है।

अतः श्रीमान जी से करबद्ध प्रार्थना है कि मेरा अभिभावक जिला प्राबेशन अधिकारी, सीतापुर को नियुक्त कर मेरा फॉर्म ए प्रेषित करने की कृपा करें।

जिला प्रोबेशन अधिकारी
सीतापुर को
निशानी अंगुठा प्रार्थी
प्रमाणित
अग्रसारित हरीशंकर पुत्र राजाराम
वरिष्ठ अधिक्षक जेलर सी0टी0 नं0– 47572
केन्द्रीय करागार केन्द्रीय कारागार केन्द्रीय कारागार
बरेली बरेली बरेली

(18) It appears that on the aforesaid application of the convict/ respondent no.6 showing his conviction in Sessions Trial No. 78/2003, Form "A' was issued by the competent authority to the respondent no.6, wherein at page no.2 also the Senior Superintendent, Central Jail, Bareilly showed the conviction of the respondent no.6 in Sessions Trial No. 78 of 2003. In Jail Report dated 07.12.2017, the Senior Superintendent, Central Jail, Bareilly also showed the conviction of the respondent no.6 in Sessions Trial No. 78 of 2003.

(19) It also transpires from the record that the Superintendent of Police, Sitapur, on the basis of the following report of its subordinate authority dated 11.05.2018, had not recommended to release the respondent no.6 prematurely.

महोदय,

निवेदन है कि अभि. मु.अ.सं. 171/90 धारा 147, 148, 149, 452, 302 प्च्च्ब्ब् में बन्दी जो पेरोल पर छुटकर घर आया था अभि. द्वारा पुनः अपराध कारित किया गया जो मु.अ.स. 267/02 धारा 147, 148,149, 302 प्च्च्ब्ब् में पंजीकृत है। अभि. जेल में है। समय पूर्व रिहाई होने पर पुनः अपराध कारित कर सकता है। अतः रिहाई का घोर विरोध किया जाता है। सस्तुति नही की जाती है।

(20) The record further reveals that the Committee so constituted under the Chairmanship of District Magistrate, Sitapur to consider the issue of release of the respondent no.6 prematurely had only considered the life imprisonment awarded to the respondent no.6 in Sessions Trial No. 78 of 2003 arising out of Case Crime No. 267 of 2002, under Sections 147, 148, 302/149 I.P.C. and had not considered the conviction and sentence of life imprisonment granted to the convict/respondent no.6 in Sessions Trial No. 187 of 1991. After considering the life imprisonment awarded in Sessions Trial No. 78 of 2003 to respondent no.6, the aforesaid Committee recommended the release of the respondent no.6 prematurely vide report dated 20.06.2018. The Probation Board, vide its resolution dated 26.06.2019, while considering the fact that the respondent no.6 was convicted and sentenced in Sessions Trial No. 78 of 2003 and considering the recommendation of the Committee headed by District Magistrate dated 20.06.2018, recommended to release the respondent no.6. Thereafter, on 19.09.2019, the Probation Board had again considered the issue of release of the respondent no.6 prematurely and after due consideration, recommended to release the respondent no.6 prematurely. Thereafter, impugned order dated 29.11.2019 has been passed for releasing the respondent no.6 prematurely.

(21) In National Highways Authority of India and others Vs. Madhukar Kumar and others (Civil Appeal No (s) 11141 of 2018, decided on 23.09.2021), the Apex Court observed that undoubtedly, in India, every State action must be fair, failing which, it will fall foul of the mandate of Article 14 of the Constitution of India.

(22) In the instant case, from perusal of the series of events, as mentioned hereinabove, in regard to consideration of the prayer of the respondent no.6 for premature release, it transpires that although the convict/respondent no.6 was convicted and sentenced to undergo life imprisonment in two murder cases i.e. Sessions Trial No. 187 of 1991 and Sessions Trial No. 78 of 2003, against which separate criminal appeal has been preferred by the respondent no.6 and the same are still pending before this Court but while passing the impugned order dated 29.11.2019, it appears that the factum of conviction and sentence of the respondent no.6 in the the aforesaid two murder cases have not been considered by the State Government and only the factum of conviction and sentence of respondent no.6 in Sessions Trial No. 78 of 2003 has been considered by the State Government.

(23) At this juncture, it is trite law that the prerogative of the executive is subject to the rule of law and fairness in state action embodied in Article 14 of the Constitution. In State of Haryana v. Mohinder Singh : (2000) 3 SCC 394, the Apex Court has held that the power of remission cannot be exercised arbitrarily. The decision to grant remission should be informed, fair and reasonable. The Apex Court held thus:

"9. The circular granting remission is authorized under the law. It prescribes limitations both as regards the prisoners who are eligible and those who have been excluded. Conditions for remission of sentence to the prisoners who are eligible are also prescribed by the circular. Prisoners have no absolute right for remission of their sentence unless except what is prescribed by law and the circular issued thereunder. That special remission shall not apply to a prisoner convicted of a particular offence can certainly be a relevant consideration for the State Government not to exercise power of remission in that case. Power of remission, however, cannot be exercised arbitrarily. Decision to grant remission has to be well informed, reasonable and fair to all concerned."

(24) In Sangeet v. State of Haryana : (2013) 2 SCC 452, the Apex Court reiterated the principle that the power of remission cannot be exercised arbitrarily by relying on the decision in Mohinder (supra).

(25) In Rajan v. Home Secretary, Home Department of Tamil Nadu : (2019) 14 SCC 114, the Apex Court has made the following observations:

"18. The petitioner would, however, rely on the unreported decision of this Court in Ram Sewak [Ram Sewak v. State of U.P., 2018 SCC OnLine SC 2012] , to contend that this Court may direct the authorities to release the petitioner forthwith and that there is no point in directing further consideration by the State as the petitioner had already undergone over 30 years of sentence and with remission, over 36 years. The order passed by this Court in Ram Sewak [Ram Sewak v. State of U.P., 2018 SCC OnLine SC 2012] , is obviously in the facts of that case. As a matter of fact, it is well settled by now that grant or non-grant of remission is the prerogative to be exercised by the competent authority and it is not for the court to supplant that procedure. Indeed, grant of premature release is not a matter of privilege but is the power coupled with duty conferred on the appropriate Government in terms of Sections 432 and 433 CrPC, to be exercised by the competent authority after taking into account all the relevant factors, such as it would not undermine the nature of crime committed and the impact of the remission that may be the concern of the society as well as the concern of the State Government.

.....

20. Thus understood, we cannot countenance the relief claimed by the petitioner to direct the respondents to release the petitioner forthwith or to direct the respondents to remit the remaining sentence and release the petitioner. The petitioner, at best, is entitled to the relief of having directions issued to the respondents to consider his representation dated 5-2-2018, expeditiously, on its own merits and in accordance with law. We may not be understood to have expressed any opinion either way on the merits of the claim of the petitioner. The fact that the petitioner's request for premature release was already considered once and rejected by the Advisory Board of the State Government, in our opinion, ought not to come in the way of the petitioner for consideration of his fresh representation made on 5-2-2018. We say so because the opinion of the Advisory Board merely refers to the negative recommendation of the Probation Officer, Madurai and the District Collector, Madurai. The additional reason stated by the State Government seems to be as follows:

"(4) The proceedings of the Advisory Board held on 20-1- 2010 is as follows:

(i) The case is heard and examined the relevant records. The accused is a Srilankan National and lodged at Special 13 Camp at Chengalpet before the commission of this grave offence.

(ii) The Probation Officer, Madurai and the District Collector, Madurai have not recommended the premature release.

(iii) Also this prisoner has not repented for his act.

(iv) The plea for premature release is "Not Recommended'.

(5) The Government after careful examination accept the recommendation of the Advisory Board, Vellore and the premature release of Life Convict No. 23736, Rajan, s/o Robin, confined in Central Prison, Vellore is hereby rejected."

With the passage of time, however, the situation may have undergone a change and, particularly, because now the claim of the petitioner for premature release will have to be considered only in reference to the sentence of life imprisonment awarded to him for the offences under Section 302 (3 counts) and Section 307 (4 counts) of IPC, respectively."

(emphasis supplied)

(26) Recently, in Ram Chander Vs. The State of Chhattisgarh & Anr (Writ Petition (Crl) No 49 of 2022, decided on 22.04.2022), the Apex Court, after taking note of the aforesaid dictum as well as Laxman Naskar v. State of West Bengal : (2000) 7 SCC 626, observed that it makes clear that the Court has the power to review the decision of the government regarding the acceptance or rejection of an application for remission under Section 432 of the Cr.P.C. to determine whether the decision is arbitrary in nature. The Court is empowered to direct the government to reconsider its decision.

(27) Keeping in mind the aforesaid ratio laid down by the Apex Court, this Court finds that while passing the impugned order of premature release of the respondent no.6 dated 29.11.2019, the factum of conviction and sentence of life imprisonment awarded to respondent no.6 by the trial Court in Sessions Trial No. 187 of 1991 arising out of Case Crime No. 171 of 1990, under Sections 147, 148, 452, 149, 302 I.P.C., Police Station Machhrehta, District Sitapur, has not at all been considered by the State. Moreso, the report of the Superintendent of Police, Sitapur, as referred to hereinabove, has also not been considered. Hence, this Court is of the opinion that as the aforesaid action in not considering the life imprisonment awarded to the respondent no.6 in Sessions Trial No. 187 of 1991 arising out of Case Crime No. 171 of 1990, under Sections 147, 148, 452, 149, 302 I.P.C., Police Station Machhrehta, District Sitapur, on the part of the State appears to be arbitrary, therefore, it is a fit case to remit the case of the respondent no.6 for premature release to the State Government for re-consideration.

(D) Conclusion

(28) Resultantly, the instant writ petition is allowed in part. The impugned order dated 29.11.2019 is hereby quashed. The issue of premature release of the respondent no.6 is remitted to the State Government for re-consideration, on its own merits and in accordance with law, after considering all the relevant factors, such as nature of crime committed and the impact of the remission that may be the concern of the society as well as the concern of the State Government and also life imprisonment awarded by the trial Court in two murder cases i.e. in Sessions Trial No. 187 of 1991 and Sessions Trial No. 78 of 2003, expeditiously, preferably, within a period of three months from today.

(29) For the period of three months or till fresh decision on remand, whichever is earlier, the respondent no.6-Hari Shanker shall not be taken into custody to serve the sentence as ordered by the trial Court.

(30) It is clarified that this Court has not expressed any opinion either way on the merits of the claim of the respondent no.6.

(31) For the facts and circumstances of the case, there is no order as to costs.

(32) The petitioner as well as the learned Additional Government Advocate shall produce/sent a certified copy of this order to respondent no.1-Principal Secretary (Home), Government of U.P., Lucknow, for necessary information and its compliance forthwith.

(2022)05ILR A1217
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 21.04.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE JASPREET SINGH, J.

Transfer Application (Civil) 57 of 2019

Vivek Raj Singh ...Applicant
Versus
Civil Judge Junior Division, Shahjahanpur & Ors. ...Opp. Parties

Counsel for the Applicant:
Subhash Vidyarthi, Sarvesh Kumar Dubey

Counsel for the Opp. Parties:
Gyan Singh Chauhan

Civil Law – Civil Procedure Code, 1908 - Sections 16 & 24 - Order 7, Rule 11 - Transfer Application – to transfer the original Suit from district Shahjahanpur to Lucknow – on the ground of threat perception – question of maintainability raised - cause of action for framing and filing of a Suit is altogether different from a cause of action seeking transfer from one district to anr. – if the case is pending before a Court which is within specified area of Oudh only in that respect of such cases where this Court exercise the power of transfer under section 24 of CPC – since, case is not maintainable at Lucknow due to lack of territorial jurisdiction – liberty granted to move file the application in Prayagraj. (Para – 19, 22, 24, 25)

Transfer Application Dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Shri Nasiruddin Vs St. Transport Appellate Tribunal (1975 (2) SCC 671,

2. Smt. Jyotsna Dixit Vs Civil Judge Khiri & ors. (1999 (1) AWC 107),

3. Mahendra Pratap Bhatt Vs Smt. Saroj Mahana (2016 (116) ALR 742).

4. Raja Khan Vs Uttar Pradesh Sunni Central waqf Board & anr. (2010 (15) SCC 228).

(Delivered by Hon'ble Jaspreet Singh, J.)

1. The instant petition for transfer has been moved under Section 24 C.P.C. with the prayer that the Original Suit bearing No. 140 of 2013 pending in the Court of Civil Judge, Junior Division, Tilhar, District Shahjahanpur be transferred from the said District to the appropriate Court in District Lucknow.

2. The learned counsel for the parties have argued the matter at length dwelling into the merits of the transfer application.

3. In brief the contention of the learned counsel for the petitioner is that the private respondents have instituted a suit for cancellation of a will before the Civil Judge Junior Division, Tilhar, District Sahjahanpur wherein the present petitioner is the defendant. It is also urged that while contesting the proceedings at Tilhar, an unfortunate incident occurred which has the effect of obstructing the course of justice, as an attempt was made by unknown persons but presumably at the behest of the respondent threatening the petitioner to stop pursuing the case.

4. It has also been pointed out that a supplementary affidavit has been filed by the counsel who had gone to argue the case and had received the threat.

5. It is also urged that after the incident occurred, the application moved by the petitioner under Order 7 Rule 11 C.P.C. was dismissed, however, the petitioner assailed the matter before the District Judge at Shahjahanpur which was allowed and the matter was sent back to the Civil Judge, Junior Division, Tilhar. It is also urged that the petitioner have difficulty in contesting the proceedings at Tilhar.

6. Though, the learned counsel for the respondents has refuted the aforesaid contentions and has stated that the allegations are false and have been deliberately incorporated to seek a transfer but apart from controverting the contentions on merit, Sri G.S. Chauhan, learned counsel for the respondent has raised an objection regarding the maintainability of this transfer petition at Lucknow.

7. It is urged that the proceedings of which transfer is sought is pending before the Civil Judge, Tilhar, District Shahjahanpur which is outside the territorial jurisdiction of this Court, inasmuch as, it is beyond the limits of Oudh, hence, the petition for transfer will not be maintainable before this Court at Luckow.

8. A specific query was put to the learned counsel for the petitioner to indicate as to how the instant petition is maintainable at Lucknow and in response Sri Shantanu Sharma, learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the suit is in respect of cancellation of a Will which is executed and registered at Lucknow. It is also submitted that the parties are residents of Lucknow and thus part of cause of action arises at Lucknow.

9. He further relied upon the decision of the Apex Court in the case of Sri Nasiruddin Vs. State Transport Appellate Tribunual reported in (1975) 2 SCC 671 and placed reliance on paragraph 38 to submit that in civil cases where even part of cause of action arises within the territorial jurisdiction of Oudh then this Court would have jurisdiction and in this case since the the Will in question was executed and registered at Lucknow, of which the cancellation has been sought, therefore, part of cause of action arises at Lucknow, hence, this Court has ample jurisdiction to try the instant transfer petition which emanates from the said suit.

10. It is further submitted by Sri Sharma, learned counsel for the petitioner that the testator was also a resident of Lucknow and upon her death, the will also became effective at Lucknow as it was also registered with the Sub Registrar at Lucknow, hence, in a suit for cancellation of a Will as in this case, the whole cause of action has accrued at Lucknow.

11. The Court has heard Sri Shantanu Sharma, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri G.S. Chauhan, learned counsel for the respondent and has also perused the material on record.

12. Since the question of maintainability has been raised, therefore, the Court will first advert to the issue of maintainability on the ground of territorial jurisdiction and if found maintainable then shall proceed to consider the averments of the respective parties on merit.

13. At this stage, it will be relevant to notice the contents of paragraph 38 of the decision of Naseeruddin (supra) which reads as under:-

"38. To sum up. Our conclusions are as follows. First, there is no permanent seat of the High Court at Allahabad. The seats at Allahabad and at Lucknow may be changed in accordance with the provisions of the Order Second, the Chief Justice of the High Court has no power to increase or decrease the areas in Oudh from time to time. The areas in Oudh have been determined once by the Chief Justice and, therefore, there is no scope for changing the areas. Third, the Chief Justice has power under the second proviso to para 14 of the Order to direct in his discretion that any case or class Allahabad. Any case class of cases are those which are instituted at Lucknow. The interpretation given by the High Court that the word "heard" confers powers on the Chief Justice to order that any case or class of cases arising in Oudh areas shall be instituted or filed at Allahabad, instead of Lucknow is wrong. The word "heard" means that cases which have already been instituted or filed at Lucknow may in the para 14 of the discretion of the Chief Justice under the second proviso to Order be directed to be heard at Allahabad. Fourth, the expression cause of action with regard to a civil matters means that it should be left to the litigant to institute cases at Lucknow Bench or at Allahabad Bench according to the cause of action arising wholly or in part within either of the areas. If the cause of action arises wholly within Oudh areas then the Lucknow Bench will have jurisdiction. Similarly, if the cause of action arises wholly outside the specified areas in Oudh then Allahabad will have jurisdiction. If the cause of action in part arises in the specified Oudh areas and part of the cause of action arises outside the specified areas, it will be open to the litigant to frame the case appropriately to attract the jurisdiction either at Lucknow or at Allahabad. Fifth, a criminal case arises when the offence has been committed or otherwise as provided in the Criminal Procedure Code. That will attract the jurisdiction of the Court at Allahabad or Lucknow. In some cases depending on the facts and the provision regarding jurisdiction, it may arise in either place."

14. From the perusal of the aforesaid, it will be noticed that the Apex Court clearly held that in civil cases where the cause of action arise outside the specified areas in Oudh then Allahabad will have the jurisdiction. While if the cause of action in part arises in the specified Oudh areas and part of cause of action outside the specified areas, it will be open for the litigant to frame the case appropriately to attract the jurisdiction either at Allahabad or at Lucknow.

15. It will be relevant to notice that the instant case has been preferred for transfer of proceedings which are admittedly pending before the Civil Judge, Junior Division, Tilhar, District Shahjahanpur. It is not in dispute that Tilhar, in district Shahjahanpur, is outside the specified areas of Oudh. Ordinarily, the matters relating to District Shahjahanpur are not within the jurisdiction of this Court unless ofcourse a part of cause of action arises within the jurisdiction of this Court within the specified areas of Oudh.

16. It is in this context if the pleadings delivered by the petitioners are noticed, it would reveal that though the will may have been executed and registered at Lucknow but it relates to a property situate within the territorial jurisdiction of District Shahjahanpur. It is for the said reason that the suit was instituted in terms of provisions of Section 16 of C.P.C. in District Shahjahanpur.

17. However, what is material for the present controversy is not the will in question rather it is the threat perception which has been perceived by the petitioner which has given the cause of action to initiate the proceedings under Section 24 C.P.C.

18. A suit relating to an immovable property is to be filed within the territorial jurisdiction where the such property situate in terms of Section 16 C.P.C. which reads as under:

"16. Suits to be instituted where subject matter situate:- Subject to the pecuniary or other limitations prescribed by any law, suits

(a) for the recovery of immovable property with or without rent or profits,

(b) for the partition of immovable property,

(c) for foreclosure, sale or redemption in the case of a mortgage of or charge upon immovable property,

(d) or the determination of any other right to or interest in immovable property,

(e) for compensation for wrong to immovable property,

(f) for the recovery of movable property actually under distraint or attachment, shall be instituted in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property is situate:

Provided that a suit to obtain relief respecting, or compensation for wrong to, immovable property held by or on behalf of the defendant may, where the relief sought can be entirely obtained through his personal obedience, be instituted either in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property is situate, or in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the defendant actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain.

Explanation.-- In this section "property" means property situate in 1[India]"

19. The cause of action for framing and filing of a suit is altogether different from a cause of action seeking transfer from one district to another.

20. In Smt. Jyotsna Dixit v. Civil Judge, Khiri and others, reported in 1999 (1) A.W.C. 107, this Court had the occasion to consider the issue regarding the exercise of territorial jurisdiction in respect of a transfer petition under Section 24 CPC and in the said case a transfer of a suit pending before the Court of Civil Judge, Khiri was sought to be transferred to appropriate Court in District Varanasi and the transfer petition was filed at Allahabad. After considering the decision of Naseeruddin (supra), the Court in Paragraph-11 held as under:-

11. Now in the present case, the cause of action for the application under Section 24 of the Code, arose on the initiation of proceedings at Lakhimpur Khiri. Solemnisation of marriage at Varan as 1 may be a cause of action for the matrimonial proceeding and the petitioner may be said to be entitled to initiate proceeding, if she so wishes at Varanasi, but such cause of action is distinct and separate from the cause of action for initiation of proceedings under Section 24 of the Code. Such cause of action for transfer of the case arises at initiation of the proceedings at the Court where the plaintiff had instituted the suit. There cannot be any part of the cause of action for transfer of the suit at any place outside Lakhimpur Khiri where the suit has been instituted. Then again. It is a suit pending before the Court within the specified area of Oudh, in respect whereof the Court at Allahabad is precluded from exercising jurisdiction by reason of the compartmentallsation which is peculiar to Uttar Pradesh. It is the Court at Oudh, namely. Lucknow Bench which has jurisdiction in respect of Lakhimpur Khiri by reason of the determination by the Chief Justice under paragraph 14 of the 1948 Order. The suit instituted at Lakhimpur Khiri is sought to be transferred. Lakhimpur Khiri is situated within the Oudh area. It is only the Court at Lucknow can exercise jurisdiction in respect of the said suit. The contention that the Lucknow Bench cannot order transfer to a place outside its prescribed area, is wholly impermissible inasmuch as it can direct transfer of a case pending within its area even to a Court outside its area. It is the question of transferring a suit pending at Lakhimpur Khiri which can be exercised by Lucknow Bench. Allahabad Bench could not exercise jurisdiction in respect of the suit pending at Lakhimpur Khiri even for the purpose of transferring the same to a Court within its Jurisdiction, namely, at Varanasi."

20. In Mahendra Pratap Bhatt v. Smt. Saroj Mahana, reported in 2016 (116) ALR 742, the issue before the Division Bench arose from an order passed by the learned Single Judge exercising powers under Section 24 CPC whereby it had referred the matter for mediation at Lucknow in respect of proceedings which were pending before the Court at Allahabad. The Division Bench found that since the matter was pending at Allahabad, the Court did not have the jurisdiction to pass an order referring the matter to the Mediation Centre at Lucknow simply on the ground that an FIR was lodged at Lucknow as this FIR lodged at Lucknow would not make any difference as the whole cause of action for a matrimonial proceedings were within the territorial jurisdiction at Allahabad. The relevant portion of the aforesaid judgment in Mahendra Pratap Bhatt (supra) specially paras 6, 14, 15, 19, 20 and 21 reads as under:-

"6. Chapter VIII Rule 5 of the Allahabad High Court Rules makes a provision for appeal against the orders of learned Single Judges which is an intra-court appeal subject to the limits provided therein. The dispute in the present appeal arises out of an application filed under Section 24 CPC before the learned Single Judge of this Court in a cause of action relating to the Family Court at Allahabad. A Division Bench of this Court in the case of Amit Khanna v. Smt. Suchi Khanna, 2009 (1) AWC 929, considered the same issue and came to the conclusion in paragraph 21 as follows:

"21. According to above provision no appeal is maintainable from any order of the Court passed in exercise of its original or appellate jurisdiction, except against orders which have been made appealable under Section 104 C.P.C. Undisputedly, an order passed on an application under Section 24 C.P.C. has not been made appealable under any provision of the C.P.C. including Section 104 C.P.C. Right to appeal is not inherent unless it is specifically provided by the statute. Since the Code of Civil Procedure does not specifically provide for an appeal against an order passed on a transfer application and at the same time by implication excludes an appeal against such an order by virtue of Section 105 C.P.C., therefore, merely for the reason Rule 5 Chapter VIII of the Rules of the Court, 1952 is silent in this regard it would not confer jurisdiction of appeal. If any contrary interpretation is made and the appeal is held to be maintainable it would amount to conferring jurisdiction of appeal which otherwise is not specifically provided but is expressly as well as by implication excluded by Section 105 C.P.C. Thus, in the above scenario the right of special appeal as contemplated by Rule 5 Chapter VIII of the Rules of the Court, even though the same is independent to the provisions of C.P.C., against the order of the single judge passed on a transfer application under Section 24 C.P.C. stands impliedly excluded. "

-------*****----------
*****----------*******

"14. A case that has also come at hand is the decision in Special Appeal No.973 of 2010, U. P. Sunni Central Waqf Board & Anr. Vs. Raja Khan & Ors. decided on 5.8.2010. In that case, the issue was an order passed by a learned Single Judge issuing notices and passing an interim order in a writ petition arising out of a Civil Suit that was filed before the learned Civil Judge, Hamirpur in a matter relating to district Bahraich. There was a previous history of the litigation also which has been discussed in the said judgment but for the present purpose, suffice it to say that Bahraich falls within the territorial jurisdiction of the High Court at Lucknow and not at Allahabad. Yet, the Suit was filed in Hamirpur which falls within the territorial jurisdiction of Allahabad, and since the Munsarim had made a report that the Suit was not cognizable at Hamirpur, a writ petition was filed against the said report before the High Court at Allahabad in which orders were passed by a learned Single Judge. This was subjected to a Special Appeal in the above mentioned case and the Court allowed the Appeal imposing costs and set aside the judgment of the learned Single Judge in the aforesaid circumstances.

15. The aggrieved party assailed the aforesaid judgment of the Division Bench, to which one of us [Justice A.P. Sahi] was a member, before the Apex Court and the same was upheld with remarks which judgment is reported in 2011 (2) SCC 741, Raja Khan v. Uttar Pradesh Sunni Central Waqf Board and another. The said judgment was subjected to review for expunging of such remarks which was disposed of and the same is reported in 2010 (15) SCC 228, Raja Khan v. Uttar Pradesh Sunni Central Waqf Board and another.

19. In the instant case, the learned Single Judge has assumed jurisdiction to send the matter for mediation at Lucknow on a stated submission which according to the learned Single Judge was a concession."

---------****------***-------****-----**

"20. We are of the considered opinion that a jurisdiction cannot be assumed on the concession of the counsel for the parties or even otherwise, in a matter that squarely relates to the dispute at Allahabad.

21. Merely because the opposite party had lodged an F.I.R. at Lucknow and instituted a criminal case, the same would not make the application under Section 24 CPC maintainable in relation to the dispute pending before the Family Court at Allahabad. This assumption, therefore, by the learned Single Judge in our considered view is not the correct view for assuming jurisdiction that is totally lacking."

22. Applying the principles to the instant case, it is found that the averments made in the petition relates to the threat received by the counsel for the petitioner while he was arguing the case before the Court in Tilhar district Shahjahanpur. The difficulty is being faced at Tilhar. Thus, the cause of action for the instant petition for transfer wholely accrues at District Shahjahanpur which is beyond the specified area of Oudh.

23. In matters relating to transfer of a case from one district to another, it is to be noticed that if the case is pending before a Court which is within the specified area of Oudh only in respect of such cases does this Court exercises the powers of transfer under Section 24 C.P.C.

24. In the instant case, the petition for transfer relates to a suit pending in District Shahjahanpur which as noticed above, is beyond the specified area of Oudh, accordingly, this Court has no hesitation to hold that the instant case is not maintainable here at Lucknow. Since the Court has come to the conclusion that it does not have the territorial jurisdiction to entertain the matter, hence, for the said reason the Court does not deem appropriate to examine the averments of the respective parties on merits.

25. The petition is dismissed solely on the ground that it is not maintainable at Lucknow, however, liberty is granted to the petitioner to move the appropriate Court in Prayagraj.

(2022)05ILR A1223
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 02.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MOHD. ASLAM, J.

Application U/S 378 No. 54 of 2017

Smt. Habiba ...Applicant
Versus
The State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Zafar Abbas

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A.

Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code,1973 - Sections 156(3), 200, 202, 246, 378 & 378 (4) - Indian Penal Code,1860 - Sections 498-A & 323 - Leave to prefer Appeal - against judgment & order of acquittal – complaint - filed by a free minded women (Azad khayaal) – quarrel between closed relatives - no injury case – no prove of maltreatment – contradiction in St.ments of complainant and her witnesses – hence, all the summoned opposite parties are acquitted from Charges – Prosecution case is not proved beyond reasonable doubt – held, that duty of Court to punish the guilty person when guilt is established beyond reasonable doubt not less than – even it is not a case of two opinion can be drawn - accordingly, appeal dismissed.(Para – 5, 9, 10)

Appeal Dismissed. (E-11)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mohd. Aslam, J.)

1. Heard Sri Zafar Abbas, learned counsel for the applicant and Sri Sanjay Sharma, learned A.G.A. for the State and perused the record.

2. The instant application has been moved by applicant under Section 378(4) of Cr.P.C. for granting leave to prefer appeal against the judgement and order of acquittal dated 15.3.2017 passed by learned Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Court No. 12, Azamgarh in Criminal Complaint Case No.1574 of 2016 (Smt. Habiba Vs. Jamal Ahmed and another).

3. The brief facts of the case is that the complainant moved an application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. on 1.12.2009, which was treated as complaint alleging therein that her marriage was solemnized with opposite party no.2 Jamal Ahmed on 21.5.2008 in the village Asadha, Police Statio- Saraimeer, District- Azamgarh according to Muslim Rights and Ceremonies. Opposite party no.2 is the resident of Village Bisaham, Police Station- Mehnagar, District- Azamgarh. After her marriage she went to the house of opposite party No.2 and performed her obligations as wife. After sometime they blessed with a son namely Ismaile. The family members of her in-laws are very rich, but they are very greedy for dowry. After sometime of marriage, her husband Jamal Ahmed, mother-in-law Farzana, Nanad Nazia began to taunt her for bringing meagre dowry and starting creating pressure upon her for bringing Rs.3,50,000/- from her father so that Jamal Ahmed may go to abroad or may purchase a shop. On account of non-fulfilment of the demand, they used to taunt and harass her and were also not giving her sufficient food. They were torturing her physically and mentally. On 8.8.2008 at about 10:00 a.m., she was beaten by them and driven out from the house with only clothes which she wore and they retained her remaining clothes and ornaments. Anyhow she reached at the house of her parents weeping and told the entire incident to her parents. She did not sustain any visible injury, therefore, she was not subjected to medical examination. She went to the Police Station- Mehnagar to lodge the report along with her father, but the Station House Officer of that police station assured them stating that wait he will registered the case against the accused after inquiry he will arrest them, but no action was taken by him. Thereafter, she visited the Circle Officer and apprised him regarding the incident, but no action was also taken. Thereafter, she sent an application by registered post on 8.9.2009 to the Senior Superintendent of Police, Azamgarh, but again no action was taken. Thereafter, the application under Section 156(3) of Cr.P.C. was moved on 1.12.2009, which was treated as complaint vide order dated 1.12.2009.

4. Learned Judicial Magistrate has recorded the statement of complainant Smt. Habiba under Section 200 of Cr.P.C. and also recorded the statements of Kashif and Sahabuddin under Section 202 of Cr.P.C. and after hearing the learned counsel for the complainant vide order dated 9.8.2010 has summoned opposite party no.2 Jamal Ahmed and opposite party no.3 Farzana for facing trial for offence punishable under Sections 498-A & 323 I.P.C. Thereafter, opposite party nos.2 & 3 appeared and the statement of Smt. Habiba was recorded as PW-1 and Kashif was recorded as PW-2 under Section 244 of Cr.P.C. Thereafter, charges of offence punishable under Sections 498-A & 323 I.P.C. was framed against the accused opposite party nos.2 & 3 to which they have not pleaded guilty and claimed to be tried. PW-1 Smt. Habiba and PW-2 Kashif were cross examined at the stage of Section 246 of Cr.P.C. and witnesses Shahabuddin (PW-3) and R.V. Yadav (PW-4) were also examined at the stage of Section 246 of Cr.P.C.

5. Learned lower court after appreciating the evidence of witnesses has held that in cross examination the complainant has stated that her first marriage was taken place with Asif who is resident of village Chhaun, District Azamgarh on 25.12.2006 and no child was born out of that wedlock. She has further admitted that she did not go to village Chhaun second time after marriage. She went to Bhimandi and remained there for five months and being tensed with her in-laws family she came to her parental home, thereafter, her first husband divorced her in year 2008. She has further stated that after that she married with Jamal Ahmed. She has further admitted that it was the first marriage of Jamal Ahmed. Kashif (PW-2) has stated that he is the brother of complainant and Jamal Ahmed is son of his maternal uncle. Learned lower court has held that there are contradictions in the statement of complainant and complainant witnesses. Learned lower court has also held that the marriage of Smt. Habiba with Jamal Ahmed was taken place under pressure of her maternal grandfather Athar Ali. She has also admitted in her cross examination that when she first time went to her in-laws house she felt no problem. She was harassed and maltreated thereafter, but has not given the detail in what manner she was harrassed and maltreated. Kashif (PW-2) has also stated that when Smt. Habiba went to her in laws house she lived there happily. He has further stated that her second marriage has taken place with Jamal Ahmed and out of their wedlock a son namely Ismaile was born. Learned lower court has also held that the complainant and her husband are close relatives. Learned lower court has also held that no injury was found on the body of complainant which establishes that she was not beaten and maltreated. The defence witness Matin as has stated that complainant is free minded (azad khayaal) women. Due to her incompatibility, her first husband has given divorce to her. There was no chance of her second marriage. The complainant was close relative of Jamal Ahmed and her marriage with Jamal Ahmed was taken place under pressure of her maternal grandfather without any dowry. Her husband and her mother-in-law never maltreated her or demanded dowry and held that offence punishable under Sections 323, 498-A I.P.C. is not made out against accused Jamal Ahmed and Farzana and has acquitted them from the above charges vide impugned judgement against which the application for grant of leave to prefer appeal has been filed.

6. It is contended by learned counsel for the applicant that from the statement of PW-1, PW-2, PW-3 it is proved that opposite party no.2 has demanded dowry of Rs.3,50,000/- and when the applicant failed to fulfil the demand, the applicant was kicked out from her in-laws house on the very same year of marriage, but learned lower court without considering the said evidence has illegally acquitted the opposite party nos.2 & 3. It is further contended that the complainant as well as all the witnesses of the fact established and proved the case against opposite party nos.2 & 3 for offence punishable under Sections 498-A I.P.C., but they were illegally acquitted by learned lower court. It is further contended that the learned lower court has over looked and failed to consider the ingredients of Section 498-A I.P.C. It is further contended that from perusal of the complaint and the statement of the witnesses before the court, the offence punishable under Section 498-A I.P.C. is proved without any reasonable doubt against opposite party nos.2 & 3. It is further contended that there was ample evidence to prove the offence punishable under Sections 498-A, 323 I.P.C., but learned Judicial Magistrate has illegally held that the case of complainant for offence punishable under Sections 498-A, 323 I.P.C. is not proved and illegally acquitted the opposite party nos.2 and 3. On these grounds, learned counsel for the applicant has contended that this court may graciously be pleased to grant leave to prefer appeal against the impugned judgement and order of acquittal.

7. Learned A.G.A. has opposed the application and has contended that the second marriage of the complainant has taken place with the son of her maternal uncle in close relation. It is further contended that the applicant is quarrelsome lady and her divorce has taken place with her previous husband and thereafter her second marriage has taken place with opposite party no.2. It is further contended that she is non-compatible so she used to quarrel with her husband and his family members. It is further contended that there is no infirmity in the impugned judgement and order of the lower court by which the opposite party nos.2 & 3 were acquitted from the charges of offence punishable under Sections 498-A, 323 I.P.C. and prayed that the application for grant of leave to prefer appeal is liable to be dismissed.

8. I have gone through the file and lower court record including the depositions of the witnesses. From perusal of the complaint and the testimonies of the witnesses, it is proved that second marriage of the complainant has taken place on 21.5.2008 with opposite party no.2 Jamal Ahmed. From the evidence on record, it is also proved that opposite party no.3 Farzana is her mother-in-law. It is not disputed that they were blessed with a son named Ismaile. She had stated in her statement recorded under Section 200 of Cr.P.C. that the demand of dowry of Rs.3,50,000/- was demanded after two months of marriage. She has categorically stated that her son was born in June, 2009, who is living with her. She has also stated that she has driven out from in-laws house on 8.8.2008, thereafter, she did not go to her husband's house. Witness Shahabuddin is her Mausa. Witness Kashif is her brother. PW-1 Smt. Habiba in her statement recorded under Section 246 of Cr.P.C. has stated that her first marriage was taken place with Asif resident of village Dhaaun, Police Station Gambhirpur, District Azamgarh on 25.12.2006. After marriage, she did not go to village Dhaaun second time. Thereafter, she went to Bhimandi, Maharastra and remained there for five months and returned thereafter due to tension in her family and did not go to the resident of her first husband. She has further stated that there was some quarrel with her family members of in-laws between her. She did not file any complaint against her first husband and her family members. She was divorsed by her first husband in February, 2008. She showed ignorance regarding payment of maintenance during iddat by her first husband after divorce. She has further stated that divorce with her first husband was taken place with mutual consent. She has further stated that her maternal uncle Athar father of the accused Jamal Ahmed was in Dubai at the time of her marriage. She has further stated that her family members of in-laws forbade her not to make complaint regarding dowry to her maternal grandfather. She has further stated that she remained in her in-laws house only for one month and thereafter she came to her parents house after bidai and since then she is living in her parents house. She has further stated that the relations of her Mausa Shahabuddin and Jamal Ahmed was tensed. She has further stated that after the divorce from her first husband her son was born after 11 months. She has admitted in her statement that her first husband has divorced her in February, 2008 and her marriage with Jamal Ahmed was taken place on 21.5.2008. From perusal of the statement of Smt. Habiba (PW-1), it is clear that she has admitted that she went to the house of her in-laws once and thereafter her brother visited to her and taken her back to his home.

9. In above circumstances, I find it justified that prosecution case is not proved beyond reasonable doubt and learned lower court has rightly acquitted the accused from the charges of offence punishable under Sections 498-A, 323 I.P.C. From above discussion, it is proved that the complaint was filed on false and frivolous ground. A special leave to appeal could be granted only where the view taken by acquitting judge is clearly unreasonable, it is the duty of the court to punish the guilty person when the guilt is established beyond reasonable doubt not less than, it is the duty to acquit the accused when it is not so established.

10. In such circumstances, the impugned judgement and order of acquittal is justified and even it is not a such case in which two opinion can be drawn. Accordingly, I find no merit in the application for special leave to appeal and consequently, the application for special leave to appeal is dismissed.

11. Lower court record be returned back to the concerned court forthwith.

(2022)05ILR A1227
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 10.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJAN ROY, J.

Writ-A No. 9049 of 2020

Anand Kumar Mishra ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Srideep Chatterjee

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Abhinav Trivedi, Avadhesh Kumar Singh, Baldev Singh, Dr. V.K. Singh, Shubham Tripathi

Civil Law – Constitution of India,1950 – Article 226, - UP King George Medical University Act, 2002 - Sections 4, 13, 42(1) & 42(2) - UP Recruitment of Dependants of Government Servants (Dying-in-Harness) Rules, 1974 - Rule - 5 – Compassionate Appointment – father of petitioner died-in-harness – Complaint received that petitioner obtained such Appointment illegally by concealing the factum of his mother's employment in KGMU - Disciplinary Enquiry initiated – Charges were framed - petitioner replied – Enquiry Officer exonerated him on the ground that family members of several other compassionate appointees have already employed in KGMU – enquiry report was accepted by Vice Chancellor - Second complaint received – at this time St. Govt. issued the impugned orders - to initiate Impugned Disciplinary proceeding against petitioner as well as against all other similar appointee including against the earlier Enquiry Officer – Writ Petition – interim protection in favour of petitioner - Court held that, while exercising the writ jurisdiction under Article 226 – A writ court is not for scuttle any such disciplinary proceedings nor to protect any possible illegality – hence writ Petition disposed of - with directions to the Registrar of KGMU to take the disciplinary proceedings to its logical end of justice as per law accordingly. (Para – 32, 33, 35, 38, 39)

Writ Petition Disposed of. (E-11)

List of Cases cited: -

1. Mohd. Zamil Ahmed Vs St. of Bihar & ors. - (2016 (2) ESC 242 (SC),

2. Sumit Kumar Verma Vs St. of U.P. & ors. - Writ - A No.755 of 2022).

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajan Roy, J.)

1. Heard Sri S.K. Kalia, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Srideep Chaterjee, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Subham Tripathi, learned counsel for King George Medical University, Lucknow (KGMU). Dr. V.K. Singh, learned counsel for the applicant/complainant seeking impleadment has also been heard.

2. By means of this petition the petitioner has challenged the Government Order dated 02.06.2020 so far as it relates to issuance of directions to the appointing/disciplinary authority of the petitioner for taking appropriate decision with respect to the appointment of the petitioner. It has also been prayed that the petitioner be allowed to work on the post of Head Assistant and be paid regular salary as and when the same falls due.

3. Pleadings have been exchanged.

4. This Court on 18.06.2020 had asked Sri Abhinav Narain Trivedi, learned counsel for the KGMU to file a counter affidavit bringing on record the final decision which may have been taken on the inquiry report submitted by Dr. Abbas Mehndi. It was further ordered that any action taken in the meantime shall abide by further orders/decision in this petition. Subsequently, the matter was taken up on 06.07.2020 when Sri Abhinav Narain Trivedi sought an adjournment and an interim protection was given to the petitioner that till 08.07.2020 no final order shall be passed in the impugned proceedings by the concerned opposite parties, however, the interim order shall not be extended on the next date without hearing unless it is impossible to hear the matter. The interim order has continued since then.

5. The undisputed facts before the Court are that the father of the petitioner was employed as Chowkidar. He died in harness on 30.11.2003. The mother of the petitioner, namely, Manju Mishra who was already employed as Sick Attendant in KGMU itself, submitted an application on 16.12.2003 for providing compassionate appointment to her son i.e., the petitioner. The petitioner also applied for such compassionate appointment on 19.12.2003. The factum of his mother being already employed in KGMU was not mentioned in his application. Even in the application of the mother this fact was not mentioned. He was appointed as Junior Clerk on compassionate basis on probation period of one year on 21.04.2004 with the approval of the Vice Chancellor. His services were confirmed on 27.07.2005 and he was promoted as Senior Clerk on 31.05.2006. He was thereafter promoted as Senior Assistant on 01.09.2010. Thereafter, as a result of cadre restructuring, he was made Head Assistant on 02.01.2015.

6. On 04.07.2018 a complaint was made by an Advocate, namely, Anand Kumar Pandey about the petitioner having secured compassionate appointment illegally by concealing the fact that his mother was already employed in KGMU on the date he was given such compassionate appointment and that she continued to be in such employment. On receipt of such complaint, the Under Secretary, Medical Education Department of the Government of U.P. wrote to the Registrar, KGMU, Lucknow on 20.07.2018 to provide point-wise report on the complaint dated 04.07.2018. On 06.09.2018, a reminder was sent to the Registrar, KGMU by the Government in this regard.

7. On 28.12.2018 the State Government, in response to the letter of Registrar, KGMU dated 26.09.2018 seeking its guidance in the matter of alleged illegal appointment of the petitioner by concealing relevant facts, informed him about Rule 5 of U.P. Recruitment of Dependent of Government Servants (Dying-in-Harness) Rules, 1974 and that the matter be examined and appropriate action be taken by him in his capacity as appointing authority, as per Rules.

8. On 22.02.2019 disciplinary proceedings were initiated against the petitioner and a charge-sheet was issued to him on 22.02.2019 itself with approval of the Registrar. The petitioner submitted his reply on 07.06.2019 inter alia stating therein that he was not aware about the Rule position or legal position on the subject of compassionate appointment, as such, there was no concealment on his part while applying for the same and also that other similar compassionate appointments of same nature have been made of persons whose family members were already employed with KGMU giving nine such names. He submitted supplementary reply on 28.09.2019 denying the application Form (not the letter dated 19.12.2003) relied upon by the opposite parties by saying that it was neither in his writing nor it had been signed by him. On 05.12.2019 an inquiry report was submitted by the Enquiry Officer. The Registrar in its wisdom although he was appointing/disciplinary authority of the petitioner placed the matter before the Vice Chancellor who as per noting dated 14.01.2020 accepted the inquiry report and approved exoneration of the petitioner from the charges levelled against him. The Registrar who was the appointing/disciplinary authority did not pass any final order in the matter.

9. Sri Subham Tripathi, learned counsel for KGMU informed the Court during the course of argument that against any order of punishment or order terminating the services of an employee such as the petitioner, appeal lies before the Vice Chancellor under Statute 14 (iv) of the Chatrapati Shahuji Maharaj Medical University First Statutes, 2011. Thus, the final order was not passed by the appointing/Disciplinary authority but by the appellate authority.

10. On 27.04.2020, the complainant again made a complaint to the State Government whereupon a D.O. letter dated 01.05.2020 was issued to the Registrar, KGMU, Lucknow referring to the earlier order of the State Government dated 28.12.2018 asking him to submit point-wise report on the complaint dated 27.04.2020. On 08.05.2020, the Registrar responded to the letter of the Government mentioning relevant facts including the inquiry report as also new facts which had come to light regarding several other compassionate appointments having been made where family members were already employed in KGMU and also stating that in view of these facts a fresh inquiry had been ordered in respect of such other appointments which were similarly made, and Prof. Abbas Mehndi, Professor, Department of Biochemistry, KGMU had been appointed as the Enquiry Officer. It refers to the approval of the Vice Chancellor dated 19.02.2020 for the aforesaid fresh action and that based on the report, further action shall be taken.

11. On 02.06.2020, the impugned Government Order was issued by the State Government wherein serious objections were raised as to findings of the Enquiry Officer exonerating the petitioner in disregard of Rules of 1974 merely because nine other similar compassionate appointments had been made. The State Government disagreed with the entire exercise as also the report of the Enquiry Officer. It also directed for action against the Enquiry Officer. It also directed the appointing authority/disciplinary authority to take a decision with regard to petitioner's appointment as per Rules. A direction was also issued for completing the inquiry against other similar appointees and taking action as per Rules. It is this Government Order which is impugned.

12. In this context it is not out of place to mention that under Section 42 (1) of the 2002 Act, the First Statutes of the University (KGMU) shall be made by the State Government, by notification, provided that, for so long as the first statutes are not so made, the Statues of the Lucknow University as immediately before the appointed date insofar as they are not so inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, shall, subject to such adaptation and modification whether by way of repeal, amendment or addition, as may be necessary or expedient, as the Statement Government may, by notification provide continue in force, and any such adaptation or modification shall not be called in question. In this context, the Court may refer to Statute 39 of the first Statutes of the Lucknow University as amended in 2001, which reads as under:

"39.00. यदि किसी स्थायी कर्मचारी की सेवा में रहते हुए मृत हो जाय और मृत कर्मचारी की पत्नी या पति (जैसी भी स्थिति हो) केन्द्रीय सरकार या किसी राज्य सरकार या केन्द्रीय सरकार के स्वामित्याधीन या उसके द्वारा नियंत्रित किसी निगम (जिसमें विश्वविद्यालय भी शामिल है) के अधीन पहले से सेवायोजित न हो तो उसके कुटुम्ब के ऐसे एक सदस्य को जो, केन्द्रीय सरकार या राज्य सरकार के स्वामित्याधीन या उसके द्वारा नियंत्रित किसी निगम (जिसमें विश्वविद्यालय भी शामिल है) के अधीन पहले से सेवायोजित न हो महाविद्यालय में सीधी भर्ती के तृतीय श्रेणी या चर्तुथ श्रेणी के रिक्त शिक्षणोत्तर पद पर नियुक्ति के लिए कर्मचारी की मृत्यु के दिनांक से 05 वर्ष के भीतर आवेदन पत्र देता है और ऐसे रिक्त शिक्षणोत्तर पद के लिए न्यूनतम शैक्षिक अर्हता रखता हो प्रबन्धतंत्र द्वारा निदेशक, उच्च शिक्षा के पूर्व अनुमोदन से चयन की प्रक्रिया और अधिकतम आयु सीमा को शिथित करके नियुक्ति किया जा सकता है।

स्पष्टीकरण – इस परिनियम के प्रयोजन के लिए–

1 "आश्रित" का तात्पर्य मृतक के पुत्र उसकी पुत्री अविवाहित या विधवा पुत्री, पुत्र उसकी विधवा या उसका विधुर।

2 "कर्मचारी" के अन्तर्गत संस्था में कार्यरत अध्यापक भी है।"

13. The aforesaid statute very clearly provides that if wife or husband of a permanent employee, who dies in harness, is not already employed under the Central Government or any State Government (in which the University is included), a member of his family who is not already employed may be appointed by the management, etc.

14. In view of Section 42 (1) of the 2002 Act Statue 39 of the First Statues of Lucknow University applies for compassionate appointment in KGMU also and there is an embargo in the said provision regarding appointment of a family member of a deceased employee if husband or wife of the deceased is already employed under the Central Government or the State Government, including the University which in this case is the King George Medical University.

15. Statute 39 as quoted hereinabove was inserted in 2001 that is prior to petitioner's appointment in 2004.

16. A similar provision is contained in Rule 5 of the U.P. Recruitment of Government Servant (Dying-in-Harness) Rules, 1974. Said Rule 5 as it existed at the time of petitioner's appointment vide notification dated 20.01.1990 - 5th amendment to Rules 1974 read as under:

"5. Recruitment of a member of the family of the deceased.-(1) In case a Government servant dies in harness after the commencement of these rules and the spouse of the deceased Government servant is not already employed under the Central Government or a State Government or a Corporation owned or controlled by the Central Government or a State Government, one member of his family who is not already employed under the Central Government or a State Government or a Corporation owned or controlled by the Central Government or a State Government shall, on making an application for the purposes, be given a suitable employment in Government Service on a post except the post which is within the purview of the Uttar Pradesh - Public Service Commission, in a relaxation of the normal recruitment rules, if such person

(1) Fulfills the educational qualifications prescribed for the post,

(ii) is otherwise qualified for Government service, and

(iii) makes the application for employment within five years from the date of death of the Government Servant:

Provided that where the State Government is satisfied that the time limit fixed for making the application for employment causes undue hardship in any particular case, it may dispense with or relax the requirement as it may consider necessary for dealing with the case in a just and equitable manner.

(2) As for as possible, such an employment should be given in the same department in which the deceased Government Servant was employed prior to his death"

17. Thus, Rule 5 of the 1974 Rules as amended in 1990 also imposes an embargo on compassionate appointment where spouse of the deceased is already employed.

18. The Court was informed about a decision of Executive Council dated 31.08.2004 of the University that the Rules which are applicable to State Government employees will apply to employees of KGMU till it frames its own Rule with the approval of the State Government. Referring to this resolution, it was argued that Rules of 1974 will apply. Although even as per Rule 5 of Rules of 1974 there is an embargo/prohibition in making such appointment if the spouse of the deceased is already employed, the legal basis of this decision appears to be shaky in view of Section 42 (1) of the Act 2002. Moreover, the appointment of the petitioner having been made prior to the decision dated 31.08.2004 i.e., on 21.04.2004, this argument even otherwise is not acceptable. In this case Statute 39 of Lucknow University will apply. Even if Rule 5 of Rules of 1974 were to apply it would not make any difference as it also contains similar embargo, therefore, reference to Rule 5 of Rules of 1974 in the charge-sheet issued to the petitioner or any other document will not by itself enure to his advantage as similar provision is contained in Statute 39 referred hereinabove nor will it prejudice the University.

19. Moreover, the object behind such compassionate appointment is to provide immediate financial assistance to a family which would be in financial distress after death of the bread earner. It is not intended to be a windfall for the family in the sense that there is no such legislative mandate/obligation that even if it has sufficient means to sustain itself and has other family member(s) in employment, even then such appointment has necessarily to be provided. It is not so. It is not as a matter of an indefeasible right.

20. The charge against the petitioner is that at the time of applying for compassionate appointment his mother was already employed as "Aaya" (Sick Attendant) but this fact as also the fact relating to income was concealed and compassionate appointment was obtained by misleading the University.

21. The contention of Sri Kalia was that the State Government did not have any authority/jurisdiction to direct KGMU to act in a particular manner that too after making observations on merits of the charges against the petitioner and findings recorded by the Enquiry Officer, therefore, the Government Order being without jurisdiction is liable to be quashed. In this context, he referred to Section 13 of the U.P. King George Medical University Act, 2002, which has been relied by counsel for opposite parties, to submit that the eventualities and circumstances mentioned therein are not at all attracted in context of the orders passed by the Government as impugned herein, therefore, the said Government Order is not referable to Section 13.

22. Section 13 reads as under:

"13 (1) The State Government shall have the right to cause an inspection to be made by such person or persons. as it may direct, of the University including its buildings, libraries, laboratories, workshops and equipment and also of the examinations teaching and all other works conducted or done by the University or, to cause an inquiry to be made in the like manner in respect of any matter connected with the administration and finances of the University.

(2) Where the State Government decides to cause an inspection or inquiry to be made under sub-section (1), it shall inform the University of the same through the Registrar, and any person nominated by the Executive Council may be present at such inspection or inquiry as representative of the University and he shall have the right to be heard as such:

Provided that no person shall appear, plead or act as legal practitioner on behalf of the University at such inspection or inquiry.

(3) The person or persons appointed to inspect or inquire under sub-section (1) shall have all the powers of a civil court, while trying a suit under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for the purposes of taking evidence on oath and of enforcing the attendance of witnesses and compelling production of documents and material objects, and shall be deemed to be a civil court within the meaning of sections 345 and 346 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, and the proceedings before him or them shall be deemed to be judicial proceedings within the meaning of sections 193 and 228 of the Indian Penal Code.

(4) The State Government shall address the Vice Chancellor with reference to the result of such inspection or inquiry, and the Vice-Chancellor shall communicate to the Executive Council the views of the State Government with such advice as the State Government may offer upon the action to be taken thereon.

(5) The Vice-Chancellor shall then, within such time as the State Government may fix, submit to it a report of the action taken or proposed to be taken by the Executive Council.

(6) If the University authorities do not, within a reasonable time, take action to the satisfaction of the State Government, the State Government may, after considering any explanation which the University authorities may furnish, issue such directions, as it may think fit, and the University authorities shall be bound to comply with such directions.

(7) The State Government shall send to the Chancellor a copy of every report of an inspection or inquiry caused to be made under sub-section (1) and of every communication received from the Vice-Chancellor under sub-section (5), and of every direction issued under sub-section (6), and also of every report or information received in respect of compliance or non compliance with such directions."

23. As far as Section 13 is concerned, there is no doubt that the State Government has a right to cause an inspection to be made by such person or persons, as it may direct, of the University including its buildings, libraries, laboratories, workshops and equipment and also of the examinations teaching and all other works conducted or done by the University or, to cause an inquiry to be made in the like manner in respect of any matter connected with the administration and finances of the University. The provision is quite wide in its scope as to the subject matter of such inquiry considering the use of the words "and all other works conducted or done by the University" and "to cause an inquiry to be made in the like manner in respect of any matter connected with the administration and finances of the University". The term "administration' used therein has a wide import/meaning so as to include any illegal appointment(s) in the University, but then, as is borne out from the provision such inspection or inquiry as envisaged therein is to be conducted by a person other than one involved in the functioning of the University. If any action is to be taken under Section 13, then entire procedure is provided in the said Section itself. There is nothing on record including the counter affidavit filed by the State Government to show that any such procedure was adopted. For example sub Section (2) of Section 13 says where the State Government decides to cause an inspection or inquiry to be made under sub-section (1), it shall inform the University of the same through the Registrar, and any person nominated by the Executive Council may be present at such inspection or inquiry as representative of the University and he shall have the right to be heard as such. Sub-Section (4) requires addressing of report of such inspection or inquiry to the Vice Chancellor who in turn shall place it before the Executive Council with such advice as the State Government may offer upon the action to be taken thereon. A report of the action taken is to be submitted by the Vice Chancellor to the State Government under sub-Section (5). This procedure has not been followed. Nevertheless, the State Government does have wide powers to get an inspection or inquiry conducted under Section 13 of the 2002 Act and also to issue direction to the University under sub-Section (6) if the University fails to take action and the University authorities are bound to comply with such directions and in this case it had sought a report from the University before issuing the order dated 02.06.2020.

24. It is not out of place to mention that the State Government provides the funds for payment of salary, etc. to the Officers and employees of the KGMU and it also sanctions the posts, therefore, to that extent certainly the State Government has a stake in the running of the Institution and if it finds any illegality in the Institution, certainly it can ask KGMU to act as per the provisions of the Act, Rules, etc. made therein, therefore, even if the Government Order dated 02.06.2020 is not strictly as per the procedure prescribed in Section 13 of the Act of 2002, it cannot be said to be absolutely unfounded or arbitrary and uncalled for in the facts of the case, especially in view of the cryptic noting of the Vice Chancellor dated 14.01.2020 accepting the inquiry report, even if this notice was not brought to the notice of the Government.

25. State Government's anxiety in the matter is understandable but any observation by it on merits of the matter conclusively in the facts of this case should have been avoided as it could prejudice the appointing/ disciplinary authority in taking a final decision and could be perceived by the petitioner as prejudging of the matter, therefore, this aspect needs to be addressed by this Court which shall be done hereinafter.

26. Learned Standing Counsel relied on Section 4 of the 2002 Act. Section 4 on a bare reading of it is not at all attracted.

27. The submission of Sri Kalia, learned Senior counsel that in this case the Government Order needs to be quashed as it is without jurisdiction and rest of the issues should be left to the discretion of the University specially as the Vice Chancellor has already accepted the inquiry report. The show cause notice issued by the Registrar thereafter is on the dictates of the State Government, therefore, though it is not challenged specifically in this petition, it is also unsustainable.

28. On the other hand, Sri Subham Tripathi, learned counsel for the KGMU submitted that the appointment was patently illegal and the fact that the petitioner's mother was already employed in the KGMU itself was not disclosed either by the mother or by the petitioner while seeking compassionate appointment. As regards nine persons, who as alleged by the petitioner, had been similarly appointed, on scrutiny, it was found that there were only four such persons who had been given compassionate appointment even though their family members were already working in the University and services of all these four persons had been terminated. The irony is that while their services have been terminated petitioner continues in service on account of interim order. He says that all these four persons have filed writ petitions before this Court and this Court has dismissed one of the writ petitions bearing Writ A No.755 of 2022; Sumit Kumar Verma vs. State of U.P. and others by a detailed judgment. As regards other persons, writ petitions are still pending.

29. He submitted that reliance placed by the petitioner's counsel on the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Mohd. Zamil Ahmed Vs. State of Bihar And Others; 2016 (2) ESC 242 (SC), which was the basis for granting interim order in this case, is misplaced, as, in the said case there was no concealment or misrepresentation of material facts. In this regard, he invited the attention of the Court especially to Para 11.1 of the said report.

30. Sri Kalia submitted that, in fact, there was no concealment by the petitioner while seeking compassionate appointment. The form which was being relied upon by the opposite parties and a copy of which has been annexed by the petitioner himself after obtaining it under the Right to Information Act, has neither been filled by the petitioner nor is signed by the petitioner a fact which distinguishes the case of the petitioner from the case of the other four persons in whose case, presumably, the form was signed by them and the column wherein the occupational status of the family members was to be mentioned was either left vacant or was filled incorrectly.

31. The question as to whether petitioner concealed material facts as alleged in the charge-sheet to obtain an illegal compassionate appointment or not is to be judged by the Disciplinary authority.

32. Having considered the matter, this Court is of view that disciplinary authority of the petitioner being the Registrar of the University he should have taken a call on the inquiry report keeping in mind the entire facts and material on record including the Rule position as has been noticed hereinabove and the law on the subject, especially the object for which compassionate appointment is to be made, instead, he very conveniently sent the matter to the Vice Chancellor, who, in fact would be the appellate authority against any order passed by the Registrar in such proceedings. Moreover, the noting of the Vice Chancellor dated 14.01.2020, which is on record, is a cryptic noting which does not disclose any application of the mind to the facts and material on record of the disciplinary proceedings. Most important, the competent authority in this case to take a decision was the Registrar but he has not taken any decision. Therefore, the order/noting of the Vice Chancellor shall not be taken into consideration any further in these proceedings. The fact that it is not under challenge makes no difference as this Court while exercising jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India has to do substantial justice.

33. It is the disciplinary authority who has to take a decision on the inquiry report considering the entire material on record in the light of the charges levelled against the petitioner. Disciplinary authority is not bound to accept the inquiry report. He can differ from it entirely or in part. If he differs he has to give reasons for it in writing an then inform the delinquent accordingly informing him about the points of difference with reasons, giving him an opportunity to defend himself. He has to consider the matter independently and objectively in the light of the material on record, the Rules applicable and the law on the subject.

34. The fact that he has to take a decision independently, uninfluenced by anyone, does not mean that he can act whimsically or arbitrarily, ignoring the facts, evidence and Rule. It only means that decision has to be his own, with due and proper application of mind to all material aspects on fact, Rules and law.

35. Having said so this Court cannot ignore provisions of law discussed hereinabove as also the facts of this case. The charge against the petitioner is of having obtained compassionate appointment illegally by concealing the factum of his mother's employment in KGMU, who in fact is still in employment, as also, as alleged, by concealing income of his family. A Writ Court while exercising jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India is not to scuttle any such inquiry/proceedings nor to protect any possible illegality, therefore, the proceedings have to be taken by the Registrar to its logical end as envisaged in law.

36. In view of the above, instead of quashing the order of the Government dated 02.06.2020, ends of justice would suffice if it is provided that the impugned Government Order and the observation made therein shall be read and understood by the University as an expression of serious concern in the matter requiring the competent authority to take appropriate decision in the facts of the case and in the light of the Rules applicable and law on the subject, nothing more. It is ordered accordingly. No observation or direction therein shall be treated as conclusive on any of the issues involved regarding which the Registrar, KGMU is to take a decision. This will allay the fears of the petitioner and on the other hand allow the proceedings to go in an independent and objective manner as discussed hereinabove. The impugned Government Order shall only be treated as a communication to the KGMU about its concern in the matter requiring the University authorities to act as per Rules/law. If the University does not act as per law State Government can proceed under Section 13 of the Act 2002. Any observations/directions therein on merits of the issues regarding which the Registrar is competent to take a decision shall not be read by the Registrar, subject to whatever has been stated hereinabove i.e. he will take a considered decision taking into account the entire factual matrix, the Rule position and the law on the subject.

37. It is not out of place to mention that on 10.06.2020 the Registrar of the University issued a show cause notice to the petitioner albeit in pursuance to the Government Order dated 02.06.2020. The Court has perused the said show cause notice which has been filed along with the supplementary affidavit of the petitioner, and even though it is not specifically challenged, nevertheless, as the contents of the show cause notice show detailed reference to the Government Order dated 02.06.2020, therefore, this notice, obviously, as asserted by Sri Kalia, cannot be made the basis for any further action which has to be an independent and objective decision on the part of the Registrar who is the competent authority. Accordingly, this show cause notice shall not be read or proceeded further instead a fresh notice shall be issued by the Registrar as ordered hereinafter.

38. The appointing/disciplinary authority is directed to issue a fresh show cause notice to the petitioner in the light of the relevant rules which may be applicable asking the petitioner to submit his response to the same. Thereafter, considering the response, if any submitted by the petitioner, the appointing/disciplinary authority shall take a final decision in the matter independently and objectively considering the entire facts of the case, material on record (except the noting of the Vice Chancellor dated 14.01.2020), the Rule position i.e., Statute 39 quoted hereinabove, and the law on the subject as may be placed before it, but, ignoring the observations/findings, if any in the impugned Government Order dated 02.06.2020 as to the merits of the matter, which shall not be read at all by the disciplinary authority for this purpose. He shall take decision within two months.

39. If at any stage the appointing authority/disciplinary authority forms an opinion that instead of the proceedings at hand, proceedings for cancellation of appointment are liable to be undertaken based on the material collected, it shall be open for him to proceed accordingly as per law.

40. The application of the applicant seeking impleadment through Dr. V.K. Singh, Advocate is disposed off as he has been heard.

41. The petition is disposed of in the aforesaid terms.

(2022)05ILR A1237
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 11.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.
THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Criminal Appeal No.248 of 2022
(Under section 372 Cr.P.C.)

Raj Kumar Verma ...Appellant (In Jail)
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Rajiv Gupta, Sri Dileep Kumar, Sri Rajrshi Gupta, Shristri Gupta

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A.

Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code,1973 - Section - 372, - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section – 302, 394, r/w Section 35-C - Criminal Appeal – challenging the order of acquittal – Unnamed FIR, No prior animosity, neither eye witnesses nor any recovery - names of accused persons are included after one year only on the basis of one alleged extrajudicial confession – it is settled law that an extra-judicial confession is a very weak piece of evidence and same has to be examined with extra care - prosecution fails to established the charges against the accused persons beyond the reasonable doubt - finding of trial court cannot at all be termed as perverse - hence acquitted is proper - Appeal dismissed. (Para – 5, 6, 19, 17, 20, 21, 22)

Appeal Dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Jayamma Vs St. of Karn. (2021 vol. 6 SCC 213),

2. Shailendra Rajdev Pasvan Vs St. of Guj. (2020 vol. 14 SCC 750).

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. By means of this appeal filed under Section 372 Cr.P.C. the Appellant has challenged the judgement and order dated 29-09-2012 passed by the Additional Session Judge, Court Number 10, Bijnor, acquitting the accused / respondents Number 2 to 6 of all the charges levelled against them.

2. Briefly stated, the prosecution case is that on 26/12/2009 the Informant - Appellant gave a report to the police stating that he resides in village Khaspura police station Haldaur and he runs a jewellery shop in Kasba Chandpur under the name and style of "Khaspura Jewellers' along with his 21 years' old son Deepak Verma. Both of them used to come daily from village Khaspura to Chandpur on a motorcycle. On 26/12/2009, he and his son had come to the shop at Chandpur. He had to go with some persons campaigning of MLC elections. At about 3:00 PM he kept some articles of jewellery in a steel box and gave the same to Deepak Verma after putting it in a cloth bag and asked him to go home on his motorcycle taking the goods with him. The Informant went for the election campaign While his son Deepak Verma was going on the Hero Honda Super Splendour motorcycle after closing the shop, some unidentified miscreants fired at and killed his son on Chandpur - Paijaniya road a short distance ahead of the railway crossing. The miscreants robbed the jewellery and ran away. He came to know from the neighbours of the shop that Deepak Verma had started for Khaspura after closing the shop at about 4:30 PM on his motor cycle, taking the bag with him.

3. Upon the aforesaid information, a First Information Report was lodged under sections 394 and 302 IPC against unknown miscreants. During investigation on 09-02-2010, the Informant gave an application to the District Magistrate, Bijnor stating that a veterinary hospital was being constructed in his village Khaspura. It was to be constructed on 3,900 square meters area, but the Chief Veterinary Officer and the Contractor were constructing the same only on 1,000 square meters land. The land on which the hospital was being constructed was the land on which a fair was held. The Informant had given a complaint regarding this to the District Magistrate and he had filed a Public Interest Litigation in the High Court at Lucknow and the Court had issued a direction to the Principal Secretary, Animal Husbandry, to pass suitable orders on the petitioners representation. Ultimately his representation was rejected and since after the murder of his son the construction of the hospital has gained peace. The Informant stated that the Chief Veterinary Officer, Bijnor and the contractor who was constructing the hospital, had got his son killed under a conspiracy.

4. After investigation a charge sheet under section 394 302 read with section 35 C was filed on 18-10-2011 against the accused respondents number 2, 3 and 4 and on 12-12-2011 another charge sheet under the aforesaid sections was filed against the accused respondent number 5.

5. After examining the evidence on record, the learned court below came to a conclusion that neither any person had seen the accused respondents committing the robbery and murder on the place of the incident nor any of the articles robbed from the deceased was recovered from any of the accused persons. No prior animosity of the Informant against the accused respondents could be proved. There is no evidence on record to establish any connection of the accused persons with the Chief Veterinary Officer and the contractors Pradeep Yadav and Vinod Yadav and there is no evidence of the Informant's son Deepak Verma having been killed because of any conspiracy of the aforesaid persons.

6. On the basis of the aforesaid analysis, the learned Court below recorded a finding that the prosecution could not prove the charges against the accused respondents beyond reasonable doubt and, accordingly, by means of the judgement and order dated 29-09-2012 it acquitted all the accused respondents.

7. The Informant Appellant has filed the instant appeal against the aforesaid judgment and order dated 29-09-2012.

8. The appeal was listed on 08-02-2022, on which date no one had appeared on behalf of the Appellant. The court passed an order disposing of the application under Section 378 (3) and the appeal was directed to be listed for admission peremptorily. Thereafter it was listed on 23-02-2022 on which date again no one appeared on behalf of the Appellant even in the revised call and the court passed an order directing the office to allot a regular number to the appeal and the case was ordered to be listed on 25-02-2022 peremptorily.

9. On 25-02-2022 again, no one appeared for the Appellant even in the revised call and the court proceeded to peruse the record with the assistance of the learned A.G.A. and the judgment was reserved.

10. We have examined the grounds of appeal and the lower court record. The Informant Appellant has challenge the judgment and order dated 29-09-2012 on the ground that it is illegal and without jurisdiction and the trial court has misread, misinterpreted and mis-appreciated the evidence on record.

11. In Jayamma v. State of Karnataka, (2021) 6 SCC 213, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has reiterated the manner in which the High Court should exercise its power of scrutiny in an appeal filed against an order of acquittal, in the following words: -

"the power of scrutiny exercisable by the High Court under Section 378 Cr.P.C. should not be routinely invoked where the view formed by the trial court was a "possible view". The judgment of the trial court cannot be set aside merely because the High Court finds its own view more probable, save where the judgment of the trial court suffers from perversity or the conclusions drawn by it were impossible if there was a correct reading and analysis of the evidence on record. To say it differently, unless the High Court finds that there is complete misreading of the material evidence which has led to miscarriage of justice, the view taken by the trial court which can also possibly be a correct view, need not be interfered with. This self-restraint doctrine, of course, does not denude the High Court of its powers to reappreciate the evidence, including in an appeal against acquittal and arrive at a different firm finding of fact."

12. We proceed to examine the record of the case to ascertain as to whether the view taken by the Court below in the judgment and order under challenge is a possible view or whether the findings of the Court below are perverse and warrant interference by this Court.

13. The Informant Raj Kumar Verma - PW - 1 stated in his examination-in-chief, that after the incident he came to know that since 4 days before the murder of his son, he used to see 4 boys standing ahead of the railway crossing at the place where he has been killed and those persons are the accused respondents number 2, 3, 4 and 5. However, the Investigating Officer Gurdeep Singh Grewal (PW - 7) has stated that he took over investigation of the case on 26/12/2009, i.e. the date on which the FIR was lodged. The investigation was transferred from him on 10/1/2010 but during this period, the Informant did not name any accused person. After PW - 7, the investigation was taken over by PW - 8 Raj Kumar Bhardwaj who also stated that the Informant did not name any person. PW - 9 Dhan Pal Singh, who took over investigation after Raj Kumar Bhardwaj, also made a similar statement. On 09/10/2010 the Informant gave an application to the District Magistrate and in that also there was no mention of this fact. This indicates that the statement of PW - 1 naming the accused-respondents 2 to 5 and alleging that they used to keep on standing near the place of the incident since four days before the same, is false.

14. Although in the application dated 09-02-2010 given by Informant Appellant it was alleged that he had given a complaint against the Chief Veterinary Officer and the contractors Pradeep Yadav and Vinod Yadav and had expressed suspicion that the aforesaid persons have got his son killed under a conspiracy, but he did not give any statement to this effect during investigation. No material came to light during investigation indicating involvement of the aforesaid persons in the incident and no charge sheet was submitted against them. The Informant Appellant gave evidence to prove this allegation for the first time in his examination-in-chief, which is not corroborated by any other material. Therefore, this allegation of the Informant / Appellant appears to be without any basis.

15. The Informant / Appellant PW - 1 has admitted the inquest report, which mentions that ₹24,411/- cash was recovered from the deceased's pocket, 2 gold rings were recovered from his hand and some documents in his pocket were recovered from his pocket and the motorcycle and its key was also recovered lying near the place of occurrence. Had the dceased been killed with the intention of committing robbery, the miscreants would have taken away the cash, gold rings and motorcycle etc.

16. Although the Informant - Appellant stated in the report that he had given some items of jewellery put in a steel box kept in a cloth bag to the deceased to be taken home, he has stated in evidence that the deceased did not leave the shop in his presence and no witness has stated that he saw the deceased taking away the items with him. In absence of any evidence to this effect, the aforesaid allegation has also not been proved by the prosecution.

17. Therefore, the learned Court below has rightly recorded a finding that from the statement of the Informant Appellant PW - 1, no allegation against the accused respondent number 2 is established and we find that the aforesaid at finding is not at all perverse.

18. PW - 2 Ram Kishan Verma, a Brother-in-law of the Informant, stated that on 26/12/2009 he was going in a bus from Nehtaur to Chandpur in a bus. While sitting in the bus he saw some persons assaulting the deceased. He asked to stop the bus the bus didn't stop and he heard a gunshot. When the bus stopped at the railway-crossing, he got off it and went to the place of occurrence and he saw that Deepak Verma was lying dead and the 3 miscreants runaway on a motorcycle. Similar statements have been given by PW - 3 Surendra Verma, who is also a brother-in-law of the Informant. However, in his cross-examination PW - 2 has stated that he saw the incident through a window of the bus and the bus stopped about half kilometre away. PW - 2 and PW - 3 have stated that they sated at the place of the occurrence for about 20 - 25 minutes. They left after the police reached there and they did not make any phone call to the Informant regarding the incident. The police took away the dead body and they did not go with the police. This conduct of the aforesaid witnesses in not informing the police or the Informant about having seen the incident, is highly unnatural and indicative of the fact that they did not see the incident send their statement is false.

19. PW - 2 Ram Kishan Verma has stated that all the accused persons had gone to him at his home on 25-04-2011 and stated that they have killed Deepak Verma by mistake; the police was harassing them and they requested the PW - 2 to help in settling the matter, But in his cross-examination, he has shown ignorance about the date and even the month in which the accused persons had gone to his home. He also did not state as to when did he give information of the visit of the accused persons to his home to the Informant. From this, it appears that the statement of the witness is false.

20. It is settled law that an extra-judicial confession is a very weak piece of evidence and it has to be examined with extra care. In Shailendra Rajdev Pasvan v. State of Gujarat, (2020) 14 SCC 750 the Hon'ble Supreme Court reiterated the well settled law regarding extra judicial confessions in the following words: -

" 20. In Sahadevan v. State of T.N. [Sahadevan v. State of T.N., (2012) 6 SCC 403 : (2012) 3 SCC (Cri) 146] referring to the aspect of evidentiary value of extra-judicial confession, it was observed : (SCC p. 410, para 14):

"14. It is a settled principle of criminal jurisprudence that extra-judicial confession is a weak piece of evidence. Wherever the court, upon due appreciation of the entire prosecution evidence, intends to base a conviction on an extra-judicial confession, it must ensure that the same inspires confidence and is corroborated by other prosecution evidence. If, however, the extra-judicial confession suffers from material discrepancies or inherent improbabilities and does not appear to be cogent as per the prosecution version, it may be difficult for the court to base a conviction on such a confession. In such circumstances, the court would be fully justified in ruling such evidence out of consideration."

21. Elaborating on the jurisprudence that has evolved with regard to extra-judicial confessions, this Court i*n Sahadevan [Sahadevan v. State of T.N.*, (2012) 6 SCC 403 : (2012) 3 SCC (Cri) 146] had stipulated the principles that are required to be kept in mind while relying on extra-judicial confession as evidence. These principles have been succinctly mentioned in Jagroop Singh v. State of Punjab [Jagroop Singh v. State of Punjab, (2012) 11 SCC 768 : (2013) 1 SCC (Cri) 1136] as : (SCC p. 780, para 30)

"30. Recently, in Sahadevan v. State of T.N. [Sahadevan v. State of T.N., (2012) 6 SCC 403 : (2012) 3 SCC (Cri) 146] , after referring to the rulings in Sk. Yusuf v. State of W.B. [Sk. Yusuf v. State of W.B., (2011) 11 SCC 754 : (2011) 3 SCC (Cri) 620] and Pancho v. State of Haryana [Pancho v. State of Haryana, (2011) 10 SCC 165 : (2012) 1 SCC (Cri) 223] , a two-Judge Bench has laid down that the extra-judicial confession is a weak evidence by itself and it has to be examined by the court with greater care and caution; that it should be made voluntarily and should be truthful; that it should inspire confidence; that an extra-judicial confession attains greater credibility and evidentiary value if it is supported by a chain of cogent circumstances and is further corroborated by other prosecution evidence; that for an extra-judicial confession to be the basis of conviction, it should not suffer from any material discrepancies and inherent improbabilities; and that such statement essentially has to be proved like any other fact and in accordance with law."

21. PW 9 Investigating Officer Dhan Pal Singh has stated that till 16-05-2010, the name of any accused persons had not come to light. The name of the accused persons has been included after about an year after the incident on the basis of an alleged extrajudicial confession made by all the accused persons by going to PW-2 on 25-04-2011 and confessing the incident allegedly occurred on 26-12-2009, which is highly unnatural and which was not corroborated by any other evidence. Therefore, we are of the view that the said extra judicial confession does not appear to be reliable so as to prove the guilt of the accused / respondents beyond reasonable doubt.

22. From a thorough scrutiny of the statement of witnesses, we are of the considered opinion that the prosecution could not establish the guilt of the accused respondent number 2 to 5 and the findings of the Court below in this regard do not suffer from any infirmity and the same are not at all perverse and do not call for interference of this Court in exercie of its appellate jurisdiction.

23. The appeal lacks merits and is accordingly dismissed at the stage of admission itself.

(2022)05ILR A1242
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 15.03.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.
THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Criminal Appeal No.4858 of 2014
(Under section 372 Cr.P.C.)

Nokhe Lal ...Appellant (In Jail)
Versus
State of U.P & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri V.K. Gupta, Sri Santosh Kumar Tiwari

Counsel for the Respondents:

A.G.A.

Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code,1973 - Section - 372, - Indian Penal Code,1860 -Sections 307/34, 323/24, 387, 427, 452, 504, 506 – Arms Act, 1959 - Section – 25 - Criminal Appeal – challenging the order of acquittal - by the trial court giving them benefit of doubt - on the ground that – all the evidence are not proved the story of prosecution & holding that all witnesses are interested witnesses – court held that – in the light of settle law by the Apex Court – Trial Court can only concerned with quality not with the quantity of evidence – the testimony of interested witness has to be examined with extra care and caution – finding of trial court cannot at all be termed as perverse – appellant fails to make out any ground – hence Appeal dismissed. (Para – 17, 19, 21, 23, 24)

Appeal Dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Sunil Kumar Vs St. (Govt. of NCT Delhi) 2003 11 SCC 367,

2. Vadivelu Thevar Vs St. of Madras (AIR 1957 SC 614),

3. Amar Singh Vs Balwinder Singh (2003, SCC 518),

4. Jayamma Vs St. of Karn. (2021 vol. 6 SCC 213).

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Santosh Kumar Tiwari, learned Amicus Curiae, for the appellant and Shri Ratan Singh, learned A.G.A. for the respondents.

2. By means of the instant appeal under Section 372 of the Criminal Procedure Code (herein after referred to as "Cr.P.C.") the informant-appellant has challenged the judgement and order dated 01.10.2014 passed by learned Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 1/Special Judge, Dacoity Affected Area, Mahoba in Special Case No. 47 of 2004 (State Vs. Hari Ram Prajapati and another) arising out of Case Crime No. 196 of 2004 under Sections 387, 307/34, 452, 323/34 and 427 IPC, Police Station Kabrai, District Mahoba, whereby both the accused have been acquitted giving them the benefit of doubt.

3. Briefly stated, facts of the case are that the informant-appellant gave a report in the concerned Police Station on 11.05.2004 at 20:45 hours stating that when on the same day at about 4:00 p.m., he was coming to Kabrai from his home, the accused-respondent No. 3 (Dhirendra Singh) blocked the passage by parking his motorcycle in front of Jagdish's house, where the passage is narrow. The informant was going on his motorcycle and he stopped there. Dhanni, Rajju, Hariram Prajapati (the accused-respondent No. 2 and Dhirendra Singh (the accused-respondent No. 3) caught hold of the informant and made him sit there and they assaulted the informant by but of a gun, kicks and fists and said that they will set him free only when he pays Rs. 10,000/-. They threatened to kill him with a gun and country made pistols. Upon finding an opportunity, the informant ran towards his home and Dhanni fired towards the informant with a 315 bore country made pistol with the intention to kill him. However, the shot missed the informant's temple and he had a narrow escape. The informant ran and entered the house of Prakash and the aforesaid people attempted to get the door of the house opened. Thereafter, they entered the informant's house and assaulted the informant's mother Achchhi Devi and sister Sudha with kicks, fists and shoes and destroyed the house-hold goods namely deg (a utensil), CD, TV,

Battery and other goods of his shop, which resulted in a loss of about Rs. 5,000/-. The accused threatened that if the informant makes a report of it, it will not be good for him. The incident was witnessed by Shaukilal, Bhawanideen and Deshraj Pradhan and they saved him.

4. On the aforesaid allegation, a Case Crime No. 196 of 2004 under Sections 387, 452, 323, 504 and 506 IPC was registered against the accused-respondents. A case under Section 10/12 of Dacoity Affected Area Act was registered against Dhanni. After investigation, a charge sheet for commission of the offences under Sections 387, 307/37, 452, 323/34, 427 IPC was submitted in the Court against the accused-respondents.

5. PW-1, informant-appellant Nokhe Lal, reiterated the allegations made in the FIR and he further stated that the Sub Inspector visited his home on the following day and saw the broken goods. He prepared a list and gave the goods in the custody of his father. He produced the broken goods, namely, a stabilizer, a CD player and a table fan, a tin box, picture tube of a TV etc. before the Court and said that those were the goods which had been broken by the accused-persons. He and his mother has been medically examined in the Government Hospital at Mahoba.

6. In his cross-examination, PW-1 stated that he had stopped his motorcycle about 3 meters before the platform where the accused persons made him sit. The accused-persons had hit him with sticks, buts and kicks. They had hit him 10-15 times with sticks and 10-12 times with buts. They had hit him on his back and below the shoulder but not on his head and face. However, the assault did not cause any injury mark or bleeding. They did not hit him hard but hit him slowly. He reached the house of Prakash Vishwakarma at about 4:15 p.m. During the entire period, he kept on shouting but nobody came there. The witnesses Shauki Lal and Bhawani Deen came after the incident. The place of incident is surrounded by residential area. After about 1/2 to 1 minute since arrival of the witnesses, the informant got free from the accused persons and ran away.

7. PW-2 Smt. Achchhi Devi is mother of the informant Nokhe Lal, she stated that on the date of the incident at about 4:00 p.m., the accused-persons entered her house, assaulted and injured her and broken the goods kept in the shop. In her cross-examination, PW-2 stated that the house of Saukhi Lal Prajapati and Kamtu Dhobi are adjacent to her house and there are several residences near her house. The distance between her house and Prakash Vishwakarma's house is the same distance as the distance between the court room and the road and the Court made a noting that the distance between the Court and the road is about 200-250 yards.

8. PW-4 Smt. Sudha is the informant's sister, she stated that the accused-persons came to the shop, they hit her mother Achchhi Devi with buts of a country made pistol. They slapped her and broken down the T.V., Fan, C.D. and other goods of the shop. Afterwards, she came to know that they have fired at her brother. The accused-persons took away the jewellery of her and of her sister-in-law.

9. PW-5 Prakash Vishwakarma has denied the incident having been taken place. He said that he has no knowledge of the incident and he did not either see or hear about it. He was declared to be hostile and in his cross-examination he denied having made any statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C.

10. PW-3 Dr. Mahendra Singh Katiyar has conducted the medical examination of Smt. Achhchhi Devi who has proved that the appellant Nokhe Lal was not found to have been suffered any injury. His mother Smt. Achchi Devi wife of Nanhu had reported that there was some swelling and bluishness on her hip.

11. The defence has produced two witnesses who have denied the incident and have made statements regarding animosity between the informant and the accused.

