6. The submissions of Shri Abhishek Shukla, learned Addl. Chief Standing Counsel have been refuted by learned counsel for the petitioner by submitting that the alternate remedy as stated by the learned Addl. Chief Standing Counsel may not be treated to be an absolute bar inasmuch as the power of this Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India cannot be curtailed in view of the patent illegality committed by the Appellate Authority while passing the impugned order in exercise of powers under Section 24 (4) of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006. He has invited the attention of this Court to the impugned order dated 30.11.2023 to demonstrate that no reasons whatsoever have been stated for rejecting the appeal preferred by the petitioner against the order dated 4.2.2022 passed under Section 24 of the Code. He submits that the Appellate Authority has merely stated that the order dated 4.2.2022 was a reasoned order passed in accordance with law, which was not liable to be interfered in appeal and accordingly, proceed to reject the appeal.

7. In order to buttress his submissions, learned counsel for the petitioner has relied upon a decision of the Apex Court in the case of Sant Lal Gupta versus Modern, Corporation Group Housing Society Ltd., reported in 2010 (13) SCC 334, in which, in paragraph 27 it has been laid down as under:-

"27. It is settled legal proposition that not only administrative but also judicial orders must be supported by reasons recorded in it. Thus, while deciding an issue, the Court is bound to give reasons for its conclusion. IT is the duty and obligation on the part of the Court to record reasons while disposing of the case. The hallmark of order and exercise of judicial power by a judicial forum is for the forum to disclose its reasons by itself and giving of reasons has always been insisted upon as one of the fundamentals of sound administration of the justice delivery system, to make it known that there had been proper and due application of mind to the issue before the Court and also as an essential requisite of the principles of natural justice.

3..... The giving of reasons for a decision is an essential attribute of judicial and judicious disposal of the matter before Courts, and which is the only indication to know about the manner and quality of exercise undertaken, as also the fact that the Court concerned had really applied its mind."

The reasons is that the heartbeat of every conclusion. It introduces clarity in an order and without the same, the order becomes lifeless. Reasons substitute subjectivity with objectivity. The absence of reasons rendered an order indefensible/unsustainable particular when the order is subject to further challenge before a higher forum. Recording of reasons is the principle of natural justice and every judicial order must be supported by reasons recorded in writing. It ensures transparency and fairness in decision making. The person who is adversely affected must know any his application has been rejected."

8. Further reliance has been placed upon a decision of a co-ordinate Bench of this Court in the case of C.P. Upadhyay versus Chairman and M.D. Power Grid and others reported in 2017 (121) ALR 69 to submit that reasons are the soul of an order and in its absence such order is rendered lifeless. In the said case, the co-ordinate Bench after considering various decisions of the Apex Court that the appellate order assailed therein did not contain the reasons and having found that the order of the Appellate Authority did not stand the test of judicial scrutiny, set aside the order and remitted back the matter to the Appellate Authority for consideration of the petitioner's appeal, strictly in accordance with law, keeping in view the legal parameters settled for the purpose, some of which were referred to in the order.

9. Learned counsel for the petitioner has vehemently argued that the order of the Appellate Authority does not contain any reasons and as such, is liable to be set aside and the matter be remitted back for consideration afresh.

10. Having heard the learned counsels for the parties and having perused the record as also the decisions cited at bar and agreeing with the proposition of law laid down therein, this Court is faced with the issue as to entertain the writ petition in the wake of existence of a statutory remedy to assail the orders impugned. Further, the Court finds that the writ petition in the case cited was entertained as the orders impugned therein had attained finality and there was no statutory remedy available. The position in the case at hand is different. The petitioner has an alternate statutory remedy to assail the order of the Appellate Authority in revision.

11. Recently the Apex Court in the case of PHR Invent Educational Society versus UCO Bank and others, Civil Appeal No. Nil of 2024 (arising out of SLP (c) No. 8867 of 2022) decided on 10th April, 2024, after considering various judgments in Para 29 carved out certain exceptions when a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution could be entertained in spite of availability of an alternative remedy. Some of them being:-

"i) where the statutory authority has not acted in accordance with the provisions of the enactment in question;

ii) it has acted in defiance of the fundamental principles of judicial procedure;

iii) it has resorted to invoke the provisions which are repealed; and

iv) when an order has been passed in total violation of the principles of nature justice."

12. In Para 30 of the aforesaid judgment, the Apex Court has however clarified that the High Court will not entertain a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, if an effective alternative remedy is available to the aggrieved person or the statute under which the action complained of has been taken itself contains a mechanism for redressal of grievance. Paragraph 30 of the aforesaid decision is quoted hereunder:-

"30. It has however been clarified that the High Court will not entertain a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India if an effective alternative remedy is available to the aggrieved person or the statute under which the action complained of has been taken itself contains a mechanism for redressal of grievance."

13. In the opinion of the Court, the present case does not fall in any of the exceptions as carved out by the Apex Court in Paragraph 29. Observation made in Para 30, however, is binding.

14. In view of the above, since the petitioner has an effective alternate remedy of assailing the order dated 30.11.2023 passed in Appeal No. 257 of 2022 under Section 24 (4) of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006, the Court is not inclined to entertain the writ petition. It is accordingly dismissed on the ground of alternate remedy .

(2024) 5 ILRA 1204
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION

CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 23.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SARAL SRIVASTAVA, J.

Writ-C No. 4268 of 1984

Asharfi Lal ...Petitioner
Versus
Iii A.D.J. & Ors. ...Opp. Parties

Counsel for the Petitioner:
L.K. Davey, Bhanu Bhushan Jauhari, R.C. Shukla, Rishi Bhushan Jauhari

Counsel for the Opp. Parties:
S.C.

A. Civil Law - Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings Act, 1960 - Section 5(3)(b) - No Distinction between Minor and Major Family Members for Additional Land Entitlement - A tenure holder with up to five family members can retain 7.30 hectares of irrigated land - In addition, for each family member exceeding five, and for each adult son, the tenure holder can retain two additional hectares of irrigated land, subject to a maximum of six hectares - Section 5(3)(b) does not differentiate between major and minor members of the family - term "family," as defined in Section 3(7), includes the tenure holder's spouse, minor sons, and minor daughters - Therefore, even if a family member is a minor, they are entitled to two additional hectares of land if the family size exceeds five (Paras 16, 17).

B. Civil Law - Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings Act, 1960, Section 10(2) - The number of family members is to be considered on the date of the notice under Section 10(2) of the Act, 1960, and not on the date of the introduction of the amending Act (Para 19).

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Brij Narain Tewari Vs St. of U. P. & ors., 1979 (5) ALR 451

2. Ram Chandra Vs St. of U.P. & ors., 2020 (4) ADJ 535 (LB).

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saral Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri B.B. Jauhari, learned counsel for the petitioner and learned Standing Counsel for the respondents.

2. The petitioner by means of the present writ petition has assailed the order dated 23.11.1983 passed by the Prescribed Authority (Ceiling), Tehsil Puwaya, District Shahjahanpur by which he has declared 4.63 acre surplus land held by the petitioner, and also the order dated 16.01.1984 passed by the Additional District Judge, Shahjahanpur dismissing the Misc. Civil Appeal No.141 of 1983 preferred by the petitioner under Section 13 of The Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings Act, 1960 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Act, 1960).

3. The facts, in brief, are that the petitioner was issued a notice on 02.06.1983 under Section 10 (2) of the Act, 1960 on the ground that the petitioner had 22.65 acres of irrigation land whereas, under the Act 1960, he could retain only 18.02-acre land, thus, the petitioner was having 4.63-acre excess land, therefore, why the excess land of 4.63 acres held by the petitioner be not declared as surplus land.

4. The petitioner submitted a reply contending inter-alia that the notice was issued to the petitioner under Section 10 (2) of the Act, 1960 on 02.06.1983, and on the date of the notice, the family of the petitioner consisted of the petitioner, namely, Asharfi Lal, his wife, three daughters and two sons. His further case was that his one daughter was married on the date of notice, therefore, after excluding the married daughter, there are six family members still in the family of the petitioner, therefore, in view of Section 5 (3) (b) of the Act, 1960, the petitioner is entitled to retain two hectares extra land. Thus, the petitioner has no excess land.

5. The Ceiling Authority repelled the aforesaid contention by holding that the family members of the tenure holder shall be considered on the date of introduction of the amending act i.e. 08.06.1973 and not on the date of the notice under Section 10(2) of the Act, 1960, and since in the present case, one son and daughter of the petitioner were born in the year 1975 and 1979 respectively after coming into force the amending act, therefore, on the date of amending act, there were only four family members in the family of the petitioner, therefore, the petitioner had 4.63 acres excess land. Besides the above, the other issues framed by the Prescribed Authority were decided against the petitioner.

6. The petitioner preferred an appeal under Section 13 of the Act, 1960 challenging the order of the Prescribed Authority. The appellate authority noted that the only contention advanced by the petitioner was whether the family members of the tenure holders as provided in Section 3 (7) of the Act, 1960 shall be considered on the date of introduction of amending act or the date of issuance of the notice.

7. The appellate authority after considering the scheme of the Act held that if Section 5(3) (b) of the Act is read along with Section 5(1) of the Act, 1960, it is manifest that the family member of the tenure holder is to be seen on the date of introduction of the amending act i.e. 08.06.1973, and since in the case in hand, the petitioner on the date of introduction of the amending act had only four family members as one daughter and son were born to the petitioner after the introduction of the amending act, therefore, the petitioner is not entitled to the benefit of Section 5(3) (b) of the Act, 1960. Accordingly, the appellate authority did not find any merit in the submission of the petitioner and rejected the appeal.

8. Challenging the aforesaid orders, learned counsel for the petitioner has contended that it is not in dispute in the present case that the notice under Section 10(2) of the Act, 1960 had been issued on 02.06.1983. It is also not in dispute that one son and one daughter of the petitioner were born in the year 1975 and 1979 respectively i.e. before the issuance of notice under Section 10(2) of the Act, 1960. It is submitted that on the date of issuance of notice, there are six family members in the family of the petitioner, and thus, the petitioner is entitled to the benefit of Section 5(3) (b) of the Act, 1960, therefore, he is entitled to retain two hectares extra land besides the land which a tenure holder can retain after incorporation of amending act.

9. It is contended that the appellate authority has taken an erroneous view in the matter in concluding that the date of introduction of the amending act is the cut-off date on which the family members in the family of the tenure holder are to be counted. He submits that if family members exceed five and a family member is minor, even then the benefit of retention of two hectares of extra land cannot be denied to the petitioner inasmuch as the Act does not specify that only a major family member if the number of family members exceeds five is entitled to retain two-hectare extra land besides the land which he is entitled to retain under the Act. In support of his argument, he has placed reliance upon the judgement of this Court in the cases of Brij Narain Tewari Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh and others 1979 (5) ALR 451 & Ram Chandra Vs. State of U.P. and Others 2020 (4) ADJ 535 (LB).

10. Per contra, learned Standing Counsel submits that the number of family members on the date of introduction of the amending act shall be taken into consideration to determine the family members and not the date of issuance of notice. It is submitted that in such view of the fact, the Appellate Authority has rightly rejected the appeal of the petitioner, and since the finding returned by the appellate authority is based upon proper appreciation of law, therefore, this Court may not exercise its power under Article 226 of the Constitution of India to interfere with the order passed by the appellate authority as well as prescribed authority.

11. I have considered the rival submissions advanced by learned counsel for the parties.

12. The facts as emanates from the record are that the petitioner was issued a notice under Section 10(2) of the Act, 1960 on 02.06.1983 calling upon him to show cause as to why 4.6 acres of land be not declared as surplus as his total holding is 22.65 acre, out of which he can retain only 18.02 acres irrigation land.

13. The petitioner submitted a reply to the said notice. In the reply, it is stated by the petitioner that on the date of issuance of notice under Section 10 (2) of the Act, 1960, there were six members in the family of the petitioner, therefore, in view of the definition of "family" provided in Section 3 (7) of the Act read with Section 5 (3) (b) of the Act, 1960, the petitioner is entitled to retain two hectares extra land.

14. The Prescribed Authority did not find any merit in the submission of the petitioner and declared 4.06 acres of land as surplus land. The appeal preferred by the petitioner was also dismissed by the appellate authority holding that the number of family members to avail benefit of Section 5(3) (b) of the Act, 1960 is to be seen on the date of introduction of the amending act and not on the date of issuance of notice.

15. The first question which arises for consideration in the present case is whether the Act lays any distinction between the minor and major while extending the benefit of Section 5(3) (b) of the Act, 1960 entitling a tenure holder to retain two hectares extra land if the family members of the tenure holder exceeds five in numbers. In this respect, it would be relevant to reproduce Section 5 (3) (b) of the Act, 1960 which reads as under:-.

"[subject to the provisions of sub-section (4), (5), (6) and (7)] the ceiling area for purposes of sub-section (1) shall be –

(b) in the case of a tenure-holder having family of more than five members, 7.30 hectares of irrigated land (including land held by other members of his family), besides, each of the members exceeding five and for each of his adult sons who are not themselves tenure-holders or who hold less than two hectares of irrigated land, two additional hectares of irrigated land or such additional land which together with the land held by such adult son aggregates to two hectares, subject to a maximum of six hectares of such additional land;

Explanation. - The expression 'adult son' in clauses (a) and (b) includes an adult son who is dead and has left surviving behind him minor sons or minor daughters (other than married daughters) who are not themselves tenure-holders or who hold land less than two hectares of irrigated land."

16. A reading of Section 5 (3) (b) of the Act, 1960 discloses that a tenure holder up to five members can retain 7.30 hectares of irrigated land. The aforesaid Section further specifies that besides the above, each of the members exceeding five and for each of his adult sons who are not themselves tenure holders or who hold less than two hectares of irrigated land, the tenure holder can retain two additional hectares of irrigated land subject to maximum six hectares of land. Reading of Section 5 (3) (b) of the Act, 1960 does not suggest that it differentiates or contemplates any distinction between the major and minor members of the family. The term 'family' has been defined in Section 3 (7) of the Act, 1960 which reads as under:

"family" in relation to a tenure-holder, means himself or herself and his wife or her husband, as the case may be (other than a judicially separated wife or husband), minor sons and minor daughters (other than married daughters)."

17. In such view of the fact, even if a member of the family is minor, he is entitled to retain two hectares of additional land, if the family member of a tenure holder exceeds five. The aforesaid view is supported by a Coordinate Bench of this Court in the case of Brij Narain Tewari (supra). The relevant extract of the said judgement of Brij Narain Tewari (supra) is reproduced herein-below:-

"The aforesaid provision clearly shows that if there are major sons in the family of a tenure holder, the tenure holder is entitled for additional land provided the major sons are themselves not tenure holders. Similarly, it also provides that even if there are no major sons, if the strength of members of the family is more than 5 then the tenure holder is entitled for additional land of two hectares for each member of the family. It is not in dispute in the present case that the string the of members of the family of the petitioner was eight after excluding the two major sons who were themselves held to be the tenure holders by the appellate authority. If strength of the members of the family was eight, it cannot be disputed that the petitioner was entitled for additional land of six hectares. The Prescribed Authority rightly granted this additional land, but the appellate authority erroneously upset that order. The reason for refusing to grant six hectares of land by the appellate authority is manifestly erroneous. Once it was established that the daughters aged three and five years were members of the family, it was not at all necessary to establish that they were not married. It is really very strange that the daughters of three and five years of age cannot be presumed to be unmarried. The State did not set up any such case, that they were married. The presumption drawn by the appellate authority that in the absence of evidence to establish that the two daughters were not married they have to be presumed to be married is wholly erroneous. Neither under the Hindu Law nor under the Child Marriage Restraint Act is permissible to marry a daughter of three to five years old. If anybody would have claimed that they were married, the burden lay upon him to establish that fact. When State of U. P. did not dispute this fact nor did it lead any evidence to that effect, the appellate authority was not right to draw such an inference.

The result, is, that this writ petition is allowed and both the judgments of the appellate authority (IV Additional District Judge, Deoria) dated 26-7-1975 and 2-2-1976, so far as they relate to the additional six hectares land, are hereby quashed. The Prescribed Authority is directed to recalculate to the surplus area after granting six hectares a land in addition as granted by the Prescribed Authority on account of the additional members of the family of the petitioner. In these circumstances of the case, the parties shall bear their own costs. The stay order shall stand discharged.

18. Now, coming to the question whether the family members are to be seen on the date of introduction of the amending act in the Ceiling Act or on the date of issuance of notice, the aforesaid question has also been answered by the Coordinate Bench of this Court in the case of Ram Chandra (supra). Paragraphs nos. 38, 39 & 40 of the judgement of Ram Chandra (supra) are reproduced herein-below:-

38. A careful perusal of the aforesaid provision clearly shows that if the member in the family exceeds five, the tenure holder is entitled for additional land provided that none of such member is a tenure holder in his/her own right. Similarly, it also provides that even if there are no adult sons, but if the strength of the members of the family is more than five, then the tenure holder is entitled to additional land of 2 hectares for each member of the family subject to a maximum of 6 hectares of additional land. It is not in dispute in the present case that the strength of family members of the petitioner was Eight at the time when notice was issued to him on

2.11.2000. The petitioner brought on record the High School pass Certificates of his three daughters and three sons. However, the Prescribed Authority and the Appellate Authority refused to grant benefit of additional land for each member of the family in addition to the five members as the petitioner did not produce relevant extract of the Family Register and on 8.6.1973 none of the petitioner's children was born. The logic applied by the Prescribed Authority and the Appellate Authority is incomprehensible. According to the respondents, the date of determination of family members has been taken as 8th June 1973, but the date of determination of ceiling area has been taken as the date when the Prescribed Authority was deciding the case.

39. In my considered opinion even though the petitioner's family consisted of only two members i.e. himself and his wife on 8th June 1973, at the time of issuance of notice under Section 9, on 2.11.2000, all of his six children had been born. Three of his daughters were married but there were at least three sons who were living with him. None of them has been shown to be an independent tenure holder having more than 2 hectares of land by the State respondents, in their Counter-affidavit. For the purpose of determination of ceiling area the petitioner was entitled to 2 additional hectares for at least one of his sons namely Shyam Srivastava who was major at the time.

40. Though this Court is not convinced with the argument of the learned counsel for the petitioner regarding the applicability of the cut-off date of 8.6.1973 for determining ceiling area on the basis of Section 29 of the Act and holds that the petitioner was independent tenure holder of eight plots of land ad-measuring 8.546 hectares in villages Magrapur and Baddupur in Tehsil Shahbad District Hardoi which in irrigated terms came out to be 7.968 hectares; the failure of the learned Court below to take into account the number of members of the petitioner's family while determining the permissible limit of land to be left with the petitioner cannot be countenanced.

19. In such view of the fact, the reason assigned by the appellate authority that the number of family members is to be seen on the date of introduction of the amending act and not on the date of notice under Section 10 (2) of the Act, 1960 is erroneous and cannot be sustained in law, and is accordingly set aside.

20. Thus, for the reasons given above, the order dated 23.11.1983 passed by the Prescribed Authority (Ceiling), Tehsil Puwaya, District Shahjahanpur and the order dated 16.01.1984 passed by the Additional District Judge, Shahjahanpur are hereby set aside.

21. Consequently, the writ petition is allowed with no order as to costs.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1209
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 28.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE AJIT KUMAR, J.

Writ-C No. 18388 of 2024

Kasturi Devi Sheetalaya Pvt. Ltd. & Anr. ...Petitioners

Versus

The Presiding Officer Debt Recovery Tribunal & Anr. ...Opp. Parties

Counsel for the Petitioners:

Ashok Pandey, Srestha Pandey

Counsel for the Opp. Parties:
Eshita Sand

A. Civil Law - SARFAESI Act, 2002 - Section 18 - Appeal to Appellate Tribunal - Scope – Any order made by the Debt Recovery Tribunal (DRT) on a miscellaneous application under Section 17 of the SARFAESI Act, 2002, is appealable under Section 18 - Section 17 does not impose a condition that the order must be final - The term "order" includes interlocutory orders, such as those rejecting a miscellaneous application - The Act authorizes the Tribunal to adjudicate miscellaneous applications, and any order passed on such an application, even if interlocutory, is considered an order under Section 17 and is amenable to appeal. (Para 9, 10)

B. SARFAESI Act, 2002 - Section 18 - Order passed on Miscellaneous Application - If a borrower moves an application asserting that an earlier securitization application was filed but, since the bank withdrew its proceedings and subsequently issued a fresh notice, the court fee already paid should be adjusted, such an application qualifies as a miscellaneous application - An objection raised by the Registrar of the Tribunal regarding the maintainability of the securitization application, and any order passed by the DRT on such a miscellaneous application, is considered an order under Section 17 of the SARFAESI Act, 2002, and is amenable to appeal - An order regarding court fees is appealable before the Appellate Tribunal under Section 18 of the Act. (Para 8, 10)

C. Civil Law - Constitution of India, 1950 - Art. 226 - A writ petition against an order passed by the Debt Recovery Tribunal (DRT) on a miscellaneous application is not maintainable due to the availability of an alternative remedy u/ s 18 of SARFAESI Act, 2002 (Para 11)

Dismissed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. PHR Invent Educational Society Vs UCO Bank & ors. (Civil Appeal No.- 4845 of 2024) dt 10.04.2024

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajit Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Sri Ashok Pandey, learned counsel for the petitioners and Sri Alok Rai and Ms. Eshita Sand, learned counsel for the contesting respondent bank.

2. The petitioners have invoked the extraordinary jurisdiction of this Court under Article 226 of the Constitution, seeking challenge to the order passed by the Debt Recovery Tribunal upon a miscellaneous application bearing No.- 40 of 2024 (Kasturi Devi Sheetalaya Pvt. Ltd. v. Bank of India) arising out of Securitization Application No.- 461 of 2022.

3. A preliminary objection has been raised by learned counsel for the contesting respondent- bank that the petitioner has an alternative efficacious remedy to prefer an appeal before the Debt Recovery Appellate Tribunal under Section 18 of Securitization and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002 (hereinafter referred to as 'SARFAESI Act, 2002') and this Court, therefore, may not interfere invoking extraordinary jurisdiction of this Court under Article 226 of the Constitution.

4. Learned counsel for the respondent has further relied upon a recent judgment of Supreme Court in the case of PHR Invent Educational Society v. UCO Bank and others (Civil Appeal No.- 4845 of 2024) decided on 10th April, 2024 in which Supreme Court has held that the High Court should not interfere in matters arising out of SARFAESI Act, 2002 when the Legislature has prescribed for special forum for the parties to exhaust remedy therein.

5. Meeting the preliminary objections, learned counsel for the petitioner submits that Section 18 of SARFAESI Act, 2002, as it stood originally came to be amended by amending Act No.- 30 of 2004 putting a rider that an appeal would lie against an order passed under Section 17 of the SARFAESI Act, 2002. He submits that an order passed on miscellaneous application regarding the court fee would not amount to an order passed under Section 17 of SARFAESI Act, 2002. He would submit that the provisions as contained under Section 17 of the SARFAESI Act, 2002, lays down a detailed procedure regarding recovery of the secured debts and it is after putting aggrieved person to notice and inviting objections under Sections 13(4) that recourse is taken to recover the secured assets by coercive measures. Section 17 of the SARFAESI Act, 2002 prescribed power of the Debt Recovery Tribunal to entertain an application filed at the instance of borrower or defaulter against the measures taken by the bank to secure debts under Section 13. Section 17 (1), (2), (3), (5) and (7) as are relevant for the purpose of the case are reproduced hereunder:

"17. Application against measures to recover secured debts.—(1) Any person (including borrower), aggrieved by any of the measures referred to in sub-section (4) of section 13 taken by the secured creditor or his authorized officer under this Chapter,1[may make an application along with such fee, as may be prescribed, to the Debts Recovery Tribunal having jurisdiction in the matter within forty five days from the date on which such measure had been taken:

Provided that different fees may be prescribed for making the application by the borrower and the person other than the borrower.

Explanation.—For the removal of doubts, it is hereby declared that the communication of the reasons to the borrower by the secured creditor for not having accepted his representation or objection or the likely action of the secured creditor at the stage of communication of reasons to the borrower shall not entitle the person (including borrower) to make an application to the Debts Recovery Tribunal under this sub-section (1) of section 17.)

(1A) An application under sub-section (1) shall be filed before the Debts Recovery Tribunal within the local limits of whose jurisdiction-

(a) the cause of action, wholly or in part, arises;

(b) where the secured asset is located; or

(c) the branch or any other office of a bank or financial institution is maintaining an account in which debt claimed is outstanding for the time being.

(2) The Debts Recovery Tribunal shall consider whether any of the measures referred to in sub-section (4) of section 13 taken by the secured creditor for enforcement of security are in accordance with the provisions of this Act and the rules made thereunder.

(3) If, the Debts Recovery Tribunal, after examining the facts and circumstances of the case and evidence produced by the parties, comes to the conclusion that any of the measures referred to in sub-section (4) of section 13, taken by the secured creditor are not in accordance with the provisions of this Act and the rules made thereunder, and require restoration of the management or restoration of possession, of the secured assets to the borrower or other aggrieved person, it may, by order,—

(a) declare the recourse to any one or more measures referred to in sub-section

(4) of section 13 taken by the secured creditor as invalid; and

(b) restore the possession of secured assets or management of secured assets to the borrower or such other aggrieved person, who has made an application under sub-section (1), as the case may be; and

(c) pass such other direction as it may consider appropriate and necessary in relation to any of the recourse taken by the secured creditor under sub-section (4) of section 13.

(4)...

(5) Any application made under sub-section (1) shall be dealt with by the Debts Recovery Tribunal as expeditiously as possible and disposed of within sixty days from the date of such application: Provided that the Debts Recovery Tribunal may, from time to time, extend the said period for reasons to be recorded in writing, so, however, that the total period of pendency of the application with the Debts Recovery Tribunal, shall not exceed four months from the date of making of such application made under sub-section (1).

(6) ...

(7) Save as otherwise provided in this Act, the Debts Recovery Tribunal shall, as far as may be, dispose of the application in accordance with the provisions of the Recovery of Debts Due to Banks and Financial Institutions Act, 1993 (51 of 1993) and the rules made thereunder."

6. From a bare reading of the aforesaid provisions it is clear that an application by a aggrieved person including the borrower may be made to the Tribunal for appropriate relief against the measures taken by the bank to recover the secured debts. The very power to entertain an application, therefore, would entail power to entertain any miscellaneous application as well because under Section 1(a) as quoted above gives power to the Tribunal to look into the cause of action wholly or in part. So in order to maintain an application as a competent application the Tribunal vested with power to look into all sorts of objections that may be raised either by the applicant or by the bank. This substantive provision has been given under Section 47 which includes the right to hear the miscellaneous application as well and any order passed on such miscellaneous application would, therefore, amount to an order passed under Section 17, may be interlocutory in nature. Rule 13 (1) of the Security Interest (Enforcement) Rules Act, 2002 is also worth mentioning here. Rule 13 of the Security Interest (Enforcement) Rules Act, 2002 is reproduced hereunder:

"13. Fees for applications and appeals under sections 17 and 18 of the Act*.- (1) Every application under sub-section (1) of section 17 the Appellate Tribunal under sub-section or an appeal to (1) of section 18 shall be accompanied by a fee provided in the sub-rule (2) and such fee may be remitted through a crossed demand draft drawn on a bank or Indian Postal Order in favour of the Registrar of the Tribunal or the Court as the case may be, payable at the place where the Tribunal or the Court is situated."*

7. Thus, for an application to be a competent application under Section 17 of SARFAESI Act, 2002 and an appeal to be competent under Section 18 of SARFAESI Act, 2002. It is provided to be accompanied by the requisite court fee as given under Sub-Rule 2 which is a chart provided therein.

8. If the borrower makes an application that earlier securitization application was moved but since the bank withdrew its proceedings to recover the secured debts at that stage and subsequently issued a fresh notice and hence the court fee already paid should be taken into consideration, would amount to a miscellaneous application. Putting an objection by the Registrar of Tribunal upon the maintainability of the securitization application and any order passed thereupon by the Debt Recovery Tribunal upon any miscellaneous application shall be taken to be an order within the meaning of Section 17 of SARFAESI Act, 2002 read with Rule 13 of the Rules quoted above. Section 18 of the SARFAESI Act, 2002 is also reproduced hereunder:

"18. Appeal to Appellate Tribunal*.—(1) Any person aggrieved, by any order made by the Debts Recovery Tribunal under section 17, may prefer an appeal along with such fee, as may be prescribed to an Appellate Tribunal within thirty days from the date of receipt of the order of Debts Recovery Tribunal.*

Provided that different fees may be prescribed for filing an appeal by the borrower or by the person other than the borrower:

Provided further that no appeal shall be entertained unless the borrower has deposited with the Appellate Tribunal fifty per cent. of the amount of debt due from him, as claimed by the secured creditors or determined by the Debts Recovery Tribunal, whichever is less:

Provided also that the Appellate Tribunal may, for the reasons to be recorded in writing, reduce the amount to not less than twenty-five per cent. of debt referred to in the second proviso.]

(2) Save as otherwise provided in this Act, the Appellate Tribunal shall, as far as may be, dispose of the appeal in accordance with the provisions of the Recovery of Debts Due to Banks and Financial Institutions Act, 1993 (51 of 1993) and rules made thereunder."

9. From bare reading of the aforesaid provisions it is true that it comes out very clearly that any order made by Debt Recovery Tribunal is appealable but of course passed under Section 17 of SARFAESI Act, 2002. The section does not prescribe or put a rider that order should be a final order.

10. Thus, every order would include even interlocutory order rejecting a miscellaneous application. Hence the order passed by the Debt Recovery Tribunal upon the miscellaneous application filed by the petitioner impugned herein this petition is amenable to the appellate forum prescribed under Section 18 of the SARFAESI Act, 2002.

11. Besides above, in a recent judgment cited before this Court, Supreme Court has very categorically held that High Court should refrain from entertaining petitions invoking powers under Article 226 of the Constitution when in the special Act like Recovery of Debts and Bankruptcy Act, 1993 Act and SARFAESI Act, 2002 prescribed for statutory remedies. These being the special act, therefore, the parties should be left to invoke remedy provided therein first. Though the Supreme Court has held that there are certain exceptions enumerated in paragraph 29 of the judgment, in which power can be invoked under Article 226 of the Constitution but where the action has been taken or the order has been passed, in compliance of the provisions of natural justice and the case does not fall under the exceptional clauses, the High Court should refrain from entertaining such petitions. Vide paragraphs 29, 30, 31, 32 & 33 of the judgment the Supreme Court held held thus:

"29. It could thus clearly be seen that the Court has carved out certain exceptions when a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution could be entertained in spite of availability of an alternative remedy. Some of them are thus:

(i) where the statutory authority has not acted in accordance with the provisions of the enactment in question;

(ii) it has acted in defiance of the fundamental principles of judicial procedure;

(iii) it has resorted to invoke the provisions which are repealed; and

(iv) when an order has been passed in total violation of the principles of natural justice.

30. It has however been clarified that the High Court will not entertain a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution if an effective alternative remedy is available to the aggrieved person or the statute under which the action complained of has been taken itself contains a mechanism for redressal of grievance.

31. Undisputedly, the present case would not come under any of the exceptions as carved out by this Court in the case of Chhabil Dass Agarwal (supra).

32. We are therefore of the considered view that the High Court has grossly erred in entertaining and allowing the petition under Article 226 of the Constitution.

33. While dismissing the writ petition, we will have to remind the High Courts of the following words of this Court in the case of Satyawati Tondon (supra) since we have come across various matters wherein the High Courts have been entertaining petitions arising out of the DRT Act and the SARFAESI Act in spite of availability of an effective alternative remedy:

"55. It is a matter of serious concern that despite repeated pronouncement of this Court, the High Courts continue to ignore the availability of statutory remedies under the DRT Act and the SARFAESI Act and exercise jurisdiction under Article 226 for passing orders which have serious adverse impact on the right of banks and other financial institutions to recover their dues. We hope and trust that in future the High Courts will exercise their discretion in such matters with greater caution, care and circumspection."

(Emphasis added)

12. The case in hand also does not fall in the exception clauses.

13. In view of the above, preliminary objection raised by the learned counsel for the contesting respondent – bank is upheld.

14. The petition thus lacks merit and is, accordingly dismissed on the ground of alternative remedy.

15. Liberty rests with the petitioner to avail the alternative remedy, if so advised.

16. Subject to the aforesaid liberty, this petition is dismissed and is, accordingly, consigned to records.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1214
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 27.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DINESH PATHAK, J.

Writ-C No. 27653 of 2023

Shahnawaj Ali ...Petitioner
Versus
Election Tribunal D.J. Muzaffarnagar & Ors. ...Opp. Parties

Counsel for the Petitioner:

Ravi Ananad Agarwal, Shreya Gupta

Counsel for the Opp. Parties:
Vivek Kumar Singh

Civil Law - U.P. Municipalities Act, 1916 - Section20 - Prescribed Period of Limitation for Election Petition – Presentation, Admission, and Registration of Election Petition – Applicability of Limitation Act and General Rules - Period of Limitation: As per Section 20 of the Act, an election petition should be presented "within 30 days" after the result of the election is announced by the Returning Officer. The phrase "within 30 days" starts from the date when the result is announced - Meaning of "Presented": The word "presented" in the context of an election petition conveys the act of giving, filing, or delivering the petition. Presentation is completed at the moment the petition is given or delivered to the competent authority - General Clauses Act, Section 10: If the limitation period expires during a vacation, the first opening day after the vacation is considered the last day of limitation - General Rules (Civil), 1957, Rules 13 & 32: During the vacation period, except with the consent of parties, no suit or case shall be heard on declared holidays - Limitation Act: 1916 Act does not provide specific provisions for the applicability of Limitation Act except Section 12(2) in view of the Proviso to Section 23 of 1916 Act - Order IV, CPC: According to Rule 1, every suit is instituted by presenting a plaint to the Court. Rule 2 requires the Court to register the particulars of every suit in a register. Admission and registration of a plaint are distinct from its presentation and are subsequent events subject to removal of defects (Para 15, 16)

Civil Law - U.P. Municipalities Act, 1916 - result of the election was declared on 13.05.2023 - Prescribed period of limitation for filing the election petition was up to 12.06.2023 - Respondent filed the election petition on 09.06.2023, along with an application under Rule 13 of the General Rules (Civil), 1957, seeking permission to file the petition during the vacation period - Application for leave was rejected due to opposition by the returned candidate - A second attempt was made on the opening day after vacation, i.e., 01.07.2023, but permission was again not granted due to the petitioner's absence - Ultimately, the election petition was admitted and registered on 03.07.2023 - Issue - Whether the election petition filed by the respondent was within the prescribed period of limitation ? - Held - respondent demonstrated bona fides by making sincere attempts to file the election petition within the prescribed period of limitation (i.e., 30 days from the declaration of results) - Petition was not admitted and registered immediately only due to procedural delays (Para 19)

Dismissed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Sumitra Devi Vs Special Judge/Additional District & Sessions Judge, E.C. Act, Hardoi & ors. dt 12.6.2020

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dinesh Pathak, J.)

1. Heard Ms. Shreya Gupta, learned counsel for the petitioner, Shri Vivek Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the respondent no.2 and perused the record on board.

2. Petitioner has invoked the extraordinary jurisdiction of this Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India assailing the order dated 03.7.2023 passed by District Judge, Muzaffarnagar whereby election petition filed on behalf of respondent No.2 under section 20 of the U.P. Municipalities Act, 1916 (in brevity 'Act, 1916'.) has been admitted and ordered to be registered as well as, simultaneously, notices were ordered to be issued to the defendant Nos. 2 to 11.

3. Facts culled out from the record are that election of Nagar Palika Parishad, Khatauli, District Muzaffarnagar was held on 04.5.2023 in pursuance of the notification promulgated on 09.4.2023. The present petitioner has been declared successful as President of Nagar Palika Parishad. Having been aggrieved with the result of the election declared on 13.5.2023, respondent No. 2 has filed an election petition on 09.06.2023 under Sections 19 and 20 of Act, 1916. Aforesaid election petition was filed during summer vacation along with an application under Rule 13 of General Rules (Civil), 1957 (in brevity 'Rules, 1957') with a prayer to entertain the election petition. Said application was rejected, vide order dated 09.6.2023, and next date fixed viz. 02.07.2023 for hearing on admission of the election petition. On the first opening day, after summer vacation, in the month of July i.e. 01.7.2023, the election petitioner has moved miscellaneous application to entertain and register the election petition inasmuch as 01.07.2023 was the last date for the purpose of limitation to register the same and 02.07.2023, already fixed in the matter, was Sunday. Learned District Judge has rejected said miscellaneous application on the same day i.e. 01.7.2023 and fixed next date on 3.7.2023 for registration of the election petition. On the next date fixed i.e. 3.7.2023, election petition has been admitted and ordered to be registered, which is under challenge before this Court.

4. Learned Counsel for the petitioner, while assailing the order impugned dated 03.7.2023, has advanced two fold submissions; first, regarding the delay in filing the election petition on the ground that under section 20 of the Act, 1916 prescribed period of limitation is only 30 days since the date of result announced. However, in the instant matter, election petition has been filed and entertained on 03.7.2023, therefore, election petition was filed at belated stage. She has laid emphasis on Section 10 of General Clauses Act, 1963 and tried to submit that first opening day i.e. 01.7.2023 was the last date of limitation to entertain the election petition under section 20 of Act, 1916. However, election petition has been filed and entertained on 03.7.2023, thus, election petition was time barred. It is further submitted that law relating to the election petition is a special law, therefore, same may strictly be adhered to without any relaxation or laxity at the part of any party. The prescribed period of limitation as enunciated under Section 20 of the Act, 1916 is mandatory in nature. Therefore, court cannot extend the prescribed period of limitation for filing the election petition on its own wisdom unless there is a provision under the law to condone such delay. It is next submitted that previously the election petition was refused to be registered twice vide orders dated 09.6.2023 and 01.7.2023 respectively, however, same have not been assailed before any competent court, therefore, aforesaid orders became final between the parties qua registering and admitting an election petition filed by respondent No 2.

5. Learned counsel for the petitioner, in her second submission, has questioned maintainability of the election petition on two grounds; first, non-joinder of the State as a defendant in the election petition inasmuch as three State officers are arrayed as defendants No.9 to 11 in the cause title of the election petition, however, State has not been impleaded through authority competent and, second ground taken, qua method to present the election petition, with a plea, that same was not presented by the election petitioner himself rather it was presented through counsel, therefore, same is filed in violation of the provisions as enunciated under Section 20 of the Act, 1916. In support of her submission, learned counsel for the petitioner has cited following judgments:-

1. Sumitra Devi Vs. Special Judge/Additional District and Sessions Judge, E.C. Act, Hardoi and others decided by this Court on 12.6.2020.

2. Mahendra Vs. State of Up and others, 2021 0 Supreme (All) 474

3. Akhilesh (Dr. Akhilesh Kumar Dwivedi Vs. Shri Ramesh Chand), Neutral Citation 2023: AHC: 157150

4. Ansar Ahmad Vs. Sub-Divisional Officer, kairana and others, AIR 1998 Allahabad 341.

5. Smt. Sharda Devi Vs. State of UP through Secretary and others Neutral Citation 2012: AHC: 158098.

6. Reji Thomas and others Vs. The State of Kerala and others, 2018 0 AIR (SC) 2236.

7. Ram Nath Priyadarshi Suman Vs. The Chief Election Commissioner or India and three others, Neutral Citation No. 2021:AHC:71133

8. Smt. Phool Kumar Vs. Sub-division Officer, Tehisl Maholi District Sitapur and others in Misc. Single No. 7620 of 2020 decided on 9.11.2020

9. Mohan Lal and another Vs. State of UP through Secretary in Election Petition No. 1 of 2014 decided on 18.4.2014.

10. Smt. Sushma Vs. Sub-Divisional Magistrate, Kairana and 23 others, Neutral Citation No. 2017:AHC:77353.

11. Viresh Kumar Tiwari Vs. Additional District Judge and others, Neutral Citation No. 2013:AHC:177152.

12. G.V. Sreerama Reddy and another Vs. Returning Officer and others in Civil Appeal No. 6269 of 2008 decided on 11.8.2009.

6. Per contra, learned counsel for the private respondent No.2 (election petitioner) has contended that the case was presented well within time on 09.06.2023 as required under Section 20(1) of the Act, 1916, however, hearing of the case has been deferred, after vacations, for dated 02.07.2024. Apart from that, vide order dated 01.07.2023, presence of the election petitioner has been acknowledged and the next date fixed on 03.07.2023 for registration of plaint after hearing the opposite party no.1 in the election petition (petitioner herein). Application under Rule 13 of the Rules, 1957 has been numbered as Misc. Case No.195 of 2023 whereby it is evident that election petition was presented within time. Learned counsel for the respondent No. 2 has tried to submit that presentation was done well within time and normal date was fixed for admission and registration of the plaint, therefore, election petition cannot be treated to be filed beyond prescribed period of limitation. It is further contended that other submissions, as advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner, are still to be adjudicated upon by the election tribunal, thus, the same cannot be adjudicated directly before this Court. The instant writ petition is liable to be dismissed being misconceived and devoid on merits.

7. In rejoinder, learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the District Judge has passed the order dated 09.06.2023, 01.07.2023 and 03.07.2023 in a very perfunctory manner by using the words 'Panjikrit' and 'Angikrit' etc. which is not sustainable in the eyes of law. Plea of equity cannot be entertained in the matter of election petition inasmuch as election law is an special provision to entertain the election petition. It is next submitted that the election petition was filed on 03.07.2023 and registered on 04.07.2023, which is evident from Annexure-SA-1 to the Supplement

Affidavit filed by the petitioner. It is next submitted that owing to non-joinder of State of U.P., who is a necessary party under Section 79 and 80 C.P.C., as well as proviso to Order 1 Rule 9 C.P.C., election petition filed on behalf of respondent no.2 is incompetent in the eyes of law.

8. Having considered the rival submissions advanced by learned counsel for the parties and perusal of record it is manifested that instant writ petition is arising out of election petition filed under Section 20 of the Act, 1916. The returned candidate (petitioner herein) has questioned the election petition filed on behalf of respondent no.2 precisely on two grounds, as advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner, first; being barred by time and second; being not maintainable on the ground of non-joinder of the State Government and election petition has not been presented personally by the election petitioner. Order impugned dated 03.07.2023 evince that the learned District Judge (Election Tribunal) has simply admitted the election petition filed on behalf of respondent no.2 and issued a direction to register the same. Simultaneously, notices were ordered to be issued to other defendants in the election petition except defendant no.1 (petitioner herein).

9. This Court is skeptical of first point advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner qua filing of election petition beyond prescribed period of limitation. The provision for filing the election petition assailing the election of members of Zila Panchayat is enunciated under Section 20 of the Act, 1916. Having considered the point involved in the instant writ petition, scope of discussing Section 20 of the Act, 1916 lies in narrow compass except for the purposes of limitation to file the election petition. For ready reference, relevant part of Section 20(1) of the Act, 1916 is quoted herein below :-

"20. Form and presentation of election petitions.-(1) An election petition shall be presented within 30 days after the day of which the result of the election sought to be questioned is announced by the Returning Officer, and shall specify the ground or grounds on which the election of the respondent is questioned and shall contain a concise statement of the material facts on which the petitioner relies and set forth of the full particulars of any corrupt practices that the petitioner alleges, including as full a statement as possible of the names of the parties alleged to have committed such corrupt practices and the dates and place of the commission of each such practice."

10. As per Section 20, as mentioned above, election petition should be presented within 30 days after the date of which the result of election sought to be questioned is announced by the returning officer. I am convinced with the submissions as raised by learned counsel for the petitioner that election law should be interpreted strictly, particularly, with regard to the prescribed period of limitation for the purposes of entertaining the election petition inasmuch as there is no provision qua applicability of the Limitation Act, except Section 12 (2) of the Limitation Act as enunciated under Proviso to Section 23 of the Act, 1916. Therefore, the phrase ''within 30 days'' is relevant which starts from the date when result is announced by the returning officer. It is admitted to both the parties, and also a matter of record, that result of election for the post of President, Nagar Palika Parishad, Khatauli was declared on 13.05.2023, therefore, limitation for filing the election petition available to respondent no.2 was up to 12.06.2023. However, intending to avoid any delay, respondent no.2 has filed the election petition on 09.06.2023. Owing to summer vacations in the month of June, respondent no.2 has presented the election petition along with an application under Rule 13 of the Rules, 1957 for obtaining permission to file the election petition during vacation period. The Election Tribunal, owing to oppose made on behalf of the returned candidate, has rejected the application to leave for filing the election petition. Thereafter, second attempt was made by respondent no.2 on 01.07.2023, however, again permission has not been granted for want of presence of the petitioner and, ultimately, vide order impugned dated 03.07.2023, election petition was admitted and ordered to be registered.

11. Normally, as per law, suit is presented during the regular court hours and on the court working days. The exact time and procedure for presenting a suit may vary depending on the jurisdiction and the specific rules and practices of the court where the suit is being filed. For the purposes of filing of a suit during the vacation period, the provisions as enunciated under Rule 13 and 32 of the Rules, 1957 is required to be discussed, which are quoted herein below :-

"13. Work on holidays. Except with the consent of parties, no suit, case, or appeal shall be heard on a day declared holidays for the subordinate courts:

Provided that on a day declared holiday for the subordinate Courts, a court shall not refuse to do any act or make any order urgently required or which may with propriety be done or made out of Court.

32. Time for presenting applications.-Except as otherwise provided by these rules, applications and petitions which can be presented to the Munsarim of a Court shall be received on any day other than an authorized holiday between 10.30 a.m. and such hour as may be fixed by the Court; provided that an application or petition presented after such hour and before 4 p.m. may be received on the ground, if any, of limitation or other urgent reason. Presiding Officers when accepting plaints or applications after Court hours will note on such papers the time of their presentation."

12. Rule 32 denotes that applications and petitions/plaints shall be received by Munsarim of the court on any day other than an authorized holiday between 10:30 a.m. and such hours as may be fixed by the court. It further denotes that application or petition can be presented and received even after such hours and before 4:00 p.m. on the ground of limitation or other urgent reasons. However, the Presiding Officer has been entrusted duty to make a note on application or petition/plaint the timing of presentation, in case, he receives such documents after the prescribed hours. The phrase used in Rule 32 i.e. "except as otherwise provided by these rules" indicates the exceptional provision in Rules, 1957 wherein plaint/case/appeal can be presented even during authorized holiday. The provision as enunciated under Rule 13 of Rules, 1957 is an exception to Rule 32, which denotes that generally no suit, case or appeal shall be heard on the declared holiday for the subordinate court except with consent of parties, however, court shall not refuse to do any act or make any order urgently required or which may with propriety be done or made out of court.

13. Thus, it is evident that the petitioner has attempted to present the election petition within 30 days of declaration of election result, however, same has been got registered on 04.07.2023 in pursuance of the order impugned dated 03.07.2023. In support of her submissions, learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance on the Full Bench decision of this Court in the case of Sumitra Devi vs. Special Judge/Additional District & Sessions Judge & Others (Misc. Single No.9920 of 2018 decided on 12.06.2020). In the cited judgment, provisions to file election petition under Section 12-C of the U.P. Panchayat Raj Act, 1947 (in brevity 'Act, 1947') has been examined by the Full Bench of this Court with respect to the question referred before him, which are quoted herein below :-

"1. Whether presentation of an election petition by the election petitioner personally is a mandatory requirement in view of Sub-section 3 of Section 12 C(1) of the Act, 1947 and Rule 3(1) of the Rules, 1994 and whether it's non-compliance is fatal or it would merely be ari improper presentation, a curable defect?

2. Whether the decision of the Single Judge Bench of this Court in the case of Viresh Kumar Tiwari (supra) lays down the law correctly with regard to the question framed at serial no. 1 or it is the division Bench judgment in the case Lal Bahadur Singh (supra) and the subsequent Single Bench judgment in the case of Urmila (supra) which lay down the law correctly?"

14. Learned counsel for the petitioner further submits that provision of Section 12-C of the Act, 1947 is pari materia to the provisions of Section 20 of the Act, 1916, therefore, the ratio decided by the Full Bench shall be made applicable as well in the facts and circumstances of the present case. I am not swayed by this submission inasmuch as point of discussion in the instant writ petition is very limited, to wit, as to when election petition is trated to be "presented". Question referred in the cited case with regard to the method/procedure for filing an election petition is not much relevant to decide the instant writ petition, at this stage. However I would like to rely on Full Bench judgment to explain the phrase ''presentation''.

15. Section 20 of the Act, 1916 clearly denotes that election petition shall be presented within 30 days. Thus, the phrase ''presented'' employed under Section 20 of the Act, 1916 has got graver importance for the purposes of deciding the limitation under Section 20 the Act, 1916. At page 9 of the judgment in the case of Sumitra Devi (supra), the Full Bench of this Court has expounded as under :-

"However, the words "presented by any candidate' are significant. The word "presented' is derived from the word "present'. It conveys an act of presentation. One of the meaning assigned in the Chamber's dictionary (1993 Edition) to the word 'present', which appears apposite in the context of Section 12-C(3), is, to give, or furnish, specially formally or ceremonially; to deliver, convey or handover. Thus, the word 'presented' conveys an act of giving, filing or delivering, in the case of an election petition. The word "present' has been defined by the Oxford English Dictionary (Second Edition, 2014) to mean, the act of giving something to somebody especially at a formal ceremony."

16. Thus, it is explicit that presentation of the plaint (election petition) is completed at that very moment, while it was given/produced/furnished/delivered before the authority competent in the manner as prescribed by the Act, 1916. It would not be out of place to mention that for the purposes of deciding the election petition, the procedure as provided in C.P.C. (Act V of 1998) has been made applicable by virtue of Section 23 of the Act, 1916 which denotes that except so far as may be otherwise provided by this Act or by Rule, the procedure provided in the C.P.C. in regard to suits, shall, so far as it is not inconsistent with this Act or any Rule and so far as it can be made applicable, be followed in the hearing of the election petitions. While applying the provisions of C.P.C., Section 23 of Act, 1916 denotes some provisos wherein certain provisions has been mentioned to be followed on certain events. To better explain the phrases viz "presentation", "admission" and "registration" of the suit, reference of Section 26 C.P.C. and Order IV C.P.C. would not be out of place. For ready reference, Section 26 C.P.C. and Order IV C.P.C. is quoted herein below :-

"Section 26. Institution of suits.-(1) Every suit shall be instituted by the presentation of a plaint or in such other manner as may be prescribed.

(2) In every plaint, facts shall be proved by affidavit.

Order IV

1. Suits to be commenced by plaint.—(1) Every suit shall be instituted by presenting a plaint [in duplicate] to the Court or such officer as it appoints in this behalf.

(2) Every plaint shall comply with the rules contained in Orders VI and VII, so far as they are applicable

(3) The plaint shall not be deemed to be duly instituted unless it complies with the requirements specified in sub-rules (1) and (2).

2. Register of suits. The Court shall cause the particulars of every suit to be entered in a book to be kept for the purpose and called the register of civil suits. Such entries shall be numbered in every year according to the order in which the plaints are admitted."

17. Section 26 C.P.C. denotes that by way of "presentation of a plaint" or in such other manner as may be prescribed, every suit shall be treated to be instituted. Likewise order IV C.P.C. denotes that "presenting a plaint" [in duplicate] to the court or such officer as it appoints in this behalf, shall be treated as institution of a suit. In the context of "election petition" filed in Act, 1916, "suit" and "institution" may have different connotation as envisages in C.P.C., however, section 20 of Act, 1916 unequivocally enunciates that "election petition shall be presented". Order IV C.P.C. can easily be explained in two parts. Rule 1 denotes about instituting the suit through presenting a plaint and Rule 2 denotes the admission/registration of suit. Mere presentation of the plaint does not amount its admission to register of the suit. After presenting the plaint, it is to be scrutinized by the Munsarim of the court, if there is any defect in submitting the plaint, the plaintiff is required to remove the defect which is a procedural part before registration, for the purposes of competence of the plaint to be entered in the register of the suits. It would not be befitting to discuss the remaining contents of Order IV C.P.C., which relates to competence of the suit, inasmuch as in the matter in hands only presentation of the plaint is to be considered for the purposes of reckoning the limitation. Rule 2 of Order IV C.P.C. abundantly make it clear that after presenting the plaint there is a provision where court shall cause the particulars of every suit to be entered in a book to be kept for the purposes and called the register of civil suit. Such entry shall be numbered in every year according to the order in which plaints are admitted. Thus, admission of the plaint and its registration as per satisfaction of the court concerned, subject to removal of defect, if any, is a distinct and subsequent event to the presentation of the plaint as enunciated under Rule 1 of Order IV C.P.C.

18. Having considered the provisions, as discussed above, in the given circumstances of the present case, it is evident that the election petition was filed/presented well within time on 09.06.23, to wit, within 30 days from the date of declaration of the result, however, the election petition could not be admitted and registered inasmuch as it was filed during the summer vacation and opposite party in the election petition (petitioner herein), who had filed caveat application, has not given his consent to entertain the aforesaid election petition as required under the provisions enunciated under Rule 13 of Rules, Rules,1957. As per Rule 13 of Rules, 1957, consent of the other party is mandatory for the purposes to entertain the suit/election petition during holidays/vacations. Thus, in absence of the consent, learned District Judge has not accorded leave for hearing the election petition. On the said date i.e. on 09.6.2023, learned Election Tribunal has deferred the hearing on admission for 02.7.2023. Having considered closing day on 02.7.2023, being Sunday, and the 01.07.2023 as a last day for the purposes of limitation, respondent no.2 has moved the miscellaneous application to prepone the hearing of election petition on admission, however, learned Election Tribunal has refused to accept the application for want of presence of the caveator (petitioner herein) and fixed 03.07.2023 as a day for hearing on admission. It is evident that respondent no. 2 has shown his bona fide conduct in taking sincere attempt to file/present the election petition well within prescribed period of limitation i.e. 30 days from the date of declaration of result. Under section 10 of the General Clauses Act, as cited by learned counsel for the petitioner, first opening day after vacation, in case limitation expires during vacation, shall be considered last day of limitation. Respondent no. 2 was fair enough in presenting plaint/election petition second time before the Election Tribunal on 01.07.2023 which was the first opening day just after summer vacations. The learned Election Tribunal, vide order dated 01.07.2023, has returned categorical finding that election petition will be registered after hearing defendant no.1 (petitioner herein).

19. Thus, the election petition could neither be admitted nor registered for want of hearing accorded to the returned candidate (petitioner herein). While passing the order impugned dated 03.07.2023, Election Tribunal has considered this aspect of the matter and returned definite finding that election petition was filed well within the prescribed period of limitation i.e. 30 days and there is no such case where election petition filed on behalf of the plaintiff has been returned to him, rather hearing on admission was deferred on 02.07.2023. It is further observed that, owing to this event, plaintiff has moved a miscellaneous application on 1.7.2023 to admit and register the election petition on the same day, however, admission and registration of the election petition has been deferred for want of presence of defendant no.1 (petitioner herein). Finding returned by learned Election Tribunal as mentioned above has not been refuted by petitioner in the instant writ petition. No specific plea has been taken by the petitioner that election petition was never presented before the Election Tribunal on 9.6.2023 or 1.7.2023. Conversely, point of limitation as raised by counsel for the petitioner pales into insignificance in the light of the observation made by Election Tribunal, as mentioned above, in its order dated 03.07.2023. Learned Election Tribunal, in its order impugned, has tried as well to make out a difference between the filing and admission of the suit, as such, returned its finding that election petition was filed/presented within 30 days from the date of announcement of result, however, only admission of the election petition has been deferred which could be done even at later stage. Case law cited by the counsel for petitioner as mentioned above are not fully applicable in the instant matter. Facts and circumstances of all the cited cases are quite distinguishable in the given circumstances of the present case. All the judgments are relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioner keeping in mind that delay was caused in filing the election petition after prescribed period of limitation. In the light of the facts, as discussed in preceding paragraphs, that no delay caused in presenting the election petition by respondent no.2 from the date of declaration of result, the cited case, placed reliance by the counsel for the petitioner, has got no relevance. Learned counsel for the petitioner has illegally assumed the condonation of delay allegedly caused in filing the election petition after prescribed period of limitation, whereas, no such event occur in the given circumstances of the present case wherein election petition has been filed/presented at belated stage or delay has indirectly been condoned by learned Election Tribunal. Conversely, learned Election Tribunal has returned categorical finding that election petition was filed on 9.6.2023 i.e. well within prescribed period of limitation. Thus, there was no occasion for respondent No. 2 to challenge the order dated 09.06.2023 and 01.07.2023 passed by election tribunals, whereby hearing of said election petition on admission was deferred. On the other hand, even assuming for the sake of argument, as advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner, that election petition was filed belated on 03.07.2023 and registered on 04.07.2023, respondent No. 2 (election petitioner) can't be punished for the act of court competent who has deferred the admission and registration of election petition presented within time, as discussed above.

20. So far as the second submission qua maintainability of the election petition on two grounds, as advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner, is concerned, I am of the considered view that it would not be befitting to address these points at this juncture inasmuch as same has to be raised at the first instance before the Election Tribunal. After hearing both the parties and appraising the evidence adduced by them, the Election Tribunal shall decide such points on its own merits. Directly entertaining the question qua non maintainability of the election petition, without being addressed on this point by the court at the first instance, would not be appropriate. The petitioner (returned candidate) has still an opportunity to raise these objections in his written statement, which can more appropriately be addressed by the Election Tribunal.

21. In this conspectus, as above, in my considered opinion, respondent no.2 has presented election petition well within the prescribed period of limitation as enunciated under section 20 of the Act, 1916. There is no apparent delay in filing the election petition to annul the same under section 22 of Act, 1916 which denotes that not complying the provisions under section 20 of the Act, 1916 would be resulted into rejection of election petition. Finding returned by learned Election Tribunal has not specifically been denied in the writ petition. Remaining point advanced by the learned counsel for the petitioner is still open to be raised before the Election Tribunal. There is no justifiable ground to entertain the instant writ petition and interfere in the order impugned dated 03.07.2023 passed by Learned District Judge (Election Tribunal), which is hereby affirmed. There is no illegality, perversity or irregularity in the order under challenge so as to warrant the indulgence of this Court in exercise of its extraordinary jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. There is nothing on the record to demonstrate as to how the present petitioner is prejudiced, or if there is any likelihood of causing miscarriage of justice to the petitioner, owing to the order under challenge.

22. Resultantly, instant writ petition, being misconceived and devoid of merits, is dismissed with no order as to cost.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1224
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 02.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE AJIT KUMAR, J.

Matter Under Article 227 No. 1073 of 2024

Satish Chandra Mishra ...Petitioner
Versus
Shri Gopal Mandir Virajman Thakur Ji Maharaj & Radha Ji ...Respondent

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Puneet Sahai Bisaria

Counsel for the Respondent:
Neera Yadav, Mayank Sinha

Civil Law – Provincial Small Causes Court Act, 1887 – Section 23 – Petitioner, a tenant in suit property, for his ejectment, Small Cause Suit has been instituted by respondent, who claimed to be Trust managing the affairs of Temple –Petitioner filed application u/s 23 for return of plaint, on the ground that there was serious title dispute between contesting respondent and Naresh Chandra Agarwal who claimed himself to be Shebait of Temple, instituted a regular suit seeking permanent prohibitory injunction – Application rejected – Revision filed, also dismissed – Impugned order – Held, where a party has instituted a suit for injunction would by itself not become a title dispute - Once Mr. Naresh Chandra Agarwal, applied for bail, himself admitted that he was not the Manager of Temple, no occasion for tenant to raise a title dispute as a third party – Petitioner, not raised any title dispute as to his status - How a tenant can non-suit the plaintiff in an eviction suit on the ground that someone has instituted a suit for injunction - If remotely some dispute is there, if accepted, tenant doesn't get a right to stay back in tenanted premises opposing the eviction suit. (Para 2, 3, 4, 15, 29)

Petition dismissed. (E-13)

List of Cases cited:

1. Mst. Bhagmani Devi Vs VIII A.D.J. and Anr., 2011 (9) ADJ 567

2. Gurmala & ors. Vs Mohd. Ishaq & ors, (2013) 99 ALR 624

3. M. Siddiq (dead) through Legal Representatives (Ram Janmabhumi Temple Case) Vs Mahant Suresh Das & ors, (2020) 1 SCC 1

4. Mohd. Noor & ors.Vs Mohd. Ibrahim & ors, (1994) 5 SCC 562

5. Budhu Mal Vs Mahabir Prasad & ors., (1988) 4 SCC 194

6. Pratap Singh Vs IXth Additional District Judge, Fatehpur & ors, 2000 (3) AWC 1995

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajit Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Sri Tarun Agrawal, learned counsel for the in the petitioner and Sri Ashish Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the respondent.

2. Petitioner before this Court is admittedly a tenant suit property and it is for his ejectment that Small Cause Suit No. 2 of 2018 has been instituted before the Judge, Small Causes, Pilibhit by the contesting respondent who claimed to be a Trust managing the affairs of the Temple namely Gopal Mandir Virajman Thakur Ji Maharaj and Radha Ji.

3. Upon suit being instituted, petitioner moved an application under Section 23 of the Provincial Small Causes Court Act, 1887 for return of the plaint on the ground that there was serious title dispute between the contesting plaintiff/ respondent and one Naresh Chandra Agarwal who claimed himself to be Shebait of the Temple and it was in that capacity that Mr. Agarwal had instituted a regular suit seeking permanent prohibitory injunction, being Original Suit No. 195 of 2017.

4. Upon the said application filed under Section 23 of the Act being rejected by the Judge, Small Causes vide order dated 14.12.2022, petitioner preferred a revision being No. 30 of 2023 which also came to be dismissed on 28.11.2023 and hence this petition.

5. The submission advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner is two fold:

i). There being a serious title dispute as to the management of the Temple in question between the contesting plaintiff/ respondent, a Trust and one Naresh Chandra Agarwal, who claimed to be a Shebait in a suit instituted by later for permanent prohibitory injunction, the plaint in eviction suit before the Judge, Small Causes Court Act was liable to be returned.

ii). Both the courts below have manifestly erred in failing to appreciate a fact that petitioner having been depositing the rent in an account managed by Naresh Chandra Agarwal, the petitioner was not liable to be treated as tenant of Trust to maintain a suit for eviction at its instance.

6. Learned counsel for the petitioner Sri Tarun Agrawal has relied upon a concurrent bench judgment of this Court in Mst. Bhagmani Devi v. VIII A.D.J. and Anr., 2011 (9) ADJ 567. He has also relied upon another judgment of this Court in the case of Gurmala & Ors v. Mohd. Ishaq & Ors, (2013) 99 ALR 624 and M. Siddiq (dead) through Legal Representatives (Ram Janmabhumi Temple Case) v. Mahant Suresh Das & Ors, (2020) 1 SCC 1.

7. Per contra, the argument advanced by learned counsel for the plaintiff/ respondent is that a suit for permanent prohibitory injunction may invite the court to incidentally go into the question of title but this suit by itself cannot become a declaratory suit to raise a dispute of title by the plaintiff claiming as Shebait.

8. It is argued that taking the plaint allegations of the injunction suit in its entirety, it is admitted to the alleged Shebait that a Trust got created with the registration of Trust Deed to manage the affairs of the Temple and unless and until a decree to declare the Trust null and void in so far as management of temple is concerned, is prayed for, no title dispute prima facie can be said to have been raised.

9. Learned counsel for the contesting respondent has further argued that plaintiff of injunction suit namely Naresh Chandra Agarwal himself, upon being implicated in a criminal case for selling away properties of the Temple in collusion with the opposite party, as tenant of the temple, applied for bail, in which he denied himself to be Manager of Temple property and this fact having not been denied either in revision or before this Court, it does not lie in the mouth of the tenant to suggest that there was a serious title dispute to non-suit the plaintiff under Section 23 of the Act.

10. Having heard learned counsel for the respective parties and having perused the records, I find that core issue is as to whether the suit filed by Naresh Chandra Agarwal being O.S. NO. 195 of 2017 can be said to be a title suit as against the plaintiff/ respondent, to non-suit him by the tenant in a SCC suit.

11. It is true that germane to the concept of title is a legal right to manage and dispose of the property which also entails a right to hold possession.

12. Looking to the entire plant allegations of O.S. No. 195 of 2017, it transpires that the father of Naresh Chandra Agarwal was claimed to be the Manager of Temple property and upon his death on 01.08.2000, it was the Naresh Chandra Agarwal who had been connected with the affairs of Temple. Certain details of the property have been given in paras 10 and 11 and the names of tenants have also been given and he claimed his right to receive rent from the tenants. In para 13 of the plaint Naresh Chandra Agarwal claimed that Ganesh Prasad Mishra was the Pujari of the Temple and in that connection he was allotted rooms on the campus of the temple and his son Durga Prasad and Chhote Lal were residing with him and later on Durga Prasad started residing in a Ayurvedic College and after the death of Ganesh Prasad Mishra, the then Manager Sohan Lal was managing the affairs of the Temple. He stated that Chhote Lal was carrying Pooja Archana activities upon the guidance and dictates of his father Lala Chaturbhuj. It was the second son of Chhote Lal Mishra namely Dinesh Chandra Mishra who used to assist his father in Pooja Archana and when Chhote Lal died in 1992 then Durga Prasad Mishra started doing Pooja and Archana and after retirement from the service of the bank that he lodged some first information report against Naresh Chandra Agarwal in 2017 and created a Trust Deed and was interfering with the Pooja and Archana of the plaintiff and hence he instituted suit for injunction.

13. The entire pleadings as have been raised in the suit seeking permanent prohibitory injunction while the Trust Deed has been questioned but that has not been challenged. Still further the pleadings do not in any manner disclose that plaintiff of the suit Naresh Chandra Agarwal was carrying out any Pooja and Archana worship etc. or managing the affairs exclusively to be a Shebait. All that he claimed that father of Dinesh Chandra Mishra was doing the management of the Temple under the guidance and dictates of his father Lala Chaturbhuj and it is after the death of Chhote Lal Mishra, Dinesh Chandra Mishra was managing the affairs.

14. Thus, nowhere any claim of Shebait has been set up in the entire plaint allegations except the plea that his father was managing the Temple and so he would be entitled to manage the Temple. This showed that he wanted a declaratory decree in his favour but conspicuously did not seek any relief of that nature in the plaint.

15. Thus, in my considered view, merely because there were some pleadings raised tracing rights from his father, Naresh Chandra Agarwal cannot be said to have set up a serious title claim. A suit for injunction is maintainable when there is a prima facie title and possession both are claimed at the same time. Further, I find that the trial court has returned finding to the effect that while applying for bail in a criminal case which has also been referred to in injunction suit, Naresh Chandra Agarwal made a plea that he was not the Manager of the Temple property.

16. This finding which has been returned by the trial Judge has been affirmed in revision and there is no whisper in the entire petition that this finding is perverse. The trial court as well as the District Judge sitting in revision in my considered view have rightly returned a finding that a mere allegation by a tenant that he has been paying rent to the Temple of which the Manager was Naresh Chandra Agarwal only and who had also instituted a suit for permanent prohibitory injunction, would not entitle him to non-suit the plaintiff in an eviction suit.

17. The judgment in the case of Mst. Bhagmani Devi (supra) is distinguishable on facts where the Court had framed issue whether there existed any relationship of landlord-tenant between the parties and it was upon the issue no. 1 that court doubted the title as admittedly the Maharaj of Banaras was managing the affairs of temple and the question arose as to whether property belonged to Deity or in the name of Maharaja Banaras as a custodian, whereas, in the present case as per the own admission in the plaint and looking to the entire plaint allegations in the injunction suit, Naresh Chandra Agarwal could not claim that he was managing the affairs of the Temple.

18. Similarly, the judgment in the case of Gurmala & Ors (supra) is also distinguishable on facts as in that case the property was sold out by real owners and the question arose as to in whose share the shop fell. The rent suit filed by respondent nos. 1 and 3 for ejectment was dismissed holding that there was no landlord-tenant relationship. There is no such issue involved in the present case as petitioner is admittedly tenant of the Deity.

19. The principle of law as discussed in paragraph no. 54 of the judgment is not questionable but whether it applies in the present case or not, is to be seen.

20. Looking to the facts of the present case, I do not see that there is any serious dispute of title so as to non-suit the plaintiff in this eviction suit.

21. In so far as the judgment in the case of Mohd. Noor & Ors v. Mohd. Ibrahim & Ors, (1994) 5 SCC 562 where the Court considered the question of transfer of ownership and transfer of interest in the property, is concerned, I do not see any such question to be arising in the present case unless and until the plaintiff Naresh Chandra Agarwal in his suit questiones the Trust Deed also and so declaratory decree to hold it null and void. Such issue not being in germane, more especially in view of the pleadings raised in the plaint, I do not see this judgment to be helping out in in any manner to the present petitioner to succeed in getting the plaint returned.

22. Coming to the judgment in the case of Ram Janmabhumi Temple (supra) cited by learned counsel for the petitioner as he has relied upon paragraph nos. 425, 430, 434, 435, 436, 437 and 438, the argument advanced was that the role of Shebait is different from the role of Pujari (worshiper) and Hindu idol being a juristic person, the entire endowed property vested in the idol and Shebait being the Manager of the Temple, would be a person who has a right to sue on behalf of Hindu idol. Thus, it was sought to be contended that Naresh Chandra Agarwal having instituted a suit to set up a title as a Shebait of the Temple, there arose a serious dispute as to the title to manage the affairs of the Temple inter se Shebait and Trust. He submitted that any suit, therefore, on behalf of Temple, if was to be brought by Shebait, herein this case, it would have been by Naresh Chandra Agarwal and so the present suit for eviction before small cause court by Trust was certainly not maintainable.

23. In order to appreciate the aforesaid argument, relevant paragraphs are reproduced hereunder:

"425. Courts recognise a Hindu idol as the material embodiment of a testator's pious purpose. Juristic personality can also be conferred on a Swayambhu deity which is a self-manifestation in nature. An idol is a juristic person in which title to the endowed property vests. The idol does not enjoy possession of the property in the same manner as do natural persons. The property vests in the idol only in an ideal sense. The idol must act through some human agency which will manage its properties, arrange for the performance of ceremonies associated with worship and take steps to protect the endowment, inter alia by bringing proceedings on behalf of the idol. The shebait is the human person who discharges this role.

430. The position of a shebait in Hindu law is distinct from the position of a trustee in English Law. Before the Privy Council in Vidya Varuthi Thirtha v. Balusami Ayyar [Vidya Varuthi Thirtha v. Balusami Ayyar, 1921 SCC OnLine PC 58 : (1920-21) 48 IA 302 : AIR 1922 PC 123] the question was whether the terms "conveyed in trust" and "trustee" as they appear in Article 134 of the Limitation Act, 1908 apply to properties endowed to the Mahant of a Hindu mutt. The Privy Council rejected the contention that persons managing endowed properties are in the position of trustees under English Law. Ameer Ali, J. held : (SCC OnLine PC)

"It is also to be remembered that a "trust" in the sense in which the expression is used in English Law, is unknown in the Hindu system, pure and simple.? Hindu piety found expression in gifts to idols and images consecrated and installed in temples, to religious institutions of every kind.? Religious institutions, known under different names, and regarded as possessing the same "juristic. capacity, and gifts are made to them eo nomine ? When the gift is directly to an idol or a temple, the seisin to complete the gift is necessarily effected by human agency. Called by whatever name, he is only the manager and custodian of the idol of the institution. ? In no case was the property conveyed to or vested in him, nor is he a "trustee" in the English sense of the term, although in view of the obligations and duties vesting on him, he is answerable as a trustee in the general sense, for maladministration. ?

? it would follow that an alienation by a manager or superior by whatever name called cannot be treated as the act of a "trustee" to whom property has been "conveyed in trust" and who by virtue thereof has the capacity vested in him which is possessed by a "trustee" in English law.

***

? Neither under the Hindu law nor in the Mahomedan system is any property "conveyed" to a shebait or a mutavalli in the case of a dedication. Nor is any property vested in him, whatever property he holds for the idol or the institution he holds as manager with certain beneficial interests regulated by custom and usage."

(emphasis supplied)

434. In addition to the duties that must be discharged in relation to the debutter property, a shebait may have an interest in the usufruct of the debutter property. In this view, shebaitship is not an office simpliciter, but is also property for the purposes of devolution. [Approved by the Privy Council in Ganesh Chunder Dhur v. Lal Behary Dhur, 1936 SCC OnLine PC 53 : (1935-36) 63 IA 448 and Bhabatarini Debi v. Ashalata Debi, 1943 SCC OnLine PC 1 : (1942-43) 70 IA 57.] This view has been affirmed by this Court in Angurbala Mullick v. Debabrata Mullick [Angurbala Mullick v. Debabrata Mullick, 1951 SCC 420 : 1951 SCR 1125 : AIR 1951 SC 293] . The controversy in that case was whether the appellant, as the widow of the shebait, was entitled to act as the shebait of the idol instead of the minor son of the shebait born from his first marriage who was the respondent. It was contended that the office of shebaitship would devolve in accordance with the Hindu Women's Right to Property Act, 1937. B.K. Mukherjea, J. speaking for a four-Judge Bench of this Court accepted this contention and held : (Angurbala Mullick case [Angurbala Mullick v. Debabrata Mullick, 1951 SCC 420 : 1951 SCR 1125 : AIR 1951 SC 293] , AIR p. 296, para 11)

"11. ? But though a shebait is a manager and not a trustee in the technical sense, it would not be correct to describe the shebaitship as a mere office. The shebait has not only duties to discharge in connection with the endowment, but he has a beneficial interest in the debutter property. As the Judicial Committee observed in the above case, in almost all such endowments the shebait has a share in the usufruct of the debutter property which depends upon the terms of the grant or upon custom or usage. Even where no emoluments are attached to the office of the shebait, he enjoys some sort of right or interest in the endowed property which partially at least has the character of a proprietary right. Thus, in the conception of shebaiti both the elements of office and property, of duties and personal interest, are mixed up and blended together; and one of the elements cannot be detached from the other. It is the presence of this personal or beneficial interest in the endowed property which invests shebaitship with the character of proprietary rights and attaches to it the legal incidents of property."

The Court held that a shebait has a beneficial interest in the usufruct of the debutter property. This beneficial interest is in the form of a proprietary right. Though the role of the shebait is premised on the performance of certain duties for the idol and the benefits are appurtenant, neither can be separated from the other. Thus, office and property are both blended in shebaitship, the personal interest of a shebait being appurtenant to their duties. [Affirmed in Badri Nath v. Punna, (1979) 3 SCC 71;

Profulla Chorone Requitte v. Satya Chorone Requitte, (1979) 3 SCC 409.]

Pujaris

435. A final point may be made with respect to shebaits. A pujari who conducts worship at a temple is not merely, by offering worship to the idol, elevated to the status of a shebait. A pujari is a servant or appointee of a shebait and gains no independent right as a shebait despite having conducted the ceremonies for a long period of time. Thus, the mere presence of pujaris does not vest in them any right to be shebaits. In Gauri Shankar v. Ambika Dutt [Gauri Shankar v. Ambika Dutt, 1948 SCC OnLine Pat 28 : AIR 1954 Pat 196] , the plaintiff was the descendant of a person appointed as a pujari on property dedicated for the worship of an idol. A suit was instituted for claiming partition of the right to worship in the temple and a division of the offerings. A Division Bench of the Patna High Court held that the relevant question is whether the debutter appointed the pujari as a shebait. Ramaswami, J. held : (SCC OnLine Pat para 7)

"7. ? It is important to state that a pujari or archak is not a shebait. A pujari is appointed by the Shebait as the purohit to conduct the worship. But that does not transfer the rights and obligations of the Shebait to the purohit. He is not entitled to be continued as a matter of right in his office as pujari. He is merely a servant appointed by the Shebait for the performance of ceremonies. Where the appointment of a purohit has been at the will of the founder the mere fact that the appointees have performed the worship for several generations, will not confer an independent right upon the members of the family so appointed and will not entitle them as of right to be continued in office as priest."

436. A shebait is vested with the authority to manage the properties of the deity and ensure the fulfilment of the purpose for which the property was dedicated. As a necessary adjunct of this managerial role, a shebait may hire pujaris for the performance of worship. This does not confer upon the appointed pujaris the status of a shebait. As appointees of the shebait, they are liable to be removed from office and cannot claim a right to continue in office. The distinction between a shebait and a pujari was recognised by this Court in Sree Sree Kalimata Thakurani of Kalighat v. Jibandhan Mukherjee [Sree Sree Kalimata Thakurani of Kalighat v. Jibandhan Mukherjee, AIR 1962 SC 1329] . A suit was instituted under Section 92 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 for the framing of a scheme for the proper management of the seva-puja of the Sree Sree Kali Mata Thakurani and her associated deities. A Constitution Bench of this Court, speaking through J.R. Mudholkar, J. held : (AIR p. 1333, para 10)

"10. ? It is wrong to call shebaits mere pujaris or archakas. A shebait as has been pointed out by Mukherjea, J. (as he then was), in his Tagore Law Lectures on Hindu Law of Religious and Charitable Trusts, is a human ministrant of the deity while a pujari is appointed by the founder or the shebait to conduct worship. Pujari thus is a servant of the shebait. Shebaitship is not mere office, it is property as well."

437. A pujari is appointed by the founder or by a shebait to conduct worship. This appointment does not confer upon the pujari the status of a shebait. They are liable to be removed for any act of mismanagement or indiscipline which is inconsistent with the performance of their duties. Further, where the appointment of a pujari has been at the will of the testator, the fact that appointees have performed the worship for several generations does not confer an independent right upon the appointee or members of their family and will not entitle them as of right to be continued in office as priests. Nor does the mere performance of the work of a pujari in and of itself render a person a shebait.

438. The position of a shebait is a substantive position in law that confers upon the person the exclusive right to manage the properties of the idol to the exclusion of all others. In addition to the exclusive right to manage an idol's properties, the shebait has a right to institute proceedings on behalf of the idol. Whether the right to sue on behalf of the idol can be exercised only by the shebait (in a situation where there is a shebait) or can also be exercised by the idol through a "next friend" has been the subject of controversy in the proceedings before us. The plaintiff in Suit No. 3, Nirmohi Akhara contends that the Nirmohis are the shebaits of the idols of Lord Ram at the disputed site. Mr S.K. Jain, learned Senior Counsel appearing on behalf of Nirmohi Akhara, urged that absent any allegation of maladministration or misdemeanour in the averments in the plaint in Suit No. 5, Devki Nandan Agarwal could not have maintained a suit on behalf of the idols as a next friend. Mr Jain placed significant reliance on the contention that the plaint in Suit No. 5 does not aver any mismanagement by the Nirmohis. Mr S.K. Jain urged that though the plaintiffs in Suit No. 5 (which was instituted in 1989) were aware of Suit No. 3 which was instituted by Nirmohi Akhara (in 1959) claiming as a shebait, the plaint in Suit No. 5 does not challenge the position of Nirmohi Akhara as a shebait. Consequently, Nirmohi Akhara urged that a suit by a next friend on behalf of the idol is not maintainable." (Emphasis added)

24. Having gone through the aforesaid paragraphs of the judgment of Ram Janmbhumi case, I find that a distinction is sought to be drawn between Shebait and the Trust and so long as Shebait manages the Temple property, the right to sue vests with him to the exclusion of any person's right to sue on behalf of Temple. Distinction is also sought to be drawn between the Trust as defined in English law and role of Trustee distinguishable than a Mahant managing Hindu Math to whom property is endowed.

25. In a nut shell the Hindu Idol becomes the owner of the entire endowed property and a Shebait or a Trust becomes custodian thereof to the extent of management with certain portion of it for the Shbait to survive as Manager of the property but this certainly will not be for a Trustee in case of Trust. A worshiper/ pujari has been defined with a status of a servant to be appointed by Shebait and does not enjoy any right independent of a Shebait.

26. Applying the above exposition of law as discussed and laid down in Ram Janmabhumi case to the facts of the present case, looking to the pleadings raised in injunction suit as discussed in earlier part of this judgment, I do not see Mr. Naresh Chandra Agarwal to be having a status of a Shebait to raise serious dispute of title.

27. The law is well settled that Section 23 of the Small Cause Courts Act is not a provision that makes obligatory for Small Cause Courts to invariably return the plaint once a question of title is raised by a tenant. The principle is that even the Small Cause Court can incidentally go into the title. In Budhu Mal v. Mahabir Prasad and others, (1988) 4 SCC 194 vide para 10 the Court observed thus:

"10. It is true that Section 23 does not make it obligatory on the court of small causes to invariably return the plaint once a question of title is raised by the tenant. It is also PG NO 243 true that in a suit instituted by the landlord against his tenant on the basis of contract of tenancy, a question of title could also incidentally be gone into and that any finding recorded by a Judge, Small Causes in this behalf could not be res judicata in a suit based on title. It cannot, however, be gainsaid that in enacting Section 23 the Legislature must have had in contemplation some cases in which the discretion to return the plaint ought to be exercised in order to do complete justice between the parties. ..... If the suits cannot be construed to be one between landlord and tenant they would not be cognizable by a court of small causes and it is for these reasons that we are of the opinion that these are such cases where the plaints ought to have been returned for presentation to appropriate court so that none of the parties was prejudiced." (Emphasis added)

28. In this regard it is also necessary to refer to the judgment of this Court in the case of Pratap Singh v. IXth Additional District Judge, Fatehpur and Ors, 2000 (3) AWC 1995 in which vide paragraph nos. 6 & 7 of the judgment it has been held thus:

"6. A Small Causes Court is expected to try suits of a comparatively simple character and, therefore, suits involving question of title should not be entertained by that Court. Section 23 is intended to enable the Courts of Small Causes to save their time by returning the plaints in suits which involve enquiry into the question of title. This section is designed to meet the cases in which Judge, Small Causes Court is satisfied that the question of title raised is so intricate and difficult that it should not be decided summarily but in ordinary Court in which evidence is recorded in full and the decision is open to appeal. The underlying principle under Section 23 seems to be that where it is considered advisable by a Small Causes Court that a final decision on a question of title, which decision would. if given by an original Court. ordinarily be subject to appeal and even to second appeal and which decision would ordinarily be res judicata between the parties, should be given in the particular case before a Small Causes Court, by an original Court, the Small Causes Court though competent to decide incidentally the question of title in that particular case might exercise with discretion. the power of returning the plaint to be presented to the original Court which would have jurisdiction to so decide on that title finally. Obviously, the section is designed to meet the cases in which the Judge. Small Causes Court is satisfied that the question of title raised is so intricate and difficult that it should not be decided summarily but in an ordinary Court in which evidence is recorded in full and decision is open to appeal.

7. Section 23 is framed in optional terms giving discretion to the Court to act in the matter or not. and therefore, in suits involving question of title, the Small Causes Court has a discretion either to decide the question of title or to act under this section and return the plaint. It is not always bound to return the same. Nevertheless, when any complicated question of title arises. it would be the wiser course for Small Causes Court in the exercise of its discretion to act under Section 23 and return the plaint."

(Emphasis added)

29. In view of the above, a mere reference of a case where a party has just instituted a suit for injunction would by itself not become a title dispute. The Small Cause Court shall have to apply its mind to the facts pleaded in the case. Once Mr. Naresh Chandra Agarwal, in a judicial proceeding while applying for bail, himself admitted that he was not in any manner the Manager of the Temple, there was no occasion for a tenant to raise a title dispute as a third party, to non-suit the plaintiff in SCC case. The defendant/ petitioner admittedly is a tenant and he has not raised any title dispute as to his status. Therefore, it becomes a question how a tenant can non-suit the plaintiff in an eviction suit on the ground that someone has instituted a suit for injunction. Even if remotely some dispute is there, if accepted for argument sake, the tenant does not get a right to stay back in the tenanted premises opposing the eviction suit.

30. In view of the above, I do not see any error apparent on the face of record or any such manifest error otherwise committed by the trial court and the court sitting in revision in dismissing the application under Section 23 of Small Cause Court Act which may warrant interference in my supervisory and superintending jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution.

31. Petition fails and is accordingly dismissed.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1233
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 13.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Matter Under Article 227 No. 1834 of 2024

M/S Amit Engg. Mainpuri ...Petitioner
Versus
Superintending Engineer, Lko. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Puneet Sahai Bisaria

Counsel for the Respondent:
Neera Yadav, Mayank Sinha

Civil Law - Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 – Sections 2(e), 11(6), 11(6-B), 20, 34 & 42 - Petitioner entered into contract with respondent for construction of independent feeders on turnkey basis within stipulated time - Disputes arose between them, petitioner filed application u/s 11 before High Court at Allahabad, allowed and Arbitrator appointed – Award was declared, direction to respondent to pay to petitioner a sum of Rs.1,20,43,129.00 along with interest at the rate of 8% p/a from 06.07.2020 till the date of award, also rate of interest was 10% p/a from date of award - Respondent challenged award before Commercial Court, Lucknow – Objection by petitioner on territorial jurisdiction – Rejected - Impugned order – Held, the Arbitrator appointed by High Court at Allahabad is residing at Aligarh, on first hearing, the Arbitrator mentioned that till any suitable arrangement is made, the venue of arbitral proceeding will be at Aligarh - Neither parties had agreed for seat/venue on the arbitration, nor had Arbitrator passed order to this effect - Filing of application u/s 11 at Allahabad would not create a bar u/s 42 against the exercise of jurisdiction by Commercial Court – No illegality, dismissed. (Para 3, 6, 8, 9, 10, 32)

Petition dismissed. (E-13)

List of Cases cited:

1. Inox Renewables Ltd. Vs Jayesh Electricals Ltd., (2023) 3 SCC 733

2. BBR (India) (P) Ltd. Vs S.P. Singla Constructions (P) Ltd., (2023) 1 SCC 693

3. Zapdor-Ubc-Abnjv Vs U.O.I., 2022 SCC OnLine All 594

4. Emkay Global Financial Services Ltd. Vs Girdhar Sondhi, (2018) 9 SCC 49

5. Indus Mobile Distribution (P) Ltd. Vs Datawind Innovations (P) Ltd., (2017) 7 SCC 678

6. BGS SGS Soma JV Vs NHPC Ltd., (2020) 4 SCC 234

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Sri K. K. Arora Advocate, the learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Mayank Sinha Advocate, the learned counsel for the respondent.

2. By means of the instant petition filed under Article 227 of the Constitution of India, the petitioner has challenged the validity of an order dated 07.03.2024 passed by the Commercial Court No. 2, Lucknow in Arbitration Case No. 126 of 2023, under Section 34 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 (which will hereinafter be referred to as 'the Act').

3. Briefly stated, facts of the case are that the petitioner had entered into a contract with the respondent for construction of 33 KV independent feeders emanating from 132 KV primary sub-station Amawan (Raebareli), 220 KV primary substation Sonik (Unnao) and 33/04 KV substation at District Courts Raebareli/Unnao on turnkey basis within stipulated time in compliance of order passed by Hon'ble High Court, U.P. on 29.06.2019.

4. Clause 16 of the General Requirements of Specification mentioned in the contract entered between the parties provides as follows: -

"16.0- JUDICIAL JURISDICTION:

All the dispute arising out and touching or relating to subject matter of agreement contract shall be subject to jurisdiction of local courts of Lucknow and Lucknow bench of High Court of Judicature at Allahabad only."

5. Clause 38(A) of the General Conditions for the supply of plant and the execution of works in connection with schemes in Uttar Pradesh Power Corporation Limited (UPPCL) provides that "any action taken or proceedings initiated on any of the term of this agreement shall be only in the court of competent jurisdiction under the high court of judicature at Allahabad..."

6. Certain disputes arose between the parties, which led to the petitioner filing an application under Section 11 of the Act before this Court sitting at Allahabad, which was allowed and Justice Ifaqat Ali Khan, a former Judge of this Court was appointed as the sole Arbitrator for adjudicating upon the disputes between the parties.

7. The learned Arbitrator has held the first sitting of the arbitration proceedings on 30.08.2022 at his residence at Aligarh. The Rules of procedure and other incidental matters were decided on the first date and it was recorded in the aforesaid order that: - "it is also made clear that till any other suitable arrangement is made, the venue of the arbitral proceeding will be as follows:

"4/4 H1 Aftab Apartment Opposite Ek Minar wali Masjid, Qila Road, Shamshad Market, Civil Lines, Aligarh (U.P.)-202001"

8. It appears that no further suitable arrangement could be made and the arbitration proceedings continued to be held at the aforesaid place and ultimately an award was declared on 26.08.2023 directing the respondent to pay to the petitioner a sum of Rs.1,20,43,129.00 alongwith interest at the rate of 8% per annum from 06.07.2020 till the date of the award and the rate of interest will be 10% per annum from the date of award.

9. The respondent filed an application under Section 34 of the Act challenging the aforesaid award before the Commercial Court no. 2, Lucknow, which application has been registered as Arbitration Case No. 126 of 2023.

10. The petitioner filed an application (C-12) raising a preliminary objection regarding the territorial jurisdiction of the Commercial Court at Lucknow, stating that the entire arbitration proceedings took place at Aligarh without any protest of the respondent and the arbitration award was also passed at Aligarh, which falls within the territorial jurisdiction of this Court sitting at Allahabad. Therefore, the Courts sitting at Lucknow have no jurisdiction to entertain the application under Section 34 of the Arbitration Act.

11. The respondent filed objection against the aforesaid application inter alia stating that as per Clause 16.0 and 38(A) of the Contract referred to above and also keeping in view the fact that the contract was signed at Lucknow, the contract was for certain works to be carried out in the District Courts at Unnao and Raebareli and the respondent is situated at Lucknow, the Courts at Lucknow have jurisdiction to entertain the application under Section 34 of the Act. The Courts at Aligarh will have no jurisdiction in the matter merely because the Arbitrator held sittings at Aligarh, as per his convenience.

12. The Commercial Court rejected the petitioner's preliminary objection by means of the impugned order dated 07.03.2024 and held that a combined reading of Clause 16 and 38(A) of the Contract makes it clear that all the disputes arising out of and touching or relating to subject matter of agreement contract shall be subject to jurisdiction of local courts at Lucknow. The mere fact that arbitration proceedings took place at Aligarh cannot oust the jurisdiction of the Commercial Court at Lucknow.

13. Assailing the validity of the impugned order, the learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that in the present case, the seat and venue of the arbitration was at Aligarh and the award was also passed at Aligarh and, therefore, the Courts at Aligarh only will have jurisdiction to entertain the application under Section 34 of the Act.

14. In support of his contention, the Learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance on the decisions of Hon'ble Supreme Court in the cases of Inox Renewables Ltd. v. Jayesh Electricals Ltd., (2023) 3 SCC 733, BBR (India) (P) Ltd. v. S.P. Singla Constructions (P) Ltd., (2023) 1 SCC 693 and judgment rendered by a coordinate Bench of this Court in Zapdor-Ubc-Abnjv v. Union of India, 2022 SCC OnLine All 594.

15. Per contra, Sri Mayank Sinha, learned counsel for the respondent has relied upon the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court rendered in the case of Emkay Global Financial Services Ltd. v. Girdhar Sondhi, (2018) 9 SCC 49, in which it was held whether more than one courts have jurisdiction to decide the dispute and the parties have entered into an agreement to the effect that any dispute will be referred to the courts at a particular place, the courts at that place alone will have jurisdiction over the matter.

16. I have heard learned counsel for the parties and gone through the record. It will be appropriate to look at the relevant statutory provisions, before proceeding to decide the matter.

17. The relevant part of Section 34(1) and 34(2)(a) of the Act provides as follows: -

"34. Application for setting aside arbitral award*.—(1) Recourse to a court against an arbitral award may be made only by an application for setting aside such award in accordance with sub-section (2) and sub-section (3).*

(2) An arbitral award may be set aside by the court only if—

(a) the party making the application furnishes proof that—

(i) a party was under some incapacity; or

(ii) the arbitration agreement is not valid under the law to which the parties have subjected it or, failing any indication thereon, under the law for the time being in force; or

(iii) the party making the application was not given proper notice of the appointment of an arbitrator or of the arbitral proceedings or was otherwise unable to present his case; or

(iv) the arbitral award deals with a dispute not contemplated by or not falling within the terms of the submission to arbitration, or it contains decisions on matters beyond the scope of the submission to arbitration:

Provided that, if the decisions on matters submitted to arbitration can be separated from those not so submitted, only that part of the arbitral award which contains decisions on matters not submitted to arbitration may be set aside; or

(v) the composition of the Arbitral Tribunal or the arbitral procedure was not in accordance with the agreement of the parties, unless such agreement was in conflict with a provision of this Part from which the parties cannot derogate, or, failing such agreement, was not in accordance with this Part; or

(b)…"

18. Section 20 of the Act provides that: -

"20. Place of arbitration*.—(1) The parties are free to agree on the place of arbitration. (2) Failing any agreement referred to in sub-section (1), the place of arbitration shall be determined by the Arbitral Tribunal having regard to the circumstances of the case, including the convenience of the parties.*

(3) Notwithstanding sub-section (1) or sub-section (2), the Arbitral Tribunal may, unless otherwise agreed by the parties, meet at any place it considers appropriate for consultation among its members, for hearing witnesses, experts or the parties, or for inspection of documents, goods or other property."

19. The parties had entered into an agreement providing that "all the dispute arising out of between the dispute arising out and touching or relating to subject matter of agreement contract shall be subject to jurisdiction of local courts of Lucknow and Lucknow bench of High Court of Judicature at Allahabad only." The agreement further provides that any action taken or proceeding initiated in terms of this agreement, shall be only in the court of competent jurisdiction under the High Court of Judicature at Allahabad.

20. In Indus Mobile Distribution (P) Ltd. v. Datawind Innovations (P) Ltd., (2017) 7 SCC 678 the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that: -

"9…We are of the opinion, the term "subject-matter of the arbitration" cannot be confused with "subject-matter of the suit". The term "subject-matter" in Section 2(1)(e) is confined to Part I. It has a reference and connection with the process of dispute resolution. Its purpose is to identify the courts having supervisory control over the arbitration proceedings. Hence, it refers to a court which would essentially be a court of the seat of the arbitration process. In our opinion, the provision in Section 2(1)(e) has to be construed keeping in view the provisions in Section 20 which give recognition to party autonomy. Accepting the narrow construction as projected by the learned counsel for the appellants would, in fact, render Section 20 nugatory. In our view, the legislature has intentionally given jurisdiction to two courts i.e. the court which would have jurisdiction where the cause of action is located and the courts where the arbitration takes place."

(Emphasis added)

21. The Hon'ble Supreme Court has clearly held in Indus Mobile Distribution (P) Ltd. (Supra) that the Court at the place where the cause of action is located, will also have jurisdiction over the matter.

22. Indus Mobile Distribution (P) Ltd. (Supra) has been followed in Emkay Global Financial Services Ltd. v. Girdhar Sondhi, (2018) 9 SCC 49, wherein it has been held that where the agreement between the parties provided that the courts in Mumbai have exclusive jurisdiction, it is clear that it is the Mumbai courts and the Mumbai courts alone, before which a Section 34 application can be filed. The arbitration that was conducted at Delhi was only at a convenient venue.

23. In Inox Renewables Ltd. (Supra) relied by the learned Counsel for the petitioner, a purchase order dated 28-1-2012 was entered into between M/s Gujarat Fluorochemicals Ltd. and the respondent Jayesh for manufacture and supply of power transformers to wind farms. The arbitration clause contained in the purchase order provided that the venue of the arbitration shall be Jaipur. In the event of arbitrators' award being not acceptable to either party, the parties shall be free to seek lawful remedies under the law of India and the jurisdiction for the same shall be courts in the State of Rajasthan. Pursuant thereto, the learned arbitrator passed an award dated 28.07.2018, in which it was inter alia stated that "as per arbitration agreement, the venue of the arbitration was to be Jaipur. However, the parties have mutually agreed, irrespective of a specific clause as to the venue of the arbitration would be at Ahmedabad and not at Jaipur". A Section 34 petition was filed by the appellant in Ahmedabad which was resisted by the respondent referring to the business transfer agreement and stating that the courts at Vadodara alone have jurisdiction.

24. The Hon'ble Supreme Court held in Inox Renewables Ltd. (Supra) that the parties had specifically shifted the venue/place of arbitration from Jaipur to Ahmedabad by mutual agreement. The parties may mutually arrive at a seat of arbitration and may change the seat of arbitration by mutual agreement which is recorded by the arbitrator in his award to which no challenge is made by either party.

25. The judgment in Inox Renewables Ltd. (Supra) was given in the peculiar factual background of that case and is not applicable to the facts of the present case, where the parties have entered into an agreement that the Courts at Lucknow only will have jurisdiction in the matter and there was no agreement shifting the seat or venue of the arbitration. The arbitrator had held sittings at his residence at Aligarh as an Ad-hoc arrangement till some other suitable arrangement was made.

26. In BBR (India) (P) Ltd. (Supra) relied by the learned Counsel for the petitioner, the issue before the Hon'ble Supreme Court was "Whether conducting the arbitration proceedings at Delhi, owing to the appointment of a new arbitrator, would shift the "jurisdictional seat of arbitration" from Panchkula in Haryana, the place fixed by the first arbitrator for the arbitration proceedings?" The arbitration clause was silent and did not stipulate the seat or venue of arbitration. The contract and letter of intent were executed at Panchkula in Haryana. The corporate office of the respondent is also located at Panchkula. As disputes arose between the parties, the matter was referred to arbitration, and Mr Justice (Retd.) N.C. Jain was appointed as the sole arbitrator and he held that the venue of the proceedings would be H. No. 292, Sector-6, Panchkula, Haryana. Neither party had objected to the place of arbitration proceedings as fixed by the Arbitral Tribunal. Subsequently Mr Justice (Retd.) N.C. Jain recused himself from continuing as the arbitrator. Thereupon, Mr Justice (Retd.) T.S. Doabia took over as the sole arbitrator. The first procedural order dated 30.06.2015 stated that the venue of the proceedings would be Delhi. Thereafter, hearings were held and the award was signed and pronounced at Delhi on 29.01.2016. Thereafter, two proceedings were initiated. The respondent filed an application Section 9 of the Act before the Additional District Judge, Panchkula, on 07.05.2016. The appellant filed a petition under Section 34 of the Act before the Delhi High Court on 28.04.2016. The petition filed by the respondent under Section 9 of the Act at Panchkula, was dismissed on the ground of lack of territorial jurisdiction vide order dated 14.12.2016, recording that the jurisdiction to entertain the application vests solely with the Delhi High Court, where a prior petition under Section 34 had been filed, and was pending. The petition under Section 9, being a subsequent petition, would be barred under Section 42 of the Act. This order was set aside by the High Court of Punjab and Haryana vide order dated 14.10.2019.

27. The Hon'ble Supreme Court held in BBR (India) (P) Ltd. (Supra) that subsequent hearing of the proceedings at different location other than the place fixed by the arbitrator as 'seat of arbitration should not be regarded and treated as a change for relocation of the jurisdictional seat.' The seat once fixed by the arbitral tribunal under Section 20(2) should remain static and fixed, whereas the venue of arbitration can change and move from the seat to a new location. Venue is not constant and stationary and can move and change in terms of sub Section (3) to Section 20 of the Act. Change of venue does not result in change of relocation of the seat of arbitration.

`28. In BBR (India) (P) Ltd. (Supra) also, the agreement between the parties did not provide that the Courts at any particular place will have jurisdiction whereas the position is otherwise in the present matter. Hence, BBR (India) (P) Ltd. (Supra) is not relevant for decision of the present case.

29. The learned counsel for the petitioner has also relied upon a judgment rendered by a Co-ordinate Bench of this Court in Zapdor-Ubc-Abnjv v. Union of India, 2022 SCC OnLine All 594, in which the petitioner had invoked the Arbitration clause and an Arbitral Tribunal comprising of three officers of the Railways conducted the arbitral proceedings and they signed and delivered an Award at New Delhi. The respondent filed an Application under Section 34 of the Act before the Commercial Court at Lucknow along with an Application for Condonation of Delay. Subsequently the Petitioner preferred an Execution Application under Section 36 of the 1996 Act before the High Court at Delhi. This Court had framed the following four issues to be decided in the case: -

"a) Whether this petition under Article 227 is maintainable?

b) Whether Cause of Action or subject matter of the Suit would determine the Court which could exercise supervisory jurisdiction to decide the Section 34 petition?

c) Whether it would be the 'Venue' or the 'Seat' of Arbitral proceedings which would determine the Court which can exercise supervisory jurisdiction over the Arbitral proceedings?

d) Whether in the absence of a specific mention in the contract agreement regarding 'Seat' of Arbitration, the conduct of parties would determine the 'Seat' and therefore act as an exclusionary clause for Courts at all other places to exercise supervisory control over the Arbitral proceedings?"

30. Relying on BGS SGS Soma JV v. NHPC Ltd., (2020) 4 SCC 234, this Court held in Zapdor-Ubc-Abnjv (Supra) that a petition under Article 227 of the Constitution is maintainable against the order rejecting an application for return of Application under Section 34 of the Act of 1996. On issues no. b, c and d, this Court held that: -

"The contract being governed by the Tender Paper ELCORe, It was open for the parties, more specifically the Railways, to determine the place of arbitration by way of written agreement. Instead of any written agreement or conditions in the Contract or even in the correspondence between the parties, specifying the seat of arbitration, the Railways agreed to participate in the arbitration proceedings at New Delhi without any protest*. The Railways Hence can be said to have waived their right to object and by their conduct determined the venue of arbitration at New Delhi to be also the seat of the arbitration proceedings. Issues b, c, and d consequently are also decided in favour of the petitioner and it is held that failure to specifically mention a Seat of Arbitration and participation in Arbitration proceedings at New Delhi by the Railways without any protest shall be considered as determination of the Venue of arbitration as also the Seat, giving exclusive jurisdiction to the Courts at New Delhi to supervise the Arbitral proceedings including any attack on the Award."*

(Emphasis added)

31. In Zapdor-Ubc-Abnjv (Supra) the parties had not entered into any written agreement specifying the seat of arbitration and it appears that there was no agreement regarding restricting the jurisdiction to the Courts situated at any particular place, whereas in the present case, the contract between the parties provides that the Courts at Lucknow only will have jurisdiction over the matter.

32. The Arbitrator appointed by this Court sitting at Allahabad is residing at Aligarh and in the order passed on the first date of hearing, the Arbitrator has mentioned that till any suitable arrangement is made, the venue of the arbitral proceeding will be at Aligarh. Therefore, it is clear that neither the parties had agreed for the seat/venue on the arbitration, nor had Arbitrator passed any order to this effect. The Arbitrator had merely made an ad-hoc provision for venue of the arbitration till a suitable arrangement was made. Somehow, it so happened that suitable arrangement contemplated by the Arbitrator could never be made and the arbitration proceedings continued and concluded at Aligarh.

33. Section 20 of the Act provides that the parties are free to agree on the place of arbitration. The parties had agreed that "all the dispute arising out of between the dispute arising out and touching or relating to subject matter of agreement contract shall be subject to jurisdiction of local courts of Lucknow and Lucknow bench of High Court of Judicature at Allahabad only, but they did not agree for the venue or the seat of arbitration proceedings. The Arbitrator also did not determine the place of arbitration and it merely passed an order making an Ad-hoc arrangement stating that till any suitable arrangement is made, the venue of the arbitral proceeding will be at Aligarh. This order for Ad-hoc arrangement will not amount to a determination of the place of arbitration and this Ad-hoc arrangement will not prevail upon the agreement of the parties regarding jurisdiction of the Courts at Lucknow only.

34. Although, Clause 16 of the contract between the parties provides that the dispute between the parties shall be subject to the jurisdiction of local courts at Lucknow Bench and High Court of Judicature at Allahabad, the petitioner filed an application under Section 11 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act before this Court sitting at Allahabad. The learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the respondent has participated in those proceedings without raising any objection regarding jurisdiction of the Court and, therefore, all subsequent applications have to be filed within the territorial limits of this Court sitting at Allahabad in view the provision contained in Section 42 of the Act.

35. Section 42 of the Act provides as follows: -

"42. Jurisdiction.— Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Part or in any other law for the time being in force, where with respect to an arbitration agreement any application under this Part has been made in a Court, that Court alone shall have jurisdiction over the arbitral proceedings and all subsequent applications arising out of that agreement and the arbitral proceedings shall be made in that Court and in no other Court."*

36. The word "Court" used in Section 42 refers to the "Court" as defined under Section 2 (e) of the Act, which reads as follows: -

"2. Definitions.—(1) In this Part, unless the context otherwise requires—*

* * *

(e) "Court" means the Principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction in a district, and includes the High Court in exercise of its ordinary original civil jurisdiction, having jurisdiction to decide the questions forming the subject-matter of the arbitration if the same had been the subject-matter of a suit, but does not include any civil court of a grade inferior to such Principal Civil Court, or any Court of Small Causes;"

37. It would be appropriate to have a look at Section 11 (6) and (6-B) of the Act, which read as follows: -

"(6) Where, under an appointment procedure agreed upon by the parties,—

(a) a party fails to act as required under that procedure; or

(b) the parties, or the two appointed arbitrators, fail to reach an agreement expected of them under that procedure; or

(c) a person, including an institution, fails to perform any function entrusted to him or it under that procedure, the appointment shall be made, on an application of the party, by the arbitral institution designated by the Supreme Court, in case of international commercial arbitration, or by the High Court, in case of arbitrations other than international commercial arbitration, as the case may be to take the necessary measure, unless the agreement on the appointment procedure provides other means for securing the appointment.

*(6-A) * * **

(6-B) The designation of any person or institution by the Supreme Court or, as the case may be, the High Court, for the purposes of this section shall not be regarded as a delegation of judicial power by the Supreme Court or the High Court."

38. Appointment of Arbitrator under Section 11 of the Act is made by "An arbitral institution designated by the High Court" and not by a "Court" as defined in Section 2 (e) of the Act. It is further clarified by Section 11 (6-B) of the Act, which provides that designation of any person or institution by the High Court for the purposes of this section shall not be regarded as a delegation of judicial power by the High Court.

39. When the authority designated by the High Court to make appointment of Arbitration under Section 11 of the Act has not been delegated any judicial powers by the High Court, filing of any application under Section 11(6) of the Act before 'An arbitral institution designated by the High Court' would not amount to filing any application under Part I of the Act in a Court. Therefore, the filing of an application under Section 11 at Allahabad would not create a bar under Section 42 of the Act against the exercise of jurisdiction by the Commercial Court at Lucknow.

40. Indus Mobile Distribution (P) Ltd. (Supra) lays down that the legislature has intentionally given jurisdiction to two courts i.e. the court which would have jurisdiction where the cause of action is located and the courts where the arbitration takes place and Emkay Global Financial Services Ltd. (Supra) lays down that the Courts at a particular place have exclusive jurisdiction, an application under Section 34 of the Act can be filed before the Courts at the place alone. The arbitration that was conducted at Aligarh only for the same of convenience.

41. As in the present case, the agreement between the parties provides that "all the dispute arising out of between the dispute arising out and touching or relating to subject matter of agreement contract shall be subject to jurisdiction of local courts of Lucknow and Lucknow bench of High Court of Judicature at Allahabad only", as per the law laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Indus Mobile Distribution (P)

Ltd. (Supra), which has been followed in Emkay Global Financial Services Ltd. (Supra), the Courts at Lucknow alone will have the jurisdiction to adjudicate upon an application under Section 34 of the Act and the respondent has rightly filed the application under Section 34 of the Act at Lucknow.

42. In view of the aforesaid discussion, I am of the considered view that there is no illegality in the impugned order dated 07.03.2024 passed by the Commercial Court No. 2, Lucknow in Arbitration Case No. 126 of 2023 rejecting the petitioner's objection regarding lack of territorial jurisdiction at Lucknow.

43. The petition lacks merits and is hereby dismissed.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1242
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 17.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SHEKHAR B. SARAF, J.

Matter Under Article 227 No. 2199 of 2023

M/S Devi Dayal Trust & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
M/S Rajhans Towers Pvt. Ltd. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Manish Goyal, Sr. Adv., Sri Nikhil Mishra

Counsel for the Respondent:
Sri Munna Pandey, Sri Harshit Pandey

Civil Law - Constitution of India,1950 - Article 227- Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 - - Sections 11, 34 & 42 – Petitioner-Commercial Court's order holding lack of territorial jurisdiction to adjudicate application under Section 34 of the Act challenged- Section 42 of the Act- Once an application filed under Part I of the Act in a court- Subsequent applications pertaining to the same arbitral agreement to be made before the same court- Principle of jurisdictional exclusivity- ensures uniformity in adjudication of arbitral matters- Applications under Sections 8 and 11 are exception to the bar placed by Section 42- Venue cannot be exalted to the status of seat- Doctrine of forum non conveniens not applicable- Application under Section 34 to be filed before Gautam Buddh Nagar Court- Article 227 of the Constitution of India- High Court can set aside the order passed by Commercial Court- Petition allowed. (Paras 8, 10, 16, 17 and 20)

HELD:

Section 42 of the Act encapsulates the principle of jurisdictional exclusivity. It stipulates that once an application under Part 1 of the Act is made in a court with respect to an arbitration agreement, all subsequent applications under Part 1 of the Act will have to made before that court only. By vesting exclusive jurisdiction in a single court, Section 42 of the Act obviates the possibility of conflicting judgements and ensures uniformity in the adjudication of arbitral matters. (Para 8)

As such, the argument presented by the Respondents that since the application under Section 11 of the Act was made before the High Court of Delhi, all subsequent applications will have to be made before the High Court of Delhi, is devoid of any merit and is rejected. The rationale underlying this exception lies in the recognition of the distinctive nature of applications under Section 8 and Section 11 of the Act, which necessitate specialized adjudication and prompt intervention. Furthermore, since the arbitral clause between the parties, provides for only a venue and not a seat, it is not open for the respondent to argue that the venue in the instant case should be exalted to the status of seat. This is due to the bar placed by Section 42 of the Act, since an application under Section 9 had already been filed before the District Court at Gautam Buddh Nagar. (Para 10)

The question that remains now is whether this Court in exercise of its powers under Article 227

of the Constitution of India can set aside the impugned order passed by the District Court at Gautam Buddh Nagar returning the application filed under Section 34 of the Act for want of territorial jurisdiction. (Para 17)

Article 227 of the Constitution of India bestows upon the High Courts an extraordinary power of superintendence over all courts and tribunal within their respective jurisdiction. This power is a potent tool for ensuring the proper administration of justice and upholding the rule of law. It serves as a bulwark against judicial error, administrative excess, and procedural irregularity. Power of superintendence under Article 227 is inherent in the High Courts by virtue of their status of superior courts of record. This inherent jurisdiction enables the High Courts to exercise oversight over all subordinate courts and tribunals, irrespective of whether specific statutory provisions provide for such supervision. (Para 18)

Petition allowed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. St. of W. B.l Vs Associated Contractor (2015) 1 SCC 32

2. M/s Ravi Ranjan Developers Pvt. Ltd. Vs Aditya Kumar Chatterjee reported in SLP(C)17397 of 2021 (SC)

3. Manjusha Premi & ors. Vs Prakash Gupta & ors.(2016) 6 All LJ 695

4. Dalim Kumar Chakraborty Vs Smt. Gouri Biswar & anr. 2018 SCC Online Cal 282

5. Magma Fincorp Ltd. Vs Maa Vaishno Sales Pvt. Ltd. & ors.2015 SCC Online Cal 6267

6. M/s Gammon Engineers & Contractors Pvt. Ltd. Vs The St. of West Bengal AIR 2023 Cal. 338

7. SBP & Co. Vs Patel Engineer Ltd. (2005) 8 SCC 618

8. St. of Jharkhand Vs Hindustan Constructions (2018) 2 SCC 602

9. St. of West Bengal Vs Associated Contractor (2015) 1 SCC 32

10. Lafarge India Pvt. Ltd. Vs Kishore Kumar Sahoo AIR 2017 Cal 116.

11. BGS SGS Soma Vs NHPC Ltd. (2020) 4 SCC 234

12. Hindustan Construction Co. Ltd. Vs NHPC Ltd. & anr. (2020) 4 SCC 310

13. Homevista Decor & Furnishing Pvt. Ltd. & anr. Vs Connect Residuary Private Limited A.P. No. 358 of 2020 decided on 08.06.2023

14. Estelia Rubber -Vs- Dass ESt. (P) Ltd. (2001) 8 SCC 97

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shekhar B. Saraf, J.)

1. This is a writ petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India wherein the petitioner is aggrieved by the order dated March 15, 2022 passed by the Commercial Court, Gautam Buddh Nagar by which the Commercial Court held that it lacks the territorial jurisdiction to adjudicate the application filed under Section 34 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 (hereinafter referred to as “the Act”) by the petitioner. The Commercial Court, Gautam Buddh Nagar accordingly, returned the said application with liberty granted to the petitioner to file the said application before the appropriate territorial court.

2. The facts of the instant case are delineated below:

(a) The parties herein entered into an agreement which contained an arbitration clause.

(b) As disputes and differences arose between the parties, the respondent filed an application under Section 9 of the Act before the Commercial Court, Gautam Buddh Nagar on March 20, 2007.

(c) Subsequently, the petitioners filed an application under Section 11 of the Act before the High Court of Delhi. The High Court of Delhi passed an order on September 11, 2007 appointing the sole arbitrator to decide the dispute between the parties. Subsequently, the arbitrator passed an award on July 3, 2017.

(d) Challenging the said award, the petitioners filed an application under Section 34 of the Act before the Commercial Court, Gautam Buddh Nagar which was dismissed for want of territorial jurisdiction vide order dated March 15, 2022. Hence, the instant petition has been filed challenging the said order.

CONTENTIONS OF THE PETITIONERS

3. Counsel appearing for the petitioners has made the following submissions:

(i) Since the application under Section 9 of the Act was filed before the Commercial Court, Gautam Buddh Nagar, the exclusive jurisdiction for hearing the Section 34 application would also lie with the Commercial Court, Gautam Buddh Nagar. Reliance in this regard is placed upon the judgments rendered in State of West Bengal v. Associated Contractor reported in (2015) 1 SCC 32; M/s Ravi Ranjan Developers Pvt. Ltd. v. Aditya Kumar Chatterjee reported in SLP(C)17397 of 2021 (SC); Manjusha Premi and Others v. Prakash Gupta and Others reported in (2016) 6 All LJ 695; Dalim Kumar Chakraborty v. Smt. Gouri Biswar and Another reported in 2018 SCC Online Cal 282; Magma Fincorp Limited v. Maa Vaishno Sales Pvt. Ltd. and Others reported in 2015 SCC Online Cal 6267 and M/s Gammon Engineers & Contractors Pvt. Ltd. v. The State of West Bengal reported in AIR 2023 Cal. 338.

(ii) Furthermore, the filing of the application under Section 11 of the Act before the Delhi High Court, as the venue was fixed in Delhi would not make it the seat of arbitration. Reliance is placed upon the judgments rendered in SBP & Co. v. Patel Engineer Ltd. reported in (2005) 8 SCC 618; State of Jharkhand v. Hindustan Constructions reported in (2018) 2 SCC 602; State of West Bengal v. Associated Contractor reported in (2015) 1 SCC 32; Manjusha Premi and Others v. Prakash Gupta and Others reported in (2016) 6 All LJ 695 and Lafarge India Private Limited v. Kishore Kumar Sahoo reported in AIR 2017 Cal 116.

(iii) Since the application under Section 9 of the Act was made before the Commercial Court, Gautam Budh Nagar, all the subsequent applications under Part-I of the Act will have to be made before the same Court.

(iv) Bar placed by Section 42 of the Act does not apply to an application under Section 11 of the Act and, therefore, despite the fact that the Section 11 application was filed before the Delhi High Court, the same would not confer jurisdiction upon the Delhi High Court to hear other applications under the Part-I of the Act.

(v) Relying upon the judgment of the Supreme Court in M/s Ravi Ranjan Developers Pvt. Ltd. case (supra), it is submitted that the doctrine of estoppel would apply upon the respondent as they have themselves filed the application under Section 9 of the Act before the Commercial Court, Gautam Buddh Nagar. They cannot now contend that the jurisdiction for filing the application under Section 34 of the Act would lie before the High Court of Delhi.

(vi) Unless the agreement specifically provides for it, venue cannot be treated as the seat of arbitration unless there is contrary indicia present. In the instant case, filing of the application under Section 9 of the Act before the Commercial Court, Gautam Buddh Nagar, acts as contrary indicia preventing the venue to be elevated to the status of seat.

CONTENTIONS OF THE RESPONDENT

4. Counsel appearing for the respondent has made the following submissions:

(i) In the agreement dated 19.05.2006 between the parties, clause being clause No.53 clearly stipulates that if any disputes or differences arises between the parties in any manner whatsoever, they shall be referred to arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Act and the "venue" of arbitration proceedings shall be at Delhi.

(ii) As clause 53 of the agreement, expressly designates a "venue" and does not designate of any alternative place as the "seat" the inexorable conclusion is that the venue is to be treated as the juridical seat of the arbitral proceedings.

(iii) Since proceedings were finally held at New Delhi without any objection and award was signed in New Delhi as both the parties have chosen New Delhi to be the, the same confers exclusive jurisdiction upon the Courts at New Delhi.

(iv) An application was filed by the Respondent before the High Court of Delhi for appointment of an arbitrator under Section 11 of the Act. The petitioner herein did not file any objection to the same.

(v) The order dated March 15, 2022 passed by the Commercial Court, Gautam Buddh Nagar is perfectly legal, fully justified and as such no interference by this Court is warranted against the same.

(vi) The Supreme Court in the case of BGS SGS Soma v. NHPC Ltd. reported in (2020) 4 SCC 234 and in Hindustan Construction Company Ltd. v. NHPC Ltd. and Another reported in 2020 4 SCC 310 has held that whenever there is a designation of a place of arbitration in an arbitration clause as being the venue of the arbitration proceeding the expression “arbitration proceedings" would make it clear that the venue is actually the "seat" of the arbitral proceedings.

(vii) The High Court of Calcutta after due deliberations has held in A.P. No. 358 of 2020 decided on 08.06.2023 (Homevista Decor and Furnishing Pvt. Ltd. and another v. Connect Residuary Private Limited) that the courts of the place selected as having exclusive jurisdiction over disputes should be considered as "Seat" thereby having exclusive jurisdiction to entertain applications under the Act.

ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

5. I have heard the learned counsel appearing for the parties and perused the materials on record.

6. Since the crux of the instant dispute revolves around the bar placed by Section 42 of the Act, I have extracted the same herein for ease of reference:

“42. Jurisdiction.—Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Part or in any other law for the time being in force, where with respect to an arbitration agreement any application under this Part has been made in a Court, that Court alone shall have jurisdiction over the arbitral proceedings and all subsequent applications arising out of that agreement and the arbitral proceedings shall be made in that Court and in no other Court."

7. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in BGS SGS SOMA JV -v- NHPC Limited reported in (2020) 4 SCC 234 espoused the intent and purpose behind Section 42 of the Act as follows:

"59.Equally incorrect is the finding inAntrix Corpn. Ltd.[Antrix Corpn. Ltd.v.Devas Multimedia (P) Ltd., 2018 SCC OnLine Del 9338] that Section 42 of the Arbitration Act, 1996 would be rendered ineffective and useless. Section 42 is meant to avoid conflicts in jurisdiction of courts by placing the supervisory jurisdiction over all arbitral proceedings in connection with the arbitration in one court exclusively. This is why the section begins with anon obstanteclause, and then goes on to state "...where with respect to an arbitration agreement any application under this part has been made in a court..." It is obvious that the application made under this part to a court must be a court which has jurisdiction to decide such application. The subsequent holdings of this court, that where a seat is designated in an agreement, the courts of the seat alone have jurisdiction, would require that all applications under Part I be made only in the court where the seat is located, and that court alone then has jurisdiction over the arbitral proceedings and all subsequent applications arising out of the arbitral agreement. So read, Section 42 is not rendered ineffective or useless. Also, where it is found on the facts of a particular case that either no "seat" is designated by agreement, or the so-called "seat" is only a convenient "venue", then there may be several courts where a part of the cause of action arises that may have jurisdiction. Again, an application under Section 9 of the Arbitration Act, 1996 may be preferred before a court in which part of the cause of action arises in a case where parties have not agreed on the "seat" of arbitration, and before such "seat" may have been determined, on the facts of a particular case, by the Arbitral Tribunal under Section 20(2) of the Arbitration Act, 1996. In both these situations, the earliest application having been made to a court in which a part of the cause of action arises would then be the exclusive court under Section 42, which would have control over the arbitral proceedings. For all these reasons, the law stated by the Bombay and Delhi High Courts in this regard is incorrect and is overruled."

(Emphasis Added)

8. Section 42 of the Act encapsulates the principle of jurisdictional exclusivity. It stipulates that once an application under Part 1 of the Act is made in a court with respect to an arbitration agreement, all subsequent applications under Part 1 of the Act will have to made before that court only. By vesting exclusive jurisdiction in a single court, Section 42 of the Act obviates the possibility of conflicting judgements and ensures uniformity in the adjudication of arbitral matters. When two entities embroiled in a commercial disagreement, opt for arbitration as their chosen mode of resolution, they may often find themselves at the crossroads of jurisdictional ambiguity. It is here that Section 42 of the Act assumes pivotal importance. By centralizing jurisdiction in a designate court, Section 42 of the Act mitigates the risk of parallel proceedings, thus expediting the resolution of disputes and reducing legal costs.

9. The only exceptions to the bar placed by Section 42 of the Act are applications made under Section 8 of the Act or Section 11 of the Act. Reference in this regard can be made to the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in State of West Bengal -v- Associated Contractors (supra) wherein it was held as follows:

"25.Our conclusions therefore on Section 2(1)(e) and Section 42 of the Arbitration Act, 1996 are as follows:

(a) Section 2(1)(e) contains an exhaustive definition marking out only the Principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction in a district or a High Court having original civil jurisdiction in the State, and no other court as "court" for the purpose of Part I of the Arbitration Act, 1996.

(b) The expression "with respect to an arbitration agreement" makes it clear that Section 42 will apply to all applications made whether before or during arbitral proceedings or after an award is pronounced under Part I of the 1996 Act.

(c) However, Section 42 only applies to applications made under Part I if they are made to a court as defined. Since applications made under Section 8 are made to judicial authorities and since applications under Section 11 are made to the Chief Justice or his designate, the judicial authority and the Chief Justice or his designate not being court as defined, such applications would be outside Section 42.

(d) Section 9 applications being applications made to a court and Section 34 applications to set aside arbitral awards are applications which are within Section 42.

(e) In no circumstances can the Supreme Court be "court" for the purposes of Section 2(1)(e), and whether the Supreme Court does or does not retain seisin after appointing an arbitrator, applications will follow the first application made before either a High Court having original jurisdiction in the State or a Principal Civil Court having original jurisdiction in the district, as the case may be.

(f) Section 42 will apply to applications made after the arbitral proceedings have come to an end provided they are made under Part I.

(g) If a first application is made to a court which is neither a Principal Court of Original Jurisdiction in a district or a High Court exercising original jurisdiction in a State, such application not being to a court as defined would be outside Section 42. Also, an application made to a court without subject-matter jurisdiction would be outside Section 42.

The reference is answered accordingly."

(Emphasis Added)

10. As such, the argument presented by the Respondents that since the application under Section 11 of the Act was made before the High Court of Delhi, all subsequent applications will have to be made before the High Court of Delhi, is devoid of any merit and is rejected. The rationale underlying this exception lies in the recognition of the distinctive nature of applications under Section 8 and Section 11 of the Act, which necessitate specialized adjudication and prompt intervention. Furthermore, since the arbitral clause between the parties, provides for only a venue and not a seat, it is not open for the respondent to argue that the venue in the instant case should be exalted to the status of seat. This is due to the bar placed by Section 42 of the Act, since an application under Section 9 had already been filed before the District Court at Gautam Buddh Nagar.

11. Whether initiated before, during, or after the conclusion of arbitration, applications under Part 1 of the Act are subject to the jurisdictional constraints imposed by Section 42 of the Act. By availing itself of the jurisdiction of the District Court at Gautam Buddh Nagar, the respondent implicitly recognized the authority of that court to adjudicate matters arising out of the arbitration agreement between the parties. This recognition, coupled with the principles of estoppel, precludes the respondent from subsequently disavowing the jurisdiction of the court at Gautam Buddh Nagar to entertain subsequent applications under Part 1 of the Act.

12. The principle of estoppel operates to prevent a party from resiling its prior representations or conduct to the detriment of another party. Here, the respondent's prior invocation of the jurisdiction of the court at Gautam Buddh Nagar under Section 9 of the Act constitutes a deliberate and unequivocal submission to the authority of that court. Having voluntarily invoked the jurisdiction of the said court, the respondent is estopped from adopting a position contrary to its prior conduct to the detriment of the petitioner. Additionally, the doctrine of forum non conveniens, which empowers a court to decline jurisdiction in favour of a more appropriate forum, is not applicable in the present case. The respondent's attempt to evade the jurisdiction of the court at Gautam Buddh Nagar is nothing but an effort to the circumvent the jurisdictional constraints imposed by Section 42 of the Act.

13. In M/s Ravi Ranjan Developers Pvt. Ltd. case (supra), the Supreme Court propounded that once the parties have invoked the jurisdiction of a court, they are estopped from invoking the jurisdiction of another court. Relevant paragraph is extracted herein:

"48.In this case, the parties, as observed above did not agree to refer their disputes to the jurisdiction of the Courts in Kolkata. It was not the intention of the parties that Kolkata should be the seat of arbitration. Kolkata was only intended to be the venue for arbitration sittings. Accordingly, the Respondent himself approached the District Court at Muzaffarpur, and not a Court in Kolkata for interim protection under Section 9 of the A&C Act. The Respondent having himself invoked the jurisdiction of the District Court at Muzaffarpur, is estopped from contending that the parties had agreed to confer exclusive jurisdiction to the Calcutta High Court to the exclusion of other Courts. Neither of the parties to the agreement construed the arbitration clause to designate Kolkata as the seat of arbitration. We are constrained to hold that Calcutta High Court inherently lacks jurisdiction to entertain the application of the Respondent under Section 11(6) of the Arbitration Act. The High Court should have decided the objection raised by the Appellant, to the jurisdiction of the Calcutta High Court, to entertain the application under Section 11(6) of A&C Act, before appointing an Arbitrator."

(Emphasis Added)

14. In Gammon Engineers and Contracts Pvt. Ltd. -v- State of West Bengal (supra) while dealing with a similar issue, I had concluded that since an application has already been made under Section 9 of the Act at Jalpaiguri, all subsequent applications will lie at Jalpaiguri in light of the bar placed by Section 42 of the Act. Relevant paragraph is extracted herein:

"21.The ratio of the judgment inSwadesh Kumar Agarwal(supra) must be kept in mind, wherein the court has categorically held in paragraph 32 that once an appointment is made under Section 11, the arbitration agreement cannot be invoked for the second time under Section 11. The procedure prescribed in the Act for termination of an arbitral tribunal's mandate is as per Sections 14 and 15 of the Act. The argument raised by the petitioner that a petition can be filed under Section 14 read with Section 15 and Section 11(6) is an argument in sophistry and is superfluous. This is quite evident from the ratio of the judgment inSwadesh Kumar Agarwal(supra), which has been specifically delineated in paragraph 32 of the said judgment and pointed out by me in the preceding paragraphs. In the present case, a Section 9 application was already made to the District Judge at Jalpaiguri, which is, for all purposes, the 'court' under Section 2(1)(e) of the Act. Therefore, the bar under Section 42 would lie and all applications to be made to a 'court' must be made to the District Judge at Jalpaiguri. An application under Section 14(1)(a) for termination of an arbitrator's mandate, being required to be made before a 'court' as under Section 2(1)(e) and 42 of the Act, has to presented before the District Judge at Jalpaiguri. In light of the above, A.P. 785 of 2022 is disposed of for not being maintainable before the High Court at this stage.I make it clear that the findings with regard to merits of the case in the preceding paragraphs are tentative in nature and the appropriate court shall decide the Section 14 application in accordance with law."

15. In Manjusha Premi and Others -v- Prakash Gupta and Others (supra), this Court held that the bar placed by Section 42 of the Act will apply to applications made under Section 9 of the Act. Relevant paragraphs are extracted herein:

"40.He had further submitted that since first application under section 9 of the Act was filed before the District Judge, Varanasi on 28.10.2006, the Varanasi Court in the light of section 42 of the Act would alone have the jurisdiction. The aforesaid case has also discussed in detailed in previous paragraphs.

41.Referring to the judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court in the case ofSwastik Gases Private Limited(supra) he submitted that unless the jurisdiction of the Court is excluded in expression as such "exclusive" "alone" "only" the jurisdiction of a Court would not be excluded. For this purpose, a reference would not be excluded. On the strength of the aforesaid, he submitted that since there was no specific clause providing jurisdiction to a Court, thus the jurisdiction of a Civil Court is to be decided with reference to section 2(1)(e) of the Act and thus the same would be at Varanasi in the present case.

42.Sri K.K. Arora had also placed reliance on a decision of Hon'ble Apex Court in the case ofState of West Bengal(supra) to submit that if the proceedings initiated is one of the nature of section 8(before judicial authority) and section 11 of the Act (the Chief Justice or his delegates) applications filed before the Court inferior to the Principal Civil Court or to High Court having no original jurisdiction, the bar contained in section 42 would not apply. However, application filed under section 9 of the Act very much within the purview of section 42 as they are filed before the Court.

43.Undisputedly, the application under section 11 of the Act is filed before the Hon'ble Chief Justice or his delegates, which is not a "Court" in the eye of law and as such clearly, the provision of section 42 of the Act would not apply but the same would certainly be applicable if the application is filed under section 9 of the Act, which was done at the first instance before the District Judge, Varanasi on 28.10.2006 in the present case.

44.In view of the aforesaid discussion and the fact that admittedly the property in dispute is situated at Varanasi and the first application under section 9 of the Act was filed on 28.10.2006 in the Court of District Judge, Varanasi, which is undisputedly the Principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in a district having jurisdiction to decide questions forming subject-matter of the arbitration as provided under section 2(1)(e) of the Act, as section 42 of the Act had specifically provided that where with respect to any arbitration agreement when any application under this part (Part 1 of the Act which relates to domestic award) has been made in a Court, that Court shall have jurisdiction over the arbitral proceedings and all subsequent applications arising out of the agreement and the arbitral proceedings shall be made in that Court and in no other Court, leaves no doubt that the Principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction at Varanasii.e., District Judge, Varanasi will have the jurisdiction to entertain application under section 34 of the Act against the arbitral award."

16. Accordingly, this Court holds that in light of Section 42 of the Act, the application under Section 34 of the Act, or for that matter any other application under Part 1 of the Act, will have to be made at Gautam Buddh Nagar.

17. The question that remains now is whether this Court in exercise of its powers under Article 227 of the Constitution of India can set aside the impugned order passed by the District Court at Gautam Buddh Nagar returning the application filed under Section 34 of the Act for want of territorial jurisdiction.

18. Article 227 of the Constitution of India bestows upon the High Courts an extraordinary power of superintendence over all courts and tribunal within their respective jurisdiction. This power is a potent tool for ensuring the proper administration of justice and upholding the rule of law. It serves as a bulwark against judicial error, administrative excess, and procedural irregularity. Power of superintendence under Article 227 is inherent in the High Courts by virtue of their status of superior courts of record. This inherent jurisdiction enables the High Courts to exercise oversight over all subordinate courts and tribunals, irrespective of whether specific statutory provisions provide for such supervision.

19. In Estelia Rubber -v- Dass Estate (P) Ltd. reported in (2001) 8 SCC 97, the Hon'ble Supreme Court reiterated the scope of Article 227 as follows:

"6.The scope and ambit of exercise of power and jurisdiction by a High Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India is examined and explained in a number of decisions of this Court. The exercise of power under this article involves a duty on the High Court to keep inferior courts and tribunals within the bounds of their authority and to see that they do the duty expected or required of them in a legal manner. The High Court is not vested with any unlimited prerogative to correct all kinds of hardship or wrong decisions made within the limits of the jurisdiction of the subordinate courts or tribunals. Exercise of this power and interfering with the orders of the courts or tribunals is restricted to cases of serious dereliction of duty and flagrant violation of fundamental principles of law or justice, where if the High Court does not interfere, a grave injustice remains uncorrected. It is also well settled that the High Court while acting under this article cannot exercise its power as an appellate court or substitute its own judgment in place of that of the subordinate court to correct an error, which is not apparent on the face of the record. The High Court can set aside or ignore the findings of facts of an inferior court or tribunal, if there is no evidence at all to justify or the finding is so perverse, that no reasonable person can possibly come to such a conclusion, which the court or tribunal has come to."

20. In light of the aforesaid, it is palpably clear that the Commercial Court at Gautam Buddh Nagar has failed to exercise its jurisdiction. Accordingly, this Court, in exercise of its power under Article 227 of the Constitution of India sets aside the impugned order dated March 15, 2022 passed by the Commercial Court, Gautam Buddh Nagar. This Court also directs the Commercial Court, Gautam Buddh Nagar to adjudicate the application filed by the petitioners under Section 34 of the Act expeditiously, preferably within a period of six months from date.

21. With the above directions, this petition is allowed. There shall be no order as to the costs.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1251
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 21.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Matter Under Article 227 No. 2475 of 2024

Chitra Misra & Ors. ...Petitioners

Versus

M/S Decathlon Sport India Pvt. Ltd. & Anr. ...Opp. Parties

Counsel for the Petitioners:
British Kumar, Amal Rastogi

Counsel for the Opp. Parties:
Sanjeev Singh

Civil Law - Arbitration & Conciliation Act, 1996 – Sections 7, 11, 16(2) & 37 - Commercial Court Act, 2005 - Section 13(1A) - Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 – Sections 14 & 238 - Transfer of Property Act, 1882 - Section 109 - Claimants have purchased various portions of property, taken on lease by respondent no. 1 from M/s Rohtas Projects Limited, in violation of terms and conditions of registered lease deed - There is no arbitration agreement between the petitioners and respondent no. 1, the petitioners initiated arbitration proceedings claiming payment of arrears of rent, interest on arrears of rent, damages for use and occupation of property at the rate of rent, interest on damages, eviction of respondent no. 1 from demise premises and cost of proceedings - The proceedings under IBC have been initiated against lessor M/s Rohtas Projects Limited - A Resolution Professional has been appointed by NCLT, New Delhi - Respondents have deposited entire arrears of rent and damages etc. in NCLT and already vacated the premises in dispute – Hence, in view of facts and circumstances, orders passed by Sole Arbitrator and Commercial Court, Lucknow didn't require any interference, dismissed. (Para 43, 44) Petition dismissed. (E-13)

List of Cases cited:

1. Mayavati Trading (P) Ltd. versus Pradyuat Deb Burman, (2019) 8 SCC 714

2. Duro Felguera, S.A. versus Gangavaram Port Ltd., (2017) 9 SCC 729

3. Vidya Drolia & ors. Vs Navrang Studios: (1981) 1 SCC 523

4. Food Corporation of India Versus Indian Council of Arbitration & ors.: AIR 2003 SC 3011

5. Hindustan Petroleum Corporation Limited Versus Pink City Midway Petroleum: AIR 2003 SC 2881

6. Shri Subh Laxmi Fabrics (P) Limited Versus Chandmal Barodia & ors.: AIR 2005 SC 2261

7. Ambica Prasad Vs Alam & ors.: (2015) 13 SCC 13

8. Surender Kumar Singhal Vs Arun Kumar Bhalotia, 2021 SCC OnLine Del 3708

9. ONGC Ltd. Vs Discovery Enterprises (P) Ltd., (2022) 8 SCC 42

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi J.)

1. Heard Sri Pritish Kumar and Sri Amal Rastogi Advocates, the learned counsel for the petitioners and Sri S.C. Mishra, Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Sanjeev Singh, Advocate for the respondents.

2. By means of instant petition filed under Article 227 of the Constitution of India, the petitioners have challenged the validity of an order dated 15.07.2022 passed by Hon'ble Justice Shri Dilip B. Bhosale (retired), Sole Arbitrator in the arbitration proceedings instituted by the petitioners against the respondents, whereby an application under Section 16(2) of the Arbitration & Conciliation Act, 1996 (hereinafter referred to as 'the Arbitration Act') has been allowed and the arbitration proceedings have been dropped for want of jurisdiction, leaving it open to the parties to take appropriate remedy for redressal of their grievances at proper stage before appropriate Forum. The petitioners have also challenged the validity of the judgment and order dated 30.01.2024 passed by the Presiding Officer, Commercial Court No. 1, Lucknow in Arbitration Case No. 124 of 2022, dismissing an application under Section 13(1A) of the Commercial Court Act, 2005 read with Section 37 of the Arbitration Act, filed by the petitioners, challenging the aforesaid order dated 15.07.2022 passed by the Sole Arbitrator.

3. Briefly stated, facts of the case are that M/s Rohtas Projects Limited had executed a lease deed dated 07.04.2017 in favour of M/s Decathlon Sports India Private Ltd (the respondent no. 1), letting out an area of 21,825 Square feet i.e. 2,028 square meters, bearing Unit Nos. GF-01, GF-02, GF-03, GF-04, GF-05, GF-06, GF-07, GF-08, GF-9, GF-9A, GF-9B, GF-10A, GF-10B, GF-10C at Plot No. TC-G 4/4 in Rohtas Presidential Arcade situated in Vibhuti Khand, Gomti Nagar, Lucknow, for a period of 20 years.

4. The petitioner no. 2, Hina Juneja had entered into an agreement to purchase the unit no. GF-03 on 21.05.2013 and an agreement to sell Unit No. GF-05 of the Complex was executed in favour of Vijay Path Traders Link Private Limited on 28.03.2012. Rest of the petitioners claim to have purchased various units forming part of the leased premises from M/s Rohtas Projects Ltd. subsequent to execution of the lease deed in favour of the respondent no.1

5. The petitioners filed an Arbitration application No. 48 of 2020 before this Court under Section 11 of the Arbitration Act stating that they had been allotted commercial units by M/s Rohtas Projects Limited. M/s Rohtas Projects Limited had executed a lease deed in favour of respondent no. 1 for an area measuring 21825 square feet on 07.04.2017 for a period of 20 years w.e.f. 16.01.2017. The petitioners had obtained transfers of various portions of the leased property between the years of 2017-2018 from M/s Rohtas Projects Limited. The petitioners requested the respondent no. 1 to clear the outstanding liability of payment of rent under the lease deed executed by M/s Rohtas Projects Limited in favour of respondent no. 1 and upon failure of the respondent no. 1 to clear the dues, they issued a joint notice dated 25.08.2020 terminating the tenancy of respondent no. 1 created by the lease deed dated 07.04.2017 executed by M/s Rohtas Projects Limited. They requested this Court to appoint an Arbitrator for adjudication of the dispute between the parties. Elaborate submissions were advanced on behalf of the parties in proceedings under Section 11 of the Arbitration Act.

6. The learned counsel for the petitioner had placed reliance on the decision of Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Mayavati Trading (P) Ltd. versus Pradyuat Deb Burman, (2019) 8 SCC 714, wherein the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that the scope of judicial intervention, as per under Section 11(6-A) is confined to examination of the existence of Arbitral Agreement and is to be understood in the narrow sense as has been laid down in the judgment rendered in Duro Felguera, S.A. versus Gangavaram Port Ltd., (2017) 9 SCC 729, wherein it was held that: - "in the event the court/judicial authority is prima facie satisfied against the argument challenging the arbitration agreement, it shall appoint the arbitrator and/or refer the parties to arbitration, as the case may be. The amendment envisages that the judicial authority shall not refer the parties to arbitration only if it finds that there does not exist an arbitration agreement or that it is null and void. If the judicial authority is of the opinion that prima facie the arbitration agreement exists, then it shall refer the dispute to arbitration, and leave the existence of the arbitration agreement to be finally determined by the Arbitral Tribunal. However, if the judicial authority concludes that the agreement does not exist, then the conclusion will be final and not prima facie. The amendment also envisages that there shall be a conclusive determination as to whether the arbitration agreement is null and void. In the event that the judicial authority refers the dispute to arbitration and/or appoints an arbitrator, under Sections 8 and 11 respectively, such a decision will be final and non-appealable. An appeal can be maintained under Section 37 only in the event of refusal to refer parties to arbitration, or refusal to appoint an arbitrator."

7. Learned counsel for the petitioner had also referred to a decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Vidya Drolia and Others Vs. Navrang Studios: (1981) 1 SCC 523, wherein Hon'ble Supreme Court held as under: -

"Whether Arbitration Agreement was in writing? or whether Arbitration agreement was contained in exchange of letters, telecommunication, etc.? or whether the Core contractual ingredients qua the arbitration agreement were fulfilled?, or whether the subject matter of dispute is arbitrable."

If the Court prima facie comes to a conclusion that there is no valid arbitration agreement then it would not refer the matter to an Arbitrator but on the other hand, if the validity of the Arbitration agreement cannot be determined on a prima facie basis then it should refer the matter to Arbitration. "Therefore, the Rule for the Court is "when in doubt, do refer".

8. After recording the submissions advanced by learned counsel for the parties, this Court passed an order dated 25.08.2021 in Arbitration Application No. 48 of 2020. The relevant portion of the order is as under: -

"(16) In view of the aforesaid, this Court proposes the name of Justice Anant Kumar (Retired) Resident of Flat No.703, Indraprastha Grand, Sector-4 A, Vrindavan Yojana, Near Kandhai Park, Lucknow, Mobile No.8004928592 as Sole Arbitrator.

(17) Let the notice in terms of Section 12 (6) of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996, be sent to the newly proposed Arbitrator for seeking his consent, list this matter on 16.09.2021."

9. The Arbitrator proposed by the order dated 25.08.2021 did not give his consent and, therefore, Hon'ble Justice Shri Dilip B. Bhosale (retired) was appointed as the sole Arbitrator by means of an order dated 06.10.2021.

10. The petitioners filed a statement of claim before the sole Arbitrator on 26.11.2021.

11. The respondents filed an application under Section 16(2) of the Arbitration Act on 28.10.2021 praying for dismissal of the arbitration proceedings initiated by the petitioners, as the Arbitral Tribunal does not have the jurisdiction to decide the dispute. A further prayer was made for stay of the proceedings, as per the moratorium imposed on institution of any proceeding as per Section 14 of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 (hereinafter referred to as 'the IBC').

12. The respondents had inter alia stated in the application under Section 16(2) of the Arbitration Act that before execution of the lease deed dated 07.04.2017 in favour of the respondent no. 1, the owner of the premises, M/s Rohtas Projects Limited had executed two agreements to sell - (i) dated 21.05.2013 in respect of unit GF-03 in favour of Hina Juneja (petitioner no. 2) and (ii) dated 28.03.2012 in respect of unit GF-05 in favour of M/s Vijay Path Traders Link Private Limited but no sale deed has been executed in respect of those units at that point of time. The respondent no. 1 had taken the property on lease under a bona fide belief that the same was free from all encumbrances and it had made substantial investments to further develop the property at its own expenses. The respondent no. 1 has stated that several of the petitioners did not have registered sale deeds in their favour. Three of the petitioners had not even an agreement to sell executed in their favour. The petitioners had invoked the arbitration agreement between the Respondent no. 1 and M/s Rohtas Projects Limited without impleading M/s Rohtas Projects Limited as a party and they had wrongly impleaded the respondent no. 1 whereas there was no arbitration agreement between the petitioners and the respondent no. 1.

13. The respondent no. 1 further contended that the proceedings under the IBC were already pending before the National Law Company Tribunal, New Delhi (hereinafter referred to as "the NCLT"), wherein a moratorium had been imposed under Section 14 of the IBC, according to which the proceedings cannot be initiated against M/s Rohtas Projects Ltd. in any other court of law. Section 238 of the IBC Code, 2016 gives an overriding effect to it or over other statute.

14. The respondent no. 1 also placed reliance upon the Clause 19 of the lease agreement, which prohibits creation of any third party interest in respect of any part of the leased premises, without consent of the lessee and without execution of a tri-partite agreement regarding attornment of leasehold rights.

15. The petitioners filed objections against the application under Section 16(2) of the Act refuting the contentions of the respondents. The petitioners stated that most of them had sale deeds in their favour and the parties had acquired rights in respect of property prior to initiation of insolvency proceedings. The petitioners contended that this aspect had already been examined by this Court while passing the order dated 25.08.2021 under Section 11 of the Arbitration Act and, therefore, it could not be raised again.

16. The learned sole Arbitrator rejected the application under Section 16(2) of the Arbitration Act by means of impugned order dated 15.07.2022. It is s recorded in the order dated 15.07.2022 that the application under Section 16(2) of the Act questioning the jurisdiction of the Arbitral Tribunal has been filed on the following grounds: -

"(i) The Claimants have invoked the arbitration clause of the lease deed entered into between the Respondents and M/S Rohtas Projects Limited without making M/S Rohtas Projects Limited a party to the Arbitration Petition and the same is against the principles of natural justice.

(ii) Some of the parties do not hold a registered sale deed in their favour but they have also been made parties to the present arbitration proceedings and have been granted right to be part of the arbitration proceedings.

(iii) A moratorium has been imposed by the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) against initiation of any proceedings in any other court of law or tribunal and Section 238 of the IBC shall have overriding effect over all other laws and the present arbitration proceedings are barred by section 14(1)(a) of the said Code.

(iv) The Claimants did not exercise due diligence on the charges on the leased property despite the fact that they were aware of the lease deed that existed between the Respondents and M/S Rohtas Projects Limited.

(v) In view of the special provisions of the Uttar Pradesh Regulation of Urban Premises Tenancy Ordinance 2021, the arbitration proceeding initiated under the Act, which is a general law, is not maintainable in as much as the special law prevails over the general law of arbitration. The Claimants should have therefore filed their petition under the said Ordinance of 2021 and not under the provisions of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996."

17. The claimants/petitioners had opposed the application filed under Section 16(2) of the Act stating that the NCLT had jurisdiction to adjudicate on the issues regarding corporate insolvency of the corporate debtor Rohtas Projects Ltd. Only and not on any issues involved between the claimants and the respondents. The arbitration proceedings between the parties were not barred by the provisions of IBC. The petitioners further submitted that this High Court has passed the order under Section 11 of the Arbitration Act after being satisfied about the existence of an arbitration agreement between the parties.

18. The Tribunal relied upon the decisions in the cases of Food Corporation of India Versus Indian Council of Arbitration and Others: AIR 2003 SC 3011; Hindustan Petroleum Corporation

Limited Versus Pink City Midway Petroleum: AIR 2003 SC 2881 and Shri Subh Laxmi Fabrics (P) Limited Versus Chandmal Barodia and others: AIR 2005 SC 2261, wherein Hon'ble Supreme Court consistently held that if the question of jurisdiction of Arbitral Tribunal is raised by any party, the same has to be decided by the Arbitral Tribunal itself under Section 16 of the Act.

19. The Arbitrator held that in view of the moratorium imposed by the NCLT, the Arbitral Tribunal has no jurisdiction to proceed with the matter, therefore, although the learned counsel for the parties had made submissions touching rights and liabilities of the parties, the Arbitral Tribunal cannot embark upon to make any observation on the rights and liabilities of the parties as it has no jurisdiction to proceed with the matter.

20. The petitioners challenged the aforesaid order by filing an application under Section 13(1A) of the Commercial Court Act, 2015 read with Section 37 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996, which has been rejected by means of an order dated 30.01.2024 passed by the Presiding Officer, Commercial Court no. 1, Lucknow.

21. The Commercial Court held that although the moratorium imposed by the NCLT, New Delhi came to an end on 13.12.2021, proceedings were going on before the NCLT. The Arbitrator has dealt with the objections of the claimants/petitioners and has drawn detailed conclusion, which do not suffer from any legal error. The petitioners have already cancelled the lease deed granted by the lessor M/s Rohtas Projects Limited in favour of the respondents and the respondents have vacated the property in dispute and they have deposited the entire arrears of rent before the NCLT. In view of the aforesaid facts, the Commercial Court found that there was no ground to interfere in the impugned order dated 15.07.2022 passed by the Arbitral Tribunal and it dismissed the appeal.

22. While assailing the validity of both the aforesaid orders passed by the Arbitral Tribunal as well as the order passed by the Commercial Court no. 1, Lucknow, Sri Pritish Kumar, the learned counsel for the petitioners has submitted that the learned Arbitrator has wrongly recorded in the impugned order dated 15.07.2022 that "it is not in dispute that during pendency of the arbitration proceedings before this Arbitral Tribunal, the NCLT has imposed moratorium against the proceedings any other Forum in respect of the subject matter of the present arbitration proceedings", whereas the correct position is that the moratorium had been imposed by means of an order dated 30.09.2019 passed by the NCLT in C.P. No. IB-1022/(ND)/2018, whereas the arbitration proceedings commenced in the year, 2021. Learned counsel submitted that moratorium seized to have affect w.e.f. 13.12.2021, as per an order passed by the NCLT on the aforesaid date.

23. Sri Pritish Kumar has further submitted that the respondents had merely prayed in the application under Section 16(2) for stay of the proceedings, as per moratorium imposed on the institution of any proceedings as per Section 14 of the IBC, and the learned Arbitral Tribunal has committed an error in dropping the proceedings, instead of staying the same till lifting of the moratorium. Moreover, as the moratorium has already seized to be in force with effect from 13.12.2021 i.e. prior to passing of the order dated 15.07.2022, the learned Arbitrator was not justified in dropping the proceedings on the ground of the moratorium.

24. The learned counsel for the petitioners has also submitted that the petitioners being transferees of the lessor, possess the rights of lessor, as per the provision contained under Section 109 of the Transfer of Property Act. In support of his contention, he has placed reliance on a judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Ambica Prasad Vs. Alam and others: (2015) 13 SCC 13, wherein it was held that it is well settled "that a transferee of the landlord's rights steps into the shoes of the landlord with all the rights and liabilities of the transferrer landlord in respect of the subsisting tenancy". As per Sri. Pritish Kumar, this Section does not require that the transfer of the right of the landlord can take effect only if the tenant attorns to him and attornment is not necessary to confer validity to the transfer of the landlord's rights.

25. Per contra, Sri S. C. Mishra Senior Advocate appearing for the respondents has submitted that the lease deed dated 07.04.2017 executed by M/s Rohtas Projects Limited in favour of the respondent no. 1 mentions that the "Lessor" which expression shall, unless it be repugnant to the context or the meaning thereof, means and includes its successors and permitted assigns. Upon transfer of its rights by the lessor without permission of the lessee, the lessee was entitled to hold the monthly rentals of the lessor till execution of proper legal documentation/deed of attornment amongst the lessor, the lessee and the buyer, which was never done. The lease deed further categorically stated that the lessor had executed an agreement to sell Unit nos. GF-03 and GF-05 forming a part of the lease premises but neither the sale deeds had been executed nor had physical possession been handed over to the prospective buyer. The lessor undertook the responsibility of execution of attornment deed/supplementary deed with the buyers of the units before execution and registration of sale deeds in that regard.

26. Sri Mishra further submitted that the Resolution Professional, had submitted an application to NCLT, a copy whereof has been annexed by the petitioners themselves (at page no. 213 to 233 of the petition) stating that the members of the suspended Board of Directors of M/s Rohtas Projects Limited had executed sale deeds of various units to respondent nos. 5 to 15 in that application (including several of the petitioners), without obtaining 'No Objection Certificates' from the IDFC Limited and Allahabad Bank (now Indian Bank), with whom the units were mortgaged. The Resolution Professional requested for a declaration that the transactions of sale in respect of mortgaged property without seeking 'No Objection Certificates' from the secured creditors, is null and void and the effect of the said transfers be reversed.

27. The learned counsel for the petitioners has drawn attention of the Court to the statement of the Claim filed by the petitioners before the sole Arbitrator, wherein they have claimed arrears of rent, interest on arrears of rent, damages for use and occupation of property at the rate of rent, interest on damages, eviction of the respondent no. 1 from the demise premises and cost of the proceedings. He submitted that the respondents have already deposited the entire amount, payable in the NCLT and they have already vacated the premises, which contentions are not disputed by the learned Counsel for the petitioners. The respondents having already performed their part for redressal of the grievances raised by the petitioners through the Claim Petition, they are not liable to do anything else for satisfying the claims of the petitioners and, in these circumstances, it would not be in the interest of justice that the respondents are made to face the arbitration proceedings.

28. Sri Mishra has further submitted that it is not that the respondents had only prayed for stay of proceedings through their application under Section 16(2) of the Arbitration Act. The prayers made in the application under Section 16 are as follows: -

"Prayer:-

In the premises, it is most respectfully prayed that the learned sole Arbitrator may graciously be pleased to: -

(a) dismiss the arbitration initiated by the petitioners as the Hon'ble Arbitral Tribunal does not have jurisdiction to try the matter, and/or;

(b) stay the proceedings as per the moratorium imposed on the institution of any proceedings as per Section 14 of IBC; and/or;

(c) pass any other order as learned Sole Arbitrator may deem fit.

29. The existence of an arbitration agreement between the parties is the prerequisite for initiating arbitration proceedings. Arbitration agreement is defined in Section 7 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 as follows: -

" 7. Arbitration agreement.—(1) In this Part, "arbitration agreement" means an agreement by the parties to submit to arbitration all or certain disputes which have arisen or which may arise between them in respect of a defined legal relationship, whether contractual or not.*

(2) An arbitration agreement may be in the form of an arbitration clause in a contract or in the form of a separate agreement.

(3) An arbitration agreement shall be in writing.

(4) An arbitration agreement is in writing if it is contained in—

*(a) a document signed by the parties;

(b) an exchange of letters, telex, telegrams or other means of telecommunication including communication through electronic means which provide a record of the agreement; or

(c) an exchange of statements of claim and defence in which the existence of the agreement is alleged by one party and not denied by the other.

(5) The reference in a contract to a document containing an arbitration clause constitutes an arbitration agreement if the contract is in writing and the reference is such as to make that arbitration clause part of the contract."

30. There is no arbitration agreement between the parties, i.e the petitioners and the respondents. An arbitration Clause is contained in Clause 23 of the lease deed dated 07.04.2017 executed by the M/s Rohtas Projects Limited in favour of M/s Decathlon Sports India Private Ltd. (respondent no. 1), which provides as follows: -

"The parties agree that they shall attempt to resolve to good faith and consultation any dispute or difference between any of the parties in respect of or concerning or connected with the interpretation or implementation of this lease deed or arising out of this lease deed.

In the event of dispute or difference between the parties not getting resolved, such dispute or difference shall be referred to the Arbitration under the provisions of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 or any statutory modification or amendment thereof, by an arbitration Penal comprising of three Arbitrators. The Arbitration Penal shall comprise one Arbitrator each appointed by the lessor and the lessee and such Arbitrators shall appoint the third Arbitrator."

31. The expression 'parties' used in the above quoted Clause 23 refers to the parties to the lease deed, which was executed between: -

"ROHTAS PROJECTS LIMITED, a company incorporated and validly existing under the provisions of Indian Companies Act, 1956 with its corporate office at 27/18, Raja Ram Mohan Roy Marg (one way Road) Lucknow - 226001) acting through its authorized signatory, Mr. Pankaj Rastogi duly authorized vide board resolution dated 6th march 2017 (hereinafter referred to as the "Lessor" which expression shall, unless it be repugnant to the context or the meaning thereof, mean and include its Successors and permitted assigns), being Party of the FIRST PART.

AND

DECATHLON SPORTS INDIA PRIVATE LIMITED, a complay incorporated and validly existing under the provisions of the Indian Companies Act, 2956 (a wholly owned subsidiary of Decathlon S. A., France) with its registered office at Survey number 78/10, A2 0 – Chikkajala Village, Bellary road, Bangalore – 562 157, ("hereinafter referred to as "the Lessee" which expression shall, unless it be repugnant to the context or the meaning thereof, mean and include its Successors and permitted assigns), acting through _ _ _, being Party of the SECOND PART"

The lease deed further states that: -

"The Lessor is the absolute legal owner of all that piece of immovable property bearing No. TC-G 4/4, admeasuring 5000 square meters situated at Vibhuti Khand, Gomti Nagar, Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh which is currently categorized as commercial use. The said property is hereinafter referred to as the Total Property and is more fully described in the Schedule written hereunder and is depicted in ANNEXURE A.

AND WHEREAS, the Lessor is into the business of developing commercial and residential projects and has constructed and developed a commercial complex under the name and style of 'Rohtas Presidential Arcade', which has been operational since 2015 and is spread over 5000 square meters (Hereinafter referred to as the Complex/Total Property) consisting of retail shops, stores, banks, offices etc. and basements for parking (plans of the Complex annexed herewith as ANNEXURE A) after obtaining all required approvals and sanctions in accordance with the building plans approved by the competent authority (ies). The Lessor has sold few units in the said Complex to various parties/individuals by virtue of Agreement to sale. Out of the Total property, the Ground Floor measuring 21825 square feet (i.e. 2028 square meters) of covered area bearing Unit Nos. GF-01, GF-02, GF-03, GF-04, GF-05, GF-06, GF-07, GF-08, GF-09, GF-09A, GF-09B, GF-10A, GF-10B and GF-10C at Plot No. TC-G 4/4, admeasuring 2028 square meters situated at Vibhuti Khand, Gomti Nagar, Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh for retail space is available for lease and is owned/possessed by the Lessor, Though the Lessor has further presented to the Lessee that they have executed an Agreement to Sell dated 21.05.2013 for the Unit bearing Nos. GF-03 in the name of Mrs. Heena Juneja & Agreement to Sell dated 28.03.2012 for the Unit No. GF-05 of the Complex in favour of Vijay Path Traders Link Private Limited, but no conclusive sale has taken place for these two units*. The Lessor have further represented that as on date all the legal rights, interests and possession of the said two units stands in the name of the Lessor for all the purposes and the Lessor have obtained two separate registered Power of Attorneys from Mrs. Heena Juneja & Vijay Path Traders Link Private Limited respectively authorizing the Lessor to enter/deal/lease/execute on their behalf such business transactions as the Lessor may deem fit, after amalgamating their Units with the other Units of the Complex on the terms and conditions as the Lessor may deem fit. The Copies of the said registered Power of Attorneys for Unit No. GF-03 and GF-05 are annexed hereto as ANNEXURE B1 & B2."*

* * *

"4. RENT, ESCALATION & RENT COMMENCEMENT DATE

4.1 The Parties agree that in consideration of the grant of Lease and the continued right to enjoy and possess and use the Leased Premises during the Lease Term, the Lessee shall pay to the Lessor, the monthly rent as detailed in ANNEXURE-1 ("Monthly Rent") from the Rent Commencement Date. It is understood between the parties that the monthly rent is all inclusive of any/all kind of CAM charges during the tenure of this Lease.

4.2 The Lessee shall deposit the amount of monthly rentals, during the tenure of this lease and the security deposit in the bank account numbers to be provided by the Lessor to the Lessee, subject to Tax Deduction at Source.

* * *"

8. OBLIGATIONS ON PART OF THE LESSOR

* * *

8.3 In case the Lessor creates any lien after the execution hereof, that should be done with prior intimation to the Lessee. However, any charge or transfer of the Leased Premises to any third party during the subsistence of the lease can be created only in terms of Clause 19".

* * *

19.SALE, RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL & ATTORNMENT CLAUSE

19.1 In the event of proposed sale or transfer of its rights in any of the unit of the Leased Premises (either partially or whole), the Lessor shall first intimate the Lessee in writing to ascertain the interest of the Lessee to purchase the aforesaid premises and the Lessee shall revert on their interest in the aforesaid premises within 15 days of receiving such intimation. If the Lessee does not reply within 15 days, then the Lessor shall assume that the Lessee is not interested in the aforesaid space and the Lessor will be free to offer to any third party and the Right of First Refusal shall expire for the Lessee.

19.2 In case the Lessor doesn't comply with the above-said condition pertaining to the proposed sale or transfer of its rights of the Leased Premises, and does not intimate the Lessee then in such event the Lessee shall be entitled to hold the monthly rentals of the Lessor till proper legal documentation/Deed of Attornment is being executed between the Lessor, Lessee and such prospective buyer on the same terms and conditions of this Deed.

19.3 The Lessor hereby, Irrevocably agrees and undertakes to ensure the business continuity of the Lessee in the Leased Premises for the entire tenure of the Lease (on the same terms and conditions) in case of sale or transfer of ownership rights by any manner whatsoever. In case of sale of the Leased Premises (either in part of full), the Lessor agrees to ensure the business continuity of the Lessee by executing Deed of Attornment between the Lessor, Lessee and such prospective buyer on the same terms and conditions of this Lease Deed before concluding the sale deed with such prospective buyer.

19.4 The Lessor agreed that in case of sale of any unit of the Leased Premises, the Lessor shall immediately inform the Lessee before making an endorsement on such sale or transfer and all such sale/transfer shall be subject to execution of Attornment Deed between the Lessor, Lessee and such prospective buyer.

19.5 The Lessee shall have the first right of refusal at the end of Lease Term for further renewal of Lease Term as per the mutually agreed terms and conditions.

19.6 It is well understood between the parties that the Lessor have already executed Agreement to Sell for the Unit No. GF-03 and GF-0S forming part of the Leased Premises, but neither the conclusive sale have been executed nor any physical possession of the same have been delivered. The Lessor have represented that such sale shall not at all any circumstance whatsoever shall disturb the peaceful possession and business operations of the Lessee in the Leased Premises. The Lessor shall ensure and takes responsibility to execute an Attornment Deed/Supplementary deed with the buyers of such units before concluding and registering a conclusive Sale Deed in that regard.

19.7 The Lessor has unconditionally agrees that they will not sell the Leased Premises (either partially or fully) to any third party for the initial 06 months of Lease commencing from the handover of the Leased Premises to the Lessee.

32. Section 109 of the Transfer of the Property Act, 1982 relied upon by the petitioners reads as follows: -

"109. Rights of lessor's transferee.- If the lessor transfers the property leased, or any part thereof, or any part of his interest therein, the transferee, in the absence of a contract to the contrary*, shall possess all the rights, and, if the lessee so elects, be subject to all the liabilities of the lessor as to the property or part transferred so long as he is the owner of it*; but the lessor shall not, by reason only of such transfer cease to be subject to any of the liabilities imposed upon him by the lease, unless the lessee elects to treat the transferee as the person liable to him*:*

Provided that the transferee is not entitled to arrears of rent due before the transfer, and that, if the lessee, not having reason to believe that such transfer has been made, pays rent to the lessor, the lessee shall not be liable to pay such rent over again to the transferee. The lessor, the transferee and the lessee may determine what proportion of the premium or rent reserved by the lease is payable in respect of the part so transferred, and, in case they disagree, such determination may be made by any Court having jurisdiction to entertain a suit for the possession of the property leased."

33. Section 109 provides that if the lessor transfers the property leased, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, the transferee shall possess all the rights of the lessor and, if the lessee so elects, the transferee shall be subject to the liabilities of the lessor as to the property or part transferred. In the present case, there was a contract to the contrary contained in the lease deed itself prohibiting transfer of any part of the leased property without prior permission of the lessee. In these circumstances, the rights of the lessor shall not stand transferred to the petitioners by virtue of Section 109 of the Transfer of Property Act. Further, Section 109 makes the transferees subject to all the liabilities of the lessor as to the property transferred, at the option of the lessee. Here the lessee has not exercised this option. Rather the lessee has objected to the transfer made in favour of the petitioners in violation of the conditions contained in the lease deed.

34. In Ambica Prasad v. Mohd. Alam, (2015) 13 SCC 13 relied upon by the learned Counsel for the petitioners, the question involved was whether the a person having purchased a property which had been let out and was subject to the provisions of the Assam Urban Areas Rent Control Act, 1972, would become a landlord. The expression "landlord" has been defined in Section 2(c) of the Assam Urban Areas Rent Control Act, 1972 which reads as under:

"2. (c) 'Landlord' means any person who is, for the time being receiving or entitled to receive rent in respect of any house whether on his own account, or on account, or on behalf, or for the benefit of any other person, or as a trustee, guardian or receiver for any other person and includes in respect of his sub-tenant, a tenant who has sub-let any house and includes every person not being a tenant who from time to time derives title under a landlord."

The Hon'ble Supreme Court held that the definition of "landlord" is couched in a very wide language, according to which not only the owner but also any person receiving rent, whether on his own account or on behalf of or for the benefit of any other person or as a trustee, guardian, or receiver for any other person, is also the landlord. However, for the purpose of eviction of a tenant on the ground of personal need or reasonable requirement, one must show that he is the owner of the building.

35. While considering the effect of transfer of property governed by of the Assam Urban Areas Rent Control Act, 1972 by a Landlord, the transferee gets all rights and liabilities of the lessor in respect of subsisting tenancy, the Hon'ble Supreme Court observed that: -

"The section does not insist that transfer will take effect only when the tenant attorns. It is well settled that a transferee of the landlord's rights steps into the shoes of the landlord with all the rights and liabilities of the transferor landlord in respect of the subsisting tenancy. The section does not require that the transfer of the right of the landlord can take effect only if the tenant attorns to him. Attornment by the tenant is not necessary to confer validity of the transfer of the landlord's rights."

36. The effect of the words "in the absence of a contract to the contrary" and "if the lessee so elects", occurring in Section 109 of the Transfer of Property Act was neither considered nor decided in this judgment. It is settled law that while interpreting a provision of any Statute, any word used by the Legislature cannot be ignored. It is also a settled law that a judgment is an authority for what it actually decides. Therefore, the decision in Ambica Prasad (supra) will not apply to the facts of the present case where there is contract prohibiting transfer by the lessor without prior permission of the lessee and lessee has not opted to accept the transferees as its lessor.

37. So far as the submission of the learned Counsel for the petitioner that this Court having appointed the Arbitrator under Section 11 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, it was not open for the arbitrator to go into his question, in Vidya Drolia and Others Vs. Navrang Studios: (1981) 1 SCC 523, Hon'ble Supreme Court held that the Court has to appoint an arbitrator even if there is a doubt regarding existence of an arbitration agreement. Thus the appointment of an arbitrator does not require a conclusive finding by the Court that there is an arbitration agreement between the parties.

38. Moreover, Section 16 of the Act provides as follows: -

"16. Competence of arbitral tribunal to rule on its jurisdiction.—

(1) The arbitral tribunal may rule on its own jurisdiction, including ruling on any objections with respect to the existence or validity of the arbitration agreement, and for that purpose,—

(a) an arbitration clause which forms part of a contract shall be treated as an agreement independent of the other terms of the contract; and

(b) a decision by the arbitral tribunal that the contract is null and void shall not entail ipso jure the invalidity of the arbitration clause.

(2) A plea that the arbitral tribunal does not have jurisdiction shall be raised not later than the submission of the statement of defence; however, a party shall not be precluded from raising such a plea merely because that he has appointed, or participated in the appointment of, an arbitrator.

(3) A plea that the arbitral tribunal is exceeding the scope of its authority shall be raised as soon as the matter alleged to be beyond the scope of its authority is raised during the arbitral proceedings.

(4) The arbitral tribunal may, in either of the cases referred to in sub-section (2) or sub-section (3), admit a later plea if it considers the delay justified.

(5) The arbitral tribunal shall decide on a plea referred to in sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) and, where the arbitral tribunal takes a decision rejecting the plea, continue with the arbitral proceedings and make an arbitral award.

(6) A party aggrieved by such an arbitral award may make an application for setting aside such an arbitral award in accordance with section 34."

39. Sri. S. C. Mishra, the learned Counsel for the petitioner has relied upon a decision of the Delhi Hgih Court in Surender Kumar Singhal v. Arun Kumar Bhalotia, 2021 SCC OnLine Del 3708, in which it was held that: -

"25. ...the following principles are well settled, in respect of the scope of interference under Article 226/227 in challenges to orders by an arbitral tribunal including orders passed under Section 16 of the Act.

(i) An arbitral tribunal is a tribunal against which a petition under Article 226/227 would be maintainable;

(ii) The non-obstante clause in section 5 of the Act does not apply in respect of exercise of powers under Article 227 which is a Constitutional provision;

(iii) For interference under Article 226/227, there have to be 'exceptional circumstances';

(iv) Though interference is permissible, unless and until the order is so perverse that it is patently lacking in inherent jurisdiction, the writ court would not interfere;

(v) Interference is permissible only if the order is completely perverse i.e., that the perversity must stare in the face;

(vi) High Courts ought to discourage litigation which necessarily interfere with the arbitral process;

(vii) Excessive judicial interference in the arbitral process is not encouraged;

(viii) It is prudent not to exercise jurisdiction under Article 226/227;

(ix) The power should be exercised in 'exceptional rarity' or if there is 'bad faith' which is shown;

(x) Efficiency of the arbitral process ought not to be allowed to diminish and hence interdicting the arbitral process should be completely avoided.

Section 16 of the Act and consideration by Arbitral Tribunals

26. Coming to the second aspect, i.e., the law governing applications under Section 16 of the Arbitration & Conciliation Act, 1996 and the manner of consideration by arbitral tribunals. Section 16 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 deals with the competence of a Tribunal. Following the principle of kompetenze-kompetenze, an Arbitral Tribunal has the power to rule on its own jurisdiction. However, Section 16(5) requires that the Tribunal ought to decide the plea*."*

40. In ONGC Ltd. v. Discovery Enterprises (P) Ltd., (2022) 8 SCC 42, it was held that: -

55. ... Section 16 stipulates that where the Tribunal rejects a plea of a lack of jurisdiction, it must continue with the arbitral proceedings and make an award and the remedy of a challenge to the award would lie under Section 34. However, if the Arbitral Tribunal accepts a plea that it lacks jurisdiction, the order of the Tribunal is amenable to a challenge in appeal under Section 37(2)(a). In the exercise of the appellate jurisdiction, the court must have due deference to the grounds which have weighed with the Tribunal in holding that it lacks jurisdiction having regard to the object and spirit underlying the statute which entrusts the Arbitral Tribunal with the power to rule on its own jurisdiction. The decision of the Tribunal that it lacks jurisdiction is not conclusive because it is subject to an appellate remedy under Section 37(2)(a). However, in the exercise of this appellate power, the court must be mindful of the fact that the statute has entrusted the Arbitral Tribunal with the power to rule on its own jurisdiction with the purpose of facilitating the efficacy of arbitration as an institutional mechanism for the resolution of disputes."

41. When we examine the facts of the present case in light of the law referred to above, it appears that there is no arbitration agreement between the petitioners and the respondent no. 1. The transfer of property made by M/s Rohtas Projects Ltd. in favour of the petitioners, has been made in violation of the terms and conditions of lease deed executed by M/s Rohtas Projects Limited in favour of the respondent no. 1 and, therefore, none of the obligations contained in the lease deed dated 07.04.2017 by M/s Rohtas Projects Limited stood transferred to the petitioners, including the right to initiate the arbitration proceeding under Clause 23 of the lease deed. Therefore, there is no arbitration agreement between the petitioners and the respondent no. 1.

42. In view of the foregoing discussion, will not be in the interest of justice to interfere in the order dated 15.07.2022 passed by the sole Arbitrator dropping the arbitration proceedings for want of jurisdiction, although for different reasons.

43. In the present case, the claimants have purchased various portions of a property that had been taken on lease by the respondent no. 1 from M/s Rohtas Projects Limited, in violation of the conditions of the registered lease deed. Although there is no arbitration agreement between the petitioners and the respondent no. 1, the petitioners initiated arbitration proceedings claiming payment of arrears of rent and damages etc. The proceedings under the IBC have been initiated against the lessor M/s Rohtas Projects Limited. A Resolution Professional has already been appointed by the NCLT, New Delhi. The respondents have deposited the entire arrears of rent and damages etc. in the National Company Law Tribunal and they have already vacated the premises in dispute.

44. Jurisdiction of this Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India is supervisory jurisdiction which should be exercised to prevent injustice being caused to a party but where the order under challenge in the petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India does not cause any injustice to any of the parties, this Court will not exercise its discretion in such a case. Keeping in view the circumstances stated in the preceding paragraph, interfering in the order dated 15.07.2022 passed by the Sole Arbitrator and the order dated 30.01.2024 passed by the Commercial Court No. 1, Lucknow will not serve the interest of justice in any manner.

45. In view of the aforesaid discussions, no interference is warranted in the present petition filed under Article 227 of the Constitution of India.

46. Accordingly, the petition is dismissed. Costs made easy.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1265
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 09.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIKRAM D. CHAUHAN, J.

Application u/s 482 No. 35636 of 2018

Vinod Kumar ...Applicants
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opp. Parties

Counsel for the Applicant:
Pashupati Nath Tripathi, Desh Ratan Chaudhary, Hind Pratap Lal

Counsel for the Opp. Parties:
G.A., Ajay Kumar Pandey

Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - Section 482 - Applicant- Branch Manager- Complaint Case – Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section 417, 504 & 506 - Complainant- Auction Purchaser- Proceedings against borrower under SARFAESI Act- Symbolic possession taken under Section 13(4) of SARFAESI Act- Application under Section 14 of the SARFAESI Act for physical possession- Auction purchaser- Allegation of misrepresentation regarding possession of the property against the applicant- Symbolic possession is a possession under law- Possession taken in 2012 itself- Auction in 2016- Action of the applicant in exercise of statutory powers is protected by Section 32 of SARFAESI Act- No criminal proceedings or prosecution can be lodged against Officer of the Bank- Criminal proceedings against the applicant set aside – Application allowed (Para – 6, 7, and 8)

HELD: Once the bank has declared in the auction notice that they are taken possession of the property in question under Section 14 of the SARFAESI Act, it is not open for the purchaser to raise objection in respect of the application of bank under Section 14 of the SARFAESI Act being pending before the District Magistrate which are only execution proceedings in respect of the order of possession passed under Section 13(4) of the SARFAESI Act. (Para 7)

It is further to be seen that the applicant was the Branch Manager and was exercising statutory powers under SARFAESI Act and as such he is protected by Section 32 of the SARFAESI Act and no criminal proceedings or prosecution can be lodged against the applicant, who is an Officer of the Bank. (Para 8)

Application allowed. (E-14)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vikram D. Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the applicants and learned AGA for the State.

1-A. No one has appeared on behalf of opposite party no. 2. Previously on 05.03.2024, the opposite party no. 2 was proceeded ex-parte.

2. This application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. has been filed by the applicants for quashing the entire proceedings including the summoning order dated 09.08.2018 passed by Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, IXth, Varanasi in Complaint Case No. 1865 of 2018 (Mohd. Akhlaq Khan vs. Vinod Kumar) under Sections 417, 504, 506 IPC, P.S. Cantt, District Varanasi.

3. It is submitted by learned counsel for the applicant that applicant is Branch Manager of Allahabad Bank. The proceedings against borrower was issued under Securitization and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002 (for short 'SARFAESI Act') by the Bank and thereafter the symbolic possession of property in question was taken on 30.07.2012. It is further submitted that thereafter the property in question was put to auction in terms of Section 13(4) of SARFAESI Act and date of auction was fixed as 30.04.2016.

4. Learned counsel for the applicant submits that complainant is auction purchaser and the complaint is filed with allegation that the applicant being the Branch Manager has represented the auction purchaser that the property of the borrower was taken possession by the bank and as such the complainant participated in the auction proceedings and deposited the auction sale consideration. Subsequently, he found that the bank was not in possession of the property in question as the bank has applied before the District Magistrate for taking physical possession of the property in question in terms of Section 14 of the SARFAESI Act.

5. Learned counsel for the applicant submits that act of the applicant was statutory in nature and is protected by Section 32 of SARFAESI Act as the same was done in good faith. It is further submitted by learned counsel for the applicant that the possession of the property in question was already taken on 30.07.2012 and the property was being sold on as is where is basis in case of any dispute the auction purchaser/complainant would have remedy under provisions of SARFAESI Act. He submits that the present criminal proceedings against applicant under Sections 417, 504, 506 IPC are not tenable.

6. In the present case, it is to be seen that the Allahabad Bank, who was the secured creditor has initiated proceeding under the SARFAESI Act against the borrower and in this respect symbolic possession of the property was taken on 30.07.2012 in terms of Section 13(4) of the SARFAESI Act. Once the possession is taken, bank thereafter applied under Section 14 of the SARFAESI Act for execution of the possession proceedings for taking actual physical possession. Once an application under Section 14 of the SARFAESI Act is filed the same would relate to the provisions of Section 13(4) of the SARFAESI Act and actual possession would in no manner effect the taking of possession in terms of Section 13(4) by way of symbolic possession. The symbolic possession itself is the possession under law and as such once the bank has taken possession of the property in question in the year 2012 itself and the auction notice was issued on 18.03.2016 in respect of the auction to be held on 30.04.2016, the borrower was well aware of the fact that the bank has taken possession in terms of Section 13(4) of the SARFAESI Act as the auction notice itself stated the aforesaid fact in para-2, which is quoted herein below:

"And WHEREAS the borrower having failed to repay the amount, and hence, the undersigned, in exercise of powers conferred U/S 13(4) of the said Act read with Rule 8 of the Rules taken over possession of the property/properties, (hereinafter referred as the said properties) more fully described herein below on 30/07/2012."

7. Once the bank has declared in the auction notice that they are taken possession of the property in question under Section 14 of the SARFAESI Act, it is not open for the purchaser to raise objection in respect of the application of bank under Section 14 of the SARFAESI Act being pending before the District Magistrate which are only execution proceedings in respect of the order of possession passed under Section 13(4) of the SARFAESI Act.

8. It is further to be seen that the applicant was the Branch Manager and was exercising statutory powers under SARFAESI Act and as such he is protected by Section 32 of the SARFAESI Act and no criminal proceedings or prosecution can be lodged against the applicant, who is an Officer of the Bank.

9. In view thereof, the present criminal proceedings against applicant are bad in law, therefore, the summoning order dated 09.08.2018 passed by Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, IXth, Varanasi in Complaint Case No. 1865 of 2018 (Mohd. Akhlaq Khan vs. Vinod Kumar) under Sections 417, 504, 506 IPC, is hereby set aside.

10. The present application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. is, accordingly, allowed.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1267
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 29.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SHEKHAR B. SARAF, J.

Appeal U/s 37 of Arbitration & Conciliation Act 1996 NO. 264 of 2023

Smt. Jasvinder Kaur ...Appellant
Versus
N.H.A.I. & Ors. ...Opp. Parties

Counsel for the Appellant:
Ms. Gunjan Jadwani, Ms. Chandrika Patel

Counsel for the Opp. Parties:
Mr. Pranjal Mehrotra

Civil Law – the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 - Sections 31, 34 & 37 – Appellant- Commercial Court's order dismissing the application under Section 34 of the Act as time barred challenged- Appellant preferred arbitration under Section 3G (5) of the NHAI Act- Award passed by competent authority- back dated- Section 31(5) of the Act- Delivery of signed copy of the arbitral award is a mandatory requirement- plays pivotal role- Appeal allowed. (Paras 8, 9, 10, and 14)

HELD:

Delivery of an arbitral award under Section 31(5) of the Act plays a pivotal role by initiating various stages of the arbitration process, setting limitation periods, and conferring rights upon the parties. In the realm of sports, where victory and defeat hang in balance, arbitration serves as the referee adjudicating disputes on the field of play. Section 31(5) of the Act acts as the final whistle, signalling the end of the match and the declaration of the winner. For the prevailing party, the delivery of the award marks the culmination of their efforts and provides them with a means of enforcing their rights against the losing party. Conversely, for the losing party, the delivery of the award represents the beginning of the period within which they may challenge the award on specified grounds under Section 34 of the Act. (Para 8)

In such circumstances, placing the onus on the parties to request a copy of the award could potentially disadvantage parties who may 8 be unaware of their rights or unable to navigate the intricacies of the arbitration process effectively. This could lead to situations where one party, typically the more legally sophisticated or resourceful party, obtains a copy of the award promptly, while the other party, due to lack of awareness or means, is left uninformed and disadvantaged. Such an outcome would not only be contrary to the principles of equality and fairness that underpin arbitration but could also undermine public confidence in the arbitration process as a whole. (Para 9)

The only exception to Section 31(5) of the Act arises in situations where a party has consciously accepted the award or acted upon it. This exception is grounded in the principles of fairness, finality, and efficiency in arbitration. When a party has consciously accepted the award, it indicates a clear and unequivocal acknowledgment of the tribunal's decision. This acceptance can manifest in various forms, such as a written St.ment agreeing to the award, compliance with the terms of the award, or any conduct that demonstrates acknowledgment of the award's finality. By consciously accepting the award, the party essentially waives any procedural rights related to the formal receipt of the signed award copy. (Para 10)

The argument of the Respondents that the Appellant never requested for a certified copy of the award is of no consequence since Section 31(5) of the Act casts a duty upon the Arbitrator to deliver the award. Section 31(5) of the Act unequivocally imposes an obligation upon the Arbitrator to deliver a signed copy of the arbitral award to each party involved in the arbitration. This statutory duty is not contingent upon a party's request for the award; rather, it is an imperative that must be fulfilled by the Arbitrator irrespective of any such request. The failure to comply with this statutory obligation can lead to significant procedural irregularities, potentially undermining the arbitral process and the enforceability of the award. (Para 14)

Appeal allowed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. Smt. Sudha Vs U.O.I.& ors. (Appeal under Section 37 of the Arbitration & Conciliation Act, 1996 No. 271 of 2022) (Allahabad High Court)

2. U.O.I.Vs Bhola Prasad Agarwal & anr. 2022 SCC OnLine Chh 1644

3. Resurgent Power Projects Ltd. Vs ABB India Ltd. reported in MANU/TN/1154/2020

4. Ministry of Health & Family Welfare & anr. Vs M/s. Hosmac Projects Division of Hosmac India Pvt. Ltd. 2023 SCC OnLine Del 8296.

5. U.O.I.-Vs- Tecco Trichy Engineers reported in (2005) 4 SCC 239

6. Dakshin Haryana Bijli Vitran Nigam Ltd. Vs Navigant Technologies Pvt. Ltd. reported in (2021) 7 SCC 657

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shekhar B. Saraf, J.)

1. The instant application has been filed under Section 37 of the Arbitration & Conciliation Act, 1996 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Act') by Smt. Jasvinder Kaur (hereinafter referred to as the 'Appellant') challenging the order dated February 7, 2023 passed by District Judge, Rampur by which the application under Section 34 of the Act filed by the Appellant was dismissed as time barred.

FACTS

2. I have laid down the factual matrix of the instant lis below:

a. A notification under Section 3A of the National Highways Act, 1956 (hereinafter referred to as the 'NHAI Act') was issued by National Highways Authority of India (hereinafter referred to as the 'Respondent No. 1'). Subsequently, a notification under Section 3D of the NHAI Act was published by the Respondent on June 17, 2013.

b. Appellant filed an objection before the Competent Authority, claiming higher rate of compensation. Objection of the Appellant was rejected by the Competent Authority. Against the award passed by the Competent Authority, the Appellant preferred arbitration under Section 3G(5) of the NHAI Act.

c. The Arbitrator passed an award on January 31, 2023 (back dated to October 11, 2022). Thereafter, the Appellant proceeded to challenge the said arbitral award under Section 34 of the Act before the District Judge, Rampur which was dismissed vide order dated February 7, 2023 as time barred.

d. Aggrieved by the order dated February 7, 2023, the Appellant has preferred the instant appeal under Section 37 of the Act before this Court.

CONTENTIONS OF THE APPELLANT

3. Learned counsel appearing for the appellant has made the following submissions before this Court:

a. District Judge, Rampur in its order dated February 7, 2023 has failed to return any finding as to when the signed copy of the award was served upon the Appellant. In the absence of any finding as to when the signed copy of the award was served upon the Appellant, it was erroneous on part of the District Judge, Rampur to return a finding that there was a delay in filing the application under Section 34 of the Act, in as much as Section 34(3) of the Act provides that the limitation for filing an application under Section 34 of the Act shall begin from the date when the arbitral award has been received by the aggrieved party.

b. In the application filed by the Appellant under Section 34 of the Act before the District Judge, Rampur, it was specifically pleaded by the Appellant that the award was not pronounced on October 11, 2022 which was the date fixed for pronouncement of award. The Appellant was making continuous efforts to enquire about the status of the award from court officer of the Arbitrator. Subsequently the award was pronounced only on January 31, 2023 and the certified copy of the same was made available to the Appellant only on February 1, 2023 pursuant to which the application under Section 34 of the Act was filed on February 7, 2023 and as such there is no delay in filing the application under Section 34 of the Act.

c. Appellant also sent a letter to the Respondents on February 6, 2023 duly intimating them that the award was pronounced only on January 31, 2023 and as such the Appellant will be assailing the same by filing a case under Section 34 of the Act.

d. District Judge, Rampur, without considering the averments of the Appellant, proceeded to dismiss the application under Section 34 of the Act vide its order dated February 7, 2023 without arriving at any finding as to when the Appellant became aware of the award.

e. Reliance is placed upon the judgment of this Court in Smt. Sudha v. Union of India & 3 Others (Appeal under Section 37 of the Arbitration & Conciliation Act, 1996 No. 271 of 2022).

f. A bare perusal of the Counter Affidavit filed by the Respondents clearly goes to show that the Respondent No. 1 has not controverted the fact that the award was not pronounced by the Arbitrator on October 11, 2022 and instead the award was published only on January 31, 2023. No document, much less, any averment has been made by the Respondents to show that the award was published on October 11, 2022 and not January 31, 2023. Moreover, even the details of the order sheet of the arbitration case, filed by the Respondent No. 1, clearly shows that there is no recording of judgment delivery/pronouncement of order on October 11, 2022.

g. Respondents have sought to rely upon the judgment passed by the High Court of Chhattisgarh in Union of India v. Bhola Prasad Agarwal & Anr. reported in 2022 SCC OnLine Chh 1644 but the said judgment is distinguishable with the instant case, in as much as in the case before the High Court of Chhattisgarh, the Appellant therein was already aware of the award, which is not the circumstance in the instant case.

h. Respondents have sought to rely upon the judgment passed by the Madras High Court in Resurgent Power Projects Limited v. ABB India Limited reported in MANU/TN/1154/2020 which is distinguishable from the facts of the instant case. There is a categorical finding about awareness of the award by the appellant therein, which is absent in the instant case.

i. Importance of delivering a signed copy of the award by the arbitrator to the party as per Section 31(5) of the Act has been considered by the High Court of Delhi in Ministry of Health & Family Welfare & Anr. v. M/s. Hosmac Projects Division of Hosmac India Pvt. Ltd. reported in 2023 SCC OnLine Del 8296.

j. In view of the aforesaid facts and circumstances, it is submitted that the present appeal filed by the Appellant under Section 37 of the Act be allowed and order dated February 7, 2023 passed by District Judge, Rampur be set aside.

CONTENTIONS OF THE RESPONDENTS

4. Learned counsel appearing for the Respondents has made the following submissions:

a. Appellant was well aware that the matter was fixed for orders on October 11, 2022. Even, then the Appellant applied for the certified copy well after the expiry of three months limitation period under Section 34(3) of the Act. This clearly shows that the Appellant was not interested in the matter. It must be borne in mind that this Court ought not to adopt an approach which helps a dishonest evader, and defeats the very intent of the legislation that is the Act. Had the Appellant been prudent, the Appellant would have applied for the certified copy of the award well within the three months period from October 11, 2022. The Appellant at this belated stage cannot contend that the Appellant had no knowledge of the award being passed on October 11, 2022. Not even a shred of evidence is on record to established the bona fides of the Appellant.

b. The District Judge, Rampur in its order categorically records that there is a delay of 37 days in filing the application under Section 34 of the Act. As there is 37 days delay, the instant Appeal deserves to be dismissed with costs.

CONCLUSION & ANALYSIS

5. The primary issue raised in the instant case is that whether the District Judge, Rampur was justified in dismissing the application filed by the Appellant under Section 34 of the Act since the Appellant was never served with a signed copy of the arbitral award, which is a mandatory requirement under Section 31(5) of the Arbitration Act. Relevant parts of Section 31(5) of the Arbitration Act have been extracted herein below for ease of reference:

"31. Form and contents of arbitral award. —

(1) ...

(2) ...

(3) ...

(4) ...

(5) After the arbitral award is made, a signed copy shall be delivered to each party."

6. Section 31(5) of the Arbitration Act while seemingly procedural in nature, embodies broader objectives. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in Union of India -v- Tecco Trichy Engineers reported in (2005) 4 SCC 239 propounded the importance of the requirement to deliver a signed copy of the arbitral award on parties. Relevant paragraph of the said judgment reads as under:

"8. The delivery of an arbitral award under sub-section (5) of Section 31 is not a matter of mere formality. It is a matter of substance. It is only after the stage under Section 31 has passed that the stage of termination of arbitral proceedings within the meaning of Section 32 of the Act arises. The delivery of arbitral award to the party, to be effective, has to be "received" by the party. This delivery by the Arbitral Tribunal and receipt by the party of the award sets in motion several periods of limitation such as an application for correction and interpretation of an award within 30 days under Section 33(1), an application for making an additional award under Section 33(4) and an application for setting aside an award under Section 34(3) and so on. As this delivery of the copy of award has the effect of conferring certain rights on the party as also bringing to an end the right to exercise those rights on expiry of the prescribed period of limitation which would be calculated from that date, the delivery of the copy of award by the Tribunal and the receipt thereof by each party constitutes an important stage in the arbitral proceedings."

7. In Dakshin Haryana Bijli Vitran Nigam Limited v. Navigant Technologies Private Limited reported in (2021) 7 SCC 657, the Hon'ble Supreme Court reiterated that the limitation for filing objections to an arbitral award will only commence from the date of receipt of a signed copy under Section 31(5) of the Act. Relevant paragraph is extracted below:

"29.The judgment inTecco Trichy Engineers[Union of Indiav.Tecco Trichy Engineers & Contractors, (2005) 4 SCC 239] was followed inState of Maharashtrav.ARK Builders (P) Ltd.[State of Maharashtrav.ARK Builders (P) Ltd., (2011) 4 SCC 616 : (2011) 2 SCC (Civ) 413] , wherein this Court held that Section 31(1) obliges the members of the Arbitral Tribunal to make the award in writing and sign it. The legal requirement under sub-section (5) of Section 31 is the delivery of a copy of the award signed by the members of the Arbitral Tribunal/arbitrator, and not any copy of the award. On a harmonious construction of Section 31(5) read with Section 34(3), the period of limitation prescribed for filing objections would commence only from the date when the signed copy of the award is delivered to the party making the application for setting aside the award. If the law prescribes that a copy of the award is to be communicated, delivered, despatched, forwarded, rendered, or sent to the parties concerned in a particular way, and since the law sets a period of limitation for challenging the award in question by the aggrieved party, then the period of limitation can only commence from the date on which the award was received by the party concerned in the manner prescribed by law. The judgment inTecco Trichy[Union of Indiav.Tecco Trichy Engineers & Contractors, (2005) 4 SCC 239] has been recently followed inAnilkumar Jinabhai Patelv.Pravinchandra Jinabhai Patel [Anilkumar Jinabhai Patelv.Pravinchandra Jinabhai Patel, (2018) 15 SCC 178 : (2019) 1 SCC (Civ) 141] ."

8. Delivery of an arbitral award under Section 31(5) of the Act plays a pivotal role by initiating various stages of the arbitration process, setting limitation periods, and conferring rights upon the parties. In the realm of sports, where victory and defeat hang in balance, arbitration serves as the referee adjudicating disputes on the field of play. Section 31(5) of the Act acts as the final whistle, signalling the end of the match and the declaration of the winner. For the prevailing party, the delivery of the award marks the culmination of their efforts and provides them with a means of enforcing their rights against the losing party. Conversely, for the losing party, the delivery of the award represents the beginning of the period within which they may challenge the award on specified grounds under Section 34 of the Act.

9. The duty to deliver an arbitral award, a cornerstone of the arbitration process, is unequivocally cast upon the arbitral tribunal. Rooted in the foundational principles of arbitration, procedural fairness, and judicial integrity, this obligation embodies the essence of justice delivery and the sanctity of due process. Arbitration, as an alternative dispute resolution mechanism, operates on the premise of party autonomy, where disputing parties voluntarily submit their grievances to a neutral arbitrator or tribunal, with the expectation of a fair and impartial adjudication process. Within this framework, the arbitral tribunal assumes a quasi-judicial role, vested with the authority to render decisions that are binding on the parties, akin to the solemn pronouncements of traditional courts. Arbitration proceedings often involve parties with disparate levels of legal knowledge, resources, and bargaining power. In such circumstances, placing the onus on the parties to request a copy of the award could potentially disadvantage parties who may be unaware of their rights or unable to navigate the intricacies of the arbitration process effectively. This could lead to situations where one party, typically the more legally sophisticated or resourceful party, obtains a copy of the award promptly, while the other party, due to lack of awareness or means, is left uninformed and disadvantaged. Such an outcome would not only be contrary to the principles of equality and fairness that underpin arbitration but could also undermine public confidence in the arbitration process as a whole.

10. The only exception to Section 31(5) of the Act arises in situations where a party has consciously accepted the award or acted upon it. This exception is grounded in the principles of fairness, finality, and efficiency in arbitration. When a party has consciously accepted the award, it indicates a clear and unequivocal acknowledgment of the tribunal's decision. This acceptance can manifest in various forms, such as a written statement agreeing to the award, compliance with the terms of the award, or any conduct that demonstrates acknowledgment of the award's finality. By consciously accepting the award, the party essentially waives any procedural rights related to the formal receipt of the signed award copy. This waiver is based on the principle that actions speak louder than words; if a party behaves in a manner that indicates acceptance, insisting on formal delivery becomes redundant. Similarly, if a party acts upon the award, such as by making payments or performing obligations stipulated by the award, this conduct also signifies acceptance. Acting upon the award reflects the party's intention to comply with the tribunal's decision, further reinforcing the notion that the formal delivery of the signed award is unnecessary. The rationale behind this exception aligns with the core objectives of arbitration, which include resolving disputes efficiently and minimizing procedural formalities that could hinder the swift execution of arbitral awards. This exception prevents unnecessary delays that could arise if parties who have already accepted or acted upon the award were still required to wait for the formal delivery of a signed copy. Moreover, this exception upholds the principle of estoppel, where a party is prevented from denying the validity of the award after having accepted it or acted upon it. This is particularly important in maintaining the integrity and finality of arbitral decisions, as it prevents parties from engaging in conduct that would contradict their prior acceptance of the award.

11. It appears from the factual matrix of the instant case that a signed copy of the arbitral award was never delivered upon the Appellant by the Arbitrator. The Arbitrator had announced that the award was reserved on October 11, 2022 and also will be pronounced on October 11, 2022 but the Arbitrator did not deliver his award on that day. Instead, the award was actually pronounced on January 31, 2023 with a back date, which should not have been done. Appellant cannot be blamed for this lapse on part of the Arbitrator. Furthermore, what emerges from the Counter Affidavit filed by the Respondents is that there is no specific denial of the fact that although the award was scheduled to be pronounced on October 11, 2022 it was in reality pronounced on January 31, 2023. Relevant paragraph from the Counter Affidavit is extracted herein:

"That the contents of paragraph nos. 8,9,10,11,12,13 and 14 of the affidavits, as stated, are not admitted. In reply, it is respectfully submitted that from a perusal of the impugned judgment and order dated 7.2.2023 passed by the District Judge, Rampur, it is apparent that the appellant had not given any sufficient cause for the 37 days delay, nor any documents were filed in support of the Delay Condonation Application, and therefore, it is apparent that the application under Section 34(3) of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 filed by the Appellant was liable to be rejected, and the same was rightly rejected by the Learned Court Below by the judgment and order dated 7.2.2023."

12. The judgments in Bhola Prasad (supra) and Resurgent Power (supra) relied upon by the Respondents do not align with the factual circumstances in the instant case. In Bhola Prasad (supra) and Resurgent Power (supra), the Appellant was aware of the award and had knowledge of its content. However, nothing has been brought on record by the Respondents to establish that the Appellant in the instant case was aware of or had knowledge of the contents of the arbitral award. The lack of evidence supporting the Appellant's awareness of the arbitral awards creates a substantial disparity between the circumstances of the present case and those in Bhola Prasad (supra) and Resurgent Power (supra) therefore making the law laid down in the aforesaid judgments inapplicable to the instant case. The Appellant cannot be placed at a disadvantage as a result of statutory lapse on part of the Arbitrator to not deliver a signed copy of the award under Section 31(5) of the Act.

13. The Appellant in the instant case received a certified copy of the arbitral award which was passed on January 31, 2023 (although dated October 11, 2022) on February 1, 2023. Thereafter, the Appellant preferred the application under Section 34 of the Act before the District Judge, Rampur on February 7, 2023 that is within the prescribed limitation period of three months as provided under Section 34(3) of the Act. Since, a certified copy of the arbitral award was received by the Appellant only on February 1, 2023, it is from that date only that the clock of limitation will start ticking.

14. The argument of the Respondents that the Appellant never requested for a certified copy of the award is of no consequence since Section 31(5) of the Act casts a duty upon the Arbitrator to deliver the award. Section 31(5) of the Act unequivocally imposes an obligation upon the Arbitrator to deliver a signed copy of the arbitral award to each party involved in the arbitration. This statutory duty is not contingent upon a party's request for the award; rather, it is an imperative that must be fulfilled by the Arbitrator irrespective of any such request. The failure to comply with this statutory obligation can lead to significant procedural irregularities, potentially undermining the arbitral process and the enforceability of the award. The eventual pronouncement of the award on January 31, 2023, with a backdate, introduces a further layer of procedural irregularity. The practice of backdating an arbitral award is inherently problematic as it can obscure the actual timeline of the arbitral proceedings, potentially affecting the parties' rights and obligations. In this case, the backdated pronouncement of the award could mislead the parties regarding the timeline for challenging or enforcing the award, thereby affecting their legal recourse.

15. In light of the aforesaid, the instant Appeal under Section 37 of the Act is allowed and the order dated February 7, 2023 passed by the District Judge, Rampur is set aside. This Court directs the District Judge, Rampur to adjudicate the application filed by the Appellant under Section 34 of the Act on merits expeditiously and preferably, within a period of 6 months from the date of receipt of a certified copy of this order.

16. Accordingly, the instant appeal is allowed. There shall be no order as to the costs.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1275
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 13.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE AJAY BHANOT, J.

Criminal Misc. Bail Application No. 418 of 2023

Beeru Kumar ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Opposite Party

Counsel for the Applicant:
Sri Yashwant Pratap Singh

Counsel for the Opposite Party:
G.A.

Criminal Law – Modification application in a Bail application- Applicant- Granted bail a year ago- Bail order prescribed one of the sureties to be a family member- No family member of the applicant in the St. of Uttar Pradesh- Father, sole surviving member, resides abroad- Unable to come back to give surety- Trial court – Fixing surety- to apply mind to socioeconomic conditions of the prisoner- It shall not impose any onerous or arbitrary surety conditions- Order granting bail should not get defeated- Onerous surety condition put by the court recalled – Dictum in Arvind Singh Vs St. of Uttar Pradesh reiterated- Application allowed.

HELD: Courts should examine the socioeconomic conditions of a prisoner while fixing surety conditions. Further, the Courts should not impose conditions which cannot be satisfied by the prisoner on account of his destitute circumstances or conditions of want or deprivation faced by him.

While fixing sureties the trial court has to apply its mind to the socioeconomic conditions of the prisoner. Further the trial court while fixing sureties shall not impose any onerous or arbitrary conditions which defeat the order granting bail to the concerned prisoner or prevent the applicant from being set forth at liberty.

All trial courts as well as DLSAs are under an obligation to comply with the directions of this Court in Arvind Singh (supra) as well as those made above in this order. Learned District Judge, Deoria shall make necessary enquiries and appropriately counsel the trial judge and the DLSA, Deoria in the matter.

Application allowed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

Arvind Singh Vs St. of U.P. Thru. Prin. Secy. Home Deptt. (Application U/S 482 No.2613 of 2023)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajay Bhanot, J.)

1. The applicant was granted bail by this Court by order dated 18.05.2023. While granting the bail following terms and conditions of sureties were provided by this Court in the order dated 18.05.2023:

"7. Let the applicant, Beeru Kumar, who is involved in the aforesaid case crime, be released on bail on his furnishing a personal bond and two sureties (one should be of a family member) each in the like amount to the satisfaction of the court concerned subject to following conditions. Further, before issuing the release order, the sureties be verified.

i. The applicant shall not tamper with the prosecution evidence by intimidating/ pressurizing the witnesses, during the investigation or trial.

ii. The applicant shall cooperate in the trial sincerely without seeking any adjournment.

iii. The applicant shall not indulge in any criminal activity or commission of any crime after being released on bail.

In case of breach of any of the above conditions, it shall be a ground for cancellation of bail."

2. The applicant does not have any family member in the State of Uttar Pradesh. The sole surviving member of family is his father who resides abroad. His father is unable to return home and give his surety.Consequently, the applicant is unable to furnish the sureties as directed by this Court. Hence, the said surety condition is onerous. The applicant continues to remain in jail despite the order granting him bail.

3. The fixation of sureties has engaged the attention of various constitutional courts. This Court upon consideration of authorities point in Arvind Singh v. State of U.P. Thru. Prin. Secy. Home Deptt. (Application U/S 482 No.2613 of 2023) held:

"24. However despite unequivocal holdings of various constitutional courts the trial courts continue to adopt a rote response to a dynamic problem and approach the issue of fixation of sureties in a mechanical manner and neglect to make requisite enquiries as contemplated in the preceding parts of the judgment. The duties of the trial courts as well as other agencies while fixing sureties can be summed up as under:-

(1) In case a prisoner cannot arrange the sureties fixed by the trial court the former can make an application to the learned trial court for a lesser surety. Material facts relating to the socioeconomic status and roots in the community of the prisoner shall be stated in the application.

(2) Similarly it is bounden duty of the DLSA to examine the status of the prisoners who have been enlarged on bail but are not set at liberty within seven days of the bail order. In case the prisoners cannot arrange for sureties they may be advised and assisted to promptly move an application for refixation of the surety in light of this judgment.

(3) Once the prisoner makes such application the trial court shall make an enquiry consistent with this judgment and pass a reasoned order depicting consideration of relevant criteria for fixing sureties with utmost expedition.

(4) Every trial court is under an obligation to satisfy itself about the socioeconomic conditions of the prisoner and probability of absconding and his roots in the community and fix sureties commensurate with the same. The State authorities or other credible agencies as the court may direct to promptly provide the requisite details.

(5). In case the prisoner is from another State and is unable to produce local sureties, sureties from the prisoner's home district or any other place of his choice determined by the court of competent jurisdiction of the said district and State shall be accepted by the trial court.

(6) The prisoner/counsel may state the details of the socio-economic status of the prisoner in the bail application in the first instance. This will facilitate an expeditious consideration of the issue related to sureties."

4. Courts should examine the socioeconomic conditions of a prisoner while fixing surety conditions. Further, the Courts should not impose conditions which cannot be satisfied by the prisoner on account of his destitute circumstances or conditions of want or deprivation faced by him.

5. I find merit in the submission that the condition put by this Court of (one should be of a family member) is an onerous one in the facts and circumstances of this case.

6. In the wake of preceding discussion the modification application is allowed. The surety conditions put by this Court in the order dated 18.05.2023 to the effect that (one should be of a family member) as sureties is recalled. The matter is remitted to the trial court. The trial court shall fix sureties as per socioeconomic conditions of the applicant and in light of the observations made above.

7. While fixing sureties the trial court has to apply its mind to the socioeconomic conditions of the prisoner. Further the trial court while fixing sureties shall not impose any onerous or arbitrary conditions which defeat the order granting bail to the concerned prisoner or prevent the applicant from being set forth at liberty.

8. Before parting some observations have to be made in the facts of this case. The applicant is in jail for almost one year. The bail application of the applicant was allowed by this Court on 18.05.2023. However, the applicant has not been set forth at liberty on account of the surety conditions in the bail order.

9. Prima facie it appears that the trial court and the DLSA did not discharge their duties of making necessary enquiries even after the prisoner was not set forth at liberty within one week after the bail was granted by this Court in light of Arvind Singh (supra). The District Legal Services Authority has not moved any application nor preferred any advice to the applicant in light of the judgment rendered in Arvind Singh (supra) to seek a modification of the order dated 18.05.2023.

10. It appears that the directions of this Court in Arvind Singh (supra) have not been complied with by the trial court and the DLSA respectively.

11. All trial courts as well as DLSAs are under an obligation to comply with the directions of this Court in Arvind Singh (supra) as well as those made above in this order. Learned District Judge, Deoria shall make necessary enquiries and appropriately counsel the trial judge and the DLSA, Deoria in the matter.

12. It is clarified that the above observations shall not be construed adversely against any judicial officer.

13. A copy of this order shall be sent to Secretary, State Legal Services Authority.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1277
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 14.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SAURABH SHYAM SHAMSHERY, J.

Crl. Misc. Bail Application No. 13444 of 2023

Praveen ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Applicant:
Rajrshi Gupta, Rizwan Ahamad, Sr. Advocate

Counsel for the Respondent:
G.A., Harshit Gupta, Ramanand Gupta

Criminal Law – Bail application- Applicant- Allegation of shooting dead a businessman by multiple close range firearm shots- Conspiracy unearthed- Main conspirator and co-accused bail application rejected- Some other co-accused persons granted bail- Established principles of jurisprudence of bail- Relevant factors for consideration of bail application- reiterated- Parity with other co-accused persons rejected- Practice of engaging a new advocate- Object of obtaining adjournment- discouraged- Application dismissed. (Paras 8 and 12)

HELD:
I have considered the above mentioned rival submissions in referred factual and legal backgrounds and in view of established principle of jurisprudence of bail i.e. 'bail is rule and jail is exception' as well as relevant factors for consideration of a bail application such as (i) whether there is any prima facie or reasonable ground to believe that the accused had committed 5 the offence; (ii) nature and gravity of the accusation (iii) severity of the punishment in the event of conviction; (iv) danger of the accused absconding or fleeing, if released on bail; (v) character, behaviour, means, position and standing of the accused; (vi) likelihood of the offence being repeated; (vii) reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being influenced; (viii) danger, of course of justice being thwarted by grant of bail etc, and that an order to grant or not to grant bail must assigned reasons. (Para 8)

A practice to engage a new Advocate by an applicant through his pairokar on date of hearing or few days back, only with an object to take an adjournment, specifically in bail applications, which has already been adjourned repeatedly on earlier dates on request of counsel for applicant, is liable to be discouraged. It is duty of an Advocate to expedite hearing of a bail application and not to prolong it. (Para 12)

Application dismissed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. Deepak Yadav Vs St. of U.P. (2022) 8 SCC 559

2. Manoj Kumar Khokar Vs St. of Raj. & anr.(2022) 3 SCC 501

3. The St. of Jharkhand Vs Dhananjay Gupta @ Dhananjay Prasad Gupta: Order dated 7.11.2023 in SLP(Crl) No.10810/2023

4. Shiv Kumar Vs The St. of U.P. & ors. : Order dated 12.9.2023 in Criminal Appeal No.2782 of 2023

5. Ramayan Singh Vs The St. of U.P. & anr., 2024 SCC OnLine SC 563

6. Sanjeev Vs St. of Kerala, 2023 INSC 998

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saurabh Shyam Shamshery, J.)

1. Heard Sri I.P.S. Tomar and Sri Rizwan Ahamad, learned counsels for applicant, Sri Roshan Kumar Singh, learned AGA for State and Sri Sagir Ahmad, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Harshit Gupta, learned counsel for Informant.

2. Applicant-Praveen has approached this Court by way of filing present bail application seeking enlargement on bail in Case Crime No. 543 of 2021 (Session Trial No. 1197 of 2022), under Sections 302, 506, 120B, 34, 201, 473 IPC, Police Station Civil Lines, District Aligarh.

3. This bail application was filed on 01.03.2023 and was taken up earlier for hearing on eight dates, however, it was mainly adjourned on request of counsel for applicant or due to his absence or for exchange of pleadings. Details of order passed on earlier dates are reproduced hereinafter:

Date	Order
01.06.2023	1. Counter affidavit, if any, be filed by the State counsel on or before the date fixed. 2. List this case on 12.07.2023 as fresh.
12.07.2023	Counter affidavit filed by learned counsel for the informant is taken on record.

Learned counsel for the applicant prays for and is granted one week's time to file rejoinder affidavit.

Put up this case on 20.7.2023 as a fresh case.

20.07.2023 As prayed put up this case on 1.8.2023 as a fresh case.

08.08.2023 As prayed, list this case on 28.8.2023.

20.09.2023 1. As prayed, list after two months.

19.10.2023 1. Counsel for the applicant prays for adjournment.
2. Counsel for the informant informs that trial is on the verge of conclusion.
3. List this case peremptorily on 28.10.2023.

03.11.2023 Learned counsel for the informant informs that trial is on the verge of conclusion.
Learned counsel for the applicant is seeking regular adjournment in this case.

List this case after three months.

08.02.2024 परिवादी के विद्वान अधिवक्ता एवं विद्वान अपर शासकीय अधिवक्ता उपस्थित हैं।
आवेदक की ओर से कोई उपस्थित नहीं है।
इस वाद को दि० 19.03.2024 को अतिरिक्त वाद सूची में सूचीबद्ध किया जाय।

4. Present case is arising out of an occurrence where a businessman was shot dead by multiple close range firearm shots (five entry and three exit firearm wounds) in his car by contract killers, who were following deceased by another vehicle, at about 08.45 PM on 27.12.2021 at a busy place in the heart of Aligarh City. A thorough investigation was conducted and a large conspiracy was unearthed. In was revealed that main conspirator was co-accused, Ankush Agrawal, whose bail application was rejected by a Coordinate Bench of this Court on 09.01.2023 (Neutral Citation No. 2023:AHC:5455). For reference reasons assigned to reject bail application are mentioned hereinafter:

"After hearing the rival contention, this court finds that main motive for commission of alleged offence has been attributed to the applicant by the witnesses. The settlement an amount of Rs. 90 lacs was disliked by the applicant since the deceased was pursuing the settlement and wanted that Deepti Gupta should be paid remaining amount of Rs. 45 lacs as permanent alimony by the applicant. The deceased was got murdered by the applicant by hiring shooters and hatching conspiracy with his friend and co-accused stated above."

5. During investigation, on basis of CCTV footage and eye witness account, sketches of two assailants and driver of vehicle were drawn. During investigation, gradually layers of conspiracy were pealed out, truth revealed and involvement of as many as 13 accused came into light. Trial is proceeding and it has reached upto statement of last prosecution witness. Submission was made that an application under Section 311 Cr.P.C. is being filed on behalf of applicant, but it was not supported by any document. Otherwise also, it would be a fatal argument as it would amount to delay trial on part of accused side only.

6. Learned counsel for applicant has mainly urged that there was no eye witness who could identify real culprits. Applicant's name was disclosed in confessional statement of co-accused (Sahil Yadav), who has already been released on bail. There is no direct evidenve of conspiracy and role assigned to applicant being contract killer alongwith other co-accused (Jitendra) is not supported by cogent evidence. Driver of car, who was also alleged to be a contract killer, has been released on bail and other co-accused, alleged to be part of conspiracy, have also been granted bail.

7. Per contra, learned Senior Advocate appearing for Informant submitted that applicant being contract killer, has no fear of law and order. He has long criminal history of atleast eighteen cases involving offences of attempt to murder, murder, murder during robbery, Arms Act etc. Applicant is menace to society and if bail is granted, he not only being remain a flight risk but there is likelihood to repeat grievous offences. Ballistic report also proved that weapon recovered on pointing out of applicant, was used in occurrence. List of criminal cases are as follows:

"i. Case Crime No. 508 of 2013 under Sections 147, 148, 149, 302, 302, 307 IPC and 7 CLA Act P.S.- Civil Lines District Aligarh.

ii. Case Crime No. 606 of 2013 under Section 25 Arms Act, Civil Lines District Aligarh.

iii. Case Crime No. 543 of 2021 under Sections 302, 120B, 506, 34, 201, 473 IPC Civil Lines District Aligarh.

iv. Case Crime No. 368 of 2019 under Sections 147, 148, 149, 307, 323, 504 IPC P.S. Khair District Aligarh.

v. Case Crime No. 89 of 2020 under Section 2/3 Gangster Act P.S. Banna Devi District Aligarh.

vi. Case Crime No. 147 of 2019 under Sections 147, 148, 149, 307 IPC P.S. Banna Devi District Aligarh.

vii. Case Crime No. 148 of 2019 under Section 25/27 Arms Act P.S. Banna Devi District Aligarh.

viii. Case crime no. 155 of 2022 under Section 2/3 Gangster Act, P.S. Civil Line, Aligarh.

ix. Case Crime No. 198 of 2014 under Section 392 IPC P.S. Tappal District Aligarh.

x. Case Crime No. 1402 of 2018 under Sections 147, 148, 149, 307 IPC P.S. Kotwali Sadabad District-Hathras.

xi. Case Crime No. 234 of 2015 under Sections 302, 120B, 34 IPC P.S. Chandpa District- Hathras.

xii. Case Crime No. 17 of 2016 under Section 2/3 Gangster Act P.S. Chandpa District- Hathras.

xiii. Case Crime No. 400 of 2017 under Sections 392, 34 IPC & 25 Arms Act P.S. Badshahpur District- Gurugram.

xiv. Case Crime No. 58 of 2018 under Sections 392, 394, 395, 397, 365, 34 IPC & 25/27 Arms Act P.S. Dwarika District- New Delhi.

xv. Case Crime No. 182 of 2018 under Sections 147, 148, 149, 307, 302 P.S. Shikarpur District- Bulandshehar.

xvi. Case Crime No. 76 of 2022 under Sections 25/27/3 Arms Act P.S. Tappal District- Aligarh.

xvii. Case Crime No. 01 of 2017 under Section 25 Arms Act P.S. Special Cell Lodhi Colony District- New Delhi.

xviii. Case Crime No. 36 of 2022 under Section 3/25 Arms Act, P.S. Bharatpur, Rajasthan."

8. I have considered the above mentioned rival submissions in referred factual and legal backgrounds and in view of established principle of jurisprudence of bail i.e 'bail is rule and jail is exception' as well as relevant factors for consideration of a bail application such as (i) whether there is any

prima facie or reasonable ground to believe that the accused had committed the offence; (ii) nature and gravity of the accusation (iii) severity of the punishment in the event of conviction; (iv) danger of the accused absconding or fleeing, if released on bail; (v) character, behaviour, means, position and standing of the accused; (vi) likelihood of the offence being repeated; (vii) reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being influenced; (viii) danger, of course of justice being thwarted by grant of bail etc, and that an order to grant or not to grant bail must assigned reasons (see Deepak Yadav vs State of U.P. (2022) 8 SCC 559, Manoj Kumar Khokar vs State of Rajasthan and Anr (2022) 3 SCC 501, The State of Jharkhand vs Dhananjay Gupta @ Dhananjay Prasad Gupta: Order dated 7.11.2023 in SLP(Crl) No.10810/2023, Shiv Kumar Vs The State of U.P. and Ors : Order dated 12.9.2023 in Criminal Appeal No.2782 of 2023; Ramayan Singh vs. The State of U.P. and another, 2024 SCC OnLine SC 563), I am of considered opinion that present is not a fit case to grant bail to applicant mainly on following grounds:-

(i) The orders whereby co-accused were granted bail were not accompanied with reasons as warranted by Supreme Court in Manoj Kumar Khokhar (supra) and Brijmani Devi vs. Pappu Kumar (2022) 4 SCC 497. All co-accused were mainly alleged to be part of larger conspiracy whereas allegations against applicant are of execution of plan to cause death by firing, therefore, claim of parity is rejected.

(ii) In the present case a thorough investigation was conducted that not only various evidence such as, photo sketch, CCTV footage, statement of various witnesses, call details etc. were collected but active involvement of applicant being contract shooter was also unearthed and at this stage there is no material to doubt credibility of evidence collected during investigation.

(iii) Trial is proceeding and applicant has not placed statement of witnesses recorded during trial and is relying only upon material collected during investigation. It appears that they want that this Court may not peruse even prima facie nature of evidence before Trial Court. This factor also goes against applicant. Complainant has filed some statement but counsel for applicant has not referred it. In this regard Court takes note submission of learned Senior Advocate for Informant that testimony of witnesses are prima facie against applicant.

(iv) The argument with regard to lack of evidence for hatching conspiracy is also liable to be rejected as not only nature of evidence before Trial Court is not brought before this Court but question likely to be put under Section 313 Cr.P.C. are still not ascertained. In this regard paras 35 and 36 of Sanjeev Vs. State of Kerala, 2023 INSC 998, being relevant, are mentioned hereinafter:

"35. After consideration of these depositions, we must decide whether the evidence on record is sufficient to establish a conspiracy under Section 120B, IPC. The ingredients to constitute a criminal conspiracy were summarised by this Court in State through Superintendent of Police v. Nalini & Ors. (1999)5 SCC 253 (3-Judge Bench). They are as follows:

i. Conspiracy is when two or more persons agree to do or cause to be done an illegal act or legal act by illegal means.

ii. The offence of criminal conspiracy is an exception to the general law, where intent alone does not constitute crime. It is the intention to commit a crime and join hands with persons having the same intention.

iii. Conspiracy is hatched in private or in secrecy. It is rarely possible to establish a conspiracy by direct evidence. Usually, the existence of the conspiracy and its objects have to be inferred from the circumstances and the conduct of the accused.

iv. Where in pursuance of the agreement, the conspirators commit offenses individually or adopt illegal means to do a legal act that has a nexus to the object of the conspiracy, all of them will be liable for such offenses even if some of them have not actively participated in the commission of those offenses.

36. These principles were followed in Yakub Abdul Razak Memon v. State of Maharashtra, (2013)13 SCC 1 (2-Judge Bench), wherein this Court reiterated that to establish conspiracy it is necessary to establish an agreement between the parties. Further, the offence of criminal conspiracy is of joint responsibility, all conspirators are liable for the acts of each of the crimes which have been committed as a result of the conspiracy. [See also: Arvind Singh v. State of Maharashtra, (2021)11 SCC 1 (3-Judge Bench); Mohd. Naushad (supra)]"

(v) The Court also takes note of long criminal history of grievous offences of applicant and submission that he is a flight risk as well as likelihood of repeating offence is also very high.

(vi) The Court also takes note of reasons assigned while rejecting bail application of co-accused, Ankush Agrawal. (vii) It has not been denied that prosecution witnesses have substantially supported prosecution case and that they have been tested with lengthy cross-examination.

9. The bail application is accordingly rejected.

10. Trial Court concerned is directed to conclude trial expeditiously.

11. Registrar (Compliance) to take steps.

12. A practice to engage a new Advocate by an applicant through his pairokar on date of hearing or few days back, only with an object to take an adjournment, specifically in bail applications, which has already been adjourned repeatedly on earlier dates on request of counsel for applicant, is liable to be discouraged. It is duty of an Advocate to expedite hearing of a bail application and not to prolong it.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1282
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 03.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SIDDHARTH, J.
THE HON'BLE RAM MANOHAR NARAYAN MISHRA, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 72 of 1984

Rahatjan ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
S.I. Jafri, Amar Nath Sharma, Kuldeep Johri, Shadab Ali, Vimlendu Tripathi

Counsel for the Respondent:
DGA

Criminal Law: Indian Penal Code, 1860 – Section 302 – Murder – Evidence Act, 1872 – Sections 25, 26 & 27 - Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2000 - Section 15, 16 - accused committed murder of a young boy of 12 years of age by strangulating him - accused made an extra judicial confession – Charge Sheet - cognizance of the offence - Trial court framed charge - prosecution examined nine witnesses – Contention – Based on circumstantial evidence - no eye witness - prosecution neither produced doctor nor examined constabl e - St.ment under section 313 Cr.P.C. that he has been falsely implicated due to some land dispute between the informant and accused - appellant raised plea of juvenility – JJB declared juvenile on the date of offence - finding - not been set aside by order of any superior court – hence, declared juvenile - as per medical age determination report, accused is 50 years of age – not required to sent to Special Home – Conviction upheld and affirmed.(Para - 3, 16, 38, 41, 42, 47, 48, 49)

Held: Although confession of accused for committing murder of deceased on account of his ill intention to commit unnatural sex with the deceased and consequent threatening hurled by the deceased being made before the police and police custody cannot be permitted to be proved by the public witnesses like PW-5 and PW-6 on account of statutory prohibition under section 25 and 26 of Evidence Act, yet the recovery of dead body and Angochha used in strangulation of the deceased based on disclosure St.ment of the accused before the police and therefore, protected under section 27 of the Evidence Act, which is exception of section 25 and 26 of Evidence Act. Prosecution has successfully proved the links of the chain of circumstantial evidence, accused was last seen by three witnesses in the company of the deceased and the deceased was never found alive thereafter in the evening preceding to the recovery of dead body. Appellant raised plea of juvenility during pendency of appeal . Juvenile Justice Board declared appellant age around 14 years on the date of offence. (Para - 39, 40, 41, 42, 48)

Appeal is partly allowed. (E-13)

List of Cases cited:

1. R. Sreenivasa Vs St. of Kar., 2023 SCC Online SC 1132

2. Hiralal Mallick Vs The St. of Bihar, (1977) 4 SCC 44

3. Rakesh Kumar & anr. Vs The St. of U.P., 1976 SCC Online All 530

4. Karan alias Fatiya Vs St. of M. P., (2023) 5 SCC 504

5. Mahesh Vs St. of Raj., (2021) 18 SCC 582

6. Narayan Chetanram Chaudhary Vs St. of Mah., 2023 SCC Online SC 340

7. R. Sreenivasa Vs St. of Karn.

8. Karan @ Fatiya Vs St. of M. P.

9. Jitendra Singh Vs St. of U.P. (2013) 11 SCC 193

10. Mahesh Vs St. of Raja., (2021) 18 SCC 582

11. Satya Deo Vs St. of U.P., (2020) 10 SCC 555

12. Pratap Singh Vs St. of Jharkhand & ors.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ram Manohar Narayan Mishra, J.)

1. Heard Sri Vimlendu Tripathi and Sri Kuldeep Johri, learned counsels for the appellant and Sri Sushil Kumar Pandey, learned AGA for the State.

2. This criminal appeal has been filed against the judgement and order dated 22.12.1983 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Rampur in Session Trial No. 83 of 1983 arising out of Case Crime no. 35/1983 under section 302 IPC, P.S. Suar, District Rampur whereby appellant has been convicted of charge under section 302 IPC and sentenced to imprisonment for life.

3. The prosecution case, in brief, is that on 5.3.1983 after 6:00 pm, the accused Rahatjan had committed the murder of Firasat, a young boy of 12 years of age by strangulating him in his wheat field, situated in village Aglaga, P.S. Suar, District Rampur. It is also said that on 6.3.1983 on being arrested, the accused made an extra judicial confession of his having caused the death of Firasat by strangulating him with the help of Angochha and he helped the police personnel in making available the dead body of deceased Firasat inside his wheat field and muffler with the help of which, Firasat was strangulated by him by taking out the same from the rahat situated in hat very field.

Police investigated the case and filed charge-sheet against the appellant for charge under section 302 IPC. Learned C.J.M., Rampur took cognizance of the offence and committed the case to the court of session for trial. On commencement of trial, learned trial court framed charge under section 302 IPC against the appellant and he was put to trial for said charge. The prosecution examined as many as nine witnesses in support of charge.

4. Akhtar Ali (PW-1), who is the father of the deceased Firasat and is de-facto complainant in this case. He has stated that Firasat Ali, aged 10-11 years, had gone to pray Asar ki Namaz on 5.3.1983, in the evening and thereafter he had not returned. At that time, he was wearing a shirt, Baniyan, Trouser and woollen sweater. He made search on the next day at about 9:00 am. Khurshid Ahmad met him and told about his having seen Firasat alongwith Rahat Jan going towards the side of cane centre after the period of Asar ki Namaz. Thereafter, Chhotey and Noor Ali also met him and they also told him about their having seen Firasat and Rahat Jan going towards the side of Bijlighar on 5.3.1983 at about 6:00 pm. The accused Rahat Jan had a field towards Bijlighar. On having these informations, he went to the house of Rahat Jan and found Rahat Jan not available at his house. He was told by Safadar Mian about Rahat Jan having not returned to the house since 6:00 pm yesterday. He got the report Ex. Ka-1, written from Hashim Husain and went to the police station and lodged the same. It is also stated that the accused is in the habit of indulging in sodomy and his activities were made known to this effect. He has been cross examined at length. He has stated that Firasat Ali deceased had not gone to offer prayer of Asar Ki Namaz in his presence rather he came to know from his wife on return from the jungle. On that day, he had gone to his field, which is at distance of a furlong from his house. Asar Ki Namaz is being offered at about 5:00 pm. He has stated to have participated in Maghrib Ki Namaz and after offering the prayer there, he came to his house and was informed about Firasat having not returned till then. He enquired from the children with whom he used to play but he could not get his whereabouts. It is also stated that, in the night he had not gone to lodge the report with a thinking that Firasat might have gone to the house of his Mamu in village Khempur and in the morning he went to village Khempur to enquire and thereafter returned to his village when Khurshid, Chhotey and Noor Ali met him and informed about their having seen Firasat with the accused after the hours of Asar Ki Namaz. He has also stated that towards the east of his house, there is an open piece of land where there is a Pakar tree. This land is of Barkat Shah and not of the father of Rahat Jan accused but in the same sequence he has shown his ignorance about the same. He has stated to have also gone along with the police party to the house of Safdar but he had not gone inside the house. He has stated to have remained at a distance and had not gone with the police personnel to the house of Safdar. On return from the house of Safdar, he had not gone to any other place alongwith the police party. He has denied the fact of his ever intended to purchase open land from the father of the accused. He has also denied the deference suggestion of his ever abused either the accused or his other family members and his having implicated the accused in this case falsely. He has proved the clothes Ext. -01 to 05, which, the deceased Firasat was wearing at the time when he had gone from his house.

5. Khurshid (PW-2) is a minor boy of 12 or 13 years of age but he is capable of giving the reply and being well understandable one. He has stated that 3 or 4 months back at about 6:00 pm, he had gone to invite Qazi Sahib and when he was going, he saw the accused Rahat Jan and Firasat going towards cane centre. In the morning, he told this fact to Akhtar Ali, father of Firasat. He came to know that the dead body of Firasat had been recovered in the field. In his cross examination, he has stated that he and Firasat used to have the teaching of Quran from Qazi Sahib in the mosque being near the cane centre. When he had gone to invite Qazi Sahib, at that time, Maghrib Ki Namaz was already over. It is stated that the house of Firasat is at a distance of 8 or 10 houses from his house. He has stated that his father had been in the house in the night at about 9 or 9:30 and by that time he had already slept. He has been questioned about the timings of the prayer being made, to which, he replied in detailed. It is also stated that the deceased Firasat used to pray Zohar and Asar ki Namaz in the mosque of Qazi Sahib. On the next day, the father of Firasat met him in the morning at about 8 or 9 am. He has stated that he had not paid any attention about the clothes, which the accused Rahat Jan was wearing at the time when he had seen Firasat and Rahat Jan going towards cane centre. He has denied the suggestion of his having not seen Firasat and Rahat Jan going towards cane centre. He has further denied the defence suggestion of his deposing the false facts at the instance of father of Firasat.

6. Chhotey (PW-3) has stated that about four months back at about 6 or 6:30 pm, he was chewing cane at cane centre alongwith Noor Ali. The accused alongwith Firasat was seen going towards Bijalighar, where Rahat Jan accused has his field, the accused Rahat Jan is in the habit of committing sodomy. On the next day, the corpse of Firasat was recovered. It is also stated that at that time, latif was not with them. He has denied the defence suggestion of his having not seen Firasat and the accused going towards Bijalighar side. He has further denied the suggestion of his deposing on account of any relationship. He has definitely stated that he has not in relation with Akhtar Ali, father of deceased Firasat.

7. Noor Ali, (PW-4), has also stated the same facts of his being with Chhotey at cane centre and chewing cane. He has also stated the facts of his having seen the accused and Firasat going towards Bijalighar. There is a plot of Rahat Jan towards the side of Bijalighar. On the next day, the dead body of Firasat was found in the wheat field of the accused Rahat Jan. He has stated that the Panchayatnama on the dead body was prepared in his presence and he is also witness of all the formalities having been done there in connection with the Panchayatnama. In his cross examination, he has stated that the house of the deceased Firasat is at the distance of 100 or 150 yards from his house. It is stated that when the accused and Firasat were seen going, he had not talked with either of them. He has detailed the particulars of the clothes, which both the persons Firasat and Rahat Jan were wearing at that time. It is also stated that on the road of cane centre, there is no Abadi of Bijlighar, rather the houses of the persons of Bijlighar are on one side towards Rampur-Suar road and the houses of Bijlighar as well as the building itself is/are not visible from the field of the accused. He has denied the suggestion of his having not seen the deceased Firasat in the company of the accused a day before his dead-body was recovered. He has further denied the suggestion of his having any relationship with the family of Firasat deceased.

8. Mohd. Raza (PW -5) has stated that he along with Ahmad Ali and Mohammad Ali was standing at a place when police personnel met them and desired to accompany them. At that time, it was 12 or 12:30 'O' Clock. They were told by the police personnel that they had an information about the accused Rahat Jan having concealed himself at the house of grand-father and they went to arrest him for which their help was desired. He along with others proceeded with the police personnel to the house of Abdul Hasan- the grand-father of the accused. After entering into the house of Abdul Hasan, the accused tried to run-away after coming out of the room, but he was arrested then and there. On interrogation, the accused Rahat Jan has told the facts of his having taken Firasat to the cane centre to enjoy the chewing of cane and cane being not available there, he took him to his field, where he wanted to have sodomy with Firasat, which was not conceded by Firasat, rather he (Firasat) said to inform the villagers about the same as well as to the parents. The accused thereafter confessed his guilt of having murdered Firasat and also said that his dead-body was lying in his wheat field, which, he could make available by going there as well as the Angochha, with which he had caused the death of the Firasat by strangulation. After his having stated this facts, the accused took the police-party to the wheat field, where he made available the dead-body of Firasat, which was lying in his wheat field. He also made available the Angochha, with which, he had strangulated Firasat to death, after taking out from the Rahat of his well, situated in the same field. The witness has proved the Fard Ext. Ka-2, which was prepared at the house of Abdul Hasan pertaining to the arrest of the accused and his having made extra judicial confession to the offence committed by him. He has further proved the Fard of the dead-body being recovered and Angochha as Ext. Ka 3. He has further proved the Angochha itself as Ext. -6, which was taken out by the accused from the well and with which the accused is stated to have strangulated Firasat to death. He has also stated that sample of the wheat crops was also taken by the police personnel vide Fard Ext. Ka- 4 and the sample of the same has been proved by him as Ext.-7. The dead-body of Firasat was sealed and the Panchayatnama and the other papers were prepared at the spot, over which the witness stated to have also signed. He has been cross-examined at length. He has stated that at the time, when they were taken by the police personnel to the house of Abdul Hasan, there was no other public person other than them and the police personnel were three in number. It is stated that at the place where they were standing , there is a Pakar tree, which is at the land of grave-yard.

9. Mohd. Ali, (PW-6), has stated the facts of his being with Mohammad Raza (PW-5) at Pakar tree, when he was also called by the police personnel to help them in arresting the accused Rahat Jan, who was informed to be available and concealing his presence at the house of his grand-father Abdul Hasan. This witness has stated that apart from him, Mohammad Raza and Ahmad Ali were also with them. He has described the manner in which the accused was arrested while coming out from the room itself intending to escape and his having made extra-judicial confession about his having caused the death of Firasat by strangulation with the hep of Angochha and his having desired to help them in making the recovery of dead-body of Firasat and the Angochha itself. He has stated to have put his thumb-impression on the Fard Ext. Ka-2, having been prepared at the house of Abdul Hasan and thereafter the accused Rahat Jan having taken them and the police personnel to the place where he left the dead-body of Firasat and kept the Angochha with which he had strangulated him. It is also stated that the dead body of Firasat was made available by the accused Rahat Jan after taking them at his own wheat-field lying there and the Angochha itself after taking out the same from the Rahat of the well, situated in the very field. He has acknowledged his thumb-impression on the Fard Ext. Ka-3 having been prepared at the spot and the Angochha Ext.-6, with which the accused is said to have strangulated and caused the death of Firasat.

10. Raees (PW-7) has stated that 8 or 9 months back at about 7:30 P.M. he and Latif had seen the accused in the state of feeling too much worried and going towards his house.

11. Shri Daya Nand Tiwari (PW-8) is the Investigating Officer. He has stated that on 6.3.1983 at about 10:40 A.M., an information was made at the police-station about non-availability of Firasat. On the basis of this report Ext. Ka-1, G.D. entry was made, copy of which has been proved as Ext. Ka-6. He at once started the matter itself and went to the house of Rahat Jan, where he was not found. He had prepared its Fard Ext. Ka-7. At about 01 'O' clock. He had sent information through an informant about the accused being available at the house of his grand-father Abdul Hasan. He at-once proceeded to the house of Abdul Hasan and took Mohammad Raza, Mohammad Ali and Ahmad Ali. While being at the house of Abdul Hasan, the accused Rahat Jan tried to run-away, but was arrested. On interrogation, the accused Rahat Jan made extra-judicial confession of having caused the death of Firasat by strangulation and his having concealed the dead-body as well as the Angochha, with which he was strangulated at his wheat field and accused also desired to make available both the things to them. He had prepared the Fard of the house-search and arrest Ext. Ka-2 at the house of Abdul Hasan and therefrom proceeded to the direction to which the accused had taken them. While being at the field, the accused made available the dead-body of Firasat and the Angochha after taking out from the well. He had prepared its Fard Ext. Ka-3. From the spot itself, a constable was sent to the police-station along with a letter, copy of which has been proved as Ext. Ka-9. That constable came at the spot at 3:45 P.M. along with two other constable as well as the papers pertaining to Panchayatnama. He had prepared the Panchayatnama Ext. Ka-10 and proved the photo Lash Ext. Ka-11, chalan Lash Ext. Ka-12, memo to C.M.O. in two sheets Ext. ka-15 and Ex. Ka-16. He had sealed the dead body of Firasat and prepared the specimen of seal Ext. Ka-17. The dead-body was sent to the District Hospital, Rampur for ensuring post-mortem with constables Dharam Singh and Jaipal Singh. Angochha Ext.-6 was sealed at the spot. He had prepared the site-plan of the place of recovery of dead-body as Ext. Ka-18. He had taken the sample of wheat crop and proved the same as Ext.-7 vide its Fard Ext. Ka-4. The accused along with these papers and the sealed articles were brought up to the police-station, where entries were made in the G.D. at about 7:00 P.M. on 6.3.1983, copy of which has been proved as Ext. Ka-19. He has further proved the site plan Ext. Ka-20 pertaining to the place of arrest of the accused and after his having the post-mortem report Ext. Ka-5 and completing the investigation having submitted the charge-sheet Ext. Ka-21 against the accused in court. In his cross-examination, he has stated that from the police-station, they had proceeded to the house of Rahat Jan on cycles and Akhtar Ali, the father of deceased Firasat, had not gone with them to the house of Rahat Jan. Safdar met them at the house of Rahat Jan and there the accused was not found. He has stated to have taken Mohammad Ali, Ahmad Ali and Mohammad Raza from the place where there is a Pakar tree and none of them was known to him from before that day. The house of Abdul Hasan was pointed to him by the witnesses, who had accompanied them. He had denied the suggestion of the accused having not been arrested in the manner, as is told by him as well as the accused having not made the extra judicial confession after his arrest. He has denied the defence suggestion of the dead body having not been recovered at the field of the accused. He had also denied the suggestion of Angochha having not been recovered at the instance of the accused.

12. Dharam Singh, (PW-9), is a formal witness of the fact that on 6.3.1983 he had taken the dead body of Firasat along with the papers to the District Hospital, Rampur and no one was allowed to see the dead body till it remained with him.

13. Learned trial court after appreciation of evidence on record in the light of contentions of learned counsel for the parties observed that the case is based on circumstantial evidence as there is no eye witness in the case. In support of charge against the accused, prosecution has relied upon following circumstances:-

(i) the fact that accused was last seen in the company of deceased Firasat in the evening preceding the discovery of his dead body. (ii) the fact that the accused had absconded and was seen in the perplexed state of affairs. (iii) the extra judicial confession made by the accused on being arrested about his having caused the death of Firasat by strangulating him with the help of Angochha (towel). (iv) the recovery of dead body of Firasat having been made at the instance of the accused by taking the police personnel and witnesses to the place where he had concealed it i.e. in his wheat field. (v) the recovery of Angochha, Ext.-6, from the rahat from the well being situated in the same wheat field after taking it out by the accused himself therefrom.

14. Learned trial court after appreciating these circumstantial evidence in the light of evidence adduced by the prosecution concluded that the circumstances mentioned herein above rather proved by prosecution on strength of evidence adduced during trial, through oral evidence as well as some documentary evidence. Court found that the evidence being that of oral, post mortem notes and the medical is clinching to the issue of guilt thereby establishing the involvement of the accused in the commission of the murder of Firasat with the help of Angochha by way of strangulation and after his having made the extra judicial confession of his guilt ensuring the recovery of his dead body as well as Angochha, Ext-6, itself after taking the same out from the rahat of the well situated in the very wheat field from where the dead body of Firasat was taken out by the accused himself. Thus the cumulative effect of the circumstantial evidence on record is that the prosecution has succeeded to prove the guilt of the accused to the crime and to the offence with which he has been charged beyond all reasonable shadow of doubts and to its hilt. The accused thus is found to be guilty to the offence under section 302 IPC with which he has been charged.

15. Learned trial court, accordingly, passed verdict of guilt against the appellant for charge under section 302 IPC and sentenced him as above. Feeling aggrieved by the impugned judgement and order, present appeal has been filed by the appellant before this Court.

16. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted as follows:

(i) the case is based on circumstantial evidence as this is admitted case that there is no eye witness account of the commission of offence of murder of deceased Firasat.

(ii) the prosecution neither produced doctor, who conducted post mortem examination of the dead body of deceased nor examined constable, who entered missing report of Firasat in General Diary and registered Case Crime No. 35 of 1983.

(iii) the prosecution did not produce any formal witness to prove G.D. entry, registration of case etc.

(iv) the evidence against the appellant is only to the effect of last seen and recovery of dead body of the deceased and recovery of Gamachha from the agricultural field of his father.

(v) according to prosecution version, accused was arrested at 13:30 hours on 6.3.1983 and after that, the dead body was shown to be recovered at 14:30 hours on 6.3.1983 on pointing out of the accused. Thereafter, criminal case was registered at police station Suar, District Rampur as Crime No. 35/1983 under section 302/201 IPC by making entry in the General Diary at 3:15 pm. However, the inquest proceedings were started at 11:00 am on 6.3.1983, wherein, even the Crime No. 35 of 1983 is also mentioned at the top of the inquest report, Ex. Ka-10. Moreover, the investigating officer also states that he reached at the place of the incident at 15:45 hours on 6.3.1983. These factual status demonstrates that the dead body was recovered much before the time of arrest of the appellant and after recovery of the dead body, a story was set up regarding arrest, recovery and last seen etc. and hence the entire story of prosecution appears doubtful and unreliable.

(vi) so far as the evidence of last seen is concerned, the testimony of prosecution witnesses Khurshid (PW-2), Chhotey (PW-3), Noor Ali (PW-4) and the prosecution witness Raees (PW-7), who had given stereotyped statements regarding last seen and their testimony appears to be unreliable. Infact, if these witnesses had actually seen the deceased in company of accused as last seen on 5.3.1983, there is no reason why they could not locate the dead body until 6.3.1983 at about 14:30 hours, where distance of cane centre and electric house is 30-40 yards where the deceased and accused were allegedly last seen and distance between electric house and the agricultural field of the accused where dead body was recovered is only 10 to 15 footsteps.

17. There is no close link or live link between the last seen evidence and the recovery of the dead body and hence the evidence of last seen is unreliable keeping in view the timing of inquest, arrest of the accused and recovery of dead body and the registration of the criminal case at police station concerned.

18. Even if the appellant Rahat Jan is held to be guilty of the alleged crime, he is entitled to be extended benefit of Section 18(1), 20 and 21 of the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection) Act, 2015. He can only proceeded in terms of Section 18(1) of the Act and no substantive sentence of imprisonment is liable to be inflicted on him. The appellant was held to be juvenile by the Juvenile Justice Board after conducting due inquiry in its report dated 15.3.2019 placed on reference made by this Court vide order dated 22.1.2019 whereby District Judge, Rampur was directed to get an inquiry conducted from the appropriate forum regarding plea of juvenility made by the appellant/ applicant in present appeal. The Juvenile Justice Board in its order dated 15.3.2019 held that the appellant was juvenile in conflict with law on the date of offence i.e. 5.3.1983 and he was of age 14 years at that time.

19. Learned counsel for the appellant placed reliance upon the judgement of Hon'ble Apex Court in R. Sreenivasa vs. State of Karnataka, 2023 SCC Online SC 1132, Hiralal Mallick vs. The State of Bihar, (1977) 4 SCC 44, Rakesh Kumar and another vs. The state of U.P., 1976 SCC Online All 530, Karan alias Fatiya vs. State of Madhya Pradesh, (2023) 5 SCC 504, Mahesh vs. State of Rajasthan, (2021) 18 SCC 582, Narayan Chetanram Chaudhary vs. State of Maharashtra, 2023 SCC Online SC 340, in support of his submissions.

20. In R. Sreenivasa vs. State of Karnataka, Hon'ble Apex Court while deciding criminal appeal against the judgement of conviction and sentence in case under section 302 IPC where High Court reversed the order of acquittal against the appellant recorded by the trial court, allowed the appeal and restored verdict of acquittal passed by the trial court, observed as under:-

"17. In the present case, given that there is no definitive evidence of last seen as also the fact that there is a long time-gap between the alleged last seen and the recovery of the body, and in the absence of other corroborative pieces of evidence, it cannot be said that the chain of circumstances is so complete that the only inference that could be drawn is the guilt of the appellant. In Laxman Prasad v State of Madhya Pradesh, (2023) 6 SCC 399, we had, upon considering Sharad Birdhichand Sarda v State of Maharashtra, (1984) 4 SCC 116 and Shailendra Rajdev Pasvan v State of Gujarat, (2020) 14 SCC 750, held that '… In a case of circumstantial evidence, the chain has to be complete in all respects so as to indicate the guilt of the accused and also exclude any other theory of the crime.' It would be unsafe to sustain the conviction of the appellant on such evidence, where the chain is clearly incomplete. That apart, the presumption of innocence is in favour of the accused and when doubts emanate, the benefit accrues to the accused, and not the prosecution. Reference can be made to Suresh Thipmppa Shetty v State of Maharashtra, 2023 INSC 7494."

21. Other judgements cited by learned counsel for the appellant relates to plea of juvenility raised by the accused at appellate stage. In Karan alias Fatiya vs. State of Madhya Pradesh, Hon'ble Supreme Court while deciding criminal appeal arising out from the judgement and order of High Court, Madhya Pradesh, Bench at Indore in case under section 302, 363, 376(2)(i) and 201 IPC, held as under:-

"According to sub- section (3) of section 9 of the 2015 Act, the Court which finds that the person who committed the offence was a child on the date of commission of such offence would forward the child to the JJB for passing appropriate orders and sentence, if any, passed by the Court shall be deemed to have no effect. This does not specifically or even impliedly provide that the conviction recorded by any Court with respect to a person who has subsequently after the disposal of the case found to be juvenile or a child, would also lose its effect rather it is only the sentence if any passed by the Court would be deemed to have no effect.

Further, the intention of the legislature was to give benefit to a person who is declared to be a child on the date of the offence only with respect to its sentence part. If the conviction was also to be made ineffective then either the jurisdiction of regular Sessions Court would have been completely excluded not only under section 9 of the 2015 Act but also under section 25 of the 2015 Act, provision would have been made that on a finding being recorded that the person being tried is a child, a pending trial should also be relegated to the JJB and also that such trial would be held to be null and void. Instead, under section 25 of the 2015 Act, it is clearly provided that any proceeding pending before any Board or Court on the date of commencement of the 2015 Act shall be continued in that Board or Court as if this Act had not been enacted.

Having considered the statutory provisions laid down in section 9 of the 2015 Act and also section 7A of the 2000 Act which is identical to section 9 of the 2015 Act, we are of the view that merits of the conviction could be tested and the conviction which was recorded cannot be held to be vitiated in law merely because the inquiry was not conducted by JJB. It is only the question of sentence for which the provisions of the 2015 Act would be attracted and any sentence in excess of what is permissible under the 2015 Act will have to be accordingly amended as per the provisions of the 2015 Act. Otherwise, the accused who has committed a heinous offence and who did not claim juvenility before the Trial Court would be allowed to go scot-free. This is also not the object and intention provided in the 2015 Act. The object under the 2015 Act dealing with the rights and liberties of the juvenile is only to ensure that if he or she could be brought into the main stream by awarding lesser sentence and also directing for other facilities for welfare of the juvenile in conflict with law during his stay in any of the institutions defined under the 2015 Act"

22. In that case, appellant was awarded death sentence for said charge by the judgement of trial court dated 17.5.2018 and appeal filed by the appellant was dismissed by the High Court and death reference forwarded by trial court was affirmed. The appellant raised plea of juvenility before the Supreme Court by filing I.A. No. 43271 of 2019. The Supreme Court directed the trial court to make endevour to consider whether the appellant was juvenile as on the date when the offence in question was committed after considering all relevant documents as well as medical check-up of the appellant in the manner known to the law.

23. Pursuant to the said order, a report was received from the court of first Additional Sessions Judge, Madhya Pradesh dated 27.10.2022, wherein, it was stated that date of incident being 15.12.2017; the appellant was 15 years 04 months and 20 days of age on the date of incident. Hon'ble Supreme Court with above observation and proposition of law as laid down by the Court in Jitendra Singh vs. State of U.P. (2013) 11 SCC 193; Mahesh vs. State of Rajasthan, (2021) 18 SCC 582; Satya Deo vs. State of U.P., (2020) 10 SCC 555, upheld the conviction of appellant for said charges. However, the sentence was set aside. It is further observed that as the appellant at present would be more than 20 years, there would be no requirement of sending him to the JJB or any other child care facility or institution. The appellant is in judicial custody. He shall be released forthwith. The impugned judgement shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent.

24. Per contra, learned AGA submitted that the finding of guilt recorded against the appellant by the trial court is based on proper and meticulous examination or evidence adduced during trial and same may not be disturbed or set aside in the present appeal as the prosecution has successfully proved all links of circumstantial evidence emerged from the evidence on record and charge against the appellant is duly proved by the prosecution to the hilt. The link of chain of circumstances form complete chain in present case and appellant has been rightly convicted and sentenced by the trial court. However, he did not dispute the fact that the plea of juvenility raised by the appellant has been accepted by the Juvenile Justice Board, Rampur in its order dated 15.3.2019.

25. On perusal of records it appears that chik of FIR has been lodged in the case and missing report was lodged at police station Suar, District Rampur on the basis of written report, Ext.Ka-1 dated 6.3.1983 filed by informant Akhtar Ali, father of deceased Firasat aged about 10-11 years vide GD report no. 16 dated 6.3.1983 and Dariyaft Head (DH) no. 3/83 was registered. Police proceeded to inquire missing son of informant namely Firasat on the basis of this GD entry; search was conducted in the house of suspect Rahatjan son of Safdar and eventually search and arrest was made; Fard was prepared by investigating officer on 6.3.1983 at 13:30 hour. The suspect Rahatjan was arrested by the police in the process of fleeing away from his house on noticing police team according to recovery memo of dead body of Firasat and Angochha dated 6.3.193 at 14:30 hours, Ext. Ka-2. It appears that dead body of the deceased Firasat was recovered on pointing out of appellant after his arrest on same day i.e. 6.3.1983 at 14:30 hours from the well situated in wheat field of accused; crops of wheat were broken in the surrounding of the well from where dead body and Angochha, used in strangulating the deceased, were recovered. The length of Angochha was 3 hath, 1 balist, 4 angul and 1 hath, 1 balist 8 angul; this angochha (towel) was taken into possession and recovery memo was prepared on the site in presence of police and witnesses of locality namely Mohd. Raja, Mohd. Ali and Ahmad Ali.

26. This is also stated in this recovery memo that accused confessed his guilt of committing murder of Firasat, minor, by strangulating him and throwing the dead body in the well; investigating officer also collected broken plants of wheat from the place of incident on which Ext.Ka- 4 was marked. In inquest report, time of report at police station is shown as 6.3.1983 at 10:40 am and inquest started at 11:00 am on same day, which was concluded at 5:00 pm; in inquest report Ext.Ka-10, it is stated that in opinion of witnesses of inquest, deceased was done to death by strangulation, therefore, its post mortem examination is required. In present case, genuineness of post mortem report was admitted by learned counsel for defence during course of trial and for that reasons, same is admissible in evidence under section 294 Cr.P.C., which provides as under:-

1. "Where any document is filed before any Court by the prosecution or the accused, the particulars of every such document shall be included in a list and the prosecution or the accused, as the case may be, or the pleader for the prosecution or the accused, if any, shall be called upon to admit or deny the genuineness of each such document.]

2. The list of documents shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the State Government.

3. Where the genuineness of any document is not disputed, such document may be read in evidence in any inquiry trial or other proceeding under this Code without proof of the signature of the person to whom it purports to be signed;

Provided that the Court may, in its discretion, require such signature to be proved."

27. As genuineness of this documents was admitted by adversary (accused side) this is rightly exhibited by the court on which Ext.-Ka-5 has been marked. This post mortem report, being exhibited during course of trial, is liable to be read in evidence and statement of learned counsel for the appellant in this regard that the doctor, who conducted post mortem of the dead body of the deceased, was not produced in evidence and for that reason this report is not duly proved cannot be subscribed. Ext.Ka-5 reveals that post mortem examination of dead body of the deceased boy, Firasat, aged about 12 years, was conducted on 7.3.1983 at 1:00 pm at district hospital, Rampur by Dr. K. Chandra. The dead body was identified by two constables Jaipal and Dharmpal of P.S. Suar, who carried the body to post mortem house; the time of death was about two days prior to its rigour-mortise was present in lower extremity and present on upper extremity, post mortem staining was present over back and buttock; eyes were closed; conjunctiva congested and pupils dilated; face livid cyanosed; mouth half opened; frothy fluid coming out from nostrils; lips cyanosed and saliva marks present over chin; froth coming out from both nostrils; nails cyanosed and finger of both hand closed.

28. Ante mortem injuries:-

(1) abraded ligature mark 11cm X 3 cm over front of neck which is horizontal (2) abrasion 2cm X 2cm over left side of face 4cm of below left ear; dead body was handed over for post mortem alongwith 11 enclosures.

29. Internal examination:

(i) fracture of larynx and trachea and also hyoid bone and ecohymosis present under injury no. 1, curtile veins ruptured; mussels of neck lacerated; membranes, brain, skull, lungs were congested; right chamber of heart was full, left was empty. In the opinion of doctor, cause of death was asphyxia as a result of strangulation.

30. PW-1, Akhtar Ali, who is father of deceased stated in evidence that his son Firasat Ali went to pray Namaz of Asar on 5.3.1983 and did not come back. He was around 10-11 years of age. He wore Kamij, Payjama, Baniyan and Suitor, when he did not come back he went for his search and on next day at 9:00 am, Khurshid Ahmad, PW-

2 told him that he had seen his son Firasat alongwith Rahatjan towards cane centre on 5.3.1983 after offering Namaz of Asar. Witness stated that after meeting Khurshid he also met Chhote and Noor, who told that when they were having sugar cane, they saw Firasat and Rajhatjan moving towards electric house on 5.3.1983 in the evening; witnesses identified accused in the court. He also stated that after meeting the witnesses, he went to the house of Rahatjan but did not find him there and he was apprised that he was not traceable from last evening since 6:00 pm. Thereafter, he got written report scribed by Hashim Husain and after it was read down to him, he signed it in Urdu, which is marked as Ext. Ka-1 during his evidence. He also stated that accused Rahatjan is a man of bad image and he is known to be a sodomized. In cross examination, this witness stated that apart from the deceased Firasat Ali, he was left with two sons when he came back to home on 5.3.1983 after paying Namaz of Asar, his wife told him that Firasat had gone to offer Namaz. He went in search of his son on getting information on finding him absent after offering Namaz of Asar, which usually take place at 8:00 to 8:30 pm; he visited many places for search of him but could not find him in the night; Khurshid met him in the morning at around 9:00 am, who is his neighbour. Khurshid Ahmad (PW-2), Chhotey son of Altaf (PW-3), Noor Ali (PW-4) are witnesses of last seen.

31. Khurshid, PW-2, is a child witness but after asking some preliminary question, the trial court found him understandable; he gave rational answers to the questions and therefore oath was administered to him. There is nothing in evidence of these two witnesses either in their examination in chief or in their cross examination on account of which casts any suspicion or doubt inferred as regards their version that they had seen deceased and accused Rahatjan in company in the evening on 5.3.1983 and his dead body was recovered in the well situated in the field of accused next day; deceased and PW-2 were studying in same school.

32. PW-3- Chhotey is also witness of last seen, who stated that he had seen deceased and accused together on 5.3.1983 at around 6:30 pm when they were moving towards electric house and field of accused Rahatjan situated towards electric house; there was complaint of sodomy against accused Rahatjan; in cross examination witness stated that there is gap of 3 to 4 fields between his field and field of accused.

33. PW-4, Noor Ali, is also witness of last seen, who stated in his evidence that he had seen the deceased and accused together at around 6:30 pm while they were moving towards electric house and field of accused Rahatjan situates towards electric house; dead body of Firasat was found in the wheat field of accused on next day; inquest was conducted by Darogaji before him and thereafter dead body was sealed and sent for post mortem; when he saw deceased and accused together at last time he was chewing sugar-cane alongwith witness Chhotey; witness clarified that he was not related to the deceased in any manner.

34. PW-5, Mohd. Raza, has stated in his evidence that he was standing with Ahmad Ali and Mohd. Ali together at a place and noticed that one Sub Inspector was going alongwith two constables at around 12:30 hours in the day and they were called by the police officials to be witnesses of arrest of suspect Rahatjan and accused was arrested from the house of grandfather, Hazi Abdul Hasan in their presence by police; accused confessed his guilty in his presence before the police, who stated that he had taken Firasat at cane centre on pretext of chewing sugar-cane but they could not find sugar-cane there and therefrom he took him to his field on pretext of taking fodder but on reaching the field, his intention got polluted and he intended to sodomise the boy (Firasat); he was not inclined to concede to his filthy demand and threatened him that he would tell this thing to people of Mohalla on reaching there and would also tell this fact to his father. The accused confessed to commit murder of the boy and had thrown the body in the wheat field of the accused situated in east of electric house; he pointed out towards the dead body of Firasat, which was lying in the field and took out Angochha, which was hanging on bucket attached to his rahat; inquest was conducted by Darogaji at the place of recovery of dead body; witness also stated that rahat was also installed in the well lying in the field of accused from where dead body was recovered.

35. PW-6, Mohd. Ali, is also witness of arrest of the accused and recovery of dead body of the deceased and Angochha used in strangulating the deceased on pointing out of the accused. This witness has also stated that accused Rahatjan had been arrested by the police in his presence and stated to sub inspector (Darogaji) on being interrogated by him that he intended to do some filthy act with Firasat but when he latter did not agree to his offer and threatened to told this fact to family members, he strangulated him by Angochha and concealed the dead body in the wheat field, Ext.Ka-3 was marked on recovery memo of Angochha and material Ex.-6 was marked on Angochha allegedly used in the commission of murder. The accused had pointed out the dead body in a far place in the wheat field, which was lying around 30 fits away from the mer of field as crop of wheat was grown up at that time; dead body was not visible from frontage of the field, this chak was one and half acre.

36. PW-7, Raees, has stated in his evidence that they saw accused Rahatjan in perplexed condition near go-down at around 7:30 pm, 8 to 9 months prior to his evidence before the court, who was moving towards his home fastly and darkness had engulfed the locality at that time.

37. PW-8, SI, Dayanand Tiwari, I.O. of the case; who also proved the factum of arrest of the accused, recovery of dead body and one Angochha used in strangulating the deceased; steps taken for investigation and registration of case on 6.3.1983 vide GD report no. 16 time 10:40 hours on information of informant regarding missing of his son. He proved extract of GD of registration of case in absence of its author constable Rajendra Singh on which Ext. Ka-6 was marked. He stated that he recovered Angochha from rahat installed in the well, which was situated in the field of accused and he also recovered dead body of the deceased, which was lying in the wheat field of the accused. He proved search and arrest memo of the accused as Ext. Ka-2. He also proved site plan of the place of incident as Ext.Ka-18 being its author. He also proved inquest report, Ext.Ka-10, of the deceased as well as annexures sent alongwith dead body like photo lass Ext. Ka-11 and Ext. Ka-14 report and letter R.I. as Ext. Ka-15 and Ka-16 in evidence.

38. Accused has stated in his statement under section 313 Cr.P.C. that he has been falsely implicated due to some land dispute between the informant and accused. He introduced DW-1, Nabi Jaan in defence evidence, who stated that he is acquainted with informant; the deceased and accused belong to his Mohalla; an altercation took place prior to this incident, between informant and father of accused with regard to tethering of cattle at an open land lying in front of Abadi of informant; this altercation occurred 8 to 10 days ago of death of deceased boy; witness denied prosecution suggestion that he is related to the accused and for that reason he deposed in his favour.

39. Be that as it may, it would for fetching exercise to extend benefit of doubt to the accused only due to the fact that after some days of this unfortunate murder of tendered boy around 10 to 11 years of age, some altercation took place between father of deceased and father of accused due to some land dispute on account of tethering of cattle, as many as three witnesses of last seen has supported prosecution version. Angochha used in strangulation of deceased boy as well as dead body of the deceased has been recovered on pointing out of the accused on next day of missing boy from the field of accused is duly proved. Although confession of accused for committing murder of deceased on account of his ill intention to commit unnatural sex with the deceased and consequent threatening hurled by the deceased being made before the police and police custody cannot be permitted to be proved by the public witnesses like PW-5, Mohd. Raza and PW-6 Mohd. Ali on account of statutory prohibition under section 25 and 26 of Evidence Act, yet the recovery of dead body and Angochha used in strangulation of the deceased based on disclosure statement of the accused before the police and therefore, same be protected under section 27 of the Evidence Act, which is exception of section 25 and 26 of the Evidence Act. It provides that "when any relevant fact is deposed to as discovered in consequence of information received from a person accused of any offence, whether or not such person is in the custody of a police officer, the fact discovered may be proved, but not the information, whether it amounts to a confession or not, as relates distinctly to the fact thereby discovered may be proved."

40. Thus, on re-appreciation of evidence on record, we are of the considered opinion that incriminating circumstances put-forth by prosecution against the appellant are duly proved by the prosecution evidence during trial and circumstances established against the appellant are of such tendency that unerringly point towards the commission of accused and the prosecution has successfully proved the links of the chain of circumstantial evidence completely and reasonably; accused was last seen by three witnesses in the company of the deceased and the deceased was never found alive thereafter in the evening preceding to the recovery of dead body; name of accused find place in the missing report registered with police station at the instance of father of the deceased in the morning on 6.3.1983 mentions the name of accused as suspect; accused was arrested on the same day in the afternoon on 6.3.1983 and on his pointing out, dead body and Angochha used in the commission of offence were recovered; a natural motive has been introduced in evidence of witnesses that accused intended to commit unnatural sex (sodomy) with the boy and when he objected to his immoral desire and threatened him to disclose this fact to the people, the accused killed him to avoid any further public outrage against him and concealed the dead body in his field, which was subsequently recovered on his pointing out together with Angochha used in strangulation of the deceased.

41. With foregoing discussions, we find no factual or legal error or infirmity in recording conviction of the appellant by learned trial court in the impugned judgement of conviction to the appellant for charge under section 302 IPC and the same is affirmed. However, the fact that the appellant raised plea of juvenility during pendency of present appeal and direction was issued by this Court to session court vide order dated 22.1.2019 to get an inquiry conducted from the appropriate forum regarding plea of juvenility made by the appellant/ applicant- Rahatjan, after hearing respective parties and submits its report.

42. Learned Juvenile Justice Board, Rampur acted on direction of Session Judge and proceeded with the order of this court and held the appellant as juvenile in conflict with law on the date of offence on 5.3.1983 vide report dated 15.3.2019 after conducting inquiry envisaged under the Act under the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection) Act. In the opinion of Juvenile Justice Board, appellant was aged around 14 years on the date of offence. This finding of Juvenile Justice Board as has given, same has not been stated to be set aside by order of any superior court.

43. In Satya Deo vs. State of U.P. (supra), a plea of juvenility was taken by the appellant before the Supreme Court in case under section 302/34 IPC. The Apex Court directed the trial court to conduct an inquiry to ascertain if the appellant was juvenile on the date of occurrence i.e. 11.12.1981 on the basis of material, which could be placed on record. Pursuant to direction, the trial court examined plea of juvenility and reported that the appellant was not juvenile as per the Juvenile Justice Act, 1986 as he was more than 16 years of age on the date of commission of offence i.e. 11.12.1981. Hon'ble Supreme Court in this case considered the conflicting plea for age of juvenility prescribed under the Juvenile Justice Act, 1986, Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection) Act, 2000 and Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015 in the light of Pratap Singh vs. State of Jharkhand and others and some other judgements.

44. In Pratap Singh vs. State of Jharkhand and others, the Constitution Bench held that 2000 Act would be applicable in pending proceedings instituted under the 1986 Act in any court or authority, if the person had not completed 18 years of age as on 1.4.2001 when 2000 Act came into force. On the first question "whether date of occurrence will be reckoning date of determining the age of the alleged offender as juvenile offender or the date when he produced in the court/ competent authority. The Apex Court held that reckoning date for determination of age of juvenile is the date of offence and not the date when he is produced before the authority or in a court. Consequently, the 2000 Act would have prospective effect and not retrospective effect except in cases where the person had not completed the age of eighteen years on the date of commencement of the 2000 Act. Other pending cases would be governed by the provisions of the 1986 Act.

45. Subsequent to the decision of Constitution Bench in Pratap Singh (supra), several amendments were made to the 2000 Act by Amendment Act No. 33 of 2006 under section 2(i) of 2000 Act "juvenile in conflict with law" means a juvenile who is alleged to have committed an offence and has not completed eighteenth year of age as on the date of commission of such offence" In terms of clause (l) to section 2 of the 2000 Act, Satya Deo, being less than 18 years of age, was juvenile on the date of commission of offence as 11.12.1981 whereas his date of birth was recorded as 15.4.1965.

46. In the opinion of Hon'ble Apex Court, 2000 Act does not distinguish between a boy or a girl and a person under the age of 18 years is juvenile. However, under the 2000 Act, age on the date of commission of offence is determining factor. Section 20 in Satya Deo case, Apex Court observed as under:-

"20. Special provision in respect of pending cases.— Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, all proceedings in respect of a juvenile pending in any court in any area on the date on which this Act comes into force in that area, shall be continued in that court as if this Act had not been passed and if the court finds that the juvenile has committed an offence, it shall record such finding and instead of passing any sentence in respect of the juvenile, forward the juvenile to the Board which shall pass orders in respect of that juvenile in accordance with the provisions of this Act as if it had been satisfied on inquiry under this Act that a juvenile has committed the offence:

Provided that the Board may, for any adequate and special reason to be mentioned in the order, review the case and pass appropriate order in the interest of such juvenile.

Explanation.—In all pending cases including trial, revision, appeal or any other criminal proceedings in respect of a juvenile in conflict with law, in any court, the determination of juvenility of such a juvenile shall be in terms of clause (l) of Section 2, even if the juvenile ceases to be so on or before the date of commencement of this Act and the provisions of this Act shall apply as if the said provisions had been in force, for all purposes and at all material times when the alleged offence was committed." Section 20 is a special provision with respect to pending cases and begins with a limited non-obstante or overriding clause notwithstanding anything contained in the 2000 Act. Legislative intent clearly expressed states that all proceedings in respect of a juvenile pending in any court on the date on which the 2000 Act came into force shall continue before that court as if the 2000 Act had not been passed. Though the proceedings are to continue before the court, the section states that if the court comes to a finding that a juvenile has committed the offence, it shall record the finding but instead of passing an order of sentence, forward the juvenile to the Juvenile Justice Board (Board) which shall then pass orders in accordance with the provisions of the 2000 Act, as if the Board itself had conducted an inquiry and was satisfied that the juvenile had committed the offence. The proviso however states that the Board, for any adequate and special reasons, can review the case and pass appropriate order in the interest of the juvenile. Explanation added to Section 20 vide Act 33 of 2006, which again is of significant importance, states that the court where 'the proceedings' are pending 'at any stage' shall determine the question of juvenility of the accused. The expression 'all pending cases' includes not only trial but even subsequent proceedings by way of appeal, revision etc. or any other criminal proceedings. Lastly, 2000 Act applies even to cases where the accused was a juvenile on the date of commission of the offence, but had ceased to be a juvenile on or before the date of commencement of the 2000 Act. In even such cases, provisions of the 2000 Act are to apply as if these provisions were in force for all purposes and at all material time when the offence was committed.

Thus, in respect of pending cases, Section 20 authoritatively commands that the court must at any stage, even post the judgment by the trial court when the matter is pending in appeal, revision or otherwise, consider and decide upon the question of juvenility. Juvenility is determined by the age on the date of commission of the offence. The factum that the juvenile was an adult on the date of enforcement of the 2000 Act or subsequently had attained adulthood would not matter. If the accused was juvenile, the court would, even while maintaining conviction, send the case to the Board to issue direction and order in accordance with the provisions of the 2000 Act.

12. By the amendment Act No. 33 of 2006, Section 7-A was inserted in the 2000 Act setting-out the procedure to be followed by the court to determine the claim of juvenility. Section 7A, which came into effect on 22.08.2006, reads:

"7-A. Procedure to be followed when claim of juvenility is raised before any court.—(1) Whenever a claim of juvenility is raised before any court or a court is of the opinion that an accused person was a juvenile on the date of commission of the offence, the court shall make an enquiry, take such evidence as may be necessary (but not an affidavit) so as to determine the age of such person, and shall record a finding whether the person is a juvenile or a child or not, stating his age as nearly as may be:

Provided that a claim of juvenility may be raised before any court and it shall be recognised at any stage, even after final disposal of the case, and such claim shall be determined in terms of the provisions contained in this Act and the Rules made thereunder, even if the juvenile has ceased to be so on or before the date of commencement of this Act.

(2) If the court finds a person to be a juvenile on the date of commission of the offence under sub-section (1), it shall forward the juvenile to the Board for passing appropriate order, and the sentence if any, passed by a court shall be deemed to have no effect." Proviso to Section 7A is important for our purpose as it states that the claim of juvenility may be raised before 'any court' 'at any stage', even after the final disposal of the case. When such claim is made, it shall be determined in terms of the provisions of the 2000 Act and the rules framed thereunder, even when the accused had ceased to be a juvenile on or before commencement of the 2000 Act. Thus it would not matter if the accused, though a juvenile on the date of commission of the offence, had become an adult before or after the date of commencement of the 2000 Act on 01.04.2001. He would be entitled to benefit of the 2000 Act.

13. Section 64 of the 2000 Act was also amended by Act No. 33 of 2006 by incorporating a proviso and explanation and by replacing the words 'may direct' with the words 'shall direct' in the main provision. Post the amendment, Section 64 reads as under:

"64. Juvenile in conflict with law undergoing sentence at commencement of this Act-

In any area in which this Act is brought into force, the State Government shall direct that a juvenile in conflict with law who is undergoing any sentence of imprisonment at the commencement of this Act, shall, in lieu of undergoing such sentence, be sent to a special home or be kept in fit institution in such manner as the State Government thinks fit for the remainder of the period of the sentence; and the provisions of this Act shall apply to the juvenile as if he had been ordered by the Board to be sent to such special home or institution or, as the case may be, ordered to be kept under protective care under sub-section (2) of section 16 of this Act.

Provided that the State Government, or as the case may be the board, may, for any adequate and special reason to be recorded in writing, review the case of a juvenile in conflict with law undergoing a sentence of imprisonment, who has ceased to be so on or before the commencement of this Act , and pass appropriate order in the interest of such juvenile.

Explanation :– In all cases where a juvenile in conflict with law is undergoing a sentence of imprisonment at any stage on the date of commencement of this Act, his case including the issue of juvenility, shall be deemed to be decided in terms of clause (l) of section 2 and other provisions contained in this act and the rules made thereunder, irrespective of the fact that he ceases to be a juvenile on or before such date and accordingly he shall be sent to the special home or a fit institution, as the case may be, for the remainder of the period of the sentence but such sentence shall not in any case exceed the maximum period provided in section 15 of this act." Substitution of the words 'may direct' with 'shall direct' in the main provision is to clarify that the provision is mandatory and not directory. Section 64 has to be read harmoniously with the newly added proviso and explanation and also other amendments made vide Act 33 of 2006 in Section 20 and by way of inserting Section 7A in the 2000 Act. The main provision states that where a juvenile in conflict with law is undergoing any sentence of imprisonment at the commencement of the 2000 Act, he shall, in lieu of undergoing the sentence, be sent to a special home or be kept in a fit institution in such manner as the state government thinks fit for the remainder of the period of sentence. Further, the provisions of the 2000 Act are to apply as if the juvenile had been ordered by the Board to be sent to the special home or institution and ordered to be kept under protective care under sub-section (2) of Section 16 of the Act. The proviso states that the state government or the Board, for any adequate and special reasons to be recorded in writing, review the case of the juvenile in conflict with law who is undergoing sentence of imprisonment and who had ceased to be a juvenile on or before the commencement of the 2000 Act and pass appropriate orders. However, it is the explanation which is of extreme significance as it states that in all cases where a juvenile in conflict with law is undergoing a sentence of imprisonment on the date of commencement of the 2000 Act, the juvenile's case including the issue of juvenility, shall be deemed to be decided in terms of clause (l) to Section 2 and other provisions and rules made under the 2000 Act irrespective of the fact that the juvenile had ceased to be a juvenile. Such juvenile shall be sent to special home or fit institution for the remainder period of his sentence but such sentence shall not exceed the maximum period provided in Section 15 of the 2000 Act. The statute overrules and modifies the sentence awarded, even in decided cases.

14. This Court in Dharambir v. State (NCT of Delhi) and Another 4 had analysed the scheme and application of the 2000 Act to the accused who were below the age of eighteen years on the date of commission of offence which was committed prior to the enactment of the 2000 Act, to opine and hold:

"14. Proviso to sub-section (1) of Section 7-A contemplates that a claim of juvenility can be raised before any court and has to be recognised at any stage even after disposal of the case and such claim is required to be determined in terms of the provisions contained in the Act of 2000 and the Rules framed thereunder, even if the juvenile has ceased to be so on or before the date of the commencement of the Act of 2000. The effect of the proviso is that a juvenile who had not completed eighteen years of age on the date of commission of the offence would also be entitled to the benefit of the Act of 2000 as if the provisions of Section 2(k) of the said Act, which defines "juvenile" or "child" to mean a person who has not completed eighteenth year of age, had always been in existence even during the operation of the 1986 Act.

15. It is, thus, manifest from a conjoint reading of Sections 2(k), 2(l), 7-A, 20 and 49 of the Act of 2000, read with Rules 12 and 98 of the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Rules, 2007 that all persons who were below the age of eighteen years on the date of commission of the offence even prior to 1-4-2001 would be treated as juveniles even if the 4 (2010) 5 SCC 344 claim of juvenility is raised after they have attained the age of eighteen years on or before the date of the commencement of the Act of 2000 and were undergoing sentences upon being convicted. In the view we have taken, we are fortified by the dictum of this Court in a recent decision in Hari Ram v. State of Rajasthan [(2009) 13 SCC 211: (2010) 1 SCC (Cri) 987]."

15. In Mumtaz v. State of U.P, while referring to several earlier decisions, this court dealt with effect of Section 20 of the 2000 Act and its inter-play with the 1986 Act, to elucidate:

"18. The effect of Section 20 of the 2000 Act was considered in Pratap Singh v. State of Jharkhand [Pratap Singh v. State of Jharkhand, (2005) 3 SCC 551: 2005 SCC (Cri) 742] and it was stated as under: (SCC p. 570, para 31) "31. Section 20 of the Act as quoted above deals with the special provision in respect of pending cases and begins with a non obstante clause.

The sentence 'notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, all proceedings in respect of a juvenile pending in any court in any area on the date on which this Act came into force' has great significance. The proceedings in respect of a juvenile pending in any court referred to in Section 20 of the Act are relatable to proceedings initiated before the 2000 Act came into force and which are pending when the 2000 Act came into force. The term "any court" would include even ordinary criminal courts. If the person was a "juvenile" under the 1986 Act the proceedings would not be pending in criminal courts. They would be pending in criminal courts only if the boy had crossed 16 years or the girl had crossed 18 years. This shows that Section 20 refers to cases where a person had ceased to 5 (2016) 11 SCC 786 be a juvenile under the 1986 Act but had not yet crossed the age of 18 years then the pending case shall continue in that court as if the 2000 Act has not been passed and if the court finds that the juvenile has committed an offence, it shall record such finding and instead of passing any sentence in respect of the juvenile, shall forward the juvenile to the Board which shall pass orders in respect of that juvenile."

19. In Bijender Singh v. State of Haryana [Bijender Singh v. State of Haryana, (2005) 3 SCC 685 : 2005 SCC (Cri) 889] , the legal position as regards Section 20 was stated in the following words: (SCC pp. 687- 88, paras 8-10 & 12):

"8. One of the basic distinctions between the 1986 Act and the 2000 Act relates to the age of males and females. Under the 1986 Act, a juvenile means a male juvenile who has not attained the age of 16 years, and a female juvenile who has not attained the age of 18 years. In the 2000 Act, the distinction between male and female juveniles on the basis of age has not been maintained. The age-limit is 18 years for both males and females.

9. A person above 16 years in terms of the 1986 Act was not a juvenile. In that view of the matter the question whether a person above 16 years becomes "juvenile" within the purview of the 2000 Act must be answered having regard to the object and purport thereof.

10. In terms of the 1986 Act, a person who was not juvenile could be tried in any court. Section 20 of the 2000 Act takes care of such a situation stating that despite the same the trial shall continue in that court as if that Act has not been passed and in the event, he is found to be guilty of commission of an offence, a finding to that effect shall be recorded in the judgment of conviction, if any, but instead of passing any sentence in relation to the juvenile, he would be forwarded to the Juvenile Justice Board (in short "the Board") which shall pass orders in accordance with the provisions of the Act as if it has been satisfied on inquiry that a juvenile has committed the offence. A legal fiction has, thus, been created in the said provision. A legal fiction as is well known must be given its full effect although it has its limitations.

12. Thus, by reason of legal fiction, a person, although not a juvenile, has to be treated to be one by the Board for the purpose of sentencing, which takes care of a situation that the person although not a juvenile in terms of the 1986 Act but still would be treated as such under the 2000 Act for the said limited purpose."

20. In Dharambir v. State (NCT of Delhi) [Dharambir v. State (NCT of Delhi), (2010) 5 SCC 344 : (2010) 2 SCC (Cri) 1274] the determination of juvenility even after conviction was one of the issues and it was stated: (SCC p. 347, paras 11-12) "11. It is plain from the language of the Explanation to Section 20 that in all pending cases, which would include not only trials but even subsequent proceedings by way of revision or appeal, etc., the determination of juvenility of a juvenile has to be in terms of clause (l) of Section 2, even if the juvenile ceases to be a juvenile on or before 1-4-2001, when the 2000 Act came into force, and the provisions of the Act would apply as if the said provision had been in force for all purposes and for all material times when the alleged offence was committed.

12. Clause (l) of Section 2 of the 2000 Act provides that "juvenile in conflict with law" means a "juvenile" who is alleged to have committed an offence and has not completed eighteenth year of age as on the date of commission of such offence. Section 20 also enables the court to consider and determine the juvenility of a person even after conviction by the regular court and also empowers the court, while maintaining the conviction, to set aside the sentence imposed and forward the case to the Juvenile Justice Board concerned for passing sentence in accordance with the provisions of the 2000 Act."

47. In the light of aforesaid dictum of Hon'ble Apex Court in Satya Deo (supra), it is manifest that the present case will be governed by the provision of Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2000. In any case Juvenile Justice Board had held age of appellant below 16 years on the date of commission of offence ie he will be treated as juvenile both under the 1986 Act as well as 2000 Act and also under 2015 Act. The matter will be governed subject to the final order in present case as the appellant has been declared as juvenile in conflict with law by JJB on reference made by this Court during pendency of present appeal. He cannot be sentenced in view of prohibition contained in Section 16 of the Act, which provides as under:-

16. Order that may not be passed against juvenile

(1)Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any other law for the time being in force, no juvenile in conflict with law shall be sentenced to death [or imprisonment for any term which may extend to imprisonment for life] [Substituted by Act 33 of 2006, Section 13, for " or life imprisonment" (w.e.f. 22.8.2006).], or committed to prison in default of payment of fine or in default of furnishing security:Provided that where a juvenile who has attained the age of sixteen years has committed an offence and the Board is satisfied that the offence committed is so serious in nature or that his conduct and behaviour have been such that it would not be in his interest or in the interest of other juvenile in a special home to send him to such special home and that none of the other measures provided under this Act is suitable or sufficient, the Board may order the juvenile in conflict with law to be kept in such place of safety and in such manner as it thinks fit and shall report the case for the order of the State Government.(2)On receipt of a report from a Board under sub-section (1), the State Government may make such arrangement in respect of the juvenile as it deems proper and may order such juvenile to be kept under protective custody at such place and on such conditions as it thinks fit:[Provided that the period of detention so ordered shall not exceed in any case the maximum period provided under section 15 of this Act.] [Substituted by Act 33 of 2006, Section 13, for the proviso (w.e.f. 22.8.2006).]

Prior to its substitution, the proviso read as under:-Provided that the period of detention so ordered shall not exceed the maximum period of imprisonment to which the juvenile could have been sentenced for the offence committed.

Whereas in Section-15 of the Act, 2000 is is provided that orders that may be passed regarding juvenile:-

15. Order that may be passed regarding juvenile.

(1)Where a Board is satisfied on inquiry that a juvenile has committed an offence, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any other law for the time being in force, the Board may, if it so thinks fit,(a)allow the juvenile to go home after advice or admonition following appropriate inquiry against and counselling to the parent or the guardian and the juvenile;(b)direct the juvenile to participate in group counselling and similar activities;(c)order the juvenile to perform community service;(d)order the parent of the juvenile or the juvenile himself to pay a fine, if he is over fourteen years of age and earns money;(e)direct the juvenile to be released on probation of good conduct and placed under the care of any parent, guardian or other fit person, on such parent, guardian or other fit person executing a bond, with or without surety, as the Board may require, for the good behaviour and well-being of the juvenile for any period not exceeding three years;(f)direct the juvenile to be released on probation of good conduct and placed under the care of any fit institution for the good behaviour and well-being of the juvenile for any period not exceeding three years;(g)[make an order directing the juvenile to be sent to a special home for a period of three years: [Substituted by Act 33 of 2006, Section 12, for Clause (g) (w.e.f. 22-8-2006).]Provided that the Board may, if it is satisfied that having regard to the nature of the offence and the circumstances of the case, it is expedient so to do, for reasons to be recorded, reduce the period of stay to such period as it thinks fit.](2)The Board shall obtain the social investigation report on juvenile either through a probation officer or a recognised voluntary organisation or otherwise, and shall take into consideration the findings of such report before passing an order.(3)Where an order under clause (d), clause (e) or clause (f) of sub-section (1) is made, the Board may, if it is of opinion that in the interests of the juvenile and of the public, it is expedient so to do, in addition make an order that the juvenile in conflict with law shall remain under the supervision of a probation officer named in the order during such period, not exceeding three years as may be specified therein, and may in such supervision order impose such conditions as it deems necessary for the due supervision of the juvenile in conflict with law:Provided that if at any time afterwards it appears to the Board on receiving a report from the probation officer or otherwise, that the juvenile in conflict with law has not been of good behaviour during the period of supervision or that the fit institution under whose care the juvenile was placed is no longer able or willing to ensure the good behaviour and well-being of the juvenile it may, after making such inquiry as it deems fit, order the juvenile in conflict with law to be sent to a special home.(4)The Board shall while making a supervision order under sub-section (3), explain to the juvenile and the parent, guardian or other fit person or fit institution, as the case may be under whose care the juvenile has been placed, the terms and conditions of the order and shall forthwith furnish one copy of the supervision order to the juvenile, the parent, guardian or other fit person or fit institution, as the case may be, the sureties, if any, and the probation officer.

48. The appellant has now become more than 50 years of age in his medical age determination report as manifest from the report of JJB of the year 2019, therefore, no useful purpose of law would be served by directing the juvenile to be sent to Special Home for a period of three years, taking into consideration the various judgements which may be passed regarding juvenile on the facts of the case as well as present situation of the applicant, who has been declared juvenile on the date of incident, is directed to be released on probation of good conduct under section 15(e) of the Act No. 56 of 2000, as stated above, on execution of personal bond and furnishing two sureties each in the like amount to the satisfaction of JJB, Rampur for a period of three years with undertaking to maintain good behaviour and peace and not indulgence in any criminal activity during period of probation and he may be placed under supervision of District Probation Officer, who will keep a watch on him during period of probation and will apprise the Board regarding any adverse fact appearing regarding appellant/ juvenile during this period. The bonds shall be filed before the Board within 10 days from the order of this Court, by the appellant and Board shall forward a copy of this order to the District Probation Officer for compliance.

49. Accordingly, conviction recorded by the trial court against the appellant for charge under section 302 IPC is upheld and affirmed. However, sentence stands set aside in view of above manner. Appeal is partly allowed accordingly.

50. Let the lower court record be sent back to the court concerned for necessary compliance.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1305
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 17.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJIV GUPTA, J.
THE HON'BLE SHIV SHANKER PRASAD, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 467 of 1983
connected with
Government Appeal No. 1361 of 1983

Nanhak & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
State ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellants:
Palok Basu, Saurabh Basu

Counsel for the Respondent:
A.G.A., S.P. Singh

Criminal Law: Indian Penal Code, 1860 – Sections 147, 149, 325, 323 & 426 - Punishment for culpable homicide not amounting to murder – Section 304 - appellants who were five in number, had formed an unlawful assembly and armed with lathi, had reached the place of incident - hurling abuses to Ramdev started plucking mangoes and when he resisted, on the exhortation of appellant Hira Lal, all the five persons, assaulted the victim and further when other witnesses rushed to rescue him, they were also assaulted, consequent to which, they suffered injuries and have been medically examined - During trial, all the three injured witnesses and medical report have completely corroborated the prosecution story - Evidence of PW-1 Khetal, PW-2 Sukhdev and PW-3 Shiv Kumari, clearly St.d that appellants were members of an unlawful assembly and in furtherance of their common object has committed the incident (Para - 2, 43, 50)

Held: The cause of death, as noted in the post-mortem report, appears to be coma and shock due to head injury whereas other injuries have been noted to be simple in nature. The weapon assigned to the appellants is lathi danda, which, by no stretch of imagination, can be said to be a lethal weapon.The court must address itself to the question of mens rea. If Section 300 (3) is to be applied, the assailant must intend the particular injury inflicted on the deceased. This ingredient could rarely be proved by direct evidence. Intention to kill is not the only intention that makes a culpable homicide a murder. Thus, the appellants had not committed the offence that fall within the meaning of Section 300 of IPC which is punishable under Section 302 of IPC. The offence committed by the appellants would be under Section 304 of IPC. Their conviction under Section 325/149 IPC is, therefore, set aside. CJM is directed to ensure the custody of the appellants to serve out the remaining sentences. Accordingly, the criminal appeal, filed by the appellants, is dismissed (Para - 55, 56, 72, 73, 78, 81, 84)

Appeal is dismissed. (E-13)

List of Cases cited:

1. Masalti Vs St. of U.P. reported in (1964) 8 SCR 133

2. Bholey Vs St. of M.P., (Criminal Appeal No. 890 of 2012)

3. Sandeep Kumar Vs St. of Har., (Criminal Appeal No. 2195 of 2023)

4. Parshuram Vs St. of U.P , (Criminal Appeal No. 524 of 2021)

5. Anbazhagan Vs The St. Represented by the Inspector of Police, (Criminal Appeal No. 2043 of 2023)

6. Smt. Mathri Vs St. of Pun., reported in AIR 1964 SC 986

7. Bhagwant Vs Kedari, I.L.R. 25 Bombay 202

8. Basdev Vs St. of Pepsu, AIR 1956 16 SC 488

9. Reg. Vs Monkhouse, (1849) 4 COX CC 55(C)

10. Pulicherla Nagaraju @ Nagaraja Reddy Vs St. of A.P , 2006 (11) SCC 444

11. Rampal Singh Vs St. of U.P, (2012) 8 SCC 289

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajiv Gupta, J.)

1. Heard Shri Saurabh Basu, learned counsel for the appellants, Shri Purshottam Upadhyay, learned AGA for the State and perused the record.

2. The instant criminal appeal as well as government appeal has been filed against the judgment and order dated 18.02.1983 passed by 4th Additional Sessions Judge, Mirzapur in Sessions Trial No. 134 of 1981 (State of U.P. Vs. Nanhak and 4 Others), arising out of Case Crime No. 109 of 1979, Police Station Kotwali Dehat, District Mirzapur, by which the appellants have been convicted for the offence under Section 147 IPC and awarded the sentence of one year rigorous imprisonment, under Section 325/149 IPC and awarded the sentence of five years rigorous imprisonment with a fine of Rs.500/-, under Section 323/149 IPC and awarded the sentence of six months imprisonment with a fine of Rs.500/- and under Section 426/149 IPC and awarded the fine of Rs.50/- with default stipulations.

3. Apart from the aforesaid criminal appeal, State of U.P. has also preferred a government appeal against the said judgment and order with the prayer to reverse the acquittal of the accused-appellants under Section 302/149 IPC and convict them for the said offence.

4. During the pendency of the aforesaid appeals, accused-appellants Purshottam and Hira Lal have passed away and as such, criminal appeal as well as government appeal, qua the said accused persons, has been dismissed as abated.

5. Since both the appeals arise from the same judgment and order, they are being taken up together and disposed of by a common judgment.

6. Shorn of unnecessary details, the prosecution case is unravelled in the written report lodged by one Ramdev, which was registered vide Case Crime No. 109 of 1979, under Sections 147, 149, 307, 325, 426 IPC, Police Station Kotwali Dehat, District Mirzapur registered vide G.D. Report No. 21. The written report, on the basis of which, chik FIR has been registered, has been marked as Exhibit Ka-1, prepared by PW-10 Juit Ram at the relevant date and time.

7. The allegations made in the FIR are that first informant Ramdev is a permanent resident of Village Mahkuchhwa, Police Station Kotwali Dehat, District Mirzapur. It is further stated that on 08.05.1979, accused Nanhak had cut the Bamboo belonging to Khetal and this fact was disclosed to Khetal by the first informant Ramdev, consequent to which, Nanhak got angry with Ramdev and threatened to teach him a lesson.

8. It is further stated that on 09.05.1979 at about 6:00 PM, when the first informant Ramdev was guarding his mango crop, which he had purchased from one Ram Khelawan, accused persons Nanhak, Purshottam, Hira Lal, Baul and Bihari, armed with lathi danda, reached there and started, felling mangoes and further hurled abuses to Ramdev. On being resisted not to abuse and pluck the mangoes, Hira Lal exhorted the accused persons to assault and kill the first informant Ramdev. On his exhortation, all the assailants with a common object, started assaulting Ramdev with lathi danda. On alarm being raised, Khetal, Sukhdev, Shiv Kumari and many other persons rushed to rescue Ramdev, however, the assailants started assaulting them also, consequent to which, Khetal, Sukhdev and Shiv Kumari received injuries. On alarm being raised, the assailants made their escape good.

9. On the basis of the said allegations, the first informant/ injured Ramdev got a written report scribed by one Lallan (PW-4) and reached the Police Station and handed over the said written report to the Head Moharrir Juit Ram (PW-10), who, on the basis of the said written report, lodged the chik FIR, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-18. Corresponding G.D. Report No.21 was also drawn, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-21. Khetal, Sukhdev and Shiv Kumari, who also received injuries in the said incident, had reached the Police Station alongwith Ramdev, who was also an injured and their Chitthi Majroobi was prepared, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-22 and Exhibit Ka-23. On the basis of Chitthi Majroobi, the first informant alongwith three other injured persons were medically examined on 09.05.1979 by Dr. C.P. Singh (PW-6) and their injury reports were prepared, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-20, 21, 22, 23.

10. The investigation of the said case was entrusted to S.I. Mohammad Kamil, who visited the place of incident and prepared the site plan, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-8. The Investigating Officer also collected the blood-stained and plain earth from the place of incident and kept it in a container and prepared a fard recovery memo, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-9. The blood-stained clothes of the injured Ramdev were also taken in possession by the police, who prepared the fard recovery memo, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-10.

11. The Investigating Officer thereafter recorded the statement of the witnesses, however, since the condition of the victim Ramdev was serious, he was admitted in District Hospital, Mirzapur. The Investigating Officer reached the District Hospital, Mirzapur to record his statement, however, he was found unconscious, thereafter, he could not regain his consciousness and ultimately, he succumbed to his injuries on 12.05.1979. The information about the death of the victim Ramdev was sent to S.O., Police Station Kotwali Dehat, District Mirzapur through ward boy, which was reduced in writing in the General Diary at 4:00 PM, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-27. On the basis of the said death memo, the case was converted under Section 302 IPC. Thereafter, on the basis of the said death memo, the police of Police Station Kotwali Dehat reached the District Hospital, Mirzapur and conducted the inquest on the person of the deceased and thereafter, prepared the relevant documents, namely, photo nash, challan nash, Chitthi R.I., Chitthi C.M.O., etc. and thereafter, dead body was sealed and despatched for post-mortem and an autopsy was conducted on the person of the deceased on 12.05.1979 at about 12:30 PM. In the said post-mortem report, the Doctor has noted following injuries on the person of the deceased, which are noted herein-below:-

(i) Lacerated wound 3 cm. x ¼ cm. x scalp deep on middle of left side head 11 cm. above left ear with contused swelling 16 cm. x 9 cm. extending to forehead and bridge of nose.

(ii) Contusion 5 cm. x 2.5 cm. over both eye lids of Rt. Eye.

(iii) Abrasion 5 cm. x 3 cm. outer, middle of Rt. Arm.

(iv) Lacerated wound 2 cm. x ½ cm. x muscle on front and middle of Rt. leg.

(v) Abrasion 2.5 cm x ½ cm. over outer part of Rt. Elbow.

The cause of death has been noted to be head injury and shock as a result of anti-mortem injury.

12. The Investigating Officer after concluding the investigation, submitted the charge-sheet against the accused persons, on the basis of which, learned Magistrate had taken cognizance of the offence and since the case was exclusively triable by the court of Sessions, made over the case to the court of Sessions for trial, where it was registered as Sessions Trial No. 134 of 1981 (State of U.P. Vs. Nanhak and Others). The trial court thereafter framed the charges against the accused-appellants, which were read out and explained to them, however, they abjured the charges, did not plead guilty and claimed to be tried.

13. During the course of trial, the prosecution, in order to bring home the guilt against the accused-appellants, examined following witnesses. Their testimony, in brief, is enumerated herein-under :-

14. PW-1 Khetal is an injured witness and he, in his testimony, has stated that on the day and time of the incident, the deceased Ramdev was guarding his mango crop, when the accused-appellants Nanhak and Purshottam, Bihari, Hira Lal and Baul reached there at about 6:00 PM and at the relevant time, he was standing in the eastern side, where Sukhdev and Shiv Kumari were also present. He further stated that at the relevant time, all the five assailants hurling abuses to Ramdev started felling/ plucking his mangoes. On resisting not to abuse and to pluck the mangoes, Hira Lal exhorted the assailants to kill him. He alongwith Sukhdev and Shiv Kumari rushed to rescue him, however, the said five assailants started assaulting Ramdev, when they reached there, he alongwith Sukhdev and Shiv Kumari were also assaulted. On receiving injuries, Ramdev fell down and his injuries were bleeding, when the villagers reached there, the assailants made their escape good. The report in respect of the incident was scribed by one Lallan, which was read out to him and thereafter, he alongwith Ramdev, Sukhdev and Shiv Kumari reached the Police Station and handed over the report, on the basis of which, the FIR was registered. The police thereafter had sent them to the hospital for medical examination, however, since the injuries of Ramdev were serious, he was admitted in the District Hospital, Mirzapur, where he survived for two days and thereafter, he succumbed to his injuries. He further stated that one day prior to the said incident, Nanhak had forcibly cut his Bamboo and this fact was disclosed to him by Ramdev, however, Nanhak came to know about the said incident, as such, he threatened to see him.

15. During cross-examination, PW-1 has reiterated the same story and further stated that at the time of incident, Sukhdev had pelted stones, which hit Purshottam, however, Sukhdev had not assaulted Purshottam with the lathi. In the said incident, Sukhdev and Shiv Kumari also received injuries. Ramdev suffered five injuries, which were bleeding. At the time of incident, Ramdev was not in a serious condition and was speaking. The FIR was scribed by Lallan, however, he did not visit the Police Station. The FIR was registered on the dictation of Ramdev and thereafter, he was taken to the Police Station on a Rickshaw. He has denied the fact that Ramdev was not unconscious and had not dictated the FIR. He further denied the suggestion that no attempt was made to pluck the mangoes, consequent to which, the quarrel started. He further denied the suggestion that Sukhdev assaulted Baul by kicks and fists, consequent to which, Purshottam assaulted him, then he was assaulted by Sukhdev and in the said fight, they received injuries. He has further denied the suggestion that FIR was lodged on the next day.

16. PW-2 Sukhdev is another injured witness and he has stated that on the day of incident at about 6:00 PM, Ramdev was guarding his mango crop and on the eastern side, he was standing alongwith Khetal and Shiv Kumari, when the assailants Nanhak, Purshottam, Bihari Lal, Baul and Hira Lal reached there and hurling abuses to Ramdev, started plucking the mangoes. On resistance being raised by Ramdev, Hira Lal exhorted the accused persons to kill Ramdev, consequent to which, all the five accused persons assaulted Ramdev by lathi and when they reached near Ramdev to to rescue him, they were also assaulted. On receiving injuries, Ramdev fell down and blood had also fallen there. He further stated that on account of cutting of Bamboo belonging to Khetal, there was quarrel between Nanhak and Ramdev, who extended threats to see him leading to enmity. The information in respect of the incident was scribed by Lallan on the dictation of Ramdev and he alongwith Khetal, Shiv Kumari and Ramdev had reached the Police Station and lodged the report. He has further stated that the police constable has noted their injuries and thereafter, they were taken for medical examination, however, since the condition of Ramdev was serious, he was admitted in the District Hospital, Mirzapur.

17. During cross-examination, he stated that at the relevant time of incident, Lallan was not present there, however, he reached subsequently. He further denied the suggestion that mangoes were not plucked and no quarrel took place. He further stated that Ramdev suffered four-five injuries and at the relevant time, Shiv Kumari was grazing her cattle. He further denied the suggestion that at the relevant time of quarrel, five accused persons were not present.

18. PW-3 Shiv Kumari is another injured witness and she, in her examination-in-chief, has stated that incident had taken place at about 6:00 PM in the evening and at the relevant time, Ramdev was present in the orchard guarding his mango crop, while she was present in the sugar-cane field, Khetal and Sukhdev were also present there. She further stated that at the relevant time, five persons Nanhak, Purshottam, Bihari, Baul and Hira Lal, armed with lathi danda, reached there and started plucking mangoes and hurled abuses. On resistance by Ramdev, Hira Lal exhorted to kill him, consequent thereto, all the accused persons started wielding lathi and when, she alongwith Sukhdev and Khetal rushed to rescue him, they were also assaulted. When Sukhdev received injuries, he pelted stones, which hit Purshottam causing him injury. The FIR was scribed by Lallan and thereafter, they reached the Police Station and lodged the report, from where, they were taken to the hospital for medical examination.

19. During cross-examination, she stated that they had reached the Police Station on a Rickshaw and the injuries of Ramdev were not simple in nature and at the relevant time, she was grazing her cattle in the field of Ram Khelawan, where sugar-cane was grown and she received injuries in the incident and fell down. Her statement was recorded at about 10:00-12:00 PM. She denied the suggestion that they received injuries due to pelting of stones and not on being assaulted by lathi. She further denied the suggestion that Lallan was not present and the FIR was scribed by some other person.

20. PW-4 Lallan Ram is the scribe of the FIR, who, in his examination-in-chief, has stated that Ramdev was assaulted under the mango tree and after the incident, he had scribed the FIR on the dictation of Ramdev, which was read out to him, who had put his thumb impression. The written report has been proved by him, which has been marked as Exhibit Ka-1.

21. During cross-examination, he denied the suggestion that Ram Lakhan is his real brother and he is falsely deposing in the instant case. On hearing alarm, he himself reached the place of incident and Ramdev asked him to scribe the report, which was scribed at the dictation of Ramdev. He further denied the suggestion that he was not present at the place of incident and had not scribed the FIR at the dictation of Ramdev. He further denied the suggestion that on the written report, thumb impression of Ramdev is not marked and subsequently, manipulated.

22. PW-5 Ram Nath is another witness of the incident and has stated that incident had taken place at 6:00 PM, while he was returning to his home, however, he had not witnessed the incident of assault as the assailants had already made their escape good, when he reached there, however, saw Khetal, Shiv Kumari, Sukhdev and Ramdev in an injured condition.

23. During cross-examination, he stated that when he would proceed towards his house from the shop, the mango tree would fall on the way, where the incident had taken place and he had seen the assailants running away from the place of incident and Ramdev had informed him the name of the assailants. He further denied the suggestion that he has falsely deposing in the incident.

24. PW-6 is the Doctor C.P. Singh, who had examined all the four injured witnesses and prepared the injury reports, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-2, 3, 4, 5 respectively. All the injured persons were brought to the hospital by Constable Janardan Pandey on 09.05.1979.

25. During cross-examination, he stated that Ramdev was got admitted in the hospital and at the time of his admission, he was conscious and oriented, however, on 12.05.1979 at about 3:00 PM, he died. The death memo was sent at the Police Station. He further proved the post-mortem examination report of the deceased Ramdev and has found anti-mortem injuries on the person of the deceased. He further stated that on account of assault, frontal bone of the deceased was fractured in several pieces and blood had coagulated there. He further stated that on account of anti-mortem injuries, he died and proved the post-mortem examination report, which has been exhibited as Exhibit Ka-7. He further stated that in the ordinary course, his head injury was sufficient to cause death. He further stated that injuries of injured persons and the deceased could have been caused by pelting of stones.

26. PW-7 Mithoo Ram had accompanied the Investigating Officer Mohammad Kamil Siddiqui (Now Dead) for the investigation. He further stated that on the next day, the Investigating Officer had recorded the statement of Sukhdev, Khetal and Shiv Kumari and prepared the site plan, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-8. The factum of recovery of blood-stained earth and plain earth collected by the Investigating Officer and kept in a container, was also proved by him and marked as Exhibit Ka-9. The blood-stained cloth, which was brought at the Police Station by one Murli Prasad, was also taken in possession and fard recovery memo was proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-10. After concluding the investigation, the charge-sheet was submitted by the Investigating Officer, which has been proved by him as Exhibit Ka-11.

27. During cross-examination, he stated that blood was found under the mango tree, however, no Bamboo was found. He denied the suggestion that he had not accompanied the Investigating Officer.

28. PW-8 Tribhuwan Yadav is the Constable, who had taken the dead body of the deceased for post-mortem examination and handed over the relevant papers to the Doctor for conducting the post-mortem, however, he has not cross-examined.

29. PW-9 Murli Prasad is the witness of fard recovery memo and has stated that at the relevant time, from the field of Ram Khelawan, the Investigating Officer had collected the blood-stained earth and plain earth and prepared the recovery memo, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-9. He further stated that blood-stained cloth of the deceased was also given by him to the Investigating Officer to prepare its recovery memo and was got signed by him.

30. PW-10 Juit Ram is the Head Moharrir, who on the basis of written report of the deceased Ramdev, had scribed the chik FIR, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-18. On the basis of the said FIR, corresponding G.D. entry was made vide G.D. Report No.21, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-19. He further stated that alongwith Ramdev (Deceased), Khetal, Shiv Kumari and Sukhdev had also reached the Police Station and majroobi chitthi was prepared by Chandra Bhan Yadav, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-22 and Ka-23. He further stated that at the relevant time, S.I. Mohammad Kamil Siddiqui was not present at the Police Station, however, on his return, the investigation was entrusted to him, who reached the place of incident and prepared the relevant documents including the fard recovery memos. On 12.05.1979, information about the death of Ramdev was transmitted by ward boy, which was noted in the G.D. and thereafter, the case was converted from Section 307 IPC to Section 302 IPC. The inquest on the person of the deceased was done by S.I. Bharat Ratna and relevant documents were prepared by him. On 09.05.1979, accused Purshottam gave a report at the Police Station on the basis of which, a non-cognizable report (NCR) under Section 323 IPC was registered, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-31. On the basis of which, G.D. Report No.23 was prepared and accused Purshottam was also medically examined.

31. During cross-examination, he further denied the suggestion that Ramdev had not reached the Police Station and his injuries report was subsequently prepared.

He further denied the suggestion that at the relevant time, the FIR was not registered and was subsequently registered.

32. PW-11 Dr. O.P. Taneja is the Assistant Chemical Analyst at Vidhi Vigyan Prayogshala and has stated that relevant material relating to Case Crime No. 109 of 1979 was received by him in the lab and on the basis of which, Guru Sharan Bhatnagar had prepared the analysis report and he had seen him preparing the documents in his hand writing, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-13.

33. After concluding the testimony of the witnesses, statement of accused-persons under Section 313 CrPC was recorded by putting all the incriminating circumstances to the accused-appellants, who denied the incriminating circumstances and stated that they have been falsely implicated and in his defence, produced DW-1 Dr. G.D. Dubey, who examined accused Purshottam to prove his injuries, which are as under :-

(1). फटा हुआ घाव 4 से०मी० x .5 से०मी० मांस तक गहरा सर की दाहिनी तरफ दाहिने तरफ कान से 13 से०मी० ऊपर था।

(2). नीलगू निशान 3 से०मी० x 2 से०मी० बाएं शोल्डर के कंधे के सामने भाग पर था।

(3). खंराश 5 से०मी० x 2 से०मी० बाएं तरफ पीठ पर इलीयक क्रेश्ट से जरा सा ऊपर था व इनटीयर सुपीरियर इलीयक स्पाइन के 9 से०मी० दूरी पर था।

ये चोटे ताजी थी रगड़ व कुन्द आले से आई थी व साधारण थी।

34. Dr. G.D. Dubey has further stated that all the injuries are simple in nature caused by blunt object and has proved the said injuries, which has been marked as Exhibit Kha-1. He has further stated that said injuries are caused by lathi at 4:00-5:00 PM in the evening.

35. During cross-examination, he stated that injury no.3 could be caused by friction, whereas injury no.2 could be caused by some blunt object, which may be a result of pelting stones. He further stated that injury nos. 2 & 3 are superficial, however, injury no.1 is not superficial but such injuries could be fabricated.

36. The trial court, after appreciating the entire material and evidence available on record, has held that the prosecution has successfully established its case beyond all reasonable doubts against the surviving accused-appellants Nanhak, Bihari and Baul, however, not for the offence under Section 302/149 IPC but under Sections 147, 325/149, 323/149, 426/149 IPC. The explanation tendered by surviving appellants has been found to be inadequate and as such, they are liable for conviction for the aforesaid offences.

37. Learned counsel for the appellants has submitted that trial court has not appreciated the material evidence on record in right perspective and has illegally recorded the finding of conviction against the appellants even under the aforesaid offences.

38. Learned counsel for the appellants has next submitted that injuries of the injured persons, namely, Khetal, Sukhdev and Shiv Kumari are self inflicted and has not been caused as alleged in their respective testimonies.

39. Learned counsel for the appellants has further submitted that in fact, accused-appellant Baul was being assaulted by Surli, Murli and Sukhdev by kicks and fists and at the relevant time, accused-appellant Purshottam reached there and tried to rescue Baul, he was also assaulted by Surli, Murli and Sukhdev, on account of which, Purshottam also received injuries and was medically examined, which has been proved by D.W.-1 however, the trial court has completely overlooked the injuries received by Purshottam and has illegally recorded the finding of conviction against the appellants, though a non-cognizable report has also been lodged by Purshottam at the relevant Police Station for assaulting him in the said incident, as such, the impugned judgment and order convicting and sentencing the appellants is bad in law and is liable to be set aside.

40. Per contra, learned AGA has submitted that information in respect of the said incident was lodged by victim Ramdev himself, who has given a compete version of the incident, wherein it is stated that accused-appellants formed an unlawful assembly and with a common object to kill him, had assaulted him with lathi danda and when other witnesses came to rescue him, they were also assaulted having suffered injuries on their person, who have testified before the court and the defence has not been able to elicit anything to doubt the credibility of the said witnesses.

41. Learned AGA has next submitted that looking to the injuries sustained by the deceased and the injured persons as well as the impeccable testimonies of the injured witnesses recorded during the course of trial before the court below, a clear case under Section 302/149 IPC is made out against the appellants. The contrary finding recorded by the trial court that since only a single fatal injury has been suffered by the deceased but the author of the said fatal injury has not been specified by the prosecution in its evidence, as such, the offence would fall under Section 325 read with Section 149 and not under the changed section i.e. 302/149 and other allied offences is patently illegal, erroneous and liable to be set aside outrightly.

42. Learned AGA has further submitted that in the instant case, as many as five persons had formed an unlawful assembly and with a common object had assaulted the deceased with an intention to kill him, therefore, in any case, the offence would not fall under Section 325/149 IPC as held by the trial court but under Section 302/149 IPC, the contrary finding given by the trial court is wholly illegal and is liable to be set aside.

43. Having considered the rival submissions made by learned counsel for the parties and the evidences adduced by the witnesses during the course of trial, it is clear that the accused-appellants, who were five in number, had formed an unlawful assembly and armed with lathi, had reached the place of incident and hurling abuses to Ramdev started plucking mangoes and when he resisted not to hurl abuses, on the exhortation of accused-appellant Hira Lal, all the five persons, armed with lathi danda, assaulted the victim Ramdev and further when other witnesses, namely, Khetal, Sukhdev and Shiv Kumari rushed to rescue him, they were also assaulted, consequent to which, they suffered injuries and have been medically examined. During the course of trial, all the three injured witnesses have completely corroborated the prosecution story in all material particulars and the defence has not been able to point out any ambiguity or embellishment, exaggeration or improvement in their testimony so as to doubt the credibility of the said witnesses. Even the medical report of the deceased as well as that of the injured witnesses completely corroborates the prosecution story and there is nothing on record to doubt the credibility of the said witnesses.

44. So far as the submission of learned counsel for the appellants to the extent that in the said incident, accused-appellant Purshottam has also suffered injuries on his person and was also medically examined and has also lodged a non-cognizable report against the injured person Sukhdev, however, trial court has not considered the said evidence and has illegally recorded the finding of conviction against the appellants is concerned, it may be pointed out that the said incident of assault made on Purshottam, incident is said to have taken place at 4:00 PM in the evening, while the incident in question is alleged to have occurred at 6:00 PM in the evening and therefore, the information lodged by Purshottam in respect of his assault by Sukhdev can not be said to be the counter version of the instant case, where victim Ramdev was done to death and in fact, the incident reported by Purshottam is completely a different incident and therefore, on account of receiving injuries by Purshottam, the veracity of the instant case can not be affected, in any manner, as pleaded by learned counsel for the appellants and therefore, the non-cognizable report lodged by Purshottam in respect of his assault by Sukhdev and two others, does not affect, in any way, the credibility of the said incident, in which, Ramdev was killed and Khetal, Sukhdev and Shiv Kumari had received injuries. Thus, we are of the opinion that the said incident, in which, Purshottam suffered injuries will not have any hearing upon the instant case and the prosecution will not have any burden to explain the injuries alleged to be received by Purshotttam probably in some other incident and both the cases cannot be linked together.

45. Thus, we find that the defence has not been able to point out any circumstance, which may doubt the credibility of the witnesses, who by their impeccable testimonies has proved the case against the appellants beyond all reasonable doubt and therefore, the finding of conviction recorded by the trial court against the appellants do not suffer from any illegality and the same is just, proper and legal and the conviction recorded against the appellants is liable to be affirmed by dismissing the criminal appeal.

46. Now, the main question that arises for our consideration in the Government Appeal filed by the State is whether the judgment and order passed by the trial court acquitting the accused-appellants under Section 302/149 IPC and convicting him only under Section 325/149 IPC and other allied offences is just, proper and legal or erroneous, on the basis of evidence adduced by the witnesses during the course of trial.

47. It is germane to point out here that while recording the finding of acquittal against the appellants under Section 302/149 IPC, the trial court has held that in the instant case, since the deceased Ramdev received only a single fatal injury on his head at the hands of the accused persons, which was caused by lathi but there is no cogent evidence on record to prove that the accused-appellants had common object to kill Ramdev and the author of said injury has not been specified, therefore, the offence, in any case, would not fall under Section 302/149 IPC but under Section 325/149 IPC.

48. In our considered opinion, the said finding recorded by the trial court does not appears to be just, proper and legal. From the entire evidence adduced before the trial court, it is evident that the accused persons, who were five in number, had formed an unlawful assembly and with a common object, had assaulted the deceased and the injured persons in furtherance of their common object to kill Ramdev, as such, present offence would not fall under Section 325/149 as held by the trial court.

49. Moreover, since the appellants were the part of an unlawful assembly, it was not necessary for the prosecution to attribute the specific role to each of them. In Masalti Vs. State of U.P. reported in (1964) 8 SCR 133, the Constitution Bench of this Court has observed as under :-

13. The law with regard to conviction under Section 302 read with Section 149 of IPC has been succinctly discussed by a Constitution Bench of this Court in the locus classicus of Masalti Vs. State of U.P., wherein this Court observed thus:

"17. What has to be proved against a person who is alleged to be a member of an unlawful assembly is that he was one of the persons constituting the assembly and he entertained along with the other members of the assembly the common object as defined by Section 141 IPC. Section 142 provides that whoever, being aware of facts which render any assembly an unlawful assembly, intentionally joins that assembly, or continues in it, is said to be a member of an unlawful assembly.

In other words, an assembly of five or more persons actuated by, and entertaining one or more of the common objects specified by the five clauses of Section 141, is an unlawful assembly. The crucial question to determine in such a case is whether the assembly consisted of five or more persons and whether the said persons entertained one or more of the common objects as specified by Section 141. While determining this question, it becomes relevant to consider whether the assembly consisted of some persons who were merely passive witnesses and had joined the assembly as a matter of idle curiosity without intending to entertain the common object of the assembly.

It is in that context that the observations made by this Court in the case of Baladin [AIR 1956 SC 181] assume significance; otherwise, in law, it would not be correct to say that before a person is held to be a member of an unlawful assembly, it must be shown that he had committed some illegal overt act or had been guilty of some illegal omission in pursuance of the common object of the assembly.

In fact, Section 149 makes it clear that if an offence is committed by any member of an unlawful assembly in prosecution of the common object of that assembly, or such as the members of that assembly knew to be likely to be committed in prosecution of that object, every person who, at the time of the committing of that offence, is a member of the same assembly, is guilty of that offence; and that emphatically brings out the principle that the punishment prescribed by Section 149 is in a sense vicarious and does not always proceed on the basis that the offence has been actually committed by every member of the unlawful assembly."

14. It could thus clearly be seen that the Constitution Bench has held that it is not necessary that every person constituting an unlawful assembly must play an active role for convicting him with the aid of Section 149 of IPC. What has to be established by the prosecution is that a person has to be a member of an unlawful assembly, i.e. he has to be one of the persons constituting the assembly and that he had entertained the common object along with the other members of the assembly, as defined under Section 141 of IPC. As provided under Section 142 of IPC, whoever, being aware of facts which render any assembly an unlawful assembly, intentionally joins that assembly, or continues in it, is said to be a member of an unlawful assembly.

50. Undisputedly, from the evidence of PW-1 Khetal, PW-2 Sukhdev and PW-3 Shiv Kumari, it is clear that the present appellants were members of an unlawful assembly and undoubtedly, in pursuit of their common object has committed the incident, as such, in view of law laid down by this Court in the case of Masalti (Supra), it is not necessary that each of such person for being convicted, must have actually assaulted the deceased.

51. The Hon'ble Apex Court in Criminal Appeal No. 890 of 2012 (Bholey Vs. State of M.P.) has clearly held that to constitute an offence under Section 149 IPC, one cannot expect a witness to speak with graphic detail about the specific overt act that can be attributed to each accused. Further, the Hon'ble Apex Court in Criminal Appeal No. 2195 of 2023 (Sandeep Kumar Vs. State of Haryana) has held that "for offence" under Section 149 IPC, one simply has to be a part of unlawful assembly. No overt act needs to be assigned to a member of unlawful assembly.

52. In Criminal Appeal No. 524 of 2021 (Parshuram Vs. State of U.P.), Hon'ble Apex Court held that individual role/ and or overt act by individual accused is not significant, when all accused persons are charged under Section 149 IPC and were part of unlawful assembly.

53. As such, in view of the aforesaid proposition of law laid by Hon'ble Apex Court, we are of the view that in the facts and circumstances of the case and the evidence adduced by the injured eye witnesses, the act of the accused respondents would not fall under Section 325 read with Section 149 IPC as held by the trial court, which finding in our opinion is bad in law and liable to be set aside.

54. Having held that the question, which we are left to answer is as to whether the conviction under Section 302/149 IPC, as submitted by learned AGA in the connected government appeal, would be tenable or not. In this respect, we have already gone through the evidence adduced by the prosecution and the genesis of the occurrence and the participation of the appellants herein, PW-6 Dr. C.P. Singh was medically examined by the prosecution, being the Medical Officer, who conducted the post-mortem on the person of the deceased. In the post-mortem report, the Dr. C.P. Singh has noted five injuries, which are as under:-

(i) Lacerated wound 3 cm. x ¼ cm. x scalp deep on middle of left side head 11 cm. above left ear with contused swelling 16 cm. x 9 cm. extending to forehead and bridge of nose.

(ii) Contusion 5 cm. x 2.5 cm. over both eye lids of Rt. Eye.

(iii) Abrasion 5 cm. x 3 cm. outer, middle of Rt. Arm.

(iv) Lacerated wound 2 cm. x ½ cm. x muscle on front and middle of Rt. leg.

(v) Abrasion 2.5 cm x ½ cm. over outer part of Rt. Elbow.

55. The cause of death, as noted in the post-mortem report, appears to be coma and shock due to head injury resulting from injury no.1, whereas other injuries have been noted to be simple in nature.

56. It is further germane to point out here that in the instant case, the weapon assigned to the appellants is lathi danda, which, by no stretch of imagination, can be said to be a lethal weapon used in the incident, on the basis of which, we will now determine as to whether there was any intention on the part of the accused-appellants to cause the death of the deceased or just to assault him with an intention to cause bodily injury.

57. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in its recent decision in Criminal Appeal No. 2043 of 2023 (Anbazhagan Vs. The State Represented by the Inspector of Police) reported in ……..… has very lucidly explained distinction between the terms 'intention' and 'knowledge'.

58. The word "intent" is derived from the word archery or aim. The "act" attempted to must be with "intention" of killing a man.

59. Intention, which is a state of mind, can never be precisely proved by direct evidence as a fact; it can only be deduced or inferred from other facts which are proved. The intention may be proved by res gestae, by acts or events previous or subsequent to the incident or occurrence, on admission. Intention of a person cannot be proved by direct evidence but is to be deduced from the facts and circumstances of a case.

60. In the case of Smt. Mathri Vs. State of Punjab, reported in AIR 1964 SC 986, at Page 990, Das Gupta J. has explained the concept of the word 'intent'. The relevant observations are made by referring to the observations made by Batty J. in the decision Bhagwant Vs. Kedari, I.L.R. 25 Bombay 202. They are as under :-

"The word "intent" by its etymology, seems to have metaphorical allusion to archery, and implies "aim" and thus connotes not a casual or merely possible result-foreseen perhaps as a not improbable incident, but not desired-but rather connotes the one object for which the effort is made-and thus has reference to what has been called the dominant motive, without which, the action would not have been taken."

(Emphasis supplied)

61. In the case of Basdev Vs. State of Pepsu, AIR 1956 16 SC 488, at Page 490, the following observations have been made by Chadrasekhara Aiyar J. :-

"6. ... Of course, we have to distinguish between motive, intention and knowledge. Motive is something which prompts a man to form an intention and knowledge is an awareness of the consequences of the act. In many cases intention and knowledge merge into each other and mean the same thing more or less and intention can be presumed from knowledge. The demarcating line etween knowledge and intention is no doubt thin but it is not difficult to perceive that they connote different things. Even in some English decisions, the three ideas are used interchangeably and this had led to a certain amount of confusion."

(Emphasis supplied)

62. In para 9 of the judgment, at page 490, the observations made by Coleridge J. in Reg. v. Monkhouse, (1849) 4 COX CC 55(C), have been referred to. They can be referred to, with advantage at this stage, as they are very illuminating:-

"The inquiry as to intent is far less simple than that as to whether an act has been committed, because you cannot look into a man's mind to see what was passing there at any given time. What he intends can only be judged of by what he does or says, and if he says nothing, then his act alone must guide you to your decision. It is a general rule in criminal law, and one founded on common sense, that juries are to presume a man to do what is the natural consequence of his act. The consequence is sometimes so apparent as to leave no doubt of the intention. A man could not put a pistol which he knew to be loaded to another's head, and fire it off, without intending to kill him; but even there the state of mind of the party is most material to be considered. For instance, if such an act were done by a born idiot, the intent to kill could not be inferred from the act. So if the defendant is proved to have been intoxicated, the question becomes a more subtle one; but it is of the same kind, namely; was he rendered by intoxication entirely incapable of forming the intent charged ?"

(Emphasis supplied)

63. Bearing in mind the test suggested in the aforesaid decision and also bearing in mind that our legislature has used two different terminologies 'intent' and 'knowledge' and separate punishments are provided for an act committed with an intent to cause bodily injury which is likely to cause death and for an act committed with a knowledge that his act is likely to cause death without intent to cause such bodily injury as is likely to cause death, it would be proper to hold that 'intent' and 'knowledge' cannot be equated with each other. They connote different things. Sometimes, if the consequence is so apparent, it may happen that from the knowledge, intent may be presumed. But it will not mean that 'intent' and 'knowledge' are the same. 'Knowledge' will be only one of the circumstances to be taken into consideration while determining or inferring the requisite intent.

64. In another case reported in 2006 (11) SCC 444, Pulicherla Nagaraju @ Nagaraja Reddy Vs. State of A.P., the Hon'ble Supreme Court has laid down various relevant circumstances, from which the intention could be gathered. Some relevant considerations are the following :-

(i) The nature of the weapon used, (ii) whether the weapon was carried by the accused or was picked up from the spot, (iii) whether the blow is aimed at the vital part of the body, (iv) the amount of force employed in causing injury, (v) whether the act was in the course of sudden quarrel or sudden fight, (vi) whether the incident occurred by chance or whether there was any premeditation, (vii) whether there was any prior enmity or whether the deceased was a stranger, (viii) whether there was a grave or sudden provocation and if so, the cause for such provocation, (ix) whether it was heat of passion, (x) whether a person inflicting the injury has taken undue advantage or has acted in a cruel manner, (xi) whether the accused persons has dealt a single blow or several blows.

65. Thus, while defining the offence of culpable homicide and murder, the framers of the IPC laid down that the requisite intention or knowledge must be imputed to the accused when he committed the act which caused the death in order to hold him guilty for the offence of culpable homicide or murder as the case may be. The framers of the IPC designedly used the two words 'intention' and 'knowledge', and it must be taken that the framers intended to draw a distinction between these two expressions. The knowledge of the consequences which may result in the doing of an act is not the same thing as the intention that such consequences should ensue. Except in cases where mens rea is not required in order to prove that a person had certain knowledge, he "must have been aware that certain specified harmful consequences would or could follow." (Russell on Crime, Twelfth Edition, Volume 1 at Page 40).

66. The phraseology of Sections 299 and 300respectively of the IPC leaves no manner of doubt that under these Sections when it is said that a particular act in order to be punishable be done with such intention, the requisite intention must be proved by the prosecution. It must be proved that the accused aimed or desired that his act should lead to such and such consequences. For example, when under Section 299 it is said "whoever causes death by doing an act with the intention of causing death" it must be proved that the accused by doing the act, intended to bring about the particular consequence, that is, causing of death. Similarly, when it is said that "whoever causes death by doing an act with the intention of causing such bodily injury as is likely to cause death" it must be proved that the accused had the aim of causing such bodily injury as was likely to cause death.

67. Thus, in order that the requirements of law with regard to intention may be satisfied for holding an offence of culpable homicide proved, it is necessary that any of the two specific intentions must be proved. But, even when such intention is not proved, the offence will be culpable homicide if the doer of the act causes the death with the knowledge that he is likely by his such act to cause death, that is, with the knowledge that the result of his doing his act may be such as may result in death.

68. The important question which has engaged our careful attention in this case is, whether on the facts and in the circumstances of the case we should maintain the conviction of the appellant herein for the offence under Section 302 or we should further alter it to Section 304 Part II of the IPC ?

69. Sections 299 and 300 of the IPC deal with the definition of 'culpable homicide' and 'murder', respectively. In terms of Section 299, 'culpable homicide' is described as an act of causing death (i) with the intention of causing death or (ii) with the intention of causing such bodily injury as is likely to cause death, or (iii) with the knowledge that such an act is likely to cause death. As is clear from a reading of this provision, the former part of it emphasises on the expression 'intention' while the latter upon 'knowledge'. Both these are positive mental attitudes, however, of different degrees. The mental element in 'culpable homicide', that is, the mental attitude towards the consequences of conduct is one of intention and knowledge. Once an offence is caused in any of the three stated manners noted-above, it would be 'culpable homicide'. Section 300 of the IPC, however, deals with 'murder', although there is no clear definition of 'murder' in Section 300 of the IPC. As has been repeatedly held by this Court, 'culpable homicide' is the genus and 'murder' is its species and all 'murders' are 'culpable homicides' but all 'culpable homicides' are not 'murders'. (see Rampal Singh vs. State of U.P., (2012) 8 SCC 289).

70. The scope of clause thirdly of Section 300 of the IPC has been the subject matter of various decisions of this Court. The decision in Virsa Singh (supra) has throughout been followed in a number of cases by this Court. In all these cases the approach has been to find out whether the ingredient namely the intention to cause the particular injury was present or not? If such an intention to cause that particular injury is made out and if the injury is found to be sufficient in the ordinary course of nature to cause death,then clause thirdly of Section 300 of the IPC is attracted.

71. The Hon'ble Supreme Court further in its decision in Criminal Appeal No. 2043 of 2023 (supra) has thus held that the distinction between culpable homicide (Section 299 of IPC) and the murder (Section 300 of IPC) has always to be carefully borne in mind while dealing with a charge under Section 302 of the IPC. Under the category of unlawful homicides, both, the cases of culpable homicide amounting to murder and those not amounting to murder would fall. Culpable homicide is not murder when the case is brought within the five exceptions to Section 300 of the IPC. But, even though none of the said five exceptions are pleaded or prima facie established on the evidence on record, the prosecution must still be required under the law to bring the case under any of the four clauses of Section 300 of the IPC to sustain the charge of murder. If the prosecution fails to discharge this onus in establishing any one of the four clauses of Section 300 of the IPC, namely, 1stly to 4thly, the charge of murder would not be made out and the case may be one of culpable homicide not amounting to murder as described under Section 299 of the IPC.

72. The court must address itself to the question of mens rea. If Clause thirdly of Section 300 is to be applied, the assailant must intend the particular injury inflicted on the deceased. This ingredient could rarely be proved by direct evidence. Inevitably, it is a matter of inference to be drawn from the proved circumstances of the case. The court must necessarily have regard to the nature of the weapon used, part of the body injured, extent of the injury, degree of force used in causing the injury, the manner of attack, the circumstances preceding and attendant on the attack.

73. Intention to kill is not the only intention that makes a culpable homicide a murder. The intention to cause injury or injuries sufficient in the ordinary course of nature to cause death also makes a culpable homicide a murder if death has actually been caused and intention to cause such injury or injuries is to be inferred from the act or acts resulting in the injury or injuries.

74. When single fatal injury inflicted by the accused results in the death of the victim, no inference, as a general principle, can be drawn that the accused did not have the intention to cause the death or that particular injury which resulted in the death of the victim. Whether an accused had the required guilty intention or not, is a question of fact which has to be determined on the facts of each case.

75. Now, we recapitulate the facts and circumstances of the instant case on the fateful day of the incident, the appellants had reached the mango orchard of the deceased and started plucking mangoes and hurling abuses and on resistance being raised by the deceased, the appellants, who were five in number, had started assaulting the deceased by lathi, consequent to which, the deceased suffered a single fatal blow on his head resulting in his death, though, there was no intention to cause his death, therefore, we find it is difficult to come to the conclusion that when the appellants struck the deceased with the lathi, they intended to cause him bodily injury, sufficient in the ordinary course of nature, to cause death. In the present case, admittedly the weapon of offence is lathi danda, which is a common item carried by the villagers in this country linked to his identity.

76. It is true that the deceased had suffered internal head injury, consequent to which, he succumbed injuries, however, the important question is whether internal head injury is sufficient to draw inference that the appellants intended to cause such bodily injury to the deceased, was sufficient to cause his death.

77. Thus, from the aforesaid circumstances, we are of the considered opinion that none of the clauses of Section 300 of IPC are attracted as intention of the appellants to cause death or such bodily injury, which they knew would cause the death of other person or sufficient in the ordinary course of nature to cause death, is not proved.

78. Thus, we are of the considered opinion that the appellants had not committed the offence that fall within the meaning of Section 300 of IPC i.e "culpable homicide amounting to murder", which is punishable under Section 302 of IPC. The present incident had occurred without premeditation in a fit of rage on a trivial matter of plucking mangoes and hurling abuses. Thus, in our considered opinion, the offence committed by the appellants would fall within the meaning of "culpable homicide not amounting to murder" under Section 304 of IPC.

79. Now, the next question would be as to whether the appellants would be guilty in Part-I or Part-II of Section 304 of IPC as is evident from the record. The purpose apparently was to beat up the deceased by giving a sound beating but certainly not with any intention to kill him. To us, it appears that at the most it can be said that the act of the appellant in hitting the deceased was done with the knowledge that it was likely to cause death but without any intention to cause death or to cause such bodily injury as is likely to cause death. The case of the appellant would, therefore, clearly fall under Section 304 Part II IPC. The trial court did not apply its mind in proper perspective and was rather swayed by the fact that on account of lathi blow by the appellants, deceased died an unnatural death and since, the author of single fatal injury to the deceased is not known, therefore, offence would fall under Section 325/149 IPC as held by the trial court, in our opinion, is not the correct view and sought to be reversed in the facts and circumstances of the case, however, the offence, in our opinion would fall under Section 304/149 IPC. There was no material on record to show that the appellant was bent upon killing the deceased and eventually death came out to be the result. Section 304 is as under :-

Punishment for culpable homicide not amounting to murder.

Whoever commits culpable homicide not amounting to murder shall be punished with imprisonment for life, or imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to ten years, and shall also be liable to fine, if the act by which the death is caused is done with the intention of causing death, or of causing such bodily injury as is likely to cause death, or with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to ten years, or with fine, or with both, if the act is done with the knowledge that it is likely to cause death, but without any intention to cause death, or to cause such bodily injury as is likely to cause death.

80. This section is in two parts. If analysed the section provides for two kinds of punishment to two different situations. (1) if the act by which death is caused is done with the intention of causing death or causing such bodily injury as is likely to cause death. Here important ingredients is the "intention"; (2) if the act is done with knowledge that it is likely to cause death but without any intention to cause death or such bodily injury as is likely to cause death. When a person hits another with a lathi danda on vital part of the body with such a force that the person hit meets his death, knowledge has to be imputed to the accused. In that situation, case will fall in part II of Section 304 IPC as in the present case.

81. We, therefore, hold that the appellants to be guilty for an offence under Section 304 (Part II) of IPC. Their conviction under Section 325/149 IPC is, therefore, set aside. Instead of convicting the appellants under Section 325/149 IPC, they are liable to be convicted under Section 304 (Part II)/149 of IPC and sentence them for six years rigorous imprisonment with a fine of Rs.30,000/-.

82. Thus, in sum and substance, the appellants shall now stand convicted under Section 147 IPC and sentenced to undergo rigorous imprisonment for one year and a fine of Rs. 500/- each, under Section 304 (Part II)/149 IPC and sentenced to undergo six years R.I. With a fine of Rs. 30,000/- each, under Section 323/149 IPC and to a fine of Rs. 100/- each and under Section 426/149 IPC and to a fine of Rs. 50/- each.

83. In case of default of payment of fine under Section 147 IPC, the defaulter accused shall undergo R.I. for three months each. In case of default of payment of fine under Section 304 (Part II)/149 IPC, the defaulter accused shall undergo R.I. for six months each. In case of default of payment of fine under Section 323/149 IPC, the defaulter accused shall further undergo R.I. for one month each. In case of default of payment of fine under Section 426/149 IPC, the defaulter accused shall undergo R.I. for 15 days each.

84. The appellants are on bail. Chief Judicial Magistrate concerned is directed to ensure the custody of the appellants to serve out the remaining sentences. Accordingly, the criminal appeal, filed by the appellants, is dismissed, however, government appeal, filed for reversing the acquittal of the appellants under Section 302 IPC, is partly allowed in terms of aforesaid order of conviction and sentence.

85. Let a copy of this judgment and order be forwarded to the court concerned along with the trial court record for information and necessary compliance.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1322
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 24.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJIV GUPTA, J.
THE HON'BLE SHIV SHANKER PRASAD, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 681 of 1984
connected with
Government Appeal No. 1876 of 1984

Ashok ...Appellant

Versus

State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
Murlidhar, Rajesh Srivastava, Ram Pal, S.P. Srivastava

Counsel for the Respondent:
D.G.A., R.P. Singh

Criminal Law: Indian Penal Code, 1860 – Section 302/34 – Murder - Criminal Procedure Code,1973 - Section 313 - on 02.12.1982 PW-2 was accompanying his maternal uncle (deceased) along with another person for watching a movie - en-route to the Picture Hall, the accused persons met the deceased and other accused caught him by his waist - whereas other accused caught him by his hands - he was assaulted by accused- assailants with their knives -causing injuries to the deceased - Court convicted & sentenced the appellant u/s 302/34 I.P.C. for life imprisonment - other accused have been acquitted from all the charges framed against them – Held, PW-2 is a natural witness in the facts and circumstances of the case, who has deposed against the accused in a most natural way -the defence has not point out any inconsistency in his testimony – Presence of PW-3 is doubtful – Trial Court declared him "chance witness" – Liable to be discarded - FIR is not a substantive piece of evidence - any omission could not ipso facto render the prosecution story doubtful - when in the subsequent St.ment and evidence it has been clearly mentioned - where an accused is the main perpetrator, resort to Section 34 IPC is not necessary as he is himself individually liable for having caused the offence - when an incident takes place, a witness does not necessarily react in a particular manner- Every person, who witnesses a murder, reacts in his own way - Some are stunned, some become speechless and stand rooted to the spot – Hence, appeal has no merits, accordingly dismissed (Para - 4, 69, 73, 74, 77, 83, 88, 93, 94)

Appeal is dismissed. (E-13)

List of Cases cited:

1. Gadadhar Chandra Vs St. of W. of B.l (Criminal Appeal No. 1661 of 2009)

2. Chandra Pratap Singh Vs St. of M.P (Criminal Appeal No. 1209 of 2011)

3. Mala Singh & ors. Vs St. of Hary. reported in (2019) 5 SCC 127

4. Chittarmal Vs St. of Raj. reported in (2003) 2 SCC 266

5. Chhota Ahirwar Vs St. of M. P. reported in (2020) 4 SCC 126

6. Ram Naresh Vs St. of U. P. (Criminal Appeal No. 3577 of 2023)

7. Puran Vs St. of Punj., (1952) 2 SCC 454

8. Mousam Singha Roy Vs St. of West Bengal, (2003) 12 SCC 377

9. Shankarlal Vs St. of Raj., (2004) 10 SCC 632

10. Jarnail Singh Vs St. of Pun. (2009) 9 SCC 719

11. Mritunjoy Biswas Vs Pranab @ Kuti Biswas & anr.reported in (2013) 12 SCC 796

12. St. of Rajasthan Vs Gurbachan Singh & ors. (Criminal Appeal No. 2201 of 2011)

13. Ram Naresh Vs St. of U. P. (Criminal Appeal No. 3577 of 2023)

14. Rana Pratap Singh & ors. Vs St. of Har. reported in (1983) 3 SCC 327

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajiv Gupta, J.)

1. Heard Shri Arun Kumar Pundir, learned counsel for the appellant in Criminal Appeal, Shri Ashish Tiwari, learned AGA for the State, Shri Abhishek Gupta, learned counsel for the accused-respondent- Raju, Shri Harshit Gupta, holding brief of Shri Rohan Gupta, learned counsel for the accused respondent- Kalloo and perused the record.

2. The instant criminal appeal as well as government appeal has been filed against the judgment and order dated 28.02.1984 passed by 6th Additional Sessions Judge, Kanpur in Sessions Trial No. 63 of 1983 (State of U.P. Vs. Ashok and 3 Others), arising out of Case Crime No. 411 of 1982, Police Station Harbans Mohal, District Kanpur, by which the accused-appellant Ashok has been convicted for the offence under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC and awarded the sentence of life imprisonment, whereas accused-respondents Raju, Kalloo and Chander have been acquitted of all the charges framed against them.

3. Since the basic facts, issues and the judgment of the trial court are similar and common, both criminal appeal as well as government appeal have been clubbed and heard together and the same are being decided by the common judgment.

4. Shorn of unnecessary details, prosecution story as unfurled in the FIR lodged by one Kamal Kumar, son of Shyam Lal based on a written report, which has been proved and marked as (Ext. Ka-2) is that first informant Kamal Kumar is the resident of House No. 61/203, Sitaram Mohal and few days back, there has been some verbal duel between his maternal uncle Dinesh Chand and one Ashok, who was putting his shop/kiosk in front of tea stall of the deceased, which was resisted by his maternal uncle, consequent to which, on 02.12.1982, when he along with his maternal uncle and one Satya Narayan had reached near Shivraj Tobacco Company in Harbans Mohal at about 06:40 p.m., Ashok son of Ram Chander, Chander son of Ram Shanker, Raju son of Ajay Gupta and Kalloo son of Kuwarji met them. Ashok and Raju were armed with knife, Kalloo then caught hold of his uncle Dinesh Chand by his waist and Chander held him his hands and made him fall down and exhorted to assault him, consequent to which, Ashok and Raju by their knives gave 4-5 blows causing injuries to Dinesh Chand, who fell down. On raising alarm, Ram Narayan and his younger brother Vimal Kishor reached the place of incident and witnessed the crime, however, the accused-assailants made their escape good. On account of fear, they did not chase them, however, since his maternal uncle was badly injured, as such, his brother Vimal Kishor rushed to take him to the hospital, however, en-route to the hospital, he succumbed to his injuries. Leaving his dead body there, he had gone to the Police Station to lodge the report. On the basis of a written report, FIR was lodged vide Case Crime No. 411 of 1982, under Section 302 IPC, carbon copy whereof has been drawn vide G.D. Report no. 46 at 20:10 hours dated 02.12.1982, which has been proved and marked as Exhibit Ka-4. The FIR was registered in the presence of S.H.O., Police Station Harbans Mohal, who was entrusted with the investigation of the present case.

5. The Investigating Officer recorded the statement of the first informant Kamal Kumar (P.W.1) and thereafter, he alongwith PW-1 reached the place of incident and found the blood and a shoe of the deceased lying there, which were taken in his possession and its fard recovery memo was prepared.

6. The Investigating Officer has further collected the plain earth and bloodstained earth from the place of incident and kept it in a container and prepared its recovery memo, which has been proved and marked as Ext. Ka-6 and Ext. Ka-7.

7. Thereafter, the Investigating Officer has prepared the site plan, which has been proved and marked as Ext. Ka-8 and then, reached the hospital and saw the corpse of the deceased but in the absence of proper arrangement, could not conduct the inquest, however, in the hospital, he recorded the statement of Vimal Kishor (P.W.3) and Satya Narayan, another eye-witness of the incident.

8. On the next day i.e. 03.12.1982, the inquest was conducted by S.S.I. R.S. Kushwaha, which has been proved and marked as Ext. Ka-9. The relevant documents, namely, photo-nash, challan-nash, letter to R.I., letter to C.M.O. etc. were prepared, which have been proved and marked as Ext. Ka-9 to Ext. Ka-12. Thereafter, dead body of the deceased was sealed and dispatched to the mortuary for post-mortem examination.

9. An autopsy was conducted on the person of the deceased on 03.12.1982 at 04:40 p.m. The doctor has noted six injuries on his person, which are as under :-

(i) incised wound of 7cm x 3cm x muscle deep down at the right lateral side of Back, transverse in direction 7 cm below the posterior axillary angle.

(ii) Incised punctured wound of 3cm x 2cm x Chest cavity deep at the intercostal spine between 3rd & 4th ribs on right side of back, which is at medial end 14cm below the root of the back & 4cm from the backbone. It is transverse in direction.

(iii) Incised wound of 4 cm x 2 cm x muscle deep at the right side of Back, above downwards in direction and at medial end (upper) is 14cm below the injury no. 2 and 7cm from the backbone.

(iv) Incised wound of 3 cm x 1x1/2 cm x muscle deep at the right side of skull which is from transverse in direction and 11 cm above the right ear Tragus.

(v) Incised wound 1 cm x ½ cm x muscle deep at the left side of eyebrow.

(vi) Contusion of 4 cm x 2.5 cm at the right side of forehead just above the eyebrow.

10. Thereafter, an attempt was made to arrest the accused person but to no avail nor any incriminating article was recovered, in respect of which, Ext. Ka-13 to Ext. Ka-15 have been drawn.

11. On 25.12.1982, the Investigating Officer after concluding the investigation, submitted the charge-sheet against the accused persons, which has been proved and marked as Ext. Ka-16. On the basis of the said charge-sheet, learned Magistrate had taken cognizance, however, since the case was exclusively triable by the court of Sessions, made over the case to the court of Sessions, where it was numbered as S.T. No. 63 of 1983 (State of U.P. Vs. Ajay @ Raju and others).

12. The trial court thereafter framed the charges against the accused-appellant under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC, which was read out and explained to the accused person in Hindi, however, they abjured the charges, pleaded not guilty and claimed to be tried.

13. During the course of trial, the prosecution examined as many as two witnesses of fact and four other formal witnesses. Their testimony, in brief, is enumerated herein-under :-

14. P.W.1 Dr. Madan Bihari is the person, who conducted an autopsy on the person of the deceased and proved the autopsy report and contents thereof, which has been proved and marked as Ext. Ka-1. He further stated that injury nos.1 to 5 could be caused by knife and the deceased could have died on 02.12.1982 at 06:45 p.m.

15. During cross-examination, he stated that injury no.6 could be caused by some blunt object and the said injuries were sufficient in the ordinary course of nature to cause death. He further stated such injuries could be caused by some small axe or Khurpi.

16. P.W.2 Kamal Kumar is the first informant of the case and the nephew of the deceased. In his testimony, he stated that he is a permanent resident of House No. 61/203, Sitaram Mohal, where he, his mother, his brother Vimal Kishor, his sister Kamini Devi, his maternal uncle Dinesh Chand used to live and Dinesh Chand used to run a tea stall in Sitaram Mohal. He identified the accused Ashok, present in the court and stated that he used to keep a fruits kiosk in front of the shop of his maternal uncle Dinesh Chand, however, his maternal uncle used to resist putting his kiosk in front of his shop because his sister was young and he used to stand in front of his sister. His shop is situated at Canal Patari and there has been some verbal duel between Ashok and his maternal uncle Dinesh Chand over placing of his kiosk in front of his shop.

17. He further stated that about one year back, his maternal uncle Dinesh Chand, his brother Vimal Kishor and Satya Narayan were present at his house, however, Vimal Kishor had gone out for some work and they were conversing for watching a movie in Apsara Talkies. Their mother asked them to take their meals, however, they refused to take the meals and proceeded towards Apsara Talkies and when, they reached near the Shivraj Tobacco Company, they saw the accused persons Ashok, Chander, Raju and Kalloo, present in the court, standing in front of tea-shop of Arjun.

18. He further stated that accused Kalloo came from behind and caught hold of the victim Dinesh Chand by his waist, whereas Chander held him by his hands and then, Chander exhorted to assault and not to spare him, then Chander made his maternal uncle Dinesh Chand fall down. Ashok and Raju, armed with knives, assaulted him. After assaulting the victim, accused persons tried to make their escape good, however, on hearing the alarm, Ram Narayan and his younger brother Vimal Kishor reached there and witnessed the incident. His maternal uncle suffered injuries by knife, as such, he along with his brother Vimal Kishor had taken him to the K.P.M. Hospital on a rickshaw, however, on reaching there, the doctor declared him dead.

19. The said incident had occurred at about 07:00 p.m. in the evening. After his death, he returned back to his house, scribed the report and lodged the same at the Police Station, which has been proved and marked as Ext. Ka-2.

20. He further stated that at the Shivraj Tobacco Company, bulbs were lit and even at the tea stall, bulbs were lit and at a distance of 10-15 paces, electric tube-light was also lit and there was sufficient source of light.

21. He further stated that Satya Narayan and Ram Narayan have colluded with the accused persons and as such, they do not wish to adduce their evidence and all the other accused persons are the friends of Ashok.

22. During cross-examination, he stated that there are four shows of screening of movies i.e. 12:00 Noon to 03:00 PM, 03:00 PM to 06:00 PM, 06:00 PM to 09:00 PM and 09:00 PM to 12:00 PM, however, the film does not starts at the exact time but around 06:30 PM. On the fateful day, Satya Narayan had reached his house at 06:15 p.m. and his maternal uncle's tea stall is situate at a distance of 10-15 paces from his house. Near the shop of his maternal uncle, there are 12-15 other shops. At 6:00 p.m., Satya Narayan had reached his shop and asked him to go together for watching a movie. At the relevant time, his maternal uncle Dinesh was also present there as his shop was closed. He, however, does not remember as to which movie was being screened in Apsara Talkies, where they were proceeding for watching the movie. The incident had occurred about 02-03 furlongs on canal road turning, where on both the sides, shops were situated and were opened. The accused persons were standing at the shop of Arjun Prasad, who also was present there. The said incident was witnessed by him and several other persons.

23. He further stated that when he had gone about 10-15 paces ahead of shop of Arjun, then the incident had occurred, however, when they crossed the accused persons, they did not utter a word. He denied the suggestion that when he reached near the Shivraj Tobacco Company, accused persons met him and held them.

24. On his attention been drawn to the contents of the FIR, he admitted the fact that in the FIR, it is not stated that accused persons were standing in front of tea stall of Arjun but it is stated that accused persons met near the Shivraj Tobacco Company.

25. On his further attention been drawn to the contents of the FIR, he stated that Kalloo came from behind and caught hold of the deceased from the back by his waist. At the place of incident, he stayed for 3-4 minutes and he and his brother had lifted his maternal uncle, who was bleeding profusely and took him in a rickshaw to the hospital, consequent to which, their clothes and hands were smeared with blood. They had shown their bloodstained clothes to the Investigating Officer, however, the Investigating Officer did not took them in his possession. The victim had fallen in a prone position and thereafter, he could not rise. The accused persons had stabbed the deceased on his back and head but the blood did not gushed out. When the deceased was assaulted by knife, he was bent on his knees but did not raise alarm, however, he had raised the alarm. The incident took place within 2-3 minutes. When the victim was held by the waist, he was standing beside him but could not rescue him. The victim was made to fall down and assault started. He was also pushed but he did not fall down and was standing at the chabutra of Shivraj Tobacco Company, from where, he witnessed the incident. The accused persons also tried to assault him but could not and thereafter, ran away. He is known to Chander for the last about 1½ years as he used to sell Kerosene and used to come at his crossing. He further stated that all the accused persons are friends but the said fact is not stated in the F.I.R.

26. He further denied the suggestion that shop of the deceased was not his own but that of Ramanand @ Buddhu Baba and he wanted to take forcible possession of the said shop, as such, deceased had assaulted Pappu, son of Buddhu Baba. The factum that Ashok wanted to put his kiosk in front of shop of his maternal uncle, was stated in the FIR.

27. He further categorically stated that when he had seen the accused persons standing at the shop, he had not seen that they were having knives, though, in the FIR, he has stated that Ashok and Raju were having knives but when the deceased was held by his waist, then he had seen the knife. When the accused persons exhorted to assault, then he raised alarm, however, nobody rushed to rescue him. To quote :-

"जब मुलजिमानों को खड़े देखा तब उन पर चाकू नहीं देखे थे। रिपोर्ट में मैंने राजू व अशोक पर चाकू होना लिखा है मगर जब कमर पकड़ी तब यह चाकू देखे थे। जब मुलजिमान ने मारने को ललकारा तब मैं चिल्लाया। जब मारने को चिल्लाए तो आस पास का कोई नहीं दौड़ा चूंकि इतना समय नहीं मिला था।" At the place of incident, shops are situated on both the sides, houses are also built and Shivraj Tobacco Company is also there. After the incident, he had not asked anyone to lodge the report nor to inform anyone at his house, although within 12 minutes, one can reach the Police Station walking on foot from the place of incident.

28. He further denied the suggestion that report was lodged at the dictation of police. Earlier, in the instant case, 10th was fixed for adducing evidence. On 6th - 7th, he had informed Satya Narayan to adduce his evidence, however on 9th, he was threatened by the accused persons not to depose, consequently, he ran away from the village and did not adduce his evidence. It is wrong to state that since the story is cooked-up as such, Satya Narayan does not want to adduce his evidence.

29. He further stated that hundreds of time, he had gone to the house of Raju, in which, a coaching school is run and he used to study there and had also gone in the portion, where he used to live. Further, it is wrong to state that Raju was not involved in the incident and his name has been falsely implicated. For Kallu, he stated that he had seen his house but had never visited there, though has passed through there, hundreds of time. It is wrong to state that Kallu does not live in Kachiyana.

30. He further denied the suggestion that at the instance of Mahesh, son of Munna, who is his friend, he has falsely implicated Kalloo in the instant case. It is also wrong to state that he neither held the victim by his waist nor was present there.

31. It is further stated that his sister's name is Kamini Devi and she used to sit at his shop, where he alongwith his brother used to sit and the factum of Ashok putting his kiosk in front of his shop was not liked by them as his younger sister also used to sit at the shop, as such he, his brother and his mother asked Ashok not to place his kiosk there.

32. He further denied the suggestion that there was friendship between his sister and Ashok, for which, he and his mother had rebuked and beaten her, however over that, there was no verbal duel between him, his mother and Ashok.

33. He further categorically stated that when the deceased was being assaulted, then nobody had held the victim. When he was being given knife blows, then he did have any chance to stand up or rescue himself. He did not even tried to roll over.

34. He further denied the suggestion that incident did not take place at the scheduled place nor he was not present there. He further denied the suggestion that his brother had taken the deceased to the hospital and he was not present there and reached there on being informed.

35. PW-3 Bimal Kumar is another eye-witness of the incident and is real brother of PW-2 Kamal Kumar and nephew of the deceased. He, in his statement, has stated that his maternal uncle's tea stall is at canal road on the Naher Patari. Prior to the incident, his maternal uncle Dinesh, his brother Kamal and his friend Satya Narayan were conversing/ planning for watching a movie in Apsara Talkies at about 6:00 PM.

36. He further stated that for some personal work, he had gone out at Trimurti Mandir and after completing his work, he was returning back to his home, en-route to the Apsara Talkies, he heard the alarm raised by his brother Kamal and then, reached at the Shivraj Tobacco Company, when he saw Kalloo holding his maternal uncle by his waist and Chander by his hands and made him fall down. When his maternal uncle fell on his knees, then Raju and Ashok assaulted him with knives and thereafter, escaped towards Hoolaganj, then he alongwith his brother Kamal took him to K.P.M. Hospital, where he was declared dead by the Doctors. Kamal then went to the Police Station, however, he remained in the hospital. He was interrogated by the Investigating Officer at 10:00 PM in the night. The incident had taken place at about 6:40 PM near the Shivraj Tobacco Company, where there was sufficient light and tube-lights were lit. One or two persons were present at the office of the Tobacco Company, however, they did not reach the place of incident. Apart from his brother Kamal, Satya Narayan also raised the alarm but no one rushed to the place of incident nor anyone raised alarm. When he heard the alarm, then he was present at a distance of 25-30 paces from the place of incident and from the said place, his maternal uncle was visible. He further stated that when Kamal raised alarm, then for the first time, he had seen there. At the relevant time, Satya Narayan was also present with him, who also raised alarm.

37. He further denied the suggestion that he had not seen Kamal holding his maternal uncle by his waist and Chander by his hands but has only seen him assaulted by knives, however, he had not disclosed this fact to the Investigating Officer. To quote :-

"यह कहना गलत है कि मैंने कल्लू को कमर पकड़ते व चन्दर को हाथ पकड़ते नहीं देखा बल्कि केवल चाकू मारते ही देखा था। मैंने दरोगा जी को नहीं बताया था कि कल्लू ने मेरे मामा जी को कमर पकड़कर उठा ली और चन्दर ने हाथ पकड़ लिया था। चूंकि दरोगा जी ने नहीं पूछा था इसलिए नहीं बताया था। मैं दरोगा जी को मन से अपने बाते बता रहा था ऐसा नहीं कि जो वो मुझसे पूछ रहे थे वही बता रहा था। मैं घबड़ा गया था। इसीलिए यह बात मैंने दरोगा जी को नहीं बताई थी।"

38. He further stated that Kalloo caught him by his waist and Chander by his hands and his back was towards him and when his maternal uncle had fallen on his knees, then he was assaulted by knife. When knife blows were given, then his hands and waist were released. He could not state whether the knife was stabbed or was used otherwise. A knife was also hit on the forehead. He further stated that :-

"मैंने दरोगा जी से नहीं कहा था "मैं अपना काम करके अप्सरा टाकीज की तरफ जाने के लिए बैजनाथ शुक्ला गली में पहुंचा। मैं नहीं बता सकता यह बयान कैसे लिख लिया। पहले दरोगा जी को बता दिया था कि घटना के समय सत्य नरायन मौजूद था। मैं नहीं बता सकता कि दरोगा जी ने यह बात क्यों नहीं लिखी।"

39. He further stated that he is not aware of the fact that several cases were lodged against his maternal uncle Dinesh and that he was arrested for enticing away Rama Devi's sister and gambling used to take place at his shop. He further denied the suggestion that there was friendship between Ashok and his sister Kamini Devi, for which, his mother had beaten his sister.

40. PW-4 Pratap Singh is the Head Moharrir, who, on the basis of a written report, had lodged the FIR at 8:10 PM, which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka-2. On the basis of which, a chik report was prepared, which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka-3 and corresponding G.D. Entry No. 46 has also been proved and marked as Ex. Ka-4. The chemical examination report has also been proved and marked as Ex. Ka-5.

41. During cross-examination, he stated that FIR was not registered after due deliberation by the police, however, no cognizable report after the aforesaid incident was written. It is wrong to state that on getting information of murder, G.D. entry was withheld and later, fake entry has been made.

42. PW-5 Inspector D.C. Seth is the Station House Officer of Police Station Harbans Mohal, District Kanpur. He, in his testimony, has stated that on 02.12.1982, on the basis of a written report of Kamal Kumar, a FIR was registered in his presence and he was entrusted with the investigation. He had recorded the statement of first informant at the Police Station and then, he reached at the place of incident and found blood lying there and a shoe was also found there, in respect of which, a fard recovery memo was drawn. He had also collected the sample of plain earth and blood-stained earth and prepared the recovery memo, which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka-6 and Ex. Ka-7. The site plan was also prepared, which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka-8. He had also recorded the statement of the witnesses and went to the hospital and seen the dead body of the deceased. On the next day i.e. on 03.12.1982, the inquest was prepared by S.S.I. R.S. Kushwaha, which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka-9 and the other relevant papers were prepared, which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka-10 to Ex. Ka-12. After concluding the investigation, the charge-sheet was submitted against the accused persons on 25.12.1982, which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka-16.

43. During cross-examination, he stated that when the first informant came to lodge the report, he was present, however, did not mark any blood on his clothes. He further stated that if any blood is found on the clothes of the first informant, then it is noted and the clothes are taken in possession. He further stated that Kamal Kumar has not pointed out any blood on his clothes or the clothes of his brother Bimal Kumar. He further stated that Bimal Kumar, in his statement, has stated that :-

"गवाह विमल किशोर ने मुझ से कहा था कि मैं अपना काम करके आधा पौन घंटे में अपसरा टाकीज की तरफ जाने के लिए बैजनाथ शुक्ल रोड पर पहुँचा। विमल किशोर गवाह ने सत्य नरायन का घटनास्थल पर मौजूद होना मुझसे नहीं कहा। विमल किशोर ने कहा की घटना देखी नक्शा नजरी में नहीं दिखाया।"

44. In the FIR, time of death of the victim has not been mentioned, it is only stated that en-route to the hospital, he died, even in the challan-nash, time of death has been mentioned on the basis of imagination.

45. After concluding the recording of the testimonies of the witnesses, statement of the accused under Section 313 Cr.P.C. has been recorded by putting all the incriminating circumstances to the appellant, who denied all the incriminating circumstances and claimed that they have been falsely implicated in the instant case.

46. In his defence, Accused-appellant has produced Ashok Kumar Gupta, Clerk, Central Bank of India, Nayaganj Branch, Kanpur as DW-1 and Shri Ram Lakhan Shukla, Clerk, Area Rationing Office, Cantonment, Kanpur as DW-2. DW-1 has submitted the Statement of Bank Account of one Rakesh Kumar Awasthi, Resident of 65/267, Moti Mohal, Kanpur. The accused persons has also filed certain documents that the deceased was a man of bad character. Ex. Kha-1 and Ex. Kha-2 are the copies of charge-sheet and the FIR of the case, which was lodged against the deceased in respect of incident dated 22.08.1981. Ex. Kha-3 is a copy of the charge-sheet submitted against the deceased for an offence under Section 324 IPC. The trial court on appreciating the evidence has held that the prosecution has successfully established its case against the appellant Ashok by relying upon the testimony of PW-2 Kamal Kumar, however, so far the testimony of PW-3 Bimal Kumar, is concerned, the trial court has held that he is a chance witness. The trial court has further pointed out that there has been noticeable variance in his statement before the court and his statement before the Investigating Officer, where he stated that after finishing his work, he reached at Baijnath Shukla Lane for going to the Apsara Talkies, even though before the court, he stated that accused persons came and caught the deceased by waist and held him by his hands and then, he was assaulted, however, these facts were not stated by him before the Investigating Officer. PW-3 reached the incident on hearing the alarm raised by his brother Kamal Kumar, when for the first time he had seen the incident, therefore, it can not be said that he witnessed the incident from the initial stage, on the basis of which, his testimony has been doubted and only on the basis of solitary testimony of PW-2 Kamal Kumar, appellant Ashok has been convicted, while other three accused persons, namely, Raju, Chander and Kalloo have been acquitted vide impugned judgment and order dated 28.02.1984.

47. Being aggrieved and dissatisfied by the said order, accused-appellant Ashok has filed instant criminal appeal before this Court against his conviction, whereas government appeal has been preferred against the order of acquittal of Chander, Raju and Kalloo. During the course of pendency of the said appeal, Chander has already passed away and as such, his appeal has been dismissed as abated vide order dated 13.03.2014.

48. So far as the arguments of learned counsel for the appellant in criminal appeal is concerned, he has submitted that even according to the prosecution own case, the incident has taken place in a market place, where number of shops were situated. Except the two brothers PW-2 and PW-3, who are the nephews of the deceased, no independent witness has come forward to corroborate the prosecution story, which creates a serious dent in the prosecution story. Admittedly, PW-2 and PW-3 are highly interested and partisan witnesses being the nephews of the deceased Dinesh, therefore, by placing implicit reliance on their testimony, the appellant could not be convicted.

49. Learned counsel for the appellant has next submitted that even as per the impugned judgment and order passed by the trial court, the testimony of PW-3 Bimal Kumar has been discarded and it has been held that he could not be an eye-witness of the incident and that his testimony do not inspire confidence and as such, at the time of recording the finding of conviction, he has been disbelieved and held to be a chance witness.

50. Learned counsel for the appellant has thus submitted that PW-2 is only a solitary witness in the instant case, who is highly partisan and interested. There are several contradictions and embellishment in his testimony, which goes to the root of the case and as such, by no stretch of imagination, he can be said to be a wholly reliable witness and his testimony can not be said to be of "sterling quality." However, the trial court by placing implicit reliance on his testimony has recorded the finding of conviction against the appellant Ashok but on the same set of facts, has acquitted the accused Raju, Kalloo and Chander, which creates serious dent in the prosecution story and renders the conviction illegal.

51. Learned counsel for the appellant has further submitted that in the FIR lodged by PW-2, there is no mention of the fact that at the relevant time, he alongwith his maternal uncle Dinesh and Satya Narayan were proceeding to watch a movie in the Apsara Talkies, however subsequently, the said factum has been mentioned, which is nothing but is an improvement in his testimony.

52. Learned counsel for the appellant has next submitted that Section 34 of IPC is not attracted in the instant case and that prior concert and pre-arranged plan to kill the deceased has not been established. He further submitted that existence of a pre-arranged plan has to be proved from the conduct of the accused or the circumstances or from any incriminating circumstance and does not infer to have same intention independently.

53. Learned counsel for the appellant Ashok has further submitted that by the impugned judgment and order dated 28.02.1984, the appellant Ashok has been convicted under Section 302 read with Section 34 of IPC, however, except the appellant Ashok, who has been convicted, none of the three other accused persons has been convicted for the offence under Section 34 IPC. It is well settled principle of law that there must be two or more than two persons to attract the provisions of Section 34 IPC, however, in the instant case, the appellant has solely been convicted for the offence under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC, which is bad in law and as such, the entire conviction is liable to be set aside.

54. In support of his arguments, learned counsel for the appellant has relied upon the judgments passed in Criminal Appeal No. 1661 of 2009 (Gadadhar Chandra Vs. State of West of Bengal) and Criminal Appeal No. 1209 of 2011 (Chandra Pratap Singh Vs. State of M.P.). He has further placed reliance upon the case law reported in (2019) 5 SCC 127 Mala Singh and Others Vs. State of Haryana and further on the cases reported in (2003) 2 SCC 266 Chittarmal vs. State of Rajasthan and (2020) 4 SCC 126 Chhota Ahirwar Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh.

55. Per contra, learned AGA has submitted that though the testimony of PW-3 is not of much relevance but so far as the testimony of PW-2 is concerned, there are no serious contradictions, embellishment or exaggeration in his testimony on material particulars, which goes to the root of the case, rather his testimony is of sterling quality and as such, he is a "wholly reliable witness" and relying upon his sole testimony, the finding of conviction can well be recorded.

56. Learned AGA has next submitted that though the factum of witnesses going with the deceased for watching a movie in the Apsara Talkies has not been mentioned in the FIR but has been categorically stated in subsequent statements, thus it can not be said to be a material improvement in the testimony of PW-2 and the contrary submissions of learned counsel for the appellant in this regard is liable to be discarded.

57. Learned AGA has further submitted that there is consistent evidence to the extent that the deceased, his nephew and Satya Narayan were proceeding for watching a movie in the Apsara Talkies and at the relevant time, all the four accused persons had assembled at the tea stall of Arjun, therefore, it can be said that prior concert, which necessarily postulates existence of pre-arranged plan implying the prior meeting of minds can very well be inferred and thus, the appellant can very well be convicted for the offence under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC alongwith co-accused Raju, whose case stands on identical footing as that of Ashok, who has been convicted by the trial court.

58. Learned AGA has further submitted that Section 34 IPC introduces vicarious liability and when the common intention is proved, the appellants can very well be convicted under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC, for which, they have been charged.

59. Learned AGA has further submitted that for Section 34 IPC to apply, there should be a common intention between co-perpetrators, which means there should be community of purpose and common design or pre-arranged plan but it is not necessary that co-perpetrators may have engaged in any prior discussion, agreement or valuation as held by the Hon'ble Apex Court in several of its decisions.

60. Learned AGA while arguing the government appeal challenging the order of acquittal of other accused persons has submitted that since the entire act has been committed by the accused-appellant with prior concert, which necessarily postulates existence of pre-arranged plan implying the prior meeting of minds and in furtherance of a common intention, therefore, they all should have been convicted for the offence under Section 302 read with Section 34 of IPC, however, the trial court has illegally acquitted three of them, while convicting only appellant Ashok under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC, which order is bad in law and is therefore liable to be set aside.

61. Learned AGA has further submitted that PW-2 Kamal Kumar is a "wholly reliable witness" and his testimony is of impeccable nature and except minor discrepancies here and there, which is quite natural, his testimony is of sterling quality, as such, on his sole testimony, all the surviving accused persons are liable to be convicted under Section 302 read with Section 34 of IPC.

62. Learned AGA while arguing the government appeal challenging the order of acquittal of other two accused-respondents, has submitted by relying upon a recent decision of Hon'ble Apex Court passed in Criminal Appeal No. 3577 of 2023 (Ram Naresh Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh) that for Section 34 IPC to apply, it is not necessary that the plan should be pre-arranged or hatched for a considerable time before the criminal act has to be performed. Common intention can be formed just a minute before the actual act happens. Common intention is necessarily a psychological fact as it requires prior meeting of minds. In such cases, direct evidence normally will not be available and in most cases, whether or not there exists a common intention has to be determined by drawing inference from the facts proved. From the conduct of the accused-respondent, it is evident that they had participated in the incident with a common intention to cause the death of the deceased Dinesh Chand, therefore, all the accused persons are liable to be convicted under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC by reversing the acquittal of accused-respondents Raju and Kalloo and the impugned order acquitting the accused-respondents Raju and Kalloo is bad in law and is, therefore, liable to be set aside.

63. Per contra, learned counsel for the accused-respondent Kalloo has submitted that even taking the entire evidence and material on record, it can not be said that accused-respondent Kalloo had a common intention to kill the deceased and he has only been assigned the role of catching hold the victim by his waist and at the relevant time, even as per the prosecution case, he was unarmed.

64. Learned counsel for the accused-respondent Kalloo has further submitted that even according to the testimony of PW-2, accused-respondent Kalloo was not holding the victim at the time, when he was stabbed by knife and therefore, the provisions of Section 34 of IPC can not be invoked against him, as he can not be said to be sharing common intention with the other accused to kill the deceased.

65. Learned counsel for the accused-respondent Kalloo has further pointed out that in the entire evidence to show prior concert, which necessarily postulates existence of pre-arranged plan implying of prior meeting of minds is necessary, in absence of which, accused-respondent Kalloo can not be convicted by reversing his acquittal under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC.

66. Learned counsel for the accused-respondent Kalloo has further submitted that even in the statement of PW-2, it is stated that when the assailants were seen standing on the tea stall of Arjun, then he had not seen knives in their hands and had seen the knives only when he was caught hold of. Further, in his statement, PW-2 has categorically stated that when deceased was being assaulted, nobody held him. To quote :-

"जब मृतक को चाकू मारे जा रहे थे तब कोई पकड़े हुए नहीं था।"

67. Thus, it is evident that the accused-respondent Kalloo, prior to the incident of killing, was not aware of the fact that the assailants Raju and Ashok were carrying knives and had a common intention to kill the deceased. Further at the time of stabbing, nobody held him, thus in any case, necessary ingredients of Section 34 IPC are not applicable at all qua accused-respondent Kalloo, who, in view of backdrop of the said facts and circumstances of the case, has rightly been acquitted by the trial court, which order does not suffer from any perversity or illegality or can be said to be an impossible view, as such, the order of acquittal qua accused-respondent Kalloo is not liable to be reversed in view of settled principle of law in this regard.

68. Learned counsel for the accused-respondent Raju has also submitted that in absence of any evidence of prior concert, which necessarily postulates existence of pre-arranged plan implying of prior meeting of minds, accused-respondent Raju can not be convicted with the aid of Section 34 of IPC by reversing his acquittal.

69. Having considered the rival submissions made by the parties and having gone through the record, it is evident that PW-2 Kamal Kumar was accompanying his maternal uncle Dinesh Chand (Deceased) alongwith Satya Narayan for the purposes of watching a movie and as per the prosecution own case, en-route to the Picture Hall, the accused persons met the deceased and Kalloo caught him by his waist, whereas Chander caught him by his hands and thereafter, he was assaulted by accused-assailants Ashok and Raju with their knives causing injuries to the deceased; one on his chest and the other on his waist, consequent to which, he succumbed to his injuries.

70. In the backdrop of the said circumstance, if we analyse the submissions of learned counsel for the appellant Ashok in criminal appeal that the incident is said to have taken place in a market place, where large number of persons were present and many shops were situated, however, except the two witnesses i.e. PW-2 and PW-3, who are the real brothers among themselves and nephews of the deceased, no other independent witness have come forward to corroborate the prosecution story, even Satya Narayan has not turned up to adduce his evidence against the accused persons, as such, the testimonies of partisan and interested witnesses cannot be relied upon to record finding of conviction, more so, when the testimony of PW-3 has been discarded by the trial court being a chance witness.

71. In this respect, it is germane to point out here that it has come in evidence that Satya Narayan, who had accompanied the victim at the time of incident, in fact was threatened by the accused-appellant not to depose, subsequently, on the day when his testimony was to be recorded, he ran away from the village as is evident from the statement of PW-2. Other witnesses, in order to avoid any bad blood with the accused persons being resident of the same place, also did not turn up to adduce their evidence, which nowadays is quite common as held by the Hon'ble Apex Court in several of its decisions.

72. More so, it is not necessary that in every case, where the witnesses are withheld from the court, an adverse inference must be drawn against the prosecution. The totality of the circumstances is to be considered for concluding whether any adverse inference could be drawn. The testimony of PW-2 Kamal Kumar, who was accompanying the deceased at the time of incident, is of an impeccable nature and the defence has not been able to elicit anything contrary to doubt his credibility.

73. Having gone through his complete evidence, we are of the considered opinion that PW-2 Kamal Kumar is a natural witness in the facts and circumstances of the case, who has deposed against the accused-respondent in a most natural way and the defence has not been able to point out any inconsistency, contradictions or embellishment in his testimony, which goes to the root of the case, we rather find a ring of truth in his testimony, as such, we have no hesitation to hold that his testimony is of a sterling quality and on the basis of which, the conviction against the accused-respondent can very well be recorded.

74. So far as the testimony of PW-3 Vimal Kumar is concerned, his presence at the time of incident is highly doubtful. Admittedly at the time, when PW-2 Kamal Kumar alongwith Satya Narayan and the deceased Dinesh Chand were planning to leave for watching a movie, he had left his house for some personal work near the Trimurti Temple and it is stated that after completing the said task, he reached the place of incident and has said to have witnessed the incident, however, when we carefully go through his testimony, we find that there are many loopholes in his testimony and he appears to be a "chance witness" as held by the trial court.

75. The defining attributes of a "chance witness" were explained by Mahajan, J., in Puran v. State of Punjab, (1952) 2 SCC 454. It was held that such witnesses have the habit of appearing suddenly on the scene when something is happening and then disappearing after noticing the occurrence about which they are called later on to give evidence.

76. In Mousam Singha Roy v. State of West Bengal (2003) 12 SCC 377, this Court discarded the evidence of chance witnesses while observing that certain glaring contradictions/ omissions in the evidence of PW-2 and PW-3 and the absence of their names in the FIR has been very lightly discarded by the courts below. Similarly, Shankarlal v. State of Rajasthan (2004) 10 SCC 632 and Jarnail Singh v. State of Punjab (2009) 9 SCC 719 are authorities for the proposition that deposition of a chance witness, whose presence at the place of incident remains doubtful, ought to be discarded.

77. Therefore, in view of the settled principle of law laid above and when we go through the testimony of PW-3, we find that there are many loopholes in his testimony and taking a holistic view that PW-3 appears to be a chance witness as held by the trial court, his testimony is liable to be discarded, which we agree, however, looking the impeccable testimony of PW-2 Kamal Kumar, we are of the considered opinion that conviction of the appellant Ashok is just, proper and legal and do not call for any interference.

78. The submission of learned counsel for the appellant that on the basis of testimony of solitary witness Kamal Kumar (PW-2), the accused-appellant Ashok alongwith other accused persons cannot be convicted, more so, when he is the real nephew of the deceased and highly interested and partisan witness, as such, liable to be discarded.

79. This submission of learned counsel for the appellant do not appeal much to us looking to the impeccable testimony of PW-2 Kamal Kumar, we are of the considered view that on the basis of "sole testimony" of PW-2 Kamal Kumar, which in our opinion, is of sterling quality, a person can be convicted as held by Hon'ble Apex Court in several of its decisions.

80. The submission of learned counsel for the appellant that no recovery was made in the said case, further falsify the prosecution story and creates serious dent in the prosecution story also does not appeal to us.

81. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Mritunjoy Biswas Vs. Pranab Alias Kuti Biswas & Another reported in (2013) 12 SCC 796 has held that when there is ample unimpeachable ocular evidence and same has been corroborated by medical evidence, non-recovery of weapon does not affect the prosecution case. The relevant paragraphs i.e. paragraph nos. 33 and 34 are being quoted herein below:

"33. The learned counsel for the respondent has urged before us that there has been no recovery of weapon from the accused and hence, the prosecution case deserves to be thrown overboard and, therefore, the judgment of acquittal does not warrant interference.*

34. In Lakshmi v. State of U.P. reported in (2002) 7 SCC 198, this Court has ruled that :*

"Undoubtedly, the identification of the body, cause of death and recovery of weapon with which the injury may have been inflicted on the deceased are some of the important factors to be established by the prosecution in an ordinary given case to bring home the charge of offence under Section 302 IPC. This, however, is not an inflexible rule. It cannot be held as a general and broad proposition of law that where these aspects are not established, it would be fatal to the case of the prosecution and in all cases and eventualities, it ought to result in the acquittal of those who may be charged with the offence of murder."

In Lakhan Sao v. State of Bihar reported in (2000) 9 SCC 82, it has been opined that the non-recovery of the pistol or spent cartridge does not detract from the case of the prosecution where the direct evidence is acceptable.

In State of Rajasthan v. Arjun Singh reported in (2011) 9 SCC 115, the Hon'ble Apex Court has expressed that :

"18. ……. mere non-recovery of pistol or cartridge does not detract the case of the prosecution where clinching and direct evidence is acceptable. Likewise, absence of evidence regarding recovery of used pellets, bloodstained clothes, etc. cannot be taken or construed as no such occurrence had taken place."

82. Further submission of learned counsel for the appellant that the factum of PW-2 Kamal Kumar accompanying the deceased at the time of incident for watching a movie, has not been mentioned in the FIR but subsequently developed, which renders the prosecution story doubtful.

83. In our considered opinion that said argument does not hold much water because FIR is not a substantive piece of evidence and any omission in the FIR could not ipso facto render the prosecution story doubtful, particularly, when in the subsequent statement as well as the evidence adduced before the court, the said factum has been clearly mentioned.

84. The submission of learned counsel for the appellant that Section 34 of IPC is not attracted in the instant case as there is no evidence to show that there was a prior concert and pre-arranged plan to kill the deceased.

85. The said submission of learned counsel for the appellant is also not of much significance in view of specific and clear law laid down by Hon'ble Apex Court in Criminal Appeal No. 2201 of 2011 (State of Rajasthan Vs. Gurbachan Singh and Others), wherein it has been clearly stated that Section 34 of IPC makes a co-perpetrator, who had participated in the offence, equally liable on the principle of joint liability. For Section 34 of the IPC to apply, there should be common intention among the co-perpetrators, which means that there should be community of purpose and common design. Common intention can be formed at the spur of the moment and during the occurrence itself. Common intention is necessarily a psychological fact and as such, direct evidence normally will not be available. Therefore, in most cases, whether or not there exists a common intention, has to be determined by drawing inference from the facts proved. Constructive intention, can be arrived at only when the court can hold that the accused must have preconceived the result that ensued in furtherance of the common intention.

86. Moreover, learned AGA has relied upon Criminal Appeal No. 3577 of 2023 Ram Naresh Vs State of Uttar Pradesh, wherein it has been held that for Section 34 to apply, it is not necessary that the plan should be prearranged or hatched for a considerable time before the criminal act is performed. Common intention can be formed just a minute before the actual act happens. Common intention is necessarily a psychological fact as it requires prior meeting of minds. In such cases, direct evidence normally will not be available and in most cases, whether or not there exists a common intention has to be determined by drawing inference from the facts proved.

87. This requires an inquiry into the antecedents, conduct of the co-participants or perpetrators at the time and after the occurrence. The manner in which the accused arrived, mounted the attack, nature and type of injuries inflicted, the weapon used, conduct or acts of the co- assailants/ perpetrators, object and purpose behind the occurrence or the attack, etc. are all relevant facts from which inference has to be drawn to arrive at a conclusion whether or not the ingredients of Section 34 IPC are satisfied.

88. We must remember that Section 34 IPC comes into operation against the co-perpetrators because they have not committed the principal or main act, which is undertaken/ performed or is attributed to the main culprit or perpetrator. Where an accused is the main or final perpetrator, resort to Section 34 IPC is not necessary as the said perpetrator is himself individually liable for having caused the injury/ offence. A person is liable for his own acts. Section 34 or the principle of common intention is invoked to implicate and fasten joint liability on other co-participants.

89. A plain reading of the above paragraph reveals that for applying Section 34 IPC there should be a common intention of all the co-accused persons which means community of purpose and common design. Common intention does not mean that the co-accused persons should have engaged in any discussion or agreement so as to prepare a plan or hatch a conspiracy for committing the offence. Common intention is a psychological fact and it can be formed a minute before the actual happening of the incidence or as stated earlier even during the occurrence of the incidence.

90. Thus, from the aforesaid principle laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court, it can not be said that in the instant case, Section 34 of IPC would not be applicable as submitted by learned counsel for the appellant and the said argument is liable to be discarded and the cases relied upon by learned counsel for the appellant are distinguishable on facts as stated in the subsequent decisions of Hon'ble Apex Court, which has been quoted above.

91. Learned counsel for the appellant has further submitted that though the incident is said to have taken place in presence of number of witnesses and even in presence of PW-2 and PW-3, who are his real nephews, however, none of them have come forward to rescue the victim-deceased, which points out towards the unnatural conduct of the said witnesses clearly indicating that none of them were present at the time of incident and reached subsequently and on imagination, have deposed against the appellants, which creates a serious dent in the prosecution story.

92. The said submission of learned counsel for the appellant that though PW-2 and PW-3 are the real nephews of the deceased Dinesh Chand and claims to be present at the time of incident, when the deceased was in clutches of the accused-assailants, yet none of them has made any attempt to rescue the victim-deceased, which rules out their presence at the relevant time and place of incident, is also not much significance.

93. In this respect, it is relevant to point out here that when an incident takes place, a witness does not necessarily react in a particular manner. Every person, who witnesses a murder, reacts in his own way. Some are stunned, some become speechless and stand rooted to the spot. Some become hysteric and start wailing. Some start shouting for help. Others run away to keep themselves as far removed from the spot as possible. Yet others rush to the rescue of the victim, even going to the extent of counter-attacking the assailants. Every one reacts in his own special way. There is no set rule of natural reaction. To discard the evidence of a witness on the ground that he did not react in any particular manner is to appreciate evidence in a wholly unrealistic and unimaginative way as held by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Rana Pratap Singh and Others Vs. State of Haryana reported in (1983) 3 SCC 327, It can not be said that since the witnesses has not reacted in a particular way and not made any attempt to rescue the victim-deceased, their presence at the time and place of the incident would become doubtful is too far-fetched and in our considered opinion cannot be accepted to doubt the presence of eye witnesses.

94. In view of aforesaid discussions, taking a holistic view of the evidence adduced and the material brought on record, we are of the opinion that prosecution has established its case beyond all reasonable doubt against the appellant Ashok. More so, when the medical evidence also lends credence to the prosecution story. The post-mortem examination report also points out conclusively to the culpability of the appellant Ashok, as such, he is liable to be convicted for the charges framed against him under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC alongwith Raju. Thus, the criminal appeal filed by Ashok has no merits and is accordingly dismissed.

95. Now, so far as the government appeal is concerned against the surviving accused-respondents Raju and Kalloo is concerned, it is evident that the case of Raju stands on the same footing as that of accused-appellant Ashok and being based on same set of facts, in our considered opinion, he is also liable to be convicted for the offence under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC alongwith accused-appellant Ashok by partly allowing the Government Appeal.

96. In the facts and circumstances of the case, keeping in mind the evidence adduced and the material brought on record against the accused-respondent Raju, which even finds corroboration from the medical evidence, we are of the opinion that finding of acquittal recorded against the accused-respondent Raju is liable to be reversed by partly allowing the government appeal qua the accused-respondent Raju.

97. So far as reversal of acquittal qua accused-respondent Kalloo is concerned, we find that from the entire evidence adduced and the material available on record, it can not be said that Kalloo shared a common intention to kill the deceased. Even as per the evidence of PW-2, he is said to be an unarmed at the time of incident and is assigned the role of catching hold the victim-deceased Dinesh Chand by his waist, which, in our opinion, does not inspire confidence, inasmuch as, the victim-deceased is not said to have been caught hold of by the accused-respondents Kalloo and Chander, while he was being assaulted.

98. If we go through the post-mortem examination report of the deceased, we find that one of the injuries has been caused to the deceased on his waist by knife, therefore, the prosecution story assigning the role of catching hold the deceased by his waist at the relevant time further becomes highly doubtful as the possibility of accused himself receiving the injury by knife blow cannot be ruled out.

99. Moreover, we are of the opinion that the accused-respondent Kalloo did not share a common intention to cause the death of the deceased, which is also evident form the testimony of PW-2 Kamal Kumar, wherein he has categorically stated that at the time, the accused-assailants were standing at the tea stall of Arjun, he had not seen knives in the hands of two accused persons Ashok and Raju and for the first time, only when they were trying to stab the deceased, he had seen the knife in their hands and as such, it can very well be inferred that the accused-respondent Kalloo may not be aware of the fact that the accused-assailants at the relevant time were armed with knives with a common intention to kill the deceased.

100. Furthermore, there is one more circumstance, which clinchingly establishes that the accused-respondent Kalloo had no common intention to kill the deceased, which is evident from the fact that PW-2 Kamal Kumar, in his testimony, has categorically stated that the time, when the accused-appellant Ashok and accused-respondent Raju were assaulting the deceased by knives, he was not holding the deceased by his waist and as such, in the backdrop of the said circumstance, we are of the opinion that he did not share the common intention to kill the deceased, as such the finding of acquittal qua accused-respondent Kalloo recorded by the trial court is just, proper and legal and do not call for any interference by this Court.

101. In the facts and circumstances of the case, the government appeal qua accused-respondent Kalloo is not sustainable and is liable to be partly dismissed, however, so far as the government appeal qua accused-respondent Raju is concerned, we are of the opinion that the government appeal qua the accused-respondent Raju is liable to be allowed and as such, his acquittal is set aside and he is also liable to be convicted alongwith accused-appellant Ashok for the offence under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC.

102. Thus, in sum and substance, the criminal appeal filed by the accused-appellant Ashok in facts and circumstances of the case, enumerated herein above, deserves to be dismissed and is accordingly dismissed. He is on bail. His bail bonds are cancelled and his sureties are discharged. He shall surrender before the court below within two weeks from today and serve out the remaining sentence awarded to him by the trial court and shall also pay a fine of Rs.10,000/-, in default of payment of fine, shall further undergo six months rigorous imprisonment.

103. The finding of acquittal recorded by the trial court against the accused-respondent Raju is set aside in the Government Appeal preferred by the State. He is also held guilty alongwith Ashok and is convicted for the offence under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC and sentenced to imprisonment for life and a fine of Rs.10,000/-. In default of payment of fine, to further undergo six months rigorous imprisonment. He shall also surrender before the court below within two weeks from today and serve out the remaining sentence. His bail bonds are cancelled and his sureties are discharged under Section 437-A of IPC.

104. Accordingly, the criminal appeal, filed by the accused-appellant Ashok, stands dismissed and the government appeal is partly allowed by reversing the acquittal of the accused- respondent Raju, however, the government appeal qua accused-respondent Kalloo is dismissed. The government appeal is accordingly partly allowed.

105. Let a copy of this judgment and order be forwarded to the court concerned alongwith the trial court record for the information and necessary compliance.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1341
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 14.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ATTAU RAHMAN MASOODI, J.
THE HON'BLE MANISH KUMAR NIGAM, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 2376 of 2023
connected with other cases

Mohammad Aleem @ Abdul Aleem & Anr. ...Appellants

Versus

State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellants:
Furkan Pathan

Counsel for the Respondent:
G.A.

A. Criminal Law-Criminal Procedure Code, 1973-Section 167(2)-Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, 1967-Section 43-D-Indian Penal Code, 1860-Sections 121A & 123-these appeals challenge the order of Special Judge, N.I.A. concerning the rejection of default bail applications-the appellants sought default bail-the prosecution failed to file a charge sheet within 90 days period prescribed u/s 167(2) Crpc-however, the prosecution sought an extension of the investigation period, which was granted without the presence of the accused or proper notice to them-The court emphasized that the presence of accused and notice to them is mandatory during the hearings-failure to follow these procedures constitutes a violation of Article 21 of the constitution-Extension of time for investigations under UAPA are not be granted as a matter of routine, they require detailed reasons and due process-Thus, the rejection of default bail by the lower court was found to be improper.(Para 1 to 70)

B. It is well settled that in case of any ambiguity in the construction of a penal statute, the Court must favour the interpretation which leans towards protecting the rights of the accused. This principle is applicable even in the case of a procedure providing for curtailment of liberty of the accused.(Para 38)

The appeals are allowed. (E-6)

List of Cases cited:

1. Uday Mohanlal Acharya Vs St. of Mah. (2001) 5 SCC 453

2. Menka Gandhi Vs U.O.I. (1978) AIR SC 597

3. S.Kasi Vs St. (2021) 12 SCC 1

4. Hitendra Vishnu Thakur & ors. Vs St. of Mah. & ors. (1994) 4 SCC 602

5. Sanjay Dutt Vs St. of Mah. thru C.B.I. Bombay (1994) 5 SCC 410

6. M.Ravindran Vs Intelligence Offr. Directorate Revenue (2021) 2 SCC 485

7. Jagar@ Jimmy Pravinchandra Adatiya Vs St. of Guj. (2022) SCC OnLine SC 1290

8. St. of Mah. Vs Surendra Pundlik Gadling (2019) 5 SCC 178

9. U.O.I. Vs Nirmala Yadav (2014) 9 SCC 457

10. Syed Mohd. Ahmad Kazmi Vs St. (Govt of NCT of Delhi) (2012) SCC 1.

11. Rakesh Kumar Paul Vs St. of Assam (2017) 15 SCC 67

12. Bikramjit Singh Vs St. of Punj. (2020) 10 SCC 616

13. Mohamed Iqbal Madar Sheikh & ors. Vs St. of Mah. (1996) I SCC 722.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manish Kumar Nigam, J.)

1. We have heard Shri Aarif Ali, Sri O.P. Tiwari and Sri Furkan Pathan, learned counsel for the appellants, learned Sri Shiv Nath Tilhari, Additional Government Advocate for the State-respondent and perused the record.

2. Criminal Appeal No. 2376 of 2023 (Mohammed Aleem @ Abdul Aleem and another v. State of U.P.) has been filed against the order dated 03.02.2023 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 5, Special Judge, N.I.A., Lucknow in Bail Application No. 148 of 2023, rejecting the default bail application of the appellants under Section 167(2) of Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (hereinafter referred to as 'Cr.P.C.') read with Section 43-D of Unlawful Activities Prevention Act, 1967 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Act of 1967') in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20, 38 of Act of 1967, registered at Police Station A.T.S., Lucknow.

Criminal Appeal No. 2377 of 2023 (Lukman v. State of U.P.) has been filed against the order dated 03.02.2023 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 5, Special Judge, N.I.A., Lucknow in Bail Application No. 86 of 2023, rejecting the default bail application of the appellants under Section 167(2) of Cr.P.C. read with Section 43-D of the Act of 1967 in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20, 38 of Act of 1967, registered at Police Station A.T.S., Lucknow.

Criminal Appeal No. 2378 of 2023 (Mudassir and another v. State of U.P.) has been filed against the order dated 03.02.2023 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 5, Special Judge, N.I.A., Lucknow in Bail Application No. 145 of 2023, rejecting the default bail application of the appellants under Section 167(2) of Cr.P.C. read with Section 43-D of the Act of 1967 in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20 38 of Act of 1967, registered at Police Station A.T.S., Lucknow.

Criminal Appeal No. 2379 of 2023 (Mohammad Nadeem and another v. State of U.P.) has been filed against the order dated 03.02.2023 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 5, Special Judge, N.I.A., Lucknow in Bail Application No. 985 of 2023, rejecting the default bail application of the appellants under Section 167(2) of Cr.P.C. read with Section 43-D of the Act of 1967 in Case Crime No. 3 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 38 of Act of 1967, registered at Police Station A.T.S., Lucknow.

Criminal Appeal No. 2380 of 2023 (Mohammad Harish and another v. State of U.P.) has been filed against the order dated 13.02.2023 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 5, Special Judge, N.I.A., Lucknow in Bail Application No. 969 of 2023, rejecting the default bail application of the appellants under Section 167(2) of Cr.P.C. read with Section 43-D of Act of 1967 in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20, 38 of Act of 1967, registered at Police Station A.T.S., Lucknow.

Criminal Appeal No. 2381 of 2023 (Qari Shahjad and another v. State of U.P.) has been filed against the order dated 13.02.2023 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 5, Special Judge, N.I.A., Lucknow in Bail Application No. 971 of 2023, rejecting the default bail application of the appellants under Section 167(2) of Cr.P.C. read with Section 43-D of the Act of 1967 in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20 38 of Act of 1967, registered at Police Station A.T.S., Lucknow.

Since all the aforementioned appeals involve a common question of law, they are decided together. Criminal Appeal No. 2376 of 2023 (Mohammed Aleem @ Abdul Aleem and another v. State of U.P.) will be treated as the leading appeal.

Facts of Criminal Appeal No. 2376 of 2023

3. First Information Report was registered on 27.09.2022 against two persons, namely Lukman, son of Imran and Abdul Talha @ Hussain @ Zakir under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20 and 38 of the Act of 1967 in Case Crime No. 04 of 2022 at Police Station A.T.S. Gomti Nagar, Lucknow.

4. The appellants Mohammed Aleem @ Abdul Aleem and Mohammad Nawajis Ansari were arrested on 06.10.2022 in Case Crime No. 04 of 2022, referred to above. They were produced before the Special Court on 07.10.2022. The Special Court granted police custody remand from 07.10.2022 to 20.10.2022 by order dated 07.10.2022. Thereafter, the remand was extended from time to time. The statutory period of 90 days was to complete on 05.01.2023. By order dated 14.12.2022, the appellants were granted remand up to 22.12.2022. On 19.12.2022, an application was filed by Sri Anurag Darshan, Additional Superintendent of Police/Investigating Officer A.T.S., Lucknow, U.P., for an extension of 60 days time for further investigation under Section 43(d) of Act of 1967. On the aforesaid application, an endorsement was made by the Public Prosecutor on 21.12.2022 "submitted". On the same day, i.e. 21.12.2022, the Special Court passed an order "Permitted for 45 days only". The application dated 19.12.2022 has been annexed at page no. 20 as annexure no. 7 to the counter affidavit filed by Abhilash Kumar Singh on 27.09.2022 along with application No. A/5/23 for taking the aforesaid counter affidavit on record.

5. On 22.12.2022, further remand of 30 days was allowed by the Special Court, which was extended till 18.01.2023. An application was filed by the appellants for being released on default bail as, according to them, the statutory period of 90 days was to expire on 05.01.2023, and by the said date, no charge sheet was filed by the police in the aforesaid case crime number. The application filed by the appellant was registered as Bail Application No. 148 of 2023. After the exchange of affidavits, the abovementioned application was rejected by the Special Court by its order dated 03.02.2023, which is impugned in the present appeal.

6. During the pendency of the application for grant of bail, the period of investigation was again extended on an application moved by the Public Prosecutor for 30 days. Again, on 04.03.2023, the period of investigation was extended for 20 days by an order dated 04.03.2023 passed by the Special Court. During this period, the remand of the appellant was also extended. The investigating officer submitted the charge sheet against the appellants under Section 121A/123 I.P.C. and Sections 13/18/18B/20/38 of the Act of 1967 on 22.03.2023. On 23.03.2023, the Special Court directed to register the case as Misc. Case. On 13.04.2023, the State granted prosecution sanction, and by order dated 28.04.2023, the Special Court had taken cognizance.

7. The contention of the learned counsel for the appellants is that the statutory period of 90 days was going to expire on 05.01.2023. The application dated 19.12.2022 was filed by the investigating officer for extension of time for investigation under Section 43-D of the Act of 1967. Application dated 19.12.2022 was filed behind the back of appellants and without any notice to them. It has been further contended by learned counsel for the appellants that the application was moved by the investigating officer and not by the Public Prosecutor as required by the proviso to Section 43-D of the Act of 1967. The Public Prosecutor has merely endorsed words ‘submitted’ on the aforesaid application. It is next submitted by the learned counsel for the appellants that the Special Court has passed an order dated 21.12.2022 without application of mind. It has extended the period of investigation for 45 days. It is also contended by learned counsel for the appellant that the order dated 21.12.2022 passed by the Special Court has been passed in the absence of the appellants. The appellants were neither present in person nor through video conferencing on the date, i.e. 21.12.2022, when the order was passed, extending the period of investigation for 45 days. It has also been contended that the Special Court has merely passed an order "permitted for 45 days only". No reasons have been given by the Special Court for permitting the extension of time for investigation. The order dated 21.12.2022 is cryptic and has been passed mechanically by the Special Court. After the expiry of the statutory period, the appellants filed a bail application for being released on bail as no charge sheet was submitted within the statutory period of 90 days. Only when the objection was filed by the opposite party, the appellants came to know about the order dated 21.12.2022.

8. Per contra, learned Standing Counsel submitted that the Special Court had committed no illegality in rejecting the bail application of the appellants. It has been further contended by learned Standing Counsel that since the charge sheet has been submitted by the investigating agency and sanction has been granted by the government, the right of bail, if any, under Section 167(2) of Cr.P.C. is extinguished, and now the same cannot be granted. It is further contended that since time for further investigation was extended by an order dated 21.12.2022 for 45 days, the default bail cannot be given to the appellants on the expiry of the statutory period of 90 days.

9. Before considering the rival submissions of the learned counsel for the parties, it will be useful to look into the relevant statutory provisions:

Section 167 Cr.P.C., 1973 provides for the procedure when the investigation cannot be completed in the time frame provided by the Code of Criminal Procedure. Section 167 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is quoted as follows:

167. Procedure when investigation cannot be completed in twenty-four hours.- (1)Whenever any person is arrested and detained in custody, and it appears that the investigation cannot be completed within the period of twenty-four hours fixed by section 57, and there are grounds for believing that the accusation or information is well-founded, the officer in charge of the police station or the police officer making the investigation, if he is not below the rank of sub-inspector, shall forthwith transmit to the nearest Judicial Magistrate a copy of the entries in the diary hereinafter prescribed relating to the case, and shall at the same time forward the accused to such Magistrate.

(2) The Magistrate to whom an accused person is forwarded under this section may, whether he has or has not jurisdiction to try the case, from time to time, authorise the detention of the accused in such custody as such Magistrate thinks fit, for a term not exceeding fifteen days in the whole; and if he has no jurisdiction to try the case or commit it for trial, and considers further detention unnecessary, he may order the accused to be forwarded to a Magistrate having such jurisdiction:

Provided that-

[(a) the Magistrate may authorise the detention of the accused person, otherwise than in the custody of the police, beyond the period of fifteen days, if he is satisfied that adequate grounds exist for doing so, but no Magistrate shall authorise the detention of the accused person in custody under this paragraph for a total period exceeding,-

(i) ninety days, where the investigation relates to an offence punishable with death, imprisonment for life or imprisonment for a term of not less than ten years;

(ii) sixty days, where the investigation relates to any other offence, and, on the expiry of the said period of ninety days, or sixty days, as the case may be, the accused person shall be released on bail if he is prepared to and does furnish bail, and every person released on bail under this sub-section shall be deemed to be so released under the provisions of Chapter XXXIII for the purposes of that Chapter;]

10. Section 43D of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, 1967, provides for the modified application of certain provisions of the Code. Section 43D of the Act of 1967 is quoted as under:

[43D. Modified application of certain provisions of the Code.-(1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code or any other law, every offence punishable under this Act shall be deemed to be a cognizable offence within the meaning of clause (c) of section 2 of the Code, and

"cognizable case" as defined in that clause shall be construed accordingly.

(2) Section 167 of the Code shall apply in relation to a case involving an offence punishable under this Act subject to the modification that in sub-section (2),-

(a) the references to "fifteen days", "ninety days", and "sixty days", wherever they occur, shall be construed as references to "thirty days", "ninety days", and "ninety days", respectively, and

(b) after the proviso, the following provisos shall be inserted, namely:-

"Provided further that if it is not possible to complete the investigation within the said period of ninety days, the Court may, if it is satisfied with the report of the Public Prosecutor indicating the progress of the investigation and the specific reasons for the detention of the accused beyond the said period of ninety days, extend the said period up to one hundred and eighty days:

Provided also that if the police officer making the investigation under this Act requests, for the purposes of investigation, for police custody from judicial custody of any person in judicial custody, he shall file an affidavit stating the reasons for doing so and shall also explain the delay, if any, for requesting such police custody."

11. An order for release on bail under proviso (a) to section 167(2) may appropriately be termed an order on default. Indeed, it is a release on bail on the default of the prosecution in filing charge-sheet within the prescribed period. The right to bail under Section 167(2) proviso (a) is absolute. If the investigating agency fails to file a charge sheet before the expiry of 90/60 days, as the case may be, the accused in custody should be released on bail, irrespective of the order passed under Section 439. The object of incorporating the proviso is to see that a person arrested by police does not languish unnecessarily in prison awaiting the completion of the investigation. The provisions contained in Section 167(2) are mandatory and failure of the Investigating Agency to complete the investigation within the prescribed period entitles the accused to be enlarged on bail Proviso (a) to Sub-section (2) Section 167, Cr.P.C. is not controlled by Section 437 of Cr.P.C. Merits of the case are immaterial. Whatever may be the serious nature of the crime and gravity of the offence, no discretion is given to the Magistrate when the accused files an application for grant of bail under the said section, and thereupon, the accused is entitled to bail as a matter of right.

12. We cannot lose sight of the fact that legislature envisaged that the investigation should be completed in 24 hours, but practically, that was never found feasible. It is in these circumstances that Section 167 of the Code of Criminal Procedure provided for time period within which investigation should be completed depending upon the nature of offence. Since liberty is a constitutional right, time periods were specified in default of which the accused will have a right of default bail.

13. It would be useful to refer to Section 57 Cr.P.C., which provides that any person arrested by the police should not be detained for more than 24 hours unless an order is obtained from the Magistrate under Section 167 of the Code. The Code was originally enacted in the year 1898. We must remember that at that time, the means of communication were very primitive; the means of telecommunication barely existed. Despite that, in the Code as originally enacted, the police were expected to complete the investigation within 15 days, and the Magistrate did not have any jurisdiction to pass an order detaining a person beyond 15 days if the investigation was not completed. This system worked well enough for more than seven decades. After the country attained independence, we enacted and gave to ourselves the Constitution of India, which came into force on 26.01.1950. Article 21 of the Constitution provides that "no man shall be deprived of his life and personal liberty except in accordance with procedure established by law". The right of personal liberty is not only a legal but also a human right, which is inherent in every citizen of any civilized society. Article 21 only recognizes this right. We can read Sections 57 and 167 to be the procedure established by law that curtails this right.

14. The Code of Criminal Procedure enacted in 1898 contained Section 167, which laid down the procedure to be followed if the investigation into an offence is not completed within twenty-four hours. The legislative expectation was that the investigation would ordinarily be completed within twenty-four hours. Incidentally, this legislative expectation continues till today. Whatever the anxiety of the Legislature in 1898, there can be no gainsaying that investigation into an offence deserves an early closure, one way or the other. Therefore, when Section 167 was enacted in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, it was premised on the conclusion of investigations within twenty-four hours or 15 days on the outside, regardless of the nature of the offence or the punishment. Section 167 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 reads as follows:

167. Procedure when investigation cannot be completed in twenty-four hours.- (1) Whenever any person is arrested and detained in custody, and it appears that the investigation cannot be completed within the period of twenty-four hours fixed by section 61, and there are grounds for believing that the accusation or information is well-founded, the officer in charge of the police-station or the police-officer making the investigation if he is not below the rank of sub-inspector shall forthwith transmit to the nearest Magistrate a copy of the entries in the diary hereinafter prescribed relating to the case, and shall at the same time forward the accused to such Magistrate.

(2) The Magistrate to whom an accused person is forwarded under this section may, whether he has or has not jurisdiction to try the case, from time to time authorise the detention of the accused in such custody as such Magistrate thinks fit, for a term not exceeding fifteen days in the whole. Suppose he has no jurisdiction to try or commit the case for trial and considers further detention unnecessary. In that case, he may order the accused to be forwarded to a Magistrate having such jurisdiction:

Provided that no Magistrate of the third class and no Magistrate of the second class not specially empowered in this behalf by the State Government shall authorise detention in the custody of the police.

(3) A Magistrate authorizing under this section detention in the custody of the police shall record his reasons for so doing.

(4) If such order is given by a Magistrate other than the District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate, he shall forward a copy of his order, with his reasons for making it, to the Magistrate to whom he is immediately subordinate."

15. The Law Commission of India, in its 41st report, proposed to increase the time limit for completion of an investigation to 60 days, which was accepted by the legislature while enacting the new Code, i.e. Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 incorporating the time limit to be 60 days by providing the same under Section 167 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, regardless the nature of offence or punishment. Section 167 of Cr.P.C., 1973 provides as under:

167. Procedure when investigation cannot be completed in twenty-four hours.- (1) Whenever any person is arrested and detained in custody, and it appears that the investigation cannot be completed within the period of twenty-four hours fixed by section 57, and there are grounds for believing that the accusation or information is well-founded, the officer in charge of the police station or the police officer making the investigation, if he is not below the rank of sub-inspector shall forthwith transmit to the nearest Judicial Magistrate a copy of the entries in the diary hereinafter prescribed relating to the case, and shall at the same time forward the accused to such Magistrate.

(2) The Magistrate to whom an accused person is forwarded under this section may, whether he has or has not jurisdiction to try the case, from time to time authorise the detention of the accused in such custody as such Magistrate thinks fit, for a term not exceeding fifteen days in the whole: and if he has no jurisdiction to try the case or commit it for trial, and considers further detention unnecessary, he may order the accused to be forwarded to a Magistrate having such jurisdiction:

Provided that

(a) the Magistrate may authorise the detention of the accused person, otherwise than in the custody of the police, beyond the period of fifteen days if he is satisfied that adequate grounds exist for doing so, but no Magistrate shall authorise the detention of the accused person in custody under this section for a total period exceeding sixty days, and on the expiry of the said period of sixty days, the accused person shall be released on bail if he is prepared to and does furnish bail; and every person released on bail under this section shall be deemed to be so released under the provisions of Chapter XXXIII for the purposes of that Chapter;

(b) no Magistrate shall authorise detention in any custody under this section unless the accused is produced before him;

(c) no Magistrate of the second class, not specially empowered in this behalf by the High Court, shall authorise detention in the custody of the police.

Explanation.- If any question arises whether an accused person was produced before the Magistrate as required under paragraph (b), the production of the accused person may be proved by his signature on the order authorising detention."

16. In 1978, a need was felt to amend Section 167 Cr.P.C. by not only extending the period of completing the investigation but also relating that period to the offence. Section 167 Cr.P.C., as amended in 1978, has already been quoted above.

17. Generally speaking, therefore, it could be said that ever since 1898, the legislative intent has been to conclude investigations within twenty-four hours. This intention has not changed for more than a century. However, the Legislature has been pragmatic enough to appreciate that it is not always possible to complete investigations into an offence within twenty-four hours. Therefore, initially, in the Cr.P.C. of 1898, a maximum period of 15 days was provided for completing the investigations. Unfortunately, this limit was being violated through the subterfuge of taking advantage of Section 344 of the Cr.P.C. of 1898. The misuse was recognized in the 41st Report of the Law Commission of India. Consequently, the Law Commission recommended fixing a maximum period of 60 days for completing investigations, and that recommendation was enacted as the law in the Cr.P.C. of 1973. Subsequently, this period was also found to be insufficient for completing investigations into more serious offences, and, as mentioned above, the period for completing investigations was bifurcated into 90 days for some offences and 60 days for the remaining offences.

18. From the mid-eighties, the prevailing conditions have been surcharged with terrorism and disruption, posing a serious threat to the sovereignty and integrity of India as well as creating panic and a sense of insecurity in the minds of people. Added to that, the brutality of terrorism let loose by the secessionists and anti-nationals in the highly vulnerable area of Indian territory was causing grave concern even about the chances of survival of the democratic polity and process. There was also the continuous commission of heinous offences such as gruesome mass-killings of defenceless innocent people, including women, children and bystanders, destroying the peace, tranquillity and security. The existing ordinary criminal laws were found inadequate to deal sternly with such activities perpetrated on humanity. It was only in these prevailing circumstances the legislature was compelled to bring forth various special Acts such as The Terrorist and Disruptive Activities (Prevention) Act, 1987, The Prevention of Terrorism Act, 2002, The Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substance Act, 1985, etc. to prevent and deal with conditions prevailing providing different procedure.

The Legislature responded to the menace without sacrificing the national values and to combat terrorism by extending and expanding the legal powers of the State and taking steps/measures in a legalised way. The outcome of such responses is the enactment of these Acts after a prolonged debate in both Houses of Parliament as the Legislature has felt that the ordinary criminal laws, both Penal and Procedural, are quite inadequate to meet the challenges, especially when the incidents of terrorists and disruptionists activities have increased astronomically.]

19. In cases involving serious offences, such as those under the Terrorist and Disruptive Activities (Prevention) Act, Prevention of Terrorism Act, Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act and Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, the Legislature has given some latitude to the investigating machinery in the manner of completion of the investigation by providing for extension of time to complete the investigation. Under the Act of 1967, Section 43-D was inserted by Act 35 of 2008. The amended Section provided for modified applications of certain provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Under the special Acts, this period was further extended by the legislature to a period ranging from 180 days to 365 days, on certain eventualities provided in the Act itself. Though Section 43-D of the Act of 1967 provides for the extension of time for completing the investigation. The extension is, however, not to be granted as a matter of course but subject to conditions enumerated in the Act. Unless those conditions are satisfied, the Court will refuse to grant an extension.

20. Notwithstanding this, the basic legislative intent of completing investigations within twenty-four hours or within an otherwise time-bound period remained unchanged, even though the period had been extended several times under the special Acts. This indicates that in addition to giving adequate time to the investigating agency to complete investigations, the Legislature has always put a premium on personal liberty and has always felt that it would be unfair to an accused to remain in custody for a prolonged or indefinite period. It is for this reason and also to hold the investigating agency accountable that time limits have been laid down by the Legislature. There is a legislative appreciation of the fact that certain offences require more extensive and intensive investigations and, therefore, for those offences, a longer period is provided for completing investigations.

21. The question of grant of default bail is that once the maximum period for investigation of an offence is over under the first proviso (a) to Section 167(2) of Cr.P.C., the accused shall be released on bail, this being an indefeasible right granted by the legislature. Sub Section (2) of Section 167 of Cr.P.C. lays down that the Magistrate to whom the accused is forwarded may authorise his detention in such custody as he may deem fit for a term specified in that Section. Proviso to Sub-section (2) fixes the outer limit within which the investigation must be completed, and in case, the same is not completed within the said prescribed period, the accused would acquire a right to seek to be released on bail and if he is prepared to and does furnish bail, the Magistrate shall release him on bail and such release shall be deemed to be grant of bail under Chapter XXXIII of the Cr.P.C.

22. Section 167 Cr.P.C., thus, strictly speaking, is not a provision for 'grant of bail' but deals with the maximum period during which a person accused of an offence may be kept in custody and detention to enable the investigating agency to complete the investigation and file the charge-sheet, if necessary, in the court. The proviso to Section 167(2) Cr.P.C., therefore, creates an indefeasible right in an accused person on account of 'default' by the investigating agency in the completion of the investigation within the maximum period prescribed or extended, as the case may be, to seek an order of his release on bail. It is for this reason that an order for release on bail under proviso (a) of Section 167(2) Cr.P.C. is termed as an order of 'default' as it is granted on the ground of 'default' of the prosecution to complete the investigation and file the charge-sheet within the prescribed period.

23. Before we proceed to consider the parameters of the right to default bail under Section 167 (2) as interpreted by various decisions of this Court and Supreme Court, we find it pertinent to note the observations made by this Court in case of Uday Mohanlal Acharya v. State of Maharashtra reported in (2001) 5 SCC 453 on the fundamental right to personal liberty of the person and the effect of deprivation of the same as follows: (SCC P 472 p. 13)

"13. .... Personal liberty is one of the cherished objects of the Indian Constitution and deprivation of the same can only be in accordance with law and in conformity with the provisions thereof, as stipulated under Article 21 of the Constitution. When the law provides that the Magistrate could authorise the detention of the accused in custody up to a maximum period as indicated in the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167, any further detention beyond the period without filing of a challan by the investigating agency would be a subterfuge and would not be in accordance with law and in conformity with the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code, and as such, could be violative of Article 21 of the Constitution."

24. Article 21 of the Constitution of India provides that "no person shall be deprived of his life or personal liberty except according to procedure established by law". It has been settled by a Constitution Bench of this Court in Meneka Gandhi v. Union of India reported in AIR 1978 SC 597 that such a procedure cannot be arbitrary, unfair or unreasonable. The history of the enactment of Section 167(2) Cr.P.C. and the safeguard of "default bail" contained in the proviso thereto is intrinsically linked to Article 21 and is nothing but a legislative exposition of the constitutional safeguard that no person shall be detained except in accordance with rule of law.

25. Therefore, as mentioned supra, Section 167(2) is integrally linked to the constitutional commitment under Article 21 promising protection of life and personal liberty against unlawful and arbitrary detention and must be interpreted in a manner that serves this purpose. In our opinion, the entire matter before us must also be looked at from the point of view of expeditious conclusion of investigations and the angle of personal liberty and not from a purely dictionary or textual perspective as canvassed by the learned counsel for the State.

We take this view keeping in mind that in matters of personal liberty and Article 21 of the Constitution, it is not always advisable to be formalistic or technical. The history of the personal liberty jurisprudence of this Court and other constitutional courts includes petitions for a writ of habeas corpus and for other writs being entertained even on the basis of a letter addressed to the Chief Justice or the Court. Therefore, the courts cannot adopt a rigid or formalistic approach when considering any issue that touches upon the rights contained in Article 21.

26. We may also refer with benefit to the recent Judgment of this Court in S. Kasi v. State reported in (2021) 12 SCC 1 wherein it was observed that the indefeasible right to default bail under Section 167(2) is an integral part of the right to personal liberty under Article 21, and the said right to bail cannot be suspended even during a pandemic situation as is prevailing currently. It was emphasized that the right of the accused to be set at liberty takes precedence over the right of the State to carry on the investigation and submit a chargesheet.

27. Additionally, it is well-settled that in case of any ambiguity in the construction of a penal statute, the Courts must favour the interpretation that leans towards protecting the rights of the accused, given the ubiquitous power disparity between the individual accused and the State machinery. This is applicable not only in the case of substantive penal statutes but also in the case of procedures providing for the curtailment of the liberty of the accused.

28. With respect to the CrPC, the Statement of Objects and Reasons is an important aid for construction. Section 167(2) has to be interpreted keeping in mind the three-fold objectives expressed by the legislature namely ensuring a fair trial, expeditious investigation and trial, and setting down a rationalized procedure that protects the interests of indigent sections of society. These objects are nothing but subsets of the overarching fundamental right guaranteed under Article 21. The entire justice-delivery system is dependent upon the concept of fairness. It is the interest of justice that has a predominant role in the criminal jurisprudence of the country- the hallmark of justice is the requirement of the day and the need of the hour.

29. In case of Hitendra Vishnu Thakur and others v. State of Maharashtra and others reported in (1994) 4 SCC 602, while interpreting Section 20(4) of Terrorist and Disruptive Activities (Prevention) Act, 1987 (hereinafter referred to as 'TADA Act') read with Section 167 Cr.P.C., the Supreme Court held that once the period for filing the charge-sheet has expired and either no extension under Clause (bb) has been granted by the designated court or the period of extension has also expired, the accused person would be entitled to move an application for being admitted to bail under Sub-Section (4) of Section 20 of TADA Act read with Section 167 of Cr.P.C. and designated court shall release him on bail, if the accused seeks to be released and furnishes the requisite bail bonds but that does not mean that on expiry of the period, during which investigation is required to be completed under Section 24 of TADA Act read with Section 167 of Cr.P.C., the court must release the accused on bail on its own motion even without any application from the accused person on his offering to furnish bail. The accused will be required to make an application if he wishes to be released on bail on account of the 'default' of the investigating/prosecuting agency, and once such an application is made, the court should issue notices to the Public Prosecutor who may either show that prosecution has obtained the order for completing the investigation from the court under Clause (bb) or that the charge-sheet has been filed in the designated court before the expiry of prescribed period or even that the prescribed period has actually not expired and thus, resists the grant of bail on the alleged ground of 'default'. The issuance of notice would avoid the possibility of an accused obtaining an order of bail under the 'default' clause by either deliberately or inadvertently concealing certain facts and would avoid a multiplicity of proceedings. It would, therefore, serve the ends of justice, if both sides are heard on the petition for bail on account of prosecution 'default'. It has been further held by the Supreme Court that when a report submitted by the Public Prosecutor to the designated court, for grant of extension for Clause (bb), its notice should be issued to the accused, before granting such an extension so that an accused may have an opportunity to oppose the extension on all legitimate and legal grounds available to him. Even though neither Clause (b) nor Clause (bb) of Section 20 (4) of the TADA Act provide for the issuance of such notice but, the issuance of such notice must be read into these provisions both in the interest of the accused and the prosecution as well as for doing complete justice between the parties. This is a requirement of the principles of natural justice, and issuance of notice to the accused or the Public Prosecutor, as the case may be, would accord with fair play in action, which the courts have always encouraged and even insisted upon. It would also strike a just balance between the interest of the liberty of an accused on the one hand and the society at large through the prosecuting agency on the other hand. There is no prohibition to the issuance of such a notice to the accused or Public Prosecutor in the scheme of the Act, and no prejudice whatsoever can be caused by the issuance of such a notice to any party. (para 21 of Judgment on pages 627 to 628)

30. The Constitutional Bench of the Supreme Court in the case of Sanjay Dutt v. State of Maharashtra through C.B.I.

Bombay reported in (1994) 5 SCC 410, in para no. 2 was considering the following questions which were referred to the bench:

"2. The question of law indicated in the said order of reference, to be decided by us, are three, namely:

(1) The proper construction of Section 5 of the TADA Act indicating the ingredients of the offence punishable thereunder and the ambit of the defence available to a person accused of that offence;

(2) The proper construction of clause (bb) of sub-section (4) of Section 20 of the TADA Act indicating the nature of the right of an accused to be released on bail thereunder, on the default to complete the investigation within the time allowed therein; and

(3) The proper construction and ambit of sub-section (8) of Section 20 of the TADA Act indicating the scope for bail thereunder."

31. In the present case, we are only concerned with question no. 2, which was referred to the Supreme Court in the case of Sanjay Dutt (Supra). The above reference was answered by the Apex Court in para no. 53 of the Judgment which is as under:

"1. ....

(2)(a) Section 20(4)(bb) of the TADA Act only requires the production of the accused before the court in accordance with Section 167(1) of the Code of Criminal Procedure and this is how the requirement of notice to the accused before granting extension beyond the prescribed period of 180 days in accordance with the further proviso to clause (bb) of sub-section (4) of Section 20 of the TADA Act has to be understood in the Judgment of the Division Bench of this Court in Hitendra Vishnu Thakur. The requirement of such notice to the accused before granting the extension for completing the investigation is not a written notice to the accused giving reasons therein. Production of the accused at that time in the court informing him that the question of extension of the period for completing the investigation is being considered, is alone sufficient for the purpose.

(2)(b) The 'indefeasible right' of the accused to be released on bail in accordance with Section 20(4)(bb) of the TADA Act read with Section 167(2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure in default of completion of the investigation and filing of the challan within the time allowed, as held in Hitendra Vishnu Thakur is a right which ensures to, and is enforceable by the accused only from the time of default till the filing of the challan and it does not survive or remain enforceable on the challan being filed. If the accused applies for bail under this provision on expiry of the period of 180 days or the extended period, as the case may be, then he has to be released on bail forthwith. The accused, so released on bail may be arrested and committed to custody according to-the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The right of the accused to be released on bail after filing the challan, notwithstanding the default in filing it within the time allowed, as governed from the time of filing of the challan only by the provisions relating to the grant of bail applicable at the stage.

3. ....."

32. The decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Hitendra Vishnu Thakur (Supra) was modified by the Constitutional Bench in the case of Sanjay Dutt (Supra) on a very limited aspect. The requirement of law as laid down in the case of Hitendra Vishnu Thakur (Supra) regarding procuring the presence of accused at the time of considering the report seeking extension of time and the requirement of putting the accused to the notice of the filing of such a report has not been disturbed in the case of Sanjay Dutt (Supra). On the contrary, the decision of the Constitutional Bench in the case of Sanjay Dutt (Supra) reiterates the mandatory requirement of production of the accused before the court at the time of consideration of the report submitted by the Public Prosecutor. The only modification made by the Constitution Bench in the decision of Hitendra Vishnu Thakur (Supra) is by holding that the mode of giving notice to the accused is by informing about the filing of such a report by producing him before the Special Court and a written notice is not required. The Supreme Court, in the case of Sanjay Dutt (Supra), has laid down the requirement of informing the accused about the filing of a report seeking extension of time. The accused on receiving the intimation is entitled to object to the prayer made by the Public Prosecutor for grant of extension of time. In the case of Sanjay Dutt (Supra), it has been held that it is not necessary for the Special Court to supply a copy of the report submitted by the Public Prosecutor to the accused. Section 43-D of the U.A.P.A. is pari-materia with the proviso added by Clause (bb) of Sub Section (4) of Section 20 of T.A.D.A.

33. In the case of Uday Mohanlal Acharya v. State of Maharashtra reported in (2001) 5 SCC 453 in paragraph 13 thereof, the majority view has been summarised which read thus:

"On the aforesaid premises, we would record our conclusions as follows:
1. Under sub-section (2) of Section 167. a Magistrate before whom an accused is detention of the accused in such custody as the Magistrate thinks fit exceeding 15 days on the whole.
2. Under the proviso to the aforesaid of the accused otherwise than in the custody of police for a total period not exceeding 90 days where the investigation relates to offence punishable with death, imprisonment for life or imprisonment for a term of not less than 10 years, and 60 days where the investigation relates to any other offence.
3. On the expiry of the said period of 90 days or 60 days, as the case may be, an indefeasible right accrues in favour of the accused for being released on bail on account of default by the investigating agency in the completion of the investigation within the period prescribed and the completion of the investigation within the period prescribed and the accused is entitled to be released on bail, if he is prepared to and furnishes the bail as directed by the Magistrate.
4. When an application for bail is filed by an accused for enforcement of his Indefeasible right alleged to have been accrued in his favour on account of the default on the part of the investigating agency in completion of the investigation within the specified period, the Magistrate/court must dispose of it forthwith, on being satisfied that in fact the accused has been in custody for the period of 90 days or 60 days, as specified and no charge-sheet has been filed by the investigating agency. Such prompt action on the part of the Magistrate/court will not enable the prosecution to frustrate the object of the Act and the legislative mandate of an accused being released on bail on account of the default on the part of the investigating agency in completing the investigation within the period stipulated.

5. If the accused is unable to furnish the bail as directed by the Magistrate, then on a conjoint reading of Explanation I and the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167, the continued custody of the accused even beyond the specified period in para (a) will not be unauthorised, and therefore, if during that period the investigation is complete and the charge-sheet is filed then the so-called indefeasible right of the accused would stand extinguished.

34. In the case of M. Ravindran v. Intelligence Officer, Directorate Revenue reported in (2021) 2 SCC 485, again considered the matter and the conclusion of the said decision can be summarised as under:

"(i) Majority view in the case of Uday Mohanlal Acharya is correct;

(ii) Sub-section (2) of Section 167 of CrPC was enacted for providing an outer time limit to the period of remand of the accused proportionate to the seriousness of the offence alleged. On the failure to complete the investigation within the defined outer limit, the accused acquires an indefeasible right to get default bail;

(iii) The timelines provides under sub-section (2) of Section 167, CrPC ensure that investigating officers are compelled to act swiftly and efficiently without misusing the prospect of further remand. This provision ensures that the Court takes cognizance of the case without undue delay after investigation is completed within the time provided in subsection (2) of Section 167, CrPC;

(iv) The Legislature has enacted sub-section (2) of Section 167 for balancing the need to provide sufficient time to complete the investigation with the need to protect civil liberties of the accused, which is given paramount importance in our Constitution;

(v) Sub-section (2) of Section 167 is integrally linked to the constitutional commitment under Article 21 of the Constitution of India promising protection of the personal liberty against unlawful and arbitrary detention;

(vi) The decision of this Court in the case of S. Kasi was quoted with the approval which holds that the indefeasible right to default bail is an integral part of the right to personal liberty under Article 21, and the said right cannot be suspended even during the pandemic situation; and

(vii) It is well settled that in case of any ambiguity in the construction of a penal statute, the Court must favour the interpretation which leans towards protecting the rights of the accused. This principle is applicable even in the case of a procedure providing for curtailment of liberty of the accused."

35. So far as the contention of the learned counsel for the appellants that the application was filed on 19.12.2023 by the Investigating Officer for extension of time for investigation under Section 43-D of the Act of 1967, which was allowed by the Special Court by order dated 21.12.2022 extending the time for 45 days for further investigation without giving any notice of the application and also in the absence of the appellants. On 21.12.2022, the appellants were not present before the Special Court in person or virtually. We have to consider the legal consequences of failure of the Special Court to procure the presence of accused at the time of consideration of the reports submitted by Investigating Officer / Public Prosecutor for a grant of extension of time to complete the investigation. In addition, we must also consider the effect of failure to give notice to the accused of the reports submitted by the Public Prosecutor/Investigating Officer.

36. Sub-section (2) of Section 43-D of the Act of 1967 provides that Section 167 Cr.P.C. shall apply in relation to a case involving an offence punishable under this Act subject to modification that in Sub-section (2).

37. Clause (b) of Sub-section (2) of Section 43-D of the Act of 1967 is a pari-materia proviso that empowers the designated court to extend the period provided in Clause (a) of Sub-section (2) of Section 167 Cr.P.C.

38. The Supreme Court, in the case of Jigar alias Jimmy Pravinchandra Adatiya v. State of Gujarat reported in 2022 SCC OnLine SC 1290, considered this question while considering the provisions of Gujarat Control of Terrorism and Organised Crime Act, 2015 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act of 2015") which also contained a pari-materia proviso in Section 20 (2) of the Act of 2015. The Supreme Court in case of Jigar alias Jimmy (Supra) relying upon the Judgment in case of Hitendra Vishnu Thakur (Supra) and the case of Sanjay Dutt vs. State of Maharashtra (Supra) held as under:

"34. Clause (b) of sub-section (2) of Section 167 of CrPC lays down that no Magistrate shall authorise the detention of the accused in the custody of the police unless the accused is produced before him in person. It also provides that judicial custody can be extended on the production of the accused either in person or through the medium of electronic video linkage. Thus, the requirement of the law is that while extending the remand to judicial custody, the presence of the accused has to be procured either physically or virtually. This is the mandatory requirement of law. This requirement is sine qua non for the exercise of the power to extend the judicial custody remand. The reason is that the accused has a right to oppose the prayer for the extension of the remand. When the Special Court exercises the power of granting extension under the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 20 of the 2015 Act, it will necessarily lead to the extension of the judicial custody beyond the period of 90 days up to 180 days. Therefore, even in terms of the requirement of clause (b) of sub- section (2) of Section 167 of CrPC, it is mandatory to procure the presence of the accused before the Special Court when a prayer of the prosecution for the extension of time to complete investigation is considered. In fact, the Constitution Bench of this Court in the first part of paragraph 53(2)(a) in its decision in the case of Sanjay Dutt holds so.

The requirement of the report under proviso added by sub-section (2) of Section 20 of the 2015 Act to clause (b) of sub-section (2) of Section 167 of CrPC is two-fold. Firstly, in the report of the Public Prosecutor, the progress of the investigation should be set out and secondly, the report must disclose specific reasons for continuing the detention of the accused beyond the said period of 90 days. Therefore, the extension of time is not an empty formality. The Public Prosecutor has application the Court must apply its mind to the contents of the report before accepting the prosecution has to make out a case in terms of both the aforesaid prayer for grant of extension.

35. As noted earlier, the only modification made by the larger Bench in the case of Sanjay Dutt to the decision in the case of Hitendra Vishnu Thakur is about the mode of service of notice of the application for extension. In so many words, in paragraph 53 (2)(a) of the Judgment, this Court in the case of Sanjay Dutt held that it mandatory to produce the accused at the time when the Court considers the application for extension and that the accused must be informed that the question of extension of the period of investigation is being considered. The accused may not be entitled to get a copy of the report as a matter of right as it may contain details of the investigation carried out. But, if we accept the submission of the respondents that the accused has no say in the matter, the requirement of giving notice by producing the accused will become an empty and meaningless formality. Moreover, it will be against the mandate of clause (b) of the proviso to sub-section (2) of section 167 of CrPC. It cannot be accepted that the accused is not entitled to raise any objection to the application for extension. The scope of the objections may be limited. The accused can always point out to the Court that the prayer has to be made by the Public Prosecutor and not by the investigating agency. Secondly, the accused can always point out the twin requirements of the report in terms of proviso added by sub-section (2) Section 20 of the 2015 Act to sub-section (2) of Section 167 of CrPC. The accused can always point out to the Court that unless it is satisfied that full compliance is made with the twin requirements, the extension cannot be granted.

36. The logical and legal consequence of the grant of extension of time is the deprivation of the indefeasible right available to the accused to claim a default bail. We accept the argument that the failure of the prosecution to produce the accused before the Court and to inform him that the application of extension is being considered by the Court is not a mere procedural irregularity, it will negate the proviso added by sub-section (2) of Section 20 of the 2015 Act and that may amount to violation of rights conferred by Article 21 of the Constitution. The reason is the grant the extension of time takes away the right of the accused to get default bail which intrinsically connected with the fundamental rights guaranteed under Article 21 of Constitution. The procedure contemplated by Article 21 of the Constitution which required to be followed before the liberty of a person is taken away has to be a fair reasonable procedure. In fact, procedural safeguards play an important role in protecting the liberty guaranteed by Article 21. The failure to procure the presence the accused either physically or virtually before the Court and the failure to inform him that the application made by the Public Prosecutor for the extension of time is being considered, is not a mere procedural irregularity. It is gross illegality that violates the rights of the accused under Article 21.

37. An attempt was made to argue that the failure to produce the accused will not cause any prejudice to him. As noted earlier, the grant of extension of time to complete the investigation takes away the indefeasible right of the accused to apply for default bail. It takes away the right of the accused to raise a limited objection to the prayer for the extension. The failure to produce the accused before the Court at the time of consideration of the application for extension of time will amount to a violation of the right guaranteed under Article 21 of the Constitution. Thus, prejudice is inherent and need not be established by the accused."

39. In the facts of the case in hand when the Special Court considered the report submitted by the Public Prosecutor for grant of extension of time on 21.12.2022, the presence of the appellants was admittedly not procured before the Special Court either personally or through video conferencing.

40. This Court, by order dated 18.12.2023, directed for the original remand file available with the lower court where the trial is pending in the aforesaid case be brought before this Court by the next date to enable the Court to ascertain whether the accused-appellants were present on 21.12.2022 either personally or through electronic mode when the Special Court granted 45 days further time for completing the investigation by order dated 21.12.2022. The order dated 18.10.2023 is quoted as under:

"Let the original remand file available with the lower Court where the trial is pending of case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Sections 121A, 123 IPC and Section 13, 18, 38 of Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act relating to Police Station ATS Lucknow be produced before the Court by the next date to enable it to see as to whether the accused were present on 21.12.2022 either personally or through electronic mode when the Court below granted 45 days further time for completing the investigation on the application of the prosecution dated 19.12.2022, as, thereafter on 22.12.2022 based on this ground the judicial custody of the appellants was extended.

Requisition be sent accordingly by the Senior Registrar of this Court to the Court below.

List this case on 30.10.2023 amongst first ten cases of the day."

41. It is also admitted position that the information about the filing of such a report by the Public Prosecutor was not provided to the accused-appellants. This Court in its order dated 01.11.2023, has recorded the following finding:

"We have perused the original records, as already stated hereinabove, it does not mention the presence of the appellants-accused on 21.12.2022 when the Court allowed the application of the respondents for extending the time for completing the investigation.

We would, however, like to verify the aforesaid facts from the Jail Authorities as to whether the appellants-accused had joined the proceedings on 21.12.2022 from jail through Video Conferencing or had been brought to the Court for the said purpose or not.

Let an affidavit of Superintendent of District Jail, Lucknow, where the appellants-accused are odged, be filed on the aforesaid aspect of the matter before the next date."

42. In compliance with the order dated 01.11.2023, an affidavit of Mr Ashish Tiwari, Senior Superintendent, District Jail, Lucknow, has been filed in which it has been mentioned that as per the records, no summoning order was received to produce the accused-appellants on 21.12.2022 through video conferencing. Paragraph no. 5 of the affidavit is quoted as under:

"5. यह कि अभिलेखों के अनुसार उपरोक्त अपीलार्थीगण / बंदीगण को दिनांक 21-12-2022 को माननीय न्यायालय के समक्ष वीडियो कान्फ्रेसिंग से पेश कराने हेतु कोई तलबी आदेश प्राप्त नहीं हुआ था।"

Thus, it is clear that on 21.12.2022, when the order of extension of time for investigation was passed by the Special Court, the accused-appellants were neither present personally nor through video conferencing and as such, the order was passed in their absence.

43. We must note here that the period of 90 days was going to expire on 05.01.2023, and the application for extension was submitted by the Investigating Officer/Public Prosecutor on 19.12.2022. The application was filed more than 17 days before the completion of the period of 90 days. The order was passed by the Special Court on 21.12.2022, 15 days before the completion of 90 days period. There was no such reason for such a hurry. The Special Court could have always granted time of a couple of days to the prosecution to procure the presence of the accused, either physical or virtual. In this case, the remand was expiring on 22.12.2022, and there was no impediment for the prosecution or Special Court to have secure the presence of accused-appellants who were likely to be produced on 22.12.2022 for extension of remand and were actually produced on 22.12.2022 for extension of remand.

44. The accused may not be entitled to know the contents of the report but they are entitled to oppose the grant of extension of time on the grounds available to them in law. In the facts of the present case, the grant of extension of time without complying with the requirements laid down by the Constitution Bench has deprived the accused-appellants from their right to seek default bail. It has resulted in the failure of justice.

45. The order passed by the Special Court extending the period of investigation is rendered illegal on account of the failure of the respondents to produce the accused-appellants before the Special Court either physically or virtually when the prayer for grant of extension made by the Public Prosecutor was considered. It was the duty of the Special Court to ensure that this important procedural safeguard was followed. Moreover, the oral notice, as contemplated by the Supreme Court in the case of Sanjay Dutt (Supra), was also not given to the accused-appellants.

46. The other contention raised by learned counsel for the appellants is that the application dated 19.12.2022 was moved by Anurag Darshan, Additional Superintendent of Police/Investigating Officer, A.T.S., U.P., Lucknow. On the aforesaid application Public Prosecutor has made an endorsement 'submitted' on 21.12.2022. It has been further contended by learned counsel for the appellants that in view of the provisions of Section 43-D of the Act of 1967, the application for an extension of time has to be moved by the Public Prosecutor and not by the Investigating Officer. The order of extending the period of investigation passed by the Special Court on an application moved by the Investigating Officer is wholly illegal and against the law laid down by the Apex Court in the case of Hitendra Vishnu Thakur (Supra). In paragraph no. 23 of the Judgment in case of Hitendra Vishnu Thakur (Supra), the Supreme Court held thus:

"23. We may, at this stage, also, on a plain reading of clause (bb) of sub-section (4) of Section 20, point out that the Legislature has provided for seeking an extension of time for the completion of an investigation on a report of the public prosecutor. The Legislature did not purposely leave it to an investigating officer to make an application for seeking extension of time from the court. This provision is in tune with the legislative intent to have the investigations completed expeditiously and not to allow an accused to be kept in continued detention during unnecessary prolonged investigation at the whims of the police. The Legislature expects that the investigation must be completed with utmost promptitude but where it becomes necessary to seek some more time for the completion of the investigation, the investigating agency must submit itself to the scrutiny of the public prosecutor in the first instance and satisfy him about the progress of the investigation and furnish reasons for seeking further custody of an accused. A public prosecutor is an important officer of the State Government and is appointed by the State under the Code of Criminal Procedure. He is not a part of the investigating agency. He is an independent statutory authority. The public prosecutor is expected to independently apply his mind to the request of the investigating agency before Submitting a report to the court for extension of time with a view to enable the investigating agency to complete the investigation. He is not merely a post office or a forwarding agency. A public prosecutor may or may not agree with the reasons given by the investigating officer for seeking extension of time and may find that the investigation had not progressed in the proper manner or that there has been unnecessary, deliberate or avoidable delay in completing the investigation. In that event, he may not submit any report to the court under clause (bb) to seek extension of time. Thus, for seeking extension of time under clause (bb), the public prosecutor after an independent application of his mind to the request of the investigating agency is required to make a report to the Designated Court indicating therein the progress of the investigation and disclosing justification for keeping the accused in further custody to enable the investigating agency to complete the investigation. The public prosecutor may attach the request of the investigating officer along with his request or application and report, but his report, as envisaged under clause (bb), must disclose on the face of it that he has applied his mind and was satisfied with the progress of the investigation and considered grant of further time to complete the investigation necessary. The use of the expression "on the report of the public prosecutor indicating the progress of the investigation and the specific reasons for the detention of the accused beyond the said period" as occurring in clause (bb) in sub-section (2) of Section 167 as amended by Section 20(4) are important and indicative of the legislative intent not to keep an accused in custody unreasonably and to grant extension only on the report of the public prosecutor. The report of the public prosecutor, therefore, is not merely a formality but a very vital report, because the consequence of its acceptance affects the liberty of an accused and it must, therefore, strictly comply with the requirements as contained in clause (bb). The request of an investigating officer for extension of time is no substitute for the report of the public prosecutor. Where either no report as is envisaged by clause (bb) is filed or the report filed by the public prosecutor is not accepted by the Designated Court, since the grant of extension of time under clause (bb) is neither a formality nor automatic, the necessary corollary would be that an accused would be entitled to seek bail and the court 'shall' release him on bail if he furnishes bail as required by the Designated Court. It is not merely the question of form in which the request for extension under clause (bb) is made but one of substance. The contents of the report to be submitted by the public prosecutor, after proper application of his mind, are designed to assist the Designated Court to independently decide whether or not extension should be granted in a given case. Keeping in view the consequences of the grant of extension i.e. keeping an accused in further custody, the Designated Court must be satisfied for the Justification, from the report of the public prosecutor, to grant extension of time to complete the investigation.

Where the Designated Court declines to grant such an extension, the right to be released on bail on account of the 'default' of the prosecution becomes indefeasible and cannot be defeated by reasons other than those contemplated by sub-section (4) of Section 20 as discussed in the earlier part of this Judgment. We are unable to agree with Mr Madhava Reddy or the Additional Solicitor General Mr Tulsi that even if the public prosecutor 'presents' the request of the investigating officer to the court or 'forwards' the request of the investigating officer to the court, it should be construed to be the report of the public prosecutor. There is no scope for such a construction when we are dealing with the liberty of a citizen. The courts are expected to zealously safeguard his liberty. Clause (bb) has to be read and interpreted on its plain language without addition or substitution of any expression in it. We have already dealt with the importance of the report of the public prosecutor and emphasised that he is neither a 'post office' of the investigating agency nor its 'forwarding agency' but is charged with a statutory duty. He must apply his mind to the facts and circumstances of the case and his report must disclose on the face of it that he had applied his mind to the twin conditions contained in clause (bb) of sub-section (4) of Section 20. Since the law requires him to submit the report as envisaged by the section, he must act in the manner as provided by the section and in no other manner. A Designated Court which overlooks and ignores the requirements of a valid report falls in the performance of one of its essential duties and renders its order under clause (bb) vulnerable. Whether the public prosecutor labels his report as a report or as an application for extension, would not be of much consequence so long as it demonstrates on the face of it that he has applied his mind and is satisfied with the progress of the investigation and the genuineness of the reasons for grant of extension to keep an accused in further custody as envisaged by clause (bb) (supra). Even the mere reproduction of the application or request of the investigating officer by the public prosecutor in his report, without demonstration of the application of his mind and recording his own satisfaction, would not render his report as the one envisaged by clause (bb) and it would not be a proper report to seek extension of time. In the absence of an appropriate report the Designated Court would have no jurisdiction to deny to an accused his Indefeasible right to be released on bail on account of the default of the prosecution to file the challan within the prescribed time if an accused seeks and is prepared to furnish the bail bonds as directed by the court. Moreover, no extension can be granted to keep an accused in custody beyond the prescribed period except to enable the investigation to be completed and as already stated before any extension is granted under clause (bb), the accused must be put on notice and permitted to have his say so as to be able to object to the grant of extension."

47. The Supreme Court reiterated the aforesaid principle in case of Jigar alias Jimmy Pravinchandra Adatiya (Supra) in following words: "Firstly in the report of Public Prosecutor, the progress of the investigation should be set out and secondly, the report must disclose specific reasons for continuing the detention of the accused-appellants beyond the set period of 90 days, therefore, the extension of time is not an empty formality. The Public Prosecutor has to apply his mind before he submits the report/application for extension." (para 35)

48. In the present case, it is apparent that on the application/report submitted by the Investigating Officer, the Public Prosecutor has merely made an endorsement on 21.12.2022 'submitted'. There is no application of mind by the Public Prosecutor to the report submitted by the Investigating Officer to the fact whether there was any need for extension of time for investigation and, further, that the ground set forth by the Investigating Officer in its report were worthy for submitting the report by the Public Prosecutor for extension of time. On this score, the order of extension of time for investigation dated 21.12.2022 passed by the Special Court is also vitiated.

49. It has also been submitted by the learned counsel for the appellants that on 21.12.2022, the Special Court passed an order "permitted for 45 days only". It has been further submitted by the learned counsel for the appellants that the order of extension passed by the Special Court on 21.12.2022 does not indicate an application of mind by the Special Court, and the order has been passed merely on the asking by the Investigating Officer. It is next submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the order of extension passed by the Special Court does not contain any reason for extending the time for investigation and, as such, is arbitrary.

50. Recording of reason is a principle of natural justice and every judicial order must be supported by reasons recorded in writing. It ensures transparency and legality in decision-making. The person who is adversely affected comes to know as to why his application has been rejected. The recording of reason in cases where the order is subject to further appeal is very important from yet another angle. An appellate court or authority ought to have the advantage of examining the reasons that prevailed with the court or the authority making the order. Conversely, absence of reasons in a appealable order deprives the appellate court or authority of that advantage and casts and onorus responsibility upon it to examine and determine the question on its own.

51. As Lord DENNING has emphasized in Breen v. A.E.U. (1971) 2 QB 175, the giving of reason for a decision is one of the fundamentals of good administration. It constitutes a safeguard against arbitrariness on the part of the decision-maker. Articulating the basis of a decision can improve the quality of decision making in a number of significant ways such as if he is made to give reason for his decision, it will impose some restriction upon him in a matter involving personal rights. Secondly, if an adjudicator is obligated to give reason for his conclusions, it will make it necessary for him to consider the matter carefully. The condition to give reason introduces clarity, ensures objectivity and impartiality on the part of the decision-maker and minimizes unfairness and arbitrariness for "compulsion of disclosure guarantees consideration".

52. In India, the position is somewhat different but the Courts have shown a good deal of creativity in this area. A very significant reason of the Indian Courts is to develop the idea that natural justice demands that adjudicatory bodies give reasons for their decisions. The Supreme Court has also held that as several constitutional provisions guarantee judicial control of adjudicatory bodies, it is obligatory for such bodies to render reasoned decisions so as to make judicial control effective and meaningful. In administrative law the duty to assign reason is, however, a judge made law but in case of judicial authorities that includes Magistrates, Special Courts, who exercise the judicial powers under the various statutes, there is no dispute that their order must contain reasons to support the orders. The judicial order without assigning any reason is not an order in the eye of the law.

53. In case of Jigar alias Jimmy Pravinchandra Adatiya (Supra), the Supreme Court has held as under:

"The prosecuting has to make out a case in terms of both the aforesaid requirements and the court must apply its mind to the contents of the report before accepting prayer for grant of extension."

54. The Supreme Court in the case of State of Maharashtra v. Surendra Pundlik Gadling reported in (2019) 5 SCC 178 held as under (para 14, 14.1, 14.2, 14.3, 14.4, page 184):

"14. A perusal of the proviso to Section 43-D(2)(b) of the said Act shows that there are certain requirements that need to be fulfilled, for its proper application. These are as under:

14.1. It has not been possible to complete the investigation within the period of 90 days.

14.2. A report to be submitted by the Public Prosecutor.

14.3. Said report indicating the progress of the investigation and the specific reasons for the detention of the accused beyond the period of 90 days.

14.4. Satisfaction of the Court in respect of the report of the Public Prosecutor."

55. Thus, before an order is passed by the Special Court while exercising the power under proviso to Section 43-D (2)(b) of the Act of 1967 it has to satisfy itself that all the above four ingredients are complied with.

56. The application of mind is only reflected by the reasons given in the judgment. An order supported by reasons ensures that the adjudicatory authority/court genuinely addressed itself to the arguments and evidence advanced at the time of the hearing. It is the well-known principle that justice should not only be done but should also seen to be done. Unreasoned decisions may be just but they may not appear to be just to those who read them. Reasoned conclusions, on the other hand, will have the appearance of justice.

57. It has been contended by the learned counsel for the respondents that at the stage of granting an extension of time for completing the investigation, the Special Court/designated court is not required to pass judgment containing elaborate reasons. Indeed, the designated court or Special Court is not supposed to pass judgment and give an elaborate reason but the designated court/ Special Judge is supposed to pass an order which must reflect the application of mind by the court to the grounds taken by the Public Prosecutor in its report for extension of time for completing the investigation.

58. In the facts of the present case, the designated court has passed the order

"permitted for 45 days only" is an unreasoned order. It does not reflect that the Special Court has applied its mind to the grounds whatsoever were there for an extension of time for the investigation. On this score also the order of extension of time for investigation passed by the Special Court cannot be sustained.

59. The contention of the learned Standing Counsel is that since the charge sheet has been submitted by the investigating agency and the sanction has been granted by the State Government, the right of 'default' bail, if any, under Section 167 (2) of Cr.P.C. is extinguished and now the same cannot be granted. It has been further submitted that even if, it is taken that extension of time by order dated 21.12.2022 was not in accordance with law, the same gets cured by subsequent orders passed for extension of time by the Special Court and therefore, now, the appellants cannot claim bail on the ground of 'default'.

60. The question as to whether 'default' bail can be granted once a charge sheet is filed was authoritatively dealt with in a decision of three Judges Bench of the Supreme Court in Uday Mohanlal Acharya (Supra), the Supreme Court reviewed the decisions of the Supreme Court and in particular expression "if already not availed of" in Sanjay Dutt (Supra). The Court then held (SCC pp. 469-70 & 472-74, para 13):

“13.…The crucial question that arises for consideration, therefore, is what is the true meaning of the expression “if already not availed of”? Does it mean that an accused files an application for bail and offers his willingness for being released on bail or does it mean that a bail order must be passed, the accused must furnish the bail and get him released on bail? In our considered opinion it would be more in consonance with the legislative mandate to hold that an accused must be held to have availed of his indefeasible right, the moment he files an application for being released on bail and offers to abide by the terms and conditions of bail. To interpret the expression “availed of” to mean actually being released on bail after furnishing the necessary bail required would cause great injustice to the accused and would defeat the very purpose of the proviso to Section 167(2) of the Criminal Procedure Code and further would make illegal custody to be legal, inasmuch as after the expiry of the stipulated period the Magistrate had no further jurisdiction to remand and such custody of the accused is without any valid order of remand. That apart, when an accused files an application for bail indicating his right to be released as no challan had been filed within the specified period, there is no discretion left in the Magistrate and the only thing he is required to find out is whether the specified period under the statute has elapsed or not, and whether a challan has been filed or not. If the expression “availed of” is interpreted to mean that the accused must factually be released on bail, then in a given case where the Magistrate illegally refuses to pass an order notwithstanding the maximum period stipulated in Section 167 had expired, and yet no challan had been filed then the accused could only move to the higher forum and while the matter remains pending in the higher forum for consideration, if the prosecution files a charge-sheet then also the so-called right accruing to the accused because of inaction on the part of the investigating agency would get frustrated. Since the legislature has given its mandate it would be the bounden duty of the court to enforce the same and it would not be in the interest of justice to negate the same by interpreting the expression “if not availed of' in a manner which is capable of being abused by the prosecution. A two-judge Bench decision of this Court in State of M.P. v. Rustam [1995 Supp (3) SCC 221: 1995 SCC (Cri) 830] setting aside the order of grant of bail by the High Court on a conclusion that on the date of the order the prosecution had already submitted a police report and, therefore, the right stood extinguished, in our considered opinion, does not express the correct position in law of the expression "if already not availed of", used by the Constitution Bench in Sanjay Dutt [(1994) 5 SCC 410:1994 SCC (Cri) 1433]…In the aforesaid premises, we are of the considered opinion that an accused must be held to have availed of his right flowing from the legislative mandate engrafted in the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167 of the Code if he has filed an application after the expiry of the stipulated period alleging that no challan has been filed and he is prepared to offer the bail that is ordered, and it is found as a fact that no challan has been filed within the period prescribed from the date of the arrest of the accused. In our view, such interpretation would subserve the purpose and the object for which the provision in question was brought on to the statute book. In such a case, therefore, even if the application for consideration of an order of being released on bail is posted before the court after some length of time, or even if the Magistrate refuses the application erroneously and the accused moves the higher forum for getting a formal order of being released on bail in enforcement of his indefeasible right, then filing of challan at that stage will not take away the right of the accused. Personal liberty is one of the cherished objects of the Indian Constitution and deprivation of the same can only be in accordance with law and in conformity with the provisions thereof, as stipulated under Article 21 of the Constitution. When the law provides that the Magistrate could authorise the detention of the accused in custody up to a maximum period as indicated in the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167, any further detention beyond the period without the filing of a challan by the investigating agency would be subterfuge and would not be in accordance with law and in conformity with the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code, and as such, could be violative of Article 21 of the Constitution. There is no provision in the Criminal Procedure Code authorising detention of an accused in custody after the expiry of the period indicated in the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167 excepting the contingency indicated in Explanation I, namely, if the accused does not furnish the bail…But so long as the accused files an application and indicates in the application to offer bail on being released by appropriate orders of the court then the right of the accused on being released on bail cannot be frustrated on the off chance of the Magistrate not being available and the matter not being moved, or that the Magistrate erroneously refuses to pass an order and the matter is moved to the higher forum and a challan is filed in interregnum. This is the only way how a balance can be struck between the so-called indefeasible right of the accused on failure on the part of the prosecution to file a challan within the specified period and the interest of the society, at large, in lawfully preventing an accused from being released on bail on account of inaction on the part of the prosecuting agency. On the aforesaid premises, we would record our conclusions as follows:

* * *

3. On the expiry of the said period of 90 days or 60 days, as the case may be, an indefeasible right accrues in favour of the accused for being released on bail on account of default by the investigating agency in the completion of the investigation within the period prescribed and the accused is entitled to be released on bail if he is prepared to and furnishes the bail as directed by the Magistrate.

* * *

6. The expression "if not already availed of" used by this Court in the Sanjay Dutt case [(1994) 5 SCC 410: 1994 SCC (Cri) 1433] must be understood to mean when the accused files an application and is prepared to offer bail on being directed. In other words, on expiry of the period specified in para (a) of the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167 if the accused files an application for bail and offers also to furnish the bail on being directed, then it has to be held that the accused has availed of his indefeasible right even though the court has not considered the said application and has not indicated the terms and conditions of bail, and theaccused has not furnished the same." (Emphasis Supplied)

61. Again in the case of Union of India v. Nirmala Yadav reported in (2014) 9 SCC 457, a two Judges Bench of the Supreme Court referred to all the relevant authorities on the subject including the majority judgment of Uday Mohanlal Acharya (Supra) and then concluded (SCC pp. 482-84, paras 44-46):

"44. At this juncture, it is absolutely essential to delve into what were the precise principles stated in the Uday Mohanlal Acharya case (supra) and how the two-judge Bench has understood the same in Pragya Singh Thakur (supra). We have already reproduced the paragraphs in extenso from the Uday Mohanlal Acharya case (supra) and the relevant paragraphs from Pragya Singh Thakur. Pragya Singh Thakur, has drawn support from Rustam 1995 Supp (3) SCC 221 case to buttress the principle it has laid down though in Uday Mohanlal Acharya case the said decision has been held not to have stated the correct position of law and, therefore, the same could not have been placed reliance upon. The Division Bench in para 56 which has been reproduced hereinabove, has referred to para 13 and the conclusions of Uday Mohanlal Acharya case. We have already quoted from para 13 and the conclusions.

45. The opinion expressed in paras 54 and 58 in Pragya Singh Thakur which we have emphasised, as it seems to us, runs counter to the principles stated in Uday Mohanlal Acharya which has been followed in Hassan Ali Khan and Sayed Mohd. Ahmad Kazmi. The decision in Sayed Mohd. Ahmad Kazmi case has been rendered by a three-judge Bench. We may hasten to state, though in Pragya Singh Thakur case the learned Judges have referred to Uday Mohanlal Acharya case but have stated the principle that even if an application for bail is filed on the ground that the charge-sheet was not filed within 90 days, but before the consideration of the same and before being released on bail if the charge-sheet is filed the said right to be enlarged on bail is lost. This opinion is contrary to the earlier larger Bench decisions and also runs counter to the subsequent three-judge Bench decision in the Mushtaq Ahmed Mohammed Isak case. We are disposed to think so, as the two-judge Bench has used the words "before consideration of the same and before being released on bail", the said principle specifically strikes a discordant note with the proposition stated in the decisions rendered by the larger Benches.

46. At this juncture, it will be appropriate to refer to the dissenting opinion by B.N. Agarwal, J. in the Uday Mohanlal Acharya case. The learned Judge dissented with the majority as far as the interpretation of the expression "if not already availed of" by stating so: (SCC p. 481, paras 29-30)

"29. My learned Brother has referred to the expression 'if not already availed of' referred to in the judgment in the Sanjay Dutt case for arriving at Conclusion 6. According to me, the expression 'availed of' does not mean mere filing of application for bail expressing therein willingness of the accused to furnish the bail bond. What will happen if, on the 61st day, an application for bail is filed for being released on bail on the ground of default by not filing the challan by the 60th day and on the 61st day the challan is also filed by the time the Magistrate is called upon to apply his mind to the challan as well as the petition for grant of bail? In view of the several decisions referred to above and the requirements prescribed by clause (a)(ii) of the proviso read with Explanation I to Section 167(2) of the Code, as no bail bond has been furnished, such an application for bail has to be dismissed because the stage of the proviso to Section 167(2) is over, as such right is extinguished the moment the challan is filed.

30. In this background, the expression 'availed of' does not mean the mere filing of the application for bail expressing thereunder willingness to furnish bail bond, but the stage for actual furnishing of bail bond must reach. If the challan is filed before that, then there is no question of enforcing the right, howsoever valuable or indefeasible it may be, after the filing of the challan because thereafter the right under default clause cannot be exercised."

On a careful reading of the aforesaid two paragraphs, we think, the two-judge Bench in Pragya Singh Thakur case has somewhat in a similar matter stated the same. As long as the majority view occupies the field it is a binding precedent. That apart, it has been followed by a three-judge Bench in Sayed Mohd. Ahmad Kazmi case. Keeping in view the principle stated in Sayed Mohd. Ahmad Kazmi case which is based on the three-judge Bench decision in Uday Mohanlal Acharya case, we are obliged to conclude and hold that the principle laid down in paras 54 and 58 of Pragya Singh Thakur case (which has been emphasised by us: see paras 42 and 43 above) does not state the correct principle of law. It can clearly be stated that in view of the subsequent decision of a larger Bench that cannot be treated to be good law. Our view finds support from the decision in Union of India v. Arviva Industries India Ltd."

62. Also, in Syed Mohd. Ahmad Kazmi v. State (Govt. of NCT of Delhi) reported in (2012) 12 SCC 1, Section 43-D of the UAPA came up for consideration before the Court, in particular the proviso which extends the period for investigation beyond 90 days up to a period of 180 days. An application for default bail had been made on 17.07.2012, as no charge sheet was filed within a period of 90 days of the appellant's custody. The charge sheet in the aforesaid case was filed thereafter on 31.07.2012. Despite the fact that this application was not taken up for hearing before the filing of the charge sheet, this Court held that since an application for default bail had been filed prior to the filing of the charge sheet the "indefeasible right" spoken of earlier had sprung into action, as a result of which default bail had to be granted. The Court held: (SCC pp. 9-10, para 25-27)

"25. Having carefully considered the submissions made on behalf of the respective parties, the relevant provisions of law and the decision cited, we are unable to accept the submissions advanced on behalf of the State by the learned Additional Solicitor General Mr Raval. There is no denying the fact that on 17-7-2012, when CR No. 86 of 2012 was allowed by the Additional Sessions Judge the custody of the appellant was held to be illegal and an application under Section 167(2) CrPC was made on behalf of the appellant for grant of statutory bail which was listed for hearing. Instead of hearing the application, the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate adjourned the same till the next day when the Public Prosecutor filed an application for an extension of the period of custody and investigation and on 20-7-2012 extended the time of investigation and the custody of the appellant for a further period of 90 days with retrospective effect from 2-6-2012. Not only is the retrospectivity of the order of the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate untenable, but it could not also defeat the statutory right which had accrued to the appellant on the expiry of 90 days from the date when the appellant was taken into custody. Such right, as has been commented upon by this Court in Sanjay Dutt [(1994) 5 SCC 410: 1994 SCC (Cri) 1433] and the other cases cited by the learned Additional Solicitor General, could only be distinguished (sic extinguished) once the charge-sheet had been filed in the case and no application has been made prior thereto for grant of statutory bail. It is well-established that if an accused does not exercise his right to grant statutory bail before the charge sheet is filed, he loses his right to such benefit once such charge sheet is filed and can, thereafter, only apply for regular bail.

26. The circumstances in this case, however, are different in that the appellant had exercised his right to statutory bail on the very same day on which his custody was held to be illegal and such an application was left undecided by the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate till after the application filed by the prosecution for extension of time to complete investigation was taken up and orders were passed thereupon.

27. We are unable to appreciate the procedure adopted by the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, which has been endorsed by the High Court and we are of the view that the appellant acquired the right to grant statutory bail on 17-7-2012, when his custody was held to be illegal by the Additional Sessions Judge since his application for statutory bail was pending at the time when the application for extension of time for continuing the investigation was filed by the prosecution. In our view, the right of the appellant to grant of statutory bail remained unaffected by the subsequent application and both the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate and the High Court erred in holding otherwise."

63. In a fairly recent judgment reported as Rakesh Kumar Paul v. State of Assam (2017) 15 SCC 67, a Three-Judge Bench of this Court referred to the earlier decisions of this Court and went one step further. It was held by the majority judgment of Madan B. Lokur, J. and Deepak Gupta, J. that even an oral application for grant of default bail would suffice, and so long as such application is made before the charge sheet is filed by the police, default bail must be granted.

64. In the case of Bikramjit Singh v. State of Punjab reported in (2020) 10 SCC 616, held in paragraph no. 36 as under:

"36. A conspectus of the aforesaid decisions would show that so long as an application for grant of default bail is made on expiry of the period of 90 days (which application need not even be in writing) before a charge sheet is filed, the right to default bail becomes complete. It is of no moment that the criminal court in question either does not dispose of such application before the charge sheet is filed disposes of such application wrongly before such charge sheet is filed. So long as an application has been made for default bail on expiry of the stated period before time is further extended to the maximum period of 180 days, default bail, being an indefeasible right of the accused under the first proviso to Section 167(2), kicks in and must be granted."

65. In view of the law laid down by the Supreme Court in the aforementioned cases, the submission of the learned Standing Counsel that the appellant will lose the right of 'default' bail since the charge sheet has been submitted by the investigating agency and sanction has been granted by the State Government, is devoid of merit as in the present case, application for bail on 'default' was moved by the appellants on 05.01.2023, the day on which 90 days was completed. Since we have already held that the order of extension granting further time for investigation by the Special Court is not valid, therefore, in our considered opinion filing of charge-sheet after filing of the application for bail by the appellants is of no consequence.

66. In the present appeal, the order passed by the Special Court on 21.12.2022, extending the period for investigation is vitiated for the reasons aforementioned.

67. Once we hold that the order granting an extension of time to complete the investigation is illegal and stands vitiated, it follows that the appellants are entitled to default bail.

68. When the appellants applied for bail, they had no notice of extension of time granted by the Special Court. Moreover, the application was made before the filing of the charge sheet, hence, the appellants are entitled to default bail. At this stage, we may note here that in the case of Sanjay Dutt (Supra) as well as in the caes of Bikramjeet Singh (Supra), the Supreme Court held that the grant of default bail does not prevent re-arrest of the appellant on the cogent ground after filing the charge-sheet. Thereafter, the accused can always apply for regular bail. However, as held by the Supreme Court in the case of Mohamed Iqbal Madar Sheikh and others v. State of Maharashtra reported in (1996) 1 SCC 722, re-arrest cannot be made only on the ground of filing a charge sheet. It all depends on the facts of each case.

69. Accordingly, the impugned order dated 21.12.2022, passed by Special Court, granting an extension of time to complete the investigation and the order dated 03.02.2023 passed by Special Court rejecting the default bail application filed by the appellants are hereby quashed and set aside. The appellant shall be enlarged on default bail under Sub-section (2) of Section 167 of Cr.P.C. in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 of I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20, 38 of Act of 1967 registered at Police Station A.T.S., Lucknow on the following conditions:

a) The appellants shall furnish a bail bond of Rs. 1,00,000/- with appropriate sureties as may be decided by the Special Court;

b) The appellants shall surrender their passport (if they have one) to the Special Court at the time of furnishing security;

c) The appellants shall not interfere in any manner with the further investigation, if any and shall not make any effort to influence the prosecution witnesses; and

d) The appellants shall mark regular attendance with such police station and at such periodical intervals as may be determined by the Special Court; and

e) The appellants shall cooperate with the Special Court for the early conclusion of the trial.

70. The appeal is allowed on the above terms.

Criminal Appeal No. 2377 of 2023

1. The accused-appellant Lukman was arrested on 26.09.2022 in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20 & 38 of the Act of 1967, Police Station A.T.S., Gomti Nagar, Lucknow. He was produced before the Special Court on 27.09.2022. The Special Court granted police custody remand from 27.09.2022 to 10.10.2022. Thereafter, the remand was extended from time to time. On 14.12.2022, the remand was granted by the Special Court till 22.12.2022. The statutory period of 90 days was to complete on 26.12.2022. On 19.12.2022, an application was filed by Sri Anurag Darshan, Additional Superintendent of Police, A.T.S., Lucknow, U.P. for an extension of 60 days time for further investigation under Section 43-D of the Act of 1967. On the aforesaid application, an endorsement was made by the Public Prosecutor on 21.12.2022 'submitted'. On 21.12.2022 the Special Court passed an order 'permitted for 45 days only'. The application dated 19.12.2022 has been annexed at page no. 22 as annexure no. 7 to the counter affidavit filed by Shri Abhishek Kumar Singh on 27.09.2022 along with an application No. 4 of 2023 for taking the aforesaid counter affidavit on record. On 22.12.2022, remand was granted by the Special Court till 18.01.2023. An application dated 03.01.2023 was filed by the appellant for being released on default bail as according to them, the statutory period of 90 days expired on 26.12.2022 and by the said date, no charge-sheet was filed by the police in the aforesaid case crime number. The said application filed by the appellant was registered as Bail Application No. 86 of 2023. After the exchange of affidavits, the aforesaid application was rejected by the Special Court by its order dated 03.02.2023 which is impugned in the present appeal.

2. During the pendency of the application for grant of bail, the period of investigation was extended. By order dated 03.02.2023, the remand was extended till 04.03.2023. By another order dated 04.03.2023, the period of investigation was extended for another period of 20 days and the remand was also extended till 04.03.2023. The charge sheet submitted by the Investigating Officer against the appellant on 22.03.2023, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20 & 38 of Act of 1967. On 23.03.2023, the Special Court directed to register the case as a Misc. Case. On 13.04.2023, prosecution sanction was granted by the State Government and by order dated 28.04.2023, the Special Court has taken cognizance.

3. In the present appeal also the order passed by the Special Court on 21.12.2022, is vitiated for the reasons as mentioned in Criminal Appeal No. 2376 of 2023.

4. Once we hold that the order granting extension to complete the investigation is illegal and stands vitiated, it follows that the appellant is entitled to default bail.

5. When the appellant applied for bail, he had no notice of an extension of time granted by the Special Court. Moreover, the application was made before the filing of the charge sheet, hence, the appellant is entitled to default bail. At this stage, we may note here that in the case of Sanjay Dutt (Supra) as well as in the case of Bikramjeet Singh (Supra), the Supreme Court held that the grant of default bail does not prevent re-arrest of the appellant on the cogent ground after filing the charge-sheet. Thereafter, the accused can always apply for regular bail. However, as held by the Supreme Court in the case of Mohamed Iqbal Madar Sheikh and others v. State of Maharashtra reported in (1996) 1 SCC 722, re-arrest cannot be made only on the ground of filing a charge sheet. It all depends on the facts of each case.

6. Accordingly, the impugned order dated 21.12.2022, passed by Special Court, granting an extension of time to complete the investigation and the order dated 03.02.2023 passed by Special Court rejecting the default bail application filed by the appellant are hereby quashed and set aside. The appellant shall be enlarged on default bail under Sub-section (2) of Section 167 of Cr.P.C. in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20 & 38 of the Act of 1967, Police Station A.T.S., Gomti Nagar, Lucknow, on the following conditions:

(a). The appellant shall furnish a bail bond of Rs. 1,00,000/- with appropriate sureties as may be decided by the Special Court;

(b). The appellant shall surrender his passport (if he has one) to the Special Court at the time of furnishing security;

(c). The appellant shall not interfere in any manner with the further investigation, if any and shall not make any effort to influence the prosecution witnesses; and

(d). The appellant shall mark regular attendance with such police station and at such periodical intervals as may be determined by the Special Court; and

(e). The appellant shall cooperate with the Special Court for the early conclusion of the trial.

7. The appeal is allowed on the above terms.

Criminal Appeal No. 2378 of 2023

1. The appellants Mudassir and Mohammad Mukhtar were arrested on 05.10.2022 in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20 & 38 of the Act of 1967, Police Station A.T.S., Gomti Nagar, Lucknow. They were produced before the Special Court on 06.10.2022. The Special Court granted police custody remand from 06.10.2022 to 19.10.2022 by order dated 06.10.2022. Thereafter, the remand was extended from time to time. By order dated 14.12.2022 passed by Special Court remand was extended up to 22.12.2022. The statutory period of 90 days was to complete on 03.01.2023. On 19.12.2022, an application was filed by Sri Anurag Darshan Additional Superintendent of Police/Investigating Officer A.T.S., Lucknow, U.P. for extension of 60 days time for further investigation under Section 43(d) of Act of 1967. On the aforesaid application, an endorsement was made by the Public Prosecutor on 21.12.2022 "submitted". On the same day i.e. 21.12.2022, the Special Court passed an order "Permitted for 45 days only". The application dated 19.12.2022 has been annexed at page no. 18 as annexure no. 7 to the counter affidavit filed by Abhilash Kumar Singh on 27.09.2022 along with an application No. 5/23 for taking the aforesaid counter affidavit on record.

2. On 22.12.2022, further remand of 30 days was allowed by the Special Court which was extended till 18.01.2023. An application was filed by the appellants for being released on default bail as according to them the statutory period of 90 days was to expire on 04.01.2023 and by the said date no charge sheet was filed by the police in the aforesaid case crime number. The said application filed by the appellants was registered as Bail Application No. 145 of 2023. After the exchange of affidavits, the aforesaid application was rejected by the Special Court by its order dated 03.02.2023 which is impugned in the present appeal.

3. During the pendency of the application for grant of bail, the period of investigation was again extended on an application moved by the Public Prosecutor for 30 days. Again on 04.03.2023, the period of investigation was extended for 20 days by an order dated 24.03.2023 passed by the Special Court and during this period the remand of the appellant was also extended. The charge sheet was submitted by the investigating officer against the appellants under Section 121A/123 I.P.C. and Sections 13/18/18B/20/38 of the Act of 1967 on 22.03.2023. On 23.03.2023, the Special Court directed to register the case as Misc. Case. On 13.04.2023, prosecution sanction was granted by the State and by order dated 28.04.2023, the Special Court had taken cognizance.

4. In the present appeal also the order passed by the Special Court on 21.12.2022, is vitiated for the reasons as mentioned in Criminal Appeal No. 2376 of 2023.

5. Once we hold that the order granting extension to complete the investigation is illegal and stands vitiated, it follows that the appellants are entitled to default bail.

6. When the appellants applied for bail, they had no notice of extension of time granted by the Special Court. Moreover, the application was made before the filing of the charge sheet, hence, the appellants are entitled to default bail. At this stage, we may note here that in the case of Sanjay Dutt (Supra) as well as in the case of Bikramjeet Singh (Supra), the Supreme Court held that the grant of default bail does not prevent re-arrest of the appellant on the cogent ground after filing the charge-sheet. Thereafter, the accused can always apply for regular bail. However, as held by the Supreme Court in the case of Mohamed Iqbal Madar Sheikh and others v. State of Maharashtra reported in (1996) 1 SCC 722, re-arrest cannot be made only on the ground of filing a charge sheet. It all depends on the facts of each case.

7. Accordingly, the impugned order dated 21.12.2022, passed by Special Court, granting extension to complete investigation and order dated 03.02.2023 passed by Special Court rejecting the default bail application filed by the appellants are hereby quashed and set aside. The appellant shall be enlarged on default bail under Sub-section (2) of Section 167 of Cr.P.C. in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20 & 38 of the Act of 1967, Police Station A.T.S., Gomti Nagar, Lucknow, on the following conditions:

(a). The appellant shall furnish a bail bond of Rs. 1,00,000/- with appropriate sureties as may be decided by the Special Court;

(b). The appellants shall surrender their passport (if they have one) to the Special Court at the time of furnishing security;

(c). The appellants shall not interfere in any manner with the further investigation, if any and shall not make any effort to influence the prosecution witnesses;

and

(d). The appellants shall mark regular attendance with such police station and at such periodical intervals as may be determined by the Special Court; and

(e). The appellants shall cooperate with the Special Court for the early conclusion of the trial.

8. The appeal is allowed on the above terms.

Criminal Appeal No. 2379 of 2023

1. First Information Report was registered on 12.08.2022, against Mohd. Nadeem (appellant no. 1) in Case Crime No. 3 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. read with Section 13, 18 & 38 of the Act of 1967, Police Station A.T.S., Gomti Nagar, Lucknow. The appellant no. 1 Mohd. Nadeem was arrested by the police on 11.08.2022 and was produced before the Special Court on 12.08.2022. On 12.08.2022, the Special Court granted remand for the period 12.08.2022 to 25.08.2022. The accused-appellant no. 2 Habeedul Islam @ Shaifullah was arrested on 13.08.2022, in Case Crime No. 3 of 2022 referred to above. The appellant no. 2 was produced before the Special Court on 14.08.2022. By order dated 14.08.2022, remand was granted by the Special Court from 14.08.2022 to 26.08.2022. Thereafter, the remand was extended from time to time. The statutory period of 90 days was to complete on 09.11.2022 in the case of appellant no. 1 and on 10.11.2022 in the case of appellant no. 2. On 07.11.2022, an application for an extension of the period of investigation by 30 days was moved by the Investigating Officer. On 07.11.2022, by the order passed by Special Court, the accused were summoned fixing 09.11.2022. On 09.11.2022, the period of investigation was extended by the Special Court. The Order passed by the Special Court on 09.11.2022 was 'permitted'. The accused-appellants were present on 09.11.2022 as of 09.11.2022, the remand was extended for 30 days i.e. up to 08.12.2022. Again on 03.12.2022, an application was moved by the Senior Prosecuting Officer for an extension of the period of 30 days for completing the investigation which is on page 27 of the counter affidavit filed by Shailendra S. Rathore filed along with the application dated 03.12.2022. On the aforesaid application dated 03.12.2022, the Public Prosecutor made an endorsement on 06.12.2022 'submitted'. On 06.12.2022, the Special Court passed an order 'permitted'. On 08.12.2022, the custody of the appellants was extended for another period of 30 days i.e. up to 03.01.2023.

2. Again on 02.01.2023, an application was moved by the Investigating Officer for an extension of investigation on which an endorsement was made by the Public Prosecutor 'submitted'. The Special Court by order dated 03.01.2023 extended the period of investigation for 30 days and passed the order 'permitted for 30 days only'. On 03.01.2023, the accused-appellants were present through virtual mode before the Special Court and their period of remand was extended till 02.02.2023. On 12.12.2022, a default bail application was filed by the appellants as the extended period for investigation of 30 days as extended by an order dated 09.11.2022, expired on 10.12.2022.

3. The bail application filed by the appellants was registered as Bail Application No. 985 of 2023. After the exchange of affidavits, the aforesaid application was rejected by the Special Court by its order dated 03.02.2023 which is impugned in the present appeal.

4. During the pendency of the appeal, a charge sheet was submitted by the Investigating Agency in court on 07.02.2023 against the appellants under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. read with Sections 13, 18 & 38 of the Act of 1967. On 07.02.2023, the Special Court directed to register the case as Misc. Case.

5. In the present appeal though the first order of extension of time dated 09.11.2022 was passed in the presence of the appellants but the second order of extension dated 06.12.2022 has been passed in the absence of the appellants. Appellants were not present before the Special Court on 06.12.2022 either personally or virtually. The application dated 03.12.2022, for an extension of the period of investigation was moved by the Senior Prosecuting Officer on which an endorsement was made by the Public Prosecutor 'submitted' on 06.12.2022 and the order was passed by Special Court on 06.12.2022 'permitted'. This Court by its order dated 22.1.2023 directed the appellants to file an affidavit to the effect indicating as to whether the appellants were present either personally or virtually on 06.12.2022 when time for completing the investigation was extended by the Special Court. In compliance thereof in the rejoinder affidavit, paragraph no. 5 of the affidavit, it has been stated that on 06.12.2022, when the Special Court allowed the application dated 03.12.2022 for extension of the period for further investigation was without securing the presence of the appellants physically or virtually.

6. For the reasons given in the judgment in appeal No. 2376 of 2023, we are of the considered opinion that the order passed by the Special Court on 06.12.2022, extending the period of investigation, is illegal on account of the failure of the respondents to produce the accused before the Special Court either physically or virtually when the prayer for grant of extension made by the Public Prosecutor was considered.

7. Once we hold that the order granting an extension to complete the investigation is illegal and stands vitiated, it follows that the appellants are entitled to default bail.

8. When the appellants applied for bail, they had no notice of extension of time granted by the Special Court. Moreover, the application was made before the filing of the charge sheet, hence, the appellants are entitled to default bail. At this stage, we may note here that in the case of Sanjay Dutt (Supra) as well as in the case of Bikramjeet Singh (Supra), the Supreme Court held that the grant of default bail does not prevent re-arrest of the appellants on cogent ground after filing the charge-sheet. Thereafter, the accused can always apply for regular bail. However, as held by the Supreme Court in the case of Mohamed Iqbal Madar Sheikh and others v. State of Maharashtra reported in (1996) 1 SCC 722, re-arrest cannot be made only on the ground of filing a charge sheet. It all depends on the facts of each case.

9. Accordingly, the impugned order dated 06.12.2022, passed by Special Court, granting extension to complete investigation and order dated 03.02.2023 passed by Special Court rejecting the default bail application filed by the appellants are hereby quashed and set aside. The appellants shall be enlarged on default bail under Sub-section (2) of Section 167 of Cr.P.C. in Case Crime No. 3 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. read with Section 13, 18 & 38 of the Act of 1967, Police Station A.T.S., Gomti Nagar, Lucknow, on the following conditions:

(a). The appellants shall furnish a bail bond of Rs. 1,00,000/- each with appropriate sureties as may be decided by the Special Court;

(b). The appellants shall surrender their passport (if they have one) to the Special Court at the time of furnishing security;

(c). The appellants shall not interfere in any manner with the further investigation, if any and shall not make any effort to influence the prosecution witnesses; and

(d). The appellants shall mark regular attendance with such police station and at such periodical intervals as may be determined by the Special Court; and

(e). The appellants shall cooperate with the Special Court for the early conclusion of the trial.

10. The appeal is allowed on the above terms.

Criminal Appeal No. 2380 of 2023

1. The appellants Mohammad Harish and Ash Mohammad were arrested on 30.10.2022 in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20 & 38 of the Act of 1967, Police Station A.T.S., Gomti Nagar, Lucknow. They were produced before the Special Court on 01.11.2022. The Special Court granted remand from 01.11.2022 to 30.11.2022 by order dated 01.11.2022. Thereafter, the remand was extended from time to time. The statutory period of 90 days was to complete on 29.01.2023. By order dated 14.12.2022, the appellants were granted remand up to 22.12.2022. On 19.12.2022, an application was filed by Sri Anurag Darshan Additional Superintendent of Police/Investigating Officer A.T.S., Lucknow, U.P. for extension of 60 days time for further investigation under Section 43(d) of Act of 1967. On the aforesaid application, an endorsement was made by the Public Prosecutor on 21.12.2022 "submitted". On the same day i.e. 21.12.2022, the Special Court passed an order "Permitted for 45 days only". The application dated 19.12.2022 has been annexed at page no. 14 as annexure no. 5 to the counter affidavit filed by Abhilash Kumar Singh on 27.09.2022 along with an application No. 3/2023 for taking the aforesaid counter affidavit on record.

2. On 22.12.2022, the remand was extended by the Special Court till 18.01.2023. An application dated 31.01.2023 was filed by the appellants for being released on default bail as according to them the statutory period of 90 days was to expire on 29.01.2023 and by the said date no charge sheet was filed by the police in the aforesaid case crime number. The said application filed by the appellant was registered as Bail Application No. 969 of 2023. After the exchange of affidavits, the aforesaid application was rejected by the Special Court by its order dated 13.02.2023 which is impugned in the present appeal.

3. During the pendency of the application for grant of bail, the period of investigation was again extended on an application moved by the Public Prosecutor for 30 days. Again on 04.03.2023, the period of investigation was extended for 20 days by an order dated 04.03.2023 passed by the Special Court and during this period the remand of the appellant was also extended. The charge sheet was submitted by the investigating officer against the appellants under Section 121A/123 I.P.C. and Sections 13/18/18B/20/38 of the Act of 1967 on 22.03.2023. On 23.03.2023, the Special Court directed to register the case as Misc. Case. On 13.04.2023, prosecution sanction was granted by the State and by order dated 28.04.2023, the Special Court had taken cognizance.

4. In the present appeal also the order passed by the Special Court on 21.12.2022, is vitiated for the reasons as mentioned in Criminal Appeal No. 2376 of 2023.

5. Once we hold that the order granting extension to complete the investigation is illegal and stands vitiated, it follows that the appellants are entitled to default bail.

6. When the appellants applied for bail, they had no notice of extension of time granted by the Special Court. Moreover, the application was made before the filing of the charge sheet, hence, the appellants are entitled to default bail. At this stage, we may note here that in the case of Sanjay Dutt (Supra) as well as in the case of Bikramjeet Singh (Supra), the Supreme Court held that the grant of default bail does not prevent re-arrest of the appellant on the cogent ground after filing the charge-sheet. Thereafter, the accused can always apply for regular bail. However, as held by the Supreme Court in the case of Mohamed Iqbal Madar Sheikh v. State of Maharashtra reported in (1996) 1 SCC 722, re-arrest cannot be made only on the ground of filing a charge sheet. It all depends on the facts of each case.

7. Accordingly, the impugned order dated 21.12.2022, passed by Special Court, granting extension to complete investigation and order dated 13.02.2023 passed by Special Court rejecting the default bail application filed by the appellants are hereby quashed and set aside. The appellant shall be enlarged on default bail under Sub-section (2) of Section 167 of Cr.P.C. in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20 & 38 of the Act of 1967, Police Station A.T.S., Gomti Nagar, Lucknow, on the following conditions:

(a). The appellants shall furnish a bail bond of Rs. 1,00,000/- with appropriate sureties as may be decided by the Special Court;

(b). The appellants shall surrender their passport (if they have one) to the Special Court at the time of furnishing security;

(c). The appellants shall not interfere in any manner with the further investigation, if any and shall not make any effort to influence the prosecution witnesses; and

(d). The appellants shall mark regular attendance with such police station and at such periodical intervals as may be determined by the Special Court; and

(e). The appellants shall cooperate with the Special Court for the early conclusion of the trial.

8. The appeal is allowed on the above terms.

Criminal Appeal No. 2381 of 2023

1. The appellants Qari Shahjad and Ali Noor @ Unamul Haque were arrested on 05.10.2022 in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20 & 38 of the Act of 1967, Police Station A.T.S., Gomti Nagar, Lucknow. They were produced before the Special Court on 06.10.2022. The Special Court granted police custody remand from 06.10.2022 to 19.10.2022 by order dated 06.10.2022. Thereafter, the remand was extended from time to time. The statutory period of 90 days was to complete on 03.01.2023. By order dated 14.12.2022, the appellants were granted remand up to 22.12.2022. On 19.12.2022, an application was filed by Sri Anurag Darshan Additional Superintendent of Police/Investigating Officer A.T.S., Lucknow, U.P. for extension of 60 days time for further investigation under Section 43(d) of Act of 1967. On the aforesaid application, an endorsement was made by the Public Prosecutor on 21.12.2022 "submitted". On the same day i.e. 21.12.2022, the Special Court passed an order "Permitted for 45 days only". The application dated 19.12.2022 has been annexed at page no. 18 as annexure no. 7 to the counter affidavit filed by Abhilash Kumar Singh on 27.09.2022 along with an application No. 5/2023 for taking the aforesaid counter affidavit on record.

2. On 22.12.2022, the remand was extended by the Special Court till 18.01.2023. An application was filed by the appellants on 31.01.2023 for being released on default bail as according to them the statutory period of 90 days was to expire on 03.01.2023 and by the said date no charge sheet was filed by the police in the aforesaid case crime number. The said application filed by the appellant was registered as Bail Application No. 971 of 2023. After the exchange of affidavits, the aforesaid application was rejected by the Special Court by its order dated 13.02.2023 which is impugned in the present appeal.

3. During the pendency of the application for grant of bail, the period of investigation was again extended on an application moved by the Public Prosecutor for 30 days. Again on 04.03.2023, the period of investigation was extended for 20 days by an order dated 04.03.2023 passed by the Special Court and during this period the remand of the appellant was also extended. The charge sheet was submitted by the investigating officer against the appellants under Section 121A/123 I.P.C. and Sections 13/18/18B/20/38 of the Act of 1967 on 22.03.2023. On 23.03.2023, the Special Court directed to register the case as Misc. Case. On 13.04.2023, prosecution sanction was granted by the State and by order dated 28.04.2023, the Special Court had taken cognizance.

4. In the present appeal also the order passed by the Special Court on 21.12.2022, is vitiated for the reasons as mentioned in Criminal Appeal No. 2376 of 2023.

5. Once we hold that the order granting extension to complete the investigation is illegal and stands vitiated, it follows that the appellants are entitled to default bail.

6. When the appellants applied for bail, they had no notice of extension of time granted by the Special Court. Moreover, the application was made before the filing of the charge sheet, hence, the appellants are entitled to default bail. At this stage, we may note here that in the case of Sanjay Dutt (Supra) as well as in the case of Bikramjeet Singh (Supra), the Supreme Court held that the grant of default bail does not prevent re-arrest of the appellant on the cogent ground after filing the charge-sheet. Thereafter, the accused can always apply for regular bail. However, as held by the Supreme Court in the case of Mohamed Iqbal Madar Sheikh and others v. State of Maharashtra reported in (1996) 1 SCC 722, re-arrest cannot be made only on the ground of filing a charge sheet. It all depends on the facts of each case.

7. Accordingly, the impugned order dated 21.12.2022, passed by Special Court, granting extension to complete investigation and order dated 13.02.2023 passed by Special Court rejecting the default bail application filed by the appellants are hereby quashed and set aside. The appellants shall be enlarged on default bail under Sub-section (2) of Section 167 of Cr.P.C. in Case Crime No. 4 of 2022, under Section 121A, 123 I.P.C. and Section 13, 18, 18B, 20 & 38 of the Act of 1967, Police Station A.T.S., Gomti Nagar, Lucknow, on the following conditions:

(1). The appellants shall furnish a bail bond of Rs. 1,00,000/- with appropriate sureties as may be decided by the Special Court;

(2). The appellants shall surrender their passport (if they have one) to the Special Court at the time of furnishing security;

(3). The appellants shall not interfere in any manner with the further investigation, if any and shall not make any effort to influence the prosecution witnesses; and

(4). The appellants shall mark regular attendance with such police station and at such periodical intervals as may be determined by the Special Court; and

(5). The appellants shall cooperate with the Special Court for early conclusion of the trial.

8. The appeal is allowed on the above terms.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1378
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 13.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ASHWANI KUMAR MISHRA, J.
THE HON'BLE MOHD. AZHAR HUSAIN IDRISI, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 3820 of 2022
connected with
Criminal Appeal No. 2023 of 2022

Smt. Vimlesh ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
Anjali Singh Tomar, Inder Pal Singh Tomar, Pramod Kumar Singh, Somit Shukla

Counsel for the Respondent:
Bheshaj Puri, G.A.

Criminal Law – Appellate proceedings – Appellants- husband and mother-in-law of the deceased- conviction and sentence- Sections 304B and 498A IPC- dowry demand- dowry death by burn injuries- death within seven years of marriage- demand of dowry made- no complaint made to police earlier- not determinative of fact- whether dowry demand was made or not- cumulative analysis of evidence- deceased committed suicide within seven years of marriage- harassment meted out to her- demand of dowry- inability to bear child- accused being husband responsible for safety and security of his wife- conviction of the husband sustained- no reason given by trial court for awarding maximum punishment- sentence already undergone by him awarded as punishment- husband's appeal partly allowed- conviction of mother-in-law set aside- Appeal allowed. (Paras 25, 26, 27, 28, 29 and 30)

HELD:
Upon cumulative analysis of evidence on record, we are of the view that this was a case of suicide committed by the deceased within 7 years of marriage on account of harassment meted out to her due to demand of dowry as also her inability to bear a child. So far as the conviction of accused appellant Ankur Gupta is concerned, it is admitted that he is the husband of deceased and is responsible for safety and security of his wife but he has failed to perform his responsibilities as husband and, therefore, his conviction under Sections 498A, 304-B IPC & 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act is sustained. (Para 25)

So far as the role of accused appellant Smt. Vimlesh (mother-in-law) in demanding dowry is concerned, the allegation is not specific as against her and the allegations at best appear to be omnibus and vague. It is evident that she has firstly reported that smoke was coming out of the room of deceased and on her screams DW-1 & ors.came to the house and broke open the door. As we have already observed that the deceased had committed suicide and looking to the conduct of the accused mother-in-law, we are of the view that the accused mother-in-law cannot be convicted for offence under Sections 498A, 304B IPC and 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act, in the absence of any specific allegation against her with regard to demand of dowry. The conviction of accused Smt. Vimlesh under Sections 498A, 304B IPC and 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act is, therefore, reversed. (Para 26)

Coming to the question of sentence, we find that the trial court has awarded life sentence to the accused appellant Ankur Gupta under Section

304-B IPC. Punishment under Section 304-B IPC varies from 7 years to life. When the court proceeds to award maximum permissible sentence for an offence, it is the cardinal principle of law that reasons have to be given for awarding such maximum punishment. We do not find any such reasons to have been disclosed by the trial court. We otherwise find that there are no circumstances, which may justify awarding of extreme punishment to the accused appellant Ankur Gupta in the facts of the present case. Considering the evidence in its entirety, we are of the view that punishment of life under Section 304-B IPC to the accused appellant Ankur Gupta is not warranted, and ends of justice would be met if the sentence already undergone by the accused appellant Ankur Gupta is awarded to him under Section 304-B IPC. To that extent, we modify the impugned judgment and order of the court below. (Para 27)

Appeals allowed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. Hem Chand Vs St. of Har., (1994) 6 SCC 727

2. Kashmira Devi Vs The St. of Uttarakhand, AIR 2020 SC 652

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ashwani Kumar Mishra, J.)

1. These two appeals are directed against the judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 09.03.2022, passed by Additional District and Sessions Judge, Court No.16, Aligarh in Sessions Trial No. 297 of 2017 (State Vs. Ankur Gupta and others) arising out of Case Crime No.1064 of 2016, Police Station Quarsi, District Aligarh, whereby the accused appellants Ankur Gupta (husband of deceased) and Smt. Vimlesh (mother-in-law of deceased) have been convicted under Section 304B IPC and sentenced to life imprisonment; under Section 498A IPC for two years rigorous imprisonment with fine of Rs.10,000/- each and in default of payment of fine they are to further undergo six months additional imprisonment and; under Section 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act for one year rigorous imprisonment with fine of Rs.5,000/- each and in default thereof they are to further undergo three months additional imprisonment. All sentences are to run concurrently.

2. The informant Umesh Chandra (PW-1), who is the father of deceased, has made a written report (Ex.Ka.1), scribed by Pradeep Nath Sharma (not produced in trial), to the Station House Officer, Police Station Quarsi, informing that he is resident of District Budaun and had married his daughter Shreya Varshaney (deceased) to accused appellant Ankur Gupta with Hindu customs and traditions on 06.03.2013 and had spent nearly Rs.10 lac for the purposes. Ever since the marriage in-laws of his daughter were demanding additional dowry. On several occasions he met the demands and persuaded his daughter to stay with her in-laws. On 26-27.10.2016 the deceased informed informant on phone that accused Ankur requires Rs.5 lac for establishing factory. If such amount is not given before Deepawali, her mother-in-law, husband and sister-in-law (Nanad) would kill her for dowry. The incident occurred on 29.10.2018 in the morning hours. Informant's brother-in-law Girish intimated him that deceased has been strangulated to death by her mother-in-law Vimlesh, husband Ankur and sister-in-law Swati @ Sona and thereafter set her ablaze. Request was made for lodging First Information Report and taking appropriate legal action.

3. Based upon the aforesaid written report (Ex.Ka-1) the First Information Report (Ex.Ka.11) was lodged on 29.10.2016 at 07.20 pm as Case Crime No.1064 of 2016 under Sections 498-A,

304-B, 201 IPC and ¾ of Dowry Prohibition Act against three accused Ankur Gupta (husband), Smt. Vimlesh (mother-in-law) and Swati @ Sona (sister-in-law). Investigation proceeded. The Investigating Officer recovered a ring having thread (kalawa) and a blue cane on which Artele was mentioned and there was smell of kerosene. This recovery has been exhibited as Ex.Ka.4. The inquest (Ex.Ka.5) was conducted and the inquest witnesses found that the deceased died due to burn injuries and her tongue had protruded. The death apparently occurred due to burn injuries but in the opinion of inquest witnesses postmortem was required to be conducted to ascertain the cause of death. The dead body was accordingly sealed and sent for postmortem. The postmortem (Ex.Ka.7) was conducted on 30.10.2016 at 12.15 and the Autopsy Surgeon noted following conditions of the body:-

"Age: 31 years

General Examination: Average body built, pugilistic attitude present, both eyes closed, tongue protruded.

External Examination/Antemortem Injuries:

Superficial to deep thermal burn injury present all over the body except both foot sole and some part of scalp. Singing of hairs (scalp) present. Line of redness present at places. Smell of kerosene oil present. About 95& thermal burn injury. Exudate present at places.

Time of death: Expired about one day back.

Cause of death: Due to asphyxia with hypovolumic shock as a result of antemortem thermal burn injury."

4. The Investigating Officer, after recording the statement of witnesses under Section 161 Cr.P.C. and collecting other evidence etc., concluded the investigation and submitted a chargesheet (Ex.Ka.10) on 15.12.2016 against the accused Ankur Gupta, Smt. Vimlesh and Swati @ Sona. Cognizance was taken on the chargesheet and the case was committed to the court of sessions where it got registered as Sessions Trial No.297 of 2017. Charges were framed against all named accused under Sections 498A, 304B IPC and ¾ of Dowry Prohibition Act. Alternate charge was also framed under Section 302 IPC in addition to aforesaid sections. The accused denied the charges and demanded trial.

5. The prosecution in addition to the documentary evidence, noticed above, has produced the first informant as PW-1. In his examination-in-chief, he has stated that marriage of deceased daughter with accused Ankar was solemnized on 06.02.2013 and he had spent Rs.10 lac in the marriage. From the very initial days the deceased was being harassed for dowry by her in-laws. He had intervened and got the issues resolved. It is also stated that demand of Rs.5 lac was being raised as dowry and on 26.10.2016 the deceased made a phone call stating that if amount of Rs.5 lac is not paid, then her in-laws would kill her. It was about quarter to 12 in the afternoon on 29.10.2016 that informant's brother-in-law Girish Gupta informed him that the mother-in-law, sister-in-law and husband have killed the deceased by burning her. PW-1 has proved the written report.

In the cross-examination, PW-1 has stated that he was saddened and perplexed by the death of daughter and does not know if the date of marriage was mentioned as 06.03.2013 in the FIR. He has supported the allegation of demand of dowry from the very beginning. He has, however, admitted that though various incident kept happening regarding demand of dowry from 2013 onwards but he never lodged any report with the police. He has denied the suggestion that in-laws kept his daughter well and a false report has been lodged. In his further cross-examination, PW-1 has stated that telephone call for demand of dowry of Rs.5 lac was received by his wife on 26-27.10.2016 and not by him. He has denied the suggestion that his daughter was not keeping well. Deceased was treated at Aligarh and Bareilly as she was not able to conceive. The incident occurred on the day of Chhoti Diwali. He has denied the suggestion that the family was busy celebrating Diwali when the incident occurred. When he arrived at the house of her deceased daughter nobody from the family was present. He had not seen as to whether accused Ankur and his mother was present at the time of inquest. PW-1 has admitted that father of accused Ankur died long back and two brother of accused Ankur also died by drowning in the Ganges. It is also stated that the deceased visited her maternal house about 5-6 months ago and stayed there for about one month. He further denied the suggestion that his daughter was undergoing depression and that she had beaten her own mother while she was at her maternal house. He has also stated that accused Ankur was working in a factory at R. K. Puram. He has denied the suggestion that his daughter has committed suicide because she has beaten her mother or she was under depression. He has also denied the suggestion that on 29.10.2016 before death of deceased, at about 2-2½ pm she called her mother and informed her that she is in trouble and would not meet her today.

6. PW-2 (Uma Devi) is the mother of deceased and has fully supported the prosecution case with regard to torture being extended to the deceased. She has stated that there was no independent witness with regard to dowry of Rs.10 lac. The deceased called her on 26-27 saying that her in-laws are asking for Rs.5 lac. In the cross-examination, PW-2 has stated that sister-in-law of deceased had beaten her with slippers and thrown her out of house. She had, however, not lodged police report about the incident. She did not remember the mobile number of her daughter from which she called her. She had denied the suggestion that her daughter was under depression and she had beaten her. She has also denied the suggestion that on the date of incident her daughter called her at 02.16 in the afternoon from her mobile no.9319726234. She has admitted that mother-in-law of the deceased is widow, who lost her two sons by drowning in river Ganga and accused Ankur was the only son alive in the family. Sister-in-law of the deceased, Swati, is married and has two children and is living elsewhere.

7. PW-3 (Girish Gupta) happens to be the maternal uncle of the deceased. He claims that information regarding the incident was received from medical representative Dushyant, who informed him that outside the house of deceased a crowd had gathered. When he entered the house he found that the deceased was lying dead. He claims that the deceased was strangulated and later burnt and her tongue protruded. He has supported the prosecution case about demand of dowry.

8. PW-4 (Harendra Singh) is the Sub Inspector, who has proved the recovery of ring having thread (Kalawa) vide Ex.Ka.4. He has also proved the arrest of accused persons on 30.10.2016. He has stated that he received information of incident at police chowki on wireless. He has also proved the inquest.

9. PW-5 (Dr. Anupam Bhaskar) is the Autopsy Surgeon, who has proved the postmortem report. He has stated that in the trachea soot particles were available. Both lungs were congested. Superficial deep thermal burn injuries were present on the entire body except sole and some portion of head. Smell of kerosene was also coming. The deceased was 95% burnt. Cause of death was asphyxia with hypovolumic shock as a result of antemortem thermal burn injury.

10. PW-6 (Rajeev Kumar) is the Investigating Officer, who has stated that 29.10.2016 at about 03.12 pm information was received from mobile no.8650521855 of Dinesh that the deceased has committed suicide. It is on the basis of this information that the police came on spot. Avinash and Mahesh were immediate neighbours. He had not recorded statement of neighbours or those who were present. He was informed by mother of the deceased that her daughter was treated at Bareilly and Aligarh between 2013 to 2016. PW-6 has admitted that he has not recorded the statement of any independent witness. He has also came to know that sister-in-law of the deceased has kids and she lives separately with her husband at Gular Road.

11. PW-7 (Manvendra Singh) is the Constable, who has proved the police papers and has denied the suggestion that FIR is ante-timed.

12. Based upon the evidence led during trial by the prosecution, statement of accused persons under Section 313 Cr.P.C. has been recorded. Accused Swati has stated that she is innocent and lives separately and that the deceased was suffering from mental depression. Accused mother-in-law of deceased has also stated that she is innocent and the deceased was suffering from depression on account of which she committed suicide. Similar stand is taken by the accused Ankur, who has stated that the deceased had committed suicide in which he has no role to play and he is innocent.

13. The defence has produced Atul Kumar Varshaney as DW-1. He has stated that he has business of locks in which 20 persons are working. Accused Ankur Gupta was working in his factory and his name finds place in the Employees State Insurance list. He has stated that accused Ankur came to the factory at 09.00 in the morning and left at 02.30 pm when he got a call from his mother about his wife having got burnt. He knew the accused Ankur for the last 5-6 years as he is distantly related to his wife. The accused was working as supervisor. Attendance register for the date of incident, however, has not been produced by him.

14. DW-2 (Mahesh Chandra) is the neighbour of accused persons, who has stated that he has his shop in front of house of deceased. He claims that he is living in the same area for the last twenty years and knows accused persons since then. It was Chhoti Diwali on the date of incident that the mother-in-law of deceased rushed out of the house and told that smoke is coming out of the room which was locked from inside. He claims to have rushed to the place and door was broke open from outside. He has denied the suggestion that the shop was closed on the day of incident and he was not present.

15. DW-3 (Hari Prakash) is also neighbour of accused persons, who has stated that he has business of handle plate and the house of accused is in front of his house and that he knows the accused for last 7-8 years. He claims that the deceased has committed suicide.

16. DW-4 (Dr. Mohd. Riyad) is the Psychiatrist in City Hospital, Civil Lines, Aligarh, who has stated that the deceased was suffering from depression and he has examined the deceased on 17.05.2016. He has certified that mentally depressed patient can commit suicide. In the cross-examination he has disclosed that he is MD in Psychiatrist and has not produced original records. He had given his statement on the basis of copy of prescription.

17. It is on the basis of above evidence led during trial by the prosecution and upon consideration of the explanation furnished by the accused appellants under section 313 Cr.P.C. and defence version that the court below has come to the conclusion that the prosecution has established its case beyond reasonable doubt against the accused appellants Ankur Gupta (husband) and Smt. Vimlesh (mother-in-law) and found them to be guilty of committing the offence. Ultimately, the court below has convicted and sentenced the accused appellants vide impugned judgment and order and acquitted the accused Swati, sister-in-law of the deceased. Thus aggrieved, the accused appellants are before this Court in the present appeals.

18. Learned counsel for the appellants states that this is a case of suicide by the deceased as she had not been able to bear a child. It is submitted that the deceased was undergoing depression and treated by the doctors at Aligarh and Bareilly Learned counsel, therefore, submits that in the depressed mental state the deceased committed suicide by pouring kerosene on herself and, therefore, the accused appellants cannot be convicted for dowry death. It is also contended that marriage was solemnized three years back but not a single complaint of demand of dowry was made, nor any independent witness has been produced to prove the demand of dowry. It is further argued that merely on the strength of suspicion the accused appellants have been convicted and sentenced by the court below. It is also urged that the accused appellant Smt. Vimlesh is a widow elderly lady, aged about 71 years, and has already lost her two sons who drowned in the river Ganga. It is further argued that the accused appellant Ankur was not present at the place of occurrence when the deceased committed suicide and returned only after coming to know of incident, and that the trial court has imposed maximum punishment upon the accused appellants without disclosing reasons for it while the minimum punishment provided under Section 304-B IPC is seven years. Submission is that the accused appellant Ankur Gupta has already undergone incarceration of 8 year 1 month 14 days with remission as on 09.05.2024, while the appellant Smt. Vimlesh has served sentence incarceration of 3 year 1 month 12 days as on 09.05.2024. It is moreover submitted that the trial court has not correctly appreciated the evidence on record and, therefore, the impugned judgment and order of conviction and sentence is liable to be set aside.

19. Learned AGA, on the other hand, submits that this is a case of dowry death, inasmuch as ingredients of dowry death are clearly made out in the facts of the case. Learned A.G.A. has supported the reasoning of trial court that had it been a case of suicide the deceased would have attempted to save herself and the articles kept in the room like bed, refrigerator etc. would have been damaged but nothing happened of this kind, which clearly shows that the deceased was burnt and the accused persons did not let her save herself. It is, therefore, submitted that judgment and order of conviction and sentence requires no interference.

20. We have heard Shri Somit Shukla, learned counsel for the appellants and learned A.G.A. for the State and have perused the material on record, including the records of court below.

21. In the facts of the case, evidence on record shows that the marriage of the deceased was solemnized with accused appellant Ankur Gupta on 06.02.2013 and she died on 29.10.2016. It is, therefore, clear that the deceased has died within seven years of marriage. The first condition for an offence under Section 304B IPC is clearly made out.

22. Coming to the second condition with regard to demand of dowry the testimony of PW-1 and PW-2, who are the parents of deceased, is specific on that count. PW-1 has stated that they spent Rs.10 lac at the time of marriage towards dowry and that there was a continuous demand of dowry from the side of accused persons. It is alleged that in the year 2013 itself, as also in the year 2014, 2015 and 2016 there was consistent demand of dowry. Although it is alleged by the counsel for the accused appellants that there was no report lodged with the police or the specific dates for demand of dowry are not mentioned but this would not be decisive in our opinion because parents of a bride firstly try to make efforts for the marriage to succeed and, therefore, such instance of demand of dowry are not reported at the first instance. The mere fact that complaint has not been made to the police ipso facto cannot be determinative of fact as to whether there has been demand of dowry or not. It may well be a factor to be considered. In the facts of the present case, PW-1 has specifically stated that she got a call from the deceased on 26/27.10.2016 with regard to demand of dowry of Rs.5 lac. This money was needed for establishing factory for accused Ankur. The evidence in that regard is consistent on part of the prosecution witnesses. In such circumstances, upon evaluation of evidence on record, we find that the trial court has correctly returned findings with regard to dowry given in the marriage and that the deceased was being harassed for dowry. This demand continued even soon before the death of the deceased. The second condition for an offence to be proved under Section 304B is also met.

23. Coming to the next aspect of death of the deceased, it is apparent that she died on account of burn injuries. The death is, therefore, unnatural. So far as the prosecution case that the deceased was strangulated and then burnt is concerned, we find that the allegation is based entirely upon suspicion, inasmuch as the only reason for making such allegation is that the tongue of deceased had protruded. We have examined the medical evidence on record and find that there is no evidence to suggest that the deceased has been strangulated prior to death. The Autopsy Surgeon has given his opinion as per which the tongue of deceased could have protruded on account of lack of oxygen since room itself was filled with smoke. The postmortem report shows no other sign of injury on the body of deceased. The only injuries found on the body of deceased is with regard to burn injuries. The prosecution, therefore, has not been able to prove the allegation that the deceased was strangulated or physically tortured before death occurred on account of burn injuries.

24. We have examined the testimony of defence and prosecution witnesses from a perusal whereof it is apparent that the deceased had got married in the year 2013 but she could not bear a child. This fact is admitted to PW-2, who is the mother of deceased. She has admitted that her daughter was taken to different hospital for treatment at Aligarh and Bareilly. The specific case of the defence is that the deceased was undergoing depression on account of such fact. DW-4, who is the psychiatrist, has certified that the deceased was examined by him as she was suffering from depression. It has also come in evidence of defence witnesses that the mother-in-law of deceased firstly reported that smoke was coming out of the room whereafter DW-1, who is the immediate neighbour, came to the house and broke open the door. The evidence on record thus suggest that it is in the afternoon hours that the deceased committed suicide. Apart from the depression as the deceased was not able to bear a child, the demand of dowry and harassment by her in-laws apparently was the cause for her to have committed suicide. Existence of soot particles in trachea of deceased also shows that the deceased had committed suicide.

25. Upon cumulative analysis of evidence on record, we are of the view that this was a case of suicide committed by the deceased within 7 years of marriage on account of harassment meted out to her due to demand of dowry as also her inability to bear a child. So far as the conviction of accused appellant Ankur Gupta is concerned, it is admitted that he is the husband of deceased and is responsible for safety and security of his wife but he has failed to perform his responsibilities as husband and, therefore, his conviction under Sections 498A, 304-B IPC & 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act is sustained.

26. So far as the role of accused appellant Smt. Vimlesh (mother-in-law) in demanding dowry is concerned, the allegation is not specific as against her and the allegations at best appear to be omnibus and vague. It is evident that she has firstly reported that smoke was coming out of the room of deceased and on her screams DW-1 and others came to the house and broke open the door. As we have already observed that the deceased had committed suicide and looking to the conduct of the accused mother-in-law, we are of the view that the accused mother-in-law cannot be convicted for offence under Sections 498A, 304B IPC and 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act, in the absence of any specific allegation against her with regard to demand of dowry. The conviction of accused Smt. Vimlesh under Sections 498A, 304B IPC and 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act is, therefore, reversed.

27. Coming to the question of sentence, we find that the trial court has awarded life sentence to the accused appellant Ankur Gupta under Section 304-B IPC. Punishment under Section 304-B IPC varies from 7 years to life. When the court proceeds to award maximum permissible sentence for an offence, it is the cardinal principle of law that reasons have to be given for awarding such maximum punishment. We do not find any such reasons to have been disclosed by the trial court. We otherwise find that there are no circumstances, which may justify awarding of extreme punishment to the accused appellant Ankur Gupta in the facts of the present case. Considering the evidence in its entirety, we are of the view that punishment of life under Section 304-B IPC to the accused appellant Ankur Gupta is not warranted, and ends of justice would be met if the sentence already undergone by the accused appellant Ankur Gupta is awarded to him under Section 304-B IPC. To that extent, we modify the impugned judgment and order of the court below.

28. In Hem Chand Vs. State of Haryana, (1994) 6 SCC 727, the Supreme Court has observed that though punishment under Section 304-B IPC varies from 7 years to life but award of extreme punishment should not be as a matter of course and must be awarded in rare cases. In para 7 and 8, the Supreme Court observed as under:-

"7. Now coming to the question of sentence, it can be seen that Section 304-B IPC lays down that:

"Whoever commits dowry death shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than seven years but which may extend to imprisonment for life."

The point for consideration is whether the extreme punishment of imprisonment for life is warranted in the instant case. A reading of Section 304-B IPC would show that when a question arises whether a person has committed the offence of dowry death of a woman what all that is necessary is it should be shown that soon before her unnatural death, which took place within seven years of the marriage, the deceased had been subjected, by such person, to cruelty or harassment for or in connection with demand for dowry. If that is shown then the court shall presume that such a person has caused the dowry death. It can therefore be seen that irrespective of the fact whether such person is directly responsible for the death of the deceased or not by virtue of the presumption, he is deemed to have committed the dowry death if there were such cruelty or harassment and that if the unnatural death has occurred within seven years from the date of marriage. Likewise there is a presumption under Section 113-B of the Evidence Act as to the dowry death. It lays down that the court shall presume that the person who has subjected the deceased wife to cruelty before her death caused the dowry death if it is shown that before her death, such woman had been subjected, by the accused, to cruelty or harassment in connection with any demand for dowry. Practically this is the presumption that has been incorporated in Section 304-B IPC also. It can therefore be seen that irrespective of the fact whether the accused has any direct connection with the death or not, he shall be presumed to have committed the dowry death provided the other requirements mentioned above are satisfied. In the instant case no doubt the prosecution has proved that the deceased died an unnatural death namely due to strangulation, but there is no direct evidence connecting the accused. It is also important to note in this context that there is no charge under Section 302 IPC. The trial court also noted that there were two sets of medical evidence on the file in respect of the death of the deceased. Dr Usha Rani PW 6 and Dr Indu Lalit PW 7 gave one opinion. According to them no injury was found on the dead body and that the same was highly decomposed. On the other hand, Dr Dalbir Singh PW 13 who also examined the dead body and gave his opinion, deposed that he noticed some injuries at the time of re-post-mortem examination. Therefore at the most it can be said that the prosecution proved that it was an unnatural death in which case also Section 304-B IPC would be attracted. But this aspect has certainly to be taken into consideration in balancing the sentence to be awarded to the accused. As a matter of fact, the trial court only found that the death was unnatural and the aspect of cruelty has been established and therefore the offences punishable under Sections 304-B and 201 IPC have been established. The High Court in a very short judgment concluded that it was fully proved that the death of the deceased in her matrimonial home was a dowry death otherwise than in normal circumstances as a result of cruelty meted out to her and therefore an offence under Section 304-B IPC was made out. Coming to the sentence the High Court pointed out that the accused-appellant was a police employee and instead of checking the crime, he himself indulged therein and precipitated in it and that bride-killing cases are on the increase and therefore a serious view has to be taken. As mentioned above, Section 304-B IPC only raises presumption and lays down that minimum sentence should be seven years but it may extend to imprisonment for life. Therefore awarding extreme punishment of imprisonment for life should be in rare cases and not in every case.

8. Hence, we are of the view that a sentence of 10 years' RI would meet the ends of justice. We, accordingly while confirming the conviction of the appellant under Section 304-B IPC, reduce the sentence of imprisonment for life to 10 years' RI. The other conviction and sentence passed against the appellant are, however, confirmed. In the result, the appeal is dismissed subject to the above modification of sentence."

29. In Kashmira Devi Vs. The State of Uttarakhand, AIR 2020 SC 652, the principle laid down in Hem Chand (supra) has been reiterated and the Court observed as under in para 24:-

"24. Having arrived at the above conclusion the quantum of sentence requires consideration. The High Court has awarded life imprisonment to the appellant on being convicted under Section 304-B IPC. The minimum sentence provided is seven years but it may extend to imprisonment for life. In fact, this Court in Hem Chand v. State of Haryana [Hem Chand v. State of Haryana, (1994) 6 SCC 727 : 1995 SCC (Cri) 36] has held that while imposing the sentence, awarding extreme punishment of imprisonment for life under Section 304-B IPC should be in rare cases and not in every case. Though the mitigating factor noticed in the said case was different, in the instant case keeping in view the age of the appellant and also the contribution that would be required by her to the family, while husband is also aged and further taking into consideration all other circumstances, the sentence as awarded by the High Court to the appellant herein is liable to be modified."

30. In light of the observation made in para 24 (reproduced above), the Court modified the sentence to a period of 7 years. Para 25 of the judgment in Kashmira Devi (supra) is, thus, reproduced hereinafter:-

"25. In the result, the following:

Order

25.1. The conviction of the appellant recorded by the High Court under Section 304-B IPC and Section 498-A IPC through its judgment dated 29-6-2017 [State v. Govind Singh, 2017 SCC OnLine Utt 1932] is upheld and affirmed.

25.2. The sentence ordered by the High Court through its order dated 10-7-2017 [State of Uttarakhand v. Govind Singh, GA No. 42 of 2010, decided on 10-7-2017 (Utt)] is modified and the sentence of imprisonment for life is altered by ordering the appellant to undergo rigorous imprisonment for a period of seven years which shall include the period of sentence already undergone by the appellant. The fine as imposed and the default sentence is sustained.

25.3. The appeal is allowed in part, in the above terms.

25.4. The parties to bear their own costs."

31. Consequently, the Criminal Appeal No. 3820 of 2022 filed by the accused appellant Ankur Gupta succeeds and is allowed in part. Since the accused appellant Ankur Gupta has been taken in custody on 30.10.2016 and he has remained in jail ever since then and the period of incarceration undergone is more than 8 years with remission, as such, his sentence is modified to the sentence already undergone by him. The fine and the additional sentence, on failure to deposit the fine, are maintained. The appellant Ankur Gupta is set to liberty on the sentence already undergone, subject to observance of Section 437A Cr.P.C., provided he is not wanted in any other case.

32. Criminal Appeal No. 2023 of 2012 at the instance of accused appellant Smt. Vimlesh, accordingly, succeeds and is allowed. The judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 09.03.2022, insofar as it convicts the accused appellant Smt. Vimlesh, is set aside. Accused appellant Smt. Vimlesh is reported to be in jail, she shall be released forthwith, subject to compliance of section 437A Cr.P.C. provided she is not wanted in any other case.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1388
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 24.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJIV GUPTA, J.
THE HON'BLE SHIV SHANKER PRASAD, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 4350 of 2005

Rajveer Singh ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
K.K. Dwivedi, R.P. Dwivedi

Counsel for the Respondent:
Govt. Advocate, D.N. Wali, Manoj Yadav

Criminal Law: Indian Penal Code, 1860 – Section 302 – Murder – Indian Evidence Act, 1872 – Sections 8, 27 & 60 - Criminal Procedure Code,1973 - Section 161, 313 - blind murder committed during night hours - none of three witnesses P.W.1, P.W.3 and P.W.5 have witnessed the incident - F.I.R. has been lodged against unknown persons - appellant alongwith another person has been implicated as an accused on the basis of suspicion – Court convicted & sentenced the appellant u/s 302 I.P.C. for life imprisonment – Held, appellant is the scribe of the F.I.R. which has been lodged by P.W.1 and present at the time of inquest and is also a witness of inquest and participated in the last rites as pointed out by P.W.2.- Allegation against accused - quarrel with his brother over partition of property and for not sharing the sale proceeds of the plot which was in the name of his mother- recovery of an axe is recovered by the police itself and not at his pointing out - in a circumstantial evidence - motive plays pivotal role and non proving creates serious dent in the prosecution story - St.ment of an accused recorded by a police officer under Section 27 of the Evidence Act is a memorandum of confession during interrogation , confessional part of such St.ment is inadmissible and only the part which leads to discovery of fact is admissible in evidence - Evidence Act - Section 60 mandates that no secondary/hearsay evidence can be given in case of oral evidence, except for the circumstances enumerated in the section - finding of trial court in respect of recovery is against the settled proposition of law as laid down by Hon'ble Apex Court and it can't be sustained and is liable to discarded - conduct of an accused may be relevant fact under section 8 of Evidence Act, by itself, cannot be a ground to convict him or hold guilty for a serious offence like murder - finding by trial court is not just, proper and legal and is liable to be set-aside.(Para 28, 29, 32, 33, 35, 40, 46, 48)

Appeal is allowed. (E-13)

List of Cases cited:

1. Aghnoo Nagesia Vs St. of Bihar, (1966) 1 SCR 134

2. Sharad Birdhichand Sarda Vs St. of Mah.

3. Babu Sahebagouda Rudragoudar & ors. Vs St. of Karn. (Criminal Appeal No (S). 985 of 2010)

4. St. of U. P. Vs Deoman Upadhyaya

5. Mohd. Abdul Hafeez Vs St. of Andhra Pradesh

6. Subramanya Vs St. of Karn.

7. Ramanand @ Nandlal Bharti Vs St. of U. P.

8. Shahaja @ Shahajan Ismail Mohd. Shaikh Vs St. of Maharasthra (Criminal Appeal No. 739 of 2017)

9. St. (NCT of Delhi) Vs. Navjot Sandhu, (2005) 11 SCC 600

10. Sujit Biswas Vs St. of Assam, (2013) 12 SCC 406

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajiv Gupta, J. & Hon'ble Shiv Shanker Prasad, J.)

1. Heard Shri G.S. Chaturvedi, Senior Advocate assisted by Shri Alok Ranjan Mishra, learned counsel for the appellant, learned A.G.A. for the State and perused the record.

2. The instant criminal appeal has been filed against the judgment and order dated 23.9.2005 passed by the Additional Session Judge, Court No. 11, Agra in S.T. No. 832 of 1999, State Vs. Rajveer Singh and another, arising out of case crime no. 207 of 1999 P.S. Dauki, Agra, under section 302 I.P.C., by which the trial court has convicted the appellant under section 302 I.P.C. and awarded the sentence of life imprisonment alongwith fine of Rs. 25000/-

3. As per the prosecution case as unfurled in the F.I.R. lodged by one Surendra Kumar, P.W.1, vide written report Ex. Ka.1 dated 5.8.1999 which was registered vide case crime no. 207 of 1999 under section 302 I.P.C., P.S. Dauki, District Agra, vide G.D. report, Ex. Ka. 4 prepared by PW.4 at the relevant date and time. The allegations made in the F.I.R. are that on 4.8.1999 at about 8.30 p.m. in the night his father Nem Singh posted as Kanungo, Sadar, District Agra returned back to his house. After taking his meals at about 10.00 p.m., on account of disruption in the electric supply he slept alone on the Chabutara outside the Baithaka. At about 5.00 a.m., his mother Smt. Jamira Devi came out of the house and saw blood flowing below his cot. Above the cot his father was done to death by some unknown persons by wielding some sharp edged weapon on his neck and face. On the noise raised by his mother and on her wailing he alongwith his other family members reached at the place of incident. On the basis of the said written report scribed by the appellant, Rajveer Singh himself an F.I.R was registered against unknown persons at P.S. Dauki, District Agra.

4. The said F.I.R. was registered in the presence of Station Officer, P.S. Dauki, P.W. 6 Satyaveer Singh who was entrusted with the investigation of the said case. The investigating officer thereafter recorded the statement of the first informant and reached at the place of incident and inspected the place of incident, and prepared the site plan. The Investigating Officer further collected the blood stained earth and plain earth from the place of incident and kept it in a container, sealed it and prepared the recovery memo which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka. 6 and Ex. Ka. 7. A hair strand was also taken in possession from the right palm of the deceased and its fard recovery memo was prepared and marked as Ex. Ka. 8. A small handkerchief lying near the corpse of the deceased was also taken in possession and its fard recovery memo was prepared and marked as Ex. Ka. 9. The investigating officer had also collected the blood stained string of cot and a blood stained pillow and prepared its recovery memo which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka. 10 and then recorded the statement of witnesses Phool Singh and Giriraj. Thereafter Station Officer conducted the inquest on the person of the deceased and prepared the inquest memo which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka. 15. Thereafter the dead body of the deceased was wrapped in a cloth and dispatched for post mortem examination by preparing the seal. An autopsy was conducted on the person of the deceased on 5.8.1999. As per the post mortem report , the victim received six injuries on his person. The injuries noted by the Doctor in the post mortem report are as under.

1- कटा हुआ घाव 16 सेमी x 2 सेमी x हड्डी तक गहरा, माथे पर बाई तरफ तथा बाये कान कट चुका था।

2- कटा हुआ घाव 14 सेमी x 2 सेमी x हड्डी तक गहरा, बाई तरफ चेहरे पर।

3- कटा हुआ घाव 16 सेमी x 2 सेमी xगर्दन की गुहा तक गहरा गर्दन के अन्दर।

4- कटा हुआ घाव 2 सेमी x 1 सेमी x हड्डी तक गहरा, दाये हाथ के अंगूठे पर।

5- कटा हुआ घाव 1सेमी x 1/2 सेमी हड्डी तक गहरा दाये हाथ की अंगुली पर।

6- कटा हुआ घाव 1सेमी x 1/2 सेमी x हड्डी तक गहरा दाहिने हाथ की रिंग तथा मिडिल अंगुली पर।

On internal examination, the central bone of the head was found fractured and membranes were found congested.

5. Thereafter on 5.8.1999, Investigating Officer recorded the statement of Meera Devi wife of the deceased and Geeta, daughter of the deceased. On 16. 8.1999 the appellant, Rajveer Singh was arrested and his statement was recorded and on his pointing out, an axe was recovered from an open place near the Bithoora. Thereafter blood stained Pyjama and Shirt of the appellant was also recovered on the pointing out of the appellant, Rajveer Singh from his room kept in a box which were taken in possession by Investigating officer and its fard recovery memos were prepared which have been proved and marked as Ex. Ka. 2 and Ex. Ka.3 respectively.

6. After concluding the investigation, the Investigating Officer submitted the charge sheet against the appellant and one Rakesh which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka. 13. On submission of the charge sheet, learned Magistrate had taken cognizance of the offence and since the case was exclusively triable by court of sessions made over the case to the court of session for trial where it was registered vide S.T. No. 832 of 1999, State Vs. Rajveer Singh and another under section 302 I.P.C. The trial court thereafter framed the charge against the appellant under section 302 I.P.C; and under section 302/34 I.P.C., against co-accused Rakesh vide order dated 5.1.2000. The said charges were read out and explained to the accused in Hindi who abjured the charges, did not plead guilty and claimed to be tried.

7. During course of trial, prosecution in order to bring home the guilt of the appellant has examined as many as three witnesses of fact P.W.1, P.W.3 and P.W.5 and two other formal witnesses, P.W.4 and P.W.6. Their testimony in brief is enumerated below.

8. P.W.1 Surendra Kumar is son of the deceased. He in his examination in chief has stated that accused Rajveer Singh is his real uncle whereas accused Rakesh is his servant. Nem Singh, the deceased was his father who was working in Tehsil Sadar as Kanungo. On the fateful night between 4/5.8.1999 on account of disruption in the electric supply his father Nem Singh was sleeping all alone on a cot outside his Chabutara. At about 5.00 a.m. in the morning his mother woke up and came out and saw that his father was lying dead and his neck and face was cut and blood had collected below his cot on which his mother raised alarm, then he along with neighbours reached there. He immediately got a written report scribed by his uncle Rajveer and after putting his signature there on reached at the police station and handed over the written report to the police, on the basis of which a F.I.R. was registered. It is further stated that his father had purchased a plot in the name of his mother i.e. his grand mother and had sold it 2-3 years back for an amount of Rs. 12.00 lacs. His uncle Rajveer Singh used to demand his share, in the said money. On account of which there had been verbal duel between his father and uncle Rajveer Singh as such he used to bear enmity with his father. In his cross examination he has stated that his father was Kanungo in Tehsil, Sadar whereas his another uncle Raghuveer was an agriculturist. It is wrong to state that the accused Rajveer Singh used to look after the agriculture work. Earlier his family was a joint family. However, one year back partition took place between them and his father and his other brothers were given equal shares of the field. He further denied the suggestion that his father being Kanungo had illegally amassed great wealth, on account of which he had number of enemies. On the fateful night, he was sleeping on the roof and his uncle Ranveer and accused Rajveer Singh were in their respective houses. He denied the suggestion that his uncle used to sleep at his tube-well. In the morning on the cries of his mother, he woke up at about 5.00 a.m. After the incident, Ranveer and Rajveer Singh had also reached at the place of incident. However, by that time he had not suspected Rajveer Singh to have committed the incident. On the date of incident, Investigating Officer had recorded his statement, however, in his statement he had not disclosed to the investigating officer that "मैने दरोगा को नही बताया कि मेरे पिता ने एक प्लाट जो दादी के नाम खरीदा था उसे बारह लाख में बेच दिया मेरे चाचा राजवीर हिस्सा मांगते थे और इस बात को लेकर मेरे पिता व चाचा मे कहा सुनी हुई थी और इस कारण राजवीर मेरे पिता से रंजिश मानते थे पहली बार यह बात अदालत में कहा है यह पूछे जाने पर कि आपने उक्त बात दरोगा को क्यो नही बताई कहा कि मां व बहन ने बताई थी इसलिए मैने दरोगा को नही बताई।". He further stated that at the time of inquest accused Rajveer Singh was present and is also a witness of inquest. On being questioned as to why he had earlier not disclosed the name of Rajveer Singh to the investigating officer he stated that at the earlier point of time he did not suspected him to be an accused. The said suspicion arose after two days, although his mother suspected Rajveer Singh to be involved in the incident. He further denied the suggestion that he is falsely deposing in the case and concealing the true facts.

9. P.W.2, Dr. B.B. Agrawal, is the Medical Officer who conducted an autopsy on the person of the deceased and has noted the injuries which has already been described. The post mortem report is proved and marked as Ex. Ka.2. He further stated that injuries found on the person may be sufficient for his death on 4/5.8.1999 at 5.00 a.m. During cross examination he stated that all the injuries may be caused by some sharp edged object like Farsa, Sword but could not be caused by axe.

10. P.W.3 Ranveer Singh is another brother of the deceased. He in his examination in Chief has stated that the deceased Nem Singh was his elder brother and accused Rajveer Singh is his another brother and the other accused is Rakesh. The incident had taken place about five and half years back. At the relevant time he was sleeping on his roof whereas the deceased was sleeping on the Chabutara of his house. He heard noise at about 12.30 a.m. and had seen Rajveer Singh bathing in the bathroom and washing his clothes. On being questioned he stated that on account of release of buffalo he had gone to tie it. His clothes got dirty on being hit by its tail as such he is taking bath, moreover in the early morning he has to go to his shop, thereafter the witness lied down on his cot. In the morning at 5.00 a.m. his sister-in-law Meera Devi cried loudly that Surendra "your father has been killed by some one". He was attracted by the loud voice and reached there and found his brother Nem Singh lying dead having injury marks on his neck. When he reached there, Rajveer Singh was not present though number of villagers had reached there. At the relevant time Rajveer Singh was giving fodder to his cattle. He then called Rajveer Singh who stated that "as one sow so shall he reap, he should have died earlier". His nephew then went to lodge the report. Rajveer Singh used to quarrel with his brother Nem Singh in respect of a plot situated at Agra which was purchased by deceased Nem Singh in the name of his mother. After about 11-12 days, the police again reached at his village and recorded his statement and arrested Rakesh and thereafter police brought Rajveer Singh after arresting him. Rajveer Singh gave certain clothes from a box kept in his house. Its recovery memo was prepared by the police which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka. 2. Thereafter the police came out and from the roof of the Chappar, recovered an axe and also prepared its recovery memo which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka.3. Axe has been marked as Material Ex. Ka.1 and shirt as Material Ex. Ka.2. He further stated that Nem Singh was having 42-43 Bighas of land in the village having tube-well and he used to manage the entire agricultural activities. He further denied the suggestion that he and his brother often used to stay in the room built at the tube-well and rarely used to come home. He further stated that he did not disclose to the investigating officer that when the villagers gathered at the place of incident, Rajveer Singh was giving fodder to his cattle. Since they were brothers, as such did not disclose the said fact and for the first time is stating it in the court. Rajveer Singh stayed at the place of incident for about two hours when he stated that "as one sow so shall he reap, that he should have died earlier", then too he did not suspect him nor had disclosed this fact to the investigating officer. Rajveer Singh was present at the time of inquest and also participated in the last rites of the deceased and though he suspected Rajveer Singh to be involved in the incident of murder of Nem Singh, yet he did not disclose this fact to the investigating officer as it was a family matter. He did not met investigating officer for 10-12 days and met police only when Rajveer and Rakesh were arrested. He further denied the suggestion that after 10-12 days of the incident, Surendra and Giriraj had got Rajveer Singh arrested. He further denied the suggestion that relation between Rajveer and Nem Singh deceased were cordial and there was no dispute between them. He further denied the suggestion that after the death of Nem Singh there has been dispute between him, his mother and Rajveer Singh over partition of land. He further denied the suggestion that he and Surendra wanted to usurp the entire immoveable property which was objected to by Rajveer Singh, then they in collusion of the police, got him falsely implicated and arrested. He further stated that it is correct to say that after inquest Rajveer Singh was not seen in the village and only at the time of last rites, was seen. He further denied the suggestion that his brother Nem Singh was Kanungo and on account of making illegal demaracations large number of persons started bearing enmity with him, on account of which he has been done to death. He further denied the suggestion that on account of dispute over partition of property with Surendra son of Nem Singh, he has been falsely implicated.

11. P.W.4 is the Head Moharrir who on the basis of written report had drawn the F.I.R. and also prepared corresponding G.D. entry which has been marked as Ex. Ka.4 and Ka. 5 respectively. However, he has not been cross examined.

12. P.W.5 Meera Devi Alias Amiro Devi is wife of the deceased. She in her statement has stated that Rajveer Singh was her Dewar and co-accused Rakesh was the servant of Rajveer Singh. About six years back on the fateful night her husband returned back at his house at about 8.30 p.m. and after taking his meals slept on the Chabutara whereas she was sleeping in her room. At about 5.00 a.m. when she woke up, she saw her husband lying dead. On her cry his son Surendra and other family members reached there, however, Rajveer Singh did not come and continued to give fodder to his cattles. During cross examination she stated that seeing her husband she was wailing and did not go any where. Prior to the incident, partition has been carried out between them and Rajveer. She further stated that while she was wailing Rajveer did not come there. Rajveer used to quarrel with her husband as such she suspected him. It is wrong to state that there was love and affection between her husband and other brothers rather there was dispute between them. She further denied the suggestion that after the death of her husband she tried to usurp the entire property in the village and in the city Agra on which Rajveer Singh objected and stated that only after Terewahi ceremony, partition will ensue. Treating him to be a hurdle, he has been falsely implicated. It is wrong to state that on the instigation of her son, she has been falsely deposing.

13. P.W. 6, Satyaveer Singh is investigating officer who has conducted the investigation and prepared relevant memos of recoveries including pillow, shirt, and Pyjama, belonging to the accused Rajveer and after concluding the investigation submitted the charge sheet. He has proved various documents including recoveries. He had taken the sample of hair strands but did not sent it for matching with that of the accused. On 7.8.1999, wife of the deceased, had suspected Rajveer Singh to be involved in the said incident on account of family dispute, however, on 5.8.1999 Surendra had not suspected any one to be involved in the incident. It is true that at the time of inquest the accused was present and is a witness of inquest. On 16.8.1999, accused Rajveer Singh was arrested and crime weapon was recovered from point 'B' near pond which is an open place accessible to all and sundry. It is wrong to state that who actually committed the murder is not known and there was no evidence against Rajveer, as such he colluded with Surendra and falsely implicated Rajveer, so that he may not be able to demand his share in the property.

14. After concluding the evidence, the statement of accused was recorded under section 313 Cr.P.C. and the trial court held that though the case is based on circumstantial evidence and there is no eye witness account of the incident but prosecution has successfully proved its case against the appellant, by relying upon the recovery of crime weapon axe, under section 27 of the Evidence Act coupled with the conduct of the accused in getting recovered his Pyjama and shirt which he was allegedly wearing at the time of incident from his house kept in a box and held that the chain of circumstances stood complete, indicating beyond reasonable doubt that it was the accused-appellant and none other, who committed the murder of his brother Nem Singh. It was further held that the explanation tendered by the appellant u/s 313 Cr.P.C., was found inadequate and as such he is liable to be convicted. Being aggrieved and dissatisfied by the said Judgment and order the instant criminal appeal has been filed.

15. Learned counsel for the appellant has submitted that the instant case is based on circumstantial evidence and the prosecution has failed to prove any incriminating circumstances so as to prove the guilt of the appellant. However, the Trial Court without appreciating the evidence and material on record has illegally recorded the finding of conviction against the appellant as such the impugned order passed by the trial court is wholly illegal and liable to be set-aside.

16. Learned counsel for the appellant has next submitted that the F.I.R. in the instant case was lodged against unknown person, however, subsequently after two days of the incident, only on the basis of suspicion the name of the appellant has been roped in as an accused.

17. Learned counsel for the appellant has next submitted that from the perusal of the evidence and material on record, it is evident that the appellant was the scribe of the F.I.R. and all throughout remained present in the house and is also a witness of the inquest report. However, subsequently without there being any cogent evidence or material he has been nominated as an accused in the instant case on the basis of suspicion.

18. Learned counsel for the appellant has next submitted that the prosecution has miserably failed to prove the motive against the appellant yet the trial court by relying upon an imaginative and after thought motive, that there was dispute between the brothers over partition of property and sharing of sale proceeds of the house which was in the name of his mother, had illegally recorded the finding of conviction against the appellant which is bad in law and is liable to be set-aside.

19. Learned counsel for the appellant has next submitted that even the recovery of axe and his Pyjama and shirt which he was allegedly wearing at the time of incident at the instance of the accused appellant has not been put to him while recording his statement under section 313 Cr.P.C., in the absence of which the finding of conviction recorded by the trial court against the appellant is wholly illegal and is liable to be set-aside.

20. Learned counsel for the appellant has next submitted that the prosecution has miserably failed to prove the chain of evidence so far complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for a conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused as such the finding of conviction recorded by the trial court is wholly illegal and is liable to be set-aside.

21. Learned counsel for the appellant has next submitted that merely on the basis of suspicion, howsoever strong it may be, the accused-appellant can not be convicted.

22. Learned counsel for the appellant has next submitted that the alleged recovery of axe and clothes of the accused from his house kept in a box have not been proved as required under section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act as well as cannot be said to be relevant under sec. 8 of the evidence Act, as held by the trial court on the basis of which he has been convicted. The impugned Judgment and order is therefore wholly illegal and liable to be set aside.

23. Learned counsel for the appellant has next submitted that even disclosure statement on the basis of which the recovery is alleged to have been made has not been proved by the Investigating Officer as per the settled principle of law and in the absence of which the evidence of recovery is inadmissible in law. However, the trial court by placing implicit reliance on the said recovery has illegally recorded the finding of conviction against the appellant which is bad in law and is liable to be set-aside.

24. In order to buttress his argument, learned counsel for the appellant has placed implicit reliance upon the case reported in [1966]1 SCR 134, Aghnoo Nagesia Vs. State of Bihar and has submitted that the recovery alleged to be made on the pointing out of the appellant is inadmissible and as such can not be made ground for convicting the appellant.

25. Per contra, learned A.G.A. has submitted that the motive against the appellant has been cogently and convincingly proved by the prosecution and as such the finding of conviction recorded by the trial court is just, proper and legal and do not call for any interference by this Court.

26. Learned A.G.A has further submitted that though the recovery of axe alleged to be made on the disclosure statement of the appellant may not be said to be proved under section 27 of the Evidence Act, yet while discarding the evidence in the form of memorandum of discovery his conduct in getting the clothes recovered from his house kept in a box would be an admissible link in the chain of circumstance and would be relevant u/s 8 of the Evidence Act, on the basis of which the appellant complicity in the instant case stands proved as rightly held by the trial court in recording the finding of conviction against the appellant which in the facts and circumstance of the case is just proper and legal and do not call for any interference.

27. Learned A.G.A. has further submitted that in the instant case, the appellant absconded from the scene of incident and as such is abscondance is also indicative of his involvement in the instant case and points towards guilt of the accused.

28. Having considered the rival submissions made by learned counsel for parties and appreciating the evidence and material on record, it is evident that the instant case is based on circumstantial evidence and a blind murder committed during night hours and none of three witnesses P.W.1, Surendra, P.W.3, Ranveer Singh and P.W.5, Meera Devi who is the son, brother and wife of the deceased have witnessed the incident at all and only in the morning when the dead body of the victim was found the F.I.R. has been lodged against unknown persons. However, subsequently after two days of the incident, the appellant alongwith one Rakesh has been implicated as an accused merely on the basis of suspicion.

29. It is germane to point out here that the appellant was throughout present in the house when the deceased wife cried seeing the dead body of her husband. Furthermore, the appellant is the scribe of the F.I.R. which has been lodged by P.W.1 and remained present at the time of inquest and is also a witness of inquest and also participated in the last rites as pointed out by P.W.2. However, subsequently, on the basis of suspicion he has been made an accused stating that he used to quarrel with his brother over partition of property and for not sharing the sale proceeds of the plot which was in the name of his mother. It is further germane to point out here that an imaginative motive in the present case has subsequently been tried to be cooked up in the statement of P.W.1 wherein for the first time before the court he has stated that his father had purchased a plot in the name of his grand mother and had sold it for a sum of Rs. 12.00 lacs., 2-3 years prior to the incident. Accused Rajveer Singh used to quarrel with his father over giving of his share in the sale amount, which was the bone of contention between his father and accused Rajveer Singh, consequent to which he used to bear enmity with him. However, in his cross examination it has been categorically stated by P.W. 1, that the said factum was not disclosed to the investigating officer while recording his statement u/s 161 Cr.P.C., and has been stated for the first time in the court which clearly shows that in respect of motive there is clear contradiction in the statement of the witnesses which goes to the root of the case. Thus, from the said circumstances, it is evident in the instant case that motive has not at all been cogently and convincingly proved. It is well settled principle of law that in a case of circumstantial evidence motive plays very pivotal role and non proving the factum of motive creates serious dent in the prosecution story as in the present case, and make the entire prosecution story doubtful.

30. Furthermore it is evident from the material on record, that the instant case is based on circumstantial evidence and the prosecution has miserably failed to prove the chain of evidence so far as not to leave any reasonable ground for a conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and it must be such as to show that within all human probability the act must have been done by the accused. Moreover, the law with regard to conviction on the basis of circumstantial evidence has very well been crystalized in the judgment of this Court in the case of Sharad Birdhichand Sarda vs. State of Maharashtra, wherein this Court held thus:

"152. Before discussing the cases relied upon by the High Court we would like to cite a few decisions on the nature, character and essential proof required in a criminal case which rests on circumstantial evidence alone. The most fundamental and basic decision of this Court is Hanumant v. State of Madhya Pradesh [AIR 1952 SC 343 : 1952 SCR 1091 : 1953 Cri LJ 129]. This case has been uniformly followed and applied by this Court in a large number of later decisions up to date, for instance, the cases of Tufail (Alias) Simmi v. State of Uttar Pradesh [(1969) 3 SCC 198: 1970 SCC (Cri) 55] and Ramgopal v. State of Maharashtra [(1972) 4 SCC 625: AIR 1972 SC 656]. It may be useful to extract what Mahajan, J. has laid down in Hanumant case [AIR 1952 SC 343 : 1952 SCR 1091 : 1953 Cri LJ 129] :

"It is well to remember that in cases where the evidence is of a circumstantial nature, the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should in the first instance be fully established, and all the facts so established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused. Again, the circumstances should be of a conclusive nature and tendency and they should be such as to exclude every hypothesis but the one proposed to be proved. In other words, there must be a chain of evidence so far complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for a conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and it must be such as to show that within all human probability the act must have been done by the accused."

153. A close analysis of this decision would show that the following conditions must be fulfilled before a case against an accused can be said to be fully established:

(1) the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should be fully established. It may be noted here that this Court indicated that the circumstances concerned "must or should" and not "may be" established. There is not only a grammatical but a legal distinction between "may be proved" and "must be or should be proved" as was held by this Court in Shivaji Sahabrao Bobade v. State of Maharashtra [(1973) 2 SCC 793 : 1973 SCC (Cri) 1033 : 1973 Crl LJ 1783], where the observations were made : [SCC para 19, p. 807 : SCC (Cri) p. 1047]

"Certainly, it is a primary principle that the accused must be and not merely may be guilty before a court can convict and the mental distance between 'may be' and 'must be' is long and divides vague conjectures from sure conclusions."

(2) the facts so established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused, that is to say, they should not be explainable on any other hypothesis except that the accused is guilty,

(3) the circumstances should be of a conclusive nature and tendency,

(4) they should exclude every possible hypothesis except the one to be proved, and

(5) there must be a chain of evidence so complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for the conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and must show that in all human probability the act must have been done by the accused.

154. These five golden principles, if we may say so, constitute the panchsheel of the proof of a case based on circumstantial evidence." It is also settled law that the suspicion, however strong it may be, cannot take the place of proof beyond reasonable doubt. An accused cannot be convicted on the ground of suspicion, no matter how strong it is. An accused is presumed to be innocent unless proved guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

Learned Amicus-curiae further relied upon a case reported in (2010) 8 SCC 593 G. Parshwanath Vs. State of Karnataka, wherein it has been held as under :

"23. In cases where evidence is of a circumstantial nature, the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should, in the first instance, be fully established. Each fact sought to be relied upon must be proved individually. However, in applying this principle a distinction must be made between facts called primary or basic on the one hand and inference of facts to be drawn from them on the other. In regard to proof of primary facts, the court has to judge the evidence and decide whether that evidence proves a particular fact and if that fact is proved, the question whether that fact leads to an inference of guilt of the accused person should be considered. In dealing with this aspect of the problem, the doctrine of benefit of doubt applies. Although there should not be any missing links in the case, yet it is not essential that each of the links must appear on the surface of the evidence adduced and some of these links may have to be inferred from the proved facts. In drawing these inferences, the court must have regard to the common course of natural events and to human conduct and their relations to the facts of the particular case. The court thereafter has to consider the effect of proved facts.

24. In deciding the sufficiency of the circumstantial evidence for the purpose of conviction, the court has to consider the total cumulative effect of all the proved facts, each one of which reinforces the conclusion of guilt and if the combined effect of all these facts taken together is conclusive in establishing the guilt of the accused, the conviction would be justified even though it may be that one or more of these facts by itself or themselves is/are not decisive. The facts established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused and should exclude every hypothesis except the one sought to be proved. But this does not mean that before the prosecution can succeed in a case resting upon circumstantial evidence alone, it must exclude each and every hypothesis suggested by the accused, howsoever, extravagant and fanciful it might be. There must be a chain of evidence so complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for the conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and must show that in all human probability the act must have been done by the accused, where various links in chain are in themselves complete, then the false plea or false defence may be called into aid only to lend assurance to the court."

31. Now if we analyse the evidence in the instant case on the basis of principle of law as discussed above, we find that there is absolutely no circumstance proved by the prosecution so as to establish the guilt of the appellant. It is further evident from the evidence that only on the basis of suspicion an attempt has been made to falsely implicate the accused in the instant case. It is well settled principle of law that suspicion, howsoever strong it may be, can not take place of prove as in the present case.

32. Now coming to the circumstance regarding recovery of blood stained Axe, and blood stained clothes alleged to be made on the basis of disclosure statement made by the accused. It is germane to point out here that the accused Rajveer Singh was arrested by the police on 16.8.1999 and his disclosure statement is to have been recorded and thereafter on its basis clothes having blood stained are said to have been recovered from a box kept inside the house. Thereafter an axe is said to have been recovered by the police from the chappar. So far as the recovery of an axe is concerned, it is evident from the evidence adduced that the same has been recovered by the police itself from chappar of the appellant and not at his pointing out. It is further germane to point out here that even in the statement of the I.O. it is pointed out that the said axe has been recovered from a open place accessible to all and sundry which further makes the recovery doubtful. Recently, Hon'ble Apex Court in a decision in Criminal Appeal No (S). 985 of 2010, Babu Sahebagouda Rudragoudar and others Vs. State of Karnataka had dealt the requirement under law so as to prove a disclosure statement under section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act.

33. The statement of an accused recorded by a police officer under Section 27 of the Evidence Act is basically a memorandum of confession of the accused recorded by the Investigating Officer during interrogation which has been taken down in writing. The confessional part of such statement is inadmissible and only the part which distinctly leads to discovery of fact is admissible in evidence as laid down by this Court in the case of State of Uttar Pradesh v. Deoman Upadhyaya.

34. Thus, when the Investigating Officer steps into the witness box for proving such disclosure statement, he would be required to narrate what the accused stated to him. The Investigating Officer essentially testifies about the conversation held between himself and the accused which has been taken down into writing leading to the discovery of incriminating fact(s).

35. As per Section 60 of the Evidence Act, oral evidence in all cases must be direct. The section leaves no ambiguity and mandates that no secondary/hearsay evidence can be given in case of oral evidence, except for the circumstances enumerated in the section. In case of a person who asserts to have heard a fact, only his evidence must be given in respect of the same.

36. The manner of proving the disclosure statement under Section 27 of the Evidence Act has been the subject matter of consideration by this Court in various judgments, some of which are being referred to below.

37. In the case of Mohd. Abdul Hafeez v. State of Andhra Pradesh, it was held by this Court as follows:-

"5. ....If evidence otherwise confessional in character is admissible under Section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act, it is obligatory upon the Investigating Officer to state and record who gave the information; when he is dealing with more than one accused, what words were used by him so that a recovery pursuant to the information received may be connected to the person giving the information so as to provide incriminating evidence against that person."

38. Further, in the case of Subramanya v. State of Karnataka, it was held as under: -

"82. Keeping in mind the aforesaid evidence, we proceed to consider whether the prosecution has been able to prove and establish the discoveries in accordance with law. Section 27 of the Evidence Act reads thus:

"27. How much of information received from accused may be proved. —

Provided that, when any fact is deposed to as discovered in consequence of information received from a person accused of any offence, in the custody of a police officer, so much of such information, whether it amounts to a confession or not, as relates distinctly to the fact thereby discovered, may be proved."

83. The first and the basic infirmity in the evidence of all the aforesaid prosecution witnesses is that none of them have deposed the exact statement said to have been made by the appellant herein which ultimately led to the discovery of a fact relevant under Section 27 of the Evidence Act.

84. If, it is say of the investigating officer that the accused appellant while in custody on his own free will and volition made a statement that he would lead to the place where he had hidden the weapon of offence, the site of burial of the dead body, clothes etc., then the first thing that the investigating officer should have done was to call for two independent witnesses at the police station itself. Once the two independent witnesses would arrive at the police station thereafter in their presence the accused should be asked to make an appropriate statement as he may desire in regard to pointing out the place where he is said to have hidden the weapon of offence etc. When the accused while in custody makes such statement before the two independent witnesses (panch-witnesses) the exact statement or rather the exact words uttered by the accused should be incorporated in the first part of the panchnama that the investigating officer may draw in accordance with law. This first part of the panchnama for the purpose of Section 27 of the Evidence Act is always drawn at the police station in the presence of the independent witnesses so as to lend credence that a particular statement was made by the accused expressing his willingness on his own free will and volition to point out the place where the weapon of offence or any other article used in the commission of the offence had been hidden. Once the first part of the panchnama is completed thereafter the police party along with the accused and the two independent witnesses (panch-witnesses) would proceed to the particular place as may be led by the accused. If from that particular place anything like the weapon of offence or blood stained clothes or any other article is discovered then that part of the entire process would form the second part of the panchnama. This is how the law expects the investigating officer to draw the discovery panchnama as contemplated under Section 27 of the Evidence Act. If we read the entire oral evidence of the investigating officer then it is clear that the same is deficient in all the aforesaid relevant aspects of the matter." (emphasis supplied)

39. Similar view was taken by this Court in the case of Ramanand @ Nandlal Bharti v. State of Uttar Pradesh, wherein this Court held that mere exhibiting of memorandum prepared by the Investigating Officer during investigation cannot amount to proof of its contents. While testifying on oath, the Investigating Officer would be required to narrate the sequence of events which transpired leading to the recording of the disclosure statement.

40. Now applying the said principle in the instant case, we find that none of the aforesaid procedure laid down by Hon'ble Apex Court for proving the disclosure statement has been followed. There is no description at all of the conversation which had transpired between Investigating Officer and the accused which was recorded in the disclosure statements. Thus, these disclosure statements can not be read in evidence and the recoveries made in furtherance thereof are non est in the eyes of law. Thus, finding of trial court while recording the conviction against the appellant in respect of recovery to be proved, is against the settled proposition of law as laid down by Hon'ble Apex Court and therefore it can not be sustained and is liable to discarded.

41. Now we may discuss the submission of learned A.G.A., regarding the manner in which recovery of blood stained Pyjama and blood stained shirt is said to have been made at the instance of the accused from his house kept in a box which may be relevant circumstance under section 8 of the Evidence Act as held by Hon'ble Apex Court in a recent decision in Criminal Appeal No. 739 of 2017, Shahaja @ Shahajan Ismail Mohd. Shaikh Vs. State of Maharasthra, wherein it has been held that even while discarding the evidence in the form of discovery panchnama the conduct would be relevant under section 8 of the Act.

The evidence of discovery would be admissble as conduct under section 8 of the Act quite apart from the admissibility of the disclosure statement under section 27, as this Court observed in AN. Venkatesh V. State of Karnataka, (2005) 7 SCC 714,:

"By virtue of Section 8 of the Evidence Act, the conduct of the accused person is relevant, if such conduct influences or is influenced by any fact in issue or relevant fact. The evidence of the circumstance, simpliciter, that the accused pointed out to the police officer, the place where the dead body of the kidnapped boy was found and on their pointing out the body was exhumed, would be admissible as conduct under Section 8 irrespective of the fact whether the statement made by the accused contemporaneously with or antecedent to such conduct falls within the purview of Section 27 or not as held by this Court in Prakash Chand Vs. State (Delhi Admn.) [(1979) 3 SC 90]. Even if we hold that the disclosure statement made by the accused appellants (Ex. P14 and P15) is not admissible under Section 27 of the Evidence Act, still it is relevant under Section 8."

42. In the State (NCT of Delhi) v. Navjot Sandhu, (2005) 11 SCC 600, the two provisions i.e. Section 8 and Section 27 of the Act were elucidated in detail with reference to the case law on the subject and apropos to Section 8 of the Act, wherein it was held:

"Before proceeding further, we may advert to Section 8 of the Evidence Act. Section 8 insofar as it is relevant for our purpose makes the conduct of an accused person relevant, if such conduct influences or is influenced by any fact in issue or relevant fact. It could be either previous or subsequent conduct. There are two Explanations to the Section, which explains the ambit of the word 'conduct'. They are:

Explanation 1 : The word 'conduct' in this Section does not include statements, unless those statements accompany and explain acts other than statements, but this explanation is not to affect the relevancy of statements under any other Section of this Act.

Explanation 2 : When the conduct of any person is relevant, any statement made to him or in his presence and hearing, which affects such conduct, is relevant. The conduct, in order to be admissible, must be such that it has close nexus with a fact in issue or relevant fact. The Explanation 1 makes it clear that the mere statements as distinguished from acts do not constitute 'conduct' unless those statements "accompany and explain acts other than statements". Such statements accompanying the acts are considered to be evidence of res gestae. Two illustrations appended to Section 8 deserve special mention. (f) The question is, whether A robbed B.

The facts that, after B was robbed, C said in A's presence --the police are coming to look for the man who robbed B", and that immediately afterwards A ran away, are relevant.

(i) A is accused of a crime.

The facts that, after the commission of the alleged crime, he absconded, or was in possession of property or the proceeds of property acquired by the crime, or attempted to conceal things which were or might have been used in committing it, are relevant. We have already noticed the distinction highlighted in Prakash Chand's case (supra) between the conduct of an accused which is admissible under Section 8 and the statement made to a police officer in the course of an investigation which is hit by Section 162 Cr.P.C. The evidence of the circumstance, simpliciter, that the accused pointed out to the police officer, the place where stolen articles or weapons used in the commission of the offence were hidden, would be admissible as 'conduct' under Section 8 irrespective of the fact whether the statement made by the accused contemporaneously with or antecedent to such conduct, falls within the purview of Section 27, as pointed out in Prakash Chand's case. In Om Prakash case (supra) this Court held: Even apart from the admissibility of the information under Section, the evidence of the Investigating Officer and the Panchas that the accused had taken them to PW11 (from whom he purchased the weapon) and pointed him out and as corroborated by PW11 himself would be admissible under Section 8 of the Evidence Act as 'conduct' of the accused".

43. However, it would be relevant to note that the Hon'ble Apex Court in the said Judgment has further held that in the aforesaid context, we would like to sound a note of caution. Although the conduct of an accused may be a relevant fact under Section 8 of the Act, yet the same, by itself, cannot be a ground to convict him or hold him guilty and that too, for a serious offence like murder. Like any other piece of evidence, the conduct of an accused is also one of the circumstances which the court may take into consideration along with the other evidence on record, direct or indirect. What we are trying to convey is that the conduct of the accused alone, though may be relevant under Section 8 of the Act, cannot form the basis of conviction.

44. Even the case cited by learned counsel for the appellant reported in [1966] 1 SCR 134 lends support to his case and makes the recoveries liable to be discarded. It is further germane to point out here that the recovers said to be made at the pointing out of the appellant has not been put at all to the accused in his statement under section 313 Cr.P.C. which further seriously dents the prosecution story and makes the appellant liable to be acquitted. It is well settled principle of law that all incriminating circumstances against the appellant should necessarily be put to the accused and if any circumstance on the basis of which finding of conviction is said to be recorded is not put to the accused to offer his explanation then the said circumstance would create serious dent in the prosecution story and would entitle the accused to be acquitted as in the instant case.

45. It is further germane to point out here that the abscondence of the accused at the relevant point of time from the place of incident otherwise would also not be a material ground to hold the conviction of the appellant. The Hon'ble Apex Court in several of its decisions has held that "Mere abscondence by itself does not necessarily lead to a firm conclusion of guilty mind. An innocent man may also abscond in order to evade arrest, as in the light of prevailing situation, such an action may be part of natural conduct of accused, as held by the Hon'ble Apex Court in its decision reported in (2013) 12 SCC 406 Sujit Biswas Vs. State of Assam.

Thus on the basis of the aforesaid facts and surrounding circumstances, discussed above we are of the opinion that only on the basis of abscondence of the accused the appellant cannot be held to be guilty in the instant case as such in the light of the settled proposition of law laid above the said argument of the learned AGA does not hold much significance and is liable to be repelled.

46. Now if we recapitulate the entire facts and circumstances of the case in the light of the above principle of law in the instant case, we find that the evidence of discovery may be admissible as conduct under section 8 of the Act as held by the trial court but at the same time it has been held by Hon'ble Apex Court, sounding a note of caution, wherein it has been held that the conduct of an accused may be relevant fact under section 8 of the Act, yet the same, by itself, cannot be a ground to convict him or hold guilty and that too, for a serious offence like murder. Thus, in the backdrop of the circumstances even considering section 8 of the Evidence Act. Conviction of the appellant under section 302 I.P.C., can not be sustained in the eye of law and is liable to be set-aside.

47. Thus, from the entire discussions, we find that prosecution has miserably failed to prove its case against the appellant and the evidence adduced is in fact in admissible as discussed above. Even from the entire evidence it can not be said that in all human probability act must have been done by the accused particularly when there were two other male members in the family present in the house at the time of incident and the instant case, being the case of a blind murder.

48. Thus, in view of the foregoing discussions, we are of the opinion that the prosecution has miserably failed to prove its case against the appellant and he is entitled for benefit of doubt. The finding of conviction recorded by trial court is not just, proper and legal and is liable to be set-aside and the appellant is acquitted of the charges framed against him by allowing the present appeal. He is on bail. His bail bonds are cancelled and sureties are discharged, subject compliance of provision u/s 437 A Cr.P.C, within 15 days from the date of the Judgment.

49. This criminal appeal is accordingly allowed.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1403
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 13.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SIDDHARTH, J.
THE HON'BLE VINOD DIWAKAR, J.

Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 3195 of 2024

Neelam Singh ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Ritesh Srivastava

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A.

Criminal Law- The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 – Sections 154(3), 156(3), 190 & 200 – Information to the Police and their powers to Investigate - Jurisdiction – Constitution of India, 1950 – Article 226 – Registration of FIR - Police are obligated to lodge an F.I.R. if the complaint meets the requirments of cognizable offence, and if the police fail in their duty, the aggrieved person can approach the Court of Magistrate for redressal of their grievances - Aggrieved citizen with clean hands must have free access to invoke the power under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. which warrants the application of judicial mind - Lodging a complaint with the police regarding the commission of a cognizable offence does not entitle the complainant to invoke writ jurisdiction to seek a writ of mandamus directing the police to register an FIR - Especially true in cases where there are allegations and counter-allegations between two parties involved in the dispute. (Para- 11, 14, 22,)

Writ Petition is dismissed. (E-13)

Held: Advocates are resorting to unethical practices by invoking the writ jurisdiction under the pretext of fundamental rights infringement, while it appears to be an attempt to settle a personal vendetta with the police. Petitioner is currently facing four serious criminal cases in the same police station. The proceedings initiated by the petitioner are an abuse of the process of law, and any indulgence by this Court would have an adverse effect on the administration of justice and detrimentally impact the morale of the police, an institution tasked with upholding law and order in civil society. Anyone who has been graced with the owner of wearing of robes is the officer of the Court, and his prime duty is to assist the Court in the administration of justice. This is a novel profession not only because he enjoys an aristocratic position in society but also obligates him to be worthy of the community's confidence in him as a vehicle of achieving justice. (Para - 27, 28, 31,)

List of Cases cited:

1. Sindhu Janak Nagargoje Vs The St. of Mah. & ors. (Special Leave to Appeal (Criminal) No.5883 of 2020)

2. Lalita Kumari Vs St. of U. P. & ors., (2014) 2 SCC 1

3. Maksud Saiyed Vs St. of Guj. & ors. , (2008) 5 SCC 668

4. Sakiri Vasu Vs St. of U.P. & ors. , (2008) 2 SCC 409

5. Anil Kumar & ors. Vs M.K. Aiyappa & anr., (2013) 10 SCC 705

6. Ramdev Food Products Pvt. Ltd. Vs St. of Gujarat , (2015) 6 SCC 439

7. Suresh Kankra Vs St. of U.P. , (2022) SCC OnLine SC 1947

8. Waseem Haider Vs St. of U.P. through Principal Secretary Home Lko & Ors. , (2020) SCC OnLine All 1866

9. M. Subramaniam & anr. Vs S. Janaki & Anr. , (2020) 16 SCC 728

10. Sudhir Bhaskarrao Tambe Vs Hemant Yashwant Dhage & Ors, (2016) 6 SCC 277

11. Sweta Bhadoria Vs St. of M.P, (2017) (I) MPJR 247

12. Priyanka Srivastava & anr. Vs St. of U.P. & Ors, (2015) 6 SCC 287

13. Bar Council of Mah. Vs M.V. Dabolkar, AIR 1976 SC 242

14. Whirlpool Corporation Vs Registrar of Trade Marks, (1998) 8 S.C.C. 1

15. Baker Oils Tools (India) Pvt. Ltd. Vs Baker Hughes Ltd. & ors. (R.F.A. No.583/2004)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vinod Diwakar, J.)

1. The petitioner1 has approached this Court through the instant writ petition to issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus directing the Principal Secretary, Department of Home, Lucknow, U.P., to take stringent action against (i) the Commissioner of Police, Prayagraj; (ii) Deputy Commissioner of Police, Prayagraj; (iii) Assistant Commissioner of Police, Colonelganj, Prayagraj; (iv) Station House Officer, P.S. Colonelganj, Prayagraj; (v) S.I. Sandeep Yadav posted at P.S. Colonelganj, Prayagraj; (vi) PRO Deputy Commissioner of Police, Prayagraj; and further sought mandamus to take action on the complaint dated 26.2.2024.

2. On examination of the complaint, it reveals that the petitioner has made a complaint on 26.2.2024 at 04:00 p.m. at P.S. Colonelganj, Prayagraj with respect to the allegations inter-alia stating that the petitioner's husband was at his residence when a dispute arose between petitioner's husband and his neighbours, someone dialled 112, the police reached at the place of incident, slapped and abused the petitioner's husband and forcibly took him to the police station at Colonelganj. The petitioner informed her husband's friends to reach the police station at the earliest, who all are practising Advocate of this High Court. The petitioner's husband was brutally assaulted and kept in the police lock-up, where paper weight and locks were thrown at him with intention to kill, but somehow he managed to save his life. The incident was witnessed by petitioner's husband's friends, namely, Shri Tejbhan Singh, Shri Acharya Tripathi and Shri Harish Srivastava. The petitioner reported the incident by way of a written complaint to police to register an F.I.R. against the police officers, and the PRO of Commissioner of Police was also informed about the matter and the issue was also brought into the knowledge of the higher officers, but despite that no heed was paid to her grievances.

3. Shri Ashish Kumar Mishra, Treasurer of the High Court Bar Association, also met with the PRO of Commissioner of Police Prayagraj and apprised him about the incident and requested action against the errant police officers. A communication dated 26.2.2024 in respect of the Advocates' grievances at 09:00 p.m. was also allegedly communicated to the office of the Hon'ble Chief Justice of this Court to save the Advocate's life.

4. Aggrieved by the non-registration of F.I.R. against the police officers, the petitioner approached this Court under writ jurisdiction and thus, Shri I.K. Chaturvedi, learned Senior Counsel for the petitioner argued that (i) the contents of the complaint dated 26.2.2024 is forming part of the cognizable offence, therefore the police are duty bound to register an F.I.R., (ii) there are serious allegations of forceful abduction in a police van, (iii) the petitioner's husband was brutally beaten up in the police lock-up and ill-behaved by the police officers at the police station, and, therefore, police is duty bound to register the first information report and in support of arguments he has relied upon Sindhu Janak Nagargoje v. The State of Maharashtra and others[2], and celebrated judgment of Lalita Kumari v. State of Uttar Pradesh and others[3].

5. On the other hand, Shri P.C. Srivastava, learned Additional Advocate General, assisted by Shri G.P. Singh learned A.G.A. submits that there is no iota of truth in the contents of the complaint dated 26.2.2024. The complaint is deceptive, artificial, motivated and contrived for the purpose and object to prima-facie ensure that the ingredients of any cognizable offence are satisfied on plane reading of the contents of complaint. The writ petition is not maintainable, as the petitioner had an equally efficacious remedy to approach the Magistrate concerned under Chapter XII and XV of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973. The writ petition is also liable to be dismissed at this stage because of the non-joinder of the necessary parties. Initially the petitioner's husband tried to encroach upon the public land for their private use in the vicinity of which there exists an ancient Kali Mata Temple, in which all the neighbours gather for the religious congregations. This led to have an altercation between the petitioner's husband on one side and a group of neighbours comprising advocates and public spirited persons on the other side. As there is one advocate on one side and several advocates on other side, the issue got boiled and the matter was taken to the police station. The petitioner's husband was heavily drunk and was abusing in filthy language and ill-behaving with everyone present over there on the spot. The police was called by one of the aggrieved lawyer's family and the petitioner's husband was taken to the police station respectfully and dignity of an individual was very well taken care by the local police. As the campaigning for the High Court Bar Association was on high spirit, therefore, a group of advocates reached at the spot and thereafter gathered at the police station, from both the sides. Sensing that there could be a law and order problem, the additional police force was called from the nearby police station/district over through ROIP (Radio Over Internet Protocol System). He prays for dismissal of the petition with costs being frivolous and devoid of merits.

6. In support of his submission, learned A.A.G. contends that there is no mechanism before this Court under writ jurisdiction to verify the truth and veracity of the allegations made in the complaint. This is particularly significant when both parties' claims and counter-claims are supported by respective affidavits and CCTV footage. It is emphasized that within the scope of criminal writ jurisdiction, the Court is not empowered to assess the veracity of allegations or determine the credibility of evidence.

7. Shri P.C. Srivastava has relied upon Maksud Saiyed v. State of Gujarat and others[4], Sakiri Vasu v. State of U.P. and others[5], Anil Kumar and others v. M.K. Aiyappa and another[6], Ramdev Food Products Private Limited v. State of Gujarat[7], Suresh Kankra v. State of U.P.[8], Waseem Haider v. State of U.P. through Principal Secretary Home Lko & Ors.[9], M. Subramaniam & Anr. v. S. Janaki & Anr.[10], Sudhir Bhaskarrao Tambe v. Hemant Yashwant Dhage & Ors[11], Sweta Bhadoria v. State of M.P.[12].

8. On perusal of the record, it's transpired that the police were called upon to file counter affidavit twice; the first counter affidavit dated 4.3.2024 was filed by Deputy Commissioner of Police, Prayagraj Commissionerate and the second affidavit of compliance dated 4.4.2024 was filed by S.H.O. P.S. Colonelganj, District Prayagraj. On perusal of the both the affidavits it's revealed that; (i) on the complaint of Advocate Alok Srivastava, the next door neighbour of the petitioner's husband, SHO Colonelganj informed the Chowki-in-charge, Mumfordganj at 13:42 to reach at the spot, and maintained peace at the place of incident, (ii) the SHO and the Chowki-in-charge immediately reached at the spot and found that Advocate Alok Srivastava, Advocated Arun Sharma, Pradeep Kumar Srivastava, Anoop Srivastava, Pranav Tripathi, Advocate Dilip Srivastava, Vimal Gupta, Vineet Srivastava, Prabal Pratap Srivastava, Atul Singh, and Aniruddh Maurya have complained that the petitioner's husband, Shri Amarjeet Singh, is forcibly occupying the land of the ancient Kali Mata Temple and when he was objected to stop encroachment on the public land, he under the influence of liquor hurled filthy language to the men, women and all neighbours gathered there at the time of incident and terrorized the neighbours by waving long stick in his hand, (iii) after assessing the overall situation, the local SHO informed the PRV and sought the additional force to control the situation, and law and order, (iv) despite repeated persuasion by the chowki incharge and the neighbours, the petitioner's husband was not ready to listen to anyone and was bent upon to assault the neighbours and police personnels, (v) to control the situation of unrest/law and order, ROIP (Radio Over Internet Protocol System) was activated by the police force around 14:10, the petitioner's husband was brought in a respectful manner at the police station in PRV Vehicle 0084 and requested all the victims to reach at the police station, (vi) the Advocates from both the sides were also reached at the police station along with dozen of complaints against petitioner's husband, who were asked to sit properly and asked to explain their grievances so that everything could be settled amicably in a dignified manner, (vii) after a herculean task by the police officers with the aim to maintain harmony and brotherhood between the neighbours-particularly between two group of advocates- the petitioner's husband was cooled down and his custody was handed over to his friend Dinesh Pratap Singh by executing a Supurdaginama, which is annexed as Annexure-CA-2 along with the counter affidavit, (viii) again after few hours a group of advocates associated with the petitioner's husband reached at the police station and started ill-behaving with the police force, the SHO and ACP Colonelganj was abused by threatening them to dis-robe their uniform, (ix) the CCTV footage of police station is also attached with the counter affidavit filed by the police, (x) the incident was recorded in the GD, which is forming part of the counter affidavit as Annexure-CA-3, (xi) again on 28.3.2024 at around 11:30 a.m. the neighbours, who were aggrieved by the illegal encroachment of the public land and criminal act of the petitioner's husband, filed a written complaint to the ACP and apprised that the petitioner's husband is a man of suspicious character and is found involved in four criminal cases enumerated herein: (a) Case Crime No.1090 of 2004, under Sections 307, 286, 332, 353 I.P.C. and Section 7 of C.L.A. Act, registered at P.S. Colonelganj, District Prayagraj, (b) Case Crime No.1092 of 2004, under Sections 336, 332, 147, 148, 427 I.P.C. and Public Property Damages Act, registered at P.S. Colonelganj, District Prayagraj, (c) Case Crime No.1094 of 2004, under Sections 147, 148, 149, 307, 332, 353, 427, 442, 286, 332 I.P.C., registered at P.S. Colonelganj, District Prayagraj, (d) Case Crime No.2118 of 1998, under Sections 307, 504, 427 I.P.C., registered at P.S. Colonelganj, District Prayagraj, (xii) a copy of the District Crime Report Bureau (DCRB) report is also annexed along with the counter affidavit reflecting with above-stated cases.

9. Upon scrutiny of the counter affidavit submitted by the Deputy Commissioner of Police, it came to light that there were two complaints dated 26.2.2024 and 28.2.2024, signed by multiple individuals including Ms. Sandhya Srivastava, Ms. Stuti Srivastava, Ms. Reeta Srivastava, Mr. Manu Srivastava, Advocate Alok Srivastava, Advocate Arun Sharma, Pradeep Kumar Srivastava, Anoop Srivastava, Pranav Tripathi, Advocate Dilip Srivastava, Vimal Gupta, Vineet Srivastava, Prabal Pratap Srivastava, Atul Singh, and Aniruddh Maurya. Further examination revealed that on 26.2.2024, around 12:30 p.m., the petitioner's husband attempted to encroach upon the land belonging to the temple. Upon objection from neighbours, Shri Amarjit Singh, the petitioner's husband, in a heavily intoxicated state, verbally abused and behaved inappropriately with the women and neighbours. The neighbours promptly informed the police, leading to the petitioner's husband being taken to the police station. Subsequently, his friends, all of whom were advocates, further engaged in abusive, disrespectful, and threatening behaviour towards the police officers present at the station.

10. Advocate Arun Sharma, Advocate Alok Srivastava, Advocate Dilip Srivastava, Prabal Pratap Srivastava, Aniruddh Maurya, Pradeep Srivastava, Pranav Tripathi, Anoop Srivastava, Atul Singh, Vineet Srivastava, and Vimal Gupta have filed respective affidavits duly notarized by notary public inter-alia stating in the line of contents of the above-stated complaint. The same are not repeated herein for the sake of brevity.

11. As the complaints from both groups of advocates, prima-facie, satisfy the basic requirements to attract the ingredients of cognizable offence, it would be judicious to have a bird's eye view of the judgments passed by the Supreme Court in this regard. Undoubtedly, the police are obligated to lodge an F.I.R. if the complaint meets the requirments of cognizable offence, and if the police fail in their duty to register an F.I.R., the aggrieved person reserves its right to approach the Court of Magistrate for redressal of their grievances.

12. The Constitution Bench in Lalita Kumari v. State of U.P. and others (supra) has outlined the law with regard to the registration of F.I.R. The relevant portion of the judgment is reiterated herein under:

"120. In view of the aforesaid discussion, we hold:

120.1. The registration of FIR is mandatory under Section 154 of the Code, if the information discloses commission of a cognizable offence and no preliminary inquiry is permissible in such a situation.

120.2. If the information received does not disclose a cognizable offence but indicates the necessity for an inquiry, a preliminary inquiry may be conducted only to ascertain whether cognizable offence is disclosed or not.

120.3. If the inquiry discloses the commission of a cognizable offence, the FIR must be registered. In cases where preliminary inquiry ends in closing the complaint, a copy of the entry of such closure must be supplied to the first informant forthwith and not later than one week. It must disclose reasons in brief for closing the complaint and not proceeding further.

120.4. The police officer cannot avoid his duty of registering offence if cognizable offence is disclosed. Action must be taken against erring officers who do not register the FIR if information received by him discloses a cognizable offence.

120.5. The scope of preliminary inquiry is not to verify the veracity or otherwise of the information received but only to ascertain whether the information reveals any cognizable offence.

120.6. As to what type and in which cases preliminary inquiry is to be conducted will depend on the facts and circumstances of each case. The category of cases in which preliminary inquiry may be made are as under:

(a) Matrimonial disputes/family disputes

(b) Commercial offences

(c) Medical negligence cases

(d) Corruption cases

(e) Cases where there is abnormal delay/laches in initiating criminal prosecution, for example, over 3 months' delay in reporting the matter without satisfactorily explaining the reasons for delay.

The aforesaid are only illustrations and not exhaustive of all conditions which may warrant preliminary inquiry.

120.7 While ensuring and protecting the rights of the accused and the complainant, a preliminary inquiry should be made time-bound and in any case it should not exceed fifteen days generally and in exceptional cases, by giving adequate reasons, six weeks' time is provided. The fact of such delay and the causes of it must be reflected in the General Diary entry.13

120.8. Since the General Diary/Station Diary/Daily Diary is the record of all information received in a police station, we direct that all information relating to cognizable offences, whether resulting in registration of FIR or leading to an inquiry, must be mandatorily and meticulously reflected in the said diary and the decision to conduct a preliminary inquiry must also be reflected, as mentioned above."

13. The Supreme Court in Priyanka Srivastava & Anr. v. State of U.P. & Ors.[14], further clarified certain aspects in relation to the registration of F.I.R. where, primarily, dispute is of a commercial nature or as if somebody is determined to settle the personal score by taking undue advantage of criminal courts and thus, observed:

"2. This Court has held in Sakiri Vasu v. State of U.P. [Sakiri Vasu v. State of U.P., (2008) 2 SCC 409 : (2008) 1 SCC (Cri) 440, that if a person has a grievance that his FIR has not been registered by the police, or having been registered, proper investigation is not being done, then the remedy of the aggrieved person is not to go to the High Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, but to approach the Magistrate concerned under Section 156(3) CrPC. If such an application under Section 156(3) CrPC is made and the Magistrate is, prima facie, satisfied, he can direct the FIR to be registered, or if it has already been registered, he can direct proper investigation to be done which includes in his discretion, if he deems it necessary, recommending change of the investigating officer, so that a proper investigation is done in the matter. We have said this in Sakiri Vasu case [Sakiri Vasu v. State of U.P., (2008) 2 SCC 409 : (2008) 1 SCC (Cri) 440 : AIR 2008 SC 907] because what we have found in this country is that the High Courts have been flooded with writ petitions praying for registration of the first information report or praying for a proper investigation.

3. We are of the opinion that if the High Courts entertain such writ petitions, then they will be flooded with such writ petitions and will not be able to do any other work except dealing with such writ petitions. Hence, we have held that the complainant must avail of his alternate remedy to approach the Magistrate concerned under Section 156(3) CrPC and if he does so, the Magistrate will ensure, if prima facie he is satisfied, registration of the first information report and also ensure a proper investigation in the matter, and he can also monitor the investigation."

(Emphasis supplied)

14. A principled and really aggrieved citizen with clean hands must have free access to invoke the power under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. which warrants the application of judicial mind. It protects the citizens. This provision serves to safeguard citizens' rights; however, when malicious litigations are pursued to harass fellow citizens, measures should be taken to thwart such abuse. The situation can be viewed from a different perspective.

15. When the complainants are lawyers, the pivotal role of a lawyer hinges upon their integrity and professional conduct. Justice Krishna Aiyar, speaking for the bench in Bar Council of Maharashtra v. M.V. Dabolkar[15], highlighted that a lawyer's primary duty is to administer justice, which entails adhering meticulously to ethical standards to maintain the community's trust in them as custodians of justice. "Law is not a commodity to be traded in briefs; it transcends no merchandise."

16. In Whirlpool Corporation v. Registrar of Trade Marks[16], the Supreme Court was of the view that under Article 226 of the Constitution, the High Court, having regard to the facts of the case, has the discretion to entertain or not to entertain a writ petition. But the High Court has imposed upon itself certain restrictions one of which is that if an effective and efficacious remedy is available, the High Court should not normally exercise its jurisdiction. But the alternative remedy as has been consistently held by this Court not to operate as a bar in at least three contingencies, namely, where the writ petition has been filed for the enforcement of any of the fundamental rights or where there has been a violation of the principle of natural justice or where the order or proceedings are wholly without jurisdiction or the vires of the act is challenged.

17. The relevant paragraph of Sudhir Bhaskarrao Tambe case (supra) is extracted herein below in which the Hon'ble Supreme Court has relied and referred Sakiri Vasu v. State of U.P. (supra):

"2. This Court has held in Sakiri Vasu v. State of U.P. [Sakiri Vasu v. State of U.P., (2008) 2 SCC 409 : (2008) 1 SCC (Cri) 440, that if a person has a grievance that his FIR has not been registered by the police, or having been registered, proper investigation is not being done, then the remedy of the aggrieved person is not to go to the High Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, but to approach the Magistrate concerned under Section 156(3) CrPC. If such an application under Section 156(3) CrPC is made and the Magistrate is, prima facie, satisfied, he can direct the FIR to be registered, or if it has already been registered, he can direct proper investigation to be done which includes in his discretion, if he deems it necessary, recommending change of the investigating officer, so that a proper investigation is done in the matter. We have said this in Sakiri Vasu case [Sakiri Vasu v. State of U.P., (2008) 2 SCC 409 : (2008) 1 SCC (Cri) 440 : AIR 2008 SC 907] because what we have found in this country is that the High Courts have been flooded with writ petitions praying for registration of the first information report or praying for a proper investigation.

3. We are of the opinion that if the High Courts entertain such writ petitions, then they will be flooded with such writ petitions and will not be able to do any other work except dealing with such writ petitions. Hence, we have held that the complainant must avail of his alternate remedy to approach the Magistrate concerned under Section 156(3) CrPC and if he does so, the Magistrate will ensure, if prima facie he is satisfied, registration of the first information report and also ensure a proper investigation in the matter, and he can also monitor the investigation."

(Emphasis supplied)

18. In M. Subramaniam & Anr. (supra), the Hon'ble Supreme Court was of the view that when any power is expressly granted by the statute, it is impliedly included in the ground, even without special mention, every power and every control of the denial of which would render the grant itself ineffective. Where an act confers jurisdiction, it impliedly also grants the power to do all such acts or employ such means as are essentially necessary for its execution.

19. A co-ordinate Bench of this Court in the Waseem Haider case (supra) has occasioned to deal with a similar case where the petitioner had approached the High Court seeking mandamus for registration of F.I.R. against the respondents. While declining the petitioner's prayer, the co-ordinate Bench of this Court was of the opinion that the Code of Criminal Procedure incorporates enough safeguards for victims and the accused. It lays down detailed procedures for conducting an investigation, filing of final report, taking cognizance, and conducting the trial. It provides enough safeguards against the illegal action of police. It is a self contained code and comprehensive on all aspects of criminal law. A complainant has statutorily engrafted remedies to ensure that his complaint is taken to its logical end. Thus, he must first exhaust said remedies and cannot invoke extraordinary writ remedy as a matter of course, even when a crime is not registered and there is no progress in the investigation.

20. A writ of mandamus seeking to compel the police to fulfil its statutory obligation under Section 154 of the Cr.P.C. may be refused to the complainant if they have not first pursued alternative remedies available under Section/s 154(3), 156(3), 190, and 200 of the Cr.P.C., unless the complainant falls within the four exceptions outlined in the Whirlpool Corporation (supra) case.

21. We respectfully say, the Lalita Kumari case (supra) does not pertain to the issue of entertainment of writ of mandamus for compelling the police to perform its statutory duty under Section 154 Cr.P.C. without availing alternative remedy under Sections 154(3), 156(3), 190 and 200 Cr.P.C. Moreover, it was not a case Under Article 226 of the Constitution, where alternative remedy has been exhausted by the complainant or the writ petition has been filed for the enforcement of any of the Fundamental Rights or; where there has been a violation of the principle of natural justice or; where the order or proceedings are whole without jurisdiction, or the vires of an Act is challenged.

22. Merely lodging a complaint with the police regarding the commission of a cognizable offence does not automatically entitle the complainant to invoke writ jurisdiction to seek a writ of mandamus directing the police to register an FIR. This is especially true in cases where there are allegations and counter-allegations between two parties involved in the dispute. If, subsequently, one party clandestinely seeks relief under writ jurisdiction to compel the registration of an FIR against the police, particularly targeting high-ranking officers in the district, with apparent ulterior motives driven by a history of serious cases registered against them, aimed at seeking retribution from the police, as evidenced by the circumstances of the present case.

23. The complainants, who have been aggrieved by the illegal actions of the petitioner's husband and have formally reported the incident to the police, their complaint being reported in the General Diary, have not been arrayed as respondents for reasons known only to the petitioner. The contents of the complaint appear patently false, and the initiation of criminal proceedings appears to be motivated by malice and ill-intent, with the aim of seeking revenge against the neighbours and settling personal scores with the police. This is evident from the complaints dated 26.02.2024 and 28.02.2024, as well as from video recordings captured by CCTV cameras installed at the police station.

Furthermore, the allegations made by the petitioner in the complaint dated 26.2.2024 are so outlandish and inherently improbable that no reasonable person could conclude that there is even a shred of truth to the claims therein.

24. Essentially, on one hand their is the petitioner's husband, who is an advocate, allegedly engaged in abusive and threatening behaviour towards the neighbours, including women, while apparently intoxicated, as evidenced by CCTV footage. This behaviour occurred in the context of an attempt to encroach upon public land. On the other hand, there are neighbours, including women and advocates, filed notarized affidavits on Rs.100 stamp paper, detailing their grievances. Both parties approached the police, who responded to a neighbours phone call by bringing the petitioner's husband to the police station and summoning additional forces to maintain to bring the law and order situation under control.

25. Against this backdrop, the petitioner filed a complaint dated 26.02.2024 at the police station, expressing dissatisfaction with the non-registration of an FIR against various officials, including the Commissioner of Police, District Prayagraj, the Deputy Commissioner of Police, the Assistant Commissioner of Police, the Station House Officer of P.S. Colonelganj, and S.I. Sandeep Yadav posted at Colonelganj, along with the Public Relations Officer of the Commissioner of Police, District Prayagraj. The petitioner has now filed a writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution seeking a directive for the registration of an FIR. It is worth noting that the advocates who filed the complaints dated 26.02.2024 and 28.02.2024, namely Arun Sharma, Alok Srivastava, Dileep Srivastava, Prabal Pratap Srivastava, and Aniruddha Maurya, have not been arrayed as respondents in the instant writ petition. Additionally, it is surprising to note that no accusations have been levied against them throughout the entirety of the petition. Moreover, neither have the other group of advocates who lodged the complaints dated 26.02.2024 and 28.02.2024 approached this Court.

26. The principal issue before this Court is whether, in light of the provisions contained in Chapters XII and XV of the Code of Criminal Procedure, a writ of mandamus can be issued to the police authorities to register an F.I.R. on the basis of a complaint containing certain indictments against the police officer by ignoring disputed facts containing counter allegations of a serious nature.

27. It is an admitted fact that the petitioner’s husband is a practising Advocate of this Court and involved in the criminal history of four cases outlined herein: (a) Case Crime No.1090 of 2004, under Sections 307, 286, 332, 353 I.P.C. and Section 7 of C.L.A. Act, registered at P.S. Colonelganj, District Prayagraj, (b) Case Crime No.1092 of 2004, under Sections 336, 332, 147, 148, 427 I.P.C. and Public Property Damages Act, registered at P.S. Colonelganj, District Prayagraj, (c) Case Crime No.1094 of 2004, under Sections 147, 148, 149, 307, 332, 353, 427, 442, 286, 332 I.P.C., registered at P.S. Colonelganj, District Prayagraj, (d) Case Crime No.2118 of 1998, under Sections 307, 504, 427 I.P.C., registered at P.S. Colonelganj, District Prayagraj. The outcome of these cases remains uncertain at this juncture. However, it is regrettable that Advocates are resorting to unethical practices by invoking the writ jurisdiction of this Court under the pretext of fundamental rights infringement, while in reality, it appears to be an attempt to settle a personal vendetta with the police. This is evident, particularly considering that the petitioner is currently facing four serious criminal cases in the same police station.

28. Based on the forgoing discussion and on thorough deliberations and examination of records containing complaints filed by both parties, affidavits filed by the advocates and other neighbours, who have called the police at the spot, scrutiny of CCTV footage, reasons for mobilization of police from the nearest police station to maintain law and order and non-joinder of necessary parties before this Court, we are of the view that this is not a fit case where indulgence of this Court is warranted. The proceedings initiated by the petitioner are an abuse of the process of law, and any indulgence by this Court would have an adverse effect on the administration of justice and detrimentally impact the morale of the police, an institution tasked with upholding law and order in civil society.

29. Further, we have no hesitation to record our finding that the petitioner has approached this Court under writ jurisdiction with an ulterior motive for wreaking vengeance on the police and with the view to spite them due to private personal grudge and does not call for the exercise of extraordinary powers of this Court to direct the Principal Secretary (Home) Uttar Pradesh to register F.I.R. against the respondents.

30. Parting with the facts of this case, there is another issue of vital importance; the complainant is the wife of an advocate on one side and the other side, a group of neighbours, including dozens of advocates. Initially, the dispute was between the two group of advocates majorly; the police reached at the spot on receipt of a phone call by one of the parties, and subsequently, the neighbours lodged a complaint against the assailant Advocate., surprisingly, the writ was filed only against police officers, and other neighbours, have not been arrayed as respondents in the instant writ petition, nor have any accusations been made against them in the entirety of the petition and in a dramatic twist to the scenario, everyone, including the aggrieved party, brandished their guns towards the police in a shocking turn of events, for reasons known only to the petitioner,.

31. Thus it is apt to quote, Kailash Gambhir J, speaking for the Bench in Baker Oils Tools (India) Pvt. Ltd. v. Baker Hughes Ltd. And others,[17] that the Advocates Act, 1961 and the Bar Council of India Rules prescribe Rules for professional conduct and ethics for lawyers. It cannot be forgotten that anyone who has been graced with the owner of wearing of robes is the officer of the Court, and his prime duty is to assist the Court in the administration of justice. The Rules of Conduct, as per Bar Council of India Rules, may act as a guardian angel for ensuring the moral conduct of the lawyers, but the legacy of the traditions of the Bar cannot be bedaubled by a few for lucre of commercial gains. A lawyer cannot forget that this is a novel profession not only because he enjoys an aristocratic position in society but also because it obligates him to be worthy of the community's confidence in him as a vehicle of achieving justice. The rules of the conduct of this profession with its ever expending horizons are governed by the Bar and by the cannons of conscience of the members of the calling of justice of being the Smaritance of the society,

32. It is seemingly interesting to emphasize the introductory part of Lawyers and Justice: An Ethical Study[18] the book's central idea is that the moral activism as an appropriate role conception. It respects each lawyer's personal autonomy and enhances the public welfare. The relevant excerpts are produced hereinafter:

"The law, Holmes said, is no brooding omnipresence in the sky. But if that is true, it is because we encounter the legal system in the form of flesh-and-blood human beings: the police if we are unlucky, but for the (marginally) luckier majority, the lawyers. For practical purposes, the lawyers are the law.

This is why the professional ethics of lawyers matters to us. Since the law as it touches us cannot be different from what lawyers do, it will not be better than lawyers care to make it. The commonest and bitterest complaint against the legal profession is that lawyers do not give a damn about justice, or, when they do, it is despite their profession rather than because of it. This means that the law has to do with justice only accidentally.

The complaint is exaggerated and the chronicle of its splendid exceptions would have to be a long one. I have written this book because I believe that the complaint is nevertheless largely accurate. Lawyers, no matter how high-minded their private concerns and commitments, are professionally concerned with the interests of their clients, not the interests of justice. And taken as a totality, the activities of lawyers can scarcely rise higher in the pursuit of justice than the projects of their clients. Justice is left to the largesse of the Invisible Hand.

Though I take this complaint seriously, I am not interested in contributing to the cacophonous lawyer-bashing that is practically a national hobby. Quite the contrary, I am convinced that there is, in Louis Brandeis's words, "opportunity in the law"-indeed, "special opportunities for usefulness to your fellow-men"-precisely because lawyers are uniquely situated to bring the law down to earth and to make the law more just and the lawyer's clients more public spirited.

This is a grandiose ambition. But we all know lawyers, with humble practices as well as great ones, who fulfil it, and so it is scarcely an impossible dram. I shall be urging a professional ethic according to which lawyers should seize the opportunity in the law, and I shall defend it against a professional vision based only on client service and the bottom line. My task is philosophical: to examine, as carefully as I known how, the reasons that can be offered in justification of one or the other professional vision, to try them, as Kant put it, before "tribunal of reason" itself."

33. We have underscored the excerpts from the introductory part of the Luban's work primarily for two reasons: Firstly, the book delves into the ethics of the legal profession, rooted in the fundamental premise that our nation relies heavily on its lawyers, thus their ethical dilemmas often translate into social and public challenges. Secondly, echoing the sentiments of Benjamin N Cardozo J.19, "a lawyer's life is no life of cloistered ease to which you dedicate your powers. This is a life that touches your fellow men, of every angle of their being, a life that you must live in the crowd, and yet apart from it, man of the world and philosopher by turns."

34. The writ petition is accordingly dismissed.

35. A copy of this judgement be transmitted to the Chairman, Bar Council of Uttar Pradesh and office bearers of the High Court Bar Association, Allahabad to sensitize the learned advocates to uphold the ethics of moral activism by employing ethical means, even in challenging circumstances- let's revatilized a tradition we are known for.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1415
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 03.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MRS. SANGEETA CHANDRA, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI KUMAR SRIVASTAVA-I, J.

Government Appeal No. 511 of 1987

State of U.P. ...Appellant
Versus
Hirdai Narain & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Govt. Advocate

Counsel for the Respondents:
Pawan Kumar Tiwari, Pranjal Krishna

Criminal Law-Indian Penal Code-1860-Sections 307 r/w 34-The Code of Criminal Procedure,1973-Section 385- Government Appeal against the judgment by which the accused-respondent has been acquitted by the trial court-In the absence of any evidence the respondents were ultimately acquitted- Entire record of Sessions Trial weeded out and its reconstruction is not possible-Appeal cannot be decided in the absence of trial court record- No paper relating to the case is available except the impugned judgement, therefore possibility of retrial at this stage, after a long gap of about 36 years since the occurrence of the incident appears to be bleak.

Appeal dismissed. (E-15)

List of Cases cited:

1. Shyam Deo Pandey Vs St. (1971) 1 SCC 855

2. Sita Ram & ors. Vs St. 1981 Cri. LJ 65

3. Pati Ram & anr. Vs St. of U.P. : 2010 Cri. LJ 2767

4. Chandrappa & ors. Vs St. of Karn., (2007) 4 SCC 415

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajai Kumar Srivastava-I, J.)

1. We have heard Ms. Meera Tripathi, learned A.G.A. for the State-appellant and have also perused the records available before us.

2. By means of the present government appeal, the State seeks to assail the judgment and order dated 11.03.1987, passed by the learned IXth Additional Session Judge, Lucknow in Sessions Trial Nos.472 of 1984, arising out of Crime No.135 of 1984, under Section 307 I.P.C., Police Station, Alambagh, District Lucknow, whereby the learned trial Court has acquitted the accused-respondents, Phool Chand and Hirdaya Narain of the charges under Sections 307 read with 34 I.P.C.

3. From a perusal of record, it transpires that the instant government appeal was filed against two respondents, namely, Hirdaya Narain and Phool Chand. However, the respondent, Phool Chand has died during the pendency of this appeal. The instant appeal in respect of respondent, Phool Chand has already been abated vide order dated 22.08.2022. Therefore, the appeal survives only with regard to the respondent, Hirdaya Narain.

4. The prosecution case, in short conspectus, is that the informant, Sri Chinaji Lal Badhani, was going home from his office on 10.04.84 when he found 10 persons, who were ex-employees of Scooter India Limited, staging a Dharna at the gate of the factory after being dismissed. All the ex-employees, including the accused Phool Chand and Hirdai Narain, nourished grudge towards the informant. Upon seeing the informant alone, the accused persons, Phool Chand and Hirdai Narain, assaulted the informant with a Danda. The informant sustained injuries on his left hand, right leg and forehead.

5. On the basis of aforesaid written report, Ext. Ka-1, a first information report as Crime No.98 of 1980, under Sections 147, 148, 149 & 302 I.P.C. came to be registered against all the accused-respondents at Police Station, Jethwara, District Pratapgarh.

6. From a perusal of the impugned judgment and order dated 11.03.1987, it appears that various opportunities were afforded to the prosecution to adduce evidence in support of its case. However, as the prosecution failed to adduce any evidence in support of its case, consequently, the learned trial Court closed the opportunity of adducing evidence and proceeded to pass the impugned judgment and order dated 11.03.1987, whereby, the respondents have been acquitted of all the charges leveled against them as there was no evidence against them.

7. On the face of it, we do not find any perversity with the findings of the learned trial Court. After affording a reasonable opportunity to the prosecution to adduce evidence in support of its case, the trial court proceeded to decide Sessions Trial No.472 of 1984. In the absence of any evidence to support the prosecution's case, the respondents were ultimately acquitted vide judgment and order dated 11.03.1987.

8. We notice that while admitting the instant government appeal, the trial court record was summoned. In this regard, the then District and Sessions Judge, Lucknow submitted a report dated 18.07.2022. The report reveals that the entire papers in the form of Natthi-B of the record of Sessions Trial Nos. 472 of 1984 have been weeded out and only the original judgment was available on the record, which was sent to this Court by the then Sessions Judge, Lucknow.

9. Section 385 Cr.P.C. requires that before the appeal is heard and decided it is necessary to send for the records of the case. Being relevant Section 385 Cr.P.C. is quoted hereinbelow:-

385. Procedure for hearing appeals not dismissed summarily.—

(1) .....

(2) The Appellate Court shall then send for the record of the case, if such record is not already available in that Court, and hear the parties:

Provided that if the appeal is only as to the extent or the legality of the sentence, the Court may dispose of the appeal without sending for the record.

(3) .....

(Emphasis supplied by us)

10. Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the case of Shyam Deo Pandey Vs. State (1971) 1 SCC 855, has held that perusal of the record is necessary for the appellate court to adjudicate upon the correctness or otherwise of the judgment against which the appeal is preferred. The relevant paragraph of the judgment is quoted hereinbelow:-

"18.Coming to section 425, which has already been quoted above, it deals with powers of the appellate court in disposing of the appeal on merits. It is obligatory for the appellate court to send for the record of the case, if it is not already before the court. This requirement is necessary to be complied with to enable the court to adjudicate upon the correctness or otherwise of the order or judgement appealed against not only with reference to the judgement but also with reference to the records which will be the basis on which the judgement is founded. The correctness or otherwise of the findings recorded in the judgment on the basis of the attack made against the same, cannot be adjudicated upon without reference to the evidence, oral and documentary and other materials relevant for the purpose. The reference to "such record" in "after perusing such record" is to the record of the case sent for the appellate court."

(Emphasis supplied by us)

11. Thus, it is clear that for deciding a criminal appeal, it is incumbent upon the appellate court to call for the record of trial Court and to peruse the same at the time of disposal of such appeal. As such the appeal cannot be decided in the absence of trial court record.

12. According to the report of the then District and Sessions Judge, Lucknow dated 18.07.2022, as noted above, in the present matter, the trial Court record has already been weeded out and its reconstruction is not possible.

13. In a similar situation a division bench of this Court in the case of Sita Ram and others Vs. State 1981 Cri. LJ 65 has held as under :-

"On a careful consideration of the relevant statutory provisions and the principles laid down in the cases cited before us, we are of the opinion that where it is not possible to reconstruct the record which has been lost or destroyed it is not legally permissible for the appellate court to affirm the conviction of the appeal since perusal of the record of the case is one of the essential elements of the hearing of the appeal. The appellant has a right to try to satisfy the appellate court that the material on record did not justify his conviction and that right cannot be denied to him. We are further of the opinion that if the time gap between the date of the incident and date on which the appeal comes up for hearing is short, the proper course would be to direct retrial of the cases since witnesses normally would be available and it would not cause undue strain on the memory of the witnesses. Copies of the F.I.R., statements of the witnesses under Section 161 Cr.P.C., reports of medical examinations etc. would also be normally available if the time gap between the incident and the order of retrial is not unduly long. Where, however the matter comes up for consideration after a long gap of years, it would neither be just nor proper to direct retrial of the case, more so when even copies of the F.I.R. and statements of the witnesses under Section 161 Cr.P.C. and other relevant papers have been weeded out or are otherwise not available. In such a situation even if witnesses are available, apart from the fact that heavy strain would be put on the memory of the witnesses, it would not be possible to test their statements made at the trial with reference to the earlier version of the incident and the statements of witnesses recorded during investigation. Not only that the accused will be prejudiced but even the prosecution would be greatly handicapped in establishing its case and the trial would be reduced to a mere formality entailing agony and hardships to the accused and waste of time, money and energy of the State."

(Emphasis supplied by us)

14. In the case of Pati Ram and another Vs. State of U.P. : 2010 Cri. LJ 2767, in almost similar situation, this court held as under :-

" I have given my thoughtful consideration to the rival submissions made by parties' counsel. It is true that another Bench of this Court in case of Raj Narayan Pandey (supra) has decided the appeal on merit in the absence of lower court record on the basis of the impugned judgement only, but in my considered opinion, the appeal cannot be decided on merit in the absence of lower court record. Unless the evidence is available for perusal, in my opinion, the appeal cannot be considered and decided on merit merely on the basis of the lower court judgement, as evidence is essentially required to consider the merit of the impugned judgement and merely on the basis of the said judgment, no order on merit can be passed in an appeal."

15. Thus, it is settled law that for deciding the appeal, perusal of the record of trial court is necessary and if the record is not available and reconstruction of record is also not possible, then following two courses are open to the appellate court :-

(i). To order for re trial after setting aside the conviction; or,

ii). If there is a long gap, then close the matter for want of record as the retrial will also not serve any purpose as the relevant documents are not available.

17. Adverting to the case in hand, we are constrained to observe that the circumstances, which led the trial Court to close the opportunity of prosecution to adduce the evidence leading to the acquittal of the respondents herein cannot be adjudicating by this Court for want of record of trial Court. Even reconstruction of record of Session Trial No.472 of 1984 is not possible, which is reflected from the report of then District Judge, Lucknow and the officer-in-charge of record room, District Court Lucknow.

18. This incident took place in the year 1984 and the respondents were acquitted thereafter on 11.03.1987. Thereafter this appeal was filed in the year 1987 and record was called for but record could not be made available to this Court. Efforts were made to get the record reconstructed, however, the same remained unsuccessful. About 36 years have passed since acquittal under challenge. It is a long gap. Since no paper relating to this case is available except the impugned judgement, therefore possibility of retrial at this stage, after a long gap of about 36 years since the occurrence of the incident appears to be bleak.

19. We have also noticed that as the record of the Sessions Trial No. 472 of 1984 was not made available to this Court despite the same having been requisitioned by this Court for the reason that the entire papers of Natthi-B have been weeded out. The report of the District and Sessions Judge, Lucknow as well as report of officer-in-charge record room, District Court, Lucknow make it clear that reconstruction of records of Sessions Trial No.472 of 1984 is also not possible.

Therefore, having regard to the judgment rendered by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Shyam Deo Pandey (Supra) and also having regard to the judgments passed by this Court in Sita Ram (Supra) & Pati Ram (Supra) we are constrained to uphold the impugned judgment and order dated 11.03.1987 acquitting the respondents.

20. Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Chandrappa and others v. State of Karnataka, (2007) 4 SCC 415 has held that an appellate court must bear in mind that in case of acquittal, there is double presumption in favour of the accused. Firstly, the presumption of innocence is available to him under the fundamental principle of criminal jurisprudence that every person shall be presumed to be innocent unless he is proved guilty by a competent court of law. Secondly, the accused having secured his acquittal, the presumption of his innocence is further reinforced, reaffirmed and strengthened by the trial court. It also held that if two reasonable conclusions are possible on the basis of the evidence on record, the appellate court should not disturb the finding of acquittal recorded by the trial court.

21. We are, thus, of the considered view that instant appeal deserves to be dismissed and the same is, accordingly, dismissed.

22. In compliance with the provision contained in Section 437-A Cr.P.C. the surviving respondent, Hirdaya Narain is directed to furnish personal bond and two sureties to the satisfaction of the court concerned within a period of six weeks from today.

23. Only original judgment and order dated 11.03.1987 was sent to this Court by the trial Court, which may be sent along with a copy of this judgment to the learned trial Court for information and necessary compliance.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1419
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 17.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJIV GUPTA, J.
THE HON'BLE SHIV SHANKER PRASAD, J.

Government Appeal No. 1549 of 1984

State of U.P. ...Appellant
Versus
Kailash Nath ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
A.G.A.

Counsel for the Respondent:
V.S. Singh, Virendra Kumar Yadav

Criminal Law- The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Sections 161,313 & 378 - Appeal in case of acquittal, Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section 302/34 - Murder - power and jurisdiction of High Court while interfering in an appeal against acquittal – Evidence Act, 1872 – Section 106 - Burden of proving fact especially within knowledge - no direct evidence in the case to prove the guilt of the accused person and case is based on circumstantial evidence - Prosecution to prove that the fact was specially in the knowledge of the accused- Acquittal can't be reversed by higher court until and unless it is found perverse, illegal or impossible - miscarriage of justice should be avoided, and if the facts and circumstances of a case so demand, then the benefit of doubt must be given to the accused, a reasonable doubt is not an imaginary, trivial or a merely probable doubt, but it is based upon reason and common sense (Para- 20, 28, 29,)

Appeal is dismissed. (E-13)

Held: The acquittal of the accused/respondent cannot be reversed on the basis of the St.ment recorded u/s 313 Cr.P.C. The prosecution has miserably failed to prove chain of circumstances leading to the guilt of the accused/respondent. Even motive has not been conclusively proved by the prosecution rather a faint effort has been made by the prosecution to establish the motive, moreover, merely on the basis of motive, the accused cannot be held guilty for the offence. Impugned judgement and order passed by the trial court is just, proper and legal and do not call for any interference. Record and proceedings sent back to the Court below. (Para – 32, 33, 38, 39, 40)

List of Cases cited:

1. Sharad Birdhichand Sarda Vs St. of Maharashtra

2. Ballu @ Balram @ Balmukund & anr. Vs The St. of M. P., (Criminal Appeal No. 1167 of 2018)

3. Hanumant Govind Nargundkar v. St. of M.P.

4. State Vs Mahender Singh Dahiya and Ramesh Harijan v. St. of U.P.

5. Sanatan Naskar Vs St. of W. B. reported in 2010 (8) SCC 249

6. Ashok Kumar Vs St. of Har.

7. Rajesh Prasad v. St. of Bihar & anr.

8. H.D. Sundara & ors. Vs St. of Karn.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajiv Gupta, J.)

1. Heard Shri Arun Kumar Pandey, learned Additional Government Advocate for the appellant, Shri Virendra Kumar Yadav, learned counsel for the accused-respondent and perused the trial court record.

2. The instant Government Appeal has been preferred against the judgement and order dated 24.2.1984 passed by the Sessions Judge, Varanasi in S.T. No. 219 of 1983, State vs. Kailash Nath by which the accused respondent has been acquitted of charge under section 302/34 I.P.C.

3. Briefly stating, the prosecution case, as unravelled in the FIR is that one Geeta Devi was married to the accused-respondent about one and half years back. After the said marriage, it is alleged that on account of non-fulfillment of demand of dowry she has been done to death in the night between 4-5/7/1982 by setting her ablaze at her matrimonial house. In respect of the said incident, a written information marked as Ex. Ka-2 in respect of the death of Geeta Devi after receving burn injuries, was also given by Gopal Prasad, P.W.3 at police station Sarnath at about 5.00 a.m. in the morning. In the said report it was stated that at about 2.30 a.m. in the night when all the family members had gone to sleep after taking their meals, they suddenly saw smoke emerging out and smell of kerosene oil emitting. Hearing sighs of the deceased, his mother rushed there and opened the door and saw her daughter-in-law Geeta Devi lying in a burning state. On alarm being raised by her mother, they also rushed to the room of the deceased and saw that her Sister-in-law had died on account of burn injuries. On the basis of the said report, the police reached at the place of incident and conducted the inquest on the person of the deceased and after preparing relevant documents had sealed the dead body and despatched the same for autopsy.

4. Perusal of the record shows that an autopsy was conducted on the person of the deceased on 5.7.1982 at 4.00 p.m. wherein the doctor had noted number of injuries on her neck and burn injuries on her person which is evident from the postmortem report which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka.14. It is further stated that in the morning of 5th July 1982, Munni Lal PW-1, was also informed by one Swaminath Yadav resident of the same village that his daughter has been done to death by the accused-respondent Kailash Nath and his father Raghunath by setting her ablaze. On the basis of the said information, Munni Lal father of the deceased reached at the police station Sarnath and lodged a written report stating therein that in the night between 4-5/7/1982 at about 12.00 in the night his daughter has been done to death by setting her ablaze by his in-laws on account of a dispute over demand of dowry. On the basis of said written report an F.I.R. was lodged at P.S. Jaitpura on 6.7.1982 at 7:30 p.m., vide case crime no. 117 of 1982 under section 302, 201 I.P.C., at P.S Jaitpura, District Varanasi. Subsequently, all the relevant documents, namely, inquest report, postmortem examination report, F.I.R. lodged at the instance of P.W.1, Munni Lal and other connected papers were transmitted by Sarnath police to police station Jaitpura, Varanasi within the territorial jurisdiction of which the incident had taken place. Consequent thereto, the investigation of the said case was entrusted to P.W.7, Prem Chandra Pandey who visited the place of incident and prepared the site plan which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka. 8. Thereafter the Investigating Officer recorded the statement of Munni Lal, Suraj Prasad, Kewala Devi and Swaminath Yadav. However, thereafter the investigation of the said case was taken over by Jagat Bahadur Singh PW-8, who after concluding the investigation submitted the charge sheet against the accused-respondent.

5. On the basis of the said charge sheet, learned magistrate had taken cognizance and since the case was exclusively triable by the court of sessions, committed it to the court of sessions where it was registered vide S.T. No. 219 of 1983, State Vs Kailash Nath. The trial court framed the charges against the accused-respondent on 3.1.1984 u/s 302 read with section 34 IPC, which was read out and explained to the accused-respondent who abjured the charges, pleaded not guilty and claimed to be tried.

6. The prosecution in order to prove the guilt against the appellant examined PW1 Munni Lal, PW2 Mewa lal, and PW3 Gopal Prasad as witnesses of fact. PW4 Rajbali Yadav, PW5 Jai Nath Singh, PW6 Kali Charan Verma, PW7 Prem Chandra Pandey, PW8 Jagat Bahadur Singh, PW9 Chaturi Prasad and PW10 Bhonu were produced as formal witnesses. One Dr. K.C. Gupta was also examined as court witness.

7. Their testimony in brief is enumerated as under.

8. P.W.1, Munni Lal is the first informant of the instant case and father of the deceased, he in examination-in-chief has stated that the deceased, Geeta Devi was his daughter who was married to one Kailash Nath son of Raghunath. On 5.7.1982 at about 6.00 a.m. one Swami Nath Yadav informed him at his house that Kailash Nath and Raghunath has killed his daughter by setting her ablaze. Her marriage had taken place about one and half years back. At the time of the marriage whatever dowry was demanded was given to them. However, only a motor cycle and Goderaj Steel Almirah was not given. After receiving the said information from Swaminath, he rushed to the P.S. Sarnath and lodged the FIR which has been proved by him as Ex. Ka.1. Before lodging the report, he had reached at the place of incident and had seen his daughter lying dead in a burnt condition, in a room on the first floor. During cross examination he denied the suggestion that Swaminath, had informed him about the death of his daughter, at the instance of accused-respondent, on the contrary, on his own, he had informed him about the death of his daughter.

9. P.W.2, Mewa Lal is another witness of the incident who in his examination in chief has stated that about one and half years back at about 10.00p.m. while he was having tea at a distance of 50 metres from the house of the accused-respondent. He heard shrieks coming out from the house of the accused-respondent, however, then corrected himself and denied having heard any shrieks coming out from the house of the accused-respondent rather saw number of persons standing outside the house of accused-respondent raising alarm. He went at the door step of the accused-respondent house but did not knock the door. After 2-3 days he came to know about the death of daughter-in-law of Raghunath(now dead). On the basis of the said statement, he was declared hostile. On cross-examination by the public prosecutor, he stated that he is the resident of the village of accused-respondent and Munni Lal's daughter was married to kailash. After about 5-7 months of the incident, the Investigating Officer had recorded his statement. However, on further cross examination he denied to have given any statement to the police, and when his attention was drawn to his statement shown to be recorded under section 161 Cr.P.C., he denied to have given any such statement to the police. He further denied the suggestion that he has colluded with the accused and as such is falsely deposing.

10. P.W. 3, Gopal Prasad is the real brother of the accused-respondent who was present in the house at the time of incident. He in his examination-in-Chief has stated that about one and half years back at about 2.30 a.m his mother woke up hearing sighs of the victim and his servant raised alarm on which he woke up and then it was disclosed that his brother's wife received burn injuries who soon thereafter died. It is further stated that at about 5:00 in the morning he reached at the police station and lodged the report which has been proved as Ex. Ka. 2. Deceased Geeta was sleeping in a room at the upper floor of the house. During cross examination he stated that the information regarding unfortunate death of Geeta Devi was sent to his father Munni Lal through one Markandey. The room in which Geeta was sleeping a nylon rope tied with the hook was found, which too was burning.

11. P.W.4, Rajbali Yadav, Constable is the person who had taken the dead body of the deceased at 4 p.m. to the Mortuary for post mortem examination who identified the same, however, he has not been cross examined by the defence.

12. P.W.5, Jainath Singh, is the Head Constable posted at police station Sarnath. who had received the written information given by Gopal prasad PW3, regarding the unfortunate death of the deceased Geeta Devi proved & marked as Ex. ka. 2. The corresponding G.D. entry of which was made and proved as Ex. Ka. 3. He further states that a written report Ex. ka. 1 was also given by one Munni Lal in respect of which corresponding G.D. entry No. 10 at 8:40 hrs was drawn by him which is proved and marked as Ex. Ka. 4. Thereafter the investigation was transferred to P.S. Jaitpura. on 5.7.1982 itself which has been noted in the general diary and marked as Ex. Ka.-5. The said witness has not been cross-examined.

13. P.W. 6, Kali Charan Verma, is the Head Moharrir who had drawn the chik F.I.R. at police station Jaitpura, on the basis of the written report given by P.W.1 which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka. 6. and corresponding G.D. entry of which was also drawn which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka. 7. He has also not been cross examined by the defence.

14. P.W.7, Prem Chandra Pandey is the first Investigating Officer of the incident who had recorded the statement of the relevant witnesses and prepared the site plan which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka. 8. Thereafter the investigation has been handed over to one Jagat Bahadur PW-8, who concluded the investigation and submitted the charge sheet which has been proved and marked as Ex. Ka. 9. However, the said witness has also not been cross examined by the defence.

15. P.W.8, Jagat Bahadur Singh is the second Investigating Officer who after recording the statement of the relevant witnesses submitted the charge sheet against accused-respondent and other co-accused Raghunath(now dead) who has also not been cross examined by the defence.

16. P.W.9, Chaturi Prasad is another witness of the incident who stated that at the time of marriage, PW-1 Munni Lal had sent the Customary Chimmi(peas) and sugarcane juice at the house of the accused-respondent who had refused to accept the said ceremonial articles but later accepted the same with reluctance but did not show any resentment. He further stated that on the said date, he met Geeta Devi, who asked him to inform her father to give motor cycle and Godrej Steel Almirah else there is threat to her life. In cross examination he denied the suggestion that he had not gone to deliver the Customary Chimmi(peas) and sugarcane juice at the house of Raghunath.

17. P.W. 10, Bhonu is another witness who has been produced to prove the alleged motive for commissioning of the said offence and stated that after marriage, for several days, the victim did not go to her matrimonial house and when accused Raghunath father of Kailash Nath, came for her 'Bidai', he asked for providing him a motor cycle and Godrej Steel Almirah. However, P.W.1 showed his inability to provide the said articles and promised to give it later. In respect of giving of the said articles no Panchayat was held. During cross examination he stated that after about 3-4 months of the marriage Raghunath had asked for giving him a motor cycle and a Godrej Steel Almirah. However, when P.W.1 assured him to give it later then he performed Bidai of his daughter. He further categorically stated that in respect of giving of a motor cycle and Godrej Steel Almirah there was no dispute/altercation between the two.

18. C.W. 1, Dr. K.C. Gupta is the doctor who has proved the post mortem report of the deceased which is marked as Ex. Ka 14. The post mortem examination was in-fact done by Dr.D.B. Singh who has gone for two months training to Bangalore. He perused the injuries noted in the postmortem examination report and expressed the opinion that the burn injuries are postmortem burn injuries and not anti mortem as noted by Dr. D.B. singh who conducted the post mortem. In his cross examination he has discussed the cause of the death of the deceased and its symptoms on the basis of Modi's medical jurisprudence.

19. After adducing of the said evidence, the statement of the accused-respondent under section 313 Cr.P.C. has been recorded by putting all the incriminating circumstances to him in which he has denied the incident and has categorically stated that on the night of incident, he was not present at or near his house and had gone to Vindhyachal. His father had also gone to Vindhyachal at the relevant time. His other brothers and servant were only present in the house.

20. On the basis of the entire evidence produced before the trial court, the trial court held that there is no direct evidence in the instant case to prove the guilt of the accused persons and the instant case is based on circumstantial evidence. The trial court further held that even from the statements of P.W.1 Munni Lal, P.W. 9 Chaturi Prasad and P.W.10 Bhonu, factum of alleged motive has not been proved moreover, it has been held by the trial court that motive alone can not prove the guilt of the accused. Even the alleged demand of dowry in the form of motor cycle and Godrej Steel Almirah had not been proved and it was shown from the evidence that accused-respondent were only unhappy in respect of the non-fulfilment of said demand but it did not provide any motive to commit the murder of the deceased. The trial court further held that on the basis of evidence on record, there is no incriminating evidence to prove the guilt of the accused-respondent though the incident has taken place within four corners of his house, yet no reliable inference could be drawn against the accused-respondent. The trial court further held that the chain of circumstances is not complete so as to hold the accused-respondent guilty of the incident and thus acquitted the accused-respondent.

21. Being aggrieved and dissatisfied by the said order, the present Government Appeal has been filed.

22. Learned A.G.A. for the appellant has submitted that the factum of marriage of the deceased with the accused-respondent is admitted further the fact that the deceased died within the four corners of her house is also proved therefore, it was incumbent upon the accused-respondent to explain as to under what circumstances the victim died, which explanation has not been furnished by the accused-respondent as such he is guilty of the offence.

23. Learned A.G.A. for the appellant has next submitted that on account of non-fulfilment of demand of dowry, the victim has been done to death, however, the trial court has not appreciated the evidence and material on record in right perspective and has illegally recorded the finding of acquittal against the accused-respondent more so when the accused-respondent has failed to discharge the said burden.

24. Learned A.G.A. for the appellant has next submitted that since the victim died within the four corners of her house, therefore, presumption under section 106 of Evidence Act. Could well have been drawn against him and accused-respondent should have been held guilty for the offence. The contrary finding of acquittal recorded by trial court is therefore perverse and illegal and liable to be reversed by allowing the instant Government Appeal.

25. Per contra learned counsel for the accused-respondent has submitted that the impugned order passed by the trial court is just, proper and legal. He has further submitted that there is no eye witness account of the incident in question and the case is based on circumstantial evidence.

26. Learned counsel for the accused has further submitted that the law with regard to conviction on the basis of circumstantial evidence has very well been crystalized in the judgment of this Court in the case of Sharad Birdhichand Sarda vs. State of Maharashtra, wherein the apex Court held thus:

"152. Before discussing the cases relied upon by the High Court we would like to cite a few decisions on the nature, character and essential proof required in a criminal case which rests on circumstantial evidence alone. The most fundamental and basic decision of this Court is Hanumant v. State of Madhya Pradesh [AIR 1952 SC 343 : 1952 SCR 1091 : 1953 Cri LJ 129]. This case has been uniformly followed and applied by this Court in a large number of later decisions up to date, for instance, the cases of Tufail (Alias) Simmi v. State of Uttar Pradesh [(1969) 3 SCC 198: 1970 SCC (Cri) 55] and Ramgopal v. State of Maharashtra [(1972) 4 SCC 625: AIR 1972 SC 656]. It may be useful to extract what Mahajan, J. has laid down in Hanumant case [AIR 1952 SC 343 : 1952 SCR 1091 : 1953 Cri LJ 129] :

"It is well to remember that in cases where the evidence is of a circumstantial nature, the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should in the first instance be fully established, and all the facts so established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused. Again, the circumstances should be of a conclusive nature and tendency and they should be such as to exclude every hypothesis but the one proposed to be proved. In other words, there must be a chain of evidence so far complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for a conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and it must be such as to show that within all human probability the act must have been done by the accused."

153. A close analysis of this decision would show that the following conditions must be fulfilled before a case against an accused can be said to be fully established:

(1) the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should be fully established.

It may be noted here that this Court indicated that the circumstances concerned "must or should" and not "may be" established. There is not only a grammatical but a legal distinction between "may be proved" and "must be or should be proved" as was held by this Court in Shivaji Sahabrao Bobade v. State of Maharashtra [(1973) 2 SCC 793 : 1973 SCC (Cri) 1033 : 1973 Crl LJ 1783], where the observations were made : [SCC para 19, p. 807 : SCC (Cri) p. 1047]

"Certainly, it is a primary principle that the accused must be and not merely may be guilty before a court can convict and the mental distance between 'may be' and 'must be' is long and divides vague conjectures from sure conclusions."

(2) the facts so established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused, that is to say, they should not be explainable on any other hypothesis except that the accused is guilty,

(3) the circumstances should be of a conclusive nature and tendency,

(4) they should exclude every possible hypothesis except the one to be proved, and

(5) there must be a chain of evidence so complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for the conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and must show that in all human probability the act must have been done by the accused.

154. These five golden principles, if we may say so, constitute the panchsheel of the proof of a case based on circumstantial evidence." It is also settled law that the suspicion, how so ever strong it may be, cannot take the place of proof beyond reasonable doubt. An accused cannot be convicted on the ground of suspicion, no matter how strong it is. An accused is presumed to be innocent unless proved guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

Learned Amicus-curiae further relied upon a case reported in (2010) 8 SCC 593 G. Parshwanath Vs. State of Karnataka, wherein it has been held as under :

"23. In cases where evidence is of a circumstantial nature, the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should, in the first instance, be fully established. Each fact sought to be relied upon must be proved individually. However, in applying this principle a distinction must be made between facts called primary or basic on the one hand and inference of facts to be drawn from them on the other. In regard to proof of primary facts, the court has to judge the evidence and decide whether that evidence proves a particular fact and if that fact is proved, the question whether that fact leads to an inference of guilt of the accused person should be considered. In dealing with this aspect of the problem, the doctrine of benefit of doubt applies. Although there should not be any missing links in the case, yet it is not essential that each of the links must appear on the surface of the evidence adduced and some of these links may have to be inferred from the proved facts. In drawing these inferences, the court must have regard to the common course of natural events and to human conduct and their relations to the facts of the particular case. The court thereafter has to consider the effect of proved facts.

24. In deciding the sufficiency of the circumstantial evidence for the purpose of conviction, the court has to consider the total cumulative effect of all the proved facts, each one of which reinforces the conclusion of guilt and if the combined effect of all these facts taken together is conclusive in establishing the guilt of the accused, the conviction would be justified even though it may be that one or more of these facts by itself or themselves is/are not decisive. The facts established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused and should exclude every hypothesis except the one sought to be proved. But this does not mean that before the prosecution can succeed in a case resting upon circumstantial evidence alone, it must exclude each and every hypothesis suggested by the accused, howsoever, extravagant and fanciful it might be. There must be a chain of evidence so complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for the conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and must show that in all human probability the act must have been done by the accused, where various links in chain are in themselves complete, then the false plea or false defence may be called into aid only to lend assurance to the court."

27. Learned counsel for the accused-respondent has further submitted that even the provisions under section 106 of the Evidence Act is not attracted in the instant case, therefore, the finding recorded by the trial court acquitting the accused-respondent is just and proper, legal and do not call for any interference by this Court.

28. Learned counsel for the accused-respondent has further submitted that Hon'ble Apex Court in in-numerable cases has held that finding of acquittal can not be reversed by higher court until and unless it is found perverse, illegal or impossible as held by Hon'ble Apex Court in Criminal Appeal No. 1167 of 2018, Ballu @ Balram @ Balmukund and another Vs. The State of Madhya Pradesh.

29. Before we delve in the question of the applicability of the provision of Section 106 Indian Evidence Act in the present case, it would be useful to quote the Provisions of Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act :-

"Section 106 of the Evidence Act envisages that when any fact is specially within the knowledge of any person, the burden of proving that fact is upon him."

Hon'ble Apex Court as well as this Court in catena of decision has held that in order to attract the provision of Section 106 of Evidence Act, it is necessary for the prosecution to prove that the fact was specially in the knowledge of the accused and further that whether the prosecution has discharged its initial burden of proving the guilt of the appellant beyond all reasonable doubt.

While considering the applicability of Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act, it should be kept in mind that the said provision in anyway does not relieve the prosecution to prove its case beyond all reasonable doubt. Only when the prosecution case has proved that the burden in regard to such facts was within the special knowledge of the accused, then only burden may be shifted to the accused for explaining the same. It may be that in a situation of this nature where the Court legitimately may raise a strong suspicion that in all probabilities the accused was guilty of commission of heinous offence but applying the well settled principle of law that suspicion, howsoever grave it may be, cannot take the place of proof, and there is a large difference between something that `may be' proved, and something that `will be proved'. In a criminal trial, suspicion no matter how strong, cannot and must not be permitted to take place of proof. This is for the reason that the mental distance between `may be' and `must be' is quite large, and divides vague conjectures from sure conclusions. In a criminal case, the court has a duty to ensure that mere conjectures or suspicion do not take the place of legal proof. The large distance between `may be' true and `must be' true, must be covered by way of clear, cogent and unimpeachable evidence produced by the prosecution, before an accused is condemned as a convict, and the basic and golden rule must be applied. In such cases, while keeping in mind the distance between `may be' true and `must be' true, the court must maintain the vital distance between mere conjectures and sure conclusions to be arrived at, on the touchstone of dispassionate judicial scrutiny, based upon a complete and comprehensive appreciation of all features of the case, as well as the quality and credibility of the evidence brought on record. The court must ensure, that miscarriage of justice is avoided, and if the facts and circumstances of a case so demand, then the benefit of doubt must be given to the accused, keeping in mind that a reasonable doubt is not an imaginary, trivial or a merely probable doubt, but a fair doubt that is based upon reason and common sense. (Vide: Hanumant Govind Nargundkar v. State of M.P., State v. Mahender Singh Dahiya and Ramesh Harijan v. State of U.P.)

30. Now examining the fact whether appellant's participation in the crime is proved by the prosecution evidence adduced in the trial, we find that none of the four witnesses have stated that at the time of incident, the appellant was present at or near his house nor any other witness has been examined to suggest that the appellant was at or around his residence at the relevant time. In the absence of which in our opinion the presumption under Section 106 of the Evidence Act cannot be drawn. Thus, we are of the opinion that the presumption under Section 106 of the Evidence Act cannot be drawn in the present case on the basis of which the appellant can be convicted. The view taken by the trial court in this respect is, therefore, just proper and legal and do not call for any interfence. Moreover there is nothing on record to show that within all human probability the act must have been done by the accused when other male members and servants were present in the house.

31. We are now left only with the material i.e. the statement of the accused-appellant under Section 313 Cr.P.C. wherein he has stated that at the time he was not present at his house and had gone to Vindhyachal and only his other brothers and servants were present at his house. Now we have to examine the facts as to whether in the absence of any corroborating evidence only on the basis of the statement given by the accused-appellant under Section 313 Cr.P.C. can the appellant be convicted for the offence punishable under Section 302 IPC ?

It is well settled principle of law that the statement of an accused made under Section 313 Cr.P.C. can be taken into consideration is not in dispute; not only in view of the what has been contained under Section 313 (4) of the Code but also because of the law laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court as well as this Hon'ble Court in several pronouncements. We may in this regard refer to the decision of this Court in the Sanatan Naskar v. State of West Bengal reported in 2010 (8) SCC 249, where this observed: (SCC page 258-59, paras 21-24)

"21. The answers by an accused under Section 313 of the Cr.P.C. are of relevance for finding out the truth and examining the veracity of the case of the prosecution.

22. As already noticed, the object of recording the statement of the accused under Section 313 of the Cr.P.C. is to put all incriminating evidence to the accused so as to provide him an opportunity to explain such incriminating circumstances appearing against him in the evidence of the prosecution. At the same time, also permit him to put forward his own version or reasons, if he so chooses, in relation to his involvement or otherwise in the crime. Once such a statement is recorded, the next question that has to be considered by the Court is to what extent and consequences such statement can be used during the enquiry and the trial. Over the period of time, the Courts have explained this concept and now it has attained, more or less, certainty in the field of criminal jurisprudence.

23. The statement of the accused can be used to test the veracity of the exculpatory nature of the admission, if any, made by the accused. It can be taken into consideration in any enquiry or trial but still it is not strictly evidence in the case. The provisions of Section 313(4) of Cr.P.C. explicitly provides that the answers given by the accused may be taken into consideration in such enquiry or trial and put in evidence for or against the accused in any other enquiry into or trial for, any other offence for which such answers may tend to show he has committed. In other words, the use is permissible as per the provisions of the Code but has its own limitations. The Courts may rely on a portion of the statement of the accused and find him guilty in consideration of the other evidence against him led by the prosecution, however, such statements made under this Section should not be considered in isolation but in conjunction with evidence adduced by the prosecution.

24. Another important caution that Courts have declared in the pronouncements is that conviction of the accused cannot be based merely on the statement made under Section 313 of the Cr.P.C. as it cannot be regarded as a substantive piece of evidence."

To the same effect is the decision of this Court in Ashok Kumar v. State of Haryana.

Reference may also be made to the decision of this Court in Brajendra Singh v. State of M.P. where this Court said : (SCC page 297, para 15)

"15. It is a settled principle of law that the statement of an accused under section 313 of Cr.P.C can be used as evidence against the accused, insofar as it supports the case of the prosecution. Equally true is that the statement under section 313 of Cr.P.C simpliciter normally cannot be made the basis for conviction of the accused. But where the statement of the accused under section 313 Cr.P.C is in line with the case of the prosecution, then certainly the heavy onus of proof on the prosecution is, to some extent, reduced."

32. Thus in view of the aforesaid settled principle of law laid down by the Apex Court, we are of the opinion that the acquittal of the accused-respondent cannot be reversed on the basis of the statement recorded u/s 313 Cr.P.C. The contrary arguments raised by learned AGA in this respect is liable to be repelled.

33. It is further germane to point out here that from the entire evidence adduced during the course of trial, we find that the instant case is based on circumstantial evidence and in order to bring home guilt against the accused-respondent five golden principles as discussed has to be proved against the accused-respondent. However, in the present case on the basis of evidence, we find that the prosecution has miserably failed to prove chain of circumstances leading to the guilt of the accused-respondent. Even motive has not been conclusively proved by the prosecution rather a faint effort has been made by the prosecution to establish the motive which has not been conclusively proved, moreover, merely on the basis of motive, the accused-respondent can not be held guilty for the offence, as held by the trial court.

34. Moreover the Hon'ble apex court time and again has laid down the principles governing the scope of interference by the High court in an appeal filed by that state for challenging the acquittal of the accused recorded by the trial court. This Court in the case of Rajesh Prasad v. State of Bihar and Another encapsulated the legal position covering the field after considering various earlier judgments and held as below: -

"29. After referring to a catena of judgments, this Court culled out the following general principles regarding the powers of the appellate court while dealing with an appeal against an order of acquittal in the following words: (Chandrappa case [Chandrappa v. State of Karnataka, (2007) 4 SCC 415]

"42. From the above decisions, in our considered view, the following general principles regarding powers of the appellate court while dealing with an appeal against an order of acquittal emerge:

(1) An appellate court has full power to review, reappreciate and reconsider the evidence upon which the order of acquittal is founded.

(2) The Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 puts no limitation, restriction or condition on exercise of such power and an appellate court on the evidence before it may reach its own conclusion, both on questions of fact and of law.

(3) Various expressions, such as, "substantial and compelling reasons", "good and sufficient grounds", "very strong circumstances", "distorted conclusions", "glaring mistakes", etc. are not intended to curtail extensive powers of an appellate court in an appeal against acquittal. Such phraseologies are more in the nature of "flourishes of language" to emphasise the reluctance of an appellate court to interfere with acquittal than to curtail the power of the court to review the evidence and to come to its own conclusion.

(4) An appellate court, however, must bear in mind that in case of acquittal, there is double presumption in favour of the accused. Firstly, the presumption of innocence is available to him under the fundamental principle of criminal jurisprudence that every person shall be presumed to be innocent unless he is proved guilty by a competent court of law. Secondly, the accused having secured his acquittal, the presumption of his innocence is further reinforced, reaffirmed and strengthened by the trial court.

(5) If two reasonable conclusions are possible on the basis of the evidence on record, the appellate court should not distrub the finding of acquittal recorded by the trial court."

35. Further, in the case of H.D. Sundara & Ors. v. State of Karnataka this Court summarized the principles governing the exercise of appellate jurisdiction while dealing with an appeal against acquittal under Section 378 of CrPC as follows: -

"8.1. The acquittal of the accused further strengthens the presumption of innocence;

8.2. The appellate court, while hearing an appeal against acquittal, is entitled to reappreciate the oral and documentary evidence;

8.3. The appellate court, while deciding an appeal against acquittal, after re-appreciating the evidence, is required to consider whether the view taken by the trial court is a possible view which could have been taken on the basis of the evidence on record;

8.4. If the view taken is a possible view, the appellate court cannot overturn the order of acquittal on the ground that another view was also possible; and

8.5. The appellate court can interfere with the order of acquittal only if it comes to a finding that the only conclusion which can be recorded on the basis of the evidence on record was that the guilt of the accused was proved beyond a reasonable doubt and no other conclusion was possible."

36. Thus, it is beyond the pale of doubt that the scope of interference by an appellate Court for reversing the judgment of acquittal recorded by the trial Court in favour of the accused has to be exercised within the four corners of the following principles:-

a) That the judgment of acquittal suffers from patent perversity;

b) That the same is based on a misreading/omission to consider material evidence on record;

c) That no two reasonable views are possible and only the view consistent with the guilt of the accused is possible from the evidence available on record.

37. The appellate Court, in order to interfere with the judgment of acquittal would have to record pertinent findings on the above factors if it is inclined to reverse the judgment of acquittal rendered by the trial Court.

38. In the light of above proposition of law if we go through the impugned judgment and order, we find that the trial court had given cogent and convincing reasons for recording the finding of acquittal against the accused-respondent and that the acquittal of the accused-respondent is plausible and justifiable view emanating from the discussion of the evidence available on record and does not suffer from any infirmity or perversity. Therefore, we are of the opinion that the impugned judgement and order passed by the trial court is just, proper and legal and do not call for any interference by this Court.

39. The present government appeal lacks merit and is accordingly dismissed.

40. Trial court's record be remitted back forthwith.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1431
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 13.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE J.J. MUNIR, J.

Second Appeal No. 163 of 2008

Smt. Bajifunnisha ...Appellant
Versus
Khunni Lal & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri B.N. Agarwal, Sri Sanjay Agarwal

Counsel for the Respondent:
Sri Subhash Kumar, Sri Subhash Chnadra, Sri Sunil Dutt Kautilya, Sri Umesh Kumar Gupta

Civil Law- Civil Procedure Code, 1908 - Sections 100 - Order XLI Rules 11, 31, 35-A, 80 - Uttar Pradesh Municipalities Act, 1916 – Sections 80, 185, 186, 221, 326, - Specific Relief Act, 1963 – Section 41 – Limitation Act, 1963 – Article 54 – Second Appeal - arising out of a suit for mandatory injunction – jurisdiction- Held, the Lower Appellate Court is the last Court of fact and it cannot be said that the inferences drawn by it on the issues arising between parties are perverse in any manner - the Court does not have the jurisdiction to reappreciate evidence under Section 100 of CPC and substitute a view of our own based on pure appreciation of evidence, unless there be some perversity or illegality - regarding issue (A), the aforesaid Court has substantially complied with the requirements of Order XLI Rule 31 of CPC , while issue (B) and (C) is answered in negative as the said Court has not committed any illegality in reversing the decree passed by the Trial Court, as it was based on all relevant issues and cogent reasoning and also had rightly drawn conclusion that plaintiff does not have a right of frontage or access to the public road on the northern side, as the frontage of the shop in question, in the documents of title produced by the plaintiff, lies to the south of the said shop – Appeal dismissed with cost- directions, accordingly. (Para - 49, 50, 51, 52, 53)

Appeal is dismissed with cost. (E-13)

List of Cases cited:

1. Malluru Mallappa (dead) through Legal Representatives Vs Kuruvathappa & ors., (2020) 4 SCC 313

2. H. Siddiqui (dead) by LRs Vs A. Ramalingam, (2011) 4 SCC 240

3. G. Amalorpavam & ors Vs R.C. Diocese of Madurai & ors., (2006) 3 SCC 224

4. Santosh Hazari Vs Purushottam Tiwari (deceased) by LRs, (2001) 3 SCC 179

5. Bharatkumar Dhanajibhai Kuber Vs Markand Umedlal Joshi, 2018 SCC OnLine Guj 3114

(Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. This is a plaintiff's second appeal, arising out of a suit for mandatory injunction.

2. The plaintiff, Bajifunnisha, instituted Suit No.217 of 1983, initially against the State of Uttar Pradesh, represented by the Collector, Jalaun at Orai and the Municipal Board, Kalpi, District Jalaun through its Administrator, praying that a decree of mandatory injunction be passed in her favour, directing that the tinshed worked illegal construction, admeasuring 15'x9', shown by letters ABJK in the plaint map, situate to the north of the plaintiff's shop, shown by letters ABHI, be removed by the defendants, rendering the land underlying the offending construction in the same state as it formally was, so that the plaintiff may use it for her access (ingress-egress) in the manner, it was earlier done.

3. Khunni Lal, who was a tenant in one of the plaintiff's shops and had raised the tinshed worked construction denoted by letters ABJK, was impleaded later on as defendant No.3 to the suit. This was done because in substance, the decree that the plaintiff claimed was against Khunni Lal; not the State or the Municipal Board.

4. The facts giving rise to this appeal are these:

Smt. Bajifunnisha, the plaintiff-appellant, who shall hereinafter be called 'the plaintiff', instituted the suit with allegations in the plaint to the effect that she is the owner of a shop, situate in Tarnanganj, Town Kalpi, District Jalaun, denoted by letters ABHI in the plaint map. To the east of the shop under reference, which shall be called 'the shop in question', there are other shops of the plaintiff. To the west of the shop in question, lies land which is parti; to the north, the frontage of the plaintiff's shop and thereafter land described as parti. To the south of the shop in question is a road. The plaintiff is the owner of other shops, besides the shop in question, of which the former owner was the late Mustaq Ali son of Danish Ali, a resident of Mohalla Bhattipura, Town Kalpi, District Jalaun. The shop in question and the other shops are situate on a part of Nazul land, Plot No.4475 and shown in the Khasra Abadi for town Kalpi, relating to the year 1902-1903. A part of Nazul Plot No.4475 aforesaid was taken on lease in the year 1958 by Mustaq Ali.

5. Mustaq Ali got a plan sanctioned by the Municipal Board, Kalpi for the purpose of constructing five shops on the said land. He did construct five shops in accordance with the sanctioned plan. Each of these five shops had a projection (chhajja) sanctioned for them on both sides, to wit, the north and the south. The five shops last mentioned were transferred by way of sale in the plaintiff's favour by Mustaq Ali vide registered sale deed dated 15.09.1975. In this manner, the plaintiff became owner of the shop in question and the other shops that Musaq Ali owned. Her name was entered in the assessment register of the Municipal Board relating to the shop in question as well as the other shops, mutating out Mustaq Ali's rights.

6. The shop in question was let out to Khunni Lal, defendant No.3 to the suit at a rent of Rs.30/- per mensem. Khunni Lal, while in tenancy occupation of the shop in question, raised a wall in front of it i.e. to the north of the said shop, the pucca wall raised running from east to west. The wall was raised as aforesaid in the month of June, 1981 and a tinshed worked roof placed over it, occupying an area 15'x9', denoted by letters ABJK in the plaint map. The aforesaid unauthorized construction was put up after demolishing the plaintiff's projection (chhajja) illegally and unauthorizedly, about which the plaintiff says that Khunni Lal had no right. The plaintiff, accordingly, served a notice upon Khunni Lal on 20.07.1981, saying that the construction raised was without authority and illegal, which ought to be removed. In answer, Khunni Lal, by a reply, informed the plaintiff that the construction that he had raised over land to the north of the shop in question was rented out to him by the Municipal Board, Kalpi.

7. The plaintiff says that the shop in question has two doors, one to the north and the other to the south. The shop in question, owned by the plaintiff, has its frontage to the north and that using this frontage, the shop in question has its access to the highway. The land to the north of the shop in question is the plaintiff's appurtenant land. She has the right of access and use under the law over the said land and this beneficial use and access has been in vogue after construction of the shop in question. The construction raised by Khunni Lal leads to a violation of the plaintiff's rights, which would happen in the future too. The plaintiff has a right to approach the highway from the shop in question and the constructions raised have led to the value of the said shop being diminished.

8. The plaintiff says that land to the north of the shop in question is the shop's frontage and appurtenant land, which the Municipal Board, Kalpi has no right to let out to Khunni Lal. Also, Khunni Lal has deposited earth to the north of the shop in question, raising its height, which leads to water logging and blockage of water drainage to the western side. Now, the other shops, that the plaintiff owns, suffer water logging up in the front, causing the other tenants, who are in occupation, considerable annoyance, besides imperiling those constructions by a possible collapse.

9. The plaintiff says that the Municipal Board, Kalpi, their officers and servants are in connivance with Khunni Lal and have damaged the frontage of the shop in question. According to the plaintiff, it is for the said reason that the illegal construction raised to the north of the shop in question by Khunni Lal has not led the Municipal Board to proceed against him under Section 185 of the Uttar Pradesh Municipalities Act, 1916 (for short, ‘the Act of 1916’) though the officers and servants of the Municipal Board have been cognizant of the offending construction. The Municipal Board, defendant No.2 to the suit, in breach of their duties, are not taking any action against Khunni Lal.

10. The plaintiff says that under the circumstances, she is entitled to a mandatory injunction, directing the defendants to the suit to cause removal of the offending constructions denoted by letters ABJK (for short, 'the suit property'), lying to the north of the shop in question. The plaintiff has asserted that the suit property is owned by the State and in the management of the Municipal Board. Since the Municipal Board have let out the suit property to Khunni Lal, which the State owns, the State represented by the Collector and the Municipal Board, represented by its Administrator, have been impleaded as defendant Nos.1 and 2 to the suit.

11. The plaintiff also says that she has caused to be served a composite notice dated 31.03.1983 under Section 80 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (for short, 'the Code') and Section 326 of the Act of 1916 upon defendant Nos.1 and 2, respectively, which they have received on 02.04.1984, but not caused the suit property to be restored, after demolishing the offending construction.

12. By the amendment and impleadment undertaken pending suit, Khunni Lal was impleaded as defendant No.3 to the suit and the mandatory injunction earlier directed against defendant Nos. 1 and 2 alone, claimed against him as defendant No.3, as well.

13. Defendant Nos.1 and 2 to the suit, who are proforma respondent Nos.2 and 3 to this appeal, respectively, filed a joint written statement. Defendant-respondent Nos. 2 and 3 to the appeal, shall hereinafter be referred to as 'defendant Nos.1 and 2', respectively. The case of the said defendants, pleaded in the written statement, is that Mustaq Ali got a lease of the shop in question executed in his favour in the year 1958. The lease was one for land meant to be utilized for residential purpose. He, however, constructed shops over the leased land. Mustaq Ali had no right to transfer the shops that he had constructed. If Mustaq Ali has transferred the shops constructed by him, that includes the shop in question, in the plaintiff's favour, defendant Nos. 1 and 2 are not bound by the said transfer. Khunni Lal's possession over the shop in question and raising of a tinshed worked construction to the north of the said shop is admitted to defendant Nos.1 and 2. It is also admitted to the said defendants that the tinshed worked construction is illegal. It is the said defendants' case that the suit property has not been given on rent to Khunni Lal by them. Defendant Nos.1 and 2 merely realize tehbazari from Khunni Lal. The suit property is in the use of Khunni Lal, but it is neither the plaintiff's frontage nor land appurtenant to it. Since the suit property is being used by Khunni Lal, defendant No.2 is entitled to realize tehbazari from him. He has unauthorizedly raised constructions on the suit property and, therefore, defendant Nos.1 and 2 are not answerable for Khunni Lal's acts. The suit property was never let out by defendant No.2 to Khunni Lal nor did they ever authorize him to raise constructions thereon. Against Khunni Lal's illegal encroachment over the suit property, defendant No.2 has issued a notice under Section 186 read with Section 221 of the Act of 1916 on 22.07.1981.

14. It is also the case of these defendants that the suit is undervalued and court-fee paid insufficient. The suit is also claimed to be bad for non-joinder. There is also a plea on behalf of defendant Nos.1 and 2 that the composite notice served under Section 80 of the Code and Section 326 of the Act of 1916 is illegal. The plaintiff has no cause of action and the suit is not maintainable. The suit is also claimed to be barred by Section 41 of the Specific Relief Act, 1963.

15. Khunni Lal, who is defendant No.3 to the suit and was the sole appellant before the Lower Appellate Court, died pending appeal. His heirs and LRs were brought on record before the Lower Appellate Court, to wit, Santosh Kumar son of Khunni Lal, Ram Janki widow of Khunni Lal and Smt. Rajni Porwal daughter of Khunni Lal, arrayed as appellant Nos.1/1 to 1/3, in that order. In the present appeal, the heirs and LRs of the late Khunni Lal are arrayed as defendant-respondent Nos.1/1, 1/2 and 1/3. Khunni Lal's interest represented by his heirs and LRs before this Court arrayed as defendant-respondent Nos.1/1 to 1/3, shall hereinafter be referred to as 'defendant No.3' collectively, except where an individual reference to one of them or to Khunni Lal becomes imperative in the context.

16. Defendant No.3 filed a written statement separately. He accepted the case that he had taken the shop in question on lease; that the said shop was transferred by a sale deed in the plaintiff's favour and on that basis, she is its owner. According to defendant No.3, the suit property, where tinshed worked construction has been raised by him, is neither in the ownership of the plaintiff nor subject to any easementary rights of hers. It is in no way the frontage of the shop in question. Defendant No.3 had taken the suit property on a yearly rent from defendant No.2 and pays that rent. All construction, that defendant No.3 has raised, is of a very temporary character. While undertaking the aforesaid construction, neither any projection of the plaintiff has been demolished nor the value of the shop in question diminished. It is more than 20 years since constructions were raised on the suit property. The plaintiff is not in possession of the suit property or has a right of passage over it. Instead, possession of the suit property and right of passage is held by defendant No.3, albeit by virtue of his tenancy right. So long as defendant No.3 is a tenant, the plaintiff has no right of passage over the shop in question or the suit property. Also, by putting up a temporary tinshed worked construction, no obstruction is laid in gaining access to the road for the plaintiff.

17. There is also some pleading by defendant No.3 what this Court might not only consider unnecessary, but also scandalous. Nevertheless, it needs some reference. It is averred by defendant No.3 that the history of acquisition of the shop in question, or the land over which the shops are constructed, is very interesting. The plaintiff's husband, Abdul Rehman Khan was a prominent Congress Party leader of town Kalpi. He remained a member of the Nagar Palika for a considerable period of time. During the tenure of his office, using his influence with the Nagar Palika of which he was the Vice-Chairman and also the head of many of its committees as the Chairman, got the land housing the shop in question leased to Mustaq Ali, the plaintiff's brother or so to speak, Abdul Rehman Khan's brother-in-law. Later on, he made Abdul Rehman to execute a sale deed in the plaintiff's favour. The entire proceedings of lease by the Nagar Palika to Abdul Rehman and the subsequent sale are all but a sham and a device to perpetrate fraud. The suit against the third defendant has been instituted on unsustainable premises and ought to be dismissed with special costs under Section 35-A of the Code.

18. On the pleadings of parties, the following issues were struck by the Trial Court (translated into English from Hindi):

"1. Whether the suit is undervalued and court-fee paid insufficient?
2. Whether the notice issued under Section 80 CPC and Section 326 of the Municipalities Act is illegal?
3. Whether the plaintiff's suit does not disclose a cause of action?

4. Whether the suit property is the plaintiff's shop's frontage?
5. Whether the suit property is land appurtenant to the plaintiff's shop?
6. Whether the sale deed executed by Mustaq Ali in favour of the plaintiff illegal?
7. Whether the suit is barred by Section 41 of the Specific Relief Act?
8. Whether the plaintiff's suit is maintainable?
9. Whether the plaintiff has a right to move across from her shop to the National Highway?
10. Whether the construction raised by defendant No.3 is illegal and unauthorized?
11. Whether the construction raised by defendant No.3 is of a permanent character? If yes, its effect?
12. Whether defendant No.3 is entitled to costs under Section 35-A CPC?
13. To what relief, if any, is the plaintiff entitled?"

19. The plaintiff examined in support of her case, Abdul Rehman as PW-1, Noor Ali as PW-2, whereas defendant No.3, Khunni Lal examined Muzaffar Khan, the Nazul Clerk with the Nagar Palika as DW-1, defendant No.3 himself as DW-3/1 and Hari Shanker as DW-3/2. Both sides produced a wealth of documentary evidence, details of which find elaborate mention in the Trial Court's judgment. It need not be recapitulated for the sake of brevity. However, so much of the evidence, documentary or oral, shall be referred as relevant at the appropriate stage during the course of this judgment.

20. In entering its judgment, the Trial Court held in the plaintiff's favour on Issues Nos.1, 2 and 3. Issue No.7 was answered in the plaintiff's favour, because defendant No.3 did not press it. Issue No.8 was also answered in the plaintiff's favour, whereas Issue No.6 was answered against the defendant, holding the sale deed by Mustaq Ali in the plaintiff's favour to be valid. Issues Nos.4 and 5 were answered together, holding in the plaintiff's favour on both issues to the effect that the suit property constitutes frontage of the shop in question and that it was land appurtenant to the said shop. Issue No.9 was answered by the Trial Court also in the plaintiff's favour, holding that the plaintiff was entitled to approach the P.W.D. Road, both from the northern side of the shop as well as the southern. Issues Nos.10 and 11 were answered together. Issue No.10 was answered in the plaintiff's favour holding that the construction raised on the suit property was illegal and unauthorized, whereas Issue No.11 was answered in the negative, holding that the construction standing on the suit property was temporary in nature. Issues Nos.12 and 13 were also tried together, where Issue No.13 was answered in the plaintiff's favour holding that defendant Nos.1 and 2 have not been able to explain why they permitted the illegal construction to remain in existence on the suit property. It was also held that it would be in the interest of justice to issue necessary directions to the said defendants. Issue No.12 was answered against defendant No.3, holding that he was not entitled to costs because he had himself committed an illegality. The suit was held fit to be decreed.

21. The Trial Court decreed the suit with costs vide judgment and decree dated 22.05.2000, issuing a mandatory injunction to defendant No.3 to remove the temporary construction standing on the suit property, denoted by letters ABJK within a month and restore the property to its original state. In default, the Trial Court directed defendant Nos.1 and 2 upon expiry of the period of time allowed to defendant No.3 to cause the constructions standing on the suit property to be removed, with costs to be borne by defendant No.3 and cause the suit property to be restored to its original state.

22. Defendant No.3 appealed to the District Judge, Jalaun at Orai, where the appeal was registered as Civil Appeal No.17 of 2000. It was assigned to the Special Judge (E.C. Act), Jalaun at Orai. The appeal came on for hearing before the Lower Appellate Court on 03.11.2007, when it was allowed, the decree of the Trial Court set aside and the suit dismissed.

23. The present second appeal was instituted by the disillusioned plaintiff on 12.02.2008. The appeal remained pending for a very long time for hearing under Order XLI Rule 11 of the Code. It was admitted to hearing as late as on 02.09.2021 on the following substantial questions of law:

(A) Whether the judgement of the appellate court complies with Order 41, Rule 31 C.P.C.?

(B) Whether the lower appellate court has committed an illegality in exercise of its jurisdiction in reversing the judgement and decree passed by the trial court without meeting out the reasonings given by the trial court?

(C) Whether the obstruction created by raising structure over the patri in front of the shop of the plaintiff by the defendant/respondent amounts to depriving the plaintiff of access to the public road and as such the plaintiff/appellant had the cause of action and the right to file the suit?

24. Heard Mr. B.N. Agarwal, learned Counsel for the plaintiff, Mr. S.D. Kautilya, learned Counsel for defendant No.3 and learned Standing Counsel appearing on behalf of defendant No.1. No one appears on behalf of defendant No.2.

25. It is submitted by Mr. B.N. Agarwal, learned Counsel for the plaintiff that the Lower Appellate Court has committed a manifest error of law while writing the impugned judgment, inasmuch as the learned Judge has not set out points for determination, recording a decision on each point with reasons relative to the decision on those points. Mr. Agarwal submits that not doing so on the Lower Appellate Court's part is a breach of the mandatory requirement of Order XLI Rule 31 of the Code. He has pointed out that the Lower Appellate Court has written findings of reversal dealing with Issues Nos.4, 5, 8 and 9, framed by the Trial Court, without framing any points for determination. In support of his contention, Mr. Agarwal has placed reliance upon a decision of the Supreme Court in Malluru Mallappa (dead) through Legal Representatives v. Kuruvathappa and others, (2020) 4 SCC 313. Learned Counsel for the plaintiff has placed further reliance upon the decision of the Supreme Court in H. Siddiqui (dead) by LRs v. A. Ramalingam, (2011) 4 SCC 240.

26. Repelling the submissions advanced by Mr. B.N. Agarwal, the learned Counsel for defendant No.3, Mr. S.D. Kautilya, has submitted that Order XLI Rule 31 of the Code does not postulate an inflexible rule about the necessity of framing points for determination by the first Appellate Court, though these invariably ought to be framed. The submission is that if the Court of first appeal has substantially complied with the provisions of Order XLI Rule 11 of the Code in the sense that the findings of the Trial Court, necessary for the decision of the lis, have been discussed, the evidence appreciated and those findings reversed for reasons given, the mere absence of points of determination formally framed, would not vitiate the first Appellate Court's judgment. Mr. Kautilya has placed reliance in support of his submissions upon G. Amalorpavam and others v. R.C. Diocese of Madurai and others, (2006) 3 SCC 224.

27. This Court is of opinion that Substantial Questions of Law (A) and (B) are so inextricably interlinked that both ought to be dealt with together. The Court, therefore, proposes to briefly notice the submissions of parties with reference to Substantial Question of Law (B) as well, inasmuch as the submissions hereinbefore noticed were largely confined to the necessity of framing points for determination.

28. As regards the related Substantial Question of Law (B), Mr. Agarwal has urged that the Lower Appellate Court has reversed a well reasoned judgment passed by the Trial Court without effectively setting aside the findings of the Trial Court on fact and law, which it could not do. It is urged that the Lower Appellate Court has carved out a third case to the effect that the plaintiff would become owner of the suit property if the suit is decreed for demolition of the temporary structure standing on the suit property. It is urged that the said finding is absolutely erroneous, inasmuch as the pleadings of parties are about the right to ingress and egress from the northern side of the shop in question. It is not at all about a claim by the plaintiff to ownership or an easementary right over the suit property. In support of his submissions, learned Counsel for the plaintiff has placed reliance upon a decision of the Supreme Court in Santosh Hazari v. Purushottam Tiwari (deceased) by LRs, (2001) 3 SCC 179.

29. On this substantial question, rebutting Mr. Agarwal's submissions, Mr. S.D. Kautilya, learned Counsel for the third defendant says, as already noticed, that the Lower Appellate Court has given detailed reasons to differ from the Trial Court on all effective findings necessary to reverse the Trial Court's decree.

30. Upon hearing learned Counsel for the parties, this Court is of opinion that the moot question, so far as Substantial Question of Law (A) is concerned, is whether the mere failure to frame points for determination, without anything more, would vitiate the judgment of a Court of first appeal. So far as Substantial Question of Law (B) is concerned, this Court thinks that it has to be seen from the tenor of the judgment by the first Appellate Court, the evidence on record and the findings of the two Courts below, if the Lower Appellate Court has effectively reversed the Trial Court's judgment, setting aside all relevant findings for good and valid reasons. It would be well to remember for this Court that in a second appeal, if the Lower Appellate Court has considered the findings recorded by the Trial Court and reversed the same, giving reasons supported by evidence on record and the law quite different from the Trial Court's, it is not the domain of this Court under Section 100 of the Code to interpose our opinion merely on the ground that the Trial Court's opinion is more plausible or convincing, unless the Lower Appellate Court has failed to give reasons for a finding in disagreement with the Trial Court, or given reasons that are perverse, or manifestly illegal, because those are against the settled position of the law. This Court has no jurisdiction to interfere with the Lower Appellate Court's findings, either on fact or law, reversing the Trial Court, for reasons that can be plausibly assigned.

31. It is no doubt true that the first Appellate Court ordinarily ought to frame points for determination arising in the appeal, render decision thereon with reasons, going by the provisions of Order XLI Rule 31 of the Code, but the mere failure to frame points of determination would not lead to the judgment of the first Appellate Court being vitiated, if otherwise all effective findings of the Trial Court, on which the decree is based, are reversed with reasons assigned that are not perverse or manifestly illegal; or ones recorded ignoring material evidence, or still more, placing reliance on some irrelevant evidence.

32. The insistence of the learned Counsel for the plaintiff on the necessity to frame points for determination, which has not been done in this case by the Lower Appellate Court, is largely inspired by the guidance of the Supreme Court in Malluru Mallappa (supra), where it has been held by their Lordships:

"13. It is a settled position of law that an appeal is a continuation of the proceedings of the original court. Ordinarily, the appellate jurisdiction involves a rehearing on law as well as on fact and is invoked by an aggrieved person. The first appeal is a valuable right of the appellant and therein all questions of fact and law decided by the trial court are open for reconsideration. Therefore, the first appellate court is required to address itself to all the issues and decide the case by giving reasons. The court of first appeal must record its findings only after dealing with all issues of law as well as fact and with the evidence, oral as well as documentary, led by the parties. The judgment of the first appellate court must display conscious application of mind and record findings supported by reasons on all issues and contentions [see : Santosh Hazariv. Purushottam Tiwari [Santosh Hazari v. Purushottam Tiwari, (2001) 3 SCC 179] , Madhukar v. Sangram [Madhukar v. Sangram, (2001) 4 SCC 756] , B.M. Narayana Gowda v. Shanthamma [B.M. Narayana Gowda v. Shanthamma, (2011) 15 SCC 476 : (2014) 2 SCC (Civ) 619] , H.K.N. Swami v. Irshad Basith [H.K.N. Swami v. Irshad Basith, (2005) 10 SCC 243] and Sri Raja Lakshmi Dyeing Works v. Rangaswamy Chettiar [Sri Raja Lakshmi Dyeing Works v. Rangaswamy Chettiar, (1980) 4 SCC 259]].

14. A first appeal under Section 96 CPC is entirely different from a second appeal under Section 100. Section 100 expressly bars second appeal unless a question of law is involved in a case and the question of law so involved is substantial in nature.

18. It is clear from the above provisions and the decisions of this Court that the judgment of the first appellate court has to set out points for determination, record the decision thereon and give its own reasons. Even when the first appellate court affirms the judgment of the trial court, it is required to comply with the requirement of Order 41 Rule 31 and non-observance of this requirement leads to infirmity in the judgment of the first appellate court. No doubt, when the appellate court agrees with the views of the trial court on evidence, it need not restate effect of evidence or reiterate reasons given by the trial court. Expression of a general agreement with the reasons given by the trial court would ordinarily suffice."

(emphasis by Court)

33. The decision in Malluru Mallappa arose from a suit for specific performance of contract. The Trial Court had held against the plaintiff on issues of readiness and willingness as also the issue of limitation, on the foot of which, the suit was dismissed. The first appeal came up before the High Court, about which, their Lordships observed that the appeal was dismissed by a cryptic order without reappreciating evidence of parties or recording a reasoned order. There is also a remark that the case of the plaintiff was that the suit was well within limitation under Article 54 of the Schedule to the Limitation Act, 1963, but that question too was not examined in the proper perspective. It is in the background of these facts that the remarks of their Lordships about adherence to the requirement of Order XLI Rule 31 of the Code, including that mandating the first Appellate Court to frame points of determination, were made.

34. In H. Siddiqui (supra), the remarks, on which much reliance has been placed by the plaintiff, figure in Paragraph No.21 of the report. These read:

"21. The said provisions provide guidelines for the appellate court as to how the court has to proceed and decide the case. The provisions should be read in such a way as to require that the various particulars mentioned therein should be taken into consideration. Thus, it must be evident from the judgment of the appellate court that the court has properly appreciated the facts/evidence, applied its mind and decided the case considering the material on record. It would amount to substantial compliance with the said provisions if the appellate court's judgment is based on the independent assessment of the relevant evidence on all important aspects of the matter and the findings of the appellate court are well founded and quite convincing. It is mandatory for the appellate court to independently assess the evidence of the parties and consider the relevant points which arise for adjudication and the bearing of the evidence on those points. Being the final court of fact, the first appellate court must not record mere general expression of concurrence with the trial court judgment rather it must give reasons for its decision on each point independently to that of the trial court. Thus, the entire evidence must be considered and discussed in detail. Such exercise should be done after formulating the points for consideration in terms of the said provisions and the court must proceed in adherence to the requirements of the said statutory provisions. (Vide Sukhpal Singh v. Kalyan Singh [AIR 1963 SC 146] , Girijanandini Devi v. Bijendra Narain Choudhary [AIR 1967 SC 1124] , G. Amalorpavam v. R.C. Diocese of Madurai [(2006) 3 SCC 224] , Shiv Kumar Sharma v. Santosh Kumari [(2007) 8 SCC 600] and Gannmani Anasuya v. Parvatini Amarendra Chowdhary [(2007) 10 SCC 296 : AIR 2007 SC 2380].)"

35. The appeal before their Lordships in H. Siddiqui again arose out of a suit for specific performance of contract, where the suit agreement had been entered into on behalf of the defendant by his power of attorney holder. The agreement was registered and the plaintiff's case was that the defendant failed to take necessary steps in furtherance of the agreement. Amongst other pleas, the defendant denied the execution of the power of attorney in favour of his brother, who entered into the suit agreement on his behalf. The defendant's case was that the power of attorney had been given with a limited authority for the management of property. It did not authorize the attorney to alienate. The Trial Court had held the power to be a valid authority for alienation in favour of the plaintiff on ground that the defendant had admitted his signatures on the power of attorney, when a copy thereof was shown during cross-examination. The inference drawn by the Trial Court was that the execution of the power in favour of his brother being admitted by the defendant, there was an admission by him as to the fact of execution of the document. Their Lordships were of opinion that the Trial Court could not draw that inference validly for reason that the defendant had merely admitted his signatures on the photocopy of the power, but not the contents. It was also observed by the Supreme Court that the Court should have borne in mind that the admissibility of a document is different from its probative value. It was in the context of these facts that about the two points of determination formulated by the High Court, while hearing an appeal from the original decree, it was observed in H. Siddiqui:

"20. The High Court failed to realise that it was deciding the first appeal and that it had to be decided strictly in adherence with the provisions contained in Order 41 Rule 31 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (hereinafter called "CPC") and once the issue of the alleged power of attorney was also raised as is evident from Point (a) formulated by the High Court, the Court should not have proceeded to Point (b) without dealing with the relevant issues involved in the case, particularly, as to whether the power of attorney had been executed by the respondent in favour of his brother enabling him to alienate his share in the property."

36. It was in the context of remarks in Paragraph No.20 of the report in H. Siddiqui that the latter remarks in Paragraph No.21 came to be made. To the understanding of the Court, it was not meant to be laid down as an ironcast formula that the formality to frame points of determination by a Court of first appeal would always lead to the judgment being vitiated. Rather, the facts in H. Siddiqui show that the High Court, sitting as the Court of first appeal, did frame two points of determination (a) and (b) and yet failed to address the vital distinction, amongst others, on one hand about the scope of the power given by the defendant to his brother, on the foot of which he had executed the suit agreement involved there and the fact of its execution per se on the other. What, therefore, really seems to be the law about the necessity of framing points for determination is that generally these ought to be framed by a Court of first appeal, but even if these are not, a Court of first appeal must be alive to all that is substantially an issue between parties and must pronounce on all issues arising between parties necessary to render judgment. In doing so, a Court of first appeal must do a wholesome review of evidence as much as necessary to vary, affirm, reverse or modify the findings of the Trial Court. In short, the Court of first appeal has to undertake a wholesome review of the case of parties, examining all evidence on record bearing on the issue, about which the parties are at variance. In this connection, reference may be made to the decision of the Supreme Court in G. Amalorpavam (supra), where the substantial question of law involved in the second appeal before the High Court was formulated in terms, as noticed by their Lordships in Paragraph No.3 of the report. It reads:

"3. At the time of admission of the second appeal the following question was framed for determination: "Whether the lower appellate court is correct in deciding the appeal without any points for determination as contemplated under Order 41 Rule 31 CPC?""

37. The issue in G. Amalorpavam arose before their Lordships in the context of a suit for possession and recovery of arrears of rent and damages. The suit was decreed by the Trial Court and affirmed on a first appeal being carried to the subordinate Judge from the Munsif's decree. Their Lordships in the context of the substantial question of law quoted in Paragraph No.3 of the report, held on the necessity of framing points for determination by the Court of first appeal:

"9. The question whether in a particular case there has been substantial compliance with the provisions of Order 41 Rule 31 CPC has to be determined on the nature of the judgment delivered in each case. Non-compliance with the provisions may not vitiate the judgment and make it wholly void, and may be ignored if there has been substantial compliance with it and the second appellate court is in a position to ascertain the findings of the lower appellate court. It is no doubt desirable that the appellate court should comply with all the requirements of Order 41 Rule 31 CPC. But if it is possible to make out from the judgment that there is substantial compliance with the said requirements and that justice has not thereby suffered, that would be sufficient. Where the appellate court has considered the entire evidence on record and discussed the same in detail, come to any conclusion and its findings are supported by reasons even though the point has not been framed by the appellate court there is substantial compliance with the provisions of Order 41 Rule 31 CPC and the judgment is not in any manner vitiated by the absence of a point of determination. Where there is an honest endeavour on the part of the lower appellate court to consider the controversy between the parties and there is proper appraisement of the respective cases and weighing and balancing of the evidence, facts and the other considerations appearing on both sides is clearly manifest by the perusal of the judgment of the lower appellate court, it would be a valid judgment even though it does not contain the points for determination. The object of the rule in making it incumbent upon the appellate court to frame points for determination and to cite reasons for the decision is to focus attention of the court on the rival contentions which arise for determination and also to provide litigant parties opportunity in understanding the ground upon which the decision is founded with a view to enable them to know the basis of the decision and if so considered appropriate and so advised to avail the remedy of second appeal conferred by Section 100 CPC."

(emphasis by Court)

38. On the issue under consideration, reference may be made to the decision of the Gujarat High Court in Bharatkumar Dhanajibhai Kuber v. Markand Umedlal Joshi, 2018 SCC OnLine Guj 3114, where the principle has been laid down thus:

"34. Thus, the principle discernible from the case law referred to above, is that whether in a particular case there has been a substantial compliance with the provisions of Order 41 Rule 31 of the CPC has to be determined on the nature of the judgment delivered. Non-compliance with the provisions by itself would not vitiate the judgment and make it wholly void. If it is possible to make out from the judgment that there is substantial compliance with the said requirements and that justice has not thereby suffered, that would be sufficient. The judgment of the appellate Court should reflect an honest endeavour to consider the controversy between the parties and that there is proper appraisement of the respective cases and weighing and balancing of the evidence, facts and the other considerations. If all relevant aspects of the matter are gone into by the appellate Court and discussed properly, then the same would be a valid judgment even though it may not have framed the points for determination."

(emphasis by Court)

39. Taking up the other substantial question marked (B), it has to be seen if in fact the Lower Appellate Court, while reversing the Trial Court, has effectively set aside its findings on relevant issues sufficient to reverse the decree. The Lower Appellate Court has thought that the entire gamut of controversy, on which the edifice of the suit rests, is wholesomely covered by Issues Nos.4, 5, 8 and 9. Now, if those four issues indeed encapsule the entirety of controversy, that has arisen between parties, is a matter to be seen by this Court in order to form an opinion if the Lower Appellate Court has effectively reversed all relevant findings by the Trial Court. The suit is essentially about the defendant's right, the defendant being admittedly a tenant of the plaintiff in the shop in question, to raise a temporary structure on the suit property, abutting the said shop on its northern side. The plaintiff has said that the temporary structure raised by defendant No.3 damages the frontage of the shop in question and blocks its access to the highway.

40. It is also the plaintiff's case that the suit property, where the temporary structure has been erected by defendant No.3, is the plaintiff's appurtenant land, because enabling as it does ingress and egress to the shop in question, it is necessary for its beneficial use. The construction raised on the suit property by the third defendant has also been claimed to diminish the value of the shop in question. There is also a cause of action pleaded by the plaintiff on account of waterlogging in front of the other shops owned by the plaintiff on account of the offending constructions raised on the suit property. The last of the grounds, claimed by the plaintiff to support the case for a mandatory injunction, does not appear to have been suited by parties, as there is no finding about it by the Courts below. The plaintiff essentially pleaded a cause of action against the State and the Municipal Board, saying that the suit property is located over land which is parti, where the temporary construction has been raised without a permission by defendant No.2, the Municipal Board, Kalpi. The land vests in the State and managed by the Municipal Board, therefore, defendant Nos.1 and 2, that is to say, the State and the Municipal Board, in particular, the Municipal Board, ought to remove the constructions by taking out statutory proceedings under the Act of 1916. At the commencement of the suit, there was no relief claimed against defendant No.3 at all. The mandatory injunction was claimed against defendant Nos.1 and 2, in particular, defendant No.2, the Municipal Board, to remove the offending construction comprising the suit property, denoted by letters ABJK. Later on, on better advice, defendant No.3 was impleaded to the suit and the injunction claimed against him as well.

41. Issue No.4 is about the fact if the suit property constitutes the frontage of the shop in question, whereas Issue No.5 is about the fact if the suit property is land appurtenant to the said shop. Issue No.8 is to the effect if the plaintiff's suit is maintainable, whereas Issue No.9 is about the plaintiff's right to access the National Highway, located to the north of the shop in question from all directions. One of the principal controversies that has permeated the issues, on which the parties went to trial, is whether the shop in question has its access to the north and south both, or it is to the south alone and not the north.

42. The Trial Court took up Issues Nos.4 and 5 together, and as already noticed, answered them for the plaintiff. In answering both these issues, the Trial Court proposed to look into the testimony of Abdul Rehman, examined as PW-1, the plaintiff's husband. The Trial Court has devoted much of its wisdom to the admissibility of this witness's testimony, because he died before defendant No.3 could cross-examine him. The Trial Court held that the witness testified on 06.04.1989 and 29.01.1996 and was also cross-examined by defendant Nos.1 and 2. However, defendant No.3 did not cross-examine him on those dates, where it is written 'nil' in the column of cross-examination. Opportunity was given to defendant No.3 to examine Abdul Rehman, but before it could come, he died. The witness's testimony has, therefore, been held relevant under Section 33 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, but not much of that testimony has been discussed or inference based on it. The Trial Court has founded most of its reasoning on the admitted facts that defendant No.3 is a tenant in the shop in question, who has asserted that he uses the suit property for ingress and egress and access to the shop. His rights to access are limited to the nature of his estate in the shop in question, which is admittedly a tenancy.

43. The Trial Court has believed the testimony of DW-3 that he uses the suit property as his frontage and for the purpose of access to his shop. This is a right of the landlord, according to the Trial Court, which he is using so long as he is the tenant. The Trial Court has also relied on the pleadings of defendant Nos.1 and 2, that defendant No.2 realizes tehbazari from defendant No.3 for the use of the land comprising the suit property. The inference drawn is that it could be only so if defendant No.3 had an easementary right or his frontage necessary for ingress and egress. The testimony of PW-3 has also been considered to the effect that he sells sweetmeats orienting his counter to the north, that is to say, the northern side of the suit property. The testimony of DW-3 has also been noticed to the effect that his customers approach his shop from the highway, that is to say, the northern face of the shop in question. From the fact of levy of tehbazari, the Trial Court has drawn the conclusion that defendant No.3 utilized the suit property to begin with for his convenience, and later on, as the frontage of the shop in question as well as for access, ingress and egress. It has also been held that the land comprising the suit property is land appurtenant to the shop in question and used as its frontage. The Trial Court has, more or less, held that these rights appertain to the shop in question and belong to defendant No.3 so long as he is the tenant. Else, these are the rights of the plaintiff, who is the owner and the landlord. There being much issue between parties if indeed the suit property serves as frontage of the shop in question, necessary for ingress and egress, and used as land appurtenant to it, the Lower Appellate Court has looked into the sale deed of 15.09.1975, by which four shops were sold by Mustaq Ali to the plaintiff.

44. Upon a perusal of the said sale deed, paper No.20-Ka, the Lower Appellate Court has recorded a finding that the sale deed indicates the boundaries of the shop sold by Mustaq Ali to the plaintiff. The northern boundary of the shop shows land, described as parti, and to the south, the boundary shown is a road. The Amin Commissioner's report, paper No.50-Ga too has been considered on the point. The Commissioner's report shows to the south the road and to the north the suit property. The Lower Appellate Court has concluded from these documents that the shops purchased by the plaintiff from Mustaq Ali vide registered sale deed dated 15.09.1975, had their frontage to the south, and to the north, there is land classified as parti. Both parties, according to the Lower Appellate Court, are ad idem on the issue that the land to the north, described as parti, vests in the State. None of the parties has a right in or to it, until the State Government confers or grants such a right. The Lower Appellate Court has held that on this ground, the suit is not maintainable.

45. This particular finding has come in the course of the Lower Appellate Court disposing of Issue No.8. We may say that while the findings about the boundaries of the shop in question and the inference drawn from it about the frontage of the shop may not be very wrong, as would be further elucidated in this judgment, but to say that the suit is not maintainable, is certainly a finding that this Court cannot approve. It is manifestly illegal. There is always a subtle distinction between the maintainability and sustainability of an action. Maintainability refers to that state of things, where the action brought on account of some bar created by law or otherwise is not triable. If, however, the action is triable, but by evidence, it cannot be proved, it cannot be said to be not maintainable. It has to be regarded as not sustainable, that is to say, a case which the plaintiff has not been able to establish at the trial; not one which was not triable at all.

46. There are further findings by the Lower Appellate Court to the effect that the plaintiff purchased the property in question through the registered sale deed dated 15.09.1975, and defendant No.3 is a tenant in the said shop. It has been recorded that it is admitted fact that the shop in question has its door oriented to the south and there is a road to the south, whereas to the north, the boundary shows it to be land i.e. parti, vested in the State and managed by the Municipal Board, defendant Nos.1 and 2. There is a further finding that the earlier findings while dealing with Issue No.8 would lead to the conclusion that the shop in question does not have access on all sides and the frontage is to the south, whereas to the north, the land is Nazul. There is also a finding to the effect that the evidence shows that earlier defendant No.3, before he raised the temporary structure, comprising the suit property, would sit on his shop, facing the east and receive his customers on that side. Now, the suit property, the temporary structure, that he has put up, enables him to receive customers from the Kanpur-Jhansi Highway, for which he pays tehbazari to defendant No.2. The Lower Appellate Court has held that the right to remove the structure erected on the northern side of the shop in question, can be removed by defendant Nos.1 and 2, but not at the instance of the plaintiff. This is so because the shop in question, belonging to the plaintiff, does not have its frontage or a right of ingress and egress to the north. The plaintiff has been held not to have a right of way on all sides of the shop in question, but only to the south.

47. Elaborating these findings, while discussing Issues Nos.4 and 5, apart from looking into the sale deed dated 15.09.1975 executed in the plaintiff's favour by Mustaq Ali, the Court has also looked into the Nazul Patta, paper No.19-Ka of the year 1958. The Lower Appellate Court has recorded a finding that this Patta shows that to the north is shown land that is parti. On the basis of the title documents relating to the shop in question, the Lower Appellate Court has recorded plausible findings with reference to its boundaries that the plaintiff has no right of frontage or appurtenance over the suit property, which vests in the State. The Lower Appellate Court has affirmed the finding of the Trial Court that the temporary structure raised over the suit property by the defendant is illegal. But, the right to remove it vests in defendant Nos.1 and 2 and not the plaintiff. The reason assigned is that it is neither the frontage of the shop in question owned by the plaintiff nor land appurtenant to the said shop, that is to say, land necessary for its beneficial enjoyment. The shop in question has its access to the south, where it has a door and there is a public road, passing next to it. Therefore, the Lower Appellate Court, on the basis of documentary evidence and for very valid reasons, has reversed the findings of the Trial Court.

48. This Court may remark at this juncture that the original records, when summoned from the Trial Court, led to a most surprising report that Files "C1, C2 and D" were destroyed and the record keeper was not aware about the precise date of destruction/ weeding out of this record. File “A” alone was available. Some directions were issued about destruction of records vide order dated 22.09.2021 and by the same order, the weeded out/ destroyed record was directed to be reconstructed. We have, therefore, before us records comprising Files “C1, C2 and D”, that is reconstructed, being photostat copies etc., duly authenticated by the District Judge, Jalaun ar Orai. File 'A' carries whatever record is there in original.

49. We have looked into the sale deed dated 15.09.1975 executed by Mustaq Ali in the plaintiff's favour and find an elaborate description of boundaries with dimensions of the four shops sold. The northern boundary shows land that is parti, whereas the south boundary shows a road or way, described in Hindi as 'Rasta'. In the Patta, relating to the land on which the shops in question were constructed, dated 05.06.1958, executed by the Governor of Uttar Pradesh in favour of Mustaq Ali, the plaintiff's vendor, a document admitted by the plaintiff by an endorsement to its face, would show that the boundaries of the land on which the shops were constructed, including the shop in question, are: to the north, land, that is parti; and to the south, a road. The eastern boundary shows shop of Hafiz Kallu and shops of Dr. Haji Nazir. The western boundary shows again land that is parti. A perusal of the said document re-enforces the findings recorded by the Lower Appellate Court, drawing a plausible conclusion on documentary evidence to reverse the findings of the Trial Court to the contrary, that are based entirely on parole and circumstantial evidence. The Lower Appellate Court is the last Court of fact and it cannot be said that the inferences drawn by it on the issues arising between parties, particularly, Issues Nos.4, 5, 8 and 9 are perverse in any manner. This Court does not have the jurisdiction to re-appreciate evidence under Section 100 of the Code and substitute a view of our own based on pure appreciation of evidence, unless there be some perversity or manifest illegality. Far from that in point here, a very reasonable view of the evidence has been taken by the Lower Appellate Court.

50. In the circumstances, Substantial Question of Law (A) is answered in the manner that the Lower Appellate Court has substantially complied with the requirements of Order XLI Rule 31 of the Code and Substantial Question of Law (B) is answered in the negative, holding that the Lower Appellate Court has not committed any illegality in reversing the decree passed by the Trial Court, which it has done after setting aside findings of the Trial Court on all relevant issues, based on cogent reasoning.

51. So far as Substantial Question of Law (C) is concerned, evidence has been adequately appreciated by the Lower Appellate Court to come to the conclusion that the plaintiff does not have a right of frontage or access to the public road on the northern side, as the frontage of the shop in question, in the documents of title produced by the plaintiff, lies to the south of the said shop. To the north, there is land described as parti. The Lower Appellate Court has opined that no doubt defendant No.3 has no right to put up a temporary structure there on land that belongs to defendant No.1 and managed by defendant No.2, but that infraction does not afford a cause of action to the plaintiff to sue for mandatory injunction against defendant No.3, seeking removal of those unlawful construction. The said right is vested in defendant Nos.1 and 2. Since the evidence shows, as concluded by the Lower Appellate Court, that there is no frontage of the shop in question on the northern side, there is no deprivation of the plaintiff's rights of access to the public road on that side. The plaintiff may have had a cause of action to object to the temporary construction raised on the northern side of the shop in question, but he has not been able to prove his case, either of frontage or an appurtenance of that land enjoyed by virtue of ownership of shop in question. These findings have been recorded by the Lower Appellate Court on the basis of cogent evidence, about which there is no perversity.

52. Substantial Question of Law (C) is, therefore, answered in the negative and against the plaintiff.

53. In the result, this appeal fails and is dismissed with costs throughout.

54. Let a decree be drawn up accordingly.

55. Let the records be returned to the Trial Court by the Registry.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1447
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 17.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJNISH KUMAR, J.

Second Appeal No. 237 of 2010

Anarkali ...Appellant
Versus
Siyawati ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
Somesh Tripathi, Alok Kr. Misra, Manoj Kumar Shukla, Mukesh Kumar Sharma, Vinod Kr. Yadav

Counsel for the Respondent:
Ankit Srivastava, Mohd. Ali, Ramesh Pandey, Sudeep Seth

A. Hindu Marriage Act, 1955 - Sections 5, 7, 11, 13 & 29(2) - Customary Divorce - While customary divorce is not explicitly provided for u/s 13, the saving clause in S. 29(2) states that nothing in the Act affects any rights recognized by custom to dissolve a Hindu marriage, thus permitting customary divorce - Customary Divorce - Pleading and Proof: To claim a custom as a rule of law, it must be pleaded and proved with cogent evidence demonstrating that it is ancient, continuously observed, and recognized within the relevant community - For proving a custom, not only the custom is required to be pleaded and proved but it's prevalence and recognition for a considerable long time through some examples with proof (Paras 14, 15, 16)

B. In the instant case the only pleading made in the plaint was that Late Rampal had divorced defendant no.1 / appellant by the custom of chhoda chhutti - No pleading was made as to what was the custom prevalent and since how long time such 'custom' was continuing and recognised in the community of the appellant and her husband with some instances. Trial court held that no divorce had taken place. However, appellate court without considering as to whether there was sufficient pleading and proof of custom of divorce through chhoda chhutti in the community of the appellant or not, held that there was custom of Chhoda Chhutti in their community without any basis and proof in accordance with law - Held - Since it was not pleaded and proved that the custom of chhoda chhutti was prevalent, continuing and recognised in the community of the appellant and Late Rampal, it could not be held that there was divorce between the appellant and Late Rampal.

C. Procedure and Practice - Single appeal against the common judgment and decree dismissing Suit and allowing counter Claim - Maintainability - In the instant case Defendant/Appellant filed a counter claim against the suit filed by the plaintiff/respondent no.1 - while dismissing the suit of the plaintiff/respondent no.1, the counter claim of the appellant was allowed - plaintiff/respondent no.1 filed only one appeal against the judgment and decree passed by the trial court - Held - though every decree is required to be challenged on being aggrieved after paying the required court fees. However, in case one appeal is filed challenging the common judgment and decree passed in the main suit and counter-claim paying required court fees, it will not vitiate the proceedings on this ground. (Para 47)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Loya Padmaja @ Venkateswaramma Vs Loya Veera Venkata Govindarajulu;1999(6) ALD 413 AP HC

2. Rameshchandra Rampratapji Daga Vs Rameshwari Rameshchandra Daga;(2005) 2 SCC 33

3. Dolly Rani Vs Manish Kumar Chanchal; Transfer Petition (C) No(s).2043/2023

4. YamunaBai Anantrao Adhav Vs Anantrao Shivram Adhav & anr.; (1988) 1 SCC 530

5. Smriti Singh @ Mausami Singh & ors. Vs State of U.P. & anr.;Application U/S 482 No.23148 of 2022

6. Badri Prasad Vs Deputy Director of Consolidation & ors.; AIR 1978 SC 1557

7. Smt. Shiramabai w/o Pundalik Bhave Vs Captain Record Officer for O.I.C. records Sena Corps

8. Abhilekh, Gaya, Bihar State; AIR 2023 SC 3920

9. Samar Kumar Roy(Dead) Through Legal Representative(Mother) Vs Jharna Bera;(2017) 9 SCC 591

10. P.Kishore Kumar Vs Vittal K.Patkar;2023(41) LCD 2817

11. Gurdev Kaur & ors. Vs Kaki & ors.;(2007) 1 SCC 546

12. Satyender & ors. Vs Saroj & ors.;2022 Live Law (SC) 679

13. Narhari & ors. Vs Shanker & ors.;AIR 1953 SC 419

14. Rajni Rani & anr. Vs Khairati Lal & ors.;(2015) 2 SCC 682

15. Sri Gangai Vinayagar Temple & anr. Vs Meenakshi Ammal & ors.;(2015) 3 SCC 624

16. State of Andhra Pradesh & ors. Vs B.Ranga Reddy(Dead) by Legal Representatives & ors.;(2020) 15 SCC 681

17. Nazir Mohamed Vs J.Kamala & ors.;(2020) 19 SCC 57

18. G.Amalorpavam & ors. Vs R.C. Diocese of Madurai & ors.; (2006) 3 SCC 224

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajnish Kumar, J.)

1. Heard, Sri Alok Kumar Mishra alongwith Sri Manoj Kumar Shukla, learned counsel for the appellants, Sri Mohd. Ali, learned counsel for the respondent no.1 and Sri Rajnish Maurya, Advocate holding brief of Sri Ankit Srivastava, learned counsel for the respondent no.2. None appeared on behalf of the respondent no.3, despite sufficient service.

2. This second appeal, under Section 100 of Civil Procedure Code(hereinafter referred to as CPC), has been filed against the judgment and decree dated 05.03.2010 passed by the Additional District Judge, Court No.7,Raibareli in Civil Appeal No.86/2009; Smt.Siyawati versus Smt. Anarkali and others, by means of which the appeal has been allowed and the judgment and decree dated 29.07.2009 passed by the Civil Judge(S.D.), Court No.14, Raebareli in Regular Suit No.411/2002;Siyawati versus Anarkali has been set aside and the suit of the plaintiff-respondent no.1(hereinafter referred to as the respondent no.1) has partly been decreed and the declaration has been made that the respondent no.1- Siyawati is legally wedded wife of Late Rampal son of Shiv Balak. For rest of the reliefs, the suit of the respondent no.1 has been dismissed with cost. The claim of the defendant-appellant(hereinafter referred to as the appellant) has also been dismissed with cost.

3. The husband of the appellant, Late Rampal was working on the post of peon in Baiswara P.G. College. He died-in-harness on 20.10.1999. The respondent no.1, claiming herself to be the wife of Late Rampal, obtained the succession certificate from the office of the District Magistrate,Raibareli on 25.11.1991. On the basis of the said certificate, she got compassionate appointment on 19.10.2000 in the defendant-respondent no.3 institution(hereinafter referred to as the respondent no.3). The appellant preferred Misc. Case No.76/2000;Anarkali versus Public in General for issuance of succession certificate for release of G.P.F. amount to the tune of Rs.85,642/- and the amount deposited in Saving Bank Account of her husband Late Rampal in the defendant-respondent no.2 Bank(hereinafter referred to as the respondent no.2) to the tune of Rs.5674/-, which was allowed by means of the order dated 26.11.2000. The respondent no.1 moved application under Order 1 Rule 10 C.P.C. in the said succession suit, which was rejected on 22.12.2001. Thereafter, the respondent no.1 filed Regular Suit No.411 of 2002 for declaration to the effect that she be declared the legally wedded wife of Late Rampal and therefore entitled for the G.P.F. amount as well as the amount deposited in the saving bank account of the deceased in State Bank of India, Lalganj Branch. A further declaration was sought to the effect that order passed in Misc. case No.76/2000; Anarkali versus Public in General on 26.11.2001 is null and void alongwith consequential prayer. The appellant, after putting appearance in the suit, filed a written statement denying the averments made in the plaint. She further filed a counter claim for declaration to the effect that the compassionate appointment of the respondent no.1 on 19.12.2000 in the respondent no.3-College as wife of Late Rampal be declared null and void alongwith consequential prayer. The respondent no.3 also filed its written statement admitting that the respondent no.1 has been given appointment on compassionate ground on the basis of succession certificate issued from the District Magistrate, Raebareli. It has also been admitted that the respondent no.1 and the appellant both had applied for the compassionate appointment.

4. During pendency of the suit, it was amended, therefore the additional written statement was filed by the appellant. The replication to the written statement was filed by the respondent no.1. On the basis of the pleadings of the parties, 8 issues were framed by the trial court, which are extracted here-in-below:-

वाद बिन्दु

1. क्या यह घोषित किये जाने योग्य है कि वादिनी स्व0 राम पाल निवासी ग्राम चादा प0,त0 लालगंज, रायबरेली की विवाहित पत्नी है एवं स्व0 राम पाल की मृत्यु पश्चात जी0पी0एफ0 की धनराशि मु0 85642/—रू0 एवं बचत खाता सं0 3281, भारतीय स्टेट बैंक शाखा लालगंज, रायबरेली में जमा मु0 56741/—रू0 प्राप्त करने की अधिकारिणी है?

2. क्या यह घोषित किये जाने योग्य है कि सिविल जज सी0 डि0 रायबरेली द्वारा पारित आदेश दिनांकित 26.11.2000 प्रकीर्ण वाद अ0सं0 संख्या 76/2000 अनारकली बनाम हरखास आम निष्प्रभावी है?

3. क्या कोई वाद कारण उत्पन्न नहीं हुआ?

4. वादिनी किस अनुतोष को पाने की अधिकारिणी है?

5. क्या वादिनी का वाद आदेश 7 नियम 11 जा0 दी0 के प्रावधान के तहत निरस्त होने योग्य है?

6. क्या वादी ने न्याय शुल्क का आकलन कम किया है?

7. क्या वाद में पक्षकारों के कुसंयोजन का दोष है?

8. क्या प्रतिवादिनी सं0 1 अपने काउण्टर क्लेम के आधार पर कोई अनुतोष पाने की अधिकारिणी है?

5. Certain documentary evidences were filed by the respondent no.1 and the appellant, which would be referred at the relevant places. After considering the pleadings of the parties and evidence adduced before the trial court, the trial court dismissed the suit of the respondent no.1 by means of the judgment and order dated 29.07.2009 and decreed the claim of the respondent no.1 and declared that the appointment of the respondent no.1 as wife of Late Rampal in respondent no.3 institution is illegal and void.

6. Being aggrieved by the judgment and decree dated 29.07.2009, the respondent no.1 preferred Civil Appeal No.86 of 2009. The first appellate court after considering the pleadings of the parties and affording opportunity of hearing to the parties allowed the appeal and set aside the judgment and decree dated 29.07.2009 pased by the trial court and decreed the suit of the respondent no.1 declaring the respondent no.1 as legally wedded wife of Late Rampal and for rest of the prayers dismissed the same. The claim of the appellant has also been dismissed. Hence the instant second appeal has been filed.

7. The appeal was admitted by means of the order dated 17.08.2010 on the substantial question of law nos. 1 and 2 as prayed by the appellant. By means of the order dated 26.02.2013, the substantial question of law no. 2 was not pressed, accordingly, this Court had passed an order that the parties are directed to confine their arguments at the time of hearing on the first substantial question of law only and the second substantial question of law shall be ignored as not pressed. Considering the said orders, by means of the order dated 01.09.2022, this Court formulated one more substantial question of law. By means of the order dated 10.11.2022, this Court formulated one more substantial question of law. As such following substantial questions of law have been formulated by this Court in this second appeal:-

"(i) Whether the suit of the plaintiff respondent could be decreed by the first appellate court in the absence of specific finding that the plaintiff-respondent was the legally wedded wife of late Rampal.

(ii) Whether the first appeal filed by the respondent no.1-Siyawati was maintainable in view of the fact that the suit and counter claim both were decided by the common judgment dated 29.07.2009 by the trial court?

(iii)Whether customary divorce was not prevalent in the family of appellant and family of the respondents and the findings recorded by the lower court regarding customary divorce of appellant with Late Rampal was void and on this count the judgment of the first appellate court cannot be sustained and the judgment and decree of the lower court is liable to be restored.?"

8. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that the appellant was the legally wedded wife of Late Rampal and remained as such till his death as there was no judicial separation or divorce between them. There was no custom of divorce by chhoda chhutti in their Kuswaha community but without framing any point of determination in this regard, learned first appellate court erred in law as well as on fact in holding that there was divorce between the appellant and her husband Late Rampal through the custom prevalent in their community, whereas neither any such custom was prevalent in their community nor the same was proved by either of the parties. He also submits that the custom having force of law is only admissible. Therefore unless the custom is proved as per law it cannot be accepted and enforced. Learned first appellate court also failed to consider that the appellant had preferred a suit for maintenance under Section 125 Cr.P.C. against Late Rampal,in which the maintenance was allowed which was regularly paid through cheques and Late Rampal had also filed a suit under Section 25 of the Guardian and Wards Act against the appellant for custody of their minor daughter. He further submitted that first appellate court has recorded contrary findings in regard to the issues no.1 and 2 and has failed to consider the statement on oath of the respondent no.1, who appeared as PW1 that it is true to say that Siyawati was legally wedded wife of Late Rampal till his death, which is in fact the admission on the part of the respondent no.1 and in view of this admission, as per Hindu Law he could not have married another woman during his lifetime. He further submitted that the appellant is nominee in the service book of her husband, which is still intact. The amount of G.P.F. of the husband of the appellant has also been paid to the appellant on the basis of succession certificate issued by the competent court of law.He also submitted that the appellant had filed a counter claim against the suit filed by the respondent no.1 and while dismissing the suit of the respondent no.1, the counter claim of the appellant was allowed but only one appeal was filed against the judgment and decree passed by the trial court therefore it was not maintainable and liable to be dismissed on this ground alone. Thus, the submission of learned counsel for the appellant is that judgment and decree passed by the first appellate court suffers from manifest error of law and findings recorded by it are erroneous and perverse and it is liable to be set aside by this Court.

9. He relies on Yamanaji H. Jadhav versus Nirmala; (2002) 2 SCC 637, Rameshchandra Rampratapji Daga versus Rameshwari Rameshchandra Daga;(2005) 2 SCC 33,State of Andhra Pradesh and Others versus B.Ranga Reddy(Dead) by Legal Representatives and Others;(2020) 15 SCC 681,Rajni Rani and Another versus Khairati Lal and Others;(2015) 2 SCC 682, YamunaBai Anantrao Adhav versus Anantrao Shivram Adhav and another;(1988) 1 SCC 530,Gurdev Kaur and Others versus Kaki and Others;(2007) 1 SCC 546,P.Kishore Kumar versus Vittal K.Patkar;2023(41) LCD 2817, Samar Kumar Roy(Dead) Through Legal Representative(Mother) versus Jharna Bera;(2017) 9 SCC 591, Smt. Shiramabai w/o Pundalik Bhave versus Captain Record Officer for O.I.C. records Sena Corps Abhilekh, Gaya, Bihar State; AIR 2023 SC 3920 and a coordinate Bench judgment of this Court in the case of Smriti Singh Alias Mausami Singh and 3 others versus State of U.P. and Another;Application U/S 482 No.23148 of 2022 .

10. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondent no.1 submitted that the appellant was divorced by her husband late Rampal as per the custom prevalent and recognised in their community, which was proved by the statement of D.W.2 i.e. witness produced by the appellant and after divorce from the appellant, her husband had married to the respondent no.1 in accordance with law and the custom in the community. Therefore it cannot be said that the marriage of respondent no.1 with her husband late Rampal was void. He further submitted that the respondent no.1 was appointed in the respondent no.3 institution on the basis of the succession certificate issued by the District Magistrate under Dying-in-Harness in place of her husband in accordance with law on 28.09.2000. He also submitted that the respondent no.1 has three children out of the wedlock with Late Rampal. Thus, the submission is that the trial court had wrongly and illegally dismissed the suit filed by the respondent no.1, which has rightly and in accordance with law been allowed by the first appellate court after considering the pleadings of the parties and evidence adduced before the trial court. Therefore the judgment and decree passed by the first appellate court does not suffer from any illegality or error. On the basis of above, submission of learned counsel for the respondent no.1 is that the substantial questions of law formulated by this Court does not arise in this appeal and the appeal has been filed on misconceived and baseless grounds, which is liable to be dismissed with cost.

11. He relies on Satyender and Others versus Saroj and Others;2022 Live Law (SC) 679, State of Andhra Pradesh and Others versus B.Ranga Reddy(Dead) by Legal Representatives and Others;(2020) 15 SCC 681,Sri Gangai Vinayagar Temple and Another versus Meenakshi Ammal and Others;(2015) 3 SCC 624,Nazir Mohamed versus J.Kamala and Others;(2020) 19 SCC 57,Gurdit Singh versus Mst. Angrez Kaur Alias Gej Kaur alias Malanand Others;1968 AIR 142,,Badri Prasad versus Deputy Director of Consolidation and Others; AIR 1978 SC 1557,Narhari and others versus Shanker and Others;AIR 1953 SC 419,Smt. Nirmala and others versus Mamta and others;FAM No.143 of 2017 of Chattisgarh High Court, Bilaspur,Loya Padmaja @ Venkateswaramma versus Loya Veera Venkata Govindarajulu;1999(6) ALD 413 of Andhra Pradesh High Court and G.Amalorpavam and others versus R.C. Diocese of Madurai and Others;(2006) 3 SCC 224. .

12. I have considered the submissions of learned counsel for the parties and perused the records.

13. The respondent no.1 filed suit stating that the appellant was the legally wedded wife of Late Rampal. Late Rampal had desolved the marriage with her according to the custom of chhoda chhutti prevalent and recognised in their community 22 years back. Thereafter, he had married with the respondent no.1 about 11-12 years back according to the customary rights and ceremonies prevalent in the community. Therefore the first question to be considered in this case is as to whether the custom of Chhoda Chhutti was prevalent, continuing and recognised in the community of the appellant and her husband or not and if it was prevalent, and continuing and recognised,the marriage of the appellant with Late Rampal was desolved with the said custom of chhoda chhutti or not.

14. As per Section 5 of the Hindu Marriage Act 1955(hereinafter referred to as the Act of 1955), the first condition of the conditions for Hindu Marriage is that the marriage may be solemnized between two hindus if neither of the party has spouse living at the time of marriage. The exception to it is if a person has got divorce, in accordance with law. Section 13 of the Act of 1955 provides as to how a marriage may be desolved. Therefore a person whose marriage has been desolved in accordance with law is entitled to remarry. Though the customary divorce is not provided under Section 13 of the Act of 1955, however, as per Saving clause provided under Section 29(2),it will not affect any right recognised by custom to obtain dissolution of a Hindu Marriage, as such the customary divorce is permissible, if it is recognised. Section 29(2) is extracted hereinbelow:-

"(2) Nothing contained in this Act shall be deemed to affect any right recognised by custom or conferred by any special enactment to obtain the dissolution of a Hindu marriage, whether solemnized before or after the commencement of this Act".

15. The 'custom' has been defined in Sub-section(a) of Section 3 of the Act of 1955, which is extracted hereinbelow:-

3. Definitions.—In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

(a) the expressions "custom" and "usage" signify any rule which, having been continuously and uniformly observed for a long time, has obtained the force of law among Hindus in any local area, tribe, community, group or family:

Provided that the rule is certain and not unreasonable or opposed to public policy; and

Provided further that in the case of a rule applicable only to a family it has not been discontinued by the family;

16. In view of above, the expression 'custom' signify any rule which, having been continuously and uniformly observed for a long time and recognised in a community, would obtain the force of law among Hindus, provided that the rule is certain and not unreasonable or opposed to public policy. If it is in regard to a family it is applicable only to a family, where it has not been discontinued by the family. Therefore for claiming a custom as a rule of law, it has to be necessarily pleaded and proved by cogent evidence that the same was ancient and being continuously and uniformly been observed for a long time and recognised in the community of the person(s) claiming it.

17. The Andhra Pradesh High court, in the case of Loya Padmaja @

Venkateswaramma versus Loya Veera Venkata Govindarajulu(supra), has held that where there is a custom prevalent in a community either for dissolution or for performance of a marriage which is accepted and recognised the same shall not be affected by any provisions of the Hindu Marriage Act 1955.

18. The Chattisgarh High Court, in the case of Smt. Nirmala and others versus Mamta and others(supra), has held that for custom to have the colour of a rule of law, it is necessary for the party claiming it to plead and thereafter prove that such custom is ancient. The Court also considered and followed the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Gurdit Singh versus Mst.Angrez Kaur(supra), in which it has been held that when the existence of custom has been proved in a community to which the parties belong, in such case, the custom of divorce would be saved and would lead to a valid divorce.

19. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Yamanaji H. Jadhav versus Nirmala(supra), has held that as per the Hindu Law administered by courts in India divorce was not recognized as a means to put an end to marriage, which was always considered to be a sacrament, with only exception where it is recognised by custom. Such a custom being an exception to the general law of divorce ought to have been specially pleaded and established by the party propounding such custom since the said custom of divorce is contrary to the law of the land and which, if not proved, will be a practice opposed to public policy. Therefore there was an obligation on the trial court to have framed the issue as to whether there was proper pleadings by the party contending the existence of a customary divorce in the community to which the parties belonged and whether such customary divorce and compliance with the manner or formalities attendant thereto was in fact established in the case on hand to the satisfaction of the court. The Hon'ble Supreme Court further opined that the lack of sufficient pleading in the plaint or in the written statement would not in our opinion permit the court to countenance the plea of customary divorce unless and until such customary divorce is properly established in a court of law. The relevant paragraph 7 is extracted here-in-below:-

"7.In the view that we are inclined to take in this appeal, we do not think it is necessary for us to go into the contentions advanced by the learned counsel for the parties in this case, because we find that the courts below have erroneously proceeded on the basis that the divorce deed relied upon by the parties in question was a document which is acceptable in law. It is to be noted that the deed in question is purported to be a document which is claimed to be in conformity with the customs applicable for divorce in the community to which the parties to this litigation belong to. As per the Hindu Law administered by courts in India divorce was not recognised as a means to put an end to marriage, which was always considered to be a sacrament, with only exception where it is recognised by custom. Public policy, good morals and the interests of society were considered to require and ensure that, if at all, severance should be allowed only in the manner and for the reason or cause specified in law. Thus such a custom being an exception to the general law of divorce ought to have been specially pleaded and established by the party propounding such custom since said custom of divorce is contrary to the law of the land and which, if not proved, will be a practice opposed to public policy. Therefore, there was an obligation on the trial court to have framed an issue whether there was proper pleadings by the party contending the existence of a customary divorce in the community to which the parties belonged and whether such customary divorce and compliance with the manner or formalities attendant thereto was in fact established in the case on hand to the satisfaction of the court. In the instant case, we have perused the pleadings of the parties before the trial court and we do not find any material to show that prevalence of any such customary divorce in the community, based on which the document of divorce was brought into existence was ever pleaded by the defendant as required by law or any evidence was led in this case to substantiate the same. It is true in the courts below that the parties did not specifically join issue in regard to this question and the lawyers appearing for the parties did orally agree that the document in question was in fact in accordance with the customary divorce prevailing in the community to which the parties belonged but this consensus on the part of the counsel or lack of sufficient pleading in the plaint or in the written statement would not, in our opinion, permit the court to countenance the plea of customary divorce unless and until such customary divorce is properly established in a court of law. In our opinion, even though the plaintiff might not have questioned the validity of the customary divorce, the court ought to have appreciated the consequences of their not being a customary divorce based on which the document of divorce has come into existence bearing in mind that a divorce by consent is also not recognisable by a court unless specifically permitted by law. Therefore, we are of the opinion to do complete justice in this case. It is necessary that the trial court be directed to frame a specific issue in regard to customary divorce based on which the divorce deed dated 26th of June, 1982 has come into existence and which is the subject matter of the suit in question. In this regard, we permit the parties to amend the pleadings, if they so desire and also to lead evidence to the limited extent of proving the existence of a provision for customary divorce (otherwise through the process of or outside court) in their community and then test the validity of the divorce deed dated 26.6.1982 based on the finding arrived at in deciding the new issue."

20. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Rameshchandra Rampratapji Daga versus Rameshwari Rameshchandra Daga(supra), has declined to accept the registered document of Chhor Chithhi from the previous husband on the ground that the existence of such customary divorce in Vaish community of Maheshwaris has not been established. The Hon'ble Supreme Court has further held that a Hindu marriage can be dissolved only in accordance with the provisions of the Act by obtaining a decree of divorce from the court.

21. In view of above, unless and untill a 'custom' and it's prevalence, continuance for a considerable long time and recognition in the community concerned etc. is specifically pleaded and proved by cogent evidence before the court of law,in case of dispute,the claim on the basis of said custom cannot be accepted and no right will accrue on the basis of said custom. For proving a custom, not only the custom is required to be pleaded and proved but it's prevalence and recognition for a considerable long time through some examples with proof.

22. Adverting to the facts of the present case, this Court finds that only pleading made in the plaint is that Late Rampal had divorced defendant no.1 i.e. the appellant by the custom of chhoda chhutti prevalent and recognised in the community but no pleading has been made as to what was the custom prevalent and since how long time such 'custom' was continuing and recognised in the community of the appellant and her husband with some instances and when there was no pleading it could not have been proved and in fact not proved. Not even a single instance of it's existence and observance has been shown. The appellant has specifically denied the pleadings in this regard. It has further been stated in the additional statement that Late Rampal had not divorced the appellant in his life time through any custom or competent court. The trial court, after considering the pleadings of the parties and evidence adduced before it, has held that no divorce had taken place between Late Rampal and Anarkali i.e the appellant. The respondent no.1, who appeared as P.W.1, has also admitted in his statement on oath that it is correct to say that till the death of Rampal, Anarkali was his legally wedded wife and she would not be able to tell as to whether Anarkali and Rampal were divorced or not. She has stated about divorce of Anarkali and Rampal on the basis of information given by Rampal. D.W.2. Kali Babu has also stated that he knows Anarkali and Late Rampal. They remained as husband and wife throughout his life and there was no divorce between Smt. Anarkali and Rampal through court or community. However, learned appellate court without considering as to whether there was sufficient pleading and proof of custom of divorce through chhoda chhutti in the community of the appellant or not, only considering the plea of the respondent no.1 and on the basis of the evidence of the real brother of Late Rampal, P.W.2 Rajaram and statement of D.W.2-Kali Babu that there is custom of Chhoda Chhutti in their community without any basis and proof in accordance with law, held that chhoda chhutti as dissolution of marriage was prevalent in the caste and community of the appellant, whereas as to whether it was a custom prevalent and recognised in the community or not has not been proved.

23. Learned appellate court has also failed to consider the admission on the part of the respondent no.1 in regard to continuance of the marital relations between the appellant and Late Rampal till his death. Merely, because the husband and wife were not living together for a long time, it cannot be said that there was divorce between them. Learned appellate court has also failed to consider the admission of Late Rampal recorded in the written statement filed by him in a petition under Section 125 Cr.P.C. filed by the appellant for maintenance. Though it may not be of much evidentiary value but when considered in the light of evidence in the present case, it strengthens it.

24. In view of above, since it could not be pleaded and proved that the custom of chhoda chhutti was prevalent, continuing and recognised in the community of the appellant and Late Rampal, merely on the basis of statement of P.W 2 that Late Rampal had divorced the appellant through Chhoda Chhutti before the community is not sufficient to hold that the appellant and Late Rampal were divorced through the said custom, whereas P.W. 2 also failed to disclose the persons who were present at the time of alleged divorce through the said custom and as to how the custom was performed. Therefore also it could not have been held that there was divorce between the appellant and Late Rampal.

25. Now the question arises that if the 'custom' of Chhoda Chhutti for divorce could not be proved by adducing cogent and convincing evidence by the respondent no.1, as to whether the respondent no.1 could have been said to be legally wedded wife of Late Rampal.

26. Section 5(i) of the Act of 1955 provides that the marriage may be solemenized between any two Hindus if neither party has a spouse living at the time of the marriage. Therefore since the legally wedded wife of Late Rampal i.e. the appellant was alive throughout his life time, Late Rampal could not have married to any other woman or the respondent no.1. The marraige of Late Rampal with the respondent no.1 even if held, cannot be said to be a legal and valid marriage in the eyes of law, giving her status of legally wedded wife of Late Rampal and benefits and rights of same. Section 11 of the Act of 1955 provides about void marriages, according to which any marriage solemnized in contravention of conditions specified in clauses (i), (iv) and (v) of section 5 is void. Therefore even if the marriage was solemnized by Late Rampal during subsistence and life of the appellant, who was admittedly the legally wedded wife of Late Rampal throughout her life time, the marriage would be void.

27. Even otherwise, it has to be seen as to whether the marriage of the respondent no.1 with Late Rampal was in accordance with Hindu law or not. Sub-Section (i) of Section 7 of the Act of 1950 provides that the Hindu marriage may be solemnized in accordance with the customary rites and ceremonies of either party thereto. Sub-Section (2) provides where such rites and ceremonies include the 'Saptapadi' (that is, the taking of seven steps by the bridegroom and the bride jointly before the sacred fire), the marriage becomes complete and binding when the seventh step is taken. Therefore one who claims that he/she was married in accordance with the rites and ceremonies of Hindus, if a dispute is raised, he/she will have to plead and prove what were the rites and ceremonies and as to whether such rites and ceremonies include 'Saptapadi' or not and if includes, the 'Saptapadi' was performed or not. Normally the 'Saptapadi' before the sacred fire is an essential ceremony in Hindus and in absence of such ceremony, the Hindu marriage cannot be said to have been performed in accordance with law.

28. In regard to the claim of marriage of the respondent no.1 with Late Rampal,respondent no.1 has pleaded in his plaint that Rampal was of the caste of respondent no.1 and he had married to the respondent no.1 in accordance with the customs prevalent in their community and their marriage was recognised by their family community and society. However, there is no pleading that what were the customary rights and ceremonies in the family and community of Late Rampal and the respondent no.1. It has also not been pleaded as to whether 'Saptapadi' was included in the rights and ceremonies of the family and community of the respondent no.1 and Late Rampal or not, and if it was included, as to whether it had taken place or not. The respondent no.1 in his statement on oath recorded on 28.03.2007 has stated that she had married with Rampal 15-16 years back. It has also been pleaded that respondent no.1 and Late Rampal were living together as husband wife during their life time and their relationship as husband and wife was recognised by their family and community but it cannot be said on the basis of these pleadings and evidence on record that they were legally wedded in accordance with law. P.W.2 and P.W.3 also could not prove it.

29. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in a recent judgment of Dolly Rani versus Manish Kumar Chanchal; Transfer Petition (C) No(s).2043/2023, has held that there has to be hindu marriage in accordance with Section 7 of the Act in-as-much as there must be a marriage ceremony which has taken place between the parties in accordance with the said provision. Although the parties may have complied with the requisite conditions for a valid hindu marriage as per Section 5 of the Act but in absence of there being a Hindu marriage in accordance with Section 7 of the Act i.e. solemnization of such marriage there would be no hindu marriage in accordance with law. It has further been held that in absence of any Hindu marriage as per the provisions of law, the man and woman cannot acquire status of being husband and wife to each other. It has further been held that there should not only be compliance of the conditions as prescribed under Section 5 of the said Act but also the couple must solemnize a marriage in accordance with Section 7 of the Act and the critical conditions for solemnizing a hindu marriage should be assiduosly, strictly and religiously followed. The Hon'ble Supreme Court has also held that where a Hindu Marriage is not performed in accordance with the applicable rites or ceremonies such as saptapadi when included, the marriage will not be construed as a Hindu marriage. In other words, for a valid marriage under the Act, the requisite ceremonies have to be performed and there must be proof of performance of the said ceremony when an issue/controversy arise. Unless the parties have undergone such ceremony, there would be no Hindu marriage according to Section 7 of the Act.

30. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of YamunaBai Anantrao Adhav versus Anantrao Shivram Adhav and another(supra), has held that so far as the respondent treating her as his wife is concerned, it is again of no avail as the issue has to be settled under the law. It is the intention of the legislature which is relevant and not the attitude of the party and held that the marriage of a woman in accordance with Hindu Rites with a man having a living spouse is a complete nullity in the eye of law. The relevant paragraphs 3 and 7 are extracted hereinbelow:-

"3. For appreciating the status of a Hindu woman marrying a Hindu male with a living spouse some of the provisions of the Hindu Marriage Act,1955(hereinafter referred to as the Act) have to be examined. Section 11 of the Act declares such a marriage as null and void in the following terms:

" 11. Void marriages-Any marriage solemnized after the commencement of this Act shall be null and void and may, on a petition presented by either party thereto against the other party, be so declared by a decree of nullity if it contravenes any one of the conditions specified in clauses (i), (iv) and (v) of Section 5. "

Clause (1)(i) of Section 5 lays down, for a lawful marriage, the necessary condition that neither party should have a spouse living at the time of the marriage. A marriage in contravention of this condition, therefore, is null and void. It was urged on behalf of the appellant that a marriage should not be treated as void because such a marriage was earlier recognised in law and custom. A reference was made to Section 12 the Act and it was said that in any event the marriage would be voidable. There is no merit in this contention. By reason of the overriding effect of the Act as mentioned in Section 4, no aid can be taken of the earlier Hindu Law or any custom or usage as a part of that Law inconsistent with any provision of the Act. So far as Section 12 is concerned, it is confined to other categories of marriage and is not applicable to one solemnised in violation of s. S(1)(i) of the Act. Sub-section (2) of Section 12 puts further restrictions on such a right. The cases covered by this section are not void ab initio, and unless all the conditions mentioned therein are fulfilled and the aggrieved party exercises the right to avoid it, the same continues to be effective. The marriages covered by Section 11 are void-ipso- jure, that is, void from the very inception, and have to be ignored as not existing in law at all if and when such a question arises. Although the section permits a formal declaration to be made on the presentation of a petition, it is not essential to obtain in advance such a formal declaration from a court in a proceeding specifically commenced for the purpose. The provisions of Section 16, which is quoted below, also throw light on this aspect:

" 16. Legitimacy of children of void and voidable marriages.-(1) Notwithstanding that a marriage is null and void under Section 11, any child of such marriage who would have been legitimate if the marriage had been valid, shall be legitimate, whether such child is born before or after the commencement of the Marriage Laws(Amendment) Act 1976 (68 of 1976), and whether or not a decree of nullity is granted in respect of that marriage under this Act and whether or not the marriage is held to be void otherwise than on a petition under this Act.

(2) Where a decree of nullity is granted in respect of a voidable marriage under Section 12, any child begotten or conceived before the decree is made, who would have been the legitimate child of the parties of the marriage if at the date of the decree it had been dissolved instead of being annulled, shall be deemed to be their legitimate child not withstanding the decree of nullity.

(3) Nothing contained in sub-section (1) or sub section (2) shall be construed as conferring upon any child of a marriage which is null and void or which is annulled by a decree of nullity under Section 12, any rights in or to the property of any person, other than the parents, in any case where, but for the passing of this Act, such child would have been incapable of possessing or acquiring any such rights by reason of his not being the legitimate child of his parents.

Sub-section (1), by using the words underlined above clearly, implies that a void marriage can be held to be so without a prior formal declaration by a court in a proceeding. While dealing with cases covered by Setion 12, sub- section (2) refers to a decree of nullity as an essential condition and sub-section (3) prominently brings out the basic difference in the character of void and voidable marriages as covered respectively by Section 11 and 12. It is also to be seen that while the legislature has considered it advisable to uphold the legitimacy of the paternity of a child born out of a void marriage, it has not extended a similar protection in respect of the mother of the child. The marriage of the appellant must, therefore, be treated as null and void from its very inception."

7. Lastly it was urged that the appellant was not informed about the respondent's marriage with Lilabai when she married the respondent who treated her as his wife, and, therefore, her prayer for maintenance should be allowed. There is no merit in this point either. The appellant cannot rely on the principle of estoppel so as to defeat the provisions of the Act. So far as the respondent treating her as his wife is concerned, it is again of no avail as the issue has to be settled under the law. It is the intention of the legislature which is relevant and not the attitude of the party."

31. A coordinate Bench of this Court, in the case of Smriti Singh Alias Mausami Singh and 3 others versus State of U.P. and Another(supra), has held that it is well settled that the word solemnize means in connection with a marriage, to celebrate the marriage with proper ceremonies and in due form and unless the marriage is celebrated or performed with proper ceremonies and due form, it cannot be said to be solemnized. If the marriage is not a valid marriage, according to the law applicable to the parties, it is not a marriage in the eyes of law. The court has also held that saptapadi ceremony under the Hindu law is one of the essential ingredients to constitute a valid marriage, therefore if it is not performed, the marriage cannot be said to be legal and valid marriage.

32. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Badri Prasad versus Deputy Director of Consolidation and Others(supra), has held that strong presumption arises in favour of wedlock where the partners have lived for a long spell as husband and wife. Although the presumption is rebuttable, a heavy burden lies on him who seeks to deprive the relationship of legal origin. Therefore there was heavy burden on the respondent no.1 who was seeking to deprive the relationship of the appellant with Late Rampal to prove divorce between them in accordance with law and the marriage of the respondent no.1 with Late Rampal in accordance with law with due compliance of rites and ceremonies, which she has failed to do.

33. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Smt. Shiramabai versus Captain Record Officer for O.I.C. records Sena Corps Abhilekh, Gaya, Bihar State(supra), has held that it is no longer res intergra that if a man and woman cohabit as husband and wife for a long duration, one can draw a presumption in their favour that they were living together as a consequence of a valid marriage and this presumption can be drawn under Section 114 of the Evidence Act. The court has further held that no doubt, the said presumption is rebuttable and can be rebutted by leading unimpeachable evidence and when there is any circumstance that weakens such a presumption, courts not to ignore the same. The burden lies heavily on the party who seeks to question the cohabitation and to deprive the relationship of a legal sanctity. Therefore merely relying the separate living of the appellant and Late Rampal for a long period is not sufficient to presume that there was a divorce between them and in absence of proof of the marriage of respondent no.1 with Late Rampal in accordance with law, which has been disputed by the appellant,it cannot be said that there was divorce between the appellant and late Rampal and if divorce between the appellant and Late Rampal could not be proved, he could not have married in view of Section 5(i) of the Act of 1955 and the marriage in contravention of the said statutory provision would be void under Section 11 of the Act of 1955. Even otherwise the respondent no.1 has failed to prove her marriage with Late Rampal in accordance with law. Thus, this Court is of the view that learned appellate court has committed grave illegality and error in holding that the appellant was divorced with Late Rampal and the respondent no.1 was married to him without considering and recording any finding as to whether the respondent no.1 was married with Late Rampal in acordance with law, therefore the same is not sustainable in the eyes of law. Thus the substantial questions of law no.3 and 1 are answered accordingly.

34. The Hon’ble Supreme Court, in the case of Samar Kumar Roy(Dead) Through Legal Representative(Mother) versus Jharna Bera(supra), has held that a suit for declaration as to legal character which includes the matrimonial status of parties to a marriage when it comes to a marriage which allegedly has never taken place either de jure or de facto, it is clear that the civil court's jurisdiction to determine the aforesaid legal character is not barred either expressly or impliedly by any law.

35. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of P.Kishore Kumar versus Vittal K.Patkar(supra), has held that the decision rendered by the first appellate court, not being in violation of the settled position of law, ought not to have been interfered with. The relevant paragraph 28 is extracted hereinbelow:-

"28. The first appellate court having examined the facts in extenso, the High Court ought not to have interfered with the findings rendered therein by virtue of being, in second appeal, a court of law. As was astutely said by this Court in Gurdev Kaur vs. Kaki, a second appellate court is not expected to conduct a "third trial on facts" or be "one more dice in the gamble." The decision rendered by the first appellate court, not being in violation of the settled position of law, ought not to have been interfered with. With utmost respect to the High Court, we are constrained to observe that the question framed by it could be regarded as one of law, if it all, but did not merit the label of a substantial question of law so as to warrant interference with the first appellate decree under section 100 of the CPC."

36. Similar view has been taken by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Gurudev Kaur and Others versus Kaki and Others(supra) and held that It must be clearly understood that the legislative intention was very clear that legislature never wanted second appeal to become "third trial on facts" or "one more dice in the gamble".

37. The appellant had filed the counter claim in the suit filed by the respondent no.1. The suit of the respondent no.1 was dismissed by the trial court against the appellant and the counter claim filed by the appellant was allowed and the declaration was made that the appointment of the respondent no.1 in respondent no.3 institution on 19.10.2000 is illegal and void by means of a common judgment and decree dated 29.07.2009. However, the respondent no.1 had filed only one appeal challenging the judgment and decree passed by the trial court, which has been allowed with cost and the judgment and decree passed by the trial court has been set aside. The suit of the respondent no.1 has been partly decreed with cost declaring her as legally wedded wife of Late Rampal. However, the suit of the respondent no.1 for rest of the prayers and counter claim of the appellant has been dismissed. Thus in view of the second substantial question of law formulated by this Court, the question arises as to whether the first appeal filed by the respondent no.1 was maintainable or not against the common judgment and decree dated 29.07.2009 passed by the trial court.

38. Order VIII Rule 6-A CPC makes a provision for counter claim by the defendant in a suit filed against him claiming any right or claim in respect of a cause of action accruing to the defendant against the plaintiff either before or after the filing of the suit but before the defendant has delivered his defence or before the time limited for delivering his defence has expired. Whether such counter-claim is in the nature of a claim for damages or not and such counter-claim should not exceed the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the Court. Such counter-claim shall have the same effect as a cross-suit so as to enable the Court to pronounce a final judgment in the same suit, both on the original claim and on the counter-claim. Rule 6-A is extracted hereinbelow:-

"6A. Counter-claim by defendant.

(1)A defendant in a suit may, in addition to his right of pleading a set-off under rule 6, set up, by way of counter-claim against the claim of the plaintiff, any right or claim in respect of a cause of action accruing to the defendant against the plaintiff either before or after the filing of the suit but before the defendant has delivered his defence or before the time limited for delivering his defence has expired. whether such counter-claim is in the nature of a claim for damages or not:

Provided that such counter-claim shall not exceed the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the Court.

(2) Such counter-claim shall have the same effect as a cross-suit so as to enable the Court to pronounce a final judgment in the same suit, both on the original claim and on the counter-claim.

(3)The plaintiff shall be at liberty to file a written statement in answer to the counter-claim of the defendant within such period as may be fixed by the Court.

(4) The counter-claim shall be treated as a plaint and governed by the rules applicable to plaints"

39. As per Rule 6-D of Order VIII CPC, if in any case in which the defendants sets up a counterclaim, the suit of the plaintiff is stayed, discontinued or dismissed, the counter-claim may nevertheless be proceeded with. Thus, the counter claim filed under the aforesaid provision would be in fact a cross suit claiming relief against the plaintiff . However, the same can be decided alongwith the suit by common judgment and decree.

40. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Satyender and Others versus Saroj and Others(supra), has held that the counter-claim cannot exceed the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the court, and that such counter-claim must be instituted before the defendant has delivered his defence or before the time limit for delivering his defence has expired. More importantly, such a counter claim must be against the plaintiff.

41. Section 96 CPC provides Appeal from original decrees. It provides that an appeal shall lie from every decree passed by any Court exercising original jurisdiction of the Court authorized to hear appeals from the decisions of such Court.It also lies against the original decree passed ex parte. Therefore the appeal can be filed against a decree. Section 96 is extracted here-in-below:-

"96.Appeal from original decree.—

(1) Save where otherwise expressly provided in the body of this Code or by any other law for the time being in force, an appeal shall lie from every decree passed by any Court exercising original jurisdiction the Court authorized to hear appeals from the decisions of such Court.

(2) An appeal may lie from an original decree passed ex pane.

(3) No appeal shall lie from a decree passed by the Court with the consent of parties.

1[(4) No appeal shall lie, except on a question of law, from a decree in any suit of the nature cognisable by Courts of Small Cause, when the amount or value of the subject-matter of the original suit does not exceed 2[ten thousand rupees]."

42. The 'decree' as defined in Sub-section (2) of Section 2 CPC means the formal expression of an adjudication which, so far as regards the Court expressing it, conclusively determines the rights of the parties with regard to all or any of the matters in controversy in the suit and may be either preliminary or final. Sub-section (2) of Section 2 is extracted hereinbelow:-

"(2) "decree" means the formal expression of an adjudication which, so far as regards the Court expressing it, conclusively determines the rights of the parties with regard to all or any of the matters in controversy in the suit and may be either preliminary or final. It shall be deemed to include the rejection of a plaint and the determination of any question within section 144, but shall not include-

(a) any adjudication from which an appeal lies as an appeal from an order, or

(b) any order of dismissal for default.

Explanation A decree is preliminary when further proceedings have to be taken before the suit can be completely disposed of. It is final when such adjudication completely disposes of the suit. It may be partly preliminary and partly final"

43. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Narhari and others versus Shanker and Others(supra), has held that it is now well settled that where there has been one trial, one finding, and one decision, there need not be two appeals even though two decrees may have been drawn up as determining factor is not the decree but the matter in controversy because the two decrees in substance are one.

44. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Rajni Rani and Another versus Khairati Lal and Others(supra), has held that a Court may draw up a formal decree or may not, but if by virtue of the order of the Court, the rights have finally been adjudicated, irrefutably it would assume the status of a decree.The relevant paragraphs 9 to 9.6 and 25 are extracted here-in-below:-

"9. To appreciate the controversy in proper perspective it is imperative to appreciate the scheme relating to the counter-claim that has been introduced by CPC (amendment) Act 104 of 1976 with effect from 1.2.1977.

9.1 Order 8, Rule 6A deals with counter-claim by the defendant.

Rule 6A(2) stipulates thus:-

"6-A(2) Such counter-claim shall have the same effect as a cross-suit so as to enable the Court to pronounce a final judgment in the same suit, both on the original claim and on the counter-claim."

9.2. Rule 6A(3) enables the plaintiff to file a written statement. The said provision reads as follows:-

"6-A(3) The plaintiff shall be at liberty to file a written statement in answer to the counter-claim of the defendant within such period as may be fixed by the Court."

9.3. Rule 6A(4) of the said Rule postulates that

"6-A(4) The counter-claim shall be treated as a plaint and governed by rules applicable to a plaint.

9.4 Rule 6-B provides how the counter-claim is to be stated and Rule 6C deals with exclusion of counter-claim.

9.5 Rule 6-D deals with the situation when the suit is discontinued. It is as follows:-

" 6D. Effect of discontinuance of suit. – If in any case in which the defendant sets up a counter-claim, the suit of the plaintiff is stayed, discontinued or dismissed, the counter-claim may nevertheless be proceeded with."

9.6 . On a plain reading of the aforesaid provisions it is quite limpid that a counter-claim preferred by the defendant in a suit is in the nature of a cross-suit and by a statutory command even if the suit is dismissed, counter-claim shall remain alive for adjudication. For making a counter-claim entertainable by the court, the defendant is required to pay the requisite court fee on the valuation of the counter-claim. The plaintiff is obliged to file a written statement and in case there is default the court can pronounce the Judgment against the plaintiff in relation to the counter-claim put forth by the defendant as it has an independent status. The purpose of the scheme relating to counter-claim is to avoid multiplicity of the proceedings. When a counter-claim is dismissed on being adjudicated on merits it forecloses the rights of the defendant. As per Rule 6A(2) the court is required to pronounce a final judgment in the same suit both on the original claim and also on the counter-claim. The seminal purpose is to avoid piece-meal adjudication. The plaintiff can file an application for exclusion of a counter-claim and can do so at any time before issues are settled in relation to the counter-claim. We are not concerned with such a situation.

25. We have referred to the aforesaid decisions to highlight that there may be situations where an order can get the status of a decree. A Court may draw up a formal decree or may not, but if by virtue of the order of the Court, the rights have finally been adjudicated, irrefutably it would assume the status of a decree. As is evincible, in the case at hand, the counter-claim which is in the nature of a cross-suit has been dismissed. Nothing else survives for the defendants who had filed the counter-claim. Therefore, we have no hesitation in holding that the order passed by the learned trial Judge has the status of a decree and the challenge to the same has to be made before the appropriate forum where appeal could lay by paying the requisite fee. It could not have been unsettled by the High Court in exercise of the power under Article 227 of the Constitution of India. Ergo, the order passed by the High Court is indefensible."

45. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Sri Gangai Vinayagar Temple and Another versus Meenakshi Ammal and Others(supra) which is in regard to the applicability of the principles of res judicata under Section 11 CPC, has held that principles of res judicata would be applicable to the judgment, which is common, and not to the decrees drawn on the basis of that common judgment. It has also been observed that procedural norms, technicalities and processal law evolve after years of empirical experience, and to ignore them or give them short shrift inevitably defeats justice. In the instance of suits in which common Issues have been framed and a common Trial has been conducted, the losing party must file appeals in respect of all adverse decrees founded even on partially adverse or contrary speaking judgments. It has further been held that the decree not assailed thereupon metamorphoses into the character of a "former suit". If this is not to be so viewed, it would be possible to set at naught a decree passed in Suit/ The relevant paragraph nos. 25 to 27 are extracted here-in-below:-

25. On the issue of applicability of res judicata in cases where two or more suits have been disposed of by one common judgment but separate decrees, and where the decree in one suit has been appealed against but not against the others, various High Courts have given divergent and conflicting opinions and decisions. The High Court of Madras and erstwhile High Courts of Lahore, Nagpur and Oudh have held that there could be no res judicata in such cases whereas the High Courts of Allahabad, Calcutta, Patna, Orissa and erstwhile High Court of Rangoon have taken contrary views. It should also be noted that there are instances of conflicting judgments within the same High Court as well. The decision of Tek Chand, J. in Full Bench Judgment of the Lahore High Court in Lachhmi vs. Bhulli and Full Bench Judgment of the Madras High Court in Panchanda Velan vs. Vaithinatha Sastrial and of the Oudh High Court in B. Shanker Sahai v. B. Bhagwat Sahai appear to be the leading decisions against the applicability of res judicata. Without adverting to the details of those cases, it is sufficient to note that the hesitancy or reluctance to the applicability of the rigorous of res judicata flowed from the notion that Section 11 of the Code refers only to "suits" and as such does not include "appeals" within its ambit; that since the decisions arrived in the connected suits were articulated simultaneously, there could be no "former suit" as stipulated by the said section; that substance, issues and finding being common or substantially similar in the connected suits tried together, non-filing of an appeal against one or more of those suits ought not to preclude the consideration of other appeals on merits; and that the principle of res judicata would be applicable to the judgment, which is common, and not to the decrees drawn on the basis of that common judgment.

26. On the other hand, the verdict of Full Bench of the Allahabad High Court in Zaharia vs. Debia and decisions of the Calcutta High Court in Isup Ali vs. Gour Chandra Deb and of the Patna High Court in Mrs. Getrude Oastes vs. Mrs Millicent D'Silva are of the contrary persuasion. These decisions largely proceeded on the predication that the phraseology "suit" is not limited to the Court of First Instance or Trial Court but encompasses within its domain proceedings before the Appellate Courts; that non-applicability of res judicata may lead to inconsistent decrees and conflicting decrees, not only due to multiplicity of decrees but also due to multiplicity of the parties, and thereby creating confusion as to which decree has to be given effect to in execution; that a decree is valid unless it is a nullity and the same cannot be overruled or interfered with in appellate proceedings initiated against another decree; that the issue of res judicata has to be decided with reference to the decrees, which are appealable under Section 96 of the CPC and not with reference to the judgment (which has been defined differently), but with respect to decrees in the CPC; that non-confirmation of a decree in appellate proceedings has no consequence as far as it reaching finality upon elapsing of the limitation period is concerned in view of the Explanation II of Section 11, that provides that the competence of a Court shall be determined irrespective of any provisions as to right of appeal from the decision of such Court; and that Section 11 of the CPC is not exhaustive of the doctrine of res judicata, which springs up from the general principles of law and public policy.

27. Procedural norms, technicalities and processal law evolve after years of empirical experience, and to ignore them or give them short shrift inevitably defeats justice. Where a common judgment has been delivered in cases in which consolidation orders have specifically been passed, we think it irresistible that the filing of a single appeal leads to the entire dispute becoming sub judice once again.

Consolidation orders are passed by virtue of the bestowal of inherent powers on the Courts by Section 151 of the CPC, as clarified by this Court in Chitivalasa Jute Mills vs. Jaypee Rewa Cement . In the instance of suits in which common Issues have been framed and a common Trial has been conducted, the losing party must file appeals in respect of all adverse decrees founded even on partially adverse or contrary speaking judgments. While so opining we do not intend to whittle down the principle that appeals are not expected to be filed against every inconvenient or disagreeable or unpropitious or unfavourable finding or observation contained in a judgment, but that this can be done by way of cross-objections if the occasion arises. The decree not assailed thereupon metamorphoses into the character of a "former suit". If this is not to be so viewed, it would be possible to set at naught a decree passed in Suit A by only challenging the decree in Suit B. Law considers it an anathema to allow a party to achieve a result indirectly when it has deliberately or negligently failed to directly initiate proceedings towards this purpose. Laws of procedure have picturesquely been referred to as handmaidens to justice, but this does not mean that they can be wantonly ignored because, if so done, a miscarriage of justice inevitably and inexorably ensues. Statutory law and processal law are two sides of the judicial drachma, each being the obverse of the other. In the case in hand, had the Tenant diligently filed an appeal against the decree at least in respect of O.S. 5/78, the legal conundrum that has manifested itself and exhausted so much judicial time, would not have arisen at all."

46. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of State of Andhra Pradesh and Others versus B.Ranga Reddy(Dead) by Legal Representatives and Others(supra) has held that it is the decree against which an appeal lies in terms of Section 96 of the Code. Decree in terms of Section 2(2) of the Code means formal expression of an adjudication conclusively determining the rights of the parties and even in terms of Order 41 Rule 33 of the Code, the Appellate Court has the jurisdiction to pass any order which ought to have been passed or made in proceedings before it.

47. In view of above, though every decree is required to be challenged on being aggrieved after paying the required court fees. However, in case one appeal is filed challenging the common judgment and decree passed in the main suit and counter-claim paying required court fees, it will not vitiate the proceedings on this ground.

48. Adverting to the facts of the present case and on perusal of the records of the first appellate court, this Court finds that the appeal was filed by the respondent no.1 with prayer for allowing the appeal by setting aside the judgment and decree of the counter claim passed by the lower court and decree the suit of the appellant, i.e. the respondent no.1 in this appeal, with cost. On filing the appeal, office reported that sufficient court fees has been filed and it is within the territorial jurisdiction and limitation. Thus, both the decrees passed in the main suit filed by the respondent no .1 as well as counter claim of the appellant were challenged by the respondent no.1 by filing sufficient court fees.Therefore it cannot be said that the appeal was not maintainable and only one decree was challenged and the other was not challenged and merely because only one appeal was filed it would not vitiate the proceedings. Even otherwise, if there was any objection in this regard, the same could have been raised at the threshhold, when the appeal was filed and the appellant had appeared in the appeal on caveat and since it was not raised, it cannot be raised at this stage. However, it doesn't affect the merits of the case or jurisdiction of the court, therfore it cannot be a ground for reversing or modifying the decree in view of Section 99 CPC and it is a settled law that the first appeal is in continuation of the proceedings of the suit. Thus, the Second substantial question of law is answered accordingly.

49. One of the issues raised by learned counsel for the respondents was that no substantial question of law arises in this case and the factual findings recorded by the appellate court cannot be interfered by this Court. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Nazir Mohamed versus Kamala and Others(supra), has held that whether a question of law is a substantial one and whether such question is involved in the case or not, would depend on the facts and circumstances of each case. Thus this Court is of the view that the substantial questions of law were rightly and in accordance with law have been formulated, which have been answered by this Court after considering the rival contentions.

50. Learned counsel for the respondent, relying on the case of G.Amalorpavam and others versus R.C. Diocese Of Madurai & Ors(supra), had submitted that the first appellate court is a final court of facts and the findings of fact recorded by it cannot be challenged before the High Court in second appeal. This case is not applicable on the facts and circumstances of the case because the first appellate court has failed to consider the legal issues involved in the case, which are substantial, as dealt by this Court in this judgment.

51. In view of above and considering the overall facts and circumstances of the case, this Court is of the view that the first appellate court has allowed the appeal wrongly and illegally without considering the legal issues involved in the case. Therefore in view of the aforesaid findings recorded by this Court in regard to the substantial questions of law no.(3) and (1) formulated by this Court,it is not sustainable. Thus the appeal is liable to be allowed and the judgment and decree passed by the first appellate court is liable to be set aside.

52. The Second Appeal is, accordingly, allowed. The judgment and decree dated 05.03.2010 passed by the Additional District Judge, Court No.7,Raibareli in Civil Appeal No.86/2009; Smt.Siyawati versus Smt. Anarkali and others is hereby set aside. No order as to costs.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1467
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 14.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Writ Tax No. 128 of 2024

M/S Rajshi Processors Raebareli ...Petitioner

Versus

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Anurag Mishra

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

Civil Law – GST Act, 2017 - Sections 16(2) & 74 - Rule 36 - Petitioner- Assailed the order imposing tax liability and penalty for the payment of false input tax credit- Petitioner had filed GSTR 3B- Inward supplies from different firms- Investigation by the authority- Firms non-existent and bogus- Petitioner knowingly claimed excessive amount towards in his GSTR-2A- Show cause notice under Section 74 of the Act- Explanation dissatisfactory- Impugned order passed- Appeal dismissed- Received the goods means the person claiming ITC must have actually received the goods- No supplies actually received by the petitioner- No estoppel against the authority for claiming refund of benefit wrongly availed- Writ petition dismissed. (Paras 17 and 21)

HELD:

Section 16 of the GST Act provides the eligibility conditions for taking input tax credit and Sub Section 2(b) provides that no registered person shall be entitled to the credit of any input tax in respect of any supply of goods unless he has received the goods. "Received the goods means the person claiming input tax credit must have actually received the goods". Where a person merely produces document, mentioned in Rule 36 regarding receipt of goods, he has actually not received any goods and it is established that the 8 transaction of goods was merely a paper transaction, without any actual supply of goods, the person will not be entitled to get the benefit of input tax credit in view of the provision contained in Section 16(2)(b) of the GST Act, 2017. (Para 17)

Undisputedly, the petitioner had fulfilled the requirements and, therefore, the input tax credit was claimed and was granted to him. However, when an enquiry was conducted by the Special Investigation Branch subsequently, it came to light that the firms from which the petitioner claimed to have received inward supplies, were non-existent and bogus. Neither the firms were found on the addresses, claimed by them, nor was any godown or other premises of those firms could be found. It appears that the firms were existing on paper only. (Para 18)

It is settled law that fraud vitiates even the most solemn proceedings and the mere fact that the I.T.C. benefit had earlier been granted to the petitioner merely because the firms were registered, would not create any estoppel against the authority taking appropriate action for claiming refund of the benefit wrongly availed by the petitioner on the ground of receiving inward supplies from non-existent firms. (Para 21)

Application dismissed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

W.P.(C) 6093/2017 (On Quest Merchandising India Pvt. Ltd. Vs government of NCT of Delhi & Others) [Delhi High Court]

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Pranjal Shukla, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Vikram Soni, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel.

2. By means of the instant petition filed under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, the petitioner has prayed for quashing of the order dated 16.07.2021 passed by the Deputy Commissioner, Commercial Tax, Division-1, Raebareli, Lucknow (B), whereby the tax liability and penalty has been imposed on the petitioner on the ground that he had been paid false input tax credit. The petitioner has also challenged the validity of an order dated 10.04.2024 passed by Additional Commissioner. Grade-2 (Appeal)-Ist, State Tax, Lucknow, whereby the Appeal bearing number GST 37/2021, filed by the petitioner, against the aforesaid order dated 16.07.2021, has been dismissed.

3. Briefly stated, the facts of the case are that the petitioner is engaged in manufacturing and sale of Aluminum Casting & Machinery Parts. The petitioner had filed GSTR 3B for the month of May, 2019, August, 2019 and December, 2019. The Deputy Commissioner, Special Investigation Branch, Commercial Tax, Lucknow had conducted a survey of the place of business on 25.02.2020. During survey it was found that the petitioner claimed to have received inward supplies worth Rs.16,39,200/-from M/s Ridhi Sidhi Enterprises (GSTIN-09FDTPD8965GIZQ), worth Rs. 17,25,160/- from M/s Siddhartha Trading Company (GSTIN-09HUCPK4270HIZF) and worth Rs. 29,78,025/- from M/s Satvik Enterprises (GSTIN-09GSRPK8763FIZV) and claimed Rs.2,95,056/-, Rs.2,63,160/- and Rs. 4,54,275/- respectively towards I.T.C. Claim for inward supplies received from the aforesaid firms. When the survey of the aforesaid three firms was conducted by the Special Investigation Branch, Agra, it came to the light that all the aforesaid three firms were non-existent and bogus firms. Besides the place of business declared by the aforesaid three firms, no other godown or Branch was found to be in existence. The petitioner had fraudulently claimed I.T.C. benefit of Rs.10,12,491/- without any actual supply of goods, on the basis of the fake invoice issued by the aforesaid three non-existence bogus firms. The Special Investigation Branch found in the enquiry that the petitioner has knowingly claimed excessive amount towards I.T.C. in his GSTR-2A, on the basis of an auto formulated I.T.C. and had adjusted the same in the tax payable by him. Thus, the petitioner claimed a total of Rs. 15,93,491/- I.T.C. in violation of the provisions of law.

4. The adjudicating authority had issued a notice under Section 74 on 03.08.2021. The petitioner submitted his explanation alongwith the evidence, stating that it had received inward supplies worth Rs.16,39,200/- from M/s Ridhi Sidhi Enterprises, Rs. 17,25,160/- from M/s Siddhartha Trading Company and Rs. 29,78,025/- from M/s Satvik Enterprises and had claimed I.T.C. claim of Rs.2,95,056/-, Rs.2,63,160/- and Rs.4,54,275/- respectively regarding the goods received from the aforesaid three firms. In support of its claim of actual receipt of inward supplies, the petitioner had submitted invoices, copies of GR (goods receipts), e-way bill, laser and bank statements of the firms, evidence of transaction of amounts through RTGS and evidence of physical receipts of goods. The inward supplies received by the petitioner have been entered in the stock register.

5. The adjudicating authority did not accept the explanation of the petitioner because the Special Investigation Branch, Agra had found the aforesaid three firms, namely, M/s Ridhi Sidhi Enterprises, M/s Siddhartha Trading Company and M/s Satvik Enterprises to be non-existent and bogus and that the tax invoices had been issued without any actual supply of goods upon which the petitioner had fraudulently taken benefit of I.T.C. The adjudicating authority declined the benefit of I.T.C. to the petitioner and imposed penalty on the petitioner and fixed the liability of interest also.

6. The petitioner filed an appeal against the aforesaid order of the adjudicating authority.

7. The appellate authority found that in his explanation submitted before the adjudicating authority, the petitioner had produced GR No. 213/dated 13.05.2019, 694/dated 21.08.2019, 695/dated 21.08.2019 and 1363/dated 15.12.2019 issued by M/s Goyal Goods Carry Corporation, Daresi No. 2, Agra as evidence for transport of goods from Agra to Raebareli. The adjudicating authority found that GR No. 213/dated 13.05.2019 and 1363/dated 15.12.2019 had been issued on a similar format, whereas GR No. 694/dated 21.08.2019 and 696/dated 21.08.2019 had been issued on a different format, whereas all of those have been issued by the same transport company and it had no other branch. The GSTIN-09AJBPG5336KIZ5 and phone number 6395078684 was mentioned at the transport builty. GST is payable on transport services. When an enquiry was conducted on the basis of GSTIN number mentioned on the transport Bilty, the GSTIN was found to be not valid as per the information available on the common portal. The phone number mentioned on the transport Bilty, was found to be in use of some lady at Kasganj. From the aforesaid facts, it appears that the Bilties had been attached with the explanation of the petitioner to somehow show the real inward supply by making adjustments. The adjudicating authority found that the alleged supplier firms were non-existence and the Bilties had been produced merely to establish transactions with non-existing firms. No goods were transported from Agra to Raebareli and the transactions were paper transactions only.

8. The appellate Authority found that keeping in view the aforesaid facts, there was no reason for making any interference in the order passed by the adjudicating authority.

9. While assailing the validity of the aforesaid orders, the learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the petitioner had actually received inward supplies which is established from the records produced before the adjudicating authority. The supplier firms were having valid GSTIN registration when the petitioner had received the supplies. In case GSTIN registration of the firm is cancelled subsequently, the petitioner cannot be penalized for the same. Learned counsel for the petitioner has further submitted that the GST registration of the aforesaid three firms was cancelled on their own request.

10. The learned counsel for the petitioner has drawn attention of this Court towards the provisions of Section 16(2) of the GST Act, 2017 which provides as follows:

"16(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, no registered person shall be entitled to the credit of any input tax in respect of any supply of goods or services or both to him unless,—

(a) he is in possession of a tax invoice or debit note issued by a supplier registered under this Act, or such other tax paying documents as may be prescribed;

[(aa) the details of the invoice of debit note referred to in clause (a) has been furnished by the supplier in the statement of outward supplies and such details have been communicated to the recipient of such invoice or debit note in the manner specified under Section 37:]

(b) he has received the goods or services or both.

[Explanation.—For the purposes of this clause, it shall be deemed that the registered person has received the goods or, as the case may be services-

(i) where the goods are delivered by the supplier to a recipient or any other person on the direction of such registered person, whether acting as an agent or otherwise, before or during movement of goods, either by way of transfer of documents of title to goods or otherwise; (ii) where the services are provided by the supplier to any person on the direction of and on account of such registered person.]

(c) subject to the provisions of [section 41 or Section 43A], the tax charged in respect of such supply has been actually paid to the Government, either in cash or through utilisation of input tax credit admissible in respect of the said supply; and

(d) he has furnished the return under section 39:

Provided that where the goods against an invoice are received in lots or instalments, the registered person shall be entitled to take credit upon receipt of the last lot or instalment:

Provided further that where a recipient fails to pay to the supplier of goods or services or both, other than the supplies on which tax is payable on reverse charge basis, the amount towards the value of supply along with tax payable thereon within a period of one hundred and eighty days from the date of issue of invoice by the supplier, an amount equal to the input tax credit availed by the recipient shall be added to his output tax liability, along with interest thereon, in such manner as may be prescribed:

Provided also that the recipient shall be entitled to avail of the credit of input tax on payment made by him of the amount towards the value of supply of goods or services or both along with tax payable thereon."

11. Rule 36 of GST Rules, 2007 provides as follows:

"Rule 36. Documentary requirements and conditions for claiming input tax credit.-

(1) The input tax credit shall be availed by a registered person, including the Input Service Distributor, on the basis of any of the following documents, namely,-

(a) an invoice issued by the supplier of goods or services or both in accordance with the provisions of section 31;

(b) an invoice issued in accordance with the provisions of clause (f) of sub-section (3) of section 31, subject to the payment of tax;

(c) a debit note issued by a supplier in accordance with the provisions of section 34;

(d) a bill of entry or any similar document prescribed under the Customs Act, 1962 or rules made thereunder for the assessment of integrated tax on imports;

(e) an Input Service Distributor invoice or Input Service Distributor credit note or any document issued by an Input Service Distributor in accordance with the provisions of sub-rule (1) of rule 54.

(2) Input tax credit shall be availed by a registered person only if all the applicable particulars as specified in the provisions of Chapter VI are contained in the said document and the relevant information, as contained in the said document, is furnished in FORM G.S.T.R.-2 by such person:

[Provided that if the said document does not contain all the specified particulars but contains the details of the amount of tax charged, description of goods or services, total value of supply of goods or services or both, G.S.T.I.N. of the supplier and recipient and place of supply in case of inter-State supply, input tax credit may be availed by such registered person.]

(3) No input tax credit shall be availed by a registered person in respect of any tax that has been paid in pursuance of any order where any demand has been confirmed on account of any fraud, willful misstatement or suppression of facts.

[(4) Input tax credit to be availed by a registered person in respect of invoices or debit notes the details of which are required to be furnished by the suppliers under sub-section (1) of Section 37 [In FORM G.S.T.R.-01 or using the invoice furnishing facility] shall not exceed [5 per cent] of the eligible credit available. In respect of invoices or debit notes the details of which have been furnished by the suppliers under sub-section (1) of Section 37 [In FORM G.S.T.R.-01 or using the invoice furnishing facility] under sub-

[Provided that the said condition shall apply cumulatively for the period February, March, April, May, June, July and August, 2020 and the return in FORM G.S.T.R.-3B for the tax period September, 2020 shall be furnished with the cumulative adjustment of input tax credit for the said months in accordance with the condition above:]

[Provided further that such condition shall apply cumulatively for the period April, May and June, 2021 and the return in Form G.S.T.R.-3B for the tax period June 2021 or quarter ending June, 2021, as the case may be, shall be furnished with the cumulatively adjustment of input tax credit for the said months in accordance with the condition above:]"

12. The learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that for availing inputs tax credit, the petitioner was merely required to be in possession of a tax invoice or debit note issued by the supplier, receipt of goods and actual payment of tax to the Government. As per learned counsel for the petitioner, all the aforesaid three requirement of Section 16 of the GST Act, 2017 had been fulfilled by the petitioner. The documents, required to be submitted for claiming I.T.C. benefit, as mentioned in Rule 36 of GST Rules 2017, had been furnished by the petitioner.

13. Learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance on a decision of Delhi High Court passed in W.P.(C) 6093/2017 (On Quest Merchandising India Pvt. Ltd. Vs. government of NCT of Delhi & Others) alongwith some other connected matters, decided on 26.10.2017, wherein the Delhi High Court held as under:

"39. Applying the law explained in the above decisions, it can be safely concluded in the present case that there is a singular failure by the legislature to make a distinction between purchasing dealers who have bona fide transacted with the selling dealer by taking all precautions as required by the DVAT Act and those that have not. Therefore, there was need to restrict the denial of ITC only to the selling dealers who had failed to deposit the tax collected by them and not punish bona fide purchasing dealers. The latter cannot be expected to do the impossible. It is trite that a law that is not capable of honest compliance will fail in achieving its objective. If it seeks to visit disobedience with disproportionate consequences to a bona fide purchasing dealer, it will become vulnerable to invalidation on the touchstone of Article 14 of the Constitution.

41. The Court respectfully concurs with the above analysis and holds that in the present case, the purchasing dealer is being asked to do the impossible, i.e. to anticipate the selling dealer who will not deposit with the Government the tax collected by him from those purchasing dealer and therefore avoid transacting with such selling dealers. Alternatively, what Section 9 (2) (g) of the DVAT Act requires the purchasing dealer to do is that after transacting with the selling dealer, somehow ensure that the selling dealer does in fact deposit the tax collected from the purchasing dealer and if the selling dealer fails to do so, undergo the risk of being denied the ITC. Indeed Section 9 (2) (g) of the DVAT Act places an onerous burden on a bonafide purchasing dealer."

14. The Delhi High Court has further held in Para no. 46.06 of the aforesaid judgment as under:
"46.6 In the present case, the conditions imposed for the grant of ITC are spelt out in Sections 9 (1) and (2) of the DVAT Act and have been adverted to earlier. The claim of the purchasing dealer in the present case is not that it should be granted that ITC de hors the conditions. Their positive case is that each of them, as a purchasing dealer, has complied the conditions as stipulated in Section 9 and therefore, cannot be denied ITC because only selling dealer had failed to fulfil the conditions thereunder. More importantly, the Court finds that there is no provision in the MVAT Act similar to Section 40A of the DVAT Act. Section 40A of the DVAT Act takes care of a situation where the selling dealer and the purchasing dealer act in collusion with a view to defrauding the Revenue. In fact, the operative directions in Mahalaxmi Cotton Ginning Pressing and Oil Industries (supra) indicate that such a measure was suggested by the State Government itself to go after defaulters, i.e. selling dealers failing to actually pay the tax. The Department there undertook to upload on its website the details of the defaulting dealers. It was further undertaken that once there was a final recovery of the tax from the selling dealer, refund would be granted to the purchasing dealer."

15. Per contra, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel has opposed the writ petition and he has submitted that it is not a case where the I.T.C. benefit has been declined to the petitioner and subsequently the liabilities have been imposed on him merely because the registration of supplier firms was cancelled subsequently. The orders against the petitioner have been passed for the reason that he had shown false inward supply from non-existent and bogus firms and he has claimed I.T.C. fraudulently without any actual inward supplies.

16. I have considered the aforesaid facts and circumstances of the case and the submissions advanced by learned counsel for the parties.

17. Section 16 of the GST Act provides the eligibility conditions for taking input tax credit and Sub Section 2(b) provides that no registered person shall be entitled to the credit of any input tax in respect of any supply of goods unless he has received the goods. "Received the goods means the person claiming input tax credit must have actually received the goods". Where a person merely produces document, mentioned in Rule 36 regarding receipt of goods, he has actually not received any goods and it is established that the transaction of goods was merely a paper transaction, without any actual supply of goods, the person will not be entitled to get the benefit of input tax credit in view of the provision contained in Section 16(2)(b) of the GST Act, 2017.

18. Undisputedly, the petitioner had fulfilled the requirements and, therefore, the input tax credit was claimed and was granted to him. However, when an enquiry was conducted by the Special Investigation Branch subsequently, it came to light that the firms from which the petitioner claimed to have received inward supplies, were non-existent and bogus. Neither the firms were found on the addresses, claimed by them, nor was any godown or other premises of those firms could found. It appears that the firms were existing on paper only.

19. Although, the registration of the firms existed when the petitioner claimed to have obtained inward supplies, the investigation revealed that the firm itself does not exist. In case, GSTIN registration has been obtained in the name of any non-existent firm. It being a non-existent firm, could not have made any actual supplies. Merely because the firm was registered on the date of transaction, it cannot be said that the department is bound to give I.T.C. benefit to the petitioner, even though it has been revealed later on the firm was non-existent and it could not have made any actual supplies.

20. The findings of Special Investigation Branch reveal that inward supplies have been received from non-existent firm to take advantage of I.T.C., which amounts to committing fraud against the department and the public exchequer.

21. It is settled law that fraud vitiates even the most solemn proceedings and the mere fact that the I.T.C. benefit had earlier been granted to the petitioner merely because the firms were registered, would not create any estoppel against the authority taking appropriate action for claiming refund of the benefit wrongly availed by the petitioner on the ground of receiving inward supplies from non-existent firms.

22. The contention that no supplies had been received from the non-existent firms also finds support from the fact that the goods receipts issued by M/s Goyal Goods Carry Corporation, were on different formats. The GSTIN mentioned in the transport Bilties was found to be not valid. The phone number mentioned in the Bilties, was also not of any transport company and it was being used by some lady at Kasganj.

23. The aforesaid findings recorded by the Special Investigation Branch give rise to sufficient material to support the order passed by the adjudicating authority against the petitioner for recovery of the amount claimed by him as input tax credit and for imposing penalty and liability to pay interest thereon. The appellate authority has passed the impugned order after taking into consideration the facts and circumstances of the case and the material available on record.

24. There appears no illegality in the impugned orders. The writ petition lacks merit and the same is hereby dismissed.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1474
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 15.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SAUMITRA DAYAL SINGH, J.
THE HON'BLE DONADI RAMESH, J.

Writ Tax No. 799 of 2024

Rahul Sachan ...Petitioner
Versus
Income Tax Officer ...Respondent

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Rahul Agarwal

Counsel for the Respondents:
Gaurav Mahajan

Civil Law - Income Tax Act, 1961 - Sections 148, 148 A(b) & 148 A(d) - Show cause notice under Section 148 A(b) of the Act- proposing to initiate reassessment proceedings- Explanation rejectedreassessment proceedings ordered under Section 148 A(d) of the Act- Test of subjective satisfaction vis-à-vis amended and unamended provision- presently, pre-existing rule requiring to record 'reason to believe' does not exist- Pre-conditions for initiating reaassessment proceedings under amended law explained- information/objective material that 'suggest' escapement of income- conduct of an inquiry- show cause notice- opportunity to the assessee- decision of the assessing officer- 'fit case to initiate assessment proceedings under Section 148 of the Act- No minute/detailed examination of decision required- unless mindless, perverse of patently contrary- No fault in initiation of reassessment proceedings- Writ petition dismissed. (Paras 9, 11, 12, 16 and 19)

HELD:
What is now required by way of a pre-condition to initiate reassessment proceedings is : the information/objective material that 'suggests' escapement of income; the conduct of an 'enquiry', if required, with respect to that; issue of a show cause notice to grant the assessee an opportunity to respond to the information/objective material that income chargeable to tax had escaped assessment in his case; a 'decision' of the assessing officer (on the basis of that material and the reply furnished by the assessee), that the material that may have come to the hands of the assessing authority 'suggests', it is a 'fit case' to initiate reassessment proceedings under Section 148 of the Act.(Para 11)

Thus, the legislature has carefully departed from the strict test of recording of 'reason to believe' and substituted the same with a lighter and more subjective 'decision' of the assessing officer that it is a 'fit case' to reassess the assessee, based on the 'suggestion' (emerging from perusal of the 'information' i.e. objective/relevant material), that income had escaped assessment at the hands of the assessee. (Para 12)

Thus, read in conjunction, Section 148A(b), (c) and (d) would require that assessing authority may not act whimsically or capriciously or on extraneous material or in ignorance of the reply that may have been furnished by the assessee (to the show cause notice issued under Section 148A(b) of the Act), at the same time, that provision does not obligate the assessing authority to specifically deal with the individual objections, pointwise, or to record detailed reasons while making the 'decision' that it is a 'fit case' to initiate reassessment proceedings, in the case of an assessee. (Para 14)

So long as that exercise is bona fide and not mindless, perverse or patently contrary to the law etc., and so long as that 'decision' made by the assessing authority-to initiate such reassessment proceedings is not unconnected/disjuncted or contrary to the 'suggestion' directly arising from the 'information'/relevant material received by him-that income has escaped assessment, no minute/detailed examination of that 'decision' is required to be made. (Para 16)

Writ petition dismissed. (E-14)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saumitra Dayal Singh, J. & Hon'ble Donadi Ramesh, J.)

1. Heard Shri Rahul Agarwal, learned counsel for the petitioner and Shri Gaurav Mahajan, learned Senior Standing Counsel, for the revenue.

2. Challenge has been raised to the order dated 27.03.2024 passed under Section 148A(d) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Act') and the consequential notice of the same date, issued under Section 148 of the Act for the Assessment Year 2020-21.

3. For the Assessment Year 2020-21, the petitioner had filed his regular return of income. However, no scrutiny assessment arose in his case. On 19.02.2024, a show cause notice was issued to the petitioner under Section 148A(b) of the Act, proposing to initiate reassessment proceeding for the Assessment Year 2020-21. The annexure to that notice contains the summary of information on which such proceedings were proposed to be initiated. It reads as below :

"As per information flagged under Risk Management strategy(RMS) formulated by Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT), it has been noticed that you have supplied goods /services of Rs. 73968000/- during financial year 2019-20 (relevant to assessment year 2020-21) to M/s Everett Infra and Engineering Equipments Private Limited. On the basis of enquiries conducted by the Income Tax Department it has been established the M/s Everett Infra and Engineering Equipments Private Limited is not doing any actual business activities and providing accommodation entries. This company is involved in receiving and giving bogus contracts/sub-contracts and raising invoices without delivery of any actual goods/services. The company is merely working as entry/exit provider.

As you have entered into the transaction with this bogus company which is involved in providing accommodation entries the supply of goods/services to this company also appears to be bogus. It leads to inference that you are also one of the participants the tax evasion mechanism of above company. The above information suggests escapement of income in your case. Please also refer to attachment of this show cause notice which encloses sheet containing details of information suggesting escapement of income in your case. The details of information has also been elaborately discussed in above para which may also be referred to.

In the light information (as discussed in above para) suggesting escapement of income in your case in assessment year 2020-21, please submit your response on the issue raised in this show cause notice by the due date, as mentioned in this notice, positively."

4. The petitioner responded to the above notice and submitted a detailed reply dated 18.03.2024. In that, the petitioner referred to entries recorded in his books of accounts and other materials to assert that he had actually sold goods to M/s Everett Infra and Engineering Equipments Pvt. Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the 'purchaser). He also referred to the statement of profit and loss account of the purchaser to assert that the 'purchaser' had disclosed its revenue receipts in excess of Rs. 290 crores, for the Assessment Year 2020-21.

5. Thereafter, the petitioner's Assessing Authority passed the impugned order under section 148A(d) of the Act. It has rejected the petitioner's objection after relying on oral statements of certain entities, recorded during the course of other/search proceedings (not involving the petitioner or the 'purchaser'), as also on the reports of the Inspector of Income Tax, Central Circle-19, New Delhi, as received by the Assessing Authority. Also, reference has been made to the fact that notices/summons issued to the 'purchaser', arising from the information received from the Inspector of the Income Tax, have remained unresponded. The above information was communicated to the petitioner's Assessing Authority by the Deputy Commissioner of Income Tax, Central Circle-19, New Delhi.

6. In such fact background, learned counsel for the petitioner would submit, the petitioner's objections as to absence of relevant material, have remained from being considered. After taking note of those objections raised, the Assessing Authority has proceeded to reject the same, without giving even minimal reasons to reject the objections. In his submission, though the statute has been amended and the formal requirement to record 'reason to believe' to initiate reassessment proceedings does not exist, at the same time, the amended provision itself obligates the assessing authority to 'consider the reply' submitted in response to the show cause notice issued under Section 148A(b) of the Act. Only on such consideration, the assessing authority may 'decide', on the strength of material available on record (including the reply of the assessee), whether it is a 'fit case' to initiate reassessment proceedings. That exercise has not been done. The order passed under Section 148A(d) of the Act is wholly non-speaking. It has been passed in a perfunctory manner with a pre-conceived notion. Therefore, the same may never be sustained as jurisdiction has not arisen to reassess the petitioner for the Assessment Year 2020-21.

7. On the other hand, learned counsel for the revenue would contend, the pre-requirement of 'reason to believe' has been done away. Therefore, the strict test of existence of such 'reason to believe'-to initiate reassessment proceedings cannot be reintroduced by reading the amended statute in the manner suggested. In his submission, insofar as show cause notice was issued to the petitioner and its reply was 'considered' before the impugned order [under Section 148A(d)] was passed, no procedural lapse has occurred. The manner or words in which decision has been recorded may not be justiciable and it may not be read in a manner as may resurrect or reintroduce the pre-existing requirement of recording of 'reason to believe' (as it existed under the unamended law).

8. Coming to the facts of the case, he would submit, sufficient material exists to allow the reassessment proceedings to arise on the test of subjective 'satisfaction' recorded by the assessing authority that it was a 'fit case' to initiate reassessment proceedings against the petitioner for the Assessment Year 2020-21. That subjective 'satisfaction' has arisen on the consideration of the facts that the Inspector of Income Tax had disclosed in his successive reports that at none of the places of business of the 'purchaser' namely, (i) 2664/2/3T/F, Beadonpura Bank Street, Karol Bagh, Delhi-110005; (ii) Y.C. Co-working Space, 3rd floor, Plot No. 94, Dwarka Sector-13, Opposite Metro Station, New Delhi-110078; (iii) M4, (ground and First Floor), South Extension II, South Delhi, New Delhi-110049; and (iv) RH H-4AM, Mahavir Enclave, Palam Colony, New Delhi-110045 any business activity of the petitioner was found existing. Also, the 'purchaser' and its key person had not responded to the notices and summons issued to them, to ascertain the correct facts. Once these facts exist, according to learned counsel for the revenue, the subjective 'satisfaction' recorded by the assessing authority to reassess the petitioner, may not be faulted.

9. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and having perused the record, in the first place, it needs no elaboration that the pre-existing rule, to record 'reason to believe' does not exist. That rule required : existence of relevant material to indicate escapement of income from assessment; application of mind by the assessing authority to that material to entertain relevant reasons; formation of belief that any income had escaped assessment, based on such reasons. Therefore, the precedential law that arose in that statutory context, is neither relevant nor the same requires any consideration, at this stage.

10. Section 148A of the Act reads as below :

"1[Conducting inquiry, providing opportunity before issue of notice under section 148.

148A. The Assessing Officer shall, before issuing any notice under section 148,-

(a) conduct any enquiry, if required, with the prior approval of specified authority, with respect to the information which suggests that the income chargeable to tax has escaped assessment;

(b) provide an opportunity of being heard to the assessee, 2[] by serving upon him a notice to show cause within such time, as may be specified in the notice, being not less than seven days and but not exceeding thirty days from the date on which such notice is issued, or such time, as may be extended by him on the basis of an application in this behalf, as to why a notice under section 148 should not be issued on the basis of information which suggests that income chargeable to tax has escaped assessment in his case for the relevant assessment year and results of enquiry conducted, if any, as per clause (a);

(c) consider the reply of assessee furnished, if any, in response to the show-cause notice referred to in clause (b);

(d) decide, on the basis of material available on record including reply of the assessee, whether or not it is a fit case to issue a notice under section 148, by passing an order, with the prior approval of specified authority, within one month from the end of the month in which the reply referred to in clause (c) is received by him, or where no such reply is furnished, within one month from the end of the month in which time or extended time allowed to furnish a reply as per clause (b) expires:

Provided that the provisions of this section shall not apply in a case where,-

(a) a search is initiated under section 132 or books of account, other documents or any assets are requisitioned under section 132A in the case of the assessee on or after the 1st day of April, 2021; or

(b) the Assessing Officer is satisfied, with the prior approval of the Principal Commissioner or Commissioner that any money, bullion, jewellery or other valuable article or thing, seized in a search under section 132 or requisitioned under section 132A, in the case of any other person on or after the 1st day of April, 2021, belongs to the assessee; or

(c) the Assessing Officer is satisfied, with the prior approval of the Principal Commissioner or Commissioner that any books of account or documents, seized in a search under section 132 or requisitioned under section 132A, in case of any other person on or after the 1st day of April, 2021, pertains or pertain to, or any information contained therein, 70[relate to, the assessee; or

(d) the Assessing Officer has received any information under the scheme notified under section 135A pertaining to income chargeable to tax escaping assessment for any assessment year in the case of the assessee.]

Explanation.-For the purposes of this section, specified authority means the specified authority referred to in section 151.]

11. What is now required by way of a pre-condition to initiate reassessment proceedings is : the information/objective material that 'suggests' escapement of income; the conduct of an 'enquiry', if required, with respect to that; issue of a show cause notice to grant the assessee an opportunity to respond to the information/objective material that income chargeable to tax had escaped assessment in his case; a 'decision' of the assessing officer (on the basis of that material and the reply furnished by the assessee), that the material that may have come to the hands of the assessing authority 'suggests', it is a 'fit case' to initiate reassessment proceedings under Section 148 of the Act.

12. Thus, the legislature has carefully departed from the strict test of recording of 'reason to believe' and substituted the same with a lighter and more subjective 'decision' of the assessing officer that it is a 'fit case' to reassess the assessee, based on the 'suggestion' (emerging from perusal of the 'information' i.e. objective/relevant material), that income had escaped assessment at the hands of the assessee.

13. True, in reaching such 'decision', the assessing authority is obligated to consider only that material that may be relevant (and not extraneous) and the reply that may have been furnished by the assessee, at the same time, it is not the statutory law that he must record specific/objective reasons to deal with each and every objection, that may be raised. The statute only requires an overall or broad consideration of the reply furnished by the assessee, to reach a 'decision' that it is 'fit case' to initiate reassessment proceedings. To read-recording of exact reasons (to reject any objection), into the language of Section 148A of the Act would be to indirectly reintroduce the requirement to record “reasons to believe”, as a pre-condition to initiate reassessment proceedings. That requirement of law has been specifically and completely, done away.

14. Thus, read in conjunction, Section 148A(b), (c) and (d) would require that assessing authority may not act whimsically or capriciously or on extraneous material or in ignorance of the reply that may have been furnished by the assessee (to the show cause notice issued under Section 148A(b) of the Act), at the same time, that provision does not obligate the assessing authority to specifically deal with the individual objections, pointwise, or to record detailed reasons while making the 'decision' that it is a 'fit case' to initiate reassessment proceedings, in the case of an assessee.

15. Therefore, the new statutory test laid down under Section 148A requires-in essence, the concern voiced by the assessee [in his reply to notice under Section 148A(b)], either as to absence of 'information'/relevant material or as to lack of bonafide/prudent 'suggestion' arising therefrom, has to be addressed, upon requisite application of mind, seen to exist on a plain reading of the 'decision' [contained in the order passed under Section 148A(d) of the Act, that it is a 'fit case' to initiate reassessment proceedings, for reason of 'suggestion' arising therefrom, that income had escaped assessment. Thereafter, as before, all merit issues/defences may remain open to consideration in the reassessment proceedings. The 'decision' that it is a 'fit case', to initiate reassessment proceedings is-as the language plainly suggests a reflection of desirability perception/evaluation of the assessing authority-to initiate reassessment proceeding. To that extent it is a provision to arm the revenue authority, to expose an assessee to a proceeding to reassess him.

16. So long as that exercise is bona fide and not mindless, perverse or patently contrary to the law etc., and so long as that 'decision' made by the assessing authority-to initiate such reassessment proceedings is not unconnected/disjuncted or contrary to the 'suggestion' directly arising from the 'information'/relevant material received by him-that income has escaped assessment, no minute/detailed examination of that 'decision' is required to be made.

17. In the present facts, the 'decision' of the assessing authority to initiate reassessment proceedings in the case of the petitioner for Assessment Year 2020-21 has arisen on the 'information' received that the 'purchaser' does not exist. That is contained in the reports of the Income Tax Officer with respect to the four addresses of the 'purchaser'. No direct evidence was disclosed by the petitioner, (in his reply), - to doubt the existence of that 'information'. The 'suggestion' as to escapement of income qua sales made to the (non-existing) 'purchaser', inheres in it. Thus, the 'information' is relevant to the 'suggestion' as to 'escapement of income' at the hands of the petitioner.

18. As to the non-existence of the 'purchaser', that satisfaction further appears to have arisen on the conduct of the purchaser in not responding to any of the notices and summons issued. Third, the assessing officer has taken note, during the course of a search proceedings and upon recording of statement of a third party, it was also suggested that the 'purchaser' did not exist. Such facts had been clearly noted in the impugned order passed under Section 148A(d) of the Act.

19. It may not be denied that the assessing authority has not recorded any reason to squarely deal with the further objection raised by the petitioner that there existed details of activity and income of the purchaser as was available on the website of the Registrar of Companies. In that regard, the petitioner had also pointed out that the purchaser company continues to exist and it is active on the MCA portal. As noted above, that was not a mandatory condition to be fulfilled, at this stage. Also, in absence of any obligation in law, to record a categorical finding to reject any particular objection (at this preliminary stage), no fault exists in the initiation of reassessment proceedings occasioned by an over all consideration of the 'information'/relevant material. As noted above, the 'suggestion' is clearly seen to have arisen on the own strength of the 'information'/relevant material. Thus, the subjective 'decision' that it is a 'fit case' to initiate reassessment proceedings, (notwithstanding the objection raised by the petitioner), may not be faulted.

20. Suffice to note, all merit objections that may be raised and the manner in which they may be raised by the assessee in response to a notice issued under Section 148A(b) of the Act are not required to be decided pointwise, at the stage of assumption of jurisdiction i.e. at the stage of order under Section 148A(d) of the Act. Strictly speaking that requirement of law did not exist even under the unamended law. Even then, as noted above, the strict test of 'reason to believe' having been done away and replaced with the more subjective and lighter test of 'suggestion' arising from the 'information' received by an assessing officer-that income may have escaped assessment, we are not inclined to lay down a stricter test (to be satisfied by the assessing authorities), while making a subjective 'decision', to initiate the reassessment proceedings.

21. Accordingly, the writ petition lacks merit and is dismissed. However, the assessment proceedings may continue and be concluded strictly in accordance with law without being prejudiced by any observation made in this order. Thus, all merit objections/defences are open to the petitioner. No order as to costs.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1481
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 07.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJAN ROY, J.
THE HON'BLE OM PRAKASH SHUKLA, J.

Special Appeal No. 96 of 2024

Ramesh Kumar Pathak @ Ramesh Kumar ...Appellant

Versus

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Vishal Kumar Upadhyay

Counsel for the Respondent:
C.S.C.

(A) Service Law - Regularisation of services - The Uttar Pradesh Public Service Commission Rules, 1998 - The Uttar Pradesh Regularization of Daily Wages Appointments on Group "D' Posts Rules, 2001 - Rule 4 - Regularisation of daily wages appointments on Group 'D' Posts - Interpretation of - Eligibility conditions for consideration - Vacancy existing on date of promulgation of rules - Consideration of eligible persons - Obligation of authorities - if a vacancy is existing on the date of promulgation of those rules and before making any regular appointment such persons who are eligible under the said rules would be considered for regularisation.(Para - 19)

(B) The Uttar Pradesh Regularization of Daily Wages Appointments on Group "D' Posts Rules, 2001 - Rule 4 - Retrospective regularization - Distinction from consideration for regularization from date of eligibility - Claim not for retrospective regularization but for consideration from date of eligibility.(Para -18)

Appellant (Group - D post of mali) was engaged as a daily wage worker in 1986 - later regularized in 2010 - seeking regularization of his services from 2001, when the relevant regularization rules came into force, rather than from 2010 – representation was moved by appellanat - authorities rejected his representation, which was upheld by the Single Judge.(Para-19)

HELD: - Court set aside a single judge's judgment and ordered a fresh decision, directing the respondent to consider petitioner's claim for regularization from 2001 in accordance with the Rules 2001 and the law on the subject. (Para - 20)

Writ Petition & Special Appeal allowed. (E-7)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajan Roy, J. & Hon'ble Om Prakash Shukla, J.)

1. Heard.

2. By means of this appeal the appellant has challenged the judgment dated 05.04.2024 passed in Writ A No.2741 of 2024 which reads as under :-

"1. Heard Sri Vishal Kumar Upadhyay, the learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Uttam Kumar Srivastava, the learned Standing Counsel appearing on behalf of the State and perused the records.

2. By means of the instant application filed under Section 226 of the Constitution of India, the petitioner has prayed for quashing of an order dated 13.02.2024, whereby the petitioner's request for granting the benefit of regularization with effect from 2003 instead of regularization with effect from the date of order dated 10.09.2010, has been rejected.

3. The petitioner's services on a Group-D post of Mali were regularized along with the services of six other employees by means of an order dated 10.09.2010, with effect from the date of passing of the order.

4. The petitioner and some other persons filed Writ-A No.3068 of 2011 seeking a direction to the opposite parties to regularize services of the petitioners with effect from 2001 when the relevant Regularization Rules were notified. The said writ petition was disposed of by means of an order dated 01.11.2023 giving the petitioners liberty to file a fresh individual representation regarding their grievance.

5. Accordingly, the petitioner submitted a representation dated 25.11.2023 praying that the benefit of regularization of service be granted to him with effect from 2003 since when he is working against a vacant post. The said representation has been rejected by means of the impugned order dated 13.02.2024.

6. It is stated in the impugned rejection order that the petitioner used to work as a daily wage labour for rendering assistance to malis in taking care of plants and trees and he was given wages for the post he worked. The petitioner was not appointed as per the prescribed rules by issue of an advertisement, under a transparent process. The petitioner was paid minimum wages in compliance of the orders passed by this court with effect from the year 2003. The daily wagers Shiv Kumar and Gautam, who were senior to the petitioner have been regularized with effect from 11.09.2014 and 10.09.2016. Therefore, the Deputy Director rejected his representation holding that there was no ground for granting benefit of regularization to the petitioner with effect from 2003.

7. The learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance on the following passage of a judgment of a coordinate Bench of this Court in the case of Jag Lal and others Vs. Director, Horticulture, U.P.: 2003 (3) UPLBEC 2528:-

"25. Repeated directions were given by this Court in the order dated 12.12.1995, as well as subsequent orders passed in these writ petitions to give petitioners regular wages in the minimum of the pay scale and allowances. Respondents violated the orders and are facing action in contempt. The same Horticulture Department of the State Government, however, accepted the orders passed by the Lucknow Bench of this Court in group of cases led by Writ Petition No. 6378 (S/S) of 1997, between Bechan All and Ors. v. Government of U.P., and that the Director of Horticulture by his order dated 17.2.2001 annexed in Annexure-I in Writ Petition No. 37136 of 1999, directed payment of minimum of pay scale to the daily wages in the department. These petitioners were, however, arbitrarily discriminated. Having accepted similar orders passed by Lucknow Bench the Department could not have ignored the claims of the petitioners supported by similar orders. All the petitioners are, therefore, entitled to regular pay scale with effect from 17.2.2001 i.e., the date when State Government accepted the claims of similarly situated employees."

8. The aforesaid judgment nowhere lays down the law that a person who has worked on daily wages can be regularized with retrospective effect. Therefore, the aforesaid judgment is of no help to the petitioner.

9. The petitioner has failed to establish any legal right for giving him the benefit of regularization of services with effect from 2003. The writ petition is without any force. It is accordingly dismissed."

3. The petitioner herein had initially filed a writ petition bearing Writ Petition

No.4142 (S/S) of 1995 for issuance of writ of mandamus to opposite party to allow the petitioners to continue to work without creating any artificial break and to pay equal wages to them, which are being paid to the regularly absorbed persons and to consider the petitioners for their regular absorption taking into account their long tenure of engagement and not to appoint any one without absorbing the petitioners on the regular side. The said petition was decided on 05.04.1999 in the following terms :-

"The petitions by the present petition under Article 226 of the constitution of India have prayed for issue of a writ of mandamus to command the opposite parties to allow the petitioners to continue to work without creating any artificial break and to pay equal wages to the petitioners which are being paid to the regularly absorbed persons and to consider the petitioners for their regular absorption taking into account their long tenure of engagement and not to appoint any one without absorbing the petitioners on the regular side. The petitioners are continuing till the present day and they are all working on the Muster-roll prepared by the opposite parties and they have completed 240 days and they are entitled for regularization. The further contention of the petitioners is that the opposite parties have adopted a practice of engaging the persons on the basis of daily wages and after 2-3 years they have absorbed such daily wages employees in the regular cadre on the post of Mali while the petitioners have not been absorbed on the regular cadre and are being paid Rs 33.00 per day only. Since the petitioners are continuing in service itself indicates that the vacancies is of permanent nature are available against which the petitioners can be engaged if they are not being paid the minimum wages prescribed under the minimum wages Act. They have further submitted that on account or poverty and the lack of job opportunities the petitioners are working on such a meager amount.

A counter-affidavit has been filed in which it has been stated that whenever work is available then the daily wages labourers are engaged from time to time and they are being paid their wages daily. They are not being appointed against any of the vacant post. Only petitioners are being engaged to work in the Garden/Farm/Nursery as daily wage labourers, and they are being paid wages at the rate fixed by the State Government from time to time.

Learned Counsel for the petitioners submitted that since the petitioners are working from the years 1979,84,1986 and 1997, they have become over age and they are being continuously engaged shows that the work is available with the petitioners.

In these circumstances, the respondents are directed to consider the case of the petitioners for giving them regular appointment and for considering them in regular employment on Class IV posts, a seniority list of daily wages be prepared and no person from the outside shall be given regular appointment till the petitioners are absorbed.

With the aforesaid observations, this writ petition is disposed of finally."

4. This judgment was never put to challenge by the opposite parties.

5. The case of the petitioner in said petition was that he along with others were initially engaged in the year 1986 and had been continuing since then.

6. Be that as it may, the case of the petitioner was considered in terms of the above judgment, however, the same was rejected vide order dated 05.04.1999.

7. The said order was put to challenge by the petitioner along with others in Writ Petition No.275 (S/S) of 2000 wherein an interim order was passed on 20.01.2000 allowing the petitioners to continue to work and to pay minimum of pay scale and also to consider them for regularization within a period of three months. Ultimately the opposite parties in compliance of such order granted minimum of pay scale to the petitioner along with others vide order dated 22.04.2003.

8. Thereafter on 14.07.2004 another order was passed by the concerned opposite party of the said petition rejecting the claim of the petitioner along with others for regularization. This happened during pendency of Writ Petition No.275 (S/S) of 2010.

9. The petitioner filed another writ petition along with others bearing Writ Petition No.4078 (S/S) of 2004 challenging the order dated 14.07.2004 referred hereinabove. The said writ petition was connected with the earlier writ petition, filed by the petitioner, and both of them were decided by a common judgment dated 15.02.2010 which reads as under :-

"Writ Petition No.275 (SS) of 2000, has been filed for quashing the oral disengagement order 1.12.1999 and allowing the petitioners to work and pay them minimum scale, whereas the order passed by the opposite party No.2 dated 14.7.2004 has been assailed in Writ Petition No. 4078 (SS) of 2004.

Heard learned Counsel for the parties.

Learned counsel for the petitioners submit that all the petitioners were engaged during the period 1979 to 1987. Since then they are working intermittently, but continuously and have been paid wages. He submits that the petitioners and identically situated employees in the Forest Department have preferred writ petitions, on being disengaged, in this Hon'ble Court as well as at Lucknow Bench of this Hon'ble Court and by means of judgment and order dated 24th May, 1996, passed in Writ Petition No. 5442 (SB) of 1995 of this Court, this Court has directed for regularization of services of the daily wage employees. The said judgment and order was assailed by the State of U.P. before the Apex Court and the Apex Court dismissed S.L.Ps so preferred by the State of U.P. During the pendency of the aforesaid proceedings, the case of the State of U.P. and others Versus Putti Lal reported in (1998) 1 UPLBEC 313, in respect of Forest Department employees, was decided by the Apex Court. In the said case of employees of Forest Department, this Court has provided, as an interim measure, for placing the employees in the minimum of the regular pay scale. The Apex Court while disposing of the SLP has observed as under :

"Therefore, benefits of the said judgment of the learned Judge have to go to all the Daily Wagers/Muster Roll employees. It is admitted by the respondents that the pay at the rate as directed by the learned Judge in the said case, is being paid to those Daily Wagers who are members of Kumaun Van Shramik Sangh Centre and such payment is not being made to any other daily wager working anywhere in the State including in Kumaun hills. It is also admitted that the Scheme as directed by the leaned Judge has not been framed by the Government so far. The judgment of the learned Judge is binding on the Government and its functionaries. They are, therefore, bound to pay in terms of the said judgment to every daily rated labourers/muster roll employees and the Government is also bound to frame scheme for regularization of their service."

Thereafter, the State of U.P. has framed Uttar Pradesh Regularization of Daily Wages Appointment on Group "C' Posts (Outside the Purview of the Uttar Pradesh Public Service Commission) Rules, 1998 for regularization of category "C' employees in the year 1998 and the Uttar Pradesh Regularization of Daily Wages Appointments on Group "D' Posts Rules, 2001 for regularization of category "D' employee in the year 2001. On perusal of Rule 4 of the aforesaid Rules, it will be abundantly clear that a daily wage employee, who has been working on the cut off date, that is, 30th June, 1991 and has been working continuously on the proclamation of the notification of the aforesaid Rules shall be entitled for consideration of regularization of his services.

The aforesaid argument has been rebutted by the learned Standing Counsel on the grounds that the petitioners have working intermittently and not continuously from the cut off date till coming into force the aforesaid Rules in the year 2001. le 4 of the Rules, 2001 has been interpreted by this Hon'ble Court in the case of Visheshwar vs. Principal Secretary, Forest Anubhag-3 and others (writ petition No. 47568 of 2002, decided on 29.11.2004) and this Court in the said case has held that in case the employee is working on the cut off date and is continuing as such on daily wage post on the date of proclamation of the notification of the aforesaid Rules, he is entitled for regularization, inspite of the fact that the employee worked intermittently.

In the instant case, the petitioners, as stated by counsel for the petitioners, were engaged during the period 1979 to 1987, though have worked intermittently, but on the cut off date i.e. 26th June 1991 as provided under the Rules they were working as daily wagers and further on coming into force of the Rules, 2001 and as such, in view of the provisions of Rule 4 of the said Rules, which specifically provides that the daily wager employees, who has been working on the cut off date and on the proclamation of the notification are entitled for consideration of regularization of his services and as such the petitioners are entitled for consideration of regularization of his services in view of the provisions of Rule 4 of the aforesaid Rules as interpreted by this Court in the case of Visheshwar (Supra).

While entertaining the writ petition No. 275 (SS) of 2000, this Court, vide order dated 20.1.2000 directed the opposite parties to allow the petitioners to continue to work and shall be paid minimum of the pay scale and shall also be considered for regularization within a period of three months from the date of production of a certified copy of this order.

In compliance of this Court's Order dated 22.1.2000, the case of the petitioners was considered and rejected by the impugned order dated 14.7.2004 is rejected.

Considering all the aspects of the matter in view, the opposite parties are directed to consider the case of the petitioners for regularization, under the U. P. Regularization of Daily Wages Appointments on Group 'D' Rules, 2001, ignoring the order dated 14.7.2004 passed in Writ Petition No. 4078 (SS) of 2004, within a maximum period of three months from the date of presentation of a certified copy of this order.

With these observations, both writ petitions succeed and are allowed."

10. This judgment was never put to challenge by the opposite parties.

11. Now in compliance of this judgment, the services of the petitioner along with others were regularized vide order dated 10.09.2010, copy of which is on record. The date of the order is incorrectly mentioned in the impugned judgment. It appears that the services were regularized w.e.f. passing of the said order, i.e. 10.09.2010. The order itself speaks of the U.P. Regularization of Daily wages Appointments on Group D Post Rules 2001 (hereinafter referred to as 'Rules 2001'), therefore, obviously the consideration was made as per the said Rules 2001.

12. The petitioner being aggrieved immediately filed a writ petition bearing Writ Petition No.3068 of 2011 seeking regularisation of his services from 2001. This petition was disposed of on 01.11.2023 by this Court in the following terms :-

"1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioners and learned State counsel for opposite parties.

2. This petition has been filed seeking direction to opposite parties to regularize the services of petitioners w.e.f. 2001 when the Regularization Rules, applicable upon the petitioners, were notified. Arrears of salary has also been prayed. By means of amendment, petitioners have also challenged the order dated 10.10.2010 whereby petitioners' services have been regularized with the prospective effect.

3. It has been submitted by learned counsel for the petitioners that petitioners were initially engaged in service between 1979 to 1986 in the Horticulture Department whereafter they have been continuously performing their duties. It is submitted that earlier petitioners' regularization was rejected but subsequently their services have been regularized vide order dated 10.10.2010 without taking into account services rendered by the petitioners earlier on daily wage basis.

4. For the said grievance, petitioners have already submitted representation to the authorities concerned but seek liberty to file a fresh representation.

5. Considering the fact and without entering into the merits of the case, liberty is granted to the petitioners to file fresh individual representations regarding their grievance which shall be considered and decided by the opposite party No.3-Deputy Director Horticulture, Faizabad Mandal, Faizabad within a period of eight weeks from the date said representation is submitted.

6. With the aforesaid directions, petition stands disposed of."

13. The said order was subsequently corrected on 08.11.2023 in the following terms :-

"I.A. No.22 of 2023

1. This application has been filed seeking correction of the order dated 1st November, 2023. It has been submitted that date of impugned order has wrongly been indicated.

2. The errors indicated in the judgement are purely typographical in nature and, therefore, order dated 1st November, 2023 is corrected to the extent that date of impugned order indicated as 10th October, 2010 in paragraphs 2 and 3 shall be read as 10th September, 2010

3. Application is allowed.

4. Office is directed to issue corrected copy of the order dated 1st November, 2023."

14. The matter remained pending for almost 12 years before this Court but for no fault of the appellant-petitioner.

15. In the aforesaid writ petition a claim was raised for regularization w.e.f. 2001, i.e. the cut off date mentioned in Rules, 2001. In pursuance of the aforesaid judgment dated 01.11.2023, the claim of the petitioner was considered along with others and by an order dated 13.02.2024 the claim was rejected firstly on the ground the minimum of the pay scale was granted to the petitioner in the year 1999 under the orders of the High Court and also seniors to him were also getting the same. Moreover the seniors to the petitioners, their services had been regularised on 11.09.2014 and 06.10.2015. In the earlier part of the order it is also mentioned that the initial engagement of the petitioner was on casual basis. This order was put to challenge in Writ-A No.2741 of 2024.

16. The learned Single Judge in his wisdom has dismissed the aforesaid writ petition on the ground that the initial appointment of the petitioner on daily wages was for assisting the Malis and he was given wages for the post he worked upon, but the appointment was not as per the prescribed Rules. This reasoning is not sustainable as the learned Single Judge has lost sight of the fact that based on the same appointment the services had been regularized in 2010 as already referred hereinabove, therefore, this ground was neither open to the opposite parties before the Writ Court nor to the Writ Court for dismissal of the writ petition. The other ground discussed by the learned Single Judge is that seniors to the appellants-petitioners, namely, Shiv Kumar and Gautam, their services had been regularised on 11.09.2014 and 10.09.2016. In our opinion, this could hardly be a ground for rejecting the claim of the appellant-petitioner by the opposite parties in their writ petition as also by the Writ Court. In fact, the seniors could have very well claimed regularisation from the date of regularisation of their juniors or for that matter they could have claimed regularisation of their services if otherwise it was permissible from 2001 when the regularization rules came into force, but if they had been sitting over the matter and sitting over their rights, how the appellant-petitioner can be deprived of consideration of his claim as aforesaid. Whether the claim would ultimately be acceptable or not is a different matter, but he could not have been denied consideration of his claim to seek regularisation since 2001.

17. The other reasoning given by the learned Single Judge is that the judgment referred in its order does not lay down the law that a person who has worked on daily wages can be regularized with retrospective effect, however, this reasoning is also not sustainable. The learned Single Judge lost sight of the fact that the petitioner has been litigating ever since 1999 continuously as already narrated hereinabove. Once the services were regularised on 10.09.2010, he immediately raised an objection by filing a writ petition and thereafter also he has been agitating the matter before the Court. It is not a case where he accepted his regularisation from 10.09.2010 without any demur and filed a writ petition belatedly but the case is that he immediately came to the Court. It was in fact an obligation of the concerned authority to consider the claim of eligible persons in 2001 when the Rules of 2001 came into force if the vacancies were existing and it is the case of the appellant that this was not done. The appellant-petitioner's case was that the consideration for regularisation is belated, therefore, resulting in a belated order of regularization. It should have been considered in 2001.

18. Most important it is not a case of consideration for regularisation with retrospective effect rather it is a case of being considered for regularisation from the date on which as per the appellant-petitioner's understanding he became eligible for consideration in view of Rule 4 of the Rules 2001, which reads as under :-

"4. Regularisation of daily wages appointments on Group 'D' Posts –
(1) Any person who-
(a) was directly appointed on daily wage basis on a Group 'D' post in the Government service before June 29, 1991 and is continuing in service as such on the date of commencement of these rules; and
(b) possessed requisite qualification prescribed for regular appointment for that post at the time of such appointment on daily wage basis under the relevant service rules, shall be considered for regular appointment in permanent or temporary vacancy, as may be available in Group 'D' post, on the date of commencement of these rules on the basis of his record and suitability before any regular appointment is made in such vacancy in accordance with the relevant service rules or orders.
(2) In making regular appointments under these rules, reservations for the candidates belonging to the Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes, Other Backward Classes of citizens and other categories shall be made in accordance with the Uttar Pradesh Public Services (Reservation for Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and Other backward Classes) Act, 1994, and the Uttar Pradesh Public Services (Reservation for Physically Handicapped. Dependents of Freedom Fighters and Ex-Servicemen) Act, 1993, as amended from time to time and the orders of the Government in force at the time of regularisation under these rules.

(3) For the purpose of sub-rule (1) the Appointing Authority shall constitute a Selection Committee in accordance with the relevant provisions of the service rules.

(4) The Appointing Authority shall, having regard to the provisions of sub-rule (1), prepare an eligibility list of the candidates, arrange in order of seniority as determined from the date of order of appointment on daily wage basis and if two or more persons were appointed together, from the order in which their names are arranged in the said appointment order. The list shall be placed before the Selection Committee along with such relevant records pertaining to the candidates, as may be considered necessary, to assess their suitability.
(5) The Selection Committee shall consider the cases of the candidates on the basis of their records referred to in sub-rule (4), and if it considers necessary, it may interview the candidates also.
(6) The Selection Committee shall prepare a list of selected candidates in order of seniority, and forward the same to the Appointing Authority."

19. The said rule clearly provides the eligibility conditions for consideration and it clearly stipulates that if a vacancy is existing on the date of promulgation of those rules and before making any regular appointment such persons who are eligible under the said rules would be considered for regularisation. It is in this light that the appellant -petitioner claims a right of consideration of his services for regularization w.e.f. 2001, i.e. from the cut off date (29.06.2001) mentioned in the said Rules 2001 and also challenges the order passed by the opposite parties denying the claim which according to him is contrary to the Rules. The learned Single Judge has lost sight of this provision in the Rules 2001.

20. In fact, as we find that the reasoning given by the concerned official opposite party for rejecting the claim is also not sustainable, in fact, the concerned authority should have considered the same in the light of the Rules 2001 and thereafter should have taken a considered decision and the consideration had to be in accordance with the Rules 2001 and the law on the subject, which has not been done as already discussed hereinabove, and as it is not the case of the opposite parties at least as of now that there was no vacancy existing on the date of coming into force of the Rules 2001 against which the petitioner could have been considered, therefore, while we set aside the judgment of the Writ Court, we also set aside the order impugned in the writ petition out of which this appeal arises and direct the concerned respondent no.3 to take a fresh decision in the matter in the light of the observations made hereinabove.

21. The writ petition and appeal are allowed in the aforesaid terms.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1489
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 08.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJAN ROY, J.
THE HON'BLE OM PRAKASH SHUKLA, J.

Special Appeal No. 266 of 2024

M/S Moksh Innovations Inc.Lko.
...Appellant
Versus
E City Property Management & Services (P) Ltd. New Delhi & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Desh Mitra Ananad

Counsel for the Respondent:
Pushpila Bisht

(A) Arbitration Law - The Allahabad High Court Rules, 1952 - Chapter VIII Rule 5 - special appeal - Maintainability - Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 - Section 11(7) - Bar on appeal against decision of High Court - Not affected by Amendment Act, 2019, as notification not issued for omission of Section 11(7).

Appellant filed a special appeal against the judgment of a Single Judge in an arbitration matter - respondents raised a preliminary objection - appeal was not maintainable due to the bar under Section 11(7) of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 - court criticized appellant for raising a ground that was "highly objectionable" - not raised earlier, and for not informing the Single Judge about a relevant fact(Para – 4,9,10)

HELD: - Special appeal was dismissed as not maintainable due to the bar under Section 11(7) of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996. Amendment omitting Section 11(7) had not been notified, so the bar still existed. High Court Rules cannot override statutory bar. Left open for the appellant to pursue other remedies as may be permissible in law.(Para -11,12,13)

Special Appeal dismissed as not maintainable. (E-7)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajan Roy, J. & Hon'ble Om Prakash Shukla, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Desh Mitra Anand, learned counsel for the appellant and Ms. Pushpila Bisht, learned counsel for the respondents.

2. There is a delay of 135 days as on 01.05.2024 in filing the special appeal. Counsel for the respondents has no objection in application for condonation of delay being allowed, therefore, we allow the application for condonation of delay and condone the delay in filing the special appeal.

3. This special appeal has been filed under Chapter VIII Rule 5 of the Allahabad

High Court Rules, 1952 (hereinafter referred as 'High Court Rues') challenging the judgment of learned Single Judge of this Court dated 18.11.2023 passed in Arbitration and Conciliation Application under Section 11 (4) No. 3 of 2022 (M/s Moksh Innovations Inc. Thru. Manager vs. E-City Property Management and Services (P) Ltd. and others) as also the order dated 12.01.2024 passed by the said Single Judge Bench in Civil Misc. Review Application No. 178 of 2023 (M/s Moksh Innovations Inc. Thru Manager Jitendra Singh Bisht vs. E-City Property Management and Services Pvt. Ltd.).

4. At the very outset, Ms. Pushpila Bisht, learned counsel for the respondents invited our attention to ground (h). Without saying much, we have perused the same. We have also seen the averment made in support of the application for interim relief and an order dated 16.02.2009 passed by a Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 718 of 2008. Apart from the fact that the wording of ground (h) is highly objectionable, we have summoned the scanned copy of records of First Appeal From Order No. 718 of 2008 and we find that the learned Single Judge who has passed the impugned judgments/orders had not signed the vakalatnama on behalf of the appellant herein who was the appellant in First Appeal From Order No. 718 of 2008. The vakalatnama is signed by Mr. B.K. Saxena, Advocate. The learned Judge at the relevant time was junior to Mr. Saxena. Mr. Saxena had filed his vakalatnama and thereafter moved an application for recall of some order in the said First Appeal From Order No. 718 of 2008 and on 16.02.2009 the learned Single Judge who at that time was an Advocate holding the brief of his senior informed a fact to the Division Bench, nothing more to seek recall of an order. There is no other pleading nor any material on record of this appeal that he was the counsel for appellant in his independent capacity in that appeal or in any other proceedings on behalf of the appellant.

5. Most important, when we confronted the learned counsel for the appellant as to whether at any point of time during pending of Application under Section 11 (4) of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 (hereinafter referred as 'Act 1996') the said order dated 16.02.2009 and the aforesaid fact was brought to the notice of the learned Single Judge, he submitted that this was not brought to the notice because the appellant himself was not aware of this fact during pendency of the said proceedings.

6. We find that against impugned judgment dated 18.11.2023 a review application was filed, but, we do not find any such ground in the said review application nor any such averment in any affidavit or application filed along with it informing the learned Single Judge about the said fact. The learned counsel for the appellant says that this fact came to the knowledge of the appellant only after decision in the review application. If it is so, then, how the learned Single Judge could have known that 15 years ago he had been holding the brief of his senior and had made some mention before the Division Bench in an application for recall in First Appeal From Order No. 718 of 2008 filed by the appellant herein. In these circumstances it is highly unjust to make such an averment as has been made in ground (h) and the affidavit in support of the interim relief.

7. One could understand if this fact was brought to the notice of the learned Single Judge and then an order had been passed on merits. Even otherwise, the learned Single Judge did not appear in his independent capacity but was associated with the counsel who had filed his vakalatnama and only as a junior lawyer he appeared and made a statement before the Division Bench.

8. The only reason we have narrated these facts is that in our view it is unfair to expect the learned Single Judge to remember that he had by chance appeared in some matter that too on behalf of his Senior in an application for recall and had informed the Division Bench in the aforesaid First Appeal From Order No. 718 of 2008 15 years ago in an appeal filed by the appellant that some proceedings had already been initiated elsewhere and then to recuse himself from hearing of the Application under Section 11 (4) of the Act 1996, 15 years thereafter, without being informed about the said fact. It was the duty, if at all the appellant felt that the matter should not have been heard by the said learned Single Judge, to inform him about the said fact, but, it seems that having contested the matter unsuccessfully before the learned Single Judge this idea came to the appellant only thereafter. Even in the review application this fact was not mentioned. Although a second review is not maintainable but, in these circumstances, if the appellant was serious about this objection, he could have filed an application for recall of the impugned judgment informing the learned Judge about the aforesaid fact but, even this has not been done, instead, uncalled for language has been used in ground (h) of this appeal. The only reason we have mentioned all this is because of manner in which the ground raised in this appeal has been phrased.

9. We say no more on this issue, as, a preliminary objection has been raised by Ms. Pushpila Bisht, learned counsel for the respondents that the Special Appeal is not maintainable on account of the bar in view of Section 11(7) of the Act 1996 which reads as under:

"(7) A decision on a matter entrusted by sub-section (4) or sub-section (5) or sub-section (6) to the Supreme Court or, as the case may be, the High Court or the person or institution designated by such Court is final and no appeal including Letters Patent Appeal shall lie against such decision."

10. In response, learned counsel for the appellant says that the appeal is maintainable under Chapter VIII Rule 5 of the High Court Rules, as, it does not fall in any of the exclusionary categories mentioned therein. As regards Section 11 (7) of the Act 1996, he says that the said provision has been omitted and, therefore, the bar in maintaining a special appeal which is analogous to Letters Patent Appeal is no longer in existence.

11. However, we find that as per the Arbitration and Conciliation (Amendment) Act, 2019 (hereinafter referred as 'Amending Act 2019') (Act No. 33 of 2019) the same was enacted to amend the Act 1996. As per Section 1 (2) save as otherwise provided in this Act, it shall come into force on such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint and different dates may be appointed for different provisions of this Act and any reference in any such provision to the commencement of this Act shall be construed as a reference to the coming into force of that provision. Now, Section 11 of the Act 1996 was amended omitting sub-Section (7) of Section 11 thereof vide Section 3 of the Amending Act 2019. A notification dated 30.08.2019 was issued by the Ministry of Law and Justice in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-Section (2) of Section 1 of the Amending Act 2019 by which 30.08.2019 was appointed as the date on which the provisions contained in Section 1; Sections 4 to 9 (both inclusive); Sections 11 to 13 (both inclusive); Section 15 of the Amending Act 2019 shall come into force. The words used in the notification: - "the provisions of the following Sections of the said Act" refer to the Amending Act 2019 and not the original Act 1996. Now, when we peruse the Amending Act 2019, we find that no date has been appointed for coming into force of Section 3 of the Amending Act 2019 by which Section 11 (7) of the original Act 1996 is sought to be omitted, meaning thereby, sub-Section (7) of Section 11 of the Act 1996 barring a Letters Patent Appeal/Special Appeal against an order passed under Section 11 (4) (5) (6) of the Act 1996, still exists, therefore, the bar continues so long as Section 3 of the Amending Act 2019 is not notified.

12. This being the position, there is a statutory bar in the Act 1996 which is a special enactment and Chapter VIII Rule of the High Court Rules cannot be read, understood and applied contrary to the said provision, therefore, this special appeal is not maintainable.

13. We dismiss the special appeal as not maintainable, leaving it open for the appellant to pursue other remedies as may be permissible in law.

14. The records of First Appeal From Order No. 718 of 2008 which were summoned by us shall be returned to the concerned section.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1492
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 13.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ASHWANI KUMAR MISHRA, J.
THE HON'BLE SYED QAMAR HASAN RIZVI, J.

Special Appeal No. 769 of 2023

Rehan Ahmad ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Mohammad Ali Ausaf, Sri Sankalp Narain

Counsel for the Respondent:
C.S.C., Sri Pranav Mishra, Sri Sanjeev Singh

(A) Education Law - Allahabad High Court Rules (Rules of the Court, 1952) - Rule 5 of Chapter VIII - Special Appeal - Validity of Scheme of Administration and competence of Registrar - Uttar Pradesh Madarsa Education Board Act, 2004 - Sectio 3 ,3(3) , 22(5) - Uttar Pradesh Non-Governmental Arabic and Persian Madarsa Recognition, Administration and Services Regulation, 2016 - Regulation 16 - disciplinary action can be taken, against teaching and non-teaching staff of a Madarsa only in accordance with the duly approved Scheme of Administration - appeal against the order passed with the consent of the parties are normally not entertainable in unless any such legal question is involved that may cause a serious legal consequence - only non-contesting parties have privilege to prefer appeal.(Para - 9,21,22)

Challenged validity of Scheme of Administration and competence of Registrar - dismissed from service by Madarsa - filed writ petition challenging dismissal order - disposed of by Writ Court - Registrar of Uttar Pradesh Madarsa Education Board set aside dismissal order - directed -Manager to reinstate appellanat - Committee of Management also filed a writ petition challenging Registrar's order - Writ Court set aside Registrar's order & remitted matter to Registrar for a fresh order - hence appeal - Scheme of Administration was not challenged earlier - Registrar's order was passed with consent of parties. (Para – 1 to 8)

HELD: - Special Appeal arising out of an order passed with consent of the parties incompetent and not maintainable. Remedy lies in approaching the learned Single Judge for recall/review of the order, if the parties feel that the consent order was passed on wrong premises. Open to the parties to press their pleas before the Registrar. Registrar was directed to pass an order strictly in accordance with law. No reason to interfere with the impugned order.(Para - 22,23)

Special Appeal dismissed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:

1. Arshad Javed Khan Vs St. of U.P. & ors., WRIT-A No. 10967 of 2022

2. Committee of Management, Madarsa Masdarul Uloom Asdaqiya & ors.Vs Arshad Javed Khan & Ors., 2023 (3) ADJ 605 (DB)

3. Committee of Management Madarsa Masdarul Uloom Asdaqiya Purani Chakiya & anr. Vs Arshad Javed Khan & ors., Special Leave Petition (Civil) No. 9393 of 2023

4. Godde Venkateshwara Rao Vs Govt. of A.P. & ors. AIR 1966 SC 828

5. St. of Uttaranchal through Collector, Dehradun & ors. Vs Ajit Singh Bhola & ors., 2004 (6) SCC 800

6. Ashok Kumar Pandey & ors .Vs Basic Shiksha Adhikari & ors., 1992 (2) UPLBEC 960 (DB)

7. Asha Saxena Vs S. K. Chaudhari & ors., 1990 (01) UPLBEC 516. (FB)

8. United India Insurance Company Ltd. Vs B. Rajendra Singh & ors., JT 2000(3) SC 151)

9. Ram Chandra Singh Vs Savitri Devi & ors., 2003(8) SCC 319)

10. Employers in Relation to the Management of Bhalgora Area of Bharat Coking Coal Limited Vs Workmen being represented by Janta Mazdoor Sangh, (2021) 10 SCC 717

11. S.P. Chengal Varaya Naidu (dead) by L. Rs Vs Jagannath (dead) by L. Rs & ors., AIR 1994 SC 853

12. C/M Madarsa & anr. Vs St. of U.P. & 7 ors., Writ Petition No.11817 of 2023

(Delivered by Hon'ble Syed Qamar Hasan Rizvi, J.)

1. The instant intra Court Appeal has been filed by the appellant-respondent no. 4 under Rule 5 of Chapter VIII of Allahabad High Court Rules (Rules of the Court, 1952), against the judgment and order dated 07.11.2023 passed in Civil Misc. Writ-A No. 11817 of 2023 (Committee of Management Madarsa Sayeedul-Uloom (Behka) Post Office Puramufti, District-Allahabad through its Manager and another versus State of U.P. and others), by means of which the Hon'ble Single Judge partly allowed the writ petition filed by the Committee of Management, Madarsa Sayeedul-Uloom (Behka) Post Office Puramufti, District- Allahabad through its Manager Mohd. Ishaq (hereinafter referred to as 'Committee of Management').

2. Facts that are culled out from the pleadings and the material available on record before this Court that the appellant herein was appointed as Assistant teacher in Tahtaniya (Class 1 to 5) in the Madarsa Sayeedul-Uloom (Behka) Post Office Puramufti, District- Allahabad (hereinafter referred to as 'Madarsa') on 25.03.2005, based upon his eligibility for the post i.e. the 'Hafiz Certificate' said to have been issued in the year 1992 by the Madarsa Islahul Muslemeen, Alipurjeeta, District Kaushambi, as claimed by the appellant. It has not been disputed by the contesting parties in the present case that the appellant has been working as an Assistant Teacher in the Madarsa (respondent no. 4) since the date of his appointment.

3. The District Minority Welfare Officer, Prayagraj vide letter dated 22.02.2022 directed the Madarsa concerned to furnish a report as desired by the Registrar, U.P. Board of Madarsa Education, Lucknow vide his letter dated 14.02.2022 in respect of the teachers appointed on the basis of the 'Hafiz Certificate' that from which institution the said certificate was issued and about the issuing authority, for its onward transmission to the Registrar (respondent no.2). During the said process, the appellant herein was required to provide the aforesaid 'Hafiz Certificate' in original but he failed to produce the same. The contention of the learned counsel for the Committee of Management (respondent no.4) is that upon verification from the Madarsa Islahul Muslemeen, Alipurjeeta, District Kaushambi (respondent no.6) from where the appellant claimed to have obtained the 'Hafiz Certificate', but the said Madarsa (respondent no.6) denied the issuance of the said 'Hafiz certificate'. As a consequence of the same, the Committee of Management of the Madarsa (respondent no. 4) initiated disciplinary proceedings against the appellant. Accordingly the appellant was placed under suspension and a show cause notice was issued, to which he duly replied and since the reply filed by the appellant was not found to be satisfactory, a Charge-Sheet dated 05.08.2022 was issued by the Committee of Management (respondent no.4). The appellant submitted his reply to the said charge-sheet on 29.08.2022 and thereafter, the Enquiry Officer submitted his enquiry report on 06.09.2022 holding therein that the appellant could not prove the genuineness of the 'Hafiz Certificate'. On the basis of the said enquiry report, a resolution by the Committee of Management (respondent no.4) is stated to have been passed on 17.09.2022 for the dispensation of the services of the appellant and consequently the order of dismissal from service was communicated to the appellant on 21.09.2022.

4. Against the aforesaid dismissal, the appellant herein preferred a writ petition being Writ-A No. 19669 of 2022 (Rehan Ahmad versus Uttar Pradesh Board of Madarsa Education and others), which came to be disposed of vide order dated 24.01.2023 in the wake of the fact that there existed an alternative remedy available in terms of paragraph no.11 of the 'Scheme of Administration'. The operative portion the order dated 24.01.2023 passed by the Hon'ble Single Judge in Writ-A No. 19669 of 2022 is quoted hereinbelow, "Learned counsel for parties have not disputed that there is an alternative remedy available in terms of paragraph 11 of the Scheme of Administration to challenge the impugned order. However, a contention has been raised on behalf of petitioner that order impugned is still not send to the Registrar U.P. Madarsa Shiksha Parishad to which learned counsel for respondents has made an objection.

Be that is it may, since there is an agreement between the parties that there is an alternative remedy available in terms of paragraph 11 of the Scheme of Administration to challenge the impugned order, this writ petition is disposed of with direction to the Committee of Management that if the impugned order is still not sent, it will be sent forthwith to the authority concerned within a period of sixty day after hearing the parties on merit in accordance with law"

5. In pursuance of the aforesaid order dated 24.01.2023 passed by the Writ Court, the respondent no.2 issued notices to the concerned parties including notice to the respondent no.6 and decided the matter vide order dated 19.06.2023, whereby the petitioner was reinstated in service.

6. Assailing the aforesaid order dated 19.06.2023 passed by the Registrar (respondent no.2), the Committee of Management of Madarsa (respondent no. 4) filed a writ petition which was registered as Writ- A No. 11817 of 2023 (C/M Madarsa and another versus State of U.P. and others) inter alia challenging the veracity of the order dated 19.06.2023 passed by the Registrar (respondent no.2).]

7. The Learned Writ Court by a detailed judgment and order decided the aforesaid writ petition vide the impugned order dated 07.11.2023. The relevant portion of the same is reproduced as under:

"18. This Court from the perusal of the order impugned passed by the second respondent, Registrar/Inspector Uttar Pradesh Board of Madarsa Education finds that the said order suffers from fundamental defect making it not only vulnerable but vitiated. The second respondent, Registrar/Inspector Uttar Pradesh Board of Madarsa Education has completely overlooked the settled principle of law that eligibility is to be seen on the last date of submission of the application form. He has relied upon the qualifications obtained by the fourth respondent post advertisement. A further question also arises that what would be the import and impact of the continuance of the fourth respondent since 2005 till the passing of the order/the verification exercise undertaken by the writ petitioners with regard to the doctrine of equity. These issues are also need consideration while deciding the issues in question. The second respondent is also required to go into the issue relating to the effect of non-verification of Hafiz certificate particularly when the stand of the respondents is that the register containing the details about the Hafiz certificate possessed by the fourth respondent was not verifiable. In the opinion of the Court, the second respondent was required to take a further exercise while going deeply into the issue as to what would be the net consequences when the register maintained for the said purposes did not suggest or prove that the qualification obtained by the writ petitioner, Hafiz certificate was not verifiable. No such exercise appears to have been undertaken by the second respondent, Registrar/Inspector Uttar Pradesh Board of Madarsa Education, Lucknow, lastly, the Court further finds that though a finding has been recorded that there has been violation of principles of natural justice and the disciplinary proceedings was conducted de hors the regulations but no reasons are forthcoming in the order impugned in coming to the said conclusion. Obviously, reasons are the heart beat and in absence of any reasons in coming to the conclusion the order becomes vitiated. Since the order impugned does not address the core and fundamental issues, thus, the order is liable to be set aside. At this juncture, Sri Tarun Agarwal, learned counsel who appears for the fourth respondent, Sri Pranav Mishra, learned counsel who appears for the second respondent and learned Standing Counsel who appears for respondents Nos. 1 and 3 have made a statement at bar that the order dated 19.06.2023 be set aside and the matter be remitted back to the second respondent to pass a fresh order.

19. To such a submission, learned counsel for the writ petitioners has no objection, however, he submits that he may be also allowed to raise all contentions seeking jurisdictional issue also.

20. Sri Pradeep Kumar Shahi, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel and Sri Pranav Mishra have no objection to the same.

21. Considering the submission of the rival parties as well as the stand taken by them, the writ petition is being decided in the following terms:

(a) the order dated 19.06.2023 passed by the second respondent is set aside;

(b) the matter stands remitted back to second respondent to pass a fresh order after putting to notice the writ petitioners, fourth and also the fifth respondent while fixing a particular date;

(c) on the date so fixed by the second respondent the version submitted by the writ petitioners, fourth respondent and fifth respondent be exchanged and after hearing, the orders be passed within a period of six weeks from the date of production of certified copy of the order.

22. Needless to point out that the second respondent shall pass an order strictly in accordance with law dealing with each and every contentions either legal or factual raised by the respective parties.

23. With the aforesaid observations, the writ petition stands partly allowed."

8. Being aggrieved by the said order dated 07.11.2023, the appellant has approached this Court by means of the instant Special Appeal. Assailing the said impugned order, learned counsel for the appellant contended as under:

9. The foremost submission as advanced by Sri Sankalp Narain, the learned counsel for the appellant is that by setting aside the order dated 19.06.2023 passed by the Registrar, Madarsa Education Board (respondent no.2) the Hon'ble Single Judge has effectively revived the illegal resolution and dismissal order passed by the Committee of Management (respondent no. 4) dated 17.09.2022 and 21.09.2022 respectively. His contention is that as per the provisions of 'U.P. Madarsa Education Board Act, 2004' and Regulation 16 the 'Uttar Pradesh Non-Governmental Arabic and Persian Madarsa Recognition, Administration and Services Regulation, 2016' clearly provides that disciplinary action can be taken, against teaching and non-teaching staff of a Madarsa only in accordance with the duly approved Scheme of Administration, but in the instant case, the Registrar (respondent no.2) on 20.05.2023 itself suspended the approval order dated 30.08.2022 granted to the Scheme of Administration of 31 Madarsas including that of the Madarsa (respondent no. 4) on the ground that the said approval was in contravention to the provisions of Section 22(5) of the U.P. Madarsa Education Board Act, 2004. In support of his contention, he submitted that in terms of Section 2(a) conjointly read with Section 3 and 22(5) of U. P. Madarsa Education Board Act of 2004, it was the Madarsa Education Board duly constituted under Section 3 of the U. P. Madarsa Education Board Act, 2004 and was exclusively empowered to approve the Scheme of Administration of the Madarsa. The Registrar, Madarsa Education Board merely happens to be a member of the Madarsa Education Board in terms of Section 3(3) of the Act and was not individually empowered to approve the Scheme of Administration. He submitted that on being noticed that the said approval dated 03.08.2022 was granted by the Registrar, Madarsa Education Board in its' individual capacity and suffers from the defect of coram non judice, the Registrar (respondent no.2) itself issued an order dated 20.05.2023 whereby it suspended the aforesaid approval granted to the Scheme of Administration of Madarsa (respondent no. 4) till an approval in that regard is granted by the U. P. Madarsa Education Board in terms of Section 22(5) of the U. P. Madarsa Education Board Act, 2004.

10. It has also been asserted on behalf of the appellant that the ramification of the aforesaid suspension order dated 20.05.2023 passed by the Registrar (respondent no. 2) is that once the order of approval of said Scheme of Administration has been suspended then all the actions taken by the Committee of Management of Madarsa (respondent no. 4) in terms of the said Scheme of Administration as well as the powers of the Authorities flowing from the same are rendered void ab initio, consequently, the resolution and dismissal order dated 17.09.2022 and 21.09.2022 respectively passed by the Committee of Management (respondent no. 4) and subsequent orders becomes illegal being beyond the competence and jurisdiction. In support of his argument, the learned counsel has placed reliance upon the judgment dated 05.08.2022 passed by in the case of Arshad Javed Khan versus State of U.P. and 3 Others, having WRIT-A No. 10967 of 2022 that has been affirmed by the Division Bench of this Court in Special Appeal No. 573 of 2022 Committee of Management, Madarsa Masdarul Uloom Asdaqiya and Ors. versus Arshad Javed Khan and Ors. as reported in 2023 (3) ADJ 605 (DB) and subsequently by the Hon'ble Supreme Court vide order dated 12.05.2023 passed in Special Leave Petition (Civil) No. 9393 of 2023 Committee of Management Madarsa Masdarul Uloom Asdaqiya Purani Chakiya & Anr. versus Arshad Javed Khan & Ors.

11. Learned counsel for the appellant further submitted that it is trite law that there can be no consent given by the counsel appearing for the parties to confer jurisdiction upon a State officer against the legal provisions. In the present case the Hon'ble Single Judge vide Order dated 24.01.2023 passed in Writ-A No. 19669 of 2022 relegated the matter to the Registrar Madarsa Education Board in view of the provision contemplated under paragraph 11 of the Scheme of Administration and now when the approval of the same has been suspended by the Registrar (respondent no. 2) itself on 20.05.2023, no occasion arose to the Hon'ble Single Judge to remit the matter for re-consideration before the Registrar (respondent no. 2) even if consent in that regard was given by the counsels appearing for the parties. Further, by setting-aside the order dated 19.6.2023 passed by the Registrar (respondent no.2), the Hon'ble Single Judge vide the impugned Order dated 19.06.2023, virtually revived of illegal orders of termination dated 17/21.09.2022 passed by the Committee of Management (respondent no. 4). In support of his submission, he has relied upon the judgments passed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the cases of Godde Venkateshwara Rao versus Government of Andhra Pradesh and Others, reported in AIR 1966 SC 828 and State of Uttaranchal through Collector, Dehradun and Others versus Ajit Singh Bhola and Others, reported in 2004 (6) SCC 800 and also the judgment passed by the Divisional Bench of this Court in the case of Ashok Kumar Pandey and Others versus Basic Shiksha Adhikari and Others, reported in 1992 (2) UPLBEC 960 (DB).

12. Lastly, the learned counsel for the appellant submitted that the appellant was appointed on the post of Assistant Teacher in the Madarsa (respondent no. 4) way back on 25.03.2005 and has served as a teacher for a considerably long period of 17 years. Therefore, his appointment as a teacher cannot be terminated after a considerable lapse of time in view of the Full Bench judgement passed by of this Court in the case of Asha Saxena versus S. K. Chaudhari and Others, reported in 1990 (01) UPLBEC 516. (FB). Relevant portion of Paragraph 16 of the said judgment is reproduced hereinbelow,

"16. ... In any view of the matter, the appointments which were existing for the last 17 years could not be set aside after a lapse of such a long period. Even the earlier Full Bench had quashed the order of the Regional Inspectress of Girls Schools referring the matter under Section 16-E(10) of the Act we are also of the opinion that the aforesaid order is liable to be quashed. It is true that there is power under Section 16-E (10) of the Act to cancel the appointments but the power has to be exercised within a reasonable time. The appointments had been made in the year 1973 and by no stretch of imagination it can be said that the exercise of that power after the /apse of 17 year by the Director of Education under Section 16-E(10), on the facts and circumstances of the case can be said to be exercise of a power within a reasonable time. In our opinion, the order of the Regional Inspectress of Girls Schools referring the matter to the Director of Education under Section 16-E(10) is thus liable to be quashed.

13. Per contra, Sri Sanjeev Singh, learned counsel appearing for the Committee of Management (respondent no. 4), vehemently opposed the arguments made by the learned counsel for the appellant. He submitted that the appellant procured the appointment on the post of Assistant Teacher in the Madarsa (respondent no. 4) on the basis of a fake 'Hafiz Certificate'; which was found to be a non-existent document during the course of verification and the Committee of Management of Madarsa (respondent no. 4) after noticing the said fraud, terminated the services of the appellant with immediate effect. He contends that it is well-settled proposition of law that fraud unravels everything and vitiates every solemn act. He in support of his assertion placed reliance upon judgments passed by this Court as well as by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of United India Insurance Company Ltd. versus B. Rajendra Singh and others, reported in JT 2000(3) SC 151) and Ram Chandra Singh versus Savitri Devi and others, reported in 2003(8) SCC 319). He submits that the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Employers in Relation to the Management of Bhalgora Area of Bharat Coking Coal Limited versus Workmen being represented by Janta Mazdoor Sangh, reported in (2021) 10 SCC 717 has made it abundantly clear that 'fraudulent practice to gain public employment cannot be countenanced to be permitted by a court of law'.

14. Defending the impugned order dated 07.11.2023 passed by the Hon'ble Single Judge, learned counsel for the Committee of Management (respondent no.

4) asserted that it has very rightly set aside the order dated 19.06.2023 passed by the Registrar (respondent no. 2) in as much as the Writ Courts cannot let an appointment obtained through fraud to survive. He submitted that the principle of finality of litigation will not apply where fraud has been played by the delinquent to secure appointment. To substantiate his argument he placed reliance upon the judgement passed by the Hon'ble Apex Court the case of S.P. Chengal Varaya Naidu (dead) by L.Rs versus Jagannath (dead) by L.Rs and others, reported in AIR 1994 SC 853, wherein the Hon'ble Supreme Court held as under,

"7. The principle of "finality of litigation" cannot be pressed to the extent of such an absurdity that it becomes an engine of fraud in the hands of dishonest litigants. The courts of law are meant for imparting justice between the parties. One who comes the court, must come with clean hands. We are constrained to say that more often than not, process of the court is being abused. Property-grabbers, tax-evaders, bank loan- dodgers and other unscrupulous is persons from all walks of life find the court process a convenient lever to retain the illegal-gains indefinitely."

15. In the instant special appeal, we are required to examine the correctness of the impugned order dated 07.11.2023 passed by the learned Single Judge setting aside the order dated 19.06.2023 by means of which the matter was remitted to the Registrar (respondent no.2) to pass a fresh order after putting to notice the concerned parties. It would not be out of place to note that the said order was passed with the consent of the contesting parties.

16. We have heard the learned counsel for the parties and perused the material available on record. The issue on illegality of the Scheme of Administration for the first time has been raised on behalf of the appellant-petitioner before this Court in appeal. The fact that suspension of the approval of the Scheme of Administration by the Registrar vide order dated 20.05.2023 and its consequential effects were never raised earlier by either of the parties. It is noteworthy that in earlier two rounds of litigation, the question of legality of the Scheme of Administration and the competence of the Registrar to deal with the matter flowing from the said Scheme of Administration were never raised by the parties and in the earlier round of litigation in Writ- A No.19669 of 2022 (Rehan Ahmad versus Uttar Pradesh Board of Madarsa Education and 5 others) filed by the appellant-petitioner assailing the order of dismissal from service, the appellant-petitioner did not dispute the same rather accepting the legality of the same, accorded consent for the matter to be decided by the Registrar as an alternative remedy in terms of paragraph no.11 of the Scheme of Administration and accordingly, the Writ Court vide order dated 24.01.2023 disposed of the writ petition with certain directions. Accordingly the Registrar (respondent no.2) decided the matter and passed the following order:

"पंत्रावली पर प्राप्त अभिलेखों / साक्ष्यों का अनुशीलन, परीक्षण करने पर पाया गया कि सेवायोजित होने के समय श्री रेहान अहमद द्वारा प्रबन्तंत्र / प्रवस्यक पाया सईदुल उलूम बेहका प्रामुपती, प्रयागराज को उपलब्ध करायी गयी हिब्ज की डिग्री हाफिज (हिब्ज) के अभिलेखों को प्रबन्धक, मदरसा इस्लाहुल मुस्लेमीन अलीपुरजीता, कौशाम्बी से प्राप्त कर अवलोकन किया गया और पाया गया कि हिब्ज का रजिस्टर किसी सक्षम स्तर से प्रमाणित नहीं है। प्रबन्धक मदरसा के अनुसर हिब्ज के छात्र की हाजिरी अंकित नहीं होती है। हिब्ज़ का प्रमाण पत्र मदरसे में आयोजित होने वाले वार्षिक जलसे में छात्रों को

वितरित कर दिया जाता है, जिसकी प्रति को सम्बन्धित रजिस्टर में नहीं रखा जाता है। हिब्ज से सम्बन्धित छात्र द्वारा कुरान मजीद को कंठस्थ कर लेने के पश्चात हिब्ज का प्रमाण पत्र दे दिया जाता है। यह मदरसा बोर्ड द्वारा निर्धारित कोई पाठ्यक्रम नहीं है तथा हिब्ज के सम्बना में गदरसा बोर्ड द्वारा कोई समय सीमा निर्धारित नहीं है, जिरा) श्री रेहान अहमद के हिब्ज की डिग्री के सम्बन्ध में कोई स्पष्ट पुष्टि नहीं हो पायी। इसके अतिरिक्त श्री रेहान अहमद द्वारा उपलब्ध कराया गया अन्य अकपत्रों / प्रमाण पत्रों का भी अवलोकन किया गया जिसमें उनके द्वारा इण्टरमीडिएट उर्दू राहित एवं नियुक्ति के समय वर्ष 2005 की कामिल की डिग्री एवं फाजिल के अतिरिक्त अन्य डिग्री भी दो अलग-अलग बोर्ड से प्राप्त करायी गयी हैं, के अवलोकन से रपष्ट होता है कि तहतानिया कक्षाओं में शिक्षण कार्य हेतु उनके पास पर्याप्त डिग्री हैं। ऐसी स्थिति में मात्र हिब्ज की डिग्री के आधार पर प्रबन्धक मदरसा द्वारा उनकी रोवा समाप्त किया जाना न्यायोचित नहीं है। क्योंकि हिब्ज की डिग्री किसी विश्वविद्यालय एवं बोर्ड रो प्रमाणित नहीं है और इसी आधार पर प्रदेश केः लगभग सभी मदरसों में शिक्षक कार्यरत हैं। ऐसी स्थिति में प्रबन्धतत्र / प्रबन्धक मदरसा द्वारा श्री रेहान स०अ० तहतानिया की; की गयी सेवा समाप्ति दिनांक 17.09.2022 नियमानुरूप न होने के कारण निरस्त किये जाने योग्य है, जिसे निरस्त किया जाता है एवं श्री रेहान को सवेतन बहाल करते हुए प्रबन्धक मदरसा को निर्देशित किया जाता है कि वह श्री मोहम्मद रेहान स०अ० तहतानिया से पूर्व की भांति नियमानुसार शिक्षण कार्य कुरायें।

रिट याचिका संख्यां-19669/2022 में मा० उच्च न्यायालय इलाहाबाद द्वारा पारित आदेश दिनांक 24.01.2022 के समादर में प्रकरण को एतद्वारा निस्तारित किया जाता है।"

17. In the second round of litigation, wherein the Committee of Management (respondent no.4) dissatisfied with the aforesaid order dated 19.06.2023 passed by the Registrar (respondent no.2) filed a Writ Petition No.11817 of 2023 (C/M Madarsa and another versus State of U.P. and 7 others). The appellant who was the respondent in the said writ petition contested the matter but did not raise the aforesaid question regarding the validity of the said Scheme of Administration nor did he raise the competence of the Registrar to deal with the matter and the writ petition was finally allowed by the Writ Court vide the impugned order dated 07.11.2023. The Hon'ble Single Judge with the consent of the parties remitted the matter to the Registrar (respondent no.2) to pass a fresh order by setting aside the order dated 19.06.2023 passed by the Registrar (respondent no.2).

18. Suffice it to say that in the aforesaid second round of litigation too, the appellant did not raised the question of the validity of the Scheme of Administration or the competence of the Registrar rather accorded his consent for the remittance of the matter to the respondent no.2. It has also been brought to the notice of this Court that the order of the Registrar dated 20.05.023 whereby he suspended the approval of the said Scheme of Administration has never been challenged by the parties. The order dated 20.05.2023, is reproduced below for the ready reference:

"प्रेषक,

रजिस्ट्रार,

उ०प्र० मदरसा शिक्षा परिषद

704, जवाहर भवन, लखनऊ।

सेवा में,

जिला अल्पसंख्यक कल्याण अधिकारी संबंधित जनपद (बस्ती, संतकबीर नगर, देवरिया, बलरामपुर, गाजीपुर, कुशीनगर, जौनपुर, लखनऊ,कौशाम्बी, प्रयागराज)

पत्रांक- 476/म०शि०परि०/2023

दिनांकः 20/05/2023

विषयः मदरसों की प्रशासन योजना के अनुमोदन के सम्बन्ध में।

महोदय,

विषयगत संदर्भ में अवगत कराना है कि उत्तर प्रदेश मदरसा शिक्षा परिषद अधिनयम, 2004 की धारा- 22(5) में मदरसों की प्रशासन योजना के संबंध में निम्न व्यवस्था दी गई है- "प्रत्येक संस्था की प्रशासन की योजना परिषद के अनुमोदन के अधीन होगी और प्रशासन की योजना में किसी भी समय कोई संशोधन या परिवर्तन परिषद के पूर्व अनुमोदन के बिना नहीं किया जायेगा।

उल्लेखनीय है कि पत्र के साथ संलग्न 31 मदरसों की सूची जिनकी प्रशासन योजना पर परिषद कार्यालय द्वारा सहमति प्रदान की गई है, उसे उ०प्र० मदरसा शिक्षा परिषद द्वारा अनुमोदन प्राप्त होने तक अथवा परिषद द्वारा संशोधन का सुझाव दिये जाने तक प्रदान की

गई सहमति तत्काल प्रभाव से अग्रिम आदेश तक स्थगित की जाती है।

संलग्नक- उपरोक्तानुसार।

(भवदीय)

(जगमोहन सिंह) रजिस्ट्रार/ निरीक्षक

पत्रांक व दिनांक उपरोक्तानुसार।

प्रतिलिपि- निम्नलिखित को सूचनार्थ एवं आवश्यक कार्यवाही हेतु प्रेषित- 1. मा० अध्यक्ष, उ०प्र० मदरसा शिक्षा परिषद, लखनऊ। 2. प्रबन्धक/प्रधानाचार्य संबंधित मदरसा।

(जगमोहन सिंह) रजिस्ट्रार/ निरीक्षक"

19. Furthermore, it is evident from the record that the Scheme of Administration in question was suspended by the Registrar (respondent no.2) only on 25.05.2023 vide the above the above-mentioned order meaning thereby that the same was enforced at the time of passing of the dismissal order. In any case the legality of the Scheme of Administration was not a subject matter of dispute before the Writ Court. Accordingly, the judgments referred by the learned counsel for the appellant in respect of his contention are not attracted in the factual matrix of the case.

20. Insofar as the correctness of the impugned order dated 07.11.2023 passed by the Hon'ble Single Judge is concerned, the same was passed on the basis of the material that was available before the leaned Writ Court. The Hon'ble Single Judge while deciding the said writ petition, set aside the order dated 19.06.2023 passed by the Registrar (respondent no.2) and remitted the matter to the respondent no.2 with a direction to pass a fresh order after putting to notice the writ petitioner, Rehan Ahmad (respondent no.4) and Principal, Madarsa Islahul Muslemeen Alipurjeeta, District-Kaushambi (respondent no.5). While fixing a particular date, it is also directed that on the date so fixed, the version submitted by the parties be exchanged and after hearing the orders be passed within a stipulated period.

21. While deciding the matter, the Hon'ble Single Judge categorically observed that the respondent no.2 shall pass order strictly in accordance with law dealing with each and every contentions either legal or factual raised by the respective parties. Taking into consideration the factual matrix of the case and also the settled legal preposition that the appeal against the order passed with the consent of the parties are normally not entertainable in unless any such legal question is involved that may cause a serious legal consequence.

22. It is a trite law that once the consent by the contesting parties is accorded before the Court of law then they have no right to challenge the order passed on the basis of their consent in appeal and only non-contesting parties have privilege to prefer appeal. A co-ordinate Bench of this Court while deciding the Special appeal Defective No.826 of 2015 [Neutral Citation No.2016: AHC: 285 (D.B.)] has held that an Special Appeal arising out of an order passed with consent of the parties is incompetent and not maintainable. The relevant portion of the order passed in the above mentioned case is as under:

"On the matter being taken up today, in our respectful opinion, present special appeal in question cannot be held to be competent and maintainable for the simple reason that once the order dated 20th March, 2015 is a consent order, then in such situation, in this background, the special appeal in question will not at all be entertained and in case it is the case of the respondents-appellants that on wrong premise the said agreement has been arrived at and the question is not covered with the decision of Special Appeal No.276 of 2006 decided on 28th August, 2010, then the remedy lies in approaching the learned Single Judge for recall/ review of the said order.

In view of this, present special appeal in question is dismissed as incompetent."'

23. Having regard to the facts and circumstances of the case, this Court finds no reason to entertain the said appeal filed by the petitioner in the teeth of the fact that the Hon'ble Single Judge vide the impugned order dated 07.11.2023 has made it open to the parties to press their pleas before the Registrar (respondent no.2) with a direction to the said authority to pass order strictly in accordance with law dealing with each and every contentions either legal or factual raised by the respective parties.

24. In view of the deliberations as made hereinabove, we find no reason to interfere with the impugned order.

25. The present Special Appeal is accordingly dismissed with no order as to cost.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1502
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 10.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SHREE PRAKASH SINGH, J.

Writ-A No. 3660 of 2024

Rudrabhan Singh ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Arunima Shukla

Counsel for the Respondents
C.S.C.

(A) Service Law - Pensionary benefits - Uttar Pradesh State Educational Institution Employees Contributory Provident Fund-Insurance Pension Rules, 1965 - Rule 19(b), Regulation 21 of Chapter III , Uttar Pradesh Intermediate Education Act, 1921 - Regulation 21 of Chapter III of the Regulations made under the Act 1921 - date of superannuation/retirement - where a power is given to do a certain thing in certain way, the thing must be done in that way or not at all and the other methods of performance are necessarily forbidden. (Para - 20)

Matter for grant of pensionary benefits to petitioner remitted back - petitioner appointed on an ad-hoc basis - later regularized - attained age of superannuation - Deputy Director of Education (Secondary) denied petitioner's pensionary benefits - citing Government Order - petitioner challenged order - ground - Government Order does not have retrospective effect - entitled to pensionary benefits from the date of superannuation. (Para -3 to 5)

HELD: - Petitioner entitled to pensionary benefits from the date of superannuation. Government Order does not have retrospective effect. Impugned order quashed. (Para - 22,23)

Writ Petition Allowed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:

1. Chairman Railway Board Vs C.R. Rangadhamaiah , AIR (SC) 1997 0 3828 (Constitutional Bench)

2. Punj. St. Cooperative Agricultural Development Bank Ltd Vs Registrar, Cooperative Societies, AIR (SC) 2022 0 1349

3. Assistant Excise Commissioner, Kottayan & ors. Vs Estgappan Cherian & Anr., 2021(10) SCC 210

4. Nazir Ahmad Vs King-Emperor, 1936 SEC OnLine PC 41

5. Chandra Kishroe Jha Vs Mahavir Prasad & ors., (1999) 8 SCC 266

6. Cherukuri Mani Vs Chief Secretary, Govt of A.P. & ors, (2015) 13 SCC 722

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shree Prakash Singh, J.)

1.) Heard Mr. Adarsh Singh and Ms. Arunima Shukla, learned Counsels for the petitioner, Mr. Shailendra Kumar Singh, learned Chief Standing Counsel and Mr. Vivek Shukla, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State-respondents.

2.) Since, the pure legal question is involved, hence the matter is decided at admission stage.

3.) Under challenge is the order dated 21.03.2024 passed by the Deputy Director of Education (Secondary), 9th Region, Ayodhya whereby the matter for grant of pensionary benefits to the petitioner is remitted back.

4.) The contention of Counsel for the petitioner is that the petitioner was appointed on the post of Assistant Teacher on ad-hoc basis on 09.08.1995 and he joined thereafter on 14.08.1995 and later on, when the financial concurrence was not granted by the District Inspector of Schools, a writ petition bearing no. 839 (S/S) of 1997 was preferred before this Court, whereby, he was granted salary by an interim order. He further submitted that once the provision under Section 33G of the U.P. Act No. 5 of 1982 was promulgated, the petitioner was considered and his services were regularized vide order dated 08.06.2017 and thereafter, he was also granted the other benefits. He also added that the petitioner attained the age of superannuation after completing 62 years of age on 30.04.2023.

5.) Further contention of Counsel for the petitioner is that once the matter was preferred before the Deputy Director of Education (Secondary), 9th Region, Ayodhya for payment of pension, the same was relegated back, while observing that since the Government Order dated 12.12.2023 came into effect which says that the qualifying service for grant of pension shall be counted from the date of substantive appointment, thus, the petitioner is not entitled for pension. Adding his argument, he submits that in fact, the petitioner could be treated retired while attaining the age of superannuation while completing 62 years of age on 30.04.2023 as provided under Regulation 21 of the Regulations made under the U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921 (hereinafter referred to as 'Act, 1921'), and therefore, the date of retirement is much prior than the date of issuance of the Government order, hence, the Government order dated 12.12.2023 will not apply so far as the case of the present petitioner is concerned.

6.) In support of his contention, he has placed reliance on judgment & order dated 25.04.2024 passed in Writ A 2202 of 2024 and has referred Paragraph 19 to 21 which are quoted herein below:-

".....(19.) It is undisputed fact that the services of the petitioner was regularised on 30th March 2019 that is much prior than the Government order dated 12th December 2023, is issued, when the Clause 4 of the Pension Rules was not in existence.

(20.) The legal principal culled out is that the vested rights cannot be taken away by way of amendment giving the effect retrospectively. Further, if any statute do not provide any specific terms regarding the provision to be applicable retrospectively, the same shall be applicable prospectively.

(21.) It has been the view of the Apex Court consistently, including the judgment and order rendered in Chairman Railway Board versus C.R. Rangadhamaiah reported in AIR (SC) 1997 0 3828 (Constitutional Bench) and in case of Punjab State Cooperative Agricultural Development Bank Ltd versus Registrar, Cooperative Societies reported in AIR (SC) 2022 0 1349 that it would have unjust and unreasonable to give any effect to any statute retrospectively unless any claim or right is vested by way of legislation. Further, recently in case of Assistant Excise Commissioner, Kottayan & Ors. Vs. Estgappan Cherian & Anr. reported in 2021(10) SCC 210, it has been held that there is a profusion of judicial authority and the proposition that a rule of law cannot be constituted as retrospective unless it expresses a clear or manifest intention to the contrary."

7.) Referring the aforesaid, he submits that the controversy has been put to rest and it has been held that if the institute does not envisage the provision regarding retrospective effect, applying it contrary, amounts to legislate such provisions which is not permissible under the law.

8.) Concluding his arguments, he submits that in fact the Deputy Director of Education (Secondary), 9th Region, Ayodhya, under the impression that the petitioner was retired after completing the benefit of academic session on 31.03.2024 remitted back the matter, while observing that the Government order dated 12.12.2023 came into effect and he is not entitled for salary, though the same is incorrect and thus submission is that the order date 21.03.2024 may be quashed and Deputy Director of Education (Secondary), 9th Region, Ayodhya may be directed to decide the matter afresh.

9.) On the other hand, Counsel appearing for the State has refuted the contentions above said on the ground that there is nothing in the order dated 21.03.2024 which goes against the petitioner. He added that so far as the issue with respect to the application of the Government order dated 12.12.2023 is concerned, that has already been settled and since the petitioner is retired on 21.03.2024, therefore, the Government order dated 12.12.2023 would apply in case of the petitioner. Thus submission is that the petitioner is not entitled for any relief.

10.) Considering upon the submissions advanced by learned Counsels for the parties and after perusal of records, it transpires that the controversy arose, when the Deputy Director of Education (Secondary), 9th Region, Ayodhya passed an order on 21.03.2024 whereby observing about the Government order dated 12.12.2023 and remitted back the matter while not granting the benefit of pension which amounts to denial of the same.

11.) While examining the matter in facts and law, it emerges that Rule 19(b) of Uttar Pradesh State Educational Institution Employees Contributory Provident Fund-Ensurance Pension Rules introduced vide Government Order dated 17th of December 1965, effected from 1st October 1964, provides provision regarding count of qualifying service for pensionary benefits. Rule 19 (b) is extracted as under:-

"Continuous, temporary or officiating service followed without interruption by confirmation in the same or another post shall also count as qualifying service."

The aforesaid provision is amended vide order dated 12th of December 2023, which is quoted herein under:-

"(1) लाभत्रयी योजना नियमावली दिनांक 01-अक्टूबर1964, शासनादेश दिनांक 17.12.1965, शासनादेश संख्या-531/पन्द्रह-8-3004(2)/1974 दिनांक 31, मार्च 1978 प्रख्यापित/प्रभावी होने के फलस्वरूप लाभत्रयी योजना के शासनादेश दिनांक-17 दिसम्बर, 1965, का अध्याय तीन विलोपित किया जाता है।

(2) दिनांक-31.03.2024 के बाद नियुक्ति सहायता प्राप्त शिक्षण/प्रशिक्षण संस्थाओं के शिक्षक/कर्मचारी अनिवार्य जीवन बीमा योजना से आच्छादित नहीं माने जायेंगे ।

(3) लाभत्रयी पेंशन नियमावली 1965 के अध्याय पांच, नियम 17 वर्तमान उप नियम-4 के पश्चात नया उप नियम-05 बढ़ाया जाता है, अर्थात (5), यह नियमावली उत्तर प्रदेश सहायता प्राप्त शिक्षा संस्थाओं के संबंध में पेंशन स्थापन सेवाओं और पदों पर चाहे वे अस्थाई हों या स्थाई हों, 01 अप्रैल 2005 को या उसके पश्चात प्रवेश करने वाले कर्मचारियों पर लागू नहीं होगी। यह आदेश दिनांक 01.04.2005 से प्रभावी माना जायेगा ।

(4) लाभत्रयी पेंशन नियमावली 1965 के अध्याय-पांच (पेंशन) के बिन्दु संख्या-19 (ख) में परंतुक के रूप में प्रस्तावित व्यवस्था "ऐसे शिक्षक जो तदर्थ अल्पकालिक रिक्त पद पर। नियुक्ति प्राप्त करके उत्तर प्रदेश माध्यमिक शिक्षा सेवा चयन बोर्ड अधिनियम 1982 की धारा-33 छ के अन्तर्गत विनियमित हुए हैं, उनकी सेवा मौलिक नियुक्ति की तिथि 22 मार्च 2016 से ही अर्हकारी सेवा के रूप में गिनी जायेगी।"

12.) The provisions of the order dated 12th of December 2023 came into effect, though, without retrospective effect but the authorities assuming that the same is applicable from the retrospective effect but passed the order while observing that the qualifying service would be counted from the date of substantive appointment and so far as the case of the present petitioner is concerned, his services were regularised with effect from 22nd of March 2016, and, therefore, he was otherwise denied for pensionary benefits.

13.) In an identical circumstances, this issue has been dealt with in Special Appeal (Defective) No. 976 of 2023 as well as in Writ-A No. 2202 of 2024, vide judgements and orders dated 24.1.2024 and 25.4.2024 respectively, wherein, it has been held that 'if an statute does not envisage the provision regarding retrospective effect, applying it contrary, would amount to legislate such provisions, which is not permissible under the law, and it has categorically been held that the provision would be applicable with effect from 12th of December 2023, i.e., the date of issuance of the order.

14.) So far as the case of the present petitioner is concerned, he would have retired after attaining the age of superannuation on 30th of April 2023, i.e., 62 years of age though fact remains that he was accorded the benefit of academic session and was retired on 31st of March 2024.

15.) Now, the question crop up, whether for the purposes of grant of pensionary dues, including the pension, the age of superannuation would be counted as 62 years or it can be beyond the same, after getting the benefit of academic session, being retired subsequently?

16.) The Regulation 21 of Chapter III of the Regulations made under the Act 1921 envisaged the provisions of age of superannuation as 62 years of age. Regulation 21 is extracted as under:-

"[21. आचार्य, प्रधानाध्यापक, अध्यापकों का अधिवर्ष वय 62 वर्ष होगा। फलस्वरूप 58 वर्ष की अधिवर्षता पर मिलने वाले सेवानिवृतिक लाभ अब 60 वर्ष की अधिवर्षता आयु पर तथा 60 वर्ष की अधिवर्षता आयु पर मिलने वाले सेवानिवृतिक लाभ 62 वर्ष की अधिवर्षता आयु पर अनुमन्य होगा। यदि किसी आचार्य, प्रधानाध्यापक अथवा अध्यापक का उपर्युक्त अधिवर्ष वय 2 अप्रैल और 30 मार्च के मध्य में किसी तिथि को पड़ता है तो उसे, उस दशा को छोड़ कर जबकि वह स्वंय सेवा विस्तरण न लेने हेतु लिखित सूचना अपने अधिवर्ष वय की तिथि से 2 माह पूर्व दे दें. 31 मार्च तक सेवा विस्तरण स्वमेव प्रदान किया गया समझा जायेगा, ताकि ग्रीष्मावकाश के उपरान्त जुलाई में प्रतिस्थानी की व्यवस्था हो सके। इसके अतिरिक्त सेवा विस्तरण केवल उन्हीं विशिष्ट दशाओं में प्रदान किया जा सकेगा जो राज्य सरकार द्वारा निर्धारित की जाये। यदि किसी लिपिक अथवा चतुर्थ वर्गीय कर्मचारियों के अधिवर्ष वय की तिथि किसी माह के मध्य किसी तिथि को पड़ती है तो उसका सेवा विस्तारण उस मास की अन्तिम तिथि पर प्रदान किया गया समझा जायेगा। किन्तु यदि किसी कर्मचारी की सेवानिवृत्ति की तिथि किसी माह पहली तारीख को पड़े तो उसे पूर्ववर्ती मास की अन्तिम तिथि को सेवानिवृत्ति कर दिया जायेगा।]"

17.) The aforesaid provision is very clear in terms of the age of superannuation with respect to teacher and headmaster, i.e., completion of 62 years of age and, therefore, this Court is of the considered opinion that any further continuation while granting the benefit of academic session would not change the age of superannuation as provided under the Regulation. The very purpose of granting benefit of academic session is limited to the extent of paramount interest of the students and, thus, the intent of legislature is very clear so far as the date of age of superannuation is concerned.

18.) The petitioner has attained the age of superannuation on 30.4.2023, when he completed 62 years of age, though he was accorded the benefit of academic session, hence he retired on 30.4.2023. Since the petitioner attained the age of superannuation on 30.4.2023, therefore, all the rights of pensionary benefits etc. would accrue on 30.4.2023 itself.

19.) The decision taken by the Deputy Director vide order dated 21.3.2024 while observing the provisions of order dated 12.12.2023, thereby, remitting back the matter while granting the pension to the petitioner, treating the substantive appointment of the petitioner since 22.3.2016, goes against the settled proposition of law rendered vide Judgment and Order passed in Special Appeal (Defective) No. 976 of 2023 as well as in Writ-A No.2202 of 2024, which clearly provide that the Government Order dated 12.12.2023 would not have retrospective effect and shall apply from the date of issuance.

20.) It is so long settled law in case of Nazir Ahmad Vs. King-Emperor, 1936 SEC OnLine PC 41 rendered by the Privy Council, wherein it is held that 'where a power is given to do a certain thing in certain way, the thing must be done in that way or not at all' and the other methods of performance are necessarily forbidden'. This Court has also considered the judgment and order rendered in the case of Chandra Kishroe Jha Vs. Mahavir Prasad and Others, reported in (1999) 8 SCC 266, wherein, the following principle is laid down:-

".....17. It is a well-settled salutary principle that if a statute provides for a thing to be done in a particular manner, then it has to be done in that manner an di8n no other manner. (See with advantage: Nazir Ahmad V. King Emperor [(1935-36) 63 lA 372 : AIR 1936 PC 253 (lI)] , Rao Shiv Bahadur Singh v. State of V.P. [AIR 1954 SC 322 : 1954 SCR 1098] , State of U.P. v. Singhara Singh [AIR 1964 SC 358 : (1964) l SCWR 57] .) An election petition under the rules could only have been presented in the open court up to 16-05-1995 till 4.15 p.m. (working hours of the Court) in the manner prescribed by Rule 6 (supra) either to the Judge or the Bench as the case may be to save the period of limitation. That, however, was not done....."

21.) Further, in case of Cherukuri Mani Vs. Chief Secretary, Government of Andhra Pradesh and Ors, (2015) 13 SCC 722, it has been held by the Apex Court that 'where the law prescribed a thing to be done in a particular manner, following a particular procedure, it shall be done in the same manner following the provisions of law, without deviating from the prescribed procedure'. So far as the present matter is concerned, the age of superannuation has been provided by way of promulgating Regulation 21 of Chapter IIIrd of regulations made under the Act, 1921. Therefore, no other inference or meaning can be drawn so far as the age of superannuation is concerned.

22.) The petitioner has admittedly attained the age of superannuation on 30.4.2023, which in fact is the date of superannuation/retirement as per the provision of Regulation 21 of Chapter III of Regulations made under Act 1921 and, therefore, the date of superannuation is much prior to the issuance of the Government Order dated 12.12.2023 and in considered opinion of this Court, the right of pensionary benefit of the petitioner would accrue on the date of retirement, while attaining the age of superannuation, i.e., on 30.4.2023.

23.) In this view of the aforesaid submission and discussions, the writ petition succeeds and the impugned order dated 21.03.2024 is hereby quashed.

24.) The writ petition is allowed accordingly.

25.) Resultantly, matter is relegated back to the Deputy Director of Education (Secondary), 9th Region, Ayodhya to decide the matter afresh, considering the judgment and orders passed in Special Appeal Defective No. 976 of 2023, as well as, Writ A No. 2202 of 2024, for grant of pension to the petitioner, within a period of eight weeks, from the date a certified copy of this order is produced before him.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1508
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 08.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE J.J. MUNIR, J.

Writ-A No. 13460 of 2023

Om Prakash ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Rakesh Kumar Mathur

Counsel for the Respondent:
C.S.C., Sri Ganesh Datt Mishra

(A) Service Law - Claim of Terminal dues - The U.P. Cooperative Employees Service Regulations, 1975 - The Right to Information Act, 2005 - The Constitution of India - Article 300-A - right to property - leave encashment cannot be taken away without any statutory provision - Petitioner is entitled to leave encashment dues upon resignation, as there is no valid distinction between an employee retiring, dying in harness, or resigning in accordance with rules. (Para - 9)

Petitioner's claims for unpaid dues - gratuity, leave encashment, and interest on delayed payments - dues on account of medical leave - special pay under the family planning scheme and other dues in consonance with the 6th Pay Commission - respondents delayed payment of gratuity without justification, and now owe interest. (Para - 2,4)

HELD: - Court orders respondents to pay Leave encashment dues. Interest on delayed gratuity payment (6% p.a.). Interest on leave encashment dues (6% p.a.). Total amount to be paid within 6 weeks. Court dismisses claims for medical leave, special pay under family planning, and other dues, finding no legal basis for these entitlements. (Para - 14,15)

Writ Petition allowed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:

1. Praveen Kumar Vs M.D., PCDF & ors., Service Single No.18548 of 2016

2. St. of Jharkh. & Ors. Vs Jitendra Kumar Srivastava & anr., (2013) 12 SCC 210

3. Arun Kumar Das Vs St. of U.P. through Principal Secy., Dept. of Dairy Development & anr., Service Bench No.994 of 2011

4. Ram Khelawan Shukla Vs M.D. Pradeshik Cooperative Dairy Federation Lko. & anr. , Service Single No. - 22370 of 2021

5. M.D. Pradeshik Cooperative Dairy Federation Ltd. & anr. Vs Ram Khelawan Shukla, Special Appeal Defective No.541 of 2021

(Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Rakesh Kumar Mathur, learned Counsel for the petitioner, Mr. G.D. Mishra, learned Counsel appearing on behalf of respondent No. 4 and Mr. Roopesh Tiwari, learned Standing Counsel appearing on behalf of the State.

2. The petitioner in this writ petition prays that a writ in the nature of mandamus be issued, directing the Chairman, Committee of Management/ Managing Director, Pradeshik Cooperative Dairy Federation Limited to pay the balance of gratuity due to the petitioner, together with interest on the entire gratuity paid with delay, leave encashment dues, dues on account of medical leave, special pay under the family planning scheme and other dues in consonance with the 6th Pay Commission.

3. The petitioner says that it is not in issue that the Project Director, the Project Engineer, Assistant Project Engineer and Junior Engineers appointed with the NOIDA Dairy Project, would be placed on deputation with the National Dairy Development Board (for short, 'the NDDB') till completion of project, and further for the employees and officers of the NOIDA Dairy Project, the U.P. Cooperative Employees Service Regulations, 1975 would govern their conditions of service until the framing of separate service rules. The petitioner was appointed on 11/15.08.1992 as an Assistant Project Engineer (Civil) with the NDDB, acting on behalf of the Pradeshik Cooperative Federation Limited (for short, 'the PCDF') on 23.11.1992. He joined as an Assistant Engineer on 23.11.1992 with the NOIDA Dairy Project, an autonomous unit of the PCDF. The petitioner's appointment letter shows that he would remain on deputation with the NDDB, wherefrom he was posted with the NOIDA Dairy Project. He was repatriated to his parent employer, to wit, the PCDF. He joined at the PCDF, NOIDA Dairy Project, NOIDA on 01.09.1999.

4. After serving the PCDF for 16 years, the petitioner resigned on 27.09.2008, giving a month's notice. His resignation was duly accepted by the Chairman, Committee of Management, Parag Dairy NOIDA, previously known as NOIDA Dairy. He was relieved on the same day. He asserts that on the day he resigned, the 6th Pay Commission had already come into force and that entitled him to all benefits of emoluments in terms of the 6th Pay Commission. The petitioner claimed his due gratuity, leave encashment of 259 days, medical leave and what the petitioner calls, other legitimate dues, including special pay under the family planning scheme. All these terminal dues, the petitioner claimed with interest, on account of the said claims being illegally withheld. He represented in the matter time over again. The writ petition is replete with details of these representations that the petitioner preferred. His grievance is that no heed was paid to any of his demands. He sought information under the Right to Information Act, 2005 and in response to one of his applications, he was furnished with an information dated 15.04.2014 that gratuity to the tune of Rs.29,000/- had been paid to the petitioner vide cheque dated 15.05.2012, and Rs.1,15,242/- by a cheque dated 15.04.2014, after deduction of 10% out of the total gratuity payable. Thus, a sum of Rs.1,60,269/- was paid to the petitioner.

5. So far as the leave encashment is concerned, the petitioner was informed that since he had resigned from service, all other claims that the petitioner made, stand refused. This letter was issued to the petitioner on 15.04.2014 under the Right to Information Act. The petitioner being dissatisfied with the aforesaid disposition of his claim, addressed repeat representations to the Milk Commissioner, U.P., Lucknow and other Authorities of the PCDF. The petitioner was in the course of this correspondence informed that leave encashment is not payable to an employee, who resigns service, and so also medical leave. So far as gratuity is concerned, it had been paid to the petitioner in three installments.

6. It is the petitioner's case that gratuity in the three detailed installments, that were paid to the petitioner, is as follows: Rs.29,000/- paid on 14.05.2012; Rs.1,15,242/- on 15.04.2014; and, Rs.16,027/- on 27.12.2016. This, according to the petitioner, does make for a figure of Rs.1,60,269/-, but in the payment of this sum of gratuity, there is a delay of eight years after his resignation. The petitioner says that it entitles him to interest on the belated payment of gratuity. It is next pleaded that the Chairman, PCDF, Lucknow, vide his office order dated 13.09.2002, has raised the ceiling limit of gratuity from Rs.2,50,000/- to Rs.3,50,000/-. Therefore, according to the petitioner, he is entitled to a sum of Rs.2,16,360/-, going by the number of years that he put in, instead of Rs.1,60,269/-, that were worked out on a gratuity ceiling of Rs.2,50,000/-.

7. So far as the claim to the payment of dues on account of leave encashment is concerned, though it is disputed that the petitioner is entitled to it, because he resigned, but that leave encashment is payable in case of an employee upon superannuation is not in issue. Nothing has been shown to this Court, where two affidavits have been filed on behalf of respondent No.4 that an employee of the PCDF, working with a particular Cooperative Society, like the fourth respondent, if resigns, would not be entitled to leave encashment. This Court also notices that during the course of hearing of this petition, an additional sum of Rs.86,546/- was paid to the petitioner through an instrument dated 04.11.2023, on account of revision of gratuity. This was done because in reckoning the petitioner's salary for the purpose of post retiral benefits, additional dearness allowance payable to him, was not earlier taken into consideration. It is no longer in dispute for the said reason that the petitioner has been paid a total sum of Rs.2,16,360/- in gratuity albeit without interest, and now as it transpires, the total sum of gratuity has been paid in four installments from 14.05.2012 to 04.11.2023, a period spread across 11 years approximately.

8. So far as the entitlement to leave encashment is concerned, it possibly cannot be denied by the respondents for reason that in the last pay certificate dated 27.09.2008 drawn for the petitioner, there is a credit of earned leave, shown due to the petitioner, for 259 days. Now, if this earned leave, which was not availed, is encashable for an employee of the PCDF, is clinched in terms of an office memo dated 13/21.01.2006 issued by the Managing Director/ Chairman, Administrative Committee, PCDF, that reads:

"कार्यालय ज्ञाप

प्रादेशिक कोआपरेटिव डेरी फेडरेशन के कर्मचारियों एवं केन्द्रियित सेवा के अधिकारियों को उपार्जित अवकाश नकदीकरण के मद में 300 दिवस की अधिमास सीमा तक उपार्जित अवकाश संचय करने, सेता निवृत्ति से पूर्व उपार्जित अवकाश उपभोग करने या सेवा निवृत्ति के पश्चात या मृत्यु की दशा में उनके आश्रितों को नकद भुगतान किए जाने के सम्बन्ध में शासन द्वारा जारी शासनादेश के अनुरूप धनराशि का भुगतान किए जाने विषयक प्रादेशिक कोआपरेटिव डेरी फेडरेशन लि0 की प्रबन्ध समिति की बैठक दिनांक 30-03-2005 के प्रस्ताव संख्या-10 एवं केन्द्रियित सेवा के अन्तर्गत गठित प्रशासनिक समिति की बैठक दिनांक 16-12-2005 के प्रस्ताव संख्या-1 का अनुमोदन दुग्ध आयुक्त/ निबन्धक द्वारा क्रमशः पत्रांक 869/ दुग्ध-2/ जनशक्ति दिनाँक 08-12-2005 एवं पत्रांक 985/दुग्ध- 2/ जनशक्ति दिनाँक 05-01-2005 द्वारा प्रदान कर दिया गया है।

अतः प्रादेशिक कोआपरेटिव डेरी फेडरेशन लिमिटेड की केन्द्रियित सेवा के अन्तर्गत गठित प्रशासनिक समिति एवं प्रादेशिक कोआपरेटिव डेरी फेडरेशन लिमिटेड की प्रबन्ध समिति द्वारा पारित प्रस्ताव के क्रम में दुग्ध आयुक्त/निबन्धक द्वारा प्रदत्त अनुमोदन क्रमशः दिनांक 08-12-2005 एवं दिनाँक 06-01-2006 में प्रादेशिक कोआपरेटिव डेरी फेडरेशन लिमिटेड के कर्मचारियों एवं केन्द्रियित सेवा के अधिकारियों को 300 दिवस की अधिकतम सी तक उपार्जित अवकाश संचय करने, सेवा निवृत्ति से पूर्व उपार्जित अवकाश उपभोग करने या सेवा निवृत्ति के पश्चात या मृत्यु की दशा में उनके आश्रितों को नकद भुगतान किए जाने की स्वीकृति प्रदान की जाती है।

ह0 अपठित

21.1.06

(सुषमा तिवारी)

प्रबन्ध निवेशक/अध्यक्ष (प्रशा0 समिति)

कार्यालय प्रादेशिक कोआपरेटिव डेरी फेडरेशन लिमिटेड, 29- पार्क रोड, लखनऊ

पत्रांक6276 / डी-1/पीईआर/एच/सी0ए0 98 (वालू-11) दिनांक 13/21-01-06

प्रतिलिपि सूचनार्थ एवं आवश्यक कार्यवाही हेतु प्रेषित:

1- पी0सी0डी0एफ0 की समस्त इकाइयों/औ0एफ0, नान ओ0एफ0 दुग्ध संघ/ परियोजनाएँ/ समस्त क्षेत्रीय विप0 कार्यालय तथा समस्त प्रशिक्षण केन्द्र।

2- महाप्रबन्धक (वित्त), पीसीडीएफ मुख्यालय, लखनऊ।

ह0 अपठित

21.1.06

(सुषमा तिवारी)

प्रबन्ध निवेशक/अध्यक्ष (प्रशा0 समिति)"

9. A perusal of the said office memo shows that an employee of the PCDF accumulates a maximum of 300 days of earned leave that he can encash, if not utilized, upon his retirement, or by his dependents in the event of his demise. It is on the foot of this office memo, that decidedly gives the right to a retiring employee, or one who dies before retiring, to encash his accumulated unutilized earned leave up to 300 days, that the respondents say that it would not apply to a case where an employee resigns. There is no intelligible differentia shown to this Court by the respondents between the case of an employee retiring on superannuation or dying in harness, and one resigning in accordance with rules, vis-a-vis his right to claim leave encashment, that is one of his terminal dues. In the view that I take, I am fortified by the opinion of Hon'ble Mr. Justice Rajesh Singh Chauhan in Praveen Kumar v. Managing Director, PCDF and others, Service Single No.18548 of 2016, decided on 27.09.2021, where it has been held by His Lordship:

"Attention has been drawn towards Annexure No.CA-1 to the counter affidavit, which is an office memo dated 13/21.01.2006 issued by opposite party no.1 wherein it has been indicated that after completion of entire period of service, the employee shall be paid the amount of earned leave for maximum 300 days. However, in the aforesaid office memo, it has not been indicated that in case of resignation, such payment shall not be made.

Therefore, learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that without there being any basis, the claim of 234 days of earned leave has been denied. Sri Sanjay Kumar Srivastava has submitted that whatever amount has been earned by the employee during his period of service, the same would be paid to such employee. In the present case, it is an admission on the part of the opposite parties that the petitioner has earned the amount of leave encashment for 234 days. At this stage, Sri Srivastava has placed reliance upon the dictum of the Apex Court in re; State of Jharkhand and Others v. Jitendra Kumar Srivastava and Another, (2013) 12 SCC 210, whereby the Apex Court has held that leave encashment cannot be taken away without any statutory provision. 'Earned leave', which is created by the statute, partakes the character of an emolument protected as a right to property of the concerned Government Servant under Article 300-A of the Constitution of India.

Considering the facts and circumstances of the issue in question and perusing the material available on record, the opposite parties could not demonstrate any statutory provision taking away the amount of leave encashment. The Apex Court in re; Jitendra Kumar Srivastava (supra) has clearly held that the amount of leave encashment cannot be taken away without any statutory provision."

10. To the same effect is the holding of this Court in Arun Kumar Das v. State of U.P. through Principal Secretary, Department of Dairy Development and another, Service Bench No.994 of 2011, decided on 13.02.2020. There is, therefore, no reason for the respondents to have denied the payment of dues on account of leave encashment for reason alone that the petitioner had resigned from service, though in accordance with rules and not retired or passed away in harness. This kind of a narrow interpretation cannot be placed upon the terms of the circular dated 13/21.01.2006 issued by the Managing Director/ Chairman, Administrative Committee, PCDF. If that were done, it would certainly militate against the principles enshrined in Article 300-A of the Constitution.

11. Now, the next question that arises for consideration is if on the delayed payment of gratuity, which the respondents have admittedly paid in four installments, spread across 11 years approximately from 14.05.2012 to 04.11.2023, interest is payable to the petitioner.

12. I had occasion to consider this issue while sitting at Lucknow in Service Single No. - 22370 of 2021, Ram Khelawan Shukla v. M.D. Pradeshik Cooperative Dairy Federation Lko. & Another, decided on 25.10.2021, where I held:

"Now, the petitioner presses for payment of interest due on the much belated payment of the substantial sum of his gratuity. The impugned order dated 21.06.2021 has been passed holding that there is no delay in payment of the petitioner's gratuity, as it was dependent upon availability of funds. About the order of the Managing Director dated 21.06.2021, this Court must remark that it is not only manifestly illegal but contumacious. This Court had clearly held inter partes in Service Single No.22272 of 2020 that financial stringency or precarious financial condition is not a ground to delay payment of post retiral benefits of an employee, holding so, on the strength decisions of their Lordships of the Supreme Court in D.S. Nakara (supra) and Kapila Hingorani (supra). The Managing Director, in writing the same reasoning to deny interest, has not only transgressed his office and passed an illegal order, but also virtually said something in contempt of the judgment dated 25.11.2020 passed by this Court inter partes. This Court does not wish to enter into that issue as in these writ proceedings, that is not the office or the frame of the cause. Apart from the fact that non-availability of funds is not a ground to delay payment of post retiral benefits of an employee like the petitioner here, what has been belatedly paid to the petitioner is his gratuity and it is a common ground between parties that the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 applies.

Sub-sections (3) and (3-A) of Section 7 of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 read:

"(3) The employer shall arrange to pay the amount of gratuity within thirty days from the date it becomes payable to the person to whom the gratuity is payable.

(3-A) If the amount of gratuity payable under sub-section (3), the employer shall pay, from the date on which the gratuity become payable to the date on which it is paid, simple interest at such rate, not exceeding the rate notified by the Central Government from time to time for repayment of long-term deposits, as that Government may, by notification specify:

Provided that no such interest shall be payable if the delay in the payment is due to the fault of the employee and the employer has obtained permission in writing from the controlling authority for the delayed payment on this ground."

Clearly, any delay in payment of gratuity after thirty days carries interest payable at the rate that is payable on long-term deposits that the Government may, by notification, specify. Taking note of the prevalent rates of interest provided on long-term deposits, the delay in payment of the sum of gratuity to the petitioner, which is beyond thirty days, from his retirement, ought to carry simple interest at the rate of 6% per annum. In the opinion of this Court, the impugned order by the reasoning indicated, cannot be sustained."

13. The decision of mine in Ram Khelawan Shukla (supra) was affirmed by the Division Bench in M.D. Pradeshik Cooperative Dairy Federation Ltd. and Another v. Ram Khelawan Shukla, Special Appeal Defective No.541 of 2021, decided on 23.12.2021, to which the attention of the Court was drawn by the learned Counsel for the petitioner towards the close of arguments in this case.

14. There are certain other dues, which the petitioner presses his claim about and these are on account of medical leave, special pay under family planning and then that elusive description: other dues in consonance with the 6th Pay Commission. This Court, upon hearing the learned Counsel and perusing the record, does not find that any foundation has been laid for the said entitlement by the petitioner in accordance law and we cannot accede to that part of the petitioner's prayer.

15. In the result, this petition succeeds and is allowed in part. A writ in the nature of mandamus is issued, ordering respondent Nos.2, 3 and 4 to ensure amongst themselves payment of leave encashment dues to the petitioner and interest on the delayed payment of gratuity @ 6% simple annual calculated in the manner that interest would run from a month after the date of the petitioner's resignation till payment of the relative part of the due gratuity. The leave encashment dues shall also carry simple interest @ 6% per annum, reckoned from a month after the petitioner's resignation till the said dues are paid. The entire sum of money on account of interest on the belated payment of gratuity, dues on account of leave encashment and interest thereon, shall be paid within a period of six weeks from the date of receipt of a copy of this judgment by the respondents.

16. Let a copy of this judgment be forwarded to the Managing Director, PCDF, the Chairman, PCDF and the General Manager, Gangol Sahkari Dugdh Utpadak Sangh Limited, Partapur, Meerut by the Registrar (Compliance).

(2024) 5 ILRA 1513
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 13.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE CHANDRA KUMAR RAI, J.

Writ-B No. 54273 of 2014

Kulpavitra Tyagi ...Petitioner
Versus
Board of Revenue, Meerut & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
P.R. Maurya, Amitabh Agarwal, Shashank Maurya

Counsel for the Respondent:
C.S.C., Mahesh Narain Singh, Sunil Kumar Singh

Civil Law Uttar Pradesh Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act, 1950. -

Sections 18(1)(a), 176, 229B & 331 – Uttar Pradesh Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1953 - Section 49 - Consolidation of Holdings - - Petitioner- Share could not be determined by consolidation authorities- suit under Section 229 B filed- dismissed- barred by Section 49 of the UP Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1953- Appeal before Commissioner- dismissed- Second Appeal before Board of Revenue- Dismissed- All orders challenged- Suit of the petitioner could not be dismissed on the ground of Section 49 of UPCH Act- No limitation for filing of suit under Section 229B- Relevant issues pertaining to the plot in question ought to be decided- Impugned orders quashed- Petition allowed. (Paras 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17)

HELD:
The suit filed by the co-sharer cannot be dismissed as barred by Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act. (Para 14)

The suit of the petitioner under Section 229B of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act cannot be dismissed on the ground of Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act without deciding other relevant issues in respect to the plot in question considering the revenue entries of the plot in dispute as well as other evidence in respect to the plot in question. (Para 16)

So far as scope of the suit under Section 229B of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act is concern this Court in the case reported in 2005 (99) RD 529 Pan Kumari Vs Board of Revenue, U.P. Allahabad has held that the suit under Section 229B of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act are suit of special character and no limitation is provided for filing suit under Section 229B of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act. (Para 17)

Petition allowed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. Writ- B No.52717 of 2013 (Ram Briksha & anr. Vs Deputy Director of Consolidation & ors.) reported in 2017 (6) ADJ 356

2. Writ- B No.356 of 2013 (Deepak Kumar & ors.Vs Board of Revenue & ors.) decided on 21.10.2022 reported in (2023) 158 RD 429

3. Mata Shiromani Vs St. of U.P. & ors. 2022 (10) ADJ 158

4. Prashant Singh & ors.Vs Meena & ors. (Civil Appeal No.8743-8744/2014) vide judgment 13 dated 25.4.2024 (Supreme Court)

5. Karbalai Begum Vs Mohd. Sayeed, (1980) 4 SCC 396

6. Amar Nath Vs Kewla Devi, (2014) 11 SCC 273

7. Attar Singh Vs St. of U.P., 1959 Supp (1) SCR 928

8. Pan Kumari Vs Board of Revenue, U.P. Allahabad 2005 (99) RD 529

(Delivered by Hon'ble Chandra Kumar Rai, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Amitabh Agarwal, learned counsel for the petitioner, Mr. W.H. Khan, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Mr. Gulrez Khan, learned counsel for the contesting respondent nos.8 to 12, learned Standing Counsel for the State-respondents and Mr. Sunil Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the respondent- Gaon Sabha.

2. Brief facts of the case are that in Khewat of 1336 fasli, name of Mahal Sullarh Singh Bandobast Vah Sahab, Village- Kharkhauda was recorded in the name of father of Rohtash Singh (father of petitioner as well as respondent nos.8 to 11). In Khewat of 1336 fasli, plot no.1119, 1385 & 1386, total three plots area 4 bigha, 18 biswa were recorded as Sir in the name of Rohtash Singh, Babu Ram and Raghubir Singh. Plot no.183G along with 23 other plots total area 14 bigha 14 biswa & plot no.1083 area 15 biswa was recorded as Khudkasht in the 1333 fasli in the name of Chhatar Singh, grandfather of petitioner & respondent nos.8 to 12. Plot no.1119 along with other plots situated in Village-Kharkhauda, Pargana Sarawa, Tahsil- Meerut, District- Meerut was recorded in the name of Babu Ram, Raghubir Singh and Rohtash Singh son of Chhatar Singh having 1/3 share each in the khatauni of 1359 fasli. The aforementioned plots, which have been recorded in the Khatauni of 1359 fasli as Sir and Khudkasht has been recorded in the C.H. Form-11 as bhumidhari plot. During consolidation operation 1/3 share has been recorded in the C.H. Form 23 in Khata No.233 and other plots which have been recorded as having 1/3 share are plot nos.43, 50, 829, 830/1, 1083, 1084 total area 6 biswa 4 biswansi. In C.H. Form 45 new plot has been allotted to chak no.610, plot no.1518 area 5 bigha 2 biswa 11 biswansi, plot no.1529 area 7 bigha 15 biswa 6 biswansi total two plots total area 12 bigha 15 biswa 19 biswansi was recorded in the share of Rohtash Singh, father of the petitioner & respondent nos.8 to 11. In Khewat 1336 fasli, Village- Sadullapur @ Chandpur plot in dispute was recorded in the name of Chhatar Singh, grandfather of petitioner & respondent nos.8 to 12. In khatauni of 1336 fasli, plot no.589 area 17 biswa situated in Village- Sadullapur @ Chandpur, Tahsil and Pargana Sarawa, District- Meerut. Plot no.606 area 7 biswa plot no.609 area 12 biswa, plot no.625 area 1 bigha 1 biswa, plot no.626 area 8 biswa, plot no.636 area 19 biswa, plot no.641 area 14 biswa, plot no.642 area 2 bigha 12 biswa were recorded as Sir plots and Plot no.42 area 1 bigha 14 biswa, plot no.323 area 1 bigha 13 biswa, plot no.374 area 7 biswa, plot no.318 area 5 biswa, plot no.381 area 6 biswa, plot no.566 area 14 biswa total 6 plots, total area 4 bigha 13 biswa were recorded as Khudkast in the name of Chhatar Singh (grandfather of the petitioner and respondent nos.8 to 12). In Khatauni of 1359 fasli Mahal Sullarh Singh of Village- Sadullapur @ Chandpura, Pargana Saranwa, Tahsil- Hapur, District- Meerut (now new Tahsil-Meerut) was recorded in the name of Babu Ram, Raghubir Singh and Rohtash Singh son of Chhatar Singh as Sir & Khudkast. In the basic year khatauni (C.H. Form 11), the plots have been recorded in the name of Babu Ram, Raghubir Singh and Rohtash Singh son of Chhatar Singh having 1/3 share each. During consolidation proceeding C.H. Form 23 was issued in which 1/3 share has been given in the name of Rohtash Singh son of Chhatar Singh (petitioner's father). In C.H. Form-41 issued during consolidation operation (new no.318) having 1/3 share was issued in the name of Rohtash Singh (petitioner's father). In C.H. Form 45, plot no.318 area 8 bigha 2 biswa 1 biswansi was recorded in the name of Rohtash Singh (petitioner's father). Rohtash Singh died on 16.3.2001 leaving behind five sons, namely, Kulpavitra, Hem Dutt, Daleshwar, Dhirendra and Vipin and one daughter in law, Smt. Rajesh Tyagi wife of Vishwanath (son of Rohtash Singh). During consolidation proceeding petitioner was posted in force, as such, he could not participate in the consolidation proceeding for declaration of his right and title in respect to the plot in dispute, accordingly, share of the petitioner could not be determined by the consolidation authorities. Petitioner's father after retirement from service came to his village home and after enquiry it has been found that his name has not been recorded in the revenue record in respect to the plot in question, accordingly, petitioner filed a suit on 22.4.1996 under Section 229B / 176 of U.P. Zamindari Abolition & Land Reforms Act (hereinafter referred to as "U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act), which was registered as suit no.165/96. Trial Court/ Additional City Magistrate/ Assistant Collector heard the aforementioned suit and vide order dated 17.9.1998 dismissed the aforementioned suit as barred by Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act. Against the judgment and order dated 17.9.1998 passed by the trial Court, petitioner filed an appeal, under Section 331 of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act before the Commissioner, which was registered as appeal no.9/98 and the same was heard by the Additional Commissioner, Meerut Division, Meerut. The aforementioned appeal was dismissed vide judgment and order dated 11.4.2000. Petitioner further challenged the impugned judgments of trial Court dated 17.9.1998 as well as appellate Court dated 11.4.2000 before the Board of Revenue, which was registered as Second Appeal No.80/7M 1999-2000, under Section 331 (4) of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act. The Board of Revenue, Circuit Court, Meerut vide judgment dated 7.8.2014 dismissed the aforementioned second appeal, hence this writ petition on behalf of the petitioner for the following reliefs:

"i. A writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari to quash the order dated 17.9.1998 passed by the Additional City Magistrate (Civil Lines)/ Assistant Collector, Meerut in suit no.165/1996 (Kulpavitra vs. State of U.P. and Others) (Annexure No.16 to this writ petition), order dated 11.4.2000 passed by the Additional Commissioner, Meerut Division, Meerut in Appeal No.9/98 (Kulpavitra vs. State of U.P. and Others) (Annexure No.17 to this writ petition) and judgment and order 7.8.2014 passed by Hon'ble Board of Revenue, Uttar Pradesh Circuit Court Meerut in Second Appeal No.80 Z.M. 1999-2000 (Kulpavitra vs. State of U.P. and Others) (Annexure No.19 to this writ petition).

ii. A writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus restrain the respondents that they may not transfer and change the nature of the land in dispute."

3. This Court vide order dated 10.10.2014 entertained the matter and granted interim order restraining the respondents from selling the property in dispute or creating any third party interest over it.

4. In compliance of the order dated 10.10.2014 parties have exchanged their pleadings.

5. Learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that the petitioner is real son of Rohtash Singh who was born on 25.7.1945 i.e. before date of vesting, as such, he has got birth right in the ancestral property as provided under Section 18 (1) (a) of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act but the impugned orders have been passed in illegal manner dismissing the petitioner's suit under Section 229B/176 of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act only on the ground of Section 49 of U.P. Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1953 (hereinafter referred to as "U.P.C.H. Act"). He further submitted that the property in question is ancestral property, as such, the claim of the petitioner cannot be ignored in any manner. He next submitted that the suit under Section 229B of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act is suit of special character, as such, the same cannot be dismissed in arbitrary manner rather the same is to be decided after framing issues and giving opportunity to the parties to lead evidence in accordance with law. He also submitted that in view of the entry of the plot in question (Sir and Khudkasht) as well as in view of the birth of the petitioner before the date of vesting the claim of the petitioner cannot be negatived in view of the reference answered by Division Bench of this Court in Writ- B No.52717 of 2013 (Ram Briksha and Another Vs. Deputy Director of Consolidation & three others) reported in 2017 (6) ADJ 356. He further placed reliance upon the another judgment of this Court rendered in Writ- B No.356 of 2013 (Deepak Kumar and Others Vs. Board of Revenue and Others) decided on 21.10.2022 reported in (2023) 158 RD 429.

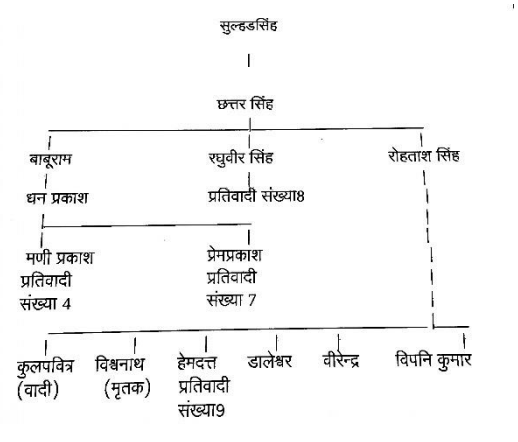
6. On the other hand, Mr. W.H. Khan, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Mr. Gulrez Khan, learned counsel for the contesting respondent nos.8 to 12 submitted that no claim was raised by petitioner during consolidation operation (1972 upto 1983), as such, the suit under Section 229B /176 of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act filed in the year 1996 has been rightly dismissed by the trial Court in view of the provisions contained under Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act. He further submitted that since no objection was filed during consolidation operation by the petitioner, as such, the claim of the petitioner cannot be entertained by the revenue Court, under Section 229B / 176 of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act. He further submitted that finding of fact has been rightly recorded by all the three Courts while deciding the suit, appeal as well as second appeal, as such, no interference is required in the matter. He next submitted that the death of Chhatar Singh has been disputed by the petitioner but no document has been filed by the petitioner to demonstrate that Chhatar Singh has died in the year 1943. He also submitted that Chhatar Singh has executed sale deed on 5.8.1958, as such, the case of the petitioner that Chhatar Singh has expired in the year 1943 is totally false and the case of contesting respondents that Chhatar Singh has expired in the year 1968 is correct. He further submitted that in respect to Khasra no.527, the sale deed was executed in favour of Hem Dutt on 22.7.1982, which demonstrates that the claim setup by the petitioner in plaint under Section 229B of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act is totally false. He further submitted that the petitioner had seperated himself from the family long back and had no share or possession over any portion of disputed property, as such, no right will accrue to the petitioner. He further submitted placed reliance upon the judgment of this Court reported in 2022 (10) ADJ 158 (Mata Shiromani vs. State of U.P. & Others) on the point of Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act.

7. I have considered the argument advanced by learned counsel for the parties and perused the records.

8. There is no dispute about the fact that the suit under Section 229B / 176 of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act filed by the petitioner has been dismissed by the trial Court as barred by Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act and the judgment of trial Court has been maintained in appeal as well as second appeal by the Court of Commissioner and Board of Revenue.

9. In order to appreciate the controversy involved in the matter, the family pedigree, which is mentioned in Paragraph no.1 of the plaint of suit under Section 229B / 176 of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act will be relevant for perusal, the same is as under:



10. It is also relevant to mention that in the aforementioned suit trial court has framed

12 issues which will be relevant for perusal, the same are as under:

"1. क्या विक्रय पत्र दिनांक 11.02.63 एवं 1.8.82 को सन्दर्भ में वादी का वाद कालबाधित है?

2. क्या विक्रय पत्र की वैधता को निर्णित करने का न्यायालय उपरोक्त को क्षेत्राधिकार नहीं है?

3. क्या वाद वादी आवश्यक पक्षकार न बनाये जाने के दोष से दोषित है?

4. क्या वादी का वाद आबादी की भूमि के सम्बन्ध में कानून प्रगतिशील नहीं है जैसा कि प्रतिवाद पत्र की धारा 49 में कहा गया है?

5. क्या वादी का वाद धारा 220बी व 176 का जैड ए एन्ड एल० आर० एक्ट के प्राविधानों से बाधित है?

6. क्या वादी का वाद आवश्यक पक्षकार बनाये जाने के दोष से दूषित है?

7. क्या वाद का वाद 106 पंचायत राज एक्ट का नोटिस न दिये जाने के कारण खण्डित होने योग्य है?

8. क्या वादी का वाद धारा 80 सी०पी०सी० के प्राविधानों से दूषित है?

9. ब्यान वाद वादी धारा 49 चकबन्दी अधिनियम से बाधित होने के कारण प्रगतिशील नहीं है एवं निरस्त करने योग्य है?

10. क्या वाद वादी स्टोपल एवं एक्वीसेनस के सिद्धान्त से बाधित है?

11. क्या वादी आराजी निजाई में सह खातेदार है?

12. वादी किस अनुतोष को पाने का अधिकारी है?"

11. The trial Court decided the Issue No.9 relating to bar of Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act as preliminary issue and dismissed the plaintiff's suit as barred by Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act without considering the other issues framed in the suit.

12. The entries which are annexed as Annexure Nos.1 to 13 of the instant petition are relevant entry with effect from 1336 fasli upto close of consolidation operation in the village in the form of C.H. Form 45, which are to be examined by trial Court in accordance with law.

13. This matter was entertained on 10.10.2014 when the reference before the Division Bench on the point of Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act was pending and now the reference has been answered by the Division Bench in Writ- B No.52717 of 2013 (Ram Briksha and Another Vs. Deputy Director of Consolidation & three others) vide judgment dated 16.5.2017, as such, the perusal of the ratio of law laid down by the Division Bench will be relevant, which is as under:

"The reference in question contains following questions:-

"(i) Whether use of words "could or ought to have been taken" in latter part of Section 49 of the Act, compulsorily forces the co-sharers, who are living jointly, peacefully and have no grievance against their father/brother/co-sharer, whose name is recorded in representative capacity, or they were willing to live jointly, due to situation of their family, i.e. (father and minor son), (mother and minor son), (brother and minor brother) and (some co-sharer was student and had gone abroad for study and fully depends upon other co-sharers) etc., to file an objection under Section 9 of the Act for separation of his share?

(ii) Whether by operation of law, the parties can be thrown into litigation against their will/need and by not raising claim to land or partition and separation of the chak their right to property can be taken away in spite of protection available under Article 19 (1) (f) and now Article 300-A of the Constitution?

(iii) Whether, in spite of well settled legal principle in respect of joint property, right of a co-sharer will come to an end under Section 49 of the Act, on the notification under Section 52, due to not claiming partition of his share and separate chak in his name, although, there had been no ouster from joint property?"

Issue No.I

Whether use of words "could or ought to have been taken" in latter part of Section 49 of the Act, compulsorily forces the co-sharers, who are living jointly, peacefully and have no grievance against their father/brother/co-sharer, whose name is recorded in representative capacity, or they were willing to live jointly, due to situation of their family, i.e. (father and minor son), (mother and minor son), (brother and minor brother) and (some co-sharer was student and had gone abroad for study and fully depends upon other co-sharers) etc., to file an objection under Section 9 of the Act for separation of his share?

A. Because of the words "could or ought to have been taken" in latter part of Section 49 of the Act, same does not compulsorily forces the co-sharers, who are living jointly, peacefully and have no grievance against their father/brother/co-sharer whose name is recorded in representative capacity or they were willing to live jointly due to situation of their family and who have not filed an objection under Section 49 of the Act for separation of their share inasmuch as under the provisions of U.P. Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1953, it is the statutory obligation cast upon the authorities and the incumbent, who has been holding the property in question in the representative capacity to get the records corrected and in case in designed manner the obligation in question has not been discharged by Consolidation Authorities as well as by the incumbent holding the property in the representative capacity, then in such a situation Section 49 of the Act would not at all be attracted and such situation would be covered under the contingency of planned fraud to drop the name of other co-sharers from the revenue records.

Issue No.II

Whether by operation of law, the parties can be thrown into litigation against their will/need and by not raising claim to land or partition and separation of the chak their right to property can be taken away in spite of protection available under Article 19 (1) (f) and now Article 300-A of the Constitution?

A. The answer is that a party cannot be thrown in litigation against their will/need and by not raising claim to land of partition and separation of chak, their rights to property cannot be taken away under the protection provided for under Article 19(1)(f)/ Article 300-A of the Constitution of India.

Issue No.III

Whether, in spite of well settled legal principle in respect of joint property, right of a co-sharer will come to an end under Section 49 of the Act, on the notification under Section 52, due to not claiming partition of his share and separate chak in his name, although, there had been no ouster from joint property?

A. The rights of the co-sharers will not at all come to an end under Section 49 of the Act, on the notification under Section 52 due to not claiming partition of his share and separate chak in his name and till there is no ouster from the joint property his right in the property will continue to exist.

The reference is accordingly answered. The Writ Petition along with connected matters shall now be placed before the appropriate Bench according to roster for disposal in light of this judgement."

14. Hon'ble Apex Court recently in the case of Prashant Singh and others vs. Meena & Others (Civil Appeal No.8743- 8744/2014) vide judgment dated 25.4.2024 has considered the scope of Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act after considering the ratio of law laid down by the Apex Court in the case of Karbalai Begum vs. Mohd. Sayeed, (1980) 4 SCC 396, Amar Nath Vs. Kewla Devi, (2014) 11 SCC 273 & Attar Singh vs. State of U.P., 1959 Supp (1) SCR 928 and has held that the suit filed by the co-sharer cannot be dismissed as barred by Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act.

15. In the instant matter in view of the Khewat entry of the plot in dispute w.e.f. 1336 fasli in the name of petitioner's father-Rohtash Singh, the suit under Section 229B of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act filed by the petitioner for declaration of his right as well as partition of his share in respect to the plot in question cannot be dismissed on the ground of Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act. It is also material that the Khewat entry of 1336 fasli fully demonstrates that the plots in question were recorded as Sir-Khudcast plot in the name of petitioner's father along with other co-sharer. It is also material that the petitioner was born before the date of vesting.

16. Considering the revenue entry from 1336 fasli up to 1359 fasli as well the ratio of law laid down by the Division Bench of this Court in Ram Briksha (supra) as well as recent law laid down by Hon'ble Apex Court in Prashant Singh (supra), the suit of the petitioner under Section 229B of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act cannot be dismissed on the ground of Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act without deciding other relevant issues in respect to the plot in question considering the revenue entries of the plot in dispute as well as other evidence in respect to the plot in question.

17. So far as scope of the suit under Section 229B of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act is concern this Court in the case reported in 2005 (99) RD 529 Pan Kumari vs. Board of Revenue, U.P. Allahabad has held that the suit under Section 229B of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act are suit of special character and no limitation is provided for filing suit under Section 229B of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act.

18. The case law cited by learned counsel for the contesting respondents shall not apply in the instant matter as in that case the plot was recorded as navin-parti during consolidation operation and civil suit filed by plaintiff was held to be barred by Section 49 of U.P.C.H. Act but in the instant matter plots were recorded as Sir / Khudcast and later on as bhumidhari in the name of predecessor of both parties.

19. Considering the entire facts and circumstances of the case, the impugned orders dated 17.9.1998 passed by the Additional City Magistrate (Civil Lines)/ Assistant Collector, Meerut in suit no.165/1996 (Kulpavitra vs. State of U.P. and Others), order dated 11.4.2000 passed by the Additional Commissioner, Meerut Division, Meerut in Appeal No.9/98 (Kulpavitra vs. State of U.P. and Others) and order 7.8.2014 passed by Board of Revenue, Uttar Pradesh Circuit Court Meerut in Second Appeal No.80 Z.M. 1999-2000 (Kulpavitra vs. State of U.P. and Others) are liable to be set aside and are hereby set aside.

20. The writ petition stands allowed and matter is remitted back before the Additional City Magistrate / Assistant Collector 1st Class, Meerut / respondent no.3 to register the suit on its original number and decide the same after affording proper opportunity of hearing to the parties to lead evidence in support of their cases according to issues framed in the suit in accordance with law, expeditiously preferably within a period of six months from the date of production of certified copy of this order before respondent no.3.

21. No order as to cost.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1521
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 16.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK CHAUDHARY, J.
THE HON'BLE OM PRAKASH SHUKLA, J.

Writ-C No. 6856 of 2009

Rajesh Kumar & Anr. ...Petitioners
Versus
U.O.I. ...Opp. Party

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Vikas Singh

Counsel for the Opp. Party:
C.S.C., A.S.G., Murli Manohar Srivastava, Raj Kumar Singh

(A) Medical Law - Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of Health Research, Government of India - right to make Rules and Regulations for practice for Electropathy including Electro Homeopathy vested with the Central Government - practice in electropathy or imparting education should be done within the provisions and parameters of order issued by Central Government - although no institution can confer a diploma or degree in Electro Homeopathy, petitioners can practice it as an alternative therapy - without statutory provisions, there is no bar in issuing a certificate for the study. (Para -10 , 15, 16)

Petitioners obtained certificate from Mattei Association - to practice Electro Homeopathy System of Medicines - quashing of UOI and State of Uttar Pradesh's orders - direction for non-interference and relief - to allow them to practice alternate medicine system in UP until rules are framed by competent authorities. (Para - 1)

HELD:- Petitioners can practice Electro Homeopathy in Uttar Pradesh, provided it is not banned by any competent authority. Cannot use the prefix "Doctor" before their name. Direction for non-interference by respondents/authorities and relief for permitting the practice until rules are framed by competent authorities is issued.(Para - 17)

Petition disposed of. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:

1. Electro Homeo M.A.O.I. Vs St. of U.P. & ors., Writ Petition No. 3992 of 2004

2. Civil Appeal No. 4642 of 2018 arising out of SLP (C) No.20134/2017 : Sutapa Singh Vs St. of U.P. & ors.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Om Prakash Shukla, J.)

(1) The petitioners claiming to have obtained Certificate from the respondent no.5-Count Mattei Association to practice Electro Homeopathy System of Medicines, has approached this Court by way of the present writ, praying inter-alia for quashing the order/circular dated 25.11.2003 (Annexure-1) issued by the Union of India and Government Order dated 01.06.2004 (Annexure-41) issued by the State of Uttar Pradesh. A direction for non-interference by the respondents and consequential relief of permitting them to practice Electro Homoeopathy system of alternate Medicine in the State of Uttar Pradesh, till the rules in that regard are framed by the competent authority, has also been sought by them. Reliance is placed upon a judgment of the Delhi High Court (Annexure-14 and 15), which according to them, stands affirmed by the Supreme Court (Annexure-16 & 17).

(2) Heard Shri Vikas Singh, learned Counsel representing the petitioners, Shri

Raj Kumar Singh, learned Counsel representing the respondent no.1/Union of India, learned Standing Counsel for the State/respondents no. 2 to 4 and Shri Murli Manohar Srivastava, learned Counsel representing the respondent no.5.

(3) During the course of arguments, inviting our attention to the order dated 05.05.2010 issued by the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of Health Research, Government of India, New Delhi, learned Counsel for the petitioners has submitted that as the order dated 05.05.2010 (supra) clarified the position that the order dated 25.11.2003 does not bar the development and research of Electro Homeopathy and there was no proposal to stop the practice or imparting of education in the field of Electro Homeopathy as long as same was done within the parameters of order dated 25.11.2003 till such time a legislation was enacted, the petitioners do not wish to press for reliefs relating to quashing of Order/Circular dated 25.11.2003 (supra) and Government Order Dated 01.06.2004 (supra) and they have confined their prayer to the other reliefs as mentioned in this writ petition.

(4) Shorn off elaborate factual details of the present case, it would be apt to mention that the petitioners claiming to be resident of District Hardoi and Faizabad, respectively, have obtained Certificate from the respondent no.5-Count Mattei Association to practice Electro Homeopathy System of medicines. According to them, by virtue by the said certificate, the petitioners can practice Electro Homeopathy System of medicine in State of Punjab, State of Delhi, State of Maharashtra, State of West Bengal, State of Kerala and other States. However, the petitioners with the said certificate were not permitted to practice in Electro Homeopathy System of Medicine in the State of U.P. as till date State of U.P. has not made any law in this regard. In this background, they pray for the limited prayer of non-interference by the State/respondents and permitting petitioners to practice Electro Homoeopathy system of Medicine in the State of Uttar Pradesh.

(5) The learned Counsel for the petitioners elaborating their arguments have submitted that

(I) In compliance of the order dated 11.10.2010 passed by this Court in Writ Petition No. 3992 of 2004, the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare (Department of Health Research), Government of India, has issued an order dated 21.06.2011, clarifying that the order dated 25.11.2003 and order dated 05.05.2010 would be treated as instructions of the Government of India, relating to practice, education and research with regard to alternative system of medicine like Electropathy, Electro Homepathy etc. According to the learned Counsel, a bare perusal of the order dated 21.06.2011 reveals that there was no legal impediment in imparting education as long as no degree/ diploma is awarded/issued for that course and that the practitioners of Electro Homeopathy are not allowed to pre-fix 'doctor' before their name.

(II) The Government of Uttar Pradesh had issued an Office Memorandum dated 15.12.2011 in compliance of the order dated 18.03.2011 passed in Writ Petition No. 11691 of 2004 and the order dated 21.04.2011 passed in Civil Misc. Amendment Application No. 101585 of 2011, wherein also it reiterated the order dated 05.05.2010. Thus, it has been argued that even the Government of Uttar Pradesh has also accepted the order dated 05.05.2010 vide Office Memorandum dated 04.01.2012 and has also clarified and taken the same position.

(III) Relying on paras 5 to 8 of the supplementary counter affidavit dated 19.02.2024 filed by the State of Uttar Pradesh, it has been submitted that in para-5 of the said affidavit, the State of Uttar Pradesh by heavily relying on the order dated 05.05.2010 has admitted that there was no proposal to stop the petitioners from practising in Electropathy or imparting education as long as this is done within the parameters as mentioned in the order dated 25.11.2003 and have further stated that once the legislation to recognize new system of medicine is enacted, any practice or education would be regulated in accordance with it. Similarly in para-6 of the said affidavit, it has been mentioned that the order dated 21.06.2011 issued by the Government of India, Office Memorandum dated 15.12.2011 issued by the Government of Uttar Pradesh and the Office Memorandum dated 04.01.2012 reiterated the order dated 05.05.2010. Further, in para-7 of the said affidavit, it has been stated that in absence of any statutory power, the Government of India is not prohibiting anybody from practising Electropathy in spite of the system not having been recognized by the Government. Similarly, in para-8 of the said affidavit, State Government has clarified its stand and relied upon the office memorandum dated 13.04.2023, which says that the right to make rules and regulations for Electropathy is vested in the Central Government and if the Central Government makes rules/regulations regarding the aforesaid, the State Government will follow the same and further the State Government is not authorized to make/enforce rules/regulations regarding the practice, education, development and promotion of electro-homeopathy. In this backdrop, submission of the learned Counsel is that the State Government is bound by the orders passed by the Government of India qua the practice, education and development and that the State Government ought to abide by the orders issued by the Government of India qua Electro Homeopathy.

(IV) Reliance has also been placed on Annexure No. SA-17 of the supplementary affidavit, to submit that Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India, while replying to RTI application dated 01.08.2017 received by the department on 03.08.2017 vide their reply dated 14.08.2017, has reiterated the stand that the institutions cannot grant degree/diploma in the stream of medicine which have not been recognized and the term ‘doctor’ can only be used by the practioners of the recognized system of medicine.

(6) The learned Counsel for the petitioners after referring to the aforesaid documents has articulated his further argument on a judgment passed by the Delhi High Court in Writ Petition No. 4015 of 1996 (PIL), which was filed in the nature of Pubic Interest Litigation with a prayer to command the respondents to forthwith ban the institutions imparting education in Electro Homeopathy System of Medicines and a probe was also sought into their functioning and also to frame a policy, so that these institution may be prosecuted as per law. According to him, the said writ petition was clubbed with FAO No. 205 of 1992 and was disposed of vide order dated 18.11.1998, wherein the following directions were issued:-

“Considering the nature of the problem as is evident from the aforesaid discussion, we issue the following directions:-

1. The Central/State Governments shall consider making legislation prescribing :

(a) grant of licences to the existing and new institutes conducting courses in Electropathy and other Alternative systems of medicine.

(b) minimum standards of education and check on the functioning of such institutes on the lines set out in Sections 17, 18, 19 & 19A of the Medical Council Act.

(c) minimum qualification for getting admission in such institutes;

(d) conditions entitling these institutes to issue diplomas and certificates; and

(e) right to use the prefix 'Doctor' and to issue medical certificates to the patients by diploma/certificate holders from such institutes.

(2) Respondents 10 to 16 and the like institutes shall not award and degree for the courses conducted by them.

(3) Respondent No. 10 shall forthwith delete the misleading statements printed on pages 47 and 50 of the prospectus issued by it.

(4) Respondent No.12 shall not make misleading claim in regard to its having been recognised by the Medical Council of India/re-spondent No.5 in the advertisements.

(5) Adequate publicity through the media shall be given by the Government(s) informing general public about respondents 10 to 16 and similar other institutes not being recognised and affiliated with any of the Councils under aforesaid Acts of 1956, 1970 and 1973.

The operation of the order dated January 30,1997 as modified by the order dated March 12, 1997 is extended further for a period of six months from today.

Copy of this order be sent by the Registry to the Health Secretary, Govt. of India and the Chief Secretaries of all the States and Union Territories for doing the needful in the matter.

Petition is disposed of in terms of the aforesaid directions."

(7) It has been submitted by the learned Counsel for the petitioners that against the aforesaid judgment/order dated 18.11.1998, the Union of India preferred Special Leave Petition No. 11262 of 2000, which was dismissed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India vide judgment/order dated 24.11.2000. According to the learned Counsel, the aforesaid judgment/order dated 18.11.1998 was thereafter circulated to all the State Governments by the Registrar of the Hon'ble Delhi High Court.

(8) Though opportunity has been provided to the learned Counsel representing the Union of India for filing counter affidavit but no counter affidavit has been filed on behalf of the Union of India.. However, learned Counsel representing the Union of India has argued that the system of Electro Homeopathy is to be strictly conducted in terms of the order dated 25.11.2003, 05.05.2010 and 21.06.2011. According to the learned Counsel, the institutions imparting Electro Homeopaty like the respondent no.5, can issue a certificate but cannot issue any degree/diploma while imparting education in the said field of medicine i.e. Electro Homeopathy.

(9) Learned Standing Counsel representing the State has submitted that vide Office Memorandum dated 13.04.2023, State of Uttar Pradesh has clearly stated that the right to make Rules and Regulations for Electropathy is vested in the Central Government and if the Central Government makes Rules/Regulations regarding the aforesaid, then, the State Government will follow the same and, therefore, the State government is not authorized to make/enforce rules/regulations regarding the practice, education, development and promotion of Electro Homeopathy.

(10) Having regard to the submissions advanced by the learned Counsel for the parties and going through the record, this Court finds that the right to make Rules and Regulations for practice for Electropathy including Electro Homeopathy is vested with the Central Government. The Central Government has not established any council for recognising the Electro Homeopathy system of medicine in the country. From time to time, various orders have been issued by the Central Government in this regard. Pertinently, the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare (Research Desk) had issued order No. R.14015/25/96-U&H (R) (Pt.) dated 25.11.2003, by which the matter regarding grant of recognition to the various streams of alternative medicine including Electropathy/Electro-Homeopathy was considered. A perusal of this order dated 25.11.2003 reveals that for the aforesaid purpose, the Central Government had constituted a Standing Committee of Experts to consider the aforesaid aspect of the matter. The relevant portion of the order dated 25.11.2003 is reproduced as under :-

"The Committee did not recommended recognition to any of these alternative medicines except the already recognized traditional systems of medicines, viz. Ayurveda, Siddha, Unani, Homeopathy and Yoga and Naturopathy, which were found to fulfill the essential and desirable criteria developed by the Committee for recognition of a system of medicine. The Committee has, however, recommended that certain practices as Acupuncture and Hypno therapy which qualified as modes of therapy, could be allowed to be practiced by registered practioners or appropriately trained personnel. The Committee further suggested that all those systems of Medicine not recognized as separate systems should not be allowed to continue full time Bachelor and Master's degree courses and term 'Doctor' should be used only by practitioners of systems of medicine recognized by the Government of India. Those considered as Mode of Therapy can be conducted as Certificate courses for registered medical practioners to adopt these modes of therapy in their practice, whether modern medicine or Indian Systems of Medicine and Homeopathy.]

After carefully examining the various recommendations of the Committee, the Government accepted these recommendations of the Committee. Accordingly, it is requested that the State/UT Govt. may give wide publicity to the decision of the Govt. They may also ensure that institutions under the State/UT do not grant any degree/diploma in the stream of medicine which have not been recommended for recognition and the term 'Doctor' is used by practitioners of recognized system of medicine."

(11) A bare reading of the aforesaid order dated 25.11.2003 reveals that Electropathy/Electro Homeopathy System of medicines was not recommended as an alternative system of medicines and all the State/Union territory Governments were directed to give wide publicity to the said decision of the Government of India and would also ensure that the institutions under the State/Union Territories do not grant any degree/diploma in the various unrecognized streams of alternative medicines including Electro Homeopathy System of medicines, which have not been recommended for recognition and the term 'Doctor' can be used by the practitioners of the recognized system of medicines. They, however, did not put any restriction on practicing the said alternate method of treatment.

(12) In the meantime, an order dated 03.08.2009 was passed in Miscellaneous Writ Petition No. 31904 of 1991 by this Court at Allahabad, wherein it directed to consider the representation with regard to recognition of the course of Electropathy. The Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Department of Health Research, Government of India, keeping in view the said order as well as various orders of the High Courts and Supreme Court, issued order No. V25011/276/2009-HR dated 05.05.2010 and clarified that there is no proposal to stop persons like the petitioners from practising in Electropathy or imparting education in the following terms:

"In accordance with Orders of the High Court and Supreme Court quoted here, there is no proposal to stop the petitioners from practising in electropathy or imparting education, as long as this is done within the provision of the Order No.R.14015/25/96-U & H (R) (Pt), dated 25.11.2003. Once the legislation to recognize new systems of medicine is enacted, any practice or education would be regulated in accordance with the said Act. representation of the petitioner dated 28.10.2009 is disposed of accordingly."

(13) In the intervening period, pursuant to an order dated 11.10.2010 passed by this Court in Writ Petition No. 3992 of 2004 : Electro Homeo Medical Association of India Vs. State of U.P. & others, the Central Government also considered the representation submitted by the Secretary of Electro Homeo Medical Association of India, Lucknow dated 03.11.2010 and after due consideration, the Ministry of Health & Family Welfare (Department of Health Research) had issued order No. C.30011/22/2010-HR dated 21.06.2011, clarifying that Ministry of Health and Family Welfare order dated 25.11.2003 and the order dated 05.05.2010 would be treated as instructions of the Government of India, related to practice of education and research with regard to alternative systems of medicine like Electropathy, Electro Homeopathy, etc. The relevant portion of the order dated 21.06.2011 reads as under :-

"3. As per the directions of the Hon. Lucknow Bench of the High Court of Judicature at Allahabad, the representation has been considered. It is clarified that the MH & FW Order No. R.14015/25/96-U&H (R) (Pt.) dated 25.11.2003 and No. V.25011/276/ 2009-HR dated 05.05.2010 would be treated as instructions of the Government of India related to practice, education and research with regard to alternative systems of medicine like electropathy, electro homoeopthy etc.

4. A copy of each of the said two orders viz. MH & FW Order No. R.14015/25/96-U&H (R) (Pt.) dated 25.11.2003 and No. V.25011/276/ 2009-HR dated 05.05.2010 is being forwarded herewith to each of the State Government/Uts for information and necessary action. With this your representation is disposed off."

(14) After the aforesaid clarification by the Central Government, even the State Government, in pursuance of the order dated 18.03.2011 passed by this Court in Writ

Petition No. 11691 of 2004 and order dated 22.04.2011 passed in Civil Misc. Revision Application No. 101585 of 20211, while considering the representation of one Dr. Kalsar Ahmad Sheikh issued Office Memorandum dated 15.12.2011, which reads as under :-

"Till the time, there is no proposal to stop the petitioners from practicing in electropathy or imparting education, as long as this is done within the provision of the Order No. R.14015/25/96-U 85 H (R) (Pt) dated 25th November, 2003. Once the legislation to recognize new systems of medicine is enacted, any practice or education would be regulated in accordance with the said Act."

(15) After the clarification by the Central Government and the State Government as has been mentioned herein above, this Court finds that almost identical issue came to engage the attention of the Supreme Court, wherein the Supreme Court, vide an order dated 01.05.2018, passed in Civil Appeal No. 4642 of 2018 arising out of SLP (C) No.20134/2017 : Sutapa Singh Vs. State of U.P. and others, following its earlier order made in SLP (C)No.23572 of 2009, permitted the appellant therein to provide an alternative therapy, i.e., Electro Homeopathy, as there is no ban by any competent authority. Even in the said judgment, the Supreme Court has held that the practice in electropathy or imparting education should be done within the provisions and parameters of the order dated 25.11.2003 issued by the Central Government. It would be profitable to quote the said order dated 01.05.2018 (supra) in extenso, which reads as under :-

"Leave granted.

Heard Mr. Pankaj Bhatia, learned counsel for the appellant and Ms. Aishwarya Bhati, learned Additional Advocate General for the State of U.P. Though many an aspect was urged before the High Court and it has also addressed the same by the impugned order, yet the singular issue that has been canvassed before us pertains to whether there has been ban in practicing Electro Homeopathy as an alternative therapy.

A similar matter had come up before this Court in S.L.P.(C) No.23572 of 2009, wherein a counter affidavit was filed by the Union of India stating that there was no ban on the practice of Electro Homeopathy and on that basis the special leave petition was withdrawn.

Learned counsel for the appellant has also brought to our notice Office Memorandum dated 15th December, 2011 issued by the Uttar Pradesh Government Medicine Section – 6, which states that there is no proposal to stop the appellant from practicing in electropathy or imparting education, as long as the same is done with the provisions of the order No.R.14015/25/96-U 85 H (R) (Pt) dated 25.1.2003. There is no dispute that the said system of therapy has not yet been recognized for the purpose of conferring any diploma or degree.

In view of the aforesaid, no institution can confer a diploma or degree in Electro Homeopathy. However, as this Court has observed on an earlier occasion that there is no ban, the appellant can always practice Electro Homeopathy as an alternative therapy, but no effort can be made to confer diploma or degrees unless there is a statutory provision permitting the same. We may hasten to clarify that there are alternative therapies like aroma therapy, stone therapy, music therapy, hypnotherapy, touch therapy and colour therapy and they are actually non-invasive and in no way relate to administration of medicine. Therefore, we are disposed to think that the Union of India has not banned them.

In view of the aforesaid analysis, we only modify the order passed by the High Court to the extent that the appellant can provide an alternative therapy so long as it is not banned by any competent authority. Without possessing a degree or diploma recognized by a legislation enacted by the competent legislature, the appellant would not be entitled to practise medicine. We also clarify that no degree or diploma can be conferred otherwise than what is permitted or recognised in law. The undertaking furnished to the High Court shall be complied with.

With the aforesaid modification in the order passed by the High Court, the appeal stands disposed of. There shall be no order as to costs."

(16) Having traced the relevant orders and clarifications issued by the Central Government, State Government as well as the Supreme Court from time to time, this Court arrives at an inescapable conclusion that although no institution can confer a diploma or degree in Electro Homeopathy, however, as there is no ban, the petitioners can always practice Electro Homeopathy as an alternative therapy within the parameters of order dated 25.11.2003. This Court also finds that in the absence of any statutory provisions, there could not be any conferring of diploma or degrees in Electropathy or Electro Homeopathy in India, however, there is no bar in issuance of Certificate for the said study.

(17) In view of the aforesaid, it is held that the petitioners can practice Electro Homeopathy so long as it is not banned by any competent authority. They, however, cannot use the prefix "Doctor" before their name. Accordingly, a direction for non-interference by the respondents/authorities concerned and consequential relief of permitting the petitioners to practice Electro Homeopathy system of medicine in the State of Uttar Pradesh, till the rules in that regard is framed by the competent authority, is also issued.

(18) With the aforesaid directions, the writ petition stands disposed of.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1528
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 17.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SHEKHAR B. SARAF, J.

Writ-C No. 13775 of 2023

Smt. Shivani Chaurasia & Anr.
...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opp. Parties

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Sanjay Goswami

Counsel for the Opp. Parties:
Sri Siddharth Singh, S.C.

A. Civil Law - Indian Stamp Act,1899 - Section 47-A - Under-valuation of the instrument – Review / Recall - Once the market value of the property is adjudicated and determined by the Collector under Section 47-A of the Indian Stamp Act, the Collector (Stamp) has no power to reassess, review, or recall the said order.

B. Civil Law - Power of review - Constitutional Courts vs. Quasi-Judicial Authorities - Constitutional courts, being courts of record, enjoy inherent powers to review their own orders and correct errors in the interest of justice - In contrast, quasi-judicial authorities lack inherent powers and can only exercise those powers which have been expressly conferred upon them by the statutes - Quasi-judicial authorities cannot arbitrarily review or recall their orders unless such power is specifically conferred upon them by their governing statue (Para 9)

C. Civil Law - Indian Stamp Act,1899 - Petitioners purchased agricultural land for a sale consideration of ₹1,20,00,000 - Sub Registrar pointed out a deficiency of ₹4,45,790 in stamp duty, and made reference u/s 47-A, leading to the registration of a stamp case - After hearing, Collector (Stamp) adjudicated the market value and confirmed the deficiency - petitioners deposited the entire amount - However, on complaint by a private individual, the Collector recalled his earlier order and passed a fresh order - subsequent order by which the earlier order was cancelled neither contains any reasons nor records that the previous order was obtained through fraud or misrepresentation – Impugned order quashed (Para 5)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Milap Chandra Jain Vs St. of U.P. & ors. 1988 All. L.J. 1078

2. Sunil Kumar Vs St. of U.P. & ors. 2016(6) AWC 6522

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shekhar B. Saraf, J.)

1. In the instant writ petition the order dated February 3, 2023 passed by the District Magistrate/Collector (Stamp), Jaunpur has been assailed on the ground that the Collector (Stamp) lacks the power to recall or review an order by him under Section 47 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899 (hereinafter referred to as 'the Act').

FACTS

2. The facts of the instant case have been delineated below: -

(a) The petitioners purchased an agricultural land measuring 0.216 hectare (Gata No.176 'Aa') situated in Mauza Jagdishpur (Ramnagar Bhadsara), Pargana Haveli, Tahsil Sadar, District Jaunpur, from one Sandeep Kumar, the bhumidhar of the land, on July 23, 2020 for a sale consideration of Rs.1,20,00,000/- (Circle Rate). Rs.1,25,280/- were paid towards the registration fee. The sale deed was registered on the same day by the Sub Registrar.

(b) The Sub Registrar submitted a confidential report dated September 14, 2020 to the Assistant Inspector General (Registration), Jaunpur. In the said report, a deficiency of Rs.4,45,790/- in stamp duty and Rs.63,690/- of registration fee was pointed out.

(c) A stamp case was registered and notice was issued to the petitioners. They appeared before the Collector (Stamp) and agreed to deposit the amount to avoid the imposition of penalty.

(d) The Collector (Stamp) heard the case, considered the material available on record and after adjudicating the market value of the land, boundary wall and existing trees, it held that there was a deficiency of Rs.4,45,790/- in stamp duty and Rs.63,690/- in registration fee. The Collector also imposed a penalty of Rs.25,000/- vide order dated December 9, 2020. The petitioners deposited the entire amount on December 18, 2020.

(e) One Shiv Prasad, son of Chauthi Singh, filed a complaint on December 23, 2020 seeking recall of the order dated December 9, 2020. Acting on the complaint of the said private person, another notice dated December 31, 2020 was issued by the Collector (Stamp) to the petitioners.

(f) The petitioners filed an objection against the aforesaid second notice on the ground that the order dated December 9, 2020 was a final order which was passed after consideration of the evidence on record and it is not an ex-parte order. The petitioners assailed the legality of the second notice issued to them.

(g) Thereafter, the Collector passed a fresh order on February 3, 2023 which is now under challenge in the instant writ petition.

SUBMISSION OF THE PETITIONERS

3. Counsel on behalf of the petitioners submits that there is no power conferred on the Collector(Stamp) to recall an order passed under Section 47-A of the Act and subsequently reassess/review his earlier order. The petitioners have relied on the judgment of a Division Bench of this Court in the case of Milap Chandra Jain vs. State of U.P. and others reported in 1988 All. L.J. 1078 and another judgment of a Coordinate Bench of this Court in the case of Sunil Kumar vs. State of U.P. and others reported in 2016(6) AWC 6522.

SUBMISSIONS OF THE RESPONDENTS

4. Counsel on behalf of the respondents submits that based on the complaint filed by one Shiv Prasad, inquiry has been started against the Sub Registrar wherein a show cause notice was issued to the Sub Registrar to explain the allegations made by the complainant with regards to the forgery of certain documents. He further submits that this inquiry is still underway. An explanation was provided by the Sub Registrar in response to the show cause notice. However, counsel on behalf of the respondents failed to explain to this Court or bring forward any material to indicate as to what steps have been taken subsequent to the receipt of the explanation of the Sub Registrar.

ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

5. Upon a perusal of the documents and after hearing the learned counsel appearing on behalf of the parties, one has to first examine whether the Collector (Stamp) who acts as a quasi-judicial authority possesses any power, inherent or statutory, to recall/review an order passed under Section 47-A of the Act. Upon a perusal of the Act, it is apparent that no such power seems to be made available to the Collector. The Division Bench of this Court in Milap Chandra Jain's case (supra) examined this particular issue and made the following observations:-

"6. We have not the slightest doubt that the market value of the property having been adjudicated and determined by the Collector in the exercise of powers expressly conferred upon him under Section 47-A and in accordance with the procedure laid down therein, the same could not be reopened and reviewed except in accordance with law. The powers exercisable by the Collector under S. 47-A are unarguably quasi judicial in nature. There is a procedure laid down for the determination of the valuation which clearly affects the rights of the person who is called upon to pay additional stamp duty in case the adjudication goes against him. That being so, an adjudication made by the Collector under S. 47-A of the Stamp Act could not be disturbed or reopened unless there is an express provision in the enactment conferring power of review by the authority making that order. It is settled law that the power of review on merits is not an inherent power. Such a power must flow from some specific provision in the enactment under which rights of the parties are determined. We are amply fortified here with several decisions of the Supreme Court on this aspect of the controversy. Thus in Patel Narshi Thakarshi v. Praduman Singhji, (1971) 3 SCC 844 : AIR 1970 SC 1273 at p. 1275 para 4, their Lordships of the Supreme Court observed as follows:

"It is well settled that the power to review is not an inherent power. It must be conferred by law either specifically or by necessary implication. No provision in the Act was brought to our notice from which it would be gathered that the Government had power to review its own order. If the Government had no power to review its own order, it is obvious that its delegate could not have reviewed its order."

7. Again in Chunibhai v. Narayan Rao, AIR 1965 SC 1457 at pp. 1466-67 para 23, their Lordships reiterated the same view as follows:—

"These orders passed by the Collector in the exercise of his revisional powers were quasi-judicial and were final. The Act does not empower the Collector to review an order passed by him under Section 76-A. In the absence of any power of review, the Collector could not subsequently reconsider his previous decisions and hold that there were grounds for annulling or reversing the Mahalkar's order. The subsequent order dated February 17, 1959 reopening the matter was illegal, ultra vires and without jurisdiction."

8. It is unnecessary to encumber this decision with other authorities as it is now too late in the day to contest the settled legal position that in the absence of a provision for review an authority or even a tribunal for that matter cannot review orders passed in the exercise of quasi judicial functions. It cannot be seriously challenged that proceedings under Section 47-A of the Stamp Act are quasi judicial in nature.

9. With this legal premise we examine the facts of the present case. As mentioned above, the order dated 28-2-83 was passed upon a reference expressly made under Section 47-A by the Sub-Registrar it was the result of a quasi-judicial determination achieved after hearing both the parties in accordance with the procedure laid down under Section 47-A. The order dated 13-9-83 cancelling the order dated 28-2-83 does not disclose any reasons whatsoever in support thereof. It does not state that the earlier order was obtained by fraud or misrepresentation and the like. It was not suggested that the order was passed under any misapprehension. The mere fact, therefore, that Sri Nathulal Tanwar Advocate came forward with a higher offer of Rs. 2,50,000/- could not authorise the ADM to reopen the matter. If this procedure is countenanced, no finality would ever attach to the determination made by the Collector under Section 47-A as someone or the other could always be trusted to come forward with a higher offer, the prices of the real properties spiraling the way they have been these days. It would be setting up a dangerous precedent if orders passed under Section 47-A are reopened on the ground on which they have been done in the present case.

10. The learned Standing counsel was unable to point out any provision whether in the Stamp Act or even in the Registration Act which could disclose the existence of such a power of review upon the Collector. The learned Standing Counsel, however, pointed out sub-section (4) of Section 47-A as conferring such a power of review upon the Collector."

11. The submission cannot be accepted as sub-section (4) comes into play only if the matter had not already been referred to the Collector under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) of Section 47-A. In the present case, the dispute had already been specifically referred to and answered by the Collector under Section 47-A of the Stamp Act."

6. A coordinate Bench of this Court in Sunil Kumar's case (supra) has held as under:-

"10. It cannot be disputed that the impugned order has been passed by a quasi judicial authority and such authority cannot review its order in absence of power of review conferred under the Statute.

11. The power of review of quasi judicial authority in absence of specific provision under the statute has been dealt with in several cases of this Court as well as by the Apex Court. The Apex Court in the case of Dr. (Smt.) Kuntesh Gupta v. Management of Hindu Kanya Mahavidyalaya, Sitapur, U.P. and Ors., reported in MANU/SC/0104/1987 : (1987) 4 Supreme Court Cases 525 : (AIR 1987 SC 2186) has held that unless power of Review is expressly conferred on the authority by any statute under which it derives its' jurisdiction, the authority concerned has no power to Review its' earlier order. In para-11 of the aforesaid judgment following observations has been made:

A quasi-judicial authority cannot review its own order, unless the power of review is expressly conferred on it by the statute under which it derives its jurisdiction. The Vice-Chancellor in considering the question of approval of an order of dismissal of the Principal, acts as a quasi-judicial authority. The provisions of the U.P. State Universities Act, 1973 or of the Statutes of the University do not confer any power of review on the Vice-Chancellor. In the circumstances, it must be held that the Vice-Chancellor acted wholly without jurisdiction in reviewing, his/her earlier order. The review order of the Vice-Chancellor was, therefore, a nullity.

12. In the case of G. Srinivas v. Govt, of A.P. and Ors., reported in MANU/SC/0634/2005 : AIR 2005 SC 4455, Hon'ble Apex Court has observed:

An order passed by mistake and ignorance of the relevant facts indisputably can be reviewed, if inter alia it is found that a fraud was practiced or there was wilful suppression on the part of the appellant.

13. The Full Bench of this Court reported in MANU/UP/1127/1997 : 1997 (31) ALR 680 : (1997 All U 2363) (Smt. Shvraji and Ors. v. Dy. Director of Consolidation, Allahabad and Ors.) has held:

36. Coming to the provisions of the U.P. Consolidation of Holdings Act, it is our considered view that the consolidation authorities, particularly the Deputy Director of Consolidation while deciding a revision petition exercises judicial or quasi judicial power and, therefore his order is final subject to any power of appeal or revision vested in superior authority under the Act. The consolidation authorities, particularly the Deputy Director of Consolidation, is not vested with any power of review of his order and, therefore, cannot reopen any proceeding and cannot review or revise his earlier order. However, as a judicial or quasi judicial authority he has the power to correct any clerical mistake/arithmetical error, manifest error in his order in exercise of his inherent power as a tribunal.

14. In the case of Syed Madadgar Husain Rizvi and Anr. v. State of U.P. and Ors., reported in MANU/UP/1034/2007 : 2007 (9) ADJ 581 (DB) : (2007 (6) ALJ (NOC) 1097 (All) this Court has held:

A quasi judicial authority is not permitted to review its order unless it is so expressly conferred by the Statute itself. ”

7. From an overview of the judgments cited above, it is clear that the Collector (Stamp) cannot recall and/or review his own order as no such power has been conferred under Section 47-A of the Act. A quasi-judicial authority is limited in its functionality in as much as it has to act within the four corners of the statute from which it derives its authority. If the statute does not provide for a particular act, the same cannot be undertaken by that authority. Any such action taken de hors the legislative intent would amount to an overreach and beyond the power of the said authority.

8. Constitutional Courts, such as the High Courts and the Supreme Court, derive their powers and jurisdiction directly from the Constitution of India. These courts are vested with extensive powers, including the authority to interpret the Constitution, adjudicate constitutional matters, and serve as courts of record. On the other hand, quasi-judicial authorities are statutory bodies or officials empowered by specific legislation to adjudicate disputes and make decisions within their defined scope of authority. Unlike constitutional courts, quasi-judicial authorities do not possess inherent powers derived from the Constitution; rather, their jurisdiction and powers are conferred by statutes or delegated legislation.

9. The distinction between constitutional courts and quasi-judicial authorities is significant, particularly when it comes to the exercise of review or recall powers. Constitutional courts, being courts of record under the Constitution, enjoy inherent powers to review their own orders and correct errors in the interest of justice. This inherent power is derived from the constitutional mandate and is essential for maintaining judicial independence and upholding the rule of law. In contrast, quasi-judicial authorities lack inherent powers and can only exercise those powers which have been expressly conferred upon them by the statutes from which they derive their jurisdiction. The absence of inherent powers means that quasi-judicial authorities cannot arbitrarily review or recall their orders unless such power is specifically conferred upon them by their governing statue.

10. The rationale behind limiting the review powers of quasi-judicial authorities lies in ensuring adherence to the principle of separation of powers and preserving the integrity of the legislative scheme. Quasi-judicial authorities, being creatures of statute, must operate within the boundaries set forth by the legislature and therefore they cannot exceed their statutory mandate. Any attempt by quasi-judicial authorities to exercise the power of review or recall outside the bounds of statutory authorization is inherently flawed and constitutes a usurpation of judicial authority. Such exercises of power are void ab initio, meaning they are null and void from the outset, and cannot be sustained in law.

11. The legislature, in its wisdom, may choose to grant limited review powers to certain quasi-judicial authorities based on the nature of the disputes they adjudicate and the need for effective administration of justice. However, any expansion of review powers beyond what is expressly provided by statute undermines the principles of legislative supremacy and judicial independence. Given the absence of inherent powers and the statutory limitations on review, quasi-judicial authorities must exercise prudence and restraint in revisiting their earlier decisions.

12. In the instant case, it is clear that no such power was present with the Collector (Stamp), and therefore, the exercise of review carried out by the Collector (Stamp) is bad in law. In light of the same, the impugned order dated February 3, 2023 is quashed and set-aside and this writ petition is allowed.

EPILOGUE

13. During the course of the hearing, an affidavit was filed by the State-respondents indicating that a show cause notice was issued on January 6, 2021 to the Sub Registrar with regards to the alleged fabricated and forged report. In reply to the said show cause notice, an explanation dated January 14, 2021 was provided by the Sub Registrar. However, the affidavit is incomplete and does not contain any mention as to what steps were taken subsequent to the explanation provided by the Sub Registrar. It appears that the matter was put to rest and the inquiry was not taken forward. The allegations made against the Sub Registrar were quite grave in nature, and therefore, the State Government should have ensured that a proper inquiry is carried out.

14. In the realm of legal proceedings, transparency, accountability, and the pursuit of justice are paramount. The allegations made against the Sub Registrar strike at the core of the trust and integrity expected of public officials entrusted with important responsibilities. It is incumbent upon the State Government to diligently investigate these allegations and take appropriate actions to address any wrongdoing. The affidavit submitted to this court raises concerns regarding the adequacy and thoroughness of the inquiry conducted so far. No individual, regardless of their position or authority, is above scrutiny or immune from accountability. Public officials entrusted with the responsibility of upholding the law and serving the interests of the public must conduct themselves with the utmost integrity and diligence. The State Government, as the custodian of public trust, must demonstrate unwavering commitment to upholding the principles of accountability and transparency. Any laxity or indifference in addressing allegations of misconduct undermines the credibility of the entire administrative machinery and erodes confidence in public institutions.

15. Accordingly, this Courts directs the Principal Secretary, Stamp and Registration, Government of Uttar Pradesh to initiate/continue with the inquiry initiated against the Sub Registrar and bring the same to a logical end. The Principal Secretary is directed to conclude his enquiry within a period of six months from the date of receipt of this order and submit a report to this Court. Registrar (Compliance) is directed to communicate this order to the Principal Secretary, Stamp and Registration, Government of Uttar Pradesh forthwith.

16. There shall be no order as to the costs.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1534
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 30.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MAHESH CHANDRA TRIPATHI, J.
THE HON'BLE SAUMITRA DAYAL SINGH, J.
THE HON'BLE SIDDHARTH, J.

Writ-C No. 41122 of 2019

Housing Development Finance Corp. Ltd. ...Petitioner

Versus

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Opp. Parties

Counsel for the Petitioner:

Gunjan Jadwani

Counsel for the Opp. Parties:
C.S.C.

Civil Law – Indian Stamp Act, 1899 - Sections 2(14) & 3 - Full Bench Reference- Admission stage of writ petition- - Articles 5 (c), 6 and 40 of Schedule 1-Bof the Stamp Act- UP General Clauses Act, 1904 - Sections 3(18) & 4(13) - Stamp Act- Fiscal Statute- Charging section to be interpreted strictly- Taxing event- no levy, if literal reading leads to non-taxability of transaction- Burden to establish occurrence of taxing event- to be discharged by Revenue- Whether instrument executed by the petitioner- exigible to stamp duty under Article 6(1) of Schedule 1-B- Agreement in writing- condition for deposit of sale deed for securing loan- Absent such agreement- no levy of stamp duty on such instrument- Upheld the Division Bench judgement in HDFC Ltd. Vs Assistant Commissioner Stamps, Ghaziabad- Writ petition to be decided accordingly. (Paras 11, 12, 13, 14, 17, 18, 33 and 34)

HELD:
To define a 'taxing event' falls within the competence of the legislature. It is an artificial legislative construct. It arises upon a levy created by the legislative law, on a person transaction, event, or activity, performed by natural or other persons. Therefore, it (taxing event) may arise strictly in terms of the express words used by the legislature. If literal reading leads to non-taxability of the transaction, no levy may arise. If there exists a doubt/ambiguity about whether a transaction, event or activity falls within the four corners of the charging section, the taxing event does not exist. Consequently, the levy of tax cannot arise. (Para 11)

For a valid levy of a tax to arise, there must exist four components of tax namely, the character of the impost i.e. the description of the taxable event; a clear indication of the person on whom the levy is imposed; the rate of tax; and the measure or value to which the rate of tax is to be applied. The burden to establish the occurrence or existence of a taxing event rests on the revenue. Therefore, unless the revenue first discharges that burden, the taxpayer may not be burdened to prove the negative. (Para 12)

Read in the context of the duty Entry/Article 6(1) of Schedule 1-B to the Stamp Act, that 'instrument' i.e. writing must further fulfill the requirement of being an "agreement relating to deposit of title deeds", etc. For an 'agreement' to exist, it must involve a meeting of minds. Therefore, the writing that must be proved (by the revenue), must show that the parties (that executed the same), had agreed to provide for the deposit of the title deed in any immovable property, etc., by way of security for the repayment of money already advanced or to be advanced by the person receiving such deposit. (Para 18)

In the absence of that written agreement, no 'instrument' less so 'chargeable to duty' - in terms of Section 3 read with Article 6(1) to Schedule 1-B of the Stamp Act may ever exist. In that event, an actual deposit of the title deed with a creditor, to secure any loan availed by the debtor, would not attract any stamp duty liability, since the Stamp Act does not seek to levy stamp duty on oral agreements/transactions. On the contrary, the Stamp Act imposes duty liability only on an 'instrument'14. Those it construes as every document/ written record etc. Unless written words executed by the parties exist to establish the nature of the transaction described under Article 6(1) of Schedule 1-B of the Stamp Act, no taxable event may ever arise or be witnessed under the Stamp Act. (Para 21)

Thus, we conclude: (i) creation of a simple mortgage (through deposit of title deeds), though valid in law and fully enforceable as such, would remain beyond the clutches of the Stamp Act, so long as there is no written agreement executed between the parties or any document that is made part of thereof that evidences the bargain reached between the parties – to deposit the title deed (with the lender) to secure the loan availed by the borrower. (ii) in the present case, as noted above, there is no written evidence yet brought on record, of any bargain reached by the parties requiring the borrower to deposit the title deeds with the lender/petitioner. (Para 33)

Reference answered. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. HDFC Ltd. Vs Assistant Commissioner Stamps, Ghaziabad, 2015:AHC:125281-DB; (2015) 129 RD 208; (2015) 113 ALR 483; (2016) 2 ALJ 87; 2015 SCC Online All 8079

2. District Registrar & Collector Vs Canara Bank (2005) 1 SCC 496

3. Board of Revenue Vs Rai Saheb Sidnath Mehrotra, AIR 1965 SC 1092

4. Commissioner of Sales Tax, U.P. Vs Modi Sugar Mills Ltd., (1960) SCC OnLine SC 118

5. Polester Electronic (P) Ltd. Vs Addl. Com. Sale Tax (1978) 1 SCC 636

6. Rai Ram Krishna & ors. Etc. Vs St. of Bihar (In Both the Appeals), (1963) SCC OnLine SC 31

7. CIT Vs Maharashtra Sugar Mills Ltd., (1971) 3 SCC 543

8. Central India Spg., Wvg. & Mfg. Co. Ltd. Vs Municipal committee, AIR 1958 SC 341

9. Govind Saran Ganga Saran Vs CST, 1985 Supp SCC 205

10. U.O.I. Vs Garware Nylons Ltd., (1996) 10 SCC 413

11. Shree Mohan Chowdhury Vs K.C. Dhulia AIR 1964 SC 173

12. S.N. Mathur Vs Board of Revenue, (2009) 13 SCC 301

13. Govind Rubber Ltd. Vs Louids Dreyfus Commodities Asia (P) Ltd. (2013) 13 SCC 477

14. St. of T. N. Vs M/s Pyare Lal Malhotra & ors., (1976) 1 SCC 834

15. Brij Mohan Vs Sugra Begum (1990) 4 SCC 147

16. United Bank of India Ltd. Vs M/s Lekharam Sonaram and Co. AIR 1965 SC 1591

17. United Bank of India Ltd. Vs Ram Chandra Kapoor, 1967 SCC OnLine All 278

18. Padam Chand Jain Vs C.C.R.A., 1970 SCC OnLine All 106

19. K. J. Nathan Vs S.V. Murthi Rao & ors., 1964 SCC OnLine SC 120

20. Umesh Kumar Gupta Vs St. of UP & ors., AIR 2006 Allahabad 30

21. The Chief Controlling Revenue Authority, Madras Vs M/s Pioneer Spinners Pvt. Ltd., 1968 ILR Madras Series 284

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saumitra Dayal Singh, J.)

1. Present reference (to a full bench) has arisen on a doubt expressed by a learned single judge, to the correctness of the ratio contained in a division bench decision of the Court in HDFC Ltd. Vs Assistant Commissioner Stamps, Ghaziabad, 2015:AHC:125281-DB; (2015) 129 RD 208; (2015) 113 ALR 483; (2016) 2 ALJ 87; 2015 SCC Online All 8079. In that, the division bench reasoned as below:

"In the case in hand also, the instrument, namely, agreement executed between the petitioner and its borrowers does not, in itself, evidences or contain terms regarding the deposit of title deed. The loan agreement only provides for a future eventuality requiring the giving of security, which necessarily would not fall within the ambit of Article 6 of Schedule 1-B of the Act. The Stamp Act is a fiscal statute and its provisions are to be strictly construed. No stamp duty is liable to be charged on assumptions and conjectures or surmises. The stamp duty is to be paid on the tenor of instrument and not at any future possibility. The Article meant in the agreement for security does not spell out even the nature of the security that may be required to be furnished sometimes in future. Stamp duty also cannot be charged on an assumptions that at any future time, the security by creation of equitable mortgage by deposit of title deeds would be executed. An equitable mortgage created by simply depositing the title deed without there being any instrument, letter, note, memorandum or writing evidencing such an agreement relating to deposit of title deeds, is also not subject to payment of stamp duty.

In view of the aforesaid settled legal positing, petitioner cannot be forced to mention in the loan agreement the fact that title document has been deposited with the Bank as it is open in between the Bank and the borrower to either create an oral equitable mortgage by deposit of title deed as provided under Section 58 (F) of the Transfer of Property Act or execute a document in that regard by way of an instrument, letter, note and only in the eventuality of execution of an instrument, memorandum, undertaking, letter, the same would be chargeable with duty under Article 6 of Schedule 1-B. In case, the loan agreement executed between the parties, does not contain stipulation in writing about creation of a mortgage by the deposit of title deed, the stamp duty would not be chargeable under Article 5 of Schedule 1-B of the Act."

2. The reference was made at the admission stage of the writ petition. At that stage, the State had not filed its Counter Affidavit. It had opposed the writ petition on the strength of instructions. Even those are not on record. In such circumstances, relying on the document that may have been produced by the State (at that stage) and referring to Clauses 10.5(f), and 10.5(h) read with Clause 13(d) of the Loan Agreement, the learned single judge observed as below, in the order dated 19.12.2019:

"9. Learned Standing Counsel, who was earlier given time by this Court to seek instructions, on the basis of instructions, has informed this Court that in the loan agreement signed between the bank and the loanee, there is a Clause 10.5(f) and 10.5(h), which was not pointed out at the time of decision of the Court rendered on 31.8.2015. The emphasis is on these two clauses and therefore, they are being quoted hereinbelow:

"10.5(f). The Borrower alone shall be responsible to bear and pay the Stamp Duty, all charges levied by the Central Registry of Securitization Asset Reconstruction and Security Interest of India, as well as all other statutory/regulatory charges/levies/taxes as may be applicable to the Loan, the Security, this Agreement as well as on all other instruments in relation to the Loan/Security (to the extent as may be applicable during the pendency of the Loan).

10.5(h) The Borrower further agrees that the terms and conditions of the Offer Letter, the loan application and the related documents executed/ to be executed shall be read and form part and parcel of this Agreement. In case of any inconsistency, in any of the stated documents, the terms and conditions of this Loan Agreement shall prevail."

10. It has been submitted on the basis of these two clauses that once the loan agreement is signed by the loanee, the title deed to the property mortgaged as security of the loan are also deposited by the loanee with the bank.

11. Learned Standing Counsel has pointed out a clause in the loan agreement which says that such title deed shall only be released after repayment of the entire loan amount i.e. Clause 13(d). It amounts to an equitable mortgage created on the property of which, the loan has been taken. It has been submitted that these clauses of the agreement were not brought to the notice of the Division Bench when it decided the case on 31.8.2015."

3. Consequently, the following reference was made by the learned single judge:

"In the light of the submissions regarding the loan agreement contained Clause 10.5(f), 10.5(h) and 13(d), whether the agreement signed between the bank and the loanee would be chargeable as an equitable mortgage created on the property for which the loan is taken?"

4. The Chief Justice constituted this full bench to answer that reference. After that, a Counter Affidavit (sworn by Shri. Yogendra Singh, Assistant Registrar, Sadar, Gorakhpur dated 24.09.2020), was filed. It did not bring the Loan Agreement (noticed by the learned single judge), on record. On that being pointed out by us on 05.04.2024, the State craved leave to file a Supplementary Counter Affidavit. We granted that indulgence and adjourned the hearing. Accordingly, a Supplementary Counter Affidavit (sworn by Shri. Pradeep Rana, Assistant Inspector General (Stamp), Gorakhpur), dated 22.04.24 has been filed. Learned counsel for the petitioner proposed, not to file a Rejoinder Affidavit.

5. Since the reference has arisen at the instance of the State, we heard Shri Manish Goel learned Additional Advocate General assisted by Shri A.K. Goyal learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State first, and Shri Anurag Khanna learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Ms. Gunjan Jadwani for the petitioner, in reply.

6. The document described as a true copy of the Loan Agreement (annexed to the Supplementary Counter Affidavit), does not contain Clause 13(d). The learned Additional Advocate General states, there is a typographical error in the reference order. The relevant Clause is Clause 13(iii)(b) of the Most Important Terms & Conditions (hereinafter referred to as MITC). In the absence of any challenge to that statement, we have no reason to doubt its correctness. Accordingly, we read the reference made to us as below:

In the light of the submissions regarding the loan agreement contained in Clause 13(iii)(b) whether the agreement signed between the bank and the loanee would be chargeable as an equitable mortgage created on the property for which the loan is taken?"

7. Article 10.5(f), 10.5(h) of the Loan Agreement, Clauses 7, 10(a), 11, and 13 of the MITC, appended to the Loan Agreement read as below:

"10.5(f). The Borrower alone shall be responsible to bear and pay the Stamp Duty, all charges levied by the Central Registry of Securitization Asset Reconstruction and Security Interest of India, as well as all other statutory/regulatory charges/levies/taxes as may be applicable to the Loan, the Security, this Agreement as well as on all other instruments in relation to the Loan/Security (to the extent as may be applicable during the pendency of the Loan).

10.5(h). The Borrower further agrees that the terms and conditions of the Offer Letter, the loan application and the related documents executed/ to be executed shall be read and form part and parcel of this Agreement. In case of any inconsistency, in any of the stated documents, the terms and conditions of this Loan Agreement shall prevail."

7. Security/Collateral for the loan [*]

Security of the loan would generally be security interest on the property being financed and/or any other collateral/interim security as may be required by HDFC.

(a) Property description : House on Plot on Arazi No. 7Mi, Mouza Dariya Chak, Pargana Haveli, Tappa Kasba, Tehsil Sadar, Bd By: N, W:Road, E: House, S:Plot, situated at Gorakhpur, 273001 and construction thereon present and future.

(b) Guarantee: Names of the Guarantor/s (if any): Not Applicable

(c) Other Security Interest (If any): Not Applicable

10. Conditions for disbursement of the loan

The Borrower shall:

a. submit all relevant documents as mentioned in the Sanction Letter/Loan Agreement.

11. Brief Procedure to be followed for Recovery of overdue:

Customers are explained the repayment process of the loan in respect of, tenure, periodicity, amount and mode of repayment of the loan. No notice, reminder or intimation is given to the customer regarding his/her obligation to pay the EMI or PEMI regularly on due date.

On non-payment of Pre-EMI/EMI by the due dates, HDFC shall remind the customers by making telephone calls, sending written intimations by post and electronic medium or by making personal visils by HDFC's authorized personnel at the addresses provided by the customer. Costs of such calls/communication/visits shall be recovered from the customer.

Notwithstanding what is stated herein, it shall be the liability of the customer to ensure that the Pre-EMI/EMIs are regularly paid on the due dates.

Credit information relating to any customer's account is provided to the Credit Information Bureau (India) Limited (CIBIL) or any other licenced bureau on a monthly basis. To avoid any adverse impact ort the credil history with CIBIL, it is advised that the customer should ensure timely payment of the amount due on the loan amount.

The recovery process of enforcement of mortgage/securities, including but not limited to, taking possession and sale of the mortgaged property in accordance with the procedure prescribed under the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assels and. Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002 (SARFAESI Act) or under any other law, is followed purely as per the directions laid down under the respective low.

Intimation/Reminders/Notice(s) are given to customer prior to inillating steps for res recovery of overdues, under the Negotiable Instruments Act, Civil Suit as well as under the SARFAESI Act.

13. Customer Services

(i) Customer Service Queries including requirement of documents can be addressed to HDFC through the following channels

Write to us through our website:www.hdfc.comor notify us at:

HOFC Lid, HDFC House, HT Parekh Marg, 165-166, Backbay Reclamation, Churchgate, Mumbai 400 020.

(ii) Visiting hours and the details of person to be contacted for customer service with respect to all branches of HDFC are available atwww.hdfc.com.

(iii) Contact HDFC Customer Service Officer at your nearest branch within the working hours as mentioned in the Loan Application form for:

a. Photo Copies of documents, which can be provided in 7 working days from dale of placing request.

Necessary administrative fees shall be applicable.

b. Original documents will be returned within 10 working days from the date of closure of loan. Necessary administrative fee shall be applicable if documents collected beyond due date of release of documents.

c. Loan Account statement (time line) : Within 3 working days of the receipt of request."

8. The reference has arisen in the statutory context of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Stamp Act'), as applicable in the State of Uttar Pradesh. The provisions of sections 2(14) and 3 of the Stamp Act read as below:

"2(14) "Instrument" - "Instrument" includes every document and record created or maintained in or by an electronic storage and retrieval device or media by which any right or liability is, or purports to be, created, transferred, limited, extended, extinguished or recorded.

3. Instruments chargeable with duty. Subject to the provisions of this Act and the exemptions contained in Schedule I, the following instruments shall be chargeable with duty of the amount indicated in that Schedule as the proper duty therefor, respectively, that is to say,-

(a) every instrument mentioned in that Schedule which, not having been previously executed by any person, is executed in India on or after the first day of July, 1899;

(b) every bill of exchange payable otherwise than on demand, or promissory note drawn or made out of India on or after that day and accepted or paid, or presented for acceptance or payment, or endorsed, transferred or otherwise negotiated in India; and

(c) every instrument (other than a bill of exchange, or promissory note) mentioned in that Schedule, which not having been previously executed by any person, is executed out of India on or after that day, relates to any property situate, or to any matter or thing done or to be done, in India and is received in India:

Provided that, except as otherwise expressly provided in this Act, and notwithstanding anything contained in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of the section or in Schedule I or I-A, the following instruments shall, subject to the exemptions contained in Schedule I-A or I-B be chargeable with duty of the amount indicated in Schedule I-A or I-B as the proper duty therefor, respectively, that is to say,- aa) every instrument mentioned in Schedule J-A or B which not having been previously executed by any person was executed in Uttar Pradesh,-

(i) in the case of instruments mentioned in Schedule I-A on or after the date on which the U.P. Stamp (Amendment) Act, 1948, came into force; and

(ii) in the case of instruments mentioned in Schedule I-B on or after the date on which the U.P. Stamp (Amendment) Act, 1948, came into force;

(bb) every instrument mentioned in Schedule I-A or I-B which not having been previously executed by any person, was executed out of Uttar Pradesh,-

(i) in the case of instruments mentioned in Schedule I-A on or after the date on which the U.P. Stamp (Amendment).

(ii) in the case of instruments mentioned in Schedule I-B, on or after the date on which the U.P. Stamp (Amendment) Act, 1952, comes into force, and relates to any property situated, or to any matter or thing done or to be done in Uttar Pradesh, and is received in Uttar Pradesh:

Provided also that no duty shall be chargeable in respect of,-

(1) any instrument executed by or on behalf of, or in favour of, the Government in cases where, but for this exemption Government would be liable to pay the duty chargeable in respect of such instrument;

(2) any instrument for the sale, transfer of other disposition, either absolutely or by way of mortgage or otherwise, of any ship or vessel, or any part, interest, share or property of or in any ship or vessel registered under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, or under Act No. XIX of 1838, or the Indian Registration of Ships Act, 1841 (X of 1841), as amended by subsequent Acts;

[(3) Any instrument executed, by, or, on behalf of, or, in favour of, the 'developer', or 'unit' or in connection with the carrying out of purposes of the special economic zone.

Explanation.- For the purposes of this clause, the expressions "Developer", "Special Economic Zone" and "Unit" shall have meanings respectively assigned to them in clauses (g), (za) and (zc) of Section 2 of the Special Economic Zones Act, 2005.]*

Explanation.- Where the amount of duty prescribed in Schedule I-B contains any fraction of a rupee below twenty-five paise, or above twenty-five paise, but below fifty paise, or above fifty paise, but below seventy-five paise, or above seventy-five paise but below one rupee, the proper duty shall be an amount rounded off to the next higher quarter of a rupee as hereinafter appearing in the said Schedule."*

9. Then, Articles 5(c), 6, and 40 of Schedule I-B to the Stamp Act read as below:

Description of Instrument	Proper Stamp-duty
5.Agreement or memorandum of an agreement-
(c) if not otherwise provided for	One hundred rupees.
Exemption
Agreement or memorandum of agreement-
(a) [Deleted by U.P. Act No. 14 of 1963]
(b) made in the form of tenders to the Central Government for, or relating to, any loan;
6. Agreement relating to deposit of title, deeds, pawn or pledge, that is to say, any instrument evidencing an agreement relating to -
(1) the deposit of title deeds or instruments constituting or being evidence of the title to any property whatever (other than a marketable security); or
(2) the pawn or pledge of movable property, where such deposit, pawn or pledge has been made by way of security for the repayment of money advanced or to be advanced by way of loan or an existing or future debt –
[(a) if such loan or debt is repayable on demand or more than three months from the date of the instrument evidencing the agreement-	Twenty rupees

For every Rs. 1,000 or part thereof of the amount of loan or debt.
Explanation
For the purposes of clause (1) of this Article, any letter, note or memorandum or writing, relating to the deposit of title deeds,whether written or made before, or at the time of, or after, the deposit of title deeds is effected, and whether it is in respect of the first loan or any subsequent loan, such letter, note, memorandum or writing shall, in the absence of any separate agreement relating to deposit of title deeds, be deemed to be an instrument evidencing an agreement relating to the deposit of title deeds.]	Half the duty payable on a loan or debt under Clause (a) for the amount secured.
(b) if such loan or debt is repayable not more than three months from the date of such instrument.
Exemption
Instrument of pawn or pledge of agriculture produce, if unattested.
40. Mortgage-deed not being an Agreement relating to Deposit of Title-deeds, Pawn or Pledge (No.6), Bottomry Bond (No.16), Mortgage of a Crop (No.41), Respondentia Bond (No.56) or Security Bond (No. 57)-*	The same duty as a Conveyance [No.23 clause (a)] for a consideration equal to the amount secured by such deed.
(a) when possession of the property or any part of the property comprised in such deeds is given by the morgagor or agreed to be given
(b) when possession is not given or agreed to be given as aforesaid	The same duty as a Bond (No.15) for the amounts secured by such deed.
Explanation
A mortgagor who gives to the mortgagee a power of attorney to collect rents or a lease of the property or part thereof, is deemed to give possession within the meaning of this Article.
(c) when a collateral or auxilliary or additional or substituted security, or by way of further assurance for the abovementioned purpose where the principal or primary security is duly stamped-	[Ten rupees]
for every sum secured not exceeding Rs. 1,000	[Ten rupees] and for every Rs. 1,000 or party thereof secured in excess of Rs. 1,000
Exemptions
(1) Instruments executed by persons taking advances under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, or undre the Agriculturists' Loans Act, 1884, or by their sureties as securities for the repayment of such advances.
(2) Letter of hypothecation accompanying a bill of exchange.

10. The Stamp Act is a fiscal statute1. Therefore, the rule of strict interpretation must be applied to its charging section - Section 3 read with the Schedules to that Act2. There is no room or permission to interpret/read the charging section, liberally3. The Courts may only look at what is clearly said; there is no room for intendment; there is no equity about tax; there is no presumption as to tax; nothing may be read into, and nothing may be implied to bring a subject to tax4.

11. To define a 'taxing event' falls within the competence of the legislature5.. It is an artificial legislative construct. It arises upon a levy created by the legislative law, on a person transaction, event, or activity, performed by natural or other persons. Therefore, it (taxing event) may arise strictly in terms of the express words used by the legislature. If literal reading leads to non-taxability of the transaction, no levy may arise6. If there exists a doubt/ambiguity about whether a transaction, event or activity falls within the four corners of the charging section, the taxing event does not exist. Consequently, the levy of tax cannot arise7.

12. For a valid levy of a tax to arise, there must exist four components of tax namely, the character of the impost i.e. the description of the taxable event; a clear indication of the person on whom the levy is imposed; the rate of tax; and the measure or value to which the rate of tax is to be applied8. The burden to establish the occurrence or existence of a taxing event rests on the revenue9. Therefore, unless the revenue first discharges that burden, the taxpayer may not be burdened to prove the negative.

13. Section 3 of the Stamp Act seeks to charge stamp duty on an 'instrument'. Thus, the taxing event is the execution of an 'instrument'. The person on whom such duty liability arises is specified under Section 29 of the Stamp Act. The rate and measure of duty to be charged is to be found - as 'indicated' under any of the Schedule to the Stamp Act. Before us, there exists neither any doubt as to the person on whom stamp duty is to be levied nor to the existence of the rate or measure of stamp duty specified by the Stamp Act.

14. The doubt is whether the 'instrument' executed by the petitioner falls under Article 6(1) of Schedule 1-B to the Stamp Act. Unless that 'instrument' exists, the rate and measure of tax prescribed may not come to life. Thus, for any charge of stamp duty to arise there must exist an 'instrument' on which such duty may be charged. Under separate entries (described as Articles), enumerated under each of the Schedules appended to the Stamp Act, the exact rate of stamp duty must be found prescribed on the subject 'instrument'. Under the scheme of the Stamp Act, those have been categorised by nature of the rights and liabilities that an 'instrument' may seek to create, alter or deal with 'indicating' the stamp duty to be charged thereon. Unique rates of tax have been specified for each such 'instrument', together with the method/mode of computation i.e. fixed rate or ad valorem base.

15. Section 2(14) of the Stamp Act includes and thus describes an 'instrument' as 'every document' etc. by which any 'right or liability' is, or purports to be, amongst others 'created' or 'recorded'. The dictionary meaning of the word 'instrument' would commend its construction - a written document of a formal legal kind10. In any case, Section 3(18) of the General Clauses Act, 1897 defines a 'document' thus:

"3(18). "document" shall include any matter written, expressed or described upon any substance by means of letters, figures or marks, or by more than one of those means which is intended to be used, or which may be used, for the purpose of recording that matter.

16. Section 4(13) of the Uttar Pradesh General Clauses Act, 1904 incorporates a pari materia definition of the word 'document'. Similarly, Section 3 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 defines 'document' thus:

"3. Document. —Document means any matter expressed or described upon any substance by means of letters, figures or marks, or by more than one of those means, intended to be used, or which may be used, for the purpose of recording that matter."

17. On a conjoint reading of Sections 3 and 2(14) of the Stamp Act read with Section 3(18) of the General Clauses Act, 1897 and Section 4(13) of the U.P. General Clauses Act, 1904, a charge of stamp duty may arise - as to amount 'indicated' in any of the Schedules to the Stamp Act on an 'instrument' i.e. a 'document' that must be writing, expressed or described by letters, figures or marks, etc., placed with an intention to be used or for actual use to record that matter. That may never be anything but writing whether on paper or electronic mode etc. In whatever form it may exist, its visibility to the naked eye (both as to the writing and the intent or use), is a sine qua non, to be fulfilled, before such 'document' may ever be described as an 'instrument'. Therefore, for the charging section to attract and a valid levy of stamp duty to arise, there must not only exist an 'instrument' (as defined), but also a specified rate of tax on such 'instrument', under any one of the Schedules to the Stamp Act11.

18. Read in the context of the duty Entry/Article 6(1) of Schedule 1-B to the Stamp Act, that 'instrument' i.e. writing must further fulfill the requirement of being an "agreement relating to deposit of title deeds", etc. For an 'agreement' to exist, it must involve a meeting of minds12. Therefore, the writing that must be proved (by the revenue), must show that the parties (that executed the same), had agreed to provide for the deposit of the title deed in any immovable property, etc., by way of security for the repayment of money already advanced or to be advanced by the person receiving such deposit.

19. Also, that 'agreement' must be specific. It must satisfy the exact terms of Article 6(1) to Schedule 1-B of the Stamp Act. Thus, to be subjected to stamp duty under that Entry/Article, the 'instrument' must squarely/unequivocally describe the terms of that Article/Entry, read strictly. Such an 'instrument' must 'evidence' an 'agreement' to 'deposit of title deeds' etc. The words 'that is to say' prefixed to that taxing entry is an ancillary clause, enacted to explain the meaning of the principal clause. It makes clear and fixes the meaning of the nature of 'instruments' subjected to Stamp duty, by the legislature13. Therefore, the 'instrument' to be subjected to stamp duty payment under that Article/Entry must specifically provide for "the deposit of title deeds or……".

20. In other words, only when a writing is found executed by the debtor, providing for deposit of any title deed of an immovable property with the creditor - to secure any existing loan or future loan to be advanced by the latter (which would be rights and liabilities dealt with by that document), the taxing event may exist. That alone may give rise to a levy of stamp duty as the rate and measure of the tax provided under Article 6(1) of Schedule 1-B to the Stamp Act. There cannot be any presumption or inference as to that.

21. In the absence of that written agreement, no 'instrument' less so 'chargeable to duty' - in terms of Section 3 read with Article 6(1) to Schedule 1-B of the Stamp Act may ever exist. In that event, an actual deposit of the title deed with a creditor, to secure any loan availed by the debtor, would not attract any stamp duty liability, since the Stamp Act does not seek to levy stamp duty on oral agreements/transactions. On the contrary, the Stamp Act imposes duty liability only on an 'instrument'14. Those it construes as every document/ written record etc. Unless written words executed by the parties exist to establish the nature of the transaction described under Article 6(1) of Schedule 1-B of the Stamp Act, no taxable event may ever arise or be witnessed under the Stamp Act.

22. Seen in that light, Clause 10(a) of the Loan Agreement only required the borrower to submit documents mentioned in the Sanction Letter/Loan Agreement. Remarkably, the Loan Agreement itself does not require the borrower to deposit the title deed in any immovable property with the petitioner, to secure the loan availed by the borrower. The Loan Agreement does not speak of the deposit of any title deed. Neither the Sanction Letter nor the Loan Application nor any other document (evidencing any bargain reached between the parties requiring the borrower to deposit any title deed, to secure the loan availed by him), has been brought on record. Therefore, the contents of such documents may remain to be speculated, but never admitted, proved, or established. There is no evidence or credible material (shown to exist) with the revenue authorities, to establish the existence of any written bargain reached between the parties that may have obliged the borrower to deposit any title deed with the petitioner - to secure the loan availed by the former. That burden has remained undischarged.

23. Similarly, in the absence of any other document produced, the mere existence of Clauses 10(f), 10(h) of the Loan Agreement, Clauses 7, 10(a), 11, and 13 of the MITC, the terms and conditions of the Offer Letter, the Loan Application, and other documents (that may form part and parcel of the Loan Agreement), on their (own) force did not create any written stipulation or agreement or evidence of a bargain reached by the borrower to deposit any title deed etc., with the petitioner to secure the loan availed by him. Creation of security interest in immovable property, without documentary evidence of bargain, reached - to deposit the title deed in the immovable property (in which such security interest may have been created in terms of Act Number 54 of 2002), may also not be read as evidence of an 'instrument' drawn to deposit the title deed in that property, to secure the loan availed by the borrower.

24. In view of the above, Clause 13(iii)(b) of MITC is extraneous to the issue. Unless an 'instrument' evidencing an 'agreement' to deposit any title deed is executed by the borrower, in favour of the petitioner - to secure a loan availed by the former, mere deposit of such title deed (against an oral agreement) and its return (against a written agreement) would not give rise to any taxing event under Section 3 read with Section 2(14) and Article 6(1) of Schedule 1-B to the Stamp Act. An oral 'agreement' not being a 'document' may never be described as an 'instrument'. Hence, it may never suffer the impost of stamp duty. Forever, it would remain beyond the reach and clutches of the Stamp Act.

25. As to precedent relied by the learned Additional Advocate General, in United Bank of India Limited vs M/s Lekharam Sonaram and Co. AIR 1965 SC 1591, there pre-existed a letter written by Lekharam [Ex-7(a)], authorising his son Babulal to deposit on his behalf certain title deeds to create an equitable mortgage. In turn, Babulal wrote a letter to the lender Bank [Ex-7(b)], authorising his younger brother to deposit the title deeds and to negotiate further in that respect. Since those documents were not registered under Section 17 of the Registration Act, the trial court refused to grant a mortgage decree. That view was maintained by the High Court, in appeal. The Supreme Court reversed that decision and reasoned that the documents in issue created an equitable mortgage. Accordingly, the plaintiff bank was found entitled to a mortgage decree. At the same time, it was not an issue and no finding was reached to infer the existence of an instrument, to deposit the title deeds to secure a loan, in that facts circumstance.

26. In United Bank of India Limited Vs Ram Chandra Kapoor, 1967 SCC OnLine All 278, the only issue involved was whether the endorsement made in the main agreement read together with a separate document executed later, could be read as an agreement relating to pawn or pledge. By reading the documents comprehensively, a coordinate bench of this Court opined that such an 'instrument' existed and may be subjected to stamp duty under Article/Entry 6(1) of Schedule 1-B to the Stamp Act. Here, there is no 'document' recording such an 'agreement'.

27. In Padam Chand Jain Vs C.C.R.A., 1970 SCC OnLine All 106, a reference made by the Board of Revenue was answered by a three-judge bench of this Court. That reference arose on the following question:

"Whether the document under reference is a memorandum of agreement relating to deposit of title deeds within the meaning of Art.6(1), Schedule 1-B of the U.P. Stamp (Amendment) Act, 1962 or a mortgage deed within the definition of that term in Sec. 2(17) of the Stamp Act and chargeable accordingly with a duty of Rs. 3937.50 under Art. 40(b), Schedule 1-B, ibid".

Reading the document, it was opined thus:

"The deed also records an agreement relating to "a first mortgage by deposit of title deeds" in respect of the land and premises specified in the first Schedule as a collateral security for the said amount. As stated in the deed, the title deeds had already been deposited with the branch of the State Bank of India in Chipitola, Agra. The deed, however, does not purport to create any charge on the specified properties to secure the sum of Rs. 1,75,000/-. The reason is obvious; a mortgage by deposit of title deeds effectuates transfer of a right to the properties and creation, separately, of a charge their own becomes unnecessary".

28. It was concluded that that deed evidenced an agreement to pledge goods and an agreement to create the first charge by deposit of title deeds. Accordingly, it was found - not chargeable to duty under Article 40 to Schedule 1-B of the Stamp Act, but under Article 6 of Schedule 1-B to the Stamp Act. In that case, the title deed of immovable property was deposited with the lender bank by way of security against an 'instrument'. Here, no 'document' requiring deposit of title deed exists.

29. In K. J. Nathan Vs S.V. Murthi Rao and Others, 1964 SCC OnLine SC 120, the issue was regarding enforcement of a mortgage created by deposit of title deeds. The Supreme Court held, a Court may presume under certain circumstances that a loan and deposit of title deed, constitute a mortgage. That was held to be an inference as to the existence of one fact drawn from the existence of some other fact or facts. Yet, it was not an issue whether an instrument to deposit the title deeds may be inferred, in such circumstances.

30. In Umesh Kumar Gupta Vs State of UP and others, AIR 2006 Allahabad 30, the issue involved was whether a mortgage by deposit of title deeds may be created under Section 58(f) of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882. Despite the absence of a written deed, a mortgage was inferred on the strength of the deposit of the title deed. The issue was not whether an oral agreement may be subjected to stamp duty.

31. As discussed by the division bench, more than fifty years ago, a similar reference arose before the Madras High Court in The Chief Controlling Revenue Authority, Madras vs M/s Pioneer Spinners Pvt. Ltd., 1968 ILR Madras Series 284. In that, a loan was sanctioned by the Canara Bank by executing an 'instrument' described as the "Articles of Agreement" with related papers accompanied by actual delivery and deposit of certain title deeds (to create security), set out in the Schedule to the loan proposal. That 'instrument', in its annexed Schedule, contained a list of title deeds deposited. Yet, it did not include any clause evidencing an 'agreement' or 'bargain' to deposit the title deeds to secure the loan advanced by the Canara Bank to the borrower. Surely, the "Articles of Agreement" that were the loan agreement also did not contain any clause to that effect.

32. In those facts, a full bench of the Madras High Court, speaking through Justice Natesan reasoned – that there was the absence of any documentary evidence of an 'agreement' reached between the parties requiring the borrower to deposit the title deeds to secure the loan availed by it. Further, absence of any clause in the "Articles of Agreement" (the loan agreement in that case), to include and make part of that written 'agreement' - the "borrower's proposal" (containing an offer to deposit the title deeds), the mere reference made in the "Articles of Agreement" that:

"(a) The borrowers proposal shall be deemed to constitute the basis of this agreement end of the loan to be advanced by the bank; and

(b) that the advance shall be governed by the terms contained in the agreement as well as in security documents listed in the schedule"

also did not constitute documentary evidence that "those parties tacitly considered the writing as the repository and appropriate evidence of the agreement" that could be subjected to stamp duty liability under Article 6 of Schedule 1-B of the Stamp Act. That clause did not make the "Articles of Agreement" a repository of the 'bargain' between the parties to deposit the title deeds. The oral agreement if any to that effect remained beyond the reach of the Stamp Act. With time that principle has got set in hard concrete in our jurisprudence. The division bench in HDFC Ltd. Vs Assistant Commissioner Stamps, Ghaziabad (supra) and we are in unequivocal agreement with the same. No exception is drawn to that.

33. Thus, we conclude:

(i) creation of a simple mortgage (through deposit of title deeds), though valid in law and fully enforceable as such, would remain beyond the clutches of the Stamp Act, so long as there is no written agreement executed between the parties or any document that is made part of thereof that evidences the bargain reached between the parties – to deposit the title deed (with the lender) to secure the loan availed by the borrower.

(ii) in the present case, as noted above, there is no written evidence yet brought on record, of any bargain reached by the parties requiring the borrower to deposit the title deeds with the lender/petitioner.

34. Accordingly, we answer the reference made by the learned single judge thus:

(I) An equitable mortgage may exist in favour of the petitioner, through a deposit of title deed, against an oral agreement. Yet, Clauses 10.5(f), 10.5(h) of the Loan Agreement and Clause 13(iii)(b) of the MITC to the Loan Agreement do not constitute an 'instrument' or documentary evidence of a written 'agreement' or bargain reached between the parties, to thus secure the loan availed by the borrower.

(II) Levy of stamp duty under Article 6 of Schedule 1-B of the Stamp Act may arise only on an 'instrument' that must be a 'document' containing writing (as would never include an oral agreement), to establish the existence of an "agreement relating to deposit of title deeds", to secure the loan availed by the borrower. Since thatcondition is not satisfied, no levy of stamp duty may arise, at present.

(III) Given the above, Clauses 10.5(f), 10.5(h) of the Loan Agreement and Clause 13(iii)(b) of the MITC to the Loan Agreement, do not create any doubt as to the correctness of the division bench pronouncement in HDFC Ltd. Vs Assistant Commissioner Stamps, Ghaziabad, 2015:AHC:125281-DB.

35. Let the matter be listed before the appropriate bench.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1548
REVISIONAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 13.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SHEKHAR B. SARAF, J.

Civil Misc. Review Application No. 301926 of 2010
In Sales/Trade-Tax Revision No. 225 of 2002

M/s Tata Steel Ltd. ...Petitioner
Versus
Commissioner, Trade Tax, U.P., Lko. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Pratik J. Nagar

Counsel for the Respondent:
Bipin Kumar Pandey,A.C.S.C.

Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 - Section 114, Order XLVII, Rule 1 - Review - Review filed on the ground that important judgments of the Hon'ble Supreme Court could not be submitted before the Court. Held - Mere failure to cite a judgment does not, in and of itself, render the original judgment flawed. Review jurisdiction is not a panacea for addressing every perceived deficiency or oversight in the original judgment; rather, it is a narrow avenue reserved for rectifying errors glaringly evident on the face of the record. Failure to cite a particular judgment does not automatically invalidate the reasoning or merit of the decision in question. (Para 22)

Dismissed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Northern India Caterers (India) Ltd. Vs Lt. Governor of Delhi (1980) 2 SCC 167

2. Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma Vs Pishak Sharma (1979) 4 SCC 389

3. Parsion Devi Vs Sumitri Devi (1997) 8 SCC 715

4. S. Madhusudhan Reddy Vs Narayana Reddy 2022 SCC OnLine SC 1034

5. Shri Ram Sahu (Dead) through Legal Representatives & ors. Vs Vinod Kumar Rawat & ors. (2021) 13 SCC 1

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shekhar B. Saraf, J.)

Civil Misc. Delay Condonation Application No.301923 of 2010

1. I have perused the affidavit accompanying the delay condonation application and find that sufficient cause has been made out for condoning the delay in filing the review application. Accordingly, the delay in filing the review application is condoned.

2. The delay condonation application is allowed.

Review Application

3. The instant review application preferred by the Commissioner Trade Tax, U.P., Lucknow (hereinafter referred to as the 'Respondent') arises out of an order dated February 15, 2010 passed by this Court in STRE No. – 225 of 2002.

FACT

4. I have outlined the brief facts leading up to the instant review application below:

a. In STRE No. – 225 of 2002, the main question raised by M/S Tata Steel Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the 'Revisionist') was "whether in view of the definition of 'purchase price' under Section 2(gg) of the Uttar Pradesh Trade Tax Act, 1948 (hereinafter referred to as the 'UPTTA, 1948), the applicant having paid the amount of Rs. 5,56,81,000/- also for the purchase of plant and machinery, apparatus and equipment, the same ought to have been included in the 'Fixed Capital Investment' and the Trade Tax Tribunal was not justified in disallowing the said amount merely on the ground that the amount has been allowed as MODVAT under the Central Excise Act, 1944 (hereinafter referred to as the 'CEA, 1944). Other questions were also raised with regard to MODVAT allowed by the excise department.

b. The aforesaid question was answered by this Court vide its order dated February 15, 2010 in favour of the Revisionist.

c. Against the order dated February 15, 2010 passed by this Court, the Respondent preferred a Special Leave Petition under Article 136 of the Constitution of India before the Hon'ble Supreme Court.

d. The aforesaid Special Leave Petition was dismissed as not pressed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court vide its order dated September 9, 2010.

e. The Respondent filed the instant review application before this Court assailing the order dated February 15, 2010 passed by this Court.

CONTENTIONS OF THE RESPONDENT

5. Shri B.K. Pandey, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel has made the following submissions:

i. The relevant law which was laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Collector of Central Excise, Pune & Ors. -v- Dai Ichi Karkaria Ltd. reported in 1999 (33) RLT 899 (S.C.) could not be pointed out at the time of argument before this Court.

ii. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the aforesaid case has observed that the expression "actual value" should be construed in a sense which commercial men would understand. In absence of a sttatutory definition for determining the "actual value", the rule of accountancy has to be adopted. MODVAT credit has to be excluded from the value of capital goods as per the guidance note dated March 16, 1995 issued by the ICAI. The same principle also applies in the present case and MODVAT has to be excluded while determining the actual investment made by the dealer in plant and machinery.

iii. A similar controversy came up before the Hon'ble Supreme Cour in Commissioner of Trade Tax -v- M/s Kajaria Cements Ltd. reported in (2005) 11 SCC 149. while considering fixed capital investment for grant of exemption under notification dated February 21, 1996. The Hon'ble Supreme Court relied upon "purchase price" as defined under Section 2(gg) of the UPTTA, 1948.

iv. The law of the land as propounded by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the aforementioned judgments could not be placed before this Court, hence the present review application is being filed herewith for kind consideration before this Court.

v. On the facts and circumstances stated above, it is absolutely necessary in the interest of justice that the judgment passed by this Court on February 15, 2010 be reviewed, and the present application filed by the Respondent be allowed and the appropriate order be passed in accordance with law, otherwise the Respondent would suffer irreparable loss and injury.

CONTENTIONS OF THE REVISIONIST

6. Shri Devashish Bharuka, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Shri Pratik J. Nagar, learned counsel appearing on behalf of the Revisionist has made the following submissions:

i. The Respondent had challenged the main judgment of this Court dated February 15, 2010 before the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Special Leave Petition (Civil) No. 13259 of 2010. The same was withdrawn by the Respondent on the ground that, the "the main question of law, which arose from the order passed by the Trade Tax Tribunal, U.P., has not been dealt with in the impugned judgment and, therefore, the petitioner would like to file a review application before the High Court". Accordingly, the Special Leave Petition was dismissed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court as 'not pressed'.

ii. In view of the aforesaid liberty, the Respondent has filed the instant review petition. However, instead of pointing out as to which 'main question of law' has not been dealt with by this Court in the main judgment dated February 15, 2010, the Respondent has taken a completely different stand in the instant review application. It has been averred that, "the relevant law which could not be pointed out at the time of argument before this Hon'ble Court was the law laid down by the Apex Court". Further, the Respondent also admits that the question of law has been answered by this Court. Thus, the very basis on which liberty was sought from the Hon'ble Supreme Court to file review petition stands obliterated by the averments of the Respondent itself.

iii. The review petition cannot be said to be maintainable on the basis of the sole ground taken by the Respondent. It is well settled that failure to place judgments cannot be a ground for review. Reference in this regard is made to the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Dokka Samuel -v- Dr Jacob Lazarus Chelly reported in (1997) 4 SCC 478.

iv. Furthermore, the limited scope of review petition requires 'an error apparent on the face of the record'. It is an admitted position that the two judgments referred to by the Respondent were not even placed before this Court and therefore, are not a part of the record. The basic requirement of 'error apparent on the face of the record', therefore is not even fulfilled in the present review petition.

v. Further, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has in Arun Dev Upadhyaya -v- Integrated Sales Service Limited reported in (2023) 8 SCC 11 has reiterated the well-settled principles of review.

vi. The grounds taken in the present review petition are nothing but an appeal in the guise of a review petition. The attempt of the Respondent to rely upon two judgments of the Hon'ble Supreme Court to reopen issues already decided on merits by this Court is nothing but inviting this Court to sit in appeal over its own order.

vii. In view of the aforesaid, it is submitted that this Court may be pleased to dismiss the review petition with costs.

ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSION

7. I have heard the learned counsel appearing for the parties and perused the materials on record.

8. Before delving into the merits of the instant review petition, it would be prudent on my part to lay thread bare the principles governing the exercise of review jurisdiction.

9. Justice V.R. Krishna Iyer, as eloquent as ever, encapsulated the scope of review jurisdiction in Northern India Caterers (India) Ltd. -v- Ltd. Governor of Delhi reported in (1980) 2 SCC 167 as follows:

"A plea for review, unless the first judicial view is manifestly distorted, is like asking for the moon. A forensic defeat cannot be avenged by an invitation to have a second look, hopeful of discovery of flaws and reversal of result."

10. In its judgment in Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma -v- Pishak Sharma reported in (1979) 4 SCC 389, the Hon'ble Supreme Court propounded that review power and appellate power are inherently distinct. While the appellate power enables the courts to rectify all manners of errors in the judgment or order under challenge, review power does not. Relevant paragraph is extracted herein below:

"3. The Judicial Commissioner gave two reasons for reviewing his predecessor's order. The first was that his predecessor had overlooked two important documents Exs. A-1 and A-3 which showed that the respondents were in possession of the sites even in the year 1948-49 and that the grants must have been made even by then. The second was that there was a patent illegality in permitting the appellant to question, in a single writ petition, settlement made in favour of different respondents. We are afraid that neither of the reasons mentioned by the learned Judicial Commissioner constitutes a ground for review. It is true as observed by this Court in Shivdeo Singh v. State of Punjab [AIR 1963 SC 1909] there is nothing in Article 226 of the Constitution to preclude a High Court from exercising the power of review which inheres in every court of plenary jurisdiction to prevent miscarriage of justice or to correct grave and palpable errors committed by it. But, there are definitive limits to the exercise of the power of review. The power of review may be exercised on the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence was not within the knowledge of the person seeking the review or could not be produced by him at the time when the order was made; it may be exercised where some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record is found; it may also be exercised on any analogous ground. But, it may not be exercised on the ground that the decision was erroneous on merits. That would be the province of a court of appeal. A power of review is not to be confused with appellate powers which may enable an appellate court to correct all manner of errors committed by the subordinate court."

(Emphasis Added)

11. At this juncture, I consider it prudent to refer to Order 47 Rule 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (hereinafter referred to as the 'CPC, 1908') which delineates the boundary within which the review jurisdiction is to be exercised: -

"(a) From the discovery of new and important matters or evidence which after the exercise of due diligence was not within the knowledge of the applicant;

(b) Such important matter or evidence could not be produced by the applicant at the time when the decree was passed or order made; and

(c) On account of some mistake or error apparent on the record or any other sufficient reason."

12. Recently, in Arun Dev Upadhyaya (supra), the Hon'ble Supreme Court reiterated that review power is to be exercised strictly within the confines of Order 47 Rule 1 of CPC, 1908. Relevant paragraphs are reproduced herein below:

"34. In another case between Shanti Conductors (P) Ltd. v. Assam SEB [Shanti Conductors (P) Ltd. v. Assam SEB, (2020) 2 SCC 677 : (2020) 2 SCC (Civ) 788] , this Court observed that scope of review under Order 47 Rule 1 read with Section 114CPC is limited and under the guise of review, the petitioner cannot be permitted to reagitate and reargue questions which have already been addressed and decided. It was further observed that an error which is not self-evident and has to be detected by a process of reasoning, can hardly be said to be an error apparent on the face of record.

35. From the above, it is evident that a power to review cannot be exercised as an appellate power and has to be strictly confined to the scope and ambit of Order 47 Rule 1CPC. An error on the face of record must be such an error which, mere looking at the record should strike and it should not require any long-drawn process of reasoning on the points where there may conceivably be two opinions."

13. In Parsion Devi -v- Sumitri Devi reported in (1997) 8 SCC 715, the Hon'ble Supreme Court espoused that the power under Order 47 Rule 1 of the CPC, 1908 does not allow for an erroneous decision to be "reheard and corrected." Relevant paragraphs are extracted below:

"7. It is well settled that review proceedings have to be strictly confined to the ambit and scope of Order 47 Rule 1 CPC. In Thungabhadra Industries Ltd. v. Govt. of A.P. [AIR 1964 SC 1372 : (1964) 5 SCR 174] (SCR at p. 186) this Court opined:

"What, however, we are now concerned with is whether the statement in the order of September 1959 that the case did not involve any substantial question of law is an 'error apparent on the face of the record'). The fact that on the earlier occasion the Court held on an identical state of facts that a substantial question of law arose would not per se be conclusive, for the earlier order itself might be erroneous. Similarly, even if the statement was wrong, it would not follow that it was an 'error apparent on the face of the record', for there is a distinction which is real, though it might not always be capable of exposition, between a mere erroneous decision and a decision which could be characterised as vitiated by 'error apparent'. A review is by no means an appeal in disguise whereby an erroneous decision is reheard and corrected, but lies only for patent error."

(emphasis ours)

8. Again, in Meera Bhanja v. Nirmala Kumari Choudhury [(1995) 1 SCC 170] while quoting with approval a passage from Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma v. Aribam Pishak Sharma [(1979) 4 SCC 389] this Court once again held that review proceedings are not by way of an appeal and have to be strictly confined to the scope and ambit of Order 47 Rule 1 CPC.

9. Under Order 47 Rule 1 CPC a judgment may be open to review inter alia if there is a mistake or an error apparent on the face of the record. An error which is not self-evident and has to be detected by a process of reasoning, can hardly be said to be an error apparent on the face of the record justifying the court to exercise its power of review under Order 47 Rule 1 CPC. In exercise of the jurisdiction under Order 47 Rule 1 CPC it is not permissible for an erroneous decision to be "reheard and corrected". A review petition, it must be remembered has a limited purpose and cannot be allowed to be "an appeal in disguise"."

(Emphasis Added)

14. In its judgment in S. Madhusudhan Reddy -v- Narayana Reddy reported in 2022 SCC OnLine SC 1034, the Hon'ble Supreme Court reiterated the limited grounds on which a review petition can be assailed under the provisions of the CPC, 1908. The relevant paragrph reads as under:

"3. The Judicial Commissioner gave two reasons for reviewing his predecessor's order. The first was that his predecessor had overlooked two important documents Exs. A-1 and A-3 which showed that the respondents were in possession of the sites even in the year 1948-49 and that the grants must have been made even by then. The second was that there was a patent illegality in permitting the appellant to question, in a single writ petition, settlement made in favour of different respondents. We are afraid that neither of the reasons mentioned by the learned Judicial Commissioner constitutes a ground for review. It is true as observed by this Court in Shivdeo Singh v. State of Punjab [AIR 1963 SC 1909] there is nothing in Article 226 of the Constitution to preclude a High Court from exercising the power of review which inheres in every court of plenary jurisdiction to prevent miscarriage of justice or to correct grave and palpable errors committed by it. But, there are definitive limits to the exercise of the power of review. The power of review may be exercised on the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence was not within the knowledge of the person seeking the review or could not be produced by him at the time when the order was made; it may be exercised where some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record is found; it may also be exercised on any analogous ground. But, it may not be exercised on the ground that the decision was erroneous on merits. That would be the province of a court of appeal. A power of review is not to be confused with appellate powers which may enable an appellate court to correct all manner of errors committed by the subordinate court."

(Emphasis Added)

15. In the cauldron of litigation, where passions run high and stakes are higher still, the temptation to misuse review jurisdiction may be great. Yet, it is a temptation that must be resisted at all costs, for to succumb to it would be to betray the very essence of justice itself. Review jurisdiction is not a tool for the litigious or the disgruntled, it is a mechanism for safeguarding the integrity of the judicial process, for ensuring that justice remains blind to all but the merits of the case. Wielding the power of review jurisdiction carries a weighty burden – one that demands unyielding diligence and meticulousness. Courts must resist the siren call of extraneous influences or the temptation to revisit contentious issues. The realm of review jurisdiction is a realm of perpetual tension – a tension between the imperative of finality and the exigency of correction, between the sanctity of precedent and the call for innovation. It is a tension that demands a delicate balancing act – one that calls for the wisdom of Solomon and the impartiality of Lady Justice herself. And therefore, review jurisdiction is not a weapon to be wielded recklessly but a shield to safeguard the sanctity of the legal process.

16. Unlike the fabled sword of Damocles, review jurisdiction cannot be allowed to be hung precariously above the head of litigants, threatening the delicate balance of legal certainty. Order 47 Rule 1 of the CPC, 1908 stands as a sentinel – a guardian of the gates, permitting entry only to those deemed worthy by the stringent criteria it lays forth. It serves as a bulwark against the tide of caprice and whim.

17. In Shri Ram Sahu (Dead) through Legal Representatives and Others -v- Vinod Kumar Rawat and Others reported in (2021) 13 SCC 1, the Hon'ble Supreme Court after examining precedents reiterated and delineated the principles of review –

"7.1. In Haridas Das v. Usha Rani Banik [Haridas Das v. Usha Rani Banik, (2006) 4 SCC 78] while considering the scope and ambit of Section 114CPC read with Order 47 Rule 1CPC it is observed and held in paras 14 to 18 as under :

"14. In Meera Bhanja v. Nirmala Kumari Choudhury [Meera Bhanja v. Nirmala Kumari Choudhury, (1995) 1 SCC 170] it was held that :

'8. It is well settled that the review proceedings are not by way of an appeal and have to be strictly confined to the scope and ambit of Order 47 Rule 1CPC. In connection with the limitation of the powers of the court under Order 47 Rule 1, while dealing with similar jurisdiction available to the High Court while seeking to review the orders under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, this Court in Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma v. Aribam Pishak Sharma [Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma v. Aribam Pishak Sharma, (1979) 4 SCC 389] speaking through Chinnappa Reddy, J. has made the following pertinent observations :

"3. ... It is true ... there is nothing in Article 226 of the Constitution to preclude the High Court from exercising the power of review which inheres in every court of plenary jurisdiction to prevent miscarriage of justice or to correct grave and palpable errors committed by it. But, there are definitive limits to the exercise of the power of review. The power of review may be exercised on the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence was not within the knowledge of the person seeking the review or could not be produced by him at the time when the order was made; it may be exercised where some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record is found, it may also be exercised on any analogous ground. But, it may not be exercised on the ground that the decision was erroneous on merits. That would be the province of a court of appeal. A power of review is not to be confused with appellate powers which may enable an appellate court to correct all manner of errors committed by the subordinate court."

15. A perusal of Order 47 Rule 1 shows that review of a judgment or an order could be sought : (a) from the discovery of new and important matters or evidence which after the exercise of due diligence was not within the knowledge of the applicant; (b) such important matter or evidence could not be produced by the applicant at the time when the decree was passed or order made; and (c) on account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record or any other sufficient reason.

16. In Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma v. Aribam Pishak Sharma [Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma v. Aribam Pishak Sharma, (1979) 4 SCC 389] , this Court held that there are definite limits to the exercise of power of review. In that case, an application under Order 47 Rule 1 read with Section 151 of the Code was filed which was allowed and the order passed by the Judicial Commissioner was set aside and the writ petition was dismissed. On an appeal to this Court it was held as under : (SCC p. 390, para 3)

'3. It is true as observed by this Court in Shivdev Singh v. State of Punjab [Shivdev Singh v. State of Punjab, AIR 1963 SC 1909] there is nothing in Article 226 of the Constitution to preclude a High Court from exercising the power of review which inheres in every court of plenary jurisdiction to prevent miscarriage of justice or to correct grave and palpable errors committed by it. But, there are definitive limits to the exercise of the power of review. The power of review may be exercised on the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence was not within the knowledge of the person seeking the review or could not be produced by him at the time when the order was made; it may be exercised where some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record is found; it may also be exercised on any analogous ground. But, it may not be exercised on the ground that the decision was erroneous on merits. That would be the province of a court of appeal. A power of review is not to be confused with appellate powers which may enable an appellate court to correct all manner of errors committed by the subordinate court.'

17. The judgment in Aribam case [Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma v. Aribam Pishak Sharma, (1979) 4 SCC 389] has been followed in Meera Bhanja [Meera Bhanja v.

Nirmala Kumari Choudhury, (1995) 1 SCC 170] . In that case, it has been reiterated that an error apparent on the face of the record for acquiring jurisdiction to review must be such an error which may strike one on a mere looking at the record and would not require any long-drawn process of reasoning. The following observations in connection with an error apparent on the face of the record in Satyanarayan Laxminarayan Hegde v. Mallikarjun Bhavanappa Tirumale [Satyanarayan Laxminarayan Hegde v. Mallikarjun Bhavanappa Tirumale, AIR 1960 SC 137] were also noted :

'17. ... An error which has to be established by a long-drawn process of reasoning on points where there may conceivably be two opinions can hardly be said to be an error apparent on the face of the record. Where an alleged error is far from self-evident and if it can be established, it has to be established, by lengthy and complicated arguments, such an error cannot be cured by a writ of certiorari according to the rule governing the powers of the superior court to issue such a writ.'

18. It is also pertinent to mention the observations of this Court in Parsion Devi v. Sumitri Devi [Parsion Devi v. Sumitri Devi, (1997) 8 SCC 715] . Relying upon the judgments in Aribam [Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma v. Aribam Pishak Sharma, (1979) 4 SCC 389] and Meera Bhanja [Meera Bhanja v. Nirmala Kumari Choudhury, (1995) 1 SCC 170] it was observed as under:

'9. Under Order 47 Rule 1CPC a judgment may be open to review inter alia if there is a mistake or an error apparent on the face of the record. An error which is not self-evident and has to be detected by a process of reasoning, can hardly be said to be an error apparent on the face of the record justifying the court to exercise its power of review under Order 47 Rule 1CPC. In exercise of the jurisdiction under Order 47 Rule 1CPC it is not permissible for an erroneous decision to be 'reheard and corrected'. A review petition, it must be remembered has a limited purpose and cannot be allowed to be 'an appeal in disguise'.'

7.2. In Lily Thomas v. Union of India [Lily Thomas v. Union of India, (2000) 6 SCC 224 : 2000 SCC (Cri) 1056] , it is observed and held that the power of review can be exercised for correction of a mistake but not to substitute a view. Such powers can be exercised within the limits of the statute dealing with the exercise of power. It is further observed in the said decision that the words "any other sufficient reason" appearing in Order 47 Rule 1CPC must mean "a reason sufficient on grounds at least analogous to those specified in the rule" as was held in Chhajju Ram v. Neki [Chhajju Ram v. Neki, 1922 SCC OnLine PC 11 : (1921-22) 49 IA 144 : AIR 1922 PC 112] and approved by this Court in Moran Mar Basselios Catholicos v. Mar Poulose Athanasius [Moran Mar Basselios Catholicos v. Mar Poulose Athanasius, AIR 1954 SC 526] .

7.3. In Inderchand Jain v. Motilal [Inderchand Jain v. Motilal, (2009) 14 SCC 663 : (2009) 5 SCC (Civ) 461] in paras 7 to 11 it is observed and held as under :

"7. Section 114 of the Code of Civil Procedure (for short "the Code") provides for a substantive power of review by a civil court and consequently by the appellate courts. The words "subject as aforesaid" occurring in Section 114 of the Code mean subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed as appearing in Section 113 thereof and for the said purpose, the procedural conditions contained in Order 47 of the Code must be taken into consideration. Section 114 of the Code although does not prescribe any limitation on the power of the court but such limitations have been provided for in Order 47 of the Code; Rule 1 whereof reads as under : (Kamal Sengupta case [State of W.B. v. Kamal Sengupta, (2008) 8 SCC 612 : (2008) 2 SCC (L&S) 735] ,

'17. The power of a civil court to review its judgment/decision is traceable in Section 114CPC. The grounds on which review can be sought are enumerated in Order 47 Rule 1CPC, which reads as under:

"1. Application for review of judgment.—(1) Any person considering himself aggrieved—

(a) by a decree or order from which an appeal is allowed, but from which no appeal has been preferred,

(b) by a decree or order from which no appeal is allowed, or

(c) by a decision on a reference from a Court of Small Causes, and who, from the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence, was not within his knowledge or could not be produced by him at the time when the decree was passed or order made, or on account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record, or for any other sufficient reason, desires to obtain a review of the decree passed or order made against him, may apply for a review of judgment of the court which passed the decree or made the order." '

8. An application for review would lie inter alia when the order suffers from an error apparent on the face of the record and permitting the same to continue would lead to failure of justice. In Rajender Kumar v. Rambhai [Rajender Kumar v. Rambhai, (2007) 15 SCC 513 : (2010) 3 SCC (Cri) 584] this Court held :

'6. The limitations on exercise of the power of review are well settled. The first and foremost requirement of entertaining a review petition is that the order, review of which is sought, suffers from any error apparent on the face of the order and permitting the order to stand will lead to failure of justice. In the absence of any such error, finality attached to the judgment/order cannot be disturbed.'

9. The power of review can also be exercised by the court in the event discovery of new and important matter or evidence takes place which despite exercise of due diligence was not within the knowledge of the applicant or could not be produced by him at the time when the order was made. An application for review would also lie if the order has been passed on account of some mistake. Furthermore, an application for review shall also lie for any other sufficient reason.

10. It is beyond any doubt or dispute that the review court does not sit in appeal over its own order. A rehearing of the matter is impermissible in law. It constitutes an exception to the general rule that once a judgment is signed or pronounced, it should not be altered. It is also trite that exercise of inherent jurisdiction is not invoked for reviewing any order.

11. Review is not appeal in disguise. In Lily Thomas v. Union of India [Lily Thomas v. Union of India, (2000) 6 SCC 224 : 2000 SCC (Cri) 1056] this Court held :

'56. It follows, therefore, that the power of review can be exercised for correction of a mistake but not to substitute a view. Such powers can be exercised within the limits of the statute dealing with the exercise of power. The review cannot be treated like an appeal in disguise.'

8. The dictionary meaning of the word "review" is "the act of looking, offer something again with a view to correction or improvement". It cannot be denied that the review is the creation of a statute. In Patel Narshi Thakershi v. Pradyumansinghji Arjunsinghji [Patel Narshi Thakershi v. Pradyumansinghji Arjunsinghji, (1971) 3 SCC 844] , this Court has held that the power of review is not an inherent power. It must be conferred by law either specifically or by necessary implication. The review is also not an appeal in disguise.

9. What can be said to be an error apparent on the face of the proceedings has been dealt with and considered by this Court in T.C. Basappa v. T. Nagappa [T.C. Basappa v. T. Nagappa, AIR 1954 SC 440] . It is held that such an error is an error which is a patent error and not a mere wrong decision. In Hari Vishnu Kamath v. Syed Ahmad Ishaque [Hari Vishnu Kamath v. Syed Ahmad Ishaque, (1955) 1 SCR 1104 : AIR 1955 SC 233] , it is observed as under : (SCC p. 244, para 23)

"23. ... It is essential that it should be something more than a mere error; it must be one which must be manifest on the face of the record. The real difficulty with reference to this matter, however, is not so much in the statement of the principle as in its application to the facts of a particular case. When does an error cease to be mere error, and become an error apparent on the face of the record? The learned counsel on either side were unable to suggest any clear-cut rule by which the boundary between the two classes of errors could be demarcated."

18. Nobody is perfect. This timeless adage resonates deeply within the realm of the judiciary, where judges, though addressed with titles like "Your Lordships", are not immune to fallibility. Recognizing this fundamental truth and to prevent miscarriage of justice, High Courts, as Courts of Record under Article 215 of the Constitution of India possess the inherent power to review their own orders. However, in recent times, there has been a misconception that review jurisdiction is tantamount to an appeal – a second chance to argue an already settled matter. At its core, review jurisdiction is a solemn duty bestowed upon the High Courts to rectify errors that may have crept into their judgments. It is not an avenue for re-argument or a platform for dissatisfied litigants to reiterate their grievances. Instead, it serves as a bulwark against miscarriage of justice, providing a mechanism for the correction of judicial fallibility. Judges, like all human beings, are liable to err. Thus, review jurisdiction stands as a sentinel against the tyranny of erroneous judgments, upholding the integrity of the judicial process.

19. Yet, the misconception persists that review jurisdiction offers litigants a second bite at the cherry – a chance to reopen settled matters and re-litigate issues already adjudicated upon. This notion not only undermines the finality of judgments but also erodes the sanctity of judicial pronouncements. As Justice Felix Frankfurter once remarked, "Wisdom too often never comes, and so one ought not to reject it merely because it comes late." Review jurisdiction, when exercised judiciously, embodies this wisdom – it is a beacon of hope for those aggrieved by manifest injustice, offering solace in the face of adversity. At its core, review jurisdiction is about scrutiny, not re-litigation. It is about examining the record of proceedings with a discerning eye, searching for errors of law, fact, or procedure. It is not a second chance for litigants to present their case anew or to introduce fresh evidence. Rather, it is a solemn duty entrusted to the judiciary, a duty to ensure that justice is not just done, but seen to be done.

20. The jurisprudence surrounding the power of review is as intricate as it is unequivocal. It delineates a stringent criterion wherein an appellant, desiring to invoke the mechanism of review against a judgment or order, must demonstrate the unearthing of new and pivotal matter or evidence – a revelation that, despite exhaustive and diligent inquiry, remained elusive to the court's purview. This requirement embodies the essence of due diligence, mandating not merely a cursory glance but a thorough excavation into the depths of legal enquiry. Review jurisdiction is not to be misconstrued as a second bite at the proverbial apple, granting aggrieved parties an opportunity to rehash matters already adjudicated upon. In review jurisdiction, courts act as third umpires. Their authority is circumscribed by the confines of the record before them, limiting their purview to errors glaringly evident on the face of record. Should the pursuit of rectifying an alleged error necessitate a deeper and thorough examination, it stands to reason that such an error cannot be deemed 'apparent' in the truest sense.

21. Coming to the merits of the instant review, the ground taken by the Respondent that important judgments of the Hon'ble Supreme could not be submitted before this Court, does not merit the exercise of the power of review since the Respondent failed to establish that despite exercise of proper due diligence, the aforesaid judgments could not be brought to light. In any case, as held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Dokka Samuel (supra), failure to produce a judgment would not tantamount to an error apparent on the face of the record. Relevant paragraph from the aforesaid judgment is extracted herein:

"4. It is seen that by an order passed by this Court on 24-11-1995, liberty was given to the appellant, in the event of the High Court reviewing the order on merits against him, to agitate his rights in this Court. The question is whether the High Court was justified in reviewing the earlier order and reversing the finding recorded by the appellate court. It is not in dispute that the sale deed is for a small sum of Rs 300 and odd and that the property sold commands good market value. The question arises whether the document was a sale deed or is only a document for collateral purpose. The respondent himself in an earlier suit had pleaded that it was an agreement of sale. In view of such an admission, the High Court has wrongly reversed the decree of the appellate court holding the transaction to be a real sale. In the second appeal, the High Court confirmed, in the first instance, the decree of the appellate court. Subsequently, the High Court has reviewed the judgment and reconsidered the matter holding that relevant precedents were not cited. Since this Court had given liberty to raise the questions of reviewability of the judgment of the High Court, the question arises whether the High Court could not have embarked upon appreciation of evidence and considered whether there was an error apparent on the face of the record. It was contended before the learned Single Judge that various decisions were not cited; proper consideration was paid; in fact the sale deed was acted upon; and that there was no proof that the sale was not for valid consideration. The omission to cite an authority of law is not a ground for reviewing the prior judgment saying that there is an error apparent on the face of the record, since the counsel has committed an error in not bringing to the notice of the court the relevant precedents. In fact, since the respondent had claimed that it is not a sale deed but was executed for collateral purpose, it was for the respondent to establish that the sale was for real consideration and he had a valid sale deed duly executed by the appellant. The High Court wrongly placed the burden on the appellant and reviewed the order and heard the matter on merits. The entire approach of the learned Single Judge is not correct in law."

22. Mere failure to cite a judgment does not, in and of itself, render the original judgment flawed. Review jurisdiction is not a panacea for addressing every perceived deficiency or oversight in the original judgment; rather it is a narrow avenue reserved for rectifying errors glaringly evident on the face of the record. Failure to cite a particular judgment does not automatically invalidate the reasoning or merit of the decision under question.

23. What is also surprising to me is that although the ground taken by the Respondent to withdraw their Special Leave Petition before the Hon'ble Supreme Court was liberty to approach this Court since as per them the main question of law was not decided by this Court in its judgment on February 15, 2010, the said ground does not find any mention in the instant review application. The failure to articulate consistent grounds for seeking review calls into question the bona fides of the Respondent's application. One would expect that if a significant aspect of the case was left unaddressed in a prior judgment, as alleged by the Respondent before the Hon'ble Supreme Court, would be foremost among the reason cited for seeking review. This inconsistent approach adopted by the Respondent could not be explained by them before this Court.

24. At this point, my mind goes back to the elegant words of Justice Krishna Iyer in P.N. Eswara Iyer and Ors. -v- Registrar, Supreme Court of India reported in (1980) 4 SCC 680. Since the instant judgment began with his words of wisdom, it is only fair that it ends with them too:

"..... unchecked review has never been the rule. It must be supported by proper grounds. Otherwise, every disappointed litigant may avenge his defeat by a routine review adventure and thus obstruct the disposal of the 'virgin' dockets waiting in the long queuefor preliminary screening or careful final hearing....."

Justice Krishna Iyer further stated:

"Even otherwise, frivolous motions for review would ignite the 'gambling' element in litigation with the finality of judgments even by the highest court, being left in suspense. If, every vanquished party has a fling at 'review' lucky dip and if, perchance, notice were issued in some cases to the opponent the latter-and, of course, the former, -would be put to great expense and anxiety. The very solemnity of finality, so crucial to judicial justice, would be frustrated if such a game were to become popular."

25. In light of the aforesaid discussion and law, this Court finds no merit in the instant review application preferred against the order dated February 15, 2010. Accordingly, the same is dismissed.

26. There shall be no order as to the costs.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1560
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 17.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MANISH KUMAR, J.

Writ-B No. 523 of 2024

Santosh Kumar & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
Board of Revenue, U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:

Anurag Srivastava, Manoj Kumar Rai

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Anshuman Singh, Dilip Kumar Pandey, Karan Srivastava

Constitution of India, Article 226 - U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act, 1950 - Obligations of Litigants - Abuse of Process of Court - Necessity of full disclosure of facts and the duty to approach the court with 'clean hands'. Litigants who mislead or deceive the court are not entitled to any relief. In the instant case, petitioners filed copy of an unregistered will for mutation, which the Tehsildar after highlighting shortcomings rejected it. Petitioners in the revision had not taken this ground that they had not filed any unregistered Will or the unregistered Will which was filed by the petitioners is not the same which was referred in the order of Tehsildar. Petitioners filed a second unregistered will of the same date, rectifying all the shortcomings pointed out by the Tehsildar. Held: This amounts to nothing but cheating, fraud, and misleading the courts, constituting an abuse of process. The writ petition was dismissed with costs of ₹50,000 (Fifty Thousand Rupees) due to their conduct, which misused the legal process. (Para 28, 31, 35)

Dismissed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

Kishore Samrite Vs St. of U.P. & ors. reported in Manu/SC/0892/2012

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manish Kumar, J.)

1. Shri Anshuman Singh, learned counsel for the respondent no.9 has filed a short counter affidavit bringing on record the copies of the sale deed and the memo of revision filed by the petitioners, which is taken on record.

2. The learned counsels for the parties state that it would not be necessary to file the detailed counter affidavit or the rejoinder affidavit and the matter may be heard finally, at this stage.

3. Learned Counsel for the petitioners has also filed a certified copy of the memo of revision preferred by the petitioners under Section 219 of the U.P. Land Revenue Act, 1901 (hereinafter referred to as, the Act, 1901) against the order of the Tehsildar dated 21.01.2013, the same is taken on record.

4. Heard Shri Anurag Shrivastava, learned Counsel for the petitioners, Shri Hemant Kumar Pandey, learned Standing Counsel for the State and Shri Anshuman Singh, learned counsel for the respondent no. 9.

5. Present petition has been preferred with the following main reliefs:-

"i) To issue a writ order or direction in the nature of certiorari thereby quashing impugned judgment and order dated 28.3.2024 passed by the opposite party no.1 in Second Appeal No.56 of 2015 as contained in Annexure-14 to the writ petition;

ii) To issue a writ order or direction in the nature of certiorari thereby quashing the impugned judgment and order dated 18.12.2014 passed by the Additional Commissioner (Judicial) Second, Lucknow Mandal, Lucknow i.e, opposite party no.2 in Appeal No.C20141000002607, judgment and order dated 13.10.2014 passed by the Sub-divisional Magistrate, Sadar, Rae-bareli i.e. opposite party no.5 in Case No.233, judgment and order dated 11.3.2014 passed by the Additional Commissioner (Administration), Lucknow

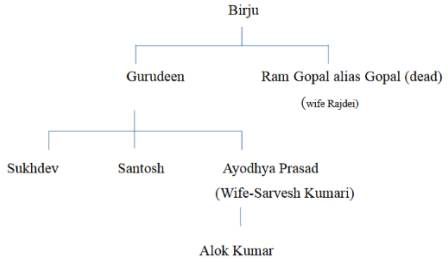
Mandal, Lucknow i.e. opposite party no.3 in Revision No.582/2012-13 as well as judgment and order dated 21.1.2013 passed by the Tehsildar Sadar, Rae-bareli ie, opposite party no.5 in Case No.746 which are contained in Annexure-10, 8, 5 & 3 respectively to the writ petition;

iii) To issue a writ order or direction in the nature of mandamus thereby directing the opposite parties no.1 to 6 not to implement the impugned judgment and orders as contained in Annexure- 14,10, 8, 5 & 3 respectively to the writ petition;"

6. Learned Counsel for the petitioners has submitted that the petitioner no. 1 is the nephew of late Ram Gopal alias Gopal, petitioner no. 2 is the wife of nephew of late Ram Gopal and petitioner no. 3 is son of petitioner no. 2.

7. It is further submitted that the dispute in the present case is with regard to Plot Nos. 242/0.5369, 245M/0.0060, 261M/0.039, 262M/0.0080 and 5/0.264 situated at Village Kisunpur Ram Chandar, Pargana & Tehsil Sadar, District Rae Bareli.

8. It is further submitted that the petitioners belong to the same family which the late Ram Gopal belonged. Dispute is with regard to the property belonging to the late Ram Gopal. For convenience, the pedigree is quoted hereinbelow:-



9. It is further submitted that petitioners had come to know about the unregistered Will dated 25.07.2003 executed by late Ram Gopal in favour of Gurudeen, Santosh Kumar and Ayodhya Prasad. After the demise of Ayodhya Prasad, petitioner nos. 2 and 3 being the wife and son of late Ayodhya Prasad respectively step into the shoes of late Ayodhya Prasad.

10. After getting the copy of unregistered Will dated 25.07.2003, the petitioners moved an application before the Tehsildar under Section 34 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 (hereinafter referred to as, the Code, 2006) for mutation of their names in the revenue records in place of late Ram Gopal. The application preferred by the petitioners was rejected by the Tehsildar by order dated 21.01.2013. Against the said order, petitioners had preferred a revision which was also dismissed by judgment and order dated 11.03.2014. Assailing the said order, petitioners had approached this Court by filing Writ Petition No. 10446 (M/B) of 2012, which was also dismissed by this Court by its judgment and order dated 19.12.2012 with liberty to the petitioners to avail appropriate alternative remedy for the claim of title.

11. It is further submitted that after the judgment of this Court dated 19.12.2012, petitioners had preferred a Suit under Section 229 (B) of the Uttar Pradesh Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act, 1950 (hereinafter referred to as, the Act, 1950), claiming their rights on the basis of unregistered Will dated 25.07.2003. The Suit of the petitioners was dismissed by judgment and order dated 13.10.2014. Against the said order, the petitioners filed a First Appeal under Section 331 of the Act, 1950 with a specific pleading therein that the petitioners had filed only four documents before the Tehsildar and no unregistered Will was produced before the Tehsildar but the Tehsildar passed the order by referring some unregistered Will. The said Appeal preferred by the petitioners was rejected/dismissed by the judgment and order dated 18.12.2014. Against the judgment and order passed in the First Appeal, the petitioners preferred a Second Appeal under Section 331 (4) of the Act, 1950, which was also dismissed by impugned order dated 28.03.2024 and thus, feeling aggrieved, the present petition has been filed before this Court impugning the orders passed.

12. It is further submitted that the Courts below had failed to appreciate or had ignored the fact that the petitioners had never filed any copy of unregistered Will before the Tehsildar but the findings were recorded by the Tehsildar in his order dated 21.01.2013 regarding the unregistered Will, all the Courts below had decided the cases against the petitioners on the basis of findings given by the Tehsildar in the order dated 21.03.2013 related to the unregistered Will, which was neither filed by the petitioners nor claim was on the basis of any unregistered Will.

13. It is further submitted that the unregistered Will produced by the petitioners in the First Appeal filed under Section 331of the Act, 1950 was never proved and the findings have been given by the Court up to the stage of Second Appeal, whereas it is necessary that if any document had been relied by the petitioners then it should be proved hence, the orders passed against the petitioners are bad in the eyes of law and are liable to be quashed.

14. On the other hand, Shri Hemant Kumar Pandey, learned Standing Counsel and Shri Anshuman Singh, learned Counsel for the respondent no. 9 have submitted that the petitioners since the very beginning playing fraud with the Court by taking different stands before the different Courts or the authorities.

15. It is further submitted that the petitioners had produced two forged unregistered Wills of the same date and when the first unregistered Will was not accepted by the Tehsildar in the proceedings under Section 34 of the Act, 2006 preferred by the petitioners by assigning reasons for not accepting the unregistered Will. Thereafter the petitioners produced a second unregistered Will of the same date removing all the defects and came forward with a case that before Tehsildar they had not filed any unregistered Will on which the findings were given by the Tehsildar and that too, the said objection or ground was taken for the first time at the stage of first appeal preferred against the judgment and order passed under Section 229-B of the Act, 1950 and prior to that, at no point of time, the petitioners had raised such ground or plea in any of the proceedings.

16. It is further submitted that the petitioners have intentionally not enclosed copy of revision preferred against the judgment and order dated 21.01.2013 passed by the Tehsildar and the reason is obvious that in the said revision, the petitioners had not raised any such plea which was taken at the time of filing of first appeal. Copy of revision has been placed by the respondent no. 9 before this Court by filing a short counter affidavit as annexure no. C.A.-2 of the said affidavit.

17. Learned counsel for the petitioners has also produced the certified copy of the revision, which has also been taken on record as is mentioned in preceding paragraph of the judgment.

18. It is further submitted that the petitioners are trying to grab the property of widow lady i.e. their aunt, aunt-in-law, aunt grandmother of the petitioners respectively.

19. After hearing learned counsel for the parties and going through the record of the case, it is an undisputed fact between the parties that the dispute involved in the present writ petition is with regard to Plot Nos. 242/0.5369, 245M/0.0060, 261M/0.039, 262M/0.0080 and 5/0.264 situated at Village Kisunpur Ram Chandar, Pargana & Tehsil Sadar, District Rae Bareli belonged to late Ram Gopal, who was the uncle of petitioner no. 1, uncle -in-law of the petitioner no. 2 and petitioner no. 3 is the grandson of brother of late Ram Gopal.

20. The issue which is to be adjudicated in the present case is that whether as per petitioners that they had never filed any unregistered Will before the Tehsildar and in absence of any unregistered Will filed by them, how the findings were given by the Tehsildar on the unregistered Will dated 25.07.2003 and on the basis of which, all the courts had drawn inference against the petitioners and not believed the unregistered Will of the same date. For adjudicating these points, it is necessary to reproduce certain documents.

21. Firstly, para no. 5 of the application preferred by the petitioners under Section 34 of the Code, 2006, before the Tehsildar. The said paragraph is quoted hereinbelow:-

"यह कि वादीगण के पिता की मृत्यु के उपरान्त प्रतिपक्षी द्वारा जमीन बेचने की धमकी देने पर वादीगणों ने तहसील आकर इन्तखाब खतौनी ली तो जानकारी हुई कि वादीगण के पिता के नाम संपूर्ण भूमि न दर्ज होकर सहखातेदारी में सरजूदेई पत्नी राम गोपाल का नाम दर्ज है। तब प्रार्थी ने अपने घर में पिता के द्वारा रखे कागजातों को देखा तो पता चला कि चाचा गोपाल पुत्र बिरजू के द्वारा लिखी अपंजीकृत वसीयतनामा दि० 25-07-2003 में वादीगण का नाम था उक्त अपंजीकृत वसीयतनामा के आधार पर कोई वाद न तो श्रीमान् जी के यहाँ दाखिल किया गया था न ही वादीगणों का नाम कागजात सरकारी में दर्ज हुआ।"

22. The revision preferred by the petitioners against the judgment and order of the Tehsildar dated 21.01.2013, which is filed as Annexure No. S.C.A. 2 of the short counter affidavit filed on behalf of respondent no. 9 after tallying with the certified copy of the same provided by learned counsel for the petitioners. The same is quoted hereinbelow:-

"न्यायालय श्रीमान् आयुक्त महोदय, लखनऊ मण्डल, लखनऊ।

==========

निगरानी संख्या 582 वर्ष 2012-2013

अन्तर्गत धारा 219 भू-राजस्व अधिनियम

जनपद- रायबरेली।

1. सन्तोष कुमार पुत्रगण स्वर्गीय गुरुदीन निवासीगण ग्राम अहियारायपुर,

2. अयोध्या प्रसाद परगना व तहील सदर, जनपद-रायबरेली।

---------- ----------

निगरानीकर्तागण

बनाम

श्रीमती सरजू देई तथा कथित पत्नी गोपाल निवासिनी ग्राम किशुनपुर रामचन्दर, परगना, तहसील व जनपद-रायबरेली।

--------- ---------- विपक्षी

निगरानी अन्तर्गत धारा 219 भू-राजस्व अधिनियम

विरुद्ध आदेश दिनांक 21.1.2013 पारित द्वारा श्रीमान् तहसीलदार सदर, जनपद रायबरेली बावत वाद संख्या 746 अ०, धारा 34 भू-राजस्व अधिनियम बमुकदमा सन्तोष कुमार मौर्य बनाम सरजू देई विवादित भूमि गाटा संख्या 242 मि० रकबा 0.5360, 245 मि०/0.0060, 261 मि०/0.0390 व 262 मि०/0.0080 हे० स्थित ग्राम किशुनपुर, रामचन्दर, परगना तहसील व जनपद-रायबरेली।

महोदय,

निगरानीकर्ता उपरोक्त निगरानी श्रीमान् जी के समक्ष निम्नलिखित तथ्यों, तर्कों एवं आधारों पर प्रस्तुत कर रहा हैः-

1. यहकि उपरोक्त निगरानी में प्रश्नगत भूमि के मूल खातेदार गोपाल पुत्र बिरजू थे जिनके कोई औलाद लड़का, लड़की नहीं है।

2. यहकि उपरोक्त गोपाल पुत्र बिरजू ने अपने जीवन काल में दिनांक 25.07.2003 को निगरानीकर्ता के पक्ष में एक वसीयतनामा निष्पादित कर दिया था।

3. यहकि उपरोक्त गोपाल पुत्र बिरजू की मृत्यु दिनांक 16.11.2003 को हो गयी उसके बाद निगरानीकर्तागण ने वसीयतनामें के आधार पर एक नामान्तरण वाद परीक्षण न्यायालय के समक्ष प्रस्तुत किया।

4. यहकि उपरोक्त नामान्तरण वाद में विपक्षिनी द्वारा स्वयं को उपरोक्त गोपाल पुत्र बिरजू की पत्नी बताते हुये एक आपत्ति प्रस्तुत की गयी।

5. यहकि उपरोक्त वाद नायब तहसीलदार पश्चिमी रायबरेली के समक्ष विचाराधीन था तथा दिनांक 2.2.2013 को सुनवाई हेतु नियत था।

6. यहकि विपक्षी द्वारा एक स्थानान्तरण प्रार्थन-पत्र न्यायालय उपजिलाधिकारी सदर, रायबरेली के समक्ष दिनांक 31.12.2012 को प्रस्तुत किया गया जिस पर उपजिलाधिकारी रायबरेली द्वारा उपरोक्त वाद तहसीलदार सदर, रायबरेली के न्यायायलय में स्थानान्तरित कर दिया गया तथा सुनवाई की तिथि 2.2.2013 के स्थान पर दिनांक 17.1.2013 कर दी गयी इसकी कोई समन/सूचना अथवा जानकारी निगरानीकर्ता को नहीं दी गयी।

7. यहकि विद्वान तहसीलदार सदर द्वारा हस्तान्तरित वाद पत्रावली में निगरानीकर्ता को बिना कोई समन/सूचना दिये दिनांक 21.1.2013 की तिथि नियत कर दी गयी।

8. यहकि दिनांक 21.1.2013 को तहसीलदार सदर, रायबरेली द्वारा एकपक्षीय रूप से केवल आपत्तिकर्ता की बहस सुनकर हितवद्ध पक्षकार की भांति व्यवहार करते हुये निगरानीकर्ता का नामान्तरण वाद निरस्त कर दिया तथा विपक्षी की आपत्ति स्वीकार कर लिया।

9. यहकि विद्वान अवर न्यायालय द्वारा पारित आदेश दिनांक 21.1.2013 विधि विरुद्ध तथ्यों से परे तथा क्षेत्राधिकार से बाहर होने के कारण निरस्त होने योग्य है।

:: प्रार्थना ::

=======

अतः न्यायालय श्रीमान् जी से निवेदन है कि अवर न्यायालय की पत्रावली तलब करके उसके परीक्षणोपरान्त निगरानी स्वीकार करते हुये अवर न्यायालय द्वारा पारित प्रश्नगत आदेश दिनांक 21.1.2013 निरस्त करने की कृपा करें।

अस्तु न्यायालय श्रीमान् जी से अग्रिम निवेदन यह भी है कि दौरान निगरानी अवर न्यायालय द्वारा पारित प्रश्नगत आदेश दिनांक 21.1.2013 का क्रियान्वयन व प्रभाव स्थगित करने की कृपा करें।

लखनऊ

दिनांकः- 23.01.13 अनिल कुमार सिंह

एडवोकेट

अधिवक्ता निगरानीकर्ता"

23. Paragraph no. 8 of the suit filed by the petitioners under Section 229-B of the Act, 1950, which is quoted hereinbelow:-

".यह कि प्रतिवादी संख्या-1 ने फर्जी तथ्यों के आधार पर राजस्व अधिकारियों से साठ-गांठ करके अपने नाम प०क०-11 अंकित करंवा लिया जिसकी जानकारी वादीगण को होने पर वादीगण द्वारा तहसील आकर इन्तेखाब खतौनी हासिल की तब वादीगण को जानकारी हुई कि वादीगण के चाचा मृतक गोपाल के स्थान पर जरिये प०क०-11 सरजूदेई विधवा गोपाल अंकित हो गया था। वादी संख्या-1 वापस घर आया और वादी संख्या-2 से उक्त बाबत बताया तब वादी संख्या-2 ने कहा कि पिताजी का एक बक्शा रखा है, चलो देखते हैं। पिता जी के बक्से को खोलकर रखे कागजात को देखा तो उसमें अन्य कागजातों के साथ एक अपंजीकृत वसीयतनामा दिनांक 25-07-2003 मिला जिसके आधार परं वादीगणों ने दाखिल खारिज व गलत प०क०-11 को निरस्त करने हेतु प्रार्थना-पत्र दिया जो नायब तहसीलदार (दक्षिणी) के यहाँ से स्थानान्तरित होकर तहसीलदार महोदय के यहाँ आयी, जहाँ पर तहसीलदार महोदय ने बिना वादीगण को सुने हुए वाद को एकपक्षीय रूप से निर्णित कर दिया, जिसके विरूद्ध माननीय अपर आयुक्त लखनऊ मण्डल, लखनऊ में दाखिल की, जिसमें अपर आयुक्त महोदय द्वारा दौरान निगरानी मौके पर यथास्थित बनाये रखे जाने का आदेश पारित कर दिया। दौरान मुकदमा प्रतिपक्षी संख्या-1 के हाथ बिना कब्जा दिये भूमि हस्तान्तरण करने की फिराक में है, जो विधि-विरूद्ध है और निरस्त किये जाने लायक है।

24. Uptill this stage, the petitioners had not come with a case before any of the courts that they had not filed any copy of the unregistered Will dated 25.07.2003 before the Tehsildar. For the first time, the plea or the ground was taken in the first appeal preferred by the petitioners against the judgment/order passed under Section 229-B of the Act, 1950 that they had filed only four documents before the Tehsildar. The relevant extract of the appeal preferred by the petitioner is quoted hereinbelow:-

"रेस्पाण्डेण्ट् संख्या-1 के पक्ष में दर्ज किया गया उक्त अवैध इन्द्रराज अपीलाण्ट द्वारा धारा-34 भू० रा० अ० के तहत जरिये अपंजीकृत वसीयतनामा चैलेन्ज किया गया जो सुनवाई हेतु मुन्तकिल होकर के नायब तहसीलदार पश्चिमी तहसील रायबरेली के समक्ष गया। उक्त दाखिल खारिज वाद मे अपीलाण्ट्स की ओर से कुल चार प्रपत्र प्रस्तुत किये गये थे :–

01 इंतेखाब खतौनी खाता संख्या-30 फ० सन 1416-1421 ग्राम छिबलामऊ

02 इंतेखाब खतौनी खाता संख्या-756 फ० सन 1414-1419 ग्राम किशुनपुर रामचन्द्र

03 इंतेखाब खतौनी फ० सन 1414-1419 ग्राम किशुनपुर रामचन्द्र

04 इंतेखाब खतौनी फ० सन 1404-1409 ग्राम छिबलामऊ

उक्त प्रपत्र अपीलाण्ट्स की ओर से फेहरिस्त दिनांक 04.08.2012 को समक्ष न्यायालय तहसीलदार रायबरेली अपीलाण्ट्स की ओर से प्रस्तुत किये गये थे। उक्त प्रपत्रो के अतिरिक्त अन्य कोई भी प्रपत्र दाखिल खारिज प्रार्थना पत्र के साथ अपीलाण्ट्स की ओर से न तो तहसीलदार न्यायालय के समक्ष और न ही नायब तहसीलदार पश्चिमी तहसीलदार रायबरेली के समक्ष वाद मे अपीलाण्ट्स की ओर से प्रस्तुत किये गये थे।"

25. From the above mentioned relevant paragraphs quoted from the application, memo of revision and memo of appeal, it is clear that the petitioners had never ever taken this ground before any authority or the court that no unregistered Will was filed by the petitioners before the Tehsildar in the proceedings under Section 34 of the Act, 2006.

26. The petitioners, when they had come to know that they would not succeed then for the first time in the first appeal had taken a case or ground that before the Tehsildar, no unregistered Will was filed and also mentioned four documents which were filed by the petitioners and produced another unregistered Will of the same date by rectifying the mistakes pointed out in the order of Tehsildar dated 21.01.2013. The relevant extract of the said order passed by the Tehsildar dated 21.01.2013 is quoted hereinbelow:-

"मैंने आपत्तिकर्ता के विद्वान अधिवक्ता के तर्कों को सुना तथा पत्रावली का सम्यक अनुशीलन किया। विद्वान अधिवक्ता का कथन है कि प्रश्नगत अपंजीकृत वसीयत जाली, फर्जी कूट रचित है। उनका यह भी कथन है कि वसीयत में दिखाया गया हासिया गवाह की मृत्यु वसीयत निष्पादन की तिथि से पूर्व हो चुकी थी जिसकी विरासत दि 04.1.xx को राजस्व अभिलेखों में अंकित है। पत्रावली के अवलोकन से स्पष्ट है कि वादी द्वारा अपंजीकृत वसीयतनामा की छाया प्रति, इन्तखाब खतौनी ग्राम छिवलामऊ बाबत 1416-12 फ०खाता सं० 30, ग्राम किशुनपुर रामचन्दर की खतौनी सन 1414-1xx फ० खाता संख्या756 127, इन्तेखाब खतौनी ग्राम छिवलामऊ सन 1404-1409 फ० खाता संख्या 24दाखिल किया है। तथा प्रार्थना पत्र विरुद्ध पक। दि०5-3-04 तथा प्रार्थना पत्र स्थगन दाखिल किया है। पत्रावली पर रक्षित अपंजीकृत वसीयत नामा/छायाप्रति के अवलोकन से स्पष्ट है कि उस पर वसीयतकर्ता का फोटो भी नहीं लगा है। दावे को साबित करने का दायित्व वादी को होता है वादी द्वारा न तो अब तक मूल वसीयत दाखिल की गयी है और न मृतक गोपाल का मृत्यु प्रमाण पत्र ही दाखिल किया गया है। इससे मैं इस निष्कर्ष पर पहुँचता हूँ। वादी अपने दावे/अपंजीकृत वसीयत की पुष्टि न कराकर जानबूझकर न्यायालय से अनुपस्थित हो गये जिससे यही प्रतीत होता है प्रश्नगत अपंजीकृत वसीयत जाली एवं फर्जी है। आपत्तिकर्ता श्रीमती सरजूदेई की आपत्ति दिनांक 29-11-12 स्वीकार किये जाने योग्य है।

आदेश

अतः आपत्तिकर्त्री श्रीमती सरजूदेई की आपत्ति दिनांक 29-11-12 स्वीकार की जाती है। नामान्तरण प्रार्थना पत्र साक्ष्यों द्वारा साबित न किये जाने के कारण निरस्त किया जाता है। पत्रावली बाद अन्य आवश्यक कार्यवाही दाखिल दफ्तर हो।"

27. Even in the revisional order, there is a specific observation of the revisional authority that the petitioners had relied upon an unregistered Will dated 25.07.2003 which had various discrepancies as pointed out by the Tehsildar even that was never disputed by the petitioners. The relevant extract of the revisional order is quoted hereinbelow:-

"3- निगरानीकर्तागण की ओर से प्रस्तुत लिखित बहस में निगरानी मेमो में वर्णित कथनों को दोहराते हुए कहा गया कि वादग्रस्त भूमि के मूल खातेदार गोपाल पुत्र बिरजू थे, जिनके कोई लड़का-लड़की नहीं थे तथा उन्होंने अपने जीवनकाल में दिनांक 25.07 2003 को निगरानीकर्ता के पक्ष में एक वसीयतनामा निष्पादित कर दिया था। गोपाल की दिनांक 16.11.2003 को मृत्यु हो जाने के बाद निगरानीकर्तागण ने वसीयतनामे के आधार पर परीक्षण न्यायालय में नामान्तरण वाद योजित किया, जिसमें विपक्षी द्वारा स्वयं को गोपाल पुत्र बिरजू की पत्नी बताते हुए एक आपत्ति प्रस्तुत की गयी, जो नायब तहसीलदार (पश्चिमी), रायबरेली के समक्ष विचाराधीन था। विपक्षी द्वारा उपजिलाधिकारी, सदर, रायबरेली के न्यायालय में स्थानान्तरण प्रार्थना-पत्र प्रस्तुत करने पर प्रश्नगत वाद को तहसीलवार, सदर, रायबरेली के न्यायालय में स्थानान्तरित किया गया। निगरानीकर्तागण का कथन है कि अधीनस्थ न्यायालय द्वारा उसे बिना कोई सूचना दिये एकपक्षीय रूप से प्रश्नगत नामान्तरण वाद दिनांक 21.01.2013 को निरस्त कर दिया गया। उनका कथन है कि निगरानी स्वीकार करते हुए अधीनस्थ न्यायालय का प्रश्नगत आदेश निरस्त किया जाय।

4- विपक्षी द्वारा प्रस्तुत लिखित बहस में मुख्य रूप से यह कहा गया है कि निगरानीकर्तागण द्वारा अपंजीकृत वसीयतनामा दिनांक 25.07.2003 के आधार पर मूल खातेदार की मृत्यु के बाद लगभग 9 वर्षों के बाद दिनांक 04.08.2012 को नामान्तरण वाद प्रस्तुत किया गया। उक्त वाद में इश्तेहार जारी होने पर सरजू देई द्वारा दिनांक 29.11.2012 को आपत्ति प्रस्तुत की गयी। प्रस्तुत वसीयत में प्रथम पृष्ठ पर वसीयतकर्ता व गवाहों के हस्ताक्षर भी नहीं हैं तथा वसीयत के तथाकथित दूसरे गवाह जगदीश मौर्य पुत्र रघुनन्दन गौर्य की मृत्यु वसीयत की तिथि से पूर्व ही हो गयी थी। प्रस्तुत की गयी इसलिए उक्त तिथि के बाद प्रारम्भिक रूप से अपंजीकृत फर्जी कूटरचित वसीयत के आधार पर नामान्तरण वाद प्रस्तुत किया गया। उनका कथन है कि अधीनस्थ न्यायालय का प्रश्नगत आदेश गुण-दोष के आधार पर पारित किया गया है, जो पूर्णतया विधिसम्मत है। उनके द्वारा 2000-आरडी-पेज-10, 1997-एएलआर-पेज-448 तथा 2012-आरएलटी-पेज-561 व 2007 (103) आरडी-पेज-48 पर मा० राजस्व परिषद एवं मा० उच्च न्यायालय द्वारा दी गयी विधि व्यवस्था का सन्दर्भ दिया गया।

5- अधीनस्थ न्यायालय के प्रश्नगत आदेश एवं पत्रावली के अवलोकन से स्पष्ट है कि नामान्तरण न्यायालय द्वारा नियमानुसार

इश्तेहार जारी किये गये, जो बाद तामील वापस पत्रावली है। इस्तेहार जारी होने के उपरानत श्रीमती सरजू देई पत्नी गोपाल द्वारा आपत्ति दाखिल की गयी। अधीनस्थ न्यायालय द्वारा पत्रावली पर रक्षित अपंजीकृत वसीयतनामा का अवलोकन पर यह पाया गया कि वसीयत पर वसीयतकर्ता का फोटो नहीं लगा है। दावे को साबित करने का दायित्व वादी का होता है। वादी द्वारा न तो मूल वसीयत दाखिल की गयी और न ही मृतक गोपाल का मृत्यु प्रमाण-पत्र दाखिल किया गया। इस प्रकार वादी अपने दावे/अपंजीकृत वसीयत की पुष्टि न कराकर जानबूझकर न्यायालय से अनुपस्थित हो गये, जिससे यह प्रतीत होता है कि प्रश्नगत अपंजीकृत वसीयत जाली एवं फर्जी है। तद्नुसार अधीनस्थ न्यायालय द्वारा अपने आदेश दिनांक 21.01.2013 द्वारा आपत्तिकर्ता श्रीमती सरजू देई की आपत्ति को स्वीकार किया गया तथा नामान्तरण प्रार्थना-पत्र साक्ष्यों द्वारा साबित न किये जाने के कारण निरस्त किया गया। अधीनस्थ न्यायालय द्वारा पारित प्रश्नगत आदेश पूर्णतया विधि, साक्ष्य एवं तथ्यों पर आधारित है, जिसमें किसी प्रकार के हस्तक्षेप की आवश्यकता नहीं है। अतएव निगरानी बलहीन होने के कारण निरस्त किये जाने योग्य है।

आदेश

तद्नुसार निगरानी बलहीन होने के कारण निरस्त की जाती है। आदेश की एक प्रति सहित अधीनस्थ न्यायालय की पत्रावली वापस भेजी जाये तथा बाद आवश्यक कार्यवाही इस न्यायालय की पत्रावली अभिलेखागार में दाखिल-दफ्तर हो।

दिनांकः 11-03-2014"

28. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Kishore Samrite Vs. State of U.P. and others reported in Manu/SC/0892/2012 has laid down some principles which would govern the obligations of a litigant while approaching the Court for redressal of any grievance and the consequences of abuse of process of Court. The relevant extract of para no. 29 of the said judgment is being reproduced hereinbelow:-

"29. Now, we shall deal with the question whether both or any of the Petitioners in Civil Writ Petition Nos. 111/2011 and 125/2011 are guilty of suppression of material facts, not approaching the Court with clean hands, and thereby abusing the process of the Court. Before we dwell upon the facts and circumstances of the case in hand, let us refer to some case laws which would help us in dealing with the present situation with greater precision. The cases of abuse of the process of court and such allied matters have been arising before the Courts consistently. This Court has had many occasions where it dealt with the cases of this kind and it has clearly stated the principles that would govern the obligations of a litigant while approaching the court for redressal of any grievance and the consequences of abuse of the process of court. We may recapitulate and state some of the principles. It is difficult to state such principles exhaustively and with such accuracy that would uniformly apply to a variety of cases. These are:

(i) Courts have, over the centuries, frowned upon litigants who, with intent to deceive and mislead the Courts, initiated proceedings without full disclosure of facts and came to the courts with 'unclean hands'. Courts have held that such litigants are neither entitled to be heard on the merits of the case nor entitled to any relief.

(ii) The people, who approach the Court for relief on an ex parte statement, are under a contract with the court that they would state the whole case fully and fairly to the court and where the litigant has broken such faith, the discretion of the court cannot be exercised in favour of such a litigant.

(iii) The obligation to approach the Court with clean hands is an absolute obligation and has repeatedly been reiterated by this Court.

(iv) Quests for personal gains have become so intense that those involved in litigation do not hesitate to take shelter of falsehood and misrepresent and suppress facts in the court proceedings. Materialism, opportunism and malicious intent have over-shadowed the old ethos of litigative values for small gains.

(v) A litigant who attempts to pollute the stream of justice or who touches the pure fountain of justice with tainted hands is not entitled to any relief, interim or final.

(vi) The Court must ensure that its process is not abused and in order to prevent abuse of the process the court, it would be justified even in insisting on furnishing of security and in cases of serious abuse, the Court would be duty bound to impose heavy costs.

(vii) .....

(viii) .....

(emphasis supplied)

29. In view of the facts and circumstances of the present case, it is found that the petitioners had filed false affidavits before the courts just to grab the property of a widow lady and mislead the Courts at every stage, even in the present writ petition.

30. The petitioners are not only cheating or deceiving the widow lady that is the wife of Late Ram Gopal but also misleading the Courts and concealed the relevant facts by not enclosing the copy of revision.

31. Petitioners had filed the copy of unregistered Will dated 25.07.2003 which was duly considered by the Tehsildar and pointed out the shortcomings due to which it was not accepted while rejecting the claim of the petitioners. Petitioners in the revision had not taken this ground that they had not filed any unregistered Will or the unregistered Will which was filed by the petitioners is not the same which was referred in the order of Tehsildar. This shows that the second unregistered Will of the same date by rectifying all the short comings as pointed out by the Tehsildar is nothing but amounts to cheating, playing fraud, misleading the Courts and also amounts to abuse of process of the Court. The unregistered Will which was produced by the petitioners before the Tehsildar was not found to be acceptable by the Tehsildar then there is no question to prove the second unregistered Will prepared by the petitioner afterthought.

32. It is also the petitioners, who had not placed any document or application at the appellate stage for accepting the additional documents as an evidence by filing a second unregistered Will prepared afterthought of the same date under Order XLI Rule 27 C.P.C.

33. It was the duty of the petitioners to prove the unregistered Will which they had not even tried since it appears that the petitioners were aware that the unregistered Will was not genuine and they would not able to prove it.

34. In view of the aforesaid facts, circumstances and discussion made hereinabove, it is found that there is no illegality in the impugned orders dated 28.03.2024 passed by the respondent no. 1, impugned order dated 18.12.2014 passed by the respondent no. 2, impugned order dated 13.10.2014 passed by the respondent no. 5, impugned order dated 11.03.2014 passed by the respondent no. 3 and judgment and order dated 21.01.2013 passed by the respondent no. 5, thus, no interference is called for.

35. Writ petition is devoid of merits hence, dismissed with a cost of Rs. 50,000/- (Rs. Fifty Thousand), in view of their conduct which resulted in misuse of process of law. The amount of cost is to be deposited before the Senior Registrar of this Court within a period of three months from today. Failing which, the Senior Registrar is directed to require the authorities to recover the same as arrears of land revenue.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1571
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 21.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Writ-C No. 4483 of 2024

Rajesh ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Veerendra Kumar Tiwari, Rakesh Kumar Srivastava

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Mithila Bakhsh Tiwari

Civil Law –appeal challenging the order of cancellation of fair price shop allowed-petitioner is the subsequent allottee of the fair price shop-subject to the final outcome of any case pending in any court of law-no impleadment application was filed by the petitioner-validity of the cancellation order can very well be decided even if in absence of a person who was allotted the shop subsequent cancellation of the fair price shop agreement of another subsequent allottee-petitioner was not a necessary party- petition dismissed. (Paras 17 to 19)

HELD:
It is relevant to note that in the present case, after cancellation of the fair price shop license of the respondent no. 4, the shop was not allotted to the petitioner, rather it was allotted to one Dharamraj. After cancellation of the Fair Price Shop Agreement of Dharamraj, the shop in question was allotted to the petitioner wherein it was specifically mentioned that the appointment of the petitioner will be subject to the final orders to be passed in any case pending before the Competent Court. (Para 18)

The appeal was filed challenging the legality of the cancellation of the order dated 13.04.2016 and the validity of the cancellation order dated 13.04.2016 can very well be decided even if in absence of a person who was allotted the shop subsequent cancellation of the fair price shop agreement of another subsequent allottee. It was open to the petitioner to have appeared in the appeal and sought a right of hearing, but he did not do so. In such circumstances the impugned order dated 16.04.2024 passed by the Additional Commissioner (Food), Ayodhya Division, Ayodhya cannot be held to be bad in law for want of impleadment of the petitioner as a necessary party to the appeal. (Para 19)

Petition dismissed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. Ram Kumar Vs St. of U.P. & ors.: 2022 SCC OnLine SC 1312 = AIR 2022 SC 4705

2. Mumbai International Airport (P) Ltd. v. Regency Convention Centre & Hotels (P) Ltd., (2010) 7 SCC 417

3. Urmila Devi Vs St. of U.P., 2015 SCC OnLine All 3910

4. Poonam Vs St. of U.P.: (2016) 2 SCC 779

5. Sumitra Devi Vs St. of U.P. & ors. (Civil Appeal Nos. 9363-9364 of 2014) decided on 08.10.2014

6. Pawan Chaubey Vs The St. of U. P. & ors.., Civil Appeal No. 3668 of 2022 (Arising out of SLP (C) No. 15501 of 2021) decided On: 06.05.2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Shri R.K. Srivastava, learned counsel for the petitioner, Shri Pratyush Tripathi, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel and Shri M.B. Tiwari, learned counsel for the respondent No.4.

2. By means of the present writ petition filed under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, the petitioner has challenged validity of an order dated 16.04.2024 passed by Additional Commissioner (Food), Ayodhya Division, Ayodhya, whereby Appeal No.2400 of 2017 filed by the respondent No.4 under Clause 13(3) of U.P. Essential Commodities (Regulation of Sale and Distribution Control) Order 2016 has been allowed and an order dated 13.04.2013 passed by the SDM, Haidergarh, Barabanki cancelling the Fair Price Shop Agreement of the respondent No.4 has been set-aside.

3. The order dated 16.04.2024 has been challenged on the ground that after cancellation of the Fair Price Shop Agreement of the respondent No.4 on 13.04.2016, the Fair Price Shop in question was allotted to the petitioner by means of an order dated 03.09.2022 passed by the SDM, Haidergarh, Barabanki, yet the appeal was allowed without impleading the petitioner and without giving him an opportunity of hearing.

4. After cancellation of the Fair Price Shop Agreement of the respondent No.4 by means of an order dated 13.04.2016, the Fair Price Shop was allotted to one Dharamraj. The Fair Price Shop Agreement of Dharamraj was cancelled by means of an order dated 30.05.2022 passed by SDM, Haidergarh, Barabanki. Thereafter, the Fair Price Shop in question was allotted to the petitioner by means of an order dated 03.09.2022 wherein it was specifically mentioned that the appointment of the petitioner will be subject to the final orders to be passed in any case pending before the Competent Court.

5. Appeal No.2400 of 2017 filed by the respondent No.4 under Clause 13(3) of the Control Order was pending on the date of allotment of Fair Price Shop in question to the petitioner i.e. 03.09.2022.

6. The petitioner did not file any application for impleadment in pending Appeal No.2400 of 2017. After the appeal was allowed on 16.04.2024, the petitioner has come forward to challenge the aforesaid order passed by the Appellate Authority on the ground that the appeal has been decided without giving an opportunity of hearing to the petitioner.

7. Placing reliance on the decision of Supreme Court in Ram Kumar Vs. State of U.P. and others: 2022 SCC OnLine SC 1312 = AIR 2022 SC 4705, the learned Counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the petitioner was a necessary party to the appeal filed against the cancellation order and the order passed without hearing the petitioner is unsustainable in law.

8. Per contra, Shri M.B. Tiwari, learned counsel for the respondent No.4 has submitted that the Fair Price Shop License of respondent No.4 was cancelled way back on 13.04.2016. He had filed an appeal against cancellation of the order in the year 2017 when the Fair Price Shop in question had not been allotted to the petitioner and, therefore, he was neither a necessary nor a proper party to the appeal and accordingly, the appeal was filed without impleading the petitioner. After cancellation of the license of the respondent No.4, the Fair Price Shop in question was allotted to one Dharamraj, who continued to run the shop till his license was cancelled by means of an order dated 30.05.2022. After cancellation of Fair Price Shop license of Dharamraj, the Fair Price Shop in question was allotted to the petitioner by means of an order dated 03.09.2022, while the appeal of the respondent No.4 was already pending for the past about five years. In these circumstances, the petitioner was not a necessary party to the appeal.

9. In Ram Kumar (Supra) the fair price shop granted to Respondent No. 9 was cancelled. While dismissing the appeal, the Appellate Authority observed in its order dated 20.07.2018 that "At present, new dealer Sh. Ram Kumar Singh s/o Chhote Singh has been approved as Fair Price Dealer, village Anta Tehsil Rasoolabad, Kanpur Dehat vide District Magistrate's order dated 15.05.2018.", which shows that the respondent No. 9 was very well aware that during the pendency of the proceedings, the appellant was appointed as a Fair Price Dealer. Yet the respondent No. 9 pleaded in the writ petition that: -

"33. That it is also noteworthy to mention here that during the pendency of the Fair Price Shop, no third party allotment was made and as per the direction of this Hon'ble Court, the shop of the petitioner was attached to another Fair Price Shop Holder."

The same was reiterated in the Grounds also. The Hon'ble Supreme Court held that: -

27. It is thus clear that respondent No. 9 has not only suppressed the fact about the subsequent allotment of the fair price shop to the appellant herein but has also tried to mislead the High Court that the fair price shop of respondent No. 9 (the writ petitioner before the High Court) was attached to another fair price shop holder.

28. This Court, in the case of S.P. Chengalvaraya Naidu (Dead) By LRs. v. Jagannath (Dead) by LRs (1994) 1 SCC 1 has held that non-disclosure of the relevant and material documents with a view to obtain an undue advantage would amount to fraud. It has been held that the judgment or decree obtained by fraud is to be treated as a nullity. We find that respondent No. 9 has not only suppressed a material fact but has also tried to mislead the High Court. On this ground also, the present appeal deserves to be allowed."

11. In Ram Kumar (Supra), the Hon'ble Supreme Court referred to an earlier decision in the case of Mumbai International Airport (P) Ltd. v. Regency Convention Centre & Hotels (P) Ltd., (2010) 7 SCC 417, in which it was held that: -

"13. The general rule in regard to impleadment of parties is that the plaintiff in a suit, being dominus litis, may choose the persons against whom he wishes to litigate and cannot be compelled to sue a person against whom he does not seek any relief. Consequently, a person who is not a party has no right to be impleaded against the wishes of the plaintiff. But this general rule is subject to the provisions of Order 1 Rule 10(2) of the Code of Civil Procedure ("the Code", for short), which provides for impleadment of proper or necessary parties. The said sub-rule is extracted below:

"10. (2) Court may strike out or add parties.—The court may at any stage of the proceedings, either upon or without the application of either party, and on such terms as may appear to the court to be just, order that the name of any party improperly joined, whether as plaintiff or defendant, be struck out, and that the name of any person who ought to have been joined, whether as plaintiff or defendant, or whose presence before the court may be necessary in order to enable the court effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit, be added."

* * *

15. A "necessary party" is a person who ought to have been joined as a party and in whose absence no effective decree could be passed at all by the court. If a "necessary party" is not impleaded, the suit itself is liable to be dismissed. A "proper party" is a party who, though not a necessary party, is a person whose presence would enable the court to completely, effectively and adequately adjudicate upon all matters in dispute in the suit, though he need not be a person in favour of or against whom the decree is to be made. If a person is not found to be a proper or necessary party, the court has no jurisdiction to implead him, against the wishes of the plaintiff. The fact that a person is likely to secure a right/interest in a suit property, after the suit is decided against the plaintiff, will not make such person a necessary party or a proper party to the suit for specific performance."

12. The Hon'ble Supreme Court also referred to a Full Bench decision of this Court in Urmila Devi v. State of U.P., 2015 SCC OnLine All 3910, in which it was held that: -

"24. ... the authorization granted to a person to conduct a fair price shop only constitutes such a person as an agent of the State Government under Clause 4(2) of the Control Order. If the authorization is suspended or cancelled, a remedy of an appeal is provided in Clause 28(3). During the pendency of an appeal, a provision has been made in Clause 28(5), for seeking a direction that the order under appeal shall not take effect until the appeal is disposed of. If the order of suspension or cancellation has not been stayed pending the disposal of the appeal, the cancellation or suspension, as the case may be, shall continue to remain in effect. The mere filing or pendency of an appeal or an application for stay does not result in a deemed or automatic stay of the order of suspension or cancellation. There is no such deeming provision. In such a situation, the State is at liberty to make necessary administrative arrangements to ensure the proper distribution of scheduled commodities based on the public interest in the proper functioning of the Public Distribution Scheme and on an assessment of local needs and requirements that would sub-serve the interest of the beneficiaries.

13. The Hon'ble Supreme Court also referred to an earlier decision in Poonam versus State of U.P.: (2016) 2 SCC 779, wherein the fair price shop license of respondent no. 5 was cancelled and it was allotted to the appellant. The respondent no. 5 filed an appeal, in which the appellant had got herself impleaded on the ground that she had been allotted the shop after cancellation of the license granted in favour of the original allottee. After hearing the appellant and the impleaded party, the appeal was allowed. The subsequent allottee filed a Writ Petition challenging the order passed in appeal. The High Court dismissed the Writ Petition holding that the subsequent allottee had no right to continue the litigation for she had no independent right. The Hon'ble Supreme Court held that: -

"9. Be it noted, before the appellate authority, the appellant had got herself impleaded after coming to know that the fifth respondent had preferred an appeal challenging the order of cancellation, and the appellate authority had considered the submissions of the original allottee as well as the present appellant. The thrust of the matter is whether the appellant can be regarded as a person who is a necessary party to the lis in such a situation and is entitled under law to advance the argument that the order passed by the appellate forum being legally unsustainable, the writ court was obliged to adjudicate the controversy on merits.

* * *

13. Though the narration of facts is reflective of a different contour of controversy i.e. allotment and grant of licence for a fair price shop, the seminal issue, as noted hereinabove, would hinge on the answer to the question pertaining to right to assail the order passed in appeal. The appellant was not impleaded as a party in the appeal but she herself got impleaded. Assuming the appellate authority would have decided the appeal in favour of the original allottee in her absence, could the present appellant, a subsequent allottee in respect of the same shop, have been allowed in law to make a grievance by invoking the jurisdiction of any statutory forum or for that matter the High Court under Article 227 of the Constitution. In essence, whether she is a necessary party to the litigation and entitled to contest the legal vulnerability of the order of cancellation or in any manner advance the plea that her allotment would not be affected despite the factum that the order of cancellation of the earlier allottee has been quashed. To appreciate the said issue we will dwell upon certain authorities though they may pertain to different jurisprudence.

* * *

49. In the instant case, Shop No. 2 had become vacant. The appellant was allotted the shop, may be in the handicapped quota but such allotment is the resultant factor of the said shop falling vacant. The original allottee, that is, the respondent, assailed his cancellation and ultimately succeeded in appeal. We are not concerned with the fact that the appellant herein was allowed to put her stand in the appeal. She was neither a necessary nor a proper party. The appellate authority permitted her to participate but that neither changes the situation nor does it confer any legal status on her. She would have continued to hold the shop had the original allottee lost the appeal. She cannot assail the said order in a writ petition because she is not a necessary party. It is the State or its functionaries who could have challenged the same in appeal. They have maintained sphinx like silence in that regard. Be that as it may, that would not confer any locus on the subsequent allottee to challenge the order passed in favour of the former allottee. She is a third party to the lis in this context."

(Emphasis added)

14. The Hon'ble Supreme Court also referred to the decision in the case of Sumitra Devi versus State of U.P. and Ors. (Civil Appeal Nos. 9363-9364 of 2014) decided on 08.10.2014, wherein the Appellant being the subsequent allottee filed an application for impleadment in the writ petition on 17.10.2008. That application was neither entertained nor allowed. The Hon'ble Supreme Court held that the High Court should have heard the Appellant before restoring the licence of Respondent No. 6 as the Appellant was the subsequent allottee and his rights were affected by the restoration of licence of Respondent No. 6.

15. Another decision relied in Ram Kumar (Supra) was of Pawan Chaubey Vs. The State of Uttar Pradesh and Ors., Civil Appeal No. 3668 of 2022 (Arising out of SLP (C) No. 15501 of 2021) decided On: 06.05.2022, wherein it was held that: -

"9. Even if a subsequent allottee does not have an independent right, he/she still has a right to be heard and to make submissions defending the order of cancellation.

10. It is true that the order of appointment of the Appellant reads that the order is subject to the outcome of the proceedings pending in court. This does not disqualify the Appellant from appearing and contesting the proceedings by trying to show that the order of cancellation had correctly been passed against the Respondent No. 4."

16. It is settled law that a judgment is to be read as a whole, in light of the factual background and the issues involved in the case and merely a portion of the judgment cannot be taken out and relied upon as a binding precedent, without looking into the entire judgment. In para 22 of the judgment in Ram Kumar(supra), the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that in the background mentioned in the aforesaid judgment, the appellant was a necessary party to the proceedings before the Court but the background leading to the aforesaid conclusion, as apparent from the earlier parts of the judgment, indicates that the Court has merely held that even if a subsequent allottee does not have an independent right, he/she still has a right to be heard and to make submissions defending the order of cancellation.

17. The legal position which can be culled out from a cumulative reading of the aforesaid judgments is as follows: -

17.1 As per the Full Bench decision in Urmila Devi (Supra), the appointment of a subsequent Fair Price Shop allottee made during pendency of an appeal filed by the previous allottee against cancellation of his agreement, is merely an administrative arrangement to ensure proper distribution of scheduled commodities based on the public interest in the proper functioning of the Public Distribution Scheme and on an assessment of local needs and requirements that would sub-serve the interest of the beneficiaries. It does not defeat the rights of the previous allottee, whose appeal is pending.

17.2 As per Poonam (Supra) 2 SCC 779, although the subsequent alotttee got herself impleaded in an appeal filed against cancellation of previous allotted, she was neither a necessary nor a proper party. The mere fact that the appellate authority permitted her to participate, does not change the situation and it does not confer any legal status on her. She cannot assail the appellate order by filing a writ petition because she is not a necessary party. She is a third party to the lis in this context.

17.3 As per Sumitra Devi (Supra) if a subsequent allottee filed an application for impleadment he should have been heard before restoring the licence of as his rights were affected by the restoration of licence.

17.4 As per Pawan Chaubey (Supra) a subsequent allottee does not have an independent right, but he is not disqualified from appearing and contesting the proceedings by trying to show that the order of cancellation had correctly been passed against the Respondent No. 4."

18. It is relevant to note that in the present case, after cancellation of the fair price shop license of the respondent no. 4, the shop was not allotted to the petitioner, rather it was allotted to one Dharamraj. After cancellation of the Fair Price Shop Agreement of Dharamraj, the shop in question was allotted to the petitioner wherein it was specifically mentioned that the appointment of the petitioner will be subject to the final orders to be passed in any case pending before the Competent Court.

19. The appeal was filed challenging the legality of the cancellation of the order dated 13.04.2016 and the validity of the cancellation order dated 13.04.2016 can very well be decided even if in absence of a person who was allotted the shop subsequent cancellation of the fair price shop agreement of another subsequent allottee. It was open to the petitioner to have appeared in the appeal and sought a right of hearing, but he did not do so. In such circumstances the impugned order dated 16.04.2024 passed by the Additional Commissioner (Food), Ayodhya Division, Ayodhya cannot be held to be bad in law for want of impleadment of the petitioner as a necessary party to the appeal.

20. In view of the above discussion, I do not find any illegality in the order dated 16.04.2024 passed by the Additional Commissioner (Food), Ayodhya Division, Ayodhya and hence, the writ petition is hereby dismissed.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1577
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 16.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Writ-C No. 3000053 of 2005

Dinesh Verma & Anr. ...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Mohd. Arif Khan, Mohammad Aslam Khan

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

Civil Law –validity of notice- Section 10(2) of the U.P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings Act, 1960- redetermination of surplus land-challenged—Sections 4, 5, 12 and 13 of the Act, 1960- U. P. Imposition of Ceiling (Amendment) Act of 1972, being U.P. Act 18 of 1973-Sections 5 and 19-U.P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1974 (U.P. Act 2 of 1975)- U. P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1976 (U.P. Act 20 of 1976)-Sections 31 and 38-B-The Act permits redetermination of surplus land-only after a trial of an issue within two years from the date of a Notification under Section 14(4) for rectifying any mistake, as provided in 13-A, or in circumstances mentioned in Section 29 (a) and (b)-redetermination of surplus land only within a period of two years from the date of enforcement of U.P. Act No. 20 of 1976, i.e.10.10.1975-no circumstances exist justifying the redetermination of surplus land of the petitioners- impugned proceedings quashed-Petition allowed. (Paras 27 to 33 and 35)

HELD:
Since Section 38-B of the Act carves out an exception to the general principle of Res Judicata, the provisions of Section 38-B have to be interpreted strictly, keeping in view the other provisions contained in the Principal Act as also U.P. Act No. 20 of 1976, through which Section 38-B was inserted. (Para 27)

Section 38-B of the Act provides that no finding or decision given before the commencement of this section in any proceeding or on any issue (including any order, decree or judgment) by any court, tribunal or authority in respect of any matter governed by this Act, shall bar the retrial of such proceeding or issue under this Act, in accordance with the provisions of this Act as amended from time to time. A bare reading of the entire Section 38-B would indicate that it where a retrial is held in accordance with the provisions of the Act, any finding or decision given in any proceedings before commencement of Section 38-B would not bar the same. The exception to the general principle of Res-Judicata will apply only where a retrial is permissible in accordance with the provisions of this Act. (Para 28)

The Act permits redetermination of surplus land only after a trial of an issue within two years from the date of a Notification under Section 14(4) for rectifying any mistake, as provided in 13-A, or in circumstances mentioned in Section 29 (a) and (b). Section 38-B of the Act would be applicable to the situations covered by the aforesaid provisions of the Act only and it cannot be interpreted in a such a manner as would give a free hand to the authorities to ignore any finding recorded in any proceedings which have attained finality upto the Hon'ble Supreme Court and to initiate proceedings for redetermination of surplus land. (Para 29)

Section 19 (2) of the Amendment Act of 1972 contained a transitory provision permitting redetermination of surplus land of any tenure-holder in relation to whom the surplus land has been determined finally before the commencement of the Amendment Act of 1972. (Para 30)

Section 9 of the U.P. Act No. 2 of 1975 also contained a transitory provision which empowers the prescribed authority to redetermine the surplus land of a tenure-holder at any time within a period of two years from the commencement of Act No. 2 of 1975, determination of surplus land in respect of whom had been made under the principal Act before the commencement of Act No. 2 of 1975. (Para 31)

Section 31 (3) of U.P. Act No. 20 of 1976 also contained a transitory provision providing that where an order determining surplus land in relation to a tenure-holder has been made under the principal Act before 10.10.1975, the prescribed authority may, at any time within a period of two years from the said date, redetermine the surplus land in accordance with the principal Act as amended by Act No. 20 of 1976, at any time within a period of two years from the said date. (Para 32)

Thus it is clear that the intention of the legislature was to permit redetermination of surplus land only within a period of two years from the date of enforcement of U.P. Act No. 20 of 1976, i.e.10.10.1975 and that too, if it was necessitated by the amendments incorporated in the Act. The authorities under the Act have not been given unfettered powers to ignore any finding order passed in earlier proceedings. (Para 33)

Petition allowed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. Ram Lal Vs State of U.P.: 1978 SCC OnLine All 419 : 1978 All LJ 1197

2. Escorts Farms Ltd. Vs Commr., Kumaon Division: (2004) 4 SCC 281

3. S. Ramachandra Rao Vs S. Nagabhushana Rao, 2022 SCC OnLine SC 1460

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Mohd. Arif Khan, Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Abhishek Mishra, Advocate, the learned counsel for the petitioners and Sri Krishna Kumar Singh, the learned Standing Counsel.

2. By means of the instant petition filed under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, the petitioners have challenged the validity of a notice under Section 10(2) of the U.P. Imposition of Ceiling On Land Holdings Act, 1960 (herein after referred to as 'the Ceiling Act'), issued by the Prescribed Authority/Additional Collector (Administration), Lucknow on 06.01.1999, order dated 14.02.2005 passed by the prescribed authority rejecting the petitioners' objection against the aforesaid notice, an order dated 31.08.2005 passed by the prescribed authority as well as the entire proceedings instituted by the notice issued under Section 10(2) of the Ceiling Act.

3. Briefly stated, facts of the case are that Bindra Prasad, grand father of the petitioners was tenure holder having separate Khata, whereas Randhir Verma, father of the petitioners, was also having his separate holdings. Bindra Prasad had executed various sale-deeds in the year, 1957 transferring an area of 842 Bihgas 18 Biswa 3 Biswansi 9 Kachwansi. The proceedings under the Ceiling Act were initiated against Randhir Verma by issuing a notice under Section 10(2) of the Act to him. Randhir Verma filed objections and by means of an order dated 24.12.1979, the prescribed authority declared 20 Bigha 5 Biswa 10 Biswansi land of Randhir Verma as surplus land.

4. Randhir Verma has filed an appeal against the order dated 24.12.1979 inter alia on the ground that considering the size of his family, he was entitled to retain 44.67 Bighas land and further that he had transferred 10 Bigha 2 Biswa 7 Biswansi land by means of a registered sale-deed executed in favour of his daughter prior to 24.01.1971 and it could not be included in his holdings while determining the ceiling area. The sale-deed executed by Randhir Verma, in favour of his daughter excluded the area of 10 Bigha, 2 Biswa 7 Biswansi from his holdings and, accordingly, the ceiling area was determined and the surplus land was declared.

5. Subsequently, another notice under Section 10(2) of the Ceiling Act was issued to Sri Randhir Verma on 16.12.1979 by clubbing the holdings which have already been transferred by Bindra Prasad through various sale-deeds executed in the year, 1957. By means of an order dated 05.04.1982, the Prescribed Authority declared an area of 842 Bighas 18 Biswa 3 Biswansi 9 Kachwansi in terms of irrigated land to be surplus land of the petitioners' father Randhir Verma.

6. Randhir Verma filed a Miscellaneous Civil Appeal No. 176 of 1982 against the aforesaid order dated 05.04.1982. The appeal was allowed by means of an order dated 11.01.1983 passed by IInd Additional District Judge, Lucknow. The order dated 05.04.1982 passed by the Prescribed Authority was set aside and the matter was remanded for re-determination of surplus land, after giving opportunity of hearing to the transferees of Sri Bindra Prasad. The State of U.P. filed a Writ Petition No. 407 of 1983 against the aforesaid order dated 11.01.1983, which was dismissed in limine by means of an order dated 25.01.1983.

7. The petitioners' father Randhir Verma filed a Writ Petition No. 431 of 1983 and the transferees, who had purchased the land from Bindra Prasad in the year, 1957, filed Writ Petition No.2323 of 1983. Both the writ petitions were decided by a common judgment dated 10.10.1984, whereby both the writ petitions were allowed. The notice dated 26.12.1979 issued by the Prescribed Authority under Section 10(2) of the Ceiling Act and all the proceedings arising therefrom, were quashed. A mandamus was issued commanding the opposite parties to restore the entries in the revenue records in favour of the persons who had purchased the land from Sri Bindra Prasad, as they existed immediately before the passing of the order dated 05.04.1982 by the Prescribed Authority in the proceedings arising from the notice dated 26.12.1979 issued to Randhir Verma under Section 10(2) of the Ceiling Act.

8. The State filed a Special Leave Petition (Civil) No. 2128 of 1985 changing the aforesaid order dated 10.10.1984 and the aforesaid SLP was dismissed by means of an order dated 12.08.1985.

9. After the SLP had been dismissed by Hon'ble the Supreme Court and the matter attained finality and after Bindra Prasad, grand-father of the petitioners had died and thereafter their father Randhir Verma had also died on 19.05.1996, the notice dated 06.01.1999 was issued to the petitioners under Section 10(2) of the Ceiling Act.

10. After a lapse of about 4 years, the State filed an application dated 10.04.2003, under Order 6 Rule 17 of CPC alleging that the land that had already been transferred by the predecessors of the petitioners, was being held by them as 'Benamidar' and, therefore, the land that had been transferred should also be included in the proceedings and the said application was allowed by means of order dated 17.04.2003.

11. The petitioners filed an application dated 10.04.2003 for recall of the ex-parte order dated 17.04.2003, which was rejected by means of an order dated 14.02.2005.

12. The petitioners again filed an application dated 16.07.2005 for rejection of application under Order 6 Rule 17 of CPC, which too was dismissed by means of an order dated 14.02.2004.

13. Submission of learned counsel for the petitioners is that when the proceedings under the Ceiling Act have been initiated against the petitioners' father Randhir Verma and the same attained finality by dismissal of SLP filed by the State, fresh proceedings could only be initiated under Section 27(3) of the U.P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (amendment) Act, 1975. After the proceedings had attained finality, no fresh notice could be issued under Section 10(2) of the Ceiling Act and no fresh proceedings could be drawn against the petitioners.

14. The learned Counsel for the petitioner also submitted that the names of the persons who had purchased various parts of lands from the petitioner's grand-father, had been recorded in revenue records even before commencement of the Ceiling Act and there would be a presumption regarding correctness of the settlement entries and the continuance of long standing entries cannot be rejected without any solid rebutting evidence and good grounds, as has been held by this Court in Lal Behari and others versus Ram Adhar and others: 1987 RD 206 : 1985 SCC OnLine All 1197.

15. The U. P. Imposition of Ceiling of Land Holdings Act, 1960 Act is an Act to provide for the imposition of ceiling on land holdings in the State of Uttar Pradesh. A general notice was to be given to the tenure-holders holding land in excess of the ceiling area so that they could submit a statement in respect thereof. A quasi-judicial determination is then to be made of the surplus land, where objections are filed and the prescribed authority, after affording the parties a reasonable opportunity of being heard, and of producing evidence, is then to decide their objections after recording reasons, and then determine the extent of surplus land. Some relevant provisions of the aforesaid Act, as enacted originally, are being reproduced below: -

*"4. Ceiling area.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, the ceiling area applicable to a tenure-holder shall be calculated after taking into account all the land in any holding in the State held by him, in his own right, whether in his own name or ostensibly in the name of any person.

* * *

5. Imposition of ceiling on existing land holdings.—(1) As and from the date of enforcement of this Act, no tenure-holder shall, except as otherwise provided by this Act, be entitled to hold an area in excess of the ceiling area applicable to him, anything contained in any other law, custom, or usage for the time being in force, or agreement, to the contrary notwithstanding.*

*(2) In determining the ceiling area applicable to a tenure-holder at the commencement of this Act, any transfer or partition of land made after the twentieth day of August, 1959, which, but for the transfer or partition would have been declared surplus land under the provisions of this Act, shall be ignored and not taken into account.

(3) The provisions of sub-section (2) shall have no application to—

(a) a transfer in favour of the State Government;

(b) a partition under the U.P. Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1953, or

(c) a partition of the holding of a joint Hindu family made by a suit or proceeding pending on twentieth day of August, 1959.

* * *

12. Determination of the surplus land by the prescribed authority where an objection is filed.—(1) Where an objection has been filed under sub-section (2) of Section 10 or under sub-section (2) of Section 11, or because of any appellate order under Section 13, the prescribed authority shall, after affording the parties reasonable opportunity of being heard and of producing evidence, decide the objections after recording his reasons, and determine the surplus land.*

(2) Subject to any appellate order under Section 13, the order of the prescribed authority under sub-section (1) shall be final and conclusive and be not questioned in any court of law.

13. Appeals.—(1) Any party aggrieved by an order under sub-section (2) of Section 11 or Section 12, may, within thirty days of the date of the order, prefer an appeal to the District Judge within whose jurisdiction the land or any part thereof is situate.*

(2) The District Judge shall dispose of the appeal as expeditiously as possible and his decision thereon shall be final and conclusive and be not questioned in any court of law.

(3) Where an appeal is preferred under this section, the District Judge may stay enforcement of the order appealed against for such time and on such conditions as may be considered just and proper."

16. By U. P. Imposition of Ceiling (Amendment) Act of 1972, being U.P. Act 18 of 1973, which came into force on 08.06.1973, various Sections of the principal Act were substituted. Section 5 of the Principal Act was substituted by the following new Section 5: -

5. Imposition of ceiling on existing land holdings (1) As and form the date of enforcement of this Act no tenure-holder shall, except as otherwise provided by this Act, be entitled to hold an area in excess of the ceiling area applicable to him, anything contained in any other law, custom, or usage for the time being in force, or agreement, to the contrary notwithstanding.

(2) In determining the ceiling area applicable to a tenure-holder at the commencement of this Act any transfer or partition of land made after the twentieth day of August, 1959, which but for the transfer or action would have been declared surplus land under the provisions of this Act, shall be ignored and not taken into account.

(3) The provisions of sub-section (2) shall have no application to

(a) a transfer in favour of the State Government,

(b) a partition under the U. P. Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1953 ; or

(c) a partition of the holding of a Joint Hindu Family made by a suit or proceeding pending on twentieth day of August, 1959."

17. The transitory provision contained in Section 19 of the Amendment Act of 1972 provided as follows: -

"19. Transitory provisions.—(1) All proceedings for the determination of surplus land under Section 9, Section 10, Section 11, Section 12, Section 13 or Section 30 of the principal Act, pending before any court or authority at the time of the commencement of this Act, shall abate and the prescribed authority shall start the proceedings for determination of the ceiling area under that Act afresh by issue of a notice under sub-section (2) of Section 9 of that Act as inserted by this Act:

Provided that the ceiling area in such cases shall be determined in the following manner—

(a) firstly, the ceiling area shall be determined in accordance with the principal Act, as it stood before its amendment by this Act;

(b) thereafter, the ceiling area shall be redetermined in accordance with the provisions of the principal Act as amended by this Act.

(2) Notwithstanding, anything in sub-section (1), any proceeding under Section 14 or under Chapter III or Chapter IV of the principal Act, in respect of any tenure-holder in relation to whom the surplus land has been determined finally before the commencement of this Act, may be continued and concluded in accordance with the provisions of the principal Act, without prejudice to the applicability of the provisions of sub-section (2) of Section 9 and Section 13-A of that Act, as inserted by this Act, in respect of such land."

18. The U.P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1974 (U.P. Act 2 of 1975), came into being on 17.01.1975. This 1974 Amendment Act only added to the new substituted scheme the concept of "single crop land". U.P. Act 2 of 1975 amended Section 5 of the Principal Act and the relevant part of the Act reads as follows: -

"Imposition of ceiling- (1) - On and from the commencement of the Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1972, no tenure-holder shall be entitled to hold in the aggregate, throughout Uttar Pradesh, any land in excess of the ceiling area applicable to him.

Explanation I- In determining the ceiling area applicable to a tenure holder, all land held by him in his own right, whether in his own name, or ostensibly in the name of any other person, shall be taken into account.

* * *

19. U.P. Act No. 2 of 1975 also contained a transitory provision in Section 9, which is being reproduced below: -

"9. Transitory provision.—Where an order determining the surplus land in relation to a tenure-holder has been made under the principal Act, before the commencement of this Act, the prescribed authority may, at any time within a period of two years from the commencement of this Act, redetermine the surplus land in accordance with the principal Act as amended by this Act."

20. An Ordinance, which further amended the Principal Act, came into force on 10.10.1975. After the said Ordinance lapsed, the U. P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1976 (U.P. Act 20 of 1976) was enacted with effect from the date of the Ordinance,10-10-1975. In this Amendment, various other changes were made with which we are not directly concerned, except that the following Explanation II was added to Section 5(1) by Subs. by sec. 6(a) of U.P. Act No. 20, 1976 (deemed to have been substitute from January 17, 1975): -

"Explanation II- If on or before January 24, 1971, any land was held by a person who continues to be in its actual cultivatory possessions and the name of any other person is entered in the annual register after the said date either in addition to or to the exclusion of the former and whether on the basis of deed of transfer or license or on the basis of a decree, it shall be presumed, unless the contrary is proved to the satisfaction of the prescribed authority, that the first mentioned person continues to hold the land and that it is so held by him ostensibly in the name of the second mentioned person."

21. Section 19 of U.P. Act No. 20 of 1976 inserted the following Section 38-B in the Principal Act: -

"38-B. No finding or decision given before the commencement of this section in any proceeding or on any issue (including any order, decree or judgment) by any court, tribunal or authority in respect of any matter governed by this Act, shall bar the retrial of such proceeding or issue under this Act, in accordance with the provisions of this Act as amended from time to time."

22. Section 31 of U.P. Act No. 20 of 1976 contains the following transitory provision: -.

"31. Transitory provisions.—(1) All proceedings under sub-sections (3) to (7) of Section 14 of the principal Act, as it stood immediately before the commencement of the Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Ordinance, 1976 (U.P. Ordinance 11 of 1976), pending before any court or authority immediately before the date of such commencement shall be deemed to have abated on such date.

(2) Where an order determining the surplus land in relation to a tenure-holder has been made under the principal Act before 17-1-1975 and the prescribed authority is required to redetermine the surplus land under Section 9 of the Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1974 (U.P. Act 2 of 1975), then notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (2) of Section 19 of the Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1972 (U.P. Act 17 of 1973), every appeal under Section 13 of the principal Act or other proceedings in relation to such appeal, preferred against the said order, and pending immediately before the tenth day of October, 1975, shall be deemed to have abated on the said date.

(3) Where an order determining surplus land in relation to a tenure-holder has been made under the principal Act before the tenth day of October, 1975, the prescribed authority (as defined in the principal Act) may, at any time within a period of two years from the said date, redetermine the surplus land in accordance with the principal Act as amended by this Act, whether or not any appeal was filed against such order and notwithstanding any appeal (whether pending or decided) against the original order of determination of surplus land.

(4) The provisions of Section 13 of the principal Act shall mutatis mutandis apply to every order redetermining surplus land under sub-section (3) of this section or Section 9 of the Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1974:

Provided that the period of thirty days shall, in the case of an appeal against the order referred to in Section 9 of the Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1974, be computed from the date of such order or 10-10-1975, whichever is later.

(5) The provisions of Section 13-A of the principal Act shall mutatis mutandis apply to every redetermination of surplus land under the section or under Section 9 of the Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1974.

(6) Where any assessment roll has become final under sub-section (4) of Section 21 before the sixteenth day of February, 1976, the same shall not be reopened, notwithstanding any amendment made in Chapter III of the principal Act read with the Schedule thereof by this Act."

23. The effect and scope of Section 38-B was explained by this Court in Ram Lal v. State of U.P.: 1978 SCC OnLine All 419 : 1978 All LJ 1197 in the following words: -

"21. This provision to our mind was introduced to achieve the object of the various amendments introduced in the principal Act and to give effect to them. Section 38-B, in our view, contemplates that if by the amendments made in the principal Act a certain findings or decisions had become contrary to law, those findings or decisions could be reopened and the principle of res judicata would not bar a retrial of those issues in accordance with the provisions of the principal Act as amended. This provision, in our opinion, did not authorise the Ceiling authorities to ignore the decisions rendered or decrees passed by competent courts, tribunals or authorities in respect of matters which were not affected by the changes made in the principal Act. Such decisions, in our opinion, would continue to be binding on the parties and would operate as res judicata between them…."

24. The principle of Res-Judicata is a long standing basic principle of general application in civil proceedings. In Escorts Farms Ltd. v. Commr., Kumaon Division: (2004) 4 SCC 281, the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that: -

"51. Res judicata is a plea available in civil proceedings in accordance with Section 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure. It is a doctrine applied to give finality to "lis" in original or appellate proceedings. The doctrine in substance means that an issue or a point decided and attaining finality should not be allowed to be reopened and reagitated twice over. The literal meaning of res is "everything that may form an object of rights and includes an object, subject-matter or status" and res judicata literally means: "a matter adjudged; a thing judicially acted upon or decided; a thing or matter settled by judgment". Section 11 CPC engrafts this doctrine with a purpose that

"a final judgment rendered by a court of competent jurisdiction on the merits is conclusive as to the rights of the parties and their privies, and, as to them, constitutes an absolute bar to a subsequent action involving the same claim, demand or cause of action". (See Black's Law Dictionary at pp. 1304-05.)

25. However, the Hon'ble Supreme Court held in Escorts (Supra) that: -

"52. Proceedings under the Ceiling Act are not adversarial as are proceedings in suit. The Ceiling Act is a legislation to give effect to the directive principles contained in clauses (b) and (c) of Article 39 of the Constitution. The State is advised by the directive principles contained in the Constitution to take necessary legislative measures so as to ensure social justice by equitable distribution of ownership and control of material resources and avoid concentration of wealth and means of production in a few hands. The laudable social objective sought to be achieved by the ceiling legislation is to take surplus land from the holders and distribute the same to the landless agricultural labourers and peasants surviving on agriculture. In applying the principles of res judicata, therefore, to the ceiling proceedings, the object of the Act cannot be lost sight of. All principles of res judicata contained in Section 11 CPC cannot be strictly and rigorously made applicable to ceiling proceedings. Section 38-B introduced by the Amendment Act of 1976 with the transitory provisions made both in Amendment Act 18 of 1973 and Act 20 of 1976 is a departure from the provisions of Section 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure and indicates non-applicability of bar of res judicata in ceiling proceedings under the Act."

26. In S. Ramachandra Rao v. S. Nagabhushana Rao, 2022 SCC OnLine SC 1460, the Hon'ble Supreme Court explained the principles of Res Judicata as follows: -

22. The doctrine of res judicata, having a very ancient history, embodies a rule of universal law and is a sum total of public policy reflected in various maxims like 'res judicata pro veritate occipitur', which means that a judicial decision must be accepted as correct; and ' nemo debet bis vexari pro una et eadem causa', which means that no man should be vexed twice for the same cause. The ancient history of this doctrine and its consistent recognition could well be underscored with reference to the following statement of law in the case of Sheoparsan Singh v. Ramnandan Prasad Narayan Singh, AIR 1916 PC 78:—

"...But in view of the arguments addressed to them, their Lordships desire to emphasise that the rule of res judicata, while founded on ancient precedent, is dictated by a wisdom which is for all time.

"'It has been well said,' declared Lord Coke, 'interest reipublicoe ut sit finis litium, otherwise great oppression might be done under colour and pretence of law' ".- (6 Coke, 9 A.)

Though the rule of the Code may be traced to an English source, it embodies a doctrine in no way opposed to the spirit of the law as expounded by the Hindu commentators. Vijnanesvara and Nilakantha include the plea of a former judgment among those allowed by law, each citing for this purpose the text of Katyayana, who escribes the plea thus:"If a person though defeated at law sue again he should be answered, 'You were defeated formerly. This is called the plea of former judgment." [See "The Mitakshara(Vyavahara)," Bk. II, ch. I, edited by J. R. Gharpure, p. 14, and "The Mayuka," Ch. I, sec. 1, p. 11 of Mandlik's edition.] And so the application of the rule by the Courts in India should be influenced by no technical consideration of form, but by matter of substance within the limits allowed by law."

(emphasis in original)

* * *

25. It hardly needs any over-emphasis that but for this doctrine of res judicata, the rights of the persons would remain entangled in endless confusion and the very foundation of maintaining the rule of law would be in jeopardy. Even if this doctrine carries some technical aspects, as explained by this Court in Daryao (supra), it is in the interest of public at large that a finality should attached to the binding decisions of the Courts of competent jurisdiction; and it is also in public interest that individual should not be vexed twice with the same kind of litigation. As noticed, the Constitution Bench has placed this doctrine on a high pedestal, treating it to be a part of rule of law."

27. Since Section 38-B of the Act carves out an exception to the general principle of Res Judicata, the provisions of Section 38-B have to be interpreted strictly, keeping in view the other provisions contained in the Principal Act as also U.P. Act No. 20 of 1976, through which Section 38-B was inserted.

28. Section 38-B of the Act provides that no finding or decision given before the commencement of this section in any proceeding or on any issue (including any order, decree or judgment) by any court, tribunal or authority in respect of any matter governed by this Act, shall bar the retrial of such proceeding or issue under this Act, in accordance with the provisions of this Act as amended from time to time. A bare reading of the entire Section 38-B would indicate that it where a retrial is held in accordance with the provisions of the Act, any finding or decision given in any proceedings before commencement of Section 38-B would not bar the same. The exception to the general principle of Res-Judicata will apply only where a retrial is permissible in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

29. The Act permits redetermination of surplus land only after a trial of an issue within two years from the date of a Notification under Section 14(4) for rectifying any mistake, as provided in 13-A, or in circumstances mentioned in Section 29 (a) and (b). Section 38-B of the Act would be applicable to the situations covered by the aforesaid provisions of the Act only and it cannot be interpreted in a such a manner as would give a free hand to the authorities to ignore any finding recorded in any proceedings which have attained finality upto the Hon'ble Supreme Court and to initiate proceedings for redetermination of surplus land.

30. Section 19 (2) of the Amendment Act of 1972 contained a transitory provision permitting redetermination of surplus land of any tenure-holder in relation to whom the surplus land has been determined finally before the commencement of the Amendment Act of 1972.

31. Section 9 of the U.P. Act No. 2 of 1975 also contained a transitory provision which empowers the prescribed authority to redetermine the surplus land of a tenure-holder at any time within a period of two years from the commencement of Act No. 2 of 1975, determination of surplus land in respect of whom had been made under the principal Act before the commencement of Act No. 2 of 1975.

32. Section 31 (3) of U.P. Act No. 20 of 1976 also contained a transitory provision providing that where an order determining surplus land in relation to a tenure-holder has been made under the principal Act before 10.10.1975, the prescribed authority may, at any time within a period of two years from the said date, redetermine the surplus land in accordance with the principal Act as amended by Act No. 20 of 1976, at any time within a period of two years from the said date.

33. Thus it is clear that the intention of the legislature was to permit redetermination of surplus land only within a period of two years from the date of enforcement of U.P. Act No. 20 of 1976, i.e.10.10.1975 and that too, if it was necessitated by the amendments incorporated in the Act. The authorities under the Act have not been given unfettered powers to ignore any finding order passed in earlier proceedings

34. The notice under Section 10(2) of the Ceiling Act was issued to Sri Randhir Verma on 16.12.1979 by clubbing the holdings which had already been transferred by his father Bindra Prasad through various sale-deeds executed in the year, 1957. By means of an order dated 05.04.1982, the Prescribed Authority declared an area of 842 Bighas 18 Biswa 3 Biswansi 9 Kachwansi in terms of irrigated land to be surplus land of the petitioners' father Randhir Verma, but that order passed by the Prescribed Authority was set aside by an order dated 11.01.1983 passed by II Additional District Judge, Lucknow in Miscellaneous Civil Appeal No. 176 of 1982. The State of U.P. filed a Writ Petition No. 407 of 1983 against the aforesaid order dated 11.01.1983, which was dismissed in limine by means of an order dated 25.01.1983. The petitioners' father Randhir Verma filed Writ Petition No. 431 of 1983 and the transferees, who had purchased the land from Bindra Prasad in the year, 1957, filed Writ Petition No.2323 of 1983. Both the writ petitions were allowed by a common judgment dated 10.10.1984, the notice dated 26.12.1979 issued by the Prescribed Authority under Section 10(2) of the Ceiling Act and all the proceedings arising therefrom, were quashed and a mandamus was issued commanding the opposite parties to restore the entries in the revenue records in favour of the persons who had purchased the land from Sri Bindra Prasad. The State filed a Special Leave Petition (Civil) No. 2128 of 1985 changing the aforesaid order dated 10.10.1984 and the aforesaid SLP was dismissed by means of an order dated 12.08.1985.

35. In the present case, no circumstances exist justifying the redetermination of surplus land of the petitioners. The proceedings for redetermination of the surplus land of the petitioners has been initiated on 06.01.1999, i.e. long after the period of two years mentioned in Section 31 (3) of U.P. Act No. 20 of 1976, which is not permissible in law. Now it is not open to the State to ignore the aforesaid order dated 11.01.1983 passed by II Additional District Judge, Lucknow in Miscellaneous Civil Appeal No. 176 of 1982, which was affirmed by this Court and by the Hon'ble Supreme Court and this is not permissible by Section 38-B of the Act.

36. Therefore, the initiation of fresh proceedings and the order for fresh determination is unsustainable in law.

37. Accordingly, the Writ Petition is allowed. The notice dated 06.01.1999 issued by the Prescribed Authority/Additional Collector (Administration), Lucknow under Section 10(2) of the Ceiling Act and the entire proceedings initiated by the aforesaid notice are hereby quashed. The parties will bear their own costs of litigation.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1588
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 23.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SHREE PRAKASH SINGH, J.

Writ C No. 2553 of 2024

C/M Ram Dularey Yadav Higher Secondary School & Anr. ...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Dileep Kumar Mishra

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Suresh Chandra Tiwari

Civil Law – Impugned order renewing the registration certificate-at the behest of respondent-no opportunity of hearing to the petitioner-principles of natural justice violated-opportunity of hearing-major and essential ingredient-test of any decision of an authority-principle of audi alteram partem-applicable on all administrative, judicial or quasi-judicial actions-person affected by it-must be heard before a decision is taken-principle not followed-impugned order quashed-petition allowed. (Paras 21, 22 and 23)

HELD:
The Hon'ble Apex Court, time and again has held that the opportunity of hearing is one of the major and essential ingredients so as to make a test of any decision of an authority. The decision might be administrative, judicial or quasi-judicial, but person affected must be heard before a decision is taken. (Para 21)

The issue has rightly been settled in case of Managing Director, ECIL, Hyderabad & ors.vs B. Karunakar & ors.by a Constitutional Bench of the Apex Court reported in (1993) 4 SCC 727 and subsequently, law rendered in State Bank of India & ors.Vs Rajesh Agarwal & ors.reported in (2023) 6 SCC 1 regarding the principle of 'audi alteram partem. (Para 22)

Petition allowed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. Managing Director, ECIL, Hyderabad & ors.vs B. Karunakar & ors., (1993) 4 SCC 727

2. State Bank of India & ors.Vs Rajesh Agarwal & ors., (2023) 6 SCC 1

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shree Prakash Singh, J.)

1. Heard Sri Dileep Kumar Mishra, learned counsel for the petitioners, Sri Shailendra Kumar Singh, learned Chief Standing Counsel and Sri Piyush Kumar, learned Standing Counsel for the State, Sri Suresh Chandra Tiwari, learned counsel for opposite party no. 4 and perused the material placed on record.

2. By means of the present petition, the petitioner has assailed the order dated 12th December 2023 passed by the Deputy Registrar, Firms, Society and Chits, Lucknow Region Lucknow. Further, a writ in the nature of mandamus is also sought for commanding the respondent to accept the original papers of the petitioner's Committee of Management, for renewal of the registration certificate of the society.

3. Factual matrix of the case is that Sri Ram Dularey Lal Yadav, Higher Secondary School Society (hereinafter referred to as 'society') was got registered in the year 1966. The society has its own by-laws for functioning and managing the affairs of the society, as such the rules and regulation of the Society Registration Act, 1860 (hereinafter referred as 'Act, 1860') are fully applicable on the petitioner's society. As per the by-laws of the society, the term of Committee of Management is three years and it is said that the election of the Committee of Management is regularly held and the list of office bearers of the society including the list of member of the general body was also sent time to time by the Manager of the society.

4. The election of Committee of Management were held in year 2006, 2009 and 2010 and the requisite records/documents were also sent before the Deputy Registrar, in accordance with the provision of Section 4 of the Act, 1860.

5. It is said that in the election held on 20th December 2009, late Laxman Singh Yadav was elected as President of Committee of Management and Bahadur Singh Chandel was the Manager. On, 30 March 2010, Laxman Singh Yadav died, thereafter, Committee of Management, wrote resolution dated 11th May 2010 and proposed the election of President, wherein, Veer Singh Chandel was proposed to be the President and when Raj Bahadur Singh, the then Manager of Committee of Management died on 23rd October 2012, on 16th December 2022, the petitioner no. 2, namely, Veer Singh Chandel was elected as Manager and all the proceedings were submitted, consequently, on 27th December 2022. The petitioner applied for renewal of the registration of society which was renewed on 27th December 2012, whereafter, on 10th January 2013, opposite party no. 4, who was never inducted as a member, made false complaint before opposite party no. 2, with a prayer to deputy registrar, not to proceed on the election proceeding of the petitioners' society held on 20th December 2009 and to cancel the list of office bearers of Committee of Management of year 2012?13 , the Deputy Registrar stayed the implementation of the election of Committee of Management.

6. Being aggrieved with the order dated 11th January 2023, petitioner filed writ petition no. 507 (MS) of 2013 before this Hon'ble Court and vide order dated 24th January 2013, the operation of the order dated 11th January 2013 passed by the Deputy Registrar, Firms, Society and Chits, Lucknow Region Lucknow was stayed. Whereafter, the term of the Committee of Management completed and the new election held on 10th October 2015, as per the procedure prescribed in the by-laws. Thereafter, the petitioner submitted the application on 19th March 2017 for renewal of the registration certificate before the Deputy Registrar, which was prepared on 5th July 2016. It is also submitted that the original copy of the renewal certificate is with the petition no. 2.

7. Election of the Committee of Management was consecutively held after completion of three years of the tenure i.e., on 10 October 2018, and all the papers were sent to the office of the Deputy Registrar and when on 24th October 2019, the petitioner submitted all the proceeding before the Deputy Registrar for registration of list of office bearers of Committee of Management, no action was taken and therefore, contempt petition was preferred bearing Contempt Petition No. 1644 of 2020, wherein, the notice was issued to the respondent-authority and as soon as the notice was issued, the Deputy Registrar approved the election proceeding dated 10th October 2015 and 10th October 2018.

8. After expiry of term of renewal of registration of the society, the petitioner submitted an application through online on 28.11.2020 for renewal of registration certificate and also submitted the requisite fee as prescribed under Section 3?A of the Act, 1860 and further submitted the requisite papers/documents on 25.11.2021 and 21.12.2021, which was properly furnished in the office of the Deputy Registrar by the petitioner no. 2 and thereafter, on 10th October 2023, and on subsequent dates, the petitioner personally appeared before the Deputy Registrar for submission of original records, but the Deputy Registrar ignored every request of the petitioner, rather the petitioner was misbehaved by the officials of the office of the Deputy Registrar and all of sudden without associating the petitioner, the Deputy Registrar vide impugned order dated 19th December 2023, issued the renewal certificate on the basis of the papers submitted by the opposite party no. 4.

9. Contention of the counsel for the petitioner is that the impugned order dated 19th December 2023 has been passed by the Deputy Registrar without affording proper opportunity of hearing to the petitioners and that too in illegal and arbitrary manner and against the provision of Act, 1860. He further added that as per the by-laws, the term of the Committee of Management is prescribed as three years and the election of Committee of Management has regularly been held and time and again the list of the members as well as the office bearers of the society were sent to the office of Deputy Registrar, as prescribed under the provision of the Act, 1860.

10. Further contention of the counsel for the petitioner is that the opposite party no. 4 has never been inducted as member of society, though, he has fraudulently shown himself to be the member of the society by submitting a forged membership receipt, shown to be issued by the then President of the society, though, no proceeding regarding the induction of membership of the opposite party no. 4 is placed on record and except apart the alleged membership receipt, there is no proof/evidence, that under what circumstances the petitioner is inducted as member of the society?

11. Adding his argument, he summits that the Deputy Registrar while proceeding with the renewal of the registration of society accepted the fabricated document, submitted by the opposite party no. 4 and did not allow the petitioner to submit the original records, which is in custody of the petitioner no. 2. He also added that after concluding the proceeding on 17.07.2023, the Deputy Registrar kept on writing to the petitioner to submit the record as if the proceeding are going on and all these act of the Deputy Registrar is camouflaging and not permissible under the law.

12. Further submission is that the opposite party no. 4 could not substantiate while filing the counter affidavit that how he has been inducted as a member and he has failed to controvert the pleadings of the writ petition, therefore, submission is that the order impugned passed by the Deputy Registrar is unlawful and erroneous, and the same maybe quashed.

13. Counsel appearing for the opposite parties have opposed the abovesaid contentions and submitted that opposite party no. 4 has been inducted as a member in year 2010 and a membership receipt has also been issued, which is endorsed by the then President, who is the authority to issue such receipt, under the by-laws of the society. He further added that the opposite party no. 4, being the son of the then Manager, is claiming his right as if there is any right of inheritance on the post of Manager of Committee of Management of the society, though, the by-laws specifically speaks about the provision of induction of the members in the society and by adopting those provision, the opposite party no. 4 has been inducted as a member and thereafter, since he was having the original records and thus, he produced the same and on his production of his records, the renewal of the registration of the society is done by the Deputy Registrar in a right and proper way, which is in consonance with the provision of Act, 1860, as well as the by-laws of the society.

14. He further added that since, the disputed question of fact are raised and therefore, the petitioner, if aggrieved, may challenge this order before the Civil Court and it is not amenable to the Writ Jurisdiction under Article 226 of Constitution of India.

15. Concluding his arguments, he submits that since there is no force in the contention and subject matter, raised/preferred by the petitioners and therefore, the petition is liable to be dismissed.

16. Considering upon the submissions of the counsel for the parties and after perusal of the available records, including the original record placed before this Court, it emerges that a dispute arose when one Rakesh Kumar Gupta, i.e., opposite party no. 4, claiming him to be the Manager of Committee of Management of the society, submitted the documents before the Deputy Registrar and sought the renewal of the registration of the society, whereafter, the same was controverted by the petitioners while stating that the opposite party no. 4 has never been inducted as a member of the society and therefore, he is a stranger and the renewal of the society on furnishing the paper by the opposite party no. 4, annexing therewith the list of general body and the expenditure of financial year 2009?10 and 2011?12 is impermissible. The matter went up to the Coordinate Bench of the Court, whereafter, the Deputy Registrar decided the matter vide order dated 19th December 2023, which is under challenge in the instant petition. The petitioner no. 2, claiming him to be the duly inducted member and the Manager of Committee of Management of the society, while outrightly rejecting the claim of the opposite party no. 4, as member of the society, while placing the membership receipt bearing no. 648 dated 23rd October 2010, issued by the then President of society. As per the provisions of by-laws, the President can utilise the power of the treasurer and thus, it is stated that the opposite party No.4 is a validly inducted member of the society.

17. The crux of the issue is that without affording opportunity of hearing to the petitioners, the order dated 19th December 2023 has been passed.

18. When this court examines the above said, in facts and law, it emerges from the order-sheet of the original record that on 17th January 2023, the then Deputy Registrar heard the matter finally and closed the proceeding, and the judgement was reserved, but, from perusal of the further proceedings, carried out by the present Deputy Registrar, it does not transpires that when the matter was fixed for re-hearing, though, on two occasions a formality is done while calling the original records from the parties, however, by what means the petitioners are communicated, is not evident from the order-sheet. Simply the question arises that once the proceeding was closed and it was not open for further hearing, there was no occasion for calling the original record.

19. It is specific case of the petitioners that proper and fair opportunity has not been afforded to the petitioners, and once the petitioners appeared in person to submit the original records to the Deputy Registrar, the Deputy Registrar has denied to accept, for the reasons best known to him. It is not understandable that why the petitioners would restrain themselves to deposit the original records to the office of Deputy Registrar, if it was in fact called for? and that too in the event that the proceedings were earlier closed vide order dated 17th January 2023; meaning thereby that the present Deputy Registrar was merely doing the formality and nothing else.

20. It is a trite law that if any action/order is of a civil consequence, then opportunity of hearing is must to the affected persons. This court is also not unmindful to the law that if there is disputed question of fact or there can be two possible views, the same is not amenable to the writ jurisdiction, but so far as the present case is concerned, prima facie, there seems to be lack of rules of principle of natural justice as after the hearing was over, and the judgement was reserved by the Deputy Registrar, the records were sought without putting the matter for further hearing and as per the contention of the petitioners, prior to 17th January 2023 also, the proper opportunity of hearing was not accorded to the petitioners.

21. The Hon'ble Apex Court, time and again has held that the opportunity of hearing is one of the major and essential ingredient so as to make a test of any decision of an authority. The decision might be administrative, judicial or quasijudicial, but person affected must be heard before a decision is taken.

22. The issue has rightly been settled in case of Managing Director, ECIL, Hyderabad and others vs B. Karunakar and Others by a Constitutional Bench of the Apex Court reported in (1993) 4 SCC 727 and subsequently, law rendered in State Bank of India and Others Vs. Rajesh Agarwal and others reported in (2023) 6 SCC 1 regarding the principle of 'audi alteram partem'.

23. Paragraph 36 of the abovesaid judgement is quoted hereinunder:-

"36. We need to bear in mind that the principles of natural justice are not mere legal formalities. They constitute substantive obligations that need to be followed by decision-making and adjudicating authorities. The principles of natural justice act as a guarantee against arbitrary action, both in terms of procedure and substance, by judicial, quasi-judicial, and administrative authorities. Two fundamental principles of natural justice are entrenched in Indian jurisprudence: (i) nemo judex in causa sua, which means that no person should be a judge in their own cause; and (ii) audi alteram partem, which means that a person affected by administrative, judicial or quasi- judicial action must be heard before a decision is taken. The courts generally favor interpretation of a statutory provision consistent with the principles of natural justice because it is presumed that the statutory authorities do not intend to contravene fundamental rights. Application of the said principles depends on the facts and circumstances of the case, express language and basic scheme of the statute under which the administrative power is exercised, the nature and purpose for which the power is conferred, and the final effect of the exercise of that power."

24. In view of the aforesaid submissions and discussions, this Court is of considered opinion that the proper and fair opportunity of hearing has not been afforded to the present petitioners, as is evident, from the original records of the society produced before this Court. Further, the settled proposition of law has also materially been ignored. Consequently, the writ petition is hereby allowed and the impugned order dated 19.12.2023 is quashed.

25. Matter is relegated back to the Deputy Registrar concerned to proceed with the matter a fresh, after hearing all the stakeholders, while providing them opportunity of hearing and the decision shall be taken within a period of three months.

26. The original certificate shall be submitted by the opposite party No. 4 before the Deputy Registrar, within a week, if he has received it, already.

27. Office is directed to return the original records to counsel for the State.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1593
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 16.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK CHAUDHARY, J.
THE HON'BLE OM PRAKASH SHUKLA, J.

Writ C No. 7368 of 2006

U.P. Power Corporation Ltd. ...Petitioner
Versus
Central Electricity Regulatory Commission & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
D.D. Chopra, Divyam Krishna, Shailesh Verma

Counsel for the Respondents:
I.B. Singh, Madhumita Bose, Rekha Nigam

(A) Electricity Law - The Electricity Act, 2003 - Section 61 - Tariff regulation , Section 62 - Determination of tariff , Section 63 - Determination of tariff by bidding process , Section 178 - Power of central commission to make regulations - Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (Terms and Conditions of Tariff) (First Amendment), Regulations, 2006 - Regulation 5A - Provisional Tariff - Law should be consonant with principles of faith and reason - Delegated legislation, including regulations, should not conflict with principal legislation - Regulations should be harmonious with the statutes they are formulated under - The Electricity Act of 2003 provides the statutory framework for regulations. (Para - 9)

(B) Electricity Law - The Electricity Act, 2003 - Section 62(6) - If any licensee or a generating company recovers a price or charge exceeding the tariff determined under this section, the excess amount shall be recoverable by the person who has paid such price or charge along with interest

equivalent to the bank rate without prejudice to any other liability incurred by the licensee. (Para -5)

Section 62(6) and Regulation 5A Conflict - Section 62(6) states interest equivalent to bank rate chargeable for price or charge exceeding tariff - Regulation 5A stipulates simple interest at 6% per annum for adjustment - Regulation 5A contradicts Section 62(6), which equates interest rate to bank rate - Quashing Regulation 5A of Central Electricity Regulatory Commission - Declares regulation ultra-vires and inconsistent with Electricity Act, 2003. (Para - 2,7)

HELD:-Central Electricity Regulatory Commission did not have any power to provide any different rate of interest in its regulations for adjustment which is at variation from the amount payable under Section 62 of the Act of 2003. Regulation 5A to the extent of fixation of payable interest for amounts to be adjusted under Section 62 of the Act of 2003, being in direct conflict with Section 62(6) of the Act of 2003 is declared ultra-vires and is quashed.(Para - 10,11)

Petitions allowed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:

1. Sukhdev Singh Vs Bhagatram Sardar Singh Raghuvanshi, (1975) 1 SCC 421

2. General Officer Commanding-in-Chief Vs Subhash Chandra Yadav, (1988) 2 SCC 351

3. St. Johns Teachers Training Institute Vs Regional Director, NCTE, (2003) 3 SCC 321

4. Newspapers Ltd. Vs St. Industrial Tribunal, U.P. & Ors., 1957 SCC Online SC 32

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vivek Chaudhary, J.
&
Hon'ble Om Prakash Shukla, J.)

1. Heard Sri D.D. Chopra, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Shailesh Verma, learned counsel representing the UPPCL-petitioner, Ms. Madhumita Bose, learned counsel for respondent no.1-CERC and Ms. Rekha Nigam, learned counsel for respondent no.2-NTPC.

2. Present writ petition is filed by U.P. Power Corporation Limited (UPPCL) against the Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (CERC) and NTPC Limited. Though, number of reliefs are sought in the present writ petition, however, Sri D.D. Chopra, learned Senior Counsel for the petitioner confines his prayer to relief 'ia' of the writ petition only and states that he is not pressing any other relief except the aforesaid relief 'ia'. The relief 'ia' of the writ petition reads under:-

"ia. Issue an appropriate writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing Regulation 5A of Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (Terms and Conditions of Tariff) (First Amendment), Regulations, 2006 (the impugned regulations) be declaring it to be ultra-vires and not consistent with the provisions of Electricity Act, 2003 only to the extent the same provides for payment of simple interest at 6% per annum."

3. Learned counsel for petitioner states that Regulation 5A of Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (Terms and Conditions of Tariff) (First Amendment), Regulations, 2006 (hereinafter referred to as 'Regulations of 2006') is directly in conflict with Section 62(6) of the Electricity Act, 2003 (hereinafter referred to as 'Act of 2003').

4. Opposing the same, both the counsel for respondents submit that there is no illegality in the regulations.

5. Section 61 of the Electricity Act provides that appropriate commission shall, subject to the provision of this Act, specify the terms and conditions for the determination of tariff. Section 62 of the Electricity Act, 2003 reads as follows:-

"62. Determination of tariff.—(1) The Appropriate Commission shall determine the tariff in accordance with the provisions of this Act for—

(a) supply of electricity by a generating company to a distribution licensee: Provided that the Appropriate Commission may, in case of shortage of supply of electricity, fix the minimum and maximum ceiling of tariff for sale or purchase of electricity in pursuance of an agreement, entered into between a generating company and a licensee or between licensees, for a period not exceeding one year to ensure reasonable prices of electricity;

(b) transmission of electricity;

(c) wheeling of electricity;

(d) retail sale of electricity:

Provided that in case of distribution of electricity in the same area by two or more distribution licensees, the Appropriate Commission may, for promoting competition among distribution licensees, fix only maximum ceiling of tariff for retail sale of electricity.

(2) The Appropriate Commission may require a licensee or a generating company to furnish separate details, as may be specified in respect of generation, transmission and distribution for determination of tariff.

(3) The Appropriate Commission shall not, while determining the tariff under this Act, show undue preference to any consumer of electricity but may differentiate according to the consumer's load factor, power factor, voltage, total consumption of electricity during any specified period or the time at which the supply is required or the geographical position of any area, the nature of supply and the purpose for which the supply is required.

(4) No tariff or part of any tariff may ordinarily be amended, more frequently than once in any financial year, except in respect of any changes expressly permitted under the terms of any fuel surcharge formula as may be specified.

(5) The Commission may require a licensee or a generating company to comply with such procedures as may be specified for calculating the expected revenues from the tariff and charges which he or it is permitted to recover.

6) If any licensee or a generating company recovers a price or charge exceeding the tariff determined under this section, the excess amount shall be recoverable by the person who has paid such price or charge along with interest equivalent to the bank rate without prejudice to any other liability incurred by the licensee."

6. Section 178 of the Act of 2003 empowers the Central Commission to make rules for carrying out the provisions of the Act. In exercise of such powers, Central Electricity Regulatory Commission had notified Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (Terms and Conditions of Tariff) Regulations, 2004 (Regulations of 2004). Further, by notification dated 01.06.2006, the Central Electricity Regulatory Commission amended the said regulations by inserting Regulation 5A, after Regulation 5 of the principal Regulations of 2004. Regulation 5A reads as follows:-

"5A. Provisional tariff: Provisional tariff or provisional billing of charges, wherever allowed by the Commission based on the application made by the generating company or the transmission licensee or by the Commission on its own motion or otherwise, shall be adjusted against the final tariff approved by the Commission.

Provided that where the provisional tariff charged exceeds the final tariff approved by the Commission under these regulations, the generating company or the transmission licensee, as the case may be, shall pay simple interest @ 6% per annum, computed on monthly basis, on the excess amount so charged, from the date of payment of such excess amount and up to the date of adjustment.

Provided further that where the provisional tariff charged is less than the final tariff approved by the Commission, the beneficiaries shall pay simple interest @ 6% per annum, computed on monthly basis on the deficit amount from the date on which final tariff will be applicable up to the date of billing of such deficit amount.

Provided also that excess/deficit amount along with simple interest @ 6% shall be adjusted within three months from the date of the order failing which the defaulting utility/beneficiary shall be liable to pay penal interest on excess/deficit amount at the rate as may be decided by the Commission."

7. The simple submission made by counsel for petitioner is that while Section 62(6) specifically provides that interest equivalent to bank rate shall be chargeable at the time of recovery of a price or charge exceeding the tariff determining under the said section, while regulation 5A provides that while adjusting the said amount simple interest at the rate 6% per annum shall be payable. On the face of it, Regulation 5A is directly in conflict with the Section 62(6) which specifically provides that the interest rate would be equivalent to the bank rate.

8. In the present case, the regulations are framed under the Act of 2003 and they can not be in conflict with any provision of Act of 2003. Suffice is to refer to the decision in 5 Judges Bench of Supreme Court in case of Sukhdev Singh v. Bhagatram Sardar Singh Raghuvanshi, (1975) 1 SCC 421. In paragraph-18 the Court held:-

"18. The authority of a statutory body or public administrative body or agency ordinarily includes the power to make or adopt rules and regulations with respect to matters within the province of such body provided such rules and regulations are not inconsistent with the relevant law. In America a "public agency" has been defined as an agency endowed with governmental or public functions. It has been held that the authority to act with the sanction of Government behind it determines whether or not a governmental agency exists. The rules and regulations comprise those actions of the statutory or public bodies in which the legislative element predominates. These statutory bodies cannot use the power to make rules and regulations to enlarge the powers beyond the scope intended by the legislature. Rules and regulations made by reason of the specific power conferred on the statute to make rules and regulations establish the pattern of conduct to be followed. Rules are duly made relative to the subject-matter on which the statutory bodies act subordinate to the terms of the statute under which they are promulgated. Regulations are in aid of the enforcement of the provisions of the statute. Rules and regulations have been distinguished from orders or determination of statutory bodies in the sense that the orders or determination are actions in which there is more of the judicial function and which deal with a particular present situation. Rules and regulations on the other hand are actions in which the legislative element predominates." (emphasis added)

In General Officer Commanding-in-Chief v. Subhash Chandra Yadav, (1988) 2 SCC 351. In paragraph-14 the Court held:-

"14. This contention is unsound. It is well settled that rules framed under the provisions of a statute form part of the statute. In other words, rules have statutory force. But before a rule can have the effect of a statutory provision, two conditions must be fulfilled, namely, (1) it must conform to the provisions of the statute under which it is framed; and (2) it must also come within the scope and purview of the rule-making power of the authority framing the rule. If either of these two conditions is not fulfilled, the rule so framed would be void. The position remains the same even though sub-section (2) of Section 281 of the Act has specifically provided that after the rules are framed and published they shall have effect as if enacted in the Act. In other words, in spite of the provision of sub-section (2) of Section 281, any rule framed under the Cantonments Act has to fulfil the two conditions mentioned above for their validity. The observation of this Court in Jestamani Gulabrai Dholkia v. Scindia Steam Navigation Company [AIR 1961 SC 627 : (1961) 2 SCR 811] relied upon by Mr Aggarwal, that a contract of service may be transferred by a statutory provision, does not at all help the appellants. There can be no doubt that a contract of service may be transferred by statutory provisions, but before a rule framed under a statute is regarded a statutory provision or a part of the statute, it must fulfil the above two conditions. Rule 5-C was framed by the Central Government in excess of its rule-making power as contained in clause (c) of sub-section (2) of Section 280 of the Cantonments Act before its amendment by the substitution of clause (c); it is, therefore, void."(emphasis added)

In St. Johns Teachers Training Institute v. Regional Director, NCTE, (2003) 3 SCC 321. In paragraph-10 the Court held:-

"10. A regulation is a rule or order prescribed by a superior for the management of some business and implies a rule for general course of action. Rules and regulations are all comprised in delegated legislations. The power to make subordinate legislation is derived from the enabling Act and it is fundamental that the delegate on whom such a power is conferred has to act within the limits of authority conferred by the Act. Rules cannot be made to supplant the provisions of the enabling Act but to supplement it. What is permitted is the delegation of ancillary or subordinate legislative functions, or, what is fictionally called, a power to fill up details. The legislature may, after laying down the legislative policy confer discretion on an administrative agency as to the execution of the policy and leave it to the agency to work out the details within the framework of policy. The need for delegated legislation is that they are framed with care and minuteness when the statutory authority making the rule, after coming into force of the Act, is in a better position to adapt the Act to special circumstances. Delegated legislation permits utilisation of experience and consultation with interests affected by the practical operation of statutes. Rules and regulations made by reason of the specific power conferred by the statutes to make rules and regulations establish the pattern of conduct to be followed. Regulations are in aid of enforcement of the provisions of the statute. The process of legislation by departmental regulations saves time and is intended to deal with local variations and the power to legislate by statutory instrument in the form of rules and regulations is conferred by Parliament. The main justification for delegated legislation is that the legislature being overburdened and the needs of the modern-day society being complex, it cannot possibly foresee every administrative difficulty that may arise after the statute has begun to operate. Delegated legislation fills those needs. The regulations made under power conferred by the statute are supporting legislation and have the force and effect, if validly made, as an Act passed by the competent legislature." (Emphasis added)

In Newspapers Ltd. Vs. State Industrial Tribunal, U.P. And Others, 1957 SCC Online SC 32. In paragraph-19 the Court held:-

"19....The cardinal rule in regard to promulgation of by-law or making rules is that they must be legi fidei rationi consona, and therefore all regulations which are contrary or repugnant to statutes under which they are made are ineffective..." (Emphasis added)

9. The principle of law is well settled that law should be consonant with principles of faith and reason, delegated legislation such as regulations framed under an Act, cannot be in conflict with its principal legislation. Regulations need to be consistent and harmonious with the statutes under which they are formulated. The Electricity Act of 2003 provides the statutory framework within which regulations are enacted, and any regulations promulgated must be aligned with and not contradict the provisions of the principal legislation.

10. Counsels for the respondents could not explain the said conflict between the regulation and section. Bank rate is variable and is based upon large number of considerations. The legislature in its best wisdom has provided the same to be charged while adjusting the amount, therefore, the respondent no.1 Central Electricity Regulatory Commission did not have any power to provide any different rate of interest in its regulations for adjustment which is at variation from the amount payable under Section 62 of the Act of 2003.

11. Thus, the said Regulation 5A to the extent of fixation of payable interest for amounts to be adjusted under Section 62 of the Act of 2003, being in direct conflict with Section 62(6) of the Act of 2003 is declared ultra-vires and is quashed.

12. The writ petition succeeds and is allowed.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1598
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 13.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SHEKHAR B. SARAF, J.

Writ Tax No. 1348 of 2022

M/s Ace Manufacturing Systems Limited ...Petitioner

Versus

State of UP & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Peitioner:
Atul Gupta, Prakhar Shukla

Counsel for the Respondents:

(A) Tax Law - Presence of mens rea for evasion of tax is a sine qua non for imposition of penalty - Mens Rea: A Jurisprudential Principle in Taxation - Mens rea, or the presence of a guilty mind, is a prerequisite for penalty imposition - protects individuals' rights from arbitrary governmental authority - emphasizes procedural fairness in taxation - Balances regulatory enforcement and individual rights, promoting transparency and accountability. (Para -9)

Petitioner's Over Dimensional Cargo (ODC) Case - Cargo declared as ODC - Authorities ruled - faster travel and quick destination disqualify vehicle as ODC - penalty(tax) imposed on ODC goods against the petitioner - aggrieved by seizure order - penalty order - appellate orders - hence petition. (Para - 1,2)

HELD:- Petitioner's penalty based on assumptions and conjectures, contradicting a departmental circular that asserts that taxing ODC goods that traveled at a faster speed is not a valid basis for imposing such taxes. Writ of certiorari issued against orders quashed and set-aside. Consequential reliefs to follow. Respondents directed to return security and penalty paid within six weeks. (Para - 8,10,11)

Petition allowed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:

1. Girish & Co. Vs St. of U.P. & ors., Writ Tax No.897 of 2019

2. M/s Hindustan Herbal Cosmetics Vs St. of U.P. & ors., Writ Tax No.1400 of 2019

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shekhar B. Saraf, J.)

1. This is a writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India wherein the petitioner is aggrieved by the seizure order dated October 23, 2021, penalty order dated October 29, 2021 and the appellate orders dated April 16, 2022 and July 22, 2022.

2. The case of the petitioner herein is that the cargo being transported had been declared as Over Dimensional Cargo (hereinafter referred to as 'the ODC'). However, the authorities in the instant case concluded that since the goods had travelled at a faster speed and reached the destination quickly, the vehicle cannot be categorised as the ODC.

3. The counsel appearing on behalf of the petitioner submits that the respondent authorities did not undertake the task of calculating the height of the goods which clearly would have indicated that the goods would be classified as the ODC since the same were 13.9 feet above the ground. Counsel on behalf of the petitioner also relied on a circular issued by the Commissioner, State Tax dated January 17, 2024, which states in paragraph 2.4 as follows:-

"2.4 स्पष्ट है कि Over Dimensional Cargo का निर्धारण उपरोक्त प्रावधानों के दृष्टिगत किया जाना अपेक्षित होगा। ब्अमत क्पउमदेपवदंस ब्ंतहव से संबंधित वाहन होने के दशा में केवल इस आधार पर अभिग्रहण किया जाना है कि ऐसे किसी वाहन के नियम 138(10) के अधीन विहित अधिकतम दूरी एवं समय सीमा की तुलना में कम समय से अधिक दूरी तय की है विधिक रूप से उचित नहीं है। अतः उपरोक्त प्रकार के प्रकरणों में माल तथा वाहन का अभिग्रहण किया जाना सिवाय उस स्थिति के जहॉ आलोच्य वाहन द्वारा उपरोक्तानुसार प्राप्त अधिक समयावधि का प्रयोग समान
प्रपत्रों के आधार पर माल के पुनर्परिहवन हेतु किया जा रहा है, उचित नहीं है"

4. In the above circular, it has also been pointed out that a vehicle other than a double decked transport, the vehicle height of which exceeds 3.8 meters, would be classified as the ODC.

5. Counsel on behalf of the petitioner has submitted that 3.8 meters amounts to 12.46 ft whereas in the case of the petitioner the height of the goods was 13.8 ft.

6. Counsel on behalf of the respondents submits that the speed at which the goods have travelled clearly indicates that the vehicle cannot be categorised as ODC.

7. The above submission of the counsel on behalf of the respondents cannot be accepted as the circular issued by the Commissioner clearly indicates that the speed of a vehicle is not a criterion to decide the nature of the Cargo. It is to be further noted that the other documents in the vehicle i.e. invoice, e-way bill and bilty were all in order and matched with the goods in question. The sole reason for imposing penalty in the present case is the fact that the goods had travelled at a fast speed, and therefore, according to the authorities could not be categorised as the ODC.

8. In my view, the entire premise on the basis of which penalty has been imposed against the petitioner is based on surmises and conjectures and is also against the departmental circular that clearly indicates that imposition of tax on the ODC goods that had travelled at a faster speed is not a tenable ground.

9. In the present case, the entire imposition of penalty is based on surmises and conjectures without there being any basis or finding with regard to intention to evade tax. One may rely upon the judgments of this Court in the case of Girish and Company vs. State of U.P. and others (Writ Tax No.897 of 2019, Neutral Citation No.-2024:AHC:9778) and M/s Hindustan Herbal Cosmetics vs. State of U.P. and others (Writ Tax No.1400 of 2019, Neutral Citation No.-2024:AHC:209) where it has been held that presence of mens rea for evasion of tax is a sine qua non for imposition of penalty.

9. The imposition of penalties on the petitioner rests on shaky ground, devoid of any substantive basis or findings indicating an intention to evade tax. This deficiency in evidentiary support undermines the legitimacy of the penalties and raises questions about the procedural fairness of the administrative actions taken against the petitioner. In the absence of concrete evidence demonstrating wilful misconduct or deliberate intent to circumvent tax obligations, the imposition of penalties appears arbitrary and unjustified.

9. The jurisprudential principle that mens rea, or the presence of a guilty mind, is a prerequisite for imposition of penalties holds immense significance. It serves as a bulwark against the arbitrary exercise of governmental authority and safeguards the rights of individuals against unwarranted punitive measures. Its application in the realm of taxation underscores the importance of ensuring procedural fairness. By requiring the establishment of mens rea as a prerequisite for penalty imposition, the legal framework strikes a delicate balance between regulatory enforcement and individual rights, thereby fostering transparency and accountability in the administration of tax laws.

9. The mere fact that the goods in question were transported at a faster speed does not constitute sufficient grounds for penalization, in light of the departmental circular explicitly excluding transit speed as a criterion for classification. The reliance on speculative assumptions and conjectural reasoning to justify the imposition of penalties is antithetical to the principles of fairness and equity that underpin the rule of law. Moreover, the arbitrary imposition of penalties without any discernible basis undermines the credibility and integrity of the tax administration system. It erodes public trust in the fairness and impartiality of governmental actions and fosters a perception of arbitrariness and caprice. Such actions not only prejudice the rights of the affected parties but also undermine the legitimacy of the regulatory framework as a whole, casting doubt on the efficacy and reliability of tax enforcement mechanisms.

10. The rationale behind the mens rea requirement is twofold. Firstly, it serves to preserve the integrity of the legal system by distinguishing between inadvertent errors and intentional misconduct. By requiring evidence of wilful intent, it ensures that penalties are reserved for those who deliberately flout the law, thereby safeguarding against unjust punishment and preserving public confidence in the fairness of the tax regime. Secondly, the mens rea requirement acts as a deterrent against tax evasion, signalling to taxpayers that deliberate non-compliance will be met with severe consequences. The prospect of facing penalties serves as a powerful disincentive for individuals and entities tempted to engage in fraudulent or deceitful conduct, thereby promoting voluntary compliance with tax laws and fostering a culture of accountability and transparency. In the absence of wilful intent, penalties lose their deterrent effect and instead become arbitrary exercises of state power, subjecting innocent taxpayers to undue hardship and injustice. It is imperative that penalty imposition be grounded in sound reasoning and substantive evidence of wilful misconduct.

10. In light of the above, the instant writ petition is allowed. Accordingly, let there be a writ of certiorari issued against the orders dated October 23, 2021, October 29, 2021, April 16, 2022 and July 22, 2022. The said orders are quashed and set-aside. Consequential reliefs to follow.

11. The respondents are directed to return the amount of security and penalty paid by the petitioner within six weeks from the date of this order. There shall be no order as to the costs.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1601
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 21.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAHUL CHATURVEDI, J.
THE HON'BLE MOHD. AZHAR HUSAIN IDRISI, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 1686 of 2019
With
Criminal Misc. Application U/S 372 CR.P.C
(Leave to appeal) No. 106 of 2019

Sajid ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
Satish Kumar Tyagi, Nanhe Lal Tripathi, Perdeep Kumar Vishnoi, Ramesh Kumar Pandey, Syed Ahmed Faizan, Zaheer Asghar

Counsel for the Respondent:
G.A., Mohd. Afzal, Satish Kumar Mishra

(A) Criminal Law - The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Section 374(2) - Appeal ,Section 372 - No appeal to lie unless otherwise provided , Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section 498A, 307/34, 323/34 - The Dowry prohibition Act, 1961 - Section 4 - Judicial Propriety and Trial Judge's Pick-and-Choose Decision - Judges should make decisions with an open mind, not preconceived notions - court must ensure compatibility with the accused's financial status. (Para -35,44)

Two criminal appeal - one against conviction - another against acquittal of co-accused persons - to reverse finding - accord suitable sentences - demand of dowry - Appeal Determination - Prosecution's Paradigm Shift - Prosecution's shift towards ulterior motives - Alleged plot purchase not mentioned in FIR or 161 Cr.P.C. statement - Half-hearted introduction of this angle during prosecution witnesses' examination - Shahjad Ali's financial capability for plot purchase questioned - Hyperbole used by prosecution without cogent basis or reason - Trial Judge's Pick-and-Choose Decision - Choosing facts in conflict with pre-determined conclusion - Booked husband causing grave injustice. (Para - 3, 33,35)

HELD:- Trial Judge qualitatively selected those part of the testimonies, which suits their legal judicial conscious and book the husband (Sajid) for the offence. Judgement and sentence against husband erroneous and lopsided . Conviction and sentence quashed.(Para - 45,46)

Acquittal of Nazakat, Smt. Jaitoon, and Zakir. Trial judge's reasoning correct. No interference in exercise of power under Section 372 Cr.P.C. Application for special leave to appeal rejected. (Para - 47)

Criminal Appeal No. 1686 of 2019 ALLOWED

Criminal Appeal No. 106 of 2019 REJECTED (E-7)

List of Cases cited:

1. Ram Das Vs St. of Mahaa. , AIR 1977 (SC) 1164

2. V.L.Tresa Vs St. of Kerala , (2001)3 SCC 549

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rahul Chaturvedi, J.
&
Hon'ble Mohd. Azhar Husain Idrisi, J.)

1. Heard Sri S.F.A. Naqvi, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Syed Ahmad Faizan, Zaheer Asghar, Ms. Fatma Anjum and Sri Munawar Hussain, learned counsel for the appellants, Sri Mohd. Afzal, learned counsel for the first informant assisted by Sri Kushagra Srivastava, Sri Shahrukh, Advocates, Sri Ghanshyam Kumar and Satyendra Tiwari, learned AGA-I for the State.

2. Argument heard at length to the satisfaction of learned counsel for the parties.

3. The aforesaid criminal appeals are --- (i) Criminal Appeal No. 1686 of 2019 (Sajid Vs. State of U.P., is only on behalf of the accused Sajid, a convicted accused for the offence under Section 498A, 307/34, 323/34 IPC and Section 4 of the D.P.Act and therefore the present appeal is under Section 374(2) Cr.P.C. assailing the legality and validity of the judgement and order dated 12.02.2019 passed by Additional Sessions Judge/ FTC, Hapur, whereby accused Sajid was sentenced under Section 498A, three years R.I. and a fine of Rs. 3000/- along with default clause, under Section 307/34 IPC for ten years R.I. and a fine of Rs. 10,000/- along with default clause, and Section 4 of the D.P.Act, two years R.I. and a fine of Rs. 3,000/- along with default clause AND (ii) Criminal Appeal No. 106 of 2019 on behalf of Shahjad Ali, the informant, who is assailing the aforesaid judgement and order dated 12.02.2019 whereby the learned trial judge has recorded the acquittal of the remaining co-accused persons, namely, Zakir, Smt. Jaitoon and Nazakat under Sections 498A, 307/34, 323/34 IPC and Section 4 of the D.P.Act to reverse the finding and accord suitable sentence to them.

4. Since subject matter of both the appeals, is the judgement and order dated 12.02.2019 passed by Additional Sessions Judge/ FTC, Hapur while deciding the S.T.

No. 1333 of 2013 and the same set of evidence has to be examined & appreciated in both the appeals, therefore for the sake of brevity and convenience, both these appeals are being decided by a common judgement.

5. Needless to mention here, that same set of counsel are assisting the Court in deciding the aforesaid appeals and thus we have heard the learned counsel of both the sides representing their respective parties of the appeals to their satisfaction.

6. The paper book of the appeal is ready and the counsel for both the sides have advanced their submissions and the judgement was reserved.

7. Before appreciating the merit of the case, it is imperative to give a bare skeleton facts of the case to appreciate the controversy involved, which are :-

(i) For the incident of 29.07.2012, the informant Shahjad son of Mushtaq lodged an FIR on 30.07.2012 at 12.15 p.m., which was registered as Case Crime No. 234 of 2012 under Section 498A, 307, 323 IPC and Section 3/4 of D.P.Act against (a) Sajid(husband) son of Nazakat Ali, (b) Nazakat Ali (father-in-law), (c) Smt. Jaitoon(mother-in-law) w/o Nazakat Ali and (d) Zakir Ali(Dewar) son of Nazakat Ali.

(ii) As per the allegation made in the FIR, informant's daughter Nazrana got married about 15 months back with Sajid of Village Vait as per the Muslim Rites and rituals.

(iii) In this marriage the informant has spent Rs. 51,000/- in cash, a motorcycle, ornaments of gold and silver and other household goods of wood and iron.

(iv) Dissatisfied by the dowry given to her daughter, all the family members including Sajid, Nazakat Ali, Jaitoon and Zakir Ali used to target her daughter for bringing scanty dowry and she was constantly subject of cruelty and maltreatment and sometimes they used to manhandle her. This has caused lot of frustration and agony to her daughter. There was a constant demand of a four wheeler and Rs. 2,00,000/- by way of additional dowry. On 29.07.2012, they have committed a maar-peet with her. After getting the information, the informant, Pradhan Nawab and Intezaam went to village Vait, where they were informed that the in-laws have committed maar-peet with her and she has sustained injury over her hand. Informant and others have tried to pacify the situation and came back.

(v) As soon as they came back, they come to know that all the named accused persons after pouring oil upon her set her ablaze. Though she has not died but was taken to Meerut,where she informed that all of them have tried to kill her by burning her. After setting her fire all the accused persons fled away from the place and the informant is engaged in treatment of her daughter and that is how there is delay in lodging the FIR, whereby the FIR was case crime no. 234 of 2012, under Section 498A, 307, 323 IPC and Section 4 of D.P.Act, P.S. Simbhawali, District Hapur.

8. As a natural outcome here, that after registering the FIR the case was entrusted to the police for the investigation and the police after holding a indepth probe into the matter has submitted a charge sheet against all the named accused persons on 19.09.2012 under Section 498A, 307, 323 IPC and Section 3/4 D.P.Act.

9. The learned Magistrate has taken the cognizance of the offence and being a cognizable offence the case was committed to the court of sessions for its trial.

10. It is worthwhile to mention here that all the accused persons were bailed out, but the learned trial judge have framed charges against all of them them under Section 498A, 307/34, 323/34 IPC and Section 3/4 D.P.Act and explained to them to which they have denied and insisted to be tried.

11. To establish their case, the prosecution have produced PW-1 Shahjad, PW-2 Nazrana (the injured), PW-3 Pushpendra Kumar, PW-4 Dr. Rajkumar, PW-5 S.I.-Tribhuvan and PW-6 Udaiveer Singh. In addition to above from the side of prosecution five documents were produced, which were duly exhibited during trial.

12. Syed Farman Ali Naqvi, learned counsel for the appellant in his introductory argument have stated that this is the exclusive case whereby the prosecution have changed its stand at every step casting the serious doubts about the veracity and authenticity of the prosecution case. The prosecution have magnified the unfortunate incident of burning to manifold just to falsely implicate the accused-appellant by levelling an omnibus and general role to all of them. Since the informant is not an eye witness to the incident, and therefore, driven by instinct of taking revenge from his opponents have collected the materials from various quarters and magnified it and tried to tailor a bogus story of dowry related harassment to his daughter Nazrana. It is also contended by learned counsel for the appellant that these solemn provision of IPC has been grossly misused by the unscrupulous litigants by inserting and adding different angles to any how tangle the accused persons in this dowry related prosecution. It has been further submitted that the injured witness Nazrana/PW-2 was dancing on the tune of her father-informant/PW-1, who cooked up a story after collecting feed back from her.

13. In this regard learned counsel for the appellant have drawn the attention of the Court to the testimony of prosecution witnesses of fact, namely, PW-1 Shahjad Ali, PW-2 Nazrana (the injured) and PW-3 Pushpendra Kumar. Let us discuss the broad features of their testimonies one by one.

14. PW-1 Shahjad is not an eye witness. He states that he is labour by profession, who got her daughter married on 29.05.2011 by spending money according to his capacity but there is demand of four wheeler and Rs. 2 lacs. On this score, her daughter was a constantly a target of tangent and castic remarks by her in-laws. Thereafter, in his examination-in-chief, he added yet another angle for the first time that, a demand was made to purchase a plot in the name of her daughter, consequently after 14-15 days of her marriage a 90 yards plot was purchased from Jaywanti Rajesh Kumar costing him Rs. 1.90 lacs by her father-PW-1. After purchase of this plot the in-laws were silent for 5-6 months, but again they have started maltreating her and consequently yet another plot was purchased by him at village Vait ad-measuring 200 yards for Rs. 50,000/- in the name of her daughter, this plot was purchased from Wakila wife of Khilafat. This angle of purchase of two plots came out of Blue without any background, rather abruptly.

15. After one month on 29.07.2012 again they have started committing maar-peet with her daughter and subsequent narration of the fact, is identically similar to the FIR. From the aforesaid, it is clear that the role of catching hold was attributed to Nazakat (father-in-law) and Mst. Jaitoon (mother-in-law) and pouring the oil was attributed to Zakir Ali (Dewar) and Sajid was given a role of setting her ablaze. Since he was busy with her daughter's treatment and therefore he could not come earlier to lodge the FIR, the scribe of this FIR is Intezaam Ali.

16. In cross examination, PW-1 was completely exposed when he states that he was a motor mechanic and earned Rs. 18,000-20,000/- per month as his monthly income and his income was not a regular one. At this juncture, it is worthwhile to mention here that, PW-2 Nazrana (the injured) in her cross examination states that she is having seven brothers and sisters. Thus in fact, the PW-1 has got responsibility to feed ten mounts every day and Nazrana PW-2 is his eldest married daughter.

17. It has been candidly stated in his cross examination that there was no demand of dowry prior to or at the time of marriage. She visited her parent's place for three times during her marital life. But she has never made any complaint to her parent or to the police.

18. At this juncture, it has been candidly argued by Sri S.F.A.Naqvi by drawing the attention of the Court to the PW-1 that, this story of purchasing of two plots in the name of Nazrana came for the first time in the examination-in-chief of PW-1. This story was neither in the FIR nor in the 161 Cr.P.C. statements of the informant or Mst. Nazrana. At this juncture it has been argued by learned counsel for the appellant, a person (PW-1) who claims himself that he is motor mechanic by profession and earns Rs. 18,000-20,000/- per months on irregular basis, it is beyond his capacity and means to purchase two plots in a quite succession in the name of his daughter. This angle is an after thought and just to create more a serious look to the entire prosecution story. It is unthinkable that PW-1 who is father of seven sons and daughters would spend this hefty amount only in the marriage of one daughter, seems to be highly improbable and unrealistic.

19. It is further pointed out by Sri Naqvi, learned Senior Counsel that those two sale deeds dated 14.06.2011 and 16.03.2012 were never produced by the prosecution witness or exhibited during the trial by the prosecution casting a serious doubt about the authenticity and veracity of this submission.

20. During the cross examination, it has been accepted by PW-1 that regarding the alleged incident of fire they have received information around 12 in the day on 29.07.2012 and reached to the hospital at 3.45 p.m. where they met their daughter. She was in the emergency ward but none of her in-laws were present along with her. She remain there in the hospital for three days. PW-1 has denied the suggestion that she has received the thermal injuries while cooking meals. Besides this, he also pleaded ignorance as to who has got her admitted in the hospital.

21. Learned Senior Counsel has drawn the attention of the Court to the injury report which was duly exhibited and annexed as Page-6 of the paper book that as per the doctor opinion that she has sustained a 40% thermal burn injury over anterior part of her her body and it is her own dewar Zakir Ali who has got her admitted in the hospital at the first stroke.

22. From the testimony of PW-4 Rajkumar Agarwal in which he has categorically stated that it was Zakir

(Dewar), who carried his Bhabhi (Mst. Nazrana) to the hospital. Though the injured Mst. Nazrana in her examination-in-chief have categorically stated that Zakir (Dewar) has poured oil upon Mst. Nazrana (injured) and her husband (Sajid) has set her ablaze. The allegation upon Zakir and his later conduct to carry her Bhabhi (Mst. Nazrana) to the hospital are incompatible. In this regard, learned counsel for the appellant has relied upon the judgement of Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Ram Das Vs. State of Maharashtra reported in AIR 1977 (SC) 1164 , The relevant extract of the judgement is quoted herein below:-

"9. The next circumstance on which great reliance was placed by the High Court was the fact that the accused immediately took the deceased to the Civil Hospital which, according to the High Court, was meant merely to cloak his guilt. We are indeed surprised that the High Court should have taken such a perverse view of the matter. If the accused had himself administered the poison to Shantabai he would be the last person to take her to the Hospital and thereby take the chance of the deceased being cured or of regaining consciousness, in which case the deceased would have implicated the appellant The conduct of the accused in rushing her to the hospital is more consistent with his innocence rather than with his guilt. The High Court instead of taking the circumstance as proving the good faith and bona fides of the accused drew the opposite inference. Furthermore, assuming that the High Court was right and that the accused went to the Hospital merely to cloak his guilt this may be one inference possible, but the other inference which is-equally reasonable was that the accused having found that his wife had taken poison and attempted to commit suicide took her to the hospital immediately so that she could be given proper medical aid and her life may be saved. In this state of the evidence, the High Court violated the rule of appreciation of circumstantial evidence in accepting only that inference which went against the accused and not entertaining the inference which proved his innocence and which, in our opinion, was more probable than the other."

In the light of the above observation made by the Hon'ble Apex Court, the past conduct of the accused appellant carries weight and his innocences in the offence cannot be ruled out. It is further submitted that from the testimony of the injured Mst. Nazrana, it is clear that her Dewar (Zakir) has allegedly actively participated in setting her ablaze but as mentioned above her Dewar (Zakir) carried her to the hospital and got her admitted in the Emergency Ward, which clearly indicates that he would be the last person who took her to the hospital and thereby take a chance of injured being cured or of regaining consciousness, in which case, the injured would have implicated the appellants. Towing the aforesaid observation made by Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of V.L.Tresa Vs. State of Kerala reported in (2001)3 SCC 549. The relevant extract of the judgement is quoted herein below:-

"The learned Sessions Judge however, came to a definite conclusion that the prosecution has not been able to adduce sufficient and reliable evidence that it was the accused and the accused alone who inflicted the fatal injury on Vincent resulting in his death. The Sessions Court reminding itself of the golden principles for having a proof beyond all reasonable doubt recorded: it cannot also be said that the evidence adduced by the prosecution will conclusively show that Vincent was a person of expensive habits or squandering money or was threatening or ill treating the wife and on a consideration of the totality of the evidence, came to the finding as noticed above against the prosecution. Three decisions of this Court namelyKali Ram v. State of Himachal Pradesh[1973 SCC (Crl.)1048]:Ramdas v. State of Maharashtra [1977 SCC (Crl.)254] andPrem Thakur v. State of Punjab[1983 SCC Crl.) 88] were strongly relied upon in arriving at the opinion that the accused cannot be found guilty of murdering her husband."

23. Now coming to yet another testimony, of Mst. Nazrana, PW-2, who claims herself to be the injured witness. She is now a re-married woman with some other person and mother of two kids. In the examination-in-chief she has reiterated the version of the FIR with the additional allegation of demand of dowry in the shape of Rs. 2 lacs and a four wheeler and thereafter she has underline and reiterated the testimony of her father, that after, 14-15 days of her marriage, her father has purchased a plot of 90 yards costing Rs. 1.90 lacs, thereafter her in-law remained silent for 5-6 months, which they again started demanding Rs. 2 lacs and a four wheeler, again his father has purchased yet another plot of 200 yards at village Vait costing to Rs. 50,000/-. On the fateful day i.e. 29.07.2012, they have committed maar-peet with her around seven in the morning and she has informed her father about the incident. His father responded to the call and thereafter tried to pacify the situation. While she was washing cloths, her fahter-in-law came to her on the false pretext, that her child is crying as soon as she entered into the room Nazakat and Smt. Jaitoon caught her hold of her and Devar Zakir poured kerosene oil upon her and Sajid lit the match to eliminate her. On raising the alarm the co-villagers assembled and extinguished the fire. Thereafter she was extended threat by her in-laws for a dire consequences, if she reveals anything to her father. She has been treated for three days at Meerut Hospital and thereafter shifted to Safdarganj Hospital at Delhi. Her father has taker her to Safdarganj Hospital, Delhi. The entire medical expenses were borne by her father.

24. In her cross-examination, she states that she is seven brothers and sisters and out of which she is eldest one. Her father was a motor mechanic and she is unaware of about his income. She states that there was no demand of any dowry or either prior to or during her marriage, but after the marriage they have started demanding additional dowry. She further states that at her in-laws place there is a manual furnace (Choolha) and during the interruption of electricity Dhibri is being used. The oil was poured anterior side of her body under the neck causing burn to the entire area as well as her hand and neck. After the incident she became unconscious. So far as the purchase of plots are concerned, in her examination-in-chief, she has revealed this fact to the court, for the first time. Neither in the FIR nor in 161 Cr.P.C. statement she has made any whisper about this angle of the story. When I.O. came to her, she was perfectly sound and healthy mental stage but she did not disclose this fact to the I.O.. It is further mentioned that during the subsistence of her marriage neither she has shared any complaint with her parent nor any complaint was lodged in this regard to the police.

25. In her cross-examination, she has denied to the suggestion that she was exerting pressure upon her husband. She is unaware of the fact that Sajid has filed any suit for cancellation of sale deed executed by her regarding her 200 yards of land.

26. PW-4 Dr. Rajkumar Agarwal, who treated the injured in his examination-in-chief states that on 29.07.2012 he was posted as Physician at Arjun Hospital, L-Block, Meerut and at that time around 3.45 p.m. Smt. Nazrana came to her with thermal burn injury of 40% anterior part of the body over her chest and abdomen and he has treated her. In his cross examination, he states that she was carried to Arjun Hospital by her own dever Zakir, one of the accused. There is no reference in the record as to how many days she was in the hospital or she was stinking with the kerosene oil or any other oil. She was not talking and under the semi conscious condition. Her hairs were not burnt and as mentioned above, she was burned about 40%. Responding to the suggestion, if somebody in the stage of heated passion one can pour oil upon her on her own and set herself to fire. Various formal witnesses both the I.Os. were examined and they have narrated the investigation.

27. After closing the prosecution witnesses the accused Sajid has recorded his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. in which he states that he is also a labourer and to the question that he has committed the offence of setting her wife ablaze narrating the entire incident about the plot purchase, demand of four wheeler and Rs. 2 lacs and thereafter setting her ablaze. He categorically denied the allegation levelled upon her by making a mention that it is he, who have purchased the plot for her and the entire sale consideration was made by him or by his Sasural. He has further denied that no body has set her ablaze as alleged in the FIR. It was her parent and in-laws got her admitted in the hospital. He and his father Nazakat was not present at the time of incident.

28. Responding to the allegation that after 14-15 days of her marriage, her father has got purchased ad-measuring 90 yards after paying sale consideration of Rs. 1.90 lac/- and second plot of 200 years at village Vait for the amount of Rs. 50,000/-. He has denied point blank that he has ever committed any dowry related harassment with her. Sajid has purchased afore mentioned two plots in the name of his wife after taking the benefit of Govt. Policy that if any immovable property is purchased in the name of his wife, there is a discount of 2% in Stamp Duty in the sale deed. He has not a author of the incident and under the pressure of her father, the present FIR came into existence. It was further revealed by Sajid accused that since the financial condition of her father-in-law was not good and therefore, his wife Nazrana have sold out the plot ad-measuring 200 yards to some other person in a clandestine way. After this fact came to the knowledge he has filed a sale cancellation suit before the competent civil court. Almost on the same lines Nazakat Ali, Mst. Jaitoon and Zakir recorded their respective 313 Cr.P.C. statement.

29. And lastly Sajid Ali, DW-1 son of Wakila and Matloob, DW-2 this statement were recorded. The Court has gone through the testimonies of DW-1 and DW-2, which is literally an eye opener. Sajid in his testimony states that her mother Wakila agreed to sell out a plot over khasra no. 756 with Sajid, the accused for a sale consideration of Rs. 50,000/- and this amount was received to him on behalf of Wakila. Since there is a discount of 2% in the sale deed as p er government policy, if the sale deed is executed in the name of a lady. Under the circumstances Sajid has got the sale deed executed in the name of his wife Nazrana. The original sale deeds were produced which was duly identified by him that he identified the thump impression and photograph of her mother Wakila. He further states that the sale deed was executed right in front of him and this sale deed was executed on 16.03.2012 in favour of Nazrana by Wakila after taking the sale consideration of Rs. 50,000/- from Sajid.

30. Yet another DW-2 Matloob in his testimony in which he has clearly indicates that the family unit of Sajid and Nazrana is quite distinct and different whereas his father resides in some other court. It is further states Sajid have purchased a plot in the name of his wife Nazrana about 15-20 days after his marriage and second plot was purchased after 6-7 months of marriage. He has never any quarrel between Sajid and Nazrana or by her in-laws. DW-2 Matloob resides in neighbourhood of Sajid. It is also borne out from the testimony of DW-2 that this division of family occurred 15-20 days after the marriage. Though the prior to marriage it was a joint family. He has lend Rs. 30,000/- to Sajid to purchase a plot.

31. After the conclusion of the prosecution witness, 313 Cr.P.C. statement and the testimony of the defence witnesses was over, the judgement under challenge for judicial scrutiny was pronounced on 12.02.2019.

32. We have gone through the every word of the judgement.

33. The moot point of the determination of the present appeal is that, there is paradigm shift in the stand of the prosecution with ulterior motive and purpose. There was not a whisper of the alleged purchase of plot in the FIR nor 161 Cr.P.C. statement. For the first time, this angle was introduced during the examination-in-chief of the prosecution witnesses, that too half heartedly. Neither the sale deed of alleged plot purchased by the informant's Shahjad Ali was produced nor financially he was capable of purchasing two plots successively, keeping in view his meagre earning of Rs. 18,000-20,000/- per month when he has already seven sons and daughter to his responsibility. This fact itself indicate the hyperbole used by the prosecution without any cogent basis or reason.

34. Per contra DW-1 Sajid Ali and DW-2 Matloob were examined and they have produced Paper No.37 and Paper No. 38, their identity card, Paper No. 39 Kha, identity card of Smt. Nazrana and Paper No. 41 original sale deed dated 16.03.2012 and Paper No. 42 Original Sale deed of 14.06.2011 in favour of Nazrana. Besides this, Paper No. 43 Ka was certified copy of sale deed and Paper No. 44 Kha was a certified copy of sale deed dated 06.10.2012 was also produced. In addition to above, Paper No. 45 Kha, the document of OS No. 1 of 2016 (Sajid Vs. Smt. Nazrana) and Suit No. 155 of 2014 (Sajid Vs. Smt. Nazrana) were produced as a defence document. These document itself shows and clearly indicates that these two plots were purchased by Sajid, husband in the name of her wife Smt. Nazrana. There is nothing on record to establish the fact that the amount was given by the first informant Shahjad Ali as claimed by him. The learned trial judge has in paragraph 16 of the judgement have wrongly interpreted that these testimonies and after holding the absurd analysis came to a wrong conclusion.

35. It is a judicial propriety that the judge should decide a case with a open mind and not with a pre-conceived notion and thereafter, twist the testimonies whimsically to justify his conclusion. In the instant case, the learned trial judge has conducted an exercise of pick and have chosen those facts, which suitable and inconsonance with pre-determined conclusion to book the husband Sajid. This would lead to grave injustice to the husband.

36. In the instant case in paragraph 16, the learned trial judge have elaborately discussed the testimonies of DW's and the sale deed etc. into account but at Page 17 he has concluded that few days after the marriage Nazakat, Smt. Jaitoon and Zakir were separately resided and since they are separately residing, thus there is no question of demanding the additional dowry by them. To this extent, the conclusion given by the trial court is correct but later on, the learned trial court has wrongly interpreted after reading the testimony of DW-1 and DW-1 that these two plots were not purchased by Sajid, the husband ignoring the original sale deed which is on record.

37. In paragraph 17 of the judgement the learned trial judge after thrashing the various prosecution witnesses have come to the wrong conclusion that it was the Sajid, who poured the kerosene oil upon her wife and set her ablaze. This finding is tangent to the testimony of PW-4 Dr. Rajkumar Agarwal as he did not record any smell of kerosene oil upon the body of the injured.

38. Shahjad Ali and his daughter Nazrana dishonestly inserted the story of purchase of plot in the name of his daughter. Neither he has produced any sale deed or money transaction to establish this fact. Since those sale deed in the name of Nazrana by the two different sellers, the informant assumes this credit to him and painted this picture.

39. The entire controversy has erupted that Mst. Nazrana sold out one of the plot purchased by the appellant in her name and the appellant has filed two civil suit before the concerned competent civil court to declare the said sale deed null and void. The O.S. No. 155 of 2015 is pending before Civil Judge (S.D.) Hapur filed on 20.03.2014 and another sale deed dated 09.07.2012 was filed a suit no. 01 of 2016 (Sajid Vs. Nazrana) pending in the court of Civil Judge (S.D.), Hapur was sold by PW-2 to whom the plot in question was purchased by the appellant on 14.06.2012. Except the testimony of Nazrana there is no other supportive evidence against PW-1, who is not an eye witness. At the cost of repetition this theory of sale and purchase of plot has surfaced for the first time in the testimony of father Shahjad Ali, PW-1 and supported by his daughter Mst. Nazrana, PW-2.

40. The prosecution has cleverly hide the subsequent progress in the case when Nazrana sold out both the plots in a clandestine way and her husband have initiated the proceeding for cancellation of those sale deeds executed by Nazrana in favour of subsequent purchaser. Both the suit are pending for consideration. This incident has triggered the deep rooted discord and misunderstanding between husband and wife. Both the father and daughter have tried to twist and turn the facts of the case mercilessly, resultantly the entire testimony seems to be untrustworthy.

41. Admittedly, the only witness is the injured herself. Initially, the theory of a Car & Rs. 2.00 lacs were asked, but thereafter yet another angle of purchase of plots were added for the first time during trial. It is worthwhile to mention here that the lady Nazrana, the injured have conveniently digested the subsequent development i.e. one sold out the plot to some other person without taking her husband (Sajid) into confidence. This is the sole reason that Sajid have filed two suits for cancellation of those sale-deed, making Nazrana, the injured as defendant. Those proceedings are pending consideration.

42. The possibility of self immolation by Nazrana on account of the said civil proceedings cannot be ruled out completely. Out of sheer disgust, she might have poured oil upon her and set herself ablaze.

43. While deciding the case relating to the dowry harassment or even dowry death, the law courts are facing a novel feature, there is a exorbitant demand of the additional dowry by the accused persons to give a more serious and grim look to the entire incident. While jotting down the FIR the informant often oblivious of his own financial condition as well as the financial condition of his counter part. The Court is flabbergasted to see this new development in the recent days, it is unthinkable rather it would be mockery, that a person would demand a BMW or Audi Car from his counter part, who is a small roadside vendor or have meagre income. There has to be a financial compatibility with the demand made by the accused persons qua with his earning and financial status.

44. In the instant case as mentioned above, Shahjad Ali is a sole bread earner who in his own admission earns Rs. 18,000-20,000/- per month irregularly with ten mouths to feed by him. Under circumstances, he is benevolently purchasing plots after the plots in the name of her daughter, which is unthinkable and cannot be purchase with known source of income.

45. Learned Trial Judge in paragraph 16 and 17 of the judgement qualitatively selected those part of the testimonies, which suits their legal judicial conscious and book the husband Sajid for the offence.

46. Assessing the entirety of the circumstances of the case, we find that the judgement and the sentence awarded to Sajid is perse erroneous and lopsided and thus we have got no hesitation to quash the order of conviction and sentence awarded by the learned trial court vide judgement and order dated 12.02.2019. The appellant Sajid is set at liberty, if not wanted in any other case, the charges against him is hereby discharged and the sureties are also discharged, accordingly, the appeal stands ALLOWED.

Criminal Appeal (U/S 372 Cr.P.C.) No. 106 of 2019 (Shahjad Ali Vs. State of U.P. and others)

(Order on Application for Special Leave to Appeal)

47. The aforesaid appeal is concerned, we have elaborately discussed and thrashed the entire evidence material and the judgement and we find that the learned trial judge has rightly arrived the acquittal Nazakat, Smt. Jaitoon and Zakir from the charges under Section 498A, 307/34 IPC and Section 4 D.P.Act., the reasoning adopted by the learned trial judge is correct and do not warrant any interference in exercise of power under Section 372 Cr.P.C., accordingly, the application for special leave to appeal is hereby by rejected.

(Order on Memo of Criminal Appeal)

48. Since the special leave to appeal is hereby rejected, the criminal appeal under Section 372 Cr.P.C. also stands REJECTED.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1612
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 03.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE KRISHAN PAHAL, J.

Criminal Misc. Anticipatory Bail Application U/S 438 CR.P.C. No. 4188 of 2024

Sunil Kumar ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

Counsel for the Applicant:
Nipun Singh, Vivek Chaturvedi

Counsel for the Opposite Party:

(A) Criminal Law - The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Section 438 - anticipatory bail - Exceptional or Special Circumstances - High Court and Court of Session have concurrent jurisdiction for anticipatory bail under Section 438 Cr.P.C. - strong, cogent, compelling reasons and special circumstances must exist in justification of High Court being approached first - Court must consider these factors in each case, ensuring that the available avenues are exhausted before proceeding - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections420, 467, 468, 47 &, 120B (Para - 24)

Applicant being a public servant - no sanction to prosecute u/s 197 Cr.P.C. - no criminal antecedents to his credit. (Para - 27)

HELD:- An exception may be drawn in the instant case to entertain the anticipatory bail application directly by this Court without taking recourse to the provision u/s 438 Cr.P.C. at the District and Sessions Court. Applicant entitled to anticipatory bail in view of law laid down by Supreme Court in case of Sushila Aggarwal Vs. State (NCT of Delhi).(Para - 26,27)

Anticipatory bail application allowed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:

1. Arnesh Kumar Vs St. of Bihar, (2014)4SCC 273

2. Md. Asfak Alam Vs St. of Jharkh. & anr. , (2023)8SCC 632

3. Shivam Vs St. of U.P. & anr. , AIROnline 2021 All 484

4. Vinod Kumar Vs St. of U.P. , (2020) 2 All Cri. R 1562

5. Ankit Bharti Vs St. of U.P., 2020 SCC Online All 1949

6. Sushila Aggarwal Vs St. (NCT of Delhi), 2020 SCC online SC 98

(Delivered by Hon'ble Krishan Pahal, J.)

1. List has been revised.

2. Heard Sri Nipun Singh, learned counsel for the applicant as well as Sri Anit Kumar Shukla, learned A.G.A. for the State and also perused the record.

3. The present anticipatory bail application has been filed on behalf of the applicant in Complaint Case No. 2807 of 2020, under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471, 120B IPC, Police Station Jahangirabad, District Bulandshahr, with a prayer to enlarge him on anticipatory bail.

PROSECUTION STORY:

4. The informant moved an application before the S.S.P., Bulandshahar, alleging that his father Kadam Singh was having an electricity connection of 5 HP with service connection no. 0625/3251. The informant was in possession of the said tubewell and used to deposit the bill of the electricity consumed for running the said tubewell. The named accused persons Shyamveer and Dabbu @ Tirvesh, in collusion with the officials of the electricity department, got the said electricity connection transferred in the name of Smt. Shashi Kanta w/o Shyamveer and on 15.10.2019 at about 1.30 pm got the electricity line of the said tubewell disconnected. The informant is a practising advocate. He moved a Memorandum before the Executive Engineer, Vidyut Vitaran Khand Khand on 14.10.2019. The co-accused person Shyamveer is stated to be declared in village that he has got the said connection permanently disconnected in collusion with the employees of the Electricity Department. The crop of the informant is stated to have been destroyed as a result of the lack of irrigation. On 15.10.2019, the Executive Engineer, Jahangirabad, is stated to have asked the informant to move an application before the police.The FIR was instituted at Police Station Jahangirabad on 18.10.2019 at 4.00 pm.

ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANT:

5. Learned counsel has stated the informant herein is a practising advocate in the District Court Bulandshahar and the applicant has apprehension of being mistreated and manhandled at Sessions Court, that is why, he has moved the anticipatory bail application before this Court directly. It is next stated that there is no likelihood of him absconding.

6. Learned counsel for the applicant has stated that the applicant is maliciously being prosecuted in the present case due to ulterior motive and has the apprehension of his arrest. The applicant has nothing to do with the said offence as alleged by the prosecution. Learned counsel has next stated that opposite party no. 2, being the renowned advocate at District and Sessions Court, Bulandshahar, practising since 1981, therefore, the renowned Advocates practising at District and Sessions Court, Bulandshahar, have refused to contest and pursue the case on behalf of the applicant.

7. The enmity of informant with the applicant stands established from the fact that the applicant had passed the order of disconnecting the electricity connection of the opposite party no. 2 on 19.10.2019. It is next stated that the applicant is not named in the FIR. His name has come up later on during investigation, that too, at the behest of opposite party no. 2. The instant criminal proceedings have just been initiated against the applicant to harass him and to threaten him to get his service terminated by instituting other criminal cases against him. It is stated that he is being threatened by the opposite party no. 2 of dire consequences, whenever he appears in the present matter before the trial court.

8. Learned counsel has further stated that Smt. Shashi Kanta, the named accused person, had purchased 0.402 hectares of land in Gata no. 151, 115, 209, 147 from Rajeev Singh and Kapil Kumar S/o Mahendra Kumar of the several village through registered sale deed dated 2.6.2009. The co-accused person Smt. Shashi Kanta, had paid Rs. 15 thousand for the said tubewell, which fell in Gata no. 209, which stands mentioned in the aforesaid sale deed. The said sale deed has been annexed as Annexure-2 to the affidavit. The name of Smt. Shashi Kanta was mutated in Revenue records over the aforesaid Gate nos. 151, 115, 209, 147 without any objection, in which the tubewell finds mention in Khasra of 1425 Fasli year. A copy of the Khasra No.

1425 fasli year has been filed as Annexure-3 to the affidavit.

9. It is further argued that the named accused person Smt. Shashi Kanta had regularly paid bill of the said tubewell. The payment details of the tubewell connection has been filed as Annexure-4 to the affidavit.

10. It has been vehemently argued that the aforesaid tubewell connection was originally in the name of one Kadam Singh, who was engaged in the agricultural work at Khasra no. 209 on contractual basis. Thereafter, the said land situated in Khasra no. 209 was sold alongwith tubewell to the named accused person Smt. Shashi Kanta, by his owner Rajeev Singh and Kapil Singh, as such, Smt. Shashi Kanta moved an application before the Executive Engineer, Electricity Supply Khand, Jahangirabad, Bulandshahar, for transfer of the said tubewell connection in her name on account of her title. A copy of the application moved by the Smt. Shashi Kanta has been filed as Annexure-5 to the affidavit.

11. Pursuant to the said application, the electricity connection was transferred in the name of Smt. Shashi Kanta vide order dated 6.2.2019, which has been filed as Annexure-6 to the affidavit.

12. Learned counsel has further placed much reliance on the provisions of the Electricity supply Code, 2005, which are being reproduced as follows:-

"4.44 Transfer of Connection and Mutation of Names–

(a) A connection shall be transferred in the name of another person upon the death of the consumer or in case of transfer of ownership or occupancy of the premises, upon an application of the consumer.

(b) Application for mutation shall be filed, in the prescribed format, alongwith prescribed fee by the transferee or the legal heir or successor of the deceased consumer with the local office of the Licensee.

(c) The application shall be accompanied by documentary evidence of transfer or legal heir-ship or succession and proof of no arrears on account of electricity charges on that connection."

13. The said connection has been transferred in the name of Smt. Shashi Kanta after due procedure as prescribed in the Electricity Supply Code 2005. Smt. Shashi Kanta moved an application on 10.10.2019 seeking permanent disconnection of the aforesaid tubewell connection, as such, it was disconnected by the orders of the applicant dated 19.10.2019. The investigating officer had recorded the statement of the informant u/s 161 Cr.P.C. and there is no whisper of a single word against the applicant in the said statement.

14. It is further argued that the Assistant Engineer, Sub station Charora, has submitted a report in respect of the allegations made in the FIR stating therein that the land of the Gata no. 209 alongwith tubewell situated therein, has been transferred in favour of the aforesaid Smt. Shashi Kanta on 1.11.2019. The said report is filed as Annexure-10 to the affidavit.

15. Subsequent to it, the Lekhpal concerned had also submitted a report in respect of the allegations made in the FIR on 7.11.2019 thereby corroborating the statement of the Assistant Engineer, Sub station Charora. The said report of the Lekhpal has been filed as Annexure 11. The revenue inspector, Anoopshahr, has also confirmed the said report the same day i.e. 7.11.2019.

16. The opposite party no. 2 (informant) has filed a Civil Misc. Writ Petition No. 2733 of 2020 before this Court for getting the electricity connection restored. The said writ petition was disposed of vide order dated 13.7.2023 with liberty being granted to the informant to file a fresh representation before the concerned authority and the authorities were directed to decide the same within three weeks vide order dated 13.7.2023. The representation was made by the informant before the Executive Engineer, Paschimanchal Vidyut Vitran Nigam Limited, Jahangirabad, Bulandshahar, which was rejected after examining the grievances made by the informant vide order dated 11.12.2023.

17. The investigating officer filed a closure report in the said case, as such, the informant herein filed a protest petition before the C.J.M. concerned, who, vide order dated 16.3.2020 allowed the protest petition by treating it as a Complaint Case No. 2807 of 2020. After recording the statements of the witnesses u/s 200 and 202 Cr.P.C., the C.J.M., in a mechanical and arbitrary manner, summoned the applicant and others to face criminal trial vide order dated 2.1.2021. The applicant had challenged the said summoning order by filing a petition u/s 482 Cr.P.C. No. 7639 of 2022, which is still pending before this Court.

18. Learned counsel has further argued that the applicant has been summoned without taking recourse to Section 197 Cr.P.C., as there is no sanction to prosecute the applicant on record. The instant proceedings are, thus, abuse of the process of law and have been maliciously initiated in order to fulfil the nefarious designs of the informant. It is stated that the applicant being a public servant, has apprehension of his arrest and his unblemished career is at stake.

19. Several other submissions have been made on behalf of the applicant to demonstrate the falsity of the allegations made against him. The circumstances which, as per counsel, led to the false implication of the applicant have also been touched upon at length. In case, the anticipatory bail application of the applicant is allowed, he will not misuse the liberty and shall cooperate with trial. He has even cooperated during investigation, as such, he shall not be arrested during investigation.

20. Relying on its judgement passed in Arnesh Kumar Vs. State of Bihar1, the Supreme Court in Md. Asfak Alam Vs. State of Jharkhand and another2, has stated that once the charge-sheet was filed and there was no impediment, at least on the part of the accused, the court having regard to the nature of the offences, the allegations and the maximum sentence of the offences they were likely to carry, ought to have granted the bail as a matter of course. However, the court did not do so but mechanically rejected and, virtually, to rub salt in the wound directed the appellant to surrender and seek regular bail before the trial court. Thus, the High Court fell into error in adopting such a casual approach.

21. Learned counsel has further stated that the applicant was transferred from Jahangirabad, Bulandshahar on 3.1.2022 and is presently posted at District Ghaziabad and no notice of summons has been served to him, as such, he had no knowledge of the said summoning order dated 2.1.2021. The petitioner herein was never the title holder of the land or the tubewell connection in question herein, as such, the instant prosecution is an abuse of process of Court.

ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF STATE:

22. On the other hand, learned A.G.A. has vehemently opposed the prayer for grant of anticipatory bail on the ground that the applicant is not co-operating in trial and he has agitated the provisions of Section 482 Cr.P.C, as such, is not entitled for anticipatory bail in light of the judgement of this Court passed in Shivam Vs. State of U.P. and Another3.

23. In rebuttal, learned counsel for the applicant has stated that the petition u/s 482 Cr.P.C. qua the applicant is still pending. A copy of the order sheet and the status report of the said application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. have been filed as Annexure-21 to the affidavit, as such, the applicant is entitled for anticipatory bail.

CONCLUSION:

24. Dealing with the issue of exceptional or special circumstances to invoke the provisions of Section 438 Cr.P.C. directly before High Court, this Court in Vinod Kumar vs. State of Uttar Pradesh4, has opined as follows:

37. On a conjoint reading of the aforesaid two decisions, it is manifest that all that was intended was to put in place a rule of abstinence and require the individual to establish the existence of special and compelling circumstances constraining him to move the the High Court in the first instance. On an overall analysis of those decisions, it may, therefore, be conclusively held that while there exists no fetter or restriction upon the High Court entertaining an application under Section 438 Cr.P.C. directly it would ultimately depend upon the discretion of the Judge available to be exercised in the facts and circumstances of each case and upon finding special circumstances which warrant this Court to invoke its jurisdiction in the first instance rather than relegating the party to the Court of Sessions.

…

QUESTION D - Exceptional or Special Circumstances

39. Regard must be had to the fact that the Constitution Bench in Sibbia had an occasion to deal with the correctness of the restrictions as formulated by the Full Bench of the Punjab and Haryana High Court on the exercise of power under Section 438 Cr.P.C. Dealing with that aspect the Constitution Bench clearly held that the exercise of discretion as statutorily conferred cannot be confined in a straitjacket. This simply since it would be impossible to either prophesize or foresee the myriad situations in which the jurisdiction of the Court may be invoked. It was for the aforesaid reasons that the Constitution Bench held that this aspect must be left to the judgment and wisdom of the Court to evaluate and consider whether special circumstances exist or are evidenced by the facts of a particular case. The Court deems it apposite to extract the following paragraphs from the decision rendered by the Constitution Bench:-

"13. This is not to say that anticipatory bail, if granted, must be granted without the imposition of any conditions. That will be plainly contrary to the very terms of Section 438. Though sub-section (1) of that section says that the Court "may, if it thinks fit" issue the necessary direction for bail, sub-section (2) confers on the Court the power to include such conditions in the direction as it may think fit in the light of the facts of the particular case, including the conditions mentioned in clauses (i) to (iv) of that sub-section. The controversy therefore is not whether the Court has the power to impose conditions while granting anticipatory bail. It clearly and expressly has that power. The true question is whether by a process of construction, the amplitude of judicial discretion which is given to the High Court and the Court of Session, to impose such conditions as they may think fit while granting anticipatory bail, should be cut down by reading into the statute condition which are not to be found therein, like those evolved by the High Court or canvassed by the learned Additional Solicitor General. Our answer, clearly and emphatically, is in the negative. The High Court and the Court of Session to whom the application for anticipatory bail is made ought to be left free in the exercise of their judicial discretion to grant bail if they consider it fit so to do on the particular facts and circumstances of the case and on such conditions as the case may warrant. Similarly, they must be left free to refuse bail if the circumstances of the case so warrant, on considerations similar to those mentioned in Section 437 or which are generally considered to be relevant under Section 439 of the Code.

14. Generalisations on matters which rest on discretion and the attempt to discover formulae of universal application when facts are bound to differ from case to case frustrate the very purpose of conferring discretion. No two cases are alike on facts and therefore, courts have to be allowed a little free play in the joints if the conferment of discretionary power is to be meaningful. There is no risk involved in entrusting a wide discretion to the Court of Session and the High Court in granting anticipatory bail because, firstly, these are higher courts manned by experienced persons, secondly, their orders are not final but are open to appellate or revisional scrutiny and above all because, discretion has always to be exercised by courts judicially and not according to whim, caprice or fancy. On the other hand, there is a risk in foreclosing categories of cases in which anticipatory bail may be allowed because life throws up unforeseen possibilities and offers new challenges. Judicial discretion has to be free enough to be able to take these possibilities in its stride and to meet these challenges. While dealing with the necessity for preserving judicial discretion unhampered by rules of general application, Earl Loreburn, L. C. said in Hyman v. Rose : "I desire in the first instance to point out that the discretion given by the section is very wide..... Now it seems to me that when the Act is so express to provide a wide discretion,... it is not advisable to lay down any rigid rules for guiding that discretion. I do not doubt that the rules enunciated by the Master of the Rolls in the present case are useful maxims in general, and that in general they reflect the point of view from which judges would regard an application for relief. But I think it ought to be distinctly understood that there may be cases in which any or all of them may be disregarded. If it were otherwise, the free discretion given by the statute would be fettered by limitations which have nowhere been enacted. It is one thing to decide what is the true meaning of the language contained in an Act of Parliament. It is quite a different thing to place conditions upon a free discretion entrusted by statute to the court where the conditions are not based upon statutory enactment at all. It is not safe, I think, to say that the court must and will always insist upon certain things when the Act does not require them, and the facts of some unforeseen case may make the court wish it had kept a free hand."

15. Judges have to decide cases as they come before them, mindful of the need to keep passions and prejudices out of their decisions. And it will be strange if, by employing judicial artifices and techniques, we cut down the discretion so wisely conferred upon the courts, by devising a formula which will confine the power to grant anticipatory bail within a strait-jacket. While laying down cast-iron rules in a matter like granting anticipatory bail, as the High Court has done, it is apt to be overlooked that even judges can have but an imperfect awareness of the needs of new situations. Life is never static and every situation has to be assessed in the context of emerging concerns as and when it arises. Therefore, even if we were to frame a 'Code for the grant of anticipatory bail', which really is the business of the legislature, it can at best furnish broad guide-lines and cannot compel blind adherence. In which case to grant bail and in which to refuse it is, in the very nature of things, a matter of discretion. But apart from the fact that the question is inherently of a kind which calls for the use of discretion from case to case, the legislature has, in terms express, relegated the decision of that question to the discretion of the court, by providing that it may grant bail "if it thinks fit". The concern of the courts generally is to preserve their discretion without meaning to abuse it. It will be strange if we exhibit concern to stultify the discretion conferred upon the courts by law..

.....…

26. We find a great deal of substance in Mr. Tarkunde's submission that since denial of bail amounts to deprivation of personal liberty, the Court should lean against the imposition of unnecessary restrictions on the scope of Section 438, especially when no such restrictions have been imposed by the legislature in the terms of that section. Section 438 is a procedural provision which is concerned with the personal liberty of the individual, who is entitled to the benefit of the presumption of innocence since he is not, on the date of his application for anticipatory bail, convicted of the offence in respect of which he seeks bail. An overgenerous infusion of constraints and conditions which are not to be found in Section 438 can make its provisions constitutionally vulnerable since the right to personal freedom cannot be made to depend on compliance with unreasonable restrictions. The beneficient provision contained in Section 438 must be saved, not jettisoned. No doubt can linger after the decision in Maneka Gandhi that in order to meet the challenge of Article 21 of the Constitution, the procedure established by law for depriving a person of his liberty must be fair, just and reasonable. Section 438, in the form in which it is conceived by the legislature, is open to no exception on the ground that it prescribes a procedure which is unjust or unfair. We ought, at all costs, to avoid throwing it open to a Constitutional challenge by reading words in it which are not be found therein"

40. On an overall consideration of the above the Court is of the considered view that Harendra Singh when interpreted and understood in the manner indicated above, rightly balances the issues that arise. While it was urged that the aforesaid decision would be per incuriam the views expressed by our Full Bench in Onkar Nath Agarwal and the decision of the Constitution Bench in Sibbia, this Court finds no merit in that submission since as noted above, even Onkar Nath Agarwal had envisaged situations where the High Court may relegate parties to the Court of Sessions and refuse to invoke its jurisdiction. Insofar as Sibbia is concerned, it becomes relevant to bear in mind that the Constitution Bench was not dealing with the issue that arises for our consideration directly. The observations with regard to the exercise of discretion as appearing therein were entered in the context of the principles formulated by the Full Bench of the Punjab and Haryana High Court relating to the exercise of power under Section 438 itself. The issue of a self imposed restraint exercised by the High Court in light of the contemporaneous jurisdiction conferred on the Court of Session was not a question directly in issue. The argument of per incuriam is thus liable to be and is consequently rejected.

41. The legal position which consequently emerges is that notwithstanding the concurrent jurisdiction being conferred on the High Court and the Court of Session for grant of anticipatory bail under Section 438 Cr.P.C., strong, cogent, compelling reasons and special circumstances must necessarily be found to exist in justification of the High Court being approached first and without the avenue as available before the Court of Sessions being exhausted. Whether those factors are established or found to exist in the facts of a particular case must necessarily be left for the Court to consider in each case.

42. What would constitute "special circumstances" in light of the nature of the power conferred, must also be left to be gathered by the Judge on a due evaluation of the facts and circumstances of a particular case. It would perhaps be imprudent to exhaustively chronicle what would be special circumstances. As noticed above, it would be impossible to either identify or compendiously propound what would constitute special circumstances. Sibbia spoke of the "imperfect awareness of the needs of new situations". It is this constraint which necessitates the Court leaving it to the wisdom of the Judge and the discretion vested in him by statute. Without committing the folly of attempting to exhaustively enunciate what would constitute special circumstances or being understood to have done so, the High Court would be justified in entertaining a petition directly in the following, amongst other, circumstances:-

(A) Where bail, regular or anticipatory, of a coaccused has already been rejected by the Court of Sessions;

(B) Where an accused not residing within the jurisdiction of the concerned Sessions Court faces a threat of arrest;

(C) Where circumstances warrant immediate protection and where relegation to the Sessions Court would not subserve justice;

(D) Where time or situational constraints warrant immediate intervention. These and other relevant factors would clearly constitute special circumstances entitling a party to directly approach the High Court for grant of anticipatory bail.

...

...

55. In light of what has been held above, the Court records its conclusions on the questions formulated as under:-

A. Section 438 Cr.P.C. on its plain terms does not mandate or require a party to first approach the Sessions Court before applying to the High Court for grant of anticipatory bail. The provision as it stands does not require an individual first being relegated to the Court of Sessions before being granted the right of audience before this Court.

B. Notwithstanding concurrent jurisdiction being conferred on the High Court and the Court of Session for grant of anticipatory bail under Section 438 Cr.P.C., strong, cogent, compelling and special circumstances must necessarily be found to exist in justification of the High Court being approached first without the avenue as available before the Court of Sessions being exhausted. Whether those factors are established or found to exist in the facts of a particular case must necessarily be left for the Court to consider in each individual matter.

C. The words "exceptional" or "extraordinary" are understood to mean atypical, rare, out of the ordinary, unusual or uncommon. If the jurisdiction of the Court as conferred by Section 438 Cr.P.C. be circumscribed or be recognised to be moved only in exceptional situations it would again amount to fettering and constricting the discretion otherwise conferred by Section 438 Cr.P.C. Such a construction would be in clear conflict of the statutory mandate. The ratio of Harendra Singh must be recognised to be the requirement of establishing the existence of special, weighty and compelling reasons and circumstances justifying the invocation of the jurisdiction of this Court even though a wholesome avenue of redress was available before the Court of Sessions

D. What would constitute "special circumstances" in light of the nature of the power conferred, must be left to be gathered by the Judge on a due evaluation of the facts and circumstances of a particular case. It would be imprudent to exhaustively chronicle what would be special circumstances. It is impossible to either identify or compendiously postulate what would constitute special circumstances. Sibbia spoke of the "imperfect awareness of the needs of new situations". It is this constraint which necessitates the Court leaving it to the wisdom of the Judge and the discretion vested in him by statute.

E. While the Explanation may have created an avenue for an aggrieved person to challenge an order passed under Section 438(1), it cannot be construed or viewed as barring the jurisdiction of the High Court from entertaining an application for grant of anticipatory bail notwithstanding that prayer having been refused by the Court of Sessions.

F. Till such time as the question with respect to the period for which an order under Section 438 Cr.P.C. should operate is answered by the Larger Bench, the Court granting anticipatory bail would have to specify that it would continue only till the Court summons the accused based on the report that may be submitted under Section 173(2) Cr.P.C. whereafter it would be open for the applicant on appearance to seek regular bail in accordance with the provisions made in Section 439 Cr.P.C.

25. The aforesaid view has been affirmed by the Constitution Bench of this Court in Ankit Bharti v. State of U.P.5, and the following order was passed:

"20. We would consequently answer the Reference by holding that the decision in Vinod Kumar does not merit any reconsideration or explanation. As rightly held in that decision, there can be no exhaustive or general exposition of circumstances in which an applicant may be held entitled to approach the High Court directly. The Court would clearly err in attempting to draw a uniform code or dictum that may guide the exercise of discretion vested in the Court under Section 438 of the Criminal Procedure Code. The discretion wisely left unfettered by the Legislature must be recognised as being available to be exercised dependent upon the facts and circumstances of each particular case. The contingencies spelled out in Vinod Kumar as illustrative of special circumstances may, where duly established, constitute a ground to petition the High Court directly.

21. The special circumstances the existence of which have been held to be a sine qua non to the entertainment of an application for anticipatory bail directly by the High Court must be left for the consideration of the Hon'ble Judge before whom the petition is placed and a decision thereon taken bearing in mind the facts and circumstances of that particular cause. However special circumstances must necessarily exist and be established as such before the jurisdiction of the High Court is invoked. The application must rest on a strong foundation in respect of both the apprehension of arrest as well as in justification of the concurrent jurisdiction of the High Court being invoked directly. The factors enumerated in Vinod Kumar including (A) and (B) as constituting special circumstances do not merit any review except to observe that the existence of any particular circumstance must be convincingly established and not rest on vague allegations.

22. In light of the aforesaid, we answer the Reference as follows:-

Question (i) and (iv) clearly do not merit any elucidation for it is for the concerned Judge to assess whether special circumstances do exist in a particular case warranting the jurisdiction of the High Court being invoked directly. We answer Questions (ii) and (iii) in the negative and hold that Vinod Kumar does not merit any reconsideration or further explanation. It would be for the concerned Judge to form an opinion in the facts of each particular case whether special circumstances do exist and stand duly established."

26. Applying the judgements of this Court passed in Vinod Kumar (supra) and Ankit Bharti (supra), an exception may be drawn in the instant case to entertain the anticipatory bail application directly by this Court without taking recourse to the provision u/s 438 Cr.P.C. at the District and Sessions Court.

27. On due consideration to the arguments advanced by the learned counsel for the parties, the case of the applicant being a public servant and coupled by the fact that there is no sanction to prosecute u/s 197 Cr.P.C. and also taking into consideration the fact that the applicant has no criminal antecedents to his credit, being a public servant, and at present being posted at Ghaziabad, and the case laws referred above and in view of the law laid down by the Supreme Court in the case of "Sushila Aggarwal Vs. State (NCT of Delhi)6, the applicant is entitled to be granted anticipatory bail in this case.

28. Without expressing any opinion upon ultimate merits of the case either ways which may adversely affect the trial of the case, the anticipatory bail application of the applicant is allowed.

29. In the event of arrest of the applicant, Sunil Kumar involved in the aforesaid case crime number, shall be released on anticipatory bail till the conclusion of trial on furnishing a personal bond with two sureties each in the like amount to the satisfaction of the Presiding Officer/Court Concerned, with the conditions that:-

i. that the applicant shall make himself available for interrogation by a police officer as and when required;

ii. that the applicant shall not, directly or indirectly make any inducement, threat or promise to any person acquainted with the facts of the case so as to dissuade him from disclosing such facts to the court or to any police officer or tamper with the evidence;

iii. that the applicant shall not leave India without previous permission of the court;

iv. that the applicant shall not tamper with the evidence during the trial;

v. that the applicant shall not pressurize/ intimidate the prosecution witness;

vi. that the applicant shall appear before the trial court on each date fixed unless personal presence is exempted;

30. In case of breach of any of the above conditions, the court concerned shall have the liberty to cancel the bail granted to the applicant.

31. It is made clear that observations made in granting anticipatory bail to the applicant shall not in any way affect the learned trial Judge in forming his independent opinion based on the testimony of the witnesses.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1622
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 10.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SIDDHARTHA VARMA, J.
THE HON'BLE AJIT KUMAR, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 8279 of 2022

Pramila Tiwari ...Petitioner
Versus
Anil Kumar Mishra & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Anand Kumar Singh, Dinesh Kumar Singh, Rahul Sahai, Vinod Kr. Pandey

Counsel for the Respondents:
Rituvendra Singh Nagvanshi, Uday Bhan Mishra

(A) The Constitution of India, 1950 - Matters under Article 227 - Supervisory jurisdiction - Reference to answer - The Uttar Pradesh Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act, 1950 - (U.P. Amended Act , 27 of 2004) - Section 169(3) - compulsory registration of Will, The Indian Registration Act, 1908 - Section 17 - registration of documents and deeds , Section 40 - Persons entitled to present wills and authorities to adopt - The Government of India Act, 1935 - The Constitution of India, 1950 - Article 245(2) , 246, 249 ,252 , 253 ,251 & 254 - Every legislation must ensure certainty as to its application and exercise of power under it - Object of 2004 Amendment - to prevent forged wills and promote justice, economic stability, and rule of law - Agriculture reforms are influenced by socio-economic conditions of villagers in remote areas.(Para -25,34)

Two contradictory views by two Co -ordinate benches - regarding compulsory registration of wills under the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act 1950 - Reference to answer - whether compulsory registration of will , introduced in Section 169(3) of the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act, 1950 by the Amendment Act namely U.P. Act No. 26 of 2004, is prospective or retrospective in nature.

HELD:- Amendment of Section 169(3) of the U.P.Z.A.L.R. Act, which requires a Will to be compulsorily registered, is void to the extent it provides for registration of Will as it is repugnant to Section 17 read with Section 40 of the Indian Registration Act, 1908. Wills in Uttar Pradesh are not required to be registered. Petition be laid before Bench concerned for decision on merits.(Para - 36, 37,38)

Reference answered. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:

1. Sobnath Dube, In the Matter of: Late Kashinath Dube , 2015 (0) SCC (All) 674

2. Jahan Singh Vs St. of U.P. & ors , (Writ Petition No.1570 of 2017)

3. Rani Purnima Devi & anr. Vs Kumar Khagendra Narayan Dev & anr , AIR 1962 567

4. Babu Ram Vs Santokh Singh (deceased) , 2019 (14) SCC 162

(Delivered by Hon'ble Siddhartha Varma, J.
&
Hon'ble Ajit Kumar, J.)

1. These proceedings are in pursuance to the reference order of Hon'ble the Chief Justice dated 25.04.2023 to answer the reference framed by Hon'ble Vivek Chaudhary, J. on 14.10.2022 which is as under:

"whether the provision of compulsory registration of will, as introduced in the form of Section 169(3) of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act, 1950 by the Amendment Act namely U.P. Act No. 26 of 2004, is prospective or retrospective in nature ?"

2. The learned Single Judge was faced with two contradictory views taken by two Co-ordinate Benches of this Court: one in the matter of Sobnath Dube, In the Matter of: Late Kashinath Dube; reported in 2015 (0) SCC (All) 674 wherein it was held that with the amendment of UP Zamindari Abolition & Land Reforms (U.P.Z.A. & L.R.) Act, 1950 (hereinafter referred to as 'the Act of 1950') incorporating the new provisions as Section 169(3) in it by the State legislature, making registration of Will compulsory, will be prospective and Will executed prior to the date giving effect to the amendment by the State Government will not require to be registered compulsorily, whereas in Jahan Singh v. State of UP & ors (Writ Petition No.1570 of 2017), another Co-ordinate Bench in its judgment dated 18.05.2017 disagreed with the view taken in Sobnath Dube (supra) on the ground that unregistered Will taking effect after the date of amendment stands hit by amended provisions of 169(3) of the Act, 1950. In Sobnath Dube's case (supra) a view was taken, since a Will becomes effective only upon the death of the testator, every such Will which may come into effect after the amendment of Act of 2004, is required to be compulsorily registered.

3. At the initial stage, when we heard the matter, we re-framed the reference as under:

"whether a Will reduced into writing prior to 23.08.2004 is required to be compulsorily registered in the event the testator dies after the said date:"

4. Thereafter, when we further examined the matter there arose an issue as to whether State legislature without President's assent could have made registration of Will compulsory by incorporating a provision to this effect in law, as Will, intestacy and succession under the Constitution fell as subject matter in the Concurrent List and Central Legislation was already there touching the subject of registration of Will under the Registration Act, 1908.

5. We further noticed that in the judgment of Jahan Singh (supra) while holding that those Wills which would take effect after 23.08.2004, were required compulsorily to be registered, had made an observation that "the nuances of law for holding that unregistered Will was not hit by the provisions of Section 169(3) of the Act, have not been examined" and this was taken as a reason to disagree with the view taken in the judgment of Sobnath Dube (supra). We in our order dated 31.11.2023 had even invited arguments on the above points.

6. Two questions are thus posed to us for an effective decision on the reference framed as above:

(1) Whether the State legislature was competent in amending the Act of 1950 in the matterof wills, intestacy and successions qua agricultural holdings in the face of the fact that the Registration Act, 1908 makes registration of will only optional at the end of the testator and even provides a registration posthumously. Whether then to that extent the U.P. Amendment Act, having not received the presidential assent was an incompetent piece of legislation.

2) What nuances of law, relating to the rights in agricultural holdings and incidental issues, can be said to be in favour of agricultural holdings when the occupied field of registration governed by a Central Legislation, was being undone by the Amendment Act of Uttar Pradesh by Act No.27 of 2004 making the registration of Wills compulsory.

7. Accordingly, we split up the reference in two parts as under:

A) Whether U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Amendment Act, 2004 to the extent of amending 169(3) of the Act, 1950 is void being repugnant to the Registration Act, 1908?;

B) Whether, if the Amendment Act of Uttar Pradesh i.e. Act No.27 of 2004 is upheld, a Will reduced into writing prior to 23.08.2004 is required to be compulsorily registered in the event the testator dies after the said date?

8. The scheme of legislative relations under the Constitution has an inbuilt tone of supremacy of union legislature even in respect of the areas/subjects where it has exceeded its legislative territorial limits [vide Article 245(2)] or where it does make enactments concerning the State subject matters so reserved, in national interest (vide Article 249). The Union legislature has also exclusive power to make enactments in the areas not covered in any of the lists provided under the Constitution. It has also exclusive right to legislate for giving effect to international agreements and treaties (vide Article 253) and also to make laws concerning the State with the consent of two or more States to make them applicable to those very states (vide Article 252).

9. Within the scheme of legislative relations, the Constitution underlines its federal feature by prescribing for separation of powers in legislative fields reserved for Union and States and also areas/subjects where both Union and State can exercise legislative functions. These three lists, namely the Union List, State List and the Concurrent List as conceived and contemplated under the Constitution (vide Article 246), are provided under its 7th Schedule. These lists contain a number of subjects upon which (and the areas connected therewith) the competent legislature can make laws. While the Union List and the State List reserve subjects exclusively for Union and the State respectively, the concurrent list provides for subjects where both Union and State can legislate but supremacy vests with the Union legislature if already occupying a field. Of-course a Central Act in its operation and application to the State can be modified/amended with the assent of the President of India (vide Article 254). Still further, a State law being found contrary to the law made by Union would be void to the extent of such repugnancy, if any (vide Article 251 & 254).

10. Looking to the above scheme of legislative relations under the Constitution, we now proceed to examine the relevant provision of UP Zamindari Abolition of Land Reforms Act, 1950 (Act of 1950) and competence of the State legislature to legislate in that regard. The object with which Act of 1950 was enacted has been to remove intermediaries between the tiller of the land and the State. The zamindars who were intermediaries were chiefly responsible for the oppression of farmers whose status got reduced to bonded labours, with the passage of time,even in respect of their own land holdings and private money lending resulted in enriching the money lenders by occupying the land of the farmers bit by bit. Several provisions of the Act of 1950 are aimed at revolutionary agricultural reforms to ensure that poor farmers be no further defrauded at the end of the rich private money lenders and so also provisions were made relating to transfer of land by sale, succession and devolution of rights in agricultural holdings.

11. On 08.08.1946, when United Provinces Legislative Assembly passed a resolution for removal of zamindari in the State, the Government of India Act, 1935 was in force. List-I under the said Act included taxes on income other than the agricultural income (vide Entry-54), taxes on capital value of assets to the exclusion of agricultural land of the individuals and companies (vide Entry-55) and succession to property other than agricultural land (Vide Entry-56), whereas List-II contained subject matters relating to agriculture and its allied and related fields, and research and development including the field of veterinary science and also cattle trespass etc (vide Entry-20). Entry-21 of the State list exclusively provided for rights relating to agricultural land including by way of devolution. Entry-21 ran as under:

"21. Land, that is to say, rights in or over land, land tenures, including the relation of landlord and tenant and the collection of rents; transfer, alienation and devolution of agricultural land; land improvement and agricultural loans; colonization; Courts of Wards; encumbered and attached estates; treasure trove."

12. Further Entry-27 of the State List provided for trade and commerce within the Province; markets and fairs; money lending and money lenders. Entry-41 provided for taxes on agriculture income, Entry- 43 provided for duties in respect of succession to agriculture list. Entry-43(A) provided for estate duty in respect of agricultural land.

13. List-III of the Government of India Act, 1935 (in short, 'the Act, 1935') provided for marriage and divorce, infants and minors, adoption (Vide Entry-6); Wills, intestacy and succession, save as regards agricultural land (Vide Entry-7); and transfer of property other than agricultural land, registration of deeds and documents (Vide Entry-8).

14. From the above referred and quoted entries as contained in three different lists of the Act, 1935, it is clear that devolution of agricultural land fell in the subjects of the State List but Wills, intestacy and succession in general fell in List-III (save agricultural land). This shows that agriculture and its related subjects like succession, transfer, devolution were earlier exclusively assigned to the provincial legislature to exercise its power.

15. The Indian Registration Act, 1908 was enacted by the then British Imperial Government and stands saved and was saved both under the Government of India Act, 1935 and also saved by Article 244 (1) of the Constitution of India.

16. The Registration Act did not enlist the document of Will in the list of documents (vide Section 17) that are required to be registered and instead, made its registration optional at the discretion of the testator and even made provisions for registration of Wills posthumously by virtue of Section 40 of the said Act. This was the only enactment in force for the purposes of registration of deeds and documents and was applicable to the then united provinces and no provincial act provided a document of Will to be registered compulsorily by exercising power vide Entry-7 of the Act, 1935.

17. Intestacy refers to a condition of any person dying without executing a Will and thus leaving his/her estate to devolve upon legitimate heirs as per the hierarchy set by a law enacted, whereas Wills are such legal documents that outline a person's wish as to the distribution of his/her estates after his/her death. This right to provide for distribution would be an exception to the general rule of succession and so Wills may devolve property of the testator as per his/her wish upon any individual, body or trust to the exclusion of natural and legal heirs.

18. Thus, a document of Will, acquires importance for devolution of estate but the law never required it to be registered whether the property was an agricultural land or whether it was a property or an estate other than agriculture. When people of India adopted the Constitution, the Constitutional provisions made a departure in assigning subjects of rights qua agricultural land by deleting words and expressions "devolution of agricultural land" in Entry-18 of the State List. Entry-18 runs as under:

"18. Land, that is to say, right in or over land, land tenures including the relation of landlord and tenant, and the collection of rents; transfer of alienation of agricultural land; land improvement and agricultural loans; colonization."

19. Interestingly, Wills and Intestacy continued to be subject in the concurrent list vide Entry-5 that corresponds to Entry-6 & 7 of the List III of the Act, 1935 but words and expressions "save as regards agricultural land" were deleted. Entry-5 of the concurrent list under Schedule-7 of the Constitution runs as under:

"5. Marriage and divorce; infants and minors; adoption; wills, intestacy and succession; joint family and partition; all matters in respect of which parties in judicial proceedings were immediately before the commencement of this Constitution subject to their personal law."

20. Will denotes devolution of property by the testator as per his/her desire. Indian Registration Act continues to occupy the field qua subject matter of registration i.e. deeds and documents provided under Entry-8 of the List III of the Act, 1935 with the corresponding Entry-6 of the Concurrent List under the Constitution of India. The enactment stands, thus, saved under Article 254(2) of the Constitution. This Article in its entirety is reproduced hereinunder:

"254. Inconsistency between laws made by Parliament and laws made by the Legislatures of States

(1) If any provision of a law made by the Legislature of a State is repugnant to any provision of a law made by Parliament which Parliament is competent to enact, or to any provision of an existing law with respect to one of the matters enumerated in the Concurrent List, then, subject to the provisions of clause (2), the law made by

Parliament, whether passed before or after the law made by the Legislature of such State, or, as the case may be, the existing law, shall prevail and the law made by the Legislature of the State shall, to the extent of the repugnancy, be void

(2) Where a law made by the Legislature of a State with respect to one of the matters enumerated in the concurrent List contains any provision repugnant to the provisions of an earlier law made by Parliament or an existing law with respect to that matter, then, the law so made by the Legislature of such State shall, if it has been reserved for the consideration of the President and has received his assent, prevail in that State:

Provided that nothing in this clause shall prevent Parliament from enacting at any time any law with respect to the same matter including a law adding to, amending, varying or repealing the law so made by the Legislature of the State."

(emphasis added)

21. The Act of 1950 was enacted and was reserved for consideration of President and was assented to and came into operation w.e.f. 26.01.1951. The Act of 1950 having presidential nod, shall have overriding effect over and above all State laws and Central laws touching the subject matters provided under the Act of 1950, by virtue of provisions contained under Article 254 (supra).

22. The newly amended provision of 169(3) vide amending Act No.27 of 2004 makes registration of Will compulsory. While the original provision under sub-section (3) of Section 169 of the Act of 1950 provided for aWill to "be in writing and attested by two persons" the words and expressions "and registered" were further added. Thus, new sub-section (3) of Section 169 runs as under:

"169. Bequest by a Bhumidhar-

(1) [* ]

(2) [* ]

(3) Every will made under provisions of sub section (1) shall, not withstanding anything contained in any law, custom or usage, [be in writing, attested by two persons and registered]?"

(emphasis added)

23. Law relating to registration of documents and deeds being provided under the Registration Act, 1908 vide its Section 17 refers to "certain documents" to be registered. So, in the first instance, it is this act that required amendment by the State to make its modified application in the State for getting document of registration ofWill enlisted under Section 17 as there exists no pre-existing State law touching the subject matter. Accordingly, the provisions as incorporated under the ZA Act vide 169(3) of the Act of 1950 after its amendment in 2004 became contrary to the pre-existing Central Act. In other words, the provisions contained under Section 169(3) of the Act of 1950 and Section 17 read with Section 40 come in conflict with each other. This makes the State Act provision to be repugnant to the pre-existing Central Act and State Amendment Act, 2004 having no presidential assent is liable to be rendered void.

24. One of the arguments was that instead of striking down the concerned provision of law we could read it down and bring it to the vicinities of the provisions of Section 17 and Section 40 of the Registration Act that make registration of Will optional and that it would be even registered posthumously. But looking to the objects and nuances of law that have guided the learned Single Judge in Jahan Singh's case (supra) to hold that every Will becoming effective after 2004 Amendment would be void if not registered, makes it mandatory for us to navigate these nuances through socio-economic background of the citizenry of the State of Uttar Pradesh.

25. The object with which 2004 Amendment had been introduced was to avoid proliferation of forged wills. Law reforms are always aimed at ensuring access to justice and promoting economic stability and enhancing rule of law. What laws may be helpful to people, must always be seen in the background of ground realities of life of common man. Enactments regarding agriculture reforms are particularly seen in the background of socio-economic conditions of villagers living largely in remote areas.

26. India's NITI Ayog's report released just two and a half years ago in November, 2021 states 38% of total population in U.P. is multidimensionally poor, meaning thereby people lack good health, education and standard of living. We sitting in Kaval towns and metropolis with multiplexes, Star hotels and high rise buildings, cannot even imagine in what condition majority of State population lives in small towns and villages. We have in fact no idea as to the magnitude of monetary poverty and the lack of basic education and health infrastructure in our rural areas.

27. Our state has largely an agrarian economy and all farmers are not literate. There are areas in remote villages in Uttar Pradesh without motorable roads and people are not aware of the outside world. Whatever material is necessary to have healthy crops at least twice a year does not reach to them and resources of irrigation are not catering the need of every farmer. Many farmers in the State still depend upon rain water and are barely getting two square meals. They are still oppressed by rich money lenders and if their children leave villages to study in cities, the poor farmers very often not only borrow money but even on getting ill are not properly getting good health care.

28. It is quite possible that a poor farmer having bhumidhari rights may be an illiterate person who can be easily fooled or mislead. A marginal farmer owing to his pity condition may get so circumstanced to be easily mislead by unscrupulous elements of the village to execute a Will in favour of a third party to the exclusion of natural heirs. It was, therefore, considered appropriate to devise a mechanism to minimize this fraud. It was thought that forgery would be minimised and, therefore, the law was brought in for compulsory registration of Wills. However, one cannot ignore the flip-side of this as there can equally be a case where a registered document is executed in suspicious circumstances, which if proved, would ultimately render the registered document void. The observations made by the Supreme Court in Rani Purnima Devi & anr v. Kumar Khagendra Narayan Dev & anr; AIR 1962 567 is worth mentioning hereinunder:

"There is no doubt that 'if a will has been registered, that is a circumstance which may, having regard to the circumstances, prove its genuineness. But the mere fact that a will is registered will not by itself be sufficient to dispel all suspicion regarding it where suspicion exists, without submitting the evidence of registration to a close examination. If the evidence as to registration on a close examination reveals that the registration was made in such a manner that it was brought home to the testator that the document of which he was admitting execution was a will disposing of his property and thereafter he admitted its execution and signed it in token thereof, the registration will dispel the doubt as to the genuineness of the will. But if the evidence as to registration shows that it was done in a perfunctory manner, that the officer registering the will did not read it over to the testator or did not bring home to him that he was admitting the execution of a will or did not satisfy himself in some other way (as, for example, by seeing the testator reading the will) that the testator knew that it was a will the execution of which he was admitting, the fact that the will Was registered would not be of much value. It is not unknown that registration may take place without the executant really knowing what he was registering. Law reports are full of cases in which registered wills have not been acted upon..... Therefore, the mere fact of registration may not by itself be enough to dispel all suspicion that may attach to the execution and attestation of a will; though the fact that there has been registration would be an important circumstance in favour of the will being genuine if the evidence as to registration establishes that the testator admitted the execution of the will after knowing that it was a will the execution of which he was admitting."

(emphasis added)

29. Thus, a poor farmer may be compelled to knock the door of Courts of law and undergo the agony of a long drawn litigation where rich may have an upper hand. This is not only there for villagers but equally may be seen in well developed townships and cities where rich are eyeing at nicely located properties.

30. There could equally be a case where a person in his last days of life may change his mind and may decide a different distribution of his assets and properties from what he had decided sometime ago. A Will or wish that operated last in the mind of the testator is definitely to prevail and that is why the rule is that the last Will prevails. So in the event non registration of Will is rendered void then a person executing a 'Will' will be denied of his right to have his/her "wish" or desire changed. His will to subject his property to be succeeded as per his wish would be denied to him. We can take an instance, though hypothetical, where a person gets a Will registered and this fact gets disclosed to the beneficiaries under the Will. They may get possession of the document by force or otherwise and then start ignoring the testator by leaving him in a condition where he may not be able to survive for want of proper care and medicines. Such lust for property at the end of beneficiaries cannot be ruled out. To deny a person the right to change his Will by an unregistered document in his last days would not only be inhuman but would be an arbitrary denial of his fundamental right to create a Will of his assets and properties. There could be a condition where a person wishes in the last days of his/her life to distribute his/her property as per his last desire or wish which might be very different from the last registered Will. This, according to us, would never be the intention of the legislation.

31. In so far as judgment in Jahan Singh (supra) applies the rule of interpretation to justify the Amending Act providing for compulsory registration of Will even without the assent of the President, we proceed to test the ratio of the judgment as under.

32. Interpretation of a provision and applying the legal principles, as the learned Single Judge had in mind, within specific legislative areas so as to hold that State Legislature had competence, in our considered view, amounts to stretching of principle of purposive interpretation too far and reading more than the concept of legislative relationship as is conceived of under Chapter-11 of the Constitution to justify a provision of law. There is no quarrel to the principle that exercise of power entails the grant of that power in every possible way, but the question remains where to draw that laxman rekha/line to render exercise of power by State vis-a-vis the powers of the Union. It should be in consonance with the principles enshrined under the relevant provisions of the constitution providing for separation of powers under the Scheme of Constitution.

33. Subject matter in issue being of Concurrent List, it was open for the State to get the pre-existing Central Act amended before its application to the State and that too by getting such an act the assent of the President. The Wills, intestacy, succession and transfer being in the Concurrent List, without drawing any exception to the agricultural land, the Act of 1950 was rightly reserved for consideration of the President and it also had the presidential assent. But now by the Amending Act of 27 of 2004, the State of Uttar Pradesh was seeking an amendment in the U.P.Z.A.L.R. Act, which in effect was amending the Registration Act, 1908. Such an Act by which the amendment was being sought definitely required a presidential assent.

34. Every legislation must ensure certainty as to its application and exercise of power under it. So to ensure this, when subject matter falls within competence of both the Union and the State Legislatures, the provision of Article 251 will come into play.

35. Our above view also finds support in the judgment of Supreme Court in the case of Babu Ram v. Santokh Singh (deceased); 2019 (14) SCC 162. Paragraphs 18, 19 & 20 relevant for the case in hand are being reproduced hereinunder:

"18. We now turn to the next stage of discussion. Even if it be accepted that the provisions of Section 22 would apply in respect of succession to agricultural lands, the question still remains whether the preferential right could be enjoyed by one or more the heirs. Would that part also be within the competence of the Parliament? The "right in or over land, land tenures ...." are within the exclusive competence of the State legislatures under Entry 18 of List II of the Constitution. Pre-emption laws enacted by Staet legislatures are examples where preferential rights have been conferred upon certain categories and classes of holders in cases of certain transfers of agricultural lands. Whether conferring a preferential right by Section 22 would be consistent with the basic idea and principles is the question.

19. We may consider the matter with following three illustrations:

a) Three persons, unrelated to each other, had jointly purchased an agricultural holding, whereafter one of them wished to dispose of his interest. The normal principle of pre-emption may apply in the matter and any of the other joint holders could pre-empt the sale in accordance with rights conferred in that behalf by appropriate State legislation.

b) If those three persons were real brothers or sisters and had jointly purchased an agricultural holding, investing their own funds, again like the above scenario, the right of pre-emption will have to be purely in accordance with the relevant provisions of the State legislation.

c) But, if, the very same three persons in illustration b) had inherited an agricultural holding and one of the them was desirous of disposing of his or her interest in the holding, the principles of Section 22 of the Act would step in.

The reason is clear. The source of title or interest of any of the heirs in the third illustration, is purely through the succession which is recognized in terms of the provisions of the Act. Since the right or interest itself is conferred by the provisions of the Act, the manner in which said right can be exercised has also been specified in the very same legislation.

Therefore, the content of preferential right cannot be disassociated in the present case from the principles of succession. They are both part of the same concept.

20. When the Parliament thought of conferring the rights of succession in respect of various properties including agricultural holdings, it put a qualification on the right to transfer to an outsider and gave preferential rights to the other heirs with a designed object. Under the Shastrik Law, the interest of a coparcener would devolve by principles of survivorship to which an exception was made by virtue of Section 6 of the Act. If the conditions stipulated in Section 6 were satisfied, the devolution of such interest of the deceased would not go by survivorship but in accordance with the provisions of Act. Since the right itself in certain cases was created for the first time by the provisions of the Act, it was though fit to put a qualification so that the properties belonging to the family would be held within the family, to the extent possible and no outsider would easily be planted in the family properties. In our view, it is with this objective that a preferential right was conferred upon the remaining heirs, in case any of the heirs was desirous of transferring his interest in the property that he received by way of succession under the Act."

36. In view of the above exposition of law and in view of what we have discussed above in this judgment, we hold sub-Section (3) of Section 169 of Act of 1950, in so far as it requires a Will to be compulsorily registered, to be repugnant to Section 17 read with Section 40 of the Indian Registration Act, 1908 and hence we hold the amendment of Section 169(3) of the U.P.Z.A.L.R. Act to that extent void.

37. Thus, our answer, to the question framed, is that sub-Section (3) of Section 169 having been declared as void to the extent it provides for registration of Will, the Wills in State of Uttar Pradesh are not required to be registered and a Will for its non registration will not be void whether before or after the U.P. Amendment Act, 2004.

38. Let petition be laid before the Bench concerned for decision on merits of the case, accordingly.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1631
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 01.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE JASPREET SINGH, J.

Criminal Misc. Bail Application No. 10920 of 2023

Abbas Ansari ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Opposite Party

Counsel for the Applicant:

Pranjal Krishna, Arun Sinha, Pranjal Krishna, Siddhartha Sinha

Counsel for the Opposite Party:
G.A.

(A) Criminal Law - The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Bail - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections 387, 222, 186, 506, 201, 120-B, 195-A & 34 - Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988 - Sections 7, 8 & 13 - Prisons Act, 1894 - Section 42 (b) & 54 - Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, 2013 - Section 7 - Applicant who is a member of the Legislative Assembly is a responsible representative of the public and must maintain a higher standard of conduct than other common individuals - Not seen as lawbreakers - Misuse of law procedures due to power - Not entitled to bail under these circumstances. (Para - 22,32,33,34)

Applicant - Legislative Assembly Member and National Level Rifle Shooter - Criminal history of ten cases - expected higher standard of conduct - earned laurels for country - ingraining discipline and respect for rules - law maker seen as a law breaker - applicant's complicity evident from CCTV footage and witness statements - indicating a person with knowledge of his jail stay and his wife's meetings - recovery of two mobile phones from wife of applicant - who couldn't access the jail premises unless authorities turned a blind eye. (Para - 32,33)

HELD:- Applicant and his wife are accused of dereliction of duty and violating rules at the behest of jail authorities. Allegations may not be solely monetary, but also based on the applicant's background and family antecedents. Bail rejected for applicant due to lack of evidence and witness examinations. Trial court ordered to expedite trial. (Para - 34)

Bail application rejected. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:

1. Harjit Singh Vs Inderpreet Singh @ Inder & anr., (2021) 19 SCC 355

2. Brijmani Devi Vs Pappu Kumar, (2022) 4 SCC 497

3. Munnilaxmi Vs Narendra Babu & anr. , 2023 SCC Online SC 1380

(Delivered by Hon'ble Jaspreet Singh, J.)

1. The applicant before this Court is a sitting Member of Legislative Assembly from Mau Assembly Seat no. 356. He has been arraigned as an accused in Case Crime No. 88 of 2023 under Sections 387, 222, 186, 506, 201, 120-B, 195-A and 34 I.P.C. and Sections 7, 8 and 13 of Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988 and Section 42 (b), 54 of Prisons Act, 1894 and Section 7 of Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, 2013, P.S. Karvi Kotwali Nagar, District Chitrakoot along with other named persons and some other unknown persons.

2. However, a charge sheet bearing No. 1 of 2023 dated 10.04.2023 has been filed wherein the applicant has been charged under Sections 387, 506, 201, 120-B, 195-A, 186, 511 and 34 I.P.C. and Section 8 of P.C. Act, 1988, Sections 42 (b) and Section 54 of Prisons Act and Section 7 of Criminal Law Amendment Act as stated in para 5 of the affidavit in support of the bail application.

3. A supplementary affidavit filed on behalf of the applicant on 24.04.2024 is taken on record.

4. The genesis of the instant matter is lodging of the First Information Report on 11.02.2023 at 04:20 hours stating that the present applicant who is a member of the Legislative Assembly was lodged in District Jail, Chitrakoot. His wife for the past several days has been visiting the applicant in the Jail along with her driver and co-accused Niyaz. She is said to spend 3 to 4 hours inside the Jail without any restrictions. The applicant is alleged to have used the mobile phones of his wife to threaten the witnesses and officials who were connected with the prosecution of the applicant. From the very same mobile, the applicant is alleged to have threatened various persons to extort money and posse of men who are loyal to the applicant would collect the money and bring it to the applicant.

5. It has further been alleged that the wife of the applicant frequently visited the jail without complying with the formalities and the prescribed restrictions and the applicant was being provided all sorts of benefits during his incarceration for which the officials of the jail were paid both in cash and kind. It is also alleged that the driver of the applicant's wife namely Niyaz along with the officials of the Jail were planning to stage an escape the applicant from the Jail.

6. Upon the information received from the informant, the District Magistrate and the Superintendent of Police in civil clothes and in a private vehicle made a surprise inspection of the Jail. The applicant was not found in his barrack rather he is said to be in the room right adjacent to the room of the Jail Superintendent along with his wife. Upon opening and entering the said room, the District Magistrate and the Superintendent of Police found applicant's wife but the applicant was not there.

7. The police personnel posted on the Gate of the jail informed that the applicant had moved from the said room to his barrack a few minutes ago. However, the wife of the applicant was searched and from her bag, two mobile phones, certain ornaments, cash of Rs. 21,000/- and foreign currency of 12 Riyals was recovered.

8. The police authorities required the applicant's wife to give the passwords to open the two phones which were confiscated, however, she did not cooperate and rather gave incorrect passwords which resulted in the two phones being locked.

9. It is further alleged that upon further questioning, it was informed that the applicant's wife along with the other accused and police officials were planning to stage an escape for the applicant. Certain witnesses were threatened and in case if they did not cooperate with the applicant i.e. if they did not turn hostile, they were to be eliminated.

10. It is also alleged that on the applicant's instructions, his posse of loyalist were to create an atmosphere of terror so that the said alleged witnesses may not give their testimony and they would abide by the demands for money made by the applicant as extortion money.

11. Sri Arun Sinha, learned counsel for the applicant duly assisted by Sri Pranjal Krishna has submitted that from the bare perusal of the First Information Report, it would primarily indicate that no offence has been made out against the applicant. A meaningful reading of the FIR would indicate that primarily the allegations are against the wife of the applicant and the other co-accused Niyaz. Most of the other co-accused are all police personnel or jail authorities.

12. It has further been pointed out that the police has already filed a charge sheet and apparently no evidence could be unearthed by which it could be remotely suggest that the applicant was involved in any sort of extortion. There has been no evidence nor the call detail report could pin point any call made by the applicant to any witness whom it is alleged that the applicant had threatened.

13. It is further pointed out that all the co-accused including the wife of the applicant have been enlarged on bail. The bail orders of the co-accused Faraz, Navneet, Ashok, Shahbaz, Santosh, Jagmohan, Chandrakala and Nikhat have been placed on record as Annexure Nos. RA-1 to RA-8 with the rejoinder affidavit dated 08.11.2023.

14. Sri Sinha has further submitted that the applicant has a criminal history of ten cases and except for a case filed by the Enforcement Directorate under Section 3/4 of the PMLA Act, 2002, in all the other cases, the applicant has been enlarged on bail including in the Case Crime no. 431 of 2019 wherein the bail has been granted by the Apex Court on 18.03.2024 and the copy of the said bail order has been brought on record as Annexure no. SA-1 with the supplementary affidavit dated 24.04.2024.

15. Sri Sinha has further urged that merely because the applicant has a criminal history does not necessarily means that he is guilty of an offence especially in the case as the present, at hand. The applicant apart from being a member of the Legislative Assembly is also a National Level Rifle Shooter and has earned laurels for his country. The applicant is in Jail since 11.02.2023 and in so far as the present case emanating from Case Crime No. 88 of 2023 is concerned, it would reveal that certain Sections which have been invoked in the said case are primarily directed against the public servants, however, in so far as the present applicant is concerned, he has been charged under Section 387, 506, 186 I.P.C and they are all punishable with a maximum sentence up to 7 years. In so far as Section 201, 120-B, 195-A, 511 and Section 34 I.P.C. is concerned, they can only be invoked if any contingency mentioned in the said section is proved in trial. In so far as the provisions of the Prevention of Corruption Act are concerned, they are punishable up to 7 years and Section 42 (b) and Section 54 of the Prisons Act also carry a sentence up to maximum two years.

16. On the aforesaid strength it is urged that the charge sheet has already been filed and it discloses a list of 46 proposed witnesses out of which three are eye-witnesses, apart from the complainant, and then there are various other formal and police witnesses. In the aforesaid circumstances, the applicant is not in a position either to tamper with the evidence or influence any witness. In the said circumstances, where the applicant has been in Jail since 11.02.2023, the instant bail application deserves to be allowed.

17. Sri Vinod Shahi, learned Additional Advocate General ably assisted by Sri Anurag Verma, learned A.G.A has opposed the bail application.

18. It has been submitted that during the course of investigation, ample material was collected which clearly indicated the complicity of the Jail Authorities and Sri Niyaz, the co-accused who is the driver of the wife of the applicant who along with the applicant and the other Jail Authorities were staging an escape.

19. It has also been pointed out that the CCTV footage has been recovered which reveals that the wife of the applicant used to visit the Jail after making entries in the register and thereafter she had unrestricted entry and access to the applicant lodged in the said jail including entering and exiting the Jail without being searched. As per the statement of the Deputy Jailor which was recorded before the Magistrate it indicated that the wife of the applicant and her driver used to visit the Jail frequently without any restriction and search, he attempted to raise an objection against this practice and conduct, but he was advised not to do so and the applicant could get free access inside the Jail roaming freely.

20. It has further been submitted that the applicant yields enormous influence both in terms of money power as well as muscle power and under this circumstances, the applicant, if released at this stage, would influence the witnesses and this would turn the tide of the course of trial which would adversely impact the case of the prosecution.

21. The learned State Counsel has also pointed out that in so far as the bail order of Nikhat who is the wife of the applicant is concerned, she has been enlarged on bail by the Apex Court, as shall be evident by the order itself, on the sole consideration of being a nursing mother with one year old child, apart from the fact that she did not have any criminal history, however, the same is not referable to the present applicant.

22. It is also submitted that even though the applicant may have been enlarged on bail in various cases where he is involved but the fact remains that in the instant case, the applicant has misused the process and the procedure established by law on the strength of his sheer muscle and money power. If the applicant being lodged in Jail could yield influence over the Jail Authorities, it can be well imagined how the applicant would react once he is enlarged on bail. In the aforesaid circumstances, the applicant is not entitled for bail and in support of their submissions, the learned Additional Advocate General and Sri Verma have relied upon the decision of the Apex Court in Harjit Singh v. Inderpreet Singh Alias Inder and Another, (2021) 19 SCC 355 ; Brijmani Devi v. Pappu Kumar, (2022) 4 SCC 497 and Munnilaxmi Vs. Narendra Babu and Another; 2023 SCC Online SC 1380.

23. The Court has heard the learned counsel for the parties and also perused the material on record.

24. The facts on record as they unfold is that the applicant does have a criminal history of ten cases. The earliest case in point of time is Case Crime no. 431 of 2019 and the instant case is the latest, thus, indicating that between 2019 to 2023, the applicant has been involved in ten cases including one lodged under the PMLA Act. It is also not disputed that in all the cases except the case under the PMLA, the applicant has been enlarged on bail by the coordinate Bench of this Court and including in the case Crime No. 431 of 2019 by the Apex Court vide order dated 18.03.2024.

25. It is also a matter of fact that in the instant case, apart from the applicant, five other named persons and certain other unnamed all have been enlarged on bail by the coordinate Bench of this Court including the other co-accused Nikhat who is the wife of the applicant who has been enlarged by the Apex Court by means of order dated 11.08.2023.

26. The record further reveals that a Coordinate Bench of this Court by means of its order dated 12.09.2023 had quashed the charge sheet and the cognizance order emanating from Criminal Case No. 11762 of 2023 arising out of Case Crime No. 106 of 2022. It is also not disputed that the applicant is a member of the Legislative Assembly and a public figure.

27. During the course of submissions, the State had referred to a decision of a Coordinate Bench dated 20.11.2023 relating to the present applicant where he had sought bail in Case Crime No. 431 of 2019 which came to be rejected by a Coordinate Bench of this Court by means of order dated 20th November, 2023 and it was urged that certain observations made by the Coordinate Bench while rejecting the said bail application be considered for the purposes of ascertaining the kind of influence, the present applicant is capable of exercising. In this regard, suffice to state that in the said Case Crime No. 431 of 2019, the applicant has been enlarged on bail by the Apex Court vide order dated 18.03.2024, thus, for the aforesaid reasons, the said observations may not have much persuading effect on the instant case.

28. In Harjit Singh (Supra), the Apex Court while considering the discretionary power for grant of bail it referred to earlier decisions and held that while considering the grant of bail, the following factors need to be kept in mind inter-alia are:-

(i) Whether there is any prima facie or reasonable ground to believe that the accused had committed the offence;

(ii) nature and gravity of the accusation;

(iii) severity of the punishment in the event of conviction;

(iv) danger of the accused absconding or fleeing, if released on bail;

(v) character, behaviour, means, position and standing of the accused;

(vi) likelihood of the offence being repeated;

(vii) reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being influenced; and

(viii) danger, of course, of justice being thwarted by grant of bail.

29. In the said case, what was noticed by the Apex Court was that the said applicant who had obtained bail after being released committed another offence and went to the Jail. The Apex Court noticed that there was high possibility of threat and danger to the life and safety of the appellant before the Apex Court and in the aforesaid circumstances, the antecedents were such that the Apex Court while allowing the appeal before it cancelled the bail.

30. In Brijmani (Supra), the Apex Court once again considering the issue of bail while dealing with the parameters required to be noticed by the Court, it has also noticed one more aspect while exercising its discretion in paragraph nos. 37 and 38 as under:-

"37. Ultimately, the court considering an application for bail has to exercise discretion in a judicious manner and in accordance with the settled principles of law having regard to the crime alleged to be committed by the accused on the one hand and ensuring purity of the trial of the case on the other.

38. Thus, while elaborating reasons may not be assigned for grant of bail, at the same time an order dehors reasoning or bereft of the relevant reasons cannot result in grant of bail. It would be only a non-speaking order which is an instance of violation of principles of natural justice. In such a case the prosecution or the informant has a right to assail the order before a higher forum."

31. In Munnilaxmi (Supra), the Apex Court in paragraph nos. 19 to 21 have held as under:

"19. We have given our thoughtful consideration to the rival submissions and perused the material on record. It appears that the sudden change of stance shown by the most vital witnesses, namely, the family members of the Deceased within 20 days of their examination-in-chief cannot be a mere coincidence. The Appellant has been vigorously pursuing this appeal seeking cancellation of bail given to Respondent No. 1. In her examination-in-chief, she has specifically named Respondent No. 1 as the main conspirator in the murder of her daughter. Her sudden somersault, therefore, cannot be easily detached from the chain of allegations made against Respondent No. 1 in the past, of influencing the police, hiring goons, repeatedly assaulting the Deceased, and various attempts to take away her life. All these accusations, for the limited purpose of these proceedings, do suggest that Respondent No. 1 has the potential to influence the investigation or the witnesses who were slated to depose against him. The seriousness of allegations levelled against Respondent No. 1 by the Deceased during her lifetime or by the Appellant before the Police or in this appeal ought to be evaluated against this backdrop.

20. This Court undoubtedly has a narrow scope of interference in an order granting bail while exercising its power of judicial review and will be invariably reluctant to interfere in such order even if it has a different opinion. The Courts often grapple with balancing the most precious right to liberty embodied in Article 21 of the Constitution on one hand and the right of the orderly society, which is committed to the rule of law, on the other. The delicate balance in the case of long incarceration is drawn by releasing a suspect on bail on such terms and conditions that will ensure that a fair and free trial is not hampered. However, if it is found that an undertrial has attempted to misuse the concession of bail either by influencing the witnesses or tampering with the evidence or trying to flee from justice, such person can be committed to custody by withdrawing the concession of bail.

21. The Courts are under an onerous duty to ensure that the criminal justice system is vibrant and effective; perpetrators of the crime do not go unpunished; the witnesses are not under any threat or influence to prevent them from deposing truthfully and the victims of the crime get their voices heard at every stage of the proceedings."

32. Considering the aforesaid parameters and applying it to the facts of the instant case, it would be seen that the applicant is a Member of Legislative Assembly. He is a person who holds a responsible position and is a representative of the public. His conduct has to be of a higher standard, than other common persons of the society. The members of the Legislative Assembly are also the law makers and in juxtaposition, it is not appropriate that a law maker may be seen as a law breaker. The applicant is a National Level Rifle Shooter and as stated by the learned counsel for the applicant, he has earned laurels for his country and that being so it would be explicitly clear that any sport ingrains two habits in a person i.e. discipline and the other is respect, for rules. A person with the aforesaid backdrop knowing fully well that he was lodged in the Jail and his wife had been repeatedly meeting the applicant and from the CCTV footage as well as statements of the witnesses elicited during investigation it prima facie reflects towards the complicity of the applicant.

33. In normal circumstances and even as per the law, the Jail Authorities do not and could not grant such unrestricted access to any person which has been allegedly extended to the wife of the applicant, obviously at the asking of the applicant. The recovery of two mobile phones from the wife of the applicant who was found in the Jail premises in a room where she could not have access unless the Jail Authorities turned a blind eye.

34. Allegedly such dereliction of duty /violation of rules and regulations at the behest of the Jail Authorities, frequently and selectively for the applicant and his wife may not have been possible merely for monetary gains. Considering the profile and the background of the applicant and his family antecedents, the allegations may not be completely without substance. If such influence whether for monetary reason or under threat or coercion, if can be exercised over police and prison authorities so effectively who are basically enforcers of law then it can be well imagined how the applicant can effectively garner power to influence any witness or to persuade him to change his stand and this aspect if seen in light of the fact that the evidence is yet to commence. In the aforesaid facts and circumstances where the evidence is yet to commence and there are eye-witnesses and certain police authorities who were to be examined, hence, at this stage, this Court is not inclined to grant bail to the applicant which is accordingly rejected. The Trial Court shall expedite the trial and endevour be made to decide the same as expeditiously as possible. The prosecution State shall also ensure that they do not seek any unnecessary adjournments for examining of the witnesses. It is also made clear that any observations made by this Court in the instant order may not be taken as an expression of opinion on merits and the Trial Court shall proceed strictly in accordance with law.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1638
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 17.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Writ C No. 1005292 of 2006

Ibney Hasan ...Petitioner
Versus
Special Judge E.C. Act Faizabad & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Pushpila Bisht

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Haider Abbas, Ishtiaq Ahmad, M.M.Salam, Mohd.Yasin, Rakesh Kumar Srivastava, S.A.A.Rizvi, S.M.Munish Jafri

(A) Muslim Waqf law - U. P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1960 - Section 57-A - Recovery of possession of waqf property from un-authorized occupants , Section 58 - Powers of inquiring authority, The Waqf Act, 1995 - Section 112(3) - repeal and savings - U.P. Muslim Waqf Act 1960 stood repealed immediately upon enactment of the Waqf Act, 1995 (with effect from 01.01.1996) , after 01.01.1996, no action could be taken or proceedings could be continued under U.P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1960 , Section 83(2) - alternative remedy before Tribunal - U.P. Muslim Waqf Rules - Rule 5 - Controller's order and subsequent proceedings are without jurisdiction under Section 57-A of the U.P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1960, after enactment of the U. P. Muslim Waqf Act 1995 - Availability of an alternative remedy does not prevent the exercise of jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. (Para - 7, 11)

Petitioner's Waqf Property Ownership Case - Petitioner claims ownership of part of waqf property - construction of shop by someone over land in 1995 - Shops were recorded in petitioner's and his predecessors' names in town records - later becoming Nagar Palika Parishad - Impugned orders were passed after repeal of U.P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1960 - in exercise of powers conferred by repealed Act - not under powers conferred by the Waqf Act, 1995 - petitioner cannot avail remedy under Section 83(2).(Para - 3, 12)

HELD:- Impugned order and consequential requisition are without any authority of law. Proceedings initiated against petitioner prior to repeal of U.P. Muslim Waqf Act and enactment of Waqf Act, 1995 transferred to competent authority under Waqf Act, 1995. Board shall proceed in accordance with law from the stage that had been achieved prior to 01.01.1996 i.e. date of enforcement of Waqf Act, 1995. Petition filed on 06.11.2006, pending for 18 years, should not be relegated to alternative remedy. Impugned order quashed. (Para - 14,15)

Petition allowed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:

1. Sahibzada Moinuddin Siddiqui Vs U.P. Sunni Central Board of Waqfs, 2017 SCC OnLine All 3659

2. Whirlpool Corporation Vs Registrar of Trade Marks, Mumbai & ors., (1998) 8 SCC 1

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

(C. M. Application No.51889 of 2015)

1. Heard Ms. Pushpila Bisht, the learned counsel for petitioner, Sri Umesh Srivastava, learned Standing Counsel for the opposite party no.5-Collector, Faizabad and Sri S.A.A. Rizvi, learned counsel for the opposite party nos.2 & 3.

2. Sri Adnan Rafiq Hasan had filed an application for impleadment through Sri M. M. Salam, Advocate. Name of Sri M. M.Salam has been shown in the cause list but neither he is present to assist the Court nor has he sent any request for adjournment of the case.

3. In the affidavit filed in support of the application for impleadement, it has been stated that the applicant was Managing Mutawalli of Waqf Masjid and Rauza Hazrat Qasim, (opposite party no.4) and being Mutawalli, he is a necessary party to the writ petition.

4. The Waqf Masjid and Rauza Hazrat Qasim is already impleaded as opposite party no.4 in the writ petition and therefore, the Mutawalli of Waqf Masjid and Rauza Hazrat Qasim is not a necessary party.

5. Accordingly, the impleadment application is rejected.

Order on Memo of Writ Petition

1. By means of the instant writ petition filed under Article 226/227 of the Constitution of India, the petitioner has challenged the validity of an order dated 26.03.1996 passed by the Controller, Shia Central Waqf Board, U.P. Lucknow under Section 57-A of U. P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1960 directing issuance of a requisition for taking possession of a property bearing no.277, which is bounded in the East by a Road, in the West by land of waqf, in the North by a shop of waqf and in the South also by another shop of the waqf, for taking possession of the aforesaid property from the petitioner and to hand it over to the Mutwalli of Waqf Maszid Rauza Hazrat Kasim (the opposite party no. 4). The petitioner has also challenged the validity of a requisition dated 21.06.1996 issued by the Collector, Faizabad in furtherance of the aforesaid order dated 26.03.1996 passed by the Controller.

2. The petitioner has also challenged the validity of a judgment and order dated 12.10.2006 passed by the Special Judge, E.C. Act, Faizabad in Misc. Civil Appeal No.9 of 1996, whereby the petitioner's appeal filed against the aforesaid orders 26.03.1996 passed by the Controller and the requisition dated 21.06.1996 issued by the Collector Faizabad, was dismissed.

3. Briefly stated facts of the case are that the petitioner claims to be the owner of a part of waqf property bearing plot no.277 and he claims that Sri Sageer Husain had constructed a shop over the land in the year 1955 under an Ijazatnama granted by the erstwhile Taluqdar of Lorepur Estate on 13.09.1944. Subsequently another Ijazatnama was issued by the Chairman, Nagar Palika Parishad of Jalalpur on 27.09.1955. Sri Sageer Husain had constructed some shops over plot no.277 in furtherance of the Ijazatnama. The shops were recorded in the name of the petitioner and his predecessors in the records of town area Jalalpur which has subsequently become Nagar Palika Parishad, Jalalpur.

4. The Controller, Shia Central Waqf Board U.P., Lucknow had initiated an enquiry under section 58 of U. P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1960 and a report was submitted in furtherance of the enquiry on 22.05.1992. On 27.02.1995, a notice under Section 58 of the U.P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1960 was issued against the petitioner and other persons. The petitioner filed his reply to the notice claiming that plot no.277 had been leased out to Sri Sageer Husain in the year 1944 and the shops had been constructed thereon in the year 1955 and the same are not waqf property. Opposite party no.4 claims that plot no.277 is the property of Waqf Maszid Rauza Hazrat Kasim.

5. On 26.03.1996, the Shia Central Waqf Board, U.P. passed an order under Section 57-A of the U.P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1960 holding that the property in question is the property of Waqf Maszid Rauza Hazrat Kasim and ordering ejectment of the petitioner from waqf property and its requisition under section 57-A of the Act of 1960. In furtherance of the aforesaid order dated 26.03.1996 passed by the Controller of Shia Central Waqf Board, U.P., the Collector Lucknow issued a requisition dated 21.06.1996 for delivery of possession of the property to the Waqf under Rule 5 of U.P. Muslim Waqf Rules. The petitioner filed Misc. Civil Appeal No.9 of 1996 against the aforesaid order which has been dismissed by means of the judgment and order dated 12.10.2006 passed the Special Judge, E.C. Act, Faizabad holding that the petitioner ought to have filed a reference to the Tribunal constituted under U.P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1960 and the petitioner should agitate the question of title before the Tribunal. The appeal filed by the petitioner regarding his title could not be decided by the District Judge as only the Tribunal has power to decide the title of the parties. Accordingly, the appeal was dismissed as not maintainable.

6. Assailing the validity of the aforesaid three orders, Ms. Pushpila Bisht, the learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the Waqf Act, 1995 was enacted by the Parliament with effect from 01.01.1996. Section 112 of the Waqf Act, 1995 provides as follows: -

"112. Repeal and savings- (1) The Waqf Act 1956 (29 of 1954) and the Waqf (Amendment) Act, 1984 (69 of 1984) are hereby repealed.

(2) Notwithstanding such repeal, anything done or any action taken under the said Acts shall be deemed to have been done or taken under the corresponding provisions of this Act.

(3) If, immediately before the commencement of this Act, in any State, there is in force in that State, any law which corresponds to this Act that corresponding law shall stand repealed:

Provided that such repeal shall not affect the previous operation of that corresponding law, and subject thereto, anything done or any action taken in the exercise of any power conferred by or under the corresponding law shall be deemed to have been done or taken in the exercise of the powers conferred by or under this Act as if this Act was in force on the day on which such things were done or action was taken."

7. A bare perusal of Section 112(3) of the Act of 1995 makes it clear that U.P. Muslim Waqf Act 1960 stood repealed immediately upon enactment of the Waqf Act, 1995 i.e. with effect from 01.01.1996 and after 01.01.1996, no action could be taken or proceedings could be continued under U.P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1996.

8. Ms. Pushpila Bisht, learned counsel for the petitioner has relied upon a judgment rendered by a Division Bench of this Court in the case of Sahibzada Moinuddin Siddiqui v. U.P. Sunni Central Board of Waqfs, 2017 SCC OnLine All 3659, wherein it was held that: -

"19. Accordingly, savings provision contained in section 112 of 1995 Act saves only previous operation of 1960 Act and provides that the things done or action taken under 1960 Act will be deemed to have been taken in exercise of the powers conferred under 1995 Act, however, any action taken or anything done under the old 1960 Act will be valid and will be deemed to have been taken under the new Act 1995 only and only if such thing was done or such action was taken before the Waqf Act, 1995 came into force i.e., before 1.1.1996."

(Emphasis in original)

9. Sri S.A.A. Rizvi, learned counsel representing the opposite parties no.2 and 3 has submitted that the petitioner has an alternative remedy of challenging the aforesaid orders of the Controller and Collector before the Tribunal under section 83(2) of the Waqf Act, 1995. However, hecould not dispute the legal position and the affect of section 112(3) of the Waqf Act, 1995.

10. The learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that in the case of Whirlpool Corporation vs. Registrar of Trade Marks, Mumbai and others, reported in (1998) 8 SCC 1, Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that: -

"15. Under Article 226 of the Constitution, the High Court, having regard to the facts of the case, has a discretion to entertain or not to entertain a writ petition. But the High Court has imposed upon itself certain restrictions one of which is that if an effective and efficacious remedy is available, the High Court would not normally exercise its jurisdiction. But the alternative remedy has been consistently held by this Court not to operate as a bar in at least three contingencies, namely, where the writ petition has been filed for the enforcement of any of the Fundamental Rights or where there has been a violation of the principle of natural justice or where the order or proceedings are wholly without jurisdiction or the vires of an Act is challenged. There is a plethora of case-law on this point but to cut down this circle of forensic whirlpool, we would rely on some old decisions of the evolutionary era of the constitutional law as they still hold the field."

11. As in the present case, after enactment of the Waqf Act 1995, the Controller had no jurisdiction under Section 57-A of the U. P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1960, the order passed by the Controller and the consequential proceedings are wholly without jurisdiction and in such circumstances, the availability of an alternative remedy will not be a bar against exercise of jurisdiction under Article 226 of Constitution of India. Further, when the writ petition was filed way back on 06.11.2006 and the pleadings have been exchanged and the petition is pending for the last about 18 years, it would not proper to relegate the petitioner to any other alternative remedy at this belated stage.

12. Moreover, Section 83(2) of the Waqf Act, 1995 provides remedy to a person aggrieved by "an order made under this Act or Rules made thereunder". The impugned orders have been passed after repeal of U.P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1960 in exercise of powers conferred by the repealed Act and not under powers conferred by the Waqf Act, 1995. Therefore, the petitioner cannot avail the remedy under Section 83(2) of the Waqf Act, 1995.

13. Accordingly, keeping in view the entire facts and circumstances of the case, it would not be proper to relegate the petitioner to the matter being decided on merits.

14. The proviso appended to Section 112(3) merely saves anything done or any action taken in exercise of any power conferred by U.P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1960 till the aforesaid enactment was in existence i.e. prior to 01.01.1996. The order dated 26.03.1996 was passed by the Controller under Section 57-A of U.P. Muslim Waqf Act, 1960, whereas of U.P Muslim Waqf Act, 1960 stood repealed with effect from 01.01.1996. Therefore, the order dated 26.03.1996 passed by the Controller and the consequential requisition dated 21.06.1996, are without any authority of law.

15. Accordingly, the writ petition is allowed. The impugned order dated 26.03.1996 passed by the Controller, Shia Central Waqf Board, U.P. Lucknow under Section 57-A of U. P. Muslim Waqf Act, the requisition dated 21.06.1996 issued by the Collector, Faizabad in furtherance of the aforesaid order dated 26.03.1996 passed by the Controller and the order dated 12.10.2006 passed by the Special Judge, E.C. Act, Faizabad in Misc. Civil Appeal No.9 of 1996, are hereby quashed.

16. The proceedings that were initiated by the opposite party no.4 against the petitioner prior to repeal of U.P. Muslim Waqf Act and enactment of Waqf Act, 1995 shall stand transferred to the competent authority under the Waqf Act, 1995 i.e. Waqf Board which shall proceed in accordance with law from the stage that had been achieved prior to 01.01.2006 i.e. date of enforcement of Waqf Act, 1995.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1643
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 01.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MANISH KUMAR, J.

Writ - C No. 2403 of 2024

Durga Khadi Evam Gramodyog Seva Sansthan, Lko. ...Petitioner
Versus
Additional Commissioner, Administration, Lucknow & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Pradeep Kumar

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

Civil Law –transfer of a land belonging to a Scheduled Case land owner to the petitioner society-without prior permission of the Collector- Sections 157A and 157AA of the UPZA&LR Act,1950-Parliament does not confer the status of scheduled caste- any Institution/Society or company or an association or a body of individuals or upon any artificial person-such a transfer without prior approval of Collector is invalid-impugned orders upheld- petition dismissed. (Paras 11 and 12)

HELD:

In the aforesaid judgment, it has clearly been held that the Society/ Institution has not been conferred the status of a scheduled caste and by necessary implication even if it is assumed that any institution or a Society is a person, it would not be a person specified and notified to be scheduled caste hence, the prior approval from the Collector/Assistant Collector is necessary before the sale of property. (Para 12)

Petition dismissed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

Civil Misc. Writ Petition No. 44098 of 2014 (Committee of Management, Randhir Singh U.M. Vidayala Vs St. of U.P. & ors.) decided on 10.04.2019

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manish Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Shri Pradeep Kumar, learned counsel for the petitioner and Shri Hemant Kumar Pandey, learned Standing Counsel for the State.

2. Present petition has been preferred for quashing of the impugned order dated 17.10.2023 passed by the respondent no. 1-Additional Commissioner, Administration, Lucknow Mandal, Lucknow in Case No. 503/2014 (Computerized Case No. C2014100000503) (Durga Khadi Vs. U.P. Ziladhikari) under Section 333 (3) of the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act, 1950 (hereinafter referred to as, the Act, 1950) and the impugned order dated 03.08.2013 passed by the respondent no. 2 Deputy Collector (Revenue), District Lucknow in Case No. 02/02/2008-09 (State Vs. Durga Khadi Evam Gramodyog Seva Sansthan and other) under Section 166/167 of the Act, 1950.

3. Learned counsel for the petitioner i.e. Durga Khadi Evam Gramodyog Seva Sansthan (hereinafter referred to as, the Society) has submitted that land of Khata No. 554 was purchased by respondent no. 4-Munishwar from respondent no. 3-Sanjay Kumar by registered sale deed dated 20.09.2003 and both the parties belong to the Scheduled Caste. Thereafter, the petitioner Society through Smt. Pushpa Devi, Secretary/Manager, Durga Khadi Evam Gramodhyog Seva Sansthan has purchased the said property from respondent

no. 4-Munishwar by registered sale deed dated 29.09.2007.

4. It is further submitted that Smt Pushpa Devi has been holding the post of Secretary/ Manager Durga Khadi Evam Gramodhyog Seva Sansthan since the execution of sale deed and she belongs to the Scheduled Caste category also hence, there was no requirement to obtain prior permission from Collector under Section 157 A of the Act, 1950.

5. It is next submitted that since respondent no. 4-Munishwar and Smt Pushpa are belong to the category of Scheduled Caste so there is no illegality in the execution of sale deed dated 29.09.2007 thus, case of the petitioner does not fall under Section 157 A of the Act, 1950, hence, the impugned orders are bad in the eyes of of law and are liable to be set aside.

6. On the other hand, Shri Hemant Kumar Pandey, learned Standing Counsel has submitted that the property i.e. Khata No. 554 was sold by Shri Munishwar-respondent no. 4 to the petitioner society through Smt. Pushpa Devi. Sale deed was executed in favour of petitioner-Society and the petitioner being a Society does not belong to any caste or category and no such status have been conferred to the petitioner Society thus, the transaction is hit by sub Section 1 of Section 157 A of the Act, 1950 and in support of his submission, he placed reliance upon the judgment of this Court dated 10.04.2019 passed in Civil Misc. Writ Petition No. 44098 of 2014 (Committee of Management, Randhir Singh U.M. Vidayala Vs. State of U.P. and others).

7. After hearing learned counsel for the parties and going through the record of the case, it is found that Respondent no.-4-Shri Munishwar executed a sale deed in favour of the petitioner-Society through Smt. Pushpa Devi-wife of respondent no. 4 as Secretary/Manager of the petitioner Society and under this misconception, learned counsel for the petitioner is pressing hard that sale deed dated 29.09.2007 was executed by a person belonging to Scheduled Caste to another person belonging to Scheduled Caste category, hence, the prior approval of Collector, as required under Section 157 A of the Act, 1950 is not required in the present case and thus, there is no illegality in the present transaction.

8. For convenience, the relevant extract of Section 157 A of the Act, 1950 is quoted hereinbelow:-

" 157-A. Restrictions on transfer of land by members of Scheduled Castes- (1) Without prejudice to the restrictions contained in Sections 153 to 157, no bhumidhar or asami belonging to a Scheduled Caste shall have the right to transfer any land by way of sale, gift, mortgage or lease to a person not belonging to a Scheduled Caste, except with the previous approval of the Collector.

Provided that no such approval shall be given by the Collector in case where the land held in Uttar Pradesh by the transfer on the date of application under this section is less than 1.26 hectares or where the area of land so held in Uttar Pradesh by the transferor on the said date is after such transfer, likely to be reduced to less than 1.26 hectare. "

9. As regards the judgment relied by learned Standing Counsel, it has been submitted by the learned counsel for the petitioner that the said judgment is not applicable as the said judgment was passed considering the Section 157 AA of the Act, 1950. The said submission of learned counsel for the petitioner is also not acceptable. For convenience, the relevant extract of Section 157 AA of the Act, 1950 is being reproduced hereinbelow:-

"157 AA. Restrictions on transfer by member of Scheduled Castes becoming bhumidhar under Section 131-B (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in Section 157 A and without prejudice to the restrictions contained in Sections 153 to 157, no person belonging to scheduled caste having become a Bhumidhar with transferable rights under Section 131-B shall have the right to transfer the land by way of sale, gift, mortgage or lease to a person other than a person belonging to a Scheduled Caste and such transfer, if any, shall be in the following order of preference

(a) land less agricultural labourer;

(b) marginal farmer;

(c) small farmer; and

(d) a person other than a person referred to in Clauses (a), (b) and (c):-

10. The issue which is to be adjudicated in the present case is whether a person belonging to Scheduled Caste category can transfer any property/land by way of sale, gift, mortgage or lease to a person not belonging to Schedule Caste category, except with prior approval by the Collector, whereas sub Section 4 of 157 AA of the Act, 1950 provides that no transfer shall be made except with the previous approval of the Assistant Collector concerned. The said section is reproduced hereunder for convenience :-

" 157 AA (4) No transfer under this Sections shall be made except with the previous approval of the Assistant Collector concerned.

11. This Court in the case of Committee of Management, Randhir Singh U.M. Vidayala (supra) has considered the same issue whether a person belonging to Scheduled Caste category can transfer the land in favour of a Society without prior approval of the Collector/Assistant Collector wherein it has been held by this Court that a Society is not a person belonging to Scheduled Caste category. The relevant extract of the said judgment is being reproduced hereunder :-

" 13. In compliance with the above Article the list which has been notified by the President for the State of U.P. and by the Parliament does not in any manner confer the status of a scheduled caste to any Institution/Society or a Company or an association or an body of individuals or upon any artificial person. Therefore, by necessary implication even if it is assumed that any institution or a Society is a person, it would not be a person specified and notified to be scheduled caste."

12. In the aforesaid judgment, it has clearly been held that the Society/ Institution has not been conferred the status of a scheduled caste and by necessary implication even if it is assumed that any institution or a Society is a person, it would not be a person specified and notified to be scheduled caste hence, the prior approval from the Collector/Assistant Collector is necessary before the sale of property.

13. It is an admitted case of the petitioner that there was no prior approval from the Collector before the execution of sale deed by Munishwar belonging to the Scheduled Caste to the petitioner society, which is required under Section 157 A of the Act, 1950.

14. In view of the facts, circumstances and discussion made hereinabove, the present petition is devoid of merit hence, dismissed.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1646
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 24.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MAHESH CHANDRA TRIPATHI, J.
THE HON'BLE ANISH KUMAR GUPTA, J.

Special Appeal Defective No. 9 of 2024

Basic Shiksha Adhikari ...Appellant
Versus
Laxmi Shakya & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Manvendra Singh, Prabhakar Awasthi, Vijay Kumar Maurya

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Siddharth Khare

(A) Service Law - Assistant Teacher Recruitment Examination, 2018 - Intermediate Education Act, 1921 - Chapter XII Part - II- B (General Regulation Regarding Exam) - Clause 17 (1), (2), (3), (4) & (5) - Regulation 5 - Guidelines for Pursuing Two Academic Programmes Simultaneously - New Education Policy 2020 Guidelines - Allows two academic programmes under certain conditions - Programs must not overlap and have different class times - One full-time course on physical mode and the other in open and distance learning or online mode - No retrospective benefit can be claimed for students who have already pursued two academic programmes simultaneously - Prior to April 2022, no person could pursue two full-time academic programmes in physical modes simultaneously. (Para - 34, 35)

(B) Service Law - The U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921 - prohibits simultaneous examinations of High School and Intermediate courses, either as regular or private students - If a candidate appears in two simultaneous exams, their results are declared nullity - Only Examination Board can declare a candidate's result nullity - Higher education courses cannot be undertaken simultaneously - employment cannot be terminated unless certificates are forged, fabricated, or declared nullity by the Examination Board. (Para -37)

Petitioner's services were terminated - due to his multiple certificates, including High School and Intermediate, B.A, B.Sc., B.T.C., and M.Sc., and his overlapping degrees - No courses declared null by competent Examination Board - Certificates verified as genuine - Services cannot be terminated unless declared null and void by Examination Body. (Para - 4,38)

HELD:- Appellant/respondents are directed to permit petitioner/respondent no.1 to discharge her duties on the post on which petitioner was appointed. Petitioner entitled for payment of salary with continuity in service and all consequential benefits.(Para - 41)

Appeal dismissed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:

1. Kuldeep Kumar Pathak Vs St. of U.P. & ors. , (2016) 3 SCC 521

2. Board of Basic Education & anr. Vs Arvind Prakash Dwivedi & ors.., Special Appeal Defective No. 898 of 2020

3. Laxmi Shanker Yadav Vs St. of U.P. & ors. , Writ-A No. 5394 of 2021

4. The Basic Eduction Board, U.P. Prayagraj & anr. Vs Laxmi Shekhar Yadav, Special Appeal No. 37 of 2022

5. Shilpa Saroha Vs St. of U.P. & ors., Writ A No. 13888 of 2019

6. A. Dharmraj Vs The Educational Officer Puddukkottai & ors. , (2022) 11 SCC 692

7. Rao Mohammad Arif Vs St. of U.P. & ors. , Special Appeal No. 124 of 2023

(Delivered by Hon'ble Anish Kumar Gupta, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Manvendra Singh, learned counsel for the appellant, Mr. Ambrish Shukla, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State respondent, Mr. Siddharth Khare, learned counsel appearing for the contesting-respondent and perused the record.

Order on Delay Condonation Application

2. Delay in filling the present appeal has been explained to the satisfaction of the Court. Learned counsel for the respondent has no objection if the delay condonation application is allowed. Accordingly delay in filing the appeal is condoned.

3. The delay condonation application stands allowed.

Order on Appeal

4. The instant special appeal has been preferred against the judgement and order dated 10.04.2023, passed by the learned Single Judge in Writ A No. 1111 of 2023 (Laxmi Shakya vs. State of U.P. and 3 Others) whereby the learned Single Judge has allowed the writ petition and set-aside the order dated 31.12.2022, passed by the District Basic Education Officer, Mainpuri, whereby the services of the respondent no.1/petitioner, Laxmi Shakya, were terminated on the ground that the petitioner has obtained the certificate of High School and Intermediate, twice and has also obtained overlapping degrees of B.A, B.Sc. and also the overlapping degree of B.T.C. and M.Sc.

5. The brief facts of the case are that the State Government has notified the vacancies for recruitment on the post of Assistant Teacher in the year, 2018, known as "Assistant Teacher Recruitment Examination, 2018". The petitioner/respondent no.1 having possessed the requisite qualifications, participated in the examination and qualified the same. In terms of the said qualifications, on passing of the said examination the petitioner was issued an appointment letter dated 05.09.2018. On the basis of the aforesaid appointment letter dated 05.09.2018, she has joined Prathmik Vidyalaya, Nagla Ahir Block Kisni, District Mainpuri on the post of Assistant Teacher on 07.09.2018 and was discharging her duties. In the meantime, the petitioner/respondent was married to one Sandeep Kumar s/o Sughar Singh. When her matrimonial relationship with Sandeep Kumar became strained, Sughar Singh, the father of Sandeep Kumar and father-in-law of the petitioner/respondent no.1, made an online complaint on Jansunwayi Portal (IGRS) on 31.07.2021 alleging therein that the petitioner has obtained the certificates and passed the High School, Intermediate examination twice on the overlapping years and she has also obtained the overlapping degrees of B.A./B.Sc. It is also alleged that she had also completed the degree of M.Sc. and B.T.C. simultaneously. On such complaint being made the District Basic Education Officer had issued a notice dated 13.08.2021 to the petitioner/respondent no.1. Thereafter, another notice was issued on 01.10.2021 by the District Basic Education Officer, Mainpuri and by the said notice, payment of salary to the petitioner was stopped. The petitioner/respondent has submitted her reply to the aforesaid notice dated 01.10.2021 on 18.10.2021.

6. Relying upon the judgement of Kuldeep Kumar Pathak Vs. State of U.P. & others (2016) 3 SCC 521 and the another judgement of this Court in passed in Special Appeal Defective No. 898 of 2020 (Board of Basic Education and Another vs. Arvind Prakash Dwivedi and 2 Others), the said notice dated 01.10.2021 was challenged by the petitioner/respondent in Writ A No. 18268 of 2021 (Laxmi Shakya Vs. State of U.P. and 2 others). The said writ petition was disposed of vide order dated 17.12.2021 directing the District Basic Education Officer, Mainpuri to take a decision in the matter most expeditiously and preferably within a period of two weeks from the date of production of a certified copy of the order. Thereupon, on 23.12.2021, the petitioner/respondent submitted a copy of the order dated 17.12.2021 alongwith her reply and claimed to set-aside the notice dated 01.10.2021 and to restore her salary. Pursuant to the aforesaid representation dated 23.12.2021, the District Basic Education Officer, Mainpuri, directed the Block Education Officer to conduct an inquiry with regard to the allegations levelled against the petitioner and thereafter on 29.01.2022, the District Basic Education Officer, Mainpuri, withdrew the order of stoppage of payment of salary after completion of the inquiry by the Block Education Officer. The petitioner/respondents also submitted the reply dated 02.03.2022 before the Block Development Officer wherein she has categorically stated that she has submitted the following documents for appearing in the Assistant Teacher Recruitment Examination, 2018, which are as under:-

क्रम सं०	परीक्षा का नाम	वर्ष	अनुक्रमांक	श्रेणी	शिक्षण संस्था का नाम	बोर्ड/ विवि का नाम
1	हाईस्कूल	2010	1558864	प्रथम	ऋषिभूमि इं०को० सौरिख कन्नौज	यू०पी० बोर्ड
2	इण्टर	2012	1134721	प्रथम
3	बी०एस० सी०	2015	6055893	प्रथम	गंगा सिंह महाविद्यालय हुसैनपुर कन्नौज	छत्रपति शाहूजी महाराज वि०वि० कानपुर
4	बी०टी० सी०	2017	18410351	प्रथम	देवांशू समाज कल्याण सेवा महाविद्यालय महादेव नगर सौरिख कन्नौज	परीक्षा नियामक प्राधिकारी उत्तर प्रदेश
5	टेट.	2017	1810402656	उत्तीर्ण	-

7. The original copies of the above documents were also produced by the respondent/petitioner at the time of the counselling which were duly verified by the Department and having found the documents genuine, she was selected and appointed on the post of Assistant Teacher. She has also stated with regard to the strained relationship with her husband due to which the instant complaint has been lodged by the father-in-law of the respondent/petitioner.

8. In response to the clarification sought for by the Block Education Officer vide its letter dated 07.03.2022, the petitioner/respondent has further submitted her explanation on 10.3.2022 to the effect that except the B.Sc. Examination, she has no concern with any other documents nor she has any knowledge about the same. However, she has admitted that before taking admission in B.T.C. course, she has taken the admission in M.Sc. And after taking the admission in B.T.C., she has not attended the classes in M.Sc. course. However, she has appeared in the examination of M.Sc. as well but she has not utilized her M.Sc. Mark sheet or certificate at any stage. She has also submitted application for surrendering the mark sheet and degree of M.Sc. before the University concerned, which is under process.

9. The said Block Education Officer has submitted an inquiry report dated 23.03.2022. After submission of the said inquiry report, the District Basic Education Officer, Mainpuri, vide order dated 11.04.2022, has further directed the Block Education Officer, Mainpuri to conduct a fresh inquiry with regard to the overlapping degrees obtained by the petitioner/respondent in the year, 2014 B.A. Part - I and B.Sc. Part-II, in the year, 2015 B.A. Part - II and B.Sc. Part-III, in the year, 2016 B.A. Part - III, M.Sc. Part-I and B.T.C. Part- I and in the year, 2017 M.Sc. Part - II and B.T.C. Part-II.

10. In pursuance of the aforesaid order dated 11.04.2022, the Block Education Officer again submitted his report on 06.05.2022 whereby the Block Education Officer has informed that with regard to the Educational qualification of Laxmi d/o Sri Ashok Kumar, she has obtained the record from Swargiya Mahadev Prasad Smarak Mahila Mahavidyalaya, Husainpur Saurikh, Kannauj and Ganga Singh Mahavidyalaya, Sultanpur Saukhik, Kannauj and has found as under:-

"1. जिसमें स्व० महादेव प्रसाद स्मारक महिला महाविद्यालय हुसैनपुर सौरिख जनपद कन्नोज द्वारा शैक्षिक अभिलेख प्रमाणित कर उलब्ध कराये गये है जिसमें आपके द्वारा वर्ष 2011 में हाईस्कूल अनुक्रमांकः 1579885, परिणाम उत्तीर्ण जतिथि-15.07.1995 अंकित की गयी है, और इण्टरमीडिएट में वर्ष 2013 अनुक्रमांकः 1137929 परिणाम प्रथम श्रेणी ओनर्स तथा बी०ए० प्रथम वर्ष, द्वितीय वर्ष तृतीय वर्ष अनुक्रमाकः 6157728 परिणाम प्राप्तांक / पूर्णांकः 677/900 प्रथम श्रेणी।

2 गंगा सिंह महाविद्यालय सुल्तानपुर, सौरिख, जनपद कन्नौज द्वारा शैक्षिक अभिलेख प्रमाणित उपलब्ध कराये गये है जिसके आपके द्वारा हाईस्कूल परीक्षा-2010 अनुकनायकः 1558864 परिणान पास, इण्टरमीडिएट—2012 अनुक्रमांकः 1134721 परिणाम प्राप्तांक / पूर्णांक 361/500 प्रथम श्रेणी, बी०एस०सी० प्रथम वर्ष, द्वितीय वर्ष तृतीय वर्ष-2015, अनुक्रमांक-6055893, प्राप्तांक / पूर्णांक 1197/1000 उत्तीर्ण श्रेणी प्रथम श्रेणी, एम०एस०सी० प्रथम, द्वितीय, वर्ष 2017- अनुक्रमांकः 2033264, परिणाम- प्राप्तांक / पूर्णांक-335/1000 उत्तीर्ण श्रेणी प्रथम तथा उपस्थिति विवरण प्राचार्य द्वारा उपलब्ध नही कराया गया है।"

11. On the basis of the aforesaid report submitted by the Block Education Officer, the report from the University and the Secretary Education Board Allahabad, were also obtained and in the meantime on 21.12.2022, a show cause notice was further issued to the petitioner/respondent and in response to the aforesaid show cause notice, the petitioner respondent has submitted a detailed reply wherein she has categorically stated that she has passed the High School vide Roll No. 1558864 in the year, 2010 and her date of birth being 15.09.1995, Intermediate Roll No. 1134721 in the year 2012, B.Sc. Roll No. 6055893 in the year 2015, B.T.C. Roll No. 18410351 in year, 2017 and TET Roll No. 1810402656 in the year, 2017. She submits that in addition to the aforesaid degree, she has also obtained the degree of M.Sc. which was erroneously taken in the same session alongwith B.T.C. Realizing her mistake, she has already made an application for surrender of the degree of M.Sc. before the University concerned and she has not used that M.Sc. Degree in any selection process. She has reiterated with regard to the strained relationship with her husband and her in-laws and has submitted the copies of the aforesaid degrees of High School, Intermediate, B.Sc., B.T.C. and T.E.T. However, she has stated that she has no concern with the other marksheet and certificate of High School, Intermediate and the B.A. degree. As she has no connection with the said documents therefore the same were denied.

12. The said show cause notice dated 21.12.2022 also required the petitioner to appear before the District Selection Committee on 28.12.2022 for personal hearing, failing which her services would be terminated. In response thereto the petitioner appeared before the District Selection Committee on 28.12.2022 and submitted her reply, as aforesaid. The Selection Committee was not satisfied with the reply submitted by the petitioner and on the basis of the records found that the petitioner has obtained appointment by concealing the material fact for the High School and Intermediate Certificate as well as degree of Graduation and has also altered her date of birth. Thereupon, the District Selection Committee recommended her termination from the date of her initial appointment. Thereafter, vide order dated 31.12.2022, the services of the petitioner/ respondent no.1 were terminated by the District Basic Education Officer, Mainpuri, holding that the petitioner/respondent has passed the High School and Intermediate examination twice and has obtained two degrees of Graduation and has passed the B.T.C. course alongwith the M.Sc. The said order dated 31.12.2022 was challenged in Writ A No. 1111 of 2023, which has been allowed by the impugned order dated 10.04.2024, against which the present Special Appeal has been filed.

13. Learned Single Judge relying upon the judgement of Kuldeep Kumar Pathak(supra) and Laxmi Shanker Yadav vs. State of U.P. and 4 Others in Writ-A No. 5394 of 2021 and the judgement dated 19.11.2022 passed by the Division Bench of this Court in Special Appeal No. 37 of 2022 (the Basic Eduction Board, U.P. Prayagraj and Another vs. Laxmi Shekhar Yadav) has allowed the said writ petition, holding that appellant/respondent could not place any regulation for the statutory requirement to demonstrate that obtaining two degrees simultaneously is prohibited.

14. Learned counsel for the appellant submits that the Judgement of Kuldeep Kumar Pathak (supra) is distinguishable as the same was on different facts where the appellant therein had got the second degree in one subject in the same year which was permissible under law but in the instant case two degrees of two regular courses were simultaneously obtained twice mentioning different date of births, which is not permissible.

15. Learned counsel for the appellant has further relied upon of Regulation regarding the examination issued under Intermediate Education Act, 1921. The Clause 17(4) and (5) reads as under:-

"Part-2 Chapter XII (General Regulation Regarding Exam)

Clause-17(4) & (5)

(4) परीक्षार्थी इस विनियम के अन्तर्गत एक बार में केवल एक ही परीक्षा (हाईस्कूल अथवा इण्टरमीडिएट) में प्रविष्ट हो सकेंगे।

(5) हाईस्कूल तथा इण्टरमीडिएट की सम्पूर्ण परीक्षा में सम्मिलित होने वाले परीक्षार्थी इस विनियम के अन्तर्गत परीक्षा में बैठने के पात्र नहीं होगें।"

16. Relying upon the aforesaid provisions, learned counsel for the appellant submits that there is a clear bar to obtain overlapping degrees of High School and Intermediate in the same session. Likewise, learned counsel for the appellant submits that the petitioner/respondent has obtained overlapping degrees of B.A. and B.Sc. as well as the overlapping degrees of B.T.C. and M.Sc. which are regular courses and cannot be obtained in one session in view of the U.G.C. Regulation. Clause 4 of the Ordinance relating to examination creating bar on students to obtain two degrees and also containing guidelines issued by the U.G.C., has been placed on record.

17. Learned counsel for the appellant further submits that as per report dated 06.05.2022, submitted by the Block Education Officer, Kishni, the petitioner/respondent no.1 has obtained the following degrees as per the record received from Swargiya Mahadev Prasad Smarak Mahila Mahavidyalaya, Husainpur Saurikh, Kannauj, which reads as under:-

क्रम	परीक्षा का नाम	वर्ष	अनुक्रमांक	श्रेणी	परीक्षा संस्था का नाम	जन्मतिथि
1	हाईस्कूल परीक्षा प्रमाण पत्र	2011	1579885	पास	मा०शि०प०उ०प्र०	15.07.1995
2	इण्टरमिडिएट परीक्षा प्रमाण पत्र	2013	1137929	पास	तदैव
3	बी०ए०प्रथम रेगुलर अंकपत्र	2014	4187947	पास	सी०एस०जे०एम०वि०वि० कानपुर
4	बी०ए० द्वितीय रेगुलर अंकपत्र	2015	2176284	पास	तदैव
5	बी०ए० तृतीय रेगुलर अंकपत्र	2016	6157728	प्रथम	तदैव

18. The petitioner has obtained the following degrees as per the record received from Ganga Singh Mahavidyalaya, Sultanpur Saukhik, Kannauj, which reads as under:-

क्रम	परीक्षा का नाम	वर्ष	अनुक्रमांक	श्रेणी	परीक्षा संस्था का नाम	जन्मतिथि
1	हाईस्कूल परीक्षा प्रमाण पत्र व अंकपत्र रेगुलर	2010	1558864	पास	मा०शि०प०उ०प्र०	15.09.1995
2	इण्टरमिडिएट परीक्षा प्रमाण पत्र व अंकपत्र रेगुलर	2012	1134721	पास	मा०शि०प०उ०प्र०
3	बी०एस०सी० प्रथम रेगुलर अंकपत्र	2013	0758949	पास	सी०एस०जे०एम०वि०वि० कानपुर
4	बी०एस०सी० द्वितीय रेगुलर अंकपत्र	2014	2058848	पास	तदैव
5	बी०एस०सी० तृतीय रेगुलर अंकपत्र	2015	6055893	पास	तदैव
6	एम०एस०सी० प्रथम रेगुलर अंकपत्र	2016	5033315	पास	तदैव
7	एम०एस०सी० प्रथम रेगुलर अंकपत्र	2017	2033264	पास	तदैव

19. Learned counsel for the appellant therefore submits that it is categorically clear that petitioner/respondent no1. has maintained two parallel certificates of High School, Intermediate and Graduation degrees mentioning different date of births and has obtained the selection by concealing one set of educational certificates. With regard to the aforesaid submissions, learned counsel for the appellant further relied upon the report received from the U.P. Secondary Education Board dated 07.10.2022, which reads as under:-

क्रम	हा०/ इण्टर	वर्ष	अनुक्रमांक	नाम	माता का नाम	पिता का नाम	जन्म तिथि	पूर्णांक	प्राप्तांक	श्रेणी	अभ्युक्ति
01	H. S.	2010	1558864	Laxmi Shakya	Shashi Kumari	Ashok Kumar	15.09.1995	600	GRADE	PASS	पुष्टित
02	Int.	2012	1134721	Laxmi Shakya	Shashi Kumari	Ashok Kumar	-	500	361	Ist	पुष्टित
03	H. S.	2011	1579885	Laxmi	Shashi Prabha	Ashok Kumar	15.07.1995	600	GRADE	PASS	पुष्टित
04	Int	2013	1137929	Laxmi	Shashi Prabha	Ashok Kumar	-	1000	871	Ist-H	पुष्टित

20. Learned counsel for the appellant further submits that as per Regulation 5 of Chapter XII issued under the Intermediate Education Act, 1921, 75 % attendance is required. Similarly, as per the University guidelines as available on the website of the Chhatrapati Shahu Ji Maharaj University, Kanpur, as contained in General and Miscellaneous Ordinances and Chapter XXVIII-B, the minimum requirement for appearing in any University Examination is 75 % attendance. Unless, that requirement is fulfilled, the candidate cannot be permitted to appear in the examination.

21. Learned counsel for the appellant further submits that the judgement as were pronounced by the Apex Court in Kuldeep Kumar Pathak (supra) as well as in Laxmi Shanker Yadav (Supra), were passed on the basis that there is no regulatory framework available prohibiting two simultaneous degrees. However, as per the aforesaid regulations issued under the Intermediate Education Act as well as the Ordinance available in the website of the University, there is sufficient prohibition that no person can simultaneously obtain two degrees of regular courses as there is a requirement of 75 % attendance prior to appearing in the examination. Therefore, the aforesaid judgement passed by the Apex Court in Kuldeep Kumar Pathak (supra) and Division Bench by this Court in Laxmi Shanker Yadav (Supra), are not the good law as the same were passed in ignorance of the aforesaid regulatory framework available on record.

22. Per contra, learned counsel for the petitioner/respondent no.1 submits that as per the report of U.P. Secondary Education Board, Allahabad dated 07.10.2022, the first two items relate to the petitioner/respondent no. 1 herein, which have been duly verified by the Board. However, the other two items with regard to the High School in the year, 2011 and Intermediate in the year 2013 did not belong to the petitioner herein. They are of some other persons and she has not obtained the High School and Intermediate Certificates as stated in item nos. 3 and 4 in the report dated 07.10.2022 of the Board. It has been further submitted that she is not aware of the degrees of B.A. as has been relied upon by the appellant to contend that the petitioner has simultaneously obtained these degrees of B.A. alongwith B.Sc. The said degrees does not belong to the petitioner Inasmuch as the said High School, Intermediate and B.A. degrees were of one Laxmi d/o Ashok Kumar and mother's name is Shashi Prabha whereas in her case her name is Laxmi Shakya and her mother's name is Shashi Kumari and father's name is Ashok Kumar. Therefore, the petitioner cannot be connected with the aforesaid certificates of High School and Intermediate of 2011-13 as well as the B.A. Degrees of 2014, 2015 and 2016. The counsel for the petitioner/respondent has placed reliance on the reply of the petitioner wherein she has categorically stated that though she has taken admission in the M.Sc. Course, prior to taking admission in the B.T.C. course and after taking admission in B.T.C. course she has not attended any of the classes of M.Sc. Course. However, she has appeared in the M.Sc. Examination and when she has realized her mistake, she has already surrendered her M.Sc. degree to the University concerned and she has never utilized the same in any selection process or anywhere else for getting any benefit of the said degrees. The documents which she has submitted at the time of appearing in the examination as well as her selection and at the time of counselling, the same were duly verified and after due verification she was given appointment and none of the authorities have ever found that the documents submitted by the petitioner were forged, fabricated and are not genuine. Therefore, merely because due to a matrimonial dispute, her father-in-law has made a false complaint based on some irrelevant documents, which have no connection with the petitioner, hence her services cannot be terminated. The judgement passed by the learned Single Judge is based on settled principles of law as has been laid down in Kuldeep Kumar Pathak (supra) and Laxmi Shanker Yadav (Supra) by the Division Bench of this Court. Therefore, no interference is called for against the judgement and order dated 10.04.2022 passed by the learned Single Judge.

23. The first question which arose before this Court is that whether a person can be permitted to pursue two regular courses of the High School and Intermediate as well as at the Graduation and Post Graduation level in one session. Before considering this issue, it will be relevant to note down the relevant portion of the judgement of the Apex Court in Kuldeep Kumar Pathak (supra) which reads as under:-

".....7. We are of the opinion that both the submissions of the learned Senior Counsel are valid in law and have to prevail. The High Court has been influenced by the argument of the respondents that simultaneous appearance in two examinations by the appellant in the same year was "contrary to the Regulations". However, no such Regulation has been mentioned either by the learned Single Judge or the Division Bench. Curiously, no such Regulation has been pointed out even by the respondents. On our specific query to the learned counsel for the respondents to this effect, he expressed his inability to show any such Regulation or any other rule or provision contained in the U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921 or Supplementary Regulations of 1976 framed under the aforesaid Act or in any other governing Regulations. Therefore, the entire foundation of the impugned judgment of the High Court is erroneous.

8. It is also pertinent to note that the appellant's intermediate examination and result thereof was not in question before the U.P. Board. No illegality in the admission in that class has been pointed out by the respondents. The alleged charge of simultaneously appearing in two examinations, one of the U.P. Board and other of the Sanskrit Board, was with respect to Class X and equivalent examination which did not relate to admission in intermediate course. The only provision for cancelling the said admission is contained in Regulation 1 of Chapter VI-B. It details the procedure for passing the order of punishment cancelling intermediate results and, inter alia, prescribes that a committee consisting of three different members is to be constituted and entrusted with the responsibility of looking into and disposing of cases relating to unfair means and award appropriate penalty as specified in the Regulations itself. However, there is no allegation of any unfair means adopted by the appellant in the instant case and, therefore, that Regulation has no applicability. Even otherwise, no such committee was constituted. Therefore, having taken admission in intermediate on the basis of past certificate issued by a separate Board, which was recognised, and not on the basis of the result of Class X of the U.P. Board, the appellant derived no advantage from his examination of the U.P. Board while seeking admission in intermediate course. Thus, from any angle the matter is to be looked into, the impugned orders dated 20-4-2011 and 10-5-2011 passed by the respondents are null and void, apart from the fact that they are in violation of the principles of natural justice....."

24. Relying upon the aforesaid judgement of Kuldeep Kumar Pathak (supra), Coordinate Bench of this Court has also decided the Special Appeal Defective No. 898 of 2020 (Board of Basic Education and Another vs. Arvind Prakash Dwivedi and 2 Others) on 21.10.2020, wherein this Court has observed as under :-

".....It is not in dispute that at the relevant time the respondent-petitioner could have obtained two qualification simultaneously and the respondent-petitioner as such possessed requisite qualification to hold the post of Assistant Teacher as well as the further promotional post....."

25. A similar view has taken by the Division Bench of this Court in Special Appeal 37 of 2022 (The Basic Education Board, U.P. Prayagraj and Another vs. Laxmi Shankar Yadav on 19.11.2022 wherein this Court has observed as under:-

".....10. Having perused the record and considered the rival submissions, we may observe that no doubt it may appear improbable as to how a person could obtain two degrees simultaneously but that cannot be taken as a ground to annul both the degrees. There has to be an exercise to annul either one or both the degrees on the basis of material collected, after giving opportunity of hearing to the holder of such a degree. Such an exercise has to be on case to case basis. Here, what is important is that neither the B.A. degree obtained from Awadh University, Faizabad, nor the Shastri degree obtained from Sampurnanand Sanskrit Vishwavidyalaya, has been cancelled. Importantly, the petitioner had sought appointment by relying on the Shastri degree and on the basis of the marks obtained therein the petitioner was placed in the select list and was ultimately selected and appointed. At this stage, it be noticed that the learned single Judge has returned a specific finding that the opposite party counsel could not place any regulation/ statutory enactment or even an order having statutory flavour to demonstrate that obtaining of two degrees simultaneously is prohibited. The learned standing counsel despite our request could not demonstrate that the said finding is incorrect.The U.G.C. clarificatory letter dated 15th January, 2016 on which the appellant has placed reliance only deprecates obtaining of two degrees simultaneously, but it does not mandate the University to annul the degree so obtained. In so far the clarificatory letter dated 4th December, 2020 is concerned that also does not mandate the authorities to cancel the candidature of a candidate who has set up such degrees but requires a case to case examination. In the instant case, the petitioner has set up Shastri degree obtained from Sampurnanand Sanskrit Vishwavidyalaya, Varanasi for the purposes of selection in the recruitment process undertaken by the appellants. This degree has admittedly not been cancelled. In our view, therefore, unless the professed qualification is annulled or is found in the teeth of statutory regulation or order, rendering the same ineffective or null, it would not be permissible to overlook or discard the same. "(Emphasis Supplied)

26. From the perusal of the judgements as noted hereinabove, it is amply clear that all those judgements were passed primarily on the ground that learned counsel for the parties could not bring on record any of the regulations prohibiting a person from obtaining Degrees/Certificates of two parallel, overlapping, simultaneous courses. As per the Chapter XII of the Regulation issued under the Uttar Pradesh Intermediate Education Act, 1921, Clause 19 -क, specifically prohibits as under:-

"19-क. हाईस्कूल (कक्षा 9 एवं 10) तथा इण्टरमीडिएट परीक्षा में अभ्यर्थी केवल एक ही माध्यम (संस्थागत अथवा व्यक्तिगत) से आवेदनपत्र भर कर परीक्षा में सम्मिलित हो सकता है। किसी भी दशा में अभ्यर्थी को एक परीक्षावर्ष में एक से अधिक संस्था / संस्थाओं से संस्थागत अथवा व्यक्तिगत अथवा दोनों प्रकार से आवेदन-पत्र भरने अथवा परीक्षा में सम्मिलित होने की अनुमति नहीं होगी। तथ्यों को छिपाना अपराध होगा। इस विनियम के उल्लंघन का दोषी पाये जाने वाले अभ्यर्थियों की अभ्यर्थिता निरस्त कर दी जायेगी तथा उनके विवरण यदि परिषदीय अभिलेखों में अंकित हो गये हैं, तो उन्हें विलुप्त करा दिया जायेगा अथवा अभ्यर्थी के परीक्षा में, अनियमित रूप से सम्मिलित होने की दशा में परीक्षाफल निरस्त कर दिया जायेगा, जिसका सम्पूर्ण उत्तरदायित्व अभ्यर्थी का होगा।"

(Emphasis Supplied)

27. Similarly, Clause 5 of the Chapter XII of the aforesaid Regulation mandates as under:-

"5. (1) मान्यता प्राप्त संस्था, प्रत्येक शैक्षिक वर्ष में कम से कम 220 कार्य दिवसों में खुली रहेगी जिसमें परीक्षाओं तथा पाठ्यानुवर्ती कार्य-कलाप के दिवस भी सम्मिलित हैं. प्रतिबन्ध यह है कि "पत्राचार शिक्षा सतत् अध्ययन सम्पर्क योजना"] के अन्तर्गत पंजीकृत छात्र के सम्बन्ध में कार्य दिवसों की उपर्युक्त संख्या 75 कार्य दिवस होगी तथा इसके साथ सम्बन्धित छात्र को पत्राचार शिक्षा संस्थान द्वारा प्रेषित पाठ्य सामग्री को निर्धारित प्रक्रिया के अनुसार अध्ययन करना होगा।"

(Emphasis Supplied)

28. From the plain reading of the aforesaid provisions, by no stretch of imagination it can be concluded that a person can appear in High School and Intermediate Examination twice simultaneously. The only liberty granted under Clause 17 (1) and (2) is that a person who has passed High School and Intermediate Examination may appear in one subject or maximum five subjects and again can get a certificate of passing of the said subjects. However, no separate certificate with regard to the same examination shall be issued to such a person. Clause 19-कwhich came into force with effect from 28.07.2021 provides that no person can appear in the same academic year in the High School or Intermediate examination from two different institutions and concealment of such facts will be treated as a violation of these rules and candidature of such candidate shall be cancelled. If any documents have been recorded in the Board's Examination, the same shall be deleted and if any candidate appears in violation of such condition, his/her result shall be cancelled and the candidates shall be wholly responsible for the same. In view of the aforesaid statutory regulatory framework with regard to High School and Intermediate examination no candidate can appear simultaneously in two examinations from two different institutions. If he/she appears in such a manner, the result thereof even if declared shall be cancelled. Clause 17 (1), (2), (3), (4) and (5) of Chapter XII Part - II- B of the Regulations under the Intermediate Education Act, 1921, reads as under:-

"17. इन विनियमों की शर्तों के होते हुए भी निम्नलिखित श्रेणी के परीक्षार्थी भी व्यक्तिगत परीक्षा के रूप में प्रविष्ट हो सकते हैं-

(1) कोई परीक्षार्थी जिसने हाईस्कूल अथवा उसके समकक्ष परीक्षा उत्तीर्ण की है, बाद की हाईस्कूल परीक्षा में एक अथवा अधिकतम पांच विषयों में (कम्प्यूटर विषय छोड़कर) प्रविष्ट हो सकता है और ऐसा परीक्षार्थी यदि सफल हो जावे तो वह अतिरिक्त लिए उत्तीर्ण विषय अथवा विषयों में परीक्षा उत्तीर्ण होने का प्रमाण-पत्र पाने का अधिकारी होगा और उसे कोई श्रेणी नही दी जायेगी।

(2) कोई परीक्षार्थी जिसने इण्टरमीडिएट अथवा समकक्ष कोई परीक्षा उत्तीर्ण की है बाद की इण्टरमीडिएट परीक्षा में एक अथवा अधिकतम चार विषयों (कम्प्यूटर वर्ग तथा व्यवसायिक वर्ग के विषयों को छोड़कर) बैठ सकता है और वह परीक्षार्थी यदि सफल हो जाय तो उसके द्वारा उपहृत किये गये विषय अथवा विषयों में उत्तीर्ण होने का प्रमाण-पत्र पाने का अधिकारी होगा और उसे कोई श्रेणी नहीं दी जायेगी। प्रतिबंध यह है कि विषय अथवा विषयों का चुनाव केवल एक वर्ग तक ही सीमित हो।

(3) इस विनियम के अन्तर्गत सम्मिलित होने वाले परीक्षार्थी उन विषय अथवा विषयों का

चयन नहीं कर सकेंगे, जो उनके द्वारा पूर्व की हाईस्कूल तथा इण्टरमीडिएट परीक्षा में जिसमें वह उत्तीर्ण हुए थे, लिए गये थे साथ ही परीक्षार्थी आधुनिक भारतीय, विदेशी तथा शास्त्री भाषा समूहों के प्रत्येक समूह में से केवल एक ही भाषा का चयन कर सकेंगे।

(4) परीक्षार्थी, इस विनियम के अन्तर्गत एक बार में केवल एक ही परीक्षा (हाईस्कूल अथवा इण्टरमीडिएट) में प्रविष्ट हो सकेंगे।

(5) हाईस्कूल तथा इण्टरमीडिएट की संपूर्ण परीक्षा में सम्मिलित होने वाले परीक्षार्थी इस विनियम के अन्तर्गत परीक्षा में बैठने के पात्र नहीं होंगे।"

29. With regard to the Higher Education, the University Grants Commission (U.G.C.) in its regulation with regard to the U.G.C. (Minimum Standards of Instructions for the Grant of the First Degree through Formal Education) Regulation, 2003, and UGC (Minimum Standard of Instruction for the Grant of the Master's Degree through Formal Education) Regulation 2003 have categorically provide that:-

"5.8 The minimum number of letures, tutorials, seminars and practicals which a student shall be required to attend for eligibiility to appear at the examination shall be prescribed by the University, which ordinarily shall not be less than 75% of the total number of lectures, tutorials, seminars, practicals, and any other prescribed requirement."

30. In view of the aforesaid Regulations, 2003, no person could have been able to obtain two parallel simultaneous degrees in the same session from different institutions as he/she will be lacking 75% attendance in either of the courses as both cannot be attended by the same person with 75% attendance, as required under the guidelines.

31. On 15.01.2016, the U.G.C. has issued a clarification on allowing the students to pursue two degrees simultaneously, which reads as under:

"विश्वविद्यालय अनुदान आयोग

University Grants Commission

(मानव संसाधन विकास मंत्रालय, भारत सरकार)

(Ministry of Human Resource Development, Govt. of India)
बहादुरशाह ज़फ़र मार्ग, नई दिल्ली-110002
Bahadur Shah Zafar Marg, New Delhi-110002
Ph: 011-23239337, 23236288, Fax: 011-23238858, email: jssandhu.ugc(@nic.in 15th January 2016

F. No.: 1-6/2007(CPP-II)

PUBLIC NOTICE

SUBJECT: CLARIFICATION ON ALLOWING STUDENTS TO PURSUE TWO DEGREES SIMULTANEOUSLY.

The Commission had sought the comments of the Statutory Councils. The responses, so far, received do not endorse the idea of allowing the students to pursue two degree simultaneously. Therefore, the universities shall conduct their programmes in accordance with the First Degree and Master Degree Regulations, 2003 prescribed by the UGC and also follow the norms and parameters prescribed by the Statutory Council concerned, wherever relevant.

(Jaspal S. Sandhu)
Secretary"

32. The aforesaid clarification was considered by the learned Single Judge of this Court in Writ A No. 13888 of 2019 (Shilpa Saroha vs. State of U.P. and 2 Others) and held that it is not possible for a common human to remain present for two courses at the same time or even score minimum required attendance as a regular student in both institutions simultaneously. Therefore, it is nothing but a fraud.

33. Subsequently, in the month of April, 2022, first time, the U.G.C. has issued guidelines enabling students for pursuing two academic programmes simultaneously, which reads as under:-

"Guidelines for Pursuing Two Academic Programmes Simultaneously

Background

The National Education Policy NEP 2020 states that pedagogy must evolve to make education more experiential, holistic, integrated, inquiry-driven, discovery-oriented, learner- centred, discussion-based, flexible, and, of course, enjoyable. The policy envisions imaginative and flexible curricular structures to enable creative combinations of disciplines for study, that would offer multiple entry and exit points, thus, removing currently prevalent rigid boundaries and creating new possibilities for life-long learning and centrally involve critical and interdisciplinary thinking.

With the rapid increase in demand for higher education and limited availability of seats in regular stream, several Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) have started a number of programmes in Open and Distance Learning (ODL.) mode to meet the aspirations of students. It has also led to the emergence of online education programmes which a student can pursue within the comforts of her/his home. The issue of allowing the students to pursue two academic programmes simultaneously has been examined by the Commission keeping in view the proposals envisaged in the National Education Policy - NEP 2020 which emphasizes the need to facilitate multiple pathways to learning involving both formal and non-formal education modes.

In view of above, UGC has framed the following Guidelines.

Objectives

To allow the students to pursue two academic programmes simultaneously keeping in view the following objectives envisaged in NEP 2020:

▪ recognizing, identifying, and fostering the unique capabilities of each student, by sensitizing teachers as well as parents to promote each student's holistic development in both academic and non-academic spheres;

• no hard separations between arts and sciences, between curricular and extra-curricular activities, between vocational and academic streams, etc. in order to eliminate harmful hierarchies among, and silos between different areas of learning;

• Multidisciplinarity and a holistic education across the sciences, social sciences,

• arts, humanities, and sports for a multidisciplinary world in order to ensure the

• unity and integrity of all knowledge; enabling an individual to study one or more specialized areas of interest at a deep level, and also develop character, ethical and constitutional values, intellectual

• curiosity, scientific temper, creativity, spirit of service.

• offering the students, a range of disciplines including sciences, social sciences, arts, humanities, languages, as well as professional, technical, and vocational subjects to make them thoughtful, well-rounded, and creative individuals.

• preparing students for more meaningful and satisfying lives and work roles and enable economic independence.

Guidelines

1. A student can pursue two full time academic programmes in physical mode provided that in such cases, class timings for one programme do not overlap with the class timings of the other programme.

2. A student can pursue two academic programmes, one in full time physical mode and another in Open and Distance Learning (ODL)/Online mode; or up to two ODL/Online programmes simultaneously.

3. Degree or diploma programmes under ODL/Online mode shall be pursued with only such HEIs which are recognized by UGC/Statutory Council/Govt. of India for running such programmes.

4. Degree or diploma programmes under these guidelines shall be governed by the Regulations notified by the UGC and also the respective statutory/professional councils, wherever applicable.

5. These guidelines shall come into effect from the date of their notification by the UGC. No retrospective benefit can be claimed by the students who have already done two academie programmes simultaneously prior to the notification of these guidelines.

The above guidelines shall be applicable only to the students pursuing academic programmes other than Ph.D. programme.

Based on the above guidelines, the universities can devise mechanisms, through their statutory bodies, for allowing their students to pursue two academic programmes simultaneously as mentioned above."

(Emphasis Supplied)

34. From the plain reading of the aforesaid guidelines, it appears that in pursuance of the New Education Policy in 2020 the Government enables a person to pursue two academic programmes subject to the aforesaid guidelines to the effect that such academic programmes are not overlapping to each other and timing of classes at different times or one full time course on physical mode and the other course is by way of open and distance learning mode or online mode. The aforesaid guidelines specifically provides that no retrospective benefit can be claimed by the students who have already done two academic programmes simultaneously prior to the notification of these guidelines which categorically indicates that prior to the aforesaid guidelines issued in the month of April, 2022, no person was allowed to pursue two full time academic programmes in physical modes simultaneously.

35. From the aforesaid discussion, it is crystal clear that as per the guidelines issued by the U.G.C., no person could undergo two full time academic programmes simultaneously and it is only after April, 2022, with certain restrictions as provided in the guidelines, it has been provided to a student for pursuing two academic programmes simultaneously. The U.G.C. has permitted the persons to undergo two academic programmes simultaneously subject to the conditions as laid down in the aforesaid guidelines.

36. Coming back to the present case, it has been alleged in the instant case that the petitioner/respondent no.1 has undergone the course narrated in paragraph '17' hereinabove alongwith courses narrated in paragraph '18'. However, the petitioner/respondent no.1 has categorically denied to have undergone the courses narrated in paragraph '17' hereinabove. She has only admitted the High School and Intermediate Marksheets and Certificates which have been verified by the U.P. Secondary Education Board, Allahabad, as mentioned in paragraph '18' hereinabove. There is also a doubt as to whether Laxmi Shakya referred in SN. 1 and 2 in the table or Laxmi referred in SN. 3 and 4 of the said table are the same persons?

37. Though, in the light of the provisions of 19-क, of Chapter XII of the Regulations issued by the U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921 no person could have undergone the examination of High School,(IX to X), and Intermediate, (XI to XII) simultaneously either as a regular student or a private student and it is also provided that if any person is found to have appeared in two simultaneous examinations, his result shall be declared a nullity. However, the exercise of declaring result as a nullity of a candidate who appeared in two simultaneous examinations, is to be done by the Examination Board concerned. Likewise, in the case of higher education though a person was prohibited from undertaking two regular courses simultaneously prior to April, 2022, however, if any such person has undergone such examination the same could be cancelled only by the Examination Body and merely because a person is having two degree and certificates simultaneously, on the basis of the same his/her employment cannot be terminated on this ground unless the certificates, which have been produced by such candidate at the time of his/her appointment are found to be forged, fabricated or declared a nullity by the competent Examination Board.

38. In the instant case, though in the inquiry conducted by the Block Education Officer under the dictate of the District Basic Education Officer, it is found that the petitioner/respondent no.1 has undergone two educational courses simultaneously. However, none of them have been declared a nullity by the competent Examination Board. Rather, the certificates which have been used by the petitioner/respondent no.1 have been found to be genuine on verification by the concerned Examination Body. Unless, the same is declared, null and void by the competent Examination Body, the services of petitioner/respondent no.1

cannot be terminated on the aforesaid ground as has been observed by the Co-ordinate Bench of this Court in Laxmi Shanker Yadav (Supra).

39. Similarly, relying upon judgements of the Division Bench of this Court in Kuldeep Kumar Pathak (supra) and Laxmi Shanker Yadav (Supra), A. Dharmraj vs. The Educational Officer Puddukkottai & Others : (2022) 11 SCC 692, this Court has passed the judgement on 21.3.2023 in Special Appeal No. 124 of 2023 (Rao Mohammad Arif vs. State of U.P. and 4 Others), which reads as under:-

"24. Since the learned counsel for the appellant had not pointed out a single provision, which puts an embargo in possession of two degrees obtained in the same academic year, thus, this Court finds its inability to hold the selection and appointment of the writ petitioner illegal. Our view further gathers support from the fact that it is neither the case set out in the order impugned of the second respondent / Joint Director of Education, Saharanpur Region, Saharanpur nor from the arguments so advanced before us that the writ petitioner did not possess the minimum necessary qualifications for being selected and appointed as Assistant Teacher (Science).

25. More so, it is also the case of the writ petitioner as pleaded in the paragraphs-'10' and '11' of the writ petitioner that the writ petitioner had surrendered the BUMS degree, thus, we do not find any error committed by the learned Single Judge in allowing the writ petitioner while quashing the order dated 05.04.2014 of the second respondent. Additionally, it has not been demonstrated before us that the degrees in question have been either withdrawn or cancelled. "

(Emphasis Supplied)

40. Thus, in view of the aforesaid observations, the appeal fails and the same is dismissed without any orders to the cost.

41. Consequently, the appellant/respondents are directed to permit the petitioner/respondent no.1 herein to discharge her duties on the post on which the petitioner was appointed and the petitioner shall also be entitled for payment of salary with continuity in service and all consequential benefits.

Impleadment Application No. 1 of 2024.

42. Since the special appeal filed by the Department has already been dismissed, the impleadment application filed by Sughar Singh, father-in-law of the petitioner/respondent no. 1 requires no consideration and is hereby rejected.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1660
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 01.05.2024
BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SHREE PRAKASH SINGH, J.

Writ C No. 219 of 2024

Divyanshu ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Rajeev Kumar Dwivedi, Rama Raman Mishra

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

(A) Education Law - The UP intermediate Education Act, 1921 - Regulation 7 -

Secretary issues a certificate of passing the Council examination to successful candidates - Corrections are made to entries if errors are due to clerical errors or omissions - Corrections can only be made if the candidate submits the certificate within three years and sends a copy to the Council of Secretaries.(Para - 6)

Petitioner made application before Board - application sent on 5.9.2023 - mark-sheet issued on 27.6.2020 - application was sent after passing of the prescribed period of three years - not allowed, as per provisions of Regulation 7 - Board rejects petitioner's claim for correction of date of birth in mark sheet-cum-certificate - order of Regional Secretary, Madhyamik Shiksha Parshad (Board) under challenge .(Para - 3,17,19)

HELD:- Court restricts three-year limitation period for moving an application for correction of date of birth in mark-sheet-cum-certificate before Board. Clarified in Anand. Singh's case. Petitioner not entitled to relief. (Para - 22)

Petition dismissed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:

1. Akash Sharma Vs St. of U.P. , 2015 (8) ADJ 693

2. N. Balakrishnan Vs M. Krishnamurthy, (1998) 7 SCC 123

3. Babu Ram Vs St. of U.P. & anr., Special Appeal No.1202 of 2010

4. Anand Singh Vs U.P. Board of Secondary Education & ors., (2014) 2 UPLBEC 1330

5. Anand Singh Vs U.P. Board of Secondary Eduction & ors., 2014 (3) ADJ 443

6. Chandra Kishore Jha Vs Mahavit Prasad & ors., (1999) 8 SCC 266

7. Cherukuri Mani Vs Chief Secy., Govt. of A.P. & ors., (2015) 13 SCC 722

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shree Prakash Singh, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner and Mr. Shailendra Kumar Singh, learned Chief Standing Counsel and Mr. Pankaj Patel and Mr. Vivek Shukla, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsels for the State.

2. Since a legal question is involved to be adjudicated, therefore, notice to opposite party no.5 is hereby dispensed with.

3. By means of the instant petition, the petitioner has assailed the order dated 30.9.2023 passed by the opposite party no.3, i.e., Regional Secretary, Madhyamik Shiksha Parshad, Varanasi (hereinafter referred to as 'Board") whereby the claim of the petitioner with respect to correction of date of birth of the petitioner in the mark sheet-cum-certificate is rejected.

4. Brief factual matrix of the case is that on 3.9.2005, petitioner took admission in the institution, namely, Patiraji Montessori School, Badhupur, Pratappur Kamaicha and he remained over there till class Vth, whereafter school leaving certificate was issued in which date of birth of the petitioner is mentioned as 30.9.2005. After completion of class VIIIth standard, the petitioner took admission in High School at J.B.I.C., Mathura Nagar, Ramgarh, Sultanpur, and he has submitted his school leaving certificate of class VIII, wherein also, his date of birth is mentioned as 30.9.2005 and further in class IXth, at the time of pre-registration, the date of birth of the petitioner is mentioned as 30.9.2005. Further after passing of class IXth, the petitioner took admission in class Xth and also passed the examination with role number 1813634 in the year 2022 but once he received the mark sheet-cum-certificate, he found that his date of birth is wrongly mentioned as 30.5.2005, in place of 30.9.2005. Being aggrieved, he moved an application before the Regional Secretary of the Board, who passed the order on 30.9.2023, thereby rejecting the request of the petitioner for correcting date of birth in the mark-sheat -cum- certificate of class Xth.

5. Contention of the learned counsel for the petitioner is that the petitioner from very inception of his admission, mentioned the date of birth as 30.9.2005, which is evident not only from the school leaving certificate, but, that too, from the pre-registration for class IXth. He submits that there is no fault on the part of the petitioner so as to incorrectness in the date of birth mentioned in the mark sheet-cum-certificate of High School standard and as soon this came into his knowledge, he objected the same with a request to the Secretary Board to correct it, but the same was rejected on the wrong premise that the application is made after passing of three years which is impermissible as per the Regulation 7 of the Regulations made under the UP intermediate Education Act, 1921 (hereinafter referred to as 'Regulation').

6. Regulation 7 is extracted as under:-

"विनियम-7

सचिव परिषद की ओर से सफल उम्मीदवारों को परिषद की परीक्षा में उत्तीर्ण होने का प्रमाण पत्र विहित प्रपत्र में देगा और बाद में उसकी प्रविष्टियों में कोई शुद्वि करेगा, बशर्ते कि प्रमाण पत्र में किसी ऐसी गलत प्रविष्टि किसी अविचारित लिपिकीय भूल या लोप के कारण या किसी ऐसी लिपिकीय भूल के कारण की गयी हो, जो असावधानी से परिषद के स्तर के या उस संस्था के, जहां से अन्तिम बार शिक्षा प्राप्त की हो, स्तर पर अभिलेख में हो गयी हो। यह शुद्वि सचिव द्वारा उसी स्थिति में की जा सकेगी जबकि अभ्यर्थी ने संबंधित परीक्षा के प्रमाण पत्र को परिषद द्वारा निर्गमन की तिथि से तीन वर्ष के अन्दर ही लिपिकीय त्रुटि की ओर ध्यान आकृष्ट करते हुए संबंधित प्रधानाचार्य/अग्रसारण अधिकारी को त्रुटि के संशोधन हेतु प्रार्थना पत्र प्रस्तुत कर दिया हो और उसकी प्रति पंजीकृत डाक से सचिव परिषद को भी प्रेषित की हो।

प्रतिबंध यह है कि अभ्यर्थी के अंक पत्र तथा प्रमाण पत्र में अभ्यर्थी के नाम पिता के नाम अथवा माता का नाम में यदि कोई वर्तनी त्रुटि है तो अभ्यर्थियों द्वारा यथासमय आवेदन करने पर उसे परिषद के संबंधित क्षेत्रीय कार्यालय के क्षेत्रीय सचिवों द्वारा प्रमाणित साक्ष्यों के आधार पर तत्काल शुद्व कर दिया जायेगा।"

7. He argued that from bare reading of Regulation 7, it is evident that the same prescribes the provision regarding the correction in the entries of the certificate issued by the Board in case of any clerical mistake or omission, which has occurred on the part of the Board. So for the present matter is concerned, the submission is that here entries were rightly done in the records by the petitioner, but it is the fault on the part of the Board and, therefore, the Board is under an obligation to correct the same. He also added that while passing the impugned order dated 30.9.2023, the Board has not taken care of that so far as the incorrectness in the certificate is concerned, that was not intimated by the Board, and later on, when it came into knowledge of the petitioner, he, at once, written a letter to the Secretary Board for correction of the same.

8. Further contended that the date of issue of the certificate, is 27.6.2020 and the petitioner moved the application on 10.9.2022, that too, within the time prescribed under Regulation 7, though, subsequently, the petitioner moved an application on 5.9.2023, and the order dated 30.9.2023 has been passed considering petitioner's application dated 5.9.2023, ignoring the earlier application of the petitioner dated 10.9.2022, and thus, the observation of the Secretary Board is inconsistent to the fact which he himself has mentioned in the order dated 30.9.2023.

9. In support of his contentions, learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance on the judgement reported in 2015 (8) ADJ 693, Akash Sharma Vs. State of U.P. and has referred paragraph 16 and 18 of the said judgement, which are quoted as under:-

"16. The law of limitation is founded on public policy so as to limit the life span of a litigation or the legal remedy. It does not aims to defeat the rights of the parties. In the case of N. Balakrishnan v. M. Krishnamurthy, (1998) 7 SCC 123 the Supreme Court of India observed if the remedy availed by the party who has been wronged does not smack of malafides or is not by way of dilatory tactics, the Courts must show utmost consideration to the suitor. In other words, a bona fide delay may not by itself be treated as sufficient to debar the remedy particularly where the record ex facie shows miscarriage of justice.

18. The limitation of two years provided in applying for rectification of the certificate is applicable to the candidates but there is no limitation for the Board to exercise its inherent power to correct the certificate issued by it. Thus, the Board certainly in exercise of its suo motu inherent power is authorised to correct a clerical mistake or error appearing in the High School Certificate once it is brought to its notice. It is incumbent duty of the Board to ensure that the certificates issued by it are correct and does not suffer from any error or mistake. Therefore, in order to put its records straight, the Board is under an obligation to correct all certificates issued by it irrespective of the limitation placed under Regulation-7 of Chapter- III of the Regulation in exercise of its inherent power in the particular facts and circumstances of the each case. The law of limitation cannot be pressed into service by the Board while exercising its inherent power so as to defeat the right of the petitioner to have his incorrect date of birth recorded in the High School Certificate rectified."

10. Referring the aforesaid, he submits that the co-ordinate Bench of this Court, while opting the ratio of the judgement in the case of N. Balakrishnan Vs. M. Krishnamurthy, (1998) 7 SCC 123, has held that bona fide delay may not by itself be treated to be sufficient to debar the remedy, particularly where the record ex-facie shows miscarriage of justice. He further submits that so far as the present matter is concerned application of the present petitioner has been rejected outrightly ignoring the settled proposition of law and without application of mind on the issue that whether the delay which occurred is on the part of the petitioner or the Board itself.

11. He has further placed reliance on the judgement of the Division Bench of this Court in Special Appeal No.1202 of 2010 Babu Ram Vs. State of UP and another and has referred para 4 of the above said judgement, which is quoted as under:-

"4. IN the petition filed by the appellant, that plea was also taken before the learned single Judge. However, the learned Judge held that as the application was filed beyond the time and was not maintainable, and that the appellant herein may file a civil suit for declaration of his Date of Birth.

In the instant case, we find that Regulation 7, referred to above, refers to correction in the certificate of passing. There is no mistake in the certificate of passing. The mistake is in the records maintained by the Board. Therefore, the said Regulation would not be applicable so far as the case of the appellant is concerned. Once the respondents themselves had issued the certificate showing the Date of Birth of the appellant as 1st September, 1949, the respondent No.2 was bound to correct the clerical mistake in the record of the Board."

12. Drawing attention the above-said Judgment, he submits that considering the Regulation 7, the Court has held that the records are maintained by the Board, therefore, if there is any incorrectness in the record of the Board, that is the fault on the part of the Board and the student cannot be thrown to suffer so as to any fault done by the Board.

13. Concluding his arguments, he submits that since the petitioner from very beginning has transcribed/intimated his date of birth as 30.9.2005, therefore, he is not at fault and further he has also moved an application on 1.9.2022, i.e., within three years, prescribed in the Regulation and, therefore, submission is that the order dated 30.9.2023 is unsustainable and the same may be quashed and further the authorities may be directed to re-consider the matter with respect to correction of date of birth of the petitioner in the record.

14. Refuting the aforesaid contentions of the learned counsel for the petitioner, the counsel appearing for the State submits that it is evident from the record that the High School certificate-cum- mark-sheet is issued to the petitioner on 27.6.2020, and therefore, as per the provision of Regulation 7, the application for correction is admissible uptil 26.6.2023 but the petitioner has sent the application on 5.9.2023, and, therefore, the same was rejected. He further added that in fact, the law position, which has been referred by the counsel for the petitioner, is not applicable in the case of the petitioner as the petitioner has sought correction in the mark-sheet and not in the record of the Board and further correction is particularly with respect to the date of birth, which is not permissible as per the mandate of the Regulation 7.

15. In support of his contention, he has placed reliance on a judgement reported in (2014) 2 UPLBEC 1330, Anand Singh Vs. U.P. Board of Secondary Education and others, and referred paras 6 to 8, which are extracted as under:-

"6. It would be useful to examine the particulars of the candidate that are contained in a certificate issued by the Board. They include the year of the examination, the name of the candidate, the names of the parents, date of birth, subjects opted, division obtained, name of the School/Centre, certificate number, appearance as a regular/private candidate and the date of issue of the certificate. Of these, the date of birth, the subjects opted, the year of examination and the division obtained by the candidate are particulars which have an important bearing when admission to higher classes or employment is sought by the candidate. While making any correction in the entries relating to these matters, the requirement of moving the application within three years has to be adhered to as any correction ction in regard to these entries would have on impact on the rights of other candidates when they seek admission to higher classes or employment. However, the other particulars contained in the certificate, like the name of the candidate or the names of the parents of the candidate are not that relevant and any correction made in regard to these particulars would have no impact on the admission or employment ither candidates. When so considered, we feel persuaded to hold that the of time limit of three years prescribed in the substantive part of Regulation 7 for submission of an application for making correction in the certificate issued by the Board in regard to the name of the candidate or the names of the parents of the candidate should not be insisted upon, particularly when the Board itself has considered it appropriate to have no time limit under the proviso for making correction in regard to any spelling mistake in the name of the candidate or his parents. The applicant must, however, explain to the Board the reasons on the basis of which the application could not be submitted earlier and if it is found that the claim is bona fide and is otherwise justified, there is no reason to reject the application, as in the present case, merely on the ground of delay. Undoubtedly, the Board has to examine whether any genuine ground has been made out for correcting the name and it would be open to the Board to consider all the relevant materials pertaining to the request for correction of the name.

7. In the circumstances, we are of the view that the impugned order of the first respondent, rejecting the application submitted by the the a appellant for correction of the name of his mother in the High School and Intermediate examinations only on the ground of delay, is unsustainable. We, accordingly, direct the first respondent to re-consider the application having due regard to all the documentary evidence which may be produced by the appellant. The first respondent would also be at liberty to summon all the relevant records from the concerned Institution for the purpose of deciding the application of the appellant. We clarify that the interpretation which we have laced in the aforesaid terms governs only the mistakes in the certificate in the name of the candidate or in the names of his parents. The first respondent shall now pass a fresh order in accordance with law within a period of four months from the date of receipt of a certified copy of this order. In order to facilitate this exercise, the impugned order dated 11.10.2013 is set aside. The order of the learned Single Judge shall, in consequence, be set aside and be substituted by the aforesaid directions.

8. The appeal is, accordingly, allowed to the extent indicated above. There shall be no order as to costs."

16. Referring the aforesaid, he submits that Hon'ble Division Bench has held that so far as the correction in the date of birth of student in mark-sheet cum certificate is concerned that is permissible within a period of three years as prescribed under the Regulation 7 and, therefore, any application after the period prescribed is not entertainable and, thus, the Secretary Board has rightly passed the order on 30.9.2023, while rejecting the claim of the petitioner with respect to the correction in the mark-sheet-cum-certificate.

17. Considering upon the submissions of the learned counsel for the parties, and after perusal of the material placed on record, it transpires that the controversy arose when the petitioner made an application before the Secretary Board, on 5.9.2023 and that was rejected, vide order dated 30.9.2023, while observing that the application is preferred after the prescribed period of time and is not permissible.

18. Sheet anchor of the arguments of the learned counsel for the petitioner is that there is no fault on the part of the petitioner as the petitioner has sent letter on 1.9.2022 and, subsequently, on 5.9.2023, then it was incumbent upon the Board to take a decision, but the petitioner has failed to demonstrate that what is the mode of sending the application dated 1.9.2022? whereas, the subsequent application dated 5.9.2023 was sent through the registered post, as per the procedure prescribed under the Regulation 7 and, therefore, it seems that the Secretary Board has rightly taken the decision while considering the application dated 5.9.2023.

19. The second question which engaged the attention of this Court is that whether as per the nature of the correction, which involves in the present matter, can be done after the limitation period of three years prescribed under the Regulation 7, is over. The fact remains that the application was sent on 5.9.2023 as per the prescribed procedure and the mark-sheet was issued on 27.6.2020 and, therefore, undisputedly, the application was sent after passing of the prescribed period of three years, which could not have been allowed, as per provisions of Regulation 7.

20. The identical controversy has already been settled in the case of Anand Singh Vs. U.P. Board of Secondary Eduction and two others, 2014 (3) ADJ 443, while holding that the date of birth, the subjects opted, year of examination and the division obtained by the candidate are particulars, which have an important bearing, when admission to the higher classes or employment is sought by the candidate and, therefore, the correction in the above said, are not permissible, if it is sought after the period of three years as prescribed under the Regulation 7. Further, the correction in the name of the mother and father regarding spelling, can be allowed after the period of three years. In this view of the matter, so far as the present case is concerned, undisputedly, the application for correction is made after the period of three years in the date of birth of the petitioner and, therefore, the same is not permissible under the law.

21. Having at glance the judgement and order passed in Special Appeal No.1202 of 2010, wherein it has been held that the correction in the record of the Board is permissible after the period of three years as prescribed in the proviso of the Regulation 7, but so far proviso of Reguulation 7 is concerned that does not contemplate the provision of limitation and undisputedly the petitioner is not seeking the benefit of the proviso of regulation7, therefore, the case of the present petitioner is different than the case which has been decided by the Division Bench as, here, the correction is sought with respect to the date of birth in the mark-sheet-cum-certificate and, therefore, the law settled in case of Special Appeal No.1202 of 2010 would not be attracted in the present matter.

22. This Court finds that there is reasonable restriction of limitation period of three years for moving an application for correction of the date of birth in the mark-sheet-cum-certificate before the Board and this has been clarified finally in the judgement and order in Anand Singh's case, therefore, the petitioner is not entitled for any relief.

23. It is trite law that if a statute provides a thing to be done in a particular manner, then it has be done in that manner and not otherwise as this has been settled by the Apex Court in the case of Chandra Kishore Jha Vs. Mahavit Prasad & others, (1999) 8 SCC 266 and in the case of Cherukuri Mani Vs. Chief Secretary, Government of Andhra Pradesh & others, (2015) 13 SCC 722. Therefore, the time period prescribed in the Regulation 7 cannot be ignored.

24. In view of the aforesaid submissions and discussions, this Court is of the considered opinion that the writ petition is devoid of merits, hence, dismissed.

25. No order as to costs.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1667
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 06.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SHEKHAR B. SARAF, J.

Appeal U/S 37 of Arbitration & Conciliation Act 1996 No. 41 of 2021

National Highways Authority of India. ...Appellant

Versus

Musafir & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:

Counsel for the Respondents:

(A) Arbitration Law - The Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 - Section 33 - Correction and interpretation of award ; additional award , Section 34 - Application for setting aside arbitral awards , Section 37 - Appeal , Principle of kompetenz-kompetenz - empowers arbitral tribunals to rule on their own jurisdiction - not a carte blanche for unlimited authority - Principle of functus officio - once an award is rendered, the tribunal's jurisdiction is terminated - it cannot revisit or modify its decision without specific statutory provisions. (Para -8)

(B) Arbitration Law - principles of arbitration law - Judicial Role in Arbitral Proceedings - Courts oversee arbitral proceedings and ensure arbitration law compliance - Courts oversee arbitral proceedings and ensure arbitration law compliance - Courts defer to arbitral tribunals and uphold arbitral awards' finality - Duty to intervene when arbitrators exceed authority or act improperly. (Para - 11)

Arbitrator erred in passing awards dated December 27, 2019, May 19, 2020 and May 28, 2020 - no statutory authority empowers arbitral tribunal to review/modify its award - orders are void ab initio -deserve to be set aside - hence appeal. (Para - 9)

HELD:-Section 34 court's dismissal of the application without addressing the arbitrator's improper actions may be seen as a missed opportunity to uphold the arbitral process's integrity. Court sets aside order passed by District Judge and awards.(Para - 11)

Appeal allowed. (E-7)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shekhar B. Saraf, J.)

1. Heard Sri Divakar Rai Sharma, counsel appearing on behalf of the appellant and Sri Ashish Kumar Singh, counsel appearing on behalf of the respondent Nos.1, 2, 3, 15, 16, 28, 32, 34 and 38 and Sri Dharamveer Singh, counsel appearing on behalf of the respondent No.53.

2. This appeal under Section 37 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 (hereinafter referred to as "the Arbitration Act") arises out of an order passed by the District Judge, Mau dated November 5, 2020.

3. The facts of the case are briefly provided below:

i. A notification under Section 3A(1) of the National Highways Act, 1956 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act") was issued on January 23, 2015 for acquiring the land for the purposes of widening of the road NH-29 (now NH-24) between Varanasi – Gorakhpur.

ii. The aforesaid notification was published in two daily newspapers on March 6, 2015 seeking objection from the persons interested in the land within a period of 21 days under Section 3C(1) of the Act. Thereafter, the Competent Authority passed an award on August 17, 2016.

iii. Being aggrieved by the award, the opposite parties filed their objections under Section 3G(5) of the Act before the Arbitrator.

iv. The Arbitrator, after considering the objections, vide its order dated March 15, 2018 set aside the award dated August 17, 2016 and remitted the matter to the Competent Authority directing to form a Joint Committee including the officers of the National Highways Authority of India (hereinafter referred to as "the NHAI") to get the land re-valued by conducting a spot inspection and determine the compensation as per Act No.30 of 2013.

v. Pursuant to the order of remand dated March 15, 2018, the Competent Authority passed a fresh award on June 4, 2018.

vi. On November 15, 2018, before the Arbitrator, the NHAI agreed to make the payment in three slabs depending upon area at the rate of Rs.3600/-, Rs.1400/- & Rs.800/- per square metre.

vii. Later on, the Arbitrator passed another award on December 27, 2019 fixing the rate as per three slabs in terms of the order dated November 15, 2018.

viii. The Arbitrator passed another award dated May 19, 2020 recalling the earlier award dated December 27, 2019 and directed to make the payment in terms of the amended award dated March 25, 2018.

ix. The Arbitrator passed another award dated May 28, 2020 in the name of amended award and fixed only one slab, that is, at the rate of Rs.3600/- per square metre.

x. Being aggrieved, the NHAI preferred objection under Section 34 of the Arbitration Act by impleading 53 persons/land holders in one case.

xi. District Judge, Mau rejected aforesaid objection of the NHAI by holding that the objection is devoid of merit and the same deserves to be rejected.

4. It is to be noted that the award dated March 15, 2018 passed by the Arbitrator remanding the matter to the Competent Authority directing the land to get re-valued by conducting the spot inspection and determining the compensation as per Act No.30 of 2013 was never challenged by either of the parties. This order has, accordingly, attained finality.

5. Counsel appearing on behalf of the appellant and the counsel appearing on behalf of several respondents in this matter have fairly submitted that the Arbitrator may be directed to once again decide the matter de novo basing the same upon the spot inspection and re-valuation carried out by the Joint Committee including the officers of the NHAI as per the order dated March 15, 2018.

6. At this juncture, it is pertinent to refer to Section 33 of the Arbitration Act, which deals with Correction and interpretation of award, and making of an additional award:

"33. Correction and interpretation of award; additional award*.—(1) Within thirty days from the receipt of the arbitral award, unless another period of time has been agreed upon by the parties—*

(a) a party, with notice to the other party, may request the arbitral tribunal to correct any computation errors, any clerical or typographical errors or any other errors of a similar nature occurring in the award;

(b) if so agreed by the parties, a party, with notice to the other party, may request the arbitral tribunal to give an interpretation of a specific point or part of the award.

(2) If the arbitral tribunal considers the request made under sub-section (1) to be justified, it shall make the correction or give the interpretation within thirty days from the receipt of the request and the interpretation shall form part of the arbitral award.

(3) The arbitral tribunal may correct any error of the type referred to in clause (a) of sub-section (1), on its own initiative, within thirty days from the date of the arbitral award.

(4) Unless otherwise agreed by the parties, a party with notice to the other party, may request, within thirty days from the receipt of the arbitral award, the arbitral tribunal to make an additional arbitral award as to claims presented in the arbitral proceedings but omitted from the arbitral award.

(5) If the arbitral tribunal considers the request made under sub-section (4) to be justified, it shall make the additional arbitral award within sixty days from the receipt of such request.

(6) The arbitral tribunal may extend, if necessary, the period of time within which it shall make a correction, give an interpretation or make an additional arbitral award under sub-section (2) or sub-section (5).

(7) Section 31 shall apply to a correction or interpretation of the arbitral award or to an additional arbitral award made under this section."

7. What is clear from the aforesaid provision is that the arbitral tribunal can only correct and interpret an award. An additional award can be made, only in respect of claims which have been omitted from the arbitral award. Interpretation of the award and additional award can be made only upon a request received by a party. However, correction can be done by the arbitral tribunal on its own within thirty days from the date of the arbitral award. However, none of these provisions, give arbitral tribunal the power to recall and modify its award. Arbitral tribunals are not courts of law which are bestowed with inherent powers. Arbitrators are required to act within the confines of the arbitration agreement, and the framework enshrined in the Arbitration Act. Any act which the arbitral tribunal is not empowered to do under the Arbitration xzAct is void ab initio.

8. The principle of kompetenz-kompetenz which empowers arbitral tribunals to rule on their own jurisdiction, is not a carte blanche for unlimited authority. Rather, it underscores the tribunals' duty to determine its jurisdiction within the confines of the arbitration agreement and applicable law. The authority of arbitral tribunals to correct, interpret, or supplement their awards does not extend to revisiting the merits of the dispute or reconsidering substantive issues that have already been decided. Arbitral tribunals are bound by the principle of functus officio, which holds that once an award has been rendered, the tribunal's jurisdiction over the dispute is terminated, and it lacks authority to revisit or modify its decision in absence of specific statutory provisions to the contrary.

9. The Arbitrator in the instant case erred in passing the awards dated December 27, 2019, May 19, 2020 and May 28, 2020 since no statutory authority empowers the arbitral tribunal to review/modify its award. Therefore, the said orders are void ab initio and deserve to be set aside.

10. Section 34 Court despite noting that such recall and modification by the Arbitrator was beyond the statutory confines and improper, proceeded to dismiss the application:

"From the above provisions, it is amply clear that the learned Arbitrator has got no power to review his award. The learned Arbitrator/District Magistrate, Mau firstly reviewed the award date 15.03.2018 by passing the order dated 27.12.2019 without hearing the opposite parties and on the application filed by the opposite parties, the learned Arbitrator/District Magistrate, Mau has recalled the order dated 27.12.2019 by his order dated 28.05.2020, which is improper, but the net result is that award dated 15.03.2018 is revived."

11. This raises important questions regarding the role of judiciary in overseeing arbitral proceedings and ensuring compliance with the principles of arbitration law. While courts generally afford deference to arbitral tribunals and uphold the finality of arbitral awards, they also have a duty to intervene when arbitrators exceed their authority or act improperly. In this case, the Section 34 court's decision to dismiss the application without addressing the arbitrator's improper actions may be seen as a missed opportunity to uphold the integrity of the arbitral process.

12. For the reasons discussed above, this Court, in exercise of its power under Section 37 of the Arbitration Act sets aside the order dated November 5, 2020 passed by the District Judge, Mau and the awards dated December 27, 2019, May 19, 2020 and May 28, 2020.

13. Furthermore, this Court directs the Arbitrator appointed by the Central Government under the Act to decide the matter de novo within a period of six months from the date of production of a certified copy of this order before him. The Arbitrator is directed to take into account the order dated March 15, 2018 and the report submitted pursuant to the same.

14. With the aforesaid direction, the appeal is allowed.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1670
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 31.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SAUMITRA DAYAL SINGH, J.
THE HON'BLE DONADI RAMESH, J.

Writ Tax No. 1256 of 2023
with other connected cases

M/S Graziano Trasmissioni ...Petitioner
Versus
Goods & Services Tax & Ors.
...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Vinayak Mithal

Counsel for the Respondents:
A.S.G.I., C.S.C., Gaurav Mahajan, Naveen Chandra Gupta

A. Law of Taxation– Section 168A of the Central Goods and Service Tax Act, 2017 and the U.P. Goods and Service Tax Act, 2017- Notification issued under these provisions- extending the time granted to Adjudicating Authorities to pass adjudication orders challenged - Sections 44, and 73 of the Act- Taxation and Other Laws (Relaxation of Certain Provisions) Ordinance, 2020 (hereinafter referred to as 'TOLO').

B. Section 168A of both Acts- conditional legislation to arise at the hands of the delegate of the principal legislature- Central Government and/or St. Government- Power under Section 168A is legislative and not administrative or executive- Discretion to extend limitation vested in the Principal Legislature- Delegation made canalised- Strict conditions laid down for exercise of special powers- Impugned notifications issued after due deliberation on the material on record- existence of circumstance validating the exercise of power cannot be ruled out- All tests necessary for exercise of power under Section 168A stood satisfied.(Para 96, 97, 103. 111, 116, 117 and 119)

Held:
Coming to the submissions, we note, broadly the submissions have been advanced as to the validity of the action taken. Though worded differently by two Senior counsel for the petitioners, principally, it has been contended, the Central Government and the St. Government could not have acted independent to the conditions of the delegation made under Section 168A of the Central Act and the St. Act. To the extent the nature of power vested thereunder is concerned, we find ourselves in agreement with the principle that the said sections provide for conditional legislation to arise at the hands of the delegate of the principal legislature i.e. the Central Government and/or the St. Government. (para 96)

Also, as to the submission that the said provision authorizes the delegate to act in special circumstances and not by way of general power to be exercised to remove difficulty, we find ourselves in agreement with that submission advanced by learned counsel for the petitioners. Thus, in contrast to Section 172 of the Central Act and the St. Act, powers under Section 168A of the Act, may be exercised: (i) On the recommendation made by the Council; (ii) By issuance of notification to extend the time limitation specified or prescribed or notified under the Central Act and the St. Act; (iii) In respect of actions which cannot be completed or complied, (iv) Due to "force majeure". (Para 97)

In the first place, the powers under Section 168A of the Act is legislative and not an administrative power. While submissions have been advanced by some of learned counsel for the petitioners suggesting, the power under Section 168A of the Act was an administrative or executive power, at the same time, as submitted by Sri Mahajan, there can be no doubt as to the true nature of that power. Prescription of limitation to perform an action is a pure legislative function. In absence of any doubt thereto, the extension of limitation prescribed by law also remains legislative. The power to condone delay may be granted both to the executive and the judicial bodies, at the same time, the prescription in law, as to limitation remains exclusively, a legislative function. (Para 103)

Next, we have to examine, if that consideration was enough and if it satisfied any further test laid down in Section 168A of the Central Act and the St. Act. Here, we are unable to accept the submission advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner that there were mere difficulties faced by the revenue authorities in conducting scrutiny and audit. The period 15.03.2020 to 28.02.2022 remains the darkest period of our recent past, arising after the second World War. No calamity of equal magnitude has disrupted human life since then. In the context of a global village, that our world has become, the pandemic COVID-19 disrupted all human activities across all continents and left no strata of the society, organisation or institution or other entity, unaffected over a long duration of time. The full impact of the COVID-19 is still to be assessed. (Para 111)

It is equally admitted and undeniable to the petitioners that the time kept ticking and hard as the times were and despite continuance of the extreme circumstances and disablement accompanying, caused by COVID-19, life moved on. Economic activity was witnessed. Businesses continued to exist, resulting in Monthly and Annual Returns being filed both for the entire duration of time through which COVID-19 pandemic spread (in waves), and continued to disable human activity. Thus, Annual Returns came to be filed for the subsequent F.Ys. 2018-19 and 2019-20 as well. All such returns remained subject to scrutiny and audit. It is that volume of work that has been taken note of and considered in the 47th and 49th meetings of the Council. With reference to that work, legislative decisions have been made, in the backdrop of the disruption caused by the pandemic COVID-19. (Para 116)

Also, we are also unable to accept the submission advanced by learned counsel for the petitioners that the process of framing adjudication order is independent of scrutiny and audit of Annual Returns. To offer that construct to the language of Section 73(1) would be over-simplistic. It is true that Central Act and the St. Act specifically do not contemplate existence of limitation for prior scrutiny and audit, at the same time Section 61 of Central Act and the St. Act provides that a Proper Officer may scrutinise the return, verify its correctness and, inform the registered person of the discrepancies noticed. If the explanation thereto is found acceptable, no further action is contemplated. (Para 117)

To us, the above discussion is enough to persuade us to the conclusion that scrutiny and audit of Annual Returns is inherently linked to and is not independent of adjudication proceedings under Section 73 of the Central Act and the St. Act. Though the Proper Officer may remain authorised to act under Section 73 of the Central Act and the St. Act independent of an audit and scrutiny at the same time that outcome would be dictated by facts of an individual case but not by way of a principle in law. In the entire scheme of the Central Act and the St. Act, by way of procedure, steps contemplated under Section 61 and 65 would remain a normal occurrence. By very nature and by virtue of specific provisions of the Central Act and the St. Act, those would have to precede action under Section 73 of those enactments. (Para 119)

C. Force majeure- as used in Section 168A of the Act- depends on the subjective satisfaction of the legislative body- no judicial review possible-no illegality in the impugned notifications- Petition dismissed. (Paras 124, 129, 132 and 138)

HELD:

What then requires consideration is – if the words due to "force majeure" would include the period of time during which no lockdown may have been declared or during which human/economic activities may not have been specifically disrupted, by issuance of appropriate orders under the Disaster Management Act, 2005 etc. First, in the context of a legislative function, the writ Court sitting in judicial review may not look to test the subjective satisfaction of the legislative body or its delegate to see if the law made had the exact/measurable fact justification, for its enactment. The legislative wisdom must remain insulated from that judicial query. Under the Constitutional scheme of division of powers, Courts may never be enthusiastic and may remain disinclined to test the subjective satisfaction of legislatures in enacting laws. In fact, the Courts are neither equipped nor they are expected to undertake that exercise. (Para 124)

The submission that the issuance of the impugned notifications are pre-judicial to the rights and interest of the tax payers does not find our acceptance in the context of the discussion made above. A legislative action cannot be complained of as being prejudicial on account of extension of limitation. Limitation, though statutory, is not a pre-existing vested right of any party. It gets created and extinguished in accordance with the statutory law. Insofar as the statutory law prescribes a limitation, no argument may arise against such prescription made. Further, in the case of conditional legislation, the submission that it is not peripheral but substantive also looses its relevance in face of conditions seen fulfilled. (Para 129)

We also are not convinced that there was any statutory mandate to provide for only short extensions of time or limited extensions of times. Suffice to note, if the COVID-19 pandemic had continued beyond the third wave (as experienced in our country), that argument would never arise. To the extent that argument arises on hindsight wisdom, and past actions were dictated by nature as were beyond the control of human beings, it would be erroneous to infer a legislative intent based on the experience gained on the strength of initial remedial actions taken by the executive and the legislative bodies, in response to the spread of the pandemic COVID-19. The argument is neither sustainable in law nor on the facts. As to the submission of repeated notifications being issued, again that fell within the domain of legislative wisdom. How the legislature perceived the situation at a given time, and what response it offered may never be a justiciable issue. Suffice to conclude, inherent indication exists that initially the legislature treated the COVID-19 pandemic circumstance to be temporary as may pass in a short while. 64 of 70 However on its continuance, further extensions may have been felt desirable. Insofar as the power vested under Section 168A is not shown to be a power that may be exercised once as get exhausted upon that exercise made, the legislative wisdom to issue a further notification, would always survive. (Para 132)

Seen in that light the decisions cited by learned counsel for the petitioners are found to be distinguished. The writ petitions challenging the issuance of the impugned notifications must fail. Hearing of all cases where adjudication proceedings are pending may recommence and be concluded, after excluding the duration of stay of the extended limitation to frame the adjudication order. Wherever adjudication orders have been passed and recovery stayed by this Court, the petitioners shall have 45 days from today to file appropriate appeals. (Para 138)

Petition dismissed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. Re: Cognizance for Extension of Limitation (Miscellaneous Application No. 408 of 2022 and connected matter)

2. S. Kasi Vs St. through Inspector of Police, Samaynallur Police Station, Madurai District; (2021) 12 SCC 1

3. M/s Rungta Mines Ltd. Vs St. of Jharkhand, (2023)VIL-525-JHR

4. U.O.I. & anr. Vs Mohit Minerals Pvt. Ltd. (2022) 10 SCC 700

5. Energy Watchdog Vs Central Electricity Regulatory Commission & ors., (2017) 14 SCC 80

6. Eastern Coalfields Limited Vs Sanjay Transport Agency & anr., (2009) 7 SCC 345

7. Satyendra Kumar Mehra alias Satendera Kumar Mehra Vs St. of Jharkhand, (2018) 15 SCC 139

8. St. of Uttar Pradesh Vs Sudhir Kumar Singh & anr., AIR (2020) SC 5215

9. Independent Schools' Association, Chandigarh (Regd.) & ors. Vs U.O.I. & ors., (2022) 14 SCC 387

10. Lachmi Narain & ors. Vs U.O.I. & ors., (1976) 2 SCC 953

11. Tata Housing Development Com. Ltd. Vs Aalok Jagga & ors., (2020) 15 SCC 784

12. Hamdard Dawakhana (Wakf) Lal Kuan, Delhi & anr. Vs U.O.I. & ors., AIR 1960 SC 554

13. St. of T. N. Vs K. Sabanayagam & anr., (1998) 1 SCC 318

14. S.R. Bommai Vs U.O.I., AIR 1994 SC 1918

15. Shayara Bano Vs U.O.I., (2017) 9 SCC

16. Geeta Vs St. of U.P. & ors., (2010) 13 SCC 678

17. Dhanrajamal Gobindram Vs Shamji Kalidas & Co., AIR 1961 SC 1285

18. Dwarika Prasad Sahu Vs St. of Bihar & ors., AIR 1975 SC 134

19. St. of Mysore Vs P.R. Kulkarni & ors., AIR 1972 SC 2170

20. D.C. Wadhwa & ors. Vs St. of Bihar & ors., (1987) 1 SCC 378

21. Krishna Kumar Singh & anr. Vs St. of Bihar & ors., (2017) 3 SCC

22. Collector (District Magistrate), Allahabad Vs. Raja Ram Jaiswal, AIR 1985 SC 1622

23. St. of Punjab Vs Gurdial Singh & others, (1980) 2 SCC 471

24. Kalabharati Advertising Vs Hemant Vimalnath Narichania & ors., AIR 2010 SC 3745

25. Writ-Tax No. 330 of 2024 (M/S Tata Projects Limited Vs U.O.I. & ors.

26. St. of Tamil Nadu Vs P. Krishnamurthy & ors., (2006) 4 SCC 517

27. All India Bank Officers Configuration Vs Regional Manager, C.B.I., Neutral Citation (2024) INSC 389

28. Naresh Chand Agarwal Vs Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, Neutral Citation 2024 INSC 94

29. Reckitt Benckiser India Pvt. Ltd. Vs U.O.I. (2024) GSTL 113 (Del),

30. Faizal Traders Pvt. Ltd. Vs Deputy Commissioner Central Tax & anr., Neutral Citation: 2024 KER10314

31. Super Agrotech Ltd. Vs St. of U.P. & ors., (2006) 9 SCC 203

32. Vivek Narayan Sharma & ors. Vs U.O.I. & ors. (2023) 3 SCC 1

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saumitra Dayal Singh, J. & Hon'ble Donadi Ramesh, J.)

1. Heard Sri Rakesh Ranjan Agarwal learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Suyash Agarwal, Sri Divyanshu Agarwal and Sri Vinayak Mittal, Sri Shambhu Chopra learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Rajnish Tripathi, Sri Praveen Kumar, Sri Nishant Mishra, Sri Atul Gupta, Sri Abhinav Mehrotra, Sri Venkat Prasad Pasupaleti (through video conferencing) and Sri Ayush Mishra, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri S.P. Singh, learned ASGI assisted by Sri N.C. Gupta and Sri Gopal Verma, Sri Anant Tiwari, Sri O.P. Mishra, Sri K.J. Shukla, Sri Chandra Prakash Yadav and Sri Arvind Kumar Goswami learned counsel for the Union of India and Goods & Service Tax Council, Sri Gaurav Mahajan learned Senior Standing Counsel, Sri Amit Mahajan learned Senior Standing Counsel, Sri Krishna Agarwal learned Senior Standing Counsel and Sri Parv Agarwal learned Senior Standing Counsel for the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs, Sri Nimai Das, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel and Sri Ankur Agarwal learned Standing Counsel for the State-GST authorities.

2. Challenge has arisen to Notification No. 09/2023-Central Tax (CGST) dated 31.3.2023 issued by the Government of India and Notification No. 515/XI-2-23-9 (47)/17-T.C.215-U.P.Act-1-2017-Order-(273)-2023 dated 24.4.2023 issued by the State Government under Section 168A of the Central Goods and Service Tax Act, 2017 (hereinafter referred to as 'the Central Act') and the U.P. Goods and Service Tax Act, 2017 (hereinafter referred to as 'the State Act') respectively, insofar those Notifications seek to extend the time granted to the Adjudicating Authorities to pass adjudication orders with reference to proceedings for the F.Y. 2017-18. That challenge is involved in the following writ petitions:

Sl. No.	Writ Tax Number	Party Name	Financial Year

1.	132 of 2024	Ms MJ Corporation Vs. Goods And Service Tax Council And 4 Others	2017-18
2.	134 of 2024	Ms Rki India Limited And Another Vs. Union Of India And 3 Others	2017-18
3.	1393 of 2023	U.P. Ceramics Potteries Pvt Ltd Vs. Good and Service Tax and 5 Others	2017-18
4.	1450 of 2023	M/s Savi Interiors and Another Vs. Union of India and 2 Others	2017-18
5.	177 of 2024	Devendra Pratap Singh Vs. Goods And Service Tax And 4 Others	2017-18
6.	224 of 2024	Atul Tyre House Vs. Goods And Service Tax Council And 4 Others	2017-18
7.	375 of 2024	M/D New Manish Surgical K 61/115 Saptsagar Vs. Goods And Service Tax Council Through The Secretary Gst Council And 4 Others	2017-18
8.	456 of 2024	M/S Haji Nabi Bakash Mohd Saleem Vs. Goods And Service Tax Council And 4 Others	2017-18
9.	46 of 2024	Civil Lines E. K. Road Meerut, Meerut Uttar Pradesh 250001	2017-18

		Through Its Finance Controller Mr Ramesh Chandra Vs. Goods And Service Tax Council And 4 Others
10.	460 of 2024	M/S Vinod Kumar Rai Vs. State Of Up And 2 Others	2017-18
11.	80 of 2024	Ms Lg Electronic India Pvt Ltd Vs. State Of Up And 2 Others	2017-18
12.	825 of 2024	M/S Yuvaan Enterprises Vs. Goods And Service Tax Council And 4 Others	2017-18
13.	522 of 2024	M/S Tara Products And Services Private Limited Vs. Goods And Service Tax Council And 4 Others	2017-18
14.	548 of 2024	M/S Vds Contractor Vs. Goods And Service Tax Council And 5 Others	2017-18
15.	597 of 2024	M/S Mani Electricals Vs. Goods And Service Tax Council And 4 Others	2017-18
16.	841 of 2024	M/S Neptune Suppliers Private Limited Vs. Goods And Service Tax Council And 4 Others	2017-18
17.	897 of 2024	M/S Subhash Infraengineers Pvt. Ltd. Vs. Union Of India And 4 Others	2017-18

18.	902 of 2024	M/S Subhash Infraengineers Pvt Ltd. Vs.Union Of India And 4 Others	2017-18

3. By earlier order, we had consolidated the above described and other petitions raising same and/or similar challenge. Since, only legal issues are involved, Counter Affidavits were required to be filed by the respondents in the lead case i.e. Writ Tax No. 1256 of 2023 (M/S Graziano Trasmissioni India Pvt. Ltd. Vs. Goods And Services Tax And 5 Others). Copy of those Counter Affidavits were directed to be circulated to all counsel for the petitioners, in individual petitions. Also, permission was granted to individual counsel for the petitioners-to serve their Rejoinder Affidavits, treating the Counter Affidavit circulated in the lead case to be the Counter Affidavit filed in their individual cases. Thus, pleadings have been exchanged between the parties, on deemed basis.

4. During the course of hearing, it was pointed out that other challenges are also involved in some of the other petitions. Thus reference has been made to challenge raised to adjudication proceedings/orders for F.Y. 2017-18, on other grounds including ground as to adjudication order exceeding the show cause notice; principles of natural justice having been violated; rectification/correction of GSTR-3B etc. Yet other petitions have laid challenge to similar Notifications issued for the F.Y. 2018-19. In those cases, legal grounds of challenge have been described to be different. Another petition has been filed involving challenge to the validity of Section 168A of the Central Act.

5. In view of the varied challenge raised in some individual petitions, at the suggestion of the bar, we have confined the hearing (at present), to writ petitions involving challenge to Notification No. 09 of 2023 dated 31.03.2023 issued by the Central Government and Notification No. 515 issued by the State Government on 24.04.2023 (hereinafter collectively described as the time extension Notifications) issued for the F.Y. 2017-18. Petition raising challenge to validity of Section 168A has been segregated. Those may be heard later. Also, petitions involving challenge to the time extension Notifications relevant to the F.Y. 2018-19, may be heard separately.

6. Insofar as present batch of petitions is concerned, earlier Section 44 (of the Central Act and the State Act) prescribed that the Annual Return may be filed by 31st day of December following the end of the relevant Financial Year. Thus, for the F.Y. 2017-18 the Annual Return could be filed till 31 December 2018. By virtue of Section 73(10) of the Central Act and the State Act, the Proper Officer could issue an order of adjudication under sub-Section (9) of that Section, within three years from the due date of furnishing of Annual Return. For F.Y. 2017-18 such order order could be passed upto 31 December 2021. Also, under Section 73(3) of the Central Act and the State Act, the mandatory notice preceding an adjudication order [contemplated under Section 73(10) of the Act], could be issued not later than three months prior to the last date on which the Adjudication Order may be passed. Therefore, for the F.Y. 2017-18 such notice could be issued not later than 30 September 2021.

7. It is a fact, F.Y. 2017-18 (July, 2017 to March, 2018) was the first year under the GST regime. It is a matter of common knowledge that the revenue authorities and the tax payers alike, faced numerous difficulties in complying the new law. Therefore, the time for making compliances was extended and relaxations were granted by the Government, from time to time. It is on record - vide Notification dated 03.2.2020 issued under Section 44 (as it then existed) read with Rule 80 of the Rules framed under the Central Act, the last date for filing Annual Return for the F.Y. 2017-18 was extended - for the State of Uttar Pradesh, till 07 February 2020. Similar Notification No. 509 dated 05.02.2020 was issued by the State Government under the State Act. Correspondingly by operation of law, the time limitation contemplated under Section 73(10) of the Central Act and the State Act stood extended upto 06 February 2023. Also, correspondingly the time period for issuance of notice, by the Proper Officer (for that F.Y.), stood extended upto 08 November 2022. It is also a fact, just after the expiry of the last date for filing return for F.Y. 2017-18 expired on 07.2.2020, the country was hit by the first wave of the pandemic COVID-19, resulting in complete lockdown being declared, from 25 March 2020.

8. While the Parliament was not in session, the President promulgated Taxation and Other Laws (Relaxation of Certain Provisions) Ordinance, 2020 (hereinafter referred to as 'TOLO'). It was published in the Gazette of India on 31.03.2020. In the first place, by virtue of Section 3 of TOLO, the time limits specified, prescribed or notified under specified Acts (under that Section) were relaxed. However, the Central Act and the State Act were not included therein. Then, by Section 8 of TOLO, a new Section 168A was introduced to the Central Act, granting powers to the Central to issue appropriate notification, on the recommendations of the Goods and Service Tax Council (hereinafter referred to as 'the Council'), to extend the time limit specified, prescribed nor notified under the Central Act (as the case may be) in respect to 'actions' that 'cannot' be 'completed' or 'complied', 'due to force majeure' circumstance. The Explanation to the new section explained the meaning of 'force majeure'. It is also a fact that TOLO was replaced with Taxation and Other Laws (Relaxation and Amendment of Certain Provisions) Act, 2020 (hereinafter referred to as 'the TOLA'), enforced with effect from 31 March 2020. It contained provisions similar to TOLO. For our purpose, in material parts, TOLA is the mirror image of TOLO. Similar amendments were made to the State Act.

9. Acting under Section 168A of the Central Act, first, Notification No. 35/2020 was issued by the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (hereinafter referred to as 'the CBIC'), dated 03 April 2020. In short, it provided, amongst others, extension of time upto 31.08.2020 with respect to actions for which the time limit for completion or compliance by any authority fell during the period 20 March 2020 - 30 August 2020. A similar Notification was issued by the State Government being Notification No. 445 dated 11.05.2020. Later, another Notification No. 14/2021-Central Tax, dated 01 May 2021 was issued under Section 168A of the Central Act providing for similar extension of time, to perform acts that were required to be performed during 15 April 2021-29 June 2021 upto 30 June 2021. It was complemented by similar Notification No.

496 dated 28.06.2021, issued by the State Government, under the State Act.

10. Later, vide Notification No. 13/2022-Central Tax dated 05 July 2022, issued by the Government of India, (acting through the CBIC) under Section 168A of the Central Act, extended the time limit specified under Section 73(10) of the Central Act for F.Y. 2017-18, upto 30 September 2023. Parallel notification was issued by the State Government being Notification No. 596, dated 21.7.20222 providing for similar extension of time. These notifications have not been challenged.

11. Last, vide Notification No. 9/2023 dated 31.03.2023 issued by the Government of India through the CBIC, the time limitation prescribed under Section 73(10) of the Central Act for F.Y. 2017-18, was extended upto 31.12.2023. A parallel notification came to be issued by the State Government Notification No. 515 of 2023 dated 24.04.2023, granting similar extension of time under the State Act. These notifications have also arisen under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act. Challenge has been laid only to this last set of Notifications dated 21.03.2023 (issued by the Central Government) and 24.04.2023 (issued by the State Government).

12. In the context of the above, Sri Rakesh Ranjan Agarwal, learned Senior Advocate has first pointed out that all petitioners had filed their Annual Returns before the last extended date for filing annual returns for F.Y. 2017-18 i.e. 07.02.2020. The marginal note appended to Section 168-A of the Act reads: "Power of Government to extend time limit in special circumstances." Thus, it has been pointed out that blanket extension of time was not contemplated to be granted. The legislature did not intend to grant blanket power to the Government to extend the limitation of time. Contrasting the newly added provision with Section 172 of the Central Act and the State Act, it has been submitted, the general power to grant such extension conferred in Section 172 is subject to the direct check of the legislature, inasmuch as the Government seeking to exercise that power would have to lay and thus seek approval of its 'general order' by the respective legislative body. Thus, it was neither contemplated by the legislatures nor it could be construed that there was any extension of time contemplated or permitted to be granted to file either the Annual Return for F.Y. 2017-18 beyond the date 07.02.2020, or to pass an adjudication order beyond 06.02.2023.

13. Second, it has been pointed out, Notification No. 14 of 2021 dated 01.05.2021 did not cause any effect on the limitation to pass the adjudication order for F.Y. 2017-18, inasmuch as the period of limitation that was extended upto 30.06.2021 was only with respect to acts that could not be completed or complied during the period 15.03.2020 to 20.08.2020. Even the requirement of filing of e-way bill was not relaxed. Benefits were contemplated and granted with respect to completion of other proceedings (by the revenue authorities) and filing of appeals (by the assessees).

14. Third, it has been pointed out that Notification No. 13 of 2022 and 596 of 2022 have not been challenged as despite that extension of time granted under Section 168-A of the Central Act and the State Act qua adjudication proceedings for F.Y. 2017-18, no action was initiated against the petitioners, during that extended period of limitation.

15. Coming to the challenge raised to Notification No. 9 of 2023 (issued by the Central Government) and Notification No. 515 of 2023 (issued by the State Government) hereinafter collectively referred to as the impugned notifications, it has been submitted, first, the time extension notifications have not arisen on an independent exercise but only by way of partial modification of the first time extension granted.

16. Second, it has been asserted that on 31.03.2023, there did not exist any COVID-19 circumstance at the time of issuance of the impugned notifications. The staff attendance at government and non-government offices stood regularised. Pre-existing office working restrictions were done away. Referring to the impugned time extension clause in Section 168-A of the Central Act and the State Act, it has been submitted that there did not exist any 'force majeure' circumstance. Referring to the order of the Supreme Court passed in Re: Cognizance for Extension of Limitation (Miscellaneous Application No. 408 of 2022 and connected matter), the Supreme Court itself granted exemption/relaxation of limitation for a limited period 15.03.2020 to 28.02.2022 only. Thus, according to him, in absence of any 'force majeure' circumstance existing on 31.03.2023, the exercise of power by the Central Government and the State Government to extend the limitation to frame the adjudication order for F.Y. 2017-18 upto 31.12.2023, did not exist. The exercise of power is patently ultra vires the Act.

17. Here, he has also referred to Clause 5 of Circular dated 20.07.2021 to submit that the CBIC itself was cognizant of the order passed by the Supreme Court dated 27.04.2021. Therefore, it was the shared understanding of the executive authorities that the COVID-19 circumstance had come to an end on 28.02.2022. Referring to S. Kasi Vs. State through Inspector of Police, Samaynallur Police Station, Madurai District; (2021) 12 SCC 1, it has been asserted, the Supreme Court itself clarified its order to imply that - the order dated 23.03.2020 cannot be read to mean that it ever intended to extend the period of filing Charge-Sheet by police authorities as contemplated under Section 167(2) Cr.P.C.

18. To elaborate his submission that no general extension of time had been granted to State authorities by the Supreme Court, he has also referred to a decision of the Jharkhand High Court in M/s Rungta Mines Ltd. Vs. State of Jharkhand, (2023)VIL-525-JHR wherein that Court had the occasion to consider whether under the suo motu extension of limitation orders passed by Supreme Court, the limitation to initiate re-assessment proceedings also stood extended. Referring to the Circular dated 20 July 2021 that reflects the own understanding of the revenue authorities, it was noted that the actions of scrutiny of returns, issuance of summons, search, enquiry or investigations and even consequential arrests (under the GST law), were not covered by the order of the Supreme Court. It was taken note that in the meeting of the Goods and Service Tax Council (hereinafter referred to as the 'Council') itself, that apex body under the scheme of the Central Act and the State Act, was cognizant that the order of the Supreme Court would apply to other quasi judicial and judicial proceedings but not to adjudication proceedings. Applying that principle, it has been emphasised that the process of scrutiny of returns, audit etc., was not covered. The fact that the revenue authorities failed to perform those functions may not be now protected by seeking extension of limitation to pass adjudication order.

19. Third, it has been submitted, no compliance has been made to the statutory requirements of Section 168A of the Act. Since the ingredients of 'force majeure' circumstance did not exist on the relevant date i.e. issuance of the impugned notifications, they are wholly ultra vires. By way of another limb of this submission, it has been further asserted that the Central Government and the State Government should have acted independent of the opinion or advise of the Council. Power to issue the time extension notifications being delegated to the Government, no blind or mute compliance may have been offered by the delegate to the opinion of the Council. Reference has been made to the impugned notifications and also to the resolution of the Law Committee considered by the Council, to submit that both are silent to the existence of 'force majeure' circumstance relevant to the impugned notifications.

20. To clarify, he would submit, unless such circumstance was shown to exist on the date of issuance of time extension notifications and unless due application of mind had been made by the Central Government to that effect, inconceivable situation may arise where the Council may continue to resolve to extend the limitation of time to frame adjudication orders, indefinitely. The Central Government and the State Government may continue to offer blind compliance to such opinions and resolutions of the Council as may remain wholly contrary to the spirit of the Central and the State Act. Reliance has been placed on another decision of the Supreme Court in Union of India and Another Vs. Mohit Minerals Private Limited (2022) 10 SCC 700 to submit that the recommendations of the Council are of persuasive value and that they do not create the law. In any case, the in context of delegated legislation arising under Section 168A of the Act, the Central Government and the State Government had to offer independent application of mind to the existence of 'force majeure' circumstance. In the present case, contrary to that, both the Central Government and the State Government have offered mechanical compliance to the recommendation of the Council.

21. Further, it has been submitted, in face of the plain language of Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act, the burden to establish the existence of 'force majeure' circumstance remained undischarged on the Central Government and the State Government. Neither in the impugned notifications nor in the recommendation of the Council nor in the report of the Law Committee nor through the Counter Affidavit filed in these petitions, any fact has been shown to exist as may have allowed the delegated legislative body to act under Section 168A of the Central Act or the State Act. Mere, difficulties or existence of onerous conditions would never survive the test of Section 168A of the Act. The legislature, in its own wisdom contemplated absolute impossibility in performance of certain actions as the only permissible reason to exercise the power delegated under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act. Referring to the Energy Watchdog Vs. Central Electricity Regulatory Commission & Ors., (2017) 14 SCC 80, it has been asserted, for any event to describe as a 'force majeure', it must have wholly or partly caused an unavoidable delay on the affected party on the performance of its obligations. Referring to the circumstances that existed viz-a-viz the challenge brought before us and referring to the documents and pleadings, it has been shown, inspections (on 25.2.2022); audit (on 3.2.2022); audit notice (on 14.10.2022); audit order (on 13.12.2022) and various other actions were performed. In such circumstances, it has been submitted, there were no 'force majeure' circumstance as may have prevented the revenue authorities from initiating adjudication proceedings before the cut-off date 30.6.2023. Merely because there may have existed certain difficulties, those may not have been cited as an impossibility. Thus, it has been contended, the issuance of the impugned notifications falls foul with the power vested with the Central Government and the State Government under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act.

22. Next, it has been submitted, limitation is a substantive right. It impacts the right of the tax-payers. Referring to the marginal note to TOLA, emphasis has been laid to the words "special circumstance" appearing in the marginal note. Thus, it has been emphasized, the power vested under Section 168A of the Act is not a general power to be exercised for completion of certain actions but an exceptional power vested in the delegate to be exercised, in special circumstances.

23. Referring to Eastern Coalfields Limited Vs. Sanjay Transport Agency & Anr., (2009) 7 SCC 345 and Satyendra Kumar Mehra alias Satendera Kumar Mehra Vs. State of Jharkhand, (2018) 15 SCC 139, it has been submitted, any doubt or ambiguity in the interpretation of the legislative clause may always be cleared by looking at the marginal note. Thus, it has been submitted, the impugned notifications are invalid as the power under Section 168A of the Act may only be exercised in special circumstances i.e. during the continuance of the spread of the pandemic COVID-19. That special circumstance having passed, the exercise of power with reference to COVID-19 is thereafter, wholly ultra vires the Act.

24. Next, Shri Shambhu Chopra, learned Senior Counsel has offered a slightly different perspective to the dispute brought before the Court. In his submission, the impugned notifications are ultra vires to Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act. Yet, first, according to him also, a valid notification under Section 168A of the Act may have been issued, if necessary, due to 'force majeure' circumstance existing. In its absence, no such notification may have been issued. It is a matter of common knowledge that the 'force majeure' circumstance i.e. COVID-19 did not exist on the date of issuance of the impugned notifications i.e. 30.3.2023 and 24.4.2023. Therefore, the exercise of the power is perverse.

25. Second, uniquely he would submit, the impugned notifications issued subsequent to the pandemic are prejudicial to the rights and interests of the tax-payers because they exposed the tax-payers to the consequences of show-cause notices, adjudication orders, recoveries and prosecutions etc. wholly outside the period of limitation prescribed by the principal legislature. Relying on State of Uttar Pradesh Vs. Sudhir Kumar Singh & Anr., AIR (2020) SC 5215, he would submit, the issuance of the impugned notifications has caused prejudice to the petitioners and that procedural or substantive protection granted by the principal legislature by incorporating strict conditions under Section 168A has been diluted and thus abused.

26. Third, it has been submitted, the impugned notifications are discriminatory to the extent they partially modified the earlier Notifications dated 1.5.2021 and 28.6.2021 issued by the Central Government, and State Government respectively. That part of the earlier notifications which were in favour of the petitioner, has been done away. At the same time, the revenue has taken undue benefit by seeking extension of limitation to initiate adjudication proceedings.

27. Fourth, it has been submitted, the impugned notifications are not peripheral but substantive. Time prescription is essential for the purpose of issuance of proceedings in the nature of reassessment and/or adjudication. Wherever extension of time is required, the primary legislation provides for the same. In the present case, that function has been circumscribed by the conditions enumerated under Section 168A of the Act. Therefore, unless the 'force majeure' circumstance (of continuance of COVID-19) was a fact in existence, the primary legislative function cannot be seen to be validly exercised by the delegate - either the Central Government or the State Government. Reliance has been placed on Independent Schools' Association, Chandigarh (Regd.) & Ors. Vs. Union of India & Ors., (2022) 14 SCC 387 to submit that a notification requiring substantive change to be made may neither be described as peripheral nor that power may be lightly exercised by the delegate. In the present case, the delegate having acted outside the scope of the delegation made, the impugned notifications are acts of excess. Essential legislative function was not and could not be delegated to the Central Government, or the State Government.

28. Referring to Lachmi Narain & Ors. Vs. Union of India & Ors., (1976) 2 SCC 953, it has been elaborated, the express inbuilt legislative policy contained in a legislative act cannot be violated by the delegate by abrogating to itself plenary legislative function. While the Parliament and the State legislature had plenary powers to legislate, yet, the delegate may only offer strict compliance to the limited power vested on it. Unless the pre-condition for exercise of that power is shown to exist, the action taken by the delegate would remain an act of excess and therefore ultra vires of the principal enactments.

29. Again uniquely, Sri Shambhu Chopra has also invoked principle of violation of doctrine of public trust/public interest. Referring to Tata Housing Development Company Ltd. Vs. Aalok Jagga & Ors., (2020) 15 SCC 784, he would submit, though the traditional scope to apply the doctrine of public trust was confined environmental issues, at the same time the doctrine now stands extended to other spheres as well. In a society governed by rule of law, the betrayal of public trust by the Central Government and the State Government may remain amenable to judicial review.

30. Further, it has been submitted, Section 168-A of the Central Act and the State Act do not bind the Central Government and the State Government to offer mute compliance to the recommendation made by the GST Council. On the contrary it remains with the Central Government and the State Government to accept or to not accept any recommendation made by Council. Though the Central Government and the State Government may not act independent of the recommendation made by the Council, at the same time, it would be wrong to say that the Central Government and the State Government are bound to comply the recommendation made by the Council.

31. Referring to Article 279-A(4)(h), it has been described as residuary clause or the default clause. In absence of any power vested in the Council to make such recommendation, merely because under Article 279-A(6), the Council may determine its procedure in the performance of its functions, may not give rise to any other power or sphere for exercise of such power to make any recommendation. Thus, it has been suggested, the provision of Section 168-A of the Central Act and the State Act, are not wholly inconsistent to Article 279-A. Any recommendation made by the Council to the Central Government and the State Government that is not in consonance with the Constitutional and/or statutory law, would remain unenforceable.

32. Next, Sri Praveen Kumar offered a clarification at the very beginning. He would submit, Section 168-A is a piece of conditional legislation. The conditions on which delegate may act are specifically prescribed therein. There can be no doubt or imagination as to that. Thus, only when an 'action' for which time limit may have been prescribed, specified or notified, cannot be completed or complied within that time, only then, the Central Government and/or the State Government may act, to provide for time extension. Having laid that premise, he would proceed to submit, therefore, the recommendation of the Council must be seen to have considered and identified actions that were not complied or which could not be complied within the pre-existing prescription of time, that too for 'force majeure' circumstance existing. In the present facts, according to him, that consideration is completely lacking rather, it is absent.

33. Relying on the Hamdard Dawakhana (Wakf) Lal Kuan, Delhi & Anr. Vs. Union of India & Ors., AIR 1960 SC 554, he would submit, there can be no doubt that Section 168-A of the Central Act and the State Act are pieces of conditional legislation. Thus, the occasion for the delegate to act is not only hinged to the recommendation of the Council but that such recommendation may not arise and in any case, may not be acted upon unless the exact circumstance contemplated for its exercise, pre-exist. Referring to State of Tamil Nadu Vs. K. Sabanayagam & Anr., (1998) 1 SCC 318, he would submit, in the context of conditional legislation, it is a valid ground to challenge that the mandatory conditions required to be fulfilled before the delegated legislation may arise, did not exist.

34. Applying that principle, Sri Praveen Kumar would further submit, the impugned notifications only enumerate difficulties and challenges that may have been faced by the revenue authorities, in completing the adjudication proceedings for F.Y. 2017-18. It has not been shown that action of framing adjudication orders within prescribed time limit could not be completed or complied. As a fact, he would submit, to begin with, by virtue of Section 73(10) of the Central Act and the State Act, the revenue authorities had three year limitation from the last date of submission of annual return for F.Y. 2017-18. Vide Notification No. 5 of 2020, that date was extended to 07.02.2020.

35. Consequently, by virtue of Section 73(10) of the Central Act and the State Act, the limitation to frame the adjudication order for F.Y. 2017-18 stood extended upto 06.02.2023. Then, with respect to first exercise of power under Section 168-A of the Central Act and the State Act, it has been submitted, Notification Nos. 13 of 2022 dated 05.07.2022 and 5 of 1996 dated 21.07.2022, extended the period of limitation to frame the adjudication order upto 30.09.2023. Those notifications were issued, even though six months' time was available from before to complete or comply with the timelines to perform specified actions. Since those notifications were never assailed, more than enough time was made available to the revenue authorities to initiate and complete action that had yet not been initiated. In that regard, he would submit, the words “cannot be completed or complied” refer to an impossibility in fact and/or in law. In absence of notices issued to initiate any adjudication proceeding, the stage was not set to record any satisfaction that the action to pass adjudication orders could not be completed or complied.

36. Referring to P. Ramanatha Aiyar's, The Law Lexicon, Second Edition 1997, he would elaborate that word 'cannot' includes a legal inability, as well as a physical impossibility. (The Newbattle, 54 LJPD & A 16). Further, referring to the said law lexicon, he would elaborate that the word ‘complete' may only mean to finish; accomplish that which one starts out to do. (Black's Law Dictionary). He has also referred to and relied on Article 356 (1) of the Constitution of India and the decision of the Supreme Court in S.R. Bommai v. Union of India, AIR 1994 SC 1918, to submit that strict meaning of the word 'cannot' must arise to the words used by the legislature in Section 168A of the Central and the State Act. Thus, it has thus been stressed that the period of actual national lockdown - from 25.3.2020 to 31.5.2020, alone offered a circumstance when no action may have been completed or complied. Even then, it is a fact that during that period as well, notices came to be issued; proceedings were conducted and completed. Since, no action had been initiated at the relevant time, the legal basis to invoke the conditional legislation under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act - to obtain extension of limitation, did not exist. Unless a proceeding was first initiated, there may never arose a circumstance for its completion or compliance. In short, it has been submitted, the extension of limitation has been invoked not to complete or comply any action that was already underway, but to initiate fresh actions. Therefore, the exercise of power by the delegate falls foul with the delegation made.

37. Referring to the agenda of the 47th and 49th meeting of the GST Council, it has been submitted, wholly vague terms have been used to recommend the issuance of notification for time extension. Thus, without referring to any specific 'force majeure' circumstance existing or period for which it may have operated or any factual or legal impossibility that it may have generated, the minutes disclose a loose discussion of 'COVID period', 'initial period' etc. Further reference to the difficulties faced during the initial period of GST regime are described to be extraneous to the issue. 'Force majeure' circumstance having been described by the Explanation under Section 168A of the Central and the State Act, those difficulties would remain irrelevant to the issue. Further, scrutiny of returns is not an enforcement action. Therefore, on the own showing of the respondents that processing of returns had never been been stayed by any authority or law. Reference to the same as a circumstance to justify the extension is extraneous to the exercise of conditional legislation. In the context of the first extension of time granted and much time having survived before that extended period of limitation may have come to an end, the second extension of time granted is described to have been obtained only for the sake of convenience of the revenue authorities.

38. Referring to the words 'due to force majeure' used under Section 168A of the Act, he would submit, the legislature clearly intended, conditional legislation may arise only as direct consequence of a 'force majeure' circumstance existing for which reason, any action may remain from being completed or complied. Insofar as it cannot be disputed that the COVID-19 circumstance came to an end in the year 2021 itself, and in any case did not extend beyond January and February, 2022, exercise of that conditional legislation after expiry of the 'force majeure' circumstance, is ultra vires the Central Act and the State Act.

39. Shri Atul Gupta has offered another hue to the submissions advanced in these proceedings. He would submit, the impugned notifications are discriminatory. By virtue of the language used in Section 73 and Section 74 of the Central and the State Act, a clear demarcation exists between a registered person from whom tax may have remained to be collected, for reasons other than the fraud and those from whom due tax may remain to be collected for reason of fraud. Legislative wisdom remains, to treat the two categories of persons differently, inasmuch as lesser period of limitation of three years (from the last date of filing of return) exists for the first category of persons and a longer period of limitation of five years exists for persons who may be alleged to have committed fraud. By seeking to enlarge the limitation for the first category of persons without valid reasons, that legislative distinction has been destroyed. To that extent, the impugned notifications are wholly discriminatory, besides being in violation of the statutory scheme. Also for the same reason, he would contend that the impugned notifications are wholly arbitrary as there exists no valid or justifiable reason to destroy the pre-existing limitation that distinguishes a person who may have committed fraud and registered person such as the petitioners who are not alleged to have committed any fraud. Though the principal legislature may have prescribed a larger as period of limitation for persons not involved in any fraud, yet, through arbitrary action of the Central and the State Governments, cannot achieve that end.

40. Third, he would submit, evidence exists in the shape of initial notifications issued at the time of the spread of COVID-19 - to only grant short extensions of time. Therefore, the power vested under Section 168A of the Act must also be read to grant short extensions of limitation only, for a limited period during which 'force majeure' circumstance may exist. On the contrary, the impugned notifications seek to indefinitely enlarge the limitation of time, contrary to the inherent statutory scheme to conclude the adjudication proceedings in limited timeframe.

41. Fourth, it has been submitted, the impugned notifications do not refer to any circumstance of ‘force majeure’, prevailing. On the contrary, on the date of issuance of the impugned notifications the 'force majeure' circumstance did not exist. Therefore, there was no legal basis to exercise delegated legislative power to grant extension of time, at that stage.

42. Last, he would submit that scrutiny and audit are linked to adjudication proceedings. The revenue authorities should have completed those actions irrespective of extension of time granted under Section 168A of the Act. Since the revenue authorities failed to perform those acts, they cannot seek any extension of time, for that reason and purpose. In short, it is his submission, the entire action of issuance of the impugned notifications is wholly discriminatory and arbitrary. Therefore, it falls foul of Article 14 of the Constitution of India. He has referred to and relied on Shayara Bano v. Union of India, (2017) 9 SCC, to submit, even a principal legislation is not immune to the test of manifest arbitrariness. Here, the challenge is to delegated legislation. In absence of any justifiable 'force majeure' circumstance shown to exist as may have allowed for such delegated power to arise or to be exercised, the unjust and arbitrary result growing from it, clearly establishes its invalidity.

43. Shri Nishant Mishra would first submit, repeated extensions granted in a routine way are contrary to the legislative intent and object expressed in the language of Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act. That provision contemplates a limited intervention to be made by the Central or the State Government for reason of 'force majeure' circumstance having obstructed any action that was required to be completed or complied during the existence of continuance of 'force majeure' circumstance. Referring to UP Goods and Services Tax (Second Amendment) Act, 2020 and the statement on objections and reasons thereto, it has been submitted, Section 168-A of the State Act was incorporated only to overcome the difficulties faced by the tax-payers arising from lockdown declared due to COVID-19. Thus, the provision of Section 168-A may have been utilised only for that special circumstance, arising from that eventuality.

44. The non obstante clause appearing by way the opening words used in Section 168-A of the Central Act and the State Act must therefore be read strictly, to confine it to the object for which the said provision was enacted. Relying on Geeta Vs. State of U.P. & Ors., (2010) 13 SCC 678, it has been asserted, the non obstante clause attached to the Section 168-A of the Central Act and the State Act may not be read to enable general power to grant extensions of time to initiate and conclude the adjudication proceedings. The extreme circumstance permitting exercise of that power existed only during the complete lockdown enforced by the Central Government, under the Disaster Management Act.

45. As to the 'force majeure' circumstance, he has referred to Dhanrajamal Gobindram Vs. Shamji Kalidas & Co., AIR 1961 SC 1285, to convey the legislative intent - to save the performing party from the consequences of anything over which it may have no control. Inasmuch as filing of Annual Return was complete before the issuance of the impugned notifications and since there was no lockdown during that period or immediately preceding the issuance of those notifications, there is no basis to accept that the performing party i.e. revenue authorities were prevented from performing any act, for reasons beyond their control.

46. He would further submit, the power vested under Section 168-A has to remain distinct and different in scope and ambit from the general power of time extension vested under Section 172 of the Central Act and the State Act. While that power may be exercised to ease the difficulties that may be faced in giving effect proceedings of the Central Act and/or State Act. Power under Section 168-A of the Central Act and the State Act may be exercised only during the currency of 'force majeure' circumstance, only.

47. Also, the general power to grant extension of time created under Section 172 of the Central Act and the State Act remains subject to direct legislative check inasmuch as any order thereunder must be approved by the respective principal legislative body, in contrast, under Section 168-A of the Central Act and the State Act, power may be exercised within the confines of the self limitations of that section. The general power was exercised by the Central Government and the State Government whereby the date of filing of Annual Return for the period 01.07.2017 to 01.07.2018 had been extended to 31.12.2019 and again to 31.01.2020, respectively.

48. Second, the reason given in the minutes of the 49th meeting of the GST Council only establish difficulty. They do not refer to existence or continuance of a 'force majeure' circumstance. To that extent, those recommendations are contrary to the express provisions of Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act. Further, it has been submitted, the consideration of reasons in the 49th Meeting of the Council do not constitute or give rise to appreciation of any 'force majeure' circumstance. At best, the Council discussed the difficulties faced by some of the “tax administrations”.

49. Even in the agenda considered by the Council, the discussion exists only with respect to delays observed in issuance of show cause notice for F.Ys. 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20, for reason of COVID-19 pandemic. It has been further noted, the Law Committee considered the delay in scrutiny and audit due to COVID-19 restrictions and had thus recommended extension of time. Merely because the revenue authorities may have faced certain difficulties in performing certain actions preceding issuance of adjudication notices, may never be described as an impossibility to complete and comply any action.

50. By way of another limb of the submission, Sri Mishra would submit, scrutiny and audit are independent activities. Adjudication proceedings do not hinge on and are not dependent on the same. Referring to Section 73(1) of the Central Act and the State Act, it has been submitted, the Proper Officer may issue a show cause notice where "it appears" that tax has not been paid or short paid etc. That legislative satisfaction of the Proper Officer has not been made dependent on the prior scrutiny or audit of the Annual Return etc.

51. Under Section 61(1) of the Act, the Proper Officer may scrutinise the Annual Return and again under Section 61(3) of the Act, if not satisfied the Proper Officer may proceed against the registered person under Section 65 or 66 or 67 or 73 or 74 of the Central Act and/or State Act. Thus, the consequences for scrutiny are provided elsewhere. Therefore, the Proper Officer is not bound to scrutinise the Annual Returns and thereafter proceed on issuance of adjudication notice.

52. Third, it has been submitted, no government may act in exercise of powers vested under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act, except upon prior recommendation made by the Council. Recommendation was made by the Council in its 49th meeting to the Central Government but not to the State Government. Therefore, besides the general challenge raised to the impugned notifications issued under the Central Act and the State Act, it has been submitted, the same is wholly without jurisdiction. In absence of recommendation made by the State Government, such notification may never arise.

53. Fourth, as to the fact justification, reference has been made to paragraph 7, 9 and 10 of the Counter Affidavit filed in these proceedings to submit that no effort has been made by the respondents to justify their action.

54. Sri Abhinav Mehrotra has submitted that the impugned notifications must satisfy twin conditions of 'force majeure' circumstance existing and also the impossibilities (both legal and factual), in the completion of actions. Unless the twin conditions are specifically satisfied, the action taken to issue the impugned notifications may not be valid. According to him, issuance of the impugned notifications which is an executive action is based on mixed reasons. He has relied on Dwarika Prasad Sahu Vs. State of Bihar & Ors., AIR 1975 SC 134 and State of Mysore Vs. P.R. Kulkarni & Ors., AIR 1972 SC 2170 to submit, it is not possible to cull out with any certainty, which reason prevailed with the Council and which part of the recommendation made by the Council prevailed with the Central Government or the State Government, especially because the reasons contained in the minutes of 48th Meeting of the Council refer to extraneous circumstance i.e. facts and measures falling outside twin test of ‘force majeure’ circumstance existing and impossibility to perform due action, for that reason.

55. In his submission, by lapse of time especially after the second/Delta Wave of the pandemic COVID-19 got over, no 'force majeure' circumstance existed as may have prompted or persuaded the Central or the State Government to act on such recommendations. To the extent, the action to issue the impugned notifications is based on extraneous considerations, those would fall within the scope of judicial review.

56. Relying on D.C. Wadhwa & others v. State of Bihar & others, (1987) 1 SCC 378, he would submit that power exercised by the executive was a colourable exercise to achieve a different object than that contemplated by Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act. He has also placed reliance on Krishna Kumar Singh & another v. State of Bihar & others, (2017) 3 SCC 1, Collector (District Magistrate), Allahabad v. Raja Ram Jaiswal, AIR 1985 SC 1622, State of Punjab v. Gurdial Singh & others, (1980) 2 SCC 471 and Kalabharati Advertising v. Hemant Vimalnath Narichania & others, AIR 2010 SC 3745.

57. By way of another limb of his submission, Shri Mehrotra would submit, Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act is a provision to overcome a temporary circumstance that may arise for reasons beyond the control of the parties. Only to overcome the immediate and direct hardship caused by such exceptional circumstance, the legislature has given the discretion to the executive to take appropriate measures to deal with it. Once that temporary circumstance had passed inasmuch as COVID-19 pandemic and the lockdown arising therefrom were over, the power vested by the legislature under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act, could not be exercised.

58. Mr. Venkat Prasad Pasupaleti (through video conferencing) appearing along with Shri Shubham Agarwal, learned counsel for the petitioner in Writ-Tax No. 330 of 2024 (M/S Tata Projects Limited v. Union of India and 3 others) has made reference to different actions of scrutiny, issuance of DRC-01, filing of replies, submission of replies and issuance of show cause notices and replies thereto, all before the issuance of the impugned notifications. Thus, it has been submitted, reply had been furnished to the Show Cause Notice dated 23.06.2023 on 28.06.2023. Limitation of time existed up to 30.09.2023. Only because the Proper Officer may have failed to complete the proceedings within time, it can never be claimed that there existed a 'force majeure' circumstance in the present case, as may justify the issuance of the impugned notification.

59. Also, it has been asserted that the power vested on the Central and the State Government, is not a general power. It has been used most casually, multiple times. Referring to Circular No. 157 of 2021, dated 20.7.2021, it has been submitted that on the own understanding of the revenue, the order passed by the Supreme Court in Re: Cognizance for Extension of Limitation (supra) did not apply to adjudication proceeding. In any case the present is not a case where no proceeding may have been initiated. However, admittedly the order dated 8.12.2023 passed in this case travels beyond the issue raised in the Show Cause Notice. To that extent, the order is wholly unsustainable.

60. Next, Shri Ayush Mishra, learned counsel appearing for the petitioner in Writ-Tax No. 437 of 2023 has also adopted the submissions advanced by the other counsel of the petitioner. In addition, he has laid emphasis on the letter written by the Secretary to Chief Secretaries of all the States dated 22.03.2022 wherein it was informed, considering the overall improvement in the situation and preparedness of the government in dealing with the pandemic, the National Disaster Management Authority had decided that there was no need to invoke the provisions of the Disaster Management Act (to contain COVID-19), any further. Accordingly, it was provided, after expiry of the then existing order dated 25.2.2022, no further order may be issued by the Ministry of Home.

61. Second, referring to another letter written by the Union Home Secretary dated 25.2.2022, he has emphasised that by virtue of contents of paragraph-6(i), (vi), (vii) and (viii) thereof, all restrictions that had been created during the spread of pandemic COVID-19, stood withdrawn. Thus, public transport, inter-State movement and working of at all offices, (private and government), was restored without capacity restrictions. That step having been taken almost a year before issuance of the impugned notifications, there existed no justification or fact circumstance that may be remotely described on the 'force majeure' circumstance as may have informed the Council to make a recommendation or as may have enabled the Central and or the State Government to issue the impugned time extension notifications under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act.

62. Shri Gaurav Mahajan appearing for the CBIC would submit, in none (except one) challenge has been raised to the validity of Section 168A of the Act. Referring to the Central Act and the State Act, he would submit that both enactments contemplate a self-assessment mechanism. Unlike pre-existing law which was based on the principle of regular assessment to follow (almost by way of a necessary consequence), the filing of Annual Return, the GST regime is based on self-assessment arising as a consequence of filing of Annual Return. Only where tax may not have been paid or short paid or erroneously refunded etc., adjudication proceeding may arise, to recover such tax not paid or short paid etc.

63. For that process to be activated, the Central Act and the State Act are dependent on the process of scrutiny and audit of the Annual Returns. Unless audit and scrutiny of the returns is first made, no occasion may arise to initiate adjudication proceeding under Section 73 of the Act. Here, it has been emphasised, none of the present cases involve proceeding under Section 74 of the respective Acts. Then referring to the Prefatory note attached to TOLO, it has been submitted that amendment was made to the law, as a direct result of the spread of COVID-19. The Ordinance followed by the Act/TOLA were enacted merely to deal with the consequences arising from the spread of COVID-19, amongst other on the Central Act and the State Act.

64. While a general relaxation was granted under Section 3 of TOLO, with respect to Act Nos. 27 of 1957, 22 of 2021, 17 of 2013, 22 of 2015, 28 of 2016, 3 of 2020, the Central Act is conspicuous by its absence in that list of enactments appearing in Section 2(1)(a) of the TOLO. Insofar as the Central Act is concerned, TOLO/TOLA made special mention by incorporating Section 168A to the Central Act. Relying on the same, he would submit, there is a clear legislative understanding discernible from a plain reading of the said provision to deal with and provide differently all taxation and other laws in one way and the Central Act in another. In the Central Act, a separate section 168A, was incorporated.

65. Referring to the Explanation thereto, it has been submitted, the provisions of Constitution of India, he would submit, the Central Act and the State Act would take effect from the date to be recommended by the Council. Thus, in his submission, Constitution has given primacy to the Council in matters of Central Act and the State Act. Referring to the Resolution recorded in the 49th Meeting of the Council, a requirement was felt to further extend the limitation for reason of reduced staff, staggered timing and exemption to certain categories of employees from attending offices. This occurrence though referable to the period prior to the date of issuance of the impugned notifications., yet, that had led to much delays in processing of Annual Returns involving procedures of scrutiny and audits. That task could only be attempted after the COVID restrictions were lifted. By that time, not only the Annual Returns for F.Y. 2017-18 had been filed upon expiry of the extended last date but the last date to file the Annual Returns for the F.Y. 2018-19, 2019-20 and 2020-21 had also expired. Here, it may be noted, the last date of filing of the return for F.Y. 2017-18 was extended to 7.2.2020 (as noted above) whereas last date for filing returns for F.Y. 2019-20 and thereafter was never extended.

66. Then, it has been submitted, the earlier extension of time granted under Section 168A of the Act, that expired on 30.9.2022, was insufficient. The words - "due to force majeure" i.e. due to COVID-19 would also include within the plain meaning the after effects that spring directly from the occurrence of the spread of the pandemic COVID-19. Thus, Shri Mahajan has resisted the submissions advanced by learned counsel for the petitioners that the words - "due to force majeure" would refer to the period co-terminus with the spread of pandemic COVID-19. Since various Annual Returns had already been filed in the meantime and so to say life had moved on, multitude of transactions and work got piled in revenue offices. That piling of work and slow down of revenue activity was attributable directly to the COVID circumstance. Therefore, according to him, Section 168A of the Act enabled the Central and State governments to issue appropriate notifications, to deal with the situation that had been caused "due to force majeure". Other than the COVID-19 circumstance existing, due action would have been taken, at the relevant time. Thus, no other fact circumstance exists for the issuance of the impugned notifications. Here, he has also referred to the recommendation of the Law Committee noted in the Minutes of the 49th GST Council, taking note of such facts.

67. To buttress his submission, Shri Mahajan would submit, challenge has arisen in the context of legislative function and not an administrative action. So long as the delegate of the principal legislature was vested with the authority to issue the impugned notifications and insofar as relevant circumstances are clearly seen to exist - that prompted the exercise of delegated function and further inasmuch as the procedural requirements, of prior recommendation of the Council did exist, the test of reasonableness stands satisfied.

68. Here, he has referred to State of Tamil Nadu Vs. P. Krishnamurthy & Ors., (2006) 4 SCC 517 to submit that there exists a presumption in favour of constitutionality and validity of a subordinate legislation and the burden to prove otherwise remains on the challenger i.e. the petitioners before this Court. Further, as to the grounds on which subordinate legislation may be struck down, amongst others, it may be either for lack of legislative competence or violation of fundamental rights or violation of another statute or failure to conform to the statute or repugnancy to other laws of the land or manifest arbitrariness. In considering the challenge raised to the subordinate legislation, the Court may consider if the impugned subordinate legislation is directly consistent with the mandatory provisions of the statute under which it had been issued. But where the inconsistency or non-conformity is not with respect to any specific provision but the object and scheme of the parent Act, the Court would proceed with caution before reaching the conclusion of invalidity.

69. Therefore, in his submission, the action by the Central Government and the State Government in issuing the impugned notifications is to be examined in the context of the Central Act and the State Act. That inconsistency may not be reached solely on the strength of the language of Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act but by examining the context in which that section has been incorporated.

70. Referring to the Explanation of Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act, he would submit besides the specific circumstances enumerated therein of war, epidemic, flood, drought, cyclone and earthquake and other calamity caused by nature, a residuary clause exists to include an event that may otherwise affect of the implementation of any of the provisions of the Act. In his submission, the last appearing words in the Explanation enlarge the scope of applicability under Section 168A of the Act to other circumstances not attributable directly to unforeseen and clearly definable events identified as "force majeure" circumstance. Thus, disruption of the revenue functioning over a long period of time itself is a circumstance that may fall within the description "otherwise affected the implementation of the provisions of the Act" appearing in Section 168A of the Act. That discussion also exists in the minutes of the Council.

71. Resisting the submissions advanced by learned counsel for the petitioners of colourable exercise, reliance has been placed on All India Bank Officers Configuration Vs. Regional Manager, C.B.I., Neutral Citation (2024) INSC 389. It has thus been submitted, no colourable exercise may be attributed to State and Central Governments inasmuch as, Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act lays down the legislative policy but leaves the circumstance to be appreciated by the Executive - its delegate, to exercise that power on the existence of those circumstances. Thus essential legislative function cannot be described to have been left to the imagined appreciation of the Executive.

72. Reliance has been placed on Naresh Chand Agarwal Vs. Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, Neutral Citation 2024 INSC 94, to emphasize that the Court may first determine and consider the source of power which is relatable to the rule and second, it must determine the meaning of subordinate legislation itself. Finally, it must decide whether the subordinate legislation is consistent to the scope of power delegated. Then, relying on Reckitt Benckiser India Private Limited Vs. UOI (2024) GSTL 113 (Del), it has been submitted, the words - "with respect to" are similar to the words "in respect of" used under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act. Those are words of wide amplitude and thus the power delegated to the Central Government and the State Government under that provision of law must be interpreted to include ancillary, incidental and necessary matters. It may not be confined to the direct actions as propounded by learned counsel for the petitioners. Therefore, the words "in respect of" though used in conjunction with the words "actions" do not restrict the exercise of power under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act to pending adjudication proceedings, only. The circumstances would have to be looked at holistically i.e. in the scheme of the Act in which the adjudication proceedings may arise.

73. Thus, in the first place the legislature and its delegate were conscious of the fact that arising from COVID-19 circumstances, resulting in reduced staff at government offices with restricted timings and exemption to certain class of employees - all directly attributable to COVID-19 circumstance, scrutiny and audit of annual returns had been impeded. That work of scrutiny and audit being the necessary preparatory work before initiating adjudication, it cannot be gainsaid that the revenue authorities are at fault in not carrying out the audit and scrutiny during the period of complete lockdown or during the period of enforcement of the restrictions with respect to travel, office attendance and office timings. It also cannot be ignored that during the continuance of such measures Annual Returns for subsequent years also came to be filed. Hence, as a circumstance necessitating the exercise of legislative power under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act, sufficient material existed. In the context of challenge raised to a legislative action, the revenue authorities or the respondents may not be burdened to establish the exact volume of work that may have arisen or may have been pending on the date of issuance of the impugned notifications. Insofar as existence of circumstance cannot be disputed and its consequence is not denied, it cannot be said that the delegate had acted outside the scope or channel of delegation made under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act.

Directly on the issue, the Kerala High Court in Faizal Traders Pvt. Ltd. Vs. Deputy Commissioner Central Tax and Another, Neutral Citation: 2024 KER 10314 has repelled a similar challenge raised to the impugned notifications.

74. Last, Sri Mahajan has laid emphasis on the undeniable fact of the COVID-19 pandemic having spread in the country soon after expiry of the extended date of filing of Annual Return for the F.Y. 2017-18. Thus, according to him, no scrutiny or audit of Annual Return for the F.Y. 2017-18 may have taken place prior to the date of filing of Annual Return. In normal circumstance that would could have started soon after expiry of the last date being 07.2.2020. That work was completely disabled occasioned by the spread of the pandemic COVID-19. The lockdown itself was declared on 25.3.2020. It was followed by extreme measures taken by the Central Government under the Disaster Management Act, 2005 restricting the movement of citizens, curtailing their activities and resulting in staggered attendance at government offices with restricted timings and exemption to certain class of employees. Only minimum/necessary works were being performed at government offices, including by the revenue authorities. Therefore, the action taken by the Central and the State Governments/delegates is in conformity to the provisions of Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act. Sri Mahajan would submit, neither the Council nor the Government have acted mechanically.

75. Besides the discussion offered to the circumstances and the 'force majeure circumstance' and their consequences resulting in non-initiation/completion of the preliminary steps that were required to be undertaken before any valid adjudication may have arisen i.e. steps involving scrutiny and audit, both, the Council as well as the Central Government were mindful of the fact that such circumstance may only affect proceedings that may arise under Section 73 of the Act not involving allegations of fraud etc. Thus, contrary to the request of certain tax administrations to extend the time limits to initiate proceedings under Section 74 of the Central Act, the recommendation made by the Council and the action taken by the Central Government were to deny that request. Extension of limitation was granted only to actions contemplated in Section 73 of the Act i.e. proceedings arising from filing of regular Annual Returns and proceedings as may arise upon due scrutiny and audit of such returns. Since, in the opinion of the Council as found approval of the Central Government, only those proceedings had been obstructed for reasons beyond the control of the revenue authorities upon spread of pandemic COVID-19, that extension was granted. Even there the recommendation makes it plain that the same would be done by way of one last measure. Therefore, the tax administrations were impliedly advised to act with diligence or face consequence of adjudication proceedings (under Section 73) being rendered time barred.

76. Sri S.P. Singh learned Additional Solicitor General of India assisted by Sri N.C. Gupta appearing for the Union of India has additionally submitted that the Supreme Court in re:Cognizance for extension of limitation (supra) had clearly provided that the period 15.3.2020-28.2.2022 would stand excluded for the purposes of limitation that may be prescribed under any general or special law in respect of judicial and quasi judicial proceedings. Therefore, though it may not be completely wrong on part of the learned counsel for the petitioners to contend that the own appreciation of the CBIC remained that the said order was not applicable to adjudication proceedings inasmuch as by separate circular issued, that position of fact was stated by the CBIC, at the same time it can never be denied that as a fact, the period 15.3.2020-28.2.2022 was a period of disability suffered by the judicial and quasi judicial authorities. Read strictly, no appeal or other proceeding before a judicial or quasi judicial authority could ever be rendered time barred for reason of the limitation of time having expired during that disabling period 15.3.2020-28.2.2022. That judicial notice having been taken by the highest Court of the land and it having been thus recognised that no judicial or quasi judicial proceeding could be conducted for reason of disablement occasioned by spread of the pandemic COVID-19, the similar appreciation made by the Council while making a recommendation though couched differently, cannot be faulted for the reasons and circumstances pressed by the petitioners. In the present case, the period during which a scrutiny or audit or adjudication may have arisen for F.Y. 2017-18, began on 08.2.2022. Barely a month thereafter it got disabled, on 15.3.2020. It remained disabled till 28.2.2022. He has also referred to and relied on the decision of the Supreme Court in Dhanrajamal (supra) and Super Agrotech Ltd. Vs. State of U.P. and Others, (2006) 9 SCC 203. Also, he has relied on the decision of the Supreme Court in Vivek Narayan Sharma and Others Vs. Union of India and Others (2023) 3 SCC 1 to rely on the principle that a judicial review being claimed may not extend to test the fairness of the decision but only to the manner in which it may have been taken. Decisions that arise on consideration of numerous factors may never be tested on the merits of the decision made.

77. Last, it has been submitted that the impugned notifications are not original. Those are notifications to modify the principal notification being Notification Nos. 35/2020 dated 03.4.2020 and 445 dated 11.5.2020. Only because the time extension granted by the original notifications required revision/enhancement, the impugned notifications came to be issued. The petitioners having failed to raise any challenge to the original notifications, they may never be heard to challenge the modification notifications.

78. Sri Nimai Das learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel appearing for the State Government has also relied on the decision in Vivek Narayan (supra). Then referring to the words of the legislature "due to force majeure" he has laid great emphasis that the legislative words do not indicate or contain a legislative policy limiting the delegate i.e. Central or the State Government to act only during the subsistence of a 'force majeure' circumstance. According to him, the Explanation to Section 168A itself makes it plain that contrary to the submissions advanced, the legislative intent never required the delegate to act during the occurrence of 'force majeure'. By very nature an earthquake may last only for a few seconds or minutes. It may never last for even an hour, in continuation. Therefore, it would be wholly impossible to issue a notification during that short occurrence that too after the recommendation of the Council in that short time. If issued for that duration, it would be of no use. In his submission, the words "due to force majeure" clearly refer to the after-effects of a 'force majeure' occurrence whether epidemic or earthquake or cyclone. Those being acts over which humans may have no control, yet carry potential to disrupt human activity for an indefinite period of time, depending upon place, time, intensity and duration of their occurrence, the after effects caused by such occurrences would remain a circumstance to be considered by the legislative body. To the extent the principal legislature has delegated that evaluation/function to the Central and the State Governments and the issuance of the impugned notifications had been made upon the recommendation made by the Council, no defect may be found.

79. He has also referred to the advisory issued by the World Health Organisation dated 05.5.2023. Though that document is not part of the case record, it has been submitted, the issuance of that document cannot be denied. He would thus submit, the World Health Organisation first declared the pandemic COVID-19, not a Global Health Emergency, as late as on 05.5.2023. Therefore, the contention advanced by learned counsel for the petitioners that the COVID-19 circumstance came to an end in the year 2022, has been resisted. He would submit, it has clearly recognised that the COVID-19 pandemic and the circumstances arising therefrom continued to exist till May 2023.

80. As to the submission advanced by Sri Nishant Mishra that the impugned notification (by the State Government), was not issued on the strength of the recommendation made by the Council, that has been objected. In his submission, that Notification was also issued on the strength of the recommendation of the Council.

81. Then referring to the period of disruption recognised by the Supreme Court being 15.3.2020-28.2.2022 which is 01 year 11 months and 15 days, it has been submitted, if that period is to be excluded from the period of limitation that was otherwise available to the revenue authorities to pass adjudication orders for the F.Y. 2017-18 and that period were to be added to the normal period of limitation that existed from the date 07.2.2020 (last date of filing of return) for F.Y. 2017-18, the time limitation to make adjudication order for the F.Y. 2017-18 would exist practically upto 22.1.2025. The impugned notifications only seek to extend that limitation upto 31.12.2023 i.e. the extended period of limitation is short by one year than may otherwise be availed on the principle recognised by the Supreme Court.

82. Sri Ankur Agarwal learned Standing Counsel has laid great emphasis on the decision of the Supreme Court in Vivek Narayan (supra) to submit that the scope of judicial review has to be kept confined within the well recognised parameters of law. Neither, the Courts may interfere in policy decisions generally nor the Courts may seek to venture to sit in judgment over economic policy matters. If the action is not palpably arbitrary, the same may never be interfered. As to the palpable arbitrariness, it has been submitted, there is none. The desirable extension of time is per se not measurable. It is a matter of perception. Individual petitioners may only remain concerned with their individual facts. They neither have the role to make an overall assessment nor they may have the capacity to make that consideration. Consideration to extension of limitation is essentially a legislative policy decision. Insofar as it is not the case of the petitioners, that there existed no material whatsoever and insofar as it cannot be denied that the extension of time limitation was granted in the context of COVID-19 circumstance, there is no palpable arbitrariness in the action taken by the respondents. He would further contend that the World Health Organisation declared the end of Global Health Emergency, after issuance of the impugned notifications. Therefore, upto that time, material existed of continuance of the pandemic COVID-19.

83. Before we proceed to deal with the submissions advanced, it would be useful to take note of relevant provisions of the statutory law, notifications and statutory actions, relevant to the dispute brought before us, as they existed at the relevant time. First, Section 44 (1) of the Central Act and State Act read as below:

"Section 44 (1) Annual Return

(1) Every registered person other than an Input Service Distributor, a person paying tax under section 51 or section 52, a casual taxable person and a non-resident taxable person, shall furnish an annual return for every financial year electronically in such form and manner as may be prescribed on or before the thirty-first day of December following the end of such financial year.

Provided that the Commissioner may, on the recommendations of the Council and for reasons to be recorded in writing, by notification, extend the time limit for furnishing the annual return for such class of registered persons as may be specified therein:

Provided further that any extension of time limit notified by the Commissioner of State tax or the Commissioner of Union territory tax shall be deemed to be notified by the Commissioner.

84. Notification No.6 of 2020 dated 03.02.2020 issued by CBIC and Notification No.509 dated 05.02.2020 issued by the Commissioner Commercial Tax, extended the last date of filing of Annual Return for FY 2017-18 for the State of U.P., to 07.02.2020. Then, Section 73 of the Central Act and the State Act (1), (2) (9) (10) reads as below:

Section 73 - Determination of tax not paid or short paid or erroneously refunded or input tax credit wrongly availed or utilised for any reason other than fraud or any wilful-misstatement or suppression of facts

(1) Where it appears to the proper officer that any tax has not been paid or short paid or erroneously refunded, or where input tax credit has been wrongly availed or utilised for any reason, other than the reason of fraud or any wilful-misstatement or suppression of facts to evade tax, he shall serve notice on the person chargeable with tax which has not been so paid or which has been so short paid or to whom the refund has erroneously been made, or who has wrongly availed or utilised input tax credit, requiring him to show cause as to why he should not pay the amount specified in the notice along with interest payable thereon under section 50 and a penalty leviable under the provisions of this Act or the rules made thereunder.

(2) The proper officer shall issue the notice under sub-section (1) at least three months prior to the time limit specified in sub-section (10) for issuance of order…..

(9) The proper officer shall, after considering the representation, if any, made by person chargeable with tax, determine the amount of tax, interest and a penalty equivalent to ten per cent of tax or ten thousand rupees, whichever is higher, due from such person and issue an order.

(10) The proper officer shall issue the order under sub-section (9) within three years from the due date for furnishing of annual return for the financial year to which the tax not paid or short paid or input tax credit wrongly availed or utilised relates to or within three years from the date of erroneous refund.

85. The Prefatory note appended to TOLO reads as below:

Taxation and Other Laws (Relaxation of Certain Provisions) Ordinance, 2020

(No. 2 of 2020)

Promulgated by the President in the Seventy-first Year of the Republic of India.

An Ordinance to provide relaxation in the provisions of certain Acts and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto.

WHEREAS, in view of the spread of pandemic COVID-19 across many countries of the world including India, causing immense loss to the lives of people, it has become imperative to relax certain provisions, including extension of time limit, in the taxation and other laws.

AND WHEREAS, Parliament is not in session and the President is satisfied that circumstances exist which render it necessary for him to take immediate action;

Now therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by clause (1) of article 123 of the Constitution, the President is pleased to promulgate the following Ordinance:-

86. Since provisions of TOLO & TOLA are pari-materia, for the sake of brevity, the provisions of Section 7 of TOLA read as below:

7. After section 168 of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017, the following section shall be inserted, namely:

168A. Power of Government to extend time limit in special circumstances:

(1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the Government may, on the recommendations of Council, by notification, extend the time limit specified in, or prescribed or notified under, this Act in respect of actions which cannot be completed of complied with due to force majeure.

(2) The power to issue notification under sub-section (1) shall include the power to give retrospective effect to such notification from a date not earlier than the date of commencement of this Act.

Explanation-For the purposes of this section, the expression "force majeure" means a case of war, epidemic, flood, drought, fire, cyclone, earthquake or any other calamity caused by nature or otherwise affecting the implementation of any of the provisions of this Act.

87. The final order passed by the Supreme Court in Re: Cognizance for Extension of Limitation (supra) (paragraph nos.1, 2 5 and 6) reads as below.

(1). In March, 2020, this Court took Suo Motu cognizance of the difficulties that might be faced by the litigants in filing petitions/ applications/suits/ appeals/all other quasi proceedings within the period of limitation prescribed under the general law of limitation or under any special laws (both Central and/or State) due to the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic.

(2) On 23.03.2020, this Court directed extension of the period of limitation in all proceedings before Courts/Tribunals including this Court w.e.f. 15.03.2020 till further orders. On 08.03.2021, the order dated 23.03.2020 was brought to an end, permitting the relaxation of period of limitation between 15.03.2020 and 14.03.2021. While doing so, it was made clear that the period of limitation would start from 15.03.2021.....

5. Taking into consideration the arguments advanced by learned counsel and the impact of the surge of the virus on public health and adversities faced by litigants in the prevailing conditions, we deem it appropriate to dispose of the M.A. No. 21 of 2022 with the following directions:

I. The order dated 23.03.2020 is restored and in continuation of the subsequent orders dated 08.03.2021, 27.04.2021 and 23.09.2021, it is directed that the period from 15.03.2020 till 28.02.2022 shall stand excluded for the purposes of limitation as may be prescribed under any general or special laws in respect of all judicial or quasi- judicial proceedings.

II. Consequently, the balance period of limitation remaining as on 03.10.2021, if any, shall become available with effect from 01.03.2022.

III. In cases where the limitation would have expired during period between 15.03.2020 till 28.02.2022 notwithstanding the actual balance period of limitation remaining, all persons shall have a limitation period of 90 days from 01.03.2022. In the event the actual balance period of limitation remaining, with effect from 01.03.2022 is greater than 90 days, that longer period shall apply.

IV. It is further clarified that the period from 15.03.2020 till 28.02.2022 shall also stand excluded in computing the periods prescribed under Sections 23 (4) and 29A of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996, Section 12A of the Commercial Courts Act, 2015 and provisos (b) and (c) of Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 and any other laws, which prescribe period(s) of limitation for instituting proceedings, outer limits (within which the court or tribunal can condone delay) and termination of proceedings.

6. As prayed for by learned Senior Counsel, M.A. No. 29 of 2022 is dismissed as withdrawn"

88. At the same time, first extensions of time were provided invoking the general power to remove difficulties, enacted under Section 172 of the Central Act and the State Act. However, those extensions were granted arising from different circumstances namely, teething problems faced by all stake holders upon introduction of Central Act and the State Act. We find those are not relevant. Therefore, no reference is being made to the same.

89. Acting under the new provision - Section 168A of the Act, the first action emerged by issuance of Notification No. 35 of 2020 dated 03.04.2020 by the Central Government and a parallel/pari materia Notification No. 445 dated 11.05.2020 issued by the State Government. For ready reference, we extract the relevant portion of the Notification No. 35 of 2020. It reads as below :

"Notification-GST-Central GST (CGST) MINISTRY OF FINANCY
(Department of Revenue)
(CENTRAL BOARD OF INDIRECT TAXES AND CUSTOMS)

NOTIFICATION No. 35/2020-Central Tax
"New Delhi, the 3rd April, 2020

G.S.R. 235(E). In exercise of the powers conferred by section 168A of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (12 of 2017) (hereafter in this notification referred to as the said Act), read with section 20 of the integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (13 of 2017), and section 21 of Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (14 of 2017), in view of the spread of pandemic COVID-19 across many countries of the world including India, the Government, on the recommendations of the Council, hereby notifies, as under,-

(i) where, any time limit for completion or compliance of any action, by any authority or by any person, has been specified in, or prescribed or notified under the said Act, which falls during the period from the 20th day of March, 2020 to the [30th day of August, 2020], and where completion or compliance of such action has not been made within such time, then, the time limit for completion or compliance of such action, shall be extended up to the [31st day of August, 2020], including for the purposes of –

(a) completion of any proceeding or passing of any order or issuance of any notice, intimation, notification, sanction or approval or such other action, by whatever name called, by any authority, commission or tribunal, by whatever name called, under the provisions of the Acts stated above; or

(b) filing of any appeal, reply or application or furnishing of any report, document, return, statement or such other record, by whatever name called, under the provisions of the Acts stated above;

but, such extension of time shall not be applicable for the compliances of the provisions of the said Act, as mentioned below-

(a) Chapter IV;

(b) sub-section (3) of section 10, sections 25, 27, 31, 37, 47, 50, 69, 90, 122, 129;

(c) section 39, except sub-section (3), (4) and (5);

(d) section 68, in so far as e-way bill is concerned; and

(e) rules made under the provisions specified at clause (a) to (d) above;"

90. Then, action was taken under the new law vide issuance of Notification No. 14 of 2021 dated 01.05.2021 issued by the Central Government and a parallel/pari materia Notification No. 496 dated 28.06.2021 issued by the State Government.

91. Thereafter, the following agenda item arose at the 47th Meeting of the GST Council held on 28/29 June 2020.

"1. Section 73 of the CGST Act, 2017 provides that the proper officer shall issue the order demanding any tax that has not been paid or short paid or erroneously refunded, or where input tax credit has been wrongly availed or utilised for any reason, other than the reason of fraud or any wilful misstatement or suppression of facts to evade tax, within three years from the due date for furnishing of annual return for the financial year to which the tax not paid or short paid or input tax credit wrongly availed or utilised relates to or within three years from the date of erroneous refund.

2.1 Some of the members of the Law Committee highlighted the problem being faced by the taxpayers as well as tax administration in respect of demands and refunds getting time barred due to long period of lockdown/restrictions on account of Covid-19 pandemic. A request was made to consider extension of timelines in respect of proceedings under:

i. Section 73 and 74

ii. Section 54 and 55

2.2 The issue was deliberated by the Law Committee in its meeting held on 11.04.2022 and 07.05.2022. The Law Committee observed that centre as well as state governments were working with reduced staff, along with staggered timings and exemption to certain categories of employees from attending offices, from time to time during COVID period. Further, it was a conscious policy decision not to do enforcement actions in the initial period of implementation of GST law, thereby no action for scrutiny, audit etc. could be undertaken during initial period of GST implementation. Since the due date of filing Annual Return for FY 2017-18 was 5th/7th February, 2020, based on which limitations for demand under the Act are linked, and since the onset of COVID happened immediately after that, thereby, audit and scrutiny for FY 2017-18 were impeded due to various restrictions during COVID period.

2.3 The Law Committee, accordingly, recommended that limitation under section 73 for FY 2017-18 for issuance of order in respect of demand linked with due date of annual return, may be extended till 30th September, 2023 under the powers available under section 168A of CGST Act. Law Committee further took a view that no such extension is required for timelines under section 74 of the Act, as the Act provides for sufficient limitation time of 5 years in respect of such cases, i.e. much beyond the period affected by COVID-19.

2.4 Law Committee also observed that taxpayers may also have faced difficulties in timely filing of the refund claims during the COVID period. Besides, the tax officers were also hampered in issuing SCN during COVID period, in respect of erroneous refunds sanctioned. Therefore, the Law Committee also recommended that time period from 01.03.2020 to 28.02.2022 may be excluded from the limitation period for filing refund claim by an applicant under section 54 and 55 of CGST Act, as well as for issuance of order / demand in respect of erroneous refunds under section 73, by exercising power under section 168A of CGST Act.

3. A draft notification under section 168A of CGST Act, as per the above recommendations of the Law Committee, is placed at Annexure A.

4. In view of the above, the agenda, along with the draft notification, is placed before the GST Council for deliberation and approval."

92. The third action taken under Section 168A of the Act was witnessed by issuance of Notification No. 13 of 2022 dated 05.07.2022 issued by the Central Government and Notification No. 596 dated 21.07.2022 issued by the State Government. Again those are pari materia. For ready reference, we take note of the contents of Notification No. 13 of 2022. It reads as below :

"GOVERNMENT OF INDIA
MINISTRY OF FINANCE
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE
CENTRAL BOARD OF INDIRECT TAXES AND CUSTOMS
NOTIFICATION No. 13/2022-Central Tax

"New Delhi, the 5th July, 2022

G.S.R.....(E).- In exercise of the powers conferred by section 168A of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (12 of 2017) (hereinafter referred to as the said Act) read with section 20 of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (13 of 2017) and section 21 of the Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (14 of 2017) and in partial modification of the notifications of the Government of India in the Ministry of Finance (Department of Revenue), No. 35/2020-Central Tax, dated the 3rd April, 2020, published in the Gazette of India,

Extraordinary, Part II, Section 3, Sub-section (i), vide number G.S.R. 235(E), dated the 3rd April, 2020 and No. 14/2021-Central Tax, dated the 1st May, 2021, published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, Part II, Section 3, Sub-section (i), vide number G.S.R. 310(E), dated the 1st May, 2021, the Government, on the recommendations of the Council, hereby,-

(i) extends the time limit specified under sub-section (10) of section 73 for issuance of order under subsection (9) of section 73 of the said Act, for recovery of tax not paid or short paid or of input tax credit wrongly availed or utilized, in respect of a tax period for the financial year 2017-18, up to the 30th day of September, 2023;

(ii) excludes the period from the 1st day of March, 2020 to the 28th day of February, 2022 for computation of period of limitation under sub-section (10) of section 73 of the said Act for issuance of order under subsection (9) of section 73 of the said Act, for recovery of erroneous refund;

(iii) excludes the period from the 1st day of March, 2020 to the 28th day of February, 2022 for computation of period of limitation for filing refund application under section 54 or section 55 of the said Act.

2. This notification shall be deemed to have come into force with effect from the 1st day of March, 2020."

93. Taking note of the interim order passed by the Supreme Court during the pendency of that matter, and the suspension of limitation provided therein, the CBIC issued Circular No. 157/13/21-GST dated 20.07.2022. After taking note of the order dated 27.04.2021, it records that legal opinion was sought and period of extension of limitation under Section 168A was considered. Based on that opinion, it was observed as below :

"On the basis of the legal opinion, it is hereby clarified that various actions/compliances under GST can be broadly categorised as follows :-

(a) Proceedings that need to be initiated or compliances that need to be done by the taxpayers :- These actions would continue to be governed only by the statutory mechanism and time limit provided/extensions granted under the statute itself. Various Orders of the Hon'ble Supreme Court would not apply to the said proceedings/compliances on part of the taxpayers.

(b) Quasi-Judicial proceedings by tax authorities :- The tax authorities can continue to hear and dispose off proceedings where they are performing the functions as quasi-judicial authority. This may interalia include disposal of application for refund, application for revocation of cancellation of registration, adjudication proceedings of demand notices, etc. Similarly, appeals which are filed and are pending, can continue to be heard and disposed off and the same will be governed by those extensions of time granted by the statutes or notifications, if any.

(c) Appeals by taxpayers/tax authorities against any quasi-judicial order *:- Wherever any appeal is required to be filed before Joint/Additional Commissioner (Appeals), Commissioner (Appeals), Appellate Authority for Advance Ruling, Tribunal and various courts against any quasi-judicial order or where a proceeding for revision or rectification of any order is required to be undertaken, the time line fo*r the same would stand extended as per the Hon'ble Supreme Court's order.

5. In other words, the extension of timelines granted by Hon'ble Supreme Court vide its Order dated 27.04.2021 is applicable in respect of any appeal which is required to be filed before Joint/Additional Commissioner (Appeals), Commissioner (Appeals), Appellate Authority for Advance Ruling, Tribunal and various courts against any quasi-judicial order or where proceeding for revision or rectification of any order is required to be undertaken, and is not applicable to any other proceedings under Central Act and the State Act."

94. The fourth action witnessed upon enforcement of Section 168A and the one which is impugned in these proceedings arose pursuant to the 49th Meeting of the Council held on 29.02.2023. In that at agenda item 4(vii), the following discussion emerged:

"5.7 Principal Commissioner: (GSTPW) informed that there have been requests from tax administrations for further extension of time limit under Section 73 of CGST Act for issuance of Show Cause Notices (SCN) and Orders for financial year 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20, considering that the scrutiny and audit were delayed because of Covid-19 pandemic. He informed that the issue was discussed by the Law Committee and it was observed that earlier, such extension was given for the F.Y. 2017-18. It was felt by the Law Committee that while there may be a need to provide additional time to the officers to issue notices and pass orders for FY 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20 considering the delay in scrutiny, assessment and audit work due to COVID-19 restrictions, however, the same need to be made in a manner such that there is no bunching of last dates for these financial years as well as for the subsequent financial years. After detailed deliberations, Law Committee recommended that such time limits may be extended for another three months each for the FY 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20. It was discussed in detail in officers meeting where one view was that extension for FY 2017-18 had already been given and further extension may create a perception that it is not a tax friendly measure and against the interest of taxpayers.

5.7.1 The Secretary stated that the Law Committee has recommended the extension of time limit for issuance of SCN and orders. However, the time period for issuance of notices and passing orders for these financial years has already been extended considerably due to extension in due dates of filing annual returns for the said financial years. Further, for FY 2017-18, the date of passing order has already been extended till September 2023. It has been proposed to extend it further from September 2023 to December 2023. He mentioned that while the request of some of the tax administrations was to extend the time limit for a longer period, however, keeping the taxpayers' interest in mind, the Law committee has recommended an extension of only three months for these three financial years. Since all the States have agreed, the said time limits could be extended.

5.7.2 Hon'ble Member from Bihar stated that while this proposal could be considered, however, it should be decided that such an extension in timelines for these financial years under sub-section (10) of section 73 of CGST Act is being made for the last time.

The Council agreed with the recommendation of the Law Committee made in agenda item 4(vii), along with the proposed notification."

95. Consequently, the Central Government issued the impugned Notification No. 9 of 2023 dated 31.3.2023 and the State Government issued impugned Notification No. 519 dated 24.4.2023. They are pari materia. In material part, Notification No. 9 of 2023 reads as below:

"GOVERNMENT OF INDIA
MINISTRY OF FINANCE

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE
CENTRAL BOARD OF INDIRECT TAXES AND CUSTOMS
New Delhi: 31.03.2023

Notification No. 09/2023 - Central Tax

S.0.1564(E). In exercise of the powers conferred by section 168A of the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (12 of 2017) (hereinafter referred to as the said Act) read with section 20 of the Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (13 of 2017), and section 21 of the Union territory Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (14 of 2017) and in partial modification of the notifications of the Government of India, Ministry of Finance (Department of Revenue), No. 35/2020-Central Tax, dated the 3rd April, 2020 published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, Part II, Section 3, Sub-section (i), vide number G.S.R. 235(E), dated the 3rd April, 2020 and No. 14/2021-Central Tax, dated the 1st May, 2021 published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, Part II, Section 3, Sub-section (1), vide number G.S.R. 310(E), dated the 1st May, 2021 and No. 13/2022-Central Tax, dated the 5th July, 2022, published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, Part II, Section 3, Sub-section (i), vide number G.S.R. 516(E), dated the 5th July, 2022, the Government, on the recommendations of the Council, hereby, extends the time limit specified under sub-section (10) of section 73 for issuance of order under sub-section (9) of section 73 of the said Act, for recovery of tax not paid or short paid or of input tax credit wrongly availed or utilised, relating to the period as specified below, namely:-

(1) for the financial year 2017-18, up to the 31st day of December, 2023;

(ii) for the financial year 2018-19, up to the 31st day of March, 2024;

(iii) for the financial year 2019-20, up to the 30th day of June, 2024.

96. Coming to the submissions, we note, broadly the submissions have been advanced as to the validity of the action taken. Though worded differently by two Senior counsel for the petitioners, principally, it has been contended, the Central Government and the State Government could not have acted independent to the conditions of the delegation made under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act. To the extent the nature of power vested thereunder is concerned, we find ourselves in agreement with the principle that the said sections provide for conditional legislation to arise at the hands of the delegate of the principal legislature i.e. the Central Government and/or the State Government.

97. Also, as to the submission that the said provision authorizes the delegate to act in special circumstances and not by way of general power to be exercised to remove difficulty, we find ourselves in agreement with that submission advanced by learned counsel for the petitioners. Thus, in contrast to Section 172 of the Central Act and the State Act, powers under Section 168A of the Act, may be exercised:

(i) On the recommendation made by the Council;

(ii) By issuance of notification to extend the time limitation specified or prescribed or notified under the Central Act and the State Act;

(iii) In respect of actions which cannot be completed or complied,

(iv) Due to "force majeure".

98. As to the nature of "force majeure", the Explanation to the said section offers an inclusive definition namely - war, epidemic, flood, drought, fire, cyclone, earthquake or any other calamity caused by the nature. The words "otherwise affected" take colour from the terms and expressions appearing earlier.

99. In addition to the four conditions noted in the preceding paragraph, the Explanation also suggests that the power may be exercised in a situation where in the presence of a "force majeure" circumstance, the implementation of any of the provisions of Central Act and the State Act may have been impaired, to the extent it may necessitate extension of time limits, referred to Section 168A(1) of the Act.

100. Tested on the above principle, as a fact, the recommendation of the Council to issue the impugned notifications - to extend the time limit, exist. Also, the occurrence of the "force majeure" circumstance i.e. epidemic COVID-19 is undisputed. Therefore, it is required to be considered is whether:

(i) that power was exercised in respect of actions which could not be "completed or complied" and,

(ii) due to "force majeure".

101. The action with respect to which the challenge has arisen is issuance of adjudication notices under Section 73(2) of the Central Act and the State Act and passing of orders under Section 73(9) of the Central Act and the State Act. Clearly, for both purposes, limitation of time prescription exists inasmuch as adjudication order is required to be passed within three years from the last date of filing of an Annual Return. Also, with respect to issuance of show cause notice, Section 73(2) requires such notice to be issued at least three months prior to expiry of time limitation to pass the adjudication order. Therefore, by way of a special power vested under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act, the Central Government and the State Government were authorized to issue necessary notifications.

102. The submission advanced by learned Senior counsel and other counsel for the petitioners that since adjudication notices were not issued, the period of limitation never started running and that there was no requirement to conduct scrutiny or audit/before issuance of those and therefore, the revenue authorities were not disabled from conducting that exercise, requires serious consideration.

103. In the first place, the powers under Section 168A of the Act is legislative and not an administrative power. While submissions have been advanced by some of learned counsel for the petitioners suggesting, the power under Section 168A of the Act was an administrative or executive power, at the same time, as submitted by Sri Mahajan, there can be no doubt as to the true nature of that power. Prescription of limitation to perform an action is a pure legislative function. In absence of any doubt thereto, the extension of limitation prescribed by law also remains legislative. The power to condone delay may be granted both to the executive and the judicial bodies, at the same time, the prescription in law, as to limitation remains exclusively, a legislative function.

104. Seen in that light, discretion existed with the principal legislature to prescribe such limitation as it may have considered proper. In fact, it is the submission advanced by some of the learned counsel for the petitioners that if the prescription of limitation is provided by the impugned notification had been made by the principal legislature, there may not have arisen any valid challenge thereto.

105. Therefore, the narrow compass in which the present issue is to be examined is: if the delegation made is uncanalised and/or if the delegate had acted contrary to the conditions and stipulations of the principal legislation. On the first issue, there is no doubt. In fact, it is the submission of Shri Praveen Kumar and learned Senior counsel and the other counsel for the petitioners that the principal legislature has laid down strict conditions for exercise of special powers to extend the limitation. As to the second issue, we need to examine the manner in which such extension may have been granted.

106. The occurrence of the pandemic COVID-19 is an admitted fact. Further, arising therefrom, Re:Cognizance for Extension of Limitation (supra), the Supreme Court took cognizance of that occurrence and relaxed the period of limitation (in all), beginning 15.03.2020 to 28.02.2022. Besides, consideration of the same also exists in the minutes of meeting of the Council at its 47th meeting dated 28-29.06.2022 and at its 49th meeting dated 18.02.2023. The agenda item at those meeting has also been relied by all learned counsel. In the minutes of the 47th meeting of the Council, it had been clearly noted that the scrutiny and audit of Annual Returns for F.Ys. 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20 was delayed because of "COVID-19 pandemic". Then, those minutes further record "considering the delay in scrutiny, assessment and audit work due to COVID-19 restrictions", it was desired to avoid "bunching" of last dates for those three Financial Years. On that consideration, the Law Committee recommended to the Council for appropriate time extensions for the F.Ys. 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20. The Law Committee further took note of the concern expressed that such extension may not be a "tax-friendly" measure and may work against tax payers. The Council further took note of the fact that by virtue of earlier extensions granted, time stipulation had been considerably extended. Thereafter, all States/Member of participants of the Council agreed to the time extension for three months for the three Financial Years. Accordingly, the Council accepted the recommendation and proposed the draft notification.

107. That recommendation and issuance of the consequent notification, are not under challenge. It appears, another request arose before the Council for another time extension to be granted with respect to proceedings contemplated under Section 73 of the Central Act and the State Act, for the F.Ys. 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20. In that regard, the discussion at the 49th meeting of the Council further reveals - representations had arisen before the Council from some tax administrations, seeking further extension of timelines. The basis for such representations have been noted in the minutes as "difficulties were faced by the government department during COVID period", (i) due to reduced staff; (ii) staggered timing; (iii) exemption to certain categories of employees and; (iv) leading to delay in process of scrutiny and audit. For those reasons, it was represented to the Council that the proper functioning could arise only after COVID restrictions, were lifted. Further, it was represented that the earlier time extension granted was not sufficient, specifically considering the delay in scrutiny and audit process.

108. Upon that representation and its consideration, the Law Committee vide its meeting dated 8.2.2023 opined that it may not be desirable to extend the timelines as may lead to "bunching" of last dates of issuance of Show Cause Notices and passing of orders under Section 73 of the Act. At the same time, the Law Committee formed an opinion favourable to grant a limited extension of time. Accordingly, time extensions were granted for F.Y. 2017-18 up to 31.12.2023, for F.Y. 2018-19 up to 31.03.2024 and for F.Y. 2019-20 up to 30.06.20204.

109. Thus, in the context of a conditional legislative function exercised by the Central Government and the State Government on the recommendation made by its expert i.e., Council, we find it difficult to hold that there was no application of mind by the delegate in issuing the impugned Notifications. The material existed as has been discussed above. The application of mind is writ large on the face of the agenda and minutes relied by learned counsel for the petitioners and admitted to the respondents.

110. Once we have held that issuance of the time extension application was a legislative function and there existed material and due deliberation/consideration over/of to that material, before the legislative function was performed, the first condition of existence of circumstances for exercise of the said power described as conditional legislation, stood fulfilled. Therefore, the ratio of the decision of the Supreme Court in Mohit Minerals Private Limited (supra) is also of no avail. By way of principle it may not be doubted that the recommendations of the Council remained persuasive. The Central Government and the State Government were not duty bound to conform thereto. However, in absence of any fact shown to exist, the Central Government and the State Government have exercised their conditional legislative function in accordance with law. No palpable illegality or arbitrariness has been shown to exist as may warrant any deeper examination by the Court.

111. Next, we have to examine, if that consideration was enough and if it satisfied any further test laid down in Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act. Here, we are unable to accept the submission advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner that there were mere difficulties faced by the revenue authorities in conducting scrutiny and audit. The period 15.03.2020 to 28.02.2022 remains the darkest period of our recent past, arising after the second World War. No calamity of equal magnitude has disrupted human life since then. In the context of a global village, that our world has become, the pandemic COVID-19 disrupted all human activities across all continents and left no strata of the society, organisation or institution or other entity, unaffected over a long duration of time. The full impact of the COVID-19 is still to be assessed.

112. Then, directly material to our discussion before the Council it had been specifically represented to provide for suitable extensions of time keeping in mind the fact that the scrutiny and audit work with respect to Annual Returns for the F.Ys. 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20 could not be done for reason of reduced working staff, staggered timings and exemptions granted to various category of employees, to attend office establishments, during the spread of the pandemic COVID-19. It was specifically included through the agenda item material that no action for scrutiny and audit etc. could be undertaken during the initial period of the GST implementation. That recital may not be cited as a self-disabling act of the revenue authorities. It is undisputed to the petitioners that the last date of filing of Annual Return for the F.Y. 2017-18 was extended up to 7.2.2020. Consequently, no scrutiny or audit for the F.Y. 2017-18 may have been (effectively) undertaken, before that day. That function may have arisen only within a reasonable time thereafter.

113. As to the construction of reasonable time, in the context of the legislative policy providing for a three year time (to frame an adjudication order), from the last date of filing of Annual Return and further keeping in mind the legislative policy providing for issuance of Show Cause Notice up to two years and nine months from the last date of filing of Annual Return, that reasonable period of time extended up to November, 2022.

114. While the order of the Supreme Court in Re : Cognizance for Extension of Limitation (supra) may not per se apply to an adjudication proceeding and it is not the case of the respondents that they claim direct benefit of that relaxation of limitation granted for the period 15.03.2020 to 28.02.2022, at the same time, we must remember that judicial notice was taken of the disabling events triggered by the spread of the pandemic COVID-19, by the highest Court of the land. That judicial recognition of that fact, was commonly known to all, itself is irrebuttable evidence of both - the extent of disablement and the length of time for which such disablement continued to exist, unabated. In face of that recognition and established truth, no use or purpose may be served in offering any deliberation. Therefore, we conclude, the revenue authorities were visited with a circumstance that was not of their making. It was not a mere difficulty of the usual kind. It was not a wholly temporary or transient impairment caused to their functioning. Beginning 15.03.2020, it had disabled the working of the revenue authorities, over a long period, occasioned by a 'force majeure' circumstance..

115. The decision in S. Kasi (supra) is of no application to the present facts in view of distinction arising on the own strength of language of Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act. Similarly the decision of the Jharkhand High Court in M/s Rungta Mines Ltd. (supra) is also of no application for the same reason. Though in that case the issue involved was with respect to adjudication and re-assessment proceedings under Jharkhand VAT Act, the opinion in that case is confined to the direct applicability of the order passed by the Supreme Court in Re: Cognizance for Extension of Limitation (supra).

116. It is equally admitted and undeniable to the petitioners that the time kept ticking and hard as the times were and despite continuance of the extreme circumstances and disablement accompanying, caused by COVID-19, life moved on. Economic activity was witnessed. Businesses continued to exist, resulting in Monthly and Annual Returns being filed both for the entire duration of time through which COVID-19 pandemic spread (in waves), and continued to disable human activity. Thus, Annual Returns came to be filed for the subsequent F.Ys. 2018-19 and 2019-20 as well. All such returns remained subject to scrutiny and audit. It is that volume of work that has been taken note of and considered in the 47th and 49th meetings of the Council. With reference to that work, legislative decisions have been made, in the backdrop of the disruption caused by the pandemic COVID-19.

117. Also, we are also unable to accept the submission advanced by learned counsel for the petitioners that the process of framing adjudication order is independent of scrutiny and audit of Annual Returns. To offer that construct to the language of Section 73(1) would be over-simplistic. It is true that Central Act and the State Act specifically do not contemplate existence of limitation for prior scrutiny and audit, at the same time Section 61 of Central Act and the State Act provides that a Proper Officer may scrutinise the return, verify its correctness and, inform the registered person of the discrepancies noticed. If the explanation thereto is found acceptable, no further action is contemplated. Failure to comply with those conditions may invite action under Section 65, 66, 67 and even Section 73 of the Act. In that regard, provisions of Section 61 of the Central Act and the State Act read as below:

"Scrutiny of returns

61(1) The proper officer may scrutinize the return and related particulars furnished by the registered person to verify the correctness of the return and inform him of the discrepancies noticed, if any, in such manner as may be prescribed and seek his explanation thereto.

(2) In case the explanation is found acceptable, the registered person shall be informed accordingly and no further action shall be taken in this regard.

(3) In case no satisfactory explanation is furnished within a period of thirty days of being informed by the proper officer or such further period as may be permitted by him or where the registered person, after accepting the discrepancies, fails to take the corrective measure in his return for the month in which the discrepancy is accepted, the proper officer may initiate appropriate action including those under section 65 or section 66 or section 67, or proceed to determine the tax and other dues under section 73 or section 74."

118. Again, under Section 65(7) of the Act, where an audit is conducted to tax not paid or short paid or erroneously refunded or input tax credit wrongly availed or utilised may result in action under Section 73 of the Act. For ready reference, Section 65(7) reads as below:

"Audit by tax authorities.

65.(1) ...

(7) Where the audit conducted under sub-section (1) results in detection of tax not paid or short paid or erroneously refunded, or input tax credit wrongly availed or utilised, the proper officer may initiate action under section 73 or section 74."

119. To us, the above discussion is enough to persuade us to the conclusion that scrutiny and audit of Annual Returns is inherently linked to and is not independent of adjudication proceedings under Section 73 of the Central Act and the State Act. Though the Proper Officer may remain authorised to act under Section 73 of the Central Act and the State Act independent of an audit and scrutiny at the same time that outcome would be dictated by facts of an individual case but not by way of a principle in law. In the entire scheme of the Central Act and the State Act, by way of procedure, steps contemplated under Section 61 and 65 would remain a normal occurrence. By very nature and by virtue of specific provisions of the Central Act and the State Act, those would have to precede action under Section 73 of those enactments.

120. The upshot of the above discussion is that the consideration offered by the Council in its 47th and 49th meetings, as has been extracted and discussed above was relevant to the exercise of power under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act. Neither the existence of material on which the discussion had arisen nor the discussion itself may be described as extraneous or irrelevant to the statutory requirement of Section 168A of the Act.

121. Again, we may remain reminded that the discussion and the decision made by the Central Government and the State Government on the advise/recommendation of the Council was not an administrative action but a legislative action. To the extent any legislature may have acted to provide for a law having nexus to the circumstance or the mischief sought to be addressed, to the extent it may be authorised to act in the manner it did, no fault may be found with the same. In exercise of judicial review, we may remain ever reluctant to explore the validity of that action beyond this point.

122. The decision in S.R. Bommai (supra) is not found applicable. In the first place, the issue arose in completely different law context of emergency provision under the Constitution of India. Even otherwise for reasons noted above, we find that the action that could not be completed or complied was adjudication function. The impossibility arose for reason of obstruction caused by the 'force majeure' circumstance to the preparatory action of scrutiny and audit. Once that obstruction had been caused and time lost to COVID-19, the legal and factual impossibility to conduct and conclude adjudication proceedings within the normal period of limitation of three years from the last date of filing of Annual Return, arose by way of a necessary consequence.

123. In the context of legislative action taken, upon a holistic consideration of the representations made by different tax administrations, the opinion of the Law Committee as also the own appraisal made by the Council, all of which is duly reflected in the agenda and the discussion relevant to the 47th and 49th meeting of the Council, the true test laid down in Dwarika Prasad Sahu (supra) is found inapplicable. That was a case of detention under Maintenance of Internal Security Act, 1971. It was the administrative order of detention that was in issue. Therefore, the test laid down in that case is wholly inapplicable and foreign to the challenge laid to legislative action, in the present case. In face of the discussion noted above, the decision in D.C. Wadhwa (supra), Krishna Kumar Singh (supra), Raja Ram Jaiswal (supra), Gurdial Singh (supra) and Kalabharati Advertising (supra) are all wholly irrelevant.

124. What then requires consideration is – if the words due to "force majeure" would include the period of time during which no lockdown may have been declared or during which human/economic activities may not have been specifically disrupted, by issuance of appropriate orders under the Disaster Management Act, 2005 etc. First, in the context of a legislative function, the writ Court sitting in judicial review may not look to test the subjective satisfaction of the legislative body or its delegate to see if the law made had the exact/measurable fact justification, for its enactment. The legislative wisdom must remain insulated from that judicial query. Under the Constitutional scheme of division of powers, Courts may never be enthusiastic and may remain disinclined to test the subjective satisfaction of legislatures in enacting laws. In fact, the Courts are neither equipped nor they are expected to undertake that exercise.

125. Then as Sri Nimai Das, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel has rightly submitted, there is intrinsic evidence in the provision of Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act that clearly recommends to the Court that the exercise of that power is not intended to be made only during the sufferance of "force majeure" circumstance. Different "force majeure" events may visit the society and may impair its economic functioning for different durations with different intensities. By its very nature of "force majeure" circumstance as advanced by learned Senior Counsel for the petitioners and other learned counsel for the petitioners, remains unpredictable. Both as to its occurrence, duration of its continuance and the impact that it may leave, a "force majeure" event remains a mystery or atleast unpredictable to the human mind and perception, in real time. Only hindsight wisdom, that is so unique to a humans may give rise to a discussion or discourse as to what may have been done and what could have been done and what should have been done in the past. In the context of enacted laws, neither the petitioners nor the Courts may have a say. It would remain a subject best preserved to the legislature, to deal with in real time.

126. As submitted by Sri Mahajan, the words "due to force majeure" are preceded with a general expression "in respect of". Thus besides intrinsic evidence existing in the Explanation to Section 168A of the Act (as discussed above), there is equally convincing evidence available in the use of the words "in respect of". The legislature clearly did not intend to provide for additional limitation only to complete actions that had been already undertaken. The words "in respect of" are clearly used to enlarge the scope of exercise of the conditional legislation function. Thus, anything directly linked to the performance of action for which time limitation may have been specified, prescribed or notified under the Central Act and the State Act and which action is perceived "cannot be completed or complied", the delegated/conditional legislation in the shape of Section 168A, may arise.

127. As discussed above, scrutiny and audit of returns was directly linked to framing of adjudication orders. To the extent that scrutiny and audit work was obstructed directly for reason of spread of the pandemic COVID-19, as was judicially noted in the order passed by the Supreme Court in Re: Cognizance for extension of limitation (supra) for the duration 15 March 2020 to 28 February 2022, it is not for this Court to reach another conclusion in that regard. Thus, the decision of the Supreme Court in Energy Watchdog (supra) and Dhanrajamal Gobindram (supra) are therefore not decisive of the issue involved in the present case. In view of judicial notice taken as to existence of "force majeure" circumstance upto 28.2.2022, there is no reason to conduct any further/deeper enquiry – as to its exact duration, in the context of challenge laid to a legislative action.

128. Submission that the resolution of the 49th meeting of the Council offered only a partial modification of the first time extension, also cuts no ice. The impugned notifications remains referable to exercise of legislative power, under Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act. It was exercised in the manner prescribed. The fact that the Council chose to make a partial modification remains within the insulated realm of legislative wisdom.

129. The submission that the issuance of the impugned notifications are pre-judicial to the rights and interest of the tax payers does not find our acceptance in the context of the discussion made above. A legislative action cannot be complained of as being prejudicial on account of extension of limitation. Limitation, though statutory, is not a pre-existing vested right of any party. It gets created and extinguished in accordance with the statutory law. Insofar as the statutory law prescribes a limitation, no argument may arise against such prescription made. Further, in the case of conditional legislation, the submission that it is not peripheral but substantive also looses its relevance in face of conditions seen fulfilled. Once the conditions for exercise of delegated legislative function stood fulfilled, no further test or scrutiny may arise, in that regard. Therefore, the decision of the Supreme Court in Sudhir Kumar Singh (supra) and Independent Schools' Association (supra) are also of no avail. Here, conditional legislation arose in accordance with law. Therefore, no fault is found therein. Accordingly, the decision in Lachmi Narain (supra) is also not applicable to the present facts.

130. The submission based on doctrine of public trust is found to be wholly foreign to the scope of specific challenge raised to an act of conditional legislation. In face of conditions fulfilled we find no merit in that submission. Therefore, the decision in Tata Housing Development Company Ltd. (supra) is also inapplicable.

131. Reference to Article 279A (4)(h) of the Constitution of India is equally mis-placed. In absence of any fact circumstance or legal compulsion shown to exist, no defect is found in the conduct of the Central Government and the State Government in having acted on the recommendation of the Council. In the context of the conditional legislation that Section 168A is, in our opinion the conditions were wholly fulfilled. Therefore, no benefit may be drawn on the strength of the decisions of the Supreme Court in Hamdard Dawakhana (Wakf) Lal Kuan, Delhi (supra) and K. Sabanayagam (supra).

132. We also are not convinced that there was any statutory mandate to provide for only short extensions of time or limited extensions of times. Suffice to note, if the COVID-19 pandemic had continued beyond the third wave (as experienced in our country), that argument would never arise. To the extent that argument arises on hindsight wisdom, and past actions were dictated by nature as were beyond the control of human beings, it would be erroneous to infer a legislative intent based on the experience gained on the strength of initial remedial actions taken by the executive and the legislative bodies, in response to the spread of the pandemic COVID-19. The argument is neither sustainable in law nor on the facts. As to the submission of repeated notifications being issued, again that fell within the domain of legislative wisdom. How the legislature perceived the situation at a given time, and what response it offered may never be a justiciable issue. Suffice to conclude, inherent indication exists that initially the legislature treated the COVID-19 pandemic circumstance to be temporary as may pass in a short while. However on its continuance, further extensions may have been felt desirable. Insofar as the power vested under Section 168A is not shown to be a power that may be exercised once as get exhausted upon that exercise made, the legislative wisdom to issue a further notification, would always survive.

133. The submission as to disability of the performing party, while attractive in first place, the same does not require any deeper consideration in view of the discussion made above. In the context of a legislative action, as noted above the level of disability suffered is not justiciable. Unless shown to be manifestly unreasoned or palpably arbitrary or plainly opaque, judicial power may remain to be exercised to examine such issues, any further. Suffice to note that the pleadings made in the Counter Affidavit are not to be seen to test the validity of the law. The burden to establish the invalidity existed on the petitioners. As noted above, we find that burden has remained from being discharged. The fact that the Central Government lifted the measures enforced by it under the Disaster Management Act in the year 2022, lead us to nowhere. They do not militate and they may not ever militate against the judicial notice taken to the effect of the spread of the pandemic COVID-19, remained constant during the period 15 March 2020 to 28th February 2022.

134. The other principle submission advanced by Shri Mehrotra that the entire action taken by the respondents was a colourable exercise of power also cannot be accepted in view of the discussion made above. The power to issue the impugned notifications existed. It is undisputed. In view of our discussion, that power was exercised both within the confines of the legislative conditions and occasioned by circumstances confronted by the legislature. The extent to which the power may have been exercised i.e. the length of time extension granted would also remain outside the scope of judicial review. Suffice to note, no excessive extension of time is seen to have been granted. If the period beginning 15th March 2020 to 28th February 2022 were to be excluded, a similar result would have arisen in terms of limitation extension. However we make it clear that the above has been noted only to deal with submission of colourable exercise power and not by way of independent reason to uphold the exercise of legislative power.

135. The reliance placed on the marginal note appended to Section 168A is misconceived. The language of that section being clear and free from doubt or ambiguity, there does not exist the necessary pre-condition to look at the marginal note to interpret the true meaning of words used in the said section. To read the marginal note in face of clear language of Section 168A of the Central Act and the State Act, is impermissible. The decision of the Supreme Court in Eastern Coalfields Limited (supra) and Satyendra Kumar Mehra alias Satendera Kumar Mehra (supra) are therefore in-apposite. Geeta (supra) is also not applicable to the present facts inasmuch as the language of Section 168A being unequivocally clear, there is less room to read Object and Reasons of its incorporation, to limit its natural scope and extent. In any case there is no inconsistency seen between the object and reasons of TOLO and the provision of Section 168A of the Act.

136. Last, in P. Krishnamurthy (supra), it has been held as below :

"Whether the rule is valid in its entirety?

15.There is a presumption in favour of constitutionality or validity of a subordinate legislation and the burden is upon him who attacks it to show that it is invalid. It is also well recognised that a subordinate legislation can be challenged under any of the following grounds:

(a) Lack of legislative competence to make the subordinate legislation.

(b) Violation of fundamental rights guaranteed under the Constitution of India.

(c) Violation of any provision of the Constitution of India.

(d) Failure to conform to the statute under which it is made or exceeding the limits of authority conferred by the enabling Act.

(e) Repugnancy to the laws of the land, that is, any enactment.

(f) Manifest arbitrariness/unreasonableness (to an extent where the court might well say that the legislature never intended to give authority to make such rules).

16.The court considering the validity of a subordinate legislation, will have to consider the nature, object and scheme of the enabling Act, and also the area over which power has been delegated under the Act and then decide whether the subordinate legislation conforms to the parent statute. Where a rule is directly inconsistent with a mandatory provision of the statute, then, of course, the task of the court is simple and easy. But where the contention is that the inconsistency or non-conformity of the rule is not with reference to any specific provision of the enabling Act, but with the object and scheme of the parent Act, the court should proceed with caution before declaring invalidity.

17.InIndian Express Newspapers (Bombay) (P) Ltd.v.Union of India[(1985) 1 SCC 641 : 1985 SCC (Tax) 121] this Court referred to several grounds on which a subordinate legislation can be challenged as follows: (SCC p. 689, para 75)

"75. A piece of subordinate legislation does not carry the same degree of immunity which is enjoyed by a statute passed by a competent legislature. Subordinate legislation may be questioned on any of the grounds on which plenary legislation is questioned.In addition it may also be questioned on the ground that it does not conform to the statute under which it is made. It may further be questioned on the ground that it is contrary to some other statute.That is because subordinate legislation must yield to plenary legislation. It may also be questioned on the ground that it is unreasonable, unreasonable not in the sense of not being reasonable, but in the sense that it is manifestly arbitrary."

(emphasis supplied)

18. ....

19.InShri Sitaram Sugar Co. Ltd.v.Union of India[(1990) 3 SCC 223] a Constitution Bench of this Court reiterated: (SCC pp. 251-52, para 47)*

"47. Power delegated by statute is limited by its terms and subordinate to its objects. The delegate must act in good faith, reasonably, intra vires the power granted, and on relevant consideration of material facts. All his decisions, whether characterised as legislative or administrative or quasi-judicial, must be in harmony with the Constitution and other laws of the land. They must be 'reasonably related to the purposes of the enabling legislation'. SeeLeila Mourningv.Family Publications Service[411 US 356 : 36 L Ed 2d 318 (1973)] . If they are manifestly unjust or oppressive or outrageous or directed to an unauthorised end or do not tend in some degree to the accomplishment of the objects of delegation, court might well say,

'Parliament never intended to give authority to make such rules; they are unreasonable and ultra vires': per Lord Russel of Killowen, C.J. inKrusev.Johnson[(1898) 2 QB 91 : (1895-99) All ER Rep 105] ."

20.InSt. John's Teachers Training Institutev.Regional Director, NCTE[(2003) 3 SCC 321] this Court explained the scope and purpose of delegated legislation thus: (SCC p. 331, para 10)

"10. A regulation is a rule or order prescribed by a superior for the management of some business and implies a rule for general course of action. Rules and regulations are all comprised in delegated legislations.The power to make subordinate legislation is derived from the enabling Act and it is fundamental that the delegate on whom such a power is conferred has to act within the limits of authority conferred by the Act. Rules cannot be made to supplant the provisions of the enabling Act but to supplement it. What is permitted is the delegation of ancillary or subordinate legislative functions, or, what is fictionally called, a power to fill up details. The legislature may, after laying down the legislative policy confer discretion on an administrative agency as to the execution of the policy and leave it to the agency to work out the details within the framework of policy. The need for delegated legislation is that they are framed with care and minuteness when the statutory authority making the rule, after coming into force of the Act, is in a better position to adapt the Act to special circumstances. Delegated legislation permits utilisation of experience and consultation with interests affected by the practical operation of statutes."

(emphasis supplied)

137. Also, in Vivek Narayan Sharma (supra), it has been observed as below :

227.This Court inSmall Scale Industrial Manufactures Assn.[Small Scale Industrial Manufactures Assn.v.Union of India, (2021) 8 SCC 511] observed that the Court would not interfere with any opinion formed by the Government if it is based on the relevant facts and circumstances or based on expert's advice. The Court would be entitled to interfere only when it is found that the action of the executive is arbitrary and violative of any constitutional, statutory or other provisions of law. It has been held that when the Government forms its policy, it is based on a number of circumstances and it is also based on expert's opinion, which must not be interfered with, except on the ground of palpable arbitrariness. It is more than settled that the Court gives a large leeway to the executive and the legislature in matters of economic policy. A reference in this respect could be made to the judgments of this Court inP.T.R. Exports (Madras) (P) Ltd.v.Union of India[P.T.R. Exports (Madras) (P) Ltd.v.Union of India, (1996) 5 SCC 268] andBajaj Hindustan Ltd.v.Sir Shadi Lal Enterprises Ltd.[Bajaj Hindustan Ltd.v.Sir Shadi Lal Enterprises Ltd., (2011) 1 SCC 640]

252.It has been held inMetropolis Theater Co.[Metropolis Theater Co.v.City of Chicago, 1913 SCC OnLine US SC 123 : 57 L Ed 730 : 228 US 61 (1913)] that if the action of the Government has a basis with the objectives to be achieved, it cannot be declared as palpably arbitrary. It has been held that, to be able to find fault with a law is not to demonstrate its invalidity. It has been held that the result of the act may seem unjust and oppressive, yet be free from judicial interference. The problems of Government are practical ones and may justify, if they do not require, rough accommodations, illogical, it may be, and unscientific. But even such criticism should not be hastily expressed. It has been held that what is best is not always discernible, and the wisdom of any choice may be disputed or condemned. It has been held that mere errors of the Government are not subject to judicial review. It is only the palpably arbitrary exercises which can be declared void.

253.We may gainfully refer to the following observations of this Court inR.K. Garg[R.K. Gargv.Union of India, (1981) 4 SCC 675 : 1982 SCC (Tax) 30] , wherein this Court observed that it should constantly remind itself of what the Supreme Court of the United States said inMetropolis Theater Co.[Metropolis Theater Co.v.City of Chicago, 1913 SCC OnLine US SC 123 : 57 L Ed 730 : 228 US 61 (1913)] : (R.K. Garg case[R.K. Gargv.Union of India, (1981) 4 SCC 675 : 1982 SCC (Tax) 30] , SCC p. 706, para 19)

"19. ...The Court would not have the necessary competence and expertise to adjudicate upon such an economic issue. The Court cannot possibly assess or evaluate what would be the impact of a particular immunity or exemption and whether it would serve the purpose in view or not. There are so many imponderables that would enter into the determination that it would be wise for the Court not to hazard an opinion where even economists may differ.The Court must while examining the constitutional validity of a legislation of this kind, "be resilient, not rigid, forward looking, not static, liberal, not verbal" and the Court must always bear in mind the constitutional proposition enunciated by the Supreme Court of the United States inMunnv.Illinois[Munnv.Illinois, 1876 SCC OnLine US SC 4 : 24 L Ed 77 : 94 US 13 (1877)] , namely, "that courts do not substitute their social and economic beliefs for the judgment of legislative bodies".The Court must defer to legislative judgment in matters relating to social and economic policies and must not interfere, unless the exercise of legislative judgment appears to be palpably arbitrary."

(emphasis supplied)

254.The Constitution Bench inR.K. Garg[R.K. Gargv.Union of India, (1981) 4 SCC 675 : 1982 SCC (Tax) 30] holds that the Court would not have the necessary competence and expertise to adjudicate upon such an economic issue. The Court cannot possibly assess or evaluate what would be the impact of a particular immunity or exemption and whether it would serve the purpose in view or not. It has been held that it would be wise for the Court not to hazard an opinion where even economists may differ. It has been held that while examining the constitutional validity of such a legislation, the Court must "be resilient, not rigid, forward looking, not static, liberal, not verbal".

258.Therefore, while adjudging the illegality of the impugned notification, we would have to examine on the basis as to whether the objectives for which it was enacted has nexus with the decision taken or not. If the impugned notification had a nexus with the objectives to be achieved, then, merely because some citizens have suffered through hardships would not be a ground to hold the impugned notification to be bad in law.

138. Seen in that light the decisions cited by learned counsel for the petitioners are found to be distinguished. The writ petitions challenging the issuance of the impugned notifications must fail. Hearing of all cases where adjudication proceedings are pending may recommence and be concluded, after excluding the duration of stay of the extended limitation to frame the adjudication order. Wherever adjudication orders have been passed and recovery stayed by this Court, the petitioners shall have 45 days from today to file appropriate appeals.

139. The writ petitions are thus dismissed. No order as to costs.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1717
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 02.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SAUMITRA DAYAL SINGH, J.
THE HON'BLE DONADI RAMESH, J.

Writ-A No. 10665 of 2021

Umesh Kumar Sirohi ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Siddharth Khare, Sr. Adv.

Counsel for the Respondent:
Ashish Mishra, C.S.C.

A. Service Law – Judicial officer assailed the penalty order passed by the St. Government removing him from service- Article 311(2) of the Constitution of India- Rule 9(4) of the Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999- Rule 34 of the Uttar Pradesh Higher Judicial Service Rules, 1975- allegation of abusing his position as a Judge- tried to influence judicial officer junior to him for personal benefits.

B. No requirement of recording reasons under Rule 9(4)- Where Disciplinary Authority intends to agree with the inquiry report – concluding the guilt of a delinquent- Disciplinary Authority may proceed with procedure prescribed under Article 311 of the Constitution of India- Disciplinary Authority/Full Court was not obligated to record its express reasons-to reject the representation made by the delinquent or to accept the Inquiry Report or to award particular penalty. (Paras 44, 45 and 64)

Held:
Therefore, there is no basis to the submission being advanced by learned Senior Counsel for the petitioner that the requirement of recording reasons under Rule 9(4) of the Rules exists and may be enforced, independent of Rule 9(2) of the Rules. The submission is misconceived. It is rejected. (Para 44)

Having taken that view, we are further not inclined to accept the submission of Sri Khare that unless Rule 9(4) is read as suggested (by him), there would exist no requirement to furnish a copy of the Inquiry Report to the delinquent and/or to grant him opportunity to represent thereagainst. Though attractive in first blush, the submission must fail. Those requirements arise, sustain and are enforced in law, on the pure strength of Article 311 of the Constitution of India, as interpreted in Mohd. Ramzan Khan (supra). In view of that higher law existing, lack of statutory law (either by principal legislature or its delegate) would make no difference. Consequently, where the Disciplinary Authority intends to agree with the Inquiry Report – concluding the guilt of a delinquent, the Disciplinary Authority may proceed in accordance with procedure prescribed under Article 311 as interpreted by the Supreme Court in Mohd. Ramzan Khan (supra). That circumstance not provided by Rule 9 of the Rules would remain governed by the Constitutional provision (Article 311), as interpreted by the Supreme Court. (Para 45)

Thus, both in the context of the Rules and the binding law, we are of the view that the Disciplinary Authority / Full Court was not obligated to record its express reasons-to reject the representation made by the delinquent or to accept the Inquiry Report or to award particular penalty. (Para 64)

C. Domestic Inquiry- reasonable opportunity given to the delinquent- fair and proper- conclusions drawn by Judge 'A' based on relevant material- conduct of the delinquent officer incorrigible and unbecoming of the judicial office- Petition dismissed. (Paras 105 and 110)

HELD:
Thus, we find, no good ground is made out to offer any interference. The scope of judicial review has to remain limited. The disciplinary inquiry in Departmental Inquiry No. 21 of 2015 is found to be fair and proper and conclusions drawn by the Inquiry Judge 'A', based on material and evidence collected during that Inquiry, with which the petitioner had been confronted. Also, that material cannot be described as extraneous or irrelevant. (Para 105)

Once the petitioner admitted having called the learned ACJM (who was seized with the case proceeding involving his close family members), that too, using the mobile phone of his wife's lawyer – ostensibly to check the ACJM regarding his working, every other detail referred to by learned Senior Counsel for the petitioner - to point certain deficiencies in the conduct of that Inquiry, pales into insignificance. For the guilt of the petitioner -a a judicial officer to be established, the above quoted passage was enough. Clearly, the petitioner had not called the ACJM in his capacity as a senior officer. (Para 110)

Petition dismissed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. U.O.I. & ors. Vs Mohd. Ramzan Khan, (1991) 1 SCC 588

2. Punjab National Bank & ors. Vs K.K. Verma, (2010) 13 SCC 494

3. Hari Om Gupta Vs St. of Bihar, 2015 SCC OnLine Patna 4511

4. Umesh Chandra Vs St. of U.P. & ors., 2005 SCC OnLine All 2370

5. Madhav Prasad Vs Deputy Managing Director, (2004) (4) LLN 857

6. Ram Kumar Versus St. of Hary., 1987 Supp SCC 582

7. Indian Institute of Technology, Bombay v. U.O.I. & ors., 1991 Supp 2 SCC 12

8. Boloram Bordoloi Vs Lakhimi Gaolia Bank & ors., (2021) 3 SCC 806

9. Sanjeev Kumar Vs St. of U.P. & ors., (2008) SCC OnLine All 1089

10. Nishith Ranjan Tiwari Vs St. of U.P. & ors., (2013) SCC OnLine 11768

11. St. of U.P. & ors. Vs Neeraj Verma, 2021 SCC OnLine All 422

12. Shailendra Kumar Srivastava Vs St. Public Services Court, Lucknow & ors., 2023 SCC OnLine All 1896

13. St. of Har. & anr. Vs Rattan Singh, (1977) 2 SCC 491

14. U.O.I. & ors. Vs P. Gunasekara, (2015) 2 SCC 610

15. St. of Karn. & anr. Vs Umesh, (2022) 6 SCC 563

16. R.R. Parekh VsHigh Court of Gujarat & anr., (2016) 14 SCC 1

17. Registrar General High Court of Patna Vs Pandey Gajendra Prasad & ors., (2012) 6 SCC 357

18. Desh Bhushan Jain Vs St. of U.P. & anr., 2007 SCC OnLine All 1568

19. Satya Pal Narang Vs St. of U.P. & and Another ors., 2015 SCC OnLine All 8365

20. Punjab National Bank & ors. Vs K.K. Verma, (2010) 13 SCC 494

21. Hari Niwas Gupta Vs St. of Bihar (2015) SCC OnLine Pat 4511

22. Hari Niwas Gupta Vs St. of Bihar (2020) 3 SCC 153

23. D.K. Agrawal Vs Council of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, 2021 SCC OnLine SC 903

24. Dr. Anurika Vaish Vs U.O.I., 2015 SCC OnLine All 9599

25. Chairman Disciplinary Authority, Rani Lakshmi Bai Kshetriya Gramin Bank Vs Jagdish Sharan Varshney & ors., (2009) 4 SCC 240

26. Institute of Chartered Accountant of India Vs L.K. Ratna & ors., 1986(4) SCC 537

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saumitra Dayal Singh, J. & Hon'ble Donadi Ramesh, J.)

1. Heard Sri Ashok Khare, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Aditendra Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner; Sri Ashish Mishra, learned counsel for the High Court and Sri Nimai Das, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State-respondents.

2. The present writ petition has been filed to assail the penalty order passed by the State Government dated 16.04.2021, communicated to the petitioner by the Registrar(J)(Confidential), High Court Allahabad vide letter dated 28.05.2021. Thereby, the petitioner - then serving as Additional District & Sessions Judge, Lalitpur has been removed from service, with immediate effect. The petitioner was appointed to the U.P. Civil Service (Judicial) in the year 2001. In 2013, he was promoted and thus appointed to the U.P. Higher Judicial Service. While serving as Additional District & Sessions Judge, Meerut, first Charge Sheet dated 08.08.2016 was issued to the petitioner. Again, on 20.03.2017 a second Charge Sheet was issued to the petitioner.

3. The first Charge Sheet dated 08.08.2016 led to institution of Departmental Inquiry No. 21 of 2015, on the following four charges :

"1. That you with the help of your younger brother Sri Raj Kumar Sirohi, the then Civil Judge (Junior Division)/Judicial Magistrate, Meerut and other family members demanded dowry as a condition for your brother's marriage with Dr. Muskan Sirohi D/o Ummed Singh (W/o Sri Raj Kumar Sirohi). Part of the demand for dowry was also fulfilled. You and your brother continued to press the demand of dowry even after marriage so much so that Sri Raj Kumar Sirohi deserted his wife for non-fulfillment of dowry demand. The demand and receipt of dowry for marriage of your brother with Dr. Muskan Sirohi is a misconduct within the meaning of Rule 11-A of the U.P. Government Servant Rules, 1956.

Thus, you have committed misconduct within the meaning of Rule 11-A read with Rule 3 of the U.P. Government Servants Conduct Rules, 1956.

2.That on 26.06.2014, during the course of reconciliation meeting between the family members of Dr. Muskan Sirohi with you and your younger brother Sri Raj Kumar Sirohi, you self inflicted an injury on your left hand, as a conspiracy to involve Dr. Muskan Sirohi and her family members in a criminal case. In furtherance thereof your wife Smt. Meghana Sirohi lodged an FIR against Dr. Muskan Sirohi and her family members being Case Crime No. 472 of 2014, U/s 395, 397 IPC at P.S. Medical College, Meerut.

Thus, you have acted in a manner which is unbecoming of a Judicial Officer. Further, you have misused your authority as a Judicial Officer and failed to maintain absolute integrity. Thus, you have committed misconduct within the meaning of Rule 3 of the U.P. Government Servants Conduct Rules, 1956.

3. That you and your younger brother Sri Raj Kumar Sirohi, the then Civil Judge (Junior Division)/Judicial Magistrate, Meerut have tried to influence the Investigating Officer by misusing your official position during the course of investigation of the aforesaid Case Crime No. 472 of 2014.

Thus, you have acted in a manner which is unbecoming of a Judicial Officer. Further, you have misused your authority as a Judicial Officer and failed to maintain absolute integrity. Thus, you have committed misconduct within the meaning of Rule 3 of the U.P. Government Servants Conduct Rules, 1956.

4. That you and your younger brother Sri Raj Kumar Sirohi, the then Civil Judge (Junior Division)/Judicial Magistrate, Meerut have tried to influence the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Court No. 5, Meerut and thus interfered in the judicial proceeding arising our of Case Crime No. 472 of 2014.

Thus, you have committed misconduct within the meaning of Rule 3 of the U.P. Government Servants Conduct Rules, 1956."

4. The second Charge Sheet dated 20.03.2017 led to institution of Departmental Inquiry No. 24 of 2016, on the following three charges. They read as below :

"(1) That while posted as Additional District Judge, Meerut you misused your position and tried to influence Sri XXXXX, Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate-V, Meerut in your personal case No. 93650 of 2015 (Crime No. 472 of 2014) State Vs. Rama Singh and Others U/s 452, 324 IPC, P.S. Medical, Meerut in which your wife Smt. Meghna Sirohi is complainant. Firstly, in November 2015 you asked Sri XXXXX, ACJM-V to summon the Circle Officer in connection with filing of charge-sheet and thereafter in December 2015 you asked Sri XXXXX to take cognizance under Section 307 IPC in the said case.

(2) That while posted as Additional District Judge, Meerut you made false allegation against Sri , the then District Judge, Meerut that his behaviour towards you was prejudicial, which allegation was found to be false in the Vigilance Enquiry Report dated 26.10.2016. (3) That your another allegation against the then District Judge, Meerut that he submitted a false report dated 02.03.2016 to the High Court in respect of your effort to influence the concerned Magistrate, was again found to be false in the Vigilance Enquiry Report dated 26.10.2016."

5. Both inquiries were conducted simultaneously. Inquiry No. 21 of 2015 was conducted at Prayagraj, by Judge 'A' while Inquiry No. 24 of 2016 was conducted at Lucknow, by Judge 'B'. The Inquiry Judge 'A' submitted the report in Inquiry No. 21 of 2015, dated 26.04.2019 whereas Inquiry Judge 'B' submitted their report in Inquiry No. 24 of 2016, dated 03.07.2019. Upon such Inquiry Reports submitted, the matter went (to the Full Court) through the Administrative Committee. Upon submission of the two Inquiry Reports and appraisal by the Administrative Committee, both Inquiry Reports (in Inquiry Nos. 21 of 2015 and 24 of 2016) were made available to the petitioner vide further communications dated 26.04.2019 and 03.07.2019, to obtain his comments.

6. The petitioner submitted his comments/representation to the two Inquiry Reports on 6.8.2019 and 19.8.2019, respectively. Thereafter, the matter was considered by the Full Court on 11.12.2020. Therein, the Full Court resolved to accept the two Inquiry Reports and inflict major penalty of removal from service, with immediate effect. That decision has been approved by the State Government and has been communicated to the petitioner. Hence this challenge.

7. Submissions advanced by learned Senior Counsel for the petitioner are:

(i) Petitioner being a Government Servant, he is fully protected under the umbrella of Article 311 of the Constitution of India. Relying on Rule 9 (4) of the Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Rules') read with Rule 34 of the U.P. Higher Judicial Service Rules, 1975, it has been submitted, even after substitution of Article 311(2) of the Constitution of India, the petitioner is entitled to a reasonable opportunity of being heard and to a reasoned order dealing with his representation/comments - offered to the two Inquiry Reports, referred to above.

8. Insofar as the Full Court made no mention of such comments/representation and further insofar as it has offered no reason whatsoever to deal with the representations made against the two Inquiry Reports, the penalty order is wholly contrary to the law. Reliance has been placed on Union of India and others Vs. Mohd. Ramzan Khan, (1991) 1 SCC 588 as followed in Punjab National Bank and others Vs. K.K. Verma, (2010) 13 SCC 494. In Hari Om Gupta Vs. State of Bihar, 2015 SCC OnLine Patna 4511. Thus, it has been submitted, notwithstanding the substitution of Article 311(2) of the Constitution of India, the obligation remained on the Appointing Authority/Disciplinary Authority, to act with reason. That has been violated.

9. Specific to the Rules, it has been submitted, Rule 9(4) of the Rules clearly mandates that the Disciplinary Authority must not only give opportunity to the delinquent - to represent against the Inquiry Report, but it must also record its reasons to award the penalty. In that regard, it has been urged, the decision of a coordinate bench of this Court, in Umesh Chandra Vs. State of U.P. and others, 2005 SCC OnLine All 2370, insofar as it does not notice or deal with the mandatory statutory requirement of Rule 9(4) of the Rules, is not good law. At the same time, responding to the counter submission advanced by learned counsel for the High Court on the strength of the another decision of the coordinate bench of this Court in Madhav Prasad Vs. Deputy Managing Director, (2004) (4) LLN 857, it has been urged that that decision supports the submission of the petitioner - that the Appointing Authority/Disciplinary Authority or even the Appellate Authority, must record its reasons to reject the objections raised by the delinquent, to the Inquiry Reports, and it must give reasons to support its order.

10. Second, it has been submitted, at the Full Court meeting dated 11.12.2020, the Inquiry Judge 'A', and the District Judge (at whose instance the complaint was lodged against the petitioner and who in the meantime had been elevated to the bench of this Court), participated. By their mere participation, the decision of the Full Court became tainted and untenable in law. Here, as has already been recorded in the earlier order dated 15.4.2023, the relevant record was produced on 16.4.2024. The same was allowed to be examined by the learned counsel for the petitioner. We had perused the same and retained its photocopy on the record. It so transpires that Inquiry Judge 'A' had not attended the Full Court meeting dated 11.12.2020. As to the participation of the learned District Judge who had by then been elevated to the bench of this Court, his specific abstention is recorded in the original record. Though it is handwritten, in absence of any further challenge or doubt raised to the authenticity or genuineness of the original record produced during these proceedings, that issue must rest here.

11. Third, it has been submitted, Charge no. 4 of Inquiry No. 21 of 2015 and Charge No. 1 of Inquiry No. 24 of 2016, overlapped. Thus, the the same alleged misconduct was twice inquired into. That itself is cited as a ground to vitiate the inquiries.

12. Fourth, it has been submitted, Domestic Inquiry No. 21 of 2015 was wholly vitiated as (i) the Inquiry Report is conjectural; (ii) it has been prepared in complete violation of principles of natural justice; (iii) it has been prepared upon denial of any opportunity to the petitioner to cross-examine the Employers' Witnesses; (iv) the Inquiry Judge 'A' had, for no reason, denied to recall of Employers' Witnesses for cross-examination; (v) the forced absence of the petitioner in the Inquiry proceedings, occasioned by his prolonged illness was completely ignored, for no good reason given and (vi) the material relied by the petitioner was not considered in the Inquiry Report.

13. Similarly, the Inquiry Report in the Domestic Inquiry 24 of 2016 was vitiated for reason of non-consideration of essential facts. Here, it has been submitted, the first date in the proceeding in Case No. 93650 of 2015 arising from Case Crime No. 472 of 2014, was 16.1.2016. This fact was proven by the petitioner through oral evidence of D.W.4, the then System Officer, District Judgeship, Meerut. That witness was not cross-examined by the Presenting Officer. Yet, the Inquiry Judge 'B' inferred (contrary to the record), that the above described case was heard by Sri XXXXX, the then ACJM on 18.12.2015, when the alleged occurrence took place.

14. Also, the documents relied upon in the Charge Sheet leading to institution of Departmental Inquiry 24 of 2016 were never proven. Neither the letter of Sri XXXXX learned ACJM, dated 18.12.2015, nor the Report/complaint of the then learned District Judge dated 2.3.2016, nor the Vigilance Report dated 26.10.2016, were proven in those proceedings. Yet, those documents have been referred to and relied upon by the Inquiry Judge 'B'. In that regard, it has been further submitted that the Charge Sheet that led to that inquiry had referred to only two documents namely, the report submitted by the District Judge dated 2.3.2016 and the letter written by the learned ACJM, Sri XXXXX to the learned District Judge, dated 12.1.2016.

15. Next, it has been submitted, the specific application moved by the petitioner before the Inquiry Judge 'B' - to be permitted to confront the employer witness D.W.4 with certain documents was denied by adopting wholly erroneous procedure. The cross-examination of the said witness was closed on 3.7.2018 whereas the documents were summoned on 16.4.2019. Further, it has been submitted, no evidence was led to prove charge nos. 2 and 3.

16. Responding to the above, Sri Ashish Mishra learned counsel for the High Court would submit, the penalty order has been passed wholly in accordance with law. After substitution of Article 311(2) of the Constitution of India, the only mandatory requirement in law remains - to conduct the departmental inquiry with respect to charges that may lead to award of major penalty.

That compliance has been made. Further, in view of the existing provision of Article 311 (2) of the Constitution of India, read with Rule 9 of the Rules, the High Court was obligated to serve on the petitioner the two Inquiry Reports and to call for his comments. That requirement was also fulfilled, on an admitted case basis. Upon due consideration of the same, the Full Court has accepted the two Inquiry Reports and has awarded due penalty.

17. As to the requirement to furnish reasons, the position in law (being claimed by the learned Senior Counsel for the petitioner), has been hotly contested. Sri Mishra would submit, after the Constitutional Amendment (42nd amendment), the constitutional requirement stood fulfilled upon due Inquiries made and upon opportunity granted to the delinquent to furnish his representations against both Inquiry Reports. Those were considered by the Full Court - the Disciplinary Authority. Since the Full Court accepted the Inquiry Reports and concurred with the findings recorded therein, after appraisal of the objections raised thereto, neither any further consideration was required to be made by the Full Court in its capacity as the Disciplinary Authority nor it was required to record its own/separate reasons, either to accept the Inquiry Reports or to award the penalty of removal from service. In that regard, first, he has referred to and heavily relied on the coordinate bench decision in Umesh Chandra (supra).

18. On Mohd. Ramzan Khan (supra), it has been submitted, the said decision no where lays down the law that the Disciplinary Authority must record its independent reasons either to accept the Inquiry Report or to award the punishment. The only requirement in law enforced by Mohd. Ramzan Khan (supra), is the furnishing of Inquiry Report to the delinquent and calling for his comments thereto. As to the requirement of reasons to be given by the Disciplinary Authority, he would submit, the law in that regard has remained consistent that the Disciplinary Authority need not record its separate reason where it proposes to accept the Inquiry Report and the findings of the Inquiry Officer (here Judge). Thus, reliance has been first placed on Ram Kumar Versus State of Haryana, 1987 Supp SCC 582 and Indian Institute of Technology, Bombay v. Union of India and others, 1991 Supp 2 SCC 12. Also, reliance has been placed on a coordinate bench decision of the Court in Madhav Prasad Vs. Deputy Director (supra). Doubt, if any, is stated to have been removed upon the recent decision of the Supreme Court in Boloram Bordoloi Vs. Lakhimi Gaolia Bank and others, (2021) 3 SCC 806.

19. Dealing with Rule 9(4) of the Rules, it has been submitted, the said Rule has no application to the facts of the present case. In any case, it does not postulate an independent requirement on the Disciplinary Authority, to record its reason - to either accept an Inquiry Report or to award punishment. In his submission Rule 9(4) of the Rules would come to life only where Rule 9(2) of the Rules first applies. Thus, only where the Disciplinary Authority disagrees with the findings of the Inquiry Officer (here Judge), it would be first obligated to offer his own/ex-parte consideration and record its own finding and reasons therefor. That reasoning of the Disciplinary Authority would arise, first at the stage of disagreement being expressed to the findings of the Inquiry Officer and second, at the stage of award of penalty under Rule 9(4) of the Rules. In the facts of the present case, the Disciplinary Authority i.e. Full Court did not disagree with either of the two Inquiry Reports submitted by the two Inquiry Judges. On the contrary, the Full Court accepted both the Inquiry Reports. Therefore, the trigger to activate Rule 9(4) of the Rules (that exists by way of of Rule 9(2) of the Rules), was not activated. Consequently, the Full Court was not obligated in law, to give any further reasons. He has relied on coordinate bench decisions of the Court in Sanjeev Kumar Vs. State of U.P. and others, (2008) SCC OnLine All 1089, Nishith Ranjan Tiwari Vs. State of U.P. and others, (2013) SCC OnLine 11768, State of U.P. and others Vs. Neeraj Verma, 2021 SCC OnLine All 422 and Shailendra Kumar Srivastava Vs. State Public Services Court, Lucknow and others, 2023 SCC OnLine All 1896.

20. Merely because certain other High Courts, may have opted for another procedure and merely because on a subjective opinion that approach may appear to be better, may never be a ground either to apply the Rules contrary to the legislative intent or to vitiate the penalty order, for reason of that approach not taken.

21. Responding to the submission of duplication of charge, it has been vehemently urged, there is none. While Charge no. 4 in Domestic Inquiry No. 21 of 2015 was of the delinquent (petitioner) having tried to influence the learned ACJM in a judicial proceeding arising out of Case Crime No. 472 of 2014, the charge no. 1 in the Domestic Inquiry 24 of 2016 was of misuse of position to try influence the learned ACJM in Case No. 93650 of 2015, arising out of Case Crime No. 472 of 2015 - to summon the Circle Officer, to submit a Charge Sheet and to take cognizance under Section 307 IPC.

22. The challenge raised to the two Inquiry Reports - being in violation of rules of natural justice and being otherwise vitiated in law, has been rebutted with vehemence, by relying on various order sheet entries of the two Inquiry proceedings; applications received, entertained and dealt with by the two Inquiry Judges; the evidence received in the two inquiries as also the conduct offered by the petitioner in the course of the two inquiries. Reference has also been made to the fact that the other delinquent whose conduct was jointly inquired into in the course of the Domestic Inquiry No. 21 of 2015, was none other than the real younger brother of the petitioner. He too being a judicial officer, his conduct was similarly inquired into. He had cross-examined the Employers' Witnesses, on many dates. As to the ex parte nature of Inquiry No. 21 of 2015, relying on the Inquiry record, it has been assertively urged that the petitioner left the Inquiry Judge 'A' with no option but to proceed ex parte in terms of Rule 7(10) of the Rules. More than enough opportunity was granted to the petitioner to participate in those proceeding and allow them to conclude, in a time bound manner. However, repeated adjournments were sought and the conduct of non-appearance (without seeking adjournment), was also continued, despite long pendency of the Inquiry proceeding. It has been stated, all documents and evidence led at the Inquiry proceedings were made available to the delinquent petitioner. His rights were not prejudiced.

23. While both Inquiries commenced in the year 2017, they continued over a long period of almost two years. Even if the petitioner may contend and try to justify that he could not appear on certain dates for reasons, however, the continuous unabated conduct of absence offered - over a long period of time in the course of two Inquiry proceedings, may not be overlooked. Both, in the Disciplinary Inquiry No. 21 of 2015 and 24 of 2016, the petitioner habitually absented himself and participated on certain dates of his choice, without making any bona fide effort to let those proceedings conclude. Thus, in a nutshell, it has been submitted, the rules of natural justice may not be read as iron cast rules. Insofar as sufficient and reasonable opportunity of hearing was given to the petitioner during the course of both Inquiry proceedings, no breach of that fundamental requirement of law, was committed.

24. As to the proof of the charges and the objections thereto, it has been urged, here strict rule of evidence would not apply. Insofar as balance of evidence rule would allow for conclusions to arise (in the disciplinary proceedings), and be sustained on a preponderance of possibilities, such conclusions may not be interfered with even by appeal authorities, less so by a Writ Court. Thus, reliance has first been placed on the decision of the Supreme Court in State of Haryana and Another Vs. Rattan Singh, (1977) 2 SCC 491, Union Of India and others vs. P. Gunasekara, (2015) 2 SCC 610 and State of Karnataka and Another Vs. Umesh, (2022) 6 SCC 563.

25. Then, specific to the case of disciplinary proceedings against a judicial officer, reliance has been placed on R.R. Parekh Vs.High Court of Gujarat and Another, (2016) 14 SCC 1, Registrar General High Court of Patna Vs. Pandey Gajendra Prasad and Others, (2012) 6 SCC 357, Desh Bhushan Jain Vs. State of U.P. and Another, 2007 SCC OnLine All 1568 and Satya Pal Narang Vs. State of U.P. and 2 Others, 2015 SCC OnLine All 8365. Thus, it has been submitted, in the case of judicial officers, the concept of misconduct acquires a different shade. Misconduct of having tried to influence another judicial officer, had to be dealt with most seriously,with an iron hand.

26. Having heard learned counsel for parties and having perused the record, in the first place, we may deal with the ground of challenge raised on the strength of Article 311 of the Constitution of India read with Rule 9(4) of the Rules. Article 311 of the Constitution of India, as it stands, reads as below:

"311. Dismissal, removal or reduction in rank of persons employed in civil capacities under the Union or a State-(1) No person who is a member of a civil service of the Union or an all-India service or a civil service of a State or holds a civil post under the Union or a State shall be dismissed or removed by an authority subordinate to that by which he was appointed.

(2) No such person as aforesaid shall be dismissed or removed or reduced in rank except after an inquiry in which he has been informed of the charges against him and given a reasonable opportunity of being heard in respect of those charges:

[Provided that where it is proposed after such inquiry, to impose upon him any such penalty, such penalty may be imposed on the basis of the evidence adduced during such inquiry and it shall not be necessary to give such person any opportunity of making representation on the penalty proposed:

Provided further that this clause shall not apply—]

(a) where a person is dismissed or removed or reduced in rank on the ground of conduct which has led to his conviction on a criminal charge; or

(b) where the authority empowered to dismiss or remove a person or to reduce him in rank is satisfied that for some reason, to be recorded by that authority in writing, it is not reasonably practicable to hold such inquiry; or

(c) where the President or the Governor, as the case may be, is satisfied that in the interest of the security of the State it is not expedient to hold such inquiry.

(3) If, in respect of any such person as aforesaid, a question arises whether it is reasonably practicable to hold such inquiry as is referred to in clause (2), the decision thereon of the authority empowered to dismiss or remove such person or to reduce him in rank shall be final."

27. Also, Rule 9 of the Rules reads as below:

"9. Action on Inquiry Report- (1) The Disciplinary Authority may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, remit the case for re-inquiry to the same or any other Inquiry Officer under intimation to the charged Government servant. The Inquiry Officer shall thereupon proceed to hold the inquiry from such stage as directed by the Disciplinary Authority, according to the provisions of Rule 7.

(2) The Disciplinary Authority shall, if it disagrees with the findings of the Inquiry Officer on any charge, record its own finding thereon for reasons to be recorded.

(3) In case the charges are not proved, the charged Government servant shall be exonerated the Disciplinary Authority of the charges and informed him accordingly.

(4) If the Disciplinary Authority, having regard to its findings on all or any of charges is of the opinion that any penalty specified in Rule 3 should be imposed on the charged Government servant, he shall give a copy of the inquiry report and his findings recorded under sub-rule (2) to the charged Government servant and require him to submit his representation if he so desires, within a reasonable specified time. The Disciplinary Authority shall, having regard to all the relevant records relating to the inquiry and representation of the charged Government servant, if any, and subject to the provisions of Rule 16 of these rules, pass a reasoned order imposing one more penalties mentioned in Rule 3 of these rules and communicate the same to the charged Government servant."

28. In Mohd. Ramzan Khan (supra), the following issue had arisen for consideration by the Supreme Court:

"2. The short point that falls for determination in this bunch of appeals is as to whether with the alteration of the provisions of Article 311(2) under the Forty-second Amendment of the Constitution doing away with the opportunity of showing cause against the proposed punishment, the delinquent has lost his right to be entitled to a copy of the report of enquiry in the disciplinary proceedings."

29. Taking note of the Constitutional Amendment whereby clause 2 of Article 311 was substituted, the Supreme Court observed as below:

"11.The question which has now to be answered is whether the Forty-second Amendment has brought about any change in the position in the matter of supply of a copy of the report and the effect of non-supply thereof on the punishment imposed.

12.We have already noticed the position that the Forty-second Amendment has deleted the second stage of the inquiry which would commence with the service of a notice proposing one of the three punishments mentioned in Article 311(1) and the delinquent officer would represent against the same and on the basis of such representation and/or oral hearing granted the disciplinary authority decides about the punishment. Deletion of this part from the concept of reasonable opportunity in Article 311(2), in our opinion, does not bring about any material change in regard to requiring the copy of the report to be provided to the delinquent.

13.Several pronouncements of this Court dealing with Article 311(2) of the Constitution have laid down the test of natural justice in the matter of meeting the charges. This Court on one occasion has stated that two phases of the inquiry contemplated under Article 311(2) prior to the Forty-second Amendment were judicial. That perhaps was a little stretching the position. Even if it does not become a judicial proceeding, there can be no dispute that it is a quasi-judicial one. There is a charge and a denial followed by an inquiry at which evidence is led and assessment of the material before conclusion is reached. These facets do make the matter quasi-judicial and attract the principles of natural justice. As this Court rightly pointed out in theGujarat case[(1969) 2 SCC 128 : (1970) 1 SCR 251] , the disciplinary authority is very often influenced by the conclusions of the Inquiry Officer and even by the recommendations relating to the nature of punishment to be inflicted. With the Forty-second Amendment, the delinquent officer is not associated with the disciplinary inquiry beyond the recording of evidence and the submissions made on the basis of the material to assist the Inquiry Officer to come to his conclusions. In case his conclusions are kept away from the delinquent officer and the Inquiry Officer submits his conclusions with or without recommendation as to punishment, the delinquent is precluded from knowing the contents thereof although such material is used against him by the disciplinary authority. The report is an adverse material if the Inquiry Officer records a finding of guilt and proposes a punishment so far as the delinquent is concerned. In a quasi-judicial matter, if the delinquent is being deprived of knowledge of the material against him though the same is made available to the punishing authority in the matter of reaching his conclusion, rules of natural justice would be affected. Prof. Wade has pointed out: [Administrative Law, 6th edn., p. 10]

"The concept of natural justice has existed for many centuries and it has crystallised into two rules: that no man should be judge in his own cause; and that no man should suffer without first being given a fair hearing…. They (the courts) have been developing and extending the principles of natural justice so as to build up a kind of code of fair administrative procedure, to be obeyed by authorities of all kinds. They have done this once again, by assuming that Parliament always intends powers to be exercised fairly."

...

15.Deletion of the second opportunity from the scheme of Article 311(2) of the Constitution has nothing to do with providing of a copy of the report to the delinquent in the matter of making his representation. Even though the second stage of the inquiry in Article 311(2) has been abolished by amendment, the delinquent is still entitled to represent against the conclusion of the Inquiry Officer holding that the charges or some of the charges are established and holding the delinquent guilty of such charges. For doing away with the effect of the enquiry report or to meet the recommendations of the Inquiry Officer in the matter of imposition of punishment, furnishing a copy of the report becomes necessary and to have the proceeding completed by using some material behind the back of the delinquent is a position not countenanced by fair procedure. While by law application of natural justice could be totally ruled out or truncated, nothing has been done here which could be taken as keeping natural justice out of the proceedings and the series of pronouncements of this Court making rules of natural justice applicable to such an inquiry are not affected by the Forty-second Amendment. We, therefore, come to the conclusion that supply of a copy of the inquiry report along with recommendation, if any, in the matter of proposed punishment to be inflicted would be within the rules of natural justice and the delinquent would, therefore, be entitled to the supply of a copy thereof. The Forty-second Amendment has not brought about any change in this position.

...

18.We make it clear that wherever there has been an Inquiry Officer and he has furnished a report to the disciplinary authority at the conclusion of the inquiry holding the delinquent guilty of all or any of the charges with proposal for any particular punishment or not, the delinquent is entitled to a copy of such report and will also be entitled to make a representation against it, if he so desires, and non-furnishing of the report would amount to violation of rules of natural justice and make the final order liable to challenge hereafter."

30. Thus, the Supreme Court enunciated the law in Mohd. Ramzan Khan (supra) - despite substitution of Article 311(2), wherever the Inquiry Officer may have submitted a report to the Disciplinary Authority recording finding/s of guilt of the delinquent, the latter would remain entitled to a copy of that Inquiry Report and would be further entitled to represent thereagainst. The consequence of non-compliance of that essential requirement would amount to violation of rules of natural justice and would vitiate the final order of the Disciplinary Authority. Yet, that law was enforced prospectively.

31. Applying the law laid down by the Supreme Court in Mohd. Ramzan Khan (supra) may only require us to examine if the two Inquiry Reports submitted by the two Inquiry Judges 'A' and 'B' were supplied to the petitioner and whether he was given a right to represent thereagainst. The answer to the same is in the affirmative and undisputed. As noted above, the two Inquiry Reports dated 26.04.2019 and 03.7.2019 were served on the petitioner. He made representations thereagainst on 06.08.2019 and 19.08.2019. Therefore, it cannot be gainsaid that there was violation of Mohd. Ramzan Khan (supra).

32. That said, it is also not the Constitutional law that legislative law could not provide for a higher test to be met by the Disciplinary Authority. Thus, despite substitution of Article 311(2) of the Constitution of India, it remained open to the State legislature to enact a law to provide that the Disciplinary Authority may generally/in all cases, record its reasons - to reject the objections that may be received from the delinquent employee (against an adverse Inquiry Report), and/or to further record reasons to inflict any particular punishment/penalty. That requirement, if provided, would not fall foul of the bench mark Constitutional law requirement, enforced by the amended Article 311 of the Constitution of India. Insofar as the Constitution of India does not prohibit recording of such reasons, it may remain open to the legislative bodies to enact appropriate law to prescribe that higher test - of reasons to be recorded by the Disciplinary Authority. However, such a requirement may be pressed/claimed specifically on the strength of legislative law, and not otherwise.

33. Here, we consider the true import of Rule 9 of the Rules: (i) In the first place, Rule 9 of the Rules comes into play upon submission of the Inquiry Report by the Inquiry Officer. Under Rule 9(1) of the Rules, after perusing the Inquiry Report, the Disciplinary Authority may remit the case for re-Inquiry, either to the same Inquiry Officer or another. However, if such a course is to be adopted by the Disciplinary Authority, he would be obligated to first record his reasons to do so, in writing. That requirement flows, not on any pre-existing principle of law, but only in view of that mandatory requirement incorporated in the Rule 9(1) of the Rules.

(ii) Second, under Rule 9(2) of the Rules, if on perusal of the Inquiry Report, the Disciplinary Authority disagrees with the findings of the Inquiry Officer on all or any charge and proposes to impose penalty, without directing a re-Inquiry under Rule 9(1), he may record his own findings with respect thereto. If he so acts, he would be further obligated to record his reasons in support of such findings. Again, that requirement flows only from the plain reading of Rule 9(2) of the Rules, only.

(iii) Thus, read together, Rule 9(1) and (2) provide for two alternative eventualities/courses, either of which may be adopted by the Disciplinary Authority, if he disagrees with the Inquiry Report exonerating the delinquent of all or any charge. In either case, he would be obligated to record his reasons to do so i.e. whether he proposes a re-Inquiry or to impose punishment, on existing material.

(iv) Third, upon submission of an Inquiry Report - exonerating a delinquent of all charges, the Disciplinary Authority, if he agrees with the findings of the Inquiry Officer, he may (in terms of Rule 9(3) of the Rules), accept that Inquiry Report and conclude the disciplinary proceedings, without issuing any notice to the delinquent.

34. In either of the three eventualities, the legislature has not contemplated any opportunity of hearing to the delinquent, at that stage. Thus, we conclude, the proceedings under Rule 9(1), (2) and (3) remain wholly ex parte, to the delinquent.

35. What follows is Rule 9(4) of the Rules. The said sub-Rule is clearly in three parts:

(a) The first part contains the pre-condition for its exercise. Thus, Rule 9(4) of the Rules may come into play when, in the light of the ex parte 'findings' recorded by the Disciplinary Authority under Rule 9(2) of the Rules, it is of the further view that any of the penalties specified under Rule 3 of the Rules, may be imposed i.e. without first requiring a re-inquiry. Explicitly, that is referable only to Rule 9(2) of the Rules, and not otherwise.

(b) The second part of Rule 9(4) prescribes the procedural compliance to be made by the Disciplinary Authority - to proceed under that sub-Rule. It provides, the Disciplinary Authority may at that stage, grant to the delinquent employee (i) copy of the Inquiry Report; (ii) his own findings (ex parte), recorded under sub-Rule (2) and (iii) reasonable opportunity to represent against his ex parte 'findings'.

(c) The third part of the Rule 9(4) confers the decision making power on the Disciplinary Authority. Here, the legislature mandates the Disciplinary Authority to record his fresh/second set of reasons i.e., his reasons to reject the objections that he may have received from the delinquent employee (to his own ex parte 'findings' recorded under Rule 9(2) of the Rules). Only then, the Disciplinary Authority is enabled to pass "a reasoned order" imposing any of the penalties specified in Rule 3 of the Rules.

36. Rule 9(2) of the Rules lays the mandatory pre-condition to be satisfied, to invoke Rule 9(4) of the Rules. Only where the Disciplinary Authority first disagrees with the Inquiry Officer and further, where (upon such disagreement), the Disciplinary Authority proposes - to himself impose any of the penalties on the delinquent (on the strength of the material contained in the Inquiry Report) after rejecting the conclusions drawn by the Inquiry Officer and without seeking a re-Inquiry under Rule 9(1) of the Rules – first, the provisions of Rule 9(2) of the Rules would have to be strictly complied i.e. ex parte 'findings' and 'reasons' would have to be first recorded by the Disciplinary Authority. Those would be in the nature of a tentative/provisional opinion formed by the Disciplinary Authority on the strength of the material contained in the Inquiry Report, itself. Once that opinion would have been formed by the Disciplinary Authority, Rule 9(4) of the Rules would get activated, and not before. It would obligate the Disciplinary Authority to issue further notice to the delinquent and to supply him a copy of the Inquiry Report together with 'its own' [Rule 9(2)] 'its findings'/'his findings' [Rule 9(4)] and 'reasons' recorded in terms of Rule 9(2) of the Rules.

37. Consequently, further requirement would arise–to pass a reasoned order on all or any one charge that may have been inquired into. The legal mandate/requirement (on the Disciplinary Authority), to pass a 'reasoned order' created under Rule 9(4) of the Rules - to award any particular punishment to the delinquent arises only by way of a necessary consequence or sequel to Rule 9(2) first invoked by the Disciplinary Authority, and not otherwise.

38. That view had been taken by the coordinate bench of this Court in Sanjeev Kumar (supra), wherein it was observed as below:

"6. Rule 9, sub-rule (2) clearly provides that if the disciplinary authority disagrees with the findings of the Inquiry Officer on any charge, it shall record its own finding thereto with the reasons. Sub-rule (4) further requires that if the disciplinary authority is of the opinion that the Government servant deserves imposition of some penalty under rule 3, he shall furnish a copy of the inquiry report along with his findings recorded, if any, under sub-rule (2) of Rule 9 to the delinquent employee and would allow him reasonable time to submit a reply/representation. After receiving the representation, again the disciplinary authority shall consider the aforesaid material along with the reply if any, and pass a reasoned order imposing one or more penalty mentioned in rule 3 and communicate the same to the delinquent employee.

7.Therefore, there are two stages at which the disciplinary authority has to *pass reasoned orders, one under sub-rule (2) and the other under sub-rule (4). Under sub rule (2) it has to record its reasons for disagreement with inquiry report in respect to findings on certain charges and thereafter communicate the same to the latter. Under sub-rule (4) it has to pass a reasoned order for imposing penalty after the re*presentation of the delinquent employee is received.

8.The punishment order dated 9-6-2004. impugned in this writ petition, ex facie shows that after noting down facts pertaining to communication of disagreement and receipt of reply of the delinquent employee, in para 3, respondent No. 1 has recorded his conclusion that charges No. 1, 3 and 4 are proved and the petitioner is liable to pay Rs. 6,837.14 besides censure entry and withholding of increment. The aforesaid order by no means satisfy the requirement of a reasoned order as contemplated under rule 9(4) of 1999 Rules.

...

14.We do not however, agree to the above submission. When the rule framing authority itself has made separate provision making it obligatory upon the disciplinary authority to record reasons at two different stages, one, when it disagrees with the findings of the inquiry officer and, secondly, when it decides to pass an order of punishment after considering the reply given by the delinquent employee against the findings of disagreement of the disciplinary authority, then it is obligatory upon the disciplinary authority to follow such-procedure strictly. This Court would not read the aforesaid provision in such a manner so as to make one or the other exercise nugatory by reading the order in the manner as suggested by learned Standing Counsel. The reasons contained in the disagreement note constitute the ex parte view taken by the disciplinary authority against the findings recorded by the inquiry officer. When it is communicated to the delinquent employee and he submits its reply, the disciplinary authority is benefited with the explanation given by the delinquent employee. In order to find out as to whether it would like to stick to its earlier view of disagreement with the finding of the inquiry officer or the same needs to be changed, modified, partly or wholly in the light of explanation given by the delinquent employee, it has to apply its mind again.

The reasons, therefore, are required to be recorded by the disciplinary authority as to why the explanation given by the delinquent employee is or is not satisfactory. The purpose and objective of reasons to be recorded under sub-rule (2) and (4) of Rule 9 are different. They are to be recorded at different stages with slightly different material inasmuch as at the former stage, the stand of the delinquent employee is not available to the disciplinary authority while in the later case it is available. We, therefore, are clearly of the view that non-observance of Rule 9(4) is fatal since its compliance is mandatory. If the delinquent employee after communicating its disagreement note and inquiry officer's finding to the delinquent employee and after receiving the reply failed to pass a reasoned order imposing punishment upon the delinquent employee, such order would not be tenable in law and has to be set aside.

18.In the circumstances, the writ petition is allowed and the impugned order dated 9-6-2004 is quashed. However, it will be open to the disciplinary authority to pass a fresh order in accordance with law keeping in view the observations made hereinabove. There shall be no order as to costs."

39. It was followed by another coordinate bench of this Court in Nishith

Ranjan Tiwari (supra), wherein it was observed as below:

"In the case ofSanjeev Kumar(supra), the Court has held that Rule 9(2) are mandatory in nature, providing two stages where reasons are required to be provided by the disciplinary authority. In Rule 9(2) when the disciplinary authority disagrees with the inquiry report, reason has to be assigned and the same has been interpreted requiring them to be communicated to the delinquent employee. Admittedly, there is no defence available to the delinquent employee before the disciplinary authority at that stage. Therefore, Rule 9(4) provides that having regard to the findings on all or any of the charges by the disciplinary authority, penalty is specific in Rule 3 should be imposed on the charged government servant for which he shall provide a copy of the inquiry report along with his findings recorded under Sub Rule 2 of rule 9 to him and further required him to submit his representation if he so desires within a reasonable specified time.

In this back drop this rule has been interpreted that consideration of explanation of the petitioner should be made in such a manner that if the disciplinary authority disagrees with the explanation, he has to assign reasons for disagreement with the explanation offered by the delinquent employee failing which the impugned order of punishment shall become illegal."

40. Again, in Neeraj Verma (supra), that view was followed by yet another coordinate bench. It was observed as under:

"12. Sub-rule 2 of Rule 9 of the 1999 Rules clearly provides that if the disciplinary authority disagrees with the findings of the Inquiry Officer on any charge, it shall record its own finding thereto with the reasons. Sub-rule (4) of Rule 9 of the 1999 Rules further requires that if the disciplinary authority is of the opinion that the Government servant deserves imposition of some penalty under Rule 3, he shall furnish a copy of the inquiry report along with his findings recorded, if any, under Sub-rule 2 of Rule 9 to the delinquent employee and would allow him reasonable time to submit a reply/representation. After receiving the representation, the disciplinary authority shall again consider the aforesaid material along with the reply, if any, and pass a reasoned order imposing one or more penalty mentioned in Rule 3 and communicate the same to the delinquent employee.

13. From the aforesaid, it transpires that when the rule framing authority itself has made separate provision, making it obligatory upon the disciplinary authority to record reasons at two different stages, one, when it disagrees with the findings of the inquiry officer and, secondly, when it decides to pass an order of punishment after considering the reply given by the delinquent employee against the findings of disagreement of the disciplinary authority, then it is obligatory upon the disciplinary authority to follow such procedure strictly. The reasons contained in the disagreement note constitute the ex parte view taken by the disciplinary authority against the findings recorded by the inquiry officer. When it is communicated to the delinquent employee and he submits its reply, the disciplinary authority is benefited with the explanation given by the delinquent employee. In order to find out as to whether it would like to stick to its earlier view of disagreement with the finding of the inquiry officer or the same needs to be changed, modified, partly or wholly in the light of explanation given by the delinquent employee, it has to apply its mind again. The reasons, therefore, are required to be recorded by the disciplinary authority as to why the explanation given by the delinquent employee is or is not satisfactory. The purpose and objective of reasons to be recorded under Sub-rule 2 and 4 of Rule 9 are different. They are to be recorded at different stages with slightly different material inasmuch as at the former stage, the stand of the delinquent employee is not available to the disciplinary authority while in the later case it is available. We, therefore, are clearly of the view that non-observance of Rule 9(4) is fatal since its compliance is mandatory. If the delinquent employee after communicating its disagreement note and inquiry officer's finding to the delinquent employee and after receiving the reply failed to pass a reasoned order imposing punishment upon the delinquent employee, such order would not be tenable in law and has to be set aside."

41. We are not inclined to accept the submission advanced by Sri Khare that in the last noted decision, the coordinate bench had ruled that the Disciplinary Authority would be required to record its reason to reject the representation, even in a case where no earlier order may have been passed in terms of Rule 9(2) of the Rules. The words used in a judgement by an author judge are not to be interpreted as words of a statute. The words "if any" used in conjunction with the words "his finding recorded" (with reference to the findings recorded under Rule 9(2) of the Rules), do not suggest or convey that the Disciplinary Authority was enjoined to record its reasons to reject the representations even where he agreed with the conclusions drawn by the Inquiry Officer. Neither any statutory indication nor any discussion exists, to infer such reasoning.

42. The ratio of the decision is contained in the later paragraph where in no unclear terms, it has been held that the requirement to record the reasons in two stages exists where a Disciplinary Authority first disagrees with the finding of the Inquiry Officer and second, where he decides to pass an order of punishment after considering the reply given by the delinquent. It is that procedure that has been held to be obligatory. In the facts of that case, procedure under Rule 9(2) of the Rules had been adopted. In that context the discussion had emerged.

43. To complete the discussion, we may also note, similar view had also been taken by yet another coordinate bench of this Court in Shailendra Kumar Srivastava (supra). There, it was observed as below:

"20. Sub-Rule (2) of Rule 9 of 1999 Rules contains a provision in respect of a situation where there is disagreement with the Inquiry Officer on any charge, by the Disciplinary Authority. According to the said provision, in case the Disciplinary Authority disagrees with the findings of the Inquiry Officer he shall record its own finding thereon for the reasons to be recorded. Once the Disciplinary Authority records reason for disagreeing with the findings of the Inquiry Officer on any charge, the Disciplinary Authority shall thereafter proceed either to exonerate the delinquent officer if charges are not proved or to impose the penalties as specified in Rule 3 of 1999 Rules.

21. It is thus incumbent upon the Disciplinary Authority in terms of Rule 9(2) of the 1999 Rules that in case of disagreement, he has to give reasons while recording his own finding. Sub-Rule (4) of Rule 9 of 1999 Rules provides that the penalty shall be imposed on the delinquent officer only once he is provided with a copy of inquiry report and the finding of the Disciplinary Authority recorded under Sub-Rule (2) of Rule 9 requiring him to submit his representation if he so desires. Thus a careful reading of Rules 9 (2) and 9(4) of the 1999 Rules as discussed here-in-above, makes it clear that in case the Disciplinary Authority does not disagree with the findings of the Inquiry Officer he shall furnish a copy of the Inquiry Report to the Delinquent Officer requiring him to submit his representation to the same and then, he will pass appropriate orders. However, in a situation where the Disciplinary Authority disagrees with the findings of the Inquiry Officer, he has to record his own finding, that too with reasons for disagreement, and thereafter he has to serve the findings and the reasons for disagreement with the findings of the Inquiry Officer to the Delinquent Officer. The requirement as given in Rules 9(2) and 9(4) of 1999 Rules is to provide adequate opportunity to the Charged Officer to rebut the findings of the Disciplinary Authority and the reasons for his disagreement. Such a course as available in Rules 9(2) and 9(4) of the 1999 Rules is in conformity with the principles of natural justice."

44. Therefore, there is no basis to the submission being advanced by learned Senior Counsel for the petitioner that the requirement of recording reasons under Rule 9(4) of the Rules exists and may be enforced, independent of Rule 9(2) of the Rules. The submission is misconceived. It is rejected.

45. Having taken that view, we are further not inclined to accept the submission of Sri Khare that unless Rule 9(4) is read as suggested (by him), there would exist no requirement to furnish a copy of the Inquiry Report to the delinquent and/or to grant him opportunity to represent thereagainst. Though attractive in first blush, the submission must fail. Those requirements arise, sustain and are enforced in law, on the pure strength of Article 311 of the Constitution of India, as interpreted in Mohd. Ramzan Khan (supra). In view of that higher law existing, lack of statutory law (either by principal legislature or its delegate) would make no difference. Consequently, where the Disciplinary Authority intends to agree with the Inquiry Report – concluding the guilt of a delinquent, the Disciplinary Authority may proceed in accordance with procedure prescribed under Article 311 as interpreted by the Supreme Court in Mohd. Ramzan Khan (supra). That circumstance not provided by Rule 9 of the Rules would remain governed by the Constitutional provision (Article 311), as interpreted by the Supreme Court.

46. As to the ratio relied upon by learned Senior Counsel for the petitioner in the decisions of the Supreme Court in Punjab National Bank and Others Vs. K.K. Verma, (2010) 13 SCC 494, Hari Niwas Gupta Vs. State of Bihar (2015) SCC OnLine Pat 4511, Hari Niwas Gupta Vs. State of Bihar (2020) 3 SCC 153, D.K. Agrawal Vs. Council of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, 2021 SCC OnLine SC 903, Dr. Anurika Vaish Vs. Union of India, 2015 SCC OnLine All 9599, Chairman Disciplinary Authority, Rani Lakshmi Bai Kshetriya Gramin Bank Vs. Jagdish Sharan Varshney and Others, (2009) 4 SCC 240 and Institute of Chartered Accountant of India Vs. L.K. Ratna and Others, 1986(4) SCC 537, we find the same to be distinguishable and/or not applicable, to the present facts.

47. In Punjab National Bank and Others (supra), the ratio of Mohd.

Ramzan Khan (supra) had been considered and it was ruled that the right to represent against the findings of the Inquiry Report remained undisturbed by the 42nd Constitutional Amendment. As to facts, Regulation 7(2) of the Punjab National Bank, considered in that decision read as below:

"...

(2) The disciplinary authority shall, if it disagrees with the findings of the inquiring authority on any article of charge, record its reasons for such disagreement and record its own findings on such charge, if the evidence on record is sufficient for the purpose.

..."

48. The above Regulation was read to imply that it mandates the employer to furnish the Inquiry Report to the delinquent in case the Disciplinary Authority chose to record its reason to disagree with the same. In paragraph-24 of the report, it was held as below:

"24.Regulation 7(2) requires the disciplinary authority to record its reasons for disagreement wherever it disagrees with the findings of the enquiry officer. Regulation 9 provides for communicating to the employee concerned, the orders passed under Regulation 7, apart from providing him with a copy of the enquiry report. These Regulations will have to be read as laid down only with a view to provide an opportunity to the employee to represent against the findings to the extent they are adverse to him. Then only will they become meaningful."

49. Clearly, that Regulation 7(2) may be comparable to Rule 9(2) of the Rules. As to facts involved, in that case, the Disciplinary Authority disagreed with the Inquiry Report. Relying on the ratio of the Supreme Court in an earlier decision with respect to the same regulation, in Punjab National Bank and Others Vs. Kunj Behari Mishra, (1998) 7 SCC 84, it was first concluded that the requirement to supply a copy of the Inquiry Report was mandatory. Then as to the requirement of recording of reasons, the Supreme Court found that there was no dispute that though the Disciplinary Authority had differed from the Inquiry Officer, failure to provide copy of the Inquiry Report and failure to afford opportunity to represent thereagainst amounted to critical breach of the procedure. In those facts and on that reasoning, the order of the High Court allowing the writ petition (on that ground), was sustained. As discussed above, that situation would arise under the Rules where the Inquiry Officer would have furnished a report exonerating the delinquent of the charge, yet, the Disciplinary Authority may choose or propose to take a different view on that Inquiry Report itself, to punish the delinquent. Such is not the case here.

50. The decision of the Patna High Court as affirmed by the Supreme Court in Hari Niwas Gupta (supra) arose on entirely different facts and applicable law. There, the inquiry contemplated by law was waived by invoking Article 311(2)(b). In that context, the requirement of recording of reasons was found mandatory. Insofar as specific requirement exists to record reasons to dispense with the domestic inquiry and those reasons had not been recorded by the Disciplinary Authority, completely different legal issue had arisen, in that case. Suffice to note, in the present case, the domestic inquiry was not dispensed. Rather, the disciplinary action has been taken on strength of two Inquiry Reports.

51. In D.K. Agrawal (supra) the procedure before the Council for the purpose of award of penalty was regulated. There existed Chartered Accountant Regulations, 1964. Regulation 15 read as below:

"15. Procedure in a hearing before the Council.

(1) If the Council, in view of its findings, is of opinion that there is a case for passing one of the orders specified in clauses (a) or (b) of sub-section (4) of Section 21, is shall—

(a) furnish to the respondent a copy of the report of the Disciplinary Committee and a copy of its findings : and

(b) give him a notice indicating the order proposed to be passed against him and calling upon him to appear before it on a specified date or if he does not wish to be heard in person, to send within a specified time, such representation in writing as he may wish to make against the proposed order.

(2) The scope of the hearing or of the representation in writing, as the case may be, shall be restricted to the order proposed to be passed.

(3) The Council shall, after hearing the respondent, if he appears in person, or after considering the representation, if any, made by him, pass such orders as it may think fit.

(4) The orders passed by the Council shall be communicated to the complainant and the respondent."

52. In that context of the law, the Supreme Court observed as below:

"21.Needless to say that, the power exercised by the Council under Section 21 is quasi-judicial in nature. Perusal of the recommendations of the Council shows that it did not discuss the report of the Disciplinary Committee, the written statement and the oral submissions of the appellant while coming to the conclusion that he is guilty of misconduct. However, the concluding portion of the recommendations of the Council made an incorrect statement that the Council had considered all the materials on record and the written and oral submissions of the appellant. The observations of the Disciplinary Committee cannot by any stretch of imagination be treated as findings. At best, they may be termed as the material which falls within the domain of consideration by the Council. The Council has failed to give its own independent findings. The recommendations made by the Council are not supported by independent reasons. The recommendations, in our opinion, have been made mechanically by the Council.

22.Recording of reasons is a principle of natural justice and every judicial/quasi-judicial order must be supported by reasons to be recorded in writing. It ensures transparency and fairness in the decision-making process. The person who is adversely affected wants to know as to why his submissions have not been accepted. Giving of reasons ensures that a hearing is not rendered as a meaningless charade. Unless an adjudicatory body is required to give reasons and make findings of fact indicating the evidence upon which it relied, there is no way of knowing whether the concerned body genuinely applied itself to and evaluated the arguments and the evidence advanced at the hearing. Giving reasons is all the more necessary because it gives satisfaction to the party against whom a decision is taken. It is a well-known principle that justice should not only be done but should also be seen to be done. An unreasoned decision may be just, but it may not appear to be so to the person affected. A reasoned decision, on the other hand, will have the appearance of fairness and justice."

53. Again, in the absence of any requirement under the Rules, comparable to the Regulation 13 of the Chartered Accountant Regulations, 1964 (considered by the Supreme Court), the ratio being relied is not applicable to the facts of the present case.

54. At the same time, in Dr. Anurika Vaish (supra), a coordinate bench of this Court observed as under:

"142.There is yet another aspect namely where a collective decision is taken by a body of people, a decision of a policy matter or a declaration of the manner of functioning or any other administrative matter may not necessarily require giving of reasons but where a decision making process which deals with the individual rights of a person and is governed by rules, regulations and statutes, then the power to decide is conferred by law and regulated by it. In such, a situation, even a collective decision by a body cannot afford to be subjective and it has to record reasons. A debate between recording of brief reasons and reasons in detail is always a matter of adjudication. In our opinion, even in a collective decision the reasons even if brief should contain the material on the basis whereof such a reason is being recorded. Any form of vagueness or just cryptically mentioning the conclusion would not suffice to show that reasons have been discussed even while forming a collective opinion. A mere recital of vague reasons would not be sufficient nor a matter like the present one where, the aggrieved party has a right to know the reasons for the decision being taken either for or against him."

55. While it cannot be disputed that such observation was made, it would be premature and inappropriate to conclude that the said ratio is applicable to the instant case involving disciplinary proceedings governed by Rule 9 of the Rules. Suffice to note, the general principle considered by the coordinate bench did not arise in the context of any pari materia provision in law. Thus, what has been laid down by the coordinate bench is a sound principle to be applied in appropriate case. However, it would remain subject to just exceptions arising from specific statutory provisions, that may commend otherwise. Since the present proceedings arise from Rule 9 of the Rules, we may not rush to apply the principle considered by the coordinate bench in the above noted decision, in preference to the statutory rule that otherwise applies. As noted above, specifically Rule 9 has been considered in Sanjeev Kumar (supra). That principle has been consistently applied. Therefore, there is no reason to depart from that consistent reasoning accepted and applied by this Court, to apply a general principle of law laid down by another coordinate bench of the Court in Dr. Anurika Vaish (supra), especially since that principle of law did not arise with reference to Rule 9 of the Rules.

56. Also, the decision of the Supreme Court in Chairman Disciplinary Authority, Rani Lakshmi Bai Kshetriya Gramin Bank (supra), laid down that an order of affirmation need not contain elaborate reasons like an order of reversal but it does not mean that the order of affirmation need not contain any reason whatsoever. At the same time, it may not be forgotten that the said observation was made in the context of exercise of appellate power to affirm an order or punishment. In the present case, the issue has arisen not on the appellate authority having affirmed the order passed by the Disciplinary Authority and thus confirmed the penalty. On the contrary, in the present case affirmation is not to an order passed by a lower authority but it is the order passed by the original authority itself i.e. the Disciplinary Authority accepting the Inquiry Reports containing findings of the Inquiry Officers (here Judges). For that reason, the principle invoked by learned Senior Counsel for the petitioner would remain inapplicable to the facts that are wholly dissimilar.

57. In L.K. Ratna and Others (supra), the ratio arose in the context of Regulation governing the disciplinary proceedings against a Chartered Accountant. That ratio would not apply to the present case inasmuch as detailed procedure for inquiry into misconduct of members of the Institute of Chartered Accountant existed in the shape of Section 21 of the Chartered Accountant Act, 1949. Section 21(3) of the Act clearly provided for recording of reasons by the Disciplinary Authority itself - to support the findings of misconduct. Therefore, that decision is also wholly distinguishable.

58. Coming to the exact proceeding before us, in Umesh Chandra (supra), another coordinate bench of the Court had the occasion to consider a similar objection. The objection as to lack of reasons given by the Full Court was specifically examined in the context of penalty handed out to a Judicial Officer, by this Court. It was observed as below :-

"27.It has further been submitted by Sri Rajvanshi that the Administrative Committee as well as the Full Court had not recorded any reason while passing the impugned order and rejecting the representation of the petitioner, therefore, the order impugned stands vitiated. This contention lacks merit for the reason that this is a matter of common knowledge that inquiry report is accepted first by the Administrative Committee after full deliberations and only then it is being made available to the delinquent officer for making comments. It is reconsidered after receiving the comments of the delinquent officer and having deliberations. The matter is then placed before the Full Court wherein the further deliberations take place. Thus a very cumbersome procedure is prescribed to have the check and balance and to rule out the possibility of arbitrariness, as deliberations take place in Full Court. An order does not become bad merely because reasons have not been recorded unless the delinquent succeeds in establishing that such a decision was not permissible on the report submitted by the Inquiry Judge or the inquiry report itself was perverse being based on no evidence or contrary to the evidence on record. (VideRam Kumarv.State of Haryana,1987 Supp SCC 582:AIR 1987 SC 2043;Somduttav.Union of India, AIR 1989 SC 414;S.N. Mukherjiv.Union of India,(1990) 4 SCC 594;Union of Indiav.E.G. Nambodiri,(1991) 3 SCC 38:AIR 1991 SC 1216;State Bank of Bikaner & Jaipurv.Prabhu Dayal Grover,(1995) 6 SCC 279;State of U.P.v.Yamuna Shanker Mishra,(1997) 4 SCC 7:AIR 1997 SC 3671;Badri Nathv.Government of Tamil Nadu,(2000) 8 SCC 395; andState of U.P.v.Narendra Nath Sinha, AIR 2001 SCW 3380).

28.InNational Fertilizers Ltd.v.P.K. Khanna, AIR 2005 SCW 4333, the Apex Court reiterated the same view observing as under:—

"The concurrence of the Disciplinary Authority with the reasoning and conclusion of the Inquiry Officer means that the Disciplinary Authority has adopted the conclusion and the basis of the conclusion as its own. It is not for the Disciplinary Authority to restate the reasoning."

29.Recording of reasons is warranted necessarily in case the Disciplinary Authority does not agree with the findings recorded by the Inquiry Officer. Therefore, we find no substance in the aforesaid submission at all."

59. In absence of any requirement under the Rules to obligate the Disciplinary Authority i.e. Full Court to record its express reasons to accept the Inquiry Report and award penalty, it commends to us that the general principal in law governing award of penalties in service matters as laid down by the Supreme Court in Ram Kumar (supra) is good law. In paragraph 8 of the said report it was held as below:

"8.In view of the contents of the impugned order, it is difficult to say that the punishing authority had not applied his mind to the case before terminating the services of the appellant. The punishing authority has placed reliance upon the report of the enquiry officer which means that he has not only agreed with the findings of the enquiry officer, but also has accepted the reasons given by him for the findings. In our opinion, when the punishing authority agrees with the findings of the enquiry officer and accepts the reasons given by him in support of such findings, it is not necessary for the punishing authority to again discuss evidence and come to the same findings as that of the enquiry officer and give the same reasons for the findings. We are unable to accept the contention made on behalf of the appellant that the impugned order of termination is vitiated as it is a non-speaking order and does not contain any reason. When by the impugned order the punishing authority has accepted the findings of the enquiry officer and the reasons given by him, the question of non-compliance with the principles of natural justice does not arise. It is also incorrect to say that the impugned order is not a speaking order."

60. That principle has been reiterated in Boloram Bordoloi (supra) wherein it has been observed as below :-

"11.We are of the view that the judgment of this Court inECIL[ECILv.B. Karunakar, (1993) 4 SCC 727 : 1993 SCC (L&S) 1184] is not helpful to the case of the appellant. Further, it is well settled that if the disciplinary authority accepts the findings recorded by the enquiry officer and passes an order, no detailed reasons are required to be recorded in the order imposing punishment. The punishment is imposed based on the findings recorded in the enquiry report, as such, no further elaborate reasons are required to be given by the disciplinary authority. As the departmental appeal was considered by the Board of Directors in the meeting held on 10-12-2005, the Board's decision is communicated vide order dated 21-12-2005 in Ref. No. LGB/I&V/Appeal/31/02/2005-06. In that view of the matter, we do not find any merit in the submission of the learned counsel for the appellant that the orders [Boloram Bordoloiv.Lakhmi Gaolia BankWrit Appeal No. 361 of 2008, order dated 3-4-2009 (Gau)],[Boloram Bordoloiv.Lakhimi Gaonlia Bank, WP (C) No. 219 of 2006, order dated 8-6-2007 (Gau)] impugned are devoid of reasons. "

61. To the same effect (though in different facts), it has been reasoned by another coordinate bench of this Court in Madhav Prasad (Supra). To keep the our discussion limited, amongst others the following question was considered by that coordinate bench:

"Whether the disciplinary/appointing authority and the appellate authority are required to record detailed/separate reasons, even if they agree with the findings of the inquiry report."

62. The same was answered in the following terms:

"63. We have already held that it is not necessary to record detailed/ separate reasons in case the appointing/disciplinary authority or the appellate authority agrees with the findings of the inquiry officer but this does not mean that the reasons may not be recorded. It is advisable that the reasons be recorded in order to show fairness and the fact that the case has been considered.

64. Separate reasons may not be necessary for agreeing with the findings of the inquiry report however this does not mean that in case any other point, apart from the finding of the inquiry report-for example that no opportunity has been afforded or bias-is taken then it should not be dealt by a reasoned order.""

63. Ultimately, it was recorded as below:

"(v) The appointing/disciplinary or the appellate authority is not required to record detailed/separate reasons in case they agree with the inquiry report containing valid reasons. However in case questions-other than finding of the inquiry officer-are involved then the appointing/disciplinary J or the appellate authority is required to record its reasons on those questions. In this case some such questions were involved but most of them were raised for the first time in the writ petition. We have also rejected all of them; there is no necessity to send the case back."

64. Thus, both in the context of the Rules and the binding law, we are of the view that the Disciplinary Authority / Full Court was not obligated to record its express reasons-to reject the representation made by the delinquent or to accept the Inquiry Report or to award particular penalty.

65. Coming to the further submissions advanced by learned Senior Counsel for the petitioner, it must be recognized – to sustain a challenge raised to a Domestic Inquiry it must be shown to be vitiated. If the Domestic Inquiry was fair and proper, the punishment awarded by the Disciplinary Authority may not be interfered with, even by an appellate authority, if there had been one. In the context of judicial review proceeding that have arisen before us, exercise of our jurisdiction may remain confined to examine if the procedural requirements had been complied with and if the two Domestic Inquiries were fair and proper.

66. Fact conclusions drawn on appraisal of material, quantum of penalties awarded may not (per se) warrant our consideration. Only in very exceptional cases, where grossly punishment is seen awarded (to the proven misconduct), limited room may exist - to examine that issue. If charges levelled against the petitioner, a senior judicial officer are seen duly proven at the Domestic Inquiries and a charge being (amongst others), to try influence another judicial officer in the course of a judicial proceeding, it may itself eclipse any further consideration to the quantum of punishment awarded. Therefore, the first issue to be examined is fairness and completeness of the two domestic inquiries.

67. During the course of hearing, we had required learned counsel for the parties to make available to us date charts of the two inquiry proceedings. Both sides have provided us the same. We consider it proper to make reference to the details of the two inquiries. The first inquiry i.e. the Departmental Inquiry No.21 of 2015 commenced with the issuance of Charge Sheet on 08.08.2016. On that the petitioner filed his written statement on 12.07.2017. The next date was fixed on 09.08.2017. On that date the petitioner absented whereas the other delinquent (hereinafter referred to as second delinquent), was present. He pressed for permission to be assisted by a retired judicial officer. It was allowed. On that date, statement of E.W.-1 (wife of the second delinquent), was partly recorded and its copy provided to the second delinquent. On the next date 10.08.2017 also, the petitioner remained absent. The statement of E.W.-1 was continued to be recorded in the first half. The inquiry was postponed for 6:30 p.m. The petitioner remained absent in those proceedings as well. The statement of E.W.-1 continued to be recorded on the next date fixed, 18.09.2017. Also, part statement of E.W.-1 was recorded on 10.08.2017. Its copy was provided to the second delinquent.

68. Before the next date fixed (18.09.2017), on 12.09.2017, the petitioner moved an adjournment application. It was rejected on that date itself. Consequently, on the next date fixed on 18.09.2017, the second delinquent appeared before the Inquiry Judge 'A' whereas the petitioner continued to absent himself. For that continued absence, the inquiry was directed to proceed ex parte against the petitioner. The statement-in-chief of E.W.-1 was completed and the Inquiry fixed for 30.10.2017 - for cross-examination of E.W.-1.

69. On that date, the petitioner presented himself at the inquiry and raised objections as to the preparation of charge sheet and rejection of (certain) applications. He also prayed for stay of the inquiry proceedings. At the same time, he applied for recall of E.W.-1. Since E.W.-1 had not been cross-examined till then, the application for her recall was rejected. Copy of statement of E.W.-1 recorded 09.08.2017, 10.08.2017 and 18.09.2017 was provided to the petitioner. E.W.-1 was offered for cross-examination. At that stage, the petitioner refused to cross-examine the E.W.-1, expressing his inability. At the same time, E.W.-1 prayed to make further statement. That prayer was accepted and her further statement was recorded. On that date, second delinquent remained absent. Accordingly, the inquiry was fixed for 07.12.2017 for the cross-examination of E.W.-1

70. Before the next date (7.12.2017), on 25.11.2017, the petitioner again moved an application seeking adjournment. It was rejected on 27.11.2017 with the observation that inquiry would proceed ex parte against the petitioner, if he failed to appear on the date fixed. The petitioner filed yet another application on 30.11.2017 - to be provided copies of the earlier orders passed by the Inquiry Judge 'A' and also copy of the orders requiring him to remain present on the next date.

71. On the date fixed 07.12.2017, the second delinquent moved application to refer to the matter to the Mediation Centre attached to the High Court. It was rejected and the second delinquent was offered to cross-examine E.W.-1. At the same time, the present petitioner now moved application seeking assistance of a practising lawyer. That application was also rejected. However, the Inquiry Judge 'A' again granted opportunity to the petitioner to cross examine E.W.-1 on 11.12.2017.

72. On 11.12.2017, the petitioner as also the second delinquent were present. The petitioner pressed his application dated 08.12.2017, seeking adjournment. It was rejected and at that stage the Inquiry Judge 'A' directed the Inquiry to proceed on day-to-day basis. Also, the Inquiry Judge 'A' dealt with further applications moved by second delinquent to drop the charges and to adjourn the Inquiry proceedings till conclusion of criminal proceedings. Faced with that consequence, the second delinquent began and on 12.12.2017, he completed the cross examination of E.W.-1. Thereafter, the petitioner began the cross-examination of E.W.-1. However, it could not conclude till 7:45 P.M. on 12.12.2017. Accordingly the matter was fixed for the next date i.e. 13.12.2017. On that date the petitioner again absented himself and moved an adjournment application of the same date. It was rejected by the Inquiry Judge 'A' and opportunity earlier granted to the petitioner to cross examine E.W.-1, was closed. The next date fixed in inquiry on 23.01.2018. However, on that date Inquiry Judge 'A' was not available. Therefore, the next date was fixed for 06.02.2018.

73. On 06.02.2018 also the petitioner remained absent. Since the Inquiry had been directed to proceed ex parte against him, it was continued. On 06.02.2018, 07.02.2018, 09.02.2018 statements of E.W.-2, E.W.-3, E.W.-4 and E.W.-5 were recorded. Those, witnesses were cross-examined by the second delinquent. However, the petitioner remained absent, without any application for adjournment etc. Next date was fixed for 20.02.2018 to 22.02.2018.

74. On 19.02.2018, the petitioner moved another adjournment application dated 15.02.2018. It was also rejected, in view of the earlier order of Inquiry Judge 'A' to proceed on a day-to-day basis.

75. On 20.02.2018, 21.02.2018 and 22.02.2018, E.W-6, E.W-7, E.W-8 and E.W-9 were examined by the Presenting Officer. They were cross-examined by the second delinquent. However, the petitioner remained absent. At that stage, the Presenting Officer informed the Inquiry Judge 'A' that no further evidence was to be led by the employer. The Inquiry was then fixed for 16.03.2018, for defence evidence.

76. Two days prior to the date fixed, the second delinquent filed an application providing a list of 45 defence witnesses. He was required to state the relevancy of the witnesses named by him. On the date fixed, 16.03.2018, while the petitioner remained absent, the second delinquent moved another application seeking adjournment for one week. The matter was thus adjourned to 27.03.2018. On 27.03.2018, orders were passed on the application of the second delinquent regarding relevancy of Defence Witnesses and the next date was fixed in the inquiry, for 16.04.2018. However, the present petitioner remained absent on that date also and did not make any application or furnish list of Defence Witnesses.

77. On 16.04.2018, the Defence Witnesses (of the second delinquent), were present but both delinquent absented. At the same time, it may also be noted, the second delinquent moved an adjournment application on which request, Inquiry proceeding was fixed for 07.05.2018. Yet, the petitioner neither remained present nor moved any application. Later, on 04.05.2018 an adjournment application was moved by the present petitioner. It was allowed and the Inquiry proceeding adjourned for the date 14.05.2018. It was also made clear that the application moved by the petitioner dated 02.04.2018 seeking recall of Employer Witness would be considered on the next date.

78. The present petitioner then moved another adjournment application on 04.05.2018 and another application to inquire about the status of his earlier application dated 02.04.2018. The Inquiry Judge 'A' fixed the date on 14.05.2018.

79. Though it was made very clear to the petitioner that no further adjournment would be granted, yet again, adjournment was sought. It was granted for the date 16.05.2018.

80. On another application made by the second delinquent the Inquiry had been fixed for 23.07.2018. On that date fixed, amongst others, again an adjournment was granted to the petitioner for the date 08.08.2018 - to decide the petitioner's application dated 02.04.2018 seeking recall of Employer Witness. Also, on 23.7.2018, upon adjournment sought by the second delinquent, next date fixed was 11.08.2018. Also, 08.08.2018, the petitioner, moved another set of adjournment applications dated 31.07.2018 and 01.08.2018. Those were rejected and the order communicated to the petitioner. Instead of appearing on the next date fixed (08.08.2018), the petitioner again moved an adjournment application, this time through e-mail. At that stage, after having granted repeated and continued opportunities (to the petitioner to participate in the Inquiry and also to press his application for recall of witness), after a very long period of time, the Inquiry Judge 'A' finally proceeded to reject the application seeking recall of E.W.-1. Also, having rejected the application moved through e-mail, the Inquiry was fixed for 11.08.2018, for opportunity to lead Defence Evidence.

81. On 11.08.2018 also, the petitioner and the second delinquent did not appear. Besides seeking repeated adjournments and thus delaying the inquiry proceedings, the petitioner did not file any application disclosing his desire to lead any evidence. In any case, the petitioner did not appear on the date fixed. Therefore, in such circumstances, the Inquiry Judge 'A' closed his opportunity to lead Defence Evidence and Inquiry was fixed for oral hearing, on 31.08.2018.

82. After the opportunity to lead the defence evidence stood closed, the petitioner filed another application dated 21.08.2018 to seek permission to lead the Defence Evidence. Objections were invited thereon, on 24.08.2018. The application itself was fixed for disposal on the date already fixed in Inquiry i.e., 31.08.2018.

83. On 31.08.2018, the second delinquent appeared and sought legal assistance. It was granted. At the same time, the petitioner remained absent. Consequently, his applications dated 21.08.2018, 23.08.2018 and 28.08.2018 were disposed of, first. The application dated 23.08.2018 to be supplied copies was rendered infructuous whereas his application dated 21.08.2018 to lead defence evidence and his further application dated 28.08.2018 came to be rejected. At the same time in view of the order passed on the separate application made by the second delinquent, the Inquiry was fixed for 04.09.2018.

84. On 04.09.2018, the petitioner again absented whereas the second delinquent remained present and led defence evidence. The Defence Witness was cross-examined by the Presenting Officer. Next date was then fixed for 05.09.2018.

85. On that date, the petitioner as also the second delinquent remained absent. Neither filed any application to seek adjournment. Even the Defence Witness remained absent. Accordingly, the Inquiry Judge 'A' closed the defence evidence and the Inquiry was fixed for 12.09.2018.

86. Having thus got time, predictably, on 11.09.2019, the petitioner filed another adjournment application and on this occasion stated that on his application an agenda item had been placed before the Administrative Committee of the Court. Therefore, the matter may be adjourned to another date. The learned Inquiry Judge 'A' adjourned the Inquiry for 26.09.2018. However, on that date the matter had to be further adjourned for 03.10.2018 as the Presiding Officer was on another official duty.

87. On 03.10.2018, the matter had to be adjourned as Inquiry Judge 'A' was on leave. Accordingly, the matter was fixed for 10.10.2018, for submissions and disposal of applications dated 07.09.2018 and 11.09.2018 moved by the petitioner. On the date fixed i.e., 10.10.2018, the petitioner again remained absent. Accordingly, the Inquiry was fixed for the next date 11.10.2018.

88. On 11.10.2018, both delinquent remained absent. Accordingly, the applications of the petitioner were rejected for non-prosecution and the Presenting Officer was heard. The Inquiry Report was reserved.

89. After that stage had been crossed, the petitioner again moved an application dated 16.10.2018 requesting for opportunity for hearing to be granted to him before preparation of Inquiry Report. Even at that stage, the Inquiry Judge ‘A’ allowed that application and fixed the matter for 14.11.2018. By further order dated 25.10.2018 the Inquiry was fixed for 14.11.2018. On that date though the petitioner remained present however, he refused to advance submissions. Considering such conduct of the petitioner, the Inquiry Report was reserved.

90. Seen in that light, there is no procedural defect noted in the Inquiry proceeding in Departmental Inquiry No. 21 of 2015. Admittedly, the charge sheet was served on the petitioner alongwith a copy of the documents etc. He was given much more than fair or deserved or warranted opportunity to furnish his reply, cross examine the witnesses, lead evidence and present defence.

91. As noted above, the Inquiry lingered and in any case remained pending over a long period from 08.08.2016 (when the charge sheet was issued), for almost after three years, owing solely to the erring conduct offered by the petitioner. Innumerable adjournments were sought by him. More than reasonable opportunities were granted to the petitioner to participate in the inquiry proceedings, at each stage. The petitioner, absolutely abused the opportunity of hearing granted to him. He made all efforts to defeat the fair conduct of the Inquiry and made a mockery of the law.

92. On several occasions, despite it being known to the petitioner that the proceedings would not be adjourned any further and would proceed ex parte against him, he continued to maintain his conduct of deliberate non-participation. It appear to be the most conscious act on part of the petitioner to wilfully avoid the disciplinary proceedings. Yet, preserving him from any harm that he otherwise deserved (for reason of his conduct), the Inquiry Judge 'A' took a lenient view and allowed the petitioner to participate in the inquiry proceedings. Yet, the conduct of the petitioner remained defiant to the extent he failed to participate. In the present facts, the repeated opportunities granted to the petitioner (despite his conduct to consciously absent therefrom), were not deserved in law, rather, they may have been occasioned by indulgence granted by the Inquiry Judge 'A'.

93. The petitioner offered an unrepentant conduct that may only be described – in one word, as 'incorrigible'. Therefore, the petitioner may never claim that he was not heard - on one date or another. No order passed by the Inquiry Judge 'A' may be read in isolation and the petitioner may not be permitted to falsely exaggerate the alleged adverse consequence visited on him by such order. On the whole and consistently as also on purpose, the petitioner is seen wholly and solely responsible for the consequence of ex parte Inquiry Report that came to be visited on him.

94. What then requires our consideration is, if sufficient evidence was led to prove the charge of misconduct. Before we may take note of the evidence led to prove the charge of misconduct, it would be relevant to consider the law with respect to the scope of disciplinary proceedings and misconduct alleged against an employee. In State of Haryana & Anr. Vs. Rattan Singh, (1977) 2 SCC 491, Justice V. R. Krishna Iyer in his inimitable and unique style expressed the principle thus:

"4.It is well settled that in a domestic enquiry the strict and sophisticated rules of evidence under the Indian Evidence Act may not apply. All materials which are logically probative for a prudent mind are permissible. There is no allergy to hearsay evidence provided it has reasonable nexus and credibility. It is true that departmental authorities and Administrative Tribunals must be careful in evaluating such material and should not glibly swallow what is strictly speaking not relevant under the Indian Evidence Act. For this proposition it is not necessary to cite decisions nor text books, although we have been taken through case-law and other authorities by counsel on both sides. The essence of a judicial approach is objectivity, exclusion of extraneous materials or considerations and observance of rules of natural justice. Of course, fairplay is the basis and if perversity or arbitrariness, bias or surrender of independence of judgment vitiate the conclusions reached, such finding, even though of a domestic tribunal, cannot be held good. However, the courts below misdirected themselves, perhaps, in insisting that passengers who had come in and gone out should be chased and brought before the tribunal before a valid finding could be recorded. The 'residuum' rule to which counsel for the respondent referred, based upon certain passages from American Jurisprudence does not go to that extent nor does the passage from Halsbury insist on such rigid requirement. The simple point is, was theresomeevidence or was therenoevidence — not in the sense of the technical rules governing regular court proceedings but in a fair commonsense way as men of understanding and worldly wisdom will accept. Viewed in this way, sufficiency of evidence in proof of the finding by a domestic tribunal is beyond scrutiny. Absence ofany evidencein support of a finding is certainly available for the court to look into because it amounts to an error of law apparent on the record."

95. Then, applying that test to cases involving misconduct by a judicial officer, the law on the subject was considered by a coordinate bench of this Court in Umesh Chandra (supra), wherein it was observed as under :

"14.InHigh Court of Judicature at Bombayv.Udaysingh,(1997) 5 SCC 129:AIR 1997 SC 2286the Hon'ble Apex Court while dealing with a case of judicial officer held as under:—

"Since the respondent is a judicial officer and the maintenance of discipline in the judicial service is a paramount matter and since the acceptability of the judgment depends upon the creditability of the conduct, honesty, integrity and character of the officer and since the confidence of the litigant public gets affected or shaken by the lack of integrity and character of the judicial officer, we think that imposition of penalty of dismissal from service is well justified."

15.This Court inRam Chandra Shuklav.State of U.P., (2002) 1 ALR 138 held that the case of judicial officers has to be examined in the light of a different standard that of other administrative officers. There is much requirement of credibility of the conduct and integrity of judicial officers. InHigh Court of Judicature at Bombayv.Shirish Kumar Rangrao Patil,(1997) 6 SCC 339:AIR 1997 SC 2631, the Supreme Court observed as under:—

"The lymph nodes (cancerous cells) of corruption constantly keep creeping into the vital veins of the judiciary and the need to stem it out by judicial surgery lies on the judiciary itself by its self-imposed or corrective measures or disciplinary action under the doctrine of control enSrined in Articles 235, 124 (6) of the Constitution. It would, therefore, be necessary that there should be constant vigil by the High Court concerned on its subordinate judiciary and self-introspection.

When such a constitutional function was exercised by the administrative side of the High Court any judicial review thereon should have been made not only with great care and circumspection, but confining strictly to the parameters set by this Court in the aforesaid decisions. ---------"

…

17.InAll India Judges' Associationv.Union of India,(1992) 1 SCC 119:AIR 1992 SC 165, the Hon'ble Supreme Court observed that Judges perform a "function that is utterly divine" and officers of the subordinate judiciary have the responsibility of building up of the case appropriately to answer the cause of justice. "The personality, knowledge, judicial restrain, capacity to maintain dignity" are the additional aspects which go into making the Courts functioning successfully.

18.InTarak Singhv.Jyoti Basu,(2005) 1 SCC 201, the Hon'ble Supreme Court observed as under:—

"Today, the judiciary is the repository of public faith. It is the trustee of the people. It is the last hope of the people. After every knock of all the doors fail, people approach the judiciary as a last resort. It is the only temple worshipped by every citizen of this nation, regardless of religion, caste, sex or place of birth because of the power he wields. A Judge is being judged with more strictness than others. Integrity is the hallmark of judicial discipline, apart from others. It is high time the judiciary must take utmost care to see that the temple of justice does not crack from inside which will lead to a catastrophe in the justice delivery system resulting in the failure of public confidence in the system. We must remember woodpeckers inside pose larger threat than the storm outside."

96. Then, in R. R. Parekh (supra), the Supreme Court observed as below :

"16. ...The issue which arises in such cases is whether there are circumstances from which an inference that extraneous considerations have actuated a judicial officer can legitimately be drawn. Such an inference cannot obviously be drawn merely from a hypothesis that a decision is erroneous. A wrong decision can yet be a bona fide error of judgment. Inadvertence is consistent with an honest error of judgment. A charge of misconduct against a judicial officer must be distinguished from a purely erroneous decision whether on law or on fact. The legality of a judicial determination is subject to such remedies as are provided in law for testing the correctness of the determination. It is not the correctness of the verdict but the conduct of the officer which is in question. The disciplinary authority has to determine whether there has emerged from the record one or more circumstances that indicate that the decision which forms the basis of the charge of misconduct was not an honest exercise of judicial power. The circumstances let into evidence to establish misconduct have to be sifted and evaluated with caution. The threat of disciplinary proceedings must not demotivate the honest and independent officer. Yet on the other hand, there is a vital element of accountability to society involved in dealing with cases of misconduct. There is on the one hand a genuine public interest in protecting fearless and honest officers of the District Judiciary from motivated criticism and attack. Equally there is a genuine public interest in holding a person who is guilty of wrongdoing, responsible for his or her actions. Neither aspect of public interest can be ignored. Both are vital to the preservation of the integrity of the administration of justice."

97. Applying that principle, we note, Charge no. 4 in Departmental Inquiry No. 21 of 2015 was with respect to efforts made by the petitioner to influence a junior judicial officer - the learned Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Court No. 5, Meerut in a judicial proceeding arising out of Case Crime No. 472 of 2014 - the case in which the petitioner and his close family members were directly involved and interested. The FIR had been lodged by none other than the wife of the present petitioner, making allegations that EW-1 (her sister-in-law) had inflicted serious injuries to the petitioner.

98. In support of that Charge, documentary evidence in the shape of order sheet dated 18.12.2015 prepared by the learned Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, in his own handwriting, was proved. It established that the wife of the petitioner had pressured the learned Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate to allow her application dated 14.12.2015 or to keep the matter pending at the stage of cognizance and issue of summons to the accused persons. No material was brought before the Inquiry Judge 'A' to doubt that order sheet entry. Also, the learned Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate and the learned District Judge at whose complaint Departmental Inquiry No. 21 of 2015 had been initiated, were examined by the Inquiry Judge 'A'. They were extensively cross-examined by the second delinquent. The Inquiry Judge has considered that evidence and observed, that no evidence existed to dislodge the statements of EW6 and EW7, namely the learned District Judge and the learned Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate. It was thus found proved that the misconduct alleged, occurred and was reported.

99. On a holistic consideration of that objective and relevant material, the Inquiry Judge 'A' reached the subjective conclusion that the petitioner had tried to influence a judicial officer - in the course of a judicial proceeding involving the petitioner and his family members. The most serious misconduct had been made out against the petitioner, a senior judicial officer. It needs no emphasis that a judicial office may remain distant and pure – unaffected and immune to personal gain and/or loss. Any transgression committed by a judicial officer to extract any benefit for the self or for the benefit of those to whom the judicial officer may be closely related, would always be dealt with most severely. Once the 'bad fish' is identified, it may not be retained in the 'tank'. No room may ever exist and no margin of error may be permitted as may allow any possibility for a judicial officer to seek to influence another judicial officer, in exercise of judicial function. If there exists a temple of justice, judicial officers must act like its high priests who must not only conduct the rituals involving discharge of their duties on the dias but they must zealously guard the purity of the temple itself. A judicial officer who defiles his office, merits no mercy.

100. With respect to charge no. 2 of false injury to his person, it was noted - an FIR was lodged alleging offences under Section 395 and 397 IPC. With respect to the same, the Inquiry Judge 'A' found that EW1, the wife of the second delinquent had elaborately described the occurrence to the effect that she along with her close family members had visited the petitioner's residence to resolve her matrimonial discord. In that process, when EW1 along with her close family members reached the residence of the petitioner, they were first locked up inside a room. Thereafter, the petitioner inflicted injuries to his person, using a shaving blade. He then ran out - shouting that he had been injured by EW1. Thus, at his instance, the situation was falsely escalated. Thereupon, police personnel visited the place of occurrence. They were pressured by the petitioner to arrest the complainant/EW1. Though the said witness was elaborately cross-examined by the second delinquent and was partly cross-examined by the present petitioner, no material has been shown to exist (on the Inquiry record), to doubt the truthfulness of the statement of EW1, before the Inquiry Judge 'A'. Similar facts were stated by EW3, the father-in-law of the second delinquent. EW5, a brother officer of the petitioner (who was residing in the same residential colony as the petitioner), also testified as to the occurrence that had taken place at the petitioner's official residence on 26.06.2014. In that, he described that the petitioner had some altercation at his residence. He further admitted knowledge as to existence of matrimonial discord in the marriage of the second delinquent. At the same time, he further stated that he had not heard of any incident involving robbery committed by the complainant/EW1, at the residence of the petitioner. Seen in that light, no material had arisen before the Inquiry Judge 'A' to doubt the allegation of exaggeration of the real occurrence. Less so, no evidence was led to establish occurrence involving ingredients of serious offences under Section 395 and 397 IPC.

101. Other charges alleging efforts to influence the Investigating Officer and demand of dowry, were also found proved.

102. That being the status of evidence and findings recorded on the strength of the material and evidence, we are unable to accept the submission being advanced by learned Senior Counsel for the petitioner that the findings recorded by the Inquiry Judge 'A', were conjectural. In paragraph-2 of R.R. Parekh (supra), it has been observed as below :

"20.A disciplinary inquiry, it is well settled, is not governed by the strict rules of evidence which govern a criminal trial. A charge of misconduct in a disciplinary proceeding has to be established on a preponderance of probabilities. The High Court while exercising its power of judicial review under Article 226 has to determine as to whether the charge of misconduct stands established with reference to some legally acceptable evidence. The High Court would not interfere unless the findings are found to be perverse. Unless it is a case of no evidence, the High Court would not exercise its jurisdiction under Article 226. If there is some legal evidence to hold that a charge of misconduct is proved, the sufficiency of the evidence would not fall for re-appreciation or re-evaluation before the High Court. Applying these tests, it is not possible to fault the decision of the Division Bench of the Gujarat High Court on the charge of misconduct. The charge of misconduct was established in Disciplinary Inquiry No. 15 of 2000."

103. Then, in Pandey Gajendra Prasad & Ors. (supra) with respect to the scope of judicial review in such proceedings, the Supreme Court observed as below :

"18.It is trite that the scope of judicial review, under Article 226 of the Constitution, of an order of punishment passed in departmental proceedings, is extremely limited. While exercising such jurisdiction, interference with the decision of the departmental authorities is permitted, if such authority has held the proceedings in violation of the principles of natural justice or in violation of statutory regulations prescribing the mode of such enquiry or if the decision of the authority is vitiated by considerations extraneous to the evidence on the merits of the case, or if the conclusion reached by the authority, on the face of it, is wholly arbitrary or capricious that no reasonable person could have arrived at such a conclusion, or grounds very similar to the above. (SeeShashikant S. Patil[(2000) 1 SCC 416 : 2000 SCC (L&S) 144] .)

19.Explaining the scope of jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution, inState of A.P.v.S. Sree Rama Rao[AIR 1963 SC 1723 : (1964) 3 SCR 25] , this Court made the following observations: (AIR pp. 1726-27, para 7)

"7. ... The High Court is not constituted in a proceeding under Article 226 of the Constitution a court of appeal over the decision of the authorities holding a departmental enquiry against a public servant: it is concerned to determine whether the enquiry is held by an authority competent in that behalf, and according to the procedure prescribed in that behalf, and whether the rules of natural justice are not violated. Where there is some evidence, which the authority entrusted with the duty to hold the enquiry has accepted and which evidence may reasonably support the conclusion that the delinquent officer is guilty of the charge, it is not the function of the High Court in a petition for a writ under Article 226 to review the evidence and to arrive at an independent finding on the evidence."

20.Elaborating on the scope of judicial review of an assessment of the conduct of a judicial officer by a committee, approved by the Full Court, inSyed T.A. Naqshbandiv.State of J&K[(2003) 9 SCC 592 : 2003 SCC (L&S) 1151] this Court noted as follows: (SCC p. 600, para 7)

"7. ... As has often been reiterated by this Court, judicial review is permissible only to the extent of finding whether the process in reaching the decision has been observed correctly and not the decision itself, as such. Critical or independent analysis or appraisal of the materials by the courts exercising powers of judicial review unlike the case of an appellate court, would neither be permissible nor conducive to the interests of either the officers concerned or the system and institutions of administration of justice with which we are concerned in this case, by going into the correctness as such of ACRs or the assessment made by the Committee and approval accorded by the Full Court of the High Court."

104. Then, in P. Gunasekaran (supra), the principle governing the exercise of discretionary jurisdiction under Article 226 and 227 of the Constitution of India, was summarised as below :

12.Despite the well-settled position, it is painfully disturbing to note that the High Court has acted as an appellate authority in the disciplinary proceedings, reappreciating even the evidence before the enquiry officer. The finding on Charge I was accepted by the disciplinary authority and was also endorsed by the Central Administrative Tribunal. In disciplinary proceedings, the High Court is not and cannot act as a second court of first appeal. The High Court, in exercise of its powers under Articles 226/227 of the Constitution of India, shall not venture into reappreciation of the evidence. The High Court can only see whether:

(a) the enquiry is held by a competent authority;

(b) the enquiry is held according to the procedure prescribed in that behalf;

(c) there is violation of the principles of natural justice in conducting the proceedings;

(d) the authorities have disabled themselves from reaching a fair conclusion by some considerations extraneous to the evidence and merits of the case;

(e) the authorities have allowed themselves to be influenced by irrelevant or extraneous considerations;

(f) the conclusion, on the very face of it, is so wholly arbitrary and capricious that no reasonable person could ever have arrived at such conclusion;

(g) the disciplinary authority had erroneously failed to admit the admissible and material evidence;

(h) the disciplinary authority had erroneously admitted inadmissible evidence which influenced the finding;

(i) the finding of fact is based on no evidence.

13.Under Articles 226/227 of the Constitution of India, the High Court shall not:

(i) reappreciate the evidence;

(ii) interfere with the conclusions in the enquiry, in case the same has been conducted in accordance with law;

(iii) go into the adequacy of the evidence;

(iv) go into the reliability of the evidence;

(v) interfere, if there be some legal evidence on which findings can be based.

(vi) correct the error of fact however grave it may appear to be;
(vii) go into the proportionality of punishment unless it shocks its conscience.

105. Thus, we find, no good ground is made out to offer any interference. The scope of judicial review has to remain limited. The disciplinary inquiry in Departmental Inquiry No. 21 of 2015 is found to be fair and proper and conclusions drawn by the Inquiry Judge 'A', based on material and evidence collected during that Inquiry, with which the petitioner had been confronted. Also, that material cannot be described as extraneous or irrelevant.

106. Though the above discussion itself is enough to reach the result of the dismissal of the writ petition, yet in view of the further submissions advanced we may note that the conduct of the petitioner in the second inquiry, being Domestic Inquiry no. 24 of 2016, was no better. All efforts were made by Inquiry Judge 'B' to allow the petitioner every opportunity to participate in those proceedings, as well. In that, charge-sheet was issued to the petitioner on 20.3.2017. On 23.5.2017, the petitioner was granted time to submit reply to the charge-sheet, by 30.5.2017. On 13.6.2017, two weeks further time was granted to the petitioner to furnish his reply and the inquiry was fixed for 7.7.2017. The petitioner failed to appear on the date fixed. Yet, time was granted till 24.7.2017. The inquiry proceeding was adjourned on 10.8.2017 and 5.9.2017. On the next date fixed i.e. 10.10.2017, the petitioner appeared before the Inquiry Judge 'B'. Direction was issued to make available to the petitioner copies of all documents demanded. Similar direction was again issued on 2.11.2017. On 29.11.2017, the Presenting Officer was directed to lead Employers' Evidence. On 13.12.2017, a weeks' further time was granted to the petitioner, to inspect the record and to obtain copies of documents.

107. In view of the further request made by the petitioner, on 16.01.2018, the Presenting Officer was directed to supply copies of specified documents. The inquiry remained adjourned on the next dates 12.01.2018 and 19.02.2018. Repeated adjournment sought by the petitioner was refused and the inquiry proceeding directed to proceed ex parte on 19.03.2018. Statement of EW-1 – the learned ACJM, was recorded. He was allowed to be cross-examined by the petitioner on 30.05.2018. That cross-examination was concluded on 03.07.2018. On 07.08.2018, 05.09.2018, 11.10.2018, 30.11.2018, the inquiry was adjourned. On the next date 14.12.2018, the inquiry was fixed for 19.1.2019. Petitioner was given opportunity to produce his witnesses and the next date fixed for 14.2.2019. On that date, further opportunity was granted to the petitioner to produce list of his witnesses, by 05.4.2019. On 05.04.2019, petitioner moved an application to recall E.W-1 for further cross examination. That application was rejected. After dealing with further applications regarding summary of documents etc., on 15.05.2019, the Presenting Officer concluded the cross examination of the petitioner.

108. Seen in that light, again it has to be accepted – more than reasonable opportunity (to defend his case), was granted to the petitioner in the course of second inquiry by the Inquiry Judge 'B'. The petitioner was in no way prejudiced or prevented from setting up his defence. He examined DW-4, the then System Officer posted at District Court, Meerut. On the strength of that examination, petitioner sought to doubt the correctness of the charge allegation that the petitioner had tried to influence the ACJM on 18.12.2015. However, the petitioner could not dislodge the basic fact existence of ordersheet entry 18.12.2015 recorded by the learned ACJM. What may have transpired on 16.01.2016 was not the subject matter of the charge levelled and it was not the subject matter to be inquired into in the course of the Domestic Inquiry proceedings. The misconduct with which the petitioner was charged was found proven. The misconduct being, his effort to influence another judicial officer in the course of a judicial proceeding, in which he was personally interested, enough material was brought on record. The petitioner was confronted with all adverse material that were being relied against him and the Inquiry Judge 'B' reached the conclusion of his guilt as to that misconduct, based on material and evidence gathered in the course of that inquiry.

109. It must be recorded that in the course of his cross examination, the petitioner admitted having called the ACJM on telephone, through 'I' the lawyer representing the petitioner's wife in the case giving rise to the misconduct. In this regard, the Inquiry Judge 'B' has observed as under:-

"At this juncture, it would be relevant to point out that in his cross-examination, Sri Sirohi has stated that he never met Sri xxxx (the ACJM) and he has no grudges against him. In order to remove certain doubts, as certain advocates were not happy with his way of working, he had a telephonic conversation with Sri xxxx through Sri 'I', Advocate. Thus, there was a telephonic conversation between Charged Officer and EW-1. When confronted with the question that Sri 'I', Advocate, who has been produced by him as DW-6, is an interested witness, the Charged Officer has stated that he has no relation with Sri 'I', Advocate as he is Advocate for the complainant, Dr. Meghna Sirohi."

110. Once the petitioner admitted having called the learned ACJM (who was seized with the case proceeding involving his close family members), that too, using the mobile phone of his wife's lawyer – ostensibly to check the ACJM regarding his working, every other detail referred to by learned Senior Counsel for the petitioner - to point certain deficiencies in the conduct of that Inquiry, pales into insignificance. For the guilt of the petitioner -a a judicial officer to be established, the above quoted passage was enough. Clearly, the petitioner had not called the ACJM in his capacity as a senior officer but as the husband of the complainant that too using the phone of her lawyer. The inviolable code of conduct and self-restraint to be always maintained by any human being who may ever come to occupy a judicial office, is seen clearly and irreparably violated, by the petitioner. In committing that transgression, the petitioner earned absolute demerit. It rendered him unfit to hold judicial office, any further. As with the mythological 'Shishupal', so with the petitioner, he made that 'one' transgression that could not be spared.

111. In view of the above, writ petition fails and is accordingly dismissed. No order as to costs.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1752
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 02.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ASHUTOSH SRIVASTAVA, J.

Writ - C No. 3750 of 2024

Shakeel Ahmad ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Chandra Pal Singh, Pankaj Kumar Gupta

Counsel for the Respondents:
Arun Kumar Pandey, C.S.C.

Civil Law –Revenue law- name of the petitioner along with his relatives struck of land-land in question restored as Gram Sabha land-allotted in favour of private respondents-order under Section 176(A) of UPZA&LR Act, 1950 under challenge-ascertainment of nature of land under Section 132 of the Act- core issue- Sections 76(1)(dd), 77 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006- Asami in possession of land entitled to be recorded as Bhumidhar- name of petitioner could not have been recorded over the land on the basis of inheritance after expiry of lease period-benefit of Section 76(1)(dd) cannot be provided-Proviso to sub rule (1) of the Rule 176 (A) of the UPZA& LR Rules, 1952- no lease shall be made in favour of Asami for a period exceeding 5 years- no benefit can accrue to petitioner-on strength of his entry in CH Form no. 45-vailidity of a patta cannot be ascertained by consolidation authorities-Petition dismissed. (Paragraphs 12 and 14 to 18)

HELD:
The legislative intent of Section 76(1) (dd) of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 is that even Aasami in possession of the land is entitled to be recorded as Bhumidhar, if the land is not covered under Section 77 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006. Admittedly, the Plot No. 315 area 1.061 hectare in 1359 Fasli is recorded as 'Banjar Category-5'. Banjar Land may belong to the Gaon Sabha but is not covered under 132 of the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act or 77 of the Code. In the opinion of the Court, the name of the petitioner could not have been recorded over the land on the basis of inheritance after expiry of lease period. The petitioner is thus not entitled to the benefit of Section 76(1) (dd) more so on the ground that no such plea had been taken before the Revenue Authorities and has been argued by learned counsel for the petitioner for the first time without there being and pleading or foundation in that regard in the writ petition. (Para 12)

The proviso to sub-Rule (1) of the Rule 176(A) of the U. P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Rule, 1952 provides that no lease shall be made to an Aasami for a period exceeding 5 years. The justification for grant of Aasami leases for a period of 5 years was considered in the case of Hari Ram Vs Collector reported in 2004(97) RD 360, wherein it was laid down that the object of provisions contained in Chapter VII pertaining to the grant of lease by the Land Management Committee is a provision enacted to give effect to the Constitutional mandate as contained in Article 39(b) of the Constitution of India. The object contained in Article 39(b) is distribution of material resources of the community to best sub-serve the common hood. The restriction of 5 years of an Aasami lease is only for the purpose that lease be again granted after 5 years to best sub-serve the common hood. The sub-Rule (2) of the Rule 176-A empowers the Assistant Collector to determine the lease even before the expiry of the lease. (Para 14)

Learned counsel for the petitioner has laid much emphasis on the fact that during the consolidation operations that had intervened during the subsistence of the lease in favour of the father of the petitioner, the name of the father came to be recorded as Bhumidhar with transferable rights and the same was also reflected in CH Form-45. Once the Bhumidhari Rights had been acquired the proceedings under Section 176-A of the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act, 1950 was completely unwarranted. The learned counsel for the petitioner has failed to satisfy the query of the Court as to how the Bhumidhari rights stood accrued to the father of the petitioner who had been granted Aasami Patta. In the opinion of the Court no benefit can accrue to the petitioner on the fact that the name of the father of the petitioner was recorded as Bhumidhar in CH Form-45 in view of the Full Bench decision of this Court reported in AIR 1977 Alld. 360 wherein it has been held that Consolidation Authorities are not vested with any power, authority or jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the validity of the patta except in certain special circumstances which admittedly do not exist in the present case nor has been pleaded or any foundation laid in the writ petition. (Para 18)

Petition dismissed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. Gangadeen Vs St. of U.P. & ors.reported in 2018(138) RD 68

2. Writ-B No. 24167 of 2017 (Karamjeet Singh & ors. Vs Board of Revenue, U.P., Lucknow & ors.) (Neutral Citation No. 2024 AHC 48683)

3. Hari Ram Vs Collector reported in 2004(97) RD 360

4. Parabdin Vs Board of Revenue, U.P at Lucknow & ors. (Writ-B No.38209 of 2016)

5. Ali Jaan & ors. Vs Additional Collector (Judicial) & ors. (Writ-B No.5596 of 2018) decided on 19.11.2018

6. Vijay Kumari Vs Consolidation Officer, Sawayajpur, Hardoi & ors. (Consolidation No. 6946 of 2019) decided on 13.03.2019

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ashutosh Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri Pankaj Kumar Gupta, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Abhishek Shukla, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State Respondents and Sri Arun Kumar Pandey, learned counsel for the Respondent No. 3.

2. The instant writ petition has been filed questioning the orders dated 16.01.2009 passed by the Respondent No. 2, Sub Divisional Magistrate, Dhampur, Bijnor under Section 176 (A) of the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act, 1950 whereby and whereunder the name of the petitioner and his brothers Khalid Ahmad, Naeem Ahmad and mother Akhtari wife of Tasleem Ahmad as Aasami Patta holder (Category-3) over Plot No. 315 area 1.061 hectares lagan 109 contained in Khata No. 244 (1412 to 1417 Fasli) has been struck off and land has been restored as Gram Sabha land category 6 as also the order dated 31.05.2022 whereby and whereunder the land contained in the above mentioned Plot No. 15 has been allotted in favour of the Respondent Nos. 4, 5 & 6 and the allotment has also been approved.

3. It is the case of the petitioner that the Plot No. 576 area 3.13 hectare and Plot No. 624 area 1.52 hectare were leased out in favour of Tasleem Ahmad the father of the petitioner under the resolution of the Gram Sabha dated 25.12.1977 and the allotment was duly approved by the Sub Divisional Magistrate, Dhampur and the father of the petitioner was put in possession over the land allotted as is evident from ZA Form No. 58 dated 25.12.1977 filed as Annexure No. 3 to the writ petition. The dispute in the present writ petition is confined to Plot No. 576 area 3.13 hectares. During the subsistence of the lease the consolidation operations intervened in the village and the plot number allotted changed from 576 to 315. After close of the consolidation operations the name of the father of the petitioner namely Tasleem Ahmad was reflected in CH Form-45 as Bhumidhar of Plot No. 315. A Kishan Bahi bearing No. 420855 was issued by the Tehsildar Nagina, Bijnor on the basis of the entry in CH Form-45. The father of the petitioner Tasleem Ahmad, the original allottee expired and consequent to his death the names of the petitioner, his brothers and mother were recorded over the Plot No. 315 under PA-11. The petitioner is stated to be in possession over the plot and performing agricultural operations thereon since then.

4. This Court vide order dated 22.04.2024 after recording the submissions made by learned counsel for the petitioner as also the learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel appearing for the State Respondents and also noting that the core question to test the validity of the impugned order would be to ascertain the nature of the land in dispute, whether it was covered by Section 132 of the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act, as stated in the impugned order, at the time of allotment of lease in question or otherwise, as the records filed along with the writ petition did not clarify the said position, had required the learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel to obtain specific instructions in this regard and appraise the Court as to the exact nature of the land allotted to the father of the petitioner way back in the year 1977.

5. Pursuant to the order aforesaid, instructions have been received which are taken on record.

6. Sri Abhishek Shukla, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel on the basis of the instructions submits that the plot in question i.e. Plot No. 315 area 1.061 hectare was recorded as 'Banjar' Category-5' in 1359 F and was Gram Sabha Property. An Asami Patta (Category-3) was executed in favour of Sri Tasleem Ahmad late father of the petitioner Sakeel Ahmad. At the relevant time the land was recorded as 'Banjar' Category-5' and since period of lease had not expired the name of Tasleem Ahmad was recorded over the land. Tasleem Ahmad expired on 04.10.2006 and the name of the petitioner and other heirs of Tasleem Ahmad came to be recorded over the land on the basis of PA-11 entry.

7. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the Respondent No. 2, the Sub Divisional Magistrate, Dhampur District Bijnor passed the impugned order dated 16.01.2009 under Section 176(A) of the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act behind the back of the petitioner relying upon an ex-parte report of the Tehsildar concerned. Thereafter, the Sub Divisional Magistrate has proceeded to allot the land to the Respondent Nos. 4 to 6.

8. Learned counsel for the petitioner has argued that the impugned order proceeds on the erroneous assumption that the land belonged to reserved category land covered by Section 132 of the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act and was Gaon Sabha property whereas admittedly the land is 'navin-parti' which had been leased out to the father of the petitioner Tasleem Ahmad, who was subsequently declared Bhumidhar. The land as such was Bhumidhari land and could not be allotted to the Respondent Nos. 4 to 6. It is also argued that the impugned order is entirely ex-parte and has been passed on total non application of mind, barred by Section 49 of the U.P.C.H. Act. It is also argued that the petitioner is entitled to the benefit of Section 76(1) (dd) of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 which has not been considered by the authorities. Reliance has been placed upto the decision of a Coordinate Bench of this Court in the case of Gangadeen Vs. State of U.P. and others reported in 2018(138) RD 68 and Writ-B No. 24167 of 2017 (Karamjeet Singh and 2 others Vs. Board of Revenue, U.P., Lucknow and 2 others) (Neutral Citation No. 2024 AHC 48683) to emphasize the point that as per Clause (dd) of sub Section (1) of the Section 76, every person who was an Asami in possession of land not covered by Section 77 of the Code, immediately before the commencement of the Code and has been recorded as such in Class-3 of the Annual Register (Khatauni) of 1407 Fasli shall become Bhumidhar with non-transferable rights and shall have all the rights and be subject to all the liabilities conferred or imposed upon such Bhumidhar by or under the Code. It is argued that the land in question is not covered by Section 77 of the Code. The name of the father of the petitioner was recorded in the Khatauni till 1412-1417 Fasli and after his death the name of the petitioner stood recorded under PA-11 as heir of Tasleem Ahmad and as such the petitioner is entitled to the benefit of Clause (dd) of Sub Section (1) of Section 76 of the Code.

9. Reliance is also placed upon a decision of this court in the case of Ram Swaroop Vs. State of U.P. and others, decided on 15.04.2019, Neutral Citation No. 2019:AHC 63918 to buttress the proposition that cancellation of the lease could be done only after serving notice which admittedly was not done and as such the impugned order is unsustainable. Based upon the above submissions it is prayed that the impugned orders be set aside and the writ petition allowed.

10. Sri Abhishek Shukla, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State Respondents in opposition to the writ petition at the very outset submits that the impugned order is revisable and the petitioner has an effective alternative remedy and the writ petition is not liable to be entertained.

11. Sri Shukla further submits that the Commissioner and Secretary Board of Revenue, U.P., Anubhag-5, Lucknow issued an order dated 01.08.2006 to all District Magistrates, U.P. to identify all Aasami Category-3 and Category-4 as also illegal occupants over Government Land and take measures against such persons whose leases have expired and are in illegal occupation of the land. Since the tenure of the lease in favour of the father of the petitioner had already expired, the petitioner cannot continue in possession over the land. The original allottee i.e. Tasleem Ahmad has already expired. The land is Gaon Sabha Land and the petitioner is not entitled to the benefit of 76(1) (dd) of the Code. The Aasami leases granted under Section 195 are not heritable and no right can be said to flow to the petitioner after the death of his father the original allottee after the expiry of the period of 5 years of the Aasami lease as per Rule 176-A(2). After expiry of the lease, the land shall stand automatically vested in the Gaon Sabha. It is also submitted that the plea of the benefit of Section 76(1) (dd) has been taken for the very first time before this Court during the course of arguments and there is no ground/pleadings made in this regard in the writ petition. No such ground was ever raised before the Authority below. It is, accordingly, prayed that the writ petition deserved to be dismissed on merits as also on the ground of alternative remedy.

12. I have heard learned counsel for the petitioner as also the learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State Respondents. I have also perused the case laws cited by the learned counsel for the petitioner. The legislative intent of Section 76(1)(dd) of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 is that even Aasami in possession of the land is entitled to be recorded as Bhumidhar, if the land is not covered under Section 77 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006. Admittedly, the Plot No. 315 area 1.061 hectare in 1359 Fasli is recorded as 'Banjar Category-5'. Banjar Land may belong to the Gaon Sabha but is not covered under 132 of the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act or 77 of the Code. In the opinion of the Court, the name of the petitioner could not have been recorded over the land on the basis of inheritance after expiry of lease period. The petitioner is thus not entitled to the benefit of Section 76(1)(dd) more so on the ground that no such plea had been taken before the Revenue Authorities and has been argued by learned counsel for the petitioner for the first time without there being and pleading or foundation in that regard in the writ petition.

13. Admittedly, Tasleem Ahmad the original allottee had been granted Aasami lease of the land in question under Resolution of the Land Management Committee dated 25.12.1977. The period of such Aasami lease is only 5 years. The lease in favour of the Allottee Tasleem Ahmad could not travel beyond 24.12.1982. There is no material on record to establish the fact tht the period of lease was extended nor any such plea has been taken before the Authorities below or in the writ petition itself.

14. The proviso to sub Rule (1) of the Rule 176(A) of the U. P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Rule, 1952 provides that no lease shall be made to an Aasami for a period exceeding 5 years. The justification for grant of Aasami leases for a period of 5 years was considered in the case of Hari Ram Vs. Collector reported in 2004(97) RD 360, wherein it was laid down that the object of provisions contained in Chapter VII pertaining to the grant of lease by the Land Management Committee is a provision enacted to give effect to the Constitutional mandate as contained in Article 39(b) of the Constitution of India. The object contained in Article 39(b) is distribution of material resources of the community to best sub-serve the common hood. The restriction of 5 years of an Aasami lease is only for the purpose that lease be again granted after 5 years to best sub-serve the common hood. The sub Rule (2) of the Rule 176-A empowers the Assistant Collector to determine the lease even before the expiry of the lease.

15. A Coordinate Bench of this Court in the case of Parabdin Vs. Board of Revenue, U.P at Lucknow and 4 others (Writ-B No.38209 of 2016) decided on 02.09.2016 while considering a similar situation as the present case observed as under in Para 8 of the judgment.

"8. A perusal of the patta as well as revenue record shows that the petitioner was not granted sirdari patta rather he was granted asami patta from the very beginning. Under the provisions of Rule 176 A of UP Z.A. & L.R. Act, 1952 patta for asami right could be granted for maximum period of five years. Admittedly, the patta was granted to the petitioner on 7.2.1976. Thus the period of patta has already come to an end and due efflux of time on the date of impugned order dated 30.12.2009. The petitioner left with no substantive right over the land in dispute and his name was rightly deleted from the revenue record. In any case in the absence of any right over the land in dispute this Court in exercise of writ jurisdiction cannot direct for restoring the name of the petitioner over the land in dispute."

16. Likewise, another Coordinate Bench of this Court in the case of Ali Jaan and 9 others Vs. Additional Collector (Judicial) and 3 others (Writ-B No.5596 of 2018) decided on 19.11.2018 observed as under:-

"It is settled law that an assami patta can be granted for a maximum duration of five years. Therefore, the period of allotment automatically came to an end in the year 1970. Under the circumstances, there was absolutely no justification for the Consolidation Officer for granting bhumidhari rights to the petitioners on the basis of an allotment, which had come to an end, at least 20 years before the order was passed by him.

Besides, on a pointed query by the Court, as to the provision of law whereunder an asami can become a bhumidhari with transferable rights, counsel for the petitioner has relied upon Section 131 of the U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act.

In my considered opinion, this submission is without merit because Section 131 of the U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act specifies as to who is a bhumidhari with non transferable rights.

Admittedly, the lease granted to the petitioners or their predecessor-in-interest in the year 1965 was of asami rights as defined in Section 133 of the Act. There exists no provision of law whereunder an asami can become either a bhumidhari with transferable or non transferable rights of the land allotted to him.

Moreover, the proviso to Rule 176-A of the U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Rules states that no lease shall be made to an asami for a period exceeding five years."

17. Yet again another Coordinate Bench of this Court in case of Vijay Kumari Vs. Consolidation Officer, Sawayajpur, Hardoi and 2 others (Consolidation No. 6946 of 2019) decided on 13.03.2019 along with 34 others, writ petitions observed as under:-

"The only Patta which is permissible to be granted by the Land Management Committee in a land referable to Section 132 is the Asami Patta in terms of the provision contained in Section 133(c). However, such Asami Patta which is permissible to be granted over a land referable to Section 132 cannot be granted in perpetuty; rather term of Asami Patta is restricted to a period of 5 years in terms of the provision contained in Rule 176-A of the U.P. Z.A. & L.R. Rules. Admittedly, the nature of pattas on which the petitioners place reliance in this case are not Asami Patta. Even if, it is presumed that pattas said to have been granted in favour of the petitioners on 31.10.1992 were Asami Pattas, their term itself has come to an end in terms of the provisions contained in Rule 176-A of the U.P. Z.A. & L.R. Rules."

18. Learned counsel for the petitioner has laid much emphasis on the fact that during the consolidation operations that had intervened during the subsistence of the lease in favour of the father of the petitioner, the name of the father came to be recorded as Bhumidhar with transferable rights and the same was also reflected in CH Form-45. Once the Bhumidhari Rights had been acquired the proceedings under Section 176-A of the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act, 1950 was completely unwarranted. The learned counsel for the petitioner has failed to satisfy the query of the Court as to how the Bhumidhari rights stood accrued to the father of the petitioner who had been granted Aasami Patta. In the opinion of the Court no benefit can accrue to the petitioner on the fact that the name of the father of the petitioner was recorded as Bhumidhar in CH Form-45 in view of the Full Bench decision of this Court reported in AIR 1977 Alld. 360 wherein it has been held that Consolidation Authorities are not vested with any power, authority or jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the validity of the patta except in certain special circumstances which admittedly do not exist in the present case nor has been pleaded or any foundation laid in the writ petition.

19. In the instructions brought on record by the learned counsel representing the State Respondents it has been clearly mentioned that after passing of the impugned order dated 16.01.2009 and restoration of the land as Gram Samaj and the same has been allotted to the Respondent Nos. 4, 5 & 6 vide order dated 31.05.2022 and the allottees i.e. the Respondent Nos. 4, 5 & 6 have already been put in possession thereof and their names stand recorded over the Plot No. 315 as Bhumidhars with non transferable rights. Besides the petitioner is not landless and Plot No. 316 area 0.877 hectare stand recorded in the name of his mother and other co-sharers.

20. In view of the above, the Court is not inclined to grant any indulgence to the petitioner. The writ petition is devoid of merits and is, accordingly, dismissed. However, the dismissal of the writ petition shall not come in the way of the petitioner to establish his rights over the plot in dispute by taking recourse to filing suit for declaration of his rights over the land in appropriate proceedings.

21. No order as to costs.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1759
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 10.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ASHUTOSH SRIVASTAVA, J.

Writ - C No. 7417 of 2024

Jai Singh ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Abhishek Mishra, Jai Shanker Misra, Vijai Shanker Shukla

Counsel for the Respondents:
Anjali Upadhya, C.S.C., Vineet Pandey

Civil Law –revenue law- proceedings under Section 24 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 challenged- impugned orders passed on the basis of incorrect report of Revenue Inspector- Alternative remedy- revision under Section 210 of U.P. Revenue Code, 2006-High Court will not entertain a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India-effective alternative remedy available to the aggrieved person-statue itself contains a mechanism for redressal of grievance- Petition dismissed.

HELD:
Having considered the rival submissions of the learned counsels for the parties, the Court is of the opinion that several factual aspects as submitted by counsels for the parties, need to be ironed out before the writ petition can be decided on merits. Moreover, a statutory remedy to assail the order of the Commissioner passed under Section 24 (4) has been provided in the statute book itself which in the opinion of the Court may not be bypassed.

The Apex Court in the case of PHR Invent Education Society case (supra) relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioner, itself in Para 30 of the decision has clarified that the High Court will not entertain a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution if an effective alternative remedy is available to the aggrieved person or the statute under which the action is complained of has been taken itself contains a mechanism for redressal of grievance.

In view of the above, this Court is not inclined to entertain the writ petition in the wake of availability of a statutory alternate remedy of filing a revision under Section 210 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 against the impugned order dated 19.12.2023 passed by the Addl. Commissioner (Administration) 2nd, Meerut Division, Meerut. (Para 12)

Petition dismissed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

PHR Invent Educational Society versus UCO Bank & ors., Civil Appeal No. Nil of 2024 (arising out of SLP (c) No. 8867 of 2022) decided on 10th April, 2024

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ashutosh Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Shri Jai Shanker Mishra, learned counsel for the petitioner, Shri Abhishek Shukla, learned Addl. Chief Standing Counsel for State-respondent Nos. 1 to 3. Smt. Anjali Upadhyay and Shri Vineet Pandey, learned counsels have accepted notice of the writ petition on behalf of respondent Nos. 26 and 27, respectively. However, they did not appear when the case was heard.

2. The writ petition arises out of proceedings under Section 24 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 i.e. disputes regarding boundaries and is directed against the order dated 19.12.2023 passed by the Addl. Commissioner (Administration) 2nd, Meerut in appeal under Section 24 (4) of the Code registered as Case No. 1691 of 2023 whereby and whereunder the appeal has been rejected and the order dated 4.7.2023 passed by the Sub Divisional Officer, Dadri in Case No. 24060 of 2021 (Heere and others versus Devindra and others) under Section 24 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 directing the demarcation of the plot No. 436 situate in village Haibatpur, Tehsil Dadri, District Gautam Budh Nagar, has been upheld.

3. A supplementary affidavit dated 2.5.2024 has been filed by learned counsel for the petitioner, which is taken on record.

4. It is the case of the petitioner that proceedings under Section 24 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 were initiated at the instance of the respondent Nos. 4 to 7 for the demarcation of Plot No. 436M, area 0.3467 hectare and Plot No. 287M area 0.900 hectares. The petitioner and the respondent No. 17 to 24 are the owners of Plot Nos. 285M, 253M, 290/3 and 433/2. The respondent Nos. 8 to 16 are the recorded owners of Plot Nos. 434 and 290/1. The plot Nos. 285, 253, 290 and 433 are not adjacent to plot No. 436 of which the demarcation was sought. The Revenue Inspector is stated to have submitted his report on 8.1.2023 which was forwarded by the Tehsildar on 9.1.2023 to the Sub Divisional Officer concerned mentioning that the area of Plot No. 436 is 5.7990 hectares whereas the area was only 0.3467 hectares as reflected in the Khatauni pertaining to 1427-1432 Fasli filed on record as Annexure-3. The Sub Divisional Officer on the basis of an incorrect report passed the order dated 4.7.2023 directing the demarcation of the Plot No. 436. The order dated 4.7.2023 was challenged in appeal which too has met with the same fate.

5. Learned counsel for the petitioner has assailed the impugned orders by submitting that both the orders dated 4.7.2023 passed by the Sub Divisional Officer, as also the order dated 19.12.2023 passed by the Addl. Commissioner in appeal under Section 24 (4) of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 have been passed on incorrect report of the Revenue Inspector, no physical division of Plot No. 436, area 5.7990 hectare and 436M area 0.3467 hectare has not been done and no demarcation could be done without physical division, the provisions contemplated under Section 24 and Rule 22 of the Rules, 2016 have not been complied with. The Greater Noida Authority as also the U.P. State are the co-tenure holders of Khasra plot No. 436M but the area possessed by them has not been given in the report forming the basis of the impugned orders, the co-tenure holders of Khasra Plot No. 436 as recorded in the Khatauni were not made party to the proceedings.

6. In the supplementary affidavit dated 2.5.2024 in Para 12 thereof, it has been stated that Plot No. 436, area 5.7990 hectare has already been acquired under Notification under the Land Acquisition Act and the compensation of the acquired land has already been received by the father of the respondent Nos. 4 to 7 being area 5.4523 hectares and the remaining area of Plot No. 436 i.e. area 0.3467 has been sold by the tenure holders to the irrigation department through registered sale deeds. The total area of plot No. 436 as well as 287 are in the name of the Greater Noida Development Authority and the Irrigation Department of the State of U.P. and the same is not under the ownership of the respondent Nos. 4 to 7. It is contended that the respondent Nos. 4 to 7 did not have locus to initiate the proceedings for demarcation under Section 24 of the Act to demarcate the plot No. 436 which has either been acquired or sold. It is thus contended that the entire proceedings under Section 24 are vitiated and liable to be set aside and the writ petition allowed as prayed.

7. Shri Abhishek Shukla, learned Addl. Chief Standing Counsel, in opposition to the writ petition, submits that the petitioner has an alternate remedy to assail the order dated 19.12.2023 in revision under Section 210 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 since the order passed by the Commissioner under Section 24 (4) of the Code has been made subject to the provisions of Section 210 of the Code by the U.P. Act No. 7 of 2019. He submits that the writ petition may not be entertained in the wake of availability of an effective alternate remedy.

8. Refuting the above submission, learned counsel for the petitioner submits that existence of an alternate remedy is not an absolute bar rather is a self imposed restriction and the present case is a fit case where the power under Article 226 of the Constitution of India can be exercised as the orders impugned have been passed in the utter disregard of the procedures prescribed besides at the instance of persons who had no locus to maintain the proceedings under Section 24 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 having sold the land contained in the Plot No. 436 demarcation of which was sought.

9. Reliance has been placed upon a decision of the Apex Court in the case of PHR Invent Educational Society versus UCO Bank and others, Civil Appeal No. Nil of 2024 (arising out of SLP (c) No. 8867 of 2022) decided on 10th April, 2024, particularly to Para 29 thereof, where the Court has carved out certain exceptions when a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution could be entertained in spite of availability of an alternative remedy. Some of them being:-

i) where the statutory authority has not acted in accordance with the provisions of the enactment in question;

ii) it has acted in defiance of the fundamental principles of judicial procedure;

iii) it has resorted to invoke the provisions which are repealed; and

iv) when an order has been passed in total violation of the principles of nature justice.

10. Based on the above, learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the objection taken by the learned Addl. Chief Standing Counsel may not be sustained and the writ petition be entertained and decided on merits.

11. I have heard the learned counsel for the parties and have perused the records.

12. Having considered the rival submissions of the learned counsels for the parties, the Court is of the opinion that several factual aspects as submitted by counsels for the parties, need to be ironed out before the writ petition can be decided on merits. Moreover, a statutory remedy to assail the order of the Commissioner passed under Section 24 (4) has been provided in the statute book itself which in the opinion of the Court may not be bypassed.

13. The Apex Court in the case of PHR Invent Education Society case (supra) relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioner, itself in Para 30 of the decision has clarified that the High Court will not entertain a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution if an effective alternative remedy is available to the aggrieved person or the statute under which the action is complained of has been taken itself contains a mechanism for redressal of grievance.

14. In view of the above, this Court is not inclined to entertain the writ petition in the wake of availability of a statutory alternate remedy of filing a revision under Section 210 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 against the impugned order dated 19.12.2023 passed by the Addl. Commissioner (Administration) 2nd, Meerut Division, Meerut.

15. This Court finds that the limitation for filing revision under Section 210 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 is 60 days from the date of the order sought to be revised. The 60 days have since expired. The writ petition was presented in the Registry of this Court on 31.1.2024. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that if a revision is now filed, the same would be rejected on the ground of limitation and there would be no adjudication on merits.

16. Taking note of the above, the writ petition is permitted to be dismissed as withdrawn with liberty to the petitioner to prefer a revision against the impugned order dated 19.12.2023 passed by the Addl. Commissioner (Administration) 2nd, Meerut Division, Meerut under Section 210 within three weeks from today.

17. In the eventuality of a revision being filed by the petitioner within the time allowed along with an application to condone the delay, the Board of Revenue is expected to condone the delay taking note of the fact that the petitioner had been pursuing the writ petition before this Court and entertain the revision consider and decide the same on merits ignoring the point of limitation.

18. The certified copies of the impugned orders shall be returned to the petitioner after retaining a photocopy of the same on record.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1762
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 02.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MANOJ KUMAR GUPTA, J.
THE HON'BLE KSHITIJ SHAILENDRA, J.

Writ - C No. 8626 of 2024

Ghaziabad Development Authority ...Petitioner

Versus

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Mahesh Narain Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Kripa Shankar Shukla

Civil Law – land acquisition- whether the Collector, while making award under Section 28-A of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894- competent to award interest on the compensation amount re-determined by him thereunder-Sections 4, 11, 11A, 16, 17, 23(1),23 (1A), 25, 28, 28A, 31, 34 of the Act, 1894-determination of compensation for land-market value of land on the date of publication of notification under Section 4(1)- both the Court and Collector vested with the power to award interest-conjoint reading of Sections 28 and 34 of the Act-award of interest-entire period-starting from the date of dispossession until the amount is deposited in the Court or paid to the person entitled-object of inserting Section 28-A-do away with inequality in payment of compensationto land owners covered by the same notification-Collector shall have fill power to award interest on the enhanced compensation awarded by him under Section 28-A of the Act-petition dismissed . (Paras 9, 18, 19, 20, 23 and 26)

HELD:
A combined reading of the aforesaid provisions shows that the compensation for land acquired is determined by the Court taking into consideration the market value of the land on the date of the publication of the notification under Section 4, sub-section (1). In the interval between the date of publication of notification under Section 4(1) and making of the award, there would be enhancement in the market value of the land. The purpose of inserting sub-section (1A) is to adequately compensate the land owners for rise in market value during the said period. (Para 9)

In case the Court enhances the compensation, it is invested with power to award interest on enhanced amount by virtue of Section 28. A conjoint reading of Section 28 and 34 reveals that the intent of the legislature is to ensure award of interest for the entire period starting from the date of dispossession until the amount is deposited in the Court or paid to the person entitled. The award of interest on the amount originally awarded by the Collector under Section 11 is taken care of by Section 34 by investing the power with the Collector who at that stage is in seisin over the matter. The power to award interest on the excess sum of compensation awarded in a reference by a Court is conferred on the Court before whom only such an eventuality may arise. There was no occasion to confer such a power on the Collector, before whom such situation would never arise. (Para 18)

Thus, there are two mandates of the legislature. First, to award interest on the compensation amount to the land owners without any break, except for the period during which any delay had occurred on account of stay of proceedings. Second, the rate of interest should be 9% for the first year from the date of dispossession and 15% for the subsequent period. (Para 19)

The object of inserting Section 28-A by Act No. 68 of 1984 w.e.f. 24.9.1984 was to do away with inequality in payment of compensation to land owners covered by the same notification. The purpose of grant of interest is to compensate an unpaid land owner who had been deprived of possession of his land in pursuance of the power of compulsory acquisition by the State Government. The liability to pay interest is incurred on the date Government takes possession, or in other words, the tenure holder is dispossessed. The rationale behind the same is plain and simple. The dispossession of the owner of the land by the State Government in exercise of its power of eminent domain, deprives him of the usufructs and benefits accruing to him from the acquired land. While the compensation determined is the value of land, in case compensation is not paid before depriving him of his land, the interest is recompense for depriving a person of the income from his property/compensation amount. (Para 20)

Once it is established that the legislative intent is to ensure award of interest on the compensation amount from date of dispossession until it is paid or deposited, it inheres in an award envisaged under Section 28-A(1) that an affected person taking recourse to such provision, inserted with the sole object of ensuring equality, cannot be deprived of the interest. The mere fact that no separate provision has been made under Section 28-A would not denude the Collector of the power to award interest which he automatically derives on the strength of the award which forms the foundation of the proceedings. (Para 23)

In our opinion, viewed from any angle, the irresistible conclusion is that the Collector shall have full power to award interest on the enhanced compensation amount awarded by him under Section 28-A of the Act. (Para 26)

Petition disposed of. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. U.O.I. & anr.Vs Pushpavathi & ors., (2018) 3 SCC 28

2. Shree Vijay Cotton & Oil Mills Ltd. Vs State of Guj., (1991) 1 SCC 262

3. U.O.I.& anr. Vs Pradeep Kumari & ors., (1995) 2 SCC 736

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manoj Kumar Gupta, J.)

1. The moot question which arises for consideration in the instant petition is whether the Collector, while making award under Section 28-A of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 is competent to award interest on the compensation amount re-determined by him thereunder.

Facts

2. The factual matrix of the case lies in a narrow compass. The land of the third respondent was acquired by the State under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (for short, hereinafter referred to as "the Act") for planned development of the area by the petitioner. The award under Section 11 of the Act was declared on 20.9.1986 at uniform rate of Rs. 3.47 per sq. yard. Some of the tenure holders, feeling aggrieved by the award, sought reference under Section 18 of the Act. The Court decided Reference No. 71 of 1987 and 64 of 1988 by a common order dated 28.8.1998 and the compensation for the acquired land was enhanced to Rs. 90 per sq. yard apart from 30% solatium. The Court also granted 12% interest from the date of preliminary notification, i.e. 7.7.1984, till the date of taking possession as per Section 23(1A) of the Act and interest at the rate of 9% per annum for period of one year from the date of possession and 15% per annum for the subsequent period till the date of actual payment as per Section 28 of the Act. The third respondent, who had not sought reference under Section 18 of the Act, on basis of the award of the Court dated 28.2.1998, sought enhancement of the compensation by invoking Section 28-A of the Act. The application was filed on 22.5.1998, well within three months from the date of award of the Court dated 28.2.1998. The Collector, by impugned order dated 2.5.2022, has passed award in favour of the third respondent, enhancing the compensation amount to Rs. 90 per sq. yard, along with other benefits as had been granted by the Court in the aforementioned references. Resultantly, the award of the Collector also includes interest for the period post taking over of the possession. Aggrieved thereby, the instant petition has been filed.

Submissions of Counsel for the Parties

3. Sri G.K. Singh, learned Senior Counsel, assisted by Sri Mahesh Narain Singh, appearing for the petitioner, contended that the Collector, while deciding application under Section 28-A of the Act, is not competent to award interest. The said power is vested solely in the Court by virtue of Section 28 of the Act. In support of his contention, he has placed various provisions of the Act to emphasize that under the scheme of the Act, the Collector has power to award interest only under Section 34. It is confined to cases where the compensation amount determined by the Collector under Section 11 while passing the award is not paid or deposited on or before taking possession of the land. It does not extend to award made by the Collector under Section 28-A of the Act. It is also urged that it is only the Court which could award interest in case any reference is made to it under Section 28-A(3), as in such an eventuality, it can take recourse to the powers conferred upon it under Section 28, but which is not available to the collector.

4. On the other hand, learned counsel for the third respondent submitted that the purpose of inserting Section 28-A was to ensure award of compensation at uniform rate to all persons who are deprived of their land by the State exercising its power of eminent domain. The object of the said provision inserted through amendment was to remove discrimination in grant of award for lands acquired under the same notification. The Collector under Section 28-A of the Act is required to re-determine the compensation amount on basis of the amount of compensation awarded by the Court under Section 18 of the Act. Resultantly, all benefits which have been given by the Court while passing the award would also be admissible to the person invoking Section 28-A of the Act. The contention that although the Collector would not have such power, but the Reference Court while deciding reference under Section 28-A(3) would have such power, would not advance the object with which Section 28-A was inserted. Such an interpretation would also lead to multiplicity of litigations which is not in public interest and should be avoided.

Analysis

5. The award of the Collector is made under Section 11 of the Act. Section 11A was inserted in the Act w.e.f. 24.9.1984 and it mandates that award under Section 11 shall be made within a period of two years from the date of publication of the declaration, failing which, the acquisition proceedings would lapse. Section 12 contemplates that as soon as the award is made, the Collector shall give immediate notice of his award to the persons interested as are not present personally or by their representatives when the award is made. Section 16 empowers the Collector to take possession after making award under Section 11 and whereupon the land vests absolutely in the Government free from all encumbrances. Section 17(1) of the Act empowers the Collector, in cases of urgency, to take possession on expiration of fifteen days from the publication of notice under Section 9(1) of the Act. Such land shall thereupon vest absolutely in the Government free from all encumbrances.

6. Section 17(3A) mandates that the Collector, before taking possession of any land in exercise of emergency power, shall ensure payment of 80% of the compensation for such land as estimated by him to the persons interested entitled thereto and pay it to them, unless prevented by some one or more of the contingencies mentioned in Section 31(2) of the Act.

7. Any person aggrieved by the award can seek reference of the dispute relating to the amount of compensation, the persons to whom it is payable, or the apportionment of the compensation amongst the persons interested, by moving a written application to the Collector. Such application has to be made by person present or represented before the Collector at the time of making of award, within six weeks from the date of the Collector's award and, in other cases, within six weeks of receipt of notice from the Collector under Section 12(2) or within six months from the date of Collector's award, whichever period shall first expire.

8. The factors to be considered by the Court while determining compensation are provided under Section 23 of the Act. Under sub-section (1A), the Court shall, in every case, award an amount calculated @ 12% per annum on such market value for the period commencing on or from the date of publication of notification under Section 4, sub-section (1) in respect of such land to the date of award of the Collector or the date of taking of the possession, whichever is earlier. In addition to the market value of the land as provided above, the Court shall, in every case, award a sum of 30% on such market value in consideration of the compulsory nature of the acquisition. Section 23(1A) which enjoins the Court to award interest @ 12% per annum on the market value determined by him under the forgoing provisions, is extracted below: -

23(1A) In addition to the market value of the land, as above provided, the Court shall in every case award an amount calculated at the rate of twelve per centum per annum on such market value for the period commencing on and from the date of the publication of the notification under section 4, sub-section (1), in respect of such land to the date of the award of the Collector or the date of taking possession of the land, whichever is earlier.

Explanation.- In computing the period referred to in this sub-section, any period or periods during which the proceedings for the acquisition of the land were held up on account of any stay or injunction by the order of any Court shall be excluded.

9. A combined reading of the aforesaid provisions shows that the compensation for land acquired is determined by the Court taking into consideration the market value of the land on the date of the publication of the notification under Section 4, sub-section (1). In the interval between the date of publication of notification under Section 4(1) and making of the award, there would be enhancement in the market value of the land. The purpose of inserting sub-section (1A) is to adequately compensate the land owners for rise in market value during the said period.

10. Section 25 stipulates that the amount of compensation awarded by the Court shall not be less than the amount awarded by the Collector under Section 11. The award is declared as per the procedural requirements stipulated under Section 26 and it is deemed to be a 'decree' within the meaning of Section 2 Clause (2) and Section 2 Clause (9), respectively, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. Section 27 empowers the Court to award costs incurred in the proceedings by any person.

11. Section 28 empowers the Court to award interest on excess amount of compensation as is determined by him. Section 28 is as follows:

28. Collector may be directed to pay interest on excess compensation.- If the sum which, in the opinion of the Court, the Collector ought to have awarded as compensation is in excess of the sum which the Collector did award as compensation, the award of the Court may direct that the collector shall pay interest on such excess at the rate of nine per centum per annum from the date on which he took possession of the land to the date of payment of such excess into Court:

Provided that the award of the Court may also direct that where such excess or any part thereof is paid into Court after the date of expiry of a period of one year from the date on which possession is taken, interest at the rate of fifteen per centum per annum shall be payable from the date of expiry of the said period of one year on the amount of such excess or part thereof which has not been paid into Court before the date of such expiry.

12. Section 28-A of the Act, which was invoked by the third respondent in seeking enhancement of compensation, is extracted below:

28-A. Re-determination of the amount of compensation on the basis of the award of the Court.- (1) Where in an award under this part, the Court allows to the applicant any amount of compensation in excess of the amount awarded by the Collector under section 11, the persons interested in all the other land covered by the same notification under section 4, sub-section (1) and who are also aggrieved by the award of the Collector may, notwithstanding that they had not made an application to the Collector under section 18, by written application to the Collector within three months from the date of the award of the Court require that the amount of compensation payable to them may be re-determined on the basis of the amount of compensation awarded by the Court:

Provided that in computing the period of three months within which an application to the Collector shall be made under this sub-section, the day on which the award was pronounced and the time requisite for obtaining a copy of the award shall be excluded.

(2) The Collector shall, on receipt of an application under sub-section (1), conduct an inquiry after giving notice to all the persons interested and giving them a reasonable opportunity of being heard, and make an award determining the amount of compensation payable to the applicants.

(3) Any person who has not accepted the award under sub-section (2) may, by written application to the Collector, require that the matter be referred by the Collector for the determination of the Court and the provisions of sections 18 to 28 shall, so far as may be, apply to such reference as they apply to a reference under section 18.

13. Section 31 requires the Collector to ensure payment of the compensation awarded by him under Section 11 to the persons entitled thereto according to the award, unless prevented by one or more of the contingencies mentioned in the next sub-section.

14. Section 32 requires the Collector to invest the money deposited in respect of lands belonging to persons incompetent to alienate in government securities as the Court shall think fit. In certain other cases stipulated under Section 33, the same course has to be followed.

15. The payment of interest by the Collector on the amount of compensation awarded by him is regulated by Section 34 which stipulates as follows: -

34. Payment of interest. - When the amount of such compensation is not paid or deposited on or before taking possession of the land, the Collector shall pay the amount awarded with interest thereon at the rate of nine per centum per annum from the time of so taking possession until it shall have been so paid or deposited:

Provided that if such compensation or any part thereof is not paid or deposited within a period of one year from the date on which possession is taken, interest at the rate of fifteen per centum per annum shall be payable from the date or expiry of the said period of one year on the amount of compensation or part thereof which has not been paid or deposited before the date of such expiry.

16. Section 34 was amended by Act No. 68 of 1984 w.e.f. 24.9.1982 and the rate of interest was increased from 6% to 9% per annum for the first year and by inserting a proviso, the rate of interest has been further enhanced to 15% per annum beyond one year from the date on which possession is taken. By the same Act, similar amendments were made in Section 28 prescribing the same rates of interest.

17. The scheme of the Act reveals that both the Court and the Collector are invested with the power to award interest. The power of the Collector to award interest, as noted above, is contained in Section 34 of the Act. He is enjoined with the duty to award interest on the compensation amount determined by him under Section 11, if it is not paid or deposited on or before taking possession of the land. The rate of interest is 9% for the first year and 15% beyond one year from the date on which possession is taken until it shall have been so paid or deposited.

18. In case the Court enhances the compensation, it is invested with power to award interest on enhanced amount by virtue of Section 28. A conjoint reading of Section 28 and 34 reveals that the intent of the legislature is to ensure award of interest for the entire period starting from the date of dispossession until the amount is deposited in the Court or paid to the person entitled. The award of interest on the amount originally awarded by the Collector under Section 11 is taken care of by Section 34 by investing the power with the Collector who at that stage is in seisin over the matter. The power to award interest on the excess sum of compensation awarded in a reference by a Court is conferred on the Court before whom only such an eventuality may arise. There was no occasion to confer such a power on the Collector, before whom such situation would never arise.

19. Thus, there are two mandates of the legislature. First, to award interest on the compensation amount to the land owners without any break, except for the period during which any delay had occurred on account of stay of proceedings. Second, the rate of interest should be 9% for the first year from the date of dispossession and 15% for the subsequent period.

20. The object of inserting Section 28-A by Act No. 68 of 1984 w.e.f. 24.9.1984 was to do away with inequality in payment of compensation to land owners covered by the same notification. The purpose of grant of interest is to compensate an unpaid land owner who had been deprived of possession of his land in pursuance of the power of compulsory acquisition by the State Government. The liability to pay interest is incurred on the date Government takes possession, or in other words, the tenure holder is dispossessed. The rationale behind the same is plain and simple. The dispossession of the owner of the land by the State Government in exercise of its power of eminent domain, deprives him of the usufructs and benefits accruing to him from the acquired land. While the compensation determined is the value of land, in case compensation is not paid before depriving him of his land, the interest is recompense for depriving a person of the income from his property/compensation amount.

21. The Supreme Court, in Union of India and Another vs. Pushpavathi and Others1, held that the liability of the State to pay interest on the compensation amount is statutory in character and can be claimed at any stage of the proceedings under the Act. The award of interest is not bound by rules of procedure and limitation. The remedy of reference under Sections 18 is limited to the measurement of the land or to the amount of compensation or as to the person(s) to whom the compensation is payable and lastly, regarding the apportionment of compensation amongst the persons interested in claiming compensation. The simpliciter dispute relating to non-award of interest is not capable of being referred by the Collector to the Civil Court under Section 18 of the Act as payment of interest is statutory in character and once the conditions specified under the statute are fulfilled, it acquires a mandatory character. The relevant extract from the said judgment in relation to the statutory character of the interest payable under the Act is as follows: -

"29. There are two sections, which deal with the payment of interest, namely, Section 28 and Section 34. So far as Section 28 is concerned, it deals with the payment of interest on excess compensation. It empowers the Civil Court to award interest on the excess amount awarded over and above the amount by the Collector. It empowers the Court to direct the Collector to pay interest at the rate of 9% p.a. on such excess amount awarded by the Court from the date on which the Collector took possession of the land to the date of payment of such excess amount into Court. The proviso to Section 28 further enables the Court to award interest on such excess amount if the conditions specified in the proviso are fulfilled in any acquisition proceedings in relation to the land.

30. So far as Section 34 is concerned, it deals with another mode of payment of interest to the landowners. It provides that if compensation is not paid or deposited on or before taking possession of the land, the Collector shall pay interest at the rate of 9% per annum from the time of so taking possession until it shall have been so paid or deposited. Proviso to this section, however, empowers the Collector to pay interest at the rate of 15% p.a., if the conditions specified therein are fulfilled in any acquisition case.

31. Section 28-A provides for re-determination of the amount of compensation on the basis of the award of the Court. It enables the landowners to approach the Collector to re-determine the amount of compensation payable to them on the basis of the award passed by the Court in the cases of other persons alike them whose lands were also acquired under the same notification of Section 4 and who approached the Court for re-determination of the amount of compensation payable to them whereas other landowners did not approach the Court along with them. Such landowners are given a right to make an application within 3 months from the date of such award of the Court to the Collector and claim therein the same compensation which was awarded to other landowners by the Court. Sub-section(2) of Section 28-A empowers the Collector to conduct an inquiry and make an award determining the amount of compensation payable to such landowners. Sub-section(3) of Section 28-A empowers the landowners to approach the Collector to refer his/their case to the Court in case he/they is/are aggrieved by the award passed by the Collector under sub-section(2) of Section 28-A of the Act.

36. A dispute relating to non-award of interest payable to the landowners under Section 28 or/and Section 34 of the Act is not specified under Section 18 and hence it is not capable of being referred by the Collector to the Civil Court under Section 18 of the Act. It is also for the reason that payment of interest is statutory in character and being statutory, it is mandatory for payment once conditions specified under Section 28 or/and 34 are fulfilled."

22. The Supreme Court in the said judgment relied on its previous judgment in Shree Vijay Cotton & Oil Mills Ltd. vs. State of Gujarat2. For ready reference, the same is extracted below: -

"16. There is inherent evidence in the wording of Sections 28 and 34 to show that the framers of the Act intended to assure the payment of interest to the person whose land was acquired and it was not the intention to subject the said payment to procedural hazards. Section 34 lays down that "the Collector shall pay the amount awarded with interest at 6 per cent per annum….". The legislative mandate is clear. It is a directive to the collector to pay the interest in a given circumstance. Section 34 nowhere says that the interest amount is to be included in the award-decree as prepared under Section 23(1) read with Section 26 of the Act. Similarly Section 28 provides "the award of the court may direct that the Collector shall pay interest". Here also the award under Section 23(1) read with Section 26 has been kept distinct from the payment of interest under the section. The interest to be paid under Section 34 and also under Section 28 is of different character than the compensation amount under Section 23(1) of the Act. Whereas the interest, if payable under the Act, can be claimed at any stage of the proceedings under the Act, the amount of compensation under Section 23(1) which is an award-decree under Section 26, is subject to the rules of Procedure and Limitation. The rules of procedure are hand-maiden of justice. The procedural hassle cannot come in the way of substantive rights of citizens under the Act."

23. Once it is established that the legislative intent is to ensure award of interest on the compensation amount from date of dispossession until it is paid or deposited, it inheres in an award envisaged under Section 28-A(1) that an affected person taking recourse to such provision, inserted with the sole object of ensuring equality, cannot be deprived of the interest. The mere fact that no separate provision has been made under Section 28-A would not denude the Collector of the power to award interest which he automatically derives on the strength of the award which forms the foundation of the proceedings.

24. If the situation is viewed in the context of the argument advanced on behalf of the petitioner that interest could be awarded by Court only in reference under Section 28-A(3) as Section 28 has been specifically made applicable for Court only, it would be self-defeating and paradoxical. The legislature never countenanced a situation where the Collector would not have power to award interest on the compensation amount re-determined by him under Section 28-A and for getting the said relief, a person should approach the Court by invoking Section 28-A(3) of the Act.

25. A Three-Judge Bench of Supreme Court in Union of India and Another vs. Pradeep Kumari and Others3 held that at the stage of proceedings under Section 28-A, the Collector would act under Section 34 in awarding interest on the additional amount of compensation awarded by him. Para 13 of the Law Report is quoted below: -

"Shri Goswamy has next contended that while re-determining the amount of compensation under Section 28-A it is not permissible for the Collector to award interest on the additional amount of compensation awarded by him for the reason that under Section 28 of the Act only the court can direct payment of interest on the excess amount awarded as compensation and no such power is conferred on the Collector and, therefore, interest cannot be awarded by the Collector on the additional amount of compensation determined under Section 28-A. It is no doubt true that under Section 28 only the court can direct payment of interest on the excess amount awarded as compensation and the Collector is not competent to award interest on the additional amount of compensation under the said provision. But sub-section (2) of Section 28-A provides that after an application has been submitted under sub-section (1) of Section 28-A the Collector after conducting an inquiry makes an award determining the amount of compensation payable to the applicants and under sub-section (3) of Section 28-A any person who has not accepted the award under sub-section (2) may move the Collector requiring that the matter be referred for determination to the court and the provisions of Sections 18 to 28 have been made applicable to such reference. This would show that after an application has been submitted under Section 28-A(l) for re-determination of the amount of compensation the process of such re-determination results in making of an award by the Collector and a person not accepting the said award can move the Collector to refer the matter to the Court for determination and such reference is governed by Sections 18 to 28. If that is so, Section 34 of the Act would be applicable to the award that is made by the Collector under sub-section (2) of Section 28-A and it would be permissible for him to award interest under Section 34 on the additional amount of compensation awarded by him. The second contention urged by Shri Goswamy is, therefore, rejected."

26. In our opinion, viewed from any angle, the irresistible conclusion is that the Collector shall have full power to award interest on the enhanced compensation amount awarded by him under Section 28-A of the Act.

27. In view of the foregoing discussions, the contention on behalf of the petitioner does not merit acceptance and, consequently, the writ petition is dismissed.

28. No order as to costs.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1771
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 08.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SHEKHAR B. SARAF, J.

Writ - C No. 18495 of 2021

Arun Kumar ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Mr. S.K. Tyagi, Advocate

Counsel for the Respondents:
Mr. Rishi Kumar, Addl. Chief Standing Counsel

Civil Law –stamp deficiency-correct stamp duty payable for a property transaction-classification of the land as commercial or non-agricultural-sale deed initially mentioned the property as commercial-later on correction deed executed stating property to be non-agricultural- spot verification carried out by the authorities of utmost relevance-description of the property as given by vendor/vendee in a registration deed- cannot be accepted as ultimate truth de hors spot inspection report—property in the instant case was non-commercial as per spot inspection-impugned order quashed- petition allowed. (Paras 8 and 9)

HELD:

The approach of the authorities below is without any basis in law as they have imposed the deficient stamp duty only for the reason that the petitioner had initially in the sale deed mentioned the property as commercial land. The authorities below have not considered the fact that this mistake of mentioning the land as commercial was rectified by the petitioner. (Para 8)

It is to be noted that the relevance of the spot verification carried out by the authorities themselves is paramount in nature and it is from such verification that the assessment was carried out by the authorities with regard to the nature of the land. For example, if a person in a deed of sale St.s that the land, that is being sold, is agricultural land containing a water body and on the spot verification it is found out that the land is actually being used for the purpose of running a factory, it is the spot verification that has to be taken into consideration by the authorities concerned. The description of the property as given by the vendor/vendee in a registration deed cannot, under any circumstances, be accepted as the ultimate truth de hors the inspection carried out by the authorities. (Para 9)

Petition allowed. (E-14)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shekhar B. Saraf, J.)

1. This is a writ petition under article 226 of the Constitution of India wherein the petitioner has prayed for the issuance of a writ of certiorari quashing the impugned order dated June 8, 2021 passed by Deputy Commissioner Stamps, Kanpur Region, Kanpur/the respondent No. 2 and the impugned order dated December 4, 2020 passed by Collector Stamps, Etawah/the respondent No.3

FACTS

2. Factual matrix of the present case is delineated below:

a) The case pertains to payment of deficient stamp duty while registering a sale-deed bearing Document No.2266 of 2017, dated April 7, 2017, whereby the petitioner had purchased Plot No.388, area 162.63 square meters in Mohalla Manikpur Vishu, Etawah at the rate of Rs.18000/- per square meter and paid stamp duty of Rs. 2,05,100 at a rate of 7 percent.

b) On February 22, 2018, a report was submitted by the office of the Accountant General, Lucknow to the respondent No.3 that there is deficiency in the stamp duty on the aforesaid sale-deed. Subsequently, a case was registered against the petitioner by issuing notice to him.

c) On August 5, 2019, the petitioner submitted his objection with a prayer that in order to ascertain the correct fact as to whether the plot in question is commercial or non-commercial, the competent authority is required to get the spot inspected.

d) The respondent No.3 directed the the Deputy Registrar, Etawah/the respondent No.4 to make a spot inspection of the land in question. The respondent No.4 made the spot inspection on January 6, 2019 and submitted his report on January 7, 2019.

e) On December 4, 2020, the respondent No.3 passed an order directing the petitioner to pay the deficit stamp duty of Rs.6,03,190/- along with a penalty of Rs.1,000/-, totaling Rs. 6,04,190/-, with respect to the sale deed bearing Document No.2266/2017. He also directed the petitioner to pay interest at the rate of 1.50 percent per month on the deficit stamp duty from the date of execution of the instrument i.e. April 7, 2017 till the date of deposit of the stamp duty.

f) Against the order passed by respondent No.3, the petitioner filed an appeal under Section 56 of the Indian Stamps Act, 1899 before the respondent No.2 who, vide order dated June 8, 2021, rejected the appeal filed by the petitioner and upheld the order dated December 4, 2020 passed by the respondent No.3.

g) It is to be noted that the petitioner made an application before the Competent Authority for rectification of the sale deed indicating the nature of the land to be agricultural. Such application was allowed on March 8, 2021.

h) Being aggrieved by the orders dated December 4, 2020 and June 8, 2021 passed by the authorities below, the petitioner has preferred the instant writ petition before this Court.

CONTENTIONS OF THE PETITIONER

3. Sri S.K. Tyagi, learned counsel appearing for the petitioner has made the following submissions in the matter:

i. Initially there was an error in the sale deed in question as in the sale deed the land was described as commercial instead of non-agricultural. This mistake was subsequently rectified and the word 'commercial' was substituted by the word 'non-agricultural'. The rectification was duly approved by the registration authority and the stamp duty was paid accordingly.

ii. The authorities below have passed the impugned orders in violation of established legal procedures. This includes non consideration of important evidence such as the spot inspection report submitted by the the respondent No. 4 which should have been given due weightage in the decision making process.

iii. The impugned orders are arbitrary and illegal since they are based on non-existing grounds. This is evident from the fact that the land in question was determined to be agricultural in nature, not commercial, as per the spot inspection report.

iv. The petitioner corrected the mistake in the sale-deed promptly upon discovering it. The correction deed clearly states that the land is non-agricultural and not commercial. Therefore, any penalty or deficiency imposed based on the initial mistake should not apply after the correction.

v. The petitioner paid stamp duty based on the correct valuation of Rs.18,000/- per square meter for agricultural land. The authorities incorrectly valued it at the rate of Rs.71,000/- per square meter for commercial land, leading to the alleged deficiency.

vi. The respondent No.4 in the spot inspection found no construction on the land and recommended valuation at Rs.18000/- per square meter. However, the respondent No.3 and the respondent No.2 relied on the report submitted by the office of the Accountant General, which is based on non-existing grounds.

vii. The authorities failed to consider crucial evidences, such as the Khasra showing the land as agricultural, the correction made in the sale-deed and the spot inspection report confirming the nature of the land as non-agricultural.

viii. The petitioner deposited a sum to satisfy the revenue authorities and avoid coercive measures such as arrest. This action was taken under duress and does not validate the legality of the orders passed.

CONTENTIONS OF THE RESPONDENTS

4. Sri Rishi Kumar, Additional Chief Standing Counsel, has made the following submissions in the matter:

I. The petitioner did not pay the required stamp duty on a commercial land as per the prevailing rates.

II. The orders passed by the authorities are neither unreasoned nor unlawful and have been passed after due consideration of the rules and the regulations, without any illegality.

III. The circle rates are set annually by the District Magistrate and the deficiency in stamp duty was correctly identified and imposed.

IV. In the sale deed itself, it has been mentioned by the petitioner that the land in question is commercial, and therefore, as per Column 5, Serial No.8 Page 72 of the prevalent rate list dated June 8, 2016, the total valuation was calculated to Rs. 1,15,46,730/- on which stamp duty of Rs. 8,08,290/- was required to be paid, whereas the petitioner has paid Rs.2,05,100/- only against the stamp duty. So, there is a clear deficiency of stamp duty of Rs. 6,03,190/-.

ANALYSSIS

5. I have heard the counsel appearing on behalf of the parties and perused the materials on record.

6. The present case involves a dispute with regard to correct stamp duty payable for a property transaction due to the classification of the land as commercial or non-agricultural. The petitioner argues that the rectification was promptly made upon discovering the initial mistake and that the authorities failed to consider the crucial evidences supporting the non-commercial classification. On the other hand, the respondents assert that the deficiency in the stamp duty was correctly identified based on prevailing rates and the petitioner's own declaration in the sale-deed.

7. Upon a perusal of the order passed by the respondent No.3, it can be seen that he has relied upon the objections of the Accountant General with respect to the sale deed in question and came to the conclusion that the sold land was shown to be of commercial nature at the time of the registration of the sale deed. Hence, the sale deed shall be subjected to the calculation of stamp fee at the commercial rate of Rs.71,000/- per square meter.

7. It can be further noted from the perusal of the appellate order passed by the respondent No.2 that he also made the same finding that on the date of the registration of the sale deed, the land was shown as the commercial land by the parties and in light of this fact, the spot inspection report submitted by the respondent No.4 can not be accepted and the order passed by the respondent No.3 was upheld.

8. The approach of the authorities below is without any basis in law as they have imposed the deficient stamp duty only for the reason that the petitioner had initially in the sale deed mentioned the property as commercial land. The authorities below have not considered the fact that this mistake of mentioning the land as commercial was rectified by the petitioner.

9. It is to be noted that the relevance of the spot verification carried out by the authorities themselves is paramount in nature and it is from such verification that the assessment was carried out by the authorities with regard to the nature of the land. For example, if a person in a deed of sale states that the land, that is being sold, is agricultural land containing a water body and on the spot verification it is found out that the land is actually being used for the purpose of running a factory, it is the spot verification that has to be taken into consideration by the authorities concerned. The description of the property as given by the vendor/vendee in a registration deed cannot, under any circumstances, be accepted as the ultimate truth de hors the inspection carried out by the authorities.

10. In the present case, it is clear that the spot verification carried out by the authorities indicated that the property was non commercial in nature. The rejection of such spot verification without assigning any reason to the same only on the basis that the deed that was registered, indicated that the property was commercial in nature, is clearly arbitrary and illegal in law.

11. In light of the same, the impugned orders dated December 4, 2020 and June 8, 2021 are quashed and set-aside. The authorities are directed to refund the deficient stamp duty, if any, paid by the petitioner within a period of six weeks from date.

12. Accordingly, the writ petition is allowed.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1775

ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 14.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Writ - C No. 3000007 of 2015

Anand Kishor Devacharaya & Ors.
...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Karunakar Srivastava

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

Civil Law – ceiling proceedings challenged-Sections 10 (2) & 13 of U. P. Imposition of Land Holdings Act, 1960-impugned order-declaration of surplus land-land recorded in the name of ancestors also included-U.P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1972 (U.P. Act 18 of 1973)- Section 19 of the Amendment Act-proceedings initiated under unamended Act stood abated on 08.06.1973-fresh proceedings could only be initiated by issuing a fresh notice-under Section 9(2) of the Act-impugned orders quashed-petition allowed. (Paras 18 to 21)

HELD:
In view of the provisions contained in Section 19(1) of the Amendment Act, 1972, all the proceedings initiated under the unamended Act stood abated on 08.06.1973. The Prescribed Authority could have initiated fresh proceedings by issuing a notice under Section 9 (2) of the Act. (Para 19)

Therefore, the proceedings instituted on the basis of notice issued to Maharaja Dharmendra Pratap Singh, stood abated in view of the provisions contained in Section 19 of the amendment Act. Fresh proceedings could only be initiated by issuing a fresh notice under Section 9

(2) of the Ceiling Act, which was not done in the present case. (Para 20)

The order passed by the Appellate Authority stating that the proceedings against Maharaja Pateshwari Prasad Singh and his heir Maharaja Dharmendra Pratap Singh had been issued under the old Ceiling Act (which is a misnomer, as there was no old Ceiling Act and it was merely the unamended Ceiling Act, as it was originally enacted) and that the same proceedings shall be deemed to be continuing, has been passed in ignorance of the provisions of Section 19 of the U.P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1972 (U.P. Act 18 of 1973) and the same is unsustainable in law. (Para 21)

Petition allowed. (E-14)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Shri Karunakar Srivastava, Advocate, the learned counsel for the petitioner and Shri Sarvesh Kumar Mishra, the learned Standing Counsel.

2. By means of the instant Writ Petition filed under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, the petitioners have sought quashing of an order dated 29.07.1999 passed by the Additional District Magistrate/Prescribed Authority under the Ceiling Act, Balrampur, in Case No.7/8 under Section 10 (2) of U. P. Imposition of Land Holdings Act, 1960 (hereinafter referred as Ceiling Act). The petitioners have also sought quashing of an order dated 15.04.2015 passed by Additional Commissioner (Judicial), Devi Patan Division, Gonda dismissing Appeal No.5/43 under Section 13 of the Ceiling Act, which was filed against the aforesaid order dated 29.07.1999 passed by the Prescribed Authority.

3. It has been stated in the writ petition that proceedings under the Ceiling Act had been initiated against Maharani Rajlaxmi Kumari and Maharaja Dharmendra Pratap Singh and some of their lands had been declared surplus by means of an order dated 26.04.1990 While declaring surplus lands of Maharani Rajlaxmi Kumari and Maharaja Dharmendra Pratap Singh, land bearing Gata No.1788/1.86 acre (New Gata No.774/1.671 acre) was also included in their surplus lands whereas this land had already been recorded in the name of ancestors of the petitioners by means of an order dated 27.01.1968 passed by the Consolidation Officer.

4. The petitioners' ancestors filed objections against the order declaring their land as surplus land of Maharani Rajlaxmi Kumari and Maharaja Dharmendra Pratap Singh but Prescribed Authority rejected the same by means of an order dated 26.07.1997. Appeal No.197 was filed under Section 13 of the Ceiling Act against the order dated 26.07.1997, which was allowed by means of a judgment and order dated 28.11.1998 passed by the Additional Commissioner (Administration), Faizabad Division, Faizabad.

5. The Appellate Court held that the name of Devadi Dev was ordered to be mutated in place of Kuwar Dharmendra Pratap Singh by means of an order dated 27.1.1968 passed by Consolidation Officer in Case No.1944 under Section 9(2) of the Consolidation of Holdings Act and this order was passed much earlier than the reference date i.e. 24.01.1971. The name of Devadi Dev was recorded in CH Form No.23 and 45 also in respect of disputed Gata No.774. In the relevant extracts of Khatuni relating to year 1399 to 1404 Fasli, the disputed land was entered in the name of Shanti Devi, widow of Devadi Dev and by means of an order dated 03.03.1994 passed by Tehsildar, Balrampur in Case No.374, the names of Tihuti Dev Acharya S/o Ganesh Dutt Acharya, Anand Dev Acharya, Nand Kishor Acharya and Anand Kishor Dev Acharya all sons of Bindhar Dev Achary were mutated in place of Shanti Devi W/o Devadi Dev.

6. From the aforesaid facts, the Appellate Court found that the land in dispute was recorded in the name of Devadi Dev and after him, it was recorded in the name of his widow. The finding of the Prescribed Authority that the petitioners were not recorded as tenure holders of the land in dispute and, therefore, there was no need to issue a notice under Section 8 to them, was against the facts evident from the record. The Appellate Court further held that the trial Court has wrongly stated in the impugned order that the petitioners had not adduced any evidence, whereas copies of relevant extracts of Khataunies and CH Forms No.23 and 45 were available on the record of the Prescribed Authority. Accordingly, the Additional Commissioner (Administration) allowed the Appeal, set aside the order dated 26.07.1997 and remanded the matter to the Prescribed Authority for being decided afresh.

7. After remand, the Prescribed Authority again passed a non-speaking and cryptic order dated 29.07.1999 and the ancestors of the petitioners again filed an Appeal bearing No.43 before the Commissioner, Devi Patan Division, Gonda but the Appeal was dismissed as time barred by means of an order dated 30.05.2001. The petitioners challenged the order dated 30.05.2001 by filing Writ Petition No.64 (Ceiling) of 2001, which was disposed of by means of an order dated 08.03.2010 whereby the order dated 30.05.2001 passed by the Additional Commissioner dismissing the petitioners' Appeal as time barred, was quashed and the matter was remitted for decision afresh on merits.

8. The petitioner filed a copy of the aforesaid order dated 08.3.2010 passed by this Court in Writ Petition No.64 (Ceiling) of 2001 before the Commissioner, Devi Patan Division, Gonda and thereafter, the Commissioner, Devi Patan Division, Gonda dismissed the Appeal by means of the impugned order dated 15.04.2015.

9. It is stated in the appellate order that the Appeal against an order dated 29.07.1999 had been filed on 23.05.2001, which is time barred but the appellant has submitted an application under Section 5 of the Limitation Act and the cause shown in the affidavit filed in support of the application appears to the sufficient and, therefore, the application under Section 5 of the Limitation Act was allowed.

10. It is strange that the Appellate Authority did not make any reference of the order dated 08.03.2010 passed by this Court in Writ Petition No.64 (Ceiling) of 2001 whereby the order dismissing the appeal as time barred had been quashed and this Court has remanded the matter to the Appellate Authority for deciding it afresh on merits.

11. The Appellate Authority held that the proceedings against Maharaja Pateshwri Prasad have been initiated under the old Ceiling Act and after his death, the name of Maharaja Dharmendra Pratap Singh was substituted and a notice had been issued to him under the old Ceiling Act. Therefore, the proceedings shall be deemed to be continuing against Maharani Rajlaxmi Kumari Devi and Maharaja Dharmendra Pratap Singh, under the old Ceiling Act.

12. The Appellate judgment states that the following provision is contained in the old Ceiling Act: -

"In accordance with Article 39 of Constitution, the State Legislate enacted the U.P. Imposition of Land Holding Act, 1960, which came into force on January 3, 1961"

13. The Appellate court held that the old Ceiling Act came into force with effect from 03.01.1961 with reference year 1958. As proceedings against Maharaja Pateshwari Prasad Singh and his heir Maharajaa Dharmendra Pratap Singh had been instituted under the old Ceiling Act, they will be governed by the old Ceiling Act.

14. The order dated 27.01.1968 for recording the name of the appellant's husband, had been passed by the Consolidation Officer on the basis of a compromise and this order had been passed 10 years after the reference date. Therefore, the order dated 27.01.1968 passed by the Consolidation Officer is liable to be neglected and no relief can be granted to the appellant on the basis of the aforesaid order.

15. On 22.07.2021, this Court had passed the following order in this case:

"Counsel for the petitioners has argued that the appellate order has been passed on an entirely different ground that was not there before the Prescribed Authority. The Appellate Court has referred to Old Ceiling Act and cut off as mentioned therein whereas the admitted position between the parties is that the proceedings that were initiated against the Maharaja Dharmendra Pratap Singh and his mother Maharani Raj Laxmi Kumari Devi was under the New Ceiling Act on 26.04.1990 and therefore the compromise of 1968 which was entered into between the parties before the cut off date of 1971, should be respected and the petitioners predecessor in interest should be declared as an independent tenure holder and his land could not have been declared as the land of Majaraja Dharmendra Pratap Singh.

Shri V.P. Nag, prays for and is granted a week's time to find out the current position of the land in question as it has come in the papers filed alongwith the writ petition that Collectorate building was to be constructed on such land and also to bring case laws with regard whether the proceedings under Old Ceiling Act would continue even after New Ceiling Act came into being."

16. Thereafter, the State has filed a supplementary counter affidavit wherein it has inter alia been stated that as per the report of the Tehsildar Balrampur dated 28.07.2021, Plot No. 774 area 0.676 Hectares and Plot No. 775 area 0.061 Hectares are recorded for construction of District Office and on the spot 25 Mango, 01 Jamun and 01 Tamrind tree was found. Plot No. 774 and 775 are grove lands and are vacant. It is further stated in the supplementary affidavit that the notice to Maharaja Dharmendra Pratap Singh have been sent under the old Ceiling Act and the basis of this averment made in the supplementary counter affidavit is the impugned order dated 15.04.2015 passed by the Additional Commissioner (Judicial), Devi Patan Division, Gonda.

17. Section 5 of the Ceiling Act, as it was originally enacted, provided as follows: -

5. Imposition of ceiling on existing land holdings.—(1) As and from the date of enforcement of this Act, no

tenure-holder shall, except as otherwise provided by this Act, be entitled to hold an area in excess of the ceiling area applicable to him, anything contained in any other law, custom, or usage for the time being in force, or agreement, to the contrary notwithstanding.

(2) In determining the ceiling area applicable to a tenure-holder at the commencement of this Act, any transfer or partition of land made after the twentieth day of August, 1959, which, but for the transfer or partition would have been declared surplus land under the provisions of this Act, shall be ignored and not taken into account.

(3) The provisions of sub-section (2) shall have no application to—

(a) a transfer in favour of the State Government;

(b) a partition under the U.P. Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1953, or

(c) a partition of the holding of a joint Hindu family made by a suit or proceeding pending on twentieth day of August, 1959.

***

18. U.P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1972 (U.P. Act 18 of 1973) made large-scale amendments in the U.P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1961 with effect from 08.06.1973. Section 19 of the Amendment Act, 1972 provides as follows: -

"19. Transitory provisions.—(1) All proceedings for the determination of surplus land under Section 9, Section 10, Section 11, Section 12, Section 13 or Section 30 of the principal Act, pending before any court or authority at the time of the commencement of this Act, shall abate and the prescribed authority shall start the proceedings for determination of the ceiling area under that Act afresh by issue of a notice under sub-section (2) of Section 9 of that Act as inserted by this Act:

Provided that the ceiling area in such cases shall be determined in the following manner—

(a) firstly, the ceiling area shall be determined in accordance with the principal Act, as it stood before its amendment by this Act;

(b) thereafter, the ceiling area shall be redetermined in accordance with the provisions of the principal Act as amended by this Act.

(2) Notwithstanding, anything in sub-section (1), any proceeding under Section 14 or under Chapter III or Chapter IV of the principal Act, in respect of any tenure-holder in relation to whom the surplus land has been determined finally before the commencement of this Act, may be continued and concluded in accordance with the provisions of the principal Act, without prejudice to the applicability of the provisions of sub-section (2) of Section 9 and Section 13-A of that Act, as inserted by this Act, in respect of such land."

19. In view of the provisions contained in Section 19(1) of the Amendment Act, 1972, all the proceedings initiated under the unamended Act stood abated on 08.06.1973. The Prescribed Authority could have initiated fresh proceedings by issuing a notice under Section 9 (2) of the Act.

20. Therefore, the proceedings instituted on the basis of notice issued to Maharaja Dharmendra Pratap Singh, stood abated in view of the provisions contained in Section 19 of the amendment Act. Fresh proceedings could only be initiated by issuing a fresh notice under Section 9 (2) of the Ceiling Act, which was not done in the present case.

21. The order passed by the Appellate Authority stating that the proceedings against Maharaja Pateshwari Prasad Singh and his heir Maharaja Dharmendra Pratap Singh had been issued under the old Ceiling Act (which is a misnomer, as there was no old Ceiling Act and it was merely the unamended Ceiling Act, as it was originally enacted) and that the same proceedings shall be deemed to be continuing, has been passed in ignorance of the provisions of Section 19 of the U.P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1972 (U.P. Act 18 of 1973) and the same is unsustainable in law.

22. Accordingly, the writ petition is allowed. The order dated 15.04.2015 passed by Additional Commissioner (Judicial), Devi Patan Division, Gonda dismissing Appeal No.5/43 under Section 13 of the Ceiling Act is quashed. The matter is remanded to Additional Commissioner (Judicial), Devi Patan Division, Gonda for being decided afresh in accordance with the law, keeping in view the observations made in this judgment.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1780
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 08.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Writ - C No. 3000102 of 1994

Bhanvi Saran Singh & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Petitioners:
B.K. Saxena

Counsel for the Respondent:
P. Mahapatra, Waseem Uddin Ahmad

Civil Law –ceiling proceedings against the predecessor in interest of the of the petitioner challenged- he had died before the initiation of proceedings-Section 9 (2) of the Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings Act, 1960-Rule 19 (2) of Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings Rules, 1961-rule has been declared ultra vires by the Division Bench-tenure holder dead on the date of notification under Section 9 of the Act-no proceedings can be initiated against him-furthermore-State asserts some land liable to be declared surplus under the Ceiling Act-burden to prove the relevant fact lies on the State-both these legal propositions not followed-impugned orders quashed-petition allowed. (Para 14, 15 and 16)

HELD:
When the Division Bench has already held sub Rule 19 (2) of Rules of 1961 to be ultra vires and has declared that this cannot be relied upon for any purpose, the provisions contained in Rule 19 (2) cannot be relied upon by the opposite party-State. The Division Bench has specifically held that no proceedings for declaring the land of the tenure holder who is dead on the date of notification under Section 9 of the Ceiling Act can be taken. (Para 14)

As in the present case this factual assertion made in the writ petition that the tenure holder Hanuman Singh had died prior to issuance of the notice under Section 9 (2) of the Ceiling Act has not been denied in the counter affidavit, in view of the law laid down by the Division Bench in Horam Singh (supra) no proceedings under the Ceiling Act could continue on the basis of notice under Section 9 (2) issued in the name of a dead person. (Para 15)

Moreover, the approach of the Prescribed Authority and the Appellate Court declaring in any land to be surplus for the sole reason that the petitioners could not provide copies of the records, which ought to have been maintained by the State authorities, is against the basic principle of dispensation of justice, which requires the person asserting a claim to prove the facts which form the basis of the claim. If the State asserts that some land is liable to be declared as surplus under the provisions of the Ceiling Act, the burden to prove the relevant facts lies on the State. The land cannot be declared surplus only because the tenure holder could not provide copies of some records, the liability to maintain which records rests on the State authorities. (Para 16)

Petition allowed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. Surendra Pratap Singh Vs State of U.P. & ors.: 2024:AHCLKO:3082

2. Horam Singh & ors.Vs District Judge, Moradabad & ors.: 1978 SCC OnLine All 682 = 1979 All LJ 85

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

Order on IA-08/24:

This is an application seeking amendment of the writ petition, whereby the petitioners have sought to amend the prayer clause. The learned Standing Counsel has also formally opposed the application without filing any written objection. As the amendment is formal in nature and it does not change the nature of the petition, the application for amendment is allowed. The learned counsel for the petitioners may incorporate necessary corrections in the memo of writ petition forthwith.

Order on Writ Petition:

1. Heard Sri Utkarsh Srivastava and Sri Rakshit Raj Singh Advocates, holding brief of Sri B.K. Saxena Advocate, the learned counsel for the petitioners and Sri S.K. Khare, the learned Standing Counsel for the State.

2. By means of the instant Writ Petition filed under Article 226 of the Constitution of India the petitioners have sought quashing of the entire ceiling proceedings initiated against Sri Hanuman Singh, the predecessor in interest of the petitioners, who had died before initiation of the proceedings.

3. It has inter alia been submitted in the writ petition that a notice under the Proviso appended to Section 9 (2) of the Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings Act, 1960 (hereinafter referred to as the Ceiling Act) was issued in the name of Hanuman Singh, whereas Hanuman Singh had died in May, 1975, prior to issuance of the notice. The petitioners submitted a reply to the notice stating that the notice had been issued in the name of a dead person. It was further stated in the objection that Hanuman Singh had already transferred 35 bigha of his land through a registered sale deed as far back as in the year 1963 and, therefore, he was not holding any surplus land.

4. The matter was decided ex-parte on 18.02.1976, whereby 35 bigha land of Hanuman Singh was declared surplus. An application for setting aside the ex-parte order dated 18.02.1976 was filed, which was rejected by means of an order dated 20.08.1976. An appeal no.244/80 was filed under Section 13 of the Ceiling Act, which was allowed by means of a judgment and order dated 18.07.1984, passed by the District Judge, Lucknow and the matter was remanded to the Prescribed Authority for being decided afresh.

5. After remand, the learned Prescribed Authority has decided the matter by means of an order dated 02.05.1985 stating that the petitioners had been directed to file a copy of the recall application but they did not file the same and had sought adjournment of the case on the ground that their counsel had gone out of station. The Prescribed Authority rejected the adjournment application and held that as the tenure holder has not brought on record the restoration/revision or objection against the notice which had been filed within limitation, the earlier order dated 18.07.1976, by which 22 bigha 5 biswa 6 biswanshi and 17 kachhwanshi land of the petitioners mentioned in Forms 3 A, B and C was declared surplus, was confirmed.

6. The sole reason assigned for declaring the petitioners' land to be surplus was that the petitioners had not filed copy of the restoration application or reply to the notice filed within limitation. The prescribed authority did not advert to the plea of the petitioner that the proceedings under the Ceiling Act had been initiated against a dead person.

7. The petitioners filed Appeal No. 13/85-86 under Section 13 of the Ceiling Act against the aforesaid order dated 02.05.1985, which was dismissed by means of the impugned judgment dated 13.09.1994, passed by the learned Additional Commissioner (Judicial), Lucknow Division, Lucknow, on the ground that while remanding the matter by means of the order dated 14.08.1976, the District Judge had directed the prescribed authority to decide the matter on its merits but this application dated 14.08.1976 (which was an application for recall) was not available on record and the petitioner did not produce its copy before the Prescribed Authority and, therefore, there was no need for any interference in appeal.

8. The State has filed a counter affidavit in response to the writ petition and the averments made in paras 2 and 3 of the writ petition that the original tenure holder Hanuman Singh had died prior to issuance of notice under the proviso appended to Section 9 (2) of Ceiling Act have not been denied in the counter affidavit. Therefore, the aforesaid averments are deemed to be admitted by implication.

9. The learned Standing Counsel has submitted that even if the notice was issued after death of Hanuman Singh the original tenure holder, the notice published under Section 9 shall be deemed to apply to heirs of deceased tenure holder as per the provisions contained in Rule 19 (2) of Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings Rules, 1961 (hereinafter referred to as the Rules of 1961).

10. Sub Rule (2) and (3) of Rule 19 (2) of Rules of 1961 provide as follows:

"19. .....(2)Where a tenure-holder dies before the publication of the general notice under Section 9, such publication shall be deemed to apply to his executor, administrator, or other legal representatives and the Prescribed Authority may proceed to determine the ceiling area applicable to the deceased person as if such executor, administrator or other legal representatives were the tenure holder, for the purposes of service of such notice.

(3)Where a tenure-holder dies before he is served with a notice under sub-section (2) of Section 10, the Prescribed Authority may serve such notice on his executor, administrator or other legal representatives, and may proceed to determine the ceiling area applicable to the deceased person as if such executor, administrator or other legal representatives were the tenure-holder for the purposes of service of such notice."

11. The learned Standing Counsel has relied upon a decision rendered by a coordinate bench of this court in the case of Surendra Pratap Singh Vs. State of U.P. and others: 2024:AHC-LKO:3082, wherein the following observations have been made:

"10. It is to be noticed that in case a person dies before service of notice under Section 10, the proceedings do not abate but only the persons who can contest the said case are the legal representative of the recorded tenure holder and it is only after service of notice as prescribed under Rule 19 (3) of the U.P. Imposition Of Ceiling On Land Holdings Rules, 1961 the proceedings may continue thereon."

12. Per contra, the learned counsel for the petitioners has relied upon a decision of a Division Bench of this Court in the case of Horam Singh and others Vs. District Judge, Moradabad and others: 1978 SCC OnLine All 682 = 1979 All LJ 85, wherein following questions were referred to the Division Bench: -

"1. When a tenure-holder dies after 8th June, 1973, and before the publication of notice under section 9 of the U.P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings Act what should be the date for determining the surplus area of a tenure-holder for the purposes of determining the surplus area in view of Rule 19 of the Act?

2. Whether Rule 19 read with its sub-clauses (2-4) are within the powers of rule making authority or they are against the provisions of sections 9 and 10 of the Act which speak about the tenure-holder i.e. the real and living tenure-holder on the date when the notice is to be issued?

3. Can determination of surplus area of a tenure-holder who is dead on the date of notification under section 9 of the U.P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings Act be made ignoring the right of the heirs of the deceased tenure-holder on that date?

4. If the notice under: section 9 has been issued when the tenure-holder was no more in this world can notice under section 10(2) of the U.P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings Act be issued without publishing general notice calling upon the heirs of the tenure-holder to submit the statement contemplated by law under section 9 of the Act?

5. If the recorded tenure-holder dies soon after the publication of general notice in the official gazette (e.g. before the expiry of 30 days), is it necessary for the Prescribed Authority to re-issue notices under section 9(1) and (2) of the Act to tenure-holder to comply with the provisions of the Act?"

13. The Division Bench answered the questions as follows:

"1. Where a tenure-holder dies after 8th of June, 1973, and before the publication of notice under section 9 of the Act, the Act does not contemplate taking of any proceedings for determining the surplus land of such tenure-holder and as such no question of considering any one as tenure-holder in his place arises. Sub-rule (2) of Rule 19 therefore is ultra vires and cannot be relied upon for any purpose.

2. Sub-rules (3) and (4) of Rule 19 are within the powers of rule-making authority and they are not repugnant to the provisions under sections 9 and 10 of the Act.

3. As we are of the opinion that no proceedings for declaring the land of a tenure-holder who is dead on the date of notification under section 9 of the Act*, can be taken, question no. 3 does not arise.*

4. In view of our opinion that no proceedings under sections 9 and 10 can be taken in respect of holding of a tenure-holder who dies before the publication of general notice under section 9*, question no. 4 does not arise.*

5. In case, when a recorded tenure-holder dies soon after publication of general notice in the official Gazette, it is not necessary for the Prescribed Authority to reissue a notice under sections 9(1) and 9(2) of the Act. It will be sufficient, if the Presented Authority proceeds to serve the notice on an executor, administrator or other legal representative of the tenure-holder with the statement prepared by him under section 10(2) of the Act in accordance with Rules 19(3) and 19(4) of the Rules framed under the Act."

14. When the Division Bench has already held sub Rule 19 (2) of Rules of 1961 to be ultra vires and has declared that this cannot be relied upon for any purpose, the provisions contained in Rule 19 (2) cannot be relied upon by the opposite party-State. The Division Bench has specifically held that no proceedings for declaring the land of the tenure holder who is dead on the date of notification under Section 9 of the Ceiling Act can be taken.

15. As in the present case this factual assertion made in the writ petition that the tenure holder Hanuman Singh had died prior to issuance of the notice under Section 9 (2) of the Ceiling Act has not been denied in the counter affidavit, in view of the law laid down by the Division Bench in Horam Singh (supra) no proceedings under the Ceiling Act could continue on the basis of notice under Section 9 (2) issued in the name of a dead person.

16. Moreover, the approach of the Prescribed Authority and the Appellate Court declaring in any land to be surplus for the sole reason that the petitioners could not provide copies of the records, which ought to have been maintained by the State authorities, is against the basic principle of dispensation of justice, which requires the person asserting a claim to prove the facts which form the basis of the claim. If the State asserts that some land is liable to be declared as surplus under the provisions of the Ceiling Act, the burden to prove the relevant facts lies on the State. The land cannot be declared surplus only because the tenure holder could not provide copies of some records, the liability to maintain which records rests on the State authorities.

17. The prescribed authority and the appellate authority have not taken into consideration the aforesaid fact and the position of law and have passed the impugned orders against the petitioners, without application of mind to these facts, which makes the impugned orders unsustainable in law.

18. Accordingly, the writ petition is allowed. The impugned order dated 02.05.1985, passed by the Prescribed Authority (Ceiling), Tehsil Malihabad, District Lucknow in Case No. 7, whereby 22 bigha 5 biswa 6 biswanshi and 17 kachhwanshi land of the petitioners mentioned in Forms 3 A, B and C was declared surplus and the order dated 13.09.1974, passed by the learned Additional Commissioner (Judicial), Lucknow Division, Lucknow are hereby quashed.

19. However, it will be open for the authorities to institute fresh proceedings under the Ceiling Act against the petitioners, in accordance with law.

20. The parties will bear their own costs of litigation.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1785
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 08.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Writ - C No. 3996 of 2024

Vivek Kumar Pandey ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Pawan Kumar Pandey, Shashank Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Mohan Singh

Civil Law – order rejecting the representation of the petitioner on compassionate ground upon death of his grandfather-under challenge-GO dated 05.08.2019 deals with allotment of fair price shops-definition of family-same as in Cluase 2(p) of the Uttar Pradesh Essential Commodities (Regulation of Sale and Distribution Control) Order, 2016-Government policy amended to include daughter-in-law in the definition of family-grandson not included-policy not arbitrary-no illegality in the impugned order-petition dismissed. (Paras 15, 16, 18 and 21)

HELD:

This Court can make any interference in policy laid down by the Government for compassionate appointment of the dependants of deceased fair price shop holders, only on the limited grounds recognized by law in this regard. (Para 18)

As the Government has framed a policy for compassionate appointment of dependants of deceased fair price shop licensees by issuing the Government Order dated 05.08.2019 and it has decided to adopt the same definition of family for the purpose of compassionate appointments as is mentioned in Clause 2(p) of the Control Order, 2016, and when this Court interfered in some matters to enlarge the scope of this definition, the Government decided to amend the policy and issued another Government Order dated 28.02.2022 so as to modify the definition of family to the extent of including a daughter-in-law, who is wholly dependent on the head of the family and the Government did not think it proper to include a Grand-son of the deceased also to be eligible for compassionate appointment, this policy of the Government cannot be said to be arbitrary or unreasonable. In these circumstances, this Court finds no good ground to interfere in the Government's policy to as to issue a direction for appointment of the Grand-son of the deceased fair price shop owner on compassionate ground. (Para 21)

Petition dismissed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. Writ Petition No.2899 (MS) of 2015 (Ashok Kumar Vs St. of U.P. through Principal Secretary, Food & Rasad Department and two others

2. Kusumlata Vs St. of U.P., 2022 SCC OnLine All 1025

3. Shri Sitaram Sugar Co. Ltd. Vs Union of India, (1990) 3 SCC 223

4. M.P. Oil Extraction Vs St. of M.P., (1997) 7 SCC 592

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Shri Pawan Kumar Pandey, learned counsel for the petitioner, Shri S.K.

Khare, learned Standing Counsel for the opposite parties no.1 to 4 and Shri Mohan Singh, learned counsel of the opposite party no.5.

2. By means of the instant petition, the petitioner is seeking quashing of an order dated 21.03.2024 passed by the opposite party no.4- Sub-Divisional Magistrate, Tehsil-Alapur, District - Ambedkar Nagar, whereby the petitioner's representation for being allotted Fair Price Shop of Village-Manapur, Semra on compassionate ground due to death of Srinath Pandey - the licensee of the shop, has been rejected on the ground that the petitioner being a grandson of the deceased licensee, is not entitled to be granted the license on compassionate ground.

3. Earlier the petitioner had filed Writ - C No.1280 of 2024 which was disposed of by means of an order dated 12.02.2024 giving liberty to the petitioner to move a representation to the opposite party no.4 and in case such a representation was made, the opposite party no.4 was directed to consider and decide the same expeditiously by passing a reasoned and speaking order.

4. While rejecting the petitioner's representation, the Sub-Divisional Magistrate, Alapur has stated in the impugned order dated 21.03.2024 that consequent to death of the fair price shop owner Shri Srinath Pandey, his fair price shop license was cancelled by means of an order dated 04.04.2023. Shri Om Prakash Pandey, son of Late Srinath Pandey, had applied for allotment of the shop a as dependent of the deceased fair price shop owner, in accordance with the Government Order dated 05.08.2019. The aforesaid Government Order provides that in case of death of a fair price shop owner, his dependent may given an application for allotment of the shop within 30 days of death of the deceased fair price shop owner, along with no objection certificate issued by other adult members of the deceased family, provided the applicant fulfills the eligibility conditions for allotment of fair price shop. The definition of family for this purpose would include the following persons:-

(i) Head of the family;

(ii) Husband/wife and legally adopted children;

(iii) Children fully dependent on the head of the family;

(iv) Unmarried, judicially separated and widowed daughter;

(v) Mother/Father, who are wholly dependent on the Head of the Family.

5. The eligibility conditions for allotment of a fair price shop is that the candidate must have passed at least High School or equivalent examination.

6. Shri Om Prakash Pandey son of the deceased-licensee, did not possess this eligibility qualification of having passed the High School examination and, therefore, his application could not be accepted.

7. Meanwhile, the petitioner filed Writ - C No.1665 of 2004 in this Court which was disposed of by means of the aforesaid order dated 12.02.2024 and thereafter the petitioner has applied for grant of a fair price shop license under the provisions the Government Order dated 05.08.2019, which provides for grant of fair price shop license to dependents of deceased fair price shop licensee.

8. The petitioner's application has been rejected on the ground that he is a grandson of the deceased fair price shop licensee and the grandson is not included in the definition of family given in the Government Order dated 05.08.2019. Therefore, the applicant is not entitled to be allotted a fair price shop as dependent of the deceased fair price shop licensee under provisions of the Government Order dated 05.08.2019.

9. While challenging the validity of the aforesaid order, learned counsel for the petitioner has stated that in the judgment of order dated 03.09.2020 passed by a coordinate Bench of this Court in Writ Petition No.13015 (MS) of 2020, this Court had relied upon an earlier order dated 20.07.2016 passed in Writ Petition No.2899 (MS) of 2015 (Ashok Kumar vs. State of U.P. through Principal Secretary, Food & Rasad Department and two others), wherein the Court had observed that son of the deceased, fair price shop licensee had predeceased him, the definition of family can be enlarged and had directed the competent authority to consider the claim of a grandson of the deceased fair price shop licensee. The learned counsel for the petitioner has also placed reliance an order dated 10.01.2022 passed by this Court sitting at Allahabad in Writ - C No.32392 of 2021, wherein this Court relied on the decisions of Ashok Kumar and Sunil Kumar Yadav (supra) and held that grandson was included in the definition of family. The learned counsel for the petitioner has also placed reliance on an order dated 24.01.2024 passed by this Court in Writ - C No.336 of 2024, wherein this Court has followed the earlier order passed in the case of Sunil Kumar Yadav (supra).

10. A supplementary affidavit has been filed by the petitioner stating that during life time of the fair price shop licensee, the petitioner, who is grandson, used to work along with him and assist him running the shop.

11. Per contra, the learned Standing Counsel has submitted that the State Government has framed a policy for grant of fair price shop license to dependents of deceased fair price shop owners on compassionate ground, by issuing a Government Order dated 05.08.2019. As a matter of policy, the Government decided that in case of death of a fair price shop licensee, son of dependents, who are members of his family and who fulfill the other eligibility conditions, may be considered for allotment of fair price shop on compassionate basis. The family members include head of the family, husband/wife; children, including adopted children, who are wholly dependent on head of the family, unmarried, judicially separated or widowed daughter and parents, who are wholly dependents on the head of the family. This does not include any other person. Subsequently, numerous orders were passed by this Court enlarging the scope of family given in the Government Order dated 05.08.2019.

12. The learned Standing Counsel has placed before this Court a copy of the Government Order dated 28.02.2022, whereby besides the members of family already mentioned in the earlier Government Order dated 05.08.2019, the daughter-in-law, who is wholly dependent on the head of the family, has also been included in the definition of the family.

13. The learned Standing Counsel has submitted that after taking into consideration various orders passed by this Court, the State Government thought it proper to modify its policy only to the extent of inclusion of wholly dependent daughter-in-law definition of family and the State Government did not include grandson of the deceased fair price shop owner in the definition of family. He further submitted that neither the petitioner has challenged validity of the Government Order dated 05.08.2019 or the subsequent Government Order dated 28.02.2022, wherein the grandson of the deceased fair price shop owner have not been included in the definition of family for the purpose of grant of fair price shop license on compassionate basis consequent to death of the fair price shop licensee, nor can the policy be challenged in absence of the same being suffering from unreasonableness. He has placed reliance on decision rendered by a Division Bench of this Court sitting at Allahabad in Special Appeal No.89 2022, decided on 21.02.2022, wherein the Division Bench found that the policy does not suffer from any Wednesburry unreasonableness.

14. The learned Standing Counsel further submitted that the definition of family given in the Government Order dated 05.08.2019 is the same as given in Essential Commodities (Regulation of Sale & Distribution Control) Order, 2016.

15. The Uttar Pradesh Essential Commodities (Regulation of Sale and Distribution Control) Order, 2016 (hereinafter referred to as 'the Control Order, 2016') was framed by the State Government in exercise of powers conferred under Section 3 of the Essential Commodities Act, 1955 with the object of maintaining the supplies of foodgrains and other essential commodities and for securing its equitable distribution at fair prices under the targetted Public Distribution System. Clause 2(p) of the Control Order, 2016 defines the word 'family' as under:

"Family" means group of following persons—

- Head of the family

- Husband/wife, including legally adopted children.

- Adult children, who are fully dependent on the head of the family.

- Unmarried, legally separated and widow daughters; and

- Fully dependent mother/ Father, of the head of the family.

16. In Kusumlata v. State of U.P., 2022 SCC OnLine All 1025, the petitioner, who was a married daughter of the deceased fair price shop holder, had prayed for being appointed in place of her father under the dying in harness rule prescribed under U.P. Essential Commodities Act (Rules and Distribution Order, 2016). Subsequently, by means of an amendment application, challenge to the constitutional validity of Clause IV(10) of the Government Order dated 05.08.2019 defining the word 'family', was also made. The Single Judge had dismissed the Writ Petition holding that the petitioner being a married daughter, was not residing in the village and she was not eligible for being appointed in place of her deceased father on compassionate ground.

17. While upholding the decision of the Single Judge, the Division Bench held in Special Appeal that "Neither the word 'unmarried' used in the definition of the word 'family' as defined under the Government Order, 2019 is discriminatory nor the petitioner is eligible for appointment as fair price shop agent inasmuch as she is not resident of the locality where the Fair Price Shop in question is established and thus, she does not even fulfil basic eligibility criteria provided in Clause IV(5) of the Government Order, 2019"

18. This Court can make any interference in policy laid down by the Government for compassionate appointment of the dependants of deceased fair price shop holders, only on the limited grounds recognized by law in this regard.

19. In Shri Sitaram Sugar Co. Ltd. v. Union of India, (1990) 3 SCC 223, the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that: -

"59.…What is best for the sugar industry and in what manner the policy should be formulated and implemented, bearing in mind the fundamental object of the statute, viz., supply and equitable distribution of essential commodity at fair prices in the best interest of the general public, is a matter for decision exclusively within the province of the Central Government. Such matters do not ordinarily attract the power of judicial review."

20. In M.P. Oil Extraction v. State of M.P., (1997) 7 SCC 592, it was laid down that: -

"41.…The executive authority of the State must be held to be within its competence to frame a policy for the administration of the State. Unless the policy framed is absolutely capricious and, not being informed by any reason whatsoever, can be clearly held to be arbitrary and founded on mere ipse dixit of the executive functionaries thereby offending Article 14 of the Constitution or such policy offends other constitutional provisions or comes into conflict with any statutory provision, the Court cannot and should not outstep its limit and tinker with the policy decision of the executive functionary of the State. This Court, in no uncertain terms, has sounded a note of caution by indicating that policy decision is in the domain of the executive authority of the State and the Court should not embark on the unchartered ocean of public policy and should not question the efficacy or otherwise of such policy so long the same does not offend any provision of the statute or the Constitution of India. The supremacy of each of the three organs of the State i.e. legislature, executive and judiciary in their respective fields of operation needs to be emphasised. The power of judicial review of the executive and legislative action must be kept within the bounds of constitutional scheme so that there may not be any occasion to entertain misgivings about the role of judiciary in outstepping its limit by unwarranted judicial activism being very often talked of in these days. The democratic set-up to which the polity is so deeply committed cannot function properly unless each of the three organs appreciate the need for mutual respect and supremacy in their respective fields."

21. As the Government has framed a policy for compassionate appointment of dependants of deceased fair price shop licensees by issuing the Government Order dated 05.08.2019 and it has decided to adopt the same definition of family for the purpose of compassionate appointments as is mentioned in Clause 2(p) of the Control Order, 2016, and when this Court interfered in some matters to enlarge the scope of this definition, the Government decided to amend the policy and issued another Government Order dated 28.02.2022 so as to modify the definition of family to the extent of including a daughter-in-law, who is wholly dependant on the head of the family and the Government did not think it proper to include a Grand-son of the deceased also to be eligible for compassionate appointment, this policy of the Government cannot be said to be arbitrary or unreasonable. In these circumstances, this Court finds no good ground to interfere in the Government's policy to as to issue a direction for appointment of the Grand-son of the deceased fair price shop owner on compassionate ground.

22. There is no illegality in the impugned order dated 21.03.2024 passed by the opposite party no. 4 rejecting the petitioner's claim for compassionate appointment as a fair price shop licensee consequent to the death of the petitioner's grand-father.

23. The Writ Petition lacks merits and the same is dismissed.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1790
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 06.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MRS. SANGEETA CHANDRA, J.
THE HON'BLE BRIJ RAJ SINGH, J.

Writ - C No. 4036 of 2024

Smt. Binu Devi ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Vivek Kumar Verma, Shalini Gupta

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Dilip Kumar Pandey

Civil Law – revenue law-fisheries lease executed between husaban dof the petitioner and revenue authorities for a period of 10 years- husband of the petitioner died-authorities refused to accept payment of rent by the petitioner-Section 108 of U.P. Revenue Code, 2006-Rules 58 and 59 of Rule 2016-every lease conferred under Rule 58 shall be deemed to be an agricultural lease-succession order under Section 108 of the Code applicable-husband of the petitioner being a government lessee-covered under section 108 of the Code-petitioner being his widow is entitled to succeed his leasehold rights-section 4(2) of the U.P. Revenue Code-Agriculture includes pisciculture-direction issued to grant benefits of succession to the petitioner-Petition allowed. (Paras 7, 8, 11 and 12)

HELD:

This Court has gone through section 108 which provides for general order of succession to male bhumidhar, asami, Government lessee and a widow has a right for such succession. Under Rule 59 of the Rules of 2016 also every lease conferred under Rule 58 shall be deemed to be a lease for agricultural purpose. Therefore, if such lease is considered to be a lease for agricultural purposes, then the general order of succession mentioned under Section 108 could apply. (Para 7)

In Smt. Gyan Mati & Others Vs St. of U. P. & ors., bearing Misc. Bench No. 27765 of 2016 a Division Bench of this Court while considering the relevant provisions of the U.P. Revenue Code and the Rules framed thereunder referred to Section 108 of the Code which provides the general order of succession to a male bhumidhar, asami and Government lessee and observed that under Section 108 there are three categories of persons whose rights in land holdings are to devolve upon their heirs in terms of the provisions contained therein and these categories are; (i) bhumidhar, (ii) asami and (iii) Government lesseet. (Para 8)

The petitioner's late husband being covered under Section 108 of the Revenue Code, being an allottee of a Government lease, the order of succession as given thereunder needs to be followed. The petitioner being a widow is entitled to succeed to the leasehold rights of her dead husband. (Para 11)

We are fortified in our view also by the definition given of "agriculture" in Sub-Section 2 of Section 4 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 where agriculture is defined to include horticulture, animal husbandry, pisciculture(fisheries), flower farming, beekeeping and poultry farms. (Para 12)

Petition allowed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

Smt. Gyan Mati & ors. Vs St. of U. P. & ors., bearing Misc. Bench No. 27765 of 2016

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Sangeeta Chandra, J.
&
Hon'ble Brij Raj Singh, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner, learned Standing Counsel who appears for the State Respondents and Sri Dilip Kumar Pandey, learned counsel for the respondent no. 4.

2. This writ petition has been filed with the following main prayers:-

"(i) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus thereby commanding and directing the respondents no.2 to 4 not to interfere in peaceful functioning of the petitioner over the pond gata no.763 area 1.4700 hectare, situated at village- Baheriya, Pargana- Godwa, Tehsil- Sandila, District- Hardoi at the place of her husband who died for balance term of lease.

(ii) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus thereby commanding and directing the respondent no.3 i.e. Sub Divisional Magistrate, Sandila, Hardoi to allow the petitioner to deposit the rent of year of 2023 and 2024 in respect of pond in question as per the lease deed.

(iii) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus thereby commanding and directing the respondent no.3 i.e. Sub Divisional Magistrate, Sandila, Hardoi to consider the case of petitioner and decide the representation dated 01.04.2024, sent by the petitioner, contained as Annexure No.5 to this writ petition, within the period as fixed by this Hon'ble Court."

3. It is the case of the petitioner that her husband had taken fisheries lease over Gata No. 763 area 1.4700 hectare, situated at Village - Baheriya, Pargana-Godwa, Tehsil-Sandila, District- Hardoi on 03.01.2019. The lease deed was executed between the husband of the petitioner and the Revenue Authorities on 22.01.2019 for a period of ten years (03.01.2019 to 02.01.2019) and the said fisheries lease is also registered in the office of the Sub-Registrar, Sandila. The possession of the aforesaid pond was delivered to the petitioner's husband and he started do fishing therein, but he died unfortunately on 01.06.2022 leaving the petitioner and three sons & two daughters as dependents. The petitioner went to the office of the Sub-Divisional Magistrate, Hardoi for paying rent for the year 2023 but the concerned official has refused to accept the rent saying that the lease was allotted to her husband and after the death of the allottee, the lease is likely to be cancelled. The petitioner has approached the respondents no. 2 by sending an application on 01.04.2024 by registered post, but no heed has been paid, and therefore, this writ petition has been filed with the aforesaid prayers.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon several orders passed by the Hon'ble Single Judges in various writ petitions of similarly situated persons. The judgements rendered by Hon'ble Writ Court have been collectively filed as annexure-6 to the petition.

5. Learned Standing Counsel for the State on the basis of instructions sent by Sub-Divisional Magistrate, Hardoi states that there is no provision in the Rules framed under the U.P. Revenue Code for giving succession rights on fisheries lease allotted on ponds of Gaon Sabha under Section 106 of the U.P. Revenue Code. The consequences of the transfer made by an asami in contravention of the Code are mentioned and the petitioner's husband was a lease holder/asami and since there is no provision for succession the petitioner is liable for eviction from Gram Sabha property.

6. The instructions further mention Section 148 of the U.P. Revenue Code which prescribes that an allottee has to strictly follow the conditions of allotment and since there is no such condition in the allotment letter or transfer of lease on the basis of succession, the petitioner cannot be treated as successor of her husband. Reference has also been made of Section 108 of the U.P. Revenue Code which relates to general order of succession to male bhumidhar or asami or Government lessee.

7. This Court has gone through section 108 which provides for general order of succession to male bhumidhar, asami, Government lessee and a widow has a right for such succession. Under Rule 59 of the Rules of 2016 also every lease conferred under Rule 58 shall be deemed to be a lease for agricultural purpose. Therefore, if such lease is considered to be a lease for agricultural purposes then the general order of succession mentioned under Section 108 could apply.

8. In Smt. Gyan Mati & Others Vs. State of U. P. and Others, bearing Misc. Bench No. 27765 of 2016 a Division Bench of this Court while considering the relevant provisions of the U.P. Revenue Code and the Rules framed thereunder referred to Section 108 of the Code which provides the general order of succession to a male bhumidhar, asami and Government lessee and observed that under Section 108 there are three categories of persons whose rights in land holdings are to devolve upon their heirs in terms of the provisions contained therein and these categories are; (i) bhumidhar, (ii) asami and (iii) Government lessee.

9. The Division Bench was considering a writ petition filed by a widow and her sons for right of succession to the fisheries lease on a pond owned by the Gram Sabha. The lease was executed in favour of their predecessor in interest for a period of ten years and there was no violation of the conditions of the lease, after the predecessor in interest died and the lease was not being transferred in their favour and they had approached this Court. The Division Bench observed that their predecessor in interest, namely, Late Chhedi Ram died on 27.07.2009 and fisheries on the pond and being admitted as a lessee, his succession would be governed by Section 108 of the Code.

10. We find in the case of the petitioner that her late husband was a lesee of Fisheries Rights of the pond and the lease deed is valid upto 2029. There is no mention in the instructions sent by the Sub-Divisional Magistrate of any violation of conditions of the lease deed. There is also no mention of any order of cancellation of lease deed after affording opportunity of hearing to the affected parties.

11. The petitioner's late husband being covered under Section 108 of the Revenue Code, being an allottee of a Government lease, the order of succession as given thereunder needs to be followed. The petitioner being a widow is entitled to succeed to the leasehold rights of her dead husband.

12. We are fortified in our view also by the definition given of "agriculture" in Sub-Section 2 of Section 4 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 where agriculture is defined to include horticulture, animal husbandry, pisciculture(fisheries), flower farming, beekeeping and poultry farms,

13. The instructions sent by the S.D.M. are kept on record.

14. We find that the view taken by the Sub-Divisional Magistrate, Sandila, Hardoi in the instructions is against the law settled by this Court and also against the provisions of Section 108 of the U.P. Revenue Code read with Rule 59 of the Rules of 2016.

15. The writ petition is allowed. We further issue a direction to the Sub-Divisional Magistrate to grant the benefits of succession to the petitioner on the fisheries rights of her late husband and pass an appropriate orders within a period of three weeks from the date a certified copy of this order is produced before him. If any order has been passed cancelling such lease only on the grounds of death of the lessee, the said order is set aside.

16. Till such a decision is taken no coercive steps shall be taken against the petitioner.

17. Learned Standing Counsel shall inform of the order passed today of the Sub-Divisional Magistrate concerned through Fax without waiting such order to be uploaded on the online portal.

(2024) 5 ILRA 1793
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION

CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 14.05.2024

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.
THE HON'BLE SYED QAMAR HASAN RIZVI, J.

Writ-C No. 10709 of 2024

Aditya Vikram Yadav ...Petitioner
Versus
Union of India & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Ashish Rai, Sri Pawan Giri, Sri Rishabh Srivastava

Counsel for the Respondents:
A.S.G.I., Sri Gaurav Kumar Chand, Sri Santosh Kumar Singh, Sri Puneet Agarwal

Civil Law –candidature for retail outlet dealership of BPCL cancelled-lease of the land concerned executed by only of the co-owners-violation of Clause 4 (vi) (a) of the Dealer Selection Guidelines, 2023 violated-successful application of the award of retail dealership outlet-a lease deed duly executed by all the co-sharers of the offered land on the date of application-necessary-Petition dismissed. (Paragraphs 9 to 12)

HELD:
From all that has been narrated hereinabove, it is clear that law on the issue regarding the lease of the offered land is well settled, i.e., for the successful application of the award of retail dealership outlet, it is incumbent upon the applicant that he/she must have a lease deed duly executed by all the co-sharers of the offered land on the date of the application. (Para 11)

In view of the facts as narrated hereinabove, it is abundantly clear that the petitioner was not having the lease in respect of the offered land in terms of clause 4(vi)(a) of the Dealership Selection Guidelines, 2023 and as such, in the light of the judgment rendered by this Court in the case of Rahul Singh (Supra), he was not eligible for being considered for the allotment/award of the retail dealership outlet. The impugned rejection of the candidature of the applicant/petitioner vide E-mail/order dated 01.03.2024 does not suffer from any illegality or infirmity. Therefore, the decision of BPCL/respondent no. 3 in rejecting the candidature of the applicant/petitioner needs no interference. (Para 12)

Petition dismissed. (E-14)

List of Cases cited:

1. Rahul Singh Vs Indian Oil Corporation Ltd. & ors. having writ number as Writ C No. 7354 of 2024

2. Bharat Petroleum Corporation Ltd. Vs Swapnil Singh reported in 2015 SCC OnLine SC 1922

(Delivered by Hon'ble Syed Qamar Hasan Rizvi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Pawan Giri along with Sri Rishabh Srivastava, learned counsel for the petitioner; Sri Gaurav Kant Chand, learned counsel appearing for the Union of India and Sri Puneet Agarwal, learned counsel for respondent nos. 2 and 3.

2. By means of the present writ petition, the petitioner has prayed for the following reliefs:

"I. Issue a writ, order, or direction in the nature of Certiorari quashing the impugned order dated 01.03.2024 (Annexure no.1) passed by the respondent no.3, wherein the respondent no.3 has declared the Petitioner ineligible and also cancelled the candidature of the petitioner for the allotment of the Retail Outlet Dealerships Petrol Pump for the Territory- Deoria, District- Maharajganj, Location Description-FROM CHIUTAHA BAZAR CHURAHA UPTO 2KMS EITHER SIDE ON PARTWAL-NICHLAUL ROAD, with regard to the Appointment of Retail Outlet Dealerships in the State of Uttar Pradesh by Bharat Petroleum Corporation Ltd. (BPCL).

II. Issue a writ, order, or direction in the nature of Mandamus commanding the respondent authorities to allot the Retail Outlet Dealerships Petrol Pump to the petitioner for the Territory- Deoria, District-Maharajganj, Location Description-FROM CHIUTAHA BAZAR CHURAHA UPTO 2KMS EITHER SIDE ON PARTWAL- NICHLAUL ROAD.

III. Issue a writ, order, or direction in the nature of Mandamus restraining the respondent no.3 from issuing fresh notification for conducting fresh draw of lots for the allotment of the Retail Outlet Dealerships Petrol Pump for the Territory- Deoria District-Maharajganj, Location Description-FROM CHIUTAHA BAZAR UPTO CHURAHA 2KMS EITHER SIDE ON PARTWAL-NICHLAUL ROAD, with regard to the Appointment of Retail Outlet Dealerships in the State of Uttar Pradesh by Bharat Petroleum Corporation Ltd. (BPCL).

IV. Issue any other writ, order, or direction, which this Hon'ble Court may deem just and proper in the facts and circumstances of the case; and

V. To award the cost of the Writ Petition in favour of the Petitioner."

3. Brief facts of the case that are relevant for the adjudication of the instant writ petition are that Bharat Petroleum Corporation Ltd ((hereinafter referred to as BPCL) / respondent no. 2 issued an advertisement dated 28.06.2023 inviting applications for the appointment/award of Retail Outlet Dealership Petrol Pump for the Deoria, District Maharajganj, Location Description— from Chiutaha Bazar, Churaha upto 2 kms, either side on Partwal-

Nichlaul Road. The petitioner applied for the award of the said retail outlet dealership and received a confirmation of the same from BPCL / respondent no. 2 via E-mail dated 25.11.2023. The date for the draw of lots was fixed as 07.12.2023, in which, the petitioner participated. On the same day, the petitioner was informed via E-mail that he has been declared as provisionally selected for the award of Retail Outlet Dealership Petrol Pump. The petitioner was required to pay a sum of ₹30,000/- towards initial security deposit and to submit the set of documents as specified in the email for processing of his application for the aforesaid award of retail outlet dealership. Accordingly, the petitioner, made the aforementioned payment of ₹30,000/- and submitted the requisite documents.

